RIOT NIPPED IN BUD BY POLICE

A French-Canadian from Montreal, who had skipped the draft by representing himself to be an ill and returned soldier, nearly precipitated a riot at the Dallas-Apollo Restaurant, corner of Queen and John streets, at one o'clock yesterday morning. Owing to the tact and firmness of seven or eight civilian police, the mob of 250 or 300 excited onlookers, among them many soldiers, were held in check, and a little damage resulted beyond the breaking of glass and a few bottles.

SUICIDE SEQUEL TO HAMILTON ARREST

Muskegon, Dec. 21.—Within a foot of a guard who had been stationed outside his cell to await any attempt at suicide, Mulo H. Piper, lock insurance broker, arrested at Hamilton, Ontario, and charged with the murder of his wife Freda in Chicago, hanged himself in his cell last night. Piper, it is said, removed his collar, twisted it as nearly into the shape of a rope as possible and secured it around his neck. Then looping his belt thru the collar he fastened it to the iron bars of the cell gate and threw the weight of his body into the noose, ending his life. Up to the last Piper maintained his innocence in connection with the "death of the Weichman girl, whom he was charged with killing in order to hide from his wife and child his alleged bigamous marriage in Chicago in 1916.

FORM LEAGUE OF NATIONS WITH GERMANY LEFT OUT

By Frederick Moore, Special Cable Columnist. Paris, Dec. 22.—As a result of observations and studies here, I am able to give the bare suggestion of the manner whereby certain European statesmen whose views differ, contemplate reaching a compromise with Wilson. They are willing to form a League of Nations, but without Germany, promising her partnership after a certain period. As repayment for damages and partial cost of war, they will be that Germany should not be a part of indemnity will not be reached, and the word will not be employed in the peace treaty.

AUSTRIAN OFFICERS WERE INCOMPETENT

Vienna, Dec. 18.—Popular indignation over the general conduct of the war, especially the "brutality, arrogance and incompetence" displayed by the highest Austrian military commanders, found expression in a resolution adopted by the German-Austrian national assembly today, demanding the appointment of a commission to investigate the cause of Austria-Hungary's military collapse. Some of the deputies declared that he ought to be hanged.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBAN NEWS

DANFORTH APPOINTED THEIR CANDIDATES.

A special meeting of the Amalgamated Ratepayers' Association of York Township for the final selection of candidates was held in the Oddfellows' Hall, 404 St. Lawrence street, on Tuesday night. Hutchinson, president, occupied the chair. The following were the candidates selected: C. Woolner, chairman; first deputy reeve, Chas. T. Lacey, Earlscourt, second deputy reeve; D. B. Hood, Oakwood, third deputy reeve; and Nelson A. Boylen, Mount Dennis, for councillor. James Muldowney, Oakwood, and S. D. Durham, Woodbine Heights, withdrew from the contest. Campaign funds to the amount of about $70 were subscribed by the delegates during the proceedings.

T. L. Hutchinson, chairman, in an optimistic speech, declared that the platform of the association would carry the chosen candidates to victory, and urged a vigorous campaign in the western section of the township.

If the west is as solid for the amalgamated association as the east, we are assured of every seat," said the speaker. Chas. T. Lacey was certain there would be a clean-up at the forthcoming election if the delegates put up a good fight. S. D. Durham pointed out that Todmorden and Cedarvale districts are the most conservative in the east end. The other sections solid for the amalgamated ratepayers' organization, and its platform. J. C. Woolner was not present.

It was arranged to hold meetings in the east and west districts during the week at Silverthorn, Todmorden, Cedarvale, Maple Leaf School, Mount Dennis, Oakwood, Eastdale, Woodbine Heights and Lambton Park. Members of York Township Council will be invited to attend.

YORK TOWNSHIP CHOICE.

The following is the line-up of the York Township Council at the forthcoming election, arranged at a meeting held in Oakwood on Saturday night.

Fred H. Miles, first deputy reeve, for reeve; Robert Barker, second deputy reeve, for first deputy; W. M. Graham, third deputy reeve, for second deputy; Charles Mackay, councillor, for third deputy; and James Syme, a new candidate, for the office of councillor.

The disgraceful condition of Arundel avenue has for long been the cause of numerous complaints by the residents of the Danforth district. Arundel avenue is the only unpaved road in the section. The mud in wet weather is an impediment to wheeled traffic and is spread over the main thoroughfares and the dust is blown in all directions in the dry season.

The matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the Danforth Ratepayers' Association.

Midnight mass will be celebrated at the Church of the Holy Name, Danforth avenue, on Christmas Eve by Rev. Father Cline, rector.

TODMORDEN

A large number of prospective candidates are at present in the field for school trustee in section 27, Todmorden. George Davies, who has been a member of the board for the past five years, has decided to retire at the next election, which takes place in Toronto Avenue School on Thursday next, at 7:30 p. m.

The following are stated to be probable candidates: J. Hibbert, Dr. R. F. Cooper, Philip Fodder, Dr. R. F. Fleming and A. Shirik.

Ald. Ramsden criticized Ex-Controller Foster, in that while at Ottawa he had taken no action looking to the payment of some of the city's war debt, but claimed should be borne by the Dominion Government. Ald. McPhee, who too is running for controller, denounced his platform, ran foul of the member for East Toronto, and declared that the latter's forwarding to the tax-rate were unwarranted.

Ald. H. H. Hall, who a short time ago was requested by the association to urge upon the board of works the need of an appropriation for the improvement of the side streets, reported that a grant of $1500 had been made and this will be immediately expended in making temporary improvements in the side streets, many of which are in bad condition.

RIVERDALE

A Christmas rally of the Simpson Avenue Methodist Church Sunday School was held in the auditorium yesterday. Over 600 members were present, and the chair was taken by W. R. Ward, superintendent.

Solos were rendered by Miss Baker, choruses by the children, and special Christmas pictures were shown.

Among those present were: R. A. Wilson, superintendent, primary department; Mrs. Ewart Wilson, general secretary; superintendent, F. Schofield, boys' junior; H. J. Barron, associate secretary; superintendent, and Rev. J. R. Patterson, pastor.

Pte. William Wilson, C.E.F., 29th Battalion, arrived at his uncle's residence, A. A. Daniel, 3 Riverdale avenue, after an absence of 2 1/2 years overseas. Pte. Wilson was wounded in action at Amiens, and had his forearm amputated. His left shoulder was also wounded. He was in all engagements from Vimy Ridge to Amiens and was in hospital in London when the armistice was signed.

EARLSCOURT

A VEHEMENT RESOLUTION. Councillor Peter Wright of the British Seaman's Union last night so roused a packed audience at the Oakwood Theatre, Earls Court, by reciting some of the inhuman cruelties of the Germans on shore and aloft that the following resolution, moved by Frank Wiles, secretary of Navy League, and seconded by Sgt. Wm. Arthur, was passed unanimously.

