

FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Deals With the Troubles of the Electrical Workers.

Evidently Much Bad Feeling—Is Settlement in Sight?

Mr. Gompers and the Strike of N. Y. Shirt Workers.

(Special Wire to the Times.) Toronto, Ont., Nov. 17.—The committee on laws of the American Federation of Labor, who were deputed to settle the McNulty and Reid factions, the warring factions among the electrical workers, presented its report to the convention at Massey Hall this morning, and it appears that settlement of the two-year fight is at last in sight. The committee's report was read by Delegate John B. Lennox. The committee suggests that President Gompers be empowered to name a representative, McNulty a second, J. J. Reid a third, the appointments to be made immediately, and neither of them to be electrical workers, in developing and effecting a final amalgamation into one brotherhood. The committee of three is to have power to interpret the Denver agreement in order to bring about unity, and if found necessary to effect a final and complete settlement. The action of the joint convention shall be final and binding on all parties, and amalgamation shall take place at the convention. The committee of three is to report to the executive at the close of the present convention.

"They violated the terms of other agreements; I want to know if they are going to abide by the terms of a new one?" said Mr. McNulty. "I am going to abide by the terms of that report, and if I don't then I ask that at the next convention no one from my side be allowed to take his seat."

"Mr. Reid is here; let him say what position he is going to take," said Dennis Driscoll, of Boston. James Lynch objected to either side being allowed to go into the merits of the case. If they are allowed to fly at each other's throats then they will be further aside than ever before. "Let Mr. Reid give an answer, yes or no, to whether his side will abide by the committee's report." "I feel very strongly in the matter," said Mr. Gompers, "and I don't want one word said on either side if it can be avoided. I am in favor of this report, but unless there is some earnest endeavor on both sides to have it carried out, I will vote against it. (Applause.) We must have something besides this air to build upon, and I am exceedingly sorry that Mr. McNulty began a discussion of the merits of his side of the case. If this convention adopts the resolution which guarantee is there that it will be carried out? Both sides signed the Denver agreement, and it is patent to everyone that that agreement has been violated. Let us be asked to reaffirm that agreement. I do not want either side to air its views, but I want to know if both sides are going to stand on their honor, pledged to carry out the terms of this resolution."

President Gompers then moved a resolution, which was unanimously carried, that Mr. Reid be called upon to state whether the electrical workers he represents will abide by the terms of the resolution.

"Not only will we be in honor bound to carry out the terms of that resolution," said Mr. Reid, "but we will give bonds to the Executive Council to that effect."

"Good," exclaimed President Gompers, while everybody clapped. The convention was then asked to carry the report of the committee, which was done without a dissenting voice, amid cheers and hand clapping. The action taken is considered a victory for the Reid faction, to which the electrical workers in Canada are affiliated.

GOMPERS WILL HELP. New York, Nov. 17.—The Tribune today says: President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, will lend first hand assistance to the 40,000 shirt waist makers of the local union in their forthcoming strike, according to the announcement of B. Witaskin, general organizer of the union. Mr. Witaskin says the labor leader has agreed to preside at a meeting of the union to be held at Cooper Union next Monday night for the purpose of deciding on a date for the strike, and afterwards to take active charge of the strike.

The convention of the American Federation of Labor in Toronto comes to an end Saturday, and Mr. Gompers has until Friday night to file his appeal with the United States Supreme Court against the decision sentencing him with Mitchell and Morrison to imprisonment.

"Whether Mr. Gompers is here or not," said the general organizer, "the strike will be declared. The tone of his telegram, however, gives me reason to believe that he expects no hitch in filing his appeal. We have formed a strong union in Philadelphia, and have not the slightest doubt that the Philadelphia waist makers will join the strike."

YACHT WRECKED.

New York, Nov. 17.—Eugene Higgins' yacht, the Varuna, lies today a total wreck on the northwest coast of the Island of Madeira. While the vessel is pounding in a storm on a rocky shore and is reported as likely to break up at any moment, all on board of her, with possibly one exception, have been saved.

LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT.

Baltimore, Nov. 17.—The laymen's missionary movement for the evangelization of the world, which began its Baltimore convention with a big banquet at the Fifth Regiment armory last night, continued its sessions today at Alhambra's Lyceum Theatre.

DOMESTIC PRELATE.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Rev. Thomas J. Stebbins, pastor of the Catholic University of America, was just received from Rome on the coast, brief creature of the rank of Cardinal.

P. D. C. RERAR, K.C., Re-elected President of the Liberal Association of Hamilton.

DR. WALLIS MADE CHOICE.

Pastor at Caledonia Will Go to Drummond Hill.

At the adjourned meeting of the Hamilton Presbytery, held yesterday in Knox Church Sunday School room, two calls to Rev. Dr. Wallis, Caledonia, were considered, one from the congregation of Lachine, in the Montreal Presbytery, and the other from the congregation of Drummond Hill in the Hamilton Presbytery. Rev. D. R. Drummond addressed the court on behalf of the Montreal Presbytery in prosecution of the call from Lachine. Rev. Dr. Smith, St. Catharines, and Mrs. John Bobbie pleaded for the translation of Dr. Wallis to Drummond Hill. Messrs. James McGregor, L. MacClung and William Bell, commissioners from the Caledonia congregation, expressed great appreciation of the good work done by Dr. Wallis during his pastorate of seven years, and deeply regretted the prospect of losing him, but wished him success wherever he would labor. The calls were then placed in the hands of Dr. Wallis, who signified his acceptance of the call from Drummond Hill. It was agreed to grant the translation to take effect at the close of this month. Although the offer from Lachine included a salary of $1,200 and a free manse, Dr. Wallis accepted the smaller offer of Drummond Hill, it being $1,000 salary and a manse.

Rev. D. G. McPhail was appointed to act as interim-moderator of the Caledonia Church, and to declare the charge vacant on the last Sunday of this month. The induction of Dr. Wallis will take place in Drummond Hill Church on December 2 at 8 p. m. Rev. Dr. Smith will preside; Rev. R. A. McIntyre will preach; Rev. Dr. Ross will address the minister and Rev. Dr. Ratcliffe the congregation.

ALD. CHARLES W. GARDNER, First Vice-President of East, Liberal Association.

ST. GILES' MEN.

W. H. Wardrope, K. C., Spoke on Oliver Cromwell.

The Guild of St. Giles' Presbyterian Church resumed its meetings for the winter last evening. After the regular business was disposed of, Mr. W. H. Wardrope, K. C., gave a brilliant and masterly address on "The Life and Times of Oliver Cromwell." Mr. Wardrope painted admirably Cromwell's boyhood, and gave a keen analysis of English political and social life during the reigns of the first Stuarts. After contrasting the characters of the Royalist and Puritan parties, the speaker showed that the strength of the latter lay in their dependence on God.

Oliver Cromwell changed English history and made modern democratic government possible. He was great as a citizen, a soldier and an administrator. But he was not ambitious in the ordinary sense of the word, because he was a sincere Christian, working for the country he loved. At the conclusion of the speech Mr. Wardrope was heartily applauded and thanked. He was also made an honorary member of the guild.

The meeting closed with the serving of light refreshments. The next meeting will be in two weeks, when the election of officers for the coming year will take place.

FOR DIVORCE.

W. J. Brazier Said His Wife Was In Hamilton.

Detroit, Nov. 17.—(Special)—A divorce case came before Judge Mendell yesterday in which William James Brazier petitioned for a decree of separation from his wife. Brazier said he did not know the whereabouts of Tena Brazier, whereas in his petition for an order of publication, he had said she was in Hamilton, Ont. He charged her with desertion. The case was continued, and another notice by publication ordered.

Fatal Cave-In

Woodbury, N. J., Nov. 17.—John Wallace and Joseph Cutler were killed and Horace Kercher, a boy, was probably fatally injured yesterday by the collapse of a gravel bank near here. The three were working in a tunnel when it caved in. Kercher, who was buried up to his neck, had both legs broken and internal injuries, which will probably result in his death.

SUIT FOR ALIMONY.

A writ has been issued in the High Court by S. F. Washington, K.C., acting for Mary Fonger against her husband, Charles Wesley Fonger, for alimony. The plaintiff's claim is that her husband treated her cruelly and they were unable to live together, so she came to the city to reside. The defendant has ceased to support her.

The Man in Overalls

P. D. Crerar, Joseph Kirkpatrick, Charles W. Gardner, John Lennox, Arthur O'Heir. Look to me like a winning hand.

That Liberal meeting was all right. No trouble, no dissension, no quarrelling, nobody kicking, no one with a grouch. Everybody happy.

We've just got to win the next bout. Like other crowned heads, John Milne is threatened with dethronement.

"I never thought I should live to see the day that I would feel like cheering for Sir Wilfrid Laurier," said an Orangeman to me yesterday. "But I felt like it when I read that speech of his last night on the Canadian navy. It was one Sir John A. Macdonald might have made." Yes, Sir Wilfrid is quite a Britisher himself.

But Gompers is not yet in jail. Not by a jugful.

If the city looked clean and beautiful last May, just imagine what the spring flowering bulbs are going to make it in May, 1910.

The revolt in the local Tory ranks is almost as bad as the "nest of traitors" down at Ottawa.

Keep the hens warm and clean and give them plenty of work to do and plenty of fresh air and they will reward you with lots of eggs. So I am told.

But is there room in the Central Prison for all those vagabonds? Why not deport the United States variety?

It would break John Milne's heart to be reduced to the ranks. Still, he ought to be content to carry a torch in the procession just like the rest of the boys.

When compared with the Glasgow students' riots, the Toronto students' disturbances are mere child's play.

Yes, King and James are dark at night, and look at the Market square, as dark as Bullock's Corners.

Wouldn't it be awful if the Mayor should succeed today in getting better terms for the city from the Hydro-Electric Commission? It would just be like the wretch.

By the way, in some quarters it seems to be the proper caper to hold up money.

ARTHUR O'HEIR, Second Vice-President for East, Liberal Association.

men and show men to the laughter of the common crowd.

If Mr. Gompers goes to prison he will have more sense than the suffragettes and not need to be fed through a tube.

To a man up a tree Mr. Barker looks suspiciously like a Little Canadian.

Next time the Mayor wants a deputation to go down to Toronto with him he better get the Herald to pick out the aldermen. That would seem to be the only way to please it.

Even his enemies admit that Laurier's naval speech was a great one, full of patriotic fire and fervor. (Cheers.)

A Toronto man tells me that the "new schedule" of Cataract lighting rates which the Hamilton Herald daily raves about, is very much like the plan of Toronto municipal-Hydro people. Toronto proposes to charge 10 cents a light, or "fixed charge" on which the uncandid Herald rings the changes.

The Mayor, might, perhaps, have satisfied the Herald by appointing its boss, T. J. Stewart, as a committee of one to confer with the Hydro-Electric Commission.

When houses take fire at the Beach in the winter time they have just got to burn down. The water is turned off at the end of summer and the people have to take chances after that.

Joseph Kirkpatrick must stand high in the estimation of the Hamilton Liberals when no one would oppose him for the First Vice-Presidency of West Hamilton. He was the unanimous choice, and deserved to be.

Another improvement would be moving sidewalks in the business section of the city, with bath chairs for those with sore feet.

CHARITY AND CORRECTION.

City Will Support Plan to Appoint Commission.

Relief Officer Points Out Great Cause of Trouble.

City Has Power to Build Sewers in the Annex.

A scheme to get the Ontario Government to appoint a commission for the purpose of investigating charity and correction methods in the Province, with a view to exacting more advanced legislation covering deserting husbands, lax marriage laws and other phases of the question, will receive Hamilton's hearty support. Correspondence has already been opened up with one of the Cabinet Ministers and it is expected that something definite will be done at the coming session of the Legislature. Relief Officer McMenemy declared today that the conditions which permitted unmarried men and women to live as men and wives are responsible for half the misery and suffering which charitable workers see every day. As an illustration, he referred to an appeal made to him today by a married woman, who has been living with another man for twelve years. They have eight children, the youngest a baby only a few weeks old. The man has frequently been in court and the police are well aware of the conditions under which the pair live, but are powerless to do anything. Mr. McMenemy says this is only one of many such cases.

The necessity of submitting a by-law to the ratepayers in January to vote money for building the sewer system in the newly annexed district is avoided by a clause in the annexation order, which authorizes the city to issue debentures. The work will cost about $125,000. The city now has men at work taking levels.

The city has a man supervising the laying of the cement walks in the annexed district. The Board of Works officials say they are still in the dark as to how many more walks the contractor is to lay under his contract with Barton township.

Mayor McLaren today denied that the Police Commissioners had held any secret meeting to discuss the building of the east end police station. His Worship points out that the Board was committed to the building of the new station a year ago, and the delay was simply a matter of choosing the site.

A special committee dealing with the standardization of equipment reported at yesterday's meeting of engineers, representing the twelve municipalities in the Niagara Power Union, in favor of the adoption of a luminous arc lamp in business districts and a similar type of Tungsten incandescent lamp for use in the residential districts, the latter to be placed from 125 to 150 feet apart to overcome any interference of trees.

The Provincial Secretary's Department has notified Assessment Commissioner Macleod that the special committee appointed at the last session of the Legislature to consider the proposed amendments to the Assessment Act will meet on Nov. 23 at 10 o'clock in the morning. The Assessment Commissioners of the Province have been invited to attend.

