The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Library of the Public
Archives of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol  $\rightarrow$  (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol  $\nabla$  (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

La bibliothèque des Archives
publiques du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole  $\rightarrow$  signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole  $\nabla$  signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

BY an Act of the British Parliament, passed in the 31st year of His present Majesty, to repeal certain parts of an Act passed in the 14th year of His Majesty's reign, entitled "An Act for making more effectual Provision for the Government of the Province of Quebec, in North America, and to make further Provision for the Government of the said Province;" the province of Quebec was divided into the provinces of Upper and Lower Canada, which two provinces were separated, according to the following line of division, as set forth in His Majesty's Proclamation of the 18th day of November, 1791, ALURED CLARKE, Esq. Lieutenant Governor, &c. &c. &c. viz.—"To commence at a stone boundary on the north bank of the lake St. Francis, at the cove west of Pointe au “ Bodèt, in the limit between the township of “ Lancaster and the seigneurie of New Lon-“ gueiul, running along the said limit in the “ direction of north 34 degrees west, to the “ westernmost angle of the said seigneurie of “ New Longueiul; then along the north-western “ boundary of the seigneurie of Vaudreül, run“ ning north 25 degrees east, until it strikes the “ Ottowas river; to ascend the said river into “ the lake Tomiscanning; and from the head “ of the said lake, by a line drawn due north,

 “ until it strikes the boundary line of Hudson’s “ Bay, including all the territory to the westward
 “ and southward of the said line, to the utmost “ extent of the country commonly called or “ known by the name of Canada.”

The province of Upper Canada is bounded to the eastward by the United States of America; that is, by a line from the 45th degree of north latitude, along the middle of the river Iroquois or Cataräqui, into lake Ontario; through the middle likewise, until it strikes the communication by water between that lake and lake Erie; thence along the middle of the communication into lake Erie; through the middle of that lake, until it arrives at the water communication between it and lake Huron; thence, through the middle of lake Huron, to the water communication between it and lake Superior; thence, through lake Superior northward, to the isles Royale and Philipeaux, to the Long Lake, and the water communication between it and the Lake of the Woods; thence through that lake to the most north-western point thereof; and from thence a due west line to the river Mississippi.

To the westward, and to the northward, west of the Mississippi, its boundaries are indefinite; the northern limits of Louisiana not being well known.

To the northward, it is bounded by Hudson's Bay, as settled by the treaty of Utrecht, in the 49th parallel of north latitude, extending due west, indefinitely.

Soon after his Excellency John Graves Simcoe, Esq. the first Lieutenant Governor, had taken upon him the administration of the government of the province, he divided it by proclamation into districts, counties, and townships, which have been new modelled, and several others added by His Excellency Francis Gore, Esq. the present Lieutenant Governor; the whole being now constituted agreeable to the following table.

The counties send twenty-five representatives to the provincial parliament, who, with a legislative council, are called together once every year. The representatives are elected for four years, to serve in the Assembly, unless the parliament be sooner dissolved by the person administering the government.

Pointe au Bodêt is situated nearly half way on the north side of lake St. Francis, which is about 25 miles long, and narrower throughout. The object of dividing the province of Quebec at a stone boundary, in the cove, west of this point, was apparently in order that the seignioral grants, under French tenure, should be comprehended in the province of Lower Canada, and that the new seigniories or townships, which were laid out for the loyalists, should be within the province of Upper Canada; the said stone boundary being the limit between the uppermost French seigniorie (Mr. De Longueil's) on the river St. Lawrence, and the lower new seigniorie of Lancaster, surveyed for the disbanded troops and loyalists; his Majesty having in the year 1788, signified his intention that they should be placed upon the same footing in all respects as the loyalists in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, by having their lands granted to them in free and common soccage.

In passing from the Pointe au Bodèt, westward, through lake St. Francis, and up the river St. Lawrence, the route is generally made on the north shore. Lancaster is the first township fronting this lake; it extends nine miles, which is the ordinary size of all townships, and extending twelve miles back from the front. Lancaster is watered by three small rivers, one of which empties itself to the east, and another to the west of Pointe Mouillée, which projects into the lake towards the centre of the township.

The next township is Charlottenburg, well watered by the river aux Raisins, which, rising in the township of Osnabruck, runs through that and the township of Cornwall, and discharges itself into lake St. Francis, at the south-east angle of Charlottenburg, eastward of Point Johnson. In front of this township are several small islands.

Between Charlottenburg and Cornwall is a small tract possessed by the Indians, who have a considerable village on the south shore, called St. Regis ; and in this part of the river St. Lawrence lie several islands, one called Petite Isle St. Regis, immediately opposite their village ; and another, Grande Isle St. Regis, a little higher up, opposite to the town of Cornwall.

In the rear of Charlottenburg is the township of Kenyon.

The township of Cornwall adjoins next ; — in the front is the town, of a mile square, lying in a commodious bay of the river, and watered by a small rivulet which runs through the town. Two branches of the river aux Raisins pass through the lands of this township ; and in the front thereof are the Isles aux mille Roches, et des Chenaux Ecartées ; Grand Isle St. Regis lying in front of the town. In the rear of this township is the township of Roxburgh.

The township of Osnabruck lies above Cornwall ; the river aux Raisins rises here in several branches ; it has two other streams which run into St. Lawrence in front, off which lies the Isle au Longue Sault, Isle de trois Chenaux Ecartées, Isles au Diable, et Isle au Chat.

The Rapid, called the Long Sault, lies in front of this township ; the boats in going up keep the north shore, in a great measure to avoid the rapidity of the current; but, in descending, they universally pass between the islands and the south shore, that being the largest, deepest, and altogether the safest passage. The inhabitants of late years have taken down their grain with safety, on rafts, to the Montreal markets.

Many people think that the lumber trade is carried on with more safety down these rapids, than by those which pass Chambly from lake Champlain; it being a frequent observation at Quebec, that the rafts from the Upper St. Lawrence are less ragged than those which come from lake Champlain. There is, however, some little additional risk to the rafts from Upper Canada, by reason of having to pass the small lakes St. Francis and St. Louis; all broad waters being more or less against the rafting trade. But as the lake St. Pierre, which is larger than either St. Francis or St. Louis, must be passed, whether from lake Champlain, or the Upper St. Lawrence, there is no doubt but the lumber trade will find its way down the St. Lawrence. Some settlers have already made the attempt, even from the head of the Bay of Quinté; and when the produce of that very fertile country shall be exported for the Montreal or foreign markets, the raft will answer a double purpose; it requires but few hands to manage it; and grain, or pot-ash, may be carried as dry as in any other way.