The people of Earls Court, Toronto, in mass meeting assembled, Dec. 22, 1918, as follows: Resolved that on or before the conclusion of peace terms those alien enemies who are at present interned in any part of Canada be forthwith repatriated to their country of birth or allegiance without permission to return to Canada, and resolved that no German, Austrian, Turk or Bulgarian be allowed to land on or enter into any port of Canada, nor any person who, by any of the allied nations or by the United States has, during the war, been interned as an alien enemy, and resolved that the War Times Election Act, insofar as it disenfranchises alien enemies in Canada, be not repealed for a period of not less than ten years after the war, and resolved that the action of the British Seaman's Union in boycotting Germans from the seas which have polluted. And be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded forthwith to Sir Robert Borden.

Mayor Church acted as chairman.

THE BLOOR VIADUCT ROADWAY.

It will need over five hundred loads of crushed stone to make the roadway for wheeled traffic along the Bloor street viaduct between Sherbourne and Parliament streets. The stone has been finished for the stone, but the engineer's department say they have the stone in sight, they have not much hope of getting it down and rolled this season. This will be discouraging news for the public who have to use the narrow, crooked and dangerous Howard street. But the city commissioner made up his mind to take advantage of the good weather and exerted his staff, it can still be done. Will he do this?

FOSTER AS MAYOR

Would stand firm for a "Pay-as-you-go" Policy, Toronto's current expenses must be met out of current revenue, otherwise the city will be wrecked financially, industrially and socially. Tom Foster would stop additions to the already overwhelming civic debt.

NORTH TORONTO KIWANIS CLUB CHEER DAVISVILLE WOUNDED

To 800 wounded and convalescent soldiers in the Davisville Hospital on Saturday evening the Kiwanis Club of Toronto brought a message of cheer and good-will, when for three hours they right royally entertained the men in song and story and in the distribution to every man of a box of good things to eat. Every point of vantage in the big building was draped with evergreen and bunting, and everybody vied with each other in having a good time.

Some of those who contributed to the success of the evening were: H. J. St. Clair, the leader of the band; Frank Oldfield, L. B. Taylor, George Green, Quarrington, L. G. Lugsdin, Mr. and Mrs. Balfour, Miss Jean Alexander, Miss Vera McLean, Miss Holley Whitting, Miss Irene Hughes, David's Quartet, Miss Lillian Dryden and Mrs. Sparkham.

The comedy work was put on by E. G. Bennett, who represented Charlie Chaplin, and Frank Madden, as an Irish policeman. A feature of the evening was the distribution of balloons, confetti and paper strings, and Col. King Smith, on behalf of the men, received the player records donated by J. E. Day.

CANNOT FINANCE T. S. R.?

Saturday night's meeting of the North Toronto Ratepayers' Association, while well attended and interesting, lacked the ginger and pep that characterized that a week ago. The chair was occupied by R. L. Baker, the president, and a number of women were there on the invitation of the executive.

Controller O'Neill, one of the mayoralty candidates, was present, but contented himself with a passing reference to civic affairs, having outlined something of his views the Saturday before. Ex-Controller Cameron, who was heralded as likely to make some interesting statements re civic matters, was not on hand.

Thomas Foster, M.P., one of the candidates for the mayoralty, criticized the expenditures generally during the year, said that the work on the overflow sewers might well have been deferred, declared that the high tax-rate would keep manufacturing industries away from the city and that unless there was a rigorous policy introduced this year, the rate would not be in shape to take over and finance the T. S. R. in 1921.

Ex-Ald. Archibald and Ald. Gibbons, candidates for controllers, outlined something of what they said they would do if elected, the former declaring that an over-rat of $1,000,000 had been created by the present council and suggested that all aliens be taxed being likely to leave Canada.

HAMILTON NEWS

Hamilton, Dec. 22.—It is stated that the city council will endeavor to make the street railway company put 25 additional new cars into service.

Sixteen men were arrested on the charge of gambling on the Lord's Day. Robt. Arnett, 411 North Victoria avenue, while driving in a rig collided with a motor car. He escaped serious injury, but his rig was destroyed.

Christmas services, with special music and decorations, were held today in all the churches. The churches had been closed for three weeks, owing to the influenza ban.

Many ratepayers are finding fault with the action of the city council in providing that the aldermen next year are to be paid $2,000 each, in addition to the $1,000 they are now receiving. The Honorable Discharged Soldiers' Association reorganizes under the name of the Second Degree Veterans of France and Comrades.

Altho over 60 new cases of the "flu" were reported in the west end, the authorities consider the epidemic practically over.

ABSORBING PROFITS OF RADIAL LINES

Ald. Langa Throws Harpoon Likely Leading to Street Railway Inquiry.

Hamilton, Dec. 22.—Declaring that the Dominion Power and Transmission Company, of which Sir John M. Gibson is president, was bleeding its subsidiary companies to such an extent that deficits instead of profits were shown, Ald. C. V. Langa, chairman of the special street railway committee, has thrown a harpoon at the corporation that in all probability will result in an investigation being made by the city after the new year. The financial statistics submitted by Ald. Langa have revealed the business methods by which the corporation absorbs the earnings of its auxiliaries by charging rentals for tracks and terminals, hired equipment and power. Furthermore, they also show why the corporation was willing, as it claims it did, to loan the sum of $800,000 in "hard cash" to the Hamilton Electric Radial Co.

In the fight with Burlington regarding increased fares, E. P. Coleman, general manager of the company, put up the argument that the road never paid since it commenced operations, and that it would have to have a higher rate than 25 cents return to Burlington, despite the fact that the company entered into an iron-bound agreement with the little town that 25 cents would be the maximum fare charged for all time to come. The following figures may explain why the Hamilton Electric Radial Co. is in the opinion of Mr. Coleman, never paid: In the fiscal year of 1917 the radial company paid to the Dominion Power and Transmission Co. the sum of $20,485 for hired equipment, $12,485 for rental of tracks and terminals, $11,040 for maintenance and $20,945 for hired power.

These sums of money total $64,015, and are conclusive proof that while the radial company did not pay in the opinion of a few officials, it must have made a very favorable impression upon the shareholders lucky enough to be entitled to a slice of the meal.

The buyers also indicate that the Dominion Power and Transmission Company had an eye for a good bargain when it loaned $800,000 to the radial company, and received back in one year almost $450,000. While this system of accounting with the subsidiary companies was apparently very advantageous to the parent body, according to Ald. Langa, it could not have been good business. For he states that with the $20,485 which the radial railway paid for hired equipment in 1917, two new cars could have been purchased. Instead, the money was paid over into the parent company's cash box, and the line which must have needed extra cars, or it would not have hired equipment, went without the new cars.

Other figures, which are just as interesting, show that in 1917 the Hamilton and Brantford Radial Railway Co., operated with a loss of $35,977, tho it paid over $40,219 to the Dominion Power and Transmission Co.; that the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville line lost $11,500 and paid over to the parent body $44,445.80, and that the Hamilton and Dundas Radial Co. showed a profit of $600,000, and paid over $28,762 to the Dominion Power and Transmission Co.

Summing the entire financial situation up, the Dominion Power and Transmission Company, as Ald. Langa said, "bled other companies to such an extent" that its treasury was enriched by the sum of $133,473.30. In addition to this, the Hamilton Street Railway Company, in 1917, made a profit of $194,014.25. Despite these figures, the corporation still refuses to run in service to Burlington until the town is willing to break the agreement calling for a maximum fare of 25 cents. The company refuses to, operate, tho the railway board has ordered it to give a service according to the agreement, and the railway board, notwithstanding its instructions, has adopted a pacifist attitude that the parties interested get together.

