MONDAY EVENING, OCT. 27, 1878.

The Constitutional Issue.

The full text of the despatches from Lord Dufferin to the British Government, which we gave a good telegraphic synopsis of last week, is published in the issue of this morning. His Excellency shows, as THE TRIBUNE has often shown, that the Commission was absolutely necessary for the eliciting of evidence on oath, that it in no wise perjured or interfered with Parliament, and that the value of the evidence so obtained is not to be estimated on the opinion of the Parliament and people as to the fairness and thoroughness of the inquiry. In response to these despatches Earl Kimberley briefly writes:

DOWNING STREET, 8th Oct. 1878.
Mr. Jones: I have received and laid before the Queen your Lordship's despatches, No. 197, of the 15th of August, and No. 198, of the 18th August, giving an account of the circumstances connected with the recent prorogation of the Dominion Parliament, and the issue of a Commission to inquire into the charges against the Hon. Mr. Hastings. Her Majesty's government have read these despatches with much interest, and are glad to see that the Commission has been formed in accordance with the wishes of the House of Commons, and that the inquiry is being conducted in a fair and impartial manner.

The Pullman sleeping and palace cars are to be withdrawn from the C. E. & N. A. Railway, says the Pullman agents, on the withdrawal of the night train, November 15th. There are many disagreeable reports in circulation respecting the cause of the withdrawal. It is said that the E. & N. A. Directors, having failed to obtain amalgamation with the Eastern road on their own terms, have ordered the Pullman cars off for the express purpose of reducing the through passenger traffic. We give this simply as a rumor. It is, however, pretty generally credited in this city, and, if unfounded, should be promptly denied. St. John people are fond of luxurious travelling, and will be greatly inconvenienced by the removal of the Pullman cars. If these cars have been ordered off by the Directors of the road, St. John will not quickly forgive the act.

The Royal Commission have simply reported the evidence, without note or comment, just as THE TRIBUNE's despatches, when the Commission was determined on, announced would be the case. The Telegraph of this morning seems to think that there is now no chance for an expression of opinion on the guilt or innocence of the Ministers. We think there will be a very decisive expression of opinion when the vote is taken in the House of Commons on the question. Thanks to the Commission, members can now vote intelligently on the issues raised.

In his comments on his Thursday night despatches the Toronto Globe of Friday says:

Sir Hugh Allan's evidence and Sir John Macdonald's, have left nothing necessary to complete the chain which binds the Minister forever like a worm Prometheus to the rock, where his shame is broadcast. He should avoid the particular kind of liquor that inspires such "hog-wash" as the above.

Papers whose Ottawa telegrams have held absolute sway in the "self-commissioned Macdonald," quarrels between the Governor General and his Cabinet, etc., etc., are talking about having correspondents who are not under the influence of either party. Good joke!

That McMullen, who has been proved to be a reckless liar by the sworn testimony of a score of witnesses, and is denounced by those who know him best as a swindler, is to be the honored guest at an Opposition dinner party in Ottawa. What credence can be given to this fellow's statements now—statements that he sneaked away from Ottawa to get rid of swearing to?

Peter Mallman, found guilty of murdering his wife at Lunenburg, N. S., was on Saturday sentenced to be hanged on the 30th December. The prisoner heard the sentence with stolid indifference, and declared he was innocent.

Alexander Lindsay, a prisoner residing in Garrick street, Halifax, retired to rest on Wednesday evening in apparent good health, became ill during the night, and died before assistance could be rendered. He had been employed in the Horticultural Society's Gardens for many years. Coroner Jennings held an inquest on Thursday afternoon, and a verdict of "death from natural causes" was returned. Competent judges pronounce the case a well marked one of nightmare resulting in death.