The township of Williamsburgh is next above Osnabruck; it has but few streams. There are some islands in its front ; among the rest, Isle au rapid Plat, the west end of which lies also in front of Matilda, the next township. In the front is Point aux Pins, and Point Iroquois ; the latter of which has the advantage in a great measure of commanding the passage up and down the St. Lawrence. A few islands lie in the front of this township, and a peninsula, which is insulated at high water.

Matilda is the next township above Williamsburgh.

Edwardsburgh is the next township ; in the front part of which is Johnstown, of a mile square. This, with the town of Cornwall, has been most judiciously seated, the one being immediately above, the other below, the rapids of the Upper St. Lawrence, and of course easy of access, from the lake St. Francis below, to Cornwall ; and from Johnstown vessels may be navigated with safety to Queenstown, above Niagara, and to all the ports of the lake Ontario. In the front of this township is Pointeau Cardinal, Pointeau Gallop, Point Ivrogne, and Pointe au Foin ; and several islands, among which are Hospital Island, and Isle du Fort Levy, where the French had a garrison, the ruins of which are still to be seen.

A little above Johnstown, on the south shore, is the American fort Oswegatchie, situated on a river of that name.

Augusta lies above Edwardsburgh ; it has but few streams ; Pointe au Barril is in front.

The next township is Elizabeth Town, which is well watered by the river Tonianta, and three other streams. The isles du Barril lie in front of this township.

The township of Yonge lies next, and is of irregular shape. The river Tonianta empties itself into the St. Lawrence, near the south-east angle of this township. Towards the upper part are the narrows, made by a peninsula from the north shore, and Grenadier Island, which lies in front of this township, as do several smaller ones.

Lansdown is next ; it has several small streams, and many islands in its front, but none of any size.

Leeds adjoins Lansdown, and is well watered by the river Gananoque, which affords a good harbour at its entrance.

Howe Island lies partly in front of this township, as do several small islands.

Pittsburgh lies above Leeds ; part of Wolfe Island and part of Howe Island are in its front. This township adjoins to Kingston ; from hence westward, the St. Lawrence opens into the lake Ontario, it being about 120 miles direct from Kingston to Pointe au Bodét.

The St. Lawrence may be classed with the most noble rivers in the world ; its waters flow for the extent of 2000 miles before they reach the ocean : the commercial advantages from such a situation increase in proportion to the population of its banks. The Indian trade, in a great measure, takes its current down the St. Lawrence, particularly since vessels of a considerable size are daily building for the navigation of the lakes.

The land in all the before-mentioned townships is for the most part fertile, and under as high a state of cultivation as can be expected from the time it has been settled; the first improvements being made since the peace of 1783, when all was in a state of nature, and heavily timbered.

There are more than forty mills in the extent mentioned, on this river, the most remarkable of which are on the Gananoque. Good roads have been opened, and bridges well constructed; some of them over wet lands, and the mouths of creeks and rivers of very considerable extent; and the first settlers have been able, by their very great industry, to erect comfortable houses.

In the rear of these townships, on the St. Lawrence, are 24 others, in which settlements have commenced, to the southward of the Ottawa or Grand River, which many of them front; others are well supplied by the waters of the Radeau, and river Petite Nation, with the Gananoque lakes and streams, all of which afford abundance of situations for mills. These rivers, like most others in Canada, abound in sturgeon, bass, and cat-fish; the ponds affording turtle, with fish of various sorts. The lands in their vicinity are differently timbered, according to their quality and situation. The dry lands, which are generally high, bear oak and hickory; the low grounds produce walnut, ash, poplar, cherry, sycamore, beech, maple, elm, &c. and in some place there are swamps full of cedar and cypress.

The banks of most of the creeks abound in fine pine timber, and the creeks themselves afford in general good seats for saw-mills; materials for building are readily procured.

The heads of the rivers Radeau and Petite Nation, communicate by short portages, or carrying-places, with the waters which fall into the St. Lawrence, and promise to afford great advantages to all kinds of inland communication. The forks of the Radeau, about which are the townships of Oxford, Marlborough, and Gower, promise to be, at some future period, an emporium for interior commerce.

The birch canoes, which go to the north-west country, pass up the Ottawa river with the merchandize, and descend with peltries.

The town of Kingston is situated at the head of the St. Lawrence on the north shore, opposite to Wolfe Island; it occupies the site of old Fort Frontinac, was laid out in the year 1784, and is now of considerable size; it has a barrack for troops, and a house for the commanding officer, an hospital, several store-houses, an episcopal church, a Roman Catholic chapel, a gaol, and court-house. A cove, upon which the town is situated, affords a good harbour for shipping; it is safe, commodious, and well sheltered. Large vessels seldom go below Kingston, although it is navigable to Oswegatchie, about 70 miles down the river; the stores, provisions, &c. which are lodged in the depôt at this place, being usually transported there in boats from Montreal.

About Kingston there are several valuable quarries of limestone, and the country in general is rather stony, which is not found to be detrimental to the crops.

The township which surrounds this town bears the same name.

Ernest-town lays above Kingston ; it is watered by two small rivers ; Amherst Island lies in its front. In the rear of this township is Camden ; the Appanee river, on which there are excellent mills, runs through it.

Having passed Ernest-town, the bay of Quinté commences with Fredericksburgh, to the north at its entrance, and Marysburgh to the south.

This bay, which may be considered throughout as a harbour, is formed by a large peninsula, consisting of the townships of Ameliasburgh, Sophiasburgh, and Marysburgh, extending easterly from an isthmus, of about one quarter of a mile, where there is a portage at the head, or west end of the bay, to Point Pleasant, the easternmost extremity of the peninsula, opposite to Amherst Island.

The river Trent empties itself into the head of the bay, to the eastward of the portage, and supplies it with the waters of the Rice lake. To the westward of the portage, in lake Ontario, is the harbour of Presque Isle de Quinté, now called Newcastle.

This peninsula of the three townships, called the county of Prince Edward, extending from the main land, like an arm, hides from the lake Ontario the townships of Sydney, Thurlow, Adolphustown, and Fredericksburgh, which front the north side of the bay.

The river Trent, discharging itself between the townships of Murray and Sydney, finds its passage between the county of Prince Edward and the townships on the north side of the bay; its stream is increased by the Appannee river running in from Camden, and, dividing Richmond from Fredericksburgh, joins the waters of the bay near John's island, a small isle opposite to a settlement of Mohawks, so called after Captain John, a Mohawk chief who resides there, and who, with some others of that nation, had a tract of land given them by his Majesty, of about nine miles in front on the bay, and about twelve miles deep: preferring this situation, they separated from the rest of their nation, who were settled on the Grand River, or Ouse.