Mayor McLaren, Ald. Lees, Juttner, Percigne, City Solicitor Waddell and City Engineer Maclellan are in Toronto today interviewing the Hydro Commission.

The following building permits were issued today: H. Dunham, three frame houses on Campbell avenue, near Ottawa street, for the Robbins Realty Company, $1,200.

B. Woodhall, brick house on Helton avenue, between King and Main streets, $2,400.

H. Dunham, four frame houses on Agnes street, between Argyle and Robinson avenues, $2,000.

Ald. Robson was acting Mayor today.

The City Hall flag was half-masted today as a tribute to ex-Ald. Peter Bayne.

School Trouble

Paris, Nov. 17.—Advancing another step in their campaign against the public schools, the Catholic clergy today put under the ban another school at Grenoble, where the teacher had pronounced the warning against the use of interdicted text books. The Combsists advocate retaliation by an official inspection of Catholic text books, which they claim teach opposition to the republican principles of liberty.

WHO OWNS THESE?

Last evening at 5:45 the ambulance was called to the corner of Victoria avenue and Wilson street, where it was said a lady was lying on the sidewalk. No sick lady could be found, but a basket containing some dishes, provisions and clothes pins was found. The owner is asked to call for the basket and contents at the City Hall police office.

This Dog Was Intelligent.

Sold at Parke & Parke's, druggists, 17, 18, 19 and 20 Market square; 24 and 26 Macnab street.

FOUR FINED TWENTY EACH

For Trapping Muskrats During the Close Season.

Question of Jurisdiction Raised After the Trial.

Defendants Subsequently Pled Guilty and Paid Fines.

Thomas Brem, Vernon Simons and Frederick Brem, all of West Flamboro, were fined $20 each and costs by Police Magistrate Jeffs today, for trapping muskrats out of season.

Fishery Inspector Kerr and County Constable Balton laid the information, and applied for summonses.

The officers told of going to the homes of the young men and finding no less than 77 muskrat skins.

The defence was that they had caught the rats in traps set for mink, and one defendant said that in catching 16 minks 36 rats had been caught in the traps.

W. E. S. Knowles, of Dundas, counsel for the defence, after all the evidence had been heard, contended that the trying of the case was beyond Magistrate Jeffs' jurisdiction, as three witnesses for the defence had sworn their place of residence was over 10 miles from the city.

His Worship submitted that the fact of Mr. Knowles going on with the case overruled the objection. He also pointed out that no evidence had been submitted to show that the distance was over 10 miles.

J. L. Farmer, for the prosecution, contended His Worship had full power to try the case, and the question of being beyond his jurisdiction was no ground for objection, as his interpretation of the statute was that any Magistrate could try the cases.

Mr. Knowles argued in vain and finally said he would appeal the case. The Magistrate told counsel for the defence he had no grounds for appeal.

Mr. Knowles intimated that is His Worship would not fix recognizances he would apply to a Magistrate who would.

Cecil Simons was to have been tried today for a similar offence, but by an error in making out the summons the date was put in as the 27th instead of the 17th for Simons to appear. Though all the witnesses for and against were in court ready to go on, Mr. Knowles decided to wait until the 27th.

After Police Court Mr. Knowles called at Magistrate Jeffs' office with his clients, Cecil Simons included, and each defendant pleaded guilty and paid his fine.

THE NEW CANADA.

In connection with the Simco Street Church anniversary an entertainment was given last evening, Frank Veigh, of Toronto, giving an illustrated talk on "The New Canada." He showed a number of fine slides of Canadian scenes from Halifax to Vancouver.

Mr. W. W. Main presided, and during the evening the audience sang "O Canada."

NOT AGAINST HER FATHER.

Magistrate Would Not Allow Daughter to be Sworn.

But George King Must Keep Peace in Future.

Old Donald Grant Should be Provided For.

Off, in the still night for 12 years past, George King has "welled and peiled" at the windows and doors of his daughter-in-law's house, according to the story she told in Police Court this morning.

He was charged with being drunk and disorderly and with threatening. The police were called to the place last night and P. C. Fickett and Pettit found King in a belligerent state. This morning he had not recovered from the effects of last night's doings, for he shook visibly.

Mrs. King, the complainant, said for 12 years past her aged father-in-law had been a source of annoyance, and always arranged his calls when Mr. King, jun., was out.

During all the time Mrs. King was giving her evidence defendant repeatedly wished to inform the court what colossal prevarication was being perpetrated by complainant.

"Your own people wouldn't say that if you didn't do something," said his Worship to defendant. King said he was terribly surprised at the prosecution; then he became sorrowful and said, "Have mercy on me; have mercy on me this once, your Worship, and I'll be all right from now for ever more."

The Magistrate bound him over in the sum of $50 to keep the peace, with orders to keep away from his daughter-in-law's house.

Defendant's own daughter was called to the stand, but his Worship would not allow her to swear against her father; he is always against such a course.

Ralph Rufus was disorderly on Monday night; the court ruled that he created a disturbance at Mrs. Chapman's house on that night, and he was fined $1.

Complainant said that Rufus went to her house at the precise hour of midnight, hammered at the door, and obligingly offered to break her nose if she would come down, or, if she declined, her husband could be accommodated.

"Did you use bad language to defendant?" asked A. M. Lewis, for the defence, of Mrs. Chapman.

"Indeed, I didn't; I never use bad language unless somebody makes me; and then I don't use it," was the quick retort.

Donald Grant, an old deaf man, was arraigned for being drunk yesterday, but he said he was not. He admitted applying to the police for accommodation, as he had no home or money. He was fined $2. The poor old fellow is incapable of looking after himself. He has been up repeatedly lately, and it would be a charitable act on the part of the city to take care of him.

THE STORM

Very Violent But No Great Damage Was Done.

Although the storm last night was very violent, on account of the direction of the wind, very little damage was done. It was at first thought that the cottages and shacks on the Beach would fare badly as the wind was blowing south by west, but so far as can be learned they escaped undamaged. The water was very turbulent but the boat houses at the Beach were not damaged, which was partly due to the low water this fall. The wind was travelling about 60 miles an hour.

In the city the only damage that was done was the crossing of some electric light wires which brightly illuminated certain parts of the city and startled a good many householders.

The wires which became crossed were the feed wires of No. 17 circuit, which runs through the centre of the city and up to the east end mountain top. After a few bright flashes the lights went out and left that circuit in darkness. The damage was repaired this morning.

The bay front escaped undamaged on account of the direction of the wind.

C. O. F. VISIT.

Nearly 100 Members Went to Brantford Last Night.

Nearly one hundred members and guests of Court Canada, Canadian Order of Foresters, were entertained last evening in Brantford by Court Telephone City. The party left Hamilton on a special B. and H. car, and were met at the station by the members of the lodge and all marched to the C. O. F. hall. The principal entertainment of the evening was a mock trial, which provided much laughter and excitement. An impromptu musical programme was given, after which light refreshments were served. Brief addresses were given by Joseph Greenfield, David Allen, Jas. Gadsby, D. R. Wood and others. After passing a hearty vote of thanks for the delightful time spent the party left at 12:30 and arrived in the city at 1 o'clock this morning, making a record run of thirty minutes.

Among the guests who accompanied the party were David Allen (Grimaby), High Vice-Chief Ranger; James Gadsby, District Deputy High Chief-Ranger, and fifteen prominent members from Stoney Creek.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of Geo. Willcock, George O. Elder, Herbert Smith and G. B. Bittenberg.

A Spanish Beauty

"Dearest mamma! how wildly you talk! Papa never in his life spoke to me of marrying any one."

"No, but he soon will; I know it. If you love one another--and I know you do not--you can esteem and respect the man of his choice, very well; I will not interfere. But if he attempts to coerce you, to compel you, then come to me, and I will show him that neither he nor any man alive shall force my daughter."

The glitter was black in her eyes; her thin hands clinched; the old, fierce spirit was far from dead. Lady Evelyn asked no question.

"Very well, mamma," she said, quietly; "I will obey you. I will marry no man I dislike, believe that. And now it is very late, far too late for you. Let me ring for your maid, and see you safely in bed. Here is your picture."

"I have another for you. Hand me that writing case; thanks. It is larger than this. It may fall into other hands. You will keep it and cherish it for my sake, and for the sake of the dead?"

"Yes, mamma."

She took the picture. It was an oval miniature on ivory, very beautiful, and a perfect likeness of gold-haired, azure-eyed, fair-faced Roderick Desmond.

"It shall be one of my treasures, dearest mother. Another time we will talk over this sad, terrible story you have told me; it is too late now. Here is Delphine. Good night, sweetest mother, and pleasant dreams."

She kissed her lingeringly, fondly, and hastened from the room. Her own apartments were brightly lighted and luxuriously furnished. She sat down at her dressing table, and she looked at the picture of Roderick Desmond.

"Murdered!" she thought; "and so young, so noble, so wondrously handsome! What a terrible fate! Poor, poor mamma! what bitter suffering she has known! How very dearly she loved this handsome Lord Roderick! Shall I ever love any one like that? I wonder? Am I heartless, as they say, or is my time yet to come? Perhaps if I saw a living face like this, I too might yield to the spell of its beauty; but I much prefer love as a mode to these fierce, powerful passions. What would mamma mean by all these wild hints of suspected murderers and compulsory marriages? Poor mamma! I begin to fear that brooding over the past is affecting her brain."

CHAPTER VII.
The tramp who had waylaid Lady Evelyn Desmond passed that stormy night in the shelter of the gypsy camp. He fraternized with these dusky thieves and prophets, partook of their savory supper, and slept beneath their canvas canopy in security.

"I don't mind staying with you for a bit," he said to Pharo. "You likely to remain in this neighborhood for some days, and I prefer lodging in your tents, my friend, to putting up at the Prince's Feathers, below. I'm as poor a fellow as ever walked now, but I'll have a pocketful of sovereigns before the sun sets to-morrow."

"Will you, brother?" said the tall gypsy, rather sullenly. "Where will you get them? Sovereigns don't grow on the bushes like blackberries hereabouts."

The tramp nodded his head sagaciously as he lighted a grimy little pipe at the glowing coals.

the gentle folk riding away, and come in to rest a bit. I suppose your house-keeper won't turn a poor chap away when she hears Lady Evelyn Desmond told him to come."

"He?" cried the under-gardener; "what? Lady Evelyn Desmond told you to come, did she? Blessed if you ain't a cool and at the business, you are! Who did Lady Evelyn Desmond come to me to 'ave the honor of your acquaintance, my Marks of Tatters and Rags?"

"Look here," said the tramp; "do you know this? Perhaps it will put an end to your chaffing."

He drew from his bosom the dirty remnant of a red handkerchief, unfolded it gingerly, and produced a rich ring. "Look at this, Mr. Gardener," he said. "See them sparklers? It's worth a year of your wages, I'll lay a button. Look at that name inside, supposing your education hasn't been neglected, and tell me whose it is."

"Evelyn Luce Desmond," slowly read the under-gardener. "Blowed if it ain't I say, my man, you 'aven't stole nothing lately, 'ave you? You'd better look at this, my good fellow. I repeat, Lady Evelyn gave me this ring off her own fair finger, with her own fair hands, yesterday, and told me, with her own beautiful lips, to come here to-day. Now, then, my covey, what do you think of that?"

He scoted himself deliberately on a rustic bench, as he asked the question, and leered knowingly up in the gaping gardener's face.

"Blessed if I know what to think!" responded that functionary. "It's the rummest go I've heard on, lately, and that's the rummest chap I ever met. But how you came by it is another question. You don't look the sort of good-looking young ladies and heads' daughters give 'em rings to, blowed if you do! Howsumever, it's no affair of mine."

"They've gone hunting, eh?" asked the tramp.

The gardener nodded and returned to his work.

"They're coming back here to dinner, I suppose?"

"You'll better ask Mrs. Lawson that, my man. I ain't the 'ousekeeper."

"Well," said the unknown, "I'll hang here anyhow, and see. I promised the young lady I'd come to-day, and it don't do to disappoint the ladies. You wouldn't mind giving a poor fellow a bit of dinner in the servants' hall, would you?"

"Yes, I would," answered the under-gardener, very decidedly. "It would be as much as my place is worth. I don't know nothin' about you, and what's more, I don't want to. I can't like your looks, Mr. Tramp. You may 'ave an eye to the plate, for what I know. Go round to the servants' offices at twelve o'clock, and ask for a slice of cold beef and a mug of home-brewed, and you'll get it, very likely, and don't you worry me with your questions any more."

The under-gardener turned doggedly away to his work, leaving the tramp to it but to prow and wait until evening for the return of the earl's daughter.

WOMEN'S VOTES

Mrs. Pankhurst Lectures in a Rochester Theatre.

She Speaks on the Struggles of the Suffragettes.

Rochesterians have seen a suffragette, nay, the chief suffragette, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, first Amazon of them all. She is a slight, graceful woman and looks more as though she could play "Alice Sit by the Fire" than heard a premier in his lair. But, when she talks and becomes wrapped up in her subject then the dynamic nerve force which has made gentlemen a terror to Downing street asserts itself.

It was a curious, inquiring audience which listened to the Englishwoman at Baker Theatre last night. They wanted to know what the suffragette movement meant, what it had attained, and whether its methods were as black as the newspapers had painted them. These questions Mrs. Pankhurst dealt with in a quiet, logical manner that compelled attention.

