Mr. Innes, in the absence of Mr. Peterson, presented the report of the School Management Committee, recommending that Miss J. E. Smith's salary be increased by $50 a year, to commence on the 1st of April.

On motion of Mr. Innes, seconded by Mr. Wilkie, the report was adopted.

SCHOOL GROUNDS.

The chairman drew the attention of the Board to the necessity of doing something to improve the school grounds.

In this connection, later in the evening Messrs. Peterson and Innes moved that the Visiting Committees be instructed to learn what improvements at the school grounds would be desirable, especially with regard to planting trees, and that they report at next meeting with the estimated cost of improvement; that the Sites and Buildings Committee report on the advisability of taking water into the schools from the water works. The estimated expenditure of Prince Edward for the ensuing year is above two hundred and fifty-two thousand dollars. The largest item in this amount is for education, some ninety-one thousand; the next for public works seventy-five thousand. The appropriation for legislation is not all extravagant, even for so small a Province, being only about twelve thousand dollars. The Government stock farm, an institution that has been of incalculable advantage to the agricultural interests of the Province, gets two thousand dollars, probably for the purchase of improved stock abroad.

An Edinburgh correspondent writes:—"The political excitement in Scotland has taken possession of all ranks and classes, and, I may add, of all ages. A crowd gathered round two ragged little urchins who were fighting in one of the principal streets in Edinburgh, the other afternoon. After they had pounded one another for a few minutes, an old lady made her way into the ring and collared one of the combatants. When he was asked what it was all about, he replied, 'He's a Liberal and I'm a Conservative. He likes Gladstone and I hate him.' I am bound to add that the champion of the policy of physical force had the best of it."

TUESDAY EVNG, APRIL 13, 1880

The Government Railway Policy.

The Government has announced that on Thursday first Sir Charles Tupper, Minister of Railways and Canals, will submit his Pacific Railroad resolutions to the consideration of the House of Commons. What the precise terms of the resolutions are is at present unknown, as undoubtedly they will be largely decided by the result of the Ministerial caucus to be held today. At the present moment rumour tends to show the existence of a deep-seated dissatisfaction among many supporters of the Government, especially the Quebec contingent, with their course in relation to the British Columbian section of the international highway. Many ingenious expedients have been resorted to by Ministerialists to learn the details of the Opposition's prospective policy, but save the bald fact that Hon. Mr. Blake will move an amendment to the resolutions declaratory of the expediency of proceeding with the construction of the Yale Kamloops section in the present condition of the Dominion's finances, they have learned nothing. It is clear, however, that the supporters of the Government are all at sixes and sevens on the question, while on the other hand it is expected the Opposition will present an unbroken front in support of Mr. Blake's amendment.

The Ministerialists do not feel so decided in their Pacific Railway policy as they did a week since. The Quebec Conservatives still talk loudly against the Government's proceeding with the construction of the Yale-Kamloops section at the present time, but their bluster and loud talk is characterised by a lack of that essential commodity known as "backbone" that has always been their forte. A deputation is now in Ottawa representing the Quebec City Board of Trade to ask that a sum equivalent to that expended in British Columbia be expended in Quebec, on the road running from Quebec city north of Lake St. John, through the back wilderness immediately south of Hudson's Bay to the Northwest.

The Elections in Britain.

Up to this time the Liberals have elected 349 members in the next Parliament; the Tories 228; and the Home Rulers 57. The net Liberal gains are 108. Only 19 seats now remain vacant.

MR. GLADSTONE has finally declined a public reception in London.

THE latest objection to the Bill to legalize marriage with a deceased wife's sister, is that a man should not have more than one mother-in-law.

A BADEN letter describes the Queen as exasperated against Beaconsfield, alleging that he deceived her respecting the real feeling of the country, and alienated the most loyal portion of her dominions.

A STATEMENT of the revenue received to March 31st, 1880, shows $16,167,530, while for the corresponding period of 1879 it was $18,227,885, or a falling off of over two millions for the nine months of the year.

MR. PARNELL has scored another victory, having been elected for his former constituency. Parnell claims that the Home Rulers have made large gains in Ireland, and that they will hold the balance of power. This, however, seems by no means likely if the returns already published are at all reliable.

THE report of the engineering of the Chief of the Pacific Railway shows that there has been expended on account of work done up to December 31st, 1879, on that road, $9,379,979; also that there is involved unfinished contracts of $19,085,267, or a total liability so far of $28,465,247. Of course this does not include the expenditure on surveys or explorations.

If a lawyer should be asked to tell the secrets of his client, or if a doctor were asked to reveal what he learns in the sick room, by parties who only seek to gratify curiosity, such parties would meet very likely with a firm reproach. Why is it then, that an article appears in a newspaper, as correspondence, or when something editorial attracts more than the usual attention, there are persons who will ask the editors of that paper "who wrote this article," or who wrote that letter?" And yet such questions are asked every day. If editors should "give away" their correspondents, or should tell the sources of their information, they would very soon lose the confidence of such persons, who would very likely thereafter take no pains to serve them.

SPEAKING of the recent rise in the coal duties, the Monetary Times says: "The Dominion Government too readily complies with this fatal request, and the result is to put a weight on the ankle of every Canadian manufacturer before he commences the race against foreign competition. A further result is to make artificially dear an article of such prime necessity as is coal in our climate. The manufacturer, in turn, is compensated by an additional tax on foreign manufactures which come into competition with his own. The result must be to make goods artificially dear. So far as revenue necessities go, the increase of the tariff was not only perfectly justifiable; it was a duty which, as repeated deficits show, was but too tardily performed. But the taxing of raw materials was a mistake, and of all these taxes that on coal, now to be increased, was perhaps the most inexcusable, though there was none whatever for a tax on foreign grains."

The Arthur Junction Railway.

Reply to Fair Play.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

DEAR SIR:—Using the nom de plume "Fair-play" (which, however, the writer does not seem inclined to allow others) some person writes to you on the subject of railway agitation in Peel. I ask the privilege of making a short reply to the communication which I propose to do under my own signature, not resorting to the cowardly practice of abusing other people while afraid to let the world know who the writer is.

The person starts off with the statement that the means used by the Arthur Junction railway company to defeat the W., W. and G. B. R. R. "is (sic) both unfair and contemptible." I was not actively engaged in the defeat of the W. & W. scheme, but from what I know of the gentlemen who were I am well satisfied that the charge is false and nothing in the person's letter shows the correctness of his statement.

About a year ago the A. J. R. submitted a by-law for $6,000 over the whole township, which was defeated. A short time ago a by-law for $30,000 was submitted by the W. & W., this was also defeated. Immediately upon this defeat the A. J. R. commenced to arrange for the submission of a $6,000 by-law over that portion of the township which showed by their votes that they were in favor of their enterprise, properly arguing that sufficient time had elapsed for the ratepayers to have considered the matter in all its bearings. The W. & W. with rather indecent haste cut off the portion where they got no votes and jumped at the Council to give them a chance to grab what they could control, in the hope that the southern part of the township by a coup de main could overcome the 16 votes they were behind, roping in the east central part of the township which is diametrically opposed to the W. & W. scheme. This part has now become known as "the lap," and for the purpose of ascertaining the views of the residents of "the lap" the meetings alluded to have been held, and at every one of those meetings the speakers told the people that there was not the slightest intention of not submitting the by-law for $6,000 The sentence in the person's letter stating that the only object was to defeat the $24,000, and they would never be asked for the $6,000 is not true. No officer of the A. J. R company ever made such a statement, nor was anyone authorised to do so, and no friend of the A. J. R. could say such a thing. On the present occasion I do not intend to go into the merits of the two roads, I think it is unnecessary, but am prepared at any time, and on any platform, to discuss those merits with the person when he has the courage to disclose his name. The person may think the W. & W. more important, and he (or she) has a right to that opinion. I and those acting with me think differently, and the resolutions which have been carried in "the lap" must show the person that the residents of "the lap" agree with us. Not only do these people protest against the W. & W. scheme, but they at every meeting carried resolutions asking the Council to submit the $6,000 by-law, which they said they would support, the question is therefore why should the ratepayers in "the lap" be forced into this $24,000 scheme against their wish, and not be allowed to take up the A. J. R., which they consider will benefit them, and for which they ask? As an argement in favor of the W. & W. the person states that $90,000 will be spent in Peel, of which the township will only contribute $30,000. What does the A. J. R. say? "give us $6,000 and we will spend every dollar that is spent on the road in your township, $50,000 or $60,000, and all the money voted by Arthur and Luther will be spent within your limits." Which is the best for Peel?

The person next complains that the south people cannot see the benefits to arise from the building of the A. J. R., and that all the meetings in its favour have been held in the north. I should like to know where the meetings ought to be held except as they have in every part of the territory from which we are asking a bonus.

The person seems to be jealous of Arthur becoming a larger place if the A. J. R is built. That is exactly what we are anxious to accomplish, to make Arthur a better market by being a competing point, and thereby giving the farmers of Peel a higher price for their produce. I am undoubtedly of opinion that property in Arthur will increase in value, and have no hesitation in saying so, but why I should be singled out by name for taking a part in doing good for myself and my country, over and above all the others who spoke at the meetings is more than I can tell.

Although I would have been perfectly willing of my own will to assist in this enterprise, it was not only as a private citizen that I attended those meetings. The Council of the city of Guelph appointed Mr. J. P MacMillan, Mr. J. G. McLagan and myself to go to Peel, and I also had the pleasure of attending in my official capacity as Vice President of the road. Are there no interested motives which make the person so anxious to gobble up $24,000 for a scheme such as the W. & W., which never can be built? What is the object of putting the township to the expense of these by-laws? The agitators know full well that even if the by-law passed they cannot build their road. I am convinced that the sole object is to defeat the A. J. R. for no other purpose in the world but from a feeling prompted by jealousy to thwart the Arthur people in their endeavors in favour of progress. If the southern people are so anxious for this road let those who are in favour of its tax themselves as much as they like, but leave those residents of "the lap" alone to support the enterprise they are in favour of. That is all we ask, viz., that the council shall divide the township as the ratepayers deeply interested ask it to be divided. I hope to have further opportunities of discussing this matter, and thanking you for your space,

I am yours very truly,
FRED J. CHADWICK.

Is He a Forger?

The Monetary Times announces that a man calling himself "G. Arnold, Dundas," has been attempting to get a situation from a well known Collingwood firm by means of bogus and forged certificates. Two of those certificates purported to be from J. S. Scott & Co., Thorold, and John Hart, St. Thomas, but the firm could get no answer, no such persons having been in business in these places. The alleged forger seems to have been living in Montreal, for it has transpired that suspecting the recommendatory letter, signed by Scott & Co., to be a sham, the Collingwood firm then requested their friends in Thorold to enquire at the post office who posted letters having J. S. Scott & Co. stamped on the envelope peculiarly and conspicuously. The postmaster luckily remembers this gorgeously enveloped letter, and others received addressed the same. He was a "good looking man, about 5 feet 10 in height," and on the 19th ult. desired his letters addressed Thorold to be forwarded to Hamilton.

A Suspicious Case of Murder and Incendiarism.

BRIGHTON, April 12.—What to all present appearances promises to form a parallel to the Biddulph horror occurred near the village of Wooler, on Saturday night last. The house of a man named Haskins was, about ten o'clock in the evening, discovered to be on fire, and when those who first saw the fire arrived a horrible sight presented itself. The burned and charred body of a man, which proved to be that of the owner of the house, lay about a foot from the door, with its face buried in the dirt and ashes, the legs and lower part of the body being entirely destroyed. It is supposed that the old man, who for some twenty-five or thirty years has lived in the house that is now only a heap of ashes, was possessed of some ready money, and that some fiend in human form first robbed him and then resorted to murder and incendiarism to efface the traces of the crime. This supposition gains strength from the fact that nothing can be found of a gun or a huge knife that he always kept in his bedroom, it is supposed to defend himself. He has been married, but some two or three years since a separation took place, and he has lived entirely alone. An inquest is being held on the body to-day by Drs. Fyfe and Dean.

SHOOTING IN ARRAN.—The Paisley Advocate says: We have just been informed of a shooting case which occurred in the township of Arran, near Southampton, one night last week. It appears that four young men went into a neighbor's sugar bush, lit a fire, and commenced to make themselves at home. It also appears that on the previous night other parties had visited the same bush and made sad havoc with the sugar making utensils. Thinking no doubt, on the night to which we refer, that he was being honored with a second visit from the same parties, the farmer waxed wroth, shouldered his shooting irons, and went forth to do battle with the miscreants. On approaching the young men he emptied the contents of his gun among them. Three of the parties were wounded, one very painfully, we understand.

On Sunday a woman named McCullough, an inmate of the Toronto Gaol, made a savage attack on Miss Kerr, the assistant matron. She struck her on the head with a sandstone that is used for scrubbing the stone flags. Not satisfied with this she pursued the object of her hatred as far as the rooms of the first matron, where Miss Kerr took refuge. A second stone which the infurriated woman held in her hand she hurled through a pane of glass in the door. Miss Kerr's cries for help attracted two of the turnkeys to the scene, whereupon McCullough was secured.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 12.

Mr. Abbott introduced a Bill to provide for the distribution of the assets of insolvent traders.

On the motion to receive the report of the Committee on Ways and Means, which include the tariff amendments, Mr. Paterson (Brant) again directed the Finance Minister's attention to the fact that embossed books for the blind were still subjected to an enormous duty owing to their expense, and he contrasted the taxation imposed by the Canadian Government on the literature for the blind with the liberal policy pursued by the Provincial and foreign Governments. In conclusion, he moved that the report be referred back to the Committee with instructions to amend the same by placing embossed books for the blind upon the free list.

Sir Leonard Tilley stated that the Government had considered the proposition and could not consent to the change.

Mr. Blake and Sir Richard Cartwright both announced their attention of supporting the amendment, not only on grounds of compassion but on grounds of justice, as owing to the increased cost of embossed books over ordinary primers, etc., the tariff discriminated against the blind.

From these remarks it became clear that the members were to be called in, and there was a remarkable nervousness among the Government supporters, and quite a few began looking for their hats.

Sir John Macdonald saw the danger of defeat, and jumping up suddenly ignored Sir Leonard's statement that the Government had unfavourably considered the matter, and said that his hon. friend had no objection to offer to the amendment save the delay it would cause.

A more lame excuse than this cannot be imagined when it is mentioned that the amendment was carried, referred to Committee, incorporated in the resolutions, and adopted by the House within two minutes afterwards. This is the first amendment made to the tariff by the Opposition.

The House then went in Committee of Supply.

On the item of $159,750 for Immigration and Quarantine the debate turned upon the distribution of Yankee emigration by the Department of Agriculture. From the speeches made it appeared that the Minister of Agriculture ordered 20,000 copies of a pamphlet entitled "The Turtle Mountain District and Southern Manitoba," which contained an advertisement of Yankee lands, printed in the Montreal Gazette office, and that after the Globe had directed attention to the fact, but before the purchase had been delivered to the Department, at the Minister's instigation the advertisement was cut out. This, however, is no excuse for the Minister. He should have acquainted himself with the contents of the pamphlet before purchasing it. Apart from this the text of the pamphlet is objectionable, and above all the pamphlet is avoidably written in the interests of a railway corporation which applied for a charter at this very session of the Dominion Parliament.

Another disclosure during the debate was that the stations along the Intercolonial Railway are being used for the purpose of inducing by advertisements Canadians to immigrate to the United States. It may be interesting to note that this debate, which lasted four hours, was precipitated by Mr. Plumb, who was stupid enough to accuse Mr. Mackenzie of being a Texas land agent.

Shortly after midnight Mr. Huntington delivered a rather sarcastic speech on Sir A. T. Galt's mission, in which he ascribed that Knight's appointment as due to the influence of the Minister of Agriculture. It was desirable to get rid of Sir Alexander, because in the event of a vacancy in the leadership of the Conservative party, or if such a disaster should overtake them as had overtaken the English Jingoes, he would be a powerful candidate for that position.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack us wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœpathic Chemists, London, Eng." n4dw9md

THE ROVER OF THE SEAS

—OR—

TWENTY YEARS IN EXILE.

A TALE OF THE SOLWAY.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

MR. BISHOP TO THE RESCUE—THE PROOFS OF INNOCENCE—A TRIUMPHAL RETURN—WESTWARD HO!

"Then there is an end of the case," said the Sheriff, addressing his words to the prosecutor.

"My lord," said Bishop firmly, "there should never have been a beginning to it. Twenty years having elapsed, the crime, according to our law, is prescribed, and neither Mr. Borland nor anyone else can be charged with it.

"Well, Mr. Ward, what have you to say?" inquired the Sheriff, with a slight smile.

"I can only say, my lord," replied the Fiscal, "that by an oversight I omitted to take note of the date. I admit that it is as Mr. Bishop has pointed out, and am therefore compelled to withdraw the charge."

"Then the prisoner may be liberated," said the Sheriff, "and I may add that such a fortunate escape from trial I never remember to have heard of."

"It's a very near thing I must say," observed the Fiscal, with a nod to the lawyer.

"So near, Mr. Ward," replied the latter, "that I do not wonder you failed to notice it. Having a client's vital interests at stake I was naturally more observant."

"I cannot say that I regret things have taken this turn," remarked his lordship. "Looking at the facts such as they have been presented to me at the accused's statement, and at his personal appearance I am impressed with the wisdom of the law of prescription. You are to be congratulated, Mr. Borland, at the narrow escape you have made. Two minutes later and you would have been committed for trial."

"Do I understand, my lord, that the charge against me is departed from?" asked Jack, quite bewildered by what had taken place.

"Yes. Our Scottish law declares that no prosecution can take place after twenty years from the date of the crime. In your case the twenty years expired yesterday. You see, therefore what a narrow escape you have made.

"Thank you, my lord. I cannot be too grateful to Mr. Bishop for the service he has rendered me. There is a favour I should like to ask if your lordship can grant it."

"What is that?"

"I see lying on the table the pistol which was taken from me, also the bullet extracted from the body of the man who was shot. Might an examination be made to see if the bullet fits the pistol?"

"Surely. Mr. Ward, will you see to that."

The Fiscal took up the pistol, and asked the clerk to extract the bullet from the packet which enveloped it. It rolled out on the table, a little globe of a dull red colour, and every one saw at a glance that it was much too large for the pistol. On applying it to the latter the fact was made patent.

"That bullet could not have been fired from this weapon," said the Fiscal, in a tone of absolute conviction.

"Thank God, it is now proved that I did not kill the man," exclaimed Jack in the most fervent of tones.

"Examine the pistol itself, Mr. Ward," suggested the lawyer. Possibly the charge is still in it."

This turned out to be a highly important suggestion, for when the ramrod was with difficulty withdrawn from its rusty sheath and dropped into the muzzle of the pistol, it had not entered to the full length when it encountered some obstruction. Drawing it back the Fiscal held the pistol in his hand muzzle downwards and gave it a vigorous shake, when out dropped a rusty bullet, followed by mouldy pieces of paper and a charge of powder turned to the color of dust.

At sight of this silent but irrefragable testimony that Jack's pistol had never been fired, Mr. Bishop went up to him and warmly shook his hand.

"Now, Mr. Borland," he exclaimed, "you are not only free from prosecution—your innocence is also completely established. For twenty years you have lived under the erroneous belief that you had done this deed. This idea will haunt you no longer. I think my lord, you will agree with me in saying that Mr. Borland has been sufficiently punished for his violation of the revenue laws."

For answer the Sheriff left his seat and cordially shook Jack's hand; so did the Fiscal and the Clerk. Jack tried to utter his thanks for these expressions of kindness, but the emotion which filled his swelling bosom prevented articulation. His moist eyes and quivering lips were sufficient indication of the feelings that surged within.

Next minute Jack left the court house a free man with Mr. Bishop by his side, who chuckled with hugh satisfaction over the virtual triumph he had achieved.

"Now," he exclaimed, "the spite and venom of the Langton's are exhausted. They thought to obtain a sweet revenge for yesterday's mortification; but, lo! the poisoned shaft has not taken effect. This, I suspect, is not the last or worse thing they will have to endure."

"What mean you?" asked Jack.

"Why, the whole country side is roused against them. I have told everywhere to-day their machinations against Orwell Bruce—how the old man planned his ruin, and how his son carried out the plan and so great is the popular indignation that I should not be surprised if they have to flee from Cairnbank.

The lawyer's anticipations proved to be correct. Even as he spoke the inmates of Cairnbank were sustaining a siege. A mob of infuriated country people surrounded it. Many of its windows were smashed. When Anthony or Ruben dared to show themselves they were pelted with stones. Pale, and trembling with fright, they rushed from room to room, barricading the doors, and reproaching each other for bringing this popular vengeance upon them. It was not till sunset that they were released from the terror of immediate death. For only then did the rioters disperse. On the following day they sought and obtained protection from the authorities, and though no further outburst of mob violence took place, father and son had ultimately to remove to Glasgow, to avoid the hatred and contempt of the people of Galloway.

The return of Mr Bishop and Jack was signalised by every demonstration of joy. A conquering hero, fresh from a victorious battlefield, could not have received a greater ovation. Between Cairntree and the grange the gig in which they rode was surrounded by an enthusiastic croud of men, women, and children, whose shouts of gladness rent the air. In these circumstances, of course, quick motion was impossible, and David Ramsay had time to reach the cottage, carrying the joyous news to its sorrowing inmates. When Jack ultimately escaped from his vociferous admirers and gained the cottage, he was met in the porch by Mrs. Borland, Agnes and Miss Elliot, whose loving, joyous welcome was to him the most thrilling experience of that eventful day.

The great happiness which followed need not be further described. So soon as the necessary arrangements could be made, Jack and the three women took their departure for America to meet with Orwell Bruce, and complete the circle of their happiness by making him a sharer in its brightness and bliss.

The New Division Court Bill.

The jurisdiction of the Division Courts is hereby extended by adding to the fifty-fourth section of the Division Courts Act, Revised Statutes of Ontario, chapter forty-seven the following sub-section after the word "dollars" in the second sub-section of the said fifty-fourth section:

All claims for the recovery of a debt or money demand, the amount or balance of which does not exceed two hundred dollars, and the amount or original amount of the claim is ascertained by the signature of the defendant or of the person whom, as executor or administrator, the defendant represents.

There shall be an appeal when the sum in dispute on such appeal—exclusive of costs—exceeds one hundred dollars, subject to the provisions of the Act.

The word "forty" where it occurs in the first sub-section of the said fifty-fourth section, and in the fifty-sixth section of the said Division Courts Act is hereby repealed, and the word "sixty" is substituted therefor.

In the class of cases provided for by the second section of this Act, the increased jurisdiction conferred by the said second section shall apply to claims and proceedings against absconding debtors under section 190, and subsequent sections of the Division Courts Act; and in such cases the attachment may issue and proceedings be had on a claim of not less than four dollars, and not more than two hundred dollars.

The clerk shall place all suits in which the sum sought to be recovered exceeds one hundred dollars, at the foot of the trial list, and the other suits on the list and business of the court shall be disposed of before entering upon the trial of any of such mentioned suits, unless the judge shall for special reason or reasons, otherwise order. The judge shall, in such cases, when no agreement not to appeal has been signed and filed, take down the evidence in writing, and shall leave the same with the clerk of the court, but in the event of an application for a new trial it shall be forwarded to the judge by the clerk for the purposes of such application.

No appeal shall lie to the Court of Appeal if before the Court opens, or if without the intervention of the judge before the commencement of the trial, there shall be filed with the clerk, in any case, an agreement in writing not to appeal, signed by both parties, or their attorneys or agents, and the judge shall note in his minutes whether such agreement was so filed or not, and the minutes shall be conclusive evidence upon that point.

The judge shall require such additional security to be given by the clerks and bailiffs of the Division Courts within his county as shall, in his opinion, afford sufficient security to any and all persons being parties in any legal proceedings in the said court, having regard to the increased jurisdiction by this Act conferred and the increased business in the courts. Nothing in this Act contained shall release or discharge from liability in whole or in part any clerk or bailiff or any surety for any clerk or bailiff upon or by virtue of any bond or covenant heretofore given or entered into by such clerk or bailiff, or surety, under the provisions of the Division Courts Act.

Where the debt or money payable exceeds one hundred dollars, and is made payable by the contract of the parties at any place named therein, the action may be brought thereon in the court holden for the division in which such place of payment is situate, subject however to the place of trial being changed to any division in which the court holden therein has jurisdiction in the particular case;

To procure such change an order to that effect is to be obtained by the defendant from the judge of the county in which the action is brought;

The application for the order is to be made within eight days from the day on which the defendant who makes the application was served with the summons, where the service is required to be ten days before the return; or within twelve days after the day of such service, where service is required to be fifteen days or more before the return.

The application is to be on an affidavit that the applicant intends to defend the suit, that he has a good defence upon the merits, that the cause of action did not wholly arise in the division in which the action is brought, and that the witnesses for the defence, or some of them, reside within the division in which the defendants, or one of them, resided or carried on business, at the time the action was brought, and that such application is not made for the purpose of delay; the date of the then next two sittings of the court to which he seeks to have the cause transferred is also to be shown;

The affidavit must be by the defendants, or one of them, or by their or his attorney or agent in case satisfactory reasons are given why the affidavit is not made by a defendant;

The order shall direct at what sittings of the court the suit shall be tried, subject to all rights of postponement as in other cases, and shall be attached to the summons and other proceedings in the suit by the clerk, who shall forthwith transmit the same to the clerk of the court in which the suit is by such order directed to be tried, and shall enter a minute thereof in his procedure book;

Upon receipt of such order and other papers by the clerk of such last mentioned court, he shall enter the suit and proceedings in his procedure book.

All the papers and proceeding in the cause thereafter, shall be entitled and had and carried on as though the suit had originally been entered in the said last mentioned court.

It shall be the duty of the defendant obtaining the order forthwith to serve, or cause to be served, a copy of the same upon the plaintiff or his agent in the same manner as summonses are required under the Division Courts Act.

When the debt or money payable exceeds one hundred dollars, and is by the contract of the parties made payable at any place out of the Province of Ontario, the action may be brought thereon in any Division Court, subject, however, to the place of trial being changed upon application of one or more of the defendants as provided by the next preceding section.

Notwithstanding anything in the Division Courts Act contained, any suit within the jurisdiction of the Division Court may be entered, tried and finally disposed of by the consent of all parties in any Division Court.

If by mistake or inadvertence, a suit shall be entered in the wrong Division Court which might properly have been entered in some other Division Court of the same or any other county, the cause shall not abate as for want of jurisdiction, but on such terms as the judge shall order, all the papers and proceedings in the cause may be transferred to any Division Court, having jurisdiction in the premises and shall become proceedings thereof as though the cause were at first properly entered therein, and the same shall be continued and carried on to the conclusion thereof as though the suit had originally been entered in the said last mentioned court.

When it is by this Act provided that a claim or suit may be entered, or an action brought, or that any person or persons may be sued in any Division Court, or that a suit may be transferred or changed to any other court, such court shall have jurisdiction in the premises, and all proceeding may be had and taken both before and after judgment in or relating to any such claim or cause as may now be had, and taken in or relatihg to any claim or cause which has been lawfully entered in the court holden for the division in which the cause of action arose, or in which the defendant or any one of several defendants resided or carried on business at the time the action was brought.

There shall be endorsed upon every summons a notice informing the defendant that in any case in which an order may be made changing the place of trial, application must be made to the judge within eight days after the day of service thereof, (where the service is required to be ten days before the return,) or within twelve days after the day of such service (where the service is required to be fifteen days or more before the return.)

In all cases where a defendant, primary debtor or garnishee intends to contest the jurisdiction of any Division Court to hear or determine any cause, matter or thing in such court, he shall leave with the clerk of the court, within eight days after the day of service of the summons on him (where the service is required to be ten days before the return), or within twelve days after the day of such service (where the service is required to be fifteen or twenty days before the return) a notice to the effect that he disputes the jurisdiction of the court, and such clerk shall forthwith give notice thereof to the plaintiff, primary creditor, or their attorney or agents in the same way as notice of defence is now given, and in default of such notice disputing the jurisdiction of such court, the same shall be considered as established and determined, and all proceedings may thereafter be taken as fully and effectually as if the said suit or proceeding had been properly commenced, entered or taken in such court.

Notwithstanding anything in the Division Courts Act contained, any clerk or bailiff of a Division Court may be sued in the court of an adjoining county, the place of sitting whereof is nearest to the residence of the defendant without the county in which he holds his office as such clerk or bailiff. And upon a transcript of any udgment which may be recovered against any clerk or bailiff in any such suit being sent to and received by the clerk of the court of any division adjoining the division for which the defendant was or is clerk or bailiff in the county in which the last named division is situate with a certificate of the amount due on such judgment as provided by the one hundred and sixty-first section of the Division Courts Act, such proceeding for enforcing and collecting the judgment by way of execution and otherwise may be had and taken in the Division Court to which such transcript has been so sent by the officers thereof as may be had or taken for the like purpose upon a judgment regularly recovered in any division court.

Where in a contested case for more than one hundred dollars, a counsel or an attorney or agent has been employed by the successful party in the conduct of the cause or defence, the judge may, in his discretion, direct a fee of five dollars, to be increased, according to the difficulty and importance of the case, to a sum not exceeding ten dollars, to be taxed to the successful party, and the same, when so allowed, shall be taxed by the clerk and added to the other costs.

In case any party to a cause, wherein the sum in dispute upon the appeal exceeds one hundred dollars exclusive of costs, is dissatisfied with the decision of the judge, upon an application for a new trial, he may appeal to the Court of Appeal, and in such case, the proceedings, in and about the appeal, and the giving and perfecting of the security, shall be the same as on an appeal from the County Court, except where otherwise provided by this Act, and the terms "party to a cause" and "appellant" in this section and hereafter used, shall have the meaning attached thereto in and by section thirty-four of the County Courts Act.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. Beware of imitations. d&wlyr.

The Greatest Blessing.

A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every time, and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, stomach regular, kidneys and liver active, is one of the greatest blessings ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands who have been saved and cured by it. Will you try it? See another column.

If you are a man of business, weakened by the strain of your duties, avoid stimulants and take

HOP BITTERS

If you are a man of letters, toiling over your midnight work, to restore brain nerve and waste, use

HOP BITTERS

If you are young and suffering from any indiscretion or dissipation; if you are married or single, old or young, suffering from poor health or languishing on a bed of sickness, rely on

HOP BITTERS

Whoever you are, wherever you are, whenever you feel that your system needs cleansing, toning or stimulating, without intoxicating, take

HOP BITTERS

Have you dyspepsia, kidney or urinary complaint, disease of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver or nerves? You will be cured if you use

HOP BITTERS

If you are simply weak and low spirited, try it! Buy it. Insist upon it. Your druggist keeps it.

It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.

Hop Cough Cure is the sweetest, safest and best. Ask children. The Hop Pad for Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, is superior to all others. It is perfect. Ask druggists.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistable cure for drunkeness, use of opium, tobacco or narcotics.

The Boston Journal tells this good one: "My dear," said a fond father to his three-years-old, as he entered the nursery, "you have a little sister baby." "Oh, let me run and tell mamma," was the quick demand of the happy brother.

BRUTAL OUTRAGE.

A case has come under out notice where the inhuman father of a most promising child suffered from a violent attack of Croup, which threatened every moment to terminate fatally, actually refused to spend 25 cents upon a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, although assured by a neighbor that she knew it would give the little sufferer immediate relief and effect a speedy cure.

Wilson's Wild Cherry never fails; it is pleasant to take, and equally efficacious for children and adults.

In General Debility, Chronic Bonchitis or Weak Lungs, the tonic properties of the Wild Cherry Bark are fully brought into play, and its continued use will be be found to increase the appetite, improve the digestion, and give tone and vigor to the whole system.

The larger sizes hold more in proportion than the small, and those who study economy will purchase either the 50 cent or $1 size.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

A St. Petersburg correspondent says that no hopes of Gortschakoff's recovery are entertained.

It is reported that a formal consultation of the Liberal leaders will be held in London on Thursday.

An explosion by which eleven persons were killed occurred yesterday afternoon at Silvertown, near North Woolwich, at the oil mills. The roof of the still was forced off and carried 140 yards. The still contained 2,000 gallons of oil. The damage is to the extent of several thousand pounds.

A Berlin correspondent says much attention has been paid lately to the enormous increase of emigrants from Germany to England and America. The National Zeitung states that from the 4th to the 11th of April 5,800 left Bremen. Emigrants come from all parts of Germany and include many skilled workmen. This decided increase of immigration is evidently connected with the new army bill, and entails a very serious loss upon the country.

It is reported that a barony will be conferred on Earl Beaconsfield, with reversion to his brother.

The entire channel squadron have been ordered to cruise to the Azores, and thence to Bantry Bay in search of the training ship Atalanta.

The last heard of the overdue British training ship Atalanta was on the 1st of February, when she sailed from Bermuda for England.

At a durbar held at Cabul on Tuesday, the British Commissioner informed the chiefs that the ex-Ameer would not return. If no hostility was shown the representations in favor of the selection of a member of Yakoboo's family for the Ameership would be considered. The chiefs were also informed that the army would withdraw whenever they could agree upon a ruler whose government is likely to be suitable and friendly to England. The demeanor of all present was respectful and friendly. The way has been paved for a favorable solution of the question.

This Afternoon's Dispatches

UP TO THREE P.M.

The Burning of Connor's in Biddulph.

LONDON, April 14.—The burning of their dwelling in Lucan was communicated to Michael Connors and his wife and children here this morning, and of course they were filled with grief. Mrs. Connors loudly lamented all the trouble that has come upon them through no fault of their own, and insisted on their going home at once and taking Johnny with them. This the County Attorney would not allow. A vehicle was provided, however, and Michael, his wife and daughter left for Lucan at one o'clock under promise to return to-night. A detective accompanied them.

It is by judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Local News.

THERE were no Police Court cases today.

IT will soon be time to commence watering the streets, which are comparatively dried up already.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—Increasing easterly to southerly winds, partly cloudy weather followed by local rains to-night.

EMIGRANTS.—Three Grand Trunk Railway coaches passed westwards at six o'clock this morning with emigrants for Manitoba. The were from the Ottawa district.

MANUFACTURES.—The joint committee of the City Council and Property Owners' Association meet this evening to discuss the question of establishing manufactories here.

LILIPUTIAN OPERA CO.—This Company presented the operetta, "Jack the Giant Killer," and the farce "Toodles," at the City Hall last night before a large audience.

BERLIN HORSE SHOW.—The annual entire horse show was held on Monday, and as usual was well attended, but the show of horses was not so good as in previous years, only some ten horses being entered.

ELMIRA FAIR.—The regular monthly fair was held on Monday. The number of cattle shown was exceedingly less than at the March fair. Prices had declined somewhat. There was some difficulty in obtaining 5 cents per pound (live weight) for shipping cattle. Milch cows ranged in price from $25 to $42. The reason of the scarcity of cattle is that a large number of stall fed cattle have been sold on private terms in this neighbourhood for May delivery previous to the fair.

SOCIAL CONCERT.—The social entertainment given in the Rev. Mr. Harris' church last evening was pretty well attended, and would been largely more so had not another entertainment been held in City Hall. The pastor as usual, occupied the chair, and a very good chairman he made, too. Songs, recitations, solos and instrumental music on violins and organ by members of the congregation and others, made up the programme. Rev. Mr. Harris and his talented sons contributed largely to the enjoyment of the company. Mr. John Thompson gave a humorous reading, "Here she goes," in good style, Mr. Webb sang very nicely a couple of songs, Mr. C. Taylor gave a couple of recitations, and altogether, the entertainment was an enjoyable one. The company separated well pleased with the programme provided.

At a meeting of the Managing Committee of the Upper Canada Bible Society in Toronto on Tuesday new regulations were adopted, the chief one being that a Board of forty members be chosen, one-half laymen and the other half clergymen, to be selected in such a manner as to have a fair representation of the several Protestant denominations which support the Bible work on the Society's Board.

A duel took place on Saturday morning on the Maryland State line between Dr. S. William White, lecturer at the medical college of the University of Pennsylvania, and Robert Adams, a wealthy young man. The cause of the affair was a conversation concerning a lady, which took place at the armory of the First City Troop three weeks ago. A duel with pistols was fought at twenty-eight paces. Adams fired first and missed, when White fired in the air and both expressed themselves satisfied.

The Tea Duties.

1. Whether it is the intention of the Government to levy differential duties on teas imported from the place of growth when ordered under letters of credit, part by overland, part by Suez Canal, and the balance with the dust of the whole via the United States, by sailing vessels around the Cape of Good Hope.

2. In the case of teas bought at the same time, and imported by two or three routes as above, and their arriving at different dates, will the Government consider such divisions as breaking bulk?

3. Will the whole purchase be held by the Customs until completed by the arrival of that dust?

4. In the event of part of the said teas being unsaleable in Canada, will importers be allowed to dispose of such teas at New York without prejudice to the rates of duty levied on the balance?

Wellington Spring Assizes.

Opening of the Court Before Mr. Justice Cameron.

GUELPH, April 13.

From the calendar I find that there are only present three persons whose cases will require your consideration, but I find also there are out on bail four other persons making the whole amount of criminals that will probably require attention at your hands the number of seven. Those in prison are confined for forgery and arson, and of those on bail one is charged with false pretences, another with forgery, another with perjury, another with the double crime of embezzlement and forgery, and another with embezzlement. The crime of forgery consists in making some false document or instrument with the intent to defraud or deceive. A man may forge by using the name of a fictitious person as well as that of the genuine person, and he may commit the crime though he does not imitate well the handwriting of the person whose name is alleged to be forged. It requires more than the evidence of the person whose name is said to be forged to make out a case. There must be corroboration in a matter of fact in relation to the charge before you are justified in finding a bill. The crime of arson consists in the burning of a person's property with intent to defraud. If a man burns his own house for the purpose of getting the insurance then he commits the crime of arson, because it is done with the intention of defrauding the insurance companies. Obtaining either goods or money by false pretences is the representing of some fact as existing—making the representation of some circumstance as a fact existing which does not exist—for the purpose of inducing another to part with either his money or his property. The crime of embezzlement is usually committed by a person who stands in some position of confidence or trust towards another. The distinction between the crimes of larceny and embezzlement consists in that, in the latter, property must have first passed into the hands of the culprit in a lawful manner, and afterwards have been appropriated to his own use, whereas the crime of larceny consists in the appropriating of property which has not previously been given into the person's possession. The crime of forgery was always considered a serious one and until within a few years it was considered so serious that the Judge had no discretion in lessening the period of punishment of the person convicted. He had to send him to the Penitentiary for four years no matter how trifling the money or property obtained by means of the forgery, but the power of lessening the punishment is now reposed in the Judge in cases of forgery as well as in other cases. The crime of arson is one that has always been, and justly so, regarded as of the gravest character, because of the vast amount of loss which may be occasioned if a man on account of ill-will to another chooses to burn the property of that person. The punishment, if the person is found guilty, is necessarily severe. Every case, whether grave or slight in its character is entitled to the best consideration, both of the grand and petit jury for this reason, that in each, the man may be deprived of his liberty which we have always been taught to think a priceless boon, and it will be a matter of very great regret when the people come to think that a man can be deprived of his liberty and thus disgraced without its being regarded as a very serious thing indeed. This brings me to the consideration of a subject which I have thought necessary to bring under the notice of Grand Jurors wherever I have the honour to address them, by reason of a change in the law relating to the constitution of the Grand Jury. The session before last in the Local Legislature of Ontario a bill was passed reducing the number of Grand Jurors from 24 to 15. You are aware, no doubt, that it is necessary that twelve of your body should concur in finding a bill, and usually only twenty-three are sworn, in order that there may be a majority and that the business may not be dead-locked by reason of twelve taking one view of the case and twelve another. The change that was made reducing the number to fifteen has to be considered in various aspects. First, as to whether the change in the constitution should be made at all. Second, whether the selection of fifteen is appropriate and useful without some other change having been made. Because, though the number of jurors has been reduced to fifteen it still would require, under that Act twelve to find a bill. Very often we find numbers of the Grand Jurors who are summoned do not attend. Supposing that only eleven out of fifteen should attend, business could not be proceeded with until a fresh jury had been obtained. Some Grand Juries have expressed a view that there ought to be no change in the system; that it is a time-honoured system, so to speak, that it was designed by men who considered liberty of the greatest importance and the necessity of having to stand in the criminal dock and answer for a crime was so great a disgrace that it ought not to take place unless twelve of his fellow men at all events were satisfied that he should stand in that position. Other Grand Juries have expressed a view that fifteen would be sufficient but to make it work well, it would be necessary to make a majority of the Grand Jury sufficient. So that of the fifteen, eight would be sufficient to find a bill supposing the whole panel were there. I have asked Grand Juries to pronounce an opinion upon it because it is a matter relating to the law of the land, it is a matter relating to the public interest generally, and cannot be said to be a political question at all, with regard to which judges have nothing to do. We all, when we come from the ranks of the Bar come with our predilections to one party or the other, but the moment a man takes his position upon the Bench that moment he ceases to have any consideration whether the man who is accused is of one party or the other, and he only has that interest in common with the rest or the community that the administration of justice should be properly and well conducted. Now the argument in favor of the change is that we have now advanced to that state of civilization, education and intelligence, that the magistracy of this country ought to be found capable of determining whether a man ought to be put upon his trial or not, and that the expense of having twenty-three men or more than twelve at all events to pronounce an opinion upon every case of that kind is unnecessary. Legislators who looked to the question of expense perhaps more than the real object of the constitution of a particular body like the Grand Jury, and what may be the possible consequences of its destruction, determined that the change should be made. Now there is no doubt that it seems pretty absurd that it takes twelve men to say whether there is evidence on which a man should be placed upon trial. But yet in times past it was thought necessary for the safety of the public that such a precaution should be taken, and in the present time we find time and again that Grand Juries ignore bills where Magistrates have committed for trial. Either Grand Juries, then, have failed in the discharge of their duties, or the Magistrates acted upon altogether too slight evidence. If the Grand Juries did not fail in their duties then some of our fellowmen have been saved the disgrace of having to appear in the criminal dock to answer for crime, and that is a matter of very great importance. Grand Jurors also being taken from every section of the county, bring persons disinterested and strangers to those who are accused, not influenced in any shape or way, are likely to come to a just decision, when one man may be influenced by considerations that ought to have no weight whatever in determining whether a man is guilty or innocent. One man may have prejudices and in consequence of those prejudices act to the detriment of another. Twelve, who are strangers to the prosecutor and the accused can scarcely have prejudices of that kind and must desire to do what is right. And there have been times when the Grand Jury have stood between the oppression of power and the man who has been accused, and what has been in times past, notwithstanding our education and intelligence may occur again. I have heard a gentleman, who is now a Chief Justice in another Province, very often make use of the quotation that "the price of liberty is eternal vigilance." No matter though we are in the position of supposing everything justly and properly done, there may be occasions when wrong will be done, and it is desirable to prevent wrong as much as possible, so the organization of Grand Juries may still be worth all it costs because it may prevent wrong. Now I refer the matter to you in order that you may, if you see fit, express an opinion upon it. It is your unbiassed opinion that I want, not one influenced in any manner by me, if such a consideration could have any weight with you, because I am only one of yourselves in a matter of that kind, and it is not a question of law in which I am learned more than you are, and in which no constitution my voice determines it, and not yourselves. The matter is for your consideration; and if you think well I should like you in your presentment to say whether you deem it desirable that the constitution of the Grand Jury should be changed, and if changed, what change. It is observable from the docket that I have before me that members of the Bar or their clients, I cannot tell which, prefer the tribunal of juries to decide their cases to that of the Court alone. Now some entertain a very strong opinion that it would be more in the interests of the public that men who are judges, qualified by training to understand matters of law and fact, would be better able to decide questions than those who are unlearned. Questions of fact are all that juries have to deal with; they have nothing to do with the law, and if juries err in dealing with questions of fact that come before them, I think they err probably, from regarding themselves arbitrators, rather in the light of men who are there to determine what, according to their judgment, would be fair to the litigants. When that is not the object of their being empanelled, it is not their duty. Their duty is to determine questions of facts as they are presented to them. His Lordship illustrated this point by referring to the manner in which juries chose almost invariably to render a verdict against insurance companies, whether it was justified by evidence or not. As a whole juries do substantial justice and arrive at correct conclusions. It is said learned men look farther than the facts rendered necessary for the solution of the question—that they theorize and their theorizing carries them beyond what is necessary, and leads them to do injustice where plain common sense men dealing with the facts presented to them will arrive at a more just conclusion. His Lordship concluded his address by showing that the decision of twelve jurors was more likely to give general satisfaction than that of one man, because he might be biassed or prejudiced, while there was less probability of twelve men entertaining views prejudicial to the case.

Before the Grand Jury retired Mr. A. Lemon read the following address from the Bar of the city to Mr. Justice Cameron on the occasion of his first visit here since his elevation to the Bench:

The Honorable Matthew Crooks Cameron,

We, the members of the bar of the County of Wellington, on the occasion of your first visit here, since your elevation to the bench, would respectfully avail ourselves of the opportunity to offer you our cordial congratulations, and in doing so would express our conviction that your future in the more exalted position will be no less distinguished and useful than it was in your prominent career at the bar.

Accustomed, as we had so long been, to meet you with your other able contemporaries in forensic life, Freeman, Eccles, Vankoughnet, Hillyard Cameron, and other well known heads of the profession, no longer here, engaged in the most important civil and criminal trials of this county, your absence was a source of no ordinary regret to every one, and the loss, like that in a measure of an old friend, missed from our midst, whom all delighted to see and hear on every occasion.

This regret however is alleviated in the satisfaction of knowing that your career and services have been deservedly recognized, and that your withdrawal from the active life of the bar finds you ranked amongst the judiciary of the country, where your extensive experience and high abilities will find if possible a more enlarged field for usefulness and public service, following indeed the footsteps of your illustrious predecessors.

In this chamber you cannot fail to recall many revered memories, associated as they have been with the personal presence in the seat you occupy of such venerable names as those of the Honorable Chief Justices Robinson, Macaulay, MacLean, Draper and Richards, who graced and adorned the ermine they so worthily wore, and by their lives, services and example added the brightest distinction to the annals of the land.

Here were heard many of those sound expositions of the law from those and other chiefs of the profession who in the practical adjudication and the sound application of its principles, as well as in their matured decisions, laid the foundations of the jurisprudence of the country.

We all cherish the recollection of their never-failing patience and urbanity, considerate and justly exacting withal, with constant aim to secure right and prevent wrong; seasoning justice with mercy when consistent with the obligations of judicial duty.

Recollections such as these, and others of a kindred nature, will no doubt present themselves to you so long accustomed to an intimate contact and association with these and other eminent judges, mournfully reminding all of the briefness of the most distinguished and useful lives.

Long may you be spared to emulate the example of these great names, and after a well spent life be enabled like them to leave to future historian a memory and record not unworthy even of those you also have during your own brilliant career regarded with the highest admiration and affectionate respect, models of faultlessness, both to the bench and the bar in all respects.

April 13th, A. D. 1880.

Mr. Justice Cameron replied in feeling and eloquent terms, thanking them for so flattering an expression of the high estimation in which they held him. He assured them that whether his ability would allow him or not his desire was to do justice in all cases with which he had to deal.

Watts vs. Black.—This was an action on a chattel mortgage. Verdict by consent for $415. D. Guthrie, Q.C., for plaintiff.

McCullough vs. Smith.—This was an action brought by Thomas McCullough, of Eramosa, against Stanley Smith, of the same township, to recover damages for a libellous placard, which defendant made out with reference to the plaintiff, and pasted in conspicuous places. The slander was committed in July and August last, Stanley Smith, who was a school teacher, some miles north of Eramosa, was home for his holidays. Defendant first entered a suit against Stanley Smith's father and his brother's, charging them with the slanders, but dropped the case. He afterwards learned that the present defendant was the guilty party and instituted proceedings against him, since which time he had left for the States. Thomas McCullough and his wife were examined. The jury entered a verdict of $100 for plaintiff. Messrs. Guthrie, Watt & Cutten for plaintiff. No defence.

The Court adjourned at 5.15 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, April 14th.

The Court resumed at 9:30 this morning.

Wansborough v. the G. T. R. Company.—The plaintiff, William Wansborough, sued the Grand Trunk Railway Company to recover damages for injuries he sustained by being run over by a train at Georgetown last December. He was a passenger on a train going west, which was switched on to the second track from the station to cross with another passenger train. While he was crossing to the station the train going east came in and ran over him, cutting off one of his legs above the knee. Verdict for plaintiff by consent, and $2,000 damages. Mr. Guthrie, Q. C., for plaintiff; Mr. James Bethune, Q. C., for the Railway.

Waddell vs. C. V. Railway.—Plaintiff claimed $2,555 as payment for building the Credit Valley Railway station at Elora. A verdict was entered for plaintiff for the full amount. John Jacobs, of Elora, for plaintiff. No defence.

Farmers' Loan Company vs. Marks.—An action of ejectment on mortgage. Verdict for plaintiff. D. Guthrie for plaintiff; J. Jacobs for defendant.

Elliott vs. Edmunds.—Action of ejectment on mortgage. Verdict for plaintiff. D. Guthrie, Q.C., for plaintiff; G. Ebbels for defendant.

TRUE BILLS.—The Grand Jury came into court about 11.30 with true bills against Philip Forestell, forgery; George Douglas, forgery and embezzlement; and Wm. McCarthy, false pretences.

Quin vs. The Water Commissioners of Guelph.—This is an action brought by James Quin, of Guelph, contractor, against the Water Commissioners for breach of contract. The amount claimed is over $1,200. The judge thought it would be better to refer the matters in dispute to an abitrator under the Act, who could make his award after taking the evidence, and an appeal could be made from his decision if either party were dissatisfied. After considerable difficulty about the naming of an arbitrator, Mr. Tilt, of Toronto, was settled upon, and proceedings will be immediately taken before him. Mr. Bethune and Mr. E. F. Johnston for plaintiff, and D. Guthrie for defendants.

The Water Commissioners vs. Quin.—This is an action arising out of the same dispute as exists in the former case. The plaintiffs seek to recover from the defendant the amount it required to complete the contract over and above contract price. This case was also referred to Mr. Tilt. D. Guthrie, for plaintiff, and James Bethune and E. F. B. Johnston, for defendant.

The Queen vs. Forrestell.—Philip Forrestell, of Clifford, was arraigned on an indictment charging him with forging a note for $61.50, and with uttering the same, knowing it to be forged. He plead ed guilty on the second count. A jury was empanelled and instructed to acquit the prisoner on the first count, as in pleading guilty to the second, he acknowledged an offence as serious as that charged in the first. Mr. Bowlby, for the prosecution.

O'Donnell v. Coffee.—This action arose out of a Police Court case in which Ald. Coffee charged James O'Donnell, of Rockwood, with the larceny of a valuable dog. The Police Court case being settled, O'Donnell took proceedings against the defendant to recover damages for malicious arrest. Mr. Dunbar, for plaintiff, Mr. Guthrie, Q. C. for defendant. The case is not finished.

WEDNESDAY EVNG, APRIL 14, 1880

The Elections in Britain.

The total number of members elected thus far is 636, divided as follows:—349 Liberals; 230 Conservatives, and 57 Home Rulers. This gives the Liberals a clear majority of 62, and a net gain of 109 seats. The statement that the Ministry will resign immediately after the return of the Queen to England is confirmed by the fact that preparations were made by members of the Ministry to vacate their official residences.

A report is abroad, but it is not confirmed, that the Earl of Wemyss and March, father of Lord Elcho, died on Tuesday, aged 84. If it is true Lord Elcho will be transferred to the House of Lords, leaving a vacancy in the Commons for Haddingtonshire, from which he was returned by the Conservatives.

The Right Hon. Lord John Manners, Postmaster-General under the present Administration, has been re-elected for North Leicestershire.

Mr. W. Herbert Gladstone, Mr. W.E. Gladstone's son, who stood for Middlesex and was defeated, is elected for East Worcestershire in connection with Mr. G. W. Hastings, both Liberals, defeating Mr. H. Allsopp, the great brewer, and Sir Richard Temple, Conservatives. Mr. Allsopp represented East Worcestershire in the last Parliament in conjunction with Mr. Thomas Eads Walker, the latter also a Conservative. Thus a change is made for this constituency, of two Liberals for two Conservatives.

Mr. Parnell's party now numbers 36. The Cork county election passed off very quietly, there being no disturbances.

The constitutionality of the Canada Temperance Act was affirmed in the Supreme Court on Tuesday, Judge Henry alone dissenting.

Mr. Tuttle is out in a letter in the Ottawa Free Press, in which he denies that he is a candidate for the assistant Indian commissionership, and says Mr. C. Acton Burrows is the man. It is a choice between the devil and the deep sea.

Hon. Mr. Abbott's bill to provide for the distribution of the assets of insolvent traders appears to be rather too cumbrous in form to pass the House in its present temper. There are ninety-nine clauses, and many of its provisions are similar to that introduced by Mr. Colby last year and so badly defeated. The principal objection appears to be the continued employment of assignees in any form.

Mr. Paterson, of Brant, put the Finance Minister in a tight box on Monday when he moved that embossed Bibles used by the blind should be placed on the free list. Mr. Tilley had not gumption enough to see what the effect of refusing such an amendment would be and declined to interfere, but Sir John, with his usual shrewdness, came to the rescue and made the desired concession. This is the first change in that very perfect policy which a member of the Opposition has secured.

There is another row in the Senate. It seems that in 1877 Senator Allan came down from Toronto, stayed eleven days, and drew sessional indemnity therefor, and then started for a trip to Europe. During his absence Sir Alex. Campbell succeeded in persuading the Clerk of the House to give the worthy Senator $500 additional, which he sent to the absent Senator. Senator Alexander has given notice of motion that would expose the little misappropriation, but the leader of the Government in that House is trying to burk the question, consequently the circumstance has leaked out. The final revelation will be anxiously looked for.

At the Ministerial caucus on Tuesday the Government's Pacific Railway policy is understood to have been one of the subjects of discussion, and the Government promised their followers to proceed very slowly and cautiously with the construction of the road. It is also stated they hinted that the expenditure on the Yale-Kamloops section in British Columbia, recently contracted for, would be as little as compatible with pacifying the British Columbians and maintaining Confederation—at least that is what the Government pledge practically amounted to—but no one will infer much assurance from such a promise in view of the circumstance that the contracts signed and sealed demand that the work shall be completed within an early specified date.

What the Liberal party in Britain did for Canadian Confederation is well told by Lord Granville in a recent speech. The prospective Premier of Great Britain said:—It was only last week that I happened to light on a scrap of paper on which I had scribb'ed a question to the very able chairman of the Hudson's Bay Company—merely this question, 'Is it possible to get an amicable arrangement between the Dominion and the Hudson's Bay Company?' His answer was of a discouraging character, but I determined to make the attempt. I don't think I ever worked harder in my life; the negotiations nearly fell through half a dozen times, but at last we succeeded, and the result has been the development of that magnificent western province of Canada, of whose marvellous resources the Prime Minister gave so eloquent a description the other day.

The apathy of the Liberals in allowing elections to go by default is much commented upon by the members of the party, and the feeling in Ottawa is general that golden opportunities to recover from the effects of the disaster of the 17th of September 1878, are being lost, with the tide of public opinion in its favor through the failure of the "National Policy" to bring back prosperity. The Liberal party should not allow any interim election to go uncontested. It is believed that the election in Chateauguay will be close through the apathy which is being exhibited.

The Government is improving rapidly in the pamphlet business. The latest production is one respecting the Turtle mountain country which contains an advertisement stating that Dr. Schultz, M. P., has 20,000 acres of land for sale, a queer way to advertize Dominion lands. The Minister of Agriculture denied on Monday night that any of these pamphlets had been distributed, and Mr. Trow quietly remarked that he had at least 100 of them under his desk obtained from the department presided over by that hon. gentleman. Mr. Pope does not appear to be over particular about the statements he makes.

It is said that A. P. Macdonald's tender is the lowest for the second 100 miles west of Winnipeg. His figures are said to be as low as $5,000 per mile.

The Biddulph Murderers.

The Judge Refuses to Change the Venue.

The Time of the Trial not Known.

LONDON, April 13.—When the Court resumed at 1.30 p. m., the Biddulph prisoners were placed in the dock, and Chief Justice Wilson proceeded to deliver judgment on the motion for a change of venue. The Judge after refering to the affidavits produced, went on to discuss the question on its merits. He concluded by saying:—

If I were to act on my own impression I should be inclined to change the place of trial, not altogether because a fair trial may not be had here, but because the change cannot possibly, in my opinion, operate in any way to the prejudice of the prisoners; and I might think it better in a case in which so strong a suspicion is entertained by the Crown that an impartial trial cannot be had here to transfer it to another county, in order that the slightest taint of suspicion might be removed from any unfair disposition of the cause.

But to justify me in making the change asked for I must be satisfied that it is expedient to the ends of justice that it should be so changed, and I cannot say that I am satisfied that "it is clearly made out that there is a fair and reasonable probability of partiality and prejudice in the jurisdiction within which the indictment would otherwise be tried." I may have erred in not acceding to the motion, notwithstanding the assistance which I have derived from the arguments of the learned counsel and the aid they have given me in furnishing me very kindly with the books which they referred to for perusal. But I think, upon the facts, the conclusion which I have come to is the proper one, and that it will in the result prove to be the best one I have no sufficient reason to doubt. I may be permitted to say, as the inference from what I have already stated, that there must be a new and a much larger panel of jurors procured than the one now in attendance, and that the trial cannot take place at the present Court unless I adjourn it expressly for the purpose of procuring another panel; and as this Court will continue yet for a few days I shall leave it to the learned counsel engaged in this cause to say whether the present Court shall stand adjourned until a future day in order that the proper number may be procured, or a commission be issued for the trial of these indictments. I must therefore discharge the motion.

The judgment was what those in Court and the citizens generally expected. A smile of satisfaction passed over the faces of the prisoners when they heard they would not be taken elsewhere for trial.

Immediately after the close of His Lordship's remarks, Mr. Irving and the counsel for the defence had a short consultation together, after which

The Crown counsel rose and said:—My learned friends had requested me to state explicitly the intention of the Crown in regard to this case. I have, therefore, to say that the Crown will not bring these prisoners to trial at this session of Oyer and Terminer.

His Lordship—I don't see how you could do otherwise. I should not try it with the present panel. New jurors should be summoned. I should be inclined to summon at least 200.

The inference to be drawn from Mr. Irving's remark's is that the trial will not take place for some time to come. The prisoners may possibly be tried by a special commission, but it is more than probable that they will not be arraigned till the Fall Assizes.

Harriston Correspondence.

The regular school examination in section No. 1, Minto, under the tutorship of Mr. Duncan L. C. Cameron, took place on the 5th inst. The progress of the scholars, and the general efficiency of the school, went to show conclusively that the section was fortunate in securing the services of so efficient a teacher as Mr. Cameron. There was a good attendance of parents present, as well as Messrs. Smith, Craig, and McConachie, teachers, in Minto. The Rev. Mr. Campbell was present and delivered an address, in which he stated the fourth class was superior to any school he had visited in Minto, and he had visited nearly all, while the rest of the classes were in no way deficient. The ladies of the section prepared an entertainment, which was partaken of at the conclusion of the examination.

At a meeting of Guthrie Church Young People's Mutual Improvement and Literary Association held on the 6th, the following subject was debated, with Mayor Meiklejohn in the chair: "Resolved, that the works of art are more attractive than nature." The affirmative was supported by Messrs. A. B. Empy, M. P. Empey and William Kerr, jr., and the negative by Messrs. R. Hinds, Joseph Fisher, and James Kerr. The chairman after carefully summing up the arguments pro and con decided in favor of the negative. The next debate will take place on the 27th inst., the subject to be discussed will be "Is capital punishment justifiable?" The affirmative will be supported by Messrs. George Gray, Joseph Fisher, and M. P. Empey, and the negative by Messrs. A. B. Empy, R. Engle, and R. Hinds.

Next debate in connection with Knox Church Young People's Association will take place on Monday evening, the 19th inst, when a three sided debate will constitute the programme, viz, "Which is the most productive of crime, wealth, poverty or ignorance?" Particulars of which is not definitely known to the writer, but it will doubtless be well arranged and conducted. Mr. George Bingham, Principal of the Harriston Central School, will occupy the chair.

Mr. William Johnston, merchant of the Leading House, has taken into partnership with him Mr. G. C. Mills, who has for some time been an employee of the house. The firm will hereafter be Johnston & Mills. They will continue business in the old stand, nearly opposite the Collison House.

Mr. William Long ex-Councillor of Minto, having retired from farming some time ago, and took up his residence at the Collison House, finding time to hang too heavily on his hands, has opened a shooting gallery just in rear of the Collison House, where those who are ambitious to try their skill as marksmen can be accommodated.

Mrs. Portlock, late of Orangeville, has opened a fancy store nearly opposite the Queen's Hotel.

S. Wright & Co., state that they have not one-third the number of logs required to fill the contracts they have on hand, though they have a great many. They will not however be beat, as they purpose getting them in on trucks.

Mr. S. L. Haight, having retired from the grocery business, will hereafter devote himself to the agency of the Bell organ, of Guelph. Mr. Haight is an upright business man, and being agent for a first-class establishment, people who require anything in that line, can't do better than deal with him.

The writer has been informed that the T.G. & B. Railway Company, have given their employees notice, that owing to the Government having refused aid to the Company, and the Municipalities not being willing to assist the road, will be closed on the first of June, unless previous arrangements are made.

The reports about Hugh Allan's illness are not encouraging, there is an impression that he is worse than made out. There was a rumor on the street that he was suffering from dropsy.

Erin Township Council.

The Municipal Council of Erin Township met at the town hall, Erin Village, on Monday the 5th of April, 1880. Reeve and all the members present. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Moved by Mr. McMillan, seconded by Mr. Kirkwood, that leave be granted to introduce a by-law appointing Pathmasters, Pound-keepers and Fence Viewers, which was read a first and second time.

Much of the time of the Council was taken up occasionally through the day in attending to this work, of appointing Pathmasters, &c.

The attention of the Council was given to a petition which was presented at a former meeting by Wm. Grant and others, praying for the removal of the west halves of lots No. 20 and 21 from school section No. 5, to school section No. 9. Both sections were well represented by their trustees, and a friendly discussion ensued which lasted some length of time.

Moved by Mr. Reed, seconded by Mr. Kirkwood, that the petition above referred to be laid over for further consideration.

A case of difference between Mr. N. Boomer and Mr. Anthony in reference to a part of a road allowance which each claimed, occupied the time of the Council off and on through the day. The Council in the absence of sufficient information did not take any action in the matter.

On motion by Mr. Reed, seconded by Dr. McNaughton, the Council formed a committee of the whole on by-law No. 5, appointing Pathmasters, Pound-keepers and Fence Viewers. Mr. Reed in the chair. By-law filled up. Committee rose. Council resumed business, and on motion by Mr. Kirkwood, seconded by Mr. Reed, by-law No. 5 was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Wm. Young, of upper Erin, applied to the Council for payment for half the line fence on the road leading to Mr. John Walker's house, which road at the time he built his fence was held to be a public road. The Reeve told him that it would be attended to at the next meeting of Council if it was brought up by either party.

Moved by Mr. Reed, seconded by Mr McMillan, that the Clerk be instructed to get fifty copies of by-law No. 5 printed at the MERCURY OFFICE for distribution.

Moved by Dr. McNaughton, seconded by Mr. Kirkwood, that the Council adjourn to meet at Dwier's hotel, Hillsburgh, on Saturday, the first day of May, for the transacting of township business. Carried.

WM. TYLER,
Township Clerk.

The New Division Court Act.

Any judge of the County Court of the county in which the case was tried, on the application of the person proposing to appeal, his counsel, attorney or agent, shall stay the proceedings in the cause, for a time not exceeding ten days from the day of giving judgment on the application for a new trial, in order to afford the party time to give the security required to enable him to appeal.

Upon any application for a new trial in any cause wherein either party may appeal, each party to the suit shall leave with the judge by whom the application is heard, a memorandum in writing of the name of some person, resident within the county town of the county or united counties in which the cause was tried, with the place of abode upon whom the notice of appeal, and all other papers thereafter requiring service, may be served for him, and service upon such person, or, in his absence, at his place of abode, shall be sufficient service thereof; and, in the event of failure to leave such memorandum by either party, all papers requiring service upon him may be served upon the Clerk of the Division Court where the suit was tried, or left at his office, for the person so failing to leave such memorandum, and such service shall be good service. The clerk shall, in such case forthwith mail, by registered letter, all such papers so served upon him to the person entitled to the same.

Upon the bond being approved by the judge, or the deposit being paid into court, the clerk of the court in which the suit is pending, shall, at the request of the appellant, his counsel, attorney, or agent, furnish a duly certified copy of the summons with all notices endorsed thereon, the claim, and any notice or notices of defence, and of the evidence and all objections and exceptions thereto, and of all motions or orders made, granted, or refused therein, together with such notes of the judge's charge as have been made, the judgment or decision when in writing, or the notes thereof, and all affidavits filed or used in the cause, together with all other papers filed in the cause affecting the questions raised by the appeal. The clerk shall also furnish to the respondent, when required so to do, a duplicate copy of the proceedings so furnished to the appellant, or such person thereof as may be required by him, and for every copy he shall be entitled to receive the sum of five cents per folio of one hundred words.

The appellant shall within two weeks after the approval of the security or deposit being paid into court, or at such other time as the judge of the said County Court may by order in that behalf provide, file the said certificate copy with the registrar of the Court of Appeal, and shall thereupon forthwith set down the cause for argument before a judge of the said Court of Appeal, and shall forthwith give notice thereof, and of the appeal, and of the grounds thereof, to the respondent, his counsel, attorney or agent, at least seven days before the day for which the same is set down for hearing, and the said appeal may be heard and disposed of by a single judge of the Court of Appeal, and he shall have power to dismiss the appeal or give any judgment and make any order which ought to have been made, and he shall give such order or direction to the court below touching the decision or judgment to be given in the matter as the law requires, and shall also award costs to the party in his discretion, which costs shall be certified to and form part of the judgment of the court below, and upon receipt of such order, direction and certificate, the court below shall proceed in accordance therewith.

The costs taxable, as between party and party, upon or connected with any appeal shall be the actual disbursements, and no greater amount over and above actual disbursements than fifteen dollars, inclusive of counsel fee. The costs of such appeal, as between attorney and client, shall be taxable on the County Court scale. Section fifty-five of the Court of Appeals Act shall not apply to appeals made under this Act.

APPEALS UNDER MASTERS' AND SERVANTS' ACT.

All appeals hereafter to be made from or against any conviction or order for the payment of wages, or any order of dismissal from service or employment or against any decision of any Justice or Justices under the one hundred and thirty-third chapter of the Revised Statutes of Ontario entitled "An Act respecting Master and Servant," shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the thirteenth section of the said Act, be made to the Division Court, holden in the division in which the cause of action arose, or in which the party complained against, or one of them, resided at the time of the making of the complaint.

The person proposing to appeal shall give to the opposite party a notice in writing of his appeal, and of the cause or matter thereof, within four days after such conviction, order, decision or judgment, and eight days at least before the holding of the court at which the appeal is to be heard, and shall also, within the four days, enter into a bond to the opposite party with two sufficient sureties to be approved of by the clerk of the court—in the penal sum of one hundred dollars, conditioned, personally to appear at the said court and try such appeal, and to abide the judgment of the court thereon, and to pay such costs as shall be by the court awarded, and upon such notice being served and bond executed and filed with the clerk, all proceedings on the order, conviction or decision appealed against shall be stayed until the determination of the appeal.

The clerk shall, on the bond and notice of appeal with an affidavit of service thereof being filed in his office, enter the cause in his procedure-book, and the appeal may be tried with a jury if the appellant file with the clerk at the time of filing the bond a notice requiring a jury, or if the respondent, within four days after the service of the notice of appeal upon him, file a notice with the clerk, requiring a jury, and if the proper fees are, in either case, deposited with the clerk; otherwise the judge may try the appeal without a jury or may summon a jury from the body of the court as to him seems meet.

In case of the dismissal of the appeal or affirmance of the conviction, order or decision, the judge may order and adjudge the offender to be punished according to the conviction or order, or he may direct the enforcement of the order for payment of wages or of dismissal, as the case may be, with the payment of the costs awarded, and any order or orders made by him in the premises shall be enforced and carried into execution by the officers of the court. The judge may direct execution to issue for the levying of any moneys or costs awarded or ordered to be paid, and in the event of any such moneys or costs being payable by the appellant, which have not been levied under execution against the goods of the appellant, the judge may order the bond to be delivered up to the respondent, who shall be entitled to recover the amount due him with costs in any Division Court having jurisdiction.

The next preceding four sections shall not apply to any appeal from or against any order, conviction or decision made under the twelfth section of the seventy-fifth chapter of the Consolidated Statutes of Upper Canada, on any matter not within the jurisdiction of the Legislature of Ontario.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 13.

The House went again into Committee of Supply, taking up the vote for Militia, $680,200 a decrease of $20,000.

On the item, Salaries of brigade majors, $17,400,

Dr. Strange remarked that the vote of Parliament for the maintenance of our militia force was totally inadequate, and the result was that the force were so inefficient that if called out to-morrow they would be utterly unfit for actual service. He was gratified that the late Minister of Militia, acting in the spirit of the National Policy, had got many of our military supplies manufactured in the Dominion. As the vote for military purposes was insufficient to give the active militia twelve days' drill annually, our only alternative now was to reduce the standing force. At present it consisted of two troops of cavalry, numbering 2,036 officers and men; 18 troops of field artillery, numbering 1,394 officers and men; four corps of garrison artillery, numbering 2,822 officers and men; five companies of engineers, numbering 350 officers and men; 18 battalions of infantry, numbering 29,605 officers and men—making the total of the active force of Canada 36,111 officers and men. If the force were reduced to 20,000, and the present expenditure directed to making them thoroughly efficient and well disciplined force, the country would be benefitted. He thought the drill pay should be increased.

Mr. Masson said he did not think that the force was any too large or that it should be reduced. He was strongly in favor of maintaining the rural portion of the force, as they gave the whole strength and solidity. The best proof that the force was popular throughout the country was the number of applications which the Minister had for the organization of new companies, and the difficulty he had in keeping the number down. The experience of Canada might be the experience of other countries. We might not see the advantages of a well organized militia force until the hour of danger, and therefore it was our duty to make it as efficient as possible in the time of peace. With regard to another point upon which the hon. gentleman had touched, he would say that if any increase was made in the estimates next year the money would be spent in increasing facilities for drill.

Mr. Kirkpatrick opposed any reduction of the force, and advocated the holding of drill every three years. The drill at company headquarters, he believed, was almost useless. He advocated the change of the district staff every five years, as many of the difficulties which had recently arisen in militia matter—such as the one to Toronto—arose from jealousy among the officers, which would be avoided if the change he suggested were made. He did not think there should be more than one school of gunnery in this country. If two schools were necessary let one be devoted to the training of cavalry or infantry.

Mr. Wright defended the rural companies from the charge that many of them spent their money at taverns during company drill.

Mr. Thompson (Haldimand) contended that the money now spent upon drill was almost wasted, as there were only four days of actual drill, and that was too short a time for much to be accomplished. Battalion drill was the only drill which was really effective. He thought too much money was spent upon the city battalions in comparison with those in the rural districts. Though the former made a better appearance at parade, they were well known to have made better time in retreating at Ridgeway than their country brethren had.

Mr. Huntington said he was sure the rural companies would rejoice to hear from the Minister of Militia that in any changes that might be made there would be no discrimination against them.

The item then passed.

The items $52,000 for armouries, $5,900 for Military College, and other items under the head of Militia were passed.

On the item for Public Buildings, Ontario, $71,542.06,

Mr. Hesson said he noticed there was no vote in the estimate for a building in Stratford to be used as a post office and for other public purposes. The town had made a very liberal offer of the necessary land, and he thought immediate steps should be taken to acquire it.

Mr. Langevin said that in a matter of that kind an application would first have to be made to the Postmaster-General.

Mr. Mackenzie said that it was too bad for the Minister of Public Works to deal with his devoted supporter, the member for North Perth in such a roundabout fashion. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) The Government did not appear before the House in detachments, and if the matter could not be settled without the Postmaster General, then let them immediately produce the Postmaster-General. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) It was too bad to treat the member for North Perth in this fashion. (Hear, hear, and laughter.)

The item then passed.

On the item Public Buildings, British Columbia, $22,000,

Mr. Bunster complained strongly of the Minister of Public Works for not taking a vote for the construction of public buildings at Nanaimo. He thought the leader of the Government, as a member for Victoria, should urge the matter on his colleagues. (Laughter.)

Sir John Macdonald remarked that there was a good time coming, and his hon. friend should wait a little longer. If the Minister of Public Works next year did not insert in the estimates an appropriation for buildings at Nanaimo, he thought the British Columbia members, including himself, would have to put their heads together and vote out the Government. (Renewed laughter.)

Mr. Bunster said he hoped his hon. colleague would keep his promise.

The item passed.

The last of the Grand Trunk trains bound for Winnipeg was thrown off the track on Monday morning near West Union, on the St. Paul, Minneapolis, and Manitoba Railway, Mr. G. H. Gould, of Stratford, was killed, and his nephew slightly injured. The accident was caused by a broken wheel.

BRUTAL OUTRAGE.

A case has come under our notice where the inhuman father of a most promising child suffered from a violent attack of Croup, which threatened every moment to terminate fatally, actually refused to spend 25 cents upon a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of wild Cherry, although assured by a neighbor that she knew it would give the little sufferer immediate relief and effect a speedy cure.

Wilson's Wild Cherry never fails; it is pleasant to take, and equally efficacious for children and adults.

In General Debility, Chronic Bonchitis or Weak Lungs, the tonic properties of the Wild Cherry Bark are fully brought into play, and its continued use will be be found to increase the appetite, improve the digestion, and give tone and vigor to the whole system.

THE LUCAN FIRE.

The Burning of Connors' House.

The Inquest in Progress To-Day.

The Evidence of Patsey Connors.

LUCAN, April 15.—The Coroner's Jury met at 10 a. m. to-day, pursuant to notice in summonses. A jury was empanelled, and after being duly sworn in by the Coroner, Thos. Dight, was chosen as foreman, and the jury proceeded to view the premises. On meeting again in the Council room, County Crown Attorney Hutchinson was present, in the interest of the prosecution of the parties implicated in the perpetration of the Donnelly tragedy on the fourth of February last, and Mr. J. F. Blake, of London, was in attendance on behalf of the prisoners. The jury were then recalled and severally answered their names, when the boy Patsey Connors was the first witness called, and testified as follows: "The dogs wakened me up the first by barking; the house was full of smoke; I then got up, looked through the window and saw two fellows walking down the road going towards the foundry, and get over the gate at the foundry; I was standing at the window in the east end of the house, up stairs; I then called Tom, my brother; I told him the house was on fire; he got up and jumped out through the window up stairs; I went down stairs; I could not open the door but got out of the north window down stairs; Tom and I went to Robt. Donnelly's and called him, and he said the house was on fire. Robert had some difficulty in opening his door; he opened it and we went to the house. Bob Donnelly broke in over the front door with a pole and he then went into the house and let Bridget out; she was standing at the window, I think she was trying to lift it up; we then hallowed fire and Dan Howe and Frank Markey came, they ran into the house and took out Mrs. McCarty's stove; I was standing in the street, on the north side and on the blaze going up between the kitchen and the house on the north side I saw no fire, while I was in the house only smoke, then David and John McRoberts came; I did not go into the house after first getting there. His evidence was still being heard.

BELLS upon sheep are recommended as a protection against dogs. A Virginia stock raiser says they are effectual. The bells serve a double purpose—frighten off the dogs and attract the attention of any one near at hand, as the sheep run if approached by a strange dog. He averages one bell for each three sheep, and says the cost is very little, and their use is effectual.

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, GALT.—It has been decided to adopt the plan of Ald. Hall for the new Presbyterian Church, Galt. The church will have seating capacity for 900 persons. It will have a fine appearance and will be surmounted by a handsome spire. The woodwork on the inside will be made of grained cedar, the seats being of the amphitheatre style.

NEW CLOTHING STORE.—We direct attention to the advertisement of Mr. Wm. Watson in another column. He intends to open out in Quebec street in a day or two with a choice stock, which has been carefully selected and bought for cash. Mr Watson has had many years experience in the trade, and his thorough knowledge of the business will enable him to appreciate and meet the wants of the public. This, with the prices he can offer will no doubt secure a good share of public patronage.

A GRAND DISPLAY.—The best display of dress, fancy and millinery goods ever made by Messrs. J. D. Williamson & Co., is now to be seen at the Golden Lion. The stock in these lines is very large and the arrangement is something above that commonly seen. The southern store is used as the store room. On either side are piles of the richest dress and fancy goods. Curtains of lace and ribbons are suspended across the room overhead, giving the whole a beautiful appearance. The millinery department is at the rear part of the room, and contains a large supply of the latest styles in hats and bonnets. A visit will repay any admirer of the fashions, and the gentlemanly clerks are only too happy to show goods.

THE ORATORIO IN HAMILTON.—The rendering of the "Stabat Mater" and a portion of Haydn's "Creation" in the English Cathedral at Hamilton on Tuesday evening, by over one hundred vocalists and instrumentalists, is an important event in the musical history of Canada. These grand compositions were given in a masterly style, which excited the admiration and surprise of the large audience. There were between 900 and 1,000 present, each person paying fifty cents. Several of the vocalists came from distant parts. There is to be a repetition of it tomorrow evening (Friday), and a special train is to be run from Toronto, as a great number in that city are anxious to be present at this grand festival.

The Burning of Connor's House in Lucan.

Incendiarism Suspected.

LUCAN, April 14.—A very strong opinion is afloat that the burning of Connor's house last night was the work of an incendiary. So much has this been impressed on the County Crown Attorney that he has ordered Coroner Hossack to issue his warrant for the holding of an inquest, and the jury are now being summoned to enquire into the matter at ten o'clock to-morrow. Robt. Donnelly, whose residence is next door to to the burned building, states that the boy Patsey Connors alarmed him about the fire after escaping through the window of the burning house, and that he rushed to the scene and was the first one there, and that on his arrival he saw plainly that the building had been fired on the outside, and was then eating its way to the interior of the building. The boy Patsey says when he was first awakened by the smothering sensation he rushed down stairs and made for a window in the east end of the house, and that while there, endeavoring to raise the window as a means of escape, he saw two men running in an easterly direction along the street, then climb over a gate, and go on across the fields instead of keeping the road. The O'Connor girl states that she certainly would have been smothered to death only for her timely rescue by Bob Donnelly forcing in the door with the end of a heavy fence rail. A great deal of importance is attached to the result of the investigation, as having a bearing on the pending trials. So much has this been impressed on the opposing counsel in London, that it is reported on good authority that the County Crown Attorney and Mr. McMahon will both be present to-morrow, watching the case in the interest of their respective clients.

The occurrence of the fire will be the means of causing the removal of the Connors from the village to the city of London. It is also reported that the remainder of the Donnelly family are also about removing from the village, but the locality of their future residence is not indicated—probably Toronto.

The Elections in Britain.

The British elections may now be said to be terminated. Amongst the constituencies remaining to be heard from are the Universities of Edinburgh and St. Andrews, whose polling, begun on the 12th, goes on till the 17th; Glasgow and Aberdeen Universities, for which the nomination took place on March 31st, the polling being not yet concluded; Orkney and Shetland, whose polling is fixed for the 26th and 27th of this month; and Ross and Cromarty, where the polling takes place on the 23rd. The Liberal majority over the combined strength of Conservatives and Home Rulers will be about sixty. The Irish members who are pledged to follow Parnell's active policy number 36. The Globe, the Pall Mall Gazette, and other supporters of the Government's foreign policy argue that Ministers should meet the new Parliament instead of resigning sooner, in order to justify their course by a complete statement of facts, and also compel the Liberals to declare their intentions with respect to their foreign policy. The correspondent of the Times at Dublin says that there are three compact parties, Conservatives, Parnellites and pure Liberals, and moderate Home Rulers, or an intermediate party who will be allies sometimes of one party, and sometimes of another, but it is confidently expected that they will most frequently go on a division in the lobby with the Liberal Government.

Mr. Gladstone's relations to the new Government, if a change should be effected, were discussed by himself in Midlothian on the eve of the election. Lord Grey had condemned the present Government, but had confessed that he was afraid a Liberal administration coming in under the present circumstances would be still worse. "Mr. Gladstone," Lord Grey had said," "is very likely not to be the head of the Government, or a member of the Government, but at the same time he would govern the Government." In reply Mr. Gladstone said: "You could not have a system more alien to the spirit of the Constitution than a system under which a certain set of men are held up to the country as the responsible Ministers, and behind these men a private individual man, an independent member of Parliament, who uses these responsible Ministers, as his puppets, and governs the country through them. In my opinion that system would be so bad that I should almost agree with Lord Grey that we had better leave things as they are. But on whom does he make this imputation? I am flattered by it. He thinks I am a man in such a position that I can take power without responsibility. But to whom is it otherwise than flattering? To the two men who for several years past have been acting as the recognized leaders of the Liberal party, and whom I have always told you I have no other personal desire than to follow. I mean Lord Granville and Lord Hartington."

Dr. Orton's Bill.

We learn from the Ottawa Free Press that several gentlemen versed in the subject have taken a practical interest in Dr. Orton's Bill relating to Loan Companies, and that substantial legislation will probably be the result. While the principle embodied in the Bill for the regulation of the rate of interest cannot be admitted, those provisions which look to the protection of borrowers, against the undue exactions of Loan Societies, possess a practical value that is worthy of the fullest consideration. To this end the suggestions made by Mr. Blake, and embodied in the amendment, to be proposed in the Senate have so far met with general approval. They are as follows:—1. To abolish all fines levied on borrowers. 2. To print in red or blue ink across the face of the mortgage the actual rate of interest charged on that mortgage. 3. In redeeming a mortgage, either voluntarily or through compulsion, that the interest on the loan be only calculated on the amount of the loan, less any payments made, if any. 4. That a mortgage be redeemable at any time on payment of six months' interest in advance. 5. That all loan societies' or companies' mortgages be executed in triplicate, one of which shall be a copy of the duplicate original and handed to the mortgagor when the loan is paid over. 6. That all mortgages be constructed as containing such claims, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the mortgage or mortgages.

Synod of Hamilton and London.

ST. CATHARINES, April 14.—The Presbyterian Synod of Hamilton and London met in Knox church here last evening, and was opened by Rev. Mr. McEwen, of Ingersoll, the retiring Moderator. The Rev. Dr. Bell was unanimously elected Moderator.

This morning, the Synod met at 9:30. The question of education was taken up and discussed at length. It was felt that the pressure was too great in the programme of studies in our schools, and that such action should be taken as would tend to secure the relaxing of the strain, so that time could be found for the necessary attention to other duties, especially in connection with religious instruction.

THE LATE HON. JOHN YOUNG.—The Government have decided to consent to the proposition of the Montreal Harbour Commissioners to pay an annual gratuity to the widow of the late Hon. John Young, consequently Sir John Macdonald has given notice of a resolution authorizing the Harbour Commissioners to pay the interest on $10,000, at six per cent. to his widow for her life.

A Row in the Senate.

On Tuesday there was a circus in the Senate. It was a grand field day and the performance certainly cast in the shade any previous occurrence in the Legislative Halls of Canada.

Senator Millar to whom reference has been made previously, made another attack on the reporters and newspaper correspondents and made a most bitter personal attack on Senator Kaulback.

Senator Kaulback rose to reply, and the old gentleman's eyes sharpened in expectation of the fun.

Mr. Kaulback said that Mr. Millar occupied a most contemptible position in Nova Scotia. He plumed himself on being worthy of some notice, as a man possessed of some social distinction. He referred to the unjustifiable attack made in the most insulting manner on himself, but he was not surprised considering the venom of the man, when it was known he was bordering on delirium tremens. The member who had spoken was not responsible for what he said, and he was under the influence of liquor.

A committee was appointed to give attention to the matter during the year.

Mr. Kaulbach, continuing, said that Mr. Millar had been guilty of the most abominable treachery by repeating private conversations in political as well as private matters. He said that Millar's conduct excited pity, combined with loathing and contempt, because that individual was intoxicated. Mr. Millar should be guarded in his remarks when saying that he (Kaulback) was not his friend, after he had protected his life when he (Millar) was in such an abominable state of intoxication that he was not able to take care of himself.

At this moment an Hon. Senator saw strangers in the gallery and the House was cleared, but the row continued by Millar saying that he had never thrashed his wife as Kaulback had done, and Kaulback replied that Millar had not done so because his (Millar's) wife took time by the forelock some years ago and left him. Some Senator's interfered then and peace was restored, but the Upper House has been shaken to its very foundation.—London Advertiser's Correspondence.

The Agricultural Commission.

The first meeting of the Agricultural Commission was held on Wednesday morning in the Parliament Buildings, with the Hou. Mr. Wood in the chair, and the following members of the Committee present: Prof. Wm. Brown, of the School of Agriculture, Guelph; Messrs. Whitelaw, Guelph; John Dryden, M.P.P., Brooklin; Thos. Stock, Waterdown; Rich. Gibson, Ilderton; Wm. Saunders, London; J. B. Aylesworth, Newburgh; Andrew Wilson, Maitland; J. P. Wiser, M.P., Prescott; J. P. McMillan, Hullett; E. Hilborn, Uxbridge; John Watson, Ayr; F. Malcolm, Innerkip, and A. Dymond, secretary. The chairman opened the meeting by reading the names of the Commissioners, and saw that more than half the number were now present. This meeting, he said, was to be of a preliminary character, to decide upon work to be done and how that work was to be done. A report had been issued giving the views of the Government on the subject, but he did not wish the commission to be bound by them. He thought that instead of having too frequent meetings of the commission it would be better to appoint sub-commissions to investigate the different branches of the subject, and their reports could be considered from time to time by the commission, as it would be impossible to fully investigate all the subjects proposed. He thought the first duty of the commission would be to decide what were the most important subjects.

