NEW BANK HAS A GOOD OPENING

The St. John office of Provincial Bank of Canada opened for business this morning. Within a week the quarters in the Market building, German street, formerly occupied by J. J. LeLachour, have been transformed into bright and attractive looking banking offices. The bank presents an attractive appearance with oak furniture, walls done in light brown and decorated with pictures of the head offices, the officers and directors of the bank. A modern burglar-proof safe has been installed. If the first morning can be taken as a criterion, to say nothing of the many promises of support already given, the new bank will do a flourishing business. Duffin W. Haugen, formerly manager of the bank, is a modern manager of the bank. He is assisted by W. C. Murray of this city, J. A. Turcott of Ottawa, J. G. Macdonald of Moncton, H. W. Flood of St. John and Miss McCarthy, stenographer. Messrs. Turcott and Langis remain until the location staff is familiar with the bank's system and they will then be replaced by local men. The present premises are only temporary and will be used until permanent quarters are secured and property fitted up. Negotiations are in progress for a building in Charlotte street, and Gilbert W. Gannon, secy.-M. P., has been advised by Senator Longuech, acting minister of militia, that this type of building is particularly sought for by the Canadian cavalry, infantry and mounted rifles, instead of those costing $750,000 to $1,000,000. It is estimated that $1,000,000 to the militia department to pay for the machine gun which he offered to donate. Ottawa, July 21.—There is to be a stimulation of training in machine gun work. As many Canadians as possible will be trained to run these guns.

One of the many enthusiastic users writes: "I received the trial bottle of Absorbine, Jr., all right and at that time was unable to walk without a cane, just around my house. I used it freely and inside of two days could walk without limping, something I had not done in two months. I went to the drug store and procured a $1.00 bottle and today can walk as good as ever. I never be without it. I am recommending it to everyone I can, for I am a living witness."

MINISTER AND GIRL ARE DROWNED; ONE SAVED

Gloucester, July 21—Rev. Arthur Pingree of Norwood and one girl, while bathing at Wingate's Beach, West Gloucester, were drowned. They were brought to the beach by bystanders unconscious.
Pulmoners were taken to the scene but Pingree and the girl, Miss Helen Perkins, also of Norwood, were dead.
Mr. Pingree was about thirty-five and was formerly pastor of Congregational Church, Pigeon Cove. He had come to the beach for a day. Mr. Pingree married a daughter of the late Moses Merrill, headmaster of the Boston Latin School. A third girl, Helen Masters, was saved. The girls were among a group of Norwood Campfire Girls who were camping at Pigeon Cove. One of the girls swam out beyond her depth and when Mr. Pingree and another went to their rescue. All were soon in distress. A boat was launched and their unconscious bodies were recovered.

DOING ONE'S BIT BY SAVING MONEY

Thrift Has Become a Personal as Well as a National Concern

(Montreal Merchant)

We have now had nearly a year of war and in the interval we have had occasion to change our view point on most things of our former thrifty respect to the individual's expenditure. We look our cue from Westminster at that kept up spending money. There is nothing as usual" was the slogan. To keep the empire busy was to provide the funds wherewith to supply the necessities of war. The imperial government desired this and the people loyally endeavored to spend as freely as prudence would allow. But now we are counseled to save our money. Even if some industries and some businesses must suffer, save what you can; that is the slogan today. Save your money for the empire may need it.

The demands of the situation are enormous. Fifteen million dollars a day must be provided by the people of the British Empire alone. Not the British government, but the British people must provide the money. The fight is a family affair, and we shall have to sacrifice the wealth we have been storing up all these years. There is nothing else to do. We cannot go out hunting moose, without wasting, as it were, some of the results of our former thrift; and we cannot go out shooting Germans without taking of the wealth we have laid by to provide the munitions and pay the other expenses of the undertaking. We shall have to do this at the rate of fifteen million dollars a day.

The British government will act as the assembling agency for all this wealth, but in the last analysis the people have to provide it out of their savings, or what can be borrowed, on the security of their savings, which in effect amounts to the same thing. The people cannot have money or its equivalent if they squander it in luxuries or things of fleeting value. But if they save it, or put it into some permanent form, it will be available when wanted and can be at the empire's service. That, then, is the reason for the present attitude.

