National Library of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol → (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ▽ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Bibliothèque nationale du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole → signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ▽ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

PREFACE.

The changes which have been introduced into the Municipal Acts, and the numerous judicial decisions which have been given upon their various provisions during the last ten years, render it necessary to issue a new edition of "HARRISON'S MUNICIPAL MANUAL."

I have endeavoured to preserve the character of the work as it was originally written, and as it came to me from the late eminent Chief Justice. A few notes which were but paraphrases of sections, and the citations of some American cases, the reports of which are difficult of access, are eliminated. These changes I have not made without much hesitation. The first omission was to make room for the necessary additional notes, and at the same time to keep the volume within reasonable limits. In substitution for the American decisions I have, with his permission, referred to those portions of Mr. Justice Dillon's valuable work on Municipal Corporations, where the cases are quoted under appropriate heads, and commented upon by that able jurist with all the completeness that can be desired.

I have to express the obligations I am under to John R. Cartwright, Esq., for his valuable suggestions and assistance in the preparation of this edition of THE MANUAL. I have also to thank A. H. Marsh, Esq., for notes on Quo Warranto proceedings, and J. H. Macdonald, Esq., Q. C., for his suggestions with respect to the forms of Local Improvement By-laws. The Calendar, Table of Cases, and Index, are the work of A. M. Dymond, Esq., who has bestowed much labour upon them, and has made them as complete and exhaustive as space would permit.

CONFIRMING AND SAVING CLAUSES, ss. 671, 672.

HER Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:—

PRELIMINARY.

Short title

1. This Act may be cited as "The Municipal Act." (a) 46 V., c. 18, s. 1.

Interpretation of words.

2. Wherethe words following occur in this Act, or in the schedules thereto, they shall be construed in the manner hereinafter mentioned, (b) unless a contrary intention appears.

"Municipality."

1. "Municipality," shall mean any locality the inhabitants of which are incorporated, or are continued, or become so under this Act;

(a) This Act is a re-enactment of 46 Vict. c. 18, with subsequent amendments. The amendments made by 51 Vict. c. 28, have been noted in this proper places. References are made at the end of each section to the original Act or Acts from which the section is taken. The marginal note to the section of a statute forms no part of the statute itself, and is not binding as an explanation or construction of the statute. Claydon v. Green, Green v. Claydon, L. R. 3 C. P. 511; Sutton v. Sutton, 22 Ch. D. 511. But apparently the headings of the different portions of the statute may be referred to in order to determine the sense of any doubtful expression in a section ranged under any particular heading. See Hammersmith and City R. W. Co. v. Brand, L. R. 4 H. L. 171; In re Kinnear and Haldimand, 30 U. C. Q. B. 398; Reg. v. Currie, 31 U. C. Q. B. 582; Laurie v. Rathbun, 38 U. C. Q. B. 255; In re Niagara High School Board and the Corporation of Niagara, 39 U. C. Q. B. 362. See, however, as to the marginal notes and headings in the Revised Statutes, 50 Vict. c. 2, sec. 1.

(b) An interpretation clause in an Act should be understood to define the meaning of the words interpreted in cases where there is nothing in the Act opposed to or inconsistent with that meaning. Midland R. W. Co. v. Ambergate, Nottingham, &c., R. W. Co., 10 Hare 359. The meaning of particular words in an Act, in the absence of express definition, is to be found, not so much in a strict etymological propriety of language, nor even in popular use, as in the subject or occasion on which they are used, and the object that is intended to be attained. Rex v. Hall, 1 B. & C. 136; approved in The Lion, L. R. 2 P. C. 525. The intention of the Legislature must be ascertained from the words of the Act, and not from any general inferences to be drawn from the nature of the objects dealt with. Fordyce v. Bridges, 1 H. L. Cas. 1. See also Logan v. Earl Courtown, 13 Beav. 22. If the words are of themselves precise and unambiguous, then no more can be necessary than to expound those words in their natural and ordinary sense. Sussex Peerage Case, 11 Cl. & F. 85. Each word must be interpreted according to its legal meaning, unless the context shew that the Legislature has used it in a popular

"Local Municipality." 2. "Local Municipality," shall mean a city, town, township, or incorporated village;

"Council." 3. "Council," shall mean the municipal council or provisional municipal council, as the case may be;

"County." 4. "County," shall mean county, union of counties or united counties, or provisional county, as the case may be; or more enlarged sense. Stephenson v. Higginson, 3 H. L. Cas. 638. The Act should be construed according to the ordinary and grammatical sense of its language, if there be no inconsistency apparent in its provisions. Smith v. Bell, 10 M. & W. 378. See also Phillpott v. St. George's Hospital, 6 H. L. Cas. 338. Where the intention of the Legislature can be collected from the Act itself, words may be modified, altered, or supplied, so as to obviate any repugnancy to or inconsistency with such intention. Quin v. O'Keefe, 10 Ir. C. L. R. 393; see also Charlesworth v. Ward, 31 U. C. Q. B. 94. It is the most natural and genuine exposition of an Act to construe one part by another. Reg. v. Mallow Union, 12 Ir. C. L. R. 35. The general words of a statute are not to be so construed as to alter the previous policy of the law, unless no sense or meaning can be put on the words consistently with the intention of preserving the existing policy untouched. Minet v. Leman, 20 Beav. 269. See also O'Flaherty v. McDowell, 6 H. L. Cas. 142. In construing Acts which infringe on the common law, the state of the law before the passing of the Act must be ascertained, to determine how far it is necessary to alter the law in order to carry out the object of the Act. Swanton v. Goold et al., 9 Ir. C. L. R. 234. The general law of the country is not to be altered or controlled by partial legislation made without any special reference to it. Denton v. Lord Manners, 4 Jur. N. S. 151; affirmed on appeal, 4 Jur. N. S. 724. See also Attorney-General v. Earl Powis, 1 Kay 186. Prima facie the proper mode of construction is to apply the same interpretation to terms used in a by-law which is applied to the same terms in the Act under the powers of which the by-law is framed. Blashill v. Chambers, 14 Q. B. D. 479. Difficulties sometimes arise owing to a conflict between general and particular Acts of Parliament. If the particular Act gives in itself a complete rule on the subject in hand, the expression of that rule would undoubtedly amount to an exception of the subject matter of the rule, not of the general Act. Per Lord Westbury, in Ex parte St. Sepulchres, 33 L. J. Ch. 372; see also London, Chatham and Dover R. W. Co. v. Board of Works of Wandsworth, L. R. 8 C. P. 185; Taylor v. Corporation of Oldham, 4 Ch. D. 395; Bentley, Rotherham, and Kimberworth Local Board of Health, Ib. 588. In dealing with a statute which proposes merely to repeal a former statute of limited operation and to re-enact the provisions in an amended form, the Court is not necessarily to presume an intention to extend the operation of those provisions to classes of persons not previously subject to them, unless the contrary is shewn, but is to determine on the whole statute, considered with reference to the surrounding circumstances, whether such an intention existed. Brown v. McLachlan, L. R. 4 P. C. 550. This section so far as the terms defined can be applied, extends to any Act relating to municipalities. See Rev. Stat. c. 1, sec. 10.

5. "Township," shall mean township, union of townships or united townships, as the case may be; "Township."

6. "County Town," shall mean the city, town, or village in which the assizes for the county are held; County town.

7. "Land," "Lands," "Real Estate," "Real Property," shall respectively include lands, tenements and hereditaments, and all rights thereto and interests therein; "Land." "Real estate." "Real property."

8. "Highway," "Road," or "Bridge," shall mean a public highway, road, or bridge, respectively; "Highway." "Road." "Bridge."

9. "Electors," shall mean the persons entitled for the time being to vote at any municipal election, or in respect of any by-law, in the municipality, ward, polling subdivision, or police village, as the case may be; "Electors."

10. "Reeve," shall include the deputy reeve or deputy reeves where there is a deputy reeve for the municipality, except in so far as respects the office of a Justice of the Peace. "Reeve."

11. The words "next day" shall not apply to or include Sunday or statutory holidays. 46 V. c. 18, s. 2. "Next day."

PART I.

MUNICIPAL ORGANIZATION.

TITLE I.—INCORPORATION.
TITLE II.—NEW CORPORATIONS.

TITLE I.—INCORPORATION.—Secs. 3-8.

3. The inhabitants of every county, city, town, village, township, union of counties, and union of townships incorporated at the time this Act takes effect, (c) shall continue to Existing municipal corporations continued.

(c) The English municipal system and the Ontario system are in many respects widely different. Corporate bodies were, from time to time, by charter and otherwise, constituted in several of the cities, towns, and boroughs of England, for the purpose of municipal government. These, however, were anything but uniform. In 1835, the 5 & 6 Will. IV. cap. 76, was passed in order to establish, if possible, be a body corporate, with the municipal boundaries of every such corporation respectively then established. 46 V. c. 18, s. 3.

a municipal system in England and Wales. Still there were divisions of people into parishes and hundreds where there was no incorporation. In some cases the people of the parishes, though not incorporated, were held liable to persons sustaining injury from acts of misfeasance. In some respects the liability of corporations, continued or created by this Act, for neglect of duty is identical with the liability of parishes in England. See the decisions of Wilson, J., in Wellington v. Wilson, 14 U. C. C. P. 306, and in Harrold v. Simcoe and Ontario, 16 U. C. C. P. 50-53, and the language of Chancellor VanKoughnet in the last named case in appeal, 18 U. C. C. P. 13. See also Reg. v. Yorkville, 22 U. C. C. P. 437, 440; Castor v. Uxbridge, 39 U. C. Q. B. 113.

"A corporation is an artificial being—invisible, intangible, and existing only in contemplation of law. Being the mere creature of law, it possesses only those properties which the charter of its creation confers upon it, either expressly or as incidental to its very existence. These are such as are supposed best calculated to effect the object for which it was created. Among the most important are immortality (in the legal sense,) that it may be made capable of indefinite duration, and if the expression may be allowed, individuality—properties by which a perpetual succession of many persons are considered the same, and may act as a single individual. They enable a corporation to manage its own affairs, and to hold property without the perplexing intricacies, the hazardous and endless necessity of perpetual conveyances for the purpose of transmitting it from hand to hand. It is chiefly for the purpose of clothing bodies of men in succession with these qualities and capacities that corporations were invented and are in use. By these means a perpetual succession of individuals are capable of acting for the promotion of the particular object, like one immortal being." Per Marshall, C. J., in Dartmouth College v. Woodward, 4 Wheat. 636. See Baby v. Baby, 5 U. C. Q. B. 510; Standly v. Perry, 3 S. C. R. 356. Acts done in excess of their express or implied powers are absolutely void. In re Richmond v. Front of Leeds and Lansdowne, 8 U. C. Q. B. 567; Campbell v. Corporation of Elma, 13 U. C. C. P. 296; Miners' Ditch Co. v. Zellerbach, 37 Cal. 543: but there may be cases in which the corporation is unable to avail itself of such a defence. See Wade v. Beantford, 19 U. C. Q. B. 207; Moore v. Mayor, &c., of New York, 73 N. Y. 238.

Words making any association or number of persons a corporation or body politic and corporate, vest in the corporation power to sue and be sued, to contract and be contracted with in their corporate name, to have a common seal, and to alter and change the same at their pleasure; to have perpetual succession, and power to acquire and hold personal property or movables for the purposes for which the corporation is constituted, and to alienate the same at pleasure, and also vest in any majority of the members of the corporation the power to bind the others by their acts, and exempt the individual members of the corporation from personal liability for its debts or obligations or acts, provided they do not contravene the provisions of the Act incorporating them. R. S. O., c. 1, s. 8, sub-s. 25.

4. The head and members of the council, and the officers, by-laws, contracts, property, assets and liabilities of every municipal corporation, when this Act takes effect, shall be

To consider these powers more in detail.

The first in order is, "to sue and be sued." A municipal corporation, like an individual, under the limitations involved in its constitution and organization, may have recourse to the Courts of the country to enforce rights and redress wrongs. Ottawa District Council v. Low, 6 O. S. 546. So one municipal corporation may sue another. Huron v. London, 4 U. C. Q. B. 302. So also a municipal corporation may be sued for a breach of contract, and in certain cases for wrongful acts not arising out of contract. Thus a municipal corporation may be sued for negligence in the construction of a sewer, malfeasance in illegally obstructing a drain or water course, so as to injure the owner or owners of land adjoining, or for wrongfully diverting a stream of water on plaintiff's land. Farrell v. London, 12 U. C. Q. B. 343; Reeves v. Toronto, 21 U. C. Q. B. 157; Perdue v. Chinguacousy, 25 U. C. Q. B. 61; Rowe v. Rochester, 29 U. C. Q. B. 590; Stonehouse v. Enniskillen, 32 U. C. Q. B. 562; Darby v. Crowland, 38 U. C. Q. B. 338; Bathurst v. Macpherson, 4 App. Cas. 256. To support an action against a municipal corporation of the nature suggested, although it is not necessary to shew any authority under seal to the person or persons, who, under the supposed instructions of the corporation, actually did the wrongful act, something must be shewn to connect the corporation as a body with the doing of the act. Farrell v. London, 12 U. C. Q. B. 343; Lewis v. Toronto, 39 U. C. Q. B. 343. Under particular circumstances a receiver of the tolls of an incorporated company for whom the municipal corporation has made advances may be appointed on the application of the corporation. Brantford v. Grand River Navigation Co., 8 Grant, 246.

The second power is, to "contract and be contracted with." It is a principle applicable to all corporations, that they must contract under seal. To this principle there are some exceptions. See Albert Cheese Co. v. Leeming, 31 U. C. C. P. 272. One of some moment has been created with regard to municipal corporations. It is that such a corporation is liable to be sued in an action of debt on simple contract for the price of goods furnished, or labour done at their request and accepted by them. Fetterly v. Russell and Cambridge, 14 U. C. Q. B. 433. Though in such a case there be no contract under seal, the law implies an undertaking by a corporation to pay for labour and materials employed in their service, and of which they have accepted and are enjoying the benefit, provided the purpose for which the labour and materials have been applied is one clearly within the legitimate object of their charter. Bartlett v. Amherstburg, 14 U. C. Q. B. 152; Fetterly v. Russell and Cambridge, 14 U. C. Q. B. 433; Pim v. Ontario, 9 U. C. C. P. 302; Perry v. Ottawa, 23 U. C. Q. B. 391; Brown v. Belleville, 30 U. C. Q. B. 373; Wentworth v. Hamilton, 34 U. C. Q. B. 585; Brown v. Lindsay, 35 U. C. Q. B. 509. Where professional accountants were employed to examine the accounts of a municipality, it was held that they could recover, though there was no by-law directing the work to be done, deemed the head and members of the council, and the officers, by-laws, contracts, property, assets and liabilities of or appointing them to do it. Robins v. Brockton, 7 O. R. 481. A municipal corporation is liable on an executed contract for work done by its order, on its behalf and for its benefit, though there be no agreement under seal, if the thing done was urgently required for the purposes of the corporation, and especially so when the price to be paid is not of large amount. Lawrence v. Corporation of Lucknow, 13 O. R. 421. The exception, however, does not extend to executory contracts, such as works, &c., to be done, but is confined to work in fact done and accepted. McLean v. Brantford, 16 U. C. Q. B. 347; Wingate v. Enniskillen Oil Refining Co., 14 U. C. C. P. 379; Mayor, &c., of Kidderminster v. Hardwick, L. R. 9 Ex. 13; Austin v. Guardians of Bethnal Green, L. R. 9 C. P. 91; Houck v. Whitby, 14 Grant 671. An individual dealing with a corporation through its council or the members of the governing body, is bound to notice the objects and limits of their powers and the manner in which those powers are to be exercised, and it should be borne in mind that their acts, when beyond the scope of their authority or done in a manner unauthorized, are in general nugatory and not binding on the corporation. Ramsay v. Western District, 4 U. C. Q. B. 374; Silsby v. Dunnville, 31 C. P. 301; 8 A. R. 524. Where work was done under a contract not made with the corporation or any of its known officers, but merely with persons assuming to act as a duly appointed committee, it was held that no action would lie against the corporation. Stoneburgh v. Brighton, 5 U. C. L. J. 33. No action can be sustained for a breach of duty against the head of a corporation in not affixing the seal to a contract between a corporation and an individual, founded on a refusal which (if there had been a previous valid contract) would have constituted a breach of it; in other words, there cannot be a remedy against the head of a corporation, equivalent to a remedy on the contract against the corporation, had the contract been duly made so as to create a valid and binding agreement. Fair v. Moore, 3 U. C. C. P. 484.

Municipal corporations, when authorized to trade, and trading, appear to have the same rights and to be under the like obligations as corporations created for the purposes of trade. Wells v. Mayor, &c., of Kingston-upon-Hull, L. R. 10 C. P. 402. A corporation may be bound by acquiescence. Pembroke v. Canada Central R. W. Co., 3 O. R. 503.

The powers of a municipal corporation to have a common seal, to acquire and hold personal property or movables, and alienate the same at pleasure, are too well known and too thoroughly understood to need comment. A corporation as well as an individual may adopt any seal. It need not declare that the seal is their common seal. See Ontario Salt Co. v. Merchants' Salt Co., 18 Grant 551. Proof of the signatures of the attesting officers, if the proper officers of the corporation, is prima facie evidence that the seal was properly affixed. Per Kinsey, C. J., in Den v. Vreelandt, 2 Halst. (N. J.) 352. The right of a corporation to acquire, hold and alienate real estate, generally depends upon the special provisions of the statute or charter. The power, when not otherwise provided, of a majority to such corporation, as continued under and subject to the provisions of this Act. (d) 46 V. c. 18, s. 4.

Names of municipal corporations.

5. The name of every body corporate (not being a provisional corporation) continued or erected under this Act, shall be "The Corporation of the County, City, Town, Village, Township, or United Counties, or United Townships (as the case may be) of " (naming the same). (e) 46 V. c. 18, s. 5.

bind the others by their acts, and also the exemption of individual members of the corporation from personal responsibility, will be noticed hereafter.

(d) See Corporation of Ludlow v. Tyler, 7 C. & P. 537; Doe Governors of Bristol Hospital v. Norton, 11 M. & W. 913, 928; Attorney-General v. Kerr, 2 Beav. 420, 429; Attorney-General v. Newcastle, 5 Beav. 314, 315; Attorney-General v. Leicester, 9 Beav. 546. See further, notes to preceding section.

(e) The proper corporate name of a municipal corporation ought to be used on all occasions and in all places. But it has been decided that a by-law of a municipal council is valid if it appear on the face of it to have been enacted by a municipal body having authority to make the by-law under the municipal laws. Flewellyn v. Webster, 6 O. S. 586; In re Hawkins v. Huron, Perth, and Bruce, 2 U. C. C. P. 72; Fisher v. Vaughan, 10 U. C. Q. B. 492; In re Barclay and Darlington, 11 U. C. Q. B. 470; Brophy and Gananoque, 26 U. C. C. P. 290; see also Gwynne v. Rees, 2 P. R. 282. Slight variances in the use of corporate names, where substantially correct, have been held immaterial even in matters of contract. Brock District v. Bowen, 7 U. C. Q. B. 471; Trent and Frankford Road Co. v. Marshall, 10 U. C. C. P. 336; Whitby v. Harrison, 18 U. C. Q. B. 603; Bruce v. Cromar, 22 U. C. Q. B. 321. See also Mayor and Burgesses of Lynne Regis, 10 Rep. 120, 122; Mayor of Carlisle v. Blamire, 8 East. 487; Rex v. Croke, Cowp. 29; Beverley v. Barlow, 10 U. C. C. P. 178; In re Goodwin and Ottawa and Prescott R. W. Co., 13 U. C. C. P. 254. It was, however, held differently as to the intitling of a rule in a proceeding against a municipal corporation. In re Sams v. Toronto, 9 U. C. Q. B. 181. The general rule is, that a variation from the precise name of the corporation when the true name is necessarily to be collected from the instrument or is shewn by proper averments, will not invalidate a grant by or to a corporation or a contract with it, and the modern cases shew an increased liberality on this subject. Per Chancellor Kent, in 2 Kent's Com. 292; approved in St. Louis Hospital v. Williams, 19 Mo. 609. See further, President v. Myers, 6 Serg. & Rawle, (Pa.,) 12; Milford Co. v. Brush, 10 Ohio 111; People v. Runkle, 9 Johns 147. A municipal corporation has no power to change its name. See Reg. v. Registrar of Joint Stock Companies, 10 Q. B. 839; Episcopal Charitable Society v. Episcopal Church, 1 Pick. 372; see further, Rex v. Morris, 1 Ld. Raym. 337; Reg. v. Bailiffs of Ipswich, 2 Ld. Raym. 1232, 1238, 1239.

Names of Provisional corporations.

6. The inhabitants of every junior county, upon a provisional council being or having been appointed for the county, shall be a body corporate (f) under the name of "The Provisional Corporation of the County of " (naming it.) (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 6.

Inhabitants of counties, townships, &c., and of cities, towns, &c., to be a body corporate.

7. The inhabitants of every county, or union of counties erected by proclamation into an independent county or union of counties, and of every township or union of townships, erected into an independent township or union of townships, and of every locality erected into a city, town, or incorporated village, and of every county or township separated from any incorporated union of counties or townships, and of every county or township, or of the counties or townships, if more than one, remaining of the union after the separation, being so erected or separated after this Act takes effect, shall be a body corporate under this Act. (h) 46 V. c. 18, s. 7.

Corporate powers to be exercised by council

8. The powers of every body corporate under this Act shall be exercised by the council thereof. (i) 46 V. c. 18, s. 8

(f) See note c to sec. 3.

(g) See note e to sec. 5.

(h) See note c to sec. 3.

(i) The council is not the corporation, but the legislative and executive body of the corporation. It fluctuates from year to year, while the corporate body is, as it were, immortal. See Harrison v. Williams, 3 B. & C. 162; Reg. v. Paramore, 10 A. & E. 286; Reg. v. York, 2 Q. B. 850. Its powers are limited. It has no other powers than such as are expressly granted, or such as are necessary to carry into effect the powers expressly granted. Hodges v. Buffalo, 2 Denio 112. See also In re Ross and York, 14 U. C. C. P. 171; Cornwall v. Corporation of West Nissouri, 25 U. C. C. P. 9; City of Placerille v. Wilcox, 2 Withrow 63. See further Lowell v. City of Boston, 15 Am. 39; The State ex rel. Griffith v. Oswokee Township, 19 Am. 99. Until the case of Hodges v. Buffalo was decided, nothing was more frequent in the United States than for city authorities to vote largesses and give splendid banquets for objects and purposes having no possible connection with the growth or weal of the body politic, thus subjecting their constituents to unnecessary and oppressive taxation. Per Pratt, J., in Halstead v. Mayor of New York, 3 Comst. 433. See further Hood v. Lynn, 1 Allen (Mass.) 103; Gerry v. Stoneham, Ib. 319; Cornell v. Guilford, 1 Denio 510; Claffin v. Hopkinton, 4 Gray 502; Tash v. Adams, 10 Cush. 252. The action of municipal councils is to be held strictly within the limits prescribed by the statute. See notes to sec. 282. Within these limits they are to be favoured by the Courts. dison, 7 Ind. 86; Kyle v. Malin, 8 Ind. 34, 37. Parties dealing with the agents or officers of a municipal corporation must at their peril take notice of the limits of the powers. Maryland ex rel. Baltimore v. Kirkley et al., 29 Md. 85; 2 Withrow 406. It is sometimes supposed that members of a municipal council exceeding their corporate powers may be held personally liable for their acts. See Thomas v. Wilson, 20 U. C. Q. B. 331. But assuming a want of power on the part of the council, it does not follow that the members of the council are personally liable on the contract. East Nissouri v. Horseman, 9 U. C. C. P. 189. The fact of an agent entering into a contract without authority does not, per se, render him liable on the contract. Jenkins v. Hutchinson, 13 Q. B. 744; Lewis v. Nicholson, 18 Q. B. 503; Carr v. Jackson, 7 Ex. 382; Mill v. Hawker, L. R. 9 Ex. 309; 10 Ex. 92. But an agent assuming to have an authority which he has not, may be sued on an implied contract by him that he had the authority which he professed to have. Randell v. Trimen, 18 C. B. 786, 794; Collen v. Wright, 7 E. & B. 301; 8 E. & B. 647; Warlow v. Harrison, 1 E. & E. 295. See also Simons v. Patchett, 7 E. & B. 568. Where a contract is signed by one who professes to be an agent, but who has no principal existing at the time, and the contract would be wholly inoperative unless binding on him, he is personally bound. Kelner v. Baxter, L. R. 2 C. P. 174. See further note c to sec. 3.

When population 750 county council may incorporate as a village, and name place and the returning officer for first election.

9. When the census returns of an unincorporated village, with its immediate neighbourhood, taken under the direction of the council or councils of the county or counties in which the village and its neighbourhood are situate, (k) shew that the same contain over 750 inhabitants, and when the residences of such inhabitants are sufficiently near to form an incorporated village, then, on petition by not less than 100 resident freeholders and householders of the village and neighbourhood, of whom not fewer than one-half shall be freeholders, the council or councils of the county or counties in which the village and neighbourhood are situate shall, by by-law, erect the village and neighbourhood into an incorporated village, apart from the township or townships in which the same are situate, by a name, and with boundaries to be respectively declared in the by-law, and shall name in the by-law the place for holding the first election, and the returning officer who is to hold the same. Regulations as to enlargement of area.

(2) No town or village already or hereafter incorporated, and containing a population exceeding 1,000 souls, shall make any further addition to its limits or area, except in the proportion of not more than 200 acres for each additional 1,000 souls, subsequent to the first 1,000.

Existing towns or villages area of which exceeds proportionate limit not to be enlarged.

(3) In the case of towns or villages now incorporated, whenever the area thereof exceeds the proportionate limit above prescribed, to wit, in all cases where the area exceeds the proportion of 500 acres for the first 1,000 souls, and 200 acres for every subsequent additional 1,000, then in such cases the said towns or villages shall not be permitted to make any further addition to their limits until their population has reached such a proportion to their present area.

How population and area may be reckoned.

(4) But in all cases, the persons then actually inhabiting the land about to be included within the limits of a town or village, may, for the purpose of such extension, be held and reckoned as among the inhabitants of such town or village; and the land occupied by streets or public squares may be excluded in estimating the area of such town or village. 46 V. c. 18, s. 10.

Disposition of property and payment of debts when incorporated village is separated from township.

11. In cases where an incorporated village is separated from the township or townships in which it is situate, the provisions of this Act for the disposition of the property, and payment of debts, upon the dissolution of a union of townships, shall be applicable as if the localities separated had been two townships, and the councils of such village and township or townships shall respectively perform the like duties as by such provisions devolve upon the councils of separated townships, the said village being considered as the junior township. When the village lies within two or more counties, it shall be annexed to one of them by the county councils or in case of difference by the Lieut.-Governor.

12.—(1) When the newly incorporated village lies within two or more counties, the councils of the counties shall, by by-law, annex the village to one of the counties; and if within six months after the petitions for the incorporation of the village are presented, the councils do not agree to which county the village shall be annexed, the wardens of the counties shall memorialize the Lieutenant Governor in Council, setting forth the grounds of difference between the councils; and thereupon the Lieutenant-Governor shall, by proclamation, annex the village to one of such counties.

In case of failure of councils to act, freeholders, &c., may petition Lieutenant-Governor.

(2) In case the wardens do not, within one month next after the expiration of the six months, memorialize the Lieutenant-Governor in Council as aforesaid, then 100 of the freeholders and householders on the census list may petition the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to settle the matter, and thereupon the Lieutenant-Governor shall, by proclamation, annex the incorporated village to one of the counties. 46 V. c. 18, s. 12.

Liability of territory detached from one county and annexed to another.

13.—(1) In case a locality is, under section 12 of this Act, detached from one county and annexed to another, the council of the county to which the locality is annexed and the council of the village shall agree with the council of the county from which the locality is detached, as to the amount (if any) of the county liabilities which should be borne by the locality so detached, and the times of payment thereof. (n)

(2) If the councils do not agree within three months of the separation in respect of the said matter, the same shall be determined by arbitration under this Act; (o) and the amount (if any) so agreed or determined shall become a debt of the county to which the locality is attached, and such locality shall, until the said amount has been paid by the proceeds of such rates, continue subject to all rates which had been, prior to the separation, imposed for the payment of county debts, or for the payment of bonuses or aids granted by sections of the county to railways, or for the payment of local improvement debts.

(4) Where the councils do not agree as aforesaid, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may, before proclamation has been made, and upon the petition of a majority of the resident freeholders and householders of the village, and with the assent of at least two of the councils of the townships in which the village is situate, annul the incorporation of the village and restore the same to its former position as an unincorporated village, and the same shall thereupon be reinstated to its former position to the same extent as if no proceedings for incorporation had ever been taken. 46 V. c. 18, s. 13.

Addition to villages by Lieutenant Governor.

14. In case the council of an incorporated village petitions the Lieutenant-Governor to add to the boundaries thereof, (p) the Lieutenant-Governor may, subject to the provisions of section 10 of this Act, by proclamation add to the village any part of the localities adjacent, which, from the proximity of the streets or buildings therein, or the probable future exigencies of the village, it may seem desirable to add thereto; (q) and in case the territory so added belonged to another county, it shall thenceforward, for all purposes, cease to belong to such other county, and shall belong to the same county as the rest of the village. 46 V. c. 18, s. 14.

Reducing the area of villages or towns.

New limits to be defined.

(2) The by-law shall define, by metes and bounds, the new limits intended for such incorporated village or town. (t)

Population not to be reduced below 750.

lage being annexed to such municipality or municipalities, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may issue a proclamation annulling the incorporation of the village, and annexing the territory included therein to such municipality or municipalities. (x)

(2) If the said territory is annexed to one municipality, such municipality shall be liable for the debts of the village, and shall be entitled to its assets, but if the territory is annexed to two or more municipalities, the councils of such municipalities shall, before the proclamation issues, agree between themselves, or determine by arbitration, (y) as to the proportion of the debt of the village to be borne by them respectively, and as to the assets, or proportion of the assets, of the said village which the municipalities shall respectively receive, and the municipalities shall respectively be liable for the proportion of indebtedness as determined by the agreement or award.

(3) If the award or agreement instead of stating the proportion of the debt to be borne as aforesaid, states the shares so to be borne in sums of money, then the fraction which is formed by taking the sum named as the amount to be borne by any municipality as the numerator, and the aggregate of the sums named as the amounts to be borne by the said municipalities as the denominator, shall be the proportion of the entire debt to be borne by such municipality, whether or not the debt is accurately stated in the agreement or award.

(4) It may be part of the arrangement between the village and the municipality or municipalities that the village shall, for a time, be charged with a special rate, or that it shall be relieved of any rate, or part of a rate, imposed upon the rest of the municipality with which the village, or part of it, is to be united.

(5) In case the municipalities proposing to receive parts of the territory comprised in the village are in different counties, the provisions of this section may be acted upon with the assent (declared by resolution) of the councils, and unless such councils have previously agreed, or shall within three months of the issue of a proclamation under this section

Setting apart unincorporated villages.

17.—(1) When any unincorporated village or settlement and its immediate neighbourhood lies wholly within the limits of a township, and when the residences of its inhabitants are sufficiently near to each other, in the opinion of the council of such township municipality, to render the same desirable, the council of the township in which the same are situate may, on the petition of a majority of the ratepayers within the area to be set off, one-half of whom shall be resident freeholders, by by-law, set the unincorporated village or settlement and neighbourhood apart from the remaining portion of the township in which the same are situate, and with boundaries to be respectively defined and declared in the by-law, for the purposes hereinafter mentioned. (b)

Jurisdiction of township continued.

(2) All the powers given to the council of every township by this Act shall remain in force as respects the portion of the township so set apart, and are hereby continued and extended to the council of every township wherein the portion thereof is so set apart, except so far as the same are or may be inconsistent with the enactments of this section.

Additional powers of township councils.

(3) In addition to the powers given to the council of every township by this Act, the council of every township wherein a portion has been set apart under the provisions of this Act, shall have all the rights and powers conferred on the councils of

(4) Whenever in a township two or more portions thereof shall be so set apart as aforesaid, which shall adjoin, or lie contiguous to each other, the council of the township shall have power to pass a by-law uniting such separate divisions, so previously set apart, into one division, whereupon the council shall have all the powers over, and relating to the united divisions, as if the whole area embraced within the limits of the several divisions so united had originally been set apart under the provisions of this Act in one parcel. 49 V. c. 37, s. 36.

(c) See sec. 521, sub-ss. 1-8.

(d) This and the following sections are designed to facilitate the formation of villages into towns, and towns into cities, whenever the population is sufficiently increased to admit of the changes. The census authorized under this section may be taken "at any time."

Town containing over 15,000 inhabitants may be erected into a city; and village containing over 2,000 into a town.

19. In case it appears by the census return taken under such by-law, or under any statute, that a town contains over 15,000 inhabitants, the town may be erected into a city; and in case it appears by the return that an incorporated village contains over 2,000 inhabitants, the village may be erected into a town; but the change shall be made by means of and subject to the following proceedings and conditions:—

Notice to be given.

1. The council of the town or village, shall, for three months after the census return, insert a notice in some newspaper published in the town or village, or, if no newspaper is published therein, then the council shall, for three months, post up a notice in four of the most public places in the town or village, and insert the same in a newspaper published in the county town of the county in which the town or village is situate, or if there is no such newspaper, then in the newspaper published nearest to the said town or village, setting forth in the notice the intention of the council to apply for the erection of the town into a city, or of the village into a town, and stating the limits intended to be included therein; (e)

Census returns to be certified and publication of notice proved.

2. The council of the town or village shall cause the census returns to be certified to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, under the signature of the head of the corporation, and under the corporate seal, and shall also cause the

In this respect it differs from a census taken under a statute, which is usually required to be taken at fixed periods. If the necessary population be shewn by a census taken under a statute, the necessary action as to formation may also be had. See sec. 19. See also sec. 479, sub-s 13.

(e) Two things are here to be observed; first, the contents of the notice; second the mode of publication. The notice should not only set forth the intention of the council to apply for the erection of the village into a town, or of the town into a city, but state the limits intended to be included therein. The notice should, for three months after the census return, be inserted in some newspaper published in the village or town. If no such newspaper, the notice should be posted up for three months in four of the most public places in the village or town, and inserted in a newspaper published in the county town, or, if no such newspaper as last mentioned, then in the newspaper published nearest to the village or town. See, as to the notice necessary in the case of the alteration of school boundaries, Ness v. Saltfleet, 13 U. C. Q. B. 408; In re Ley v. Clark, 12 U. C. Q. B. 435; In re Taylor v. West Williams, 30 U. C. Q. B. 346; Patterson v. Hope, 30 U. C. Q. B. 484. See further sec. 293 and notes thereto.

publication aforesaid to be proved to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council; then, in the case of a village, the Lieutenant-Governor may, by proclamation, erect the village into a town by a name to be given thereto in the proclamation; (f)

Village may be made a town by proclamation.

3. In case the application is for the erection of a town into a city, the town shall also pay to the county of which it forms part, (g) such portion, if any, of the debts of the county as may be just, or the council of the town shall agree with the council of the county as to the amount to be so paid, and the periods of payment with interest from the time of the erection of the new city, or in case of disagreement the same shall be determined by arbitration under this Act; (h) and upon the council proving to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council the payment, agreement, or arbitration, then the Lieutenant-Governor may, by proclamation, erect the town into a city, by a name to be given thereto in the proclamation. Town may be made a city by proclamation.

20. The Lieutenant-Governor may include in the new town or city such portions of any township or townships adjacent thereto, and within the limits mentioned in the aforesaid notice, (j) as, from the proximity of streets or buildings, or the probable future exigencies of the new town or city, the Lieutenant-Governor may consider desirable to attach thereto. (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 19.

Limits of such new town or city.

(f) Two things are here made necessary; first, that the census returns should be certified to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council; second, that proof of the publication of the notice referred to in the last note should be adduced to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. The certificate as to the census must be not only under the seal of the corporation, but under the signature of the head of the corporation. No provision is made as to the mode of proof of notice, whether by certificate or affidavit; this is left entirely to the discretion of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

(g) A city, for municipal purposes, becomes a county in itself. Hence the necessity for the adjustment of a county debt before a separation takes place.

(h) See sec. 385 and following sections.

(i) The power is here conferred, not only to create a new municipality, but to give it a name. The name can only be changed by the Legislature. See note e to sec. 5.

(j) See note f supra.

(k) Municipalities being localities must have boundaries to separate them from other similar localities, see note p to sec. 14, and with-

Wards.

21. The Lieutenant-Governor may divide the new town or city into wards, with appropriate names and boundaries, (l) but no town shall have less than three wards, and no ward in such town or city less than 500 inhabitants. 46 V. c. 18, s. 20.

New division of wards in cities and towns.

22. In case two-thirds of the members of the council of a city or town do, in council, (m) before the 15th day of July in any year, (n) pass a resolution affirming the expediency of a new division into wards being made of the city or town, or of a part of the same, (o) either within the existing limits or with the addition of any part of the localities adjacent, which, from the proximity of streets or buildings therein, or the probable future exigencies of the city or town, it may seem desirable to add thereto respectively, or the desirability of any addition being made to the limits of the city or town, the Lieutenant-Governor may, by proclamation, divide the city or town or such part thereof into wards, as may seem expedient, (p) and may add to the city or town any part of the adjacent township or townships which the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, on the grounds aforesaid, considers it desirable to attach thereto on such terms and conditions as to taxation, or otherwise, as

See further secs. 282, 490 (57), 504 (8).

(l) See note p to sec. 14.

(m) This, it is apprehended, means a majority of two-thirds of the whole number of councillors, and not merely two-thirds of a less number present at the meeting, though the number present be sufficient to form a quorum for ordinary business.

(n) It ought to be observed that the time is here expressly limited. If the act authorized, be done after the time limited, it would, it is apprehended, looking at the subject matter of the section, be a nullity.

(o) A municipal council ordinarily does public acts through the instrumentality of a by-law. No by-law is, however, here necessary. A formal resolution is all that is required. One difference between a municipal by-law and a resolution is, that the former must bear the corporate seal, and the latter need not do so. See sec. 288 and notes thereto.

(p) A change in one or more wards of a city or town, without disturbing the remaining wards, is contemplated.

Where land attached to town, &c., belonged to another county.

23. In case a tract of land so attached to the town or city belonged to another county, the same shall thenceforward for all purposes cease to belong to such other county, and shall belong to the same county as the rest of the town or city. (r) 46 V. c. 18, s. 22.

Annexation of incorporated villages or towns to adjacent villages, towns or cities by proclamation.

24.—(1) In case the council of any incorporated village or town pass a resolution affirming the expediency of the annexation of such village or town to an adjacent village, town or city, and the municipal council of such last mentioned village, town or city, pass a similar resolution, and in case the electors of the first mentioned village or town adopt a by-law, to be submitted to them, approving of such annexation, (s) the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may, by proclamation, annex one municipality to the other, upon such terms as may have been agreed upon by the councils, or as may have been determined by arbitration, in case the councils resolve to have the terms settled by arbitration. (t)

(2.) Subject to any variations made by the terms agreed upon or settled in manner aforesaid, the municipality annexed to the other shall be subject to the provisions of this Act having regard to the annexation of territory to a village, town or city. (u)

(q) This admits of tracts of adjacent townships being added to cities or towns. It would seem to be in the discretion of the Lieutenant-Governor to fix or define the wards, or make any necessary alterations therein, but it is probable that the wishes of the town or city council would be complied with by him. It may therefore be important that the resolution should explicitly state the changes or additions deemed expedient by the council. No published or other notice of the intended application is required. As to the provisions for enlarging the area of towns. See sec. 10.

(r) Towns and cities, for some purposes, continue parts of the county in which situate. See sec. 25. This section provides for the annexation, for all purposes, of lands detached under the operation of the foregoing section. As to schools see 51 V. c. 28, s. 40.

(s) The by-law has to be adopted by the electors of the village or town which by the annexation is merged with the other town, village or city.

(u) See secs. 14, 20, 22.

(3.) In case the population admits thereof, the Lieutenant-Governor may, by the same proclamation, erect the village or town to which the addition is made, into a town or city, by a name to be given thereto in the proclamation, and may divide or re-divide the city, town or village into wards. 46 V. c. 18, s. 23.

In case a petition signed by one hundred and fifty qualified municipal electors of any town or incorporated village, be presented to the council of such town or incorporated village asking that a by-law be submitted for the annexation of such town or incorporated village to an adjacent village, town or city, either unconditionally or upon such terms as may be set out in said petition, it shall be the duty of such council to submit a by-law for the annexation of the said incorporated village or town to a vote of the municipal electors of the said town or incorporated village, and said council shall forthwith prepare a by-law directing the submission of the question in accordance with the prayer of the petition, and shall submit the same to the said municipal electors for approval or otherwise within four weeks after the receipt of the petition by the said council.

(5.) A by-law which is duly carried under the provisions of the last preceding sub-section, by the vote of the municipal electors of said town or incorporated village shall, within a reasonable time, but not exceeding one month thereafter, be adopted by said council.

(6.) Thereupon the council of such adjacent village, town, or city may, by resolution, assent to the annexation of such town or incorporated village aforesaid.

(7.) In the event of the annexation of any such town or incorporated village as aforesaid having been approved of and assented to in manner hereinbefore provided, the same may be carried into effect by proclamation of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, as hereinbefore provided. 2. In adjusting their award, the arbitrators shall, among other things, take into consideration the amount previously paid by the town, or which the town is then liable to pay, for the construction of roads or bridges by the county, without the limits of the town; and also what the county has paid, or is liable to pay, for the construction of roads or bridges within the town; and they shall also ascertain and allow to the town the value or its interest in all county property, except roads and bridges within the town; Matters to be considered by arbitrators.

Town may after five years from withdrawal pass by-law for re-union with county.

26.—(1) The council of a town which has withdrawn from a county, or union of counties, may, after the expiration of five years from the withdrawal, pass a by-law (to be assented to by the electors in manner provided for by this Act in respect of by-laws for creating debts) to re-unite with such county or union of counties. But the nature and value of the services may from year to year vary; hence provision is made for a settlement every five years, unless a shorter time be stated in the agreement or award last made.

29.—(1) In case a junior township has at least 50, but less than 100 resident freeholders and householders on the last revised assessment roll, and two-thirds of the resident freeholders and householders of the township petition the council of the county to separate the township from the union to which it belongs, and in case the council considers the township to be so situated, with reference to streams or other natural obstructions, that its inhabitants cannot conveniently be united with the inhabitants of an adjoining township for municipal purposes, the council may, by by-law separate the same from the union; (c) and the by-law shall name the returning officer who is to hold, and the place for holding, the first election under the same. and attached to an adjoining municipality.

(2.) In case two-thirds of the resident freeholders and householders of one or more junior townships petition the council of the county to be separated from the union to which they belong, and to be attached to some other adjoining municipality, and in case the council considers that the interest and convenience of the inhabitants of the township or townships would be promoted thereby, they may, by by-law, separate the township or townships from the union, and attach the same to some other adjoining municipality. (e) 46 V. c. 18, s. 29.

(c) It is the rule to have at least 100 resident freeholders and householders on the last roll, as finally revised, in order to constitute a separate township, and to have townships of a less number of inhabitants united. Sec. 28. This sub-section creates an exemption where the geographical position makes the union inconvenient.

(d) A separate returning officer is a necessary consequence of a separation. For this reason the by-law which effects the separation must name the returning officer, and appoint the place for holding the first election. The preceding section fixes a time for the separation, but by this section the time seems to be left to the determination of the council.

(e) This sub-section provides for detaching a township from one union, and annexing it to another township or union where the county council upon petition, considers that the interest and convenience of the inhabitants would be thereby promoted.

30. After the dissolution of a union of townships, the following shall be the disposition of the property of the union ; (f) Disposition of property upon dissolution of union.

1. The real property of the union situate in the junior township shall become the property of the junior township ; Real property.

2. The real property of the union situate in the remaining township or townships of the union shall be the property of the remaining township or townships ; (g).

3. The two corporations shall be jointly interested in the other assets of the union, and the same shall be retained by the one, or shall be divided between both, or shall be otherwise disposed of, as they may agree ; (h) Other assets.

(f) As to the necessity for such provision as the following in regard to the disposition of property in the event of a division of a municipality. see cases mentioned in note n to sec. 13.

(g) The situation of the real property is made to govern its ownership. If in the junior township, it becomes the property of the junior township ; if in the remaining township or townships, it becomes the property of such township or townships. This is the rule which was held to apply, by the Supreme Court of New York, to the division of a municipality, in the absence of express provision to the contrary. North Hempstead v. Hempstead, 2 Wend. 109. See further Milwaukee v. Milwaukee, 12 Wis. 93. The situs of real property, as between municipalities, in the event of a dissolution of the union formerly existing, in general determines its ownership. But, as regards property other than real property, a different rule in general prevails. See Windham v. Portland, 4 Mass. 384 ; Hartford Bridge v. East Hartford, 16 Conn. 149 ; S. C. 10 How. (U. S.) 511 ; Hampshire v. Franklin, 16 Mass. 75.

(h) The assets of the union may consist either of real or personal property, or of both. The disposition of the real property is provided for in the preceding subsections. Its situs determines its ownership. But as regards other assets the disposition is necessarily made to depend on the agreement of the townships, unless clothed with a trust of some kind. See North Yarmouth v. Skellings, 45 Maine 133 ; Harrison v. Brigeton, 16 Mass. 16 ; Milwaukee v. Milwaukee, 12 Wis. 93. In the case of the separation of part of a township and its erection into an incorporated village, the liability to assessment in respect of drainage, which had been done under the Ontario Drainage Act on the application of the township, but for which the assessment had not been completed, was held not a matter to be arbitrated upon as being a debt of the township to which the village ought to contribute, each corporation being bound by the Act to raise the amount assessed in respect of such drainage upon the land locally situated within it. In re Village of Point Edward and Township of Sarnia, 44 U. 5. In case the councils of the townships do not, within three months after the first meeting of the council of the junior township, agree as to the disposition of the personal property of the union, or as to the sum to be paid by the one to the other, or as to the times of payment thereof, the matters in dispute shall be settled by arbitration under this Act. to be issued therefor, to be provided for by a rate levied on the town of Woodstock and the township of North Norwich. By 37 V. c. 57, s. 26, it was provided that the company should indemnify the township to the extent of $10,000 against any excess above two-fifths of the said debentures, and should give a bond securing such indemnity, which bond had been given. On the separation of the village of Norwich from the township of North Norwich, it was held that the liability of the township under this by-law was a debt of the township, and within the powers of the arbitrators under this section. Re Township of North Norwich and Village of Norwich, 44 U. C. Q. B. 34.

(i) As may be just. This has reference to more than a mere equalization of the assessment between the different municipalities. In re Howick and Wroxeter, 12 U. C. L. J. N. S. 64. So long as the townships remain united, they constitute one municipality, as much as the various wards of a city; but when united townships separate, there are matters which require adjustment, according to what is right and fair, between the parties. The division of the property and settlement of liabilities are in the first instance, if possible, to be determined by mutual agreement. On the separation of three townships into two municipalities, the two corporations executed an instrument whereby one agreed to pay to the other a certain sum as soon as certain non-resident rates theretofore imposed should become available. It was subsequently discovered that these rates had been illegally imposed, and that the supposed fund would never be available. Its supposed existence had been an element in determining the amount to be paid. It was held that the corporation to which the money was made payable was not entitled to have the agreement reformed so as to make the money payable by the other absolutely. Arran v. Amabel, 17 Grant 163, reversing S. C., 15 Grant 701.

(j) So far as the Act directs a distribution of property, the Act must be followed. The corporations cannot of themselves make an arrangement contrary to the Act, but where the Act is silent as to the particular division of property or adjustment of assets, it is in the power of the corporation, by amicable arrangement or through the medium of an arbitration, to adjust the same. See Wellington v. Wilmot, 17 U. C. Q. B. 71. The duty of the arbitrators is to ascer-

31. In case a township is laid out by the Crown in an incorporated county or union of counties, or in case there is any township therein not incorporated and not belonging to an incorporated union of townships; the council of the county or united counties shall, by by-law, unite such townships for municipal purposes, to some adjacent incorporated township or union of townships in the same county or union of counties. tain the assets of the union, real and personal; dispose of the personal property as may be just; make proper allowance for the real estate to the township deprived of it by the separation, and for the personal property assigned to either municipality in excess of its share; and ascertain and apportion the liabilities. They should consider the value of the real property of the union in each township as an asset and what allowance, if any, should be made by the township retaining it under the statute to the separating township. In re the township of Albemarle, and the United Townships of Eastnor, Lindsay, and St. Edmonds. 45 U. C. Q. B. 133.

(k) In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the rate of interest would be six per cent. per annum. See sec. 2 of R. S. C. c. 127. This is also the rate of interest to be paid when a balance is found due by one county to another after a separation. See sec. 45.

(l) There are in some counties tracts of land not surveyed or laid out in townships, and this section requires the county council of any such county to unite new townships when laid out with some adjacent township or townships, in order that the inhabitants may at once enjoy municipal rights and be subject to municipal liabilities. See note k to sec. 20. This provision is made in lieu of an Act of Parliament, which would be otherwise necessary in such a case.

(m) Under this section unions may be formed of two or more new townships, instead of annexing them to old townships, This can only be done when the joint population of resident freeholders and householders is not less in number than 100.

Seniority of united townships, how regulated.

33. Every proclamation or by-law forming a union of townships shall designate the order of seniority of the townships so united; and the townships of the union shall be classed in the by-law according to the relative number of freeholders and householders on the last revised assessment roll; or if there be no such revised assessment roll for any of such townships, then the order of seniority shall be determined by the proclamation or by-law, as the Lieutenant-Governor or county council may think fit. 46 V. c. 18, s. 33.

(n) No case can arise under this section, unless the union has been made by the council of united counties of townships in different counties of the union. When this has been done, and the counties afterwards become separated, provision is made for the separation of the united townships. The fact that the by-law is in such an event to "cease to be in force," restores the townships to the situation, as near as may be, in which they were before the by-law passed.

(o) The provisions of this section were originally taken from sec. 35 of Con. Stat. U. C. cap. 54. They facilitate the formation of counties and unions of counties in newly organized tracts of land, without the necessity of legislative intervention.

(p) In the event of annexation, it is presumed that the inhabitants of the part annexed would become subject to the liabilities, if any, of the county to which annexed. Appointment of sheriff and other officials.

46. After the sum, if any, to be paid by the junior county to the senior or remaining county or counties has been paid or ascertained by agreement or arbitration, a Judge may be appointed as provided by The British North America Act, 1867, and the Lieutenant-Governor, or the Lieutenant-

(y) It is necessary that the gaol and court house should be erected before an agreement respecting the debts of the union is entered into, and then, and not till then, the county about to be separated is to arrange with the remaining county or counties for a due proportion of the joint debts. See sec. 30 and notes thereto. In case the councils do not agree as to the amount or periods of payment, they are to arbitrate. See sec. 385, et seq.

(z) The reason of the prohibition is plain. Though the members of the provisional council are also members of the council of the union, yet in this negotiation the matter lies between the provisional council on the one hand, and the council of the union on the other. And the provisional council being for this purpose an independent and interested body, it follows that the interest of the union, which is virtually the interest of the senior or remaining county or counties, should be protected by the councillors of the senior or remaining county or counties.

(b) The rate of interest is here named, and not left to inference, as under sec. 30, sub-sec. 6, in the case of the separation of united townships.

Governor in Council, as the case may be, shall appoint a sheriff, one or more coroners, a clerk of the peace, a clerk of the County Court, a registrar, and at least twelve Justices of the Peace, (c) and shall provide, in the commission or commissions, that the appointments are to take effect on the day the counties become disunited. 46 V. c. 18, s. 46.

Final separation of united counties by proclamation.

47. After such appointments are made, the Lieutenant-Governor shall, by proclamation, separate the junior county from the senior or remaining county or counties, and shall declare such separation to take effect on the 1st day of January next after the end of three months from the date of the proclamation; and on that day the Courts and officers of the union (including Justices of the Peace) shall cease to have any jurisdiction in the junior county; (d) and the real property of the corporation of the union situate in the junior county shall become the property of the corporation of the junior county, and the real property situate in the remaining county or united counties shall be the property of the corporation of the remaining county or united

(d) A commission granted to a person to take recognizances of bail, &c., within the Gore District, was held not to empower him to take recognizances of bail in the county of Brant after its separation from the Gore District. Carter v. Sullivan, 4 U. C. C. P. 298. But where the commission was granted for the Midland District, which included the county of Prince Edward and the united counties of Frontenac, Lennox and Addington, it was held that the commissioner resident in Frontenac, Lennox and Addington, after the separation of Prince Edward, had authority still to administer affidavits, as in the united counties. McWhirter v. Corbett, 4 U. C. C. P. 203. See also Glick v. Davidson, 15 U. C. Q. B. 591; Fleming v. McNaughton, 16 U. C. Q. B. 194. It has been held that before the passing of 32 Vict. c. 36, sec. 132, sub-sec. 2, Ont., the treasurer of the senior county had no power to sell lands situate in the junior county for arrears of taxes due to the union before the separation. Canada P. Building Society v. Agnew, 23 U. C. C. P. 200. By Imp. Stat. 2 & 3 Will. IV. c. 64, Sch. O. 30, Clifton was made part of the Parliamentary Borough of Bristol, which is a county in itself. Except so far as that Act operated, Clifton was in the county of Gloucester, Held, that after the passing of the Municipal Corporations Act, 5 & 6 Will. IV. c. 76, secs. 7, 8, the Gloucester Justices had no longer the power to make an order diverting a footway in Clifton. Rex v. Justices of Gloucestershire, 4 A. & E. 680. counties; (e) and the other assets, belonging to the corporation of the union, shall belong to and be the property of the senior or junior county, or union of counties respectively, as agreed upon at the separation; (f) and, if not otherwise disposed of by agreement or arbitration, they shall belong to and be the property of the senior county, or union of counties; (g) and in the case of choses in action, they may be recovered in an action, or other proceeding instituted or commenced in the name of the senior county or union of counties. Officers and property, &c., continued.

48—(1) When a junior county is separated from a union of counties, the head and members of the provisional council of the junior county, and the officers, by-laws, contracts, property, assets and liabilities of the provisional corporation, shall be the head and members of the council, and the officers, by-laws, contracts, property, assets, and liabilities of the new corporation. Delivery of books to Treasurer.

(2) The treasurer of the senior county shall upon being requested so to do, deliver to the treasurer of the new county the books relating to the municipalities within the new county required to be kept under section 162 of The Assessment Act. 51 V. c. 28, s. 3.

Execution and service of process in hands of sheriff at time of separation.

49—(1) The dissolution of a union of counties shall not prevent the sheriff of any senior county from proceeding upon and completing the execution or service within the junior county of any writ of mesne or final process in his hands at the time of such separation, or of any renewal thereof, or of any subsequent or supplementary writ in the same

(i) The reeves and deputy reeves of a junior county may, under sec. 38, be constituted a provisional council, with power, under sec. 40, to appoint provisional officers, and, under sec. 47, such junior county may, be separated from the union. It is enacted by this section that the head and members of the provisional council of the junior county, and the officers, &c., of the provisional corporation, shall be the head, &c., and the officers, &c., of the council and of the new corporation. (j) 46 V. c. 18, s. 49.

Execution of writs.

(2) This section shall not be held to authorize the sheriff of the senior county to execute within the new county any writ which is not in his hands at the time the dissolution takes effect, unless such writ depends for its priority upon a former writ executed by such sheriff or in his hands at the said time.

Pending actions.

(3) All actions and proceedings in any Court which may be pending at the date the establishment of the new county takes effect, may be prosecuted, continued, and completed, and all writs of execution and other processes, and all acts and proceedings subsequent thereto, may, (subject to any order to the contrary being made), be taken, issued, and had in the county in which such actions and proceedings were originally commenced as fully and effectually as if the junior county had not been separated from the senior county; and subject to the provisions of the next sub-section, no writ or other process or proceeding shall lose its priority by reason of no entry thereof appearing or being in the proper office in that behalf in the new county; and all officers who would have had power or authority to execute such writ, process or proceedings, if the new county had not been formed, shall, for the purpose of all pending suits, actions and proceedings, have the same power and authority in respect of the same as if the dissolution had not taken place.

Continuation of writs in hands of sheriff at time of dissolution.

(4) No unsatisfied writ against lands or goods in the hands of the sheriff of the union on the day the dissolution takes effect shall bind lands or goods situate within the limits of the new county, or have any effect upon such lands or goods after one year from the said day, unless the person entitled to the benefit of such unsatisfied writ, before the expiration of the said year shall have placed a writ against lands or goods (as the case may require) in the hands of the sheriff of the new county, indorsed with a notice that priority is claimed by virtue of this Act, in which case his writ in the hands of the sheriff of the senior county, if it, at the said time, did bind lands or goods within the territory included in the new county, shall continue to bind such lands or goods and shall retain its priority so long as such indorsed writ remains in force; provided such person shall not in the meantime have permitted his writ in the hands of the sheriff of the senior county to expire, or shall not have otherwise lost his priority.

Division Courts.

(5) The Lieutenant-Governor may, in the proclamation establishing the new county, or in a subsequent proclamation, fix and determine the number, limits and extent of the Division Courts for the new county, to take effect from a day to be named, subject to be thereafter altered under the provisions of The Division Courts' Act, (k) and may by such proclamation direct that suits and proceedings which at the said day are pending or being in any Division Court therein specified, shall become suits or proceedings of any other Division Court therein specified, and thereupon such suits or proceedings may be continued in such last mentioned Court as if they had been commenced therein.

Chattel mortgages.

(6) All chattel mortgages relating to property within any of the townships, cities, towns or incorporated villages forming the new county, at the date the proclamation takes effect, shall until their renewal becomes necessary to maintain their force against creditors (l) continue to be as valid and effectual in all respects as they would have been if the new county had not been formed, but in the event of a renewal of any such chattel mortgage after the date the proclamation takes effect, the renewal shall be filed in the proper office in that behalf in the new county as if the mortgage had originally been filed therein, together with a certified copy under the hand of the clerk and seal of the County Court, and no chattel mortgage in force at the said date shall lose its priority by reason of its not being filed in the new county prior to its renewal. 51 V. c. 28, s. 4.

Change of place of trial in actions, &c., after separation.

50. If upon a dissolution of a union of counties, there is pending an action, or other civil proceeding in which the county town of the union has been named as the place of

In case a village is incorporated, or village or town (with or without additional area) erected into a town or city, or a township or county becomes separated, the by-laws in force therein respectively shall continue in force until repealed or altered by the council of the new corporation; (p)

(m) The dissolution should not affect pending proceedings. But where it is for the convenience of the parties that the place of trial should be changed to the new county, a discretionary power to order the change is vested in the Court or a Judge. The change may be by consent or without consent, on a proper case shewn by affidavit.

(p) The effect of this section is to continue existing by-laws of the union in both the senior and junior counties and townships respectively, after a separation, subject to the powers of each independent council to repeal or alter the same when the council of the union might have done so. The council of a municipality has, in general, power to repeal a by-law without reference to the people. Rex v. Ashwell, 12 East 22; Rex v. Bird, 13 East 367; *Great Western R. W. In case an addition is made to the limits of any municipality, the by-laws of such municipality shall extend to the additional limits, and the by-laws of the municipality from which the same has been detached shall cease to apply to the addition, (r) except only by-laws relating to roads and streets, and these shall remain in force until repealed by by-laws of the municipality to which the addition has been made. Liability for debts at the time of dissolution.

55. In the case of the erection of a locality into an incorporated village, or of a village into a town, or of a town into a city, the village, town, or city shall remain subject to the debts and liabilities to which the locality was previously liable, in like manner as if the same had been contracted or incurred by the new municipality; (t) and, after

(q) The council of a village incorporated and separated from a township in which at the time of the incorporation, a by-law existed prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in shops and places other than houses of public entertainment within the township, was held not to have power by by-law not submitted for approval of the electors of the village, to repeal the prohibitory by-law as far as it affected the village. In re Cunningham v. Almonte, 21 U. C. C. P. 459.

(r) The object of this section is to extend the existing by-laws of a municipality to land added thereto after the passing of the by-laws, and to indicate the exemption of such lands from the operation of the by-laws of the municipality to which they formerly belonged. Even the operation of the by-laws of the old municipality creating debts, &c., are thus in effect got rid of; but by-laws relating to roads or streets, within the limits of such tracts, are, for obvious reasons, continued until repealed by the council acquiring jurisdiction over the same. But see sec. 56.

(t) This strengthens the provisions contained in the previous section for the protection of creditors. The effect of this section is that a village newly incorporated remain liable to pre-existing township debts, and towns and cities respectively remain liable for the debts contracted by them while they were villages or towns. The same principle is also, by this section, made applicable to townships separating from a union. See further note n to sec. 13.

Adjustment of debts when limits extended.

56. After an addition has been made to a village, town, or city, by the annexation of an adjoining village or town or adjoining portion of a township, the city, town or village whose limits shall have been so extended, shall pay to the township or county from which the additional territory has been taken, such part (if any) of the debts of the township or county as may be just, and shall be entitled to receive from and be paid by the township or county the value of the interest which the added territory had at the time of making such addition in the property or assets of the township or county; (v) and in case the councils do not, within three months after the first meeting of the council of the municipality to which the addition has been made, agree as to the sum to be paid or received as aforesaid, or as to the time of payment, the matter shall be settled by arbitration under this Act. (w) 48 V. c. 39, s. 2.

C. Q. B. 635; 27 U. C. Q. B. 138. In such case the action cannot properly be brought against one of the counties without joining the other. Ekins v. Bruce, 30 U. C. Q. B. 48. A suit properly brought against three united counties was held to be properly continued against the three, notwithstanding a dissolution of the union. Lincoln, Welland, and Haldimand v. Thompson 8 U. C. Q. B. 615.

(v) The effect of sec. 54 is to exempt tracts of land annexed, from the debts of the municipality to which they formerly belonged. The effect of this section read in connection with sec. 54 is to render the municipality to which the annexation is made liable to the former municipality for a reasonable proportion of the pre-existing debts. See note n to sec. 13. When part of a township is detached therefrom and added to a town, no power is given to the arbitrators by this section to direct the township to pay any sum to the town. Re Sarnia, 1 O. R. 411.

its debentures or other obligations for any part of any debt contracted by the union for which debentures or other obligations might have been, but had not been, issued before the dissolution; and the debentures or obligations shall recite or state the liability of the junior county or township therefor under this Act; and the junior county or township shall be liable therefor as if the same had been issued by the union before the dissolution. (x) 46 V. c. 18, s. 57.

Assessments for year preceding dissolution.

58. All assessments imposed by the council of the then corporation for the year next before the year in which the new corporation is formed by separation therefrom, shall belong to the then corporation, and shall be collected and paid over accordingly, and after the separation all special rates for the payment of debts theretofore imposed upon the locality by any by-law of the former corporation shall continue to be levied by the new corporation; and the treasurer of the new corporation shall pay over the amount as received to the treasurer of the senior or remaining municipality, (y) and the latter shall apply the money so received in the same manner as the money raised under the same by-law in the senior or remaining municipality. (z) 46 V. c. 18, s. 58.

Special rates for debts continued and to be paid over by treasurer of the junior county.

(x) In this section there are three points to be noted: 1. That after the dissolution, the council of the remaining county or township shall issue its debentures or other obligations; but, to be effectual under this section, only "for any part of any debt contracted by the union"; 2. That such debentures, &c., shall recite or state the liability of the junior county or township therefor, under this Act; and 3. That the junior county or township shall be liable thereon as if the same had been issued by the junior county or township. See note u to sec. 55.

(y) Where part of the sinking fund for the school debt was paid by a new corporation not to the treasurer of the municipality but to the secretary-treasurer of the school board of the senior municipality by whom it was misapplied, it was held that the senior municipality might recover the amount due by the new corporation; that the payment so made did not constitute a defence, and that the sections as to arbitration in the case of the separation of an incorporated village from a township did not apply. *Eldersl*ie v. Paisley, 8 O. R. 270.

(z) The right to rates for the year next preceding the separation is here determined. The special rates mentioned are to be levied in each respective municipality, after separation, and collected by each respective collector, as if the by-law imposing the rates had been made after the separation by each county or township separately. The duties of the treasurers require careful attention.

If the sum paid over exceeds the just amount, the excess may be recovered.

59. In case the amount paid over as in the last preceding section provided, or paid to any creditor of the senior or remaining municipality, in respect of a liability of the former corporation, exceeds the sum which, by the agreement or award between the councils, the new corporation ought to pay, the excess may be recovered against the senior or remaining municipality. 46 V. c. 18, s. 59.

Former council and officers to exercise jurisdiction over new municipalities, etc., until new councils are organized.

60. In case a village is incorporated or a village or town is erected into a town or city, or a township or county becomes separated, the council and the members thereof having authority in the locality or municipality immediately previous to the incorporation, erection or separation shall, until the council for the corporation is organized, continue to have the same powers as before ; (a) and all other officers and servants of the locality or municipality shall, until dismissed, or until successors are appointed, continue in their respective offices, with the same powers, duties and liabilities as before. (b) 46 V. c. 18, s. 60.

Effect of separation upon public officers and their sureties.

61. The separation of a junior county or township from a union of counties or townships shall not in any case or in any manner whatever affect the office, duty, power, or responsibility of any public officer of the union who continues a public officer of the senior county or township or remaining counties or townships after such separation, or the sureties of such officer or their liability, further than by limiting such office, duty, power, responsibility, suretyship and liability to the senior county or township, or remaining counties or townships. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 61.

Further provisions as to officers and their sureties.

(a) It is necessary that there should not be any period of time without a proper governing body. When the new council is organized, it supersedes the previous council; but, until such organization, the council having authority immediately previous to the change continues to have the same powers as before.

(b) See note (v) to sec. 40. See also sec 279.

(c) The necessity for such a provision as this is shewn by Thompson v. McLean, 17 U. C. Q. B. 495, where it was held that without such a provision the sureties of a sheriff were relieved from liability by reason of the change in the office.

Right to require new securities not affected.

63. All sureties for such public officers shall be, and remain liable, as if they had become the sureties for such public officers in respect only of such senior county or township, or of such remaining counties or townships, and all securities which have been given shall, after the separation, be read and construed as if they had been given only for the senior or remaining county or counties, or township or townships; but nothing herein contained shall affect the right of new securities being required to be given by any sheriff or by any clerk or bailiff, or other public officer, under any statute, or otherwise howsoever. County councils.

64. The council (e) of every county shall consist of the reeves and deputy reeves of the townships and villages

(d) This section only relates to existing securities, and so is not to be read as affecting the right to require new sureties when new sureties may in any case be properly demanded. See note c to sec. 61.

Certificates as to election and number of voters to be filed by reeves and deputy reeves.

65—(1) No reeve or deputy reeve shall take his seat in the county council until he has filed with the clerk of the county council a certificate of the township, village or town clerk, under his hand, and the seal of the municipal corporation, (g) that such reeve or deputy reeve was duly elected, and has made and subscribed the declarations of office and qualification

(f) Towns, villages and townships are entitled to a certain number of reeves and deputy reeves, in proportion to their population. See secs. 69, 70, 71. The reeves and deputy reeves are the representatives of the local municipalities in the county council. The offices of reeve and mayor of a town have been held to be incompatible. Reg. ex rel. Doran v. Haggart, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 74.

(g) The clerk may reject the certificate if not in the form required. The section is imperative that no reeve, &c., shall take his seat, &c., until he has filed, &c. The certificate made necessary is the evidence of the right of the person presenting it to a seat in the county council. The county clerk is in the first instance made the judge of its legal sufficiency. But no clerk should, according to his own caprice or preference of any kind, allow certain persons with defective certificates to take their seats, and disallow other certificates quite as good. In such a case the clerk, if made a party to contested election proceedings, would, in all probability, be made to pay costs. But it does not follow that a reeve or deputy reeve, whose certificate is defective, if once admitted by the clerk to sit and vote, has not the right to do so when in truth qualified. Nor does it follow that a certificate in all respects regular entitles the reeve or deputy reeve to sit and vote in the council if not really qualified. The certificate is only evidence that what is contained in it was done. If it has not been done, or the reeve or deputy reeve had not been duly elected, the mere certificate would not give the right to sit and vote in the council. That right comes from his being the reeve or deputy reeve, and having made the required declarations. If the certificate were the essential part of his qualification, and not merely the evidence of it, then it might be held that acts done by the reeve or deputy reeve who did not possess it, or only possessed a defective one, were void. But the certificate, being merely evidence of his qualification, if it turn out that he is really qualified, it cannot be held that his acts as a member of the county council are void. Nor can they be in any way impugned on account of the imperfect certificate. The statute does not declare that the votes of any reeve or deputy reeve taking his seat without the certificate shall be void, nor say that the proceedings supported and carried by such votes shall not be binding. The section in this respect may be properly considered directory, and so construed. See Reg. ex rel. McManus v. Ferguson, 2 U. C. L. J. N. S. 19.

as such reeve or deputy reeve; nor in case of a deputy reeve, until he has also filed with the clerk of the county an affirmation or declaration of the clerk or other person having the legal custody of the last revised voters' lists for the municipality which he represents, that there appear (h) upon such voters' list the names of at least 500 persons entitled to vote at municipal elections for the first deputy reeve elected for the municipality, and that no alteration reducing the limits of the municipality, and the number of persons on said list entitled to vote at municipal elections, below 500 for each additional deputy reeve, has taken place since the said voters list was last revised.

(2) In counting the names of voters referred to in this section and in sections 69, 70 and 71 the name of the same person shall not be counted more than once in any municipality, whether the name of such person appears upon the voters' lists only once, or more than once. 51 V. c. 28, s. 5.

D.*, of , esquire, was duly elected reeve (or deputy reeve, as the case may be) of the said township (town or village, as the case may be), and has made and subscribed the declarations of office and qualification as such reeve (or deputy reeve, as the case may be).

Given under my hand and the seal of the said corporation of , at , in the said township (town or village, as the case may be) this day of A. D. 18

Seal of the Municipal Corporation.

A. B., township (town or village) clerk.

46 V. c. 18, s. 66.

(h) See note m to sec. 69.

(i) It is to be hoped that, as the Legislature has seen fit to give a form of certificate, that the form will be closely followed. In the earlier Acts no form was given. The consequence was that a variety of forms were in use that were often incorrect. See the forms held bad in Reg. ex rel. McManus v. Ferguson, 2 U. C. L. J. N. S. 19.

67. The declaration in section 65 mentioned may be in the following form. (j) Form of declaration as to number of voters.

I, A. B., of , gentleman, clerk of the township, (town or village, as the case may be), of , in the county of , do hereby declare and affirm as follows :

(1) That I am the person having the legal custody of the last revised voters' list for the said township (town or village) as the case may be).

(2) That there appear upon the said list the na es of at least hundred (500 for each deputy reeve) persons entitled to vote at municipal elections in the said township (town or village, as the case may be).

(3) That no alteration reducing the limits of the said municipality, and the number of persons entitled to vote at municipal elections below hundred (500 for each deputy reeve), has taken place since the said list was last revised.

(4) That in counting the names of the voters on the said list, the names of the voters thereon have not, to the best of my information, knowledge or belief, been counted more than once, whether they appear upon the said list once, or more than once.

Division II.—In Cities.

Councils.—Sec. 68.

68. The council (k) of every city shall consist of the mayor, who shall be the head thereof, and three aldermen for every ward, to be elected in accordance with the provisions of this Act. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 68. City councils.

(j) See note i to sec. 66.

(k) See note e to sec. 64.

(l) At one time the council of a city was composed of two aldermen and two councilmen from each ward, the latter requiring less property qualification than the former, but having equal power of voting. The office of councilman in cities no longer exists. The town of Sandwich, incorporated by special Act, (20 V. c. 94,) was held entitled to elect only three councillors in addition to a mayor and reeve, to be elected by the people. Reg. ex rel. Arnold v. Wilkinson, 5 P. R. 20.

Division III.—In Towns.

Councils.—Sec. 69.

Town councils.

69.—(1) The council of every town shall consist of the mayor who shall be the head thereof, and of three councillors for every ward where there are less than five wards, and of two councillors for each ward where there are five or more wards; and if the town has not withdrawn from the jurisdiction of the council of the county in which it lies, then a reeve shall be added, and if the town had the names of 500 persons entitled to vote at municipal elections on the last revised voters' list (m) then a deputy reeve shall be added, and for every 500 additional names of persons so entitled to vote on such list, there shall be elected an additional deputy reeve: Provided always that the council of every town, where there are less than five wards, may, upon a petition of not less than 100 municipal electors, pass a by-law reducing the number of councillors for each ward to two; but such by-law, before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the municipality in the manner provided for in section 293 and following sections of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 69 (1); 51 V. c. 28, s. 7.

Reduction of number of councillors.

(2) Any time after two annual municipal elections shall have been held, under a by-law passed as provided for under this section, the council of the municipality shall, upon the presentation to the council of a petition of not less than 100 resident municipal electors, asking the council to submit a by-law to a vote of the electors, for the repeal of the by-law so passed, in accordance with section 293 of this Act, without unnecessary delay, submit such repealing by-law to a vote of the electors of the municipality; the proceedings in regard to the submission of such by-laws, both as to enacting and repeal, shall be as provided in this Act in regard to by-laws requiring the assent of the electors. 46 V. c. 18, s. 69 (2.)

(m) Prior to 51 V. c. 28 the right to deputy reeves was governed by the assessment roll. If the names were fraudulently inserted on the roll, for the purpose of enabling the particular municipality to obtain a deputy reeve, it is apprehended that the roll would not be conclusive. See Reg. ex rel. Hart v. Lindsay, 18 U. C. Q. B. 51. 51 V. c. 28, s. 7, substitutes the voters' list for the assessment roll.

Division IV.—In Incorporated Villages.

Incorporated village councils.

70. The council (n) of every incorporated village shall consist of one reeve, who shall be the head thereof, and four councillors, and if the village had the names of 500 persons entitled to vote at municipal elections on the last revised voters' list, (o) then of a reeve, deputy reeve, and three councillors, and for every additional 500 names of persons entitled to vote on such list, there shall be elected an additional deputy reeve instead of a councillor. 51 V. c. 28, s. 8.

Division V.—In Townships.

Councils.—Sec. 71.

Township councils.

71. The council (p) of every township shall consist of a reeve, who shall be the head thereof, and four councillors, one councillor being elected for each ward where the township is divided into wards, and the reeve to be elected by a general vote; but if the township had the names of 500 persons entitled to vote at municipal elections on the last revised voters' list, (q) then the council shall consist of a reeve, deputy reeve, and three councillors, and for every 500 additional names of persons entitled to vote on such list, there shall be elected an additional deputy reeve instead of a councillor. 51 V. c. 28, s. 8.

Division VI.—In Provisional Corporations.

Provisional councils.

72. The reeves and deputy reeves of the municipalities within a junior county for which a provisional council is established, shall ex officio be the members of the provisional council (r) 46 V. c 18, s. 72.

TITLE II.—QUALIFICATION, DISQUALIFICATION, AND EXEMPTIONS.

DIV. I.—QUALIFICATION.
DIV. II.—DISQUALIFICATION.
DIV. III.—EXEMPTIONS.

DIVISION I.—QUALIFICATION.

In each Municipality. Sec. 73.
Nature of Estate to be possessed. Sec. 74.
In new Township where no Assessment Roll. Sec. 75.
Where only one qualified person for each seat. Sec. 76.

Qualification of mayors, aldermen, &c.

73.—(1) No person shall be qualified to be elected a mayor, alderman, reeve, deputy reeve, or councillor of any municipality, unless such person resides within the municipality, or within two miles thereof, (a) and is a natural-born or naturalized subject of Her Majesty, (b) and a male of the full age

(a) Before this enactment it was held that a person rated on the assessment roll of a city, but at the time of an election resident in an adjoining township of the county in which the city was territorially situate, though almost in the boundary between the two municipalities, was not qualified to be elected a member of the council of the city. Reg. ex rel. Blasdell v. Rochester, 7 U. C. L. J. 101; Reg. ex rel. Fleming v. Smith, 7 U. C. L. J. 66.

(b) It is to be presumed that resident and assessed inhabitants of this Province are British subjects till something is shewn to the contrary, from which it can be determined that they are aliens. Reg. ex rel. Carroll v. Beckwith, 1 P. R. 284. It is not sufficient for a relator to swear that certain voters are aliens, without giving particular facts to shew that they are aliens, and how aliens, as by having been born in a certain place named, out of the allegiance of the British Crown. Ib. A person born in New York in 1830, the son of a British subject, who had emigrated from Ireland a short time previously, and a year or two after his birth came to Upper Canada, and ever since resided here, held to be a British subject within the meaning of the Act. Reg. ex rel. McVean v. Graham, 7 U. C. L. J. 125. But a person born in the United States before the Revolution, who continued to reside there afterwards, was held to be an alien. Doe d. Patterson v. Davis, 5 O. S. 494. The son of a British subject who was married to an alien residing out of British possessions at the time of his birth, was held to be an alien. Doe Robinson v. Clarke, 1 U. C. Q. B. 37. But the son of an alien once naturalized continues a British subject notwithstanding the residence of his father beyond British allegiance. Doe d. Hay v. Hunt, 11 U. C. Q. B. 367. See further, Montgomery v. Graham, 31 U. C. Q. B. 57. A voter born in the United States, his parents being British-born subjects, his father and grandfather U. E. Loyalists, and himself nearly all his life resident in Canada: Held, entitled to vote. The Stormont Case, 1 H. E. C. 21. An alien who came to Canada in 1850, and had taken the oath of allegiance in 1861, but had taken no proceedings to obtain a certificate of naturalization from the Court of Quarter Sessions was held not qualified to vote. Brockville Election, Ib., 129. An alien whose father had taken the oath of allegiance on obtaining the patent for his land under 9 Geo. 4, c. 21, was held not qualified to vote. Ib. The evidence that the parents of a voter had stated to him that he was born in the United States, but that his father was born in Canada received and the vote held good. Ib. When evidence was given of parol admissions by certain voters that they had been born in a foreign country, and also evidence that since the admissions the voters had voted at parliamentary elections, and had taken the voters' oath as to being British subjects by birth or naturalization; Held, that there was no presumption of naturalization sufficiently strong to rebut the presumption of the continuance of the original status of alienage. Lincoln Election, 1 H. E. C. 500. Certain aliens had taken the oath of allegiance, &c., before a Justice of the Peace of a town, which oaths were administered to them in a township, but in the same county: Held, that under the Alien Act, 34 Vict. c. 22, sec. 2, the Justice of the Peace in administering the oaths was acting ministerially and not judicially, and that the oaths were properly administered. Ib. Indians being British subjects may be either electors or candidates for municipal office. Reg. ex rel. Gibb v. White, 5 P. R. 315.

(d) See sec. 77.

(e) The language of this section has been changed to meet the decision in Reg. ex rel. Felitz v. Howland, 11 P. R. 264.

(f) B. and A. were partners, occupying premises as co-tenants under a yearly tenancy on the terms of an expired lease. Before the nomination day they dissolved partnership, B. withdrawing from the business and premises and leaving A. in possession. A. shortly afterwards went into partnership with S. The new firm then took a fresh lease of the premises: Held, that B. was not at the time of the election the co-tenant of A., so as to entitle him to become a candidate for alderman. Reg. ex rel. Adamson v. Boyd, 4 P. R. 204. A person having the mere possession of land vested in the Crown, determinable at any moment, was held not to have such an interest in the land either as proprietor or tenant, as enabled him to qualify under this section. Reg. ex rel. Lachford v. Frizell, 9 U. C. L. J. N. S. 27. There can be no qualification on personal property. Reg. ex rel. Fluett v. Semandie, 5 P. R. 19. Nor can the assessment on realty be supplemented by the assessment on personalty. Ib. A landlord is sufficiently possessed where his tenant is assessed. Reg. ex rel. Shaw v. Mackenzie, 2 C. L. Chamb. 36. So a landlord may put together properties, some occupied by his tenant and some by himself, to make up the assessed value required by the statute. Reg. ex rel. Dexter v. Gowan, 1 P. R. 104.

freehold or leasehold, or partly freehold and partly leasehold, or partly legal and partly equitable, (g) rated in his own name, or in the name of his wife, on the last revised assessment roll of the municipality, (h) to at least the value following, over and above all charges, liens and encumbrances affecting the same:

(g) The qualification may be of an estate legal or equitable. The estate, whethe legal or equitable, need not be free from all encumbrances. If encumbered, and after deducting the gross amount of the encumbrances from the assessed value of the premises, there be still left a sufficient value in respect of which to qualify, the qualification, notwithstanding the encumbrances, is sufficient. Regina ex rel. Blakeley v. Canavan, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 188. Where defendant, in November, 1858 conveyed the estate, which formed the subject matter of his qualification, to his father for a consideration of £300, for which he took notes, and in February, 1860, purchased the property back, returning all the notes, though the father did not re-convey the property till the 3rd October, 1860; yet the son was held to have had at the time of the assessment an equitable estate within the meaning of the Act. Reg. ex rel. Tilt v. Cheyne, 7 U. C. L. J. 99. See further Rolleston v. Cope, L. R. 6 C. P. 292; Simey v. Marshall, L. R. 8 C. P. 269; Heelis v. Blain, 18 C. B. N. S. 90; Webster v. Overseers of Ashton-under-Lyne, Orme's Case, L. R. 8 C. P. 281; Hadfield's Case, Ib. 306; Middleton v. Simpson, 5 C. P. D. 183.

(h) Formerly the property qualification and the rating were necessary under the section. Reg. ex rel. Metcalf v. Smart, 10 U. C. Q. B. 89, but this is modified by sub-section 2 of this section added thereto by 51 Vict. c. 28, sec. 9. "Where land is assessed against both the owner and occupant, or owner and tenant, the assessor shall place both names within brackets on the roll, and shall write opposite the name of the owner the letter "F." and opposite the name of the occupant or tenant the letter "T;" and both names shall be numbered on the roll. Rev. Stat. c. 193, s. 20. The omission to number both names on the roll, however, does not invalidate the assessment. See Regina ex rel. Lachford v. Frizell, 9 U. C. L. J. N. S. 27. The rating should be by name on the roll. Reg. ex rel. Metcalf v. Smart, 2 C. L. Chamb. 114; but see Reg. ex rel. Laughton v. Baby, Ib. 130. Where on the assessment roll, under the general heading, "Names of taxable parties," were entered the names of "Ker, William and Henry," for two separate parcels of land, and in the proper columns were the letters "F." and "H.," and in the column headed "Owners and address," was entered opposite to the parcels of land, "Wm. Ker & Bros.;" Held, that "William Ker & Henry Ker," and not "William Ker & Brothers," were the persons in whose names the properties were rated, and that they were sufficiently rated. Reg. ex rel. McGregor v. Ker, 7 U. C. L. J. 67. See, however, Applegarth v. Graham, 7 U. C. C. P. 171, and Little v. Overseers of Penrith, L. R. 8 C. P. 259. Judges are in general disposed to go as far as the facts will allow for the purpose of reconciling the mode of rating with the facts, if the person elected has really a legal qualification. Reg. ex rel. Northwood v. Askin, 7 U. C. L. J. 130; Reg. ex rel. Ford v. Cottingham, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 214; Reg. ex rel. Chambers v. Alison, Ib. 244; The Oldham Case, 1 O'M. & H. 153. See further note d to sec. 79. A candidate for the office of councillor was nominated on Oct. 23, 1877, who was not enrolled on the burgess roll for the year beginning Nov. 1, 1876, but was enrolled for the year beginning Nov. 1, 1877, when the election was held and was in all other respects qualified to be elected councillor: Held, that he was rightly nominated. Budge v. Andrews, 3 C. P. D. 510. The defendant was not assessed for the year 1880, but in that year was assessed, on the 3rd of September, for the year 1881. By by-law of the city of Ottawa this assessment was revised before 15th Nov. and returned before 31st Dec. as and for the assessment roll for 1881. No appeal was had therefrom. The nomination took place on 27th December, 1880, and the defendant was elected Mayor of Ottawa on 4th January, 1881: Held, that the election commenced on the nomination day; and the assessment roll mentioned, which was to take effect in 1881, and not before, was not the last revised assessment at that time within the meaning of the by-law and R. S. O. c. 180, sec. 44 (now Rev. Stat. c. 193, sec. 52) and the defendant could not qualify thereon. Reg. ex rel. Clancy v. McIntosh, 46 U. C. Q. B. 98. Where a person elected as alderman of a city made a declaration of office, inadvertently qualifying upon property in respect of which he was not entitled to qualify, but was qualified in respect of other property, his election was sustained. Reg. ex rel. Hartrey v. Dickey, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 190. Property owned by a candidate, but not mentioned on the assessment roll, cannot be made available. Reg. ex rel. Carroll v. Beckwith, 1 P. R. 278. An administrator, though rated in his own name for real estate belonging to the deceased, is not entitled to qualify upon such real estate. Reg. ex rel. Stock v. Davis, 3 U. C. L. J. 128. But the assessment roll is conclusive as to the rating, and no enquiry can be allowed outside it as to whether the candidate had more real property than that which appeared on it. Reg. ex rel. Fluett v. Semandie, 5 P. R. 19. See also Reg. ex rel. Hamilton v. Piper, 8 P. R. 225. In the case of electors there is an express declaration to that effect. See sec. 79. The amount of property rated on the roll is so far conclusive, that encumbrances cannot be taken into consideration to reduce it. Reg. ex rel. Flater v. Van Velsor, 5 P. R. 319; Reg. ex rel. Philbrick v. Smart, Ib. 323. See further, Reg. ex rel. Bole v. McLean, 6 P. R. 249; Reg. ex rel. Kelly v. Ion, 8 P. R. 432.

(i) See sec. 74.

But, if within any municipality any such person is at the time of election in actual occupation of any such freehold, rated in his own name or in the name of his wife, on the last revised assessment roll of the said municipality, he will be entitled to be elected, if the value at which such freehold is actually rated in said assessment roll amounts to not less than $2,000, and for that purpose the said value shall not be affected or reduced by any lien, encumbrance or charge existing on or affecting such freehold. 50 V. c. 29, s. 2.

When alienation of property rated not to disqualify.

(2) No person who has, or whose wife has, property duly rated on the last revised assessment roll, sufficient to qualify him, as in the last preceding sub-section required, shall be deemed to be disqualified by the alienation, by sale or otherwise, of the said property between the date of the return of the assessment roll and the time of his election, provided that at the time of his election such person is resident within the municipality and has, or his wife has, as proprietor or tenant, a legal or equitable freehold or leasehold, or partly freehold and partly leasehold, or partly legal and partly equitable estate of sufficient assessed value to qualify him for election under the preceding sub-section.

(3) In the case of the election of a person qualified under the preceding sub-section, the oath of office under sub-section 2 of section 270 of this Act may be taken, striking out all the words thereof after the word "occupation" in the thirteenth line of the said sub-section, and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "and I had such an estate actually rated on the last revised assessment roll of this township (naming it) at an amount not less than $2,000." 51 V. c. 28, s. 9.

"Leasehold" defined.

Nature of estate.

74. The term "leasehold" in the last preceding section shall not include a term less than a tenancy for a year, (j) or from year to year; and the qualifications of all persons, where a qualification is required under this Act, may be of an estate either legal or equitable, or may be composed partly of each. (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 74.

(j) A person having the mere possession of a Crown lot, determinable at any moment, though rightly assessed under the Assessment Act, has no such estate in the land as will qualify him for office. Reg. ex rel. Lachford v. Frizell, 9 U. C. L. J. N. S. 27. See further Mayhew v. Suttle 4 E. & B. 347, 357; White v. Bayley, 10 C. B. N. S. 227.

(k) See note y to sec. 73.

75. In case of a new township erected by proclamation, for which there has been no assessment roll, every person who, at the time of the first election, has such an interest in real property, and to such an amount as hereinbefore mentioned, shall be deemed to be possessed of a sufficient property qualification. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 75. In new township not having assessment roll.

76. In case in a municipality there are not at least two persons qualified to be elected for each seat in the council, no qualification beyond the qualification of an elector shall be necessary in the persons to be elected. (m) 46 V. c. 18, s. 76. If only one person be qualified for each seat in the council.

Division II.—Disqualification.

Persons disqualified. Sec. 77.

77.—(1) No Judge of any Court of civil jurisdiction, no gaoler or keeper of a house of correction, no sheriff, deputy sheriff, sheriff's bailiff, high bailiff or chief constable of any city or town, assessor, collector, treasurer, or clerk of any municipality, no bailiff of any Division Court, no county crown attorney, no registrar, no deputy clerk of the Persons disqualified from being members of councils.

(l) Both the possession of property and the rating are in general necessary to give a qualification for office under this Act. See sec. 73. But in the case of a first election in a new township, there can be no rating of property, as there is no assessment roll for such new township. In such case the property qualification, without the rating, is all that is necessary. If more were necessary, there could be no qualification at all. The person elected must put a value on the property for the purposes of the declaration required by sec. 270.

(m) In what manner is this section to be construed? Is it only to come into operation when the number is below two persons qualified to be elected for each seat as applied simply to qualification in respect to property, or after deducting all those who are disqualified to be elected from other causes? It is apprehended the expression, "qualified to be elected," must be construed in the larger sense, that is, for the benefit and advantage of the whole body of electors; for if it should happen that all those who might be elected as respects property were disqualified as respects interest or otherwise, the municipality could have no council if the inhabitants could not resort to the general body of electors for councillors. Reg. ex rel. Bender v. Preston, 7 U. C. L. J. 100. For the purposes of this section the roll is not conclusive as to the "persons qualified to be elected." Reg. ex rel. Telfer v. Allen, 1 P. R. 214.

Crown, no clerk of the County Court, no clerk of the peace, (n) no innkeeper or saloonkeeper, or shopkeeper, licensed to sell spirituous liquors by retail, (o) no license commissioner or inspector of licenses, no police magistrate, and no person

(n) Officers not named would, it is presumed, be qualified. All persons having the necessary qualifications are made eligible under sec. 73. The exceptions are persons by this section expressly declared to be disqualified. A local superintendent of schools was held not to be disqualified under the old law. Reg. ex rel. Arnott v. Marchant, 2 C. L. Chamb. 189. But an overseer of highways was held disqualified under the general words, "any officer of the municipality." Reg. ex rel. Richmond v. Tegart, 7 U. C. L. J. 128. So the clerk of a county council. Reg. ex rel. Boyes v. Detlor, 4 P. R. 197. As to the corporation solicitor, see Peterborough v. Burnham, 12 U. C. C. P. 103. See further, In re Sawyers v. Stevenson, 5 U. C. L. J. 42. It is not in express terms declared that an insolvent shall be disqualified. See Rex v. Chitty, 5 A. & E. 609. See also sec. 177 of this Act. See further, sec. 209 et seq. of this Act as to other disqualifications. By the English Act 5 & 6 Will. IV. cap. 76, s. 28, no person being in holy orders, or being the regular minister of a dissenting congregation, is qualified to be a councillor of a borough. But it was held that a minister appointed to officiate occasionally or temporarily to a dissenting congregation was not disqualified. Reg. v. Oldham, 10 B. & S. 193. An Indian who is a British subject and otherwise qualified is not disqualified to hold office. Reg. ex rel. Gibb v. White, 5 P. R. 315.

(o) An "innkeeper" is the owner of a house who holds out that he will receive all travellers and sojourners who are willing to pay a price adequate to the accommodation required. See Thomson v. Lacy, 3 B. & A. 283; Dansey v. Richardson, 3 E. & B. 144; Holder v. Soulby, 8 C. B. N. S. 254; Allen v. Smith, 12 C. B. N. S. 638; Threfall v. Borwick, L. R. 7 Q. B. 711. The disqualification under this section is not, however, restricted to innkeepers. It extends to all saloonkeepers and shopkeepers who are licensed to sell spirituous liquors by retail. See Reg. v. Rymer, 13 Cox. C. C. 378. A man may be an innkeeper under this section, though without a license. Reg. ex rel. Flanagan v. McMahon, 7 U. C. L. J. 155, and though he take out the license in the name of another. McKay v. Brown, 5 U. C. L. J. 91. An unlicensed person who under colour of a license to his son sells liquor by retail is not disqualified from holding the office of alderman. Reg. ex rel. Clancy v. Conway, 46 U. C. Q. B. 85. If a man, being an innkeeper, in good faith transfers his license, he ceases to be disqualified under the Act. Reg. ex rel. Crozier v. Taylor, 6 U. C. L. J. 60; see further Dixon v. Birch, L. R. 8 Ex. 135. The defendant and his brother, who were carrying on business as Booth Bros. had a license in the name of the firm to sell intoxicating liquors. Before the nomination, the defendant, with the consent of the license commissioners, transferred his interests in the license to his brother, but the business continued as before: Held, that a license cannot lawfully be transferred except in the cases mentioned in Rev. Stat. c. 194, s. 37, none of which had occurred here; that the having by himself or his partner an interest in any contract with or on behalf of the corporation, (p) and no person who is counsel or solicitor either by himself or with or through another in the prosecution of any claim, action, or proceeding against the municipality shall be qualified to be a member of the council of any municipal corporation. 46, V. c. 18, s. 77 ; 47 V., c. 32, s. 2.

consent of the commissioners did not validate the transfer, and, therefore, that the defendant, who retained his interest in the license, was not qualified to be a councillor. Reg. ex rel. Brine v. Booth, 3 O. R. 144. Per Armour, J. The disqualification should not be extended to the partner of a person lawfully holding a license in his own name. Ib. See Burgess v. Clark, 14 Q. B. D. 735 ; Todd v. Robinson, Ib. 739. The choice of a disqualified person is ineffectual. See Dillon Mun. Cor., 3rd ed., sec. 196.

(p) The object of this part of the section, like that of sec. 28 of the English Municipal Corporation Act 5 & 6 Will. IV. c. 76, is clearly to prevent all dealings on the part of the council with any of its members in their private capacity, or, in other words, to prevent a member of the council, who stands in the situation of a trustee for the public, from taking any share or benefit out of the trust fund, or in any contract in the making of which he, as one of the council, ought to exercise a superintendence. Reg. v. Francis, 18 Q. B. 526. The evil contemplated being evident, and the words used general, they will be construed to extend to all cases which come within the mischief intended to be guarded against, and which can fairly be brought within the words. The words of our enactment are that "no person having by himself or his partner an interest in any contract with or on behalf of the corporation shall be qualified," &c. ; and the words of the English Act are that "no person shall be qualified, &c., who shall have, directly or indirectly, by himself or his partner, any share or interest in any contract or employment with, by or on behalf of such council," &c. The difference deserves to be noticed. See Nicholson v. Fields, 7 H. & N. 810 ; Lewis v. Carr, 1 Ex. D. 484. Under an old Act, of which this section is a re-enactment, it was held that a person who had executed a mortgage to the corporation, containing covenants for payment of money, was disqualified. Reg. ex rel. Lutz v. Williamson, 1 P. R. 94. It is not necessary that the contract should be a contract binding on the corporation. Reg. v. Francis, 18 Q. B. 526. Where defendant, before the election, had tendered for some painting and glazing required for the city hospital, and, his tender having been accepted, he had done a portion of the work, for which he had not been paid, but afterwards refused to execute a written contract prepared by the city solicitor, and informed the mayor of the city that he did not intend to go on with the work, he was notwithstanding held to be disqualified. Reg. ex rel. Moore v. Miller, 11 U. C. Q. B. 465. So where the person elected had tendered for the supply of wood and coal to the corporation. Reg. ex rel. Rollo v. Beard, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 126. The trustees of a common school being about to erect a schoolhouse, one Gauthier offered to supply a certain quantity of brick for the purpose. They told him that if the town council would agree to pay him for the bricks, they would take them. He then said he would take payment for them by letting the amount go against his taxes in each year, with interest at eight per cent. on the whole amount unpaid. This offer was accepted, and the bricks were furnished. Gauthier was held disqualified to be a member of the council. Reg. ex rel. Fluett v. Gauthier, 5 P. R. 24. So where a member of the council, being a baker supplied bread to fulfil a gaol contract held by another person in his own name, but which was looked upon as really the contract of the former, he was held to be disqualified. Reg. ex rel. Piddington v. Riddell, 4 P. R. 80. Whether the contract is in the name of the party himself or another, is immaterial. See Collins v. Swindle, 6 Grant, 282; City of v. Bowes, 4 Grant, 489; 6 Grant, 1. A person who had Toronto entered into a contract with the corporation of the city of Dublin, was held disqualified, even though he had, before the election (but without the privity of the corporation), assigned his contract to a third person. Reg. v. Franklin, 6 Ir. C. L. R. 239. Where a municipal council by by-law granted to defendant, upon certain conditions, a right to build a dam and bridge across a river, in consideration of which he promised to keep it in repair at his own expense for forty years, he was held to be disqualified. Reg. ex rel. Patterson v. Clarke, 5 P. R. 337. So where it was shown that the candidate elected was a surety for the treasurer of the town, and acting as solicitor for the town. Reg. ex rel. Coleman v. O'Hare, 2 P. R. 18. So a surety in any sense to the corporation. Reg. ex rel. McLean v. Watson, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 71; Reg. ex rel. Haner v. Roberts, 7 P. R. 315. But a surety was held not disqualified under the following facts: The treasurer of a township was appointed by annual by-laws, which were silent as to time in 1859, 1860 and 1861. In 1861 the defendant became his surety, by bond, which bond did not state the duration of liability. In 1863 the same treasurer was also appointed by a similar by-law. In 1864 the by-law limited his liability to the year 1864. From that year to 1869, no time was specified. In 1869 he was appointed for one year. His accounts were audited, and found correct: Held, that defendant, his surety, was not disqualified. Reg. ex rel. Ford v. McRae, 5 P. R. 309. The defendant was a road commissioner for the township under sec. 479, and entitled to a balance for commission on the money spent by the township on a certain ditch: Held, that he was disqualified. Reg. ex rel. Ferris v. Iler, 15 U. C. L. J. N. S. 158. At one time it was held that where work was done under a contract, and nothing remained but payment, the contractor was disqualified. Reg. ex rel. Davis v. Carruthers, 1 P. R. 114; Reg. ex rel. Rollo v. Beard, 1 U. C. L J. N. S. 126. But recent English authority is against that position. See Royse v. Birley, L. R. 4 C. P. 296. If, however, at the time of the election, there be a dispute in good faith between the candidate and the municipality, arising out of a matter of contract, the candidate is disqualified. Reg. ex rel. Bland v. Figg, 6 U. C. L. J. 44; Reg. ex rel. McMullen v. De Lisle, 8 U. C. L. J. 291. A different rule prevails where all transactions have been bona fide closed. Reg. ex rel. Armor v. Coste, tion by reason of his being a shareholder in any incorporated company having dealings or contracts with the council of companies having dealings with corporations.

Ib. 290. There is no disqualification where a person is acquitted in equity from the contract, and a sealed instrument is all that is necessary to discharge it. Reg. ex rel. Hill v. Betts, 4 P. R. 113. The disqualification does not merely relate to the time of acceptance of office, but to the time of the election. Ib.; Reg. ex rel. Rollo v. Beard, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 126. To refer the qualification to the time when the person elected might actually take his seat at the council board would be wholly at variance with the spirit of the Act, and fatal to this very wholesome provision of the Act as to disqualification. Per Hagarty, J., Ib. 128. It is not enough to disqualify a person to show that he is the agent of the person who is really the contractor. Thus, an agent of an insurance company, paid by salary or commission, who, both before and since the election, had, on behalf of his company, effected insurances on several public buildings, the property of the corporation, and who at the time of the election had rented two tenements of his own to the board of school trustees for school purposes, was held not to be disqualified. Reg. ex rel. Bugg v. Smith, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 129. The words "interest in any contract," are not to be construed as including all possible advantage or gain flowing from a contract which somebody else, not being a partner, has with the corporation. See Reg. ex rel. Armor v. Coste, 8 U. C. L. J. 290; Reg. ex rel. Piddington v. Riddell, 4 P. R. 80. It is doubtful if they can be held to include sub-contracts. See Le Feuvre v. Lankester, 3 E. & B. 530. See also Proctor v. Manwaring, 3 B. & A. 145; enderson v. Sherborne, 2 M. & W. 237; Barber v. Waite, 1 A. & E. 514. Had the words been, "have any share or interest in, or be in any manner, directly or indirectly, concerned in any contract or bargain," a wider interpretation would have to be given to the section. See Towsey v. White, 5 B. & C. 125; Pope v. Backhouse, 8 Taunt. 239; Foster v. The Oxford, &c., R. W. Co., 13 C. B. 200. See also Rev. Stat. Can. cap. 109, sec. 18, sub-s. 16. Where a by-law exempted from taxation for a term of years a mill to be built by a firm of which defendant was a member, it was held that there was a contract subsisting between defendant and the municipality, and that he was disqualified from holding the office of reeve. Reg. ex rel. Lee v. Gilmour, 8 P. R. 514. The objection to the qualification should be taken at the nomination. Reg. ex rel. Tinning v. Edgar, 4 P. R. 36; Reg. ex rel. Adamson v. Boyd, Ib. 204; Reg. ex rel. Ford v. McRae, 5 P. R. 309. Where, after notice of disqualification, voters perversely throw away their votes, the candidate of the minority is entitled to the seat. Rex v. Hawkins, 10 East. 211; Rex v. Parry, 14 East. 548. But the notice should in such case be made to appear clear and satisfactory. Reg. ex rel. Clarke v. McMullen, 9 U. C. Q. B. 467; Reg. ex rel. Metcalfe v. Smart, 10 U. C. Q. The notice must be such as to bring home knowledge to the voters, apparently, not only of the fact constituting disqualification, but the law that such fact does disqualify. Reg. v. Tewkesbury, 18 L. T. N. S. 851; S. C., L. R. 3 Q. B. 629. See also Reg. ex rel. Dexter v. Gowan, 1 P. R. 104; Reg. ex rel. Davis

(a) The last section contains the disqualifications, and this the exemptions. The difference between a disqualification and an exemption as regards an individual, is that a person disqualified, cannot hold office, but a person exempt, even though qualified need not. The one is an incapacity or disability; the other a privilege. It is an offence at common law for a person, without some legal ground of objection, to refuse to take upon himself an office to which he has been duly elected. So a qualified person duly elected refusing to accept office, may be summarily convicted and punished. See sec. 277.

(d) The franchise is not to be lost to any one who is really entitled to vote, if his right can be sustained in a reasonable view of the requirements of the Act. *Reg. ex rel. So "Simond Faulkner," for Alexander Faulkner." Ib. And "Thomas Sanderson, held idem sonans with "Thomas Anderson," so as to entitle the person bearing the latter name to vote. Ib. Any error in assessing as owner, tenant or occupant, is immaterial if the voter be qualified in any of these characters. The Stormont Case, 1 H. E. C. 21; The Brockville Case, Ib. 129. When a voter, properly assessed, who was accidentally omitted from the voters' list for polling sub-division No. 1, where his property lay, and entered in the voters' list for sub-division No. 2, voted without question in No. 1, though not on the list, vote held good. Ib. It is not only necessary that the freeholder or householder should be rated as such, but at the time of the election hold the property in respect of which he is rated. *Reg. ex rel. Firstly. All persons, whether resident or not, (h) who are in their own right, or whose wives are at the date of the election freeholders of the municipality. Freeholders.

(f) This franchise was created in this Province by 37 Vict. c. 3, Ont.

(h) It is to be observed that residence is not essential to the right of a freeholder to vote. Residence for a month next before the election is, however, expressly made necessary in the case of a householder. Nice questions arise as to when a party can or cannot be said to be a resident of a municipality. See Attorney General v. Parker, 3 Atk. 576, Etherington v. Wilson, 1 Ch. D. 160; King v. Foxwell, 3 Ch. D. 518. "The proper meaning of the term 'residence' as used in relation to rating or voting has been discussed in numerous English authorities, which I have examined. No precise definition has been formulated, but rather the Courts have been anxious to point out that there may be shades of difference in the sense in which the word is used in different Acts. But in all the idea of a home and a sleeping apartment seems to be either expressed or implied. In a standard work on registration it is laid down that 'in order to constitute residence a party must possess at least a sleeping apartment,' and this statement seems to have received the approval of Chief Justice Erle in Powell v. Guest, 18 C. B. N. S. 72." Opinion of Moss, C. J., on case stated by Judge of county of Elgin under 41 Vict. c. 21, s. 11, now Rev. Stat. c. 8, s. 31. Sessional Papers of Ontario for 1879, No. 68, p. 14. A man, cannot, within the meaning of the municipal laws, be said to be resident in two municipalities at the same time. Marr v. Vienna, 10 U. C. L. J. 275. A man's residence is where his home is situate—where his family live. Rex. v. Inhabitants of North Curry, 4 B. & C. 959. Occasional absence from home to attend to business in another municipality, does not make his home less his residence. Withorn v. Thomas, 7 M. & G. 1. Where A. had a dwelling-house at Bowmanville, where his wife and family lived, but had a saw-mill and store and was postmaster in the township of Cartwright, which occasioned him frequently to visit that place, and who, while there, used to board with one of his men in a house owned by himself: Held, that after voting in Bowmanville he had no right to vote in Cartwright. Reg. ex rel. Tayler v. Cæsar, 11 U. C. Q. B. 461. Mere colourable residence is in no case sufficient. Rex. v. Duke of Richmond, 6 T. R. 560. There is no absolute rule for ascertaining when a party is a resident; it is a question to be determined in each case according to its circumstances. As to what is sufficient, see Rex. v. Sergent, 5 T. R. 466; Bruce v. Bruce, 2 B. & P. 229, note; Rex. v. Mitchell, 10 East. 511; Withorn v. Thomas, 7 M. & G. 1; *Reg. ex rel. Questions often arise between father and son, or other relatives, as to the position they hold to each other in respect to the homestead. Sons in this country often live with their fathers to a ripe age, on the promise or in the expectation of receiving the homestead "when the old man dies." After the "old man," through lapse of years or bodily infirmity, is disabled from doing much, if anything, in the tillage of the farm, he surrenders control to the son, "as the place is to be his." When these things happen nice questions present themselves as to "ownership" and "occupancy." In three cases tried under the Election Law for Ontario, several such questions were presented for decision, and, after much deliberation decided. The Stormont Case, H. E. C. 21; The Brockville Case, Ib. 129; The South Grenville Case, Ib. 163.

