No Announcement of England's Intention, But Everything Now Points To War Declaration

House Of Commons Adjourns After Stormy Session Without Announcement By Premier Asquith, But Declaration Of War Expectation Of London.

WAR PARTY IN MAJORITY IN THE COMMONS, AND DECISION LIKELY TO BE IN FAVOR OF FIGHTING

Asquith Not to Make Announcement Until All Have Had Chance to Speak -- Reported that Ultimatum has been Sent to Germany-- Commons Adjourns to Meet Again Today -- German Embassy Striving to Persuade Britain to Keep Out of the Fight--Laborites and Radicals are Against War--Britain's Fleet Has Been Mobilized.

London, August 3.—The House of Commons, after a stormy session in which the war party was always in the ascendency, adjourned late tonight until tomorrow.

Premier Asquith did not speak. His speech will not be delivered until the debate is completed and until after every member of the house has had ample opportunity to be heard.

All the great European powers, except Italy, are mobilizing with all their energy, and most of the secondary powers. Mobilization has not yet reached a stage where any of the armies have met in battle. Italy will begin to mobilize officially tomorrow, although the process is probably well under way, but Italy declares her neutrality.

Great Britain's mobilization is nearly completed, but she has not announced that she will join in the general war.

Until tonight war officially existed between Austria and Germany, on one side, and Russia, Serbia and Montenegro on the other. There had been no official declaration of war between Germany and France, on either side. But tonight the German ambassador in Paris received orders to demand his passports.

The most important event in the past 24 hours was Germany's demand upon Belgium, in the form of a twelve-hour ultimatum, that the German troops be permitted to cross Belgium to the French frontier, coupled with the promise that Belgian integrity should remain unimpaired after the war, and that Belgium should be compensated.

To this Belgium refused to accede, on the ground of her rights and honor.

Sir Edward Grey, British secretary for foreign affairs, made a statement in the house, intimating that England's obligations and promises could not permit her to submit to the violation of Belgian territory. This practically left the decision as to whether Great Britain should make war to public opinion.

There is absolutely no doubt that British sentiment is for war. The appeals of the pacifists get no hearing. Not one man in a hundred in London seemingly wants England to remain neutral.

Germany, through her diplomats, has tried to keep England out by a virtual offer to refrain from using her navy against France, as the price of Great Britain's neutrality. But the British people clearly are convinced that their honor and vital interests compel them to protect Belgium, France, and the other nations who are their closest neighbors.

The temper of the House of Commons for war was very plainly manifested tonight. Viscount Morley, Lord President

FRANCE WILL PROBABLY DECLARE WAR AGAINST THE GERMANS TODAY

Special to The Standard.

Paris, August 3.—The German ambassador, Baron De Schoen will be received by the Premier, M. Viviani tonight. Up to the present he has expressed no intention of demanding his passports.

Parliament members reaching this city tonight were a unit in believing that tomorrow's session would be marked by a formal declaration of war. The more prominent members were warmly greeted at the railway stations as they arrived. All were jubilant over the news from Petit Croix, where the French army today triumphed over the German Uhlans.

If anything was needed to arouse the patriotism of the French people it was account of this initial victory; it aroused wild enthusiasm everywhere. The troops as they marched through the streets sang patriotic songs and as they entrained for the front they were cheered and applauded by the enormous crowds gathered outside. Further fighting is expected near Petit Croix as reports received here indicate that the Germans are gathered in force on the eastern side of the frontier.

Berlin, August 3.—The German emperor today sent orders to the German ambassador in Paris to demand his passports.

Brussels, August 3.—The Soir says another German note has been received by Belgium in response to Belgium's reply to Germany's ultimatum, and that negotiations between the two countries are proceeding.

Brussels, August 3.—It was officially announced tonight that France had undertaken, in the event of hostilities to fulfill her obligations to preserve Belgian neutrality.

The Belgian cabinet has decided not to appeal to the powers as yet, but will await developments. The government says that up to the present time no Germans have entered Belgium.

London, August 3.—A Brussels despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says the Belgian parliament will meet Tuesday under the presidency of the King, and adds that while the Germans are operating north of Liege they have not actually crossed the frontier.

London, August 3.—From private unofficial sources in the House of Commons it is learned exclusively that the British government has presented an ultimatum to Germany, demanding the instant withdrawal of German troops from Belgium territory.

It is generally believed among members of parliament that England will declare war before twenty-four hours pass. It is understood that the ultimatum came to an end at seven o'clock tonight, without a favorable reply having been received from Germany.

A TELEGRAPH LIE DENIED

Ottawa, Ont., 3rd August, 1914.

Hon. W. H. Thorne,
St. John, N. B.,

Have just heard of report published in Telegraph with regard to Savings Bank. It is absolutely without any foundation whatever; the matter has never been considered by the government or finance department. You have full authority to deny it absolutely.

J. D. HAZEN.

BEGIN TODAY TO MOBILIZE BRITAIN'S ARMY

London, Aug. 3.—The mobilization of the British naval reserves was completed this morning, according to a statement issued by the Admiralty. Hundred of sailors anticipated the orders which were given yesterday evening, and the streets were full of them Sunday, wearing their uniforms and carrying kit bags. The public supposed they had been summoned to the ports, whereas they were only so eager that they proposed to be prepared to jump on the trains at the first signal.

The mobilization of the army will begin tomorrow. It includes regular reserves and territorials. Among other measures resulting from the virtual state of war which exists, the government has extended the bank holiday over three days, so that all the banks will be closed until Thursday.

There is much talk of a coalition cabinet. Field Marshal Lord Kitchener, who had been visiting England, started for Egypt aboard a channel steamer, but was summoned back to London. One report had it that he was to become minister of war.

Field Marshal French, who resigned on account of the Ulster complications, spent the day at the war office. It is expected he will command the expeditionary force, if one is sent to help the Belgians protect their soil.

The closing of the banks Thursday has worked a minor hardship, which everyone feels. Men who can sign their cheques for thousands are pleading with friends to lend them a few shillings to get around with.

HORSES FROM CANADA FOR BRITISH ARMY

Montreal, Aug. 3.—Arrangements are being made to collect thirty thousand horses in Canada should England have need of them in war.

This is the statement made today by an official of the National Live Stock Exchange, Limited, the head office of which is in Montreal.

The cavalry horses which have been produced by the National Bureau of Breeding during the past eight years are now in great demand, he said.

REPORT OF FIGHT IN THE NORTH SEA IS DENIED

Berlin, Aug. 3.—The report circulated in London today that there had been a naval engagement in the North Sea between British and German warships is untrue.

CUNARD LINERS ORDERED TO STAY IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 3.—Announcement was made by the Cunard Line, the sailing of the Lusitania from New York, and the Franconia from Boston, had been deferred until further notice. Both steamers, which are under British flags, were to have sailed tomorrow. A cablegram from the home office ordered that the ships remain in port.

BELGIUM APPEALS TO GR. BRITAIN

London, Aug. 3.—The text of Belgium's King of a telegram to King George was as follows:

"Remembering the numerous proofs of Your Majesty's friendship, and that of your predecessor, of the friendly attitude of England in 1870, and the proof of the friendship which she has just given us again, I make a supreme appeal to the diplomatic intervention of Your Majesty's government to safeguard the integrity of Belgium."

NFLD. HAS WAR FEVER

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 3.—The excitement here is very intense. The naval reservists are flocking to the depot. The steamer Caluso is expected with six hundred men and will report for duty by the end of the week. All the coastal steamers are ordered to convey the reservists from the east coast districts to the city. These men are the pick of the fishing fleet. Portugal Cove a small village seven miles from St. John's sent in 25 men for duty today.

MANNING FORTRESS IN HALIFAX

Halifax, Aug. 3.—The first men of the Canadian militia were ordered on duty today, when the First Canadian Artillery, the Sixth Halifax Rifles, and the Sixty Sixth Princess Louise Fusiliers were detailed to assist in manning the fortress here.

NIobe TO BE MADE READY IMMEDIATELY

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—The navy department is making hurried preparations to man the Niobe and put her in shape for active service. The presence of two German cruisers somewhere in the North Atlantic is causing considerable uneasiness, but the Niobe carries a heavier armament than either of the foreign vessels. Nothing is given out as to the whereabouts of British war vessels on this side of the Atlantic, but it is known that there are several and that under present circumstances there need be little to fear from any ships of the enemy unless other cruisers make their way across the ocean from the North Sea with a view to sporadic raids on Canadian ports and shipping.

WAR PARTY IN MAJORITY IN THE COMMONS, AND DECISION WILL BE IN FAVOR OF FIGHTING

of the Council, in addressing the House, declared that he did not believe that Sir Edward Grey had given sufficient reasons why England should intervene in the continental war. He was interrupted by a chorus of angry shouts from various sections of the chamber. Keir Hardie and several other speakers appealed to the government to make one last supreme effort in the interest of peace. Their remarks were the subject of hostile demonstrations.

Ramsay MacDonald declared that the labor members would support the government because of the developments in Belgium.

Keir Hardie again interposed objections. He stated that some of the labor members would do their best to rouse the workers in opposition to war. These workers who oppose intervention, Hardie declared, will unitedly demand relief measures to deal with the inevitable destitution that must accompany war.

The entire communication made by the foreign secretary to the House of Commons on his second appearance there today was as follows:
"A message has been received from the Belgian legation here stating that Germany sent to Belgium at 7 o'clock last evening, a note proposing to Belgium friendly neutrality, coupled with the free passage through Belgium territory of troops, promising the maintenance of Belgium independence at the conclusion of peace, and threatening, in case of refusal, to treat Belgium as an enemy. The time limit of twelve hours was fixed for the reply."

This statement was received with murmurs from all parts of the house, and then Sir Edward Grey continued:
"Belgium answered that an attack on her neutrality would be a flagrant violation of the rights of nations, that to accept the German proposal would be to sacrifice her honor, and being conscious of her duty Belgium was firmly resolved to resist aggression by all possible means."

The Belgian reply was received with cheers by the members, and Sir Edward concluded with the declaration that the British government had taken the information received into grave consideration, and that he would make no further comment.

Great Britain has mobilized her forces and awaits events. Today she is not a belligerent power, nor is she a neutral one. The government has given France assurance that the British fleet will not permit the German fleet to attack the French coast. It has not yet pledged itself to contribute an army to the continental war.

