I have just received a fine stock of wall paper which I am selling at very reasonable prices. I also have a first-class paper trimmer and will trim all wall paper sold here free of charge. Call in and select your wall paper now, while the stock is complete, at J. F. Schuett's Furniture Store, Spahr's old stand.

Progress of the Rural Phone.

An indication of the rapidity with which rural telephone systems are being developed is furnished by the story told of the independent line serving the country lying between Toronto and Lake Simcoe. That system has been in operation for about five years. When first organized there were only fifty subscribers on the list. When the new book was issued to subscribers the other day it contained 800 names.

It is not probable that many companies have made equal progress, but something approaching this record has been attained in a number of cases. And a good thing it is. With the rural telephone in use isolation on the farm is at an end, the whole neighborhood is brought into direct contact, the local and outside markets are placed under observation, time is saved in a thousand ways and all life is broadened and made more attractive.—Weekly Sun.

LOCAL OPTION BEER.

Necessity is the mother of invention, and demand is the cause of supply. Local option beer is the latest. Several breweries have solved the problem of developing a thirst killer minus the "jag" producing powers of the common or garden variety of beer. And the way the liquor is being sold in towns in the "dry belt" is said to be really amazing. Large quantities are shipped out of London every day, and the breweries cannot keep pace with the demand. The new beer looks like the old kind, color and all, and so resembles it in taste that the most hardened consumer can scarcely tell the difference. That difference is merely in the after-effects. Common beers contain 3% or a trifle more of alcohol. The new beer contains less than 2%, or to be exact, 1.66% of alcohol, that allows the beer to be sold as a temperance drink. The act now reads that anything under 2% alcohol is a temperance drink, and as the local option beer is well within the mark, it must be classed as a temperance beverage. This is a fast age. With horseless carriages, smokeless powder and many other things of that nature, comes "jagless booze."

FARM FOR SALE.

A good farm of 100 acres, lot 2, concession 11, Brant, 3/4 mile from Eden Grove, one of the leading markets of the County of Bruce. A big storey and half brick house, good frame barn with stone foundation and driving shed and pigpen, 10 acres bush, balance in first class cultivation. Well watered. For particulars apply to John Tennant, Eden Grove P. O.

WESTERN FAIR, LONDON

The programme of attractions for this year's Exhibition is one that will furnish instruction and amusements for everybody. Kemp's Wild West Show and Hippodrome performance is the largest company of people ever presented to Western Fair visitors—118 people, 35 Indians, Cowboy Band, 65 horses, bronchos, mules, etc. Chariot races, stage coach capture, etc. Samfoa, "King of the Air," the Bickett Family, White & Lemart, Kronoman Bros., the funny people; Panatiscu Sisters, Deike Sisters, and many others. Fireworks each evening, concluding with the "Railway Disaster" and the "Destruction of Mount Pelee." Everyone should come to London for at least one day this year. Programmes and all information given on application to the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, London.

Following invasions of moths and mosquitoes, a plague of fleas is now visiting the upper west side in New York.

Patrick Mahony received a message on Tuesday morning from Belmore informing him of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. John Mahoney.

There have been a number of mysterious disappearances in Ontario of late, people vanishing as suddenly and completely as though though the earth had opened and swallowed them. James Chambers, a farmer of Powassan, who was recently married, and in good circumstances, strolled away last week and disappeared. Stewart Thompson, village blacksmith, of St. Williams, went out after tea to lock up his shop and never came back. There are several others of recent date.

A correspondent asks whether anything can be done to keep young and prevent the joints from stiffening as one grows old. Yes, cut down your diet to an amount just sufficient to maintain strength and energy, chew the food thoroughly, and make your diet largely of fresh fruits, vegetables and salad plants. Breathe plenty of fresh air, day and night, and take regular moderate exercise, drinking plenty of water between meals. Also cultivate a contented, happy frame of mind.

FORMOSA.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Goetz and family, and Mr. Wm. Weiler of Guelph, spent a few days with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Weiler.

Mr. G. Martin left on Wednesday for Buffalo after spending two months at his home here.

Mr. Albert Wagner of Buffalo, spent a few days with friends in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Schwartz and two children are spending this week at Milwaukee. They will visit Grand Rapids and other points before returning home.

John Knoepfer had his foot hurt while working at the brewery one day last week, and will be unable to work for some time.

The Baseball match played here last Friday resulted in a victory for Mildmay. The home team showed lack of practice and gave McNeil poor support.

Frank and Alfred Noll, of the Equity Insurance Co., Toronto, are spending a couple of weeks at home.

The Tischart brothers of Chicago, Dr. P. J., J. H., and George, arrived in town in an automobile on Sunday evening. They intend staying about a week.

Clifford.

Miss Lillie A. Lewis, eldest daughter of Mr. Robert Lewes, died at her father's residence, here, on Friday afternoon.

Miss Lewis was at one time a teacher in the public school here, but later was forelady in a manufacturing confectionery establishment at Toronto.

Special excursion train leaves Clifford at 8 o'clock a. m. Tuesday, 11th August, (Clifford's Civic Holiday), for Kincardine. Fare $1.20, children half price.

One day last week, Mr. J. R. McLachlin, manager of the Traders Bank, got order by telegraph to remove to the management of the branch at Fergus.

Mr. McLachlin was very popular here, and a good citizen. He is succeeded by Mr. R. R. Tough, of Springfield.

Mr. R. Allen had a nice flock of brown leghorn chickens, numbering about 50, until recently. He now only has seven or eight. A cat belonging to the farm got it into his whiskers that chickens were good to eat, and as a consequence the bird's began to disappear until some forty had come up missing. Then the feline was caught in the act and the cat was out of the bag.

Additional Locals.

—Mrs. Lynett of Owen Sound visited her sister Mrs. M. J. Ryan this week.

—Rev. Fathea' Halm of St. Agatha was in town this week.

—Miss Lottie Harran of Galt spent a couple of days here last week. She intends going west to the rest of the family soon.

—Joseph Woods of Howick recently sold a pair of two-year-old percheron colts to John J. Roth of Carrick for $400. The Percheron stock commands big prices.

The Dominion Government plans to secure five "forest nurseries" throughout the older portions of the Provinces. These will be located respectively in Norfolk, where the purchase has already been made, Simcoe, Lambton, Durham and Bruce counties. Hon. Mr. Monteith also said the Government had purchased half a million white pine seedlings from Germany for this reforestation scheme. These have been imported at the amazingly low price of ten for a cent, and excellent results are being obtained from them. They reach full maturity after fifty years growth.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad R. Liesemer left on Monday for Mildmay, where they will spend a few days prior to their departure on Wednesday for Sarnia, where they will take the boat for Port Arthur and thence by rail to their new home in Didsbury, Alberta. On Friday evening the young people of the Evangelical church congregated at the home of Mr. John Mogk as a farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. Liesemer, when a very pleasant time was spent, and the happy couple were made the recipients of many useful gifts, for which and for all other kindnesses received they desire to express their sincere thanks. We are sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Liesemer, and wish them a safe journey.—Ayton Advance.

Little Elmer—"Mamma says you are a duck of a doctor." Pompous M. D. (greatly pleased)—"Indeed! How did she come to say that?" Little Elmer—"Oh, she didn't say it just that way, but I heard her tell pap you were a quack."