The general rule is, that a person living with his father, having no interest of any kind in the house or land, is not entitled to be assessed either as owner, tenant or occupant. Reg. ex rel McVeon v. Graham, 7 U. C. L. J. 125. But when it is proved that an agreement exists (verbal or otherwise), that the son should have one-third or one-half the crops as his own, and such agreement is bona fide acted on, the son is entitled to be on the roll. The Brockville Case, 1 H. E. C. 129. So where it is proved that for some time past the owner has given up the whole management of the farm to his son, retaining his right to be supported from the product of the place, the son dealing with the crops as his own, and disposing of them to his own use. Ib. Occupancy to the use and benefit of the occupant is sufficient. Ib. In a milling business, where the agreement between the father and the son was, that if the son would take charge of the mill and manage the business, he should have a share of the profits, and the son in fact solely managed the business, keeping possession of the mill, and applying a portion of the proceeds to his own use, it was held that the son had such an interest in the business, and, while the business lasted, such an interest in the land as entitled him to be on the roll. The Stormont Case, 1 H. E. C. 121. So, where the voter had been originally put upon the assessment roll merely to give him a vote, but by a subsequent arrangement with his father, he was to support the father, and apply the rest of the proceeds to his own support, it was held that if he had been put on originally merely for the purpose of giving a vote, and that was the vote questioned, it would have been bad, but being continued several years after he really became the occupant for his own benefit, he was entitled to be on the roll, though originally the assessment began in his name merely to qualify him. Ib. Where a deed was taken in the father's name, but the son furnishing the money, the father being in occupation with the assent of his son, and the proceeds not divided, it was held, that the voter being the equitable owner, notwithstanding sided therein for one month next before the election, and the deed to the father, he had the right to be on the roll. Ib. So where a verbal agreement was made between the voter and his father in January, and on this agreement the voter from that time had exercised control, and took the proceeds to his own use, although the deed was not executed until September following. Ib. But the rule is different where father and son live together on the father's farm, and the father is in fact the principal, to whom money is paid, and who distributes it, and the son has no agreement binding on the father to compel him to give the son a share of the proceeds of the farm, or to cultivate a share of the land, and the son merely receives what the father's sense of justice dictates. Ib. So where a certain occupancy was proved on the part of the son distinct from that of the father, but no agreement to entitle the son to a share of the profits, and the son merely worked with the rest of the family for their common benefit. Ib. So where the voter and his son leased certain property, and the lease was drawn in the son's name alone, and when the crops were reaped the son claimed they belonged to him solely, the voter owning other property, but being assessed for this only and voting on it. Ib. Where the voter was the tenant of certain property belonging to his father-in-law, and before the expiration of his tenancy, the father-in-law, with the consent of the voter (the latter being a witness to the lease), leased the property to another, the voter's lease not expiring until November, and the new lease being made on the 28th March, 1870, held, that after the surrender by the lease to which he was a subscribing witness, he ceased to be a tenant on the 28th March, 1870, and that to entitle him to vote, he must have the qualification at the time of the final revision of the assessment roll, though not necessarily at the time he voted, so long as he was still a resident of the electoral division. Ib. Where the voter had only received a deed of the property on which he voted on the 16th August, 1870, but previous to that date had been assessed for and paid taxes on the place, but not owning it; held, that not possessing the qualification at the time he was assessed, or at the final revision of the roll, he was not entitled to vote. Ib. Where the father had made a will in his son's favour, and told the son if he would work the place and support the family, he would give it to him, and the entire management remained in the son's hands from that time, the property being assessed in both names, the profits to be applied to pay the debts due on the place, it was held that, as the understanding was that the son worked the place for the support of the family, and beyond that for the benefit of the estate, which he expected to possess under his father's will, he did not hold immediately to his own use and benefit, and was not entitled to vote. Ib. The widow of an intestate owner continuing to live on the property with her children, who own the estate, and work and manage it, should not, till her dower be assigned, be assessed, nor should any interest of hers be deducted from the whole assessed value, she not having the management of the estate. The Brockville Case, 1 H. E. C. 21.

(i) The occupant of any separate portion of a house having a distinct communication with a road or street by an outer door, is a householder (sec. 87); and it seems to be now settled in England, where a house is let out in separate portions to different tenants, and the owner or landlord does not reside on the premises, though there is but one outer door common to all the tenants, that each distinct portion so let is the house of such occupier. sessment roll on which the voters' list used at the election is based. (k)

When more than one son so resident.

(2) If there are more sons than one so resident, and if the farm is not rated and assessed at an amount sufficient, if equally divided between them, to give a qualification to vote to the father and all the sons, where the father is living, or to the sons alone, where the father is dead and the mother is a widow, then the right to vote shall belong to and be the right only of the father and such of the eldest or elder of said sons to whom the amount at which the farm is rated and assessed will, when equally divided between them, give the qualification to vote.

Where father living and assessment not sufficient to qualify more than one.

(3) If the amount at which the farm is so rated and assessed is insufficient, if equally divided between the father, if living, and one son, to give to each a qualification to vote, then the father shall be the only person entitled to vote in respect of such farm. (l)

Temporary absence.

(4) Occasional or temporary absence from the farm for a time or times not exceeding in the whole four months of the twelve hereinbefore mentioned, shall not operate to disentitle a farmer's son to vote. (m)

(5) In this section

Interpretation.

"Farm" shall mean land actually occupied by the owner thereof and not less in quantity than twenty acres;

"Son" or "sons" or "farmer's son" or "farmers' sons" shall mean any male person or persons not otherwise qualified to vote, and being the son or sons of an owner and actual occupant of a farm;

"Father" shall include stepfather;

(k) This franchise was first created in 1877, by 40 Vict. c. 9.

(l) This follows from what precedes it. The foundation of the right being the rated and assessed value of the farm, if that value be not sufficient, if divided between the father and a son, to give a vote to each, the father alone is entitled to the vote.

(m) A man cannot be a resident in two places at one time. See note k to this section. But a man may have his residence in one place and be temporarily absent at another. Where the absence being an occasional or temporary one is real and not for more than four months of the twelve required as a residence under sub-sec. 4, such occasional or temporary absence is not to deprive the farmer's son of his vote.

"Election" shall mean an election for a member to a municipal council;

"To vote" shall mean to vote at an election; and

"Owner" shall mean a person who is proprietor in his own right, or whose wife is proprietor in her own right, of an estate for life or any greater estate either legal or equitable, except where the owner is a widow, and in such latter case the word "owner" shall mean proprietor in her own right of any such estate. (n) 46 V. c. 18, s. 79; 47 V. c. 32, s. 3; 50 V. c. 8, sched.

Amount of rating necessary.

80. In order to entitle a person to vote as aforesaid in respect of real property, such property, whether freehold or household or partly each, (o) must be rated at an actual value of not less than the following: (p)

In Townships—$100.
In Incorporated Villages—$200.
In Towns—$300.
In Cities—$400. 46 V. c. 18, s. 80.

Persons in default for non-payment of taxes not to vote.

81. No person who has been returned by the treasurer or collector under sec. 119 as in default for non-payment of his taxes on or before the 14th day of December next preceding any election, shall be entitled to vote in respect of income in any municipality, or in respect of real property in municipalities which have passed by-laws under sub-section 2 of section 489; (q) but any person who is entitled to vote and who (n) As to the meaning and effect of an interpretation clause such as this, see note b to sec. 2 of this Act.

(o) See note g to sec. 73.

(p) Formerly, for municipal purposes, real property was rated at annual value in cities, towns, and incorporated villages, and at actual value in townships. Since 1866 the distinction has been abolished. Actual value is now the rule in all local municipalities for all purposes. See Frontenac v. Kingston, 30 U. C. Q. B. 584; 32 U. C. Q. B. 348.

(q) The object of such a provision as the present is, in the case of intending voters, to enforce payment of taxes in the year in which they accrue, and under any circumstances before the election of the ensuing year. In the 29-30 Vict. c. 51, sec. 75, the provision was absolute, making it essential to the qualification of a voter that he should have paid on or before the sixteenth day of December next preceding the election, all municipal taxes due by him. That provision was omitted when the section was amended and re-enacted by Stat. 31 Vict. c. 30, sec. 9, Ont. It was in 36 Vict. c. 48, sec. 77, produces and leaves with the deputy-returning officer at the time of the tendering of the vote a certificate from the treasurer of the municipality, or the collector of taxes, shewing that the taxes in respect of which the default had been made have since been paid, shall be entitled to vote; and the deputy-returning officer shall file the certificate, receive the vote and note the same on the defaulter's lists. 46 V. c. 18, s. 81; 50 V. c. 29, s. 3.

Elector must be named in voter's list.

No question of qualification to be raised.

82. Except in the case of a new municipality, for which there is no assessment roll, no person shall be entitled to vote at any election, unless he is one of the persons named or purporting to be named in the proper list of voters; and no question of qualification shall be raised at any election, except to ascertain whether the person tendering his vote is the same person as is intended to be designated in the list of voters. (r) 46 V. c. 18, s. 82.

In newly erected municipalities not having any assessment roll.

83. At the first election of a new municipality for which there is no separate assessment roll, every resident male inhabitant, though not previously assessed, shall be entitled to vote if he possesses the other qualifications above mentioned, and has at the time of the election sufficient property to have entitled him to vote if he had been rated for such property. (s) 46 V. c. 18, s. 83.

Where new territory added to city, town, or village, or a new city, town or village, erected with added territory, and no voter's lists including such new territory.

84. Where any territory is added for municipal purposes to any city, town, or village, or where a town with additional territory is erected into a city, or a village with additional territory is erected into a town, or in case a new village is formed, and an election takes place before voters' lists including the names of persons entitled to vote in such territory are made out for such new or enlarged city, town, or village, or before such lists are certified by the County Judge, then all persons who would have been qualified as electors in such territory if the same had remained separate from the city, town, or village, or if such town or village restored in a modified form. It is still dependent on the passing of a by-law by the council of the municipality. See sec. 489, sub-s. 2.

(r) See note d to sec. 79.

(s) In the case of a newly erected township there can be no assessment roll for such township, qualification in fact, without rating on any roll, is, therefore, all that is required in such a case See sec. 79 and notes thereto, as to the qualification of electors.

had not been erected into a city or town, or if such village had not been formed, shall be entitled to vote in the city, town, or village at such election. (t) 46 V. c. 18, s. 84.

If owner and occupant severally rated both to be deemed rated

85. In case both the owner and occupant of any real property are rated severally but not jointly therefor, both shall be deemed rated within this Act. (u) 46 V. c. 18, s. 85.

When joint owners or occupants rated, rating to be equally divided.

86. Where real property is owned or occupied jointly by two or more persons, (v) and is rated at an amount sufficient, if equally divided between them, to give a qualification to each, then each shall be deemed rated within this Act, otherwise none of them shall be deemed so rated. (w) 46 V. c. 18, s. 86.

"Householder" defined.

87. Every occupant of a separate portion of a house, such portion having a distinct communication with a public road or street by an outer door, shall be deemed a householder within this Act. (x) 46 V. c. 18, s. 87.

(t) The necessity for such a provision as this section contains will be made apparent on reference to the language of Robinson, C. J., in Reg. ex rel. Carroll v. Beckwith, 1 P. R. 278. There was no such provision contained in the 36 Vict. c. 48, but the omission was afterwards supplied by 38 Vict. c. 3, sec. 16, and is now retained here.

(u) Each may vote in respect of his interest, when rated severally, the one as proprietor if a freeholder, and the other as tenant if a resident householder. See sec. 79. It is not necessary that the property should be assessed exclusively in the name of the person possessed to his own use. A landlord is so assessed where tenants occupy the premises; and he may, for purposes of qualification as a candidate, put together real properties, some occupied by himself and some by his tenants, to make up the assessed value required by the statute. Reg. ex rel. Shaw v. Mackenzie, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 36.

(v) See sec. 21 of the Assessment Act.

(w) This applies to the case of joint owners or joint tenants. If each be rated for an amount sufficient to give a qualification, then each is to be deemed rated within the meaning of the section. The section apparently applies as much to candidates as electors, though placed under the head of "Electors." Reg. ex rel. McGregor v. Ker, 7 U. C. L. J. 67. Where one of two partners, jointly interested in a property as co-tenants under a yearly tenancy, left the partnership before the day of nomination, and a new lease was afterwards granted to the remaining partner and a new partner, the retiring partner was held not to be qualified in respect of property under this Act. Reg. ex rel. Adamson v. Boyd, 4 P. R. 204.

Election to be held annually for members of councils of municipalities (except counties).

Term of office.

(a) The time deserves attention. Where time is fixed for the holding of an election it is in general essential, though many of the details as to the conduct of elections may be looked upon as only directory. See Pennsylvania District Election, 2 Par. (Pa.) 526; Clarke's Case, Ib. 521; Commonwealth v. Commissioners, 5 Rawle, 75. (c) At common law the office of an alderman * * * is a franchise for life though by prescription or charter it may be limited to a definite period, but the office was so much in the nature of a freehold that there was an implied right to hold over unless it was otherwise provided * * *. In this country, however, a public office is not considered as being in the nature of the grant or contract, and the officer as against the public, has no freehold or property in the office, and it is almost an invariable provision of law

First elections where corporations are newly erected or extended.

89. In case of the incorporation of a new township or union of townships; or of the separation of a junior township from a union of townships; or of the erection of a locality into an incorporated village; or of the erection of a village into a town or of a town into a city; or of an additional tract of land being added to an incorporated village, town, or city, (d) or in case of a new division into wards of a town or city, the first election under the proclamation or by-law by which the change was effected, shall take place on the first Monday in January next after the end of three months from the date of the proclamation, or from the passing of the by-law by which the change is made, and until such day the change shall not go into effect; but the nomination of candidates and the election of such officers as are unopposed, may, and shall be proceeded with at the same time and in the same manner as if such change had gone into effect on the last Monday of the month of December preceding such first election, or on such other day as the nominations may lawfully be held upon. To guard against lapses sometimes unavoidable the provision is almost always made in terms that the officer shall hold until his successor is elected and qualified * * * . Where in the charter or organic law of a corporation there is an express or implied restriction upon the time of holding office, as that the officers shall be annually elected on a particular day * * * in such case they cannot hold over beyond the next election day. * * * . (d) See sec. 84 as to voters lists.

(e) The whole three months must expire. The day of the issue of the proclamation or passing of the by-law as well as the day of the election, must be excluded from the computation of time. See Blunt v. Heslop, 8 A. & E. 577.

municipality, or wards, or polling subdivisions was held. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 90.

County council to appoint place of first election in junior townships after separation.

91. When in any year a junior township of a union has 100 resident freeholders and householders on the then last revised assessment roll, the council of the county shall, by a by-law to be passed before the thirty first day of October, in the same year, (h) fix the place for holding the first annual election of councillors in the township, and appoint a returning officer for holding the same, and otherwise provide for the due holding of the election according to law. 46 V. c. 18, s. 91.

Existing ward divisions in united townships to cease on dissolution of union.

92. In case of the separation of a union of townships, the existing divisions into wards, if any, shall cease, as if the same had been duly abolished by by-law, and the elections of councillors shall be by general vote, until the township or townships are divided into polling subdivisions or wards under the provisions of this Act. (j) 46 V. c. 18, s. 92.

Election of reeves, &c., in townships and incorporated villages to be by general vote.

93. The election in townships and incorporated villages of reeves, deputy reeves and councillors, shall be by general vote, except in the case of deputy-reeves and councillors in townships divided into wards, and shall be held at the place or places where the last meeting of the council was held, or in such other place or places as may be from time to time fixed by by-law. (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 93.

(g) One Robert Gillis had a farm through which ran the division line between wards Nos. 2 and 3. His house stood on that part of the farm included in ward No. 2, but his barn on the part in ward No. 3. The township council passed a by-law that the election of councillors, for "Ward No. 3," should be held at "Robert Gillis's:" Held, that the by-law must be read as meaning some part of his property in ward No. 3, and that as the election was shewn to have taken place in the house without the limits of the ward, it was void. Reg. ex rel. Preston v. Preston, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 178.

(h) The time for doing the act authorized being limited, the act cannot be done after the day named, unless the language used is to be construed as directory only. Davison et al. v. Gill, 1 East. 64. This would appear to be a continuing provision, liable to be brought into play in any year by by-law passed before 31st October.

(j) See sec. 94; see also note to sec. 137.

(k) It will be observed that in elections in incorporated villages and in townships not divided into wards, the reeves and deputy reeves, as well as councillors, are to be elected by the people, and by general vote. Where the township is divided into wards the councillors

Upon petition the council may, by by-law, divide townships into wards, &c.

94. In case a majority of the qualified electors of a township on the last revised assessment roll petition the council of the township to divide the township into wards, or to abolish or alter any then existing division into wards, the council shall, within one month thereafter, pass a by-law to give effect to such petition; (l) and if such petition is for division into wards, shall divide such township into wards, having regard to the number of electors in each ward, being as nearly equal as may be, and the number of wards for municipal purposes shall be four in all cases; (m) and where the township is divided into wards, and is entitled to one or more deputy reeves, the councillors shall, at their first meeting, elect from among themselves such deputy reeve or reeves. elect the deputy reeves, sec. 94. The intention of having reeves and deputy reeves elected by the people, is to prevent men from, in effect, electing themselves to these offices by combining in small bodies. The intention of having a general vote is to destroy the sectional strife about the expenditure of money, which often arises where each councillor looks upon himself as a representative of a particular ward and not of the whole township. This section is in effect a re-enactment of the Act of 1866 (29-30 Vict. c. 51, s. 92).

(l) This provides for direct legislation by the electors themselves in the matter to which the section has reference. It is not in the discretion of the council to pass or refuse to pass a by-law dividing a township into wards, or abolishing or altering any existing division, provided a majority of the qualified electors petition that a particular course be adopted. In the event of such a petition being presented, it is made the duty of the council not merely to pass the required by-law, but to do so "within one month" after the presentation of the petition.

(m) The power is limited. There must be in all cases at least four wards. The number of electors in each ward should be as nearly as possible equal. Population rather than geographical situation is to be regarded.

(n) The rule is different where one township is not divided into wards. In such case the reeves and deputy reeves, as well as councillors, are elected by the people. See sec. 93.

(o) It is only proper that the election for each municipality should, for the convenience of voters, be held within the limits of that municipality. Cities, towns and incorporated villages are quite distinct from and independent of the townships in which they are situate. It is therefore provided by the next section that no election of township councillors shall be held within any city, town, or incorporated village. See note q to sec. 90.

96. No election of township councillors shall be held within any city, town or incorporated village, (p) nor shall any election for a municipality, or any ward thereof, be held in a tavern or in a house of public entertainment licensed to sell spirituous or fermented liquors. The death or absence of the returning officer or deputy returning officer provided for.

99. In any case where a deputy returning officer refuses or neglects to attend at the time and place he is required by the returning officer to receive his voters' lists, and other election papers, the clerk of the municipality as returning officer shall appoint another person to act in his place and stead, and the person so appointed shall have all the powers and authority that he would have had if he had been appointed by by-law. (u) In case, at the time appointed for holding a nomination or poll, the person appointed to be returning officer or deputy returning officer has died, or does not attend to hold the nomination or poll within an hour after the time appointed, or in case no returning officer or deputy returning officer has been appointed, the electors present at the place for holding the nomination or poll may choose from amongst themselves a returning officer or deputy returning officer, and such returning officer or deputy returning officer shall have all the powers, and shall forthwith proceed to hold the nomination or poll, and perform all the other duties of a returning officer or deputy returning officer. (v) 46 V. c. 18, s. 99; 50 V. c. 29, s. 4.

Returning Officers and Deputy Returning Officers to be conservators of the peace, their powers.

100. Every returning officer and deputy returning officer shall, during the days of the election, or of the voting

(t) Where the election is to be by wards or polling subdivisions, the councils appoint returning officers to hold the nominations and the deputy returning officers to preside at the polling places. See sec. 97.

(u) This part of the section makes provision for the case of a deputy returning officer who does not attend at the proper time to receive the papers required for the election. In such case it is the duty of the clerk to make a new appointment.

(v) These officers, should not be partizans. It is the duty of such an officer to stand indifferent between the contending parties; to have no interests to serve for either, or for himself; to approach his duty with the simple desire to do strict justice; to be ready and willing to give reasonable information as to the state of his proceedings; to conceal nothing; to evade no proper enquiry; to mislead no one by silence, or exhibit anything calculated to deceive; and he ought not to make a pretence of strictly following the letter of the law, to defeat it. *Reg. ex rel. of electors upon a by-law, act as a conservator of the peace for the city or county in which the election or voting is held; and he, or any Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction in the municipality in which the election or voting is held, may cause to be arrested, and may summarily try and punish by fine or imprisonment, or both, or may imprison or bind over to keep the peace, or for trial, any riotous or disorderly person, who assaults, beats, molests or threatens any voter coming to, or remaining at, or going from the election or voting; (w) and, when thereto required, all constables and persons present at the election or voting, shall assist the returning officer, or deputy returning officer, or Justice of the Peace. 46 V. c. 18, s. 100.

Special constables may be sworn in.

101. Every returning officer, or deputy returning officer, or Justice of the Peace may appoint and swear in any number of special constables to assist in the preservation of the peace and of order at an election or at the voting of electors upon a by-law; and any person liable to serve as constable, and required to be sworn in as a special constable by a returning officer or deputy returning officer, or Justice, shall, if he refuses to be sworn in or to serve, be liable to a penalty of $20, to be recovered to the use of any one who will sue therefor. Of householder or tenant. Sec. 103.
Of income voter. Sec. 104.
Of farmer's son. Sec. 105.

(w) In general, the officer will act under this section upon his own view. But when, instead of acting on facts observed by himself, or within his own knowledge, he acts on the information of others, it is suggested that he should take a regular information, and proceed as any other Magistrate would be required to do under like circumstances. An example would be, when the complaint is an assault upon a voter coming to or returning from the election, committed at a distance from the poll. The main object of the section is to empower the returning officer to act promptly on the spot in the hearing and determining of offences occurring at the poll; but in point of authority he is not so restricted.

(x) The penalty may, it is apprehended, though not so expressed, be sued for in any Court of competent jurisdiction, for instance, in a Division Court. See Brash q. t. v. Taggart, 16 U. C. C. P. 415.

And that you have not directly or indirectly paid or promised anything to any person, either to induce him to vote or refrain from voting at this election :

So help you God.

Nominations of councillors in towns.

(2) The council of any incorporated town, divided into wards may, by by-law, provide that the nomination for councillors for the several wards shall be held at the same time and place as the nomination for mayor, reeve and deputy-reeve.

(3) Where no such by-law is passed the nomination of councillors in such town shall take place as provided by section 109 of this Act.

(4) Notwithstanding anything herein contained, the council of any incorporated town or village may by by-law provide that the nomination for mayor, reeve, deputy-reeve or reeves and councillors may be held at half past seven o'clock in the evening instead of at the hours and times in this Act mentioned. 51 V., c. 28, s. 10.

The clerk of the municipality shall be the returning officer to preside at such meeting, or in case of his absence, the council shall appoint a person to preside in his place; and if the clerk or the person so appointed does not attend, the electors present shall choose a chairman or person to officiate from among themselves, and such clerk or chairman shall have all the powers of a returning officer. A meeting of the electors (u) shall take place for the nomination of candidates for the offices of aldermen in cities, councillors in towns, and of reeves, deputy-reeves and councillors in townships not divided into wards, and incorporated villages at noon, on the last Monday in December annually, at the town hall of such municipalities or at such place therein, and in cities and towns, at such places in each ward thereof, as may from time to time be fixed by by-law, subject in the case of townships to the provisions of section 111, and the deputy-reeves shall be designated as first, second, third, etc., according to the number to be elected, and the hour for the nomination of candidates for the offices of aldermen in cities, may, in and by the by-law fixing the places for such nomination, be fixed at half-past seven o'clock in the evening, instead of at noon. submitted the chairman so chosen would have a right to conduct the nomination to its termination, notwithstanding the presence in the meantime of the clerk, or a person appointed by the council as his substitute. The electors under this section are not apparently required to wait before making an appointment as they are under sec. 99. The proceedings at the meeting, if not presided over by the officer or person assigned, would in all probability be held absolutely void. "It cannot be a mere matter of procedure or form, that there should be no person presiding at the meeting in whom is vested the authority for conducting the election and for maintaining peace and order, to whom the legislature has entrusted the counting of votes and certifying the result. In the absence of any such person, I do not see how a poll can be taken, or the result legally ascertained." Per Draper, C. J., In re Hartley and Emily, 25 U. C. Q. B. 15. "The Legislature says, and I must take it, for very good reasons, that the election is to be conducted by a particular officer, and then another person goes and conducts it. Even if I had a discretion, I should not exercise it in supporting such a practice. It is very much the same as if a cause was referred to a barrister, and he were to go away for his own pleasure and leave it to his clerk, and then it was said that the award was good because it was made just as well as if it had been made by the barrister. Or if a cause was to be heard by a Judge, and he left it to one of the masters, he might conduct it just as well as the Judge, but that would not do." Per Crompton, J., in Reg. v. Backhouse 12 L. T. N. S. 579. See further Pickering v. James, L. R. 8 C. P. 489.

(u) A meeting of the electors means a coming together of the electors. The attendance of one person only could not be a meeting. See Sharp v. Dawes, 2 Q. B. D. 26.

(v) It will be observed that the change of time now provided for, must be made in the by-law fixing the places of nomination.

In townships divided into wards.

110. In townships divided into wards, the nomination of candidates for the office of reeve (w) shall be held at ten of the clock in the forenoon on the last Monday in December, (x) at such place in the township as may from time to time be fixed by by-law, (y) and the township clerk shall preside; (z) the nomination of candida'es for the office of councillor, to be elected for each ward, shall take place at noon, at the town hall of the township or at such place in the township or in each ward as may be fixed by by-law subject, however, to the provisions of section 111. Place of meeting for nomination of reeves, etc.

111. Where a township is so situated that the territory of such township adjoins the limits of any city, town or incorporated village, such city, town, or village may be designated by by-law as the place of meeting for the nomination of candidates for the offices of reeves, deputy-reeves, and councillors, as the case may be, under and in accordance with the provisions of the preceding two sections of this Act. 48 V. c. 39, s. 5.

If nomination day falls on Christmas Day.

112. When the last Monday in December happens to be Christmas Day, the nomination of candidates for the offices of mayor and aldermen in cities, and of mayor, reeve, deputy-reeve and councillors in other municipalities, shall take place on the preceding Friday, at the times and places and in the manner prescribed by law. 46 V. c. 18, s. 111.

County council may by by-law, lengthen time between nomination and polling in townships

113.—(1) Every county council may, by by-law, made on or before the first day of July in any year provide that the day for the nomination of candidates for reeve, deputy-reeves, and councillors in townships shall be upon the last Monday but one in December, but all the other provisions of law relating to municipal elections shall apply to the elections in such townships.

(a) Formerly persons to fill the office of reeve and councillors were nominated at the same time and place. The result was that there was some confusion as to the different persons to fill the different offices, the design of this section is to avoid such confusion by providing that nominations for reeve shall be at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and the nomination for councillor at noon.

Copy of by-law to be sent to townships affected.

(2) Forthwith, after the passing of such by-law, the county clerk shall transmit a copy thereof, to the clerks of the townships to which the same relates. 46 V. c. 18, s. 112.

The returning officer appointed for each ward, as in section 97 mentioned, or the clerk as the case may be, shall respectively preside at the meeting for the nomination of candidates, and in case of the absence of such presiding officer, the meeting may choose a chairman (b) 46 V. c. 18, s. 113.

Notice of nomination meeting.

(e) But if two or more candidates are proposed for any

(b) See note t to sec. 108.

(c) This means six full days. In re Sams v. Toronto, 9 U. C. Q. B. 181. Where a statute says a thing shall be done so many days, or so many days at least, before a given event, the day of the thing done and that of the event must both be excluded. Reg. v. Shropshire, 8 A. & E. 173; Mitchell v. Foster, 9 Dowl. 527. A notice of "ten days at least" for a hearing, means that there shall elapse at least ten periods of twenty-four hours each between the day of the delivery and the day of hearing. Norton v. Salisbury, 4 C. B. 37. It means ten clear, full and complete days, and not nine days and fractions of other two days. Adey v. Hill, 4 C. B. 40. See further Howes v. Peirce 1 C. P. D. 670.

(d) Where more persons are proposed and seconded than necessary, and, after polling commenced, all except the necessary number retire, it would seem that the returning officer cannot close the poll unless under the circumstances mentioned in this section. See Reg. ex rel. Horne v. Clarke, 6 U. C. L. J. 114. The election is commenced when the returning officer receives the nomination of candidates. Reg. v. Cowan, 24 U. C. Q. B. 606.

Poll when and where to be held.

117. At the nomination meeting or at any time within two days thereafter, any person proposed for one or more offices may resign, or elect for which office he is to remain nominated; and in default he shall be taken as nominated for the office in respect of which he was first proposed and seconded; (g)

Resignation of persons proposed for office at nomination meetings.

(f) Where a poll is demanded the election commences with it as being the regular mode of popular election. In the nature of things the demand for a poll never is made, nor can it reasonably be expected to be made until the necessity for such demand arises, that is until one of the contending parties is dissatisfied with the decision of the chairman upon the show of hands. Per Tindall, C. J., in Campbell v. Maund, 5 A. & E. 881. The polling is a continuation of the proceedings initiated by the nomination. See Reg. v. Archdeacon of Chester, 1 A. & E. 342. Where a poll is granted a poll must be had even although all the candidates except one after the nomination and before the polling decline the contest. Wexford Election, L. R. 3 Ir. C. L. R. 612; Reg. v. Cooper, L. R. 5 Q. B. 457. At a township election after the nomination of several candidates the returning officer adjourned to another room to receive votes, but none were tendered. He then closed the poll. Held, the election was void. Reg. ex rel. Smith v. Blouse, 1 P. R 180. It is necessary that during the hours for polling the electors should have free access to the polling places. The fact that a large number of duly qualified electors could not cast their votes, is a sufficient reason for setting aside an election, if the result would have been affected by the unpolled votes. Reg. ex rel. Davis v. Wilson, 3 U. C. L. J. 165; See further, Reg. ex rel. Kirk v. Asselstine, 1 U. C. L. J. 49; Reg. ex rel. Gibbs v. Branigan, 3 U. C. L. J. 127; Anon. 8 U. C. L. J. 76.

(g) It may be that the same person is qualified to fill incompatible offices, such as reeve, deputy reeve, and councillor, and has been nominated for more than one of these offices. A person so nominated must elect for which office he is to remain nominated. If he fail to do so, he is to be considered as nominated only for the office for which he was first proposed and seconded. This provision is absolutely necessary to avoid entanglement. A candidate proposed for only one office may also resign, with the consent of his proposer and seconder and of the electors present. Reg. ex rel. Coyne v. Chisholm, 5 P. R. 328.

the clerk or other returning officer or chairman shall, on the day following that of the nomination, post up in the office of the clerk of the municipality the names of the persons proposed for the respective offices ; (h) provided always that the resignation after the nomination meeting of any person so proposed shall be in writing, signed by him and attested by a witness, and shall, within said two days, be delivered to the clerk of the municipality; provided also, that if, by reason of such resignation only one candidate remains proposed for a particular office, the clerk or other returning officer shall declare such candidate duly elected for such office. 47 V. c. 32, s. 5.

List of Defaulters in Payment Taxes.

Preparation of list of defaulters.

119.—(1) On or before the day of nomination of candidates if the collector's ro.. has been returned to the treasurer of the municipality, the treasurer shall prepare and verify on oath, or if the collector's roll has not been so returned, the collector shall prepare and verify on oath, a correct alphabetical list of—

(h) Duties are cast as well on the chairman of the meeting as on the clerk of the municipality, the performance of which is necessary to the proper conduct of the election. It is essential that each returning officer should have a list of the candidates ; but where there was an omission of the name of one of the candidates and the question to be decided was not the mere abstract ground of the omission of the name, but only what effect it had upon the final result of the election ; and it did not appear that the result would have been different if the name omitted had been properly entered on the list, the election was upheld. Reg ex rel. Walker v. Mitchell. 4 P. R. 218. A voter who permits one candidate to retire without objection of any kind, and after his retirement nominates another candidate for the office, will not be allowed afterwards to insist upon having the name of his first nominee entered upon the poll books. Reg. ex rel. Coyne v. Chisholm, 5 P. R. 328.

(b) In municipalities which have passed by-laws under sub-section 2 of section 489 of this Act, all persons on the voters' list (that is to say the first and second parts thereof), who have been assessed for real property, but have not paid their municipal taxes on such property on or before the 14th day of December preceding the election.

List to be made for each polling subdivision.

(2) Where a municipality is divided into polling sub-divisions, such a list of defaulters shall be made for each polling sub-division.

Certified copies to be furnished.

(3) The person preparing the said defaulters' lists, shall furnish to all persons applying for the same, certified copies thereof, and of the affidavit verifying the same, in the same manner and for the same compensation as copies of the voters' list are to be furnished. 46 V. c. 18, s. 118.

Ballot Boxes.

Ballot boxes to be furnished.

120—(1) Where a poll is required, the clerk of the municipality (i) shall procure or cause to be procured as many boxes (hereinafter called ballot boxes) as there are wards or polling sub-divisions within the municipality.

How made.

(2) The ballot boxes shall be made of some durable material, shall be provided with a lock and key, and shall be so constructed that the ballot paper can be introduced therein, and cannot be withdrawn therefrom unless the box be unlocked.

Delivery of to deputy returning Officers.

(3) When it becomes necessary for the purposes of an election to use the ballot boxes, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the municipality, two days at least before the polling day, to deliver one of the ballot boxes to every deputy-returning officer appointed for the purposes of the election.

Clerk to preserve boxes for future elections.

(4) The ballot boxes, when returned to the clerk after the election, shall be preserved by him for use at elections for the municipality; and it shall be the duty of the clerk to have ready for use, at all times, as many ballot boxes as there are wards or polling sub-divisions in the municipality.

Penalty on failure to furnish boxes.

(5) If the clerk fails to furnish ballot boxes in the manner herein provided, he shall incur a penalty of $100 in respect of every ballot box which he has failed to furnish in the manner prescribed.

Deputy returning officers to procure boxes when not supplied.

(6) It shall be the duty of the deputy-returning officer in every ward or polling sub-division not supplied with a ballot box within the time prescribed, forthwith to procure one to be made, and he may issue his order upon the treasurer of the municipality in which such ward or polling sub-division is situate for the cost of the ballot box, and the treasurer shall pay to the deputy-returning officer the amount of the order. (j) 46 V. c. 18, s. 119.

Ballot Papers.

Ballot papers to be printed.

121—(1) Where a poll is required, the clerk of the municipality shall forthwith cause to be printed, at the expense of the municipality, such a number of ballot papers as will be sufficient for the purposes of the election (k).

Contents and form of ballot papers.

(2) Every ballot paper shall contain the names of the duly nominated candidates, arranged alphabetically in the order of their surnames; or if there are two or more candidates with the same surname, then in the order of their other names. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 120.

(j) The amount of the order is as it were a debt due by the corporation. The deputy returning officer not supplied with a ballot box within the time described, is authorized to bind the corporation in the contraction of the debt. It is made the imperative duty of the treasurer to pay the debt.

(k) It is not enough for the setting aside of an election held under this Act there should appear to be a mere irregularity in the mode of procedure. See sec. 175.

(l) The ballot papers must contain the names of the duly qualified candidates. It is not said expressly that they must contain the Christian as well as the surnames, but section 123 requires the ballot papers to be in the form given in the schedule to the Act which contains both the Christian and surname. Whether inaccuracies in these particulars would be a ground for setting aside an election apart from the result is a question. See Reg. v. Coward 16 Q. B. 1819; Reg. v. Bradley, 3 E. & E. 634; Reg v. Plenty, L. R. 4 Q. B. 346; Mather v. Brown, 1 C. P. D. 596. See further s. 175. A candidate was twice nominated, one nomination being good and the other bad. His name appeared in the ballot papers twice once in respect of each Different sets of ballot papers to be prepared.

In towns

(4) In townships divided into wards, one kind or set of ballot papers shall be prepared for all the wards, containing the names of the candidates for reeve, and another kind or set shall be prepared for each ward, containing the names of the candidates for councillors in the ward. 46 V. c. 18, s. 121.

Polling Places.

In case of municipalities which are divided into wards or polling subdivisions, the clerk of the municipality shall, before the opening of the poll, deliver or cause to be delivered to every deputy-returning officer the ballot papers which have been prepared for use in the ward or polling sub-division for which such deputy-returning officer has been appointed to act, and shall also furnish to the deputy-returning officer or see that he is furnished with the necessary materials for voters to mark the ballot papers; and such materials shall be kept at the polling place by the deputy-returning officer for the convenient use of voters. (o) 46 V. c. 18, s. 123.

All the voters so voting intended to vote for the candidate and if both classes of voters could be added together he had a majority and was entitled to be returned: Held, he was entitled to be returned. Northcote v. Pulsford L. R. 10 C. P., 476. The names of the candidates must be arranged alphabetically in the order of their surnames, see Mather v. Brown, 1 C. P. D. 596.

Compartments wherein voters may mark votes.

125. Every polling place shall be furnished with a compartment in which the voters can mark their votes screened from observation; and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the municipality and deputy-returning officers respectively, to see that a proper compartment for that purpose is provided at each polling place. (p) 46 V. c. 18, s. 124.

Directions to Voters.

Clerk to furnish deputy-returning officer with directions for voter's guidance.

126. In case of municipalities divided into wards or polling subdivisions, the clerk of the municipality shall before the opening of the poll deliver, or cause to be delivered to every deputy returning officer such number of printed directions, for the guidance of voters in voting, as he may deem sufficient, and shall so deliver or cause to be so delivered at least ten copies of such printed directions; such directions shall be printed in conspicuous characters, and may be according to the form in Schedule B to this Act. (q) 46 V. c. 18, s. 125.

Deputy-returning officers to placard the directions.

127. Every deputy-returning officer shall before the opening of the poll, or immediately after he has received the printed directions from the clerk of the municipality, if he did not receive the same before the opening of the poll, cause the printed directions to be placarded outside the polling place for which he is appointed to act, and also in every compartment of the polling place, and shall see that they remain so placarded until the close of the polling. (r) 46 V. c. 18, s. 126.

(o) These duties are ministerial. The neglect of them, except so far as the neglect has the effect of making an election impossible, would not nullify the election. See s. 175 and notes thereto.

(p) There can be no efficient system of voting by ballot without secrecy. Hence provision is to be made to enable voters to "mark their votes screened from observation." Disregard of this duty when the neglect is not total but partial is not per se a ground for setting aside an election. Reg. ex rel. Preston v. Touchburn, 6 P. R. 344. See further, s. 175 and notes.

(q) See note k to s. 121.

Voters' and Defaulters' Lists.

Proper voter's list to be used at an election.

128. Subject to the provisions of the next following three sections, the proper list of voters to be used at an election shall be the first and second parts of the last list of voters certified by the Judge and delivered or transmitted to the clerk of the peace under The Voters' Lists Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 127. Rev. Stat. c.8.

For first election in new municipality.

129. For the first election of a new municipality for which there is no separate assessment roll, the clerk of the municipality shall provide every deputy-returning officer with a poll book, prepared according to the form of Schedule C to this Act, instead of a voters' list, and either the deputy-returning officer or his sworn poll clerk shall therein enter, in the proper column, the name of every person offering to vote, and at the request of any candidate or voter, shall note the property on which the person claims to vote opposite his name. 46 V. c. 18, s. 128.

Voters' lists in cases under section 84.

130.—(1) Where any territory is added for municipal purposes, to any city, town, or village, or where a town with additional territory is erected into a city, or village with additional territory is erected into a town, or where a new village is formed, and an election takes place before voters' lists including the names of the persons entitled to vote in such territory are made out, or before such lists are certified by the County Judge—in all such cases, the clerk of the new or enlarged city, town, or village, shall extract the names of the several persons who would be entitled to vote in the territory composing or added to (as the case may be) the city, town, or village if such territory had remained separate from the city, town, or village, from the last filed or certified voters' list of the municipality or municipalities to which such territory formerly belonged, containing the names of the persons entitled to vote in respect of such territory, and shall place such names in lists or supplementary lists (as the case may be).

Form of supplementary lists.

(2) Such lists or supplementary lists shall be made in the form of Schedule C to this Act, and shall be signed by the clerk, and delivered by him to the proper deputy-returning officers for the purpose of enabling the persons named in such lists to vote at the election. 46 V. c. 18, s. 129.

List of voters.

131.—(1) In any municipality for which there is a separate assessment roll, but for which no voters' list for the municipality has been filed with the Clerk of the Peace or certified by the County Judge under The Voters' Lists Act, the clerk of the municipality shall, before the poll is opened, prepare and deliver to the deputy-returning officer for every or any ward or polling sub-division, a list in the form of Schedule C to this Act, containing the names, arranged alphabetically, of all male persons appearing by the then last revised assessment roll to be entitled to vote in that ward or polling sub-division, (s) and shall attest the said list by his solemn declaration in writing under his hand; (t)

Rev. Stat. c. 8.

Persons in arrears for taxes shall be excluded from list.

(2) In the case of

(a) Income voters, and

(b) Persons assessed for real property, if the municipality has passed a by-law under sub-section 2 of section 489 of this

(s) The purpose of furnishing the list is not to enable the returning officer to judge of the sufficiency or insufficiency of votes taken, but that all persons interested in the election may have a check at hand at the time of polling the votes. Reg. ex rel. Dundas v. Niles, 1 C. L. Chamb. R. 198; see also sec. 79. Persons whose names are on the original roll, though omitted by accident from the list, may, it seems, claim a right to vote; but not persons whose names are on the list, though not on the original roll. Reg. ex rel. Helliwell v. Stephenson, 1 C. L. Chamb. R. 270; See further, North Victoria Election, 1 H. E. C. 671. The list furnished to the returning officer ought to be alphabetical, and if not so the returning officer should himself make it alphabetical. Reg. ex rel. Davis v. Wilson 3 U. C. L. J. 165, per Richards, J. Where the returning officer was not furnished with the list and notwithstanding proceeded with the election, held, that it was an irregularity which rendered the election liable to be avoided if the objection were taken by one qualified to urge it, although it might not ipso facto render the election void. In re Charles v. Lewis, 2 C. L. Chamb, R. 171. The asquiescence of the candidates in the election being proceeded with under these circumstances, though it might preclude them from disputing the validity of the election on that ground, could not affect the right of a voter who was no party to such arrangement. Ib. In such case, however, it would seem to be necessary to shew that the absence or inaccuracy of the list prejudiced the election, or that some candidate or voter refused on that ground to proceed, and relied on the objection. Reg ex rel. Ritson v. Perry, 1 P. R. 237; Reg. ex rel. Walker v. Mitchell, 4 P. R. 218. Where the returning officer used the original roll instead of the list, having first announced that he would do so, and no one objected, the election was supported. Reg. ex rel. Hall v. Grey 15 Q. B. 257.

(t) It would also seem that it is no objection to the list that it was not verified as the statute requires, unless some objection be taken before or during the election. Reg. ex rel. Ritson v. Perry, 1 P. R. 237.

Act, the clerk shall exclude from the list such persons as may be returned to him by the treasurer or collector as being in default for not having paid their municipal taxes respectively on or before the 14th day of December preceding the election; and every list of voters so prepared shall be the proper voters list to be used at the election. 46 V. c. 18, s. 130.

Delivery of copies of voters' list and defaulters' list to deputy returning officers.

132. In the case of municipalities which are divided into wards or polling subdivisions, the clerk of the municipality shall, before the poll is opened, deliver to the deputy-returning officer, for every ward or polling sub-division, a copy, according to the form of schedule C to this Act, certified to be correct, of the proper list of voters for the ward or polling subdivision under section 128 and following sections; and also a copy of the proper defaulters' list for the polling subdivision, certified by the treasurer or collector pursuant to section 119 of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 131.

Copies may be prepared by clerk of municipality or procured from clerk of peace.

Rev. Stat. c. 8.

133. The copies of the voters' list in the next preceding section mentioned may be prepared by the clerk of the municipality, or may be procured from the Clerk of the Peace, if filed under The Voters' Lists Act, and in the latter case the Clerk of the Peace shall be entitled to receive the sum of six cents for every ten voters whose names are on the list. 46 V. c. 18, s. 132.

Defaulters' lists to be evidence for deputy-returning officer as to payment of taxes.

134. The defaulters' lists furnished and verified by the treasurer or collector as aforesaid, shall be the evidence on which the deputy-returning officers shall act in ascertaining the payment or non-payment of taxes by persons claiming to vote in respect of income, or in respect of real property, in the cases mentioned in section 119 of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 133.

Certificates as to the Assessment Roll.

Clerk to give certificate of dates of return and final revision of assessment roll.

135.—(1) The clerk of the municipality shall before the opening of the poll, deliver or cause to be delivered to every deputy-returning officer a certificate (which may be in the form of Schedule D to this Act), of (a) the day when the assessment roll upon which the voters' list to be used at the election is based, was returned by the assessor, and also (b) of the day when the said assessment roll was finally revised and corrected.

Fee for certificate.

Penalty for neglect.

(2) The clerk shall also give such certificate upon payment of the sum of twenty-five cents, to any person applying for the same under a penalty of $200 in case of neglect or refusal.

To be evidence of such date at the poll.

(3) The certificate when delivered to the deputy-returning officer, shall be the evidence upon which he shall act in inserting in the oath to be administered to voters the date of the return or final revision and correction of the assessment roll as the case may be.

When assessment roll to be considered as finally revised and corrected.

Rev. Stat. c. 193.

4. An assessment roll shall be understood to be finally revised and corrected when it has been so revised and corrected by the Court of Revision for the municipality, or by the Judge of the County Court in case of an appeal, as provided by The Assessment Act, or when the time during which such appeal may be made has elapsed, and not before. 46 V. c. 18, s. 134.

Municipalities not divided into Wards.

In municipalities not divided into wards or polling sub-divisions clerk to perform duties of deputy-returning officers.

136. In case of municipalities which are not divided into wards or polling sub-divisions, the clerk shall perform the duties which in other cases are performed by deputy-returning officers, and shall provide himself with the necessary ballot papers, and also with the materials for marking ballot papers, printed directions before mentioned, copies of the voters' list and defaulters' list, and certificate of the dates of the return and final revision of the assessment roll, similar to those required to be furnished to deputy-returning officers; and the clerk shall perform the like duties with respect to the whole municipality as are imposed upon a deputy-returning officer in respect of a ward or polling sub-division. 46 V. c. 18, s. 135.

Where Electors may vote.

Voting in towns and cities.

137. In towns and cities every elector may vote in each ward in which he has been rated for the necessary property qualification, but in case of mayor of cities, mayor, reeve or deputy-reeve of towns, the elector is limited to one vote. (v) 46 V. c. 18, s. 136.

(v) Before the Act of 1866, it was held that a voter entitled to vote in the ward in which he resided, could not vote in any other ward. Anon 8 U. C. L. J. 76. That Act enabled every elector in a Town or Village to vote in each ward in which he had been rated for the necessary property qualification. This section re-enacts that provision. The meaning is, that a voter is no longer restricted to one Voting in townships and villages.

138. In townships and incorporated villages divided into wards or polling sub-divisions, no elector shall vote in more than one ward or polling subdivision for the same candidate. (w) 46 V. c. 18, s. 137.

Where persons are to vote for mayor, reeve and deputy-reeve.

139. Every elector who is entitled to a vote in more than one ward or polling subdivision shall vote for mayor, in cities, and for mayor, reeve and deputy-reeve in towns, and for reeve in townships divided into wards, at the polling place of the ward or polling subdivision in which he is resident, if qualified to vote therein; or when he is a non-resident or is not entitled to vote in the ward, or polling sub-division where he resides then, where he first votes, and there only. (x) 46 V. c. 18, s. 138; 50 V. c. 29, s. 5.

Penalty for voting twice for mayor, reeve or deputy-reeve.

140.—(1) Any person who votes for mayor, reeve, or in towns or townships for deputy-reeve, after having already voted for mayor, reeve or deputy-reeve at some other polling place at that election, shall incur a penalty of $50 to be recovered, with full costs of suit, by any person who will sue for the same in the Division Court having jurisdiction where the offence was committed; and any person against whom judgment is rendered shall be ineligible either as a candidate or elector at the next annual (y) elections. 46 V. c. 18, s. 139.

(2) The receipt by any voter of a ballot paper within the polling booth, shall be prima facie evidence that he has there and then voted. 50 V. c. 29, s. 6.

vote, but, if qualified, in several wards, may vote in each of such wards, except in the case of the election of mayor of cities, reeves or deputy reeves of towns, who are elected by the entire vote of the municipality.

(w) As to the division of townships into wards, see sec. 94, and as to polling places in townships and incorporated villages, see sec. 489 (1). Though the voter by this section can only vote once for reeve, he may give one vote for councillors in townships in each ward in which he is rated. See note v to s. 137.

(x) There is only one vote for each of the officers named (ss. 137, 138) that vote must be given in the ward or polling sub-division in which the voter resides if qualified to vote therein, but when he is non-resident or not entitled to vote in the ward or polling sub-division in which he resides, where he first votes and there only.

(y) The express mention of the word "annual" may have the effect of limiting the incapacity to the regular January elections.

Certificate to entitle deputy-returning officers, poll clerks and agents to vote where stationed.

141.—(1) The clerk of the municipality, on the request of any elector entitled to vote at one of the polling places, who has been appointed deputy-returning officer or poll clerk, or who has been named as an agent of a candidate to attend at any polling place other than the one where he is entitled to vote, shall give to such elector a certificate that he is entitled to vote at the polling place where he is to be stationed during the polling day; and the certificate shall also state the property or other qualification in respect of which he is entitled to vote.

Right to vote on production of certificate.

(2) On the production of the certificate, the deputy-returning officer, poll clerk or agent shall have the right to vote at the polling place where he is stationed during the polling day, instead of at the polling station where he would otherwise have been entitled to vote; and the deputy-returning officer shall attach the certificate to the voters' list; but no such certificate shall entitle such elector to vote at such polling place unless he has been actually engaged as such deputy-returning officer, poll clerk or agent during the day of polling; nor to vote for aldermen in cities, or councillors in municipalities divided into wards, except in the ward where he would otherwise be entitled so to vote. (z)

Who to administer oath.

(3) In case of a deputy-returning officer voting at the polling station where he has been appointed, the poll clerk appointed to act at the polling place, or in the absence of the poll clerk any elector authorized to be present, may administer to the deputy-returning officer the oath required by law to be taken by voters. 46 V. c. 18, s. 140.

The deputy-returning officer shall, immediately before the commencement of the poll, shew the ballot box to such persons as are present in the polling place, so that they may see that it is empty, and he shall then lock the box and place his seal upon it in such manner as to prevent its being opened without breaking the seal; (a) and he shall then place the box in his view for the receipt of ballot papers, and shall keep it so locked and sealed. (b) 46 V. c. 18, s. 141.

Proceedings by deputy-returning officer on tender of vote. Name.

143. Where a person claiming to be entitled to vote presents himself for the purpose of voting, the deputy-returning officer shall proceed as follows: (c)

1. He shall ascertain that the name of such person is entered, or purports to be entered upon the voters' list for the ward or polling subdivision for which such deputy-returning officer is appointed to act.

(a) The penalty for interfering with a ballot box is prescribed by sec. 167. The object of a seal is to guarantee the security of the contents of the box until the termination of the election, and the seal should therefore be of a substantial character.

(b) These provisions are made necessary to prevent what in the United States is known as "Stuffing the ballot box."

(c) The duties of the deputy returning officer are most clearly set forth. They are stated as nearly as possible in consecutive order. As to his duties at the close of the poll see sec. 152 and notes. The omission of any of these duties would not do more than affect, on a scrutiny, one particular vote concerned. See s. 175.

Recording.

2. He shall record or cause to be recorded in the proper column of the voters' list, the residence and the legal addition of such person.

Oath.

3. If such person takes the oath or affirmation required to be taken by voters in the manner directed by sections 102 to 105 inclusive of this Act, the deputy-returning officer shall enter or cause to be entered opposite such person's name, in the proper column of the said voters' list, the word "Sworn," or "Affirmed," according to the fact.

Objection.

4. Where the vote is objected to by any candidate or his agent, the deputy-returning officer shall enter the objection, or cause the same to be entered in the voters' list by writing opposite the name of such person, in the proper column, the words "Objected to," stating at the same time by which candidate or on behalf of which candidate the objection has been made, by adding after the words "Objected to" the name only of such candidate.

Refusal to take the oath.

5. Where such person has been required to take the oath or affirmation, and refuses to take the same, the deputy-returning officer shall enter or cause to be entered opposite the name of such person, in the proper column of the voter's list, the words "Refused to be Sworn," or "Refused to Affirm," according to the fact; and the vote of such person shall not be taken or received; and if the deputy-returning officer takes or receives such vote, or causes the same to be taken or received, he shall incur a penalty of $200.

Deputy-returning officer to sign name on ballot paper.

6. Where the proper entries respecting the person so claiming to vote have been made in the voters' list in the manner prescribed, the deputy-returning officer shall sign his name or initials upon the back of the ballot paper.

Delivery of paper to voter.

7. The ballot paper shall be delivered to such person.

Deputy-returning officer to explain mode of voting.

8. The deputy-returning officer may, and upon request shall, either personally or through his sworn poll clerk, explain to the voter, as concisely as possible, the mode of voting. 46 V. c. 18, s. 142.

Deputy-returning officer refusing, etc., to initial ballot paper.

144. Every deputy-returning officer refusing, or wilfully omitting to sign his name or initials upon the back of the ballot paper, as provided for by sub-section 6 of section 143 of this Act, shall forfeit to any person aggrieved by such refusal, or omission, the sum of $10, in respect of every ballot paper deposited at his polling subdivision, upon which the said deputy-returning officer has not signed his name or initials as aforesaid; and the same may be recovered in the manner provided for the recovery of penalties by section 214 of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 143.

Deputy-returning officer to note in list voters to whom ballot papers given.

145. The deputy-returning officer shall place, or cause to be placed, in the columns of the voters' list, headed "Mayor," "Reeve" (or "Mayor and Reeve"), "Alderman," and "Councillor," as the case may be, his initials opposite the name of every voter receiving a ballot paper, to denote that the voter has received a ballot paper for mayor, reeve, alderman, or councillor, as the case may be. (d) 46 V. c. 18, s. 144.

Marking ballot paper.

146. Upon receiving from the deputy-returning officer the ballot paper so prepared as aforesaid, the person receiving the same shall forthwith proceed into the compartment provided for the purpose, and shall then and therein mark his ballot paper in the manner mentioned in the directions contained in Schedule B to this Act, by placing a cross, thus X (e) on the right-hand side, opposite the name of any candidate for whom he desires to vote or at any other place within the division which contains the name of such candidate; and he shall then fold the ballot paper across, so as to conceal the names of the candidates, and the marks upon the face of such paper, and so as to expose the initials of the deputy-returning officer, and leaving the compartment, shall, without delay, and without shewing the front to any one or so displaying the ballot paper as to make known to any person the names of the candidates for or against whom he has marked his vote, deliver the ballot paper so folded to the deputy-returning officer, who shall, without unfolding the same, or in any way disclosing the names of the candidates, or the marks made by such elector, verify his own initials, and at once deposit the same in the ballot box in the presence of all persons entitled to be present and then present in the polling place; and the voter shall forthwith leave the polling place. (f) 46 V. c. 18, s. 145.

(d) Whether a particular voter did vote may be ascertained by means of the operation of this section, but for whom he voted must and ought to remain a matter of secrecy. Any marking that would enable the returning officer to say for whom he voted would be illegal. Woodward v. Sarsons, L. R. 10 C. P. 733. See note o to s. 152.

(e) This is a mark well devised for the purpose, easy of execution by men of the most moderate intelligence, and at the same time perfectly neutral in its character, so as to be practically incapable of betraying its authorship by its appearance. Per Lord Neaves in the Wigtown Case, 2 O'M. & H. 215, 220. Similar provision is made in the Ontario Election Act, Rev. Stat. c. 9, sec. 98. As to the cases respecting the marking of ballot papers. See note o to s. 152.

Exclusion from balloting compartment.

147. While a voter is in a balloting compartment for the purpose of marking his ballot paper, no other person shall be allowed to enter the compartment, or to be in any position from which he can observe the mode in which the voter marks his ballot paper. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 146.

Voter not to take his ballot paper from polling place.

148. No person who has received a ballot paper from the deputy-returning officer shall take the same out of the polling place; and any person having so received a ballot paper, who leaves the polling place without first delivering the same to the deputy returning officer in the manner prescribed, shall thereby forfeit his right to vote; and the deputy-returning officer shall make an entry in the voters' list, in the column for remarks, to the effect that such person received a ballot paper, but took the same out of the polling place, or returned the same, declining to vote, as the case may be; and in the latter case the deputy-returning officer shall immediately write the word "Declined" upon such ballot paper, and shall preserve the same; and in case the clerk of the municipality is not himself performing the duties of deputy-returning officer, the deputy-returning officer shall return said ballot paper to the clerk of the municipality, as hereinafter directed. (h) 46 V. c. 18, s. 147.

(f) The deputy returning officer must verify his initials without delay, and without shewing the front to any one, or so displaying the ballot paper, as to make known to any person the names of the candidates for or against whom the voter has marked his vote. See also Pickering v. James, L. R. 8 C. P. 489.

As to the effect of non-compliance or imperfect compliance with these directions, either on the part of the voter or of the returning officer. See s. 152 and notes.

(g) It is essential to secrecy for the purposes of this Act that there should be solitude. A compartment is provided for the purpose of enabling the voter in solitude to mark his ballot paper. Not only are all persons prohibited from entering the compartment while occupied by the voter but they are prohibited from being in any position from which they can observe the mode of marking the ballot paper by the voter. But a partial disregard of the provisions of this section does not necessarily avoid the election Reg. ex rel. Preston v. Touchburn, 6 P. R. 344. See further s. 175.

(h) The marking of the ballot paper would not be of any avail as regards the result of the election unless the paper so marked were deposited in the ballot box for the purpose of being counted. The delivery of the ballot paper by the voter under s. 146 to the return-

Proceedings in case of incapacity to mark ballo paper.

149. In case of an application by a person claiming to be entitled to vote, who is incapacitated by blindness or other physical cause from marking his ballot paper, or in case of any person claiming to be entitled to vote who makes a declaration that he is unable to read, the proceedings (i) shall be as follows:—

1. The deputy-returning officer shall, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, cause the vote of such person to be marked on a ballot paper in manner directed by such person, and shall place the ballot paper in the ballot box.

2. The deputy-returning officer shall state or cause to be stated in the voters' list, by an entry opposite the name of such person in the proper column of the voters' list, that the vote of such person is marked in pursuance of this section, and the reason why it is so marked.

3. The declaration of inability to read, or of incapacity to mark a ballot paper, may be in the form of Schedule E to this Act, and shall be made by the person claiming to be entitled to vote, at the time of the polling, before the deputy-returning officer, who shall attest the same as nearly as may be according to the form given in Schedule F to this Act, and the said declaration shall be given to the deputy-returning officer at the time of voting. 46 V. c. 18, s. 148.

Proceedings in case ballo paper cannot be used.

150. A person claiming to be entitled to vote, who has inadvertently dealt with his ballot paper in such manner that it cannot be conveniently used as a ballot paper, may, on delivering to the deputy-returning officer the ballot paper so inadvertently dealt with, and proving the fact of the inadvertence to the satisfaction of the deputy-returning officer, obtain another ballot paper in the place of the ballot paper so delivered up, and the deputy-returning officer shall immediately write the word "Cancelled" upon the ballot paper, and preserve the same; and in case the clerk of the muniing officer for the purpose of being deposited in the box is a duty which the voter must perform on pain of forfeiting his vote.

(i) The ballot is in the first instance designed for persons who are able to read, able to see, and physically able to mark the ballot paper. Where these conditions all exist there is not much difficulty in preserving the secrecy deemed necessary to the free exercise of the ballot. But where these conditions do not exist, still the elector is to have the right to vote. The right, however, can only be exercised in the mode prescribed by this section. See Halton Election, 1 H. E. C. 283; Prescott Election, 1 E. C. 88.

cipality is not himself performing the duties of deputy-returning officer, the deputy-returning officer shall return the ballot paper to the clerk of the municipality, as hereinafter directed. (j) 46 V. c. 18, s. 149.

Who may be present at polling place.

151. During the time appointed for polling no person shall be entitled or permitted to be present in a polling place, other than the officers, candidates, clerks or agents authorized to attend at the polling place, and such voter as is for the time being actually engaged in voting; (k) it shall at all times be lawful for the deputy-returning officer to have present or to summon to his assistance in the polling place, any police constable or peace officer, for the purpose of maintaining order, or of preserving the public peace, or preventing any breach thereof, or of removing any person who may, in the opinion of the deputy-returning officer, be obstructing the polling or wilfully violating any of the provisions of this Act. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 150.

Counting the votes.

152. Immediately after the close of the poll in every polling place, (ll) the deputy-returning officer shall, in the presence of the poll clerk (if any) and of such of the candidates or of their agents as may then be present, open the ballot box, and proceed to count the votes as follows:—

(j) The number of ballot papers given by the deputy returning officer to voters, should correspond with the number of marked papers deposited in the ballot box. If this were not so there would not be much check as against dishonest practices on the part of a returning officer. But as a voter may by inadvertence so use his ballot paper as to render it useless for the purpose of his vote, he ought not for that cause to be deprived of his vote. Hence provision is made by this section for the issue in such a case of a second ballot paper to the voter, subject to the checks declared. It does not seem clear whether in case the voter spoilt the second ballot paper he could obtain a third.

(k) This section excludes from the polling place all persons except "the officers, candidates, clerks or agents authorized to attend at such polling place, and such voter as is for the time being actually engaged in voting." The candidate has as much right to be present as an officer, clerk or agent authorized to attend the polling place, although the fact of his presence may produce some of the mischiefs which it was the design of the Legislature when enacting vote by ballot, to remove. See Clementson v. Mason, L. R. 10 C. P. 209.

(l) If the deputy returning officer, without justification, forcibly remove a person who has a right to be present, he may be sued for the trespass. Clementson v. Mason, L. R. 10 C. P. 209.

(ll) The first duty is to certify on the voter's list the number of persons who have voted. See note d to s. 155.

1. He shall examine the ballot papers and any ballot paper which has not on its back the name or initials of the deputy-returning officer, (m) or on which more votes are given than the elector is entitled to give, (n) or on which anything, except the initials or name of the deputy-returning officer on the back, is written or marked, by which the voter can be identified, shall be void, and shall not be counted (o) and any ballot paper on which votes are given for a greater number Rejected ballots.

(m) Where the proper entries respecting the person claiming to vote have been made in the voters' list, it is the duty of the deputy returning officer under s. 143, to sign his name, or initials upon the back of the ballot paper. This is for the purpose of identifying it and preventing the use of fraudulent ballots. When the deputy returning officer has done his duty in identifying the ballots, as the statute directs, he must reject ballots not having on their back his name or initials. But where the deputy returning officer has himself neglected his duty by omitting to write his name or initials on the back of the ballot papers, it would not be right on a scrutiny, in the absence of some imputation of fraud, to reject all ballots not having on the back the name or initials of the deputy returning officer. The Monck Case, 1 H. E. C. 725. See also The Bothwell Case, 8 S. C. R. 676.

(n) When more votes are by the ballot paper given than the elector is entitled to give, it cannot be decided which, if any of them, are the proper votes. So that in such case the ballot paper is rejected. See The North Victoria Case, 1 H. E. C. 671.

(o) It is not declared that all ballots having on them anything except the name or initials of the deputy returning officer shall be rejected, but all such as have marks by which the voter can be identified. These words have, in similar Acts to the present caused much difficulty and some judicial conflict. See Rev. Stat. c. 9, sec. 106, sub-s. 2.

Formerly there was some conflict of opinion as to whether ballots marked otherwise than on the right hand side of the name of the candidate in the manner directed should be counted. See The Athlone Case, 2 O'M. & H. 186; The Wigtown Case, Ib. 215; The Monck Case, 1 H. E. C. 725; The North Victoria Case, 1 H. E. C. 671; Woodward v. Sarsons, L. R. 10 C. P. 733. Since these decisions the Act has been altered by adding the words in sec. 146 "or at any other place within the division which contains the name of such candidate."

In The Wigtown Case, 2 O'M. & H. 215, and The Monck Case, it was held that a ballot having on it two or three crosses opposite the name of the candidates ought to be rejected, but the contrary was held in Woodward v. Sarsons, and in The Bothwell Case, 8 S. C. R. 676.

In The Wigtown Case, 2 O'M. & H. 215 The North Victoria Case, and the Monck Case, it was held that ballot papers having a single stroke instead of a cross ought to be rejected but the contrary was held in Woodward v. Sarsons. But see The South Wentworth Case, 1 H. E. C. 531, and The Bothwell Case, 8 S. C. R. 676.

of candidates for any office than the voter is entitled to vote

In The North Victoria Case, and in Woodward v. Sarsons, it was held that ballots having the cross with feet to it so as to make it look like the letter X ought not to be rejected.

In The Queen's County Case, 7 S. C. R. 247, it was held that ballots with a cross in the right place on the back of the ballot paper instead of on the printed side, and ballots marked with an x instead of a cross were invalid.

In the same case in ballot papers containing the names of four candidates, the following ballots were held good:

(1) Ballots containing two crosses, one on the line above the first name, and one on the line above the second name valid for the two first named candidates. (2) Ballots containing two crosses, one on the line above the first name, and one on the line dividing the second and third compartments valid for the first named candidate. (3) Ballots containing properly made crosses in two of the compartments of the ballot paper with a slight lead pencil stroke in another compartment. (4) Ballots marked in the proper compartment thus ✓.

In The North Victoria Case, it was held that ballots having a perfect cross and some additional mark ought to be rejected but the contrary was held in The Monck Case, and in Woodward v. Sarsons.

In The North Victoria Case, and in Woodward v. Sarsons, it was held that ballots not marked with a cross but having the name of the candidate or some letters or initials put in the place of the cross ought to be rejected.

In The Wigtown Case, 2 O'M. & H. 215, The North Victoria Case, and The Monck Case, it was held that crosses made with ink instead of with black lead pencil ought not to be rejected.

In Woodward v. Sarsons, it was held that a ballot paper having a pencil line through the name of the candidate and a cross opposite to the name of the other on the right hand side ought not to be rejected.

Certain ballot papers were objected to as having been imperfectly marked with a cross, or having more than one cross, or having an inverted V, or because the cross was not directly opposite the name of the candidate, there being only two names on the ballot paper, and a line drawn dividing the paper in the middle, but it was held that these ballots were valid. The Bothwell Case, 8 S. C. R. 676. Per Ritchie C. J.:—"I find it impossible to lay down a hard and fast rule by which it can be determined whether a mark is a good or a bad cross. I think that wherever the mark evidences an attempt or intention to make a cross, though the cross may be in some respects imperfect, the ballot should be counted, unless from the peculiarity of the mark made it can be reasonably inferred that there was not an honest design simply to make a cross, but there was also an intention so to mark the paper that it could be identified, in which case the ballot should be rejected. But if the mark made indicates no design of complying with the law, but on the contrary, a clear intent not to mark with a cross as the law directs, as, for instance, by making a straight line or round O, then such non-compliance with the law renders the ballot null. The irresistible presumption from such a for, shall be void as regards all the candidates for such office, but shall be good as regards the votes for any other offices in respect to which the voter has not voted for more candidates than he is entitled to vote for.

Deputy-returning officer to note objections taken to ballot papers at the counting of the same.

2. The deputy-returning officer shall take a note of any objection made by a candidate, his agent, or any elector authorized to be present, (p) to any ballot paper found in the ballot box, and shall decide any question arising out of the objection.

And number, objection and ballot paper to correspond.

3. Every objection shall be numbered, and a corresponding number placed on the back of the ballot paper, and initialed by the deputy-returning officer. (q).

Endorsing ballot papers.

4. The deputy-returning officer shall endorse, "Rejected" on any ballot paper which he rejects as invalid, and shall endorse "Rejection objected to," if any objection is made to his decision.

Statement.

5. The deputy-returning officer shall then count up the votes given for each candidate upon the ballot papers not rejected, and make up a written statement, in words as well as in figures, of the number of votes given for each candidate, and of the number of ballot papers rejected and not counted by him, which shall be made under the several heads—

(a) Name or number of ward or polling subdivision and of the municipality and the date of election;

(b) Number of votes for each candidate;

(c) Rejected ballot papers.

plain and wilful departure from the terms of the statute being that it was so marked for a sinister purpose." Ib. It is true that the declaration of nullity does not require that there should be absolute proof of a design or intention on the part of the voter to be identified, but it would be manifestly wrong to reject the ballot, where, from the mark made, no such intention can be reasonably inferred. Woodward v. Sarsons, L. R. 10 C. P. 733.

(p) There does not seem to be any provision authorizing an elector to be present unless he is an agent. See sec. 151, and the first clause of this section. Only two agents for each candidate are entitled to be present at same time, s. 153.

(q) The directions contained in this and the next sub-section are for the purpose of enabling the Court or a Judge afterwards on a scrutiny to identify the ballots and decide on the propriety of their rejection or otherwise.

Statement to be signed.

6. Upon the completion of the written statement, it shall be forthwith signed by the deputy-returning officer, the poll clerk, if any, and such of the candidates or their agents as may be present, and desire to sign such statement. 46 V.c. 18, s. 151.

Agents entitled to be present.

153. No more than two agents for any candidate shall be entitled to be present at the same time at the counting of the votes. (a) 46 V. c. 18, s. 152.

Deputy-returning officer to give certificate of state of poll.

154. Every deputy-returning officer, upon being requested so to do, shall deliver to the persons authorized to attend at his polling place, (b) a certificate of the number of votes given at that polling place for each candidate, and of the number of rejected ballot papers. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 153.

Deputy-returning officers' duties after votes are counted.

155—(1) Every deputy-returning officer shall, at the close of the poll, certify under his signature on the voters' list in full words the total number of persons who have voted at the polling place at which he has been appointed to preside, (d) and at the completion of the counting of votes after the close of the poll, shall, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, make up into separate packets, sealed with his own seal, and the seals of such agents of the candidate as desire to fix their seals, and marked upon the outside with a short statement of the contents of such packet, the date of the day of the election, the name of the deputy-returning officer, and of the ward or polling subdivision and municipality,

(a) The statement of votes given for each candidate and of the rejected ballot papers;

(a) This does not exclude the candidate himself, see note k to sec. 151 and sec. 172.

(b) This it is presumed means authorized to attend on behalf of a candidate at the election.

(c) No form of certificate is given. It need only state:

1. The number of votes given at the polling place for each candidate.

2. The number of rejected ballot papers.

Although not in words required to be signed by the returning officer giving it, as it is a certificate it certainly should be signed.

(d) The certificate made necessary by this section is expressly required to be under the signature of the deputy returning officer. It must be given by the deputy returning officer at the particular polling place where he presided, and must contain a statement in full words, not in figures, (a precaution against fraud) of the total number of persons who voted at the polling place. This statement should be made before the votes are counted.

(b) The used ballot papers which have not been objected to and have been counted;

(c) The ballot papers which have been objected to, but which have been counted by the deputy-returning officer;

(d) The rejected ballot papers;

(e) The spoiled ballot papers;

(f) The unused ballot papers;

(g) A statement of the number of voters whose votes are marked by the deputy-returning officer under the heads, "Physical incapacity," and "Unable to read," with the declarations of inability; and the notes taken of objections made to ballot papers found in the ballot-box.

Declaration by deputy-returning officer as to use of voters list.

(2) Before returning the voters' list to the clerk of the municipality, the deputy-returning officer shall make and subscribe before such clerk or a Justice of the Peace or the poll clerk, his declaration under oath that the voters' list was used in the manner prescribed by law, and that the entries required by law to be made therein were correctly made; which declaration shall be in the form of Schedule G to this Act, and shall thereafter be annexed to the voters' list, (e) and such voters' list and declaration may be inspected at any time in presence of the clerk by any elector of the municipality.

Packets of ballot papers, &c., to be delivered to the clerk of municipality

(3) If the clerk of the municipality is not himself performing the duties of deputy-returning officer, the deputy-returning officer shall forthwith deliver such packets personally to the clerk of the municipality; and if he is unable to do so, owing to illness or other cause, he shall deliver such packets to a person chosen by him for the purpose of delivering the same to the clerk; and shall mention on the outside of the cover of each of the packets the name of the person to whom the same had been so delivered, and shall take a proper receipt therefor; he shall also forthwith return the ballot box to the clerk of the municipality.

Statement to be made by deputy-returning

(4) The packets shall be accompanied by a statement made by the deputy-returning officer, showing the number officer on return of ballot papers, &c.

(e) The declaration made necessary as a security for the good faith of the deputy returning officer, must not only be made by him, but subscribed by him under oath.

of ballot papers entrusted to him, and accounting for them under the heads of (1) Counted; (2) Rejected; (3) Unused; (4) Spoiled; (5) Ballot Papers given to voters who afterwards returned the same, declining to vote; and (6) Ballot Papers taken from the polling place; (f) which statement shall give the number of papers under each head, and is in this Act referred to as the "Ballot Paper Account."

If dispute as to result arises, how to be settled.

(5.) If the deputy-returning officer and one or more of the candidates or of the agents of the candidates present at the examination and counting of the ballot papers are unable to agree as to the written statement to be made by the deputy-returning officer, the packages of ballot papers shall be broken open by the clerk of the municipality, in the presence of the deputy-returning officer and such of the candidates or of their agents as may be present on the day succeeding the polling day, at an hour and place to be appointed, and of which they have been notified by the deputy-returning officer unless the distance necessary to be travelled is such that the appointed place cannot be reached on the day following the poll, in which case a reasonable time shall be allowed, and no more, for the purpose of coming before the clerk of the municipality; and the clerk of the municipality, after examining the ballot papers, shall finally determine the matter in dispute, and sign the written statement hereinbefore mentioned; (g) and the clerk of the municipality shall forthwith, in the presence of the deputy-returning officer and such of the candidates or of their agents as may then be present, securely seal up the ballot papers which have been examined by him into their several packages as before. 46 V. c. 18, s. 154.

Clerk to cast up votes and declare who is elected, &c.

156. The clerk of the municipality, after he has received the ballot papers and statements before mentioned of the number of votes given in each polling place, shall, without opening any of the sealed packets of ballot papers, cast up the number of votes for each candidate from such statements;

(f) The object of this account is to enable the clerk of the municipality who gave out the ballot papers to make a comparison between the ballots given out and those returned so as to detect the undue use if any made of any of the ballot papers.

(g) The clerk is to finally determine the matter in dispute mentioned, but this determination cannot bind any Court or Judge before whom the election may afterwards be contested and a scrutiny had for the purposes of the contest.

and shall at the town hall, or, if there is no town hall, at some other public place, at noon on the day following the return of such ballot papers and statements, publicly declare to be elected the candidate or candidates having the highest number of votes, (h) and shall also put up in some conspicuous place a statement under his hand shewing the number of votes for each candidate. (i) 46 V. c. 18, s. 155.

In case of a tie, clerk to have a casting vote.

157—(1) In case it appears, upon the casting up of the votes as aforesaid, that two or more candidates have an equal number of votes, the clerk of the municipality or other person appointed by by-law to discharge his duties of clerk in his absence or incapacity through illness, and whether otherwise qualified or not, shall, at the time he declares the result of the poll, give a vote for one or more of such candidates, so as to decide the election. (j)

But otherwise not to vote.

(2) Except in such case, no clerk of the municipality shall vote at any municipal election held in his municipality. See sec. 319.

Deputy-returning officer may vote if qualified.

(3) All deputy-returning officers and persons employed as deputy-returning officers and poll clerks, if otherwise qualified, shall be entitled to vote. 46 V. c. 18, s. 156.

Election not commenced, or interrupt-

158. In case, by reason of riot or other emergency, an election is not commenced on the proper day, or is interrupted

(h) The simple duty of the clerk is to declare elected "the candidate or candidates having the highest number of votes." He has no power to decide as to the qualification of any candidates to be elected. This must be left for the decision of a competent tribunal, see Reg. v. Ledgard, 8 A. & E. 535.

(i) There is no power to amend the statement after it has been once put up or to put up an amended statement, see Reg. v. Leeds, 11 A. & E. 512. If he makes a mistake as to the number of ballots, this mistake must be corrected by the Court or a Judge, see Reg. ex rel. Andrews v. Collins, 1 Q. B. D. 336.

(j) Where there is an office to be filled and two candidates have an equal number of votes, neither can fill it without some provision being made for a casting vote. The general rule is to negative any question on which there is an equality of votes, see section 241. But for reasons stated an exception is here created in the case of an election, see Reg. ex rel. Bulger v. Smith, 4 U. C. L. J. 18; Reg. ex rel. Pollard v. Prosser, 2 P. R. 330; Reg. ex rel. Hume v. Lutz, 7 U. C. L. J. 103. This section was held not applicable to the case of voting on a by-law. Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Cambridge, 14 A. R. 299, reversing S. C. 11 O. R. 392. The point is made clear by sec. 319.

after being commenced and before the lawful closing thereof, the returning officer, or deputy-returning officer, as the case may be, shall hold or resume the election on the following day at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon, and continue the same from day to day, if necessary, for four days, until the poll has been opened without interruption, and with free access to voters for twelve hours in all, or thereabouts, in order that all the electors so intending may have had a fair opportunity to vote. (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 157.

If election is prevented for four days, poll book is to be returned, and a new election ordered.

159. In case the election has not, by the end of the fourth day from the day the same commenced or should have commenced, been kept open for the said twelve hours, the returning officer or deputy-returning officer, as the case may be, shall not return any person as elected, but shall return his voters' list and ballot papers on the following day to the head of the municipality, certifying the cause of there not having been an election; (l) and a new election shall take place, and the head of the municipality shall forthwith issue his warrant therefor. (m) 46 V. c. 18, s. 158. See also sec. 181.

(k) It is necessary that during the hours of polling the electors shall have free access to the polling place. Reg. ex rel. Davis v. Wilson 3 U. C. L. J. 165.

(l) "If rioting takes place to such an extent that ordinary men, having the ordinary nerve and courage of men, are thereby prevented from recording their votes, the election is void by the common law, for the common law provides that an election should be free in the sense that all persons shall have an opportunity of coming to the poll and voting without fear or molestation." Nottingham Case, 1 O'M. & H. 245; see also The Stafford Case, Ib. 234, and The Drogheda Case, Ib. 252.

(m) The new election is to take place in case the election has not, within four days from the day on which it commenced, or should have commenced, been kept open twelve hours, and the returning officer or deputy-returning officer as the case may be has not returned any person as elected, but has certified the cause of the failure. If such officer should so far forget his duty as to return any of the candidates elected, the election would no doubt be set aside. Reg. ex rel. Davis v. Wilson. 3 U. C. L. J. 165. Where it was sworn that intending voters for an unsuccessful candidate were obstructed in approaching the polling place by a crowd controlled by one of the successful candidates, and neither the fact of the obstruction nor the control was unequivocally denied by that candidate, the election was set aside. Reg. ex rel. Gibbs v. Branighan, 3 U. C. L. J. 127. The tendency of modern decisions is not to compel a party to pay costs unless it be shown that he participated in the improper conduct for which the election is set aside. Reg. ex rel. Davis v. Wilson, 3 U. C. L. J. 165.

160. When a poll has been duly held in each of such wards or polling subdivisions, and the ballot papers and statements hereby directed to be returned to the clerk have been so returned to him, the clerk shall, without opening any of the sealed packets of ballot papers, cast up from said statements the number of votes given for each candidate for any office in respect whereof the election has not been previously declared, together with the votes appearing by the statements previously returned for other wards to be given for the candidate, and shall at noon on the next day, at the town hall, or if there is no town hall, at some other public place, publicly declare to be elected the candidate or candidates having the largest number of votes polled. (n) 46 V. c. 18, s. 159. Declaration of election—duty of the clerk.

161. The person or persons so elected shall make the necessary declarations of office and qualification and assume office accordingly. (o) 46 V. c. 18, s. 160. Declaration and assumption of office.

(q) 46 V. c. 18, s. 161.

Ballot papers to be inspected only by order of a Court or Judge.

163.—(1) No person shall be allowed to inspect any ballot papers in the custody of the clerk of the municipality except under the order of a Court or Judge of competent jurisdiction, to be granted by the Court or Judge on being satisfied by evidence on oath that the inspection or production of such ballot papers is required for the purpose of maintaining a prosecution for an offence in relation to ballot papers, or for the purpose of a petition questioning an election or return; and any such order for the inspection or production of ballot papers shall be obeyed by the clerk of the municipality. (r)

Order may be subject to conditions.

(2) The order may be made subject to such conditions as to persons, time, place, and mode of opening or inspection as the Court or Judge making the order thinks expedient. (s)

Recount of votes by the County Judge.

(3) In case it is made to appear, on the affidavit of a credible person, to the County Judge of the county in which the municipality is situated, at any time within fourteen days from the time the ballot papers are received by the clerk of the municipality, that a deputy-returning officer at any election in such municipality for mayor, alderman, reeve,

(q) After a month, it may be said, if there be no order to the contrary from the Court or a Judge, that the ballot papers have served their purpose and that their further retention would serve no good purpose. They are to be destroyed in the presence of two witnesses whose declaration in writing that they have witnessed the destruction is to be filed among the records of the municipality.

(r) One object of the ballot is secrecy. But this is not the only object. Purity of election is another object. Where to attain purity of election it is necessary that an inspection of the ballot papers should be had, it may be had under the circumstances, mentioned in this section. These are when required for the purpose of maintaining a prosecution for an offence in relation to ballot papers, see Reg. v. Beardsall, 34 L. T. N. S. 661, or for the purpose of a petition questioning an election or return, see In re Election of Reeve of Edwardsbury 13 U. C. L. J. N. S. 44. In either of these cases the order for inspection may be made by the Court or a Judge of competent jurisdiction.

(s) A form of order for inspection will be found in Reg. v. Beardsall, 34 L. T. N. S. 661.

deputy-reeve, councillor, or water commissioner, in counting the votes has improperly counted or rejected any ballot papers at such election, the County Judge may appoint a time to re-count the votes, and shall give notice in writing to the candidates of the time and place at which he will proceed to re-count the same.

Deposit by applicant.

(4) At the time of the application for a re-count, the applicant shall deposit with the clerk of the County Court the sum of $25 as a security for the payment of costs, charges and expenses that may become payable by the applicant, and the said sum shall not be paid out by the clerk without the order of the Judge.

Who may be present at re-count.

(5) The County Judge, the clerk of the municipality with the ballot boxes, and each candidate and his agent appointed to attend the re-count of votes, and no other person except with the sanction of the County Judge shall be present at the re-count of the votes.

Opening of packets.

(6) At the time and place appointed the County Judge shall proceed to re-count all the votes or ballot papers received by the clerk of the municipality, and shall in the presence of the parties aforesaid, if they attend, or in the presence of such of them as do attend, open the sealed packets containing (a) the used ballot papers which have not been objected to and have been counted; (b) the ballot papers which have been objected to, but which have been counted by the deputy-returning officer; (c) the rejected ballot papers; (d) the spoiled ballot papers; (e) the unused ballot papers; and in re-counting the votes care shall be taken that the mode in which any particular voter has voted shall not be discovered.

The re-count to be a continuous proceeding.

(7) The County Judge shall, as far as practicable, proceed continuously with the re-count of the votes, allowing only time for refreshment, excluding only Sundays and on other days (except so far as he and the parties aforesaid agree) the hours between six o'clock in the evening and nine on the succeeding morning. During the excluded time the County Judge shall place the ballot papers and other documents relating to the election under his own seal, and the seals of such other of the parties as desire to affix their seals, and shall otherwise take precautions for the security of the papers and documents.

Procedure on re-count

(8) The County Judge shall proceed to re-count the votes as follows:

1. He shall examine the ballot papers.

2. Any ballot paper on which votes are given to more candidates then are to be elected, or on which anything except the name or initials of the deputy-returning officer on the back is written or marked by which the voter can be identified, shall be void and shall not be counted, but a ballot paper on which votes are given for a greater number of candidates for any office than the voter is entitled to vote for shall be void as regards all the candidates for such office, but shall be good as regards the votes for any other offices in respect to which the voter has not voted for more candidates than he is entitled to vote for.

3. The County Judge shall take a note of any objection made by a candidate or by his agent to any ballot paper found in the ballot box, and shall decide any question arising out of the objection, and the decision of the County Judge shall be final. (t)

4. The County Judge shall then count up the votes given for each candidate upon the ballot papers not rejected, and make up a written statement, in words as well as in figures, of the number of votes given for each candidate, and of the number of ballot papers rejected and not counted by him, which statement shall be made under the several heads following:

(a) Name of municipality;

(b) Names of the candidates;

(c) Number of votes for each candidate;

(d) Papers wanting signature or initials of deputy-returning officer;

(e) Papers rejected as voting for more candidates than entitled to;

(f) Papers rejected as having a writing or mark by which voters could be identified;

(g) Papers rejected as unmarked or void for uncertainty.

(t) Final, that is regards proceedings under this section. Other remedies are not interfered with. See sec. 164.

5. Upon the completion of the re-count, or as soon as he has thus ascertained the result of the poll, the County Judge shall seal up all the ballot papers in separate packets, and shall forthwith certify the result to the clerk of the municipality, who shall then declare to be elected the candidate having the highest number of votes; and in case of an equality of votes, the clerk of the municipality shall have the casting vote as provided in section 157 of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 162.

Existing remedies not affected.

164. Nothing in the preceding section contained shall destroy or prevent any remedy which any person may now have under or by quo warranto or otherwise. 46 V. c. 18, s. 163.

Costs of application.

165.—(1) All costs, charges and expenses of, and incidental to an application for a re-count and to the proceedings consequent thereon shall be defrayed by the parties to the application in such manner and in such proportion as the Judge may determine, regard being had to the disallowance of any costs, charges or expenses which may in the opinion of the Judge have been caused by vexatious conduct, unfounded allegations, or unfounded objections on the part either of the applicant or the respondent, and regard being had to the discouragement of any needless expense by throwing the burden of defraying the same on the parties by whom it has been caused, whether such parties are or are not on the whole successful.

Taxation of costs.

(2) The costs may be taxed in the same manner, and according to the same principles as costs are taxed between solicitor and client in the County Court.

Recovery of costs.

(3) The payment of any costs ordered to be paid by the Judge may be enforced by an execution against goods and chattels, to be issued from any County Court, upon filing therein the order of the Judge and a certificate shewing the amount at which the costs were taxed and an affidavit of the non-payment thereof. 46 V. c. 18, s. 164.

Production of documents and endorsements on ballot papers, evidence for certain papers.

166. Where a rule or order is made for the production by the clerk of the municipality, of any document in his possession relating to any specified election, the production of the document by the clerk, in such manner as may be directed by the rule or order, shall be conclusive evidence that the document relates to the specified election: and any endorsement appearing on any packet of ballot papers produced by the clerk shall be evidence of such papers being what they are stated to be by the endorsement. 46 V. c. 18, s. 165.

Offences.

167.—(1) No person shall—

(a) Without due authority supply any ballot paper to any person; or

(b) Fraudulently put into any ballot box any paper other than the ballot paper, which he is authorized by law to put in; or

(c) Fraudulently take out of the polling place any ballot paper; or

(d) Without due authority destroy, take, open, or otherwise interfere with any ballot box or packet of ballot papers then in use for the purposes of the election. 46 V. c. 18, s. 166 (1).

(e) Apply for a ballot paper in the name of some other person, whether that name is of a person living or dead, or of a fictitious person, or having voted once and not being entitled to vote again at an election, shall apply at the same election for a ballot paper in his own name. This provision is not to be construed as including a person who applies for such ballot paper believing that he is the person intended by the name entered on the voters' list in respect of which he so applies for a ballot paper. 51 V. c. 28, s. 12.

(2) No person shall attempt to commit any offence specified in this section.

Penalty by imprisonment.

(3) A person guilty of any violation of this section shall be liable, if he is the clerk of the municipality, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labour; and if he is any other person, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour. (u) 46 V. c. 18, s. 166 (2, 3).

Money penalty for offences.

168. Every officer and clerk who is guilty of any wilful misfeasance, or any wilful act or omission in contravention of

Act. to legislate as to crime or criminal procedure, it has power to punish by fine or imprisonment with a view of enforcing the laws within its jurisdiction Reg. v. Boardman 30 U. C. Q. B. 533. It is not in the section declared whether procedure shall be by indictment or otherwise, see Reg v. Snider, 23 U. C. C. P. 330; Wilde v. Bowen, 37 U. C. Q. B. 504.

Maintaining secrecy of proceedings at polling places.

169.—(1) Every officer, clerk and agent in attendance at a polling place shall maintain and aid in maintaining the secrecy of the voting at the polling place.

(2) No officer, clerk or agent, and no person whosoever, shall interfere with or attempt to interfere with a voter when marking his vote, or otherwise attempt to obtain at the polling place information as to the candidate or candidates for whom any voter at such polling place is about to vote or has voted.

(3) No officer, clerk, agent or other person shall communicate at any time to any person any information obtained at a polling place as to the candidate or candidates for whom any voter at such polling place is about to vote or has voted.

(4) Every officer, clerk and agent in attendance at the counting of the votes, shall maintain and aid in maintaining the secrecy of the voting, and shall not communicate or attempt to communicate any information obtained at such counting as to the candidate or candidates for whom any vote is given in any particular ballot paper.

(5) No person shall, directly or indirectly, induce a voter to display his ballot paper after he has marked the same, so as to make known to any person the name of any candidate or candidates for or against whom he has marked his vote.

Penalty for contravening this section.

(6) Every person who acts in contravention of this section shall be liable, on summary conviction before a Stipendiary

Magistrate, Police Magistrate, or two Justices of the Peace, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour. (x) 46 V. c. 18, s. 168.

Statutory declaration of secrecy.

170. The clerk of the municipality, and every officer, clerk or agent, authorized to attend a polling place or at the counting of the votes, shall, before the opening of the poll, make a statutory declaration of secrecy in the presence, if he is the clerk of the municipality, of a Justice of the Peace, and if he is any other officer, or clerk, in the presence of a Justice of the Peace or of the clerk of the municipality; and if he is an agent of a candidate, in the presence of a Justice of the Peace or of the clerk of the municipality, or of the deputy-returning officer at whose polling place he is appointed agent; and such statutory declaration of secrecy shall be in the form mentioned in Schedule H to this Act, or to the like effect. 46 V. c. 18, s. 169.

No one compellable to disclose his vote.

171. No person who has voted at an election shall in any legal proceeding to question the election or return, be required to state for whom he has voted. (y) 46 V. c. 18, s. 170.

Candidates may undertake duties of an agent.

172. A candidate may himself undertake the duties which any agent of his, if appointed, might have undertaken, or may assist his agent in the performance of such duties, and may be present at any place at which his agent may in pursuance of this Act be authorized to attend; (z) but no candidate shall be present at the marking of a ballot by an incapacitated voter, or a voter unable to read under section 149. 46 V. c. 18, s. 171.

Expressions in ss. 119-172 referring to agents.

173. When in the sections of this Act numbered from 119 to 172 inclusive expressions are used, requiring or authorizing any act or thing to be done, or inferring that any act or thing is to be done in the presence of the agents of the

(x) See note u to sec. 167.

(y) Secrecy is the privilege of the voter. He cannot in any legal proceeding to question the election, be compelled to state for whom he has voted. But there is nothing to restrain him from stating for whom he voted if he see fit voluntarily to do so. His doing so voluntarily is certainly not made illegal by the Act. See Bernard v. Brillon, M. L. R. 1 S. C. 121.

(z) It would seem that a candidate whether acting in the place of his agent or not has a right to be present (see also sec. 151) and so long as he properly conducts himself cannot be ejected from the polling place, see Clementson v. Mason, L. R. 10 C. P. 209.

candidate, such expressions shall be deemed to refer to the presence of such agents of the candidates as are authorized to attend, and as have in fact attended, at the time and place where such act or thing is being done; and the non-attendance of any agent at such time and place shall not, if the act or thing is otherwise duly done, invalidate in anywise the act or thing done. (a) 46 V. c. 18, s. 172.

Non-attendance of agents

174. In reckoning time for the purposes of the said sections, Sunday and any day set apart by any act of lawful authority for a public holiday, fast or thanksgiving, shall be excluded; and where anything is required by this Act to be done on a day which falls on such days, such things may be done on the next juridical day; but nothing in this section contained shall extend or apply to the days fixed by this Act for the nomination or election of candidates for the offices of mayor and aldermen in cities, and mayor, reeve, deputy-reeves and councillors in other municipalities. (b) 46 V. c. 18, s. 173.

Public holidays &c. excluded in reckoning time under ss. 119-172, except for nomination and election of mayors, &c.

175. No election shall be declared invalid by reason of a non-compliance with the rules contained in this Act as to the taking of the poll or the counting of the votes, or by reason of any mistake in the use of the forms contained in the Schedules to this Act, or by reason of any irregularity, if it appears to the tribunal having cognizance of the question that the election was conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in this Act, (c) and that such non-compliance or

No election to be invalid for want of compliance with principles of Act where result not affected.

(a) The attendance of agents of the candidates is for the purpose of satisfying the candidates of the good faith of the proceedings. But if candidates do not appoint agents or if their agents do not see fit to attend, it would be absurd, if a proceeding, in all respects honest and correct, were thereby invalidated. The object of this section is to prevent the drawing of any such inference from the omission of authorized agents to attend.

(b) The effect of excluding Sunday, public holidays, fast or thanksgiving days from being reckoned as days for the purposes of the sections, is to enable acts which would otherwise require to be done on such day to be lawfully done on the next juridical day. See In re Poole Election, L. R. 9 C. P. 425; In re West Toronto Election, 31 U. C. Q. B. 409.

(c) Nothing can be more difficult than to say what are the principles of a Statute comprehending together with the schedules nearly 700 clauses. One principle is that the voting should be secret. Another principle is that the electors should have a fair opportunity of recording their votes. See per Grove, J., in the Hackney Case, 31 L. T. N. S. 69, 71. An election should be declared void if the mistake or irregularity did not affect the result of the election. (d) 46 V. c. 18, s. 174.

Expenses incurred by officers to be refunded.

176. The reasonable expenses incurred by the clerk of the municipality and by the other officers and clerks for printing, providing ballot boxes, ballot papers, materials for marking ballot papers, polling compartments, transmission of the packets required to be transmitted by this Act, and reasonable fees and allowances for services rendered under this Act, shall be paid to the clerk of the municipality by the treasurer of the municipality, and shall be distributed by the clerk of the municipality to the several persons entitled thereto. tribunal which is asked to avoid it is satisfied that there was no real electing at all, or that the election was not really conducted under the subsisting election laws, see per Coleridge, C. J., in Woodward v. Sarsons, L. R. 10 C. P. 733, 743.

(d) It is now a canon of election law that an election is not to be set aside for a mere informality or irregularity which cannot be said in any manner to have affected the result of the election. Reg. v. Rector of St. Mary, Lambeth, 8 A. & E., 356; Reg. ex rel. Walker v. Mitchell, 4 P. R. 218; In re Monk Election, 32 U. C. Q. B. 147; Reg. v. Plenty, L. R. 4 Q. B. 346; Reg. v. Ward, L. R. 8 Q. B. 210; Reg. v. Cousins, 28 L. T. N. But where it appears that the irregularity is of such character and magnitude that it may have affected the result, the election ought to be set aside: Hackney Election, 31 L. T. N. S. 69; Woodward v. Sarsons, L. R. 10 C. P. 743; Mather v. Brown, 1 C. P. D. 596; In re Johnson v. Lambton, 40 U. C. Q. B. 297.

(e) The Act does not contain any provision for the taxation of the amount of these services. Their reasonableness therefore must in the first instance be judged of by the treasurer of the municipality. In the event of a difference between him and the person who performed the services as to their value the amount can only be settled by action or arbitration.

Seats to become vacant by crime, insolvency, absence, etc.

177. If, after the election of a person as member of a council, he is convicted of felony or infamous crime, or becomes insolvent within the meaning of the Insolvent Acts, or applies for relief as an indigent debtor, or remains in close custody, or assigns his property for the use of his creditors, or absents himself from the meetings of the council for three months without being authorized so to do by a resolution of the council entered in its minutes, his seat in the council (f) shall thereby become vacant, (g) and the council shall declare the seat vacant, and order a new election. (h) 46 V. c. 18, s. 176.

(f) The contingencies which, under this section, will have the effect of vacating a seat in the council are:

1. Being convicted of felony or infamous crime.

2. Becoming insolvent within the meaning of the Insolvent Acts. See Aslatt v. Southampton (Mayor &c.), 50 L. J. Ch. 31.

3. Applying for relief as an indigent debtor.

4. Remaining in close custody.

5. Assigning property for the use of creditors.

6. Absence for three months from the council without leave by resolution entered in the minutes of the council. As to the time from which the three months is to be computed, see Mearns v. Petrolia, 28 Grant 98.

The Municipal Act of 1866, made the return of nulla bona against his goods, a good ground for vacating the seat of a member of a municipal council, see In re Wood, 26 U. C. Q. B. 513.

(g) As to the meaning of the words, "shall thereby become vacant," &c., see Rex v. Oxford, 6 A. & E. 349; Reg. v. Leeds, 7 A. & E. 963; Hardwick v. Brown, L. R. 8 C. P. 406.

(h) There must be an actual vacancy before a new election can be ordered. Price v. Baker. 13 Am. 346. An anticipated vacancy, or a resignation to take effect at a future time, is no ground for ordering a new election. Lindsay v. Luckett, 20 Texas, 516; Biddle v. Willard, 10 Ind. 62; People v. Wetherell, 14 Mich. 48. Where the office becomes vacant, through any other contingency than death, and the person whose seat is vacant insists on holding it, the proper remedy against him is quo warranto procedure and not a writ of mandamus on the mayor to hold a new election, Reg. v. Cornwall, 25 U. In the event of a member of a municipal council forfeiting his seat at the council or his right thereto, or of his becoming disqualified to hold his seat, or of his seat becoming vacant by disqualification or otherwise, he shall forthwith vacate his seat, and in the event of his omitting to do so at any time after his election, proceedings by quo warranto to unseat such member, as provided by sections 187 to 208, both inclusive, of this Act, may be had and taken, and such sections shall, for the purposes of such proceedings, apply to any such forfeiture, disqualification or vacancy. statute of Anne would therefore have to be adopted. See Reg. ex rel. Hart v. Lindsay, 18 U. C. Q. B. 51.

(i) Until 1874 there was no more in the Municipal Act than the simple declaration that, on the happening of the events mentioned, the seat should become vacant. No mode was provided for the removal of the person whose seat was declared vacant, except in the case of a disqualification to hold the seat at the time of the election, and an application made by summons in the nature of a quo warranto within four weeks after the acceptance of office, or six weeks after the election. See Reg. ex rel. McGowerin v. Lawlor, 5 P. R. 208. By the Act 37 Vict. c. 16, sec. 6, the needed amendment of the law was supplied, and this was the origin of the above section.

(s) The word "seat" is several times used in this Act. It is a figurative expression to indicate office. The person elected is, in the language of this section, to hold his seat for the residue of the term of his predecessor, in other words, to hold the office for the residue of such term. The word, in the sense here used, is borrowed from Parliamentary language.

(t) See note n to s. 181.

(a) Five councillors were elected in January. At the first meeting, on the 17th January, only one made the declaration of qualification; and a doubt having been raised as to the remaining four, in consequence of some employment held by them under the corporation, they delayed in order to consult the County Judge. On the 19th January they met again and organized themselves, but on the same day the reeve for the previous year issued his warrant to elect four other councillors who were returned; and on the 31st January these four with the one who had first qualified, met and claimed to be the council. Held, that the second election was invalid; for the parties first elected not having refused to qualify, but only delayed, and having done so within the twenty days allowed, there was no ground for a new election. In re Asphodel and Sargant 17 U. C. Q. B. 593. A mandamus was therefore ordered to the clerk to deliver up the papers to the council first chosen. Ib.

(b) The returning officer is to hold the election at furthest "within fifteen days after receiving the warrant." The general rule for the computation of time fixed by a statute is—unless there be something in the statute to the contrary—to hold the first day excluded and the day and place for the nomination of candidates, and the election shall in respect to notices and other matters be conducted in the same manner as the annual elections. 48 V. c. 39, s. 7.

last day included. Ex parte Fallon, 5 T. R. 283. In this case the statute required an annuity deed to be enrolled "within twenty days of the execution," and it was read as excluding the day of execution. Lord Kenyon, in delivering judgment, said, "It would be straining the words to construe the twenty days all inclusively. Suppose the direction of the Act had been to enrol the memorial within one day after the granting of the annuity, could it be pretended that it meant the same as if it were said that it should be done on the same day on which the act was done? If not, neither can it be construed inclusively where a greater number of days is allowed." The same interpretation was put on the words "within twenty-one days after the execution," in the case of the registry of a warrant of attorney. Williams v. Burgess, 9 Dowl. 544. Lord Denman said, "The question in this case has been decided in ex parte Fallon, which is an unquestionable authority." In Scott v. Dickson, 1 P. R. 366, where the words were "within sixteen days after the service hereof," as used in the Ejectment Act 14 & 15 Vict. c. 114. Robinson, C. J. said, "I think the rule of computation given by Stat. 2 Geo. IV. ch. 1, s. 22, does not apply, as this is a term appointed by a statute, not by a rule of court, and by a statute passed after that Act, and therefore we must compute according to the general rule where there is no express provision. This makes the first day inclusive and the last exclusive, or vice versa." Scott v. Dickson, 1 P. R. 366, was followed in Vrooman v. Shuert, 2 P. R. 122; Buffalo and L. H. R. W. Co. v. Brooksbanks, Ib., 126; Cameron v. Cameron, Ib., 259; Callaghan v. Baines Ib., 144; Clark v. Waddell, Ib., 145; Phillips v. Merritt, Ib., 233; Cuthbert v. Street, 6 U. See further, Warren v. Slade, 9 Am. 70; Westbrook Manufacturing Co. v. Grant, 11 Am. 181; Bemis v. Leonard, 19 Am. 470; Clarke v. Garrett, 28 U. C. C. P. 75. The following cases, in which both days were held to be inclusive, were decided under the 2 Geo. IV. c. 1, or some other statute or rule expressly making both days inclusive: Moore v. Grand Trunk R. W. Co., 2 P. R. 227; Ross v. Johnson Ib., 230; Ridout v. Orr, Ib., 231; Williams v. Lee, 2 U. C. C. P. 157; Morrell v. Wilmott, 20 U. C. C. P. 378. See further notes to sec. 231 of the Assessment Act. But the words "from" and "until" do not admit of so rigid and well understood a rule of construction. In Pugh v. Duke of Leeds, 2 Cowp. 714, 717, Lord Mansfield said, "In grammatical strictness and in the nicest propriety of speech that the English language admits of, the sense of the word 'from' must always depend upon the context and subject matter whether it shall be construed inclusive or exclusive of the terminus a quo, and whilst the gentlemen of the bar were arguing this case, a hundred instances and more occurred to me, both in verse and prose, where it is used both inclusively and exclusively. If the parties in the present case had added the word 'inclusive' or 'exclusive,' the matter would have been very clear. If they had said 'from the day of the date inclusive,' the term would have commenced immediately, if they had said from the day of the date exclusive it would have commenced the next day. But let us see whether the context and subject matter in this case do not show that the construction here should be inclusive as demonstrably as if the word 'inclusive' had been added," &c. In Watson v. Pears, 2 Camp. 294, Lord Ellenborough said, "It used to be held that 'from the date' includes the day, and from 'the day of the date' excludes it. But since the case of Hugh v. Duke of Leeds, the formal distinctions have been done away, and the rule of good sense has been established that such words shall be construed according to the meaning of the parties who use them." In Isaacs v. Royal Ins. Co., L. R. 5 Ex. 296, Kelly, C. B., said "Upon looking at the authorities before Hugh v. Duke of Leeds, it appears that questions without number arose as to whether upon a contract to do any act or enter into an engagement at or for a definite term, say six or twelve months from the day of the date of some act done, time was to be reckoned exclusive or inclusive of the last day of the time, but in that case it was observed that it was impossible to lay down any fixed rule, but that each case must depend on its own circumstances and subject matter. Sometimes the first day, and sometimes the last was included. No settled and invariable rule has been laid down for all cases." The word "until," which is also equivocal in its meaning was in this case held to be inclusive of the last day. See also Hardy v. Ryle, 9 B. & C. 603, 609.

(c) There is a difference between an election and an appointment. See Regina ex rel. Beaty v. O'Donaghue, 3 U. C. L. J. 75. An election, whether by the electors at large or by the members of the council, is by vote, and usually consists in the choice of the members of the council by the electors of the municipality, or of the head of the council by the members of the council elect; both of which proceedings are in general essential to the organization of the council. See. 225 and notes. An appointment is, properly speaking, an act of the council after it has been organized. Thus: the clerk and other officers are appointed, not elected, by the council. See sec. 245. The section speaks of appointments, not of elections. It therefore becomes material to consider precisely under what circumstances the power of appointment under the section can be exercised. If there be an entire failure to elect members on the day fixed for the purpose, the power to appoint would of course devolve on the council of the preceding year, which, having been duly organized, continues office and make the necessary declarations under the same penalty, in case of refusal or neglect, as if elected. (d) 46 V. c. 18, s. 184.

But if the failure to elect be only partial, that is to say, if the failure be to elect the requisite number of members, then the other members of the council, provided they equal or exceed the half of the council when complete, appoint the requisite number of members. If less than half of the members of the new council have been elected, then the members of the preceding year may make the requisite appointments.

(d) See sec. 277.

(e) When the office is of a public nature the remedy by quo warranto information is the proper one. See Askew v. Manning, 38 U. C. Q. B. 345. And where quo warranto does not lie mandamus is the proper remedy. Reg. v. St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, 17 Q. B. 149; Reg. v. Hertford College, 2 Q. B. D. 590. Until the passing of the C. S. U. C. ch. 54, there was no mode by which the right of a municipality to a reeve or deputy reeve could be contested otherwise than by an information in the nature of a quo warranto. Reg. ex. rel. Hart v. Lindsay, 18 U. C. Q. B. 51. Nor until the passing of that Act was there any power in a summary manner to determine the validity of an appointment. Reg. ex rel. Beaty v. O'Donaghue, 3 U. C. L. J. 75.

(f) Before the summary mode of trial of contested elections prescribed by the Municipal Act, the only remedy was the tedious and expensive one of information in the nature of a quo warranto, and in cases where the provisions of the Municipal Act are inapplicable that of a municipality to a reeve or deputy-reeve or reeves is the matter contested, any municipal elector in the county may be the relator, and when the contest is respecting the validity of any such election as aforesaid, any candidate at the election, or any elector who gave or tendered his vote thereat, or if respecting the validity of any such appointment, any member of the council or any elector of the ward, or, if there is no ward, of the municipality for which the appointment was made, may be the relator for the purpose. remedy must still be adopted. In re Biggar, 3 U. C. Q. B. 144; Reg. ex rel. Coleman v. O'Hare, 2 P. R. 18; Reg. ex rel. Hart v. Lindsay, 18 U. C. Q. B. 51. Where an information in the nature of a quo warranto is asked for on behalf of an individual, it must if allowed, be exhibited in the name of the Master of the Crown Office. Ib. The summary mode prescribed by the Municipal Act is, so far as applicable, intended as a substitute for the proceeding by quo warranto information. Reg. ex rel. White v. Roach, 18 U. C. Q. B. 226. The general practice is, as much as possible, to confine parties aggrieved to the relief to be obtained under the statute. In re Kelly v. Macarow, 14 U. C. C. P. 457. Mandamus is not an appropriate remedy. In re Brenan, 6 O. S. 330. Where a county court judge having directed the issue of writs of quo warranto to test the validity of an election, afterwards set aside the writs for irregularity it was held that a Superior Court had no power to interfere. Reg. ex rel. Grant v. Coleman; Reg. ex rel. Dwyer v. Lewis, 8 P. R. 497; 32 U. C. C. P. 104; 46 U. C. Q. B. 175; 7 A. R. 619. There was a conflict of opinion as to the power of the county judge to set aside the writ after it had been issued and served. Ib. Under the former practice it was held that the master in chambers had not jurisdiction to try a municipal controverted election. Reg. ex rel. Wilson v. Dunn, 11 P. R. 379. But see now Con. Rules 30.

