MODERN MARTYRS!

The age of martyrs is not passed. There are thousands of women all over the country enduring physical tortures and mental anguish almost beyond description.

These ladies, as a rule, are women and girls of refined and sensitive temperaments. Knowing that their sufferings are due to a disordered condition of the female functions, their native modesty deters them from seeking relief in the earlier stages, and when they do consult a physician, they usually get some drug mixture to take internally, which is not more effective for troubles of this kind than it would be for a toothache, a bruise, or any other trifling ailment.

This is the secret of the success which always follows the use of ORANGE LILY in the treatment of this kind. It is absorbed directly into the parts that are inflamed and congested, and its beneficent, soothing influence is noticeable from the discharge of the watery matter which served to cool the nerves and cause mental depression; the sunbeams and joy of life again become part of her being. Read the following letters:

Dear Mrs. Currah, Windsor, Ont., Feb. 1, '09. Dear Mrs. Currah, I received your kind letter some time ago, but was feeling so well, and was not needing medicine that I neglected replying sooner. I must say I have more confidence in ORANGE LILY than in any other thing I have ever used.

FREE TRIAL TREATMENT which will demonstrate that ORANGE LILY will cure you. Enclose stamps, and address MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, WINDSOR, ONT., CAN. REP., COONLEY MED. INST., DELAWARE, U.S.A.

FREE! THESE SIX MAGNIFICENT PRESENTS (10 COPIES) FREE! Includes illustrations of a car, a house, and other prizes.

Little Beauty Chats By BLANCHE BEACON

Mildred Must Breathe Deeply if She Desires Pink Cheeks In the ribs with the hands as the air escapes.

The little maiden with pale cheeks would but fall into the habit of drawing deeply of air into her lungs. I am well nigh positive that in time the roses would visit her cheeks. Of course such a result could not be obtained in a week or a month, but continuous deep breathing would eventually do the trick with healthy color.

Five minutes of this exercise will send you to bed pleasantly and healthily fatigued. Follow this programme each day, and soon the skin will be as smooth as glass. You will find yourself possessed of rose-red cheeks.

SAYS BRITISH SHIPBUILDERS DO NOT WANT YEAR'S HOLIDAY. Glasgow, April 12.—The Glasgow Herald contradicts the statement that a year's suspension of naval shipbuilding would be welcomed by the British Admiralty contractors, as giving them opportunity to complete existing orders. The "Herald" declares that by such a suspension naval shipbuilders would lose money. Laird's at Birkenhead, Palmer's at Jarrow, and Scott's at Greenock, have no armored ships on the stocks, and before long there will be Dreadnought berths available at Beardmore's and Vickers', and two dock yards, besides Fairfield's, at Glasgow, would be in a position to lay down battle ships.

THE WIRELESS WORLD

The Wireless World should be a welcome addition to periodical literature, for it deals authoritatively and intimately with one of the most fascinating and far-reaching of modern inventions. With the magazine is incorporated the Marconigraph, a journal which had long since won its way into popular favor.

The first number of the magazine contains many articles of great interest. There is a fine description of the Aden-Berbera wireless stations, entitled "The Gateway of the East," "Signalling throughout the World," a review of the means employed in communication from the earliest times to the present day; a brilliant tale entitled "The Pressure of the Air," and an appreciation of Mr. Marconi, who celebrates his birthday on the 25th of this month. Besides this the Wireless World contains a section devoted to amateur wireless work. One of the articles in this section is entitled "Wireless Telegraphy in the Field" and contains an important announcement of a scheme for free instruction to members of the Territorial Force, the Boy Scouts Association, the Church Lads' Brigade and kindred organizations, with a view of enabling them to take part in the maintenance of communications in times of national emergency. The scheme has been submitted to the organizations mentioned and has brought several letters of approval, including the following letters from Lieutenant-General Sir Robert S. Baden-Powell, K.C.B., K.C.V.O., and Major-General Edward C. Bethune, C.V. O.C.B., Director General, Territorial Force.

Sir Robert Baden-Powell writes: "Wireless has become a favorite hobby with boys of the right sort, and it is a valuable hobby to them, because it has a big future before it."

"The Marconi Company have seen their opportunity, and have come forward with characteristic energy to help and encourage the boys in taking it up."

"I hope that the Boy Scouts, at any rate, will make full use of the opportunity thus given them, and will by their good work and progress in efficiency repay such kindly interest."

(Signed) "ROBERT BADEN-POWELL, Major-General, Territorial Force."

Major-General Bethune, writing to Captain H. Riell Stanley, a director of the Marconi Company, states in the course of his letter: "I have considered the scheme of instruction proposed by Marconi's Wireless Telegraph Company, Limited, and, so far as the tuition of lads and Territorials is concerned, it meets with my approval."

(Signed) "EDWARD C. BETHUNE, Major-General, Territorial Force."

Million Asked as Initial Sum—Early Closing Movement Is Begun

Calgary, April 12.—Approximately one million dollars will be requested by the city planning commission as the initial sum needed to make Calgary "The City Beautiful." T. H. WAITRESS NOW COUNTS

Young French-Canadian Girl Who Worked in Hotel Dining-Room Married to Danish Count

Prince Albert, Sask., April 12.—To rise from the rank of dining-room girl to that of countess at the court of one of the sovereigns of continental Europe is not an ordinary feat, but nevertheless has been accomplished by a young French-Canadian girl, Lena Roy, of this place, formerly of Fall River, Mass.

She was employed as a waitress at the Hotel Williams, in Fall River, and it was in the dining-room of this hotel that she first saw Hon. Hugo Von Holstein Rathbon, eldest son and heir of Lord Frederick Emil Von Holstein Rathbon, one of the nobles of the court of Denmark.

The young man fell in love at first sight, and declared his love to the maiden of 17, who promptly rejected him. Soon after she came with her parents to Prince Albert.

He travelled back to Denmark, made known to his father the desire of his heart, and asked him to use his influence to have the young girl enabled by a court decree, for he wished to marry her. The king issued the decree. The parents of the young man consented to the union, and Count Hugo came to Prince Albert, proposed, was accepted, and married by the Bishop of Prince Albert.

They left on a short honeymoon trip through the United States. They will call at Fall River, where the bride will visit her sister, and then they will sail for Copenhagen.

ORIGIN OF BLACK WATCH

In 1729 the government entertained the idea of making use of the Highlanders as a means of protecting the country which was then in an unsettled state, and to this end six companies were formed; three companies consisted of 100 men each, and the other three of seventy-five men each. The first three companies were commanded by Lord Lovat, Sir Duncan Campbell of Lochiel, and Colonel Grant of Ballehall. The three smaller companies by Colonel Alexander Campbell of Finlay, John Campbell of Carrisburgh, and George Mackenzie, as captain lieutenant; to distinguish them from Royal troops they were termed the "Black Watch."

The men were all of respectable families, many of them being sons of gentlemen. Their duties consisted in carrying out the Disarming Act and preventing depredations; for this purpose they were quartered in small detachments in various parts of the country, chiefly in the more troubled districts of the Highlands where the Jacobite clans of Cameron, Stuart, MacDonald and Murray rendered their presence necessary to prevent a sudden rising. The various companies acted independently of each other. In 1739 the government determined to add to their number, which was raised to 1000 men, who mustered for the first time near Taybridge, between Aberfeldy and Weem, Perthshire.

Up to this period each company was dressed in tartan selected by its commander, but as the companies were now to form one regiment it was necessary to have a uniform dress. The first colonel, Lord Crawford, being a Lowlander, and having no tartan of his own, a tartan different from any other was manufactured for the whole regiment. This ultimately became the well known 421 or Black Watch; the tartan is composed of various shades of black, green and blue.

From the color of the uniform of the regular troops they were called "red soldiers" ("Saidhearan Dearg"); the Highlanders from their sombre dress the Black Watch ("Saidhearan Dubh")—Celtic Monthly.

Toronto, April 12.—The long expected amendments to the Ontario Liquor License Law were introduced in the legislature by the Hon. W. J. Lamm, provincial secretary, as follows:

The bottle trade to be eliminated from hotels.

Hours of sale to be shortened by prohibiting the opening of bars before 6 o'clock.

Shop license fees to be raised to the same level as tavern licenses.

Restrictions to prevent the storing of liquor in stables.

NO USE. Did you ever hear the story of the pious man who was losing his hearing? For weeks he had prayed that the Lord would spare him from this affliction. But his hearing did not improve, so he decided to go to a doctor and see if he could see anything wrong about his ears. The doctor understood the trouble and used a small instrument for a few minutes, and the man recovered his hearing immediately, and the doctor told him there was no use expecting the Lord to clean his ears for him—he expected us to do some things for ourselves.

LARGE INFLUX OF SETTLERS TODAY FOR NEW BRUNSWICK

A party of about 200 settlers for New Brunswick arrived today on the steamer Empress of Britain. They were accompanied by England by A. Bowler, New Brunswick's immigration agent in London. James Gibbert, superintendent of immigration in New Brunswick, and J. B. Daggett of the provincial department of agriculture, met the steamer at Halifax and accompanied the party to St. John to complete the arrangements for their disposal before reaching port.

The majority of the party will be located in Carleton, Sunbury, York Northumberland and Westmorland counties. They are a fine looking lot of people.

The Sicilian, which arrived yesterday brought another party of twenty-five for New Brunswick and a third party of 100 will come on the Lake Manitobas, which is due in about ten days.