The British Government regards with the deepest distrust Germany's violation of Belgium's neutrality, but makes no declaration as to whether it considers that measure provocation for war.

This pronouncement of government policy—the result of two days almost continuous deliberations, was made to the House of Commons this afternoon, by Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs.

Therefore the trying hour of suspense for the British people is prolonged indefinitely. Meanwhile the German embassy in London is exerting every effort of diplomacy to induce Great Britain to hold aloof from the conflict, and to bring public opinion to Germany's side. The Counselor of the German embassy issued a strong appeal for the neutrality of Great Britain, asserting that Germany would agree to keep her fleet from attacking the northern and western coasts of England, and in the end by standing outside the European war, and using her influence as mediator when the moment was ripe.

Referring to this suggestion, the British foreign secretary said: "I have only heard that the table before him sharply, declaring: 'But that is far too narrow an engagement.'"

Sir Edward Grey dispelled the shadows of doubt which flickered over the Triple Entente in the minds of many Liberals by exposing some misstatements in the history of the approach, revealing it as essentially a national one with France, without definite obligations.

Finally, on the one tremendously vital question—a question upon the answer to which the British Empire and the whole world are hanging whether the government considers that Germany's policy compels Great Britain to war, the foreign secretary left an impression of doubt. That doubt may reflect the mind of a cabinet not wholly unanimous, and the interpretation drawn by many is that Sir Edward Grey's speech to Germany was a hint that if she will keep her soldiers off Belgium soil, and her battleships away from the coast of France, that will be the price of Great Britain's armed neutrality.

LABORITES AND RADICALS OPPOSED TO WAR DECLARATION

A small group of radicals, during the period of adjournment of the House of Commons, met and decided that after hearing Sir Edward Grey's speech they were of the opinion that there was not sufficient reason in the present circumstances for Great Britain intervening in the war, and urging the government to continue negotiations with Germany with a view to maintaining British neutrality.

Philip E. Morell, Liberal, said the best that could be said for the Entente after eight years was that it was going to land England into a war, simply because a few German soldiers wanted to cross Belgium.

The Laborites joined in the protest, declaring that it was a war made by the diplomats, not by the people. Keir Hardie asked what action was going to be taken to alleviate the sufferings of those who would be hard pressed by the war. He said he would do all he could to arouse the workmen against the proposals of the government.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, David Lloyd George, announced that the government had made arrangements for war risks for ships' cargoes, of which full details would be given later. Regarding the complaint of J. Keir Hardie that the bill passed that day was for the protection of a small section of the community, the Chancellor said it was essentially a measure to protect the whole credit system. Unless steps of that kind were taken, hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of workmen might be thrown out of work.

The cabinet held a session during the recess, and were escorted to and from the house by cheering crowds.

FRENCH ARMAN SACRIFICES LIFE IN COUNTRY'S CAUSE

London, August 3.—The Paris correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company wiring tonight says that confirmation has been received there of the report that the French aviator Garros deliberately sacrificed his own life and his monoplane to wreck a big Zeppelin dirigible which was reconnoitering over Toulon, the frontier.

Garros tried to hit the Zeppelin a glancing blow but failed. He then deliberately steered his machine against the structure of the dirigible at full speed and wrecked it, killing everyone of the Zeppelin's crew. Garros himself was said to have been burned to death in the wreckage when his gasoline tank exploded.

PORT OF MONTREAL CLOSED FOR FIRST TIME IN ITS HISTORY

Montreal, Aug. 3.—The port of Montreal was closed tonight, for the first time in its history. Today a tug fleet patrolled the lower harbor, and a force of two hundred men were sworn in this evening, to exclude all landings from the wharves. Sailors in vessels in port will be allowed to leave their ships only under escort. No vessels will be permitted to come into port or to leave, without an express writ being granted.

Precautionary war measures have resulted in a complete disorganization of the ships and men in Montreal. All concerned were notified personally this morning of the immediate calling out of the navy reserve, and that the harbor would be closed to the collector of the port.

GOVT WILL LEND ALL POSSIBLE HELP TO PROTECT BUSINESS

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 3.—Having regard to the world-wide financial crisis, which has developed upon the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, and in view of the action of the Imperial Government for conserving the financial and commercial interests of the United Kingdom, the Minister of Finance announces on behalf of the Dominion government that, while it is not probable that such action on its part will be required, it stands ready to issue Dominion notes to such amount as may be necessary against securities deposited by the banks and approved by the Minister of Finance.

The Minister of Finance further announces that the government has authorized the chartered banks of Canada to make payments in bank notes instead of in gold or Dominion notes until further official agreement in that behalf. This action will tend to conserve the Canadian gold supply against demands for foreign sources, a course now being followed by all the leading nations of the world.

The minister further announces that the government has authorized the chartered banks of Canada to issue excess circulation to an amount not exceeding fifteen per cent. of their combined unimpaired paid-up capital and reserve fund from this date until further official announcement.

Any necessary special legislation will be obtained at the next session of parliament. The minister further announces that the government will if necessary should arise, give every other possible assistance in order to prevent any available interruption of stable business conditions, and for this purpose will not hesitate to use the fullest extent of all existing powers and to ask further powers from parliament if that course should seem necessary.

THE STANDARD FIRE LADDIES AGAIN ISSUED IN WAR EDITION

Thousands eagerly awaited latest news—Special bulletin service made tremendous hit.

The interest in the situation in Europe was greater than ever among the people of St. John yesterday and practically the only subject of conversation was the prospects of war and England's share in it. The Standard again issued a special edition about half past nine last evening, and this gave to the people the latest news from the European centres. Besides the special edition the Standard maintained a special bulletin service and by means of a lantern displayed different despatches as they arrived. Prince William street in front of this office was blocked with citizens eager to learn details of the situation. This service will be continued each evening as long as the trouble in Europe continues.

The enterprise of The Standard was the cause of much favorable comment, and the service given the public was highly appreciated. As the different despatches were displayed the crowd cheered, and every reference to England was the cause of an outbreak of enthusiasm.

The theatres also announced the news as it was received. At the Imperial the large audience last evening sang God Save the King, and loudly cheered when the different messages were shown.

The opera house was also enthusiastic and sang the National Anthem and cheered every reference to the British army or navy.

The war spirit has a firm hold on the people of St. John, and practically every man, woman and child in this city is watching with the keenest interest for every bit of news from the Motherland.

GUARANTEE WAR RISK ON FLOUR FROM U.S. OR CANADA

London, Aug. 3.—The government has decided to guarantee war risks on wheat and flour shipped from Canadian or United States ports to the United Kingdom under existing contracts, the premium to be paid by the importer, and to be charged by him against the eventual receiver.

This step is being taken to secure $,000,000 quarters of Canadian wheat.

WARSHIPS TO CARRY GOLD FOR RELIEF OF STRANDED AMERICANS

New York, Aug. 3.—Use of a United States warship to carry to Europe $2,500,000 in gold for the relief of stranded Americans was proposed by New York bankers today and Benjamin Strong Jr., president of the Bankers' Trust Company, left for Washington to make the suggestion to President Wilson. The gold is ready. It was withdrawn from the sub-treasury today and is packed in kegs in the vaults of the trust company.

Italy will not reinforce her troops. London, Aug. 3.—The French Embassy in London has been informed of the declaration of Italian neutrality, and that Italy will probably call out one or two classes of the army, but with no aggressive idea, such action being simply to defend her neutrality. It is added that Italy does not intend to re-enforce her troops, either on the French or Austrian frontiers.

It is also officially announced that Turkey will proclaim her neutrality in the present situation.

Bars use of wireless by merchant ships. London, Aug. 3.—The British Admiralty has issued an order prohibiting the use of wireless within the waters of the United Kingdom by merchantmen, which must dismantle their apparatus when ordered.

Dominion Trust Company

The Dominion Trust Company's Investment Certificates are based on first mortgages on inside revenue producing city properties fully covered by insurance.

Each mortgage is specially earmarked for the investor or group of investors and kept separate from the company's assets.

Although mortgage loans amounting to many millions of dollars have been placed by the Dominion Trust Company, in no case has any loss resulted in either principal or interest, better still the company has never yet had to foreclose on any property.

The investor nets seven per cent on these certificates or five per cent, where the unconditional guarantee of the company is desired as additional security. In either case the investor is relieved of the necessity of supervision of the collection of principal or interest. Certificates are issued for $100.00 and upwards.

First mortgages on improved real estate have for centuries been recognized as one of the safest forms of investment. The Dominion Trust Company, Bank British North America, Building Market Square, Paul Longley - - - Manager

PARLIAMENT WILL MEET TUESDAY

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—The government is still turning its eyes anxiously toward London, hoping for peace, but fearing and preparing for participation in the conflict.

Hon. Martin Burrell and Hon. James Loughheed are hurrying east from Alberta and British Columbia.

Hon. George E. Foster, who went to Newfoundland with the Dominion Trade Commission, has not been heard from. He was due to arrive at Sydney this morning.

The Governor General will reach Ottawa about 1 o'clock in the morning. Tomorrow he will sit with his advisers, discussing the situation.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has returned to Ottawa, and it is expected that he will be asked to confer with the administration for the early despatch of a contingent.

The Department of Militia is running night and day in all departments of the service. The administrative heads and the technical officials have had their leave cancelled and have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for consultation at any hour.

Communications are constantly passing between Ottawa and London. Hon. George H. Perley, who is at the British capital, is keeping the government informed as to developments there.

There are a great many Canadians in England or on the continent. Their friends in Canada are anxiously enquiring as to their whereabouts.

It is reported that owing to the cancellations of sailing by many of the largest passenger lines, people are finding it difficult to obtain passage which will take them to either an American or a Canadian port.

THE RESIGNATION OF CAPT. J. A. INGERSOLL

The "Grand Manan Steamboat Co." regret very much the resignation of Capt. J. A. Ingersoll, former captain of the "Grand Manan," who for thirty years has filled the office with the greatest ability and to the entire satisfaction not only of the company, but of the whole community on the island of Grand Manan.

During this long period of service as captain the company has had many changes, but Capt. Ingersoll has always been ready and willing to do his best for the interest of the company, and public. While on this route he has made many friends by his courtesy and faithfulness, and we will miss him at his accustomed place.