Why, in the first place, did the upholders of the woman's suffrage cause desert their old ways. Mrs. Pankhurst said it was because, at the end of fifty years, after being made fair in the eyes of Liberals, Conservatives, Laborites, Socialists and the rest, they found that their cause was not "practical politics."

The press had boycotted them; woman's suffrage did not interest its readers; statesmen listened to them with bored indifference and reserved their serious attention for people who had votes.

The women recognized that they must break up this indifference. It is a time to know what the beginning of the election campaign, they told the party leaders that, if they could not do the "clean work of politics"-exercise the franchise, that is to say, they would not do the "dirty work" of politics; they would not go and canvass for votes for men, bring voters to the poll on election days, and so forth. More than that, they began to "heckle" Cabinet members in public meetings.

"It is a time in favor of woman's suffrage," she said, "but it is a time to place questions of the speakers in political meetings. But what did the women find when they attempted to do it? Their questions were not answered and the questioners were roughly hustled into the street. That was because their questions had become unpleasantly specific. They no longer asked, 'Are you in favor of woman's suffrage?' but they asked to point-blank, 'When will you give women the vote?'

That was more difficult to answer and the politicians found it convenient to dodge the issue. But women persevered. In spite of rough treatment, they reiterated their questions. Then it was decided to admit no woman to political gatherings who would not sign a pledge not to interrupt. Women hid in halls and theatres for twenty-four hours before the meeting. Then they started opposition meetings in the open streets. Finally the halls had to be barricaded to keep them at a distance, and on one occasion the people of England rejoiced in the spectacle of a Prime Minister escaping from women down a parcels delivery tube.

WHAT WOMEN SUFFER.

Woman in England does not own the economies she may make on the house-keeping money; she has no right to a percentage of her husband's earnings. If it were not for the fact that a man is often better than the law, she would

What does this proposition mean to the Hamilton store man? It means a complete saving in the cost of fixtures. It means no outlay for mantle renewals or for cleaning. It means less money for lighting bills and it means a much more attractive place of business.

Many friends here regret the misfor- tune which befel a former resident, Mrs. Levi Howell, on returning home to Sim- coon from a recent visit to this com- munity. The third and final meeting of the ratepayers of No. 9. Ancaster, to con- sider the advisability of erecting a new school house was held on Friday evening, the 12th. The meeting was pre- sided over by Reeve W. S. Wait, with Dr. J. C. McAllister as secretary. In- spector J. H. Smith delivered an address in his usual humorous, off-hand manner. After a lot of earnest, good-natured crossfiring, criticism and objections from several of the largest ratepayers, it was decided as follows: First, the site select- ed by the trustees, namely, the north side of Church street, between the T. H. & B. Railway and the sheds of the Methodist church property, be approved; secondly, to erect a one-room building, the expense not to exceed $5,000; lastly, the time for payment is to extend over a period of twenty years. There was a good attendance at the meeting, but very few voted either for or against.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 17, 1906.

LORDS OR PEOPLE?

Lord Lansdowne has intimated that on Monday he will in the House of Lords move the rejection of the Budget. This is indicative of one result, a war between the aristocratic branch of the Government and the people.

THE LIBERALS' ANNUAL

The annual meeting of the Hamilton Liberal Association, the first under its new constitution, was held last night, and was marked by the greatest enthusiasm.

ONLY JUSTICE ASKED.

Mayor McLaren's letter was lucid and straightforward and should set the city's side of the power question clearly before the Power Commission.

city's rights and interests to the Hydro conspirators. The furious abuse of the Mayor by the local organ of the world's betrayers is a testimonial to his carefreeness in behalf of the ratepayers.

THE MILK QUESTION.

Dr. J. H. Elliott, secretary of the Ontario Milk Commission, has written to Mayor Oliver, of Toronto, a letter in reference to the pasteurization of milk in which he goes out of his way to disparage efforts at securing a wholesome and pure milk supply.

Hamilton's Milk Commission has this summer demonstrated, in a small way, and with most convincing effect the advantage of a milk supply that is wholesome to begin with and that is kept clean and delivered to the consumer in its natural purity.

Whether a city may adopt pasteurization of milk or not, it should always be borne in mind that the treatment is one that is not necessary to pure milk properly handled. With impure milk to begin with, efficient pasteurization is to be desired.

At a caucus of representative physicians held in Montreal yesterday, Dr. Reddick's Dominion Medical Registration Bill of 1902 was amended so as to meet the views of the representatives from all the Provinces.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

What? Object to John Milne as Tory boss? Lese majeste! To the block with the traitors!

Talk about 60 cents a dozen for eggs. How does the hen—or the egg dealer—formed a union or merger?

The Liberals at Ottawa held their first caucus yesterday, it being marked by harmony and unanimity. It was in striking contrast with the Opposition caucus of Friday.

The American Bell Telephone Company has secured a majority of the stock of the Western Union. It is understood that the arrangement in no way affects the Canadian companies.

Step down, Mr. Milne, and accept a nicely worded address, before the storm drives you to the party cyclone cellar. How would it do to name Allan Sturholme, Esquire, M. P. P., of the "Big Voice," as your successor in the bossship?

Mr. M. Y. McLean, M. P., South Huron, has given notice of a resolution for a committee to revise the rules of Parliament with a view to simplifying procedure, and curtailing unnecessary discussion.

Some "Sons of the American Revolution" are prosecuting Peary for putting the words "The North Pole" on the United States flag carried by the Roosevelt at the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

Mr. Tatlow, ex-Minister of Finance of the McBride Government of British Columbia, has made a statement explaining why he resigned. He condemns the railway bargain which McBride made, and refused to allow his Ministers to read and study, and declares that it promises to destroy the credit of the Province.

The fool suggestion that if Gompers and his associates be compelled to serve their sentence, a general strike all over the continent should be ordered so as to stop every wheel of industry and transportation for two weeks, was very promptly rejected by the A. F. of L. Convention the other day.

The action brought by Walter D. Beardmore to enjoin the city of Toronto from going into the business of buying and selling electric power was argued in Toronto yesterday before Chancellor Boyd.

William Hartly, once a Minister of Hon. Geo. W. Ross' Government, a prominent Roman Catholic citizen, has contributed $100 to the jubilee fund of Queen Street Methodist Church, Kingston.

Already the question of controlling such combinations of industries as the Cement Merger has cropped up in the House of Commons. And not a day too soon. Parliament cannot afford to look on idly at great combines organizing to control the industry and commerce of the country.

The parrot Tooley Streeter of the Herald affects to be shocked by Mayor McLaren's "arrogance—we are tempted to say impudence" in writing to the Hydro-Electric Commission a letter on civic business in which he uses the word "we," meaning the people of the city.

The Railway and Municipal Board has ruled that the Street Railway Company is required to pave and keep in repair the road for two feet outside of its rails.

cheaply the company can do such work makes us wonder that it should have set up that contention.

A BLUE LOOK OUT. (London Free Press.) The Labor delegates will have to do a heap of cheering for Mr. Gompers to make the prospect of a year in prison entirely pleasant.

HER READY WEAPON. (Chicago News.) Bobbie—Say, papa, what is feminine intuition? Pa—Feminine intuition, my son, is what a woman uses in making trouble for herself.

LITERAL. (Cleveland Leader.) "Do you really think I'm your affinity?" asked Solomon's 98th wife, coquettishly. "My dear," said the wisest Guy, "you are one in a thousand."

A GREAT CLIMAX. (Louisville Courier-Journal.) "The third act of this Ibsen play culminates in an exciting combat." "Aa to how!" "The heroine has a terrific mental struggle with herself."

PUTTING THE QUESTION BY. (New York Sun.) Shakespeare was asked if Hamlet was mad. "Dunno," he replied. "Denmark has enough to do with passing on the North Pole without my starting another controversy."

THE PURIST AGAIN. (Boston Transcript.) Inquirer—What is the next train to New York? Station Master—Twelve o'clock, sir. Inquirer—Isn't there one before that? Station Master—No, sir; we never run one before "the next."

THE LORDS AND THE PUP. (Toronto Star.) Have you ever seen a yellow pup walking around a porcupine looking for a place to take hold? Probably you haven't, but if you can imagine such a picture that is the way the British House of Lords is acting as it clusters about the budget.

THE HIRED MAN. (Toronto News.) If farm laborers organize they may prevail upon agriculturists to employ them all the year round and to give them permanent lodgings for their families.

NO CANAL FOR US. (Kingston Whig.) The Hamilton people want the enlarged Welland canal turned their way. It would hardly do. Diverting a canal is expensive business.

THE PIOUS REPORTER. (Stratford Beacon.) There seem to be some newspaper men, notwithstanding contrary opinions, who have some knowledge of the Scriptures.

A DAY TO BE REMEMBERED. (Toronto News.) This is a day to be remembered by Mr. Robson Black, dramatic editor of the News.

A GREAT ACTOR. (Toronto Telegram.) The speech of Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday was a fine piece of stagecraft.

VERY INCONSISTENT CLAIMS. (N. Y. Journal of Commerce.) Some of the tariff reformers are much less modest than this. They even propose to carry out a larger programme of social development than the Liberal Government, but always at the expense of the foreigners.

LIBERALS ELECT THEIR OFFICERS.

First Annual Meeting Under the New Constitution Was Held Last Evening.

P. D. Crerar, K. C., President, Kirkpatrick, Lennox, Gardner, O'Heir Vice-Presidents.

Under its new constitution, which provides for the election of officers by delegates, appointed from each polling subdivision, the Hamilton Liberal Association held its annual meeting last night at the Arcade headquarters. It was a pleasant, harmonious, enthusiastic session, and the delegates were out in force notwithstanding the disagreeable weather.

Keen interest was taken in the elections, only two of the offices being filled by acclamation. P. D. Crerar, President of the Association, and Joseph Kirkpatrick, who was elected first Vice-President for West Hamilton, were the only officers elected without a ballot.

Seated on the platform with Mr. P. D. Crerar, President of the Association, were J. M. Eastwood, W. M. McClelland, Arthur O'Heir, W. S. McLaughlin, Alderman Gardner, Alderman Robson, James Chisholm, James Mathews, Calvin Davis, William M. Findlay, William Dixon, Joseph Kirkpatrick, M. J. O'Reilly and Secretary Evans.

Mr. Evans explained that he had received letters of regret from Adam Zimmerman and W. H. Wardrop, the Liberal standard bearers in West Hamilton in the last Federal and Provincial elections.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS.

"This meeting," said President Crerar, "is an eventful one. We are beginning to experiment with our new constitution." Mr. Crerar explained that it was decided at the last annual meeting to adopt the system of appointing the officers and executive committee by the vote of delegates appointed from the various wards.

"The committee that has charge of the affairs of the Liberal party in Hamilton," said Mr. Crerar, "has duties that are difficult and varied. I suppose there are many who think that the duty of the officers are restricted to obtaining a job for some one. If that was the main function of the members of the executive you would not find many of the gentlemen serving on the executive who are at present on it. It is a misfortune that we have at times to recommend some one for a job. It is said that for every one recommended ten enemies are made. That duty is one of the penalties of office. Those responsible for the organization of the Liberal party in Hamilton have a much larger duty to perform."

Mr. Crerar urged the delegates to realize their responsibility and to elect men worthy of the great chieftain of the Liberal party—Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. Crerar explained that the officers to be elected consisted of a president, elected by the delegates at large, a first and second vice-president, and members of the executive from each electoral district, elected by the delegates from each riding.

THE OFFICERS ELECTED.

The nominations were then proceeded

WOMEN WORK FOR MISSIONS.

District Convention Held In First Church Yesterday.

Large Attendance and Reports Are Most Encouraging.

Mrs. Crawford to Retire After Years of Service.

The eighteenth annual district convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was held yesterday afternoon and evening in the First Church, with an unusually large number of delegates in attendance.

At the afternoon session the chair was taken by Mrs. Wm. Crawford, District Organizer, who, after the devotional exercises, called for the reports from the auxiliaries, circles and bands. The keynote of all the reports was success, and in many instances they told of the many enthusiastic and original plans that will be carried out during the coming year to increase the membership and further the interest in the missionary cause. The auxiliaries which responded were: Alexander, Bartonville, Barton Street, Brookdale, Caledonia, Case's, Centenary, Central, Charlton Avenue, Dundas, Emerald Street, First Church, Ker, Kensington Avenue, Millgrove, Rock Chapel, Ryerson, Simeon Street, Smithville, Stony Creek, Tapscott, Unity, Wesley and Fifty, Zion. The circles and bands which reported were: Caledonia, Case's, Centenary, Central, Charlton Avenue, Emerald Street, Barton Street, Dundas, First Church, Simeon Street, Zion.

The resignation of Mrs. Wm. Crawford, District Organizer, was tendered, and respectfully accepted, to take effect after the branch meeting to be held next June. It was not, Mrs. Crawford stated, through any feeling of indifference towards missionary work, but she had been an active officer for sixteen years, and thought the time had come when a younger and stronger member ought to occupy the position. A resolution, expressing regret at her resignation, and the hope that she would still continue to take an interest in the work, was unanimously passed. Mrs. Theo Parr was nominated to fill the position, and will be appointed at the June meeting.

Brief addresses were given by Mrs. Gaylen on the Quize Conference and Miss Scott on the Quize Conference, both pointing out the close relation of their work to the missionary cause.

