Heart of Empire Touched on Armistice Day as Hero Dead of War Are Honored

Westminster Abbey Never Saw so Impressive Scene as Unknown Soldier Was Buried

"IT MIGHT BE DADDY" WROTE LAD APPLYING FOR PLACE—AND HE GOT IT

Hundred Women Who Lost Husbands and All Sons Given First Position in Throng; King Chief Mourner; Observance at Saint John and Other Places

Throughout the length and breadth of the British Empire all activity ceased at noon today for the space of two minutes in honor of "Our Glorious Dead" who fell in the great world struggle which terminated on this date two years ago.

old boy who wrote:—"The man in the coffin might be my daddy." In all, eight thousand tickets were issued.

Not only in the cities and towns was the two-minute pause observed, but also on the great railroad lines which span the country all traffic came to a stop.

NOTEABLE DAY IN EMPIRE CAPITAL (Canadian Press)

London, Nov. 11—Great Britain today impressively honored her war heroes by according a field marshal's funeral to an unknown British warrior, who was buried in Westminster Abbey, and unveiling a permanent cenotaph in Whitehall to the "glorious dead."

Aside from members of the royal family, who included Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra and Queen Maud of Norway, the members of the British cabinet, and a few officials including Hon. Sir George E. Foster, Hon. C. J. Doherty and Hon. N. W. Rowell, the only witnesses to either ceremony were persons who lost relatives in the great war.

In France. Paris, Nov. 11—Official and civilian France today did honor to the memory of the nation's sons who fell during the war. Paris dedicated the day to recognition of the sacrifice made by hundreds of thousands of dead who are sleeping in cemeteries along the battle line.

During a brief service in the nave of the abbey, the king stood at the foot of the grave, the members of the royal family ranging themselves on either side. Of all the witnesses that packed Whitehall or crowded the abbey, a little band of approximately 100 women in the absence of the most reverent attention.

ST. JOHN WRITER'S POEM LINKED WITH FLANDERS FIELDS

The Royal Lithographic and Printing Co. of Halifax is circulating an illustrated copy of Col. John McCrae's immortal poem, "In Flanders Fields," and on the opposite page an illustration of "Victory," by Lieut. J. Harold Manning of the 52nd, Port Arthur, and son of Dr. James Manning of St. John. It is particularly appropriate today. Lieut. Manning's poem follows—

VICTORY Sleep ye in peace, on Flanders Plain! Your righteous cause through toil and pain Has triumphed, for the nations all Have shaken off the tyrant's thrall, And now supreme doth Freedom reign; For from those crimson flowers, a stain Of fresher crimson spreads amain, And wakened people heard the call From Flanders fields. Fear not, ye have not died in vain! Your flickering Torch burns bright again! A million hearts, white'er befall, Are pledged to guard it lest it fall. In memory proud that ye lie slain. On Flanders fields. —J. Harold Manning

GERMAN GUNS ARE PRESENTED IN FREDERICTON

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 11—Fredericton today had formal presentation and acceptance of the German guns allotted to the province as war trophies. They number six. This afternoon there was a parade. At the post office M. P. O. Pugsley took the salute. The captured guns occupied a prominent place in the procession. At Parliament Square the song "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall," was sung by the school pupils. Formal presentation of the guns on the part of the Dominion was made by Col. H. P. McLeod, M. P. On behalf of the province Premier Foster accepted them. "O Canada" was then sung. This was followed by the presentation of two of the guns to the city of Fredericton, Premier Foster making the presentation. Mayor J. A. Reid accepted. An address by the Lieutenant-Governor then was delivered. The city was decorated and a half holiday in the schools added to the festive nature of the day.

LETTERS FROM HERE FOR MISSING MAN

Some Money Also—Word of Walter Scott, Last Seen in Buffalo, is Sought.

The chief of police today received an inquiry from Joseph Devine, 696 Elliott street, Buffalo, N. Y., regarding his room mate, Walter Scott, who, he wrote, disappeared on last July. It is believed he is from St. John or vicinity. The letter stated that Scott complained of not feeling well. He is five feet eleven inches tall, about twenty-one years of age, of fair complexion, slender build and of a quiet disposition. He served in the Canadian army overseas and was not well as a result of being wounded. He was employed in the Pierce Arrow storage battery department and has some wages due him there and two letters bearing a St. John postmark and which Devine is holding for him.

PAINFULLY INJURED Friends of George Melvin, of 37 High street, will regret to learn that he is confined to his bed as a result of painful injuries received in an accident on Monday afternoon at the Purly Ice cream factory, Stanley street. Mr. Melvin, who is a carpenter was doing some work on a staging about twelve feet from the ground. He slipped and fell. Fortunately no bones were broken but his back and hip were badly bruised.

ADDRESS BY GEN. SIR R. E. W. TURNER

No Necessity to Urge Need of Well Trained Militia if War Lessons Learned.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 11—If Canada had profited from the lessons taught by the world war there should be no necessity to urge the need of a well trained militia, said Lieut.-Gen. Sir R. E. W. Turner, V. C., K. C. B., D. S. O., Quebec, in addressing the Canadian Club last night. He said aviation should be developed, not only along military lines but to place it on a sound commercial basis as well.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam "to the Times reporter, 'I'd just that squabble about that there no railroad bridge is all settled, Gouto sey made it, Hiram, an' Douglas Avenue road go under the railroad—sint they?' You know that to be a fact," said the reporter, "run down to City Hall and tel them that is what they want. They don't know." "Why—what's the trouble?" queried Hiram. "It is necessary," said the reporter, "to send to Montreal or somewhere, or something like that. Then when the information has been secured it is still necessary to find out on the Canadian Pacific whether it has any views on the subject—and if so how many. There is also the Railway Commission, whose business it is to bridge difficulties, and there are other things to be considered. You or me, but it is really a very grave matter, and there are still tons of information to be brought down from Montreal—or somewhere. You can't get it on the spot."

Carey Missing But Package of $60,000 Recovered—Dropped by Man Who Flew Apparently Thinking He Was Being Watched.

Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 11—Officials of the National City Bank here, city officials and volunteers worked feverishly last night and until early this morning to open the bank's safe, believing that Francis J. Carey, a teller, had been locked inside by bank robbers. When two mechanics had cut through the six inch steel door, no one was inside. The sum of $60,000 taken from the safe has been recovered.

When the bolts of the safe door had been opened, Charles C. Taylor, president of the bank, found that the separate compartments belonging to the various employees of the bank had been opened and their cash contents taken. When a search was made for Carey, his mother said he had not returned home since supper.