(g) The relator is the person upon whose application the jurisdiction of the Judge is put in motion. It is to be observed that—

1. When the right of a municipality to a reeve or deputy reeve or reeves is the matter of contest, any municipal elector in the county may be the relator.

2. When the contest is respecting the validity of any such election as aforesaid, "any candidate at the election, or any elector who gave or tendered his vote" at the election, may be a relator.

3. When respecting the validity of any such appointment, "any member of the council, or any elector of the ward, or, if there is no ward, of the municipality for which the appointment was made," may be the relator. But the right to an office on the ground that a proper declaration has not been made under sec. 270, and of no property qualification, may be questioned by a quo warranto at the instance of a ratepayer not a voter of or resident in the ward. *Reg. ex rel. may be made to sec. 79 and following sections as to who are electors. But it is to be observed, that while any elector may be relator when the right of a municipality to a reeve or deputy reeve or reeves is the matter of contest, it must be "an elector who gave or tendered his vote at the election," or "a candidate" in the case where the validity of an election is the matter of contest. It is not in such a case as last mentioned, enough for the relator to show that he "protested and voted" against the person elected. Reg. ex rel. White v. Poach, 18 U. C. Q. B. 226. "Candidate" is a vague term. No certain idea is fixed by law to it. Per Lord Mansfield, in Combe v. Pitt, 3 Burr. 1590; see further, Morris v. Burdett, 1 Camp. 218. A candidate was defined by Lord Ellenborough as "a person offering himself to the suffrages of the electors," Morris v. Burdett, 2 M. & S. 216, and by Dampier, J., as "one who voluntarily proposes himself or adopts the proposal of others." Ib. See further, Muntz v. Sturge, 8 M. & W. 310. It is not necessary to constitute a person a candidate for the purposes of this section that he should be actually nominated at the election. Reg. ex rel. Corbett v. Jull, 5 P. R. 41. But if, after having been nominated, he, with the consent of his proposer and seconder, withdraw, he ceases to be a candidate. Reg. ex rel. Coyne v. Chisholm, 5 P. R. 328. The interest of the relator is not established by the ordering of the writ. Reg. ex rel. Shaw v. Mackenzie, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 36, and where the statement of the relator did not shew that he was a candidate or an elector who had voted or tendered his vote at the election it was held that this was not a mere irregularity which could be amended at a later stage of the proceedings Reg. ex rel. Chauncey v. Billings, 12 P. R. 404. It is not necessary that a relator who was a candidate should shew in his application that he himself is qualified to accept office. Reg. ex rel. Mitchell v. Adams, 1 C. L. Chamb. R. 203. An elector who has himself been instrumental in electing a candidate will not be allowed afterwards to complain of the election of that candidate. Reg. ex rel. Pomeroy v. Watson, 1 U. C. L. J. 48; Reg. ex rel. Loyall v. Ponton, 2. P. R. 18; Reg. ex rel. Rosebush v. Parker, 2 U. C. C. P. 15; In re Kelly v. Macarow, 14 U. C. C. P. 457: Reg. ex rel. Grayson v. Bell, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 130; Reg. ex rel. Regis v. Cusac, 6 P. R. 303. Upon similiar principles it has been held that a councillor who is instrumental in the election of a particular person as reeve or deputy reeve, cannot afterwards be allowed to move against the person so elected reeve or deputy reeve. Reg. ex rel. Rosebush v. Parker, 2 U. C. C. P. 15; but see Reg. ex rel. Clint v. Upham, 7 U. C. L. J. 69. So where there is only one candidate or set of candidates proposed, and he or they are in good faith elected by acclamation, no contest will be allowed under this section. Reg. ex rel. Bugg v. Bell, 4 P. R. 226. "If the electors do not think it worth while to contest an election in the ordinary way, it may properly be considered that the Legislature did not mean to give them a right to contest it by an application of this kind." Per Hagarty, C. J., Ib. 229. It is not desirable that the clerks of municipal corporations, having the custody of the papers of the corporation, should be relators in quo warranto proceedings to unseat members of the councils of which they are clerks, *Reg. ex rel. Mullen v. DeLisle, 8 U. C. L. J. 291. Where the opinion of a Judge of the Superior Court was against a sitting member, he declined to withhold his judgment, upon the ground that there was a prior relation at the instance of a different relator against same defendant for same cause, pending before a County Court Judge, which relation it was sworn was collusive and intended to protect the defendant in the enjoyment of office contrary to law. Reg. ex rel. McLean v. Watson, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 71. A stranger to the proceedings may, if otherwise qualified, attack them on the ground that they have been initiated in collusion with the defendant. Reg. ex rel. Patterson v. Vance, 5 P. R. 334. But he will not be allowed to set up irregularities in the proceedings as such unless he show that the relator committed them purposely, as, for example, to secure the failure of his own proceedings. Ib. If a relator find his proceedings irregular, he may notify defendant not to appear and of his intention to proceed de novo, in which case he may successfully make a second application. Reg. ex rel. Metcalfe v. Smart, 10 U. C. Q. B. 89.

(h) The first point for consideration is the time within which the application is to be made, that is, "within six weeks after the election, or one month after the acceptance of office by the person elected." In the computation of the six weeks, the day of the election is to be excluded. See note b to sec. 185. Six weeks at all events are allowed to impeach the election, although the office may have been accepted more than a calendar month. The word "month," under the Interpretation Act (Rev. Stat. c. 1, s. 8), means a calendar month. If the application be not made within the six weeks, the test is then, whether the office has been accepted more than one month. Reg. ex rel. Rosebush v Parker, 2 U. C. C. P. 16. The acceptance must be a formal acceptance by the statutory declaration of qualification and office, and not a mere verbal acceptance by speech to the electors or such like. Reg. v. McIntosh, 46 U. C. Q. B. 98. See also Reg. ex rel. Felitz v. Howland, 11 P. R. 264. The application must not only be made within the time limited, but be made as the practice directs. Reg. ex rel. Telfer v. Allan, 1 P. R. 214. Therefore, under the old practice where there was no written motion paper, as required by Rule No. 1, M. T. 14 Victoria (now superseded) and the statement was not signed, as required by Rule No. 2, the application failed. Ib.; and if the time limited be allowed to elapse without an application, the relator will not be allowed to file an information in the nature of a quo warranto. Reg. ex rel. White v. Roach, 18 U. C. Q. B. 226. But see Reg. ex rel Clancy v. St. Jean. 46 U. C. Q. B. 77.

(i) The affidavit of the relator is sufficient to obtain the writ. Reg. ex rel. Carroll v. Beckwith 1 P. R. 278. Where, under the old practice, the affidavit of the relator did not fully set out in detail the facts and circumstances alleged in the statement as required by Rule of M. T. 14 Vict., it was held not to be a mere irregularity which could be amended at a later stage. See Reg. ex rel. Chauncey v. Billings, 12 P. R. 404. It seems, although it has not been expressly decided, that the solicitor of the relator may act as a com ground for supposing that the election was not legal, or was not conducted according to law, or that the person declared elected thereat was not duly elected, (k) and if the relator enters missioner for taking the affidavits. Reg. ex rel. Blaisdell v. Rochester, 12 U. C. Q. B. 630.

(k) The grounds of the application are here specified, viz.: either that the election was not legal, or was not conducted according to law, or that the person declared elected was not duly elected. The granting or refusal of the writ is a matter of discretion. If "reasonable grounds" be shewn, the writ no doubt will be ordered. But it is not for every mistake or irregularity that the writ will be ordered. If the mistake or irregularity in no manner contributed to an improper result, the Judge may very properly refuse the writ. See Reg. v. Ward, L. R. 8 Q. B. 210. The application may be made although defendant has not taken the oath of office. In re Sawers v. Stevenson, 5 U. C. L. J. 42.

The effect of Rule 3 of The Consolidated Rules of Practice (1888) is to abolish all the old practice relating to the procedure by summons for a writ in the nature of a writ of quo warranto and to substitute Rules 1038 to 1044, inclusive, for the old rules of M.T., 14 Vict. The new Rules are so in conflict with many of the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to contested elections that it is impossible to make them stand with the provisions of the Act, and it is to be regretted that the Act has not been amended so as to harmonise with the Rules. It is enacted by 51 Vic. cap. 2, sec. 4, that the Rules shall have the same force and effect as if they were enacted by Statute, and all inconsistent enactments are repealed. The practice therefore is now governed by the Rules and by the provisions of the Municipal Act, so far as consistent therewith. A proceeding in the nature of quo warranto is now under the Rules an ordinary motion and the ordinary practice of the Court, which is applicable to motions generally, is equally applicable to motions of this sort; thus the ordinary practice of the Court will obtain with regard to services, amendments, cross-examination on affidavits, discovery, evidence, hearings, &c.

Application must be made to the Court or a Judge for leave to serve the notice of motion, and upon such application security must be given to the satisfaction of the Court or a Judge, and upon the same being allowed a fiat is given for leave to serve the notice of motion. (Rule 1038). The notice of motion must be at least a seven clear days notice, and the relator may either mention the return day therein, or may state that the motion will be made on the eighth day after the day of service of the notice, excluding the day of service. (Rule 1039). The relator, in his notice of motion, must set out his name in full, his occupation, place of residence, and the interest which he has in the election, as candidate or voter, and he must also set forth specifically, under distinct heads seperately numbered, all such grounds of objection as he intends to use against the validity of the election complained against, and in favour of the validity of the election of the relator or another or other person or persons, when he claims that he or they or any of them have been duly elected (Rule 1040). Before serving his notice of motion the relator must file all the affidavits and material upon which he intends to move, except when viva voce evidence is to be taken, and in that case he should name in his notice the witnesses whom he proposes to examine. (Rule 1041).

Upon reading the within notice of motion and the affidavits and papers therein referred to and upon reading the recognizance of the above named relator, and the same being allowed as sufficient, let the said relator be at liberty to serve the notice of motion upon the defendant.

Dated——A.D.,——

On the hearing of the motion the relator shall not be allowed to object to the election of the party or parties complained against, or to support the election or elections of the person or persons alleged to have been duly elected on any ground not specified in the notice of motion; but it shall nevertheless, be in the discretion of the Judge to entertain upon his own view of the case any substantial ground of objection to or in support of the validity of the election of either or any of the parties which may appear in the evidence before him. (Rule 1042).

The statement of the relator as to an objection supported by his affidavit is looked upon as a material traversable allegation, and if defendant omit to answer it, he may be held to admit its truth. Reg. ex rel. Hervey v. Scott, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 88. Under the former practice the statement of the relator might be amended by shewing that the relator was a candidate or a voter, and no doubt the notice of motion might now be in like manner amended. Reg. ex rel. O'Reilly v. Charlton, 6 P. R. 254. Where the allegation was, that the relator "had an interest in the said election as a voter," and his affidavit stated that he had voted "on the said election, but not for the said William Rastall," it was held to be sufficient. Reg. ex rel. Ross v. Rastall, 2 U. C. L. J. N. S. 160. A relator is not necessarily bound to prove his interest. Reg. ex rel. Bartliffe v. O'Reilly, 8 U. C. Q. B. 617; see further *Reg. ex rel. Taken and acknowledged the day and year first above mentioned,

Before me——

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

1. That I am a freeholder (or householder, as the case may be), residing at, &c.

2. That I am worth property to the amount of $100 over and above what will pay all my just debts (if bail in any other action, add) "and for every other sum for which I am now bail."

And I, C. D. of, &c., the remaining surety in the recognizance hereto annexed, make oath and say as follows :

1. That I am a freeholder, &c. (as before).

The above named deponents, A. B. and C. D., were severally sworn before me, at, &c., in the County of, &c., this——day of——, A. D. 18—. } A. B. C. D.

conditioned to prosecute the writ with effect, or to pay the party against whom the same is brought any costs which may be adjudged to him against the relator, the Judge shall direct a writ of summons in the nature of a quo warranto to be issued to try the matters contested. (n) 46 V. c. 18, s. 186.

Writ in nature of quo warranto.

Evidence to be used on return of writ may be taken viva voce by leave of judge, etc.

189. The Judge of the High Court before whom the writ of summons is returnable, may order the evidence to be used on the hearing of the summons to be taken viva voce before the Judge of the County Court, in the presence of counsel for, or after notice to, all parties interested, and such Judge shall return the evidence to the Registrar at Toronto, of the Division from which the writ of summons was issued, and every party shall be entitled to a copy thereof. (o) 46 V. c. 18, s. 187.

When the relator claims to be elected.

190. In case the relator alleges that he himself or some other person has been duly elected, the writ shall be to try the validity, both of the election complained of, and the alleged election of the relator or other person. (p) 46 V. c. 18, s. 188.

(n) Where under the old practice a writ of quo warranto had been issued and served, the judge who directed the issue had no power to set it aside. Reg. ex rel., Grant v. Coleman, 7 A. R. 619.

(o) This and the seven following sections appear to be now effete, as they relate to proceedings which are to be commenced by writ of summons, and proceedings under the Act are no longer to be commenced in that manner. It is probable however that the Judges will so mould the present practice, (see note (k) to sec. 188) and regulate the proceedings thereunder as to make the same conform as nearly as may be to the procedure indicated in the Act.

(p) It seems to be well understood that before a Judge will entertain an application, not merely to make void the election of the party complained against, but to declare the relator or some other person elected in his stead, it must be shewn, to the satisfaction of the Judge that notice had been given of the disqualification of the successful candidate at such time and in such manner as must have made the electors aware that if they voted for that candidate their votes would be thrown away. See note p to sec. 77. Twenty-six persons voted twice for the defendant. The Judge deducted twenty-six from the gross number of votes recorded for defendant, and thus left the relator in a majority of nine. The relator was accordingly declared elected. Reg. ex rel Pomeroy v. Watson, 1 U. C. L. J. 48. The relator, who is entitled to the seat, is not to be deprived of it by the resignation of his opponent. Reg. ex rel. Johnston v. Murney, 1 U. C. L. J. 87.

When several elections complained of.

191. In case the grounds of objection apply equally to two or more persons elected, the relator may proceed by one writ against such persons. (q) 46 V. c. 18, s. 189.

Where more writs than one, all to be tried by the same judge.

192. Where more writs than one are brought to try the validity of an election, or the right to a reeve or deputy-reeve or reeves as aforesaid, all such writs shall be made returnable before the Judge who is to try the first, and the Judge may give one judgment upon all, or a separate judgment upon each one or more of them, as he thinks fit. (r) 46 V. c. 18, s. 190.

Writ, who to issue, and return day thereof

193. The writ shall be issued by the Clerk of the Process of the said High Court, or by the Local or Deputy Registrar, or Deputy Clerk of the Crown in the county in which the election took place, and shall be returnable before a Judge in Chambers at Toronto, or before the Judge of the County Court at a place named in the writ, (s) upon the (q) Under the statute 12 Vict. cap. 81, sec. 146, it was held that a private relator had no right by a writ of summons, in the nature of a quo warranto, either to attack the township council by name upon grounds which, if mentioned, must necessarily lead to a dissolution of the body, or to attack the whole council in one proceeding, through the individual names of every member of it. Reg. ex rel. Lawrence v. Woodruff, 8 U. C. Q. B. 336. But the law appears to have been in this respect afterwards amended (see 13 & 14 Vict. cap. 64, sch. No. 23, and 16 Vict. cap. 181, s. 27), and sec. 199 of this Act appears to be in the amended and extended form.

(r) At an election there may be several candidates; so there may be several persons elected to office. One person may see fit to contest the election of any successful candidate; so another person may see fit to contest the election of another of the successful candidates. See Line v. Warren, 14 Q. B. D. 548. Each relator complying with this statute, may have his own separate and independent proceeding. In this way there may be several motions made to try the validity of the same election. In such case, all the motions are to be made returnable before the Judge who is to try the first. One object is obvious, and that is, to preserve uniformity of decision. Reg. ex rel. Forward v. Detlor, 4 P. R. 198. Where the first relation is collusive, and merely intended to protect the defendant in the enjoyment of office, it may be disregarded. Reg. ex rel. McLean v. Watson, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 71.

(s) Although under the old practice a County Court Judge might grant a fiat for the writ, it had always to be issued out of the High Court. It was held under the old practice that a County Court Judge might order the writ to issue returnable before a Judge of the High Court. Reg. ex rel. Lutz v. Williamson, 1 P. R. 94. But see now Rule 41 restricting the authority of Local Judges in quo warranto proceedings.

Service of writ.

194. The writ shall be served personally, unless the party to be served keeps out of the way to avoid personal service, in which case the Judge, upon being satisfied thereof, by affidavit or otherwise, may make an order for such substitutional service as he thinks fit. (t) 46 V. c. 18, s. 192.

Returning officer or deputy returning officer may be made a party.

195. The Judge before whom the writ is made returnable, or is returned, may, if he thinks proper, order the issue of a writ of summons at any stage of the proceedings to make the returning officer, or any deputy-returning officer a party thereto. (u) 46 V. c. 18, 193.

The Judge may allow certain persons to intervene and defend.

196. The Judge before whom the writ is returned may allow any person entitled to be a relator to intervene and defend, and may grant a reasonable time for the purpose; (v) and an intervening party shall be liable or entitled to costs like any other party to the proceedings. (w) 46 V. c. 18, s. 194.

Where a returning officer, after closing the poll, received an affidavit from M. that his vote had been entered by mistake for relator, on which he altered his vote in the poll-book, and, the votes then being equal, gave his casting vote, the election was set aside. Reg. ex rel. Acheson v. Donoghue, 15 U. C. Q. B. 454. In a similar case the returning officer was ordered to pay the relator's costs. Reg. ex rel. Mitchell v. Rankin, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 161. (y) It is now provided by Rule 1043 that in case a necessity shall appear for sending an issue to be tried by a jury, an order for that purpose may be made, and the issue to be tried shall be stated in the order.

Upon the application of the above named relator, who complains concerning the usurpation by him alleged against the above named defendant —— of the office of —— in the —— of —— in the County of —— under the pretence of an election thereto held on the —— day of —— A.D. 18—, at —— in the County of —— (and concerning the alleged misconduct of the above named defendant A. B. as returning officer at the said election.)

If all the members ousted, etc., writ for new election to go to the sheriff.

199. In case the election of all the members of a council is adjudged invalid, the writ for their removal, and for the election of new members in their place, or for the admission of others adjudged legally elected, and an election to fill up the remaining seats in the council, shall be directed to the sheriff of the county in which the election took place: and the sheriff shall have all the powers for causing the election to be held which a municipal council has in order to supply vacancies therein. 46 V. c. 18, s. 197.

Defendant may disclaim, except in certain cases.

Upon hearing read the affidavits and papers filed, and the order made herein on the —— day of —— A.D., 18— and the record upon the trial of the issue thereby directed, and the verdict endorsed thereon, and upon hearing the oral evidence adduced before me and upon hearing what was alleged by counsel for all parties.

And it appearing that the said relator had at the time of his making of his aforesaid complaint an interest in the election to the said office of —— as a ——; and that the said —— hath usurped and doth still usurp the said office [or that the election of —— to the said office was void] and that the said relator [or the said ——] was duly elected thereto and ought to have been returned and is entitled in law to be received into and to use, exercise and enjoy the said office; and that the defendant A. B. was guilty of misconduct as Returning Officer at the said election.

1. It is ordered that the said —— do not in any manner concern himself in or about the said office and that he be absolutely excluded from further using or exercising the same under pretence of the said election, and that he be and he is hereby removed therefrom;

2. And it is further ordered that the said —— be forthwith admitted, received and sworn into the said office to use, exercise and enjoy the same (or that the municipal corporation of the —— of —— and any sheriff, returning officer, or other person or persons to whom the same shall of right belong, do pursuant and according to the statute in that behalf cause an election to be as speedily held as shall be lawful, for the election of a person in the place or stead of the said —— who has been removed as aforesaid, and that the person to whom the same doth of right belong, do administer to the person who shall be so elected the oath, if any, in that behalf by law directed, and that the person who shall be so elected be admitted and received into the said office to use, exercise and enjoy the same.)

And it is further ordered that the said relator do recover against the said —— his costs and charges by him in and about the said relation and prosecution thereof expended, to be taxed.

Mode of proceeding.

after service on him of the writ, (a) transmit post paid, through the post office, directed to "The Clerk in Chambers, at Osgoode Hall, Toronto," or to "The Judge of the County Court of the County of (as the case may be), or may cause to be delivered to such clerk or Judge a disclaimer signed by him, to the effect following: (b)

Form.

"I, A. B., upon whom a Writ of Summons, in the nature of a Quo Warranto, has been served for the purpose of contesting my right to the office of Township Councillor (or as the case may be) for the Township of in the County of (or as the case may be), do hereby disclaim the said office, and all defence of any right I may have to the same.

"Dated day of

(Signed) "A. B."

46 V. c. 18, s. 198

Posting and registry of disclaimer.

201. The disclaimer, or the envelope containing the same, shall moreover be endorsed on the outside thereof with the word "Disclaimer," and be registered at the post office where mailed. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 199.

Person elected may disclaim at any time before his election is complained of.

202. Where there has been a contested election, the person elected may at any time after the election, and before his election is complained of, deliver to the clerk of the municipality a disclaimer signed by him as follows:—(d)

(a) Service of the notice of motion under the present practice is equivalent to service of the writ under the old practice.

(b) When the notice of the application has been served by leave of a Judge of the High Court and is returnable before a Judge of any such Court, the disclaimer should be addressed, "to the clerk of Judge's Chambers, at Osgoode Hall, Toronto," but as to the jurisdiction of County Court Judges see note s to sec. 193. The disclaimer so addressed may, if preferred, be mailed or else be delivered to the proper clerk or judge. If mailed, the envelope must on the outside be endorsed with the word "Disclaimer." The letter must also be registered in the office where mailed. Sec. 201. If the party, instead of disclaiming under this section or sec. 202, accept office, he can only resign under circumstances detailed in sec. 179 and sec. 180.

(c) If the disclaimer is delivered to the clerk or judge the endorsement must be on the disclaimer itself, but if transmitted through the post-office the endorsement must be on the outside of the envelope.

(d) Disclaimers are of two kinds:

1. Disclaimer under sec. 200, which must be transmitted within one week after "service of the writ."

"I, A. B., do hereby disclaim all right to the office of Township Councillor (or as the case may be), for the Township of (or as the case may be, and all defence of any right I may have to the same. Form.

46 V. c. 18, s. 200.

203. Such disclaimer shall relieve the party making it from all liability to costs, (e) and where a disclaimer has been made in accordance with the preceding sections, it shall operate as a resignation, and the candidate having the next highest number of votes (f) shall then become the councillor, or other officer, as the case may be. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 201. Disclaimer to operate as resignation. Who to be deemed elected.

204. Every person disclaiming shall deliver a duplicate of his disclaimer to the clerk of the council, and the clerk shall forthwith communicate the same to the council. 46 V. c. 18, s. 202. Duplicate disclaimer to be deliver to clerk.

205. No costs shall be awarded against a person duly disclaiming, unless the Judge is satisfied that such party Costs against person disclaiming.

2. Disclaimer under this section, which may be transmitted "at any time after the election," but "before the election is complained of."

In the case of the former there are no costs, unless the judge is satisfied that the party disclaiming consented to his nomination as a candidate, or accepted the office. See sec. 205; and in the latter case there can be no costs, as the disclaimer must be made before writ, and when made relieves the party "from all liability." See sec. 203.

The effect of a disclaimer after the service of notice of the application is to put an end to the suit. Reg. ex rel. Hannah v. Paul, 9 U. C. L. J. N. S. 238. A notice disclaiming the "seat" was held sufficient in Smith v. Petersville, 28 Grant 599. But see Reg. ex rel. Mitchell v. Davidson, 8 P. R. 434.

(e) If the disclaimer be too late defendant may be ordered to pay costs, Ex rel. Hawke v. Hall, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 182. See further note d to sec. 202, and note b to sec. 206.

(f) By the words "the candidate having the next highest number of votes" is meant the candidate having such number of votes who has not been elected; consequently where the three highest candidates were declared elected, and the one at the head of the poll resigned, the candidate who was fourth in order was held entitled to the seat. Smith v. Petersville, 28 Grant 599.

(g) Where the object of the relator is not only to cause the defendant to vacate office but to substitute another candidate into the office the disclaimer cannot prevent the latter being substituted but rather under this section facilitates that result, see Reg. v. Blizard, L. R. 2 Q. B. 55.

consented to his nomination as a candidate, or accepted the office, in which case the costs shall be in the discretion of the Judge. (a) 46 V. c. 18, s. 203.

Costs generally.

206. In all cases not otherwise provided for, costs shall be in the discretion of the Judge. (b) 46 V. c. 18, s. 204.

(a) The rule is, that the costs of a contested election are in the discretion of the Judge. Sec. 206. The exception is, where a regular disclaimer is made within the time limited for the purpose, in which case no costs, are to be awarded against the party who disclaims. If however, the Judge be satisfied that the party "consented to his nomination as a candidate, or accepted the office," the case comes within the rule and not the exception. Where defendant personally contested the election, but on its being moved against sent in a disclaimer praying to be relieved from costs, because, having been duly elected, he was obliged, under a penalty, to accept office, the learned Judge in Chambers refused to relieve him of costs. Reg. ex rel. Featherstone v. McMonies, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 137. But if the defendant disclaim in proper time, and be free from any imputation of blame, it is not usual to give costs against him. Reg. ex rel. Couplaud v. Webster, 6 U. C. L. J. 89. If the disclaimer be filed too late, clearly costs are in the discretion of the Judge. Ex rel. Hawke v. Hall, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 182. On the 4th March the relator obtained a summons to contest defendant's election, and the writ and statement were served on that day. On the 9th defendant sent a written disclaimer to the Judge in Chambers, which was received on the 10th, and on the 13th the relator's affidavit was filed stating that defendant had consented to his own nomination, and had taken his seat, &c. No proof of the grounds taken in the statement was ever filed, and the case was then allowed to drop. On the 27th April, the relator filed a further affidavit stating that after the disclaimer the reeve had ordered a new election, at which he, the relator, was duly elected, but that the defendant persisted in retaining his seat, contending that it had not become vacant by his disclaimer. Sir J. B. Robinson under these circumstances, refused to give judgment, as if the matter were still pending on the summons, there being no proof of any of the objections taken, but held that the disclaimer could not nullify the election, as the parties seemed to have supposed; and that if the council should support the relator in his seat, the defendant or some one else must move against his election on the ground that it was illegally ordered. Reg. ex rel. Freeman v. Jones, 1 P. R. 306. The Judge who was in Chambers at the return of the summons, might perhaps enter an adjournment to a certain day, and call for proofs as to the first election, and give judgment. Ib.

(b) The Judge has a discretion to withhold costs altogether from either side, if he see fit. Reg. ex rel. Swan v. Rowat, 13 U. C. Q. B. 349, or to distribute the costs, that is, to order each party to pay his own costs. Per Hagarty, J., Reg. ex rel. Gordanier v. Perry, 3 U. C. L. J. 90. They are absolutely in his discretion Lovering v. Dawson, L. R. 10 C. P. 726. Where it was sworn that intending voters for a candidate were obstructed in the approach to the polling place by a crowd under the control of one of the succes-

The decision of the Judge shall be final, and he shall, immediately after his judgment, return the writ and judgment, with all things had before him touching the same, into the Division from which the writ issued, there to remain of record as a judgment of the High Court; (c) and he shall, as occasion requires, enforce the judgment by a writ in the ful candidates, and neither the fact of the obstruction nor the control was unequivocally denied by that candidate, the election as to him was set aside with costs. Reg. ex rel. Gibbs v. Branighan, 3 U. C. L. J. 127. The tendency of modern decisions is not to make a party pay costs unless it be shewn that he himself participated in the improper conduct for which the election is set aside. Reg. ex rel. Kirk v. Asselstine, 1 U. C. L. J. 49; Reg. ex rel. Davis v. Wilson Ib. 165; Reg. ex rel. Webber v. Mitchell, 4 P. R. 218; Reg. ex rel. Johnson v. Murney, 5 U. C. L. J. 87. But relators are not to be discouraged from bringing cases of invalid elections under notice of a Judge at the peril of having to lose the costs necessarily incurred. Reg. ex rel. Rollo v. Beard, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 126; Reg. ex rel. Charles v. Lewis, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 177; Reg. ex rel. Hawke v. Hall, Ib. 187; Reg. ex rel. Dillon v. McNeil, 3 U. C. C. P. 137. In one case a learned Judge refused to make a relator pay costs, though unsuccessful, where it was shewn he had acted in good faith in bringing forward his complaint. Reg. ex rel. Crozier v. Taylor, 6 U. C. L. J. 60. So where a returning officer, made a party to the proceedings, was shewn to have acted in good faith, though illegally, costs were not imposed upon him. Reg. ex rel. Pomeroy v. Watson, 1 U. C. L. J. 48; Reg. ex rel. Coupland v. Webster, 6 U. C. L. J. 89. Where the returning officer was acquitted of blame, and relator's statement was shewn not to be strictly correct, the latter was ordered to pay costs to the former. Reg. ex rel. Hawke v. Hall, 2 C. L. Chamb. R. 182. But a returning officer, who received illegal votes not on the roll was ordered to pay costs. Reg. ex rel. Johnston v. Murney, 5 U. C. L. J. 87. The Master, on taxing costs to the successful party, should consider whether or not the successful party produced an unnecessary number of affidavits, or affidavits unnecessarily diffuse, and act accordingly. Reg. ex rel. Walker v. Hall, 6 U. C. L. J. 138. A by-law to pay the costs of a contested election is illegal, and will be quashed with costs. In re Bell v. Manners, 2 U. C. C. P. 507. A municipality cannot legally support such a contest, or indemnify one of the parties. Ib. But the cost of litigation undertaken bona fide, and on reasonable grounds, for the assertion or defence of corporate rights, may be paid out of corporate funds. Reg. v. Bridgewater, 10 A. & E. 281; Reg. v. Mayfield, 4 Q. B. 893; Reg. v. Leeds, Ib. 796; Reg v. Warwick, 12 L. J. Q. B. 306; Attorney-General v. Wigan, 1 Kay 268; Lewis v. Rochester, 9 C. B. N. S. 401; Reg. v. Tamworth, 19 L. T. N. S. 434.

(c) Formerly leave was given to appeal to the full Court. Reg. ex rel. McKean v. Hogg, 15 U. C. Q. B. 140. That privilege was in the Municipal Institutions Act of 1858, when introduced, but was struck out in Committee. The object, no doubt, is promply to ensure relief. See Reg. ex rel. Grant v. Coleman, 7 A. R. 619.

The Judges of the High Court or a majority of them, may, by rules settle the forms of the writs of summons, certiorari, mandamus and execution under this Act, (e) and may regulate the practice respecting the suing out, service and execution of such writs, and the punishment for disobeying the same, or any other writ or order of the Court or Judge, and respecting the practice generally, in hearing and determining the validity of such elections or appointments, and respecting the costs thereon; and may from time to time rescind, alter, or add to such rules; but all existing rules shall remain in force until rescinded or altered as aforesaid. 46 V. c. 18, s. 206.

N. B.—When the Returning Officer has been made a party, and is entitled to costs, the fieri facias must be framed accordingly.

(f) Bribery was an offence at Common Law and independently of any statute. Rex v. Pitt, 3 Burr. 1338. So the mere offer of a bribe was at Common Law an offence. Rex v. Vaughan, 4 Burr. 2500. But in order, if possible, effectually to put it down, the Legislature has from time to time interfered. In the year 1854 the Imperial Legislature passed an Act in which it was recited "that the laws now in force for preventing corrupt practices in the election of members to serve in Parliament have been found insufficient." 17 & 18 Vict., ch. 102. In the hope of remedying the insufficiency of the law the statute called "The Corrupt Practices Prevention Act, 1854," was framed. Ib. Its provisions were embodied in statutes of the late province of Canada and of the legislature of Ontario, as regards parliamentary elections Stat. Can. 23 Vict. c. 17; Stat. Ont. 32 Vict. c. 21, s. 67, and in 1872 were applied by the local legislature to municipal elections. 35 Vict. c. 36. The sections here annotated are substantially the same as the provisions of the Imperial statute 17 & 18 Vict. c. 102. Formerly bribery at municipal elections was the subject of legislative interference. Reg. ex rel McKeon v. Hogg, 15 U. C. Q. B. 140. Each act of bribery is a distinct offence. Milnes v. Bale, L. R. 10 C. P. 591.

(g) It is perfectly clear that the meaning which is to be given in this Act to the words "any other person on his behalf," is every person other than the candidate for whose act he is responsible. Per Martin, B., in Norwich Election Petition, 19 L. T. N. S. 617. In parliamentary election law it has long been established that where a person has employed an agent for the purpose of procuring his election he is responsible for the act of that agent, though he himself did not intend to authorize it. Taunton Case, 1 O'M. & H. 182; West Toronto Case, 1 H. E. C. 97; Cornwall Case, 1 H. E. C. 547; Muskoka and Parry Sound Election, 1 E. C. 197. It is, in point of fact, making the relation between a candidate and his agent the relation of master and servant, and not of principal and agent. Westminster Case, 1 O'M. & H. 95; Wigan Case, Ib. 191. A variety of cases might be put, in which a principal is liable even civilly for an act of an agent which he never intended, and at which he is exceedingly displeased. See Westbury Case, Ib. 54. A well established case of bribery by an agent avoids an election, even though the agent acted against instructions. South Grey Case, 1 H. E. C. 52. But an agent who is not a general agent, but an agent with powers expressly limited cannot bind the candidate by anything done beyond the scope of his authority. Berthier Election, 9 S. C. R. 102. It is as regards elections for the local legislature, expressly declared that "where it is found, upon the report of a Judge upon an election petition, that any corrupt practice has been committed by a candidate at an election, or by his agent, whether with or without the actual knowledge and consent of the candidate, the election of the candidate, if he has been elected, shall, except in the cases mentioned in section 163, be void." Rev. Stat. 1887, c. 9, s. 162. Agency is a result of law to be drawn from the facts in the case, and from the acts of individuals. Sligo Case, 1 O'M. & H. 301. There is always a great difference in the degrees of agency. As you go lower down, you require more distinctly to shew that the act was done by a person whom the candidate would be responsible for; as you come higher up, it is more as if the candidate had done it himself. Hereford Case, Ib., 194. No one can lay down a precise rule as to what would constitute evidence of being an agent. Bewdley Case, Ib., 17; S. C. 18 L. T. N. S. 676; Bridgewater Case, 1 O'M. & H. 115. A man's wife, if she interfere in the election, is ipso facto his agent. Cashel Case, Ib. 288. It may be said that an act, however trifling, is evidence of agency, and that an aggregate of isolated acts will by their cumulative force constitute agency. Bewdley Case, Ib. 18. Agency in election matters is a result of law to be drawn from the facts of the case and the acts of the individuals. East Peterborough Case, 1 H. E. C. 245. See also Muskoka and Parry Sound Election, 1 E. C. 197; West Simcoe Election, 1 E. C. 126; West Northumberland Election, 10 S. C. R. 635. Canvassing alone, and with or without a canvassing book, is evidence of agency. Staleybridge Case, 1 O'M. & H. 68; Lichfield Case, Ib. 25; Windsor Case, 19 L. T. N. S. 613; Londonderry Case, 21 L. T. N. S. 709; Cornwall Case, 1 H. E. C. 547. But canvassing, independently of the candidate, and for an independent association, rebuts the inference of agency. Westminster Case, 1 O'M. & H. 91. "I cannot concur in the opinion that any supporter of a candidate who chooses to ask others for their votes, and to make speeches in his favour, can force himself upon the candidate as an agent." Per O'Brien, J., Londonderry Case, 21 L. T. N. S. 712. See also Prescott Election, 1 E. C. 88. voter, or to or for any person in order to induce any voter to vote or refrain from voting at a municipal election, or upon a by-law for raising money or creating a debt upon a municipality or part of a municipality for any purpose whatever, (h) or who corruptly does any such act as aforesaid, on account of such voter having voted or refrained from voting at such election, or upon such by-law; (j)

(h) This section gives a new and enlarged definition of bribery. An offer is included in the definition. See Bush v. Ralling, Sayer, 289; Sulston v. Norton, 3 Burr. 1235; Harding v. Stokes, 2 M. & W. 233; Henslow v. Fawcett, 3 A. & E. 51. "It cannot be supposed that an offer to bribe is not as bad as the actual payment of money." Coventry Case, 1 O'M. & H. 107; Staleybridge Case, Ib., 66; see also Taunton Case, Ib. 183; Cornwall Case, 1 H. E. C. 547. Offering to accept a public office in the election of the people at a reduced salary may be deemed bribery. State ex rel. Newell v. Purdy, 17 Am. 485. The evidence to prove an offer is usually required to be stronger than when money has actually passed. Cheltenham Case, 1 O'M. & H. 64. Money given to a disqualified voter is apparently within the terms of the Act. Guildford Case, Ib. 15. Where money was paid to voters for services agreed to be rendered but such services were not rendered owing to the misconduct of the voters, the payment was not bribery. West Toronto Case, 1 H. E. C. 97. The section speaks of the giving, lending, or agreeing to give, or lend "money or valuable consideration," or "office, place or employment." "Anything, great or small, which is given to procure a vote," is a bribe. Coventry Case, 1 O'M. & H. 100. The promise of refreshment is bribery. Bodmin Case, Ib. 124. So a promise before a poll to repay a voter after the poll the money expended by him upon drink. Hastings Case, Ib. 218. It matters not how long before the election the promise may have been made. Sligo Case, Ib. 302. Betting on the result of an election may be held to be bribery. Lincoln Election, 1 H. E. C. 489; West Northumberland Election, 1 H. E. C. 660; South Norfolk Election, 10 S. C. R. 635. The charge of bribery, however, is one that ought to be established by clear and satisfactory evidence. Londonderry Case, 1 O'M. & H. 273. Mere suspicion of bribery is not enough to upset an election. Ib. The judge should be satisfied beyond doubt that the offence is made out. Lichfield Case, 20 L. T. N. S. 11.

(j) If the money be given before the election, to induce a man to vote or refrain from voting, the act is ipso facto bribery. But if after the election, it must be shown to have been done "corruptly." An act done corruptly means an act done by a man knowing that he

(k) See note g to sub. s. 1 of this section.

(l) This sub-section is aimed at that offence which is known in England as "purchasing a borough." Of late such transactions have been very rare. An instance of it was exposed in 1858. The Committee in the Harwich Election, reported that G. W. P. was not duly elected ; that G. W. P. entered into an engagement with J. A., through his solicitor, in accordance with the terms of which engagement the said G. W. P. was on his part to pay certain sums of money in the event of his return, and the said J. A. was to endeavour to procure the return of the said G. W. P. for the said borough. Clerk on Elections, 99. In the Barnstaple Case, 2 P. R. & D. 336, an agreement was proved in the following form :—"I will pay £400 and £1000 within a week after the election at B." C., It was proved had been very active in averting the threatened disfranchisement of the borough, and incurred expenses to the amount of £1,400 in so doing. It was in respect of this bill that the agreement was made. C. swore that it was no part of the understanding that he should procure L.'s return. But the election was held void. The fair payment of the expenses of a member, if he will stand, does not of itself constitute an illegality under this provision, although it constitutes a case calling for a full inquiry. Coventry Case, 1 O'M. & H. 97. If the inquiry, according to what the learned Judge said had shewn that E. had agreed to give H. £5, he might say a farthing, in point of law,—if he agreed to give him anything, if only a peppercorn, for the purpose of purchasing any influence which H. had with the electors of Coventry, and of advancing E.'s interest as a candidate at the election, it would have been bribery, and would have avoided the election. Per Willes, J., Ib. 100.

person in a municipal election, or to procure the passing of any by-law as aforesaid, or the vote of any voter at a municipal election, or for such by-law ; (m)

Advancing, etc., money for bribery, etc.

4. Every person who advances or pays, or causes to be paid, money to or to the use of any other person with the intent that such money, or any part thereof, shall be expended in bribery at a municipal election, or at any voting upon a by-law as aforesaid, or who knowingly pays, or causes to be paid, any money to any person in discharge or repayment of any money wholly or in part expended in bribery at such election, or at the voting upon such by-law ; (n)

Voter receiving money, etc. for vote, or agreeing for money to vote, etc.

5. Every voter who, before or during a municipal election, or the voting on such by-law, directly or indirectly by himself or any other person in his behalf, receives, agrees or contracts for any money, gift, loan, or valuable consideration, office, place or employment, for himself or any other person, for voting or agreeing to vote, or refraining or agreeing to refrain from voting at such election, or upon such by-law ; (o)

(m) The transaction intended by this and the preceding sub-section is one and the same. But while the preceding sub-section makes illegal the conduct of the giver, this makes illegal the conduct of the receiver. See the last note.

(n) The object of this sub-section is to prevent the expenditure of money for purposes of bribery. If advanced or paid before the election, with intent that it shall be expended in bribery, it is illegal. If knowingly paid after the election in discharge of money expended in bribery, it is illegal. The word "knowingly," in this sub-section, is used very much in the same sense as the word "corruptly" is used in the latter part of sub-section 1. It is by no means an uncommon practice for a candidate to pay a large sum of money into the hands of two or three persons, or into the hands of a banker, with permission to certain persons to draw upon such sum of money. This occurs most frequently at elections where it is considered expedient that the candidate should know as little as possible of the means used to procure his return. Were the money so paid in to be expended wholly or partly in bribery, would such a candidate be guilty of bribery within the statute? Such conduct would be very suspicious, to say the least of it. See Clerk on Elections, 101 ; see also remarks of Richards, C. J., East Toronto Case, 1 H. E. C. 70.

(o) While the preceding sub-sections relate more especially to the candidates and to persons acting on their behalf, this sub-section applies only to voters. The deprivation of the right to vote, or the forfeiture of a vote already given, is not to be imposed as a penalty upon any one, unless by express enactment. There are other persons Receiving money, etc., after the election for voting, or inducing, etc., to vote.

6. Every person who, after such election, or the voting upon such by-law, directly or indirectly, by himself or any other person on his behalf, receives any money or valuable consideration on account of any person having voted or refrained from voting, or having induced any other person to vote or refrain from voting at such election, or upon such by-law; (p)

interested and affected by the vote beside the voter. The candidate for whom he voted is interested in it, and so are the whole body of the electors who voted for the same candidate. One vote may change the result of an election, and the deprivation of the right to vote is not to be brought about by mere inference as to what the Legislature must have intended. There must be a plain enactment declaring that the vote shall be rejected if tendered, or shall be struck off if given, to justify the disallowance of it, and as a consequence to double the penalty on the voter, and so seriously to affect the rights, privileges and interests of others dependent on the vote. Per Richards, C. J. in Brockville Election, 32 U. C. Q. B. 139. Either taking or giving a bribe invalidates a vote on a scrutiny. Southampton Case, 1 O'M. & H. 224. A man who votes for one candidate after having received money to vote for another is as much guilty of bribery as if he had done what was expected of him. Lichfield Case, Ib. 29. To take pay for a day's wages is bribery. Staleybridge Case, Ib. 66; see also Taunton Case, Ib. 183. So payment of a debt for which the voter was incarcerated. Londonderry Case, 21 L. T. N. The question is not what is the motive operating on the mind of the voter. The mind of the voter has nothing to do with it. The question is the motive of the person bribing. Probably there is no man who ever was bribed but would swear that the bribe had not influenced his vote. Westminster Case, 1 O'M. & H. 95; see also Cashel Case, Ib. 289. A conditional inducement of any kind to induce a voter to vote or refrain from voting is bribery. See Simpson v. Yeend, L. R. 4 Q. B. 626. Payment of travelling expenses to induce the voter to vote is bribery. Dublin Case, 1 O'M. & H. 273. It is not decided that payment afterwards, without a previous promise, is bribery. Northallerton Case, Ib. 167. Colourable employment of a voter is bribery. Pen.,yn Case, Ib. 128. So lavish household expenditure if intended to influence votes. Hastings Case, Ib. 218. Admissions by a voter that he has been bribed are evidence to invalidate his vote on a scrutiny. Windsor Case, Ib. 5; King's Lynn Case, Ib. 208. Votes given for a candidate after an act of bribery has been committed by him, or on his behalf, are not null and void, but merely unavailable for the purpose of the election,—his status as a candidate being annihilated by the act of bribery. Norwich Election Petition, 19 L. T. N. S. 619. The votes remain as good to be struck off by the party claiming the seat. Ib.

(p) The word "corruptly," as used in the first sub-section is not repeated here, but is involved in the language used. To receive after

7. an election, money or valuable consideration "on account of any person having voted or refrained from voting," &c., is to receive it corruptly. See note j to sub-s. 1 of this section.

(q) For a long time doubts existed as to whether the hiring of teams and vehicles to convey voters to and from the polls was legal or not. The doubts were removed in the case of elections for the Local Legislature by sec. 71 of 32 Vict. ch. 21, Ont., (now R. S. O. c. 9 s. 157.) This sub-section makes it an offence for any one to hire or to receive pay for teams and vehicles used in conveying voters to the poll. To bring a case under the Ontario Election Act there must be a hiring on the part of the candidate or his agent, or receiving pay for the use of horses, teams, carriages, or other vehicles for the purpose mentioned. One M., a carter, who voted for respondent at the request of P., the respondent's agent, carried a voter five or six miles to the polling place, saying he would do so without charge. Some days after the election P. gave M. $2, intending it as compensation for such carriage, but M. thought it was in payment for work which he had done for P. as carter. The candidate knew nothing of the matter. Held, that there was not properly any payment by P. to M. for any purpose, the money having been given for one purpose and received for another. In re Brockville Election, 32 U. C. Q. B. 132. But even if there had been such a payment, it was made after P.'s agency had ceased, and as there was no previous hiring or promise to pay to which it could relate, it was held not to come under the operation of the statute. Ib. If such payment had been established it would have avoided P.'s vote, but not M.'s. Ib. See further the remarks of Richards, C. J., as to the hiring of cabs, &c., in West Toronto Case, 1 H. E. C. 97. A candidate is under no obligation, legal or moral, to pay for loss of time of voters or their travelling expenses. Per Watson, B., in Cooper v. Slade, 6 H. L. Cas. 754. The payment of a voter's expenses in going to the poll is illegal as such, even though the payment may not have been intended as a bribe. South Grey Election, 1 H. E. C. 52. If made on condition of his voting it is bribery. Cooper v. Slade, 6 H. L. Cas. 754. See further Reg. ex rel. Thompson v. Medcalf, 11 U. C. L. J. N. S. 248.

voting at any election, or who in any way prevents or otherwise interferes with the free exercise of the franchise of any voter, shall be deemed to be guilty of undue influence, and be subject to the penalty hereinafter mentioned. (r) 46 V. c. 18, s. 208.

(r) Intimidation may be either general or particular. The great object of the Legislature is to secure freedom of election. "In order to avoid an election on the ground of intimidation, it must be shewn that the rioting or violence was instigated by the member or his agents, for whom he is responsible; or it must be shewn it was to such an extent as to prevent the election being an entirely free election." Staleybridge Case, 1 O'M. & H. 72. The common law renders an election carried by violence, force or intimidation void, because the freedom of election is violated, and persons are prevented from freely exercising their franchise and giving their votes. Cheltenham Case, Ib. 64. If the intimidation be so general that the election cannot be said to be a free one, in that case, though it is not brought home to the candidate or his agents, the election would be void. Stafford Case, Ib. 229. General intimidation must be put on a parallel with general bribery or general treating; that is, it must be shewn to spread over such an extent of ground, and to permeate through the community to such an extent, that the tribunal considering the case is satisfied that freedom of election has ceased to exist in consequence. Drogheda Case, Ib. 259. With respect to particular voters, the Legislature has used language which makes it undue influence to practice intimidation, directly or indirectly, with intent to influence the vote of a single voter. Whether the voter be the person ill-treated, or whether the ill-treatment be violence, or damage done by the removal of custom, business, or employment, is immaterial; if it is done with a view to affect the voter or interfere with the free exercise of the franchise, it is within the prohibition of the Act. Blackburn Case, Ib. 204; North Ontario Case, H. E. C. 785. The question whether a man made a free vote is something like the question whether a man made a free will. Windsor Case, Ib. 6. Threats of eviction by landlords. Reg. v. Barnwell, 5 W. R. 557. Threats to suspend or refuse the rites of the Church. Galway Case, 1 O'M. & H. 303; see also Longford Case, 2 O'M. & H. 16; Tipperary Case, Ib. 31. Threats of dismissal from employment; Westbury Case, 1 O'M. & H. 50; discharge of servants; Blackburn Case, Ib. 203; North Norfolk Case, Ib. 241, or other wrongs or injuries of a similar character, if made in order to influence the vote, constitute undue influence. Where an injury has been actually inflicted the proof is comparatively easy, but where merely a threat has been made, and not executed, the point is often difficult to determine. North Norfolk Case, Ib. 242. If the threat be proved, the onus is upon those who made the threat or who are responsible for it, to shew that intimidation did not produce its natural consequence, namely, terrifying the people from the exercise of their legitimate franchise. Drogheda Case, Ib. 256. A mere attempt to intimidate a voter, even though unsuccessful, would avoid an election. Northallerton Case, Ib. 173. See also Soulanges Election, 10 S. C. R. 652.

Expenses of candidates.

211. The actual personal expenses of a candidate, his expenses for actual professional services performed, and bona fide payments for the fair cost of printing and advertising, shall be held to be the expenses lawfully incurred, and the payment thereof, shall not be a contravention of this Act. (s) 46 V. c. 18, s. 209.

Evidence of corrupt practices on application in nature of quo warranto to be taken viva voce.

212. Where, in an application in the nature of a quo warranto, a question is raised as to whether the candidate or any voter has been guilty of any violation of section 209 or 210 of this Act, affidavit evidence shall not be used to prove the offence, but it shall be proved by viva voce evidence taken before the Judge of any County Court, upon a reference to him by the Judge of the High Court for that purpose, or upon an appointment granted by him in cases pending in such County Court. (t) 46 V. c. 18, s. 210.

(s) The candidate is not restricted to purely personal expenses, but may (if there is no intent thereby to influence votes) hire rooms for committees and meetings, and employ men to distribute cards and placards, and perform similar services. East Toronto Case, 1 H. E. C. 70. A candidate in good faith intended that his election should be conducted in accordance both with the letter and spirit of the law, and himself paid no money except for printing. Money, however, was given by friends of the candidate to different persons for election purposes, who kept no accounts or vouchers of what they paid. The election, notwithstanding, was supported. Ib. Under the Ontario Election Act candidates are required to pay money for election purposes through an authorized agent, and to render detailed accounts of the expenditure. See Rev. Stat. c. 9, s. 189, et seq. It is always more satisfactory, on an election inquiry to have the expenditure shewn by proper vouchers. See remarks of Chief Justice Richards on The East Toronto Case, 1 H. E. C. 70, and The West Toronto Case, 1 H. E. C. 97. Where all the accounts and records of an election are intentionally destroyed by the respondent's agent, even if the case be stripped of all other circumstances, the strongest conclusions will be drawn against the respondent, and every presumption will be made against the legality of the acts concealed by such conduct. South Grey Case, H. E. C. 52. Where a candidate puts money into the hands of an agent, and exercises no supervision over the way in which the agent is spending the money, but accredits and trusts him and leaves him the power of spending the money, there is such an agency established as to render the candidate liable to the fullest extent, not only for what the agent may do but also for what all the people that agent employs may do, although express instructions be given that none of the money should be improperly spent. Ib.

(t) The Judge whose duty it is to try an ordinary application in the nature of a quo warranto, may inquire into the facts either by affidavit or by oral testimony. See sec. 197. The exception created by this section is, where "any question is raised as to whether Penalty on candidates guilty of bribery, etc.

213. Any candidate elected at a municipal election, who is found guilty by the Judge, upon a trial upon a writ of quo warranto, of any act of bribery, or of using undue influence as aforesaid, shall forfeit his seat, and shall be ineligible as a candidate at any municipal election for two years thereafter. (u) 46 V. c. 18, s. 211.

Penalty for offences under ss. 209, 210

214. Any person who is adjudged guilty of any offence within the meaning of sections 209 or 210 of this Act, shall incur a penalty of $20, and shall be disqualified from voting at any municipal election or upon a by-law for the next succeeding two years. (v) 46 V. c. 18, s. 212.

the candidate or any voter has been guilty of any violation of sections 209 or 210 of this Act;" in other words, been guilty of bribery or undue influence within the meaning of those sections. In such a case viva voce evidence alone can be used. The reason no doubt is, that to charge the candidate or a voter under either of the sections mentioned, is to charge him with an offence which may be either a crime or in the nature of a crime (see sec. 213), and that it would be contrary to all precedent to permit a person to be tried for a crime on what is called in this section "affidavit evidence."

(u) The consequences of being found guilty are two-fold:

1. Forfeiture of the seat.

2. Personal incapacity, for two years thereafter, to be a candidate at a municipal election.

It is not said that these consequences shall follow if there be bribery or undue influence by an agent, without the knowledge, or against the instructions of the candidate. It may be that in such a case the seat will be lost to the candidate. See note h to s. 209. But it is clear that a man cannot be guilty by his agent of an illegal act, and be held personally responsible, and be personally punished for that act, unless he has given the agent, authority, express or implied, to do the illegal act. The law of agency has certainly, in such cases, been much extended by Committees of the House of Commons. But it is a clear proposition of law, that if a candidate employ an agent for a perfectly legal purpose, and that agent do an illegal act, that act does not affect the principal personally (although it may affect his seat), unless a great deal more be shewn. It must be shewn that the principal directed the agent to do the act, or really meant he should so act. No man who is an agent for a legal purpose can make his principal criminally responsible for an illegal act, unless the principal in some way authorized it. See per Lord Wensleydale, in Cooper v. Slade, 6 H. L. Cas. 793. See further Dungarvan Case, 2 P. R. & D. 324, and Lovering v. Dawson, L. R. 10 C. P. 711. The learned Judge of the County of Simcoe, in Booth v. Sutherland, 10 U. C. L. J. N. S. 287, held that indirect bribery as bribery by agents, rendered the candidate ineligible for re-election.

(v) These penalties, it is presumed, will not follow unless the illega

Recovery of penalties.

215. The penalties imposed by the preceding section shall be recoverable, with full costs of suit, by any person who sues for the same in the Division Court having jurisdiction where the offence was committed; (w) and any person against whom judgment is rendered, shall be ineligible, either as a candidate or a municipal voter, until the amount which he has been condemned to pay is fully paid and satisfied. Judge to make return.

216. It shall be the duty of the Judge who finds any candidate guilty of a contravention of section 209 or 210 of this Act, or who condemns any person to pay any sum in the Division Court for any offence within the meaning of this Act, to report the same forthwith to the clerk of the municipality wherein the offence has been committed. (y) 46 V. c. 18, s. 214.

Clerk to keep book showing names of persons guilty of offences, etc.

217. The clerk of every municipality shall duly enter in a book, to be kept for that purpose, the names of all persons within his municipality who have been adjudged guilty of any offence within the meaning of section 209 or 210 of this Act, and of which he has been notified by the Judge who tried the case. (z) 46 V. c. 18, s. 215.

Attendance of witnesses.

218. Any witness shall be bound to attend before the act be shewn to be that of the party sought to be personally affected, r the act of some person who was authorized by him to do it. See he last note.

(w) As the pecuniary penalty is only $20, it is believed that the Division Court would have had jurisdiction without this provision; e Medcalf v. Widdifield, 12 U. C. C. P. 411; but its enactment ere, as the point was not entirely free from doubt, O'Reilly q. t. v. Allan, 11 U. C. Q. B. 526, was proper.

(x) The payment of the amount will not remove the disability here the payment is within two years of the conviction. See sec. 4. But the disability continues after the two years and until the dgment is satisfied.

(y) The object of this provision is to prevent the person disqualified m being placed upon the voters' list. The clerk upon receipt of e report, should enter the name in a book to be kept for that rpose, and erase the name from the list of voters of the municiity. The former duty is imposed by the next section; the latter, is apprehended, is an implied duty. So far as the returning ficer at an election is concerned, the list is final. See secs. 102, 103.

(z) It is presumed, for reasons given in the previous note, that the rk should also erase the name from the list of voters of the nicipality.

Judge of the County Court upon being served with the order of the County Court Judge directing his attendance (a) and upon payment of the necessary fees for his attendance, (b) in the same manner as if he had been directed by a writ of subpœna so to attend, and he may be punished for contempt, and shall be liable to all the penalties for such non-attendance

(a) The order should be intituled as of the proper Court and cause, and may be directed to the witnesses by name, and after reciting the power of the Judge to take evidence, might conclude as follows:—

You and each of you are hereby required to attend before me at —— on the —— day of —— A. D., 18— at the hour of —— o'clock in the——noon (or forthwith), to be examined as a witness in the matter of the said Petition and to attend the said Court until your examination shall have been completed.

As witness my hand.

Judge of the County Court.

This is the form of order in general use under the English Act of 1868, for the trial of controverted elections. Under that Act, counsel applied for an order for the attendance of one J. M. He stated that the process server had used every effort to serve him with a subpœna but without effect, though there was reason to believe he was in the house. The application was granted. Waterford Case, 2 O'M. & H. 3. In one case in proof by a witness that T. W. was keeping out of the way to avoid being served with a subpœna, application was made for an order for the attendance of his wife, who had not been subpœnaed, but the judge (Martin, B.) said that he had no power to grant such an order unless the wife had been subpœnaed. Norwich Case, 1 O'M. & H. 8. Upon another witness (Mrs. H., who had been subpœnaed as a witness) being called and not answering, the same learned Judge is reported to have said, "I will make an order for her to come. If witnesses will not come, I will immediately make an order for them to come." Ib. In one case where counsel for the respondent stated that he would require the attendance of a witness who had been previously called by the petitioners, (the learned Judge, Fitzgerald, B.,) said, "You had better write a letter to M., and he must be brought back at the respondent's expense." On the following day M. was called, but did not appear, and an order was granted for his attendance. Longford Case, 2 O'M. & H. 12. Where it was shewn that one of the hands on a steamboat, then at the wharf in the town, was a material witness, an order was made for his attendance; and upon the captain of the boat refusing to allow him to be served or to give any information about him, an order was made for the attendance of the captain. South Grenville Case, August, 1872, not reported on this point.

(b) When the witness, at the close of his examination, asked for his expenses, the Judge (Willes, J.) allowed him his expenses as he had been called by himself, but intimated that if any other witness desired to be paid his expenses, he should make the demand before he was sworn.

in the same manner as if he had been served with a subpœna. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 216.

Witnesses not excused from answering on grounds of self crimination or privilege.

219. No person shall be excused from answering any question put to him in any action, or other proceeding in any Court or before any Judge, touching or concerning any election, or by-law, or the conduct of any person thereat, or in relation thereto, on the ground of any privilege, or on the ground that the answer to the question will tend to criminate such person; (d) but no answer given by any person claiming to be excused on the ground of privilege, or on the ground that such answer will subject him to any penalty under this Act, shall be used in any proceeding under this Act, against such person, (e) if the Judge gives to the witness a certificate that he claimed the right to be excused on either of the grounds aforesaid, and made full and true answer, to the satisfaction of the Judge. (f) 46 V. c. 18, s. 217.

Proviso.

(c) Quære, should the process for contempt be issued by the Judge presiding at the trial, or from the office of the court in which the petition has been filed. Unless the former, there would be great delay in enforcing the attendance of a witness ordered to attend.

(d) At common law, a witness is entitled to refuse to answer any question that may tend to criminate him, not only because the answer itself might be evidence against him, on a criminal charge, but because it might furnish a link in the chain of testimony which might implicate him in such charge. See Keith v. Lynch, 19 Grant 497; See further, Emery's Case, 9 Am. 22; Reg. v. Roddy, 41 U. C. Q. B. 291. The object of this section is to infringe to a certain extent, on these principles of the common law. Election Committees, Judges, and Election Commissioners must make their inquiries among persons who are generally expected to be hostile and unwilling to tell the truth, and who, if the common law were left untouched, would be always entitled to say, "I will answer no such question," and so the inquiry would be baffled. Therefore the Legislature, has enacted that the tendency of the answer to expose the witness to a criminal charge, should not, be any excuse for not answering the question. See per Blackburn, J., in Reg. v. Hulme, L. R. 5 Q. B. 383, 384.

(e) The Legislature, having taken away from the witness the common law immunity against criminating himself, here gives him an immunity on certain conditions. Reg. v. Hulme, L. R. 5 Q. B. 384.

(f) If the witness has really complied with the conditions he is entitled to a certificate, and the Judge has no right to refuse it. Reg. v. Price, 22 L. T. N. S. 12. The conditions are not only that he claimed the certificate, but "made full and true answer to the satisfaction of the Judge." The obligation intended to be thrown Limitation of actions.

220. All proceedings other than an application in the nature of quo warranto against any person for any violation of section 209 or 210 of this Act, shall be commenced within four weeks after the municipal election at which the offence is said to have been committed, or within four weeks after the day of voting upon a by-law as aforesaid. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 218.

No statutory penalty for corrupt practices at elections, where the party charged has first prosecuted a party jointly liable.

221. No pecuniary penalty or forfeiture imposed by this Act or any other Act of the Legislature of Ontario, shall be recoverable for any act of bribery or corrupt practice at an election, in case it appears that the person charged and another person or other persons were together guilty of the act charged, either as giver and receiver, or as accomplices or otherwise, and that the person charged has previously bona fide prosecuted such other person or persons or any of them for the said act; but this provision shall not apply in upon the person who is called as witness is, that he shall make full and true answer to the question put to him. If the evidence given be false there is no protection, and the witness is undoubtedly liable to be prosecuted for perjury. See Reg. v. Brittle, L. R. 1 C. C. 248. A certificate in the following form: "We do hereby certify that J. H. was sworn and examined upon oath before us as such commissioners, and, upon such examination, was required by us to answer questions the answers to which tended to criminate him, and answered all such questions; but divers of the said answers to the said questions were unsatisfactory to us, and we believe were false, and false to the knowledge of him, the said J. H.,"—is not such a certificate as is required by the Act, and is no protection. Reg. v. Hulme, L. R. 5 Q. B. 386. A witness who has received a pardon under the Great Seal is not privileged from answering questions the replies to which may criminate him on the ground that actions for penalties, under the Corrupt Practices Prevention Act, are pending against him. Reg. v. Kinglake, 22 L. T. N. S. 316. The certificate only protects the witness from the effect of his own evidence and does not free him from the consequence of his own improper conduct.

(g) The time limited for a proceeding in the nature of a quo warranto is "six weeks after the election," or "one month after the acceptance of office" See sec. 188. This section is intended to apply to proceedings "other than an application in the nature of quo warranto" against any person for any violation of the sections mentioned. It is plain, therefore, that the mere fact of raising charges under the sections mentioned, in a quo warranto proceeding, is no ground for shortening the ordinary time allowed for such a proceeding. But where the proceeding intended is either an action for a penalty, or an information or indictment for the criminal offence, such proceeding must, in the case of an election, be taken "within four weeks after the municipal election," or, in the case of voting on a by-law, "within four weeks after the day of voting." As to computation of time, see note b to sec. 185.

case the Judge before whom the person claiming the benefit thereof is charged, certifies that it clearly appears to him that the person so charged took the first step towards the commission of the offence charged, and that such person was in fact the principal offender. 46 V. c. 18, s. 219.

222. The clerk of every municipality shall, prior to any election, or voting on any by-law, furnish every deputy-returning officer with at least two copies of the sections of this Act numbered from 209 to 222 inclusive, and it shall be the duty of the deputy-returning officer to post the same in conspicuous places at the polling place of the polling sub-division for which he is deputy-returning officer. (h) 46 V. c. 18, s. 220. Copies of ss. 209-222 to be posted up prior to election.

MEETINGS OF MUNICIPAL COUNCILS.

DIV. I.—WHEN AND WHERE HELD.
DIV. II.—CONDUCT OF BUSINESS.

DIV. I.—WHEN AND WHERE HELD.

First and subsequent meetings. Secs. 223-230.
Remuneration of members. Secs. 231, 232.

223. The members of every municipal council (except county councils) shall hold their first meeting at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, (i) on the third Monday of the same January in which they are elected, or on some day thereafter; (j) and the members of every county council shall First meetings of councils.

(h) The object of this provision is to bring home to the electors a knowledge of the highly penal character of the sections as to bribery and undue influence, in the hope that such knowledge will deter them from committing any such offence. The section is directory. See West Gwillimbury v. Simcoe, 20 Grant 211.

(i) An objection, that an election took place at six o'clock instead of at noon on the day appointed for the election, was held to be "too trivial to require serious notice." Reg. ex rel. Heenan v. Murray, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 104.

(j) The members of the Council are bound to know the day specially named for the first meeting. See In re Slavin and Orillia,

No business before declarations of office, etc.

224. No business shall be proceeded with at the first meeting of the council, until the declarations of office and qualification have been administered to all the members who present themselves to take the same. (m) 46 V. c. 18, s. 222.

36 U. C. Q. B. 159. But if the meeting be held on a subsequent day, it would appear to be only reasonable, in order to prevent surprise, that notice should be given of the subsequent day. Rex v. Liverpool, 2 Burr. 731; Rex v. Doncaster, Ib. 743; Rex v. Theodorick, 8 East 543; Rex v. May, 5 Burr. 2682; Rex v. Grimes, Ib. 2601; Musgrave v. Nevinson, 1 Str. 584; Kynaston v. Shrewsbury, 2 Str. 1051; Rex v. Hill, 4 B. & C. 441; Smyth v. Darley, 2 H. L. Cas. 789; see further, Rex v. Faversham, 8 T. R. 352; Rex v. Langhorn, 4 A. & E. 538. Where two members of a village council, being a minority of the whole number when full, met, but, in the absence of the three remaining members, were unable to proceed to business, and on a subsequent day the remaining three members without notice to the two members met and elected one of themselves to be reeve, the election, in the absence of proof of want of bona fides, was maintained. Reg. ex rel. Hyde v. Bernhart, 7 U. C. L. J. 126.

(k) See note i to this section.

(m) It is apprehended that before appointing a presiding officer, when necessary to do so, the members ought to take the necessary declarations. Such an election would, it is believed, be deemed "business" within the meaning of this section. The members of a county council, "after making the declarations of office and qualification when required to be taken," organize themselves as a council by electing a warden. See notes to sec. 225.

(n) Thus, assuming the whole number of members of the council to be twelve, there must be seven present to constitute a quorum. Reg. ex rel. Evans v. Starratt, 7 U. C. C. P. 487. So that an election by six in such a case, though unanimous would be void. See Lockwood v. Mechanics' National Bank, 11 Am. 253. Acts done with less than a legal quorum are generally void. Rex v. Bellringer, 4 T. R. 810; Rex v. Miller, 6 T. R. 268; Reg. ex rel. Evans v. Starratt, 7 U. C. C. P. 487; see also Price v. R. W. Co., 13 Ind. 58; Ferguson v. Crittenden, 1 Eng. (Ark.) 479; Logansport v. Legg, 20 Ind. 31[illegible]; McCracken v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 591; Piemental v. San Francisco, 21 Cal. 351. But in one case the Court, in the exercise of its discretion, refused to quash a by-law upon proof that a quorum was not present at the time of its passing. Sutherland v. East Nissouri, and after making the declarations of office and qualification when required to be taken, (o) organize themselves as a U. C. Q. B. 626. The Court will presume, until the contrary be clearly shown, that there was a quorum present at the doing of a corporate act. Citizens' Mutual Fire Ins. Co. v. Sortwell, 8 Allen (Mass.) 217; See also Southworth v. Palmyra and Jackson R. W. Co., 2 Mich. 287. Quære, suppose seven present, in the case put of twelve members, would the vote of four be a valid election under this section. This depends on the question whether a majority of the quorum is all that is necessary. It cannot be said that those who vote against a man elect him to office. If three vote against him and four for him, and the latter be sufficient, he would be elected by four when seven are present, when an election by six, when six only are present, would not be sufficient. The question is whether, to entitle a man to the position of warden, he should not have the voices of, in other words, be elected by, a majority of the council when full. Reading this section in connection with sec. 227, it would seem that a majority of the quorum is all that is necessary. See Southworth v. Palmyra and Jackson R. W. Co., 2 Mich. 287; see also Ex parte Wilcocks, 7 Cow. (N.Y.) 402; Buell v. Buckingham, 16 Iowa 284; Regents, &c. v. Williams, 9 Gill & Johns. (Md.) 365; Mills v. Gleason, 11 Wis. 470. A majority of those present, when legally assembled, binds the rest. Rex v. Monday, Cowp. 530, 538; Rex v. Devonshire, 1 B. & C. 609; Rex v. Bower, Ib. 492; Rex v. May 4 B. & Ad. 843; Rex v. Greet, 8 B. & C. 363; Rex v. Headley, 7 B. & C. 496; see also Reg. ex rel. Hyde v. Barnhart, 7 U. C. L. J. 126; Reg. ex rel. Heenan v. Murray, 1 U. C. L. J. N. S. 104.

(o) No reeve or deputy reeve is allowed "to take his seat" until he has filed with the clerk of the county council a certificate of the clerk of the local council, under the corporate seal, that such reeve or deputy reeve was duly elected, and made and subscribed the declarations of office and qualification as such reeve or deputy-reeve, sec. 65. In the case of a deputy-reeve, a declaration as to the number of persons on the voter's list is also required. Ib. The filing of these papers, and the making of the declarations of office and qualification, when required, are conditions precedent to the election, In re Hawk and Ballard, 3 U. C. C. P. 241; see also Reg. ex rel. McManus v. Ferguson, 2 U. C. L. J. N. S. 23. When the reeve or deputy-reeve has taken his seat, he cannot prevent the carriage of a vote by merely retiring from the council after a motion has been made. Reg. ex rel. Heenan v. Murray, 3 P. R. 345. But see The People v. Whiteside, 23 Wend. (N. Y.) 9; S. C. 26 Wend. (N. Y.) 634. When four members of a village council, being at least a majority of the whole number of the council when full, met, and at their first meeting a resolution, naming one of them as reeve, was put and seconded, and no dissent expressed, whereupon the clerk, in the hearing of all, but while two of the members were retiring from the council chamber, declared the resolution carried, the reeve was held to be duly elected. Reg. ex rel. Heenan v. Murray, 3 P. R. 345. It is said that if a majority of the members present dissent from an election, but do not vote for any other than the person proposed, the election will be valid. See Cotton v. Davies, council by electing one of themselves to be warden. (p) 46 V. c. 18, s. 223.

Who to preside at election.

226. At every such election the clerk of the council shall preside, and if there is no clerk, the members present shall select one of themselves to preside, and the person selected may vote as a member. (q) 46 V. c. 18, s. 224.

Who to have the casting votes in the event of equality of votes.

227. In case of an equality of votes on the election of the head of any county council, or provisional county council, then of those present, the reeve, or in his absence the deputy-reeve of the municipality which for the preceding year had the greatest equalized assessment, shall have a second and casting vote. If a majority of the whole council, when full, be present and vote, it is of no consequence whether the minority were notified or not. Reg. ex rel. Hyde v. Barnhart, 7 U. C. L. J. 126, even though the election take place at a meeting subsequent to the day fixed by the statute for the holding of the election. Ib.

(p) What is meant by organizing themselves as a council by electing one of themselves to be warden? The council is a body; the warden is the head thereof. To organize, in such a case, must mean so to bring the parts together as to constitute a body, and this organization is perfected when the head is constituted. But unless the parts come together there can be no such organization. If the members refuse to take their seats, or act as members of the council, members refusing cannot be said to organize themselves. But members not desirous of being counted as of the quorum ought to absent themselves. So long as present, although for the purpose of protesting that they should not be counted, they may be counted as of the quorum. See Reg. ex rel. Rose v. Beach, argued before Mr. Dalton, May 8th, 1873, affirmed by Gwynne, J. It is believed that a member de facto elected warden, is entitled to hold the office until removed by proper process of a proper Court. See Wandsworth and Putney Gas Light and Coke Co. v. Wright 22 L. T. N. S. 404; See also Citizens Mutual Fire Insurance Co. v. Sortwell, 8 Allan, (Mass.) 217.

(q) There must be a meeting, at which the clerk is to preside. See Small ex rel. Walker v. Biggar, 4 U. C. Q. B. 497. When the members have met for the purpose of electing a warden, the clerk of the council is to preside at the meeting. If there be no clerk, the members present are enabled to elect one of themselves to preside. Such member may, however, vote, but not have a casting vote unless he happen to be the reeve or deputy-reeve of the municipality which for the preceding year had the greatest equalized assessment. See sec. 227.

(r) See note j to sec. 157.

228. The members of every county council shall hold their first meeting at the county hall if there is one, or otherwise at the county court house. (s) 46 V. c. 18, s. 226. Place of first meeting.

229. The subsequent meetings of the county council, and all the meetings of every other council shall be held at such place, either within or without the municipality, as the council from time to time, by resolution on adjourning to be entered on the minutes, or by by-law, appoints. (t) 46 V. c. 18, s. 227. Place of subsequent meeting of county council, etc.

230. The council of any county or township in which any city, town, or incorporated village lies, may hold its sittings, keep its public offices, and transact all the business of the council and of its officers and servants within such city, town or incorporated village, and may purchase and hold such real property therein as may be convenient for such purposes. (v) 46 V. c. 18, s. 228. Place of meeting may be in cities, etc.

(s) The object of stating place as well as time of the first meeting is to prevent surprise. See notes to sec. 223. Subsequent meetings, as to time and place, may be regulated by adjournments. See sec. 229.

(t) The object of this section would seem to be to enable a county council, to sit in a city or town that has been separated from the county when the proper county buildings are situate therein and are owned by the county. But the language "every other council," is broad enough to admit of any municipal council holding sittings elsewhere than within the municipality. The section has not yet been judically interpreted. The meetings are to be held "at such place," &c., as the council, from time to time, by resolution on adjourning, to be entered on the minutes, or by by-law, appoints. It is apprehended that an established place of meeting would be by by-law, and that, in the absence of any such by-law, the place may be determined for the next meeting by resolution on adjourning, at which time there would be no opportunity of passing a by-law. Strictly speaking, there ought to be either a by-law fixing a permanent place, or a resolution from time to time entered at each adjournment. See In re Pafford and Lincoln, 24 U. C. Q. B. 16.

(v) Municipal corporations are within the operation of the Statutes of Mortmain. Brown v. McNab, 20 Grant 179. And these Statutes are held to be in force in Ontario, Corporation of Whitby v. Loscombe, 22 Grant 203; 23 Grant 1. See further, Doe d. Anderson v. Todd, 1 U. C. Q. B. 82; Doe d. Vancott v. Read, 3 U. C. Q. B. 44; Hallock v. Wilson, 7 U. C. C. P. 28; Mercer v. Hewston, 7 U. C. C. P. 349. And this being so, the power can only properly be exercised in the limited manner in which it is conferred, i.e., to

231. The council of every township and county may pass by-laws for paying the members of the council for their attendance in council, or any member while attending on committee of the council, at a rate not exceeding $3 per diem, and five cents per mile necessarily travelled (to and from) for such attendance. purchase and hold such real property as may be convenient for the purposes mentioned. See Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed. s. 560, et seq. But the right to hold is not one that can ordinarily arise as between vendor and vendee. See Becher v. Woods, 16 U. C. C. P. 29; Belleville v. Judd, Ib. 397; Orford v. Bailey, 12 Grant 276. Where the town council of a borough contracted to purchase property held under a sub-lease of a portion of lands comprised in a lease of land demised by the owner of the fee and which were thus subject to a rent in addition to the rent reserved in the sub-lease, and to the covenants and conditions in the original lease it was held that it would be a breach of trust to purchase lands, the interest in which might be lost by default of others. Mulholland v. Belfast, 9 Ir. Ch. Rep. 292.

(w) A by-law directing payment of $30 to each councillor, "being $20 for services as councillor, and $10 for services for letting and superintending repairs of roads," is bad. In re Blaikie and Hamilton, 25 U. C. Q. B. 469. Over payments may be recovered back by the municipality. St. Vincent v. Grier, 13 Grant 173. The council is not to be confounded with the corporation. It is the governing body acting on behalf of the corporation for the particular year. It is, moreover, a fluctuating body; the council for one year not being identical with the council for another year, and not to be so looked upon even though it should happen to be composed of the same persons. Per Robinson, C. J., in East Nissouri v. Horseman, 16 U. C. Q. B. 583. The members of the council are not the corporation, but the agents of the corporation for the affairs and funds of the corporation. When these agents are proved to misappropriate the funds of the corporation, an action will lie against them to recover it back, and when that misappropriation is mixed up with what may have been rightfully paid, it is but right, in order to operate as a safeguard to the corporation, to cast the burthen of proof on the agent, to separate from the appropriation he has received the portion which he would be legally entitled to take. Per Burns J., Ib. 588; Blakie v. Staples, 13 Grant 67. And it would be well for those who take part in the illegal appropriation of public moneys to reflect that there is not only a civil but a criminal remedy. Per Robinson, C. J., in Daniels v. Burford, 10 U. C. Q. B. 48. See further, Baxter v. Kerr, 23 Grant 367. The law attaches the liability of trustees to municipal councillors, Morrow v. Connor, P. R. 423. The treasurer should not pay money on any or every draft and order which the reeve for the time being may direct him to pay. The township moneys will probably be considered as still in his hands, unless paid out on a proper legal authority, for purposes contemplated and authorized by law, at least until he has received formal acquittance and discharge from the municipality.

232. The head of the council of any county, city, town or incorporated village may be paid such annual sum or other remuneration as the council of the municipality may determine. (x) 46 V. c. 18, s. 230. Remuneration of mayor, etc.

Nor should he pay money on an illegal order or resolution, for an Act of Parliament should be regarded by him as a higher authority than the resolution or by-law of a corporation created by Act of Parliament. Per Robinson, C. J., in Daniels v. Burford, 10 U. C. Q. B. 481. And if a treasurer so pay money on an illegal order or resolution, he would be probably subject to criminal prosecution: per Robinson, C. J., in East Nissouri v. Horseman, 16 U. C. C. Q. B. 530; but not now liable to any action at law for moneys paid by him in accordance with a by-law or resolution of the council. Sec. 230. It was, under the old statutes, held, that under power to remunerate municipal officers, the members of the council had no power to remunerate themselves. See note a to sec. 278.

(x) The office of mayor is in many cases a very onerous and responsible position, and one which subjects the incumbent to many obvious and unavoidable expenses. See sec. 244. It is only proper, therefore, that some provision should be made for the remuneration of a person holding such a position. Before 1873, there was no power to make such a provision. See note a to sec. 278. The power now conferred on the council is to pay "such annual sum or other remuneration" as the council may determine. The grant should not be made in the shape of a gratuity for services rendered in several years previous to the making of it. See McLean and The Town of Cornwall, 31 U. C. Q. B. 314. The determination should, it is apprehended, be made by by-law, and made to take effect only for the future. Ib. The section was, by 40 Vict. ch. 7, Sch. The heads of councils to preside.

Special meetings.

236.--(1) The head of every council shall preside at the meetings of council, (d) and may at any time summon a special meeting thereof, and it shall be his duty to summon a special meeting whenever requested in writing by a majority of the members of the council. (e) 46 V. c. 18, s. 234.

(a) It is one of the essential qualities of a Court of Justice, that its proceedings be public, and all parties who may be desirous of hearing what is going on, if there be room in the place for that purpose, provided they do not interrupt the proceedings, and provided there be no other kind of improper conduct, have a right to be present and hear what is going on. Per Bayley, J., in Dubney v. Cooper, 10 B. & C. 240. This rule is to its fullest extent to be applied to ordinary meetings of every municipal council.

(b) See note n to sec. 225.

(c) Where there were four councillors present at the passing of a by-law, the reeve put the motion, two of the council declared themselves in favour of it, and the third made no objection, the Court refused to quash the by-law. In re Mallough and Ashfield, 6 U. C. C. P. 158. Where four out of the five members of a village council were shareholders in a trading company to which the municipality granted a bonus, the by-law was set aside. In re Baird and Almonte 41 U. C. (d) It is not only the right but the duty of the head of the council to preside at its meetings. In the event of the right being denied, legal proceedings may be instituted to enforce it. See Rex v. Williams, 1 Burr. 402; Commonwealth v. Arrison, 15 Serg. & Rawle (Pa.) 130. But the question cannot in general be determined as a collateral inquiry in an existing suit. See Dillon on municipal corporations, 3rd Ed., s. 272. If the head of the council refuse to put a motion which it is his duty to put, he may be voted out of the chair. In re Preston and The Township of Manvers, 21 U. C. Q. B. 626; or the members may vote on the motion without it being put from the chair. Brock v. Toronto and Nipissing R. W. Co., 17 Grant. 425.

Summoning of special meetings in absence of the Mayor, etc.

(2) In the absence or death of the mayor or head of the council, a special meeting may be summoned at any time by the clerk upon a special requisition to him, signed by a majority of the members of the council. 47 V. c. 32, s. 6.

Special meetings, where to be held.

237. In case there is no by-law of a council fixing the place of meeting, any special meeting of the council shall be held at the place where the then last meeting of the council was held, (f) and a special meeting may be open or closed as in the opinion of the council, expressed by resolution in writing, the public interest requires. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 235.

May be either open or closed.

In case of the death or absence of the head of a town council, the reeve, and in case of the absence or death of both of them, the deputy-reeve, and in case of the death or absence of the head of a village or township council, the deputy-reeve shall preside at the meetings of the council, and may at any time summon a special meeting thereof; but if there be more than one deputy-reeve, the council shall determine which of them shall preside at their meeting. (f) See note t to s. 229.

(g) Ordinary meetings of the council are to be open to the public, s. 233, but power is given to the council under this section to have their special meetings in private when in the opinion of the council expressed by resolution in writing the public interest requires it.

such absence, shall have all the powers of the head of the council. (i) 46 V. c. 18, s. 237.

Casual absence provided for.

240. If the person who ought to preside at any meeting (j) does not attend within fifteen minutes after the hour appointed, the members present may appoint a chairman from amongst themselves, and such chairman shall have the same authority in presiding at the meeting as the absent person would have had if present. (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 238.

Head may vote.

Question negatived in cases of equality of votes.

241. The head of the council, or the presiding officer or chairman of any meeting of any council, may vote with the other members on all questions, (l) and any question on which there is an equality of votes shall be deemed to be negatived. (m) 46 V. c. 18, s. 239.

Adjournment.

242. Every council may adjourn its meetings from time to time. (o) 46 V. c. 18, s. 240.

(i) If any of the officers mentioned in the preceding section happen to be present at a meeting, each such officer is, according to the order mentioned, entitled to preside and bound to do so. But if none of the officers named be present, a presiding officer may be elected from among the members to act during the absence of the officer named. The section contemplates absence by leave or illness. In such case a presiding officer (commonly called the president of the council) is appointed. The next section contemplates absence from only one meeting when a chairman for that meeting or until the arrival of the proper presiding officer is to be appointed.

(j) This may mean the head of the council, or, in his absence, one of the officers named in secs. 238, 239. See preceding note.

(k) This part of the section is silent as to the duration of the authority. But it is apprehended that the authority would cease on the presence of the officer "who ought to preside."

(l) The general import of the words used deserves attention. Apparently no question can come before the council or meeting, on which the presiding officer or chairman is disentitled to vote. There is no exception of any kind in the enactment. The right to vote is given "on all questions." Its exercise on any particular question, perhaps affecting the conduct of the presiding officer or chairman himself, is left entirely in his own discretion.

(m) An exception to this rule, recognized in the Act, is that which allows a casting vote in the election of the head of a county council. See sec. 227. Another is where united counties make provision for improvements in one of the counties separately. Sec. 516.

(o) Adjourned meetings are generally held for the purpose of completing the unfinished business of a preceding meeting. It is also able, therefore, in the case of an ordinary adjournment, to transact any business that might have been lawfully transacted at

OFFICERS OF MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

Div. I.—The Head.
Div. II.—The Clerk.
Div. III.—The Treasurer.

Div. V.—Auditors and Audit.
Div. VI.—Valuators.
Div. VII.—Duties of Officers respecting Oaths and Declarations.

Who to be. Sec. 243.
Duties. Sec. 244.

243. The head of every county and provisional corporation shall be the warden thereof, and of every city and town the mayor thereof, and of every township and incorporated village the reeve thereof. (r) 46 V. c. 18, s. 241. Who to be head of council.

244. The head of the council shall be chief executive officer of the corporation; (s) and it shall be his duty to be Duties of head of council.

preceding meeting, but which was not transacted for want of time or opportunity to do so. See Rex v. Harris, 1 B. & Ad. 936; Scadding v. Lorant, 3 H. L. Cas. 418; Smith v. Law, 21 N. Y. 296; People ex rel. Loew v. Batchelor, 22 N. Y. 128; People v. Martin, 1 Seld. (N. Y.) 22.

(r) It is said that at common law corporations have power to appoint such officers as the nature of their constitution requires. Gardner's Co. v. Passey, 1 Burr. 237; Hasting's Case, 1 Mod. 23; Rex v. Barnard, Comb. 416. But by this Act provision is made for the appointment of the principal officers of a municipal corporation, and so the implied power, if it exist at all, should be sparingly exercised. See Hoboken v. Harrison, 1 Vroom. (N.J.) 73; White v. Gallman, 2 Dutch. (N. J.) 67; see also People v. Bedell, 2 Hill (N. Y.) 196; Field v. Girard College, 54 Pa. St. 233. There are various differences between such officers as are enumerated in this section and subordinate officers. See In re McLean v. Cornwall, 31 U. C. Q. B. 314. But municipal councils may appoint such officers as are necessary for the affairs of the corporation, or for carrying into effect the provisions of any Act of the Legislature or by-law of the corporation. Sec. 479.

(s) Experience has demonstrated the necessity of more power and more responsibility in the executive head of our municipal institutions. Too often the duties of the mayor or the chief executive officer are only nominal, and to these he gives but little attention—vigilant and active at all times in causing the law for the government of the municipality to be duly executed and put in force; to inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers in the government thereof, and, as far as may be in his power, to cause all negligence, carelessness and positive violation of duty, to be duly prosecuted and punished, and to communicate from time to time to the council all such information, and recommend such measures within the powers of the council as may tend to the improvement of the finances, health, security, cleanliness, comfort and ornament of the municipality. a natural result of his want of importance and of his inability to control the administration of municipal affairs. If the office be clothed with dignity and real authority; if the mayor shall be invested with the veto power; if he shall have the sole right to appoint and the unrestricted power to suspend or remove subordinate officials or heads of departments;—then the citizens can justly demand of him that he shall be individually responsible for the proper conduct of the concerns of the municipality, and if grievances exist they will know to whom to apply for remedy, and on whom to fix the blame. Dillon's Municipal Corporations, 3d. ed. sec. 13. Mayors of our cities and towns have responsibility without power, and the result is a lax administration of affairs, too often combining inefficiency with extravagance and waste.

(t) Much of the happiness of the inhabitants of a city or town depends upon the prudent management of the finances, the preservation of health, the proper repair of roads, and the ornamentation of the municipality. The inhabitants of all municipalities have more or less, these wants in common. By-laws to secure these objects are generally passed but seldom enforced; the consequence is, the reverse of all that is desirable in municipal government. It is by this section made the duty of heads of councils to be vigilant and active in the performance of just such duties as above suggested.

Other duties, not necessary to be here particularized, are sometimes cast upon heads of corporations. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed., sec. 209.

By this Act the head of the council of a city, town or incorporated village may be paid such annual or other remuneration as the council may determine. See sec. 232. The mayor of a city or town is ex officio a Justice of the Peace: sec. 415, and, where there is no Police Magistrate, has jurisdiction to hear and determine prosecutions for offences against by-laws: sec. 416, and, under particular circumstances is authorized to call out the posse comitatus to enforce the law within the municipality, should exigencies require it. Sec. 478.

Records and papers may be inspected. Sec. 247.
Return of statistics. Sec. 248.

245. Every council shall appoint a clerk ; (a) and the clerk shall truly record in a book, without note or comment, all resolutions, decisions and other proceedings of the council, and, if required by any member present, shall record the name and vote of every member voting on any matter submitted, and shall keep the books, records and accounts of the council, and shall preserve and file all accounts acted upon by the council, and also the originals or certified copies of all by-laws, and of all minutes of the proceedings of the council, all of which he shall so keep in his office, or in the place appointed by by-law of the council. (b) 46 V. c. 18, s. 243. Appointment of clerk, and his duties.

246. The council may by resolution provide that, in case Provision for absence, &c., of clerk.

(a) It is made the duty of the council to appoint a clerk. Convenience, if not duty, however, will at all times render one necessary. Beverley v. Barlow, 7 U. C. L. J. 117 Quære, are the offices of clerk and treasurer so incompatible as to make it illegal for the same person to hold both offices. See note k to sec. 179. In the Eng. Stat. 4 Will. IV, cap. 101, s. 18, there is an express prohibition against appointing the same person to both offices. See Hawkings v. Newman, 4 M. & W, 613.

(b) There are many other duties besides those mentioned in this section imposed upon the clerk by this Act. The clerk while in office, can only charge the council by acts within the scope of his general authority, or by such as the council beforehand directed or afterwards sanctioned. Ramsay v. Western District Council, 4 U. C. Q. B. 4. He may amend an erroneous record. Scammond v. Scammond, 1 Fost. (N. H.) 429; Cass v. Bellows, 11 Fost. (N. H.) 501 ; Harris v. School District, 8 Fost. (N. But in a proper case the council might direct the amendment to be made. Hutchinson v. Pratt, 11 Vt. 402. Where an amendment is made, and it should not be attempted unless absolutely necessary, it should be made with the sanction of the superior officer or of the council, and in such a manner as to be easily distinguished from the original text. See Pierce v. Richardson, 37 N. H. 306. Minutes, etc., to be open to inspection.

247. Any person may inspect any of the particulars aforesaid, (d) as well as the assessment rolls, voters' lists, poll books, and other documents in the possession of or under the control of the clerk, at all seasonable times, (e) and the clerk shall, within a reasonable time, furnish copies thereof to any applicant at the rate of ten cents per hundred words, or at such lower rates as the council appoints, and shall, on payment of the proper fee therefor, furnish within a reasonable time, to any elector of the municipality, or to any other person interested in any by-law, order or resolution, or to his solicitor, a copy of such by-law, order or resolution, certified under his hand and under the corporate seal. (f) 46 V. c. 18, s. 245.

Copies to be furnished and charges therefor, etc.

Returns to be made to Bureau of Industries.

248.—(1) The clerk of every municipality shall in each year, within one week after the final revision of the assessment roll, (g) under a penalty of $20 in case of default,

(c) The council has an implied power, in case of the temporary absence of the clerk, to appoint a person to discharge his duties. See Rex v. Mothersell, 1 Str. 93; Hutchinson v. Pratt, 11 Vt. 402.

(d) See note b to sec. 245.

(e) It is the right of any inhabitant of the municipality to inspect the records, books and other documents of the corporation on proper occasions: Rex v. Shelley, 3 T. R. 142; Rex v. Babb, Ib., 579; Harrison v. Williams, 3 B. & C. 162; Rogers v. Jones, 5 D. & R. 484. And it is a right which may be enforced by mandamus. Rex v. Newcastle, 2 Str. 1223; Rex v. Lucas, 10 East 235; Rex v. Purnell, 1 Wils. 242; Rex v. Bridgeman, 2 Str. 1203; People v. Cornell, 4 Barb. (N. Y.) 329.

(f) No provision is made for the funding of these fees by the clerk; and there is no declaration making the fees his own. In the absence of some by-law or resolution authorizing him to keep them it would, it is presumed, be his duty to pay them over to the corporation. See Reg. v. Cumberlege, 36 L. T. N. S. 700.

(g) The duty of the clerk is to make the return required under the penalty named. The machinery of municipal government assumes that certain things are done by certain days in the municipal year so that other things may in their order follow. Municipal officers cannot, therefore, regard provisions as to time with too much strictness. But if the thing required to be done within the time limited

Moneys payable to municipalities in default to be retained.

(3) The Treasurer of the Province shall retain in his hands any moneys payable to any municipality, if it is certified to him by the secretary of the Bureau of Industries, that the clerk of such municipality has not made the returns hereby required. 50 V. c. 29, ss. 13-15.

It is no doubt, important that it should be done within the time limited; but "it is still more important that it should be done; and therefore if, owing to some uncontrollable circumstances, it is not done on the proper day, it ought to be done on the next or some other." Per Pollock, C. Smith v. Collingwood, 19 U. C. Q. B. 259. Where a treasurer was re-appointed annually for several years, it was held that the re-appointments were not equivalent to removals and re-appointments but were rather a retention in office of the same treasurer, and that his sureties were not in consequence thereof discharged. Corporation of Adjala v. McElroy, 9 O. Where a bond, instead of using the words in the statute, limited the responsibility to moneys coming into the treasurer's hands, applicable to the general uses of the municipality, it was held that Clergy Reserve moneys and money derived from the distribution of the Provincial surplus which had by by-law been specifically appropriated to educational purposes, were not within the condition of the bond, and that the operation of the bond was not extended by R. S. O. 1877 c. 180, s. 213 and c. 204, s. 221. Oakland v. Proper, 1 O. R. 330.

appointment cannot be set up as a defence to an action on a bond where moneys have been collected. Hoboken v. Harrison, 1 Vroom. The imposition of additional taxes to those assessed at the time of taking the security and the increase of risk thereby, has been held not to violate a bond given for the general performance of duties and payment of moneys. Beverley v. Barlow, 10 U. C. C. P. 178. Nor is it a defence that the money received by the treasurer was not demanded by the Government, which was entitled thereto. Essex v. Park, 11 U. C. C. P. 473. It has been held that sureties for an officer whose term is limited to a year, are not liable beyond the year, though the officer continue by law till his successor is appointed. Reg. ex rel. Ford v. McRae, 5 P. R. 369; Dover v. Twombly, 42 N. H. 59; Clemsford Co. v. Demorest, 7 Gray (Mass.) 1.

(k) This is a most important duty, but, it is believed, one of the most neglected of all duties imposed on councils. It may be that if the municipality lose the benefit of their security by reason of a neglect to perform this duty on the part of the members of the council, the latter could be made liable to make good the loss. One of the sureties of a treasurer being desirous of being relieved from his suretyship, the treasurer offered to the council a new surety in his place. The council thereupon passed a resolution approving of the new surety, and declaring that on the completion of the necessary bonds the withdrawing surety should be relieved. No further act on the part of the council took place. But the treasurer and his new surety (omitting the second surety) joined in a bond conditioned for the due performance of the treasurer's duties for the future, and the treasurer executed a mortgage to the same effect. The clerk, on receiving these, gave up to the treasurer the old bond and the treasurer destroyed it. Eight years afterwards a false charge was discovered in the accounts of the treasurer of a date prior to these transactions, and it was held that the sureties on the first bond were responsible for it. Frontenac v. Breden, 17 Grant. 645.

(l) In an action by a municipal corporation against their treasurer on his bond, it appeared that the corporation had a contract with one E. to build bridges for them. E. got the reeve to endorse his note for $600, which was discounted by defendant at a bank, of money from such treasurer for any work performed or to be

which he was agent, as well as treasurer of the municipality. A few days afterwards another note for $400, made by E. and endorsed by other persons—one a member of the corporation—was discounted at the same bank. When these notes were about to fall due, a meeting of the council took place, at which defendant was present, and the reeve swore that it was then understood that the council should assume these two notes, and he thought the defendant was authorized to charge them both to the corporation; but other councillors examined did not agree with the reeve in their recollection of what took place; and the only resolution or minute in writing was, that the council should give their note for $700, to be used in the bank by the defendant. This note was accordingly made by the reeve, and endorsed by the other members. Held, that under these facts the treasurer had no right to charge the council with the remaining $300. Ingersoll v. Chadwick, 19 U. C. Q. B. 278. In an account rendered by defendant to the council, this $1,000 was charged as paid to E., and it was asserted the council made subsequent payments to him, assuming the account to be correct. But, held, that assuming this to be the case, of which there was some question, the council, by omitting to notice or object to this item, were not bound to pay it. Ib. If the treasurer chooses to act upon the construction which he puts upon or the inferences which he draws from mere conversations among members of the council which may take place in his presence, he does so at his own risk. Ib. 285, per Robinson, C. J. The treasurer should not pay money on any or every draft and order which the reeve for the time being may direct him to pay. The township moneys will probably be considered as still in his hands unless paid out on a proper legal authority, for purposes contemplated and authorized by law, at least until he has received a formal acquittance and discharge from the municipality. East Nissouri v. Horseman, 9 U. C. C. P. 191, per Draper, C. J. Nor should he pay money on an illegal order or resolution, for an Act of Parliament should be regarded by him as a higher authority than the resolution or by-law of a corporation, Per Robinson, C. J., in Daniels v. Burford, 10 U. C. Q. B. 481; and if a treasurer so pay money on an illegal order or resolution, he would be probably subject to criminal prosecution, per Robinson, C. J., in East Nissouri v Horseman, 16 U. C. Q. B. 580. Where the treasurer of a municipality kept his money in his house, there being no proper place for depositing the same provided by the municipality, and no bank in the county within 35 miles, it was held that he was not liable to make good the amount of loss sustained by the accidental burning of his house and the destruction therein of moneys of the municipality. Corporation of Houghton v. Freeland, 26 Grant. 500.

But where persons entrusted with the administration of a fund have incurred legitimate and proper expenses thrown upon them by their fiduciary situation they have a right to reimburse themselves out of the funds. See Rex v. Inhabitants of Essex, 4 T. may be restrained. Attorney-General v. Aspinall, 2 M. & C. 613. A by-law declaring that the officers of the corporation shall be indemnified for all lawful acts done in an official capacity is not illegal. Irwin v. Mariposa, 22 U. C. C. P. 367.

(m) It is against the policy of the law that a member of a council, who is a trustee for the people, should have any contracts with the corporation, and so be in a position to make a profit out of his trust. See note p to sec. 77.

(n) The first part of the section makes it the duty of the treasurer to pay out money in such manner as the laws of the Province and the lawful by-laws or resolutions of the council direct. But in order to relieve the treasurer from the responsibility of deciding what by-laws or resolutions are or are not legal, it is provided that he shall not be liable to an action for "any moneys paid by him in accordance with any by-law or resolution passed by the council of the municipality." In other words, the by-law or resolution, whether legal or illegal, if requiring him to pay the money, is a protection to him. This part of the section is, it is believed, designed to relieve treasurers from the embarrassment indicated, and if not so read will contradict the first part of the section.

252—(1) The treasurer of every municipality shall, on or before the first day of May in each year, under a penalty of $20 in case of default, furnish to the secretary of the Bureau of Industries, Toronto, on schedules or forms furnished by said secretary and approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, such information or statistics regarding the finances or accounts of the municipality, as such schedules or forms call for.

(o) The moneys of the municipality should be by the treasurer deposited and kept to "the credit of the corporation," and not to his own credit. They should be kept in a separate account and not be mixed up with the treasurer's private money. Peers v. Oxford, 17 Grant. 472. Most of the losses which municipalities have sustained have arisen through the misconduct of their treasurers, being tempted to use and using the money of the corporation for purposes of speculation or otherwise as their own. The only safe course for a treasurer to adopt is to keep strict account of the moneys entrusted to his charge, and on no account whatever to touch it, except for corporation purposes. A county treasurer, had through a misapprehension of what was the proper course, been allowed to mix all county money with his own, and had used for his private purposes a large sum of money received in that way. In this state of things he had occasion to give the corporation a new bond, with two new sureties. Shortly afterwards it was ascertained that he was not able to pay his balance to the corporation. The sureties filed a bill to be relieved from their bond, on the ground of the treasurer's misconduct, and of the uncommunicated knowledge of that misconduct by the representatives of the corporation at the time the bond was given; but the court being of opinion that most of the facts relied on as proving misconduct were known to the sureties, and that no information had been withheld from them fraudulently, held the bond to be valid Ib. See Gananoque v. Stunden, 1 O. R. 1; Corporation of Adjala v. McElroy, 9 O. R. 580. A surety cannot get rid of liability on the ground of having become surety in ignorance of material facts, unless he can shew the information was fraudulently withheld from him. East Zorra v. Douglass, 17 Grant 462. So the fact that the council tacitly permits the treasurer to mix the moneys of the municipality with his own is not of itself any defence to the sureties. Ib. See also Rawdon v. Ward, 27 U. C. Q. B. 609.

(w) This provision for the appointment of a board of assessors is restricted in its operation to cities. The object of the provision is to secure, as much as possible, efficiency, economy and uniformity of assessment. Different men have different ideas as to value. It has been found that when assessors in the different wards of a city act independently of each other, property in some wards is assessed higher than in others. For remedy provision is made for the constitution of a board of assessors. The board is made to consist of an assessment commissioner, assessors and valuators. The commissioner is appointed by the council, and the assessors and valuators by the commissioner, acting in conjunction with the

The commissioner, assessors and valuators, like other officers of the corporation hold office during pleasure. It is not necessary, therefore, that they should, be appointed or elected annually.

(x) See sec. 279 and notes thereto.

(y) The office of assessment commissioner is one of considerable importance. Taxes should be as small as possible, as uniform as possible and collected at as little expense as possible. It is believed by those who favour such an office that there will be more efficiency, more economy, and more uniformity than under the old system.

(a) See note p to sec. 225.

(b) The council is to appoint two auditors annually, but one of them is to be a person nominated by the head of the council. Hence it will be seen that a nomination by the head of the council, though not in terms an appointment, is, under this section, in effect the same.

260.—(1) The council of any city which shall pass a by-law declaring that it is expedient to appoint its auditors in the month of December in each year, shall, while such by-law remains in force, and in the month of December in each year, instead of at its first meeting after being duly organized, appoint two auditors. 47 V. c. 32, s. 7 (1). the case of the City of Toronto, is because of the magnitude and multiplicity of the yearly accounts of that municipality. One of the advantages of having two auditors is, that where they act independently of each other they may check each other's work.

(g) The words "under its control or within its jurisdiction" may give rise to some question. Thus, for example, it is the duty of the Council of the City to raise by taxation money required for public education or for police purposes, but the Council has no discretion as to the amount. This being so, it cannot well be said that Public School Board moneys or Police Board moneys are either under the control or within the jurisdiction of the city council. Yet, in the interest of the ratepayers, it would seem only proper that the representative body who raise the money should have some control over its expenditure.

The auditors shall transmit one copy of the abstract to the secretary of the Bureau of industries, Toronto, and shall file the other, together with the detailed statement and reports in the office of the clerk of the council within one month after their appointment; (i) and thereafter any inhabitant or ratepayer of the municipality may inspect the same at all reasonable hours, and may by himself or his agent at his own expense take a copy thereof or extracts therefrom. (h) Negligence of the Auditors in examining and reporting upon accounts will not, under ordinary circumstances, relieve those indebted to the Corporation from the payment of their liabilities. See In re Eldon and Ferguson, 6 U. C. L. J. 207. "It seems to me to be a monstrous proposition, that an officer of the Corporation may wilfully or even negligently omit to enter the receipt of moneys; and because the Auditors have not been able to discover the omission, and the Corporation approves of the report, that when the omissions are discovered the officer may set up the audit to cover his own fraud or neglect." Ib. 209, per Richards, J. A surety for the due performance of a Treasurer's duties is not relieved from liability by the negligence of the Auditors in proving the Treasurer's accounts. Frontenac v. Breden, 17 Grant 645. The fact of the Treasurer having become reduced in his circumstances after the auditing and passing of his accounts, and before the discovery of an error in them, is no bar to a suit against the surety. Ib.

(i) See note g to sec. 246.

(j) The right to inspect the Auditors' report is extended to "any inhabitant or ratepayer." The difference between an inhabitant and a ratepayer is, that "inhabitant" means a resident, whether a ratepayer or not, and that a "ratepayer" is a person who pays taxes, whether a resident or not. See Rex v. North Curry, 4 B. & C. 961. Mere colourable residence is insufficient to constitute a person an inhabitant. Rex v. Sargent, 5 T. R. 466; Rex v. Duke of Richmond, 6 T. The said statement shall be signed by the mayor or reeve and by the treasurer, and shall be published forthwith in one or more newspapers of the municipality (if any) and in such other newspapers circulated in the municipality, as the council may direct.

(a) Instead of publishing the said statement in any newspaper, the council may cause the same to be posted up, not later than the twenty-fourth day of December, in the offices of the clerk and of the treasurer, as well as at all the post offices in the municipality, and at not less than twelve other conspicuous places therein.

(4) The clerk shall procure not less than one hundred copies of the said statement and shall deliver or transmit by post to the electors who first request him to do so, one of such copies not later than the twenty-fourth day of December in each year, and shall also see that copies of the said statement are produced at the nomination. Clerks to publish abstracts and statements.

265. The clerk shall publish the auditors' abstract and report (if any), and shall also publish the detailed statement in such form as the council directs, and in case of a minor municipality the clerk shall transmit to the clerk of the county council a copy of such abstract and statement, and the same shall be kept by the clerk of the county council as a record of his office. 46 V. c. 18, s. 263.

The council to audit finally, etc.

266. The council shall, upon the report of the auditors, finally audit and allow the accounts of the treasurer and collectors, and all accounts chargeable against the corporation; and in case of charges not regulated by law, the council shall allow what is reasonable. (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 265.

(jj) The provisions of sub-sections 3 and 4 do not apply to the township municipalities situated in the electoral districts of East Algoma, West Algoma, North Renfrew, Muskoka, Parry Sound, or Haliburton. See 51 Vict. c. 28, s. 14.

it is believed that the corporation may, on the discovery of fraud or mistake, recover moneys due to them on accounts audited, although according to the report of the auditors nothing is due, and notwithstanding the allowance of the accounts upon the basis of the supposed correctness of the audit. See Reynolds v. Ontario, 30 U. C. C. P. 14.

(l) The council is to have the regulation and auditing of all moneys to be paid, &c. The word "regulation" appears to refer to an order prior to payment, the word "auditing" to an act done after payment. The council have, under section 266, a general power to finally audit and allow all the accounts of the treasurer, &c., and all accounts chargeable against the corporation.

(m) There was nothing in the old law to prevent a daily audit; but as regards cities and towns, there is now in this section an express declaration that the auditors shall, "daily or otherwise," as directed by the council, examine, report and audit accounts. The person appointed would, it is presumed, be subject to the disqualifications mentioned in section 258.

may be "daily or otherwise," in the case of other municipalities it may be "monthly" or "quarterly," as directed by by-law.

(a) Before the Act of 1866, a county council arrived at the value of lands situate in the several local municipalities of the county, merely by a process of equalization on an assumed or arbitrary valuation, with the object of producing a just relation between the different local municipalities without reducing the aggregate valuation of the whole county. This was found unsatisfactory, and for remedy section 175 of the Act of 1866 was enacted. The appointment of county valuators is the main feature of the remedy, and is left discretionary with the county councils. The purpose of the appointment is "the valuing the real property" in the county. The duty of the valuators, when appointed, is to ascertain the value "in the manner directed by the county council," but on this stipulation: that they (the valuators) are not to "exceed the powers possessed by assessors." The valuing may be as often or as seldom as the county council see fit, provided it be done in every fifth year at furthest. It is not supposed that a valuation will be necessary every year. But in some localities real property fluctuates in value more than in others, and so, within the limit mentioned, a discretion is vested in the county council. The section has reference only to real property. The equalization of personal property remains as heretofore.

