'The Girl From Outside' Great Photodrama

Stirring Story of Alaska Discloses Untold Future of the Screen.

REX BEACH THE AUTHOR

Rex Beach has again demonstrated his ability as the most consistent writer of great photodramas now appearing on the screen. His latest Goldwyn production, "The Girl From Outside," which will be shown at the Happy Hour Theatre, Thursday. He has won the unstinted praise of the National Board of Review. Moreover, it was enthusiastically received by the managers of the new Capitol Theatre in New York, the largest theatre in the United States devoted exclusively to motion pictures. The manager booked the picture for two weeks, on Broadway, which honor has never before been accorded a regular release.

"The Girl from Outside," coming directly on the heels of Mr. Beach's recent masterpiece, "The Crimson Gardenia," is proving to motion picture enthusiasts the author's remarkable comprehension of the needs of motion photography. Everyone, concerned with the production became enthused at the wonderful story. The consequence of enthusiasm of director, cameraman and actors has resulted in such fine work that Reginald Barker, the director, was given a big new contract to sign and several of the actors, Clara Horton, Cullen Landis and some of the minor characters, were immediately signed up for several years work under the Goldwyn banner.

A Rex Beach story is a promise of thrills; but Mr. Beach is too fine a craftsman to insert a fight or any other powerful scene unless the telling of the story demands it. "The Girl from Outside," is the kind of story in which thrilling scenes form part of the story. They are natural, are never lurid or overdone; and consequently, the picture moves so rapidly throughout its seven reels that it seems like a two-reeler.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT AND SALE AT MILLERTON

A very successful entertainment and sale of useful and fancy articles was held recently in the Millerton Hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Grace Presbyterian Church. Bathurst, N. B. Jan 15—The opening game of the New Brunswick Hockey League was played here tonight when the Chatham team defeated the local aggregation by the score of 12 to 1. This rink is said to have the largest sheet of ice east of the city of Quebec. Bathurst lost through their lack of experience and want of combination. The defence put up a good game but the forwards for the locals did not seem to know their right place at the right time.

Annual Report Eastern Health District of N. B.

F.J. Desmond, D.M.H.O. Submits Interesting Report for Year Ending Oct. 31st, 1919

To Dr. George G. Melvin, Chief Medical Officer, Fredericton, N.B.

I beg to submit the following report for transmission to the Hon. Minister of Health. F. J. Desmond, District Medical Health Officer.

On receiving my appointment I at once started to get in touch with the Chairmen of the former Boards of Health in my district.

As the epidemic of Influenza was raging in many of the parishes, I had to ask that Medical Assistance be sent, also nurses, where possible. About Dec. 1st I was notified that Small-Pox had broken out at Lamague, Gloucester Co. I went there and found some six houses quarantined. I arranged with Dr. Derpcher of Shippegan to look after the cases, left him a supply of vaccine and had him notify me from time to time how they were progressing. Next I visited Bathurst, where Influenza had been for some time epidemic, here I had found they had opened a Temporary Hospital, the disease had been of a severe type with quite a number of deaths. This disease was very heavy in the lumber camps. At Bathurst one case of Small-Pox was reported under the care of Dr. Mcgahan, the patient had contracted the disease in Nova Scotia. I next visited Dalhousie and Campbellton where Influenza had been reported, found only a few cases in Dalhousie; but at Campbellton the disease was very severe. On my return, called at Charlo, New Mills, Nashes Creek and Jacquet River, and went over the situation. I interviewed the Doctors in attendance, and called upon the Clergymen and principal business men of the district, asking their help in combating the disease. One case of Diphtheria which ended fatally was reported from Charlo. In Northumberland Co. Influenza was principally confined to the lines of travel and to a number of the lumber camps. The Miramichi Hospital at Newcastle, and the Hotel Dieu, Chatham, opened their doors for the sufferers from Influenza, also the Hospital for contagious diseases at Chatham was opened, and took in patients from all over the county. I telegraphed the department of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa, and got their consent to make use of the Marine Hospital at Douglastown, if found necessary. On my request the Hon. Minister of Health sent Doctors to Rogersville and to Blackville, as both parishes were in great need of Medical Attendance.

About the end of the first week in December, I got word that the disease was very severe at Cape Bauld, Westmorland Co. I arranged with Dr. LeBlanc to look after the cases. I also called upon the parish priest who was able to give me a report of the severity of the disease in his parish. After the middle of December, I met the Hon. Minister of Health and the Chief Medical Officer at Moncton. We visited all the counties of the Eastern District and met the Councillors. Hon. Dr. Roberts explaining the Public Health Act of 1918, going over all its provisions, including public health, medical inspection of schools, and Collections of Vital statistics.