A FLAG MATTER

Moncton, N. B., April 12.—The Metopedia flag incident, which attracted attention last year has been revived by the report that the minister of militia had apologized to the United States for the action of the Moncton Field Battery, while returning from camp at Petawawa. Hon. Col. Sam Hughes, insisted, however, that no fault was intended by the Moncton men.

It is said in behalf of the Moncton Field Battery that the incident was grossly exaggerated, and that their action has been misrepresented. The incident occurred on the grounds of a salmon club near Campbellton, the club comprising a number of U. S. millionaires. It is said that the visitors had been placing the U. S. flag above the British. It is true that both flags have flown from poles of equal height, but the pole for the British flag is located in a hollow, while the U. S. flag has been placed upon high ground.

It is urged by friends of the Moncton boys that the Ottawa authorities should insist that the British flag be accorded the respect that is due.

Authorized Agents—The following agents are authorized to canvass and collect for The Evening Times: H. S. Gossage, 21 Cecil Street, St. John, N. B.

TIME FOR ACTION The citizens of St. John ought to be awakened to the seriousness of the situation with regard to terminal facilities at West St. John. If this port does not desire to lose next winter some of the business that ought to come here, provision must be made for a more prompt despatch than has on a number of occasions been possible during this winter. It is not good accommodation when the passengers and baggage from one steamship have to be transferred across the decks of another steamship lying inside before they reach the wharf. It is not good business to have a steamship lying in port waiting for a berth. It is not good business to be compelled to move one steamer in order that another may find a berth.

These things have happened during the season now drawing to a close. They ought not to happen next winter. Those who have to do with the business at West St. John know that there has been much complaint and that a continuance of the inconvenience will result in a loss of business to this port.

It is not enough, therefore, to say that Mr. Hazen has this matter in hand. The attention of the government and of parliament should be so forcibly directed to the conditions that the claims of this national port would receive immediate attention. A wharf cannot be built in St. John higher in a day or a month. It is heavy work, requiring a good deal of time. Unless immediate provision is made for beginning the work which is declared to be necessary before additional steamship berths will be available, next winter will find us unable to handle the traffic offering at West St. John.

The Maritime Merchant expresses surprise that any citizens of St. John should object to the paving programme laid down by the city council, and thus lose the improvement of their property values and other advantages which result from well paved streets. The Merchant points out that Halifax has several miles of permanent paving, and the city council will borrow $100,000 for future extensions, while no one would think of going back to the old conditions. "We are settling down," says the Merchant, "to permanent progress; let us do permanent work." This is excellent advice.

In an address to the St. John Teachers' Association last evening Chief Superintendent Carter made a good suggestion when he said that the exhibition halls of the school buildings should be used for occasional meetings of parents and teachers. This is a part of the wider use of school buildings in Amherst and other enlightened communities, where the people realize that they own the school buildings, and have a right to use them more than one-third of the time. The chief superintendent also intimated that more attention would soon be given to technical education in this province and to agricultural subjects in rural schools.

The St. John Standard has discovered that Mr. Carvell and Dr. Dugley several years ago declared in parliament that it might be necessary to curtail discussion, if the opposition persisted in continuing to withhold supply. That case is not at all parallel with the present situation in the house. The Liberal opposition have made no attempt to withhold supply. They have cheerfully granted it whenever asked by the government. They are only opposing the naval bill, on the ground that it ought to be submitted to the people, and that it involves a great constitutional change. Moreover an appeal to the people would overwhelmingly sustain the Liberal position.

The Times' special cable from London today says that England never had fewer unemployed, and never has the standard of wages been higher. It is also pointed out that social reform legislation is making steady progress, and that England sees sunshine ahead. In other words England does not need any Canadian money, and there is no emergency; hence, Canada is free to go on and spend her money wisely in the development of a Canadian naval policy. It is further noted that the English newspapers with one exception have adopted Sir Wilfrid Laurier's viewpoint with regard to naval development, and there is a strong tendency to blame Mr. Winston Churchill for his part in aiding to produce a bogus emergency for partisan purposes in Canada.

How American Women May Keep Faces Young "The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F. C. I., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow old before you know it." The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles.

The American complexion is best treated by applying pure mercurized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless cuticle to be off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every druggist has this wax; one ounce is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.

For wrinkles, dissolve an ounce of powdered exfoliate in a half pint witch hazel; bathe the face in this. Immediately every wrinkle is affected, even the deeper lines. Both treatments are remarkable facial rejuvenators.

SUPERINTENDENT AT JOHN TEACHERS' MEETING

Dr. Carter Advocates Meetings of Parents and Teachers—Salaries and Other Matters

The St. John Teachers' Association held the last meeting of the winter season last evening. W. J. S. Miles presided and referred to the fact that the teachers had been criticised for asking for increases in their salaries. He said that they had never received anything they had not asked for, and they would now be able to point to the salaries paid in the model school at Fredericton for comparison with those paid in St. John.

Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, also spoke on the subject of teachers' salaries. He pointed to the large salaries paid in the West and expressed the hope that they would continue to increase here. It had been intimated that the teachers spent only five hours in the schools, but this was a mistake for he knew that practically every teacher in the province spent almost double that time at the work. He thought that teachers' associations had done much good, and he believed that the teachers would both their increase in salaries and the pension regulations to these organizations. He wished to see more attention given to agricultural, commercial and industrial subjects in the schools, and in this connection he spoke of the advances being made in Germany.

He wished also to see the exhibition halls of the school used for meetings of parents and teachers. This could be done at least four times a year. He was in favour of free text books for the province. Dr. Carter explained that there was a movement already started to have a convention of maritime teachers in Amherst in 1914, so that the teachers of the three provinces could meet and discuss school matters. It would tend to greater uniformity in text books. During the evening Miss Annie Gossell, of St. Peter's school, read an interesting paper descriptive of recent travels in Ireland.

THE REASON WHY

You don't take sauce? Perhaps not, but if you look for the reason why, you will find it in the fact that the word "sauce" suggests to your mind a thin, watery, hot, tasting fluid, which, if taken at dinner runs all over the plate, saturates the vegetables, and eventually leaves a disagreeable burning sensation in the mouth. No wonder that under these circumstances you do not take sauce—but, change the circumstances, and the taste will probably change with it.

A new sauce has been introduced by the Midland Vinegar Company of England, which is known as H. P. Sauce, and is quite different to the old-fashioned sauces referred to.

H. P. Sauce has proved an immediate success, and is now used regularly by those who previously never took sauce. It is prepared by blending together the choicest Oriental fruits and spices with pure malt vinegar. The manufacturer's secret process produces a thick, fruity sauce, which, if poured on the side of the plate, can be eaten with the meat like mustard.

H. P. Sauce is also used very extensively

The "Messiah" Monday Evening, With Hollishead, Kennedy, Hemenway and Gustafsen For Soloists—Popular Prices

Tuesday evening, Hollishead and Mrs. Kennedy will be the only soloists, although they will be supported by the chorus, which will sing three selections. All the soloists will be in the city Sunday noon, and prior to Monday evening, two full rehearsals will be had. Those who have not secured their tickets, should do so early Monday morning.

Miss Hemenway, Boston Contralto, who sang Monday evening, cannot fail to appeal to practically everyone—even the least musical.

It is said that Hollishead really excels in his rendering of the magnificent tenor roles in the "Messiah." Those who heard him locally a few weeks ago, can very well imagine the manner in which he will sing "Comfort Ye," "Every Valley," and the other delightful tenor arias with which the "Messiah" abounds. The prices for Monday and Tuesday evenings are certainly surprisingly low, and with the great expense involved it will be impossible to pay expenses, even with the capacity audiences which are assured. Reserved seats are seventy-five cents and one dollar, and gallery tickets will be available for fifty cents. The four soloists will be heard in the "Messiah" only.

DRINK CURE A MIRACLE?

No, Just Sound Science

Many drunkards are sent to jail when what they need is medicine. Drink has undermined their constitution, inflamed their stomach and nerves, until the craving must be satisfied. If it is not removed by scientific prescription like Samaria.

Samaria Prescription stops the craving, restores the shaking nerves, builds up the health and appetite, and renders drink distasteful, even nauseous. It is odorless and tasteless, and dissolves instantly in tea, coffee or food. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge.

Read what it did for Mrs. G., of Vancouver:

"I was so anxious to get my husband cured that I went up to Harrison Drug Store, and got your remedy there. I had no trouble giving it without his knowledge. I greatly thank you for all the peace and happiness that it brought already into my home. The cost was nothing according to what he would spend in drinking. The cure of drink was putting me into my grave, but now I feel so happy, and everything seems so different and bright. May the Lord be with you and help you in curing the evil. I don't want my name published."

Now, if you know of any unfortunate needing Samaria Treatment, tell him or his family or friends about it. If you have any friend or relative who is forming the drink habit, help him to release himself from its clutches. Write today.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription, with booklet giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. Correspondence strictly confidential. Write today. The Samaria Remedy Co., Dept. 50, 40 Colborne street, Toronto, Canada.

STEAMER HAD IT ROUGH

The German tramp steamer Clara Menzig, which arrived in port yesterday, had a thrilling trip across the North Atlantic from Faya. The steamer left Faya on March 23, to load deals here on or before April 10 for W. Malcolm Mackay. After three days out the steamer lost a lot of time through heavy weather and battled against a fierce storm until the 24th. On the 28th she had to heave to for three hours to make repairs to her engines. When the weather cleared on the ninth, the crew started to get up speed to reach port in time and the vessel arrived here only six hours late. The steamer however, was completely played out when the vessel arrived.