As the passenger train of the Oregon and California Railroad was recently running south below Comstock's station, Douglas county, the engineer saw just ahead some animals on the track. The animals, which were wounded, but the train could be stopped. Before the train could be stopped, it hit one of them and broke its leg. Then they were for the first time distinctly seen—and they proved to be five deer. They stood stock still, facing the bright, blazing light, a little off the track, all except the one that was hit, which stood with one leg over the rail. When the train stopped the deer that were unharmed bounded at the four that were unharmed bounded at the way out of sight. Had any one on the train been armed with a pistol or gun the deer might have been easily killed.

Crops in England add Ireland.
An English writer who recently estimated the area of the wheat crop in Ireland at within 28,189 acres of that of 1875, states that the official statistics show the diminution to be 22,869 acres. The total decrease on the United Kingdom amounts, therefore, to 165,424 acres, the aggregate area being 3,661,722 acres, and the probable yield, at his estimate, 28,189 bushels by 60 lbs. weight per acre, 10,229,000 qrs. The total decrease on areas of wheat, barley and oats in Great Britain 118,480 acres, and in Ireland 160,936 acres—altogether, 279,416 acres—a healthy sign, showing that more land is being laid down in grass and devoted to green crops, exclusive of potatoes. Potatoes have decreased 88,569 acres, which is a decrease of 49,529 acres in Great Britain, makes a total decrease of 137,984 acres, and leaves in Great Britain 514,693 acres, and in Ireland 693,213 acres—altogether, 1,207,906 acres of potatoes, at five tons an acre, of 7,039,530 tons. Potatoes ever brightened, continuing rapidly to become blighted, but an average of five tons an acre will be saved.

BREVETS.
Mr. W. K. Crawford, King street, has the ever popular Harper, for November. Mr. Norman's large ink is on exhibition at the Stating Ink, where it attracts much admiring attention.

There is a letter at this office for Mr. Thomas Shiver, in care of Mr. James Retainer, rigger.

The red buoy broke adrift on Friday night. The question was once asked at a meeting of the Common Council—How much has it cost to place and anchor that buoy?

A man named Wm. Johnstone, a seaman of the brigantine Mabel, while going on board the bark Roebuck, at Robert's Wharf, last evening, fell between the vessel and the wharf and was drowned.

A fire broke out in Mr. J. R. Hopkins' building in Union Street, Saturday evening. It was soon extinguished after the arrival of the fire engine, with very little damage except from the water thrown in.

Mrs. Ann McNeill, of Brussels street, was found dead in her bed yesterday morning. Her physician informed Coroner Rigby that the deceased had been suffering from heart disease for some time, which had caused her death, and it is considered necessary to hold an inquest.

Last winter a series of very pleasing social entertainments was held in connection with the members of the Congregational Church. The ladies of the congregation intended again inaugurating them for this winter, and the first will be held on Thursday evening in the vestry of the church.

There are five candidates in the field for the vacancy in the Local House for Carleton County.

Mr. George Thomas, of Wicklow, while going out to milk on Sunday last, was attacked by a bull and severely gored. He is in a fair way of recovery.

Lab Liba and more Durable than Oil.
J. Hinch, Prince William street, is now producing enlarged photographs, finished in India ink, that are marvels of beauty and finish. Portraits by this process are exhibited in the window of W. K. Crawford, King street.

A Lively Time in Carleton.
Edward McCaslin went on a spree on Saturday, and while drunk went into his house in Carleton and commenced abusing his wife. He took an axe and threatened to kill her as well as his children. The woman, in fear of her life, rushed from the house, taking her children with her. The man followed, brandishing the axe and uttering fearful curses against her. A little distance from the door she was met by Ald. Wilson, who was asked to protect her. He prevented the man from doing her any injury and sent for Police-man Walker, who took the man in charge, and this morning he was fined for being drunk. The Magistrate also sent for his wife to see if she will press the more serious charge of an assault with intent to do bodily harm. The Alderman stated that the woman, when she came along, was in great danger of being killed by the man, who seemed perfectly wild from drink.