One case of Small-Pox reported at Moncton, a Pullman porter from Montreal, patient removed to Isolation Hospital, contacts vaccinated and proper precautions taken to prevent spread of the disease.

As I could not attend the meeting of the Bureau at St. John the second week in January, I went to Fredericton, where I met the Chief Medical Officer and all deits of organization were gone into.

On the 15th of January I met the County Councillors of Gloucester County, who named their three members for the subdistrict board. The full board met and made out a requisition for the sum of $7000.00 for Health purposes. This amount was passed by the Council, and ordered assessed for the present year. I next visited Kent County, and made a request that they appoint their three members for the health board. They did not appoint any members, claiming that the County was not able to adopt the Act, because of their obligations on the Patriotic Fund. On the 21st of January I went to Dalhousie, and made a request for the Council to name their three members for the Subdistrict Board of Health. After quite a lengthy debate it was decided by a majority of one that they would not appoint members to the board.

Northumberland County did not appoint any members for their Subdistrict Board. The County of Westmorland adopted the Act appointing their three members of the Board and on the request of the full Board, orders that $10,000 be assessed for Public Health Purposes.

While at Dorchester I met Col. Pipes, warden of the Maritime Prison, who informed me that Influenza had broken out among the prisoners, there had been some 60 cases of the disease with a few deaths. He invited me to make an inspection of the institution and suggest any thing further that might be done, I met the Dr. in charge and visited all parts of the Establishment. I found every thing in perfect sanitary condition, the food of good quality, the prisoners well looked after, and all those suffering from Influenza segregated in one wing of the building. There were still 16 suffering from the effects of the disease, these patients were attended to and had no complaints to make, and were grateful for the care given them.

The disease also broke out in the county jail and all the prisoners were taken down; but the jailer and his wife by careful nursing, and following out the instructions given me, were managed so well that all recovered. Early in February I was notified Small-Pox had again made its appearance at Lamague. I went at once and found it became quarantined, visited all suspects and vaccinated contacts. Disease was of a mild type. Dr. DeLoche was put in charge, in a short time the disease was stamped out. I might remark this second outbreak was due to a concealed case from the former outbreak, where proper fumigation and disinfection had not been done.

While on this trip, I inspected the Cars and Station Houses of the Caraque Railway and found them in a very unsanitary condition, and not sufficient Car accommodations for the travelling public. I reported conditions to the Hon. Minister of Health who gave me instructions to notify the Managers of this Railway that they were to comply with the requirements of the Public Health Act at once, or I was authorized to prevent them from carrying passengers till such time as they complied with the orders. I might say that on my next visit all orders were followed out and an extra Car was provided, and every thing put in a sanitary condition. Gloucester County Board of Health met on Feb. 13 and appointed County Officers and B.C. Mullin Secretary. Westmorland County Board of Health met at Moncton on Feb. 18 and appointed necessary officers for the County with Mr. C.E. Northrup as Secretary.

Restigouche County Board of Health met at Campbellton on Feb. 27 and appointed their district Inspectors, Stanislaus Blais, Chief of Secretaries. From Campbellton I proceeded to Anderson Station on the International Railway, here I visited some 6 houses under quarantine in the outlying districts, found that all having the disease were quarantined and contacts vaccinated. Dr. Dube in charge. Cases were reported as coming from Quebec Province and one from Van Buren.

Visited Charlo and New Mills on my trip on account of an outbreak of Diphtheria, which was traced out was due to allowing children, after having the disease, to go back to school too soon; proper disinfection in some cases not having been carried out.

During the month of March Small-Pox was reported from College Bridge, I made four visits to the district and saw the different persons who were quarantined, vaccination was carried out on all contacts and rigid quarantine enforced. In a short time the situation cleared up. I might say that all cases were traced to persons coming from Amherst or Halifax.