In Fredericksburgh and Adolphustown there are several fine bays and coves; and in the latter township, there is a small town on the bay opposite to Marysburgh.

The river Shannon runs into the bay at the south-east angle of the township of Thurlow, and the Moira river at the south-west angle of that township.

There are several small coves and bays also in the peninsula of Prince Edward, and a small lake between Sophiasburgh and Marysburgh, which empties itself into a bay of lake Ontario.

There is an island in the bay between Sophiasburgh and Thurlow, and between Killikokin Point and Point Oubesuoutegongs, of about seven miles long.

Isle de Quinté, now called Nicholas Island, lies off Ameliasburgh in lake Ontario; and off Pointe Traverse in Marysburgh, are the Duck islands. In the deep bay between Point Traverse and Point Pleasant, are Orphan island and Isle du Chêne.

The river Trent, which falls into the head of the bay of Quinté, not only leads off the waters of the Rice lake, but of a chain of lakes between it and lake Simcoe: a few miles up the river, on the south side, are salt springs.

The fertility of the soil about the bay of Quinté is generally allowed: the land is rich, easily worked, and produces several crops without manure; twenty-five bushels of wheat are often produced from an acre; the timber is much like that of the other parts of the province, oak, elm, hickory, maple, &c. The bay is narrow throughout, and upwards of fifty miles long, all which distance it is navigable for those small vessels that are used on the lakes.

An apparent tide is frequently noticed in the bay of Quinté, not dissimilar to those observed in some of the upper lakes. The bay abounds with wild fowl, and fish of various kinds; the river Trent affords a salmon fishery.

In passing from the head of the bay of Quinté into lake Ontario, you cross a very short portage in front of the township of Murray, being the isthmus between it and the peninsula of Prince Edward ; at the end of the portage, and before you enter lake Ontario, is a small lake, exceedingly beautiful, and the land on its banks extremely good : to the northward of this portage it is proposed to make a canal, to connect the waters of the bay with those of the lake. The circumstance of two small streams rising near each other, and running different ways, seems to point out the facility of the measure. The cut, which Campbell (in his Notes on the Political Survey of Great Britain) calls Earl Gower's canal, seems to be well suited to this country, where labour bears so high a price, and where the rooting up of immense trees is so great a difficulty to encounter.

A little to the westward of the portage and proposed canal, is the harbour of Newcastle, a situation well suited for commerce and protection, and sheltered from all winds ; a knoll on the peninsula affords a healthy site for the town.

After leaving Murray, in going to the westward along the shore of lake Ontario, you pass the townships of Cramahé, Haldimand, and Hamilton ; and arriving at the township of Hope, you find excellent mills ; from thence there is a portage to the Rice lake.

You then pass by the fronts of Clarke, Darlington, and Whitby ; and coming to Pickering, you meet with an excellent salmon and sturgeon fishery, at a river called Duffin's Creek, which is generally open, and large enough to receive boats at most seasons of the year.

After leaving the township of Pickering, you pass under the high lands of Scarborough, and arrive at the township of York.

All the townships on the north side of the lake are well watered by small streams, at the mouths of which are ponds, and low land capable of being drained and converted into meadows. In the rear of the township of Murray, is the township of Seymour; in the rear of Cramahé, is Percy; and in the rear of Haldimand, is Alnwick.

The river Nen empties itself into lake Ontario, in the township of Pickering, east of the Scarborough heights; it runs from a considerable distance in the country through Scarborough, Markham, &c. crossing the Yonge-street, and apparently rising in the vicinity of one of the branches of Holland's river; with which it will probably, at some future period, be connected by a canal. This river abounds with fish; at its embouchure are good intervals for meadow ground, and it is the back communication from German settlement in Markham to lake Ontario.

York, which is, at present, the seat of government of Upper Canada, lies in about 43 degrees and 35 minutes north latitude, and is most beautifully situated within an excellent harbour of the same name, made by a long peninsula, which embraces a bason of water sufficiently large to contain a considerable fleet. It has this advantage over the other ports on lake Ontario, that vessels may ride safely at its entrance during the winter.

On the extremity of the peninsula, which is called Gibraltar Point, are commodious stores and block-houses, which command the entrance to the harbour; on the main land, opposite to the Point, is the garrison, situated on a point made by the harbour and a small rivulet; the barracks, being built on a knoll, are well situated for health, and command a delightful prospect of the lake to the west, and of the harbour to the east. The government house, is about two miles from the east end of the town, at the entrance of the harbour, and the town is increasing very rapidly. The front of the city, as now laid out, is a mile and a half in length; several handsome squares are projected, particularly one open to the harbour. The river Don empties itself into the harbour a little above the town, running through a marsh, which when drained will afford beautiful and fertile meadows; this has already been effected, in a small degree, which will no doubt encourage further attempts. The long beach, or peninsula, which affords a most delightful ride, is considered so healthy by the Indians, that they resort to it whenever indisposed; and the bridge over the Don being finished, is frequented, not only for pleasure, but as the most convenient road to the heights of Scarborough.

The ground which has been prepared for the

the government house, is situated between the city and the river Don, in a beautiful spot, and its vicinity well suited for gardens and a park. The oaks are large, the soil excellent, and watered by various streams; the harbour is well calculated for ship building, and launching of vessels. The Yonge-street, or military way, leading to lake Simcoe, and from thence to Gloucester on lake Huron, commences in the rear of the city. This great communication has been opened to Gwillimbury, 32 miles; and must be the great channel to the north-west, as it is considerably shorter than the circuitous route by the Straits of Niagara and Detroit. The tract of land between Kempenfeldt and Penetengushene bays has been lately purchased from the Indians, and a road is opening, which will enable the North-West Company to transport their furs from lake Huron to York, thereby avoiding the circuitous route of Lake Erie, and the inconvenience of passing along the American frontier. Farm lots of 200 acres are laid out on each side of Yonge-street, having a width of a quarter of a mile each on the street: in general the land is excellent, and fit for every purpose of husbandry. After leaving Gwillimbury you enter Holland river, and pass into lake Simcoe, by the head of Cook's bay, to the westward of which are oak plains, where the Indians cultivate corn; and on the east is a tract of good land. A few small islands shew themselves as the lake opens, of which Darling's island, in the eastern part, is the most considerable. To the westward is a large deep bay, called Kempenfelt's bay, from the head of which is a short carrying-place to the river Nottuasague, which empties itself into the Iroquois bay, in lake Huron.