Pistols in the Nursery—A Baby Shot through the Hand.
At Upper Mills, St. Stephen, the other day, Mr. John J. Purves took the chamber out of his revolver and gave the weapon to his two-year-old boy to play with. When the child was weary of the pistol he placed it on the mantel. Next day the little fellow crawled for the shining toy, and Mrs. Purves's sister gave it to him. In a few moments the pistol was discharged, the ball passing through the boy's hand, mangle it cruelly. The face of Mrs. Riddout, a caller, was badly burned by the powder.

A medium size fire-proof safe, made by G. E. Kerckhoff, Boston, been in use one year, for sale low by W. H. Olive, 110 Prince Wm. street.

Row in St. James Street.
A row occurred in St. James' street on Saturday evening, which resulted in a young man named Wm. Ward having his collar bone broken. The cause of the row was some young men taking the liberty of driving off the horse and carriage of Mr. Charles Goddard, that were standing before a house in the street. They were caught in the act by Goddard, and the row ensued. Ward and another man were fighting, and had fallen to the ground when Goddard rushed up to help Ward. He kicked at his opponent, but missed him and struck Ward in the shoulder and broke his collar bone. A pistol was fired by one of the party during the row, but, fortunately, no one was injured by it. The bone was set by Dr. Berryman, and Ward will be confined to his bed for some weeks.

Progress at Spring Hill Mines.
A depth of 245 feet had been reached on the Western slope of the Spring Hill Mining Company last Saturday morning. The full depth at present contemplated will be reached this week. The rest will be put bottom for the Eastern Engine. The position to-morrow. The Eastern Engine House is already erected, and the chimney is about one-third built. The Western Union Telegraph Co. have sent their lines to the mines, and Mr. J. Cooper, Accountant and Paymaster for the Spring Hill Mining Company, only awaits the arrival of the instruments to be put in direct communication by telegraph with the outside world. Altogether the development is going on rapidly at Spring Hill.

THE UNITED STATES HOTEL offers from this date, a most comfortable and board to transient boarders at $1.25 per day.
Permanent boarders will be accommodated at much reduced prices during the winter months. The rooms are large and pleasant, looking on King's Square and King street, well ventilated, and supplied with gas. Also a large room to be let for evening parties.
JAMES HENCH, Proprietor.

Flower Gardening.
Many persons often express dissatisfaction with their flower gardens because they have no flowers in bloom in the spring and early summer months; and are under the impression that it requires a greenhouse in connection with their garden in order to make a fine display early in the season. To such we would say that now is the time to prepare to have as fine a show of flowers during the winter in your houses, or as early in the spring as the bulbs cannot be planted. The obtaining the necessary plants, and no preparation of glass or heat is necessary for their successful cultivation. The plants required may all be obtained at G. F. Everett & Co.'s drug store, King street. The principal ones needed are Hyacinths, Crocuses, Snowdrops, Tulips, Daffodils, Iris, Scillas, Lillies, Narcissus Ramunculus, Anemones, Jonquills, Crown Imperials, and their stock contains so many varieties, that we would advise all who admire flowers to send for their catalogue and make their own selection.—Globe.

AQUABELLE Vignettes and Miniatures at NOEMAN'S.

F. D. C.
The Philomathian Club held a meeting Friday night. Several new members were elected, most of whom will be in the Opposition ranks. The night of the Opposition ran well. The meeting was changed to Thursday evening, and Parliament then went into session much against the wishes of the Government, who feared to face the Opposition on any important points. The Pro-tem members of the Government, on Thursday evening, and Mr. Smith's bill respecting vagrants was passed without amendment. Great excitement was caused in the Government ranks by the resignation of the Hon. Mr. Barker, Minister of Finance, who is reported to have joined the Opposition. A full attendance is requested for next Thursday evening at sharp eight (Opposition members a little earlier) as a routing contest is expected.

NEW DESIGNS OF IVORY FRAMES at NOEMAN'S.