Mrs. Andrew Ross was secretary and Mr. Geo. W. Kipplee treasurer for the convention. At the conclusion of the afternoon session the delegates were tendered a reception and lunch in the school room, where words of welcome were spoken by Mrs. McLaughlin and replied to by Mrs. Atkinson.

Rev. E. B. Lancelley presided at the with, James Chisholm occupying the chair while the ballots were taken. Messrs. Findlay, Cooper and O'Reilly had charge of the ballots.

Mr. Crerar, nominated by Ald. Gardner and seconded by William McLaughlin, was the unanimous choice for president, and his re-election was hailed with enthusiastic applause.

Joseph Kirkpatrick, nominated by W. M. Findlay and seconded by William Cooper, was the unanimous choice as first vice-president for West Hamilton. There was a contest for the second vice-presidency, the names of A. M. Lewis, Peter Armstrong and John Lennox being balloted on. Mr. Lennox was elected.

Mr. Findlay and Mr. O'Reilly were nominated, but declined.

Arthur O'Heir, James Mathews and Ald. Gardner were nominated for the office of first vice-president in East Hamilton. Alderman Gardner was elected.

Mr. Eastwood was nominated, but withdrew.

For the second vice-president, Mr. O'Heir, Mr. Mathews, Calvin Davis and Alderman Robson were nominated. Mr. O'Heir was elected.

The executive members elected from East Hamilton were as follows: Calvin Davis and James Mathews, from Ward 1; R. T. the principles of Liberalism, which always mean fighting, and fighting for the right."

Mr. Crerar referred to the big questions that would come before the people of Canada shortly. If the party in Hamilton met together and discussed these questions it would have a strong, dominating organization, and the Liberal party would come into its own in Hamilton. He trusted that the executive as now constituted would become more active than in the past. He hoped to see the young men more active.

In presenting the painting, Mr. Crerar observed, "That gentleman is the noblest Canadian we have."

This sentiment was enthusiastically endorsed by the delegates and a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Crerar.

evening session, and welcomed the society to First Church. He also spoke on the great progress made during the last forty years by the Christian church.

The organizer's report was then given by Mrs. Crawford, who spoke in detail on the excellent progress, financial and social, made during the last year, which was the best in the history of the society. She referred to the inspiring reports of the branches in the Hamilton District, and was sure that next year would be still better.

Mrs. W. E. Ross, President of the Board, gave an inspiring address on the growth of missionary feeling, which was being felt all over the Dominion. She spoke at some length on the need of more missionaries for the Chinese fields, and made an earnest appeal to all present to do their share in the stupendous mission work undertaken by the church.

FRANCHISE FOR WOMEN Will be Debated by Law Students at Next Meeting.

The law students held their first literary meeting last night in Judge Snider's chambers at the court house.

Mr. W. M. McClelland, President of the Canadian Club, was the lecturer. He emphasized the fact that a speaker should not lose his individuality in high-flown language and borrowed words. A large part of the speaker's power in convincing his ideas to the audience depends upon the hearers getting in sympathy with them. That would be impossible unless the speaker knew the subject on which he was speaking, and was conversant with the phases of it.

He explained the manner in which speeches should be composed, pointing out how improper composition would be a detriment in getting in sympathy with the audience. The introduction should be too long, as the main part of the speech was the body. There should be a natural sequence of ideas running through the speech, and the young platform advocate should not throw his ideas all in one spot, but should take care not to be weak at the finish.

After the address the students had an impromptu debate on the power question. No decision was rendered.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday night. The debate will be, "Resolved, that the franchise should be extended to women." The law students are desirous of having those interested in literary work join them.

Harriet and Helen Smith, colored, aged 40 and 44 respectively, were each sentenced by Justice Morsehauser at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., yesterday to not less than one year and six months for not more than five years ago for manufacturing and selling the second degree. The two sisters were charged with burning in the kitchen range, the new-born baby of their sister Margaret.

THE TRIAL OF DOCTOR CLEMINSON.

Thought His Wife Had Suicided—Mother and Young Woman Testify—The Girl With the Dreamy Eyes.

MISS ANNA KOLB, THE "GIRL WITH THE DREAMY EYES."

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The girl with the dreamy eyes.

That's what they call Miss Anna Kolb, 24, beautiful friend of Dr. Haldane Cleminson, who is on trial here for the murder of his young wife. Miss Kolb is one of the most beautiful women ever summoned to testify in a criminal case in Chicago.

So far Miss Kolb has resisted all questions and, when cornered, only half closes what students of beauty call the eyes on an enchanter.

Society women have crowded the dingy old court room for a glimpse of this beautiful girl.

Close study of her face by attorneys who hope to extract some secret from the girl has resulted in nothing. Her wonderful eyes, the criminal lawyers say, have served to hide her soul from the world.

They flash, close, gaze sideways and grow dim faster than questions can be hurled at her.

WHAT THE DOCTORS SAY.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Dr. Haldane Cleminson, who is on trial for the murder of his wife, held the court room spellbound today while he testified in his own defence.

"About 5 a. m., he said, 'I awoke. I had a feeling of nausea. I touched my wife with my foot. She was cold and did not answer. I saw a six ounce bottle on a chair beside the bed, also a cloth.'"

Cleminson said he telephoned for a doctor and then returned to the bedroom. He thought his wife had committed suicide, and to hide the shame, thought of making it look to be the deed of a burglar.

"I scattered everything in the house in disorder and hid some things that I wanted to make believe were stolen," he said. "I scattered burnt matches about the floors."

Two women yesterday came to the defence of Dr. Haldane Cleminson, on trial for the murder of his wife. They were his mother, Mrs. Isahia Cleminson, and the "Snitz" postal card girl, Martha Singer, so named on account of the "effusive cards" she sent the physician.

Miss Singer was the first witness called for the defence. She had known Dr. Cleminson while employed as an assistant in the office of Drs. Wheeler and Forrester.

"Are you or were you ever a sweetheart of Dr. Cleminson?" asked Attorney Burres.

"No. I never was his sweetheart. We were merely good friends, because we met professionally every day."

"What was the meaning of the word 'Snitz' as applied to you, and 'Snappho' as to Dr. Cleminson?"

"They were merely office nicknames. We were called that just for fun."

"Did you know that Dr. Cleminson was married?"

"Yes, but always maintained an attitude toward him that I would toward any married man."

Then the witness was cross-examined by State's Attorney Northrup.

"Miss Singer, why did you send those postal cards to Dr. Cleminson, signed 'Snitz'?"

"I was out of town—at Galena—and sent them to him as I sent cards to other friends."

"Why did you send them to the office instead of to his home?"

"I don't know his home address."

"Miss Singer, if you were a married woman, would you care to have women send post cards to your husband signed 'Snitz' or any other such endearing terms?"

"I would you care to have a woman send an epistle to your husband, if you were married, with such an endearing beginning as 'To my sweetheart, Fluffy Ruffles'?"

"Heres' a card beginning 'Dear Old Chap.' Did you often address him thus?"

"Q—How many persons besides yourself called him 'Snappho'?" A.—All the people in the office.

"Q—You sent him a valentine, didn't you, which ended, 'Love me and the world is mine'?" A.—Yes.

"Q—Did any of the members of your family see those letters, especially the one beginning 'Dear Fluffy Ruffles,' before you sent them to Cleminson?" A.—Yes. I showed them to my brother.

The examination of the physician's mother was chiefly as to his education, marriage, and domestic life.

"Q—How old are you, Mrs. Cleminson?" A.—I am 63.

"Q—How old is Dr. Cleminson?" A.—Twenty-seven.

"Q—Where was he born?" A.—In Duquesne, Pa., where we lived forty-nine years.

Mrs. Cleminson then told of moving to South Haven, Mich., where her son was married to Miss Nora Jane Morgan, and of their subsequent moving to Chicago.

She said that after the birth of the first child her son employed a nurse for two weeks to attend his wife.

"Did you see Dr. Cleminson and his family often?" asked Attorney Burres.

"Yes," said Mrs. Cleminson. "My son and his wife and the children were at our house every Sunday."

"How did Dr. Cleminson and his wife seem to get along?"

"They got along as well as the average married couple."

"Did they ever have trouble?"

"I never saw anything more than happens in the happiest of families."

Mrs. Cleminson said the doctor's wife was a restless sleeper at nights and was in poor health.

"In what condition did you find Dr. Cleminson when you were called to his house the day his wife died?"

"I found him on the couch, dressed in his pajamas and a bathrobe. He was ill. He had his head in his hands and was sobbing with grief. 'Nora was such a noble wife and mother I don't know what we are going to do without her,' he said to me. He was the same way at the funeral."

On cross examination Mrs. Cleminson denied she had ever said to Frank Bulow, of Lake Forest, a brother-in-law of the accused physician, such things as: "I feel so sorry for poor little Nora because of the way Haldane treats her," or, "I wish you would speak to Haldane about the way he treats Nora."

Bulow testified at the morning session, The State rested at noon. Frederick F. Roberts, an undertaker called by Cleminson after the death of Mrs. Cleminson, denied for the defence that Cleminson had requested that his wife's body be cremated.

A SAD CASE.

Young Woman Charged With Neglect of Children.

Belleville, Nov. 16.—Frances Beavertock, the Tyndinaga woman who was arrested last week, appeared in the Police Court this morning before Magistrate Bedford, of Deseronto. There were two charges, involving concealment of her child's birth and its secret burial.

Mr. Anderson, Crown Attorney, appeared for the Crown, and Mr. Mike, K. C., for the accused. Mr. W. A. Gunton and Mr. Wrightmyer were present on behalf of the Children's Aid Society.

Phoebe Beavertock, mother of the accused, was the first witness. She said Frances was about 26 years of age. There were three daughters and three sons in the family. They all worked around among the neighbors since they were big enough. Frances never had any young men call at the house, as far as witness knew. Her daughter had had four children, only one of which is living.

To Mr. Mickle the witness said the accused was quite intelligent, but could not behave herself. Witness did not know who the father of any of the children was.

W. A. Gunton, assistant superintendent of the Society for Neglected Children, and Mr. H. Wrightmyer, local agent of the society, told of going to the Beavertock home to investigate the case of the little son of the prisoner. On the way to the city the accused said she was the mother of four children, only one of which was living. The last child was born in June last. On Sunday morning, near the latter part of the month, she claimed it was dead when born. She buried the child right after the birth. The reason she went to the bush, the prisoner said, was because she was afraid of her mother, as the latter ill-treated her. She told the officers that if taken away years ago she would have been a different girl. It was brought out in the evidence that her father had served a term in penitentiary on a charge of incest with the prisoner some ten years ago.

Magistrate Bedford to-night adjourned the hearing until Saturday at 11 o'clock.

At the close of the court Mr. Gunton had papers filed out, which Magistrate Bedford signed, giving over the prisoner's little son, as well as her fourteen-

BUILD NAVY.

Hon. Geo. W. Ross Discusses Canada's Navy.

How Senator Landry Lost His Dinner.

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—In the Senate today the principles of national polity underlying Canada's attitude on the question of naval defence were laid down by Hon. Geo. W. Ross in the course of a felicitous and thoughtful speech in moving the address in reply to the speech from the throne. After dealing briefly with the various points touched on by his Excellency, and noting the fact that during the past decade Canada had outdistanced all other nations, with the exception of Argentina, in respect to percentage of increase in trade. Mr. Ross dealt at considerable length with the great question of national defence now confronting the Dominion.

He believed Canadians generally were agreed that Canada had now reached that stage in her national growth when she was bound, out of self-interest, if for no other reason, to adopt a policy of naval defence. Growth in trade and importance of the world's stage involved also responsibilities of self-protection. Every other civilized country in the world had found it necessary to establish a navy of its own. Portugal, with five millions of people; Norway, with two and a half millions; the Netherlands, with six millions; Argentina, Chili, and the other American republics, all maintained navies, though less able financially to maintain them than was Canada. If the Dominion was to keep pace with the other nations of the world and maintain her national dignity and security, there must be some provision made for defence on sea as well as on land.

Great Britain, he continued, had practically granted Canada the full status of nationhood. Recent treaties affecting this country were negotiated by our own plenipotentiaries, and practically only the formal assent of the Colonial Office was required to make them effective. Canada now had a practical if not an absolute independence.

As to just what should be the naval program that Canada could now afford to embark on, Senator Ross said this might be left to the Government and to the naval experts to decide. His own personal opinion was that Canada should build her own navy in Canadian shipyards, as the British, French, United States and Japanese navies are being built. He did not think that war vessels should be imported, unless in emergency. He thought building should be begun at an early date, and the result of this would be the influx of much capital and the creation of a new industry, involving the employment of thousands of people and giving an impetus to iron and steel industries. The armor-plate and everything except perhaps the armament should be built in Canada.

Hon. Mr. Boyer, who followed, also endorsed the principle of the Canadian navy, and the debate was adjourned by Senator Landry.

Senator Landry called attention to a report in a Montreal paper, in which he was credited with having created a scene at a luncheon given by the Lieutenant-Governor at Spencerwood, Quebec, by expressing resentment at being placed below Judge Langelier at the table. As he had given instructions to his lawyers to institute proceedings, he declined to discuss the matter at this juncture, but said he would content himself with reading the correspondence.

Sir Edouard Cartwright regretted that the honorable gentleman had lost his dinner, and said he would have the question of precedence investigated.