Mr. Saunders, seconded by Mr. Wiser, moved that Messrs. Aylesworth, Brown, Wiser, Dryden, Whitelaw, and the mover, be appointed to prepare lists of the Commissioners to whom shall be intrusted the duty of enquiring into the various subjects. Carried.

The grouping of the subjects having been agreed upon, the Committees were reported in the afternoon, the result being as follows:—

1. The soil, climate, topographical features, cultivable area and products of the several sections of the Province and the progress and condition of husbandry in Ontario—Messrs. Aylesworth, Gibson, Hilborn, Stock, McMillan.

2. Grain growing in the several agricultural and economical aspects, drainage and natural and artificial manures. Messrs. Wilson, Dryden, Brown, Stock, Thomas Malcolm, Whitelaw, Hilborn, Byrne.

3. Stock-raising, dairying, stock laws and fencing—Messrs. Wiser, Dryden, Gibson, Ballantyne, Whitelaw, Stock, Brown, McMillan, Malcolm.

5. Cultivation of special crops, such as flax, &c.—Messrs. Ballantyne, Malcolm, Wilson, McMillan, Stock.

6. Employment of labour and labour-saving appliances, the ownership system compared with renting, agricultural book-keeping, and agricultural education—Messrs. Watson, Brown, Stock, Byrne, Wiser, Hilborn.

Mr. Wiser moved, seconded by Mr. Saunders, that the Hon. S. C. Wood and A. H. Dymond be the Commissioners entrusted with the duty of enquiring into any matters coming within the terms of the Commission, not otherwise provided for, which it may be necessary or expedient to promote or investigate in the intervals between the meetings of the Commissioners in full session. Carried.

Mr. Dryden, seconded by Mr. Aylesworth, moved that no expenditure be incurred by any Commissioner in respect of the enquiry except by the authority of the chairman. Carried.

The Commissioners adjourned till ten a.m. to-day.

THE JUBILEE SINGERS.—Mr. Obanyoum's jubilee troupe sang to a crowded house in the Methodist Church here on Thursday evening last. The proceeds amounted to $40.

SICKNESS.—We regret to state that Mr. John Chapman, Reeve of this village, who by this time had intended starting on a tour to Manitoba, has been prevented from doing so by illness. He has been so indisposed for the past two weeks as to be unable to attend to business. We are happy to state, however, that he is improving.

STRAYED CHILD.—Last week, while engaged in boiling in the sugar bush, a little girl about four years of age, daughter of Mr. Robert Little, of the Puslinch cheese factory, asked permission to ramble over a little hill adjacent to the boiling place which as a matter of course was granted. Her absence was unnoticed for some little time, and at last when looked for she was not to seen. Her name was called, but no response When her friends could not find her immediately they alarmed the neighbors, who turned out on short notice. After a hunt of about three hours she was found, when it was ascertained that she must have walked some three miles through fields and woods, during her ramble. This occured on the afternoon of Saturday last, and the little girl was found just as the beating snow storm of that evening commenced. The feelings of the parents and friends during the search, and then on finding her, may be better imagined than described.

THE FALL WHEAT.—So far in this vicinity all is well with the fall wheat.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Mr. Joseph Gibson, the Canadian orator, will deliver two temperance lectures on Wednesday and Thursday evenings next, 21st and 22nd insts. First lecture on "Prohibition," second on "Duty of the hour.'

Montreal Cattle Market.

APRIL 3.

The receipts of live stock at the market here to-day comprised 580 head of cattle, 30 calves, and 50 sheep and lambs. The quality of the greater part of the stock was exceedingly good, there being many splendid animals on sale that were lately on exhibition at the agricultural fairs in Ontario. The demand was fair, although some of the largest shippers were deterred from purchasing, owing to the uncertainty of obtaining freight-room on outgoing steamers. The following sales were reported:—By Walter & Pascoe, Oshawa, 30 head at 5c per lb. live weight, and 11 head at $40 each. W. Laing, Guelph, one fine steer weighing 1,200 lbs at 5¼c, 3 head at 4½c, 20 head for $60, or 3½c per lb, and 2 head for $85. W. Harrington, Guelph, 18 head, averaging 1,111 pounds each, at 4¾c per pound, and 3 head at 4c. Roberts & Wilder, Lennoxville, 40 head at 5¼c, 13 head at 5¾c to 4c, and 3 head at 4½c to 5c per pound live weight. Thomas Bates, Toronto, 10 head for $475; 2 head for $95; 4 head at $47 each; 15 head at $48 each, about 4½c per pound: 15 head at 4½c to 4¾c per pound live weight. W. Taillefer, 25 head at 4¾c to 4½c per pound. James Eakens, Port Hope, 8 head, at $30 to $35 each. J. Bennett, 13 head, at $50. A bull weighing 1,980 pounds brought 4c per pound live weight. Calves were small and sold at $1 50 to $4 each. Sheep brought from $5 50 to $10, and lambs $4 50 to $6. A small lot of live hogs realized $5 per cwt. The range of prices for prime cattle was from 4½c to 5½c per pound; for second quality, from 3c to 3½c per pound. The receipts of live stock at the markets last week were 800, the greater part being from Ontario.

The Markets.

APRIL 14.—The Liverpool market was dull, and from 1d to 3d lower for wheat, while Beerbohm reported floating cargoes of wheat quiet, and maize firm. In Chicago the market opened strong, but prices declined from 2c to 2½c during the day. New York was irregular and weak. In Montreal the local breadstuffs market to-day was entirely without any animation or any feature of interest. Canada spring wheat was quoted at $1 36 to $1 38. Peas, 81c. Oats, 31c. Corn, duty paid, 68c to 70c. Barley, 55c to 65c. Rye, 87c to 88c. The only sales of flour reported on 'Change were 100 barrels strong bakers' at $4 40, and 50 barrels superior extra at $5 15. In Toronto the business was flat. Flour remains inactive, the only sale reported being 200 barrels of spring extra at equal to $5 60. Superior is nominal, at $5 65 to $5 70. On the street market the receipts were larger, and consisted of 200 bushels of fall wheat, which sold at $1 22 and $1 22½; 200 bushels of peas at 67c and 73c, the latter price being for seed peas; and one load of oats at 42c. A large quantity of hay sold from $10 to $13 a ton, and about ten loads of straw at $6 to $8. Hogs were firm and scarce. Mutton is wanted and higher. Eggs easier at 12c in lots, and butter unchanged.

TWENTY YEARS IN EXILE.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

REUNION—HAPPY RETURN.

Eighty years ago—for so long is it since the incidents we have been relating transpired—the voyage to or from America was long and tedious. There were no steamboats then to defy winds and currents and cross the ocean in ten days. The voyage had to be made in slow sailing vessels, whose progress depended on fair winds, whom storms often sent back or drove a long distance out of their course. Thus, even at the shortest, many weeks had to elapse ere the voyagers passed from shore to shore, it was only after dangers encountered and fears experienced that the welcome cry of "Land" was heard and the wished-for haven gained.

Plenty of time, therefore, had Orwell Bruce for anxious thought and tantalising reflections in his solitary residence in Virginia after Jack Borland departed for Scotland on his self-suggested mission. A long time must inevitably elapse ere Orwell could know how that mission sped, and if the future of his life was to be blessed and brightened by the presence of Agnes, or whether his tolly and infatuation had so alienated her that she would refuse to cross the Atlantic to him, under the protection of her new found uncle, and be his loving helpful wife in the career of honest toil which he had resolved to pursue. Should such prove to be the case, Orwell confessed to himself that it would be a just and proper punishment for his grievous transgressions, against which he had no right to utter complaintor reproach. He felt how much his wicked conduct had merited the loss of her love, yet amid his trembling fears he cherished the hope that Agnes was too gentle and loving to be thus cruel and implacable, and that now when he was penniless and had reduced himself to her social position, she would consider that the former barrier between them was removed, and allow their love to reach its natural consummation. The sense of his demerits might not have allowed this love to grow very strong in his bosom had it not been the knowledge that he had Uncle Jack for his advocate. When Jack went away he had almost confidently assured Orwell that when he returned he would bring Agnes and her mother with him, and somehow the youth trusted to this assurance, and tried to wait as patiently as possible for its realization.

He sought refuge from his anxiety in constant occupation, for which he had full opportunity in the management of Jack's affairs, in the cultivation of his property, in a multifarious round of duties which absorbed his attention and employed his energy. In these he found physical, mental, and moral stimulus, receiving strength through all the avenues of his nature, which had begun to be enervated by the dissipation of the previous years, As his naturally strong constitution thus recovered its tone, a moral and material robustness concentrated within him, exerting a solidating influence, elevating his views of life, showing him how unworthy of true manhood had been the indolence and aimlessness of his former habits, rendering him earnest, thoughtful, resolute, conscious of duty, and of his responsibility as a human being. This was precisely the discipline he required to develop the good qualities latent in his nature, and made him something like what he was meant to be. Thus his self-entailed misfortunes became his best teachers, and rescued him from a worse and permanent ruin.

This wonderful and satisfactory change had progressed to a very visible extent by the month of June, towards the end of which Jack and his female companions returned from Scotland. They arrived in the middle of the afternoon, when Orwell was absent from the house superintending field operations. Several of the delighted servants would have rushed off with the news to "Massa Bruce," who had become a prodigious favourite with them, but were emphatically prohibited from doing so by Jack, who designed to go in search of him so soon as he saw the ladies made comfortable after their long travel. As the latter were equally impatient with himself to meet Orwell, they insisted that he should go at once, and the sparkling eyes of Agnes pleaded that she might go with him. He read the wish in their lustrous light, and smilingly asked if she was too tired to take a short walk.

"No indeed, Uncle Jack, I am not at all tired," she quickly answered with a rosy blush, and in less than a minute was arrayed in hat and sunshade ready to set out.

At no great distance from the house was a finely wooded dell, through which gurgled the waters of a pellucid stream. Here in the cool shade Jack had built him a summer-house, in which he had spent many an hour of pensive reverie. To this rural seclusion he led Agnes, as a proper place of meeting between her and Orwell.

"Now, my dear," he said, "remain here by yourself, and Orwell will soon be with you."

"How kind and considerate you are, dear uncle," whispered Agnes, whose trembling excitement could scarcely be suppressed.

"Ah, I know this is a meeting which should have no witnesses," he rejoined. Then holding forth his finger with smiling warning, he observed, "Remember not to tell him aught of what we have agreed to hide from him for the present."

"Trust me," she returned, with an answering smile, and the next moment she was left quite alone with her rushing thoughts and happiness of expectation.

Yes, it was truly a fitting place for the reunion of the lovers, bearing as it did some resemblance to the Birch Dell where their parting interview had taken place. Only, however, in natural conformation, not in the minuter features of the scene, for here no "birks" waived their graceful branches in the breeze, no broom or whin dotted the sides of the ravine, and instead of the bracken rustling on the slopes were strange, bright blooming flowers belonging to that transatlantic soil. But there was the deep seclusion and the murmur of the stream, while a fiercer sun sent the darting rays amid the foliage, no mavis or blackbird being there to fill the sultry air with melody or gladden it with song.

Leaving the dell by a well-made, well-kept path which winded to its summit, Jack gained an eminence whence a view of his large property could be had—many fertile fields and meadows, interspersed with woods—portions of the primeval forest, and in a neighboring valley the large town which had grown up in the wilderness—the main source of Jack's wealth. The latter was already a place of great importance, and the seat of thriving industries, which made it rich and prosperous.

It was not to the town or to the wide-spreading landscape that Jack directed his gaze, but to one of the fields immediately opposite the eminence on which he stood, in which a number of men and women were hard at work, led and directed in their labours by Orwell, whose tall, well-built form showed conspicuously among the rest. For some moments no one saw Jack, and the latter was contemplating the necessity of raising a shout to draw their attention, when a wooly-headed negro, chancing to look up, gave a frantic yell, and began to dance and caper like a mortal possessed.

"How now, Sambo? What's the matter with you?" asked Orwell, gazing at the excited negro with astonishment.

"Oh, golley, dis nigger see massa. Him come back. Yonder him is on de pine tree hill."

All eyes were instantly turned to the spot, and the moment Jack was beheld shouts and exclamations of joy burst from the whole group, who brandished their implements and began to dance and caper as vigorously as Sambo.

Orwell uttered an exclamation which was drowned in the general din, and, vaulting over the rail fence, came toward Jack at a quick pace, his look of eager inquiry preceding him, his bosom heaving with more than physical exertion.

"Mr. Wilson," he exclaimed, using the only name by which Jack was known in America. "Returned at last. What has been your success I dare hardly ask; I so much fear a disappointment. You smile. Oh, heaven, is it possible you have brought Agnes with you?"

"I have brought no fewer than three ladies with me, and Agnes is one of them, was the answer, which filled Orwell with transport."

They met and wrung each other's hands hard and fervently, their feelings being too intense for words to express.

Jack gazed at Orwell with open surprise.

"Why, how greatly you have improved," he said. "Your face is nearly as brown as a berry, your beard has grown bushy, you have filled up every way."

"American food and air, along with honest work, have done it," laughed Orwell. "I am done with idleness for ever, Mr. Wilson. I have learned that useful action is a privilege as well as a duty. It wanted but your return with Agnes to satisfy all my longing. Forgive my impatience, I must go to her at once."

On their way to the house Orwell poured forth a string of questions, but all bearing on one point—the thoughts of Agnes concerning him, the grief he had occasioned her, the resentment he feared she must have cherished. To all of which, Jack returned brief but assuring answers, reserving the detailed narrative for a calmer hour.

Once only Orwell referred to the position he had brought the Grange to sale," he observed.

"Yes," replied Jack, demurely. "The auction took place some two weeks after I reached Scotland."

"Oh—I expected nothing else. That was the purpose of all their machinations. Well, I have only myself to blame for falling so easily into their snare, and on my soul I do not regret it, for the loss of the estate has given me Agnes."

The Allan mail steamship Sardinian arrived at Halifax on Monday. She reports that she experienced a terrific gale for three days after leaving port and variable weather since. The Sardinian brought 91 cabin, 43 intermediate and 474 steerage passengers. The latter include 70 children brought out by Mrs. Birt. These children, together with most of the immigrants, which are a superior lot, are for the upper provinces and the North-West.

The Greatest Blessing.

A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every time, and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, stomach regular, kidneys and liver active, is one of the greatest blessings ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands who have been saved and cured by it. Will you try it? See another column.

The Grand Jury at London in their presentment say:—The criminal calendar was rendered somewhat extraordinary owing to the number of indictments arising out of the disaster familiarly known as the Biddulph tragedy. Touching the holding of the trial of the prisoners here, they trust that the ends of justice may be fully met, and that unmixed justice may be fully meted out to the accused, and that the majesty of the law may be maintained.

If you are a man of business, weakened by the strain of your duties, avoid stimulants and take

If you are a man of letters, toiling over your midnight work, to restore brain nerve and waste, use

MERCURY OFFICE,
GUELPH, April 15 1880.

No change of importance in prices on this market since our last weekly issued, any there is, has a downward tendency, more particularly in wheat, which appears to weaken almost daily in England and the United States, and of course buyers here must be governed accordingly.

Receipts of grain continue rather small, deliveries yesterday and to-day showed quite an increase to the preceding four or five days, we presume, on account of a slight improvement in the weather.

Peas rule about the same as last week, but so soon as seeding requirements cease a sudden fall must immediatly follow, as shipping prices will not guarantee anything like the present outside quotations.

Barley continues firm and in good demand for malting purposes. Good samples readily commanding the highest figures, which we give below.

Potatoes remain at the same prices for the past week or two.

Hay is rather firmer, $10 having been paid this forenoon, but the quality was really good.

No alteration in other articles, as may be seen by reference to the prices we give below, which are the latest paid up to three o'clock this afternoon.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 14.

Mr. Hesson asked whether it was the intention of the Government to make better provision for and afford greater protection to the persons and lives of brakesmen and other employees on railways under their management?

Sir John Macdonald said the matter was engaging the serious attention of the Minister of Railways. That hon. gentleman had received a good many suggestions, all of which were under the consideration of the professional staff of the Department.

Sir Richard Cartwright asked his questions about the tea duties.

Mr. Bowell replied—1st, it is not the intention of the Government to levy any such duty. The question of route is not considered other than that the teas shall be a direct importation from the countries of growth. 2nd, the Government does not recognize an importation of teas as direct when bulk has been broken in a foreign port, but in the case of a consignment of teas to Canada from the place of growth, the Government does not insist upon the whole consignment being brought to Canada in one vessel, or by any particular route, but the Customs does require that all the teas, or dust referred to in the original invoice, be entered for duty. If part of such consignments only had arrived, the balance might be entered to arrive, or the tea which had arrived might remain on sufferance in warehouse until the whole consignment shall have been received. 3rd. The third question is covered by the answer to the second question. 4th. After teas, whether of a direct or indirect importation into Canada, have had the duties required by law paid thereon, the owners thereof is at liberty to dispose of the same in whatever market he pleases, without interference on the part of the Government. The teas may, however, be entered for warehouse, and afterwards entered ex-warehouse for duty or export at the option of the owner.

Mr. Girouard moved the consideration of the bill to legalize marriage with the sister of a deceased wife, as amended by Committee of Whole House. The bill, as it at present stood with the amendments made in Committee, was read as follows:

Marriage between a man and the sister of his deceased wife, or the wife of a deceased brother, shall be legal. All such marriages heretofore contracted by parties who are living as husband and wife at the time of the passing of this Act shall be held to be lawfully contracted. Mr. Girouard, in moving concurrence in these amendments, replied to objections against the measure, and was followed by Mr. Jones, (Leeds) who moved the six months' hoist. He was followed by Messrs. Gault and Cameron (Victoria) for the bill, and Messrs. Charlton, Plumb, Weldon, Thompson, (Haldimand) and Tilley in favour of delay. Eventually the six months' hoist was voted down by 109 to 34.

Mr. Girouard moved the third reading of the bill.

Mr. Charlton moved in amendment that the bill be not now read a third time, but that it be referred back to Committee of the Whole, with instructions to strike out that portion permitting marriage with a deceased brother's widow.

The amendment was negatived.—Yeas, 40; nays, 102.

The bill was read a third time and passed.

BRUTAL OUTRAGE.

A case has come under out notice where the inhuman father of a most promising child suffered from a violent attack of Croup, which threatened every moment to terminate fatally, actually refused to spend 25 cents upon a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, although assured by a neighbor that she knew it would give the little sufferer immediate relief and effect a speedy cure.

Wilson's Wild Cherry never fails; it is pleasant to take, and equally efficacious for children and adults.

In General Debility, Chronic Bonchitis or Weak Lungs, the tonic properties of the Wild Cherry Bark are fully brought into play, and its continued use will be be found to increase the appetite, improve the digestion, and give tone and vigor to the whole system.

The larger sizes hold more in proportion than the small, and those who study economy will purchase either the 50 cent or $1 size.

Sold by all druggists.

Capt. Wynne, of St. Catharines, is now out with a proposition to finish the new canal inside of two years for four million dollars. It is understood that he is backed by a syndicate of contractors, who can furnish full security for the performance of the work within the given time.

The N. Y. Tribune prints letters from Philadelphia referring to the recent striking change in the prices of coal and iron. Coal has risen 100 per cent. within six months, and will likely rule high for six months longer. The operators say they had to sell for less than first cost last year. The price of iron has fallen off from $5 to $8 per ton, restoring the market to health and vigor.

Given up by Doctors.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

This Afternoon's Dispatches

UP TO THREE P.M.

The Burning of Connor's House in Lucan.

LUCAN, April 16.—The coroner's investigation opened at ten a. m. to-day, when John McRoberts, H. Cathcart, Geo. Hodgins, and D. McRoberts, were severally examined. The first named witness threw some light upon the character and reputation of the girl Johnson, which plainly showed she was a disreputable person. D. McRoberts gave a minute description of the fire after he arrived at the scene. The testimony of the other witnesses was trivial in their nature, and had no bearing of importance on the case. The court adjourned at 1.30, for one hour, but as some of the witnesses yet to be examined have not attended, and are evidently not disposed to give evidence, warrants will be issued for their arrest, and there is no likelihood of a verdict being arrived at to-day.

The Brown Shooting Case.

TORONTO, April 16.—At the Police Court to-day, George Dickson alias Bennett, was charged on remand with having attempted to murder the Hon. George Brown. Mr. Fenton stated he would have to ask for another week's remand, as the complainant was not yet able to appear, the wound inflicted by the bullet not having healed as rapidly as was expected. The Magistrate decidedly refused to grant the application for trial, and remanded the prisoner for a week.

The Fashionable West End, the centre of attraction in the dry goods trade. A crowded store yesterday, and sales going up fast. Every lady must come to see us for the right goods. We are bound to do the trade this season. A. O. Bucham.

Our millinery department is already busy, busy, busy, a large number of orders having been placed during the past few days. Ladies are always safe in coming to the Fashionable West End for millinery.

ONE of those very interesting occasions to the ladies, in this case one of unusual magnificence and splendor, is to take place at the Lion on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, for which days Messrs. J. D. Williamson & Co. advertise the opening of millinery goods in their new show room.

The last excursion to Winnipeg, which arrived there on Wednesday, was much reduced by the large number who stopped in Dakota and at Emerson.

MISSION SOCIAL.—The social last evening in the Baptist church was not largely attended, but nevertheless the entertainment provided was first-class. Mrs. Coutts and Mrs. Raymond each gave a reading.—Mr. Coutts and Mr. McKinlay a dialogue, and music by the choir, composed the programme. A most pleasant evening was spent.

AUCTIONEER'S LICENSE CASE.—Donald McTaggart, county constable, laid an information before A. Taylor, J. P., charging E. B. Teevin, of Fergus, with illegally selling as an auctioneer without having taken out the necessary license. The accuser says the reason he took proceedings was because of a letter received from County Treasurer Reynolds in which he (McTaggart) was notified that unless he stopped illegal selling in his locality his name would be struck off the list of county constables. The prosecutor had at recent sales demanded the accused to produce his license, which demand was not complied with. At the request of the accused the case was adjourned, to give him an opportunity to produce his license.

SOCIAL.—The social in Dublin street church last evening was well attended, and the programme was good and well rendered—the pastor in the chair. Readings were given by Miss Husband, Mrs W. N. Husband, Mrs. Dunn and Messrs. R. Millar and C. Maddock, an alto solo was sung by Mrs. B. Savage, a double quartette and chorus were well selected by Mr. Wheatley, a solo was given by Mr. Miller and one by Miss Crowe; Miss Clarke and Miss Goodfellow played a choice instrumental selection with precision, Mrs. Afred Smith a solo, and ten members of the choir with a "round," entitled "The Singing School," closed what was a very well selected programme. Each performer seemed to have chosen a part best suited to his and her particular talent, and thus did credit to themselves, and afforded a pleasant evening to the audience. Miss Goodfellow presided at the piano, and did her part as she ever does—cheerfully and well.

Wellington Spring Assizes.

Before His Lordship Justice Cameron

GUELPH, April 15.

Greet vs. Bank of Montreal—This was an interpleader. It appeared in evidence that about two years ago Alfred Sharpe negotiated a note through the Bank of Montreal for $2,000, and that F. J. Chadwick endorsed said note. When the note fell due it was not paid, and a suit was brought and a verdict obtained for the recovery of the amount of the note. Mr. Chadwick paid the amount and held the judgment over in his favor against Sharpe. On an execution being issued the Sheriff seized on certain stock said to be owned by said Sharpe in what is known as the Guelph Barrel Company. This stock, however, was claimed by T. Y. Greet as having been assigned to him by Sharpe before the seizure. It was shown that said Greet did not pay any money for the stock but gave his promissory note therefor, payable in seven years, with the understanding that Sharpe might repossess himself of said stock within the seven years on his making certain payments. It was urged by Mr. J. P. MacMillan, on behalf of Mr. Chadwick, that the case should be referred to Equity, as it was only there where the parties could obtain their right. His Lordship acceeded to this view and assigned the matters in dispute accordingly. Mr. Guthrie, Q. C., for Mr. Greet; Mr. J. P. MacMillan for Mr. Chadwick.

King v. Moyer.—This was an action brought by the plaintiff, John King, lawyer, Berlin, to recover damages for a libellous attack made on him last January, in the Berlin News, of which paper the defendant Peter Meyer is proprietor. The first article referred to the editor of the Berlin Telegraph as a headless rooster, and stated that on the following Monday there would be a reply to an article which appeared in the Telegraph. The second article referred to the object of attack as a pettifogger, and charged him with going bail for the keeper of a bawdy house who was under arrest. The attack was altogether personal and scurrilous. The defendant did not deny the authorship of the article, and though plaintiff's name was not mentioned in it, he did not deny that it was directed at plaintiff. The plaintiff said he considered that his business had been injured by the article and therefore asked compensation. He had offered to drop the case for libel on condition that the defendant would publish an apology in his columns. This the latter refused to do, and refused to apologize in the court now, at the time of trial. The jury returned a verdict of $100 damages for plaintiff. Mr. Guthrie, Q.C., for plaintiff; Messrs. Millar and Durand for defendant. Defendant addressed the jury in his own behalf.

Arraigned—George Douglas, Harriston, was arraigned on a charge of embezzling $15 on a note made in favor of W. H. Reynolds, and of forging a note at five months for $18, purporting to be signed by John Craig. He pleaded guilty on the latter count, and a jury being empanelled, they were directed to acquit him on the former.

FRIDAY, April 16.

ALLEGED MALPRACTICE.

A case of alleged malpractice against Dr. Henry, of Harriston was tried to-day. The plaintiff is Charles Crawford, aged 53 years, of Harriston, formerly of Guelph. About nineteen months ago he had his left arm broken, and Dr. Henry, the defendant, was called to attend the sufferer. On examination it was found that the arm was broken below the elbow, and dislocated at the wrist. The arm has been almost powerless since the limb was set, and the plaintiff alleges that Dr. Henry showed negligence and want of skill in attending to his case. Owing to the injury the plaintiff, who is a labourer, has been unable to do hard work since the accident.

Mr. Fergusson, Q. C., conducted the case for the plaintiff, and Mr. Guthrie, Q. C., on behalf of the defence.

The first witness called was Charles Crawford, plaintiff, who after describing the accident by which he had his arm broken, stated that Dr. Henry set the broken arm. It was ten or twelve days before he removed the bandages and splints the first time, and then he saw the bare arm. Dr. Henry made five or six visits during the time intervening between the accident and the time the splints were finally taken off. When they were finally taken off the plaintiff's wife pointed out to Dr. Henry that there was something wrong with the broken arm as it pained the defendant. Dr. Henry said there was not; then he said he did not see how the defect had escaped his notice; then he said he could not do anything if he had discovered it at the time; he afterwards said it wouldn't pain plaintiff very much anyhow. Plaintiff afterwards came to Guelph to see Dr. Herod, who directed him to apply cold water to the sore arm. Soon after returning to Harriston Dr. Henry said a Doctor from Toronto would have to examine the arm. A few days after he brought a physician to see plaintiff and introduced him as Dr. Steward, whom he (plaintiff) understood to be from Toronto. They twisted the arm and Dr. Henry asked "What power could put that in place?"—meaning the broken arm. Plaintiff said they would not stay if the broken parts were put together. Defendant said he would make them stay if he got them together. Plaintiff was getting $12 and $15 a month and board before the accident. Board at Harriston was worth $10 a month.

The plaintiff to Jury showed the injured arm. It had a warped appearance and the outside bone of the left arm near the wrist projected considerably.

Witness went on to say:—With the exception of five days working for Mr. Wright, and some work building a bath house, and digging a ditch, plaintiff did no work since the accident up till the 15th February, when he was appointed caretaker of a school at $40 a year.

In cross examination by Mr. Guthrie witness testified that the present action was commenced in Jan. last. The pain of the arm was not so severe now as some time ago. The doctor's account for attending plaintiff was rendered, but the latter had not paid it. A week after Dr. Stewart and Dr. Henry had visited plaintiff together, the latter called alone, and said he had been determined to put the broken bone in place at that visit, but failed to do so. After Dr. Stewart visited him he did not call in any other doctor. It was about six weeks after the accident that Dr. Stewart called. He did not show the arm to any medical man for months after Dr. Henry gave up the case, and he thought Dr. Anderson, of Harriston, examined it before the action was commenced. He called on Drs. Herod, McGuire and Brock, last fall, and showed them the arm. Other doctors saw the arm recently and examined it.

Plaintiff was reexamined by Mr. Ferguson, and said nothing occurred to injure the arm after Dr. Henry set it. Dr. Henry once said to him that he (the plaintiff) had given him more trouble than any other patient since he had begun practising.

In answer to His Lordship plaintiff said he had gone to a woman, in Guelph, after visiting Dr. Herod, to see if she could do anything for the arm.

Allan Marshall sworn, said:—He was present when Charles Crawford met with the accident through which he had his arm broken. He went for Dr. Henry to set the limb. Ten or twelve days after the accident he saw the arm, when the bandage was removed and observed that it was much swollen at the wrist. The doctor was not present at that time. Witness boarded with Crawford last summer, and he knew that Crawford was unable to do the general work of a labourer. At that business he might earn 50 cents a day.

In cross examination by Mr. Guthrie witness said when he saw the arm ten or twelve days after the accident the splints were off. It was possibly four or five weeks before the splints were finally removed from the arm. He saw plaintiff apply cold water to the arm frequently, both before and after he visited Dr. Herod.

The witness showed some reluctance in answering questions, and at different times contradicted his evidence, until His Lordship threatened to commit him for contempt.

There are nine witnesses for the prosecution besides the above, including a number of medical gentlemen. There are, it is understood, eleven witnesses for the defence, so that the case will be one of the longest heard this session.

True Bills—The Grand Jury returned a true bill against David C. Kilpatrick on two indictments for forgery.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—The aggressive spirit manifested by the new proprietor of the Allan Mills against the rights of the people of Guelph is now developing itself in a manner that must compel the city authorities to take up the question. Yesterday apparently without any legitimate object in view (as the mill was not running) the river between Goldie's and Allan's dam was drained off, exposing acres of filth and offensive debris to taint the air in the neighborhood. It is from exaltations of this kind that epidemics of the most virulent character usually arise, and if Mr. Spence is permitted to go his own course in the matter, the laws of nature must be reversed, or we shall be subjected, as the sun grows stronger, to some calamity of the kind. The writer of these remarks was once resident in a town in Canada where malignant fever originating from a similar cause, brought death and misery into many family circles. Further, such inflictions as these dwelling along the river are now exposed to, will most seriously affect the value of property in that locality, as people do not care to live in a neighborhood where it will be necessary in the hot weather to close up their doors and windows against filthy miasmatic exaltations.

It is to be hoped that the Board of Health will at once take up this most important question—a question on which the health of the city depends, and therefore one in which every citizen is most deeply interested.

Yours, &c.,
RIPARIAN.

Business Failures in Canada.

Messrs. Dun, Wiman & Co.'s quarterly circular, containing the list of failures in Canada and the United States, has just come to hand. It shows the number of failures in Canada during the three first months of the year to have been 503, with liabilities amounting to $4,816,277, as compared with 634 failures and $11,648,697 liabilities the first quarter of 1879. In the corresponding period of 1878 the number of failures was 555, and liabilities $9,100,929. The total failures in the United States was 1,432, with liabilities amounting to $12,777,074, against 2,524 failures and $43,112,665 liabilities the corresponding three months of 1879.

SUPPOSED LOSS OF THE "ATALANTA."—The Times editorially says it is too probable that the Atalanta has met with some grave mishap, but there are many misadventures short of total destruction which might account for her disappearance. The Admiralty on Wednesday received a hundred and fifty telegrams and two hundred personal applications for information regarding the missing vessel. There was a report current that the steamer Tamer, from the West Indies, had passed a copper bottomed ship capsized. Conjecture associated this report with the Atalanta, but the captain of the Tamer contradicts the whole story, and says he saw no such vessel. The Channel squadron and the despatch vessel Salamis have left Gibraltar to search for the missing ship.

FIRE NEAR ORANGEVILLE.—During the prevalence of the high winds on Thursday last several fires occured in the neighborhood of Orangeville. The first occured about two a.m., the dwelling of Wm. Taylor, a little east of the town, being burned to the ground, some of the inmates barely escaping with their lives. All the contents were destroyed. The next was the hotel belonging to William Rooney, about four miles from town, which caught fire about ten o'clock in the morning, and was totally destroyed, together with the barn, stables, 300 bushels of wheat, a large quantity of oats, farming implements and three horses; no insurance. A barn belonging Mr. Ingraham, a short distance away, started by sparks from the burning hotel, was burned to the ground. Robert Tweedie's dwelling house, West Caledon, and the dwelling and barns of J. Cuthberth, were also burned; insurance not known.

At the Grey Assizes on Thursday, Chas. H. Myers, a German, was tried on a charge of forgery and having altered a promissory note for $29 purporting to have been made by Mrs. Jane Dods. He was found guilty.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 15.

This was a field day in the House of Commons, and the interest taken in the proceedings was not confined to members, if the crowded state of the galleries betaken as evidence.

On the motion to go into Committee of Supply, Sir Charles Tupper rose to make his annual statement respecting the construction of the Pacific Railway. His speech was certainly one of his best efforts. He did not move any resolutions, because doing so would have precluded Mr. Blake from moving the amendment of which he had given notice. As the Opposition were apparently about to adopt a change of front on this question, he felt it necessary to recite the leading features of the agreements and legislation respecting the Pacific Railway, the object of this being to prove that the Liberal party, and especially Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Blake, were each more or less committed to the construction of this great national work. He adverted to the fact that the late Government had requested tenders for the construction of the Burrard Inlet route, and then added that a change of seats in Parliament appeared to exert a great influence upon the conduct of some gentlemen. The delay in the construction of the Pembina Branch, the mode of constructing the Thunder Bay Branch by letting contracts at each end, the expenditure on the Dawson route, the St. Frances locks, and the substitution of earth embankments for trestle work on section 15, were each dilated on seriatim, after which he claimed a saving in distance and expenditure on the actual line as originally projected for the Thunder Bay branch. Alluding at great length to Mr. Mackenzie's statement during a previous debate that the advertising for tenders for the construction of the Burrard Inlet route was merely experimental, he claimed that this could not be so, because a contract for transporting steel rails from Victoria to Yale was let by the late Government before they left office. He advanced a charge against Mr. Mackenzie of having represented the lands in the North-West as valueless, and after proof was strongly challenged he (Sir Charles) read an extract in which Mr. Mackenzie merely said that in the older Provinces great difficulty had been experienced in promoting settlement even when the lands were given to settlers. This failure to adduce proof of a serious statement was cheered by the Opposition. Sir Charles then foreshadowed changes in the railway land resolutions, and this led by natural connection to Lord Beaconsfield's eulogy of the North-West Territories and the question of an Imperial guarantee. He denied that the defeat of the Beaconsfield Administration at all imperilled the prospect of Canada's obtaining Imperial assistance towards the prosecution of the work of railway construction. Sir Charles lauded the personnel of the English Liberal party, claimed that the Conservatives of Canada were akin to the Liberals of England, and said that Canada had nothing to fear at their hands. Considering the question of route in British Columbia, he gave the reasons already published why the Northern route was not adopted and explained the advantages of that to Burrard Inlet. In the North-West Territories the latest surveys showed there were 150,000,000 acres of good land, and only 30,000,000 of wet lands and lands unfit for settlement. The total cost of the Pacific Railway would be much less than that previously estimated. The expenditure on account of the road up to the last day of the year was $14,159,165. He then dealt with the estimated cost of the road from Selkirk to Jasper Valley, 1,000 miles, the cost of construction and moderate equipment would be $13,000,000; from Jasper Valley to Fort Moody, 550 miles, $30,000,000; from Nipissing to Selkirk about $60,000,000, to which should be added $3,000,000 more. He concluded by deprecating the making of the construction of this railway a party issue, and foretold a brilliant future for Canada as soon as it was finished, concluding his four hours' speech amidst the cheers of his supporters.

Mr. Blake then rose to address the House and was received with prolonged cheers. After a few prefatory remarks, he proceeded to give a recital of the features of the legislative and official record respecting this work. He defined the position taken by Mr. Mackenzie in his address to the electors of Lambton as being precisely in accord with that occupied by the Liberal party now. His own position, too, had been referred to, but it was uniformly consistent, and he cited instances in proof. The result of the first part of his speech was to lay down the fact that apart from the error of 1871 in declining to engraft upon the terms of union with British Columbia the taxation limitation the continuous policy of Parliament before the Carnarvon terms was that the road should not be so constructed as to increase the taxation of the country, and after the Carnarvon terms, down to 1876, this principle was recognized in all resolutions, and from that year onward the path was clear. In 1877 and 1878 there was no departure from this principle, but in the latter year the late Government advertised for tenders for the whole work on a money and land basis. In 1879, under the present Government, there was a change, as indicated in the now well known railway resolutions introduced by Sir Charles Tupper. Mr. Blake dissected the resolutions, and presented them in a humorous manner, and directed special attention to those portions dealing with the Imperial guarantee. After referring to the failure of the English mission, he scored a point against Sir Charles, who during the afternoon quoted a portion of a speech by Mr. Forster, the prospective Imperial Colonial Secretary, to the effect that a guarantee might probably be given, by quoting the remainder of the remarks suppressed by Sir Charles, in which Mr. Forster states that the guarantee could not be given unless England's manufactured goods were admitted into Canada free of protective duties. Having disposed of Sir Charles Tupper's claim that he had always let contracts after accurate surveys, he proceeded to consider the advisability of proceeding with the Yale-Kamloops sections of the road, calling attention to the fact that even the Minister of Railways had pronounced the country to be an inhospitable one. He quoted from official reports to show that there were only 1,200,000 acres of arable land along the line of railway, and that of this land along 605 miles of road there were only ninety miles of arable country. The whole of the arable land would not equal

The Senate on the Rampage.

The old fogies of the Senate have ately been showing some life, possibly with the intention of letting us know that 'the Lords" are still to the fore. We gave yesterday the report of a little fight between the Hon. Messrs. Kaulback and Miller, in which neither of the parties presented a very creditable figure. Every possible effort was made to prevent the public from learning what had taken place. Correspondents were button-holed and implored not to refer to it, as it would cast a serious reflection on the Chamber, but notwithstanding these requests, it has fortunately been published. It seems that the doors were closed. Senator Kaulback's remarks were so cutting to Miller, who had commenced the row, that he (Miller) threw himself on the mercy of the House and beseeched their protection.

We find that on Thursday some of these "honorable" gentlemen again got out of temper, and abused each other in good set terms. It was all about Senator Allan's indemnity. It seems from the statements made that the Hon. Senator in 1877 came from Toronto to Ottawa, stayed eleven days, and drew sessional indemnity therefor, and then started for a trip to Europe. During his absence Sir Alex. Campbell succeeded in persuading the Clerk of the House to give the worthy Senator $500 additional, which he sent to the absent Senator.

Hon. Mr. Alexander at first moved for a committee of inquiry, but on Thursday withdrew it. Hon. Mr. Campbell had given notice of motion for the Clerk to prepare a statement of all sums paid to members, and stated at the same time that it was the invariable practice of Parliament to count non sitting days as days of attendance to make up the thirty-one days which constituted a session. The language of the statute was perfectly clear. Whereupon Hon. Mr. Reed said it was time to speak out when some hon. gentlemen took as many hundred dollars sessional pay as the days of their attendance in the House. He was speaking on what he knew to be good authority, and speaking the truth was not an inuendo. It was time the law should be changed.

Hon. Mr. Flint said he had attended twelve days, and had received $120, while he knew some hon. gentlemen who attended only for five days and who received $450 and $500. The difference was that he only came there during the latter part of the session, while others came during the first days of the session, then went home and returned to their business.

Hon. Mr. Alexander asked what the people of the country would think when they knew that a Minister of the Crown, who knew what the intention of the law was, took to straining the laws to enable members of this House to put their hands in the Dominion treasury and steal—there was no other word he could apply to it.

Then followed a grand racket, and personalities were freely bandied about, and Hon. Mr. Alexander posed as an economical patriot. Finally after these old respectabilities had let off a considerable quantity of steam, the Hon. Mr. Campbell's amendment was carried.

THE Hon. Mr. Bowell was taken severely to task the other day in Parliament, from very opposite standpoints. Mr. Coursol, of Montreal, charged him with passing over the deputy appraiser of hardware at Montreal when filling up the vacant appraisorship. On this Mr. Bowell got mad, and said that if the member for Montreal East insinuated that he had been guilty of an untruth in respect to the conversation with the late Mr. Bryson, he flung it back with the contempt it deserved. It was unworthy of the hon. member to cast such insinuations against him. Mr. Coursol told the Minister of Customs that such display of temper did not affect him. He asked for a committee of enquiry, and he was prepared to prove it; and, further than that, he would tell the head of the Customs Department that he (Coursol) would not take back a single remark that he had made.

N. Y. Tribune: When the world is congratulating itself after the world's manner upon the wonderful diffusion of intelligence and the great growth of liberality, the news of a horror like the human sacrifice in Burmah comes as a useful reminder that there still is a vast deal of beastial superstition and cruelty, and not always in the most remote corners of the earth. Seven hundred men, women and children have been buried alive in that country that the evil spirits may be appeased and the King restored to health. The age of railroads and telegraphs, with all its grotesque contrasts, never presented one stronger than the transmission of the news of this barbaric massacre to this country by the Atlantic cable, the most wonderful of the appliances of civilization.

THE total number of emigrants from Germany in the year 1879 was 33,327, of whom 20,000 were males. Of this entire number 30,808, of whom 18,512 were males, came to the United States. There is an increase of the total emigration in 1879 of over 9,000 persons, and of the emigration to the United States 10,435. Grave apprehensions are entertained in Germany that this year will witness an activity in emigration which will recall the great movements of 1871 and 1872.

A RETURN brought down to Parliament on Tuesday shows that such good Tories as J. Haggart, H. Allison, A. P. Caron and C. Acton Burrows are applying for timber limits. The last named gentleman made a modest request for 100,000 square miles of these limits. Our Charles was always a modest man as the people of Guelph well know.

The Agricultural Commission.

The Second Day's Proceedings.

TORONTO, April 15.—The Agricultural Commission again met this morning, with Hon. Mr. Wood in the chair. The report of Committee No. 1 was read and adopted. The committee submitted the following as proper questions: What is the general character of the soil—whether hilly, rolling or flat, swampy, wet or springy? What proportion is first-class soil for agricultural purposes, what proportion second and third class, and what are the averages obtained when the sales are made upon the usual terms of each class? Also in what year did settlers first enter your township? What proportion is now settled? About how many years after the entrance of the first settlers could it be said to be all settled? About what proportion of the land is now clear of stumps? About what proportion of the farms are under cultivation? What would be considered first-class fence and of what material? What proportion of the dwellings are brick, stone or first-class frame? What proportion are log or inferior frame? What proportion of outbuildings are first-class, and what inferior? What proportion of farms are under-drained, and in what proportion of that drainage is tile used? What proportion of farmers use salt, superphosphate, lime or other artificial fertilizers, and in what quantity? What kind are most extensively used? What proportion of uncleared lands would be suitable for cultivation if cleared? What are the chief products of your township? That twenty copies of the above questions be sent to each township council.

The report of Sub-Committee No. 3 was adopted. The following questions were recommended: The extent to which the importation of thoroughbred or improved stock can be carried? The comparative value and merits of the different breeds of cattle? Comparative value of the different breeds of horses? The advantage to the agriculturist of stock raising in relation to the cultivation of the soil? The value of different breeds of sheep, hogs, etc.? The quantity of cheese and butter manufactured and exported?

Sub-Committee No. 4 recommended that full information be elicited on the subject of fruit growing, as to area of land under fruit culture, quantity of fruit raised and its commercial value, how disposed of, varieties most profitable to grow for export, best method of packing for foreign shipment, best method of utilizing our surplus fruit, of canning, drying, etc., also a series of questions respecting forestry, as to proportion of forest still remaining, effect of trees on temperature, rain fall, etc., the extent of culture, and questions respecting injurious insects and insectivorous birds.

The several reports were adopted by the Commission.

On motion of Mr. Malcolm, seconded by Mr. Wilson, it was resolved:—

"That while the Commissioners will at all times be prepared when necessary for full and effectual discharge of the duties entrusted to them, to exercise the powers and authority with which they are clothed by the law for the purpose of compelling the attendance of witnesses or the production of evidence, they rely confidently on the cheerful and ready co-operation of those persons to whom they may have occasion to resort for information in regard to matters of so much public interest, intimately connected as they are with the progress and welfare of the whole country."

Mr. Dymond moved, seconded by Mr. Saunders, "That in view of the pending visit of Richard Gibson, Esq., one of the Commissioners to Great Britain, it is expedient that he should be entrusted and he is hereby entrusted with the duty of making any enquiries touching the trade in and demand for the agricultural products of this Province in Great Britain, which may tend in his opinion to further the objects for which the Commission has been issued, and is hereby requested to report thereon on his return to Canada." Carried.

The Commission then adjourned to meet at the call of the Chairman. Several of the other sub-committees met yesterday, but nothing further was done than to appoint a chairman and arrange for future meetings.

A story is told of General Butler's sarcastic retort upon a Massachusetts judge, whom he was teasing for a ruling favorable to a cause he was defending in court. The judge got out of patience at last, and somewhat testily exclaimed: "Mr. Butler, what do you think I sit here for?" The General quietly shrugged his shoulders and replied: "The Court has got me now."

PAUL JONES:

THE ROVER OF THE SEAS

—OR—

TWENTY YEARS IN EXILE.

A TALE OF THE SOLWAY.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

REUNION—HAPPY RETURN.

Jack silently smiled. The time had not yet come for Orwell to know what had taken place at the sale, and he was left under the impression that the Grange was now the property of the owner of Cairnbank.

The impatient youth kept several paces in advance of Jack, who had to ask him to stop to receive a piece of information concerning himself.

"I said I had brought three ladies across the Atlantic. The third is my affianced wife."

"Ha! it is so," exclaimed Orwell, with genuine pleasure. "Then we have to exchange congratulations, and your voyage to Scotland, undertaken solely for my benefit has brought its own blessing to the generous voyager."

"It has, Mr. Bruce; it has made me the happiest of men—ahem, I mean as happy as yourself. You dear good-for-nothing scapegrace, you have not only run yourself into happiness by your gambling escapades, but you have been the means of sending me into the same blessed haven."

"Delightful reflection," cried Orwell, with genuine pleasure. "Upon my word we are both influitely indebted to Anthony Langton and his obliging son, who planned and executed the ruin which brought me to you and carried you to Scotland to obtain the priceless blessing of a true woman's love. For I know, Mr. Wilson, the lady who has consented to be your wife must be a true woman, and the acquaintance so accidentally made will be productive of life-long joy to you both."

"Thank you, dear boy, I am very certain it will. But the acquaintance began long ago. The lady in question is none other than the Miss Armstrong I told you of whom Paul Jones had under his charge."

"What, the girl you set ashore at St. Abb's Head."

"The same."

"You met her in Scotland by chance."

"And—a widow," hesitated Orwell.

"No, she has not been married. The man to whom she was engaged repudiated her because she was bold enough to speak in defence of Paul, her friend and protector. But, would you believe it, I was fortunate enough to make some impression on her at the time of our chance acquaintance. We have waited for each other for twenty years, and Providence brought us together at last. He has wonderful ways of working, and brings things to pass in his own good time. I think," added Jack with a quiet smile, "I think you will be pleased with Miss Armstrong when you see her."

"I am very certain I shall," returned Orwell. "I feel already as if she and I were not strangers."

Jack smiled again. "I have an idea that feeling will be increased when you meet," he observed. "Stay you are taking the wrong path."

"No, indeed," cried the youth over his shoulder as he hastened forward. "This is the shortest road to the house. I have tested it more than once and it avoids the ravine."

"That is precisely why you must not take it. It is the path I am going, but I should strongly advise you to go by the ravine."

"Why?" inquired Orwell, stopping short and looking back.

"Because some one is waiting for you in the summer-house."

"Agnes?" exclaimed Orwell, his face illumined with a radiant flash.

"Yes—I left her there alone, and said I would send you to her."

Ere the sentence was finished Orwell was rushing headlong down the winding path, impatient of its turnings, many of which he avoided by a bodily descent over the steep slope till he sprang over the stream and bounded up the opposite side towards the knoll on which the summer-house stood.

Already he saw it before him, and a mist came before his eyes. He looked again, and the dearest to him of all human forms stood on its threshold gazing towards him, her head bent forward, her arms extended, an expression of love and joy on her beautiful face.

"Agnes," he cried as he vaulted on the plateau.

"Orwell," she replied with a gladsome response, and next moment the lovers were locked in a fond passionate embrace.

"My darling, my darling! and you have yourself to me at last—given yourself to me in my poverty and degradation," he murmured as he hung over her. "Oh! Agnes, I have sinned, I have sinned, and made myself unworthy of your love; but, God helping me, and with your tender support, I will redeem the past. I can never make atonement for it. I can never forgive myself for my cruelty to my poor darling May. I can only say with the Psalmist, that I confess my transgressions and my sin is ever before me, and since you have not cast me off, I can face the world with a brave resolute heart.

To this free, intense outburst of self-reproach Agnes could make no vocal response, but she nestled closer in his bosom and wept her joy out there.

Trial for Perjury at Owen Sound.

OWEN SOUND, April 15.—A well-to-do farmer of the township of Derby, by the name of James L. Squire, was placed on trial on a charge of perjury. The defendant a year or so ago had a barn destroyed by fire, and made a claim for an account of his loss for $1,600 against the London Mutual Insurance Company, now the Agricultural Mutual Insurance Company, of London, in which he had his property insured. The Company, however, refused to pay him more than $1,500. Some time afterwards a long letter appeared in the Owen Sound Advertiser, under the head of "an advertisement," and signed "J. L. Squires," in which, after alluding to these circumstances, a number of statements were made in regard to the London Mutual, which were calculated to affect the business of the Company prejudicially. This led to the Insurance Company instituting proceedings against the defendant for libel, and in connection therewith an examination took place, in the course of which he made the statement on which the charge of perjury against him was based. These comprised a denial by him that he ever wrote or authorized the writing of the letter in question, or was or party to the preparation to it. At the present trial it appeared that the letter was actually written by the local agent here of the Dominion Grange Mutual Insurance Company, who testified that he drew it up at the instance of the defendant, and that the latter signed it. In the examination above referred to, however, the defendant swore that he did not know that that gentleman prepared the letter. The jury found the defendant not guilty.

that of an average county in Ontario. Mr. DeCosmos asked what the area of an average Ontario county was; and Mr. Blake, who had been frequently interrupted by the members of Victoria, read a sweeping denouncement of the Burrard Inlet route made by that gentleman during a previous debate, when he advocated the claims of the Bute Inlet route. He had scarcely concluded reading the extract when Mr. DeCosmos jumped up in front and Mr. Bunster behind, and both—amidst the laughter of the House—began to gesticulate. Mr. DeCosmos repeated his question as to the size of an average Ontario county, which was answered. Mr. Bunster indignantly denied that he had made the speech, an extract from which had been read. Again laughter was elicited by the explanation that not he but Mr. DeCosmos had been credited with the speech. Mr. Blake repeated his description of the country, when Mr. McInnes, a third British Columbia member jumped up, making some indistinct remarks. Mr. Blake laughingly alluded to the excitement manifested by the British Columbian members, and added that the only member from that Province heeding the proprieties of debate was the senior member for Victoria. At this stage Sir J. Macdonald jumped to his feet as if he too, were going to interrupt, and after the laughter caused by this episode had subdued, he discussed the estimates respecting the anticipated future of the road. He alluded to the fact that while a few days ago the Premier estimated the total cost of completion to be $75,000,000, Sir Charles Tupper to-day reduced the amount to $65,000,000. He was afraid that the saving of ten millions had been effected by an arbitrary saving on the British Columbia end. Proceeding, he claimed that the completion of the road from Fort William to Selkirk and west to the Rocky Mountains, and the paying off of the subsidy to the Canada Central Railway, would tax and strain the financial resources of the country to its utmost. Considering the question of the settlement of the North-West, as the result of a very elaborate argument he claimed that in consequence of the immigration from the East to the West the net revenue of the Dominion would practically be materially reduced, and that, too, during those years when the great bulk of the expenditure will have to be incurred. By-and-bye manufactures will be springing up in the North-West, and the Eastern Province be deprived of the markets there which constitute the premised return for the expenditure they are now incurring. As a consequence of the increasing burdens of the country the price of real estate in the older Provinces had decreased.

Mr. Blake was proceeding to take up another point in his argument when Sir Richard Cartwright directed the Speaker's attention to the fact that the member for West Durham had already spoken for three hours, and that as he expected to speak for some time longer it would be better to adjourn. After a slight dissent from the Ontario Tories—a dissent in which it was a noticeable feature the French Canadian Conservatives did not join—the Premier unhesitatingly granted the request. Mr. Blake moved the adjournment of the debate, and claimed the floor. The motion was carried, and the Speaker left the chair a 12:15 a. m.

The Bank Charters and Issue of Dominion Notes.

Sir L. Tilley, to-day, will move the following resolutions :—

That it is expedient to provide that the amount of Dominion notes issued and outstanding at any one time may be increased to twenty millions of dollars, provided that the Finance Minister shall always hold for the redemption of such notes an amount in gold or in gold and Dominion securities guaranteed by the Government of the United Kingdom, equal to not less than 25 per cent. of the total amount of such notes then outstanding, and that at least 15 per cent. of the total amount of such outstanding notes shall be so held in gold, and the statements to be published by the Finance Minister under the eighth section of the Act, 31 Vic. chap 46, shall show distinctly the amount so held by him in gold and guaranteed securities respectively.

As regards the Bank charters, he will also move the same day :—That the charters of the several banks to which the act respecting banks and banking applies shall be extended to the 1st day of July, 1891, subject to the following provisions: (1) That after the 1st day of July, 1881, the payment of the notes of any such bank intended for general circulation shall be the first charge upon its assets, and that the bank shall not after the said day issue or re-issue any such note for a less sum than five dollars, or for any other sum not being a multiple of five dollars. (2) That from and after the same day any such bank when making any payment shall, on the request of the person to whom the payment is to be made, pay the same or such part thereof not exceeding $50 as such person may request in Dominion notes for $1 or $2 each at the option of the receiver; (3) and that from and after the passing of the act, to be passed in pursuance of these resolutions, the proportion of the cash reserves to be held by any such bank in Dominion notes shall never be less than 40 per cent. (4 That the form of the monthly returns to the Government be so amended as to show more clearly the financial position of the bank. (5) That sections 3, 4, 5 and 6 of the act of the now last session respecting the numbering of bank shares be repealed.

The Palmerston Telegraph thinks the credit of that town must be at a very low ebb when a lawyer will not undertake to defend a suit against the corporation without the council advancing money to him for disbursements.

APPLETON'S JOURNAL.—The opening paper in APPLETON'S JOURNAL for May is of very great interest. It consists of copious selections from a work recently published in England, entitled "Conversations with Distinguished Persons during the Second Empire, from 1860 to 1863," by the late Nassau William Senior. Mr. Senior was Master in Chancery, and had unusual opportunities for intimacy with distinguished French contemporaries, including such men as Thiers, Guizot, Renan, Merimee, Lamartine, Barrot, and Prince Napoleon; and he noted down all conversations with these men, and others equally famous. The article in APPLETON'S JOURNAL consists of a number of remarkably spirited and suggestive passages from these conversations. The editor has grouped together a large number relating to Louis Napoleon, which give some new and strange insights into the late Emperor's character. Altogether, this paper is of striking interest. Another very fresh article, or story it may be called, is by Ivan Tourgueniett, called "Monsieur Francois," which describes a mysterious and eccentric Parisian character, whose remarkable predictions of the revolution soon to follow (it was in 1848) will be read with profound attention. This sketch is dramatic, stirring and full of point. M. de Lessep's reply to the Suez Canal article in the previous number is given, to which is appended a note from Judge Morgan, the author of that article. There is a paper on "Metternich," and one on the French painter Regnault; "The Philosophy of Drawing Rooms" is discussed; Science in its relation to the discovery of Crime is considered, and a number of striking examples given; a paper called "The Story of 'The Merchant of Venice'" is very readable; and the editor's departments are well filled.

NIGHT CAPS.—A well-known London doctor writes as follows to a morning paper, in reply to an American physician, who, in order to induce sleep, recommends half a tumbler or a tumbler full of one of the lighter French wines either Claret or Burgundy, before going to bed. "I am quite willing to allow that such a 'night-cap,' should it effect the desired end, is better than any drug or chemical, and yet is not without objection. I have been in the habit of using for some time a soporific, a most admirable and successful 'night-cap,' against which no objection can be raised, and, which in a large number of cases effects the desired end. Immediately before getting into bed, or better still, when in bed, take a breakfast cup of hot beef tea, that made from half a teaspoonful of Liebeg's Extract [Liebeg Company's Extract of Meat] I find to be the best. This soothes and settles the stomach, allays brain excitement and induces sleep."—Morning Post. d1w1

The skeleton of a man was found a few feet under ground in rear of a dwelling in Paris this week. On examining the skull, it was found broken in at the back of the head, by as is supposed, a blunt instrument. The body when put there must have been doubled up, judging from the size of the whole where it was deposited. It is impossible to tell how long the remains had lain there.

"Please pass the butter" is obsolete. "Allow the oleomargarine to slide down this way" is now the thing. "Chuck us a hunk of grease" is more expressive. "Circulate the congealed bovine essence" has been used with charming effect.

With his new motor Keely expects to be able to saw a cord of wood with ten drops of water. Under the old tramp system it usually takes a pint of whiskey or two quarts of cider.

Before marriage a girl frequently calls her intended "her treasure," but when he becomes her husband she looks upon him as "her treasurer."

Pope says that beauty draws with a single hair. It dosen't nowadays. When a beauty gets so bald headed that she has but one hair left she dosen't draw much.

There are good grounds for believing that both the Stratford & Huron and Georgian Bay & Wellington Railways will be running trains into Palmerston before the end of August next.

Given up by Doctors.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

Fire in Kingston.

KINGSTON, April 17.—About one o'clock this morning a fire broke out in Waddingham's steam saw mill, located on Ontario street, and burned very fiercely, the glare of fire illuminating the whole city. The fire quickly communicated to Mr. Waddingham's residence and to the engine house and building, where the mouldings were stored, all of which were totally destroyed. Large quantities of lumber were piled in the vicinity, but by the exertions of the firemen the greater part of it was saved; most of Mr. Waddingham's furniture was also saved. Loss about $15,000; no insurance.

PORT CREDIT, April 17.—Nothing has been seen or heard of the vessel supposed to have foundered last night.

MONTREAL, April 17.

The conference between the directors and operators of the Hudon cotton factory was not successful in effecting a compromise. The operatives stand by their demand for fifteen per cent advance and no extra hours, whilst the directors refuse to make any concessions. This morning a large crowd, comprised principally of the strikers, collected in front of the factory apparently bent on mischief. The Chief of Police, of this city, was communicated with, and he placed a large posse of police at the service of the municipality in which the factory is situated. At the meeting of the strikers in the Town Hall, they were addressed at considerable length by a master spinner.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—The fortnightly meeting of the St. Andrew's Church Young Men's Association was held last night. It was decided to hold the closing meeting of the season on Thursday, 29th inst., and to give a public entertainment on that occasion. The collections will be in aid of the poor under the care of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. d1

BASE BALL.—The President of the Harriston Browns B. B. C. has made very favorable arrangements for the lease of grounds for the season, and Manager Lavin is preparing to open the season with the strongest amateur team ever organized in Canada. The club commences the season under very favorable circumstances. It is the intention to bring some first-class club to play at Harriston on the Queen's birthday. Some crack Canadian teams are expected to play the Browns during the season.

IMPROVING CITY PROPERTY.—A meeting of citizens interested in improving the city lot at the head of Wyndham street was held at the American Hotel last night. A committee was appointed to be present at the next meeting of the City Council for the purpose of asking to be allowed to proceed with the proposed improvements. It is the intention to alter the present shape of the lot, to make two or three terraces on which trees and shrubs will be set out. There will be a gravel walk made around the plot and one leading through it from north to south. A fountain will be placed in the centre and at the upper end there will be a very pretty band stand. The plan for the ground has been made out, and considerable money has been collected for carrying on the work, though a sufficient sum has not yet been received.

The Burning of Connor's House in Lucan.

The inquest met again on Friday, when several other witnesses were examined, whose statements in the main agreed with the previous evidence given. The investigation came to a close about four o'clock, when the jury retired to consider their verdict. At eight o'clock p. m. they returned into the Court room with the following verdict:—

"That Michael Connor's house was burned on the night of the 13th inst., and that the fire originated in the interior of the kitchen, but we are not able to determine whether accidentally or wilfully, but the jury do not believe that the fire was started from the outside of the building."

A great deal of feeling has been exhibited by the respective parties connected with the Donnelly tragedy as to the result of the verdict, one party wishing to establish the fact that the fire was the work of the friends of the Vigilance Committee, and the others, with some show of reason, stating that it was done to create a sympathy in favour of the Donnelly family. Neither of these theories would appear to have any good foundation to rest upon, as shown by the verdict of the jury.

THE WATER WORKS.—The water works are kept constantly in operation now. Services have been laid to a number of stores, factories, hotels and private residences, and new orders for services are coming in. All the leakes in the pipes and hydrants have been repaired. In different places the earth filled into the water works trenches has sunk down since the recent rains, leaving dangerous hollows in the roadway.

LETTING OFF THE WATER IN THE DAM.—In reference to the letter in yesterday's paper about letting the water out of the dam, Mr. Spence requests us to say that it was done for the purpose of making some necessary repairs on his mill. He thinks, moreover, that it is a strange thing if he cannot let off the water when he requires to do so in the course of his business without having letters fired at him in which all sorts of bad motives are inferred.

THE DUTY ON POULTRY.—At a meeting of the Canadian Poultry and Pet Stock Association held in Toronto, it was resolved on a motion by H. G. Charlesworth, seconded by J. B. Johnson, to memoralize the Government praying that the 20 per cent. duty on the pure bred poultry imported for breeding purposes and improvement of stock be removed as early as possible.

TERRIBLE FATALITY.—A very malignant type of diptheria has broken out in one neighborhood in the fifth and sixth concessions of Elkfrid, Middlesex county. The disease sweeps through a family like a plague, and carries off the members one after another in the most terrible manner. Four families have lost eleven children, nine of whom were taken from two households. Mr. H. Shelders lost five; Mr. Jas. Orbis four; Mr. Henry Hardy one, and Mr. Mann one.

BREESE ONCE MORE.—The Presbyterian says:—Rev. J. T. Breese seems still in hot water. He writes us a long letter warning us against inserting any communication from his late church in Alton. No such communication has come to hand, but we suspect any church is greatly better without him. We strongly advise this man Breese to give Canada a wide berth. He has managed to make himself thoroughly understood here and nobody wants to see or hear any more about him—except, perhaps, his creditors.

MONUMENT TO J. B. MCGANN.—A movement is on foot among the deaf mutes of Ontario and their friends to erect a monument in the Belleville cemetery to the memory of the late Mr. J. B. McGann, pioneer of deaf mute education in Canada, who died a few weeks ago. Mr. McGann was an indefatigable worker during his long and busy life, in behalf of the children of silence, and his memory certainly deserves a handsome tribute. Mr. R. Mathison, superintendent of the Institute at Belleville, will receive any money intended for this object.

On Thursday morning, Mr. Weaver, book-keeper for Messrs. Ramsay, Drake & Dods, Montreal, committed suicide in a room of the Ottawa hotel by shooting himself through the heart with a revolver. Just previous to which he had taken a dose of arsenic. He was dead when found, and he left in an envelope the keys of the firm. The affair is clothed in mystery.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. deod&wly

Mr. Dewe, Chief Inspector of the Post Office Department, has recently invented a new stamp, which not only stamps the names of the despatching post office and the date, but at the same time cancels the postage stamp. It is is said to be cheap and simple, and to do its work admirably.

An extraordinary pressure of work prevails at present in the Grand Trunk workshops at Point St. Charles. Upwards of 1,300 men are employed, a large number of whom have averaged thirteen hours' work per day during the entire winter.

The annual spring show of entire stock and grain under the auspices of the Elma and Wallace Agricultural Society was held at Listowel on Friday, proving one of the best held there for many years.

A man named Edward Price fell dead in the St. Lawrence Hotel, Montreal, on Friday afternoon. He had just eaten a hearty dinner. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause.

Arrangements will, it is understood, be shortly made for the submission of the Canada Temperance Act in Ottawa. There is a strong temperance element there, and should action be decided upon a brief fight will be the result.

There is some $16,000 of the Arran township bonus to the S. & H. Railway still unexpended. A little over $28,000 has been paid out on the engineer's certificate.

GUELPH, April 16.

Dr. Herod was one of the witnesses called in this case for the prosecution. He had examined the arm of Charles Crawford last fall, and found it in a warped condition with a prominence at the wrist. The fracture, in his opinion, should not have left the arm in such a state, even though it was a serious and uncommon fracture. He thought with proper attention on the part of a surgeon there could not have been such a result. The bandage should have been removed from the arm every day and if the bones had slipped out of place they should have been re-set. This should have been continued until the tenth day when union commenced to take place in such cases. He considered that if he had allowed the bones to grow together in such a manner he would have been either negligent or unskillful, and before he would have done so he would have kept his thumb on the broken parts till they grew together. The case was a most difficult one and required the attention of a surgeon every day until after union begun.

Dr. Adams. Harriston, was also examined, and in the main corroborated what Dr. Herod said.

Dr. Howitt was examined, and differed from Drs. Herod and Adams in the opinion that the result showed inattention. He thought that under the circumstances no better result could have been expected.

Dr. Henry was the first witness called for the defence. He said he found the plaintiff, Charles Crawford, in a faint condition after the accident through which he had his arm broken. He found a compound fracture of the radius near the wrist, and brought the broken parts together. He made straight splints and set the arm temporarily until the evening of the accident when he bound it up firmly. When he saw the patient first there was no swelling at the wrist or any prominence of any bone there. He saw the patient every day for ten days afterwards, and after the tenth day every second or third day for four weeks. At the end of the tenth day he took off the splints to see if the arm was all right. There was no prominence at the wrist then, but the plaintiff complained of a pain about midway up the forearm on the ulna, but he did not detect the prominence at the wrist till later on, when it began to appear and grew gradually. He said to Mrs. Crawford when his attention was first called to the prominence that it could not have been there from the time of the accident or he would have seen it. He told Mr. Crawford that he was willing to take him to some Toronto surgeon if that would help his case any. He afterwards said he expected a doctor from Toronto and would ask him to examine the arm. Dr. Stewart, of Palmerston, shortly after that time visited Harriston, and witness got him to examine plaintiff's arm. Witness only charged $10 for reducing the fracture and attendance, and he rendered his bill last fall, after which time he heard this action was to be brought. He had not received his account.

In cross-examination by Mr. Fergusson Dr. Henry said he did not remove the splints every day, and did not remove them at all till the end of ten days. He believed the arm did not begin to warp till after union commenced, and that it was owing to contraction of the muscles. He told plaintiff at the time of the accident he might lose the rotary movement of the arm.

Dr. Harkin, examined, said he was a physician in Guelph, and had now been practising in different places for 12 years. He examined the plaintiff's arm this morning and found a fracture of the radius. The prominence at the wrist was a result of the contraction of the radius, muscles and tendons, leaving the radius itself in the same position as it was before the break, with the difference that it was contracted, but throwing the hand out of its natural position. This result was not an exception but the rule in such cases under the most skillful treatment. He thought the wrist and fingers would become more useful in time. He considered that from the severity of the injury the arm had not by any means been badly set.

Dr. Stewart, on examination, said he saw the plaintiff's arm a year ago last fall. When he visited Harriston, Dr. Henry told him about the case, and said the plaintiff had an idea the wrist was dislocated. He felt the arm at the time and found that it was not dislocated. He was of opinion that the usefulness of the arm would increase. He thought the straight splint used by Dr. Henry was the best for a fracture of the kind in question.

Dr. Keating, examined, said the radius had been fractured about midway up the forearm. From the fact of it being a compound fracture at that place the result could not be unexpected. The arm would become more useful in future.

In cross examination he said the warped position of the arm was not caused by a displacement of the bones, but from a contraction of the radius.

Dr. Clarke, examined, said, the twisted position of the arm was not the result of misplacement of the bones, but was caused by the shortening of the radius. The pressure of an intercossious splint on the fracture he believed would have caused mortification, and he believed the splints used by Dr. Henry were the best kind. Every month, he believed, the condition of the arm would improve.

Saturday, April 17.

The Court resumed at 9:30 a.m.

Mr. Guthrie, for the plaintiff, addressed the jury and was followed by Mr. Ferguson for the defence.

The jury retired at 12:30, and about one o'clock returned a verdict for defendant.

TRUE BILLS.—The Grand Jury returned true bills against William Cassidy on four indictments for embezzlement.

ARSON.

Samuel Gray, of Moorefield, having pleaded "not guilty," was placed on trial for setting fire to the house of John Tait, 8th con., Maryborough, on the night of the 5th of November last.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 16.

The attendance of the general public in the galleries of the House of Commons manifested the existence of sustained interest in the Pacific Railroad debate.

Mr. Blake, who continued the speech which was interrupted the preceding evening, prefaced his remarks by a review of the history of the settlement of the Western States, and claimed that the inference which must be drawn from that record certainly did not strengthen the extravagant estimates in regard to the settlement of the North-West submitted by the Premier. Two great emigrating countries of Europe were Germany and Ireland, and he argued that it was hopeless to expect to direct any considerable portion of the emigration from either country away from the United States and towards Canada. He thought that the Government's estimate as to the rate of increase in the population of the North West had not a sound basis As for the revenue on account of the pre-empted and railroad lands, he showed that by an error in the average rate per acre made by the Government's "highest authority," the actual cash received during eleven years for these lands, even accepting the estimated amount of sales to be accurate, would be $23,350,080, instead of $38,590,000, with $21,250,000 remaining due at the expiration of the time instead of $32,750,000 making a total miscalculation of $25,330,000). Proceeding he claimed that as from these facts it was evident that the strain of the expenditure on account of the road would have to be borne by the ordinary sources of the revenue of the country, therefore it would be wise to restrict as much as was judicious the annual expenditures on account of the work. Personally, he was very desirous that the North-West should be as rapidly as possible developed, and on these grounds he opposed the expenditure of thirty millions of dollars among the canons and gorges of British Columbia at the present time, because it would by diverting such a large expenditure actually retard the construction of the prairie section. The political and financial history of Canada since Confederation was graphically presented, and her existing position alluded to. After mentioning the fact that Canada's future progress was hampered by restrictive tariff enactments, he quoted an elaborate series of statistics for the purpose of demonstrating that while the three larger Provinces, Ontario, Quebec, and New Brunswick, contributed a surplus of revenue over expenditure to the Dominion Treasury, the newer and smaller Provinces manifested a remarkable aptitude for the absorption of taxes. While the United States were decreasing both their national debt and taxation, and so presenting an enticing record to the emigrants of Europe fleeing from oppressive national debts and taxation, Canada was increasing her national debt and taxation at an enormous rate, and therefore could present no such enticing record to the emigrant. Such a presentation of facts might be called unpatriotic, but it was true, and that which was true could not be unpatriotic. Having shown that the taxation of the country was actually being increased, that the increase was partially due to the expenditure on account of the Pacific Railroad, that that work absorbed all the money which ought to have been expended in completing the system of enlarged canals in the older Provinces, he directed renewed attention to the frequent decisions of Parliament that the road should not be constructed so fast as to cause the imposition of increased taxation, and finally claimed that therefore the time had arrived when the country should cry "Halt." In his peroration he sarcastically alluded to Sir Alexander Galt's view of an Imperial zollverein under which the markets of England were to be given to the Canadian farmer in return for Canadian markets being opened free of duty to English manufacturers' goods, which the present Dominion Government claimed that their National Policy had fostered into existence, and he defined his own policy as that being favourable to a reduction of the country's indebtedness, a decrease of taxation, a return to a revenue tariff, the inaugurat on of an economical administration of public affairs, and the rapid but judicious construction of the Thunder Bay and prairie sections of the Pacific Railway. In concluding he moved in amendment that the public interests required that the work of constructing the railway in British Columbia should be postponed, and resumed his seat amidst the prolonged cheers of the Opposition, his speech having occupied five hours and a half in delivery.

Mr. Bunster occupied the floor till recess, advancing a few arguments in favour of the speedy construction of the Yale-Kamloops branch.

After recess the Pacific Railway debate was resumed by Mr. Bunster, who spoke of the wrongs sustained by British Columbia.

Mr. Langevin followed with a speech strongly denouncing the attitude assumed by the Opposition in relation to the construction of the Pacific Railroad. He really contributed nothing on the Ministerial side to the debate which had not previously been presented by the Minister of Railways. His speech at this stage of the debate was merely a piece of Ministerial strategy with a point in view.

Mr. Casgrain, who followed, spoke strongly against proceeding at the present time with the construction of the Yale-Kamloops section, and he even expressed a doubt as to the ultimate success of the whole road as a paying enterprise.

Mr. McInnes, of Yale, naturally spoke strongly in favour of constructing the road at once, and he gave a glowing account of the Fraser Valley's resources.

Mr. Charlton moved the adjournment of the debate. Then ensued a scene of unrivalled confusion. Sir John, in the most excited manner, gesticulated and shouted "Lost! lost!" and his cries were echoed by his followers. DeCosmos threatening to speak all night, the Premier yielded, and the House adjourned at 2.40 a. m.

Mary Ann Williams, a respectable looking woman, who was arrested in Galt last fall for stealing a horse, and sentenced to two months' imprisonment, has apparently been at her old business again. Last Thursday she hired a horse and buggy from Mr. Hewson, livery stable keeper at Paris, for two days and forgot to return them in consequence of which she was arrested.

On Friday night last, Mr. Wm. Patton, clerk in the Grand Trunk freight office, Paris, suddenly and mysteriously disappeared, leaving no trace of the direction in which he had gone. It is said he took $600 with him.

☞ Thousands of people are now carelessly allowing themselves to drift through the preliminary symptoms of consumption under the fatal delusion that they are troubled with nothing but a "slight cold." How necessary it is, then, that a cold should be cared for from its incipiency, and every exertion used to get rid of it. "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers" will stop the hacking cough in a few minutes, and by their influence on the bronchial and pulmonary organs all fears of dangerous results will soon be dissipated—but they must be taken in time. The Chief Engineer of the Pacific Railway.

It seems the Tories have some old grudge against Mr. Sandford Fleming, Chief Engineer of the Pacific Railway, and the matter has now come to a head. It seems that Mr. Fleming was not such a pliant tool as some of the supporters of the present Government expected, or that he in some way offended them, for in the caucuses of the Government supporters, recently held, he has been made the subject of attacks, especially by Mr. McLennan, of Glengarry, and Mr. Thos. White, of Cardwell. Sir Charles Tupper, as head of that department, is inclined to favour Mr. Fleming, but it is doubtful if he will succeed, for a dead set seems to have been made against him, spite of all his explanations. Distinct charges were made against him in the House of Commons, and to these he replied in a memorandum to the Minister of Railways, which has been published. His reply to these charges may be summarized as follows:—He believes that he has established that the censures which have been directed against him are not warranted by the facts and he submits: 1. That he has not unwisely advised the Government with respect to the bridging of Red River. 2. That he has not absented himself from his duties without authority and without cause. 3. That he has not neglected his responsibilities, or subjected to injury the interests entrusted to him. 4. That he is no way to blame for the original quantities being exceeded and the cost of the work increased on the sections in question. 5. That he has not caused needless expenditure at Cross Lake on an improper location. 6. That he has not allowed public money to be carelessly wasted; but that by every means in his power he has endeavcured to control the expenditure on the work, and that he has earnestly endeavoured in all respects faithfully to discharge the duties of his position.

From the inquiry made in the Committee, we gather that Mr. Fleming will henceforth give his services for nothing, and only occupy the position of consulting engineer. But it is also understood that he will receive a commission on the contracts given out upon his recommendation from the successful tenderers. It is evident that this is a most pernicious system, for it opens the door to all sorts of favouritism and log rolling, and if the Government sanctions such an arrangement, they will make a great mistake.

We have a shrewd suspicion that the Government through outside pressure, have determined to get clear of Mr. Fleming. If they have any solid ground for taking this step well and good, but he should not be sacrificed simply because a few interested parties in Parliament have made up their minds to oust him if they can. We believe there has been a good deal of underhand work going on to get rid of him, and if there were sufficient reasons for this we have nothing to say against it. But an old public servant, who has proved himself a very efficient one, should not be sacrificed at the mere whim of two or three personal enemies, and above all he should not be allowed to retain a position which deprives him of power, but still gives him a quasi connection with the Government by which he may control to a certain extent public contracts.

THE debate on Mr. Blake's Pacific Railway motion is likely to extend over several days.

THE galleries of the House of Commons were packed during Mr. Blake's great speech on the Pacific Railway. It occupied close on six hours in delivery.

IT is said that the reason for calling more witnesses in the Printing Committee is to avoid if possible making a report this session.

NOW THAT the House of Commons have passed the bill in favour of marriage with a deceased wife's sister, the country will be anxious to know what the Senate will do with it.

THE gross amount of fire insurance policies held by British companies in Canada in 1879 was $213,131,295, and by American companies, $22,920,397. The net amount at risk by British companies was $202,436,834, and American companies, $40,167,995. The losses by British companies were $1,288,271, and by American companies $179,029. The net amount paid for losses by British companies, $1,270,463, and by American companies, $182,305.

THE printing contract inquiry does not appear to be concluded as yet by any means. On Thursday Mr. Mackintosh appeared and desired to have certain questions put to him, and when the committee adjourned it was decided to call Messrs. Charlton, Boyle, Poupore and Cotton at the next meeting. Mr. Mackintosh denied that he had promised Boyce Sloane's position in connection with this printing contract matter. Witness said that after the change of Government hundreds of persons had been bothering him about situations, and he had promised to use his influence to get Boyce this situation. He withdrew his statement that Boyce's letter was a blackmailing one. In reply to Mr. Thompson, of Haldimand, witness stated that he was not a Government broker, but as he had taken a prominent part in the elections people came to him asking him to sign petitions. It was no delusion that he had a conversation with Bunting, and told him he that he had made an arrangement with McLean, Roger & Co., but did not enter into particulars.

Legislation Respecting Insolvents.

Mr. Abbott's Bill providing for the distribution of the assets of insolvent traders is practically the same measure for which he received several hundred dollars to frame last session, and which is ignominiously rejected by the House of Commons. It provides for the appointment of official assignees by the Dominion Government, and re-enacts practically every essential feature of the repealed Insolvency law.

A debtor shall be deemed insolvent if he permits any execution issued against him under which any of his chattels, land, or property is seized, levied upon, or taken in execution, to remain unsatisfied till within four days of the time fixed by the sheriff or officer for the sale thereof, or for fifteen days after such seizure; or if upon the issue of a writ against him, the officer charged with such writ having demanded payment, and in default thereof require him to point out any effects susceptible of being seized thereunder, is unable to find any chattels, land or property which can be seized thereunder, and such writ remains unsatisfied for fifteen days after such demand; or if he has absconded or is immediately about to abscond from any Province of Canada with intent to defraud any creditor, or to defeat and delay the remedy of any creditor, or to avoid being arrested or served with legal process; or if, being out of any such Province of Canada, he so remains with a like intent, or if he conceals himself within the limits of Canada with a like intent, or if he has secreted or is immediately about to secrete any part of his estate and effects with intent to defraud his creditors, or to delay their remedies against him or any of them; or if, being unable to meet his liabilities in full, he has made any sale in consequence of the whole or the main part of his stock-in-trade or his assets without the consent of his creditors or without satisfying their claims.

No proceedings shall be taken to place the estate of a debtor in liquidation unless the same are taken within three months next after the act or omission relied upon as subjecting such estate thereto, or after a writ of attachment has been issued, while it remains in force.

Upon the affidavit of any creditor or that of his clerk or duly authorised agent establishing that a trader is indebted to him in a sum of not less than $200 over and above the statute of any security which he holds for the same and disclosing such facts and circumstances as shall satisfy the judge that the estate of such trader has become subject to distribution under the provisions of this Act, such creditor shall be entitled to a writ of attachment against the estate and effects of such trader addressed to the guardian requiring him to attach the estate and effects of such trader, and to summon him to appear before the Court or Judge to answer in the premises.

A concurrent writ of attachment may be used when required, addressed to a guardian or other counties or districts in any part of the Dominion other than the county or district in which the same shall be issued.

Such writs shall be subject as nearly as can be to the rules of procedure of the Court in ordinary suits as to their issue and return, and to all proceedings subsequent thereto before any Court or Judge.

The "guardian" is the person or official authorized to act.

Except in cities or towns containing a population of more than 20,000 people, the sheriff shall be the guardian, and may be represented by his deputy, and in such cities and towns guardians may be appointed by the Board of Trade therein, or in default thereof for one month after the passage of this Act by the Government of the Dominion, in such numbers as the acting appointing power shall deem sufficient; and such guardians so appointed shall hold office during pleasure, and may be dismissed by the appointing power with or without cause.

The creditors shall appoint an assignee at their first meeting; no guardian nor any partner, agent or employee, relative, or any barrister shall be assignee.

Guardians and assignees are required to give security.

The Bill further provides for the punishment by imprisonment of those who are found to have obtained advances of goods under false pretences, who attempt to defraud creditors, or who file a fraudulent claim. It also provides for the payment of the guardians.

THE general impression appears to be that the session will last only three weeks longer.

Two marriages were registered side by side in Toronto the other day, which bear a striking contrast to each other as regards the ages of the contracting parties. In one instance the groom was a gay and festive old man of 73 and his bride was on the shady side of 60. Youth was the peculiar feature in the other case, the bride being sweet sixteen and her swain yet lacking two years of his majority.

A severe storm prevailed on the Central Pacific Railway, in California, on Thursday and Friday, and several trains were blocked by the snow.

The Stamp Dodge.

(From the Hamilton Times.)

On the 8th inst., an envelope bearing the Orangeville postmark was received at the counting room of the Times office, and on being opened it was found to contain the following:—

ORANGEVILLE, April 8th, 1880.

SIR,—Please insert this advertisement in Saturday's issue if it is not too late, or put it in Monday's issue:—

WANTED—A RELIABLE MAN TO TAKE charge of a general store for six months. Send two three cent stamps for answer. Adres Box 196, Orangeville, Ont.

With the advertisement were 31 cents in stamps, which the would-be advertiser had considered sufficient to pay for the perpetration of the swindle on the public. It is needless to say that the clerk who opened the Orangeville communication at once saw its purport, and handed it over to "ye local," who having a friend in business in that town, sat down and made use of him. Our representative after copying the advertisement and explaining the matter fully by letter to the merchant, requested him to quietly find out who had secured box 196 at the Orangeville post office. This was duly attended to, and on Friday morning the following, per postal card, arrived from Orangeville:—

ORANGEVILLE, April 15, 1880.

DEAR SIR,—In reference to the matter mentioned in yours I have found out the party. It is a young lad about 18 years, son of a Presbyterian minister, but who is inclined to be wild and has taken this way to get money. Owing to the position his father holds and the standing of the family it will be well to say nothing more about the matter. Yours respectfully.

It will be observed that we omit the young man's name for a very good reason—i. e., we don't know it. It is hoped that the narrow escape he has had from prosecution on this occasion will serve as a warning to him through life, and that when he wishes again to "raise the wind" he will do it in some more legitimate manner.

The N. P. and the Milling Interest.

(From the Galt Reformer.)

The contention of the advocates of protection to home grown wheat was that our farmers would receive more for their grain, as the millers would control the markets of the Maritime Provinces and purchase Canadian wheat to manufacture into flour for that market. On flour intended for exportation the position of the millers is not very different from what it formerly was, as American wheat thus used is free, and the only trouble the miller has is the bonding. But American wheat to be manufactured into flour for the Maritime Provinces is not free, and our millers must buy at home or else pay over seven cents per bushel more for American wheat. Of course, generally speaking, Canada produces a surplus, and our millers can obtain all the wheat they want here. But unfortunately Canada has no large centres of the wheat trade from which a miller can on short notice obtain grain to supply an order for the Maritime Provinces: the wheat has to be bought up here a little, and there a little, with considerable trouble, expense and loss of time. The consequence is that many of our millers are often put to very much inconvenience and loss in supplying the market of the Maritime Provinces. An instance of this occurred the other day in Preston. Cherry Bros., of the Cambridge Mills, had to fill an order for a thousand barrels of flour for St. John, N. B. They could not obtain a sufficient supply of Canadian Wheat: and could not afford to use American wheat, on which they would be forced to pay a heavy duty. They are therefore very much annoyed at the tariff which while not increasing the general price of Canadian wheat and thereby benefitting the farmer is harassing themselves. Mr. Cherry says he voted for the N. P., but is now done with the party which advocated that gigantic fraud.

