Govt. Must Increase Bread Rations Sentiment Against Registra-In Bohemia Or Face Upheaval That May Wreck Present Ruler.

Copenhagen, June 21.—The situation at Prague, Bohemia, and the industrial centres in that district, says the Neue Freie Presse of Vienna, has become so serious that the Austrian Government will either be compelled to increase the bread ration or run the risk of still further exciting the working people. In the latter event, the newspaper declares, railway communication would be cut off and a revolution would break out.

EXCESSES IN GALICIA.

"The war is becoming very unpopular among the workers, but the feeling ebbs and flows with the tide of Germany's success, and the English are generally cursed."

SOCIALISTS BLAME SEYDLER. London, June 21.-Further informa-tion confirming reports of intense reover the reduction of the bread ration; is quoted from Austrian newspapers by the correspondent of the Times at the Hague. Among the subsidiary causes of the anger is the fact that notification of the reduction was not made until noon Monday, although it had been enforced from early that morning, when loud and excited protests were raised. Premier von Seydler is accused by the Socialist Arbeiter Zeltung of Vienna, a disastrous situation by producing a disastrous situation by foring the agrarians and traders. I favoring the agrarians and traders. It says the situation could certainly have been prevented. The paper rails against Germany and Hungary, and tells the authorities they must immediately draw the attention of those countries to the fact that the food conditions in Austria are intolerable and demand necessary assistance. It adds:

"The Austrian population cannot starve while Germany and Hungary have tolerably adequate rations. The Austrian Government must be placed under tutelage even in matters relating to the food supply. It has deserved to be subjected to guardianship, but the population must not be punished Government."

The weekly food ration in Austria, the Daily Mail's correspondent at the Hague quotes the Arbiter Zeitung of Vienna as reporting, is as follows:

Twenty-two ounces of bread, one pound of potatoes, of which half cannot be eaten; one ounce of black bran mash; one ounce of another mill product, an ounce and a half of fat, 6½ ounces of sugar, one egg, seven ounces ounces of sugar, one egg, seven ounces of meat, and a little jam and coffee substitutes.
The Vienna newspaper says that the meat allowance is obtained "if the applicant waits all night for it."

AUSTRIAN EXCHANGE DROPS. Amsterdam. June 21.—Austrian exchange, which has been declining fractionally daily on the Amsterdam bourse, dropped another full point on Thursday. All Austrian bonds are

SIX GOOD REASONS FOR PRIDE OF WATERLOO ST. MOTHER IN HER REPRESENTATION IN WAR

Four Sons, Son-in-Law and Daughter Served King and Country.

THIRD BROTHER IS BACK

Return of Gunner Gordon Munnoch Draws Attention to Family Record.

Mrs. Alex. Munnoch, 105 Waterloo street, is one of the proudest mothers in London today, and she has six excellent reasons to exhibit as a proof that her pride is well founded. Four stalwart sor have, since the outbreak of war, donned the kh.ki, a daughter served in France for over a year as a nursing sister, and a son-in-law is now-hard at work over there, as a medical officer with No. 10 Stationary Hospital.

The first member of the family to enlist was Alex. Munnoch, jun., a member of the original first contingent, who served in France until severely wounded, and returned to Canada for discharge. He enlisted in the Winnipeg "Black Devils," who made up th 8th Battalion in France.

John Munnoch enlisted in the 74th Battalion, and upon arrival overseas was transferred to the 12th Brigade Machine Gun Company. He also fell severely wounded, and was returned home as medically unfit.

Mrs. (Capt) C. L. Douglass proceeded overseas as a nursing sister, serving at Le Touquet in France, and also in the firing line on the staff of a casualty clearing station. At this point romance creeps into the story, this charming nursing sister wedding Capt. C. L. Douglass returning to London.

Gunner Gordon Munnoch, who returned to this city Thursday, was the Mrs. Alex. Munnoch, 105 Waterloo France, Mrs. Douglass returning to London.

Gunner Gordon Munnoch, who returned to this city Thursday, was the next member of the family to answer the cafil. He left his studies at Osgoode Hall, and enlisted in the ranks of the Cobours Heavy Battery. From this unit he was transferred to the 4th Siege Battery in Flanders, and while serving there was severely gassed, and is now back 'n Canada for further medical treatment.

Gunner Norman Munnoch, a younger brother, determined to continue the good work, joined the Toronto University Battery, and is awaiting orders to proceed overseas. He also forsook his studies at Osgoode Hall to enter the big league, and is now stationed at Petawawa.

Such is the record of this London family, every eligible member of which ouietly slipped overseas as they felt the call of patriotism. Canadian-born, of Scottish ancestry, is a good combination to best the Hun, and that's the whole story.