WOUNDED HEROES ARRIVE HOME

Troop Train Reunites Two Hundred Men With Their Families.

Because of the arrival of the troop train at North Toronto Station last evening there will be joy in over 200 homes in Toronto district at this glad Christmas time. More especially so because many of the men are on crutches, and some on stretchers, for those and their families there will be unmingled excitement surviving and dawning the pain and sorrow thru which they have passed.

A vast Sunday night congregation gathered at the station to welcome the men, waiting in a cold fog for the train. As has been usual during the last two or three weeks, the C. P. R. ran the troops on schedule, and promptly at 5.45 all those from the hospital ship Essequibo, for M. D. No. 2, numbering about 223, returned to be enfolded in Toronto's welcoming arms.

The blue coated policemen were again on the job, and with the assistance of the military police kept the lanes clear for the soldiers to pass thru. The band of the C. G. I. was on the upper platform, and outside the station the Salvation Army band played enlivening patriotic airs.

Colonel Gunn, D. O. C., Mayor Church, Major Gibson, and the officers and officials who usually are on hand to welcome the men back were present giving all the assistance possible to the men and the relatives of the soldiers.

The stretcher cases of which there were about fifteen or so, were held on the coaches until all the others were gone, when they were lowered in the elevators to the main floor. Before they were put into the ambulances, their names were called, and if anyone was waiting for them they were allowed to see them. They were then sent to the different hospitals, according to the nature of their wounds.

All the men able to walk, who live in the city, proceeded to their homes in the volunteer motors, and the out-of-town men were taken to the Red Triangle Club, and will go to their homes by the first train connection.

TRADES CONGRESS VIEW OF STRIKE

Voted Against Method of Appointments Back in 1887.

Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, was in Toronto yesterday on his way to Niagara Falls, and had the police strike not been settled would have conferred with the men while in the city. Now that the issue between the men and the police commission is sub judice, he is reserving all opinion until such time as the royal commission shall have rendered its decision. An interesting note was dropped from Moore, yesterday in conversation, when it was pointed out that the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, which was inaugurated in 1885, and which had its convention in Hamilton the following year, placed itself on record in that year as being entirely opposed to the unsatisfactory method of appointing police commissions in the province on the premise that the appointments were based on obsolete methods, giving autocratic power to the appointees.

Touching upon the general question of the right of the workingman to take full advantage of opportunity for political action, Mr. Moore stated that he was in whole-hearted sympathy with labor politics in Canada. While he had no comment to make upon the alleged opposition of Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor to a political labor organization in the United States, he stated that conditions in Canadian politics differed from those in the United States, where the general political atmosphere was based upon a general sense of democracy, the two chief political parties in that country being essentially democratic and differing only in detail.

Twenty-five friends of Victor Ross, formerly financial editor of The Globe but now assistant to the president of the Standard Oil Company, gave a dinner in his honor at the St. Charles Hotel on Saturday night. Hector Charlesworth presided. At the conclusion of the evening Mr. Ross was presented with a pair of gold and platinum cuff links and pearl studs. Among those present were George Ham, Frank Nelson, Frank Morley, Fred Paul, Lawrence Solman, W. Hewitt, Harry Anderson, O. M. Ross, Peter Donovan, F. Mossop, H. F. Gadsby, M. B. Macdonald, J. K. Munro, H. Marjatt, Robert Johnston, Chas. C. George, J. Harry Smith, Irving Robertson, Walter Thompson, F. D. L. Smith, Wm. McKnight, J. T. Clarke and Jno. Edmunds.

"RECONSTRUCTION" BY PETER WRIGHT

Havelock Wilson's Right-Hand Man Cautions Public Against Politicians.

That the election of members of parliament is not the panacea for all the ills that mankind suffers from, and that crooked public men are very often only a reflection of a crooked public opinion, was the statement of Havelock Wilson, right-hand man of the late Havelock Wilson, speaking at the "Reconstruction" at the Men's Brotherhood Class of the Broadway Tabernacle yesterday afternoon.

"If Germany had waited 20 years more," said Mr. Wright, "she would have permeated the whole world with her commerce and gained her coveted ends; but she thought that might be right, and that the doctrine of the Nazarine was contemptible. Kaiser Bill is down and out, however, and the gallant men who defeated him have created for us an opportunity which we must not neglect. We must accomplish the things which they have begun to do."

"Some people think that all we have to do now in order to right everything is to elect members of parliament, but I say keep clear of members of parliament, and work out your own salvation. The people often complain that the public men of the nation are crooked. Well, who is to blame? The public men are often only a reflection of public opinion. We need men in public life who have not merely the lust of office, and whom the lust of office cannot kill, men with honor, who will not sell a lie. "If we are to look forward to a new and better era we must regenerate ourselves, and create an environment in which it will be possible for every man, woman and child to live the highest life and enjoy an equal opportunity. We must concentrate on the making of a better world. This side of the grave is the place to do right, and now is the time to begin a labor of love."

BIGGEST SPORT THAT WORLD EVER SAW

Rev. Principal Dyke, D.D., of Queen's University, Kingston, preached yesterday morning and evening at St. Andrew's Church, King street.

In the evening the sermon was based on the text, "Jesus steadfastly set his face toward Jerusalem." His disciples, believing Jesus was about to set up a material kingdom, had asked if they might share in the glory of it, and He had asked them, by way of answer, "Are ye able to drink the cup that I drink?" intimating that the way to His kingdom was thru renunciation. Principal Dyke made several pertinent remarks, and closed his discourse with the following words: "Jesus was the biggest sport the world has ever seen. He played the game to the end. Jesus, our leader, went over the top ahead of His forces, and calls to us, 'Follow me.' There is no crown that has not behind it the shadow of a cross!"

Appropriate Christmas music was rendered by the choir, and selections from the "Messiah" given in a musical after the service.

We need men in public life who have not merely the lust of office, and whom the lust of office cannot kill, men with honor, who will not sell a lie. "If we are to look forward to a new and better era we must regenerate ourselves, and create an environment in which it will be possible for every man, woman and child to live the highest life and enjoy an equal opportunity. We must concentrate on the making of a better world. This side of the grave is the place to do right, and now is the time to begin a labor of love."

BIGGEST SPORT THAT WORLD EVER SAW

Rev. Principal Dyke, D.D., of Queen's University, Kingston, preached yesterday morning and evening at St. Andrew's Church, King street.

In the evening the sermon was based on the text, "Jesus steadfastly set his face toward Jerusalem." His disciples, believing Jesus was about to set up a material kingdom, had asked if they might share in the glory of it, and He had asked them, by way of answer, "Are ye able to drink the cup that I drink?" intimating that the way to His kingdom was thru renunciation. Principal Dyke made several pertinent remarks, and closed his discourse with the following words: "Jesus was the biggest sport the world has ever seen. He played the game to the end. Jesus, our leader, went over the top ahead of His forces, and calls to us, 'Follow me.' There is no crown that has not behind it the shadow of a cross!"