The Wholesale Slaughter in Burmah.

(From the Chicago Times.)

The events which have led up to this horrible massacre, whose parallel has not been recorded in modern times, are of a highly interesting nature. King Theebaw, in whose interest this hecatomb has been ordered, succeeded to the throne of Burmah in October, 1878. He was then about twenty years old, was said to be well educated, and was hoisted into the throne by the aid of a palace intrigue, after the custom of Oriental courts. Following another custom of those courts, the young king inaugurated his reign by killing off as many of his brothers and sisters and cousins as he could get hold of. Having tasted blood, he became insatiable, and insisted upon making way with all his relations; who, as his father was almost as well provided for conjugally as that other Oriental barbarian, King Solomon, were very numerous indeed. At about this time, too, King Theebaw began a fearful drunken debauch, which he has recovered from only at brief intervals since. Probably no such royal spree as King Theebaw's has ever been recorded in history. It was such a debauch as few besides a monarch with an annual personal revenue of $4,000,000 in money, besides one fourth that amount in addition in produce and labor, could afford to indulge in. Details are lacking as to the pleasures with which the king diversified the days and nights of the long debauch, or even as to his favorite tipple. We can conclude, however, that there was nothing mean about his majesty's spree; the size of his revenue, and the fact that he appears to have "got way" with all of it and run into debt in the meantime, fully justify us in supposing that King Theebaw's debauch was no ordinary "soak." In the eighteen months or thereabouts during which his majesty has been continuously mellow, he must have "sampled" all the delicious beverages which have tickled the royal palate of the Orient from King Solomon down to the illustrious drunkard of Mandalay. All the delights which opium could bring were his; when reactions came, and headaches of a magnitude proportioned to the gorgeousness of his spree threatened, the subtle hasheesh soothed his sated senses and brought him visions of a sensuous paradise, while it postponed the agony of reaction and left him ready to begin a new round of excesses. No doubt the king experimented largely on other and peculiar dissipation, which the fertile imaginations of Oriental debauches have led them to essay, and which, first introduced into the western world by Elagabalus and other Asiatic emperers at Rome, have mocked nature, humanity and Christianity in Europe for many centuries. The extravagance with which such enormously rich debauches generally seek to tempt their cloyed appetites must have absorbed a vast amount of King Theebaw's income, and thieving attendants, whom the king does not appear to have admitted to share his debauch, but whose presence was necessary in order that his wishes might be served, doubtless took the remainder.

Proximity to the drunken monarch, however, was not to be coveted, in spite of the opportunities which it gave for plunder. His excesses made him savage. His appetite was insatiable with wine and demanded blood. His rage vented itself on his Ministers and the members of his family, whom he suspected of scheming to overthrow him. Panic reigned in Mandalay. Naturally the criminal classes came to the surface in such a crisis. When Ministers and Princes were poisoned and bowstrung every day at the King's command, it is not strange that anarchy prevailed. The mob, charging the foreigners with being the authors of their country's misfortunes, threatened to massacre the Europeans Christians. Things went from bad to worse. The dispatches from Burmah for a time last year ran somewhat like the following:

"Mandalay, July 16.—The mob threatens to attack the British Residency and burn the establishments of the foreign merchants.

"The King is still drunk."

"Rangoon, July 25.—The latest advices from Mandalay say that the British political agent has packed the archives of his office and prepared to abandon the capital. Several European merchants who have arrived from Mandalay report matters in a highly precarious condition.

"The king is still drunk, and threatens a general massacre of the entire royal family."

"Mandalay, August 3.—The British political agent started for Rangoon to-day The foreign merchants have sent away all their women and children on the steamer which carried the agent down the Irrawaddy. The panic increases.

Calcutta, August 25.—Advices from Mandalay to the 19th instant report the capital in a state of the wildest anarchy. Murders and robberies are of daily and nightly occurrence.

This cheerful recital became monotonous after a time, and the fact that anarchy reigned at Mandalay, and that the king was "still drunk," passed out of the domain of "news," even under the broadest definition of that word. The horrible condition of affairs, of course, attracted the attention of the Indian and of the British Imperial Government, and if Lord Beaconsfield had not been at the moment engaged in rectifying an unscientific frontier in Afghanistan, and chastising King Cetewayo in Zululand for committing the frightful offence of minding his own business, he would undoubtedly have engaged in the laudable enterprise of restoring peace in Burmah, and would have annexed the country by way of compensation.

The frightful human sacrifice which has now been ordered in Mandalay probably marks the culmination of King Theebaw's magnificent and unparalled spree. "Insulted nature sometimes vindicates her rights," as Gibbon says, and the King is probably suffering now from a stupendous headache, which neither opium, nor hasheesh, nor all the drugs of Asia can longer ward off. Under the influence of this gigantic Katzenjammer, he has persuaded himself that the woes of his country, which his sober eyes permit him to behold for the first time, are the result of the people's wickedness, and that a tremendous expiation is demanded by the offended gods. He has called in his astrologers to advise him, and they prudently agree with his view of the situation. These worthy seers have declared that nothing less than the sacrifice of 400 human victims will relieve Burmah of the frightful curse which has fallen upon her. Among the victims the astrologers, apparently having some grudge against their brethren the ministers of the established religion (a corrupt and idolatrous form of Buddhism) have included 100 priests. Hence the panic in the ranks of the priesthood, who regard the sacrifice of members of their order as out of all precedent.

At last accounts the Burmese were engaged in raiding a Catholic convent to secure victims for the holocaust; and their murderous excesses are quite likely to call for the interference of the Christian powers. The new Liberal Ministry in England may find in Burmah a chance to wage a new war and make a new conquest, which will not be instigated by the ambition or caprice of a Prime Minister, and which are sure to be popular at home and in India.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

REUNION—HAPPY RETURN.—CONCLUSION.

"And have you no words of upbraiding to utter?" he whisperingly asked.

"None," she replied. "If you have sinned you have also suffered and repented. And I know how much you were deceived, how foully you were betrayed. And then think of the good that has come out of the evil. It has brought you to your truer self, it has removed the barrier which separated us, it has given us dear, noble Uncle Jack, and reunited him to her whom he has long and faithfully loved."

"True, true," murmured Orwell. "We can only praise and adore the Divine goodness and mercy which has caused the dark cloud to break in blessings upon us."

Much they said to each other of the same import, pouring forth the love in their hearts with unrestrained freedom, unconscious of the lapse of time till the slanting sunbeams gave intimation that they must have been hours in the summer-house. Though not a tithe of all they had to say had been spoken, the consciousness of how selfish they were seized them, and they hurried to the house that Orwell might greet Mrs. Borland, and, as he said, make the acquaintance of Jack's betrothed.

"I am sure Miss Armstrong is all that is good, he said, as hand-in-hand they hurried along.

"She is indeed," replied Agnes, with a bright, mirthful smile. "Next to my mother I love her best of all my sex."

"What! even better than Miss Elliot."

"Well, perhaps not better, but quite as much."

"What has become of Miss Elliott?" he eagerly asked, but just then they came in sight of the house, and beheld at one of the lower windows a group of three, of which Jack was the centre. On the appearance of the pair, the lady on Jack's left suddenly vanished, but the other, Mrs. Borland, kept her place, and smiled and nodded to Orwell with a curious expression of fondness and respect, for he was still to her, "Master Orwell," the son of her husband's master, the head and representative of her family of whom she and Adam had been dependants.

"There is your mother, the dear old lady," cried Orwell enthusiastically. from her at least I shall receive a dreadful scolding. Come and be my intercessor, Agnes."

"Nay, do not think you will receive one; mother is too happy to see you, and too mindful of her station to utter a cross word."

"We shall see."

Agnes was right. Mrs. Borland met them at the door of the room with tears in her eyes, and the first words were, "Oh, Master Orwell, oh, my dear, dear boy, we thought we should never see you again." He caught her in his arms, strained her to his heart, and kissed her with a filial warmth.

"I do not deserve that you should," he huskily murmured. "I am a poor sining, but repentant prodigal, not worthy of the mercy and kindness which every one is showing me."

"Oh, no, no; you are Master Orwell still. The family honor will be safe with you now. And see, Jack, how strong and manly he has grown."

"I have already congratulated him on his improved appearance," laughed Jack, "And now, Mr. Bruce, allow me to present you to the lady of my choice who has come to America to make me happy for life. Miss Armstrong, I think I hardly need introduce you to Mr. Orwell Bruce."

Orwell turned to greet the veiled lady whom Jack led forward. She lifted the veil (which she had hastily donned on purpose), and stood smiling before him.

"I am extremely glad to meet Miss Armstrong, of whom I have heard so——"

Orwell had proceeded thus far ere the face was fully revealed to him, then he stopped and stared for a few moments in blank amazement.

"Good heavens, Miss Elliot," he ejaculated, as a chorus of laughter burst forth from all sides.

"Miss Elliot that was, Miss Armstrong that was and is, Mrs. Jack Borland that is to be," roared Jack, hilariously. "Give her a hug, Orwell; give her a hug for auld langsyne."

There was no need to repeat the advice, for Orwell had her in his arms ere it was well uttered, and was kissing her with unbounded delight.

"Now what does this bewildering revelation mean?" he asked, after the joyous mirth had somewhat subsided.

"It means," answered Jack, "that when Miss Armstrong lost her friends by her devotion to truth she left her early home, took her mother's name, and found a sphere of usefulness at the Grange, which you know how well she filled. When I reached Scotland we met, recognised each other, and—here she is."

Jack finished his lucid explanation by drawing Miss Armstrong's arm within his, and gazing proudly at her fair face, which turned so frankly to meet his happy look.

"That is the truth, dear Orwell," she sweetly said, "and I have to thank you for bringing to me the affection of such a noble heart."

"Thanks! No scolding—no reproaches—only thanks and kindness for all my misdeeds?"

This summing up of the issue was substantially correct. Such good had come to them all out of Orwell's conduct that no one had the heart or the inclination to reproach him. Severely, however, did he reproach himself, and it was long ere remorseful feelings ceased to haunt and trouble him, even though surrounded as he was by every happiness that love and friendship could impart.

The first days of the happy re-union were spent chiefly in narrations. Orwell had his story to tell—so had Jack, so had Agnes, and the rest—and it took many long conversations in the house and out of doors to possess each with a full acquaintance of everything that had occurred in absence. The tales they told were interesting to the various listeners, stirring the strongest feelings in their bosoms, sometimes of sorrow, sometimes of indignation, but oftenest of gladsome gratitude at the remembrance that the trials, the sorrows, the dangers were past, and that their future had assumed a bright and radiant aspect.

As yet Orwell knew nothing of the mortgage on the Grange having been redeemed. He never doubted that Anthony Langton was in possession, and that he had nothing but his own exertions to depend on. He had quite made up his mind to a life of hard work in the New World, and was prepared to encounter it. When the others heard him talk in this strain they smiled among themselves, but as the secret was not to be divulged till the day of the double marriage—now very near—they professed to feel interested in his projects and to believe in his sanguine hopes.

Imagine, then, Orwell's amazement, on the evening of the day of the ceremony, which had united him to Agnes and Jack to Miss Armstrong, when Uncle Jack put the cancelled deed into his hand, and in answer to his perplexed inquiry told him the truth—that the mortgage had been paid with the dowry which Uncle Jack had bestowed on Agnes, that the Grange was his still, and that the tenants were joyfully expecting his return with the bride which it would be their delight to welcome.

Orwell was utterly overcome by this astounding revelation, his words of thanks were checked by emotion; he could only seize Jack's hand, and gasp out the word — "Unparalleled munificence." Whereat Jack smiled kindly at him, shook his hand in return, and said that Providence had so blessed his lot that he would never miss the money, and that from no act of his life had he received such heartfelt satisfaction.

Towards the close of the summer, Orwell, Agnes, and Mrs. Borland bade farewell to Uncle Jack and his wife, and sailed for Scotland. The parting was painful, but the pain was mitigated by the hope of meeting again in the not very distant future, for Jack had declared his intention of realising his property in America, and returning to Scotland to settle there.

"If you hear of a nice property in Galloway likely to come into the market let me know," he requested, and Orwell promised to be eagerly on the lookout for such a purchase.

So after many a hand clasp, many a clinging embrace, many kisses and fervent "God bless you's," the friends were sundered at the port of embarkation. Jack and his Lottie returned for a time to their home in Virginia, and widespread sails filled by favouring winds wafted the others to the shores of dear old Scotland.

The rejoicings which took place when they reached the Grange we need not linger to describe. A huge procession, headed by Mr. Bishop and David Ramsay, met them at the park gates and escorted them with music and banners to the mansion, which had been brightened within and without for their reception. Then ensued such feasting and merry-making as had never been known in that countryside. High and low flocked to offer sincere, heart-felt congratulations to the young couple, and so far from fault being found with Orwell for marrying the daughter of his father's gardner, his modest, gentle, and refined Agnes was everywhere spoken of in terms of unqualified laudation. She performed the duties of her new sphere with natural dignity and grace, incurring the envy of none, but settling herself deep in the esteem and affection of all who came within reach of her influence.

Two years later, through the death of Anthony Langton and the dissipation of his son, the estate of Cairnbank was thrown into the market. Mindful of his promise, Orwell gave Jack information of this fact, when by next ship came full instructions to Mr. Bishop to purchase the estate at whatever price. The lawyer succeeded in obtaining the place for Jack at a fair value, and six months after the new owner came to Scotland and took possession.

Thus the group of friends was again made up, and the personages of our story, who had experienced such strange vicissitudes, enjoyed many years of close and happy intercourse ere death came to call them, one by one, into the regions of immortality.

THE END.

NIGHT CAPS.—A well-known London doctor writes as follows to a morning paper, in reply to an American physician, who, in order to induce sleep, recommends half a tumbler or a tumbler full of one of the lighter French wines either Claret or Burgundy, before going to bed. "I am quite willing to allow that such a 'night-cap,' should it effect the desired end, is better than any drug or chemical, and yet is not without objection. I have been in the habit of using for some time a soporific, a most admirable and successful 'night-cap,' against which no objection can be raised, and, which in a large number of cases effects the desired end. Immediately before getting into bed, or better still, when in bed, take a breakfast cup of hot beef tea, that made from half a teaspoonful of Liebeg's Extract (Liebeg Company's Extract of Meat) I find to be the best. This soothes and settles the stomach, allays brain excitement and induces sleep."—Morning Post. d1w1

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

THOS. W. SAUNDERS, Agent at Guelph

The inquiry into the cause of the burning of Michael Connor's house in Lucan, was continued on Thursday. The evidence pointed strongly to incendiarism. Michael O'Connor, father of Johnny, testified that he had received several threatening letters, and latterly had been apprehensive that he might be burnt out. He denied that he had any intention of moving to London.

Government Detective Murray and Constable Briggs, of Port Elgin, arrested James Weathorop and his wife on Wednesday at Saubel River. They are wanted at Cobourg to give evidence in the case of their daughter for roasting an illegitimate child last fall near Port Hope.

From the electioneering literature lately current in Britain, we learn that the gross expenditure for five years of the Gladstone Government was £358,000,000; for five years of the Tory Government it is £401,000,000. The Gladstone Government had net surpluses in the five years amounting in the aggregate to £16,960,009; allowing for the surpluses of the Beaconsfield Government, in the five years it has had a net deficit of nearly $3,500,000, which is most likely to be increased this year's end. In five years the Gladstone Government remitted taxation to the amount of £12,450,000, while their opponents have only remitted it by £1,370,000.

The April meeting this year in connection with the Canadian Literary Institute, the name of which is to be changed to that of Woodstock College in the new charter were of a specially interesting character. The endowment movement, which has been progressing for the past few months, has reached a point which which makes sure the prospect of raising at least $50,000, and probably $75,000, within the year. Already there is a total of nearly $35,000, the greater part of which has been actually promised and the balance is in prospect.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack us wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœpathic Chemists, London, Eng." n4dw9md

A recent conversation with Dean Stanley regarding the Napoleon memorial indicates that the Dean while complaining strongly of the criticism on his conduct, only desires a sufficient excuse to exclude the memorial from Westminster Abbey. He admits that he mistook a temporary outburst of sympathy for Prince Louis Napoleon for the manifestation of a permanent desire to commemorate his misfortune. The Dean admits that though his decision was announced as irrevocable, it was capable of being overruled by the Sovereign will of Parliament. When the agitation is momentarily suspended and political pre-occupation is removed the Dean will probably yield to public opinion.

This Afternoon's Dispatches

UP TO THREE P.M.

Salt in Petrolia.

PETROLIA, Ont., April 19.—The deep well which is being drilled for J. L. Englehart, has now reached a depth of 1,280 feet. The last ninety feet have been drilled in a bed of pure salt and workmen are still drilling. This is the largest body of pure salt ever found, and with an unlimited supply of cheap fuel in the shape of oil and tar, Petrolia will supply the world with salt.

The Hanlan-Courtney Race.

MONTREAL, April 19.—Mr. Soule, President of the Hop Bitters Co., who is at present here, says that only Hanlan and Courtney will take part in the boat race next month at Washington.

A coal oil lamp exploded in the residence of Mrs. Cole, school teacher, Weldon, P. Q., setting fire to her three children and burning them frightfully. Mrs. Cole was also badly burned in trying to extinguish the flames.

Heavy Thunder Storm.

ROCLIFFE, April 19.—We had a very heavy shower this morning about half-past two, accompanied by fearful thunder, lightning and hail.

Hotel and Church Struck by Lightning.

KINGSVILLE, April 19.—During a thunder storm yesterday about noon, the lightning struck the flag staff of the Commercial House, shattering it to atoms and breaking many lights of glass in the hotel. The lightning then passed from its work here, entirely over the Methodist Church, striking the chimney low as the roof, opening the chimney down to the pipe entrance, throwing several hundred bricks inside the church. The fluid passed down the pipe to the stove, smashing the floor, and passed into the ground under the stove. The pipe was thrown about the church. A panic ensued in the congregation, a rush was made for the entrance, but fortunately not one person disabled. Fortunately the congregation was small or some persons would have been killed.

The other day a well to do farmer of the township of Saugeen sold a cow to a Port Elgin butcher. While the animal was being led to the slaughter she was noticed by a young lad who thought he saw in her a great resemblance to a cow which had strayed from the premises of Mr. McNabb, of Port Elgin, last fall. On being communicated with, Mr. McNabb recognized his cow, and claimed his property. On having the law explained to him, the farmer was not only willing to release the animal, but paid Mr. McNabb $25 in addition.

The Express says: The Great Western Railway Company have decided on the erection of an iron bridge on the Grand River, between Fergus and Elora. Mr. R. L. Local News.

THE City Council meets to-night.

ANOTHER indication of spring is the appearance of the organ grinder in our midst.

PEOPLE allowing their cows to run at large will be summoned to appear at the Police Court.

THERE were no loungers at the street corners yesterday, a fact perhaps due to the wet weather, and interference of the police.

NEW BOATS.—Mr. Andrew Craig has built a number of pleasure boats during the winter, which he purposes placing on the Eramosa River this season.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—Easterly to southerly, followed by south-westerly to westerly winds; partly cloudy weather, with local rains or thunder storms.

THE HEALTH INSPECTOR charged Frank McQuillan to-day before the Police Magistrate with allowing a foul privy on his premises. The case was withdrawn on payment of costs.

IT is understood that the manager of the Great Western Railway is to be petitioned for an early mail train running north on the Wellington, Grey and Bruce Railway.

FOR MINNESOTA.—This afternoon, Mr. John Campbell, for some two years past on the staff of the Model Farm, left for Minnesota, to take charge of a fifteen hundred acre farm belonging to Mr. Dickson, lately from Scotland.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF SABBATH SCHOOLS.—We are requested to announce that a meeting of all interested in Sabbath Schools and their work will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-morrow evening, at 7.30 p. m., for the purpose of making arrangements for the observation of the anniversary of starting the first Sabbath School by Walter Raikes. All interested are requested to attend.

THE BARRIE Examiner takes the members of the legal profession of that town to task for neglecting to signalize the first visit of Mr. Justice Cameron there since his elevation to the Bench, with a memorial of some kind to him. His first visit to this city since his promotion was marked by the presentation to him of a pleasing and flattering address from the lawyers.

THE CHURCH OF OUR LADY.—Rev. Dr. Kilroy, of Stratford, who was to have conducted the services in the Church of Our Lady yesterday, did not do so, owing to the death of his father. It was announced that he would preach in the church at an early date. The full choir sang St. Joseph's Mass at High Mass in the forenoon, and at Vespers in the evening, rendered among other selections, a very beautiful one from Stabat Mater. Rev. Father Hamel preached an able sermon.

THE following from the New York Tribune is so general in its application that we regard it as a good local item: A ruffian who insulted several ladies who were coming out of a down-town church and struck one of them, pays the penalty of a six months' imprisonment. The ourbstone young man who merely stands in front of churches and stares ladies out of countenance is a harmless person by comparison; and yet it seems as if something might probably be done to him too.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.—Brief particulars have been received of a drowning accident which occurred on the farm of Thomas Laidlaw, Paisley Block, on Saturday night. A German boy aged about thirteen years whose father is a farm labourer, left his home in the evening. Search was made for him all night but without success, and on Sunday morning the body was found in a small pool on Mr. Laidlaw's farm. The head was under water and life extinct. The boy was subject to fits and it is supposed that he was attacked by a fit while walking along the bank of the pool, and falling in, was not in a condition to extricate himself.

CHANGING POSITIONS.—The Mail of to-day says:—"On Friday last Mr. James Forsyth, gardener at the Normal School for the past twenty-five years, was presented by his friends with a valuable silver tea service, accompanied by an illuminated address, on the eve of his leaving to take charge of the horticultural department of the Model Farm at Guelph. The presentation took place at the Walker House, there being present Ald. Walker (in the chair), Messrs. George Vair, J. Davidson, Wm. Rennie, James King, Wm. Christie, George Leslie, Dr. Smith, ex-Ald. McGee, and about fifty others." Mr. Barron, who for several years has been gardener at the Farm, goes to Toronto to fill Mr. Forsyth's place at the Normal School.

LUNACY.—Thomas Plant, a middle aged man, went to the Police Station on Saturday night and asked to be arrested as a lunatic, stating that if he was allowed to go home he would kill his wife. He said he was unhappy, unprosperous, and could find no one to help him along. He was locked up in the cells till Sunday morning when he was allowed to go.

LOST between Knox Church and the Great Western Railway station, on Sunday afternoon, half of a gold locket containing a photograph. As it is valuable only to the owner, the finder will oblige by returning it to this office. d2

MILITARY FUNERAL.—A detachment of the Ontario Field Battery, under command of Captain McCrae, left this afternoon with one gun to take part in the funeral of the late Edward Sallows, Guelph Township, who was a driver in the Battery. The remains will be interred in the Union Cemetery.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.—On Wednesday of last week a colt not ten hours old, belonging to Andrew Laing, Arkell, fell into a well sixty-two feet deep. The mother of the colt galloped wildly across the field to where Mr. Laing's son was plowing, and then ran back to the well. The young man missed the colt, and thinking that perhaps it had fallen into the well went to see. The colt was found in eight feet of water with its head above the surface. It was removed from its perilous position by means of a rope, being unhurt by the fall, and is doing well.

CARRIED AWAY ON A TRAIN.—David Whitmore Ellet, a lad aged eleven years, got on the rear end of a Great Western freight train at Hespeler, on Saturday afternoon, and the train starting, he was unable to get off, and was brought to Guelph. He started to walk back, but night overtaking him he applied for shelter at a house not far from Guelph, and was taken in. On Sunday morning he returned to the city, and on telling Mr. J. B. Armstrong his difficulty was handed into the care of the Police who sent him home by the two o'clock train this (Monday) afternoon.

The McIntosh-Stephens Flight from Guelph.

Arrest of the Pair in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—On the 12th of April Chief of Police Given received a telegraphic despatch from A. H. McMillan, Chief of Police of Guelph, Ontario, asking for the arrest of Alexander Stephens and Mrs. McIntosh, who had fled from that place, she being under indictment for the larceny of $200, and also on a charge of abortion, and the man was charged with being an accessory thereto. It was known in Guelph that their baggage had been checked for Philadelphia. This being traced led to the arrest of the parties last night. They will be held to await the arrival of the Canadian officials, and will then be extradited.

Our readers will remember that on the 10th of this month we gave full particulars of the flight of this bad pair, with the haul they made on the poor husband, who is a hard-working, industrious man. We understand that Chief McMillan and Mr. McIntosh have the matter in hand, and will determine what course to pursue.

Dr. Kenealy, member of the last House of Commons for Stoke-upon-Trent, the well-known counsel for the Tichborne claimant, is dead, aged 61. He died of mortification of the right foot. Most strenuous efforts were made by eminent medical men to arrest the progress of the disease, and hopes of success were entertained until within a short time before his death, which was something of a surprise to his physicians, who had not suspected it would reach a vital part for some days to come.

The traffic returns of the principal American and Canadian railways for the month of March show very remarkable growth of earnings. The gross receipts of thirty-five roads for that month were $18,567,981, against $13,882,634 in March of last year, an increase of over a third. The increase for the quarter of the year was from $31,646,000 in 1879, to $41,532,000 in 1880, about 31 per cent. While the unusual quantities of grain moved have influenced the figures greatly, the more likely reason for their growth, in the higher freight tariff obtained by pooling arrangements and consequent absence of cutting. In this connection our larger Canadian roads make a good exhibit; the Grand Trunk shows an increase in the three months of $248,522, the Great Western of $97,355 and the Canada Southern of $389,000.

Kearney's Sentence Confirmed

Judge Freelton, of San Francisco, on Saturday rendered a decision in Kearney's appeal confirming the judgment of the lower court. Kearney's counsel announced that he would apply for a writ of habeas corpus, the only resort left. The Superior Court has ordered a remitture forthwith, which would land Kearney in the House of Correction directly. He was not present when judgment was rendered. It is rumoured in anticipation of the decision, he has absented himself from the city

Fire Last Saturday Night.

Some Sheds Burned in Rearh of Wyndham Street.

A fire broke out among some wooden sheds, in rear of Wyndham street, about 11.30 o'clock, on Saturday night, owned by Dr. Clarke, John Fielding and J. C. Presant. The fire alarm was first sounded from the bell on the Baptist Church, but previous to that time the reel had been taken from the fire hall and drawn to Quebec street were two branches of hose were attached to the hydrants. It was with a good deal of difficulty that the caretaker of the City Hall was aroused and the bell on the City Hall was not sounded till the flames had made considerable headway. They shot up rapidly by making such a glare that people hurried to the spot thinking an extensive fire was in progress. For a time the residence of Dr. Campbell, Quebec st., and the Wetsern Hotel stables, Macdonnell street, contiguous to the burning buildings were in danger of igniting, but owing to the strenuous efforts of the firemen and the plenteous supply of water the flames were not allowed to spread. The steamer was taken out, but the firemen did not find it necessary to use it. In a very few minutes the fire was drowned out but not before the sheds were gutted. A phaeton valued at $180, and a cutter valued at $80, belonging to Mr. Fielding were burned. He also loses about $100 on the building and has no insurance against the loss. The other buildings owned by Dr. Clark and Mr. Presant, are valued at about $200 and are not insured. It is thought the fire was the work of an incendiary, and this suspicion is strengthened by the fact that about two weeks ago Mr. Fielding discovered the same premises to be on fire.

The improved facility for subduing fires, since the opening of the water works, was evident from the manner in which this one was drowned out. It might not be out of place to suggest a still further improvement in the fire system which could be made at little cost. At present the caretaker of the City Hall has to be awakened before the alarm can be sounded, and time is thus lost. This loss of time might be avoided if a rope were extended from the striker on the bell to the entrance to the City Hall, when policemen, who have the best opportunity of first seeing a fire which occurs at night, might ring the bell. Each of the policemen might be furnished with a key for the doors leading to the City Hall.

Saturday, April 17.

At the conclusion of the evidence for the prosecutions against Samuel Gray for arson His Lordship said no case had been made out and directed the jury to acquit the prisoner at once. Mr. Bowlby appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Dunbar for the defence.

The Court adjourned till 11 a.m. Monday.

GUELPH, April 19.

Macdonald et al vs. Cunningham et al.—This was an action brought by Wm. McDonald and Charles Cockburn, of Aberfoyle to recover a balance due on a quantity of lumber they sold from their saw mills, near Sault Ste. Marie, to the defendants, Hugh Cunningham and James Leitch, of Ridgetown. The contract was for between two and three thousand feet. The amount was not however in dispute, but the quality. The plaintiffs say that they agreed to supply lumber 35 per cent. above the common, but not clear lumber; while the defendants claim that the agreement was for clear lumber. All that was paid on the contract was $998, leaving, if the contract was for lumber, 35 per cent. above common, a balance of $575 due the plaintiff; and if the contract was for clear lumber a balance of $349. The case is still in progress. Mr. Guthrie, Q. C., for plaintiffs; Mr. McMahon, Q. C., for defendants.

Large Fire in Barrie.

Six Buildings Nearly Destroyed.

About 3:30 on Sunday morning a fire was discovered in a store on Dunlop street, occupied by Graham Bros. Before the fire engine could get to work the whole interior of the building was one mass of flames, which breaking out ignited the wooden verandah and carried the fire to the adjoining buildings. Before it was brought under control one of the finest blocks in town was more or less damaged. It is believed had there been no verandahs the fire could have been confined to the one building. Mr. J. W. Hasting and his family, who occupy the upper part of the adjoining building as a residence, had a very narrow escape from suffocation before they could get out. Graham Bros. are the heaviest losers, being able to save but very little of their stock. Their loss on stock is estimated at about $11,000. The building was owned by H. Bennett, whose loss is about $3,000. E. B. Crompton & Co., dry-goods merchants, are also heavy losers. Their loss in stock is estimated at between $8,000 and $10,000. This firm also own three buildings, occupied by themselves, W. C. McLean, druggist, and J. Henderson, hardware merchant. J. W. Hastings, jeweller, lost on stock and furniture about $3,000. Several other parties are losers. The total loss is estimated at $30,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. At one time it was thought that the whole block of six buildings would be a total loss, but this was averted by the strenuous efforts of the fire brigade and hook and ladder corps.

INCENDIARISM IN NEW HAMBURG.—On Saturday night about twelve o'clock Hartleib's Hotel in that place was discovered to be on fire in four or five different places. The act was undoubtedly that of an incendiary. When Mr. Hartleib left home in the evening no sign of fire was apparent. The firemen did admirable service, confining the flames to the building and preventing them from doing more than partial damage, which is fully covered by insurance.

A Scene in the House on Friday Night.

An exciting scene occurred in the House of Commons on Friday night, when the Government were baulked in their intention to stifle discussion on the Pacific Railway amendment moved by Mr. Blake. It has leaked out that at a Ministerial caucus last week, it was decided that the only persons who should speak during the debate on the Yale-Kamloops branch of the Pacific Railroad were Sir Charles Tupper, Mr. Langevin, and Sir John Macdonald on the Ministerial side. Sir Charles was to make his announcement, and Mr. Blake to follow with his amendment. Instead of Sir John Macdonald replying to Mr. Blake, as might reasonally enough be expected, the Ministerial tactics were that Mr. Langevin should do so, thereby hoping that Mr. Mackenzie would be induced to follow Mr. Langevin, and leaving Sir John Macdonald master of the field. It was further agreed that the Ministerialists should remain within call, so that a division could be forced on the same evening, and a thorough discussion of the question prevented. But the trick failed and was well exposed by Mr. Mackenzie. After Mr. Langevin closed his speech, some other members followed, and at 12 o'clock Mr. Charlton got up and moved the adjournment of the House. Sir John Macdonald opposed it, and after some wrangling the motion was declared lost. Mr. Charlton then proceeded to clear the decks for action, but before he had got started Mr DeCosmos took the floor amid cheers from the Opposition. Mr. Barnard was seen to whisper to him, while Sir John Macdonald shouted something to him. But he was thoroughly aroused, and said that if the Government would resist the proposition to adjourn, he supposed they would have to sit there until 8 o'clock in the morning. He had as much physical vigor as the leader of the Government and could stand it as long as he could. Drawing a huge pile of documents out of his desk, he stated that he would have to crave the attention of the House for one hour, two hours, three hours and perhaps four hours. Sir John left the Chamber at this stage, as did also many of the other members and the general opinion was that the House was about entering upon another such an extraordinary sitting as was witnessed on the occasion of the Letellier debate in 1878. It was not long ere the Commons restaurant was thronged with members engaged in fortifying themselves for the long siege in store for them, while others clustered about the smoking-room, where later on one of the pages sang the solo parts and many of the members joined in the choruses of a French Canadian song. This was kept up until 2:45 when Sir John backed down and consented to the adjournment of the debate.

A Fresh Character for Sir John Macdonald.

The British Workman is a very excellent periodical, and has done a power of good among the working classes both in Britain and in this country, but judging by the April number some one must have been playing a wicked hoax on the editor. It contains a long and laudatory sketch of Sir John Macdonald's life, in which occurs the following:—"Sir John is a man of stern and unbending principle, while his disposition is amiable, and his manners affable and conciliatory. Canada is very largely occupied by Scotch and French settlers. The Premier is equally popular with both. Sir John is a staunch Presbyterian as becomes his ancestry, but he is tolerant of other men's opinions, being a thoroughly earnest Christian man. He received the degree of D. C. L. from the University of Oxford, and was made a K.C.B. in 1867." Sir John will no doubt be as much astonished to read the above as many more who were hitherto ignorant of "his stern and unbending principle," to say nothing of his other good qualities mentioned. At the close of this precious biography the innocent editor in refering to the injurious effect of the National Policy on British and other periodicals says:—"The recent strange law which charges a HIGH DUTY on parcels of books and papers exported from this country to Canada, has very materially reduced our circulation in the Dominion. We shall be thankful if Sir John Macdonald will use his great influence to repeal this law. Surely there should be 'freedom of the press between Canada and the Mother Country." After giving Sir John such a high character surely he cannot refuse this modest request.

AT the suggestion of the Home Rulers of Limerick city, a movement is on foot for summoning the National Representative Conference for the purpose of defining the policy of the Irish parliamentary party in accordance with the feeling of all the sections of the National and Home Rule party. Moderate Home Rulers rejoice at Mr. Shaw's election for County Cork by a great majority, notwithstanding the desperate efforts of Parnell to defeat him. The Parnellite members number 24, and Shaw's followers 36. The Liberals express their intention to consider all constitutional Irish demands, and concede everything reasonable. They will mark their sympathy by acceptable appointments, and will probably make Mr. Foester Irish Secretary and Lord Dufferin Lord Lieutenant.

IT is understood that Hon. Mr. Botsford, who as acted as Speaker of the Senate during the illness of Hon. Mr. Macpherson, will resign that position in a day or two.

NOW that the bill to legalize marriage with a deceased wife's sister has passed the House of Commons, considerable interest will be manifested to know what "the Lords" will do with it.

THE friends of the rag baby will regret to learn that Italy contemplates the abolishing of the legal-tender paper now in circulation in that kingdom, and the substitution of a system under which contracts may be made for payment in gold, silver or paper at the option of the parties.

BENNETT, who shot the Hon. Geo. Brown was brought before the Police Court on Friday, when Mr. Fenton, the Crown Attorney, said he had ascertained that Mr. Brown was rather worse, and that he was afraid it would be impossible to bring the prisoner up for trial at the coming assizes. It would have to lie over till the June assizes.

ONE of the favorite arguments of Ministerial speakers, to show that the National Policy is as popular as ever with the people, is that so many bye elections have resulted in favor of the Government. About three-fourths of the bye elections in England during the last Parliament resulted in favor of a Jingo administration, yet the other day Jingoism was almost swept out of existence.

MR. Edward Holton was elected for Chateauguay on Saturday by a majority of 125 over his opponent, Dr. Laberge. This is all the more gratifying as it was doubtful if he would succeed. The reports sent from the constituency to Ottawa rather bore out the opinion that the Tory appeal to the prejudices of nationality by nominating a French Canadian might alienate French Canadian Liberal votes, but they have proved to be untrue. The French Canadian Liberals remained steadfast to the principles of their party, even under trying circumstances, and they deserve credit for so doing.

THE New York Herald contains a very full account of the recent visit of the New York State delegation to Ottawa for the purpose of coming to an understanding with the Dominion Government relative to the proposed International Park at Niagara Falls. The same paper also refers editorially to the matter as follows: "It is pleasing to know that the Dominion Government is inspired with kindred sentiments, of which the repeated expressions of the Marquis of Lorne and Sir John Macdonald leave no room for doubt. The statesmen and administrators of both countries are equally sensible of the obligations they owe to mankind arising from the location of an unparalleled natural beauty and wonder of the world within their jurisdiction.

THE Privy Council, no doubt influenced by the Opposition's crusade against the distribution of Yankee immigration literature have passed the following Order in Council, which, besides censuring the Hon. J. H. Pope, actually admits the truth of the charges preferred against him. It is as follows:—That no advertisements be authorized in connection with the publication of any pamphlet or book whatever, save only that where any department of the Government causes to be published a pamphlet or book, the head of such department may cause to be inserted therein such advertisement connected with his department as he thinks expedient in the public service. That as regards subscription to books, no department be allowed to subscribe for or purchase any book whatever, unless such book be deemed by the head of the department one which will be useful for references in the administration of the department, and that no more than four copies shall be taken in any such case.

LORD BEACONSFIELD went to Windsor on Sunday to meet the Queen on her arrival from her continental trip. He also placed his resignation as Premier in her hands. What was advised has not yet transpired. The Times intimates that he may recommend Hartington as his successor, but the national voice is loudly calling for Gladstone. The popular demand for Gladstone has gathered force hourly during the week. The Queen is publicly entreated by the Liberal journals not to allow her personal antipathies to oppose the national wish. Private advices from Hawarden, Walmer, and Newmarket say that a perfect understanding exists between Gladstone and Lords Granville and Hartington, respecting the leadership, all tending to an overpowering evidence that it is necessary for Gladstone to resume power. He now allows his intimates to understand that he considers himself obliged to sacrifice personal preferences and accept the Premiership if offered it.

AT the meeting of the Parliamentary Railway Committee on Friday, Sir Charles Tupper stated that the Government policy with regard to these feeding roads to the C. P. Railway was that no work was to be done until $500,000 of the stock had been subscribed and 10 per cent paid. That 20 miles must have been built by the time that the divergence with the C. P. railway was reached, and after that time it would proceed at the rate of 20 miles per annum or else forfeit the right to proceed further than the road has been completed. The Government would also take running powers over these roads. The bill was amended in accordance with these suggestions and passed. It was stated that three other Northwest bills were to be amalgamated and they were referred to sub-committees to amalgamate and to assimilate with the bill just passed.

Another Attempt at Incendiarism in Lucan.

The livery stable belonging to Mr. James Creighton, Lucan, was very near being the scene of a serious conflagration under mysterious circumstances on Sunday morning. The building is a frame one, and contained five horses besides the usual outfit of carriages and harness, buffalo robes, etc. The stable boy Aikinson slept in the place. About three o'clock he was seized with a violent cramp in one of his legs, and in order to get rid of this he jumped out of bed, opened the bedroom door, and went out into the stable part. Immediately upon so doing he discovered a light overhead, where several tons of hay were stored. He rushed back and awoke his companion, and being only boys they were somewhat afraid to venture upstairs, but ran and called the occupant of the next house, Mr. James Watt. Upon his arrival they went up overhead and found a wax candle, three inches long, sticking in the hay pile, and burned down to within half an inch from the hay. Five minutes more and it would be impossible to tell where the conflagration would have ended. The owner of the premises, Mr. James Creighton, is one of the most respectable men in Lucan, and says himself that to his knowledge he has not an enemy in the world, unless the fact of his being one of the jurors empanelled to enquire into the cause of the late fire in the Connor residence might be the cause of some person entertaining an ill-feeling against him.

Bold Counterfeiting Detected.

Parties have been detected in making and counterfeiting Hop Bitters, and illegally using the name Hop Bitters, a registered trade mark, which subjects every person who makes or sells anything with the name Hop Bitters, or pretending to be like it, to a fine of $100 for each sale, however small the sale is. The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., the sole owners of the trade mark, are prosecuting all violators of the law and enforcing heavy penalties, but are dealing very liberally with those who stop violating the law and settle without suit, and commence dealing in the genuine article, which is a valuable medicine and not a drink, as some of the counterfeits are. The genuine is sold by all druggists.

SEIZURE OF AN ILLICIT STILL.—The Owen Sound Advertiser says: W. J. Graham, Collector of Inland Revenue, and Mr. R. A. Hartley, Deputy Collector, made a visit on Tuesday, 5th inst., to an illicit distillery, situated in the woods in the rear of Mr. J. Gordon's, lot 3, on the 3rd concession of Euphrasia. The distillery, which consisted of a large underground chamber and frame structure above, was most ingeniously contrived, and was entered by means of a secret trap in a closet. A portion of the plant had been removed: There was a considerable quantity of spirits in the place, the greatest portion of which the officers destroyed. The premises were said to be owned and operated by a party named Wm. Shaw.

The contract for the building and completing of an English Church in Arthur village, has been awarded to Mr. W. P. Parsons, for the sum of $2,300. The structure is to be of brick.

SERMON TO ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.

The annual sermon to St. George's Society was preached by Rev. Mr. Williams in the Norfolk street Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon. The Society was well represented by a full attendance of leading members. Each wore a red rose or button hole bouquet of delicately tinted flowers. They occupied the centre pews in the church. and there was besides them a good sized congregation. The choir as usual, under the direction of Prof. Harrington, conducted the musical part of the service very creditably.

If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I do not prefer Jerusalem above my chief joy.

In his introductory remarks the rev. gentlemen said these words were expressive of the love of the Jew to his native land, especially to Jerusalem, the seat of his solemnities. Distance did not destroy but deepen his patriotism ; he could not transfer his affections with a change of residence ; wherever he was, under whatever circumstances placed, his heart turned lovingly and gratefully to the home of his childhood. Many of the Jews lived long enough in their own land to form strong attachments — attachments that were rudely broken when they were led away to a distant land. The home ot their childhood was dear to them and many of them remembered the places where they had met to worship God. The joys of their early life were sweet and tender, but the relationships that had afforded them so much happiness were sundered. They became exiles from home, amid foreign institutions, new associations, under laws that affected them differently than those by which they had been previously governed. We were not beyond the bounds of the British empire ; we were not under new laws and new principles ; we dwelt in the midst of substantially the same institutions as those which our fathers enjoyed ; the flag that floats over us was the flag that had floated over Britain for a thousand years. We might not feel so much at home in the new land as in the old and yet there was much to make us do so. The open Bible of the old land was ours to-day ; the churches in which we met years ago were the same in character as those in which we met to-day ; the unwritten constitution of the old land, built up inch by inch till it had become the grandest institution in the world, was represented among us to-day ; the same forms of character presented themselves to us as to them, and the tie that bound us to the old land was strengthened by the fact that a daughter of our gracious Queen and her son-in-law represented her authority in the capital of our land. We rejoiced to be within the scope of the realm ruled by our gracious Queen, and yet we could not forget that we were not in the old land, that oceans roll between us and the tight little Island that gave us birth. We could not avoid the fact that we were far from that home though still within the limits of the British Empire. We were surrounded by new associations, with a country different in its aspect, considerably different in its climate ; amid associations that tended to develop Canada, it was true, and strengthen self-reliance and widen the scope of man's energies. Yet with all these advantages we said, "England with all thy faults I love thee still." He did not know that there was a better land outside the old one that we could come to than this—a land vast as half the continent ; washed on one side by the Pacific and on the other by the Atlantic. Stretching up towards the chme of eternal snows, with openings for every kind of enterprise. With influences around us that stimulated, stirred and awakened all the noblest energies of man. By the shores of our sweeping rivers and our placid lakes ; in our verdant valleys and our sunny hills ; in the vast rolling prairies of the west; in the shadows of the distant mountains that rose as a wall between us and the Pacific Ocean, we found ample scope for all our energies and ample employment for all our activities. The treasures of the forest and the field, of the sea and shore, of the mind and the mechanic's bench were ours, and if a man could not prosper in this land he could in no other. In this land there was room for every frugal, every honest, every industrious and sober man, and there was success for him. He might have difficulties to encounter, he might be tempted and tried, but let a man keep the manhood he gathered from the rocky cliffs of his old home and he could make his way. If he had not that manhood it did not make much matter where he went. The free institutions of England were warped and narrowed by tradition, which would by-and-by be swept away, but were yet in their very narrowness strong in their authority. Where would you find privileges more completely guaranteed to man than in that land. Small as the island was how much there was within it. Her Bibles were read on every shore, her cannons echoed in every land. He hoped her Bibles would never be silent, but the cannon could not be spiked too soon. To-day that little island was the civilizer of the world, her influence was felt in every Cabinet and the fluctuations of her money market were answered in every money market in the world. She led all tides to-day—the tide of political opinion, the tide of civilization, the tide of morality. There were in England old associations that make the poor timid in the presence of the rich, and that ought never to be ; that made the lowly sink in servitude in the presence of the high, and that ought never to be. We were men and could be true men on a shilling a day as true as the man that had a rent roll of millions. There was nothing higher below heaven than a true man. England had not learned that lesson and we had. In Canada one man was as good as another. While living here we were not lowering the character of Englishmen but adding to it the character of Canadians, and the prospect before us was high and bright. The object of the St. George's Society was for the relief of Englishmen first, and not of Englishmen only, and he was sure no one in the assembly would wish it to be otherwise. No man could live for a greater purpose than for the glory of God who gave him being, and the Saviour who redeemed him, and in living moral, upright, sober lives, replete with the graces, we presented the best features of humanity and promoted the best interests of our country.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

Stamping out Cattle Diseases.

The Ontario Government has taken a very proper step, on the advice of Mr. Wood, Commissioner of Agriculture. It has appointed inspectors, who duties shall be to investigate and report upon contagious and dangerous diseases amongst farm stock. Mr. Andrew Smith, a veterinary surgeon in Toronto, has received the appointment of Provincial Inspector. The several sectional inspectors must also be holders of diplomas from some recognized veterinary college. Of the necessity for these precautions no one, we believe, will be inclined to raise a doubt. We now have our seaports guarded against the introduction of diseased cattle from foreign ports by a rigid system of quarantine and efficient Dominion officers ; but our intimate relations with the United States, even when we have an embargo on cattle coming into the country, renders it next to impossible to exercise that supervision which will ensure perfect immunity from contagion. At present, and for a long period past, our agriculturists have had next to no trouble with their stock ; virulent diseases have been unknown, even when prevailing in the adjoining States. But this much to be desired state of matters may not always continue ; and in case a break out of disease should take place, the services of the inspectors now appointed would be invaluable in confining it to the locality in which it originated. Thus the disease would be stamped out far more expeditiously than if no one were responsible for its eradication. Meanwhile, of course, the total absence of disease renders the duties of the inspectors of a nomiual character. By a bill recently introduced into Congress, the American State Governments are empowered to take similar action to that now inaugurated by the Ontario authorities. Our farmers will no doubt see in this attention to their interests another reason for believing that Mr. Mowat's Government is ever alive to the progress of the agricultural community, knowing how much depends on its success.—Hamilton Times.

SIR,—It would seem that your report in Friday's issue of the Mission Social in the Baptist church, was not strictly in accordonce with fact.

There were several very fine selections of music given not by the choir, but by members of the choir. Mrs. Raymond gave a reading in "Extracts from an address by Mrs. McLaurin," and Mr. Raymond read a piece entitled "The Call of Eternity ;" Mrs. Coutts read an essay, a brief sketch of "The life of Sarah B. Judsen," and Messrs. J. R. Coutts and A. McKinlay gave a dialogue, "The Indian's Revenge." The musical programme was as follows :—Song, "Christian Freedom," members of the choir ; instrumental piece by Miss Jackson; quartette "The Reapers;" song, "Bringing in Sheaves," members of the choir; instrumental piece, by Miss Cormack ; song, "Gathering Home," members of the choir. The ladies and gentlemen who took part in the entertainment acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner. The attendance at the social was very encouraging and the collection satisfactory. By inserting the above you will oblige, yours truly,

JAMES COUTTS, Pastor.

Given up by Doctors.

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters ; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die !"

"Well-a-day ! That is remarkable ! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

THE N. P. AND THE MILLING INTEREST.—In reference to an article copied from the Galt Reformer on this subject, the following letter appears in the Reporter :—

DEAR SIR,—In reference to an article in the Reformer of the 14th inst., I notice some remarks bearing upon myself, which are totally uncalled for. I have never given cause for such remarks and can only say that they are the entire concoction of the editor of that paper.

Yours truly, S. J. CHERRY.

English Election Manners.

American candidates occasionally have a hard time of it in a few quarters in which the laws are for a while silent, but, as a general rule, the man who with us aspires to the suffrages of his fellow-citizens runs no risk of having his head broken or his clothes torn from him. In enlightened England it seems to be otherwise, and especially so in Scotland and Ireland.

During the late canvass there were disturbances at Newcastle, Chester and Derby, but these were but mild differences of opinion compared with the violences at Wick Burghs, for instance, where Mr. Pender was in danger of being drowned by the Kirkwallers, who, after taking his horses from his carriage, a common compliment, tried to run the vehicle, with the candidate in it, into the sea. If the carriage had not stuck, the aspirant for a seat in the House of Commons might have been drowned. When it did stick, these free and independent electors smashed the windows and Mr. Pender's hat. Mr. Pender made a pathetic speech out of the carriage, begging that he might not be murdered. This so affected the Kirkwallers that they were ready to do anything for him except vote for him, which they seem to have resolutely refused to do. Mr. Parnell's sufferings at Enniscorthy have been heretofore mentioned. Gallant Wexford had changed its mind altogether about Mr. Parnell. He was not a candidate there, but he had carried down his men, and these men the electors refused to accept. They did more. They disabled the hat of Mr. Parnell. They caught him in an insulting manner by the legs. They tore his nether garments. If there had not been a Rev. Joseph Murphy, who entreated the crowd to be lenient, there is no knowing what might have happened to Mr. Parnell. In fact, breaches of the peace seem to be an inevitable concomitant of British elections.—N. Y. Tribune.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

Gortchakoff's condition continues to improve, but sleeplessness prevents the recovery of strength.

An officer and party of the 79th Regiment are reported to have been massacred by a native Afghan tribe.

Parnell has secured election in three constituencies. He has been re-elected for Meath, his old county, and for Cork city and Mayo county besides.

During the past week thirteen large steamships left the Mersey for North American ports, with a large number of passengers and considerable general cargoes, the most of them are bound for the United States. This is believed to be unprecedented.

M. de Lesseps publishes a letter declaring that all impediments to the construction of the Panama Canal have been removed by the will of the American people unanimously expressed in public meetings, and also to the United States Government. He affirmed that he had three hundred million francs awaiting him at New York for the prosecution of his enterprise. He said he acted under a concession of the Colombian Government; no other power had anything to do with it. The management would rest with whomsoever chose to become shareholders.

A Dublin despatch says the Duchess of Marlborough in her farewell letter to the Lord Mayor of London, acknowledging the receipt of £500, says that the reports of local committees and of inspectors leave no doubt of the existence of severe though partial distress in many remote districts, and that want of clothing and bedding in many parts of the west of Ireland causes great suffering to many persons.

Frightful Accident.

TORONTO, April 20.—A young man named Harry Chisholm, employed in Nasmith's steam bakery had his left arm torn from his body while at work this morning. It is expected that the shock will prove too much for his system.

From Ottawa.

OTTAWA, April 20.—Hon. Mr. Macpherson has resumed his position as Speaker of the Senate.

In the Banking and Commerce Committee Dr. Orton's Bill was under consideration. An amendment to make it usury to charge more than 8 per cent. was defeated.

MALLEABLE iron works are to be erected in rear of the base ball grounds near the Western Station, and the City Council has introduced a by-law exempting them from taxation for ten years.

HON. GEO. BROWN.—From reports circulated on Monday fears were entertained that the Hon. Mr. Brown's condition was much worse. It was stated that he had been delirious during the night, and that after a consultation by four doctors it was considered that his case was more serious than was known to the public. We are, however, glad to learn from the Globe today that his medical advisers report that he was making satisfactory progress, that his condition was better than it had been for a week previous, and that no dangerous symptom was visible. We trust that this news will be an earnest of an early recovery.

SERIOUS ASSAULT.—An assault of a serious nature occurred at John Bunyan's hotel, Macdonnell street, on Monday night. The assailant was John Carroll who was released from gaol the same day, his victim being John Bunyan. Carroll entered the hotel in a drunken condition and demanded a drink which Mr. Bunyan would not give him. The former seized a spitoon and threw it across the room striking Mr. Bunyan violently on the head, and inflicting a very serious gash P. C. Crooks who was on duty on Wyndham street was informed, but before he reached the hotel Carroll had escaped. A warrant was issued for his arrest and he was taken into custody this (Tuesday) morning and looked up. His victim is suffering considerably from the wound on his head, but it is not dangerous.

THE ORANGEVILLE INSURANCE CASES.—The Monetary Times says:—In January of last year we gave some particulars of a suit, W. Parsons, of Orangeville, hardware dealer, burned out in 1877, vs. the Standard Insurance Co., for a fire loss, the ground of the Company's defence being that the plaintiff had not disclosed prior insurances, as required by the conditions of the policy; that the property insured had not been properly described, etc. The case was decided against the Company. Towards the close of last year, this matter was still in dispute, as well as another company's insurance having been carried to a higher court ($91,000 and $4,000.) Failing to obtain payment of his claim amounting thus to $13,100, Mr. Parsons fell behind in his payments, and as we learn from a circular issued by him on the 8th instant, some of his creditors "have come down to him." His liabilities reach $36,000, and he claims to have a surplus of $13,960, including these insurance claims.

VENTILATION MADE EASY. — We have been shown a most ingenious and simple invention which has been conceived, perfected and patented by Mr. Walter Sayers, of this city. The design is to secure a thorough and effective system of house ventilation by means of a very simple arrangement attached to the window sash. The great merit of the invention is that the most perfect ventilation can be secured, while high winds, dust, snow or rain has no effect upon it, and their consequences cannot be felt in the apartment. Every medical man who has examined it pronounces it the very thing needed for house ventilation, and its chief merit is that it can be attached to any window sash at very little expense, thus it can be put in to old or new houses. Mr. Sayers deserves great credit for his ingenuity in this invention, and we feel sure he will reap the full reward he deserves. It has only to be seen to be appreciated, and as it is inexpensive it cannot fail to come into universal use.

GUELPH, April 19.

The Queen vs Edward McCarthy:—The indictment charged the prisoner with having procured a note for $11 and a receipt for an account amounting to $44.25 by false pretence from Mr. Alex. Taylor, Fergus. Mr. Taylor was the first witness called and deposed: that about 9 a. m. of the 10th day of February last, the prisoner entered his shop and expressed a desire to pay the claim he (Taylor) had against him, but having no money, the best he could do was to give him a horse in payment; the horse was in Mr. Greeve's stable; not being a judge of a horse the prosecutor sent for Mr Donald McTaggart to go and examine the horse in question and to report to him as to his quality and value; on going to the stable it appears through no fault of the prisoner McTaggart examined a horse that did not belong to the prisoner; and returning to Mr. Taylor represented the horse worth between $70 and $75; on this report a bargain was closed, the note and receipt in question were handed to the prisoner, who then accompanied Mr. Taylor to the stable and delivered the horse to him and the parties then took their departure, each one apparently satisfied with his bargain.

Donald McTaggart being called said he was sent to the stable to examine a bay horse. That he examined an animal which he supposed to belong to the prisoner, but he could not swear as to whether it was a horse or a mare. That although there were three other horses besides in the stable he did not care to take the trouble to see if any of them would answer the description of the horse he went to see.

At this stage of the case His Lordship enquired if he had any further evidence to offer as to the false pretence. The learned counsel argued that it was through the representation of the prisoner that McTaggart was led to mistake the one horse for the other. But His Lordship ruled there was not the slightest evidence to sustain the charge, and he directed the jury accordingly, who acquitted the prisoner at once and without leaving the box. The evidence on the part of the prosecutor seemed so weak that it was unnecessary for the prisoner's counsel to address the jury in his behalf.

The prisoner then left the Court room but not without leaving a strong conviction on the minds of those present that a gross injustice was done to him in having his name associated with a criminal charge, which never should have been entertained for a moment, as he was an innocent man.

To His Lordship Mr. Justice Cameron,—

That in accordance with custom, they visited the gaol and found everything neat, clean and well kept. The prisoners, five in number, expressed themselves satisfied with their treatment, and had no complaints to make. In passing through the various unoccupied apartments there was an evident want of proper ventilation, and your jurors would recommend such change being made as would admit a constant supply of fresh air to every part of the building. Your jurors would also beg to declare their firm conviction that when hard labour is a part of a prisoner's sentence, steps should be taken to have it enforced. It is no punishment to some of our criminal population to go into gaol for a few months—especially in winter—to be well fed and kept comfortable, and with only a few hours' light work each day. If the hard labour clause was well enforced, your jurors are of opinion that fewer of a certain class of criminals would be found inmates of our prisons. We would also call your Lordship's attention and that of the Court, and through the Court, the Legislature, to the increase of the class called Tramps, and the urgent need for their summary suppression by the strong arm of the law.

We have carefully considered the proposed change in the number of Grand Jurors as referred to us in your opening address.

Two-thirds of our number are in favor of the present system, the remaining one-third are in favor of the number being reduced to 15 with 8 to find a bill.

We beg to tender through your Lordship our thanks to the Counsel for the Crown for his unwearied attention to all our wants.

Your jurors cannot separate without expressing their satisfaction at your Lordship's elevation to the Bench, and would express the hope that you may long be spared an ornament to the Bench as you were in days gone by an ornament to the Bar.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. McCRAE,
Foreman.

His Lordship thanked the Grand Jury for their presentment. In reference to the case of Gray, charged with arson, he blamed the Magistrates and the Grand Jury for being instrumental in bringing the matter before the Court, as he deemed it of such a frivolous nature that it never should have been brought up in its present shape, thus entailing unnecessary expense on the Province.

The Cassidy Garafraxa Case.

GUELPH, April 20.

William Cassidy was placed on trial charged with having embezzled certain moneys belonging to the township of West Garafraxa in the year 1878, while acting as treasurer of said township.

The indictment in this case alleged that different sums amounting in the aggregate to $5,808.88 had been misappropriated by the prisoner, said sums to be the County rate and Credit Valley rate for that year.

Mr. Bowlby prosecuted for the Crown, instructed by Mr. Muir. Mr. McMahon was for the defence, instructed by Mr. A. H. Macdonald and Mr. J. P. McMillan.

The counsel for the prosecution having opened the case, the following witnesses were called:—

John Hill, sworn, said:—I am township clerk of West Garafraxa; I have a by-law in my possession appointing Mr. Wm. Cassidy township treasurer, passed 2nd February, 1878; I have have also a by-law to the same effect passed on 15th February 1879, at a salary of $40 and find security to provide for the safety of all municipal funds coming into his hands; the appointment of auditors is made in the same by-laws; there was a by-law appointing special auditors in 1879 viz.: John L. Perry and Leonard Short and dispensing with the other auditors; I made out a statement about the 12th of February, 1879, at the instance of Wm. Cassidy, showing the county rate paid $3,788.40; and Credit Valley rate $2,020.48; I understood the statement was to be shown at the next meeting of the council; I was not township clerk at the time but a neighbour of Mr. Cassidy's; I believe he told me the Reeve had desired to see a statement of the financial standing of the township; it was presented at the council meeting by Mr. Cassidy; Mr. Cassidy's signature is at the foot of the statement.

To Mr. McMahon.—I was appointed township clerk on 15th February last; I was present when the statement in question was presented to the council; I made the statement on the 12th February; the council received it on the 13th; and the trouble between Cassidy and the council originated when the county rate was paid; I have known Cassidy 12 years; Cassidy is well known in the township; he was carrying on an extensive business in milling; he was favourably known and respected; Mr. Dobbin was Reeve in 1879; I do not think the township council authorized Mr. Cassidy's arrest; he was arrested at the instance of Mr McDermott one of the councillors; I think Mr. McDermott suggested at one of the meetings that Mr. Cassidy should put the money to the credit of township in the bank; and they came to the conclusion that it was not necessary to do so; I did not suppose Cassidy embezzled the money.

Peter Rennie, sworn, said—I live in Nichol, and was auditor of West Garafraxa for the accounts of 1878; I saw the abstract statement of the financial statement for that year, made by myself and assistant auditor; it was made from the books of the Treasurer in his presence, and he gave us information about the accounts; we went over the items in the Treasurer's book and found the balance on hand to be, on 31st Dec., 1879, $10,027.

To Mr. McMahon—I was auditor for one year only, and my fellow auditor was Mr. Lightbody; amount of collector's roll collected was given by the Treasurer as $11,043.02; I was examined before the magistrate in Fergus, in July, in 1879; the special audit was designed to show the Township how the treasury would stand if the accounts were all collected; I never heard that Mr. Cassidy was not held in esteem till this matter turned up; Mr. Cassidy did not lead us to believe that he received $11,000 but that he would be responsible for that amount if collected.

Re-examined—I understood that the receipts of the collector's roll were principally received.

James Kennedy, sworn, said—I live in West Garafraxa, and was collector of taxes for the amount of taxes for 1878; that years amounted to $11,043.02; I received the roll in December; at the 15th February I collected $10,823.43, which I handed to Mr. Cassidy; on the 22nd February I handed in the balance, amounting to $219.59, and I have the receipt in full signed by Mr. Cassidy in my presence on the 22nd Feb.

Cross-examined—I had paid in over $6,000 on 31st Dec.

To Mr. Bowlby.—On 27th Jan., 1880, I had paid in $10,546.88.

Robert Blyth—I am treasurer of West Garafraxa, I succeeded the prisoner as treasurer. The handwriting in the book produced for several years back is Cassidy's; I had to provide for the County and Credit Valley rates $3,759.90.

To Mr. McMahon—I could not tell by the books that Mr. Cassidy was in the habit of lending money when there was none in the treasury.

John Beattie, sworn said—I am clerk for the County of Wellington; the county rate was 3½ mills on the equallized assessment; I advised West Garafraxa Council that their proportion for 1878 was $3,788.40; it was part of my duty to make out the amount to be paid the C. V. R., by West Garafraxa which was $2,020.48; I bought West Garafraxa debentures in 1870 amounting to $2,643.43 and gave the cheque into the hands of the treasurer on the 5th Dec., 1878.

Wm. Reynolds, sworn, said—I am treasurer of the County of Wellington; I have been treasurer since Jan., 1869, between March, 1878, and Feb., 1879, I did not receive any rates from West Garafraxa and have not received any yet; I get the rates from the municipalities generally by Feb.; Mr. Cassidy's payments in previous years were made by the 14th March; in previous years he was prompt with his payments.

To Mr. McMahon—The only payment of which the County has to complain against West Garafraxa, is with reference to the rate for 1878.

Leonard Short, sworn, said—I live in West Garafraxa and was auditor in that township for 1879, and made a report on the finances in that year; we found a deficiency of $7,759.90; we made a very careful enquiry while auditing.

To Mr. McMahon—I have been seven years in West Garafraxa.

John Craig, sworn, said—I print a newspaper in Fergus; I saw a statement sent to be published in a pamphlet at the instance of the Township Council, as the financial statement of the Township of West Garafraxa in 1878.

To Mr. McMahon—Until lately the prisoner occupied a very good position in the township. It is generally asserted that if his business had been all right the municipality would have been all right.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Ald. Chadwick, Chairman of the Board of Works, read the following report, which was referred to the Finance Committee:—

1. The Board of Works beg leave to report that after a careful inspection of the streets of the city, they find that to place the streets and sidewalks in such a state as they would desire would take a much larger sum of money than they think ought to be asked, in view of the necessity that exists for the most rigid economy in all the departments.

2. They regret to have to report that the expenditure this season unfortunately must be greater than it should be, owing to the careless manner in which the contractors for the water works have finished their work, leaving ridges and holes, and scattered stones wherever they have been. To put the streets as they were before the excavations were made would take a considerable amount, and your committee will only endeavor to do the best they can with the limited amount placed at their disposal.

3. A grant of four thousand dollars is asked as per detailed statement herewith.

4. With regard to the petitions referred to them the statement will show that several of them are granted; with regard to the others, they recommend that the petitions of A. W. Fiedler and James Gibson be referred to St. Patrick's Ward Committee, and that cost of the same be taken out of the ward appropriation. The petition of G. F. Walter to St. John's Ward Committee. The petition of L. C. Wideman to St. David's Ward Committee. The petitions of W. H. Brierly, J. Dooley, Robert Mickleborough and T. A. Heffernan to St. James Ward Committee with the same instructions.

5. They recommend payment of the account of Robert Stewart for lumber, $63.78.

6. The expenditure of the Board of Works to date is $591.07.

7. They consider it would be too expensive at the present time to have flag stones laid down on Wyndham street.

8. That the petition of E. Brundell be granted.

9. They recommend that the ward appropriation be expended by the three members of the ward, under the chairman of the Board of Works, and that any expenditure made in excess of the grant must be paid by the individual members of the committee who ordered the same.

10. They have ascertained that the cost of building the Heffernan street bridge in iron would not be less than $4,000; that to build it of wood would cost about $1,200. Your Committee are of the opinion that this bridge would be a great benefit to those residing on the east side of the river, and would have recommended its being proceeded with were the funds on hand. They recommend it to the favorable consideration of the Council. The cost of an under crossing at Huskisson street would be about $900. This matter they also refer to the council.

The House will also receive other indigent persons at the same rate, which is the rate charged at the County Poor House. The committee recommend that John Catchpole's allowance, $1 per week, be discontinued.

The committee asked for a further appropriation of $1,000 in addition to the $800 already granted.

The report was adopted save the clause referring to expenditure, which was referred to the Finance Committee.

PARK AND TREES.

Ald. Fairbank reported, recommending that the tender of Joseph Jackson, Paisley Block, for Maple, Basswood and Elm trees, be accepted, and that he be paid three cents each, our own men to take them up. That Noah Sunley's tender for Norway Spruce, Austrian Pine, Scotch Pine and White Birch be accepted. That the tender of Davidson for Mountain Ash, Elm, Scarlet Maple and Chestnut, be accepted.

That John Marriott, caretaker of the Exhibition Grounds, be made a constable. That R. Stewart's account of $560 for lumber, be paid. That $600 be placed to the credit of the committee.

Hon. Mr. Blake's Speech.

In concluding his speech on Friday night, Hon. Mr. Blake, in an eloquent peroration, gave the following as the policy which should be adopted:—"Set free the springs of legitimate revenue, which you have legally choked; open the barrier by which you have choked legitimate trade; free the people as rapidly as may be from your excessive grinding taxation; return to a revenue tariff, which is the only legitimate tariff for the purposes of this country, affording necessarily, as it does, a certain measure of protection to manufacturers, and is also the most productive means by which the public indebtedness can be reduced; endeavor by an earnest searching plan of economy to retrench in every branch of public expenditure, to make both ends meet and lighten the people's burdens at the same time. Let us do this, and if you will proceed in your present course in this particular which is under discussion be prudent, and if in all else you will risk the future of the country do not do so in this. Confine yourself to the completion of a section. Confine yourself to the completion of the railway necessary to settle and develop the Northwest for the present in order that you may ultimately succeed in the rest of the construction of the railway in British Columbia. Postpone the western work, and do not by your present actions, based on airy dreams and fantastic visions, risk the future of this country." (Cheers.) He closed by moving in amendment, seconded by Sir A. J. Smith, That the words after "that" in the original motion be struck out, and the following substituted: "The public interest requires that the work of constructing the Pacific railway in British Columbia be postponed." (Loud and continued applause.)

Bold Counterfeiting Detected.

Parties have been detected in making and counterfeiting Hop Bitters, and illegally using the name Hop Bitters, a registered trade mark, which subjects every person who makes or sells anything with the name Hop Bitters, or pretending to be like it, to a fine of $100 for each sale, however small the sale is. The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., the sole owners of the trade mark, are prosecuting all violators of the law and enforcing heavy penalties, but are dealing very liberally with those who stop violating the law and settle without suit, and commence dealing in the genuine article, which is a valuable medicine and not a drink, as some of the counterfeits are. The genuine is sold by all druggists.

The assessor of Mitchell has completed his duties. The present population is 2,390, and a total assessment of $5,197.25—a small reduction of last year.

The Mail on the Government Printing Scandal.

We are glad to see the Mail taking such a straightforward and independent position on the scandalous transactions in reference to the Government printing contracts. It will be seen that it is specially severe on Mr. Mackintosh, one of the most guilty in the lot, and who is besides editor of the Government organ in Ottawa. In referring to these transactions in Saturday's issue it says:—"A word now as to the future. We propose, not in any vain-glorious or carping spirit, but in the conscientious discharge of our duty to the public, to treat all Conservatives of the Mackintosh kidney just as we have treated Mackintosh. No man shall do the country a wrong or outrage public opinion and receive the shelter of these columns because he happens to be a Conservative; and this applies not only to the rank and file of the party, but to all its members, from the Ministers of the Crown, individually and collectively, down to the humblest voter who supports them. It is not pleasant to have to make pronunciamentos of this kind, but as two or three Conservative journals for whose opinion we entertained great respect have commented adversely on our treatment of the Conservatives implicated in the Ottawa conspiracy, it is well that they should understand our position once for all. We rejoice to believe that the old code of defending your party friends through thick and thin is being very generally abandoned by journals on both sides of politics, and that the Canadian press is fast becoming what a free and unshackled press ought to be, the stay and bulwark of public morality.

THE Minister of Justice has introduced two Bills into the House of Commons giving effect to the provisions of the Acts of the Ontario Legislature respecting the Industrial Refuge for Girls and the Ontario Reformatory for Boys, by authorizing magistrates and judges to send youthful culprits to be imprisoned there for crimes entailing imprisonment as a penalty.

LIVERPOOL has at last attained to the dignity of a city, by the newly constituted See of Liverpool, and the appointment of the Rev. Canon Ryle, Bishop of the same. Canon Ryle, the newly erected bishop, is a distinguished leader of the Evangelical section of the Episcopal Church. The great metropolis of commerce, by complying with the terms of ecclesiastical domination, in now permitted to assume the title of "The City of Liverpool."

THE Senate has sent down to the House of Commons for its use a statement showing the amount paid Senators as indemnity; also the amount paid to the officers or messengers of the Senate, or for printing, or any other expenses connected with the Senate for each session since Confederation. In 1869—two years after Confederation the expenses were $83,720, but they have been gradually raising annually till in 1879 it footed up to the nice little sum of $140,968. And this is the yearly cost for a useless Chamber.

WHEN the discussion on the Geneva Award Bill was up the other day in the U. S. Senate, Mr. Davis, declared that if he had his way about it, he would return every cent of the surplus to Great Britain. This just and practical suggestion was not listened to, however, and the sharp Yankees will no doubt hold on to the money though the Bill did not pass, in which the principle was laid down, that the remainder of the fund belongs to the whole people in their Government, and enacts that it be applied as a permanent sinking fund to aid in the payment of the national debt.

IT seems that owing to an oversight of the Legislative Assembly at its last session there is likely to be some trouble over the new enactment requiring assessors to state in a separate column on their rolls the number of children of school age in their municipalities. The law went into force some days ago, by which time the assessors had already done a great deal of their work, which, in order to be legal, must now be done over again—a difficulty which might have been avoided by fixing the date a year later. The only way the difficulty can be got over is for the assessors to take the school population separately.

TORONTO Telegram: The Dominion Government has agreed to place a sum in the supplementary estimates for the erection of new buildings for the Provincial Legislature of Manitoba. Why the Dominion Government should assume this expenditure is not clear. Ontario intends erecting new Parliament buildings, but will pay for them out of the Provincial fund. There is no reason, so far as we can see, why Manitoba should not do likewise, unless it be intended that Manitoba shall be built up at the expense of this Province, which is the only solvent Province in the Dominion, and therefore bears the brunt of the general expenditure.

ONTARIO RIFLE ASSOCIATION.—The Ontario Rifle Association prize meeting will take place on Monday, 23rd of August, and the following days. A most liberal programme has been prepared, and the individual and aggregate prizes are open to the whole Dominion. The cash prizes amount to $3,145 in 426 prizes, which is 75 prizes and $395 more than last year's. In each match, there are about 65 prizes. The skirmishing match is a new innovation, and open to teams of six men from each battalion, and $150 in prizes will be given. The Sir Peter Tait carries a cash prize of $60.

BRANTFORD, April 19.—Benjamin Carrier, an Indian farmer living six or seven miles from Onondaga, has been arrested and brought to Brantford gaol for murdering his wife Nancy Carrier, on Thursday last. They both went out with the ox team into the woods for basket material, but Carrier returned alone, and told his family that their mother was in the water, but would soon return. They were to tell her to get dinner when she came back. Some of the neighbours noticed Carrier returning alone, which aroused their suspicions, and on making enquiries they ascertained the direction the Carriers had gone. Proceeding in that direction they soon found Mrs. Carrier in a pool of water, her head badly cut, and her shoulders, arms, and the upper parts of her body badly bruised, indicating a severe struggle between the two. Carrier was immediately arrested, but denied the charge. Dr. Lee, coroner, held an inquest, and sent the prisoner up for trial. It is supposed that Carrier has been keeping company with another squaw and MRS. Carrier remonstrating with him about his actions, caused the quarrel which led to her death. The prisoner is about twenty-eight years of age, and appears quite unconcerned in the matter. He is now in Brantford gaol awaiting his trial, which will come off shortly.

When you go into an editorial room and see the editor using the shears, you should say. "Oh, that's the way you make a paper, is it?" He expects you to say this, and is all braced for the shock. If you omit it just so much vital force is lost.—New York Sun.

A large body of Jesuits expelled from France will shortly arrive in Canada and will be employed as missionaries in the Northwest, and the sparsely settled district in Northern Ontario and Quebec. A short time ago Father Becks, General of the Society of Jesus, wrote from Paris, where he resides, to the Hierarchy of Montreal, saying that the members of the Society would be expelled from French soil, and asking if an asylum and employment could be found for a party of men in Canada.

The life of Napoleon III. was attempted five times to Louis Phillippe's thirty. In 1852, the infernal machine at Marseilles; in 1855, the pistols of Pinanori; the attempt of Bartoldi and Tibaldi in 1857; the Orsini bombs in 1858; Grego and others in 1863; and amid all this, while many people were killed and mutilated, the Emperor himself received not a scratch, but died at Chiselhurst, attended by five first-rate physicians, and with every comfort surrounding him.

On Monday afternoon a terrible gale passed over London. A large section of the zinc roofing of the Tecumseh House was torn off and dropped on York street, breaking down the Dominion telegraph lines, and so injuring a horse belonging to Mr. Robert Arkell that it will die. The planks flew through the air in every direction, and striking the Grigg House broke a great quantity of glass. Some of the guests in the office and lobby had narrow escapes.

A fight took place in London gaol on Saturday morning between James Ryder, one of the prisoners charged with the Biddulph murder, and a prisoner temporarily lodge in the same compartment. On hearing with whom he was quartered the prisoner indulged in a great deal of abuse of the Biddulph men. A quarrel ensued, in which the stranger got badly thrashed.

The Agricultural College Report.

Some Information on Tree Planting.

Mr. Brown devotes a portion of his report to the very important subject of tree cultivation and tree planting, and we are glad to hear that the Government recognising the value of this matter, have given instructions to Mr. Brown to set apart an acre of land in which to make experiments in tree culture.

Mr. Brown, who is thoroughly versed in this subject, and which will every year become more and more important to our farmers in Ontario, gives the following concise rules in relation to the planting and care of trees.

ADVICE TO CANADIAN FARMERS REGARDING TREE PLANTING.

Be your own nurseryman, by setting aside part of the garden to be laid with young trees from your own bush or that of your neighbor.

There are as many suitable plants in the uncultivated clearances of the country as would replant every cultivated acre of the old provinces.

Do not grudge a piece of cultivated land for tree planting—the gain will be more than a grain crop, and in any case you can seed down to hay and permanent pasture.

The objects of planting, or replanting, are :—

Immediate shelter.

Ornament,

To assist in regulating rain fall and general temperature.

As a profitable crop.

Ornament is secured only by allowing every tree room to grow in accordance with its individual character—never by crowding.

To assist in regulating rain-fall and temperature suitable to the wants of the country, we must have a national policy based upon scientific and practical facts in past arboricultural history.

Never plant trees upon naturally wet ground (our heaviest swamp sorts—so called—are upon comparatively dry spots.)

Choose mild, calm weather, between 1st April and 1st June.

Select plants from the clearings, unshaded openings in the bush, never from under older ones, and as much as possible from soil and exposure of a similar character to that to which they are to be removed.

Hardwooded trees are safer to transplant than the pine and spruce.

The best sorts are Maple, Birch, Beech, Ironwood, Ash, Elm, Butternut, Oak, and Hickory, with Pine, Spruce, and Hemlock to intermix.

To save time and insure better success, remove the plants from the bush, or the public nursery, in October, and trench them close together, but separately in dry soil, covering firmly with earth.

Before trenching, cut off any overlengthy rough root, and branch, but take care of the small fibres, and the top leader.

Avoid tall branchless trees that have been growing close together—a two or three feet one will do better than one ten or twelve feet in length.

In removing from the bush, dig all round before lifting; do not pull much, nor shake off all the earth.

Two men in one day will dig up, waggon home, and trench in the garden nursery as many as 300 plants from your own bush.

Choose calm cloudy weather, when the soil is moist but not wet, for planting from the nursery.

Make the pits one-half wider and deeper than the roots require, and never plant deeper than one inch over the old mark on the stem.

If for a belt, or clump to shelter, plant not farther apart than seven feet in any direction.

The object of planting so close as seven feet (900 per acre) is to afford individual shelter, mutual support in several physiological relations, give plenty allowance for failures and to thin out as required for purposes of profit and individual necessities of trees.

Two men should pit and plant 150 trees per day.

Spread out all fibrous roots in the pit, fill in the top or best loamy soil first, shaking the plant and gently pulling it up a little; when fully half the earth is in, tramp firmly with the foot, and finish up with remainder of earth.

Use a variety of trees, not one or two species only, as the success will be more certain.

During the first season examine after high winds, and toe any openings round the plants.

Run no risks from animals or breaking by snowdrifts, and allow no saplings or growths from the old stumps to interfere with those planted.

Sheep may be admitted to graze after ten years,—no cattle for twenty.

The second year is the trying one: you may have buds and leaves the first year, and a dead plant the second, if good the third year, congratulate.

Do not prune the pine, spruce, of any of the resinous sorts.

Thin out the least valuable sorts, or those you do not wish to retain permanently, whenever they begin to interfere six inches into the branches of each other.

It is no over-calculation to say that where the influence of trees is needed, the gain, after fifteen years, will amount annually to $200 over a hundred acre farm.

If you plant at 12 or 15 feet apart you will be ten years behind those at seven feet, when each are 25 years old.

We do not deserve well of our country if we cannot establish trees at a cost not to exceed 5 cents each.

The cost of planting one acre, irrespective of fencing which will depend upon form and any advantages from local causes, will be about :—

Lifting and trenching 900 plants in October	$10 00
Opening 900 pits	17 00
Planting	8 00
	$35 00
Keeping up for three years	10 00
	$45 00

If you purchase from public nurseries, the cost will be about $100 more.

Get your Township Council to petition Government to institute a regular system of re-planting by statutory enactments.

On the 10th inst. Waverly Stevenson, a tramp, was sentenced to 30 days imprisonment on a charge of unlawfully and indecently assaulting the wife of Joseph Chisholm in the township of Esquesing.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 19.

Mr. Yeo, of Prince Edward Island, presented a petition from six thousand electors, principally in Mr. Pope's constituency, out of a total electorate of 8,000, protesting against the present iniquitous tariff.

The debate on the Pacific Railway was resumed by Mr. DeCosmos, who concluded the speech he was delivering on Friday night when the House adjourned. He cited the opinions expressed by the Opposition in relation to the Ontario boundary award dispute, wherein they protested against the alleged inclination of the Government to violate the obligations entered upon by their predecessors in an executive capacity, and he contrasted these opinions with the Opposition's action on the present occasion in apparently intending to violate the terms of union with British Columbia.

Mr. Mackenzie, who followed, admitted that while he was sincerely desirous that British Columbia should enter Confederation, yet he opposed the terms of Union as being extravagant. After alluding to the excessive demands made by the ultramontanes of British Columbia, or the people beyond the mountains, he claimed that by the delay in the fulfillment of the terms of union British Columbia had not fared worse than the older Provinces. Ontario and Quebec were promised before entering Confederation that the work of enlarging the whole of the canal system should be vigorously prosecuted; yet not only the late Government but the present had deliberately postponed indefinitely the enlargement of certain of the canals. Did the people of the older Provinces threaten to secede because of this violation of the terms of union? No. Therefore British Columbia should exercise this same patience. He blamed the late Government and himself somewhat for being too energetic and not too dilatory in forwarding the railroad surveys, and he contended that while the present Government condemned the temporary utilization of water stretches for the system of trans-continental communication they had actually adopted it by not asking for a vote to construct the railroad North of Lake Superior. He contrasted his policy of placing the Province of Quebec on the Atlantic seaboard via the Canada Central Railway extension and the Georgian Bay branch within a comparatively short distance of the upper lakes with that pursued by the present Government, who appeared to act as if they desired to injure Quebec as much as possible. This statement elicited ironical applause from the Ministerialists, in which Mr. Masson joined. Mr. Mackenzie asked the President of the Council if he were pleased at the Government's ill-treatment of his native Province, and to this Mr. Masson replied that no matter what the Government had done so far they were going to give the Province something better bye-and-bye. This covert intimation of a recondite policy surprised the House, and the leader of the Opposition pressed for an explanation, which, however, was not forthcoming. Proceeding, he denied that the late Government were responsible for delay in constructing the Pembina branch, but claimed that the blame should be attached to their predecessors. Up to the present time the construction of not a mile of railway had been let save on surveys made under the late Government, excepting in the case of the Winnipeg branch, for which no location surveys at all had been made previous to letting the contracts. Several threadbare charges against the Opposition, revamped for the occasion by the Minister of Railways, were dealt with. He then took up the misrepresentations by Conservative leaders and their press of the Opposition's policy and their management of public affairs when in office. The insinuation by the Minister of Railways and Canals that the late Government had incited Senators to vote against the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railroad Bill, so as to ensure its defeat and relieve the Government of an embarrassment was warmly repudiated. A brief recital of the late Government's futile attempt to secure a contract for the construction of the whole line upon a money and land subsidy was made, after which he contrasted the estimates submitted by Mr. Fleming to the late Government as to the cost of the whole line, showing that they materially conducted with the estimates submitted by Sir Charles Tupper and claimed to be Sanford Fleming's also. He then reverted to the estimated cost of the road as now submitted, and argued that it could not be constructed for any such sum. The remainder of the speech was devoted to quoting a long and authoritative array of evidence demonstrating that much of the land within the railway belt was arid and unfertile, and from this circumstance he deduced the contention that the revenue from the sale of railway lands would not be so large as estimated. He, however, admitted that there was much land of wonderful fertility in the North-West; but he claimed that there, as in Ontario, the tracts of good land were interspersed with much that was inferior or unfit for cultivation. In conclusion, he stated his intention to vote for Mr. Blake's amendment, as it was thoroughly in accord with the cautious policy pursued by the late Government, and because, apart from that, a delay in the construction of the at present least useful portion of the line was rendered absolutely necessary in consequence of the straightened state of the Dominion finances and the rapidly increasing taxation. On concluding his speech, which occupied four hours in delivery, Mr. Mackenzie was loudly cheered by the Opposition.

Mr. Plum spoke in favour of the Government's policy for two hours. His speech was graphically described by Mr. Charlton as travelling over a great deal of ground, but only getting once or twice dangerously near the question.

Mr. Charlton commenced speaking in favor of Mr. Blake's amendment at 12.30 a.m., and spoke till two o'clock.

After an expression of dissent from the Opposition because Mr. Charlton had been refused a similar request at midnight, the motion was carried, and the House adjourned.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

Many new customers too, are putting in an appearance from day to day, participating in the benefits of dealing in an establishment where first class goods can be obtained, at reasonable prices.

The Fashionable West End is determined by every legitimate endeavor to largely increase its trade this season, and by the exercise of all its skill to maintain a still more prominent position in the trade here, as a thoroughly ladies establishment. Ladies may therefore look to us with confidence to have their most fastidious wants supplied.

Severe Weather in British Columbia.

A correspondent from near Clinton writes to the Victoria Colonist:—"The whole country north of Clinton to Peace River is covered with snow three feet deep. All the cattle in the vast district of Chilcoaten have perished for want of food, and fifty per cent. of those that grazed on the left bank of the Fraser. This is the 15th of March. The days are cold and the nights bright and very cold. The winter may last three weeks longer, and then there is no chance for the remnant of live stock. The oldest Indian never saw such a terrible winter as this has been. In many places the dead body of the deer have been found standing in the forest frozen stiff. The bounding deer turned into a lump of ice, and the starving Indian [illegible] trying to cut a venison stake with an axe, would make a picture of life in northern latitudes very interesting to those who spend their lives in well aired rooms. Those who ought to know say the Indians are in a savage mood, and will be very wicked if they do not get the land this spring. They are in a miserable condition. It is an act of charity for you to aid them by urging the Government to give them assistance."

