The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Douglas Library
Queen's University

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol  $\rightarrow$  (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol  $\nabla$  (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Douglas Library
Queen's University

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole  $\rightarrow$  signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole  $\nabla$  signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

PAPERS.

46. All papers must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Society, <sup>Papers.</sup> when they will be examined by the Council, and if deemed of sufficient interest, copies shall be made and sent to every branch of the Society. Such papers shall be read and presented for discussion at all branches at the same time as at the headquarters of the Society, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable. A report of the discussion at the branches shall be forwarded to the Secretary of the Society within one week after the day fixed for the reading by the Society.

47. The papers shall be the property of the Society, and no publication of any papers or discussion shall be made, <sup>Papers the property of the Society.</sup> except by the Society or with the permission of the Council.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS.

48. New by-laws or alteration or repeal of existing by-laws may be made in the following manner. <sup>Mode of Amending By-Laws.</sup> Notification of proposed new by-laws or of alteration or repeal of existing by-laws shall be given to the Council, signed by at least ten Voting Members, not later than three months before the date of the Annual Meeting.

The Council shall issue notice of the proposition, specifying the particular new by-law or alteration or repeal of any existing by-law which may be thus recommended, and submit the same to vote by letter ballot, not less than two months before the Annual Meeting, the ballot to be taken on or before the date of the Annual Meeting, and not less than two thirds of the votes cast shall be required to effect any change. The Council may also propose new by-laws, or alterations, or repeal of existing by-laws, and may submit the same to vote by letter ballot as above.

BRANCHES.

49. A local branch of the Society may be established under the <sup>Branches.</sup> authority of the Council at the request of not fewer than ten Voting Members, who are desirous of forming themselves into such local branch in any place not less than one hundred miles from the headquarters of the Society, or from any existing branch. The members of such branches shall consist of those who join from time to time. The establishment of a branch shall not release members from any of their obligations to the Society, whether as regards fees or membership in any class.

- Name of Branches. 50. Local branches, although formed strictly of Members of the Society, may be distinguished by the name of their locality, as, for example, "The.....Branch of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers."
- Officers of Branches. 51. The officers of local branches shall be a Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer, who shall be elected by the members of the Branch.
- Election of Members of Local Branches 52. All classes of Members of local branches must have been elected by the Society in the usual way, and in no case shall their Members be added to locally or otherwise than in the regularly prescribed way.
- Fees of Members of Branches. 53. Members of a local branch shall pay to the Society the fees of a resident Member of the Society, and the Society shall remit to the branch, on application of its Secretary-Treasurer, the difference between a resident and non-resident's fees. The Society shall not be liable for any expenses incurred by a Branch.
- Meetings of Branches. 54. The regular meetings in all branches shall be held on the same date as the corresponding meetings of the Society at headquarters.
- Rules for Branches. 55. In by-laws, rules of order, etc., and in particulars not specially referred to, the branches shall conform to the methods and rules adopted by the Society.

CODE OF ENGINEERING ETHICS.

- Duty of the Engineer to his Client. 56. Every member of the Society should perform the work he undertakes to do to the best of his ability and in the true spirit of his engagement, feeling it to be his duty to present all ascertained facts in their true light.
- The Client's Obligation to the Adviser. 57. The Civil Engineer has a right to expect from his client the same consideration and deference to his opinion as is by their clients accorded to the members of other professions—Law and Medicine, for example—and without which the adviser should decline to advise. The surest way for the Engineer to obtain such necessary consideration and deference from the public will be found in his manner of carrying himself.
- Mutual Relations of Chief and Assistant. 58. The Assistant Engineer must loyally obey and support his Chief, to whom it will be his duty to report directly on all matters relating to the work on which they may be jointly engaged. His report should be full and explicit on all important points, and exact to the best of the Assistant's knowledge and belief, cloaking nothing, even though going to show that previous reports had been inaccurate or not duly weighed, in some particulars affecting the well-being of the business in hand.

59. The Assistant Engineer is entitled to look to his Chief for, and to receive from him, advice for his guidance in the proper performance of his duties, and, where right, to expect his support in matters in dispute between him (the Assistant) and his subordinates, or between him and the contractors working under him. He is also entitled to the aid of the Chief Engineer's professional experience or counsel where unlooked for or extraordinary difficulties present themselves, or changes of original plan may be called for in the work on which they are associated, so that responsibility may be fairly apportioned between them.

60. It is the duty of both Chief and Assistant, each in his department, to study proper economy in the doing of the work, the management of which they have undertaken, and in every way consistent with the maintaining of the good character of the work to make the client's interest the guiding object.

Duties of Chief and Assistant.

61. The Engineer may legitimately suggest experiments with a view to improvement, whether in methods of doing the work which he oversees, or for raising its character; but such experiments should only be undertaken with the full consent and co-operation of the party, whether client or contractor, on whom the expense may fall, and on the understanding that to them will accrue all pecuniary benefit from the success of the experiment.

Experiments in Methods of Work.

62. It shall be considered unprofessional for any member of this Society to seek the position of an expert to report on any work that is in charge of a recognized Engineer.

Unprofessional Conduct.

63. It shall be the duty of any Engineer, before examining any work with a view to report thereon, to give the Engineer due notice before going on with the investigation, in order that he may have every facility to explain and sustain his methods of carrying on the work in question.

64. Interchange of professional assistance between members, as tending to promote fraternal intercourse and mutual good-will, is not to be discouraged, but neither is it to be considered obligatory on a member to respond to the request of a fellow-member for professional counsel or assistance. Service so rendered must be entirely voluntary on the part of the member whose aid is sought.

Professional Services of Engineers to each other.

Pecuniary Matters,
Advertising, etc.

65. The Civil Engineer may, consistently with professional status, take out patents for new inventions or for improvements on old ones, and may sell or otherwise dispose of the patents for his own advantage. He may undertake surveys and the engineering of works by contract, or he may take contracts for the construction of works on a percentage of their cost. Advertising with a view to attracting business should, where resorted to, be as far as possible free from egotistic or self-laudatory references, and expressed in language not derogatory to the dignity of the profession.

Duties of the Engineer to the Public.

66. The Civil Engineer whose advice is sought in respect to the usefulness, practicability and cost of a work should, before expressing his opinion, obtain reliable information on all points involved in the matter submitted to his judgment, including the probable paying capacity of the contemplated undertaking. He must be cautious how he recommends large preliminary outlay; should avoid connecting himself with schemes or projects of merely speculative character, always bearing in mind that his professional reputation will be to a great extent judged by the inherent merits and commercial value of the undertakings with which his name may come to be associated.