Influenza became epidemic in the parish of Beresford, Gloucester County. Dr. Richard a member of the Board took charge of the situation and by strict quarantine and medical attendance soon had the disease stamped out, 684 cases were reported with 23 deaths. Early in April I was called to Michibucto, Kent County because of Influenza breaking out among the prisoners in the jail. I found two prisoners sick of the disease. I examined the jail and found it in a most unsanitary condition, not one of the toilets being in working order, no provision for the inmates to wash, no separate room in fit condition to place a sick person, the walls and floors were in such bad condition that it was impossible to clean them, a high fever was in the small hall leading to the cells and this I considered a source of danger, as on the 12th of April I was notified that I immediately quarantined the jail and gave the Sheriff orders that it was to remain in force till the jail Committee made the necessary alterations and complied with my recommendations. Small-Pox was next reported during April from Middle Sackville. On going there I found some 29 infected houses. The disease was also reported from Rockport. An Emergency Meeting of the Subdistrict Board was called to deal with the situation, as the disease had some 3 weeks' start. Compulsory vaccination was ordered by the Hon. Minister of Health. Free vaccination being given to all applying for same. In investigation it was clearly shown that the cases in Middle Sackville owed their origin to Amherst, N.S. while the outbreak in Rockport was traced to Halifax. I am pleased to report that, notwithstanding the fact that the disease had a general start in the district, it was stamped out inside of 21 hours, there were 46 houses under quarantine and a total of 16 cases of Small-Pox.

The disease was at its height in St. John's, Dalhousie, I was notified that an epidemic of Small-Pox existed in the Parish of Inkerman, Gloucester County. I arranged on the ground on May 1st and made a house to house visitation of all suspected of having the disease, and by strict quarantine and vaccination, the disease was stamped out. Storage Plants of Doubtful Value Considerable interest has lately been taken in Sudan Grass as a storage plant in Canada. Some who have tried it claim that they have had good results and, consequently, they have expressed favourable opinions on its merits and possible value. Certain seed firms have also begun to advertise it as a valuable grass, no doubt there is a bona fide belief that it has a place in Canadian agriculture.

It has come to my notice, however, that the value of the grass has been grossly misrepresented by at least one seed dealer operating in the Province of Quebec. A farmer from Quebec wrote a short time ago asking for information on Sudan Grass. He enclosed a clipping taken from a seedsman's catalogue in which the marvelous qualities of Sudan Grass were described in glowing terms. The description was accompanied by a cut showing the grass growing to a height of some ten to twelve feet at least.

The publication of such a picture is in itself a culpable misrepresentation, but in the particular case referred to it is more than that. It is a clear case of fraudulent advertisement. The cut supposed to show what Sudan Grass can do was published some years ago in an American seed catalogue but then the grass was not called Sudan Grass, but Teosintha, which is a Mexican plant

China's Unlucky Babies.

It is not at all uncommon for the dead bodies of Chinese infants to be cast away, instead of being buried. The charitable explanation is that this is done to save burial expenses. The true reason, however, is said to be the deep-rooted superstitious belief among them that the death of a baby arises out of punishment to its soul for sins committed in a previous state of existence. It is an accursed creature, whose coffin no one will follow. It is, therefore, a common sight in China to see dying babies laid down by the roadside to breathe their last. The parents will not allow them to die in the house, the belief being that infants after their death become wicked spirits. To allow them to die under the parents' roof will bring nothing but evil upon the family.

All Elderly People.

A professor of history met one of his class who had returned from a mission to the Orient. He had asked him if he had learned any particular lesson from the mission. He said: "I have learned that the only way to get a man to do anything is to tell him that he will be punished if he does not."

DANGEROUS BERRIES.
Men Are Blinded by Australian "Finger, Cherry."

Sixteen years ago a young man was brought into the hospital at Brisbane in Queensland, suffering from a strange paralysis of the optic nerves, says Tit-Bits. In spite of skilled treatment he became blind.

Other cases occurred in the same district, and were traced to the eating of "wild fruit" known as the "finger cherry," a long bright red berry, which has nothing in common with our cherry.

The effects of certain vegetable poisons are at present beyond scientific explanation. The finger cherry is not the only Australian plant which has a baneful effect upon the optic nerves.

Some years ago W. M. Morrison, a well-known Australian horse breeder, wrote to the British Museum, London, asking for the name of a horse which was being blinded by eating the wild fruit, which is common in many parts of Australia, and which grows in great profusion after the breaking of the long drought.

One of the most curious plants in existence is the Australian acacia, which is common in Queensland and grows also in Ceylon. When a milky sap exudes from the stem and enters the eyes of a horse, it causes acute ophthalmia in certain and the sight of the eye is gone for good. There is no cure. Yet the strangest thing is that goats eat the acacia without suffering harm.

Goats, too, can eat the Texas loco weed, which kills horses and cattle. This poisonous plant drives horses mad. They run in circles, and sometimes are seized by a sort of mania.