Biliousness Burdens Life—The bilious man is never a companionable man because his ailment renders him morose and gloomy. The complaint is not so dangerous as it is disagreeable. Yet no one need suffer from it who can procure Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. By regulating the liver and obviating the effects of bile in the stomach they restore men to cheerfulness and full vigor of action.

HONEST DEBTS.

"Pa, what are honest debts?" "Honest debts, my love, are the accounts against a man that he always leaves for his relatives to pay after he is dead."

More men would acquire that tired feeling if all their words were backed by deeds.

True friends are those who listen to your talk when you don't say anything.

ISSUE NO. 30-08.

GAVE HONOR TO THE BLIND.

Great Things Achieved by Two Sightless Men.

Great things achieved by two men of talent and of spirit so dauntless that even total blindness could not keep them down have just been especially recognized in America and Europe.

Seventeen years ago Mr. E. D. Campbell, now a university professor and director of the chemical laboratories in the University of Michigan, lost his sight through an accident. In spite of his affliction he has taken a high place in education and has made original researches of much value, especially in the chemistry of iron and cement. He has just attended a banquet in his honor at the University of Wisconsin, where he delivered an address on "The Effect of Free Magnesia on Cements."

It is forty years since the famous blind engineer of Belfast died in Ireland. The Belfast Natural History and Philosophical Society has now published a memorial paper on his life and remarkable achievements. Alexander Mitchell was 16 years old when he became blind. His life was shrouded in darkness for seventy-two years, but he was in active business till he was 82, and his influence still lives. His two greatest works were the discovery and application of a new principle in preparing the foundations for lighthouses and piers and his improvements in the screw propeller. He built many lighthouses, and long before his death he had the satisfaction of knowing that his inventions were conferring important benefits in India and North and South America as well as in Europe and that his improvements in steam propulsion were used on every sea.

There is no lack of illumination in the minds of such as these who can achieve the exceptional though from "wisdom at one entrance quite shut out."

SELF-SACRIFICING.

Master Walter, aged five, had eaten the soft portions of his toast at breakfast, and piled the crusts on his plate.

"When I was a little boy," remarked his father, who sat opposite him, "I always ate the crusts of my toast."

"Did you like them?" inquired his offspring, cheerfully.

"Yes," replied the parent.

"You may have these," said Master Walter, pushing his plate across the table.

Always a Good Friend—In health and happiness we need no friends, but when pain and prostration come we look for friendly aid from sympathetic hands. These hands can serve us no better than in rubbing in Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, for when the Oil is in the pain is out. It has brought relief to thousands who without it would be indeed friendless.

WITH GOOD REASON.

Timmins—"Will you join us in a little anniversary celebration at our house?"

Binns—"Delighted. Wedding anniversary or birthday?"

Timmins—"No. Our servant's been with us just a year."

The Greatest Tonic is "Ferrovin." It is pleasant in taste and contains just the nourishment and strength-giving qualities that are needed by those who are sick and weakly.

Little Harold—"Papa, did Solomon have 700 wives?" Papa—"I believe he did, my son." Little Harold—"Was he the man who said, 'Give me liberty, or give me death?'"

Attacks of cholera and dysentery come quickly, there seldom being any warning of the visit. Remedial action must be taken just as quickly if the patient is to be spared great suffering and permanent injury to the lining membranes of the bowels. The readiest preparation for the purpose is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. It can be got at small cost at any drug store or general dealer's, and it will afford relief before a doctor can be called.

RATTLED.

"Hear about Reggie?" "What's the latest?" "Well, you know how bashful he is?"

"Yep. Get on."

"The other night he proposed to Miss Coyne. Of course, he got all balled up. He thought the proper thing would be to get on his knees to her."

"So he did. Well, he hadn't been on his knees since he was a kid. And, rattled as he was, he couldn't think a thing to say but 'Now I lay me down to sleep!'"

Nan—"Did you notice how dreadfully that piano needed tuning?" Fan—"Why no, dear. I thought it harmonized perfectly with your voice."

AN HONEST DOCTOR ADVISED PE-RU-NA.

M. R. SYLVESTER E. SMITH, Room 218, Granite Block, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Peruna is the best friend a sick man can have."

"A few months ago I came here in a wretched condition. Exposure and dampness had ruined my once robust health. I had catarrhal affections of the bronchial tubes, and for a time there was a doubt as to my recovery."

"My good honest old doctor advised me to take Peruna, which I did and in a short time my health began to improve very rapidly, the bronchial trouble gradually disappeared, and in three months my health was fully restored."

"Accept a grateful man's thanks for his restoration to perfect health."

Pe-ru-na for His Patients.

A. W. Perrin, M. D. S., 980 Halsey St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says:

"I am using your Peruna myself, and am recommending it to my patients in all cases of catarrh, and find it to be more than you represent. Peruna can be had now of all druggists in this section. At the time I began using it, it was unknown."

THE WAY.

When fate is dealing out hard knocks,

Don't try to shake 'em; Just buckle in and grit your teeth,

Then stand an' take 'em. For when she finds you won't be downed,

As sure as shootin', She's very apt to turn around,

And go a-scootin'.

Useful at all Times—In winter or in summer Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will cope with and overcome any irregularities of the digestive organs which change of diet, change of residence, or variation of temperature may bring about. They should be always kept at hand, and once their beneficial action becomes known, no one will be without them. There is nothing nauseating in their structure, and the most delicate can use them confidently.

A STUDY IN PROPORTION.

The whip-poor-will both loud and long His doleful note doth strike.

If a mosquito sang thus strong, What would his life be like?

Just a Word of caution: Where the skin is destroyed by burns or scalds apply Weavers' Cerate immediately: the sooner the better.

Many a man who imagines he is world-famous is unknown to the people in the next block.

Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand?

IMPORTANCE OF BIRDS.

So great is the part played by birds in disseminating seeds and in protecting plants by the destruction of noxious insects that Mr. H. W. Henshaw reaches the somewhat astonishing conclusion that if all birds were exterminated, not only would successful agriculture become impossible, but the greater part of the vegetation of the earth would eventually be destroyed. A permanent reduction in the bird population, he says, could not but have disastrous consequences.

Teacher (during history-lesson): "Who was Joan of Arc?" For a few minutes there was silence. Then a bright little boy put up his hand. "Please, teacher; she was the daughter of Noah!"

There are a number of varieties of corns. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove any of them. Call on your druggist and get a bottle at once.

WEARING 'EM OUT.

"You're not as strict with that youngster of yours as you used to be."

No, for economy's sake. Every month I used to have to buy myself a new pair of slippers and him a new pair of pants.

De Jones: "There is one good thing about that man." De Smith: "What is it?" De Jones: "His opinion of himself."

HEALTH NOTES.

Eggs for invalids—Cover frying pan with cream. When hot beat as many eggs as wanted, seasoned with little salt, and keep stirring until light.

To bathe the feet of those too weak to sit in a chair draw up the knees, place foot bath or pan of warm water in bed, put both feet in, and see how the sick one will enjoy it. It is beneficial and soothing, draws the blood from the head, and often induces restful sleep.

Lantern for Sickroom—In the country and small towns where gas and electric lights are not to be found, hang a lantern from a hook screwed into the bottom of an upper window sash on the outside. The light in the room may be regulated by raising or lowering the shade. This obviates the heat and odor produced by a kerosene lamp in the room.