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack us wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. —Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœpathic Chemists, London, Eng." n4dw9md

It cures pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, and ALL ACHES, and is THE GREAT RELIEVER OF PAIN. "BROWN'S HOUSEHOLD PANACEA" should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water [sweetened, if preferred], taken at bedtime, will BREAK UP A COLD. 25 cts. a bottle. d&w1yr

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. WEDNESDAY EVNG. APRIL 21, 1880

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

The U. S. frigate Constellation, with provisions and clothing for the famishing people of Ireland, has arrived at Queenstown.

The Queen has signed the charter of the new Royal Irish University.

The King of Siam is expected to arrive at Berlin about the middle of June.

Earl Beaconsfield is not expected to resign until after the middle of the week.

It is stated as probable that Mr. Goschen will succeed Lord Lytton as Viceroy of India.

The Home Rule members of Parliament are to have a meeting on the 27th inst., for the purpose of consultation.

The Austrian Ambassador in England has announced his determination to resign should Mr. Gladstone become Premier.

Under the operation of the anti-Socialist laws over a hundred persons were expelled from Berlin up to the 1st instant.

The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says the Liberal leaders have not attempted to make any arrangement about the Premiership.

The Daily News is informed that a telegram has been received by a foreign firm, which has a representative at Mandalay, declaring that the reports of the massacre are untrue.

M. Louis Favre, the engineer-in-chief who built the St. Gothard tunnel, fell dead in the tunnel on the eve of the completion of the boring. His bust in marble is to be placed over the entrance.

During the late British elections a pamphlet was largely circulated in Midlothian entitled "Political Achievements of the Earl of Dalkeith." It was neatly got up, and when opened was found to contain some thirty blank pages.

The enquiry by the Board of Trade into the Tay bridge disaster was resumed at Westminster on Monday for the hearing of technical and scientific evidence. The proofs supposed to have been found in support of the theory of the chief engineer and projector of the bridge, Sir Thos. Bouch, that the train went of the track before the bridge fell will doubtless be examined also.

Since New Zealand only began to be settled at all about 25 years ago, it seems curious to read in the Australian papers that the cry, "What shall be done with the unemployed?" is heard in Wellington. The labor market there is said to be glutted, and for every vacant "billet" there are scores of applicants. Great distress consequently prevails.

UP TO THREE P.M.

More Emigrants.

MONTREAL, April 21.—Between two and three hundred emigrants en route westwards arrive last night.

Fire in Norwich.

NORWICH, April 21.—This a. m., about one o'clock, the barn and sheds of Andrew Wilson, farmer, were totally consumed by fire, together with stock, implements, and a quantity of hay and grain. Origin of fire unknown. Loss estimated at $4,000; insured in London Mutual.

The Exodus of Carpenters from Ottawa.

On Monday night a second party of 133 carpenters left Ottawa for Rockaway Beach, having been engaged at $3 a day. The majority of these were men of family who were unable to get remunerative employment, and so were forced to leave the country.

We'll hang John A. on a sour apple tree
And we'll do the same with Sir Silleree,
That we are marching away.

Marching away, boys, marching away,
With feelings quite the reverse of gay;
But we'll come back again some fine day,
So hooray! hooray! hooray!
As we march and march away,

SIR,—The Irish Relief Committee of St. Patrick's Ward, acknowledge with sincere thanks, a donation of $5 from John Meikle, Esq., late of Guelph, who is now sojourning in California, for the relief of the poor of Ireland. This is a thoughtful and noble act on the part of this charitable gentleman. May he soon return to his Canadian home restored in health. The committee intend winding up their affairs in a few days, and hope that parties who have been overlooked, or have not been seen, will kindly forward whatever amount they think proper, as all persons named who have paid one dollar and over, will be published in a few days.

I am yours, &c.,
DENIS COFFEY,
Chairman of Committee.

Local News.

MR. JUSTICE CAMERON will visit the Agricultural College, in which he takes more than ordinary interest, before he leaves the city.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—Moderate to fresh south-westerly to south-easterly winds; clear to partly cloudy weather.

THE collection taken at the Church of Our Lady in aid of St. Vincent De Paul Society, on Sunday, amounted to $52.74.

A HANDSOME collection was taken up after the annual sermon to the St. George's Society, and the sum will be devoted to charitable purposes.

THERE are sixty students in attendance at the Agricultural College, but the full number for the session have not yet arrived.

REMEMBER the adjourned sale of the Garafraxa farm, east half of lot 25, con. 8, at the City Hall, Guelph, on Saturday next, April 24, at noon.

A MEETING of the rink shareholders to have been held last night did not take place, there not being a quorum of members. An adjourned meeting will be held on Thursday evening.

SOME of those who occupy the auditorium at the Police Court every day are in danger of being committed for contempt. They do not seem to understand that in respect to the Court they should doff their hats on entering that institution.

FINE STOCK. — That Wellington has more than a Provincial reputation as a ive stock raising country, is shown by the fact that a stockman from Manitoba is here to purchase heifers, and one from Nova Scotia to purchase bulls.

MORE EXCURSIONISTS. — Another train load of excursionists to Manitoba passed through this (Wednesday) forenoon on the Grand Trunk Ry, for Manitoba. The train was composed of six passenger coaches and fourteen freight cars, and was drawn by two locomotives.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The entrance examinations to the High School will be held on the 29th and 30th June. Third class Co. Board examinations will be held on July 13th, and Intermediate and Second Class examinations on July 5th. Intending candidates must give notice one month before these dates.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.—This Society will celebrate St. George's day, which occurs on Friday, by a concert in their Hall, Upper Wyndham street. A number of well known vocalists from a distance will take part in the concert, and every effort is being made to provide a first-class entertainment.

MR. CRAWFORD'S CONCERT AT ABERFOYLE. —Mr. C. Crawford's concert at Aberfoyle Tuesday night was fairly attended, but there would have been more but for the previous postponement. The programme was well carried out, the singers were in good voice, and everybody present was highly satisfied. Quite a number stopped for the social dance that followed. Any time that Mr. Crawford gives an entertainment there in future he may be sure of a good house and a hearty reception.

ACCIDENT IN GALT.—On Thursday afternoon two girls about fifteen years of age, named Annie Rudert and Hannah Graham went to the basement of Wardlaw's factory and got on top of a flange connected with a large revolving shaft moved by water power. They stood on the flange with their arms around the shaft in order to have a swing round. With every revolution their dresses became caught, and they were in great danger of being drawn into the machinery. Miss Graham managed to extricate herself, sustaining slight injuries to her feet, but Miss Rupert, before the machinery could be stopped, had both her legs broken below the knee.

HORSE AND BULL SHOW.—The spring horse and fall show given to-day (Wednesday), through the energy of a few farmers and citizens interested in improved live stock, was a success as far as the exhibition itself was concerned, though in point of attendance so much cannot be said. At another time fine weather would have been favorable to the show, but fine weather militated against it on this occasion. A much better attendance might have been looked for, but that farmers who are busy with spring work could not lose time to visit the show. There were a good number of entries, both of horses and bulls, and they were generally superior animals.

DEATH OF A STALLION.—Mr. John Duff, of Eramosa, lost his far-famed stallion "Duke of Argyll," on Tuesday. He had been at the Elora show with the "Duke," and on his way from that place to Guelph he stopped for the night at Lillie's Hotel. When he put the horse up he was all right, but on Tuesday morning when he went to the stable he noticed that the animal was sick. He sent at once for Dr. Grange, but his efforts were of no avail, for the animal died in two or three hours after, of what the doctor calls gastric fever or acute indigestion. His death is a serious loss to Mr. Duff, as he was a valuable animal, and much thought of by farmers.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS.—Pursuant to notice a meeting was held on Tuesday night in the Y.M.C.A. rooms to make arrangements for observing the anniversary of the establishment of Sunday Schools. There were present representatives from all the Protestant churches in the city. It was resolved to observe the event in the end of June or beginning of July, and a committee was appointed to draw out a programme, who will report at an adjourned meeting to be held in the same place on Tuesday, the 4th May.

Wm. McDermott, sworn, said, I was elected Dep. Reeve for West Garafraxa for 1878; a statement of the financial position of the municipality was presented to the Council by Mr. Cassidy; I learned about the 8th or 9th of June that the statement was incorrect from Mr. Campbell, the late clerk of the township; immediately afterwards the Council met, and Mr. Dobbin was instructed to lay the matter before Mr. Guthrie, Township Solicitor; the Council first had the Treasurer before them in connection with this matter on the 5th July; he said he would make a statement of the standing of the township and tell how he could make up the deficiency; he would not tell what he had done with the money; we confronted him with the assertion that the county and Credit Valley rates were not paid, and he made no excuse, but said he would pay the last dollar back to the township but refused to secure the municipality for that amount; he was never given permission to use the money; on the 5th of July we met and again ten days afterwards; when I threatened to take proceedings against him he said he would tell the Reeve what he had done with the money; the same evening witness reprimanded Cassidy for what he had done and said "it was like spilt milk and could not be gathered up now."

To Mr. McMahon—I remember suggesting that the township funds should be deposited into the Bank; the Council said it would not be fair to Mr. Cassidy because it would give him extra work; I said the township should have interest for the use of the money; it was not said at the Council meeting that Mr. Cassidy should have the use of the money; I found Mr. Cassidy had paid $100 out of his own pocket into the township to meet the liabilities in 1877. On the 7th July Mr. Cassidy said he would give his property in security for the amount he owed; do not remember the Council passing a by-law authorizing Mr. Dobbin to see Mr. Guthrie to settle the matter between Mr. Cassidy and the Township; Mr. Cassidy did a large banking business at the Merchants' Bank, Elora, and that was where he kept his account; the Council arranged that if Mr. Cassidy did not settle with the Township at a certain time we would take proceedings against him; he appeared at a Council meeting on July 5th, and said he was sorry he had used the Township money; he went over the accounts and asked for time to make up the deficiency; subsequently he proposed to make a statement of how he expended the money, but he refused to tell the Council as a body; he never denied having used the money; did not know what right the Council had given Mr. Cassidy with reference to using the money in former years; he represented that he had a large contract with the C. V. Railway; he said he was paying the sub-contractors under him with the money, and he said he would soon be getting $2,000 from that Company, which he would pay into the municipal treasury.

J. Jeff Dobbin, sworn, said—I was Reeve of West Garafraxa in 1879: the Treasurer presented a statement that year showing the financial standing of the Township; on the 27th of March I received a notice that the County rates were unpaid, and forwarded it to the Treasurer; I met him the same evening and he said the money on the County and C. V. Railway rates was in the Bank and he would settle the matter at once; he could not do so, and then I knew he had used the money; he did not disclose what he had done with the money; on the 7th July he said he would afterwards make a statement to me of what he had done with the money; according to promise he meet me and told what he had done with the money and said he would repay the money taken from the Township when he received $12,000 for work done under contract on the C. V. Railway; he partially agreed to give his property as security for the deficiency.

To Mr. McMahon—There was no resolution authorizing Mr. Cassidy for using the Township money, but I suspected he used the money though I had no personal knowledge of it; the only objection he had to giving his property as security to the township was that he would become insolvent; Cassidy said no one was more sorry than he could be for using the money; he said he would pay a portion of it in one month and thought he could refund the whole sum in three months; I have known Mr. Cassidy for ten or twelve years; his character was very good previous to his difficulty with the township, and he was respected; I did not know when Mr. Cassidy got the township funds he intended to use them in his own business.

Re-examined.—When I first heard that he used the money which was on the 5th of July, I believed that he would repay it, but in about three months afterwards, I doubted whether he would, when I learned about certain chattel mortgages held against him; before the 5th of July I knew that Mr. Cassidy was debtor to the township and did not impart my knowledge to any one but the Deputy Reeve; I came down to Guelph about a dozen times in connection with the matter.

FOR THE DEFENCE.

Henry Blakney, sworn said—I was manager of the Merchants' Bank, Elora, in Nov. and Dec., 1878, and Jan. 1879; I produce the Bank passbook; there is a deposit on 6th Dec., 1878, of $2,960 which was deposited to Cassidy's general account; I do not know as a fact that he kept the Township's and his own account together there; I see by this book that on Nov. 27th he deposited $240, on Dec. 17th $275, on Dec. 20th $100, on 30th $250, Jan. 27th $920, Jan. 28th, $171; I won't positively say this book is an exact copy of the deposit ledger, but the figures I gave to the Commission were; I copied them myself but this book was copied by a junior clerk.

Question—Do you know anything about notes of Robinson's being discounted at the Bank?

Answer—I do, they matured in Nov. and Dec. 1878, but I think none of them matured in Jan. 1879, I presume the figures you (Mr. McMahon) show me in the book represent the taking up of some of Cassidy's own paper, not Robinson's; the paper would be endorsed by William Robinson (his father-in-law) and John Robinson, of Garafraxa, (not his brother-in-law); some of these may have been charged to Cassidy without a cheque being given; if Cassidy had sufficient money in the bank to meet any notes when they matured it would be charged to him if he did not send a cheque; and if he sent a cheque the cheque would be charged to him; I have a recollection of his paper maturing in Dec.; I know that he had paper—about $5,000—under discount part of which was paid at this time; he had money in the bank then sufficient to meet part of that.

Andrew Lightbody, sworn, said—Live in Douglas since 1852; have been auditor for township from 1855 with exception of two or three years; am auditor this year; compared auditor's account for 1878 with Mr. Rennie; up to Dec., 1878, the amount of the collector's roll was $11,043.02; we didn't go by treasurer's book in making out the statement; we were never asked to make our audits till the collector's roll was sent in; we went according to the direction of the Council and the roll was charged against Cassidy; I was aware that Cassidy had been paying out money when there was no money in the treasury; I was subpœnaed before the magistrate after the deficiency in the Township funds was discovered, but was not called to give evidence; I was not present at the Council meeting on the 5th July; I do not know that Cassidy made any arrangements with the Bank to pay off his indebtedness; I came to Mr. Guthrie's office with Cassidy and it was arranged that Mr. Ferguson, of Fergus, was to be appointed trustee; Cassidy made a statement of the township finances but I don't know how his affairs were; Cassidy and his lawyer presented this statement and I was satisfied that he had money enough to pay everything and money to spare; I considered the valuation fair and honest; I have been Treasurer for eight years at different times; Cassidy's reputation was very good previous to this trouble and he was looked upon as an honest and straightforward man in all his relations in life; I did not know whether the Council was aware Cassidy used the township's funds in his own business.

John McDonald, sworn, said—He was Deputy-Reeve of West Garafraxa in 1878 and 1879, and Cassidy was Treasurer; he thought Cassidy might deposit his money with the Township funds; he did not remember if Cassidy was to be allowed interest; Cassidy paid out money when the Township was not in funds; he knew that Cassidy and the Reeve were liable on a note to put the Township in funds.

This concluded the case.

Mr. McMahon made an able address on behalf of the prisoner and was followed by Mr. Bowlby for the prosecution

His Lordship followed and in summing up charged the jury. He said the case was a most unfortunate one, placing the prisoner's family who were dependant on the prisoner in a deplorable position, but that could not be a consideration with the jury. The prisoner should have anticipated such a result when he used the township money in his own business, and it was only a question of fact with which the jury had to deal. The charge was strongly against the prisoner.

GUELPH, APRIL 21st.

Graham vs. Eagle.—This case, which was opened yesterday afternoon, was continued to day. It raises the question as to the boundary line between west halves of lots one and two in the seventh Concession of Eramosa. Thomas Eagle lately purchased the west half of lot one, and found the frontage of the lot about 28 chains, whereas his deed called for 30 chains. He therefore called upon Mr. Graham, who owned the west half of lot two to move his fence up two chains and to look to lot three to recover two other chains so as to compensate him. Mr. Graham refused to do this and Eagle took the matter into his own hands and tore down Mr. Graham's fence in two places and began to build a fence in upon Graham's land at a place which his surveyer pointed at as the correct line. Mr. Graham then commenced two actions in the Queen's Bench to try the question of boundary, and he contended that his fence was substantially on the true surveyor's line, and also that whether it was so or not that his fence had been put up and that he had been in possession of the land upwards of ten years, which would give him a good title. Mr. A. H Macdonald for plaintiff; Mr. D. Guthrie, Q. C., for defendant.

"Tibbie" Shiel's Brother in Grey.

The Brussel's Post says: On lot 3, concession 9, of the township of Grey, resides Mr. David Shiel and his wife, whose united ages total 160 years. Mr. Shiel was born on the 4th of April, 1796, and was consequently 84 years of age on Sunday, 4th inst., while Mrs. Shiel is in her 76th year. For nearly half a century they have dwelt happily together, and to-day they are the best preserved couple, at their years we have ever seen. Longevity would seem to run in the Shiel's family, one of Mr. Shiel's sister's, "Tibbie," well known in Scottish literary circles, having attained, if we remember aright, the advanced age of 96 at the time of her demise.

Mr. Shiel is a native of Ettrick, Scotland, and had reached manhood before Napoleon's overthrow at Waterloo. In these troublous times, when alarms of foreign invasion were rife, the subject of this sketch carried arms to defend his native land. Near Mr. Shiel's father's house resided Mr. James Hogg, the "Ettrick Shepherd," and between the latter and the Shiel family an intimacy sprang up which lasted to the death of the distinguished literateur.

In 1831 David Shiel landed at Toronto (then Muddy Little York, an unpretentious little village), and after a short stay pushed west, stopping at what is now the thriving town of Galt. But soon after he married, he moved into the Township of Grey, where he has resided ever since.

HEIRS WANTED.—The heirs of Henry Dyett, who lived in or near Guelph about the year 1835, will learn something to their advantage by calling at the MERCURY office. The names of the children are respectively Eleanor, Eliza, Hariett Maria, George James, Malcolm Richard, Mark Anthony and Walter Neil Dyett.

A very large quantity of cordwood, railroad ties, and telegraph poles has been beached on St. Joseph's Island this winter.

The Tory papers are publishing a paragraph to the effect that the Ottawa moulders are receiving 10 per cent. advance in pay. Such is not the case, as the few employed in the city are working on short time and at old rates of pay, the 'N. P.' not having benefitted them a solitary cent.

OTTAWA, April 20.

The Pacific Railway debate was resumed by Mr. Thos. White, (Cardwell) who made an able speech from a Ministerial point of view, in which he contended that both Messrs. Mackenzie and Blake were committed to the early construction of the British Columbia section of the Pacific Railroad, as provided by the Carnarvon terms, and to the annual expenditure in that Province of two millions of dollars on account of the road. The fact that Lord Dufferin in 1877, when visiting the Pacific Province, told the people there that his Government were determined to carry out the terms of Union clearly demonstrated that, notwithstanding the defeat by the Senate of the Esquimalt and Namaimo Railroad Bill, they still regarded the terms as binding. A considerable portion of his speech was devoted by Mr. White to maintaining the superiority of the North-West Territory as a field for immigration, and to showing that both the leaders of the Opposition had depreciated the Territory—a depreciation which would have a lamentable effect in diverting the tide of immigration from Canadian shores. Alluding to the Province of British Columbia, he expatiated on the nature and extent of its valuable resources, and argued that however great they may even be now, that greatness is infinitely small as compared with the greatness they will attain when properly developed.

Mr. Anglin, in one of his characteristically pointed speeches, contended at length that the late Government, considering the embarrassment by which they were affected owing to the bungling of their predecessors, had manifested remarkable energy and vigour in advancing the work of construction on the Pacific Railroad. They endeavoured to carry out all the obligations entered into by the Macdonald-Cartier Administration with the British Columbians, but the latter appeared determined to exact the literal fulfilment of the terms rather than the spirit. Continuing, he showed, by quoting the financial record of the Dominion since Confederation, that the country was not in a position to increase its expenditure without forcing the whole of the Provinces into irretrievable ruin. In concluding he denounced the existing Customs tariff as being in its baneful effect upon the shipping interests only rivalled by the record of destruction by fire and pillage by the Barbary and Algerian corsairs.

Mr. Macdougall, in a well delivered speech, appeared to indicate a preference for the construction of the Pacific Railway as an undertaking by private capitalists and not the Government. He claimed that Mr. Blake's amendment was not the logical sequence of the speech which preceded it. Instead of moving, in deference to the opinions of Mr. Mackenzie, that the construction of the Yale-Kamloops branch should be postponed, thereby intimating that it ought not to be constructed, he should have moved that the construction of the road be abandoned west of Winnipeg. Considering the whole of the circumstances, he would vote against the amendment and in favor of the Government's policy because the latter had promised to proceed slowly with the construction of the Burrard Inlet section.

Speeches against the amendments were delivered by Messrs. McLennan, Dawson, and Girouard (Jacques Cartier), who claimed that it was tantamount to repudiating the terms of union with British Columbia, besides retarding the development of the country.

Mr. Cockburn (Muskoka) dissented from the propositions laid down by the gentlemen who preceded him, and denounced the Minister of Agriculture's action in distributing pamphlets throughout the older Provinces advising the farmers to migrate to the North-West. He condemned the Government's policy in abandoning the construction of the Georgian Bay branch, and claimed that that road would have been of great public use when completed.

At 1:30 the members were called in, and Mr. Blake's amendment was declared lost on the following division:—Yeas, 49—Nays 131—majority against the amendment, 82. The only member who, on this division deserted the party whose votes elected him, was Mr. Skinner, the member for South Oxford. The House resolved itself into Committee of Supply, passed an item, and adjourned at 2:45 a.m.

Hespeler Correspondence.

ROBBERY.—On Thursday night last some party or parties entered the shop of Mr. G. Pabst, meat dealer here, and stole therefrom a number of large hams, beef tongues, sausage, &c. On the same night a horse and buggy were taken from the premises of Mr. Lewis Millar, farmer, living about half a mile from the village, and it is supposed were used in conveying the stolen hams to a place of safety, as the horse and buggy were found next morning tied up near the blacksmith shop of Mr. Jacob N. Cober, about a mile on the opposite side of the village from where the horse was taken. It seems hard that occasionally our usually quite village is raided and the proceeds of industry carried off by good for nothing rascals too idle to make an honest living.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The members of the ladies' Christian Temperance Union held an open meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms here on Friday evening last. It consisted of readings, recitations, music, &c. The attendance was large considering the unfavorable character of the evening, and the entertainment was quite interesting, the ladies exhibiting no small amount of talent in the performance of their various parts.

Daily Mercury.

The Vote on Mr Blake's Motion.

Not a single member of the Liberal party expected that Mr. Blake's amendment, for postponing the construction of the section of the Pacific Railway in British Columbia, would carry, but it was generally felt that an earnest protest should be made against going on with the work, and the Opposition in the House with but one solitary exception—Col. Skinner of Oxford—voted for Mr. Blake's resolution. Out of a House of 180 members, 49 voted for the amendment and 131 against it, thus giving the Government a majority of 82.

Whatever the majority may be in Parliament, we feel sure that Mr. Blake's resolution if put to the people at the present time would be supported by an overwhelming majority. The scheme of building this section of the road is as wild and extravagant as the terms on which British Columbia joined the Canadian Confederation. It is calculated that the cost of this section of the road in British Columbia will be $10,000,000 in hard cash, to say nothing of the interest that will have to be met on the outlay. Well, as the road is purely local in character, it can only be used, if used at all, by a scattered population of 10,000 souls. That means that for the pleasure of throwing a railway into the gorges of the Fraser River, Canada will be compelled to pay for it at the rate of $1,000 per head of the population, white and Indian. And this is what we have to pay for keeping British Columbia in good temper. Where the benefits will be no one has ever yet pointed out, nor can they do so, for none exist. Just look at the kind of country through which the road will run, and the picture is not drawn by a foreigner, but by a writer in that Province, and a correspondent of the Victoria Colonist. We must say it sounds strange after the extravagant pictures presented by the Minister of Railways. This writer says: "The whole country north of Clinton to Peace River is covered with snow three feet deep. All the cattle in the vast district of Chilcoaten have perished for want of food and fifty per cent. of those that grazed on the left bank of the Fraser. The winter may last three weeks longer and then there is no chance for the remnant of live stock. The oldest Indian never saw such a terrible winter as this has been. In many places the dead bodies of the deer have been found standing in the forest frozen stiff. The bounding deer turned into a lump of ice, and the starving Indian trying to cut a venison steak with an axe would make a picture of life in northern latitudes very interesting to those who spend their lives in well aired rooms." Clinton is situated about midway between the Fraser and Thompson rivers, less than forty miles distant from the nearest point of the proposed Yale-Kamloops branch of the Canada Pacific railway. It is a wilderness like this in which the people Canada are asked to spend about $12,000,000 of their taxes on the construction of a railway that, when finished will be of no mortal use, as it is not on the true line of trans-continental traffic.

A REPORT just issued in England will give to our readers an accurate idea of the vast depopulation of Ireland in the last thirty years. While England, Scotland and even Wales have steadily increased in population, Ireland has grown leaner and leaner by the drainage of her life blood to this country. Since 1850 more than a third of her whole population have emigrated to the United States or Canada. In 1876 the emigration fell, owing to the stringency of the times to 37,587, the smallest number registered since 1850; it rose after that steadily with each summer, reaching in 1879 47,065. As far as we can gather from reports in late Irish papers, the large majority of emigrants this year will be those who are too old or infirm to be of much value as active citizens anywhere. Among the younger men there is yet, however, enough faith in the ultimate success of the Home Rulers to tempt them to stay a little longer and try to fight it out.

WE notice by the London papers that the Government have appointed a Mr. Jas. Dunbar as appraiser in the Customs Department in that city. Mr. Dunbar is of the comfortable age of 75, and the appointment is generally regarded by the people of that city as an evidence on the part of the Government that they are anxious to provide for one of the oldest inhabitants. It seems, however, that they are very accommodating in this case and very strict in their rules in others. For instance it was only some weeks ago that Mr. John C. Allan, of this city, was appointed caretaker of the Government buildings here, and then thrown overboard because he was over the age specified in the regulations. And yet Mr. Allan is fifteen years younger than the venerable Dunbar who has just been appointed in London. Would the Tory organs or Dr. Orton tell us how the action of the Government in the one case can be reconciled with the other? Perhaps Dr. Orton will rise and explain, for he and Mr. Bowell know all about Mr. Allan's case. The sauce for the goose is not sauce for the gander in every transaction of the Tory Government.

HON. Wm. Macdougall was examined before the Boundary Committee on Tuesday. He appeared to favour the Ontario contention, viz., that the western boundary was the northwest angle of the Lake of the Woods.

IN his circular to the French representatives abroad explanatory of the foreign policy pursued by him since his accession to office, &c., Premier De Freycinet says he has no wish to change the policy which has prevailed for several years, and which is especially a policy of peace and conciliation.

THE Times says a requisition has been addressed to the Home Rule members, asking them to meet for consultation on the 27th inst. Parnell's followers have refused to sign the requisition for a meeting on the 27th inst. for consultation, and will hold their own land meeting instead. Parnell says the land question will be the real question of the new Parliament, but the Shaw party, instead of mentioning it in their requisition, only speak vaguely of Home Rule. So the Home Rulers will now have a pretty quarrel among themselves.

THE Government did not relish the presentation on Monday of the petition from Prince Edward Island against the National Policy. It was signed by 6,000 people. It was signed by the Hon. J. Whiteman, President of the Privy Council, and the Hon. P. Gavin, both members of the Local Government, said to be elected in endorsation of the National Policy. Twenty of 43 members of the two branches of the Legislature also signed their names. Besides these there are hundreds of signers who voted for the Conservative candidates at the last Dominion election, but who will now vote for the Liberals.

WHEN the Cassidy case was under discussion last August, the Herald of this city sought to make the public believe that a portion, at least, of the money which the late Treasurer of Garafraxa was short to the Township had gone to help pay the election expenses of his brother-in-law Mr. John Robinson, who contested the Centre Riding in 1878 with Dr. Orton. Mr. Cassidy at the time denied this, the Commission which made full inquiry into the whole case found no trace of financial connection between the parties, and at the trial yesterday the Bank Manager at Elora confirmed all previous statements by showing that John Robinson, the brother-in-law and candidate, had nothing to do with any of Cassidy's notes. As far as any bank transactions show there was no financial connection whatever between Cassidy and Robinson, and the Herald had, therefore, no ground whatever on which to make its gratuitous and unfounded charges.

It is impossible to conceal any longer the true state of the national finances. Last year the total revenue of the Dominion on consolidated fund account was $22,577,382, and the expenditure $24,455,381; a deficit of only a few dollars short of $2,000,000. This year there is an enormous increase of expenditure, yet the nine months of the fiscal year just past show a decrease of revenue already of $2,000,000. It is impossible that the remaining three months, or to the 30th June next, will compensate for this enormous decline of receipts under the National Policy. Sir Samuel Tilley has, therefore, the inevitable prospect of a deficit of between three and four millions of dollars to disturb the glowing dream which he presented to Parliament, in place of a Budget speech.

Hillsburg Correspondence.

The Temperance Society established by T. D. McConkey, of Toronto, continues its work and meetings with unabated vigor. The entertainments each evening consist of readings, recitations, dialogues and music, with an occasional address by ministers and visiting brethren. New members are added weekly, and very few failures to observe the pledge are reported. At the regular meeting of the society on the 15th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter: President, A. H. McKinnon, M. D.; Secretary, Thos. Clark; Treasurer, R. Nodwell, sr., Chaplain, A. Smith, and a large executive committee.

Since the removal of Rev. Robt. Fowlie to the Presbyterian congregations at Erin and Ospringe, Mr. A. McKay, student of Knox College, will supply the vacancy at Hillsburg and Price's Corner's for the next six months.

The business of the Credit Valley continues to increase all along the line, Hillsburg adding its share in the shape of potatoes especially, of which nine cars have been shipped within the last three weeks, and more to follow. Quite a dissension exists among the people of the village regarding the railway station, one party maintaining that it is an out of the way place, not of easy access, that it will be difficult and costly to build a road to it, and that it will be an injury to the Company's business in its present location. Another party thinks it just the spot, and although there are difficulties in the way, that it will only cost a trifle to build the road. But in the midst of all this no one puts his hands in his purse, or shoulders his spade and says, "Let us go to work and build the road." Strangers who wish to find Hillsburg or its railway station wend their way over hill and dale through mud and mire.

Fall wheat has suffered from frost in many parts of Erin. Still it is believed that there will be a fair crop providing no other calamity occurs to injure the remaining plants.

Messrs. Onderdonk & Co., intend putting some 3,000 or 4,000 men to work on their contracts in British Columbia, and expect to get them through in the required time.

During three days of last week the Archbishop of Toronto held a private meeting of the Catholic bishops of the Ecclesiastical province of Ontario, when there were present: Bishops Walsh, Crinnon, Jamot, O'Mahony, and Vicar-General Farelly, administrator of the diocese of Kingston. Business of importance was transacted, especially with regard to the vacant see of Kingston.

The Grand Trunk railway management, acting upon the recommendation of a recent coroner's jury, are taking steps to place railings on the tops of their cars, and the views of the men are to be obtained in regard to the proposed protection. It is proposed to place two railings about two feet high between which the brakesmen will walk. It is supposed this will prevent them slipping or being blown off the cars.

MARSHFIELD, Mo., April 20.—The cyclone which desolated this place, after passing through several miles of country in Christian, Green and Webster counties, levelling houses and timber, struck this town about 6:30 on Sunday evening. It struck the St. Louis and San Francisco railway in forty places, and left it near Frank's station, 110 miles this side of Marshfield. The latter place presents a terrible appearance. Not more than a dozen houses are unharmed in the entire town. The Court House and many other buildings took fire. The scene and effects were most dreadful. At one house two children were found dead and the other still alive. The parents could not be found. In another case a woman was lost entirely. She seems to have been carried away bodily. The wind stripped bark from the trees and lifted the others entirely out of the ground and the telegraph poles and wires were carried hundreds of rods into the woods and tied and knotted among the limbs of the trees as though they were cotton strings. Everything possible is being done to assist and succor the wounded at Marshfield and other places. Physicians throughout the country are flocking to the points most injured.

The storm came with a frightful looking black cloud, lined with fleecy white, funnel-shaped and moving like a screw propellor, and with wonderful velocity, destroying everything in its path of about half a mile wide. Houses were blown from their foundations, and cattle, hogs, horses and poultry were whirled into the air a great distance. The noise of the storm, crash of the houses and cries of the terrified people made a scene of horror. What was a beautiful, peaceful town of 800 people twenty-four hours ago is now a waste of desolation, and of 200 dwelling houses not more than twenty are now standing, and but few of these are uninjured. There are now fifty wounded in the school building, under the care of the noble women from Lebanon and Springfield. The loss by the calamity is estimated at $350,000. Of 800 inhabitants seven-eighths are homeless, destitute and suffering terribly. Of the total killed, which is not far short of 100, not more than a dozen have been buried.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 20.—The State University and many other buildings suffered severely by yesterday's storm.

ST. LOUIS, April 20.—A child was found at Marshfield lodged in the crotch of a tree 30 feet above the ground and but slightly hurt. At Gray's Creek 7 houses were demolished and the inmates injured. Immense damage is reported in Calloway county to farm property. At New Bloomfield Mrs. Martz was killed by a falling house and a negro girl was killed by lightning. In the southern part of Maniteau county there was great injury to property, and a number killed and wounded. The storm first struck the little town of Barretsville, destroying almost every house, and then passed down the valley toward North Moreau, destroying nearly every building in its track. The following is a partial list of those killed: A. Y. Campbell, two children of Henry McKinney, Reuben Routen, Mrs. Schaffer, two children of Coridian Green, a son of George Harter, Jack Watson and several others. There are twenty or thirty wounded.

JANESVILLE, Wis., April 20.—For ten miles in the track of the storm evidences of the destruction of over $100,000 worth of property is seen. Churches, dwellings, etc., suffered. Some persons were injured.

Two cyclones passed over Davis county, Iowa. One passed through the town of Stiles, twelve miles south of Bloomfield, unroofing houses and barns, destroying outbuildings, prostrating fences and orchards. It left the path of destruction twenty miles long, varying from fifty to three hundred yards wide, and was accompanied by terrific thunder, lightning, heavy hail, and great floods of rain. Another passed four miles north of Bloomfield. Its track was marked with the same scenes of destruction. No loss of life is reported, but the loss of property is very great. The damage at Wabash, Ind., occasioned by the storm early this morning is estimated at $6,000. A report says "Christian people awoke and prepared for death." The storm on the lake is reported to have been magnificent in its fury, but occasioned little loss as yet reported.

The 12th of July in Hamilton.

The following are the names of the places from whence the brethren are coming on the 12th of July to visit the "Ambitious City." Knowing that a large number of lodges do not decide where and how they will celebrate the day until the June meeting we take this as a criterion that Hamilton is to have the largest demonstration ever witnessed in western Ontario. This is the official list: London and county of W. Eiddlesex, Brantford and county of Brant, Guelph and county of Wellington St. Catharines and county of Lincoln, Buffalo, N. Y., Ingersoll, counties of Bruce, Halton and Haldimand, districts Secretary Bro Wm. Mc-Andrew, is in communication with, and expects favorable answers from. The officers of the Grand Lodge of Orange Young Britons will visit in a body, at least that is what Grand Master Eilber writes, and it is the intention to invite the officers of the Orange Grand Lodge and have the demonstration under their patronage. The brethren intend entertaining their guests by holding a grand fete in the afternoon in the Dundurn park, they having secured these beautiful grounds at a great expense In the evening they hold an open air concert, display of fireworks, etc., and for which most excursions on that day will remain over.

Bold Counterfeiting Detected.

Parties have been detected in making and counterfeiting Hop Bitters, and illegally using the name Hop Bitters, a registered trade mark, which subjects every person who makes or sells anything with the name Hop Bitters, or pretending to be like it, to a fine of $100 for each sale, however small the sale is. The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., the sole owners of the trade mark, are prosecuting all violators of the law and enforcing heavy penalties, but are dealing very liberally with those who stop violating the law and settle without suit, and commence dealing in the genuine article, which is a valuable medicine and not a drink, as some of the counterfeits are. The genuine is sold by all druggists.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

DEAR SIR.—Notwithstanding the indignation with which Mr. Chadwick regards the pusillanimity of the attack made on him in my communication of last week, I purpose in replying to retain the signature I have adopted, the propriety of which I am prepared to maintain under my name when necessary.

In coming forward as the somewhat philanthropic champion of the A. J. R., Mr. Chadwick politely states that some of the statements made in my communication last week are false, referring particularly to the sentence stating that some of the people were told by some of the "Junctionists"—whose envy and ignorance overbalanced their discretion—that the people would not be asked for the $6,000, the object being to defeat the W. & W. scheme.

I might here state that notwithstanding Mr. Chadwick's flat denial of this, I can prove it true and every other statement I have made.

Clearly Mr. Chadwick does not understand the situation of affairs in Peel, or if he does he is in every respect a suitable leader of this covetous, take-all-and-give-nothing party, who are so enthusiastic over the wonderful enterprise known as the Arthur Junction Railway.

Who, I ask, Mr. Chadwick or any other promoter of this "thing," have the better right to ask for more railway facility. The people in the north east half of the township who already have the accommodation of two railways and three gravel roads; or the people in the south, who have always borne the preponderance of the township tax and received the least public money; who aided in paying for the roads which the north enjoy and from which we receive no benefit, being as yet from ten to eighteen miles distant from the nearest railway? The unparalleled injustice and unreasonableness of the request of the former must be apparent to any person in any degree compos mentis.

As to establishing a market for Peel produce in Arthur, the remotest and most inaccessible point of the whole township, and the idea of teaming our grain eighteen or twenty miles north over the most notoriously bad roads, is something, not only foreign to us, but absurd; it has never yet been done, and what is more, never will be, as there is scarcely a farmer in the four concessions who would not sooner any time drive to Waterloo or even Guelph, than to Arthur.

If Mr. Chadwick is still hankering after an opportunity to annihilate the W. & W. scheme on the public platform, I think it would be nothing more than right that a few meetings should be held in different parts of the township and give him an opportunity; at which I shall be most happy to meet him and discuss the merits of the proposed roads. I have no doubt that this would really be the most satisfactory way of settling the affair.

In the Herald of Saturday, 10th inst., there is the report of a "very influential and enthusiastic" meeting at Parker, in favor of the A. J. R. I suppose it was as large as the "enthusiastic meeting," at Goldstone sometime ago, at which I am creditably informed there were six ratepayers. Enthusiastic, wasn't it?

Really, Mr. Editor, I must ask your indulgence in again occupying so much of your valuable space, and heartily thanking you for the same, I am yours very truly,

FAIR PLAY.

Harriston Correspondence.

The rapid success of the Harriston High School has rendered it requisite to increase the staff, which has been done by the engaging of Mr. Graham, of Toronto, as third teacher. The Board are to be congratulated on having secured a staff of teachers second to none in Western Canada.

The Browns have again leased the exhibition ground and have begun fitting up and making arrangements for the coming season. Mr. P. Lavin, the manager, and E. H. Dewar, the secretary, are making arrangements for to have a first class team come here on the 24th of May for a match. Any team coming will be sure of a good game, and of being well used. The Buckeyes are also preparing for the season's campaign.

S. R. Lennox, tinsmith, has laid in a large and well selected stock of stoves and tinware.

COUNTY OF GREY ASSIZES.—At this court Miss Fergusson, daughter of Robert J. Ferguson, of Thornbury, sued Thomas Veitch for seduction. She is twenty-one, he double her age. She obtained a verdict and $1,200 damages. A charge for breach of promise followed, but the jury could not agree. Charles H. Meyers, the German, was convicted of forgery in having uttered a note to which he had got two other men to write a woman's name. He was sentenced to eighteen months in the Central Prison. Wesley Miles, who was found guilty of having with another man entered a mill and stole therefrom a waggon load of wheat, was sent to Penitentiary for seven years. Charles Willis, who aided him in the theft, although he had turned Queen's evidence, received the same sentence. Mary Lougheed, for perjury, was sent to gaol for one year at hard labor.

Blackwood's Magazine for April, 1880, has been republished by the LEONARD SCOTT PUBLISHING Co., 41 Barclay St. The following are the contents:—Brummagem Morality; Reata—Part XIII.; The Peasant Proprietors of Norway; Bush Life in Queensland.—Part V.; The Afghan War: Passages from the Note-book of a Staff Officer.—Part II.; Eleanour: a Tale of Non-Performers; The Prince Consort; The Crisis Abroad; The Appeal to the Country. The reader having greeted his old friends "Reata," John West, and the "Staff Officer," and devoted a few minutes to the contemplation of the lovely "Eleanour," cannot fail to be struck with the political tendency of the other articles. One is devoted to an examination of the standard of morality set up by the Radicals. Another discusses the dissolution of Parliament, the issues at stake, and the spirit in which they are contested. A third describes the positions of the nations of Europe at the present time and the importance and influence of England. Even the reviewer of the last volume of the "Life of the Prince Consort" gives his views on the politics of Europe and the relations of England with the continental Powers, though there are some pictures of home life given also; and the present proprietary system of Norway is statistically and uninvitingly described as a warning to England against reformers who would subdivide her land. The periodicals reprinted by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co. (41 Barclay Street, N. Y.) are as follows: The London Quarterly, Edinburgh, Westminster, and British Reviews, and Blackwood's Magazine. Price, $4 a year for any one, or only $15 for all, and the postage is prepaid by the Publisher.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

It is now considered that the Queen is almost certain to send for Lord Hartington, but the Liberal leaders have finally decided upon Mr. Gladstone as Premier.

The Standard says the Queen has conferred a peerage with the title of Baron Rowton, on Mr. Montague Corry, Lord Beaconsfield's private secretary.

It is understood John Bright will not enter the Ministry on account of the state of his health.

The Mayor of Cork has intimated that civic hospitality will be afforded to the officers of the relief ship Constellation.

Parnell declines to attend the meeting of the Home Rulers called for April 27th. He says the conference of Reformers meets on the 29th April, and he prefers that this meeting shall be held before the Home Rulers confer.

It is denied that the Prince of Wales contemplates a visit to Australia in the autumn.

Instructions have been telegraphed to General Wolsely to return from South Africa to England at once.

In England a very renowned soldier has recently died—General George Staunton, C. B., and Colonel of the Ninty-second Gordon Highlanders. He had served in the Sutlej campaign of 1846, including the battle of Sobraon, for which he had received the medal. He commanded the Thirty-first Regiment in the Crimea from the 22nd of May, 1855, and was present at the siege of Sabastopol and the attacks on the Redan on the 18th of June and 8th of September.

The Cyclone in the United States.

MARSHFIELD, Mo., April 21.—Seventy-one victims of Saturday's storm have been buried and twenty-five or more are dying. 150 are seriously wounded. A babe about 18 months old, whose mother was killed and friends all wounded, was found yesterday in a ravine north of the town, where it lay all night. Another child 2 years old, was yesterday afternoon found in a tree top, where it had been nearly twenty-four hours, considerably bruised. It was to day claimed by its parents, who live three miles from South town. It is reported that from 30 to 40 persons have been killed by spurs of the tornado in the country, and that the town of Corsicana, in Barry county, is as badly wrecked as this.

FORT SMITH, Ark, April 21.—The tornado on Sunday caused great havoc, especially at Oak Bower, where five persons were killed and many injured. Twenty-six houses were swept away.

UP TO THREE P.M.

Appeal for the Sufferers at Hull.

TORONTO, April 22.—Ald. Crocker, who is acting as Mayor during his Worship's absence on the tour to American cities, has received the following telegram:—"Mayor Beatty, Toronto,—Terrible affliction in Hull, every possible assistance immediately needed. A thousand people homeless and in great distress; will your city act promptly in the matter. Signed, C. H. Mackintosh, Mayor of Ottawa." Ald. Crocker has telegraphed to His Worship at London, and expects an answer soon.

The Fire at Hull.

OTTAWA, April 22.—Mr. Alonzo Wright, member for Ottawa county, in which the city of Hull is situated, will ask the Government for a grant for the relief of the sufferers by yesterday's fire.

Suicide at Clifton.

CLIFTON, April 22.—Joseph Brown, for several years past in the employ of C. McFeagal, hack driver of this place, committed suicide this forenoon by jumping over the bank of the Niagara River, at what is known as Hubbard's Point. He had been suffering for two years from paralysis, and it is supposed this rendered him despondent and tired of life. An inquest will not be held.

ORANGEISM IN PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.—The Legislature of Prince Edward Island has passed a bill incorporating the Orange Society. It is, however, not considered improbable that the Lieutenant-Governor will decline to sanction the measure. The society was incorporated by act of the Legislature in 1863, but, on an appeal to England, was disallowed by the Imperial authorities. In announcing this decision, the Duke of Newcastle, Secretary of State for the Colonies, said:—"I deeply regret that the Legislature of Prince Edward Island should have given its sanction to a class of institutions which all experience has shown to be calculated (if not actually intended) to embitter religious and political differences, and which must be detrimental to the best interests of the colony in which they exist."

When you go into an editorial room and see the editor using the shears, you should say. "Oh, that's the way you make a paper, is it?" He expects you to say this and is all braced for the shock. If you omit it just so much vital force is lost.—New York Sun.

MR. POST has procured a patent for his safety block for use between wing rails at switches. The use of this handy little block will entirely prevent all accidents at frogs.

THE DOMINION TELEGRAPH Co. through the General Manager has intimated that the Company will send free any messages regarding contributions to the distressed people of Hull, signed by the Mayor or Secretary of any relief committee.

THOROUGHBRED STOCK FOR MANITOBA.—Mr. F. W. Stone shipped yesterday to Lieut.-Governor Cauchon, Manitoba, the following pure bred stock, viz.: The shorthorn bull, Baron Guelph, by (imported) Baron Berkeley (36158), etc., etc.; also one Southdown ram and three ewes.

FORESTRY BENEFIT.—Dr. Oronhyatekha, of London, on Monday, received from the Supreme Treasurer of the Independent Order of Foresters, a draft for $1,000 in favor of Mrs. J. C. Bennett, late of London, being the insurance on the life of her husband, who died recently. The draft was forwarded to Mrs. Bennett at Aultsville.

FIRE IN PRESTON.—The scouring house, with valuable machinery, of Robinson, Howell & Co.'s woollen factory, was destroyed by fire at one o'clock on Wednesday. Through the exertions of the employees and the firemen the main building was saved. The Mayor of Galt had the kindness to send the steam fire engine to their assistance. The loss is from $15,000 to $20,000; insurance, $5,200.

GUELPH CRICKET CLUB.—At the adjourned annual meeting of the Guelph Cricket Club, held at the Royal Hotel on Wednesday, F. J. Chadwick was elected patron of the club, and the following officers were elected:—President, Jas. H. Finlay; Vice Presidents, Dr. Keating, T. Y. Greet and W. H. Cutten; Secretary-Treasurer, A. W. Murton; Committee of Management—A. A. Fitzgerald, W. H. Husband, N. P. Tod, A. W. Stewart, Charles Knowles. The meeting was well attended, and the prospects of a successful season are very good.

MAILS FOR THE EAST.—We find that a number of our business men complain that there is only one mail a day on the G. T. R. sent east of Toronto from all places west of that city. The train passing Guelph, going east at 11 a. m., takes the mail, but letters sent by it for places east of Toronto have to lie in that city till the night train for Montreal leaves at seven o'clock. The night express which passes Guelph, going east, about 4 a. m., takes no mail. This arrangement causes much annoyance and delay to business men, as they have often to rush up their correspondence or lose a whole day in the transmission of their letters. Our Board of Trade, or the business men, should take the matter in hand, and try if they cannot by petition get the P. O. authorities to allow a bag to be put on the night express going east, as letters would thereby go right on by the morning express for all places east of Toronto.

The Mount Forest cricket club has been organized for the season.

Hon. C. F. Fraser, has accepted of the position of Honorary President of the Cobourg Young Men's Reform Club.

The Hamilton Times learns from a gentleman who has just returned from an extensive tour through the Niagara peninsula and western Ontario that the crops are in a most promising condition, the prospects being in favor of a large yield. Magazines for May.

Harper's Magazine for May presents an unusual variety of entertaining matter, and is full of beautiful illustrations. The novelty of the number is striking. The opening article by Henry J. Van Dyke, jr., takes us to the Red River Valley and across the border into Manitoba. The resources and the picturesque features of the country and its peculiar people (including the Mennonite immigrants) furnish entirely fresh pictures for pen and pencil, and in the use of the latter, Mr. W. S. Macy, the artist, has been very efficient. The remaining articles are 'Old Catskill,' by Henry Brace, with six illustrations; 'Music and Musicians in England,' by Mrs. John Lillie, with thirteen illustrations; 'On Cloris Walkinge in Yo Snowe,' by Robert Herrick, with one illustration; 'The Shad and the Alewife,' by James W. Milner, with thirteen illustrations; 'Home Studies in Nature'—II., by Mary Treat, with two illustrations; 'When?' a poem, by A. T. L.; 'The Metropolitan Museum of Art,' with fourteen illustrations; 'Salgama Condita,' a story, by Lizzie W. Louis; 'Our National Guard,' by Colonel H. M. Boies; 'Mary Anerley,' a novel, by R. D. Blackmore; 'To a Bluebird,' a poem, by George P. Guerrier.

He deposited the money in a valise in the Pullman car, and stepped upon the platform for a minute to converse with Mrs. McNamee, and when he returned to the car the valise was missing. No clue to the thief has yet been discovered. The detectives were immediately notified of the robbery.

A CENTENARIAN.—The Owen Sound Times says:—There is now in the Owen Sound jail a colored man, by the name of John Brazil, who is 107 years of age. His memory reverts to the time when he was taken captive in Africa by slave traders, who murdered his mother before his eyes. In company with a younger brother he was then transported to Brazil and sold as a slave. On becoming the property of his purchaser, he was christened by the name he now bears, after the land of his adoption. During the last ten years he has been an inmate of the jail through the winter, not being able to withstand the severity of the cold, and during the summer obtains his livelihood by doing odd jobs for those who may employ him around the town. His memory is something extraordinary, and his statements of the cruelty of slave traders such as but few living men in this country can conceive.

GREAT FIRE IN HULL.

About 700 Houses Destroyed.

Four Thousand People Without a Home.

A tremendous fire occurred in Hull, opposite Ottawa, on Wednesday, which had made the place a scene of desolation. It is the centre of the lumbering settlement The inhabitants who are almost exclusively French Canadian habitans, are as a rule employed in various ways in connection with the lumbering industry. The match factory, planing and grist mills, pail and broom factories, etc., of Mr. E. B. Eddy are the leading feature of the place, and afford employment to several hundred men, women and children. In the winter many of the men are engaged in the woods chopping, and in the summer in driving logs and rafting. A few work in the iron mines behind the city, while others find their means of sustenance in the saw mills about the neighborhood of Ottawa. The homes of these people, which compose the city of Hull, are literally a collection of wooden shanties thrown together without any regard to symmetry or order, and divided by narrow, crooked, filthy lanes, which claim to be called streets. It is said that the fire originated from some sparks that lit on a house on Bridge street, but being fanned by a brisk wind the flames spread rapidly, and the alarm became general. The volunteer fire corps were unable to cope alone with the difficulty and the engine belonging to the lumbermen having their mill in Hull, as well as three hand engines from E. B. Eddy's factory, were called into play. The wind kept on increasing until it was blowing a stiff breeze almost steadily from the south-west, though at times it varied a little from one side to the other. The difficulty now was to get sufficient water for the engines. The fire was too far away from the river to allow of water being taken from that source, so that only a few streams from corporation tanks were turned upon the flames. House after house caught; the appliances for putting out the fire could not be used to their full capacity, and people began to prepare for the worst. From Bridge street the flames spread in the direction to which the wind was driving, catching on the west side of Church street, which was soon marked by a line of burning houses. By Albion, Duke, and other open streets the conflagration spread with terrible rapidity through the densely built thoroughfares until a sheet of dark lurid flame surmounted by clouds of tumbling smoke covered the whole district. The breeze was increased by the heat, and the dull roar of the flames and the wind together marked the fierceness with which the devouring element was pursuing its dreadful task. The heat parched everything within its reach, and whole blocks seemed to be prepared by this means to become a ready prey to the flames. In several cases the whirlwind caused by the ascending current of heated air swept over blocks covering many square yards, and when the momentary commotion had passed away it was found that perhaps as many as a dozen houses had caught fire, and in a few moments more this portion was undistinguishable from the general mass of flames which covered the district.

The most easterly street of the district now regarded as doomed was Albion street. The flames were making direct for the last house on the eastern side of this street, immediately upon the edge of the bluff. It was plain that if the wind held and the flames could be prevented from spreading to the western side of Albion street, that would be gained which all now regarded as the first means to prevent the fire from spreading at any cost. The hook and ladder was brought into play and did excellent service, and the fire in that direction was stopped. A serious danger still threatened. The hottest part of the outer edge of the flame was on Lake street, opposite Albert street. A few yards away on the latter street was the Brother's School, a large stone building, perhaps as fine a structure as the city of Hull can boast of. Between the School and the wall of flame on Lake street were a number of small wooden houses, of the same class as those among which the flames were revelling. If the building on the corner caught, the chances were that the School would be badly injured, if not destroyed. All realized this danger, and in order to avert it the stream from the Ottawa engine "Conqueror" was directed on the burning dwellings. The impression made, however, was small, partly because the stretch of hose was very long, and partly because the heat was so intense that the branchmen could not perform their work properly.

The scene during the fire was distressing in the extreme. On the ferry wharf were hundreds who had come from Ottawa. There were women with little children, all weeping bitterly for the homes of which they had in such an awful manner, and with so little warning, been deprived. Nearly all of these, and many others who hurried down to the wharf, were without hats or any other extra wrapping, having evidently been obliged to quit their houses as quickly as possible in order to save themselves and their children. By the streets leading to the bridge also were women and children hurrying out of the city to seek shelter for the time elsewhere. The streets and sidewalks of Hull under the most favorable circumstances are not of a character to provoke admiration, but with a terrible fire such as this raging they were considerably worse than no streets or sidewalks at all. Numbers of people found safety for themselves on the marshy land near the lake, already alluded to. In Albion street gangs of men were busy tearing and battering down house. The flushed and excited faces, the strange mixture of French and English exclamations and expletives, the utter recklessness with which these operations were conducted, but increased the general excitement.

From 6 o'clock to 8 the fire began to die out, and by midnight only a few smouldering embers remained to tell the sad story. The spectacle after dark, during the early part of the evening, was not only grand, but from an artistic point of view beautiful; but no such grandeur could relieve the mind of the sad reflections caused by the knowledge that that spectacle simply meant that nearly 4,000 human beings, principally women and children, had been deprived of their homes and nearly all their worldly possessions.

The amount of damage it accomplished was out of all proportion to length of time during which it was in progress. All sorts of estimates were made as to the aggregate loss, but as a matter of fact it is under present circumstance utterly impossible to state what the amount of loss will be.

NO INSURANCE.

Owing to the peculiar nature of the houses destroyed, to the fact that nearly all occupants were the owners, and to the highly undesirable nature of the risks, the loss will be but little, if at all, compensated for by insurance.

Prompt measures were taken to afford temporary shelter to those who were burned out. The Brother's School, the City Hall, E. B. Eddy's factory, as well as the dwelling-houses which remained unconsumed, were opened to receive and shelter them for the night. The necessities of the sufferers were attended to by the Bishop of Ottawa. Alonzo Wright, M.P., Mr. Eddy, Dr. Graham, and Mr. Leduc, Mayor, who assiduously distributed the provisions, etc., from Ottawa, and exerted themselves to provide for the comfort of the homeless people. Twenty special police were sworn in by Mayor Leduc to guard household goods unavoidably left in the streets for the night.

Towards five o'clock in the afternoon, as a sense of the great calamity which had befallen the sister city became evident the aldermen and leading citizens of Ottawa met and issued the following proclamation in the name of Mayor McIntosh, who was absent in Montreal:—

OTTAWA, 5:30 p. m.

The city of Hull is in flames, and thousands of people are homeless and without food or the means of getting it. Citizens of Ottawa are requested to send in contributions of food to the police station Queen-street, as early as possible this evening for distribution among the sufferers. The food will be forwarded to Hull and distributed by a Committee. The case is one of the most urgent that has occurred in this vicinity for many years, and the response should be prompt and liberal.

(Signed), "C. H. MACKINTOSH,
"Mayor."

The Governor-General sent a message of sympathy, and wish to co-operate by subscribing to any fund that may be raised for the relief of the sufferers.

The fire raged in fierce intensity from half past three o'clock until seven, when the wind changed fortunately, and it was got under control. It is estimated that between seven and eight hundred houses are destroyed, and over four thousand people homeless. Nor was the disaster unattended with fatal results. Several lives are known to be lost, whilst reports are current that at least a dozen have perished. It is known positively that a woman named Latremouille was burned, also a man named Ouillette. The woman was confined yesterday, and was unable to leave the house. Ouillette was seen rushing from his blazing dwelling into the street and fell dead. He was terribly burned. Numerous accidents occurred. The area of ground over which the fire travelled is a mile long by four hundred yards wide, and to-night the smouldering flames tell too well of their devastation. In numerous cases the occupants saved their furniture, which is now piled on the public streets. Horses, cows and pigs, as well as other domestic animals perished. It is a sad blow to this place, and will cause a good deal of suffering and destitution to those who have been rendered homeless. The property destroyed was mainly occupied by labourers, who will be unable for some time, at least, to rebuild.

Financial Excitement in Montreal.

MONTREAL, April 20.—There was great consternation to-day in financial circles on the Bank of Montreal directors declaring a dividend of 4 per cent. for the half year—the lowest ever given by the institution. It is stated that $760,000 have been written off for bad debts accrued in former years, and that the actual earnings of the bank during the past year have been fully 15 per cent. On the stock exchange, after the dividend become known, there was a panic and the stock fell 7 per cent. Other stocks went down in sympathy with the leading bank, but not to the same extent. On the streets there were comparatively few who anticipated that the directors would take this step, as rumor had it that the earnings were within a small amount of the sum required to justify a declaration of 5 per cent., and it was held that the little that was wanting could be taken from the rest without prejudice to the interests of the bank. The Herald says:—"Though it is hard upon many whose income is thus cut down one-fifth, we hold that the course pursued was correct in principle and dictated by prudence. From the estimates upon which the directors have made their calculations it is thought that after the payment of 4 per cent. dividend there will be left from the half year's earnings some $60,000 to be carried to the credit of profit and loss."

Graham vs. Eagle.—The jury returned a verdict in this case for plaintiff, $75 damages on the one count and $25 on the other.

Queen vs. Wm. Powley.—This was an action for perjury, arising out of the examination of Wm. Powley, of the Township of Peel, in connection with the insolvency proceedings against D. C. Kilpatrick. It was alleged that Powley had obtained possession of a horse which belonged to the insolvent's estate, and when examined before the assignee he swore that this horse was in his (Powley's) stable when it was supposed to be in the township of Wallace. Several witnesses were examined but failed to prove that any such crime as perjury had been committed by Powley, and so groundless was the charge that the judge acquitted the prisoner without allowing the case to go to the jury. D. Guthrie, Q.C., and E. F. B. Johnston for Wm. Powley; Mr. Bowlby for the Crown.

Guelph, April 22.

When the Court opened the Judge pronounced the following sentences on prisoners tried and found guilty:—

William Cassidy when asked why the the sentence should not be pronounced against him said he was not guilty of the charge. His Lordship before pronouncing sentence, referred to a petition largely signed by residents of West Garafraxa and most of the members of the Bar in Guelph, referring to his previous good character, and praying that he be leniently dealt with. He had taken this into consideration, and sentenced him to three year in the Penitentiary.

Philip Forrestel, Clifford, for forgery three months in gaol.

Geo. Douglas, Harriston, forgery and embezzlement, three months in gaol.

GAUHAN VS. HOWARD.

This case was brought by ex-Alderman Gauhan to recover damages for ejectment from the Guelph Council Chamber by ex-Mayor Howard last year, on the ground that he was not duly qualified to sit as an Alderman.

Mr. McMahon Q. C., and Mr. O'Connor, for the plaintiff: Mr. Guthrie, Q. C., for defendant.

Frank Gauhan, examined, said—I am the plaintiff in this case and live in Guelph; I became a candidate for St. James Ward in July, 1879; there were three candidates; I was elected by a majority of 63 and the return was duly made; on the 31st July I asked the Mayor for the declaration of office; he refused the declaration because he said I was not qualified; I went to the city clerk on the 29th July and he would not accept my declaration for the same reason; I took the declaration of office before Mr. Horsman on August 5th, who was a magistrate, and sent a duplicate of it to the Mayor and it was never returned; Mr. Howard said all along that I was not properly qualified; the first meeting of the council I attended was on the 10th August; there was a full meeting and a number of citizens; before the council proceedings commenced the Mayor said there was a person sitting at the Council Board who was not a member of the council and asked me to leave; I said I would not leave the seat till expelled by force; the Mayor then told the Chief of Police to take me out of the chamber, which he did; when I was expelled from the council I left the hall; immediately after the Mayor called for another election, but not at the instance of the council; the second election was held on the 22nd of August; I was nominated but did not seek re-election; there were two candidates besides me and I was re-elected by 90 or 93 of a majority; I took the declaration of qualification and declaration of office before Mr. Harvey; on the 1st of September I attended the council meeting; between the election and the time of my taking a seat at the Council Board I talked the whole matter over with Mr. Howard and he said that to be consistent he would have to adopt the same course towards me as he had done before; at the next meeting the Mayor asked me to leave and I was given leave to address the council, which I did; he then called for another election, and I took proceedings to retain my seat and the result was that judgment was in my favour; the quo warranto summons was discharged in my favour; after the judgment I received a letter from Mr. Howard, stating that Messrs. Guthrie, Watt and Cutten, advised him that judgment had been given in my favour before Mr. Justice Osler, and that he (Mr. Howard) would offer no further opposition to him (Mr. Gauhan) taking his seat at the Council; on the second occasion I was asked to leave the Council, I asked Mr. Howard if he assumed the responsibility of his action in his private capacity as well as public, and he said yes.

To Mr. Guthrie—I understood that the point of contention between the Mayor and myself, was that I was only qualified to sit at the Council as that of a town and not of a city; Mr. Howard told me that his opinion was that I had not a proper qualification to sit for Guelph as a city; Mr. Bake's opinion was the same; the candidates against me were David Kennedy and John Thomas Cunningham; the former had a city contract, and was thereby disqualified to stand for election; I was absent in New York the first time I was nominated: it was arranged that I should do what I could to assert my right to the seat, and that he would contend for his view of the law in the matter; I accepted the second election; it was an opinion that the law which governed my election would prevail in the general city elections next January.

Re-examined—I followed the advice of Mr. Lemon in taking my seat; I went to the Council to represent the Ward.

John Harvey, examined, said—I am City Clerk; I produce the assessment roll for 1879; there was an election in July of last year for St. James Ward; on the 23rd August, 1879, I declared Mr. Gauhan elected; there was an election before that, on the 17th July; I never had any qualification papers fyled with me in the first election; I was prepared to accept Mr. Gauhan's declaration, but had no declaration forms at the time he called and could not take his declaration of office till we got some forms printed; Mr. Gauhan did not return to me to take the oath of office or proper qualification; Mr. Howard first objected to Mr. Gauhan taking his seat at the Council because he was not qualified; I do not remember of there being a member of the Council on the Vice-Regal reception Committee, and I think the Council was ignored in that reception;

A. L. McMillan, examined said—I am Chief of Police, Guelph; I remember the first occasion on which Mr. Gauhan took his seat at the council last year; I was instructed by Mr. Howard, who was then Mayor to be present on that occasion; the Mayor instructed me to remove Mr. Gauhan; I went inside the Council Bar, put my hand on Mr. Gauhan's shoulder and said "I have to ask you Mr. Gauhan to leave your seat;" he asked me on whose authority I acted and when I replied Mayor Howard's, he asked the latter if he assumed the responsibility privately as well as publicly; he said he did and Mr. Gauhan left the council chamber.

To Mr. Guthrie.—I saw Mr. Gauhan before he went up to the council meeting and it was expected that he would be ejected from his seat; there was a conversation between Mr. Gauhan and Mr. Howard, and it was arranged that Mr. Gauhan was to be ejected.

Re-examined—I heard Mr. Gauhan was to be ejected if he appeared at the council after the second election.

Frederick Biscoe, examined, said—I was a member of the City Council of Guelph last year and remember Mr. Gauhan taking his seat in August last; I moved a resolution to the effect that Mr. Gauhan be allowed to take his seat and that the matter be referred to the Council; the Mayor ruled the resolution out of order; I know that John Horsman was a Justice of the Peace and have known him to act as such; I was a member of the Vice-Regal reception committee and attended the reception with the Council; I had two opinions on the question of Mr. Gauhan's qualification to sit at the City Council; on the first occasion on which Mr. Gauhan was ejected he said "am I to consider myself arrested;" my opinion is that if Mr. Gauhan had resisted force would have been used to remove him from the council chamber.

Denis Coffee, examined, said—I was a member of the council last year Mr. Gauhan gave me some documents to hand to the City Clerk; the envelopes were opened in my presence and read by the Mayor and City Clerk and I heard Mr. Harvey say that Mr. Horsman was not qualified as a magistrate owing to the separation of Guelph from the county.

Frank Gauhan, recalled, said—The envelope that I gave Mr. Coffee I instructed him to hand to the Mayor and clerk.

The Political Situation in Britain.

The announcement of Lord Beaconsfield's resignation some days ago was premature, but according to the latest despatches it will take place in a day or two. A Cabinet meeting is to be held to-day, and immediately after the Premier will proceed to Windsor and place his resignation in the Queen's hands.

The question who will be sent for to form the new Government remains unsolved. Lord Beaconsfield may recommend either Mr. Gladstone, or Lord Hartington or Lord Granville. The Queen no doubt has her personal preferences, and it is an open secret that she bears no love for Mr. Gladstone, but we cannot see how she can get over sending for him unless on the ground that Lord Hartington is the appointed and acknowledged leader of the Liberals. Some think that on this account he will be called upon to form a Government, but then his difficulty will be that he cannot get on without Mr. Gladstone, who is the real leader, and through whose influence and super-human labors the late great victory is mainly due. The pronounced Liberals demand a recall of his declaration of 1874, and they urge, with great show of truth, that no other Liberal could be the leader of a House in which Mr. Gladstone had a seat. The unwritten traditions of the English system all point him out as the only fitting premier, and only his own stubborn resistance will prevent his elevation to the position. But if reports are correct, any resistance he may have manifested has been dispelled by the urgent appeals of his party, who feel and gladly acknowledge that the victory is Mr. Gladstone's victory, and that it was to his vigorous attack all along the line that the people responded.

The Latest—Hartington Called Upon.

LONDON, Eng., April 22.—The Queen has accepted Beaconsfield's resignation, and has sent for Hartington. The Standard says:—"Hartington will advise the Queen to entrust the commission of forming a Government to Gladstone."

The Printing Scandal Inquiry.

The Parliamentary Printing Committee met on Monday and resumed the printing contract investigation. Some very rich evidence was elicited. Mr. Pupore, M.P., was the first called and stated that his introduction of Mr. Charlton to Mr. Hope was merely accidental, and that he knew nothing of the object of the interview. Mr. Bunting, M.P., denied that he had had any such conversation with Mr. Mackintosh as that gentleman had stated, and knew nothing of his (Mr. Mackintosh's) arrangements with Messrs. Maclean, Roger & Co. James Cotton gave evidence in the most barefaced manner, relative to his connection with the matter, and afforded the committee a good deal of amusement. In the course of his evidence he said—There were two interviews at Mr. Roger's house; I had several other conversations with Mr. Boyle; I was desirous in Mr. Roger's interest of getting an arrangement with Mr. Boyle; the only agreement we could get with Boyle was that if the contract was awarded to him he would give a joint interest to Maclean, Roger & Co.; I think I told Boyle that Roger was anxious to buy him out, but would not take him into partnership; I was aware that Boyle withdrew his tender because he gave me the letter of withdrawal; it was in his own handwriting; I showed the letter to Mr. Maclean; it was understood at this time that Mr. Mackintosh had got the contract; I had no knowledge that he would not do the work; I wanted to get the intervening tenders out of the way because Mr. Roger told me to do so; Mr. Roger told me that he would make arragements with Mr. Mackintosh; I had no knowledge of it; the fact of my hearing such a statement does not make one know it; I did not receive a certain sum of money from Mr. Boyle; I received $500 in cash and $2,500 in notes, but not for Mr. Boyle; I got it for the letter I held; that was the value Mr. Maclean proposed toggive me when I got the letter; Mr. Charlton handed me the money, but not to give to Mr. Boyle; he told me to put the money in my pocket, or words to that effect; I was not to pay the money to anybody but myself; after the thing was all over Mr. Roger was so well satisfied with my services that he told me to order the best suit of clothes in the city and he would pay for them.

Mr. Trow—Was the suit "cotton?"

Witness—I would like to know your name to see if I could make a pun on it, I like to "give a Roland for an Oliver" (laughter); Mr. Roger did not hand me $3,000; I was not present when Charlton got the money; when I gave up the letter he handed me this money in return for it; it was understood that the money was to go into my own pocket; he did not give the money to me with any understanding that it was to be given to Boyle.

HURD's Bill to check the transport of American goods over Canadian railways from one American port to another was discussed in the House of Representatives on Wednesday. He complained that last year Canada forbade the transportation of American cattle through its territory, thus causing great loss to American shippers. The privilege of transportation, duty free, through Canada being liable to such abuse by the Canadian authorities, it ought not to be exercised by the American people till further negotiations is had. The transportation affected by the Bills practically engages Canada in inter-state commerce, which should not be permitted till Canadian railroads are subjected to the same regulations as American inter-state roads. The transportation of sealed cars through Canada, too, he said, affords abundant opportunities for smuggling. Mr. Hurd also asserted that $10,000,000 was paid last year to Canadian railways by the United States. an amount which it is folly to pay while Canada maintains a policy avowedly against the interests of her citizens, Mr. Hurd claimed that the passage of these Bills would more than anything else lead to reopening negotiations for a new treaty of reciprocity.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 21.

Mr. Bunster said that in view of the vote given last night sustaining the Government in their Pacific Railway policy, he would like to ask the Premier if it was his intention to visit British Columbia this season. If so he wanted to know it—(laughter)—on behalf of the Province, which had sent him here as their agent. (Hear, hear and laughter.)

Sir John Macdonald—I think the hon. gentlemen should have given notice of his question, but I may say that the matter is under my most serious consideration. (Hear, hear and laughter.)

Mr. Bunster—I consider that an evasive answer. (Laughter.) I expect a more direct and pointed answer from the hon. leader of the Government. (Laughter.)

Mr. Royal asked if the Government was aware that by virtue of a certain allotment of lands in Ste. Agathe, county of Provencher, Manitoba, to the Hudson's Bay Company, a number of lots have been allotted upon which settlers had made large and valuable improvements, and was it the intention of the Government to deal promptly with this grave question so as to prevent injustice being done.

Sir. John Macdonald said the Government were now making enquiry, and that they would see that prompt justice was done to any person who had suffered injustice in the matter.

Mr. Casey moved for (1) copy of the commission of Colonels Durie and Denison to investigate the affairs of the 10th Royal Regiment, Toronto, in reference to difficulties between its officers. After some discussion the motion was withdrawn.

Mr Farrow moved for a return showing the number of actions of seductions tried in the Courts of the different Provinces composing the Dominion during the past six years, stating the number in each year, viz., 1874-5-6-7-8 and 9. Carried.

Mr. Gillies moved for correspondence relating to the extension of an evening mail service from Walkerton to Paisley, Port Elgin and Southampton. He stated that both last and this session the Government had promised to attend to this matter, but thus far nothing had been done. He desired that Paisley, Port Elgin and Southampton, all of which were places of some importance, should be granted the advantage of the English mail service which Walkerton enjoyed. He hoped this matter would no longer be kept in suspense.

The motion was carried.

The House went into Committee on a Bill to regulate the encumbering of real estate by loans of money or otherwise. The Bill as amended in the Banking and Commerce Committee was futher amended in unimportant respects, and the Committee rose and reported. On the motion for concurrence,

Mr. Orion moved the recommittal of the Bill to amend by providing that no higher rate of interest than eight per cent. per annum might be charged, and providing also for certain penalties against those charging a higher rare.

Sir John Macdonald said they could not vote upon the amendment until it should have been printed in the Votes and Proceedings.

Mr Orton said if the Bill was not passed to-night its passage during the session could be risked, and he would, therefore, withdraw his amendment.

Mr. Weldon moved the three months hoist in amendment to the motion for the third reading.

Mr. Oliver moved the recommittal of the Bill to strike out the fifth clause. Lost on a division.

The Bill was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Colby moved the second reading of the Bill to amend the law regulating the inspection of petroleum and the products thereof. He remarked that the Bill which had been passed by the House last session was so extraordinary in character that he hoped hon. gentlemen in view of the importance of the subject, would give last year's measure as well as the Bill he proposed to submit their best attention. Though the subject was to a certain extent of a technical character, by the statute now in force petroleum imported from the United States was required to come up to the high fire test of 180 degrees Fahrenheit, while Canadian oil was only required to be 105 degrees. By the Bill now before the House it was proposed to have a uniform test of 105 degrees for all oil, whether native or imported.

After some discussion the debate was adjourned.

Bold Counterfeiting Detected.

Parties have been detected in making and counterfeiting Hop Bitters, and illegally using the name Hop Bitters, a registered trade mark, which subjects every person who makes or sells anything with the name Hop Bitters, or pretending to be like it, to a fine of $100 for each sale, however small the sale is. The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., the sole owners of the trade mark, are prosecuting all violators of the law and enforcing heavy penalties, but are dealing very liberally with those who stop violating the law and settle without suit, and commence dealing in the genuine article, which is a valuable medicine and not a drink, as some of the counterfeits are. The genuine is sold by all druggists.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

Hespeler Correspondence.

ROBBERY.—On Thursday night last some party or parties entered the shop of Mr. C. Pabst, meat dealer here, and stole therefrom a number of large hams, beef tongues, sausage, &c. On the same night a horse and buggy were taken from the premises of Mr. Lewis Millar, farmer, living about half a mile from the village, and it is supposed were used in conveying the stolen hams to a place of safety, as the horse and buggy were found next morning tied up near the blacksmith shop of Mr. Jacob N Ober, about a mile on the opposite side of the village from where the horse was taken. It seems hard that occasionally our usually quite village is raided and the proceeds of industry carried off by good for nothing rascals too idle to make an honest living.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The members of the ladies Christian Temperance Union held an open meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms here on Friday evening last. It consisted of readings, recitations, music, &c. Affairs in St. Joseph's Island.

SIR,—As this will be the last letter I shall write you before navigation opens, I may say that we are now through with the winter, which was very pleasant until the month of March set in, which was a sweeper, binding up any open hole which might have remained open in our river and lake up to that time.

The Island has been something like a beehive all winter through, every boy being busy either getting out cordwood, railroad ties, telegraph poles, and clearing land. Parties passing by on the roads can form but a poor idea of what is doing inland, judging by what they see along the shore. But such improvements must ultimately show in a substantial way, in the shape of business places on the shore, for instead of importing, as we have been doing, we shall be, shortly, exporting our grain, etc.

This year many will be attracted to Algoma, partly through the railroad about to be commenced so soon. But as I mentioned to you in a previous letter, we have at present the very best of communication in our fine steamboats to all parts, and for the information of those who may be coming up to this quarter, I would advise them to stay on the Island and examine for themselves before going elsewhere. I have no doubt that many of those who took up Free Grants will sell out their claim for a consideration, as in all Free Grant Districts, many a one takes up a farm for something like experiment, under the impression that they are going to make their fortune the first year or so. Such of course find their old trades or weekly wages more satisfactory, and I have no doubt, will sell. But at all events there will be plenty of good land for sale and some Free Grant lots.

Now, after all the work during the winter, the settlers will find plenty to do making sugar for a few weeks, then at their crops. The cry in most places is "oh! that I had a horse or team of oxen." Others "if I could employ a dozen men clearing, what money I would make." But there is a medium to all. Things are going on very well, but it shows plain after all, even here in the bush the advantage a man with means has over his poorer neighbour.

What we want here are good roads, grist mills, (not one yet on the Island) and more saw mills. There is a good opening for them, and the business will always be improving. It is satisfactory to learn that schools and churches are not forgotten, but are spreading over the Island. A few years will make a wonderful change, not only on the Island, but all over the district of Algoma, for surely many will find out the folly of going so far from home, such as are passing to Manitoba, the land of grasshoppers and blizzards; leaving a country within their own Province, offering the best of land as homesteads, and that amongst hills of unknown wealth in minerals which are now being opened up and will afford home markets for all, the Island, of course, being convenient to all our mines, while not depending on one particular mine, but being in a position to trade with all, as well as other markets. The same amount of money will take us from here to Duluth, Toronto, Chicago or Detroit, any day in summer, thus at once showing our central position.

In consequence of the March month being so severe, the ice I am afraid will not be out before the end of the month.

F. S. F.

St. Joseph's Island, April 1, 1880.

Protection Wanted.

SIR,—Permit me through your valuable paper to offer a few remarks regarding the shipment of cattle, as there is to be the finest lot of cattle shipped this spring that has ever been sent from Ontario. It is lamentable to contemplate the suffering these animals have to endure before they get through. After being housed all winter, combed and petted by many of their tender-hearted owners they are sold and soon jumbled into a car to be hooked, crushed, and trod almost to death. No cattle should be allowed to stand more than one hour after being put on the cars, because they jam around far more when the train is standing than when it is in motion. People that have never shipped any cattle have no idea what the poor things suffer. For instance: Last Easter Show I sold a car load of cattle to Mr. McShane, of Montreal, amongst them there was a very fine cow which I purchased from Mr. Carter, Guelph Township, for $80. Before she got to Toronto she was trod to death, and Mr. McShane sold her for $10; here was $70 of a loss to begin with. There were several others, when the car arrived in Montreal, had stretched out and the live ones standing on the top of them. Mr. Hearn, of Guelph, also had one trod to death this winter, and there are dozens of buyers who have lost valuable animals in the same way. Mr. Dow, of Montreal, had to give $20 back to a butcher of that city for bruises received to a cow, and I gave $10 on a heifer damaged in a like manner. Mr. Dow went to see the carcase after it was slaughtered, and he says that all he could see that was not bruised was just her flanks. Just think of cattle being trod on for three or four hundred miles, hungry and thirsty besides, and very thirsty, too, for there are some farmers who give cattle salt, then give them water to drink to make them weigh well; I believe the heifer I bought at Fergus fair, the one that I had to give the $10 back on, was salted, as she was pained and could not stand up. One thing to be thankful for is that we have not many farmers in this neighborhood guilty of this act of cruelty; it scours the animals out, brings on fever, and pain, and makes them useless when they get to their journey's end.

Now, Mr. Editor, cattle never will be shipped in proper condition until the Government compels the railway companies to have a stall for each bullock, then it would be very easy to have them watered and fed on their journey. Then they could not gore nor tread upon one another, and could lay down when tired. Iron bars would be necessary to make secure, and these would take up little room. And then the next important thing to have is to have good yards to take the animals to when they arrive at their destination, and not like the Montreal yards are at present. Of all the miserable places in the world to take cattle to is the Montreal yards—they are a disgrace to humanity. Last Easter I was shown as a favor into the yard where my cattle were put, and I was told it was one of the best in the city. There was about six inches of mud and water on the place, and ice below. I fed my cattle hay and had some left for bedding, but it all disappeared in a few minute. I sent for some straw but it was soon out of sight also; it might have just as well been thrown into the St. Lawrence. Blessed Montreal. Yours truly,

WALTER LAING.

Guelph, April 16, 1880.

Something about Dakota.

(From the Seaforth Expositor.)

As many of our readers have friends located in Dakota, and many more talking about going there, the following particulars respecting the country which we have been permitted to glean from a private letter received by a friend from a gentleman in Wheatland, Cross county, may prove interesting: He says that work for laboring men in that section is somewhat scarce on account of the large number of young men who take up land there and who have not money enough to go on and improve it, but who have to work out for hire until they get the necessary means. In haying the wages are $1.50 per day, and in harvest $2 per day and boards, and for threshing about $1.75 per day. Harvesting usually lasts about three weeks, and the threshing season about six weeks. After that time wages average about $25 per month. But there is very little demand for labor during the winter season. Each actual setler is permitted to homestead 320 acres. It does not pay to plow up the prairie and raise a crop from the sod. In order to insure a good crop, the sod must be broken up in the spring, left to rot through the summer, and plowed again in the fall, and will be ready for seed the next spring. Most of the breaking up is done with oxen as they are more easily kept. They will do the work and live on the native grass, whereas horses have to be fed on hay and oats, the former costing about ten dollars per ton, and the latter about 50 cents per bushel. Three horses or two yoke of oxen will break two acres per day, or 100 acres during the breaking season, which is from the first of May to the first of July. It will not cost over $5 per month to feed two yoke of oxen. Oxen are worth from $100 to $130 per yoke. The land generally speaking is first-class, and the climate healthy but cold in winter. Good prices and a ready market can be had for all kinds of produce. This gentleman considers this section of Dakota much preferable to the southern part for farming. In the south the climate is milder, but wheat does not do nearly so well, and the grasshoppers are usually very troublesome, while in the northern part the grasshopper pest is never felt. The south, however, is better for corn growing and stock raising. This correspondent thinks that a young man, or a man with moderate means, can do better in Dakota than in Canada, but he advises all persons to go and see the country for themselves before they make up their minds to move, as "what suits one might not suit another."

The Markets.

The Liverpool market was 6d. lower yesterday for flour, and from 2d. to 4d. per cental lower for wheat. Beerbohm reports more enquiry for floating cargoes. The Chicago market declined 1c. on wheat soon after opening, but closed strong at an advance of 2½c. New York irregular and lower. In Montreal, the local grain market continues inanimate and weak. Canada spring wheat is quoted at $1 36 to $1 37; corn in bond, 47c.; peas, 86½c. to 87½c.; rye and barley nominal. The market has been irregular for flour. The sale of 150 brls. of superior extra at $6 10 is reported; subsequently offers were made to sell as low as $5 95 for the same article; 100 brls spring extra sold at $5 90; 100 do. fine at $5 25; 100 do. strong bakers at $6 60; and 200 Ontario bags at $2 87½. Guelph Markets.

MERCURY OFFICE,
GUELPH, April 22 1880.

Since the present fine and seasonable spring weather has set in there has not been heavy receipts of grain on this market. Farmers of course taking advantage by devoting their whole time to ploughing &c.

Any wheat offered for sale of which there is not a great deal, meet buyers who are not so anxious as they appeared to be about a week ago, owing to a decline which has daily continued in outside leading markets for some time past, and from present appearances it is difficult to judge when a reaction is likely to take place.

Peas has also declined in price, seeding requirements being about supplied for the season, and the shipping quotations cannot afford the prices lately paid here

Barley in very active demand for seeding purposes, which cannot be relied on for any length of time.

Oats are somewhat higher, we presume through scarcity for local use.

Potatoes continue dull and likely to continue so.

The Dublin correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says that the disagreement between Shaw and Parnell as to the prudence of holding a meeting of Irish members before Parliament assembles is apparently irreconcilable, it being really a question of leadership. The Freeman's Journal now thinks the projected meeting had better be abandoned.

The Condition of the Hon. George Brown.

The Mail of this morning says:—The country will be pained to hear that Mr. Brown had a relapse yesterday, and that at three o'clock this morning he was lying at the point of death. We understand that the hon. gentleman became unconscious towards evening, and that he is passing away painlessly. It is possible, of course, that by a favourable change he may be snatched from the jaws of death, and the people of the Dominion whom he has served so long and so faithfully according to his lights, will earnestly hope that such may be the case. But, and we say it with profound sorrow, the hope hangs by a very slender thread.

The London Free Press says:—At mid night the condition of Hon. George Brown was considered by his medical attendants to be most critical. It has been known for a few days past that mortification of the wound had taken place, and following fast upon this announcement came the news that the hon. gentleman had suffered a relapse and was rapidly sinking. This afternoon and to-night his extremely low condition alarmed his medical advisers and friends, who now hold out but slight hopes of his recovery. During the greater part of the night the sufferer was unconscious.

UP TO THREE P.M.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Toronto, April 23, 11 a. m.

Hon. George Brown is very low and still unconscious. No deposition about the shooting of him has been taken, although the County Attorney has been in attendance for two days.

2 p. m.

Mr. Brown is now conscious, and has been asleep for two hours. He is a little easier, and the doctors say if he has strength to last 48 hours, there is a probability of his recovery.

The Shooting of Hon. George Brown.

TORONTO, April 23.—Bennett, alias Dickson, charged with having shot and wounded Hon. George Brown, was up at the Police Court this morning. He was remanded when the critical condition of the sufferer was made known by Mr. Fenton. As the prisoner was being led down to the cells a constable told him of the critical condition of Mr. Brown. Bennett was dumbfounded and finally said, "I cannot believe he is so bad,"

From Montreal.

MONTREAL, April 23.—Two men have been arrested here on suspicion of being the parties who stole McNamee's money. The carter who drove them from the station on the night of the robbery with a valise similar to the one containing the money has identified the prisoners. One of the parties had five hundred dollars in new bills in his possession. They are supposed to belong to a gang operating in this city.

From the amount already realized out of the assets of the Mechanics' Bank it is confidently expected that 45 cents on the dollar will be ultimately paid to the creditors.

The stock market is strong to-day, and the Bank of Montreal has recovred 3 per cent. of the late fall.