DISAPPOINTMENT REIGNS IN ORPHANS' HOMES OF LONDON BECAUSE OF RAIN

Disappointment, if not absolute disgust with the actions of one J. Pluvius, will be registered by the kiddles in London's orphan homes today. The annual outing that was to have been given them under the auspices of the London Motor Club this afternoon, was postponed on account of the rainy weather, until Monday.

Preparations for the outing to be given the children in the various orphans' homes here were completely made by the motor club, but about 11 o'clock today, when it was seen that it was unlikely that the weather would be suitable for the outing it was decided to postpone it until Monday next, when it is hoped that the weather will be such that the kiddles will be able to enjoy the ride and entertainment.

A good program of sports has been arranged for the McClary Welfare Department picnic to Springbank on Saturday next. Races will be held for the boys and girls of all ages. The biscuit-eating contest, open to women and men, and the fowl-chasing event for married ladies, are being anticipated with much pleasure. Emptying the nest, which will be participated in by the married women also, and the hopscotch open to all between the ages of 18 and 80 years, will provide considerable amusement.

The old St. John's Church bell, which has been replaced by chimes, has been turned over to Huron College, and, hanging in the belfry of the chapel, will summon to services there. The annual meeting of the Huron College Council takes place next Thursday evening, and it is understood that the financial statement to be presented will be quite a satisfactory one, notwithstanding the depletion of the ranks of students owing to the war.

Mr. Ferdinand Zecca, the new director-general of productions, who arrived recently from Paris, states that more than 2,000 French, English and Italian employees of Pathe Freres have served in the ranks of the Allies as officers, non-commissioned officers and privates, and that more than 200 died on the battlefield. More than 500 have been decorated

BIG REGISTRATION FOR HURON COLLEGE SUMMER TRAINING

Building Being Redecorated Special Course Draws Wide Attention in Ontario.

Huron College is in process of refurbishing at present, and is due in the near future to present a much freshened and modernized appearance inside. The west wing, dedicated for a number of years to the activities of the Western University, is being wired for electricity, and the east end undergoing rearrangement and redecoration. One reason for all this transformation is the fact that the university is taking over about five-sixths of the whole building for the coming year.

The old St. John's Church bell, which has been replaced by chimes, has been turned over to Huron College, and, and winds seen replaced by chimes, has been turned over the hafty of the chapel, will depletion of the ranks of students owing to the war.

Asked concerning prospects for classes for next fall, Rev. Principal Waller replied: "We do not know yet. Last year was a good one, considering all things. So far as our financial statement is concerned, various hospitalities have helped us out, such as entertaining the synod, the Woman's Auxiliary and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church."

Huron Clege, by the way, is one of the institutions which the law decrees must be licensed under the Canada Food Board. The license was taken out by Principal Waller just prior to the arrival of the commissioners to the general assembly.

Caught In Flames While Rushing To Rescue Her Mother

Mrs. G. B. Patteson Badly Burned About Head

Mrs. G. B. Patteson of 76 Albert street, had a narrow escape from being burned to death yesterday afternoon in a fire which did $2,000 damage at her home. The blaze started in the rear of the house and when Mrs. Patteson opened the door the flames swept into the main part of the dwelling.

Mrs. Patteson's first thought was for her mother, who was upstairs, and she made a rush for a stairway. The flames in a few seconds were licking up the things in the room and as Mrs. Patterson was near the top of the stairway a sheet of fire leaped across the ceiling and burned her badly about the head and face. Although dazed by the fire and smoke, she managed to get the fire and smoke, she managed to get her mother out safely and then had her burns attended to.

The interior of the house was badly burned, and much of the furniture was destroyed. The loss is covered by insurance.

PROTESTS AGAINST WATER BEING GIVEN TO THOSE IN COUNTY

North End Man Says Citizens

COMMISSION DEBATES IT

Interesting Question Raised at Meeting Thursday Afternoon.

A storm is brewing over the city utilities being extended to residents of the county. The first gun was fired at the utilities commission yesterday afternoon when Robert Fraser, a resident of Waterloo street north, protested against water being given to residents of the north side of Huron street, which is outside the city. The discussion which his protest aroused showed that the commission is divided on the question. Chairman Pocock said it was good business for the ommission. It got double rates for the water so sold. Commissioner Jared Vining condemned the practice. He said it was a matter of principle.

Mayor Somerville said: "Let those people move across the street."

Mr. Fraser said that others were to have joined him in his protest. He urged action. He said that they intended to get after the board of education to have county residents pay afee for their children. They are also after the commission over the electric lights.

Mr. Fraser said there were eight houses on the north side of Huron street which had gas, electric light and water, with a pavement to the doors. He had a house on Thornton avenue, the taxes on which were $170. People on Huron street paid $45 with the same privileges. In Broughdale they were selling land at $30 a foot. Opposite the Ryerson school there was land standing at $22 and no takers. The residents of the city, he said, could not stand this. They could not compete with the people in the county who get all the privileges. He said that the taxes on property near the Ryerson school with interest on the investment stood at $2 a foot. He contended that the water belonged to the city, and the city should have it.