The Rev. S. G. Dodd on the Evangelical Alliance.
The Rev. S. G. Dodd, one of the delegates to the Evangelical Alliance, last evening narrated some of his experiences and impressions of the Alliance meetings. No connected history of the meetings was attempted by the reverend gentleman, but the hour was taken up with sketches of the celebrated men who were present and the most striking incidents. His photographs of the great English, Scotch, Irish, German and other divines were particularly interesting. They were all, he said, fine looking, noble specimens of humanity; large-hearted, Christian men. The Scotch and Irish delegates were noted for their great attention whenever they spoke. Their rich brogue seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by the American people, so much so that the advisability of appointing a Scotch or Irish delegate was suggested by a leading educator connected with the Alliance. A life-like picture was drawn of the converted Brahmin (with an unpronounceable name) as he stood with his turbaned head, and loose flowing Eastern garment, his fervent prayers and speeches showing a highly cultivated mind and powerful intellect. In appearance the hundred foreign delegates were a fine looking body. More perfect types of men could not have been seen than these as they marched up by twos and paid their respects to President Grant, on their visit to Washington. The scene under the dome of the Capitol, when the two hundred and fifty delegates gathered in stinging the hymn commencing "All hail the power of Jesus' name," to the tune of Coronation, was vividly described. The most impressive of all the meetings was that in Dr. Adams' Presbyterian Church where the delegates were invited to the communion service. The Dean of Canterbury broke the bread, and the large audience recited the familiar creed. All denominations were represented, and the impressions were so deep, as never could be forgotten. The lecturer also gave some interesting facts in connection with the formation of the Alliance and its history. The expenses of the Alliance had been borne by the New York branch of the society, and amounted to about $30,000. Mr. Dodd announced that it was the intention of the Alliance in this city to hold a meeting during the week, when all the St. John delegates would be present and deliver addresses.

THE MARITIME FAMILY KNITTING MACHINES is the most perfect and complete Family Knitting Machine in the world, and will do all kinds of knitting work, and fine woolen yarn, cotton, silk or linen. Fever-and-Agus.
We have tried Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for Fever-and-Agus, and found it to be the best remedy. It is a safe and effective remedy, and is sold by Geo. Thompson and Geo. Deane here on a time to time. They were both drunk and amused themselves by kicking the doors of the houses in Sydney street.

Shipping Notes.
Lunenburg at Truro—On Tuesday, Capt. B. W. Merriam launched at the Board Landing Bridge, Truro, a fine vessel called the Forest Princess. She is barkentine rigged, 125 feet keel, 31 feet beam, 300 tons register, 800 tons carpenter measurement, classed 7 years at English Lloyd's. She is the first vessel built at that place, or within two miles of Truro, within fifty years.

New Bark—A bark called the Lillian M. Vign was launched on Thursday afternoon from the yard of Mr. John Trahey, Five Mile River, Hants. Her dimensions are 164 feet keel, 34 feet beam and 20 feet hold, and her registered tonnage 324. Quick Passage—The schooner Amater, Capt. Alex. McDonald, with a general cargo, made the passage from Halifax to North Sydney in 28 hours.

Female Complainants should be cured, as they often can be, by a few doses of AXER'S SARSAPARILLA.

VICTORIA HOTEL.
The arrangements for permanent boarders at the Victoria Hotel for the coming winter months will be unsurpassed by any on this continent, and we understand that a great number of families and private individuals are taking advantage of its first class accommodations, which is being offered at reasonable rates.

A Warning to Liquor Sellers.
After the prisoners in the Police Court had been disposed of this morning H. T. Gilbert, Esq., expressed his regret at the increase of drunkenness as exhibited by those persons on Sunday from licensed premises. He said liquor was supplied to those persons on Sunday from licensed premises, and requested the Chief to make a vigorous onslaught upon them, to have, if necessary, the whole force on duty, and to use all means to have these places reported. He himself would see that any man who reported these places was protected and would do what he could to stop the Monday morning exhibition. When the good people of St. John thought he was doing too much, he was quite willing to give place to some other Magistrate. He spoke generally on the subject of intemperance and its effects, and said he expected each officer connected with the Police Department to endeavor to do what he could towards reporting bar-rooms and thus suppress Sunday drinking. His speech was listened to very attentively, and will no doubt spur the force up to work harder to report all illegal liquor dealers.