In the north end of the lake near the narrows, leading to a small lake, is Francis island, between which and the north shore vessels may lie in safety.

From the bay west of Francis island there is a good path, and a short portage into a small lake; this is the nearest way to lake Huron. The river which falls from lake Simcoe into Matchedash bay, called the Matchedash or Severn river, making a more circuitous passage to the northward and westward.

Black river joins the waters of lake Simcoe, nearly where they fall into Matchedash channel. The source of this river is near the head of the river Radeau.

The river Matchedash, excepting where there are rapids, is in every part navigable for boats of any size; these rapids are intermixed with falls, which afford mill seats. The land on each side of this river is not of the best kind.

The river Matchedash, falling into a bay of that name to the eastward, which receives North and South river, discharges itself into a larger bason, called Gloucester or Sturgeon bay, in the chops of which lies Prince William Henry's island, open to lake Huron. On a peninsula in this bason some French ruins are still extant; and between two larger promontories is the harbour of Penetengushene, around which there is good land for settlement.

To the west of the largest promontory is Notuasague bay, (or outlet of the Iroquois,) open to lake Huron ; throughout the greatest part of Matchedash bay there is a depth of water for vessels of any draught, excepting towards the bottom of the bay : Penetengushene has been discovered to be a very excellent harbour.

On the east side of Yonge-street, in the rear of the townships of York and Scarborough, is the township of Markham, settled principally by Germans ; in this tract are some good mills, built on a branch of the river Nen.

In passing out of the harbour of York, to the westward, you see the garrison on the main land at the entrance of the harbour, which, and the block-houses on Gibraltar Point, are its security ; and a little to the westward of the garrison are the remains of the old French fort Toronto ; adjoining to which is a deep bay, that receives the river Humber, on which are saw mills belonging to Government. Further to the westward (that is, between the Humber and the head of lake Ontario) the Etobycoke, the Credit, and two other rivers, with a great many smaller streams, join the main waters of the lake ; they all abound in fish, particularly in salmon ; the Credit is the most noted : here is a small house of entertainment for passengers. The tract between the Etobycoke and the head of the lake is frequented only by wandering tribes of Missassagues. At the head of lake Ontario there is a smaller lake, within a long beach, of about five miles, from whence there is an outlet into lake Ontario, over which there is a bridge.

At the south end of the beach is the King's Head, a good inn, erected for the accommodation of travellers, by order of his Excellency Major General Simcoe, the Lieutenant Governor. It is beautifully situated at a small portage which leads from the head of a natural canal connecting Burlington-bay with lake Ontario, and is a good landmark.

Burlington-bay is perhaps as beautiful and romantic a situation as any in interior America, particularly if we include with it a marshy lake which falls into it, and a noble promontory that divides them. This lake is called Coot's Paradise, and abounds with game.

From the head of the lake, following the shores of the Ontario, we proceed eastward along the borders of the county of Lincoln, a very fine and populous settlement, consisting of twenty townships, containing about 12,000 souls, and furnishing five battalions of militia. There are a great many small rivers which fall into the lake between Burlington-bay and Niagara; the most beautiful of which are those called the Twelve and the Twenty-mile Creeks. These rivers, previously to their flowing into the lake, spread behind a beach which impedes their course, and the stream, finding only a small outlet into the lake, is ponded back, and forms a spacious bason within ; the banks are high, but not broken, and generally covered with fine pine trees.

Newark (or as it is generally called the town of Niagara, West Niagara, and British Niagara) stands at the north-east angle of the county of Lincoln, nearly opposite to the fort of Niagara, at the entrance of the Niagara river ; the western point, which forms the mouth of the river, is called Missassague Point. It is a handsome town, of about a mile square, with its streets at right angles : here is a handsome stone church, a gaol, and courthouse ; and near to it, on the heights above Navy-hall, is Fort George, where there are quarters for almost a whole regiment, and the works and buildings now enlarging.

Before York was made the seat of government, this place was sometimes honoured with the residence of his Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, and the first Parliament met here.

The river Niagara affords a noble harbour from its mouth to Queenstown, about seven miles up, for vessels of any size. The white fish are taken here in great abundance, and are reckoned a delicacy ; they are, however, as useful as delicate, serving the new settlers for constant food, as the salmon do on the north side of the lake.

There is a good road from Newark along the bank of the river Niagara to Fort Erie, passing through Queenstown and Chippewa ; Queenstown, or the lower landing, is at one end of the carrying place, as Fort Chippewa is at the other. When the wind serves, vessels run up from Newark to Queenstown, and unload their cargoes, receiving packs of peltries in return, for the lower Canada merchants. Fifty waggons have passed this carrying-place in the course of a day. At Forts Chippewa and Erie are blockhouses, and detachments of the troops from Fort George. The merchandize is transported in boats between the two places.

There is a stage runs from Newark to Fort Chippewa. We shall say little of the falls of Niagara (of which so many persons have written.) This immense cataract is a little below the mouth of the river Welland, and is no less wonderful than grand and magnificent. On the avenues to it are good mills; and there is no doubt but profitable water-works might be erected, immediately where it tumbles from a piece of stony flat, called the Table-rock.

Above the Falls, near the upper mills, is a curious spring, the air or vapour of which catches fire, and is emitted with some force; the flame, being collected with the pipe of a stove, was sufficiently strong to boil a tea-kettle of water.

The saw logs are conveyed to this mill in a very remarkable manner; they are cut upon the banks of the river Welland, or Chippewa, and floated down to its mouth, where there is a reservoir made to contain them by a chain of hoggpens. From hence it is very dangerous to go in a boat to the mills, on account of the great rapid, and the probability of being sucked into the vast vortex of the falls : to avoid this, small poles have been fixed together from the reservoir to the mill (upwards of a mile) and floating about the distance of eighteen or twenty feet from the shore ; they are kept off the shore in their places by poles projecting from the shore ; and thus the chain of poles, rising and falling with the waters, and always floating on the surface, make a kind of canal, into which the logs are launched one by one, and so carried from the reservoir to the mill.

Below the falls is a place called the whirlpool, where the river has apparently made an effort to break its way through to the westward, but, not having power to do so, has left an elbow, (where there is a constant and great eddy), and broke through the more penetrable strata to the northward.