Manager E. V. Buchanan reported that in his belief the trouble might come from a bush near one of the woods. This was a defect.

Mr. Vining moved that he remedy this at a cost of about $200. If this does not remove all troubles the discussion re the walls will be resumed.

Not Charging Enough.

Manager Buchanan Said that they found that the charge was not sufficient. During the past year many meters were frozen. This was due to carelessness. They had not been protected. He said that an adequate charge would be $2.50. Mr. McFarland moved that it be $2. Mayor Somerville said that the charge should cover the cost. Mr. Vining said that if Mr. Buchanan found that the cost was adopted.

Mr. Buchanan said that already this provided that the factories are making a sacrifice, and in some cases the machines will—lie idle while the men are away helping with the crops.

FARMERS WILL NEVER AGAIN BE VICTIMS OF

Have Been Inflicted on Farmers by Government.

Earnestly and with words that burned their message home, but with no trace of bitterness nor unreasonableness, A. A. Powers of Orono, Ont., discussed the attitude of the Government towards the farmers before an audience of 1,100 yeomen of the farmers clubs of the County of Middlesca at their plenic in Port Stanley yesterday afternoon. W. E. Grieve, Ernest Cawthrope and David Smith, some of the degates, who had gone to Ottawa with the deputation of farmers in reference to the order cancelling the exemptions of farm help, also expressed their opinion of the politicians in no uncertain terms. "The movement for organization among the farmers is here to stay." said Mr. Powers. "This is not merely a burst of enthusiasm brought about in a moment of time, but the culmination of fifty years of oppression of the farmer on the part of the other classes in the country. "The get-together movement is so which is accorded the farmers of Ontario.

Will Be Heard.

"We will be heard, however. We must be judicious, as we are in a peculiar position. I was nearly arrested in Excer for saying that the farmers would set the heather on fire if they were not heard. The chief of police interpreted this as an I. W. W. threat, possibly. I repeat, we must be considerate and reasonable, as thus we will win the respect of the public."

That some of the statements of those opposed to the movement were anything but reasonable, the speaker intimated. "In today's Globe, which I bought in the absence of anything better, the farmers are urged to be reasonable. Then in glaring headlines on the next page is an account of a farmer Union Government supporter whose barns were burned. It also stated that he refused to have anything to do with the deputation to Ottawa. Between the lines one can read the inference that his barns were set "on fire. You may guess to whom the blame is attached, in thought, if not in word."

Is Serlous State.

The condition of agriculture is in a guess to whom the blame is attached, in thought, if not in word."

Is Serious State.

The condition of agriculture is in a serious state today. The country is prosperous, and there are large sums of money in circulation. But how are the farms renting? The papers say that all a man has to do is to buy a farm, and grow rich spontaneously. The fact is the best farm in the country today would not bring enough rent to pay the taxes and for the necessary improvements.

It is said that the farms are valued too highly. Many today if soid at prevailing prices would not pay for the buildings erected on them. Thus the land would be given away. There is little demand for farm property. Rural depopulation has been going on for years. The young men have been seeking more remunerative fields in the towns and cities. "Would they have done so it the farm was so productive of fabulous riches as some say? Years ago it was predicted that beef and pork would become an expensive luxury, because of this cityward movement. Fractically one-half of the province today is running wild to grass on account of the scarcity of labor. What the outcome will be in two years' time cannot be fore-told.

Need Organization.

There never was a time in the his-scarcity of labor. What the cannot be forebe in two years' time cannot be foretold.

Need Organization.

There never was a time in the history of the country when the farmer needed organization as he does now.

"We do not wish to monopolize the rights of others, but other classes have been combining to rob the farmer. We have been exploited long enough. Industrial organizations, including the Manufacturers' Association, have been endeavoring to throw the burden of the war on us by taxing us to the limit.
Now, we cannot escape the burden altogether, but we can see to it that it is properly adjusted and that we do not bear more than our share."

Continuing, Mr. Powers said that the Toronto manufacturers and other industrial men were meeting every night for the avowed purpose of discussing the industrial reconstruction that must take place after the war. "This is not the case. They are discussing ways and means of getting rid of their share of the burdens of the war.

"Up to this time the farmer has been unorganized, and I am not surprised to hear that a delegation was referred to as a mob by H. M. Mowat. This does not mitigate the insult that was intended, however. He is the unworthy son of a worthy father. He has gone astray. Let him go, and let us hasten the exit of all the other professional politicians also. They are useless."

After the Trade.

Mr. Powers emphasized the necessity astray. Let him go, and let us hasten the exit of all the other professional politicians also. They are useless."