One of the first class passengers on the steamer Saturnia went insane early yesterday morning and attacked one of the watchmen. He was removed to the Provincial Hospital. He came here from Vancouver and was on his way to the old country.

PROTECT BRITISH WARSHIP AGAINST ATTACK FROM AIR

London, April 12—Light armor plates are being fitted to the crowns of the magazines in the battleship Temeraire as a protection against projectiles fired from long distance ranges or dropped from aircraft. Other Dreadnoughts are to be similarly protected.

A. L. Gray of North Northport, Me., has recently cut a primeval pine which scaled more than 2100 feet. The first cut of the log, thirteen feet long, scaled 531 feet. In falling the tree was broken, which lessened the amount of lumber available.

ASSEMBLY ENJOYED

There was about 200 people present last night at an assembly given in Keith's assembly rooms by the Public Landing Association. The rooms were prettily decorated and Kelly's orchestra provided good music for the nineteen dances. Dainty refreshments were served. The proceeds will be applied to fund for the building of a pavilion at Public Landing this summer.

The chaperones were Mrs. J. A. Murdoch, Mrs. H. W. Belling, Mrs. D. Corkery and Mrs. Springer; the committee in charge included J. A. Murdoch, E. J. Lawton, J. D. Brownson, H. W. Belling, Ewart Morrow and Fergus G. Poole, and J. Theo. Shaw acted as floor director.

The late Dr. Duncan Macdonald Forbes, Eastwood, Notts, has left $4,000 and a life annuity of £100 to his valet, and large bequests to other servants.

LOOK YEARS YOUNGER! GRAY HAIR DARKENED BEAUTIFULLY WITH SAGE

Says Sage and Sulphur Will Stop Falling Hair and Cure Dandruff

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggy and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Tonic."

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does so naturally; so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, after another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and it surely helps folks appear years younger.

Big Things at Sydney Mines.

Montreal, April 12—The Gazette says—Price movements in the local stock market have been exceptionally narrow this week. Not changes each day were largely fractional, with gains outnumbering losses on four out of five days. Yesterday the balance was rather the other way. C. P. R., which was the strongest feature of the market, closed virtually unchanged. (Changes through the rest of the list, apart from small gains by Brazilian and Detroit were in the direction of losses, the most important of which were one point decline in Iron and Richardson.

It is understood that the N. S. Steel Co. are to spend more than $1,000,000 in Sydney Mines this summer. A coal mine is to be opened near Pond street in the heart of the town, to be electrically operated. It will be one of the most extensive coal mines in Nova Scotia, and the biggest producer in the company's chain of mines. One thousand five hundred men will be required to man it. An $100,000 coal washing plant will also be erected. It is also intended to erect a new fifty ton open hearth steel furnace and a battery of gas modern steel plants in Canada and a fused compression plant, the only one in North America.

The Canada Gazette contains notice of the incorporation of "The Richelieu and Ontario Nav. Co., Ltd., with capital of $15,000,000, and chief place of business in Montreal, and to take over as a going concern the stock, property, and franchise of the Rich. and Ont. Nav. Co., also assets and liabilities of that company. To pay for this there will be an exchange of shares of the new company for the shares of the old Rich. company.

Wall Street Notes.

New York, April 12—Americans in London generally 1 1/8 to 3/8 higher. Government will bring a criminal suit against the United Fruit Co. Causus of house demerits transfer shoe machinery to the free list on suggestion of President Wilson. Senate committee on banking and currency will hold public hearing soon to get views of banking men on a safe bank bill.

D. & H. earned 12.95 on common stock against 12.22 previous year.

Consolidated earnings for the first quarter of 1913 are 18.99 against 18.92.

New York Exchange will not open until noon on Monday.

Supreme court meets Monday.

Big Things at Sydney Mines.

Montreal, April 12—The Gazette says—Price movements in the local stock market have been exceptionally narrow this week. Not changes each day were largely fractional, with gains outnumbering losses on four out of five days. Yesterday the balance was rather the other way. C. P. R., which was the strongest feature of the market, closed virtually unchanged. (Changes through the rest of the list, apart from small gains by Brazilian and Detroit were in the direction of losses, the most important of which were one point decline in Iron and Richardson.

It is understood that the N. S. Steel Co. are to spend more than $1,000,000 in Sydney Mines this summer. A coal mine is to be opened near Pond street in the heart of the town, to be electrically operated. It will be one of the most extensive coal mines in Nova Scotia, and the biggest producer in the company's chain of mines. One thousand five hundred men will be required to man it. An $100,000 coal washing plant will also be erected. It is also intended to erect a new fifty ton open hearth steel furnace and a battery of gas modern steel plants in Canada and a fused compression plant, the only one in North America.

The Canada Gazette contains notice of the incorporation of "The Richelieu and Ontario Nav. Co., Ltd., with capital of $15,000,000, and chief place of business in Montreal, and to take over as a going concern the stock, property, and franchise of the Rich. and Ont. Nav. Co., also assets and liabilities of that company. To pay for this there will be an exchange of shares of the new company for the shares of the old Rich. company.

LOCAL NEWS

POLICE COURT
Two men charged with drunkenness were remanded and two constables were fined $2 for going beyond the stand allotted to constables at the Union Depot.

ILL IN HOSPITAL
Friends of Miss Gertrude McCarthy will be pleased to learn that she is somewhat improved today after an operation performed yesterday in the General Public Hospital.

COURTENAY BAY
On account of the weather conditions the Norton Griffiths Dredging Company was unable to start operations at the mouth of Courtenay Bay today, but it is expected that a start will be made at the first of the week.

NOT YET FINISHED
The fourth case against Philip O'Neil, charged with selling liquor to an Indian, came up in the police court this morning. It was agreed that the evidence taken in the previous cases would be accepted in this one. The case was further adjourned.

HEALTH MATTERS
Attention has been drawn to the fact that in at least two places in Durham street two old style conveniences exist and are said to be a source of danger to health of the district. The condition of part of North street is also complained of by persons living in the neighborhood. Complaints of these matters have been made to the Times.

VANDALS AT WORK
Complaint is made in the Times that much damage has been done to the wire guards of the trees planted along Waterloo street. It is of little use for the Arboriculture Society plant trees unless their efforts are supported and the trees protected by the citizens. If a severe sentence were inflicted upon one or two persons doing wanton damage to public property it would have a wholesome effect.

MANY DEATHS THIS WEEK
At the board of health offices this week the record of deaths was very lengthy, numbering twenty-four, the highest for some time. The causes were as follows:—phthisis and senility, three each; insanity, heart disease, and broncho-pneumonia, two each; and asthma, paralysis, accident, pneumonia, albuminuria, typhoid fever, chronic cystitis, strangulated hernia, tubercular meningitis, tubercular peritonitis, eclampsia, and fracture of the skull, one each.

DAIRY PRODUCE CHEAPER
Butter was a little easier in the country market this morning, but not any cheaper than during the last few days. A drop is expected in price almost any day, as with the opening of the river, and the coming of milder weather, stocks are expected to become more plentiful. Eggs are much cheaper already owing to these causes, having dropped about eight cents this week. Poultry is particularly high, chickens selling this morning at $2 a pair and turkey at 25 cents a pound. Meats remain about the same.

SUFFRAGE MEETING
A meeting of the local branch of the Women's Suffrage Association was held last evening in the rooms of the St. John Art Club. The public were invited and responded very well. Mrs. E. S. Elske presided and the speakers were Miss C. O. McEwen, Dr. Peterson, Miss Johnston of England, and Mrs. Sabin, national immigration secretary of the Dominion Council, Y. W. C. A. The speakers were listened to with interest and appreciation, and were warmly applauded. A musical programme was given, those taking part being Mrs. B. L. Gerow, Mrs. Gunn, and Miss Ford.

The funeral of James F. Thompson took place this afternoon from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, 35 Cranston avenue. Rev. J. J. McCaskill conducted the burial services and interment was in Fernhill.

The funeral of James Francis Hennessy was held this morning from the residence of his parents, 602 Main street, to Holy Trinity church where requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. J. Walsh. Interment was in the old Catholic cemetery.

WESTPORT AFIRE IN THE BAY

Outbreak on Steamer From Here; All Aboard Safe

GASOLINE ON THE DECK

Barrels Threw Overboard and Fire Held Down While Full Speed Was Made For Digby And The Vessel Beached

The Insular Steamship Company's steamer, the Westport, which left St. John at three o'clock this morning in charge of Captain McKinnon, with passengers and a general cargo for Westport, and carrying gasoline and kerosene in barrels on the deck, was found to be on fire in the forward hold while half way across the Bay of Fundy and out of the sight of land. She had about one dozen passengers on board, among them women and children. The engine room's fire apparatus deadened the flames, the engines were opened up to full speed in charge of Chief Engineer James Strickland and Captain McKinnon succeeded in preventing a panic on board and the steamer was headed for Digby. She reached Point Prim about half past ten o'clock.

The life boat Daring, in charge of Captain Fred Adams, took off the passengers in Digby Gut and brought them to Digby. In the meantime the steamer was rushing full speed for the government pier, where she was beached a safe distance away. A fire alarm brought Digby's fire company to the scene and a stream in the forward hatch extinguished the fire. The steamer is quite badly damaged. The loss, it is said, is covered by insurance. The freight under the deck is declared a total loss.