There are plants, even in this country, which are none too safe to feed to stock. Reference is not made to the regular poison plants such as hemlock, deadly nightshade, or teled parenip. There are plants which are popularly supposed to be harmless or even wholesome, yet which have very queer effects on certain individuals.

Mountain ash, for instance. The pretty fruit of this tree is made into jam, jelly, and a sort of spirit. The spirit has the extraordinary power of destroying the memory.

Mixtures of fruits or leaves each harmless in themselves, may have unpleasant consequences. Be careful not to eat spinach and an orange at the same meal. The oxalic acid of the former is freed by the citric acid of the latter, and the result is a more or less sharp case of poisoning. Tomatoes must not be followed by lemon or the result may be the same.

Some fruits are injurious in an unripe condition. The juice of a raw pineapple if injected under the skin is most dangerous.

FOODS OF THE GREAT WAR.

These are some of the amazing facts in Sir Douglas Haig's final despatch:—

General Headquarters received 9,000 telegrams in one day, and 3,400 letters by despatch-riders. One army headquarters had 10,000 telegrams in a day, and the day's telegrams on the lines of communications were 23,000.

There were 1,500 miles of telegraphs and telephones, and 3,688 miles of railways, on which 1,800 trains ran weekly.

In six weeks 5,000,000 rations were supplied by our armies in France, to 800,000 civilians in the relieved areas.

Two hundred tons dead weight of supplies and stores were required daily for the maintenance of each division.

The total daily ration strength of our armies was 2,700,000. An addition of one ounce to each man's rations represented an extra 75 tons.

Over 400,000 horses and mules and 47,000 motor vehicles were used, and 4,500 miles of road made or maintained.

In 1914 there was one machine-gun to 500 infantrymen in the British army; at the armistice there was one machine-gun to 20 infantrymen.

Over 700,000 tons of ammunition were fired by our artillery on the Western front from last August to the armistice.

The number of industrial landings at the ports managed by the British army in France exceeded 19,000,000 up to the armistice; while in the last eleven months of the war the average weekly tonnage landed at those ports was 175,000 tons.—Tit-Bits.

A Piano Talk

C. C. Laugher Mus. Bac.
Bowmanville

No. II.

Just listen to the master pianist, Paderewski. When a child of three years he played to a party of children for dancing. When he was seven he wrote his first musical composition, "A Set of Dances." When Paderewski became renowned some critics were very hard on him and lay his great charm to hypnotise. He certainly has a magic power that holds both the musically educated and the ignorant.

Let us investigate where this magic box—the piano—came from and how it got here:

The Lute:

You may have read about the lute and the dulcimer, the lute of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries was very popular.

The body was pear-shaped with a neck or fingerboard, are stretched eight strings tuned in pairs like a mandolin, and plucked with a pick held in the right hand.

The Virginal.

An instrument called the virginal is like a big lute with a key-board attached; when a key is pressed down a mechanical pick inside plucks the string, but with the virginal each key operates one string only—and the tone is very weak. The virginal was very popular and fashionable for young ladies to play upon. Queen Elizabeth was quite a proficient performer on the virginal.

The Harpsichord:

An improvement on the virginal is the harpsichord. The key board is similar but has two and sometimes three strings to each key. Dr. Burney describes the tone as "a scratch with a sound at the end of it." The harpsichord sometimes has two and even three key boards, the upper keyboard playing on one string only, the lower on two strings.

Stops were added on this instrument which attempted to produce some thing like the effect of pedals of our pianoforte produce. Some had a venetian swell which opened and closed, causing a sort of crescendo and diminuendo.

The Clavichord:

Now the clavichord came next and in the place of plucking the strings it was termed "hammer string" but not like our modern instrument. Yet it is the direct predecessor of the pianoforte.
Handel, Haydn, Mozart; Beethoven and Bach thought a lot of the clavichord. The first clavichord had 36 notes but later the number was increased.

The Pianoforte.

Then came the pianoforte with struck strings. The inventor of the pianoforte went back to the dulcimer for the idea of striking the strings, the dulcimer being an instrument with steel strings stretched across a kind of sounding-board. The wires were struck by two hammers held in the hand of the performer. The first pianoforte was made in 1710 by a man named Cristofori. This was a crude instrument. Johann Stein improved the action in the 18th century which was called the Viennese Action. It would be well for each to examine a piano which will reveal the action which comprises a system of levers, hammers and rods, and examine the accuracy and delicacy of its movement.