After the Trade.

Mr. Powers emphasized the necessity of a co-operative trading among the farmers. When the Farmers' Co-operative Company, of which he is a vice-president, was formed it was impossible to have business dealings with 95 percent of the manufacturers and whole-salers "They will be camping on our doorsten inside of one year. Why, one firm that absolutely refused our trade last year is already begging us to give them some consideration now."

W. E. Grieve, being introduced by Angus Beattie as one of the delegates to Ottawa, remarked that he was not bought by German gold. Referring to the stories told of Quebec farmers being illiterate, the speaker said he would never believe any such tales again after meeting the delegation from that province at Ottawa. "They were quite the equal of any others at the capital." The speaker took a slam at the member for South Oxford for his reckless inferences that German gold was the cause of the farmers' movement.

Mention was also made of the arrangements which had been made by the county council and the board of trade to secure help for the harvest period. That a week or so of extra laborers in the busy season would not be of much benefit was his opinion.

"Do not let the politicians put this over us again at the next election. In a way we are only getting what we voted for. We have been used to voting year after year for the candidates that are antagonistic to us. The election expenses are paid by these same interests, and naturally the member belongs to the party that paid his bills, and he has to do as he is told by his bosses. Our only hope is to maintain a fund for the purpose of defraying the expenses of a candidate of our own choosing. Good men have been kept out of the political field on account of lack of sufficient capital.

"Things have reached a serious stage in a British colony when the electors cannot discuss the actions of the members who are elected by them. Let our politicians don the khaki; their places can be more easily filled than can those of our hired men. They should have blazed the trail to the trenches, and there would have been no need for the M. S. A. Our boys would have followed gladly."

Making Headway.

Ernest Cawthrope in a brief speech emphasized the need of organization also. That the movement was making great headway was easily seen, in his opinion. "We must show the Government that we are a power in the country, and we will then be treated with respect. Our rights will also be granted readily."

David Smith of Dorchester related an pranted readily."

David Smith of Dorchester related an instance of a delegate at Ottawa who caught cold while in the presence of R. L. Borden, so cold was the atmosphere. Mr. Smith explained the tax that had been placed on the county for Red Cross purposes, at the request of one of the audience.

J. S. Cousins was urged to address the gathering, but he demurred, on the ground that the situation had been thoroughly covered by the other speakers.

down to the skins of their real selves and read from their impulses, good and bad, the inspirations and the ideals, the base and lofty motives, they are custodians of. People are quickly classified into "good sports" and 'poor sports' when the test of shipwreck or ifewreck or sticking to friends is put up to them. The great world outside a man knows little of him. Only the few who have come within the radius of his being, who have glimpsed his inner self, have seen the struggles and the human failures of their own and most lives, who have seen his little mark set upon the world in some small grain-of-sand act, who have got under the harshness or seen the weakness lashed up to face the road rather than to run wanton through the bogs and rock fields, only these could appear as the character witnesses when the man is elected to stand on trial.

These thoughts come drifting along as one returns from an informal gathering where men were discussing their fellowmen and things. Almost all of them had a "knock" for someone who was mentioned in the banter and crossfire. 'George was a piker," and "Bill was a tightwad," and "Tom was going to be fired if he ESTERN ONTARIO has not considered the didn't look out," and "So-and-So never got within workings of the I. W. ### SHAKESPEARE TO GET KULTUR BATH.

Amsterdam, Monday.—By Cable to The Associated Press. The German emperor, as patron of arts, has ordered the production of a great "national" edition of the works of Shakespeare, whom the German profess to regard as more German than English. The preface to the new work is written by Gerhard Hauptmann, and occupies a volume by itself, under the title "Visions."

Shade of William Spurns Hun Honor.

When the shade of Mr. William Shakespeare was told he ad been adopted as a Hun subject by Kaiser Wilhelm, and that a kulturized edition of his works was to be issued, he remarked angrily, that this "was the most unkindest cut

"A deed of dreadful note." "What a case am I in?"

"Beautiful tyrant, fiend angelical!"
"Neither rhyme nor reason."

"Everyone must do her bit," she said

A little later the two girls were comfortably seated in the pine grove, each busy with her work. "Grace, I've an idea," said Jean.

"Not really," said Grace.
"Yes, a real one," replied Jean, calmly ignoring the intended sarcasm. "And this is it: Haven't you ever heard of farmers who write their names on eggs when they pack them to ship to the city?"

when they pack them to ship to the city?"

"Why, yes," said Grace, "I have, but I don't see what that has to do with knitting sweaters for the soldiers."

"Well," said Jean, "I'd like to put a note inside one of the sweaters and send it to some poor fellow 'over there.' I'm sure it would chear him up a whole lot, and besides," her eyes shining, "wouldn't it be a lerk?"