Bole* v. McLean, 6 P. R. 249. It was attempted to unseat a member of a council on the ground that he had not, in his declaration of office, specified the nature of the estate; but it was held that such an objection could not be made a ground for setting aside an election under the summary provisions of the statute. Reg. ex rel. Halsted v. Ferris, 6 U. C. L. J. N. S. 266. Until a person has made the declaration required by this section he has no right to exercise the functions pertaining to the office to which he is elected. Where an alderman elect did not state in his declaration the nature of his estate, or the value of the land, but declared that his property was sufficient to qualify him "according to the true intent and meaning of the municipal laws of Upper Canada" the declaration was held insufficient. Reg. ex rel. Clancy v. St. Jean, 46 U. C. Q. B. 77. It is to be observed that there is no declaration in the statute to the effect that an omission to take the declarations required shall be a forfeiture of office. See Reg. v. Humphrey, 10 A. & E. 335. Where the declaration of qualification had not been made leave was given to the defendant to make the same within ten days, otherwise leave was granted to file an information on the ground that the defendant illegally exercised the franchises of the office. Reg. ex rel Clancy v. Conway, 46 U. (2) Where any person has been elected as reeve, deputy-reeve, or councillor of any township council he may, instead of the foregoing declaration, make and subscribe a solemn declaration to the effect following:

I, A. B., do solemnly declare that I am a natural born (or naturalized subject of Her Majesty; and have and had to my own use and benefit, in my own right (or have and had to the use and benefit of my wife, as the case may be) as proprietor at the time of my election to the office of hereinafter referred to, such an estate as does qualify me to act in the office of (naming the office) for (naming the place for which such person has been elected), and that such estate is (the nature of the estate to be specified and the land to be designated by its local description) and that such estate at the time of my election was in my actual occupation, and was actually rated in the then last revised assessment roll of this township (naming it) at an amount not less than $2,000. 46 V. c. 18, s. 272; 49 V. c. 37, s. 4.

Declaration of office to be made by certain officers.

271. Every member of a municipal council, every mayor, and every clerk, treasurer, assessor and collector, engineer or clerk of works and street overseer or commissioner appointed by a council shall also before entering on the duties of his office, make and subscribe a solemn declaration to the effect following:—

Form of declaration of office.

I, A. B., do solemnly promise and declare that I will truly, faithfully and impartially, to the best of my knowledge and ability, execute the office of (inserting the name of the office), to which I have been elected (or appointed) in this township (or as the case may be), and that I have not received, and will not receive, any payment or reward, or promise of such, for the exercise of any partiality or malversation or other undue execution of the said office, and that I have not by myself or partner, either directly or indirectly, any interest in any contract with or on behalf of the said Corporation. 51 V. c. 28, s. 15.

Declaration of returning officers and others.

272. (a) Every returning officer, deputy returning officer, poll clerk, constable and other officer appointed by a council shall, before entering upon the duties of the office, make and subscribe a solemn declaration to the effect following:—

I, A. B., do solemnly promise and declare that I will truly, faithfully and impartially, to the best of my knowledge and ability, execute the office of (inserting the name of the office), to which I have been elected (or appointed) in this township (or as the case may be), and that I have not received, and will not receive any payment or reward, or promise of such, for the exercise of any partiality or malversation or other undue execution of the said office. 51 V. c. 28, s. 15.

Auditor's declaration.

272. The solemn declaration to be made by every auditor (g) shall be as follows:

Form of.

I, A. B., having been appointed to the office of Auditor for the Municipal Corporation of , do hereby promise and declare that I will faithfully perform the duties of such office according to the best of my judgment and ability; and I do solemnly declare, that I had not directly or indirectly any share or interest whatever in any contract or employment (except that of Auditor, if re-appointed) with, by or on behalf of such Municipal Corporation, during the year preceding my appointment, and that I have not any such contract or employment, except that of Auditor for the present year

46 V. c. 18, s. 274.

Before whom declaration to be made.

Certificate of declaration.

273. The head and other members of the council, and the subordinate officers of every municipality, shall make the declaration of office and qualification before some Court, Judge, Police Magistrate, or other Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction in the municipality for which such head, members or officers have been elected or appointed, or before the clerk of the municipality; (h) and the Court, Judge, or other persons before whom such declarations are made, shall give the necessary certificate of the same having been duly made and subscribed (i). 46 V. c. 18, s. 275.

Certain officers may administer certain oaths, etc., within municipality.

274. The head of any council, any alderman, reeve or deputy reeve, any Justice of the Peace or clerk of a municipality may, within the municipality, administer any oath, affirmation or declaration under this Act, relating to the business of the place in which he holds office, except where otherwise specially provided, and except where he is the party required to make the oath, affirmation or declaration (j). 46 V. c. 18, s. 276.

(g) See sec. 258.

(h) The administering of the declarations of office is so far obligatory as to be enforceable by a penalty. See sec. 277.

(i) The certificate is to the effect that the declaration has been made and subscribed—two things essentially different, but each necessary to complete the taking of the declaration. See Reg. ex rel. McManus v. Ferguson, 2 U. C. L. J. N. S. 19.

(j) The authority of the officers named, is not to administer all oaths, affirmations or declarations, but only such as relate to the business of the place in which the officer administering the oath affirmation or declaration holds office, and thus is made subject two obvious exceptions: 1. Where otherwise specially provided 2. Where he is the party required to make the oath, affirmation declaration.

Oath, affirmation or declaration to be subscribed and deposited with clerk of municipality.

275. The deponent, affirmant, or declarant shall subscribe every such oath, affirmation or declaration, (k) and the person administering it (l) shall duly certify and preserve the same, and within eight days deposit the same in the office of the clerk of the municipality to the affairs of which it relates. 46 V. c. 18, s. 277.

Head of council may administer certain oaths, &c.

276. The head of every council, or in his absence the chairman thereof, may administer an oath or affirmation to any person concerning any account or other matter submitted to the council. (m) 46 V. c. 18, s. 278.

Penalty for refusing to accept office, or administer declaration, &c.

277. Every qualified person duly elected or appointed (n) to be a mayor, alderman, reeve or deputy-reeve, councillor, police trustee, assessor or collector of or in any municipality, (o) who refuses such office, (p) or does not within twenty days

(k) A deponent is one who makes a lawful oath; an affirmant is one who by law is permitted to affirm when otherwise he would be required to make an oath; and a declarant is a person who, instead of making either oath or affirmation, makes a solemn declaration.

(m) Heads of councils may, under section 274, administer oaths, affirmations or declarations "relating to the business of the place in which he holds office." This section extends the power to oaths or affirmations "concerning any account or other matter submitted to the council," and enables the chairman acting in the absence of the head of the council, to administer the last mentioned oaths or affirmations. The purpose, apparently, is that some officer may be able to act when necessary to verify accounts or other matter submitted to the council.

(n) This section is only obligatory upon qualified persons, so that persons disqualified under section 77 or exempted under section 78, though elected, would not, it is believed, be bound to take the declarations of office and qualification. See Rex v. Leyland, 3 M. & S. 186. The acceptance by an office-holder of another office incompatible with the first is ipso facto a vacation of the first office. Stubbs v. Lee, 18 Am. 251.

(o) The section only applies to the officers named and to a qualified person appointed or elected, and, when elected, himself returned as elected. Reg. ex rel. Mackley v. Coaks, 3 E. & B. 249. It would not apply where another was returned, though improperly. Ib. As to officers other than those named, see sec. 479, sub.s. 17 a.

(p) The acceptance of the office, when the person is qualified, is obligatory. It is an offence at common law for a person to refuse to act in an office when duly elected. Vintner's Co. v. Passey, 1 Burr. 232; Reg. v. May, 20 L. J. Q. B. 268. A person so refusing may be indicted, Rex v. Burder, 4 T. R. 778; Vanacker's Case, 1 Ld. Rayd. 62; or, in case of urgency, may be proceeded against by criminal after knowing of his election or appointment, make the declarations of office and qualification where a property qualification is required, (q) and every person authorized to administer such declaration, who upon reasonable demand refuses to administer the same, (r) shall on summary conviction thereof before two or more Justices of the Peace, forfeit not more than $80, nor less than $8, at the discretion of the Justices, to the use of the municipality, together with the cost of prosecution. information, Rex v. Woodrow, 2 T. R. 731; Rex v. Leyland, 3 M. & S. 186, or mandamus, Rex v. Whitwell, 5 T. R. 85; Rex v. Bower, 1 B. & C. 585, in the discretion of the Court, Rex v. Grosvenor, 2 Str. 1193: Reg. v. Hungerford, 11 Mod. 142. But, in any event, it must appear that the person elected had notice of the election. Reg. v. Preece, 5 Q. B. 94; Reg. v. Coaks, 3 E. & B. 249.

(q) Casual information is not sufficient. Before an elected officer can be visited with heavy penalties, imposed for neglecting to accept his office, he must have regular notice of his election, either by being present when it is announced, or being apprised of the fact by some official authority. Reg. v. Preece, 5 Q. B. 97; see also London v. Vanacre, 1 Salk. 142.

(r) The administering of the declaration is purely a ministerial act. But it has been held that the person administering it so far acquiesces as to disentitle himself to be a relator in proceedings to set aside the election. Reg. v. Greene, 2 Q. B. 460.

(s) This section does not declare that the payment of the fine shall be in lieu of service. Mere payment of the fine is not any excuse for non-acceptance of the office. See Rex v. Bower, 1 B. & C. 585, and Reg. ex rel. Blasdell v. Rochester, 7 U. C. L. J. 101. Nor is it declared that the omission to take the declaration within the time limited shall be a forfeiture of office. Reg. ex rel. Forsyth v. Dolsen, 7 U. C. L. J. 71.

(a) Under a power to remunerate all "township officers," it was held that municipal councillors had no authority to remunerate themselves. In re Wright and Cornwall, 9 U. C. Q. B. 442; Daniels v. Burford, 10 U. C. Q. B. 478; East Nissouri v. Horseman, 16 U.

Legislature (b) the council shall settle the same, and the council shall provide for the payment of all municipal officers whether the remuneration is settled by statute or by by-law of the council. (c)

C. Q. B. 576. And it was made a question whether the warden of a county, or mayor of city, is to be deemed an officer, so as to be entitled to remuneration as such. Reg. v. Gore, 5 U. C. Q. B. 357; In re McLean and Cornwall, 31 U. C. Q. B. 314. But now such questions are to some extent set at rest, for the council of every township and county may pass by-laws for paying the members of the council for their attendance in council, sec. 231, and so the head of the council of any county, city, town or incorporated village may be paid such annual sum or other remuneration as the council sees fit. Sec. 282.

(b) Where a Municipal Council, in 1850, passed a vote assigning to the Clerk of the Peace a fixed salary for that year "in lieu of all fees," it was held that this did not debar him from claiming fees allowed by the Jury Act, 13 & 14 Vict. cap. 55, which was passed subsequently in the same year. Pringle v. McDonald, 10 U. C. Q. B. 254. General power to fix the compensation of its officers, does not authorize the corporation to take away the fees of an officer specifically fixed by their charter. Carr v. St. Louis, 9 Mo. 190. So, if the Legislature provide that one board shall fix the remuneration of corporation officers, it is not competent for another board to do so. People v. Auditors of Wayne, 13 Mich. 233; In re Prince and Toronto, 25 U. C. Q. B. 175.

(c) Municipal officers are not entitled to compensation unless the right to compensation is expressly given by statute, by-law, resolution or contract. Jones v. Carmarthen, 8 M. & W. 605; Thomas v. Swansea, 2 Dowl. N. S. 470; Reg. v. Prest, 16 Q. B. 32; Rockford, &c., R. W. Co. v. Sage, 16 Am. 587; Sikes v. Hatfield, 13 Gray (Mass.) See Dillon on Municipal Corporations 3rd Ed. s. 230. And where provision is made for their remuneration by salary, they have no claim for compensation, extra the salary, for services alleged to be outside of their official duties; Ib. s. 233 and for this reason it has been held that a promise to pay extra the sum fixed by by-law or regulation on the subject, is not binding, though greater services have been rendered than could have been legally exacted; Ib. s. 234 and, indeed, in the interest of the public the rule has been carried so far as to prevent a municipal officer recovering a reward for a service embraced within his official duties, such as the capture of a thief by a constable. Gilmore v. Lewis, 12 Ohio, 281; Pool v. Boston, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 219. Where a town corporation appointed a chief of police at a named salary, stipulating that he should act as county constable within the town only, and account for and pay over all fees received by him from the county as a reward for services performed by him as county constable, it was held under 5 & 6 Edw. 6 and 49 Geo. 3, c. 126 that the agreement was invalid. Stratford v. Wilson, 8 O. R 104. Salaries, when voted, should be given as salaries, and not as acts of grace or mere rewards for merit. In re McLean and Cornwall, 31 U. C. Q. B. 314; Heslep v. Sacramento,

An indemnity to an officer for lawful acts gives him no claim for compensation against the consequences of unlawful acts. Irwin v. Mariposa, 22 U. C. C. P. 367. A by-law to indemnify a councillor for the costs of a contested election would be illegal. In re Bell and Manners, 2 U. C. C. P. 507; 3 U. C. C. P. 400. An agreement by a corporation with one of its officers for an increase of the salary of an office retained by him as compensation for the loss of an office of which he was deprived, is not binding unless under the seal of the corporation. Reg. v. Stamford, 6 Q. B. 433; see also Cope v. Thames, &c., Dock and Railroad Co., 3 Ex. 841. So the appointment of a corporation solicitor should be under the corporation seal. Arnold v. Poole, 4 M. & G. 860. (d) The lowest tender is not always the most satisfactory for acceptance; and so much has this been found the case in the management of municipal affairs, that the Legislature has been compelled to interfere. Poor pay, poor service is generally the rule. Good pay to good servants will, in the long run, be found to be true economy. Notwithstanding, this provision apparently intended to prevent public offices from being put up to public competition, public officials too frequently receive the lowest remuneration upon the ground that others can be found to fill the office for even a less sum.

or counsel, was not receiving a salary, when the costs are, by the terms of his employment, payable to the solicitor or counsel as part of his remuneration in addition to his salary. (dd) 46 V. c. 18, s. 280.

279. All officers appointed by a council (e) shall hold office until removed by the council, and shall, in addition to the duties assigned to them in this Act, perform all other duties required of them by any other statute, or by the by-laws of the council. (f) 46 V. c. 18, s. 281. Tenure of office. Duties.

(dd) As to the effect of an attorney being paid a salary in lieu of costs. See Jarvis v. Great Western R. W. Co., 8 U. C. C. P. 280; Stevenson v. City of Kingston, 31 U. C. C. P. 333.

(e) This section applies to all officers appointed by the council, no matter what their rank or duties. Their tenure is in effect during pleasure. The declaration that they are to hold office "until removed by the Council," impliedly authorizes the council to remove them at any time—in other words, at the pleasure of the council. Unless, at all events, there be an appointment at a yearly salary under the corporate seal, or other appointment from which a yearly hiring be inferred, there will be no holding except during the pleasure of the council. See In re Macpherson and Beeman, 17 U. C. Q. B. 99; Beverley v. Barton, 10 U. C. C. P. 178. See further Hammond v. McLay, 28 U. C. Q. B. 463. As to the removal of an officer holding a freehold office. See Osgood v. Nelson, L. R. 5 H. L. 636. Where the appointment is under seal, it may be held binding on the corporation without proof of a By-law. Broughton v. Brantford, 19 U. C. C. P. 434. A person, therefore, who enters into the employment of a municipal corporation, must be taken to do so with the fullest knowledge of his dependence on the pleasure of the present and every future council. Hickey v. Renfrew, 20 U. C. C. P. 429; Wilson v. York, 46 U. C. Q. B. 289. In such a case it is in the power of the council to remove, without notice or hearing. See Bagg's Case, 11 Coke 98 (b); Rex v. Coventry, 1 Ld. Rayd. 391; Gaskin's Case, 8 T. R. 209; Rex v. Oxon, 2 Salk. 428; Rex v. Mayor, &c., 1 Lev. 291; Rex v. Andover, 1 Ld. But the officer removed, although not appointed under seal, should be paid for the time he served. Dempsey v. City of Toronto, 6 U. C. Q. B. 1. Where a municipal corporation appoints an officer, in obedience to a statute to perform a public service in which the corporation has no private interest, and from which it derives no special benefit or advantage in its corporate capacity, such officer cannot be regarded as the servant or agent of the corporation, so as to render the corporation liable for his negligence. Maximilian v. Mayor, 20 Am. 468.

(f) This provision is made for a twofold purpose; to prevent the discharge of sureties by the imposition of additional duties; and to prevent claims being made or sustained for extra pay. See note c to sec. 278.

A gratuity may be given in certain cases.

280. Any municipal council, other than a provisional council, may grant to any officer who has been in the service of the municipality for at least twenty years, and who has, while in such service, become incapable through old age of efficiently discharging the duties of his office, a sum not exceeding his aggregate salary or other remuneration for the last three years of his service, as a gratuity upon his removal or resignation. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 282.

Corporations, &c., may accept security of certain companies for their officers.

281. The bonds or policies of guarantee of any incorporated or joint stock company, empowered to grant guarantees, bonds or policies for the integrity and faithful accounting of public officers and other like purposes, may be accepted instead of, or in addition to, the bond or security of any officer or servant of a municipal corporation, in all cases where by the provisions of this or any other Act or of any by-law of such corporation, such officer or servant is required to give security, either by himself, or by himself and a surety or sureties, and where the parties directed or authorized to take such security see fit to accept the bond or policy of such company as aforesaid, and approve the terms and conditions thereof; and all the provisions in such Act relating to such security, to be given by such officer or servant, or his sureties, shall apply to the bonds and policies of guarantee of such company as aforesaid, which may be taken instead of, or in substitution of, any existing securities, if the parties directed or authorized as aforesaid see fit, whereupon such Provisions respecting such security to apply.

Existing bonds may be cancelled.

(g) As municipal officers hold office until removed, a removal may be had for any cause, or without cause. See note e to sec. 279. If the power of removal were only for cause, old age would not be good cause. Bac. Abr. Corp. E. 9; Hazard's Case, 2 Rolle 11. But as the holding is different, an old servant might be dismissed simply because old and worn out in the service. In such a case without legislation, there is no power in a municipal corporation to grant a gratuity. Service for any period less than twenty years, or incapacity from any other cause than old age, gives no right to the exercise of the power. The amount of the gratuity, which is to be paid in bulk, must be a sum "not exceeding his aggregate salary, or other remuneration, for the last three years." The gratuity is only to be paid on removal or resignation. The decision as to a gratuity, when made under the circumstances and within the limits prescribed, is not subject to review by any court. Re Reg. v. Sandwich, 2 Q. B. 895, S. C. In error, 10 Q. B. 563. There is a distinction between gratuity and annuity. See Gibson v. East India Co., 5 Bing. N. C. 262; Clarke v. Imperial Gas Co., 4 B. & Ad. 315; Innes v. East India Co., 17 C. GENERAL PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL MUNICIPALITIES.

TITLE I.—GENERAL JURISDICTION OF COUNCILS.
II.—RESPECTING BY-LAWS.
III.—RESPECTING FINANCE.
IV.—ARBITRATIONS.
V.—DEBENTURES AND OTHER INSTRUMENTS.
VI.—ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE AND JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS.

TITLE I.—GENERAL JURISDICTION OF COUNCILS.

DIVISION I.—NATURE AND EXTENT.

Confined to municipality—how exercised. Sec. 282.
General powers. Secs. 283, 284.
Traders' license fees. Sec. 285.
May not grant monopolies—Except as to ferries. Secs. 286, 287.

282. The jurisdiction of every council (a) shall be confined to the municipality the council represents, except Jurisdiction of councils.

(h) See notes to sec. 249; and R. S. O. c. 181.

(a) The word "jurisdiction" is here used in the sense of power. Municipal corporations are the creatures of the Legislature. "They can exercise no powers but those which are conferred upon them by the Act under which they are constituted, or such as are necessary to the exercise of their corporate powers, the performance of their corporate duties, and the accomplishment of the purpose of their association. This principle is derived from the nature of corporations, the mode in which they are organized, and in which their affairs must be conducted. In aggregate corporations, as a general rule, the act and will of the majority is deemed in law the act and will of the whole, or as the act of one corporate body; the consequence is, that a minority may be bound not only without but against their consent. Such an obligation may extend to every onerous duty, to pay money to an unlimited amount, to perform services, to surrender lands and the like. It is obvious, therefore, where authority beyond the same is expressly given, (b) and the powers of the council shall be exercised by by-law (c)

that if this liability were to extend to unlimited and indefinite objects, the citizen, by being a member of a corporation, might be deprived of his most valuable personal rights and liberties. The security against this danger is in a steady adherence to the principle stated, viz., that corporations can only exercise their power over their respective members for the accomplishment of limited and defined objects." Per Shaw, C. J., in Spaulding v. Lowell, 23 Pick. (Mass.) 71. See also Noyes v. Mason, 5 N. W. R. 595; In re Frank, 52 Kell. 506; Green v. CapeMay, 41 N. J. L. 45. See further, note i to sec. 8.

(b) A municipality, whether a county, city, town, township or village is a locality; and the council is the governing body of that locality. Beyond the limits of the locality the council has not in general any authority whatever. For this reason, the section begins by declaring that "the jurisdiction of every council shall be confined to the municipality the council represents." See note p to sec. 14, and note k to sec. 20. A municipal council cannot in general, benefit another municipality at the expense of its own; for instance, build a school-house in a township of which it is not the representative, but this proposition may not always apply as between townships and counties. For many purposes a township is within the jurisdiction of the council of the county in which it is situate, and is subject to be taxed for county purposes by the county council; but the right of a township council to tax itself in aid of the county is limited. It would seem that a township council has no right voluntarily to pass a by-law imposing a rate in aid of a county rate. Fletcher v. Euphrasia, 13 U. C. Q. B. 129. So the right of a township council to pass a by-law in aid of the cost of a school-house ordered by the county council is doubtful. Kennedy v. Sandwich, 9 U. C. Q. B. 326. A township by-law was quashed as to so much of it as related to the raising of a sum of money to defray the demands of the county council on the township, and as an equivalent to the Government school grant, &c, it not appearing on the face of the by-law that it was directed to the purpose of meeting a deficiency, nor even that there was any, if that would have authorized the by-law. Fletcher v. Euphrasia, 13 U. C. Q. B. 129.

(c) The jurisdiction of every council is not only to be confined to the municipality the council represents, but shall be exercised by by-law when not otherwise authorized or provided for. When a corporation is duly erected, the law tactily annexes to it the power of making by-laws or private statutes. This power is included in every Act of Incorporation; for, as is quaintly observed by Blackstone, "as natural reason is given to the natural body for the governing it, so by-laws or statutes are a sort of political reason to govern the body politic." 1 Bl. Com. 476. It would seem that this requirement refers only to the exercise of powers under this Act, and not to powers which may be exercised under a special Act passed for other purposes or by another Legislature. Pembroke v. Canada Central Ry., 3 O. R. 503. Though the power to make by-laws is unquestionably an incident of every corporation, it is rarely left to implication; but is usually conferred in express terms. According to Lord Coke, the word "by" or when not otherwise authorized or provided for. (d) 46 V. c. 18, s. 284.

"bye" signifies a habitation. Willcock on municipal corporations, 73. Hence by-law or bye-law may be defined as being the law of the inhabitants of some corporate place or district, as distinguished from the general law of the Province in which the municipality is situate. A by-law is a rule obligatory over a particular district, not being at variance with the general laws, and being reasonably adapted to the purposes of the corporation. Gosling v. Veley, 19 L. J. Q. B. N. S. 135. A by-law must be reasonably clear and unequivocal in its language in order to vary the common law. Crowe v. Steeper, 46 U. C. Q. B. 87. A by-law has the same force, within the limits of the municipality, and with respect to the persons upon whom it lawfully operates, as an Act of Parliament has upon the people at large. Hopkins v. Swansea, 4 M. & W. 621; see also Reg. v. Osler, 32 U. C. Q. B. 324; Heeland v. Lowell, 3 Allen (Mass.) 407; Presbyterian Church v. New York, 5 Cow. (N.Y.) 538; Baker v. Portland, 10 Am. Law Reg. N. S. 559. The courts recognize judicially what municipal councils are competent to do, and hold that it is not necessary for them to recite in a by-law all that is requisite to shew that they have proceeded regularly in passing it. Grierson v. Ontario, 9 U. C. Q. B. 625; Fisher v. Vaughan, 10 U. C. Q. B. 492; see further, Rex v. Harrison, 3 Burr. 1328; Roman Catholic Church v. Baltimore, 6 Gill (Md.) 394; Stuyvesant v. New York,, 7 Cow. (N.Y.) 588.

(d) It is a common belief that a municipal body can do by resolution whatever may be done by by-law. Nothing can be more erroneous, or more tend to the insecurity of municipal government. See Reg. ex rel. Allemaing v. Zoeger, 1 P. R. 219. The general principle of the common law is that a corporation can only act through its seal, and the express declaration of the Legislature here is that "the powers of the council shall be exercised by by-law when not otherwise authorized or provided for." But among people generally, and among the class composing municipal councils particularly, there is a dislike of formality, and, in consequence, the too frequent abandonment of by-laws for mere orders or resolutions. Now, the proceedings of a municipal council that may be lawfully had by order or resolution, are comparatively few and unimportant. A by-law should not be dispensed with unless in a very clear case. In fact, whenever a municipal council is in doubt whether it can or cannot do a particular thing by order or resolution, it would be much safer and wiser to use a by-law. Were this, as a rule, understood and followed, it would prevent much confusion in the administration of municipal affairs. Another common but erroneous belief is, that a municipal council can by order or resolution do that which, if done through a by-law, would be illegal. This it cannot do. No municipal council can do that informally which it has no power to do directly and formally. Daniels v. Burford, 10 U. C. Q. B. 478. A by-law, order or resolution, which revives an illegal by-law, is of course itself illegal. Canada Co. v. Orford, 9 U. C. Q. B. 567. An order or resolution duly signed and sealed is virtually a by-law; but many orders and resolutions pass by mere vote, without being thus authenticated. The municipal rules of proceeding generally require more formal steps to be taken in passing a by-law than in adopting an order or resolution. Municipal corporations, however, may become liable as wrong-doers for things done by direction of the council without by-laws. Croft v. Peterborough, 5 U. C. C. P. 35; Nevill v. Ross, 22 U. C. C. P. 487; Darby v. Crowland, 38 U. C. Q. B. 338; Lewis v. Toronto, 39 U. C. Q. B. 343. The power to make by-laws necessarily supposes the power to enforce them by pecuniary penalties, competent and proportionable to the offence. See sec. 479, sub-s. 17. In construing a by-law, &c., the court will look at the whole of it, to ascertain its meaning, and construe one part with another or other parts, so as, if possible, to give full effect to the whole. In re Cameron and East Nissouri, 13 U. C. Q. B. 190.

(e) The word "regulations" may be used in a general sense as laws, or in a particular sense as informal resolutions. See In re Snell and Belleville, 30 U. C. Q. B. 81. It is not clear in which sense the word is here used. The power is to make regulations for the purposes mentioned, and generally such other regulations as the good of the inhabitants requires. See Ross v. York and Peel, 14 U. C. C. P. 171; In re Brodie and Bowmanville, 38 U. C. Q. B. 580. Provided the regulations be not contrary to law.

It is a principle applicable to every regulation of a municipal corporation, first, that it be not contrary to the Municipal Acts or law authorizing the formation of the corporation, and, secondly, that it be not contrary to the general law of the land.

First—The regulations of the municipal council must not be inconsistent with the Municipal Acts, for these Acts create it an artificial being, impart to it its power, designate its object, and prescribe its mode of operation: they are in short the constitution of the corporation. Hence all laws in contravention of them are void. "The true test of all by-laws," says Mr. Justice Wilmot, "is the intention of the Crown in granting the charter, and the apparent good of the Corporation." Rex v. Spencer, 3 Burr. 1838. So of a municipal council; it may be said that the true test of a by-law is the intention of the Legislature in incorporating the council, and the apparent good of the municipality affected. Mr. Justice Yates, in the same case, said: "Corporations cannot make by-laws contrary to their constitution. If they do so, they act without authority." Ib. 1839; but see "The Case of Corporations," 4 Co. R. 77, b. As transcending the Municipal Acts by-laws creating a new office, imposing an oath of office where none is required by the Act, giving a vote to a class of persons not entitled to vote by law, qualifying persons to be candidates not qualified by the Acts, giving a casting vote to an officer not entitled to it by the Acts, restricting or extending the right of admission or eligibility to office, altering the prescribed mode of election, or imposing new or additional tests or qualifications either on members or voters, would be void. See Angell & Ames on Corporations, 345. See also Rex v. Miller, 6 T. R. 277; Rex v. Barber Surgeons, 1 Ld. Rayd. 584; State v. Bruder, council, and generally such other regulations as the good of the inhabitants of the municipality requires, and may repeal, alter and amend its by-laws, save as by this Act restricted. (ee) 46 V. c. 18, s. 285.

To repeal, alter, etc., by-laws.

Mo. 450; Thompson v. Carroll, 22 How. 422; Andrews v. Insurance Co., 37 Maine 256; In re Bell v. Manvers, 3 U. C. C. P. 399; Re Clark and Township of Howard, 9 O. R. 576.

Second—The law of a country being as well a rule for the proceedings of corporations as for the conduct of individuals, all by-laws contrary to the common or statute law of the country are void. "All by-laws," says Hobart, "must ever be subject to the general law of the realm and subordinate to it." Norris v. Staps, Hob. 210. See also Crowe v. Steeper, 46 U. C. Q. B. 87. For this reason, a by-law "impairing the obligation of contracts," or taking "private property for public uses without just compensation," would be void. Angell & Ames on Corporations, 333. But where a statute authorized the corporation of a city to make by-laws "regulating," or, if necessary, "preventing," the interment of the dead within the city, it was held that though that corporation had granted lands for the purpose of interment, and had covenanted that they should be quietly enjoyed for that purpose, yet that the corporation was not thereby estopped from passing a by-law forbidding such interment, under a penalty. Ib. The case was decided on the ground that the legislative power of the corporation over this subject was delegated to it for the good of the city, and that the by-law passed was to be regarded as if passed by the Legislature; that no person is entitled to use his property so as to injure another, and that no covenant could give him power so to do, even though made with the corporation, since, as tending to control and embarrass the exercise of its important powers as a Local Legislature, the covenant, when it came in competition with them, must give way or was repealed. Ib. The legislative power of a corporation is not only restricted by the statute law, but by the general principles and policy of the common law. Indeed, whenever a by-law seeks to alter a well-settled and fundamental principle of the common law, or to establish a rule interfering with the rights or endangering the security of individuals or the public, a statute or other special authority emanating from the creating power must be shown to legalize it, either expressly or by implication. It is upon this principle that, though many by-laws passed by the ancient municipal corporations in England for the regulation of trade have been adjudged good, yet many were adjudged void as in restraint of trade and an oppression of the subject. See sec. 286 and notes. See further Collins v. Hatch, 18 Ohio 523; Sill v. Corning, I. E. P. Smith (N. Y.) 297, Wood v. Brooklyn, 14 Barb. (N. Y.) 425; Markle v. Akron, 14 Ohio 586; Rogers v. Jones, 1 Wend. (N. Y.) 237.

(ee) It need hardly be mentioned that the municipal body which has power to make has power to repeal by-laws; it being of the very nature of legislative power that, by timely changes in the rule it prescribes, it should be enabled to meet the exigencies of the occasion. Rex v. Bird, 13 East. 379; Bloomer v. Stolley, 5 McL. (U. S.) 158. But repeals cannot be made to operate retrospectively to the prejudice

Council a continuing body.

284. A municipal council shall be deemed and considered as always continuing and existing, notwithstanding any annual or other election of the members composing the same, and upon and after the annual or other election of the members thereof, and their having organized and held their first meeting as a council, every council may take up and carry on to completion all by-laws, reports and proceedings which had been begun or have been under consideration by the council, either in the then next preceding year or subsequent or prior thereto, and it shall not be necessary to begin de novo with any by-law, proceeding, report, matter or thing entertained by the council in such preceding year, or subsequent or prior thereto, as aforesaid. 49 V. c. 37, s. 43.

Traders' license fees.

285. In all cases where, under the provisions of this Act, or of any other Act, any council or the board of commissioners of police, in any city, or either of them, is or are authorized to pass by-laws for licensing any trade, calling, business, or profession, or the person carrying on or engaged in any such trade, calling, business, or profession, the council and the board of commissioners of police, respectively, shall have the power to pass by-laws for fixing the sum to be paid for such license, for exercising any such trade, calling, business, or profession, in the municipality, and enforcing the payment of the license fee, and determining the time the license shall be in force. 46 V. c. 18, s. 286.

Granting monopolies prohibited.

286. No council shall have the power to give any person an exclusive right of exercising within the municipality any of vested rights. Rex v. Ashwell, 12 East. 22; State v. City Clerk, 7 Ohio St. 355; Pond v. Negus, 3 Mass. 230; Bigelow v. Hillman, 37 Maine 52; Road in Augusta, 17 Pa. St. 71; unless for the purpose of abating an actual nuisance, or something of that character. New Orleans v. St. Louis Church, 11 La. An. 244; Mc-grove v. Catholic Church, 10 La. An. 431. The power does not extend to all by-laws. There are certain by-laws, such as those authorizing the issue of debentures, &c., upon the faith of which third persons act and change their circumstances, and from which the municipality in general derives an immediate benefit—these being in the nature of securities, rather than ordinary regulations, cannot be repealed until the loan or debt arising thereout or dependent thereupon is satisfied. Sec. 347. Hence it is that in this section the power given is to repeal, alter, or amend by-laws, in general, "save as by this Act restricted." See further In re Cunningham v. Almonte, 21 U. C. C. P. 459; In re Great Western R. W. Co. and North Cayuga, 23 U. C. C. P. 2[illegible]; Wright v. Incorporated Synod of the Diocese of Huron, 11 S. C. R. 95.

trade or calling, (f) or to impose a special tax on any person

(f) Monopolies are odious to the law. A monopoly is when the sale of any merchandise or commodity is restrained to one or to a certain number, 11 Co. 86, and has three inseparable consequents—increase of price, badness of wares, impoverishment of others. Ib. By statute 21 Jac. 1, c. 3, all monopolies and all commissions, grants, licenses, &c., to any person, &c., for any sale, buying, selling, making, working, using of a thing, &c., are void. And any one grieved, &c., may have an action on the statute, and recover treble damages and double costs. So monopolies are contrary to Magna Charta. 2 Inst. 63. By statute 38 Edw. 3, a merchant may freely deal in all manner of merchandise. The statute of 21 Jac. 2, does not extend to letters patent for inventions, &c. The first part of this section is simply a declaration of the common law. Whenever a by-law seeks to alter a well-settled and fundamental principle of the common law, or to establish a rule interfering with the rights of individuals or the public, the power to do so must come from plain and direct legislative enactment. Taylor v. Griswold, 2 Green. (N.J.) 222. Legal restraints, in the form of regulations, may, however, be imposed upon the few for the benefit of the many. City Council v. Ahrens, 4 Strob. (S. Car.) 241; Charleston v. Baptist Church, Ib. 306; Peoria v. Calhoun, 29 Ill. 317; St. Paul v. Coulter, 12 Minn. 41. It is sometimes difficult to determine when a by-law is in restraint of trade, and when it is a mere regulation of trade. The former is illegal; the latter legal. The following have been held to be mere regulations and so held: That no butcher or any other person should, within the walls of the city, slaughter any beast, &c., to forfeit, &c. Pierce v. Burnham, Cowp. 269. That no butcher or other person should keep any swine within the walls of the city, upon pain, &c. Ib. That no commoner should keep any sheep in the bounds below the weir, under the pain, &c. James v. Putney, Cro. Car. 497. That none of the Company of Silk Throwsters should have above such a number of spindles in one week. Freemantle v. The Company of Silk Throwsters, 1 Lev. 229. And per Cur. "This is not a monopoly, but a restraint of a monopoly, that none might ingross the whole trade, being rather to provide for an equality of trade, according to what is convenient and good." Ib. That no master of any boat, &c., from place to place, &c., should unload or send on shore any goods but by such persons as are of Company and Fellowship of Porters. Cuddon v. Berwick, 1 Salk. 192. That no person should exercise the trade of joiner unless free of the Company of Joiners. Warinel v. London, 2 Str. 675. see also Green v. Durham, 1 Burr. 127; Rex v. Master, &c., of the Co. of Surgeons, 2 Burr. 892; Rex v. Harrison, 3 Burr. 1322. That no drayman or brewer's servant should be abroad in the streets, with his dray or cart, after one of the clock in the afternoon between Michaelmas and Lady Day, and from thence after eleven in the forenoon, under the penalty, &c. Bosworth v. Hearne, 2 Str. 1135; See further, Shaw v. Pope, 2 B. & Ad. 465. That no person using the art of a butcher, and inhabiting and dwelling within the city or suburbs thereof, or within two miles of the same city, should keep open any shop, or offer for sale any fresh meat, on Sunday. The Butchers' Company v. Morey, 1 H. Bl. 370. That no stranger or foreigner should use or exercise the craft or mystery of a tailor exercising the same, (g) or to require a license to be taken for within the said city, except he should first be made free of the said city. Woolley v. Idle, 4 Burr. 1951; see also Bosworth v. Budgen, 7 Mod. 459. By-laws may, under certain circumstances, be passed exempting manufacturing establishments, in whole or in part, from taxation for a term of years. See sec. 366.

The following have been held to be bad, as in restraint of trade: That no member should sell the barrel of any hand gun, &c., ready proved, to any person of the trade not a member in London, or within four miles thereof. The Master, &c., of Gunmakers, &c., v. Fell, Willes. 384. No member should strike his stamp or mark on the barrel of any person not a member of the Company, &c., Ib. That every person not being already free of the city, occupying, using or exercising, or who shall occupy, use or exercise the art, trade or mystery of a butcher within the said city or its liberties, shall take upon himself the freedom of the Company of Butchers, and that if any person or persons (except such as are already free, &c.) shall use the trade of a butcher, not being free of this Company, he shall pay, &c. Harrison v. Godman, 1 Burr. 12. So as "to persons using the occupation of music and dancing." Robinson v. Groscourt, 5 Mod. 104. That no person should erect any booth, for the purpose of any show or public entertainment, in any public place within the borough, without license from the mayor, which license should not be given at or for any other time than during the annual fairs, if three inhabitant householders, residing within 100 yards of the place intended to be used, should have previously memorialized the mayor to withhold such license, &c. Elwood v. Bullock, 6 Q. B. 383. Where a particular building was designated for the slaughtering of all animals intended for sale or consumption in the city, the owners of which were granted the exclusive right, for a specified period, to have all such animals slaughtered at their establishment, the by-law was held bad. Chicago v. Rumpff, 45 Ill. 90. So where it was provided that "no person shall keep a slaughter house within the city without the special resolution of the council." Re Nash and McCracken, 33 U. C. Q. B. 151. Or that none but three persons appointed by the city should sweep for hire or gain any chimney or flue in the city. Reg. v. Johnson, 38 U. C. Q. B. 549. So by-laws requiring hucksters, without legislative authority, to pay a license fee: Dunham v. Rochester, 5 Cow. (N.Y.) 462; druggists to make returns under oath as to the quality and kinds of spirituous liquors sold by them: Clinton v. Phillips, 11 Am. 52; prohibiting the use of canals on Sundays: The Calder and Hebble Navigation Co. v. Pilling, 14 M. & W. 76; prohibiting licensed tavern keepers from having a light in their bars: Reg. v. Belmont, 35 U. C. Q. B. 298; requiring the owners of theatres to pay the city constable a certain sum: Waters v. Leech, 3 Ark. 110; requiring a railroad company to keep a flagman by day and a red lantern by night at a point where its track crossed a street; Toledo, Wabash, and Western R. W. Co. v. Jacksonville, 16 Am. 611; authorizing the arrest of free negroes in the street after ten o'clock at night: Mayor, &c., of Memphis v. Winfield, 8 Hump. (Tenn.) 707.

(g) Taxes must be general. A tax levied on a particular occupation is therefore bad. Savannah v. Hartridge, 8 Ga. 23; Liming v.

exercising the same, (h) unless authorized or required by statute so to do; (i) but the council may direct a fee, not exceeding $1, to be paid to the proper officer for a certificate of compliance with any regulations in regard to such trade or calling. 46 V. c. 18, s. 287. Proviso.

287. A council may grant exclusive privileges in any ferry which may be vested in the corporation (k) represented by Privileges of ferry.

Charleston, 1 McCord (S. Car.) 345. A regulation "that any person wishing to sell fresh meat in quantities less than a quarter in a shop or stall, in Coleman or in Baldwin Wards, shall, before the first of March in each year, apply, in writing, to the chairman of the market committee, stating the annual sum he or she will pay in addition to the sum of $40 to obtain a certificate from the proper authority, authorizing the holder of the certificate to expose for sale and sell fresh meat in one stall in Coleman Ward, or in Baldwin Ward, for one year, from first of March of the year in which the certificate is obtained," is bad. In re Snell and Belleville, 30 U. C. Q. B. 93.

(h) The power to license carries with it the right to require payment of a reasonable sum as a consideration for the license, but such power must not be so used as to be the imposition of a tax. State v. Herod, 29 Iowa 123. The difficulty is to draw the line. "We cannot assent to the position that if the sum required for a license exceeds the expense of issuing it, the Act transcends the licensing power and imposes a tax." By such a theory the statute would be shorn of all its efficiency. Per Paine, J., in Tenny v. Lenz, 16 Wis. 566; see also, Carter v. Dow, Ib. 298; Fire Department v. Helfenstein, Ib. 136; Ash v. People, 11 Mich. 347; Childers v. People, Ib. 43. R. 1 Q. B. 469.

(i) The import of these words deserves special attention. The meaning is, that in the absence of some statute authorizing or requiring the council to confer an exclusive right on any person to exercise a trade or calling or to impose a special tax on any such person, or to require a license to be taken for the exercise of the same, the council shall not have power to create a monopoly by doing any of the things mentioned. If there be such a statute it must be plain in its terms, and direct in its language. See note f to this section.

(k) A ferry is a franchise which cannot be set up without the license of the Crown, or the authority of some body corporate or person empowered by the Crown or the Legislature to grant the same. A municipality may be estopped from denying the validity of a by-law which through inadvertance was not signed or sealed. Reg. v. Perth, 6 O. R. 195. But where no seal was affixed but an impression of the seal was made thereon, held sufficient. Croome v. Brantford, 6 O. R. 188. Signature would seem to be as essential as seal. See Blanchard v. Bissell, 11 Ohio St. 95. See also Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Ottawa, 12 S. C. R. p. 379. Where the head of the corporation, either from caprice or obstinacy, refuses to do his duty in passing a by-law which is required for the benefit of his township or a part of it, it would seem that the remaining members of the council would be justified in requiring another member of the council to take the chair, and do that which the head of the council perversely refuses to do. Preston and Mauvers, 21 U. C. Q. B. 626. See further Brock v. Toronto and Nipissing R. W. Co., 17 Grant 425. No action can be sustained, as for a breach of duty, against the head of a municipal corporation for not affixing the seal to make a contract between the corporation and the plaintiff, founded upon a refusal, which, if there had been a previous contract, would have constituted a breach of it. There cannot be a remedy against the head of the corporation equivalent to a remedy on the contract against the corporation itself, had the contract been duly made, so as to make a valid contract where there is none. Fair v. Moore, 3 U. C. C. P. 484. See further note e to sec. 332. By-laws of police commissioners need not be sealed. See sec. 437.

(b) In the absence of some provision of this kind, it would in general be necessary, in order to prove a by-law, to produce and prove the original by-law. See Re Thetford, 12 Vin. Abr. 90; Lumbard v. Aldrich, 8 N. H. 31; Stevens v. Chicago, 48 Ill. 498; Moor v. Newfield, 4 Greenl. (Me.) 44. On a motion to quash a by-law, order, or resolution, it is only necessary to produce a copy, certified under the hand of the clerk alone, and under the corporate seal, together with an affidavit of the party applying, that the copy was

By-laws requiring assent of the Lieut.-Gov.

290. The facts required by this Act to be recited in any by-law which requires the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, shall, before receiving such approval, be verified by solemn declaration, by the head of the council, and by the treasurer and clerk thereof, and by such other person and on such other evidence as to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council satisfactorily proves the facts so recited; or in case of the death or absence of such municipal officer, upon the declaration of any other member of the council, whose declaration the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may accept. Opposition to by-laws.

How to be made.

291. In case a person rated on the assessment roll of a municipality, or of any locality therein, objects to the passing of a by-law, the passing of which is to be preceded by the application of a certain number of the ratable inhabitants of such municipality or place, he shall, on petitioning the council, be at liberty to attend in person, or by counsel or solicitor, before the council at the time at which the by-law is intended to be considered, or before a committee of the council appointed to hear evidence thereon, and may produce evidence that the necessary notice of the application for the by-law was not given, or that any of the signatures to the application are not genuine, or were obtained upon incorrect statements, and that the proposed by-law is contrary to the wishes of the persons whose signatures were so obtained, and that the remaining signatures do not amount to the number nor represent the amount of property necessary for the passing of the by-law. (c) This section applies only to by-laws requiring "the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council." Such as are mentioned in secs. 367, 370.

(d) The right to object does not extend to the passing of all by-laws, but only such as are "to be preceded by the application of a certain number of the ratable inhabitants of the municipality

292. If the council is satisfied upon evidence that the application for the by-law did not contain the names of a sufficient number of persons whose names were obtained without fraud and in good faith, and who represent the requisite amount of property, and are desirous of having the by-law passed, or if the council is satisfied that the notice required by law was not duly given, the council shall not pass the by-law. place." The right to attend for the purpose mentioned exists only "on petitioning the council." Where the application was to quash a drainage by-law, Gwynne, J., said, "We are not prepared to say, that if a municipal council, in violation of the apparent fact that a sufficient number to put the council in motion had not petitioned, such fact being made apparent in the manner indicated in sections 194 and 195 (same as 291 and 292 of this Act) should nevertheless proceed to pass a by-law imposing rates, that such a by-law could be sustained upon a motion, showing these facts, made to quash it. But in the absence of all suggestion of fraud and all opposition to the by-law when before the council, upon the ground taken, I think that a by-law which recites that a sufficient number had petitioned should be taken to be true, unless, at least, the recital be clearly established to be glaringly untrue, so as to afford a presumption of fraud in the proceedings of the council." In re Montgomery and Raleigh, 21 U. C. C. P. 394. See further the following note.

(e) The by-law should in every case be passed subsequently to and consequent upon the presentation of the required petition praying the particular by-law to be passed, and after the fullest opportunity given to every ratepayer to be affected by the by-law to object to its being passed. Per Gwynne, J., In re Morrell and Toronto, 22 U. If a by-law requires the assent of the electors, mode of obtaining same.

293. In case a by-law requires the assent of the electors of a municipality before the final passing thereof, (f) the following proceedings shall be taken for ascertaining such assent, (g) except in cases otherwise provided for:

Time and place of voting to be fixed by the by-law.

1. The council shall by the by-law fix the day and hour for taking the votes of the electors, and such places in the municipality as the council shall in their discretion deem best for the purpose, and where the votes are to be taken at more than one place, shall name a deputy-returning officer to take the votes at every such place; (h) and the day so fixed for taking the votes shall not be less than three, nor more than five weeks after the first publication of the proposed by-law. (i)

Publication of by-law.

2. The council shall, before the final passing of the proposed by-law, publish a copy thereof in some public newspaper published either within the municipality or in the county town, or in a public newspaper published in an adjoining local municipality, as the council may designate by resolution, and the publication shall for the purpose aforesaid be continued in at least one number of such paper each week

(f) By-laws for creating debts not payable in the same municipal year are hereby notably intended. See sec. 340 and notes thereon.

(g) If the proceedings prescribed be not taken, or be not duly taken, the by-law may be held invalid. See Barnett v. Newark, 28 Ill. 62; Higley v. Bunce, 10 Conn. 567; Conboy v. Iowa, 2 Iowa 90; Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Ottawa, 12 S. C. R. 365. See also sec. 333 at the end. Where the by-law if approved would be illegal the proceedings may be restrained. Helm v. Port Hope 22 Grant 273; Wallace v. Orangeville, 5 O. R. 37. As to the power, without legislative authority, to take a vote upon a matter over which, without the electoral assent, the council has complete jurisdiction, see Davis v. Toronto, 15 O. R. 33.

(h) When the manner of ascertaining the assent of the electors was prescribed by a notice attached to the proposed by-law when published it was held sufficient, though the Act says that it shall be determined by the by-law. Boulton v. Peterborough, 16 U. C. Q. B. 380. The omission in the by-law as finally passed of the clause providing for the time of voting and the places where the votes are to be taken, would not render the by-law invalid. Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Ottawa, 8 O. R. 201.

(i) Where publication was required for four consecutive weeks, in some newspaper published weekly or oftener in the municipality, with a notice that, on some day within the week next after such four weeks, a poll would be demanded, and the first publication was on Thursday, 12th January, and Tuesday, 7th February, was appointed for the polling, it was held too soon. Coe v. Pickering, 24 U. C. Q. B.

for three successive weeks, (j) and the council shall put up a copy of the by-law at four or more of the most public places in the municipality. 46 V. c. 18, s. 294, (1, 2).

439; In re Miles and Richmond, 28 U. C. Q. B. 333. Where it was required that the by-law should be published for the space of twenty days, in at least one newspaper, before it should go into effect, it was held that the by-law would go into effect twenty days after its first publication. Hoboken v. Gear, 3 Dutch (N. J.) 265.

(j) The municipality of Kingston proposed to take £7,500 in a road company, and published a by-law (No. 6) to authorize a loan, containing the usual recitals, imposing a rate, and directing the issue of debentures, &c. When the by-law came on for discussion, a clause was added reducing the sum to £5,000, and directing the rates to be altered accordingly, and, thus amended, it passed in June, 1854. In December following another by-law was passed (No. 8), providing for the issuing of debentures (authorized by No. 6), and directing a rate to be levied for the payment of the interest thereon, but making distinct provisions for meeting the principal out of the profits of the stock to be taken, and from other funds. This by-law did not repeal No. 6, but the enactments in it showed clearly that the rates imposed by that by-law were meant to be dispensed with. Held, that the last mentioned by-law was bad, for it was a new and independent by-law and not a mere supplement to No. 6, and should, therefore, have been published before the passing, and have contained the usual recitals and enactments required in by-laws for creating a loan. Held, also, that by-law No. 6 was bad, though not moved against, for it was not published beforehand in the form in which it ultimately passed. In re Bryant and Pittsburg, 13 U. C. Q. B. 347; but see per Spragge, C., in Brock v. Toronto and Nipissing R. Co., 17 Grant 433. Where the statute required publication in each newspaper published in the municipality, an omission to publish it in one of the local newspapers was held to avoid the by-law. Simpson v. Lincoln, 13 U. C. C. P. 48. Where the statute simply required the by-law to be promulgated, it was held sufficient to publish it in the newspaper in which the by-laws of the city were usually published. City Council v. Truchelut, 1 Nott. & McC. (South Car.) 227. It is not necessary that the by-law should be, before publication, signed and sealed, as required by sec. 288. The word "by-law" is used in the statute not merely to designate an instrument containing all that is stated in sec 288, but the same instrument while still in the hands of the council and under consideration. Paffard and Lincoln, 24 U. C. Q. B. 16. Where the statute provided for alternate modes of publication, and empowered the corporation to determine which mode should be adopted, it was held that publication in the mode directed by the clerk, without the intervention of the corporation, was insufficient. Higly v. Bunce, 10 Conn. 436; Ib. 567. It is not, of course, for the court, on application, summarily to set aside a by-law for defective publication. In such a case the court will exercise its discretion, and set aside or refuse to set aside the by-law, according to circumstances. Boulton and Peterborough, 16 U. C. Q. B. 380; In re Gibson v. Bruce, 20 U. C. Q. B. 398.

Notice.

3. Appended to the copy so published and posted shall be a notice (k) signed by the clerk of the council, stating that the copy is a true copy of a proposed by-law which has been taken into consideration, and which will be finally passed by the council in the event of the assent of the electors being obtained thereto, after one (l) month from the first publication in the newspaper, stating the date of the first publication, and that at the hour, day and place or places therein fixed for taking the votes of the electors, the polls will be held. 49 V. c. 37, s. 25.

Ballot papers to be printed.

294. Forthwith (m) after the day has been fixed as aforesaid, for taking the votes of electors, with respect to the by-law the clerk of the municipal council which proposed the by-law shall cause to be printed, at the expense of the municipality, such a number of ballot papers as will be sufficient for the purposes of the voting. (n) 46 V. c. 18, s. 295.

Form of.

295. The ballot papers shall be according to the form of Schedule J. to this Act. (o) 46 V. c. 18, s. 296.

Council to fix a day for appointment of persons to attend at polling places, and

296. The council shall by the by-law fix a time when, and a place where the clerk of the council which proposed the by-law shall sum up the number of votes given for and against the by-law, and a time and place for the appointment

(k) The notice may be in this form:

Take notice, that the above is a true copy of a proposed by-law, which has been taken into consideration, and which will be finally passed by the council of the municipality in the event of the assent of the electors being obtained thereto after one month from the first publication in the (naming the newspaper), the date of which first publication was (stating the day of the week, month and year), and that the votes of the electors of the said municipality will be taken thereon at (naming the place or places), on (naming the day and date), at (naming the hour.)

D. C., Clerk.

(l) It is not a fatal objection that a by-law was passed a few days less than a month after its first publication if it was passed after it was assented to by the electors. Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Ottawa, 8 O. R. 201.

(m) See note q to sec. 181.

(n) The system of ballot already applied to ordinary elections is now to be applied to the passing of by-laws, which is also a mode of election. See In re Johnson and Lambton, 40 U. C. Q. B. 297. See sec. 121 et seq.

of persons to attend at the various polling places, and at the final summing up of the votes by the clerk respectively, on behalf of the persons interested in, and promoting or opposing the passage of the by-law respectively. (p) 46 V. c. 18, s. 297. for summing up votes.

297. At the time and place named the head of the municipality shall appoint, in writing signed by him, two persons to attend at the final summing up of the votes, and one person to attend at each polling place on behalf of the persons interested in and desirous of promoting the passing of the by-law, and a like number on behalf of the persons interested in and desirous of opposing the passing of the by-law. (q) 46 V. c. 18, s. 298. Selection of agents.

298. Before any person is so appointed he shall make and subscribe before the head of the municipality a declaration in the form of Schedule K to this Act, that he is interested in and desirous of promoting or opposing (as the case may be) the passing of the by-law. 46 V. c. 18, s. 299. Agent to make declaration.

299. Every person so appointed, before being admitted to the polling place or the summing up of the votes, as the case may be, shall produce to the deputy-returning officer or clerk of the municipality, as the case may be, his written appointment. (r) 46 V. c. 18, s. 300. Admission of agents to polling place, etc.

300. In the absence of any person authorized as aforesaid to attend at a polling place, or at the final summing up of the votes, any elector in the same interest as the person so absent may, upon making and subscribing before the deputy-returning officer at the polling place or the clerk of the municipality a declaration in the form of Schedule K to this Act, be admitted to the polling place to act for the person so absent. (s) 46 V. c. 18, s. 301. Appointment in absence of agent.

(q) This is for the purpose of preventing all appearance of partiality, and if possible of satisfying all parties that there is no partiality or appearance of it. See sec. 152 and notes thereto. The mode of appointment deserves attention. It must not only be in writing but signed.

(r) The above note.

(s) The right to make an appointment under this section is dependent on the absence of the persons appointed under the previous sections. The appointment when necessary may be made of any elector "in the same interest as the person absent."

Exclusion from polling place.

301. During the time appointed for polling no person shall be entitled or permitted to be present in any polling place other than the officers, clerks and persons or electors authorized to attend as aforesaid at the polling place. (t) 46 V. c. 18, s. 302.

Deputy-returning officers, poll clerks, and agents may vote at polling place where they are employed, on certificate from the clerk of the municipality.

302—(1). The clerk of the municipality, on the request of any elector entitled to vote at one of the polling places, who has been appointed deputy-returning officer or poll clerk, or who has been named as the person to attend at a polling place other than the one where he is entitled to vote, shall give to such elector a certificate that such deputy-returning officer, poll clerk or person is entitled to vote for or against the by-law at the polling place where such elector is stationed during the polling day, and the certificate shall also state the property or other qualification in respect to which he is entitled to vote. (u)

(2) On the production of the certificate, the deputy-returning officer, poll clerk or person shall have the right to vote at the polling place where he is stationed during the polling day, instead of at the polling place of the ward or polling subdivision where he would otherwise have been entitled to vote; and the deputy-returning officer shall attach the certificate to the voters' list; but no such certificate shall entitle such elector to vote at such polling place unless he has been actually engaged as deputy-returning officer, poll clerk or person during the day of polling. (v)

Who to administer oath in such case.

(3) In case of a deputy-returning officer voting at the polling place at which he is appointed to act, the poll clerk, or in the absence of the poll clerk, any one authorized to be present at the polling place, may administer to the deputy-returning officer the oath required to be taken of voters qualified to vote on the by-law. (w) 46 V. c. 18, s. 303.

Who to conduct the poll in municipalities divided into wards

(x) 46 V. c. 18, s. 304.

In municipalities not divided into wards.

304. In the case of municipalities which are not divided into wards or polling subdivisions, the clerk shall provide himself with the necessary ballot papers, the materials for marking ballot papers, printed directions to voters, and a list of electors for the municipality similar to the list mentioned in the preceding section; and the clerk shall perform the like duties with respect to the whole municipality as are imposed upon a deputy-returning officer in respect of a ward or polling subdivision. (a) 46 V. c. 18, s. 305.

The Poll.

Voting to be by ballot.

305. At the day and hour fixed as aforesaid, a poll shall be held and the votes shall be taken by ballot. 46 V. c. 18, s. 306.

Proceedings to be as at municipal elections.

306. The proceedings at the poll, and for and incidental to the same, and the purposes thereof, shall be the same, as nearly as may be, as at municipal elections, and all the provisions of sections 120 to 176 inclusive, of this Act, so far as the same are applicable, and except so far as is herein otherwise provided, shall apply to the taking of votes at the poll, and to all matters incidental thereto. (b) 46 V. c. 18, s. 307.

Form of directions for guidance to voters.

307. The printed directions to be delivered to the deputy returning officers shall be in the form of schedule L to this Act. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 308.

(x) See s. 132.

(a) See s. 136.

(b) The application of the sections named, not only to the taking of the poll, but "to all matters incidental thereto," is a very wide, but not too wide, application of them. The purpose being to secure secrecy in the vote, not only at the time of voting, but subsequent, the sections which prevent the inspection of ballot papers, except under the order of the court or a judge, and for the destruction of the ballot papers after a limited time, are necessarily embraced.

(c) The omission to deliver these directions would not necessarily Freeholders who may vote on by-laws.

308.—(1) Every ratepayer, being a man, unmarried woman or widow, shall be entitled to vote on any by-law requiring the assent of the electors, who, at the time of tender of the vote, is of the full age of twenty-one years, and a natural born or naturalized subject of Her Majesty, (d) and who has neither directly nor indirectly received, nor is in expectation of receiving, any reward or gift for the vote which he tenders, (e) and who is at the time of the tender a freeholder, in his own right, or whose wife is a freeholder of real property within such municipality, of sufficient value to entitle him to vote at any municipal election, and is rated on the last revised assessment roll as such freeholder, provided such person is named or purported to be named in the voters' list of electors. (f)

In case of new municipality where there has been no assessment roll

(2) In case of a new municipality in which there has not been any assessment roll, the qualification of being named on the list and of being rated on the roll shall be dispensed with, but in such case the person offering to vote shall not be entitled to vote, unless he possesses the other qualifications above mentioned, and has, at the time of tender of his vote, sufficient property to have entitled him to vote if he had been rated for such property, and unless at such time he names such property to the deputy-returning officer; and the deputy-returning officer shall note such property in the voters' list opposite the voters' name, at the request of any one entitled to vote on such by-law. Leaseholders who may vote on by-laws.

309.—(1) Every ratepayer shall be entitled to vote on any by law requiring the assent of the electors, who is a man, unmarried woman or widow, and at the time of tender of the vote is of the full age of twenty one years, and a natural born or naturalized subject of Her Majesty, and who has neither directly nor indirectly received, nor is in expectation

(f) See note d to sec. 79.

(g) The general rule is to require both the possession of property and the rating of it on the roll; but the latter requirement presupposes the existence of a roll. of receiving, any reward or gift for the vote which he tenders and is resident within the municipality for which the vote is taken for one month next before the vote, and who is, or whose wife is, a leaseholder of real property within the municipality, of sufficient value to entitle him to vote at a municipal election, and who is rated on the last revised assessment roll therefor, and which lease extends for the period of time within which the debt to be contracted or the money to be raised by the by-law is made payable; in which lease the lessee has covenanted to pay all municipal taxes in respect of the property leased, and which person is named, or purported to be named, in the voters' list. (h)

Leaseholders who may vote on local improvement by-laws.

(2) The said provisions as to the lease extending for the period of time within which the debt to be contracted or the money to be raised by such by-law is made payable, shall not apply to a by-law respecting local improvements, under section 625 of this Act.

In case of new municipality where there has been no assessment roll.

(3) In case of a new municipality in which there has not been any assessment roll, the qualification of being named on the list and of being rated on the roll, and of residence for one month, shall be dispensed with, but in such case the person offering to vote shall not be entitled to vote unless possessing the other qualifications above mentioned, and unless he is at the time of tender of his vote a resident of the municipality, and then has sufficient property to have entitled him to vote if he had been rated for such property, and unless at such time he names the property to the deputy-returning officer; and the deputy-returning officer shall note the property in the voters' list, opposite the voter's name, at the request of any one entitled to vote on such by-law. (i) 46 V. c. 18, ss. 310, 311.

Oath of freeholder voting on by-law.

310. Any ratepayer offering to vote in respect of a freehold on such by-law, may be required by the deputy-returning officer or any ratepayer entitled to vote on such by-law, to make the following oath or affirmation, or

(h) The voters under a by-law are not in all cases the same as ordinary electors. By-laws creating debts, not payable in the same municipal year, usually provide for the payment of the debt in a term of years mentioned in the by-law. Leaseholders whose leases are for a less term than the term mentioned in the by-law, or in which the lessee is not bound to pay municipal taxes, have no right to vote. See Erwin and Townsend, 21 U. That you are a freeholder in your own right (or your wife is a freeholder), within the municipality for which this vote is taken;

That you have not voted before on the by-law in this township (or ward, as the case may be);

That you are, according to law, entitled to vote on the said by-law;

That you have not directly or indirectly received any reward or gift, nor do you expect to receive any, for the vote which you tender;

That you are the person named, or purporting to be named, in the voters' list of electors;

(In the case of an unmarried woman or widow claiming to vote) That you are unmarried (or a widow as the case may be);

That you have not received anything, nor has anything been promised to you directly or indirectly, either to induce you to vote on this by-law, or for loss of time, travelling expenses, hire of team, or any other service connected therewith;

And that you have not directly or indirectly paid or promised anything to any person, either to induce him to vote or refrain from voting;

(In case of a new municipality in which there has not been any assessment roll, then instead of referring to being named in the voters' list, the person offering to vote may be required to name in the oath the property in respect of which he claims to vote);

And no inquiries shall be made of any voter except with respect to the facts specified in such oath or affirmation. 46 V. c. 18, s. 312.

Oath of leaseholder voting on by-law, other than one respecting local improvements under section 625.

311. Any ratepayer offering to vote in respect of a leasehold on such by-law, other than a by-law respecting local improvements under section 625, may be required by the deputy-returning officer, or any ratepayer entitled to vote on such by-law, to make the following oath or affirmation or any part thereof, or to the effect thereof, before his vote is recorded:—(jj) section 318 of this Act, the clerk, in case of the majority of votes being in favour of the by-law, shall further certify whether or not, as far as shewn by the voters' list and assessment roll, such majority appears to be two-fifths of all the voters who were entitled to vote on the by-law.

(3) In case of dispute as to the result of the vote, the Judge shall have the same powers for determining the question as he has in any case of a scrutiny of the votes.

(4) The petition to the Judge may be by any elector, or by the council; and the proceedings for obtaining the Judge's decision shall be the same, as nearly as may be, as in the case of a scrutiny. 46 V. c. 18, s. 322.

(2) No municipality shall grant a bonus to a manufacturer under this section who proposes to establish an industry of a similar nature to one already established in such municipality without any such bonus.

(3) No bonus shall be granted by a municipality to secure the removal thereto of an industry already established elsewhere in the Province.

(4) No municipality shall grant a bonus in aid of any manufacturing industry, where the granting of such bonus would, for its payment, together with the payment of similar bonuses already granted by said municipality, require an annual levy for principal and interest, exceeding ten per cent. of the total annual municipal taxation thereof.

(5) This section shall not apply to the districts of Muskoka, Parry Sound, Algoma East and Algoma West, nor to any of the municipalities therein, nor shall it affect any by-law

Secrecy to be maintained at counting.

(4) Every officer, clerk and person in attendance at the counting of the votes, shall maintain and aid in maintaining the secrecy of the voting, and shall not communicate or attempt to communicate any information obtained at such counting as to the manner in which any vote is given in any particular ballot paper.

Voters not to be induced to disclose votes.

(5) No person shall, directly or indirectly, induce any voter to display his ballot paper after he has marked the same, so as to make known to any person the manner in which he has marked his vote.

Penalty for contravening this section.

(6) Every person who acts in contravention of this section shall be liable, on summary conviction before a Stipendiary Magistrate, Police Magistrate, or two Justices of the Peace, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour. 46 V. c. 18, s. 323.

Statutory declaration of secrecy to be made by officers, etc., before a poll.

322. The clerk of the municipality, and every officer, clerk or person authorized to attend a polling place, or at the counting of the votes, shall, before the opening of the poll, make a statutory declaration of secrecy, in the presence, if he is the clerk of the municipality, of a Justice of the Peace Scrutiny.

Scrutiny may be had on application to County Judge.

323. If within two weeks after the clerk of the council which proposed the by-law has declared the result of the voting, (a) any elector applies upon petition to the County Judge, after giving such notice of the application and to such persons as the Judge directs, and shews by affidavit to the Judge reasonable grounds for entering into a scrutiny of the ballot papers, (b) and the petitioner enters into a recognizance before the Judge in the sum of $100, with two sureties (to be allowed as sufficient by the Judge upon affidavit of justification) (c) in the sum of $50 each conditioned to prosecute the petition with effect, and to pay the party against whom the same is brought any costs which may be adjudged to him against the petitioner, (d) the Judge may appoint a day and place within the municipality for entering into the scrutiny. (e) 46 V. c. 18, s. 325.

Notice of time of scrutiny.

324. At least one week's notice of the day appointed for the scrutiny shall be given by the petitioner to such persons as the Judge directs, and to the clerk of the municipality. (f) 46 V. c. 18, s. 326.

Proceedings.

325. On the day and at the hour appointed, the clerk shall attend before the Judge with the ballot papers in his custody, and the Judge, upon inspecting the ballot papers (g) and hearing such evidence as he may deem necessary, and on

Powers of Judge.

Costs.

326. The Judge shall on the scrutiny possess the like powers and authority as to all matters arising upon the scrutiny as are possessed by him upon a trial of the validity of the election of a member of a municipal council; (i) and in all cases costs shall be in the discretion of the Judge, as in the case of applications to quash a by-law, or he may apportion the costs as to him seems just. (j) 46 V. c. 18, s. 328.

Passing By-laws by Council.

By-law carried by voters to be passed by council.

327. A by-law which is duly carried by the vote of the qualified electors, (k) shall within six weeks thereafter be passed by the council. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 329; 49 V. c. 37, s. 6.

The passing of the by-law stayed on presenting of a petition.

328. In case of a petition being presented, (m) the by-law shall not be passed by the council until after the petition has been disposed of; (n) and the time which intervenes between the presenting of the petition and the final disposal

(h) The decision of the judge as to the result is final. He is, in a summary manner, to determine whether the majority of the votes given is for or against the by-law. He is also to certify the result to the council.

Promulgation of by-laws.

329. Every promulgation of a by-law (p) shall consist in the publication, through the public press, of a true copy of the by-law, and of the signature attesting its authenticity, with a notice appended thereto of the time limited by law for applications to the courts to quash the same or any part thereof; and the publication aforesaid shall be in such public newspaper published either within the municipality, or in the county town or in a public newspaper published in an adjoining local municipality, (q) as the council may designate by resolution and the publication shall for the purpose aforesaid, be continued in at least one number of such paper each week for three successive weeks. 46 V. c. 18, s. 331.

Form of notice to be published with by-law.

330. The notice to be appended to every copy of the by-law for the purpose aforesaid, shall be to the effect following: (r)

NOTICE.—The above is a true copy of a by-law passed by the municipal council of the of , on the day of ,

(o) The general rule in the case of a by-law approved by a majority of the electors is, that it shall be passed within six weeks thereafter. This section creates a necessary exception to the general rule. It excludes from the six weeks whatever time may intervene between the presenting of the petition and the final disposal thereof.

(p) Promulgation ordinarily means publication; but it is intended by this Act to give peculiar effect to a promulgated by-law. The notice appended to the by-law as published gives the time within which application must be made to the court to quash the by-law. If the by-law promulgated be within the proper competence of the council, it is to be deemed, notwithstanding any want of substance or form either in the by-law itself or in the time or manner of passing the same, a valid by-law. Sec. 331.

(q) See note j to sec. 293.

(r) Where an Act expressly provides that a thing is to be done in a given form, that form should be strictly followed. Warren v. Love, 4 Dowl. P. C. 602; Codrington v. Curlewis, 9 Dowl. P. 46 V. c. 18, s. 332.

If not moved against within the time limited, to be valid.

331. In case no application to quash a by-law is made within three months next after the third publication thereof, and notice as aforesaid, the by-law or so much thereof as is not the subject of any such application, or not quashed upon such application, so far as the same ordains, prescribes or directs anything within the proper competence of the council to ordain, prescribe or direct, shall, notwithstanding any want of substance or form, either in the by-law itself, or in the time or manner of passing the same, be a valid by-law. An impression made in ink with a wooden block in the place of a seal would seem to be a sufficient seal, Reg. v. St. Paul's, Covent Garden, 7 Q. B. 232; see also Hamilton v. Dennis, 12 Grant 325; Re Bell and Black, 1 O. R. 125; Re Croome and the Municipal Council of Brantford, 6 O. R. 188, especially if made on the implication that such impression is the seal of the corporation. Kinghorn and Kingston, 26 U. C. Q. B. 133. See also In re Miles and Richmond, 28 U. C. Q. B. 333. See further, Ontario Salt Co. v. Merchant's Salt Co., 18 Grant 551; In re Scott and Harvey, 26 U. C. Q. B. 32. See also note a to sec. 288. Where the seal of the corporation, though not mentioned in the clerk's certificate, was on the same page with the certificate, immediately above it and opposite to the signature of the reeve and clerk, the by-law was held to be sufficiently complied with. Baker v. Paris, 10 U. C. Q. B. 621. The court will discharge a rule to quash a by-law, moved on a copy of the by-law, verified in a manner different from that prescribed by the statute, unless the reason for the variance is clearly and satisfactorily explained. Buchart v. Brant, 6 U. C. C. P. 130. Where the by-law was passed by the corporation of two united townships, and after dissolution of the union the applicant produced a copy of the by-law certified under the hand of the clerk of the senior township and under the corporate seal of that township, the statute was held to have been sufficiently complied with and the by-law quashed. In re Scott and Harvey, 26 U. C. Q. B. 32. Where the copy of the by-law put in, not being certified as the Act directs, could not be read, but the same was set out at length in affidavits filed, the deponent swearing that a by-law was passed by the town council in words following (setting out the by-law), the materials before the court were held sufficient. In re School Trustees of Sandwich and Sandwich, 23 U. C. Q. B. 639. A copy of the by-law filed was under the seal of the municipality and sworn to have been received from the clerk, and opposite the seal was the signature, "M. F., City Clerk," with the words, "a true copy," above. Held, sufficient. Kinghorn and Kingston, 26 U. C. Q. B. 130. See also Re Vashon and East Hawkesbury, 30 U. C. C. P. 194. It will be observed that the statute is silent as to the right of the clerk to charge fees for the certified copy or seal, while the statute 12 Vict. c. 81, s. 155, made it the duty of the clerk to give the copy received from the clerk, (g) and that the applicant is resident or interested as aforesaid, (h) the Court, after at least four days' service (i) on the corporation of a rule (j) to shew cause.

(g) The procedure pointed out by this section is plain and simple. And yet it is often disregarded, and something more difficult adopted in substitution. See per Richards, C. J., in Mottashed and Prince Edward, 30 U. C. Q. B. 77. Where deponent swore that the copy produced was received by one T. from the clerk of the council, and by T. was delivered to the deponent, the affidavit was held sufficient. In re Fisher and Vaughan, 10 U. C. Q. B. 492. But where the applicant swore that he received the copy from the clerk of the council through R. J. F., his attorney, the sufficiency of the affidavit was doubted. In re Mottashed and Prince Edward, 30 U. C. Q. B. 77. The statute does not require that the affidavit should refer to the copy of the by-law as annexed, or that it should in fact be annexed, but only that it be shewn that the copy produced is the copy received from the clerk. Bessey and Grantham, 11 U. C. Q. B. 156. But the court will not, without sufficient cause shewn on affidavit, dispense with the production of the copy of by-law, certified as the section requires. In re Buchart and Brant, 6 U. C. C. P. 134. The affidavit ought to be intituled of the court to which the motion is made: Fraser v. Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, 10 U. C. Q. B. 286; but where it appeared from the jurat to have been sworn before a commissioner of that court, the objection did not avail. Ib. See also Kinghorn v. Kingston, 26 U. C. Q. B. 130. Where the commissioner merely described himself as "a commissioner," &c., without stating of what court, it was held that the affidavit must be intituled. In re Hirons and Amherstburgh, 11 U. C. Q. B. 458. It need not be intituled "The Queen v. The Municipal Council of," &c., but may be "In the matter of W. S. C. and the Municipal Council of," &c. In re Conger and Peterborough, 8 U. C. Q. B. 349. Affidavits in answer must, it is apprehended, be entitled in the same way as the rule which they are produced to oppose. See Tapping on Mandamus, 413. "In the matter of A. B., appellant, and C. D., respondent," held unobjectionable. In re McLean and St. Catharines, 27 U. C. Q. B. 603.

(h) See note a to this section.

(i) The meaning is that the corporation shall have four full days at least to answer the rule. See note b to sec. 185. The time under the old Act was at least eight days. Where, under the old Act, the rule nisi was obtained near the end of the term, and made returnable eight days after service, and defendants appeared during the following term and objected that the rule should have been to shew cause on a day certain: Held, that the objection, even if good, was waived by appearance. Perry v. Whitby, 13 U. C. Q. B. 564.

(j) The rule need not be intituled "The Queen v. The Municipal Corporation of," &c., but may be "In the matter of A. B. and The Corporation," &c. In re Conger and Peterborough, 8 U. C. Q. B. 49;

McLean and St. Catharines, 27 U. C. Q. B. 603. The service is to be "on the corporation," therefore, where the motion was to quash a by-law for taking stock in a railway company, on the return of the rule, and though the corporation did not shew cause, the court declined to hear counsel for the company. In re Billings and Gloucester, 10 U. C. Q. B. 273. In a subsequent case, where the corporation declined to shew cause, the court refused to hear counsel for some of the ratepayers. In re Webb v. Yarmouth, Q. B. H. T. 1866. (k) A superintending power of a judicial character is necessary in order to keep corporate bodies of all kinds within legal and reasonable limits in the exercise of their powers. There has always been such a power where the English law has prevailed; without it great oppression might be exercised and great confusion created. It is a description of control from which any court would rather be relieved. In the nature of things the Legislature could not so exercise control as to meet the exigency of each case; it is, however, in their power to vest the authority where they think best. The court must exercise the authority in each case under the same sense of responsibility as they discharge their other duties. Per Robinson, C. J., in In re Barclay and Darlington, 12 U. C. Q. B. 92. The power, so far as the quashing of by-laws, orders and resolutions is concerned, depends wholly on this statute: Sutherland v. East Nissouri, 10 U. C. Q. B. 626; and that power will in general be exercised only when there is some illegality apparent on the face of the by-law, &c. In re Hill and Walsingham, 9 U. C. Q. B. 310; Grierson v. Ontario, 11 623; In re Standley and Vespra and Sunnidale, 17 U. C. Q. B. 69; In re Scarlett and York, 14 U. C. C. P. 161; In re Secord and Lincoln, 24 U. C. Q. C. Q. B. 232; Sutherland v. East Nissouri, 10 U. C. Q. B. 62 The power of the court is not, however, limited to cases where illegality appears upon the face of the by-law, but extends to cases where the illegality is entirely extraneous. See Re Fenton v. Simcoe, 10 O. R. 27, where the cases on this point are reviewed. A by-law may be quashed if it has not been passed in the interest of the public but simply to subserve the interests of an individual. Re Mort and City of St. Thomas, 6 A. R. 323. But of course a by-law substantially illegal cannot (subject to the provisions of section 331) afford any protection for what has been done under it, and so incidentally its validity may be decided in an action, Sutherland v. East Nissouri, 10 U. C. Q. B. 626. So on an application to quash a conviction for something done contrary to a by-law, the legality of the by-law, though not quashed, may be questioned. Reg. v. Osler, 32 U. C. Q. No action can be brought for anything done under it till the by-law is quashed. See sec. 338. It is no ground of illegality for quashing a by-law that it is not sealed with the seal of the municipality, for unless so sealed it is not a legal by-law, and there is no jurisdiction to quash it as such. In re Croft and Brooke, 17 U. C. Q. B. 269. In some cases that which was intended to be a by-law, but is not in fact a by-law for want of the corporate seal, may be looked upon as a "resolution or order," and as subject to the summary jurisdiction of the court on application to quash. The court has refused to quash a by-law on the ground that a quorum of the council was not present at its passing. Sutherland v. East Nissouri, 10 U. C. Q. B. 626. Where mere errors of calculation are charged, unless clearly made out, the court will not quash the by-law. Paffard and Lincoln, 24 U. C. Q. B. 16. Per Rose, J., In re Talley and Onondaga, 6 O. R. 573. When, however, the original by-law is objectionable, and the amending by-law limits its application or makes some immaterial verbal alteration, the court should not interfere, as the party moving has lost his right to take the objection against the old by-law. Ib. It is in the discretion of the court to require great promptness of application, and to refuse to quash a by-law, even though the application be made within the year. See remarks of Richards, C. J., in Taylor and West Williams, 30 U. C. Q. Quashing by-laws obtained by bribery, etc.

335. Any by-law the passage of which has been procured through or by means of any violation of the provisions of sections 209 and 210 of this Act, (r) shall be liable to be quashed upon an application to be made in conformity with the provisions hereinbefore contained. (s) 46 V. c. 18, s. 337.

Procedure in such case.

336.—(1) Before determining an application for the quashing of a by-law upon the ground that any of the provisions of the said sections 209 and 210 of this Act have been contravened in procuring the passing of the same, and if it is made to appear to a Judge of the High Court that

probable grounds exist for a motion to quash the by-law, the Judge may make an order for an enquiry to be held, upon such notice to the parties affected as the Judge may direct concerning the said grounds, before the Judge of the County Court of the county in which the municipality which passed the by-law is situate, and require that upon the enquiry all witnesses, both against and in support of the by-law, be orally examined and cross-examined upon oath before the County Court Judge. (t)

(q) The inconvenience of quashing a by-law imposing a rate, after it has been acted upon for months, is generally greater than the inconvenience of allowing a by-law, though technically defective, to exist. The effect of this section will be important, in curing technical defects in by-laws imposing rates. The limitation applies to by-laws which have been specially promulgated, and commences at the time of such promulgation. Per Draper, C. J., in Bogart v. Belleville, 6 U. C. C. P. 425; and where the by-law imposes a rate, it would be well for the applicant moving against it more than three months after its passing, to show that it has not been specially promulgated. In re Grant and Toronto, 12 U. C. C. P. 357; but see also remarks of Draper, C. J., in Bogart v. Belleville, 6 U. C. C. P. 425. If the by-law moved against be one requiring the assent of electors or ratepayers, and it be shown that such by-law was not submitted to the electors or ratepayers, the application to quash it may be made at any time. See note n to sec. 333.

(r) See notes to secs. 209 and 210.

(t) This section provides for an "enquiry," and afterwards for "hearing and determination." The enquiry is to be held before a Judge of the County Court, and the hearing and determination before a Judge of the High Court; but before an enquiry can be ordered, "probable grounds" for a motion to quash the by-law must Return of evidence.

(2) The County Court Judge shall thereupon return the evidence so taken before him to one of the registrars of the High Court at Toronto; and after the return of the evidence, and upon reading the same, a Judge of the High Court may, upon notice to such of the parties concerned as he thinks proper, proceed to hear and determine the question; (u) and if the grounds therefor appear to him to be satisfactorily established, he may make an order for quashing the by-law, and he may order the costs attending the proceedings to be paid by the parties or any of them who have supported the by-law; and if it appears that the application to quash the by-law ought to be dismissed, the Judge may so order, and in his discretion award costs, to be paid by the persons applying to quash the by-law. Stay of proceedings on the by-law.

337. After an order has been made by a Judge directing an enquiry, and after a copy of the order has been left with the clerk of the corporation of which the by-law is in question, all further proceedings upon the by-law shall be stayed until after the disposal of the application in respect of which the enquiry has been directed; but if the matter is not prosecuted to the satisfaction of the Judge he may remove the stay of proceedings. 46 V. c. 18, s. 339.

shewn to the Judge to whom the application is made. On the enquiry all witnesses, both against and in support of the by-law, shall be orally examined and cross-examined before the County Judge; but apparently no express provision is made for compelling the attendance of witnesses on the enquiry; in all probability their attendance may be compelled by subpœna issued out of the Court in which the application is pending.

(u) As to what is a hearing and determination, see Rex v. Justices of Kent, 9 B. & C. 283, and In re Judge of Perth and Robinson, 12 U. C. P. 252.

(b) It is not necessary that the illegality should appear on the face of the by-law in order to bring into operation the provisions of this section. For example, in the case of a road, if it be run through an orchard contrary to the statute, there can be no question about the by-law being illegal. In such a case the party must apply and have the by-law quashed, before he can sue for anything done under the by-law. There may be cases where parties might maintain actions without taking that course; but it is apprehended the effect of the section is to deprive parties of any action whatever against any one, so long as the by-law has neither been quashed nor repealed, when-under it (c) which, by reason of such illegality, gives any person a right of action, (d) no such action shall be brought until one month has elapsed after the by-law, order or resolution has been quashed or repealed, nor until one month's notice in writing of the intention to bring the action has been given to the corporation, (e) and every such action shall be brought against the corporation alone, and not against any person acting under the by-law, order or resolution. ever it is made to appear that what is complained of was done under a by-law. Black v. White, 18 U. C. Q. B. 371; Smith v. Toronto, 7 U. C. L. J. 239. When the by-law is quashed or repealed the action must be brought against the corporation alone, and not against the person acting under it. Black v. White, 18 U. C. Q. B. 371. The quashing or repeal of the by law is not to be regarded as taking the defence from parties acting under the by-law while in force; for all proceedings had under it while in force, if legalized by it, may, notwithstanding its repeal or being quashed, be justified under it. Per Macaulay, C. J., in Barclay v. Darlington, 5 U. C. C. P. 438.

(c) Are these words to be held to mean only anything done in the execution of the by-law or for the purpose of carrying it out, or are they not to be construed to mean also anything done in reliance on the legality of the by-law, as, entering upon land which, if the by-law be valid, is a public highway, but which, if the by-law be not valid, leaves the parties exposed to be treated as trespassers? Unless the latter construction be adopted, the Act will in this respect fail in many cases of the effect which must have been intended. Per Robinson, C. J., in Black v. White, 18 U. C. Q. B. 369.

(d) The right of action intended is a right of action for the recovery of damages, in which it may be important to tender amends. It does not therefore apply to actions of replevin, when brought merely to try the right to the property replevied. Wilson v. Middlesex, 18 U. C. Q. B. 348; Haynes v. Copeland, 18 U. C. C. P. 17. See also Malott v. Township of Mersea, 9 O. R. 611.

(e) The section declares that no action shall be brought until the by-law, &c., has been quashed or repealed for one month, and this, as already mentioned, precludes the bringing of the action while the by-law, &c., subsists, see Carmichael v. Slater, 9 U. C. C. P. 423; but it does not follow that the Statutes of Limitations only begin to run from the time of quashing or repealing. It is clear that actions may be brought (though only against the corporation) for things done under the illegal by-law, &c., that is things done in pursuance of, or in execution of it, or under its authority while in force. The right of action may be held to vest the moment the thing is done, and, if so, every statute limiting a right of action of the particular kind would begin to run forthwith. Were it not so, very small matters might be made grounds of action against municipal councils which (in the case of individuals) would be outlawed.

(f) Whether notice of action can be given before the by-law, &c., quashed or repealed is doubtful, but the question is material only

Tender of amends.

339. In case the corporation tenders amends to the plaintiff or his solicitor, (g) if such tender is pleaded and (if traversed) proved, and if no more than the amount tendered is recovered, the plaintiff shall have no costs, but costs shall be taxed to the defendant, and set off against the verdict, and the balance due to either party shall be recovered as in ordinary cases. (h) 46 V. c. 18, s. 341. See sec. 430.

---

case the time for bringing the action is limited, and the time about to expire. See McKenzie v. Kingston, 13 U. C. Q. B. 634.

(g) The law as to tender is not much understood by the general public.

1. Definition.—A tender in this section means the offering of money in satisfaction of a cause of action arising out of something done under a by-law, order or resolution, quashed or repealed.

2. How made.—A tender must be unqualified and unconditional. Mitchell v. King, 6 C. & P. 237; Jennings v. Major, 8 C. & P. 61; Strong v. Harvey, 3 Bing. 304. Whether conditional or not, is a question for the jury. Marsden v. Goode, 2 C. & K. 133; Milburn v. Milburn, 4 U. C. Q. B. 179. Strictly speaking, the tender ought to be of specie; but a tender of bank notes, if not objected to on the ground of being notes, will be good. Blow v. Russell, 1 C. & P. 365. The precise sum intended, or more, must be tendered, without requiring change. Brady v. Jones, 2 D. & R. 305. The money ought to be actually produced, Kraus v. Arnold, 7 Mod. 59; Leatherdale v. Sweepstone, 3 C. &. P. 342; Thompson v. Hamilton, 5 O. S. 1; but this may be dispensed with by the party to whom the tender is made, as, where defendant said he had the money in his pocket, and plaintiff said, "You need not give yourself the trouble of offering it, for I will not take it." Douglass v. Patrick, 3 T. R. 683; Jackson v. Jacob, 3 Bing. N. C. 869; Llado v. Morgan, 23 U. C. C. P. 517; Matheson v. Kelly, 24 U. C. C. P. 598. A receipt for the money cannot be insisted upon. Richardson v. Jackson, 8 M. & W. 298; Cole v. Blake, 1 Peak 179.

3. To whom made.—Under this section the amends may be tendered "to the plaintiff or his solicitor." A tender, strictly speaking, ought to be made before the writ is sued out, and if made to the plaintiff himself would be more satisfactory than if made to his solicitor. But if the solicitor is authorized to settle the business, and writes to defendants previous to suing out the writ warning them of the action unless they pay him the money or the like, the tender may clearly be made to the solicitor. Sellon, Pr. I. 315. The solicitor must, under the circumstances, be one employed in the particular action, and not merely one generally employed by plaintiff. Ib.

4. The object of the tender is to prevent useless litigation. The party admits a cause of action, but limits the amount of damages claiming therefrom. The party tendering in effect says, "I admit you have a right to bring this action, but I do not admit that you are entitled to any damages beyond the amount tendered." If plaintiff refuse the tender, and recover no more than the amount tendered,

By-laws for contracting debts.

Terms of.

340. Every municipal council may, under the formalities required by law, pass by-laws for contracting debts by borrowing money or otherwise, and for levying rates for payment of such debts on the ratable property of the municipality, for any purpose within the jurisdiction of the council, (k) but no such by-law shall be valid which is not in accordance with the following restrictions and provisions, (l) except in so far he loses his costs, and is compelled to pay the costs of defendant, which may be set off against his verdict.

(k) In ordinary trading, corporations have clearly an implied power to borrow money for the purposes of their business, and to give securities for the repayment of the same. Curtis v. Leavit, 15 N. Y. 9; Barry v. Merchants' Exchange, 1 Sandf. Ch. (N. Y.) 280; Beer v. Phœnix Glass Co. 14 Barb. (N. Y.) 358; but whether such a power is to be implied in the case of a municipal corporation is not so clear. See Bank v. Chillicothe, 7 Ohio, Part II. 31; State v. Maddison, 7 Wis. 582; Mills v. Gleason, 11 Wis. 470; City v. Lamson, 9 Wall. (U. S.) 477; Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356; Canal Banks v. Supervisors, 5 Denio. (N. Y.) 517; Barker v. Loomis, 6 Hill. (N. Y.) 463; People v. Brennan, 39 Barb. (N. Y.) 522. The power, however, is here in express terms conferred subject to certain limitations. Express power to borrow implies the power to give security to the lender. Railroad Co. v. Evansville, 15 Ind. 395; Commonwealth v. Pittsburg, 34 Pa. St. 496; Middleton v. Allegheny Co., 37 Pa. St. 237; Seybert v. Pittsburg, 1 Wall. 272; De Voss v. Richmond, 18 Gratt. (Va.) 338; Rogers v. Burlington, 3 Wall. 654; Galena v. Corwith, 48 Ill. 423. It has been held that a municipal corporation has no power to borrow at a greater rate of interest than six per cent. See note p to sec. 340, sub-s. 3. Where the money is borrowed for one purpose it cannot in general be applied by the Council to a different purpose. Brogdin v. Bank of Upper Canada, 13 Grant 544; see further Baxter v. Kerr, 23 Gr. 367.

as is otherwise provided in the next following two sections of this Act:

When to take effect.

1. The by-law, if not creating a debt for the purchase of public works, (m) shall name a day in the financial year in which the same is passed, when the by-law is to take effect, and if no day is named, shall take effect on the day of the passing thereof: (n)

When debt to be redeemed.

2. If not contracted for gas or water-works, or for the purchase of public works, according to the statutes relating thereto, the whole of the debt and the obligations to be issued therefor shall be made payable in twenty years at furthest from the day on which such by-law takes effect; and if the debt is contracted for gas or water-works, the same shall in like manner be paid in thirty years at furthest from the day on which the by-law takes effect; (o)

If for gas or water works, etc.

abuse. For the security of the creditor, as well as for the protection of the ratepayers, restrictions are necessary. It is here expressly declared that no such by-law as authorized shall be valid if not in accordance with certain restrictions and provisions. The statute is not simply, as formerly, directory. See In re Sells and St. Thomas, 3 U. C. C. P. 285, 291; see further Baltimore v. Gill, 31 Md. 375; Weston v. Syracuse, 17 N. Y. 110; Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356; Smith v. Morse, 2 Cal. 524; Galena v. Corwith, 48 Ill. 423.

(m) As to which see sec. 349.

(n) It seems intended that in the body of every by-law shall be stated a day on which the same is to take effect. The date on which a by-law is to take effect does not necessarily form a part thereof, though it may be the practice of some officer of the corporation to mark the day of its passing on it. "The Legislature, however, meant that it should not be necessary to refer to any thing extrinsic to the by-law for the purpose of learning when it would or had come into operation. The purchaser of a debenture, for instance, would require to see that it and the by-law under which it was issued were legal, and might, on that account, require to see when the by-law took effect." Per Draper, C. J., In re Michie and Toronto, 11 U. C. C. P. 384. But where no day is named and nothing has been done under the by-law, it ought to be quashed. In re Nichol and Alnwick, 41 U. C. Q. B. 577. The day named in the by-law for it to take effect must be in the same financial year in which the by-law is passed. It is not intended that the municipal council shall have power to postpone the operation of such a by-law to the next or any subsequent year.

(o) The power to contract a debt payable at a future period, and to secure its payment at the period by the ratepayers then living, is founded on the principle that the object for which the debt is contracted is one which will benefit future ratepayers as well as those Yearly rate.

3. The by-law shall settle a certain specific sum to be raised annually, for the payment of interest during the currency of the debentures; also, a certain specific sum to be raised annually for the payment of the debt: such sum to be such as will be sufficient with the estimated interest on the investments thereof, to discharge the debt when payable; (p)

Interest on investments how estimated.

4. In settling the sum to be raised annually for the payments of the debt, the rate of interest on investments shall not be estimated at more than five per cent. per annum, to be capitalized yearly; (q)

Property on which rate to be levied.

5. The by-law shall provide that such annual sum shall be raised and levied in each year by a special rate, sufficient therefor, on all the ratable property in the municipality; (r) or, if the by-law is for a work payable by local assessment, on all the property ratable under the by-law or per foot frontage as the case may be; living at the time the debt is contracted. This is quite consistent with the policy of municipal law, as explained in notes to sec. 357.

(p) The by-law is to settle a specific sum to be raised annually, and is not to leave it to a municipal officer to be computed. See Canada Co. v. Middlesex, 10 U. C. Q. B. 93. The enactment is applicable to by-laws granting to trustees of school sections authority to issue debentures for the erection of a school house. In re McIntyre and Elderslie, 27 U. C. C. P. 58. It is provided that the council may, in its discretion, make the principal of the debt payable by annual instalments (sec. 342). It has been held that municipal corporations cannot raise money at a rate of interest exceeding six per cent. Wilson and the Municipal Council of Elgin, 13 U. C. Q. B. 218; but see now North Gwillimbury v. Moore, 15 U. C. C. P. 445; In re Nichol and Alnwick, 41 U. C. Q. B. 577; Scottish American Investment Co. v. Elora, 6 A. R. 628. A corporation can be compelled to levy the rate required for the sinking fund Clarke v. Palmerston, 6 O. R. 616. See notes to sec. 357.

(q) It does not appear to be necessary that the by-law should set forth the estimates on which it is founded. The court will intend that proper estimates have been made, in the absence of evidence that they are wanting. If the rate is demonstrated to be insufficient the by-law may be quashed. The corporation has no power by resolution to appropriate money from the investment of the sinking fund to any other purpose. Re Barber and Ottawa, 39 U. C. Q. B. 406.

(r) It does not appear to be necessary that the by-law should state the rate to be calculated at so much in the dollar on the actual value of the ratable property of the municipality. Tylee v. Waterloo, 9 U.C. Q. B. 572. In the absence of anything to the contrary, the court will intend that the council has acted according to law. Ib. The council is empowered to apply surplus income and other surplus funds to the payment of the debt. Sec. 377.

6. The by-law, unless it is for a work payable by local assessment, (s) shall recite: (t) Recitals:

(a) The amount of the debt which the new by-law is intended to create, and, in some brief and general terms, the object for which it is to be created; Amount and object of debt;

(b) The total amount required by this Act to be raised annually by special rate for paying the new debt and interest; Amount to be raised annually;

(c) The amount of the whole ratable property of the municipality according to the last revised, or revised and equalized assessment roll; The value of the ratable property;

(d) The amount of the existing debenture debt of the municipality, (u) and how much (if any) of the Amount of existing debt.

(s) As to which see sec. 341.

(t) It was at one time held that the omission of a prescribed recital did not invalidate the by-law; that the statute was directory and not imperative. See In re Sells and St. Thomas, 3 U. C. C. P. 291; see, however, the following note.

(u) The by-law should describe the debts and their amounts. See Canada Co. v. Middlesex, 10 U. C. Q. B. 93; Ex parte Hayes and Toronto, 7 U. C. C. P. 255. These may be shewn in the recitals of the by-law. Where a by-law recited that the amount of the whole ratable property of the township, according to the last assessment returns was £114,756, and that it would require the annual rate of 2½d. in the pound as a special rate for payment, &c., and then enacted that a special rate of 2½d. should be levied to pay the principal and interest of the loan to be raised under the by-law, and that the proceeds of such special rate should be applied solely to the payment, &c., until the same be fully paid and satisfied: Held, that the recital as to the amount of ratable property and the assessment returns was sufficient, and that it sufficiently appeared that the amount was to be raised in each year. In re Cameron and East Nissouri, 13 U. C. Q. B. 190. In one part of the by-law the reeve was empowered to issue debentures for such sums as should be from time to time required for the purposes mentioned, but not to exceed in the whole £10,000. In subsequent clauses a special rate was imposed to pay "the said sum of £10,000," and the application of "the said sum of £10,000" was pointed out. The debentures were directed to be made payable "within twenty years of the time that this by-law shall come into operation." Held, that the amount of the loan, and the time when the debentures were to be made payable, was stated with sufficient certainty. Ib. See also In re Lloyd and the Corporation of Elderslie, 4 U. C. Q. B. 235; In re Gilchrist and the Corporation of Sullivan, 4 U. C. Q. B. 588. Where a by-law provided that the site of an old town-hall should be disposed of, and any money above the proceeds of the old hall required for the erection of a new one, should be levied on the ratable property in the municipality, but did not fix principal or interest is in arrear. (v) 46 V. c. 18, s. 342.

the amount or the rate to be levied, this part of the by-law was held bad. In re Hawke and Wellesley, 13 U. C. Q. B. 636. When errors in computation only are shewn in a by-law, though extensive, the Court will lean strongly to support it, especially when it has been acted upon. Secord and Lincoln, 24 U. C. Q. B. 142; Grierson and Ontario, 9 U. C. Q. B. 623. Not only the rate must be mentioned in the by-law, but the amount to be raised thereby, see Tylee and Waterloo, 9 U. C. Q. B. 572, and also the purpose or object for which it is required. Ib. Thus, "to pay off two debentures held by William Allan, for erecting the court-house in said district," Ib. 588, or "for the purpose of liquidating the sum of £1,500 due to the Gore Bank, and the sum of £500 due by the District to Alexander Drysdale, Esquire." Ib. Besides, the by-law must recite the amount of the whole ratable property of the municipality, according to the last revised or revised and equalized assessment roll. See McCormick v. Oakley, 17 U. C. Q. B. 345.

(v) It is to be regretted that the Legislature did not insert in the Act forms of by-laws for the issue of debentures; the forms here given may be found useful in framing by-laws under this and the next two succeeding sections.

Where the By-law provides for the payment of the debentures by instalments insert a Schedule shewing the amount payable in each year. Sec 51 V. c. 41 Schedule.

As to by-laws for special rates by county councils for local improvements in townships. See secs. 631-633.

Municipal council may make principal repayable by equal annual instalments.

342—(1) In any case of passing a by-law for contracting a debt, by borrowing money for any purpose, (c) the municipal council may in its discretion make the principal of the debt repayable by annual instalments during the currency of the period (not exceeding thirty years, if the debt is for gas or water works, and not exceeding twenty years if the debt is for any other purpose) within which the debt is to be discharged; such instalments to be of such amounts that the aggregate amount payable for principal and interest in any year shall be equal, as nearly as may be, to what is payable for principal and interest during each of the other years of such period; and may issue the debentures of the municipal corporation for the amounts, and payable at the times, corresponding with such instalments, together with interest, annually or semi-annually, as may be set forth and provided in the by-law. (d)

What by-law shall set out.

(2) The by-law shall set forth a certain specific sum, to be raised in each year during the currency of the debt, which annual sum shall be sufficient to discharge the several instalments of principal and interest accruing due on such debt, as the said instalments and interest become respectively payable, according to the terms of the by-law; (e) and in cases within this

(c) See note k to sec. 340.

(d) The ordinary mode is to provide for the raising of a certain amount for the annual interest and a certain amount for the annual sinking fund, so as, within the period specified in the by-law, to discharge the debt and interest. See sub-ss. 3 & 4 of sec. 340, and notes thereto. But the council in its discretion may now, under this section, make the principal repayable by annual instalments. When this mode is adopted, it obviates the necessity for the accumulation and investment of the sinking fund. But still there is the limitation that the instalments shall be "of such amounts that the aggregate amount payable for principal and interest in any year shall be equal, as nearly as may be, to what is payable for principal and interest during each of the other years of such period." Had the limitation been that the instalments should be equal in each year, it would have been more easily understood; but it applies as well to the interest as the principal, and it is declared that the aggregate amount for principal and interest in any year shall be equal, as nearly as may be, to what is payable for principal and interest during each of the other years. With each payment of an instalment for principal, the interest would, under ordinary circumstances, be reduced, and so fluctuate from year to year. Whether this would be a compliance with the provision that the aggregate in each year for principal and interest shall be equal, "as nearly as may be," remains to be decided.

The provisions of it are necessary for the security of creditors. It is enacted, first, that no council shall either repeal a by-law under which a debt was contracted, or, secondly, alter a by-law providing the rate so as to diminish the amount to be levied under the by-law, &c. The by-law, however, may, under certain circumstances, be in part repealed, pursuant to sec. 346. So the rate may, under certain circumstances, be reduced, pursuant to secs. 367, 368. If the repealing by-law do come under one of these enactments it must be quashed. In re [illegible] and Oakland, 24 U. C. C. P. 295.

(v) The object of this section is, to compel municipal corporations and their officers to keep faith with creditors. When the latter advance money upon the security of a by-law for its repayment whole or in part, within a specified period at a specified rate, and attempt to repeal or alter the by-law, so as to diminish the amount to be levied under it, would be a fraud, whether so designed or not. But see sec. 346 et seq. Besides it is the duty of the treasurer of every municipality to see that the money collected under such by-law is properly applied to the payment of interest and principal of debentures issued under the by-law. Sec. 405.

(a) The statute 12 Vict. cap. 5, sec. 12, authorized the Governor in Council to contract with any municipal council or other local corporation, for the transfer to them of any of the public roads, harbours, bridges, &c., which it might be more convenient to place under the management of such local authorities. By statute 14 & 15 Vict. cap. 124, any municipal corporation in Upper Canada might contract a debt to Her Majesty in the purchase of any roads, and the municipality might enter into, make or execute all or bonds, deeds, covenants or other securities to Her Majesty, which the municipality might deem fit, for the payment of the amount purchase money of any such work, and for securing the performance of any conditions of sale. By statute 16 Vict. cap. 181, s. 39, it was enacted that none of the provisions of the 4th or 16th sections of the Municipal Corporations Amendment Act of 1851 should affect or apply to any by-law passed or to be passed by any municipality in Upper Canada for any of the purposes mentioned in 14 & 15 Vict. cap. 124, or to any debts, bonds, deeds, covenants or other securities contracted, made, or executed to Her Majesty, under the provisions of that Act, or for any of the purposes therein mentioned. By statute 18 Vict. cap. 133, it was enacted, in effect, that no by-law, passed for raising money upon the credit of any city, town, township or village corporation, should have force or effect until the approval of the municipal electors should have been obtained. These provisions were repealed by the Municipal Institutions Act, 1858; and sec. 226 of Con. Stat. U. C. cap. 54 (of which sec. 6 of 29 & 30 Vict. cap. 51 was a re-enactment) was in effect substituted for them. The fair result would seem to be that none of the sections 340 to 342 of this Act, relating to by-laws creating debts, extend to by-laws made for the purchase of public works, except in this manner and to the extent pointed out in the second paragraph of this section.

t tolls on such road or bridge, or for the making such road or bridge wholly or partly free from tolls, and may execute such bonds, deeds, covenants, and other securities to Her Majesty, as the council may deem fit, for the payment of the price of such public work or claim already sold or transferred, or which may be sold or transferred, or agreed to be sold or transferred to the municipal corporation, and for securing the performance and observance of all or any of the conditions of sale or transfer; and may also pass all necessary by-laws for any of the purposes aforesaid; and all such by-laws, debts, bonds, deeds, covenants and other securities shall be valid, although no special or other annual rate has been settled or imposed to be levied in each year, as provided by sections 340 to 342 of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 351; 49 V. c. 37, s. 8.

Yearly rates to be levied, sufficient to pay all debts payable within the year.

357—(1) The council of every municipal corporation, and of every provisional corporation, shall assess and levy on the whole ratable property within its jurisdiction, (c) a sufficient sum in each year to pay all valid debts of the corporation whether of principal or interest, falling due within the year (d)

(c) The assessment is to be on "the whole ratable property, &c." An assessment, therefore, on a portion of the ratable property, such as wild lands, would be invalid.

(d) The power given is to assess and levy, &c., a sufficient sum in each year to pay all valid debts falling due within the year. It is not easy to define what is meant by "a valid debt." It may be described as a debt which the corporation is legally liable to pay, and the payment of which may be enforced by process of law. The word "debt" must be taken as used in its most comprehensive sense, "as something due from one to another." Per Spragge, V. C., in Wilkie and Clinton, 18 Grant 559. The sinking fund for payment of debentures is a debt, and a corporation can be compelled by mandamus to levy the necessary rate. Clarke v. Palmerston, 6 O. R. 616. Then the assessment is to be to pay all valid debts "falling due within the year." The general rule is that municipal bodies ought not, in one year, to levy a rate to pay debts due in a past year. The ratepayers of a locality should not be required to pay for the benefits which the ratepayers of a previous year enjoyed. Each year's debts should be paid by that year's assessments, unless in those expressly authorised cases where a deviation is allowed by statute. Per A. Wilson, J., in Haynes v. Copeland, 18 U. C. C. P. 167. After a lapse of years the ratepayers would be a totally different body from that which was a few years previously. "Purchasers, availing themselves of their right of inspecting the annual reports of the auditors of the liabilities of the ratable property in the city, have acquired property which in the absence of any such liability appearing, as that which is now asserted, they may fairly claim to hold discharged of any such liability as that now sought to be imposed upon it. To charge the present owners of real property with this liability would seem to partake of the character of a fraud upon them, &c." Per Gwynne, J., in Frontenac v. Kingston, 20 U. C. C. P. 64. The general inconve-

ence of retrospective rates has in England been long known and recognized on the ground that succeeding ratepayers ought not to be made to pay for services of which their predecessors have had the benefit. See Rex v. Haworth, 12 East. 556; Cortis v. Kent Waterworks Co., 7 B. & C. 314; Rex v. Flintshire, 5 B. & Al. 761; Woods v. Reed, 2 M. & W. 777; Jones v. Johnson, 5 Ex. 862; S. C. in Error 7 Ex. 452; Rex v. Wavell, Doug. 116; Rex v. Goodcheap, 6 T. R. 359; Attorney-General v. Wigan, 18 Jurist 299. As a rule, money required for municipal purposes ought to be raised, as the law directs, beforehand, instead of being in any manner or by any person advanced, in the expectation of reimbursement by the municipality. See Rex v. Haworth, 12 East. 556; Tawney's Case, 2 Ld. Rayd. 1009; Dawson v. Wilkinson, Cases Temp. Hard. 381. But see Burnham v. Peterborough, 8 Grant 336. It is for reasons such as these that the power to assess under this section is restricted to debts falling due "within the year." See Clapp v. Thurlow, 10 U. C. C. P. 353. The result appears to be that no municipal council has power, without the consent of the electors, to authorize the expenditure of money for purposes not falling under the head of ordinary expenditure, without having the money in hand to meet the demand, and without making provision, by rate or otherwise, to raise the required amount to meet the demand when due. McMaster v. Newmarket, 11 U. C. C. P. 398; see also Smith and Moore, 27 U. C. Q. B. 150; Grant and Puslinch, Ib. 154; In re Carpenter and the Township of Barton, 15 O. R. 55. The policy of the law appears to be that all debts, where there is not money in hand to meet them, should be met by a rate in anticipation, or that otherwise the amount should be raised by rate within the current year. By the observance of this policy, abuses may be prevented. By the neglect of it, abuses will assuredly arise. If there were no policy to be observed, council after council might allow arrears of debts to accumulate, so as to bind future councils and to burthen future ratepayers. If this were permitted, there would be no check upon the extravagance of municipal councils. The legislature, in order to protect the ratepayers of the several municipalities against abuse of the powers entrusted to municipal councils, have provided certain restrictions and limitations upon their powers. It is for those who contract with the municipal councils to see that the powers given are exercised with a due regard to such restrictions and limitations. If by neglect this, they have their own want of caution to thank for any inconvenience or loss they may suffer in consequence, and they should not expect that such neglect should operate in their favour, and furnish an argument for disregarding those wise provisions of law which are designed to protect ratepayers from reckless or unauthorized expenditure or incurring of debts by municipal councils. Mellish v. Brantford, 2 U. a previous year, which was not within the ordinary expenditure of the corporation for that year, and for which no rate was imposed by by-law. Ib. In such a case it would be held that there was a "valid debt." But suppose a valid debt incurred in one year, and the corporation omit to levy it in that year, does it become a lo valid debt the next year? (e) The limitation as to the amount of rate was first introduced the 29 & 30 Vict. cap. 51, sec. 225. The rates in some municipal were, before the passing of that Act, so rapidly increasing as to c alarm among the ratepayers, and seriously diminish the valu property and so threaten to impoverish the ratepayers. Whether special power to a municipal corporation to aid particular railway enterprises does or does not pro tanto repeal a limitation as to power of taxation, has, in the United States, been a subject of much controversy and of judicial conflict. Butz v. Muscatine, 8 Wall. The inclination of the Supreme Court seems to be in favour of that construction which restricts such a limitation to the exercise of the power of taxation in the ordinary course of municipal action. Amey v. Alleghany, 24 How. (U. S.) 364. Generally speaking, the Legislature of Ontario, when intending that municipal corporations shall have power to aid corporations notwithstanding the two cent limitation, so declares in the particular Act of Incorporation.