If you are suffering with a bunion or soreness of the lower joint of the great toe make a pad of cotton batting the length of the toe, one inch wide and one-half inch thick. Place this pad between the great toe and second toe. This throws the great toe out and the joint in, so the shoe will not rub or press on the joint, and the pad does not cause any inconvenience and will alleviate the suffering and stop the formation of a bunion.

There are a great number of other large cash prizes given in this contest. Commence saving the ORANGE MEAT Corton Bottoms and send your name and address to ORANGE MEAT, Kingston, TO-DAY, stating that you wish to enter and you will be sent full information regarding all the prizes and conditions. ORANGE MEAT is a fresh and blood producer and because of its thorough cooking and malting, it is easily assimilated.

ROCKY.

Mr. Wiggins, in his study, was endeavoring to concentrate his thought upon a bit of writing. A perpetual noise in the flat above annoyed him beyond human endurance. Rushing into the sitting-room he cried:

"What is that confounded racket?"

"My dear, it is only the lady above rocking her baby to sleep."

"For heaven's sake, run and tell her to use smaller rocks!"

In times of peace it doesn't take much to start a quarrel.

WONDERS OF WIRELESS

LATEST EXPERIMENTS TOLD BY MARCONI.

One Enables Ship to Determine Position of Other Vessel Sending Messages.

That wireless telegraphy has not yet exhausted its store of wonders and surprises was proved in an interesting talk with Mr. Marconi at his London office recently.

The tall, athletic, well-groomed young man, greets you in breezy fashion, and in such perfect English that his Italian name is forgotten, and you remember only that his mother was Irish.

"Oh, yes," he said, "I'll tell you what I'm trying to do, and what are my hopes, but please don't let us have too much of the I-I-I."

BOTH DIRECTIONS AT ONCE.

"Most people know all about the regular service which the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company is now maintaining across the Atlantic. It began in October last with the exchange of messages between King Edward and Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, and we are now sending about 2,000 words across daily.

"We can send twenty-four words a minute across the Atlantic, or forty-eight when we can use the duplex system. But at present we can only send messages one way at a time. If an operator tried to send a message across while he was receiving one there would be great confusion, one man firing against another."—and Mr. Marconi waved his hand to suggest a grand collision of language in mid-Atlantic.

"But lately I have been experimenting with apparatus which will enable us to send a message in both directions at once. The experiments have been quite successful over a distance of three or four miles at Poole, in Dorsetshire, and I anticipate equal success before long across the Atlantic.

CAN DETERMINE POSITION.

"That is one of my latest experiments. Another is to enable a ship approaching the shore, or another ship in a fog, to determine exactly the position of the wireless station on shore or the course of the other ship. You can see, of course, how it will help a navigator if he is able to know, not only that another ship is approaching, but the exact angle the course of that ship makes with his own.

"It is perhaps a little difficult to explain the idea to the general reader but here it is roughly," and Mr. Marconi sketched rapidly on his blotting pad while he spoke. "We get, you see, a screen with a small hole in the centre. This is turned about in the direction from which the other ship, or the shore station, is known to be telegraphing, until the ringing of a bell, caused by the waves entering the hole in the screen, shows that the exact direction from which the wave is coming has been ascertained."

"I shall be carrying out experiments on these lines in the Mersey in a few weeks. The idea is being specially welcomed by shipping authorities on the St. Lawrence River, where fog so often hinders navigation.

NO WIRES TO CUT.

"At present the trans-Atlantic service, from Clifden, Ireland, to Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, a distance of 2,300 miles, is our longest regular system, but I see no reason why the most distant parts should not be thus connected, and to a country like Great Britain, with her far-off colonies, the possibilities are enormous.

"In undeveloped lands, too, like Africa, its future seems assured. One of its great advantages is that there are no wires to cut. The cutting of telegraph wires by savage or half-civilized tribes, out of ignorance or mischief, has always been a difficulty. In China, too, where we have five stations, this same point holds good, especially in view of the fact that superstitious dread of shadows falling on ancestral graves has often led to the removal of wires and poles. Think, too, of the anxiety that we should have been spared if the besieged Legations in Peking a few years ago could have communicated with the allied European fleets by a system which no wire-cutting could hinder.

Count the cups and count the cost. Much is saved by using "Salada" Tea. Sold only in sealed lead packets, never by peddlers or in bulk.

ITALY TO BUY STATION.

"At the present time a bill is before the Italian Parliament for the purchase by the Government of the Marconi station at Bari, near Brindisi, which communicates with Montenegro across the Adriatic. In his speech, the Minister for posts and telegraphs said that this station had, in its three years' working, given proof of its efficiency and reliability, and he proposed its purchase with every confidence. This testimony to our system is, of course, very gratifying."

Then with a sigh over the fact that business cares had for some time kept him from his beloved experiments, to which he will shortly return, Mr. Marconi brought the interview to a close.

LIVED AFTER BEING HANGED.

No Drop used at Executions in the Early Days.

Innumerable instances of resuscitation after hanging are recorded. Henry III. granted a pardon to a woman named Inetta de Balsam, who was suspended from nine o'clock on a Monday, to sunrise of Thursday, and afterwards "came to." Dr. Plot tells of a Swiss who was hung up thirteen times without effect, on account of the peculiar condition of his windpipe, it having been converted into bone by disease.

Annie Green, a servant-girl, was hanged at Oxford in 1850, and recovered fourteen hours afterwards under a doctor's treatment. Mrs. Cope, who was hanged at the same place eight years later, also recovered. On September 2nd, 1724, Margaret Dickson was hanged at Edinburgh, and recovered while being carried to the grave. She lived for many years afterwards, and was universally known as "Half-hanged Maggie Dickson."

A housebreaker named Smith was hanged at Tyburn in 1705. A reprieve came when he had been suspended a quarter of an hour. He was cut down, bled, and revived. William Duell, hanged in London in 1740, revived and was transported. A man hanged in Cork in 1765 was taken in hand by a physician, who brought him round in six hours, and we are told the fellow had the nerve to attend a theatrical performance the same evening.

Richard Johnson, hanged at Shrewsbury, October 3rd, 1696, obtained a promise from an undersheriff to place him in the coffin without changing his clothes. After hanging half an hour he still showed signs of life, and on examination it was found he had wrapped cords about his body connected with hooks at the neck which prevented the rope from doing its work. The apparatus was removed and the man hanged effectually.

It may be offered in explanation of the cases mentioned that there was no drop used at executions in those days, the culprit usually suffering asphyxia without the cerebral column being broken.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER.

Every mother knows how fatal the summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and stomach troubles are alarmingly frequent at this time and too often a precious little life is lost after a few hours' illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of Baby's Own Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the little one through safely. Mrs. George Howell, Sandy Beach, Que., says:—"My baby was suffering with colic, vomiting and diarrhoea, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets the trouble disappeared. I would advise all mothers to keep a box of Tablets always at hand." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NONSENSE VERSES.

Miss Marcella had a cat,
The cat she had a feller;
Their backyard concerts so annoyed,
Ma made Marcella sell her.

Miss Lena weighed an awful lot—
Pudgy! You should have seen her—
But her new gown, striped up and down,
Seemed to make Lena leaner.

Though they were number threes,
They pinched, and so she changed them for
A pair that gave Loo ease.

THE "TENTED CITY" AT QUEBEC.