Stock's Machine Oil, the best and cheapest lubricator in the market, will not congeal or freeze in the coldest weather. Sold by W. H. Olive, 110 Prince Wm. street. T F

Steamers.
The Scud went across the Bay this morning. The City of Portland started for Eastport, and had to put back on account of the storm. A very high wind prevails in the Bay.

On and after Monday, November 3rd, the steamer Scud will make three trips a week to Digby and Annapolis, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, returning same days.

Dramatic Lyceum.
The performance was well attended Saturday evening. This evening the company reopen in the Opera House, Dock street, with a new and choice programme. A very laughable burlesque "Romney and Juliet Restored," is one of the chief attractions for the evening. Miss Lucetta Cambridge is announced to appear on Wednesday evening.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE advertises on liberal terms and gives the largest city circulation.

City Police Court.
Nineteen prisoners appeared before the police court and all, with one exception, charged with drunkenness. Two were women and the balance men, most of them being young men. This may be explained by the fact that most of the offenders are now in confinement. Nearly all admitted the charge, but a few required to have the policemen sworn before they would believe it.

Sarah Campbell was arrested, drunk, in North street. She had a long story to tell of her John sending her out for some liquor, which he wouldn't drink after she brought it, but told her to drink the lower regions and drink it herself. She drank the liquor and was then going out for a candle when the police arrested her. The Magistrate cut the candle story short by telling her that he had heard the same story for the last sixteen years, and sentencing her to gool for two months. She smiled, and sat down.

Elizabeth McLachlan was the other female charged with drunkenness, and fined $3 or two months.

Robert Robertson was given in charge by Elias Flagler for being drunk, cursing and creating a disturbance in his hotel on Coburg street. He admitted being drunk and was fined $3, after receiving a severe reprimand for his profanity.

James Diggs alias Brady, was fined for being drunk $3 or two months in the penitentiary.

Timothy Black denied being drunk. The charge was proved and $8 was imposed.

John Gregory, John Walsh, and John Henington, arrested in Union street, Michael Beale and Richard Gandy in Brittain street, William Brown in Sheffield, Wm. Quinn in King, Jas. Baxter in Charlotte, were each fined $3 for drunkenness.

Geo. Curry was arrested by policeman Evans in Brussels street, and behaved in a very disorderly manner, resisting and tearing the policeman's coat. He admitted being drunk and was fined for that, but the other charge was not proved.

Geo. Thompson and Geo. Deane were out on a time together. They were both drunk and amused themselves by kicking the doors of the houses in Sydney street.

Wm. Down denied being one of a disorderly crowd in Carmarthen street, and it required the evidence of two policemen to convince him that shouting, and barking like a dog on the street at 1 o'clock in the morning was any offence. He at once paid his fine of $5.

The Carleton force arrested two, Wm. Reardon, and Edward McCaslin, for drunkenness, and they faced the same fate as the others. There is also a more serious charge against the latter.

Portland Police Court.
Ten prisoners sat on the bench this morning and each was charged with drunkenness. A part of the prisoners got drunk Saturday before 12 o'clock, p. m., and consequently saved $4, as Justice Tapley discriminates between Saturday and Sunday drunkenness.

James Gray, William Yoomans and Dennis McCaslin were each fined $4 for being drunk in Main street.

James Brown, Peter Flinn and James McCormack were fined $5 each for the same offence on the Marsh Road. It costs more to the person who gets drunk so far away from the Station.

John Jackson and Hugh McAlone were arrested in Main street Sunday afternoon. The full amount, $8, was imposed on each of them.

John Fitzgerald was also arrested on Sunday. He would not go quietly to the Station, but violently resisted the police. A fine of $8 was imposed for drunkenness, and $15 for his resistance, so that his little spree cost him $23 in fines alone.

Peter McDonald was drunk and disorderly and was fined $6.
P. O'Doherty went to the Station for protection and was let go.