We wish him much success and prosperity in all his future enterprises, and trust that he may live long to enjoy the rest he has so honorably earned.

LAWTON C. GUTHILL, Manager of the Grand Manan Steamboat Co.

FIFTY MILLIONS OF EMERGENCY CURRENCY

New York, Aug. 3.—The Secretary of the United States Treasury, after an overnight conference relative to the issuance of one hundred million dollars in emergency currency, returned to Washington for conferences with bankers of other cities. As he left the first consignment of emergency bank notes—about $50,000,000—reached this city and was handled to the Sub-Treasury.

All restrictions on the amount of currency which may be issued under section of the Bank Law was removed today by the House in an amendment passed 231 to 6 and hurried over to the Senate.

President Wilson today sent a special message to Congress asking immediate appropriation of $250,000 for relief of distressed Americans abroad.

WHERE THE FIRST SERIOUS BATTLE IN THE AUSTRO-SERVIAN WAR WAS FOUGHT

FOTCHA, WHERE SERVICIAN TROOPS WERE DEFEATED BY THE AUSTRINIANS

The first serious engagement between the Austrian and Servian troops was fought at Foccha, a city in Austrian territory, and was apparently a clash between a Servian column and advancing Austrian troops. The Servians were driven back with a loss of 600 men, the Austrians losing 200 men.

RIGHT OF HOSTILE NATIONS TO CAPTURE MERCHANT SHIPS

St. John, N. B., 3rd August, 1914.

Sir,—There appears to be considerable doubt in the minds of some people as to the right of hostile nations to capture another merchant ship. That doubt probably arises from the fact that the matter was discussed at the Hague conference of 1907 and that a majority of the countries present voted in favor of making the merchant ships and other private property exempt from seizure on the high seas.

"The private property of all citizens or subjects of the signatory powers, with the exception of contraband of war, shall be exempt from capture or seizure on the sea by the armed vessels or by the military forces of any of the said signatory powers. But nothing herein contained shall extend exemption from seizure to vessels and their cargoes which may attempt to enter a port blockaded by the naval forces of any of the said powers."

Twenty-one countries including United States, Germany, Austria and Italy voted for the proposed exemption from capture of merchant ships, France, Russia and Japan voted against it.

By another Hague convention, however, the following provision regarding the crew was passed: "The captain, officers and members of the crew, when nationals of the enemy state, are not made prisoners of war, on condition that they make a formal promise in writing, not to undertake, while hostilities last, any service connected with the operations of the war."

It was also provided by the same convention that: "The postal correspondence of neutrals or belligerents, whatever its official or private character may be, found on the high seas on board a neutral or enemy ship, is inviolable. If the ship is detained the correspondence is forwarded by the captor with the least possible delay."

"The provisions of the preceding paragraph do not apply, in case of violation of blockade, to correspondence destined for, or proceeding from, a blockaded port."

"Vessels used exclusively for fishing along the coast or small boats employed in local trade exempt from capture, as well as their appliances, rigging, tackle and cargo."

"They cease to be exempt as soon as they take any part whatever in hostilities."

"Vessels charged with religious, scientific, or philanthropic missions are likewise exempt from capture."

England was the chief objector to the proposed provision excluding ships at sea from capture and the reason for her doing so was stated by Mr. F. E. Smith, the leading Unionist, in this way: "That it is by her navy alone that Great Britain can bring pressure to bear upon a continental enemy, that it is only by capturing or driving from the sea all enemy merchant vessels that such pressure can be made effective, and that by giving up this right, Great Britain, in the words of Lord Palmerston would be inflicting a fatal blow upon her naval power and would be guilty of an act of political suicide."

And Mr. McKenna, when first lord of the admiralty, said in the House of Commons: "It cannot be disputed that it is a great engine of power in the hands of Great Britain, so long as her navy is supreme, that she can interfere with foreign trade."

Yours truly, BEVERLY R. ARMSTRONG.

HOW THE STOCK EXCHANGES ARE VIEWING THE SITUATION

(J. M. Robinson and Sons' private wire telegram.)

London, Aug. 3.—Gloom filled the city today. Everywhere there is a feeling of depression. Even the most optimistic feel that England will be drawn into war. This is a bank holiday. Usually it is a day in which London tried to leave the city and go to the country but very few left here today, the situation was too serious. Food prices in many sections of the city have almost doubled in value.

Count Lichnowsky, German ambassador, issued a formal statement declaring that Germany had no intention of interfering with the sovereignty of Belgium. Belgian territory will be safeguarded, he said in case of any damage being done she will be compensated. Germany has no idea of interfering unless there is some intention of Belgian ports for warlike purposes.

New York, Aug. 3.—It is understood that with the reopening of the exchange there will be organized support of a character and extent backed by the United States government never before witnessed. Daily conferences are being held with the government financial interests. It is said: Liquidated conditions and enormous money supplies available will make a position almost impregnable, for we find as a result of the trading vacation an enormous accumulation of buying orders. The moral aspect of the case, as well as the rules of the exchange, are operating to restrict trading over the counter even in offices whose firms are not members of the New York Stock Exchange, but we find a considerable number of bids about the street for international stocks and such bids are close to the closing of the market last Thursday. There is an inclination to confine such transactions as may be handled to essentially local securities unaffected by the alarms of war.

GENERAL WAR WILL PUT WORLD BACK HALF A CENTURY

St. John, N. B., 3rd August, 1914.

The pistol shots at Sarajevo have started a convulsion throughout Europe, the ultimate result of which it is impossible to foresee. So far have been the vibrations that the financial machinery everywhere in the world has been thrown out of gear, and in many of the countries affected the exchanges have been closed for days. Such disturbances of financial operations have existed as have never before been known. This is because the possibility of a universal European war has never before been so threatening, and a contemplation of the consequences has appalled every interest.

We turn selfishly perhaps to consider what would be our own situation in such an event, and it seems as though the present effect after the first shocks would be to stimulate our trade for a time, and to enhance measurably the value of our securities, as those of the only great country which would not be involved, and so, free to turn its enormous resources and facilities to the manufacture of the needs of all the rest of the world and particularly the only great source from which to supply such needs.

With the combat localized to Austria and Serbia we would still hold something of that position because of the stability brought upon the other countries which, though not directly involved, would in such close contact, be in daily fear of some catastrophe which would light up the European fires of war, universally. But as we have often lately experienced, such a condition of apprehension on the part of the countries adjoining the seat of conflict would not be beneficial to us, and our operations would be constantly harassed by the danger there. This would certainly be the case if conditions of depression here were continuing as they have been for the last three or four years. But great destruction, the steady wiping out of values in other parts of the world would be bound to affect us adversely in the end. A general war with its enormous cost in lives and property would put the world back fifty years and while we would perhaps suffer least, the final result would be bitterness.

Whatever may be the outcome here of these earlier days of panic in Europe, our own markets have stood the strain with amazing stability. After such courageous episodes there is always a nervous reaction, but the record of Wall Street since the Austrian ultimatum last week up to the time of the closing of the Exchange on Friday was one which must stand when the record is written as an evidence of stability and solid equilibrium.

The panic throughout the whole of Europe, beginning with the declaration of war by Serbia started a torrent of foreign selling in our market. It is impossible to estimate the number of shares which have been poured in upon us in the last week, but the amount can be numbered in hundreds of thousands.

Worse perhaps than this was the result of the withdrawal of millions of gold, within six days over $33,000,000 have been taken out. Our Foreign Exchange market has been torn with derangement. At times it was impossible to obtain exchange at any price and drafts on London have sold as high as 5.20 to the Pound—a price which has never before prevailed.

BELGIUM CASTS IN HER LOT WITH FRANCE AGAINST GERMANY

Brussels, Aug. 3.—Belgium today cast her lot with France, against Germany. The government received from Berlin the proffer of an understanding, providing Belgium would facilitate the movement of German troops.

As an answer was requested by seven a.m., the cabinet met in special session immediately upon receipt of Germany's proposal. The ministers refused to accept it.

London, Aug. 3.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Paris today says German troops have taken possession of the Belgian town of Arlon.

MEETING POSTPONED Paris, Aug. 3.—Late last night President Poincare decided to postpone the meeting of parliament until Wednesday, owing to the inability of a number of deputies to reach Paris by Tuesday, the date originally set.

CONSULTATION IN JAPAN Tokyo, Aug. 3.—The emperor has specially summoned the privy council to consider Japan's attitude with relation to the European war. The emperor has asked Lieut-General Oku, the minister of war, to report to him on the condition of the army.

German merchant steamers, which were taking temporary refuge in Japanese ports, were ordered by Germany to hurry to Tsing Tau.

THE ONLY CURE FOR CONSTIPATION

Is "Fruit-a-tives" — That Wonderful Remedy Made From Fruit Juices.

Avon, Ont., May 14th, 1913. "I have used 'Fruit-a-tives' for indigestion and Constipation with most excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. When I first started about six years ago to use them, I took four at a dose but gradually reduced the dose to one tablet at night. Before taking 'Fruit-a-tives' I took salts and other pills but the treatment was too harsh. I thought I might as well suffer from the illness as from these treatments. Finally I saw 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised with a letter in which some one recommended them very highly, so I tried them, and I have no hesitation in recommending them."

THE EMERGENCY!

There will be few Canadians prepared to deny now the existence of the emergency to which Sir Robert L. Borden referred when he introduced his bill to assist Britain in the bearing of the burden of Imperial defence. Events of today constitute evidence too compelling in its nature for any such denial to be credited by intelligent people. The claim may be made that the outbreak which has plunged Europe into a conflict in which, unless the next twenty-four hours see a miracle, the Empire will become involved, was entirely unforeseen, but has this claim anything upon which it can be based?