CHALLENGE TO THE ESPERANTO

The Undaunted Wants a 200-Mile Deep Sea Race Next April.

New York, Nov. 11.—F. R. Mayer of New York, vice-commander of the Atlantic Yacht Club, and owner of the schooner yacht Undaunted, has challenged the owners of the Gloucester fishing schooner Esperanto, for a 200-mile deep sea contest in next April. The challenge, Mr. Mayer said, has been accepted in principle and he will go to Boston soon to make arrangements for the race. A time allowance probably would be necessary on account of the difference in hull measurements and sail areas in the two boats. The Undaunted was formerly known as the Karga and under the ownership of Robert E. Todd of New York, won the Brenton's Reef Cup in 1911. She is a three-masted yacht schooner rig of 150 feet in length, thirty-three feet beam and seventeen feet draught, without auxiliary power. A cup has been offered by Mr. Mayer as a trophy.

A DANGEROUS WARNING BLEEDING GUMS

Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhoea.

This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth, but often wrecks the health.

In Pyorrhoea, the gums become spongy, then recede; the teeth decay, loosen, and fall out—or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhoea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases.

You can keep Pyorrhoea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums prevents Pyorrhoea—or checks its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy and the teeth and bone clean.

Start using it today. If your gums have receded, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Forhan's FOR THE GUMS

MEAT-INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS. Take a Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers—Meat Forms Uric Acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble. The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system. When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the nights, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of J. Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grape sand lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. J. Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

A Few Cutting Remarks

Most ready-for-service clothes are cut by machinery. 20th Century Brand clothes for men are cut by hand, garment by garment. The difference is the same as that between a dozen die-stamped silverware designs and the finely graven figuration on a piece of hand-wrought silverware.

So, too, with the Tailoring. Most clothes are machine made. 20th Century Brand Clothes are as much hand-tailored as most Custom clothes, and reveal in every line the patient processes of workmen stimulated by the call for quality.

PASQUALE IS INDICTED FOR COUGHLIN MURDER

Grand Jury Returns Three Other True Bills Against the Baby's Kidnapper.

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 11—August Pasquale, known as "crank," was indicted by the grand jury here on Monday on the charge of killing Blakely Coughlin, thirteen months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin of this city, on June 20. The grand jury also found true bills of indictment charging kidnapping, burglary and extortion, there being two counts on the extortion bill. Pasquale appeared in court with a smile on his face. When told by Judge Swartz of his right to challenge the list of grand jurors, he answered that he had no challenge. Only three witnesses, Mr. Coughlin, Captain Georhart and another state policeman, were heard, and the jury was out less than an hour. The court room was crowded to the doors. While waiting in the prisoners' room Pasquale talked freely. He said he intended to plead guilty and "take my medicine" without delay.

THE MIGHTY DEAD.

In the long roll of historic events which have centered in Westminster Abbey none has equalled in profound significance that of today, when King and people gathered about the grave of an unknown warrior, who symbolized the great host of the dead who died that the British Empire might live and right become triumphant over might. The pathos of that ceremony touches all hearts the Empire over, and the quick tears start when one reads the simple plea of the lad of twelve who asked admission to the Abbey because "The man in the coffin might be my daddy."

ARMISTICE DAY.

Have we kept faith, or have we failed? Are we still actuated by the lofty principles that carried us through the war, or have we become indifferent to them? The principles for which men died, for which women suffered even unto death—what think we of them today? Is the world made safe for democracy? Is democracy safe for the world? Is the Canada of today, in its aspirations, its conduct, its attitude toward problems affecting national obligations, national honor and national development along right lines, worthy of them who died if they could speak words that still say the sacrifice was worth while?

These are searching questions, but we ought to ask them of ourselves today. The graves in France and Flanders will be well kept, but if that were all they were better overgrown with weeds. The war is over, but there are great tasks to be performed before democracy is safe, and that righteousness which exalted a nation comes from its own. What are the fruits of our thinking and our doing from day to day in relation to national and community welfare? To us has been thrown the torch, to be kept alive and passed on to those who will come after us in a commonwealth made better or worse for what we have done.

AMERICAN METHODS.

The Canadian journalist at election time usually develops some heat, and perhaps indulges in criticism that may appear harsh; but it is necessary to go south of the border to find the past masters of the scabbe and personal attack. In the recent residential campaign some ardent supporter of Cox started the rumor that Harding was of negro ancestry. The story spread with amazing rapidity in sections where race prejudice was strong, but it was soon followed by denial and a record of the Harding family history. A Philadelphia Republican newspaper in the whispered story saw an opportunity to assail Gov. Cox, and here is the result: "In a generation blood-consecrated to higher standards of national service and nobler ideals of sacrifice for the common good, it has been the unsavory distinction of James M. Cox to sink a residential campaign to the most degraded level that has ever marked a national election in this republic. The unadroit shiftness, the numbing insincerity, the palpable duplicity and the calculating buffoonery of the candidate's utterances mark him as a man infinitely unfit for the high office which he seeks. But the turpitude of his public conduct in the campaign appears noble and inspiring in contrast with the surreptitious tactics that have been employed in his behalf and which even his degraded taste dare not avow. Inscrutable nature has produced a creature, furtive, stealthy, cowardly, nocturnal and provided with an offensive weapon, which depends for its power on the degree of sickening disgust that it can induce in its antagonist. Moreover, the active agent of that disgust, the weapon by which the malodorous creature hopes to overcome the object of its enmity, is secreted within its own being. This fact and the corresponding contempt in which the animal is held by clean and decent creatures complete an almost perfect analogy. Even this, however, fails in one important respect. The little outlaw of the animal world is beset by enemies, and in the use of its not-so-stealthy methods it is employing the only weapon with which nature has provided it. Besides, it is not endowed with human intelligence and has not had the benefit of human associations. It is only fair to the little creature therefore, to refrain from mentioning its name in connection with the mephitic Cox campaign."

If the writer of this diatribe had merely observed that in his opinion Mr. Cox and his friends were worse than the skunk he would not have "said a mouthful" which is the constant aim of American political journalism. By contrast with our neighbors, whether in circulating stories about candidates or assailing them in the press, we in Canada are the mildest of partisans and most polite of political adversaries. Nor should we desire a change that would bring us down to the Hearst level.