"Why, Jean Wood, I think that's great," exclaimed Grace, getting into the spirit of the thing at once, "and I'll give you my Luck Piece to put in the letter. I've often heard that a lucky piece has stopped a bullet."

So Jean's needles flashed back and forth and dead silence reigned in the pine grove until the sweater was finished.

"Now for the letter," said Jean and with the stump of an old tree for her writing table, she wrote while Grace dictated what they had decided to say, "for you know it must not be anything silly," said she, "for it's a very serious occasion." So she wrote:

"I hope this sweater will keep you warm, and may the lucky piece bring good luck to 'someone—somewhere in France.'" And down in the corner she signed her name and address.

"There, I wonder if we'll ever hear from that," said Jean, as she fastened the note containing the precious lucky piece securely to the inside of the sweater.

and Grace parted at the latter's gate; and so, before many hours had elapsed, the sweater, in company with many of its kind, was speeding on its way "over there."
Some two months later, as the Wood family sat at breakfast, the postman came with the mail.
"Hello," said Mr. Wood, as he glanced over the pile which the letter carrier had handed him, "here's a very official letter for Jean," and he held up a blue envelope with "censored" stamped across its face. "It's from France, too," he said, and glanced questioningly at his daughter, who sat with flushed cheeks and downcast eyes—but said nothing.

Once more the Wood family was seated at breakfast.

"The papers are just full of stories about the soldiers," said Mrs. Wood, looking up from the page she was reading. "It tells of all the silly things that the girls here are doing to help the boys in France-sending them fudge and chewing gum, and even writing them letters. # NINE BOILS

Anyone who has ever suffered from oils knows how sick and miserable they make you feel.

When you think you are about cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your wretchedness. All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not cure them and stop more Boils are simply had blood bursting out, and the had blood must be made pure before the boils disappear.

Burdock Blood Bitters is the greatest blood purifier known. It cleanses the system and removes every particle of foul material from the blood, then never nanent.

Mr. Geo. Ayers, 302 Gloucester street. Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I wish to tell you what I know about your wonderful urdock Blood Bitters. In the spring Burdock Blood Bitters. # SAVED HER LIFE

Superintendent's Wife Gains Thirty-one Pounds by Taking Tanlac.

The following statement, made recently by Mrs. Annie Pasco, 57 Spadina avenue, Ottawa, is not only interesting, but altogether remarkable: "I have not only gained 31 pounds by taking Tanlac, but I firmly believe it has saved my life, and all who know of my dreadful condition are astonished at my wonderful recovery."

Mrs. Pasco's husband is superintendent of the J. R. Booth Paper Pulp Mill. "I had been bothered with stomach trouble off and on for about three years," she continued, "but it was only during the past year that my condition became so serious. I first noticed my appetite failing; everything seemed to taste the same to me, and I had no relish for food of any kind. When I beat night. I took so much medicine with out getting relief I became discouraged, and out of heart.

"Finally I decided to try Tanlac, as I had seen it recommended so highly, and before I finished the first bottle I and before I finished the first bottle I noticed a decided change in my feelings. My appetite soon got better, the nervousness and indigestion began to disappear, and I could feel my strength returning. Then I began to regain my lost weight, and now I weigh 163 pounds—have actually gained 31 pounds and haven't had a touch of indigestion or stomach trouble in six months. My appetite is fine. I can eat just anything I want without the slightest discomfort afterwards, and my nervousness is gone entirely. I am feeling stronger and better than I have in years, and am doing all my housework. I think it nothing but right that I should tell others about this wonderful medicine.

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

Extirpating Germ Centres.

Since the days of the great English physician, William Hunter, it has been thought that this malignant blood disease is really the result of microbes, pus, germs from tonsils, bones, roots of teeth, the intestines, the joints or elsewhere. From these "foci" or points of origin, revealed by the X-ray, these hidden lairs of microbes, the poisonous, infectious matter continues to percolate and enter the blood stream.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply noisten the hair with water and rub i in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advt.

PEACE MOTION SQUELCHED IN THE COMMONS

Balfour Says Allies Have Never Received Serious Peace Proposal.

DEFENDS SECRET TREATIES

Mistake to Suppose Pacts Between Allies Are Obstacle to Peace.

LONDON, June 20.—Via Reuter's, Limited.—Philip Edward Morrell, representing a small pacifist group in the House of Commons, today stated a debate on the question of peace by agreement, and moving the following resolution:

ment, and moving the following tention:

"That this House desires that the Government will lose no diplomatic opportunity to settle the problems of the war by agreement; and that to that end it expresses its opinion that secret treaties with Allied governments should be revised, since, in their present form they are inconsistent with the object for which this country entered the war, and are, therefore, a barrier to a democratic peace."

Lost Without Division.
The motion was negatived without

The motion was negatived without division.