WILL FORCE AN ELECTION.

Lords Decide to Demand an Appeal to the Country.

Liberal Papers Declare It an Act of War.

Manifesto by Churchill—Fight Over the Budget.

London, Nov. 16.—The terms of Lord Lansdowne's motion to reject the budget, to which he gave formal notice in the House of Lords to-day, were communicated to Mr. Asquith in an early hour and discussed by the Cabinet Council during the course of the day. The Unionists anticipate that 300 Peers will support Lord Lansdowne, while the supporters of the Government in the House of Lords number only forty.

On the rejection of the budget bill it is expected that the Premier will move in the House of Commons a resolution strongly condemning the Peers' action, affirming the sole right of the House of Commons to deal with matters of taxation, and declaring the Peers' attempt to force a dissolution to be unconstitutional.

What further course Premier Asquith will take is not yet known, but it is quite unlikely that the Cabinet will resign unless the Government is defeated at the elections. Some measures are necessary to meet the financial difficulties involved in the rejection of the budget, and to this end it is suggested that a conference of party leaders should be held to devise means.

Lord Lansdowne's resolution, which will be moved on Monday, when the budget will come up for its second reading in the House of Lords, will read as follows: "That this House is not justified in giving its consent to this bill until it has been submitted to the judgment of the country."

MANIFESTO BY CHURCHILL. Mr. Balfour, the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, is under engagement to deliver a speech at Manchester to-morrow night, which probably will outline the Unionist party's election manifesto. In the meantime, Mr. Winston Spencer Churchill is first in the field with a manifesto from the Liberal standpoint. In a letter on the situation he claims that the power to force a dissolution is the prerogative of the Crown, and that finance is the exclusive privilege of the House of Commons. Therefore, he argues, the rejection of the budget is a double invasion by the Lords, both of the royal prerogative and of the Commons' privilege, and further, if the Lords establish at the general election their right to control the country's finances, they will make themselves the predominant power in the State by their ability to destroy the budget, stop the King's revenue, and force the dissolution of Parliament every year.

AN ACT OF WAR. London, Nov. 17.—The election campaign will now be carried on with redoubled energy. The chief Liberal whip last night issued an urgent appeal to the Labor party, inviting friendly agreement with the object of avoiding triangular contests, which already have lost several seats for the Liberals.

The Liberal newspapers this morning (Nov. 17) describe Lord Lansdowne's motion as an act of war. The Daily Chronicle in an editorial declares that not since the revolution of 1688 has the right of the Commons to control the finances of the country been challenged.

"The Lords," says the paper, "have chosen the way of destruction. It is as though some malign influence has been at work to bring the House of Lords before the people's gaze with all its imperfections on the part of the Peers to avoid the right of a dilemma. They will not accept the budget with its land taxation proposals and other innovations. On the other hand, they want, if possible, to avoid giving the Government a chance to appeal to the country on a constitutional issue involving the right of the upper House to interfere with a financial measure. They would much prefer that the budget, and not the House of Lords, should be the issue. Lord Lansdowne will, therefore, not move to reject the financial bill summarily, but to set it aside until an appeal can be made to the country. This will probably take place in January.

In the last general election, which was held in January and February, 1906, the Liberals, then led by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, secured an overwhelming majority. This has been somewhat reduced since by losses at by-elections, but the Government majority is still very large.

Table with 3 columns: Gov't, Opp., and numerical values for various regions like England, Wales, Scotland, Ireland.

Government majority 354. The 512 supporters of the Government included 374 Liberals, 84 Nationalists, and 54 Labor members.

ORDINARY CARE LESSENS DANGER.

Authorities are pretty well united in the opinion that ordinary care on the part of the individual greatly lessens the danger of contracting consumption. So many cases of this dread disease have their origin in neglect of an ordinary cough or cold, that it is appalling to note the indifference with which so many people regard this common complaint.

At the first indication of a cold steps should be taken to check it at once. For this purpose the following simple formula is highly recommended as being most effective. Mix together, in a large bottle, two ounces of Glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine and eight ounces of pure Whiskey. Shake well and take a teaspoonful four times a day. It is claimed by the Leach Chemical Co., of Windsor, Ont., who prepare the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine, that this mixture will break up a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable.

TIMES PATTERNS.

A Practical Outfit for the Busy Woman.

No. 851.—The busy housekeeper will not fail to recognize in the accompanying illustration, a most attractive and practical outfit, consisting of apron, cap and sleeves, which will afford protection to the daintiest gown, and will leave the hair neat and tidy even after a busy morning's work. The front is cut in Princess style, and fits close to the figure. A prettily shaped bib extends out over the shoulders in a manner very becoming. Gingham was used for the making, but percale, linen and Holland are suggested. The medium size will require 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for the apron with 1/2 yards extra for the cap and sleeves.

Ladies' apron, sleeve protector and cap, No. 851. Sizes for small, medium and large.

A pattern of the above illustration will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

PALL OF NIGHT.

How Harry Whitney Spent His First Long Arctic Night.

Our camp at Annotok was established in a miniature shack, constructed of packing boxes by Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the explorer. This had been his home during the previous winter. It was here I spent the trying months of the long Arctic night, varying the tedious existence with short sledding jaunts during moonlit periods, in search of reindeer and bears.

These journeys gave us sufficient exercise to preserve a healthful condition of mind and body. No words can adequately describe the awful pall of the Arctic night. It is unreal and terrible. The continued darkness brings with it a fearful stillness, over which seems to brood impending doom—something intangible, indescribable, uncanny. The only sound that ever breaks the quiet is the occasional cracking of a glacier, with the report of mighty thunder, startling and unexpected. Intense and severe as the cold may be, any active man can stand it without serious suffering, for that acts only upon the physical being, and can be guarded against; but the prolonged, sunless night has a dire effect upon the mind, which only exercise and diversion can counteract.

It may be imagined, then, with what thankfulness we greeted the first hint of dawn, when it finally appeared, with its suggestion of the blessed light of day. At length the sun raised his head above the eastern horizon, to instill new life and vigor into our half-torpid minds and bodies. With each return he grew bolder, raising his face higher into the heavens and remaining longer, and then I began to plan my hunting trips for musk ox.—From "Hunting in the Arctic," by Harry Whitney, in the December Outlook.

Britain Cannot Force Asiatic Immigration Says Earl Crewe.

London, Nov. 16.—Discussing Asiatic immigration in the House of Lords to-day, Earl Crewe said that all would be glad if British subjects all over the world had equal access to his Majesty's dominions, but anyone who had even the slightest acquaintance with opinion in the great over-seas dominions knew that that was an ideal which could only be attained at a very distant date. He saw no softening of opinion in that direction, but rather signs of hardening. They all regretted that, but they could not force upon the dominions a policy of a kind to which they were so strongly opposed.

Word has been received at Rainy River to the effect that Nurse Anderson swallowed poison in mistake for sleeping powder, and died.

PARLIAMENT'S SHORT SESSION.

Miller's Bill to Suppress Gambling Introduced.

The Government Will Deal With the Cement Merger.

Railway Crossings—U. S. Training Ships on Lakes.

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—The probability of legislation touching race-track gambling was foreshadowed in the House of Commons to-day by the introduction of a bill by Mr. H. H. Miller, of South Grey. The bill, which was read a first time, proposes to amend sections 226, 227, and 235 of the criminal code, so as to provide for suppressing, as far as possible, the business of betting and gambling on race tracks. As indicating the keen interest aroused all over the country by the crusade against the gambling vice, petitions from all parts of the country were presented by members on both sides praying for an amendment of the law.

To-day's session was very brief, occupying only a couple of hours, but in that time half a dozen bills were introduced and given first readings. A large number of questions were answered, and two notices of motion by Mr. Monk, referring to the repair of two wharves in Jacques Cartier county and the deepening of the river des Prairies, were discussed and disposed of. Replying to a question concerning the cement merger, Hon. Mr. Fielding announced that the Government proposed to make the law dealing with combinations more effective.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved an adjournment Mr. Monk entered a protest, declaring that the Government should have had its business ready to enable the House to proceed with its work.

The Premier smilingly observed that the member for Jacques Cartier was very impatient.

Mr. Lancaster introduced several bills, one of which is to amend the railway act by providing that railway companies incorporated after the passing of the amendment relating to their own crossings must protect at their own cost crossings in cities, towns and villages.

Hon. Mr. Graham, while not objecting to the bill being read a first time, pointed out that the amendment proposed was subversive of the principle adopted last session, which gave the Railway Commission power to apportion the cost of protecting level crossings. He was utterly opposed to any proposal that would change that.

Another bill introduced by Mr. Lancaster, and read a first time, proposes to limit the time of appeals from the Railway Commission to thirty days after the granting of an order, and provides that appeals shall not be granted by the board unless in their opinion doubtful questions of law are involved.

Mr. Northrup introduced a bill giving the Railway Board power to deal with cases in which anti-trust laws had been granted to railway companies whose obligations had subsequently been taken over by other companies.

Replying to Col. Worthington, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he did not think the information obtained by the Department of Militia as to the armament and the crews of the United States training ships sent to the great lakes should be made public, pending diplomatic action.

Mr. Pugsley informed Mr. Boyce that applications for subsidizing drydocks and shipbuilding yards at Port Arthur and Sault Ste. Marie have been received.

Replying to Mr. Bradbury, who asked whether the Government intended to take any action to protect the public against the cement merger, Hon. Mr. Fielding said the Government was aware, from information in the press, that a number of cement manufacturers of the Dominion had been consolidated under one large company. Whether this consolidation had in any way enhanced the price of cement was a disputed point.

The law provided two ways of dealing with combinations, which unduly enhanced prices. One of these, in the case of dutiable articles, was by the abolition or reduction of customs duties after the facts have been established by judicial inquiry. It was proposed to introduce, during the present session, a measure to make this portion of the law more effective.

The other method was under the criminal code, the administration of which came under the direction of the Attorney-General of the various Provinces.

Mr. McLean (Huron) has given notice of a resolution providing for the appointment of a special committee of the House to revise the rules of Parliament with a view to simplifying procedure and curtailing unnecessary discussion. The Government has already the question under consideration, and action will probably be taken shortly to bring about the reform suggested by Mr. McLean.

Mr. Macdonell (Toronto) has given notice of the reintroduction of his bills of last session respecting amendments to the Dominion election act and the industrial disputes investigation act.

JASPER HOUSE.

One of the Historic Hudson Bay Posts Now Out of Date.

Many of the historic posts of the Hudson's Bay Company in Alberta and British Columbia, will be distributed next year through the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which is even now conquering the passage of the Rocky Mountains and the Coast Range.

One of the most notable of these old posts and which was used as a base for the supply of the posts in the interior of British Columbia, is Jasper House, situated on the Athabasca River and about 300 miles along the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific, west of Edmonton. Jasper House was built about 1800 and the records of the Hudson Bay Company show that it was established in 1800 on the shore of a small lake surrounded by high rocks, except on the lake side.

In 1817 the factor in charge was Jasper Hawes. It is his Christian name which gives the name to this post, which, however, in the early years of its establishment was popularly called the "Rocky Mountain House," although the post of that name was afterwards officially established at the junction of the North Saskatchewan River and the Clearwater River in Alberta.

STEAMER SUNK.

The Ottawa Goes Down in Lake Superior.

Crew Saved—Other Vessels Suffer in Gale.

Detroit, Nov. 15.—Half a dozen marine disasters of greater or less magnitude have resulted from the terrific gales which have swept Lake Superior during the past two days. The most serious of these was the foundering of the Canadian steamer Ottawa, which went down yesterday afternoon off Passage Island, at the northeast end of Isle Royale. The shifting of the vessel's cargo is giving as the cause.

Capt. Alex. Birnie and the entire crew were saved by yaws and towed to Copper Harbor, Keweenaw Point, reaching there this morning. All are suffering severely from exposure. Capt. Birnie and two or three men are in a serious condition from freezing. The wreckage was sighted off Passage Island and Monday afternoon and Tuesday, and until the arrival of the despatch steamer Ionia, in the St. Lawrence, it was believed the steamer was the Ionia of the Northern Navigation Company.

To get to Copper Harbor, the crew crossed Lake Superior in a blinding blizzard, battling at the same time with a terrific sea. The report that it was the Ionia which had gone down spread over the entire lake region and caused great alarm among those interested. It has been learned, however, that the Ionia is safe at the Soo, awaiting her turn to be locked through the canal. Wireless telegraph was used for the purpose of locating the wrecked boat. Another report says: Sault Ste. Marie just reports that a tug fully manned has been despatched in search of the Ionia. No further news is expected before daylight.

All boats equipped with wireless were communicated with from the Soo and Duluth, but none had seen anything. They started a sharp lookout, however. Snow is reported so thick that it is impossible to see more than a few yards over the lake.

Passage Island is not far from the northern end of Isle Royale and due east of Thunder Bay. It is situated in the midst of a stretch of water which contains numerous sunken rocks, and it is one of these that the steamer most likely met her fate.

Much wreckage has been washed ashore at Grand Marais, Mich., indicating the loss of a steamer. The presence of parts of cabins and rigging indicates that the wreckage is not from the steamer Paisley which lost her deck load of 300,000 feet of lumber by having it washed overboard on Monday. The steamer Odanah was caught by a gale and driven into the north pier at Duluth. She was beached to prevent her sinking. The continuance of the gale probably means that the steamer Hoyt, on a reef off Outer Island, will be total loss. Other boats are keeping in shelter. A fleet of 150 vessels is tied up at the Soo, awaiting a chance to get through the Canadian locks. The barge Commerce of Sheboygan, Wis., became water-logged in a heavy sea and turned turtle in Lake Michigan. Her crew of five was saved.

