Irish Situation Grave and Critical- Japanese Crown Prince Made Regent -- G. W. V. A. of Canada Scents Conspiracy Against Peo- ple--French Premier Makes De- claration.

HIROHITO AS REGENT.
TOKIO, Nov. 25. Crown Prince Hirohito has been de- signed as Regent of Japan. His designation as Crown Prince follows reports which have been in circulation for a year that Emperor Yoshihito was in bad physical condition.

GRAVE AND CRITICAL.
LONDON, Nov. 25. As Premier Craig of Ulster went in to conference with Mr. Lloyd George this morning it was admitted officially that Irish peace negotiations have reached a "grave and critical" stage. This conference, it was said last night, might be the last attempt of the British Premier to induce Ulstermen to accept a compromise plan which would protect Ulster's interest and at the same time meet the demands of Sinn Feiners for an "all Ireland" Parliament. Sinn Fein representatives mean- while, are in Dublin. It became definitely known last night that, contrary to previous reports, Mr. Lloyd George at no time had the assurance from Sinn Fein delegates that they would acknowledge allegiance in return for consent by Ulster to an all Ireland Parliament. "The situation is too serious for talk," said a prominent member of Sinn Fein. "Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins and George Duffy have gone to Dublin to take council with Mr. De Valera and the Dail Eireann Cabinet and to receive instructions as to the attitude they are to adopt. They will return to London on Saturday to meet Mr. Lloyd George after he has received Sir James Craig's reply."

Old Pioneer Says He is Now Feeling 20 Years Younger

Vancouver Relates Interesting Experience.
C. R. House, one of the old residents of Vancouver, B.C., who remembers when the city was called Gas Town, issues an interesting statement giving his personal experience with Tanlac. He says: "I want what I say published, for I know that there are many others, especially among the old-timers, who need just such relief as I have received. I had stomach trouble of the worst sort and finally became so weak and run down I could hardly do my work at the ferry."

AN ELECTION FORECAST.
LONDON, Nov. 25. Laborites are still forecasting a general election with great persistence. J. H. Thomas, M.P., repeated the prediction yesterday, but thought a general election at a time when the Premier said there were signs of trade revival, would be mere "criminal folly. They could not have an election on the Irish issue alone, he said. The House of Commons could give a sufficient mandate on the question. Mr. Thomas advocated cancellation of war debts between the nations to assist trade recovery. This policy is now rapidly becoming an orthodox tenet of the Liberal and Labor Parties.

The Life of Fanny Kemble.

As a member of a family most distinguished in the theatrical world, Frances Anne Kemble, who was born in London on Nov. 27, 1808 might have been expected to take naturally to the career of an actress. John Philip Kemble who, in his day, ranked as England's greatest tragedian, was her uncle; Mrs. Siddons was her aunt. Her father, Charles Kemble, was a fine actor of high comedy. But for Frances, best known as Fanny Kemble, the stage, curiously enough, had no attractions; and it was reluctantly that she went upon it in 1829 in the hope of restoring the sinking fortunes of her father's management. Temporarily, that end was served, for she made an exceptional success as "Juliet." Later she went to America, where she acted from 1832 to 1834, and where she married Pierce Butler, a Georgian planter. She then retired from the stage; but her marriage did not prove fortunate, and after some years she returned to London. She did not, however, resume the practice of her profession, except for a brief period, though she made successful appearances as a Shakespearean reader, a line in which she professed every quality to excel. The most of her long life was spent in retirement, in which she occupied herself with the writing of poetry and of autobiographical works, the best known being "Records of a Girlhood," "Records of a Lady's Life," and "Furber Records." Socially she was not a little feared for her caustic tongue and in old age appears to have been a sufficiently formidable figure, although interesting as the survivor of an age that had passed away long before her death. For she lived to be 84, and saw Meighen be eliminated, four, the corruption of the kermes of the Progressive Party to undermine confidence in the integrity of its leaders.

SPRINGS A SENSATION.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 25. Allegation of a conspiracy against the people of Canada for purposes of "looting the Canadian National Railways" and handing them over to a private corporation, together with the ultimate disposal of the Grand Trunk to American interests, were made to-day by C. McNeil, Dominion Secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association. McNeil alleges that an alliance has been formed, under the leadership of Sir Lomer Gouin, between the Quebec Liberal Party interests of the Canadian Pacific Railway, interests of the Bank of Montreal and Wall Street interests, to accomplish through traitors in all parties the following purposes: One, confusions in the public mind on election issues to minimize the possibility of a party majority thus enabling the formation of a coalition which could be easily manipulated; two, the betrayal of McKenzie King, Liberal leader, to enable the accession to the post of Sir Lomer Gouin supported by Hon. W. G. Mitchell and the Quebec block; three, the betrayal of Premier Meighen from within his party for purposes of enforcing agreement to the coalition with Gouin on terms dictated by the latter, falling which Meighen be eliminated; four, the corruption of the kermes of the Progressive Party to undermine confidence in the integrity of its leaders.

BRAND DISCUSSES FRENCH DIS- ARMAMENT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. Disclaiming any wish to reply to the address in London, yesterday, of Lord Curzon urging France not to pursue an isolated and individualistic policy, Premier Briand of France declared before sailing to-day that this was not the time for argument between friends and allies. He asserted that France was proposing to go further in the limitation of armaments both on land and sea than any other nation. On land, in spite of the dangers which she undergoes, she has already reduced her metropolitan army by one-third, said Premier Briand. Continuing, he said, "In spite of the law which keeps three classes under colors, there are only two and the Government has introduced a Bill which reduces the period of service by half, and in consequence the number of effectives in the same proportion. It is much more than other nations will do as regards their navies, since the naval reduction envisaged does not exceed forty per cent. Further, France has sixty million subjects in Colonies whose coasts are on three seas and has seen her fleet of capital ships reduced by the effects of the war from three squadrons to a single squadron."

WEDDING BELLS.

GOUGH-CAULE.
Joseph M. Gough and Elizabeth M. Caule were united in marriage in Our Lady of Sorrows Church at Hartford Connecticut, Thursday, October 27, by the Rev. Henry Galvin, who also celebrated the nuptial Mass. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Ethel Caule, and Alexander T. Westcott was best man.

NINE YEARS' TRANCE.

A Johannesburg girl, who is reported to have been in a trance for nine years, has awakened in possession of all her faculties. Her voice was weak but distinct, and when asked on awakening what she would like for breakfast she replied: "Scrambled on toast." Many faith-healers claim credit for the girl's recovery, but there seems no doubt that this was due to the efforts of the staff at the Rietfontein institution for the Chronic Sick.

Goes to Prison to Save Friend.

Harry W. Haley, who served with the British army in France, walked out of the Government prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., on November 7 a free man, released on special order of the War Department after he had served part of a six-months' sentence for desertion, imposed, so the court-martial at Fort Slocum, N.Y., thought, upon Thomas G. Jones. But Haley, because Jones had saved his life in France, had taken Jones' name, impersonated Jones at the trial and had been sent to Leavenworth as Jones. Haley and Jones were in the British army before the United States entered the war. They were in the same company and were close friends. One night, while the public was under an advanced guard, Haley was wounded in the leg and disabled. Under heavy artillery and machine gun fire Jones carried his comrade back to safety, escaping unscathed himself. The two never met again during the war. Jones, a native of the United States, was transferred to his own forces when the United States declared war. A few months ago the two men met in Canada, by the merest chance, and then had deserted from the United States army and was "wanted." He said he had deserted at Fort Slocum and come to Canada because his wife was ill in the Dominion and had wanted to see him. The next day Haley crossed the border and surrendered at the nearest army post. He said he was Thomas G. Jones and produced the papers to prove it. It was his plan to serve Jones' sentence so that his buddy would be free to return to the United States. The program went without a hitch until a soldier who had known Jones came to Leavenworth. An investigation followed, and comparison of finger prints proved that Haley was not Jones. Machinery was at once set in motion to secure his release.

Move Child's Bowels with

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again. Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

The Model Parliament.

Edward the First's greatest claim to the reverence of Englishmen is as the real creator of Parliament; for the "Model Parliament" of 1295, which met on November 27, was the full working out of the maxim of his reign—"That which touches all should be approved by all." It met at Westminster, and the persons summoned consisted of eight earls, forty-one barons, the two archbishops and the bishops, sixty-seven abbots, the Masters of the Temple and of Savoy, the Prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, the Prior (dean) and archdeacons of the diocese of Canterbury and York, one precentor from the Chapter of each cathedral, two proctors from the parochial clergy of each diocese, two knights from each county, and two citizens or burgesses from each city or borough in every shire. At this Parliament the aid demanded by the king was discussed by the three bodies separately. The barons and knights gave one shilling, and the clergy—after much altercation with Edward—only a tenth. This "Model Parliament" unquestionably forms an epoch in our constitutional history, and is probably the first instance in which the three several estates taxed themselves in different proportions.

WHAT DID BETTY BUY?

Good gracious! this letter can't be for me?
Oh yes it is!

COPY OF BETTY'S LETTER
Dear Mr. Simpson Green, don't you? WELL SHE WANTED TO BE A NURSE. What do you think of that? OF COURSE SHE WAS SIMPLY TRYING TO APE A SISTER OF MINE. However she left for Toronto taking her maid Topsy to carry her luggage. When they got to the station the train was pulling out. SHE RAN SO FAST TOPY SAID SHE CAPTURED A BLOOD VESSEL IN HER LEG. However Clara got on the train alright. Then what do you think happened? SHE BLEED AND FELL PELL-MEL ON HER HEAD. "Topsy" then took her to the hospital. SHE WANTED TO HAN A NASTY ENGINEER FOR JERKING THE TRAIN SO SHE SOON GOT HERSELF IN ORDER and searched her best safety. SHE TOOK OUT A BOOK BY CHARLES LAMB READ AT AGE AND FELL ASLEEP. ON ARRIVING home she woke with a start, and burst off. Her baggage was heavy and looked a burden. A NICE CHAP PLEADED TO HELP HER. She refused to let him as he was a stranger. But after waiting two blocks she saw a man who THEN SHE THOUGHT HERSELF A SIMPLE MONSTER FOR REFUSING HIM HELP. She finally reached the Training School and registered. But she didn't like it a bit. She felt very blue. IN FACT AT HER DINNER SHE ATE A VERY LITTLE. She fought with her room mate. IN A FIT OF JEALOUSY ON ANGER SHE LEFT. However before going home she bought a new dress at Smith's store. When she tried it on she didn't like it. SO SHE TOOK IT TO SMITH'S ALTERATION ROOM FOR CHANGES. Even then it didn't fit and she wouldn't keep it. SO APPLYING FOR REFUND SHE GOT HER MONEY BACK. Then she took the next train for home. Isn't that an interesting story?