U.S. Men-of-War - British Men-of-War - French Men-of-War
Maitello Towers - THE TENTED CITY - Indian Encampment
Post Office - Dining Rooms - Baggage Rooms
Express Office - Administration Bldg. - Amusements & Bicycles
Plains of Abraham

Visitors to the great Tercentenary Celebration will find at the "Tented City" every convenience to be sleeping under canvas.

On the top of the cliff—commanding a magnificent view of the St. Lawrence, with the Naval Review; of the Pageants on the Plains of Abraham, and of old Quebec—a city of tents is being erected to provide accommodation for thousands of guests.

Three huge Dining Tents will seat 1,500 at once, and, under the management of an efficient caterer, meals will be served here to guests at 50c each. In another tent meals will be served at 25c.

Five perfectly equipped Lavatory Tents, connected with the City mains, are provided—the one for Ladies in a separate part of the grounds.

Sleeping Tents are of three sizes.

Lots of accommodation in the "Tented City." Electric car line passes the main entrance; caterer from Grand Stand five minutes walk. Plenty of police and fire protection. First-class from Boston furnishing meals from twenty-five cents upwards. One of the finest views in the world, showing the harbor and battleships and landing of Champlain.

CUSTOMS REGULATIONS.

Respecting Free Admission of Animals for Improvement of Stock.

On July 1st there came into effect new regulations regarding the custom entry of animals imported into Canada for the improvement of stock. Heretofore all certificates of registration which were apparently genuine were accepted by custom officers for the purpose of free entry. Under the new regulations either a Canadian certificate of registration or an import certificate as the case may be must be presented.

Canadian certificates of registration must be presented at the Port of Entry for the following classes and breeds—

Cattle.—Shorthorn, Ayrshire, Hereford, French Canadian, Gallo-way, Aberdeen-Angus, Red Polled, Jersey, Guernsey and Holstein.

Horses.—Clydesdale, Hackney, Shire, Percheron, Thoroughbred, Belgian and French Canadian.

Ponies.—Shetland, Welsh, New Forest, Polo, and Riding, Exmoor, Connemara and Hackney.

Swine.—Yorkshire, Berkshire, Tamworth, Chester White, Poland, China, Duroc Jersey, Essex and Victoria.

Sheep.—Shropshire, Lincoln, Oxford Down, Dorset, South Down, Hampshire and Leicester.

The Canadian Records for all above mentioned breeds with the exception of that for Holstein Cattle are conducted under the Canadian National System in the office of the Canadian National Records, Ottawa. The Holstein Records is located at St. George, Ont. In making application for the registration of an imported animal the foreign certificate of registration in addition to the usual application must be forwarded.

There are from time to time animals imported into Canada of breeds for which there are no Canadian Records but which are recorded in Books of Record of one of the following recognized foreign Associations—

Horses.—Suffolk Horse Society (Great Britain); Cleveland Bay Horse Society of Great Britain and Ireland, Yorkshire Coach Horse Society of Great Britain and Ireland; American Morgan Register Association; American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association; American Trotting Horse Register Association; Commission des Agriculteurs de France (French Draft); Commission des Stud Book des Chevaux de Demi-Sang (French Coach); Landwirthschaftlichen Hauptverein fur Ostirienland, (German Coach); Zuchtverband des Sudlichen Zuchtgebietes, (German Coach); Verband der Zucht der Oldesburger eleganten Schwestern Kutschperdes, (German Coach); Verband der Pferdezucht in den Holsteinischen Merschem. (Oldenberg).

Cattle.—Highland Cattle Society of Scotland; Kerry and Dexter Herd Book (Dublin, Ireland); Sussex Herd Book Society (Great Britain); Polled Durham Breeders' Association (United States); National Polled Hereford Breeders' Association (United States).

Swine.—Large Black Pig Society, (Great Britain).

Sheep.—Suffolk Sheep Society (Great Britain), Kent and Romney Marsh Sheep Breeders' Association

HOME, SWEET HOME.

Stay, stay at home, my heart and rest; Homekeeping hearts are happiest. For those that wander they know not where, Are full of trouble and full of care. To stay at home is best.

Home—the name made dear by sacred associations, the place where childish feet take their first faltering steps and infant minds receive their first idea. There lessons of love and truth, of right and wrong, of faith and hope and purity are imprinted upon the plastic heart, and all the sorrows and perplexities of after life are inefficient to quite efface these first deep true impressions. Sweet home, where the mother's gentle hands prepare the little domestic comforts that a father's love provides, and filial affection is the silver link, the silken tie, that binds the household band together. Trials may come and clouds may lower, but in the seclusion of home remains sweet healing for the wounds that brave and sensitive hearts hide from a disdainful world. There these hurts and distresses may be confidently revealed and a sovereign remedy found in its unquestioning faith—There a child's pure kiss or the touch of dimpled fingers may revive a soul on the verge of despair; and in the home the brightest dreams become more golden, the rarest pleasure more intense, the tenderest joys more serene. And if, in the varying degrees of fortune, its loving shelter must be abandoned, how the exile folds about his heart, as the traveller does his cloak, the memory of its lights and flowers, its loves and hopes and kindnesses.

There the noblest influences exist, the holiest impulses find expression, and there have been born the chaste and lofty sentiments that have made a whole world better.

Everywhere, especially those discouraged by failure of previous treatment are invited to write for a free trial of my home treatment, with interesting booklet, all post-paid in plain wrappers, with the most reliable references and proofs which will encourage the most distressed. You can thus quickly satisfy yourself, without cost that this treatment is what you long have sought. I will reply promptly to all who write. Address, MRS. M. SUMMERS, Windsor, Ont.

KNEW HIS MAN.

Dr. Storey, the late principal of Glasgow University, taking a holiday in the country once, was met by the minister of the district, who remarked:

"Hullo, principal! You here? You must come down and relieve me for a day."

"I don't promise to relieve you," replied the principal, "but I might relieve your congregation."

A fat purse makes a good deal more than a slight difference.

"Pa," boo-hoed the staid son, "if I had let Wil' Ammonds lick me, instead of me nucking him, would you've whipped me just the same?"

"Yes; but remember that in such a case you would be getting two lickings in place of one!"

Many a man pulls down his character in an effort to build up a reputation.

The wise guy who knows which shell the little pea is under is usually the first to yell when stung.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

The session of the Dominion Parliament just closed holds the record for length. The session of 1903 was a long one, lasting 227 days. The session of 1907-8, however, having lasted 236 days, or almost eight months.

Mr. Joseph Walker, of Markdale, will have much reason to look with sadness on the 218th anniversary of the battle of the Boyne. Just after he got off the train at Dundalk on Monday, he stepped in some way in front of a moving engine which ran over him and cut his foot off completely just at the ankle.

The provincial health returns show 2117 deaths in Ontario in June, or 12.2 per thousand, an increase of 1 per cent. Of infectious diseases there were 843 cases and 249 deaths, compared with 1023 cases and 240 deaths in the same month last year. Tuberculosis accounts for 170 deaths, as compared with 143 in June, 1907. Scarlet fever and diphtheria were somewhat epidemic, there being 208 cases and nine deaths from the former, and 220 cases and 29 deaths from the latter.