GLENNMOUNT'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Port Arthur, Nov. 16.—The steamer Glennmount had a very narrow escape from being wrecked at Lake Superior last night. She left Port Arthur with a cargo of grain and when about twenty miles outside Passage Island, or sixty miles from here, encountered heavy seas. Going into a trough, she rolled badly and the grain shifted to such an extent as to give her a list of seven feet. She managed to turn around and come into port this afternoon to have the cargo trimmed again at the elevator. The steamer was also covered with ice.

BUFFALO AT ALBERTA.

Advice was received to-day at the head office of the Advertising Department of the Grand Trunk that two more shipments of buffalo had been received at Buffalo Park, Wainwright, Alta. One of these was from Ravalli, Montana, and the other from Banff Park, and were safely unloaded at Buffalo Park, October 28th. These shipments comprise sixty-eight head and the total now in the park aggregate 578.

HARDSHIPS OF SEAMEN.

Labor Federation to Help Them in Their Strike.

Garden Plots For Toilers—The Swedish Strikers.

Illinois Women's Fight For a Ten Hour Day.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—It would have been possible for two casual visitors dropping in on the Federation of Labor convention yesterday at different times during the day to have come to widely different conclusions as to the peaceableness of that gathering and the importance of the work they were engaged upon. Perhaps the biggest thing before the convention was the question of pledging funds to the seamen on strike on the great lakes. For seven months the conflict has been on. The spirit of the men is unbroken, but their funds are being steadily reduced. On the result of the appeal to the Federation depended much.

The introduction of the resolution gave the Seamen's delegates an opportunity to request the privilege of the floor for Mr. J. Havelock Wilson, M. P., Organizing Secretary of the Seamen and Firemen's Union of Great Britain, and one of the Labor members in the Imperial Parliament. Mr. Wilson's speech was educative in many ways. It did more than merely make clear that the issue in the strike is as to whether the sailors of the great lakes shall be forced to adopt the passbook system, introduced by the British ship-owners. It was a revelation in tactics, and an example of the international grip of the trades union movement. "I am fighting in this strike," said Mr. Wilson, "because I can do more for the British sailor here than I can at home."

"They treat the men like cattle in the Federation's offices," he said, "even to stamping on the bodies of the men all those who have passed the medical tests." One consequence of the Federation's policy was that while British sailors were refusing to ship, and 65,000 Chinese and Lascars are now employed on British vessels.

Since then the Lake Carriers had adopted the methods of the English Shipping Federation. A passbook with a man's name, birthplace, description, identification marks, and recognition of each man. It was the property of the man, but of the Federation, and no man could get a job unless he produced the passbook.

"It is a vile, degrading system for men to submit to. Now they are proposing to treat the men like criminals. The chairman of the federation has printed sheets for every man's thumb, the system extended to the Longshoremen's Union also."

Mr. Wilson said it meant a fight to the death. The men of the sea were not cowards. They faced death many times at their work, and they would not shrink. He said that already he had organized 5,000 seamen in the port of New York, and intended to organize the men in every port on the Atlantic seaboard. "I find it easier to organize British seamen on this side than on the other," said the speaker.

REDUCED THEM TO SLAVERY.

Delegate Victor A. Olander, of the Seamen's Union, who followed, said that the system of industrial passbooks reduced the men to slavery. The holders of the books were at the mercy of any sea captain with a grudge. The threat was always held over the men that the passbooks would be taken from them. "They try to govern us by fear. They try to make cowards of us, and then expect us to man their ships," said the delegate. He said that after seven months the longshoremen, and the union, while asking for help, yet believed that they could carry the strike to victory unaided.

Delegate Fureseth spoke last. He said that the sailors were in some respects better able to strike than any other class. "It is no hardship to us. We are used to hardships. We stand stripped before the world. Not ten per cent. of us have any family ties. We cannot afford to have any. When we go to prison it is our home, and nobody cries."

President Gompers said that the question of better treatment of sailors was of national importance. "The American sailor has almost disappeared. We can't recruit men and boys for the American navy when the shipowners have carried out their elimination of the American boy and man from the American marine service."

Financial help was also promised for the benefit of the workers of Sweden who are at present locked out. The committee in charge of the resolution announced their intention of at once getting out a pamphlet, giving the trade lockout, and every union will be appealed to for funds.

Among the important resolutions which carried without any oratorical accompaniment was one approving a scheme for procuring one-acre homesteads for workmen within easy reach of the cities. The idea is that these could be cultivated by the workers in their spare time. It is estimated that $300 to $400 worth of gardening truck can be raised on one acre. It would contribute to the workmen's health and moral well-being, and in times of depression the loss of the workers' job would not mean starvation and misery.

Another important resolution pledged moral and financial support to the working women of Illinois in their fight for a law limiting the working day to ten hours. In Illinois the issue is a hot one. For over sixty years in Great Britain there has been a ten-hour limit for women working in factories. Twenty-seven of the United States of America have enacted a similar law, but when the Illinois legislature last year passed a ten-hour law for working women Judge Tutthill, Chancellor of the Circuit Court of Cook County, declared it unconstitutional. The reasons he gave, namely, "That it deprived the workwomen of their independence and their right to make contracts," only added fuel to their indignation.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay in bed in indolence and inactivity in early youth. I became very despondent and did not get up. I worked or not, I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night troubled me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbers of physicians I consulted, but the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicine, but it did me no good. I tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months went to St. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at St. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

Many of them professed to detect a note of sardonic humor in the Court's findings. An investigation by Congress into the steel industry is asked for by the convention. The object is to find out whether, as alleged, the financial benefits derived by the high tariff on steel do not go into the pockets of the steel operators. If this is so the convention asks that the tariff on steel be suspended.

The most sultry debate ensued over a resolution asking for water marks on union-made paper. The name of the International Paper Company was introduced, and a delegate was called to order for wandering from the resolution and charging the company with unfair treatment of union men. President Gompers said that officers of the company had explicitly denied the charges to him and to his Executive. President J. T. Carey, of the Paper-makers' Union, said he had affidavits in his desk from men in every town where the International Paper Company had mills, testifying to the charges made. Not only had men been discharged for attending the Boston convention, but it had been done during the last five weeks to some of the pulp and sulphite workers. Men were forced to sign a declaration that they would not join a union when they entered the employ of the International Paper Company. The mail going to the men was watched by the company's spies. If letters were found bearing the imprint of a trade union, or if they were talking to a trade union officer, dismissal followed.

The resolution was passed and the charges are to be investigated. WILL SEE CONVENTION OUT. During the afternoon the President received word from Es attorneys in Washington that they expected to get a stay so that his jail sentence need not start till Monday next. "Then they will probably take a certiorari or habeas corpus proceedings," he said.

WHITE SLAVES.

Wealthy Men in Germany Are Backing Them.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—The white slave traffic was discussed to-day at the annual assembly at Leipzig of the National Conference dealing with the subject. President Bertha Wappeler, of the Jewish Women's League, reported the result of a tour of inspection she had made in Hungary and Roumania. She had found a certain amount of tenderness for white slave traffickers. The political parties took no interest in the matter. Liberals, in particular, only smiling "jovially and indulgently" when it was mentioned to them.

An official report was read, which stated that Germany, which is fond of boasting of its superior morality, was no better in this respect than other countries. At the same time, the traffic in Germany was rather one of transit, as the victims mostly came from Russia and the Balkan States. It has now been ascertained that, contrary to the previous supposition, no one great white slave dealers' trust exists, but there are small rings, with rich men behind them. Frederick H. Burlingham, the American newspaper man, at one time accused by Mme. Steinheil of complicity in murder, to-day brought suit for $4,000 damages for alleged false accusations. Bemy Couillard, the servant, who was also accused of the crimes by his mistress, threatens to institute a libel suit against her.

GOOD SHORT STORIES

A GOOD BURLESQUE.

"On which jaw are a cow's teeth?" "How many seed pods are there in an apple?"

"What is the difference, if any, between sour milk and cheese?" "Questions such as these," said Laurence C. Seelye, president of the Kappa College, at the reunion of the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

"I don't deny that such questions may do good. Nevertheless, I heard, the other day, of a little girl who wisely parodied them.

"Playing school with her friends, she said: 'Now, children, we'll play that I'm the school director. You must learn, dear children, more about common things. Mabel, stand up and tell us how many feathers a hen has.'"

Dr. Hale and the late Bishop Huntington, of New York, were fast friends. The latter had been a Unitarian and his shift caused a sensation.

The Episcopalians have saints assigned to the various days of the year. When an Episcopal minister writes a letter on any day for which there is a saint he always writes the name of the saint at the close of the letter instead of the date.

Bishop Huntington learned all these things quickly, and began to practise them at once. The first time he had occasion to write to his old friend, Dr. Hale after joining the church he signed, "St. Michael's Day," after his signature.

A reply from the doctor came, and after his name he had written in a full, round hand, "Wash day."—Christian Register.

A little boy went into the village store the other afternoon and waited for someone to notice him. He carried a sheet of writing paper in his hand, at which he glanced from time to time.

One of the assistants came to him finally, and the boy, reading from his paper, announced in a sing-song voice: "My mother wants ten pounds of rice, fifteen pounds of sugar, twelve pounds of oatmeal, twenty pounds of flour."

"Hold on!" interrupted the assistant. "Not so fast. Suppose you give me that paper and I'll fill out the order!"

But the boy insisted in calling off the articles himself. Two other assistants were pressed into service, and the three men proceeded to do up the various packages as the boy called the articles off. He wanted all kinds of things, and he acted the price of each article as he went along, making a note of it on his paper. The assistants had the long counter stacked with packages when the boy wound up with "eighteen pounds of flour."

One of the shoozers called out the price, and the boy continued in his sing-song voice: "And how much money does my mother have to pay for her things?"

One of the men counted up the total and announced it. The boy made a note of the total and started out.

"Come back here! Where are you going?" they cried in chorus.

NO SANCTION FOR DANCE.

Dundas School Board Discussed Pupils' Request For a Hop.

Dundas, Nov. 17.—The November meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening in the room used for the meetings years ago when the now old school building was completed.

The members present were: Messrs. Kerr (in the chair), Parker, Tyson, Davidson, Minty, Steele, Thompson, Dr. Smith, Clark, Watts and Sullivan.

The High School report for October stated that the number of pupils on roll was 112; average attendance 108, an increase over October last year of 21. Fees collected for October, $92.

A vote of thanks to the pupils of the High School for the handsome decorations on the occasion of formal opening of the building was passed unanimously.

The Public school report for October stated that the attendance for the month was much less than usual, the total on the register being 488 and the average attendance, 164.

Some of the furnishings were asked for for the rooms formerly used for the High school. This and a request to have a large piano removed from the kindergarten room were referred to the Property Committee, and a request to have the telephone removed to the board room, and the advisability of establishing a manual training class were referred to the Internal Management Committee.

The request of the teachers for bur-lap for the walls, to which fancy work may be attached, was granted.

A letter from the Educational Department stated that the special grant for 1908 was for use of the board, while the grant for 1909 is to be divided among the teachers.

The Internal Management Committee recommended that a shield for yearly records of championship, to cost $18 or $20, be procured.

Chairman Kerr reported that a request to allow a dance among the pupils at the close of the High school programme had been refused, on the ground that a large portion of community was opposed to dancing.

The matter was discussed at some length when a motion was passed leaving the matter unsettled.

A communication from A. H. U. Colquhoun authorized the Board to place Mr. Burns in charge of the High school temporarily, owing to the resignation of Mr. Saunders.

After some discussion the Property Committee was instructed to report on the advisability of having sanitary work done more frequently.

It was decided to purchase ten copies of "Hygiene for Young People" for the use of pupils of both High and Public schools.

"Women as a rule," remarked the moralizer, "have per heads for mathematics."

SEATS FOR TIGER-OTTAWA SAW-OFF ON SALE TO-MORROW

At Stanley Mills—Wigle May be Able to Play Next Saturday—Sloppy Weather Interfered With Yesterday's Practice.

The announcement made yesterday that Gerald Wigle would not be able to play next Saturday was possibly a little premature. When seen this morning Wigle said his toe was still bothering him, but expected it would be in shape by Saturday. He has been unable to practice this week.

On account of the sloppy condition of the weather yesterday afternoon's practice was not a very profitable one. However, the players spent an hour running around the field, and doing other light work.

Fifteen hundred seats will be put on sale to-morrow morning at Stanley Mills for the big game in Toronto on Saturday. As this promises to be one of the best games ever played on a Canadian gridiron, there will likely be a rush for the seats.

The Rough Riders and Tigers are the two famous Rugby clubs of the Canadian gridiron, and for years their teams have been regarded as the big teams of the country. This year they are fighting out for the second time in succession, a tie for the Inter-provincial championship and the privilege of meeting Varsity for the Canadian honors and the Grey Cup. The famous Tigers are bent on winning this year, as they feel that it would be a fitting climax to their reputation as the greatest and most popular club in Canada if they landed the Governor-General's trophy this year that it is competed for.