The first time a pianoforte was used as an Opera called "The Beggar's Opera," it read: "Miss Brickler will sing accompanied on the new instrument by Mr. Diddia. The first solo announced for the pianoforte was played by J. C. Bach in London, June 2nd, 1768. Mr. Broadwood of London invented pedals to be used with the foot. The John Hamilton of New Jersey made the first upright piano in 1806. Bach and his predecessors played with just pressing down the key.

Unable to Work For Eight Months

For 4 Years Conductor Could Only Work Half Time—Never Misses an Hour
Now

The remarkable results being obtained from Tanlac is further evidenced in the case of Albert Burgess, a popular conductor on the Winnipeg Electric Railway, who lives at 453 Stradbrook avenue, Fort Rouge. Mr.
Burgess called at Liggett's drug store for his fifth bottle of Tanlac, recently, and made the following statement:

"I have been so wonderfully benefited by Tanlac that I will never stop praising it," said Mr. Burgess. "For the past four years I have not been able to work but about three days a week and have had to spend a good part of my wages trying to get my health back. For eight months, I was unable to do any work and was just barely able to get about. I suffered with awful pains through my forehead all the time and also had spells of dizziness when I would have to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My stomach finally got in such a bad shape that I could scarcely eat a thing and barely enough to keep me alive. What I ate I did eat soured on my stomach and I suffered terribly from gas and bloating. I took all kinds of medicines, but still I suffered and could not get myself in shape to work more than half time. I would go for weeks at a time without getting more than an hour's sleep a night. My condition was awful, and I didn't know what to do for relief.

"At last a friend begged me to try Tanlac and, now I wish I had known about it long ago, for it has really made me feel like a brand new man.
I used to suffer with a dreadful hurting in the pit of my stomach, but after taking Tanlac a short while this trouble disappeared and now my stomach is in such a good shape that I can eat just anything I want and ever suffer a bit with gas or pain, and my appetite is so big that I can hardly get enough to eat. The pains have not only left my head, but all my misery is gone, and I have not missed an hour from my work since shortly after I began taking Tanlac.
I have also gained several pounds in weight, but what I was after was relief, and thanks to Tanlac I have found it. I can now handle my work as well as when I first got my run seven years ago. It certainly was lucky for me that I got Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Newcastle by E.
J. Morris and in Redbank by Wm. M.
Sullivan.

keys like the organ action but it was Liszt who introduced the wrist action and produced what is termed the powerful school of pianoforte playing.

How came the name "Pianoforte"?
The pianoforte is the first instrument that gives easy access to extremes of power. The first part of the word piano, means soft. The playing of this instrument may be made in an extreme whisper. The second part of the word, forte, means loud and with a competent player the imitation as of a great orchestra may be made, hence its name Piano-forte—capable of extreme softness and loudness.

What piano playing now is, is largely due to such men as the following.
They had been called to other employment, but afterward received the real call to music: Haydn—a priest; Handel—a doctor; Dvorak—a butcher; Chopin—a book-keeper; Berlioz—a doctor; Strauss—a bank clerk; Schumann—a lawyer.

The Pianoforte is the instrument which is second to the orchestra in its possibilities. Years of application are necessary to acquire the art of playing which will comprise a mastery of the "even touch", staccato and legato playing and correct fingering. Seek to understand the pieces you play that you may feel it is as a conversation or dialogue and not as the following conversation would seem to suggest in this little skit.

Johns—"Miss Banghead is going abroad to finish her musical education." Brown—"Where did she get the money?" Johns—"All the neighbors gladly contributed to her education."

AMONG THE CANNIBALS:

How the Period of Famine Came to an End.

Famine had come upon Atuona valley, says a passage from "The Flowing Lava Bowl," by Frederick O'Brien and Rose Wilder Lane, in Asia Magazine. Children wailed with hunger on the paepaes, and the breasts of mothers shrunk so that they gave no milk. Therefore, the warriors set forth in the great canoes for Motopu. Meat was the cry, and there was no other meat than pua oa, the "long pig that speaks." In the darkness the hungry fighting men of Atuona soundlessly beached their canoes and crept upon the sleeping people of Motopu. Seven were killed before they could fly to the hills, and one was captured alive, a slender, beautiful girl of ten years, whom they tied hands and feet and threw into the canoe with the slain ones.
Back they came from their triumph, and landed on the shore here, within a spear's throw from the paepae of Broken Plate. Their people met them with drumbeating and with chanting, bringing rosewood poles for carrying the meat. The living girl was slung over the shoulder of the leader, still bound and weeping, and in single file heroes and their people marched up the trail past the Roman Catholic Mission. Tohoaa, Great Sea Slug, chief of Atuona, was foremost, and over his massive shoulder hung The Girl Who Lost Her Strength.