Mr. Michael Farrell, 10th con. Proton, had a cow die recently, and he decided to investigate. On opening the beast it was discovered that a quantity of rusty nails and small stones had found lodgment in the stomach. A two and a half inch wire nail had punctured the heart. In the hardware collection was a screw nail two inches long besides other kinds varying in size, as well as three small spiral springs. It is not known how or when the animal swallowed the hardware and stones, but it is not supposed to have anything to do with last season's shortage of fodder.

The season is now far enough advanced to give a pretty fair idea of the crop prospects. Hay has been an average crop though the new meadows did not show up well owing to the unfavorable catch of last year. Fall wheat did not yield as well as last year. On the other hand, oats and peas make a splendid showing. The yield of both will be at least double of last year, in some cases three times as much. Corn, barley, potatoes and turnips promise exceedingly well. Fruit will be fully an average crop. Pastures have been greatly improved by the recent heavy rains. The return of good times at least in Ontario is clearly in sight.

The following recipe, which will be welcomed by housekeepers, is said by a writer in the New York Times to be invaluable as a remedy for carpet bugs and Buffalo moths:—One ounce of allum, one ounce of chloride of zinc, three ounces of salt, mix with two quarts of water and let stand over night in a covered vessel. In the morning pour carefully into another vessel so as to leave sediment behind. Dilute this with two quarts of water and apply by sprinkling the edges of the carpet for a distance of one foot from the wall. This is all that is necessary. The bugs will leave anything that is sprinkled with this solution, and it does not injure the texture or the color.

Willie Pratt, of Sullivan, Ind., had three dreams, which have just proved worth $25,000 to him. For three successive nights he saw visions of a wonderful churn which would make butter quicker and more cheaply than any churn ever dreamed of previously. At least Pratt had never dreamed of the like. Pratt, who is a farmer living near Sullivan, arose from his bed on the third morning and immediately fashioned a model of the dream churn. Now a Chicago churn manufacturing company has offered him $25,000 for the right to place his patented invention on the market.

The most remarkable burglar-proof safe in the world has just been placed in a bank at Newburg Island. At night the safe is lowered by cables into an impregnable metallic-lined sub vault of masonry and concrete. After reaching the bottom it is fastened down by massive steel lugs, operated by a triple time lock. Until these lugs are released automatically at a decided time nothing can raise the safe, and to break in through a mass of concrete and stone, which measures 10 feet by 10 feet by 16 feet, with dynamite would wreck the building without making the safe available.

Grocers throughout the province are up in arms against a new regulation of the wholesale grocers doing away with all discounts, to which they have been accustomed for years. The new regulation came into effect on July 1st, and is being rigorously enforced. The usual discounts allowed before the first of the month varied from 5 per cent. on several lines, down to 1 per cent. on others. These have now all been removed.

A Dornoch farmer who had quite a large flock of hens could not account for the fact that he got very few eggs, and was thinking of disposing of them all and getting a fresh lot when he made a discovery. In his hen house one day he found a snake and eventually killed two dozen of the reptiles of the black and garter varieties which were nested among some bark material in the hen house. After killing the snakes he found that his hens yielded a good supply of eggs.

Twenty thousand dollars in greenbacks loosely tied up in brown paper, was found on a truck in the train shed of the Canadian Pacific at Winnipeg. Hundreds of people arriving in the city on special excursion trains and on the regular trains passed by the package, no one giving it a second look. Eventually the contents of the package was discovered, and the precious consignment was hurried to its destination.

While walking in Altoona, Pa., the day, Miss Nettie Williams, of Pittsburg, was the object of an unusual attack. She wore a hat with a bird of brilliant plumage as an ornament. Suddenly her head became encircled by half a dozen blackbirds, which pecked at the bird in her hat, tearing out the bright colored feathers with their beaks. The blackbirds even flew in her face and lacerated the skin with their bills. Tearing the hat from her head, Miss Williams threw it on the ground. Her escort was obliged to use his coat to beat the birds off.

OUR NATIONAL DANGER.

TIME TO CRY A HALT BEFORE COMPLETE WRECK RESULTS.

There are thousands, both men and women, who do not take time to eat properly. They rush through life, and as a result we have an age of indigestion, nervousness, irritability, sleepless nights and morose disposition. Our national danger is stomach weakness, due to the strenuous life.

Mi-o-na tablets strengthen the walls of the stomach and stimulate secretion of the digestive juices. They make the stomach comfortable and cure indigestion.

Sick headaches, palpitation, yellow skin and coated tongue are a few of the many distressing results of indigestion that Mi-o-na never fails to cure.

Dr. Coates sells Mi-o-na in 50c. boxes, and guarantees to refund money if it does not give complete satisfaction.

In the sight of a dentist's chair all men are cowards. It is related that an Atchison county farmer and his little girl entered a dentist's office, the farmer desiring to have his aching tooth extracted. At the sight of the dentist's chair the farmer grew frightened, but rather than let on to the dentist he ordered a healthy tooth to be extracted from the mouth of his little girl. And the little girl never whimpered.

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

AUGUST 2ND, 1908.

David Anointed in Bethleem.—I. Sam. xvi: 1-13.

Golden Text—Man looketh on the outward appearance but the Lord Looketh on the heart.—I. Sam. xvi: 7.

Verse 1—What method did God use in talking to Samuel, and what method does he use to-day in talking to the faithful?

Was Samuel to be blamed, or praised for mourning over Saul's rejection?

Ought the feelings and the judgment of every true man, always harmonize with the clearly expressed will of God?

Verse 2—Did the Lord intend this instruction to Samuel, to say he was to come to sacrifice, to be a means of deceiving Saul, and if so, is such deceit in harmony with the teaching of Jesus?

Verse 3—Is it perfectly safe to go where God may send us, with only partial knowledge of what we have to do, with the confidence that God will make clear our full mission in due time?

Verse 4—May we hope for prosperity if we do not fall in gladly with God's plans?

Verse 5—If we are afraid of God's representative, or of God's providence, is it a sign of guilt?

Is God's coming, in any guise, always peaceably and for our good, if we are true to God?

Do we all need special preparation in order to enjoy public worship to the utmost?

Paper milk bottles are now in use in some places. They have two chief advantages. They will be unbreakable and sanitary. Dairymen say it costs about one cent a piece, counting breakages and cleaning, to deliver milk in glass bottles. Paper milk bottles would never break, and being sterilized when made, and sealed until the milk is put into them, they would be entirely sanitary. They would, of course, only be used once and then thrown away.

most, or should we always be in a proper state of mind for worship?

Verse 6—Should we permit ourselves to form a definite opinion of others without special light from God and is such light always available?

Does God permit really true and careful men to sometimes form wrong opinions, and if so why?

Verse 7—How much dependence can we place upon a handsome appearance, as an index to ability and goodness?

Do men and women generally have their character stamped upon their faces?

What is the difference in God's judgment, and in a man's judgment, of a man?

Verses 8-10—Is it usually necessary for us to find out, by actual experience what we need to know, and why?

Why did God not tell Samuel which of the sons of Jesse he had chosen for King, without all this formality?

On what ground does God make his choice when he has positions to fill?

Does it follow that when God passes a man by and selects another for a certain position that he loves the selected one more than the other?

Verses 11-13—Was it David's goodness alone that procured him the position of king?

When a man of God comes face to face with a supreme opportunity is there any possibility of him not embracing it?