E. H. Collins of Westport said that some half dozen barrels of gasoline were thrown over in the bay and many barrels were thrown over after the boat was beached. If the flames had reached the gasoline an explosion would have had fearful consequences. It is thought the fire was caused from a ritual combustion among barrels of lime.

Fredericton, April 12—The wharf committee of the city council last evening considered the application of the Crystal Stream Navigation Company. It was decided to lease the wharf to the Company for $100 a year and erect a warehouse to be leased for an additional $50.

George A. Burkhart, photographer here for thirty-five years, has sold out to William A. Walsh.

A boom house at the mouth of the Nashuak, owned by the Partington Pulp and Paper Co., was destroyed by fire on Thursday night. The loss is about $300.

It rained quite heavily here last night and the ice in the river is gradually breaking up.

EMPRESS AT THE POINT

R. M. S. Empress of Britain, Captain Murray, arrived in port this morning about one o'clock and docked at No. 3 berth about an hour later. The Empress left Liverpool on April 4 and experienced fine weather all the way across the Atlantic. No ice was seen or reported during the voyage. She had on board 100 first class and 478 second and 890 third class passengers, fifty-five of whom were landed at Halifax. There were also landed at Halifax 2870 sacks of mail and 905 hampers of parcels. Among the first class passengers were Miss A. Sailer of St. John, and R. S. Fitz-Randolph of Fredericton. Mrs. G. M. Bosworth of Montreal was also a passenger.

The Britain has a new chief steward this trip, C. E. Wadley, formerly of the Lake Manitoba, who succeeds B. Coyle, retired.

Elder Dempster liner Borna sailed yesterday for Liverpool with a large cargo of coal.

The Donaldson liner Letitia is expected to dock between two and three o'clock tomorrow afternoon and will land her passengers, about 1300 in number, early on Monday morning.

Allan liner Corsican is due tomorrow with passengers and general cargo.

BENI. GODSOE DEAD IN DENVER

Many old friends in St. John will regret to hear of the death of Beni. Godsoe, which occurred in Denver on April 5. Mr. Godsoe was employed in the I. C. R. car-penter shop here for nearly a quarter of a century. Some five years ago he and his wife removed to Denver to live with their daughter, Mrs. Woolley. He was about seventy-three years of age, and if he had remained with the I. C. R. a little longer would have been superannuated in due course. Mrs. Godsoe remains with her daughter in Denver.

ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX
Some one has sent the Times the following clippings, which seem to be from a Halifax paper and designed to stir up the people of that city:--
"A week or so ago the Halifax council endeavored to pass a vote of censure, or something of the kind, upon the people who are endeavoring to bring the city to a realization of its great future. The council argued that if the plans of the outside capitalists were put into effect the rents of working men would be advanced. Another argument was used to the effect that the great pier which the federal government will start to build this summer will spoil the beauty of Halifax. The sties of dumping thousands of tons of rock and cement into the beautiful harbor of Halifax is altogether too much for the aesthetic tastes of the Halifax people. But I might remind these gentlemen that the cod fishing will be improved at the end of the pier, and as for the beauty of nature, they can sail over to Prince Edward Island and view the silver black fox in all its glory. Above all, stick to the cod fishing, it is good for the boys system."
St. John, N. B., is making vigorous efforts to bring all prospective ship-building plants to that go-ahead city. St. John has only one real rival, that being Halifax, but as a ship-building plant would be a dreadful eyecore for the nature-loving habitants.
NINETY-NINE YEARS OLD
Amherst News--There passed away at Wallace on Saturday last Ichabod Betts, who was probably the oldest citizen of Cumberland, having reached the advanced age of 99 years and eleven months. Up until nearly the close of his life he retained all his mental faculties and remained bright and cheerful, and his reminiscences of bygone years was a source of pleasure to his many friends. He was the son of one of the original Loyalists who settled at Henshag or Wallace at the close of the Revolutionary War. He is survived by one son, Becham, of Wallace, and by one daughter, Adeline, who resides in Boston. Mrs. C. Casey and Mrs. C. E. Casey, of this town, and Fred W. Hueston of Wentworth.
An agitation has been begun by the barbers throughout North End for the closing of their shops at 8 o'clock each evening except on Saturday. There has been an understanding amongst them for some time that they would close at 8 o'clock, but they have found it difficult to abide by the agreement, as customers would continue to come in up to a few minutes before the closing hour, and thus they would be compelled to remain until well after the time. In future the regular closing hour will be adhered to, and what is considered as unnecessary delay by the barbers in the customer's arrival about 7.30 p.m., will have to be avoided.

IN THE SPRING

The Passing of Winter Leaves People Weak and Depressed

As winter passes away it leaves many people feeling weak, depressed and easily tired. The body lacks that vital force and energy which pure blood alone can give.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an all-year-round blood builder and serve tonic, but they are especially useful in the spring. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood. Returning strength commences with their use and the vigor and cheerfulness of good health quickly follow.

There is just one cure for lack of blood and that is more blood. Food is the material from which blood is made, but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills doubles the value of the food we eat. They give strength, tone up the stomach and weak digestion, clear the complexion of pimples, eruptions and boils, and drive out rheumatic poisons.

If you are pale and yellow, if you feel continually tired out, breathless after slight exertion, if you have headaches or backaches, if you are irritable and nervous, if your joints ache, if your appetite fails and food does not nourish nor sleep refresh you, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will make you well and strong. To build up the blood is the special purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and that is why they are the best spring medicine. People Are Enthusiastic

Office Crowded With Those Seeking to Secure Attractive Volumes.

The Telegraph and Times office is crowded these days with people who want copies of Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary. In response to the remarkable money-saving offer repeatedly announced in the columns of this newspaper.

The Telegraph and Times, in all modesty, takes this evidence of public appreciation as a sincere compliment. All that we asked was that people come and SEE this dictionary. But those who came to see almost without a single exception, departed with a copy of the work which is now offered to everybody in return for six consecutive coupons and the cost of handling. There were many of our visitors who had not saved the necessary coupons, but they went home with the firm intention of doing so.

One caller at the premium headquarters looked at the dictionary, said: "Wait, I'll be right back," and reappeared in half an hour with six dictionary coupons taken from copies of the paper which he had saved. It is presumable that this person came to the premium headquarters in a skeptical frame of mind, but he would have brought his coupons along in the first place. The Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary, under The Telegraph and Times' unprecedented offer, is the doom of skepticism.

Comments throughout the crowds at this office were enthusiastic in praise of the compact but comprehensive volume which has leaped into such unparalleled popularity.

The most popular of three styles offered is the Style No. 1, the flexible leather bound, Bible paper edition, which goes to anybody for six consecutive coupons and 50 cents expense bonus. The cash charge is merely to cover the cost of handling and distributing the books.

It is safe to say that no more useful offer was ever made in St. John by a newspaper. The dictionary obtainable at such an astonishing rate is really the most up-to-date, the handiest, the best-typed dictionary on the market today.

It contains all the latest words that have come into the language—and there are many of them that have grown out of the progress of aviation and the recent discoveries of science. It also contains up-to-date charts of statistics concerning crops, commerce and all the important figures of the last year. There are thirty-two pieces of color plates, authoritative and informative. In short, it is an encyclopedic dictionary full of accurate information—hundreds of interesting topics.

There are three styles of these dictionaries. One of them may be obtained for six coupons and only 18 cents. The second style is obtained for six coupons and 81 cents. The difference between the 80-cent and the 81-cent book is only in the binding. Some of the illustrations are omitted from the 80-cent dictionary.

VIGOROUS SPEECH

BY W. H. TRUEMAN

Winnipeg Liberals Re-affirm Attitude on Naval Policy—Approve Party Course at Ottawa

Winnipeg, April 10.—At a meeting of the Liberal executive of Winnipeg in the hall on Notre Dame avenue a committee was appointed to draw up a resolution re-affirming their stand in support of the naval policy of the party and approving of the fight Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues were making in behalf of free speech.

This action followed a review of the political situation by R. F. Williams, and W. H. Trueman, formerly of St. John, the former pointing out that the policy adopted by the unanimous vote of the house of commons in 1906 would give effect to the principle of the Dominions protecting the flanks of the Empire while Great Britain defended the centre.

Great Britain, he declared, did not need their support to defend herself against Germany and he showed how long ago Germany had indicated a spirit of distinction of reduction of her naval force. An opportunity had been given, he said, in the time of the premiership of Sir Campbell Bannerman, but she continued her naval armaments. Having pointed to what Germany and Japan had done in the way of creating fleets, he said that they would be welcomed as partners on an equal footing not as children seeking shelter behind their mother's skirts.

Mr. Trueman, after quoting Sir Charles Tupper's judgment that a fearful responsibility rested upon the person who sought to destroy or disturb the arrangement that had been entered into between the parties on the vital question of the navy, suggested that the change of attitude on the part of Premier Borden was to be attributed to his having yielded to the temptation of securing the votes of the Nationalists of Quebec. He ridiculed the idea of emergency, and said that the Liberals wanted to know, was Mr. Borden's policy to be one of permanent contribution. If it were then the issue was joined. The Liberals of Canada believed in a navy of their own as part and parcel of the growth of their national life. That life could exist side by side with an Imperial patriotism and could be made all the stronger because of their pride in the achievements of the empire.

It was following Mr. Trueman's address that the resolution was passed on the motion of Rev. D. S. Hamilton, seconded by S. G. McLaughlin and the speakers and the secretary were selected as the committee to draft it.