Saturday's game will be real class and hard fought, as the keenest feeling exists between the two teams, who have defeated each other once this season, both games being bitterly contested all the way. Ottawa-Hamilton rivalry on the gridiron dates back since 1896, and has been growing stronger each year. In the past three years the two teams have met seven times, and the Tigers have been victorious in four games, each team winning the three home games, while Hamilton took the rubber in the game at Kingston last year. The meeting of these teams is always spirited, and Saturday's game should prove the most sensational affair of the year.

The Montreal Herald says of Saturday's Varsity-McGill game: "The visiting backs on the whole were much more reliable than the locals, and they made scarcely a fumble, the few slips they did make counting for nothing. From the showing made by the visitors it does not seem that the inter-collegiate champions will have a ghost of a show when they meet the winners of the Inter-provincial Union for the Dominion championship, but Varsity's strong back division, along with McGill's fast wing, would make a formidable aggregation for any chasers of the pigskin to buck up against."

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—Rain and hail, which fell heavily here yesterday afternoon and night, may force the Ottawa football team to do its practicing for Saturday's big game against Hamilton indoors. Varsity Oval was in such a state yesterday that the regular workout against the intermediates was called off, the men spending an hour in tackling, kicking and running. New plays were again rehearsed by the men on the line while the halves limbered up in catching and punting. All the players were again out, but Stronach, who is now expected that Stronach will not be missing when the whistle blows, although it will likely be his last match. Varsity Oval, if the present weather continues, will again be unfit for practice today, so arrangements have been made to have the men do their drilling at DeWitt's Arena, where the big hockey games are played. The turf there is good and there is plenty of room for two full teams to play in comfort.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—"Murder committed under liquor is murder; committed in a football scrimmage, it is rough play. Under such circumstances and drill are our young men of today trained. In the bull-fights of Mexico or Spain, the bulls are baited; here in civilized Canada it is the men. I would rather be a matador in Spain than a professional in Canada."

These were some of the striking statements of Rev. A. A. Cameron, at the First Baptist Church, when he tearfully arraigned the present brutality in the field of sport, and paid special attention to the harm that professionalism is led to.

He closed with: "Let all oppose professionalism and let the arm of the law be brought to restrain them. Let our young men find their recreations in the amateur associations and deem it unmanly to be out for hire as professional sportsmen, and let us cease to regard sport as the all in all of young men."

Looks as though billiard tables will be in style as beds on the nights of November 18th and 20th in Boston when the Yale-Harvard crowds begin to swamp the hotels.

The annual six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, New York, is announced for the week of December 5.

Yank Kenny, having sued Jack Johnson for wages said to be due him as sparring partner, says he is going to hook up with Jeffries and put the big fellow wise to everything the negro doesn't know.

In the 12 football games which Harvard and Yale have played since 1897 Yale has won seven and Harvard three, and there have been two 0 to 0 ties. In the 12 games Yale has scored 103 points and Harvard 45. Not in any game in this series has the losing team scored a point.

An untoward feature of Rugby games played by Tigers or Rough Riders is the practice of betting and the manner of affecting the odds. It is announced in all seriousness that Wigle and Gray will be Hamilton absentees on Saturday, and this might make the Rough Riders, or if word does not come along that Kennedy had stepped upon himself, or that some other trivial performance had put one of their other stars away for the week. Rugby roobacks you might call the messages.—Toronto World.

Since Cleveland management denied that Lajoie would be traded every club in the American League issued a denial that it wanted the Frenchman. When you can't get something it looks much better to say you didn't want it, anyway.

Sam Langford has agreed to box six rounds with Mike Schreck at Pittsburg on November 23. Schreck has never been defeated by a negro, he says, but if Langford is fit and does his best it is probable that the ice will be broken. As Langford cannot induce Jack Johnson, Kaufman, Ketchel or Peake to fight him he is compelled to take on second raters for comparatively small money. Schreck says he is confident that he can stand Langford off to a draw.

I am in a position to state, writes the special commissioner in the London

Sportsman, that there is no truth in the widely circulated report that the Austrian Government has offered £50,000 for Bayardo. They might safely do so, no doubt, for Mr. Fairie is not at all likely to sell at that or any other price. Why should he? Moreover, the suggested price is by no means extravagant, if we bear in mind that Bayardo may continue his victorious career for another season or two; indeed we rely in the 10,000 sovereign races next year he would be very well worth all the money mentioned, though, perhaps, as so often happens, buyers who decided to give such a sum would not dare to run him again.

London Advertiser: A move is on foot among local athletic clubs to form an association in this city of organizations interested in baseball, football, aquatics and all athletics. It is said that the proposition will be taken up at the next meeting of the Canadian Club, and that a joint stock company to handle the scheme will ultimately be organized.

The association would be built along the lines of the M. A. A. of Montreal, and suitable grounds and club house would be maintained. "London is big enough to support such an organization," said a local sporting man to-day. "Our idea is to form a company, capitalized at a few thousand dollars. Shares could be sold to the members, and the necessary money secured in short order."

John L. Sullivan, between interviews in which he swears Jeffries and Johnson will fight all the time if he is chosen referee, is nursing a large sized grouse to the effect that fighters nowadays are not so good as when he was in the ring, because they have the loser's end as well as the winner's end of the purse. He says that no man will fight as hard when he is sure of a big wad of coin whether he gets licked or is victorious. He no doubt thinks that the difference between $10,000 and $25,000 is not enough to make a man fight his hardest. He also appears to forget that the longshoremen tactics employed at the time he was in the ring are a thing of the past and that the present day fighter in the championship class must prepare for his battles for a long time, and not only be in condition, but be scientific. The months he has spent in getting ready for a real big bout mean something to the fighter and he is bound to get his money for the amusement he has afforded the spectator whether he wins or loses.

Famous Horses That Hated Men.

Diamond Jubilee Tried to Kill Jockey Cannon.

Famous racehorses, like famous people, are often very eccentric in their behavior, and there have been many cases of celebrated animals that have turned savage and have had to be shot through trying to eat their jockeys, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Otto Madden, the famous jockey who only a few seasons ago won the Derby on the 100 to 1 chance, Jeddah, was violently attacked by a horse at the Brighton races. He was riding Centre down to the post for the Worthington Plate when a horse called Marigold IV overtook him, dragged him out of the saddle by the shoulder and, seizing him by the throat, shook him as a terrier shakes a rat. The jockey of Marigold IV, who had himself been unseated, used his whip freely on the brute's head to make him release Madden, and other jockeys coming through with one vicious snap caught hold of his attendant and shook him ferociously. Ladies, another famous racehorse, was perfectly quiet under ordinary circumstances, but for some reason he had a

BERT STRONACH WILL PLAY WITH OTTAWA.

The Rough Riders Would be Demoralized Without Him—The Back Division Will be Unchanged For Saturday's Game.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—Despite rumors to the contrary, Bert Stronach will play with the Ottawas in the Inter-Provincial saw-off at Toronto on Saturday. Stronach has not been at practice since the match at Hamilton, nor did he resume work until Saturday, but while his condition is bad, he is improving and can be counted on to line up in the most important match of the year. Stronach is troubled with water on the knees. They swell up whenever he takes any violent exercise, and after the match at Hamilton both his knees were as big as toy balloons. However, he stated last night that he was feeling better, and that if everything goes well he will be in line. President Nagle, of the Ottawas, made a like statement. As the team would be demoralized without Stronach, nothing will be left undone to get him in good shape. He will not practice before the game, but is in good shape, and may be looked to for his usual thrilling stunts.

It was said last night that there would be no changes on the back division. The halves are playing better and may be relied on to make a big fight to redeem themselves when they go up against Tigers. The wing and scrimmage men are showing great improvement, and Quarter-back Kilt is playing such a dashing game that the officers look for big gains from him.

It was hailed and raining here yesterday, so the men took things easily, practicing tackling, running and punting. All the men but Stronach were in uniform. The crippled knees show no signs of stiffness, and it is no secret that the officers are delighted with the manner in which the team has been going.

The team leaves for Toronto Friday morning, and that night about a hundred supporters will follow them.

No officials have yet been agreed upon. After to-day's meeting the Ottawas will make several suggestions.

Ottawa is emulating the example of Tigerville, and is to have a rosters' club, which will be organized to-night at the O. A. C. All those who intend going to Toronto will organize and prepare a number of new songs and cheers.

The betting is surprisingly light, few wagers having been made. Ottawa backers are again asking odds, and the chances are that they will get what they are after.

Only a Few Years Ago Jack Johnson Didn't Have the Price of Admission—Can Pick $20,000 by a Half Hour Scrap Now.

Dame Fortune works fast among them crawled under the ring, hoping to remain hidden there until the arena filled with spectators. There Johnson lay for ten hours, only to be hauled out by a watchman when the arena was cleared. Johnson is on the top of the heap now. When he meets Jim Jeffries he will be escorted to the ring with ceremony and eclat. Yet it wasn't very long ago that Johnson was a roustabout in a livery stable, picking up a few dollars on the side by fighting preliminaries before boxing clubs. Now he can pick up $20,000 by a half-hour scrap. They tell how Johnson "sneaked in" to see the Jeffries-Rubin fight in San Francisco. He walked out to the Mission A. C. early in the morning, and sneaked into the arena with several other would-be spectators. Half a dozen

SOCCER

A meeting of the Senior Soccer League will be held on Friday evening at J. W. Nelson's, and it is possible that the travelling Pilgrims, who are playing in Toronto to-day, may be induced to stay over and play with the picked team of the league on Saturday afternoon at Britannia Park. The old country travelling teams have always drawn a big crowd, and the local boys have always made a good showing and, as they have been improving, the game, if it can be arranged, should be well patronized.

Al Ackerman and Max Schmidt Are Matched.

In a telegram to Camille de Vaudry, who is promoting the wrestling sport in this city, Al Ackerman states that he will come to Hamilton to meet "Max" Schmidt. The match will be pulled off this month, and will be a handicap affair. Ackerman to throw Schmidt twice in the hour. In addition, several preliminaries will be on the card. Ackerman is well known to Hamilton people, while Schmidt has met many on the mat, and is yet to be defeated.

Moving Pictures of Johnson-Ketchel Go.

Descriptions of events of importance are to-day only bulletins of the fuller explanation which comes in the pictorial reproduction of these events. So descriptions of a prize fight are only the forerunners of the moving pictures of it. The Ketchel-Johnson scrap for the heavy-weight championship of the world has been read by all followers of the game, and the time is ripe for the pictures. Hamilton is fortunate in being the second city in Canada to see the film depicting this go, which is recognized by all to have been one of the most exciting scraps of modern times. It will be shown in the Palm Garden, opposite the Armouries, on the evenings of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, for three performances a night.

Dundas-Tigers II. Game to be Re-played

A meeting of the executive of the western district of the Inter-Provincial was held in Dundas yesterday afternoon to consider the protests against Walter Smith, of the Tigers, and Brady, of Dundas. Tigers claimed that Brady was a resident of Toronto, and not of Dundas, and therefore was not eligible to play with the Valleyites. Dundas claimed that Smith had played two senior games this season, which disqualified him for intermediate company. Both protests were upheld, and last Saturday's game was thrown out, and a sudden death game ordered to be played in Dundas next Saturday. The winners of this game will meet the winners of the Ottawa-Grand Trunk game for the championship of the Inter-Provincial intermediate series.

SPLIT IN IRISH PARTY.

William O'Brien, it is Said, Will Lead Faction Hostile to Dillon. Belfast, Nov. 16.—It is stated that William O'Brien, the former Irish leader, is about to re-enter political life. Twenty members of the Irish party have promised him their support and a number of seats now held by followers of John Dillon will be contested. The followers of O'Brien say they believe that indignation over the budget, combined with what they call the subservience of the Nationalist party to the Liberals, will assure their success.

TOO MUCH POLITICAL GRAFT

Many say it can't be prevented, neither can warts or corns; but they can be cured by Putnam's Corn Extractor. It cures corns and warts without pain in twenty-four hours. Use only Putnam's. Not to be Tolerated. "Here," shouted the railway official, "What do you mean by throwing those trunks about like that?" The porter gasped in astonishment, and several travellers pinched themselves to make sure that it was real. Then the official spoke again. "Don't you see that you're making big dents in this concrete platform?"—Tit-Bits.

70% A SOUND 7% LUMBERING PROPOSITION

CAN YOU DO BETTER THAN THIS WITH YOUR CAPITAL?

Huge fortunes have been made out of lumber, and it is well known and conceded both in United States and abroad, that Canada is in a position to produce a monopoly in lumber production.

The Siemco Company, Limited, is amalgamating several successful lumbering concerns which are actually earning sufficient to pay 7 per cent. on entire Preference Shares issue, and in addition to the current earnings of the amalgamated firm, company's holdings of the timber limits and water power carry conviction of great and valuable returns to the company in the immediate future.

TIMBER LIMITS

Besides a most valuable hardwood limit in Ontario, said to be the best in Eastern Canada, the Siemco Co. takes over a limit in British Columbia, consisting of 2,338 acres and estimated to contain 107,000,000 feet of good merchantable timber. Even at present valuation, this will equal in value the company's ENTIRE AUTHORIZED CAPITALIZATION. Besides this the natural growth of the timber, and the increase in value, will probably in a few years double its present figures. A reasonable estimate is that in six or seven years the development of the timber limits alone will yield profits equal to as much as 200% on the capital stock.