It is said that the Toronto News has changed ownership and that Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Mines and Forests, is the chief shareholder in the new company. The World refuses to believe that a member of the Ontario Government owns the News which it denounces as a consistent supporter of the corporations, an insidious enemy of public ownership, and the tied-organ of those interests inimical to the public interest.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.
TORONTO.

Receipts of live stock at the city market, as reported by the railways, were 91 carloads, composed of 1152 cattle, 1788 hogs, 1312 sheep and lambs, with 187 calves.

There were few well-finished cattle on sale to-day.

Trade was dull for cattle at 15c to 25c per cwt. lower than at the Junction on Monday, with several loads reported as being unsold at the close of the market.

One drover, who refused an offer of $4.40 for a load of butchers' cattle at the Junction on Monday, reported that the best offer he could get to-day was $4.20.

Exporters—No loads of export steers were reported on the market, altho one or two loads could have been disposed of. A few export bulls were reported as being sold at $3.75 to $4.50 per cwt.

Butchers—The highest price reported as being paid for a load of butchers' cattle, and they were good, the best on the market, was for a load sold by Maybee, Wilson & Hall, weighing 1060 lbs each, at $5 per cwt. Geo. Rowntree, who bought 170 cattle for the Harris Abattoir Company, reported his best loads at $4.40 to $4.85; good cows and medium butchers, at $3.75 to $4.75; canners at $1.50 to $3.50 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers—A few of both classes were sold at unchanged quotations.

Milkers and Springers—There was a good trade for good quality at unchanged quotations. Prices ranged from $30 to $57 each.

Veal Calves—Veal calves were reported as being slow of sale at $3 to $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs—The market was firm for sheep, but lambs sold at lower quotations. Export ewes sold at $3.75 to $4 per cwt; rams, $3 to $3.25 per cwt; lambs sold from $6 to $6.65 per cwt.

Hogs—Mr. Harris reported hog prices unchanged from last week's quotations; selects, $6.90 fed and watered at the market, and lights, $6.65.

The Loquacious Swain.

Mr. Blackwoods had called for the first time to escort Miss Bumkin to the weekly prayer meeting. An excess of timidity and self-consciousness reduced both to the point of absolute silence, until at last and with visible effort, as the "meeting house" is neared, the gallant summons all his courage.

"Do you like stewed rabbit?" he hazards.

"Yes" returns the maiden coyly.

Again silence, until on the return journey the home lights are sighted, when, with another mighty effort, the resourceful swain asks feelingly:

"Ain't the gravy nice?"

And yet there are those that maintain that country folk sometimes seem at a loss for conversational topics.

THE WILES OF WOMEN.

There promises to be a lively time in the State of Georgia, U. S. Assembly this week when the bill introduced by Glenn of Whitefield relating to the wiles and blandishments of women comes up for action.

The measure, on which a favorable report has been ordered, provided that if any woman, whether maid or widow, shall betray into matrimony any unsuspecting males subjects of this State by scents, paints, powder or perfumes, cosmetics, artificial teeth, false hair, iron stays, corsets, pads or padding, hoops or high-heeled shoes, low-cut waists, lingerie, lace, variegated, drop-stitch or rainbow hosiery or by any other deceitful means or artificial practises, the marriage, upon conviction, shall be null and void.

Glenn of Whitefield, the author of the bill, has been at a summer resort recently and says the bill is needed.

The largest and most expensive casket ever seen in Fordwich was ordered by W. A. Edwards & Son, from the National Casket Co. of Toronto. The dimensions were 6 ft 3 in. long, 2 ft 4 in. wide inside, 2 ft 9 in. wide outside, 2 ft 5 in. deep. It was made of oak with three iron bands covered in black and with rolled lid, trimmed with Masonic ornaments and having eight massive handles finished in ebony and copper. The case and corpse weighed about 800 pounds and the cost of the casket was about $250. The casket was used for the late Wm. Hamilton.

The Toronto papers are warning the public against counterfeit $10 bills of the Standard Bank, which are afloat in that city. If you are tendered a ten-dollar bill of the Standard Bank look of it with suspicion until you see whether it is numbered 160,023, 21,345, 31,024. If it is your suspicions are confirmed, and you can safely refuse it. The city police say that the bogus bills are very poor prints. They are all dated May 1, 1901.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed. "I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, pains of the hands, scaling, itching of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I am encouraged. I continued the NEW METHOD TREATMENT for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish."

ROBBERIES ON THE C. P. R.

Claimed to Have Been Solved by the Arrest of a Negro After a Long Chase.

A despatch from North Bay, Ont., says: The mystery of many robberies of passengers on C. P. R. trains west of North Bay during the last month, which caused the railway company great annoyance, and seemed destined to baffle the best detective skill, has, it is claimed, by the authorities, been solved in the arrest on Wednesday of a negro, giving the name of Lamont. Pinkerton Detective Murray, of Boston, who has been working on the case for several weeks, chased Lamont to Moose Jaw, his quarry doubling back from that point and managing to elude the detective until Wednesday, when C. P. R. Constable Williams arrested him at North Bay and wired Detective Murray of his capture. Murray arrived and identified the prisoner as the man wanted. Lamont has been travelling back and forth on night trains. When asked his reason for travelling so extensively, he said he was just fishing.

Lamont was identified by C. P. R. officials as having made his headquarters at Schreiber, where he occasioned the company considerable trouble. He was remanded to jail for eight days in order that his record could be looked up.

CATTLE MARKET.

Toronto, July 21.—Prices were reported 10c to 15c higher in some cases, but for the greater part they were steady. The demand for exporters shows a slight improvement. Good butchers' were very scarce and what there were brought very good prices. Cows were firm, although no material change was noticeable in the prices.

There was a good supply of sheep and lambs, and the demand was good, so the market was just about steady. Local prices of choice live hogs are $6.90 per cwt., fed and watered off cars Toronto.

SEVEN PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Broke Through One of the Rooms at Toronto Jail.

A despatch from Toronto says: A skillfully-planned and boldly-executed escape from Toronto Jail was made on Friday by seven prisoners, who got clear away. It was a few minutes prior to 4 o'clock that the escape was discovered, but as the prisoners were all dressed in their usual clothes there was nothing to distinguish them from ordinary citizens once they were outside the jail grounds. The men who got away were confined in a corridor where are kept those prisoners who are there awaiting sentence or trial. From the evidence it was apparent that the escape had been planned for some time, and the secret carefully kept among the dozen or more prisoners who were confined in this particular corridor. As will be seen from their records several of the men are well-known criminals, three of them United States crooks, and it is not at all improbable that help was received from the outside.

Securing a key to the door of a chamber known as the death chamber, and used for the hanging of the negro, John Boyd, one of the number entered there daily, and with the lever used on the drop of the scaffold dug through the wall to the yard, where the prisoners were faced by the jail wall twenty feet high. They apparently stood on each other's shoulders till one reached the top, and the others were drawn up by jail bedclothes, and lowered down the other side of the wall in the same manner. Then a short dash along a lane and they were at liberty.

The following are the names of the prisoners, with their records, who escaped:—Alexander Rose, awaiting sentence on two charges of felonious wounding. Henry Churchill, committed for trial on charge of robbing Pullman cars on Grand Trunk. John C. Clark, broke jail from Newcastle, Penn., June 15, 1908, arrested in Toronto for theft. William D. Jones, broke jail from Newcastle, Penn., arrested here for theft. Robert Snow, escaped from Mimico Industrial School on June 19. Edward Lee, awaiting sentence for theft. John Copeland, awaiting sentence for theft.