Appropriate Christmas music was rendered by the choir, and selections from the "Messiah" given in a musical after the service.

Autoist Carried Dead Body of Victim He Ran Down

P. C. McBurney, president of the Policemen's Federal Union, and P. C. Marshak, both of whom were on strike followed a pool of blood on Saturday morning, and traced it to a car driven by Wm. Ferguson, who was carrying the body of Mrs. Berkovitz, 235 East Queen street, to St. Michael's Hospital. Ferguson, who had run Mrs. Berkovitz down, and who was alleged to be drunk, was arrested.

MINISTER INTERNED.

The arrest of Rev. Otto Stockman of the Zetharia Church, Sebastopol, was made at my instigation, by my men, and under orders, from properly constituted authorities," said Captain Tom Flanagan of the Dominion police, on Sunday to The World. "The minister had been charged with seditious utterances on the day the armistice was declared, and the steps taken for his arrest and internment were perfectly legal."

RETURNS FROM GERMANY.

Windsor, Dec. 22.—Dr. Henry Crossweller, who up to the outbreak of war was practising physician of this city, has just returned home after four years abroad. He was a prisoner of war at Hanover, Germany, and later at Cologne. He was released last October.

STRONG CASE FOR EARLY BOOKING

"The Better 'Ole' Will Draw Throngs to Massey Hall.

"The Better 'Ole," with Old Bill and his pals, will occupy the centre of interest tonight, and Massey Hall, where this marvelous picture-play is being shown, will be taxed to its capacity to hold the throngs of people who are eager to renew their acquaintance with Old Bill and Bert and Alf, or to meet them for the first time. A better opportunity for enjoyment or a clearer presentation of the life of the soldiers in the trenches in Flanders and France has never been given to a Toronto audience of picture-play attendees than that they will enjoy tonight in Massey Hall.

People who have soldier friends overseas will find a special attraction in this masterpiece of the screen. They will see in a realistic way the kind of life the boys have been living and get a clearer vision of the hardships, pleasures and heroism of the noble men who have offered themselves as a sacrifice to save the world for freedom and democracy.

Bruce Bairnsfather when he created Old Bill and his friends found a way to play upon the emotions of men and women in a marvellous manner. Every part of the film is full of pathos and humor, and the humor comes so quickly on the heels of the pathos that the tears are scarcely started from your eyes before the smiles chase them away like sunshine between the showers.

Old Bill is a type, not too common, but quite common nevertheless in the British army, and he illustrates a side of the character of the men who made up the "Old Contemptibles" in the early days of the war that is little known. Toronto will take its hat off to these stalwarts in "The Better 'Ole' tonight.

DRUNKEN BRAWL

As a result of a drunken brawl at 90 Peter street last evening, six stitches were required to sew up the slash sustained by Martin Allen, and Fred Corson received a knife wound in the arm. Some Poles found out that there was liquor to be had at this number and they attempted to raid the premises, and in the fight Allen and Corson were wounded. At this juncture the police took the offenders in charge.

VETERANS

Items of Interest to Returned Soldiers Will Be Printed in This Column if Phoned or Sent In.

That there was little dissatisfaction, at least so far as the transport of the soldiers on the S.S. Aquitania was concerned, was evidenced from an interview obtained on Sunday night with a veteran who returned recently on the giant Cunarder. "The boat I went over with was a rotten packet," said this man, "but none of the boys has a word to say against the Aquitania. The food was excellent and the accommodation was good. She had seven decks, three above the main deck and three below it. In fact she had decks right up almost to the water line, but the ventilation system was such that even at that low level there was loads of fresh air for the fellows. Judging from reports of men from other ships this is saying a whole lot."

FURTHER DISCLOSURES OF JOFFE ARE EXPECTED

Berlin, Dec. 21.—The Socialist newspaper Vorwarts predicts that the main part of the disclosures of Adolph Joffe, former Bolshevik ambassador in Berlin, will shortly be forthcoming. In view of the former Russian diplomat's declaration that he no longer owes to Hugo Haase, foreign minister in the Ebert cabinet, the consideration due a former friend and political ally, Herr Haase jetted, Joffe by declaring that the latter merely supplied him with data for speeches in the Reichstag.

A Social Revolution.

Few greater revolutions have been more quietly or more definitely effected than the social change of base effected by the police strike last week, happily and peacefully concluded on Saturday evening. Great principles were involved, and behind these lay the recognition of the advance of society to a new stage in evolution, where authority becomes vested in a broader, popular basis, and the community decides to trust itself to a greater extent than it has hitherto done.

The citizen who is not trusted is to that extent an outlaw. When the police commissioners put themselves on record as being unable to trust the police to form a union, and beyond them, the whole body of labor organized in the joint union of federated labor, we faced the situation in which we impeached and virtually outlawed all those concerned. The police commissioners denied that trades unionism could be trusted to maintain social order.

From this impossible position there was only one way out. It has been adopted. The men retain their character. The police commissioners acquiesce their theory of outlawry by refusing to recognize it. The whole affair is referred to a Royal Commission to set forth these principles and to determine once for all the new status of social freedom.

It may be said that trades unionism is on trial. Of course it is. And so is government. All human conditions are always on trial. The police commissioners also are on trial. Public opinion has found them wanting. They have not been logical enough to judge the situation. We do not think the trades unions will fail to appreciate their greater responsibility and obligation.

The Big Two and Their Two Big Problems.

We are reminded by The London Times that the purpose of the war would be defeated if discord could be sown between Britain and the United States. It is accordingly the purpose of the German militarists, and of reactionaries of every description who worship autocracy and despotism in one form or another, Bolshevistic, imperialistic, dynastic, socialistic or spiritualistic, to do what is possible to breed misunderstandings and to foster debate between the two sections of the English-speaking peoples.

So they think that either the United States or Britain must desire to subdue the other; that they should agree to dwell together in peace and rule the ocean in harmony beyond their imagination. In this belief the freedom of the seas is to them capable of only one solution.

Similarly in regard to a league of nations. It is inconceivable to them except as a diplomatic pretext, behind which they can organize further outrage and treachery. We are acting in good faith in these proposals. They can see only subtlety, hypocrisy and cant.

In the presence of such a national theory of conduct, our course should be obvious. Fortunately in the present circumstances it is of comparatively small importance what the Germans think if they are unable to get others to adopt their views. If the United States and Britain agree about the freedom of the seas, the seas will be free. If they agree about a league of nations, their league will be strong enough to convince the world.

All that is needed is to see that the great commonwealths have the same ideals of right and justice. We believe that their aims are identical.

The Old Game and the Old Crowd.

Ald. Langs of Hamilton calls attention to the way in which the Dominion Power and Transmission Co., the parent concern, is making the Hamilton radial lines, all of which are operated by subsidiary corporations. He gave the Hamilton council figures which illuminate the situation at Burlington. Burlington is without railway connection to Hamilton because the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway Co. says it is too hard to give any passenger service on its line between Hamilton Beach and Oakville. Why is this company in so desperate a situation?