The First Lord of the British Admiralty was the authority for the statement of emergency, and even the most bitter enemies of Mr. Churchill will hardly call him a "scare-monger." He pointed out the absolute necessity of bringing the British fleet up to a point so superior in power to all others that could be allied against her, as to provide the best guarantee of the peace of the world. Mr. Churchill's opinion was echoed and endorsed by the representative press of Britain with hardly any reservations. And the endorsement came from British newspapers of all shades of political opinion. A few examples will suffice:

The London Standard of July 11, 1912, had this to say:

"Next year Germany will have 29 battleships in full commission, seven or eight years hence the number will be 41, all of them modern vessels. We had 49 at Spithead, but 31 of these were pre-dreadnoughts, which will be mostly out of date and written off the list by the time the new German programme is completed. It will be seen that we have no margin to spare for extra European waters, even if we continue by a great effort to replace the Mediterranean squadron. For the protection of the imperial territories and commerce in the Atlantic, the Pacific and the South Seas, we must rely mainly upon the Dominions."

The Edinburgh Scotsman of July 12th, 1912, said:

"There is facing us at the present moment the necessity for making provision for the immediate future, and behind that there looms the larger question of the permanent readjustment of imperial burdens and responsibilities."

The London Chronicle July 12th, 1912:

"With the whole of the Dominions helping to bear the load which the navy involves shall be in an immensely better position to sustain the burden."

Possibly the most significant statement, viewed in the light of present events, is that of the North Wales Guardian, July 12th, 1912. That newspaper said:

"The withdrawal of our fleet from the Mediterranean is one of the gravest events in our political history. But concentrating our ships round the British Coast is an acknowledgment by the Admiralty that there is a real danger of a neighboring power striking at us."

Here is ample evidence of the fact that the emergency spoken of by Mr. Borden was not a creation of his own for political effect. The events of the present day serve to illustrate what terrible truth there was behind the term. Also should they tend to bring home with telling force to all Canadians the dreadful measure of responsibility to be borne by the men who, in that day, contributed to the defeat of Canada's plan to respond willingly to the appeal of the Empire for assistance, the appeal of the same Empire to which we, today, look for protection of our shores and our commerce.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM IN CANADA.

The European war situation and the reports to which it has given rise have contributed to bring about amongst some Canadians an entirely unwarranted feeling of uneasiness. It is to be regretted that stories such as appeared in the Telegraph yesterday morning regarding the possibility of the removal of the deputy receiver general's office from this city, are calculated to increase, rather than allay, uneasiness. As far as can be learned from the highest authorities at Ottawa such a move as the Telegraph suggests has never been thought of and, consequently, the publication of the article referred to was made without shadow of foundation. Unfortunately some people who read the Telegraph yesterday morning credited it, a risk proceeding it will be admitted, but it had sufficient effect to give the clerks in the local branch of the Dominion Savings Bank a busy hour. Moreover, it assisted in creating an erroneous impression which, in the present state of the public mind might do harm if not promptly corrected. Despite the Telegraph's alarm money deposited in the Savings Bank, or any other sound Canadian Bank, is as safe today as it ever was. Also, there was an unprecedented demand yesterday for food stuffs under the impression that the war might lead to a sharp advance in prices. As a result consumers made demands upon retailers which could not all be met and in turn the retailer came upon the jobbers and wholesalers for fresh supplies, principally of flour. The Standard was assured last evening by representatives of milling companies that there was little or no reason for the idea that there would be any great increase in the price of flour unless something entirely unforeseen happened. It was pointed out that it is the usual custom at this time of year for jobbers and retailers to run along with flour stocks as light as possible. The crop indications from the Northwest are good and nearly all handlers of flour have allowed their stocks to drop in the hope that a little later on, after harvest, they would be in a position to replenish at a lower figure than at present. The price of wheat is easier than it has been and as one dealer said, a state of war should tend in the direction of a still easier price in Canada owing to the difficulties to be faced in export. The local demand for flour, however, about cleared out what stock there was on hand, but we are assured that shipments are under way from practically all the mills with local connection and, in a short time, there should be ample supplies for all requirements. Flour has been known to be in shorter quantity in the city as the result of crop scares than it is today.

It must be remembered that in any case Canada is a country of ample resource and with the soundest financial system. There is practically no danger of naval attack except in fortified places, and even before these can be attacked the British fleet must first be overcome unless stragglers of the enemy's forces succeed in evading them. Even admitting that possibility the chance that Germans or Austrians will ever reach Canada is so slight as to reduce the element of risk to the minimum.

It is also extremely unlikely that any Canadian financial institutions will find themselves in difficulty. There may be an increase in the business depression which had its start in the Balkan war, and, possibly, it is good advice to recommend carefulness and the avoidance of undue extravagance, but there was never a time when similar counsel was not good. The war situation as yet has not given cause for the slightest anxiety in Canada, aside from the natural alarm regarding the motherland. There is however no condition which, by any stretch of the imagination, could justify a feeling of panic, and there is no likelihood that any such will arise.

THE EMPIRE AT WAR!

"Since Germany will have it she shall have it in full measure."

This statement by Sir Edward Grey in the British House of Commons yesterday, expresses the attitude of the British Empire. As long as there was a possibility of peace, Great Britain wisely held aloof from the conflict but the apparent determination of the German war lord to seize the Austro-Serbian situation as an excuse for a world wide war has at last had its effect upon Britain, as well as Britain's allies. Now the British army to full strength will be mobilized at once. From all over the Empire will gather the sons of the flag determined to defend that flag while the need exists. "Since Germany will have it she shall have it in full measure."

This is not the utterance of a jingo, but of a man who speaks from the heart as well as the head, a man who realizes the dreadful consequences of such a struggle as that upon which Great Britain is about to enter. And he speaks with the voice of a united empire behind him. The responsibility for the happenings of the immediate future will rest upon the Kaiser and his allies. And faced by Great Britain, France and Russia in battle array that responsibility will not be light.

"Since Germany will have it, she shall have it in full measure."

A dainty booklet has come to hand from the department of the interior, being a story of the heather and some facts about the mountain playgrounds of the Dominion. Few Canadians are conversant with the natural wonders of their own land, and this booklet is designed to bring the people and these playgrounds into closer acquaintance. A decoration of the booklet is a piece of heather from the alpine meadows frequented by the wild goat and ptarmigan. The lofty slopes and plateaus in the Rockies and the Selkirk are said to be as generously carpeted with heather as are the hills and moors of Scotland.

Germany has been a seeker after trouble in the markets of the world for years. And it now looks as if the Kaiser's desire in that direction may be satisfied to an extent he probably never dreamed of.

Captain Frank B. Carvell has a real "casus belli" against the Kaiser. Because of that gentleman's frantic efforts to get into the limelight the Carleton county lawyer has been backed off the Telegraph's front page.

It is still an undecided question whether Ireland shall be ruled from Dublin or Westminster. But Irishmen are of one mind that they shall not be ruled either from Berlin or Vienna.

With a general European war on it will be the open season for the arm chair critics.

Diary of Events

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

It was 204 years ago today that Henry Hudson sailed into the great northern bay which bears his name, and which is known, by means of railway connections, to become one of the great waterways of the world, and an important commercial port for western Canada. Early in 1610 Henry Hudson sailed away from London on the staunch bark "Discovery," flying the flag of England. The vessel was under charter to Sir Thomas Smith, Sir Dudley Digges and John Wolstenholme, leaders in the Muscovy Company. Henry Hudson, by reason of his previous experiences and successes as a navigator and explorer, was chosen as the best man to lead the expedition. The object of the company in sending out the "Discovery" was to discover a passage by the northwest to the Orient. As Magellan had discovered a passage around the southern end of the western world, they reasoned that such a passage probably existed around North America, and that it would provide a much shorter route to the east. On the first of August the "Discovery" sailed for the north, and called at Iceland. From that island he sailed farther south and entered the strait which is now named after him. On the third of August he was off Cape Wolstenholme, which he named after one of the members of the company which financed the expedition. On the following day, August 4, 1610, the "Discovery," with all hands, entered the waters of the great Canadian sea. The "Discovery" had not progressed far over the rippling waters of Hudson's Bay when the crew, grown mutinous, demanded of Hudson that he return to civilization. When Hudson refused, a beautiful spot backed by a lofty insulated knoll, crowned with trees, and having rows of grassy seats, cut on the slope for spectators. The boys to contend for the prize of a silver arrow; the number of competitors being at first six, but afterwards increased to twelve. The competitors were attired in fancy-dresses, white, green, or red satin, decked with spangles; with green silk sashes and caps. One of these dresses is still preserved in the school-library, where it has been for over a hundred years. Whoever shot within the three circles which surrounded the bull's eye was saluted with a concert of French horns; and he who first shot twelve times nearly rang the silver arrow. The entertainments of the day were concluded with a ball, given by the winner, in the school room, to which all the neighboring families were invited.

The Harrow shootings were abolished in 1771. Dr. Heath, the headmaster at that time, was dissatisfied with the frequent exemptions from the regular business of the school which those who practised as competitors for the prize claimed as a privilege not to be infringed upon. He also observed that other masters had done before him, that the contest usually brought down a band of profligate and disorderly persons from the metropolis to the school, and in real life it preserved the silver arrow made its seems a crazy thing to do. But the monkey thinks its play.

THE PASSING DAY

For nearly two centuries the fourth day of August was celebrated by an archery contest at Harrow, England's famous old school. This ancient custom has long since been abolished, but it will be recalled in memory today by the annual oratorical contest, which the faculty substituted for the bow-and-arrow contests.

Archery was a popular sport at Harrow from the beginning of the old school. Indeed, by the rules laid down by John Lyon, the founder of the school, the necessary implements for the proper exercise of this amusement were required to be furnished by the parents of every boy on entering the school. "You shall allow your child," said the ordinance drawn up in 1592, "at all times bow-shafts, bow-strings, and a bracer." The Butts at Harrow was, in former days, a beautiful spot backed by a lofty insulated knoll, crowned with trees, and having rows of grassy seats, cut on the slope for spectators. The boys to contend for the prize of a silver arrow; the number of competitors being at first six, but afterwards increased to twelve. The competitors were attired in fancy-dresses, white, green, or red satin, decked with spangles; with green silk sashes and caps. One of these dresses is still preserved in the school-library, where it has been for over a hundred years. Whoever shot within the three circles which surrounded the bull's eye was saluted with a concert of French horns; and he who first shot twelve times nearly rang the silver arrow. The entertainments of the day were concluded with a ball, given by the winner, in the school room, to which all the neighboring families were invited.