The Northman left Port Dalhousie on Thursday afternoon, the 15th instant with favorable wind and acceptable weather. She was loaded by Mr. Merritt, of the Welland Railway, at St. Catharines, with 23,400 bushels of wheat and 600 bushels of corn, and set sail for Kingston. Since then nothing has been heard of her, and the owner has not the slightest doubt but she has gone to the bottom in the storm which prevailed about that time.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—Increasing north-easterly to south-easterly winds; partly cloudy to cloudy weather, with rain to-night.

FIVE street corner loafers sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment in Charlottetown. This is an interesting item for the Guelph youths to ponder over. Move on.

A SPECIAL meeting of the City Council takes place this afternoon to consider the question of making a grant to aid the sufferers by the Hull fire.

REMEMBER the adjourned sale of the Garafraxa farm, east half of lot 25, con. 8, at the City Hall, Guelph, on Saturday next, April 24, at noon.

"How can I learn architecture" is a new publication by the Toronto News Company. It contains hints to engineers and directions to draftsmen, and costs twenty-five cents.

BAPTIST CHURCH SOCIAL.—The monthly social held last night in connection with the Baptist Church was largely attended, and a lengthy programme was exceedingly well rendered.

TO-DAY marks the 176th anniversary of the publication of the first newspaper in America. In 1704 the News Letter was published in Boston, and it was the first newspaper in America.

FEES ON PETROLEUM.—The following is a statement of the fees collected for the inspection of petroleum during the second half of 1879:—Guelph $871, Hamilton $75, London $7.267, Paris $72, Sarnia $3,219, Toronto $567, Montreal $959. Total, $13,033.

POLICE COURT NOTES.—James Keough charged with fighting with Christopher Keough while on Waterloo Avenue a few days ago was to-day fined $3 and $2 costs. John Goggins, on a charge of fighting, was fined $1 and costs, and in default of payment was sentenced to five days' imprisonment. John Munroe, for being drunk on Wyndham street yesterday, was sentenced to ten days in gaol.

THE Young People's Union of Dublin street Church held a very pleasant meeting last evening. The editor and editress of the Wide Awake presented the first numbers of their journal, and some spicy articles and contributions were read. Songs and choruses made up the entertainment of the evening, and a happy time was spent. The Union is in a flourishing condition, and the members appear to be in earnest in the matter of enhancing its success.

CIVILITY TOWARDS REPORTERS.—The charges brought by a Globe reporter against Chief Draper, of the Toronto police force, for using unbecoming and ungentlemanly language, was investigated by the Board of Police Commissioners on Wednesda,y and was allowed to drop, as the Board held that the reporter had not established his case. Judge McKenzie, however, advised him to be courteous to all newspaper reporters connected with respectable journals, as their influence was very great.

FIREMEN'S SALARIES.—In connection with the reduction of firemen's salaries, proposed by the Fire, Water and Gas Committee of the City Council, it may not be uninteresting to give the cost of maintenance of the Fire Brigade of Belleville,—a city of 11,000 population—in order to show how our expenditure for fire protection compares with that city. In Belleville two practical engineers are employed at a salary of $200 each; two stokers, who receive 75c for each alarm; two teams of horses, one supplied under contract, for $2 each team; a single horse for each hose reel, also supplied under contract, for $1.25 each per day; three volunteer companies are paid $200 each, and the chief engineer receives a salary of $200. The cost of maintaining the Guelph Fire Brigade last year was $1,750, which comparison will show to be much less than that of Belleville.

Guelph Rifle Association.

The annual meeting of this Association was held in the City Hall, on Thursday night. There was a good attendance. Mr. J. H. Moore, President, occupied the chair. Mr. W. H. Marcon, in the absence of Mr. Geo. Anderson, the Secretary, read the annual report, which congratulated the Association on the economical way in which the Association was carried on. Although it had not received the annual Government grant, the financial statement showed very favourably. With reference to the practices and prizes offered, no doubt owing to the dull times, the proportion of members who completed the eight practices was very small. At the first match of the season on the 24th of May, there was a good attendance. The fall match was very well attended, Lieut. Crowe won the Ontario Badge with a score of 76 out of a possible 105. The Association is indebted to the merchants of the city for their liberality, in giving prizes and donations. Several of the members during the season attended matches at London, Toronto, and Ottawa, and made a record second to none. The report gives high praise to Wheeler Ogg, of the W. F. Battery, whose record is worthy of special mention, and has been made special mention of by the press. Among other honours he won, was that of the Governor General's prize—the highest offered in the country—which placed him first in the team for 1880. The report recommends the letting of the marking for the season by contract, to try and secure some extra rifles, and to establish minor matches on Saturday afternoons. It also recommends every member to use his influence in getting new members.

The financial statement shows the receipts $146.81, and the expenditure $143,-95, but there are some outstanding accounts not paid, which leaves a deficit of $14.88.

The report and financial statement were adopted.

Vice-President, G. W. Anderson.
Secretary and Treasurer, John Crowe.
Committee of Management: W. Macdonald, John Ogg, J. H. Moore, R. W. Stewart, F. Locke, Dr. Howitt, Jas. Speirs and F. Simpson.

The President elect took the chair, and among other things referred with pride to the position won by John Ogg as winner of the Governor-General's prize for 1879, and first place on the Wimbledon Team for 1880. He expressed the hope that all difficulties in the way of Mr. Ogg's going to the Wimbledon match this year would be overcome.

It was resolved that the regular practices should be every Tuesday afternoon, beginning first Tuesday in May and ending last Tuesday in August. That for officers prizes, 200 and 500 yards, the scores be eight instead of six.

Teachers and Inspectors—New Regulations.

Regulations have been issued by the Minister of Education which tend to consolidate and harmonize the various parts of the Provincial educational system. The practical result seems to be that the Toronto Normal School will be relieved from the necessity of continuing its first division, and directs all the teaching force towards the instruction of candidates for second class certificates. They provide for the ranking by the Educational Department of a man having passed out of his first year with honors in either classics, mathematics or modern languages, in Toronto University, with a "curriculum of equal standard" as one who has passed the non-professional examination for first-class certificates, grade B. They further allow a man having passed out of his second year with honors in any of the above subjects to rank as having passed the non-professional examination for first-class certificates, grade A. Any candidate having passed with honors in his second year in natural sciences, or mental moral science, and civil polity, is reckoned as having obtained a first-class grade B. certificate, and one who has passed with honors in either of last mentioned subjects in his third year is reckoned as having obtained a first-class certificate, grade A. After May, 1880, every candidate for a third-class certificate must pass in the subjects prescribed "Intermediate Examination" in High Schools, and all examinations for these last named certificates before country boards are discontinued. Graduates of McGill College in Montreal are allowed to become P. S. Inspectors in this Province.

Chief Justice Wood, of Manitoba, has decided that when wages are due laborers on the Pacific Railway through default of payment of the sub-contractors the chief contractors are liable. In a test case which has just been concluded, judgment was given for the plaintiffs for the full amount of their claim.

THE GREAT FIRE AT HULL.

THE SITUATION OF THE PEOPLE BURNED OUT.

Relief Much Wanted.

OTTAWA, April 22.—The fire at Hull yesterday evening was most destructive in its character, fully one third of the city being swept by the flames. Six hundred buildings were destroyed, and 4,000 persons rendered homeless. This number may appear large in proportion to the houses burned, but the average number of persons to a family in Hull is notoriously larger than elsewhere. It is in truth the practice of herding together that made Hull such an unhealthy place.

The loss is estimated at $25,000. Twenty blocks have been destroyed. The road leading from Ottawa to Hull was lined with vehicles laden with furniture belonging to people burned out who were moving to Ottawa. The scene of the fire itself revealed a large space half a mile square covered with white cinders, presenting the appearance of an alkali plain. Of ruins there was absolutely none. The fire sweep was so thorough that there are little or no remnants of burnt timber save the ashes, and those even have been scattered in every direction by the wind. Here and there a red looking heap appeared, which on inspection proved to be the contents of ice houses. The whole of the structures had disappeared, but the ice remained. Quite a number of horses, cows and pigs were burned.

Relief committees have been organized in this city as well as in Hull, and liberal subscriptions are being made. This morning hundreds of loaves were sent over to Hull from Ottawa, but it is no easy task to feed 4,000 people. One lumberman, Mr. Booth, gave 400 loaves of bread. Contributions in food are being received from all sources. Gifts in money, however, will be very acceptable, and relieve much distress. The Governor-General and the Princess have subscribed $500 to the relief fund. Mr. Eddy gave $1,000, and Mr. Alonzo Wright $500. There can be no doubt now that two persons were burnt to death. An old lady named Madame Goyette, whose life in the natural order of things would have soon ended, fell a victim to the flames. At midnight her body was found near the corner of Wellington and Church streets, where she kept a grocery. The body was terribly charred and her limbs horribly distorted. As the fire approached the house of another woman, whose name has not been obtained, she commenced removing her furniture. Amidst all the excitement she forgot until the house was in flames, that her little girl was asleep on a bed in the attic. With the instinctive impulse of a mother she rushed into the burning building, but was followed by Mr. Ackroyd, of Ottawa, who, seeing the folly of the attempt, seized the woman and dragged her back, and only in time to save both their lives, as the roof fell in soon after.

THE roadway on Carden street, near Wyndham street, is being levelled and improved.

CURLING RINK.—The annual meeting of shareholders of the curling rink was held on Thursday evening in the office of Mr. Charles Davidson, Day's Block. The Secretary-Treasurer's annual report was received, showing the finances to be in a flourishing condition and a handsome dividend. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year:—D. Stirton, President; Adam Robertson, vice-President; Trustees, A. Bruce, C. Davidson, J. Barclay, T. Dobbie, R. Mitchell; John Davidson, Sec.-Treas. The meeting then adjourned.

ST. GEORGE'S DAY.—This being the anniversary of St. George and the natal day of "Merrie" England, true Englishmen everywhere will endeavor to feel more jubilant than usual. The flag was hoisted above the City Hall this forenoon in honour of the event. In the evening St George's Society will celebrate the day by a concert in their Hall on Upper Wyndham street. The affair promises to be one of more than usual interest. A lengthy programme has been prepared comprising among those who will take part Mr. James Kennedy and Mr. George Baker, who are well known as excellent character singers. The best local talent has also been secured for the occasion.

Masonic Hall Company.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Guelph Masonic Hall Company, was held on Thursday evening, when the financial statement of the Secretary-Treasurer was submitted, which shows the affairs of the Company to be in a satisfactory condition financially. A dividend of 4 per cent. has been declared for the half year ending 31st March. Scrutineers were appointed, who, after the ballot was taken, declared the following shareholders duly elected. Directors for the ensuing year, viz.:—A. B. Petrie, John Inglis, Wm. Tytler, T. Y. Greet, Chas. Pettifford, John Scoon, David Kennedy, all re-elected.

A Bill has been introduced in the United States Senate authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Detroit River.

Geo. R. Kingsmill, the immigration agent, is now located at St. Paul—no doubt to counteract the influence of the pamphlets recently issued by the Government for the benefit of Western Yankee Land Companies.

Carroll, Purtell, McLaughlin and Thos. Ryder, four of the men accused of the Donally tragedy, have gone to work breaking stones in the gaol yard at London; the monotony of gaol life was more than they could stand.

Richard Nolan, Arthur, who has been in gaol since November 20th, in default of surety to keep the peace towards John Walsh, of the same place, whose barn he threatened to burn, was brought before His Lordship. He said that when he made the threat he was joking. He was discharged after giving his recognizance in $100 to keep the peace.

Graham v. Eagle—In the first case which was for trespass to the front part of the lot, the verdict was for the plaintiff and $25 damages with full costs. Mr. Guthrie, Q. C., for plaintiff; Mr. Macdonald, for defendant.

Graham v. Eagle—In the second case, which was for trespass to the rear part of the lot, the verdict was for the plaintiff. Damages $75 with full costs. Mr. Guthrie, Q. C., for plaintiff; Mr. Macdonald, for defendant.

The Gauhan-Howard Case.

FOR THE DEFENCE.

George Howard, defendant, was called—I was Mayor of Guelph in 1878 and 1879; Mr. Day the member for St. James' ward resigned and a new election was called; the first election was called about the middle of July; among the candidates was Mr. Gauhan, and it was found that under the special act he had not a proper qualification to sit in the council; Mr. Gauhan told me he had been away and was nominated without his consent; I saw him after the election; he asked me to take his declaration, and I told him that he was not properly qualified and I could not take his declaration; before he took his seat at the council I saw him; he took his seat on the 18th August; there were two council meetings previous to this date after his election; Mr. Gauhan previous to the 18th August said that he heard I would object to him taking his seat; I said I would carry out my views and gave him to understand that if he took his seat I would have him removed; we have never had any angry words together; I said the Chief of Police or some constable would remove him; I spoke of Mr. Horsman's qualification as a Justice of the Peace at one meeting of the council; when Mr. Gauhan took his seat on the 18th I called the attention of the council to the fact that there was a member who had not fyled the necessary declaration of qulification; I asked Mr. Gauhan to leave his seat and he replied that he would not until removed by force; I did not use the word arrest; the Chief of Police came into the chamber and touched Mr. Gauhan on the shoulder, and asked him to leave his seat; Mr. Gauhan asked the Chief by whose authority he was acting and he said by the Mayor's; the new election took place in the latter part of August; on his return to the council after the second election I read Mr. Blake's opinion on the aldermanic qualification and said I was more thoroughly convinced than before that the view I took of the matter was right; Mr. Gauhan asked to be allowed to address the Council, which request I submitted to the Council and said that privilege should be allowed as a matter of courtesy; he asked me if I acted on own my responsibility or in my public capacity; he afterwards assured me that he thought I was acting in a way I thought to be right, that some of his friends were urging him to take action against me, but he had a mind of his own and would do as he liked.

To Mr. McMahon—I acted on advice in the later proceedings in the case; I knew beforehand Mr. Gauhan intended to take his seat; I had no objection to Mr. Gauhan filling the seat more than any one else; three meetings of the Council took place before Mr. Gauhan put in an appearance, but at one there was no quorum; I asked the Chief of Police to be present the night that Mr. Gauhan came; before the meeting when I had told Mr. Gauhan what course I would take he went to see the Chief of Police; the town was interested in settling the question.

FOR REBUTTAL.

Frank Gauhan, recalled, said his impression was that it was on the second occasion on which he was asked to leave the Council Chamber that he asked Mayor Howard if he was acting on his own responsibility.

This concluded the case.

The counsel for the plaintiff and defendant made able and lengthy addresses in behalf of their clients.

Mr. Justice Cameron after explaining the circumstances which had given rise to this case, went on to state that Aldermen in cities were required to have a property qualification of a freehold of $1,500 or a lease hold of $3,000. The property qualifications in towns was $800 freehold and $1,600 lease hold. Guelph became a city in April last year. The election under which the officers of the corporation were acting took place under the qualifications required for town Councillors, not for city Aldermen. It appeared that the qualification of the plaintiff was a lease hold property assessed at $2,200, being $800 less than the qualification for a city Alderman, and $600 more than the qualification of a town Councillor. The Mayor then assuming to determine the qualification of this plaintiff, determined to have him removed from the Council if he presumed to take his seat there. The matter was discussed, and the plaintiff became aware that such was the case, and yet in the assertion of his right as the representative of the people, he went there to discharge his duty. It was an exceedingly high handed measure for any one to presume to remove him from that position, judging of his qualification before it had been determined by the duly constituted authorities that he had not the qualification required to entitle him to a position there. He did not find that the Mayor had any authority in such a matter. It seemed a little startling that any man who was a member of the Council should have thought fit to question in the Council Chamber the qualification of a man who had been elected by the people. He was elected and was an Alderman de facto whether he was de jure, and his acts as an Alderman in fact, would have been just as binding as his acts as an Alderman in law. So the people of St. James' Ward having elected him to that position, were entitled to his services, and no one should have removed him. It was an interference with the rights of the people for any one to do so, and it might be carried to a very dangerous extent. It was true that in this particular case there did not appear to be a shadow of reason for believing that this defendant had any mproper motive, or that any end was to be gained that was not right, by the course that he was pursuing. It might be, that if the Mayor had the right to say who should sit at the Council Board, he might weed the council of all obnoxious persons and carry just such measures as he pleased or as those who acted with him pleased and thus people's rights would be sacrificed. These were the simple facts. There was an assault committed. What the Chief of Police did, though done in a gentlemanly way amounted to an assault—it amounted to an interference with the right of this plaintiff to his seat in the council and it amounted to an interference with the rights of the people for the time being, and so it was an unquestionable wrong. The plaintiff said he was denied the honor of representing the people at the Vice-Regal reception. He was not hurt pecuniarily, nevertheless it excluded him from the position of honor that he as one of the representatives of the people would have had. It did not appear to be a case in which vindictive damages ought to be awarded. The plaintiff did not ask for vindictive damages but he wanted such a verdict as would show the persons filling the honorable position of Mayor of the City of Guelph or any other city that they shall not overstep the just bounds of their authority, and interfere with the people in an unauthorized way. It was a matter for the consideration of the juryand if under the circumstances they thought the ends of justice would be best served by giving a nominal verdict they were at liberty to do so.

The jury after about half an hour's deliberation returned a verdict for the plaintiff and $100 damages.

CONTRIBUTED.

To-day marks the 53rd anniversary of the birth of Guelph and its first anniversary as a City. The pomp which signalized its entrance to the list of cities a year ago will not soon be forgotten by residents here or in the country. In common with other places the last year has not been a prosperous one with Guelph, but when these times of depression in trade are taken into consideration we must feel satified that we have held our own with other Canadian cities. It may be unpleasant to witness the departure of citizens, who cannot find employment, from our midst, but in this respect we have no more reason for complaint than other places. It must be a source of satisfaction to know that there are among us enterprising men who entertain bright hopes for the future of Guelph, and whose desire to assist its progress will not allow them to rest satisfied until they have adopted every means that are likely to help the growth of the city. The revival of trade generally will in time affect Guelph beneficially, and it will also be benefitted by the lessons of economy and management learned by business men and manufacturers while labouring under the depression. A revival in trade will in time bring back to the city more than those who have left it.

The difficulties which business men have experienced in battling with the depression will have good results. It will make them more thorough, more energetic, more economic, more cautious, and teach them to calculate well as to profit and loss before launching into new enterprises. As every great difficulty brings out men equal to the emergency so the depression felt here will have set men thinking how to forward the interests of the city and the city will benefit by their plans.

Within the year a Property Owners Association has been formed, and the result of their discussions has led to a joint committee of members from that Association and from the City Council being formed to devise the best means of inducing manufacturers to locate here. The result of this agitation is partially seen by the proposal to establish malleable iron works which will soon be carried into effect. No doubt the result will be the establishment of other important manufactories in our midst.

Another important event within the year has been the opening of the water works for fire and domestic purposes. The increased fire protection must be a consideration which capitalists wishing to engage in manufacturing cannot overlook. The results which the water works will have in improving the value of city property and beautifying the city may be anticipated. Already a number of citizens have undertaken to form a beautiful pleasure ground of the plot at the head of Wyndham street. The value of property in that neighborhood will, as a matter of course, be enhanced by the improvement. The example of those about improving that lot will be followed by others in different Wards of the city and people will take pride in aiding nature to beautify the city.

Guelph from its birth, fifty-three years ago, to the time of its inauguration on the 23rd of April last, made rapid progress as village and town, and all things considered there is no reason or doubt that it will be equally prosperous as a city. Let our citizens heartily unite in securing this great object.

A SCHEME has been drawn up with approval of the Canadian Government for the establishment of an army reserve, to consist of 10,000 men drawn from the Dominion militia, who will be liable to service in the Dominion, England, or abroad, in the event of Great Britain being involved in war.

MR. WURTELE, M. P. P. for Yamaska, has left for Paris, where he goes ostensibly on business concerning the Landed Credit Company, but in fact to see whether it would be possible to borrow money for the Quebec Government, which cannot raise the wind in England or America.

The Political Crisis in Britain.

Lord Beaconsfield's resignation having been accepted by the Queen on Wednesday night, Lord Hartington was sent for next day, and after his return from Windsor he had a conference with Lord Granville and Gladstone and Forster. The Daily News says that nothing can be publicly stated until after Hartington has again visited the Queen. The entire Liberal party, however, believe that Gladstone will be summoned. The Standard says Lord Hartington will advise the Queen to entrust the commission of forming a new Government to Mr. Gladstone. The Times speaks to a similar effect and adds:—"The Queen will act strictly in the spirit of the constitution and will not hesitate to entrust the premiership to whichever statesman may be finally indicated as the natural leader of the party," alluding to the Queen's reported aversion to Mr. Gladstone.

MR. WALLACE'S 'rag baby' resolutions were 'dropped' on Wednesday afternoon, in the absence of that gentleman from his seat. This will not prevent the question from being discussed in the House.

THE people of the maritime provinces do not appear to be in love with the tariff. Frst there was a petition against it from 5,000 electors of St. John, then one from 6,000 electors of Prince Edward Island, while on Wednesday all the leading ship owners in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia through the Finance Minister himself petitioned for a drawback of $1.15 per ton on all ships constructed since the tariff came into operation, to offset the additional cost of material since the tariff came into operation.

SOME correspondents appear to have been passing between the British Columbia Legislature and the Secretary of States for the Colonies relative to the construction of the Pacific railway. In view of the progress being made by the Dominion Government and which has been accepted as an evidence of good will he does not deem it expedient to offer any advice. We should think not when the Government have determined to build the road in British Columbia all for the benefit of that Province, for it will be ot no use for many years to any other part of the Dominion.

IN the Senate, Hon. Mr. Wark, has given notice that he will call attention to the important bearing of the proposed Panama canal on the future prosperity of the Dominion, and the necessity, when such work is constructed, of securing the unrestricted use thereof not only for our commerce, but for that of the whole empire, and inquire whether the Government have any correspondence with the Imperial Government on the subject. Mr. Wark seems to be a man of large ideas, but can he not safely leave the whole question to our Foreign Canadien Minister in London, Sir A. T. Galt.

GALT Reformer:—Last week we published a statement of facts in regard to the operation of the 'N. P.' in the milling business, with the opinion of a Preston miller on the 'N. P.' and its authors In our contemporary a brief denial appears under the signature S. J. Cherry, who evidently thinks that he is the party to whose opinions we made reference. This denial has been paraded by the Mail and other Conservative organs as an instance of Grit incorrectness. But it so happens that our informant was not Mr. S. J. Cherry, miller, but Mr. J. Cherry, miller, whose opinions, it now appears, differ considerably from those of his brother, who is apparently a warm supporter of the 'N. P.'

At the Democratic Convention for New York City and State, which met at Syracuse on Tuesday, a resolution was passed declaring that the nomination to the Presidency of Samuel J. Tilden would be fatal to the Democratic party. They seemingly have not forgotten that at the election in 1876 it was proved that he was engaged in a very disgraceful attempt to buy up the vote in the Southern States in the contest for the Presidency. This rendered him an emphatically lame horse in the present race, the more especially if Grant should be the Republican nominee. Regarding this resolution the World, the chief Democratic organ in New York, says it rests now with the National convention at Cincinnati to give the divided Democracy of New York a canditate upon whom they can unite or to elect Grant. The Times says the net result of their deliberations leave the Democratic party of New York a little further from harmony than it was before.

THE $15,000 ROBBERY.—Detective Fahey sent off twenty telegrams on Wednesday to different points to intercept the robbers of the valise containing the $15,000 lost by Mr. Watt Turner, Mr. F. B. McNamee's bookkeeper, Montreal. It was generally supposed that the thieves had taken a freight train from Point St. Charles for the West, and this idea was borne out by the receipt of a telegram to-day from the Chief of Police at Ogdensburg to the effect that three men corresponding to the description given by the carter had bought tickets on Thursday morning for Rochester, one of them carrying a yellow valise.

FIRE AT BONDHEAD.—On Thursday morning a most disastrous fire broke out in the premises of J. W. Morrison, and in a short time the greater part of the north side of the village was in ruins. Ten families are left homeless. The following are the sufferers:—J. W. Morrison, Joseph M. Carter, A. H. Carter, William Gilkinson, Grennick, saddler, Thomas Proctor, R. Stevenson, saddler, A. Richardson, Hugh McCracken, W. Jeffrey, J. W. Stewart, Alfred Manning, Mrs. Lytle. Total loss, $21,000.

A Prince Edward Islander, who was recently deluded with a number of others into emigrating to Colorado, writes to the Charlottetown Examiner warning others from following his example.

The Ancient Order of Foresters assembled in district session at London, Ont., have decided in favor of the establishment of a subsidary High Court in Canada.

OTTAWA, April 22.

On the third reading of the Bill respecting the militia and defence of the Dominion of Canada Mr. Ross (Middlesex) moved in amendment that the Bill be referred back to the Committee of the Whole, with instructions to eliminate the fourth clause, which provides for the establishment of canteens in regimental camps. In support of the amendment he pointed out the demoralizing effect which these canteens would have upon the young men who composed the militia force. The amendment was greeted with a storm of cries of lost from the Ministerial benches.

Mr. Masson who had charge of the Bill, defended the clause, and claimed that the temperance members of the Senate saw no objection to the provision, as it would place the sale of liquor to the young men under restrictions imposed by the militia authorities. He could not consent to the elimination of the clause.

Mr. Scriver rebuked the uncharitable allusions made by Mr. Plumb, and gave a warm support to the amendment.

Mr. Wm. Macdougall and Mr. Longley, both Ministerialists, spoke strongly against the clause, declaring it to be opposed to the wishes and sentiment of the great mass of the electorate and practically annulling the operations of the Scott Act, and giving an endorsation to the use of alcoholic liquors which it was undesirable the Government should give. Mr. Macdougall even contended that eminent military authorities had discovered in the recent experience of the British troops that the soldiers manifested more endurance without alcoholic liquors than with it.

The Opposition loudly cheered the speeches of both these hon members. The Government saw that the sentiment of the House was against them, and the amendment, which was first refused, was accepted without dissent. The amendment was made in the Committee, and the Bill passed the third reading, as also did Mr. Baby's Bill to consolidate and amend the Acts respecting the Inland Revenue.

After recess the Minister of Justice's Bill to amend the Act respecting cruelty to animals was advanced a stage.

A message from the Governor-General was received, recommending a grant of $7,000 for the relief of the Hull sufferers from fire. On motion of the Premier, seconded by Mr. Mackenzie, the House went into Committee and voted the necessary sum.

The House then went into Committee of Supply upon the Estimates. The votes for the Intercolonial and Pacific Railway on capital account were made, after which that for Ocean and River Service was considered.

Under this head the Premier made an important announcement in regard to the item of $50,000 for subsidizing a line of steamboats from Canada to Rio Janeiro, Brazil. He said that the Brazilian Government were about to select a building in Rio where Canadian products such as were required in Brazil could be exhibited, and that the Canadian Government were going to procure and exhibit in Montreal specimens of such American and British products as were exported to Brazil, so that Canadian manufacturers could study the goods with which they would have to compete for this important trade.

The vote under the head of Fisheries was adopted, as also were several others of minor interest.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN EGREMONT.—A very sad and fatal accident occurred in the township of Egremont on Wednesday evening. Mr. Wm. J. Dillon was seated on a land-roller in his waggon, and when within a mile of his home on proceeding down a hill, the roller jolted forward and precipitated him over the front of the waggon, the wheel passing over his body. He was carried to his residence and medical aid summoned. He lingered until morning, when death terminated his sufferings. The deceased was an old resident in the township.

It is estimated that by next year the population of St. Thomas will be ten thousand, the number required to enable the town to rank as a city.

THE WHEAT CROP.—The Galt Reformer says: In the neighborhood of Galt the fall wheat is in excellent condition, and around Paris quite as promising, if not more so. In the township of Dumfries, with few exceptions, wheat is looking as well as usual at this season. Between Berlin and Preston many fields are exceedingly poor, and in the neighborhood of Baden as well as in a great part of Wilmot wheat promises a crop much below the average.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN FERGUS.—William Jeffe, a feeble old man about sixty, a farmer from Garafraxa, near Marsville, while in Fergus on Thursday, was in the act of turning his waggon when he fell from the seat, and alighting on his head, was killed almost instantly. He was a man of temperate habits and had not been drinking during the day.

The Tay Bridge Investigation.

In the investigation of the Tay Bridge disaster before the Board of Trade on Tuesday, Henry Law, civil engineer, who was sent by the Board of Trade to examine the bridge after the accident, testified to various defects in the design, material, workmanship, and arrangement of the bridge, confirming in important particulars the workmen's evidence taken at Dundee as to defective columns, bolts, lugs, and flanges. In his opinion the base of the pier was too narrow, occasioning a very great strain upon the struts and ties. The angles at which the latter were disposed, and the mode of connecting them to the columns, were such as to render them of little or no use, and the other imperfections which had been pointed out lessened the power of the column to resist the crushing strain. He considered that the yielding of the struts and ties was the immediate cause of the disaster, but the other circumstances stated contributed to it.

At the inquiry, Henry Law, C.E., further testified regarding the strength of the material of the piers, and stated that whereas the specifications required a tensile strength of twenty-one tons to the square inch, some of the tie bars gave way in testing at a tensile strength of fifteen tons to the square inch. He said some of the rivet holes were two large for the bolts, several nuts were defective, and in each of the piers two columns were cracked and had bands around them. The inquiry was then adjourned.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. About Manure.

A ton of manure having 1,500 pounds of water in it, which is about 25 cubic feet, it follows that it will dissolve or absorb about 17,500 cubic feet of ammonia gas before it is saturated. Besides this, manure contains much sulphuric acid in combinations from which it will escape to combine with ammonia, and in this way a large portion of the ammonia formed in decomposition of the manure will be changed to sulphate of ammonia which is a stable compound. Therefore the fear that ammonia may be lost is hardly to be entertained so long as the manure is moist; a day of warm wind and sunshine will certainly do mischief by evaporating the moisture, and this is the only risk of loss to be feared. It may be perfectly safe to draw out and spread manure in cold or showery weather at this season, but the work should not be permitted to go so far ahead but that it may be covered with the plow if the necessity occurs.

But in some cases the practice is convenient. Twenty loads a day may be hauled and dropped in small heaps, thus releasing the team from a waste of time in waiting while the manure is spread; a spread hand may be employed to do the spreading while the team is at work covering. From the foregoing it will be gathered that this work is essentially one for early spring. It may be done when the ground is too wet to be plowed, or while it is still crusted with frost. Better still, it may be done by means of sleds on the last snow with much economy of labor, and an onerous labour is out of the way before the hurry of plowing and sowing comes.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

A Man Who Found Some Money.

The other day a very common looking man, dressed in very common clothes, entered a saloon on Woodward avenue at a moment when the proprietor was alone and asked him to look the door a moment, and count the contents of a pocket-book which he had just picked up on the street. The door was locked, and as a fat looking wallet was handed out the stranger said:

"I can't read nor write nor tell figgers, but I know you won't cheat me."

The money counted up just $100. There were two twenty-dollar bills, and the rest were of smaller denominations. The stranger said he would hand the wallet over to the police, and thanked the saloonist and departed. In about a quarter of an hour he retured and confidentially said:

"I gave up all the money but a ten-dollar bill, which I'm going to keep for my honesty. Let's drink."

He threw down one of the $20 bills and drank his beer. It was remembered that he had said he couldn't tell the figures on the bills and was given change for $10.

"Was that a five or a ten?" he asked, as the twenty was put away.

"Oh, that's a ten," was the reply.

The man drank once more, and then took his leave. In the course of an hour a detective was looking for him on a charge of passing a counterfeit bill, but he could not be found. Maybe that saloonist made $10 out of him, and maybe he didn't. Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Blake's Speech.

The Hamilton Times in referring to Mr. Blake's great speech on the construction of that portion of the Pacific Railway in British Columbia, gives in succinct form the general heads of it as follows:—

1. That the fixed policy of the country has from the inspection of the enterprise been that the Pacific railway shall not be constructed at a rate of speed that will add to the burdens of the people.
2. The true inwardness of the visit of the three Canadian Ministers to England last summer, and their failures.
3. The construction of the British Columbia link.
4. The cost, construction and running expenses of the whole line.
5. The enormous interest account to be saddled on the country.
6. The utter weakness of the Government's policy for paying for the road.
7. Sir John Macdonald's absurd calculations about the settlement of the Northwest.
8. The fallacious expectations with regard to selling off the Government lands.
9. The visionary and unreal character of the Government's railway and land policy.
10. The critical position of Canada overburdened with taxes and groaning under a reign of deficits.
11. Time to call a halt in the national expenditures.
12. The true means of developing the country.
13. The necessity of a people out of debt and of a commerce untrammelled by legislation if the country is to be prosperous.

Extraordinary Disease.

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—For over ten months an up town physician has been attending a case of disease that is so rare that the like of it has never been known, or, at least, recorded in medical works. It is a case of real melanosis, or pigmentation, where the pigment, or melanæmia, as it is technically called, which gives color to the hair and eyes, pervades the whole body, A boy born of white parents, and perfectly natural in color at his birth, turned under the disease as black as a full-blooded negro. The parents live at No. 1,307 Lemon street, the father, John Salter, being a mechanic. Ten months after his marriage there was born to the couple a fine and apparently healthy boy. The infant thrived, and promised to develop into a robust man. He was a beautiful child, with fair complexion, dark eyes, and silky, dark brown hair, which grew in profusion. But in a few days the parents were alarmed at a remarkable change that was coming over the child. He gradually grew dark. At first his skin became a pale yellow, then deepened into a saffron hue, and then, to the terror of the parents, grew darker yet. The color was uniform all over the body, except at the joints where it was a little darker, and in the palms of the hands where it was lighter. The once brown hair grew stiff and jet black, and the eyes also grew darker, so that the line between the pupils and the iris could not be distinguished. In spite of medical treatment the boy became worse, and grew very weak, all the time the color of his skin deepening. At last he became as black as a full-blooded negro. Then he was attacked by convulsions, which grew more frequent and violent until they threatened the child's life. It was in one of these that Dr. Reynold's was called in. He succeeded in curing the spasms, and then devoted his attention to the strange disease which afflicted the child. He at once recognized it as melanosis or pigmentation, which is mentioned in the books in a general way, but there is no case given where it had developed all through the body. This was over 16 months ago, the child being then 13 months old. Since then the boy has greatly improved, by degrees becoming lighter, until he is now of a light chestnut brown color. Since Dr. Reynolds has had the case in charge the child has been visited by over 200 physicians.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.—The Times says: A report of vital interest to agriculturists has just been laid before the United States Senate by the Department of Agriculture. It is by an expert, who for a considerable time back has been investigating the causes of pleuro-pneumonia amongst horned cattle in the States. The disease has been observed in the States of Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland; but it is not to be assumed that it is confined to these States, because the contagious malady is known to exist in other places. One remarkable fact is tested by the veterinary surgeon which may go a long way to explain why Canada has been free from the disease, and the western States have had a remarkable immunity from its ravages. It has been found that in all the cases of pleuro-pneumonia discovered and investigated, the animals have been reared and fed in the vicinity of large cities, and in the greater majority of cases have had their wonted supplies of food augmented by the refuse of distilleries. This is a statement which is well worth noting. For it is to be feard that as in the experience of man, so in the case of animals, the quality of the food eaten has more to do with the maintenance of health than people generally think.

AN ABORTIONIST CAUGHT.—The Chatham Banner says: The police have been keeping close watch for some months on the premises occupied by one Madame Lamont, at the lower end of King street, suspecting that the keeper was engaged in the iniquitous practice of abortion. About ten days ago the vigilance of the chief was successful in bringing to light the true character of the place. On Monday of last week the chief discovered that a young girl named Ramsay—between 16 and 17 years of age—had been operated on by this woman, and he at once laid an information and procured a warrant for her arrest. The woman was arraigned the following day, and electing to take her trial before the Magistrate, she was found guilty, and sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the Penitentiary—a punishment altogether too trifling for such a grave offence.

The Quebec Legislature will be called together in May or the early part of June.

Action Called For.

To the Friends of Temperance and Prohibition in Canada:

In view of the decision of the Supreme Court by which the Canada Temperance Act has been sustained, and the power of Parliament to prohibit the Liquor Traffic clearly determined, we are directed by the Annual Meeting of the Council of the Dominion Alliance, which has just closed, to call for the immediate organization of all friends of Temperance and Prohibition throughout each Province of the Dominion, for the purpose of making systematic and persistent effort in harmony with the principles and aims of the Alliance. We urge the formation of Provincial Branches of the Alliance in those Provinces where they do not now exist, and the establishment of Auxiliaries in every city, county, or district.

We call upon each Branch to take a careful survey of its own Province, and to determine upon counties in which the Canada Temperance Act can be most advantageously submitted, either singly or in several counties contemporaneously, and throw all the influence and effort the Alliance can command into such counties with a view to securing decided majorities in favor of the Act, not only because it is properly regarded as a valuable and important means of suppressing the Liquor Traffic, but because its adoption by a large number of constituencies will clearly manifest the existence of a general approval of prohibitory legislation, and furnish a strong ground of appeal to Parliament for further legislation in that direction at no distant date.

It must, however, be acknowledged that the Canada Temperance Act cannot yet be adopted in several localities where its operations are most needed; it is, therefore, important that in addition to special efforts on behalf of the Act, a general agitation in favor of the principles of the Alliance should be constantly maintained in every portion of the land, and that in so far as the various Provincial License Laws furnish restraints upon the Liquor Traffic, the provisions of such laws should be honestly and rigidly enforced.

Whilst the Alliance does not insist upon Total Abstinence as a condition of membership, we earnestly and respectfully urge all who, upon public and economic grounds seek the suppression of the Liquor Traffic, to discountenance the use of Intoxicating Drinks, and to encourage and aid the various Temperance Societies that are doing most valuable work in all parts of Canada. We would also suggest that educationalists should remember this most vital national question both in the choice of teachers and in the course of study prescribed in our schools.

We regard it as important that those conducting the commercial and industrial operations of the country should be awakened to the magnitude of the results to be attained, and the necessity of cheerfully and liberally contributing to the support of our various Branches, that they may be thereby enabled to carry on the work upon a scale commensurate with its importance; and we call upon all friends of good order and social progress to unite in promoting the objects set forth in this address, to the end that the Alliance as a whole may become a recognized power for good, and its Council enabled to devise and carry out such measures as may secure its unity, strength and success.

Signed on behalf of the Council,

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack us wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœpathic Chemists, London, Eng." n4dw9md

Bold Counterfeiting Detected.

Parties have been detected in making and counterfeiting Hop Bitters, and illegally using the name Hop Bitters, a registered trade mark, which subjects every person who makes or sells anything with the name Hop Bitters, or pretending to be like it, to a fine of $100 for each sale, however small the sale is. The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., the sole owners of the trade mark, are prosecuting all violators of the law and enforcing heavy penalties, but are dealing very liberally with those who stop violating the law and settle without suit, and commence dealing in the genuine article, which is a valuable medicine and not a drink, as some of the counterfeits are. The genuine is sold by all druggists.

The Directors of the Bank of Montreal have declared a dividend of four per cent. for the half year ending April 30th. This is a reduction of one per cent., and the smallest dividend paid by the bank for very many years.

The weather in Nova Scotia continues backward for the season, and the farmers feel the want of fodder for their cattle severely. Hay commands in sections where it can be had, from $18 to $22 a ton.

On Monday a number of the employees of the Credit Valley Railway Company signified their intention of not resuming till they were paid wages long in arrears. A deputation was sent from Parkdale to the Company's office in Toronto, but their demands were not satisfied.

After an hour's desperate fighting the enemy were beaten and the whole body dispersed.

SMASH-UP ON THE CREDIT VALLEY RAILWAY.—The Credit Valley train due at Fergus at 2.30 p.m., Friday immediately after leaving for Elora, and within sight of that station, broke an axle and run down. The brakesman who was standing on the front platform of the hind coach jumped as the train stopped. A broken casting struck him over the left eye injuring him severely, but hopes are entertained of his recovery. The train is a perfect wreck.

AN UNFORTUNATE CASE.—An old pensioner, whose name could not be learned, called at the residence of Mr. Frank Smith, Arthur Street, on Friday morning and asked for something to eat. Mrs. Smith gave him his breakfast, and immediately after he had finished it he was attacked by a fit. Everything was tried to resuscitate him, but as soon as he partially recovered from one he was attacked by another fit. He continued in an unconscious condition till late in the afternoon, when he showed signs of recovery. In the evening it was learned that he lived in Elora, and he was sent to that village.

TROUT FISHING.—A day or two ago a man was seen sauntering along Waterloo Avenue with a number of fine brook trout attached to a string and a fishing rod over his shoulder. Men who find sport in fishing must know that there is a law prohibiting persons from trout fishing until the first of May, and people who are aware of infringements of this law would only be doing their duty to prosecute the guilty parties. In the present case our informant would prosecute but that he does not want to appear against the offender who is a friend. This is, however, a warning to those who may be inclined to break the law.

ENTERTAINMENT. — The entertainment given yesterday afternoon by the High School Literary Society, was by far the best one of the session. The chief part of the programme consisted of a debate on "Resolved that the parent has more influence over the child than the teacher." Mr. McGregor opened the debate on the side of the affirmative, followed by Messrs. Strachan, Pickard and McConnell; while Messrs. Brodie, Harrington, Renwick and D. McLean, attended to the negative. After the speakers on both sides had relieved themselves of a good deal of eloquence, the chairman, Mr. Smith, carefully weighed the arguments brought forward, but found those of the negative side wanting, and therefore decided in favor of the affirmative. A solo by Miss Knowles, duet by Misses Thompson and Brown, and a piano solo by Miss Thompson, which were all well rendered, greatly enhanced the proceedings. The next meeting will be held on Friday, May 7th.

ARRESTED AND SENT TO GAOL.—The Berlin Telegraph says:—Two fair but frail young ladies showily dressed, and giving their names as Lizzie White and Anna Walker, were brought before Squire Mackie on Monday last, charged on the information of High Constable Klippert with keeping a house of ill-fame in the neighborhood of the classic village of Hespeler. They pleaded guilty to the soft impeachment with a charming frankness, and were each mulcted in $27.90 or one month's imprisonment in gaol. Not being possessed of the necessary stamps, and none of their young gentlemen being gallant or wealthy enough to pay the amount for them, they were handed over to the tender care of Governor Pearson, who will board them at the expense of the county until their term expires, unless Tillie Yeates, of Brantford, who is said to be the head centre of the concern, or some one else comes to the rescue. No doubt the people of Hespeler will be glad to be rid of such an immoral establishment.

HOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—On Sunday evening last about five o'clock our citizens were startled by a terrific clap of thunder. It was soon discovered that the three storey brick house on John street occupied by the widow Albrecht had been struck by lightning. The electric fluid entered the chimney and came out at the stove pipe hole in the kitchen, tearing the plaster off the whole length of the ceiling about six feet wide, killing a cat which was under the stove, and scattering the utensils which were on it about the room, although the stove itself was not damaged to any extent. Mrs. Albrecht, who was working about the stove, was struck on the foot and her slipper torn completely off. Her foot and leg were badly blistered and her lower limbs paralysed from the stroke and she is now confined to her bed by the effects of the shock. After committing these freaks the fluid passed out through the kitchen door which was open, singeing the face of young Albrecht who was standing near and passed into the ground under the platform, the boards of which were all loosened and scattered about the yard. A portion of the discharge also struck a poplar tree at the front corner of the house tearing off some of its bark.—Berlin Telegraph.

The Printing Scandal Investigation.

OTTAWA, April 23.—The Printing Committee met and examined Mr. Charlton. He stated that he had tendered for Mr. Roger and was acting entirely in the latter's interest. In connection with the negotiations with Mr. Boyle he said: "I was authorized to pay him a sum of money, but not to offer him a partnership, but could not get it; that no negotiations could be made on that score; I was told I could offer between $2,000 and $3,000; I told Mr. Boyle he would not get the partnership; that McLean, Roger & Co. would not negotiate on that basis; Boyle said to take the money for the withdrawal of his tender would injure his reputation and that of his paper; he said something about not doing anything crooked; before leaving Boyle said that he would leave it to Cotton and myself, and would abide by any arrangement we made; thought more especially after the letter of withdrawal was received that Boyle meant that we were arranging the conditions for his withdrawal; paid Cotton the $3,000 for Boyle and never supposed that he was going to keep it himself; Hope first asked for $5,000, but only got $1,450; witness got nothing.

Mr. Boyle was the next witness and denied getting one cent; did not know until the Globe-Boyle trial that any money had been paid; wrote the letter of withdrawal because he supposed that Mackintosh had got the contract; witness had intended doing the work if given to him, and believed he could have made $50,000 out of the contract.

Mr. Costigan, M.P., appeared before the committee and stated that Carlton had offered Boyle $3,000 or $4,000 through him, but he had refused to have anything to do with it; believed Boyle had acted squarely.

Ald. Stares will be examined to-morrow, and on Wednesday next the committee will meet to consider the report.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure for Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions, for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming the paper. W. W. SHERAR, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

At the Assize Court on Friday, Catharrine Sabourin was placed on trial on the charge of having murdered her husband at Billings' Bridge, in the county of Carleton, on the 28th of January last. The fatal occurrence was the result of a drunken fight between husband and wife, in which the latter used an axe inflicting such wounds that death ensued two days after the affray. She was acquitted.

The late Henry Vincent, the English lecturer, once related to a corrospondent of The Tory Times that he was driving with John Bright when the news of Abraham Lincoln's death was told them by a man who stopped their carriage by the wayside for that purpose. Neither of the two Englishmen spoke a word in response. They drove on in utter silence; and bye-and-bye when each looked up at the other's face, the eyes of both were full of tears.

Special Meeting of City Council.

Relief for the Sufferers in Hull.

At a special meeting of the City Council held on Friday afternoon, there were present:—Mayor Sleeman, Ald. Coffee, McGuire, Biscoe, Doran, Stevenson, Fairbank, Hewer, Tyson, Bruce, McLagan, Lamprey.

The Mayor explained that he called the meeting in response to a telegram he received on Thursday morning from the Mayor of Ottawa, stating the condition of the sufferers by the Hull fire and asking assistance for their relief.

Ald. Biscoe and Bruce moved:—

"That the Mayor and Treasurer be authorized to forward immediately the sum of two hundred dollars for the relief of the sufferers by the late fire of the City of Hull, and that the Mayor express the feeling of regret and condolence of this corporation with the inhabitants on their serious loss by the conflagration."

In speaking to the motion, the mover and seconder referred to the action the Council took in reference to the Chicago and St. John's fires, and pointed out that in this case there was stronger reasons for making a grant, as Hull was nearer Guelph. They would like to make the sum larger but could not with the present condition of the finances.

The resolution was carried, every member present voting for it.

Guelph Horticultural Society.

A meeting of the Guelph Horticultural Society took place on Wednesday afternoon, a good number of members being present. The Secretary read a letter from Mr. F. Barron resigning his position as President of the Society, in consequence of his leaving his situation at the Model Farm and going to Toronto. This announcement was received, with great regret by the members, as Mr. Barron had always proved a sincere friend to the Society.

The following vote of thanks was then unanimously passed, a copy of which was ordered to be sent to Mr. Barron:—

Moved by Mr. Baker, seconded by Mr. Birney, that a vote of thanks be tendered to Mr. Barron for his past services as Director and President of the Guelph Horticultural Society, as he was always ready and willing to assist in furthering its interests, and while we regret his removal from our midst, we sincerely hope he may in his new situation be as successful and meet with as many warm friends as he leaves behind him in Guelph.

The meeting then proceeded to elect a President to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Barron's resignation.

Moved by A. A. Baker, seconded by W. Birney, that Mr. James Anderson be President. Carried.

Moved by W. H. Marcon, seconded by James Gilchrist, that Mr. A. A. Baker be Vice-President in place of Mr. Anderson, now appointed President. Carried.

Moved by Mr. James Gilchrist, seconded by W. Birney, that Mr. W. H. Marcon be a Director in place of Mr. Baker, who has been appointed Vice-President. Carried.

The Fire at Hull.

OTTAWA, April 23.—It is believed that three children were burned to death as well as the woman Goyette, although no remains have been found. One woman, a Mrs. Jolicoeur, has become insane. Rough shantics are being put up by some of those who were burnt out of house and home. The lumbermen at the Chaudiere are supplying a lot of lumber for buildings free of charge. Hundreds of people visited Hull yesterday and to-day. During yesterday afternoon His Excellency the Governor-General and H. R. H. Princess Louise, with suite, paid a visit to the scene of the fire. They visited the college and made inquiries regarding the sufferers, evincing much interest. Their practical sympathy was illustrated in the handsome donation made in the morning. After going through the college and viewing the burnt district from the cupola they made a survey of the fire swept section on foot. Her Royal Highness spoke words of encouragement to some of those, who had suffered by the fire. The distribution of relief to the sufferers so far has been made through the Christian Brothers at the college in Hull, but last night an executive committee was formed for the general management of business.

The $15,000 Thieves Captured.

The capture of the thieves who stole Mr. McNamee's $15,000 is one of the most clever transactions on record in the police annals of Montreal. Detective Fahey, of the Dominion Agency, had scarcely a clue to work upon. The carter's description of the two men he had driven was all he had to go by, and yet he succeeded in arresting five men, who gave their names as James Trainor, William Warner, Charles Lefroy, Joseph Brown, and James Smith. Along with them he captured $4,500, and it is expected he will capture the sixth man and the remainder of the booty. Two were recognized by Detective Cullen as the parties he saw shadowing the bookkeepre when the latter was drawing the money at the bank.

St. George's Society.

Those who attended the concert in St. George's Hall on Friday night—held in honour of St. George's Day—passed a most pleasant and enjoyable evening. The hall was comfortably filled with an audience composed of the sons and daughters of England, and a good sprinkling of representatives from the other nationalities. Mr. A. H. Goodeve President of St. George's Society, occupied the chair and on either side of him were seated Mr. George Bruce President of St. Andrew's Society and Mr. W. S. Heffernan President of St. Patrick's Society. Mayor Sleeman also occupied a seat on the platform. The stage was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks and the beautiful banner of the Society occupied a space on the wall opposite the entrance.

Mr. Goodeve by way of introducing the programme, referred to the history of St. George and the manner of celebrating the anniversary of his birthday. The Cross of St. George dated back to a very early period—long before the birth of Christ. St. George and the dragon did not date so far back, but at a very early period churches were dedicated to St. George. In the days of Canute a monastery of St. George was founded in England. St. George's Church, Southwark, was built before the Norman conquest. The Crusaders brought back from the Holy Land relics of the Soldier Saint, and England, Portugal and Genoa proclaimed St. George their Patron. In 1245, on St. George's day, Frederick of Austria founded an order of knighthood in his honour. In 1222 a council of Oxford proclaimed St. George's day a national holiday. In 1834 King Edward III founded St. George's chapel at Windsor. God and St. George then became the battle cry of Edward III in the wars with France. It was under that war cry that the Black Prince with less than 30,000 Englishmen defeated 120,000 French and Genoese, under King Philip, at the Battle of Cressy. It was with the same battle cry that with between 8,000 and 10,000 English he gained the great victory at Poitiers over King John and 60,000 of his best knights and troops. Thus it was that St. George first earned his place as Patron Saint of England. In 1350 the famous order of the Garter was instituted. In 1415 St. George's day was made a major double feast, and ordered to be observed the same as Christmas day. From that day to the present, although Russia also adopted him as its patron, he is generally regarded as especially watching over Old England.

Amid the saints, in death's dread hour,
And still the peasant seeks his grace,
And, next to God, reveres his power.

With sword, and shield, and helmet sheen.
Ye know him by his steed of pride
And by the Dragon at his side.

In concluding the President referred to the good the Guelph St. George's Society had accomplished in the way of charity, and urged all Enlishmen in the city to unite with the Society.

The musical part of the programme was then proceeded with, and was most successfully carried out under the direction of Prof. Philp. During the evening the Misses Sleeman played a number of piano duets in a lively strain. Mr. Higham sang "Hearts of Oak" in his usual well known style. Miss Phœbe Crowe in the first part sang "The Blue Danube," and in the second a sentimental sang with good effect. This lady is possessed of a sweet voice and though it is not of remarkable compass it filled the hall well. The same remark would apply to Miss A. Hastings, who sang "O'er meadows green, in a charming manner. The efforts of both ladies were fully appreciated as was evinced by loud encores. The second part opened with an instrumental duet by Mr. Philp and Miss Goodfellow, the former playing the violin and the latter an accompaniment on the piano. The notes sounded clear and harmonious and the effort met with loud applause. Mr. Hugh Walker sang "The Englishman" by special request, and his rendering of it as well as "Scotland Yet," in response to an encore excellent and highly appreciated. The comic songs of the evening were supplied by Mr. George A. Baker and Mr. James Kennedy, of Brantford. The former has not appeared before a Guelph audience before. His performance last night was mirth provoking in the extreme, and he made a very favorable impression in the characters he represented. His songs were "Simon the Cellarer," Lord Lovell" and in response to an encore "The nobby head of hair." Mr. Kennedy is well known as a comic singer. Unlike most comic singers he has a fine flexible voice. He excelled in the negro character, his best songs being "Them golden slippers," and "The Skidmore guard" which he introduced in his "horse act." The programme concluded with the National Anthem.

Exchange of Congratulations.

During the evening Mr. A. H. Goodeve, President, sent the following telegram to St. George's Societies of Brantford, Toronto, Hamilton, London and Ottawa:—

The St. George's Society sends kindly greetings to all. Hope you will spend a pleasant evening. We celebrate the anniversary by a grand concert.

A. H. GOODEVE, President.

TORONTO, April 23, 1880.

F. OSLER, President.

OTTAWA, April 23rd, 1880.

A. H. GOODEVE, President St. George's Society: St. George's Society, Ottawa, reciprocates your kind sentiments, and wishes your Society prosperity.

LONDON, April 23, 1880.

The St. George's Society of London, returns kindly greetings to the members of St. George's Society. They are spending a jolly good time interviewing an Englishman's pride, "Roast beef and good beer" at the City Hotel.

J. W. COX, Sec'y.

A Maine skipper pointed out to an ancient darkey, whose trick it was at the helm, a certain star to steer by. In luffing to meet a squall that came up rather savagely the old darky lost sight of the star. He hurriedly aroused the skipper, shouting, "Gimme anoder star, Capting; I'se done sailed past dat fust one."

The Cake Walk.

A Large Turn Out and Keen Competition.

Since it was announced that a cake walk was to be held in the Drill Shed, under the auspices of the B. M. E. Church, from the nature of the event, it was looked forward to with great expectancy as being one in which a hearty and laughable time could be spent. The object of the entertainment was to contribute funds towards the erection of a new church, to supplant the barracks now in use; and every credit is due to the pastor, Rev. Mr. Roberts, and his congregation for the efforts which they are putting forth in that direction, and if the meeting at the Drill Shed last night be a criterion, their efforts are fully appreciated and seconded by other denominations in the city. The Drill Shed was well filled, and far more people were present than might have been expected, considering that St. George's concert conflicted with this entertainment. A portion of the Artillery Brigade Band furnished music in the earlier part of the evening, but having to officiate at the St. George's concert, could not remain long. A supper was got up by the ladies, and after sufficient justice had been done thereto, the Rev. Mr. Roberts took the chair.

The rev. gentleman in a short speech stated the object for which the cake walk was got up, and also that the walk had to be done after military style. He had secured men who were able to judge these qualities, namely Captain Speirs, Sergt-Major Clements, and Lieut. Bond. He drew the attention of intending competitors to a number of handsome cakes which were to be the reward of the winners. The cakes were laid out temptingly to view on a table on the platform, on which was placed three bouquets of flowers, specially procured for the occasion, adding to the already fine effect. Over this department Messrs. Wright, Smallpiece and Cameron, of the Herald, were placed custodians, having arrived on the platform after partaking of a prolonged and evidently hearty supper, which fitted these guardians for the better and safe discharge of their duties.

The band having left, some difficulty was found in procuring suitable martial music to march by. Finally a large drum was secured, and an operator enlisted to perform, which he did with a vengeance.

Five couple entered for the first competition of five times round the drill shed. The judges, after due deliberation, awarded the prizes: First to Mr. Geo. Howard, second to Mr. Chas. Baker, third to Rev. Mr. Roberts. The walking of Mr. Spencer was greatly admired in this match. He kept the best time, but his style was a little affecting.

In the second competition, go as you please, seven couple, Mr Spencer took the first prize, Mr. George Parker the second, and Misses Duncan and Williams the third.

At the conclusion of this match a speech was called for from Mr. Spencer, who kindly responded, and advised the audience to go and do likewise.

Competition number three was the most exciting, and was after the walking match style. There was a large number of competitors, and the work became so warm that some of the male competitors had to throw off their coats and vest, and the cheering of the audience was tremendous as they encouraged the competitors. The awards in this match were made to Mr. Sam Brown, Miss Brown and Wm. Russell, and they deserved it.

This finished the cake prizes, but a special prize of $1 was offered by some employees of Raymond's factory, for the best heel and toe walker, the distance to be ten times round the drill shed. The number of entries were large and the competition very keen. Many lost their chances by breaking into a run. The judges had no difficulty in awarding the prizes in this instance, which were given to Mr. John Buckner and Miss Clara Russell. This walk was very exciting, and some of the parties who had got warmed up to their work could not be prevailed on to stop when the time was up, but continued on their way.

The prizes were then awarded, and speeches were loudly called for from Messrs. Baker, Spencer and Brown, who were among the successful competitors. The call was responded to by these gentlemen with all the characteristic style and vigor of the race.

The speech of the evening, however, was given by Mr. Venerable, who is a fluent orator, and would do credit to the Rev. Solomon Peter Hale for eloquence. This speaker opened his peroration amidst thunders of applause, and it contained throughout the originality and force of a great speech. He received as his reward the cake which was set apart for the reporters and the judges, they considering that the hour was too late to admit of competition for this prize. Mr. Venerable had to respond again, and the second speech was equally attractive as the first.

The Rev. Mr. Roberts wound up the meeting in a short speech congratulatory of the success of the entertainment and stated that an entertainment on a different principle, but equally attractive, would be held again shortly, which announcement was hailed with applause.

It was about eleven o'clock when the meeting adjourned.

The proceeds amounted to about $60, and all the accounts in connection with the affair were paid up this morning, something which would do credit to more pretentious congregations were they to follow the same example.

Two or three young men who might have known better tried their utmost to trip several of the walkers, a thing which was anything but creditable to their own respectability, and was justly resented by those present.

A sweet young thing of sixteen, who wanted to do something unique, recently arrived in London from Scotland, and explaining that she was a clergyman's daughter, asked the manager of the Aquarium to let her marry a Zulu. In vain he remonstrated with her on her folly. She replied that her heart was given. He suggested that she would only be one of the many wives when her contemplated husband returned to Zululand; but she persisted. Finding that it was useless to reason with her, she was told she could not marry without the consent of her parents, and was sent back to Scotland to obtain it.

SATURDAY EVNG, APRIL 24, 1880

Gladstone Called on to Form a Government.

Lords Hartington and Granville went to Windsor on Friday morning. On their return they drove to the residence of Mr. Gladstone. He went to Windsor Castle the same evening in obedience to the Royal command. He started alone and was loudly cheered when he entered the train. The result of his private conference with the Queen, at Windsor, is understood to be entirely satisfactory. The Liberal leader left Windsor by the 8:15 train. The entire route to the station was lined with people who cheered vociferously. The immense crowd rushed with wild enthusiasm to the station, and there formed on either side of Mr. Gladstone's carriage, from the window of which the great orator addressed them, and thanked them for the reception. The people of Windsor state that the ovation is the greatest ever remembered. He had some difficulty on his return to London in making his way through the enthusiastic crowd.

He consented to form a Government. Arriving in London Mr. Gladstone was met by Lords Granville, Hartington and Wolverton, and Mr. W. P. Adam. Mr. Adam informed a representative of the Press Association that Mr. Gladstone had undertaken to form a Cabinet. It is stated that Mr. Gladstone will again take the Chancellorship of the Exchequer and that Earl Granville will preside at the Foreign Office. It is understood that Goschen will not enter the Ministry, and Robert Lowe will receive a Peerage. There will be great difficulty in offering Henry Fawcett a seat in the Cabinet, owing to his blindness. The News prints the following prominently :—"Gladstone kissed the hand of the Queen on his appointment as the first Lord of the Treasury and Chancellor of the Exchequer. Beyond Gladstone's appointment, and probably the appointment of Earl Granville as Secretary for Foreign Affairs, no new Ministerial arrangements have been made." The Times says :—"The Ministerial crisis is ended. Gladstone has accepted the duty of forming an Administration, designating himself as Chancellor of the Exchequer and First Lord of the Treasury. Gladstone received a perfect ovation at Windsor. He spoke from the window of the railway carriage, thanking the people for their kindly greeting."

From the above it will be seen that the Queen, after all, has been obliged to fall back on the man she was least inclined to ask to form a Government. But she has had the good sense to put her personal predilections out of sight in this crisis, and has acted as a constitutional sovereign ought to do, in following the desires and wishes of her people, who are unanimously in favor of the man through whose efforts and instrumentality the late victory has been achieved.

Mr. Gladstone being once more Premier, it will be interesting to our readers to peruse the following just estimate of his character and ability, which we find in the International Review :

As a public speaker and parliamentary debater Mr. Gladstone has had no equal in England since the days of Fox and Pitt, except perhaps Brougham. He combines as no one else the fervid eloquence, a copious and inexhaustible command of language, marvellous knowledge, a ready and retentive memory, and great and varied powers of reasoning. He has, too, a moral force to which Brougham could lay no claim, and which is probably more effective than all the latter's power of sarcasm and invective. But besides this he is unquestionably the greatest financier of the day ; his legislative achievements surpass those of any other statesman ; he is a great administrator and a deep political thinker. He is also eminently a political leader, not a party leader—for in that capacity he has been often surpassed—but a great leader of the people on political questions, a leader who can arouse the popular conscience and guide popular opinion. Many defects are joined to all this greatness ; but what adds lustre to it is that these defects are only intellectual. Unlike many great men, we find in him no vices to apologize for or to conceal. Not only has his private life been stainless, but his deep religious nature and high moral convictions have had such influence that, as has been justly remarked, he has perceptibly raised the standard of public life and political morality in England. His faults are the faults of an austere nature struggling for the right, but always perceiving the complex character of problems and the strength and tendency of popular feeling, and at times doing too little justice to the conduct and motives of opponents whose characters are unlike his own, and the honesty of whose opinions he cannot comprehend. Many of the limitations of his mind and many of his defects as a practical statesman, as well as much of his unpopularity, grow out of the fact like Burke, Romilly, and like two of his contemporaries who have attracted much attention, Mr. Cobden and Mr. Sumner, he has little or no sense of humor. There is no sign of it either in his speeches or writing. The lack of this quality often prevents his seeing the due proportion of things and events, and his judging accurately of the appropriateness of time and place for much of what he says and does. His intense earnestness of nature drives out of his mind everything but the great cause in hand ; and he dwells upon it with a disregard of time and opportunity and with a prolixity which injure rather than advance what he has so much at heart.

It is learned that the Canadian Government have receded from the order prohibiting the importation of American cattle into Canada.

Although the session is near its close Sir John Macdonald, as Minister of the Interior, has not yet presented his report, and considerable difficulty is experienced in the House in discussing the items in the Estimates for that department.

The news of the serious nature of Hon. George Brown's illness created much anxiety in the House of Commons on Thursday. Hon. Mr. Mackenzie was so much affected that he could remain no longer and went home.

It is generally believed that the Queen has an aversion for Mr. Gladstone, and a special liking for Lord Beaconsfield. The difference between the two men is well shown in the expression which is put in her mouth. "Beaconsfield is always asking what I should like—Mr. Gladstone, on the contrary, is always telling me what the people want."

Irish Candian :—Sir John Macdonald seems anxious to hurry his party to destruction in the teeth of Mr. Blake's powerful speech. He had the audacity to make light of the debate, and to actually propose that it be brought to a summary close—a question of ten millions of dollars being as nothing to his visionary arithmetic.

The report accompanying the resolution for the appointment of a Reciprocity Treaty Commission, presented in the U. S. House of Representatives on Friday by Mr. Cox, shows the extent and importance of the trade of Canada from 1872 to 1873 inclusive. The value of her exports was $572,834,000, and her imports $776,346,000. Trade between the United States and Canada ranks next to that between this country and Great Britain. The report alludes to Canada's protective tariff, and says it is of special importance that the question should be taken up now, before under the influence of hostile legislation between the two countries Canada shall become a producer rather that a consumer, and sufficient unto itself.

When a month ago one of the Inman Line of steamers broke her shaft and was towed into Halifax, Nova Scotia, there were no facilities in that city to repair the shaft, and the great piece of metal had to be transported all the way to New York to be repaired When it was returned to Halifax, it appears that the customs officials levied the highest duty upon the new metal inserted, the labour expended, and the freight charges incurred, insisting upon the payment of $1,200. The shaft was not used in the Province of Nova Scotia, except for the purpose of steaming out of the harbour. Surely in a case of this kind the least the Minister of Finance can do is to refund the amount charged for duty.

A deputation from Quebec had an interview with Sir Charles Tupper on Thursday. They ask the Government to set apart from out of the annual grant for immigration and colonization the sum of $80,000 per annum for 20 years, to be applied towards guaranteeing the payment of interest on the company's debentures to the extent of £400,000 sterling, to be issued at the rate of £2,500 per mile of the road completed and redeemable in twenty years. The Company on the other hand make certain agreements, among others one to locate upon the line of the railway or in the Lake St. John district 200 families during the term of the federal guarantee.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Sarnia Observer says :—The Patent office costs nearly $14,000 a year, and produces a revenue in fees of about $33,000 ; yet it is in such a state of confusion that it is almost impossible to find any particular model, or any class of models which it may be desired to see. The principal difficulty is want of room, which necessitates the closest crowding and corresponding inconvenience. There is no catalogue of the patents barring the indexes to the Patent Record which are only bound once in four years ; and altogether the office is in a condition little short of disgraceful. If the Minister of Agriculture would spend less money in useless immigration pamphlets and devote some money and attention to a re-organization of this important branch of his department he would earn the gratitude of inventors and the general public.

The Railways of Canada.

We have received from the Department at Ottawa a report of the Railway Statistics of Canada for the year ending June 30, 1879, and from it cull the following, which will prove interesting to our readers :

On the 30th June 1879, there was in actual operation in the Dominion, 6,484½ miles of railway ; and 1,537½ under construction, of which 592½ miles had the track laid. During the year 341 miles of roads came into operation. The nominal capital and aid raised for these railways foot up $362,086,138.41, of which $88,957.01 appears as aid from Government and municipalities. Thus it will be seen that the capital per mile of railway, completed and under construction, is $45,135.00. Steel rails are used on 3,813¾ miles of road, while iron rails are laid on 3,177½ miles. The work of the Dominion railways requires 1,106 engines ; 548 first class cars ; 327 second class and emigrant cars ; 247 baggage, mail, and express cars ; 14,983 cattle, box, and freight cars ; 7,618 platform cars, and 1,731 coal and dumping cars. The roads are furnished with 743½ miles of sidings ; 67 grain-elevators ; 7,502 road crossings, of which only 67 are returned guarded ; 312 overhead bridges ; 98 crossings of other roads ; 155 junctions with other roads. The total train mileage, i. e., the gross number of miles travelled was 20,731,689. The number of passengers carried was 6,523,926, and the tonage of freight handled was 8,328,810. The earnings of the roads is given as $19,925,068.27, or an average per mile $3,037, of which the freight department gets credit for $1,929. The expenses of running the roads was $16,188,282.46, showing a net profit of $3,736,738.81, which would be equal to a dividend of about 1.67 per cent on the share and bonded liability, allowing nothing for Government and municipal aid. During the year there were 9 passengers, 37 employees and 91 other persons killed, and 10 passengers, 23 employees and 13 persons injured ; thus we see that 1 passenger to 724,869 was killed, and 1 to 326,190 injured. Of the persons killed, 64 were walking, standing lying or being on the track ; 11 fell from the engines or cars ; 12 were killed by collisions ; 7 while coupling ; 6 through jumping off the train while in motion.

A Bad Girl to Marry.

An exchange says:—A bad daughter or cross sister seldom makes a good wife. If a girl is ill tempered at home, snarls at her parents, snaps at her brothers and sisters and "shirks" her ordinary duties, the chances are ten to one that when she gets a home of her own she will make it wretched. There are girls who fancy themselves so far superior to their parents that the mere privilege of enjoying their society in the house ought to be all the old people should have the assurance to ask. While their mothers are busy with domestic duties they sit in the easiest chair or lie on the softest sofas feeding on cheap and trashy novels, and cherish the notion that they are very literary individuals. The household drudgery is too coarse for such ladies as they. Girls of this sort are generally very anxious to get married that they may escape the disagreeableness of a home where they are held more or less under subjection. A caller, who doesn't have a chance to see how they behave as daughters, may be excused for fancying them lovely and lovable beings; but one who does see it is foolish if he commits himself by offering marriage to a girl of this sort. If she will not assist her mother in the domestic labors, is she not likely to be equally slothful and ill tempered when she marries? If she now thinks herself too fine to work, is it safe to expect that her views as to that matter would radically change if she became a wife?

The Oshawa Cabinet Factory.

The Ontario Reformer has the following to say about the Oshawa Cabinet Factory, owned by Senator Gibbs, who ran for Parliament on the Conservative ticket in 1878:—The puzzle is to arrange the 15 men now employed by the Oshawa Cabinet Company so as to show that business is on the boom. The solution of this puzzle is just the thing required to complete the happiness of the N. P. party. One hundred and fifty men were required by the Company by the old tariff, but so marvellous have been the changes since the new one came in force that less than a score are now necessary, and, in a few weeks more, it is expected, one man—the watchman—will be able to run the thing without any assistance. The saving effected in labor alone is about $75,000 a year, and if it can be shown that as much work as ever is being performed everyone will of course hurrah for the N. P. The newly appointed Senator cannot do better than to rise in his place in the Senate and tell the other old ladies there what he knows about cabinet making under Sir Samuel's tariff. When the Finance Minister paid his ever-to-be remembered visit to the works a few months ago he found about 70 or 80 men there ready to testify that the Hum had struck the establishment, but he had scarcely got back to Oshawa when the men began to discover that their usefulness were gone; and now they have gone too, some of them to Detroit, others to Cincinnati, Chicago, and other American cities and found employment at good wages, while a few—who are short of funds—are still in Canada, working at starvation wages, and hoping that by some stroke of fortune they will get money enough to enable them to follow their fellow workmen across the line.

Fat and Lean Pork.

Some of our readers may think this is a contradiction, but it is quite possible to grow pork with that happy medium of fat and lean so much relished. The greatest obstacle to it is the general method adopted in feeding pigs. They are fed on food merely adapted to lay on fat, and with a scant proportion of albuminoids to grow the muscles or lean meat. Pigs have thus been grown and fattened for so long a time that they seem to have taken on only lean meat enough to hold the body together. Except when on grass the pig is plied almost wholly with corn, which is excessively rich in starch and fat. Some breeds have become so constituted that they will get fat on grass. The pig in its natural state, does not get excessively fat, but is nearly as lean as a beef animal. If young pigs are fed on nitrogenous food, such as skimmed milk and grass, they will be found to grow rapidly—expand the frame and muscular system, having only fat enough to round out the body to comely shape. Pigs should always be full fed; but this does not necessarily mean cramming with corn, which merely piles on the fat till the young pig becomes diseased. It is the mode of feeding for so many hundred generations that has transformed our swine into lumps of fat with a few strings of muscle to tie the ball together. To reverse this work of improper feeding will take come time, but it can and must be done. Witness the great change from these over-grown, fat hogs which were bragged of years ago, but are now seldom seen because the market does not call for them. We do not undervalue corn, which is the best fattening food the American farmer possesses; but we should be glad to have them avoid its too free use in feeding pigs, and substitute a more nitrogenous food such as oats, peas, wheat, bran or middlings, a little oil meal, decorticated cottonseed meal, rye bran or barley—any of these. Corn may be fed sparingly with clover or skim milk. Our Canadian neighbors can raise fat and lean pork with grass, peas, barley and corn. We must have a grass diet for pigs generally, and, with this grain may be fed. Farmers sometimes forget that the pig is a grass eating animal as much as the horse, and needs fibrous food to keep them healthy. Nicely cured clover is relished by pigs in winter, especially when raised on grass. If you want fat and lean pork, a strictly corn diet must be reserved to the last stage of feeding, simply to harden the pork; yet a little corn may be fed all through the life of the pig, only giving these other nitrogenous foods with it. Pork grown in this way is relished by most people, and will always find a ready local market. No more important question that the above has ever been discussed in these columns. At one time lard was the most valuable of all the hog product; but it has ceased to possess exceptional value, and now the desideratum in pork production is to bring about a good development of flesh.—Stock Farm and Home Weekly.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

Sold by all druggists.

All the most terrible and deadly weapons of war have been thrown completely in the shade by the new Gatling gun which was exhibited on the 27th of March at the offices of Sir W. Armstrong, the manufacturer, in St. George's, Westminster, before a number of experts. This fearful weapon is capable of firing a thousand shots per minute and killing a man on a horse at a mile range. It has a compact appearance, can be taken to pieces and easily carried about, can be applied to military and naval use, and the mechanism of it is simplicity itself; the revolving band has two compartments into which, as they whirl round, metal cartridges drop from a tall, oblong case fixed over the centre of the barrel. At each turn of the handle ten shots are fired and their dispersion is accompanied by the sliding apparatus. The size of shot in different calibre guns of this class ranges from musket balls to half-pounders. By the use of this implement three men can do the work of three hundred single men. A quarter of a million of dollars is said to have been spent on experiments necessary to perfect the gun, which is now declared by every military expert to be a complete success.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic: It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. Beware of imitations. d&wlyr.

Even the most stalwart of teetotallers should be glad to learn that the Business Men's Moderation Society of New York city, though barely a year old, is already doing work, and has results to show for it. The secretary reports that he has distributed during the year 22,616 pledges, of which 4,100 were white (not to drink in business hours), 5,661 red (not to drink at all), and 12,855 blue blue (not to treat or be treated.) Many, he says, who began by signing the white or blue pledge have since signed the red one. The society is not in debt, a few zealous men having paid all the necessary running expenses; but it now needs money, we are sorry to say.

Bold Counterfeiting Detected.

Parties have been detected in making and counterfeiting Hop Bitters, and illegally using the name Hop Bitters, a registered trade mark, which subjects every person who makes or sells anything with the name Hop Bitters, or pretending to be like it, to a fine of $100 for each sale, however small the sale is. The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., the sole owners of the trade mark, are prosecuting all violators of the law and enforcing heavy penalties, but are dealing very liberally with those who stop violating the law and settle without suit, and commence dealing in the genuine article, which is a valuable medicine and not a drink, as some of the counterfeits are. The genuine is sold by all druggists.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY SUIT.—The suit of Wilson vs. Grand Trunk Railway Co., tried in the county court, Toronto, on Thursday, was of special interest to shippers. It was an action to recover from defendants as common carriers damages for the non-delivery of three boxes shipped from Hamilton to Toronto. The boxes arrived there three days after their shipment, and lay in the Grand Trunk freight sheds for two months, plaintiff having neglected to call for them. By a rule of the company printed with others on the back of the bill of lading their responsibility terminated when the goods arrived at their sheds, warehousing being at the risk and expense of the owner. Plaintiff would have got the boxes all right if he had called for them in a reasonable time. His honor considered plaintiff could not recover, and granted a rule absolute to set aside the verdict and enter a non-suit.

"A very good story is told of Remenyi, the violinist. He was travelling out West, when a backswood boy entered the smoking car, and taking out an old instrument, began sawing out some of the most wretched music ever heard. An old fellow, who said he hadn't "played a fiddle in forty years," took a hand at making discordant melodies, and then Remenyi asked to see the violin. The train had just stopped at a small station, and as the artist drew the bow over the strings there fell upon the astonished ears of the rustics the opening notes of a beautiful fantasia, whose sweet witchery would charm the dullest. The wheezy old violin seemed to rejoice under the hands of its first master, and gave forth such music as it never did before and never will again. The gaping, astonished crowd listened till Remenyi stopped, and then broke in with rapturous applause and besought him to continue. But no—he held up the bow in gleeful derision, and exclaimed, vehemently:—"Can't play with that—only three hairs on it—no, no, no!" He handed the violin back to the youth, who thrust it into the case and left the car at once, vowing that he would never play another tune.

The rumor is revived of the Dominion Government taking over the North Shore Railway from the Province of Quebec.

A deputation from Toronto, consisting of the Mayor, and about a dozen of Aldermen, together with the city officials and others have gone to Detroit to inspect the system of block pavement in vogue there.

Large caravans may be seen on the line of the Portage La Prairie road daily en route to the west to settle in the Saskatchewan country. The waggons have tent coverings, and are laden with full outfits. Traffic in this connection in Winnipeg is immense.

The half yearly meeting of the shareholders of the Great Western Railway was held on Thursday, when the report was adopted and a retiring allowance granted to the secretary.

After George Fladd, hotel keeper, Salem, retired on Monday night, 19th of April, some one entered his room and stole $23 from his pocket. J. W. Kiel, who occupied a room in the hotel, was robbed of over $22 the same night.

The officers of the 30th Wellington Battalion held their annual meeting at Dalby's hotel, Elora, on the 20th inst. Those present were in favour of a change of camp this year, but the decision in that matter was left to the Lieut.-Colonel.

The entire horse and bull show held at Elora on Friday, 17th inst., was altogether a success, although the weather was rough and disagreeable.

On Saturday last thirty-four acres, part of the estate of the late J. C. Laird, was sold by public auction, at the Dalby House, Elora, for the sum of $1,400, Joseph Thomson becoming the purchaser.

OTTAWA, April 23.

The House then went into Committee of Supply.

On the item for transfer of museum from Montreal to Ottawa, $5,000, in reply to Mr. Mackenzie.

Sir John Macdonald said that the old Clarendon Hotel in Ottawa had been purchased at a very reasonable rate for the purpose of a museum, and he believed it would be found well suited for those purposes.

Mr. Mackenzie—Is it the intention to remove the whole museum from Montreal?

Sir John Macdonald said it was not, as it was desired as far as possible to have a respectable, museum at both places.

On the item, Indians, Ontario and Quebec $24,850.

Mr. Scriver said he would like to ask the Government if they had had the condition of the Oka Indians under consideration since they came into power.

Sir John Macdonald said he agreed that it was desirable that this question should be settled. The only proposition which had been made was that a tract of land should be given the Indians on the Upper Ottawa, and the gentlemen of the Seminary had agreed to grant a considerable sum, $20,000 he believed, in order that they might have the lands. The Indians had however declined the offer, on the ground that the amount was insufficient.

The Listowel Banner says:—It would be difficult to find another part of the Province where, of late years, less attention has been given to the improvement of stock in general, than in the northern part of the county of Perth. It may be difficult to explain why this should have been so, seeing that there is scarcely another way by which a farmer's time and labour can be profitably employed.

A sad accident occurred at the woollen mill Campbellford, on Friday, causing the death of a young woman named Ellen McKeel. By some means her clothing came in contact with the main shaft, and she was drawn in and carried around at a fearful rate. She lingered till the next day when death ended her suffering.

The members of Parliament have subscribed $1,500 and the senators $200, which, with the local subscriptions, amounts to $5,615, in addition to the $7,000 voted by Parliament. Large quantities of provisions are being sent over daily from the city to relieve the prevailing distress. A number of cities have forwarded subscriptions. Mr. Kemp, manager of the Merchants' Bank in Ottawa, is the treasurer of the relief fund and to whom all communications should be addressed. A subscription list in aid of the Hull sufferers was passed around among the members of Parliament on Friday and a very generous response was made. The Hon. Mr. Blake made the handsome subscription of $250.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A serious accident occurred in Eramosa on Saturday, whereby Mr. Peter Grasley received such injury as will confine him to the house for some time. He and Mr. Allan were chopping in the woods together, and when the latter had finished his half he used his axe to shove the tree. The axe glanced off struck Mr. Grasley on one of the thighs, a few inches below the abdomen, inflicting a gash which extended to the bone. Dr. Curry, of Rockwood, was called to attend the sufferer.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Robert Parker, carriage builder, met with a painful accident while cutting some shrubbery in his garden, Arthur street, on Saturday afternoon. He was using a pruning knife, and when cutting a dead stem the knife slipped and ran into his left wrist, inflicting a deep gash over three inches in length. Dr. Herod was called to attend him, and on examination it was found that two arteries had been severed. The wound bled profusely for a time, but stopped after being dressed. The sufferer is doing well.

INTERESTING LEGAL DECISION.—The following case which came before the Court of Chancery at Goderich the other day will be of interest to many of our readers, as showing the responsibility of loan companies for the acts of their agents; "Finn vs. The Dominion Savings and Investment Society." This case arose out of some of the transactions of Mr. Joseph Woodman, while acting as valuator for the Society. Plaintiff made application for loan from defendant through Woodman. Loan was granted and check for money sent to Woodman, payable to Finn's order. Plaintiff showed that the money had never reached his hands, and further, that he had never authorized any one to receive it for him. It was shown that Woodman had endorsed check and obtained money from bank, and that when he did so he was a valuator for defendants—in fact their agent. The Vice-Chancellor held that where valuators advertised themselves as such and their conduct comes to the knowledge of the company, and they do not disclaim such action, the valuator is really their agent, and the company is responsible for his actions as between borrower and company. Decree for plaintiff."

PROMENADE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—The city lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows celebrate the sixty-first anniversary of the establishment of the Order in America by a grand promenade concert, in the drill shed this evening, for the benefit of the Artillery Band. The following persons will take part in carrying out the programme:—Misses Hastings, Goodfellow; Messrs. Walker, Crowe, Higham and W. H. Smith, of Galt. The latter will certainly be on hand. Of course the Band will contribute some new and fine selections and waltzes. The members will appear in forage caps and jackets. The affair promises to be of a very pleasing character. Single tickets may be bought for 15 cents and double ones for 25 cents. The concert opens at 8 o'clock sharp.

INCENDIARISM.—Shortly before eight o'clock on Saturday evening James Fields discovered the stable of Wm. Standish, corner of London and Elora Roads, to be on fire. He at once gave the alarm, which brought the firemen to the spot, but the fire being extinguished before their arrival their services were not required. The fact that the stable was on fire on Friday made it appear as though an incendiary was at work. The Chief of Police took in hand to learn if such were the case, and questioned Elizabeth Pearson, Mrs. Standish's servant girl, who denied having any knowledge as to the origin of the fire. She afterward's admitted to MRS. Standish that she set fire to the building. She said a man had offered her $10 to do so, but she could give no account that would lead to the discovery of the man, and that part of her statement is not believed. The Chief of Police arrested her on Sunday evening and took her to the police station, where she was locked up. She is twenty one years of age, and has only been in the employ of Mrs. Standish since last Tuesday. She was arraigned on a charge of incendiarism before the Police Magistrate this (Monday) morning, but after two witnesses were heard the case was adjourned till Tuesday. The examination did not elicit anything besides what has been stated.

The two men in Ottawa, in whose possession distilling apparatus were found, were sentenced by Justice Patterson on Friday to pay a fine of $500 each or be imprisoned for a term of six months.

Since 1849 Detroit has paved 521,075,33 lineal yards of street at a cost of $3,233,458. To show for it she has eighty miles and more of the best streets in the world. Amateur fishermen in this country, says an American paper, pay $1,000,000 a year for fishing gear. Our statistical editor is trying to obtain the exact amount paid by travelling sportsmen to the local fishermen for the mess to take home and exhibit as the trophies of their own rods. He declares it is worse than the 15 block puzzle. Why is humanity so deceitful?

W. D. Bently, Brazilian consul, writes in reference to the proposed subsidized line of steamships to Brazil: "I expect Brazilian steamers will start in the course of three months, probably in less time. They will start from Montreal or Halifax, touching at the West Indies, Pernambuco, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro, and return by the same route. Steamers are arranged for by a company in England.

Rev. Dr. Rice, of St. Marys, formerly president of the Wesleyan Female College in Hamilton, has been designated by the authorities of the Methodist Church Manitoba, to take charge of the mission in that part of the Dominion. The appointment is under consideration, with a strong probability that Dr. Rice will accept and forthwith proceed to Winnipeg.

The growth of the salt industry in Michigan is noteworthy. It is now claimed that the Saginaw District is the second largest salt producing section in the Union. There were 169 wells in operation in 1879, producing 2,055,040 barrels, or an average of 12,160 barrels to each well, and 54 new wells will be in use this year. The product has increased from 1,027,000 bbls. in 1874 to 1,561,000 bbls. in 1877, and probably 2,700,000 in 1880.

The Hamilton Times records the death of Mr. Jacob Gable, which occurred at his residence, in Ancaster, recently. He came from Pennsylvania in the year 1818 on horseback. He then returned, but in one year retraced his footsteps and made Canada his home, first selecting Waterloo as his residence, and thence removing to Ancaster in 1825, where he remained till the time of his death.

TWO HEIRS OF TWO CROWNS IN UNDRESS UNIFORM.—Paris, April 24. An amusing story is related in L'Evenement to-day. The Prince of Wales, it seems, went to take a Turkish bath a day or two ago, and while reclining on the slab after indulging in the luxury of a bath, he perceived standing beside him a very dark man, whom he took for a negro attendant. The dark man was in the usual undress uniform peculiar to the Turkish bath. The Prince tapped him on the shoulder and commanded him in a curt manner to rub him down. To his astonishment the dark man drew himself up to his full height, with a lofty tragic air draped himself in his towl as if it were a minature toga, and with a parting look of scorn and defiance stalked away. The Prince had mistaken Don Carlos for a darkey servant, and all the Castilian blood of the heir of the Spanish Crown rose up against the heir of the English Throne.