Mr. Martin declared amidst the approving applause of the meeting that the naval question was not the only one before the people of the country. There was also the question of free speech, the right of their representatives at Ottawa to express their minds upon a great question of that kind.

CITY CIRCULATION AGENT

Of Leading Montreal Daily Endorses GIN PILLS

I have long years of suffering from Kidney Trouble—two boxes of GIN PILLS—and it's all gone. That has been the experience of Mr. Eugene Quessel, Chief City Circulation Agent of La Patrie, of Montreal. He describes it feelingly:

May 3rd, 1912. "I have been suffering from Kidney Trouble for over five long years. I had also Rheumatism in all my bones and muscles, could not sleep nights and on some occasions could hardly walk. I had been treated by some of our best Physicians but without relief and I lost over fifteen pounds. One day I met one of our leading hotel-keepers, who had been cured by your famous GIN PILLS, and he advised me to try them. So I bought two boxes at my druggist's and before I had used one box I felt a big change. Before I finished the second one I was completely cured."

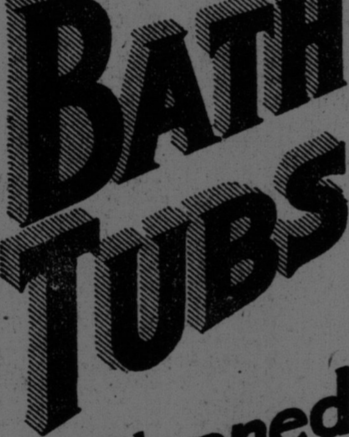

I can assure you I can hardly believe it for if I had only known what I know now I would not have spent over One Hundred Dollars for nothing when two boxes of GIN PILLS cured me.

EUGENE QUESEL, GIN PILLS are gaining a world-wide reputation, by the way they conquer the most obstinate cases of Rheumatism and all kinds of Kidney Trouble. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample free if you write National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto.

PARIS NEWS LETTER

National Committee Does Well For Country in Providing Fleet of Airships — Baron Rothschild Writes and Stages a Play

(Times' Special Correspondence)

Paris, March 28.—Madame Jean Dieulafoy to whom of all French women a grateful government has accorded, in consideration of her services to archaeology, in her brilliant excavation in Persia, the right to wear masculine clothing, intends to organize a battalion of feminine reserves. The proposal is not so advanced as it sounds at first glance, for Madame Dieulafoy, in spite of the fact that "elle porte le pantalon," is anything but a ferocious feminist. The militant suffragette would receive little sympathy from this modest and mild-mannered little old lady. It is not of any band of trousered amazons that she dreams, but her own experience in the war of 1870, in which she "served," dressed as a man, by her husband's side, has convinced her that the services of women in time of war can be utilized far more extensively than so far they have been.

There is much clerical and administrative work in offices and stores at present performed by men, which might with equal efficiency be done by women. In fact, a considerable body of "effectives" would be set free for active service. The organization of the "battalion of women" Madame Dieulafoy intends to model on that of the Red Cross, which she considers perfect. Already she has submitted her project to the minister of war, and received an encouraging answer, and already letters are reaching her from would-be recruits.

Military Aviation

The national committee for military aviation has issued its report upon the results of the year's work. The committee was formed by private subscription, and its opinion that the air service of the army was not being sufficiently developed. To remedy this state of affairs, the national committee was raised and the proceeds have been devoted to increasing the aeroplane fleet of France, training pilots, and establishing a network of aerodrome landing stations throughout the country. A sum of $800,000 has been collected for the purpose. The committee has already presented seventy-two aeroplanes to the army, and intends to present about 100 more machines in the course of the year. A sum of $700,000 has been devoted to the foundation of seventy-six aviation scholarships, and by June next the committee will have given seventy-six trained aviators to the army.

The minister of war has approved a scheme submitted by the committee for the establishment of thirty-two military aviation stations, chiefly on the eastern frontier, in the course of the year. A sum of $100,000 has been devoted to the foundation of these stations, which are being established in large open spaces provided by the local authorities. The scheme, which is being built according to the plans of the war office, will be kept in repair by local subscriptions, and aviators will soon have a very complete network of stations to which they will be able to descend for petrol or supplies. The minister of war has placed at disposal of the committee $80,000 of the funds subscribed directly to the ministry of war for the establishment of a chain of aviation stations between Paris and Lyons, Paris and Belfort, and Paris and Pau.

Rothschild as Play Writer

J. Siler Hansen says that he has secured the English and American rights to a play by Baron Henri de Rothschild with the appropriate title of "Croesus" Baron Henri de Rothschild, who is also a practicing doctor, has several well-merited successes to his credit on the Paris stage. The new play, particularly when the authorship is taken into consideration, is distinctly interesting. Croesus, an immensely rich man, finds in the first act that the woman he loves and on whom he showers money is carrying on an intrigue with a

NO SALTS AND PILLS, "CASCARETS"

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour, Get a 10 Cent Box of Cascarets — Take One Tonight

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous, and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, distended stomach, or have back ache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with laxatives, or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep you comfortable, sweet, lively and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

T. P. O'Connor Analyzes the Marconi Shares Matter—Indiscretion and a Stupid Thing for Clever Men to do, But That is All

(By T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P.)

London, April 11.—Nothing could be more surprising in this surprising world than the stupid things that are done by clever men. We have had an extraordinary example of this in the Marconi shares matter. It is a man who can face almost any situation and from long analogies in his experience recommend the exact thing to do. And though he is a great fighter, he is essentially, by every instinct of his temperament, a peace maker.

A temper that is extraordinarily sunny, health that is perfect, an amiable disposition, a warm power of sympathy and unrivalled experience in all the troubles of life, he is a man who can face almost any situation and from long analogies in his experience recommend the exact thing to do. And though he is a great fighter, he is essentially, by every instinct of his temperament, a peace maker.

I have heard the most remarkable stories of how he has managed to keep the most impossible cases, especially conjugal cases out of court; and the inexhaustible resource with which he has managed to beat down even the most obstinate plaintiff or defendant against bringing a family scandal to court. In fact, indeed, the general impression he always managed to convey was one of a pleasant atmosphere where everything was for the best in the best of all possible worlds; and where he was thus able to reduce even gigantic issues down to dispensation and kindly discussion.

And yet he is now subject to severe criticism; he has committed an indiscretion of which even a tyro in politics would not be foolish enough even to contemplate. The irony of the situation—which is entirely ironical—is that the origin of the whole indiscretion was the desire of a thoroughly good natured man to do good to the friends who were nearest and dearest to him.

It is well known that the ties between him and Lloyd George are very close; largely because, though their temperaments and their training are so opposite, they have so many things in common. One of their ties is a certain common joy de vivre. In the case of Lloyd George this instinctive gaiety is abandoned once by the Celtic twilight, now and then, of brooding melancholy, rare but severe when they come and usually the effect of overwork produces in a not very strong frame. Foreshadows Changes in Method of British Elections—Nationalization of Railways and Mines—Question of Pay for Holidays

(Times' Special Correspondence)

London, March 28.—The interview which the prime minister grants each year to a deputation of the parliamentary committee of the Trades Union Congress has just been held in Mr. Asquith's room at the House of Commons. The subjects reviewed were very numerous, including housing, electoral reform, bakers' working conditions and compulsory payment of wages on statutory holidays. A question of more general interest was the nationalization of railways and of mines, but Mr. Asquith's attitude towards the suggestion of the deputation was not encouraging. The prime minister was accompanied by Mr. Ramsden, Mr. Burns, and Mr. Illingworth.

W. E. Harvey, M. P., who introduced the question of the nationalization of mines, said that on the present division it would be a good investment for the nation to hold all elections on the same day. Mr. Asquith—"Who is making money out of that—the coal owner or the contractor?"

Mr. Asquith—"The coal owner." Mr. Asquith—"Yes, but suppose he contracts in advance, as he very often does, and his output is bought for six months ahead, he gets no advantage from any rise of price from the consumer during that time."

Mr. Harvey replied that the Midland Railway contracts and all railway contracts should be transferred from the coal owner and the mine owners put more on the case of the local merchants.

Foreshadows Election Changes

Mr. Asquith in reply said that he and his colleagues were heartily in sympathy with the desire of the deputation that the necessary and compulsory expenses of elections should be transferred from the candidates to the community. He did not quite share the view that it would be possible to hold all elections on the same day. He thought they would find that in practice that would add very much to the cost of coal and lead to a good deal of inconvenience and embarrassment.

But that the period of the polling ought to be very substantially curtailed he entirely agreed. Whether it should be less than a week was a matter open to argument, but an election which went dribbling over for the best part of a month, as it now is, to the disturbance of business and the discomfort of the community, was a spectacle which he believed, and was not prepared by any other civilized nation, and he quite agreed that when they came to deal with these matters, that was a subject which deserved consideration and settlement.

As regarded the nationalization of mines he did not know whether Mr. Harvey's attention had been called to some information recently laid before parliament in regard to the operation of nationalization in Prussia. It was not of a very satisfactory kind and did not tend to encourage a very sanguine hope as to what the repetition of the experiment made there would produce in this country. When they had regard to the enormous variety of conditions under which our mining industry was carried on, the highly speculative ingredients which entered into it, and the complexity of the whole system of production and management, he confessed he should look with very considerable hesitation upon any proposal to transfer the mines, as a going concern, to the management of the state.

Nationalization of Railways

He quite agreed that railways stood on a different footing in this respect from mines and most other productive industries. (Continued on page 16, first column.)