Fort Erie is situated at the eastern extremity of lake Erie, where its waters narrow into the Niagara river. There is a small old fort here, with a good new blockhouse ; a company of soldiers are quartered here, as there are also at Fort Chipewa, for the purposes of transporting the public stores. Fort Erie has frequently suffered from the westerly gales, which occasion the lake sometimes to rise very considerably. The new fort is projected on a small height in the rear of the present garrison. In passing along the northern shore of lake Erie, westward from Fort Erie, nothing very material occurs till you are impercep-tibly intercepted by Long Point bay; the principal feature within this distance is the Point Abino, a shelter for vessels, which find here a good anchorage. The Grand River discharges itself into the lake about 24 miles beyond Point Abino; its entrance being covered by a rocky island, at a small distance from the shore. Between Point Abino and the Grand River is a sugar-loaf hill, which affords a good land-mark for vessels.

The townships in this quarter are settling very fast, and several mills are already erected.

In Woodhouse and Charlotteville, which lie immediately within the long promontory, there is a great space of country, thinly timbered, and without underwood, which greatly facilitates cultivation; it is well calculated for roads, and is sufficiently open for the carriages used in Europe, looking more like a royal forest than the uncultivated lands of nature.

Above Turkey Point, on the heights, is the townplot of Charlotteville; and at the extremity of the point is the site of the projected wharfs and docks, with a good channel leading to it. Within the Point is an extensive marsh, where the settlers feed great numbers of cattle, which are driven to different parts of the province for consumption. Long Point is a peninsula projecting from the south-west angle of the township of Walsingham eastward into the lake, about 20 miles, making an arm which forms a very large bay. Where the peninsula joins to the main there is a creek, which, when the waters are high, is of sufficient depth for boats to pass from within the bay, over the neck into the lake; and, when the waters are low, the distance is so short that the batteaux are easily hauled over. Pottohawk Point is a small projection from Long Point, within, and connected nearly with, Turkey Point, by a chain of rushy islands, running across the uppermost part of the bay.

From Charlotteville there is a good road through the country to the Mohawk village on the Grand River.

Proceeding westward from Long Point, you pass Kettle Creek and river Barbut, about 25 miles of coast, where the banks of the lake are high, until you arrive at Landguard, formerly called Point aux Pins; from hence there is a short communication by land to Chatham, at the forks of the river Thames.

Leaving Landguard you arrive at Point Pelé, or the South Foreland, which makes a great projection into the lake; and having doubled that point, you enter the settlements made by the loyalists in the townships of Mersea, Gosfield, and Colchester; and, having continued westward through those townships, you arrive at Malden, situated at the mouth of the strait, or river Detroit.

The military post of Amherstburgh is in the township of Malden, opposite to the isle au Bois Blanc, to which it furnishes a small detachment, and commands the east channel of Detroit. There is a good and safe anchorage between the island and the main shore, which is well adapted for wharfs, and has other conveniences for naval or commercial purposes. In going up the Detroit, you pass a low marshy island, called Turkey island, or Fighting island, near four miles long. The channel on the west side of this island is the best, and the town of Sandwich presents itself on a small plain, close to the bank of the river. This town has been laid out for the reception of the British merchants, who, agreeably to the treaty of amity, commerce, and navigation, made their election of remaining British subjects. It is rapidly increasing; there is a good windmill in front of the town: the Huron church is at its northern extremity, and the shore is well calculated for the building of wharfs, and for the security of vessels in the winter. The district gaol and court-house are erected here, and small parks for the convenience of the town are laid out in its rear, and given to the builders of the first houses.

There are several windmills on the Detroit, and an orchard adjoining almost every house. The settlers are numerous, and the improvements handsome and extensive. When the fruit trees are in blossom, the prospect, as you pass through the strait, is perhaps as delightful as any in the world.

Leaving it, you pass Hog island, and enter lake St. Clair, which is small in comparison to either Ontario or Erie, and shallow throughout: it receives the waters of lakes Superior, Michigan, and Huron, by a long channel from north to south, called river Sinclair, or St. Clair; it also receives the waters of the Thames, which fall into the lake on the south-east side. About the mouth of this river are large extensive marshes, or natural meadows, which, with the exception of small tracts of woodland on the banks of the river, and a few woody islands, extend about twelve miles up the country, and about four or five miles in depth, affording hay sufficient for a numerous settlement, and abundance to spare.

About 15 miles up the river Thames is the town of Chatham, situated in a fork of it, on a very desirable spot, so well protected, and so central, that, as the population increases, it will doubtless become a large and flourishing place: a block-house was erected here by His Excellency Major-General Simcoe, and it was made a depôt for the fine whale boats, which were built by his Excellency's directions. Indeed it possesses many advantages: the point is extremely well suited for the launching of vessels, and the river is sufficiently deep for those of any size; so that a secure arsenal and building place, and an excellent dock, might be made in the lesser branch of the forks, upon which there is now a mill.

Firs are easily floated down from the pinery above, and other kinds of timber necessary for ship building may be procured by water carriage.

Its greatest disadvantage is the bar across its embouchure into lake St. Clair; but that is of sufficient depth for small craft rigged, and for large vessels when lightened; and it would answer as a good winter harbour for any vessel which navigates the lakes, if she made herself light enough to pass over the bar, and go into the river; and this might easily be effected for all vessels, by having a flat-bottomed lighter stationed at the mouth of the river for that especial purpose.

About 20 miles above Chatham is a village of Moravians, under the guidance of four missionaries from the United Brethren; and here they have a chapel. The converts are Indians, who are peaceable and civil; their principal employment is in attending to their corn-fields, and to the making of maple sugar; above the village, on the river, is a large spring of petroleum. Passing upwards from the Moravian village, the Thames continues a fine serpentine canal, without falls, with a natural tracking path  $\frac{1}{2}$  eat part of the way.

The windings of the river leave a fine rich bottom; there is beautiful open land on the tops of the banks, which are high, but not broken; passing the Delaware village, and a settlement in the beautiful plains of the Delaware township, where there is a fine pinery and good mills, you arrive at the spot, selected by his Excellency Major-General Simcoe, for the site of London.

This situation is on the main fork of the river Thames, and considered by his Excellency as the proper place for the seat of government. It offers many striking advantages for the capital of the province; is centrally situated in regard to the lakes Erie, Huron, and Ontario, and around it is a large tract of land, well calculated for agricultural purposes. It communicates with lake St. Clair and the Detroit, by the river Thames; it communicates with lake Huron, by the northern or main branch of the Thames, and a small portage; and it communicates with the Grand River, or Ouse; and with lake Ontario, by the military way called Dundas-street.