ANOTHER HEAD-ON COLLISION

Winnipeg-Toronto Train Met a Freight Near Current River.

A despatch from Port Arthur says: The Winnipeg-Toronto train which passed through here on Sunday afternoon met in a head-on collision with a freight train just east of the Current River, and only the fact that the recent flood there had necessitated the building of a new bridge over which trains run slowly prevented a serious disaster. The train was going only about ten miles an hour when it struck the freight, and though several cars were badly damaged, only the fireman and engineer of the passenger train, W. Morris and C. Bowles of Schreiber, and the news agent and waiter on the dining car were injured. They were badly shaken up and bruised. The freight crew saw the passenger train approaching and jumped after stopping their train, but not in time to give warning to the passenger train. It is stated that the accident was caused by a mistake on the part of the freight in using orders issued Saturday instead of those issued on Sunday. No. 94 was cancelled on Saturday on account of trouble west of here, and orders then were issued for the freight trains to run through without regard to the passenger schedule. One of these orders was used on Sunday. George Roos of Schreiber was the conductor of the freight.

THE WEST WANTS MEN.

The Labor Scarcity Likely to be a Serious Problem.

A despatch from Winnipeg says: Grain in all parts of the west is showing the benefits of the recent rains, and everywhere the situation is very encouraging. Developments are few and steady growth is the principal feature. Wheat heads are filling out in fine style, giving promise of heavy yields. Unusual concern is felt regarding the supply of harvest hands this year. The interval between the harvest in Ontario and that in Manitoba is likely to be shorter than ever before, and overlapping may interfere with excursions to the west. Mr. William Whyte of the Canadian Pacific Railway believes 25,000 men are required in the three Provinces, and a campaign will be started early to secure that number. The labor situation is likely to cause some anxiety before the season is over.

TWO MEN SUFFOCATED.

Were Engaged in Excavating for Bridge at Lethbridge.

A despatch from Lethbridge, Alta., says: A double fatality occurred on Wednesday afternoon, when two men, Frank Rush, an Englishman, and George E. Thompson, from North Dakota, met sudden death by gas suffocation. A hole 30 feet deep had been sunk by the C. P. R. to test the foundation for a pier for the big bridge, and an abandoned entry to the Galt Mine was found. Work was discontinued on account of the gas.

DOWNFALL THROUGH DRINK

Once Prosperous Man Brought His Family to Ruin.

A despatch from Montreal says: Seven years ago William Wright, head of the Wright Paper Company, was rated at $65,000. In 1904 he failed, owing to his fondness for drink. On Friday, on complaint of his wife, he was sent to jail for three months. In giving evidence she said: "He drank it all, and I have no home now. I am a pauper and my children are starving after having all that money could buy."

A SAD PICNIC THIS.

Driver of Tally-ho Fatally Injured at Guelph.

A despatch from Guelph says: A fatal accident occurred on Saturday to a jolly party of Guelph printers and their friends through which Fred Anderson lost his life. Anderson was employed in Hooper's livery stable and was the driver on a four-horse tallyho, which was taking the Guelph party to Puslinch Lake, where they were to join a printers' picnic from Galt. The accident, which was of a trifling nature and yet resulted fatally, happened on Waterloo avenue just after the start was made. The wheel caught in the street car switch, causing the vehicle to slew, and Anderson was thrown from his seat and under the heavy wheels. The front wheels passed over his legs, but the hind wheel caught the middle of his body, crushing him in such a manner as to cause death a couple of hours later in the hospital. The unfortunate fellow was brought back in the tallyho and the trip was called off. Anderson was a married man and was well known and respected in the city.

WOLFE MEMORIAL.

Service will be Held at His Tomb in Greenwich Church.

A despatch from London says: On the day of dedication at Quebec there will be a memorial service at St. Alfege Church, at Greenwich, where Wolfe is buried. The Lord Mayor and sheriffs will attend, and it is hoped detachments of Wolfe's regiments will also be present.

UPSET IN A SQUALL.

Young Man and Woman Drowned, Child Rescued.

A despatch from Halifax says: While sailing on Bedford Basin late Wednesday afternoon Una Roy, aged seventeen, and William Muir, aged sixteen, were drowned, and Margaret Muir, aged twelve, a sister of the last named victim, was rescued, after being half an hour in the water. When the party left Bedford at 4 o'clock the weather was fine and the water calm, but suddenly a terrific thunderstorm set in, and before the party could make the shore a heavy squall swept down from the north, and capsized the boat. The three occupants were hurled into the water about a quarter of a mile from the shore. As the craft began to fill and settle down in the water, Muir seized the two oars, passing one to his little sister and the other to Miss Roy. The latter, however, soon sank, and Muir, exhausted from his efforts to keep the two girls afloat, also went down. Little Margaret, however, clung to the oar, and her screams for help attracted the attention of a man named Wilkes, who was on the shore, and, procuring a boat, he rescued the little girl. The victims are members of prominent Halifax families summering at Bedford. Miss Roy is a daughter of Mr. J. E. Roy, and William Muir a son of Mr. Andrew Muir.

IRON NEAR MONTREAL.

Very Important Discovery by a C. P. R. Official.

A despatch from Montreal says: A leading official of the C. P. R. made the statement on Thursday that in the Laurentian Mountains, within 100 miles of Montreal, were the largest iron ore deposits in Canada; in fact, the ore area was miles square in extent. "The reports are now before me, showing sixty per cent. of iron to a ton of earth. I leave Montreal on Friday for the purpose of endeavoring to bring into realization what would have been yesterday described as a dream. Until we have completed the preliminaries it would be most injudicious to give particulars, but the genuineness of the find is beyond question," was the closing comment of the official.

SCHEME WILL BE EXTENDED

Several Ontario Counties Are Likely to Have Forest Nurseries.

A despatch from Toronto says: The Ontario Government's farm forestry scheme which has been initiated by the acquiring at the cost of $1,000 one hundred acres of land in Norfolk county to be used as a forest nursery is to be expanded as quickly as possible. The Minister of Agriculture has suggested that suitable places for the establishment of further nurseries would be Durham, Simcoe and Lambton counties, in all of which are large areas of lands which have been declared to be unrentable for agricultural purposes. The work under the department has been progressing steadily.

In the last two years something like half a million young white pine trees have been imported from Germany and distributed through the medium of the Agricultural College at Guelph. In connection with the Government nurseries it is proposed to utilize the services of the graduates of the Agricultural College who have taken a course in forestry. With regard to the large scheme of reforestation which will doubtless be undertaken by the Government at some future time the idea which has been advocated by the Hon. Nelson Montcith is that they should reforest some of the large areas in the north.

SMASHED A WOMAN'S NOSE

James McMananey Said It Was the Only Way to Save Her From Drowning.

A despatch from Montreal says: A sailor by the name of James McMananey on board the S.S. Nianga of the Elder-Dempster Line, saved the life of a woman on Wednesday morning, who had fallen off the wharf. She was walking along the wharf in an intoxicated condition and fell into the river. McMananey jumped in after her and brought her to the edge. As soon as she was safe the woman started to scream and call for help, saying that her rescuer was trying to murder her. Then she grasped the sailor's hair and commenced to pull it out in handfuls. This caused McMananey to release his hold on the woman, and she fell back into the water again, pulling her rescuer with her by the hair. Then started a battle under the water, for when the woman came up a few seconds afterwards it was seen that her nose was bleeding badly. By this time a boat had been sent out from the shore and the parties rescued.