In moving his resolution Mr. Morrell gaid that the people were anxious about the progress of events, and entitled to a restatement by the Government of its war aims and its opinion as to the prospects of achieving them. He charged that statements made in behalf of the Allies bolstered up "kaiserism." He declared that there was a passionate desire for peace in Germany, if it could be got with security, but the Germans believed that the Allies were unwilling to listen to reasonable terms, and that only by supporting the emperor and the military party could they secure the peace they desired.

Mr. Morrell said that for the five months from January to the beginning of June the British losses in killed alone were 10.000, while the wounded and missing numbered 300,000.

Snowden for Motion.

Philip Snowden, Socialist, in supporting the resolution, asked Mr. Balfour, secretary of state for foreign affairs, to define what he meant by "peace offensive." He agreed with Mr. Morrell that nothing like a stable peace could be obtained until secret treaties were denounced.

Morrell that nothing like a stable peace could be obtained until secret treaties were denounced.

Mr. Balfour began his reply by explaining that by "peace offensive" he meant any effort, by speech or otherwise, under the guise of seeking an honorable termination of the present war, to divide the Allies and discourage individual members of the alliance. Replying to Mr. Snowden's contention that nothing had been heard about Germany's desire to dominate the world in the early stages of the war. Mr. Balfour said the British as a nation had been slow to believe that other nations could be animated by motives so widely separated from the motives which moved their own people. But it was a fact that Germany was pursuing her aim of universal domination with persistent and elaborate care and foresight and with a ruthless, cold-blooded determination which left Napoleonic tradition far behind.

No Serious Offer Yet.

"Is this a case where a sober historian would ever see the basis of a possible peace?" asked Mr. Balfour. "Is there any evidence whatever that a suggestion like the Austrian emperor's letter or any similar suggestion were made with a view to obtaining the sort of peace which even Mr. Snowden would regard as a reasonable peace, carrying with it some prospect of security for the future liberties of the world? We never rejected proposals which we thought had the slightest probability of producing such a peace, and there is no evidence whatever that the German Government has ever been serious in making such peace offers."

Contending that Belgium remained the greatest blow to German honor, the secretary asked whether Germany had ever in any document or speech openly or plainly offered to restore Belgium plainly offered to restore Beigium absolute political and economic in-pendence. He knew of no such offer, ere had been suggestions, but never Aims of Britain and United States. Mr. Balfour proceeded to emphasize that in the matter of war aims there was not the slightest difference between Great Britain and the United States, was not the slightest difference between Great Britain and the United States, and he denied that secret treaties were an obstacle to peace. These treaties were made under circumstances in which he believed any Government would have acted similarly, and it was quite a mistake to suppose that the treaty with Italy would stand in the way of peace.

"Certainly," he continued, "the Government are not going to shut their standards.

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says: "I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation. Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could

Our Consumers' League

GLORIOUS LUCK IN POULTRY RAISING.

Away back in the late autumn of 1916, when Our Consumers' League was starting out on its career, one of the very first contributors, and one who thereby stamped the department with reliability, was Miss Lillian Nicholson of Chelsea, Quebec, poultry expert. In a series of short articles, Miss Nicholson endeavored Quebec, poultry expert. In a series of short articles, Miss Nicholson endeavored to encourage the raising of more poultry through telling exactly how it could be done. The experience of herself and sister was enough to encourage the most faint-hearted, starting as they did with seven or eight chicks, and entire lack of knowledge of the branch of agricultural industry they were undertaking in the rectory garden, but with the intelligence and determination to learn. So entirely did they succeed that in a very few years they had attracted the atin the rectory garden, but with the intelligence and determination to learn. So entirely did they succeed that in a very few years they had attracted the attention of the agricultural department of the province of Quebec and the board of the college at St. Anne de Bellevue. This meant lecturing on poultry-raising, and it was to give a lecture on poultry-raising and poultry-selecting in marketing that Miss Lillian Nicholson came to London the beginning of November, 1916, under the auspices of the Women's Gardening Association. A letter received by a friend in London last week from Miss Nicholson indicates that the experiment in poultry-raising which had such a microscopic beginning may erved by a friend in London last week from Miss Methods indicated that the experiment in poultry-raising which had such a microscopic beginning may levelop into a flourishing mixed farming venture. A war-time garden is helping develop into a flourishing mixed farming venture. A war-time garden is nelping the industrious sisters to improve the shining hours, and they are now considering dairy cows and butter-making for market.