The proposed fortifications on the heights of Charlotteville above Turkey Point, and within the North Foreland, promise it protection from lake Erie. The work at Chatham protects the approach to it up the Thames, and there are several strong posts which guard it from the eastward; add to this, that its local situation secures the interest and attachment of that vast band of Indians, the Chippewa nation.

The township of London is also well situated for health, being plentifully watered with springs; the streams have gravelly bottoms, and the water is very pure. It is an excellent tract of land; a black rich soil; it abounds with black and white walnut, cherry, bass, elm, sugar maple, hickory, beech, white and black ash, and several other kinds of timber.

This tract is extremely well watered by the windings of the Thames, and also receives a principal branch of the river Chenail Ecarté; below the fork of the Thames, is an island made by the river having broken through a small isthmus; and several springs add to the stream in the vicinity of the island. The banks in general are high, with intervals here and there of fine flats, originally used by the Indians as planting grounds, particularly on the north side of the river adjoining the fork. On the east side of the fork, between the two main branches of the river Thames, on a regular eminence, about forty feet above the water, is a natural plain, interspersed with small groves of wood, affording in its present state the appearance of a beautiful park, cultivated with great cost and taste; the pines which skirt the river shew their tops above the banks, and make a fine termination to the whole.

From London you pass up the Thames to Dorchester, upon another fork of that river, and from Dorchester still higher to Oxford, which is situated upon the upper forks. From hence Dundas-street extends 42 miles to Burlington bay; from thence you pass immediately into lake Ontario, through a small outlet, from whence it is 35 miles to York, the present seat of the government.

The distance in miles between two places is found in the squares, at the intersection of the lines drawn both ways from those places; and the bearings of each place from York is found at the bottom of each column of squares respectively, as for example:—

From Oswegatchie to Detroit is 412 miles, the former bearing east by north  $\frac{1}{2}$  north, the latter south-west and west  $\frac{1}{2}$  west, from York.

From London to York is 107 miles, on a course west-south-west.

Burgess Township lies to the northward of the township of Bastard.

C.

Cabot's Head is very a large promontory running into lake Huron, west of Gloucester, or Matchedash bay, and embays a large part of that lake at its easternmost extremity, stretching itself towards the Manitou islands.

Caistor Township, in the county of Lincoln, lies between Binbrook and Gainsborough, and is watered by the river Welland.

Grand Calumet, on the Ottawa river, on the south side, above the Portage de Montagne.

Caledonia Township, in the county of Prescott, is on the south, and in the rear of Longueil's seigniory, ascending the Ottawa, or Grand river.

Calumet, Pointe au, on lake Superior, on the north shore, the first point west of river du Chêne, between which places the coast, consisting of perpendicular rocks, is dangerous.

Cambridge Township, in the county of Stormont, lies to the south, and in the rear of Clarence.

Camden East, the township of, in the midland district, lies northerly of Ernest-town.

Camden Township, in the county of Kent, called also Camden West, lies on the north side of the river Thames, opposite to Howard.

Canada, or the province of Quebec. By the Royal proclamation of the 7th of October, 1763, this province was bounded on the east by the river St. John, and from thence, by a line drawn from the head of that river through lake St. John, to the south end of lake Nipissing ; from whence the line, crossing the river St. Lawrence and lake Champlain in the 45th parallel of north latitude, passes along the high lands which divide the rivers that empty themselves into the river St. Lawrence, from those which fall into the sea ; and also along the north coast of the Baye de Chaleurs, and the coast of the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Cape des Roisiers ; and from thence, crossing the mouth of the river St. Lawrence, by the west end of the island of Anticosti, terminates at the river St. John.

An Act of Parliament passed in 1774, has removed the northern and western limits of the province of Quebec, adding to its jurisdiction all the lands comprised between the northern bounds of New York, the western line of Pennsylvania, the Ohio, the Mississippi, and the southern boundaries of Hudson's Bay Company.

Canada Upper, commences at a stone boundary on the north bank of the lake St. Francis, at the cove west of Pointe au Bodét, in the limit between the township of Lancaster and the seigniory of New Longueil ; running along the said limit in the direction of north thirty-four degrees west, to the westernmost angle of the seigniory of New Longueil ; thence along the north-western boundary of the seigniory of Vaudreuil, running north 25 degrees east, until it strikes the Ottawa river, and ascends by it into lake Tomiscanning ; and from the head of that lake by a line drawn due north, until it strikes the boundary line of Hudson's Bay, including all that territory to the westward and southward of the said line, to the utmost extent of the country known by the name of Canada.

This province is divided into districts, counties, and townships. (See the Table, facing page 39.)

The counties send 25 representatives to the provincial parliament.

Canard's River empties itself into the Detroit river, at the Huron corn-fields, somewhat below Fighting Island. About four miles up this river are excellent mill seats, to which loaded boats can go. There is a fine limestone quarry in the rear of the corn-fields, nearly in the centre of the Huron reserve.

Murray Township, in the county of Northumberland, lies to the northward of the isthmus which joins the county and peninsula of Prince Edward to the main. It is washed by the waters of lake Ontario, and the river Trent, as well as by those of the bay of Quinté.

N.

Nanticoke Creek, now called the river Waveney, empties itself into lake Erie, between Long Point and the Grand River.

Narrows, the, or petite Detroit, in the river St. Lawrence, is between Grenadier island and the township No. 10, or Escot, now included in Yonge.

Nassau. This is now called the Home district, by an act of the provincial legislature in their first session of parliament.

Navy Hall, in the township of Niagara, is about a mile from the town, on the bank of the river Niagara: the buildings here are considerably increased, and the new garison, building near it, is called Fort George.

Nelson Township, in the west Riding of the county of York, on the lake Ontario, near Burlington Bay.

Nen River, in the east riding of the county of York, rises several miles in the rear of York, and running southerly through the township of Markham, parts of Scarborough, and Pickering, empties itself into lake Ontario, east of the Highlands in Scarborough.

Nepean Township, in Johnstown district, is the eighth township in ascending the Ottawa river, and the first township on the west side of the river Radeau.

Newark, or Nigara Town, is situated on the west side, at the entrance of Niagara river, opposite to the fortress at Niagara, on lake Ontario.

This town was laid out in the year 1791, and the buildings commenced upon the arrival of his Excellency Lieut. Governor Major General Simcoe, in 1792. It contains now about one hundred and fifty houses, with a handsome stone church. The goal and court-house for the home district were erected, in this place, by an act of the provincial legislature in their first sessions. The courts of general quarter-sessions of the peace are holden here the second Tuesday in January, April, July, and October, annually, by the same authority.