WOMEN ARE PRAISING DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

News Scotland Mercury Tells How They Cured Her Aches and Pains, and Made Her a Well Woman Again

Edouard Secum Bridge, Halifax, Co., N. B., April 11.—(Special)—From Vancouver to Halifax come daily reports of the splendid work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing for the suffering women of Canada, and this little place can show a splendid cure of its own. Mrs. Oratus Pao, the mother of a large family, was a sufferer from those aches and pains only women know. Today she is a strong, healthy woman. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it.

"I had a pain in my left side and down through my hips." Mrs. Pao states, "I had headache all the time. My heart was weak, and as time went on I actually came to my feet. Some days I was hardly able to walk."

"I read of a number of cures of cases like mine by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and sent for three boxes. Today I am a well woman, and can do as much work as ever I could."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mrs. Pao because her troubles came from diseased kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure diseased kidneys, and as ninety per cent. of women's troubles come from kidney trouble, Dodd's Kidney Pills have come to be known as suffering women's best friend.

Why is the Blood Impure in the Spring?

The artificial life of the winter—the artificial foods—the impure air of indoor life—the sedentary habits—the lack of outdoor exercise—all tend to make the blood thin, weak, watery and impure. The nerves are starved, exhausted, and wasted—the nerve force required for the proper workings of the heart, the lungs, the stomach, the liver, the kidneys and other organs is not forthcoming and the whole system becomes weakened and run down.

When spring comes vitality is at low ebb, and nine persons out of ten require restorative treatment to form new, rich blood and revitalize the nervous system. Disease lurks on every hand in the spring time, and finds lodgment in the weak, run-down, and exhausted system.

GERMANY'S ARMY BETTER FOR BREAD

years before it is finally cast away. Sometimes it lies for years in the magazines of a Landwehr battalion before being first worn. Then for years it is worn only on parade and special occasions, for the temporary owner on ordinary occasions wears old and patched uniforms. The uniform passes from soldier to soldier, and as it loses its attractiveness it is worn more and more for ordinary everyday use. When it has got to its sixth owner it is worn every day, and when no soldier has a pair, more patches than original, it is still handed on to some unlucky conscript for wearing in times of rough work.

Probably Worst Fed

Germany's warriors are probably the worst fed in Europe. Certainly they are the cheapest fed, although food in Germany is dearer than anywhere else. Thirty pennings a day, or about eight cents, is allowed for morning, midday, and evening meals. Until three years ago the amount allowed was only six cents. The morning meal is merely coffee, costing less than a cent; the evening meal coffee and a fragment of sausage. The midday dinner is the only meal supplied; and it is prepared by the men themselves, with the result of waste. The corporals and other non-commissioned officers are little better off than the privates. The corporals' board costs one cent a day extra; and the sergeant-major's costs three cents extra. The eight cents a day is for board on what is known as "lower scale." This is allowed when the men are in garrison. When they are on active service during manoeuvres, they are put on "higher scale," and get four and one half cents extra. For the lower scale allowance the soldier gets about one and one half pounds of bread; a little coffee; live ounces of raw meat, including ten per cent of bones; one-half pound of vegetables, and some salt. The "higher scale" allowance contains about two ounces more meat. Whatever more the German soldier eats, whether of necessities or luxuries, comes out of his own pocket, or the pocket of relatives or adoring cooks.

Germany's feeding system dates back to the eighteenth century—to the glorious days of Frederick the Great, when Prussia was a poor state and when the standard of living was very much lower than it is today. It is estimated that since then Germany has multiplied her wealth more than twenty-fold; but she persists in feeding her soldiers practically in the same way as she did 150 years ago. The food is rough in quality and insufficient in quantity. At an age when they have not ceased growing, young Germans are thus taken from relatively prosperous working class and peasant families, and kept for two years in a state of under-feeding. And with this go under-housing and inferior clothing.

Although the army has increased by 80,000 men in the last ten years the barracks accommodation remains unchanged and many men are put up in temporary barracks. The barracks are always under-heat and as in summer time no oil is allowed for lighting, men have to go to bed in the dark.

That is the way in which thirty Germany treats her defenders. No wonder her army costs less a head than the French, Austrian and Italian armies. The weak side of the system is its reaction on the men. The discipline is far too good to allow of hunger revolts, but the men show their discontent by obstinately refusing to serve as un-commissioned officers after their two years' term has expired. Under the two years' service law, all non-commissioned officers are got by inducing men to stay on but no compulsion can be used. The inducement given is a promise of a post in the police and on the railroads after retirement to civilian life. These posts are much coveted. But such is the dislike of remaining in the army that the best men usually refuse; second best men must be taken for training as non-coms, and this operates injuriously upon the discipline and morale of the whole army.

The new army bill, as far as it is known will not do anything to remedy these evils. A few military journals are clamoring that something be done at least towards improving the infantry private's food. But the usual objection will be made that the state has no money and Germany's hungry legions will remain as hungry as ever.

HAS LEGAL RIGHT TO DRESS AS MAN

poorer man, whose chief merit apparently is his poverty. In the next act he is discovered transacting business, buying pictures, lending his friends money, and very much disgusted at the general wish to extract money from him. In the last act, disguised as a poor clerk, Croesus is happy. He is engaged to a Paris milliner, and she believes him to be earning 800 a month. But one of his own friends with the money that he has borrowed from Croesus has dined the girl, and she suggests that Croesus should play the part in her life which in the first act was played by the friend of the woman he loved. Croesus cannot be loved for himself alone. His money always stands in the way.

Through the scene is laid in Paris, the interest of the play is universal. The author is taking the keenest interest in the production, and intends personally to supervise the rehearsals.

A year ago one Breche, who was serving a sentence of thirteen months in the Sainte Prison, made the acquaintance of Marcel Faidite, who was awaiting trial on a charge of smothering a constable. Breche, whom a long and varied acquaintance with the law had made something of a legal expert, assured Faidite that his case would be quashed. "How would it be now," he suggested to his fellow-prisoner, whose innocent measure he had taken, "if you were to behave like a real brick and let me take your place?" "What would you give?" asked Faidite. "All that I possess," was the answer, and with a fine gesture Breche produced an old nickel watch, a pocket of cheap tobacco, and a cigarette-lighter. "Done!" said Faidite. A few days later Breche-Faidite was tried and acquitted, while Faidite-Breche found the sentence of thirteen months confirmed. For ten months he stood it, but at last his patience gave out. Perhaps the pocket of tobacco was exhausted, or the watch may have stopped. In any case, Faidite went to the governor of the prison and told his extraordinary tale. On the same day Breche, as luck would have it, was arrested for robbery with violence. His thumb-marks were taken and found to correspond exactly with those of the pseudo Breche, already safely under lock and key. The murder, or rather the evasion, was out. Now the tribunal has condemned the real Breche to the original thirteen months' imprisonment, and sent him back to prison to await trial on the second charge. Faidite was acquitted.

and a strategic position at the top of the steep winding stairs. When the burglars appeared, breathless from the ascent, she made a bound upon them, striking out with her weapon. Howling with pain and fright, the burglars took to their heels. The police had no difficulty in identifying them next day, for all four bore traces of the struggle on the stairs. Two, in fact, are suffering from dangerous wounds in the head.

Perhaps, while complimenting the French actresses who have from time to time played in his presence, the German Emperor has voiced his real sentiments towards France. Such was the supposition made by a French theatrical paper, and it forthwith set about interviewing some of those actresses, who are not the smallest stars on the theatrical horizon. The first to speak is Mlle. Jeanne Provost, and her very first words were "L'Empereur aime la France." The interviewer was staggered, but the actress insisted that this was the impression which his conversation conveyed. She continued:

"SALADA"

After this startling picture, the actress added: "He said all this to me with the greatest cordiality, and who knows, perhaps he will some day entertain a French poet in Berlin, just as Napoleon once had a famous meeting with Goethe.

TRUE EDUCATION.

The formation of habits is the true education. The cultivation of the habit of detecting all that is low and mean, the habit of admiring sincerely the good and the beautiful, an undeviating attachment to truth and justice, and the sincere effort to bring our conduct into accord with these ideals constitute the rigid discipline of the moral philosophy, so laudable that "without it no condition of life is tolerable, and with it none wretched, sordid and mean."

CHRIS MATHEWSON'S NEW ERA SERIES-CLOP OF '13

THE SEASON'S OUTLOOK

By CHRIS MATHEWSON, of the New York Giants
(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

The best a man can do in discussing the season's outlook is to make general comment. He might go into an analysis of the various teams and build his predictions on the promise of one known star, and then that star might be injured on the first day of the season and his whole symposium would totter and fall.

MANAGER MCGRAW'S FAVORITE EXERCISE

There is also an important factor in the season's prospects, and a certain run of ill-good or ill-bad, which sometimes pursues a gambler or a ball club for months, may upset all calculations. If a team gets the lucky break for a time and acquires the habit of winning, the men are filled with confidence that they can accomplish anything and play much better ball as a result.

My comment will therefore be very general, and I shall make no definite promises. From all angles, it looks like a big year for baseball. If competition is the life of trade, it is the heart throbs of baseball, and the races in both leagues appear to be fairly bustling with competition this spring.

In the National League there are five clubs which have a chance to be some contenders for the championship, and in the American three, with the possibility of a fourth. Let us consider the National League first, as I can go into the prospects of that organization with the familiarity of one of the family.