PUZZLE

FIND ABOVE THE NAMES OF 12 ARTICLES SOLD IN A GROCERY STORE

John Simpson was amazed when he read the puzzle which Betty Beauty had made. "One of our girls that letter," said Betty. "I wrote it in each of the underlined sentences." "Well," said Mr. Simpson, "can't find the name of any article in each of the underlined sentences?" "Of course you can't," said Betty. "I hid the name of each article in the underlined words. It is only the puzzle maker who can find them." "But you can't find them," said Mr. Simpson. "I can't find them," said Betty. "I hid the name of each article in the underlined words. It is only the puzzle maker who can find them."

ARMY CONTROLLED BY GOVERNMENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. Members of Congress are openly denouncing the Government's Limitations of Armaments cannot control the size of U.S. Army. Not only have a movement begun to cut U.S. Army of 150,000 to 100,000, but the ablest of House Republicans said the army would be reduced regardless of what the Conference does. Republicans are also talking of making economies.

WEALTHY AS CROESUS.

BARODA, Nov. 25. The Prince of Wales is experiencing the first stage of the opulence and splendor of Indian Princes, as the guest of the Gaekwar of Baroda one of the most powerful native rulers, whose income is said to be millions of dollars. The Gaekwar's son, Prince Ja Singh, was educated at Harvard, and his allowance was so great as to make him a sort of mysterious Monte Cristo.

AGREEMENT REACHED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. The abolition of extra territorial rights in China, by which various powers maintain their own courts for the trial of their own nationals, was agreed to in principle to-day by the Powers represented in the Washington Conference. The belief was generally expressed, however, that extra territorial rights could not be given up immediately, in view of conditions in China, but that abolition should come as promptly as compatible with the present situation and progress in China.

REPUBLICANS BURN WORKHOUSE.

LONDON, Nov. 25. According to the Times Dublin correspondent Rathkeale Workhouse, County Limerick, was burned yesterday, allegedly by the Irish republican army. British military forces had announced an intention of taking over the workhouse despite protests received through the Republican Liaison officer. The incident says a despatch, seems to be one of the most serious since the adoption of the truce. There is little doubt that the destruction of the workhouse is a serious blow to the British position in the event of a renewal of warfare.

St. Andrew's Debate.

"That a lie is justifiable under certain circumstances"

was the question threshed out by St. Andrew's Literary and Debating Society last night. The subject was an interesting one and there appeared to be a great many more in favour of putting Ananias at the top than of the speaker's view, which was clearly shown by the affirmative speakers that there are many occasions on which a lie is not only justifiable but absolutely necessary, and instances were quoted of the averting of a fire, the saving of a ship, the prevention of severe shocks to nervous people by the telling of lies. One speaker even went so far as to quote from the Psalmist "all men are liars," a rather sweeping statement but which none of the other speakers contradicted. If all one's everyday actions were searchingly analyzed, the negative side put up an excellent argument. Next week the subject for debate is to be it revealed that the services of Ministers for Ministers should be without remuneration.

I. J. O'Brien.

ERE placing before his readers any of his remaining planks upon which he stands and asks their support, calls the attention of readers of last evening's article to please note the word promised should have read "prelimed" that "the Annex" will pay in sixty or eighty thousand dollars increased revenue. He also desires, lest he be called a plagiarist, to state that his plank of last night for the protection of the annex was not borrowed from any other Candidate, and this paper will be glad to show them the manuscript copy handed over to them the previous evening. He is nevertheless pleased to see other friends who are seeking Civic honors in conjunction with him announce their ideas for giving his district namely "The Annex" some of your kind increased revenue. He wishes to be understood that he is strongly in favor of such, he would however be one of the first to have the new council request the Government, at the first opening of the legislature to pass an act that would exempt for life all our citizens who have gone "Over Seas." And it is believed that the highest will New Council can do to have this law altered to meet the requirements of their case. But there is another class of young and old bachelors and widowers, who do not pay any taxes to the civic funds, these citizens enjoy all the privileges of the city; they get police protection, and firemen are ever kept on the watch to save their persons from destruction. Street lights are placed for their use, as well as others, to see their way about at night in safety, while the highest way to their clubroom or to see their lady friends, and surely if they have any public spirit or desire to have improvements made they will cheerfully "Cough Up" their quota of "Iron Men." The trouble with some of these loudest kickers and knockers of the sad condition of our city to-day is they want everything up to date in modern progress, but they place very hard if they are asked to bear a just share of the burden. O'Brien does not expect the city to run its affairs on "fresh air," neither does he expect to make it an utopian, but if you will entrust him with a seat he will strive for her advancement and your comfort. She wants more revenue to bring in some of those utilities required and desired by all; why not erect a drawbridge where the long bridge now is and which must soon be replaced and then the city could lease the highest bidder, that splendid water front which is her property on the upper Southside for warehousing and other purposes, among which might be mentioned a modern coal bunking plant. Would it not be worth while to ask the Imperial Government for a gift of that portion of grounds surrounding the Governors residence which is fronting on Circular and Esplanade Roads. This if secured could be leased to those of our Citizens who are in a position to erect expensive houses and who desire to get in that locality where their friends the merchant princes already have their mansions. This portion, if secured, would not be missed from the vast acreage therein, and while improving the vicinity would give much revenue to the city in ground rents and taxes. If you want this matter, enquired into regarding the city's possibility of securing such, if you think it is worth making an effort to obtain it, you voters will of course, without the least hesitation, when selecting those who in your opinion, should govern your City mark: One Vote for O'Brien.

UNJUST TAXATION.

Taxation is the one great burden that every House-owner and Tenant is greatly concerned about. Many are continually at their wits end to know how to meet it, in fact, we are being bled white with taxation to-day, more particularly Unjust Taxation.

I have been approached by scores of voters the past fortnight concerning the new Assessment—the City's Form of Taxation. Properties are being rated at a time when values are temporarily inflated. This tax is being unjustly levied. I have heard of cases in which the taxes are about to be increased anywhere from 10 to 25%, others to remain as before. Why such discrimination? I have yet to learn of them being reduced; is it because Householders elect to keep their homes clean and bright and take delight in decorating the exterior by beautifying their locality and the city in general, that they are a mark to be fleeced for more taxes? The system is rotten, rotten to the core.

We are politely told by the Civic authorities that such is the Law; therefore you will agree with me that the Law should be amended. I pledge myself that with your help, that is, the help of every House-owner and Tenant in the city, we are being bled white with taxation to-day. Voters just think of it, wages and salaries being throttled down and city taxes soaring skywards. Are you going to stand for it. You have the means; show your disapproval by voting for and down with taxes. More to follow.

Ex. Service Men Attention!

Due to the unemployment which is now prevailing in the city, it has been thought advisable to have a petition signed which will be presented to the Government asking that a scheme of employment, productive or otherwise, be expedited whereby ex-service men can be placed in positions which will give them work sufficient to maintain them and their families in reasonable comfort during the winter months. Much doubt exists as to the actual number of ex-service men unemployed in St. John's at the present time. By signing the petition this number will be arrived at and immediate steps taken to try and provide such employment. We have been guaranteed employment for fifty (50) physically fit men, who are prepared to undertake cutting Pitt Props, in a fortnight. Registration will commence at the G.W.V.A. Club Rooms at 9 a.m. Monday, November 23rd inst. A further scheme for alleviating the unemployment situation in St. John's is now being considered by the Government. Ex-service men in actual distress are requested to hand their names and addresses in to the undersigned who will have them investigated and immediate relief will be granted to all bona fide cases.

Disabled men who are in extreme need are advised to prepare a brief statement stating their disability and the circumstances of their case. This will be passed over to the Ladies of the Khaki Guild who are convening a meeting to deal with such cases. By preparing this statement you will save time during registration.

Curzon's Warning.

The mazes of European diplomacy are becoming altogether too tortuous for the average man to follow. As day succeeds day new issues arise, each one more complicated than its predecessor...

The warning made directly to France by the British Foreign Minister Lord Curzon, is so outspoken as to be almost a threat, and perhaps it is as well that the French Premier, M. Briand, refuses to make any comment upon it...

Unique Half Tones.

On Monday, we hope to print half-tones made from original photographs of Newfoundland's part in the honor done America's Unknown Soldier at the Capitol of Washington, Thursday, Nov. 10th, together with a brief description of the solemn, but imposing ceremonies which marked the event...

Wedding Bells.

ANGEL—STRANG. The wedding of Mr. J. J. Straub, son of Mrs. C. Straub, and Miss Marjorie Angel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Angel, took place at George Street Methodist Church at 3 p.m. today. Rev. Mr. Fairbairn was the officiating clergyman. The bride looked charming in a gown of white satin trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms. She wore a veil and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. The matron of honor was Mrs. Harry Dickinson who wore yellow shot taffeta and a brown velvet hat, and carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Margaret Baird and Master Jim Baird were train-bearers and the flower girls were Miss Helen Angel, sister of the bride, Miss Mary Angel, cousin of the bride, whilst Miss Joan Hickman carried the ring on a white satin cushion. Mr. F. Bennett was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Heber Angier, Harry Dickinson and Willie Wright. At the Church Miss Elsie Heccher very pleasingly rendered most appropriate wedding solo: "Beloved it is morn". After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandfather. After the reception the newly wedded pair will motor to Donovan's and from there will take tomorrow's express by which they will proceed to Canada and the States. The presents received were many and testified to the popularity of the bride and groom to whom the Telegram extends its best wishes.

"I submitted the report of the Commission of Enquiry with the evidence attached to the Deputy Minister of Justice and have been advised by him that the matter is now in the hands of the Attorney General. When he returns from the Circuit Court, Mr. Summers, the Deputy Minister, is of the opinion that it would be best to publish the report, as it would tend to produce fair trial. Mr. Carter will probably return to town to-day and definite news may be expected shortly."

Advice to Outport Unemployed.

In view of the unemployment situation and the possibility of a large number of men coming to St. John's seeking work, the G.W.V.A. executive are having bulletins sent in all the Post Offices in the Outports, advising service men that it will not avail them anything to come to St. John's but that wherever possible they should take advantage of the Government's pit prop cutting scheme.

Searching for Schooner.

S.S. Daley, which is out in search of the schooner Flora, has reported from Cape St. Mary's, but saw no sign of the schooner. The S.S. Proteus has reported seeing a schooner of about 25 tons, 60 miles S.W. of Cape Spear. The schooner carried only a stern light, and it was not ascertained if she was in distress. The Flora left St. John's last early Wednesday morning bound to this port.

Pensions Payment Authorized.

PRIME MINISTER MAKES STATEMENT.

A Minute of Council was passed some time ago, authorizing the payment of a total of $15,000 to the Pensions Board, so the Prime Minister told the Telegram to-day. After reading the item with reference to the matter in this morning's News, Sir Richard said he telephoned Dr. Parsons, acting Chairman of the Pensions Board, who stated that he was present when Mr. Oke, Secretary of the Board, informed representatives of the G.W.V.A. that as soon as the cheques for the month of November were issued, cheques with respect to the special bonus would be sent out also. According to the resolutions adopted in the House this year, the sum of approximately $15,000 was to be paid over to a little more than $15,000, but the Prime Minister agreed to put it on this basis, provided that the total did not exceed the specified sum. This would bring it within the scope of the resolution which referred to the payment of approximately $15,000. It is estimated that when worked out on a percentage basis, the gross payment will be in the neighbourhood of $17,000.