Then from the mission came Pere Orens, crucifix in hand. Tall he stood in garment of black, facing Great Sea Slug, and high his hand with the crucifix in it. Pere Orens was tapu, not to be touched under pain of death, for he had been adopted by Great Sea Slug, to whom he had explained the wonders of the world and given many presents.
Powerful was the God of Pere Orens, and could work wonders. In his pocket he carried always a small God, that day and night said "Mika!
Mika!" and moved tin arms around and around a plate of white metal.
Great Sea Slug heard now the voice of this little God in the stillness, and he paused before the uplifted arm of Pere Orens, while the hungry people came closer that they might hear what befell.

"Where are you going?" said Pere Orens.

"To Pekia, the High Place, to cook and eat," said Great Sea Slug.
Then for a space Pere Orens remained silent, holding on high the crucifix, and in the stillness the voice of the small God spoke without ceasing.
"Give to me that small piece of living meat," said Pere Orens then.
"Me mamal oe, if it is your pleasure, take it," said Great Sea King.
"It is a trifle. We have enough, and there is more in Motopu." With these words he placed his burden upon the shoulder of the priest, and heading his band, again led them past the Mission, over the river and to the High Place, where all night long the people feasted in the deep roaring and booming of the twelve-foot drums. But The Girl Who Lost Her Strength remained in the house of Pere Orens, who cut her bonds, fed her and nursed her to strength again. Baptized and instructed in the religion of her savior, she was secretly returned to her surviving relatives. There she lived to a good age, and died four years ago, grateful always to the God that had preserved her from the oven.

Figures Don't Lie.

The following conflicting statistics are a few from a collection quoted by Franklin P. Adams in his genial post-mortem on the Demon Rum, which appears in Everybody's Magazine:—

"Kansas is dry; Nebraska is wet.
Kansas had $1.1 sent to prisonera per 100,000 of population; Nebraska has 55.1."

"Kansas is dry; Nebraska is wet.
Kansas' wealth per capita is the largest in the country; its death-rate is the lowest; it has the most home owners."

"In thirty years insanity has increased 83 per cent. in Maine and 94 per cent. in Kansas."

"Maine is dry; Minnesota is wet.
Maine has 127.3 paupers per 100-000 of population, Minnesota has 46.2."

"Kansas is dry; New York is wet.
Kansas has 286 divorces per 100,000 of population; New York has 60."

"Maine and North Dakota are dry; Rhode Island and Pennsylvania are wet. Wages run higher in the wet states."

"And so it goes. You could, I could, anybody could, fill pages with those things. They are the smoke-screens of knowledge; the harassing fire of wisdom takes more skill. Dry Kansas has a greater per capita wealth than wet New York; but when you ask whether the Kansan is happier than the New Yorker, you soar at once into metaphysics, and the chances of a fatal wrille are big."

Tips.

German restaurants are said to have abolished the tipping system. It has always been regarded as a nuisance by many people, but it is doubtful whether its abolition would be beneficial even to customers, says Tit-Bits.

The word "tip" is said to be derived from the initial letters of the phrase, "To Insure Promptness." If this is so, with the tip promptness of the one tipped might go, too.

Protests against tipping are by no means of modern growth. George I. complained about it when he first came to the throne. "This is a strange country," he declared. "The first morning after my arrival at St.
James' I looked out of the window, and saw a park with walks and a canal, which I was told were mine." The next day Lord Chetwynd, the ranger of my park, sent me a fine brace of carp out of my canal, and I was told I must give five guineas for it. Chetwynd's servant, for bringing me my carp, sent out of my own canal in my own name."

The first club of American working girls was formed thirty years ago in New York city.

Seed Oats Situation

In those districts where the oat crop was a partial or total failure last season, farmers are becoming somewhat anxious as to the available supply of seed oats. There is a general tendency on the part of farmers who have seed oats for sale to withhold them until later in the winter. The movement of seed oats is delayed also, because transportation has been needed for coal, feed and livestock.

Possibly 400,000 bushels of seed oats may be required in Ontario and Que. and a much larger quantity in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan. The Canadian Government Seed Purchasing Commission already has substantial supplies in store in the Interior Terminal Elevators, and large quantities of good-quality early-harvested oats still to come forward. Alberta and Saskatchewan requirements will be given first consideration from the seed oats produced in those provinces.