The New Ventilator.

(From the Scientific American.)

An automatic house ventilator has been recently patented in the United States and Canada by Mr. Walter S. Sayers, Guelph, Ontario, Canada. This invention is intended to overcome in the simplest and most effective manner all of the difficulties which have stood in the way of ventilating from the top of windows without draughts of air on the occupants of the apartments. This ventilator is independent of either sash, and does not interfere with lowering or raising them, it does away with the necessity of hanging them with weights for the purposes of ventilation, and does not in any way intertere with hanging the curtains in the usual way. The ventilator is completely hidden from view in the interior of the room by the curtains or lambrequins, and on the exterior of the building it presents the appearance of a neat Venetian blind above the sash, and is an embellishment rather than otherwise.

For windows in public buildings, offices, etc., where curtains are not used, the ventilator affords a good ground for stucco designs or other ornamental work. This ventilator admits pure air into the room without draughts; the air entering the room at the top of the window is directed by the air duct towards the ceiling, where it is distributed, displacing the vitiated air, which escapes by the ventilator. It is entirely automatic and requires no attention; the wind, on reaching a certain velocity, closes the pivoted guards, and prevents very strong currents of air from entering. The guards also exclude dust, and when the pressure of the wind diminishes the guards swing open automatically. If at any time it is desired to close the ventilator—and this will happen very seldom—it may be done by closing the valve, which is worked by a cord hanging down at the middle of the window. The valve opens by its own weight when the cord is released. To prevent the entrance of flies and insects a netting is placed over the cornice board.

This ventilator can be used in connection with Venetian blinds or winter sash, as it does not in any way interfere with them. The inventor informs us that he has had this ventilator in use in his own residence for the last eight months, giving the most complete satisfaction. He also states that it is endorsed in the highest terms by physicians who have seen it. Further information in regard to this useful invention may be obtained by addressing the inventor and patentee.

ACCIDENT AT MOUNT FOREST.—Last Friday evening an old man named Oliver Torongo while ascending the ladder leading to the loft of Cook's stables missed his footing, and fell to the floor, dislocating his spine and fracturing a number of his ribs. He died Saturday forenoon.

ACCIDENT AT ORANGEVILLE.—An accident of rather a serious nature occurred on Saturday morning. Mr. Robt. Hewit, who has the contract for rebuilding the Dufferin Hotel, while engaged at work fell from the floor of the first story, and was badly hurt, but it is not expected that serious results will follow.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—An unfortunate accident occurred on the tenth concession line, Egremont, on Wednesday evening last, by which Mr. W. J. Dillon, a well known farmer, resident of the Township, came to his death. He was driving home from Mount Forest, when his horses taking fright ran away and he was drawn over the front of the waggon. Two of the wheels passed over his body breaking the spinal column and several ribs. The sufferer lingered till next day when death came to his relief.

MORTALITY AND SUICIDE IN THE GERMAN ARMY.—Exclusive of the whole of the Bavarian troops, the German army lost by death in the month of January last 130 men. That there is something still wanting in the conditions of the German service to make it tolerable to many of the rank and file appears to be indicated by the fact that no fewer than 22 men and officers committed suicide in the course of the single month in question. Of the 130 deaths, therefore, only 108 are referable to causes other than suicide.

A SHORT CUT.—The Galt Reporter says: It is reported in usually well informed circles that connection between the Credit Valley and Grand Trunk railway lines will very shortly be made at Drumbo—where the lines cross each other on the level—and that the Grand Trunk will then secure running powers over the Credit Valley for their Buffalo traffic to and from Toronto, instead of sending it over their own line by the round about way of Stratford. This would effect a great saving of mileage, and might be advantageously used until such time as the Grand Trunk builds their own line between Galt and Paris.

SALE OF SHORTHORNS IN CHICAGO.—The eleventh annual sale of short-horns from the Bow Bark (Canada) herd, at Dexter Park on Thursday proved an entire success. The attendance of buyers was good and the bidding lively. The animals offered for sale were a fine lot, and were fully appreciated, as will be seen by the prices annexed. The number of shorthorns sold was forty-five, and the aggregate price received $13,270, making an average of $295. The average was reduced by the fact that four of the cows were declared to be doubtful breeders, without which the average would have been $325 on the remaining forty-one.

HORRIBLE DEATH OF A COUNTESS.—A horrible tragedy took place in the Bois de Boulogne, Paris, on Saturday. A brilliant, dashing viscountess, well known in fashionable circles, was out riding. She was considered an accomplished horsewoman. Her horse took fright, and shied so suddenly to one side that she was thrown from the saddle. Unhappily her foot caught in the stirrup, and as the frightened animal bounded forward through the crowd of vehicles and loungers the poor lady was dragged along the paved road for a mile or so. Death was almost instantaneous, and when the horse was finally stopped it was found that the unfortunate woman's head was completely severed from the body.

The Rev. Solomon Weber was reappointed to the pastorate of the Walkerton and Mildmay congregations by the conference of the Evangelical church, which met at Mildmay last week.

On Saturday week, about two o'clock, the barn of Mr. John McArthur, who lives in Glenelg, about one mile north of Durham, together with the contents, was burned. Loss, $900; insurance, $400.

Mr. Philip Jacobi, of Toronto, has been granted exemption from taxes for a term of five years by the Acton council, provided he operates the Beardmore tannery as a cordovan tannery, and employs not less than six hands regularly.

Mrs. Lambert has been presented by the Government with a gold watch as a recognition of the gallant effort made by her son to save a drowning crew near Southampton last fall, in which attempt the latter lost his own life.

Walkerton was visited by a severe hail storm last week, accompanied by thunder and lightning. Some of the hailstones measured three quarters of an inch in diameter. Parties having skylights found it necessary to have them repaired, and about a hundred panes of glass were broken in Mr. Russell's hot house.

A journalistic libel suit in which Mr. Preston, of the Port Hope News, was plaintiff, and Mr. Mitchell, proprietor of the Ottawa Free Press, was defendant, was tried at the Cobourg Assizes this week. The plaintiff claimed $10,000 damages, but the jury thought that was placing it rather high, and awarded him $25.

Mr. Wm. Kirby, collector of customs for the town of Niagara, is now having a very nice compliment paid to his unassuming genius and ability as a writer of fiction. His late work, "Le Chein D'Or; or The Legend of the Golden Dog," is being translated into French by a firm in Paris, which shows an appreciation of his literary ability not often found.

The Graduates' Society of Magill have determined, with regard to the commemoration of Dr. Dawson's long and affective association with the University, to raise with the assistance of their friends, a fund of about $30,000 towards the proper endowment of the principalship, to be called the principalship foundation, and to build a principal's residence, but at Dr. Dawson's request not to add to his salary.

Shelburne has a valuable source of wealth in the shape of an extensive quarry of very fine magnesian limestone, suitable for all sorts of ornamental work in building, such as door steps, sills and fine cut work. It is a beautiful light color, easily worked and very fine in texture. The Company controlling the quarry expect to supply most of the fine cut stone for the new Parliament buildings in Toronto.

A quack medicine vendor was brought before the Magistrates at Chesley last week for selling his nostrums without a license. The man of herbs admitted selling the medicine, but claimed that he manufactured the stuff himself and therefore had a right to sell wherever he pleased. The Magistrates seemed to have their doubts about fining him and the case was adjourned for a week. Meantime the hawker packed his valise and departed to new fields.

The most concise and effective speech in the English elections was made by a woman. Lady Elizabeth Biddulph spoke at Hereford as follows:—"Gentlemen, these are election times, and uncommon times, and we are at present allowed to do things we don't do at other times; so I will make that my excuse for addressing you, and will make you a little speech. Mr. Biddulph cannot be here to-day, but I am here as his wife and representative, and I ask you to put him at the head of the poll, and make him a happy man and me a happy woman. He has your interests at heart, and nobody loves the country more than Mr. Biddulph, I declare to you." Her ladyship was cheered to the echo, and it is needless to say Mr. Biddulph sits as member for Hereford.

A despatch from St. John's, Newfoundland, mentions that the steamer Caspian went ashore on Sunday, and was afterwards run aground. Her fore compartment is full of water, and the dry-goods on board is seriously damaged.

DUBLIN ST. METHODIST CHURCH.

Yesterday morning, as announced in a previous issue, a sermon was preached to the Oddfellows of this city by Rev. Bro. W. J. Maxwell, pastor of the Dublin street Methodist Church, in honor of the 61st anniversary of Oddfellowship in Canada. A number of the members of the two Lodges met at their hall at 10:45 and walked to the church. The attendance of the brethren of three links would have been much larger but for a drizzling rain that commenced to fall about ten o'clock, and continued now and again throughout the day. The front seats of the church were reserved for the visitors, the occupants having kindly given them up for the day. There was a good congregation present besides.

The musical service under the direction of Bro. Prof. Philp was very nicely arranged, the opening hymn being sung to the tune used in lodge rooms, in which the whole congregation heartily joined, the anthem and closing instrumental selection being both well performed.

Mr. Maxwell chose as his text Job vi., 14, "To him that is afflicted pity should be showed from his friend." Isaiah said of Jesus, "A man of sorrows and acquainted with grief." The same was true of him whose language I have read for my text. In youth his history invited us, while age has familiarized us with the sad story of spoil, conflagration, ruin and death. Princely and majestic is the figure of a patient patriach, passing in one curdling hour of agony from kingly magnificence into flockless, serfless, childless beggarhood, yet with upturned face, looking against a sky of ruin that has lowered upon his tent, exclaiming, "Blessed be the name of the Lord."

Other griefs are in store. Satan contracts for another trial. His wife proves unequal to the task. His body is touched. His friends are reduced to three. They keep their distance and maintain silence. When Eliphaz begins to speak instead of balm, oil and wine he brings gall and vinegar. He charges Job with hypocrisy and doubledealing. He says this is the harvest he is reaping for the iniquity which he plowed and the wickedness which he sowed. And then from the lips of the sufferer flowed this Marah stream, along whose shores we trace the step of multiplied miseries, and never while misfortune flits across a world that waits for a millennial release will tried ones fail to visit its dreary grandeur, and listen to the most piercing human cries ever uttered in this land of "mourning and woe." I go not outside my text to find a suitable subject, and "Friendship" shall be the central figure around which my thoughts shall circle. It embodies the aims, principles and teachings of the Order here represented more than any other word in the language. The "Text Book" of the Order is a continued chapter on Friendship, has been given by a friend, and is the history of a "friend that sticketh closer than a brother." The motto initialed in the oftenseen links cannot be severed from the keyword of my text. The watchword, "In God we trust," implies the need of a true friend. No society can more justly claim the title of "Friends," if true to the principles of the Order.

No word in the language is so trivially used as "friend," no sphere so imperfectly filled as "friendship." Subjected to the freaks and whims of sentiment on one hand, and aggrandizement on the other, in either case its dignity and divinity pass out of consideration. Addison two centuries ago defines it as "a strong and habitual inclination in two persons to promote each other's good." Sixteen centuries before the "Great Teacher" uses it as synonymous with love in both sermon and parable. Impassioned love is friendship. It is a lofty, nay, the loftiest human development. We are invited to its cultivation by a Divine Exemplar and obligated to it by Divine legislation. All honor to individuals or societies who promote its growth and extension till its vigorous growth spread its branches over a world's sufferings, and its fruitage is gathered with ascriptions of praise to its Heavenly Source. The shortest, strongest, clearest, simplest epitome of Christian duty, and pure friendship that can be given in our language is found in I. Corinthians, xiii. From that chapter we learn that to purify the so-called friendships of earth we must eliminate certain ingredients. Of these the first I would mention is RESENTMENT — Much that passes for friendship is a compound of spasmodic kindness, and what is popularly known as "giving vent to feelings." In a world of shoals and raspings, where thistles are indigenous to the soil, where selfishness tilts against benevolence, and envy rides down joy, our friendship needs to have longsuffering. It should smile like the fresh blown rose and carry the balm of a sunny morning because of its kindness and longsuffering.

ENVY.—This must be extracted. No ill to any means the welfare of all. Needful competitions and sameness of interests tend to excite it, and put us on our guard. The doctor is likely to regard prosperity in a different light, if the prosperous one be a grocer rather than a physician. So the grocer. So even the preacher can hardly see the same beauty in the popularity and and prosperity of a neighbor of the same profession, as if the same man were a teacher. From all tinctures of envy in friendship we pray deliverance. From the friends who treat us as a bouquet while beautiful and aromatic to admire, and when withered by misfortune to fling in the street. From the friends who proclaim themselves our best friends, whose envious eyes discern faults and only love to tell them. From all friends whose jealousy grows from the point where you crop above them, from all such we pray "Good Lord deliver us." Is the untaught mother jealous of her child as she translates her Latin exercise, or with fluent pen completes the essay and brings home the first prize for proficiency in Latin, and also a prize for a brilliant composition? No. She rejoices because she loves. Is the old farmer envious as he looks into his son's field ripening into a forty fold harvest, while behind him he dares not count on getting the seed he sowed from his own? No. He rejoices, he is a friend. Did the "Baptist" falter to declare his own decrease as his successor increased? No. He spoke in joyous tones "He is greater than I." He was his friend.

PRIDE.—No room for this. Friendship means in sound sense equality. He who is distended to his utmost capacity with an over weaning sense of his own importance, cannot appreciate, cannot bestow friendship. It only befriends flattery, and nurses envy. It hates superiors, scorns inferiors, and knows no equal. He who was above all, the express image of His Father's person, received the child with open arms, listened to the widow's plea, was advised by Peter. John leaned against Him as a brother. Thomas questioned Him and all sat while He washed their feet,—the best friend, stooping to perform the humblest service, while capable of bestowing heavenly honors. He was "meek and lowly."

True friendship stands adversity. Many friends are like bees. The honied cells and bloom of prosperity invite them in swarms, the smokes of adversity scatter them. They are parasites not friends. Many are like shadows at our feet in sunshine. Oh! for friendship like the atmosphere that will crowd us closer in the darkness. When Saul smiled on David he had many to sing his praises an octave higher than those of the king. When Saul frowned he could in cave and wilderness easily count his friends. Friendship's presence is always most cheering when in the fourth watch it comes walking on the wave, and its voice is sweetest when heard above the wind—wailing and storm gusts of misfortune, saying "It is I."

The friendship of the Order here represented is based on a Divine Fatherhood, and universal brotherhood, regardless of color, creed, or sympathies. Its lessons are war against selfishness and encourage benevolence. It imprints on its banner "Friendship, Love and Truth." It excludes the Atheist and encourages the believer to strongest trust. Its charities go far beyond cold almsgivings, and reach out towards the "golden rule. Its covenants for mutual relief are strong as that one by which they are described and enforced, where Jonathan at peril of life, and David with lasting memory, fulfilled each his pledge. Its friendships are contracted for storms as well as sunshine. It is not a religion, still it inculcates that feature of "pure religion" given by the ardent, practical James, in his epistle to the churches—it "visits the fatherless and the widow in their affliction."

The preacher introduced some figures showing the munificence of their charities as an Order, and closed by urging them to faithfulness to each other—to their principles—to the suffering—to the widow and orphan—to the widow's Judge—and the orphan's God—to the sinner's Saviour and Judge—and thus attain to glory, honor, immortality and eternal life.

Cabinet Making in Britain.

Mr. Gladstone has not yet completed his Cabinet, but the principal appointments are definitely made. Mr. Gladstone will be Premier, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Leader in the House of Commons—three offices the most laborous in the whole Administration, and all for one salary. The other appointments so far decided upon are:—Earl Granville, Secretary of State for the Foreign Department; Marquis of Hartington, Secretary of State for India; Hugh C. E. Childers, Secretary of State for War; Lord Selborne, Lord High Chancellor; Wm. E. Forster, Chief Secretary for Ireland; Lord Northbrook, First Lord of the Admiralty. Sir Charles Dilke and Mr.[s] Chamberlain have received offers of Under Secretaryships. Chamberlain declines, and Dilke has not yet accepted.

The London correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, whose despatches are reproduced in the Toronto papers of Monday, gives us a little inkling into the inner workings of this political crisis. He no doubt speaks of what he knows, when he states that during the past week there was a prolonged political cabal, which had its origin at Windsor Castle to thwart and disconcert the Liberals. Reports of interviews between the Queen and Beaconsfield represented the former parting in tears with her beloved adviser, and the latter instilling the Queen's mind with a distrust of Liberal's foreign policy should Gladstone direct it. The same object was pursued in public despatches from Berlin and Vienna, reiterating suspicions of Gladstone's hostility to existing schemes and family compacts to which Beaconsfield had eagerly assented. For the same purpose private letters from the European Courts and Foreign Office agents were made instruments of Tory machinations. Palace officials and personal associates of the Queen were likewise employed, many of them being steeped to the lips with the intrigues of the out-going Administration. It was to give time for the ripening of these plots that occurred the elaborate and otherwise needless delays and vexatious formalities in completing the resignation of the Cabinet.

Beaconsfield first advised the Queen to summon Lord Hartington. This enabled the defeated Premier to show his dislike to Gladstone, and at the same time to fall in with the Queen's personal wishes. Hartington was called in, then Lord Granville, but both these gentlemen, true to their fealty to Gladstone, and knowing well they could not form or carry on a Government without him frankly told the Queen so, and although there were negotiations, and delays, the Queen at last recognized her duty, and called in the only man in the country who could form a Government. The late leaders—Granville and Hartington—gladly welcome back their old chief. The indignant feeling of the country at the threatened rejection of Gladstone has been allayed. Beaconsfield's feeling of hate and revenge has been crushed in the bud, and the Queen has been taught once more a wholesome lesson that in carrying out the wishes of the people, she is but their servant and mouthpiece.

There is a great deal of talk about the policy and personnel of the new Government, but so far, much of the speculation is of a mythical character, and in a few days at most they will be crystalised into shape and form. The Liberal press generally are cordial and sympathetic in their support of Mr. Gladstone, and even some of the most timid are beginning to think that he is not so much of a Radical after all.

MR. ABBOTT'S bill for the distribution of the assets of insolvents is an insolvent bill without the discharge clauses.

N. Y. Times:—That untrammeled monitor of public opinion, the independent newspaper, is a discovery of the nineteenth century, and among the most valuable it has given to mankind.

THE latest rumour, and one which, owing to certain circumstances, has acquired considerable consistency, is that the Government will ask Parliament to empower them to appoint a Commission for the construction and working of the Pacific Railway.

IT is said that the Conservative party in Britain will take the unparallel course of opposing the re-election of the new Ministers, Sir William Harcourt and Sir H. James being two immediately selected. It is even contemplated to run the Earl of Dalkeith against Mr. Gladstone, though it is not thought probable the former would consent to any such petty spite.

A BILL is now before Congress which proposes to abolish all duties on articles and materials of wholly foreign growth or production used in the construction, equipment or repair of vessels employed in the foreign trade. It is said that the bill is likely to pass, as it has the support of the great ocean shipping interests. Would it not be good policy for our Government to do the same thing?

THE Herald's Washington special says:—The refusal of the English Government to recognize our claim for damage for the Fortune Bay outrage will put a stop to all movements for Canadian reciprocity. Congress will probably at once ask Secretary Evarts to communicate the papers on the Fortune Bay business, and the most probable result will be a demand for the abrogation of the Fisheries Treaty and the repeal of the statute which exempts from duty Canadian fish and fish oils.

THE United States Senate, after considering for several weeks a bill to dispose of the ten millions balance of the Geneva award, on Wednesday postponed its further consideration indefinitely. So the money remains in the treasury. The New York Times attributes this result to inveterate prejudice against corporations, the powerful political influence of the shipping interest, and the notion that in some way it was to the national advantage to appropriate the Award and so be getting the best of Great Britain.

THE recent Tory victories in London have been rather a surprise to outsiders, who are not cognizant of the influences at work in the great metropolis. This is partly due to the influence of the Court, but the English papers say that is in part due to the large Jewish vote. Ever since Jewish emancipation was carried by a Liberal Government, the Jews have been faithful to the Liberal cause. In no previous instance have they given Disraeli their support, so that their change cannot be attributed to any sympathy with him, as a man of their own race. They have been won over by his foreign policy—a policy hostile to the races who have persisted the longest in persecuting their kinsmen, and laudably directed to the prevention of such persecution by securing the rights of citizenship to the Jews of the Balkan peninsula.

Dr. Bowers, son of Cyrus Bowers, Esq., of Berlin, has been re-elected Mayor of Fond du Lac, Winsconsin, by a large majority.

Given up by Doctors.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

Let Us Have Sunflowers!

As the spring is rapidly advancing, and plans for vegetables and flowers for the coming summer are discussed in various households, allow me to present a plea for the old-fashioned sunflowers, that they may find a place around every home. I do not think they are beautiful like many moredelicate blossoms, but still (like homely persons) they are very good. In the first place, they are most important disinfectants; they absorb gases that arise from drains, water closets, and other places, either around the house or barn; and I have yet to learn of a home where sunflowers grow profusely around the kitchen and barnyard that was afflicted with malarial fevers. The more foul matter they absorb, the more rank they grow, and they require very little care and time in their cultivation. Just mellow up the earth, a few inches below the surface, and scatter the seeds, covering them so that the poultry will not scratch them up—this is all the cultivation they need for weeks. As they stretch upward in their rapid growth they may need a short stick set up to tie them to, so that the winds may not break them over till they gain strength to support themselves.

When the flowers bloom they turn their heads to the sun throughout the day, and at night fold their bright petals towards the centre and drop their heads as if they were resting. I would not fancy seeing them cultivated under the parlor windows or at the front porch, but I do not like to see them spread their broad leaves over slop holes and drains, or screen the barnyard fence from view—gathering their nourishment from the miasmatic vapors that poison the air.

Then they are useful. The seeds yield an abundant harvest, and are a very wholesome diet for poultry, giving them a pleasant change from cereals, and are conducive to their health. One most important item is, they will cure the heaves in a horse. One gentleman told me that there is nothing equal to sunflower seeds for that purpose. He had one bushel of the seeds ground with two bushels of oats, and gave a horse two quarts of the mixed meal, wet in water three times a day. He took the time when the horse was not used at hard work. In two weeks not a sign of the heaves could be observed, and the horse looked as sleek and bright as if his hair had been oiled. He had cured two horses of his own of this distressing complaint, and recommended it to others, who had experienced a like result. In cases of horse distemper and coughs, it is an excellent remedy.

Raising the plants, then, is really a good investment in every point of view, as they purify the atmosphere, hide unsightly places, and are of medicinal value in the farm yard. Let each housewife resolve to raise sunflowers; there are plenty of places where they can rear their stately heads, where nothing else would ever be cultivated, and the ground be covered with slime or noxious weeds.

The Party Feuds in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Just before eight last evening Charles De Young entered the business office of the Chronicle on the ground floor and stood talking with a gentleman. J. M. Kalloch entered drawing a pistol, and without, as far as can be learned, speaking, began firing. De Young ran through the gate of the counter to a desk inside, Kalloch firing at him as he ran. On reaching the desk De Young turned to face his opponent with pistol in hand, when Kalloch, leaning over the counter, fired again, the ball striking De Young in the mouth. Kalloch started for the door and De Young raised the pistol as if to fire, but apparently his strength failed, for the pistol was not discharged, and sinking backwards he fell on the floor. Bystanders ran to his assistance, but the ball evidently pierced the base of the brain, and in a few moments he expired. As Kalloch ran out of the door he was seized by a citizen and an officer, who took him to the city prison.

The news of the murder flew through the city like wind. In a few moments the streets in the vicinity of the Chronicle office was crowded with people, and policemen were at once stationed at the doors to keep out the crowd. In the rear office M. H. DeYoung, brother of the deceased, reclined on a lounge, surrounded by friends, evidently overcome by the tragedy, but with dry eyes and a calm though strained voice. He was not present at the shooting. The deceased lay on his back on the floor, his face and breast dabbled in blood, his eyes closed, and his face wearing a calm expression. Only one wound was found on his person, although five shots were fired by Kalloch, two having pierced the glass door and the partition of the office, a third lodged in a window casing and the fourth pierced his clothing.

Kalloch on being arrested, still carried the smoking pistol in his hand, which he surrendered to the officer. He observed strict reticence, and on being shown to the cell positively refused to have any intercourse with the representatives of the press. His motive for the act is generally understood to be attributed to a pamphlet recently circulated attacking his father, Mayor Kalloch.

It is evident that the deed was deliberate. Officer Noyes states that a few moments before De Young entered the office he saw Kalloch walk along Kearney street and peep into the window of the Chronicle counting room. He was evidently awaiting the arrival of his victim.

The Alta says:

The killing of De Young was a vulgar assassination. The dead man was far from blameless, but he on whose account the crime was committed was not irreproachable in reputation, or reticent in speech, and had little excuse to have slander against him avenged by a bullet. It is a great misfortune for San Francisco that any of the parties ever made their homes here.

The Bulletin says:

There is a line in journalism which cannot be outstepped without provoking retaliation, and which is in a large sense the dead line.

The Post says:

The homicide last night was the natural, logical, and inevitable outcome of the example set by the deceased.

The Examiner pronounces the tragedy a deliberate assassination, which should be the end of lawless violence and criminal bloodshed.

Winnipeg.

Morning light revealed to us the metropolis of the Northwest. We saw a broad main street bordered with high wooden sidewalks, and rows of shops of every shape and size. Some were rude wooden shanties; others were fine buildings of yellow brick. High over all towered the handsome spire of Knox Church. Several saw and grist mills sent up incessant puffs of white steam into the clear air. The street was full of bustle and life. There were waggons of all descriptions standing before the stores. Long lines of Red River carts were loading with freight for the interior. The sidewalks were filled with a miscellaneous crowd of people. German peasants, the women in dark blue gowns and head kerchiefs, the men marked by their little flat caps; French half-breeds, with jaunty buck-skin jackets, many colored scarfs around their waists, and their black hair shining with oil; Indians, dark, solemn, gaunt, stalking along in blankets and moccasins; Scotch and English people, looking as they do all the world over, but here, perhaps, a little more quick and energetic. The middle of the street, though there had been but a single night of rain, was a vast expense of mud—mud so tenacious that the wheels of the waggons driving through it were almost as large as mill-wheels; and when we dared to cross it, we came out on the other side with much difficulty, and feet of elephantine proportions.

The city of Winnipeg, which eight years ago was nothing more than a cluster of houses about the Hudson Bay company's fort, now contains over seven thousand inhabitants. It is the distributing centre for a large region, a place of great business activity, and so situated in relation to the back country and the facilities for transportation that it is sometimes called the "Bleeder's Paradise." It is built on a clay bank at the junction of the Assiniboine with the Red River. The nature of the soil is such that it is difficult to find a good foundation for a house, and many of the large buildings have settled and cracked.—Harper.

A Protest Against Fences.

At the meeting of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, held in Hamilton a short time ago, a discussion arose regarding fencing and fences, and after a good deal of talk the matter was referred to a committee, with instructions to investigate the matter and embody their finding in a report. This report has now been published; and as it deals with the subject of fencing and fences in a somewhat novel manner, the report will doubtless prove interesting to our farmer friends. We therefore lay it before:—

"Your Committee on fences, having amined into the subject, have the honor to report: 1st. That the existing laws regarding fences are unjust to land owner and occupier, because if he has no need of a fence around his farm, society should not compel him to build one. 2nd. That if a farmer chooses to "soil" he should not be compelled to expend on fences a tax estimated at $2 per acre per annum to keep his neighbors or highway cattle off his property. 3rd. That no law should compel a land occupier to make a road or division fence to protect himself from the public at large; that the public are just as much interested in the welfare of the State as are the individuals of the public: these last therefore should be protected by a public law compelling individuals to enclose their own stock. 4th. That although the public have a right to travel they have no right to use said roads for a cattle run or pasture ground. 5th. That every farmer or property owner, either by paying taxes for road construction or repairs, or by the performance of statute labor, has a certain right in the roads surrounding his lands, and this vested right should enable a majority of owners to say whether the public roads should be used for any other purpose than the legitimate travel or driving of stock, when required, along them. 6th. That during winter these roads are fenced in such a way that they harbor snowdrifts, thus blocking to a considerable extent the travel along them. 7th. That the maintenance of fences is an excessive burden on the farmer now that timber is becoming scarce and dear, and it behooves the Legislature to make such provision by law as will assist in doing away with such an oppressive expense. 8th. That in the early settlement of this country when cultivated lands were scarce, and there were no pasture lands for cattle, it was in the interest of individuals to fence in their crops and allow the cattle to run at large. Now the case is different; the principal part of the country is cultivated, and the pasture and waste places are in a minority; these, therefore, should be fenced and not the larger tract of farm lands. 9th. Therefore your Committee, taking into consideration the above facts, respectfully suggest that in counties where a majority of the acreage of the soil is used as arable land all horned cattle, horses, pigs, sheep and geese, being prevented by the legislative enactment from running at large; that owners of all kinds of stock should be compelled to keep them enclosed or pay all damages that may accrue from their depredations; that it may be the duty of any one finding cattle, &c., straying along the roads, streets, or any unfenced lot, when not accompanied by a suitable attendant, in such county, to drive the same to pound; that for every head of cattle so pounded the individual who owns such stock shall pay to the pound keeper, over and above all other fees or charges, the sum of 50 cents per head, to be paid to the individual who puts them in pound; that all damages to trees by animals be assessed at full damages done, having in consideration the age of the said tree and the number of years planted; that such damage be paid by the owner of of stock to the owner of said trees; that suitable attendants be employed when cattle are being driven to market, or from one part of the country to another, so as to keep them from straying off the road; that any one turning off the road into a neighbor's field, either on foot, in a vehicle, or on horseback, shall be liable to be apprehended as a common trespasser, and as such be amenable to the law in such cases made and provided.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

A despatch from Durban, Province of Natal, dated April 24th, says:—The Ex-Empress Eugenie has arrived here, and will start for Maritzburg, fifty miles north of this place, on the 26th inst.

A London correspondent of the Edinburgh Scotsman says it is reported in official circles that Sir Austen Layard and Sir Henry Elliot, respectively British Ambassadors to Constantinople and Vienna, have sent in their resignation.

Some idea of the thrifty habits of the French may be gathered from the fact that $153,800,000 was deposited in the savings banks of France during last year, and that the number of depositors exceeded 2,600,000 persons.

Russia has made a demand on Italy for the extradition of a notorious female Nihilist.

The Emperor William has advised the Czar to retire to private life at Livadia for three months, leaving the conduct of affairs to the Czarevitch and Prince Melikoff, but the Czar declined.

General Stewart's force had a severe fight with the Afghans on the 19th inst., defeating them with a loss of over a thousand men. On the following day another engagement took place, in which the enemy lost 400 men killed and wounded.

A correspondent says the absence of the Prince and Princess Frederika of Hanover and Baron Powell Von Ramingen at Windsor on Saturday last, and the prince's visit to congratulate Mr. Gladstone, is much commented on. The marriage of the Princess of Hanover to her father's secretary has caused considerable friction in the highest circles.

Clerical Scandal in Toronto.

Charges Against the Rev. T. W. Handford.

(From the Mail.)

The Rev. T. W. Handford, since his connection with the Bond street Congregational church, has won his way to public favour as a minister, and he is looked upon as the most eloquent preacher in the city. But for some time past ugly rumours, most detrimental to the character and standing of the reverend gentleman, have been floating about, and have been allowed to pass uncontradicted. On Monday it became known that the authorities of the church had decided to make an investigation, and accordingly a Mail reporter was detailed to ascertain the particulars of the case. The members of the congregation, when applied to, were, for the most part, extremely reticent, but finally a member was found who was more communicative than the rest, and he responded to the reporter's enquiries unhesitatingly. It appears that some time ago, Mr. Thompson, a deacon of the church, became incensed at the pastor for some reason and withdrew from the congregation. According to the rules of the Church, a committee of two was appointed to wait upon the aggrieved deacon to discover the why and wherefore of his hostility to the pastor, and the cause of his withdrawal from the flock. The two deacons who were chosen to restore amicable relations between the pastor and the worthy deacon entered upon their mission, but were shocked and pained when the deacon made sweeping charges of immorality against the minister. Being pressed to make his accusations plainer, Mr. Thompson said that Rev. Mr. Handford had been guilty of indiscretions with two lady members of the congregation, that he was a drunkard, and that he had embezzled certain moneys, the receipts of a bazaar held in Shaftesbury Hall in aid of the church. These startling statements when they became known, spread consternation in the congregation, and while some shrank from an inquiry, the effect of which would be prejudicial to the church, others demanded a searching investigation into the matter. A meeting of deacons was held at the house of Wey last Tuesday night, and the result of their discussion was a decision to communicate the charges to the pastor, and to call upon him for a statement in reference to them. This was done, and Mr. Handford was to have replied on Monday night.

Accordingly on that night what Mr. Thompson supposed was to be a meeting of deacons, turned out a largely attended gathering of the congregation, among which the lady members were well represented. Proceedings were opened by Rev. Mr. Hanford, who occupied the chair.

A reporter made his way into the meeting, but was told by the chairman that business of a private character only would be transacted, that a report could not be made of it, and the meeting was open to none but members of the congregation. The reporter then withdrew.

Rev. Mr. Handford denied as much of the charges as he heard fall from the lips of Mr. Thompson. He related the circumstances connected with the confession of his past life to seven members of the congregation previous to taking charge of the church. The confession, he said, was full, nothing being witheld. He had opened his heart to the Committee under pledge of secrecy, and Mr. Thompson was the first and only man to break that pledge. The remarks of the pastor were frequently applauded.

A member said that very grave rumours as to Rev. Mr. Hanford's character were current, and he suggested that the members of the congregation be summonsd to enquire into their truthfulness. The proposition was not favourably received.

A motion was introduced by Mr. Fraser, and carried, "that the congregation having heard the complaints, consider them frivolous in the extreme, and express the fullest confidence in Rev. Mr. Handford."

Local News.

CITIZENS are busy cleaning up back yards and gardens at this season.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—Fresh to brisk north westerly to south westerly winds; clear to partly cloudy weather.

BREACH OF THE COW BY-LAW.—Jas. McAstocker and Wm. Duffy have been summoned to appear at the Police Court for allowing their cows to run at large.

Two new locomotives passed through the city on the Grand Trunk Railway this forenoon for use on the Chicago section of the road lately acquired by the Company.

WM. CASSIDY, ex-Treasurer of West Garafraxa, sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary for embezzling township funds, left for Kingston on Monday afternoon in charge of High Constable Armstrong and Deputy Sheriff Gow.

THE quadrille assembly in the Caledonian Hall last night passed off very pleasantly, and was quite a success. About forty couples were in attendance, and tripped "the light fantastic" to the inspiring music of a good string band. The company broke up a reasonable hour.

ASSAULT AT ROCKWOOD.—Patrick Lee, hotel keeper, Rockwood, assaulted Martin Mulligan, of the same village on Monday. Mulligan was raising a disturbance in Lee's hotel when the latter attacked him with a poker. The severity of the assault has not been learned.

JUDGING from the number of big words used in a paragraph in the Herald last night, anent the cake walk, it would appear that the funny man of that paper had gorged himself with a dictionary afterwards, and had not recovered from the effect.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—A musical and literary entertainment will be held in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Church to-night, under the auspices of the Young Men's Association of that congregation. An interesting programme has been prepared, and those who go may rely on spending an enjoyable evening.

ASSAULT.—A charge has been laid before the Police Magistrate against Edward Stapleton, a lad, for assaulting Andrew McLeod, a boy who has been employed by the corporation to impound cattle running at large. While the latter was driving a cow on Waterloo Avenue to pound on Monday afternoon Stapleton attacked him by throwing stones at him and was the means of rescuing the cow. Hence the charge. The police are determined to enforce the cow by-law, and if people infringe on it and afterwards try to rescue their cattle, it will cost them more by reason of fines at the Police Court than it would to pay for the release of cattle impounded.

THE LATE FIRE.—Some additional evidence was heard at the Police Court this (Tuesday) forenoon in the case of incendiarism against Elizabeth Pearson, charged with setting fire to the stable of Wm. Standish on Saturday night. The only new feature in the case is that Charles Maddock, a witness, while getting his information from the girl questioned her as to her motive for setting fire to the building. Consequently her statement to him could not have been all together voluntary, which it should be in order to be admitted as evidence against her. Mr. Maddock also informed her that she could not be convicted on a charge of incendiarism if on a medical examination she was found to be insane. This might be considered an inducement to her to admit her guilt. The case was further enlarged till to-morrow.

The weather is fair in Manitoba, with farmers busy ploughing and seeding grain. A private letter, dated April 1st, from Fort Macleod, reports that the weather is extremely cold, the thermometer indicating 45° below zero. The Indians have been in great straits for want of wood, which is now being supplied by Government from the Fort.

Board of Education.

The Board of Education met on Monday evening; Present—Messrs. Murton, (Chairman) Newton, Skinner, Bell, Knowles, Gowdy, Innes, Burgess, McKenzie, Harvey, Swinford, Inglis.

HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Mr. Torrance, Inspector, reported that the High School attendance for March was, boys 95, girls 68, total, 163, average 160.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Newton, chairman, reported, recommending payment of the following accounts:—W. H. Jacomb, $14.40; Inglis & Hunter, $3.65; A. McBean, $5.81; J. A. Nelles, $5.50; Herald office, $6.25; George Murton, $86.49; MERCURY, $18.25.

The report was adopted.

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE.

Mr. Peterson, chairman, reported recommending that the necessary steps be taken to have the High School made a collegiate institute; that a course of military training be introduced at the schools under the Government agreement to supply arms and accoutrements, the volunteers to furnish their uniforms.

The report was adopted.

SITES AND BUILDINGS.

Mr. Inglis, chairman, reported as follows:—

That on the communication and statement of Mr. Geo. Howard, claiming a balance due him of $291.45 on Central School contract and extras, we find on examination of all the architect's certificates, orders by the chairman and also the city treasurer's books, that Mr. Howard has been overpaid by the architect's statement $482.80.

On examination of the grounds of the High School your committee deem it necessary to have a plan of them made which they are now having done, and on completion will submit it to your Board for approval. This plan they trust will be a guide in future to those who have the oversight of the work, as from the expenditure being limited to annual appropriations it will take some years to reach completion.

They would also recommend that a floor be put in the large vacant room basement, the cost of which will be about $50, and the acceptance of the offer made by the chairman of the Tree Planting Committee of the City Council, viz: To furnish enough trees gratis to plant in front of the Central School on Dublin street, on your Board having the ground prepared for their reception.

From information received from the Water Commissioners we find the cost of supplying the Public and High Schools with city water will be $120 for this year or 10c. per pupil next, but your committee would only recommend the supplying of those schools that are without wells.

The Board went into committee to consider the report, Mr. Burgess in the chair. The following amendments were carried: Messrs. Peterson and Innes moved that the first clause of the report lie over, and that Mr. Howard be requested to meet the Committee at some convenient day to have the matter investigated.

Messrs. Peterson and Gowdy moved, that the last clause of the report be amended by recommending that all the schools be supplied with water from the city water supply.

The Committee rose and the report as amended was adopted.

EAST WARD SCHOOL.

In reporting their visit to the East Ward School, your Committee have much pleasure in testifying to the order, neatness and cleanliness of everything connected with the school internally and the keeping of the grounds, fences and closets outside—the pump only requiring repairs, which we would recommend to the immediate attention of the School Property Committee. A coating of mineral whitewash would be an improvement to the close board fence. Your Committee recommend the planting of shade trees—maple and basswood—on the street with protecting boxes, and would also suggest having trees planted inside the fence—maples and balsams alternately — and the erection of an inner protecting fence of posts or other rail on top of 4 x 4 scantling, laid angularly by end to end on angles cut in the posts. About sixty trees would be required to do all the planting. Two or more hitching posts are required on the street, in front of the school house.

The report was adopted.

ST. GEORGE'S WARD SCHOOL.

That the North school rooms be painted and white washed, inside and outside.

That the raised seats in the juniors' room be removed and the floor laid level ready for the new desks and seats, which it is understood are to replace the uncouth affairs now used. That the wainscot in this room be repainted. That the steps at the front entrance be repaired. That provision be made to protect the trees now being planted. That the play ground be levelled with gravel. That the water closet be shingled. That the committee be given an appropriation of $75 to pay for the proposed improvements.

The report was adopted.

ST. DAVID'S WARD SCHOOL.

Mr. Skinner, chairman of the Visiting Committee, reported recommending—

That the furniture of the two school rooms be replaced with new. That the rooms be whitewashed and painted, and that the woodwork of the building outside be painted. That shade trees be planted in the street opposite the school property and inside the west boundary of the school lot. That two swings be erected in the school yard, the committee believing that they would conduce to the recreation of the scholars, and help to keep them from straying away from the school precincts during recess.

The clause referring to the erection of swings in the school ground was withdrawn, when the report was adopted.

COUNTY BOARD EXAMINATIONS.

Messrs. Innes and Peterson moved in effect that the Inspector be paid the sum of $3 per day for 19 days he was engaged discharging his duties of City Inspector in the County Board examinations for the examination and licensing of teachers, in accordance with the School Act, and mileage prescribed by law. Carried.

The Board adjourned at 9:40 p.m.

MR. JOHN MURPHY'S BARN BLOWN DOWN.

Mr. Murphy Seriously Injured.

We are sorry to learn that a serious accident occurred to Mr. John Murphy, of Mount Tara, shortly after two o'clock on Monday afternoon. He had been engaged several days previously in raising a barn, underneath which he intended to place a stone foundation. The structure had been raised to the height required, and was propped up with posts until the masons could get the stone foundation built up to the height required. This work was going on on Monday when the storm of wind rose at the time mentioned. Mr. L. Tracy, one of the masons, noticed the storm coming, and gave Mr. Murphy, his son, and the other men warning of its approach. Scarcely had he done so when the blast came in all its fury. It caught the structure full on the side, and swept off the roof first, carrying it off full forty feet. The rest of the building was also instantly demolished, a good part of it also being blown off and landed a short distance short of the roof. All the men engaged got clear except Mr. Murphy himself, who tripped over some stones, and was caught by the falling timbers close to the stone wall which was partially built. Had it not been for the protection it afforded he must assuredly have been crushed to death. As it was he was severely injured.

Immediately after the accident his son Michael dreading the perilous position of his father at once took means to get him released, and when they got to him it was found that he had been crushed down in the attempt to escape. He was at once taken into the house and Dr. Keating sent for, who along with other medical men were soon at the house. It was found that the injured man had had his hip joint dislocated. He had also received several painful bruises on the face, and complained of pain in the stomach. This it is thought was from the severe pressure he was subjected to by the peculiar position in which his body was at the time the timbers fell on him.

The doctors reduced the dislocation at once, and the patient spent on the whole a fair night. To-day he is no worse then could be expected, although at times not quite conscious. Dr. Keating, however, is hopeful that his injuries are not more severe than are already known, and that none of them are of an internal character.

Very general regret is felt by Mr. Murphy's many friends at this untoward accident, and earnest wishes are expressed for his speedy recovery.

The barn which caused all the mischief is a complete wreck, and will be for scarcely any use.

61st Anniversary I. O. O. F.

The Band Concert in the Drill Shed.

The Concert given by the Battery Band in the Drill Shed last night, under the auspices of the I. O. O. F., was very well attended, there being several hundred persons present. In different parts of the Drill Shed the committee had arranged mottoes and letters of the Order, and the bare places were tastefully covered with flags and banners. The Concert was opened by the Band, and the playing of these musicians is now so well known to the citizens that the general opinion is expressed in saying that they did excellently. A promenade was enjoyed by the young folks during the performances of the Band. The presence of Mr. R. Smith, from Galt, also added to the interest of the concert. The performances of this gentleman on the cornet, and his spoon and bellows solo gave good satisfaction, and received great applause. Mr. Hugh Walker sang "The March of the Cameron Men" in splendid style; Mr. Crowe also favored the company with a song, and Miss Hastings sang with very good taste and received hearty applause. Miss Goodfellow and Prof. Philp gave a piano and violin duet, and this with the several tunes by the Band made up an excellent programme.

It was pleasing to see the turn out last night, thus showing hearty appreciation of our talented Band, and it is hoped that the same interest will be taken in all their entertainments. The members have now reached an efficiency, under the tuition of their talented leader, Prof. Philp, that ought to make our citizens proud of them, and the best patronage should always be given their efforts. A great many hours of practice have had to be gone through to reach the efficiency attained, and considering that all the members are mechanics or business men, and have to study their music after the day's work is done, or snatch an hour now and again, as many of them do, they are deserving of every praise and encouragement.

THE CREDIT VALLEY RAILWAY COMPANY have completed the survey of their line, and staked it out between Parkdale and the Union Station, Toronto. The line along the Esplanade, after passing through the Northern yard, is placed about eight yards from the breastwork. The material is on the ground for a bridge over Garrison Creek. The passenger trains will run into the Union Depot in the meantime.

THE STORM ON MONDAY.

Much Damage Done at Berlin.

OAKVILLE, April 26.—During the heavy squall which suddenly struck this place this afternoon a young man of Bronte named James Pickett, about eighteen years of age, lost his life. It appears that he was raking stone in a scow near the shore at Bronte when the squall struck him, and thinking to save himself from being blown out into the lake he jumped overboard and attempted to swim ashore with the aid of a plank. He failed in the attempt, and was drowned before help could reach him. His body has not yet been recovered, although parties are raking for it. Great damage has been done all over the country, although the storm only lasted a few minutes. Houses were unroofed, barns destroyed, and trees blown down, and in one case a lady and gentleman were assisted out of their buggy and left lying on the road. Fences are blown down and the roads are blocked up in a great many places. No damage to shipping has been reported yet. The storm commenced with violent wind, followed by a heavy fall of rain, which lasted twenty minutes.

BERLIN, April 26.—About two p. m. a hurricane, accompanied by heavy rain, struck this town. Its strongest force was expended on a course from west to east, south of King street. It lifted the metal roof of Simpson & Co.'s furniture factory, and then carried away a large portion of the roof of the old Lutheran church on Queen street, landing it fifty yards away. Afterwards it blew in the gable end of a new brick barn behind Mr. H. Bochmer's house, and demolished a brick summer kitchen, just ready for the roof, behind the same house, making the workmen get out of the way in a hurry. It then took the roof off Mr. C. Helier's barn on King street. This is all the damage so far as known, but more may yet be heard of from the country.

TORONTO, April 27.—This afternoon a storm broke over the city which presented a threatening aspect for about five or six minutes. A gale preceded rain, which was succeeded by a shower of hail stones, which broke several windows in the schools and other large buildings. Otherwise, no serious damage was reported. A report from Richmond Hill, sixteen miles north of the city, states that a barn belonging to Mr. Wm. Calvert, 4th con. of Markham, was struck by lightning and, with its contents, completely destroyed.

EDENBURG, Ill., April 26.—Several tornadoes passed over this section on Saturday night. Several houses were blown down. Mr. and Mrs. Giggins were carried through the air a quarter of a mile. They were seriously injured.

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., April 26.—Christian county was ravaged on Saturday night by an awful cyclone, coming like a funnel shaped cloud, point downward, with a roar like a mighty cataract. It was only of a few minutes duration, followed by a dead calm. Its course marked a space thirty rods wide and ten miles long. The destruction of life and property was terrible. Mrs. T. J. Langley, and two children of Alonzo Cutler were killed outright. One of Cutler's children was found in a brush pile 200 yards from the house, with part of his skull gone. A large number are wounded. Fifteen or twenty dwelling houses, barns and other farm property were levelled. The debris was carried a mile.

MEDORA, Ill., April 26.—A terrible cyclone at Sheffield on Saturday evening wrecked Mr. Valentine's store, with a loss of $10,000. Two powder cans in the store iguited in some way and exploded, injuring Mr. Valentine badly and fatally injuring his clerk. There is nothing left of many of the houses but the foundations. Mrs. Abner Haynes was blown 200 yards and instantly killed. In nearly every house the inmates were injured. No less than $100,000 worth of property was destroyed within a district three miles long and half a mile wide.

MEMPHIS, April 26.—A destructive tornado swept over the country in the vicinity of Macon (Miss.) last night. Telegraph communication is interrupted. Meagre reports bring intelligence of the loss of several lives.

A STRANGE PERJURY CASE.—At the Cobourg Assizes, on Monday, Mary Ann Wetherup was placed on trial for the murder of her infant child. During the trial James Wetherup, prisoner's father, and Ellen Wetherup, the prisoner's mother, were successively called, and a most remarkable scene followed. It appears that both the father and mother of the prisoner had previously sworn before the magistrate at the preliminary investigation that the prisoner had been delivered last October of a female child in their house, and that she had taken it away with her. They repeated this statement before the Grand Jury on Monday last. They were again before the Grand Jury on Thursday, when they denied their former statement in toto. In the witness-box on Monday they stated that the prisoner was not pregnant last fall, that she had not been delivered of a child, that their former statements to the contrary were entirely false, and that they had been frightened into making them by Detective Murray. They were evidently labouring under strong excitement, and their testimony was somewhat incoherent and contradictory. Having thus convicted themselves of committing wilful and corrupt perjury before the Magistrate and Grand Jury, His Lordship directed them to be placed under the surveillance of a constable, and they asked leave to quit the Court for a short time under the officer's charge. After a little space the Crown counsel then stated that the father and mother of prisoner were now willing to return to the box and contradict the evidence they had just given. James Wetherup accordingly went to the box again and swore that his daughter Mary Ann, the prisoner, was delivered of a healthy living female child in his house last October, and that his last evidence was false. Mr. Justice Burton thereupon severely censured the conduct of the constable. The Crown counsel concurred in this censure, and did not call prisoner's mother. In charging the jury the learned judge told them it would be very unsafe to convict in the absence of any evidence of the identity of the remains. There was no proof that they were those of the prisoner's child, and to prove this fact rested on the Crown. After a few minutes absence the jury returned a verd of not guilty. His Lordship then directed that a warrant be issued, and an indictment laid against James Wetherup for perjury.

The Millers and the Bonding System.

It seems that the Government have been forced to yield to the pressure brought by the Opposition as regards the recent Orders-in-Council, which permitted the importation of American wheat in bond provided it or its equivalent was re-exported. The regulations under this Order were so vague that some of the importers of wheat held that the word "equivalent" in the bond did not necessarily mean that the flour ground from the wheat should be sent out of the country, and that flour from Canadian wheat might be substituted. The absurdity of the whole thing was so apparent that the Government, mainly through the exposure of the Opposition papers, have at last been forced to take action by striking out the word "equivalent," and ordering that actual produce of the grain imported shall be exported. The law will, therefore, in future have to be carried out as at first intended, and no evasion can be made under the convenient term of "equivalent."

Influencing Juries.

Some time ago we referred to the influences that were sometimes brought to bear on Juries, for the purpose of warping their judgment, and inducing them to bring in a verdict to suit the wishes of the party who tampered with them. We believe that this sort of work is more common than is generally supposed, but it has hitherto been carried on in an underhand and stealthy way, and very rarely come to the surface. We are glad to notice, however, that at the Cobourg Assizes last week, in the case of Reeves vs. The Board of Education, Mr. Bethune called his Lordship's attention to the fact that during the previous evening certain persons had been attempting to improperly influence some members of the jury sworn in that case. He was prepared to furnish the names to the County Attorney if His Lordship thought it desirable to have an enquiry instituted.

Mr. Justice Burton said there was too much reason to believe that such a practice existed in some places, and he would certainly deem it his duty to cause the inquiry to be made, so that if any persons were guilty of so gross a contempt of Court they might be prosecuted for it. If any of the jury now in the box had any representation to make on the subject he would be glad to hear it.

Mr. McCarthy said he had received similar information to that of his learned friend, and had intended to bring it to His Lordship's notice.

Mr. William Fair, a juryman—I think both sides made it a point to come to our hotel and give the opinion on each side as fully as they could. I left the room twice while it was going on, and I don't think the jury paid any attention to it. They just got up a discussion so that we could hear it.

Mr. Justice Burton—That is the way it is usually done, and it is an offence.

Mr. Wm. Fair—But as for anything I heard they both said hard things on each side about the character of some of the men; their reliability, I mean.

Mr. James Perrin, another juryman, said he was also present on the occasion.

The learned Judge directed the enquiry to be made. The parties were only liable if the acts were done with a corrupt intent. They must not only know that the jurymen were present, but must also have had the corrupt intent of influencing them.

We hope that the enquiry will be made to the fullest extent, and that the agencies at work will be exposed, and the guilty parties punished. Nothing should be held more sacred than the free, unbiassed judgment of a juryman, and any attempt to exercise an undue influence on this, whether by lawyer, client, witness or any other interested party, should be promptly and severely punished. This is a matter of interest to every one, for no one knows how soon or in what way he may be interested in our Courts. The freedom, impartiality and independence of jurymen is one of the corner stones of our liberties, and any attempt to tamper with these deserves unequivocal condemnation and prompt punishment.

THE condition of Turkey is simply deplorable. It is in a state of virtual bankruptcy. The Porte has no money to meet the demands which are due to the army and navy contractors, and general suffering and distress are the result. In addition the Government has passed a resolution which practically demonetizes the whole of the silver currency of the empire, amounting to at least £13,770,000.

A MOTION has been made in the Congress of the United States to abrogate what is known as the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. It is thirty years since this treaty was formed, and the object of it was to guard both Great Britain and America from any undue advantage, or possible injury, in the construction of the proposed Panama canal. In Great Britain there is a strong feeling averse to the abrogation of the treaty. It is claimed that the interest of that country in the construction of the Isthmus Canal is real and considerable; and it looks like an attempt at sharp practice on the part of those who are moving in the matter at Washington to exclude British influence now they see that the canal is almost an assured certainty.

Heavy freshets are reported from Lower Canada. A railway bridge over the Etchemin is said to have been carried away and one district of the county of Beauce is submerged.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 27.

The Minister of Justice introduced a Bill to authorize the making of certain investigations under oath, which it was explained merely empowered the Department to enquire as defined into the conduct and actions of subordinates.

Sir Leonard Tilley moved the House into Committee of the Whole upon the resolution providing for the increase of the issue of Dominion notes from twelve to twenty millions of dollars, with a basis of fifteen per cent. in gold and ten per cent. in Dominion securities. The Government had in their hands £600,000 sterling of the four per cents floated in 1878, which it was proposed to utilize as security. In proof that no danger need be anticipated because of the smallness of the gold base, it was claimed that although the circulation was nearly thirteen millions of dollars last year the Receiver General was only called upon to redeem in gold $1,000,000. It was proposed to only issue four millions of dollars this year, and a similar sum next year. To assist in distributing this sum the Government contemplated paying the Indians their annuities in Dominion bills, and to make all payments of less than $5 by banks payable in Dominion bills. The cities of Charlottetown, Winnipeg, and Victoria will be provided with branches of the Receiver-General's office.

Sir Richard Cartwright offered three objections to the Government's scheme. It was a long step in the direction of the Government's assuming control of the currency, and universal experience has shown that such an assumption always is succeeded by the adoption of an irredeemable currency; secondly, on account of the currency's rapid return the Finance Minister, particularly in times of financial stringency, would experience great difficulty in keeping it out, and in his efforts to do so would probably increase the stringency; and thirdly, it would reduce the already small amount of gold held in the country. While he admitted his belief that the Government ought to share somewhat in the benefits arising from the circulation, yet he feared that the present scheme would only result in extracting a large part of the country's capital, the result of labour, from the active operation of trade.

Mr. Wallace (Norfolk) accepted the resolutions as a concession in the direction of adopting a National Currency, and he complimented the Government upon the courage they had manifested in taking this step. He could not, however, endorse the proposal to renew the bank charters for ten years, because it would bind up public opinion for that time, and therefore at the proper time he would move an amendment to these resolutions. The House was then favored with a warm defence of the fiat currency, and a vigorous attack upon the advocates of a gold basis and the existing system of banking.

Mr. Charlton expressed mistrust as to the result of the Government's currency resolutions, and then proceeded to criticize the defence of a fiat issue offered by Mr. Wallace. In an exhaustive speech he recited the past history of similar efforts, and portrayed their lamentable results, and sought to impress upon the House the necessity of acting upon the lesson which these events inculcated. His speech bore ample evidence of being the offspring of considerable patient and careful research.

After a few remarks favourable to the resolution by Mr. McCollum the motion was carried.

In the House it was concurred in on a division and the necessary Bill introduced.

Sir Leonard Tilley then moved the House into Committee on the resolutions renewing the bank charters on certain conditions already communicated to the public. He explained the meaning of the provisions in detail, but nothing absolutely new was communicated.

In Committee, Mr. Plumb spoke at length in rather doubtful support of the present series of resolutions. He appeared to favor the gradual adoption of the American system of banking, and offered a caustic criticism of the arguments advanced in favor of an irredeemable currency.

Mr. Casey, who followed, complimented Mr. Plumb upon the line of argument he had pursued, but although he endorsed his main arguments against the National Currency scheme yet he could not favor the American banking system, because it was not sufficiently elastic.

Mr. Ross (Dundas) appeared to believe that the Government's scheme would prevent traders having sufficient small bills in their hands to meet the requirements of change.

Mr. McLennan (Glengarry) favored the House with a few weighty arguments against the National Currency, and expressed doubt as to the wisdom of the Government's course in increasing the volume of the currency.

Mr. Wallace replied briefly to the arguments advanced against his favorite scheme, and then moved in amendment to the first resolution that the words be added to the effect that no banks whose charters are now renewed shall issue bills under the renewed charters to an amount exceeding that issued under their old charters.

After a speech by Mr. Boultbee in favor of a National Currency,

Mr. Casey argued at length against it.

The amendment was negatived, the resolutions adopted, reported to the House and incorporated in a Bill, which was read the first time.

The Railway Agitation.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—The person who wrote to you on the subject of railway agitation in Peel persists in his second letter in retaining the signature of "Fair Play," to which he apparently has no title whatever. There is nothing whatever in the letter that calls for any special consideration. I, therefore, decline taking any further notice until the person gives his own name, when if I find him to be a fooman worthy o any steel, I shall be happy to give him any opportunity for discussion of this subject that he desires.

Yours truly,
FRED J. CHADWICK.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

THE LILY.

A maiden said to a lily,
"I go to the dance to-night;
Wilt thou nestle among my tresses,
O lily, so pure and white?"
But the lily answered: "O, maiden,'
I should droop in the heat and glare
And die in thy shining ringlets;
Place the glowing coronation there."

A bride saw the lily blooming:
"I go to the altar to-day;
In my bridal garland, sweet lily,
I will twine thy pale, beautiful spray.
"Why sadden thy bridal, lady,
By wearing my cold, white flowers?
Sweet roses and orange-blossoms
Should gladden thy joyous hours."

A mother wept o'er the lily:
"In thy pallid beauty rare,
Thou shalt lie on my dead child's bosom,
For surely thy place is there."
O, mourning, sorrowful mother,
Thou hast seen one blossom fade,
On the shroud, on thy broken lily,
Be a wreath of immortelles laid."

A young girl whispered: O, lily,
Let me place thee on my breast,
For the sweet Lord Jesus cometh
To-day in my heart to rest."
And the lily answered: "Yes, maiden,
On thy heart let my blossoms be,
That my pure white petals may wither
Near the Lord of purity."

Where Will the Biddulph Murderers be Tried?

It has not been settled where the alleged Biddulph tragedy participators will be tried, but it is understood that a determined effort will be made to have the venue changed by order of the full Court of Queen's Bench. The authorities have given up all hopes of a fair trial in London, and only trust for a satisfactory verdict through such a change. To show how the feeling worked an incident which happened on Monday may be given. Johnny Connor, the principal witness for prosecution, has been kept under watch in a house in the city for several weeks past. The authorities found it necessary to transfer the boy and his mother to the suburbs of Petersville. A house was taken and the family were being moved in. When a citizen who had leased the adjoining tenement became aware of the fact he at once told the landlord he would not fulfil his bargain, giving as his reason that he would not be safe with Johnny Connor in his neighborhood; the authorities had, therefore, to lease both tenements. With such fears as those extensively prevalent, how can a satisfactory verdict be given.

At the Interim Sessions on Monday in London the Crown Attorney applied to have Mr. R. A. Jones, storekeeper, Kensington, appointed as special constable to watch over Johnny Connor, of Biddulph murder fame. The application was granted. The boy's family have moved into Kensington from Lucan. They object to have him guarded by an officer, and desire to take care of him themselves, but the Crown Attorney will not hear to it.

THE DECOURSIER TRIAL.—On Monday at the Toronto Assizes, Robert W. Decoursier was tried for the murder of his brother Edward at Lambton Mills, on the 26th of September last. The prisoner, who was placed in the dock, appears much improved in flesh since his committal, and his prison confinement does not appear to have injured him physically in the least. During the day he appeared to take little intelligent interest in the proceedings, and he seldom raised his head to look at his counsel or the witnesses who gave evidence. His eyes were constantly moving around in a restless, uncertain, manner, expressive of no intelligent realization of his position or the enormity of his crime. The trial was not finished on Monday night.

THE HANLAN COURTNEY RACE.—Concerning this contest Soules said:—"Hanlan and party started for Washington on Monday. It is the purpose of the Canadian oarsman to become thoroughly acclimated before he rows. Courtney will go on the 10th of May, and Riley about the same time or a few days earlier. In regard to the fourth man for the great race, I shall write to Warren Smith at Halifax, stating that although there is little probability he will be called on to row, we will give him $100 for expenses if he wishes to take his chances of entering the race, and go into training for it at Washington early." Riley is expected in Rochester within a week.

Five of the bribers of the Pennsylvania Legislature have been sentenced to a year's imprisonment at hard labour, and a fine of $1,000 each.

The Murder of Three Indians in Bruce County.

Application for Bail Refused.

At Osgoode Hall, on Friday, before Chief Justice Hagarty, application was made for bail in the case of Abraham Davis, who was indicted at Walkerton Assizes for the murder of three Indians at Cape Hurd, in the County of Bruce, in January, 1874. His Lordship refused to interfere, without the consent of the Crown. The informant in the case is George Nelson, who is son-in-law to the prisoner, and the story he tells is a most startling one. Condensed from the papers produced in court and stripped of its legal phraseology, the information is to the following effect:—

Nelson, who is a laborer at present living in Southampton, is married to the prisoner's daughter, and lived with his father-in-law. In January, 1874, the latter and Nelson went to Cape Hurd to burn wreckage which had drifted upon the beach, for the sake of the wrought iron nails which it contained. Cape Hurd is about three miles distant from the place where the prisoner lived. On the day they went to the beach, they both stayed out all night, sheltering themselves in a structure of boards which they erected, and protecting themselves from the coldness of the night by a fire which they kindled. While they were engaged in building the fire, three Indians came to where they were. One of them spoke to Nelson, and shook hands with him and the prisoner. While Nelson was speaking to the Indians, Davis took up his rifle, a double-barrelled one, and sat down beside the fire. The Indians withdrew a short distance and built a fire for themselves. Davis and Nelson then completed their camp and ate some lunch which they had brought with them. After the repast, Davis told Nelson that these Indians had stolen some lumber from him, and that his son was going to shoot them, but was deterred from doing so by Davis, who feared that the Indians would turn upon them and kill them all. He said further that he always intended to have satisfaction out of them for stealing the lumber, and that he wouldn't get a better chance than was presented that night. There would be no danger in destroying them, as he would tie up the sail and rudder, put the bodies in, and send them adrift on the lake. Until Davis drew his attention to it, Nelson had not noticed a boat drawn up upon the beach. He had not seen any boat with the Indians, as they had come to camp on foot. Davis tapped his rifle and remarked, "There's the lady that is good for two of them, and we're good for the other one with the axe." Then he made threats against the lives of several others, whom he mentioned, because they had offended him in various ways. He worked himself into such a passion that he trembled and foamed at the mouth. He remained this way for a couple of hours, when he said, "Are you going to help me to kill these beggars?" Nelson tried to persuade him not to carry out his design, but he took Nelson by the collar and dragged him out of the camp. Nelson tried to free himself, but Davis threatened to hit him with the axe, and fearing that the threat would be carried into execution, he went along quietly. Nelson again tried to dissuade him from his purpose, but as he was speaking Davis raised his rifle and fired. Two Indians were lying sleeping by the fire, and as the rifle was discharged they threw up their hands and feet. The third one jumped up and was making towards the boat, when Davis fired the second barrel. The Indian did not fall till he reached the boat, when he leaned across its bow. The night was very dark, and as Davis ran towards the wounded man, with his gun clubbed, he fell, and dropping the rifle, could not recover it on account of the darkness. He got up, ran towards the fire, where there were two oars. He grasped one of the oars, and going to the boat, he struck the Indian on the side of the head and felled him. Davis then carried the bodies to the beach and placed them in the boat. He then put a lot of stones in her and shoved her afloat. When she was well afloat he struck her side with an axe and shoved her as far on the water as he could. Nelson could hear the water gurgling in through the hole Davis had made in her. Then he came back, and hunting up his rifle, loaded it, and asked if Nelson would ever tell on him. Not receiving any answer, he raised the gun, and pointing the gun at Nelson's head, made him promise that he would never tell any one of the occurrence. "If people didn't know you were around here, I'd shoot you too." Both men then returned to camp, and Davis again began frothing at the mouth. They went home in the morning, and Nelson lived with his father-in-law until the spring, when he was ordered out of doors. Nelson did not inform upon Davis until last winter. He says that a constable named Belrose who was concerned in a trial in which Davis was charged with making threats, came to him and told him that if he did not tell all he knew about Davis he would be arrested. Nelson then laid the information before a justice of the peace at Walkerton.

No Bail for a Murderer.—In Common Law Chambers at Toronto, on Friday, before Chief Justice Hagarty, Mr. Cassidy (McCarthy Hoskin & Co) moved absolute a summons to admit a prisoner to bail. The prisoner is charged with the murder of three Indians in North Bruce, and the Grand Jury at the last Bruce Assizes had returned a true bill against him. Mr. Scott, Q. C., for the Crown opposed the application. The Chief Justice held that he had no jurisdiction as a Judge in Chambers to make an order to admit to bail where a true bill had been found by the Grand Jury. Summons discharged.

The Fire at Hull.

On Sunday some five thousand persons visited Hull to view the scene of the late fire. The work of relief is now thoroughly organized. On Saturday 350 families were relieved. The supply of bread from this city was so generous that thirteen hundred loaves of bread were carried over after all the sufferers had received an ample supply. Clothing and bedding is much needed. It is considered certain that only one life was lost by the fire, that of Mrs. Gerette. The missing children have all been found. Contributions from outside places are beginning to come in.

Some Facts About Sugar.

A return recently brought down to Parliament shows in a striking way the operation of the sugar duties on the importing trade. During the last six months of 1878 and the same period of 1879 the importations of sugar by Provinces were as follows:

Quebec	19,826,532	46,048,911
Nova Scotia	5,857,037	24,289,715
New Brunswick	3,945,552	2,928,719
Manitoba	376,603	16,979
British Columbia	771,698	495,868
Prince Edward Island	517,410	349,646
Grand total	63,614,472	73,064,847

How do these figures look in the eyes of the wholesale grocers of Toronto, Hamilton, London, Kingston, and other western towns and cities, who under the old tariff could do their own importing, but are now placed at the mercy of one refining firm in Montreal. St. John, New Brunswick, was once the centre of a very important trade in sugar with the West Indies, but the trade has already fallen off immensely, and will unquestionably fall off still more, and by its decline seriously affect the export of lumber from the same port. Nor has the benefit of the enormously increased importation of sugar into the Province of Quebec been distributed amongst the cities and towns generally. It is all concentrated in Montreal, and in only two firms of that city. And yet the country is asked to rejoice because these are prosperous and the refineries are kept busy. Why should they not prosper under a system so admirably contrived for taking money out of every other person's pocket and putting it into theirs?—Toronto Globe.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. Beware of imitations. d&w1yr.

An order in council has been issued containing new regulations regarding contagious diseases affecting cattle and other animals. It is ordered that the importation or introduction into the Provinces of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, of neat cattle and swine from the United States of America, be prohibited, except in bond for transmit from one point of the United States to another, and the importation and introduction of animals from Europe is prohibited, except at the ports of Halifax, St. John, N. B., and Quebec, as provided and regulated in the order.

A Card.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, free of charge. THE MARKET BY-LAW.—Numerous complaints are made by farmers in consequence of the By-law preventing buyers from purchasing potatoes, apples, butter, eggs, &c., before a late hour in the forenoon. This by-law, doubtless, had has the effect of driving away farmers who used to attend the Guelph market to neighboring places to sell. This forenoon a few loads of potatoes had to be kept on the Market for nearly two hours—till eleven o'clock—before the buyers could make an offer for them.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—Thomas Allan, of Pilkington, met with a severe accident while rolling a field on his farm, on Monday. He was seated on the roller when the horses ran away, drawing him in front of it. It passed over him inflicting a number of bruises about his head, body and limbs. Though severely hurt, none of his wounds are considered dangerous.

THE CANADIAN CRICKET TEAM.—The New York Herald Says: "The Canadian or Northwestern Cricket Team, as it is called, composed of many of the leading players in the Dominion, will sail from Portland, Me., on the 30th inst. From the large number of engagements already made with clubs in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, it will probably remain away during the greater part of the summer. This is the first regularly organized cricket team that has ever attempted to go to the other side from America, and its movements will be looked forward to with interest, not only by the cricketers of the United States and Canada, but by the whole cricketing world.

BELLEVILLE OPERA HOUSE BURNED.—This building was burned down on Monday night, which with its contents were valued at about $12,000 to $13,000; insurance $6,000 chiefly in the Western. There are vacancies for a few respectable young men as recruits.

Money prizes are to be offered.

DYEING.—Mrs. Burrows has opened an agency on Quebec street opposite Chalmers' Church for a well known dying firm in Toronto. Feathers and cloth furnishings dyed to any colour and satisfaction guaranteed. Old gloves are made to appear like new ones. THE after tea social to be given on Thursday evening, the 29th inst., in the First Congregational Church, by the Ladies Association, will be one of the most interesting of the season. A short paper will be read by the Rev. D. McGregor, pastor, on the "Power and Glory of Man." The programme will further embrace a variety of organ solos, vocal solos, duetts and quartetts, recitations, readings, and a dialogue by several young ladies. All are invited. No admission fee. A collection will be taken up in aid of the fund of the Association.

A GOOD ENTERTAINMENT.—The closing entertainment of the Young Men's Association of St. Andrew's Church, held last night was well attended and proved a most successful affair. Mr. W. Guthrie, President, occupied the chair. After devotional exercises by Rev. Mr. Howie, Mr. John J Findlay, Secretary of the association read the annual report. Rev. Mr. Howie addressed the audience in the course of his remarks throwing out some timely advice to young men. A very interesting programme of music was afterwards carried out to the enjoyment of those present. The following persons took part in the entertainment: The Misses Stevenson, Misses McLaren, McGregor, Keables; Messrs. Hugh Walker, Kelso, Crawford, J. Strachan, James Macdonald, Ware, John J. Findlay, John Davidson, Gower Gordon. At the close a vote of thanks was tendered to those who assisted in carrying out the programme.

THE DUNCAN EMBEZZLEMENT CASE—The evidence in the case against Alex. G. Duncan, Elora, for embezzlement, which has been adjourned several times, was concluded before the Police Magistrate on Tuesday afternoon. John Haffner, official assignee, was recalled for the prosecution, and said that the discrepancy in Duncan's accounts was over $600, not $700, as he previously stated. Three items in the books viz., $266.29, $26.17, and $75.09, represented goods sold during stock taking, not deducted from the stock list. He found that goods to the amount of $29 were omitted in the stock taking. He had no personal knowledge of the goods sold on due bills, but the insolvent and his book-keeper told him that the goods sold amounted to about $100. If these things were taken into account it would reduce the discrepancy to $233, exclusive of the amount claimed from due bills. The ground for charging the prisoner with fraud was contained in two items of $1,600 and $557, because of the way in which the entries were made, and from the appearance of the whole transaction. In charging the prisoner with concealing his goods the complainant referred to the discrepancy in the stock. At the conclusion of the evidence the prisoner was committed to stand trial at the next Court of Competent Criminal Jurisdiction, being admitted to bail in his own recognizance of $1,500 and a surety of $1,500. Mr. Peterson, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution; and Messrs. Jacobs and A. Dunbar for the defence.

John Boyd, who has acted as bookkeeper for A. & T. Darling, Toronto, at the small salary of $22 per month, and has frequently had the handling of thousands dollars, is missing. It is supposed he has absconded, as his account is $500 short.

Address and Presentation.

Mr. John Cormie, the Recipient.

On Tuesday evening a number of the employees of Bell & Co's. organ factory formed themselves into a committee, and proceeded to the residence of Mr. John Cormie, Edinburgh Road, and after gaining admittance to the house, presented him with an illuminated address, a copy of which is given below, and a splendid fishing rod. Mr. Cormie made a suitable reply, after which a sociable chat was enjoyed and all made themselves at home.

Mr. Cormie has for seven years been in the employ of Bell & Co., and for a time past has occupied the position of foreman in the trimmers' room of the factory. During that time he was always found steady at his duty, and ready and willing to lend assistance and advice to his fellow workmen, whenever asked. He has a host of friends outside the circle of the workshop, won by his cheerful disposition, who will wish him much prosperity in his new home.

Mr. Cormie, we are informed, is leaving the city for the west. The effects of the "N. P." having begun to be felt in his purse owing to the reduction of wages a few days ago in this department of the factory, he determined to seek new employment, and thus another of Guelph's best mechanics is leaving the city, and many will be sorry to hear it. Mr. Cormie was a stout upholder of the N. P. at the last election, but he may now see matters in another light.

The following is the address presented:

Dear Mr. Cormie:

We, the undersigned, your fellow citizens of the past seven years, desire to express at this time our sincere regard for you as a fellow shopmate, ever ready to assist us or others by word or deed, possessed of a genial kind disposition the influence of which we have often felt.

We shall certainly feel and regret your departure from among us, and as a slight memento of our past companionship we ask your acceptance of this fishing rod, expressing the hope that when you go a fishing your thoughts may kindly revert to your friends at Bell & Co's, who wishing you every success, subscribe,

April 27th.

The presentation was a very suitable one, as Mr. Cormie is an excellent disciple of Izaac Walton, and a good shot with his gun. It is hoped that he will derive much enjoyment from the use of the rod presented to him.

The Charges Against Rev. Mr. Handford.

TORONTO, April 27.—There is great excitement in the city to-day over the charge of immorality brought against the Rev. Mr. Handford, of the Congregational church. He is charged with criminal intimacy with the wife of a commercial traveller, who is frequently from the city, and a rather elderly maiden lady. The rewill be a meeting of deacons to give an official report on the subject. It is expected that their report will be in favor of the minister but that a split in the congregation will take place.

In a statement given to the Evening Telegram the Rev. T. W. Handford denies the charge made against him by Mr. Thompson. The Mail was the only paper to give an account of the investigation, and religious circles are very much excited today at the revelation. One of the ladies alluded to is about to bring an action for defamation of character against Rev. John Potts, of the Metropolitan church, who it is said, was the first to spread the stories of Mr. Hanford's visits to her house. Mr. Handford will not resign. Mr. Handford has written to the Mail demanding a retraction of its statement, and it takes the ground that it simply gave Mr. Thompson's story.

Eramosa Township Council.

This council met at the Centre Inn on the 26th inst., members all present, the Reeve in the chair. The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. The taxes paid by Mrs. McGratt to the County Treasurer charged by mistake to Lot 90, Block D in Rockwood, was ordered to be refunded to her, and the Clerk was instructed to have the taxes charged in 1877 to Lot 1, in Block C, and Lot 30 in Block A in Rockwood, struck out of the County Treasurer's books. The Clerk was also instructed to write to Mr. McKitrick, of Orangeville, to forward a road scraper to the Centre Inn for inspection before the next meeting of council. $3 were ordered to be paid to Thomas Waters, being the amount expended by him in sending Edward Wilkinson to the house of refuge. $100 were ordered to be paid to John Black, assessor, for the performance of his duties in 1880.

On motion of Mr. Mutrie, seconded by Mr. Waters, it was resolved, that the whole council go around and examine all the roads in the township for the improvement of which petitions and applications have been made to the council and report at their next meeting. For Thistle Inspector—Emanuel Duffield, James Smith, John Blakely, Andrew Fruer, John Leslie, Thomas Copeland, William Abbot, John McNab, John Moore.

The council on motion then adjourned to meet again at the Centre Inn as a Court of Revision, on Monday, the 31st day of May next, at ten o'clock a. m.

The Hamilton City Council has accepted the tender of Mr. A. Gartshore for the manufacture of 2,530 tons of pipe for the water works at $32.75 per ton.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 27.

Sir Leonard Tilley moved the House into Committee of Supply.

Several weeks ago it was intimated that Parliament would in all probability be asked before its prorogation to pass judgment upon the Government's reference of the Letellier question to England, and thereby endangering colonial independence in matters of domestic administration.

Mr. Mackenzie, speaking to the motion to go into Committee of Supply, proceeded to advert to Mr. Mousseau's motion last year condemning the Governor-General for referring the matter to England. Probably due to reasons now well understood, that motion was permitted to remain on the notice paper, and was never formally discussed. Mr. McKenzie intimated at the outset that it was not his intention to discuss the Letellier question on its merits, but merely to recite such of its leading features as would enable the House to vote intelligently on the amendment he intended to submit. He then briefly narrated the circumstance connected with the case. In conclusion he moved an amendment, which in itself will be an important contribution to the documentary history of this celebrated question. In the amendment, which occupied several closely written pages of foolscap, he recited the whole of the facts elaborated in his speech, and embraced all the motions, extracts of remarkable speeches, which constitute the parliamentary phase of the issue, and all the circumstances leading to the reference to England, which in a final resolution he condemned because of its being subversive of the constitutional government which the Dominion now possessed.

While the Premier was perusing the amendment, Mr. Quimet, one of the French Canadian Conservatives who last session denounced this reference in most unmeasured terms, under the impression that the Governor-General had made it, now manifested a startling conversion, and made a speech indicative of his determination to vote that the reference was wisely made.

The Premier, at the conclusion of this speech, called upon the Speaker to put the question. Cries of "Lost" were raised, when Mr. Laurier rose to second the amendment. While he was speaking Mr. Caron, the Government whip, at the Premier's instigation, passed among the Government supporters and gave, it is presumed, the order that no Ministerialist was to speak. Subsequent events demonstrated this surmise to be well founded.

Mr. Laurier offered a warm defence of the integrity of Mr. Letellier's intentions, and challenged the proof of any conspiracy between the ex-Lieutenant-Governor and the Dominion Liberal leaders. He criticised the arguments in favor of the dismissal preferred by the Premier in his memorandum, and denounced the reference as a blow aimed specially at the liberties of the Province of Quebec.

To the annoyance of the Ministerialists Mr. Huntington favored the House with the opinions of Mr. Todd, the well-known constitutional authority, who, in a recent work, maintains the constitutionality of Mr. Letellier's action, and the unsoundness of the Dominion Premier's reasoning on the question.

Speeches in favor of the amendment were also made by Messrs. Casey and Casgrain, but the uproar and interruptions by the Ministerialists were so persistent that the hon. members' arguments could barely be heard. Not a single word was offered by any member on the Ministerial side in defence of the reference or of the charge that the Governor-General had been misrepresented last session.

An amendment was negatived on a vote of 49 yeas to 119 nays, the majority against being 70.

After recess Mr. Mackenzie asked the Finance Minister if he had authority from the Lords of the Treasury to use as security on the Dominion currency the money which had been procured for a specific purpose on an Imperial guarantee.

Sir Leonard Tilley gave the evasive answer that if all the money were not required for public works the Government could do what they pleased with it.

The House then went into Supply, and was all the evening occupied in considering the item of $2,491,400 for canals, chargeable to capital.

Before the House adjourned Mr. Mackenzie announced that he had resigned the leadership of the Opposition, and in future would act as a private member on that side of the House.

The Premier said that that was an announcement upon which the Ministerialists could have nothing to say, but personally he expressed the hope that the successor to the leadership of the Opposition would display the same ability, earnestness and zeal.

Hillsburg Correspondence.

The fourth annual Show of Stallions at Hillsburg, was held on Tuesday 20th April. A goodly number of visitors were in the village during the day. The prize list is as follows:—Class I, heavy draught, 1st prize, "British Ensign," Wilson Patterson, Marsville; Class II, Agricultural, two entries, 1st, "Dusty Miller," B. Swackhammer, Acton; 2nd, "Marquis of Lorne," Ransom Adams, Acton; Class III, general purpose, four entries, 1st, "Young Hard Fortune," William Willis, Hillsburg; 2nd, "Chieftain," Ransom Adams, Acton; Class IV, road and carriage, four entries, 1st, "Willie Wonder," Wilson Patterson, Marsville; 2nd, "Whalebone George," G. Hurd, Buckham; Class V, bloods, three entries, 1st, "Terror," Anderson & Dolmage, Hornby; 2nd, "Young Boston," D. Hyndman, Hillsburg, and a diploma to "British Ensign" as the best stallion on exhibition. Total entries fifteen Judges, Wm. Anderson, V. S., Elora, F. McQuillan, Guelph, Mr. Hemstreet, Trafalgar.

Mr. Jno. T. Harris had one sheep killed and two others seriously injured by dogs Thursday night.

About forty years ago a man and his wife settled in the County of Waterloo on a farm about twelve miles from Guelph, and by industry and care, acquired considerable property in the shape of lands, goods and money. Some two years ago the husband died intestate, and leaving no family, a portion of the property fell into the hands of his relatives. In February, 1880, the wife died, leaving by will, the remaining property to her friends living near Hamilton. On investigating the contents of the house, they found 100 full suits and materials for making 100 more for the good woman, a two bushel bag, crammed with socks and stockings, ten complete sets of table ware, a barrel well filled with new shoes. Upstairs were found rolls of carpet and many pieces of new looking furniture, although stowed away for the last thirty years. In the cellar were found barrels of pork and beef, casks of butter and lard, jars of fruits, jellies and jam, and in all stages of decay. Most of these provisions were found to be useless on being opened, and had to be thrown out on the fields. It is said that at least, $500 was lost on the contents of the cellar. The only reason assigned for this hoarding of household stuff was to provide for famines and deficits.

Fergus Correspondence.

His Lordship, the Bishop of Niagara, has been pleased to appoint to the incumbency of Welland the Rev. Robert Chase Caswall, of Fergus, and the Rev. Mr. Morton, of Welland, to Fergus. The exchange will take place on Wednesday, May 12th.

During the residence of Mr. Caswall in Fergus many families have removed to as many different points of Ontario, Manitoba and the far west, carrying with them sweet reminiscences of their dear little church in which the responses are rendered so earnestly and the singing joined in so heartily by the whole of the congregation, led by the choir carefully trained by their clergyman, himself an accomplished musician and organist. His new parishioners will find him to be an indefatigable pastor, a Christian gentleman whose whole soul is centred in the prosperity of the Church of Christ, and especially that portion of it to which he may be appointed.

Mr. John Perry, formerly of Fergus, now a prominent merchant of Orillia, is about to open up a store in Galt, leaving his brother, Mr. J. B. Perry, to conduct the business in Orillia.

From the North West Territory.

DEAR SIR,—I have no doubt some of your readers will be thinking by the accounts they have heard of the severe winter we have had, that the people in the North West have been snowed up, or perhaps which is still worse frozen up. Well, sir, such is not the case, although we have had a very severe winter. Ploughing was locked up by the frost on the first of November last, and the first snow fell about the fifteenth. The coldest weather we had all winter was in December, during three weeks of which the frost was most intense, the thermometer registering from thirty-five to fifty below zero. The morning before Christmas it touched the bottom at fifty-six below zero. The oldest settlers in the country (half breeds) say they never remember of seeing such a severe winter nor such a quantity of snow as there is this winter. We had some beautiful weather in January and February, clear and bright, which with good sleighing, was taken advantage of by the settlers in getting out house timber and rails, a very large quantity of which have been taken out. The only kind of timber we have got is poplar, which varies in size from six inches up to two feet. These, when flattened on both sides, make very good house logs. When dry it also makes very good firewood. The country around here is high and rolling, and the soil is very rich. There is timber in sufficient quantities for all the requirements of the settlers for a number of years. We have one of the most compact settlements in the North-West. They are a very industrious class of people, the majority being of Scotch or Irish descent. There are a certain class of people, however, we have too many of for the immediate wants of the settlement, as the extent of country settled is very sparsely populated. They belong to the bachelors' society as yet. The fair sex are greatly in the minority. I think if a few of them in Ontario would take Horace Greely's advice and "Go west, young ladies," might do very well.

We all feel very much elated over the prospects of having the railroad almost at our doors inside of eighteen months, as it is to cross the river at Tanner's crossing, which is a very short time will be a place of no small importance as it is the centre of a fine farming country. Mr. Armitage intends building a large steam grist and saw mill, planing and sash factory, the machinery, all of the most improved kind, being on the ground, which is to cost thirty thousand dollars. We have also got two general stores, one dry goods and one boot and shoe store, post office, land office, and several private residences. Lots are selling from $25 to $100, size fifth of an acre.

To give an idea how property is increasing in value near Minnedosa, a gentleman who owns 160 acres was offered $8,000 for it, but refused, wanting $10,000. This quarter section was taken up two years ago when scrip was worth $50 to $75. If the spring is favorable there will be a large crop put in this season. Wheat is worth $1.00, oats 80c to $1.00, barley 75c, potatoes $1.00 per bush., hay $8.00 to $10.00 at the stack.