Ex-Service Men Hold Demonstration.

AT THE G.W.V.A. ROOMS.

Some 100 unemployed ex-service men called at the G.W.V.A. Rooms this morning in connection with employment. After venturing their grievances and stating that they were unemployed, they were addressed by the Prime Minister, who promised to do his best to secure employment for them. The Prime Minister also stated that he would take up the case with the Government, and that he would be able to employ 25 more men, who would take up the case with the Government. This would be for men who are fit and single. Arrangements are being made for a committee to immediately take up the cases of disabled men, who are in bad circumstances, and who are unable to work. Relief while some scheme is being got underway. Relief will also be given to those who are unable to work because of their disabilities. It was felt that painting should be undertaken in connection with Government buildings, and that other jobs, which are filled by men who have no right to them, should be given to ex-service men who are unemployed. The situation for these men is very serious, but there is no doubt that within a few more days that something will be done, so that they may earn sufficient to keep their families.

The Magic Carpet.

A carpet which formerly adorned the floor of the office of the Minister of Justice has disappeared as completely as if it had flown away like the magic carpet of the Arabian nights. The carpet was removed from the Minister's private office last summer by the janitor, for the purpose of cleaning it. It was afterwards stored in his apartments in the basement and from there, it was abstracted on Thursday night. The thieves did not have to break in, as an employee of the Aviation Telephone Company was at work in the building and the door was left open for him. The carpet was a large and heavy one, and could have been lifted only with difficulty by two men. It is thought that a rug was also looted.

Barking Kettles.

In his very interesting reminiscences to-day, Mr. Shortie refers to the old-fashioned Barking Kettles, used annually by sealers and codfishers alike. These mentioned by him as being erected in the West end of St. John's were by no means the only ones of their kind, for many readers of the Telegram will remember that on the extreme eastern section of the "Back Road" in Carboneau, two of these vessels were set up in the angle of a field, by certain mercantile firms doing a large fish trade, for the convenience of their planters. To the schoolchildren of that day, these hollow iron monsters were objects of much awe, and few indeed would care to pass them along, even in the light of day. They were known to us juveniles as man and wife; in other words the "Barking Pot" and the "Barking Kettle"; and were possessed of the reputation of being placed in position originally—amongst the youngsters—for purposes other than those of boiling liquid, catch and spruce rind, for the purpose of barking lines and twines. At night time it was alleged that they came off their foundations and walked arm in arm up the "Back Road" and were to be sighted who met them on their nocturnal rambles. Such was the innocent superstition held by small scholars of Carboneau in the seventies and eighties of the 19th century. To-day these old features of the past may not be in evidence on the "Back Road" of Carboneau, but those who were contemporaries of the writer will well remember the creeps of the flesh as we passed these two monsters in the dusk of many an autumn afternoon. On the West Coast such reminiscences for barking (wine are known as "Tan pots", but the same associations do not surround them as those we have so briefly described, which to-day have probably been broken-up and sold for junk.

The Secret of Dressing Well.

In these days nobody can afford to be badly dressed, except perhaps the very rich and the very great, whose position in the world is already assured, though it is not even wise in them. The right clothes not only impress those who see them, but add to the wearer's self-respect. It was felt that painting should be undertaken in connection with Government buildings, and that other jobs, which are filled by men who have no right to them, should be given to ex-service men who are unemployed. The situation for these men is very serious, but there is no doubt that within a few more days that something will be done, so that they may earn sufficient to keep their families.

To the Electors of the City of St. John's.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.—In presenting myself as a Candidate for the office of Mayor of your City, I do so after mature consideration following the request of a large number of Citizens representative of all classes in the community.

I realize the responsibility of such an office; am sensible of the honor it confers upon its occupant, and fully appreciate the splendid services rendered by the gentlemen who have already occupied the chair as Mayor.

It is difficult, if not impossible, at the present time to define any set programme which, if elected, I should follow in the government of the City; suffice for the moment to say that the policy I should propose would be based on the four cardinal principles of EFFICIENCY, ECONOMY, CONSERVATION OF THE PRESENT INCOME EARNING POWER OF THE CITY, AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF NEW SOURCES OF REVENUE.

It would be idle to close our eyes to the fact that there are defects in our civic life that should and could be remedied. St. John's has many natural advantages which should tend to make one of the cleanest and healthiest cities in North America; but these advantages are not being utilized as they should. There are conditions in this City to-day that would not be tolerated in any neighbouring city of its size and population; and we should seriously set ourselves to the task of remedying these defects, utilizing our advantages, and removing these intolerable conditions.

St. John's should be as any other well ordered corporation—the results of successful management should be apparent, its shareholders (and in this respect every citizen is a shareholder in the corporation known as The City of St. John's) should receive adequate returns on their investment; the earnest support, interest and assistance of every member should be assiduously sought and received by a management proving its efficiency and value to the organization; and all should be as one in the general endeavor to make St. John's—OUR CITY—OUR HOME—OUR ALL—a Better, Brighter and Bigger City in every sense of the word and one worthy of the finest and most whole-hearted co-operative efforts of its citizens.

CIVIC PRIDE should be inculcated. Every citizen should be made realize that upon his individual initiative and effort depends the welfare of the City as a whole—that the rights, interests and property of the City should be as jealously furthered and protected as if they were his own personally—that the City is his Home and its advancement his chief desire—and that he has to pass on to those who come after him a City better for the care and devotion he bestowed upon it while in his charge.

I have these thoughts in mind for the advancement of our City as I offer myself as a candidate to you. I respectfully solicit your influence and support, and pledge myself, if you honor me with election, to do everything I can, with your co-operation, to make in fact St. John's A BETTER, BRIGHTER AND BIGGER CITY and one that amply repays our best endeavours on its behalf.

SUGGESTION No. 5. A SQUARE DEAL FOR ST. JOHN'S ANNEX.

The residents of the outlying suburbs of St. John's, that part which in common parlance is known as "St. John's Annex" have been notified that with the beginning of the year they will be called upon to pay taxes similar to those paid by their city brethren. That, as things are at present, they are going to get any return for their tax money does not look hopeful. They have no water or sewerage service and the roads where no roads exist at all are in the engine to reach the "annex" till the day after the first—except residents of the "annex" have no fire protection. Exactly what they are getting for the money they pay is a mystery. Presumably for fresh air! In the event of my being returned I shall certainly stick out for a square deal for St. John's Annex. If residents of that portion of the city have to be taxed they should at least be given the definitely ascertain exactly what portions of the city are most in need of the street railway and then to use every endeavor to induce the Street Railway Company to provide car service on such thoroughfares.

SUGGESTION No. 6. EXTENSION OF THE STREET CAR SERVICE.

I am informed on the best authority that the St. John's Street Railway Co. Ltd. intend extending the street car service next spring over all lines which were laid at the opening of the service a score of years ago and possibly by new lines through other thoroughfares. That it is high time this was done is obvious. The only thing in this matter that remains, therefore, for the new Council to do is to keep the Street Railway Company up to its intentions and to endeavor to definitely ascertain exactly what portions of the city are most in need of the street railway and then to use every endeavor to induce the Street Railway Company to provide car service on such thoroughfares.

SUGGESTION No. 7. REDUCTION OF THE POLL TAX.

The poll tax, as at present, is nothing more than a colossal joke (except to those who have paid it) and if the Council expect to collect it from a large number of citizens they are optimistic. Having regard to the salaries and wages paid in St. John's the tax is entirely too big and also, it was sprung entirely too suddenly. My personal opinion is that if the tax was One Dollar it would be paid willingly and, as far as the aggregate amount received by the Council goes it would total a larger amount as ten times as many citizens would pay a tax of One Dollar without any "kick" while the present tax of Five Dollars will take untold machinery to collect if it ever is collected, in a great many cases, at all which seems extremely doubtful.

SUGGESTION No. 8. THE ABOLITION OF THE NIGHT CARS.

I think every citizen that is unfortunate enough to meet one of these "birds of the night" is strong for abolishing them. They are, however, too many to be subject for much discussion. The matter of St. John's sewerage is one that has received much attention and, until I am somewhat better informed of the necessity or otherwise of these cars, than I candidly admit I am at present, I think it well not to express too definitely an opinion on this matter. Certainly St. John's would be a cleaner and healthier city if it were possible to do away with the night cars and, in the event of my return, I shall keep this matter at the back of my head as much as I possess will, I assure you, be used to make St. John's cleaner and healthier. (In Monday's issue I shall present the final of my "plans" under the heading "Prevention Better Than Cure.")

P. E. OUTERBRIDGE.

I THANK YOU!

HIS DIARY.

Yes—To those unacquainted with the diary of Samuel Pepps, it may possibly appear that the author of this story of his entries, gully of making seem ridiculous, happenings which are of great importance or in some cases even tragic. In explanation, it may be said that Samuel Pepps has come down to us in history as a great diarist not only because of the vivid nature of his entries, but for the manner in which his diary was written, the content of the important with the unimportant, the ridiculous with the serious, the recording of all the remarkable events of his day, coupled with the minor details of his domestic life, and in this mixture of comedy, tragedy and pathos, that the charm of the diary lies, and it is for this that all who read him, love him. The diary which appears each day in the Telegram is an attempt to set down the story of the happenings of our day in the way that the author does not think of a moment that he can in any way approach the original Pepps, he is at the most, sincere in his attempt to paint a picture of current events and if any time a serious or even tragic event should be followed and preceded by ridiculous entries, it is not from any desire to ridicule or attempt to bring every person who has read the diary to a laughing matter, but rather an effort to follow the style of the original, and he hopes that all his readers will appreciate the fact and keep it in mind to avoid any misunderstanding.

November 25th.—At breakfast did discover my morning news sheet to be a "whereat" I was greatly wroth and did accuse Mary Ann, the cook, that she had taken it for her own use, which she denied and did moreover, in great anger, give notice. For which, my wife did berate me most heartily, seeing that Mary Ann was in the preparation of food stuffs and it would be, indeed, a task of the utmost difficulty to find her. To the office, where I did find that I had accused Mary Ann falsely, seeing that a falling of the electric power did prevent the news sheet from coming to my home, where I did apply to my wife in a very humble fashion, and through my persuasion and a flask of gin, did prevail upon cook that she should remain, whereat, my wife was in great joy and did embrace me, the which I liked not. To Water Street, and there saw the Prime Minister, he being in a sleigh and having a cigar in his mouth, as is his custom. To the Board of Trade, where meeting Miller, who has at all times the latest gossip. I did learn, though I know not how much salt to take it, that divers men of business will present themselves as councillors, and I am greatly pleased thereat, seeing that they be all good men and wise in the ways of conducting a city. With my wife to Bridge with Mr. and Mrs. Green, which would have been to my own enjoyment, were it not that the women chatter unmercifully. Home and to a consideration of my accounts, which are not at all to my liking, seeing how I owe more for my wife's hats, which she bought, than is my power to pay for.