The shortage in Ontario and Quebec may quite easily be remedied from the large and excellent oat crops in Prince Edward Island and Eastern Nova Scotia. No. 1 quality Island Banner seed oats are now being delivered as far west as Toronto at a price comparable with Western seed oats of the same grade. The price of No. 1 Seed oats delivered in bulk car lots at any point in Ontario and Quebec should not exceed the current Fort William cash price for No. 2 Canada Western oats by more than 35c per bushel. Registered and other select stocks true to variety may be higher in price.

The Dominion Seed Branch provides a system of grading and inspection, so that shippers in either Western Canada or the Maritime provinces may make delivery of seed, inspection certificates with their bills of lading. Purchasers of seed oats in any part of Canada may now buy on the basis of grade, No. 1 Seed, No. 2 Seed, etc. and subject to the delivery of seed inspection certificates. Ottawa, Dec. 31, 1919

Sir John Craig Eaton
New Director
C.P.R.

Honorary Colonel Sir John Craig Eaton, K.B., whose appointment to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's directorate has been just announced, is best known to the mass of the American public as president and dominant personality of the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. of Toronto and Winnipeg, the largest departmental institution of the Dominion, for which his father, the late Timothy Eaton, fifty years ago laid the foundation. In official circles Sir John is even better known as probably the foremost Canadian in civilian co-operation with the forces of government during the war period. And in the realm of trade he leads as an exponent of scientific organization, while at the same time recognizing the human equation in the labor factor.

Sir John was born in Toronto April 28, 1876, receiving his education in the public schools of his native city and Upper Canada College. He began his commercial career with his father's growing establishment, the business of which has more than doubled in volume under his administration, his individual foresight leading to the opening of the Western house at Winnipeg in 1905, and the Moncton, N.B., outpost this past season. In addition to being president of the T. Eaton Co., he is director of the Dominion Bank, the Canadian National Exhibition Association, and Wellesley Hospital; a member of the Senate of Victoria College, Toronto; an honorary governor, trustee and member of the Finance Committee of the Toronto General Hospital; a member of the Toronto Board of Trade and of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association; also one of Canada's best known clubmen and sportsmen, with yachting, fishing and motoring as his favorite forms of recreation. Political honors, though proffered like Caesar's crown, he has time again refused.

Knighthood June 2, 1915, he was incidentally the recipient on Sept. 19th, 1917 of the special decoration of the Navy League, this being an exceptional honor conferred on but twenty-eight persons in all the Empire within the past twenty years. In partial explanation it will be remembered that early in the war Sir John turned over to the Admiralty his fine private yacht, the Florence, which served on the Atlantic Coast patrol under the ensign until no longer required in the late autumn of 1916. During the war period he also organized, equipped and sent overseas the Eaton Machine gun batteries; while over $1,000,000 of his private fortune was expended in the maintenance of dependents of Eatonians at the front, the weekly payroll exceeding $10,000. Two thousand six hundred and eighty-two voluntary recruits went from the T. Eaton Co.'s establishments to the war—a man-power little short of three complete battalions—this splendid body representing 39.35 per cent of the company's male employees. And while the men were fighting for flag and freedom, Sir John provided liberally for their families at home, this wage roll of patriotism exceeding $3,000,000 in the ultimate total.

The inclusion of Sir John Eaton on the Canadian Pacific directorate gives that pioneer national transcontinental road not only another experienced business executive of high standing, but also a man who is doing in large proportions. It also gives it a man who believes more than any other in the Dominion believes in the application of the Golden Rule to every-day affairs and has given recognition of the human equation to be successful policy in the operation of his own large concerns.