The gospel of the school comprises a story that in the last century, three brothers successively carried off three silver arrows, which their father stuck up in three corners of his drawing room; it became a matter of family pride to fill up the fourth corner; and this was effected by the success of the fourth brother in 1766. On another fourth of August, two boys, Merry and Love, were fenced, or nearly so, and both of them decidedly superior to the rest. Love, having shot his last arrow into the bull's eye was greeted by his school fellows with a shout, "Omnia vincit Amor." "Not so," said Merry in an under voice, "Nos non cedamus Am-

BY LEE PAPE.

I rote in my history book today about monkeys, this being it. Monkeys Monkeys are hairy animals of difrent sizes wich is sipped to tern into men if they live laving enuff. There is 3 kinds of monkeys, first, the wuns in the zoo, 2nd the wuns in the junglis, and 3rd, the wuns that kullekt pennies for ordn grindirs. If you look at a monkey in the zoo he will generally look back at you andm ake a face, as if he nos you ust to be a monkey wunte and is sange, I shoud werry.

Sum fellos look like monkeys anyhow, especially fellos with freckle, and evry wunte in a wile you see a monkey that looks like some follo you no. This properly proves that we was awl monkeys befor the pub- lick skools opened and sivilized the wuns. The best way to cure a con- sected fello is to sho him a monkey that awl men was created skwil. If you can look at a monkey that looks like you and still be conseted, no wundir the monkey seems to be laving.

Wun thing wich shows men ust to be monkeys wunts is that mun- keys are the only animals sivilized enuff to lern to smook sigeretts. I rote a pome about monkeys, being this

A monkey is a funny beest, It hangs frudy lims of trees, And wen it wunts to reach the ground It drops down by degrees. It rapps its tals around a brantsh And its sivilized limbs of trees. Its seems a krazy thing to do But the monkey thinks its play.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

EVA TANGUAY 36 TODAY. Evan Tanguay, president of the "I Don't Care" Club and "Cyclonic Comedienne," was born in Canada thirty-six years ago today. The highest salaried vaudeville variety stage has ever known, the leading exponent of the St. Vitus school of dramatic art, was an incubator baby. Let her press agent tell the story: "She cyclonic comedienne first saw the light of days in the woods in Canada, the place of her birth being Linsalva, P. Q., about thirty miles from Sherbrooke. She was only two pounds in weight and only nine inches long.

Miss Tanguay's father was a physician, and realized that heroic measures would be necessary if he intended to keep his child alive. Dr. Tanguay placed his little offspring in a wooden box under the stove, which she sometimes shared with the family cat, whose place it originally was. For five weeks after her birth Eva Tanguay lived in the box beneath the stove.

After describing Miss Tanguay's daily champagne bath, the voracious publicity promoter of the French Canadian actress asks us to believe this: "When Eva Tanguay, the cyclonic comedienne, sings the song that has made her most famous, her 'I Don't Care' number, audiences who do not know her in private life, are prone to accept this song as characteristic of her real temperament, but in real life Miss Tanguay is different. After hunting all over Greater New York she took an apartment in one of the most up-to-date buildings in Manhattan, on fashionable Morningside Heights. The owners of the building refused to remodel the structure to permit of her having additional space she required, so she purchased the apartment building outright, had a wall dividing two apartments removed, and made the necessary alterations that has given her a capacious home with a grand hall. As a result, Miss Tanguay has a beautiful home, with music rooms, billiard rooms, spacious, and well stocked library and lounging room."

NOW IS THE TIME TO Plan For The Summer

We will not give a summer vacation this year as a number of students from long distances would be inconvenienced thereby. Then our summers are so deliciously cool that St. John is a harbor of refuge during the hot season and study is just as pleasant as any other time. Students can therefore enter at any time.

IDLE COAL FLEET

Another of the idle fleet of coal carriers has succeeded in getting a charter, the five-masted schooner Oakley C. Curtis, which has been in port at Portland since May 18. She was put on the flats near the marine railway Thursday, where her bottom will be scraped preparatory to sailing for a coal port.

THE ANCHOR LINE

The Anchor liner California stranded at Tory Island, is of 8,622 tons, built at Glasgow in 1907 and valued at $1,000,000. Apart from insurance on the hull, there are considerable underwriting interests in the general cargo in New York. She is now filled with water from end to end level with the outside. Salvage operations are very difficult, and the vessel will very likely prove a total loss.

The three-masted schooner Gladys from Hawkesbury, N. S., for Philadelphia, laden with oats, arrived at Portland about 10 o'clock Friday evening in tow of the British tug Scotsman, both anchoring for the night in the lower harbor. Nothing is known as to the cause of the schooner coming up in tow, but it is surmised that she must be leaking.

FORWARDING PLANS FOR EXHIBITION

At the Exhibition offices yesterday word was received from the live stock commissioner to the effect that there was a possibility of the department providing an egg show for the St. John Exhibition similar to the one at the Winter Fair at Amherst last December. This exhibit was to have come to St. John, but unfortunately was destroyed in the explosion which occurred at the Ottawa Cattle Show last winter and the department have been so busy replacing losses then incurred that it was considered doubtful whether they would be able to consider the question of a new exhibit in time for St. John.

CASHED BOGUS EXPRESS ORDERS IN THIS CITY

Special to The Standard
 Woodstock, N. B., Aug. 3.—The examination of R. L. Dalton, charged with passing forged express orders, was resumed before Police Magistrate Holyoke on Monday. Three witnesses, James H. Rogers, agent at Moncton; James Doherty and Joseph S. Snodgrass, agents at St. John, gave evidence that Dalton had bogus orders cashed at each of these offices. The magistrate remanded the prisoner to the court of jurisdiction which meets here the fourth Tuesday in September.

CUNARD LINER PUT INTO PLYMOUTH

London, Aug. 3.—Passengers arriving at London today from Montreal on the Cunard liner Andania, bound for Southampton, reported that the vessel was met at sea by a British torpedo boat, and ordered by wireless to stop. The liner then was led into Plymouth as a matter of precaution against mines. Plymouth was found filled with soldiers and searchlights were seen constantly flashing about the harbor.

DUTY OF STATES TO HELP REST OF WORLD IN CRISIS, SAYS WILSON

Washington, Aug. 3.—President Wilson today appealed to the people of the United States to remain calm during the war in Europe. He declared the United States owes it to mankind to help the rest of the world during the present crisis.

The administration is bending every effort, he said, toward getting ships to carry the foodstuffs and other products of the United States to all the world and to bring home Americans stranded in Europe.

A proclamation, Mr. Wilson says, will be issued as soon as it can be completed by the State Department. He does not believe there will be much necessity for congress to remain in session.

SHORT SELLING IN WHEAT HAS CEASED; MARKET UNSETTLED

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Wheat—A very unsettled market; there seemed to be almost an absence of buying power until near the close, when a prominent local interest was a moderate buyer of September. It was not a large market at any time. Offerings came principally from the cash interests in the way of hedging sales. Commission house holdings have been well liquidated and short selling has ceased. The result is that it is not difficult to fill market orders with any degree of satisfaction. The routine news at any other time would have been called bearish. The world's shipments were large, the amount of wheat afloat increased. Local stocks showed a liberal accumulation and visible was large. Primary receipts were large, cash sales light, cash markets weak in all directions. That the European conflict will enhance values of wheat will hardly be disputed. Temporarily prices may be depressed by the inability to sell it abroad, but eventually we believe it will sell materially higher. The domestic bearish influences being now fully nullified by European political outlook. A prominent crop expert and statistician estimates winter wheat yield at 685,250,000 bushels and spring wheat at 254,000,000, a total of 939,250,000 bushels.

The market is now down to almost a level where it started on the first rumors of war.

Corn—A very nervous and erratic market. Higher early on domestic news in the way of a bullish Missouri crop and estimate by Snow of 2,765,000,000 bushels. The market became overbought, however, and on attempting to take profits, longs precipitated a sharp break. The sample market was strong. Everything points to a congestion in the old crop months and considerable speculative activity in the December and May. The short interest in these deliveries is very well eliminated at present, and they look overbought.

Oats—A weak cash market and large receipts combined with selling by a prominent elevator interest caused a sharp break in oats. Local stocks showed a fair increase and the visible small one. Oats are fast approaching the cent a pound level and we believe that they are a better purchase than a sale on all these breaks.

Provisions—Hog products have been weak, especially lard, in which there was wholesale liquidation due to the immense stocks here and closing of foreign markets to that commodity. It naturally created weakness in pork and ribs which declined. Halburd, Warren and Chandler.

HOPEWELL HILL

Hopewell Hill, Aug. 3.—Rev. Chas. P. Stebbins, B.A., of the Lindsay Circuit arrived at the parsonage on Friday evening for a week's visit with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Thos. Stebbins.

Mrs. Amos Woodworth, of Winnipeg, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Levi Downey, of Curryville, spent Thursday with friends here.

H. E. Brewster, of Moncton, is spending his vacation with his mother, Mrs. Florence Brewster.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Barkhouse moved into one half of the James Rogers house.

Mrs. Fenwick Smith, Mrs. Blair Chapman, Mrs. Albert J. Steves, Hope lock E. Milton, of Moncton and Mrs. C. L. Peck, of Hopewell Cape, attended the funeral of their niece, Miss A. A. Milton, on Wednesday. Others from outside who also motored were Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelson Smith, Lewis Smith, and Lorne Steves, of Lower Coveville; H. E. Milton, Harold Smith, Misses Eva and Annie Milton, of Moncton and R. Earle Peck, of St. John. The Misses Minnie Newcombe, Evelyn Steves and Gertrude Mac Donald.

ENSORSHIP OF CABLES IN DOMINION

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—After a cabinet council meeting this afternoon the following statement was issued by the government:

"In conformity with similar action taken in other parts of the empire, including the United Kingdom, a censorship of cable and wireless messages has been established in Canada. Its object is to prevent the dissemination in other countries of news which might be used to the disadvantage of the empire and especially of Canada in certain contingencies. There is no desire or intention to interfere with the private concerns of bona fide residents of the dominion and the provision is solely for the national safety. In order to insure this, it is necessary that the censors should be able to read and understand the messages in transmission and satisfy themselves as to their character. Senders of private messages in plain language will experience little or no inconvenience from this censorship. Further information can be obtained from the officer to whom the duty of censorship has been entrusted, Major C. F. Hamilton, deputy chief censor, has his headquarters at militia headquarters, Ottawa."

