BULLETIN.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 25 .-Seven persons are reported dead, a score injured, and more than half the business district of Haskell, Okla., was in flames this morning. The fire is believed to have been caused by the ignition of gas fumes by a cigarette.

Fire, which Chief John Aitken believes was of incendiary origin, destroyed the Jubilee Rink on Lyle street, two trucks which had been parked in an adjacent lane, and damaged a number of dwellings in the vicinity, causing a total loss of $20,000, early Friday morning. The loss is almost entirely covered by insurance. The rink which was owned by the London Curling Club, Limited, and which was a frame structure, was burned to the ground. So intense was the heat and so dense was the smoke, that a number of street cars in the London Street Railway Cmpany's barns across the street were scorched, and persons living a block away from the rink were driven from their homes.

The fire broke out in the southwest section of the rink, and aided by a strong wind, soon engulfed the building. Showers of sparks fell on roofs of homes many blocks away. The blaze was spectacular while it lasted, and could be seen from all sections of the city. Firemen worked for three hours before they finally extinguished the ages which were threatened. It is now believed the reparations Mrs. Lily McGillivray, a widow, with two children, lost some of her furniture, but her loss is practically CRIMES OF WAR

AWARDS SCHOOL ROOM CONTRACT

Building Committee of Board of Education Holds Special Meeting.

Several Members Think Price of Tenders Offered Too High.

John Hayman & Sons, contractors of this city, have been awarded the additional rooms to the Tecumseh Public School in South London at a cost of $12,471.

The tender offered by the successful firm was the lowest of three opened at a meeting of the building committee of the board of education at a special meeting Thursday afternoon. The second lowest tender was but a few dollars higher than that offered by the Haymans.

Although the figures were almost $1,000 less than the contract price of two similar rooms constructed last year, they were high enough to provoke considerable discussion among the members of the committee.

Thinks Price High.

Trustee Bryden Campbell was emphatic in his belief that the price was too high. He could not see why the passing of a year should not make a greater difference in building costs. He pointed out that an eightroom school in Springfield, Ontario was being constructed at a cost of $41,000, and so he could not see why expenses should be relatively conother members of th members of the stated that the cost of labor had not depreciated considerably in the past year, and that building cost was almost as high

Trustee H. Hayman, chairman, at this point proferred the information that building costs next year would be higher still. He stated that wages in the building trade would increase He predicted rather than decrease. that bricklayers would receive higher pay than at the present time.

Trustees Disappointed.

The majority of the trustees were disappointed that more firms had not offered tenders, and that the price of those stated had not been lower. In face of the fact, bowever, that the rooms were urgently needed, and an early start must be made, they felt that they should make the best of what had been offered. The contractors will be urged to start building as soon as possible. Full sanction of the board to go on with the work is expected in the near Western Politics.

HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN has been doing considerable survey work in the country between the Pacific coast and the head of the great lakes, and report has it that the premier is also likely to go over the same ground before the next session of the house takes place. The leaders of both the old-time parties in Canada can do a great deal of investigating in that western country, for there have been sad things happen to the followings and traditions of both of them in the past few years,

ME. MEIGHEN'S own province of Manitoba, which not so many years ago had a Conservative government has now only seven members of that party in the new Legislature, and none at all in the House of Commons at Ottawa. Going on to the province of Saskatchewan, it is seen that Conservatives are almost extinct in the Legislature, and they are without representation at Ottawa. The situation in Alberta finds nothing better in sight.

Similarly the premier will have many things to inquire into regarding the trials of the Liberal party on the prairies. He will find that a Liberal government that had been having a trying time carrying on in a group atmosphere in Manitoba has been defeated, and that there are scarcely more Liberals than Conservatives in the new house. The province has two representatives on the Liberal benches at Ottawa. Mr. MOTHERWELL is the one man from Saskatchewan who kept the Progressives from sending a solid sixteen Quebec, and Alberta can thank that chants. province that it has a man in the cabinet who, despite the difficulty of to do him the honor of electing him.