C. C. C. Dance Carnival.

The C.C.C. Grand Dance Carnival held last night in the Prince's Hall proved one of the most successful events of the season. There was over 2500 people in attendance and 300 masquerades. Many of the costumes were striking and original, amongst them being the "Ferm", "Poultry", "Municipal Candidates" and "Municipal Candidates". After the seventh dance prizes were awarded, the dancing then became general. The prizes awarded were:

Before running garments through the wringer, be sure and turn all buttons and buckles inside of the garment.

Pill pastry shells with a layer of almond oranges, a layer of preserved strawberries and a layer of shredded coconut.

Before a hard frosting is entirely cold, it should be cut through with a sharp knife into sections suitable in size for serving.

Always scald the tea pot before you put in the tea leaves. This prevents accidents to the pot and improves flavor of tea.

If the sink strainer legs scratch the enamel of your sink, cut small cubes from an old rubber heel and fit them on strainer legs.

The easiest way to make vents in a pie crust is by folding one half gently over the other, and stitching it along the center line.

To fit a pie to a plate without tearing it, put the lower crust in place with the lump of dough from which the top is to be made.

If the rubber on your wringer has begun to crumble off, wrap the rolls neatly with white muslin and sew loose ends firmly in place.

If you wish to keep marshmallows for a few days, put a bit of bread in the box with them, to prevent them from becoming hard.

If making a cake to send through the mail, make a substantial untreated loaf cake. Wrap in waxed paper, place in box much too large, and fill in spaces with crumpled tissue paper.

of Ship Owners to the following REGULATIONS of Examination of the (Chapter 1).

GENERAL RULES.

Regulations are issued by an Act respecting the of Engineers (6 Edw.)

with Section 3 of steamers registered shall go to sea from Newfoundland or unless the engines obtained and possession for sea-going ships their several states or of a higher grade of Trade in the United Kingdom certificates of competence to their respective ships, or of a higher grade in any British port, declared by Order of Council, published in the "Gazette" under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and any Act of the United Kingdom relating to the certificates of competence of sea-going ships given in any time a serious or even tragic event should be followed and preceded by ridiculous entries, it is not from any desire to ridicule or attempt to bring every person who has read the diary to a laughing matter, but rather an effort to follow the style of the original, and he hopes that all his readers will appreciate the fact and keep it in mind to avoid any misunderstanding.

November 25th.—At breakfast did discover my morning news sheet to be a "whereat" I was greatly wroth and did accuse Mary Ann, the cook, that she had taken it for her own use, which she denied and did moreover, in great anger, give notice. For which, my wife did berate me most heartily, seeing that Mary Ann was in the preparation of food stuffs and it would be, indeed, a task of the utmost difficulty to find her. To the office, where I did find that I had accused Mary Ann falsely, seeing that a falling of the electric power did prevent the news sheet from coming to my home, where I did apply to my wife in a very humble fashion, and through my persuasion and a flask of gin, did prevail upon cook that she should remain, whereat, my wife was in great joy and did embrace me, the which I liked not. To Water Street, and there saw the Prime Minister, he being in a sleigh and having a cigar in his mouth, as is his custom. To the Board of Trade, where meeting Miller, who has at all times the latest gossip. I did learn, though I know not how much salt to take it, that divers men of business will present themselves as councillors, and I am greatly pleased thereat, seeing that they be all good men and wise in the ways of conducting a city. With my wife to Bridge with Mr. and Mrs. Green, which would have been to my own enjoyment, were it not that the women chatter unmercifully. Home and to a consideration of my accounts, which are not at all to my liking, seeing how I owe more for my wife's hats, which she bought, than is my power to pay for.

C. C. C. Dance Carnival.

The C.C.C. Grand Dance Carnival held last night in the Prince's Hall proved one of the most successful events of the season. There was over 2500 people in attendance and 300 masquerades. Many of the costumes were striking and original, amongst them being the "Ferm", "Poultry", "Municipal Candidates" and "Municipal Candidates". After the seventh dance prizes were awarded, the dancing then became general. The prizes awarded were:

For the most original costume: (Ladies), Mrs. P. J. Kinella; (Gentlemen), Mr. Gus Moore.

For the prettiest costumes: (Ladies) Mrs. Madeline Walsh; (Gentlemen), W. Thorburn.

The C.C.C. Band under Captain Bulley, rendered the music which included a number of new selections which proved very pleasing.

Physical Development.

And its Bearing on Health and Strength.

By GEE.

CALISTHENICS.
"Is there anything better in a state than that both men and women be rendered the very best?"—Plato. Bernard A. Macfadden says: "Physical training is merely the proper use of the entire muscular organism. To use several muscles properly while others are left inactive, to weaken and decay, is not intelligent training. Again, the object of true physical training is not the development of muscular power solely—it is the strengthening of the entire assimilative and vital system. One who practices it persistently and intelligently, finds not only that his muscular power is greater, but that his health improves in color, the digestion stronger, and the mind buoyed with a confidence which comes only with a high state of physical vigor."
"Strength, health, manly and womanly beauty and vigor—the very foundation upon which are built all happiness, all success, and all that makes life productive of glorious results—is attainable for all. What a grand possession it is! Life without it is a humdrum existence. No intense pleasures, no strong emotions, no fiery ambitions, come to those who have not this 'good and perfect life.' It is the very 'sauce' to existence. It is the 'fire' which incites to efforts that lead beyond mediocrity in this race of life. You who have it not for it now! You who have children growing up into manhood and womanhood remember your imperative duty and make them, in the true sense, MEN and WOMEN."
Further Swedish Movements.—Standing, arm bending and stretching movements are particularly felicitous upon to increase suppleness of joints and impart strength to muscles.
For Rheumatism.—They are recommended as a specific remedy against weakness and rheumatic pains in the joints concerned in performing these movements. To individuals whose breathing powers are feeble, as is so apt to be the case with those who lead a sedentary life, these Swedish Exercises are exceedingly valuable, not only on account of their invigorating the organs of respiration, but also in consequence of their stimulating effect upon the digestive functions, very useful in all cases of nervous and general debility, and of impoverishment of the blood.
For Catarrhs.—In cases of chronic catarrh or bronchitis these exercises are also useful for relieving the congested lungs of blood, which is forced out of the thorax into the active muscles of the arms. Persons with weak chests must, however, employ them with due precaution, and in patients with severe disease of the heart or lungs they should not be resorted to without the special advice of a physician. In order to render the exercise more arduous, and its efforts therefore in suitable cases more actively beneficial, the exercise may be modified by flexing and extending the arms in these directions alternately instead of together. Under such circumstances, the respective positions of the arms should be exchanged several times during the performance.
For Thoracic Troubles.—A simple but useful movement, valuable for strengthening the shoulder-joints and muscles of the arms, as well as for relieving the thoracic organs when engorged with blood, is that called cross-standing arm-rotation, inward and outward. During this exercise the arms, previously stretched out at right angles to the body, are rotated round their long axis inward in pronation and outward in supination. The rotary movement is executed partly in the shoulder-joint, and partly by the radius being rotated around the ulna, carrying, of course, the hand with it.
Walking.—Among the most evident effects of a brisk walk you will notice that generally the color comes into the cheeks, the temperature of the body is raised, the breathing is quickened, the pulse beats more frequently, as a rule, the appetite is increased, and the digestion improved. Most of the important muscles of the frame, except those of the arms, are more or less brought into play whilst walking. The body must be held erect by the muscles of the trunk, and, of course, those of the lower extremities are in full activity.

Harbor Grace Notes.
The Boy Scouts Jumble Sale went off on Monday night, 21st inst., in Coughlan Hall, and was a great success, although not so well patronized by the fathers and mothers as hoped. Rev. F. S. Coffin, who has been acting as Scoutmaster since the formation of the organization, was the guest of honor at the sale and gave a very interesting address regarding the "Boy Scout," making special reference to this branch, which, as he stated, had its origin in the parlour of Mr. W. A. McKay's home (now a resident of St. John's and on the Telegram printing staff), and commenced with a membership of three. The number has increased and now there are over 23 in this particular branch. The Boy Scout movement deserves the help and encouragement of all, for, as commented upon by the Rev. gentleman, the training of the boys in this way means the training of them for good citizens, worthy of the name. Our popular orator, Mr. Paul Higgins, then started in to auction off the many varied articles, which had been collected by the boys; the bidding was brisk and quick sale made of the different items. Hot supper and plain teas were served, and the affair came to a close at about 12 p.m., proceeds netted being $125, which will go towards purchasing Scout uniforms. The Scout boys are worthy of commendation in this, their first effort, and of our support and good wishes in the future.
Mr. Frank Davis, son of Mrs. Orestes Davis of Woodville Road, who has been Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Burgeo for some time, has been transferred to the Bank of Nova Scotia at Twillingate. Accompanied by his wife and baby, he arrived here within the last fortnight, and spent a few days at his home, after which he left via S.S. Prospero for Twillingate. Mr. Davis and baby have remained in town a short while longer, but will probably join her husband in the course of a week or two. They take with them to their new home the best wishes of their friends.
Mr. Ernest Gosse of the West End, who has been working at Montreal for the last year or two, arrived home last week, and will likely remain here all the winter.
Part of the coal which was salvaged from the wrecked schooner Araminta and taken over by Mr. E. Simmons, is being sold here during the last few days. Owing to the scarcity of coal in town, same is being met with ready purchasers, and is being let out mostly in tub lots, in order to make the small quantity go as far as possible in helping all.
Schooner Silver Star, Capt. William Day, and owned by Tobias Le Drew of Cupids, drifted from her moorings in Wednesday's gale and went ashore on the south side of the Harbor. It is feared she will be a total loss.
Mrs. Leander Parsons and two daughters Florence and Carrie, left on the 8th inst. for Canada, where they intend to make their home in the future. Mrs. Parsons has two daughters and two sons residing in different parts of Canada.
Wednesday's heavy gale, which continued all through the night and the next day, Thursday, was felt here pretty much. With the exception of the going ashore of the schooner Silver Star, as before mentioned, no severe losses are as yet being heard of.
The body of the late Mr. George Sheppard, who passed away in St. John's recently, will be brought here by this afternoon's train, for burial in his native town. Mr. Sheppard has resided in the city since leaving here a number of years ago. He leaves to mourn, a wife, one daughter and one brother, Mr. John C. Sheppard living there, also six sisters, Mrs. Nath Davis, Mrs. Duncan Webber, Mrs. Orestes Davis, Mrs. Jno. Davis all of this town; Mrs. Leander Dwyer of Whiteaway, T. B., and Mrs. Sophie Stone of Bay of Islands. We tender our sympathy to the bereaved family in their loss.

Erecting Memorial.

The work of erecting the Memorial Tablet which arrived recently is now proceeding at St. Mary's Church, Southside. The tablet was subscribed to by the parishioners and is of bronze, is being erected to the memory of those of the Parish who laid down their lives during the great conflict, as well as those who enlisted, and contains in all 103 names, which is a splendid record for St. Mary's. The unveiling ceremony takes place at Evening Service on Sunday, December 11th, His Lordship Bishop White officiating, while the Rector of St. Thomas', Rev. Mr. Earp, will be the preacher on this important occasion. Guards of honor from the Briton and returned men of the Parish will be present, as well as other representatives of Church and State, and the ceremony promises to be a most impressive one.