THE ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

The Associated Charities is an organization whose beneficent work never ceases. Throughout the year it may be reached by those in urgent need. Because it received less money from the citizens than usual this year it faces what will be a winter of many calls with a depleted treasury. The very small grant it receives from the city ought to be increased next year. The report published in the Times yesterday does not convey anything like a clear knowledge of the work done from day to day by its devoted secretary, Miss Grace Robertson, who is aided by a group of unselfish women as well as by many individual citizens who are alive to the needs of the very poor. Miss Robertson refers to the need of a juvenile court and probation system, proper care of the feeble-minded, and of mothers' allowances. These are greatly needed reforms which cannot long be delayed. But they will not solve the problem of poverty, and there is need of such an organization as the Associated Charities to give help quickly where it is urgently needed, as well as to protect the citizens from the wiles of impostors. It is always wise when appeals are made to citizens in behalf of a family to consult the secretary of the Associated Charities and learn what she knows about the case, or ask her as a trained and experienced worker to investigate. This does not involve delay, but ensures aid for deserving cases. And to this end the association must have funds.

WATER POWER IN MAINE.

Governor-Elect Says It Will Make State Great Industrially. Frederic H. Parkhurst, governor-elect of Maine, hopes to advance Maine into one of the great industrial states in the union through the development of its water power. Hydro-electric power, he says, has been found to be the cheapest motive power, and he asserts that Maine can develop sufficient to run one-eighth of the industrial plants of the nation. The stock argument against the industrial development of Maine, the cost of shipment on the railroads, will be met in the future, he predicts, by the exceedingly low cost of power.

PROMPTNESS. I went to James Augustus Jones, and from him borrowed fifteen bones, the which I needed sore, for all my arms were sick, and bed, my drivers children cried for bread, as they ne'er cried before. I said to Jones, "November 8 you'll see me waddle to your gate, to pay you every red; November 8 at half-past 10, I'll pull your latch-string once again, or you may know I'm dead." And Jones, he heaved a sickly smile, for he was wise to human guile, to promises that fall; and doubtless in his soul he sighed, "I'm stung again, dingbat my hide! I'll never see the kale!" The number 8 dawned bright and fair, a hint of frost was in the air, the wind was east by west; and to the residence of Jones I looked my way, astonished yell, poor Jones, he had a fainting spell, with spasms in his chest. His senses once again restored, my jaded soul you've filled with roard, "you're surely halsted up; my jaded soul you've filled with roard, peace, and you may wed my fastest niece, and use my politer pup." And Jones has given me renown in all the byways of the town, as one who keeps his word, and whenever I may go the people say that I'm a jobber and a bird.

Unless you can think when the song is done, No other is so fit in the rhythm, Unless you can feel when left by him, That all men also go with him. I love the sea on a troubled day, Gray and green, and gray and gray, With a single far-away sail in sight, White and alone, along the white sea, And the sea gulls resting a little space On the rocks, then away with their weird, wild grace, I love the sea on a troubled day!

THE NE WALDRID'S LAMP.

The British coal miners, it is to be hoped, are better producers than they are economists. Their demand for a larger increase in pay and a proportionate decrease in the price of coal to the British consumer look like a rash flying in the face of arithmetic. The ancient game of trying to beat the multiplication table seems to be coming into new popularity since the war, but there is every reason to believe that two and two will persist in making four.

A MARITIME LIQUOR CASE IN SUPREME COURT.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—(Canadian Press)—The Supreme Court yesterday heard arguments in an appeal from the maritime provinces arising from the seizure of fifty gallons of rum after seizure by the authorities. The case was that of McGee vs. Servino. In 1918 the appellants ordered for their own use fifty gallons of rum from a dealer in Montreal. It was seized by Servino, as being intended for sale under an order made by Police Magistrate McLeod. When seized the liquor was on the premises of a government railway and the appellants claimed that the liquor had been destroyed "and the appellants brought an action against Servino and McLeod. The trial judge gave judgment against both and this was reversed by the full court, as against the magistrate because it is a statutory preliminary to action, and as to the constable that the findings of the jury exonerated him. From this decision the appellants appealed to the Supreme Court.

RUM-RUNNING NEW SCIENCE IN OLD MAINE

Population Adjusts Methods to the New Conditions

Fresh Blood in Traffic—Younger Generation, Bold and Skillful, Have Alert Minds in Fit Bodies.

(Toronto Globe.)
Bangor, Maine, Nov. 7.—Throughout the sovereign State of Maine there is scarcely a sign yet of the coming winter. Various theories are advanced in the explanation of this, one of which, not without its plausibility, is to the effect that there is so much contraband liquor cached in the soil that the frost is finding difficulty in boring its way into the ground.

In a state where the enterprise of beating the liquor ban has been a habit and some thing of a religion for upward of fifty years there are citizens aplenty who take the strong pride in the fact that Maine is amply provided against winter.

In Hands of Young Men.
When national prohibition first became a cold and bitter fact the veteran rum sellers of Maine put on their thinking caps and began to devise ways and means. They recognized that to stay in the rum business required qualities which they did not possess; that liquor, if it was to be brought to Maine, must come from Canada in the teeth of the law. A new order has set in and the liquor trade is now almost wholly in the hands of young men, mostly of foreign blood, and conspicuous for their cold daring, their hard commercial acumen, and the sartorial effects which render them salient in their hours of ease.

Enjoy Able Counsel.
Nobody knows exactly how many of these adventures are running rum into Maine and other states across the Canadian border, but at night every road leading over the line has its quota of them, and they conduct their business upon principles of efficiency and mathematics which would bring them success in almost every domain of human endeavor. There is also good legal talent in their employ, and this has evolved much strategy in the way of confusing

Keep Minds Alert.

There is little secrecy as to who compose the brotherhood that is fetching liquor across, since moral certainty as to who is who is one thing and legal certainty, adequate for a jury, another matter altogether. The boys in the trade conduct themselves with quite an air, wear the best of clothes, silk shirts, of course, and are acquiring the art of dining. They keep much to themselves in small groups and clubs of their own, and are studiously orderly in public. Also they do practically no drinking themselves. In the profession which they practise a man must keep his body fit and his mind alert.

Liquor on the Canadian side sells at about $3.50 for a full quart. Once across the border it becomes marketable at $12 the case quart, or $60 a gallon, against the $14 a gallon paid for it, showing a first profit of $46, but from which, of course, must be deducted the expense of operation, graft paid on the way or before or afterward, and—now and then—loss by breakage or seizure.

RECENT WEDDINGS

The wedding took place at 8 o'clock yesterday morning of Miss Victoria G. Cochrane, only daughter of Mrs. Jane Cochrane and the late Robert Cochrane, of Richibucto, and Charles M. Wilkinson, of St. John. The ceremony was performed in St. Mary's Anglican church, Richibucto, by the rector, Rev. James Cartledge, in the presence of relatives and friends. The bride was given in marriage by Frederick Sayre, of Richibucto. She was attired in a navy blue traveling suit with hat to match and wore a set of furs the gift of the bridegroom.