This war is a destructive business. When fifteen million dollars is spent in firing off shells out of guns that themselves become worn out and need replacement, we are not doing work that is productive in a material sense. So it becomes our duty to conserve our resources. Whatever is wasteful, we should seek to eschew.

WELCOME NEWS IF TRUE

The most significant item of today's war news appears to be the paragraph in Premier Asquith's speech in which he says that "advances to our allies might also grow as adhesions to our cause of those states which did not take part in the war in the early stages came forward."

This is taken as a reference to Greece and the Balkan States. The war party in Greece is in the ascendant, as a result of the recent elections, and will soon be in power. Roumania has shown her sympathies by stopping the flow of munitions from Germany to Turkey.

Bulgaria is regarded as likely to listen to the counsel of Greece, whose influence would heal the breach with Serbia. If these countries should come in, at a time when the Allies are predicting that within six weeks they will have Constantinople at their mercy, the whole aspect of the war in the southern and eastern field would be changed.

It is assumed that Mr. Asquith has meant, and it is natural to make that assumption because he is not a man to give unwarranted assurances. The process of tightening the coils about the enemy goes steadily if slowly on. When will the United States give its adhesion to the cause of the Allies?

THE PEACE TALK

Miss Jane Addams cannot understand why proposals looking to peace are not more seriously considered by the nations. In her mind the great end to be achieved is peace. What she apparently fails to grasp is the fact that no lasting peace is possible until Prussian militarism and German savagery have been utterly crushed.

What is this war about? Have the nations merely rushed at each other through love of slaughter? Before we can talk of peace we must decide in our own minds the merits of the quarrel, its causes, the relative justice of the claims of the combatants, and the condition of affairs which will prevail in the world when the war is over.

Mr. Lloyd George gives daily proof of his splendid ability and his remarkable hold upon the confidence and regard of the people of Great Britain. St. Andrew's Society of Fredericton points the way to other organizations in New Brunswick in providing a machine gun for the Canadian troops.

Premier Asquith's speech in the House of Commons yesterday gives emphasis to the points touched on by the Maritime Merchant in an article which is reproduced in today's Times. The province of Ontario will provide five hundred machine guns for the Canadian forces. This will be a most helpful contribution for the present is a machine gun and big gun war.

St. John is doing well in the matter of machine guns. The city should also be represented by an aeroplane at the front. No other city in Canada has suffered less from the ill effects of the war, and the people can afford to be liberal. The final draft of the new American note to Germany has been approved, but no hint of its nature is given out. If it coincides with the views expressed by American newspapers, it will insist upon a change in the German policy of submarine warfare, and upon a prompt reply.

DOING OUR BIT

The Times prints today an article from the Maritime Merchant on the subject of "doing one's bit by saving money." Thoughtful readers will find in it a point of view that is of special importance at the present time. We in St. John have experienced no serious business or financial difficulties thus far during the war, but what of the period after the war? Moreover, we are still far from the end of the war, and if the British Empire is now spending fifteen million dollars per day for war purposes, the depletion of wealth will be such as to stagger even the imagination by the time peace is restored. The Merchant therefore gives good counsel when he tells the people to conserve their resources and economize wherever it is possible. It is very difficult to impress people with the gravity of the situation so long as work and wages are plentiful and life goes on in an almost normal manner, but they must be impressed and made to understand what the war involves for the future or they will eventually feel the pinch of want as it is even now being felt in some parts of Canada less fortunate than these eastern provinces. It is not contended that there should be any slackening of legitimate business or industry, but a watchful scanning of personal and family expenditures with an eye to the lean year or years ahead, and with a desire that all possible financial help may be given to aid in prosecuting the war and caring for the men and the families of the men who are pleading their lives that the Empire may survive the shock and strain of this awful war.

Let us hope the Balkan states will come in. Meanwhile, are we doing all we can ourselves? How many husky fellows with no good reason for it are in St. John today when they ought to be at Valcartier?

THE GRAPTERS.