The court of king's bench sits here. The first provincial parliament met at this place, and the public offices of government have been held, pro tempore, here. Navy Hall, which is situated on the west bank of the river, a little above the town, was the residence of his Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, during his stay at this place; the council house is about half way between the town and Navy Hall. The public offices are now removed to York.

Newark (now Niagara) Township, in the county of Lincoln, lies on the west side of Niagara river, immediately opposite to the fort.

From its upper branches, it communicates by small portages with lake Huron and the Grand river; the scite of Oxford is on its Upper Fork; and that intended for Dorchester on its Middle Fork; London on the Main Fork, and Chatham on its Lower Fork. It is a fine inland canal, and capable of being highly improved. The lands on its banks are extremely fertile.

Thessalon Point, in Muddy lake, is the angle made by that lake, and a channel leading to French river, Matcheda, &c. and lies parallel to Carribou island.

Thessalon River runs into lake Huron, a little to the eastward of Muddy lake, on the north shore.

Thomson's Island lies near the entrance of the river St. Clair; it scarcely contains 200 acres of dry land, fit for tillage, but a great many acres of marsh.

Thorold Township, in the county of Lincoln, lies south of Grantham, and is watered by the river Welland.

Thunder Bay, on the north shore of lake Superior, opposite to the east end of isle de Minatte. There is a remarkable high mountain at its easternmost cape.

Thunder Bay, in lake Huron, lies to the eastward of Cabot's head, and westward of Gloucester bay.

Thurlow Township, in the county of Hastings, lies near the head of the bay of Quinté, and eastward of Sidney.

Tilbury Township, in the western district, is situated upon lake St. Clair, west of Raleigh, where the Thames disembogues itself into that lake.

Tobacoke. See river aux Attokas.

Tonagayon Bay, on lake Ontario, opposite to the east end of Amherst island, lies between Kingston and Ernest Town.

Tonianta Creek, runs into the river St. Lawrence, in the township of Yonge.

Tonti Isle, now called Amherst island, by proclamation, the 16th July, 1792.

Tonti, Petite Isle, opposite the mouth of Tona-gayon bay, and off Sandy Point, the easterly extremity of Amherst island.

Tonti, River, runs into lake Erie, west of Land-guard.

Toronto Township is in the West riding of the county of York, between the townships of York and Trafalgar, on the lake Ontario.

Toronto Bay, now called York harbour.

Toronto Lake, (or Toronto,) lake le Clie, was formerly so called by some; others called the chain of Lakes, from the vicinity of Matchedash towards the head of the bay of Quinté, the Toronto lakes, and the communication from one to the other was called the Toronto river.

Toronto River, called by some St. John's river, now called the Humber.

Tortue, Portage de la, at the head of the south-west branch of the Ottawa river, near to the small lake which joins the portage to lake Nepissing.

Tourtes, Baye aux, on the north shore of lake Superior, the first bay east of the grand portage.

Tourtes, Isle aux, in lake Ontario, lies off the south-west point of Wolfe island.

Tourtes, Point aux, on the north shore of lake Superior, is the east point of a bay of the same name.

Tower Point, the easterly point that makes Duck cove, in Marysburgh, and west of Point Traverse, in lake Ontario.

Townsend, the Township of, in the county of Norfolk, lies in the rear, and to the north of Woodhouse.

Trafalgar Township is in the West riding of the county of York, on the lake Ontario; and lies between the townships of Toronto and Nelson.

Traverse Bay, on lake Ontario, is made by Cape Traverse and Point Traverse, both in Marysburgh.

Traverse Cape, in Marysburgh, on lake Ontario, is the main point to the northward of Orphan island, and south of Point Pleasant.

Traverse Isle, now called Prince William's island, lake Huron.

Traverse Pointe, is the south-east point of Marysburgh, in lake Ontario, near to the Duck islands; this point forms nearly a peninsula.

Traverse, Pointe à la, on the north shore of the river St. Lawrence, parallel with isle Morpion, and about three miles above Pointe du Lac, St. Francis.

Traverse, Riviere à la, runs into the St. Lawrence a little above Pointe au Chêne, amongst the St. Regis islands.

Trent River, runs out of the Rice lake, and discharges itself into the head of the bay of Quinté. Some miles up this river there are salt-springs; three gallons of the water making one gallon of salt; the natives make sufficient for their use.

Trois Chenaux Ecartés, Isle de, in the river St. Lawrence, opposite the township of Osnabruck, contains from 6 to 700 acres; the soil good.

Trous Leveillier, on the Ottawa river, between the Petit Detroit, and the portage Roche Capitaine.

Turkey Island, sometimes called Petite Isle aux Indes, is situated in the river Detroit, between the lower end of Fighting island, and the marsh of the river Canards; it lies in front of the north-west angle of the Huron reserve.

Turkey Point, in the township of Charlotteville, situated in the bay of Long Point, lake Erie, affords a harbour, with a channel to it, of sufficient depth of water for any vessel; above the point is the town-plot and scite for the barracks.

Two Rivers, the, run into lake Ontario, near the centre of the township of Darlington.

V.

Vaughan Township, in the east riding of the county of York, lies on the west side of Yonge-street, in the rear of, and to the northward of the township of York.

Vesey Cape, in the township of Marysburgh, on lake Ontario, is the northern point which makes Prince Edward's bay.

U.

Urfe River, afterwards called Grand River, now the Ouse, lake Erie.

Uxbridge, in the east riding of the county of York, is to the north and in the rear of Pickering.

W.

Wabuscommong, is one of the lakes on the communication between lake Simcoe and the Rice lake.

Wainfleet Township, in the county of Lincoln, lies west of Humberstone, and fronts lake Erie, being watered by the Welland or Chippewa to the north.

Walpole Township, in the county of Norfolk, lies west of Rainham, and fronts lake Erie.

Walsingham Township, lies west of Charlotteville, in the county of Norfolk, having the bay and marsh of Long Point in its front.

Wapose Island, in lake Ontario, lies off the northerly point that makes Prince Edward's bay, on the easterly shore of Marysburgh.

Washquarter, or Weighqueta, afterwards called lake Geneva, and now Burlington bay, by proclamation, 16th July, 1792, is a very beautiful small lake, lying within the head of lake Ontario, from which it is divided by a long beach; over the outlet has been erected a good bridge; and on the southern part of the beach, near the portage, is a good inn, erected by his Excellency Major-General Simcoe.

Waveney River, in the county of Norfolk, rises in the township of Townsend, and running thence southerly, through the townships of Woodhouse and Walpole, discharges itself into lake Erie, where it has about three feet water over the bar, and is a good harbour for batteaux.