The bride is one of Richibucto's popular young ladies and received numerous gifts. Mr. Wilkinson is a well-known young man engaged in the insurance business. He is a son of Rev. W. J. Wilkinson, rector of Kingsclear, who is spending the fall and winter in Barbados. He was formerly on the staff of the Evening Times.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Campbell, 158 Water street, west, yesterday afternoon, their daughter, Miss Mildred E. Campbell was united in marriage to Clifford G. Hill. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Sampson. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will reside in Millerton.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of John McInch of Upper Woodstock, an employee of the C. P. R., all his life occurred yesterday morning at the age of 73 years. He is survived by his widow, three sisters and one brother.

A cable message received by Dr. Murray MacLaren, C. M. G., yesterday, brought news of the death of his uncle, Robert Jardine, London. Mr. Jardine was the youngest brother of the late Mrs. Lawrence MacLaren, and was the last of his generation. Although in his 90th year he was quite active to the end of his life. Mr. Jardine was a bachelor and his home was in Kensington Palace Gardens, London. He had been engaged in the East Indian business and had been abroad a great deal.

TEACHERS MUST TAKE UP BOXING

Department Insists on High School Men Qualifying.

Manly Art Compulsory—Its Value in Educational System is Now Thoroughly Understood.

(Toronto Globe.)
 Before a high school teacher graduates from the Faculty of Education at the University of Toronto he must, in accordance with the rules of the Ontario Department of Education, be qualified to teach boxing. This new rule, which comparatively few appear to be familiar with, was pointed out yesterday by Rev. D. B. McDonald, Headmaster of St. Andrew's College, who takes this action on the part of the educational authorities as a proof that they are awakening to the need of boxing in the high schools. That there is no doubt as to its value he is firmly convinced, and to back up his convictions he gives his experiences with the manly art as it is taught at St. Andrew's, the first school or college to make boxing a definite part of its physical education. For sixteen years boxing has played a leading part in the physical life of the school and never, says Mr. McDonald, has it occasioned any unpleasantness.

It Teaches Tolerance.
 "In the hundreds of boys' contests held at St. Andrew's College during the past sixteen years," he said, "not one boy has lost his temper or refused to shake hands after losing, while in the football games a St. Andrew's boy is never put off for fighting on the field."
 "Boxing has for generations been taught in all the big English schools with the result that it has become the Britishers' recognized method of self-defense, and who is there that does not entertain wholesome respect for this same method?"
 "I understand that boxing is compulsory in Australia, New Zealand and in many of the largest cities in the United States, and I do not think that there is an instance where it cannot be proved

ECZEMA IN RASH CUTICURA HEALS

On Face and Head. Itched and Burned, Disfigured.

"Last year I became affected with eczema. It started on the cheeks in a rash, and the water spread and made my face sore all around the ear and partly on my head. The skin was very sore and red, and the itching and burning was so bad that I could hardly help scratching. My face was very disfigured."
 "Then I used a free sample of Cuticura. It helped so I bought three cakes of Soap and one box of Ointment, and my face was healed."
 (Signed) Miss Martha Berger, Spanaway, Wash., Feb. 11, 1919.

that there is far less fighting in schools where boxing is taught. St. Andrew's has turned out a number of Royal Military College and intercollegiate champions which compares very favorably with the record of any other school, and this I attribute to their training and development in the boxing classes. Such sportsmen as Montgomery, Ross, Paisley, Ralph, Sterrett and Waterous are all graduates of St. Andrew's College."

voting a considerable amount of time and attention to boxing classes and tournaments.
 The Y. M. C. A.'s Enthusiastic.
 In 1907 Major Fred Smith, Director of Physical Education for the Y. M. C. A. in Canada, then connected with the boys' department of the old Central "Y," after seeing the manner in which boxing, wrestling and fencing tournaments were conducted at St. Andrew's College, decided to introduce wrestling into his department. Over 100 boys competed, and in 1907 and 1908 the St. Andrew's instructor was loaned to establish wrestling at Central, and both boxing and wrestling at West End. This was but a start—now boxing is established on a firm footing in Y. M. C. A.'s from coast to coast.
 Major Smith states that the officers and boys of the various associations are so keen on boxing that an effort is being made to have yearly contests between the various associations.
 There has been boxing in the Canadian universities for years, and for the past ten years there have been annual contests between them. Now the United States universities are all following the lead and making plans for like yearly contests.

OPENING OF NEW CLUB HOUSE FOR MONCTON GOLFERS

(Moncton Transcript.)
 The informal opening of the Riverview Golf Club's new club-house was well attended Saturday afternoon when some one hundred members and their friends were present. The golfer's new home is beautifully situated to command a magnificent view of the city and surrounding country. The distance from the city hall to the club house is about a mile and a quarter, the links being between two and three hundred yards above the Petitcodiac river bridge. The property owned by the club consists of more than a hundred acres fronting on the Petitcodiac River and extending back about a mile, taking in a portion of Mill Creek.
 The links as laid out for present use consist of nine holes and will be about 2600 or 2700 yards in length.
 The large number visiting the new golf house on Saturday afternoon greatly admired the building and expressions of delight were heard on all sides. The house includes a reception room of cobblestones, a ladies' room, kitchen and men's room on the first floor and a spacious room for lockers, etc., on second story. The building is surrounded on three sides by a twelve foot veranda, and the house on the whole is an imposing looking edifice. The architect was Mr. J. W. Frazer upon whom the handsome and substantial structure reflects the greatest credit.
 Mr. Frazer not only superintended the erection of the club house, but with Hon. C. W. Robinson, President of the club, has had charge of the laying out of the course and the vast amount of work that has been done in the past two years. The club house was built under contract by Messrs. Stevens and Dolson.

The proceedings at the housewarming Saturday afternoon and evening were very informal. The ladies of the club, who have contributed greatly to the success of golf in this city, provided an excellent tea for the occasion. Mrs. Robinson, wife of the President, and Mrs. G. W. Maddison, President of the Ladies' Club, presided at the table and among those who assisted in serving were Mrs. E. W. Given, Mrs. James Friel, Miss Moore, the Misses Jones, Miss Weldon, Miss Friel, Miss Price and Mrs. Howe Price.
 After tea the President Hon. Mr. Robinson, gave a short address in which he referred to the golfer's fine new home and spoke of the great success of the Riverview Golf Club since its inception. The large and growing membership of the club was a sufficient guarantee of the future of the club and he was sure that the organization would continue to grow and flourish in keeping with the expansion of the city of Moncton.
 The President paid a fitting tribute to those who had worked so energetically and faithfully for the success of the club and referred especially to the work of the ladies who were the chief promoters of the day's festivities. Mr. Robinson expressed regret that the club was losing one of its directors in the person of Mr. C. B. Brown, who was shortly to remove from the city. In conclusion the President expressed the hope that the housewarming would be but the beginning of many similar pleasant gatherings of the members in their new home.
 Short speeches were also made by Dr. G. J. Oulton, Mr. R. W. Simpson and the energetic secretary of the club, Mr. James Whitlaw.