(h) A by-law imposing a tax of so much an acre, arbitrarily, without reference to value is bad. Doe McGill v. Langton, 9 U. C. Q. B. 1. So a by-law imposing one uniform rate of 5s. per foot frontage, without reference to value, for draining into the common sewers of city. Ex parte Aldwell and Toronto, 7 U. C. C. P. 104. Whether a by-law in any of these respects is illegal, the Court may quash it; but the Court will not on an application for a mandamus extra-officially advise a municipal corporation as to the proper mode of assessment. In re Dickson and Galt, 10 U. C. Q. B. 395. Formerly the value in cities, towns and villages was annual value, and in counties and townships actual value, and a process was necessary for capitalizing the annual values of real property at six per cent., and equalizing all values, with a view to the imposition of county rates. But since 1st January, 1867, the distinction has been abolished. Actual value is now the rule in all municipalities. Under the old law, a by-law imposing a rate for county purposes, to be levied on actual value, and in villages on annual value, was held bad to be illegal. Grierson v. Ontario, 9 U. C. Q. B. 623.

Estimates to be made annually.

359. The council of every county or local municipality shall every year make estimates of all sums which may be required for the lawful purposes (i) of the county or local municipality, for the year in which such sums are required to be levied, each municipality making due allowance for the cost of collection, (j) and of the abatement and losses which may occur in the collection of the tax, and for taxes on the lands of non-residents which may not be collected. 46 V. c. 18, s. 361.

(i) Lawful purposes. Municipal councils, derive all their powers of taxation from Statute Law, if the purpose of taxation be not either expressly or inferentially authorized by Statute, it is not a lawful purpose. Minot v. Inhabitants of West Roxbury, 17 Am. 52.

(j) It is not necessary that the by-law should set forth the estimates on which it is founded. Fletcher and Euphrasia, 13 U. C. Q. B. 1[illegible]. Mentioning a specific sum to be raised for specific purposes may be treated as setting forth an estimate that such sum is required for the purposes Per Robinson, C. J., Ib. 133. The Court will intend the proper estimates have been made, in the absence of evidence that they are wanting. Ib. A local municipality has not, it seems, the power to pass a by-law imposing a rate in aid of a county rate. Ib. A by-law authorizing a levy of certain moneys for township purposes, and double the amount required by the county for county purposes, is clearly bad. Ib. "To raise moneys for those same purposes to the full amount in one case, and to double the amount in the other, is on the face of it, beyond the power of the township council, for it is exercising a power not only not conferred upon them, but expressly conferred upon another municipal corporation. The only argument offered to justify this course was that the township council had ascertained that, owing to the large proportion of lands held by non-residents, a sum very far short of that imposed by the county by-law would be collected by the collector on the roll; that a considerable deficiency would remain to be made up which the township treasurer would have no funds to meet, and therefore such a by-law was necessary to supply those funds. . . . For the purposes of this argument we will assume the object and intentions of the township council to be what are stated, and that the facts on which they rely as requiring them to take this course exist (though if our decision had to rest upon any such ground, it would have to be indispensable that all those facts should be established before us); but we think, assuming everything suggested, that will not sustain the by-law, which is not, on the face of it, directed to the purpose of meeting a deficiency, and does not even suggest any, if that would enable the township council to raise money by by-law expressly to meet it," &c. Per Robinson, C. J., Ib. 132. A by-law enacted "that the sum of three pence in the pound be levied and raised on all ratable property, to raise the sum of £375. to defray all expenses on the township for the current year, county and township included, and a portion of said sum to be laid out on repairs of roads and bridges as the council thinks most wanted, and if any balance remain, to be handed over to the credit of the township for the [illegible]

By-laws for raising money by rate.

360. The council of every municipality may pass one by-law, or several by-laws, authorizing the levying and collecting of a rate or rates of so much in the dollar upon the assessed value of the property therein as the council deems sufficient to raise the sums required on such estimates. g year," was quashed. White v. Collingwood, 13 U. C. Q. B. 134. Draper, J., said: "In our opinion this by-law must be quashed together. As to the part imposing rates for county purposes, it is ad, for the reason given in the preceding case. Fletcher v. Euph-ia, 13 U. C. Q. B. 129. And then this by-law affords no means of lling how much must be deducted from the sum of £375 directed be raised; nor yet can it be ascertained how much the rate of ree pence in the pound must be reduced in order to raise that por-n of £375 which the township council had authority to impose. here are also other apparent objections to this by law which it is t necessary to advert to for the purpose of sustaining our judgment." 135. It is now expressly enacted that "every local municipal uncil, in paying over . . . its share of any county rate or of any er tax or rate lawfully imposed for Provincial or local purposes shall pply out of the funds of the municipality any deficiency arising from non-payment of the tax, but shall not be held answerable for any ficiency arising from the abatements of, or inability to collect, the on personal property other than for county rates." Sec. 203 of . Stat. c. 193. It has been intimated that a local municipality has power to add to the column headed "County Rate" an allowance the cost of collecting the county rate and for the abatements and s which might occur in the collection of it, and for taxes on the ds of non-residents which might not be collected. Grier v. St. Vin-, 12 Grant 330: S. C. 13 Grant 512. Mowat, V. C., said in the last : "The policy of the Legislature appears to have been to guard, as as possible, the money to be raised in the township by its munici-authority for provincial, county, school and other special purposes the control of the township council, these moneys not being d by their authority, or not going to purposes over which they jurisdiction." Ib. 519. And again: "It is now suggested that eleventh section of the Assessment Act, as explained by the pretation Act, sanctions what was done here. That section s every local municipality, in the estimates of the year, to make llowance, . . . but says nothing as to the column in which llowance is to be entered, . . . I think it is sufficiently ent . . . that it is contrary to the intention and policy of egislature that the township should mix up in the 'County ' column money of which they are to have the control, with the levied for the county." Ib. 520. If the tax Act direct a ular medium of payment, there can be no right of set-off so as eat it. Trenholm v. Charleston, 16 Am. 732.

It is not necessary that a by-law should set forth the estimates ch it is founded. But the rate should be such as "the council fficient to raise the sums required on such estimates." In to ascertain the amount of the rate, it is necessary for the council to know the amount proposed to be raised, when payable, and the whole amount of the ratable property of the municipality according to the last revised or equalized assessment rolls. These are required to be recited in the by-law itself, in order that the Court and others may judge of the sufficiency of the rate to raise the sum required by the estimates. But even if there be a mistake as to the amount of the ratable property, or an error as to the sufficiency of the rate, it does not follow that the by-law must be set aside. Grier v. Ontario, 9 U. C. Q. B. 623. Burns, J., said: "I do not think the Legislature intended that the Court should be compelled to avoid a by-law because it could be made out by proof that some error was committed in a calculation, or something of that sort done which would in strictness be illegal." Ib. 632. In this case, the council, in estimating the actual value of the ratable property in the village of Oshawa for 1851, made it £61,666, whereas it should have been £92,500, and yet the Court refused to set aside the by-law. But if the amount of the special rate be unequal or plainly insufficient and so illusory, the objection would assume a substantial character calling probably for the summary interference of the court. Draper, C. J., in Secord and Lincoln, 24 U. C. Q. B. 142, 150. In this case the sum mentioned in the by-law was $6,434,773, whereas the amount mentioned in the rate was $6,452,655, a difference "so small to require serious notice when the rate to be imposed was a mill in the dollar," and so the Court refused to quashed the by-law. Ib. But where it was clear and admitted that "the 5¼d. in the pound on the sum stated in the by-law to be the value of the ratable property within the municipality, would not produce such an amount as would cover the payment, which, under the by-law, is appointed to be made within the year, but considerably less," the rule was made absolute to quash the by-law. Perry v. Whitby, 13 U. C. Q. B. 561. Per Robinson, C. J., "It will be found, I think, to fall short by about £30." Ib. 567. This by-law on the face of it provided "that if the rate in any one year should prove deficient, &c., the deficiency should be made up from the general fund of the town." As to this, the Chief Justice said, "And the manner in which the by-law provides for making up the deficiency that may arise in the assessment. even if it were clearly legal, would not still cure the objection for the statute expressly requires that the rate imposed shall be of itself sufficient to cover it upon the basis of calculation assumed, or if not it declares that the by-law shall be void." Ib. 567. But it is apprehended that it is not necessary that calculations should in the case of every by-law be strictly correct. It is not incumbent on a municipal council to raise all that is required, and no more than required for ordinary purposes, by one by-law. Were this the case it would be impossible, owing to contingencies, for any municipal council to comply with it. The amount collected may either fall short of or exceed the sum required. If short, the deficiency may be made up from any unappropriated fund belonging to the municipality. See. 361. If no unappropriated fund, the deficiency may be collected or deducted from the sums estimated or from any one or more of them in or a second by-law passed under this section. If an excess, the

363. If the sums collected exceed the estimates, the balance shall form part of the general fund of the municipality, and be at the disposal of the council, unless otherwise specially appropriated; but if any portion of the amount in excess has been collected on account of a special tax upon any particular locality, the amount in excess collected on account of such special tax shall be appropriated to the special local object. 46 V. c. 18, s. 365.

(o) By Con. Stat. U. C. cap. 55, sec. 16, it was declared that the es or rates levied or imposed for any year shall be considered to e been imposed for the then current year commencing 1st January ending 31st December. It was apparently enacted to remove a culty such as that which presented itself in Mellish v. Brantford, C. P. 35. In re Yarwood, 7 U. C. L. J. 47, Hughes, Co. J., : "The sixteenth section of the Consolidated Assessment Act of er Canada, specifies that the taxes imposed for the year shall be sidered to be so imposed for the current year, commencing on 1st uary and ending with 31st December, unless otherwise expressly vided for by by-law. I consider in the absence of such a by-law e taxes imposed for the year are to date from 1st January to December, that the property upon which rates and taxes assessed is to be that which the rated party owns or pos- within the same period, and no more; and if he were a at of the town when the assessment was taken, or after 1st of January, he was properly assessed, as a resident, because assessment relates back to 1st of January in each year." In v. Vienna, 10 U. C. L. J. 275, the same learned Judge : "The facts which came out in this case shew me that the ion In re Yarwood, 7 U. C. L. J. 47 was not correct in one icular. would at once have presented itself, which I am satisfied would have led me to a conclusion different to the one I arrived at, because the statute never intended a man to pay taxes twice in the same year in respect of the same property. So that I am now satisfied the sixteenth section only fixes the municipal fiscal year to commence on 1st January and to end on 31st December in each year (unless a municipal by-law fix it otherwise) for all purposes for which rates and taxes are to be considered to have been imposed for any current year." In Ford v. Proudfoot, 9 Grant 478; Corbett v. Taylor, 23 U. C. Q. B. 454, and Bell v. McLean, 18 U. C. C. P. 416, it was contended that taxes imposed for a particular year should be taken, not only as imposed, but as due from 1st January. But the Courts refused so to interpret this section. In Corbett v. Taylor, Draper, C.J., said: "We do not so interpret this section of the statute, but read it as intended (merely) to fix the fiscal year for all municipalities for the purposes of rates and taxes, and as providing that, no matter what part of a year a by-law imposing rates and taxes may be passed, the taxes shall be considered as imposed for the whole current year. The argument for the plaintiff, if pushed home, amounts to this: that on such a covenant, (against incumbrances) if entered into on 2nd January, the taxes for the current year would be in arrears on that day, if a tax or rate were imposed (at any time) within the year, and in effect the covenant would be broken as soon as made, although when entered into no tax or rate had been imposed." Wilson, J., in Bell v. McLean, 18 U. C. C. P. 416, said, "In one sense the tax may be said to be due when it is imposed by the passage of a by-law for that purpose; but it cannot be strictly said to be due until the collector has got his roll; nor even then, for he cannot distrain or take any compulsory proceeding to enforce payment until he has called at least once on the party taxed and demanded payment, or transmitted a statement by post demanding payment if the party be not resident within the municipality." And again, "A person who pays the taxes imposed on him for a particular year before the end of that year pays the amount in advance. He pays it up to a day which has not yet arrived. The time for its payment has gone by but the time for its complete accrual has still to come," Ib. 421. See Chamberlain v. Turner, 31 U. C. C. P. 460.

(p) It is in the power of the municipal council to say by the by-law from what time the tax or rate shall be taken to have been imposed, &c. If there be no direction in the by-law the tax will be considered as imposed and due from 1st January of the year in which the by-law passed.

(q) Before 1st January, 1867, in cities, towns and incorporated villages yearly, and not actual values prevailed. By-laws of cities each municipal corporation (having so issued debentures) shall levy a rate on the actual real value of the ratable property within the municipality represented, sufficient to produce a sum equal to that leviable or produced on the yearly value of such property as established by the assessment roll for the year 1866; (r) and such rates shall be applied solely to the payment of such debentures, or interest on such debentures, according to the terms of the by-law under which they were issued. (s)

To be applied solely to such purposes.

Rate for sinking fund.

(2) In cases where a sinking fund is required to be provided, either by the investment of a specific rate or amount, or on a rate on the increase in value over a certain sum, then such a rate shall be levied as shall at least equal the sum originally intended to be set apart. Exemption of manufactories or water works from taxation.

owns and incorporated villages creating debts were up to that date ecessarily based on yearly values. Debentures were issued and ights were acquired by the purchasers in the belief that such values ould, until the payment of the debentures, be maintained. The bject of this section is to declare that such rights shall be maintained.

(r) It is necessary for the corporation, under this part of the ction: first, to estimate what amount in any year would be pro- uced on the basis of a yearly value in 1866, and then to levy a rate n actual value sufficient to produce a sum equal to that amount.

(s) The application otherwise would be a breach of trust, and bject the council to be proceeded against by way of injunction. e Wilkie v. Clinton, 18 Grant 557.

(a) A by-law exempting from taxation a manufacturing establish- nt and the land held by it, "established for the purpose of carry- on the milling and grain merchant business," was held bad as aling with two kinds of business, the first of which alone there was wer to exempt. The by-law was also held bad in exempting all the d and not the mill only, as other buildings suitable for the grain siness might be erected thereon. The effect of the by-law was to criminate against other large milling establishments in the munici- ity, and the by-law was on this ground also held bad. People's lling Co. v. Meaford, 10 O. R. 405. A by-law limiting the assess- nt on property about to be used for manufacturing purposes to the ue of the land without buildings is not valid under this section. Re ne and Peterborough, 10 O. R. 767. The section is not in terms tricted to new manufacturing establishments. It was held, under a ute enabling municipal councils to exempt from taxation "manufactures of woollens, cottons, glass, paper, &c.," that a by-law exempting new manufactures as against old manufactures in the same line of business was void. In re Pirie and Dundas, 29 U. C. Q. B. 401. Wilson, J., in delivering the judgment of the Court, said, "I do not think it would be against the statute to provide that all cotton manufactures should be exempt from taxation, because it places all persons of the same line of business on the same footing, without giving any advantages or privileges to one or more of that trade over the others. * * * In no case is A. of the cotton or any other particular trade to get the benefit which B. of the same trade is not also to get. For this is a monopoly of the worst description, and it cannot be necessary either for the proper stimulus of the trade, though it may stimulate A. very wonderfully in that trade, but then only at the expense of B." Ib., 407; see further sec. 286 and notes thereto. An exemption cannot be granted arbitrarily; there must be a sufficient public benefit to the tax-payers of the locality to sustain a by-law, and there must be a good and valid consideration to support the exemption which should be in some way connected with the business of the manufacturing establishment. Re Scott and Tilsonburgh, 10 O. R. 119; 13 A. R. 233. Where a municipality agreed with the owner to exempt two existing manufacturing establishments in consideration of his paying a sum of $1,800 which the municipality had agreed to pay to a railway company and providing also the right of way upon the company building a switch into the town, it was held that there was not a proper public consideration from T. and that the agreement was in effect a sale of an exemption, and a by-law passed by the municipality for the purpose, but not submitted to the ratepayers, was quashed. Ib. The general rule is, that the burden of taxation should fall equally, and for this reason statutes exempting particular persons or particular property from taxation are construed strictly. See notes to sec. 7 of the Assessment Act. The municipal council may impose reasonable conditions to be complied with by those claiming exemption under this section. See In re Pirie and Dundas, 29 U. C. Q. B. 401. See sec. 220 as to bonuses in aid of manufactures.

(b) The power is restricted in the first instance to an exemption for ten years, with a power to renew the exemption for a further period not exceeding ten years,—in all, twenty years. The power to renew is not given from time to time, but only once to be exercised. Neilson v. Jarvis, 13 U. C. C. P. 176, and Bank of Montreal v. Taylor, 15 U. C. C. P. 107. It is a question whether the by-law can be repealed within the period of exemption mentioned therein, after the terms have been accepted and acted upon by the persons in whose favour it is passed. In other words, the question is whether the by-law is to be looked upon simply as a local law or as a contract. If the former, it may be repealed; if the latter it cannot be repealed for one party to a contract cannot rescind it against the will and to the prejudice of the other. See East Saginaw Manufacturing Co. v. City of East Saginaw, 2 Am. Rep. 82, S. C., 19 Mich. 259;

When the rate imposed by a by-law may be reduced.

367.—(1) If on account of a sum being on hand from a previous year, or a sum being on hand which has been derived from the work, (c) or from the investment of the sinking fund, or on account of the increased value of property liable to assessment, it is found to be unnecessary to levy the full rate imposed by the by-law, in order to raise the instalment of the sinking fund and interest required to be raised for any year, or to raise such instalments for any future years of the then unexpired time which the debentures have to run, the council may pass a by-law reducing the rate for such year or for any such future years, so that no more money may be collected than the amount required. 50 V. c. 29, s. 16.

(2) No such by-law shall be passed unless, having regard to the time the debentures have to run, a proper proportion of sinking fund and interest has been levied, according to the intention of the original by-law. 46 V. c. 18, s. 369 (2).

By-law to be approved by Lieutenant-Governor.

368. No by-law passed under the preceding section shall be valid unless, after it is passed, it is approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council; and the facts which authorize the passing of such by-law shall, on its submission for approval, be verified in the manner provided by section 290 of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 370.

DIVISION VIII.—ANTICIPATORY APPROPRIATIONS.

When and how made. Secs. 369, 370.
Separation of municipalities. Sec. 371.

Anticipatory appropriations may be made.

369. In case any council desires to make an anticipatory appropriation for the next ensuing year in lieu of the special rate for such year, in respect of any debt, the council may do so by by-law, in the manner and subject to the provisions and restrictions following:

What funds may be so appropriated.

1. The council may carry to the credit of the sinking fund account of the debt, as much as may be necessary for the purpose aforesaid;

Sinclair ex rel Cunningham v. Roper, 35 N. Y. 629; People's Milling Co. v. Seaford, 10 O. R. 405.

(c) R. S. O. 1877, c. 174, s. 350 (c) read "any sum derived for such particular year from the surplus income of any work." This section was repealed by 46 V. c. 18, s. 369, the wording of which was followed in 50 V. c. 29, s. 16.

(a) Of any money at the credit of the special rate account of the debt beyond the interest on such debt for the year following that in which the anticipatory appropriation is made ; (d)

(b) And of any money raised for the purpose aforesaid by additional rate or otherwise ;

(c) And of any money derived from any temporary investment of the sinking fund ; (e)

(d) And of any surplus money derived from any corporation work or any share or interest therein ; (f)

(e) And of any unappropriated money in the treasury ; (g)

Such moneys respectively not having been otherwise appropriated ;

The sources and application to be stated.

2. The by-law making the appropriations shall distinguish the several sources of the amount, and the portions thereof to be respectively applied for the interest and for the sinking fund appropriation of the debt for such next ensuing year; (h)

When moneys retained sufficient, the yearly rate may be suspended for the ensuing year.

3. In case the moneys so retained at the credit of the special rate account, and so appropriated to the sinking fund account from all or any of the sources above mentioned, are sufficient to meet the sinking fund appropriation and interest for the next ensuing year, the council may then pass a by-law directing that the original rate for such next ensuing year be not levied. (i) 46 V. c. 18, s. 371.

(d) Here it is clear that a year's interest in advance is to be retained, as directed by sec. 373.

(e) The investment authorized by sec. 376.

(f) See sec. 367 and note thereto.

(g) The right of a municipal council to take moneys already appropriated, and apply them to purposes different from the original appropriation, is very questionable. Though sometimes done, it ought never to be encouraged. In the case of appropriations to the sinking fund account of a debt, it cannot be legally done. Edinburgh Life Ass. Co. v. St Catharines, 10 Grant 379; In Barber and Ottawa, 39 U. C. Q. B. 406.

(h) The sources to be one or other of the foregoing.

(i) When the surplus, though not equal to the product of the entire rate for a year, is considerable, a by-law may be passed for a proportionable reduction of the rate, sec. 367 ; but when the surplus is sufficient to meet the sinking fund appropriation and interest for a year, a by-law may be passed to the effect that for that year the original rate be not levied.

370—(1) The by-law shall not be valid unless it recites—(i) By-law must recite.

(a) The original amount of the debt, and in brief and general terms, the object for which the debt was created; (j) The original debt and object;

(b) The amount, if any, already paid of the debt; The amount paid;

(c) The annual amount of the sinking fund appropriation required in respect of such debt; The annual amount for sinking fund;

(d) The total amount, then on hand, of the sinking fund appropriations, in respect to the debt, distinguishing the amount thereof in cash in the treasury from the amount temporarily invested; The amount for sinking fund in hand;

(e) The amount required to meet the interest of the debt for the year next after the making of such anticipatory appropriation; (k) and The amount required for interest;

(f) That the council has retained at the credit of the special rate account of the debt, a sum sufficient to meet the next year's interest (naming the amount of it), and that the council has carried to the credit of the sinking fund account a sum sufficient to meet the sinking fund appropriation (naming the amount of it) for such year; And that it is reserved, etc.

(2) No such by-law shall be valid unless approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. 46 V. c. 18, s. 372. By-law to be approved by Lieutenant-Governor.

371. After the dissolution of any municipal union, the senior municipality may make an anticipatory appropriation for the relief of the junior municipality, in respect of any debt secured by the by-law, in the same manner as the senior municipality might do on its own behalf. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 373. Anticipatory appropriation on separation of municipalities.

(i) This section bears the same relation to sec. 369 that sec. 368 bears to sec. 367. The one is for the reduction of the special rate and the other for the cessation of it for the year.

(j) See secc. 340, sub-s. 6, and notes thereto.

(k) See sec. 367.

(l) An anticipatory appropriation in relief may, it is apprehended, be either one in reduction of the special rate for a given year (sec. 370) or for the cessation of the rate for that year. Sec. 369.

Two special accounts to be kept: (1) of the special rates; (2) of the sinking fund or instalments of principal.

372. The council of every municipal corporation sh keep in its books two separate accounts, one for the spec rate, and one for the sinking fund, or for instalments principal of every debt, to be both distinguished from other accounts in the books by some prefix designating purpose for which the debt was contracted, (a) and sh keep the said accounts, with any others that are necessa

(a) Two accounts are mentioned; the special rate account, and sinking fund or instalments account. The amount of all rates lected and received by the treasurer will appear in the first, and it will be transferred to the second all such sums as form por of the sinking fund or instalments fund account. The first or sp rate account will constitute the interest account as well as general account, and the sums required for interest will be reta therein until disbursed, and then be charged thereto. The transferred on account of principal to the second or sinking fu instalments account, will of course be also charged against the account, and when transferred be credited to the second or sin fund or instalments account. The object of keeping the acc as directed, and any other necessary accounts, is to exhibit times the state of every debt and the amount of moneys r obtained and appropriated for payment thereof. In one cas Chancellor of Upper Canada said, "I think I ought not to disp this case without observing upon the utter disregard of the prov of the statute disclosed in the evidence on the part of those of the municipality whose duty it is to see to the keeping accounts. The separate accounts, so pointedly required by s of the Act (same section as here annotated), seem not to hav kept, but special rates, sinking fund account, and rates and ments for general purposes, appear to have been mixed up to The directions of the statute are so explicit that it was noth than most culpable neglect of duty not to follow them." W Clinton, 18 Grant 560.

so as to exhibit at all times the state of every debt, and the amount of moneys raised, obtained and appropriated for payment thereof. 46 V. c. 18, s. 374.

When surplus may be applied to next year's interest, and to sinking fund.

373. If, after paying the interest of a debt and appropriating the necessary sum to the sinking fund of such debt, or in payment of any instalment of principal, for any financial year, there is a surplus at the credit of the special rate account of such debt, (b) such surplus shall so remain, and may be applied, if necessary, towards the next year's interest; but if such surplus exceeds the amount of the next year's interest, the excess shall be carried to the credit of the sinking fund account, or in payment of principal of such debt. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 375.

Application of moneys with consent of Lieut.-Governor in Council.

374. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council may, by order, direct that such part of the produce of the special rate levied, and at the credit of the sinking fund account, or of the special rate account as aforesaid, instead of being so invested as hereinafter provided, (d) shall, from time to time, as the same accrues, be applied to the payment or redemption, at such value as the said council can agree for, or of any part of such debt or of any of the debentures representing or constituting such debt, or any part of it, though not then payable, (e) to be selected as provided in such order, and the (b) A surplus beyond the interest may arise from the increase of taxable property, as the rate is based on the last revised or revised and equalized assessment roll at the time of the passing of the by-law. See 340, sub-s. 6, (c).

(e) The object of the special rate, is to pay off the debt and interest authorized by the by law in accordance with the terms of the by-law. See 340, sub-s. 3. The ordinary mode is by annually raising a certain sum for interest and a certain sum for sinking fund or instalment, so as to discharge both principal and interest when payable. If the principal be payable by annual instalments, there will not be such an accumulation to the credit of the sinking fund as if the principal money were payable at the expiration of a fixed period of time. See 342. The annual rate in either case is based on the value of the taxable property at the time of the passing of the by-law according to the last revised or revised and equalized assessment roll. Sec. 340, sub-s. 6 (c). There may be therefore an accumulation of money in the nature of surplus to the credit of the fund in advance of what is required to pay the annual obligation under the by-law. Instead of creating the same, provision is by this section made for the applibe immediately applied towards paying the debt by reaso

no part thereof being yet payable, (f) the council shall f

376. Any council may direct, by by-law, that any surplus moneys in the hands of the treasurer, and not specially appropriated to any other purpose, shall be credited to the sinking fund account of any debenture debt of the municipality, and the council may invest such sinking fund account in any of the securities named in, and according to the provisions of, the preceding section. 46 V. c. 18, s. 378. Investment of sinking fund.

377. Every such council may appropriate to the payment of any debt the surplus income derived from any public or corporation work, or from any share or interest therein, after paying the annual expenses thereof, or any unappropriated money in the treasury, or any money raised by additional rate (h); and any money so appropriated shall be carried to the credit of the sinking fund of the debt, or in payment of the instalment accruing due. (i) 46 V. c. 18, s. 379. Council may apply other funds towards such debts.

378.—(1) A municipal corporation having surplus moneys derived from the "The Ontario Municipalities Fund," or from any other source, (k) may, by by-law, set such surplus apart for educational purposes, (l) and invest the same (m) as well as any other moneys held by such municipal corporation for, or which it lawfully appropriated to, educational purposes, in the securities of the Dominion, municipal debentures, or first mortgages on real estate, held and used for farming purposes, and being the first lien on such real estate, and Certain moneys may be set apart for educational purposes. Investment of same.

The rate for the payment of a debt created by by-law is calculated according to the existing value of the taxable property as shewn by the last revised or revised and equalized assessment roll. Sec. 340, sub-sec. 6 (6). But by this section the council of the municipality is empowered to supplement the proceeds of the rate by the appropriation thereto of the moneys specified.

See note e to sec. 374.

The original of this section was, by the Act of 1866, restricted in operation to the Upper Canada Municipalities Fund. It was by the Act 31 Vic. c. 30, sec. 27, extended to moneys derived from other sources, Proviso as to investment.

(2) No sum so invested shall exceed two-thirds of the value of the real estate on which it is secured, according to the last revised and corrected assessment roll, at the time it is so invested. (n) 46 V. c. 18, s. 380.

Loans to school trustees.

379. Any municipal corporation having surplus money set apart for educational purposes, may, by by-law, invest the same in a loan or loans to any board of school trustees within the limits of the municipality, for such term or terms, and at such rate or rates of interest as may be agreed upon by and between the parties to such loan or loans respectively, and may be set forth in such by-law; (o) or may by by-law grant any portion of such moneys or other general funds by way of gift to aid poor school sections within the municipality. (p) 46 V. c. 18, s. 381.

Aid to poor school sections.

(n) This is directed against possible abuses, and intended to secure safety of investment. The direction that the sum invested is not to exceed two-thirds of the value of the real estate on which it is secured according to the last revised and corrected Assessment Roll at the time the money is invested, is deserving of careful attention. Municipal councillors are trustees for the ratepayers, and if they disregard the safeguard of this section, they are made responsible. See sec. 3

(o) It should be noted that the first part of this section only applies to a corporation "having surplus moneys set apart for educational purposes." The first part is a copy of section 275 of the Act of 18 Before section 275 of the Act of 1866, which was taken from sec of Stat. 27 Vict. cap. 17, each township had power to grant to trustees of any school section, on their application, authority to borrow any sums of money necessary for specified purposes in respect school sites, school houses, and their appendages, or for the pur pose or erection of a teacher's residence; and in that event was required to cause to be levied in each year upon the taxable prop in the section a sufficient sum for the payment of the interest on sum so borrowed, and a sum sufficient to pay off the principal wi ten years. Con. Stat. U. C. c. 64, s. 35. By the present sect the municipal corporation may itself lend money to the school t tees within the limits of the municipality, "for such term or t and at such rate or rates of interest as may be agreed upon, &c., set forth in such by-law." See In re Doherty and Toronto, 25 U Q. B. 409.

(p) The latter part is not, like the first part of the section, restri to moneys set apart for educational purposes. The grant may b such last mentioned moneys, "or other general funds, by way of to aid poor school sections within the municipality."

No members of corporation to be party to investment.

380. No member of a municipal corporation shall take part in or in any way be a party to the investment of such moneys as are mentioned in this Act, by or on behalf of the corporation of which he is a member, otherwise than is authorized by this Act, or by any other law in that behalf made and provided, (q) and such person so doing shall be held personally liable for any loss sustained by the corporation. See sec. 431 and notes thereto.

The plaintiff in such an action is not obliged to prove the regularity of the issue of the commission. Bristow v. Cornwall, 36 U. C. Q. B. 225.

(a) Decided cases shew the great practical difficulty which either party may often have in obtaining possession of the appointment of his opponent's arbitrator when he wishes to make the submission a rule of Court, and the delay, expense and inconvenience to which this difficulty may subject him. A method, it is suggested, may be found to remedy this difficulty. If each party took the precaution at the time of the reference, of requesting the other party to make the appointment of his arbitrator in duplicate, and if they mutually agree to furnish each other with one of the duplicate parts, and not a mere copy, there seems no reason why, on producing the appointment of his own arbitrator and the duplicate original of his opponent's arbitrator, and properly verifying both of them, the submission might not be made a rule of Court. (d) A notice to a corporation shall be given to the head of the corporation. 46 V. c. 18, s. 389.

Third arbitrator to be appointed.

388. The two arbitrators appointed by or for the parties shall within seven days from the appointment of the lastly named of the two arbitrators (f) appoint in writing a third arbitrator. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 390.

When more than two municipalities interested.

389. In cases where more than two municipalities are interested, each of them shall appoint an arbitrator, and in such case, if there is an equality of arbitrators, the arbitrators so should not only be under the seal of the corporation, but be signed by the head of the corporation and by the clerk of the corporation. Such is the mode of authenticating a by-law. See sec. 288.

(c) As a rule, an arbitrator, to represent a municipal council, must be appointed by that council; the exception is when the council, by by-law, deputes that power to the head of the council. See preceding note.

(d) The notice must be in writing. It should state the object of the arbitration, name the arbitrator appointed by the party giving the notice, and call upon the other party to name his arbitrator. It should be express and absolute. Where B. had given notice to a railway company that "it was his intention" to appoint M. as arbitrator, and if they failed for fourteen days to appoint one, he would appoint him to act for both parties, and M. did so act, the Court refused to enforce the reward. Bradley v. London and North Western R. W. Co., 5 Ex. 769.

(f) As to computation of time, see note b to sec. 185.

(g) It is a common error to look upon a third arbitrator as an umpire. The difference between a third arbitrator and an umpire is that the former is appointed before the arbitration proceeds, and the latter after the arbitrators have entered upon the the reference and are unable to agree. There are other distinctions unnecessary to be mentioned here. A by-law to close up and grant to a company a portion of a street which provided for arbitration by the Mayor and two persons, one appointed by the company and one by the applicant, was held invalid. Re Laplante and Peterborough, 5 O. R. 634.

appointed shall appoint another arbitrator, (h) or in default, at the expiration of twenty-one days after such arbitrators have been appointed, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may, on the application of any one of the municipalities interested, appoint such arbitrator. 46 V. c. 18, s. 391.

Provision in case of neglect to appoint.

390. In case of an arbitration between municipal corporations, if for twenty-one days, or in case the arbitration is respecting drainage works, then, if for twenty days after having received such notice, the party notified omits to appoint an arbitrator; (i) or if for seven days after the second arbitrator has been appointed, the two arbitrators omit to appoint a third arbitrator, then, in case the arbitration is between townships or between a township and a town or an incorporated village, the Judge of the County Court of the county within which the townships, town or incorporated village are or any of them is situate, or in case the arbitration is between other municipalities, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may appoint an arbitrator for the party or arbitrators in default, or a third arbitrator, as the case may require. 46 V. c. 18, s. 392.

(h) This section contemplates the difficulty arising from the arbitrators disagreeing where each represents a particular municipality, and there is an equality of arbitrators. In such a case there ought to be no difficulty. But arbitrators sometimes, instead of appreciating their position and acting as impartial judges of the matters in dispute, act as advocates, if not as partizans for the party appointing them. No decision would generally be the result if there were no provision for the appointment of an additional arbitrator. The additional arbitrator, under this section, is to be appointed by the arbitrators first appointed. If they, from any cause, fail to do so, the Lieutenant-Governor may, on a proper application, appoint such additional arbitrator. Although no direction is given as to the mode of appointment in either case, it would be well that it should be made in writing.

(i) It is the duty of each party to appoint one arbitrator, and give notice thereof in writing to the other party. It is the duty of the two arbitrators so appointed, in seven days after the appointment of the second arbitrator, to appoint a third arbitrator. Default may be made in either particular, and provision is here made therefor. If the arbitration is between townships, or between a township and town, or incorporated village, the Judge of the county in which the townships, town, or incorporated village are or any of them is situate, may appoint the second or third arbitrator, as the case may require; but if the arbitration is between other municipalities, such as counties or a county and a city or town, or a city and town, the appointment must be made by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. The appointment ought, though not so directed, to be in writing. See note d to sec. 387.

Arbitration as to real property taken or injured by municipal corporations.

391. In case of an arbitration between a municipal corporation and the owners or occupiers of, or other persons interested in real property entered upon, taken or used by the corporation in the exercise of any of its powers, or injuriously affected thereby, (j) if, after the passing of the by-law, any person interested in the property appoints and gives due notice to the head of the council of his appointment of an arbitrator to determine the compensation to which such person is entitled, (k) the head of the council shall, if authorized by by-law, (l) within seven days (m) appoint a second arbitrator, and give notice thereof to the other party, and shall express clearly in the notice what powers the council intends to exercise with respect to the property, describing it. (n) 46 V. c. 18, s. 393.

Provision owner of property fails to name arbitrator.

392. In such last mentioned arbitration, if after service on the owner or occupier of, or person so interested in, the property of a copy of a by-law, certified to be a true copy under the hand of the clerk of the council, the owner or occupier or person so interested omits for twenty-one days to name an arbitrator, and give notice thereof as aforesaid (o),

(j) See sec. 483.

(k) A difference is to be observed as to arbitration between municipal corporations and arbitrations between a municipal corporation and individuals. In the latter case the individual appoints his arbitrator, and gives due notice thereof to the head of the council. When he does so, the head of the council is required, if authorized by by-law, within seven days, to appoint a second arbitrator, and, besides, to give notice thereof to the individual; in which notice must be clearly expressed "what powers the council intends to exercise with respect to the property, describing it." For form of mandamus to the head of a municipal council to appoint an arbitrator, see Reg. v. Perth, 14 U. C. Q. B. 156.

(l) See note c to sec. 386.

(n) See notes to sec. 483.

(o) The first step is to be taken by the council, who are required cause to be served on the owner or occupier of, or person interested the land to be affected a copy of the by-law affecting it, certified be a true copy, under the hand of the clerk of the council. Then initiative as to arbitration is to be taken by the owner so served. is his duty, within twenty-one days after service, to name an itrator and give notice thereof to the council in the manner prebed by the last clause. If he allow the twenty-one days to expire hout doing it, then the council may take the initiative by appoint- the first arbitrator, and giving notice of his appointment. If is done the owner of the land is required, within seven days the council or the head, if authorized by by-law, (p) may name an arbitrator on behalf of the council, and give notice thereof to the owner, occupier or person so interested, and the latter shall, within seven days thereafter, name an arbitrator on his behalf. 46 V. c. 18, s. 394.

Where several parties have distinct interests in the same property.

393. In case there are several persons having distinct interests in property in respect of which the corporation is desirous of exercising the powers referred to in section 391 under a by-law in that behalf passed, whether such persons are all interested in the same piece of property, or some or one in a part thereof, and some or one in another part thereof, and in case the by-law or any subsequent by-law provides that the claims of all should, in the opinion of the council, be disposed of by one award (q) such persons shall have twenty-one (instead of seven) days to agree upon and give notice of an arbitrator jointly appointed in their behalf (r) before the County Court Judge shall have power to name an arbitrator for them. 46 V. c. 18, s. 395.

County court judge to appoint arbitrator in certain cases.

394. If such owner, occupier or person so interested, or the head of such council, whether from want of authority in that behalf, or otherwise, (s) omits to name an arbitrator within seven days after receiving notice to do so, (t) or if the persons having distinct interests as aforesaid (u) omit to name an arbitrator within twenty-one days after receiving notice to do so, or if the two arbitrators do not within seven days from the appointment of the lastly named of the two arbitrators agree on a third arbitrator, or if any of the arbitrators refuse or neglect to act, (v) the Judge of the County

(p) See note c to sec. 386.

(q) Where several persons are interested (as in the opening of a new road, &c.), there may be an arbitration under this Act as to each person interested, or, in the option of the council, an arbitration as to all, and the claims of all be determined by one award. In the latter case, instead of seven days only allowed by sec. 394, twenty-one days are given.

(y) It has been held that the Court has power to enlarge the time for making an award although the same has not been made "within one month after the appointment of the third arbitrator," as required by this section. In re City of Toronto and Scott, 8 P. R. 318. See also Township of Thurlow v. Township of Sidney, 29 Grant 497; Re Muskoka and Gravenhurst, 6 O. R. 352. But see In re Smith and Corporation of Plympton, 12 O. R. 35, where it is said by Cameron, C. J.: "The current of English authority is I think against the validity of an award made after the time fixed by statute. If the statutory limit is exceeded then there is no limit, and the matter would be pending before the arbitrators as long as they refrained from making any award. This certainly would not be what was contemplated by the Legislature." A by-law providing that the award was to be made within one month of the passing of the by-law instead of one month from the appointment of the third arbitrator was held invalid. Re Laplante and Peterborough, 5 O. In order that there should not be even suspicion as to municipal awards, it is here declared that "no member, officer, or person in the employment of any Corporation which is concerned or interested in any arbitration, nor any person so interested shall be appointed or act as an arbitrator." See In re Ellis and South Devon R. W. Co. 2 De G. & Sm. 17.

"I (A. B.) do swear (or affirm) that I will well and truly try the matters referred to me by the parties, and a true and impartial award make in the premises, according to the evidence and my skill and knowledge. So help me God." Form of oath or affirmation.

398. The arbitrators shall, within twenty days (b) after the appointment of the third arbitrator, meet at such place as they may agree upon, (c) to hear and determine the matter in dispute, (d) with power to adjourn from time to time, and shall make their award in writing, (e) and, if the arbitration is respecting drainage works, in triplicate, which shall be binding on all parties, and one copy thereof shall be filed with the clerk of each of the municipalities interested, and one shall, Time of meeting, etc.

(b) "If the time for making the award under s. 395 must be regarded as imperative, it is difficult to say that the time for commencing the proceeding, must not also be regarded as imperative. I am inclined, however, to think, as it is purely a matter of formal procedure it should be regarded as directory; and the omission to hold the first meeting within 20 days would not made an award made within the month invalid." Per Cameron, C. J., In re Smith and Corporation of Brampton, 12 O. R. 35. As to computation of time, see note b to sec. 395.

(c) There is no express direction that the arbitrators shall give to the parties notice of their meetings and an opportunity of being heard; but this is essential, at least to this extent, that whether there has been a formal notice or not, it should appear that the parties had knowledge of the meetings and an opportunity of being heard and producing evidence. In re Johnston and Gloucester, 12 U. C. Q. B. 135.

(d) An arbitrator is in general, whether of the legal profession or not, the judge of law as well as fact, see Jupp v. Grayson, 1 C. M. & R. 523; Young v. Walter, 9 Ves. 364; Perriman v. Steggall, 9 Bing. 278; Campbell v. Twemlow, 1 Price 81; Wilson v. King, 2 C. & M. 549; Hall v. Ferguson, 4 O. S. 189; Baquelly v. Borthwith, 4 L. T. N. But as to certain matters, inquiry may be had as to the merits. See sec. 404.

Costs.

399. The arbitrators shall have power to award the payment by any of the parties to the other of the costs of the arbitration, or of any portion thereof, (g) and may either direct the payment of a fixed sum, (h) or that the costs should be taxed on either the scale of the High Court, or of the County Courts, in which case the costs shall be taxed by the officer in the county of the proper Court, without any further order, (i) and the amount shall be payable one week after taxation. (j) Revision by the principal officer at Toronto may be had upon one week's notice and an appeal to a Judge in the usual manner. 46 V. c. 18, s. 401.

Majority to decide.

400. In case of a difference between the arbitrators, the decision of the majority of them shall be conclusive. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 402.

(f) The original in all probability, would be received as evidence on its mere production, and if so, a copy may be received without proof of the original. See Warren v. Deslippes, 33 U. C. Q. B. 59.

(g) Power is given to the arbitrators to award as to costs; but they are under no obligation to do so. See Mackintosh v. Blythe, 1 Bing. 269; Young v. Gye, 10 Moore 198. Before this enactment there was no power to award as to costs. In re Northumberland and Durham and Coboury, 20 U. C. Q. B. 283.

(h) The Court will not review the discretion as to amount when an arbitrator having power to fix the amount of costs has exercised the power, unless the amount fixed be so excessive as to manifest partiality. Anon. 1 Chit. 38; Shephard v. Brand, Cases Temp. Hard. 53; Turner v. Rose, 1 Ld. Kenyon, 393.

(i) All that the arbitrator has to do, instead of fixing the amount of costs, is to say, "I award costs to" (naming the party), according to the scale of costs of the High Court, or of the County Court, stating whether he intends his award to apply to all the costs, including the award as well as the reference. In such case the costs may be taxed by the officer of the proper Court without an order of any kind.

(j) If the costs be either fixed in the award or be declared subject to taxation the amount, when ascertained, may be enforced in the same manner as any other portion of the award.

(l) In the case of an award by several individuals, all should execute at the same time and in the presence of each other, Templeman and Reed, 9 Dowl. 965; Wade v. Dowling, 4 E. & B. Helps v. Roblin, 6 U. C. C. P. 52; Martin v. Kergan, 2 P. 370, and full opportunity should be given to the minority of arbitrators, if so disposed, to join in the award. Ib.

401. In case of an award under this Act, which does not require adoption by the council, or in case of an award to which a municipal corporation is a party, and which is to be made in pursuance of a submission containing an agreement that this section of this Act should apply thereto, (n) the arbitrator or arbitrators shall take, and immediately after the making of the award, shall file with the clerk of the council, for the inspection of all parties interested, full notes of the oral evidence given on the reference, and also all documentary evidence or a copy thereof; and in case they proceed partly on a view or any knowledge or skill possessed by themselves or any of them, they shall also put in writing a statement thereof sufficiently full to allow the Court to form a judgment of the weight which should be attached thereto. (o) 46 V. c. 18, s. 403.

Notes of the evidence adduced to be taken and filed in certain cases.

Arbitrators acting on their own knowledge, etc., to put statement thereof in writing.

402. In case the award relates to property to be entered upon, taken or used as mentioned in section 391, and in case the by-law did not authorize or profess to authorize any entry or use to be made of the property before an award has been made, except for the purpose of survey, or in case the by-law did give or profess to give such authority, but the arbitrators find that such authority had not been acted upon, the award shall not be binding on the corporation unless it is adopted by by-law within six weeks after the making of the award; (p) and if the same is not so adopted, the original by-law

Award to be binding in certain cases, must be adopted by by-law within a certain time.

(n) Which may be in this form: "It is hereby agreed that section 401 of The Municipal Act shall apply to any award made touching or concerning the premises aforesaid."

(o) The omission of the written statement required by the latter part of the section is not necessarily a ground for setting aside an award, and it may afterwards be supplied. In re Colquhoun and Berlin, 44 U. C. Q. B. 631. The provisions as to taking full notes of the oral evidence, the documentary evidence, or a copy of it, and putting in writing the statement are imperative and failure to comply with them is fatal to the award. Re Albemarle and Eastnor, 46 U. C. Q. B. 383. But where there being two councils interested in the arbitration the arbitrators did not know with which clerk to file the evidence and did not file it, it was held that the award was not thereby invalidated. Re Muskoka and Gravenhurst, 6 O. R. 352. See also In re Northumberland and Durham and Cobourg, 20 U. C. Q. B. 283.

(p) A municipal corporation has, by statute, certain powers in regard to roads, drains, &c., and to enter upon and injuriously affect the lands of others which powers may be exercised by by-law. Any award made in reference thereto is dependent on the adoption of the award by by-law within six weeks after its making; and the original by-law is also made dependent on the passing of such second by-law-

The award is not to be binding on the corporation unless, within the time limited for the purpose, it is adopted by the council. If not so adopted, the original by-law is to be deemed repealed. In this event the corporation is to pay the costs of the arbitration. As to which see sec. 399 and notes thereto.

(r) Formerly there were two kinds of submission that might be made rules of Court: 1. References by rule of Court, Judge's order, and order of Nisi Prius. 2. Submissions in writing, by virtue of the statute 9 & 10 Will. III. ch. 15, where they contain an agreement to the effect that they may be made rules of Court. These were extended by the Common Law Procedure Act, 1856, s. 97, which enacted that "Every agreement or submission, whether by deed or instrument, not under seal, may be made a rule of one of the Superior Courts of Law or Equity in Upper Canada, on the application of any party thereto, unless such agreement or submission contain words purporting that the parties intend that it should not be made a rule of Court," &c. This provision is in substance re-enacted in sec. 13 of Rev. Stat. c. 53. The effect of this is to place submissions under this section on the same footing as any of the foregoing described submissions. In re Brant and Waterloo, 19 U. C. C. B. 450; In re Eldon and Ferguson, 6 U. C. L. J. 207. The effect of making any award under this Act subject to the jurisdiction of the High Court, as if made on a submission by a bond containing an agreement for making the submission a rule or order of such Court appears to be to bring all such submissions under the statute of 9

sider not only the legality of the award but the merits as they appear from the proceedings so filed as aforesaid, and may call for additional evidence to be taken in any manner the Court directs, and may, either without taking such evidence or after taking such evidence, set aside the award or remit the matters referred, or any of them, from time to time, to the consideration and determination of the same arbitrators, or to any other persons whom the Court may appoint, as prescribed in The Act respecting Arbitrations and References, and fix the time within which such further or new award shall be made, or the Court may itself increase or diminish the amount awarded or otherwise modify the award, as the justice of the case may seem to require. to be against the view taken by the arbitrators. In re Colquhoun and Berlin, 44 U. C. Q. B. 631.

(a) If the head of the council perversely refuse to discharge his duty in this respect, a by-law may be passed providing for the signing of the debentures by some person in his stead,. Brock v. Toronto and Nipissing R. W. Co., 17 Grant 425.

(b) It has been held that a debenture issued by a municipal council, under its coporate seal, and signed by the head of the corporation, for the payment of a debt due or loan contracted under a by-law which does not provide by special rate for the payment of the debt or loan, does not estop the municipal corporation from setting up, as a defence to an action on the debentures, the invalidity of the by-law: Mellish v. Brantford, 2 U. C. C. P. 35; See further, Thomas v. Richmond, 12 Wall. (U.S.) 349; Halstead v. Mayor, &c., 3 Comst. (N. Y.) 430; Hodges v. Buffalo, 2 Denio. (N.Y.) 110; Boom v. Utica, 2 Barb. (Ark.) 320; Trustees &c. v. Cherry, 8 Ohio St. 564. See further, note to sec. 410. A person negotiating the sale of a municipal debenture is not answerable that the municipality will pay the amount secured by the debenture. Sceally v. McCallum, 9 Grant 434. Where therefore, a township municipality, in pursuance of the Municipal Corporation Act of 1849, passed a by-law for the purpose of granting a loan to the Port Burwell Harbour Company, and issued debentures thereunder which were subsequently declared to be illegal in consequence of the road company not having been properly constituted, the Court of Chancery, in the absence of any proof of fraud, refused to order one of the directors of the road company to refund the amount paid to him upon the sale of one of such debentures. Ib.

(c) The latter part of this section, like section 348, is intended for the protection of creditors. The duty of the treasurer to see that the money collected under the by-law is properly applied is made imperative, and no subsequent by-law or resolution of the council would in law be any excuse for the neglect of that duty. If the by-law authorize the loan for a special purpose only, the treasurer could not, without disregarding his plain duty, apply the money to any other purpose. Grier v. Plunket, 15 Grant 152. (g) See sec. 329.

(h) Were it possible to secure for all money by-laws the stamp of legality, so as to remove all suspicion of informality, irregularity or illegality, the effect would be eminently beneficial. Less room would be left for speculation or trade on the fears of men and contingencies of law, and more stability be imparted to the negotiation of municipal securities; one consequence of which—and not the least—would be the increase of the market value of the securities. See secs. 351 and 352.

Form of local improvement debentures.

409. Every debenture issued under section 612 of this Act or under the provisions of any other Act relating to the issue of debentures for local improvement purposes, shall bear on its face the words "Local Improvement Debenture," and shall contain a reference, by date and number, to the by-law under which it is issued.

Consolidation.

Provided always, that (in order to obviate a difficulty which has been found to prevail in negotiating such local improvement debentures, in consequence of many of the same having to be issued for small and broken amounts), councils may, from time to time, after the passage of the several by-laws covering the several amounts required for particular local improvements as therein specified, and without in any way affecting the liens on the lands therein named and to be improved thereby, further pass a collective or cumulative by-law consolidating such several amounts, and issue the required debentures in a general consecutive issue under such consolidated by-law, apportioning, nevertheless, the amount raised thereby, and crediting each service with the amount previously estimated and named for the same under the individual by-law passed in the first instance;

And for the purpose of more readily carrying this proviso into effect, councils desiring to avail themselves of the same, shall insert a clause in such individual by-laws, intimating that the amount of debentures to be issued thereunder is subject to consolidation, and in such case it shall be sufficient to state in said individual by-laws that the said amount of debentures to be issued thereunder shall be issued at so many years from the date of issue of the same, without defining a specific date; and provided further that no consolidated debentures shall be issued, covering any debentures which may have been issued or sold under any original by-law. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 410.

(l) The requirements contained in this section are in addition to the ordinary requirements. The purpose of the section is to distinguish debentures which are secured only on particular localities in a muni-

(m) "Municipal Bonds, notwithstanding they are under seal, are clothed with all the attributes of negotiable or commercial paper, pass by delivery or endorsement and are not subject to equities (where power to issue them exists) in the hands of holders for value before due without notice. Such bonds usually have coupons attached which partake of the nature of the bond, are likewise negotiable, may be detached and held saparately from the bond and the holder may sue thereon in his own name without producing or being interested in the bonds to which they were originally attached. Such securities are made to raise money by their sale and this object would be defeated if they were subject to equities (where the power to issue exists) in the hands of bona fide holders." Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed. s. 486. Indeed, warrants or orders of Municipal Corporations have been held in the United States to be so far negotiable as to render persons endorsing them liable as endorsers. s. 489. The fact that a debenture was, when duly signed and sealed, feloniously stolen from the corporation and transferred to the plaintiff, bona fide holder, for value, was held to afford no defence. Trust and Loan Co. v. Hamilton, 7 U. Where a corporation issues debentures, knowing they may be assigned the corporation may be estopped as against the assignee from setting up, that the debentures were illegally issued. Webb v. Herne Bay, L. R. 5 Q. B. 642. By an Act of Parliament commissioners were appointed who were to expend money in improving a town. They were authorized to levy rates on the town and to borrow money on the security of the rates, giving bonds for the money so borrowed, of which £100 at the least should be chosen by lot and paid off every year. Interest on the bonds had been duly paid, and, except in two years, £100 had been paid off every year, but more than £15,000 remained on the security of the bonds. Held, that holders of such bonds to the amount of £800 were not entitled to the immediate payment out of rates or to a receiver of the rates. Preston v. Great Yarmouth, L. Debenture registry book.

411. The treasurer of every municipality issuing any debentures containing the provision in the last section mentioned, shall open and keep a debenture registry book, in which he shall enter a copy of all certificates of ownership of debentures, which he may give, and also every subsequent transfer of such debenture; (p) such entry shall not be made except upon the written authority of the person last entered in such book as the owner of such debenture, or of his executors or administrators, or of his or their lawful attorney, which authority shall be retained by the treasurer and duly filed. poration, to borrow from any person or bank such sums as may be required to meet the then current expenditure of the corporation, until such time as the taxes levied therefor can be collected, (s) and the council shall by by-law regulate the amounts to be so borrowed, and the promissory note or notes, covenant or agreement to be given in security therefor. (t) 46 V. c. 18, s. 414. Sums to pay current expenses.

414. No council shall, unless specially authorized so to do, make or give any bond, bill, note, debenture or other undertaking for the payment of a less amount than $100; and any bond, bill, note, debenture or other undertaking issued in contravention of this section, shall be void: (u) 46 V. c. 18, s. 415. Without special authority, no bond, &c., to be given for less than $100.

Proviso.

(s) It is doubtful whether, in the absence of an express authority to borrow a municipal corporation has the power to borrow even to meet current expenditure. See note k to sec. 340. The power to give a promissory note for money borrowed was also a subject of doubt. See Attorney-General v. Lichfield, 13 Sim. 547; see further, note u to sec. 414. In the past, some municipalities have assumed to borrow money from banks, and to give promissory notes for payment; but the Legislature, to remove all doubt, has in express language conferred the power, subject to certain reasonable limitations.

(t) The power is to borrow to meet "the current expenditure of the corporation," which, under ordinary circumstances, should be met by the collection of taxes. So the duration of the loan is only to be "until such time as the taxes levied therefor can be collected." The security to be given for the loan is a promissory note. The power is to be exercised only by by-law. The by-law must regulate: 1. The amount to be borrowed. 2. The promissory notes to be given as security therefor.

The corporation cannot make a legal promissory note for a less sum than $100. See sec. 414.

(u) It has been said that the power to execute bonds, deeds and covenants is inseparable from the existence of all corporations, public and private. See Commonwealth v. Pittsburg, 41 Pa. St. 279; see also Douglas v. Virginia City, 5 Nev. 147. "Generally speaking, Corporations are bound by a covenant under their corporate seal, properly affixed, which is the legal mode of expressing the will of the entire body, and are bound as much as an individual by his own deed. . . . But where a corporation is created by an Act of Parliament, for particular purposes with special powers, then in another question arises, their deed, though under their corporate seal and that regularly affixed, does not bind them if it appear the express provisions of the statute creating the corporation, or necessary or reasonable inference from its enactments, that the deed was ultra vires; that is, that the Legislature meant that such a deed should not be made." Per Parke B., in South Yarmouth R. Co.

v. Great Northern R. Co., 9 Ex. 55, 84; adopted by Martin, B., in Payne v. Brecon, 3 H. & N. 579; see also Holdsworth v. Dartmouth, 11 A. & E. 490; Reg. v. Lichfield, 4 Q. (a) The ordinary rule is that the jurisdiction of a local officer is not to be extended beyond the municipality of which he is an officer. But as many of the criminals who find their way into cities and towns are from rural municipalities, and as some of those who escape from cities and towns find their way into rural municipalities, in order to avoid the backing of warrants in such cases, it has been deemed proper to make the officers in this section mentioned not simply "ex officio Justices of the Peace," but ex officio Justices of the Peace "for the whole county or union of counties in which their respective municipalities lie." See Reg. v. Mosier, 4 P. R. 64. It would seem that mayors of cities and towns under this section are ex officio Justices of the Peace for the counties in which their municipalities lie.

aldermen in cities shall be Justices of the Peace for such cities. (b) 46 V. c. 18, s. 416.

Jurisdiction of mayors over certain offences.

416. The mayor of a town or city (c) where there is no Police Magistrate, (d) shall have jurisdiction, in addition to his other powers, to try and determine all prosecutions for offences against the by-laws of the town or city, and for penalties for refusing to accept office therein, or to make the necessary declarations of qualification and office. 46 V. c. 18, s. 417.

Qualification of certain officials.

417. No warden, mayor, reeve, or alderman, (f) after taking the oaths or making the declarations as such, shall be required to have any property qualification, or to take any further oath to enable him to act as a Justice of the Peace. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 418.

(b) The declaration is not, as in the former part of the section, that the officers named shall be ex-officio Justices of the Peace, but that "Aldermen in cities shall be Justices of the Peace for such cities." It was formerly provided that before any alderman should act in the capacity of a Justice of the Peace for the city or county, he should take the same oath of qualification and in the same manner as is by law required by Justices of the Peace. 31 V. c. 30, s. 4. This was an addition to sec. 357 of the Municipal Act of 1866, which contained no such provision; and, in consequence, it was held that a warrant of commitment signed by an alderman who had not qualified was invalid to uphold the detention of the prisoner committed under it. Regina v. Boyle, 4 P. R. 256. It is now provided that no alderman, &c., after taking the oaths or making the declarations as such, shall be required to have any property qualification or to take any further oath to enable him to act as a Justice of the Peace. Sec. 417.

(c) Although the mayor is ex officio a justice of the peace (sec. 415,) he is only entitled to act as such where there is no Police Magistrate, or in the absence or illness, or at the request of the Police Magistrate. See Rev. Stat. c. 72, ss. 6, 13, 20. See further note o to sec. 432.

(d) Every city and every town having more than 5,000 inhabitants shall have a Police Magistrate. Rev. Stat. cap. 72, sec. 2. Every town may, if the Lieutenant-Governor in Council see fit to make an appointment, have a Police Magistrate. Ib. sec. 3. Police Magistrates may also be appointed in counties and districts. Ib., ss. 8-10.

(f) It is the policy of the law to require all persons entitled to discharge the subordinate but responsible and, it may be, arbitrary duties of a Justice of the Peace, to have some property qualification as a power to persons aggrieved by their misconduct. No person can be warden, mayor or reeve without having some property qualification. The possession of these offices, therefore is some guarantee of property. See Rev. Stat. c. 72, s. 5.

(g) See note c supra.

Jurisdiction of justices under certain by-laws.

418. Every Justice of the Peace for a county (h) shall have jurisdiction in all cases arising under any by-law of any municipality in the county, where there is no Police Magistrate. (i) 46 V. c. 18, s. 419.

Jurisdiction in cases not specially provided for.

419. In case any offence is committed against a by-law of a council, for the prosecution of which offence no other provision is made, (j) any Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction in the locality where the offender resides, or where the offence was committed, whether the Justice is a member of the council or not, may try and determine any prosecution for the offence. 46 V. c. 18, s. 420.

Division II.—Penalties.

Recovery and enforcement thereof. Secs. 420-422.
On offences against By-laws. Sec. 421.
Application of penalties. Sec. 423.

(h) The authority of Justices of the Peace appointed by the Crown is limited to the locality specified in their commissions. It is in no case attached to the person, so as to be capable of being exercised elsewhere than within those limits. A Justice of the Peace, for the time that he shall make his abode or be out of the county where he is in commission, cannot intermeddle or take any recognizance or any examination, or otherwise exercise his authority in any matter that shall happen within the County where he is in commission. Neither can he cause one to be brought before him out of the county where he is in commission, "for being out of the county where he is in commission, he is but as a private man." See Paley on Convictions, 5th Ed. 18.

(i) The meaning of this section is not free from doubt. The language used is very comprehensive. Every Justice of the Peace for a county shall have jurisdiction in all cases arising under any By-law of any municipality in such county where there is no Police Magistrate. This is broad enough to give jurisdiction to County Justices in the cases mentioned over offences against by-laws committed in cities and towns, provided there be no Police Magistrate in such cities and towns.

(j) As to power to impose punishments for breaches of by-laws See sec. 479, sub-ss. 17-19. The jurisdiction of the Justice is made to depend either on the locality where the offender resides or where the offence was committed. A Justice having jurisdiction in either locality may not only try but determine the prosecution. The authority of a Justice, who is so by virtue of his office as mayor, reeve, &c., is limited to the county in which his municipality is situate, and the authority of a Justice of the Peace appointed by commission from the Crown, is limited to the locality therein specified. See note h supra. His power can only be exercised where there is no Police Magistrate, Rev. Stat. c. 72, ss. 6, 13, or in the absence or illness or at the request of the Police Magistrate. Ib. ss. 6

Recovery and enforcement of penalties.

Imprisonment in default of payment.

420. Every fine and penalty imposed by or under the authority of this Act (a) may, unless where other provision is specially made therefor, (b) be recovered and enforced with costs, (c) by summary conviction, before any Justice of the Peace for the county, or of the municipality in which the offence was committed; (d) and in default of payment the offender may be committed to the common gaol, house of correction, or lock-up house of the county or municipality, there to be imprisoned for any time, in the discretion of the convicting Justice, not exceeding, (unless where other provision is specially made), thirty days, (e) and with or without hard labour, unless such fine and penalty, and costs, including the costs of the committal, are sooner paid. (f) 46 V. c. 18, s. 421.

(a) A by-law without a penalty would be nugatory; so power is given to municipal councils to pass by-laws for inflicting reasonable punishment for breach of any of the by-laws of the council. Sec. 479, sub-ss. 17-19.

(b) Where power is given to enforce payment of a penalty in a particular mode, the power to enforce in any other mode is impliedly excluded. Kirk v. Nowill, 1 T. R. 118, 125; Hart v. Mayor, &c., 9 Wend. (N.Y.) 571, 588.

(c) Before the 18 Geo. III. cap. 19, was passed in England, there was no general power enabling a convicting Justice to award costs. Special provisions to that effect were, however, inserted in particular Acts. See Skingley v. Surridge, 11 M. & W. 503; Wray v. Toke, 12 Q. B. 492, 510. The Justice cannot delegate to another the power to ascertain the costs. Rex v. St. Mary's, Nottingham, 13 East, 213; Sellwood v. Mount, 1 Q. B. 726; Lock v. Sellwood, Ib., 736; Reg. v. Clark, 5 Q. B. 887. The amount of costs should be specified in the conviction. Bott v. Ackroyd, 28 L. J. Mag. Cas. 207. Where the Justices left blanks for the amount of costs, it was held to be an irregularity but not an excess of jurisdiction, so as to render them liable to be sued. Bolt v. Ackroyd, 28 L. J. Mag. Cas. 207; Reg. v. Ely, 5 E. & B. 489.

(d) See note a to sec. 415.

(e) A conviction ordering imprisonment in default of payment of a penalty without any provision for distress under this section, would be illegal. Reg. v. Bleakley, 6 P. R. 244. See further note m to sec. 422.

(f) It has been held that where corporal punishment is substituted for the penalty in the event of non-payment, the punishment is not to extend to the non-payment of the costs. Reg. v. Barton, 13 Q. B. 28; see also Barton v. Bricknell, Ib., 393.

When pecuniary interest amounted to a disqualification, the informer, when entitled to a portion of the penalty, was incompetent both on the ground of interest and on the ground of being a party entered on the record. Rex v. Tilly, 1 Str 316; Rex v. Stone, 2 Ld. But so far as this Act is concerned, it is expressly provided that "the person giving or making the information or complaint, shall be a competent witness." Sec. 424. It is also now expressly declared that on the trial of any proceeding, matter or question under any Act of the Legislature of Ontario, or on the trial of any proceeding, matter or question before any Justice of the Peace, mayor or police magistrate, in any matter cognizable by such Justice, mayor or police magistrate, not being a crime, the party opposing or defending, or the wife or husband of the person opposing or defending, shall be competent and compellable to give evidence therein. Rev. Stat., c. 61, s. 9. Interest is now no longer a ground of disqualification in any witness. Ib. ss. 2 & 3. Nor, with a few exceptions, is the fact that he is a party to the record. One of these is that no person shall be compellable to answer any question tending to criminate himself, or to subject him to a prosecution for any penalty. Ib. sec. 5. None of these provisions relax or affect the law of evidence in regard to criminal procedure. Persons put on trial for a criminal offence cannot testify for or against themselves. See Winsor v. Regina, 7 B. & S. 490; L. R. 1 Q. B. 390; 10 Cox. 276; Attorney-General v. Radloff, 10 Ex. 84. If imprisonment may in the first instance follow the conviction, the proceeding is in general looked upon as a criminal one. Per Platt, B. in Attorney-General v. Radloff, 10 Ex. 84. There are many crimes properly so called, which are liable to be punished on summary conviction. But there are a vast number of acts which in no sense are crimes, which are also punishable; such, for instance, as keeping open house after certain hours, and a variety of breaches of police regulations which will readily occur to the mind of any one. Per Baron Martin, Ib. 96. It is not an easy matter to draw a line, and so be able to decide on which side of it each case should be placed. Reference may be made to the following cases: Attorney-General v. Bowman, 2 B. & P. 532, n.; Attorney-General v. Siddam, 1 C. & J. 220; Huntley v. Luscombe, 2 B. & P. 530; Rackham v. Jesse, 9 Q. (i) It may be that the by-law imposes a fixed penalty for the offence. But usually the by-law states a maximum and minimum penalty. The power of a municipal corporation to impose such a sliding scale was at one time doubted. See note to sec. 479, sub-s. 17. The power of the corporation to delegate to the Justice the fixing of the amount was also doubted. Ib. But as a knowledge of the circumstances of each particular case is essential for the exercise of discretion both as to fine and imprisonment, and as this knowledge can only be obtained by the Justice before whom the offender is brought, it has been deemed right expressly to provide that the Justice shall award "the whole or such part of the penalty or punishment imposed by the by-law as he thinks fit." In re Snell and the Corporation of Belleville, 30 U. C. Q. B. 81.

(k) The warrant must be under "hand and seal," and therefore in writing. See Hutchinson v. Lowndes, 4 B. & Ad. 118.

(l) This section applies only to proceedings for offences against municipal by-laws. Municipal corporations have no power to create offences or regulate criminal procedure.

(m) The power of imprisonment may be either as the direct punishment for an offence or as the means of enforcing payment of a pecuniary penalty. In the former the provision would savour of criminal procedure; see note h to sec. 421; in the latter, of procedure other than criminal procedure. Ib. Here the power of commitment is con-

The commitment, therefore, ought not to be issued till the fact that there is no sufficient distress is ascertained. Reg. v. Hawkins, Fort. 272, per Parker, C. J.; Reg. v. Bleakeley, 6 P. R. 244. A Justice who in such a case commits a party without inquiry as to distress, may, if there be a distress, be sued as trespasser. Hill v. Bateman, 2 Str. 710. Some statutes only allow the commitment to issue upon due proof upon oath of the want of distress. 50 Geo. III. ch. 108, s. 7. (n) The commitment must be in writing. Mayhew v. Locke, 2 Marsh, 377. It should be drawn up forthwith after the commitment is ordered. In re Masters, 33 L. J. Q. B. 146. Detention of the party without a written warrant cannot be justified further than necessary to make out the warrant. Hutchison v. Lowndes, 4 B. & Ad. 118. But the detention of the party till the return of the warrant of distress may, it seems, be by parol. Stile v. Walls, 7 East 533.

If there be any material variance between the conviction and the statute as to the appropriation of the penalty, the conviction will be bad. Griffith v. Harris, 2 M. & W. 335; Chaddock v. Wilbraham, 5 C. Municipal Officers, also Officers of Court. Sec. 429.

Proceedings on writs of execution

428. Any writ of execution against a municipal corporation (a) may be endorsed with a direction to the sheriff to e council of the particular municipality. Reg. v. Osler, 32 U. C. B. 332. The omission of the date or title of the by-law would t be fatal to the conviction, if the by-law be in other respects fficiently referred to. (Ib.) But some reference to the by-law is cessary. In re Livingstone, 6 P. R. 17.

(a) A municipal corporation being liable to be sued, is liable to the sequence of a suit, viz., execution. As the assets of the corporan are not the property of the members of the council, but of the ople whom they represent, the form of proceeding by execution inst such a corporation must, under certain circumstances, differ m that of proceeding by execution against an individual. If it were for the provisions here made as to execution, it would seem that the gment creditor's principal remedy would be by writ of mandamus. Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed. sec. 850. 1. The sheriff shall deliver a copy of the writ and endorsement to the treasurer, or leave such copy at the office or dwelling house of that officer, with a statement in writing of the sheriff's fees, (d) and of the amount required to satisfy the execution, including in such amount the interest calculated to some day as near as is convenient to the day of the service ;

If claim not paid, rate to be struck by sheriff.

2. In case the amount, with interest thereon from the day mentioned in the statement, is not paid to the sheriff within one month after the service, the sheriff shall examine the assessment rolls of the corporation, and shall, in like manner as rates are struck for general municipal purposes, strike a rate sufficient in the dollar to cover the amount due on the execution, (e) with such addition to the same as the sheriff execution. Ib. sec. 576. It never could be intended by the Legislature that executions could be enforced against property held for public purposes, such as public buildings, hospitals, school houses, &c. Ib. Scott v. Union School Sections of Burgess and Bathurst, 19 U. C. Q. B. 28. There is certainly no right, independently of statute, in the creditor to resort for payment to the private property of the inhabitants. Horner v. Coffee, 25 Miss. (3 Cush.) 434.

(b) The writ may (not must) be endorsed with a direction to the Sheriff to levy the amount by rate. The writ may also be endorsed, as in the case of writs of execution against individuals, either to levy of goods or lands (or as the case may be) of the Corporation, in which event a rate would not be contemplated, and probably would not be necessary. See Chicago v. Hasley, 25 Ill. 595.

(c) If the writ be endorsed to levy the amount by rate, the proceedings shall be as directed.

(d) The sheriff is not entitled to poundage on writs of execution against municipal corporations, unless he actually make the money. Grant v. Hamilton, 2 U. C. L. J. N. S. 262. Where a settlement is obtained by means of the pressure of the sheriff, he is entitled to be paid reasonable compensation for the services performed, although no special fee be assigned for such service in any statute or table of fees. Ib. If the sheriff make the money, it would seem that the writ is virtually executed, and that he is entitled to poundage, though he may under this section have levied a rate to collect the amount. See further, Nash v. Dickenson, L. R. 2 C. P. 252 ; Bissecicks v. Bute Colliery Co., 36 L. T. N. S. 800 ; Roe v. Hammond, 2 C. P. D. 3[illegible] which decision was affirmed in appeal,—6 Grant 1, and afterwards upheld by the Privy Council. So where a member of a municipal corporation agreed with another party to take a contract from the corporation for the execution of certain works in his name, the profits whereof were to be divided between the parties, it was held that such a contract was in contravention of the municipal law, and the Court of Chancery refused to enforce the agreement for a partnership. Collins v. Swindle, 6 Grant 282. An action on a contract for the sale of goods by a trading partnership, of which a member is also a member of the municipal council, may, where the contract is not executed, be resisted on the ground that one of the plaintiffs is a member of the municipal council. Brown v. Lindsay, 35 U. C. Q. B. 509. A bill will lie, by some of the inhabitants of a municipality alleging an illegal misapplication of municipal funds by the mayor, which the council, though requested, refused to interfere with. See Paterson v. Bowes, 4 Grant 170; see also West Gwillimbury v. Hamilton and North-Western R. W. Co., 23 Grant 383.

(e) It is the duty of the sheriff to strike a rate "sufficient," [illegible] No provision exists for the striking of a second rate, in the event of the first proving insufficient. If the amount levied should be more than sufficient, provision is made for the disposition of the surplus. Sub-s. 5. In case at the time for levying the annual rates next after the receipt of such precept, the collectors have a general rate roll delivered to them for such year, they shall add a column thereto, headed "Execution rate in A. B. vs. The Township" (or as the case may be, adding a similar column for each execution if more than one), and shall insert therein the amount by such precept required to be levied upon each person respectively, and shall levy the amount of such execution rate as aforesaid, and shall, within the time they are required to make the returns of the general annual rate, return to the sheriff the precept with the amount levied thereon, after deducting their percentage;

(m) In an action at law, the declaration alleged that defendant, as agent of the plaintiffs, undertook to expend certain moneys for them in certain roads and bridges; that he falsely and fraudulently represented to them that he had caused work to be done; and, in collusion with the persons alleged to have done the work, and by drawing false orders in their favour containing such representations, caused certain sum to be drawn out of the plaintiffs' treasury, whereas the work had not been done and the plaintiffs lost the money. Common money counts were added. It appeared at the trial that the corporation, by a resolution, directed that $300 should be granted to each councillor, defendant being one, to be expended on the roads; and, by another resolution, that $100 should be placed to the credit of each councillor, to be expended by them on the roads and bridges in their respective divisions. This was in accordance with an established practice, by which the councillors superintended the laying out of moneys in their respective divisions. Defendant granted several orders on the treasurer to different persons for work alleged to be done, which orders were paid, and it afterwards appeared that the work, though contracted for, had not been done. There was no evidence of fraud or collusion on the part of the defendant, or any gain to himself, except a charge to the corporation of commission on moneys expended. The jury found for the plaintiffs. The Court ordered a new trial, holding that the special

If paid by salary, fees to be paid over to municipality.

433. The clerk of the council of every city or town, or such other person as the council of the city or town appoints for that purpose, shall be the clerk of the police office thereof, and perform the same duties and receive the same emoluments as clerks of Justices of the Peace; and in case the said clerk is paid by a fixed salary, the emoluments shall be paid by him to the municipality, and form part of its funds, and such clerk shall be the officer of and under the Police Magistrate. count was not proved; that there could be no recovery on the common counts; and that it was doubtful if, in such a case, there could be any adequate remedy in a Court of Law. Chatham v. Houston, 27 U. C. Q. B. 550. Contracts such as the foregoing, between corporations and members to act as commissioners, overseers or superintendents, are now expressly authorized and legalized. See sec. 479, sub-sec. 2.

(n) As to the appointment of Police Magistrates in cities and towns see note d to sec. 416.

(o) This provision seems in conflict with the provisions of the Act Respecting Police Magistrates. See Rev. Stat. c. 72, secs. 6 and 20, which gives power to the Police Magistrate to request a Justice of the Peace to act for him and it may be that this provision will only be held to apply in cities and towns where there is no Police Magistrate or where such office is vacant or where the Police Magistrate has failed to request any one to act for him in his absence. See further sec. 416.

(p) The appointment of police clerks rests with the municipal councils. The clerk of each council is to act ex officio in the absence of any other appointment. Whether he acts ex officio or is appointed to act, if in the receipt of a fixed salary as clerk of the council, the fees appertaining to his office as clerk, of the Police Court, are to be paid by him to the municipality and form part of its funds. See Askin v. London District Council, 1 U. C. Q. B. 292. Where the town clerk did not act as police clerk and no appointment having been made by the council the Police Magistrate made an appointment which the council, with full notice thereof, did not repudiate, it was held that the clerk must be considered as if appointed by the council, and entitled to retain the fees given to police clerks. Peterborough v. Hatton, 30 U. C. C. P. 455. This section applies to cases arising both under Dominion and Provincial Acts. (Ib.) Where a municipal council in 1850, passed a vote assigning to the Clerk of the Peace a fixed salary "in lieu of all fees," and subsequently the Jury Act (13 & 14 Vict. ch. 55) was passed, it was held that the resolution would not debar him from claiming fees allowed by the Statutes for preparing jury books for the following year. Pringle and Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, 10 U. County Court of the county in which the city or town is situate, and the Police Magistrate; and in case the office of County Judge or that of Police Magistrate is vacant, the council of the city shall and the council of the town may appoint a person resident therein to be a member of the board, or two persons so resident to be members thereof, as the case may require, during such vacancy: (s) but the council of such town may at any time, by by-law, dissolve and put an end to the board, and thereafter the council shall have and exercise all powers and duties previously had or exercised by the board. 46 V. c. 18, s. 435.

Board may examine witnesses on oath.

435.—(1) The commissioners shall have power to summon and examine witnesses on oath on all matters connected with the administration of their duties, (a) and they shall have the same power to enforce the attendance of such witnesses, and to compel them to give evidence as is vested in any Court of law in civil cases. A notice to attend before the board shall be sufficient, if signed by the chairman (b) of the board, or any one of the commissioners.

Licensing livery stables, cabs, &c., in cities.

436—(1) The board of commissioners of police shall, in cities license and regulate (c) second-hand stores and junk stores

(s) The intention is, that the board, when full, shall consist of three persons, and that it shall at all times be full; two of the board constitute a quorum. See sub-s. 3 of this note.

(a) As to the duties under the Act. See secs. 436, 441, 442.

(b) No provision is made either for the appointment of chairman, though a chairman is intended, see sec. 437, or for a casting vote in the event of a tie. See People v. Rector, &c., 48 Barb. (N.Y.) 603. Acts done when less than a legal quorum is present are void. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed. secs. 278 et seq.

and regulating them. So when the city of Montreal was empowered to license and regulate junk stores, it was held that the exaction of a license fee of $50 per annum was illegal. City of Montreal and Walker, M. L. R., 1 Q. B. 469.

(d) Power is also given to councils of cities to license and regulate junk stores or shops, but as this clause is the more recent enactment it would probably govern in case of conflict between enactments of the board and the council. Sec. 495 (11).

(e) The Board of Commissioners of Police is the body which alone has the power to regulate and license livery stables in cities, and it would appear that by-laws of the council passed when the power was vested in them become inoperative. Regina v. Hiscox, 45 U. C. Q. B. 214. See also Re Keily, 13 O. R. 451.

(f) There is no power under this section to impose a license fee on the driver. Reg. v. Reeves, 1 O. R. 490. Power to a city council to make such ordinances "respecting streets, carriages, waggons, carts, drays, &c.," as to them should seem expedient and necessary, was held to authorize an ordinance requiring all persons who drive for hire any cart, dray, waggon or omnibus, within the city, to take out a license and to require the vehicle to be numbered, or on failure to do so to pay a fine. City Council v. Pepper, 1 Rich. S. C. Law, 364; see further, Bocking v. Jones, L. R. 6 Q. B. 29. Under a similar ordinance the imposition of an annual charge on each car of a street railway company was sustained. Frankfort R. Co. v. Philadelphia, 60 Pa. St. 445; but see Mayor, &c., v. Avenue R. Co., 32 N. Y. 261. Authority to license hacks, drays, waggons, and other vehicles used within the city for pay does not authorize the taxation of vehicles hauling into and out of the city. St. Charles v. Nolle, 11 Am. 440. The power is by this section restricted to vehicles "used for hire," and so clearly excludes any power to license vehicles used by merchants, manufacturers and others for their own use. St. Louis v. Grove, 46 Mo. 574. In England, by Stat. 6 & 7 Vict. ch. 86, sec. 33, provision is made for licensing hacks, and a penalty is imposed on the driver of a hackney coach who shall apply for hire elsewhere than at some standing appointed for the purpose. The following cases have been decided under that statute. Wurrell v. Ellis, 2 C. B. 295; Rogers v. Macnamara, 14 C. B. 27; Weath v. Brewer, 15 C. B. N. S. 893; Ex parte Mitcham, 5 B. & S. 585; Buckle v. Wrightson, ib., 854; Skinner v. Usher, L. R. 7 Q. B. 423; Fowler v. Lock, L. R. 7 C. P. 272. So regulations are made under the Metropolitan Public Carriage Act, 32 & 33 Vict. c. 115, sec. 4, regulating vehicles plying for hire, the following cases have been decided under it. Carke v. Stanford, L. R. 6 Q. B. 357; Allen v. Tunbridge, L. R. 6 C. P. 481; Bocking v. Jones, L. R. 6 Q. B. 29; see also Duck v. Addington, 4 T. R. 447; Rex v. Rawlinson, 6 B. & C. 23; Cloud v. Turfery, 2 Bing. 318; Blackpool v. Bennett, 4 H. & N. 127; decided under other similar Acts in England.

drivers of such vehicles, (g) for the conveyance of goods or passengers, either wholly within the limits of the city or from any point within the city to any other point not more than three miles beyond said limits, and may provide for enforcing payment of such rates, (h) and for such purposes shall pass by-laws and enforce the same in the manner, and to the extent in which any by-law to be passed under the authority of this Act may be enforced; (i)

(2) The council of a city in which there is no board of commissioners of police, shall have and may exercise by by-law, all the powers conferred upon the board of commissioners by this section. 49 V. c. 37, s. 9.

(3) The board of commissioners of police shall also regulate and control children engaged as:

(a) Express or despatch messengers;

(b) Vendors of newspapers and small wares;

(c) Bootblacks.

51 V. c. 28, s. 17

How by-laws of board authenticated and proved.

437. All by-laws of the board of commissioners of police shall be sufficiently authenticated by being signed by the chairman of the board, which passes the same; (j) and a copy of such by-law written or printed and certified to be a true copy by any member of the board, shall be deemed authentic, and be received in evidence in any Court of justice without proof of such signature, unless it is specially pleaded or alleged that the signature to such original by-law has been forged (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 438.

(g) The power "to regulate and license" vehicles used for hire, would involve the power to establish the rates of fare to be taken by the owner or drivers, as well as the power to make it obligatory upon such owners or drivers to carry the tariff printed in some conspicuous place, for the use of those who employ the vehicles. The Legislature has not left the former part of the proposition open to mere inference.

(i) The usual mode of enforcing the provisions of a by-law is by fine, to be levied by distress; and in default, by imprisonment. See secs. 421, 422, and notes thereto. Express provision to that effect is made in section 438.

(j) The ordinary mode of authenticating a municipal by-law, is to have it under the seal of the corporation and the signature of the head of the corporation. Sec. 288. Commissioners of police are not a corporation, and therefore have no corporate seal; so that their by-laws are to be deemed sufficiently authenticated "by being signed by the chairman of the board which passes the same."

(k) This is in effect a transcript of a similar provision made as to

438. In all cases where the board of commissioners of police are authorized to make by-laws, either under this or any other Act or law, they shall have power in and by such by-laws to attach penalties for the infraction thereof, (l) to be recovered and enforced by summary proceedings before the police magistrate of the city for which the same are passed, or, in his absence, before any justice of the peace having jurisdiction therein, in the manner and to the extent that by-laws of city councils may be enforced under the authority of this Act; and the convictions in such proceedings may be in the form hereinbefore set forth. (m) 46 V. c. 18, s. 439. May be enforced by penalties, &c. How recovered.

439. The council of every city shall appoint (o) a high bailiff but may provide by by-law that the offices of high bailiff and chief constable (p) shall be held by the same person. 46 V. c. 18, s. 440. High bailiffs.

440. The police force in cities and towns having a board of commissioners of police, shall consist of a chief constable, Police force in cities and towns.

(o) The appointment of high bailiff rests with the municipal council, whereas the appointment of constables rests with the board of police commissioners. Sec. 441.

(p) A constable is an officer of great antiquity. Bac. Ab. Constable, A. The office was originally instituted for the better preservation of the peace. Ib. C. A constable is the proper officer to a Justice of the Peace, and so is bound to execute warrants. Ib. D. The council of every town not having a police board, shall and the council of every incorporated village, may appoint a chief constable and one or more constables for the municipality. Sec. 445. And in cities and towns having a police board the force shall consist of a chief constable and as many constables and other officers and assistants as the council may deem necessary; but in cities to be not less in number than the board reports to be absolutely required. Sec. 440. The duties of a chief constable usually differ from those of the high bailiff. The latter is, as it were, sheriff of the city; and yet it has been held that it is the duty of the sheriff of the county in which the city is situate, and not of the high bailiff, to convey to the penitentiary prisoners sentenced at the recorder's court. Glass v. Wigmore, 21 U. C. Q. B. 37. Every city must, under this section, appoint a high bailiff. The council may suspend the high bailiff from the duties of his office. Sec. 450. (q) This section relates to the constitution and number of the force. The only authority of the council is, subject to the provisions of this section, to fix the number of the force. See sec. 441. The police force is a force not known to the common law; police officer is an officer not known to the common law. Being created by statute such an officer can only exercise such power as the statute confers on him either by express authority or by necessary inference. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed. sec. 210. It is by section 443 enacted that constables (apparently meaning police under this Act) shall be charged with the special duties of preserving the peace, preventing robberies and other felonies and misdemeanours, and apprehending offenders; and shall have "generally all the powers and privileges, and be liable to all the duties and responsibilities which belong by law to constables duly appointed." Where police officers are by statute invested with the powers of peace officers, or conservators of the peace, they have power to arrest certain offenders on view. 25. If any person to whom any property is offered to be sold, pawned or delivered, has reasonable cause to suspect that any such offence has been committed on or with respect to such property, he may arrest the offender. Ib. sec. 26. It is not suspecting that gives the right to arrest, but good reason or good cause to suspect, and the reason or cause would appear to be traversable. See Reg. v. Tooley, 11 Mod. 242, 248; S. C. 2 Ld. Rayd. 1296, 1301. In ordinary cases, to justify an arrest by a police officer even for a misdemeanour, it is necessary that he should have the warrant with him at the time. Reg. v. Chapman, 12 Cox, C. C. 4. A constable has a right without a warrant to enter any house (the door of which is unfastened) in which there is a noise amounting to a breach of the peace, and to arrest any person there disturbing the peace in his presence. Commonwealth v. Tobin, 11 Am. 375. It is no part of a police constable's duty as such to assist the occupier of a house in putting out an intruder. Reg. v. Roxburgh, 12 Cox, C. C. 8, yet he may lawfully do so. Ib. If a private individual state facts to a constable, who thereupon, on his own responsibility, arrests a person, or if he procure a magistrate to issue a warrant for taking a person, the imprisonment is not his act. Barber v. Rollinson, 1 C. & M. 330; Stonehouse v. Elliott, 6 T. R. 315; Brandt v. Craddock, 27 L. J. Ex. 314; Grinham v. Willey, 4 H. & N. 496. A constable is justified in arresting without a warrant upon a reasonable suspicion of a felony having been committed and of the person being guilty of it, although no felony has in fact been committed, and whether the reasonable grounds for suspicion are matters within his own knowledge or facts stated to him by another. Lawrence v. Hedger, 3 Taunt. 14; Davis v. Russell, 5 Bing. 355; Beckwith v. Philby, 6 B. & C. 635; Hogg v. Ward, 3 H. & N. 417. But a constable is not in general justified in arresting a person who frequents a highway with intent to commit a felony. Re Timson, L. R. 5 Ex. 257; see also, In re Jones, 7 Ex. 586, or in arresting a person for a misdemeanor without a warrant, Matthews v. Biddulph, 3 M. & G. 390; Griffin v. Coleman, 4 H. & N. 265; see sec. 449; unless there be a breach of the peace in his presence, Timothy v. Simpson, 1 C. See also, Pesterfield v. Vickers, 3 Coldw. (Tenn.) 205. It would seem that a constable, having a warrant to arrest, is not bound to accept a tender of the fine and costs. See Arnott v. Bradley, 23 U. C. C. P. 1. He cannot arrest on the mere statement that a person is insane, it must also be stated that the person is dangerous. Look v. Dean, 11 Am. 323. Oath of office.

I *A. 46 V. c. 18, s. 442.

Board to make regulations.

442. The board shall, from time to time make such regulations as they may deem expedient for the government of the force, and for preventing neglect or abuse, and for rendering the force efficient in the discharge of all its duties. (t) 46 V. c. 18, s. 443.

Constables to be subject to the Board.

Duties of constables.

443. The constables shall obey all lawful directions, and be subject to the government of the board, and shall be charged with the special duties of preserving the peace, preventing robberies and other felonies and misdemeanors, and apprehending offenders; and shall have generally all the powers and privileges, and be liable to all the duties and responsibilities which belong by law to constables duly appointed. (u) 46 V. c. 18, s. 444.

See sec. 444. The members of the force are in all things made subject to the government of the board. See secs. 442 and 443. Until the organization of the board they may be suspended by the police magistrate or mayor. Sec. 450.

(u) There may be a wide difference between "a police officer" and "a constable," see note p to sec. 439; but under the operation of the section here annotated there can be little, for it is specially declared among other things, that the constables shall have generally all the powers which "belong by law" to constables duly appointed.

(v) It would only be proper for the board to furnish to the city council some details of the proposed expenditure, shewing that it will come under one or other of the heads authorized by this section. But it is to be noted that no provision is made in express terms for the giving of an estimate to the corporation. See In re Port Rowan High School v. Walsingham, 23 U. C. C. P. 11. The Court, on a motion for a mandamus, is not bound to consider objections, well or ill founded, to certain items in the estimate of the board. An objection to particular items can form no reason for withholding, arbitrarily and without explanation, every part of an estimate. A different course would have to be taken to raise such an objection. In re Board of School Trustees of Toronto, 23 U. C. Q. B. 203. If the council wholly neglect and refuse to appropriate or pay, as required by the board of commissioners of police, for the purposes mentioned, there would be a remedy. See In re Board of School Trustees of Toronto, 23 U. C. Q. B. 203. The council is not bound to follow the dictation of the board as to the manner of procuring the money. Ib. It may be that the council has surplus funds in hand to meet demands without levying a rate. If so, the levying of a rate, even though asked by the board, would be unnecessary. See School Trustees and Galt, 13 U. C. Q. B. 511, 521. Formerly the board of commissioners had not power to fix the remuneration, and when the law was so the Court refused to interfere to compel the council to pay the remuneration fixed by the board. In re Prince and Toronto, 25 U. Dissolution of boards of police commissioners in towns.

Rights of salaried constables to fees.

448. Where any salaried constable is appointed for any municipality, whether by the municipal council or by police commissioners, the council may agree that such constable shall keep, for his own use, his fees of office, or the council may require that the said fees shall be paid to the municipal treasurer for the use of the municipality. See note q to sec. 44[illegible]. Caution must, however, be exercised in making arrests under such circumstances. A magistrate's warrant is a great shield. Where an arrest is made without it, if it should turn out that the provisio[illegible]

Although police constables may arrest without warrant for crimes, it does not follow that they have the power to do so in the case of lesser offences. (h) When restored, his restoration can only take effect "after the period of his suspension has expired." The suspension is therefore a deprivation of office for some certain period. During that period another may be appointed to the office. See sec. 450. That other, if appointed, would, in the absence of agreement to the contrary, be entitled to the salary or remuneration.

(a) The court house, from its very name as well as from the provisions of law requiring the erection of a gaol and court house in every county or union of counties before they are constituted separate municipal authorities, (see sec. 43), is a building devoted to and intended for certain public uses. The municipal corporation may be considered as holding the building, for and subject to these uses, and would be guilty of a breach of trust and, as regards the Courts of Justice, of a high contempt, if they pretended to prevent its use for such purposes. Per Draper, C. J., in Huron and Bruce v. Macdonald, 7 U. C. C. P. 280. Gaols have always been considered of such universal concern to the public, that until powers were conferred upon municipal corporations to erect them, none could be erected except by authority of Parliament. Rex v. Newcastle, Dra. 214; see also Reg. v. Lancashire, 11 A. & E. 144. The fact that the court house is also used as a shire hall for the sittings of the county council, and the furniture made use of by them, can make no difference. Ib. Formerly, the responsibility of keeping the court house in repair was thrown on the district surveyor; and when the law was so, it was held that the municipal corporation was not liable in damages for an injury resulting in death, occasioned to an individual in walking up the court house steps, which had been allowed to fall into an unsafe condition. Hawkeshaw v. Dal housie, 7 U. In case the inspector of prisons shall at any time find that the common gaol in any county or city is out of repair, or has become unsafe or unfit for the confinement of prisoners, or is not constructed or maintained in conformity with the statute, or that the same does not afford sufficient space or room for the number of prisoners usually confined therein, the County may now be compelled by mandamus to make the necessary repairs. C. C. P. 278, the object of this and the three following sections is, so far as language can do so, to remove all cause of dispute. Though it is by sec. 452 enacted that the county council may pass by-laws for erecting, improving, and repairing the gaol, &c., and shall preserve and keep it in repair, and provide the fuel, food, and other supplies required, it is here enacted that the sheriff shall have the care of the gaol, gaol offices and yard, and gaoler's apartments, and the appointment of the keepers. 470. The council shall not be liable to pay for any furniture which they are required to provide under the provisions of sections 466 and 469 of this Act, unless the same has been ordered by the council or by some person duly authorized by them so to do. 46 V. c. 18, s. 470.

Liability for furniture for use of county officials.

471. The corporation of any county and city or town separated from the county, are hereby declared to have, respectively, insurable interests in the court house and gaol of the county and the furniture thereof, in the proportions in which they shall, for the time being, be liable to contribute towards the erection, building, repairing, and maintaining the same, and towards providing necessary accommodation and furniture for the said gaol and Courts of justice, and for the officers connected with such Courts, and any such corporation may insure its said interest accordingly. 46 V. c. 18, s. 471.

Insurable interests of corporations in certain cases.

472. In all cases in which any city is required to contribute to the cost of erecting or building a court house or gaol, not commenced before the 5th day of March, 1880, the council of such city shall not be bound to pay for any part of the expenditure thereafter incurred in respect thereof, unless the same has been concurred in by the council of the city, or, in case of dispute, has been determined by arbitration, according to the provisions of this Act, (j) and the council of the city shall have a voice in the selection of the site of the court house and gaol; and in case the council of the county and city shall fail to agree upon the selection of such site, the same shall be settled and determined by arbitration, according to the provisions of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 472.

Compensation by city or town for use of court-house, &c.

473.—(1) While a city or town uses the court house, gaol or house of correction of the county, the city or town shall pay to the county such compensation therefor, (a) and for the care and maintenance of prisoners as may be mutually agreed upon, (b) or settled by arbitration under this Act. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 473.

(a) In consequence of the separation of the city of Toronto from the county of York for judicial purposes, a deed was executed between the respective corporations, in which the city covenanted to pay the county a certain annual sum for the use of the court house. The deed also contained other agreements as to the use of the gaol. This arrangement was to continue in force until twelve months' notice to determine it should be given. By the Law Reform Act which came into force in February. 1869, the city was re-united to the county for judicial purposes, and on the 21st March, 1869, the city gave the county the stipulated notice as to intended discontinuance of the use of the gaol, stating that, as to the court-house the action of the Legislature had virtually terminated the provisions respecting it, and that no further payment would therefore be made. Held, that the contention of the city was correct; that it had been released from its covenant to pay by the operation of the Law Reform Act; and that there was no legal liability on the part of the city even for an aliquot portion of the half-year's rent which would have become due on the 21st March following. Toronto v. York, 21 U. C. C. P. 95. And it was afterwards held, in a subsequent suit between the same parties, that in the absence of express legislation, the city was not bound to pay the county any compensation whatever for the use of the court house. S. C. 22 U. C. C. P. 514.

(b) Agreed upon. It would be well that the agreement should be by deed or by a By-law under seal, but where the contract is shewn to be an executed one, proof of such an agreement or by-law is unnecessary. Wentworth v. Hamilton, 34 U. C. Q. B. 585.

(c) Arbitrators were appointed by articles of agreement, dated 2 December, 1855, to settle certain differences recited as pending between the city of London and the county of Middlesex, respecting the compensation to be paid by the city to the county for the of the county court house and gaol, and concerning certain financial matters then depending between the respective municipalities. On the same day they awarded, first, that the stock held by the county in certain railways should be divided in the proportion of one-fifth to be transferred to the city, the remaining four-fifths to belong to the county; secondly, that the city should pay the county £2,675 on account of the county roads, and should keep the roads in repair within the city limits; thirdly, that the city should pay the county £1,966 in full of its portion of the county debt; fourthly, that in future each of the municipalities should pay expense of all prisoners committed to the county gaol by each of them respectively, and that the portion of such expense incurred by the city should be paid over by them in January of each year; fifthly, that in future the city should pay to the county one-third of all incidental expenses connected with the court house and gaol, including repairs and insurance, together with one third of all expenses connected with the administration of justice not paid by Government such payment to be made in the month of January in each year; sixthly, that the city should pay to the county the sums mentioned in the first, second, and third clauses of the award, with interest, in twelve months from the 1st of January, 1856, except that the city council should pay its share of the railway stock at the time the county debentures given therefor should become payable; seventhly, that the award should take effect on the 1st January, 1855, and remain in force till the 1st January, 1860. Held, that the giving to the award a retrospective effect—to the 1st January, 1855, being the time when London was declared a city—was not objectionable, but proper; that the arbitrators had authority to give time for payment, as in the sixth clause; that the limiting the continuance of the award to 1st January, 1860, was inconsistent with the 12 Vict. c. 81, s. 9 (so far as material the same as sec. 474 of this Act), and rendered the award bad as to the fourth and fifth clauses respecting the court house and gaol; that the fourth clause of the award was also bad, because it authorized a ratable division of the expenses, instead of providing the payment of an annual sum (sed qu. under this Act); that the fourth and fifth clauses might be separated from the rest, and the award be set aside as to them only. In re Middlesex and London, 14 U. C. Q. B. 334; Wentworth v. Hamilton, 34 U. C. Q. B. 585. Proceedings upon arbitration between a city and county under ss. 445, 446 and 447 (same as ss. 25, 469, 473 and 474) the questions submitted are largely in the discretion of the arbitrators, no principle of action being laid down by the statute. When, therefore, arbitrators in forming estimates of the proportion of expenditure to be borne by city and county under these sections, took population as a basis instead of the assessment rolls, it was held that this was no ground for interference. In re St. Catharines and the County of Lincoln, 46 U. When the amount of compensation may be reconsidered.

474. In case after the lapse of five years from such compensation having been so agreed upon or awarded, or having been settled by statute, and whether before or after the passing of this Act, it appears reasonable to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, upon the application of either party, that the amount of the compensation should be reconsidered, he may, by an Order in Council, direct that the then existing arrangement shall cease after a time named in the order, and after such time the councils shall settle anew, by agreement (d) or by arbitration under this Act, (e) the amount to be paid from the time so named in the order. 46 V. c. 18, s. 474.

Existing lock-up houses to continue.

475. Nothing herein contained shall affect any lock-up house heretofore lawfully established, but the same shall continue to be a lock-up house as if established under this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 475.

Expense of conveying and maintaining prisoners

476. The expense of conveying any prisoner to, and keeping him in a lock-up house, shall be defrayed in the same manner as the expense of conveying him to and keeping him in the common gaol of the county. (f) 46 V. c. 18, s. 477.

(f) The whole of the expenses of the administration of criminal justice in Ontario should be paid out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of the Province. Rev. Stat. c. 86, s. 1. All accounts or relative to such expenses, must be examined, audited, and approved under such regulations as the Lieutenant-Governor in Council from time to time directs and appoints. Ib., sec. 2. The several heads of expense mentioned in the schedule to the Act are deemed expenses of the administration of criminal justice within the meaning of the Act. Ib., sec. 1. Judge to have powers mentioned in Rev. Stat. c. 17.

(g) See sec. 383 as to inquiries into the financial affairs of the corporation.

(h) "Or other misconduct." What is here meant, no doubt, is misconduct in the nature of malfeasance or breach of trust of some kind, appertaining to the duties of the office. According to the general construction of Statutes, where general words follow particular words which have preceded them. Rex v. Manchester and Salford Water Works Co. 1 B. & C. 630; Rex v. Mosley, 2 B. & C. 226; Lyndon v. Standbridge, 2 H. & N. 46; Reg. v. Neath, L. R. 6 Q. B. 707; Reg. v. Cleworth, 9 L. T. N. S. 682.

(i) The design of this part is to embrace cases not falling within the preceding part of the section, and, as it were, to widen the field of inquiry. The phrases, "any matter connected with the good government of the municipality," or "the conduct of any part of the public business thereof," are as general as can well be made. They are taken from Rev. Stat. c. 17, to which reference is made in the next note.

(j) Commissioners so appointed have the power of summoning before them any party or witnesses, and of requiring them to give evidence on oath, orally or in writing (or on solemn affirmation, if they are parties entitled to affirm in civil matters), and to produce such documents and things as such commissioners deem requisite to the full investigation. Rev. Stat. c. 17, s. 1; and the commissioners have the same power to enforce the attendance of witnesses, and to compel them to give evidence, as is vested in any court in civil cases. Ib. sec. 2. No party, in such an inquiry, can be compelled to answer any question by his answer to which he might render himself liable to a criminal prosecution. In this respect there is a marked difference between inquiries here authorized and election inquiries. See sec. 219.

Fees payable to County Judge.

(2) The Judge of the County Court, holding such investigation, shall be entitled to receive, and shall be paid by the municipality requesting him to hold the investigation, the same fees as he would be entitled to receive if the matter had been referred to him as a referee under the provisions of The Judicature Act. 49 V. c. 37, s. 11.

DIVISION XII.—WHEN MAYOR MAY CALL OUT Posse Comitatus.

Mayor may call out posse comitatus. Sec. 478.

Mayor may call out posse comitatus.

478. The mayor of any city or town may call out the posse comitatus (l) to enforce the law within his municipality should exigencies require it, but only under the same circumstances in which the sheriff of a county may now by law do so. 46 V. c. 18, s. 481.

Witnesses, it is apprehended, would not be entitled to compensation for loss of time. See note a to sec. 383.

(k) The Judge is required to report not only the result but the evidence. This intends that the evidence shall be reduced to writing.

(l) "Posse Comitatus," or power of the county, includes the aid of and attendance of every person above the age of fifteen within the county. Persons able to travel are required to be assistant in this service. It is used when a riot is committed, a possession kept on a forcible entry, or any force or rescue made contrary to the Queen's writ or in opposition to the execution of justice. The power is, usually summoned by the sheriff. But with respect to writs that issue in the first instance to arrest in civil suits, the sheriff is not bound to take the posse to assist him in the execution of them; though he may do so if he pleases, on forcible resistance to the execution of the process. Sheriffs, &c., are to be assisting Justices of the Peace in suppressing riots, &c., and raise the posse by charging any number of men to attend for that purpose, who may take with them such weapons as shall be necessary, and they may justify the beating and even killing such rioters as resist or refuse to surrender; and persons refusing to assist in the posse may be fined and imprisoned. It is lawful for a peace officer to assemble a competent number of people and sufficient power to suppress rebels, rioters, &c.; but there must be great caution, lest under a pretence of keeping the peace, the peace officer cause a breach of it, and sheriffs, &c., are punishable for using heedless violence or alarming the country in these cases without just ground. See Watson's Office of Sheriff, 2nd ed. 2, 73, 193. As to calling out the melitia in aid of the civil power. See R. S. C. c. 41, s. 34.

Councils may make by-laws.

479. The council of every county, township, city, town and incorporated village (m) may pass by-laws:—

Obtaining Property.

For obtaining property, real and personal, etc.

1. For obtaining such real and personal property as may be required for the use of the corporation, (a) and for erecting, improving and maintaining a hall, and any other houses and buildings required by and being upon the land

(m) The powers conferred by this section can only be exercised by By-law. See Grand Junction R. W. Co. v. County of Hastings, 25 Grant 40.

(a) The right of a municipal corporation to acquire property independently of statute is by no means free from doubt. See note v to sec. 230. But in order that there should be no doubt, express power is here conferred. It is not to be extended to the acquirement of land for speculation or profit. Bank of Michigan v. Niles, 1 Doug. (Mich.) 401; Davison College v. Chambers' Executors, 3 Jones, Eq. (N. C.) 253-258; State Bank v. Brackenridge, 7 Blackf. (Ind.) 395; McCartee v. Orphan Society, 9 Cow. (N. Y.) 437; Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543. But the acquirement of wet lands by townships with a view to their improvement and sale, is expressly authorized. See sec. 521, sub-s. 12. As to the right to acquire land outside of the municipality. See sec. 489, sub-s. 57. In the event of the corporation lending money on mortgage, if default be made in the payment of the mortgage money, the corporation is entitled to a decree of foreclosure, notwithstanding the Statutes of Mortmain, and is not restricted to a decree for sale of the land. Orford v. Bailey, 12 Grant 276; see further Brown v. McNab, 20 Grant 179; Brussels v. Ronald, 4 O. R. 1. And it would also seem that a municipal corporation may give time to a debtor and take a mortgage on real estate to secure its payment. See Belleville v. Judd, 16 U. C. C. P. 397; but see Brown v. McNab, 20 Grant 179. The laying out, upon a map of an intended town, of squares or other open spaces for public recreation or amusement, or for any other public purpose, renders them as sacred to such purpose as the streets themselves. Per Spragge, V. C., in Guelph v. Canada Co., 4 Grant 654; see further Wyoming v. Bell, 24 Grant 564; and if an alienation to a different purpose, by a person pretending to have the right to alienate, be attempted, the Court would interfere by injunction to restrain it. Ib. So, if the municipal corporation itself be a trustee of land for a public purpose, and without authority attempt to alienate it, in breach of the trust for which it is held, the Court would restrain the alienation, or, if actually made, would order a reconveyance. Attorney-General v. Goderich, Grant 402. See also notes to sub-s. 8 of sec 504.

of the corporation, (b) and for disposing of such property when no longer required. (c)

Appointing certain Officers.