Many experts have been predicting that the Pirates are scheduled to nose out the Giants this year. Now simply because I draw my pay from the New York club I am not going to declare that there is not a possibility of the Giants losing out. Anything is possible in baseball, and nothing is to be taken for granted, an old aphorism. The Boston Nationals may even come through with the flag, but the odds on such a prospect would be very long, so long that they approach the diminishing point.

From my angle now, it looks to me as if the Giants and Pirates will be the most realistic championship contenders, and the race may be much closer than it was last year. I look to see the battle settled in the final months, when the Pittsburgh club is liable to come strong and cut down a lead that the Giants should run up earlier in the season. Both teams, I believe, are stronger than last year, with the Giants having about the same edge over Pittsburgh that they carried last season.

To put it briefly and up near the top, I want to go on record as saying that I think the Giants will carry their third straight pennant.

That Pitching Staff
Some experts whose comments I have studied, principally those in the west, declare that the New York pitching staff is the weak point in the armor of the club. Personally, I believe it is stronger than last year, and I have made a more or less close study of big league twirlers for about thirteen seasons now. Where they can figure the weakness I cannot see, as all the same men have answered the roll call who were present last year, and we have added some promising material.

Perhaps it is counted in the rear and the tear of time, but of the pitchers who worked regularly last year I am the only one who is getting along toward the curfew. Young pitchers are not like babies and automobiles, all of whose troubles come in the second summer. Young pitchers are stronger, as a rule, during their second big league summer.

Teresau and Marquard, the two stars of last season, are both young men on the way up rather than on the way back. Teresau also is the backbone of the staff this year, and should carry the club through the slumps that may develop among the other pitchers. He is best when he is working every other day or every second day, at least, because of his wonderful strength. To my mind, he will develop into an iron man who will rank with such pitchers as Walsh, Coombs and McGinnity when it comes to constant work coupled with success. Last year Teresau was a recruit going through his first complete season with a big league club, with all the frills and frowns that a pitcher must know still to be learned. He also had a bad inclination to be wild at times and was weak on fielding bunts for about thirteen seasons now. Where they can figure the weakness I cannot see, as all the same men have answered the roll call who were present last year, and we have added some promising material.

pitchers. He has a mastery curve with a good fast one, and a neat change of pace. Best of all, he knows how to apply these commodities, for he is a thinking pitcher who studies his batsman closely. They may talk all they want to about a man being tipped off and so to the likes and dislikes of a hitter, but I claim a pitcher has to find out for himself. He can get only general ideas from others.

There was the time I first faced the great Delahanty when he was still with the old Philadelphia club. Some friend told me he did not like a curve ball over the outside corner, and so I tried him on it, tried him twice, in fact, before I changed my mind. The result is painful to relate even after the years have tarnished it in my memory. He loved both those curves over into the right field corner so far that the outfielders sent me a petition to try him on some other style until they had a chance to catch their breath. It was true Delahanty could not sting a curve over the outside as delivered by some twirlers. It was generally supposed he liked high ones, but I could fool him with the variety of a pitched ball. He marred above his intelligence by getting his own data on the batters from experience.

Schupp is a young right hander who looks good, and Goulet is a man who would get a regular turn with many a big league club, with all the frills and frowns that a pitcher must know still to be learned. He also had a bad inclination to be wild at times and was weak on fielding bunts for about thirteen seasons now. To my mind, he will develop into an iron man who will rank with such pitchers as Walsh, Coombs and McGinnity when it comes to constant work coupled with success. Last year Teresau was a recruit going through his first complete season with a big league club, with all the frills and frowns that a pitcher must know still to be learned. He also had a bad inclination to be wild at times and was weak on fielding bunts for about thirteen seasons now. Where they can figure the weakness I cannot see, as all the same men have answered the roll call who were present last year, and we have added some promising material.

Perhaps it is counted in the rear and the tear of time, but of the pitchers who worked regularly last year I am the only one who is getting along toward the curfew. Young pitchers are not like babies and automobiles, all of whose troubles come in the second summer. Young pitchers are stronger, as a rule, during their second big league summer.

Teresau and Marquard, the two stars of last season, are both young men on the way up rather than on the way back. Teresau also is the backbone of the staff this year, and should carry the club through the slumps that may develop among the other pitchers. He is best when he is working every other day or every second day, at least, because of his wonderful strength. for it to have this effect on Byrne, because he is made of the right stuff. Brennan received a very bad bang on the head some time ago, and when he got out of the hospital, it never bothered his batting, as most of the pitchers in the National League will testify.

The Pirates are stronger in the outfield than last year. Carey is a much better player today than he was when he started out at the beginning of the year. He was a magnificent fielder then, but he was not a good hitter. In fact, he was a poor batter. Under the careful coaching of such students of hitting as Dolin and Wagner, he has developed himself into a very formidable man with the stick, although he is not a Speaker or Wagner. "Artie" Hoffman, formerly of the Cubs, is said to have entirely regained his health. He will cover center field. He should greatly speed up the team as he is a fast man and a dangerous hitter. He speed will tell in that outfield and ginger up all the rest of the boys. Wilson, the right fielder, has been with the team many seasons and is a good, steady, reliable player.

Clark is also a good catching staff to call upon for duty. Gibson is a great man to handle pitchers, but very few would give him a home run, even without pitching the ball in the stand at the Polo ground the every man in the outfield had kicked the pill. We almost got him at the plate at that. Kelly is a player who looks as if he would be a valuable addition to a good catching staff. He is fast and a good, clean hard hitter.

But playing good ball, the average hold down the Giants' infield this year as did last year. I look for an improvement in that outfield and ginger up all the rest of the boys. Wilson, the right fielder, has been with the team many seasons and is a good, steady, reliable player.

the Athletics if "Connie" Mack can get any good pitching. It is a club with a terrible punch and gameness and fielding ability. All Mack needs is two or three twirlers to keep the other teams from making all the runs in the world. If Bender rounds out into form, the Athletics will put up an awful fight before giving the Boston boys the world's series money again. Some of the Athletics missed the pickings this winter and will have to get along with the same automobiles again this summer.

There are going to be several interesting arguments settled by about October 1. For instance, of the debatable managers which ones are going to do and which are not? Will Chance come back and can he build up a club out of one fallen to pieces? What will the Cubs do without Chance? Can Evers get away with it or will he wear himself into a shell from managerial miseries and fighting the umpires. How are the Chicago fans going to react? How are the Chicago fans going to react? How are the Chicago fans going to react?

Thought It Would Turn Into Consumption.

Miss Jean Doumette, Point a la Carde, Que., writes:—Just a few lines of praise must write on account of your famous remedy, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I had been suffering from a dreadful cough, for over six months, and tried everything but in vain. I thought it was going to turn into consumption. A friend happened to come to my house, and was so frightened when he saw me he nearly dropped. He asked me what I was taking, so I showed him some medicine I had, but he said for me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I bought a bottle and before it was finished I was well, and did not cough a bit.

I will recommend your medicine to every suffering friend, for I know it will do good to them just the same as it did me.

These diamond-shaped blocks of white tough rubber have a gripping surface that no other Tire has equalled. You can see it for yourself. The angles and edges prevent slipping and accidents—give the rider greater traction power on wet and greasy streets. Here is confidence that makes wheeling a pleasure.

IN PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, April 11—The week in parliament has ended with the Liberals still fighting and the closure not yet adopted.

The government has been trying hard to apply the gag for the past four days, but in spite of the majority of fifty it has not succeeded. The Liberals have kept the floor in spite of Hon. Mr. Haasen's motion for the previous question.

Next week fireworks are expected. The government is certain to make another attempt to force the closure through, so that it may be in a position to refuse investigations of the various scandals which are developing. With the post office lock deal involving $350,000, and with some peculiar dredging contracts which are coming to light, things are moving too fast for them.

Telegrams continue to pour in upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier congratulating him upon his courage and urging him to continue the fight. It will be resumed Monday and the struggle will be continued from day to day.

The Liberals are holding Premier Borden to account for the introduction of the closure bill by trickery and the attempt to force the closure through, so that it may be in a position to refuse investigations of the various scandals which are developing.

Mr. Nesbitt laid the treatment of Sir Wilfrid at Mr. Borden's door and compared it with the courteous treatment always accorded by the Liberals to the Conservative leader.

Mr. McKeen of Cape Breton, denounced the closure as unconstitutional as well as unnecessary. He was called to order by the speaker for not keeping to the subject of discussion but, on the protest of Sir Wilfrid Laurier who pointed out that objection had been a ground for the reason for the bill he was allowed to continue.

AUTO MEN TALK OF A RUN TO BOSTON

The mostly meeting of the New Brunswick Automobile Association was held last night with the president, T. P. Regan, in the chair. Important matters were dealt with, among others a plan to hold a club run to Boston in August.

Arrangements were made for next year's show, and also for the placing of direction signs on the roads throughout the province. It was decided to hold a "Road Day" when all the members would turn out to help repair the roads. May 30 was set as the date for a club lunch in St. John. The president was empowered to engage a special constable to assist in the conviction of persons violating the traffic laws relating to automobiles.

A report from the secretary showed that the first maritime motor show was a great success, 116 new members being added to the association.

ASQUITH MEETS TRADES UNION MEN

The state to a very large extent controlled and interfered with their operations in fixing rates and so on, and it was quite true that it was contemplated by parliament at the time when railways were originally built on a large scale that, under certain conditions, they might be taken over by the state. That contingency had always been, at any rate, a possibility which they were bound to contemplate. But there were practical difficulties of a very serious kind in the application of the principle of nationalization to the railways.