The President called for Mr. J. W. Frazer to whose energy so much of the success of the club is due, but that gentleman was not present and the impromptu speech-making was concluded. The evening was spent in playing bridge while some of the younger set indulged in dancing music being furnished by gramophones.
 Articles of furniture contributed by members of the club and the evidence of donations to the club was the handsome leather upholstered easy chair from the golfers of the T. Eaton Co.
 The secretary in referring to the donations announced that it had been decided to take up early next spring the matter of more thoroughly furnishing the different rooms.

The Canadian Vimy Memorial Church

To be erected at Lens in memory of the Canadians who fell in the Great War

A Gift from Canada to France

With a desire to perpetuate the memories of the 60,000 fellow-Canadians who died that we might live, it is proposed to erect a Memorial Church in Lens, France, the place made memorable by the victory of Canadian arms.

This Church will replace the Institutional Church totally destroyed and will be under the oversight of the Federated Protestant Churches of France. The proposal, having been endorsed by representative Church Bodies, will therefore express in an entirely non-sectarian degree the spirit of Christian Unity.

YOU ARE ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE TOWARDS ITS ERECTION — your personal interest in persuading others to subscribe is also asked.

The Organizing Committee feels that a lengthy appeal is unnecessary as this very practical suggestion is bound to ensure a willing and generous response.

The Memorial Church will be a place of sacred pilgrimage; for the ground upon which it will stand has been consecrated by the blood of our heroic sons and daughters, and the eternal message which will be preached from such an edifice will have special power.

ARMISTICE SUNDAY COLLECTION. An appeal has already gone out and has met with ready response on the part of Protestant Ministers all over Canada for a special collection on Armistice Sunday, November 14th, for this Vimy Memorial Church Fund.

INDIVIDUAL SUBSCRIPTIONS. Will you not send your individual subscription, whether large or small? Let it be your testimony to the noble spirit of self-sacrifice of those immortal heroes to whose memory the Church will be dedicated.

PROHIBITION GOOD FOR GRAND RAPIDS

Vast Improvement in Two Years — Happier Homes, Stabilized Industrial Life, and Lessened Crime.

(New York Evening Post.)
Two years of prohibition in a typical American city, Grand Rapids, Mich., coupled with steady employment and wages which kept ahead of the cost of living, and the results of these to the community, are reviewed in a special number of the Survey today. The study is of striking public interest in connection with the whole question of prohibition and the advantages from its enforcement.

The choice of a city in which prohibition has been in effect longer than in the country at large gives grounds for forecasting the results which may be expected in other communities as the result of national prohibition becomes felt.

While the Survey's study does not make the assumption that its findings constitute a prophecy of the effects of prohibition throughout the country, since conditions differ and degrees of enforcement vary, and since the effects of regular employment and wages are included in its scope equally with prohibition, the evidence is so impressive that a practically conclusive advance case is presented in justification of national prohibition as a social measure.

Two Conducted Inquiry.
The investigation was inspired by a letter to the editors of the Survey from Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the Supreme Court. It was conducted by Winthrop D. Lane, who studied the results of elimination of the legalized liquor traffic, and by Bruno Lasker, who studied the results of steady work and good wages.

Grand Rapids was chosen as a city in which prohibition had been in effect long enough to give evidence of its effects and which had a representative range of industries, unaffected by prolonged strikes or unemployment, together with typical wage scales and living costs. The work was done with the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce and the Council of Social Agencies and leading citizens.

Reviewing briefly the history of Grand Rapids, the report attributes its character today to three factors: "The personality of its industrial pioneers, its racial composition, and fate." The combination of these influences and their effects upon the evolution of the present community are interestingly analyzed, and an important part of the report is an illustrated section on the city's trees and their value in creating a pleasant environment.

Conditions Summarized.
With this historical setting and after considering the relation of these three factors to the life of the city, the report summarizes briefly the results in the past two years of the three influences of rising wages, steady employment, and freedom from drunkenness and an open liquor traffic. The first and most important result noted is in the homes; an increasing happiness in the homes; an interest in home life, and incentive toward buying and developing better types of homes are recorded.

The results in industry are indicated in decrease of absenteeism and accidents and greater interest in shop concerns, coupled in some cases with more restlessness and a larger labor turnover, which forced employers to study conditions of work and human relationships and problems of retaining experienced employees more closely.

Beyond these two major good effects a whole series of other advantages are indicated. Health conditions show an improvement, with lessening of tuberculosis and infant mortality and growing attention to questions of hygiene. Together with this goes more recreation, due to increased savings and more resources for automobile and boating and outdoor sports of all sorts, while amusement places have full houses all the time.

Thrift follows extravagance. Thrift has accompanied or followed the first period of free spending, also; and with a growth of savings bank accounts and an increase in the number of banks go reduction of "bad debts" and pawnshop transactions and accumulation of funds for substantial home improvements or self-development. Crime begins to disappear; and with the police force smaller and the jail almost empty, the county farm goes untended for lack of prison labor.

More money for private use has brought greater readiness to spend for public purposes and services also, as well as for philanthropy. The whole tone of the community is found to be higher, and public opinion almost unanimously backs up the strict enforcement of prohibition, realizing these benefits and seeing also "the younger generation growing up without a taste for alcohol."

Two longer divisions of the report cover fully in detail the investigation of elimination of the liquor traffic, illicit manufacture and sale of liquor, and the general results on social life, and the investigation of the effects of good wages and steady work, with a forecast for the future drawn from the facts of the present, which points to some of the industrial problems of readjusting relations between employers and employees likely to follow upon the increased mental activity of workers no longer dulled by drinking.

The pages of the report are filled with definite personal instances and testimony showing what good average industrial conditions and prohibition, the latter most strikingly, have done for Grand Rapids, and making a fascinating document full of promise for the future of America if such conditions can be generally established and maintained.