DON'T BUY SO MANY BOOTS

SINCE "Hi-Press" has come on the market fishermen are putting many a good dollar back into their pockets that used to go for footwear.

This wonderful boot actually gives two and three times the wear of the ordinary kind. And it's mighty good-looking and comfortable in the bargain.

Here's the idea—"Hi-Press" Rubber Boots are made in a new and vastly better way. They are molded—like an auto tire—INTO ONE SOLID PIECE! They CAN'T leak or peel and there seems no wear-out to them. Millions of fishermen, miners and farmers won't wear anything else. Try them yourself.

Whenever you buy an article of rubber see that it bears this trademark. The wreath and the "G" is the sign of Quality and assurance that the House of Goodrich stands solidly behind its products.

Anglican Makes

An Extra Point.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—A psychological study of the complex problem now looming in front of the Anglican denomination, comprising one-third of the population of the Colony, should be treated with more comprehension and knowledge of the actual situation than characterizes the letter of "Methodist" ostensibly replying to my letter of recent date. "Methodist" is crude and unconvincing. He (or she) begs the main subject of debate and wanders far afield in a vain effort to prove things that never were, nor ever existed. We are not discussing matters of a mediæval nature to-day. We are, on the contrary, treating them as they are and appear to be, and the de-scenting of the trail by "Methodist" will neither improve his claim nor buttress his position. It is perfectly clear that "Methodist" wishes to side-track the perfect desire of the Anglican denomination to its fair share of representation in the administration of this Colony. But, coming from such a source as the Advocate, this will not work. We have been watching that paper and now desire to repudiate its Bolshervistic propensities. Time was when it stood in a fair field, but to-day its columns have been prostituted and outraged by numerous penny-a-liners, who have been taken on at their own valuation, that their paid writings may still further tend to beguile the fishermen. But we diverge from the subject. "Methodist" delves into ancient history, but throws no light whatever upon the modern subject which he crudely attempts to discuss. He is therefore a failure in his chase, and may be dismissed without higher criticism. Such correspondents do not count in discussing the big problems that are going to become vital in the future political, commercial and social structure of Newfoundland.

My letter has caused the Advocate itself to sit up and take notice. The erudite editor thereof, or his understudy, describes it "a bolt from the blue." Possibly it may be. If it has thrown consternation into either political camp, of the present shred and patch Government, then it has not failed of its intention; for let it be distinctly and clearly understood, once and for all, now and forever, that the sixteen external districts of this Colony are no longer going to accept any dictum from St. John's East or West as to whom they shall have for leader. There are a sufficient number of Anglicans, or Church of England people—if you will—to make known their desires and demand their political representation, even though that influential and powerful weekly journal, the Harbor Grace Standard, declaims against such a proposition. The Anglicans of Newfoundland have certain inherent political rights. They intend in future to insist upon recovering them, and if they see fit to nominate a leader belonging to their own persuasion, who will have the courage to say them nay? Should we choose to select Mr. A. B. Morine, we have a perfect right to do so. It is to be noted that we have not forced our denominational privileges, but the time has arrived when we intend to be no longer the "football of political expediency" but the makers of our own destiny, and if we say we will, then it will be, otherwise political disaster will befall the combination that opposes our just and righteous desires. Other aspects of this situation will be discussed as time proceeds. In the meantime, so far as your correspondent can see it, the sentiment of Bonavista district is strongly against Coaker and Coaker as expounded in the Advocate, and all are praying for the day when the opportunity will be given them to put away for all time the menace of Coakerism and its attendant and equally deplorable evils to the future of the fishermen. If Mr. Morine will come, if he will even consider leadership on that very day will a new political sun arise over the horizon of Newfoundland's future, and a better spirit of local polity and good fellowship develop. I have not quoted nor discussed statistics in this communication, but when the figures of my first letter are disputed—they cannot be disproved—they will bring along something further, which will not only prove illuminating but startling in the extreme.

Yours truly,
ANGLICAN.

Bandit's Gratitude.

A story of a bandit's gratitude is described by the Japan Times and Mail.
"The widow of the Japanese General Saito, who has been left practically penniless after the recent death of her husband in Siberia, was astonished a few days ago to see richly dressed Chinese smiling and bowing on her doorstep.
"You do not know me, madam," he said, "but your husband saved my life, and naturally my life belongs to him and his. I have heard of your need of assistance I have made arrangements with my banker to forward you $250 monthly, and if that is not sufficient for your needs more will be added." He then departed before the widow could realize her good fortune.
The tale dates back, adds the Japan Times and Mail, to the Russo-Japanese War. The Chinaman was head of some bandits whom the Russians used for spy work. He was captured by Saito and sentenced to death. His mother heard of this and pleaded, "Who will worship at the grave of his ancestors? He is an only son and I am old." Saito, sympathetic, agreed to spare the bandit's life on condition that he guided the Japanese troops to a point near Port Arthur. After the war the bandit "retired" and was granted a concession for the bath-houses in the Chinese quarter of Tokio, where to-day the one-time bandit is a wealthy and respected citizen.

Long Live Secret.

Psychology and not medicine was given as the secret of longevity by Dr. A. H. Warner, of New York, in an address to the Allied Medical Association of America. Because the Bible says that a life shall be three score years and ten people expect to die when they reach that age, declared Dr. Warner. Given a sound constitution and a clean record, there is no reason why a man or woman should not reach the age of 100 years. It is simply a matter of our clothes and hands, necks, and psychology and good living.

At the City Hall.

THURSDAY'S SESSION.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council was held Thursday evening. The Mayor presided and all the Council members present. After confirmation of the Minutes of the last meeting, following business was transacted. The Reid N&G Company asked permission to install a 1 1/2 inch water pipe to connect their machine shop to the city water supply. The request was acceded to, provided the company undertakes to pay cost of installation. Letters were read from the Electric Department, Reid Newfoundland Company, stating that the lights ordered during the past week would be installed. Within the past few weeks, notification has been sent the owners of lands in the City to have suitable fences erected. At yesterday's meeting, replies were received from A. Reid, Secretary Treasurer, Reid Newfoundland Company; John Skinn, Reid Newfoundland Company; and F. W. Clapp, on behalf of Clapp's Estate.

Informing the Council their order would be carried out. Messrs. Blackwood, Emerson and Winter wrote, in reference to vacant property, Duckworth Street, occupied by Hon. W. J. Ellis, stating that Mr. Ellis was the party to be notified in this connection, and they had no right to enter on the property for any purpose. A notification was sent to Mr. Ellis, but, as yet, nothing has been done. It was, therefore, decided to place the matter in the hands of the Solicitor to compel those liable to comply with the directions given by the Council. R. F. Horwood drew attention to the condition of surface drains, Harvey Road, at entrance to Methodist College Hall. As suggested, a gutter will be placed on this street, to relieve the cause of complaint. It is impossible, owing to the advanced season, to make any improvement, but the matter will be given attention in the Spring. The dumping of snow and ice from the Parade Rink on Harvey Road, during the winter months was discussed, and it was decided to notify the proprietors that same will not be permitted in the future.

Messrs. Dale & Company applied for share of insurance on Municipal property. The application was ordered filed. P. Scott applied for a position as clerk or collector. It was ordered to be placed on file, for future reference. J. Clarke, Water Street West, called attention to damage done his property through broken sewer pipe, which discharges on his premises. The matter was referred to the City Engineer. F. Hall wrote in reference to B.P. sent him for sewerage tax, pointing out that, in view of his being unable to connect his dwelling with the city mains, he should not be called upon to pay this tax. The matter will be inquired into, and settled to the satisfaction of Mr. Hall. F. Moore, Franklin Avenue, and D. Rodway, Freshwater Road applied for water and sewerage under the Small Homes Act. It was decided that they be given the privileges of this Act. W. P. Pope asked if it was the intention of the Council to have the sanitary call at Golf Ave and Mendy Pond Road, to remove the garbage. The Sanitary Supervisor will be directed to give this matter his attention.

The Dickie Construction Company, in reply to a letter from the Council in reference to wooden steps erected at the rear of Royal Bank of Canada Building, Water Street, stated that plans, showing location of the steps in question, had been approved by the Council twelve months ago, and this under that section of the Act dealing with the erection of external work steps. Jonas C. Bärter, Architect, presented B.P. for plans and estimates of proposed sanitary stables, submitted some time ago, also B.P. for plans and superintendence of workmen's houses. This matter will be investigated before the Council can consider same. The following plans were passed, subject to the approval of the Engineer:—John J. Doyle, outhouse, Brine Street; Department Marine & Fisheries, annex Acetylene Plant, King's Wharf; A. E. Vaughan, bakery, 269 Water Street West. Plans submitted by Mr. C. Parsons, Pleasant Street, was deferred. An application was received from Mrs. Grouchy for permission to erect a building on the inside of the track on Pine Street. As this is the first application received by the Council for buildings in the new limits, as set forth in the Municipal Act, 1921, it was decided that the matter stand over for consideration.

The Mayor drew attention to the fact that ship owners moor their vessels in the public Coves, during the winter months, and as a result considerable inconvenience was caused in dumping the snow from the City Streets into the waters of the Harbour. It was ordered that owners, who have their vessels at present moored in public Coves, be notified to immediately remove same. It was decided to have lights installed on McNeil and Summer Sts. A largely signed petition was received from the residents of these localities, some time ago, but, at the time, it was impossible to grant their request. Instructions have been given the City Engineer to immediately attend to this matter. A lady resident of the South Side wrote, thanking the Council for their promptness in installing a light in this locality, which, she stated, was badly needed. Health Officer Brehm reported two cases of Diphtheria in the City for the week. Reports of City Engineer, Plumbing Inspector, and other departmental heads were read, accounts presented ordered paid. A lengthy communication was read from the Secretary of the Newfoundland Ritz Company, Ltd., in reference to the concessions asked for in previous communication. In view of the great benefits which would accrue to the City, in the event of the actualization of the Company's plans, and as the sum of $500,000 would be immediately expended in the purchasing of local materials and employment of local workmen, also taking into consideration the fact that the City has long felt the need of satisfactory hotel accommodation, he asked reconsideration of the decision recently made by the Council, and stated that on the answer of the Board depended the investment of $1,000,000.00 in the City of St. John's. The matter was given most careful consideration by the Council and it was unanimously agreed that the following resolutions be forwarded His Excellency the Governor in Council for consideration. "WHEREAS this Board of Municipal Commissioners for St. John's has been approached by the Newfoundland Ritz Company, Limited, with a request for concessions in respect to Municipal taxation, the Company representing that such concessions are absolutely necessary to the perfecting of its plans and arrangements for the construction of a large, modern and efficiently operated hotel in this city. "AND WHEREAS the Municipal Commissioners, recognizing that the construction and operation of such an hotel would put hundreds of thousands of dollars in the pockets of our mechanics and would benefit the trade very materially, while the establishment of the hotel would confer very great and lasting advantages on the City generally, desire to further the movement in every practical way reasonable and possible. "AND WHEREAS this Municipal Commission has not of itself the power to make to the Newfoundland Ritz Company, Limited, the concessions asked of the Commission. "BE IT RESOLVED that the Municipal Commissioners of St. John's in regular session convened do hereby go on record as favouring the granting of such concessions and as instructing its official to forward such recommendation to His Excellency the Governor in Council for action thereon. "BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this Municipal Commission recommends to His Excellency the Governor in Council the granting to the Newfoundland Ritz Company, of full exemption from Municipal taxation for a period of five years, from the time of the opening of the building for business, and of the remission of half the usual Municipal taxation on such an hotel property for a further additional period of five years. "With regard to the recent inquiry into the expenditure on the New Road, the Council is still awaiting the decision of the Department of Justice.