Wenitagonk, runs into lake Ontario, in the west part of the township of Clarke.

West Bay, Great, comprehends all that part of the bay of Quinté, from John's island, upwards, to the head of the bay.

West Bay lies in the south-west extremity of lake Superior, within the isles Royale and Philippeaux.

West Lake lies between Sandy bay and Little Sandy bay, on lake Ontario, east of the isle de Quinté, and is in the township of Sophiasburgh.

Western District, the, was originally constituted and erected into a district by the name of the district of Hesse, in the province of Quebec, by his Excellency Lord Dorchester's proclamation, of the 24th July, 1788. It received its present name by an act of the provincial legislature and by its present limits is bounded southerly by lake Erie; easterly by the London District, on the west by the Detroit, lake St. Clair, and river St. Clair, and on the north by the lake Huron.

Westminster Township is situated upon the river Thames, adjoining to London.

Whitby Township, in the east riding of the county of York, lies west of Darlington, and fronts lake Ontario.

Whitchurch Township in the east riding of the county of York, fronts to Yonge-street, and lies to the northward of Markham.

Whitefish Island, at the east end of lake Superior, a little west of the isles aux Rables, and near to which the lake forces its passage by the falls of St. Mary.

Whitefish Point, at the east end of lake Superior, on the south shore, near to the river St. Mary.

Williamsburgh Township, in the county of Dundas, is the fifth township in ascending the river St. Lawrence.

Willoughby Township, in the county of Lincoln, lies between Bertie and the river Welland, on the west side of Niagara river.

Winchester Township, in the county of Dundas, lies in the rear, and to the northward of Williamsburgh.

Windham Township, in the county of Norfolk, lies in the rear, and north of Charlotteville.

Wolfe Island, lies opposite to Kingston and Pittsburgh, in the narrow part, where lake Ontario forces into the St. Lawrence.

Wolford Township, lies in the county of Grenville, in the rear and to the north of the townships of Elizabeth Town and Augusta, and is washed by the river Radeau.

Woodhouse Township, in the county of Norfolk, lies west of Walpole, and fronts lake Erie.

Woods, Lake of the. See Lac du Bois.

Wye River, runs from a small lake, near the north-west end of lake Simcoe into Gloucester bay, lake Huron.

Y.

Yarmouth Township, in the county of Middlesex, lies to the west of Malahide, and fronts lake Erie:

Yonge-street is the direct communication from York to lake Simcoe, opened during the administration of his Excellency Major-General Lieutenant-Governor Simcoë, who having visited lake Huron by lake aux Claies, (formerly also called Ouentaronk, or Sinion, and now named lake Simcoe,) and discovered the harbour of Penetengushene (now Gloucester) to be fit for shipping, resolved on improving the communication from lake Ontario to lake Huron, by this short route, thereby avoiding the circuitous passage of lake Erie. This street has been opened in a direct line, and the road made by the troops of his Excellency's corps. It is thirty miles from York to Holland's river, at the Pine Fort called Gwillimbury, where the road ends; from thence you descend into lake Simcoe, and having passed it, there are two passages into lake Huron; the one by the river Severn, which conveys the waters of lake Simcoe into Gloucester bay; the other by a small portage, a continuation of Yonge-street, to a small lake, which also runs into Gloucester bay: this communication affords many advantages; merchandize from Montreal to Michilimackinac may be sent this way at ten or fifteen pounds less expence per ton, than by the route of the Grand or Ottawa river; and the merchandize from New York, to be sent up the North and Mohawk rivers from the north-west trade, finding its way into lake Ontario at Oswego (Fort Ontario,) the advantage will certainly be felt of transporting goods from Oswego to York, and from thence across Yonge-street, and down the waters of lake Simcoe into lake Huron, in preference to sending it by lake Erie.

Yonge Township, in the county of Leeds, is the tenth township in ascending the river St. Lawrence.

York County consists of two ridings, the east and west. The east riding is bounded on the east by the westernmost line of the county of Durham; on the south by lake Ontario, until it meets the eastern boundary of Toronto township, which, with the Missassaga tract, gives its western limits, and on the north by Holland's river, lake Simcoe, and Talbot river, until it meets the north-westernmost boundary of the county of Durham. The west riding of the county of York is bounded on the east by the townships of King, Vaughan, and York; on the south by the lake Ontario, Burlington bay, and Dundas-street; on the west by the London district; and on the north by the county of Simcoe. It sends, in conjunction with the county of Durham, and the first riding of the county of Lincoln, one representative to the provincial parliament.

York is in about 43 degrees and 35 minutes of north latitude, and is the present seat of government of Upper Canada. It is most beautifully situated within an excellent harbour of the same name, made by a long peninsula, which confines a bason of water, sufficiently large to contain a considerable fleet; on the extremity of the peninsula, which is called Gibraltar Point, are commodious stores and block-houses, which command the entrance to the harbour: on the main land, opposite to the point, is the garrison, situated in a fork made by the harbour and a small rivulet; the barracks being built on a knoll, are well situated for health, and command a delightful prospect of the lake to the west, and of the harbour to the east. The government house is about two miles from the east end of the town, at the entrance of the harbour, and the town is increasing rapidly; the river Don empties itself into the harbour a little above the town, running through a marsh, which when drained will afford most beautiful and fruitful meadows. This has already been commenced in a small degree, which will no doubt encourage farther attempts. The long beach or peninsula, which affords a most delightful ride, is considered so healthy by the Indians, that they resort to it whenever indisposed; and the bridge over the Don being finished, is generally resorted to, not only for pleasure, but as the most convenient road to the heights of Scarborough. The ground, which has been prepared for the government-house, is situated between the town and the river Don. Vessels of all sizes may be conveniently built here, and a kind of terrace or second bank, in front of the town, affords an excellent situation for a rope walk. The remains of the old French fort Toronto stands a little to the westward of the present garrison, and the river Humber discharges itself into lake Ontario, about two miles and a half west of that; on this river and the Don are excellent mills, and all the waters abound in fish. In winter the harbour is frozen, and affords excellent ice for the amusement of northern countries, driving in traîneaus. The climate of York is temperate, and well sheltered from the northerly winds by the high lands in the rear. The Yonge-street leads from hence to lake Simcoe, and the Dundas-street crosses the rear of the town.

York Township is in the east riding of the county of York, and lies to the west of Scarborough, having the river Humber for its western limit; its front is principally occupied by a long sandy beach, which forms the harbour. The rest of the township in front is open to lake Ontario.