He was quite sure that any such operation, carried out on reasonable and equitable terms would be immediately followed by very large demands from two entirely different quarters—from the traders in the matter of rates and from the workers for better conditions as to wages and hours of labor. The prospective advance in the net receipts which had been forecasted by very likely might be seriously affected by such conditions would, he strongly suspected, be swallowed and more than swallowed up before the railways had been in the possession of the state for much more than twelve months.

These were things which, from the point of view of the taxpayer, they could not leave out of account, however great might be the advantages of the diminution of competition and the general coordination of the railway system which might follow from something in the nature of a central management. As a matter of fact, he remained of the opinion that the burden of proof being on those who favored this proposal, that burden had not, from the point of view of the community, been adequately discharged.

With regard to the bankers, whom he congratulated on the improvement in conditions obtained in London, they were told that there were still great difficulties in dealing with the smaller employers. In the case of shop assistants that same difficulty was solved, or sought to be solved, by giving something in the nature of local option. He was not committing himself, but it was worth consideration after further inquiry for the matter was now before a departmental committee whether a case had been made out for tentative legislation in that direction.

The question of the civil rights of postal and other civil servants fell within the scope of the royal commission on the civil service, and while undoubtedly it was a question which presented difficulties, he should await with great interest what such a competent and responsible body as that commission had to say about it.

Holidays and Pay
As to the question of statutory holidays, he saw some difficulty in the proposal to compel an employer against his will to pay wages to a man who was not doing work on a particular day, on the same scale as though he was at work. He thought it was a very strong order on a holiday which was supposed to be in the interests of both employer and employed. But he would look into the matter and try to find out what the extent of the alleged grievance was.

On the general question of what the government were doing for social and industrial reform, he might refer, without undue pride, but certainly without any reason to feel ashamed, to the record of the last few years in which he really believed more had been done in that direction than in any corresponding period in parliamentary history.

Mr. Runciman, in reply to C. Edwards, of the Agricultural Laborers' Union, who advocated government action to compel land owners to cultivate all productive land, said some of the land laid down to grass in the last forty years would never be under the plow, because it would not be an economic experiment. He believed the tendency to devote land to grass-raising could be checked only by having lands

THIS FINE OLD GENTLEMAN ANSWERED 187 LETTERS NI REGARD TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

People in All Parts of Canada Wanted to Know More About These Wonderful Tablets Made From Fruit Juices

N. JOUBERT, Esq.

"I heartily recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to all who suffer from Constipation and the painful consequences—Piles. I am now 74 years old and suffered for 20 years with Constipation and Piles. I tried all kinds of remedies, saw the doctors and took their medicines but nothing cured me. About four years ago, I tried 'Fruit-a-tives'—found they were doing me good. Then I procured an additional supply and was much gratified at the wonderful good they did me. After taking four boxes, I felt well—my bowels were regular and the Piles had disappeared.

My wife was troubled for three years with Asthma and Exema on the hands, which made her hands almost useless. The doctor gave her several ointments to use, none of which had any effect. He also advised her to use rubber gloves (she wore out three pairs). I persuaded her to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. Her hands are cured and the Asthma has also left her. And this delightful old gentleman who is now 74 years old—happy in his release from pain—grateful for his cure—took the time to answer every inquiry. Take this advice and try 'Fruit-a-tives'. 25c. A box, 6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

split up into larger numbers of small boulevards. Persia
The London "Observer" asks: "What is Great Britain going to do about Persia? The question will have to be faced very soon, and it is time the public understood what it means. We have all been so absorbed in the European situation that most people have forgotten the derelict Persian empire, which lies helpless and dangerous in the broad stream of international politics. The Persian problem can never now be solved from within. Who is to solve it, and how?"

Persia has no sovereign, for the boy Shah does not count. She has no regard for the worthy gentlemen who fill that position has gone to Europe, and is unwilling to return. She has no parliament, and past experience leads to the conclusion that the summoning of a new Majlis would only make confusion worse confounded. She has no money, for the limited revenue that is now collected is either earmarked or is abstracted on its way to the exchequer. She has no efficient government of any sort. There is a ministry, but it is treated with limited respect in the capital and almost disregarded in the provinces. To a nation in which Persia has almost ceased to exist."

WEEKLY FURNESS SAILINGS FROM MONTREAL TO HULL
Montreal, April 11—A weekly freight service by the Furness line to Hull from Montreal, commencing on May 10, is announced by Furness, Withy & Company's steamers. They will include several of the firm's large boats, which are all good cargo steamers of well over 4,000 tons register, some of them nearly new, the Peninsular Range being an especially fine boat, which was built in 1911. Besides grain, provisions generally are largely handled by these boats. The first Furness liner to Hull from Montreal in the weekly service will be the Chiltern Range, due to sail on May 10.

SAYS LLOYD GEORGE AND SIR RUFUS WILL EACH BE FULLY VINDICATED

The characters then of these three public men have not been in the least enriched by anything that has happened, not even their bitterest opponent in the house says so. But politics has its dirty side everywhere, and it is still possible that attempts will be made to continue the campaign of calumny which has made the atmosphere of public life in England fetid for many months past. It is one of those wretched squabbles which have a great power of low and prolonged living. Bonar Law, to everybody's surprise, for he is personally a genial man without any personal or political bitterness, has had some inclination to put himself at the head of the troops of small enemies which so ruthless a reformer as Lloyd George was bound to create. In addition the committee has not yet ended its long and weary work, and there is nothing in the whole story on its merits, but because of the distorting atmosphere of political controversy, especially when feeling runs high. We may hear a good deal of it for weeks, if not months to come.

Division from Tory Troubles
The Tory party is now so helplessly divided on the tariff question that we may well seek to divert public attention from its inner difficulties to this difficulty in the camp of its opponent. But the friends of Lloyd George and of all the causes for which he stands may keep their minds easy. He will not be displaced or even discredited; at the bottom everybody knows that he is a transparently honest man, especially in money matters; the same applies to the two other gentlemen and though they may still be plenty of smokes in the dunghill of scandal, the final conclusion of the whole matter is certain to be the full vindication of the characters of the men assailed.

KINGS AND QUEENS HAVE DINED HERE

that he had lost practically every penny of his private fortune amounting to about $100,000. The King, Queen Alexandra and many distinguished guests, including the admiral, were present. Towards the end of the dinner a telegram was handed to the admiral (then Captain Montagu) who was hidden by King Edward to open it. He did so, glanced at its contents and then said with a laugh, "I have got an extension of leave—that's jolly." The wire, as a matter of fact, was to say that the bank in which Montagu had every penny of his money had failed and came from one of the directors who was a personal friend of his. Afterwards when King Edward learned the real nature of the telegram, he changed his friend on the spot and said, "Monty, you behaved splendidly to joke over that telegram at dinner as you did, and I shall not forget it." King Edward did not and a little while later Montagu became one of the youngest admirals of the fleet.

WILSON'S INVALIDS PORT WINE

"A wise physician is more than twice as good as a medicine."
Fifty Years Ago
The doctor ordered for his debilitated and convalescing patients "one ounce of pulverized Clinchona Bark in a bottle of wine," a thoroughly effective tonic that was nevertheless bitter and disagreeable to take.

The modern physician prescribes Wilson's Invalid's Port Wine, formulae: Extract of Clinchona Bark, Aromatic and natural, old Operto Wine. A powerful, nutritive tonic compared strictly to prescription, that is distinctly pleasant to the taste—YOUR OWN! 125

I Will Stake This Medicine Against Your Time

A Few Days Will Be Sufficient to Prove That You Are Curable

A few minutes of your time for a few days and I will demonstrate to you, without expense to yourself, that I have a medicine that drives Uric Acid poison from the system and by so doing cures kidney trouble, bladder trouble and rheumatism. I don't ask you to take my word for it, but simply want you to let me send you some of this medicine so that you can use it personally.

I am trying to convince sufferers from these diseases that I have something far better than the usual run of remedies, treatments and drug things, and the only way I can demonstrate this is to let you try it. I will compound the medicine and sending it out free of charge. This will give you the time to write me. Understand, I will not send you a so-called "sample, proof or test treatment" nor will I send you a package of medicine and say that you can use some of it and pay for the rest, but I will send you a supply free of charge and you will not be asked for this gift nor will you be under any obligation.

All I want to know is that you have a disease for which my medicine is indicated. It is not a "cure-all," and I give herewith some of the leading symptoms of kidney, bladder and uric acid troubles. If you notice one or more of these symptoms you need my medicine, and I will be glad to send you some of it if you will write me the numbers of the symptoms you have, give your age, and your name and address. My address is Dr. Frank Lynott, 86 Franklin Building, Toronto, Ont. You promise me nothing; you pay nothing for it. All I ask, is that you shall be no mistake, is that you send me the numbers of your symptoms or a description in your own words, and that you take the medicine according to the directions I send you. It is my way of getting publicity for my medicine so that it will become widely known.

You will agree when you have used it that it dissolves and drives out uric acid poison. It tones the kidneys so that they work in harmony with the bladder. It strengthens the bladder so that frequent desire to urinate and other urinary disorders are banished. It stops the uric acid poison from coming back and cures kidney trouble, rheumatism and crooked joints quickly and so that back and muscular aches and pains are better and have energy throughout the day in the morning.

Subscribers from these dreadful and dangerous diseases can surely afford to spend a few minutes each day for a