It's Nerve Force from Nuxated Iron that helps make STRONG, MAGNETIC, FORCEFUL MEN, who make their over-mastering presence felt the moment they enter a room. NUXATED IRON contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man. It also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. Organic iron enriches the blood and plenty of rich, red blood means more nerve force, so that Nuxated Iron not only feeds what might be termed artificial nerve force to the nerve cells, but it stimulates the blood to manufacture a greatly increased supply of new nerve force. If you are weak, nervous, or run-down, get a bottle of Nuxated Iron to-day, and it will in two weeks' time you do not feel that it has increased your nerve force and make you feel better and stronger in every way, your money will be refunded. Alive With Leeches.

In his account of the Everest expedition, Colonel Howard Bessy describes a visit to the lower valley of the Kamachoo. At the end of August, he says, we started off from Kharta, crossed the Samjanua, (35,000 feet) and, after passing through the Valley of the Mountain Lakes, crossed the Chogla (16,100 feet), camping by the side of a lake of deep green color on the far side of the pass. This lake, which it called Rudaminkite, is looked upon as holy, and the people make annual pilgrimages to it, walking round the lake, burning incense and throwing epics into its waters. Six miles below Sakiden, we crossed the Kamachoo by a bridge at a height of 10,500 feet. There was a fine open space for camping here, but the grass was long, and, on having it cut, we found it alive with leeches. Dry bamboo "were quickly collected and burnt over the spots on which we were to pitch our tents. But despite these precautions, the whole evening was spent in plucking of leeches from our clothes and hands, necks, and psychology and good living.

Fishermen! Here's the Boot for You-"EXCEL"!

"EXCEL"
Made 'All in One Piece'

"EXCEL"

The Fishermen's Friend

All fishermen know from experience what happens to ordinary boots when used in fishing. You've seen how salt water seems to take the life out of rubber and how the uppers crack and the soles wear through in a surprisingly short time.

The "EXCEL" is a different and better kind of boot. It has been made especially to stand up under the unusually hard use a fisherman's boot gets.

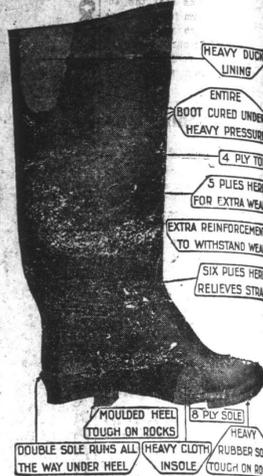

The rubber and fabric in "EXCEL" boots are of the very highest quality. But it is the special method of curing, under tremendous pressure, that makes the "EXCEL" so wear-resisting. The pressure forces the layers of rubber and fabric together so that they are actually "one-piece", without losing the least bit of the life or resiliency of the rubber. Salt water has practically no effect on "EXCEL" boots. The UPPERS remain pliable and weatherproof, and resist the drying-out action of sun, heat and extreme cold far longer than other boots. Consequently they don't crack anywhere near so quickly. The SOLES are almost wear-proof, because they are made like an Auto Tire, with 8 plies of rubber and fabric welded by tremendous pressure into a "tire-tread" sole that rivals an automobile tire for toughness and durability.

strain. There is not a single feature but what has been proved necessary and desirable by tests of severest use. Your own experience will tell you that a boot with these features simply must be a better boot.

Study this picture. Learn these features. Remember them when you compare "EXCEL" boots with ordinary boots. And remember, too, that very important point which the picture cannot show, namely, that "EXCEL" boots are cured under tremendous pressure, which leaves the rubber pliable, weatherproof and wear-resisting. It is only by the use of this tremendous pressure combined with highest quality materials that the best results are obtained.

Pliable Uppers. Weatherproof and Wear Resisting. Tough Tire Tread Soles. Made "All in One Piece."

"EXCEL" Boots are sold by all reliable dealers from Coast to Coast.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

WHY WOMEN'S WORK IS DULLER.

What a difference it makes in the dullness of work whether it be done alone or with a group of other people! Two or three in one group were digging, and passing tanner back and forth as they dug. Another detachment were carrying some rails to the place where they were to be laid and they were whistling a tune together as they marched.

They Talked as They Worked. Still another pair squatted opposite each other, filing through a rail with some kind of saw of which each held one end. As the rhythmic motion progressed they talked. I could not hear what they were saying but it was evident that they were companionable.

And as I watched I thought, "Well, that at least is one thing that men have over women, their work is so much more often done in groups. It brings with it so much more of human contact and human interest. How much more fun those men have out of their work than a woman going about her monotonous every-day same tasks in the kitchen by herself, with no one to talk to or banter or sing with."

Why So Many Women Prefer the Shop. Isn't this one of the reasons why women would rather work in the factory or the shop than do housework—because such work brings them into contact with their kind. Companionship gives color and life to even a monotonous task. Of course the woman can pause in her household to go and talk to her neighbor work together, and so that the inevitable lost motions and the waste of materials and fuels that come from having this big job done by so many small units could be avoided. I have spoken before of the experiments in community kitchens where paid help did the work of meal preparing. Would it ever be possible, I wonder to organize community kitchens in tenement or inexpensive apartment houses where under the direction of some competent dietitian and cook the women themselves did together the work of meal preparation.

I know it is a much wider dream than the other. It represents an achievement in the science of human relations as difficult and unthinkable as the wireless or telephone would have seemed 100 years ago. But I am afraid that we cannot draw all the comfort it would seem to bring, from that simile, for the science of human relationships seems to be the slowest of all sciences in its development.

It's just a play that the children will love—chuck full of clean, refined comedy. Buy tickets for them to-day and let them see "Deacon Dubbs".

London's Police Women.

More than one hundred police women have been added to the London force in an effort to solve the social problems of the world's greatest city. In their smart uniforms they may be seen on duty day and night in the congested areas of the metropolis. The work is largely social and advisory, says Woman's Century. They have no power to arrest, but their observations or investigations may lead to an arrest through a male member of the force. The London policeman has wider powers in such matter than any other and can arrest on suspicion only.

The work of the women police is directed by a lady superintendent, who holds office in Scotland Yard. The experiment is part of the great movement on in Britain to control the social evil, and the services of the women police are merely an auxiliary to the clinics, publicity, education and hospital phases of the campaign. During the war years there was a very large force of policewomen in London.

If you want him to pop the question you must insist on his taking you to see how "Deacon Dubbs" did it at the Casino on Monday.

Chimney Two Miles Long.

The heavy vegetation-killing acid fumes from a copper smelter in Wales are carried up the steep side of a mountain and discharged high above its summit by a smoke-stack which is a novelty in chimney construction. More than two miles in length, it leans against the mountain for most of the distance, ending in a 100-ft. vertical section. A near-by brook was diverted to flow alongside the long tube, partially submerging it, thereby cooling and condensing most of the rich vapors upon its walls. That this is well worth while is demonstrated yearly at the time of cleaning, when a ton or more of high-grade metal is recovered.

G. W. V. A. and Unemployment.

The Executive of the G.W.V.A. held a special meeting last night when matters in connection with unemployment were amongst the principal topics discussed. It was stated that some 500 ex-service men are now out of work in this city, and so far nothing has been done to provide them with employment. In order to cope with the destitution already prevailing, and likely to prevail during the next few months, a special G.W.V.A. Relief Committee was appointed, who will arrange a series of Sacred Concerts to be held on Sunday afternoons. It is hoped by this means to raise sufficient funds to assist needy ex-service men and their families and, all available local talent together with the Brigade Bands will be asked to assist in this movement. A special Committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary appointed to investigate genuine cases, will co-operate with the central relief Committee, which is being formed by the various charitable organizations, and the city Churches, so that all relief will be granted to only deserving persons, and no persons will be able to get relief from several organizations as heretofore. It is understood the Prime Minister has sanctioned to provide employment within a fortnight for 50 ex-service men, who will be willing to engage at cutting pit props. These men must be physically fit, and must be able to give good value for the money paid. The selecting of those men will be undertaken by the G.W.V.A. A scheme to employ disabled men has also been promised by the Government, and is now under consideration. Whether this will be in the form of re-establishment, including training has not as yet been decided. The meeting closed at midnight after other minor matters had been disposed of.

British Trade Ship

The Government of Newfoundland held a luncheon at the Rotary Club of St. John's on Monday, Nov. 21, at 1.30 p.m. The guests included Lord Hicks, and Lord McCreagh. The aim and object of the luncheon was to discuss the trade ship problem. Lord Hicks said that the Government was anxious to see that the trade ship problem was solved. The ship was to be used for the purpose of carrying goods to the islands. The Government was anxious to see that the trade ship problem was solved. Found Not Guilty

The jury in the case of the Crown against William and Bertha Babh for obtaining money under false pretences, returned to court at 1.30 a.m. yesterday a verdict of not guilty. The case was heard on Circuit Court before Mr. Justice Kent and a special jury at St. John's. The charge was that the accused had put in a claim for insurance on goods which were not in existence when it was burnt last summer. The case was a very interesting one and the Court Room was crowded during the trial.

British Trade Ship Plans

NO GOVERNMENT CONTROL.

The Rotary Club of London a few days ago held a luncheon at the Hotel Cecil, at which Earl Grey, Sir Maxwell Hicks, and Lord Morris, explained the aims and objects of Trade Ship, and said that we had to find markets for 40 per cent. of our manufactures, and after the way in which we had fought for our precious cargo during the war, we were not prepared to lose it now by neglect of commercial opportunities. The ship which would sail each year hence should do much to restore to our commerce its lost advantages. The ship was specially designed and would really be a floating factory, which would show manufacturers' goods to take the floating extension to some 20 leading ports of the world. The organizers of the scheme were out to provide the cheapest service for exhibitors, and they had not asked the Government for any help, because Government would probably have a bad password to the enthusiasm of the British trader.

Mr. Maxwell Hicks declared it would be no use to send the trade ship out today when our costs of manufacture are so high. If in the next two years it was not possible to reduce the cost of manufacture British trade would be a bad way. In arranging for the trade ship to sail in two years, time was being banked on the assumption that costs would be reduced considerably. In reply to questions, he said that except inasmuch as they would be on an iniquitous proportion in taxation, the Government would have no share in the profits which were made. Lord Morris, in moving a vote of thanks to the speakers, said that the situation of this country was particularly serious in view of the fact that it produced only one-fifth of the food required. Other countries were now doing for themselves and for the world articles which we formerly supplied. It even before the war by peaceful penetration the Germans were bringing us out of our markets, and the situation was worse to-day, when we were pulled down by heavy taxation. The Times.