FRENCH COMMENT ON PRES. WILSON

L'Homme Libre, formerly M. Clemenceau's personal organ, says:

"We do not know that the downfall of the retiring president is a benefit for France when we are told by the American press that the Republicans will come into power with a programme of reaction, with a programme of tariff against our exports and above all according to the new president himself, with a theory that the Versailles Treaty is the most colossal blunder of modern times."

From the Landerne comes the first word of gratitude or sympathy for Wilson the man. It says: "The memory of our immense debt due President Wilson should guard us against harsh criticism of him who we received at Brest and Paris as the savior of France. But, alas, all is forgotten—the efforts of the man for the safety of our country, his noble initiatives for the maintenance of peace and his entire role to which some day historians will give homage. At this moment none of this exists in the thought of the reactionary French people. Those who trembled for their safety and welfare in 1917 believe themselves today so sure of the future that they need pay no tribute of gratitude."

La Democratie Nouvelle asks:—"After all, who is this Harding, and does he deserve that we should so completely lose our heads over him? Both Harding and Cox are insignificant without a background. Their qualifications are monstrous nerve and ability to make ten speeches daily.

"What Harding has said and promised is not of the slightest importance to us, because he is only a politician and does not know himself what he will do tomorrow. France must understand that she can count only on herself for her own interests."

Mrs. R. N. Dean of St. James street received a letter yesterday from her brother Elliott W. Sprout, of Chicago, announcing that he had been elected to congress with a majority of fifty thousand. Mr. Sprout is a native of Apohaqui, and has been in the habit of visiting his old home from time to time. He was in Germany when the war broke out, on a tour for his health, and had some very interesting experiences. Mr. Sprout was in St. John for a short time after the great fire, but has lived for many years in Chicago, where he built up a great business as a contractor and builder, became an American citizen, and is now a member of congress. His old friends in New Brunswick extend hearty congratulations.

PROTEST RE SITE OF CARLETON SCHOOL

Trustees of Church Write City Hall—Cold Storage Property Taxation—Douglas Avenue.

The first formal protest against the location of a school on King square, West St. John, was made to the common council this morning when the mayor read a letter from the trustees of the First Presbyterian church, West St. John, expressing regret that the rights of the people should be disregarded in the proposal to utilize the King square for a school building. This bit of ground the letter said was all that the poor people of West St. John could lay claim to and it would be wrong to invade their rights. The writer admitted that the place was a desirable one for a school site but thought that did not justify taking it away from the people.
On motion of Commissioner Bullock, the letter was placed on the table with other communications regarding the matter.

Taxation Matters.
The chairman of the board of assessors wrote regarding taxation of the N. B. Cold Storage Company. He said that under the act steam railway companies except the government railways were expected to file a statement of properties included in their 1919 statement. The C. P. R. included the property occupied by the N. B. Cold Storage Company, the assessment was made but the company refused to pay it. On the advice of the city solicitor a refund was made on the grounds that the property was vested in the king.
Replying to Commissioner Frink, the common clerk said that there was no record of an order in council authorizing the city to pay the taxes. He said that he had seen an order in the chamberlain's office, signed by Mayor Hayes. Dr. Frink was of the opinion that no single member of the council had the right to order refund of taxes. He said the mayor held implied authority to adjust amounts under $50 but not for larger amounts.
The mayor read the section of the assessment act authorizing the council or a committee of the council to order abatement in the event of an appeal from the decision of the board of assessors.
The communication was ordered filed until information can be obtained from Ottawa regarding the status of the property occupied by the buildings of the cold storage company.
Douglas Avenue.

Commissioner Jones, on the matter of the water and sewerage services to vacant lots in Douglas avenue, said that as owners were not prepared to state where they would like the services to enter their lots, he thought the work could be postponed to the spring. He said that already about three-quarters of the street was ready for pavement, the present question affecting only the western portion of the street. He said that he had received an offer of purchase or lease in the last thirty years and that in his opinion the city has no right to put the services in and compel the owners to pay for them. He said that Prince William street and City road had been paved without this law being carried out.
Mr. Jones said that in these two streets there was only one lot in Prince William street without the services and entry could be made from Catherine street. A letter from Inches, Weyman and Hazen was to the effect that no services were required on the property for which they were the agents.
Commissioner Thornton said he did not see that the matter should hold up paving of Douglas avenue.

Commissioner Bullock thought the avenue should be paved, pipes or no pipes. It was finally decided to have the commissioner and city engineer prepare plans and an estimate of the cost of the work.
On motion of Commissioner Bullock, Mr. Jones was also asked to bring in a recommendation on the matter of sewerage extension through the west side mill pond.

PEOPLE CALLED ON TO CO-OPERATE

City Water Commissioner Issues Statement on Matter of Waste and Faulty Plumbing.
Commissioner J. B. Jones said today: "The City of Saint John can boast of a bountiful supply of water for all domestic purposes and if any of its citizens do not share in its benefits it is because of carelessness, indifference or neglect of others.
"So far as it may be possible to provide against a scarcity of water in any of the homes of citizens during the approaching winter, the officials of the water and sewerage department are now at work compelling owners of properties, in which defective plumbing may be discovered, to make repairs and in this manner reduce to a minimum the great waste of water.
It is the duty of every good citizen to co-operate with the water department in this matter in their endeavor to provide water for all consumers, more especially during the winter months. Failure to obey orders of the inspectors will result in the water being turned off in all places where plumbing fixtures are faulty and the service will not be restored until the necessary repairs are made.
The inspectors have completed inspection of the East Side and are now at work on the West Side of the harbor."

WELCOME TO GEN. NEVILLE AT NEW YORK

Hero of Verdun Brings France's Message to America—Representative at the Mayflower Centenary.

(New York Times). General Robert Georges Neville, hero of Verdun and former Commander-in-Chief of the French Army, arrived yesterday from Havre on the French liner Lorraine to represent his country at the National Mayflower Tercentenary celebration being held in American cities this month. He was commissioned by the French government, being a Protestant, to represent the early French settlers, who preceded to the Mayflower era and throughout the seventeenth century came to North American shores.

General Neville also brings greetings from France to several American cities, on the occasion of the second anniversary of the final victory, which is now being France and America.

The famous French military leader met at quarantine yesterday morning by Major General Robert Lee Bullard, commanding the department of the east, and his staff, and more than thirty delegates from the French-Huguenot Society, French War Veterans, American Legion and other organizations who traveled down the bay on the army tug Ordinance. The two generals met in the smoking room on the promenade deck of the Lorraine, which had been reserved for the purpose by Captain M. Brevel, commander of the ship.