In the MERCURY of the 25th of March I saw a letter from Mr. Plummer, of Manitoba, to his brother in Nassagaweya, in which he says "I will try to give you as true an account as I can, touching on both the bright and dark sides of the question." Well, sir, I have read the letter over carefully and I fail to see one bright spot from beginning to end of it. But I must say he has given the dark side of the picture to perfection. He says he is about thirty miles west of Winnipeg which must bring him very close to Baie, St. Paul, which as yet is entirely unfit for farming purposes, as the Assiniboine River overflows its banks at that point, and floods the country for miles round. Mr. P. don't see how a man can make a home for himself in this country. Well, sir, there are a great many people now blind this time of the year, the sun being so bright, more especially on prairie land where there is nothing to attract the attention of the eye but snow for miles. Now I think Mr. P. must be affected that way, or surely he would never have made such an assertion, for not only can a man make a comfortable home for himself, but by being industrious and by careful management, may in a few years be comparatively independent. He goes on to give his brother farmers the average yield of grain per acre in this country. I think he must have been in imagination back among some of the grasshoppers hills, in Nassagaweya when he puts wheat at ten bushels, oats twenty, and barley at fifteen bushels per acre. There was not much grain grown in our settlement last year, and it being such a wet season some of the grain was very poor. Still, thirty-five bushels of wheat and forty of oats per acre were grown here, and that being the first crop I think was very good. There is no doubt we will raise more grain per acre five years from now when the land gets thoroughly cultivated.

As for oxen freezing stiff while standing in the yoke I think requires no comment. Mr. P. intends selling out the first chance he gets. Well, if he would like to know where he could find a good farming country and a part of the country where we have the material for building a good comfortable house as well as a stable, not only fit for (pigs) as he says, but quite fit for horse of which we have a very good span brought from Ontario in June last, and they have stood the winter very well, I would advise him to come west as far as the Little Saskatchewan, and I think he would write a very different letter home.

I am happy to say we enjoy a Prohibitory Liquor Law, as in localities liquors of any kind are not allowed either to be manufactured or sold in the N. W. T. It is to be regretted, however, that it is smuggled into the country to a considerable extent. For the good of the country and the comfort and happiness of the people, I hope such a law may long continue. I am afraid I am trespassing on the columns of your paper. Thanking you for space accorded I will close.

I remain yours, etc.,

R. T. SANDERSON, late of Guelph Township.

Little Saskatchewan, April 12, 1880.

LOST ON THE ICE.—A man named James Cornell was admitted as a patient to the Toronto Hospital on Tuesday, having both his feet badly frozen. His story being somewhat wonderful will bear relation. About six weeks ago he started away

The Letellier Case Again.

On Tuesday Mr. Mackenzie brought up the Letellier case in the House, and made an able speech in support of his position. He did not call in question the previous proceedings of Parliament on this subject, but he based his argument on the ground taken by Sir Michael Hicks Beach that the question was one lying purely within the province of domestic administration. To sustain his contention that the reference was aiming a severe blow at the Dominion's independence in matters of domestic legislation, liberal quotations were made from the other documents to prove that the Governor-General opposed the reference that Sir John Macdonald wilfully misrepresented the position of affairs to the House, that the reference to England was requested by the Government and not by the Governor-General, and that even after the reference had been sent back to Canada the Governor-General only assented to the dismissal after he had thrown all the responsibility of the action upon the Cabinet. After Mr. Mackenzie finished his speech, the Government tried to stifle the discussion by preventing Mr. Casey from being heard. These disgraceful interruptions continued until a vote was taken on the amendment, which was negatived as was expected.

The Reform Cabinet in Britain

Mr. Gladstone has his Government all but complete, and to-day the members proceed to Windsor to be sworn in. The following are the appointments:—

Mr. Gladstone, Premier and Chancellor of the Exchequer.

J. Stansfeld President of the Local Government Board.

H. C. E. Childers Secretary of State for War.

Lord Selborne Lord High Chancellor.

Wm. E. Forster Chief Secretary for Ireland.

Lord Northbrook First Lord of the Admiralty.

Solicitor-General, Farrer Herschel

Lord Chamberlain, Lord Kenmar.

The Times states that Earl Kenmore has been been appointed Lord Great Chamberlain; Earl Sidney, Lord High Steward; Earl of Cork and Orrey, Master of the Horse; Shaw Lefevre, Secretary to the Admiralty; W. P. Adam, Chief Commissioner of Works. Beacons field took leave of the Queen on Tuesday. The report that Lord Derby was offered a seat in the Cabinet is untrue. The absence of the advanced Liberals, after long negotiations, has been met by conceding a seat in the Cabinet to Chamberlain, who probably will be President of the Board of Trade. Sir C. Dilke accepts the position of Under-Secretary of the Foreign Department.

The general belief is that Parliament will be prorogued on Wednesday or Thursday of next week.

The Public Accounts Committee has held its last meeting for the session. There has been very little done in it this year, the heavy work in the other committees preventing the members from giving proper attention to it.

It is learned from reliable authority that the Government have agreed to give the Winnipeg and South-Western Colonization Railroad a subsidy of 2,500 acres per mile. The road is said to be 150 miles in length. The granting of this subsidy is establishing an important precedent in regard to the construction of railroads in the Northwest territories.

It is currently rumored that the Catholic members of the Senate have almost to a unit determined, in conjunction with a few Protestants, to play the role of obstructionists, and defeat the Bill to legalize marriage with a deceased wife's sister. Sir Alex. Campbell, the leader of the Government in the Upper House, is mentioned as a determined opponent to the measure.

Speaker Macpherson of the Senate has been guilty of a piece of petty despotism somewhat extraordinary in Parliamentary history. On Monday he gave notice of the following motion:—1. That during the session of 1877 a member of the Senate attended eleven sitting days of this House. 2. That the said member drew $672 for such eleven days' attendance and mileage. 3. That the Hon. Sir Alexander Campbell, then a member of this House, advised such an interpretation or construction of the law as to admit of such payment. Be it resolved, that this House cannot approve of such interpretation or construction of the "Act relating to the indemnity to members." To Senator Alexander's surprise, the Clerk of the Upper Chamber returned the motion, with the explanation that Speaker Macpherson had ordered him to refuse to place it on the notice paper.

Hon. Mr. Mackenzie Resigns.

At the close of the debate in the House of Commons on Tuesday night, Mr. Mackenzie formally resigned the leadership of the Opposition. The report of what transpired is as follows:—

Mr. Mackenzie—I desire to say one word with respect to my personal relations to the House. I yesterday determined to withdraw from the position of leader of the Opposition, and I do not intend from this time forth to act in any other capacity than that of a private member of this side of the House.

Sir John Macdonald—This is an announcement we have not anything to say upon on this side of the House. All I hope is that the hon. gentleman who takes his place will display the same ability, the same earnestness, and the same zeal in what he considers to be for the good of the country as the hon. gentleman who has just sat down.

It now appears probable that the Boundary Committee will not make a report this session. Anything to save time and put off the day of reckoning.

An important manifesto of the Land League, in anticipation of the Parnell conference, proposes the establishment of a department to buy up land, and create a peasant propriatory by advancing the whole of the purchase money to tenants at five per cent. interest per annum for thirty-five years, and to suspend all ejectments for non-payment of rent for two years whilst this and other comprehensive reforms are being carried out.

Odanah.

The City of the North-West Territories.

On every hand the indications are that the immigration to the North-West territories this season will be much larger than in previous years. The great majority of the immigrants who have reached the North-West this spring appear to be setling in what has been well named "The Garden or the Territories," the beautiful and fertile valley of the Little Saskatchewan river. The settlement of this district, only commenced in 1874, has proceeded so rapidly that thousands of prosperous farmers are now cultivating its magnificent lands. Many of the settlers write of their localities in terms of the highest approval. The country is undulating, is well watered, and has a surface of rich black loam, from five to eight feet deep, with clay subsoil. It produces the finest crops of wheat, oats, barley, beans, peas, potatoes, roots, hops and vegetables. The farms open for sale and settlement are in grass, bluffs of trees being picturesquely scattered over them, providing the settlers with timber for fuel, fencing and building purposes, years of labor are not required to cut away timber and render the land fit for cultivation. The sod can be ploughed in the spring, seed sown and roots planted and crops secured in the autumn. The land produces an inexhaustible supply of hay, and thousands of cattle and sheep can be grazed. The distance from Winnipeg, the present terminus of railway communication, is but 140 miles in a north-westerly direction. Fifty miles of railway west of Winnipeg will be opened for traffic on July 1st, another fifty in the autumn and a third fifty on July 1st of next year. This third section will extend a short distance beyond the Little Saskatchewar. Excellent wagon roads lead to the district. Actual farm settlers can secure 160 acres free from the Government, with the right of purchasing 160 acres at a reduced rate. The Government offers the alternate sections, for sale without enforcing settlement.

Considerable anxiety has existed as to the point which the Government would select for the crossing of the Little Saskatchewan river by the Canada Pacific railway. This has now been decided, and the line located to cross the river in township 15, range 18, west of the principal meridian. A syndicate, owners of a large tract of land in the valley, have decided to establish a town at this point, to be called Odanah, and a staff of surveyors are now engaged making the necessary surveys into town lots, which will be offered for sale at an early date. Already applications for lots are numerous, and it is expected that a large number of buildings will be erected during the summer. The Little Saskatchewan river affords excellent water power. Among the many other advantages possessed by Odanah, it may be mentioned that it is situated on the main road from Winnipeg to the Great Saskatchewan district. It has a post office with regular mail communication. The Government land office for the district is situated on the new town site. The Manitoba Telegraph Company's line already in operation to Portage la Prairie, 70 miles north-west of Winnipeg, will be extended to Odanah, and an office opened there in about two months. The contract for the second hundred miles of railway west of Winnipeg is to be vigorously pushed in order that, as Sir Charles Tupper recently announced in the House of Commons, the line may be open to the Little Saskatchewan by July 1st, 1881, thus placing the settlement in direct communication with the railway systems of Canada and the United States.

Excellent white clay is found in abundance on the syndicate's property, and an experienced Ontario brickmaker has gone out to Odanah to commence business. The plant for a newspaper has been already shipped, and the paper is expected to be issued in a few weeks. There are valuable timber limits on the Riding Mountains, near the head waters of the Little Saskatchewan and logs can be easily brought down to the town site for milling purposes.

There are excellent openings for business men to establish themselves in a healthy prosperous locality, the rich agricultural resources of which cannot fail to make Odanah a city of great business importance The syndicate are prepared to deal with intending settlers on reasonable terms. Maps, prices of lots, etc., can be obtained on application to Ross, Ross & Killam, solicitors, Winnipeg.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

Sold by all druggists.

At the Lincoln Assizes on Tuesday, Jedediah Taylor, Peter King, and Wm. Graves were charged with the crime of rape on Emma Fewster on the 6th of January last. A verdict of guilty was returned, and they were sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary at hard labor.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

Being about to leave Guelph, to seek a home in the Far West, would cordially thank his many kind friends for their continued patronage for the past twenty-two years, and as he is likely to be but a short time longer in their midst, his stock will consequently be sold off at such bargains as will ensure a speedy sale. Merchants will find it to their advantage to sort up, as many of the goods will be sold 15 to 20 per cent below Toronto and Montreal wholesale prices. Hints about House Cleaning.

Copperas mixed with whitewash put upon the cellar walls will keep vermin away.

To polish stained floors rub them thoroughly once a week with beeswax and turpentine.

Strong brine may be used to advantage in washing bedsteads; hot alum is also good for this purpose.

Drain pipes and all places that are sour or impure may be cleansed with lime water, copperas water or carbolic acid.

When house cleaning be sure and take nutritious food at least three times per day, and it will go far towards enabling you to keep strength and temper.

Carpets should be thoroughly beaten on the wrong side first and then on the right, after which spots may be removed by the use of oxgall or ammonia and water.

Where hard finished walls have already been kalsomined, the soiled coats should be washed or scraped off before a new one is put on. This is the most disagreeable part of the process. The furniture should be covered, as lime makes spots that are removed with difficulty, especially upon black walnut.

In washing painted walls it is a good plan to remove from the room everything that can be injured by steam and then hang sheets wrung from hot water in the room. The vapor condensing on the walls, soften the dirt, which may be wiped off with woollen cloths wrung from soda water. Ceilings that have been smoked by a kerosene lamp should be washed off with soda water. If the wall about the stove has been smoked by the stove, cover the black patches with gum shellac, and they will not strike through either paint or kalsomine.

Furniture needs cleaning as much as other woodwork. It may be washed with warm soap suds, quickly wiped dry and then wiped with an oily cloth. To polish it rub it with rotten stone and sweet oil. Clean off the oil and polish it with a chamois skin. For ordinary woodwork use whiting to rub the dirt off and ammonia. Mortar and paint may be removed from window glass with hot, sharp vinegar. Grained wood should be washed with cold tea.

Paint your plastered walls and they will not absorb odors. You can easily clean them with soda and water. Soap and water spot them. When paper and plaster become saturated with effluvia nothing but entire removal will clean them. Insects will not harbor in painted walls. Before paint or kalsomine is applied to walls every crack and crevice should be filled with plaster or cement made of one part water to one part silicate of potash mixed with common whiting. For the kalsomine put a quarter of a pound of white glue in cold water over night and heat gradually in the morning until dissolved. Mix eight pounds of whiting with hot water, add the dissolved glue and stir together, adding hot water until about the consistency of thick cream. Use a kalsomine brush and finish as you go along.

the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly RELIEVE PAIN, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, and ALL ACHES, and is THE GREAT RELIEVER OF PAIN. "BROWN'S HOUSEHOLD PANACEA" should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water [sweetened, if preferred], taken at bedtime, will BREAK UP A COLD. 25 cts. a bottle. d&wlyr

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. The valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. 25 cents a box. d&wlyr.

How to be Handsome.

To be beautiful in person we must not only conform to the laws of physical health, and by gymnastic arts and artificial appliances develop the elements of physical being in symmetry and completeness, but we must do more—we must cultivate the mind and develop the affections to the highest possible degree.

To be beautiful we must feed the spark of intellectual fire by reading and meditation until it burns in steady flame, irradiating the face by its brilliancy, and suffusing the countenance with a calm and holy light; also, we must fill the brain with sublime thoughts, and live surrounded, as it were, by an atmosphere of ideas.

To be beautiful we must put a great organizing and ennobling purpose into the will and concentrate our thoughts of it until enthusiasm wells up in the heart, suffusing the countenance and rebuilding the body on its own divine plan.

To be beautiful we must cherish every kind impulse and generous dispcsition making love the ruling affection of the heart; the ordering principle and inspiring motive of life; the more kindness, the more beauty, the more love the more loveliness.

And this is the beauty that is abiding. Mere physical good looks fade with the years, bleach out with sickness, and yield to the slow decay of mortality. But the beauty that has its origin in kind dispositions and noble purposes and great thoughts outlasts youth and maturity, increases with years, and like the luscious peach which comes to us in autumn ripeness, covered with the delicate flush of purple and crimson, is never so beautiful as when waiting to be plucked by the gatherer's hand, silently witnessing to the full the rich perfections time works out.

The Greatest Blessing.

A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every time, and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, stomach regular, kidneys and liver active, is one of the greatest blessings ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands who have been saved and cured by it. Will you try it? See another column.

ATTEMPTED OUTRAGE IN LONDON.—On Saturday night about 10 o'clock a brutal attempt to outrage a woman named Hannah Curtis was made at Petersville, a suburb of London. She resisted stoutly and screamed for aid. One of the ruffians then knelt on her chest and attempted to force her to drink out of a bottle, cutting her lip badly in the attempt. Mr. Gowers, jr., who lives near by, heard the screams and rushed out, when the ruffians fled after giving the poor girl a parting kick. The girl was severely injured in health by the outrage, and was taken with serious hysterical fits, necessitating attendance all night, and was the following morning in a very low state. County Constables Templar and Hodge arrested arrested Wm. Bicily and John Smith, two young men of Petersville, for the offence.

It is anticipated that the item in the Supplementary Estimates for the forthcoming fiscal year on account of the new Provincial buildings at Winnipeg will be $100,000.

The Fire at Hull.

On Sunday some five thousand persons visited Hull to view the scene of the late fire. The work of relief is now thoroughly organized. On Saturday 350 families were relieved. The supply of bread from this city was so generous that thirteen hundred loaves of bread were carried over after all the sufferers had received an ample supply. Clothing and bedding is much needed. It is considered certain that only one life was lost by the fire, that of Mrs. Gerette. The missing children have all been found. Contributions from outside places are beginning to come in.

Nepotism at Ottawa.

Among the members who have displayed a great disposition to further their family interests are Hon. Mr. Bowell, who had his son appointed Private Secretary at a good fat salary. Mr. Currie has had his son appointed Secretary to the Minister of Agriculture; Mr. Costigan's son and brother are in the House of Commons Department; Mr. Tasse got his son pitched forked into $1,200 a year; Mr. John Rochester's nephew was given a situation last session worth $4 a day; Mr. Mosseau's brother is a sessional clerk; Mr. Edmund Hooper has secured a sessional clerkship for his son; Hon. J. C. Pope has his nephew for Private Secretay; Hon. W. MacDougall is said to have a son in one of the Departments; and Mr. Thomas White looked looked after the comfort of his brother-in-law when a vacancy occurred worth $1,200. As far as Chapleaus and Langevins are concerned they are as thick as bees round a hive.—Correspondence Port Hope News.

Harriston Correspondence.

At a regular meeting of Guthrie Church Young People's Mutual Improvement and Literary Association held in the church basement on the evening of the 20th inst., the following officers were duly elected for the current term:—A. J. Stewart, President; William Kerr, jr, Vice-President; Miss Jane Wright, Secretary; Miss Martha Welte, Treasurer; R. Hinds, A. B. Empey, and Miss Mary Macready, Executive Committee. The Society, though only organised a few months, has become very popular. The interest taken in it is growing manifest.

Mr. Robert Arbuckle, who has been a resident of Minto for the last 22 years, being about to remove to Minnesota, a number of friends assembled at his place on the Elora and Saugeen roads, on the evening of the 21st inst., for the purpose of bidding the family good bye, and spending a social evening with them ere their departure. The proceedings took the part chiefly of devotional exercise led by the Rev. John Baikie, and assisted by Mr. Wm. Kerr, of Harriston. The long residence of the Arbuckle family here has endeared them to the community, who are now universal in regretting their departure. The company broke up about 10 o'clock, after bidding the family an affectionate good-bye, and wishing them a safe journey and prosperity in their new home.

The Browns B. B. C. have made final arrangements with the Maple Leafs, of Guelph, to play a match here on the 24th of May. As both are first-class amateur clubs a fine game may be expected. A regular programme will be laid out for a good days sport. The band are preparing for a grand promenade concert so that a jolly day may be anticipated.

D. H. Clegg has purchased the butchering business of Jacob Webber, and will be found constantly in attendance in the stall at the market, prepared to furnish customers with a choice selection of good meat.

Farmers have got their spring work pretty well under way, and with a continuation of fine weather will be through in good time.

The increased attendance at the Harriston Central School has necessitated the engaging of an additional teacher in the person of Miss Mary Macready, daughter of A. Macready, P.M., who bids fair to make a creditable mark in the calling.

The 61st anniversary of Oddfellowship was observed by the Order here by a sermon in Knox Church by the Rev. John Campbell, B.A., which largely attended by the members of the Order in Harriston and vicinity.

The C. M. Church annual Sabbath School anniversary will take place in the church on Monday evening, the 3rd of May, for which all requisite preparations essential to its success are being made, and the affair as is always the case will be a good one.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. deod&wly

How to Write Well.

We believe that the whole of this method is a mistake, that there is no single system of mechanique for writing, and that a child belonging to the educated classes would be taught much better and more easily if, after being once enabled to make and recognize letters, it were let alone, and praised or chided not for its method, but for the result. Let the boy hold his pen as he likes, and make his strokes as he likes, and write at the pace he likes—hurry, of course, being discouraged—but insist strenuously and persistently that his copy shall be legible, shall be clean and shall approach the good copy set before him, namely, a well-written letter, not a rubbishy text on a single line, written as nobody but a writing-master ever did or will write till the world's end. He will make a muddle at first, but he will soon make a passable imitation of his copy, and ultimately develop a characteristic and stong hand, which may be bad or good, but will not be either meaningless, undecided, or illegible. This hand will after, of course, very greatly as he grows older. It may alter at eleven, because it is at that age that the range of the eyes is fixed, and short-sight betrays itself; and it will after at seventeen, because then the system of taking notes at lecture's, which ruins most hands, will have cramped and temporarily spoiled the writing; but the character will form itself again, and will never be deficient in clearness or decision. The idea that it is to be clear will have stamped itself, and confidence will not have been destroyed by worying little rules about attitude, and angle, and slope, which the very irritation of the pupils ought to convince the teachers are, from some personal peculiarity, inapplicable. The lad will write, as he does anything else that he cares to do, as well as he can, and with a certain efficiency and speed. Almost every letter he gets will give him some assistance and the mater's remonstrance on his illegibility will be attended to, like any other caution given in the curriculum.—From "Learning to write," in Popular Science Monthly for April.

Mothers ! ! Mothers ! ! Mothers ! !

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. Beware of imitations. d&w1yr.

PACIFIC RAILWAY NAVVIES.—Some of the men who left Ontario for Manitoba to work on the Canada Pacific Railway do not appear to be satisfied with the change. Six of them were arrested and brought to Winnipeg on the 20th inst. for desertion of employment. They complain that they were put to work in the rock cuts instead of in the gravel pits; that they were compelled to walk from Cross Lake to Rat Portage, sleeping in the open air while on the way, and that the boarding shanties were not comfortable. They also make numerous complaints of minor importance, such as that they were compelled to provide their own bedding, towels, and soap. They, however, do not attach any blame whatever to the contractors, but throw the whole onus of their misfortunes upon the agent who employed them, claiming that he did not properly represent the facts. They state also that about forty others started from Rat Portage for Thunder Bay.

THE TEMPERANCE ACT.—A despatch from Ottawa says:—The Licensed Victuallers are unceasing and untiring in their efforts to cripple the Canada Temperance Act. Dr. Orton, who is their champion in Parliament, is, by the Government's consent and wish, hawking around for support a serious amendment to the law. The Government's object is to obtain a pledge of sufficient support to carry the amendment before it is placed upon the notice paper. Under the law as it now stands a bare majority of votes cast ensures the enforcement of the Act, but Dr. Orton and the Government desire to amend it so that there must be a majority of registered electors in favor of the Bill whether they voted or not before it can be enforced. The temperance members of the House are sanguine that they can defeat the Government upon this measure.

The dead meat importations into Liverpool have fallen off of late, those of live stock keeping up. A duel took place at Liverpool the other day between an American and an Englishman. As usual, a woman was at the bottom of it, each being in love with her. Very little hurt was occasioned by the fire of either, the hands of the duellists having become unsteadied by overnight potations. One, however, fell, and his adversary, fearing the vengeance of the law, for an infraction which had only occurred so far as the "hostile meeting" was concerned, left the scene for parts unknown.

BREACH OF THE COW BY-LAW.—James McAstocker was fined by the Police Magistrate to-day $1 and $2.85 costs for allowing two cows to run at large; John Duffy for allowing a cow to run at large was fined 50 cents and $2.35 costs. The chairman of the Parks and Shade Trees Committee of the City Council was present at the trial, and the desire of several prominent citizens to see the by-law stringently enforced was evinced by their attendance at court. The Magistrate suggested that the by-law should be amended so as to make it compulsory for the pound-keeper to impound cattle running at large and not leave it optional with him to do so, as at present.

SLEEMAN'S book beer will be supplied after Saturday.

ARMSTRONG CARRIAGE CO.—We notice to-day in the warerooms of the above Company a very fine top phæton built for Mr. John Henry who was formerly engaged for the Company, and who apparently still thinks the Armstrong Carriage Co. can supply him with the finest finished work made in Canada. The Company are also packing another phæton and piano box buggy for shipment to Australia for Mr. J. W. Lyon, the popular book publisher. A new feature in these phætons is a shifting top which makes them the most convenient and desirable phæton made. We are glad to see so much enterprise displayed by one of our city manufacturers.

Defalcation in the London Post Office.

LONDON, April 29.—The troubles in the Post Office here, which have gone on for many years, have culminated in the suspension of the Postmaster, T. Lawless, and the cashier R. J. C. Dawson. There is a deficiency in the cash on all accounts of some $1,500, arising from numerous leakages and one or two overdrawals, for all of which the Postmaster has been responsible. Mr. Dewe came here a few days ago, and held an inquiry, the result of which was that an Ottawa official has been sent on to take charge of the office pending an arrangement. The personal deficiency of Lawless amounts to about $1,000, which it is understood he is ready to make good at once. The remainder is due by the inspector, Mr. Griffin, who has not yet been molested, but is to-day in his office. Dawson is understood not to be liable for any money directly, but to be involved in the transaction of others, in certifying accounts as correct he knew were incorrect. What further action will be taken remains to be seen.

G. B. & W. R.—Mr. H. B. Hollenshead, assistant Engineer of the Grand Trunk, in company with Mr. Sproat, Engineer of the G. B. & W. R. inspected the line last week and was pleased with the work. A by-law granting an additional bonus of $7,000 in aid of the line is to be submitted on May 14th.

A GLANCE BACK ONE HUNDRED YEARS.—One hundred years ago not a pound of coal nor a cubic foot of illuminating gas had been burned in the country. No iron stoves were used, and no contrivances for economizing heat were employed until Dr. Franklin invented the iron framed fireplace, which still bears his name. All the cooking and warming in town, as well as in the country, was done by a fire kindled on the brick hearth or in brick ovens. Pine knots or tallow candles furnished the light for the long winter nights, and sanded floors supplied the place of rugs and carpets. The water used for household purposes was drawn from deep wells with creaking sweeps.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.—We copy the following from the Troy (N. Y.) Times:—Gas companies breath easy again. According to the Scientific American giving the result of an investigation by Henry Morton, Alfred M. Mayer and B. F. Thomas, of the Stevens Institute of technology, Hoboken, into the economic value of Mr. Edison's horseshoe electric lamp as compared with gas, the following results are given:—Edison lamps produce 120 candles and the five gas burners produce 100 to 110 candles with an equivalent expenditure of fuel. If each apparatus and system could be worked with equal facility and economy, this would of course show something in favor of the electric light; but when in fact everything in this regard is against the electric light, which demands vastly more machinery, and that of a more delicate kind, requires more skillful management, shows more liability to disarrangement and waste, and presents an utter lack of the storage capacity which secures such a vast efficiency, convenience and economy in gas, then this relatively trifling economy disappears or ceases to have any controlling importance in the practical relations of the subject.

On Wednesday afternoon the Ontario Government received a deputation of twenty-two prominent Catholics of Toronto, who urged the claims of Mr. J. D. Merrick, and asked that his long political services should be rewarded. The deputation was informed that the Government had it in contemplation to offer Mr. Merrick a position which would be honorable, easy and remunerative.

The Gladstone Administration.

The personnel of the new Administration in England differs less than was anticipated from that of the last Gladstone Administration, and there is still less difference in the political complexion of the two than in their personnel. Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 28.

In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Rufus Stephenson moved the adoption of the Hansard Committee's report, recommending the appointment of a permanent official reporting staff, and the publication of an official report daily, in newspaper form. A debate, participated in by Messrs. Jones (Leeds), Vallee, Blake, Casey, White, (Cardwell,) Plumb, and Ross (Middlesex,) ensued. Each of these members appeared to be willing to try the new proposal as an experiment, as the existing arrangement was admitted on all sides to be unsatisfactory. Mr. Blake added that if the new scheme did not give better satisfaction than the present did he could not promise the House that he would support any further votes on this account after next session. The report was adopted.

Three questions of local interest were answered by the Government, after which Sir L. Tilley moved the House into Committee of Supply.

Mr. Brecken, of Prince Edward Island, directed attention to an alleged comparatively inadequate remuneration of the Island judiciary. This incited a discussion, during which Mr. Blake contended that the salaries paid to the Island judiciary were proportionately as fair as those paid to the judiciary elsewhere. He sarcastically added that probably, however, the salaries ought to be raised in consequence of the increase in the cost of living induced by that very fiscal policy which Mr. Brecken had himself assisted in imposing on the Island. The latter in replying admitted the fit of the cap by stating that as the Island was undoubtedly not benefitted by the National Policy it should receive benefits from Confederation in other matters. The discussion then dropped.

Sir Richard Cartwright adverted to the Conservative party's pledges of economy when in Opposition, and their sweeping denunciations of increasing estimates. He contrasted the past and present estimates under several heads, and concluded by moving an amendment to the effect that the item of Civil Government be reduced by $90,000.

During the ensuing debate, which was protracted, several of the Ministerialists manifested considerable uneasiness, and two or three of the number undertook to explain their voting against retrenchment. Among the minor Ministerialists who took this stand were Messrs. Boulbee, Sproule and Plumb. Mr. John White held similar ground, and in reply to a statement by Sir Leonard Tilley that probably the cost of living had been increased by the high prices given for farmers' produce he denied that either the farmer, mechanic, or miner was better off now than he was a year ago.

After a few remarks from Mr. Anglin in support of the amendment, Sir John announced that the Government had been forced to withhold the Civil Service Bill this session and give other measures the preference, although it had actually been put into type.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Mills and Huntington in behalf of the amendment, and Sir Charles Tupper against. At nine o'clock the vote was taken, and the amendment was negatived on the following division: Yeas, 50; nays, 127; majority against, 77.

The House went into Committee of Supply, and continued until the whole of the estimates proper had been passed. The discussion was purely of a desultory character.

FROM MANITOULIN.—From the Expositor of the 17th we learn that it has got into a bran new office, of which it is very proud. The Expositor wants to get a branch of some bank started in the Island, and says a good business could be done. It states that quite a number of strangers have already engaged rooms there for the summer. Manitowaning is rapidly becoming a favorite summer resort and it well deserves to be as the hotel accommodation is good, there is abundance of beautiful scenery and to people in search of health the village affords inducements unsurpasse by any other place in Ontario. It records the death of George M. Robinson, late of Durham, who died at the age of 24. Deceased had no relatives on the Island and had only resided there a comparatively short time.

It is reported that the Globe Printing Company intend to erect a handsome building on the present site, and that the offices will be the most complete and roomy in Canada.

Three Houses Entered and Ransacked.

Three burglaries were perpetrated at Marden, four miles north of the city, on the Elora road, on Wednesday night, but the burglars did not secure booty of any great value, owing perhaps to timidity or want of skill on their part. The persons whose houses were entered did not hear the marauders, so that what hour the robberies were committed or in what order the houses were visited is not known. From the fact that an attempt was made to ransack the premises of Mr. Murdoch, blacksmith, between one and two o'clock it is supposed that the other houses were entered before that time.

The houses entered were those of Messrs. George Clayton, butcher, James Lillie, hotel keeper, and David Naron, school teacher. Admittance was gained to Mr. Clayton's house by raising one of the windows. The thieves abstracted Mr. Clayton's clothes from his bedroom and took from the pockets $31.50 in silver and bills. They then made off. They entered Mr. Lillie's hotel through the back door and stole a silver watch valued at about $25 from a bureau in his bedroom. In the morning that gentleman's clothes and those of his wife were found in a corridor leading to his room, and had the appearance of having been thoroughly searched. The bar-room of the hotel was visited, and the contents of the till, amounting to 30 cents abstracted. Had the thieves searched a bureau in Mr. Lillie's bedroom they might have possessed themselves of $195, which sum was in one of the drawers. The keys were on top of the bureau, so that if the thought to examine the drawers had occurred to them, they would not have had much difficulty in making a large haul. Admittance to Mr. Naron's house was gained through a window. That gentleman's clothes was searched and $5 stolen from them. There were $55 about another suit of clothes in an adjoining room, which escaped unnoticed. As stated above the burglars were frightened while operating at Mr. Murdoch's house and consequently secured nothing there.

It is not known who the guilty parties are. County constable Armstrong was given the case in hand and will do all in his power to bring the guilty parties to justice.

The Brantford Expositor complains of an incident that took place "not a hundred miles from our city," in which a man who had served five years in a militia company, latterly as sergeant, made application for a vacant 2nd lieutenancy, and was debarred by his comrades on the ground of being "a mechanic," although he was otherwise qualified.

All the Canadian banks that have agencies in New York are calling in their loans, in consequence of a Bill passed at Albany taxing foreign bank capital employed in that State, the tax amounting almost to a prohibition. Other foreign banks are also calling in their loans.

Fishes live to a great age. There are gold fish in the Aquarium of the United States Botanical Garden at Washington that are fifty years old, and Professor Baird says there is authentic evidence to show that carp have attained an age of 200 years. The professor says fishes have no period of maturity, but grow with each year of life.

The Mount Forest Confederate says Mr. W. J. Funston, of Egremont, while in that town last week became intoxicated. His nephew took $95 in bills and a note of hand for $57 out of his pocket for safe keeping. He returned in the evening and said he had lost the money which has not yet been recovered.

In a house occupied by two families, in Syracuse, there recently died an old gentleman. As the time for the funeral approached, the widow of the deceased applied to her neighbour occupant for the use of a large front room for funeral purposes. The gentleman appealed to hesitated slightly, but quickly assented when his thirteen-year-old daughter spoke and said: "Father, what's the odds, as long as the neighbors furnish the corpse?"

First Merchant: "Well, what's fresh?" Second Merchant: "Oh, I think things are looking better, people getting on their legs again." First Merchant: "Think so?" Second Merchant: "No doubt of it!—good many people used to ride, you know—walk now! Ta, ta."

Mr. Dougald McPhee, Mount Forest, died suddenly on Saturday afternoon. He had been to Mount Forest, and while on the road was attacked with inflammation of the bowels which caused death in a few hours.

A capital anecdote is told of a little fellow who in turning over the leaves of a scrap-book came across the well-known picture of some chickens just out of the shell. "My companion examined the picture carefully, and with a grave, sagacious look at me slowly remarked, 'They came out 'cos they was afraid of being boiled.'"

It is stated that Major-General Luard, newly appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Canadian Militia, will not arrive in Canada till July 1st, and that in the meantime his predecessor, Lieut.-General Smyth, will continue to act.

According to a Parliamentary return, during the period between July 1st, 1877, and December 31st, 1879, the Department of Railways and Canals expended $2,410 in confidential printing. Of this amount the Ottawa Citizen received $1,458. The same journal received $200 from the Department of the Interior on a similar service.

The Valleyfield mill has been shut down completely, and several of the directors are still in Valleyfield hoping to bring about an agreement with the object of resuming operations. The encounter between the operatives and the Montreal police was very lively while it lasted, and it is fortunate that it did not end in loss of life.

THURSDAY EVNG., APRIL 29, 1880

The Banking Resolutions.

THERE seemed to be very little interest taken in the debate on the banking resolutions in the House the other night, for very few members, except those who addressed the House seemed to pay much attention to the subject. It had its redeeming feature, however, when such staunch Government supporters as Messrs. Plumb and McLellan announced themselves as entirely opposed to the rag baby, which will for the present put the quietus on any Government proposition to issue flat money. When Mr. Plumb was speaking on the question a good many interruptions occurred, and all the noise came from the Ministerial benches. Sir John Macdonald, who was so ready to get up the other night when he thought the members of the Opposition were at fault, had not a word to say. Mr. Mackenzie was not slow to remind him of this, while Mr. Plumb did not hesitate to say who he thought were the guilty parties. A man must become terribly obnoxious when his own political friends will not listen to him.

Deceased Wife's Sister's Bill.

For some time past the opposition in the Senate to the Deceased Wife's Sister's bill has been growing. At first, it seemed as if the bill would pass, but on Wednesday night the bill was thrown out by a majority of one. The majority in the Commons was very large.

The Leadership of the Opposition.

Mr. Mackenzie having resigned his position as Leader of the Opposition on Tuesday night, a caucus of the Liberal members of Parliament was held this (Thursday) morning to act on his resignation and select his successor. The meeting was largely attended, and Hon. Mr. Blake was unanimously elected Leader in place of Mr. Mackenzie. We understand that Mr. Blake has accepted the appointment.

MR. WM. MACDOUGALL shirked the vote this year on the Lotellier case as he did last session.

THE Ontario Government have advertised for tenders for the erection of new Parliament and Departmental buildings in Toronto.

At the meeting of the Parliamentary Printing Committee on Wednesday the investigation of the scandal was concluded, and the Committee unanimously resolved to recommend in their report the cancellation of the contract of Maclean, Roger & Co.

THE Civil Service Reform Bill promised by the Government, is not yet forthcoming. Sir John promised it some time ago, but it has not made its appearance yet, and it will not likely be brought down this session. Sir John is not strong on Civil Service Reform.

THE Buffalo Express says that the report on trade between the United States and Canada just made to Congress shows that it is only second to the trade between the United States and Great Britain. What it would be under a reciprocity treaty can only be conjectured, but unquestionably very much larger than ever before.

HON. MR. ALEXANDER has given notice in the Senate, charging Sir Alexander Campbell with having allowed a member of the Senate to collect some $600 of sessional indemnity for eleven days' attendance, but that the Speaker would not allow the motion to appear on the order paper.

THE Chicago News says:—"The mountain would not come to Mahomet, so Mahomet went to the mountain. So with Canada and the United States. Beaconsfield said that people of the latter country would emigrate to Canada, and everybody waited to see the fulfillment of the prediction, but waited in vain. Recent investigations show an outflow. During the past three weeks Canadians to the number of over 2,000 have passed into the United States in search of work or homes. At that rate of depletion the Dominion would very soon capture us. Perhaps Beaconsfield meant, in the language of diplomacy, the opposite of what he said."

THE Times speaking of the Gladstone Government says that the great majority will be Liberals or Whigs of the old type. The new Government promises to be a moderate one, while it will allow due play to the younger forces of the party. On the whole the difficult task which Mr. Gladstone undertook seems to have been judiciously performed thus far. A Liberal Administration has been formed, which promises to be strong, moderate and representative. No appointment has yet been made to the office of Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. Mr. Goschen has declined the ambassadorship to Turkey.

THE Herald's Washington special says that a report is to be made by Representative Rice to the Commissioner on Foreign Affairs upon the resolutions of the Legislatures of Maine and Massachusetts in regard to the present condition of the fisheries question. Rice recommends the adoption of the resolution that the Provincial Governments have by their hostile legislation and violence prevented American fishermen from reaping the benefits of the treaty, and that great losses have followed. The President is called upon to take measures to obtain indemnity to the fishermen who have suffered, and to abrogate the fishery sections of the Treaty of Washington at the earliest practicable day.

The Bible Society and the Anglican Church.

Quite a little breeze has sprung up in religious circles in Toronto, which will very soon spread over the whole Province. It has been occasioned by the action of the Board of Directors of the Upper Canada Bible Society in connection with the forthcoming annual meeting of the Society. It seems that the Committee in making arrangements for the annual meeting invited Bishop Sweatman, of Toronto, to take part in it. It had been arranged previously that the annual meeting should take place in St. James' Square Presbyterian Church. Bishop Sweatman accepted the invitation at first, but later on, finding that the meeting was to be held in a Presbyterian Church, he wrote to the Committee, declining to be present on the ground that his attendance at such a meeting in a Presbyterian Church would give offence to many of the clergy in his diocese, such a building being used by a class of worshippers whom the Anglicans call Dissenters.

Spite of this insult to all ministers and members of non-Episcopal churches, the Committee gravely took the objection under consideration, and in a spirit of slavish deference to a narrow and unchristian objection, decided to change the meeting from the church aforesaid to Shaftesbury Hall, which by the way is not nearly so sacred an edifice as any so-called Dissenting place of worship in Toronto, for it is hired to people of all denominations, and no denomination whatever, on payment of the regular fee.

We had thought that such a narrow, bigotted and exclusive spirit as is manifested by Bishop Sweatman in this transaction was confined to the handful of Ritualists, who however small in number, seem yet to rule the destinies of the Diocese of Toronto. We had hoped better things of Bishop Sweatman when he took office, but he seems to be even more frightened of the High Church party than was the late Bishop of the Evangelicals. Of course, the people belonging to all the denominations outside of the Anglican Church, cannot but smile at this puerile attempt to raise up a wall of distinction between that church and all other bodies. Its history and connection with the State in England, rendered to some extent venerable by time, have no force in this country, and in the eye of the law in Canada one denomination is as respectable and as worthy of consideration as another. As a correspondent to the Globe on the subject forcibly puts it:—"When the prejudice that unchurches all outside of the Episcopalian communion is allowed to influence an institution such as the Bible Society, and is accommodated in the selection of its place of meeting, we must enter an emphatic protest. It is bad enough to know that there are professing Christians who denounce all ministers outside of the Anglican and Roman Churches as interlopers, and treat all members of other Churches as schismatics; but it is intolerable that these men should dictate to a Society which many of them refuse to recognize and support, and which is supported in Canada almost entirely by the non-Episcopal Churches. And it is amazing that a majority of the Presbyterian and Methodist ministers and laymen on the Committee could accept such an insult—for such it was, however good the intentions of the Bishop may have been—and bow in obedient submission to such dictation."

The Bible Society is an eminently non denominational organization, and the objection of any one, be he bishop, minister or layman of any Evangelical body, to attend one of its meetings in any particular building, seems to us strangely out of keeping with the teachings of the Divine Redeemer in the New Testament. If such distinctions are right and proper in this world, how, we would ask these exclusionists, will it be in the next one? for we are taught to believe that the spiritual church is one of perfect equality, and in the future state denominations and creeds will be unknown The Committee of the Bible Society we think did wrong in changing the place of meeting for a reason so flimsy and untenable, and Bishop Sweatman, had he followed the example of his brother bishop in London, and other dignataries in the Anglican church, attended the meeting at the place first fixed on, would have shown that he had no sympathy with the exclusiveness that leads some of his church people to hold themselves aloof from all other denominations. The Christian Guardian this week handles the subject in a manly spirit, and no doubt the Presbyterian will be equally plain in dealing with the matter. In the Episcopal body there are thousands of earnest Christian men who will deplore this action of Bishop Sweatman, for look at it as we may it is a concession to the narrow exclusiveness of the extreme High Church party.

THE election of Mr. Holton as M. P. for Chateaugnay occurred last Saturday week, and although eleven days have passed the Returning officer has seen fit to send the certificate of election to neither the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery nor to Mr. Holton. When Messrs. Abbott and Angers were elected during this session certificates, or duplicates at least, were sent in, so that each of these members took his seat within two or three days after his election. These gentlemen were Ministerialists, while Mr. Holton is a Liberal, and that makes all the difference.

An Instance of How Protection Works.

A Scotch firm which has free coal and free iron offers to cast the pipe and lay it down in Hamilton for $32.25 per ton, or for $81,845.50.

A Hamilton firm which has to pay $2 on every ton of iron it uses and 60 cents on every ton of coal it buys to melt the iron, whittles down its tender to the lowest possible notch and undertakes to supply the pipe for $33.30 per ton, or $84,249.

The committee opens the tenders and finds the Scotch firm is $2,400 lower than the Hamilton firm.

But if the Hamilton firm had had free coal and free iron, there would have been no difficulty, because it could have tendered at $78,810.

But the 'N. P.' steps in here and says that the Hamilton firm must pay $5,060 as duty on the 500 tons of coal.

In order to save itself, the Hamilton firm outs $1,500 in pure profits off its tender—which means $1,500 less power to raise the wages of its employees—and the committee awards it the contract.

Result: Owing to the 'National Policy' the Hamilton firm is sweated out of $1,500 in profits, the employers and employees suffer alike, and the taxpayers of Hamilton are victimized out of $5,439, which they must pay to the Hamilton firm to enable it to pay the duties on the iron and coal it uses in the manufacture of the pipes.

And yet the iron the firm will buy is not made in the country, nor is the coal—in the shape of the best coke—that will be consumed produced in Canada. Clearly, then, in two important items we have a protective tariff which does not protect.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

The Printing Scandal Investigation.

The Printing Committee terminated the printing scandal investigation on Wednesday. Mr. McLean, of the firm of McLean, Roger & Co., was present and contradicted several statements in Mr. Cotton's evidence. He denied that he had ever given that individual authority to act on behalf of his firm, and stated that if he had not expected that Mr. Boyle would receive the $3,000 he would never have paid it. Several members of the committee severely censured the method in which the contract was obtained, and on motion Hon. Mr. McFarlane it was unanimously decided to recommend to the House the cancellation of the present contract. Messrs. Costigan and Bunting tried to induce the committee to exculpate Mr. Boyle and offer him the contract, but failed, the whole question going to the sub-committee which was appointed to consider the best means of preventing corrupt practices of this nature in future, and to decide upon the best means of having the parliamentary printing done.

The Church Scandal Case in Toronto.

The regular weekly prayer meeting of the Bond street Congregational Church was held on Wednesday night.

Mr. Elgar presided, and stated that the pastor would not be present that night, as he was ill. Mr. Elgar said that the pastor was now passing through a time of trial, and it behoved all to pray for his deliverance from evil. Under the circumstances he was sure the praise and prayer would be deeply earnest.

At the close of this service Mr. Elgar announced that a meeting of the Church members would be held immediately after the close of the prayer meeting. He said that no one must be present but members of the Church, and that reporters must be rigorously excluded. The press representatives present accordingly left the room. They had not, however, been out many minutes when they were followed by the entire assembly. From conversations held with members who had been present it was found that Mr. Fraser had been appointed as chairman of the meeting. After prayer had been offered up, a motion was put and carried that on account of the unavoidable absence of Mr. Handford it would be advisable to postpone the meeting until Friday next.

In conversation with a member of the congregation the opinion was elicited that many of the people of the Church were in favour of open discussion, while others believed in a star-chamber investigation, from which even lady members would be excluded. By the way, it may be noticed that the ladies were present last night in by far the largest numbers. The same gentleman thought that the opinions of the male members of the Church were undergoing a change—a change unfavourable to their pastor, while the gentler sex on the other hand grew warmer in his defence the more he was calumniated. This gentleman said that it was impossible to have free discussion on some of the charges alleged while the room was full of ladies.

Another prominent member of the Church said that the whole matter had been bungled from the first. He would not believe the charges until they were proved, but he held that every opportunity should have been given to the parties making the charges to make good their allegations. Their statements, he thinks, should have been taken down in writing, Mr. Handford questioned as to their truth or falsity, and on his giving them a distinct denial, an action at law entered against his accusers for slander. If the charges were not true no harm could be done, but rather good, by free open judicial investigation. If the pastor's reputation could not stand this, then it would be a question of his resigning—he must go.

Other opinions, while marked by considerable individuality, in their main points resembled the above. One marked feature in the attitudes of those who were spoken to was an utter lack of enthusiasm in any defence of their pastor's alleged misconduct which they attempted to give. —Globe.

It is said that the greater portion of the sawn lumber now in the Chaudiere yards at Ottawa, has been sold, as well as fifty per cent. of the present season's cut, which will be one of the largest ever known since the mills were established.

The subscriptions to the Hull relief fund have reached about $16,000. Some 400 families are being relieved, and will need assistance for several weeks yet. The work of rebuilding is progressing rapidly. There is no improvement, however, in the class of houses, they being all small and built of wood.

Montreal Live Stock Market.

April 27th.—There were 280 head of cattle, 200 calves, and 200 sheep and lambs offered for sale on the market here to-day. The quality of the beeves was generally very good, whilst a number of extra prime cattle were in excess of the demand, which was not so brisk as usual. Dealers complained of the local butchers holding back from purchasing in order to bring down the price, which the holders of stock were not inclined to do. The range of prices was:—For best quality of beef, 4½c to 5½c per pound; second class, 3c to 3½c; and small thin cattle, 2½c to 2½c per pound, live weight. The following sales were reported:—J Robinson, 15 head for $865, 7 head for $365, 4 head at 5¼c, and 4 head at 3½c per pound, live weight; F Ritchings, 9 head at 4½c to 4¾c per pound live weight. James McShane bought the following cattle for shipment to England:—19 head for $763, 3 head for $195, and 12 head for $732; W Kinnear 2 head at $63 each; W J McClelland, 4 bulls at 3½c per pound, live weight, 4 head of cattle at $80 each, and 2 steers at 5c per pound, live weight. Calves sold at $1 50 to $8 each. Sheep from $5 to $8., and lambs from $1 50 to $4 50 each.

The Markets.

April 27.—In Liverpool the market for breadstuffs was heavy and lower, wheat showing a decline of from 1d to 3d, and corn 1½d. The Chicago market opened lower than yesterday, and after a slight advance began to fall, closing at a decline of 1c to 1¼c. New York irregular and lower. In Montreal the local grain market was rather more active to-day, prices being weaker. Canada spring wheat was offered at $1 35 without leading to business. Corn, 46c to 48c. Oats, 32c to 33c. Peas, 85c to 86c. Ashes, $3 75. Flour was dull and unchanged, with no transactions to report. There is a lively demand for dairy produce. Butter sold in jobbing lots at 18c to 22. In Toronto spring wheat sold at $1 22. Hay was more plentiful, there being about fifty loads, and prices firm at $11 to $15 a ton. Four loads of straw sold at $7 and 7 50. Hogs were scarce and in demand; as much as $7 was paid for a lot. Butter was in better supply and easier. Eggs are steady at 10c in lots, and 12c on the open market. Barley inactive and steady. Oats are firm and in some demand. Peas steady at recent quotations. Corn was offered to arrive at 55c. Clover seed is higher, and in demand. As much as $3.85 is bid, without bringing any out. Potatoes are in better demand, and stocks on hand are running low. Car lots are bringing 52c to 55c.

REAL ESTATE SOLD.—Twenty-five acres of land, belonging to the Whiteside estate, and adjoining the Model Farm, was sold by auction on Wednesday to Mr. Robert Thompson for $1,320. A house and lot belonging to the same estate, situate on Cork street, was sold at the same time to Mr. William Strachan for $1,423.

GOLDEN WEDDING.—On Friday the 23rd inst., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, of Arthur village, celebrated their golden wedding, when a number of relatives, members of the family and friends met at their residence in the village on that day, and spent a very pleasant time, in which the hearty congratulations of all were freely expressed to the worthy couple on such an auspicious event. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell was married in Scotland on the 23rd April, 1830—just fifty years ago. They have had eleven children, of whom eight are alive and three dead. They have had forty-six grand children, thirty-eight of whom are alive and eight dead. They have had six great grand-children, five of whom are alive and one dead. The members of the family on the occasion of the anniversary presented the old couple with a pair of handsome and comfortable easy chairs, and other valuable gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell are very old residents of Arthur, where for many years they managed a farm with great care and prudence. Mr. Mitchell, though suffering from deafness, is a most excellent business man, clear headed, correct and methodical. He was for a number of years the efficient Secretary of the North Wellington Agricultural Society, and also did a large amount of business for the people in the Township. In fact Mr. Mitchell was looked upon as one of those useful men that were almost indispensable to a township. He was at once clerk, secretary, conveyancer, lawyer and general adviser to all who required his services. Finding the infirmities of age creeping on them, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, some few years ago, left their farm and removed to the village, where Mr. Mitchell does quite a large agency business, and is as active and clear headed as ever. It is the earnest wish of their many friends and acquaintances that the aged couple may long be spared to each other, and that their declining years may be as happy and peaceful as the past has been.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN L. GIBSON.—We have to record the death of Mr. John L. Gibson, of Glenallan, which took place suddenly on Monday morning, the 19th inst., of heart disease. He had not been well for some three weeks before his death, and was confined to his bed the Sunday and Monday of the previous week, but he improved and was able to be up until the morning of his death. The deceased was born in Lanarkshire, Scotland, in 1829. He emigrated to Canada in 1852, and spent six months in the United States looking for a suitable opening to commence business. Not being suited he came to Canada, and after taking a tour through Ontario finally fixed upon Glenallan—then a wilderness—as a suitable place to commence business. Since that time he has steadily and successfully prospered in that village in the mercantile line until he retired some two months ago. The deceased, although a Conservative, would never espouse the cause of a candidate if he did not suit him in his character as an upright, candid, and consistent politician. He sat in the Municipal Council of Peel for two years, in one of which he was a member of the County Council. He had been preparing to visit Scotland for the last four months, settling accounts, etc., to make arrangements concerning the paternal estate which he inherited by the death of his brother last year, but in spite of all the allurements and luxurious inducements to make his home again in Scotland, he never once entertained the idea of leaving the land of his adoption excecpt on a visit. Mr. Gibson was an upright, honest, business man, and during the struggles of the early settlers in Peel he helped many to get over their difficulties. He was held in great respect by all classes of the community.

Hespeler Correspondence.

FOR THE NORTH-WEST.—Mr. Albert Chapman, second son of Mr. John Chapman, Reeve of this village, left here on the afternoon of Wednesday, the 28th inst., on a trip to Manitoba where he intends to reside permanently as an agriculturist, should he like the country. Mr. C. though a very young man, and a resident of Hespeler has had practical experience in farming, and what experience he may lack, we predict that energy and industry will compensate for. On Monday evening last a social farewell party, consisting of a number of his school mates and a few others, was held at his father's residence here, when a most happy time was participated in for a few hours, mingled however with sentiments of regret at parting with such a "jolly good boy." In leaving, Mr. Chapman has the best wishes of the people of Hespeler for his prosperity.

DAMAGE BY THE WIND.—During the heavy gale of wind which accompanied the storm in this vicinity on Monday afternoon last, the greater portion of one side of the roof of the large frame barn owned by Mr. Charles Siegle, about a mile east of this village was blown off, alighting among the cattle which happened to be in the barnyard, killing two valuable cows, and injuring a third one. At the time of the accident Mr. Seigle and two others were in the barn loading hay into a waggon, but fortunately escaped unhurt. No doubt the roof would have withstood the gale had the door not been open.

REMOVAL OF REV. MR. MOYER.—Rev. Mr. Moyer, pastor of the Evangelical Methodist Church here for the last three years, and who was much esteemed by his congregation, left with his family for his new appointment in a portion of the "notorious Biddulph township," County Middlesex, on Tusday afternoon last. He is to be succeeded here by Rev. Mr. Umbach, a former pastor of this place.

TEMPERANCE LECTURES.—The two temperance lectures delivered here by Mr. Joseph Gibson, of Ingersoll, last week, were attended by large audiences. On the platform, in a temperance lecture, Mr. G. is master of the situation, is well thought of in that capacity, and commands capital attention.

ROBBERY.—Some unknown hand, stealthily made its way into the pants pockets of Mr. John Beer, an industrious factory operative here, and abstracted therefrom $26.37. This occurred on Saturday night last, whilst of course, all were asleep and unconscious. The party must have made his way to within a few feet of where Mr. Beer slept. No clue except a little sand on a table which stood inside of a window was discovered next morning, and another window was found open. How any one could have suspected this gentleman any more than anybody else as a good subject to make a raid upon, is a mystery, as he himself fully believed that no one could be conscious of his having any money about him.

the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly RELIEVE PAIN, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, and ALL ACHES, and is THE GREAT RELIEVER OF PAIN. "BROWN'S HOUSEHOLD PANACEA" should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water [sweetened, if preferred], taken at bedtime, will BREAK UP A COLD. 25 cts. a bottle. d&wlyr

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. The valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. 25 cents a box. d&wlyr.

The Greatest Blessing.

A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every time, and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, stomach regular, kidneys and liver active, is one of the greatest blessings ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands who have been saved and cured by it. Will you try it? See another column.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE: OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundreth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. The Fort Gaines (Ga) Tribune has an old colored man among its subscribers who missed his paper one week recently and called at the office to inquire the reason. Guelph Markets.

MERCURY OFFICE,
GUELPH, April 26 1880.

Compared with prices of last week, there is no great change in our markets to notice in this week's issue, farmers being better employed with their spring work than coming to town. Consequently our market now-a-days does not show and great activity, and the prices here remain about the same. From outside advices we learn that the feeling still continues dull and downwards. Wheat continues in demand at our quotations, particularly good samples of spring, which readily command the outside prices shown hereunder.

Peas and barley have been bought at lower prices than were paid last week, seeding requirements being now about over and shipping prices will not allow of high figures.

Potatoes still rule low and will probably continue so, the demand not being equal to the supply.

Hay, considering the weather and field employments, is being fairly supplied by a few knowing ones who always try and make it while the sun shines, yes and sell it too, when there is a probability of light offerings, which causes present extreme prices.

Here are the correct prices paid on the Guelph market up to three o'clock of this afternoon.

It was decided that the village should take one-tenth of the assets and pay the whole of the sectional railway bonus and one-tenth of the township bonus and other liabilities of the township. FRIDAY EV'NG, APRIL 30, 1880

The bottle picked up containing a paper purporting to be a message from the missing ship Atalanta, is undoubtedly a discreditable hoax.

The Herald announces that on the 62nd anniversary of the birth of the Czar six thousand persons will be either delivered from imprisonment or released from the supervision of the police.

Gen. Wolseley will, in all probability, return to England with the Empress Eugenie.

The Times says that Lord Carlingford, whose appointment as Ambassador to Constantinople has been announced, has had no diplomatic experience, but he has been a Cabinet Minister as Mr. Chichester Fortescue before his elevation to the peerage.

The Duke of Edinburgh landed at Valentia on Thursday. He was waited upon by a relief deputation, and escorted to the Anglo-American Cable Station, where arrangements have been made to insure direct communication with Princess Louise at Ottawa.

The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says that Russia is about to appoint a Commission to report on the growth of cotton manufacture in Russia, and to suggest means for its development.

The Land League Conference on Wednesday unanimously passed a resolution in favor of the speedy pushing forward of the Bill for the suspension of ejectments for non-payment of rent for two years, and Parnell and O'Donoghue, members of Parliament, and three other members of the Land League were appointed a committee to draft the Blil.

Sir Arthur D. Hayter has been appointed a Junior Lord of the Treasury, and Lord Kensington Controller of the Household.

The Catholic Archbishop of Dublin has issued a pastoral in which he treats of Irish wrongs and proclaims against Communism.

Mr. Parnell presided over a very riotous meeting of the Land League on Thursday in the Rotunda at Dublin, and some lively fighting took place, Mr. Parnell narrowly escaping maltreatment by the crowd. Davitt strongly denounced Mr. O'Donnell's refusal to attend the land conference.

A Berlin despatch states Bismarck deeply and sincerely regrets the victory of the Liberals in England.

The British Parliament.

LONDON, April 29.—Parliament was formally opened to-day by Lord Selborne, Lord High Chancellor, the Duke of Argyll, Earl Granville, Earl Sidney, and Lord Northbrook acting as a Royal Commission. The procedure merely consisted of summoning the Commons to the bar of the House of Lords, and requesting them to elect a Speaker.

In the House of Commons there was a meagre attendance of Irish members, because of a meeting for conference on the land question at Dublin to-day detaining Parnell and his adherents. Some Irish members, including O'Donnell and Finnegan, sat on the Tory side of the House and some on the Liberal side.

All the members of the House having been sworn in and taken their seats the election of Speaker was next in order, and, as was expected, the Right Hon. H. B. W. Brand, member from Cambridgeshire, was re-elected. Mr. Brand was born in 1814, and is the second son of the 21st Baron Dacre. He entered Parliament in 1852, and continued as member till upon the retirement of Speaker Dennison in 1872, when he was unanimously elected Speaker, being again elected in 1874.

Hon. George Brown's Condition.

A despatch from Toronto on Thursday afternoon says:—The condition of the Hon. George Brown has not improved for the past four days, during which time he has been delirious, with the exception of a few lucid intervals. He refuses to take nourishment, and brandy, milk and beef tea have to be forced through tubes placed in his nostrils into his stomach. His condition this morning is very precarious.

The Globe of Friday says:—For Mr. Brown Wednesday night was favourable and yesterday morning he was stronger and took more nourishment. The improved condition continued during the day and evening.

The Mail says:—Mr. Brown took a little more nourishment yesterday, but at a late hour last night his condition generally did not show any perceptible change. He slept heavily, his breathing being quick and his pulse rapid, but regular.

TORONTO, April 30, 10 a. m.—Mr. Brown had a good night's rest, but his condition does not show any perceptible change.

From Ottawa.

OTTAWA, April 30.—The tariff bill received its third reading in the Commons last evening and has gone to the Senate.

Rev. Mr. Hammond.

MONTREAL, April 30.—The revival services carried on here for some time by the Rev. Mr. Hammond will be brought to a close this week.

TROUBLE IN CAUCUS.—There a great disturbance at the recent Government caucus. A violent onslaught was made on Mr. Sandford Fleming, the chief engineer of the Canada Pacific railway, by Mr. Thos. White and a few of his friends. Sir Charles Tupper defended the chief engineer in a vigorous speech, during which there were strong evidences of disapprobation and considerable ill feeling was manifested. Several ministerialists are anxious to become acquainted with the claim that the chief engineer has on the Minister of Railways. Some hints are quietly dropped that there have been profitable speculations in which the Minister of Railways has been interested.

THE ENGLISH MAIL.—Hereafter the English mail will close at the Guelph Post Office on Friday morning at 10.35.

A COUPLE of Ohio stockmen are purchasing thorough bred cattle in this neighbourhood for shipment to Ohio.

A MEETING of those interested in re-organizing the Maple Leaf Base Ball club takes place at the Royal Hotel to-night.

MR. MURPHY, Mount Tara, passed a good night, and his symptoms are better to-day than they have been since the accident.

ABOUT the last Auction Sale will be on Saturday night, at Anderson's. Goods almost given away. Be sure and come. d2

THE assessors will start shortly to take the School census of the city, having been instructed to do so by the Minister of Education.

NOT THE SAME PERSON.—The young woman charged with firing Mr. Standish's stable, gives her name as Elizabeth Pearson. We understand that her right name is Eliza. There is a respectable young woman in town named Elizabeth Pearson, who is in no way related to the young woman charged with incendiarism.

THE RAINER PIANO.—Guelph is not the only place where the merits of a good piano are fully understood, which is evident by the following reference made by the Brantford Expositor to a Rainer piano used at a concert there this week:—"This piano was highly eulogized by many distinguished artists, on account of its great brilliancy, its volume of power and beautiful rich tone. It is said to be the finest instrument ever used in Wickliffe Hall.

AN ENTERTAINMENT of a novel as well as pleasing nature is to be given in the Dublin-st. Methodist Church about the end of May. The programme is to be conducted exclusively by the children of the church, who will choose a chairman out of their company, and the whole evening's entertainment is to be under their management. A couple of talented ladies are now engaged in training the scholars, and it is expected this unique entertainment—the first of its kind—will be extremely popular. Further announcement will be given.

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS.—At a meeting of the Board of License Commissioners held on Thursday, the applications held over were considered, and acted on as follows:—Guelph—Old licenses extended for three months—Hotels—Arch. Mitchell, H. M. Anderson and Rosanna Waite. Shops—Geo. Wilkinson and J. McAstocker. Refused—Restaurant license—R. Feek—and Shop license—E. O'Donnell. Puslinch—Old license extended for three months, D. C. McLaren and Jacob Fuhrey. Those whose licenses were extended for three months have either been fined or have had complaints laid against them during the year. The shop license applied for by E. O'Donnell was refused, because the Commissioner do not think it desirable to increase the number of licenses of that kind. In future they intend to demand a better compliance with their rules on the part of those who are licensed, and parties negligent in that respect will be strictly dealt with.

CONGREGATIONAL SOCIAL.—The ladies' Association of the Norfolk street Congregational Church, held an after tea social last night. A rainy afternoon and dull evening promised poorly for a good attendance. However, when the time for opening came a very large number had gathered to enjoy the carefully prepared programme, under the manumement of Mr. Rogers. During the evening the Misses Curtis sang a duet, Mr. Arthur Goodeve gave a recitation; Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Miss Bailey and Mr. D. Spragge sang two quartetts; Mr. Wm. Ryan read "The Parsonage House"; twice Mr. Saunders favored the audience with organ solos; Mr. Newby gave a song; several young ladies held a Dorcas Society, their work being to make pincushions and pen-wipers for the heathen; Mrs. Crowe, with great taste and skill played a Scotch air with variations; Miss Jelly recited "The Leper;" Mr. Pilcher and Miss Bailey sang a duet; Rev. Mr. McGregor read an essay on "The Power and Glory of Man," in which he described the "Lords of Creation" from the time they issue their mandates as baby kings in the household till they come to ring out their opinions on the great questions of the thinking world; but that man with all his glory and power comes far behind the divine ideal unless he reflects the light of the Son of Righteousness. The people of the Congregational Church believe in encouraging the Ladies' Association by more than a word of thanks, and this was shown by their liberal collection. Altogether a very pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent.

ACADEMIC DISTINCTIONS.—The degree of Bachelor of Divinity conferred the other day by the Senatus of Queen's University, Kingston, on our townsman, the pastor of St. Andrew's Church, and on the Rev. Professor Hart, M. A., of Winnipeg, Man., is granted, we understand, only on competition, and after a satisfactory examination has been passed by candidates. The subjects of examination are in two departments—the first embracing Hebrew, The Evidences of Religion and the Inspiration of the Scriptures; the second embracing Church History, Biblical Criticism and Systematic Theology. In the two instances referred to above the marks obtained respectively were as follows, viz.: By Professor Hart, 415, and by Mr. J. C. Smith, 423, out of a possible maximum of 500.

HANLAN GETTING READY FOR WORK—Edward Hanlan, champion oarsman, was in Rochester on Thursday on his way from Toronto to Washington, where he will go into early training for the great championship contest of May 19th. He is in splendid physical condition, but a trifle fleshier than when he rowed alone over the course at Chautauqua last fall. He has two cedar shells with him, and carries them on the top of the smoking-car, where he can be certain they will not be sawed or injured. Either himself or Joe Ellemange, of Toronto, is with the boats constantly. The practice boat is just an ordinary affair. The other, in which it is Hanlan's purpose to row the race, is a perfect beauty, weighs 27 lbs., is 20 feet 6 inches in length, and 11 inches beam. Hanlan says he tried this shell once in Toronto Bay recently, to his own satisfaction.

THE VICTORY IN AFGHANISTAN.—The Viceroy of India telegraphs as follows:—"A messenger who arrived at Cabul on the 28th reports the people of Wardake and Logar attacked Gen. Ross on Sunday. After a severe engagement the enemy were completely dispersed, leaving 1,200 dead. Our loss is not mentioned. The district is much disturbed. Passage of letters is difficult. There is some excitement still in Kholistan." A despatch from Cabul says Abdul Rahman has written to Gen. Roberts, professing his readiness to submit, and repudiating any Russian proclivities,

AN AGED LOVER'S LOVE.—A young lady who has been engaged in the capacity of teacher at Carlisle, was betrothed to an aged gentleman at Grimsby. A dispute arose about the disposition of the latter's property, which it appears were placed beyond his control by a will of his late wife. This fact and a decided opposition raised by his family against the match so weighed upon his mind, that it ended in his loss of reason and confinement in the lunatic asylum.

The Detroit Free Press says the fact has been noted that the Canadian Government has removed the embargo upon the transportation of American cattle. Freight agent B. O. Williams, jun., of the Great Western, computes the loss suffered by the Canadian roads in consequence of their loss of the cattle traffic as amounting to fully a million dollars. The Michigan Central turned over its cattle trade to the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, but the matter will now be suffered to take its usual course.

Several car loads of cattle passed through this city per G. W. Railway on Wednesday—the first since the embargo was raised on Saturday. A Government Inspector will be appointed to examine all cattle, and a Government keeper will accompany each train through the Dominion.

Among excursionists of some note at present in New York is Wm. Marwood, pupil and successor of Calcraft, the renowned London executioner. He visited the Tombs prison on Thursday and was extended the courtesies of that institution.

The City Assessment.

An Encouraging Exhibit Notwithstanding the Hard Times.

For over three months the assessors have been hard at work making up their assessment returns, and in a day or two will have completed their duties in that respect for the year. Their exhibit, notwithstanding the general depression in trade is by no means discouraging, and shows that Guelph has held its own. This is a matter for congratulation, for we have now possibly successfully survived the worst period of depression, and may anticipate a revival in business and growth for some time to come, and it is hoped that by the end of another year the population of the city will have materially increased. The inducements which Guelph at present offers to manufacturers will in all likelihood be taken advantage of, and through the establishment of manufactures, before the assessment returns for 1881 are presented, Guelph we hope will have increased in both wealth and population. The following are the returns for 1880:—

FATAL FALL FROM A WAGGON.—Wm. Jeff, an East Garafraxa farmer, between 60 and 70 years of age, fell from a waggon and was instantly killed nearly opposite the News Record printing office, St. Andrew street, Fergus, on the afternoon of Thursday last. The deceased was sitting alone on the spring seat in George Robson's waggon at the time; and the owner, who had just turned the horses around, was leading them by the head at a walk along towards Spires's pump. Mr. Jeff was perfectly sober and the cause of his fatal fall was unknown; but he was a feeble old man, and it is possible that sitting in the high seat as he was, the turning of the waggon might have made him dizzy. He fell just after the horses commenced to step forward after turning and lit on his head. Dr. Chisholm was sent for and produced artificial breathing for a few minutes, after which deceased kind of opened his eyes and swallowed a few drops of stimulant, but he never of himself either moved or breathed after striking the ground. Concussion of the brain, and possibly a broken neck, was the cause of death. He was a quiet, decent, sober old man, and leaves a widow and three grown up children, the eldest, a daughter, being married.

SLEEPING TOGETHER.—More quarrels occur between brothers, between sisters, between hired girls, between clerks in stores, between apprentices in mechanics' shops, between hired men, owing to electrical changes through which their nervous systems go by lodging together night after night under the same bed clothes, than by almost any other disturbing cause. There is nothing that will derange the nervous system of a person who is climicative in nervous force, as to lie all night in bed with another person who is absorbent in nervous force. The absorper will go to sleep, and rest all night, while the climinator will be tumbling and tossing, restless and nervous and wake up in the morning fretful and peevish, fault-finding and discouraged. No two persons, no matter who they are, should habitally sleep together. One will thrive and the other will lose.

The Bank Tax Bill in New York.

The N. Y. Tribune of Wednesday says: The recent passage by the Legislature of a bill taxing foreign capital employed in this State has created much uneasiness among the companies which the bill is likely to affect. A meeting of the agents of Canadian banks doing business in this city was held on Tuesday morning at the office of the Bank of Montreal. The result of the conference was the calling in by these banks of loans amounting to about $3,000,000. The agents of the Bank of Montreal called in $1,250,000; of the Nevada Bank, $750,000; of the British Bank of North America, about $500,000, and others smaller accounts. It is the intention of the officers to call in similar amounts and perhaps to continue this course until the loans shall have been withdrawn entirely from the market. Some of the banks had already decided to withdraw their funds in view of the hostile legislation, and the British Bank of North America particularly had been reducing its loans for two or three weeks. There was at the meeting no vigorous opposition to the proposed course. One or two persons thought the action premature, but they admitted that the plan had great advantages, because it gave the banks an opportunity to purchase foreign exchanges at low rates and to retire their loans gradually.

The total amount of these loans by foreign banks was estimated to be from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000. In the official statement of the banks of Canada complied from returns furnished to the Auditor of Public Accounts the balance due from other banks or agents not in Canada was as follows: In January $20,755,309, and in February $23,042,297. The amount for March has not been given. This sum is supposed to represent fairly the amount of Canadian bank capital used in New York. To this must be added the amounts of the Nevada, Bank of San Francisco, and of the Bank of California, the Credit Lyonnaise and the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Foreign banks continued yesterday to call in their loans, and it was estimated that $4,000,000 had been withdrawn during the day. The Bank of Montreal retired $1,500,000, and Credit Lyonnaise called in a large sum at the Bank of Montreal agency. It was stated that despatches had been received from George Deforest Lord, who went to Albany on Tuesday as the counsel of the Banks, stating that the Government had promised to consider the Bill carefully, and asked that objections to it be put in writing, when he would confer with the advocates of the measure and with the Committee. No action on the Bill would be taken before Saturday. Little hope that the Bill would be vetoed by the Government was expressed by the agents of foreign banks. They declared that the measure would result in the complete withdrawal of foreign banking capital from New York.

The long-held and only lately rejected theory, that the shoals of fishes moved in a vast mass along the coast, sending off detachments into each river as they passed its mouth, is to be attributed to John Gilpin and some other authors, who have written flowingly on the subject. The recent careful investigations of naturalists indicate that the anadromous fishes, those entering the rivers and bodies of fresh water from the sea, do not have an extensive range in the ocean, and that each river's colony remains, after returning, in the deep waters opposite their river.

The motive for the movement of these shoals of anadromous fishes, or rather how it is incited, has scarcely been explained. The life of the fishes has always been a mystery. It is not a search for food, as they do not eat while in fresh water; the opening of hundreds of stomachs will fail to find food present. It is an easy disposal of the question as to how each colony recognizes its native river to say that "it is instinctive." So it is, also, when the butcher's horse recognizes the familiar gates; but we have some evidences as to what senses he uses. The fishes, probably, prompted by functional disturbances, from the timid ovaries, and spermaries, are incited to movement. The courses of the sea, unmarked as they are, are, within each colony's limit, their habitual pathways. An unerring capacity in the fish for finding its own river may be no more than that which guides the hermit-crab to the shell of the natica. The latter goes to hide its sensitive body, with an apparent nervous trepidation at its unprotected condition. The former, with an uneasiness of body from the functional changes it is undergoing, is impelled to activity. The transmitted habit of ascending the stream is as it were, blended and alloyed with the substance of the nerves, and aroused by its condition, carries it, without conscious purpose, into the river of its progenitors and its own. The impulses of the fish are only in a slightly more complicated series than those of the crab. That it should be the instinct for a specific stream, established through inheritance of many generations, is easier to understand than that it is a sort of memory of the place of its immature life, as the theory of fish culture makes it, and as observations seems to sustain. In the waters of the Deleware, where there are no salmon originally, the young salmon placed in Bushkill Creek returned after five years, and were taken, not only in the Delaware River, but the larger number in the neighborhood of Bushkill Creek. It is not essential that all the fishes should have this impelling influence, whatever it may be, as like gregarious mammals and birds they flock together, following the leadership of whichever for the time takes it. The idea is suggested that the senses may be the guiding agent, that a fish goes nosing along the coast or tasting the streams, until it recognizes its own. The convexity of the cornea must afford the fish a very limited range of vision. The supposed dullness of the senses of smell and of taste in fishes might alone dispose of the suggestion that these are employed. The following occurrence, however, would seem to decide to the contrary. The Russian River, emptying into the Pacific, north of San Francisco, had its mouth entirely closed by waves during a storm. The colony of salmon made their yearly migration from the deep waters toward the mouth of the river, and many of them raced through the surf, and landed high and dry on the sand that walled them out from their native river.

The migration of the salmon into some of the Pacific rivers is a frenzied advance over shoals, rapids, and cascades, far into thin streams and brooks, where they arrive battered and weary, to accomplish their exhaustive reproductive labors, and drop back, the sport of the current, dead and dying, towards the sea.

The Opposition Leadership.

Mr. Mackenzie having resigned the leadership of the Opposition on Tuesday night, by his public announcement in the House, the members of the party were called together on Thursday morning to select his successor. Mr. Joseph Rymal, who is permanent chairman of all such meetings, presided, and stated the object for which they had been convened. It was then moved by an Ontario Liberal, and seconded by a New Brunswick Liberal, that the Hon. Edward Blake be elected leader of the Liberal party of Canada. Before the motion could be put every member present rose to his feet as if to emphasize his endorsation of the nomination, and amidst cheers the motion was declared carried. Mr. Blake, on being called upon, acknowledged in grateful terms the honor conferred upon him. He referred to the present hopeful outlook for the Liberal party, to the rapidly strengthening favorable change in the tone of public sentiment, to the necessity of efficient and thorough party organization, and in conclusion expressed the hope that the Liberal members of both Houses would embrace every opportunity of meeting frequently, exchanging opinions with and assisting their leader in directing the party organization in such a way as would be most effective in securing the object they had in view, viz., the Government of the Dominion on Liberal principles and under a Liberal policy. At the conclusion of Mr. Blake's speech a committee was appointed to convey to the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie the warm thanks of the Liberal party for his past valuable and untiring services during his long and useful parliamentary career, and their cordial appreciation of his integrity and usefulness to his party and country.

Mr. Mackenzie was elected leader of the Liberal party in 1867, when the first Parliament met after Confederation. During the thirteen years he has held that position he has distinguished himself by his earnestness, zeal and ability in the discharge of his important duties. Through all the varying fortunes of the Opposition, from 1867 to 1873, he manifested a rare courage, a steadfast adherence to principle, an ability which excited the admiration alike of friends and foes, and an unshaken faith in the ultimate triumph of the principles for which he and his friends contended. The same characteristics which marked his career while in opposition were equally conspicuous while he was Premier and head of the Government from 1873 to 1878.

It is needless to recount the circumstances that led to the defeat of his Government. That is now a matter of history. But it can safely be said that through all that crisis Mr. Mackenzie's stedfastness of purpose, his rejection of all promptings of expediency, and his stern, resolute stand by his policy, come victory or defeat, gave proof of his sterling integrity however much it affected his personal popularity or the fate of his party. Having nailed his colours to the mast he fought the battle out like a good and brave soldier. He failed and accepted the defeat as one of those fitful accidents in politics which are liable to overtake all men. And now that he has chosen to retire from the high position he held, we feel that his services will be no less valuable to the country, and that his name will be a power in the and.

His successor, Mr. Blake, is as well known to the Liberals as their late leader, and though for a shorter period in public life, he was universally looked upon as the only worthy successor to Mr. Mackenzie, and the enthusiasm and unanimity manifested in his election as leader show how the feelings of the Opposition were concentrated on him, and with what faith they put him at their head. He may be assured that in entering on his work he has the confidence of the whole Liberal party of the Dominion, and this assurance is still more strengthened by the following generous tribute to his ability and influence from the leading Reform organ in Canada—the Globe, which says:—"Mr. Blake's record as a leader of a Reform Opposition in the Ontario House warrants the belief that he will exhibit force and adroitness in performing his new duties. His natural ability is of a very high order, his attainments are great, his eloquence is well known to the country, and his private character commands the respect and esteem of opponents and supporters alike. His health remains good in spite of continuous labour during the present session, therefore the fear that his physical powers are not equal to the new strain that will be imposed on them may be set at rest. Mr. Blake's power of rousing enthusiasm in his followers is know to be considerable, and in this regard we may address a word of caution to some who have not the quality of patience. There is little reason to doubt that the new leader will fulfil all reasonable expectations, but he must be given time. The Conservative majority is apparently solid, and no one must find fault with Mr. Blake if he fails to break it in the present Parliament. By working harmoniously together, and waiting calmly for the popular verdict on the great questions at issue between the two parties, Reformers will do themselves and the country a great service. We earnestly wish for Mr. Blake's success in his new position, and hope that the leader may have no more ground of complaint against the party than the party expects to have against him."

PARLIAMENT will likely be prorogued on Saturday of next week.

THE Senate is beginning to get to work. They had their first night sitting on Thursday.

THE Boundary Committee have another meeting. The chairman, Mr. Dawson, appears determined to have a report made before the House rises.

THE new issue of silver cannot take place for some time. The silver has yet to be coined. Meantime the country must suffer for the want of change.

IT is now said that the report on Hurd's Bill, to prevent Canadian railways doing any part of the American carrying trade, was a scheme to promote great stock jobbing in New York. The report was never before the Ways and Means Committee at all. It was drawn by Mr. Wood and given out for publication, as Mr. Conger stated before the Committee, for the evident purpose of promoting a giant stock jobbing scheme in New York.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD told Mr. Casey the other day that the Government had prepared a Civil Service Reform Bill before Parliament met, but that as the session wore on precedence had been given to other measures. It is rather strange, considering that no Government measures were brought forward for the first month or six weeks, that this bill promised in the speech from the throne could not be brought down. A measure of civil service reform is the very last thing that the Conservative party wants.

LONDON Advertiser:—Some member of the House of Commons might secure some interesting information by moving for a return showing the amount of money spent by each Department in advertising. It would be interesting to know just how much was spent in inviting the aborigines of Manitoulin Island to tender for locomotives to be used on the Canada Pacific Railway. Little sheets possessing about the same degree of literary ability as a handbill, and scarcely as much circulation or influence, appear dotted with advertisements in connection with the Public Works of the Dominion.

AN Albany] special says the bill taxing foreign capital is simply an old bill with an amendment inserted, providing for the taxation of capital used or employed in the State. The Court of Appeals has decided foreign capital temporary loaned was not subject to assessment, and the amendment is made to cover this point. The Act does not specify any rate of taxation. The capital to be assessed will be at the same rate of taxation as other personal property. The Governor, it is thought, may send back the bill taxing foreign bank capital on the ground that the tax is too heavy. Fuller information in regard to this bill will be in another column.

THE Banking] Resolutions provide first, that after the first day of July, 1881, on which day their charters if not extended would expire, the payment of the notes of any such bank intended for general circulation shall be the first charge upon its assets, and that the bank shall not after the said day issue or re-issue any such note for less sum than five dollars, or for any other sum not being a multiple of five dollars; second, that from and after the same day any such bank, when making any payment, on the request of the person to whom the payment is to be made pay the same or such part thereof not exceeding fifty dollars as such person may request in Dominion notes for one or for two dollars each at the option of the receiver; third, and that from and after the passing of the Act to be passed in pursuance of these resolutions the proportion of the cash reserves to be held by any such bank in Dominion notes shall never be less than forty per cent.; fourth, that the form of the monthly returns to the Government be so amended as to show more clearly the financial position of the bank; fifth, that sections 3, 4, 5 and 6 of the Act of the now last session, 42 Victoria, cap. 45, respecting the numbering of bank shares, be repealed. In connection with the fourth resolution it is intended to prevent a repetition of what had occurred in the case of the Consolidated Bank by requiring banks in their returns to show the amounts obtained from other banks.

Defalcation in the London Post Office.

The Free Press says: Mr. Lawless' stamp account was wrong, and so far back as December, 1879, he wrote an acknowledgement to that effect and promising to make the deficiency good—at the time $381. He induced Mr. Griffin to certify to its correctness upon the promise to make it good in a few days. This was no doubt an indiscretion on the part of the Inspector, but having been for so many years his official associate the spirit in which it was done can be readily understood. Mr. R. J. C. Dawson appears to have laid himself open to a somewhat similar indiscretion by certifying accounts to be correct which were not in fact altogether correct. For some time past Mr. Lawless made an effort to liquidate the deficiencies, and had at one time nearly succeeded, but his negotiations failed, and the Department delayed to press him, but at last did so. However, during the day he was able to square up his accounts, so that his character is not only free from any suspicion of stain, but he has overcome the temporary difficulties in which he was involved. All the officers concerned have been for a very long time in the public service. Mr. Lawless has been in the London post office during forty years and Mr. Dawson for twenty-eight years, while Mr. Griffin was secretary to Mr. Morris, a former Postmaster General, who flourished in the years 1852-53.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 29.

When the House met the members were summoned to attend in the Senate, where His Excellency assented to certain bills.

On the Commons returning to their chamber the Minister of Justice introduced Bills relating to the North Shore Railway; also a Bill to amend the law of evidence in certain cases; also a Bill providing for the administration of justice in the disputed territory of Keewatin and North-West Ontario. The amended Customs Act was advanced a stage, after which the following Government measures were finally passed:

An Act for the Relief of Permanent Building Societies and Loan Companies, and to restrict their modes of lending.

On the second reading of the Bill appointing a High Commissioner of Canada to Great Britain, Sir John Macdonald explained its provisions, already well known, and alluding to the High Commissioner's salary, said he would be placed on the same status as a Lieutenant-Governor of the first class. Sir Richard Cartwright asked the Finance Minister to explain the High Commissioner's duties pertaining to his Department. Sir Leonard gave some illustrations in reply, and claimed that the appointment would affect a large financial saving to the country independent of all the other advantages. Mr. Anglin spoke at length, expressing great doubt as to the propriety of the appointment, and appeared to think that the present system of sending responsible Ministers to England to transact specific business was the best.

Mr. Mackenzie entered the chamber during Mr. Anglin's address, and at its conclusion delivered a twenty minutes' speech, which somewhat su prised the House. It was concise, severe and vigorous. The points against the Government were made with telling force, and certainly the effort was his best this session. He condemned the Administration for their violation of the principles of constitutional Government in making the appointment first and asking Parliament to ratify it afterwards. Having humorously alluded to the Government's anxiety as to the precedence the High Commissioner should enjoy at entertainments, as manifested in the official correspondence, he advised the Government to caution their High Commissioner as to the kind of language he should use on public occasions. He condemned and ridiculed Sir Alex. Galt's Jingo speech at Montreal and his laudation of the Beaconsfield Government, which Government on arriving in London he found in a minority of one hundred and fifty. Other passages in the correspondence intimated that there was a scheme under consideration for the establishment of a small standing army in Canada for Imperial and Colonial purposes. This proposal was denounced in unmeasured terms. Sir Alexander's Montreal attack on the people of the United States, whom he described as being hostile, or at least unfriendly, was exhibited as a specimen of an indiscreet and untruthful utterance. In conclusion he sarcastically said that while Sir Alexander Galt would probably condole with Lord Beaconsfield on his defeat, he trusted his assault on the Free Trade policy of England would not detrimentally affect his relations to that greater, nobler, and truer statesman, Mr. Gladstone. On concluding his speech, Mr. Mackenzie resumed his seat amidst prolonged cheers.