Western Canada certainly provides plenty of scope for investigation for political leaders or for students of political history. The one difference, from the angle of Dominion politics, is that the Liberal administration can draw considerable support from the west, while as far as the Conservatives are concerned, the outlook is almost hopeless, despite the fact that the Conservatives of British Columbia are putting forth their greatest effort to stage a "come-back" from the extreme Labor Congress Asks Nova Scotian Government To Send Soldiers Back.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.-The tamest convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress in many years reached its closing stage today with Toronto newspapers vividly described railroad for the tickets as soon as only a slight flare-up, in which a lone delegate defied the entire convention and demanded repudiation of the League of Nations.

Voluminous sections of the executive's report were indorsed without opposition, resolutions were indorsed with scanty debate, and virtually every suggestion made by President Tom Moore and Secretary P. M Draper were carried without a dissenting voice.

One obstacle alone was raised, and it was of a friendly nature, demanding a reconsideration of resolutions dealing with the fair wage regulations in government contracts, with the view to reshaping and making airtight the formal expression of the wishes of the congress. The debate was adjourned without decision.

Wins Congress Support. P. M. Draper fathered a popular ovement in his attack against the movement aiming to compel labor unions to incorporate. His pleas won the solid support of the congress, which went on record as unconditionally opposed to the principle of incorporation, and secured the pledges of more than 400 delegates to return to their local unions and fight the battle against employers on

Mr. Draper was again victorious in a challenge to a small section of the congress on the subject of the Nova Scotia mine workers' strike. The debate on this question followed receipt of a telegram from Premier Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, in which the premier expressed his sympathy with the request that troops be withdrawn from the coal mine strike The premier further declared that the troops would be withdrawn immediately the authorities which had called them in decided they were not required.

Draper Defends Premier.
Delegate Watson of the miner

mion, jumped to his feet and labeled the prime minister's message the "trick of a slick politician." He was sharply taken up by Mr. Draper, who vigorously argued that it was time or organized labor to treat courteou and sympathetic messages from heads of the government with the same spirit in which they were sent. He further pointed out that the prime minister's hands were more or less tied in the dispute, as he could not dictate to a provincial government on the affairs of a province. The de-cision of the congress was to send a new message to the premier, thank-ing him for his support.

Another telegram was sent the premier of Nova Scotia, asking him state his position on the question of withdrawing the troops immeditely from the Glace Bay areas. Discussion of the fair wage queson government contracts, federal and provincial, provoked the ongest debate, which was finally adjourned at the conclusion for resumption tomorrow morning. The debate hinges on a demand that a specific resolution be framed which would incorporate labor's insistence that the present regulation and order-in-council providing for the fair wage be embodied in a statute. As it exists at present, in the form of a regulation, contractors have been able to defy the government to enforce it.

Make Attack on Rollo.

Hon, W. R. Rollo minister of labor of the Province of Ontario, was the target of a sharp volley of criticism from the Ontario delegates on his stand on the enforcement of the provincial fair wage regulation. Delegate Ingles of London told of a visit by representatives of labor to the nister on the question of the new Western University, towards which he province is granting $800,000.

The delegation had requested the minister to enforce the fair wage clause, but the minister had replied that he had nothing to do with it. He advised the deputation to see the minister of education. Other delegates cited particular cases against Hon. Mr. Rollo, and concluded their general arraignment with a blanket criticism of the attitude of the provincial and federal ministers on the

In a statement made today, after a orief survey of the city, he declared that had it not been for one or two familiar landmarks which are still standing he would be unable to recognize the city which he left almost wenty years ago.

He stated that the change is one of the most remarkable evidences of a city's progress that he has witnessed in his lifetime.

Referring to conditions in Italy he stated that the political situation is too chaotic at the present time for one to make any predictions of a political nature. He said the general rend of political affairs there leads him to believe that the state is facing a revolution, which can only be forestalled by a coalition of political parties against the radical elements He will remain in Kitchener until about November, when he will return o resume his duties in Rome.

LOBO W. I. MEETS.

The Lobo Women's Institute held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles V. Tuckey, Tuesday afpresent. It was decided to have booth at the school fair being held at No. 9 school, Friday, September 15.

An interesting program was given, ncluding instrumental numbers Mrs. Maccan of Lobo and Miss Genevieve Carmichael of London; a solo by Miss Jean Gray, and a duet by Misses Marion and Eileen Campbell. A reading on "Our Neighbors," by Miss Minnie McIntyre, was very in eresting.