Our Overseas Dominions

NEWFOUNDLAND'S HISTORY.

The great importance of Newfoundland as a part of the British Empire was emphasized by Lord Morris, Prime Minister of that Colony from 1909 to 1911, recently in the first of a series of trade and travel lectures entitled "Our Overseas Dominions Offer," delivered at the Central Y.M.C.A., 100 Water Street, London.

After stating that Newfoundland was the first discovery of the first decade of the 17th century was the sole possession of the English in the western hemisphere, he claimed that the genesis of Imperialism came from that day. He outlined the growth of the colony, its gradual development, the establishment of railroads and the progress of the fishing industry. Reference was also made to the agricultural and mineral resources, and the attractions offered to the sportsman and the tourist.

Turning to the climatic conditions, he stated that the climate of the Colony was similar to that of the British Isles, "but in such things as a Newfoundland fog," he added. "The only fog which the country suffers from is that which comes from the south, but there have been seasons when it is by no means uncommon for months to pass without any fog being seen."

He spoke of the educational systems of the island, the social life of the people, the Government of the Colony, and the establishment 30 years ago of the Naval Reserve, and its splendid work during the war. He also referred to the part played by the Colony in the great war, and the fact that the Newfoundland Regiment had won every distinction from the Victoria Cross down, how they had been given the title of "Royal" by the King, and how the late Lord Kitchener, in reviewing them, had said they were just the kind of men that were required.

Concluding, he pointed out that Newfoundland was a Dominion, with all the powers granted to the other Dominions; and that, situated as it was upon the threshold of the American continent, it might yet have a greater part to play in the Empire's history.

When Newfoundland Practically Owned The Maritime Provinces.

Some Interesting Reminiscences of the Past.

(H. F. SHORTIS.)

It is really wonderful the large amount of money that was sent out of this country, and found its way into the pockets of our Colonial friends in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island during the forties, but more particularly the fifties and sixties of the past century. It would certainly run into millions of dollars. I am not aware that any person was curious enough to sum up the total amount, and now, of course, it is an utter impossibility to do so. I wish it to be understood that I am confining myself to the huge amount paid out for shipping alone during the above periods, and my remarks have nothing whatever to do with the amounts transferred to these Provinces for such imports as hay, oats, potatoes, turnips, carrots, parsnips, fresh meat, lumber, etc. During the above period, numbers of vessels were sent to Newfoundland loaded with the produce, consigned to Cliff, Wood & Co., Matthew Stewart, J. & W. Pitts, Rutherford Brothers of Harbor Grace, and other merchants. When the vessels were discharged of their cargoes, they were sold, either by public auction or private sale, to those merchants or independent planters and sealing-masters who required them for the prosecution of our great industry. In many cases the ships were built under contract, and the sealing masters visited Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and Cape Breton to personally supervise the work and see that the contract was faithfully carried out. In many instances the amounts of the contracts on completion, were paid in Newfoundland Bank Notes, and when I was a boy, I often heard the old sealing masters and others remark that in the fifties and sixties of the past century there was a greater number of Newfoundland Bank Notes floating around in circulation in Prince Edward Island than there were in Newfoundland itself. I can readily believe that such was the case, because, during my own day, there were scores of brigs, brigantines, and even one or two barques built in those Provinces which were paid for in ready cash by our merchants and planters.

SKIPPER SUPERVISED CONSTRUCTION.

These vessels were built expressly for the prosecution of the seal-fishery, (although there were foreign-going vessels built there also, for the Newfoundland trade) under the personal direction of the Newfoundland skippers, who knew what was required, and it is needless to say that not the slightest detail escaped the eagle eye of our experienced veterans. Amongst the many scores of vessels which were purchased in St. John's and the outports about seventy years ago and after, was the brigantine Skipwith. She was about 140 tons, and was in charge of the well-known seal-killer and master mariner, Capt. William Ryan, father of our respected townsman, Charles W. Ryan, President of the St. Vincent de Paul Charitable Society, and the best wicket-keeper at cricket I have known, except probably Sykes and Neil McDougall. Fifty years ago the name of Capt. Ryan was a household word, and was immortalized by the local poet of his time. Capt. Ryan afterwards took charge of the first S.S. Bloodhound, out of the firm of Baine Johnston & Co., after Capt. Alexander Graham had left her to take charge of the S.S. Lion out of Walter Grieve & Co.'s. These two ships were built in St. John's Dockyard in Greenock. In the year 1864 or 65 Capt. Ryan commanded the S.S. Bloodhound on foreign voyages, and it was while he was in her as master at Greenock that he received his appointment of commander for the next spring at the seal-fishery. The first year in the Bloodhound he had a full load of seals and a good second trip. The next year he also had a full load. He was one of our most successful master-mariners and seal-killers—and to this day, like so many of the great vikings—is famous in song and story. Capt. Ryan was a man of splendid physique, herculean strength, and as a sailor as ever needed a topsail; and many were the feats of strength and agility performed by him in his early days, which would seem incredible to those of the younger generation. He was also in charge of the brigantine Oriental out of P. & L. Tessier's, and subsequently appointed Assistant Examiner of Masters and Mates. Some of those vessels built in the Provinces were really beautiful models of marine architecture, and amongst them I can name the famous brig Isabella Ridley, Capt. Henry Thomey, who, for thirty springs, her commander, never missed the fat. In fact, he never missed it either in her, the John Lemon, Bride, or the Scotch Lass. She was built in Pughwash, N. S., and no expense was spared to make her as strong as wood and iron could do. Her spars and yards, etc., were taken from the barque Nil Desperandum, which went ashore and became a total loss at Bristol's Hope (between Carbonar and Harbor Grace) about 1856, and the spars, yards, etc., used in bringing her down from Pughwash were taken out of her, and those saved from the Nil Desperandum were cut down to a suitable size, and took the place of those from Nova Scotia.

SOME FAMOUS SHIPS.

All these vessels were full timbered, well strapped and fastened, to battle against the ice-floes, and were chocked and sheathed with 2 1/2 and 3 inch birch plank, and over that with heavy iron sheathing. Some of the best vessels purchased in the Provinces that I know of were the Zambesi, Livingston, Kate Cummins, Haller's Kate, (all of which were built to order in Cape Breton by Archibald & Co.)—the Triumph, Contest, Comet, Naial and scores of others. In Nova Scotia—the Sonora for Gilson, Rover's Bride, Alpha, and I think Capt. William Kean's barque Barbara, and many others. The Margaret Grant and the Gladiator, owned by the Wilcox brothers of Briggis, were really splendid ships, as also was the Henrietta Grieve. And yet noted as these vessels were for their strength, durability and sailing qualities, they were not superior to many of those turned out by our famous shipbuilders in our own country. Amongst them I may mention the brig Henry Thomas, (the best sailing vessel that ever procured at the seal-fishery), the Naomi, built at Heart's Content for Capt. Stephen Parsons of Bay Roberts; the Thomas Ridley, built by the great Michael Kearney, on the beach at Carbonar, the W. Donnelly, the Mary Housnell—the Jessie, by John Woods for Capt. Peary, and many others. About the year 1860, Capt. Peary in the Jessie rescued the crew of a Nova Scotian vessel on the high seas, during a storm, and had to put back to Queenstown, Ireland, as he had no provisions sufficient for the extra hands, and thus he arrived too late in St. John's to prosecute the seal-fishery. Capt. William Whelan's famous brig Hound was built by Curtis, and I could name many others.

HISTORIC BARKING KETTLE.

At first glance, readers of the Telegram may consider it somewhat irrelevant that I should mention the historic Barking Kettle of St. John's West in connection with the seal-fishery and the sailing vessels composing our great fleet in years gone by; but ere I have finished I think they will find that it played an important part in the events of those days. Few of our fellow-countrymen of the older generation in the United States and Canada will not fail to remember this historic locality, which played such a prominent part in connection with the seal and codfisheries of sixty years ago. As will be readily understood, the name is derived from the fact that the fishermen always barked their sails, twines, etc., in the spring of the year, previous to the prosecution of the codfishery. There were two barking kettles then—one recognized as being owned by the public—the other by old

Mr. James Duggan, grandfather of Mr. Wm. Duggan of the Museum building. This would be about 1798, and after and I may here mention that Mr. Duggan's house is still in a splendid state of preservation, notwithstanding the fact that it was built over a century ago, immediately opposite the historic Barking Kettle. But this historic locality was not confined to the barking of sails, twines, etc., because all the sealing crews, from Bowring's, up to Newman's, filled their puncheons with water from the river which flowed from Mundy's Pond, and discharged in the Cove between Newman's and Housnell's. It was no unusual sight to witness over one hundred sealers there at the one time, waiting their turn to fill their vessel's puncheons, which were brought on catamarans, drays, and every other means of conveyance. The water was dipped up in buckets by the crew of each ship, and when the puncheons were filled, they were conveyed to the respective wharves and placed on board the sealing vessels. Many a good battle was fought on that historic ground of the Barking Kettle by the men endeavoring to get "first turn" to dip up the water, but, of course, the row was all in the day's work, and was soon forgotten, and friendship renewed over, a stiff glass of "the same again," and it wasn't coca cola either, sucked through a straw.

A FAMOUS SITE.

Mr. Silvermith's garage is now built exactly over where the Barking Kettle stood. Capt. Carter's (father of the late Mrs. Peter Tessier) stable was on the eastern side of the river. After it was removed a new Church of England school house was erected on the same site, and the teacher was Mr. Woods. After a time the school was also taken down, and the Salvation Citadel was created where it stood. In those far-off days there were very few houses in the neighborhood of the barking kettle—the chief erections being those of Monier Hutchings (father of the late Mr. Geo. A. Hutchings of Job Bros.) Duggan and LeMessurier, and some years later Mr. Hutchings built three dwelling houses in the one block—occupied respectively by Capt. Carter, old Dr. Rocheford, and another family I do not know who lived in the middle tenement. The late Mr. T. R. Smith, of C. F. Bennett & Co., had a residence in the other side, which was subsequently purchased by the late Capt. Wm. Woodford of sealing fame—father of Mr. W. H. Woodford for many years member for Harbor Main and chairman of the Board of Works. I trust the above will interest the thousands of our exiled fellow-countrymen in the United States, Canada and elsewhere, who long to visit the shores of our beloved country or at least to peruse in the columns of the Evening Telegram some reminiscences of the past, which will remind them of the happy days they spent at home during their boyhood and early manhood-days; and will prove a gentle reminder for them

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs. Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loverna, Sask., writes: "In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, became very nervous and shaky and in fact gave up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39."