WATER POWER

Special mention should be made of the great water power on the property, estimated to be capable of developing 13,000 horse power. Less than 100 miles away is the great city of Vancouver, where power is needed for the large factories and plants. New Westminsters is much nearer and more power needed. In fact, within a few years this 12,000 horse power harnessed up, should be worth $100,000 to the company.

The company now offers for sale $400,000 of Preferred Stock in shares of $100 each. This preference stock is preferred both as to assets and dividends, and will share equally with the common in any dividend in excess of 7 p. c. m. i. Thus, if Common draws 7 p. c., the Preferred will be paid 7 p. c. AND 7 p. c. or 14 p. c. The terms appeal to the smaller investor as well as the larger. It is very seldom that an opportunity is given to the smaller investors to obtain such favorable terms.

Application for shares should be made at once to any of the undersigned; the terms being:

$30.00 with subscription, $20.00 on allotment, and $20.00 monthly till balance paid.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

"Can Tigers beat Ottawa?" is a question that the Toronto talent generally answer in the affirmative. There's not much difference on the wing line, but whereas Ottawa has only one man of class in the back division, Hamilton has three or four, who are a bit above the average. Ben Simpson isn't as young as he once was, but he is still the great first-half back in Canada, and he has his head with him always. Then Toppe, Smith and Moore would catch places on most back divisions playing the game. They should easily score more points than the Ottawa bunch, and after all that's what wins games.

Taking it another way, most of the scoring will be done on errors by the back divisions, and of the two, Ottawa will easily make the more errors, probably two to Tigers' one. That should settle it.

Here are Toronto and Montreal, the big cities, knocking out the inter-provincial race, and Hamilton and Ottawa, the "fish," playing off for the championship.

The Ottawa club is being criticised for not giving the men on the wing line more work.

Tigers and Ottawas will both be trained to the minute for Saturday's big struggle.

Ottawas are practising some new line plays for the Tigers' game.

Toronto Varsity will have a chance to see the Tiger and Ottawa teams in action this week.

Tom Clancy again calls Ottawa to win. Tigers will again be favorites in the betting.

"Hard work" is the by-word in the Ottawa camp this week.

On Saturday afternoon at the Cricket Grounds, at 1:30 o'clock, the Eskines will play off their tie game with Knox Mission in the Church League. At 3 o'clock the Alerts will hook up with the Y. M. C. A. for the finals of the senior City League.

The senior City League will meet tonight at 8:30 o'clock at J. W. Nelson's. As important business is on hand, all the representatives are requested to be sharp on time.

The junior City League will meet on Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at J. W. Nelson's.

WOMEN ARE DESPERATE.

Troops at the Mine to Prevent Disturbance.

Fire in the Pit Now Hotter Than Ever It Was.

Typical Cases of Those Left Behind by Miners.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 17.—State troops were on the ground to-day when the sun rose on the scene of Saturday's disaster in the coal mine, where 300 men are still entombed.

Before dawn the daily pilgrimage of women to the mine began. The faithful vigil of the women has been relaxed only a few hours each day, though little hope is entertained that a living man or boy will be found when the mine is opened.

The delay in recovering the bodies has driven scores of the women almost desperate. Hints of a possible demonstration against the State officers or mine officials reached the ears of State's Attorney Eckhart, and the troops were sent for. All night they patrolled duty about the mine and behind ears containing mine inspectors and nurses.

and the private coaches of President Earling.

Gas is forming rapidly in the St. Paul mine this morning, caused by the burning of the coal, and the action of the fire and water. An explosion is feared.

An explosion to-day threatens the St. Paul mine, as burning of coal and the action of fire and water may cause gas to form in large quantities. In an effort to rid the mine of this gas the air-shaft will be opened and the big fan will be started. Upon the success of this action will depend the plans of the men trying to bring the interior fire under control and effect an entrance.

Early to-day the engine pumping water into the hoisting shaft was stopped. The water was failing to reach the flames, since the fire is fiercest in the galleries, and the water descends beyond it to the bottom of the shaft.

The water has been forced to the bottom in quantities sufficient to have filled the "sump" or drainage basin, and overflow the lower galleries. It is possible the fire pumps will resume action later in the day.

The fire is now hotter than it has been at any time before.

The inquest over the death of the rescuers, who perished on Saturday, was continued to-day.

Treats have been made against Rosenjck, the cager, who is said to have deserted his post the first day of the disaster.

Captain Hall, in command of the militia, now on the ground, found no evidence of trouble when he arose to-day.

The thoroughness of the persons directing the relief will make physical hardship and suffering improbable if sufficient funds are received.

The following cases are typical:

Louis Galletto, 48, his two brothers, and his eldest son, Joseph, 18, were among the victims. Louis Galletto leaves a widow, who is a chronic invalid and six dependent children. The youngest, five years old.

Joe Zeucki, 35, perished. He leaves a widow and seven children, the eldest of whom is Annie, aged 14.

Basketball.

At the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night two fast games of basketball were played in the City Commercial League.

The first game between the T. H. & B. and the Oak Hall team, the latter team has taken the place of the Bankers, who were unable to get their men out owing to the close of bank year.

The first game was fast and close all the way, the Oak Hall boys finally winning by a score of 20 to 16. Callowhill and Oliver played a good game for the Oak Hall team, and Fleming and Garvey were the stars for the T. H. & B.

The second game was more exciting and had the rosters going. The Mills Hardware Co. were picked to win, but the Wood Milling Co. played a good game at defence, and held Branton, the star forward of Mills Hardware Co., down to three baskets. Johnson and Webber did fine work for the Wood Milling Co., and Kaufman and Mills for the Mills Hardware Co. The score was Wood Milling Co., 28, Mills Hardware Co., 20. J. McKay, referee.

A lot of good material will be developed through these games for a new senior team.

Brannigan, That's Me.

He's Irish and he's a read-head, and the fight he has shown have won for him over some of the best bantams in the country. Brannigan hails from Pittsburg and is as willing to mix with anything of his weight as any harp with an oriflamme is supposed to be.

TRANSPLANTING THE LAPPS.

Race is Being Removed to Labrador to Prevent Extinction.

A commencement has been made in a most remarkable and long talked of enterprise says Stray Stories. This is nothing less than the transplanting of the Lapps from Lapland, where they are a dying race, to Labrador, where it is hoped they will flourish and increase.

Whether these hopes will be justified or not remains to be seen. Similar experiments in the past have seldom been wholly successful, and some have resulted disastrously. The wolves are a dying race, to Labrador, where it is hoped they will flourish and increase.

LIVE STOCK.

The railways reported 136 car loads of live stock at the city market since our last report, consisting of 2,135 cattle, 1,020 hogs, 1,337 sheep and lambs and 68 calves.

Fifty-two car loads of these cattle came from Manitoba and the Northwest, and the remainder of which were shipped direct to the Abattoir Co., and were not for sale.

Brothers Mr. Rowntree reports the following prices: Steers and heifers, $4.20 to $5.25; cows, $1.50 to $4.00; bulls, $2.30 to $4.

"It will be seen that no such price as $5.75 was paid for any picked butcher cattle on either of the markets." About $5.25 was the highest price reported for any butchers' cattle, excepting one lone animal at $5.50.

Stocks and Feeders—Mr. Murby brought two loads, and reports prices unchanged as follows: Best steers, 900 to 1,060 pounds, at $4 to $4.50; steers, 800 to 900 pounds each, at $3.50 to $3.80; good stockers, 500 to 700 pounds each, at $2.75 to $3.25; common stockers, $2 to $2.25.

Milkers and Springers—There was a strong market for cows of good to choice quality. Those delivered to-day were generally of medium quality. Prices were unchanged, selling from $60 to $65 each. Napoleon Deziel, the leading cow dealer of Montreal, was on the market.

Veal Calves—Good veal calves are in demand and sold at high prices, especially those fed by the mother cow. John H. Wickson bought one of the latter kind at $7.25 per cwt. The prices for the general run were $3 to $6.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs—Some 1,337 sheep and lambs sold as follows: Export ewes, $3.75 to $3.90; culls and rams, $2.75 to $3; lambs, $5.50 to $5.75. Selected lots of choice ewes and wethers sold up to $6. J. H. Wickson got 10 of the latter class at $6 per cwt. We give this latter quotation to show where the $6 price comes in, and to show that it is no criterion to go by in selling the general run of lambs.

Hogs—Mr. Harris quotes the market easy at these quotations: Selects, fed and watered, $7.65; and $7.40, f.o.b. cars at country points.

DISCUSSING TERMS AGAIN.

"We are taking more than some municipalities," said Mr. Allan. "We build a line to carry 60,000 horsepower. Hamilton contributes her part. You have now 25,000 to carry over it. Until that line has reached its capacity, we claim that we should share in the benefits over 25,000. We have helped to pay for it. The Commission's first plan was to build a power line at the Beach, supplying power at $17. Then you change to Dundas and we have to pay $17.92."

"You were taking a greater amount of power at that figure," said Mr. Beck.

"You don't mean to say that your power is cheaper, do you?" asked Mr. Allan.

Mr. Beck replied that he did. The lower level for the line meant more expensive land; also a transformer station on the higher level meant two operations. The cheaper scheme was the location of the line where it was. The difference in price of power was because Hamilton was taking less power.

"It was understood that you would give us all privileges at the Beach," said Mr. Allan.

"Then you are in error," said Mr. Beck. "My engineers convinced us that our proposed system is the cheaper. The idea of having a transformer station at the Beach was never considered. A survey was made, that's all."

"We want some advantages," Mr. Allan went on. "I don't say we should have all the advantages of a municipality which comes in and takes all its power all the time, but we want some. We think you should give us longer time for readjustment of rates. Surely it should be cheaper the second year. We have until December 31st, 1910."

"When you won't take conclusively, as others do, you cannot expect the same rates. You do get a reduction."

"Yes, but only on our own increased consumption. We are entitled to that. Also we ask for longer time to consider whether we will take all our power from you. We cannot judge in three or four months."

Mr. Beck replied that the other municipalities which were at once bound to take exclusively had a year.

"The commission has reduced rates in Hamilton," said Mr. Allan.

"No," but the municipalities who went into it did," was Mr. Beck's retort.

"We believe that your company can give us power cheaper than you can," said Mr. Allan.

"So you signed a contract for street lighting at $47.50, while we offered to do it for $42.50," replied Mr. Beck.

"Well, we have not seen it done."

"Oh, you want to have a demonstration; get all the benefits, and come in the same as others."

Mayor McLaren said that the people had never had in mind a monopoly of light. Hamilton was not in the same position as Toronto, which had no source of power nearer than Niagara Falls.

Ald. Lees said that he had always been in favor of the Government's power policy, but he had thought the city morally bound to another company. He was glad to see a contract signed with the commission, but he thought the refusal of a reduction because of partial use was largely sentimental. He thought the by-law was carried in Hamilton by sentiment. Power would, he thought, come from the Hydro than from the Cataract Company, but the people had carried it, and he was in favor of a reduction to Hamilton when the other municipalities took more power.

"I may tell you that Ottawa entered into a contract for $15 with the Hydro in competition with a company which had a cheaper development than $15. They have used their own light, cut rates in two and yet have a surplus of $17,000."

Mr. Allan, Mr. Beck said that the estimated $84,000 included the line from Dundas to the Beach.

"That is not the same as Mr. Lobb's letter, then," said Mayor McLaren.

"There seems to be a feeling in the minds of these gentlemen that there is a sentiment against Hamilton on the part of the commission," said Mr. McNault. "There is absolutely nothing of the kind. I see that Col. Hendrie is to blame for one thing."

"He is to blame for nothing," said the Mayor.

"I am glad to hear that. Now, one thing that the Hydro has done has been to reduce rates in Hamilton. Surely if it did nothing else it would be a great deal."

"Will you give us the privilege," said Mr. McLaren, "up to 27,000 horse power, after that leaving things as they are, then give us a year for the adjustment of the price?"

Mr. Lobb replied that it was not for 27,000, but for a reduction of 40 per cent. on that amount, as all municipalities had the right to do. All adjustments were made on the contract quantity or the 40 per cent. reduction.

Mr. McLaren asked that an agreement be made whereby up to a certain figure Hamilton might benefit by reduced rates. After that the rate should be finally fixed. He also asked for a year's time in which to readjust prices.

Mr. Beck intimated that Hamilton was trying to use the Commission as a convenience.

"Not at all," said the Mayor, warmly. "We pay you for your horse-power for 30 years."

"The hypothesis is," said Mr. Lobb, "you want to stand still; the others go on, and they have to take all from us, and you then want to get a slice of the reduction that results from their action."

"I'll give bonds to build a line to Niagara Falls to carry up all the power Hamilton needs for the proportion we are paying now," said Mr. Allan.

"Then you'd better do it," was Mr. McNault's comment.

The argument waxed very warm on the subject of the one-tenth liability. The Hamilton men claiming that their liability was for lower not for any benefit.

Obeying Orders.

A woman coming down the garden walk was horrified at seeing her son standing on his head against the garden wall.

"Johnnie, you wretch," she cried, "what are you doing now?"

"Standing on my napper," replied Johnnie. "Didn't you tell me to play at summat that wouldn't wear my boots out?"—Tit-Bits.

No Admittance.

"You can't come in now, Nellie," he called. "I'm Cupid."—The Circle.