After recess,

Mr. Blake made his first speech as leader of the Opposition. It was a creditable effort, and is interesting as defining somewhat the Opposition's policy on Imperial questions. As long as Canada had no voice in directing the foreign policy of the Empire, he said certainly oppose her expending as a colony blood and money in carrying to a successful issue wars so undertaken. One of the drawbacks in the appointment of a permanent Commissioner, resident in London, was that he would in the course of a few years cease to be informed from personal observation and knowledge of the wishes and views of the people of this country, and in that respect the proposal was faulty. He doubted whether the argument advanced in favor of the appointment on economical grounds would be borne out in experience, and he feared that the High Commissionership would be found to be an expensive luxury. In concluding he announced that for the foregoing reasons he was not prepared to lend his voice in favor of the new departure.

Sir John Macdonald briefly replied to the objections raised. In the course of his remarks he alluded to Canada as "an auxiliary kingdom" of the British Empire. This brought Mr. Huntington to his feet, who in a forcible speech demanded the meaning of such a remarkable expression. After a few words from Mr. Boultbee favorable to the Bill, it was read the second time on a vote of 130 yeas and 48 nays, majority 73. The necessary money resolution was then introduced and incorporated in the Bill, which passed through all its stages.

The Chicago Advance having published a letter sent that paper, purporting to have been written by a clergyman in London, Ontario, commenting disparagingly on the labors of the well-known Evangelist, Rev. E. P. Hammond, and copied into a religious weekly paper here, the pastors of the city who still remain in their several city charges, and who were here during the great awakening of the winter of 1874, which followed the labors of the Evangelist and his staff of colaborers, have felt it both their duty and privilege to offset the ungenerous exceptions made to Mr. Hammond's mode of conducting the spiritual campaign, and have drawn up the following card, expressive of their continued confidence in and sympathy with his work:—

ST. LOUIS, March 24, 1880.—It was our privilege to labor with Rev. E. P. Hammond during his work in St. Louis, and it is now our privilege to express the conviction that he is a simple-hearted, consecrated man, who seeks to exalt the name of the Lord Jesus Christ in his ministry. He preaches the gospel, and his testimony has been blessed in the conversion and comfort of many souls.

To the Editor of the Globe-Democrat.

ST. LOUIS, March 25, 1880.—In your local columns of to-day you publish a card from the pastors of the city who co-operated with Mr. Hammond in the campaign of 1874.

It would be interesting to many of your readers to know that of the sixty clergymen of this city who so cordially co-operated with Mr. Hammond, that, by death and removal to other charges, they have been reduced to about one-quarter of that number. And the card was limited to those who were actively engaged with the evangelist at that time. Yours, respectfully,

DR. J. H. MCLEAN.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

Sold by all druggists.

Three prominent members of the Ways and Means Committee said on Thursday that the Hurd Bill concerning discrimination against Canadian freights would be defeated in Committee beyond all doubt. It can be safely said that the measure is as dead as a door nail so far as the present session is concerned.

The Great Feature of the Century.

(New York Sun.)

The engineering achievements of this century, beyond a question, are those for which it will be most famous and longest remembered. Theologians and philosophers may split hairs about metaphysical science, but they will all join in the celebration of what the engineers have done for modern progress.

The past fifty years have been the most fruitful in the whole history of engineering, and therefore the review of its accomplishments in that time, given in a recent address by Mr. William Henry Barlow, the President of the Institution of Civil Engineers of England, has a general interest. When that institution was chartered in 1828, the question of transportion was one of great urgency. The canals, which dated in England from about the year 1758, had increased to a length exceeding 3,000 miles, but they were inadequate to the commercial needs of the country. In the United States the Erie Canal had been opened in 1825, and had been hailed as an engineering feat of astonishing magnitude; and at about the same time lesser canals had been constructed in other States. Both here and in England much attention was bestowed on turnpike roads during the first quarter of the century.

The steam locomotive was then only in its early experimental stages. In 1830, however, the Liverpool and Manchester Railway was opened, and George Stevenson's predictions regarding the value of locomotives for tractive power began to be realized. So great was the want of improved methods of transportation, that the spread of the railway system was rapid far beyond even Stevenson's expectation. In his address to the British Association in 1875, forty-five years after, Sir John Hawkshaw estimated the total length of railroads then existing at 160,000 miles, and the total capital invested in them at $16,000,000,000.

Since that time railroad extension has gone on throughout the world, though during the last five years, owing to the prevailing business depression, the progress has not been so rapid as it was just previously. Yet even in England, which already seemed well supplied with railways, the increase in miles was more than two thousand between 1870 and 1880; and the railway traffic has nearly quadrupled in twenty-five years. With us, from 1872, the year when railways were built with such astonishing rapidity, reaching 7,340 miles of new constructions, up to last year, there was a decline in the progress; but 1879 witnessed the addition of 4,430 miles of rail, and 1880 promises to be one of the most active years we have ever known in the business. The total mileage of railways in the United States was, at the beginning of 1880, 8 6,263 miles, or one mile of railroad for every 574 inhabitants, a ratio greatly in excess of that of Europe, which has one mile of railroad to every 3,300 persons.

Outside the new railroads to be built in the United States, there is field enough for railroad extension in Asia and Africa. China has yet no railroads. Japan has only begun to lay them, and Africa is almost without railways for the 350,000,000 inhabitants Mr. Brassey gives that continent. South America, also, is still only supplied to a very limited extent, and in Central Asia they must be vastly extended.

Steam navigation has had nearly its whole growth within the past fifty years. It is true there were 344 steam vessels in existence in 1828, but they were of an average of only about ninety tons each, and were chiefly employed in river and coasting traffic. Ocean steam navigation had not yet been attempted, and not until 1838 did the successful voyages of the Sirus and Great Western make it an accomplished fact. Before 1836, the largest ships afloat were between 800 and 900 tons burden and about 220 horse power. power. Now the Cunard steamship Servia is of 7,500 tons, and 10,000 horse power, while the Inflexible of the British navy has a tonnage of 11,600 tons, and its engines a power of 8,000 horses, and the Italia of the Italian navy will be of 13,200 tons burden and 18,000 horse power.

The telegraph, which was first brought into practical use in this country in 1844, between Washington and Baltimore, employed 400,000 miles of wire as long ago as 1875. Since that time its extension under the sea and on land has been enormous.

The employment of gas as a means of illumination was only beginning fifty years ago, but now the capital invested in the London Gas Works alone amounts to $60,000,000, and in the whole United Kingdom it amounts to $200,000,000.

And these are only a few of the engineering achievements of the half century. Mr. Barlow estimates the total capital invested in engineering works during that time at $17,500,000,000, or about $350,000,000 annually. Of this vast sum nineteen-twentieths belong to railways, steamships, docks, harbors, and telegraphs, all of which are directed to improving and extending the means of transport for passengers and merchandise, and the communication of intelligence.

The great feature of the last half century, therefore, has been the improvement of the methods of transportation, in obedience to the urgent demand made by commerce for new and swifter means of intercourse.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack us wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. —Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœpathic Chemists, London, Eng." n4dw9md

THE ICE SPECULATION.—The New York Bulletin, referring to the ice speculation at Barrie, pertinently remarks: "Before the 1st of July the purchasers, we are told, expect to get $25 or $30 a ton for it; but if any reliance can be placed upon the reports we are having as to the liberal supplies which the ice companies in this region as well as in New England have secured, notwithstanding the usual mildness of the season, it is quite possible that these speculators, like many others of their class, may have to put up with a disappointment."

An Imperial Zollverein.

(From the Penn. Monthly.)

Just before the English elections, Sir Alexander Galt set out for London, as the recognized representative of the Dominion of Canada in English Governmental circles. At a parting banquet in Montreal he told the public that he had a specific errand as well as a general one. He went to aid in the organization of an Imperial Zollverein, by which all commerce should be free within the bounds of the British Empire, while a common tariff should limit the transactions of each part of that Empire with the rest of the world. We do not believe that a proposal so audacious would have been announced by an official representative of Canada, without some encouragement from Downing street. As we said some time ago, all signs go to show that Beaconsfield has been cherishing such a plan, as furnishing the true solution of England's financial difficulties, and as helping to consolidate the Empire itself into a magnificent political unity. But, unfortunately for Sir Alexander Galt and for Canada, it shares in the defeat of its imaginative author. No one who knows the character and position of the English Liberals, will suppose that they will entertain such a scheme. All their interests, all their convictions, and all their instincts, are hostile to it. Sir Alexander Galt may find useful employment in London as "Minister for Canada," but his Imperial Zollverein has vanished like the baseless fabric of a vision."

Not only Beaconsfield, but the Canadian ministry must have given encouragement to this scheme. It is true that they abandoned their own professions of pursuing a National Policy for Canada in so doing, But consistency has never been the strong point of Canadian politicians. The Macdonald Ministry are evidently not satisfied with the results of the National Policy, nor with the present industrial position of Canada. If they were so, they would have paid no attention to such schemes. Their organs sometimes speak of Americans as evidently desirous of improved relations with Canada, and showing more concern about than is felt on the northern side of the line. Such insinuations are out of place since this last disclosure. It is no longer to be denied that Canada cannot maintain her present isolated position. She must have an outlet in some direction. The British Empire has failed her; its representatives offer her nothing. She has no direction in which to look, except that in while Providence points her—to the continent to which she properly belongs, and to the people from whom she can obtain far more solid advantages by a customs union, than any promised by the castle in the air which has just been wrecked. She needs us far more than we need her, but no American will hesitate on that account to make the first approaches, which we can better afford than she.

When a pen has become so corroded as to be useless, it can be made good as new by holding it in the flames of a gas-jet for half a minute; then drop in cold water, take out, wipe clean, and it will be ready for use again.

The following incident in connection with the Midlothian election is reported by the Scotsman:— "At Roslyn the Duke of Buccleuch has for tenant an old man in a piteous state of paralysis. He, nevertheless, possesses a vote, and would, of course, desire to give it for his landlord's son. The old man was accordingly carefully conveyed to the poll with a full knowledge that not being able to move hand or foot, he could not mark the ballot paper. It was, however, taken for granted that he would be able when questioned in due form, to state his preference for Lord Dalkeith. When the critical moment came it was discovered, to the dismay of the painstaking canvasser, that the voter could not articulate the desired syllables. Full opportunity was given him, but he could not say 'Dalkeith,' and so he was carried back with his mission unfulfilled. What would have happened if he had tried to say 'Gladstone' remains a matter of speculation, for the experiment was eschewed.'

The Commercial Traveller.

"What would I do without 'the boys?' How often they have been my friends. I go to a new town. I don't know one hotels from the other. I don't know where to go. The man with the samples gets off at the same station. I follow him without a word or a tremor. He calls to the 'bus driver by name and orders him to get out of this now, as soon as we are seated. And when I follow him I am inevitably certain to go to the best house there is in the place. He shouts at the clerk by name and fires a joke at the landlord as we go in. He looks over my shoulder as I register after him, and hands me his card with a shout of recognition. He peeps at the register again and watching the clerk assign me to 98. 'Ninety nothing,' he shouts, 'who's in 15?' The clerk says 'he is saving 15 for Judge Drydust.' 'Well, he be blowed,' says the cheery friend, 'give him the attic and put this gentleman in 15.' And if the clerk hesitates, he seizes the pen and gives me 15 himself, and then he calls the porter, and orders him to carry up my baggage and put a fire in 15, and then in the same breath adds, 'What time will you be down to supper, Mr. Burdette?' And he waits for me, and, seeing that I am a stranger in town, he sees that I am cared for, that the waiters do not neglect me; he tells me about the town, the people and the business. He is breezy, cheery, sociable, full of new stories, always good natured; he frisks with cigars, and overflows with 'thousand mile tickets;' he always has a key for the car seats, and turns a seat for himself and his friends without troubling the brakesmen, but he will ride on a wood-box or stand on the platform to accommodate a lady, and he will give up his seat to an old man. I know them pretty well. For three years I have been travelling with him from Colorado to Maine and I have seen the worst and best of him, and I know the best far outweighs the worst. I could hardly get along without him and I am glad he is so numerous."

A Curiosity.

The Palmerston Telegraph says:—A photograph of five generations on one card is not often seen. A few days ago Mr. S. Carswell photographed a group of five persons representing as many generations, and consisting of Mr. Thomas Hayes, aged 96; his son George, aged 75; George's son Thomas, aged 50; Thomas's daughter, aged 20, and grandson of Thomas, aged 12. Thomas Hayes, the great-great-grandfather, was born in Co. Armagh, Ireland; his son George, now of Tecumseth, Simcoe, was born in the same county as his father, and so was his son Thomas Hayes, now of con. 10, Wallace, where his daughter Ann Jane, the young lady representing the fourth generation, was born. The youngest member of the group is Reuben Rolls, son of Mr. Rolls, of Maryborough, who married a daughter of Mr. Thomas Hayes. The "old" gentleman, who came to Canada in 1831, has served in the Candian Militia, and was a lieutenant during McKenzie's rebellion, was Justice of the Peace in Simcoe Co., and has lived at his present residence in Minto for the last ten years, and never needed medical advice or medicine till within the last year. He looks younger than his son George. Mr. Thomas Hayes, jr., has lived in Wallace for 25 years.

A mining camp editor at Bodie recently received from a San Francisco bookseller a copy of Milton's "Paradise Lost." "More new books to review!" he sighed, taking out his tobacco knife and cutting the leaves. "Milton must be a new man," he added; "a New-Yorker, I suppose. Well, here goes." Thereupon he wrote the following paragraph: "We received yesterday a copy of John Milton's poems from the enterprising publishing house of X. X., San Francisco. The book opens very improperly commences with a description of hell, a topic that is never mentioned in the polite circles of this camp, and gives a most thoroughly absurd portrait of the devil. This person he pictures as many rods in length, while the best authorities on the subject have likened him to a goat. He goes on then to tell of a fight with a batch of angels, wherein the devil, as a matter of coure, gets the worse of it, being from the very start the underdog in the fight. This is quite enough for us. John Milton would do better to return to his legtimate newspaper sphere. He may be able to describe a masquerade ball or a street row, but, in our opinion, he is a very poor poet." "This will do for Milton," said the editor, as he passed the copy in to the foreman.

TISDALE now challenges Quirk to a 125 yards race for $500 or a $1,000.

MARSHALL QUINTON, formerly of the Maple Leafs, fell against the window of a saloon in New York last week and had some of the sinews of his arm badly cut by the broken glass.

MAPLE LEAFS.—A meeting of those interested in reorganizing the Maple Leaf B. B. C. was held at the Royal Hotel last night. Owing to the absence of some warm advocates of the club the meeting was adjourned till Tuesday evening.

TELEGRAPH RATES.—The Montreal Telegraph Company have reduced their cable rates to Great Britain from 75 to 50 cents per word. The rate to France is 12½ cents per word. The reduction takes effect to-day.

"THERE is such a dearth of news now a days in the papers, they are scarcely worth reading." A very common remark this. People troubled in this way should carefully read the advertisement of the Lion, which contains items of interest for every body.

NEW LAW FIRM.—The Orangeville Sun says:—Messrs. MacMillan, of Guelph, and Flemming, of Brampton, were in town a few days ago, and intend opening out a law office in this town. Both being long and very favourably known in this neighborhood there is no doubt that in a short time they will work up a large practice, as they are gentlemen of ability and large experience. We wish the new firm success.

ANOTHER RECOGNITION.—The Brantford Expositor again refers to the Rainer piano as follows:—This splendid instrument was heard with delight again Thursday evening by hundreds of persons at the farewell concert given to Miss Nolan. The committee on the concert to be given to Mr. Fax have urgently requested Mr. Read to allow this favorite piano to remain in Wickliffe Hall for this entertainment also. Mr. Read has several orders already in prospect for the "Rainer."

GRIP.—This week's Grip is excellent as usual. The principal cartoon represents Mr. Plumb holding out the "new-born rag-baby" of the Finance Minister, who appears as Miss Tilley," and answers Mr. Plumb's reproaches by the old excuse, "it's only a little one." Nurse Wallace stands in the background with a large rag infant in arms, to which the new arrival bears a remarkable resemblance. The other minor cartoons are also good, and the reading is witty and spicy.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment, comprising besides vocal and instrumental music, a number of tableaux, given under the superintendance of Mrs. McCrea at Miss Whiteman's school last night was a decided success. There was a good attendance, and the following programme was carried out most satisfactorily:—Overture, Miss Grenside, Miss Swinford, Mr. Vale; Tableau, "Your's Jealous;" Song, Misses Foster; Tableau, "Little Red Riding Hood;" Music, Misses Keating and Bucham; Tableau, "Guardian Angels;" Reading, Mr. Johnson; Tableau, "Gipsey Camp;" Song, Misses Stephenson; Tableau, "Fairy Godmother;" Music, Misses Anderson; Tableau, "May Queen;" Reading, Miss Keables; Tableau, "May Pole;" Tableau, "Dresden China." The entertainment closed with the National Anthem. The proceeds are to be devoted towards the St. Andrew's Church Ladies' Aid Association. The programme is to be repeated this afternoon for the benefit of the children.

BASEBALL IN CANADA.—Throughout Ontario a number of strong and flourishing amateur clubs have taken, or are about to take, the field for the season. Among these may be mentioned the Actives, of Woodstock; the Browns, of Harriston; the Stars, of Seaforth; the Cobourgs, of Cobourg; the Alliance, of Stratford; the Forests, of Forest; the Dauntless, of Port Hope; the Royal Oaks, of Bowmanville; the Mutuals, of Galt; the St. Lawrence, of Kingston; and a club in Ottawa, name unknown. In 1878 the Canadian Amateur Baseball Association awarded the championship to the Woodstock Actives, who had won the largest number of games in the series prescribed by the association. With the close of that year, however, the association closed its career, and it is a question if there is a champion pennant or title in existence. If there is, the Actives are entitled to any honor or benefit derivable from it. But that is a matter of no moment as regards the future. What the clubs should do now is to form a provincial association that would decide upon a set of rules and regulations to govern contests for the championship.—Hamilton Times.

The lodge meets the first Friday in each month in the Good Templar's rooms over the Bank of Commerce. At the meeting last night six new members were initiated, making the whole membership at present about fifty.

HOTEL LICENSE.—The name of S. Duffield, Rockwood, was omitted from the list of those who were granted licenses which appeared in Friday's issue. His application was held over for consideration because the Commissioners were undecided as to whether they would increase the number of licenses in Rockwood. Having decided to do so Mr. Duffield was licensed for the year.

THE NEW HAT.—The fashionable summer hat for ladies is thus described:—It is to be of straw. It will be knocked in on the front, jammed in on each side and kicked in on top. Then the rim will be jammed up all around to make the whole effect harmonious. It will be trimmed with strips of sheet tin, turkey wings, old fruit cans and debris generally. It is an economical kind of hat, as it can be made by taking a boy's old straw hat, running a wheel-barrow over it a few times, and hitching on whatever is handy.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—A runaway occurred this (Saturday) forenoon through which Mr. John Simpson, cooper, of Kilbride, Nassagaweya Township, was seriously injured. He was starting to drive a team of horses from Reynold's hotel, when one of the traces became loose, and striking one of the horses they both started off. On reaching Wyndham street they turned south and dashed madly down the street, which was crowded with people and vehicles. Mr. Simpson retained his seat until when opposite John A. Wood's grocery store he was thrown on the roadway head foremost. He was carried into Dr. Herod's drug store, and on examination it was found that one of his shoulder blades was broken, and that a deep wound had been inflicted on his head over the left temple. After the injuries were attended to the sufferer was carried to the house of Mr. Allan Simpson, Cork street. After the accident the horses continued on their course at a furious pace, crossing the railway track at the foot of Wyndham street. They were stopped near McCrae's woollen factory, having occasioned no other injury.

The Opposition Leadership.

(From the Ottawa Free Press.)

Of parties it now may be said with truth that the Conservatives worship a setting, the Liberals a rising sun. In assuming the leadership of his party Mr. Blake comes to the front at a time when all his great powers are needed to create as well as to combine, to give shape and coherency to the Liberal programme, and to array under one banner all right thinking men for the highest purposes of statesmanship. Of late a feeling has gained ground among the more thoughtful of the people that partizanship was injuring the country and seriously impairing the usefulness of public men; that higher politics were being ignored for the meaner issues of personal ambition, and that the circumstances of the country demanded other ideas should prevail in the councils of the nation. The men in power needed the menace of an Opposition leader free from old entanglements. It would not be wrong to say that the effort to express in action this scarcely uttered thought has led to the present change in the leadership of the Liberal party. In saying this much we desire to draw no invidious comparisons from either side of the House, but to show that the old spirit which has made certain party names odious is losing its power, and that the beams of the rising sun of a new political day have already touched the mountain tops, though it may be some time before they pierce the valleys and dispel the fogs that hang about the swamps and lowlands of partyism. As a Canadian to the manor born the new leader of the Liberal party will have the active sympathy of the great bulk of our people, while his democratic loyalty to British Constitutional usage and his strong Canadian sympathies combine to make him the ideal of a national leader. He also brings to the arduous task before him the fruits of a disciplined experience, a mind richly stored with knowledge of men and books, and a reputation sans peur et sans reproche. Under his guidance we feel justified in forecasting the probability that at no very distant date old orics will lose their meaning, old barriers disappear and many a gulf created by the passions of a time now passing away, filled up. The present state of the country requires the most earnest attention on the part of our public men. A policy, which cannot be calmly considered as otherwise than dangerous to the highest interests of the Dominion is being forced to its extreme conclusions. Steadiness of mind and nerve are of the first necessity; a powerful will and a voice to command attention and compel obedience are demanded by the exigencies of the time. These and more are the attributes of the leader elect of the Liberal party, and, though great things are expected from him, we are satisfied that he will fulfil all expectations, and while leading his party to victory, confer the greatest benefits on his country.

The Clerical Scandal Case in Toronto.

It is not Accepted.

The Globe says that a meeting of the congregation of the Bond street Church was held in the lecture room on Friday evening. Earlier in the evening a meeting of the deacons took place, at which matters were discussed, and preparations were made for the more public meeting which was to follow. There was a large attendance of the members, the female portion being particularly well represented. The reporters were again excluded. After the usual devotional exercises, and the appointment of Mr. Fraser as chairman and Mr. Elgar as secretary, the following communication was read from Mr. Handford, tendering his resignation of the pastorate:—

MY DEAR FRIENDS.—After prolonged and careful consideration, I have resolved to tender my resignation of the pastorate of the Church, which I beg forthwith to do. The interests of the Church are of far higher importance than any personal consideration. I am very grateful for the kindness which led so many of you to record a vote of confidence in me on Monday evening last. But the bitterness and enmity then made manifest convinced me that there was nothing before me but a ceaseless struggle against remorseless foes. I have had three years of this conflict, and it is more than enough. For the sake of harmony and peace in the Church, and because I believe that my retirement will best serve its future, I tender my resignation.

For the love so many of you have shown I offer back a loving farewell. There is a day, not far distant, that will reveal and a fire that will try. For that revealing day and that trying fire, I patiently abide.

I am, yours,
T. W. HANDFORD.

After the reading of the above communication the subject was thrown open for discussion, and opinions were expressed by Messrs. Ireson, Carruthers, Robinson, Elgar and others in opposition to the acceptance of the resignation.

Mr. M. H. Irish moved, seconded by Mr. Farquhar, "That Mr. Handford's resignation be not received, but that a Committee of the members of the Church be hereby appointed to hear what reasons Messrs. Thomson and Beckett or any other deacon may have for desiring to resign their positions as deacons, or any other member of the Church having any complaint to submit, or who may wish to sever his or her connection with the Church."

The resolution was carried unanimously, and a Committee was appointed. A resolution was also passed requesting Mr. Handford to take the usual services on Sunday.

The Committee to whom is entrusted the duty of investigating the charges against the pastor intend holding weekly meetings with closed doors, the first to be held next Monday evening. At the sessions of this Committee it is intended to invite disaffected members to attend and state their grievances, which will be taken down in writing, and Mr. Handford will be subsequently asked to disprove them. This is stated as the reason for declining to accept his resignation without having first had the fullest investigation into the charges. An interview with one of the disaffected deacons elicited the information that he would be quite ready to attend the meetings of the examining Committee when called upon.

The Nineteenth Century tells of a sleeve button bearing a rose diamond which exploded under the influence of sunshine. It appears that the person who wore this button was one day startled by hearing a distinct report, due to the sudden rupture of the stone. The diamond was rent along a cleavage plane and the fracture disclosed a dark particle of carbonaceous matter. It is believed that the explosion resulted from the rapid expansion of a volatile liquid enclosed in a cavity. Many crystals contain cavities which enclose volatile liquids, such as condensed carbonic acid. Sir David Brewster found that some diamonds contain so many microscopic cavities that they impart a dark color to the mineral. It is probable that the liquids and gases which are pent up under great tension in such cavities would exert considerable pressure outward, and, indeed, the behavior of certain diamonds under polarized light seems to show that parts of the stone are in a state of great strain. It is easily conceivable, then, that the tension of the enclosed fluid might go on increasing until the diamond, no longer able to resist the strain, would give way with explosive violence.—Boston Herald

RETRACTION.—On the 18th March last Mr. Peter Moyer, editor of the News, of this town, published a gross libel upon the Registrar of this County, Mr. McDougall charging that gentleman, by implication, with denying his signature to a promissory note, as well as asserting that he was a dishonest man. As these accusations had not the least foundation to rest upon, Mr. McDougall was about to lay criminal information before the Grand Jury against Mr. Moyer, when the matter was settled by the author of the slanders agreeing to retract them, which he did in his issue of the 26th instant; and at the same time expressed his regret at the injustice done Mr. McDougall. This is the apology Mr. Moyer should have made weeks ago. It is not however too late to do right, even by a man of Mr. Moyer's high professions of Christian character. It is a cheering prospect for the future to see him, even at the eleventh hour, repenting of his misdeeds. It may be good for Peter that he has lately been severely chastened; in may keep him in the straight path for the future. So mote it be.—Berlin Telegraph.

SATURDAY EVNG. MAY 1, 1880

Objection to a Vote.

There was a lively scene in the House on Friday night on the vote for paying Mr. Miall $500 extra for his services in connection with the Fishery Commission. There is a rule that no member shall vote unless he is within the Chamber when the question is put. Mr. Cameron, of Huron, was at the door when the question was put, and he heard it. Having to pass the Speaker to gain his seat he retraced his steps and passed to the back row of seats. In the meantime the yeas were being taken. After the list of votes had been read his vote was challenged. He made an explanation, but this, in violation of the rules of Parliament, was not accepted by the Ministerialists. The Speaker, however, ruled that his vote should be accepted, because the hon. member said he heard the question put and was actually within the precincts of the Chamber. This did not satisfy the Ministerialists. The Premier, losing his self-control, echoed the sentiments of his followers by disputing the veracity of Mr. Cameron's statement, and he added that the hon. member would only be honourable by courtesy after to-night. Mr. Blake promptly called the Premier to order. He asked him to withdraw the offensive expression, because he was sure he would regret it to-day. Sir John refused to do so. Mr. Blake then demanded the Speaker's ruling upon the expression. Mr. Speaker ruled it to be unparliamentary, and after some further explanations the matter dropped. A laughable conclusion to the scene was that Mr. Merner, a Conservative, who had been accidentally passed on the original vote being taken, was called upon by the Speaker to vote. He was so confused that, amidst laughter, he voted with the Opposition, apparently unintentionally.

MR. GLADSTONE'S Cabinet includes nearly all the statesmen who went out of office in 1874.

THE Government have decided that Parliament shall be prorogued on Wednesday night.

THE Debates Committee have decided to advertise for tenders for the printing of the Hansard.

A RUMOR comes from Ottawa that Hon. Mr. Mackenzie has accepted the editorship of the Globe.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD, on Friday presented the report for the Department of the Interior, which ought to have been presented two months ago.

HON. Mr. Baby has given notice that he will move to fix the fire test of Canadian petroleum at 115 degrees, and of foreign petroleum at 120 degrees.

IN his speech the other night on the Galt appointment Sir John alluded to Canada as "an auxiliary kingdom of the empire." We are all anxious to know what's in the wind.

THE West is up in arms against the Hurd Bill, which would not only increase the cost of transportation of Western products, but put an end to the importation of bonded goods to Chicago in sealed cars running through the Canadian Territory. The Chicago Tribune rightly describes the Bill as being simply a strike for a New York monopoly of the entire trade of the United States.

A pacific settlement of the Ontario question has been arrived at for the present. On Friday a bill respecting the administration of criminal justice in the territory in dispute was introduced, which provides that until a settlement is arrived at, such cases may be tried either in Manitoba or Ontario. The bill has the assent of the Attorney-General of Ontario.

STRATFORD Beacon:—We are sorry that Mr. A. J. Belch, formerly of the St. Mary's Argus, who has for some time occupied a responsible situation in the Dominion Land office at Winnipeg, has been reduced to an inferior position. We are assured on the best of authority that no fault whatever could be found with the manner in which Mr. Belch performed his duties—his removal was simply in pursuance of the policy of the present Government to drive all Grits out of offices that are worth holding.

THE effect of the N. P. on the workingmen employed in the cotton trade in Cornwall is graphically described by the Freeholder, in referring to application of the Cotton Company for a new bonus. That paper says:—"Here is an institution making enormous profits, wealthy in every sense, protected by the Government to the extent of forty per cent., grinding down the wages to a starvation point, and free from all taxation, whilst the poor man is loaded down with taxes, rapping at the door of the corporation for $8,000 more, and cash down at that."

THE Toronto Tribune says:—"On Wednesday afternoon last a very large and influential deputation waited on the members of the Cabinet in the Attorney General's office, to urge the claims of Mr. Peter Small to an appointment to one of the vacant Shrievalties. The Attorney General said he and his colleagues would give their best consideration to the views and arguments which had been laid before them. Mr. Small formerly kept store in Adjala, and now, we believe, keeps store in Toronto. Mr. Small is looking after the shrievalty of Dufferin, and his co-religionists, as will be seen from the above, are doing all they can to help him.

THE Mail seems to be greatly exercised over the change in the Opposition leadership, and devotes about a column a day to Mr. Blake and Mr. Mackenzie. It is no doubt very kind of the Tory organ thus to devote so much attention to the Opposition, but as it happens that they manage to settle their family matters without asking the advice or consent of the Mail, its interest and concern in this matter are entirely wasted. Of course we all know that its object is to sow dissension in the Liberal ranks, but this it cannot do, and it may just as well drop the subject. It along with some of the Ministerial papers are trying to make capital out of the fact that the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie was not at the caucus on Thursday. The fact of the matter is that he was out of town enjoying the hospitality of the King of the Gatineau. On that night he remained in his seat until the close of the House, assisting Mr. Blake in criticising the estimates.

THERE is considerable talk in Hamilton about the Government awarding the contract for track scales to an American firm. Messrs. Gurney & Ware, of that city, were among those who tendered, and with Tilley's protective tariff of thirty per cent. it was thought that the Hamilton or some other Canadian manufactory was sure of the contract for the thirty ton scales. But such is not the case. It is stated that the Government promised faithfully the contract to two Hamilton firms, and also to the American firm, the latter receiving the award. Those who are in the trade are of the opinion that some crooked work has been done. One Hamilton firm has repeatedly asked for a statement of the tenders, and was as many times put off with a promise for the future, and here Canadian manufacturers feel that an injustice has been done them and ask for an explanation.

THERE is no truth in the report that another Liberal paper is to be started in Toronto. There is no necessity for such an organ, inasmuch as it is believed that not only the Opposition members and their supporters in the country, but a very considerable proportion of those who voted with Conservatives at last election, are at one with Mr. Blake and the journals which have advocated the policy which both he and Mr. Mackenzie have so ably placed before the country. Under these circumstances, it is felt that any attempt to start a new daily Liberal journal would be exceedingly unwise. The Reform party, it is generally conceded by those best capable of judging, are most efficiently served by the journals already in existance, and there is no necessity for a new departure. There is reason to believe that the newly-elected leader of the Opposition shares in the same opinion.

MR. J. H. Hunter, Principal of the Blind Asylum in Brantford, is a candidate for a seat as member of the Senate of Toronto University. From what we know of him he would make a useful and active member. We notice that at a meeting of convocation of University College, held last Friday by requisition, the question of giving publicity to the proceedings was discussed, when Mr. Hunter strongly advocated making the meetings open. There was a very large turn out, and a great deal of interest manifested in the question. There was an unanimity on the question of giving publicity, but there was a difference as to the extent, and as to the manner. After the making of motions and amendments, and the withdrawal of the same, and the further making of motions, it was finally agreed that a memorial be sent to the Senate setting out the desire of convocation to have publicity given to the Senate's proceedings, but leaving the extent and manner of giving it to be settled by the Senate.

Housekeeper to milkman: 'My friend, you put water in your milk.' 'Oh, no, I don't ma'm.' 'But I am sure you do.' 'Oh, no, ma'm.' 'Now will you say solemnly that you do not put water in your milk?' 'Well, ma'm, well, I must say that sometimes I put some water in the can, and put the milk in that, but I never put the water in the milk.'

The latest Yankee idea is described by the dignified English papers as a game "played with fifteen little discs of wood marked consecutively from one to fifteen, which are placed indiscriminately in a shallow box, constructed to hold sixteen, and thus allowing room for one to be moved at a time. The game, which is in principle something like that called solitaire, consists in bringing all the discs into numerical order, the first row counting one, two, three, four and so on, until the fifteenth is attained." The puzzle is not appreciated in England. It is condemned as the most senselessly unprofitable method of wasting time which has ever been devised.

An agent of an accident insurance company entered a smoking-car on a western railroad train a few days ago, and approaching an exceedingly gruff old man, asked him if he did not want to take out a policy. He was told to get out with his policy, and passed on. A few minutes afterwards an accident occurred to the train, causing a fearful shaking to the cars. The old man jumped up, and seizing a hook at the side of the car to steady himself called out, "Where is that insurance man?"

BAULKY HORSES.—Among the suggestions said to be published by some Anticruelty to Animals Society, are these:—If the horse when he bulks can have his attention diverted there is usually no trouble in starting him. This may be done in various ways of which the following are a few that have been employed. Take the horse out of the shafts and turn him around several times quite rapidly. This will make him entirely dizzy and lead him to forget that he does not wish to draw the load. A stout twine twisted around the fore-leg has been used as a remedy with good results. A string tied around the ear has the same effect. We have seen horses of the bulkiest sort started in a moment by putting a lump of earth into their mouths. Even a piece of sugar or a handful of fresh grass will so divert the attention of a baulker that he will often start off without trouble. Some mild treatment like these that set the animal to thinking of something foreign to his work is vastly better than any amount of whipping, and is much easier of application.—American Agriculturist.

New Books.

REMINISCENCES OF THE EARLY HISTORY OF GALT AND THE SETTLEMENT OF DUMFRIES; BY JAMES YOUNG, M. P. P.: TORONTO: HUNTER, ROSE & Co.

In this handsome little volume Mr. James Young has done for Galt and the Township of Dumfries what we attempted to do through the columns of the MERCURY for Guelph and the County of Wellington in 1866. And if we are ever favored with the leisure that Mr. Young has so well earned and deservedly enjoys, we hope some day to gather into a similar volume as the one now before us the result of these researches of 1866, and present to the people of this City and County a connected history of the settlement of Guelph and of the Townships in the County of Wellington.

As yet we have only had time for a hasty perusal of this book, but we have been highly pleased with it. Mr. Young, as he states in his preface, makes no pretensions at fine writing or high flown descriptions. He has, however, caught the true spirit of the local historian, and from numberless sources has with excellent taste and much ability woven together a very interesting and connected narrative of the early history of Galt and Dumfries, which must be of special interest to that thriving town and township, and which if we are not mistaken will command a wide circle of readers.

We cannot, of course, begin to give even an outline of the subjects touched on in these Reminiscences, but we may say that the information which Mr. Young has gathered is authentic. Much of it was familiar to the author from his earliest years, and the rest was gathered with care from the best sources, and from many of the old settlers who are fast disappearing.

These Reminiscences are admirably arranged, and lead the reader on from the earliest history of the locality when it belonged to the Indians, through its various stages of early settlement down to the present time. Due space is given to the incidents connected with the original purchase of the Township by Philip Stedman, its subsequent purchase by Hon. Wm. Dickson, the advent and history of Absalom Shade, and the successive stages in the progress of the young settlement from its first embryo condition to its present state. The narrative is smooth and continuous, and all the social and other characteristics of the period are fully described and pleasantly told. Mr. Young has handled the material at his disposal with much skill, and out of the mass of information thus loosely thrown into his hands, has woven a most interesting and pleasant story, which will not only be of interest to old and young in the county, but will serve as a trustworthy record of the early history of one of the most prosperous towns and sections of the Province. As a glimpse of the social life of the people it is invaluable, especially when the primitive customs and fashions of those times are fast passing away.

The book is admirably got up. It is printed from large clear type, is handsomely bound, and is embellished with portraits of some of Galt's worthies, and views of the Town. It deserves, and no doubt it will soon obtain, a large and ready sale among the residents of Galt and vicinity, and among many who hail from that section or take an interest in it.

LANDS OF PLENTY IN THE NEW NORTH WEST.—We have received from Messrs. Hunter, Rose & Co., the publishers, a copy of this little book by Mr. E. Hepple Hall, who during the past summer travelled through Manitoba and the North West, and made himself thoroughly acquainted with the country. It contains a great deal of information about the North-West, and will form an excellent and reliable guide to travellers, settlers, and investors. It is neatly got up and contains a number of illustrations.

THE BYSTANDER.—Mr. Goldwin Smith's little magazine for May is full of spirit as usual, and gives a review of political affairs at home and abroad. Mr. Smith slashes right and left, and it is amusing to notice with what an air of authority he lectures public men and lays down the law on all questions under discussion. However his criticisms are always very readable, and any one that wants to get a resume of public affairs for the past month cannot do better than get a copy of the BYSTANDER, which costs only ten cents.

THE EDUCATIONAL MONTHLY.—The April number of this monthly has been received. The first paper is a very interesting one, entitled "Readings from an old Geography," by Mr. D. Boyle, of Elora. The other contents are: "The Education of the Citizen," "The age of Lord Bacon," "The Etymological objection." The papers in the different departments are also very interesting, and the balance of the matter above the average. For all teachers and those who take an interest in education this monthly is invaluable.

ALCOHOL IN HEALTH AND DISEASE.—This is a pamphlet by Dr. Buck, the Medical Superintendent of the London Lunatic Asylum. The author has devoted a great deal of study to this subject, and his object in this brochure is to show that alcohol, no matter how wisely and temperately used, or in what pure and delicate forms taken, has not the power commonly ascribed to it, of either lessening the pains, ills, or sorrows of life, nor of increasing its joys, comforts or pleasures; but that it does the very opposite. He argues out the case very strongly, and temperance people could not ask for a more powerful advocate.

The Australian Meat Trade.

The attention of the people in England is being especially directed at present to the Australian colonies as a prolific source from which food of all descriptions may be obtained and as a formidable rival to the United States, which of late it seems had had a monopoly of this market. The roast beef of old England has been long a product of American stock farms, and even our fruit and vegetables come across the Atlantic to our markets. The colonies at the antipodes unexpectedly loom into importance, and from the vast plains of Australia comes the cry of a new rival in the market bidding against the American produce merchant fruiterer and butcher. The arrival of the Constellation at Queenstown the other day scarcely evoked more enthusiasm than did the steamer Lusitania when she arrived from Adelaide with a large consignment of apples packed in small boxes, and each containing three-quarters of a bushel. The steamer Strathleven, from Melbourne, in fifty-five days, brought recently a quantity of refrigerated beef and mutton in excellent condition. Other consignments are expected, and much interest is, consequently, excited in this new field of enterprise. It is said refrigerating works are to be established immediately in the various British colonies in the South Seas. Large and enthusiastic meetings have taken place at Sydney, Melbourne, and in Queensland and in other places, and measures for developing the trade in meat produce generally with England were unanimously adopted. The Morning Post indulges in sanguine hopes of a great revival of English trade from this source, and urges upon the Government the advisability of extending liberal encouragement and assistance so as to develop their almost illimitable resources as food producers.

Mrs. Rennelson, a resident of Dumfries for forty years, who is about removing to Galt, was presented prior to her departure with an address from her numerous friends.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 30.

Mr. Edward Holton, the recently elected member for Chateauguay, was introduced by the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie and Hon. Mr. Laurier. Mr. Holton was received with cheers by the Opposition.

The resolutions on the subject of the agreement entered into with the Government by the Canada Central Railway Company in October, void last year, were adopted and a Bill framed on the same introduction.

The House was occupied the remainder of the afternoon in concurrance on the report of the Committee on Supply.

After recess several private Bills were advanced a stage. The House was occupied for nearly three hours in concurrance of supplies. On the item of $500 to pay Mr. E. Miall a further sum in recognition of his services in connection with the Halifax Fishery Commission, Mr Mackenzie took exception to vote on the ground that the late Government paid Mr. Miall amply for this service. The item was voted on a division of 103 yeas, 44 nays—majority for, 59.

The House went into Committee of Supply on the Supplementary Estimates for the current fiscal year, and after reporting all but two or three items, reported progress.

An act to incorporate the Baptist Union of Canada.

An act to confirm the purchase by the Dominion of a portion of the Grand Trunk railway and the agreement made with the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada with respect thereto.

An act to amend the act to incorporate the Ontario & Pacific Junction Railway Company.

The Pacific Railway Land Reserve.

Resolved, That it is expedient to substitute for the 7th of the series of resolutions relating to the Canada Pacific Railway, adopted by this House on the 12th and 13th May last the following resolutions:

(a.) That one hundred millions of acres of land in Manitoba and the North-West Territories be appropriated for the purpose of constructing the Canada Pacific Railway.

(b) That such lands shall be from time to time selected and reserved by order of the Governor in Council, as railway lands, and shall be of fair average quality for settlement.

(c.) That such lands shall be sold at prices to be fixed from time to time by the Governor in Council, but in no case at a rate of less than one dollar per acre.

(d.) That the proceeds of such sales, after deducting the cost of survey and management shall be devoted exclusively to the purpose of defraying the cost of the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

About our Proposed Standing Army.

OTTAWA, April 28.—In the Senate today, Hon. Mr. Alexander inquired whether the Government can give this House any information respecting an offer which has been made by the Imperial Government to raise in this Dominion, and pay at the expense of England, 'a colonial reserve army of 4,000 men, officered entirely by Canadians,' the terms of enlistment to be six years' active service, the first three years of duty to be performed in England, and the last three years in Canada. To be then disbanded, but to be liable for service in case of war for a period of fifteen years, and to form part of the general reserve, receiving £6 sterling annually as a consideration for this obligation.

Hon. Sir A. Campbell—No such offer has been made to the Government of Canada by the Imperial Government as that mentioned in this question. There is, however, I will add, a confidential correspondence going on between the Government of this country and the Imperial authorities as to the formation of a reserve, but not at all on this basis.

Harvesting on a Large Dakotah Farm.

Ride over the fertile fields of Dakota, and behold the workings of this last triumph of American genius. You are in a sea of wheat. On the farms managed by Oliver Dalrymple are 13,000 acres in one field. There are other farmers who cultivate from 100 to 6,000 acres. The railroad train rolls through an ocean of of grain. Pleasant the music of the rippling waves as the west wind sweeps over the expanse. We encounter a squadron of war chariots not such as once swept over the Delta and the Nile in pursuit of an army of fugitive Israelites, not such as the warriors of Rome were wont to drive, with glittering knives projecting from the axles to mow a swath through the ranks of an enemy, to drench the ground with blood, to cut down the human race, as if men were noxious weeds, but chariots of peace, doing the work of human hands for the sustenance of men. There are twenty-five of them in this one brigade of the grand army of 1100 under the marshalship of this Dakota farmer. A superintendent upon a superb horse, like a brigadier directing his forces, rides along the line accompanied by his staff of two on horseback. They are fully armed and equipped, not with swords, but the implements of peace—wrenches, hammers, chisels. They are surgeons in waiting with nuts and screws or whatever may be needed.

This brigade of horse artillery sweeps by in echelon—in close order, reaper following reaper. There is a sound of wheels. The grain disappears in an instant, then reappears; iron arms clasp it, hold it a moment in their embrace, wind it with wire then toss it disdainfully at your feet. You hear in the rattling of the wheels the mechanism saying to itself, "See how easy I can do it!"

An army of "shockers" follow the reapers, setting up the bundles to ripen before threshing. The reaping must ordinarily all be done in fifteen days, else the grain becomes too ripe. The first fields harvested, therefore, are cut before the ripening is complete. Each reaper averages about fifteen acres per day, and is drawn by three horses or mules.

The reaping ended, threshing begins. Again memory goes back to early years, to the pounding out the grain upon the threshing floor with the flail—the slow, tedious work of the winter days. Poets no more will rehearse the music of the flail. The picture for February in the old Farmers Almanac is obsolete. September is the month for threshing, the thresher doing its 900 or 700 bushels per day, driven by a steam-engine of sixteen horse-power. Remorseless that sharp-toothed devourer, swallowing its food as fast as two men can cut the wire bands, requiring six teams to supply its demands! And what a cataract of grain pours from its spout, faster than two men can bag it!

The latest triumph of invention in this direction is a straw-burning engine, utilizing the stocks of the grain for fuel.

The cost of raising wheat per bushel is from thirty-five to forty cents; the average yield, from twenty to twenty-five bushels per acre. The nearness of these lands to Lake Superior, and the rates established by the railroad—fifteen cents per bushel from any point between Bismarck and Duluth—give the Dakota farmers a wide margin of profit.

Since the first furrow was turned in the Red River Valley, in 1870, there has been no failure of crops from drought, excessive rains, blight, mildew, rust or other influence of climatology. The chinchbug has not made its appearance; the grasshoppers alone has troubled the farmers, but they have disappeared, and the fields are smiling with bounty. With good tilth, the farmer may count upon a net return of from eight to ten dollars per acre per annum. The employment of capital has accomplished a beneficent end, by demonstrating that the region, instead of being incapable of settlement, is one of the fairest sections of the continent. Nor is it a wonder that the land offices are besieged by emigrants making entries, or that the surveyors find the lands "squatted" upon before they can survey them; that hotels are crowded; that on every hand there is great activity. During the months of May, June, and July, 1879, the sales of government land were nearly 700,000 acres, and the entries for the year will probably aggregate 1,500,000, taken in homestead, pre-emption, and tree claims. There are other millions of acres, as fair and fertile, yet to be occupied.—C. C. Coffin, in Harper's Magazine.

Epps's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack us wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœpathic Chemists, London, Eng." n4dw9md

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. Beware of imitations. d&wlyr.

It was rather refreshing, in the Printing Committee on Wednesday, to see Messrs. Bunting and Costigan move that the contract should be given to Mr. Boyle, more especially in view of the fact, whether he received the money or not, that $3,000 was paid to get him to withdraw. There was also no evidence to indicate that he would have taken the contract had it been awarded to him, and if he got it now he would probably have to do as he proposed to do last year, viz., arrange for a partnership with Messrs. McLean, Roger & Co.

The Bicycle.

The extraordinary speed of the bicycle has just received a striking illustration in the English match for the 100 miles championship, which took place on April 10 in the Northumberland cricket ground, at Newcastle. Two renowned 100-mile riders, Higham and Phillips, were not present, but the starters included the well known names of Waller, Terront, Cann, and Lees. Six thousand people witnessed the contest, in which brilliant spurts varied the dogging tactics. The first mile was finished by Waller in 3 minutes and 40 seconds, and the last mile was made by the same rider in 3 minutes 42 seconds. Waller made the 100 miles in 6 hours 22 minutes 27 seconds, which is 2 minutes 43 better than the best previous record at that distance—that of Higham. Terront made 98 miles; Cann, 95; Lees, nearly 88. Cann took a five minutes' rest, and Lees one of 26 minutes; but Waller and Torront did not stop at all. The bicycle, in its modern form, seems to have attained as high a rate of speed as any machine driven only by leg power can reasonably hope for. If a hundred miles in six or eight hours is too slow for a self-propelled machine, men must resort to steam, coiled springs, caloric and compressed air or Keely for a faster motor.

The Greatest Blessing.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

Mr. Parnell has finally decided to sit for Cork. Mr. A. M. Sullivan will contest the seat for Meath. A large land meeting was held at Irishtown, county Mayo, on Saturday, at which Messrs. Parnell and Davitt delivered speeches.

During the last ten years 233 miles of street car rails have been laid in England and Wales, at a cost of nearly $15,000,000, exclusive of the outlay on horses, engines and cars.

The appointment of Cumberland and Sir Charles Dilke has completely upset the plans of the Parnellites, who counted upon a purely Whig Cabinet, and consequently expected aid from the malcontent Radicals.

At the enquiry before the Board of Trade into the Tay Bridge disaster Sir Thomas Bouch, civil engineer, according to whose plans the structure was erected, after giving a vast amount of technical particulars, gave it as his opinion that the disaster was caused by the wind capsizing the second-class carriage, which was exceptionally light, against the leeward girder of the bridge.

The Times, in approving of the appointment of Earl Cowper as Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, says the worst in Ireland seems to be over. The spring has been seasonable, and the promise of summer is excellent.

Prince Leopold leaves on May 13th, accompanied by Hon. Alec Yorke and Dr. Rhyl. He will first visit his sister at Ottawa, then follow a route including St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Washington, New York, and Newport. He will spend four months in America.

The Times understands that Beaconsfield, by Lord Lytton's desire, tendered the resignation of the latter to the Queen simultaneously with his own.

The Freeman's Journal says Parnell's land scheme could never be carried out save by revolution. No Parliament is likely to be elected for a generation that would consent to compel all landlords to sell.

In the Imperial Parliament, though the blind member, Prof. Fawcett, now has a Minister's portfolio, the House will miss its armless and legless member, Mr. Arthur MacMurrough Kavanagh, who was defeated in the county of Carlow.

In the last Imperial Parliament there were 118 lawyers. They are outnumbered in the present by eleven.

Hon. George Brown's Condition.

On Saturday night Mr. Brown enjoyed almost undisturbed sleep, and was strong in the morning. During Sunday there was no change, and the medical report in the evening was favourable.—Globe.

Mr. Brown enjoyed a refreshing, and almost undisturbed sleep on Saturday night. During Sunday, however, there was no perceptible change for the better in his condition. The reports from his medical attendants last night were, if anything, more favourable.—Mail.

TORONTO, May 2.—Hon. Geo. Brown's condition to-day is the subject of grave alarm to his friends. He has been in a high state of delirium all day, and can take hardly any nourishment. Delirium at this stage, with such an enfeebled constitution, is considered very alarming.

This Afternoon's Dispatches

UP TO THREE P.M.

TORONTO, May 3, 3 p. m. — Although Hon. Mr. Brown passed a very comfortable night his condition to-day is very serious. His medical attendant left his bedside at noon to-day. At that time he was very weak and unconscious. About 1.30 this afternoon Dr. Thorburn was again summoned to the house of his patient. A reporter questioned the doctor as to Mr. Brown's condition, and his reply was simply, "He is very, very low indeed."

From Quebec.

QUEBEC, May 3.—The steamship Quebec, of the Dominion line, arrived in port at 10:30 a. m.

There is no news so far of the steamship Polynesian.

From Montreal.

MONTREAL, May 3.—A lady named Chauinard, was found dead in her house on St. Paul street yesterday. There being some suspicious circumstances connected with her death, an inquest will be held on her remains.

The harbor is filling up fast with shipping. The first transatlantic steamship of the season has arrived.

From Ottawa.

OTTAWA, April 3.—H. R. H. the Princess Louise has rented a pew in Christ Church.

CUSTOMS DUTIES.—The duties collected on goods imported here during April amount to $5,935.13. In April last year they amounted to $1,679.27. The increase of $4,255.86 is accounted for by the fact that in February and March last year merchants purchased largely in outside markets in anticipation of the protective tariff, so that in April comparatively few goods were imported.

Several representatives of Antwerp firms are now in Montreal, and speak of the probable trade with that city this season in the exchange of wheat, oats, barley etc., for glass, liquors, etc. Last year the trade with Antwerp began by Montreal shipping 160,000 bushels of wheat, 321,000 bushels of rye, 46,000 bushels of oats, etc.

Local News.

AND now we have the balmy May days.

ARRIVAL OF IMMIGRANTS.—Three car loads of British immigrants, who arrived out by the steamship Prussian, passed through the city on Sunday over the Grand Trunk Railway. Two families comprising about a dozen members got off here and intend taking up their residence in Eramosa, where they have relatives living.

INLAND REVENUE RETURNS.—Following are the Inland Revenue Returns at this port for April:—Duty on Tobacco, $987.30; on Spirits, $4647.39; on Malt, $2521.48; Petroleum Inspection fees, $87.30—Total $8243.47. Total for April last year, $3392.48. Increase this year, $4850.99. The returns for April last year were small, owing to the fact that few goods were imported immediately after the introduction of the protective tariff.

UPPER CANADA BIBLE SOCIETY.—At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of this Society held on Friday evening last it was finally decided to hold the annual meeting at the place originally selected for the purpose—St. James's Square Presbyterian Church, Toronto. It will be remembered that a change was made to Shaftesbury Hall, and this is the result of a reconsideration of that decision.

THE WRONG PERSON.—It was stated last week that a lad named Stapleton was to be prosecuted for assaulting Andrew McLeod, the boy employed to impound cattle running at large, by throwing stones at him while discharging his duties. It was afterwards learned that Stapleton did not throw the stones, but that a boy named John Holloran was the guilty party.

BOGUS NOTES.—Bogus Dominion Bank one dollar notes are still in circulation. The points by which the bogus bills can be detected are: the paper is lighter, and has a greasy appearance; the red ink numbers are smaller, and ragged on the edges, as though printed with poor ink; the word "one" on the lower side of the bill has a daubed appearance; and the word "note" printed in small type immediately under the word "one" is spelled "noto."

TEESWATER CREAMERY.—The News says: Mr. J. T. Brill was in Teeswater on Wednesday. He has just returned from England, where he has made complete arrangements for the exportation of fine creamery butter. He ran three factories successfully in the past. This season he will also run the Teeswater Creamery, in which he has made large improvements. He has secured the milk of three thousand cows, and intends increasing the number next season, as the factory is capable of doing a much larger business.

LUSUS NATURÆ.—Some curious specimens of the feathered tribe came into existence in this city a few days ago. Mr. John G. Sutton, living on Northumberland street, is the owner of hens that have been doing something remarkable in the setting line. About three weeks ago, one hen brought out a clutch of chickens who strutted around comfortably with three web feet. Another hen, on Saturday last, has thrown hen No. 1 in the shade, and brought out a clutch of chickens one of which had four legs, well developed, two have grown out of the side which are a little shorter than the others. The chicks are doing well, and perambulating round the yard with as much ease as Blondin on his rope. What the next hen will do the neighbors are anxious to find out. Developments are awaited.

THE LIQUOR LAW AND LODGERS.—The Drayton New Era says:—"A case which came before the Palmerston magistrates last week shows that an alteration is needed in the Crooks' Act. John Alexander was charged with supplying liquor on Sunday, March 21, contrary to the statute. Richard Ashbury, who said he resided at Drayton, came to Palmerston on Saturday, March 20, at 8 p. m., and stayed at Alexander's till 12 at noon of the next day. During Sunday morning he was served with whiskey time and again. For the defence it was contended that Ashbury was a lodger and therefore could, under the Act, be supplied with liquor on Sunday. As there is no statutory definition of the word 'lodger,' the bench dismissed the case."

FIRE INQUEST IN NEW HAMBURG.—By request of the Wellington Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Dr. Vardon, of Galt, held an inquest on the 19th and 20th April, as to the cause of the fire which occurred at Hartleib's City Hotel, New Hamburg, on the night of Saturday, the 17th of April. The evidence went to show that the night in question, Hartleib and two others were in the hotel until about eleven o'clock; that they proposed going to another hotel in the village; that they left, Hartleib going back for a few minutes, then joining them and going with them to the hotel they intended to visit. That shortly after some parties passing the hotel saw smoke and flames coming out of the southeast corner window. They gave the alarm and after some time, with pails and the steam fire engine, the flames were subdued. An examination of the premises showed that the fire had apparently originated in five different places. The Coroner has reported the evidence to the Clerk of the Peace, and it remains with him to take further action if the evidence warrants doing so.

THE report to-day is that Mr. John Murphy is slightly improving.

LAGER BEER.—Three car loads of Sleeman's lager beer were shipped to different points this forenoon.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—Fresh to brisk South Westerly to South Easterly winds; partly cloudly, continued warm weather.

LIQUOR CASE.—The case in which Mrs. Soden is charged with selling liquor to an Indian, has again been adjourned for a month.

THE TRIGGER.—The first practice of the Guelph Rifle Association for the season takes place to-morrow at three in the afternoon.

THOMAS KENNY, who assaulted his father a few weeks ago, has not yet been arrested. He was seen last week in the vicinity of Rockwood.

DISORDERLY.—Thos. Woods was charged at the Police Court to-day with being disorderly last Saturday. He was fined $2 and $2.85 costs.

CONCERT AND TABLEAUX.—The entertainment given by Mrs. McCrea at Miss Whiteman's school, on Friday evening, in aid of St. Andrew's Church Ladies' Association was repeated on Saturday afternoon in the presence of a good gathering of children. The programme was well carried out to the delight of the audience.

MRS. T. CHARLES WATSON'S RECITATIONS AND READINGS.—We have to announce that this gifted and talented lady, purposes giving a most agreeable and instructive evening's entertainment on Friday, 7th May, in the City Hall. We ask all those interested in literature, to give their hearty support and presence on the evening of this lady's first appearance in Guelph.

Mr. Wm Wells, formerly of the Red Lion Hotel, has rented the "Clarkson House" in Barrie. The "Clarkson House" is one of the first hotels in that place Mr. Wells from his genial and obliging manner and business capacity, will make it even better than heretotore. He leaves here on Wednesday to take possession, and the good wishes of many friends will follow him.

THE LATE RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—The injuries Mr. John Simpson received by being thrown from his buggy on Wyndham street on Saturday, were such as to prevent his removal to his home in Nassagaweya. He is still at the house of Mr. Allan Simpson, Cork street, and lies in a very low condition. He experiences great pain, and has been delirious the greater part of the time since the accident.

EVANGELISTIC.—The Evangelistic services conducted yesterday in the Baptist church by the Rev. H. W. Brown, were very successful. Large numbers attended and all seemed much interested. About three hundred remained for the after meeting at which many requested prayer for friends and relatives yet unsaved. There is nothing of the sensational about Mr. Brown's preaching. He is an able and earnest minister of the gospel, preaching Christ crucified as the only ground of salvation. He laboured with Mr. Moody during the revival in Chicago, some three years ago, and had charge of the over-flow meetings. He comes highly recommended by such religious papers as the Canadian Baptist, Chicago Standard, and N. Y. Examiner, and by such men as the late Dr. Fyfe, of the Baptist College, Woodstock; and Dr. Boyd, author of the "World's Life." The meetings will be continued during this week in the Baptist church, beginning each evening at 7:30, and a bible reading at 3 p. m. each afternoon. All are cordially invited to attend.—Com.

LICENSED VICTUALLERS ASSOCIATION.—Judging from some discussion at a joint meeting of the members of the Licensed Victuallers' and Brewers' Association at Toronto last week, the brewers of that city apprehend with anything but satisfaction a competition in the sale of beer there with Mayor Sleeman. The meeting was called for the purpose of suppressing if possible the sale of liquor to unlicensed places. It was suggested that the Brewers' Association should bind the brewers of the Province not to sell to the unlicensed. It was pointed out that Mr Sleeman, of Guelph, had refused to join the association and purposed establishing an agency in Toronto for the sale of his beer. It was hinted that he would sell to unlicensed persons, but the statement was soon contradicted by one of those present. The truth is that the Toronto brewers are afraid to compete with Mayor Sleeman in Toronto, as his beer is of the best quality and he can deliver it at less cost than that provided for by the regulations of the Toronto Brewers Association. He is President of the Wellington Licensed Victuallers' Association, and to his knowledge has not the name of one unlicensed customer on his books.

Mr. Rosamond, of Almonte, proposes to utilize a water power and an old saw mill building in that place for the manufacture of worsted yarns. The requisite capital is said to be promised.

To such a disgraceful pitch was ghastly merry-making carried at Newgate, at Tyburn Tree, and other famous hanging places in England some years ago, that the scandal went far to put an end to public executions. The nearest approach to such a proceeding in Canada was the case of a man in the sister Province not long ago who proposed to get up an excursion to witness the execution of Costafloraz, the silk pedlar, in the Eastern Townships. But the carrying out of that idea was wisely prevented by the authorities.

PICTURESQUE CANADA.—Mr. Belden, of the Art Publishing Co. in Canada, is in the city, engaged in getting subscribers for a work with the above title, which will be a pictorial delineation, from pen and pencil, by the best writers and artists, of all the chief scenery in Canada. The Art Department is under special supervision of Mr. L. R. O'Brien, President of the Canadian Academy of Art, and he will be aided by a number of the best artists in Canada. The engravers employed are the best to be procured in England or America, and as they will do their work here, it will be the means of introducing artistic workmen into Canada, and pave the way for the establishment of a high class engraving as a permanent profession. The literary portion of the work has been assigned to the best historical and descriptive writers, who accompany the artists. The press work will also be done in Toronto, on presses specially procured for the work. As the paramount object of the publishers is to carry out a most important project in such manner as will secure the hearty response of all Canadians to an enterprise NATIONAL in its character, which will give to the world the best and only true delineation of our magnificent and varied scenery, together with pictorial renditions of the many places of the everyday life of our people, we trust that the publishers will receive every encouragement by securing a large number of subscribers. It will be published it parts, the first of which will be ready for delivery in the fall.

A Loosing Joke.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh said jokingly to a lady patent who was complaining of her continuing ill health, and of his inability to cure her, "try Hop Bitters!" The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

IMPORTANT REAPER AND MOWER SUITS.—Bills of complaint have lately been filed in the Court of Chancery by Messrs. Blake, Kerr, Boyd, & Cassels, solicitors for Messrs. Whitely, Fassler, & Kelly, of Springfield, and for the Toronto Reaper and Mower Company, against Mr. Glen and the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Company of Oshawa, to restrain the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Company from manufacturing and selling reaping and mowing machines infringing the patents of Messrs. Whitely & Co., and the Toronto Reaper and Mower Company.

SUICIDE BY A MADMAN.—Several days ago a farmer who lived in Oxford a short distance south of Woodstock, named George Wood, was brought before the Police Magistrate for attempting to murder his family. He told his wife in the morning that he had been thinking about it all night, and then procuring a hatchet he made the attempt on their lives, but was overcome by his wife and daughter. The Police Magistrate sent him to gaol, and on Saturday morning he snatched an old knife, dropped accidentally by a vagrant in custody, and cut his throat, dying in about two minutes. He was insane.

HANLAN AT WASHINGTON.—Hanlan arrived on Friday afternoon to prepare for his great race with Courtney, on May 19th, Courtney has not yet left Union Springs, where he is hard at work, nor will he probably, before the 10th instant. Hanlan has already begun his work on the water. He was out on the water twice on Saturday. He rowed down the river toward Alexandria about four miles, covering about eight miles in all, and in the evening he went over about the same distance. He was rowing in excellent form, with that long, easy stroke of his with its tremendous reach which is so deceptive to anyone watching him from the shore, and at times he seemed to be going very fast.

THE MURDER OF CONSTABLE GRAYBURN.—Colonel McLeod, of the North-West Mounted Police, in his report thus refers to the murder of Constable Grayburn:—There is no doubt but the foul deed was perpetrated by two Indians, but we have not been able to fix the guilt upon the murderers. I feel sure they will be discovered, as when they are across the line and think themselves safe they will be certain to say something about it which will lead to their detection, and the other Indians will be sure to let us know. I am confident that there was nothing in the act itself to lead to the belief that the Indians have changed in their feeling towards us, and that when the facts come out they will show that the atrocious crime was committed in revenge for some real or fancied injury done to the murderer or one of his family, not necessarily by a policeman, but by some white man. All his comrades mourned the sad fate of poor young Grayburn deeply, as he was a great favourite amongst us all.

The Payment of Bogus Claims.

The Government seem determined to pay a lot of old claims that were disallowed by the Mackenzie Administration. For instance, among the items that came up for discussion in the estimates was one to pay Mr. E. Miall a further sum of $500 for services rendered in connection with the fishery arbitration. Mr. Mackenzie objected to this claim as Mr. Miall had been paid by the late Government all that he was entitled to. He moved that the item be struck out, and a standing vote was taken. Following this item came one to pay Mr. J. G. Moylan (our readers will remember the Moylan charge) the sum of $300, balance of removal expenses from Toronto to Ottawa—an old claim of fifteen year's standing, and which successive Governments had refused to recognize. This was rather rubbing it in, and the item was, after a sharp discussion, allowed to stand. Mr. Mackenzie remarked that this session and last session the Government had paid a dozen of old bogus claims adjudicated upon by the late Government.

The Gladstone Government.

Now that the Gladstone Administration is complete we may expect it will settle down to work. Some little difficulty was experienced in satisfying the extreme Liberals, but it was at last amicably arranged. The N. Y. Tribune's London special says that Sir Charles Dilke politely, but peremptorily, declined the Under Secretaryship offered him by Mr. Gladstone. He refused absolutely to accept a subordinate post outside a Cabinet containing no representatives of the Radical wing of the party, and assured Mr. Gladstone that he and Mr. Chamberlain were acting in concert. After numerous consultations the Whigs saw the necessity of yielding, and Mr. Gladstone informed Sir Charles Dilke he accepted his terms, and would make Mr. Chamberlain President of the Board of Trade, provided he (Sir Charles Dilke) took the Under Secretaryship for Foreign Affairs. Sir Charles instantly agreed and Mr. Chamberlain was thereupon summoned and accepted. This destroys the hope that Parnell had of effecting an alliance with the English Radicals.

Austria seems to be the only foreign power which is greatly exercised about the new Government, caused no doubt by the plain speaking of Mr. Gladstone during the late contest. The securities of that country have been prejudicially affected in the stock market, and it is even yet said that the Austrian Ambassador at London will leave. We do not anticipate any rupture, however, and the recent utterances of Lord Derby on the questions at issue will have a quieting effect. He takes the sting out of Mr. Gladstone's rather incautious words by stating his belief that all existing treaties will be carried out, and by saying that "the formation of the Cabinet must not serve as a criterion of what we are to expect from the policy of England."

The Want of an Insolvent Law.

The Monetary Times says:—The beauties of being without an insolvent law are already commencing to show themselves. At Ottawa, the other day, a couple of creditors of a trader frightened him into selling out his business and paying over the proceeds to them, leaving the other creditors out in the cold. Something of the same kinds has been done in another case in Wroxter. In Orangeville a trader has been sold out by the sheriff at the instance of a brother-in-law, while the other creditors look on without any redress. And now we hear of another firm in difficulties, who when asked to assign their effects to a trustee for the benefit of their creditors, insist first on paying their neighbors in full. Some of these cases would have been remedied to a certain extent by the Creditors Relief Act if in force; other cases it will entirely fail to reach. It is evident this is only the beginning of sorrows; and it will be strange if by the end of a twelve month, this country does not wake up to a realization of the mistake that has been made by the total repeal of the Bankrupt law.

MONTREAL Star: Mr. Blake has the support of nine-tenths of the people (in the Pacific Railway matter) whether they express themselves or not, and it will be a wise thing for the Government to see in his amendment the little cloud which, if its warning be not heeded, shall yet gather into the mighty tornado that shall sweep them from power.

AN instance of the reckless and inexcusable expenditure of the people's money by the present Government is furnished by the Orillia Times. There are it seems nine Tory newspapers published in Simcoe county and all luxuriate at present in over a column of government advertisements about Pacific railway and Welland canal tenders. The Times places the cost of these advertisements at a trifle over five hundred dollars a month, but that is an under estimate; it will cost over a thousand dollars, because the advertisements run for two or three months. And the same thing is done in every county in the Dominion.

Robert Hay, son of Robert Hay, M. P., of the large furniture establishment, Toronto, died in the hospital on Saturday. He was 30 years of age. For years he had been leading a wild and dissipated life.

THE Sub Committee of Ways and Means in Congress are tinkering at the U. S. tariff, but it is doubtful if any change will be made.

BEFORE the Montreal Gazette begins to sympathize with Mr. Mackenzie it should withdraw its slanders advanced against him about the steel rails.

The Printing Committee have recommended that the contract of Messrs. McLean, Roger, & Co. be cancelled, and new tenders be immediately solicited. As the two Houses will not be in session when the tenders are received, the Speakers of the Senate and Commons are to be empowered to receive the same and award the contract.

A QUESTION has arisen whether the Ontario Creditors' Relief Act is constitutional, some lawyers alleging that it is ultra vires, while others think it will not prove satisfactory to creditors in its working. It is not probable any measure for the settlement of estates will be passed by the Dominion Parliament this session.

BRUCE Reporter:—Our contemporary intimates that the present member for South Bruce has less talent and more loyalty than the Hon. E. Blake, the late member. There is no room for debate on the question of "less talent," but the person who accuses Mr. Blake of disloyalty is nothing short of a snarling cur who sees everything yellow through a jaundiced eye.

THREE or four important appointments will be made immediately after prorogation, viz., two Supreme Court Judges (newly created) for the Province of British Columbia; one Supreme Court puisne Judge for Manitoba, vacated by death; and a Postal Inspector (newly created) for Manitoba and the North-West Territories. Mr. Ryan, M. P., for Marquette, in the Prairie Province, will be appointed to the latter position. Hon. Jas Cockburn, M. P.. has, it is said, been offered the puisne judgeship in Manitoba, with the promise of the Chief Justiceship subsequently, on the resignation of the present incumbent of the office. Mr. Cockburn is said to hesitate in accepting the proferred appointment because his present practice is large.

The editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, one of the chief supporters of the Beaconsfield Government, has quarrelled with the proprietor on the future policy of the paper and has left. He is succeeded by Henry Yates Thompson, a well known political economist. Mr. Greenwood, the late editor, intends to start a new paper in opposition to that journal.

The Clerical Scandal in Toronto.

The adjourned meeting to hear the answer of the pastor to the Special Committee appointed to wait upon him with the resolution of the church, passed on Friday evening, met in the school-room at seven o'clock on Saturday evening. Mr. Fraser in the chair. Mr. M. H. Irish read the following report on behalf of the Committee:—

Mr. Handford expressed his grateful pleasure on receiving the resolution so unanimously passed, declining to accept his his resignation, and said that the resignation expressed exactly his wishes, and that he did not regard it best to ask its withdrawal, but would leave the whole matter entirely in the hands of the Committee, with the wish and earnest desire that every effort would be made to elicit the truth concerning the rumours already before the public reflecting upon his character; and that he was too ill to attempt to fill his pulpit on Sunday.

The report of this Committee will probably be ready for submission on Wednesday next. Members of the church only will be examined regarding the charges against Mr. Handford; but there is a possibility that parties outside of the congregation will be invited to testify.

A moderately large audience assembled in the church on Sunday morning, but it was announced that there would be no service. After this intimation had been made Mr. Elgar stood up in the body of the church and said that he had had a lengthened interview with Mr. Handford, who he was now convinced had a complete answer to the calumnies which were in circulation concerning him. He felt assured that Mr. Handford would occupy the pulpit of the church next Sunday.

The License Question.

SIR,—The License Commissioners have acted wisely and well; 1st. In refusing to grant the new licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors that were applied for; 2ndly. In showing their disapproval of the manner in which the liquor traffic has been carried on in some hotels and shops; 3rdly. In expressing their determination to cause the conditions laid down in the Statute and By-law, having reference to licensed persons and places, to be honestly complied with. Such action on the part of the Commissioners will have the hearty endorsation of all persons who are really desirous of the prosperity and good name of Guelph, and the adjoining townships. If the Commissioner's firmly refuse to grant any new licenses, and withold licenses from hotels and shops that are not conducted in accordance with the requirements of the Statute and By-law, they may safely calculate to have the support of the law-abiding parties in the community. So thinks

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

Spring.

Once more thou comest, O delicious Spring!
And as thy light and gentle foot-steps heard
Breathest revival over everything.
Thy genial spirit is abroad to bring
The cold and faded into life and bloom;
Emblem of that which shall unlock the tomb.
And take away the fell destroyer's sting.
Therefore thou hast the warmer welcoming;
For Nature speaks not of herself alone,
But in her resurrection tells our own.
As from its grave comes forth the buried grain,
So man's frail body, in corruption sown,
In incorruption shall be raised again.

The Hamilton Provident and Loan Society.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Hamilton Times says:—In discussing Dr. Orton's bill in the Senate Senator Read, of Belleville, made a second coarse attack upon the Hamilton Provident & Loan Society, but this time he reckoned without his host. On the former occasion, the Senate was taken unawares, but the charges were such that several prominent Senators made a point of inquiring carefully into the facts. It appears that a money-lending friend of Senater Read's became second mortgagee of a property upon which the provident company, owing to an excessive valuation, and advanced a loan nearly equal to the market value of the land. For about a year and a half the mortgagor had the use of the money, and never attempted to repay a dollar of either principal or interest. The company then, to save themselves, advertised the property for sale, but only one bid, and that by the second mortgagee, at a figure less than the company's claim, was made for the place. Ultimately and after a great deal of trouble and expence the land was sold at an amount barely sufficient to save the company from loss. The second mortgagee, chagrined that the company refused his offer, concocted a cock and bull story about usurious interest and heavy lawyer's fees with which he stuffed the muddled brain of the egotistical and half-educated Senator from Belleville, who vented the alleged grievance in the Senate Chamber in the very coarsest terms. In reply to his second onslaught, Senators Miller and Hope gave the Belleville man a most unmerciful scathing, although it was admitted that it was nothing but his due. Senator Miller analyzed the lawyer's bill complained of and showed how Senator Read had clubbed with the fees about $150 of disbursements paid by the company. He further stated that during his experience as a lawyer he had never seen the legal proceedings attendant upon a mortgage sale accomplished at so little expense to the mortgagor. It is to be hoped that Senator Read will profit by the salutary lesson he has received.

Advice to Owners of Trout Streams.

The farmer who owns the land is the only person who can save trout fishing for us. He has the right of permitting or forbidding the sport on his premises. Few farmers realize this, and many who do realize it, out of kindness of their hearts, permit fishing to go on, though they inwardly do wish the boys would be a little tenderer with the fences. The fishing does go on and the finest streams are running out. A two-ounce trout is lord of a pool to-day that belongs to a two-pounder. It is not merely numbers, it is size. And, as we said before, it rests with the farmer to save the sport. First of all they ought to show a higher regard for the game laws, and be willing to prosecute those who net the trout. Go out into the country and talk with the residents, and they will tell you who net the fish out of the brooks with the same air of its being none of their business that a policeman exhibits in pointing out a "well-known" thief whom it does not occur to him to interfere with.

If the land owners would stop this practice they would do much to keep their streams from exhaustion. That is the first thing. If now besides this, they let it be known that the streams were theirs, and that to fish in them permission must be had, then another point would be gained. They need not charge so much a pound for the trout caught. They might make a charge for the privilege of fishing or they might not. At all events they would know who fished their brooks and when, and would be in position of proprietors. The State offers now to give 5,000 young trout free to whoever will take care of them. The man who has a stream and does not utilize this offer does not know a good thing when he sees it. In two years' time they would be worth $2,500 at the least, and would be less care than a brood of chickens. Get our brooks restocked and get the owners roused to the idea of keeping them stocked and of keeping unscrupulous poachers off from them, and we should not have to go to the Adirondacks or to Maine to catch trout.—Hartford Courant.

Word of a remarkable relic of barbarity comes from Mewton, New Jersey, when at the execution of a murderer named Crill, last week a brass band was in attendance and furnished music.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack us wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœpathic Chemists, London, Eng." n4dw9md

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A great deal has been written upon this delicate subject, and still there is great diversity of opinion as to what the ladies have a perfect right to say, do and think. There is not the slightest doubt, however, about the fact, that when a lady enters a drug store and asks for a bottle of Wilson's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, she ought to get it at once; and it is no part of a druggist's duty to undertake to convince a customer that they want something other than that they are asking for.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Wilson's Wild Cherry is the quickest and most reliable cure. It contains no Opium, and can be given with the same safety and effect to an infant of three months as to an adult person.

Sold by all druggists.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. Beware of imitations. d&w1yr.

A Dublin despatch to the Times says Parnell's great national land conference on Thursday is pronounced a signal failure. The room was not half full, although there was no restriction regarding admission. There were not more than 350 present, including eighteen members of Parliament. The names of the places from which the delegates came sufficiently indicate how little claim the conference had to the title of a representative assembly. Some of them are little more than obscure villages to which fictitious importance was given by connecting them with the high sounding name of National Land League. Some of the members represented local farmers' clubs. One came from Glasgow, three from London and one from Chicago. Letters of apology were read from several members of Parliament.

The first sensational scene in the new British Parliament occurred on Friday, when Mr. Charles Bradlaugh, the atheist, member for Northampton, was called upon to take the oath required from all members. Mr. Bradlaugh, on being conducted to the clerk's table to take the oath, refused to take it, and stated his reasons for so doing in very clear but moderate language. His words and manner impressed the House, and a motion was made that he should retire while the House took into consideration the new and perplexing problem. The opinion prevails that Mr. Bradlaugh's seat will be declared vacant and a new election be ordered. In this case, Mr. Bradlaugh will again stand for the borough and will probably be re-elected.

Nothing Wasted.

There is a beef packing company at Rockport, Arkansas county, Texas, owned and run by Boston men, who market for the products in the New England States, Europe and the English Navy. The factory kills an average of 31,500 grass-fed beeves a year, and find a ready market for their products. Every part of the beef is utilized, even to the tuft of the tails, which are all preserved and sold, it is thought, for the purpose of making ladies' frizzles. The blood flows into tanks and is dressed and sold at two cents a pound, for the manufacture of artificial fertilizers. The lean beef is boiled and canned in two pound cans. The hides are salted and sold green. The fatty matter is all extracted and goes to make tallow. The bones are all boiled to a pulp to extract their fatty matter, which goes to tallow, and the dry bone, mainly phosphate of lime, is sold for fertilizing, at one cent a pound. The water in which the meat is boiled, is boiled down and evaporated to a thick paste, which is canned and sold as extract of beef, in 50 lbs. cans. The feet are cut off at the knee, and from the hoof "neat's foot" oil is extracted. The horny part of the hoof, the shin bone and knuckle bones of the foot are extracted and sold in the East for the manufacture of Yankee ivory. The horns are piled up until the pith becomes loose, and then this is added to the fertilizers, and the horns sold for manufacture. Every atom of the animal is used.

Abe Cookley and Peter Luther have been arrested in Philadelphia for committing the great Manhattan Bank burglary in New York. They are clearly implicated by Janitor Shevilin's confession. Detectives have been tracking them for a year, finally discovering their hiding place in Philadelphia. They made a fierce resistance when arrested. All the members of the band are now arrested, excepting Jimmy Hope, who was at the head of the gang.

STORY OF A GLASGOW MAN.—Sir Thomas Munroe was born in Glasgow; he became such a man that George Canning said of him that Europe never produced a more accomplished statesman, nor India, so fertile in heroes, a more skilful soldier. When the General, after his long absence in India, returned to Glasgow, he paid a visit to an old schoolfellow who, while Munroe had pursued his work abroad, had followed his humbler calling of enlightening the world making candles in the old street in which both he and the General were born. "Well, Mr. Harvie," said Sir Thomas, as he entered the shop, "do you remember me?" Harvie gazed for some time at the tall, gaunt figure before him, striving to recall his features. At last he said "Are ye Millie Monroe?" "I'm just Millie Munroe," said the other, and then the two plunged into a long talk in which all the differences in social rank and occupation were buried in the memories of "Auld Langsyne." The nickname "Millie" came from the fact that, in those early days, he was the hero of the school; he had a proficiency in "milling," and was the hero of a hundred fights.

There is an uneasy feeling in Vienna over the Liberal victory in Great Britain, and every political move on the Continent is supposed to be in some way connected with the overthrow of Jingoism.

The Clerical Scandal Case in Toronto.

The Committee appointed to hear the complaints and charges against the Rev. T. W. Handford held their first meeting in the vestry of the Church on Monday night. Mr. Irish was appointed chairman. No reporters were admitted.

The meeting began at half-past seven and adjourned at one o'clock. At present no one appears to know what will be brought forward against Mr. Handford and Mr. Thompson. The Committee have not and do not intend to summon any person before them; in fact they have no power to do so. If any member of the congregation has any charges to make, the Committee will hear them, but they will not, for the present at least, hear any parties outside the Church. Such was the decision of the congregation at their meeting on Friday night, and on such understanding did the Committee enter on their work last night. The Committee agreed on a set of rules for their guidance, one of which is not to allow any evidence of a damaging character to be brought forward or affecting Mr. Handford's life and character before April, 1877, the date when he became pastor of Bond Street Church. Mr. Handford was not present at the meeting, being still indisposed. During the past week he has received two anonymous letters of a threatening character. One conveyed the startling intelligence that he would be assassinated before Saturday night last.

The 19th Light Infantry, a regiment which was actively engaged throught the whole campaign and participated in the bustling actions of Ulundi and Kambulo Kop, only lost nineteen men in action, and had forty wounded. It sent home forty-five invalids, and lost six men by disease. As it had just come out of the Transkei campaign the men were thoroughly seasoned. The third battalion of the 60th Rifles only went through part of the campaign, but in that time it lost thirty-eight men through sickness, and sent home 105 invalids.

CITY COUNCIL.

A Prolonged Discussion on Various Subjects.

Estimates for the year—The rate of Assessment two cents on the Dollar.

The City Council met on Monday evening; present—Mayor Sleeman, Ald. Lamprey, McMillan, Burns, Gowdy, McLagan Bruce, Tyson, Hewer, Fairbank, Robertson, McGuire, Stevenson, Doran, Chadwick, Coffee and Hart.

THE HULL FIRE.

Ald. Chadwick said he could not believe the minutes of the special meeting to be correct. He could not believe that the same gentlemen who voted against the grant to the Irish Relief Fund should have passed a grant to the sufferers by the Hull fire. He pointed out that the sum passed was proportionately larger than the other cities had given.

Ald. Bruce and Gowdy endorsed the action of the council in making the grant.

On motion of Ald. Stevenson and Doran the minutes of the special meeting were adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Mr. N. Higinbotham asked leave to make an excavation under the sidewalk on the north side of Macdonnell street where he was going to build an addition to his premises.

Ald. Chadwick and Hewer moved that the petition be granted, and that the excavation be made under the supervision of the Board of Works, in such a way as to meet with their approval.

Mrs. Charters asked the city to support three children left on her hands.

The city Solicitors wrote, stating that the cause of Barclay vs. Guelph was set down for hearing at the Chancery Court which opens here on the 25th May, and asking instructions as to how to proceed in the case.

A communication was read from the Water Commissioners stating that they had expended the $16,000 of the money raised by the $25,000 Water Works debenture by-law, and asked that the remaining $9,000 be placed to their credit.

HALL V. GUELPH.

A communication was read from Messrs. Guthrie, Watt and Cutten, showing that the balance of a verdict in this case due the plaintiff for services as valuator of County buildings was $125.85.

BARCLAY V. GUELPH.

Ald. Bruce stated that Mr. Barclay had threatened to bring this suit last year. The Board of Works then tried to make a settlement with him, but he would never state his terms. The claim was for damage to a lot on Gordon street by reason of a stream of filthy water which ran through it. If Mr. Barclay was awarded damages the other property owners through whose premises the water flowed, could put in similar claims.

Ald. Stevenson said the stream at present flowed in its regular course and had flowed in the same course when Mr. Barclay bought the lot. Last year the Board of Works and Solicitors did everything in their power to come to an agreement with Mr. Barclay, but without success.

Ald. Tyson said one great objection Mr. Barclay had to the stream was that the water was poisoned and unfit for cattle to drink.

Ald. Chadwick sold the lot in question to Mr. Barclay. The drain ran through it then.

Ald. Bruce said last year the Council decided to establish the justice of the claim by a decision in court. Mr. Barclay had made two propositions by way of settlement. He wanted the city either to build a covered drain through his property, or to divert the stream from its present course into the river.

Ald. McLagan advised as the best way of settling the matter, to buy Mr. Barclay's lots. The city would probably require them some time in the future, and they might not cost more than a law suit.

Ald. MacMillan was not favorable to settling the question by litigation until every other proper means had been resorted to.

Ald. McLagan and Gowdy moved that the matter in dispute between the corporation and Mr. Barclay be referred to the Board of Works for final settlement, if they deem it advisable.

Ald. Hart considered that if Mr. Barclay was settled with, that would only be a reason why others who had perhaps equal claims with him should also enter claims.

The resolution was carried.

THE WATER WORKS.

Ald. McLagan understood that it was distinctly stated at the last public meeting on the Water Works By-law question, that an advance of $16,000 on the $25,000 was to make an extension of the works along Yarmouth street, besides paying the contracts then let. He wanted to know if the money had done this, or if the Commissioners had broken faith with the people.

The Mayor said that at that time $16,000 worth of contracts had been let.

Ald. Gowdy was surprised at the request of the Commissioners for the balance of the funds raised by the Water Works By-law, and the statement that they had expended the $16,000. He understood that sum was to complete the works besides paying the contracts, and he had been privately and publicly assured that it would do so.

Ald. McGuire and Stevenson moved, that before the petition of the Water Commissioners be granted they be requested to prepare a statement of their receipts and expenditures for the information of the Council.—Carried.

PETITIONS.