The revelations made at the enquiry by Commissioner Chandler at Fredericton yesterday cannot fail to cause a most painful impression throughout the province. Following as they do the Southampton Railway revelations and those relating to the timber lands and the St. John Valley Railway, they strengthen the conviction that graft and political dishonesty were never so widespread in New Brunswick as they have been during the past three or four years.

The connection of Mr. Robichaud, M. P. E., with the Gloucester County transactions can hardly escape the notice of Premier Clarke. What will he do about it? The evidence of the witness Chaisson proves that there were padded pay lists, and that the province was shamelessly swindled in connection with the work. The ten years old son of a foreman figured on the pay sheets for $170. Chaisson appears also to have been paid for some lumber by both the provincial and federal governments. As usual, an important document was missing. An important witness was not present, though served with a subpoena and given his expense money. Several other important witnesses also failed to appear yesterday.

Mr. Veniot, however, was able by one witness alone to prove more than he had charged, and the enquiry has only begun. Naturally the people of the province, reading the sordid story of public plunder, ask themselves how much more of this sort of thing would be revealed if all public contracts in all parts of the province were investigated and the complete record of administration in every department of the government laid bare. That the government itself is not at all shocked by the revelations is apparent from the fact that its organ, the Standard, gives but a meagre report of the proceedings at Fredericton yesterday for the looters of the provincial treasury. To get a change of method it will be necessary to get a change of government.

Mr. Lloyd George gives daily proof of his splendid ability and his remarkable hold upon the confidence and regard of the people of Great Britain. St. Andrew's Society of Fredericton points the way to other organizations in New Brunswick in providing a machine gun for the Canadian troops.

If it coincides with the views expressed by American newspapers, it will insist upon a change in the German policy of submarine warfare, and upon a prompt reply.

The evacuation of Arzew by the Russians is anticipated. It is insisted, however, that the capture of the city, while the Russian armies remain unbeaten in the field, will be of no permanent advantage to the Austro-Germans. Nevertheless, we would prefer to read of a Russian victory.

Premier Asquith said yesterday that the war expenditure in the first seven days of July had been £24,000,000, and showed a tendency to increase from day to day. This emphasizes the plea for national saving, and a wise economy of resources in every direction, while at the same time the war is prosecuted with ever increasing energy.

A time of war, when the national existence is imperilled, is not a time for strikes. The able-bodied men who attempt to paralyze an industry for their personal benefit, when they ought to be in the trenches fighting for their country, are public enemies. The Welsh miners have forced the hand of the British government, but it will do them no good in the end.

A Lowell barber advertised for an assistant, but through a typographical error the advertisement read: "Wanted, a barber." Out of four applicants who applied for the job two said they were "barbers" out of work, while a third admitted that he did not know what a "barber" was, but that he would like to learn the trade.

J. N. Foss of Millbridge, Me., is said to have discovered the long lost art of tempering copper. He has this work down so fine now that he can make articles from copper that will give a man a first-class shave.

FLANDERS.

I have seen the Vision Splendid, in the narrow muddy ditch I have seen Death's finger beckon to the lads, both poor and rich I have shuddered at the silence when the Roll Call answered which Of us was marching home.

I have heard the whirling motors in the shadows of the night I have marked their phantoms wheeling in the misty morning light And I thought their souls escaping from the long and weary fight, As they went sighing o'er.

I have heard the gun's dread warning, when they spat their deadly hate; I have seen the sharpshooters hurrying o'er the ranks marked down by Fate. I have killed, and killed more grimly, when beside me fell my mate; And went so quiet home.

I have seen the Vision Splendid, 'twas at breaking of the dawn, That I heard a piteous crying, from a little child's form. In his hands he held a lily, its petals stained and torn.

His little face was wistful, while he took his slipper; "Turn down the road to where, so very quietly Death's harvest garnered lay. Then I heard him singing sweetly to the dead to come away, And I was left alone.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Useless! Doctor—Is your wife strong-minded enough to see that you positively refrain from eating sweets? Patient—"Sure, doctor! She's got spunk enough to make me pass up the candy and pastry and all that as long as she's allowed to eat it herself."