The following extract from the letter should prove encouraging to those who are aiding greater production this year by poultry-raising:

"We have had glorious luck, so far this spring. We have over 500 birds now, and our biggest chicks weigh about 2½ pounds. We have all the land at the back of our house, and Mr. C.'s big field as well. All our land around the house is in garden. Our potatoes are about four inches high. We also have onlons, beets, turnips, carrots, beans, peas, and several other little things in. Now, this added to hatches of chicks every week and sometimes twice each week, has kept us on the run. We could get no help except the last two weeks, when we got a young boy after school and all day Saturday. We won't have him after June 21st, as he has promised to go on a farm. We have painted all our chickenhouses (new ones), a nice green with red roofs. We have been so dreadfully busy, working no less than fifteen hours each day, and often seventeen. We intend to get a cow or two, as butter seems so badly needed. Our hens are laying splendidly. We ship about 45 to 50 dozen per week, and then we sell a lot around, and use a lot." We have had glorious luck, so far this spring. We have over 500

Isn't that encouragement for those who are making their first attempt at aising chickens this summer?

JEWELS FOR BABIES

What would you give to save a baby's life, the life of a baby at home, or little Belgian babe overseas?

Writing of a movement started in England, whereby English women Writing of a movement started in England, whereby English women inence are sacrificing their jewels to save the world's children. Helen Hoffman, a well-known journalist, says:

"Save the bables! is the cry now being heard around the world, as nation upon nation looks aghast at the appalling figures of death written across the national life. While the women of those warring nations, which have suffered such tremendous loss of lives are at work planning ways and means to conserve every little life feebly unfolding in this strange, upset old world, the Duchess of Mariborough and other well-known American women living in England have actually started a huge campaign for this purpose that is making itself felt around the globe. The Duchess of Mariborough, who was Consuelo Vanderbilt, daughter of W. K. Vanderbilt, has long been actively interested in everything pertaining to the greater welfare of children. She has made a considerable study of the early care of children, and in this new work she has not only counselled with, other women with a view to making this work practical, but she has made a great sacrifice to help launch this big babysaving campaign.

"How was this great work to be financed? . . . 'A jewel for a baby's life.' Why not? it was suggested. Healthy children to keep the baby's life.' Why not? it was suggested. And so the slogan, "A jewel for a baby's life" has captured the imagination

And so the slogan, "A jewel for a baby's life" has captured the imagination of prominent English women who have followed the example of the Duchess of Marlborough in giving up a handsome pearl necklace to the cause, by pouring out their own offerings of precious jewels.

Lady Jellicoe, wife of the former English admiral, has contributed a pearl and diamond bracelet, and Mrs. Asquith, wife of the former prime minister of and diamond bracelet. Queen Alexandra has made as her offering a handsome Russian ash tray and two pairs of gold earrings set with pearls and diamonds. To quote Helen Hoffman further: nonds. To quote Helen Hoffman further:

"By means of the jewel fund, it is hoped to raise sufficient funds to establish and carry on for at least a year 5,000 infant welfare centres throughout England. There are already nearly 1,500 such centres and creches in the country, where doctors and skilled nurses give counsel and care to every mother-to-be, and to every mother with a baby in her arms who comes to them. After such centres have been established and running satisfactorily for a year, the Government will give grants to help carry on the work. The need is immediate, while our brave men suffer death, wounds and privations, that we women of the nations must work to save their children." "By means of the jewel fund, it is hoped to raise sufficient funds to

"The army cannot last more than a couple of months at the best. There are no good officers left. We have plenty of ammunition, but no one to use it properly."

It is said, also that at the beginning of the offensive the Austrians in the front line each received three rations of meat, one for each day of the attack until they reached the Italian stores. They were so hungry, however, that they ate all of them the first day. An interesting remark was made by one of the prisoners. "We are not influenced by the idea of America's help," said this man. "We think that the American troops cannot ever get over, but the Allies do not need the Americans to whip us. The German food conditions likewise," he added, "appear to be as bad as ours."

Charge Made That Donations Cut Off Because of Attitude Taken by Women in Charge - Specific Instances Aired at Board Meeting Today.

The board of control engaged in a serious discussion of the workings of the patriotic fund today. The mayor and controllers are of the opinion that something is wrong. Controller J. M. Moore declared that the local branch was a great deal more strict than in other places.

Moore declared that the local branch was a great deal more strict than in other places.

The controllers were discussing the case of a soldier's wife who, with three small children, is trying to live on 40 a month. "An impossibility," the mayor declared. The family formerly lived in Windsor, where they received patrictic allowances. The soldier went overseas. Later he returned as a class "C" man, but has been kept in the service. The patrictic fund cut off the sellowance.

Mayor Somerville declared that it seemed to him that the patrictic fund should do something for these people. That was what the people subscribed the money for, he said.

Something Radically Wrong.

Controller C. H. Merryfield, then cited the case of a Dorchester family of a mother and six children. When the father went overseas the mother came to London where she could secure work. She was told to apply to Dorchester for patrictic allowance. He thought that there was something radically wrong.