Mrs. H. D. Steele answered the question drawer. A social hour was enjoyed following the meeting. The next meeting will be held in the Masonic Hall, Wednesday, September 20, at 2:30 o'clock, the roll-call to be answered by a favorite pickle recipe.

OF COURSE YOU'RE WELCOME.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my second letter to your cosy corner.

Am I welcome or not? I saw in the paper where Only a Gal sent in a riddle: What relation is your mother's brother's brother-in-law to you? Is the answer "Nothing"? I see where Buskins would like te write to someone. Please send me her address. I am 10 years old, and have blue eyes and fair hair, and am in the senior third class at school. I passed this year. I have two brothers. I guess I will have to close or Cynthia will be angry at me. I will inclose a wee mite.

HIBBERT LASS. OF COURSE YOU'RE WELCOME. at me. I will inclose a wee mite

If you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope repeating your re-quest, I will send you Buskins' address. You also forgot and wrote on both sides of the paper, but you will remember next time, won't you? No, the answer to the riddle was "Your the answer to the riddle was low uncle." I think you are getting on fine at school. Are you getting a little anxious for it to reopen, so that you can start at the new work? Thank you, Lass, for the hospital mite.

OFFERS HER HOME.

Dear Miss Grey,—Have any of our Mail-Box readers the recipe for ginger snaps? It came in the Mail-Box three or four years ago. They were made with black pepper. I were made with black pepper. I have lost the recipe.

I live on a farm, and we have a nice home, but have had so many losses in different ways it has made it hard for us. If there is any old lady or gentieman that is alone and would like to find someone that would always look after them, and give them the best of care, I would certainly do that for them, if in return they made their home with me as if I were a daughter, and could turn they made their nome with me as if I were a daughter, and could help me financially, so I could al-ways keep my home. Mr. Bartlett, who has been attending the course in rural leadership at Guelph, gave a very interesting talk on the work being done by the institutes throughout the country. At the close of the meeting the hostess served a very dainty lunch.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Mitchell on the second Tuesday of September. The Kingsmill and Mapleton ladies will provide the program.

TO HEMSTITCH SCALLOPS. Dear Miss Grey,-Isn't this lovely weather? The grain is almost all cut and cared for in this part of the country, and the threshing machine heard once more. They will say she is a farmer, Yes, just so. But I enjoy nice fields and trees, all kinds of fruit and vegetables, your own cream and butter, and I like the city also. I read in the Mail-Box where Sunflower No. 2 would like a simple way to relieve whooping cough. Give freely the tea made from red clover blossems, and fluid extract of jaborandi given in doses from 3 to 4 drops. To a child of that age it will be of great benefit. This can be procured at the drug store. Be sure and not let the child get wet and keep as warm as possible and all the fresh air that is to be

I read in the Mail-Box some time ago where someone was asking how to do hemstitching on scallops. I have just finished a pair of pillow slips with the scallops hemstitched. I first cut a paper the size of my scallops, 4 inches across, and that made 10 scallops on a 40-inch slip. Cut the scallop. Turn a quarter-inch hem and baste. Then with sewing needle, and a large-size darning needle, start to the right-hand of sewing, with hem edge from you, thread in sewing needle fastened, and then with darning needle, make one stitch or put it down in the goods, as though to take a stitch. Pick up about four threads and draw through. will have ten little holes. Then with your sewing needle threaded, lay thread to your left of needle, and put your needle through the two holes made by darning needle. Then you will see that your thread is at the front of needle, then put your needle through hem over the top of thread, now darning needle. Put it down through the hole that the point was fetched up at, and take up four more threads, making another hole to the left, then again sewing needle thread to left. With needle pick up the four threads or follow the darning needle, and work as in ordinary hemstitching. I then crochet an edge first, with double, then some nice pattern. I don't know if I have made this so it can be

SMILES RETURNS.