This company paid last year to the Dominion Power and Transmission Co. for "hired equipment," $204,488. The cars they thus hired for a year could probably have been purchased outright for the same amount. No doubt the same interests, commonly known as the Cataract crowd, control both the Dominion Power and Transmission Co. and the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway Co. They get all the money in any event, and if they can make the radial company appear to be poor, there is always a chance of soaking the public by increasing the rates.

It is an old, threadbare device which no longer fools anybody, except those who want to be fooled, but, like every other financial manoeuvre, it may obtain some credence unless and until it is investigated and the truth laid bare. We would certainly like to see the Dominion Railway Commission look into this matter. Sir Henry Drayton has at his service an army of accountants, clerks, inspectors, and engineers. They should be able to find out and report to him in a few days whether the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway Co. is really unable to pay operating expenses, or whether its pretence in that regard is merely put forward to hoodwink the railway commission and bulldoze its customers. And we would also like to see the attorney-general of Ontario bestir himself, and we think the good people of Burlington have a right to look to him for protection.

This radial line, like the company owning it, was a provincial affair; but it was switched from provincial jurisdiction and placed under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government at the time when the Ontario electric railway companies were merged to Ottawa for Dominion chapters. But the Town of Burlington is still in Ontario, and so are the 4000-people in and about that municipality who are being mistreated by the radial railway company. They have a right to ask, and even demand, that the chief law officer of Ontario protect them in their legal rights. A royal commission appointed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council might uncover some bookkeeping in Hamilton which would recall the adventures of the New Haven and the Rock Island in the days of high finance.

POLITICAL NOTES AND VIEWS

Canadian political affairs have moved a lot in the past two weeks. The speech of Hon. N. W. Rowell, president of the council in the Union government, at Bowmanville, was a strong and well reasoned deliverance. It was a justification, in political as well as in moral terms, of the Liberal party in the west, and of Sir Wilfrid Laurier because the latter would not support compulsory service or Union government. It was not true, as he said and alleged, that he and those with him had conspired to destroy Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as has been charged; but his conviction that the only way for Canada to help to win the war was to adopt compulsory military service. It was not for party but for the nation and the empire that they supported the bill, drew away from Sir Wilfrid Laurier with the Unionist government, took office, opposed and criticized Sir Wilfrid and his friends, and, in the case of Mr. Rowell, certain members of the Catholic clergy of Quebec, for unpatriotic conduct in the matter of the war.

There is a lot of comment in the press on Mr. Rowell's speech. If The Globe's article means anything it means Mr. Rowell justified his position. The Globe also supported compulsory service. The London Free Press (Conservative Unionist) gives Mr. Rowell credit for admitting that Sir Wilfrid refused to agree to compulsory service when appealed to by Mr. Rowell and other of his friends, and, therefore, that he and they had to leave him because that service was absolutely essential to Canada doing her duty.

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review (Liberal Unionist), which before the war was one of the lamps of Ontario Liberalism, puts it thus:

It is to be hoped that the last has been heard of the charge that the split in the Liberal party was the outcome of a conspiracy against the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. There is no foundation for the charge. There never was any foundation for it. There was no conspiracy. The Liberal party divided on the question of conscription. A section of the party, a very important section of it, became convinced that conscription was necessary to keep the Canadian divisions up to strength. Another section, including Sir Wilfrid Laurier, was opposed to compulsory service under any circumstances. An agreement was inevitable; the split was inevitable. But there was no conspiracy. The Liberals who believed in conscription did everything possible to induce Sir Wilfrid Laurier to give his credit for advocating compulsory service; but they failed. They were then compelled to choose between their duty to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and their duty to their country, and they had no apology to offer because of it, and, according to Mr. Rowell and the Sentinel-Review, Sir Wilfrid refused either to agree to compulsory service or to Union government.

The Winnipeg Tribune (Liberal Unionist), whose editor, Mr. R. L. Richardson, sits in the house as a supporter of Unionist government, and an old associate in opinions of Mr. Rowell, says the latter made out his case, and at the same time had the courage to burn his bridges behind him. Mr. Rowell was, therefore, not apologizing for, but defending, what he did.

The Tribune goes on to say that Mr. Rowell is stronger than ever before in his career. He went ahead on prohibition. It was no crime to desert Laurier when he did.

Sir Wilfrid announced on leaving Toronto last week that he would deal with Mr. Rowell's speech in due course.

Very significant have been the events in Saskatchewan, where Hon. W. M. MacKenzie resigned from the Martin government. He was a Liberal and a friend and colleague of Hon. W. R. Scott, who was premier before Mr. Martin succeeded. Mr. Motherwell thought Mr. Martin should oppose Union government at Ottawa; he was opposed to certain school legislation that Mr. Martin had in hand, and as to which he had consulted Mr. Motherwell. The bill was carried in the legislature only Saturday afternoon, and practically abolishes every language in the schools of that great province but English, save certain allowances for French.

ALL IN ONE BASKET

Mr. Motherwell's stand, and the articles now appearing in the press by Mr. Scott, make quite a chain in the Liberal ranks in Saskatchewan. Mr. Scott is even more bitter on Union government than Mr. Motherwell. The Calgary "Albertan" (Unionist Liberal), one of the leading Liberal papers in the west, speaks of Mr. Motherwell's "clownish" move, and Mr. Scott's articles as "clodhopper politics." These are hard blows from former friends. The Alberta paper praises Mr. Martin's legislation in favor of only one language—English—in the schools of the adjoining province. But it thinks a political split is ahead of the Liberals of Saskatchewan.

A strange outcome of this situation in Saskatchewan, and the Rowell-Laurier episode above referred to, may be that Premier Martin of Saskatchewan, who was at one time a follower of Sir Wilfrid at Ottawa, and still a beloved disciple, may emerge as the new leader and successor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and, more or less, with his blessing, Sir Wilfrid undoubtedly is going to lay down his arms—as he says, to an English-speaking Liberal and a Protestant—and Mr. Martin's name is mentioned for the position. His language legislation, passed Saturday, will help in the east without offending the French Liberals of Quebec. They will stand Martin, not Rowell, may be their ally.

Sir Wilfrid is going soon, but the more he is abused by the special organs of some of the ministers at Ottawa, the easier it will be for the Liberals to reorganize under a new leader. And this is the keynote of politics in Canada today: Where will the Unionist government be when up against a Liberal party that has a leader that is English and Protestant and might be canny on the tariff question? Where will Mr. Rowell be if he has buried Sir Wilfrid?

But Mr. Martin is not the only available man for successor. Sir Wilfrid is looking in several directions. But Sir Wilfrid will not take up the shield himself.

The tariff question has been aggravated by the deliverance of the United Farmers of Ontario. They, too, want lower tariff, like their brothers of the west. A feeling is gradually spreading in Ontario and the east that the friends of home industries will have to bestir themselves.

The coming session of parliament will be an interesting one. But it may be a month yet before its plays and actors will be on the billboards. Sir Robert Borden's intentions as to his return have not yet been made known.

As to the fate of Union government, two Winnipeg papers make deliverances: The Tribune believes that it is the duty of Canadians to go on smashing the two on parties; The Free Press, after reviewing the first year of Union government, says no dependable alternative has as yet been developed. In other words, that it was the best available. Are the Liberals going to develop something?