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Medicine and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kichay-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd.
Gentlemen—I have used Minard's Liniment and have found it a good remedy. After the explosion I was pretty well shaken up having quite a number of bruises and cuts, but thanks to Minard's Liniment I am my old self again. It healed the sores and bruises and gave me much relief. It is true to its name as the King of Pain, for it stopped the pain almost at once. I first noticed the ad. in the Montreal Standard and decided to invest in a bottle, for which I am not sorry, but can say with truth that I am thankful for it having saved all I claimed to do, and in my case much more, and a satisfied customer is the best ad. one can possibly find. That is my view of it and I think you will agree with me too.

Yours very truly,

Remarkable Diving Under Difficulties.

Diver W. Squires recently returned from the North, where he had been for the last four or five weeks. For the purpose of surveying he was diving under several vessels that had been wrecked during the recent storm. It was very rough for diving, because of the heavy sea and undertow, and the coldness of the water. The diver was at the wreck of the "Vendette" and took part in the rescue of the sixty-seven souls who were on the wrecked vessel, he being on S.S. D. P. Ingraham at the time. After the rescue, the Ingraham got a large hawser around her propeller, and in the height of the storm, the diver took the risk of dressing and going under her. He was successful, after four hours, in getting the propeller clear again.

A Land Without Night.

The Scottish Highlands, in the early July days, may truly be called a land where there is no night, for sunset and sunrise are really one and the same, officially the sun disappears for about six hours, but the track of its passage from northwest to southeast is marked by a crimson glow above the horizon which serves to link the long summer days together in an unbroken chain.

On a cloudless night one can sit by the shores on the Moray Firth and read the newspaper at midnight, and golf, tennis and bowls have all been played while England slept.

Cattle can be seen steadily grazing through the clear nights. The birds, too, appear to be a little puzzled by the unusually bright conditions. Their twittering never ceases, and occasionally one will break into song that another will answer.

Put peanut brittle through the chopper and fold into stiff cream. Chill and serve with cake.

MY COLUMN.

(BY THE CUB-EDITOR.)
ALL ABOUT BRIDGE.
CHAPTER II.

The general principles of Bridge are well known to most people to be any explanation from me, but the sake of the completely ignorant, I shall deal with them, briefly, in this, of course a card game. A pack of 52 cards is used, and the dealer is—as a rule—left out. The game is for four players and one of these is always, (whether actually or not is open to question), supposed to be a dummy. The cards are all dealt, one at a time, until each player has thirteen. It is always better to count one's cards because one never knows what a dealer may do. Some of them are very irresponsible people. To obviate any foul play on the part of the dealer, the cards are shuffled by the player on his left and cut by the one on his right. In spite of this, however, a very good dealer can usually manage to appropriate all the aces and most of the court cards for himself and his partner.

See. This is a feat which requires considerable practice, if perfection is the goal. Seeing is a very complicated process and is understood by very few players. This is a great advantage to those who can score, for through their superior knowledge, they can always add surreptitious points to their scores. There are a lot of other principles, both good and bad, in Bridge, but I will not discuss them further. There is enough information in this article to muddle the head of the beginner or the advanced player. Having got so far, therefore, I had better give a word of warning. If one intends to take up Bridge seriously one must be prepared.

- (1) To concentrate carefully, and if one's partner is a good looking representative of the opposite sex, attempt to ignore that fact absolutely. A Bridge player must have no mind for petty thoughts.
- (2) To try and remember every card that has been played and all that are going to be played. There are two ways of doing this. One is to take up Pfenning's; the other to jot down the cards as they are played. The first is a bore and the second is not allowed. So there you are!
- (3) To be able to judge how the cards are distributed. This is best done by placing one's self so that there is a mirror opposite, reflecting the hands of the other players.

Next week I shall give some practical advice on bidding.

RIMES OF THE TIMES.

RECIPROACITY.
Two dames of Foxtrap met one day
And quarrelled o'er a garden gate.
Each seemed to have a lot of say
And swore they'd break each other's pate.

The first one wanted to go through
The gate. The other held her back
And with a hammer which she drew
Threatened her neighbor's bean to crack.

But was that dauntless dame afraid.
Not she! A pitchfork then she took
And standing there, for war arrayed,
Said that no insults would she brook.

But just as women always do
They dropped their arms and with their hands
At one another's throats they flew,
The older falls, the younger stands.

And so at last to court they came,
And there the matter was thrashed
The plaintiff was the vanquished
The accused, she who knocked her out.

"Two dollars" "Did His Honour say
Or for five days you'll be interned.
Accused replied "I will not pay
For money saved is money earned."

Some "Beaver" Wit and Humor.

TRADERS.

"Tis verra re-remarkable," remarked
Scotty, "how it is ye Canadians make money."

"No more than you Scotchmen," returned the Canuck, politely. "I once heard of a couple of Scotchmen who got cast away on a desert island. When they died, years later, they had both made millions trading their clothes back and forth to each other."

SAFE, IF NOT SANE.

"He's wandering in his mind."
"That's all right; he won't go far."

EVERYBODY'S DOING IT.

A party of travelling men in a Winnipeg hotel were one day boasting of the business done by their respective firms, when one of the travellers said:
"No house in the country, I am proud to say, has more men and women pushing its line of goods than mine."

"What do you sell?" he was asked.
"Baby carriages," said the drummer
as he fled from the room.

RIOTOUS.

Speaking of Ireland, Mr. Oliver Her-ford says it is a land of patriotic people. The term patriot is derived from two Greek words: Pat, a patriotic, and riot, a national pastime.

INDEFINITE.

"Is this the hosiery department?"
said the voice over the phone.
"Yes," replied the weary saleslady.
"Have you any flesh-colored stockings in stock?" asked the voice.
"Yes," replied the weary saleslady.
"Waddy wan—pink, yellow or black?"

LUCKY GIRL.

It was leap year, and Lisa was forty and single, so when Luke called up on the telephone, the following conversation took place:
Luke—Hello, is dis Miss Lisa?
Lisa—Yes, dis is Lisa. What does
you want?
Luke—I jes' thought as how I'd call and ask you would you marry me, Miss Lisa?
Lisa—Laws! Yessah! Yessah!
Who am I?
HE WAS NERVOUS.

A passenger thrust his head out of a car window and excitedly exclaimed:
"A woman has fainted in here, has any one any whiskey?"
A man in the crowd handed up a bottle from his hip pocket to the passenger, who put it to his lips and drained the contents, and then said aloud: "It always did make me nervous to see a woman faint!"

WOOD-SHED DAYS.
We're done with wood-shed days, it seems.
And yet they linger in my dreams.
Those days of old when it was willed
That I must keep the coal stove filled
And early quit my cosy bed
To clear a path unto the shed.
Then cheeks were red and anger
grew
As drifts of snow I struggled through
And built a bank on either side
To make a pathway two-feet wide.
Two banks twist which a boy could stand.
A scuffle held in either hand.
At night before I went to bed,
"Get in the coal," my father said,
And through the biting winter air
I'd thread that slippery thoroughfare.
The while he watched before the door
Until my dangerous trip was o'er.
The kitchen window shed its light
Across the snow drifts, glistening
white.
Yet once inside that little shack
The scene was cavernously black
And frightful forms appeared to be Lying in wait to strangle me.
I'd place the scuttle by the wood.
Then try to guess just where it stood.
And when at last my face was turned
To where the kitchen gaslight burned,
I'd find before I reached the door
I'd find the coal upon the floor.
Those tasks are gone, the shed's no
more.
The time of cheerful stoves is o'er;
The father, too, has passed away.
And yet with every winter day,
Despite the ease of modern ways,
I'm grateful for those wood-shed days.

waist.
"Mandy, tell that niggah to take his arm 'way from 'round yo' wals," he indignantly commanded.
"Tell him yo'self," said Amanda.
"He's a puffed stranger to me."
FOR THE BLIND.
A small Hebrew storekeeper down in New York, much to the surprise of his brethren, blossomed forth one morning with a gorgeous new blind on his store window. Of course it was the envy of all the tribe. Also the cause of many questions. "Nice blind, Isaac," began one of his neighbours. "Yes, Aaron." "Vat did it cost you, Isaac?" "It didn't cost me nothing, Aaron; my customers paid for it."
Your customers, vy Isaac!" "Sure, Aaron. I put a leadle box on my counter marked 'For the Blind' and they paid for it."
HERB'S BUSY DAY.
Old Herb Sharples was sitting, reading his mail in his store the other day, and a stranger entered. Herb approached him, and asked him what he wanted. "Oh, I'm just looking around," replied the stranger. "Well," said Herb, "come in tomorrow. I'm too busy to watch you now."
HE WILL DO.
BUSINESS MAN (to young lad seeking employment): "Weren't you here
two weeks ago, and didn't I tell you that I wanted an older boy?"
"Yes, sir. That's why I've come back."
The two boxes are gone for Monday and one for Tuesday for "Deacon
Dubbs". Phone Royal Stationery,
842, for reservations.

Christmas is coming! You can't hear the jingle of the bells over the frosted ground and the cheery, wild halloo of Father Christmas with his load of joy.

For what would Christmas be without the giving of Gifts? A custom that's centuries old. I'm ready! You can't come too early for me. You can never exhaust the Service that awaits you here.

For every man a man's gift. And every Gift bearing the labels of famous manufacturers; bearing, too, the name, the guarantee of the City's First Haberdasher—insistent value, true worth.

No other store can serve you so well in selecting a Man's Gift. Think of the tremendous import that the name of JAEGER suggests—of Christy—of Stetson—of Borsalino. The world's greatest products in their own field. And men know me—they have walked in here and bought with confidence, with the assurance that they were getting the World's Best Goods for many years. Men can't select their own Gifts—they have to depend on you—yet you can depend on Kearney. Let him help you; buy his name in every Gift. Then listen for that joyous gurgle on Christmas morning—"Just what I wanted! From Kearney's, too!"

Own Your Own Home for Less Than You are Paying Rent.

For $600 cash down we build a nice plain 6 room $1,800 house and give 10 years to pay the $1,200 balance. Payments in principal and interest will average $14.40 per month for the 10 years, when payments cease and buyers own their own homes.

We build up to $3,500 house on this plan. We accept $900 on a $2,700 house; the monthly payments for 10 years to own this averages $21.60 per month.

The actual rent on the $1,800 house is $4.40 per month, as $10.00 per month or $120 per year applies to paying the principal.

On the $2,700 house, payments on principal is $15.00 per month or $180 per year, rent therefore only $6.60 per month.

See the $2,500 bungalow we are now erecting on Mount Royal Avenue—$800 down and $20.87 per month for 10 years is the price to own this beautiful home. We are in a position to give good service and value; we operate our own saw mills on the West Coast, also our own factory on Plank Road. We have one million feet of splendid sound, clear lumber of all kinds now in the city, including clear Fir Clapboard.

To parties wishing to build their own home, we supply lumber on 10 years' credit, taking first lien on the building.

Purchasers of lumber of all kinds will find our retail prices low. Stock sound and extra well sawn. Our clear West Coast Fir Clapboard is not equalled by stock sawn in any other part of the Colony.

Call on Mr. St. George, West End Lumber Yard, for further information.