Dear Miss Grey and Boxites,— Isn't this warm weather we are having now more like summer? It is a long time since I last visited the cosy corner. I'm glad the S.
C. H. F. is growing so nicely. I have a black velvet hat with drooping rim, head size 23 inches. It's fairly good, with ribbon and flower.
Anyone wishing to have it can by Anyone wishing to have it can by paying postage. Where have so many of you young people gone? Get busy and let's hear from you again. Cecil, you owe me a letter, so send one along. Anyone around the age of 20 wishing to correspond with me, I would be pleased to hear from. I will close with best wishes.

During one of the storms a branch our family tree was destroyed, and our name was on it, so you will have your name was on it, so you will have to send it to us again, as I know there will be requests for that hat you have so kindly offered. It will bring smiles to some poor girl's face. It will be just in time for the fall too, won't it? So be sure and send your name and address.

T. I. P. SENDS THANKS. My Dear Miss Grey,—I'm here to see you again. You will be pleased to know that I received a parcel from Hopeful. It was very accept able, I assure you, and as she sent her address along I wrote back right away to thank her. I have just re-ceived a letter from Lilac, but am sorry to say she has sickness in the house. She is going to forward me a parcel at her first opportunity. I did not receive one from Geranium yet, but I see she has quite a few applicants for her petunia slips, so no doubt she has been kept busy distributing them, so I am quite contented to wait patiently. Dear Miss Grey, you said I do not think of myself when asking for help. Well, I do not wish to be selfish. I feel the children's needs come first, but if there is one thing I would like more than another just now, it is a loose coat or something similar, as a woman like myself begins to feel her position a little when it is necessary to go out. I do not expect my new arrival until October, so you will understand. Say, Miss my new arrival until October, so you will understand. Say, Miss Grey, you are just wonderful to be listening to me, but some day, I do trust to Heaven, I will be able to help in return—it will be only a pleasure to do so. You will find wee mite for S. I think the secret you told me about your pen name contains such a beautiful thought. How splendid of ou, too, to remember our hospital fund when you are needing every cent. It is when our giving hurts that we re-ceive the most merit for it, so you have many blessings awaiting you, T. I. P.

Dear Cynthia .- This is my second letter to the Mail-Box, but my last letter did not appear. Did you receive the 25 cents? ! for help, that I don't suppose there will be any left for anyone; but someone is always good enough to give something. There are nine of us to dress, and it takes everything we can get, and then we can't make ends meet. So if anyone has anything spare we can fix things up to fit. I intend to start to work out, as my sister is old enough to help in the house, and I think I will try and put myself through business college, and I would like

Dr. Bennett suggested a provincewide plan along the lines followed in this city, exhibiting varieties daily in the store windows of the city he names of the flower and the firms supplying the bulbs accom them. He had found that this was assisting in getting rid of scrub stock. The annual shows were also of great value, he pointed out, as visitors invariably noted the outstanding blooms on exhibition and purchased bulbs.

BODY LIES IN STATE.

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.-Twice today the body of Michael Collins was carried through the streets of Dublin, which were lined with sorrowing spectators. Early in the day, in impressive procession, the body was taken from the steamer Classic, and transported on a gun carriage to St. Vincent's Hospital. This evening it was removed to the city hall, where it will lie in state until Sunday.

Military and civic guards, ministers of the government, members of among them three bishops, followed the coffin, which was covered with the Free State tri-color, while in the mourning carriages were the brother, sisters and other relatives.

Irish pipers played a lament, while officers of the Dublin Brigade acted as pallbearers. Dense crowds had gathered hours before the appointed time, and on all sides poignant grief was displayed as the cortege passed. Dublin Guards formed an escort with lowed. MAKES MOTION Suggestion of Counsel For Pensions Board Refused by Commission.

Introduce First Individual File To Be Consulted by Veterans.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24. - (By Canadian Press.)-A motion for dismissal of the Great War Veterans' Association charges against the pensions board enlivened for a few minutes this afternoon's proceedings of the royal commission which is investigating the charges.

Henderson of Ottawa, counsel for when the list is he pensions board. H. R. Bowler, ounsel for the Great War Veterans' Association, arose and said he thought hardly necessary at this stage to argue against such a motion. Col. Ralston, chairman of the commission, indicated that the motion would not be entertained at this ime, and the matter ended.

This afternoon's hearing brought epresentatives of both sides to the ritness-stand, and also saw the introduction of the first of the ndividual files which are to be conulted by the G. W. V.