2. For appointing (d) such— May appoint certain officers

Pound-keepers,	Road Surveyors,
Fence-viewers,	Road Commissioners,
Overseers of Highways,	Valuators,
Game Inspectors,

(b) The power to erect a hall and other buildings required by the corporation does not, it is apprehended, include a saw-mill, erected with the avowed intention of benefiting the municipality. See Kinloss v. Stauffer, 15 U. C. Q. B. 414. A rule nisi for mandamus at the instance of the Justices of the Huron District, to compel the municipal council of the Huron District to build a court house was refused. Justices of the Huron District v. Huron Council, 5 U. C. Q. B. 574. A By-law passed by the municipal council of Prescott and Russell, to tax the county of Russell alone for the erection of a registry office for the use of the united counties, was set aside. Smith v. Prescott and Russell, 10 U. C. Q. B. 282. A by-law to raise money wherewith to build a town hall and market approved by the ratepayers did not specify any site on which the buildings were to be erected. Held, that this left the councillors unfettered in the choice of site, although at the time there was a resolution on the minutes of the council adopting a particular one, and which had been conveyed to the corporation for the purpose. Little v. Wallaceburgh, 23 Grant 540.

(c) This includes a town hall and the site on which it stands, when it is deemed that a new town hall in another situation would be more convenient for the public. In re Hawke and Wellesley, 13 U. C. Q. B. 636. The Court under special circumstances refused to quash a by-law for the erection of a town hall, the objection being that they had already by a previous by-law acquired a different site and contracted to build on it. Forester and The Corporation of Ross, 24 U. C. Q. B. 588. The Court has not the power of restraining the councillors of an incorporated village in the due exercise of their constitutional power from changing the site of a proposed town hall, and market although the first site has been acquired for the purpose it not being shewn that any change of circumstances had been made by parties on the faith of it, or that any corrupt or improper motive actuated the members of the council in making the change. Little v. Wallaceburgh, 23 Grant 540.

(d) It is not here said in what manner, that is whether under corporate seal or otherwise, the officers in this section named are to be appointed. The Municipal Bill of 1858, when introduced to the House of Assembly, had the words "under the corporate seal"; but these words were afterwards struck out in committee. It has always been a recognized qualification of the principle which requires the use of the seal, that there are certain small matters of such frequent and other officers as are necessary in the affairs of the corporation, or for carrying into effect the provisions of any Act of the Legislature, or by-law of the corporation (e) or for the removal of such officers; (f) but nothing in this Act shall prevent any member of a corporation from acting as commissioner, superintendent or overseer, over any road or work undertaken and carried on, in part or in whole, at the expense of the municipality; and it shall be lawful for the municipality to pay such member of the corporation acting occurrence in the course of conducting affairs by a corporation, that it appears to be of necessity that corporations should be allowed to transact them without going through the formality of a sealed instrument. The hiring of servants to perform their ordinary duties has from a very early period been one of these exceptions. Raines v. Credit Harbour Co., 1 U. C. Q. B. 174. Whether the officers named in this section come within the exception is, at least, doubtful. The old law required such appointments to be under corporate seal, 12 Vict. c. 81, s. 31, sub-s. 5, and the intendment of this subsection, which must be taken in connection with the general words at the commencement of this section, appears to be that the appointment should be by by-law. See further note c to sec. 3.

(e) The power is not only to appoint the officers named, but "such other officers as are necessary in the affairs of the corporation, or for carrying into effect the provisions of any Act of the Legislature or the by-law of the corporation." There are those who contend that it is incident to the powers of a municipal corporation to appoint all officers necessary in the affairs of the corporation. Vintners v. Passey, 1 Burr. 235; Hastings Case, 1 Mod. 24; Rex v. Barnard, Comb. 416; Hoboken v. Harrison, 1 Vroom. (N.J.) 73; White v. Tallman, 2 Dutch. (N.J.) 67; People v. Bedell, 2 Hill (N. Y.) 196; Field v. Girard College, 54 Pa. St. 233. But where an act makes provision for the appointment of principal officers named, and other necessary officers, the statute must so far as possible, be followed and no appointments be made in contravention of it or otherwise than directed by it. Rex v. Weymouth, 7 Mod. 373; Rex v. Bumstead, 2 B. & Ad. 699; Rex v. Spencer, 3 Burr. 1827; Rex v. Chitty, 5 A. & E. 609; Stadler v. Detroit, 13 Mich. 346; Vason v. Augusta, 38 Geo. 542.

(f) Words authorizing the appointment of any public functionary include the power of removing him, reappointing him, or appointing another in his stead, in the discretion of the authority in whom the power of appointment is vested. Rev. Stat. cap. 1 s. 8, sub-s. 29. But the power of removal cannot, unless expressly delegated, be exercised by a portion merely of the corporation, but by the corporation as a corporate body acting duly and regularly. Lord Bruce's Case, 2 Str. 819; Rex v. Lyme Regis, (Fane's Case), Doug. 149; Rex v. Richardson, 1 Burr. 517; Rex v. Doncaster, Say. 38; Rex v. Taylor, 3 Salk. 231; Rex v. Feversham, 8 T. (g) If it were not for some provision of this kind, the contract as it were, between the corporation and the member to act as a commissioner, &c., would be void. See sec. 431 and notes thereto.

A by-law that any person encumbering, injuring or fouling any public wharf should be liable to a penalty named, and in default of payment sufficient distress to imprisonment "for not less than ten nor more than thirty days" was held to be void. In re McLeod and Kincardine, 38 U. (l) The preceding sub-section relates to the regulation, for the good of the public, of public wharves, docks, slips, &c., but this does not it enables the municipal corporation to make, open, preserve, alter, improve, and maintain public wharves, &c. The charter of a city authorized it to establish wharves and public landings, to fix the rate of wharfage, and to regulate the anchorage and mooring of boats within the city. Held, that the city had the power to forbid a person owning a lot abutting on the river, and on which no wharf or public landing had been established, to use such lot as a wharf or landing without the permission of the city and the payment of wharfage. Dubuque v. Stout, 32 Iowa, 80; *S. for such purposes as are necessary to carry out powers expressly conferred upon them or existing by necessary intendment. To such extent has this very proper limitation been carried in the United States, that the power of a corporation to grant money for the celebration of their national birthday, 4th July, has been denied. Hodges v. Buffalo, 2 Denio. (N. Y.) 110; see also Tash v. Adams, 10 Cush. (Mass.) 252; Thomas v. Wilson 20 U. C. Q. B. 331; Samuel Arthabasha, 14 Q. L. R. 140. The land intended to be granted is land held otherwise than for corporate purposes, and so not charged with a trust for the use of the the public. See note a to sub-sec. 1 of this section.

(r) A municipality has power under this sub-section to lend money for the encouragement of a manufacturing establishment, notwithstanding the use of the word "bonus," which does not necessarily import a gift. Scottish-American Investment Co. v. Elora, 6 A. R. 628. In the United States it has been held that the Legislature cannot constitutionally authorize a town to loan its credit to persons who will in consideration thereof maintain a manufacturing enterprise for the town for their own private emolument. Allen v. Jay, 1[illegible] 185; Brewer Brick Co. v. Brewer, 16 Am. 395: see further, Commercial National Bank v. City of Iola, 2 Dillon C. C. 353; 20 [illegible] 655; Weismer v. Village of Douglass, 64 N. Y. 91. But no such question has been raised in this Province. A municipal council under sec. 366, has power to exempt manufacturing establishments from taxation. But apparently they cannot discriminate in favour of new manufactories as against old manufactories in the same line of business. See note a to sec. 366, and by 51 V. c. 28, s. 16 (3) of this Act) similar and other restrictions are imposed as to how manufactories may be aided. Where the majority of members of the council granting the bonus were also stockholders in the company proposed to be benefited the by-law was set aside. Re [illegible] and Almonte, 41 U. C. Q. through or along the boundary of which any such road passes, within which any such work connected therewith is constructed may out of any moneys belonging to the municipality, and not appropriated to any other purpose, lend money to the company authorized to make the road, &c., upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed on between the company and the municipality making the loan; and the municipality may recover the money so loaned, and appropriate the money so recovered to the purposes of the municipality. Ib. sec. 71. The municipal council may issue debentures for the payment of any loan negotiated by them with any such company, in the same manner, and subject to the same conditions as required by law with regard to the issuing of other debentures. Ib. sec. 72.

(v) The Legislature here, have enabled but not required municipal councils to pass by-laws for aiding in maintaining any indigent person belonging to or to be found in the municipality at a public institution, or for granting aid to any charitable institution or to the resident poor. In England the 43 Eliz. ch. 2, makes it the duty of Justices to provide for the relief of the poor. The words used in the English Act are, "shall and may tax, rate and assess," and it also provides for overseers of the poor, who have power to call for and administer the necessary funds. We have no such organization. It is not therefor competent for our Courts to proceed upon the case of any individual applicant, for it does not rest with the Courts to dictate to municipal councils what particular cases of distress call for public relief. Per Robinson, C. J., In re McDougall and Lobb, 3 U. C. Q. B. 82.

(x) No person is allowed to race with or drive furiously any horse or other animal upon any highway. Rev. Stat. c. 195, sec. 5.

(y) It has been held under former statutes that a municipal council has no right to bring down water in any quantity upon the land of an individual, and leave the water to stagnate there, without showing that it could not otherwise have been got rid of, and without showing that it was not in the power of the council to lead the water away from the plaintiff's land after the council had conducted it there. See Brown v. Sarnia, 11 U. C. Q. B. 87; Perdue and Chinguacousy, 25 U. C. Q. B. 61; Rowe v. Rochester, 29 U. C. Q. B. 590. And further Merryfield v. Worster, 14 Am. 592; Attorney-General v. Pulney Local Board, L. R. 20 Eq. 626. A corporation has no greater right than an individual to collect the surface water from its roads and streets and discharge it upon the lands of another. Attorney-General v. Leeds, L. R. 5 Chy. 583; Noonan v. Albany, 21 Alb. L. J. 774. As to the liability where a person is allowed to discharge foreign matter into a drain which is under the control of a municipal corporation. See Gray v. Dundas, 11 O. R. 317.

(z) By section 483, it is provided that every council shall make to the owners or occupiers of, or other persons interested in, real property entered upon, taken or used by the corporation in the exercise of any of its powers, or injuriously affected by the exercise of its powers, due compensation for any damages (including cost of fencing when required) necessarily resulting from the exercise of such powe[illegible] beyond any advantage which the claimant may derive from the [illegible] templated work. It is clear, therefore, that no municipal corp[illegible] tion has a right to trespass upon the property of a private pe[illegible] doing no unnecessary damage, unless they shew it was necessary [illegible] convenient for them for the purpose of the road, street, or [illegible] work. Besides, it should be shewn that there was a by-law aut[illegible] izing the work. St. George's Church v. County of Grey, 21 U. C. [illegible] B. 265. Unless a by-law were shown, the corporation would [illegible] looked upon as trespassers; and to answer, under such circum[illegible] ces, that they trespassed a little, doing no unnecessary damage, w[illegible] be no answer at all. (Ib.) See Pratt v. Stratford, 14 O. R. [illegible] Ayers v. Town of Windsor, Ib., 682.

(v) See The Act to regulate the means of egress from P[illegible] Buildings. Rev. Stat. c. 210.

(w) The corporate powers are not only limited but must be r[illegible] ably exercised, and not only strictly within the limits of the [illegible] but in perfect subordination to the constitution and general law [illegible] land, and the rights dependent thereon, and that power if p[illegible] exercised, may be enforced by good and competent penalties. [illegible] Dickinson, J., in Waters v. Leech, 3 Ark. 115; see further n[illegible] sec. 286. It was at one time supposed that, under power to exceeding $50 exclusive of costs, (x)

poration to impose a reasonable fine not exceeding a certain amount, for violation of the provisions of a by-law, the corporation was bound to fix a certain sum in the by-law, and had no power to reserve a discretion as to the amount within the limits prescribed; and Wood v. Searl, Bridgman Rep. 139, was cited as an authority for that position. But in a subsequent case, Parke, B., said, "The only case we have been able to find bearing on this question is, that cited in the argument for the plaintiff—Wood v. Searl—in which the penalty was such a sum as the master, wardens, &c., should assess, not exceeding 40s.; but this case is no authority either way, for the by-law was held to be bad, and it might have been so held upon other objections, or upon this. In the absence of any other authority to the contrary, we do not see any objection to this mode of fixing the penalty. It is a certain penalty of £5, with a power of mitigation not below £2, and we do not think this unreasonable. Piper v. Chappell, 14 M. & W. 624, 648. Again, assuming the right of the corporation to so fix a penalty, its power to delegate the discretionary power to a convicting justice was doubted; Peters v. President and Board of Police of London, 2 U. C. Q. B. 543; In re Fennell and Guelph, 24 U. C. Q. B. 238-243. But now, whether the fine be fixed in the by-law or not, it is enacted that the convicting justice "shall award the whole or such part of the penalty or punishment imposed by the by-law, as he sees fit." Sec. 421. A by-law without fine or penalty would be in effect nugatory. State v. Cleveland, 3 Rh. Is. 117. So it has been held that corporations have an implied power to enforce by-laws by the imposition of reasonable fines or penalties. Fisher v. Harrisburgh, 1 Grant (Pa. Cas.) 291; Barter v. Commonwealth, 3 Pa. (Pen. & W.) 253; Zylstra v. Charleston, 1 Bay. (S. C.) 382. The fine or penalty should be imposed on the person who violates the by-law, and not, if an unauthorized trader, on the person with whom he deals. Cuddon v. Warwick, 1 Salk. 192; Fazakerley v. Wiltshire, 1 Stra. 469; Willc. on Corp. 155, pl. 369. What is reasonable within the limits prescribed, must depend on circumstances. Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137. A penalty, although small, fixed on every stroke of the hammer which an unauthorized person uses in his trade of a goldsmith, would be unreasonable. Willc. on Corp. 154, pl. 368; see also New York v. Ordrenan, 12 Johns. (N. Y.) 122. The corporation cannot multiply the offence into many, and punish for each. See Crepps v. Durden, Cowp. 640; Hart v. Mayor, &c., 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 571; Stokes v. New York, 14 Wend. (N. Y.) 87; New York v. Ordrenan, 12 Johns. (N. Y.) 122. But a by-law fixing one penalty for the first offence, and a larger one for the second, and a still larger one for every subsequent offence, does not appear to be bad. Butchers' Co. v. Bullock, 1 Ld. Raym. 334 & P. 434. Where the penalty is fixed by a by-law, it cannot be changed by any authority inferior to that which fixed it. Rex v. Halliwell, 12 East. 29; Scarnings v. Cryers, 3 Leon. 7.

(x) The limitation is $50, exclusive of costs. This is the maximum. The corporation may fix a less but cannot fix a greater fine or penalty for infraction of a by-law. It cannot do indirectly that which it is not allowed to do directly. It cannot, by multiplying into many that which is in reality only one offence, and annexing a penalty to each,

For neglect of duty, or refusal to accept office.

But where each transaction is really a distinct offence, and may be so declared, and the punishment for each is within the competence of the corporation, the fines would not be illegal though in the aggregate exceeding $50, exclusive of costs. Heise v. Town Council, 6 Rich. (d) The ordinary limit of imprisonment in default of payment of fine, or distress for same, is twenty-one days. In re McLeod and Kincardine 38, U. C. Q. B. 617. But in all city by-laws, and in by-laws of any municipality for the suppression of houses of ill-fame, the term of imprisonment may be extended to a period not exceeding six months. A conviction under Con. Stat. Can. cap. 105, for keeping a house of ill-fame or being an inmate of such a house, adjudicating that the accused should pay a fine of $50 forthwith and be imprisoned for three months unless the fine be sooner paid, was held to be illegal. In re Slater and Wells, 9 U. (f) In 1871 the Legislature of Ontario for the first time enabled a municipal council to expend money in the planting and preserving of shade and ornamental trees upon the highways within the municipality, 34 Vic. c. 31, s. 5, and to grant sums of money to any persons, or association of persons, to be expended for such a purpose Ib. The latter part of this section is a re-enactment of the last mentioned provisions. Besides municipal councils are empowered to allow to any person who shall plant any fruit trees or any trees shrubs or saplings suitable for affording shade, on any highway within the municipality, in abatement of statute labour or out of the general funds, a sum of not less than twenty-five cents for every tree so planted. Sec. 489, sub-s. 27. See also Rev. Stat. c. 201.

(g) The assize of bread has from the earliest times been deemed necessary. See Burn's Justice, Title "Bread." The apparent meaning of the assize of bread, seems to be the power or privilege of assizing or adjusting the weight or measure of bread. Re Nasmith, 2 O. R. 192. Power to regulate the assize of bread is given by sec. 503, sub-s. 12. The power to seize, as forfeited, bread or other property for light weight or short measurement, is one that cannot be inferred from a mere power to regulate. Power "to regulate everything which relates to bakers," was held to give authority to provide for a for a forfeiture of bread baked contrary to the provisions of a by-law. Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137. So a by-law providing a forfeiture for the use of the city workhouse of bread so baked, was held legal. Guillotte v. New Orleans, 12 La. An. 432 ; Page v. Fazakerly, 36 Barb. (N. Y.) 392. The sale of bread is now in England regulated by 6 & 7 Will. IV. ch. 37. In it there was an exception of bread which, when the Act was passed, was known under the denomination of French or fancy bread. When this fancy bread became afterwards bread in ordinary and common use, and was so sold, it was held that the exception had ceased. Reg. v. Wood, L. R. 4 Q. B. 559. "The object of the Legislature in passing the Act was to liberate the trade from the restrictions of the Assize Act, and leave the baker at liberty to make bread of any size and shape he pleased, and to charge his own price for it ; but in order to protect the customer from imposition, it required the baker to sell by weight. He is no longer at liberty to sell at so much a loaf : he must sell at so much per pound, and the customer is to be supplied with so many pounds of bread, unless he chooses to have an article of an exceptional quality—something that is not ordinary bread ; and if he has that, the baker is at liberty to sell it without reference to weight. But unless it is of an exceptional character, if it is the common article of consumption, the baker must sell it as such. It is obvious that what is now ordinary bread is to be treated as exceptional and Acquiring lands for parks, etc.

J., said, "We think, when a customer asks for bread by weight, that clearly is a case in which, whether the baker chooses to give him ordinary bread or fancy bread, the baker is bound to sell by weight. We by no means say the baker was bound to weigh in the presence of the customer, but he was bound to weigh the bread at some time or other before he sold it, and to sell it by weight instead of by the denomination of household bread, fancy bread, or any other denomination." Reg. v. Kennett, L. Powers in respect of lighting and construction of gas works.

Rev. Stat. c. 164.

Municipal corporation constructing works to supply with gas or water buildings on line of supply, on request.

(3) Where any municipal corporation has constructed any gas or water works for supplying the municipality with gas or water, (k) and where there is a sufficient supply thereof, it shall be the duty of the corporation to supply with gas or water all buildings within the municipality, situate upon land lying along the line of any supply pipe of the said corporation, upon the same being requested by the owner, occupant, or other person in charge of such building.

Corporation may require security from consumer.

(4) The corporation before supplying gas or water to any building, or as a condition to its continuing to supply the same, may require any consumer to give reasonable security for the payment of the proper charges of the company therefor, or for carrying the gas or water into such building.

Liability for failure of supply not affected.

(5) Nothing in the preceding two sub-sections contained shall be construed in any way to affect the liability of a corporation in respect of damages on account of any failure of supply through mischance, accident, or mismanagement, but the position of the corporation in respect thereto, shall remain as if such two sub-sections had not been enacted. 46 V. c. 26, ss. 1, 3, 4.

SUMMARY REMEDY IF BY-LAW NOT OBEYED.

482. Whenever any municipal council has any authority to direct, by by-law or otherwise, that any matter or thing should be done by any person or corporation, such council may also, by the same or another by-law, direct that in default of its being done by the person, such matter or thing shall be done at the expense of the person in default, and may recover the expense thereof with costs by action or distress; (m) and, in case of non-payment thereof, the same shall be recovered in like manner as municipal taxes. (l) As to the necessity for this enactment, see note to sec. 494.

(m) The usual penalty for non-compliance with a by-law is a fine. See sec. 479, sub. s. 17. Power to enforce the provisions of a by-law otherwise than by fine must be expressly given. See notes to sub-s. 17, of sec. 479. But where the object of the by-law is really that somebody should do the thing required, power to permit the thing to be done at the expense of the party in default is a reasonable one, and is here expressly given. In the case of by-laws for the removal of snow such a power has for a long time existed. See sec. 496, sub. s. 25. The power is now extended to all cases wherever a municipal corporation has authority, by by-law or otherwise, to direct that "any matter or thing" should be done by "any person or corporation." Suffering a party wall of less than the requisite thickness to remain, is not per se "a continuing offence." The more appropriate remedy is the removal of the structure at the expense of the owner, where the by-law permits of such a course being adopted. See Marshall v. Smith, L. R. 8 C. P. 416.

(n) Municipal rates may be recovered either by action or distress. But in either case there is a roll shewing the person rated and for how much he is rated. This is, as it were, the judgment against him for the amount. No provision is here expressly made for the placing of the name of the person in default on the roll. Whether such power is intended remains to be decided.

taken or used by the corporation in the exercise of any of its powers, (a) or injuriously affected by the exercise of its powers,

(a) An interference with the enjoyment of property belonging to another, prima facie gives a right of action. This being so, the right to maintain the action exists, unless shewn to have been taken away by Act of Parliament. The burden of shewing that it has been taken away rests upon those who interfere with the enjoyment of the property of others. See Clowes v. Staffordshire Potteries Water Works Co., L. R. 8 Chy. 125. But social duties and obligations are paramount to individual rights and interests. In all civilized countries there is what is called the power of eminent domain. By this is meant the right of the public to appropriate private property for public uses. See Divisional Council of the Cape Division and De Villiers, 2 App. Cas. 567. This right is generally subject to the limitation that private property shall not be taken for public use without due compensation. See Wells v. London, Tilbury and Southend R. W. Co., 5 Ch. D. 130. This limitation is contained in almost every State constitution in the United States. See South-Western R. W. Co. v. Southern and Atlantic Telegraph Co. 12 Am. 585; Witham v. Osburn, 18 Am. 287: Osborn v. Hart, 1 Am. 161; Wild v. Deig, 13 Am. 399; It is also one of the generally understood limitations in the unwritten constitution of Great Britain. "It is said this is for the general benefit of the inhabitants, &c., and it is only opposed by a few interested individuals. The usual answer to this kind of argument is, that if it is for the general benefit of the inhabitants to take from a few interested individuals their property, let the public pay the interested individuals for that of which they deprive them." Per Richards, C. J., in Burritt and Marlborough, 29 U. C. Q. B. 119-131; see further, In re Albany Street, 11 Wend. (N. Y.) 148; Embury v. Connor, 3 Comst. (N. But a provision directing the expenses to be paid by some persons specially interested in the proposed work, is not illegal. Fisher v. Vaughan, 10 U. C. Q. B. 492. It is now clearly established in England that an Act which authorizes the doing of works makes their execution lawful, and so takes away the right of action, which would have arisen but for such legislation. Governor &c., of British Cast Plate Manufacturers v. Meredith, 4 T. And it is a well understood rule in England, although the action is taken away, compensation is only recoverable when provided for by the statutes and in the manner prescribed by them. Mayor of Montreal v. Drummond, 1 App. Cas. 384.

(b) Whether damage can be recovered under the words "injuriously affected" depends upon whether the damage might have been the subject of an action if the works which caused it had been done without the authority of Parliament. This was the rule adopted in Caledonia Railroad Co. v. Ogilvy, 2 Macq. Sc. Ap. This raises the question as to the title of the claimant. It is not to be assumed that the person in possession is the absolute owner of the land. He may not have any title, an imperfect title, or a title subject to encumbrances. Unless a charge on the land were made a charge upon the compensation, the security would be impaired at the expense of the chargee. The money becomes as it were impressed with the trusts to which the land was subject, and stands in its place. Dunlop v. York, 16 Grant, 216; In re East Lincolnshire R. Act, 1 Sim. N. The acceptance or purchase to be by by-law, declaring in express terms that the land is appropriated for a public cemetery, and for no other purpose. When this is done, the land, although without the municipality, becomes part thereof for purposes of local government. This provision differs in this respect from that in sub-s. 57 of this sec., which provides for the acquiring and holding by purchase or otherwise, for the public use of the municipality, lands situate outside the limits of such township, city, town, or incorporated village, but the lands so acquired shall not form part of the municipality of such township, city, town, or incorporated village, but shall continue and remain part of the municipality where situate.

If the burden to support a cemetery be cast on all the citizens, a by-law imposing the burden on a particular class would be bad. Beurojohn v. Mobile &c., 27 Ala. 58. Cemeteries are not to be subjected to sale to enforce liens on them for the improvement of adjoining streets, especially where the disturbance of cemeteries is a criminal offence. Lewis v. Nevin, 19 Am. 78. Selling portion of such land for certain purposes.

(a) For selling or leasing portions of such land for the purpose of interment, in family vaults or otherwise, and for declaring in the conveyance the terms on which such portion shall be held; (n) 46 V. c. 18, s. 490 (9).

(b) Provided, however, that the municipal council of an incorporated village may pass a by-law for accepting or purchasing land for a public cemetery within the territorial limits of the village upon the by-law being first approved of by the local board of health, and ratified by the provincial board of health; and the by-law shall thereupon be as valid and effectual as if the land was situated without the municipality;

(c) All expenses incurred by the provincial board of health, in respect of and incidental to the by-law, and whether the by-law be ratified by the board or not, shall be paid by the village muuicipality to the secretary of the board; 50 V. c. 29, s. 23. See Rev. Stat. caps. 175, 176.

Enlargement of Cemeteries.

Councils may pass by-laws for taking lands.

12. For the acquiring and expropriation of lands to be ed for enlarging any existing public cemetery or burying ound, but no expropriation of any land within the limits a city shall be authorized, and as to any such enlargement a village or town the consent of the provincial board of lth shall be first obtained;

Reference to arbitration.

(a) In case the owner of the land required refuses to sell the same, or refuses to take the price the council of the municipality is willing to pay, then in either of such cases the matter in dispute shall be referred to arbitration, and shall be proceeded with under the provisions of this Act, respecting arbitrations as to compensation for lands taken; (o)

(n) There is no limitation as to the interest to be conveyed. When municipality is seised in fee simple, the conveyance may be made forever or for years. The power is to "sell" or "lease."

(o) See sec. 385 et seq.

(b) The arbitrators shall decide whether it is necessary in the public interests that the lands should be expropriated for the aforesaid purposes or any of them, and if so decided they shall award as to the price to be paid to the owner of said lands, but the costs shall be in the discretion of the arbitrators.

(c) If the arbitrators award that the lands shall be taken for such cemetery, or burying ground, one copy of the award shall be deposited with the registrar of the county or city, as the case may be, in which the lands are situate, and shall be a valid title to the said lands.

Certain lands not to be taken except with consent of owner.

(d) No lands used as an orchard, pleasure ground or garden, nor any lands within two hundred yards of any dwelling-house shall be expropriated without the consent of the owner or owners of such dwelling-house.

Boundaries to be described in award.

(e) The award shall be in writing and the boundaries of the lands or premises taken shall be fully described therein.

Sub-ss 11 and 13 to apply.

(f) All the provisions of sub-sections 11 and 13 of this section shall, as far as applicable, apply to the lands acquired under this sub-section. 48 V. c. 38, ss. 1-5.

Protection of Graves.

Protecting graves.

13. For preventing the violation of cemeteries, graves, tombs, tombstones, or vaults where the dead are interred; (p)

(p) The proper interment of the dead is a matter that deeply concerns the health of the living, and is therefore a proper subject for municipal control. New York v. Slack, 3 Wheel. Cr. C. (N.Y.) 237; Presbyterian Church v. New York, 5 Cow. (N.Y.) 538, Coates v. New York, 7 Cow. (N.Y.) 585; Commonwealth v. Fahey, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 408. See also Austin v. Murray, 16 Pick. (Mass.) 121. It has been held in the United States that burials are not matters of ecclesiastical cognizance; that the right to bury a corpse and preserve its remains is a legal right, belonging, in the absence of testamentary disposition, exclusively to the next of kin, and includes the right to select and change the place of sepulture at pleasure, and that if the place of burial be taken for public use, the next of kin may claim indemnity for the expense of removing and suitably interring the remains. In re Beekman Street, 4 Bradf. J. N. S. 112. It has been held that it is an indictable offence to take up a dead body even for the purpose of dissection. It has been held that to sell the dead body of a capital convict for the purpose of dissection, where dissection was no part of the sentence, is misdemeanor, and indictable at common law. 1 Russell on Crimes, 4th ed. 629. A dead body is not property in the strict sense of the term, but a quasi property over which the relations of the deceased have rights which the courts will protect. Pierce v. Swan Point Cemetery, 14 Am. 667. The reasonable and necessary expenses of the burial of a deceased person will be allowed to the executor in the settlement of his accounts. Patterson v. Patterson, 17 Am. 384.

A bequest for founding and upholding an institution for studying and curing maladies of quadrupeds or birds useful to man is a good charitable legacy. University of London v. Yarrow, 23 Beav. 159; 2 Jur. (r) As to protection of insectivorous and other birds, see Rev. Stat. c. 222.

(s) The power is not merely to "regulate," but to "restrain" the running at large of dogs. This may be read in connection with the first sub-section, which provides "for killing dogs" running at large contrary to the by-laws. The validity of laws providing for the seizure or destruction of property without compensation to the owners, has been doubted. See note a to sec. 483. But it is now held that all rights of property are held subject to such reasonable control and regulation as the Legislature may think necessary for preventing of injuries to the rights of others, and the security of the public health and welfare. In the exercise of this power, the Legislature may not only provide that certain kinds of property, either absolutely or when held in such a manner or under such circumstances as to be injurious, dangerous or noxious, may be seized and confiscated upon legal process, after notice and hearing, but may also, when necessary to insure the public safety, authorize of dogs, and for imposing a tax on the owners, possessors such property to be summarily destroyed by the municipal authorities, without previous notice to the owner. Per Gray, J., in Blair v. Forehand, 100 Mass. 136; S. C. 1 Am. R. 94; and per Robinson, C. J., in McKenzie v. Campbell, 1 U. C. Q. B. 241-243. A familiar example given is that of pulling down buildings to prevent the spreading of conflagration, or the impending fall of the buildings themselves. Mouse's Case, 12 Co. 63, Ib. 13; Maleverer v. Spink, 1 Dyer, 56; Governor v. Meredith, 4 T. (U.S.) 581, 589, 632. Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed. 955 et. seq. There is no kind of property over which the exercise of this power is more frequent or supposed to be more necessary than dogs. In the view of the common law, dogs of all sorts had no intrinsic value, and the owner was held to have so little property in them that the stealing of them was not larceny. Reg. v. Robinson, 8 Cox, C. C. 115; Mason v. Keeling, 1 Ld. Rayd. 608; Read v. Edwards, 17 C. B. N. S. 245. But see Harrington v. Milles, 15 Am. 355, and notes. The law has long made a distinction between dogs, cats, and other domestic quadrupeds, growing out of the nature of the creatures and the purposes for which they are kept. Beasts which have been thoroughly tamed, and are used for burden or husbandry, or for food, such as horses, cattle, and sheep, are truly property of intrinsic value, and entitled to the same protection as any kind of goods. But dogs and cats, even in a state of domestication, never wholly lose their wild nature and destructive instincts, and are kept either for uses which depend on retaining and calling into action those very natures and instincts, or else for the mere whim and pleasure of the owner. Per Gray, J., in Blair v. Forehand, 1 Am. R. 96. Dogs have always been entitled to less regard and protection than more harmless and useful domestic animals. Read v. Rymer, 2 Q. B. D. 136; Laverone v. Mangianti, 10 Am. 298; Meibus v. Dodge, 20 Am. 6; Putnam v. Payne, 13 Johns. (N.Y.) 312; Brown v. Carpenter, 26 Vt. 638; Woolf v. Chalker, 31 Conn. 121. In the case of a by-law against the running at large of dogs the object of the by-law is not to prevent or punish trespasses upon property, but to protect the people of a city or town against danger to their lives—against threatened death in perhaps its most distressing form. Per Robinson, C. J., in McKenzie v. Campbell, 1 U. C. Q. B. 250, 251. The most effective mode for protecting people from such a danger is the annihilation of the cause of danger; and under a statute which merely authorized the corporation to pass by-laws for "preventing and regulating" dogs running at large, it was held that the corporation had power to pass a by-law for the killing of dogs running at large in violation of the provisions of the by-law. Ib. 241. By the statute, the Legislature have not left the power to inference, but conferred it in express language. See

16. It is to be observed that the power either to restrain, regulate or kill is only to be exercised as to "dogs running at large." Therefore, where an officer, under such a by-law, entered a dwelling house, took the dog from the dwelling house, and afterwards killed it, he was held liable to the owner. Bishop v. Fahay, 15 Gray (Mass.) 61; Kerr v. Seaver, 11 Allen (Mass.) 151. If the power were to kill "whenever and wherever found," the officer would have a right peaceably to enter for that purpose, without permission, upon the close of the owner or keeper of the dog, and there kill it. Blair v. Forehand, 1 Am. 94. As to when dogs can be said to be "running at large," see Commonwealth v. Dow, 10 Metc. (Mass.) 382. The council of a township has no power to appropriate the revenue arising from a tax imposed on the owners of dogs in one part of the township to the improvements of public streets and to other purposes within the limits of such part. In re Richmond v. Front of Leeds and Lansdowne, 8 U. C. Q. B. 567.

(t) Besides the power to restrain, regulate and, if necessary, kill dogs, the additional power here conferred is to provide by by-law for imposing a tax on the owners, possessors or harbourers of dogs. The imposing a tax is to be looked upon rather as a measure of revenue than as a mode intended to be pointed out for indirectly restraining or prohibiting the keeping of dogs by imposing a tax on them." Per Robinson, C. J., in McKenzie v. Campbell, 1 U. C. Q. B. 246. See further the Act to impose a Tax on Dogs and for the Protection of Sheep. Rev. Stat. c. 214, and Williams v. Port Hope, 1 U. C. C. It is no defence therefore, in such a case that the defendant had no notice of the want of repair. Laurence v. Jenkins, L. R. 8 Q. B. 274. Provision is made as to line fences by Rev. Stat. c. 219. If there be a duty to fence the neglect of it deprives the person upon whom the duty devolves of the right to complain of injuries suffered by his animals. *Cincinnati H. & D. Where the legislature imposed a penalty of $100 upon railways for every month's delay in performing the duty of maintaining and keeping legal and sufficient fences, it was held that the neglect of the corporation to perform the duty rendered them liable to reimburse any person suffering injury thereby. Norris v. Androscoggin Railroad Co., 39 Maine 273. So it has been held that any one who voluntarily suffers his cow to go at large in the public streets of a city contrary to its by-laws, with no one to take charge of her, and thus to stray upon a railroad track at the time when the cars are passing, cannot recover against the company without proof of gross negligence on their part. Bowman v. Troy and Boston Railroad Co., 37 Barb. (w) In Hillyard v. Grand Trunk R. W. Co., 8 O. R. 583, it was held that a barbed wire fence constructed upon an ordinary country road could not be treated as a nuisance in the face of this provision by which the use of such fences seems to be sanctioned. It was also held in the same case that evidence of the use of such fences in other townships and that other municipalities held out inducements to erect them was admissible.

(z) The kindling of a fire, in a municipality where such a by-law exists, at a time other than that prescribed by the by-law, or in disregard of the precautions made necessary by the by-law, would be strong, if not conclusive evidence of negligence. An owner of land, who without wilfulness or negligence, uses his land in the ordinary manner, though mischief should be thereby occasioned to his neighbour, will not be liable to damages. But if he bring upon his land anything which would not naturally come upon it, and which in itself is dangerous, and may become mischievous if not kept under proper control, though in so doing he may act without personal wilfulness or negligence, he will be liable to damages for any mischief thereby occasioned. Fletcher v. Rylands, L. R. 1 Ex. 265, 279; L. R. 3 H. L. 330; Carstairs v. Taylor, L. R. 6 Ex. 217; Smith v. Fletcher, L. R. 7 Ex. 305; Ross v. Fedden, L. R. 7 Q. B. 661. But so far as fire is concerned, the law seems, for the present at all events, to stand upon a different footing. Wilkins v. Row, 15 U. C. C. P. 325; Buchanan v. Young, 23 U. C. C. P. 101; Gillson v. North Gray R. W. Co., 33 U. C. Q. B. 128; 35 U. C. Q. B. 475; Murphy v. Dalton, 5 O. R. 541; Fortlong v. Carrol, 7 A. R. 145. It is not very long since this country was altogether a wilderness. Till the land is cleared it can produce nothing, and burning the wood is a necessary part of the operation of clearing. If it could be shewn that this business of clearing land could, by means which we can suppose to be within the reach of those employed in it, be done at a time or in a manner that would make it wholly independent of any accident beyond the control of the party, then, perhaps, the bare fact of not having taken those means might be held to constitute negligence. Per Robinson, C. J. in Dean v. McCarthy, 2 U. C. Q. B. 448, 450; see also Ryan v. New York Central R. W. Co., 35 N. Y. 210; Calkins v. Barger, 44 Barb. (a) Where the power is given to license a particular occupation such power involves the necessity of determining with reasonable certainty with the extent and duration of the license and the sum to paid therefor; and must be exercised by the council and cannot be delegated to any person or authority. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed., sec. 357. In the United States a distinction has been made in the use of the words "regulate" and "license," as used in reference to useful trades and employments, and as used in reference to amusements, exhibitions, &c. As to the former, there is no right, unless such appears to have been the legislative intent, to use the license as a mode of taxation with a view to revenue and perhaps to prohibition; but as regards the latter, more extensive powers may be exercised under the same words. Ib. See also City of Montreal and Walker, L. R. 1 Q. B. 469. The same words in different statutes may have different meanings—broad or narrow, according to the subject matter of legislation and general context. It has been held that a statute authorizing a municipality to pass laws for the good government of a town, does not authorize a by-law requiring the proprietor of a circus, theatre or other exhibition licensed by the corporation to pay a police officer $2 for each night's attendance upon such place of amusement for the purpose of enforcing order. Waters v. Leech, 3 Ark. 110. (b) Under a power to make "by-laws relative to nuisances generally" it was held that a by-law might be passed prohibiting the keeping in any manner whatever of a bowling alley for gain or hire. Tanner v. Albion, 5 Hill (N.Y.) 121; Updyke v. Campbell, 4 E. D. Smith (N.Y.) 570. But this is contrary to The People v. Stewart, 8 Cow. (N.Y.) 139. See also Jackson v. People, 9 Mich. 111; Smith v. Madison, 7 Ind. 86. It has been held that a ten pin alley is not per se a nuisance. State v. Hull, 32 N. J. 158. When the corporation was empowered to determine whether bowling alleys should be allowed, and if so under what restrictions a by-law requiring them to be closed at a certain hour was held valid. State v. Hay, 29 Md. 457. See also State v. Freeman, 38 N. H. 426. A skating rink with music is a place of amusement. Reg. v. Tucker, 2 Q. B. D. 417. See further note a to sub-s. 25.

(c) The policy of the municipal law is to encourage the planting of trees on public highways. See Rev. Stat. c. 201. Shade trees planted by a land-owner between a carriage path and a sidewalk are not to be deemed a nuisance. Graves v. Shattuck, 35 N. H. 258.

(d) It was held in the United States—under a general power "to ordain such laws, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the State, as shall be needful to the good of the city"—that the city had power to pass a by-law imposing a penalty upon any person who should mutilate or destroy any ornamental tree planted in the streets, lanes or other public places of the city. State v. Merrill, 37 Miss. 329. Whatever doubt there might be as to the power under a statute so general as that quoted, there can be none under this sub-section which is "for preventing the injuring or destroying" of trees or shrubs planted or preserved for shade or ornament. In order to sustain a charge under such a by-law, it would not be necessary to show that the injury or destruction was either wanton or malicious. If any person unlawfully and maliciously cuts, breaks, barks, roots up, or otherwise destroys or damages the whole or any part of any tree, sapling or shrub, or any underwood growing in any park, pleasure ground, garden, orchard or avenue, or in any ground adjoining or belonging to any dwelling house, &c., he is guilty of felony. R. S. C. c. 168, s. 22; see further sub-s. 20 of sec. 479.

(e) No one has a right to injure the property of another with a view to gain or otherwise. Posting up placards against house walls, &c., may be a defacement thereof, and so a legal injury.

(f) Persons tearing down or defacing signs are liable to be proceeded against as vagrants. See R. S. C. c. 157, s. 8 (h).

(g) In general, the sanction of the Legislature, or of some municipal authority having the power to confer it, is necessary to authorize the laying down of gas pipes under streets or public squares. Ellis v. Sheffield Gas Co., 23 L. See Scott v. Manchester, 2 H. & N. 204. The laying down of water pipes of course stands on the same footing. Milhau v. Sharp, 15 Barb. (N.Y.) 210; Kelsey v. King, 32 Barb. (N.Y.) 410; Commissioners v. Hudson, 2 Beas. (N.J.) 420. An agreement between a highway board and a gas company, that if the former would give the latter a license to open a certain public highway the latter would make good the expense of the road, and pay one shilling per yard for such of the highway as opened, is a valid agreement. Edgeware Highway Board v. Harrow Gas Co., L. R. 10 Q. B. 92. A county council has no power, in the absence of express legislation authorizing them to grant the exclusive right or monopoly, either as to gas or water, to any one company or person. Ohio v. Cincinnati Gas Co., 18 Ohio St. 262; Norwich Gas Co. v. Norwich City Gas Co., 25 Conn. 19; People v. Benson, 30 Barb. (N.Y.) 24. A gas or water company are, in the absence of express statute or contract, bound to furnish gas or water to all buildings on the lines of their main pipes, although no compensation for so doing be tendered. Patterson Gaslight Co. v. Collins, 3 Dutch (N.J.) 245. (See, as to the duty of municipal corporations, sec. 480, sub-s. 3.) In the absence of proof of negligence, a gas company is not liable for the escape of gas or water. Blyth v. Birmingham Water Co., 11 Ex. 781.

Taking stock in gas and water companies.

31. For acquiring stock in, or lending money to, such company; and for guaranteeing the payment of money borrowed by, or of debentures issued for money so borrowed by the company; provided the by-law is consented to by the electors, as hereinbefore provided. In such case the head of any corporation holding stock in such company to the amount of $10,000 shall be ex officio a director of the company in addition to the other directors thereof, (h) and shall also be entitled to vote on such stock at any election of directors;

Indecent placards, etc

33. For preventing the posting of indecent placards, writings or pictures, or the writing of indecent words, or the making of indecent pictures or drawings, on walls or fences in streets or public places; (j)

(h) Although the municipal corporation may either acquire stock, lend money, or guarantee money borrowed by a gas or water company, it is only when it acquires stock to the amount of at least $10,000 that the head of the corporation becomes an ex-officio director.

(i) The by-law may be passed to prevent the sale or gift of intoxicating drink to the classes mentioned, unless under the circumstances directed, and not otherwise. It was held that a municipal corporation, in the absence of express legislation, had no power to pass such a by-law. In re Barclay and Darlington, 12 U. C. Q. B. 86. But express provision was afterwards made on the subject. See In re Ross and York and Peel, 14 U. C. C. P. 171; In re Brodie and Town of Bowmanville, 38 U. C. Q. B. 580; In re Arkell and Town of St. Thomas, Ib. 594. Though idiots and insane persons are not mentioned in the section, a by-law preventing sales to such persons would not be bad. So long as such a by-law is not repugnant to the laws of the Province or of the Dominion, there would appear to be no objection to it. Ib. See In re Ross and York and Peel, 14 U. C. C. P. 174. See also Rev. Stat. c. 194, s. 76.

(j) It is a misdemeanor to procure indecent prints with intent to publish them. Dugdale v. Reg., 1 E. & B. 435. But to procure and keep them in possession is no offence. Ib. The sale of an obscene print to a person in private—he having in the first instance requested that such prints should be shown to him, his object being to prosecute the seller—is a sufficient publication to sustain the charge. Reg. v. Carlile, 1 Cox C. (l) There is no power to license bawdy houses. State v. Clarke, 14 Am. 471. Power to make by-laws relative to nuisances has been held to confer authority to impose penalties on bawdy houses, and on persons owning houses used, with their knowledge, for such purposes. McAlister v. Clark, 33 Conn. 91; see also Ely v. Supervisors, 36 N. Y. 297; Shafer v. Mumma, 17 Md. 331. Here the power conferred is to make by-laws for "suppressing disorderly houses and houses of ill-fame." This, by implication, confers the right to use means necessary to that end. Childress v. Mayor, &c., 3 Sneed (Tenn.) 347. Forbidding owners of houses from letting or renting for such a purpose is lawful. Ib. But though destruction of the house would be a means of suppressing it, it would seem that power to demolish is not to be inferred from the power to suppress. Welch v. Stowell, 2 Doug. (Mich.) 332. The building in which a particular trade is carried on, or the house which may be kept in a disorderly manner or used for unlawful purposes, is not per se a nuisance. It is the misuse or abuse of it that constitutes the nuisance. Burditt v. Swenson, 17 Texas 489; Daryan v. Waddell, 9 Ire. Law (N. Car.) 244. The property in the tenement is therefore protected against destruction. Miller v. Burch, 32 Texas 208; S. C. 5 Am. 242; Welch v. Stowell, 2 Doug. Where defendants, as master and mistress, resided in a house to which men and women resorted for the purpose of prostitution, but no indecency or disorderly conduct was perceptible from the exterior of the house, it was held, notwithstanding, that defendants were rightly convicted of keeping a house of ill-fame. Reg. v. Rice, L. R. 1 C. C. 21. A conviction, for that the defendant did on &c., in the city of Toronto keep a common disorderly bawdy house on Queen street, in the same city, a place of resort for both men and women of lewd character for the purposes of prostitution was held to be sufficient. Reg. v. Munro, 21 U. C. Q. B. 44. But a conviction under Dominion Act. 32 & 33 Vict. cap. 28 (now R. S. (r) The power is to prevent indecent public exposure of the person and other indecent exhibitions. In order to render a person liable to an indictment for indecently exposing his person in a public place, it is not necessary that the exposure should be made in a place open to the public. Reg. v. Thallman, 9 Cox C. C. 388; 9 L. T. N. S. 425. If the act is done where a great number of persons may be offended by it, and several see it, it is sufficient. Ib. A public place is one where the public go, no matter whether they have a right to go or not. Reg. v. Wellard, 14 Q. B. D. 63. It seems that the offence may be indictable if committed before divers subjects of the realm, even if the place be not public. Ib. If the indictment, however, charge the offence to have been committed on a highway, such an indictment will not be sustained by evidence that the offence was committed in a place near the highway, though in full view of it. Reg. v. Farrell, 9 Cox. C. C. 446. An indecent exposure in a place of public resort, if actually seen by only one person, no other person being in a position to see it, is not an indictable offence. Reg. v. Webb, 1 Denn. C. C. 338; Reg. v. Watson, 2 Cox. C. C. 376: Reg. v. Farrell, 9 Cox. C. C. 446. A party was indicted for an indecent exposure in an omnibus, several passengers being therein. Held, a public place. Reg. v. Holmes, 3 C. & K. 360. But a urinal, with places or divisions for the convenience of the public, though situated in an open market, was held not to be a public place within the meaning of the allegation. Reg. v. Orchard, 3 Cox. C. C. 248. Keeping a booth in a public place containing an indecent exhibition for hire, is an indictable offence. Reg. v. Saunders, 1 Q. B. D. 15.

(s) Whatever place becomes the abode of civilized men, there the rules of decency must be enforced. Reg. v. Crunden, 2 Camp. 89. Bathing in the sea on the beach near inhabited houses, from which a person may be distinctly seen, is an indictable offence, although the houses may have been recently erected, and till then it may have been unusual for men to bathe in great numbers at the place. Ib.

(t) The power is to prevent and abate public nuisances. In addition to the powers given by this Act, the Public Health Act, Rev. Stat. c. 205, contains provisions for the prevention and suppression of nuisances. In drawing by-laws under this and the following sub-sections regard should be had to that Act, and amendments should be made to schedule A thereto when necessary. This Act does not authorize the suppression of a nuisance so called which is not in itself unlawful, e. g., the prevention of persons called runners or guides from exercising their calling in a town. Re Davis and Clifton, 8 U. C. C. P. 236. The nuisances intended are of two kinds: public or common nuisances, which affect people generally, and private nuisances, which may be defined as anything done to the hurt of the lands, tenements or hereditaments of another. Russell on Crimes, 4th Ed. 435. That which affects only three or four persons is a private and not a public nuisance. Rex v. Lloyd, 4 Esp. 200. The mere declaration by a city council that a structure is a public nuisance does not make it so, unless it in fact have that character. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed., sec. 374. The term "nuisance" is well understood, and means literally annoyance—anything that worketh hurt. Rex v. White, 1 Burr. 333; Rex v. Davey, 5 Esp. 217. It is not necessary to constitute a nuisance to shew that the smell, &c., produced should be unwholesome. It is enough if it renders the enjoyment of life and property uncomfortable. Per Lord Mansfield, in Rex v. White, 1 Burr. 337. See also Rex v. Neill, 2 C. & P. 485; State v. Rankin, 16 Am. 737; St. Helen's Chemical Co. v. Corporation of St. Helen's, 1 Ex. D. 196; Campbell v. Seaman, 20 Am. 567. "If there be smells offensive to the senses, that is enough, as the neighbourhood has a right to fresh and pure air." Per Abbott, C. J., Rex v. Neill, 2 C. & P. 485. "The only question therefore, is, is the business (slaughter house), as carried on by the defendant, productive of smells to persons passing along the public highway." Ib. A by-law providing "that no person shall keep a slaughter house within the city without a special resolution of the council" is bad, tending to create a monopoly. In re Nash and McCracken, 33 U. C. Q. B. 181. So a by-law imposing a fine upon every person "who shall keep or suffer to be kept, any swine within the said borough from 1st February to 31st October inclusive, in any year. Everett v. Grapes, 3 L. T. N. S. 669. A resolution of council or license from the corporation is no defence to a prosecution for a public nuisance. Rex v. Cross, 2 C. & P. 483. "If the defendant's slaughtering house was so conducted as to be a public nuisance at common law, the parish might at any time have caused it to be removed; and I am clearly of opinion that in this case it was so conducted as to be a nuisance at common law, and that the defendant would not have been and is not entitled to any compensation." Per Abbott, C. J., in Rex v. Watts, 2 C. & P. 486, 488. It was in this case proved that smells proceeded from the slaughter hou which was a great nuisance to persons passing along the publi highway. Ib. If a certain noxious trade is already established in place remote from habitation and public roads, and persons after wards come and build houses within reach of its noxious effects, if a public road be made so near to it that the carrying on of th trade becomes a nuisance to the persons using the road, in those ca the party would be entitled to continue his trade, because his tra was legal before the erection of the houses in the one case, and th making of the road in the other. Per Abbott, C. J., in Rex Cross, 2 C. & P. 484. But if the man so situated increase t nuisance by the manner or extent to which he carries on the trade, he is liable to indictment. Rex v. Watts, M. & M. 281; Rex v. Neville, 1 Peake, 92. In countries, however, where great works are carried on, which are the means of developing national wealth persons must not stand on extreme rights. Bamford v. Turnley, 3 B. & S. 62-66; Tipping v. St. Helen's Smelting Co., 4 B. & S. 608; 11 H. The power to abate a public nuisance is a portion of police authority necessarily vested in the corporations of all public towns. Per Buchanan, J., in Kennedy v. Phelps, 10 La. An. 227; see also Gregory v. Railroad Co., 40 N. Y. 273. But a private individual cannot justify damaging the property of another on the ground that it is a public nuisance unless it do him a special and particular injury. Dimes v. Petley, 15 Q. A distinction must be drawn between a house which is a nuisance per se, and one that is only a nuisance by reason of its use or abuse. In the latter case there is no legal right to destroy the property. See note l to sub-s. 35. In several parts of England public slaughter houses are established, under a provision that "no person shall slaughter any cattle or dress any carcass for sale as food for man, in any place within the limits other than a slaughter house." It was held that the enactment only applied to the slaughtering of beasts intended by the person slaughtering the same for sale for human food. Elias v. Nightingale, 8 E. & B. 698; see further, Anthony v. Brecon Markets Co., L. R. 2 Ex. 167; reversed, L. R. 7 Ex. 129. See also the Public Health Act, Rev. Stat. c. 205. been abated, the judgment need not be pronounced. Rex v. Incledon, 13 East. 164; Reg. v. Paget, 3 F. & F. 29. The practice followed is to respite judgment until it be seen whether or not the nuisance is abated, and if not to inflict a heavy fine to compel the abatement. Ib. There may be an indictment for the continuance of a nuisance. Reg. v. Maybury, 4 F. & F. 90, and in such a case the former judgment is conclusive that the locus in quo was a highway, and that the erection upon it was a nuisance. Ib. This being so, upon proof of the continuance of the nuisance, the jury must find the defendant guilty. Ib. See further, Reg. v. Jackson, 40 U. C. Q. B. 290. The defendant is not liable to costs where the indictment is removed into Court by the prosecutors. Ib. In such a case, however, the Court after imposing a fine, ordered that one-third of the fine should go to the prosecutors, and suggested that the government might, on application, order the remaining two-thirds to be paid to them, the whole fine being less than the amount of costs incurred. Ib. Where the defendant removes the indictment and so becomes liable to pay costs in the event of conviction, the Court, upon being satisfied that the nuisance has been abated, may impose a nominal fine only. Reg. v. Cooper, 40 U. C. Q. B. 294.

(u) A corporation was empowered by statute to erect a reservoir near a river, and on completion to divert the waters of the river by discharging down the river seventy-five cubic feet of water per second for twelve hours of every working day. The corporation began, but was prevented by the nature of the ground from completing the reservoir. They diverted the waters, and discharged down the river more than its natural flow, but less than the quantity required by the statute. Held, that riparian proprietors could at common law recover for any damage sustained by the diversion of the waters, but could not recover for failure to comply with the statutory requirement. Waller v. Manchester, 6 H. & N. 667.

(x) A by-law providing that "no person shall keep nor shall there be kept within the city of Toronto any pigs or swine or any pig-sty," was held to be bad as being a general prohibition, and not restricted to cases that might prove to be nuisances. McKnight v. Toronto, 3 O. The by-law provided that no cows should be kept in any stable situate less than 40 feet from the nearest house, or less than 80 feet where two cows were kept, and this was held objectionable. Semble, that the by-law was not bad, in being so generally expressed, that it would restrict the owner from keeping cows within the prescribed distances. Ib. See also Re Kiely, 13 P. B. 613. Another section of a by-law requiring all grounds, &c., not already drained, abutting on any street with a common sewer, to be drained the same within fourteen days from the advertising of the by-law for a week—the seventh section imposing a penalty on any one of not less that $1 nor more than $10 for each month he should omit to do—and the eighth providing for enforcing payment by distress, or imprisonment not exceeding thirty-one days, were quashed as illegal. A subsequent by-law added to the eighth section above mentioned a proviso, that any person thereby required to construct a drain who should not do so, but be willing to pay the same rent as if he were using the sewer, should be exempt from penalties, was also quashed. Ib.

The limits of the municipality under this section cannot be extended, as the lands acquired "shall not form part of the municipality of such township, city, town, or incorporated village, but shall continue and remain as of the municipality where situate." It differs in this respect from sec. 489, sub-s. 11.

(g) This sub-sect. is by 50 V. c. 29, s. 25 expressly added to the present section. If a weighing machine is erected outside of the municipality it is presumed that land for the purpose would have to be acquired under the preceding sub-section.

(i) The pound is the custody of the law. Wolley v. Groton, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 305. The pound-keeper is bound to take and keep whatever is brought to him, at the peril of the persons who bring it. If wrongfully taken, they (not he) are answerable. Replevin will not lie against the pound keeper, Ibbottson v. Henry, 8 O. R. 625. When the cattle are impounded, the pound keeper cannot let them go without replevin brought against the distrainor, or without the consent of the party impounding. Replevin lies against him who takes, or him who commands the taking; the bailiff who seizes and the party who directs the seizure may both be sued. But the situation of a pound-keeper is not that of a bailiff or servant. control of the animals impounded, or impounds them in any other place than prescribed by law. Bills v. Kinson, 1 Fost. (N. H.) 448. Breach of a pound and liberating an animal therein confined, was held to be no violation of a law prohibiting "any person from opposing or interrupting any city officer in the execution of the ordinances of the city." Mayor, &c., v. Omburg, 22 Geo. 67. See also the Act respecting Pounds, Rev. Stat. c. 215. See further the following note.

(j) This sub-section applies in terms to all animals. See note q to sub-s. 14 of sec. 489. As to dogs, special provision is made for their destruction when running at large. See sec. 489, sub-s. 15, and notes thereto. The evils to be apprehended from cattle, swine, or poultry running at large are mere injuries to private property, and to the neatness and good order of the city or town. It would not be reasonable to allow the destruction of valuable domestic animals in order to prevent the risk of such injuries. Impounding till the damage is paid, is the natural remedy, which the common law has sanctioned from an early period for an injury to private property; and fine upon the owner seems to answer all the purposes of preventing the public nuisance. Nevertheless, the Legislature may sanction the more vigorous course of allowing a forfeiture and sale of the animal. Per Robinson, C. J., in McKenzie v. Campbell, 1 U. C. Q. B. 250. But the power will not be held to exist unless plainly conferred. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed, secs. 150, 348. It is in the power of the corporation to enforce the provisions of the by-law by the imposition of a fine on the owners of the animals running at large. See Smith v. Riorden, 5 U. C. Q. B. O. S. 647. But if the power had been restricted to the imposition of fines, that would not have given the power to impound, forfeit or sell. Miles v. Chamberlain, 17 Wis. 446; Heise v. Town Council, 6 Rich. (S C.) 404; Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137; White v. Talbman, 2 Dutch (N.J.) 67. The power to impound and sell, should before it can be legally exercised, be as it is in this section expressly given. Cotter v. Doty, 5 Ohio, 394; Kennedy v. Sowden, 1 McMull. (S.C.) 328: but see Crosby v. Warren, 1 Rich. (S.C.) 385; McKee v. Mckee, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 433. The by-law should provide for notice, either actual or constructive, prior to the sale. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed. secs. 348-351. The powers of sale conferred by the by-law, whatever they may be, should be strictly followed by all concerned in the sale. Clark v. Lewis, 35 Ill. 417; Rounds v. Stetson, 45 Maine, 596: Gilmore v. Holt, 4 Pick. (Mass.) 258; Rounds v. Mansfield, 38 Maine, 586. Thus a sale made only twenty minutes before the expiration of the time required by law was held illegal. Smith v. Gates, 21 Pick. (Mass.) 55. Abridgement for any period of the required notice avoids the sale. Clark v. Lewis, 35 Ill. 417. Held also that actual knowledge by the owner of the beasts of the impounding thereof was not equivalent to the written notice required by a statute. Coffin v. Field, 7 Cush. (Mass.) 355. Unless there be a legal sale, the pound keeper, may be held to have forfeited the protection of the statute. Sargeant v. Allen, 29 U. C. Q. B. 384. It has been held that a master is liable for the acts of his farm servant in impounding cattle in his absence the servant acting within the scope of his authority. Spafford v. Hubble, E. T., 7 Will. IV. R. & J. Dig. 2866. In trespass against two defendants for seizing and taking cattle, one defendant justified as pound-keeper; and because the cattle were in the close of A., wrongfully trespassing in said close and eating grass and corn therein, A took the said cattle and delivered them to the defendant as a pound-keeper within his jurisdiction, and the defendant impounded and afterwards sold them according to law; and the other defendant justified the seizure and the sale by the pound-keeper, as in the other plea, and that the defendant bought the cattle as the highest bidder; to both of which pleas there was a general demurrer. Held, that the plea by the pound-keeper was bad, as it did not show that he received the cattle from a person within his division, or that the close was so situate, and that the plea of the purchaser was good, as he could not be held liable to the plaintiff in trespass. Clarke v. Durham, E. T., 3 Vict. R. & J. Dig. 2866; Rourke v. Mosey, 36 U. C. Q. B. 546. In a plea of justification by a pound-keeper for taking a pig, when the justification was that the pig, contrary to township regulations, broke through a lawful fence, it was held necessary to allege that the fence was within that township, and to shew the close in with the pig was trespassing at the time. Carey v. Tate, 6 U. C. Q. B. O. S. 147. A by-law enacting that certain animals specified shall not run at large, does not impliedly allow others not named to do so, contrary to the common law. Jack v. Ontario, Simcoe, and Huron R. W. Co., 14 U. C. Q. B. 328. A by-law enacted that certain named descriptions of animals should not be allowed to run at large, and provided for fixing the height of fences. The plaintiff's cattle having strayed into the lands of the defendant whose fences were not of the required height, it was held that as the by-law did not affirmatively authorize these cattle to run at large, the plaintiff was liable under R. S. O., 1877, c. 195 (now Rev. Stat. c. 215) irrespective of any question as to the height of defendant's fences. Crowe v. Steeper, 46 U. C. Q. B. 87. A by-law restraining all animals from running at large is not necessarily unreasonable and is within the powers here given. Re Milloy and Onondaya, 6 O. R. 573. Sheep grazing upon an open common with the consent of the owner thereof and herded by a boy in charge of them with a view to driving them home are not running at large. Abbottson v. Henry, 8 O. R. 625. Defendant seized the plaintiff's oxen damage feasant in his wheat field, but being unable to find pound-keeper, turned them loose near the plaintiff's gate. On the evening of the same day, the defendant again seized them for doing damage to his meadow and impounded them, giving a statement of claim for damage to the wheat, but making no claim for injury to meadow: Held, that the damage to the wheat had been abandoned and that the impounding and sale of the oxen for the damage so claimed were illegal. The plaintiff forbade the sale, when the defendant told the pound-keeper to sell and that he would be responsible:

Appraising the damages.

3. For appraising the damages (k) to be paid by the owners of animals impounded for trespassing contrary to the laws of Ontario or of the municipality;

Compensation with respect to impounding animals.

4. For determining the compensation to be allowed for services rendered in carrying out the provisions of any Act, (a) with respect to animals impounded or distrained and detained in the possession of the distrainer. 46 V. c. 18, s. 492. See also Rev. Stat. c. 215.

Held, that the defendant and the pound-keeper were both liable. Buist v. McCombe, 8 A. R. 598.

(k) An action of trespass will lie by the owner of a farm into which a neighbour's pigs may break, enter and do damage against the owner of the pigs, unless he can excuse the act for defect of fences or upon some other ground that ought to be specially pleaded. Blacklock v. Millikan, 3 U. C. C. P. 34. So trespass is maintainable against the owner of a bull which broke into the plaintiff's farm and there killed his mare, though the owner of the bull was not present at the time or aware of the fact. Mason v. Morgan, 24 U. C. Q. B. 328. If a horse, through the neglect of the owner in not keeping his fences properly repaired, stray out of the field in which it is feeding, into the field of an adjoining proprietor, and there get among his horses and kick one in such a way as to cause his death, such owner is liable in trespass for the injury which his horse has done. Lee v. Riley, 18 C. B. N. S. 722. So where defendant's horse injured plaintiff's mare, by biting and kicking her through the fence separating the plaintiff's land from the defendant's. Ellis v. Loftus Iron Co., L. R. 10 C. P. 10. Whether at common law the owner of a dog is answerable in trespass for every unauthorized entry of the animal into the land of another, as in the case of pigs, an ox, or a horse, is doubtful. Read v. Edwards, 17 C. B. N. S. 245. An action on the case lies against one who keeps a mischievous animal of any kind in respect of any damage done by such animal, where it can be shown that the owner knew of the mischievous propensity of the animal. Thomas v. Morgan, 2 C. M. & R. 496; Card v. Case, 5 C. B. 622; May v. Burdett, 9 Q. B. 101. See further, Applebee v. Percy, L. R. 9 C. P. 647; Ward v. Brown, 16 Am. 561. If the owner, upon being told of the mischief done, offers to settle, this is some evidence of his knowledge that the animal was mischievous. Thomas v. Morgan, 2 C. M. & R. 496; Mason v. Morgan, 24 U. C. Q. B. 328. In New Hampshire, if animals are found "doing damage," they may be impounded, and appraisers are to ascertain "whether any damage was done." Held, that the statute contemplated actual and not merely nominal damages to justify impounding. Osgood v. Green, 33 N. H. 318.

(a) The compensation may be for services rendered with respect to animals impounded or distrained, and detained in the possession of the distrainer. See Dargan v. Davies, 2 Q. B. D. 118.

of one-half of the resident landholders to be affected thereby, or upon its own motion, that it is expedient to place durable monuments at the front or rear of any concession or range or part thereof in the municipality, or at the front or rear angles of the lots therein, (b) the council may apply to the Lieutenant-Governor, in the manner provided for in sections 38, 39 and 40 of The Act respecting Land Surveyors and the Survey of Lands, praying him to cause a survey of such concession or range, or such part thereof, to be made, and such monuments to be placed under the authority of the Commissioner of Crown Lands. Rev. Stat. c. 152, ss. 38-40.

(2) The person or persons making the survey shall accordingly plant stones or other durable monuments at the front or at the rear of such concession or range, or such part thereof as aforesaid, or at the front and rear angles of every lot therein (as the case may be), and the limits of each lot so ascertained and marked shall be the true limits thereof; (c) and the costs of the survey shall be defrayed in the manner prescribed by the said statute. (d) 46 V. c. 18, s. 491.

Cost of survey

(b) In the absence of such an application and such a resolution as the statute requires to authorize an application to the Governor, the survey would be held unauthorized. Cooper v. Wellbanks, 14 U. C. C. P. 364. Where it was shewn that the application was made, not by one-half of the resident land-holders to be affected by the survey, but by ten free-holders, over half of whom had no deeds for their lands, and that eleven or twelve freeholders who would be affected by the survey were not parties to the application, the survey was held to be unauthorized. Ib. See further, Reg. v. McGregor, 19 U. C. C. P. 69; Boley v. McLean, 41 U. C. Q. B. 260.

(c) If the survey proceed otherwise than directed by the statute, the survey will be unauthorized. Tanner v. Bissell, 21 U. C. Q. B. 553; Boley v. McLean, 41 U. C. Q. B. 260.

(d) All expenses incurred in performing any survey or placing any monument or boundary under the provisions of the Rev. Stat. c. 152 must be paid to the person or persons employed in such survey, on the certificate and order of the Commissioner of Crown lands. Sec. 40. The council shall cause to be laid before them an estimate of the sum requisite to defray the expenses to be incurred, in order that the same may be levied on the proprietors of the land in proportion to the quantity of land held by them respectively in such concession, in the same manner as any sum required for any other purposes authorized by law may be levied. Ib. sec. 38, sub-sec. 5. A by-law to levy the amount "from the patented and leased lands" is bad. In re Scott and Peterborough, 25 U. C. Q. B. 453; In re Scott and Harvey, 26 U. C. Q. B. 32; In re Scott and Peterborough, Ib. 36; Peterborough v. Smith, Ib. 40.

Extension of Sewers.

Extension of sewers into adjoining municipality.

492.—(1) In case any township, city, town, or incorporated village shall be so situated that, in the construction of any sewer therein, it becomes necessary, in order to procure an outlet therefor, to extend the same into or through a contiguous municipality, such township, city, town, or incorporated village so situated, shall be permitted and have power, subject as hereinafter provided, to so extend such sewer into or through such contiguous municipality, and shall be permitted and have power to unite and connect the same to any already existing sewer or sewers of such contiguous municipality, upon such terms and conditions as shall be agreed upon between the respective municipalities, and in case of a difference, then upon such terms and conditions as shall be determined by arbitration, under the provisions of this Act in that behalf.

(2) In any case where the council of any municipality shall object to allow an adjoining municipality to connect a sewer with any existing sewer or extend a sewer through its territory, as above provided, then and in every such case the arbitrators shall not only determine the terms and conditions upon which the connection or extension shall be allowed to be made; but also whether the connection or extension should, under the circumstances, be permitted or allowed to be made; but nothing in this section contained shall authorize the making of an open drain or sewer, nor shall anything herein affect the provisions of The Ditches and Water-courses Act.

Rev. Stat. c 220.

(3) Nothing in this section contained shall be construed as limiting or abridging any of the powers conferred on township councils by this Act. 48 V. c. 39, s. 39 (4).

[For powers of Cities, Townships, Towns and Villages as to Lock-up Houses, see secs. 458, 459; and as to Tavern and Shop Licenses, see Rev. Stat. c. 194.

DIVISION III.—POWERS OF COUNCILS OF TOWNSHIPS, CITIES AND TOWNS.

Respecting Plumbers. Sec. 493 (1).
" Accidents by fire. Sec. 493 (2).

493. The council of every township, city, and town may pass by-laws—

Plumbers.

1. For licensing and regulating plumbers; Plumbers.

Prevention of Accident by Fire.

2. For making better provision for securing the inmates and employees in all factories, hotels, boarding and lodging houses, warehouses, theatres, music halls, opera houses and other public buildings and places of amusement, against accident by fire, and providing for the adoption and erection of proper fire escapes upon all such buildings more than two stories in height. (f) 49 V. c. 37, s. 37; 50 V. c. 29, s. 48. Accidents by fire.

DIVISION IV.—POWERS OF COUNCILS OF COUNTIES AND CITIES.

Horse Thieves. Sec. 494.

494. The council of every county or city shall provide by by-law, (g) that a sum not less than $20 shall be payable as a reward to any person or persons who shall pursue and apprehend, or cause to be apprehended, any person or persons guilty of stealing any horse or mare within the said county or city, (h) and such reward shall be paid out of the funds of Reward for apprehension of persons guilty of horse stealing.

(f) See also the Act for the Prevention of Accidents by Fire in Hotels and other Public Buildings, 51 Vict. c. 34.

(g) The use of the word "shall" seems to make it imperative on the council to pass the by-law.

(h) One of the objects of municipal government is the protection of property. In furtherance of this object, it has been held in some of the United States that a municipal corporation may offer a reward for the detection of offenders against the property of another. Thus in cases of arson. York v. Forscht, 23 Pa. St. 391; Crawshaw v. Roxbury, 7 Gray (Mass.) 374. But in other States the power to offer rewards for the detection of criminals, in the absence of express legislation has been denied. Hawk v. Marion Co., 48 Iowa 472; Gale v. South Berwick, 51 Me. 174; see also Lee v. Flemingsburg, 7 Dana (Ky.) 28. The offer may be revoked at any time before its terms have been complied with. Shuey v. United States, 92 U. S. 73. In this Province express legislative sanction is necessary to the exercise of the power. Cornwall v. West Nissouri, 25 U. C. C. P. 9. See now sec. 481. The power in this section is restricted to rewards for the pursuit and apprehension of a person or persons guilty of stealing any horse or mare within the county, or city. The reward is not to be "less than $20." This is the minimum; so the council may make the reward as much more as they think reasonable. The reward is to be payable to the person "who shall pursue and apprehend," or cause "to be apprehended," the guilty person. It is only to be paid on conviction of the thief, and on the order of the Judge before whom the conviction was obtained. The prisoner hired a horse in the county of York to go to two places in that county. It was not shewn whether he had been at those places, but he afterwards sold the horse in the county of Waterloo, where he was arrested for stealing it and convicted: Held, that the reward for his apprehension was payable by the county of Waterloo. In re Robinson, 7 P. R. 239. Any person performing the service, who without such reward, is not bound to perform the service, placing himself in the position described by the statute, may sue for the amount of the reward. If it were the duty of the person who made the arrest to have pursued and arrested him without any reward, he cannot recover, for, so far as he is concerned, the promise is without any consideration. See Stotesbury v. Smith, 2 Burr. 924; Stilk v. Myrick, 2 Camp. 317; Harris v. Watson, Peake 72; Bridge v. Page, Cro. Jac. 103. It has therefore been held that a watchman, who, while in the discharge of his duty as such, discovers a person in the act of committing the crime of arson, cannot recover the reward offered. Pool v. Boston, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 219; Gilmore v. Lewis, 12 Ohio 281; Means v. Hendershott, 24 Iowa 78. But where three persons broke gaol, and immediately after their escape the defendant, who was sheriff, offered a general reward of $100 for the capture of each prisoner, it was held that the deputy sheriff having succeeded in capturing two of the fugitives, was entitled to $200. Davis v. Munson, 43 Vt. 677. "Upon the facts as detailed, the plaintiff had authority to arrest these prisoners without process and as a peace officer. It would, in a general sense, have been his duty to do so if they had been pointed out to him under circumstances to assure him of their identity and to lead him to apprehend reasonable danger of losing them if he waited for process. But the fact that he had this authority and was under this general duty did not put him, having no process in hand, under any specific legal obligation to look them up . . . . The plaintiff, being under no specific official obligation to enter upon the detective service, for which he would only legally be entitled to pay from the State, he is clearly a person who might engage in it in reliance upon the offer of this reward," Per Steele J. Ib.

(i) The obligation to pay is conditional—(1) On conviction of thief; (2) On the order of the Judge before whom the conviction obtained. The plaintiff must in general prove performance according to the terms of the advertisement. See Neville v. Kelly, B. N. S. 740; Smith v. Moore, 1 C. B. 438; Thatcher v. England, C. B. 254; England v. Davidson, 11 A. & E. 856; Lancaster v. Walsh, 4 M. & W. 16; Fallick v. Barber, 1 M. & S. 108; Will v. Carwardine, 4 B. & Ad. 621; Tarner v. Walker, L. DIVISION V.—POWERS OF COUNCILS OF COUNTIES, CITIES AND SEPARATED TOWNS.

Respecting Engineers, Inspectors, Gaol Surgeons, etc. Sec. 495 (1).
" Auctioneers. Sec. 495 (2).
" Hawkers and Pedlars. Sec. 495 (3).
" Ferries. Sec. 495 (4).
" High Schools. Sec. 495 (5, 6).
" Support of Pupils at High Schools, Toronto University and U. C. College. Sec. 495 (7, 8).
" Endowment of Fellowships. Sec. 495 (9).
" Public Fairs. Sec. 495 (10).
" Junk Stores. Sec. 495 (11).

495. The council of any county, city and town separated from the county for municipal purposes, may pass by-laws for the following purposes: By-laws may be made for—

Engineers—Inspectors—Gaol Surgeons, etc.

1. For appointing, in addition to other officers, (j) one or more engineers, and also one or more inspectors of the house of industry; also one or more surgeons of the gaol and other institutions under the charge of the municipality; and for the removal of such officers; Appointing engineers, inspectors, gaol surgeons, etc.

Auctioneers.

2. For licensing, regulating, (k) and governing auctioneers and other persons selling or putting up for sale goods, wares, merchandise or effects by public auction; (l) and for fixing Licensing, etc., auctioneers.

(j) While it is believed that at common law corporations have power to appoint such officers as the nature of their constitution requires, the implied power, if existing at all, should be sparingly exercised. See note r to sec. 243, and notes to sec. 479 (2).

(k) Power to regulate the conduct of particular trades or callings involves the power to license, but this power must not be so exercised as to create a tax or a monopoly. See note f to sub-s. 8 of sec. 489. A person licensed by a city corporation to carry on any particular trade or business, is in no sense the agent or servant of the corporation, so as to render the latter responsible for his acts. Fowle v. Alexandria, 3 Peters (U. S.) 398; but see Cole v. Nashville, 4 Sneed. (Tenn.) 162. The granting or refusing of a license is substantially the exercise of a judicial function. Duke v. Rome, 20 Ga. 635.

(l) In order to a sale by auction, within Eng. Stat. 50 Geo. III. c. 41, s. 7, there must be an outcry, &c. See Allen v. Sparkhall, 1 B. & Al.

the sum to be paid for every such license, and the time it shall be in force; (m) 46 V. c. 18, s. 495 (1, 2).

Hawkers and Pedlars.

Hawkers, petty chapmen, etc.

3. For licensing, regulating and governing hawkers or petty chapmen, (n) and other persons carrying on petty trades, or who go from place to place or to other men's houses, on foot, or with any animal bearing or drawing any goods, wares or merchandise for sale, or in or with any boat, vessel or other craft, or otherwise carrying goods, wares or merchandise for sale, (o) and for fixing the sum to be paid

---

100. A city council may prevent sales by auction on the public streets of the city. White v. Kent, 11 Ohio St. 550; see also Shelton v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 540. There is no power under this provision to require a license for the right to sell lands by auction. Reg. v. Chapman, 1 O. R. 582.

(m) Apparently no limit is given to the amount that may be exacted for the payment of the license, but it must be reasonable. See note w to sub-s. 17 of sec. 479.

(n) The term "petty chapman" is not in common use in this country. In the Imperial Dictionary it is said that in modern times it means "more specifically a hawker or one who travels to sell things, a pedlar, one who keeps a stall or booth." As the term pedlar is not used in this sub-section, but only in the heading it is probable that the term petty chapman is here synonymous with pedlar.

(o) An enactment of this kind is constitutional. See Speer v. The Commonwealth, 14 Am. 164; Morrill v. State, 20 Am. 12. The license is personal and does not qualify a servant or agent in selling. In re Ford v. McArthur, 37 U. C. Q. B. 542. A single act of selling does not make a man a hawker, so as to require a license. Rex v. Little, 1 Burr. 609; Rex v. Buckle, 4 East. 346; Johnson v. Hudson, 11 East. 180. A licensed auctioneer, going from place to place and selling goods, was held to be a hawker. Rex v. Turner, 4 B. & Al. 510. In order to constitute a person a hawker, it is not necessary that he should go to more towns than one and there sell goods. Manson v. Hope, 6 L. T. N. S. 326; 2 B. & S. 498. A person not having goods with him, but merely going about to solicit orders for goods, to be supplied from and by his master, was held not to be a hawker. Rex v. McKnight, 10 B. & C. 734; see also Eng. Stat. 24 & 25 Vict. c. 21. A traveller for a tea dealer carried samples with him from house to house and took orders which he forwarded to his employer who sent the tea to him. The defendant then got the tea which had been forwarded in packages and delivered it to his customers receiving the price on delivery. On this evidence he was convicted of selling tea as a pedlar without a license contrary to a by-law which prohibited "hawkers or petty chapmen and other persons carrying on petty trades" in the manner pointed out by 46 V. c. 18, sec. 495 (3) (same as first part of this sub-section). Held that defendant was not a "hawker" nor was the word pedlar used for a license for exercising such calling within the county, city or town, and the time the license shall be in force: (p)

In case of counties, for providing at the discretion of the council, either the treasurer or clerk of the county, or the clerk of any municipality within the county, with licenses, in this and the previous sub-section mentioned, for sale to parties applying for the same under such regulations as may be prescribed in such by-laws: (q)

Provided always that no such license shall be required for Proviso.

in the Act, and if he was a "petty chapman or person carrying on a petty trade" the conviction could not be supported for he was not "carrying goods for sale." Reg. v. Coutts, 5 O. R. 644. (See, now however, clause (a) of this sub-section.) A municipality cannot pass a by-law prohibiting unlicensed traders from sending out agents to take orders from private persons for goods and subsequently delivering the goods. Ib. A cabinetmaker residing at Leicester and having a shop there, who sent goods to a place called Ashby-de-la-Zouch in a cart, which he accompanied on foot part of the way, and then went to Ashby-de-la-Zouch by the mail, where he employed an auctioneer for the sale of the goods, was held to be a pedling person travelling from town to town, within the statute 50 Geo. III. c. 41, s. 7. Attorney-General v. Woolhouse, 1 Y. & J. 463; see also Attorney-General v. Tongue, 12 Price 51. Twelve ladies, of whom respondent was one, having purchased materials and made them up into articles of wearing apparel, each in turn for one month carried these articles about, in a basket called a missionary basket, from house to house for sale. The ladies did not find the money to purchase the materials, but the money derived from the sales was applied towards the purchase, and the profits of the sale were devoted to a village school and religious purposes. Held, that respondent did become within the definition of a pedlar, as used in section 3 of the Pedlars' Act of 1871. Gregg v. Smith, L. R. 8 Q. B. 302. See further, Howard v. Lupton, L. R. 10 Q. B. 598. It was held necessary to justify an arrest under our old Hawkers and Pedlars' Act, 58 Geo. III. c. 5, for peddling without a license, that the person should be found trading at the time of the arrest. See Oviatt v. Bell, 1 U. C. Q. B. 18. It was also held necessary to the validity of a conviction for peddling goods without a license, that the description of the goods should be specified in the conviction. Rex v. Selway, 2 Chit. 22; Rex v. Smith, 3 Burr. 1475. To entitle a party to exemption from penalties on the ground that the place where the hawker exposed his wares for sale was a public market, it must be shewn that it was a legally established market, and not merely a market overt. Benjamin v. Andrews, 5 C. B. N. S. 299; see further, Paley's Justice, Title, "Hawkers and Pedlars."

(p) See note m to sub-s. 2 of this section.

(q) Money exacted for an illegal license may be recovered back in action for money had and received. Lincoln v. Worcester, 8 Mass. (Mass.) 55.

Licensing, etc., ferries, Rev. Stat. c. 117, s. 14.

4. For licensing and regulating ferries between any two places within the municipality, under the provisions of The Act respecting Ferries, and establishing the rate of ferriage to be taken thereon; but no such law as to ferries shall have effect until assented to by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, but the powers by this sub-section conferred on county councils shall not extend to a ferry between any two places within the same township. (d) The grant of a fair, merely with all the liberties and powers appertaining to such right does not give a right to take tolls. Bennett v. Saul, 6 A. & E. 924. A grant of a fair with an express power of toll passes reasonable toll, though no toll be specified. Rex v. Pawlett, 1 C. & J. 57. 496. The council of every city, town and incorporated village may pass by-laws:

A schoolmaster who permitted an infant pupil under his care to make use of fire-works, was held responsible in an action for the mischief which ensued. Rex v. Ford, 1 Stark. 421. A. made fire-works and kept them for sale in a house situate on a public street. In his absence, by negligence or accident, a fire took place among the materials of the fire-works, which set light to a rocket and caused it to fly across the street and set fire to a house, in which was a person who was burned to death: Held, that the keeping the fire-works was too remotely the cause of the death to render A. amenable to a charge of manslaughter. Reg v. Bennett, 4 Jur. The right of the public so to use sidewalks makes it the duty of the municipal authorities to see that horses or cattle should not be led, ridden or driven on the sidewalks. See Commonwealth v. Curtis, 9 Allen (Mass.) 266. An awning over a sidewalk may be removed by the authority of the corporation. Pedrick v. Bailey, 12 Gray (Mass.) 161.

(a) A by-law made in pursuance of an Act empowering municipal councils to make by-laws for regulating the interment of the dead was held not to be ultra vires by reason of its prohibiting interment altogether in a particular cemetery and thereby destroying the private property of the owners of burial places therein. Slattery v. Naylor, 13 App. Cas. 446.

(b) "Bills of mortality" is the common phrase to denote statistics of the dead. The duty to keep such statistics and to make returns therefrom may, it is presumed, be imposed on any one in charge of a public cemetery of any kind within the municipality. See also Rev. Stat. c. 40. The duty may, under this sub-section, be enforced by the ordinary mode of fine or penalty. The fine or penalty must be reasonable. See sub-s. 19 to sec. 479.

(c) The manufacturing and keeping large quantities of gunpowder in towns or closely inhabited places is an indictable offence at common law. Rex v. Williams, 1 Russ. 321; Rex v. Taylor, 2 S. 1167. See also Crowder v. Tinkler, 19 Ves. 617. In England is now regulated by statute 23 & 24 Vict. c. 139, amended by 24 25 Vict. c. 130, and 25 & 26 Vict. c. 98. Two justices in England, under 12 Geo. III. c. 61, ss. 11, 18, were empowered to adjudge a forfeiture of gunpowder conveyed in the city contrary to its provisions. Where several packages of gunpowder, amounting in the whole to 300 lbs. weight, were sent by different persons to a warehouse in London belonging to a carrier and licensed carman, as a temporary halting place in their transit, it was held that there was no unlawful having or keeping of gunpowder within the meaning of the statute. Biggs v. Mitchell, 2 B. & S. 523. A conviction, under the statute, awarding a forfeiture of gunpowder, must shew that the person to whom it is adjudged is the person who seized. Rex v. Smith, 5 M. & S. 133. A person who manufactures and keeps fog-signals—being tin cases filled with gunpowder and fitted with nipples and percussion caps—upon the premises within distances specified by English statute 23 & 24 Vict. c. 139, s. 6, and for which premises he had not a license under sec. 11, was held liable to a penalty. Bliss v. Lilly, 3 B. & S. 128; see generally, Webley v. Woolley, L. R. 7 B. 61; Eliott v. Majendie, Ib., 429; see further, Brown v. Maryland, 12 Wheat. U. S.) 419, 443.

(d) Where a municipal corporation was authorized to make by-laws regulating the erection of buildings, a by-law requiring the issue of building licenses and the payment of a license fee was held invalid. Welch v. Holdkiss, 12 Am. 383. The Court always interfere at the instance of the Attorney-General to restrain the continuance of, or compel the abatement of a public nuisance. But the act prohibited by a by-law against the erection of wooden buildings within prescribed limits, would not appear to be such a nuisance as to be properly restrained by injunction. Waupun v. Moore, 17 Am. 446; Mayor of St. John v. McFarlan, 20 Am. 671. of the city, town or village" mentioned in the first part of the sub-section, and "defined areas of the city, town or village" mentioned in the latter part thereof, mean substantially one and the same thing, viz., the ascertainment of a certain area having certain limits within which prohibited buildings are not to be erected and other buildings to be regulated—in other words, the establishment of fire limits. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed., sec. 405. Where a municipal corporation, under power to prevent the erection of wooden buildings, passed a by-law restraining the erection of lath-and-plaster buildings within certain limits, the by-law as to the excess was held void. Attorney-General v. Campbell, 19 Grant 209. The power, since the last-mentioned decision, has, it will be observed upon reading the subsection, been extended to the prohibition of buildings "other than with main walls of brick, iron or stone, and roofing of incombustible material." The removal of a wooden building to the prohibited district would be an "erection" or "placing," within the meaning of such a by-law. Wadleigh v. Gilman, 12 Me. 403; see further, Shield v. Sutherland, 6 H. & N. 796; Hobbs v. Dance, L. R. 9 C. P. 30. Ordinary repairs would not, however, be either an "erection" or "placing." Brady v. Insurance Co., 11 Mich. 425, 469; Booth v. State, 4 Conn. 65; Brown v. Hunn, 27 Conn. 332; Tuttle v. State, 4 Conn. 68; Stewart v. Commonwealth, 10 Watts (Pa.) 307. The power to pull down or remove a building erected or placed in contravention of the by-law, though a necessary, is a strong power, see note s to sub-s. 15 of sec. 489, and should only be exercised in cases clearly of contravention, and after notice to the person offending, so as to give him an opportunity to show cause before the destruction of his property See note to sub-s. 47 of sec. 489. It would seem that a person specially injured by the contravention of such a By-law would have an action against the wrong-doer. Aldrich v. Howard, 7 Rh. Is. 199, but not against the Municipality. Forsyth v. The Mayor, &c., of Atlanta, 12 A. 576. Suffering the prohibited building to remain after fine would appear not to be a continuing offence, so as to subject the offender to a second fine. The remedy in such a case would appear rather to be the demolition of the building. See note a to sub-s. 28 of sec. Where in such a case there is power to demolish the building Court of Equity will not in general be disposed to interfere with the exercise of the power. See Auckland v. Westminster Local Board, L. R. 7 Chy. 597; Kerr v. Corporation of Preston, 6 Ch. D.

panies; hook-and-ladder companies, and property saving companies; (e)

(e) The prevention of damage to buildings by fire is an object which affects the interests of all the inhabitants, and relieves them from a common burden and a common danger, and is therefore within the scope of municipal authority. Allen v. Taunton, 19 Pick. (Mass.) 485; Torrey v. Millbury, 21 Pick. (Mass.) 64; Hardy v. Waltham, 3 Metc. (Mass.) 163; Huneman v. Fire District, 37 Vt. 40; Wadleigh v. Gilman, 12 Me. 403; Vanderbilt v. Adams, 7 Cowen (N.Y.) 349, 352. Where such is the case, the municipal council is authorized to appoint and pay fire wardens, fire engineers, firemen, fire companies, hook and ladder companies and property-saving companies. Van Sickles v. Burlington, 27 Vt. (1 Wms.) 70; Robinson v. St. Louis, 28 Mo. 488; Miller v. Savannah Fire Co., 26 Ga. 678. The necessary powers are here in express terms conferred. These powers are in their nature legislative and governmental; the extent and manner of their exercise, within the sphere prescribed by the statute, are necessarily to be determined by the judgment and discretion of the proper municipal authorities; and for any defect in the execution of such powers the corporation is not to be held liable to individuals. The power of the municipal council over the subject is that of a delegated quasi sovereignty, which excludes responsibility to individuals for the neglect or nonfeasance of an officer or agent charged with the performance of duties. Wheeler v. Cincinnati, 19 Ohio St. 19; S. C. 2 Am. 368. In the absence of express statute, corporations are not liable to actions occasioned by negligence in using or keeping in repair engines owned by them. Eastman v. Meredith, 36 N. Nor is a city liable for neglect in cutting off water from a hydrant but for which the fire might have been extinguished. Taunton v. Worcester, 25 Am. 90. The fire wardens, fire engineers, and other similar officers, are not the servants and agents of the city so much as they are public officers, for whose acts in their official capacity, the city is not responsible, except when expressly so provided by statute. Taylor v. Plymouth, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 462. It is different where the corporation is charged by law with the performance of a duty purely ministerial in its character. Scott v. Manchester, 1 H. & N. 59; 2 H. & N. 204; Brinkmeyer v. Evansville, 29 Ind. 187; Western College v. Cleveland, 12 Ohio St. 375; see further, note d to sub s. 32 of this section; or an act is done by the city for its own corporate advantage or immediate emolument. Oliver v. Worcester, 102 Mass. 489; or perhaps where the neglect is a duty cast upon a gas company or a water company, or other trading company of a quasi public character, to the prejudice or loss of one of the public. Atkinson v. Newcastle and Gateshead Water Works Co., L. Similar power is here conferred as to "manufactories or trades dangerous in causing or promoting fire." These may be either prevented or regulated. Indeed, there is power in case of emergency, to destroy houses to prevent the spread of fire. See sub-sec. 23 of this section. The council must personally exercise the powers given and cannot delegate its functions. See Re Webster, C. L. T. 299.

Bl. 959. An external wall cannot be said to be a party-wall. Sims v. Estate Co., 14 L. T. N. S. 55. A party-wall is a thing which belongs to two persons as part owners, or divides two buildings one from another. Weston v. Arnold, L. R. 8 Chy., 1084. The English Statute 14 Geo. III. c. 78, was held not to make party walls common property. Watts v. Hawkins, 5 Taunt. 20. If one proprietor added to the height of such a party-wall, and the other pulled down the addition, the first might maintain trespass for pulling down so much of it as stood on the half of the wall which was erected on his own soil. Ib. The property in a wall, though erected at joint expense, follows the property of the land whereon it stands. Ib. Power to pass ordinances "to authorize the erection of party-walls, &c., and to regulate them," has been held to include the power to authorize their erection upon the application of either owner, and without the consent of the other. Hunt v. Ambruster, 17 N. J. Eq. 208. It has been held that the owner who pulls down a party-wall, under the authority of the Metropolitan Building Act, 18 and 19 Vict. c. 122, is not bound to protect, by boarding or otherwise, the rooms of the adjacent owner left exposed to the weather. Thompson v. Hill, L. R. 5 C. P. 564. See further as to party walls Scott v. Legg, 2 Ex. 829; Rindge v. Baker, 15 Am. 475. As to the meaning of the word "owner" in such an Act, see Wheeler v. Gray, 4 C. B. N. S. 133; 6 C. B. N. S. 606; and Tubb v. Good, L. R. 5 Q. B. 443.

Inspection of premises.

22. For authorizing appointed officers to enter at all reasonable times upon any property subject to the regulations of the council, in order to ascertain whether such regulations are obeyed, or to enforce or carry into effect the same; (k)

Preventing spreading of fire.

23. For making regulations for suppressing fires, and for pulling down or demolishing adjacent houses or other erections, when necessary to prevent the spreading of fire; (l)

(k) This is an important sub-section. It does not follow that because people are required to do certain things, even for their own safety, that they will do as required. Supervision is necessary. The power conferred by this sub-section is for authorizing appointed officers to enter at all reasonable times, upon any property, subject to the regulations of the council, "In order to ascertain whether such regulations are obeyed." But the more important part follows—that which enables the officer "to enforce or carry into effect the same." The enforcement might be by prosecution and fine; but the words "carry into effect the same" appear to indicate a specific performance of the duty by the officer. If the regulation be that certain things shall not be, the officer may be held to have power to remove them; but if it be that certain things shall be, he is not likely to supply them without some provision for compensating him. No property should, it is apprehended, be demolished or destroyed without an opportunity of some kind to the party concerned of being heard. See Cooper v. Board of Works, &c., 14 C. B. N. S. 180; se also Reg v. Sparrow, 16 C. B. N. S. 209; Bauman v. Vestry of St. Pancras, L. R. 2 Q. B. 528; Smith v. Simpson, L. R. 6 C. P. 87.

(l) Rights of private property may be made subordinate to public necessity. The right to destroy buildings in order to prevent the spread of a conflagration is one that has been exercised from the earliest times. See note n to sub-s. 15 of sec. 489. In such a case, in the absence of an express statutory liability, the owner of property so destroyed is without remedy. See Dewey v. White, M. & M. 56; Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd. ed., sec. 955 et seq. If there be a remedy given by the statute or at common law, existing because of excess, the fact that the owner was warned does not affect his right of recovery. New York v. Pentz, 24 Wend. (N.Y.) 668; see also Pentz v. Ætna Ins. Co., 9 Paige, (N.Y.) 568; City Fire Ins. Co. v. Corlies, 21 Wend. (N.Y.) 367. The opinions of bystanders, as to whether the building, if allowed to stand, would have taken fire, was held not be admissible evidence. New York v. Pentz, 24 Wend. (N.Y.) 668. As one whose property has been destroyed, by the order of the public authorities, for the public benefit, has a strong natural equity for compensation, a statute making the corporation liable should be liberally expounded, though not strained to cover cases not fairly embraced within it. Per Nelson C. J., in New York v. Lord, 17 Wend. (N.Y.) 285, affirmed 18 Wend. (N.Y.) 126; see also New York v. Pentz, 24 Wend. (N.Y.) 668; Stone v. Mayor, &c., 25 Wend. (N.Y.) 157. Such a statute ought not to be construed to apply to a building pulled down after it is so far burnt that it is impossible to save it. Taylor v. Plymouth,

Removal of Snow, Ice, Dirt

25. For compelling persons to remove all snow and ice from the roofs of the premises owned or occupied by them; and to remove and clear away all snow, ice and dirt, and other obstructions, from the sidewalks, streets and alleys adjoining such premises; and also to provide for the cleaning of sidewalks and streets adjoining vacant property, the property of non-residents, and all other persons who, for twenty-four hours, neglect to clean the same; (m) and to remove and Removal of snow, etc. Cleaning of sidewalks, streets, etc.

Metc. (Mass.) 462 If the statute give a right to compensation and prescribe no specific remedy, an action will lie. Russell v. New York, 2 Denio. (N.Y.) 461. This sub-section, providing for pulling down or demolishing "adjacent houses or other erections," apparently does not extend to personal property. See Stone v. New York, 20 Wend. (N.Y.) 139; 25 Wend. (N.Y.) 157; New York v. Lord, 17 Wend. (N.Y.) 285; 18 Wend. (N.Y.) 126.

(m) An Act authorizing a local board of health to provide for the removal of "dirt, ashes, rubbish, filth, dung, and soil," was held not to authorize the passing of a by-law for the removal of snow. Reg v. Wood, 5 E. & B. 49. It has been held in this Province that, in the absence of any public regulation, people are not compelled to keep the roofs of their houses clear of snow, or to detain the snow on the roofs, so that it cannot slide from thence into the street. Lazarus v. Toronto, 19 U. C. Q. B. 1. The contrary has been held in the United States. Shipley v. Fifty Associates, 101 Mass. 251; 3 Am. 346. Where however there was a by-law requiring citizens to keep their roofs clear of ice and snow, and it was proved that about half an hour before the accident, which was the subject of the action, the defendant was notified of the dangerous state of the ice and snow on his roof but took no precautions against accident, it was held that there was evidence of negligence to go to the jury. Landreville v. Gouin, 6 O. R. 455. In the United States it has been also held that persons suffering snow and ice to accumulate upon an awning placed by them over a sidewalk, if the awning be insufficient to hold the snow and ice, and it in consequence give way and injure a passer-by, are liable to damages. Milford v. Holbrook, 9 Allen (Mass.) 17. It would seem that, prima facie, the occupants of the building, and not the owners, out of occupation, are the proper persons to be sued in such an action. Kirby v. Boylston Market Association, 14 Gray (Mass.) 249. See also Burt v. Boston, 122 Mass. 223. But if the roof be under the control of the landlord, and not of the tenant, the former would be liable. Shipley v. Fifty Associates, 101 Mass. 251; 3 Am. 346. A structure such as a cornice of a building projecting over a street in a city in such a manner as to be dangerous to passers-by, is a nuisance which the corporate authorites may abate, and if they fail to do so after notice of its dangerous character the city will be liable to any one injured thereby. Grove v. Fort Wayne, 15 Am. 262. See further Mullen v. St. John, Ib. 530. It would also seem that the accumulation of snow and ice on a sidewalk, in the absence, at all events, of a public regulation on the subject, would not render the adjoining proprietor liable to an action for an accident arising therefrom. See Shepherd v. Midland R. W. Co., 25 L. T. N. S. 879; Sharp v. Powell, L. R. 7 C. P. 253; Skelton v. Thompson, 3 O. R. 11. See also Bliss v. Boeckh, 8 O. R. 451; Bleakley v. Corporation of Prescott, 12 A. R. 637. The city of Boston, under the power "to make needful and salutary by-laws," passed a by-law requiring the tenant or occupant, or, in case there should be no tenant, the owners of buildings bordering on certain streets, to clear snow from the sidewalks adjoining their respective buildings, &c. It was held valid. The by-law was justly regarded by the Court as a police regulation, requiring a duty to be performed, highly salutary and advantageous to the citizens of a populous and closely built city, imposed upon them because they are so situated as that they can most promptly and conveniently perform it; and it is laid not upon a few, but upon a numerous class, and equally upon all who are within the description composing the class, and who commonly derive a peculiar benefit from the duty required. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations 3rd ed. sec. 394. Even when such a by-law is passed and its provisions neglected, it would seem that no action will lie by a person aggrieved against the persons whose duty it is, under the by-law, to remove the snow and ice. Kirby v. Boylston Market Association, 14 Gray (Mass.) 169; Bateman v. Marriott, 9 Md. 160. The remedy, at all events, so far as the sidewalk is concerned, if there be one, would appear to be against the municipal corporation, for alleged non-repair, and not against the individual proprietor. Flynn v. Canton Co., 17 Am. 603.

(n) It was held, in the Common Pleas, that an action would not lie against the city of Toronto for a slight accumulation of ice on one of the sidewalks of the principal street of the city, resulting in an injury to the plaintiff, although the adjoining proprietor omitted to remove it within the time provided by by-law, and although the city authorities had neglected to appoint any officer whose duty it was to enforce the provisions of the by-law. Ringland v. Toronto, 23 U. C. C. P. 92. Galt, J., nonsuited the plaintiff at the trial, and Gwynne J. (the Chief Justice being absent), delivered the judgment of the Court, which appeared to indicate that no action would lie against a municipal corporation for alleged non-repair, unless the alleged non-repair be such as to amount to an indictable nuisance. But this view of the statute was dissented from by Harrison, C. J., in Burns v. Toronto, 42 U. C. Q. B. 560. See further, secc. 531, and notes thereto.

(o) This charging must, it is apprehended, be done by the clerk when making up the collectors roll. The intention is to make the cost of removal of snow or ice which has been allowed to accumulate, a charge against the premises from the front of which it is removed by the city authorities.

(p) The primary object of the street is for the free passage of the public, and anything which, without necessity, impedes that free passage is a nuisance. Rex v. Russell, 6 East 430; In re Cline v. Carnwall, 21 Grant 142. The iron cover of a valve connected with a water main was properly fixed in a highway by the defendants, but in consequence of the ordinary wearing away of the highway the valve cover projected an inch above it. The plaintiff's horse using the highway stumbled over the valve cover and was hurt. In an action against the defendants, who were both the water authority and the highway authority, for the injury to the horse it was held that it was the duty of the defendants to make such arrangements as works under their care should not become a nuisance to the highway and that the plaintiff was entitled to recover. Kent v. Worthing Local Board, 10 Q. B. D. 118. But see Moore v. Lambeth Waterworks Co., 17 Q. B. D. 462. See also Reg. v. Mayor, &c., of Poole, 19 Q. B. D. 602. The right of any one person lawfully to use the street is subject to the right of any other person to make a corresponding use. Thus the carriage and delivery of goods, &c., is the legitimate use of a street, and may result in the temporary obstruction of public transit. No man has a right to throw wood or stones into the street at pleasure. But, such as fuel is necessary, a man may throw wood into the street for the purpose of having it carried into his house, and it may remain a reasonable time. So, because building is necessary, stones, bricks, lime, sand and other materials may be placed on the street, provided it is done in the most convenient manner. Commonwealth

If a man does anything or permits anything on his premises in view of the public, and crowds of persons are thereby attracted to it, to the inconvenience of the public, that thing he cannot be allowed to do. But in order t there may be uniformity, power is by this sub-section given to s by-laws for ascertaining and compelling owners, tenants and cupants to furnish councils with the level of the cellars dug or nstructed along the streets. A municipal corporation is not liable a civil action for negiecting to pass a by-law and provide for some n for draining the municipality or some part thereof. Mills v. ooklyn, 32 N. A cor- ion may be said to act judicially in selecting and adopting the on which a public work shall be constructed; yet as soon as it be- to carry out that plan, it acts ministerially, and is bound to see that work is done in a reasonably safe and skilful manner. See Dillon Municipal Corporations 3rd ed., sec. 1048 note. A municipal cor- ion would act judiciously in insisting on having drains made the direction of their officers and by their own workmen and ctors, instead of the private proprietors, for it would not do w all persons to break into a main sewer and make drains at discretion. Besides the inconvenience the health of the com- y would suffer from such a course, for the nuisance occasioned fective drainage may often give rise to a widespread evil, in- many more than the persons on whose premises the cause of isance exists. It seems a necessary policy, therefore, for such oration to keep the matter in their own hands. But then, if rporation does for such good purposes prevent proprietors from g the drains they require, and oblige them to have them done corporation engineer and contractors, it is manifestly just and ary that the corporation should see that the work is done as it to be. Per Robinson, C. J., in Reeves v. Toronto, 21 U. C. Q. Where a drain was so unskilfully constructed by the cor- on contractors as not to carry off the water, but to carry filth he main sewer into plaintiff's cellar which for months he had d, it was held that he was entitled to sue the corporation recovery of substantial damages, though no by-law for the of the drain was proved. Ib. See further Van Pelt v. The Davenport, 20 Am. 622; Smith v. New York, 66 N. R. 332, followed in Welsh v. St. Catharines, 13 O. R. 369. Without positive legislation a grave doubt may be expressed as to the absolute right of the conservators of a highway to flood a man's land and destroy his property, even if no other method of drainage be attainable. Per Hagarty, J., in Perdue and Chinguacousy, 25 U. C. Q. B. 61, 65, 66: "I cannot conceive what right they (a township council) can have to drain all the surface waters of that township, or of any particular area up against the land of another, and to drown it in part, or altogether to the destruction of his farm, although they may have done their work in the most skilful and scientific manner and although it may have been absolutely necessary to drain in that manner for the making of a good road." Per Wilson, J., in Rowe v. Rochester, 29 U. C. Q. B. 590-595. The plaintiff's land was overflowed by the water of a stream which was the natural drain for the surrounding country, but the defendants used it to a small extent for the drainage of the town. It was found that the flooding would not have been occasioned by the water brought down through the defendants user of the stream, but that water brought down from the area drained apart from the defendants user would have alone caused the damage. Held, that the defendants were not liable. Lawrence v. Niagara Falls, 6 O. R. 467. (3) The by-law may also provide for the imposition upon and collection of market fees from any person who shall remain or cause his vehicle to remain upon that part of any street immediately adjoining or surrounding or being within 100 yards of the market place, for the purpose of selling upon such street or streets such articles, so as to obtain the advantages of the said market place, but driving through or across such portions of streets shall not of itself be deemed sufficient ground for the imposition of any fee; but this sub-section shall not apply to grain, seeds, dressed hogs or wool.

(5) It shall not be lawful for any municipality passing such by-law to impose a higher tariff or greater fee upon any article or vehicle than was in force or imposed by the municipality on the 1st day of March, 1882.

Fees not to be charged on markets made in streets.

(6) No market fee shall be levied, collected or imposed by any municipality in respect of any market place or market or any portion of any such market place or market hereafter established, declared or made in, on, or out of any street

(t) This section applies to municipalities in which market fees are imposed only upon articles offered for sale on the market or on the streets adjacent thereto. See note b to sec. 503.

(u) The words any person or persons who shall voluntarily [resort] upon the said market-place &c., for the purpose of selling &c., have been held not to be identical with or equivalent to the words used in the statute. Reg. v. Reid, 11 O. R. 242. The conviction was also held bad as differing from both statute and by-law, being for refusing to pay the fees on eight quarters of beef "exposed for sale" while the 13th section of the by-law applied only to butchers meat exposed for sale. Ib.

part of any street within said municipality: Provided always that this sub-section shall not apply to so much of any street as immediately adjoins and abuts upon any market square, either now or hereafter established as a market place. 46 V. c. 18, s. 498.

Preceding section not to apply when no fees are charged.

499. The preceding section shall not apply to any municipality where no market fees were charged or imposed on the 10th day of March 1882, but sections 497, 500, and 501 shall apply to such municipality in the event of market fees being thereafter charged or imposed therein. (v) 46 V. c. 18, s. 499.

Power to regulate sales when no fees are charged.

500. Nothing in the preceding sections contained shall prevent any municipality wherein no market fees are imposed or charged from regulating the sale and the place of sale of any articles within the municipality to the same extent as it might do before the 10th day of March, 1882: Provided always that market fees within the meaning of this section shall not include fees for weighing or measuring; Provided further, that after nine o'clock in the forenoon, between the 1st day of April and the 1st day of November, and after ten o'clock in the forenoon, between the 1st day of November and the 1st day of April, no person shall be compelled to remain on, or resort to, any market place with any articles which he may have for sale, but may, after the expiration of such hour, sell or dispose of such articles elsewhere than in or on said market-places. (w) 46 V. c. 18, s. 500.