Not Seen in Daytime A farmer worked his harvest hands from 4 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night. A man looking for work hollered to a hand over in the big wheat field, asking him if he could get a job. He was advised to ask at the house.

"How do I get there?" asked the applicant. "You go down this field," said the haggard laborer, "turn down the road to the barn, turn to the left and follow the lane." "What color is the house painted?" asked the applicant, doubtfully. "I don't know," said the harvest hand. "I ain't never seen it in daylight."

"What do you consider the most important event in the history of Paris?" "Well," replied the tourist who had grown weary of distributing tips, "so far as financial prosperity is concerned, I should say the discovery of America was the making of the town."

PREMIER ASQUITH'S SPEECH ON WAR VOTE London, July 20.—In moving the new vote of credit of £150,000,000 in the house of commons today, Premier Asquith announced that for the first seven days of July the war expenditure had been £24,000,000, and that the rate of expenditure showed daily a natural tendency to rise. The item of loans to allies of Great Britain might also, the premier pointed out, grow with the adhesion to the allied cause of states not yet participating in the war. The premier estimated that £100,000,000 would carry Great Britain to the end of September, but in view of possible contingencies he advised the house to increase the total to £150,000,000. The premier drew special attention to a change in the wording of the vote of credit which in the present case empowers the government to expend money in loans on grants to other states than those falling within the category of "his majesty's dominions, protectorates or allied powers."

The premier significantly emphasized that the limitation was purposely omitted in this case. "We think it desirable in the existing situation," he said, "that we should have rather wider powers in respect to countries or states to which advances may possibly be made, and I am sure that the house will agree that the government should have in this matter a free hand." Premier Asquith touched on the cotton question during the debate in the house of commons on the new vote of credit. "The government is not without hope," he said, "that we shall obtain without much delay a more satisfactory and more adequate solution of the various difficulties surrounding the cotton question than has yet been possible. I am not satisfied myself with the existing state of things. I believe a great deal of this material, which is a necessary ingredient in the manufacture of some very formidable kinds of ammunition, reaches the enemy, which ought not to reach him. On the other hand, we have to be very careful in the exercise of our belligerent rights not unduly to infringe on the trading interests and legitimate susceptibilities of neutral powers with which we are on terms of perfect amity and with which we do not desire to provoke anything in the nature of unnecessarily gratuitous quarrel."

Every 10c Packet of WILSON'S FLY PADS WILL KILL MORE FLIES THAN 50¢ WORTH OF ANY STICKY-FLY-CATCHER. An old Scotsman who had scraped together a comfortable fortune was persuaded by his family, much against his own will, to take a holiday. He went to Egypt and visited the Pyramids. After gazing for some time at the Great Pyramid he muttered—"Man what a lot of mason-work not to be brought in any rent!"

A BRITISH GAIN London, July 20, 9.42 p. m.—Field Marshal Sir John French today made the following announcement in a report to the war office: "Yesterday evening after successfully exploding a mine just west of the Chateau of Hooge, east of Ypres, our troops occupied about 150 yards of the enemy's trenches. This gain has since been consolidated. "We captured fifteen prisoners, including two officers, and also two machine guns. Two other German machine guns were destroyed by the explosion. "Elsewhere on the front there is nothing to report." Rheims Violently Bombaraded. Paris, via London, July 20, 11.50

PREMIER NORRIS SETS FORTH HIS PLATFORM In an appeal to the electors of Manitoba, Premier Norris pledges that the Liberal government will carry out in detail the policy set forth by the party when in opposition. He promises that the probing into the wrong-doing of the Roblin government will be continued without relaxation, that the law will be invoked to force restitution of the funds ill-gotten from the public treasury and to punish the guilty ones. Now that the Liberal government is in power it reaffirms its devotion to the reforms previously demanded. The programme is the same as the platform of 1914, with the one exception which has been enlarged by the action of the Liberal members in the late legislature when "prohibition" was substituted for "banishment of the bar."