After Maj. General Bullard had made a short address welcoming the distinguished visitor in the name of the American people, General Neville replied in excellent English: "I am delighted at the honor bestowed upon me by the French government in sending me here as its representative to the tercentenary celebration of the Mayflower Pilgrimage. It has been my ambition for many years to visit the United States and I am still more delighted to come here now and renew acquaintance with the great American soldiers who in France proved themselves not only heroes, but gentlemen as well.

"The great republic of France," he continued, "will always maintain a close and everlasting friendship with the United States."

BOAT LAUNCHED TODAY AT MOSS GLEN

The schooner "Peter McIntyre" was successfully launched at Moss Glen today. The big event was to have taken place yesterday afternoon but owing to a heavy rain in the morning, the workmen were delayed three hours and it was found that it would be impossible to get her off before dark, and sooner than take any chances, it was decided to wait until today.

The scene which greeted the large crowd of people who went to Moss Glen yesterday afternoon on the Steamer Majestic and in automobiles and carriages, was a picturesque one. The new vessel with streamers of flags running from the bow to the stern, attached to improvised masts, rested on a slope near Moss Glen wharf. Workmen were making preparations for the launching, while her decks were teeming with people young and old all eager to see the product of a New Brunswick shipyard and anxious to avail themselves of an opportunity to be on board as she glided down the ways into the placid waters of the Kennebecus river. Great was the disappointment of all when it was learned that the launching would be postponed, but they appreciated the fact that their feelings could not compare with those of the owners, Captain Peter McIntyre and his son Alan, who had awaited many months for the day when their vessel would slide into the water and add another name to the merchant marine of Canada.

Today that hope was realized and the cheering of the workmen and many people who assembled from the nearby village, the vessel slid gracefully down the ways and into the river where she was taken in tow by the tug Lord Beatty and headed for Indiantown, where before many weeks should be ready for her maiden voyage.

IN WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 11.—(10:30)—Oils furnished the motive power at the opening of today's stock market. The Mexican and Dutch groups averaged gains of a point each, Houston Oil rose 2 1/2 and Standard Oil of New Jersey rose eight points. Shipings also were strong and further improvement was shown by a majority of the rails, especially Coal and Grangers. Steels, equipments and motors were backward, Bethlehem and Crucible losing one point each and United States Steel a fraction. Preliminary quotations for foreign exchange indicated a renewal of recent pressure, the London rate falling back two cents to the par level.

NOON REPORT.

Leaders of the oil, shippings, steel and equipments divisions increased their gains for the first hour, but the entire list gave way before noon when Atlantic Gulf and Southern Pacific broke sharply. The decline in Atlantic Gulf extended to almost five points and Southern Pacific's reaction of two and a half points was accompanied by rumors of a hitch in the proposed segregation plan. Motor shares also weakened on heavy selling of Willys-Overland common and preferred, the latter losing four points. But pools were active in tobaccos and textiles, but food shares reflected yesterday's cut in the American Sugar dividend. British and French exchange were lower and gold money opened 9 per cent.

GENERAL DECLINE IN LEATHER PRICES. Buyers Believe Drop Will Go Further—Belgian Dealers Accuse Germany of Using Country to Market Goods. Reports of the foreign hide and leather industries indicate a general falling off in demand and prices, thus estimated that the slow market in the United States is being duplicated throughout the world. In Venezuela where hides are one of the three most important products in determining the economic conditions of the country, the situation is especially acute. In Montevideo conditions have been growing steadily worse, with the prices now below war figures. In the country, the situation is especially acute. In Montevideo conditions have been growing steadily worse, with the prices now below war figures.

WORKMEN SEIZE BERLIN FACTORY. London, Nov. 11—Three thousand unemployed men, some of whom were armed, stormed the Lion Metal Works in Berlin yesterday, drove out the proprietors and engineers and extinguished the three most important products in determining the economic conditions of the country, the situation is especially acute. In Montevideo conditions have been growing steadily worse, with the prices now below war figures.

CHINA INCREASES OUTPUT. The Canton district of China is increasing the output of its tanneries also, although the gain is slow. The latest available figures show that the increase of leather importations from 1913 to 1919 was about 80,000 pounds. The machines and chemicals of the largest tannery in the Canton district are American. The sudden slump in the demand is considered only a temporary condition as the general tendency since the close of the war has been that of a normally increasing activity. The falling off in buyers is attributed in some quarters not to an over-supply, but rather to the growing disinclination to place orders where there is still the prospect of further dropping in prices. In Holland, for instance, whereas the total value of hides, skins, leather, and leather products handled during the first half of last year amounted to only $16,000,000, the value of these products for the corresponding period of 1920 was over $37,000,000. Latvia, too, has been an active importer of leather goods and leather, with these commodities being over 7 per cent of her total imports for the first half of the present year.

RADICALS ACTIVE IN MEXICAN SCHOOLS

Women Teachers Aggressive in Labor Alliance, Says Haberman.

How radicalism has swept through the Mexican schools, imbuing its teachers and students with notions which many unionized teachers consider decidedly extreme, is told by Robert Haberman, professor of sociology and economics in the University of Mexico, now in New York. "The Teachers Union of Mexico City is fearless in its co-operation with the labor forces," he said. "Not long ago women teachers lay across railway tracks to prevent cars from running during a strike and could only be driven away by turning a hose upon them. Mexico does not pretend to be a democracy, yet she elected the present Director of Education after an eight-day campaign during which the schools were closed. The president of the board of education is thoroughly radical and wants only teachers imbued with modern ideas. "He encourages students to elect their college presidents, deans and other higher officers and to vote for their removal if unsatisfactory. Students now go on strike for various reasons. Recently a director had to be removed before they would return to classes. "The fact that Mexico is now reducing her army is of interest to teachers, as all the money saved from the war department is automatically transferred to the department of education. Mexico is installing kitchens in her schools on the theory that children cannot learn on empty stomachs. She has many printing plants and is eager to get books containing radical ideas. Every school is to have a council, and ultra-modern teachers are in great demand. The educational plan of the university includes extension schools to train the older teachers in the newer theories. "The condition of Mexican women is tragic. They are generally looked upon as essential to supplying creature comforts strictly within the home, and not in need of education nor diversion. Some of the modern women have, therefore, taken the matter in hand and are working hard to liberalize their sex to some degree. Knowing that they could not induce them to leave their homes to hear public lectures, since they have never been trained to stop working for such a purpose, the leaders have installed about 250 sewing machines in ten community centres to attract women there. Then, amid the whirl of the machine, they talk of the opportunities enjoyed by American women, and try to

TROY'S MERRY-GO-ROUND

The merry-go-round, the merry-go-round at Troy!