Annual Report Shows Health Progress

district of St. Simon from which place the disease was said to have been brought. During March, April, and May my time was divided between both these infected districts. While at Pokemouche I personally vaccinated 169 persons and after getting Dr. Richard in charge he reported making a house to house visitation and vaccination. It was found necessary to proclaim Compulsory vaccination in the parish. I was able to trace this outbreak to a concealed case of Small-Pox, a man having visited the church at Pokemouche and after the congregation had retired he slept in the church all night using the Few cushions for a bed. Fifteen days after some seven persons showed symptoms of the disease, and on my first visit put 9 houses under quarantine with 21 inmates. This outbreak was harder to control than the Sackville epidemic as there were no Doctors handier than Caraquet or Tracadie, and the Subdistrict Board had to employ a Dr. to go there. Another difficulty to be contended with was that the farmers and fishermen objected to being vaccinated during their busy season. Notwithstanding these objections the disease was stamped out by the end of June, excepting a few isolated cases in the back districts. There were 64 cases, one death, and 320 contacts. About the end of May I was notified that a young girl had come out of a quarantined house at Amherst and escaped to St. Paul's Kent County. I went there and vaccinated contacts and quarantined 3 houses, there was no further spread of the disease. During June I had to again visit Kent County for Small-Pox in the parish of Acadiaville, visited 6 suspected houses, quarantined 4 and vaccinated all contacts, no further spread of the disease. About the middle of June I again visited the jail at Richibucto and found they had made improvements but had not followed out all my recommendations. I later had the condition of this building brought to the attention of the Grand Jury who went over the building and recommended that improvements asked by me be carried out. The first week in July a Commercial Traveller, who belonged to Halifax, broke out with Small-Pox at Tracadie, he drove to Newcastle and I had him placed in the Contagious Hospital at Amherst, some 18 days later a man who had been in contact with him, and concealed the fact, broke out with the same disease I had him also placed in the Isolation Hospital. About the middle of July I was called to Cape Bauld, Westmorland Co. where 2 houses were placed under quarantine and all precaution taken to prevent spread of disease. In the latter part of July, I was notified that as so many cases of Small-Pox were coming into this province from Nova Scotia, and as the United States had placed a quarantine against the Province, it was thought advisable that I board trains at Amherst and see how the regulations placed on travellers were being carried out. On my first day I realized that it would be necessary to go to Halifax and other infected districts and interview the members of their Board of Health. On obtaining consent of my Superior Officer I went into Nova Scotia and at Halifax met the members of the Board of Health who had an interview with Dr. H. H. Murray, who gave certain directions as to what was to be done to stamp out the disease. Dr. Murray, of the Board of Health, advised that the Board of Health at Amherst should be notified of the Royal Bank of Canada's Money Orders.

places of Vaccination before selling tickets to travellers coming into or through this province. I might remark that I called at the stations along the line and found out that this order was not being strictly enforced. On getting back to Moncton I waited on the General Passenger Agent and informed him of what I had found out, he promised to immediately take the matter up and telegraph all agents of the requirements. While at Amherst I called upon the Medical Health Officer and informed him that we had had several cases of Small-Pox, which were traced to that vicinity. I told him that the Sackville epidemic was due to cases coming from Amherst. He promised to take the matter up at once. On August Small-pox was reported from St. Charles in the International Railway. I visited the district and had all necessary precautions taken, the disease made no further spread. In this case the contagion was traced to the Province of Quebec, along the Matapedia, near the border, we had 4 houses quarantined because of Small-Pox which came in from Quebec Province. August 16th I was notified that a young man working in the Bank of Nova Scotia, who was only in Newcastle 3 days, had developed a suspicious rash, on examining him I found he had Small-Pox, had him placed in the Isolation Hospital. I found out that he had come from Falmouth P. Q. and that the disease was prevalent in the vicinity. During September was at Cape Bauld, Westmorland Co. for cases of Small-Pox. Visited the Lower Section of Gloucester Co. for inspection of some Fish Curing Establishments. (Continued on page 7)

also for some wells the water of which showed pollution with typhoid bacilli, also to Waugh District and upper Pokemouche where 2 cases of Small-Pox were reported.

Oct. 20 called to Nashes Creek for case of Small-Pox in one of the back settlements, called at Lorne, found two persons affected, quarantined two houses and took all necessary precautions to prevent spread of disease.

As my district is half of the Province and some parts quite inaccessible, I have had to do quite an amount of travelling and the correspondence with the different Boards was considerable.

I have done my best during the past year to make the Public Health Act a success in this district. Good results have been attained, and I look forward with confidence to greater achievements in the coming year.

Yours Respectfully,

A Tonic For The Nerves

The Only Real Nerve Tonic is a Good Supply of Rich, Red Blood

"If people would only attend to their blood, instead of worrying themselves ill," said an eminent nerve specialist, "we doctors would not see our consulting rooms crowded with nervous wrecks. More people suffer from worry than anything else."

The sort of thing which the specialist spoke of is the nervous run-down condition caused by overwork and the many anxieties of to-day. Sufferers find themselves tired, morose, low spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears, and do not sleep well at night. Headaches, neuritis and other nerve pains are part of the misery, and it all comes from starved nerves.

Doctors the nerves with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. Therefore to cure nervousness and run-down health Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. These pills actually make new, rich blood, which strengthens the nerves, improves the appetite, gives new strength and spirits, and makes lethargic despondent people bright and cheerful. If you are at all "out of sorts" you should begin curing yourself to-day by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicines, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