"Since Germany Will Have It, She Shall Have It in Full Measure"

---Sir Edward Grey.

BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS PRACTICALLY A UNIT FOR WAR; FORMAL DECLARATION EXPECTED

London, Aug. 3.—While all Europe waits in tensest strains for Asquith's word, an apparently endless debate is going on in the Commons. Sir Edward Grey at the conclusion of his speech practically left the declaration of war with the house. The debate was however what the vote will be. With only two dissenting voices from Keir Hardy and Morel, M. P. for Barnleigh, both Socialists, the word was war. All parties put politics aside and gave wholehearted support to the government. Cheering to the echo greeted Grey's strong declaration. Asquith's speech tonight is expected to amount to a formal declaration.

COMMONS FREE TO DECIDE.

Sir Edward Grey stated in the House of Commons today that the House was free to decide what the British government action in the conflict should be. Sir Edward added that Great Britain had not committed herself to anything but diplomatic support.

Sir Edward Grey requested the House of Commons to approach the consideration of the European crisis from the point of view of British interests, British honor and British obligations.

The Foreign Secretary said the House was free to decide what the British attitude should be.

"At last the suspense is at an end. We believe every Briton with any sort of manhood in him will hear the news with relief.

"Since Germany will have it, she shall have it in full measure," said Sir Edward Grey.

"No nation ever went into war with better heart or clearer conscience than Great Britain does now."

Sir Edward Grey told the House he had given France the assurance that if the German fleet came into the English channel, or through the North Sea to "undertake hostile operations against the French coast or shipping, the British fleet would give all the protection in its power."

In other parts of his speech Sir Edward Grey said: "The intervention with Germany in regard to the independence of Belgium was carried out by England last night. If the independents of Belgium should be destroyed the independence of Holland also would be gone."

The foreign secretary then asked the House to consider what British interests were at stake, "if in a crisis like this we were to run away." This was greeted with loud cheers and Sir Edward continued:

"Do not imagine that if a great power stands aside in a war like this it is going to be in a position to exert its influence at the end. I am not quite sure whether the facts regarding Belgium are as they reached this government but there is an obligation on this country to do its utmost to prevent the consequences to which those facts would lead if they were not opposed.

"We have as yet made no engagement for sending an expeditionary force out of this country, but we have mobilized our fleet and the mobilization of our army is taking place.

"We must be prepared and we are prepared to face the consequences of using all our strength at any moment—we know not how soon—to defend ourselves.

"So far as the forces of the Crown are concerned the premier and the first lord of the admiralty have no doubt whatever of their readiness and their efficiency. They never were at a higher mark of readiness. There never was a time when confidence was more justified in their ability to protect our shores and our commerce.

"If the situation develops as it seems probable, it will develop we shall face it.

Toward the close of his speech Sir Edward Grey said: "We must be prepared and we are prepared to face the consequences of using all our strength at any moment—we know not how soon in order to defend ourselves."

"I believe when the country realizes what is at stake it will support the government with determination and with endurance."

From all parts of the House there came roars of cheering. In a preceding part of his discourse while discussing the question of Belgium, Sir Edward had said:

"It is said we might stand aside and husband our resources in order to intervene in the end and put things right."

"If in a crisis of this kind we run away from our obligations of honor and interest with regard to the Belgian treaty, I doubt whether, whatever material force we might at end, friendship entails obligations that every man look into his own heart and feelings and construe the extent of our obligation."

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, said the country had taken the course it had, because it had been forced upon the country and in his opinion England had absolutely no alternative.

John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, said: "There was a possibility that from the present situation might arise a result which would be good for the future welfare and integrity of the empire."

The foreign secretary then read a letter he wrote December 22, 1912, to the effect that if either government had grave reason to expect an unprovoked attack by a third power it should discuss whether both governments should act together to prevent aggression. He then continued: "That is our starting point and that statement clears the ground as to the settlement of our obligations."

"The present crisis has not originated in a matter which principally concerns France. No government and no country had less desire to be involved in the Austro-Serbian dispute than France. France was involved because of its obligations of honor.

We have had a long standing friendship with France. As to how far that

JOHN REDMOND GIVES ASSURANCE OF THE LOYALTY OF IRELAND

London, Aug. 3.—Wild cheering from all parts of the house greeted John E. Redmond, the Nationalist leader when he assured the government that every soldier in Ireland might be withdrawn tomorrow and the coasts of Ireland would be defended against invasion by her armed sons, the Catholics of the south and the Protestants of Ulster.

Andrew Bonar Law, of the opposition, warmly supported the government and referred amid cheers to the pledges of support received from the British dominions.

James Ramsay MacDonald, Socialist and Labor member, declared he was not persuaded that Great Britain was in danger nor her honor involved. He was convinced she should have remained neutral.

ENGLISH FLAG CHEERED WHEN SHOWN IN MAINE

Special to The Standard. Augusta, Me., Aug. 2.—Tentative inquiries have been made of the Maine authorities here regarding the attitude of the state toward the possible movement of armed Canadian troops across Maine via the Canadian Pacific, should the outbreak of hostilities require their being furnished for England's armies. Although the Canadian troops could be sent to the Atlantic seaboard via all Canadian routes, the main line of the Canadian Pacific passes through this state, and its utilization might result in the saving of time and confusion in choosing other routes.

Under ordinary circumstances, permission for armed Canadian troops to enter the state would be asked of the state department at Washington. The request would be referred to the Maine authorities and, upon their approval, would be granted at Washington.

It is said here officially, that the only objection in the present instance would be due to the possibility that the granting of such permission might be an infringement of the United States' neutrality in case of war.

Whether it would or not, would probably be decided at Washington. As far as Maine is concerned, it is likely that every possible courtesy would be extended to Canada.

In the event of a general European war, the sympathy of this section of the country—and it is believed the vast majority of the United States—would be unreservedly on the side of England and her allies.

The English flag was loudly cheered at the state department at Washington last night while loudly greeted the German national emblem.

COULD NOT ACCEDE TO THE DEMANDS MADE BY GERMANY

Brussels, Aug. 3.—The German ultimatum to Belgium, presented at seven o'clock on Sunday evening, stated that Germany had learned of the presence of large bodies of French soldiers preparing to operate from Givet by way of Namur. Germany consequently had been obliged to adopt measures of defense and she begged the Belgian government to inform her at seven o'clock on Monday morning whether Belgium was prepared to facilitate the German operations.

The Belgian government saying it was very much surprised at the statements made by Germany as it had received formal assurances from France concerning the neutrality of Belgium. Moreover, Belgium had too high a sense of her dignity and her interest to accede to such demands.

Belgium, therefore, refused definitely to do anything to facilitate the German operations, and protested against any violations of her territory being resolved by all the means in her power energetically to defend her neutrality, which had been guaranteed by various treaties and by the King of Prussia.

friendship entails obligations that every man look into his own heart and feelings and construe the extent of our obligation."

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, said the country had taken the course it had, because it had been forced upon the country and in his opinion England had absolutely no alternative.

John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, said: "There was a possibility that from the present situation might arise a result which would be good for the future welfare and integrity of the empire."

The foreign secretary then read a letter he wrote December 22, 1912, to the effect that if either government had grave reason to expect an unprovoked attack by a third power it should discuss whether both governments should act together to prevent aggression. He then continued: "That is our starting point and that statement clears the ground as to the settlement of our obligations."

"The present crisis has not originated in a matter which principally concerns France. No government and no country had less desire to be involved in the Austro-Serbian dispute than France. France was involved because of its obligations of honor.

GERMANY DENIES THAT SHE WAS THE INVADER; FRANCE ACTED FIRST

EUROPEAN WAR STIMULUS TO COTTON TRADE

Montreal, Aug. 3.—That a general European war would stimulate the cotton trade in this country to a marked extent for the time being, but eventually would most seriously depress the industry here as well as in every part of the world, was the opinion of A. O. Dawson, general manager of Canadian Cottons, Limited, who was interviewed by a representative of the Journal of Commerce this morning.

Mr. Dawson said—"The domestic consumption of actual cotton goods is practically supplied by the mills in this country, with the exception of fancy and fine cottons and specialties, so that the actual trade there would be only slightly affected. A general war such as we are now threatened with would so demoralize the great cotton consuming centres of the world that the raw cotton market would be placed in a condition never before experienced in the history of the world.

England supplies four-fifths of the export cotton trade of the world, and in the event of her going to war the industry there, although temporarily stimulated by the extra demand, would be completely demoralized. The great American cotton crop would become a glut on the market and prices would undoubtedly fall to the lowest level ever experienced. This, of course, would be beneficial to the industry here, but not to such an extent as to counterbalance the appalling effect a general European conflict would have to have on world commerce and industry, and therefore on all branches of industry in Canada. We cannot look on the situation with any but the most serious forebodings. It is impossible to foresee the awful results of such a war, and likewise to give anything but the most general observations on its effect on this special industry in Canada.

Officials of the Dominion Textile Company gave practically similar views of the situation. Such a conflict is sure to have a most serious effect on the cotton industry throughout the world and the industry here will not escape, along with every other branch of industry and commerce in the country. The situation in the raw cotton market, yesterday and this morning, is ample evidence of the effect produced which will undoubtedly become much more serious in the event of the worst happening.

Journal of Commerce.

Serious Fighting at Drina. Vienna, Aug. 3.—The "Militaersche Rundschau" states that serious fighting is in progress on the River Drina. Bands of Serbian volunteers who are attempting to cross the river are opposed by Austro-Hungarian frontier guards.

The Servians fired on their own river boats, killing and injuring many men.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—The war office this evening confirmed the report that a French army has invaded Germany. The French forces crossed the frontier near Alt Muensterlo, a town on the Alsace-French border, ten miles east Belfort.

In an official statement the foreign office gives the lie to France's claim that Germany was the aggressor. The statement declared that Germany did not act until after French troops had crossed the German frontier.

London, Aug. 3.—Belgium has defied Germany. In the House of Commons tonight Sir Edward Grey announced that Germany had notified the Belgian government that she would treat her as an enemy unless the Belgians consented to maintain an attitude of friendly neutrality. Belgium refused and announced that she was prepared to resist aggression by every means in her power.