They whirl around, they gallop around—man, woman, and girl and boy! So sang Roden Noel, a genuine poet, and the theme was worthy of his muse. For annually, you must know, in the first or second week of August, the regatta frenzy descends upon us; and for three days we dress town and waterside in bunting and bang starting guns and finishing guns, and put on fancy dresses and dance and walk in procession and stare at fireworks. But the centre and axis of our revelry is always the merry-go-round (locally "the Whirlies") on the regatta quay. There yachtsmen, visitors, farmers, and country wives, sober citizens, and mothers of families gather triquetally and are caught together in a whirl under the naphtha lights around the crystal, revolving pillar. But let the poet take up the tale—

They circle on wooden horses—white, black and brown, and bay—
To a loud, monotonous tune that hath a trumpet bray.

All is dark where the circus stands on the narrow quay
Save for its own yellow lamps that illumine it brilliantly, the parish council being far too wise to waste any public gas on regatta lights. They spare the rates and leave public illumination to the private enterprise of sweet-stalls (or "standings"), confetti stalls, stalls at which you shoot at eggs or bob celluloid balls at narrow-necked bowls of gold-fish, or hurl wooden axes at bottles, to be rewarded for your success.

Above all, our Public Lights Committee trusts to the merry-go-round, as it
Pours a broad, strong glow

PAID $10 TO A POLITE STRANGER

Said He Was Collecting in Moncton for Wholesale House.

(Moncton Transcript.)

A merchant who conducts a grocery business in Union Street, reports to the police, having lost $10, which it is said was paid to a stranger who said he was the representative of a wholesale firm.

The merchant's wife, who assists in conducting the business, observed the stranger entering the store. He very politely asked for the "boss." On being informed that he was then out on a minor business affair, and would be back shortly, the stranger replied that it was alright, he was taking orders on groceries while waiting and passed as a new man for a prominent wholesale house in the city.

Upon being questioned as to the whereabouts of his predecessor the stranger asserted that he had been transferred and promoted. The would-be traveler then quoted all lines of groceries needed, with decline in prices, etc., with as much ease as any experienced traveler would do.

After consideration and listening to this the lady stated all lines mentioned were on stock and did not therefore require any.

He then said he would do some collecting for the firm—thus saving him a trip. The lady in good faith drew the bill and paid him the sum.

The would-be traveler upon being asked for a printed receipt of the firm's answer that he must have left them in the office. He then receipted the amount on the invoice signed a name, probably not his own and politely departed.

Suspicion arose in the lady's mind upon his restlessness in departing, and at once she notified the firm of the affair only to learn that they knew nothing of the man to whom she had paid the money.

Police investigation followed only to learn that he had boarded a train. Chief Hutchinson and his staff are at present working on the case.

A north street lady reported having paid $5 to a man, who claimed to present a publishing firm, and she fears that it was the same man who had paid the lady in the grocery store paid the $10.

Do You Count the Cost of Your Tea?

Good tea is really very cheap per cup, less than 1/2c. for the very finest.

The duty on tea coming into Canada from British possessions is 7c. per pound, and 10c. per pound from other countries.

You pay just as much duty on a pound of poor tea as on a pound of the very best — such as Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea.

You can therefore get much better value in a superior high quality tea than in poorer, cheap teas, because you pay the same duty on the poor as on the best.

This extra value is appreciated by most people, as the increasing sales of this fine quality, mountain grown Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea clearly prove.

Ask for it by the full name.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 10.—Premier Foster announced at the close of this afternoon's session of the provincial government that Rev. W. D. Wilson had resigned his position of Chief Inspector under the intoxicating liquor act, 1916, the resignation to take effect November 30.

Rev. Mr. Wilson after that date will devote his whole attention to the duties of field secretary of the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance.

EXECUTIVE OF

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Toro, N. S., Nov. 10.—Two sessions of the executive of the United Mine Workers were held here today. The meetings were private and little information was given the press as to what transpired. Secretary J. B. MacLachlan said that no motions of any sort were passed. The day, he declared, had been spent wholly in discussing the proposition that had arisen out of the Montreal conference. President Robert Baxter stated tonight that there would be a joint meeting tomorrow of the executive and the wage scale committee. He thought their work would be completed by tomorrow night. Some of the members of the wage scale committee arrived in town this evening. President Baxter also said that the joint meeting tomorrow would not accept or reject the proposition on behalf of the miners of the district, but would only make a recommendation one way or the other. The matter would then be referred to the miners of the district for final judgment. This would be done, he said, in one of two ways, either by taking a referendum in all the locals or by calling a convention.

A MEATLESS HOT PIE

Another Use Discovered For Those Oxo Cubes.
Here is a recipe calling for no meat other than the concentrated beef-oodness to be found in the familiar Oxo cube.
Peel and slice sufficient potatoes to half fill a large pie dish, add few small onions, also sliced. Put into cold water, bring quickly to a boil, boil one minute, then drain.
Put back in pie dish with few slices of tomato, season with pepper and salt and flavour with herbs. Dissolve one Oxo cube in 1 pint of hot milk and pour over mixture. Put few bits of butter on top and bake for two hours in moderate oven. It's delicious.
All dealers sell Oxo in tins of four, ten, and fifty cubes.

MINERS MAY NOT ACCEPT TERMS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Sydney, N. S., Nov. 10.—A general bolt of the miners of U. M. W. District No. 26, against the terms tentatively agreed upon by the recent Montreal joint conference of miners and operators, is feared in the Cape Breton coal fields as a result of the developments of the last twenty-four hours.
There was a general feeling of relief on Tuesday when the public learned of district secretary, J. B. MacLachlan's telegram in which he declared that "we have wrung the last cent from the operators" that was to be had without entering into a strike. But the further statement this afternoon in which the secretary admits that the tentative terms will probably be disappointing to those members of the executive who were not at Montreal, has partially dispelled optimism here.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN NEW YORK STATE

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
New York, Nov. 10.—Nearly 150,000 members of the United Hebrew Trades in New York state have been thrown out of work in the last three weeks "of steady business recession." Morris Feinstein, executive secretary of the organization, announced here today. Of these 90,000 are tailors, milliners and dress goods makers, mostly in Greater New York. "Every trade is affected by the slump in business," Mr. Feinstein said, adding that "none of our people are going to accept lower wages until the cost of living has gone down, so they can do so without lowering their standard of living."

James Fleming, who was arrested at Woodbridge, recently, on a charge of stealing $18,000 from the Royal Bank and then released, has brought action against the bank for $30,000 damages, alleging malicious prosecution, trespass and false imprisonment on the part of the bank.