IDA ON THE NOMINATIONS

BY IDA L. WEBSTER.

It is to be hoped that the voting element of Toronto will turn out today and do justice not only to themselves but to the city itself. Nomination day means more than a great number of citizens appear to think; in fact, so indifferent are some that they do not even take the trouble to wonder what men are in the field.

If any municipality is to have a clever administration then it must be represented by clever people, but if the male and female elements who have not to take the precaution to give the gang who are running the "once over" then they at least should not have the men who are running the show. But strange to say, they are usually the very ones to find the loudest fault.

Unfortunately in Toronto some of the business men are to be most capable of handling the city's affairs are not at all interested. This is really deplorable when one views the situation in the city. If such men as Sir John Easton, A. E. Ames and a dozen others would consent to take the reins in their own hands, it is hard to see how the city would be being left to the hands of a few civic interests was concerned.

When we speak in this view we are not belittling the men who have been the city fathers of the year. But at the same time there are some of them who have no right on earth to aspire to the positions which they have been holding. The men who are in the city to the extent of attending some of the meetings these men would certainly be better off in the provinces.

As for proof of the utter indifference in civic politics, there is a glaring example of it in ward four, where the old-fashioned party system is being carried on because they are not being confronted by opposition. It may sound very simple, but it is not. Surely there must be some of the citizens who are interested in the administration of the city to the extent of attending some of the meetings these men would certainly be better off in the provinces.

Ruth Goes Out With Her Employer.
 CHAPTER XVIII.
 Mrs. Clayborne answered Ruth's letter at once:
 "I will arrange to spend some time with you. I know you are lonely, but do not allow yourself to give way to your depression. Go out, see people, bring me news, and get a chance to return as any of the others. Do not get it into your head that anything will happen to him. That would be the worst of all. I shall start in about two weeks. Until then tell Rachel to take the best of care of you. I wish you would stop working until you are better, perhaps you will feel happier in keeping busy. I enclose a cheque so that you may feel that you can stop work at any time. It is more for you when that is gone."

As Ruth looked at the very sizable cheque, she knew it would not have been given her had Brian been with her. She tried to feel grateful to her aunt, but only succeeded in wishing that she could share it with her soldier husband. But that was impossible. She had no money, and she had no one to turn to. She had to get on with her life as best she could. She had to get on with her life as best she could.

Another Expedition Going To Explore Polar Regions.
 New York, Dec. 22.—An expedition to be led by Captain Fred Donnell, noted explorer, will be sent to the polar regions next June to survey the north pole by airplane, according to a report tonight by the Aero Club of America.

Brantford Liberals Welcome Dissenters Back to the Fold.
 Brantford, Dec. 22.—Brantford Liberals gathered in large numbers at their annual meeting here. It was the unanimous opinion that the country should go back to the old party system. The new president John Muir, declared he accepted office on the understanding that those who left the fold to support Union government, would be welcomed back. Officers were elected as follows: President, John Muir; vice-presidents, Geo. Cook, David John White, Brantford; treasurer, W. H. Whitaker; secretary, Herbert McIntyre.

SAY NO WAR TAX.
 Brantford, Dec. 22.—At the city council meeting on Monday a resolution will be presented protesting against the continuance of the provincial war tax of one mill on the dollar. It will also be recommended that the G. W. V. A. home here be given remission of taxes.

LIVED NINETY YEARS.
 Woodstock, Dec. 22.—Donald McDonald, aged 90 years, a well-known resident of this city for the greater part of his life, is dead.

ANNEXATIONS

Annexation of unimproved sub-divisions and districts on the outskirts of the city is in no small way responsible for the heavy debt charges we face today.

Our first duty should be to the citizens and districts within the corporate limits. We should adopt the policy of Toronto seeking annexations, instead of annexation projects seeking Toronto. In other words, Toronto should grow out, instead of sub-divisions growing in to the city.

Citizens, in certain districts, who have borne high tax rates for several years, are greatly in need of local improvements. Until their districts receive the improvements to which they are entitled, outside sections should not be annexed and improved.

Hereafter, sections seeking annexation should first be required to instal improvements and services on a par with those in the city.

It is your duty as a citizen to use your vote to elect the best representatives to your civic government for 1919.

hidden by the program. So Mollie had also sailed for "Somewhere in France." Would they meet—she and Brian—and would they spend their time together over there, as they had done over here?

Oh, how she wished she were able to find out—wished that she knew someone who would keep her informed. After the show Mandel asked Ruth to have some supper, but she declined. He was never insistent, but he urged her a little, saying: "You look tired. It would do you good." But she shook her head and he said no more.

His car was waiting and he took her home. She was thankful to learn back and let him do the talking, although try as she would, she could not concentrate upon what he was telling her.

"Thank you for a pleasant evening," she said when he accompanied her to the elevator.

"I hope I may give you many pleasant evenings," he returned, then lifted his hat and was gone.

Ruth thought freely of what he had said about Mollie King. Had she mentioned her before him? She recalled the day down in Washington Square when she and Mandel had been looking after the old house they were to decorate, and they had seen Mollie and Brian taking the bus. She was almost positive she had not mentioned Mollie's name, but so much had happened she might have forgotten. It was the thought that Mollie was on her way to Brian that insisted. Would she be where she would care for him if he were hurt, while she—Ruth—could do nothing? Would it have been better if she had given up her work and gone overseas too?—but she couldn't go—there wouldn't let her. What would a woman who was about to become a mother, do to help wounded soldiers?

Pinehurst, N.C., Dec. 22.—Walter Hines Page, who resigned last August as American ambassador to Great Britain, because of ill-health, died here late last night.

Dr. Page returned to the United States on October 12, and he was moved directly from the steamer to a hospital in New York. For a time his condition showed improvement, but late in November he suffered a relapse. Early this month he rallied, and ten days ago was brought to Pinehurst. For a while he seemed to grow stronger, but suffered a second relapse last Thursday.

MOTION TO BREAK THE PARTY TRUCE

South York Liberal-Conservative Association Meet in Victoria Hall.

Quite a flurry of excitement was caused at the meeting of the South York Liberal-Conservative Association, in Victoria Hall on Saturday, when it was moved by L. L. Jarvis to strike out the word Unionist from the name of the association. Mr. Jarvis, in making the motion, declared that the association could get along with its old name, and is an out-and-out Conservative organization. The move had evidently been expected by President J. R. MacNicol, who, without putting Mr. Jarvis' motion to the meeting, stated that the question was dealt with by a written resolution which was already on the table. The motion followed, and was carried without division.

Whereas, in accordance with the format of the Union government, this association changed its name to the South York Liberal-Conservative Association, and in doing so it is in full accord with its regret that evidence continues to accumulate of a desire on the part of some members of the Union government, who joined the Union government, not to keep the truce.

Support Union. Vice-President L. L. Baker, who moved the resolution, said that many Liberals were still supporting the Union government, and that the association called upon the government to allocate its loan to the provinces for the housing problem, not on the basis of population, but on the basis of soldiers recruited from the province.