Inconsistent enactments to be of no effect.

501. When and so long as section 497 shall be in force and apply to any municipality, (a) so much of any Act or law as may be contrary to, and as shall conflict with the same shall cease to be in force in or apply to such municipality; and when and so long as section 498 shall be in force in and apply to any municipality, so much of any Act or law as may be contrary to, and as shall conflict with the same, shall not be in force in or apply to such municipality. 46 V. c. 18, s. 501.

Right to lease market fees.

502. Subject to the provisions of the last preceding five sections, every municipality shall have the power to sell, farm, or lease its market fees. 46 V. c. 18, s. 502.

Market by-laws.

503. The council of every city, town and incorporated village may, subject to the restrictions and exceptions contained in the last preceding six sections, (b) also pass by-laws:

Establishing markets.

1. For establishing markets; (c)

(b) By sub-s. 1 of sec. 497 no market fee is to be imposed on wheat and other articles in that sub-s. specified. By sub-s. 2 a market fee can only be imposed on the articles therein mentioned if there is a convenient sheltered place in which to offer them for sale. By sub-s. 3 a market fee cannot be imposed on articles brought into the municipality in pursuance of a prior contract and delivered to the purchaser without being hawked about the streets or elsewhere in the municipality. By sub-s. 4 a market fee cannot be imposed on articles brought into the municipality after 10 a.m. unless they are exposed for sale on the market place. By sub-s. 5 the municipality cannot compel certain articles to be weighed or measured when neither party to the sale desires the same to be weighed or measured. By sub-s. 6 persons cannot be compelled to remain on the market place after the hours therein mentioned, provided the market fees have been paid. Sub-ss. 7 and 8 limit the market fees and the fees for weighing and measuring. By sub-s. 9 the municipality may subject to the above provisions regulate sales and traffic in the streets. By sec. 501 so long as sect. 497 is in force in the municipality conflicting laws are not to apply. By sec. 498 municipalities which do not impose market fees on persons not using the market, or remaining on the street within 100 yards thereof, are exempt from the restrictions imposed by sec. 497, but such municipalities are not to impose higher fees than were in force on the 1st of March, 1882, and no market fees are to be imposed on any market hereafter made on, or out of any street. By sec. 501 so long as sec. 498 is in force in a municipality conflicting laws are not to apply. Sec. 499 makes provision for municipalities in which no fees were charged on 10th March, 1882. Sec. 500 gives power to regulate sales and the place of sales in municipalities in which no market fees are charged. By sec. 502 power is given to sell, assign, or lease market fees.

(c) Power to establish a market authorizes, as a necessary incident, the acquirement of land on which to erect market buildings. Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356; Caldwell v. Alton, 33 Ill. 416; People v. Lowber, 28 Barb. (N.Y.) 65. So it is incident to the general power to decide on the cost, dimensions, etc. Peterson v. New York, 17 N. Y. 449; Smith v. Newbern, 16 Am. 766; Attorney-General v. Cambridge, L. R. 6 H. L. C. 303; but see also Spaulding v. Lowell, 23 Pick. (Mass.) 71, 80. The establishment of a market ought not to be in a public street. See note b to sub-s. 10 of sec. 495, but see sec. 498, sub-ss. 3 and 6. Where the defendants leased to plaintiff the market fees of a wood market, established in one of the public streets of the city, covenanting against their own interference, &c. Held, that the market being fixed in a public highway which is prima facie for purposes of public travel, the exercise of the rights incident to such market must be subordinate to the primary purposes of the highway, and that plaintiff could not recover damages for interference by the user of the highway the public. Reynolds v. Toronto, 15 U. C. C. P. 276. So long as the market is used, it is the duty of the municipality to keep the same in a reasonable state of repair. Savannah v. Cullens, 38 Geo. 334; 2 Withrow 132. Where the lessee of market fees received fees as such, he cannot refuse to perform his contract with the corporation on the ground that the latter had no power to erect the market. Board of Police of London v. Talbot, 3 U. C. Q. B. 311.

(d) The regulation of fairs and markets has for a long time been the subject of municipal control in England and the United States. See note d to sec. 495, sub-s. 10 (b). Regulation must of necessity include the appropriation of one or more parts of the market for one purpose, and another part or parts for other purposes; of providing, that free passage through the market be kept open for ready access to shops, stalls, or other places where different commodities are exposed for sale, Per Draper, C. J., in Kelly v. Toronto, 23 U. C. Q. B. 426. But the right, under the power to regulate, to restrict the sale of commodities to the public market is open to doubt. Some of the subsequent sub-sections expressly empower municipal councils to restrict the sale of commodities therein mentioned to the place established as a market place. From this it might be argued that, except as to the commodities mentioned, the power to restrict the sale to the market place does not exist. See New Orleans v. Stafford, 21 Am. 563. On the other hand, in some of the English statutes exemptions are made in favour of the sale in the owner's shop of certain commodities specified. From this it might be argued that, except as to these, there was power to restrict sales to the market place. See Howard v. Lupton, L. R. 10 Q. B. 598. The general question is surrounded with difficulties. "The fixing of the place and times at which markets shall be held and kept open, and the prohibition to sell at other places and times, is among the most ordinary regulations of a city or town police, and would naturally be included in the general power to pass by-laws relative to the public markets. If the corporation had not the power in question it is difficult to see what useful purpose could be effected or what object was intended by the grant of the power to pass by-laws relative to the public markets. The mere regulation of the building and of the stalls of those who might choose to go there instead of elsewhere to sell there market provision would be an idle and useless power, and of no moment towards the good government of the village." Bush v. Seabury, 8 Johns. (N.Y.) 418; see also Pearce v. Bartrum, 1 Cowp. 269. The same doctrine is maintained in Davenport v. Kelly, 7 Iowa 102; Buffalo v. Webster, 10 Wend. (N.Y.) 100; In re Nightingale, 11 Pick. (Mass.) 16; Raleigh v. Sorrell, 1 Jones (N. Car.) 49; Stokes v. New York, 14 Wend. (N. Y.) 87; LePlaire v. Davenport, 13 Iowa 210. Such ordinances are sustained on the ground that they are not in restraint of trade, but in regulation of it. Wensboro v. Smart, 11 Rich. (S. Car.) Law, 551; see also St. Louis v. Jackson, 25 Mo. 37. But it has been held by equally good authority, that the power to regulate markets can only extend to the market limits, and that these limits cannot be made to retain all the privileges thereof until otherwise directed by extend throughout the city. Peters v. Board of Police of London, 2 U. C. Q. B. 543; Farquhar v. Toronto, 10 U. C. C. P. 379; Paldwell v. Alton, 33 Ill. 416; see also Dunham v. Rochester, 5 Cow. (N.Y.) 462; Shelton v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 540; St. Louis v. Webber, 44 Mo. 547; LePlaire v. Davenport, 13 Iowa 210; Davenport v. Kelly, 7 Iowa 102; Ash v. People, 11 Mich. 347. So under an ordinance "to erect market houses, establish markets and market places, and provide for the government and regulation thereof," it was held that the council had no power to fix upon one market place and prohibit all persons at all hours of the day from selling fresh meat elsewhere. Bloomington v. Wahl, 46 Ill., 489; 2 Withrow 150; see also Bethune v. Hughes, 28 Ga. 560; St. Paul v. Laidler, 2 Minn. 190; St. Louis v. Webber, 44 Mo. 547; St. Paul v. Poulter, 12 Minn. 41; Rochester v. Pettinger, 17 Wend. (N.Y.) 265. A by-law enacting "that no butcher or other person shall cut up or expose for sale any fresh meat in any part of the city, except in the shops and stalls in the public markets, or at such places as the standing committee on public markets may appoint," was held good. In re Kelly and Toronto, 23 U. C. Q. B. 425. This, in the same Court, was afterwards affirmed in Fennell and Guelph, 24 U. C. Q. B. 238, and treated as settled in that Court. Snell and Belleville, 30 U. C. Q. B. 91. In England and Ireland most of the markets are franchises, extending over the whole or greater part of the towns in which situate. Cork v. Shinkwin, Sm. & Bat. 395. And as the erection of a new market is prima facie injurious to an old one, there is in the case of a market by prescription, the right to prevent the erection of a new market "within the common law distance of the old market." Islington Market Case 3 Cl. & F. 513. And in such cases there is the right, so long as there is room in the market for the sale of articles ordinarily sold there, to prevent sales elsewhere. Prince v. Lewis, 5 B. & C. 363. See further Mosley v. Walker, B. & C. 40; Mayor of Dorchester v. Ensor, L. R. 4 Ex. 335; McH v. Davis, 1 Q. B. D. 59; *Great Eastern R. W. A sale, by sample, on a market day near to but without the li of the market, has, however, been held not to be a disturbance of market, unless done designedly and with the intention to evade ment of toll. Brecon v. Edwards, 1 H. & C. 51. If the grantee market under letters patent from the Crown, suffers another to a market in his neighbourhood, and use it for the space of tw three years without interruption, he is, by such use, barred o action for disturbance of the market. Holcroft v. Heel, 1 B. 400. A market held in the same town with an old market, if he the same day, is a disturbance by intendment of law: Dorches Ensor, L. R. 4 Ex. 335; but if held on a different day, is only dence of disturbance. Ib. By 37 & 38 V. c. 85, s. 8, (Imp.) the cor tion of Edinburgh (who were grantees of a market in Edinb "may cover, in a suitable and convenient manner, the frui vegetable market place, and improve and better adapt the sa

the purposes of such market, and for the accommodation of parties using the same, and of the public, &c.: Provided always, that the ground floor only of such market-place shall be used for such fruit and vegetable market, and that all vacant portions of such market-place, whether on the ground floor or above the same, and all vacant and unlet stands, stalls, and shops in or on such market-place, may be let or used by the corporation for such purposes and for such rents or sales as to them shall seem proper": Held, that the corporation were not entitled to exclude members of the public from the covered portion of the market during market hours and devote the building to other purposes. Magistrates of Edinburgh v. Blackie, 11 App. Cas. 665. Where a grant of market is not confined to any particular locality, the grantee may, from time to time, change the site in order to suit his own convenience; but it is an implied condition of the exclusive privilege that he shall provide a market-place, and that implied condition is satisfied so long as he gives reasonable accommodation to those members of the public who use the market either as buyers or sellers, and the extent of the accommodation which must be afforded in each case must vary with the circumstances. Per Lord Watson, Ib. Some of the decisions under English market Acts may be here noticed. By a market Act every person who sold or exposed for sale at any place within the limits of the Act (other than in the existing market place, or the market house or market places to be established under the Act, or in his own dwelling house, or in any shop attached to and being part of a dwelling house) any article in respect of which tolls were authorized to be taken, other than eggs, butter and fruit, was subjected to a penalty: Held, that a vessel moored to a wharf was not a shop within the meaning of the exemption. Wiltshire v. Baker, 11 C. B. N. S. 237. But to bring a case under the exemption, the shop need not be attached to any part of the dwelling house of the party himself. Wiltshire v. Willett, 11 C. B. N. S. 240. See further Ashworth v. Heyworth, L. R. 4 Q. B. 316; 10 B. & S. 309. In order to exempt from a penalty under this Act, a party must be shewn to have sold the marketable articles at what is really his own private shop, and not in such a way as to constitute a different market from the legal one. Pope v. Whalley, 2 B. & S. 303; Fearon v. Mitchell, L. R. 7 Q. B. 690; Dowling v. Byrne, L. R. 10 Ir. C. L. 135; Dolan v. Kavanagh, Ib. 166. A horse was held to be "an article" within the meaning of the statute. Sandaff, &c., Market Co. v. Lynden, 8 C. B. N. S. 515. A person who sold fruit and fish, which are marketable articles, from door to door, within the prescribed limits, was held not thereby to have incurred the penalty. Caswell v. Cook, 11 C. B. N. S. 637. A party who bought vegetables from a wholesale dealer in the market, who had previously paid fees thereon, and afterwards offered them for sale in the streets, was in a subsequent case held liable to fees. Black v. Beckett, 10 B. & S. 639. Upon the construction of a local Act establishing a market for corn, &c., in the city of Cork and its suburbs, it was held that fees were not leviable upon a sale made in the vendor's own house within the city of corn then being outside of the city and in the suburbs. Webber v. Adams, 5 Ir. power. Its exercise at one period by establishing a market place and erecting a market house in a particular locality will not prevent the municipal council from removing such building or abandoning such locality for market purposes. Gall v. Cincinnati, 18 Ohio St. 563. Where, according to the grant of a market, it was to be held in a town, the grantee might from time to time remove the place for holding it according to the convenience of the inhabitants for the time being. Dixon v. Robinson, 3 Mod. 108; Curwen v. Salkeld, 3 East. 538; Rex v. Cotterill, 1 B. & Al. 67; Wortley v. Nottingham Local Board, 21 L. T. N. S. 582. Magistrates of Edinburgh v. Blackie, 11 App. Cas. 665. And this applies, although the limits of the town be afterwards extended and the market established within the extended limits. Mayor, &c., of Dorchester v. Ensor, L. R. 4 Ex. 335. But this is subject to the rights of any persons owning property adjoining the site of the old market. Ellis v. Corporation of Bridgenorth, 4 L. T. N. S. 112; 2 J. & H. 67; 15 C. B. N. S. 52.

(f) There cannot be much doubt as to the meaning of this sub-section. Besides the word "regulate," used in the previous sub-section, it has the word "prevent." There is a great difference between restraint and regulation. Green v. Mayor of Durham, 1 Burr. 127, 131; Andrews v. The State, 8 Am. S, 15. One can readily understand why there should be power to prevent the sale of the articles mentioned "in the public streets." See note e to sub-s. 1 of this section. One can also suggest a good reason why sales should not be in "vacant lots adjacent thereto." See Nightingale Petitioner, &c., 1 Pick. (Mass.) 168; Commonwealth v. Rice, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 253; Shelton v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 540; Wurtman v. Philadelphia, 33 Pa. St. 202.

(g) "And other articles offered for sale." This is so indefinite as to leave a doubt as to what is meant. Such a provision should be more certain in its terms. Probably the general words are controlled by the particular words which precede them. See note h to sec. 477.

(h) This is the first subsection that provides for regulating "the place and manner." Power to regulate the place has been held to include the power to restrict sales to a place such as the market. See note d to sub-s. 2 of this section.

(j) A by-law prohibiting any person bringing produce, articles, commodities, or things to a city market from selling or offering the same for sale within the city limits on their way to market, or without having paid market toll, and before offering such things for sale in the market, was held bad. Kinghorn and Kingston, 26 U. C. R. B. 130. "The statute gives no authority for the passing of a by-law of so wide and general a character as the one now in question, or containing such conditions as it does. The provisions of the statute are specific and limited, and the by-law should be restricted in its operation to the purposes and articles mentioned in the different subsections; and by doing so, the very proper object the municipality had in view would have been effected." Per Morrison, J., p. 134. The same Court afterwards held that a by-law that "no person shall buy, sell or offer for sale any game, fish, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese, grain, vegetables or fruits exposed for sale or marketed within the town until the seller has paid the market fees required by by-law No. 161, or has obtained a ticket from the collector of tolls for the market of the town, as provided in the 27th section of by-law No. 161, and before the hour of nine o'clock in the forenoon during the months of June, July and August, and ten o'clock during the rest of the year," was good. In re Snell and Belleville, 30 U. C. Q. B. 492. Some changes had been made in the law between the two sessions, but whether sufficient to cause such a change in the decisions may be a question. A person brought sheep to a public house within yards out of the limits of a market, left them there, went into the market in search of customers, whom he took to the public house, and there sold the sheep. Held, a fraud on the market, for which the seller was liable to an action by the lessee of the market. Copeland v. Shafter, 5 M. & W. 375; see further, Brecon v. Edwards, 6 M. & C. 51; Blakey v. Dinsdale, 2 Cowp. 661.

(k) See note f to sub-s. 3 of this section. This provision was held to be ultra vires of the Ontario Legislature as being a regulation of trade and commerce. Re Harris and Hamilton, 44 U. C. Q. B. 1. A by-law of a city council providing that no vendor of small wares should practise his calling in a specified market, or in the public streets adjacent thereto was held not defective for not specifying the small ware intended, that being the terms used in the statute; but the by-law was held bad for uncertainty in not specifying the wares intended. "Adjacent thereto," as used in the Act means adjacent to the public streets. Ib.

license fee not exceeding $50 in cities and $25 in towns and incorporated villages to be paid for such license, and for enforcing the payment of the same, and for preventing the sale of fresh meat in quantities less than by the quarter carcase, unless by a person holding a valid license and in a place authorized by the council, but nothing herein contained shall affect the powers conferred in the preceding sub-section; (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 503 (5, 6).

Preventing forestalling, etc.

6. For preventing the forestalling, regrating or monopoly of market grains, wood, meats, fish, fruits, roots, vegetables, poultry and dairy products, eggs and all articles required for family use, and such as are usually sold in the market; (m)

(l) Held, that a by-law passed pursuant to 46 V. c. 18, sec. 503, sub-s. 6 (same as this sub-s.) and the convictions thereunder were not bad because the by-law did not embody or refer to the exceptional proviso as to time mentioned in sec. 500; for that sec. 500 did not refer to the subject of sub-s. 6 of sec. 503, and that apart from that sec. 500 was expressly limited to municipalities wherein no market fees were imposed or charged, whereas here a by-law was in existence imposing such fees and charges. The by-law was also held not to be ultra vires but the conviction was held bad because while covering two distinct offences under the same by-law it only imposed one penalty. Reg. v. Gravelle, 10 O. R. 735. A by-law passed under this sub-section is not subject to the restrictions contained in the preceding six sections. The proper construction of this section is that it is made subject to such restrictions so far as properly applicable and that this sub-section is in the nature of an exception from these general restrictions. Re O'Meara v. Ottawa, 11 O. R. 60 Affirmed 23 C. L. J. 235.

(m) Engrossing or regrating is a common law offence. Rex v. Waddington, 1 East. 143. It applies only with respect to the necessaries of life. Pettamberdas v. Thackoorseydass, 7 Moore, N. C. 2 Where several companies and individuals, engaged in the manufacture of salt, entered into an agreement whereby it was stipulated that the several parties agreed to combine and amalgamate under the name of "The Canadian Salt Association," for the purpose of successfully working the business of salt manufacture, and that the parties to it should sell all salt manufactured by them through the trustees of the association and not otherwise, it was held that the agreement was a valid one, and not void as against the old common law offence of engrossing. Ontario Salt Co. v. Merchants' Salt Co. Grant, 540. "I must conclude that long usage has brought about such a change in the common law since the decision in Rex v. Waddington, that even if it could be said that the object of the parties to the agreement in question here was to enhance the price of salt the contract would be neither illegal nor against public policy." Strong, V.C., Ib. 543. A by-law that "no person shall forestall, regrate or monopolize any market grains, meats, fish, fruits, vegetables, poultry and dairy products within the town," was Provided that this sub-section shall not be qualified as respects shops or stalls occupied by butchers or others for the sale of fresh meat in quantities less than by the quarter carcase within the said municipality by anything contained in sections 497 or 500 of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 503 (7); 50 V. c. 29, s. 29.

C. Q. B. 503. "Such a by-law is quite inconsistent with the rights and jurisdiction of the neighboring municipality." Per Morrison, J., Ib. 604; also so held In re Snell and Belleville, 30 U. C. Q. B. 81. A by-law "that before 10 a. m. in May, June, July and August no huckster, butcher, dealer, trader, runner, agent or retailer, or any other person purchasing for export or to sell again, should buy, bargain for, engage, or offer to buy any article of household consumption, brought to the market excepting pork, grain, flour, meal or wool," was, except as to hucksters and runners, held bad. In re Fennell and Guelph, 24 U. C. Q. B. 238. The foregoing were decisions under 29 & 30 Vict. c. 51, s. 296, sub-s. 12. That section was afterwards amended by the addition of the word "butchers" (31 Vict. c. 30, sec. 32), and again by striking out the words "living within the municipality, or within one mile from the outer limits thereof.' 34 Vict. c. 30, s. 2.

(o) A by-law to the effect that every person selling meat or articles of provision by retail, whether by weight, count or measure, should provide himself with scales, weights and measures, but that a spring balance, spring scale, spring steelyards, or spring weighing machine should be used for any market purposes, was held valid. In re Snell and Belleville, 30 U. C. Q. B. 81. By-laws requiring the weighing or measurement of goods before sale are a valid exercise of municipal power, and are not illegal as in restraint of trade. Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed., sec. 390. So the establishment of public weighing scales for hay. Ib. sec. 391. See Reg. v. Hollister, 8 O. R. 750. Power is conferred by this sub-section to provide for the weighing or measuring of cord-wood, but not to enforce delivery or sale in a particular kind of waggon. Reg. v.

Penalties for light weight, etc.

9. For imposing penalties for light weight or short count, or short measurement in anything marketed; (p) See s. 479 (21.)

Regulating vehicles used in market vending.

10. For regulating all vehicles, vessels, and all other things in which anything is exposed for sale or marketed, and for imposing a reasonable duty thereon, and establishing the mode in which it shall be paid; (q)

Smith, 4 C. R. 401. Upon the conviction of a railway company under the English statute 5 & 6 Will. IV. c. 63, sec. 28, for having in their possession a weighing machine which, upon examination by the inspector of weights and measures, was found to be incorrect; Held that a machine which, from its construction, was liable to variation from atmospheric and other causes, and required to be adjusted before it was used, was not incorrect upon examination within the meaning of the statute, if examined by the inspector before it had been adjusted. London and North Western R. W. Co. v. Richards, 2 B. & S. 326. But a weighing machine which has become out of order so as to weigh untruly, is an incorrect weighing machine within the meaning of that statute, although, by making an allowance for the error, the weight of the article could be ascertained truly by it. Great Western R. W. Co. v. Brirrie 5 B. & S. 928. Scales having a weight placed within a ball, which shot may be removed at pleasure, render the scale an improper instrument of adjustment within the meaning of that statute. Carr v. Stringer, L. R. 3 Q. B. 433. A spring balance unjust to the seller is not within the statute, which is for the protection of the public when purchasing. Crooke v. Shadrate, L. R. 8 Q. B. 352

(p) See previous note.

(q) This does not authorize the imposition of tonnage dues on scows, crafts, rafts, railway cars. &c., coming into the municipality merely because they contain firewood, though such firewood may have been brought into the municipality for the purpose of being exposed or offered for sale or marketed for consumption within the municipality. In re Campbell and Kingston, 14 U. C. C. P. 81. What the statute authorizes is the regulating the vehicles, vessels, &c., in which anything is exposed for sale or marketed and imposing a reasonable duty thereon. When the commodity is exposed for sale, the power to impose the duty, if it is really given, is given and if it be intended to impose the duty on the vehicle or vessel it must be on that in which the article is exposed for sale or marketed in any street or public place. The Legislature never contemplated that, under pretence of passing a by-law to regulate markets, a municipal corporation should have the power of levying a tax upon the general commerce of the country merely because a particular town or city happened to be the place where forwarders are in the habit of transhipping commodities from one description of craft to another, and where merchants frequently contract that certain articles which they deal, shall be delivered, in view of this very probable transhipment. Ib.

(r) Trespass lies for setting tables on a market place for the sale of goods without the permission of the owners. Norwich v. Swann, 2 W. Bl. 1116; see Doe St. Julian, Shrewsbury v. Cowley, 1 C. & P. 334. Permission of the owners must therefore be first obtained. Northampton v. Ward, 2 Str. 1238. Stallage is the payment due to the owners of a market in respect of the exclusive occupation of a portion of the soil. Yarmouth v. Groom, 1 H. & C. 102: see also Reg. v. Casswell, L. R. 7 Q. B. 328. The question what constitutes stallage is a question of fact for a jury. Ib. An action will lie by the owners of a market for stallage. Newport v. Saunders, 3 B. & Ad. 411. This sub-section appears to authorize a distress for rent and a sale after six hours' notice. It is presumed that before any distress can be justified the relation of landlord and tenant must exist. Culpper v. Philadelphia, 38 Pa. St. 203; Dubuque v. Miller, 11 Iowa, 503. The relation of landlord and tenant at a rent certain of a corporeal hereditament gives the right of distress at common law; and at common law there was no right to sell a distress which was looked upon as a mere pledge for payment of rent. The statute 2 W. & M. sess. 1, c. 5, s. 2, which provided that after the goods distrained had been appraised, the landlord "shall and may lawfully sell the goods and chattels so distrained, for the best price that can be taken for the same," &c., at the same time provided that the sale should not be made until after the expiration of five days from the distress. This restriction in the case of butchers' meat is for obvious reasons, removed, and power given to sell "after six hours' notice." A by-law requiring a butcher, before getting a stall, to procure a license and pay a fee, was held bad. In re Snell and Belleville, 30 U. C. Q. B. 81. But see now sub-s. 5.

(s) The apparent meaning of the assize of bread seems to be the power or privilege of assizing or adjusting the weight or measure of bread. Re Nasmith, 2 O. R. 192. A by-law of the city of Toronto fixed what the weight of loaves should be and enacted that the weight of each loaf sold or offered for sale should be stamped thereon and that bread offered for sale of any less weight than the weight fixed by the by-law should be seized and forfeited. Held that the by-law was intra vires and not unreasonable. Ib. See note g to sec. 21, sec. 479. See also sec. 489, sub-s. 52.

(b) The power to license would, if there were no express legislation on the subject, involve the power of preventing persons exercising the calling without a license. But the legislature has not left the matter to inference.

(c) If there were no limitation as to the amount of the fee, it would still have to be a reasonable one. See sub-sec. 25 of sec. 433. The maximum according to this section is $10.

The property to be assessed for the purposes contemplated in the last preceding four sections of this Act, shall be the same as the property assessed for any other county purpose, except that any sum to be raised for the purposes of one county only, or for the payment of any debt contracted for the purposes of one county only, shall be assessed and levied solely upon property assessed in that county, and not upon property in any other county united with it, (n) and the debenture that may be issued for such purposes may be dated as the debenture of the said one county only, and shall be as valid and binding upon that county as if that county were a separate municipality, but such debenture shall be under the seal of the united counties, and be signed by the warden thereof. is not easy to understand this part of the section. Is it d that the promise to pay shall be that of the one county The difficulty is that, until separation, there is no corporate able of promising or making a contract. The provision that enture that may be issued may be issued "as the debenture e county only," and shall be as valid and binding upon that "as if that county were a separate municipality," would indicate the affirmative of the proposition. But the conprovision, that such debenture "shall be under the seal of d counties, and be signed by the warden thereof," is inconith such a conclusion. It is submitted that the debenture e so framed as to shew on its face that it forms a charge on ounty only.

County council to make provision for the destitute insane.

520. The county council of each county shall, from time to time, make provision for the whole or partial support either in the county gaol or some other place within the county of such insane destitute persons as cannot properly be admitted to the provincial asylums, and shall determine the sum to be paid for such support, and also the parties to whom such sums shall be paid by the county treasurer. 46 V. c. 18, s. 520.

Statute Labour.

Commutation of statute labour.

1. For empowering any person (resident or non-resident) liable to statute labour within the municipality, to compound for such labour, (p) for any term not exceeding five years, any sum not exceeding $1 for each day's labour;

Rate of commutation.

2. For providing that a sum of money, not exceeding

(p) A proprietor of land cannot be compelled actually to do statute labour in a township, unless himself a resident of such township. Moore v. Jarron, 9 U. C. Q. B. 233, and the power to pass by-laws for enforcing performance of statute labour only applies to those cases where the burthen legally exists. In re Dickson and Galt, 9 U. C. Q. B. 257. Non-resident proprietors are, however, clearly liable to assessment for commutation for statute labour. A non-resident who has not required his name to be entered on the roll is not entitled to be admitted to perform statute labour in respect of land owned by him. There is no liability to perform statute labour in a village municipality. In re Stayner, 46 U. C. Q. B. 275. See Rev. Stat. c. 193 s. 6 et seq. See also sec. 17, sub. s. 3 (a) of this Act.

for each day's labour, may or shall be paid in commutation of such statute labour; (q)

Fixing number of days' statute labour.

3. For increasing or reducing the number of days' labour, which the persons rated on the assessment roll or otherwise shall be liable, in proportion to the statute labour to which such persons are liable in respect of the amounts at which they are assessed, or otherwise respectively; (r)

Enforcing statute labour.

4. For enforcing the performance of statute labour, or payment of a commutation in money in lieu thereof, when not otherwise provided by law; (s)

(q) The power, by the preceding subsection, is to compound "for any term not exceeding five years." This subsection applies to the amount of commutation money for each day's statute labour, in respect of the period for which the commutation is made. The power by by-law to provide that a sum of money not exceeding $1 for each day's statute labour may or shall be paid in respect of such statute labour. There is no power to fix the amount of commutation, at a higher rate than $1 per day. See In re Tilt and Toronto, 13 U. C. Q. B. 447. The sum so fixed must apply equally to residents who are subject to statute labour and to non-residents in respect of their property. Rev. Stat. c. 193, sec. 95. Where the council of any township by by-law directs that a sum not exceeding $1 per day shall be paid as commutation for statute labour, the commutation tax is to be added in a separate column in the collector's roll and collected and accounted for like other taxes. Ib. sec. 94. Where no such by-law has been passed, the statute labour in townships, in respect of lands of non-residents, must be commuted at the rate of $1 for each day's labour. Ib. sec. 96. No by-law is necessary where the municipality desire to fix the commutation money at a less rate than $1 a day. Robinson v. Stratford, 23 U. C. Q. B. 99.

(s) Any person liable to pay the sum named in sec. 88 of the Assessment Act, or any sum for statute labour commuted under sec. 91 of that Act, must pay the same to the collector within two days after demand. In case of neglect or refusal to pay, the collector may collect the same by distress. If no sufficient distress can be found, any justice upon summary conviction, before a justice of the peace of the county in which the local municipality is situate, of refusal or neglect to pay the said sum and of there being no sufficient distress, the person in default incurs a penalty of $5, with costs; and in default of payment at such time as the convicting justice shall order, shall be committed to the common gaol of the county, and be there put to hard labour for any period not exceeding ten days, unless such penalty and costs, and the costs of the warrants of commitment and of conveying the said person to gaol, be sooner paid. Sec. 98. Any person liable to perform statute labour, under section 91 of the Act, not commuted, is required to perform the same when required to do so by the pathmaster or other officer of the municipality appointed for the purpose; and in case of wilful neglect or refusal to perform such Reducing or abolishing.

6. For reducing the amount of statute labour to be performed by the ratepayers or others within the municipality, or for entirely abolishing such statute labour; 46 V. c. 18, s. 521 (1-6).

Town Halls.

Acquiring land for a town hall in a town or village.

9. For acquiring lands in any town or incorporated village within, or partly within, the original boundaries of the township, for the purpose of erecting thereon a town hall, or for acquiring or acquiring a hall, within such town or village, for the purpose of a town hall;

Township and other meetings may be held and notices posted at such hall.

10. Any township owning, renting or otherwise acquiring a town hall in any such town or village may hold at such town hall, any meeting, nomination or election, or post at such town hall any notice, assessment roll, or voters' list, or thereat any other act required by law to be held, posted done in the township at the town hall, and any meeting any mutual insurance company, or upon the formation thereof, which is required by any statute to be held in the municipality, may lawfully be held in such hall. 46 V. c. s. 521 (7, 8).

Purchasing Wet Lands.

Purchase of wet lands from Government, etc.

12. For purchasing from the Government or any corporation or person, at a price (in case of Crown Lands, to be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, and which price the Lieutenant-Governor in Council is hereby authorized to fix), all the wet lands at the disposal of the Crown or such corporation or person in such township; and such lands may be sold accordingly to the corporation of such township;

Raising money for purchasing and draining same.

(a) The purchase and draining of such lands shall be one of the purposes for which any such corporation may raise money by loan or otherwise, or for which they may apply any of their funds not otherwise appropriated. (d)

May hold or dispose of such land

(b) The corporation of a township may possess and hold the land so purchased, and may, whenever they deem it expedient, sell or otherwise depart with or dispose of the same by public auction, in like manner as they may by law sell or dispose of other property, and upon such terms and conditions, and with such mortgages upon the land so sold, or other security for the purchase money or any portion thereof, as they may think most advantageous. (e)

Proceeds of sale

Boundaries of Marsh Lands.

Boundaries of marsh lands.

13. For declaring that in the case of any lands, the boundary line, or any part of the boundary line whereof passes through a marsh or swamp, or any land covered with water, the same shall, so far as respects that part of such boundary line which so passes through a marsh or swamp, or land covered with water, be deemed to be wholly enclosed within the Nuisances.

14. For regulating slaughter houses and manufactures or trades which may prove to be nuisances. (f) 49 V. c. 37, s. 14.

Dry Earth Closets.

15. For regulating the construction of dry earth closets and compelling the use of the same within such limits within the municipality as may be defined by the by-law (g) 50 V. c. 29, s. 31.

Obstructions to Streams and Water-courses.

16. For preventing the obstruction of streams, creeks and water-courses, (h) by trees, brushwood, timber, or other Preventing obstruction of streams, etc.

(f) See sub-s. 41 of sec. 489.

(g) See sub-s. 47 of sec. 489.

(h) According to the civil law which was in force in the province of Quebec until the division thereof in 1792, all rivers were distinguished as public and private. Such rivers were called public rivers which maintained a perpetual stream and were capable of being navigated; and an express interdict was made that nothing should be placed in a public stream whereby the navigation might be prejudiced. The civilians held that a stream might acquire the denomination of river either by its magnitude or by the common acceptation of the neighbourhood. A river was distinguished from a common current occasioned by land floods, because one had always a constant stream, regularly confined within banks, and the other might be casual and temporary, flowing over a level. A temporary inundation by floods was not held to deserve the appellation of a river, or to alter the original private nature of the soil. Wherever a public stream flowed, though it were through a private channel artificially made, it constituted that place public; but on the other hand, if the stream ceased to flow over it, then it became again private. Per Badgley, C. J., in Reg. v. Meyers, 3 L. C. C. P. 305-317.

In England there seem to be at common law three descriptions of rivers or water-courses:

1. Navigable rivers, technically so termed. See note 3 to sec. 535;

2. Rivers not navigable in law, but so in fact; and though private relation to the ownership of the soil, yet public highways in relation to the use of the water;

materials, and for clearing away and removing such obstructions at the expense of the offenders or otherwise;

Levying expenses.

17. For levying the amount of such expense in the same manner as taxes are levied; (i)

Penalties.

18. For imposing penalties on parties causing such obstructions. (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 521 (9-11.)

19. For regulating the distance from any public highway within the municipality within which unenclosed portable steam-engines may be used for running a saw mill or shingle mill, and preventing the use of the same for either of such purposes within such distance.

20. For imposing penalties on parties setting up or operating a portable steam-engine for either of such purposes in contravention of such by-law. 51 V. c. 28, s. 27.

When stream in any township cleared of obstructions, notice may be served on council of adjoining municipality requiring them to clear such stream within their municipality.

522. Whenever any stream or creek in any township is cleared of all logs, brush or other obstructions to the town line between such township and any adjoining township into which such stream or creek flows, the council of the township in which the creek or stream has been cleared of obstruction may serve a notice in writing on the head of the council of the adjoining township into which the stream or creek flows, requesting such council to clear such stream or creek

---

3. Private rivers, strictly so called. Per Macaulay, C. J., in Re v. Meyers, 3 U. C. C. P. 318.

The powers under this section are for preventing the obstruction of "streams, creeks, and water-courses," and appear to apply to the foregoing streams.

(i) In 1859 the defendants assuming to act under Con. Stat. C. c. 54, s. 277, passed a by-law requiring persons to clear out obstructions in streams across their lots, and providing that the council in their discretion might do the work and levy the cost thereof by special rate on the lands, imposing penalties, &c. The defendants cleared a stream on and above the plaintiff's land, and assessed him as a non-resident for $75, the amount expended on his lot, which was paid. The defendants did not, however clear the stream on the land below, nor compel the occupant to do so, whereby in times of freshet increased quantities of water were brought down and dammed back on the plaintiff's land. Held, that the defendants were not liable in an action for damages at the suit of the plaintiff. Danard v. Cunningham, 24 U. C. C. P. 590.

through their municipality; (l) and it shall be the duty of such last named council, within six months after the service of the notice as aforesaid, to enforce the removal of all obstructions in such creek or stream within their municipality, to the satisfaction of any person whom the council of the county in which the municipality whose council served the notice is situate, shall appoint to inspect the same. And if the council receiving such notice shall neglect the said duty, and by reason of such neglect any public road, street, bridge, or highway in either of the said townships shall be out of repair, the corporation in default, but not the corporation that served the notice, shall, besides being subject to any punishment or proceeding provided by law, be civilly responsible for all damages sustained by any person by reason of such want of repair; but the action must be brought within three months after the damages have been sustained. (m) 46 V. c. 18, s. 522; 51 V. c. 28, s. 28.

Repair of Roads.

523. No stone, gravel, or other material shall be put upon the roads for repairs during the winter months so as to interfere with sleighing; 48 V. c. 39, s. 20 part.

(l) Subsections 16-18 of the preceding section relate only to the removal of obstructions from a stream within a township: but where the stream flows into an adjoining township, so that it may be said to be the joint interest of both townships to have the stream cleared, provision is by this section made for clearing the stream through the second municipality. See also sec. 535, by sub-ss. 3 and 4 of which provision is made for the removal of obstructions from rivers forming boundary lines.

(m) This involves the appointment by the county council of an inspector. The work is to be done to his satisfaction. No provision in express terms, made for enforcing the duty cast upon the second township. Mandamus probably would be the proper mode of enforcing the performance of such a duty.

(a) Before 50 Geo. III. c. 1, sec. 12 of which, is the origin of t section, the Crown was not restricted from altering the original p of a township, although already laid out previous to making gr of lots of land therein. In the original survey, allowances for r were of course made; and if afterwards the lots were located, desc ed and granted in conformity thereto, it would be inferred that allowances so made were dedicated by the Crown as public ro but if, after survey, the Government deemed it expedient to alt or deviate from the principles of it in the future grant of the t ship, no law prevented the exercise of such a right. See Re Allen, 2 U. C. Q. B. O. S. 90; Field v. Kemp, 3 U. C. Q. B. O 374. In this respect the 50 Geo. III. c. 1, altered the law, a would now seem that if once a road acquires the legal character highway, by reason of the original survey or otherwise, it is the power of the Crown, by grant of the soil and freehold there a private person, to deprive the public of their right to use the See Reg. v. Bishop of Huron, 8 U. of any statute, or any roads whereon the public money has

The present enactment is in some respects clearly prospective as well as retrospective; for its language is, "all allowances made, &c., in any town, township, &c., already laid out, or hereafter [to be] laid out, &c." It is said that the fact of a Government surveyor laying out certain allowances for roads or streets in the plan of the original survey of Crown lands, would be sufficient to give such roads or streets the legal character of highways, though there may have been no stakes planted on the ground to mark them out, and that they would be deemed in law highways, before they were actually opened and used, and before statute labour or public money had been expended upon them. Per Robinson, C. J., in Reg. v. Great Western R. W. Co., 21 U. C. Q. B. 577; see also Reg. v. Hunt, supra; Rowe v. Sinclair, 26 U. C. C. P. 233. The fact of a Crown surveyor having laid out a road on the plan of the original survey makes it a highway, unless there be work on the ground clearly inconsistent with the plan. Carrick v. Johnston, 26 U. C. Q. B. 69. But where there is work on the ground, it must govern. Ib. Where trespass roads, are used, across the lands of private persons, owing to the original allowances not being opened, the right to exclusive possession of such roads would appear to vest in the proprietors of the soil on the road allowances being opened. See Borrowman v. Mitchell, 2 U. C. Q. B. 55; Dawes v. Hawkins, 4 L. T. N. S. 288; Reg. v. Plunkett, 21 U. C. Q. B. 536. But where a highway has been surveyed, and a road constructed which was intended to be on the line so surveyed, if the road be found to differ from the true astronomical line mentioned as its course on the original survey, it does not follow that the owner of the freehold is entitled to possession of the part erroneously travelled, especially if user for many years be shewn, and considerable expenditure of public money. Prouse v. Glenny 21 U. C. C. P. 560. Roads without a defined course or definite boundaries, are not to be deemed common and public highways. Scheringe v. Dowell, 2 F. & F. 845; Chapman v. Cripps, Ib., 864. And such cases should be dealt with in a liberal spirit, with a due regard to the customs and necessities of a new country, where roads are in their infancy and much land unenclosed. Per Hagarty, C. J., in Moore v. Esquesing, 21 U. C. C. P. 277-281. See further Bradburn v. Morris, 3 Ch. D. 812. See further Cubitt v. Lady Maxse, L. R. 8 C. P. 704.

A road although obstructed at one end may be deemed a highway. Wood v. Veal, 5 B. & Al. 454; Reg. v. Spence, 11 U. C. Q. (c) It must be shewn that statute labour was usually performed on the road. Where a witness stated that being pathmaster for two years some years since, he directed statute labour to be performed on the road, besides expending money of his own in improving it," it was held that the proof came very far short of what the statute requires. Reg. v. Plunkett, 21 U. C. Q. B. 536-541. See also Vincent v. Greenfield, 12 O. R. 297.

(d) "Any roads passing through the Indian lands" is indefinite language. So far there has not been any case decided as to the meaning. Probably "lands reserved for the Indians" are intended. See B. N. A. Act, sec. 91, sub-s. 24.

(e) "Shall be deemed common and public highways." These words have been read as if they were "shall be presumed to be common and public highways." In this view inquiry may be had as to the origin of the road, and if the facts repel the presumption, the road will not be held to be a common and public highway. Reg. v. Great Western R. W. Co., 32 U. C. Q. B. 506-517.

(f) Where it was shewn that the road was only travelled as a temporary substitute for the proper allowance which ran near by, and the latter was afterwards opened, the Court inclined to think that the former might, within the spirit of this clause, be fairly said to have been altered when the public allowance was opened, for which it had for mere convenience been substituted. Reg. v. Plunkett, 21 U. C. Q. B. 536.

according to law, shall be vested in Her Majesty, Her Heirs and Successors. 46 V. c. 18, s. 525.

the owner of the land. Lade v. Shepherd, 2 Str. 1004; Every v. Smith, 26 L. J. Ex. 344; Borrowman v. Mitchell, 3 U. C. Q. B. 135; Reeves v. Hawkins, 4 L. T. N. S. 288; Reg. v. Plunkett, 21 U. C. Q. B. 536. By this section it is provided that the soil and freehold of every highway or road, altered, amended or laid out according to law, shall be vested in Her Majesty. By sec. 527, it is provided that every public road, street, bridge or other highway shall be vested in the municipality, subject to any rights in the soil which the individuals who laid out such road, street, bridge or highway reserved. Between the two there is an apparent inconsistency. This may perhaps be reconciled by reading this section as applicable to roads laid out by public authority of some kind, and section 527 to roads laid out by private individuals over their own land. Per Burns, J., in Sarnia v. Great Western R. W. Co., 21 U. C. Q. B. 64; Mytton v. Sarnia, 26 U. C. Q. B. 64. See further Standly v. Perry, 3 S. C. R. 282; Phifer v. Cox, 8 Am. 98. The right of the public in either case is simply to use the road for the purpose of a highway. A user for different purposes, such as excavating soil, &c., would subject the person so using the road to an action at the suit of the owner of the soil. Cox v. Glue, 5 C. B. 533. But a plaintiff cannot maintain an action for a portion of a public highway. Sarnia v. Great Western R. W. Co., 21 U. C. Q. B. 59; Fitzgibbon v. Toronto, 25 U. C. Q. B. 61. But see Goodtitle d. Chester v. Alker, 1 Burr. 133.

The control of public highways has been by the Legislature committed to the municipal corporations. They have, subject to reservation, in sections 542 and 543, been entrusted with almost unlimited power of dealing with existing roads and opening new ones. See Attorney-General v. Nepean Road Co., 2 Grant, 635. The corporation of a county is liable to damages for neglect to keep in repair a county road or bridge. Harold v. Simcoe and Muskoka, 16 U. C. P. 43; 18 U. C. C. P. 1; see further, Reg. v. Markham, 22 U. C. C. P. 431, and may maintain an action for injury wrongfully done to a county road or bridge. Wellington v. Beatty, 14 U. C. C. P. 299; 16 U. C. C. Assumption of County Bridges by Villages.

Assumption by villages of bridges under control of county.

529. The councils of every county and incorporated village may pass by-laws for carrying out any arrangement between them for the assumption, by the village municipality, of any bridge within its limits, under the jurisdiction of the county council, and for such bridge being toll free; and for the payment by the village municipality to the county municipality of any part of the cost of the construction of such bridge;

After the passing of such by-laws the bridge shall be, and remain, under the exclusive jurisdiction of the village municipality; and the village municipality shall be subject to all the liabilities in the premises, which but for the transfer would have devolved on the county municipality; and the bridge shall be and remain toll free. 46 V. c. 18, s. 529.

The approaches for 100 feet to and next adjoining each end of all bridges belonging to, assumed by, or under the jurisdiction of any municipality or municipalities, shall be kept up and maintained by such municipality or municipalities; the remaining portion or portions of such approaches shall be kept up and maintained by the local municipalities in which they are situate. (n) The proper meaning to be attached to the words "approaches" in this section is all such artificial structures as may be reasonably necessary and convenient for the purpose of enabling the public to pass from the road on to the bridge and from the bridge on to the road. If no such artificial structures are required for that purpose there is no liability to keep up and maintain any. If such artificial structures are required, but not to the extent of 100 feet, the liability is only to keep up and maintain them to the extent to which they are required. Traversy v. Gloucester, 15 O. R. 214. This provision does not relieve the "local municipalities" from their liability under sec. 531. They have the right to enforce this provision against the bridge owners, but to the public they still remain liable under sec. 531.

(p) The duty is to keep every public road, street, bridge and highway in repair. In England an obligation to keep highways in repair rests at common law on the parishes and counties. Rex v. Bro[illegible]ton, 5 Burr. 2700; Rex v. Penderryn, 2 T. R. 513; Reg. v. Sh[illegible]

It would seem that in this country there is a similar common law obligation. Wellington v. Wilson, 14 U. C. C. P. 304; Harrold v. Simcoe, 16 U. C. C. P. 43; S. C., 18 U. C. C. But see Wallis v. Assiniboia, 4 Manitoba Rep. 89, where it was held by Taylor, J., on a review of the cases, that a municipality is not responsible civilly for damages occasioned by defective highways or bridges, unless made so by statute. "Apart from sec. 337 (same as this section) which imposes the burden of repairing the roads within the respective municipalities in which they are situated, the common law duty would apply to all such bodies to repair the roads which are within their jurisdiction, and for which they can raise the funds required for the purpose." Per Wilson, J., in Wellington v. Wilson, 14 U. C. C. P. 304. "We are of opinion for the reasons hereafter given and upon the authority of decided cases, that there is a clear common law liability resting on the defendants both civilly and criminally." Per Wilson, J., in Harrold v. Simcoe, 16 U. C. C. P. 50. "I take it that a corporation, charged with or assuming the custody of a road or bridge, and having funds or the means of obtaining funds, by exacting toll or levying a rate upon the members of the corporation, with which to make repairs, is at common law bound to keep such road or bridge in an efficient state. Per VanKoughnet, C., 18 U. C. C. P. 14. In the United States such a duty is altogether the creature of statute. Morey v. Newfane, 8 Barb. (N. Y.) 645; People v. Commissioners of Highways, 7 Wend. (N. Y.) 474; Chidsey v. Canton, 17 Conn. 475; Bigelow v. Randolph, 14 Gray (Mass.) 541; Hill v. Boston, 122 Mass. 344. See further, note z to sec. 535. Then, what is repair? It is impossible to give a definition which will apply to all cases. In general terms non-repair may be said to be any defect in the highway which renders it unsafe for ordinary travel. See Castor v. Uxbridge, 39 U. C. Q. B. 113; Hixon v. Lowell, 13 Gray (Mass.) 59; Barber v. Roxbury, 11 Allen (Mass.) 318, 320; Hewison v. New Haven, 34 Conn. 136, 142. As to liability for non-repair, see City of Halifax v. Walker, Cassell's Dig. 98; Colchester v. Watson, Ib., 99; Mayor of Portland v. Griffiths, 11 S. C. R. 333. In determining the question of non-repair, the nature of the country, the character of its roads, and the care usually exercised by municipalities in reference to such roads, must all be taken into account. Hull v. Richmond, 2 Wood & Mill. 337. A new side line or concession line, opened in a township only scattered, could scarcely be expected to be found in as perfect a condition as an old highway in a well settled township. Per Wilson, C. J., in Colbeck v. Brantford, 21 U. C. Q. B. 276. See also Reg. v. Board of Guardians, &c., 8 L. T. N. S. 383; O'Connor v. Arnabee, 35 U. C. Q. B. 73. The obligation expressed by the legal phrase "keep in repair," is satisfied by keeping the road in such a state as is reasonably safe and sufficient for the requirements of the particular locality, and in deciding whether any municipal body is chargeable with default, regard must be had to such con-the corporation shall, besides being subject to any punishsiderations as the means at the command of the council and th nature of the ordinary traffic of the locality. Lucas v. Moore,

L. J. 3; see further, note p to sub-s. 27 of sec. 496. "Any object in, upon or near, the travelled path, which would necessarily obstruct or hinder one in the use of the road for the purpose of travelling thereon, or which, from its nature and position, would be likely to produce that result, would generally constitute a defect in the highway." Per Carpenter, J., in Hewison v. New Haven, 34 Conn. 140. In England it is held that the public are to be restricted to the use of the travelled highway. "Although the highway be of varying and unequal width between fences on each side, the right of passage or way, prima facie, and unless there be evidence to the contrary, extends to the whole space between the fences, and the public are entitled to the use of the entire of it as the highway, and are not confined to the parts which may be metalled or kept in repair for the more convenient use of carriages or foot passengers." Per Martin, B., in Reg v. United Kingdom Telegraph Co., 3 F. & F. 74; see also Prev. Stat. c. 159, s. 138, and Tutill v. West Ham Local Board of Health, L. R. 8 C. P. 447; Reg. v. Fitzgerald, 39 U. C. Q. B. 297. It is held that in the United States in general the duty to keep in repair fully extends to the road actually used for travel, provided it is wide enough to be safe, and is in its actual condition, reasonably, safe for travellers who use due care. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed., sec. 1008. In a recent work the law is thus stated: "Making due allowance for the different conditions in villages and cities, and the more or less travelled thoroughfares; also for necessary obstructions of streets from time to time for various purposes, as before alluded to, the rule laid down in a a recent New York case is a safe one: 'As a general rule, the public are entitled not only to free passage along the streets, but to a free passage over each and every portion of every street.'" Morrill on Actions for Negligence in the Law of Highways p. 67. The duty to keep the road in repair extends as much to sidewalks for the use of pedestrians as to the travelled way for the use of carriages. Copeland v. Blenheim, 9 O. But it is not the duty to plank from each man's house across a ditch to the street, to keep such planks in repair. McCarthy v. Oshawa, 19 U. C. C. P. 245. Where the end of a side-walk was some four inches higher than the crossing, it was held that there was evidence of negligence. Goldsmith v. London, 11 O. R. 26. Corporations of townships may pass by-laws setting apart so much of any highway as they may deem necessary for the purpose of a footpath and may prevent persons travelling thereon on horseback or in vehicles. Sec. 567, sub-s. 4; but see Peck v. Batavia, 32 Barb. (N. Y.) 634. Should a railing or other barrier be necessary to the safety of passengers, it may be held to be the duty of the corporation to provide the same. Toms v. Whitby, 35 U. C. Q. B. 195; 37 U. C. Q. A duty is cast upon those who in the exercise of statutory powers divert a footpath to protect reasonably careful persons using the footpath from injury through going astray at the point of diversion. Hurst v. Taylor, 14 Q. B. D. 918. There is no duty to light a highway with lamps. Randall v. Eastern R. W. Co., 8 Am. 327. But when the corporation assumes to light a street and does it so negligently that a person is injured in consequence by falling into an excavation, the character of the light may be shewn as one of the elements to establish negligence. Freeport v. Isbell, 25 Am. 327. Allowing snow to lie on a macadamised road does not, as a general rule, come under the idea of allowing a road to be out of repair. Stewart v. Woodstock and Huron Road Co. 15 U. C. Q. B. 427. There is no such thing as an absolute right against the act of God and the processes of nature. Per Maule, J., in Reg. v. Hornsea, 2 C. L. R. 599. But even in the case of snow or ice, it is for a jury to say, under the particular circumstances of the place, season, &c., if the non-removal was non-repair. Caswell v. St. Mary's, &c. Road Co., 28 U. C. Q. B. 247. In Providence v. Clapp, 17 How. (U. S.) 161, the Court held that after a fall of snow it was the duty of the city to use ordinary care and diligence to restore the walk to a reasonably safe and convenient state, and that it was for the jury to find whether it was in such state or not. Mr. Justice Nelson in delivereing judgment, said: "The just rule of responsibility and the one we think prescribed by the statute, whether the obstruction be by snow or any other material, is the removal or abatement necessary so as to render the highway, street, or sidewalk at all times safe and convenient, regard being had to its locality and uses." Horton v. Ipswich, 12 Cush. See also Reg v. Williams, 9 App. Cas. 418. The mere fact that a highway is slippery from ice upon it, so that a person may be liable to slip and fall while using ordinary care, if the way is properly and well constructed, and there is no such accumulation of ice or snow as to constitute an obstruction, and nothing in the construction or shape of the way which occasions any special liability to form ice or accumulation of ice is not a defect or want of repair which will authorize a jury to find that it is not safe or convenient for travel. Staunton v. Springfield, 12 Allen, (Mass.) 566. See also Johnson v. Lowell, 12 Allen (Mass.) 572; Nason v. Boston, 14 Allen (Mass.) 508; Gilbert v. Roxbury, 100 Mass. 185; Cook v. Milwaukee, 24 Am. 183; see also Durkin v. Troy, 61 Barb. 437; Ringland v. Toronto, 23 U. C. C. P. 93. This doctrine only goes the length of holding that a way properly constructed and kept in such condition as to be reasonably safe and convenient for travel at all seasons of the year, is not defective by reason of the fact that it is covered with a smooth and even surface of ice, which renders slippery; but if the ice be allowed to remain in such an uneven and rounded condition on the surface that a person could not walk over it, using due care, without being in danger of falling down, the municipality may be held liable. Gordon v. Belleville, 15 O. R. 26; Bleakley v. Prescott, 12 A. R. 637; See also Morrill on Actions for Negligence in the care of Highways pp. 158-160. "In the case before us the question was, whether there was such evidence of non-repair that the jury might reasonably and properly conclude that there was negligence in the corporation not having had removed the piece of frozen snow or ice complained of, and that, without any want of reasonable and ordinary care upon the part of the plaintiff, the accident could and did happen, &c. Per Wynne, J., in Ringland v. Toronto, 23 U. C. C. P. 100. See Quincy v. Barker, 81 Ill. 300; Chicago v. Bixby, 84 Ill. 82. (Mass.) 396; Aldrich v. Pelham, 1 Gray (Mass.) 510. "Speaking for myself, I think that municipal corporations have often been too hardly and strictly dealt with as to the repair of roads. It is impossible for them so to perform their duties as to repairs and fences, &c., as to meet all the demands from time to time on them for every conceivable accident in every part of highway throughout their jurisdiction. Per Hagarty, C. J., Boswell v. Yarmouth, 4 A. R. 360. Where the iron cover of a valve connected with a water main was properly placed in a highway by the defendants, but in consequence of the ordinary wearing away of the highway the valve cover projected an inch above it, and the plaintiff's horse using the highway stumbled over the valve cover and was hurt, it was held in an action against the defendants, who were both the water authority and the highway authority, that it was the duty of the defendants to make such arrangements that works under their care should not become a nuisance to the highway. Kent v. Worthing Local Board, 10 Q. If such a body, by its servants, have the means of knowing that a highway is unfit for travel, and are negligently ignorant of its state, they are guilty of negligence. It is a defence that they appointed a proper overseer of highways and gave him means and authority to keep the road in good order. The corporation are, as it were, themselves the overseers of the highway, and on this principle bound to keep it in repair. They have not only the duty thrown upon them of keeping highways in repair, but have all necessary powers given to them for enabling them to form that duty. The corporation must at their peril answer for the consequences of the duty not being performed. The negligence of their officers or servants is no answer. Per Robinson, C. J., in Colbeck v. Brantford, 21 U. C. Q. B. 276; see also Ridgway v. Toronto, 28 U. C. C. P. 579; Tiffin v. McCormick, 34 Ohio St. 638; Palmer v. Lincoln, 5 Neb. 136. Nor is it any excuse that the alleged defect arose from the necessary repairs of the highway; for in such a case there should be a light or other signal to warn travellers of existing danger in the use of the way. Buffalo v. Holloway, 3 Seld. Where a statutory obligation is imposed on a person, he is liable for any injury that arises to others in consequence of its having been negligently performed, and this whether it was performed by himself or by a contractor employed by him. Grey v. Pullen, 5 B. & S. 970; S. C. in error, Ib. 980. If the defect arise otherwise than from faulty structure, and from some act other than the direct conduct of the defendants or their servants, and be a recent defect, it is generally necessary to shew that defendants or their servants had knowledge thereof, or were negligently ignorant of it. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed. secs. 1026, note 3. See also Castor v. Uxbridge, 39 U. C. Q. B. 113. Notice may be inferred from the notoriety of the defect, and from its continuance for such a length of time as to lead to the presumption that the proper officers of the municipality did in fact know, or with proper vigilance and care might have known, the fact. This latter is sufficient, because this degree of care and vigilance they are bound to exercise; and therefore if, in point of fact, they do not know of such defect, when by ordinary and due vigilance and care they would have known it, they must be responsible, as if they had actual notice. Per Shaw, C. J., in Reed v. Northfield, 13 Pick. (Mass.) 94; see further Castor v. Uxbridge, 30 U. C. Q. B. 113; Ridgway v. Toronto, 28 U. C. C. P. 579; Duck v. Toronto, 5 O. If the defect be palpable, dangerous, and has existed for a long time, the jury may very properly infer either negligent supervision or ignorance consequent upon and chargeable to such neglect, or evidence of the defect and a disregard of the duty to repair it. Manchester v. Hartford, 30 Conn. 118; see further Bloomington v. Bay, 42 Ill. 503; Howe v. Lowell, 101 Mass. 99; Donaldson v. Boston, 16 Gray (Mass.) 508; Colley v. Westbrook, 57 Me. 181; 2 Am. 30. C. Q. B. 251. But as to sewers, see Barton v. Syracuse, 36 N. Y. 54; Springfield v. LeClaire, 49 Ill. 476. There is no presumption of law as to notice. It is for a jury to decide whether from the circumstances, there was notice. Colley v. Inhabitants, 2 Am. 30; Hall v. Lowell, 10 Cush. (Mass.) 121, or express notice, Tripp v. Lyman, 37 Me. 250, is necessary by statute before there can be any right of action against the corporation. Where the encroachment of the sea destroyed the road, so that the subject of repair was not in existence, it was held that there was no obligation at an enormous cost to rebuild the road. Reg. v. Bamber, 5 Q. B. 279; Reg. v. Inhabitants of Hornsea, Dears. C. C. 291; but see Reg. v. Greenhow, 1 Q. B. D. 703. If the cost of rebuilding the road or making the necessary repair would exceed the statutable limit of taxation it may be that there would be no obligation to repair. See Grant v. Sligo Harbour Commissioners, L. R. 11 Ir. C. L. R. 190; Butler v. Bray Commissioners, Ib. 181. But in such a case it would it is apprehended be the duty of the corporation so to close up the road that there could be no danger in using or attempting to use it. Harrold v. Simcoe and Ontario, 16 U. The rule adopted in this Province is, that where two causes combine to produce the injury, both in their nature proximate, the one being the defect in the highway and the other some occurrence for which neither party is responsible, such as the accident of a horse running away beyond control, the corporation is liable, provided the injury would not have been sustained but for the defect in highway. Toms v. Whitby, 37 U. W. Co. v. Slattery, 3 App. Cas. 1155. It is not such negligence as to prevent a recovery, that the traveller did not know the road, and yet proceeded on a dark night. Williams v. Clinton, 28 Conn. 264. So driving in a violent storm through the streets of a city with which the driver was unacquainted was held not of itself to be such negligence as to prevent recovery by him for injuries sustained through defect in the street. Milwaukee v. Davis, 6 Wis. 377. Nor driving on the wrong side of the road. Damon v. Inhabitants of Scituate, 2 Am. 315. Being blind, halt, or deaf is not per se to be taken as evidence of contributory negligence. All persons, however blind, halt, or deaf, have a right to act on the assumption that the highway is reasonably safe. Davenport v. Ruckman, 37 N. Y. 568; Renwick v. New York Central R. W. Co., 36 N. Y. 133; Sleeper v. Sandown, 52 N. H. 244. "The streets and sidewalks are for the benefit of all conditions of people; and all have the right, in using them, to assume that they are in good condition, and to regulate their conduct upon that assumption. A person may walk or drive in the darkness of the night, relying upon the belief that the corporation has performed its duty, and that the street or walk is in a safe condition. He walks by a faith justified by law, and if his faith is unfounded, and he suffers an injury, the party in fault must respond in damages. So one whose sight is dimmed by age, or a near-sighted person whose range of vision was always imperfect, or one whose sight has been injured by disease, is each entitled to the same rights, and may act on the same assumption. Each, however, is bound to know that prudence and care are in turn required of him, and that if he fails in this respect, any injury he may suffer is without redress." Per Hunt, C. "It would be most unjust if, whenever an accident occurs, parties were to visit the unfortunate cause of it with the utmost punishment that they think an equivalent for the mischief done..... W.* 11 Jur. 760. "Cases sometimes occur in which a jury, being anxious to fully compensate a party, give damages so great as to induce the Court to interfere. In the great majority of cases, however, I am satisfied with the common sense views upon which they act." Per Cockburn, C. J., in Fair v. London and N. W. R. W. Co., 21 L. T. N. S. 327. A new trial will be granted in an action for personal injuries sustained through the defendant's negligence when the damages found by the jury are so small as to shew that they must have omitted to take into consideration some of the elements of damage. Phillips v. London and S. W. R. Co., 5 Q. B. D. 78. See also Lamblin v. South Eastern R. W. Co., 5 App. Cas. 352. The rule is that the damages should be such as to furnish a reasonable compensation for the injury sustained. Chicago v. Langlass, 4 Am. 903; see also Decatur v. Fisher, 53 Ill. 407. In assessing the compensation to a person injured through the negligence of a municipal corporation, the jury should take into consideration two things—first, the pecuniary loss he sustains by the accident; and, the injury he sustains in his person, or his physical capacity during life. When they come to the consideration of pecuniary loss they have to take into account not only his present loss, but his capacity to earn a future improved income. Then as to the second head, undoubtedly health is the greatest of all physical blessings, and to say that when it is utterly shattered, no compensation is to be given for it, is really perfectly extravagant. Per Cockburn, C. J., in Fair v. London and N. W. R. W. Co., 21 L. T. N. S. 327. It is difficult to conceive a case against a municipal corporation which would justify the allowance of exemplary damages. Chicago v. Mark, intestato, by reason of negligence within the meaning of the section. Turner v. Brantford, 13 U. C. C. P. 109. The plaintiff brought an action against two townships for non-repair of a road, and while it was pending before the Court of Appeal, there being some doubt as to his right to recover against the townships, he, as a matter of precaution, issued a writ against the county. (t) This proviso does not apply to roads laid out by the Government, and afterwards abandoned to the municipalities. Irwin v. Bradford, 22 U. C. C. P. 18. All the Legislature meant by it is, that the mere laying out of a road or building of a bridge by private owners shall not cast a criminal and civil responsibility on the municipality, or on the public represented by them. See Green v. Town of Bridge Creek, 20 Am. 18. "It is very easy to imagine cases where such a provision should most properly apply, especially in a country where such large open spaces are included in town and city limits—in some cases containing tracts of land in their original state. A freeholder might, merely for his personal convenience, stake out half-a-mile of road through his land, cleared or uncleared, and declare that he dedicated it to the public. Such a proceeding, by itself, would not render the municipality liable. But after this is done, and for a long series of years, the public (alias the municipality) use the road as a frequented thoroughfare; houses are built along it, as their chief if not their only way of egress and ingress, and which houses are forthwith taxed by the municipality; repairs are regularly done to it every year by the road officers out of public moneys;—it would then, I think, be an unparalleled state of the law if it lie in the mouth of the municipality to declare that they are under no responsibility." Per Hagarty, C. J., in Reg. v. Yorkville, 22 U. C. C. P. 431, 439. The adoption of a road by the parish is no more than the use of it by the public. Rex v. Leake, 5 B. & Ad. 484. A road dedicated to and used by the public, becomes a highway which the parish must repair, although neither the dedication nor the user has been adopted or acquiesced in by the parish. Ib., 469; see also Rex v. Lyon, 5 D. & R. 497; Reg. v. New-castle, 19 L. Jurisdiction of county councils over roads and bridges.

(u) It is by section 525 enacted that the soil and freehold of every highway or road, altered, amended or laid out according to law shall be vested in Her Majesty, her heirs and successors. It is by section 527 enacted that every public road, street, bridge, or other highway (not saying soil or freehold) in a city, township, town, or incorporated village, shall be vested in the municipality, subject to the rights in the soil which the individuals who laid out such road, street, bridge, or highway reserved. It is by this section enacted that the county council shall have exclusive jurisdiction over the roads and bridges mentioned, which may include roads and bridges such as are named in sections 525 and 527. An endeavour was made, in note to section 525, to reconcile sections 525 and 527, it is now necessary to reconcile this section with those sections.

The present section, it will be observed, omits all reference to "soil and freehold," as provided for in sections 525 and 527, and from the use of the word "vest," as used in the latter section. It declares that as to the roads and bridges intended, the county (not corporation) shall have exclusive jurisdiction. The reason probably led the Legislature to confer the exclusive jurisdiction counties over county roads and bridges, without vesting the property of them in the counties, was, that the county has no or exclusive locality constituting the county apart from the municipalities which compose it; and it might seem inconsistent after vesting every public road, street, bridge, or other highway in a city, township, town, or incorporated village, in the Crown particular local municipality, to vest any of the same in the corporation of the county, and therefore "the exclusive jurisdiction' was alone conferred upon the county council, as the grant of a power sufficiently large for all practical purposes, and indicating that the local municipality or municipalities are to be excluded from all interference in the exercise of that power. Per Adam Wilson, J., in Wellington v. Wilson, 16 U. C. C. P. 130. That every public road in a township is vested in the municipality thereof, must be taken with some limitation; for the county council has, under this section, exclusive jurisdiction over all roads, &c., lying within any town or village of the county which the county council, with the assent of such town or village municipality, assumes as a county road. See Per John Wilson, J., in Reg. v. Louth, 13 U. C. C. P. 615-618. This section, before amendment, applied only to roads or bridges within townships. Per Burns, J., in St. Geary Church v. Grey, 21 U. C. Q. B. 265. It will be observed that the powers of county county councils are now much extended.

(v) The first subjects in the section it is quite plain must be assumed by the county by by-law. The remaining three subjects are not within that part of the section to which the word "by-law" refers per Wilson, J., in O'Connor v. Otonabee, 35 U. C. Q. B. 82. The section does not in terms require that the last three subjects shall be assumed by by-law. The section reads better by itself that the county council shall have exclusive jurisdiction over these three subjects . . . It is the positive duty of the county to perform the necessary acts with respect to subjects two and three although the county council has passed no by-law assuming such subjects because the county council has exclusive jurisdiction over them. Ib. 83. The section must be read as modified by sections 535 and 556, and as meaning that every road dividing different townships shall, when assumed by the county council, be within the exclusive jurisdiction of the county, Ib., 84; see further, Reg. v. Wellington, 39 U. C. Q. B. 194. The case of Re McBride and York, 31 U. C. Q. B. 355, so far as it expresses that roads between townships without having been assumed by the county within the sole control of the county must be modified. See per Wilson, J., in O'Connor v. Otonabee, 35 U. C. Q. B. 85. The section was held in Reg. v. Peterborough, C. P. M. T. 1872, (not reported), to be inapplicable to roads between townships acquired by the county council by purchase, but this decision which was followed in Hacking v. Perth, 35 U. C. Q. B. 469, Boundary lines may be maintained by county.

533. Any county council may assume, make and maintain any township or county boundary line at the expense of the county, or may grant such sum or sums from time to time for the said purposes as they may deem expedient. (w) 46 V. c. 18, s. 533.

Improving and Maintaining County Roads.

Roads or bridges assumed by county councils.

534. When a county council assumes, by by-law, any road or bridge within a township as a county road or bridge, the council shall, with as little delay as reasonably may be, and at the expense of the county, cause the road to be planked, gravelled or macadamized, or the bridge to be built in a good and substantial manner; (x) and further, the

(w) By township boundary line, here mentioned, is intended a road which forms the boundary line of a township or boundary line between townships, and a road may also be a boundary line of a county or a boundary line between counties. In either event the county council may do one of two things—assume, make and maintain it, or grant money from time to time for the purpose of making or maintaining it.

(x) Power is often conferred on municipal councils without the imposition of a duty, in which case the exercise of the power is discretionary. See In re Weston Grammar School, 13 U. C. C. P. 423; Bell v. Crane, L. R. 8 Q. B. 481; Hovey v. Mayor, 43 Me. 322; Benjamin v. Wheeler, 8 Gray (Mass.) 413. But here the power is subordinate to the imposition of duty, viz., the council shall, with as little delay as possible, &c. See note b to sub-s. 30 of sec. 496. "It would seem to be reasonable, when a county council assumes by by-law, the exclusive jurisdiction over any road or bridge lying entirely within a township as a county road or bridge, that the council should be compelled to improve and sustain it at the expense of the county, which is just the very direction the statute makes, otherwise there can be no sense or purpose in the township being divested of the jurisdiction over its own internal roads. Per Wilson, J., in Rose and Stormont, 22 U. C. Q. B. 531, 536. The county cannot, in the absence of express legislation, cast the obligation of repairing a road or bridge so assumed on the local municipalities. Ib. 537. "To cast the burden upon the special locality, and to make it provide for the whole general advantage, where it has no power or jurisdiction, and its only privilege is to pay under the direction of another power, would be as onerous and unreasonable an obligation as can well be conceived." Per Wilson, J., Ib. Nor has the county, in the absence of express legislation, any power to cast upon the local municipalities the obligation to keep in repair a township road purchased by the county. Reg. v. Louth, 13 U. C. C. P. 615; but see sub-s. 6 of s. 566.

(y) The latter part of this section was an addition made to s. 3 of 29 & 30 Vict. c. 51. It was added by 34 Vict. c. 30, s. 8. Before the addition, the county council could only assume as county roads such roads or bridges as were within townships and were under the obligation to keep in repair any bridge within an incorporated village. Where such a bridge is across a river over 100 feet in width, and necessary to connect the parts of any public highway leading through the county, the obligation to build and maintain it is cast absolutely on the county, and very properly so, for a bridge so situated is really a part of the county road, which by statute is within the exclusive jurisdiction of the county; see further sec. 535, and notes thereto.

(z) A bridge is defined as being any structure of wood, stone, brick or iron, raised over a river, pond, or lake for the passage of men and animals. See Reg. v. Derbyshire, 2 Q. B. 745; State v. Gorham, 37 Me. 451; Sussex v. Strader, 3 Harris (N. J.) 108. The word "bridge," may include such abutments as are necessary to make the structure accessible and useful. Rex v. West Riding of York, 7 East 596; Bardwell v. Jamaica, 15 Vt. 438; Tolland v. Wellington, 26 Conn. 578; Commonwealth v. Deerfield, 6 Allen (M. 449. A bridge is said to be a mere substitute for a ferry, per Savage, C. J., in People v. Saratoga and Rensselaer R. W. Co., 3 Wend. (N. Y.) 133. The duty of repairing bridges in England, in absence of legislation to the contrary, rested on the county, 2 700, 701; Rex. v. West Riding of Yorkshire, 2 East 342, 356; Livingston, 12 N. Y. 52; Follett v. People, Ib. 273; People v. O 6 Hill (N. of a bridge over a river forming or crossing a boundary line Whether the particular structure is a bridge or not, if there be reasonable evidence as to it, is a question for the jury. Reg. v. Gloucestershire, 1 C. & M. 506; Tolland v. Wellington, 26 Conn. 578. The common law responsibility of counties to repair bridges has never prevailed in the United States. Hedges v. Madison, 1 Gilm. (Ill.) 567; Hill v. Livingston, 12 N. Y. 52; Huffman v. San Joaquin, 21 Cal. 426. The common law obligation seems to prevail in Ontario, with this qualification, that it is cast upon the local municipality or the county according to the nature of the structure, position of the bridge, and other surrounding circumstances. Harold v. Simcoe and Ontario, 16 U. C. C. P. 43; 18 U. C. C. P. 9; Reg. v. Yorkville, 22 U. C. C. P. 431. But see Wallis v. Municipality of Assiniboia, 4 Manitoba 89. It is by this section expressly declared to be the duty of county councils to erect and maintain bridges over rivers forming or crossing boundary lines between two municipalities in the county (excepting the case of a city or separated town. See Reg. v. Carleton, 10 U. C. R. 277; In re Townships of Moulton and Canborough, and the County of Haldimand, 12 A. R. 503.

The Legislature has not given any definition as to the meaning of the word "river." The Legislature in some of the sections of the Municipal Act uses the word "stream," in others, "water-course," in others, "river," and in others, "creek." See ss. 532, 534, 535, and 536. The words "stream" and "water-course," may be looked upon as synonymous, but certainly not the words "river" and "creek." Every stream may be said to be a water-course, and every water-course may be said to be a stream of water; but every river cannot with propriety be said to be a creek, or every creek a river. The stream crossing the public road between the townships of Ellice and Downie at Sebringville, which is from thirty to forty feet in width with clearly defined banks, and which the people there call "Black Creek," has been held to be a river, within the meaning of this section. McHardy v. Ellice, 1 A. R. 628; reversing 37 U. C. Q. B. 398. But even where the stream is beyond controversy a river, the county council must have some discretion as to the place where the bridge should be erected, and must be allowed to some extent to judge of the necessity of the erection. Kinnear v. Haldimand, 30 U. C. Q. B. 398; Re Wescott and Peterborough, 33 U. C. Q. B. 280; Re Haldimand, 38 U. C. Q. B. 396; See Histon v. McGillivray, 19 A. R. p. 774; In re Brooks and Haldimand, 3 A. R. 73, reversing 41 U. C. Q. B. 381. The leading road through the county of Wellington running north and south, crosses the Grand River in the village of Fergus, by the Tower street bridge, less than 100 feet wide, which was built in 1834, and by that bridge only till 1850, when another bridge more than 100 feet wide, was built by a private owner of property in the village, over the river at St. David street, about 300 yards from Tower street. The county never by by-law assumed either bridge, but had granted aid in keeping up both. Held that the county could not be compelled to maintain the St. David street bridge. Reg. v. Wellington, 39 U. C. Q. B. 194. Indictment would appear to be the proper remedy in all cases where a municipality is charged with the non-repair of an existing road or bridge. Reg. v. Commissioners of Llandilo Roads, 2 T. R. 232;

A bridge may be so constructed over a navigable river, in the absence of legislative authority, as to be a public nuisance. Reg. v. West Riding of Yorkshire, 2 East. 342; Ex parte Jennings, 6 Conn. 518; Arundel v. McCulloch, 10 Mass. 70; Lansing v. Smith, 4 Wend. (N.Y.) 65; Thomas v. Leland, 24 Wend. (N. Y.) 65; Philadelphia v. Field, 58 Pa. St. 320. But because it may be a nuisance to those navigating the river, it does not follow that those who do not navigate it can complain. Fort Plain Bridge Co. v. Smith, 30 N. Y. 44. A proviso in a charter to erect a bridge over a navigable river, in such a manner as not to injure, stop, or interrupt the navigation, is a limitation of the franchise only, but not of the liability to persons injured when navigating. Monongahela Bridge Co. v. Kirk, 46 Pa. St. 112. Such a bridge must, if necessary, be altered to accommodate increased travel. Manly v. St. Helen's Canal and R. W. Co., 2 H. & N. 840.

(a) The obligation to repair applies whether the bridge was originally constructed by a municipality or the Crown. The state of repair in which such a bridge was, when owned by the Crown, is no measure of subsequent liability. So long as the bridge is kept open, it must be kept reasonably safe for the use of the public. Harrold v. Simcoe and Ontario, 16 U. C. C. P. 43; 18 U. C. C. P. 9; Reg. v. Carlow, 1 O. road where it deviates as aforesaid shall be held to be a bridge over a river crossing a boundary line within the meaning of this section. 48 V. c. 39, s. 22.

(3) Where a river or stream forms a boundary line between two or more municipalities within a county, it shall be the duty of the council of the county to keep such river or stream free from all accumulation of driftwood or fallen timber now or hereafter accumulated; (d)

(4) In the case of any river or stream which forms a boundary line between two or more counties, or a county, city, or separated town, it shall be the duty of the councils of the county or counties, city and separated town respectively to keep such river or stream free from all accumulation of driftwood or fallen timber now or hereafter accumulated; and in case the councils fail to agree as to the respective portion of the expense to be borne by the municipalities interested the same shall be decided by arbitration under the provisions of this Act, and the award made shall be final; (e) 51 V. c. 28, s. 31.

Maintaining Township Roads.

536. All township boundary lines (f) not assumed by the county council shall be opened, maintained and improved by the township councils, except where it is necessary to erect or maintain bridges over rivers forming or crossing boundary lines between two municipalities. 46 V. c. 18, s. 536. Boundary lines not assumed by county councils.

537. Township boundary lines forming also the county boundary lines, (g) and not assumed or maintained by the Township boundaries, being also county boundaries.

(d) As to powers of townships with respect to the removal of obstructions in streams, see sec. 521, sub-ss. 16 to 18 and sec. 522.

(e) See sec. 385 et seq. See also notes to sec. 65 of the Assessment Act.

(f) By "township boundary line" is probably meant a road forming a township boundary. The object of the section is to relieve municipalities from the burden of keeping roads in repair, and throw the burden upon the local municipalities adjacent thereto. To throw the burden upon a particular locality of keeping in repair a county road, used by the whole county, seems unfair. See remarks of Adam Wilson, J., in Rose and Stormont, 22 U. C. Q. B. 537; see also, under, note z to sec. 535, but such is apparently the policy of this section.

(g) Roads forming township boundary lines, when not assumed by respective counties interested, shall be maintained by the respective townships, bordering on the same, except where it is necessary to erect or maintain bridges over rivers forming or crossing boundary lines between two municipalities. 46 V. c. 18, s. 537.

Roads Under Joint Jurisdiction.

Joint jurisdiction over certain roads.

538. In case a road lies wholly or partly between a county, city, town, township, or incorporated village, and an adjoining county or counties, city, town, township or incorporated village, (h) the councils of the municipalities be-the county council, are to be opened, maintained and improved by the township councils; but when forming county boundary lines they are, unless assumed by the counties, to be under this section, maintained "by the respective townships bordering on the same," except where it is necessary to erect or maintain bridges over rivers forming or crossing boundary lines between two municipalities. A different policy prevails as to bridges over rivers, ponds or lakes forming or crossing boundary lines between two municipalities. See sec. 532.

(h) In case a road lies wholly or partly between a county, &c., and an adjoining county, &c. A road situate wholly within a city, town, township, or incorporated village, is vested in the local municipality. See. 527. "When, therefore, the defendants assert that the road in question is a county road, properly constituted as such under the provisions of the statute, they are asserting that to be the case which we see could not be." Per Burns, J., in St. George's Church, v. Grey, 21 U. C. Q. B. 265, 268. When is a road to be said to lie wholly between a county, &c., and an adjoining county, &c.? Does the word "between" mean that the road separates the two municipalities, so that a traveller might go along it being in neither one municipality nor the other? Such was the interpretation given to the 39th section of 12 Vict. c. 81, in Woods v. Wentworth and Hamilton, 6 U. C. C. P. 101. And such appears to be the interpretation of this section Per Draper, C. J., in Harrold v. Simcoe and Pel, 18 U. C. C. P. 10. "When you speak of something lying between two other places or things, you mean, in the accurate use of language, something lying between the boundaries or limits of the other two places or things—something dividing them, within the borders of that which does divide them, you do not in such a case employ the word, 'between' as meaning something common to two parties or places, as when you speak in common ordinary terms of a well or a stable as in use between two parties, or common to both," &c. Per VanKoughnet, C., Ib. 15. When is a road said to be partly between two municipalities? This question can be best answered by a decided case. A road had for more than fifty years been used as a road between the townships of York and Vaughan, the original allowance for road being to the north of it, and this road being in fact wholly within the township of York, and part of lot 25. The owner of the lot had been indicted for closing up this road and convicted in 18[illegible]. The corporation of the township of York then passed a by-law tween which the road lies shall have joint jurisdiction over the same, (i) although the road may so deviate as in some places to be wholly or in part within one or either of them; (j) and the said road shall not include a bridge over a river forming or crossing the boundary line between two municipalities, other than counties. (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 538.

Both councils must concur in by-laws respecting them.

539 No by-law of the council of any one of such municipalities with respect to such last mentioned road or bridge, (l) shall have any force until a by-law has been close it, reciting that there was no further necessity for it by reason of the road allowance. Held, that the road was one dividing the townships, and though in fact wholly within the township of York, could not be legally closed by the council of that township. In re McBride and York, 31 U. C. Q. B. 355. The section applies where the deviation has been made to obtain a good line of road—not in order to suit the convenience of either municipality. Per Robinson, C. J., In re Brant and Waterloo, 19 U. C. Q. B. 450.

(i) It is doubtful if the words used in this section, conferring joint jurisdiction, standing by themselves, mean anything more than that the municipalities jointly interested are to concur in any regulation necessary to be applied to the road or bridge in regard to tolls or otherwise. In re Brant and Waterloo, 19 U. C. Q. B. 450; see further note u to sec. 532. But the words "duty and liabilities," used in sec. 540, may be held to give a more extended meaning to them. If they mean more, so as to render the corporation liable for neglect to repair, the obligation must be proved as laid. Wood v. Wentworth and Hamilton, 6 U. C. C. P. 101. That the words do mean more would appear to follow from the decision in Harrold v. York and Ontario, 16 U. C. C. P. 43; 18 U. C. C. P. 9, if that case be taken as determining the liabilities, under the statute, of the corporation there sued.

(k) Much difficulty was created owing to the language used in the section as formerly framed, 29 & 30 Vict. c. 51, s. 329. It was held, when the words used were "In case a road or bridge lies," &c., that such was a nominative case, and that the Act did not apply to the case of a bridge forming part of a road. In re Brant and Waterloo, 19 U. C. Q. B. 450; see difference of opinion on the point in Harrold v. Simcoe and Ontario, 18 U. C. C. P. 10, 17. The original Act was in this respect first amended by 33 Vict. c. 26, ss. 1, 8, by striking out the words "or bridge." See Beaver v. Manchester, 26 L. J. Q. B. 311. If the road were held to embrace a bridge forming part of the road, the liability to repair the bridge must be the same as the liability to keep the road in repair. See McHardy v. Ellice, 37 U. C. Q. B. 580; 1 A. R. 628.

Roads, etc., provincial works vested in Her Majesty, etc., not to be interfered with.

542. No council shall interfere with any public road or bridge vested as a provincial work in Her Majesty, (q) or in any public department or board and the Lieutenant-Governor shall by Order in Council have the same powers as to such road and bridge as are by this Act conferred on municipal councils with respect to other roads and bridges; (r) but the Lieutenant-Governor may by proclamation declare any public road or bridge under the control of the Commissioner of Public Works, to be no longer under his control (s) and in that case, after a day named in the proclamation, the road or bridge shall cease to be under the control of the Commissioner, and no tolls shall be thereafter levied thereon by him, and the road or bridge shall thenceforth be controlled and kept in repair by the council of the municipality. sections 526, 527, and 532 have already conferred or imposed every road and bridge upon some municipality, excepting those Government works specially exempted under section 542. The section under consideration was, it is presumed, inserted ex abundanti cautela, and not because there was any case or special property upon which it can really operate. Per Adam Wilson, J., in Harrold v. Simcoe and Ontario, 16 U. C. C. P. 5), 51.

(q) All public roads, with few exceptions, are vested in the municipality in which situate. Sec. 527. Among the exceptions may be assumed roads coming under the operation of this section, viz., public roads, &c., vested as Provincial works in Her Majesty, or in any public department or board, such as the Department of Public Works.

(r) There is a difference between a power and an obligation. See note z to sec. 534. The corporation in which a public road is vested is not only empowered to keep it in repair, but is bound to do so. Sec. 531. The power, without the obligation, is here conferred upon the Governor in Council.

(s) Such a proclamation was presumed, in an action to recover damages for non-repair, where the local municipality was shewn to have used the road as a road vested in them. Irwin v. Bradford, 22 U. C. P. 18, 421. See also Knight v. Medora and Wood, 11 O. R. 14 A. R. 112.

(t) Suppose the public way to be a bridge, and that bridge crossing a stream which is a boundary line between two counties, but not in favour of them, on whom devolves the obligation to keep such a bridge in repair after it ceases to be under the control of the Commissioner of Public Works? In Harrold v. Simcoe and Ontario, 16 U. C. C. P. 43; 18 U. C. C. P. 9, the obligation was held to rest on the corporations of the two counties. "I think that looking at the question before us, we may properly give to the word 'between,' the popular rather than the more limited, though possibly more rigidly correct sense; and that when a bridge is constructed over navigable waters, and connects two opposite shores lying in different counties, we should hold such bridges to be between such two counties and that they are jointly answerable for its maintenance, even though the counties, as respectively containing the townships between the shores of which the current flows, reach to the middle of the water, and are divided only by the invisible untraceable line called medium filum aquæ." Per Draper, C.J., in Harrold v. Simcoe and Ontario, 18 U. C. C. P. 13.

(u) The power to legislate as to municipal institutions in the Province is by the B. N. A. Act, sec. 92, sub-s. 8, vested in the Legislature of each Province. But whether a public work be vested in Her Majesty as representing the Province, or the Dominion, see Attorney-General v. Harris, 33 U. C. Q. B. 94, it is equally beyond the power of a local municipal Act to interfere with or control it without the consent of the Queen. The previous section makes this the law in reference to Provincial works, vested in Her Majesty. This has reference to Dominion works and Dominion property.

(v) The object of this part of the section is to protect roads, &c., laid out through ordnance lands. The ordnance Transfer Act of 1856 divided ordnance lands into two schedules; the first schedule comprising all lands vested in one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and the second such lands as are reinvested in the Crown for the public uses of the Province.

Roads Necessary for Ingress and Egress.

544.—(1) No council shall close up any public road or highway, whether an original allowance or a road opened by the Quarter Sessions or any municipal council, or otherwise legally established, whereby any person will be excluded from ingress and egress to and from his lands or place of residence over such road, (x) unless the council, in addition to compensation, also provides for the use of such person some other convenient road or way of access to the said lands or residence. (y) 46 V. c. 18, s. 544.

Proviso.

(x) The power of a municipal council to close up a highway is subject to certain limitations. One of these, under this section, is against doing so in the case of a road "whereby any person will be excluded from ingress and egress to and from his lands or place of residence over such road." "The Legislature says in effect, 'You must not stop up any road whereby any person will be excluded from ingress or egress to and from his lands or place of residence over such road.' If, then, such a road be stopped, most certainly all persons must be excluded from ingress and egress to or from their lands over that road. There can be no ingress or egress over a stopped-up road. Therefore, I presume, all persons who come into their lands directly from that road, or pass from their lands directly on to that road, are to be protected. This would leave all persons who merely used the road as a convenience, but had no lands abutting thereon, from or to which ingress or egress would be effected, without the protection of the clause." Per Hagarty, C. J., in Moore and Esquesing, 21 U. C. C. P. 277, 285. The omission in a by-law which closes up a road to provide some other convenient road or way of access does not render it void, but only subject to be quashed upon application to the court within a year. Vandecar v. East Oxford, 3 A. R. 131. If a council closes up a road, no other way being provided, the by-law may at once be moved against. An applicant affected is not bound to wait until the road is actually closed before coming to the court. Re Laplante and Peterborough, 5 O. R. 634. The onus of shewing that another convenient road is open is upon the corporation. Adams v. East Whitby, 9 O. R. 473. The court will not, on the application of a person who merely used the road as a convenience but had no lands abutting thereon, quash a by-law for alleged contravention of this section. In re Falle and Tilsonburg, 23 U. C. C. P. 167. See also Hewison v. Ambroke, 6 O. R. 170.

(y) The effect of the latter part of the section is to permit a council to close up such a road as mentioned in the first part of the section, provided compensation be paid to the persons directly affected, and a substituted road or way of access be provided. In re Annis and Oriposa, 25 U. C. C. P. 133; In re Thurston and Verulam, Ib. 593. This provision applies to cases where the only means, or the only convenient means of access is over the road closed up, and not where

(2) If the compensation offered by the council, to the owner of the lands, nor the road provided for the owner in lieu of the original road, as a means of egress and ingress, is not mutually agreed upon between the council and the owner or owners, (as the case may be), then in such case, the matters in dispute shall be referred to arbitration, under the provisions of this Act respecting arbitration. Width of Roads.

Width of roads.

545. No council shall lay out any road or street more than one hundred nor less than sixty-six feet in width, except where an existing road or street is widened, or unless with the permission of the council of the county in which the municipality is situate; but any road when altered, may be of the same width as formerly, and no highway or street shall be laid out by any owner of land of a less width than sixty-six feet, without the consent of the council of the municipality. (a) 46 V. c. 18, s. 545.

there is another existing though less convenient way of access. McArthur and Southwold, 3 A. R. 295. It is not a condition precedent, that compensation should be provided for in the by-law closing up the road. Ib. See also Re Vashon and the Corporation of Hawkesbury, 30 U. C. C. P. 194. In Indiana it has been held that a municipal corporation cannot close up a street without the consent of the landowners whose land abuts thereon, or compensating them for the damage. See Haynes v. Thomas, 7 Ind. 38; Indianapolis v. Croas, Ib. 9; Tate v. Ohio and Mississippi R. W. Co., Ib. 479.

(z) See secs. 385 et seq.

(a) The object of this section is to make all highways at least six feet, or one chain, in width. A maximum width of one hundred feet is also given. The consent of the county council though a condition precedent to the laying out of the road of a greater or less width than that specified, is not a condition precedent to the passing of the by-law. Re Ostrom v. Sidney, 15 O. R. 43. A by-law establishing a new road should on the face of it shew the width of the road. In re Smith and Euphemia, 8 U. C. Q. B. 222, and should, it seems, when it authorizes a road through a man's land, shew where it starts and what course it takes. Dennis v. Hughes, Ib. 444. A by-law to establish a road must on its face shew the boundaries of the road or refer to some document wherein they are defined. The intention of the framers of the by-law cannot be ascertained by extrinsic evidence. St. Vincent v. Greenfield, 12 O. R. 297. See also In re Brouse v. York, 8 U. C. Q. B. 596; McIntyre v. Bosanquet, 11 U. C. Q. B. The same strictness does not of course apply to a by-law closing an old road. Fisher v. Vaughan, 10 U. C. Q. B. 492. Where a road was not sufficiently described, but it appeared that on the ground it was defined by fences on each side, and had been trav for eight years, the Court refused to quash the by-law. Hodgson v. York, Peel and Ontario, 13 U. C. Q. B. 268. The public are prima facie entitled to the use of the entire width as a highway. See notes to sec. 531.

(b) Non-user of a highway is not enough to destroy its character as a highway. Badgley v. Bender, 3 U. C. Q. B. O. S. 221. Nash v. Glover, 24 Grant 219. The common law mode of closing a highway was by writ ad quod damnum. Rex. v. Ward, Cro. Car. 266. This both in England and here has fallen into disuse because of less expensive and more convenient procedure enacted by statutes. Statutes authorizing an interference with the rights of the public over highways are strictly construed. Ib. The conditions here mentioned are precedent to the validity of the by-law. In re Nichol and Alnwick, 41 U. C. Q. B. 577. The declaration as here that no council shall pass a by-law until, &c., enables the council to pass the by-law subject to the conditions imposed. The powers here inferentially conferred are directly conferred by sec. 550, sub-s. 1. It was at one time supposed that a municipal council could not, in any case legally close up or vacate a road, except for the purpose and with the view of substituting some other line of road in its place. See Welch v. Nash, 8 East. 394; De Ponthieu v. Pennyfather, 5 Taunt. 634; Wright v. Frant, 4 B. & S. 118; Reg. v. Shiles, 1 Q. B. 919; Reg. v. Phillips, L. R. 1 Q. B. 648. But the Court, in Johnston v. Reesor, 10 U. C. Q. B. 101, refused to give effect to such a construction, saying, "Here was a road, first allowed at an early period as a mere accommodation to the immediate neighbours for enabling them to pass through private property by a short road from one concession to another, instead of going round by the nearest public allowance, where the ground might have been wet or unfavourable. It may be very reasonable afterwards, when the township becomes cleared and populous, and roads can be made more easily, to relieve the proprietor of the land from the disadvantage of having a thoroughfare through his property, and to leave only the public allowance." Ib. 103-104; see Reg. v. Plunkett, 21 U. C. Q. B. 536; Moore and Esquesing, 21 U. C. Q. B. 277. This is supposing the owners of the land abutting thereon to be willing that the road should be so closed. But if the effect of closing the road will be to prevent such owners from ingress and egress to and from their lands or places of residence over the road, the same cannot be closed without compensation to them, and some other road or way of access as a substitute. Sec. 544. Subject to this and other statutory restrictions, the municipal corporation has full power to close up highways within the municipality. See Gray v. Iowa Land Co., 26 Iowa 387; Kimball v. Kenosha, 4 Wis. 321; Weber's Road, 28 Pa. St. 109; Commissioners v. Gas Co., 12 Pa. St. 318; Jersey City v. State, 1 Vroom (N. closing up square, park, &c., see Attorney-General v. Toronto, Grant 436 ; and as to closing up a highway so as to make it a cul-de-sac, see Mayor, &c., of Montreal v. Drummond, 1 App. Cas. 384. See also note f to sec. 504. It has been held that a municipal corporation, under power "to locate and establish streets and alleys and vacate the same," had power to shut up or vacate streets, and that such a power, when exercised with a due regard to individual rights, is not to be restrained at the instance of property owners claiming that the streets be for ever kept open and dedicated to the public. Gray v. Iowa Land Co., 26 Iowa, 357; distinguished from Warren v. Lyons, 22 Iowa 351. If no other disposition were made of the stopped-up road, the soil and freehold would be and become the soil and freehold of the owner of the soil, relieved of the easement in favour of the public. Barclay v. Howell's Lessee, 6 Pet. (U. S.) 498, 513 ; Harris v. Elliott, 10 Pet. (U. S.) The conveying away the land to another, where the corporation has authority to do so, is a distinct matter altogether, and not necessarily to the extinction of the public right of way. Johnson v. Reesor, 10 U. C. Q. B. 101. Counties have, in certain cases, power to stop highways and convey the right of way. Sec. 566 ; and townships in certain cases, subject to the confirmation of the county council. Sec. 567, sub-s. 2.

(c) It ought to be observed that notice is requisite, not only before a council shall pass a by-law for "stopping up, altering, widening, diverting, or selling any original allowance," but "for establishing, opening, stopping up, altering, widening, diverting, or selling any original public highway, road, street, or lane." Under the old Acts it was held that no notice was necessary before passing a by-law to open a new road ; the clause then in force only applying to by-laws "for stopping up, altering, widening or diverting a road," &c. Dennis v. Hughes, 8 U. C. Q. B. 444. It was at one time contended that municipal councils had only authority to change the direction of existing roads, and to widen or otherwise alter them, not to make new roads ; but it is now settled that such councils have power to make new roads through any person's lands, not merely as substitutes for other roads running near and between the same points, but to afford a passage from one point to another where there has been no passage before. Ib. It seems that a road is not made, &c., when a by-law authorizing the making of it is passed, but only that it is authorized to be made, &c., by the proper officer acting in a reasonable manner. Ib. As to stopping up, &c., it is not necessary for the council to do more than close or abolish the highway by their enactment. They are not required to fence it in, or to place any physical obstruction in the way of persons passing. They only put an end to the right of using it, and consequently to all obligation on the part of any person to respect it as a highway. Johnson v. Reesor, 10 U. C. Q. B. A by-law closing a road across a lot where there was more than one road was held void for uncertainty in not shewing which road was meant. Wannamaker v. Green, 10 O. R. 457. If, therefore, the final publication be on a Saturday, that week would expire on the following Friday, and so for each successive week. Where the person intending to oppose a by-law to open a road appeared before the council, and took only general grounds of opposition, the Court afterwards, when he applied to quash the by-law on grounds more specific, declined to interfere. In re Scarlett and York, 14 U. Mistakes in Opening Road Allowances.

Municipality and officers thereof protected from actions arising from mistakes in opening road allowances.

549—(1) In case any municipality in whose jurisdiction an original road, or allowance for road is situate, shall open that which they take and believe to be the true site of the same, and in case the municipality, their officers and servants shall act in good faith, and shall take all reasonable means to inform themselves of the correctness of their line and work, and in case it appears that the road being opened, although not or not altogether upon the true line of the original road or allowance for road, is nevertheless, from any difficulty in discovering correctly the true line, as near to, or as near upon, the true line as under the circumstances could then be ascertained, no action shall be brought by any person against the municipality, their officers or servants, for or in respect of the opening of such road, or allowance for road, or for any other act or matter whatsoever connected with or arising from the same. (o)

(m) In the case of a certified copy of an order or resolution of the Quarter Sessions, no seal is made necessary. If given under the hands of the Clerk of the Peace, no more will be required for purposes of registration.

(n) It is not intended to give municipal councils jurisdiction to try and determine disputed boundaries, &c., but only to institute an investigation respecting such roads or lines, &c., as is material to the exercise of the jurisdiction which the councils possess. This section is founded on s. 126 of 12 Vict. c. 81.

It is discretiona with and not obligatory upon a municipal council to open a ro allowance, and the fact that a by-law has been passed, does n create such an obligation. Re Wilson and Wainfleet, 10 P. The statute 12 Vict. c. 81, s. 60, empowered municipal corp ations to pass by-laws not only for opening, making, preser improving, repairing, widening, altering, and diverting streets, for levelling, raising, and lowering them, and omitted in any man to provide for payment of compensation to persons whose land injuriously affected by the exercise of these powers; and so it held that such persons could not at law maintain actions for d ages arising to their property from a change of level in streets. Croft v. Peterborough, 5 U. as may be found necessary, judicious or convenient for the public use, not exceeding what is reasonably requisite and proper, and doing no unnecessary injury to the property of others, but using due care and precaution to avoid injury to the same. But if the work cannot be justified on such grounds, then, in the absence of any by-law, I think the defendants would be responsible to the injured parties." Again he says, "Whatever is cast upon the defendants as executive duties, under the statutes in relation to the maintenance or repair of the roads, or whatever is fairly included in those terms, they may do without a by-law. When not so, and it is only within their discretion in the exercise of their legislative powers, it would be otherwise." In Reid v. Hamilton, 5 U. C. C. P. 287, he said, "My present impression is, that whenever the acts to be done by the municipality will invade private rights, which may be so invaded legally through the medium of by-laws, and for which if not legalized by the statutes creating or the powers conferred upon the corporation, the party injured may maintain an action against the wrong-doer, a by-law is essential to enable the municipality to justify the act, unless it can be shewn to be a repair of a highway," &c. See also Pratt v. Stratford, 14 O. R. 260. The council of a city, town or incorporated village has power to pass by-laws for ascertaining and compelling owners, tenants, and occupants to furnish the council with the levels of their cellars, such levels to be with reference to a line fixed by the by-laws, sec. 496, sub-s. 32; and before commencing the erection of any building, to deposit a ground plan of the building, with the levels of the cellars and basements thereof, Ib. sub-s. 33. But no power now exists in express terms to change the level of a street to the prejudice of owners of land abutting thereon. The general rule is, that when private rights are interfered with for the public advantage, compensation is given. See sec. 483, and notes thereto. In a recent case, where a person was complaining of an injury to his property by reason of a change in the level of the street, Kelly, C. B., said, "I cannot but observe, in a case like this, that whenever it appears that the case is one in which it is plain that very serious injury may have been done to the premises of the party claiming compensation, I think that we must put a liberal construction upon the Acts of Parliament before us in determining the points raised. Unless it is perfectly clear that the language of the different Acts is not sufficiently ample or extensive to embrace the case in question, we ought to hold that a party whose property is injuriously affected, and to a very great extent by the operations of a public body, shall be entitled in a court of law to compensation." Rigg v. St. Luke's, L. R. 7 Q. B. 148-153. See further Rigg v. London, L. R. 15 Eq. 376; but see also Ferrars v. Commissioners of Lewis, L. R. Ex. 227; Baker v. Vestry of Marylebone, 24 W. R. 848. This is in accordance with the decisions of our courts in several cases, where the complaint was that the plaintiff's land was flooded by municipal corporations, in their efforts to drain, and so keep in repair, public highways vested in them. Brown v. Sarnia, 11 U. C. Q. B. 87, Perdue v. Chingnacousy, 25 U. C. Q. B. 61; Rowe v. Rochester, 29 U. C. Q. B. 590; Stonehouse v. Enniskillen, 32 U. C. Q. B. 562; McGarvey v. Strathroy, 10 A. R. 631; Rowe v. Rochester, 22 U. C. C. P. 1. In the last mentioned case, Hagarty, C. J., said, "No power is conferred upon them (the corporation) to do any such injurious act. No provision is made for compensating any person injured by this performance of their statutable duties. In the absence of any such power, it seems to us impossible to accede to the defendant's argument. It may be quite possible that the defendants have the right to raise or lower the level of this road, and that no remedy is given to persons injured or inconvenienced thereby. But it is a totally different matter when the acts complained of amount to an interference with the natural flow of the water, or to the gathering of scattered waters into one course, and causing them to flow upon adjoining lands. The question, however, seems not open to discussion unless a Court of Error interpose." Ib. 320. As to compensation for injury caused by changing level of streets. See note to sec. 483. See also Mayor of St. John v. Pattison, Cassels' Digest 96; Turgeon v. Montreal, M. L. R. 1 S. C. 111. In Callender v. Marsh, 1 Pick. (Mass.) 417, it was said that those who purchase house lots bordering upon streets are supposed to calculate the chance of such elevations and reductions as the increasing population of the city may require, &c. This case has been approved in the courts of every State of the Union except one. Per Randal, C. J., in Dorman v. Jacksonville, 7 Am. 253. In the United States, therefore, it is generally held that a municipal corporation is not responsible, unless expressly so declared by statute, for mere consequential damages resulting from a change of grade in a street where there is no negligence in the doing of the work. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed., sec. 990. If the power be exercised in an unreasonable manner, or wantonly and maliciously, the rule is different. Roberts v. Chicago, 26 Ill. 249; Rudolphe v. New Orleans, 11 La. An. 542; Rounds v. Mumford, 2 Rh. I. 154; Louisville v. Rolling Mill Co., 3 Bush. (Ky.) 416; Dorman v. Jacksonville, 13 Fla. 538; S. C. 7 Am. 253. But in Ohio the corporation is held liable, even though the change of grade be lawful and judiciously made. McCombs v. Akron, 15 Ohio 474; 18 Ohio 229. The corporation is to judge of the necessity for a change of grade. Macy v. Indianapolis, 17 Ind. 267; and of the best grade to adopt. Snyder v. Rockport, 6 Ind. 237; Reynolds v. Shrevesport, 13 La. Where the statute gives a specific remedy for compensation, it alone can be properly pursued. Andover and Medford Turnpike Corporation v. Gould, 6 Mass. 40; Ernst v. Kunkle, 5 Ohio St. 520; Horey v. Haskell, 43 Me. 322; Cole v. Muscatine, 14 Iowa 296. A by-law of a county council, appropriating a certain sum of money "to be expended on certain roads within the county (not defined), in such manner as the township and town councillors may think proper," has been held bad. In re Conger and Peterborough, 8 U. powers, due compensation for damages resulting therefrom. So the case of land entered upon, taken or used, there is a positive striction, unless upon payment of due compensation. The difficulty ises in cases where the injury is not direct but indirect, and such mentioned in the previous note. It is clear that no municipal uncil has a legal right to say they may trespass a little upon the roperty of a private person, doing no unnecessary damage, unless ey shew that it was necessary and convenient for the purposes of e road, street or other work. Churchwardens of St. George's Church Grey, 21 U. C. Q. B. 265. Unless a by-law were shewn, the cor-ration would be looked upon as trespassers; and to answer, under ch circumstances, that they trespassed a little, doing no unneces-y damage, would be no answer at all. Ib.

(c) A sub-way is a way or passage under a highway. Being under section, designed merely for the use of cattle, pedestrians would have a right to use such sub-way for ordinary travel so as to hold municipal corporation responsible for accidents from non-repair.

(d) It is a principle of law that taxes and tolls are not to be posed by any latitude of construction given to an Act of Parlia-nt. The authority for them must be clear and express. Wilson Groves, 17 U. C. Q. B. 419, 424. The amount of tolls authorized this sub-section appears, subject to limitation, left to the discretion

And the limitation in effect is, that they be no more than sufficient "to defray the expense of making and repairing" the bridge, road or other work. See In re Campbell and Kingston, 14 U. C. C. P. 285. It has been held that a municipal corporation which acquired a public road or bridge is bound by statute 16 Vict. c. 190, s. 31 (Rev. Stat. c. 159, s. 91), and is not entitled to collect tolls for merely crossing any road, or for travelling thereon in crossing from one transverse road to another, when the distance between such transverse roads does not exceed 100 yards. Wilson v. Groves, 17 U. C. Q. B. 419. And thus although a portion of the road be a bridge, and a by-law be passed authorizing the collection of tolls for the use of such bridge. Wilson v. Middlesex, 18 U. C. Q. B. 2[illegible]. Councils of counties and incorporated villages may pass by-laws for the assumption by the village of any bridge within its limits under the jurisdiction of the county council, and for such bridge being toll free. Sec. 529.

(e) This sub-section should not have been placed with the clauses relating to "tolls." Dangerous places on a highway subject the corporation in whom the highway is vested to an action for damages for injury arising from such places being allowed to remain in the highway. See note p to sec. 531. The power to regulate such places is therefore essential to the protection of the corporation, as well as the safety of the travelling public. The power to pass by-laws for the purposes mentioned in this section is permissive, not obligatory. Wilson v. Mayor of Halifax, L. R. 3 Ex. 114; but see Tomlinson v. Whitby, 35 U. C. Q. B. 195. No one is at liberty to leave an excavation of any kind adjoining a highway if it render the highway unsafe for the use of travellers. Barnes v. Ward, 9 C. B. W. and River Dun Co.*, 4 H. & N. 67.