London, Aug. 3.—Belgian king heads the army. A news agency dispatch from Brussels this evening says that the king has left for the front to take command of the Belgian army. The report states that Belgium will oppose any further advance of Germany across her territory.

U. S. NAVAL LINE TO CARRY MAIL

Washington, Aug. 3.—The Senate today voted to authorize the Secretary of the Navy to establish naval lines to carry mail, passengers and freight to South America and Europe. The bill goes to the House.

Paris, Aug. 3.—The invasion of French territory by German troops is regarded in official circles here as making war between the two countries start automatically without a formal declaration.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

WHEN young Miss Housewife first aspired, to build the home her mate desired, she dreamed of castles in the air, with never toil nor woe nor care. She half imagined, in a way, that keeping house was only "play."

Too soon the sordid side of life—the dust and grime and soot and strife—each one, in turn, reminded her, that little problems must occur. A part of thrift is in the knack of fighting dirt around you, back, of keeping constantly at work where dust and germs of illness lurk.

This housewife had her little cry, gave up—and scarcely knowing why. Then, from the sombre clouds of doubt, two rays of golden hope crept out. The Gold Dust Twins threw wide the door and entered, eager for a chore. They polished all the silverware, they scrubbed the bathroom and the stairs. Each mirror soon was shining bright, the kettles shone with gleaming light, and all around, from pit to dome, they garnished up that little home.

Ah! Ye who feel that, once begun, a housewife's work is NEVER done, have cheer! The Gold Dust Twins make play of any task that comes their way. A mop—a cloth—a busy brush, and honestly it makes us bluish, to think we ever played the drone by working in the house alone.

The Gold Dust Twins

Preventing a Business Slump

IF during September, October and November manufacturers and merchants were to suspend their selling aggressiveness, as represented by their newspaper advertising, autumn business for them would be very, very dull. When selling energy is reduced, business slumps.

The slump in summer business which many firms experience is due mainly to a collapse of their own efforts to keep business up to its usual level. The public does not eat less in summer than in the autumn; it merely changes its diet.

The summer apparel worn by the average man and woman differs from autumn or winter apparel only in weight and kind, not in extent or variety.

The common needs of man remain fairly uniform the year round.

The way to keep business up in summer is to keep up the selling pressure as faithfully then as at other seasons, and to keep open the channel of communication between seller and buyer—the channel of newspaper advertising.

You can obtain helpful advice on advertising free of cost and without obligation by consulting the Advertising Department of The Standard.

AIRSHIPS HOVER OVER FRANCE
 Paris, Aug. 3.—The German ambassador was still at his post in Paris today, and there was no indication of his intention to leave.
 Throughout the night aeroplanes had flown hither and thither over the city watching the horizon toward the eastern frontier while searchlights swept the skies and made it almost impossible for any hostile air craft to approach.
 The streets of the French capital today presented a deserted aspect. All the motor busses and most of the taxicabs had disappeared having been requisitioned by the army while a large proportion of the men had gone to join their regiments.
 Special trains have been reserved by the authorities for the transportation to Paris of foodstuffs, particularly milk, and a decree was issued threatening with severe measures anyone attempting to raise the prices of food.

SPORTOGRAPHY BY "GRAVY"

Joseph Birmingham, the child manager of the Cleveland Naps, and Cap'n Sherwood Magee, the distinguished outfielder of the Phillies, are the "twins" of the diamond pastime, for they were born on the same day, August 5, 1884. It isn't likely that Cleveland fans will be very liberal with birthday gifts when the precocious pilot of the slumbering Naps slides past his thirtieth milestones next Thursday, for as a manager Joe hasn't set the league on fire this season. He did very nicely last year keeping Cleveland in second place the greater part of the season and finishing third, but this year some awful jinx has got him in its grasp, and the Naps are as sleepy and somnolent as their name would indicate. Joe has even lost his title of "child manager" for Charley Herzog, who is piloting the Reds in the neighboring city of Cincinnati. In his junior by nearly a year, and thus entitled to whatever eclat and nutriment there may be in the label of infant pilot, Birmingham was born in Elmira, N. Y., and debuted on the diamond with the Father Mathews Temperance Team in his native town. In 1906 he played in the New York State League and joined the Cleveland's, as an outfielder in 1907. Joe is Irish by descent, and he has the virtue of never

ENGLAND MAD OVER BOXING

England is described as being fairly mad about the boxing game, but this condition of affairs is by no means anything new. The scions of royalty and nobility who give their patronage to the ring game today are but emulating their ancestors of a century ago. In fact it was just 100 years ago on August 1, 1814, that Tom Belcher, one of the greatest of English champions, opened the Castle Tavern in Holborn, London, as a rendezvous for the aristocratic patrons of the sport in which Belcher had shone so brilliantly. A contemporary writer says Belcher's place:
 "The gallant Boniface soon found himself doing a roaring business. His aristocratic patrons literally mobbed the house—the bloods, the bucks, the men of tone, all the cream, in fact, of sporting rank and fashion soon made the jolly tavern in Holborn their headquarters. In the snugger behind the bar the choicest spirits of the period gathered in the evening. Persons of the highest consequence in the state might be seen in Tom Belcher's parlor—royal dukes condescended to visit it, whilst any night you might find yourself hobnobbing with celebrities of all kinds—noble Corinthians seeing life, M. P.'s eager to hear the latest gossip of the ring, poets on the look-out for bruliers as heroes, artists for subjects, country gentlemen up by coach, boxers looking for customers, and young templars and surgeons for fresh means of killing time. The famous Dandy Club had its headquarters at the Castle, and the long gas-lit club room, with its gallery of sporting pictures and portraits, was scarcely a less favorite spot with the fancy than the cosy parlor. As a caterer for the fancy, Tom Belcher was unrivalled. No man knew better than most how to keep the ball rolling."
 Most of the great pugilistic matches of the period were made at Belcher's tavern, and similar resorts kept by retired pugilists, and the making of a match was usually followed by a banquet at which there was more drinking than eating. Vast sums were wagered on the result, but the boxers themselves saw little of this money, and a brims of Belcher's day would have failed if offered such a sum as even second rate boxers get away with today in that same merrie England.

BIRMINGHAM AND MAGEE ARE TWINS OF DIAMOND PASTIME.

knowing when he is licked. He is a bit truculent by nature, and never lodges trouble when he sees it coming, but goes forth gallantly to meet it. A few weeks ago Cap'n Ban Johnson gave him a long rest for saucing an umpire. Ban and Joe have been hit it off very well, and on one occasion Ban was quoted as expressing the opinion that Joe was not a proper sort of person to pilot a club of nice young men. Birmy also had a run-in with Napoleon Lajoie early in his career as manager, and altogether his career as a manager has been just one thing after another.
 Sherwood Magee, the hard-hitting batsman and left fielder of the Philadelphia Nationals, was born in Clarendon, Pa., and is also gifted with a somewhat peppery and pugacious disposition. Magee played independent ball in Allentown and Carlisle, Pa., before he was signed by the Phillies a full decade ago. He led the National League in batting in 1910. At the beginning of the present season Magee was appointed captain of the Phillies to succeed Mike Donlan. Besides having been born on the same day, Birmingham and Magee are about the same in height and weight and disposition. The Philadelphia having the advantage in 1907, Joe is Irish by descent, and he has the virtue of never

SPIKED SHOE FOR HORSES

Matt Koch, a Cincinnati blacksmith, has just perfected a spiked horseshoe that may revolutionize the style of shoes now worn by racing horses. It is very similar in the order of spiked shoes worn by sprinters.
 Koch, discussing his idea, says: "Spiked shoes help sprinters. Why shouldn't spiked shoes help racing horses? With this question in mind I set about three years ago trying to make a spiked horseshoe that would aid the running horse and increase his speed. I believe I have finally discovered the process.
 "I make the shoe the same way any other racing shoe is made and place four spikes in the plates. I had some trouble for a time getting the spikes just right in length. In some of my early experiments some spikes were too long, others were too short.
 "I equipped several horses with the perfect spiked shoes and in private trials they made a mile in two seconds better time than their average record.
 "I believe if the spiked shoe is adopted for all racing horses it will mean the smashing of nearly every existing race record."

THIS DATE IN RING ANNALS

Tuesday, August 4, 1914.
 1897—Jack Everhardt defeated Spike Kelly in 20 rounds at San Francisco. While Everhardt never achieved the title, he was one of the greatest lightweights of the day, and could probably have beaten Welsh and Ritchie raw.
 Everhardt was a native of New Orleans, and he fought his first important battle in the Crescent City with Andy Bowen, who defeated him in 35 rounds. This was shortly after Bowen's famous fight with Burke in New Orleans, which went 110 rounds and was the longest bout in prize ring history. In 1884 Jack knocked out Stanton Abbot in the 8th round at New Orleans, and in 1885 he went to Coney Island and scrapped with Kid Lavigne for the title. Abbot was the most fastidious patron of first-class picture houses. Two big acts, with fine film displays, were presented to the patrons of the popular Charlotte street house.
 Act No. 1 introduced the audience to the Smetta Sisters, novelty acrobatic girls in vaudeville up-to-date. The pretty costumes and the many other pleasing incidents of an unique production were evidently much appreciated by the audience, for an "encore" was demanded and accorded to.
 The second act brought to notice Walden Whipple, the funny man from Bushville. He was a funny man indeed, one of the sort who could provoke a smile from the blindest-hearted person this side of the rock of Gibraltar. A glance at W. W. was sufficient. And he could play the banjo, too. It is said that his selections on this instrument are an inspiration, and the Lyric proved this to be the case.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS AGAINST DESIGNS ON BIG DRY DOCK

Montreal, Aug. 3.—The Canadian Vickers Company, owners of the Duke of Cornwall drydock, has directed the large force of policemen and employees at the works to redouble their vigilance.
 The drydock is looked upon as one of the most important crafts on the St. Lawrence, as in the event of a British warship being disabled in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, or in the extreme end of the river, it would be the only means available for the necessary repair work. It is pointed out that in case of need the drydock could be very easily towed to Quebec, where it would be accessible to the deepest draft vessels.

 the inter-national joy smoke brought thousands and thousands of old jimmy pipes out of the garrets. It has revolutionized pipe smoking! Today three men smoke a pipe where one smoked before.