A letter was read from W. F. Maclean, M.P. for South York, expressing his regret at not being able to be present, and also pointing out the good work of the Unionist government in the prosecution of the war. The election of officers resulted in the re-election of every officer by acclamation.

It was moved that John Galbraith, who had run as an independent candidate against W. F. Maclean in 1917 and against Hon. George S. Henry in 1918, be expelled from the association. The motion was referred to the executive committee.

The following public men addressed the association at the meeting: Mayor Church, Hon. G. S. Henry, Ald. Ryding, Ald. Sykes, Deputy Reeve Barker and Councillor McKay.

The three-roomed house in which the Gooderham family lived was heated by one stove. The damper in the main pipe was closed and the one in the bedroom pipe remained open, and the gases which should have escaped thru the chimney went into the bedroom.

SETTLEMENT OF THE POLICE STRIKE

for the way in which he has befriended us in the controversy." James T. Gunn, who had helped to negotiate on the side of the policemen, was given a rousing welcome. He said that they had won a great victory inasmuch as they had not arbitrated their troubles first but had secured concession of three points in the controversy before agreeing to arbitrate at all. Their charter was left them which meant that they had the right to meet under that charter in the interval. "We have every reason to believe," he concluded, "that the investigation will be impartial and that the rights of policemen, along with other classes of citizens, will be recognized."

The following are the terms acceptable to both men and members of the police commission: That the government appoint a royal commission to consist of three persons, one of whom shall be representative of labor, to investigate and report upon the question of the administration of police forces throughout the Province. On receipt of the report the constitution of police commissions, the general administration of police forces, police laws and regulations, including the propriety of the organization of police unions either within themselves, or affiliated with other organizations, and generally all matters relating to good government of police forces, and to inquire into the complaint of one Ellis, lately of the Toronto police force.

1. The Toronto Police Force to at once resume their duties, all men to be reinstated, save Ellis, and to have the same status as before the strike. 2. The union to agree to be included in the Toronto Police Force until such time as the royal commission gives its decision. 3. It is distinctly understood that nothing herein contained shall be construed as a recognition in any way by the police commissioners of the said union, pending the final decision of the royal commission. 4. The police to give up the charter and surrender it if so decided by the royal commission. 5. All parties to agree to abide by the report of the commission or the majority of them. 6. The police union bind themselves that they will not engage in any strike with any other kind, sympathetic or otherwise, until the decision of the royal commission is given.

Summers. The above terms of settlement were adopted by the police commissioners, and the executive of the police union in signing their acceptance stated on behalf of the men that they were satisfied with the way they had been met in this matter, and that the agreement was signed, they did not ask the police commissioners to recognize the union until the final decision of the royal commission was made. Rumors were current in the city on both Saturday and Sunday of sympathetic demonstrations favoring the police cause, to be held in Queen's Park. The President of the Trades and Labor Council issued a statement in which he said that the council would take no part in such demonstrations if held, nor had the members been approached by the police in the matter at all. Yesterday afternoon however, a party of forty or fifty foreigners, representing a variety of European nationalities, gathered in Queen's Park to celebrate the conclusion of the strike, and to express their sympathy with the cause of the police. It was rumored that speakers representing the trades council would come to address them. But after standing about for an hour, their enthusiasm being dampened by the fine drizzle that was falling, and the leaders of the council failing to put in an appearance, they wandered out to their respective homes. The police were on duty as usual yesterday, well pleased with the terms of settlement, and further pleased that during their temporary absence from duty, no orgy of crime had developed in the city.

To Their Credit. It is to their credit that at their meeting on Saturday night, when the terms of the settlement of their dispute with the commissioners were made known, they were anxious to get back to duty quickly in order that the public might not be further inconvenienced by their absence from the streets. No better compliment to the efficiency of the force could be paid than the evidence of orderliness which resulted on the streets soon after nine o'clock when some of the men went on duty before the time stipulated in their agreement. There were men at the busy intersections as soon as possible after the result of the afternoon conference was made known and the congestion of traffic was soon ended and regulated. The public were quick to see the change which took place as soon as the tall form of the "cop" appeared on the scene. Elect Harper for Alderman Ward 3.

STEAMER REFUSES TO BE LAUNCHED

War Aquila's Churlish Response to Lady Pellatt's Benedictions.

For some reason or other the new steamer War Aquila, built by the Polson shipyard, and which was to have been launched last Saturday, refused to leave the launching blocks to enter the element for which it was designed. At 11.15 a.m., the time for the launching ceremony a large crowd of employees and visitors had assembled, and Lady Pellatt, who was the sponsor of the new ship, stood ready with the christening bottle of Niagara wine.

As the ship began to move down the ways, Lady Pellatt swung the bottle against the side of the boat, wishing her good luck. But the apparent smoothness of the launching was dispelled a few moments later when the bows of the ship, instead of moving parallel with the dock, swung around and half stopped and remained stationary with the stern of the ship jammed in the launching ways.

A sheaf of roses with satin streamers were presented to Lady Pellatt by Mrs. B. Miller, wife of the president of the Polson Iron Works, Ltd. This steamer is one of six of similar dimensions the company is now building. Dimensions: Length over all, 251' 6"; beam molded, 43' 6"; depth molded, 23' 0". The vessels are single screw. The machinery consists of triple expansion, surface condensing engine, having cylinders under 30 1/2 and 33 and 54" diameter by 38" stroke. Boilers, two Scotch Marine type, 14" in diameter by 12" long, 130 lbs. pressure; equipped through for ocean service with electric light plant, cargo winches, steam windlasses, steam and hand steering gears and evaporating outfit.

STABLE BURNED DOWN. A fire of unknown origin occurred in the stable at 1550 Danforth avenue about 6 o'clock yesterday evening, and as a result a horse was burned to death and an automobile in the building at the time was completely destroyed. Mr. Alfred Empringham, who lives at 1571, is the owner of the property and contents. The total loss is estimated at $1500, not covered with insurance.

OTTAWA SENATORS WON ON STICKY ICE

Defeating Canadiens by Three Goals in Opening Pro. Game of the Year.

Montreal, Dec. 22.—The professional hockey season was ushered in at the Jubilee rink on Saturday night when Ottawa Senators scored a well-earned victory over Canadiens 3 to 2, over sticky and heavy going. The match, the first of the National Hockey League schedule, was as hotly contested as any game yet played, and the forward pass and the delayed penalty rule. In the absence of rough play on the off-side pass at centre ice was introduced, and it will, no doubt, have a tendency to make the game faster.

Owing to the heavy condition of the ice, making passing and the puck itself it would be unfair to criticize the new rule. Being strangers to it, the players remained from taking chances and depended on individual rushes almost throughout the game. The exhibition of hockey furnished was the best witnessed in Montreal in some seasons, the result being in doubt until the final quarter.

Ottawa showed the better condition and thru it were enabled to out-skate their opponents in the final period, when they assured their victory after seventeen minutes of the scheduled twenty in the period had expired. Both teams sent out newcomers to their club. Odie Cleghorn playing at centre ice for Canadiens and Doberty on the wing for Senators, while Ottawa used Sprague Cleghorn, the one-time star of the Wanderers, on the defense. Both acquitted themselves in a creditable manner, playing more unselfish hockey than they have ever done before.