PERSONAL APPEAL FROM MEN IN THE TRENCHES

(Halifax Echo)

Truro, July 15.—"Every man at home who has a comrade in the trenches or at the front should enlist if he has no disabilities to prevent them. Let me tell the men at home that the men in the trenches expect them to get into uniform and come forward to help them. This is the personal appeal from the boys who are fighting for us in Flanders," said Captain W. H. Allen, of the Daily Echo representative, who called on him in Truro on Saturday.

To Young Men

"We need men, we need them in the worst way—not that we are losing, but it's a full team job. The boys at the front are the best they make. The leadership of young men at home is needed. There are all over this province young men with the natural born abilities as leaders of men, with family position without dependence, well educated, who have enjoyed all the privileges of a home life, and who should step up, enlist and thereby break the way for hundreds of others who are waiting for them to take the lead.

"All these men could be reached—recruiting is a job for the preachers and the women. The latter should make them go. There are a few who believe in conscription but when it comes we shall hang our heads in shame. I have seen many young men around here who are not working. They are the right material—they are needed. They need waking up. If those same men could take a peep into conditions at the front and see that innocent people there are suffering they would lose no time in getting their coats off and into the fight.

"What we need is to get our dander up. Here is the strongest personal appeal I know of—it does not reach the hearts of the men at home I know of nothing that will. It is the personal appeal from the men in the trenches who by men who had no military training previous to the war, through their good qualities of leadership. The main objects for such a man is a set purpose, a determination to stay with the game and just plain, common sense.

The situation at the front today is one of the most desperate in the history of the world. It is a matter of life and death. The Germans are doing their best to break through the lines. The British are doing their best to hold them back. The Canadian has the courage and his capacity for hard work is unequalled. It was the wonderful cheerfulness of the Canadian troops as they were brought back from the front that won the English speaking people that made the English never tire of talking about Canadian pluck and endurance and courage.

Experience in the Ranks

"To those young men in Nova Scotia who hesitate to enter the army because they wait for a commission let me say that the experience gained in the ranks is invaluable in training an officer. It gives a man that knowledge of men which is the essential in making a leader. He knows from experience. In England today hundreds of men of the highest social position are in the ranks. There is nothing in this talk about the English slacker when you think that the best troops in the world are the British. The men of the highest rank in the army are the British. They are not waiting for a commission, they are in uniform and in the ranks where they could learn by contact and where they are doing their duty and setting an example of tremendous value. The whole duty of the man at home today is to put himself in the ranks. There is no other way to get into the ranks. The young men in their vacations should be learning to do their duty and to be more proficient and in every possible way gathering military knowledge."

Updated Canada's Honor

Captain Allen, asked if the men at the front really realized the situation from a Canadian standpoint, answered: "If the men at Ypres had not considered it Canada's honor and life to hold the line they could never have done so. The stand that was made at Ypres answers for all time any question of Canada's place in the Empire and the loyalty of the men at home. The men at the front are proud to be privileged to step into the shoes of the men who fought at Ypres and Langemarck. From now on men should step right forward. There should be no more excuses. Every man who does not get to the front and is not prevented by disabilities should give a thought to the fact that war should be considered a fight for every man in the Empire."

BRITAIN'S NAVY IS DOING THINGS

Policy of Silence Keeps Germans in Suspense

SUBMARINES ARE SUNK

Leaving German Seamen to Wonder Vainly Why They Never Come Back Afloat

Montréal, July 21.—"The British navy is not inactive in the face of the submarine danger, as those who do not know the truth are apt to believe. From the greatest ship to the smallest, they are all being put to some sort of use, and you will be surprised to hear that the navy is accomplishing actual and useful work all the time, even though the German navy does not come out to fight. I do not mean only in a fight against submarines. There is a search for war vessels which leaves port that does not bring back anything with it. It may only be a trawler which the Germans have sent out masquerading under a neutral flag to lay mines or to supply submarines with petrol, or in some cases a submarine has been actually sunk. I am acquainted with many naval officers, and in my visits to England I have had talks with some of them about their work. Take it from me, the navy is not sleeping."