 That's because Prinze Albert is made by a patented process that cuts out the "grouch" and just lets in the sunshine! Never in your life have you hit such flavor and fragrance and freshness!
 Play P. A. in a jimmy pipe or roll up the corkingest smoking's cigarette you ever put fire to. It's all one and the same thing—just good for what ails your smokappetite! And it rolls up so dead easy. Being mighty fresh, it just stays put and doesn't blow away or run away like the dust-brands.
 And, you know, today's the day!

Prinze Albert is the largest seller in the United States. It is now being imported into Canada by wholesale dealers and is sold by all of the leading retail dealers. In one-eighth-lb. red tins.

THE WEATHER.

Maritime—Moderate North-erly and northwesterly winds; fair and cool. Toronto, Aug. 3.—Excessively hot weather has prevailed to-day in southern districts of Alberta and Saskatchewan, when temperatures of over 100 were recorded in some localities. Elsewhere in Canada it was comparatively cool, with showers in the Maritime Provinces. Temperatures.

Table with 2 columns: Location and Temperature (Min. Max.). Locations include Prince Rupert, Vancouver, Kamloops, Edmonton, Regina, Prince Albert, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Moose Jaw, Winnipeg, Port Arthur, Perry Sound, London, Toronto, Kingston, Montreal, Halifax, and St. John.

AROUND THE CITY

Exhibition Privilege. Anybody desiring the privilege of moving the manure from the cattle sheds during the coming exhibition should communicate with the manager at an early date.

Twenty Farms Taken Up. At the meeting of the Farm Settlement Board yesterday arrangements were completed for the transfer of twenty farms. Of the farms sold by the board 19 were taken up by natives of the province and one by a former native who has returned from the States.

Queen's Rollaway. The Queen's Rollaway will open on Saturday next for the full season of roller skating. A new floor has been laid in the rink. The interior of the large building, dressing rooms, etc. have all been re-painted and with the new noiseless rubber bound skates, to get a night at this popular pleasure resort will certainly be a treat.

Two Austrian Arrested. The first real sign of Austrian feeling in this city was shown yesterday afternoon when Wasile Sewamak, aged 36, and Dumitri Warozick, aged 28, both hailing from Austria, made a charge against the office of Louis Feder on Pond street. The struggle was brief; a plate glass window was broken and the two Austrians were arrested by Patrolman Hickey and placed in a central station cell.

Few Reported. The inspectors appointed by the Board of Health to report on the condition of backyards, alleys, etc. have completed their work. Quite a number of households were reported for falling to obey instructions given them by the inspectors on their first round, but the number is rather less than last year. The solicitor of the board will take prosecutions against delinquents.

Commercial Men Unhappy. Commercial travellers in the city yesterday had reason to be unhappy over the state of mind produced in local merchants by the war news. "Everybody is up in the air. It is useless to try to do business here," was their verdict. At the same time travellers representing Canadian houses selling European goods had not received instructions not to try to book orders. Travellers seemed to think that there was something premature at least about the panic which had seized upon local business men.

Town Planning. Commissioners of the city at the meeting of the city commissioners yesterday afternoon gave notice that at the next meeting of the council he would introduce a resolution for the appointment of town planning committee to take up the work of town planning as provided for by the act recently put through the legislature. Mayor Frink spoke of the city lands in Lancaster and said he had been in communication with several landscape architects and he hoped to have one here soon to go into the details of the laying out of the property into suitable building lots and breathing spaces.

HIS LEG BROKEN. Joseph Linto, an employe of the Farnington pulp mill, Fairville, had a leg broken yesterday morning about ten o'clock while engaged at log piling. He was working on top of a long pile of logs and was attempting to stop a rolling log by placing his foot against it. The log was rolling too swiftly, however, to be stopped in that way and it crashed up against Linto's leg before he could get out of the way.

"CORSAIR FARM." G. C. Cossar of Scotland, owner of the farm at Lower Gaspetown to which he sends boys for training in rural pursuits, was at the Royal yesterday. Mr. Cossar has sent out several hundred boys since he started his farm at Gaspetown, and is optimistic about the success of his novel colonization scheme.

PERSONAL. Mr. W. J. Maxwell accompanied by her grandson, Maxwell Harrington, left by the S.S. Calvin Austin, Saturday evening to spend a few weeks with relatives in Boston and Everett, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Thorne, Havelock, N. B., announce the engagement of their oldest daughter, Gertrude Estelle, to Mr. Frank B. Herrett, of Aberdeen, South Dakota. The marriage to take place August 19th.

Mrs. W. A. Nelson, nee Davidson, will be at home to her friends Thursday afternoon and evening, August 6th, at her residence 244 Prince St., West St. John.

Miss Ethel Ingersoll, St. James St., has returned from a visit to Grand Mannan.

NEW BRUNSWICK MILITAMEN OFFER SWORDS TO EMPIRE

Practically every officer in the province wants to go to front—Lower ranks no less anxious to face the enemy.

Practically all the officers of New Brunswick regiments have volunteered for active service, and are busy finding how many men are willing to volunteer. Col. J. L. McAvity, commanding the 62nd Regiment St. John Fusiliers, had a meeting with his officers yesterday and most of them volunteered for active service.

Col. H. H. McLean, commanding the 25th New Brunswick Dragoons, stated last evening that all the officers under his command had volunteered for active service, and were making vigorous efforts to find out how many men would volunteer.

Col. J. A. MacDougall of the 8th Prince Louise Hussars also reported that most of his officers had volunteered their services.

Col. McLean and Col. McAvity are advertising for recruits to their regiments, as the strength of both regiments on a peace footing is considerably less than what is expected to be on a war footing.

All colonels in New Brunswick have received instructions from the minister of militia to find out how many men under their command are willing to volunteer for active service.

The situation in Europe has caused an increase of nearly twenty-five per cent. in number of calls handled by the local telephone exchange.

The New Brunswick Telephone Co. has arranged to give any calls in connection with the mobilization of troops the preference, and government officials have only to call the toll supervisor to have their calls given the first chance.

The calls during the last few days have been mostly concerned with the situation in Europe and the condition of the markets.

Since Saturday the number of calls has shown a large increase and the officials of the company have done all in their power to facilitate the handling of messages.

Col. B. R. Armstrong, commanding officer of the 3rd Regiment of Canadian Artillery, stated last evening that enough officers and non-commissioned officers of his regiment to form a battery had volunteered for European service, but said he was not authorized to give out their names as yet.

There is a difference between volunteering for European service, and being ready for active service. All militia men are liable to be called out for active service, but are not liable to be called for European service.

Col. Armstrong received no word from Ottawa today.

GENERAL RUN ON DIFFERENT CITY PROVISION MERCHANTS

Flour scarce and in great demand, but dealers say there is no need for anxiety—Lumber shipments to Old Country.

There was a general run on the different provision merchants yesterday, and the call for sugar and flour was particularly heavy. Retailers in different parts of the city soon had their stocks exhausted, and the wholesalers, who were carrying low stocks in anticipation of a reduction in prices as soon as the harvest was gathered, found their supplies inadequate and orders for further supplies were forwarded to the mills.

Different flour dealers yesterday pointed out that there was no need of a panic, for the mills of Canada were carrying as heavy stocks as ever, and it was merely a matter of getting the flour here. At this time of year it has always been the custom for the local dealers to carry as low stocks as possible in order to take advantage of any decline that might take place after the crops were harvested.

The situation in Europe has made the people here rather panicky, but it was pointed out that if war was general all it would be almost impossible to export the wheat from Canada and a decline in price was more likely than an advance.

The prices in the local market advanced 30 cents yesterday, but this was on account of the unprecedented local demand.

Sugar advanced ten cents per hundred yesterday afternoon, and canned beef advanced 50 cents a dozen for pounds, and $1.25 a dozen for two pound tins. Pork was also quoted higher by the packers.

No Advance in Coal. Coal showed no advance yesterday. The summer price was boosted twenty five cents a ton on the first of the month, but there has been no advance since, and dealers yesterday said there was no prospect of higher prices at present. They were not accepting orders for Scotch coal.

The Maritime Situation. Ships for the exportation of lumber are not at present available and lumber exporters yesterday pointed out that the situation in England, particularly at present did not warrant large shipments from this side. While England controlled the seas there was no danger to be feared for the shipping, but the war situation on the other side would help to keep down the demand for lumber.

At the present time there is one schooner in the harbor loading lumber. She is a Spanish ship and would therefore be exempt from capture by the nations at present in a state of war unless lumber was considered as one of the contrabands of war, and it was going to a port of one of the belligerent nations.

In other parts in the province shipments of lumber for the old country are being prepared, and it is likely that the ships will sail as originally intended.

H. C. Schofield, of Robert Reford Co., has received word that the Donaldson line steamer Indranti, which was to sail on Wednesday next for St. John with general cargo, will not proceed until further notice.

VOLUNTEERS ENOUGH FOR A BATTERY

Colonel B. R. Armstrong says many Commissioned and Non-commissioned Officers willing to go.

TO PREVENT FOOD FAMINE IN ST. JOHN

Mayor Frink and Commissioners Potts and Wigmore to Take Such Steps as May be Necessary.

"Resolved that in view of possible war conditions prevailing and high prices consequently obtaining for the necessities of life, His worship, the Mayor and two commissioners be appointed a committee and authorized to make any expenditure or investment which may be necessary to ensure a supply of food and the ordinary necessities of life for this community at reasonable prices, during the coming fall and winter."

The above resolution was submitted to the city council at the meeting yesterday afternoon and passed.

Mayor Frink thought that the whole council should be on the committee, but other commissioners present thought that the matter should be taken up at once and something done before matters became too serious.

Commissioners Potts and Wigmore were placed on the committee with His Worship, and these were given power to add to their number.

In introducing the resolution, Commissioner Potts pointed out that the news from Europe had caused an increase in prices of different articles of common use and there was every prospect of prices being advanced as the situation became more serious. He thought the council should take hold of the matter immediately and do all in its power to avert a food famine and prohibit the prices for food and fuel during the coming fall and winter.

It was pointed out that so far the situation here was not serious, but with the declaration of war by England there was need of care in conducting city business.