Mayor Somerville said he knew of a soldier who went to the patrictic fund offices to secure assistance for his family. He was called a drunken rascal and ordered out.

Thave had twenty charges against the woman in the toffice inside of a month." he added.

Controller Merryfield said that he knew a large number of men who for that reason had refused to subscribe any more to the patriotic fund. Instead they thought the patriotic fund should deere for but had not. Controller E. S. Little said that the woman in the patriotic fund. Instead they thought the patriotic fund. GALT CONVENTION ON Important Questions Before Sixth Annual Meeting of Association.

> (By Staff Reporter.)
> GALT, June 20.—Nearly 200 member of the Provincial Builders and Supply Association from all over Ontario took possession of Galt today, on the occasion of the sixth annual convention

By train and motor the delegates began to arrive early in the morning. Among the large delegations to motor in were those from London and Chatham. The latter stopped over in London Wednesday night, and joined in the procession of motor cars that brought the London outfit.

The operation of the workmen's compensation act, amendments possible in the lien law, and a memorial to be presented to the Dominion Government regarding giving contracts to foreign contractors, were among the subjects discussed at the meeting. Albert Tom-linson of Chatham was unanimously chosen president in the annual election chosen president in the annual election of officers.

The following are the officers elected for the coming year: President, Albert Tomlinson, Chatham; first vice-president, Lieut.-Col. George Young (overseas), Stratford; second vice, H. Elgie, Toronto; secretary-treasurer, T. R. Wright, London. Executive: A. G. Robb, Galt; J. S. Adamson, Ottawa; G. Hannaford, Hamilton; J. Norton, Sarnia; B. Blonde, Chatham; R. Masson, Stratford; F. Nicholson, St. Catharines; S. Willis, London; G. E. Stocker, Toronto; George Oakley Jun., Toronto.

Made Fine Showing.

London and Chatham both made a pretentious showing as they filed into the city in their machines, decorated with pennants of both cities. The machines pulled out of London shortly before 8 o'clock, and skirting south of Dorchester and Ingersoll stopped over in Woodstock for a short time. After a most pleasant trip all arrived at Galt shortly before noon. Generous lunches provided by the London Builders' Exchange added to the pleasure of the trip. Among the Londoners in the party were H. Hayman, E. R. Dennis, S. Willis, E. Gerry, J. Moran, A. Nobbs, P. Quick, A. E. Gibbons, H. Aked, B. Noble, T. Jones, T. Copp, W. Pace, H. Stratfold, T. R. Wright, G. Kernohan, G. Everitt.

Need New Plan.

Some other plan than the present one, such as current cost, should be devised and put in use. It would lessen the rates. The committee hardly thought it necessary that such large funds should be accumulated. Something like $4,000,000 stood to the credit of the board at present, and it looked unreasonable to accumulate so much. The compensation board was com-mended for the fair and economical manner in which it was administrating he act. The board appeared to be ullowing no levity with the fund and to be giving the first aid amendment allowing no levity with the fund and to be giving the first aid amendment at fair trial. The report was adopted. S. Twist, appointed under the compensation board to aid in the prevention of accidents, said that $2,913,000 had been awarded for accidents in the past year, which was an increase of $9,000. The increase was attributed to the greater pressure under which the employees worked getting out war orders. He urged the appointment of an inspector to eliminate the accidents in faillding trades, many of which were avoidable.

in bailding trades, many of which were avoidable.

Present Memorial.

A memorial, which is to be presented to the Dominion Government, was read by H. Elgie, of Toronto, regarding work heing given to foreign contractors in Canada. The local exchanges were asked to report on the amount of such work being done near them. The memorial was indersed by the association and two members of each exchange will be chosen to form a committee to assist Mr. Elgie. Local members of Parliament in each place will be asked to sign the memorial.

A resolution of sympathy will be forwarded to President-elect Albert Tomlinson, who was unable to be present owing to the susden death of his father.

The finances of the association were sent owing to the sudden death of his father.

The finances of the association were reported to be in excellent condition by the treasurer, whose books were audited by E. Gerry of London and D. Davidge of Toronto, the elected auditors.

Unable to Come.

W. Anglin, president of the Montreal Exchange, who was expected to deliver an address today, has found it impossible to come, according to word received late yesterday.

Much of the success of the convention so far wer attributed directly to the hustling of ers of the Gall. Preston and Hespuer Exchange, who saw that everything was in smooth-running order.

story there are many scenes of tremendous interest, and it goes without saying that the dramatic action, in which Mr. Ray figures most conspicuously, is tense and nerve-racking. Both the star and his support have been afforded ample opportunities by Larry Evans, the scenarioist, for the display of their respective talents.

The picture, which will have its first presentation in this city at the Majestic Theatre today and Saturday, was produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince, which in itself is a sufficient guarantee that the usual high standard established by Paramount is amply maintained.