(f) A grant for a term of years is authorized for a consideration stated. The grant is to be of the tolls fixed by by-law to be levied, &c. The term is not to be more than twenty-one years, and the consideration, or part consideration, is to be that of planking, gravelling or macadamizing the road, &c., or of building a bridge, &c. The right of the lessee to sue in his own name for tolls is doubted. Whiteside v. Bellchamber, 22 U. C. C. P. 241; Hinckley v. Gilsleeve, 19 Grant, 212. (h) The right of a municipal corporation to sell timber growing and standing on a road allowance, so as to vest property in the trees in the vendee was at one time doubted. Cochran v. Hislop, 17 U. C. C. P. 440. But express power to sell includes the power to pass the property, and also gives the right to recover the value of trees wrongfully taken from a road allowance. Burleigh v. Hales, 17 U. C. Q. B. 72. If there were no such provision, the property in trees growing on original road allowances would undoubtedly be in the Crown as the owner of the soil. The leading object of the reservation of road allowances, however, was not to grow timber trees upon them, but that they should be subservient to the use of settlers upon land adjoining or near thereto, as well as of the general public. Per Draper, C. J., Ib. 76. See also Burleigh v. Campbell, 18 U. C. C. P. 497. In the absence of legislation, the Crown has no right, without the consent of the municipality, to sell standing timber on road allowances. Barrie v. Gillies, 20 U. C. C. P. 369; 21 U. C. C. P. 1. The section also empowers the council to sue persons for removing sand or gravel from the highway. Brock v. Toronto and Nipissing R. W. Co., 37 U. C. Q. B. 372.

(i) This Act declares road allowances to be ungranted lands for the purpose of granting licenses to cut timber; gives the right to the Government licensee to cut the same; declares that no municipal by-law shall have any effect against such a license, but entitles the municipalities to a portion of the timber dues, to be expended on the improvement of highways within the municipality. Procuring Materials for Constructing or Repairing.

Power to take materials for roads.

8. For searching for and taking such timber, gravel, stone, or other material or materials (within the municipality) as may be necessary for keeping in repair any road or highway within the municipality; and, for the purpose aforesaid, with the consent of the council of an adjoining municipality (by resolution expressed) for searching for and taking gravel within the limits of such adjoining municipality, and the right of entry upon such lands, as well as the price or damage to be paid to any person for such timber or materials, shall, if not agreed upon by the parties con-

(k) The Legislature has conferred upon municipal corporations very extensive powers in relation to public highways. Upon these corporations, in the first place, is devolved the duty—and perhaps may be found the option also—of constructing roads and bridges throughout the several localities represented by municipal councils. Before others can legally exercise these powers, permission is required from the local municipal corporation. The power to grant permission involves the power to withhold it; and if a road company were without such permission, to attempt to interfere with the highways of the municipality, the court, upon an application made at the proper time, grounded on proper materials no doubt would interfere by injunction. Attorney-General ex rel. The Township of Nepean v. Bytown and Nepean Road Co., 2 Grant 626. The power is not only to grant or withhold permission to commence, but, if granted, to make regulations for the completion of the work, and to make the examinations necessary for the proper exercise of these powers. So that the controlling and directing power is, as it were, vested in the municipal corporations. See note n to sub-s. 36 of sec. 496. A company formed under the Joint Stock Companies Road Act is allowed to commence any work until thirty days after the directors have served a written notice upon the head of the municipality the jurisdiction of which such road is intended to pass or be constructed. Rev. Stat. c. 159, s. 12. If the council pass a by-law prohibiting, varying or altering any such intended line of road, the by-law shall have the same force and effect, and be as obligatory upon all persons and upon the company, if the company proceed in the construction of the road, as if the provisions thereof were part of the Act. Ib. But if no by-law be passed within thirty days after service of the notice, then the company may proceed with the intended road, without being liable to any interruption or opposition from any source whatever. Ib. sec. 13. No such road, however, shall, be constructed or pass within the limits of any city or of any incorporated town or village, except by permission, under a by-law, of the city, town, or village, passed for the purpose. Ib. sec. 8.

cerned, be settled by arbitration under the provisions of this Act; (l)

(a) But no such gravel shall be taken or removed from the premises of any person in an adjoining municipality until the price or damage has been agreed upon between the parties or settled by arbitration. 48 V. c. 39, s. 23.

Selling Road Allowances.

When the council may stop up or sell a road allowance.

9. For selling the original road allowance to the parties next adjoining whose lands the same is situated, when a public road has been opened in lieu of the original road allowance, and for the site or line of which compensation has been paid, and for selling in like manner to the owners of any adjoining land any road legally stopped up or altered by the council; and in case such parties respectively refuse to become the purchasers at such price as the council thinks reasonable, then for the sale thereof to any other person for the same or a greater price. (m) 46 V. c. 18, s. 550 (9).

(l) This is an exercise of eminent domain, and so is made expressly subject to the payment of compensation. See sec. 483, and notes thereto. See also sec. 335 et seq. A corporation acting under this subsection must by the by-law or by the notice to the owner define the quantity of gravel required and the arbitrators should, by their award, fix the value of the quantity required, and also the amount to be paid for the right of entry to take the same away. Re Ingersoll & Carroll, 1 O. R. 488.

(m) Where a public road has been opened through private property, in lieu of an original allowance for road, for which compensation has been paid, the original allowance may be sold "to the parties next adjoining whose lands the same is situated." The allowance may, adjoin on each side the lands of different parties, and it then becomes a question whether the council is bound to sell to each one half of the allowance, or may sell the whole to one. Similar authority is conferred as to "any road legally stopped up and altered by the council." If the parties entitled to preemption refuse to purchase, then, and only then, is the council authorized to sell to any other person. See Reg. v. Highway Board of Drayton in Hales, 1 Q. B. 608. The statute does not require the corporation to do more than close or stop up the road allowance. They are not required to place it in or place any physical obstruction in the way of persons using it. They only put an end to the right of using it, and consequently to all obligation on the part of any person to respect it as a highway. The selling of the road allowance is one thing; the stopping up of a road allowance is an entirely different thing. The one is by no means necessary to the extinction of the public easement. Johnson v. Reesor, 10 U. C. Q. B. 101. The stopping up an original allowance for road is a distinct thing from selling and conveying it, and requires to be distinctly and directly provided for. Until a by-law has been passed to stop up the allowances they still continue public highways and cannot be sold or conveyed. Per Robinson, C. J., in In re Choate and Hope, 16 U. C. Q. B. 428. Where it is contended by a private individual that a road allowance has been legally stopped up and conveyed to him, he must show that all the proceedings made necessary in that behalf have been taken by the corporation. Winter v. McKeown, 22 U. C. Q. B. 341.

(n) So far, this section provides for two cases: first, where a person in possession of a concession road or side line has himself laid out and opened a road, &c., in place thereof; secondly, where a new travelled road has been laid out and opened by, it is conceived, the proper authority, in lieu of an original allowance for road, &c. In either case, if no compensation has been paid to the owner of the land, and if his lands adjoin the concession road, side line, or original allowance, he shall be entitled to the original road allowance in lieu of the road laid out. It is not clear whether or not a person who is a mere locatee from the Crown of the land through which the new road runs, can afterwards, by obtaining the patent, become an owner within the meaning of this section, so as to be entitled to a conveyance of the old road allowance. Winter v. McKeown, 22 U. C. Q. B. 3... See further Cameron v. Wait, 27 U. C. C. P. 475; 3 A. R. 173.

(o) It is a clear principle of law that every intendment is to be made in favour of the public, and against the individual who seeks to deprive the public of the right which it is confessed the public once had, and that it is incumbent upon the individual who asserts a private right acquired over a public one which was once vested, that he shall do so upon clear, irrefragable evidence, and that nothing shall be left to depend upon conjectural inference and assumption. Purdy v. Farley, 10 U. C. Q. B. 545, 568; see also Reg. v. Great Western W. Co., 32 U. C. Q. B. 506. The surveyor's report should be express that the new and travelled road is sufficient for the purposes of a public highway; and in the report he should state the width of the new road and the line to be run. Reg. v. Sanderson, 3 U. convey the said original allowance for road in fee simple to the person or persons upon whose land the new road runs. (p)

Compensation to party whose land is taken who does not own land adjoining original road.

(2) When such original road allowance is, in the opinion of the council, useless to the public, and lies between lands owned by different parties, the municipal council may subject to the conditions aforesaid, sell and convey a part thereof to each of such parties as may seem just and reasonable; (q) and in case compensation was not paid for the new road, and the person through whose land the same passes does not own the land adjoining the original road allowance, the amount received from the purchaser of the corresponding part of the road allowance when sold shall be paid to the person who at the time of the sale owns the land through which the new road passes. Possession of Unopened Road Allowances.

Original allowances for roads when to be deemed legally possessed till a by-law is passed for opening them.

552. In case a person is in possession of any part of a Government allowance for road laid out adjoining his lot and enclosed by a lawful fence, and which has not been opened for public use by reason of another road being used in lieu thereof, or is in possession of any Government allowance for road parallel or near to which a road has been established by law in lieu thereof, such person shall be deemed legally possessed thereof, as against any private person, (s) until a by-law

(p) The words "may convey" are compulsory and the corporation cannot refuse a conveyance to the person entitled to it. Per Harrison, C. J., in Cameron v. Wait, 3 A. R. 175. See also, note l to s. 527.

(r) If the person from whom the land for the new road is taken has land adjoining the old road allowance, the allowance would be of little or no use to him. For this reason it is provided that in such case the allowance shall be sold, and the proceeds paid to the person whose land is taken for the new road.

(s) This section provides for the security of, first, a person in possession of any part of a Government allowance for road, &c., not assessed for use "by reason of another road being used in lieu thereof;" secondly, a person in possession of any Government allowance for road parallel or near to which "a road has been established by law, in lieu thereof," &c. A person so situated is to be deemed legally possessed as against any "private person," but not as against the Crown; and he is to be deemed so possessed "until a by-law has been passed for opening such allowance," &c. So that as well against private persons as municipal councils, until a by-law is passed for opening, &c., he is to be deemed legally possessed. See Curry v.

McLeod, 12 U. C. Q. B. 545. By an Act of 1810 all allowances for roads laid out by public authority were declared, whether opened or not, used or not, "public highways." 50 Geo. III. c. 1, s. 12. For the security of persons in possession of them when not used, it was in 1846 enacted that no allowance for road in possession of a private person should be opened unless upon notice to him, and the passing of an order of the proper municipal authority. 9 Vict. c. Both these enactments are here in substance re-enacted. A person in possession of a road allowance where a new road has been opened and is used in lieu of it, to save himself from all disturbance, ought to acquire a legal title thereto, pursuant to sec. 551 of this Act. Purdy v. Farley, 10 U. C. Q. B. 545; Nash v. Glover, 24 Grant 219; McKillop v. Smith, Ib. 278.

(t) A municipal corporation has a clear right to open an original allowance, for road, and in doing so must, at its peril, be correct as to its true position. The by-law should describe the boundaries of the allowance, if there be any uncertainty as to the true boundaries. McMullen and Caradoc, 22 U. C. C. P. 356. "If the limits assigned be not the true limits of the side road as originally surveyed, the council has no jurisdiction to enact and declare that they shall be, and whether the declaratory enactment have any validity or not, a person bona fide contesting the true site of the road has, I think, reason to complain of such a clause being inserted in the by-law, as calculated to expose him to difficulties at any rate, if not to prejudice him in the conduct of any litigation which he may institute for the purpose of bringing the point in difference up for judicial inquiry. But in enacting that the original allowance shall be opened although describing that road by metes and bounds, I do not see that the applicant can be prejudiced; for in any litigation arising upon the point, it would, I apprehend, in such a case be necessary to establish that the metes and bounds assumed to be, are in fact the true limits of the original allowance. The first clause of the by-law will have, therefore, to be quashed," &c. Per Gwynne, J., Ib. 361. A by-law enacting that "every person or persons having enclosed or occupying any part or parts of said quarter town line (an original allowance for road) shall be required, on or before the first day of November next, to give up possession, and open the same for the use of the public travel; the same to be made by gratuitous or statute labour," &c., was held to be valid. In re McMichael and Townsend, 33 U. The object prevent his being taken by surprise in regard to the intention pen the road allowance of which he is in possession.

v) In general, the jurisdiction of a municipal council is restricted in the boundaries of the municipality. See note k to sec. 20. also note b to sec. 282. But as roads, streets, bridges, and other public communications may extend from one adjoining munici- y into another, so as to be partly in each, power is here given to by-laws for granting aid to an adjoining municipality in making, ing, maintaining, widening, raising, lowering, or otherwise im- ing any such road, &c. See note a to sub. s. 1 to sec. 550.

w) As a rule, councils of municipalities less than counties have not er spontaneously to assess themselves for county purposes. See b to sec. 282. The power given by this clause is to grant aid, oan or otherwise, towards opening or making any new road. See v to sec. 554.

Repair of Township Roads—how enforced.

Township council failing to perform their duty.

556. Whenever township councils fail to maintain township boundary lines, not assumed by the county council, (a) in the same way as other township roads, by mutual agreement as to the share to be borne by each, it shall be competent for one or more of such councils to apply to the county council to enforce joint action on all township councils interested. (b) 46 V. c. 18, s. 556.

Resident ratepayers may petition county council to enforce opening up of road.

557. In cases where all the township councils interested neglect or refuse to open up and repair such lines of road in a manner similar to the other local roads, it shall be competent for a majority of the ratepayers resident on the lots bordering on either or both sides of such line to petition the county council to enforce the opening up or repair of such lines of road by the township councils interested. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 557.

(x) The arrangement should be a completed one, in order to render valid a by-law for carrying it into effect. See In re Nichol and Almonte, 41 U. C. Q. B. 577. See also In re Carpenter and the Township of Barton, 15 O. R. 55.

(a) See O'Connor v. Otonabee and Douro, 35 U. C. Q. B. 73.

(b) The roads here intended are "township boundary lines." Apparently the intention is to embrace roads dividing townships; otherwise there would be no necessity for a provision as "to the share to be borne by each" in respect of the obligation to open, repair and improve. It is true that in the case of townships adjacent to an unsurveyed tract, the provision would be in terms applicable, whether townships were divided or not by "the boundary line." But the probability is, that the Legislature meant the section to have a more extended operation. This supposition is confirmed by a reference to sec. 557, which gives certain powers to the ratepayers bordering "on either or both sides of such line." The county council is, in relation to such townships, as it were, made the arbiter. Power is given to the county council, on the application of any township interested, "to enforce joint action" on all interested. The application should be by petition.

(c) The preceding section supposes that at least one of the to Action by county council on petition.

558. A county council receiving such petition, either from township councils or from ratepayers, as in the preceding section mentioned, may, (d) consider and act upon the same at the session at which the petition is presented. (e) 46 V. c. 18, s. 558.

Amount, etc., to be furnished by each township.

559. The county council may (f) determine upon the amount which each township council interested shall be required to apply for the opening or repairing of such lines of road, or to direct the expenditure of a certain portion of the statute labour, or both, as may seem necessary to make the said lines of road equal to other roads. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 559.

Commissioners to enforce order of county council as to such roads.

560. It shall be the duty of the county council to appoint a commissioner or commissioners to execute and enforce their orders or by-laws relative to such roads. If the representatives of any or of all the townships interested intimate to the council or to the commissioner or commissioners so appointed, their intention to execute the work themselves, then the commissioner or commissioners shall delay proceedings for a reasonable time; (h) but if the work is not proceeded with ships interested is disposed to do what is required of it. But if all interested fail to perform the duty cast upon them, a majority of the ratepayers resident on the lots bordering on either or both sides of such line may petition the county council to enforce the opening or repair of such line. The time and mode of so doing are provided for by the next section.

(d) "May" is permissive. See note x to sec. 534. The original section, 29-30 Vict. c. 51, s. 341, sub. s. 4, provided that "It shall be the duty," of a county council receiving, &c. The change in language is designed to remove the duty, and leave the power to act as one of simple discretion.

(e) The action may be either by directing the expenditure of money, or the doing of statute labour, or both, as may seem necessary "to make the said lines of road equal to other roads." See s. 559.

(h) The mere order or direction of the county council, without power to enforce it against the townships interested, would be of little avail. Power is therefore given to county councils to appoint a commissioner or commissioners "to execute and enforce their orders or by-laws relative to such roads." This is, as it were in terrorem; for it is also provided that if the representatives (probably the reeving reeves or deputy reeves) of any or all of the townships interested shall intimate to the council or to the commissioner or during the favourable season by the township officers, then the commissioners shall undertake and finish it themselves. 46 V. c. 18, s. 560.

Sums determined upon to be paid by townships.

561. Any sum of money so determined upon by the county council as the portion to be paid by the respective townships shall be paid by the county treasurer on the order of the commissioner or commissioners, and the amount retained out of any money in his hands belonging to such township: but if there are not at any time before the striking of a county rate any such moneys belonging to such township in the treasurer's hands, an additional rate shall be levied by the county council against such township sufficient to cover such advances. (i) 46 V. c. 18, s. 561.

When the several townships interested cannot agree.

Wardens to be arbitrators.

County judge also.

562. Whenever the several townships interested in the whole or part of any county boundary line road are unable mutually to agree as to their joint action in opening or maintaining such line road, or portion thereof, one or more of such township councils may apply to the wardens of the bordering counties to determine jointly the amount which each township shall be required to expend either in money or statute labour, or both, and the mode of expenditure on such road; (j) the County Judge of the county in which the township first making the application is situate shall in all cases be the third arbitrator. (k) 46 V. c. 18, s. 562.

commissioners their intention to execute the work themselves, the commissioner or commissioners may delay their proceedings. But the delay is only to be for "a reasonable time." If the work not proceeded with during "the favourable season" by the township officers, then the commissioners shall undertake it, and finish themselves.

(i) Where commissioners do the work, some provision is necessary for payment. It is therefore provided that the money shall be paid by the county treasurer, "on the order of the commissioner or commissioners." When so paid, the money is to be retained by the county treasurer out of any money in his hands belonging to the township. If none, then the county council may levy against such township a rate "sufficient to cover such advances."

(j) The county council is, as it were, made the arbitrator between townships in the same county. See note b to sec. 556. But where the townships are of different counties, the wardens of the counties are by this sub-section made the arbitrators. Their power as such arbitrators is to determine upon the amount which each township shall be required to expend, either in money or statute labour, or both, and the mode of expenditure.

(k) See note y to sec. 388.

Meetings of wardens.

563. It shall be the duty of the wardens of the counties interested to meet within twenty-one days from the time of receiving such application for the determination of the matter in dispute. The warden of the county in which the township first making the application is situated, shall be the convener of the meeting; and it shall be his duty to notify the warden of the other county and County Judge of the time and place of meeting, within eight days of the time of his receiving such application. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 563.

Who to convene, etc.

What the wardens and county judge shall determine, etc.

564. At such meeting the wardens and County Judge, or any two of them, shall determine on the share to be borne by the respective townships, of the amount required on the part or parts to be opened or repaired by each or both, and shall appoint a commissioner or commissioners to superintend such work, and it shall be the duty of the township, treasurer to pay the orders of the commissioners to the extent of the sum apportioned to each; and pathmasters controlling the statute labour on the lots adjoining such line on the portion of such line to be opened or repaired, shall obey the orders of the commissioner or commissioners in performing the statute labour unexpended. 46 V. c. 18, s. 564.

may be the reasons assigned in the case in Plowden (Reg. v. Earl of Northumberland, 1 Plow. 310) for the rule thereby established, and whether they approve themselves or not to modern minds, it is perfectly clear that ever since that decision it has been settled law in England that the prerogative right of the Crown to gold and silver found in mines will not pass under a grant of land from the Crown, unless by apt and precise words the intention of the Crown be expressed that it shall pass. It was fairly conceded by the learned counsel for the appellant that this rule must be taken to have been introduced as part of the common law of England into the colony of Victoria; Woolley v. Attorney General of Victoria, 2 App. Cas. 163. But by statute 1 W. & M. cap 30, no mine of copper or tin shall be adjudged a royal mine, though silver be extracted. So by statute 5 W. & M. c. 6, persons having mines of copper, tin, lead, &c., shall enjoy the same although claimed to be royal mines. Alum mines belong to the person on whose land they are, 3 Inst. 185; see also, 21 Jac. I. c. 2, ss. 11, 12; see further, Rev. Stat. c. 31. It has been usual in this country for the Crown, when granting lands, to reserve gold and silver mines. Where no such reservation is made, and the mine discovered is not one that can be called a royal mine, the right to the minerals would pass to the owner of the soil. Reservations of gold and silver mines in patents for lands granted in fee simple are rescinded by Rev. Stat. c. 31, s. 4. By sec. 5 of the same Act no reservation of mines is to be inserted in any patent granting lands sold as mining lands. This section, if construed to apply to roads laid out by private individuals, would be an invasion of private rights, without any express provision for compensation. See sec. 483 and notes thereto. Minerals, so far as municipalities are concerned, are by this section placed on the same footing as growing timber. As to either, the municipal corporation may now pass by-laws for sale. There is good reason why, in the case of standing timber, the removal of which is necessary to the enjoyment of the public easement, such a power should exist. See note h to sub-s. 6 of sec. 550. But that reason has no application whatever to the sale of minerals found under roads. See Johns v. Bo... 24 U. C. C. P. 219.

(n) See note d to sub. s. 1 of sec. 546.

Trees obstructing Highways.

May direct the trees to be cleared on each side of highways.

3. For directing that, on each and either side of a highway under the jurisdiction of the council (f) passing through a wood, the trees (unless such as are reserved by the owner for ornament or shelter) shall, for a space not exceeding twenty-five feet on each side of the highway, be cut down and removed by the proprietor within a time appointed by the by-law, (g) or, in his default, by the county surveyor or other officer in whose division the land lies; and, in the latter case, for authorizing the trees to be used by the overseer or other officer for any purpose connected with the improvement of the highways and bridges in his division, or to be sold by him to defray the expenses of carrying the by-law into effect; (h) and the council may further pay such expenses out of county funds.

(d) See as to these powers generally, note a to sub. s. 1, of sec. 55

(e) See note b to sec. 550.

(f) Powers precisely similar to those by this clause conferred on counties are also conferred on townships. Sec. 567, sub-s. 3. This subsection is to be read only as to roads over which county councils have exclusive jurisdiction. So sec. 567, sub-s. 3, is to be read only as to roads vested in the townships. By this construction conflict of jurisdiction is prevented.

(g) This authorizes a serious interference with private rights, and yet makes no express provision for compensation. The general rule is that when the property of a private person is interfered with for public benefit, compensation shall be made. See sec. 483 and notes; see also note b to sub-s. 1 of sec. 550. It has been held that the statutory duty of opening a road on which trees grew was no answer to an action for injury caused to the plaintiff's land by the felling of trees, accompanied by the allegation that in so opening the road a portion of the trees on being cut and felled necessarily reached the land, fell upon the plaintiff's land, but doing the said land no unnecessary damage and no material damage. Rowe v. Rochester, 22 U. C. C. P. 5. See further, Gilchrist v. Garden, 26 U. C. C. P. 1.

(h) If the proprietor himself cut the trees they become his property. They are his property as owner of the land. See note h to sec. 5. But if he make default, the by-law may authorize the trees either to be used for municipal purposes or sold to defray the expenses of carrying the by-law into effect. By-laws for —

567. The council of every township may (a) pass by-laws—

Aiding Counties.

Aiding adjoining county in making roads, etc., and granting aid to county for roads assumed by county.

1. For granting to any adjoining county aid in making opening, maintaining, widening, raising, lowering or otherwise improving any highway, road, street, bridge or communication lying between the township and any other municipality, (b) and for granting like aid to the county in which the township lies in respect of any highway, road, street, bridge, or communication within the township assumed by the county as a county work, or agreed to be so assumed on condition of such grant; (c)

Closing Road Allowances..

Stopping up, leasing or sale of original road allowance.

2. For the stopping up, leasing, or sale of any original allowance for road or any part thereof within the municipality, and for fixing and declaring therein the terms upon which the same is to be leased, sold and conveyed; (d)

Proviso.

But no such by-law shall have any force—

(a) "May pass by-laws," &c. See note x to sec. 534.

(b) See note b to sec. 546. The description as aid "by loan or otherwise" is not specified here as in sub-s. 5 of sec. 566.

(c) The power is not to aid the county in respect of any highway, road, &c., assumed by the county as a county work, only in the case of a highway, &c., assumed "on condition of such grant;" in other words, when the promise to make the grant was one of the inducements to the county to assume the work, and, so to speak, were, the condition on which it was assumed.

(d) See note a to sec. 550.

(a) Unless passed in accordance with section 546 of this Act, (e) nor

(b) Until confirmed by a by-law of the council of the county in which the township is situate, at an ordinary session of the county council, held not sooner than three months nor later than one year next after the passing thereof; (f)

Trees obstructing Highways.

Ordering trees to be cut down on each side of a road.

3. For directing that, on each or either side of a highway under the jurisdiction of the council (g) passing through a wood, the trees (unless such as are reserved by the owner for ornament or shelter) shall, for a space not exceeding twenty-five feet on each side of the highway, be cut down and removed by the proprietor within a time appointed by the by-law. (h) or, on his default, by the overseer of highways, or other officer in whose division the land lies; and, in the latter case, for authorizing the trees to be used by the overseer or other officer for any purpose connected with the improvement of the highways and bridges in his division, or to be sold by him to defray the expenses of carrying the by-law into effect; (i) and the council may grant out of township funds any money that may be necessary to pay for cutting down and removing such trees;

(e) See sec. 546 and notes.

(f) The by-law of the township is not to have any force until confirmed in the manner and at the time mentioned. If not confirmed at all, or if confirmed at the session of the council other than the one specified, it would be, for all purposes, inoperative. If not legally confirmed, it would not affect any persons interest. If confirmed by by-law of the county council, and illegal, it may be moved against. It would, it seems, be premature to move against the by-law of the township before confirmation by the county council. In re Choate and Hope, 16 U. C. Q. B. 424, 428. The statute 20 Vict. c. 69, required such a by-law to be confirmed by the county council within a year from the passing of the by-law. Before confirmation, the 20 Vict. c. 69 was repealed by statute 22 Vict. c. 99, saving all things done thereunder, and by it no confirmation of such a by-law was made requisite. The court intimated that the confirmation of the by-law was still necessary to its validity. Winter v. Keown, 22 U. C. Q. B. 341.

Footpaths.

Footpaths.

4. For setting apart so much of any highway as the council may deem necessary for the purposes of a foot path, (k) and for imposing penalties on persons travelling thereon on horseback or in vehicles. 46 V. c. 18, s. 566.

Sale of Roads in Villages or Hamlets.

When roads in police villages and certain hamlets may be stopped up, sold, etc., by township council.

568—(1) In case the trustees of any police village, or fifteen of the inhabitant householders of any other unincorporated village or hamlet consisting of not less than twenty dwelling houses standing within an area of 200 acres, petition the council of the township in which the village or hamlet is situate, and in case the petition of such unincorporated village or hamlet, not being a police village, is accompanied by a certificate from the registrar of the registry division within which the township lies, that a plan of the village, or hamlet has been duly deposited in his office according to the registry laws, the council may (l) pass a by-law to stop up, sell and convey, or otherwise deal with any original allowance for road lying within the limits of the village or hamlet, as the same shall be laid down on the plan, but subject to all the restrictions contained in this Act with reference to the sale of original allowances. (m)

When village is partly in each of two townships.

(2) The preceding sub-sections shall apply to a village or hamlet situate in two townships, whether such townships are in the same or different counties, (n) and in such case

---

(k) Footpaths or side walks constitute a portion of a highway proper for the use of pedestrians, and necessary to be kept in repair by the municipal corporation. See notes to sec. 531. It is apprehended that corporations of townships, like other local municipal corporations, would have an implied power to do all that is here authorized.

(m) See sec. 550, sub-s. 9.

(n) The last subsection in terms applies only to a village or hamlet situate in one and the same township as well as in one and the same county but as villages are often formed at the corners of different townships, which may or may not be in different counties, it is by this subsection made to extend to "a village or hamlet situate in two townships, whether such townships are in the same county or in different counties." The extension is scarcely sufficient for there are villages formed of parts of more than two townships.

the council of each of the townships shall have the power thereby conferred, (o) as to any original allowance for road lying within that part of the village or hamlet which, according to the registered plan, is situate within such township. 46 V. c. 18, ss. 568, 569.

Plans and estimates.

(a) Municipal corporations are not responsible in damages for the legitimate exercise of the powers conferred on them as to drainage. Darby v. Crowland, 38 U. C. Q. B. 338. It has not yet been decided what majority is sufficient to procure the action of the council. "Four concessions in a township may be interested in different degrees in a work which would drain all the lands in those concessions; but it might be of more importance to the owners of the lands in one of those concessions than to all the owners of the lands in the other three to procure the construction of the work. As at present advised, we do not see that a majority of the resident owners in the one concession would not comply with the terms of the Act." In re Montgomery and Raleigh, 21 U. C. C. P. 381, 395. The petition should include a majority of all the persons whom the engineer finds to be benefited by the proposed work. In re Robertson and North Easthope, 15 O. R. 423. The objection that the petition was not signed by the requisite majority is not one that can be entertained by the court on an application to quash the by-law; at all events, in the absence of fraud or corrupt conduct on the part of those who passed the by-law. In re Michie and Toronto, 11 U. C. C. P. 379; In re Montgomery and Raleigh, 21 U. C. C. P. 381. See also In re Robertson and North Easthope, 15 O. R. 423.

(b) On receipt of the requisite petition, the council may, in its discretion, refuse to proceed further. See note x to sec. 534. The council has no power to alter the works which the petitioners ask for and change into something they do not ask for without their express concurrence. If the work asked for is impracticable or too costly the petition should be refused. Re Misener v. Township of Wain fleet, 46 U. C. Q. B. 457. The petitioners, or any one or more of them, upon the report of the engineer or surveyor may withdraw from the petition, the preliminary examination, estimate, assessment and value of supposed benefit being made to enable the parties to determine whether they will proceed with the proposed work or not. Ib; In re Robertson and North Easthope, 15 O. R. 423. Persons who have not signed the petition and whose land has not been mentioned therein may be assessed if the surveyor reports that their land would be benefited by the work. In re White and Sandwich East, 1 O. R. 630. The engineer may leave out of his scheme portions of the land mentioned in the petition, and the calculations as to the necessary majority should be made without considering the owners of such land. In re Robertson and North Easthope, 15 O. R. 423. The contention that all the lands which will be benefited by the proposed work have not been assessed, or that for any other reason the several assessments made upon the respective lots, or any of them are overcharges, does not constitute ground for moving to quash the by-law. All those matters are matters subject to appeal, and it is there such a contention should be tried and investigated. In re Montgomery and Raleigh, 21 U. C. C. P. 393. See also In re White and Sandwich East, 1 O. R. 530; Re Clarke and Howard, 14 O. R. 598.

(c) The council is left, upon receipt of the engineer's report and other preliminaries, to judge whether or not "the proposed work or a portion thereof would be desirable," &c. If its opinion be in the affirmative, it may pass the by-law; but if of a negative opinion, there is no power to compel the council to do so. See note x to sec. 534. The engineer is the proper party to make the assessment. Re McLean and the Township of Ops, 45 U. C. Q. B. 325. Where on the petition of the plaintiff and others a by-law was passed for the construction of the B drain and the assessment of the land benefited, but the drain had not been completed though a reasonable time had elapsed and a portion of the moneys assessed had been applied upon another drain not mentioned in the petition, the report of the surveyors, or in the by-law, and of no value to the petitioners, it was held that the plaintiff was entitled to an order compelling the corporation to complete the B drain according to the by-law, to an injunction to restrain further misapplication of the moneys assessed and to an account thereof, for that the by-law created a trust which had been violated. Smith v. Township of Raleigh, 3 O. R. 405.

(d) The purposes for which such a by-law may be passed are for the deepening or straightening of any stream, creek or water-course, or the draining of the locality. The effect of deepening a particular stream, creek or water-course may be more effectually to drain the locality; but there may be localities requiring drainage in the immediate vicinity of which there is no stream, creek or water-course. In either event it is contemplated that a by-law may be asked and passed. See note h to sub-s. 16 of sec. 521, as to streams and watercourses.

For borrowing requisite funds, etc.

2. For borrowing on the credit of the municipality the funds necessary for the work, although the same extends beyond the limits of the municipality (subject in that case to be reimbursed as hereinafter mentioned), and for issuing the debentures of the municipality to the requisite amount, including the costs of arbitration, if any, in sums of not less than $100 each, and payable within twenty years from date, with interest at a rate of not less than four per centum per annum ; (e)

Payment of interest on debentures how made.

(a) Any council issuing debentures under the provisions of this section, may include the interest on the debentures in the amount payable, in lieu of the interest being payable annually in respect of each debenture, and any by-law authorizing the issue of debentures for a certain amount and interest, shall be taken to authorize the issue of debentures, in accordance with this sub-section to the same amount with interest added, if the council, by subsequent resolution, direct the treasurer to issue debentures in accordance with this section, as aforesaid. 46 V. c. 18, s. 570 (2); 49 V. c. 37, s. 20; 50 V. c. 6, s.

(e) The amount borrowed is to be payable within twenty years from the date of the by-law, and yet no provision is made for requiring the by-law on the face of it to show the date of its passing. It is necessary to the validity of an ordinary by-law to raise money on the credit of the municipality, that it should name a day in the financial year in which the same is passed when the by-law shall take effect. See 340, sub-s. 1. This section, however, does not require that such a day should be named in the by-law. Per Gwynne, J., In re Montgomery and Raleigh, 21 U. C. C. P. 397. But even in the case of an ordinary money by-law, the Court refused, after the issue of debentures, to quash the by-law on the ground of the omission. In In re Michie and Toronto, 11 U. C. C. P. 379, Draper, C. J., said—"I have felt a good deal of doubt whether the Legislature did not intend that in the body of every by-law shall be stated a day upon which it is to take effect. The date on which a by-law is passed does not necessarily form a part thereof, though it may be the practice for some officer of the corporation to mark the day of its passing thereupon. And I think the Legislature meant that it should not be necessary to refer to anything extrinsic to the by-law, for the purpose of learning when it would or had come into operation. The purchaser of a debenture, for instance, would require to see that it and the by-law under which it was issued were legal, and might on that account require to know when the by-law took effect." See also sub-s. 2 of s. 621, which requires that every by-law for borrowing money shall provide for the repayment of the loan and the maturing of debentures to be issued pursuant to the by-law within the probable life of the work or improvement for which the debt is incurred.

3. For assessing and levying in the same manner as taxes are levied, upon the real property to be benefited by the work, a special rate sufficient for the payment of the principal and interest of the debentures, and for so assessing and levying the same, as other taxes are levied, by an assessment and rate on the real property so benefited (including roads held by joint stock companies or private individuals and including roads held by counties or county councils,) in proportion as nearly as may be to the benefit derived by each lot or portion of lot and road in the locality; (f) 46 V. c. 18, s. 570 (3 part); 51 V. c. 28, s. 35. Levying rate or payment.

(f) A by-law enacted that the drain should be made in accordance with the survey and levels taken by the engineer: that there should be raised, levied and collected off the lots and parts of lots in the township to be benefited by making such drain, the sum of $2696: that the sum of $2696 should be divided into three equal annual payments, bearing interest at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, first payment to be made in 1871, and to continue in each year till the whole should be paid, for the purpose of paying one part of the cost of said drainage, and the cost incidental thereto assessed upon the lands aforesaid; and the collector should in each year place the same on the collector's roll against each lot or part of lot "as set forth in the annexed schedule," to be collected and paid over to the treasurer, as other taxes were collected and paid over, to form a sinking fund to meet the payment of debentures. It then provided for payment by the treasurer of the municipality of the sum of $96, assessed on roads and road allowances; and then for the issue of debentures for $2696, at a rate of interest not exceeding eight per cent. per annum, in sums of not less than $100 each, payable in three years from the 15th December, 1870: and, lastly, that the amount to be collected from such assessment should, by reason of the lands being non-resident, or otherwise, fall short of the sum required to meet the debentures or interest as they became due, the treasurer should pay such deficiency out of the general funds, and be reimburse those funds when the assessment should be levied out of the land. The schedule, which was annexed to and formed part of the by-law, was entitled "Schedule shewing the benefits to be received by each lot from the drainage to be performed under this by-law." The objection raised against the by-law was, that it did not properly provide for a special rate sufficient to include a sinking fund for the payment of the debentures therein mentioned, but provided for the levying and raising of certain instalments with interest, and did not state or provide from what date such interest was to be levied. But the by-law was sustained as against the objection. Re Montgomery and Raleigh, 21 U. C. C. P. 381. "Upon a careful consideration of the section, we do think the objection is not insurmountable." Per Gwynne, J., Ib. 395. The learned Judge, after using the language quoted, and after making a critical examination of the section, leading to a particular construction, which is too long for insertion, concluded, "This section of the by-law is, we think, open to this construction, and being so construed seems to be

What cost to be deemed cost of works.

(a) The cost of any arbitration held in connection with the construction of any works under this section, the cost of the publication of by-laws, and all other expenses incidental to the construction of the works and the passing of the by-laws shall be deemed part of the cost of such works, and included in the amount to be raised by local rate.

(b) Any person whose property has been assessed for such work may pay the amount of such assessment, less the interest, at any time before the debentures are issued, in which case the amount of debentures shall be proportionably reduced; (g) and

(c) Any agreement on the part of any tenant to pay the rates or taxes of the demised property shall not apply to or include the charges or assessments for any works under this section, unless such agreement in express terms mentions or refers to such charges or assessments, and as payable in respect of drainage works; but in cases of contracts of purchase or of leases giving the lessee a right of purchase, the said charges or assessments shall be added to the price, and shall be paid (as the case may be) by the purchaser, or by the lessee in case he exercises such right of purchase; (h)

free from the objection taken." Notwithstanding, it is recommended that such a by-law be not made a precedent. It is inserted, not as a guide, but as a warning. The Legislature has wisely provided a form of by-law which shall (mutatis mutandis) be used. See sec. 570.

(g) This is, in effect, an authority for the payment of a debt in advance; and as an inducement there is a rebate of interest. But it is to be observed that the privilege can only be exercised "before the debentures are issued." After the issue of the debentures the debt for the whole amount is contracted, and it rests with the purchaser who thereby becomes the creditor of the municipality, to say whether he will accept payment of any of the debentures before maturity, and if so, on what terms as to rebate of interest or otherwise. See further, sub-s. 6 of s. 612, which authorizes municipalities to pass by-laws arranging the terms on which persons assessed for local improvements may commute for the payment of their proportionate shares of the cost thereof.

(h) The purpose of the by-law is to improve the freehold. The money to be raised is not so much a tax as the consideration for the improved drainage. This being so, the obligation to pay is thrown upon the owner of the freehold, and not upon the tenant who has merely covenanted or agreed in the ordinary form to pay taxes. One exception, however, is where by the lease, he has expressly agreed

For determining what real property will be benefited by the works, and the proportion in which the assessment should be made on the various portions of lands so benefited, (i) and subject in every case of complaint, by the owner or person interested in any property assessed, whether of overcharge or undercharge of any other property assessed, or that property which should be assessed has been wrongfully omitted to be assessed, (j) to proceedings for trial of such complaint and appeal therefrom, in like manner, as nearly as may be, as on proceedings for the trial of complaints to the Court of Revision under The Assessment Act. For ascertaining the property liable to the rate. Rev. Stat. c. 193, ss. 64, 65.

6. The engineer or surveyor in assessing the real property to be benefited by any works to be executed under this section, need not confine his assessment to the part of a lot actually drained, but, in order that the portion to be rated may be conveniently ascertained, may make such assessment on the whole lot, or on the half, quarter, or other described part of the lot, if the person owning the part actually drained owns the whole lot, or owns such half, quarter, or other described part of the lot; Mode of assessing property.

by charges in respect to drainage works. Another is, where the lease contains a contract of purchase, in which case such charges shall be added to the price. If it were not for this express exemption, it might be held that ordinary tenants under a covenant to pay taxes would be bound to pay the drainage rate. See In re Michie and Toronto, 11 O. C. P. 379.

(i) It was held not to be necessary for the by-law to specify the mode of ascertaining and determining the property to be benefited. In re Montgomery and Raleigh, 21 U. C. C. P. 381. Held also, that a schedule annexed to the by-law, shewing the benefit to be derived by each lot from the drainage to be performed under the by-law, which schedule was declared to be part of the by-law, sufficiently indicated that the lands so assessed were assessed as the only lands within the municipality regarded as benefited by the proposed work. See note to sub-s. 3 of this section.

(j) See notes to secs. 64 to 75, of the Assessment Act. Where the council while professing to adopt the engineer's assessment practically threw it aside and unfairly discriminated against some lands and in favour of others, it was held that the by-law could not be sustained. Re Clark and the Township of Howard, 14 O. Injury to low lying land.

9. In cases provided for in the next preceding sub-section, the council may pass by-laws for assessing and defraying the annual cost of maintaining the necessary works upon the lands and roads to be benefited thereby, according to the provisions of this Act ; and may do all things necessary, and pass all requisite and proper by-laws, and enter into all proper contracts for maintaining and giving full effect to said works ; and all the provisions of this and the following sections to section 632 inclusive, shall be applicable, so far as possible to the draining of lands under subsection 8 of this section ; except that the council of the municipality may on the petition of two-thirds of the owners appearing by the last revised assessment roll to be assessed for work mentioned in said sub-section, pass a by-law relieving the municipality from all liability under the provisions of section 586, and after such last mentioned by-law shall have been passed the provisions of said section 586 shall not apply to any of the works mentioned in said sub-section and set forth and designated in said last mentioned by-law; 46 V. c. 18, s. 570 (9) ; 49 V. c. 37, s. 21.

In the case of In re Montgomery and Raleigh, 21 U. C. C. P. 393, decided under the provisions of 32 Vict. c. 43, Gwynne, J., said: "The object of the Act, as it appears to me, is, to make the appeal to the council, if not appealed from to the County Judge, and the decision of the County Court Judge, if the appeal should be carried to him, as final and conclusive as the decision of the Court of Revision and of the County Court Judge respectively are under the Assessment Act, . . . such a mode of decision upon the several matters being provided by the Act, seems to conclude the idea that these matters can be opened upon a motion to quash the by-law," See also Re White and Sandwich East, 1 O. R. 530. The appeal is now before the Court of Revision, the decision of which may be appealed from to the Judge or junior or acting Judge of the county in which such municipality is situate. Sub-s. 13. When the engineer who made the assessment was not notified and was not present at the Court of Revision but was present on the appeals therefrom to the County Judge which were taken by all who had appealed to the Court of Revision held not a ground for setting aside the by-law. Re McLean and Ops, 45 U. C. Q. B. 325. Matters of which complaint might be made to the Court of Revision form no ground for quashing a by-law. Ib. No interest can disqualify a councillor or a member of a Court of Revision from performing his duties as such that springs solely from his being a ratepayer in the municipality. Ib. See also Canadian Land and Emigration Co. v. Dysart, 12 A. R. 80.

Powers of Judge on appeal.

14. In case of appeal to the Judge, junior or acting Judge of the County Court, he shall have the same powers and duties, and the clerk of the municipality shall have the same powers and duties, as nearly as may be, as they have respectively upon appeals from the Court of Revision under The Assessment Act; (n)

Rev. Stat. c. 193, ss. 68-74.

Variations in assessment on complaint or appeal.

15. In case, on any such complaint or appeal, the assessment is varied in respect of the property which is the subject of the complaint or appeal, the Court or Judge, as the case may be, shall vary pro rata the assessment of the said property, and of the other lands and roads benefited as aforesaid, without further notice to the persons interested therein, so that the aggregate amount assessed shall be the same as if there had been no appeal, (o) and the Judge, or in case there is no appeal to the Judge, the Court of Revision shall return the roll to the municipal clerk from whom it was received, and the assessors shall prepare and attest a roll in accordance with their original assessment as altered by such revision;

Works to which this section applies.

16. The provisions of this section shall be deemed to extend to the re-execution or completion of any works which have been executed or have been partly or insufficiently executed under any provision of any Act of this Legislature, or of the Parliament of the Province of Canada, and to any works which it may be deemed expedient to dig, construct, or make for the purposes aforesaid, or any of them, provided that the stream, lake, or pond is, for the purposes hereof, within the jurisdiction of this Legislature; 46 V. c. 18, s. 570 (11-16).

Appointment of commissioners to carry out drainage works.

17. In order the better to maintain and operate works constructed under the provisions of sub-section 8 of this section, the council may pass by-laws appointing one or more commissioners from among those whose lands are assessed for the construction of such works, and the commissioners

In distributing the amounts struck off among the other properties the Judge added nothing to the assessment of this lot so fixed by consent, but he certified that the other owners were assessed for less than they would have been but for such consent: Held, that this sub-section had been practically complied with. Re McLean and the Township of Ops, 45 U. Provision where obstruction is situate outside of municipality.

18. Where any obstruction, within the meaning of the provisions of this section, is wholly situate or existing beyond the limits of the municipality, the same shall, for all purposes, and with respect to every provision of this Act, be deemed and taken to be an obstruction situate and existing partly within and partly without the limits of the municipality, and as if the proposed work or operations in connection therewith, or with the removal thereof, were to be done and performed in part within the limits of the municipality, and in part to be continued and extended beyond such limits, and all the provisions of this Act shall be held and deemed to apply and operate accordingly; (p)

Removal of artificial structures.

19. Where such obstruction is occasioned by or is a dam or other artificial structure, the council shall be deemed to have full power to acquire, with the consent of the owner thereof, and upon payment of such purchase money as may be mutually agreed upon, the right and title to remove the same, wholly or in part; and any amount so paid or payable as purchase money, shall be deemed part of the cost of the works under this section in connection with the removal of such obstruction, and shall be dealt with and provided for accordingly;

Application of sub-ss. 18 and 19.

20. The two preceding sub-sections are to be taken as applying only to cases where the obstruction is actually situate or existing in a municipality next adjoining to the municipality mentioned in such sub-sections; 49 V. c. 37, s. 22.

Removal of obstructions in rivers.

21. To remove doubts it is hereby declared and enacted that where the obstruction referred to in this section is occasioned by, or is a dam or other artificial structure, and situate wholly within the municipality, the council shall be deemed to have full power to acquire, with the consent of the owner thereof, and upon payment of such purchase money as may be mutually agreed upon, the right to Amendment of by-law.

(2) In the event of the assessment being altered b

Court of Revision or Judge, the by-law shall, before being finally passed, be amended so as to correspond with such alteration, by the Court of Revision or Judge (as the case may be). (a) 46 V. c. 18, s. 571; 49 V. c. 37, s. 24.

Provision where by-law passed before appeal determined.

(3) In case the council shall finally pass the by-law before the time for appealing to the Judge has expired, or while an appeal is pending before him, the Judge shall, notwithstanding such by-law has been passed, proceed and determine the appeal; and if he varies the assessment, the council shall by an amending by-law alter the by-law in accordance with the variation in the assessment made by the Judge. 49 V. c. 37, s. 23.

Publication of drainage by-laws.

571—(1) Before the final passing of the by-law it shall be published once or oftener in every week for four weeks in such newspaper published either within the municipality or in the county town, or in a public newspaper published in an adjoining local municipality, as the council may designate by resolution, (b) together with a notice that any one intending to apply to have the by-law, or any part thereof, quashed must, not later than ten days after the final passing thereof, serve a notice in writing upon the reeve or other head officer, and upon the clerk of the municipality, of his intention to make application for that purpose to the High Court at Toronto, during the six weeks next ensuing the final passing of the by-law. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 572 (1); 49 V. c. 37, s. 25.

(a) Where the assessments were altered but the by-law was not amended before being finally passed, and it was impossible to discover from the alterations as made the total amount of the special rate against each lot or part of lot, and therefore the amount to be annually levied, the defect was held fatal. Re Funston and Tilbury West, 11 O. R. 74.

There was no newspaper published in the township, or in the county town, or in the next adjoining municipality; but there were newspapers published in several small villages somewhat nearer to the township than the town, but their circulation was much smaller in the township than that of the town paper: Held, that the publication was sufficient. Re Gallerno and Township of Rochester, 46 U. C. Q. B. 279. Non-publication of the notice required by this section is not fatal to the validity of a by-law. In re Ferguson and the Township of Howick, 44 U. C. Q. B. 41.

By-law may be served on property owners, instead of published.

(2) The council may, at their option, instead of such publication in a newspaper, direct by resolution that a copy of the by-law and notice, written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, be served upon each of the several owners, their lessees or occupants, or upon the agent or agents of such owners, or be left at their places of residence with some grown up member of the family, or where the land is unoccupied and the owner or owners, or their agent or agents, do not reside within the municipality, may cause to be sent by registered letter to the last known address of such owner or owners, a copy of the by-law and notice, and the by-law shall not be finally passed until after the expiration of three weeks from the last of such services, and the clerk shall keep on file in his office a statutory declaration or declarations by the party or parties making the service or services, and the manner in which the same were effected. 46 V. c. 18, s. 572 (2). See sec. 622.

If no application to quash made in time specified, by-law to be valid, notwithstanding defects.

572.—(1) In case no notice of the intention to make application to quash a by-law is served within the time limited for that purpose in the preceding section, or if the notice is served then in case the application is not made or is unsuccessful, the by-law shall, notwithstanding any want of substance or form, either in the by-law itself or in the time and manner of passing the same, be a valid by-law. description of by-law. All that is in general necessary is that the application to quash should be made within one year after the passing of the by-law. Sec. 333. In the case of a by-law promulgated, or registered no application can be entertained after the expiration of three months from the promulgation or registration. Secs. 334, 335. The omission from the notice of the words "during the six weeks next ensuing the publication of the by-law" does not render the by-law invalid. Re McLean and Ops, 45 U. C. Q. B. 325. Where a by-law, as finally passed, differs from that published only in respect of changes made in the assessment by the Court of Revision and by the County Judge, it is not necessary to publish the by-law again after such changes. Ib. Applicants to quash a by-law having followed in their application the notice given by the council should not be prejudiced because that notice was incorrect. In re Robertson and North Easthope, 15 O. R. 423.

(d) In the case of an ordinary by-law, if the application to quash be not made within the time in that behalf limited, see note c to sec. 571, the court will not entertain it. But the validity of the by-law is subject to be incidentally questioned in any action or proceeding that may afterwards arise in reference to it. Sutherland v. Pettis County, Missouri, 10 U. C. Q. B. 626. Here it is provided that if no notice be served within the time limited, the by law shall, notwithstanding "any want of substance or form, either in the by-law itself or in the time

Power to amend by-law when no sufficient means provided for completion of the work.

573.—(1) In case a by-law already passed, or which may be hereafter passed, by the council of any municipality, for the construction of drainage works by assessment upon the real property to be benefited thereby, and which has been acted upon by the construction of such works in whole or in part, does not provide sufficient means, or provides more than sufficient means for the completion of the works, or for the redemption of the debentures authorized to be issued thereunder as the same become payable, the said council may, from time to time, amend the by-law in order fully to carry out the intention thereof, and of the petition on which the same was founded, and to refund the surplus (if any) to the then owners of the land pro rata according to the original assessment. manner of passing" it, be "a valid by-law." In other words, that which, by reason of some substantial defect, is utterly void when passed, afterwards becomes a valid by-law in consequence of the neglect of some person interested, within ten days after the passing of the by-law, to give notice of his intention to make application to quash the by-law. This is certainly a vigorous application of the maxim, "Vigilantibus non dormientibus jura subveniunt." The section has not even the qualifying words "So far as the same ordains, prescribes, or directs anything within the proper competence of the council," found in sec. 331. See note t to that section. But it remains to be decided whether the omission of those words is to be held to confer power sub modo to pass a by-law clearly beyond the competence of the council. See also sec. 352.

(e) Where drainage works was constructed under a contract and certain work not provided for by the contract was done without which the drain would have been useless it was held although there was no formal resolution of the council authorizing the additional work nor any contract thereof under the corporate seal that the corporation was liable. Green v. Township of Orford, 15 O. R. 506. After a drain had been constructed and accepted by the council from the contractors as completed, a balance of the assessment remained in the hands of the municipality which in compliance with a petition signed by the plaintiff and other contributories to the fund was distributed ratably by them. The plaintiff had been allotted a section of the work and had been paid therefor though he had not fully carried out his contract. After the defendants had so disbursed the whole amount of the assessment, the plaintiff claimed to have discovered that the drain had not been properly constructed according to the report of the engineer and sought on behalf of himself and other ratepayers to compel the municipality to complete the drain according

The engineer or surveyor is in the first instance made the judge of the amount to be paid. It may be any sum that "he may deem just." Provision is hereafter made for appealing from his decision. 2. The amount, whatever it may be when ultimately determined, is to be paid out of the general funds of the municipality or municipalities. A county may be deemed an "adjoining municipality" within the meaning of the townships forming a part of such county, and county roads, if improved and benefited, are roads belonging to a "corporation" and "lying within any municipality." In re Essex and Rochester, 42 U. (d) A by-law passed for raising the unpaid portion of the expense of cleaning out and repairing a drain, otherwise good on its face, was objected to on the ground that while the resolution and by-law authorizing the work to be done were for such cleaning and repairing only the work actually done included deepening which it was contended could only be done by petition therefor under sec. 569. It appeared that the deepening if done at all, which was doubtful, was done accidentally and not by design. Under these circumstances, the objection being without merits, and as much inconvenience would have ensued had the by-law been quashed an application therefor was refused; and quære whether the municipality had not power without petition to do such work, including deepening, as might be incidental to maintaining the drain in an efficient state. *Begg v. See sec. 17 (3) (b).

The Court will not entertain an application to set aside a by-law on a matter of fact, which, according to this Act, or a by-law passed under it, should be ascertained and determined by an officer of the municipality, in the absence of fraud or corrupt conduct being imputed to such officer. See sec. 573, sub s. 1.

Regulating time and manner of levying assessments, etc.

6. For regulating the time or times and manner in which the assessments to be levied under this section are to be paid, (g) and for arranging the terms on which parties assessed for local improvements may commute for the payment of their proportionate shares of the cost thereof in principal sums; (h)

(g) The by-law of a municipal corporation, passed in 1865, for the purpose of authorizing the levying of a rate for certain local improvements, in the shape of the pavement of sidewalks, after reciting a previous resolution of the council accepting a tender for the work and authorizing the passage of a by-law to levy a certain rate per foot frontage on the owners of real estate on the parts of several streets named, provided that the required sum should be raised by local taxation "upon the proprietors of the several lots of land adjoining said sidewalks immediately benefited thereby; except that part on James street opposite the Market Place, and those parts on Church street opposite the several churches and school houses," that the persons named in the first column of the schedule annexed to the by-law were proprietors of land adjoining the sidewalks and were immediately benefited thereby; that the whole of the said property so benefited was by the assessment rate of 1865 rated at $12,554, enacted that there should be raised from the said proprietors twenty-two and a half cents in the dollar, and that the collector for 1865 should collect the same in the usual way. It then repealed a by-law of 1864, authorizing the levying of the frontage rate. The work in question had been begun, finished, and paid for in 1864, with the exception of $659, which were paid before the passage of the by-law of 1865. There was the further fact, that the whole of plaintiff's property at the corner of two streets was assessed, whereas the flagging extended only over a portion of it. Held, that the by-law contained nothing objectionable on its face; but assuming it defective in providing for the debt of the previous year, it was merely providing in 1865 for a debt contracted and provided for by the by-law of 1864, but provided for imperfectly, and that the mere repeal of a defective, doubtful or invalid rate imposed within the jurisdiction of the council, for another free from all objection, was not a violation of the rule against prospective rates. Held also, that it was no objection to the by-law that certain proprietors were rated for the special rate who were not on the general assessment roll, nor that the assessed value of 1864 was taken instead of that of 1865, as this did not appear on the face of the by-law, and could be raised in an action of replevin. Held also, that the whole of plaintiff's property as assessed was liable, though the flagging extended over a portion only. Haynes v. Copeland, 18 U. C. C. P. 150; see further, Great Western R. W. Co. v. West Bromwich Commissioners, 1 E. & E. 806; Blackburn v. Parkinson, Ib., 71; Pound v. Plumstead Board of Works, L. R. 7 Q. If the contemplated improvement is the construction of a common sewer having a sectional area of more than four feet, one-third of the whole cost thereof shall be provided for by the council; (j) the council of any municipality which has not passed a by-law within and under the provisions of section 625 of this Act shall also provide, in connection with all sewers, the cost of all culverts and other works necessary for street surface drainage, and shall also provide the cost of that part of every such work, improvement or service which is incurred at and is chargeable in respect of street intersections, and also that part thereof done or made opposite real property which by any general or special Act is exempt from special or local assessment; Construction of sewers, etc., in part to be provided by council.

9. Upon the receipt of a petition praying for any of the works, improvements or services mentioned in this section, signed by at least two-thirds in number of the owners of any real property to be benefited thereby, such owners representing at least one-half in value of such real property, the council may make the necessary assessment, pass the necessary by-laws, and take all the proper and necessary proceedings for the execution and completion of such work, improvement or service, with as little delay as possible; (k) 47 V. c. 32, s. 21. legally be allowed to commute by payment of a fixed sum. In re McCutcheon and Toronto, 22 U. C. Q. B. 613.

(j) A municipal corporation contracted with a paver to do certain work at a fixed price, of which the corporation was to pay one-third and the owners two-thirds. It was, however, judicially determined that the owners were in law liable to pay only one-third. Held, that the paver had the right to recover two-thirds against the corporation. Tourier v. Municipality Number One, 5 La. An. 298; see futher, Crawn v. Municipality Number one, Ib., 537; Maher v. Chicago, 38 Ill. 266; Chicago v. The People, 48 Ill. 416; Reilly v. Philadelphia, 60 Pa. St. 467; Michel v. Police Jury, 9 La. An. 67.

(k) The petition must be "signed by at least two-thirds in number of the owners of any real property to be benefited thereby, such owners representing at least one half in value of such real property." It is not said how the ownership of the property is to be determined and so differs from sec. 569, where the petition for drainage purposes is required to be signed by "the majority in number

Lands benefited to be charged with proportion of cost of certain local improvements.

10. If the contemplated works or improvements relate to any stream, creek or watercourse, or to draining any locality, and in the opinion of the engineer or surveyor benefit any lands lying within the municipality, or any road or roads lying therein, then the engineer or surveyor aforesaid shall charge the lands to be so benefited, and the corporation, person or company whose road or roads are improved, with such proportion of the cost of the work or improvement as of the persons as shewn by the last revised assessment roll to be the owners (whether resident or non-resident) of the property to be benefited." As some of the local improvements are of an extensive and costly nature, it would hardly be contended that a person, on the assessment roll but who had parted with his property months before the improvement was contemplated, should be allowed to represent the property for the purpose of imposing this assessment, by signing the petition, though it is not easy to determine why there should have been a distinction made as to the qualification of the signers of the petition in this and in section 569. See, however, the form of the notice given in sec. 623, from which it would seem that it is sufficient to ascertain the names of the owners from the last revised assessment roll. Where a by-law provided that the number of owners and the value of the real property was to be ascertained by the City Clerk, and be appended to the petition, a certificate that the total number of persons assessed for property to be directly benefited was twenty-three,—that sixteen names were signed to the petition, that the total value of the assessed property was $520,182, and that the amount represented by the signers of the petition was $413,496, the Court, on an application to quash a by-law for local improvements, refused to go behind this certificate. In re Michie and Toronto, 11 U. C. C. P. 379; see also, In re Montgomery and Raleigh, 21 U. C. C. P. 391. "It is not objected that he (the Clerk) acted corruptly and fraudulently, and though as I gather from the unanswered statements in the relator's affidavit's, the City Clerk has fallen into an error,—an error easily accounted for, as his conclusions were drawn from the assessment roll only,—yet I think we cannot on that account annul the whole proceeding. . . . I am not to be understood as determining that he should have confined his inquiry to the assessment roll, when he was required to ascertain and finally determine the matter of number and value; but I think that, having acted as we must assume, bona fide, the Legislature intended his determination to be final, as the foundation for the by-law authorizing the improvement and imposing the special rate. Re Michie and Toronto, 11 U. C. C. P. 385, per Draper, C. J.; see further, note d to sub-s. 2. Where a city was authorized by one section of the Act, on the petition of two-thirds of the owners of abuting property, to make certain improvements in a street, and by a subsequent section power was conferred upon the council to order such improvements by a two-thirds vote of the council, it was held that, although proceedings relative to the improvements were commenced by petition from the property holders, yet, having been ordered by a two-thirds vote of the council, they were valid, although two thirds of the property he may deem just; and the amount so charged for roads or agreed upon by arbitration shall be paid out of the general funds of the municipality or company, and the provisions of this Act relating to drainage, so far as applicable, shall apply to any such work or improvement constructed under this section; 48 V. c. 39, s. 29.

Cost of sewers.

613—(1) In ascertaining and determining the cost of draining any locality or making and laying or prolonging any common sewer, the council of any township, city, town or incorporated village, may estimate the cost of the construction of branch drains to the line of street, and include the cost of such branch drains in making the assessment for such drains or common sewers, as a local improvement pursuant to the last preceding section. 50 V. c. 29, ss. 48, 49.

(2) In any case where in order to afford an outlet for the sewerage and drainage of real property other than that fronting or abutting upon the street in which a sewer shall hereafter be constructed, such sewer shall be constructed of a larger capacity than that required for the efficient sewerage and drainage of the real property fronting or abutting upon the street, then, and in every such case, the council may impose a special assessment upon the other real property benefited by the construction of such sewer in the manner hereinafter provided by sections 618 and 619 of this Act. 51 V. c. 28, s. 33.

Assessment of corner lots, etc., for local improvements.

614. The council of every township, city, town, and incorporated village may, by by-law, provide an equitable mode of assessing for local improvements, works and services, corner lots, triangular or other irregular shaped pieces of land situate at the intersections or junctions of streets, having due regard to the situation, value and superficial area of such lots, as compared with adjoining lots and pieces of land assessable for such improvements, works and services, and may charge the amount of any allowance, made on any such lot or piece of land, on the other real property fronting on the improvements, or assume the same as a portion of the municipality's share of the work or improve-holders did not unite in the petition, for that the two-thirds vote of the council made the proceedings valid, notwithstanding any prior defects. Indianapolis v. Mansur, 15 Ind. 112; see further Lafayette v. Fowler, 34 Ind. 140; McCormack v. Patchin, 14 Am. 430.

Refund of part of special rate for local improvements imposed on corner lots, etc.

615. It shall and may be lawful for the council of any township, city, town, or incorporated village by a two-thirds vote of the council to pass by-laws to remit and refund so much of the special rates imposed prior to the 30th day of March, 1885, on corner lots and irregular pieces of land for the construction of pavements and sidewalks under local improvement by-laws as may be necessary to equalize the assessment made on such property with the assessment made on adjoining properties with the same improvement or work, and to provide the amount of all rates so remitted or refunded by passing by-laws for borrowing money by the issue of debentures, or by including said amounts in the rate bills for the year; provided that no such remission or refund shall be made in any case where the work or improvement shall have been made or constructed more than four years before the passage of the by-law authorizing the refund or remission. 48 V. c. 39, s. 35; 50 V. c. 29, s. 48.

46 V. c. 18.

616. In any case when notice of a proposed improvement, work or service, to be paid for by special assessment as a local improvement, has been given by any council of any municipality pursuant to the provisions of chapter 174 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1877, or of The Consolidated Municipal Act, 1883, or any amending Act or Acts, and no petition sufficiently signed has been presented to the said council or to the succeeding council against such proposed improvement, work or service and assessment within the time limited in that behalf by the said Acts, it shall be lawful for the said council, in the same or any succeeding year, to carry on the proposed work, improvement or service to completion, before making the assessment therefor; and such notice, so given, shall stand good as authority for undertaking any such work, improvement or service, and making such assessment or assessments, and passing all necessary by-laws, whether the same shall have been or shall be undertaken and completed by the council giving such notice, or by the council in any succeeding year. 49 V. c. 37, s. 40.

How proportion of cost of local improvements

617. Where the lands on either side of a street, lane, or alley in a city, town or incorporated village, in the opinion of the council, are from any cause unfit for building purposes, and the council deem it inequitable to assess the same for local improvements at as high a rate as the building lots fronting on said street, lane or alley, the council shall, in all such cases, determine in what proportion the cost of any such improvement shall be borne by the lands on each side of said street, lane, or alley, respectively. 46 V. c. 18, s. 614.

Is to be determined in special cases.

618—(1) Where it shall, in the opinion of the council of any township, city, town or incorporated village, be deemed expedient and necessary to construct or repair bridges or culverts on any street, lane or alley, or to open up and extend any street, lane or alley within the limits thereof for the more immediate convenience or benefit of any locality within such limits, and the council is of opinion that from any cause it is inequitable to charge the whole of the cost of the improvement on the lands fronting thereon, the council shall determine what lands are benefited by such works or improvements, and the proportion in which the cost thereof shall be assessed against the lands so benefited, and also the proportion, if any, of the cost of the improvement, which shall be assumed by the township, city, town or incorporated village as its share thereof; provided always that the share or proportion of the cost of such improvement assumed by the municipality may be provided for by the issue of debentures upon the credit of the municipality at large in like manner as in the case of the share of the municipality of other local improvements: provided, also, that all assessments made under the above provisions shall be subject to an appeal to the Judge of the County Court in like manner as in the case of other special assessments for local improvements, under the provisions of this Act. 48 V. c. 39, s. 33; 50 V. c. 29, ss. 43, 48; 51 V. c. 28, s. 36.

Cost of opening and extending streets.

(2) In any case when the council affirms by a two-thirds vote thereof that the constructing, erecting, or making of any bridge, culvert or embankment, benefits the municipality at large, and that it would be inequitable to raise the whole cost of such improvement or work by local special assessments, the council may pass a by-law for borrowing money by the issue of debentures upon the credit of the municipality at large to provide as the corporation's share of the cost of such improvement or work an amount not exceeding one-half of the whole cost thereof; and no such by-law shall require the assent of the electors before the final passing thereof. 50 V. c. 29, s. 43.

Assessment of lands benefited by improvements where land does not front on street on which improvement made.

619—(1) If in the case of the construction or repair of a bridge or culvert, or the opening up and extension of any street, lane, or alley, the council shall determine what real property other than than fronting or abutting upon the street, lane, or alley, whereon or wherein the improvement is made, or to be made, is specially benefited, and ought to be charged with a part of the cost thereof, and shall determine the proportion in which the cost of the improvement shall be assessed against the lands so benefited, the council shall assess and levy the proportion of the cost of the improvement chargeable against the lands benefited, but not fronting or abutting upon such street, lane or alley, by a frontage rate, in like manner as the same would be assessed and levied in the case of lands, fronting or abutting upon the street, lane or alley, whereon, or wherein the improvement is made or to be made. 48 V. c. 39, s. 34.

(2) Or, in the case of a township, the council may, by by-law, provide that the cost of the works therein specified may be assessed and levied by a special rate upon the lands benefited thereby, according to the proportion of benefit received therefrom instead of by a frontage rate, as hereinbefore provided; and where the owners of real property have constructed works or improvements which might have been constructed by the municipality as local improvements, the council may, upon the petition of three-fourths of the owners of lands to be benefited by the acquisition of such works or improvements representing at least two-thirds in value thereof acquire the same at a price to be fixed by agreement or by arbitration pursuant to this Act, and the purchase money therefor may be raised, assessed, and levied, as for local improvements, upon the real property benefited thereby, as above provided.

(a) The number of the owners petitioning for the said assessment, and the value of the real property which they represent, may be ascertained and finally determined in such manner and by such means as are provided by by-law in that behalf, subject to an appeal to the Judge of the County Court as in the case of other special assessments for local improvements. 51 V. c. 28, s. 37.

Council may permit owners to street, lane or alley, within a township, city, town or incorporated village, under the direction of the council or an officer thereof appointed for that purpose, and according to such plans and regulations as the council may prescribe, in which case the owners or occupants of such lands shall be exempt from all taxes for improvements of a like nature so long as he or they shall keep the same in repair to the satisfaction of the council. 46 V. c. 18, s. 616; 50 V. c. 29, s. 48.

621.—(1) For the purpose of enabling councils to avoid the necessity of making supplementary assessments, or refunding in case of over assessments, and of ascertaining the exact cost of any work or improvement done or constructed as a local improvement under the provisions of this Act, they may and they are hereby authorized and empowered to make agreements with any bank or any person or body corporate for temporary advances and loans until the completion of the work or improvement for meeting the cost thereof, and they may and they are hereby authorized and empowered, in their option, to make the special assessments for the cost thereof, after the work or improvement, as the case may be, shall have been completed, and to pass the necessary by-law authorizing the issue of debentures to repay the amount of the temporary loan or advance.

Power to borrow funds for local improvements.

(2) Every by-law for borrowing money shall provide for the repayment of the loan and the maturing of debentures to be issued pursuant to such by-law, within the probable life of the work or improvement for which such debt has been incurred, as certified by the engineer, or other proper officer to be appointed by the council for that purpose.

Time for repayment of loans.

(3) If, in any case, a debt has been incurred by the municipality for any work or improvement done or constructed under the provisions of this Act, and after the incurring of the said debt the special assessment for such work or improvement, or the by-law providing for borrowing money therefor, be set aside or quashed, either wholly or in part, on the ground of any irregularity or illegality in the making of such assessment or passing such by-law, it shall be lawful for the council, and they are hereby authorized, to cause a new assessment or assessments to be made, and to pass a new by-law, so often as may be necessary to provide funds for the payment of the debt so incurred for such work or improvement: provided always that nothing herein contained shall be construed as authorizing any assessment to be made, or work or improvement to be undertaken, except the same be initiated in some one of the three methods by law provided, namely :

(a) Either on the report of the engineer or other sanitary officer, and of a committee of the council, recommending the proposed work or improvement for sanitary or drainage purposes adopted by the council ; or

(b) On a petition of the owners of the real property benefited, sufficiently signed ; or

(c) After due notice, as above provided, of the proposed assessment, and no petition of the owners of the real property benefited, against the proposed assessment, sufficiently signed, being presented to the council within the time limited therefor.

Property charged with local improvements to be exempt from general rates for same purpose.

(4) Any real property specially assessed by any council for any local improvement or work under this Act, and real property where such improvement or work has been done with moneys provided by the owners of such real property, and real property the owners of which have constructed their own works and improvements, which would otherwise have been constructed by the municipality as local improvements, shall be exempted by the council from any general rate or assessment for the like purpose, except the cost of works and improvements at the intersection of streets, and except such portion of the general rate as may be imposed to meet the cost of works and improvements opposite real property which is exempt from such special assessments, and the general rate which may be imposed to meet the cost of maintenance and repairs on works and improvements constructed under local improvement by-laws. 46 V. c. 18, s. 617.

By-laws need not be advertised, but notice of the sitting of the court of revision shall be served on owners, lessees, etc.

622.—(1) No by-law passed by the council of any township, city, town, or incorporated village, under the provisions of sections 569, 570, or 612 of this Act, shall require to be advertised or published by the said council in any newspaper, but a written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, notice of the sitting of the Court of Revision for the confirmation of every such special assessment shall be given to the owners, lessees, and occupants, or the agents of the owners, lessees, and occupants, of each parcel of real estate included in such by-laws and assessment. 46 V. c. 18, s. 618 (1) ; 50 V. c. 29, s. 48.

(2) Every such notice shall contain a general description of the property in respect of which the same is given, the nature of the proposed improvements, work or service, the estimated total cost thereof, the amount of the assessment on the particular piece of property, and the time and manner in which the same is payable, and shall be signed by the clerk or the assessment commissioner, or other officer to be appointed by the council for the purpose, and be mailed to the address of the person entitled to notice at least fifteen days before the day appointed for the sittings of the said Court, and ten days' notice shall also be given by publication in some newspaper, having a general circulation, of the time and place of the meeting of the said court, which notice shall specify generally what such assessment is to be for and the total amount to be assessed. (l) 46 V. c. 18, s. 618 (2); 50 V. c. 29, s. 44.

(l) It has been held that where a municipal corporation exercises the power to make local improvements and charge the cost thereof on the lands directly benefited thereby, the owners of such lands, if accessible by reasonable diligence, are entitled to reasonable notice of the meeting of the commissioners for assessing the cost, and this although the charter be silent on the subject. See Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 3rd ed. secs. 803, 804. Where the by-law of a municipal corporation provided that the clerk of the council should cause a notice to be left at the place of abode of each of the parties assessed for such improvement, that the assesment was made and the amount thereof, and that a by-law would be passed in accordance therewith unless appealed from as provided by law, the court, on the application of a person interested, who swore that he had no notice of the by-law until some time after it was passed, and that he first became aware of the particulars of it and of the proceedings on which it was based in February before the application to quash, refused to quash the by-law. In re Michie v. Toronto, 1 U. C. C. P. 379. "The objection is sustained in fact, as I understand the statements. But the provision requiring notice of intention to pass the by-law to be given or sent to parties affected by it is not statutory, nor is the validity of the by-law made dependent on provisions contained only in by-laws. And although the relator states in his affidavit that he had no notice of the by-law 'until some time after it was passed,' and that he first became aware of the particulars of it and of the proceedings on which it was based in February last, yet it is difficult to suppose that he was not aware long before that date that the stone sidewalk was being laid down, or that the work was of that character which was usually paid for by special local rate. This was enough to put any one on enquiry. Then he became, from his own expression, to have become aware of the by-law some time before he became aware of its precise contents; but the knowledge of the first was notice of the second, and he then might have learned everything necessary to support a much earlier application to quash the by-law." Per Draper, C. J., Ib. 385. Notice

General description in by-laws under s. 612, sufficient where special rate is a frontage rate.

623.—(1) Where a by-law passed under the provisions of section 612 of this Act provides, or is intended to provide, that the special rate assessed thereunder shall be a frontage rate, it shall not be necessary to comply with the provisions of sub-section 1 of the said section, or to advertise or publish the by-law, or to comply with the provisions of the next preceding section of this Act, but it shall be sufficient if the by-law describe the street or place or part thereof whereon or wherein the local improvement is to be made by a general description thereof, stating the points between which it is to be made, and it shall not be necessary for such by-law to state the value of the real property ratable thereunder, or to impose a rate upon such real property by any description other than that hereinbefore mentioned.

(2) In cases to which the next preceding sub-section applies, the council shall procure a measurement of the frontage liable to the rate mentioned therein, and of the frontages exempt from taxation, and of the frontages of the several lots or parcels of land liable to such rate, and shall keep a statement of the same open for inspection in the office of the clerk of the municipality for at least ten days before the final passing of the by-law, and the council shall also cause to be inserted in a public newspaper published within the municipality, or in the county town, or in a public newspaper published in the nearest municipality in which a public newspaper is published, once a week for two successive weeks, a notice in the form following or to the like effect :

Take notice that a by-law is intended to be passed by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the of for levying a frontage rate to pay for the (describing the work) constructed (or made) or to be constructed (or made) (as the case may be) on street, between (describing the points between which the work has been or is to be made or constructed) and that a statement shewing the lands liable to pay the said rate and the names of the owners thereof, so far as they can be ascertained from the last revised assessment roll, is now filed in the office of the Clerk of the Municipality and is open for inspection during office hours.

The cost of the work is $ of which is to be provided out of the general funds of the municipality.

A Court of Revision will be held on at for the purpose of hearing complaints against the proposed assessment or accuracy of the frontage measurements or any other complaint which persons interested may desire to make, and which is by law cognizable by the court.

Dated. Clerk.

(3) There shall be the same right of appeal from any such assessment to the Court of Revision, and from the Court of Revision to the county Judge, as is provided in section 569 of this Act, and the proceedings thereon shall, except as otherwise provided by this Act, be the same (as nearly as practicable) as in the case of appeals from ordinary assessments under The Assessment Act, and the Court of Revision and the County Judge shall respectively have the like jurisdiction, rights, and powers in respect to every such appeal as in the case of such last mentioned appeals. Rev. Stat. c. 193.

(4) The said statement, or the same as altered or varied by the Court of Revision or the County Judge upon appeal, shall be final and conclusive as to all matters therein contained. 48 V. c. 39, s. 38.

Property specially assessed to be exempt from general assessment for same purpose.

624.—(1) Any real property specially assessed by any council for any local improvement or work under this Act shall be exempted by the council from any general rate, or assessment for the like purpose, except the cost of works at the intersection of streets, and except such portion of the general rate as may be imposed to meet the cost of like works opposite real property which is exempt from such special assessment.

(2) Where a local improvement or service is petitioned for, and the petition is by two-thirds in number of the owners of the real property fronting or abutting upon the street or place wherein or whereon such improvement or work is proposed to be done or made, the exemption may be for a specified period named in the petition and agreed to by the council.

(3) Or if, either with or without naming any period for such exemption, the petition requests an arbitration, the council may accede to the proposal for an arbitration.

(4) In case the matter is to be determined by arbitration, a sole arbitrator shall be chosen for the purpose by the County Court Judge, unless some person or persons is or are agreed to in that behalf by the petitioners and the council.

(5) Where, by reason of a special assessment, the owners are exempted from a general rate, for the like purpose, as aforesaid, the council shall, from year to year, by by-law directing the general rate of assessment, or by some other by-law, state what proportion of the general rate is for purposes for which there is such special assessment in any part of the municipality, and shall state the same in such manner as may give effect to this section.

(6) Until a by-law is passed containing such statement, none of the money raised by general rate on real property specially assessed or rated for any work or service hereafter executed shall be applied to any work or service of the same character in any part of the municipality. 46 V. c. 18, s. 619.

By-laws directing improvements to be made by local assessment.

625.—(1) The council of any township, city, town, or incorporated village may, by a by-law passed with the assent of the electors, according to the provisions of this Act, direct that all future expenditure in the municipality for the improvements and services, or for any class or classes of improvement or service, for which special provisions are made in sections 612 and 629, shall be by special assessment on the property benefited, and not exempt by law from assessment.

Repeal of by-laws.

(2) After such a by-law has been passed in manner aforesaid it shall not be repealed without the like assent of the electors, and, in case of such repeal, the preceding section, with respect to freedom from any general rate or assessment of property which is subject to a special rate, shall apply to all property which had been specially rated or assessed for such improvement or service, while the repealed by-law was in force.

The time the exemption is to cease, is to be determined by arbitration, and the arbitrator is to be appointed by the County Judge, on the application of the council. 46 V. c. 18, s. 620; 50 V. c. 29, s. 48.

Repairing and cleaning streets.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section 3 of section 612, after such a by-law has been passed in manner aforesaid, the council may pass a by-law or by-laws dividing the municipality into certain areas, districts or sections within which the streets or parts of streets may be maintained, repaired, cleaned, cleared of snow and ice, watered, swept, lighted and the grass therein cut and trees therein trimmed, and may impose a special rate upon the assessed real property therein, according to the frontage thereof, in order to pay any expenses incurred in maintaining, repairing, cleaning, clearing of snow and ice, watering, sweeping and lighting such streets or parts of streets, and cutting grass and trimming trees therein, or for any one or more of such services. 48 V. c. 39, s. 30.

Assessment of places of worship for local improvements.

626. With respect to land on which a place of worship is erected, and land used in connection therewith, the municipal council may, by the by-law to be passed in that behalf, require the corporation, trustees, and other persons in whom is vested any such property, and the said property, to be assessed for any local improvement in the same manner, and to the same extent, as the other owners and land benefited by the improvement, in the following cases, namely:

1. In case a by-law is passed under the preceding section;

2. Or in case no such by-law is passed, but two-thirds of the owners of the real property to be benefited by the proposed improvement (excluding such corporation, trustees or other persons aforesaid), representing at least one-half in value of the remaining property, petition the council to undertake the said improvement;

3. Or in case no such by-law is passed as aforesaid, but the said corporation, trustees or other persons, and two-thirds of the owners of the real property to be benefited by the proposed improvement (including the said corporation, trustees, or other persons), representing at least one-half in value of the property, including the said property so vested in the corporation, trustees, or other persons aforesaid, petition the council for the said improvement. 46 V. c. 18, s. 621.

Certain part of improvements may be charged on general rates.

627—(1) In case of a special assessment on property benefited by local improvement, the council of the municipality (if they think fit) may, by by-law, provide for constructing, at the expense of the general funds of the municipality, such part of the local improvement as is situate upon or in that part of any street, lane, alley, public place, or square, which is intersected by any other street, lane, alley, public place, or square, or as would otherwise fall on property exempt from assessment: and the council may provide for the cost in the general rates or taxes for the year, or by the issue of debentures, or in such other manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, or any special Act as to said council may seem best, and subject to such by-laws as the council may pass in that behalf.

Provisions as to "Local Improvement Debentures."

(2) The by-law authorizing the issue of the debentures need not be submitted for the assent of the electors of the municipality; and the debentures being issued to pay for that part of the work payable by local assessment may, if the council thinks fit, be issued as a series distinct from those required to pay for that part which is to be borne by the general funds of the municipality, or all the debentures required for the work may be issued in one series, as "Local Improvement Debentures." This sub-section shall be deemed declaratory of the law on and from the 5th day of March 1880. 46 V. c. 18, s. 622.

Assent of electors not required to by-laws for raising municipality's share of cost of local improvements.

628—(1) The council of any township, city, town, incorporated village may pass all by-laws necessary, from time to time, to raise loans and borrow moneys required for its share of any local improvements and works, on the credit of such township, city, town, or incorporated village at large, and it shall not be necessary to obtain the assent of the electors of such township, city, town, or village to the passing of any such by-law under the provisions of this Act or any special or private Act in that behalf to the contrary notwithstanding; provided always that nothing in this section contained shall be construed as authorizing an excession of the general debt of such township, city, town, or village beyond the limits thereof fixed by any Act limiting the same.

(2) It is hereby declared that the debentures issued under local improvement by-laws on the security of special assessments therefor form no part of the general debt of such municipality, within the meaning of any such above-mentioned Act, and it shall not be necessary to recite the amount of such local improvement debt so secured by special rates or assessments in any by-law for borrowing money on the credit of the township, city, town, or incorporated village at large as aforesaid, but it shall be sufficient to state in any such by-law, that the amount of the general debt of the municipality as therein set forth is exclusive of local improvement debts, secured by special Acts, rates or assessments. 46 V. c. 18, s. 623; 50 V. c. 29, s. 48.

Sweeping, Lighting, and Watering Streets.

Sweeping, lighting and watering streets.

629—(1) The council of every township, city, town and incorporated village may (m) pass by-laws for raising, upon the petition of at least two-thirds of the freeholders and householders resident in any street, square, alley, or lane, representing in value one-half of the assessed real property therein, such sums as may be necessary for sweeping, watering or lighting the street, square, alley, or lane, by means of a special rate on the real property therein according to the frontage thereof, or according to the assessed value thereof when only such latter system of assessment shall have been adopted by three fourths vote of the full council; (o) but the council

(n) See note r to sub-s. 9, sec. 612.

(o) It is plain that what the Legislature authorizes is, that the power of the council to impose a rate for the purposes indicated is to be exercised only by by-law, and that such by-law should in every case be passed subsequent to and consequent upon the presentation of the required petition praying for the passage of the particular by-law, and after the fullest opportunity had been given to every ratepayer to be affected by the by-law to object to its being passed. Per Gwynne, J., in Morell v. Toronto, 22 U. C. C. P. 323, 326. The petition may be that of a portion only of a street, asking the corporation to sweep, water or light that portion. In re Platt and Toronto, 33 U. C. Q. B. 53; see also, Creighton v. Scott, 14 Ohio, St. 438; St. Louis v. Clemens, 49 Mo. 552. But an application to sweep, water or light a whole street can only be legally granted when made by two-thirds of the property owners on the whole street. So if the corporation, upon a petition of the property owners of part of a street, sweep, water or light the whole (otherwise than in the exercise of their general powers; see notes p to sub-s. 2, and q to sub-s. 3), the by-law would be void. Swann v. Cumberland, 8 Gill (Md.) 150; McGonigle v. Alleghany, 44 Pa. St. 118. The by-law will be open to objection if it do not state the amount to be raised and levied. In re Platt and Toronto, 33 U. C. Q. B. 57. But where the application to quash the by-law on such an objection was not made till all the work authorized had been done, and the only effect of quashing it would have been may charge the general corporate funds with the expenditure incurred in such sweeping, watering, or lighting as aforesaid. (p) 46 V. c. 18, s. 624 (1); 50 V. c. 29, ss. 45, 48.

Special rate may be imposed therefor.

(2) The council may also, by by-law, define certain areas or sections within the municipality in which the streets should be watered, swept, and lighted and may impose a special rate upon the assessed real property therein, according to the frontage thereof, in order to pay any expenses incurred in watering, sweeping, or lighting such streets. (q) 46 V. c. 18, s. 624 (2).

Cutting grass, etc,

(3) The council may also include in either of the foregoing by-laws the cutting of grass and weeds, and trimming the trees or shrubbery on any such street, square, alley, or lane, and otherwise cleaning the same. 48 V. c. 39, s. 31.

Removal of snow, ice, etc.

(4) The council may also, by by-law, define certain areas or sections within the municipality in which all snow, ice, and dirt and other obstructions shall be removed from the sidewalks, streets, lanes, or alleys in such area or sections, and may impose a special rate upon the real property therein, according to the frontage thereof, in order to pay any expenses incurred in removing such snow, ice, dirt, or other obstruction. 50 V. c. 29, s. 46.

the passage of another by-law to remedy the defect, the Court, in the exercise of its discretionary power, refused to quash the by-law. Ib. It is not necessary in such a by-law to name the day when it shall take effect. Ib.

(p) A municipality may, but is not bound to, light a highway: see Randall v. Eastern R. W. Co., 8 Am. 327. But where the corporation does light a street and does it so negligently that a person is injured in consequence by falling into an excavation the character of the light may be shewn as one of the elements to establish negligence. Freeport v. Isbell, 25 Am. 327. It is in the discretion of the council under this section either to charge the general corporate funds with the expenditure, or to charge only the freeholders and householders whose land fronts on the street, &c. The latter course cannot be legally adopted unless there be the petition made necessary by the former part of this section.

(q) It would seem that no petition is necessary to the exercise of the power here conferred. That power is to define certain areas or sections within the municipality in which streets should be watered, swept or lighted, and to impose a special rate upon the assessed real property therein, according to the frontage thereof, to pay the expenses incurred.

DIVISION II.—TOWNSHIPS AND VILLAGES.

Light and Water. Sec. 630.

Lighting and water-works.

630—(1) In addition to the powers conferred upon the councils of townships and incorporated villages by section 612 to 628, both inclusive, of this Act, the council of any such township or village, under and subject to the provisions of the said sections, may pass by-laws providing for lighting, or for the construction of water works for the purpose of fire protection.

(2) The said council may, by the same or any subsequent by-law, define by metes and bounds, or otherwise, what real property will be immediately benefited by the proposed improvement, and is to be charged with the cost thereof, and may also, by such by-law, make provision for assessing and levying on the property so defined the cost of managing and maintaining the said works.

(3) Sub-section 3 of section 612 of this Act, shall not apply to any works constructed under the powers by this section conferred. 48 V. c. 39, s. 32; 50 V. c. 29, s. 48.

Special rates for local improvements.

631. The council of every county shall have power to pass by-laws (r) for levying by assessment on all ratable property within any particular part of one or parts of two townships to be described by metes and bounds in the by-law, in addition to all other rates, a sum sufficient to defray the expenses of making, repairing or improving any road, bridge, or other public work, lying within one township or between parts of such two townships, and by which the inhabitants of such parts will be more especially benefited but this section shall not apply to any road, bridge or other public works within the limits of any town or incorporated village. (s) 46 V. c. 18, s. 625.

(r) See note x to sec. 534.

(s) Roads, bridges, or other public works within the limits of any town or incorporated village are vested in the local corporation. s. 527.

Proceedings to obtain by-law for such improvements.

632. No by-law under the last preceding section shall be passed, except—

1. Upon a petition signed by at least two-thirds of the electors who are rated for at least one half of the value of the property within those parts of such township which are to be affected by the by-law; (t) nor

Notice to be posted up, and published for three weeks.

2. Unless a printed notice of the petition, with the names of the signers thereto, describing the limits within which the by-law is to have force, has been given for at least one month, by putting up the same in four different places within such parts of the township, and at the places for holding the sittings of the council of each township, whether it be within such parts or not, and also by inserting the same weekly for at least three consecutive weeks in some newspaper (if any there be), published in the county town, or if there is no such newspaper, then in the two newspapers published nearest the proposed work. 46 V. c. 18, s. 626.

Power to pass by-laws acquiring roads, etc., lying within one or more townships, etc., and to levy special rate for improvement thereof.

633—(1) A county council may, by by-law, assume or acquire any road, bridge, or other public work, lying within or adjacent to one or more townships or incorporated towns or villages, and may, by by-law raise by way of loan, a sum of money for the improvement of such road, bridge, or public work, to be repaid by a special assessment on all the ratable property within the municipalities which shall be immediately benefited by such road, bridge, or public work. 46 V. c. 18, s. 627 (1); 49 V. c. 37, s. 34.

Particulars which are to be stated in the by-law.

(2) Such by-law shall state the amount to be raised for such work, and shall define the municipalities forming the portion of the county municipality to be affected by the by-law, and the portion of work to be performed in each municipality, and shall provide for the raising of the said amount by the issue of debentures of the county, payable in twenty years, or by equal annual instalments of principal, with interest, and shall provide for assessing and levying upon all the ratable property, lying within the section defined in such by-law, an annual special rate sufficient for the payment of the principal and interest of the debentures.

By-law to be submitted to electors in

(3) The by-law shall, if approved by a majority of the representatives in the county council of the municipalities which are defined in the said by-law be submitted to the vote of the qualified ratepayers in the portion of said county to be affected by said by-law who are entitled to vote on money by-laws. portion of county interested.

(4) In case there should be a majority of votes cast against the by-law in any one or more of the municipalities mentioned therein, although the by-law be carried, then the same shall only apply to those municipalities in which it has received a majority of the votes cast, and shall not affect the other municipalities mentioned, in any way, and the amount of money mentioned in the by-law to be raised by way of loan, shall be reduced by the proportionate amount which the said municipality or municipalities, giving a majority of votes against the by-law, would have been required to pay under the by-law. By-law only to apply to those municipalities in which it has a majority of votes.

(5) In case there should be a majority of votes cast against the by-law in any one or more municipalities mentioned therein, although the by-law be carried, then upon the approval of the majority of the representatives in the county council of the municipalities which have given a majority of votes in favour of the by-law, the same may be read a third time and passed by the county council, or dropped altogether; but in case the by-law is finally passed, only the representatives in the county council of those municipalities giving a majority in favonr of the by-law, and to be affected by the same, shall have any voice in reference to the expenditure of the money to be raised thereby. By-law, if carried in some municipalities only, may be passed or dropped.

(6) In all other respects the voting on the by-laws, and the passing and subsequent proceedings thereon, shall be in accordance with the provisions of this Act. 46 V. c. 18, s. 627 (2-6). General provisions to apply to voting, etc

(7) Cities and towns separated from the county may, with the approval of the ratepayers qualified to vote on money by-laws, pass similar by-laws to assist in the purchase of any toll roads, in which the cities or separated towns may be interested, or may pass by-laws abolishing the market fees charged by them, on condition that certain toll roads therein named are made free. 49 V. c. 37, s. 34, part.

634. The council of every county, township, city, town, and incorporated village (a) may pass by-laws—

(a) The powers conferred are in general discretionary, not obligatory. See note x to sec. 534. The constitutional right of the Legislature to authorize municipal bodies to aid trading corporations, such as railways, and to tax the people for aid, is in the United States a subject of grave judicial conflict. Strong ground was taken by Chief Justice Dillon against the power in a very able and exhaustive judgment delivered by him in Hanson v. Vernon, 27 Iowa 28; 1 Am. 215. Referring to Dubuque County v. Dubuque and Pacific R. W. Co., 4 G. Green (Iowa) 1, where the majority of the court held otherwise, he said, "Disaster, the child of extravagance and debt, and dishonour the unbidden companion of bankruptcy, are the bitter but legitimate consequences of that decision, and 'the end is not yet.' In every other State in which a similar decision was made, similar consequences ensued." He admits the constitutional right of eminent domain, but says, though in some respects kindred, it and the taxing power are essentially different. Similar ground was taken against the constitutionality of such Acts in Whiting v. Sheboyan and Fond du Lac R. W. Co., 25 Wis. 167; 3 Am. 30; and The People ex rel. Detroit and Howell R. W. Co. v. Salem 20 Mich. 452; 4 Am. 400. On the other hand, equally strong ground is taken and equally able judgments have been delivered in favour of the constitutionality of such Acts, in Sharpless v. Philadelphia, 21 Pa. St. 147; Ex parte Selma and Gulf R. W. Co., 45 Ala. 696; 6 Am. 722; and Stewart v. Supervisors of Polk County, 1 Am. 238. In the last mentioned case, Mr. Justice Millar says, "The question of the constitutional power of the Legislature to authorize municipal Corporations to aid by local tax in the construction of railroads, within the territory of such municipal corporations, has been before the highest judicial tribunal of at least twenty-one of the States, and the Supreme Court of the United States, and in every instance the power has been confirmed until quite recently in the Supreme Courts of Michigan and Wisconsin, and in this Court in Hanson v. Vernon." He concludes his judgment by saying, "We find that upon principal and reason there is the same authority for the exercise of the sovereign power of taxation in aid of the construction of railroads that there is for the exercise of the right of eminent domain, and that this view is sustained by an everwhelming weight of authority." See further, Walker v. City of Cincinnatti, 8 Am. 24; Commissioners of Leavenworth County v. Millar, 12 Am. 425; Chicago, Danville, and Vincennes R. W. Co. v. Smith, 14 Am. 99. But on one point the Judges in the United States are all agreed with unusual unanimity, and that is that municipal corporations have no implied power to aid railway companies. Aurora v. West, 22 Ind. 88; Starin v. Genoa, 23 N. Y. 439; Acheson v. Butcher, 3 Kansas 104; Bank v. Rome, 18 N. Y. 38; Bridgeport v. Housatonuc R. W. Co., 15 Conn. 475; Marsh v. Fulton, 10 Wall. (U. 1. For subscribing for any number of shares in the capital stock of, or for lending to or guaranteeing the payment of any sum of money borrowed by an incorporated railway company to which section 18 of the statute 14 and 15 Victoria, chapter 51, or sections 75 to 78 inclusive of chapter 66 of the Consolidated Statutes of Canada, or the equivalent sections of The Railway Act of Ontario, have been or may be made applicable by any special Act; (b)

Taking stock in certain railways or guaranteeing debentures. 14, 15 V. c. 51, s. 18. C. S. C. c. 66, ss. 75-78. Rev. Stat. c. 170, s. 39.

2. For endorsing or guaranteeing the payment of any debenture to be issued by the company for the money by them borrowed, and for assessing and levying from time to time, upon the whole ratable property of the municipality, a sufficient sum to discharge the debt or engagement so contracted;

For guaranteeing the payment of debentures, etc.

3. For issuing, for the like purpose, debentures payable

For issuing debentures, etc.

Y.) 574; French v. Teschemaker, 24 Cal. 518; People v. Mitchell, 35 N. Y. 551; Thompson v. Lee County, 3 Wall. (N. S.) 327; Railroad Co. v. Evansville, 15 Ind. 395; Aurora v. West, 9 Ind. 74; Lafayette v. Cox, 5 Port. (Ind.) 38. "I incline to the opinion that in all such transactions the substance rather than the form should be considered; and if in substance the matter is intra vires it should not, on account of defective form, be held ultra vires unless the form used is prohibited by the enabling statute or by law." Per Cameron, C. J., in Bickford v. Chatham, 10 O. R. 257.

(b) The subscription for stock may be conditional, Higgins v. Whitby, 20 U. C. Q. B. 296; and if the amount subscribed be paid either directly to the company, or to the contractors of the company at their request, the liability of the municipality is thereby extinguished. Woodruff v. Peterborough, 22 U. C. Q. B. 274. It would seem that a by-law authorizing subscription for stock, especially if it authorize the issue of debentures, is the contracting of a debt not payable in the same municipal year, so as to demand the formalities required by sec. 340. In re Billings and Gloucester, 10 U. C. Q. B. 273; Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Ottawa, 8 O. R. 183, 201; Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Cambridge, 14 A. R. 299. The legislature may, it seems, at any time before the subscription is paid, annul the proceeding, and authorize the municipal corporation to withdraw its subscription, and release its right to stock. People v. Coon, 25 Cal. 635. So it would seem that defective subscriptions for stock may be ratified by the legislature in all cases where the legislature could originally have conferred the power. Keithsburg v. Frick, 34 Ill. 405; Copes v. Charleston, 10 Rich. Law (S. C.) 491; McMillen v. Bayley, 6 Iowa, 304, 364; Gelpeke v. Dubuque, 1 Wall. (U. S.) 220; People v. Mitchell, 35 N. Y. 551; Thompson v. Lee County, 3 Wall. (U. at such times, and for such sums respectively, not less than $20, and bearing or not bearing interest as the municipal council thinks meet; (c)

Bonuses.

4. For granting bonuses to any railway company in aid of such railway, and for issuing debentures in the same manner as is in the preceding sub-section provided for raising money to meet such bonuses; (d)

Form of debenture.

5. For directing the manner and form of signing or endorsing any debenture so issued, endorsed or guaranteed, and of countersigning the same, and by what officer or person the same shall be so signed, endorsed or countersigned respectively;

(c) No council is allowed, unless specially authorized so to do, to give any bond, bill, note, debenture, or other undertaking, for the payment of a less amount than $100. Sec. 414. This clause forms an exception.

(d) A by-law of a county council in aid of a railway to the extent of $20,000, by way of bonus, which had not been submitted to the ratepayers was quashed. Ex rel. Clement v. Wentworth, 22 U. C. C. P. 300. It would seem that the general intention of the legislature is that all assistance granted to a railway company should be with the assent of the electors before granted, and that the making of direct advances from moneys actually in hand to aid a railway is not contemplated. Per Hagarty, C. J., in In re Bate and Ottawa, 23 U. C. C. P. 35. "If we assume for this argument that the council may grant a bonus to a railway, consisting of unappropriated moneys in hand we still think the legislature meant, and have so expressed their meaning, that the bonus must be to the railway company, and not to some individual to repay him for advances to, or services rendered to such company." Ib., 36. A by-law granting $1,000 to an individual in consideration of his having, at the instance of the corporation, advanced that amount in aid of a railway company, was therefore quashed. Ib. A bonus may be granted to a dominion railway. Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Cambridge, 11 O. R. 392; Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Ottawa, 8 O. R. 183, 201; 12 A. R. 234. Where a municipality has legally a right to pass a by-law granting aid to a railway company, it would be premature to apply to restrain the submission of the by-law to the ratepayers, as they may disapprove of it. Vickers v. Shunia, 22 Grant 410; but where there is no power to pass the by-law, the attempt to pass it may be restrained. Helm v. Port Hope, 22 Grant 273. A council may refuse to pass a by-law granting aid to a company where the passage of the by-law has been procured by bribery. Re Langdon, 45 U. C. Q. B. 47. As to the performance of conditions imposed on the company, see Luther v. Wood, 19 Grant 353. Where the by-law does not limit a time for the completion of the railway, there is an implied condition that the work shall be completed or the bonus earned within the time fixed by the charter. Canada Atlantic R. W. Co. v. Ottawa, 8 O. R. 201.

Assent of electors necessary.

But no municipal corporation shall subscribe for stock or incur a debt or liability for the purposes aforesaid, unless the by-law before the final passing thereof receives the assent of the electors of the municipality in manner provided by this Act. (e) 46 V. c. 18, s. 628. See also Rev. Stat. c. 170, sec. 39 (3), and sec. 320 ante.

In certain cases, head of council to be ex officio a director.

635. In case any municipal council subscribes for and holds stock in a railway company under the next preceding section to the amount of $20,000 or upwards, (f) the head of the council shall be ex-officio one of the directors of the company, in addition to the number of directors authorized by the special Act, and shall have the same rights, powers, and duties as the other directors of the company. 46 V. c. 18, s. 629. See also Rev. Stat. c. 170, s. 39 (4).

Aid to railways by portions of townships.

635 (a)—(1) In addition to the powers conferred by section 634 a portion of a township municipality which may be interested in securing the construction of a railway, or through or near which any such railway may pass or be situated, may aid the said railway by granting money or debentures by way of bonus or gift, or by way of loan to such railway under and subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, provided always that such aid shall not be given except after the passing of a by-law for the purpose, and the adoption of such by-law by the qualified ratepayers of the said portion of the municipality in the manner provided in respect to granting aid by way of bonuses to railways.

(2) Before a by-law is submitted under this section to the vote of the ratepayers a petition shall be presented to the council expressing the desire to aid the railway, and stating in what way and for what amount, and defining the portion of the township to be charged by metes and bounds, or lots and concessions, and shall be signed by fifty freeholders resident in such portion of the township, being duly qualified voters under this Act.

(3) The by-law shall in each instance provide:

(e) See Ex rel. Clement v. Wentworth, 22 U. C. C. P. 304; see further, Attorney-General v. Mayor of Leeds, L. R. 5 Chy. 583.

(f) A municipality which has subscribed for stock in a railway company, and thereby become a stockholder in the company, has the same rights as to the management of the affairs of the company as any ordinary stockholder. Harublewes v. Dudin, 2 Withrow, 86.

of the municipality mentioned in the petition by the issue of debentures of the municipality, and shall also provide for the delivery of the debentures or the application of the amount to be raised thereby as may be expressed in the said by-law.

(b) For assessing and levying upon all ratable property lying within the portion of the municipality defined in said by-law, an annual special rate sufficient to include a sinking fund for the repayment of the said debentures within twenty years with interest thereon payable yearly, or half yearly, which debentures the councils, reeves, and other officers of the municipality are hereby authorized to execute and issue in such cases. 51 V. c. 28, s. 34.

By-laws authorizing branch railways, tram and other railways along highways. Rev. Stat. c. 170.

636. The council of every township may pass by-laws for authorizing any railway company, in case such authority is necessary, to make a branch railway on property of the corporation, or on highways, under such conditions as the council sees fit, and subject to the restrictions contained in The Railway Act of Ontario, and any other Acts affecting such railway; and may also pass by-laws to authorize companies or individuals to construct tramways and other railways along any highway on such terms and conditions as the council sees fit. (g) 46 V. c. 18, s. 630.

Grouping clauses in railway Acts passed on or before March 5, 1880, repealed.

637. So much of any enactment in private and other Acts, passed on or before the 5th day of March, 1880, as authorizes or provides for the grouping or joining together of municipalities or a municipality, or part of any municipalities or municipality with part of another municipality or parts of other municipalities, for the purpose of granting municipal aid to any railway or railway company, is hereby repealed and declared to be inoperative. 46 V. c. 18, s. 631.

(g) See sub-s. 36 of sec. 496. Where a railway company constructed their road along a highway without any formal application for leave, the council of the municipality, having subsequently passed a resolution notifying the company to fill up the ditch on both sides of the railway and to put down proper crossings, were held to have thereby admitted that the company was lawfully in occupation of the highway. Pembroke v. Canada Central R. W. Co., 3 O. R. 503. The leave of the municipal authorities required by 31 V. c. 68 (Dom.), before a railway is carried along an existing highway, may be granted before, during, or after the construction of the railway, and need not necessarily be given by by-law. Ib.

New Police Villages—how formed. Sec. 639.

638. Until otherwise provided by competent authority, every existing police village (a) shall continue to be a police village, with the boundaries now established. 46 V. c. 18, s. 632.

New police villages.

639. On the petition of any of the inhabitants of an unincorporated village, the council or councils of the county or counties within which the village is situate (b)

(a) There is in general no difficulty in defining the boundaries of an incorporated city, town, or village, because the statute, proclamation, or other authority incorporating such a municipality usually prescribes the boundaries. See Irwin v. Bradford, 22 U. C. C. P. 18. But in the case of a town or village not so incorporated, or not having limits otherwise assigned to it, there must of necessity be uncertainty as to the boundaries. A police village may be set apart by a county council with such limits as are deemed expedient. Sec. 639. The boundaries of a village or hamlet fluctuate from day to day with the growth of houses, but the effect of this section will be to restrict the boundaries, notwithstanding the growth, until such boundaries be otherwise established. The boundaries declared are the boundaries now established. See Reg. v. Cottle, 16 Q. B. 412; Milton-next-Sittingborne Commissioners v. Faversham, 10 B. & S. 548, note; see further, note c to sec. 639.

(b) The words "unincorporated village," as here used, may be looked on as the word "town" or "village" used in several English Acts of Parliament to indicate a collection of houses. It is a matter of some difficulty to give a definition of "town" or "village," when not incorporated, so as to cover all cases. In Co. Litt. it is said that "a place cannot be a town in law unless it hath, or, in times past hath had a church, and celebration of Divine service, sacraments, and burials." (115 B.) If the words "blacksmith's shop, tavern, and store," were substituted for the words "a church," then, the definition of Coke would not be far short of a hamlet or little village as commonly understood in this country. In Reg. v.

may, by by-law, erect the same into a police village, and assign thereto such limits as may seem expedient. (c) 46 V. c. 18, s. 633.

Fisher, 8 C. & P. 612, Patteson J., said, "It is very difficult to define what is a town in ordinary meaning. It varies from day to day by the erection of new houses." In Elliott v. South Devon R. W. Co., 2 Ex. 729, Parke, B., said, "It would appear that the word town is not to be understood in its strict legal interpretation as a township having a church or a constable, but a place containing a number of houses congregated together—an inhabited spot where the occupation is continuous." Alderson, B. (in the same case), said, "What the walls of towns were in ancient times, that is a boundary, continuous buildings are now. By continuous buildings I do not mean buildings which touch each other, but buildings so reasonably near that the inhabitants may be considered as dwelling together. Within the ambit surrounded by such houses is town and when the railway passes through that ambit it passes through town." Ib. 730, 731. In Regina v. Cottle, 16 Q. B. 412, 416, Russell Gurney charged the jury that a town is generally a congregation of houses," and that the jury were to say whether the spot in question was surrounded by houses so reasonably near that "the inhabitants might be fairly said to dwell together." Referring to this charge, Lord Campbell in the (same case) said that the learned Recorder had with much felicity comprised, in a few words all that was material in the language of the Barons of the Exchequer, as to the definition of town, in Elliott v. South Devon R. W. Co. Ib. 420. His definition was also approved of in Milton-next-Sittingborne Commissioners v. Faversham, 10 B. & S. 548; and London and South Western R. W. Co., L. R. 4 H. L. 610. In the last mentioned case land near Teddington, in Middlesex, situated close to the railway station but not continuously built upon, were held not to be lands within the town. "That definition amounts to this; that where there is such an amount of continuous occupancy of the ground by houses that persons may be said to be living in as it were in the same town or place, continuously there—for the purposes of the Railway Acts, and according to the popular sense of the word, and not the legal sense of the word, which would not give at all a sensible definition, the place may be said to be a town. Per Lord Hatherley, Ib. 615. In another case, Vice-Chancellor Stuart said: "Four or five surveyors and the solicitor of the company appear to have sworn that they consider Teddington a town; but none of them state anything in support of that opinion except that there are in Teddington a number of shops, such as milliners, grocers, bakers, butchers, and the like, and from such reasoning they arrive at the conclusion that Teddington is a town. The fallacy of this conclusion, however is made quite apparent from the maps and plans which have been referred to in the case; and from which no man of ordinary sense and discernment can fail to see that Teddington is not anything more than what is usually and properly called a village." Blackmore v. London and South Western R. W. Co., 19 L. T. N. S. 5.

(c) The power is by by-law to erect the same into a police village and assign thereto "such limits as may seem expedient." It is