With Neighbor and Sprague Cleghorn as two regulars, the Ottawa team is much stronger than a year ago, while they also have a good string of substitutes. Canadiens were without the services of Joe Malone, who is still in Quebec, and Bert Corbeau, who was unable to reach Montreal thru illness in his family. In contrast to former seasons, rough play was conspicuous by its absence, and the penalties imposed were for minor offences, which prevented the public from witnessing the usage of the new penalty system.

Both teams showed a lack of condition and tired badly during the final period, which was easily accounted for by the lack of practice. Canadiens scored first, but the score was soon evened up and again Ottawa tallied before the end of the first period, which gave them a lead they maintained to the finish. The first goals were scored by the Cleghorn brothers on individual rushes.

The teams and summary:

Canadiens (2)—Goal, Veitch; defense, Hill, Lalonde; centre, McDonald; centre, C. Cleghorn; wing, Pitts.

Ottawa (3)—Goal, Denny; defense, Gerard, S. J. Cleghorn; wing, Darragh; centre, Neighbor; wing, Denny.

Substitutes—Ottawa—Lowery, Boucher and W. J. Boucher; Canadiens—Berinquette, Couture and Doberty.

Playing Games Outdoors Just Like Two Years Ago

This weather seems strange, following the severest December on record of one year ago when the snow drifts were almost up to the tree tops and the thermometer down to zero. We forgot that two winters back it was mild, just like now, and the sporting records show that lawn bowling has been played hereabouts in December and soccer football on Christmas Day and even as late as January.

CANADIENS AT ARENA TONIGHT.

The Arenas and Canadiens open the N. H. L. season tonight at the arena. Canadiens will likely be strengthened by Ben Corbeau, their star defense player. He has been a hold-out, but came to terms last night.

The oldest golf club in the land has its habitat at Watertown, Mass. It is the Midiron Club. Its course is laid out on a piece of 177 yards. There are five holes to wit: "Architect's Angle, 123 feet; "Junkpile," 68 feet; "The Cottonfield," 83 feet; "Barrister's Bog," 34 feet; "Ak-rod," 85 feet. The course record is 25, Walks, scrubbery, bumpy ground, a hedge and children are the hazards. The course is made of an abandoned phosphorus can. With a brass box long since denuded of smokes, there are six members, and their clubhouse is the apartment house in which they live, and belonging to which is the lawn whereon is the course.

WOMAN LANDS LARGEST DOLPHIN.

Mrs. John H. Vail of Los Angeles is now the proud possessor of the world record for landing a king dolphin. Her party was trolling for marlin swordfish, when the dolphin struck. ## DENTS OUTCLASSED ST. PATRICK'S TEAM

Winning Sportsmen's Christmas Series and Showing Some Good New Men.

Dentals are the winners of the Sportsmen's Christmas series for senior teams. They finished by defeating St. Patrick's on Saturday night at the arena by a score of 9 to 4. The Irish put up a great fight for over half-way, but lacked the condition to carry deep into the game. The Saints trotted out a team that had a number of players that are new to Toronto fans. Breen on the defence looks about the best of any defence men that have appeared recently. He is big, fast, and can hand out a good, healthy bodycheck. Stinson, at centre, was another new one that gave a favorable impression. Breen was not in condition, and Crooks was good, considering his lack of practice.

For the Dentals, Charlie Stewart was again the star, and any that beat him would have beaten anybody. Box put up a great game and did some nice tussling, and Brown also was good.

The first period was the best of the game, and the Irish held the winners to a one-goal advantage. Breen and Dye grabbed the first goal two minutes after the start, when the latter took the pass and poked it in. Then goals came thick and fast for the Dentals. The final score was 9 to 4, with the Irish scoring two and the Dentals scoring seven. At this time the Irish had the most of the offensive play and had a fair share of the work to do. Condition told against the Irish side. Condition told three more to the Dentals, making the final score 9 to 4.

This game will do the Irish proud a lot of good, and if they get down to practice after the Christmas holidays will have a lot to say in the O.H.A. series.

SHALL IT BE LIFE OR DEATH?

Extract from letter received this week, telling the story of the grim struggle made by hundreds in this city and throughout the country.

Toronto, December 12, 1918. "I have felt the heavy hand of the White Plague in my family. I have a son just past thirty years of age, who has been in bed for six months, suffering from Tuberculosis, and had been the support of father and mother for some years, earning a good salary. Father had a job at _____ place, but was laid off because he was a man past their age limit. Consequence is that for six months we have lived on saved money, and are now at the end of our resources."

To Every Generous Hearted Reader of The Toronto World

Toronto, December 21st, 1918

Dear Friend: Once it was called the Great White Plague. To be infected with it was equivalent to being sentenced to death.

The tragedy was so bitter that many a family having a consumptive member would conceal the fact as if in shame.

We know better now; we know that tuberculosis is not incurable. We have proved it a thousand times.

The work of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives has brought hope and salvation into the life of many a sufferer.

The great glory of this work is that it can largely be done through voluntary contributions---by the aid of the gifts of healthy generous souls who pity and wish to help their afflicted fellow-creatures.

It would be unfair to ask you to deny some other charity for the sake of ours. What we do ask, however, is that we may share in the abundance of your giving, and receive a part of your charitable donations for this year.

If you could see the bloom of health brought back to some poor sufferer as a result of your gift, you would indeed enjoy that splendid emotion which is best described by the words---

"It is more blessed to give."

Thanking you in anticipation of your generous help, I am, Yours faithfully,

W. J. Gage

President.

MARKET UNSETTLED BY PROFIT-TAKING

Dome's Weakness in New York and Added Influence—Davidson's Good Rally.

Mining stocks were somewhat softer in Saturday's trading on the Standard Exchange, but, for the most part, the recessions were limited to fractions, and offerings were small as the turnover of little more than 40,000 shares for the morning indicated. The decline in Dome in New York, added to the pre-holiday disposition of some holders to "cash in," had a mildly unsettling effect, but there was nothing in the situation to create uneasiness, and sentiment regarding the market's course after the turn of the year is almost uniformly bullish.

At the Alexandra.
A. H. Woods will make his first offering of the season at the Royal Alexandra, for the only engagement in Canada, his great laughing success, "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," which he sends here direct from New York City, with the original cast and production. "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is a farce in three acts by C. W. Beil, a well-known Canadian, and Mark Beil, Resident Florence Moore, the cast includes such well-known comedy favorites as Dorothy Mortimer, Beth Merrill, Carolyn Lija, Grace Weidling, John Arthur, James Spottwood, Roy Gordon, Tommy Meade and others.

Coming to Princess.
On account of the numerous requests received at the office for seats for next week's engagement of "The Better 'Ole," the advance seat party will begin at the office today. The play is based upon Captain Balmatier's "Fragments From France," and thru the latter the three humorous characters, Old Bill, Bert and Alf, have achieved a great success. However, a full appreciation of Balmatier's conceptions is not obtainable until one has really seen them in human form and enjoyed their quaint sayings and phraseology. "Cinderella" at the Grand.