When McMananey was seen afterwards he was suffering from a sore head where the woman had pulled at his hair. When asked if he had struck the woman he replied that he had, as this was the only way in which he could save her. She had a death grip on him.

A Broken Vow;

—OR—

BETTER THAN REVENGE.

CHAPTER XXII.

Mr. Victor Kelman was a man who lived by some curious method known only to himself. There were times when he had plenty of money, and times when he had none; an adventurer, he was a man of no country, and yet of all countries. It was quite impossible to say how old he might be, or how young; and he had had only one consistent feeling in the whole course of his existence. That feeling was his love for Olive Varney.

It had begun in admiration, and had continued in wonder. She had been so unlike the women he had met—so strong and dominant and self-reliant; and she was interesting by reason of the life she led. In strange Continental cities and towns he had met her, again and again—a sad and solemn girl—wandering with her father—a desolate stranger among light-hearted and happy people. The mystery about her had attracted him; her beauty also. Then had come that strange news of her death; and the marvellous surprise of finding her alive beside her own grave. He had been willing enough to act as her accomplice in a matter which promised some sport, and which promised, above all things, to bring him into closer relationship with herself.

But the man was maddened at the thought that she had used him up to a certain point, and then had calmly flung him aside, and told him she was done with him. To declare that she was Olive Varney would not serve his purpose, and would not further his cause with her; he was quite at a standstill, and had merely wasted his time, as he told himself bitterly enough. He was no nearer to the stony heart of this woman than he had ever been; and he had been made to appear ridiculous before other people for a mere whim of hers.

A creature of moods at all times, he had suddenly decided to abandon the matter; had changed his mind once more, and to the little shop in Westminster, in search of the real Aunt Phipps who had so basely deceived him. There, of course, he discovered that she was dead.

He discovered something else. Going back to the little shop after Olive Varney had left the place, he seated himself, in his usual casual fashion, on the counter, and spoke pleasant words to Mr. Jordan Tagg.

"You don't remember me," he said. "Perhaps if I call you Father Time you will remember. I was a friend of the dear departed." He jerked his head in the direction of the floor above as he spoke.

"I remember you well," Tagg had said. "I did not quite recognize you just now, although your face seemed familiar. What do you want?"

Thereupon Mr. Victor Kelman had entered into the matter of Aunt Phipps' death; had by a few cunning questions discovered the manner of the death, and even the place of burial. A few more casual questions, and he found that the old lady had left behind a few odd papers and a book or two—things of so little importance that Tagg had forgotten even to mention them to Olive. Now that it was all over, he evidently would not be sorry to get rid of them.

Assuming a carelessness he did not feel, Victor Kelman had managed to get hold of these things, and had finally taken them away with him. He was so gentlemanly, and he appeared to know all the circumstances concerning Aunt Phipps so well, that old Jordan Tagg had no suspicion.

From his point of view, however, the papers appeared worthless. There was an old well-worn Prayer Book, with the name "Annie Phipps" written in it; and there was a certain amount of desultory writing in a little note-book—a species of diary with which the old woman had apparently occupied her spare time in those last days. Victor read them through contemptuously enough; he found that they were for the most part laments in regard to the person she called "poor Phipps," and expressions of concern regarding the probable fate of her nephew.

"Now if she'd only have told the story in extenso, we might have got something out of it," Mr. Victor Kelman had murmured discontentedly to himself. "Hullo! what's this? She has done more for the boy than ever I could have done; she is a complete stranger, and yet for some reason she has given Christopher a hundred pounds. I was always lucky, spite of Phipps. I shall sleep tonight. That's a confession, at least; that pins down the whole business in a line or two," murmured Victor Kelman.

After that he had dived furtively into the diary, and had found out references. In one case there was a whimsical but accurate description of Olive herself; even to slow, quiet voice, and the dark eyes and everything. "She's the proudest Aunt Phipps in the world. I am quite proud of myself; if Olive Phipps had seen her, there would have been much chance for me."

A little further on he came to the last entry of all. "I am a little afraid to-day—and very lonely. All the clocks in all the world seem to be ticking and chiming my brain. It does not matter; I die to-night there is someone stronger and braver than I am someone they call Aunt Phipps. I wonder why she was so anxious to take my name and my place. I wonder—"

There the diary ceased; but Mr. Victor Kelman had read enough. In idle curiosity he turned back to the front page of the Prayer Book and found that "Annie Phipps" had been written in at a comparatively recent date, and that another name had been scored out. Inside the cover itself was written, in an old-fashioned, girlish hand—

"Given to me on my 10th birthday—June 5th, 1859. Anne Clifton."

Looking back at that name which had been erased, Mr. Victor Kelman discovered the long curve of the capital "C" standing out at one end of the erasure, and at the tops of the "I" and the "A" sticking out above it. He laughed as he shut up the Prayer Book and put it with the rest of the papers. "You are scarcely so old as that would make out, my dear Olive," he had said. "We'll keep these for future reference, or for use if necessary."

As a matter of fact, Mr. Victor Kelman might have made mischief at once, and might have proved his case. But two things held him back; the first, that he still had some faint hope that Olive might turn to him of her own accord; second, that he might use the knowledge he had gained concerning her to force her to come to him. In any case there was plenty of time and he had his weapons ready.

The nomadic, adventuring spirit of the man asserted itself, and he went abroad. Thus it happened that he knew nothing of the marriage of Chris and Lucy, and not of any other changes that had taken place. In just the same fashion as he had wandered off on other occasions during all the years Olive Varney had known him, so on one occasion he packed the few possessions he had and disappeared.

It is necessary that we should look at the events in this curious little history to some extent through the eyes of Mr. Victor Kelman; only difficulty being that those events were not turned in the direction of Greenways' Gardens until some months had elapsed. Then—little more prosperous than he had been before, and a little tired with wandering aimlessly—he suddenly thought of that strange, fascinating woman with whom he jointly held a secret, as it were, and he determined once more to find her. In any distinctly aggressive spirit, but rather because he had nothing else to do, and the affair had amused him.

He urged the thing out in his own curious fashion, and he considered how best he could find Olive. The most natural and straightforward way would have been to go to Greenways' Gardens and enquire; but there was nothing natural nor straightforward about Victor Kelman. Arguing with himself that the real heart of the business lay with the boy Christopher Dayne, he determined to seek him; because if Olive had kept all that curious little comedy regarding Aunt Phipps, she must necessarily be still connected with Chris.

"The situation ought to be a part

Frost Fences Are Strong All Around

The laterals of a Frost Fence are High Carbon No. 9 Hard Steel Coiled Wire, thoroughly galvanized—that can't be broken until the strain reaches from 1900 to 2200 pounds.

The stays are No. 7 or this same No. 9 wire. And the two wires are locked with the Frost Locks. That braces the fence in all directions—up down and diagonally.

We are so sure that Frost Fences are the strongest and best that we guarantee to repair, free of charge, any fence that goes wrong. That's fair, isn't it? Frost Wire Fences are for sale!