As for submarines, the English have disposed of many that you have never heard of. Take the case of a Dutch trawler, the Isle of Man, which was captured as compared with the task undertaken. The British navy has captured a submarine, the U-10, and a British crew and guns were substituted, and the British vessel got out of sight. By and by a submarine for petrol, and a shell settled her. Altogether three submarines were destroyed before the Germans found out that the British had the vessel. Other supply ships and supply sources were found by the British and the Germans are afraid to go near any base of supplies established near any port now, for fear of something unpleasant is awaiting them.

"The trawlers, which have been taken over by the Admiralty, are also proving good fishermen for submarines. Then there are the wire cable nets placed here and there around the British Isles in places submarines would be likely to close. These are effective, and the net from the Goodwin Sands to France, which everybody knows about now, has forced all the submarines to go around the north of Scotland.

"There is no justice in running down the navy. When the allied armies get the Germans on land at sea, the end of the war will not be far distant."

CULTIVATION OF FLAX

"It is only a question of intelligent cooperation between the government and the farmers and flax producers to secure a sufficient quantity of the flax—raw material of the linen trade—in order to make possible the building up of a large and prosperous flax industry in the Dominion of Canada. It is simply a question of the production of the raw material and the investment of sufficient capital in manufacturing the same into flax yarn and linens." Thus spoke Geo. H. Campbell, President of the Canadian Flax Mills, Limited, at a conference recently held of flax dealers, growers and mill-owners in London, Ontario. Mr. Campbell's address upon the importance of the industry, described the cultivation of flax from its sowing to maturity, and detailed the process of its manufacture into fibre for commercial purposes.

An important point that he alluded to was that the climate and soil of Ontario are particularly adapted to flax-growing. A report of the proceedings at the conference is embodied in an eleven page pamphlet that can be had free by addressing the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and that in addition contains a complete account of a visit to the Demonstration Plant of the Feuillette Retting System at Goderville, France, given in an address by Albert Durant, secretary of the French Flax Spinners' Association. Mr. Durant goes minutely into particulars of the system, detailing the machinery required, the cost involved and all the operations necessary until the manufactured product is ready to be placed upon the market. James G. Crawford, the translator, in a foot note at the end, remarks: "It must be borne in mind that the high price of $22 a ton for the flax represents first-class straw saved in good condition, but the same straw badly saved might not fetch $9 a ton. Land is dearer and taxes higher in France than in Canada, and all these elements in the cost. On the other hand labor is cheaper."

There is but one deduction to be drawn from the pamphlet and that is the increased production of flax in Canada might prove remunerative. It might be added that the prospects are greatly improved by the existing situation in Europe, Northern France and Belgium particularly being the almost exclusive centres of growth and manufacture.

SESSION OF THE COUNTY COUNCIL IMPORTANT ONE

Sum of $22,469 Proposed For County Hospital

BONDS FOR LANCASTER SEWERAGE

Denomination of $250 - Proposed to go to Fredericton For Legislation to Compel Street Railway to Complete Little River Extension

There was a practically full attendance at the county council meeting yesterday, Warden H. H. McLellan presiding. A motion was brought up that $1,000 be expended on the work of indexing the bills of sale of the county, the money to be taken at the end of the year from the balance due to the county treasurer, in proportion to the work done.

Completing New Hospital

H. B. Schofield, chairman of the St. John County Hospital Commission, appeared before the council to request a grant amounting in all to $22,469 for the completion of the equipping of the hospital. He presented detailed statements of the construction and maintenance accounts. In the former there was a debit balance of $740 and in the latter a credit balance of $4,647. He explained that it had been estimated that it would cost $23,000 to finish the hospital and run for three months, October, November and December next.

The warden—"If this money is forthcoming will it mean the completion of the hospital?" Mr. Schofield—"Yes, I think so."

Mr. Schofield—"Yes, I think so."

Mr. Schofield—"Yes, I think so."

Mr. Schofield—"Yes, I think so."

Mr. Schofield—"Yes, I think so."

Mr. Schofield—"Yes, I think so."

Mr. Schofield—"Yes, I think so."

The special sub-committee recommended that legislation be applied for at the next session of the legislature "to compel the St. John Street Railway Company to carry out their agreement."

This, when proposed substantially to the council, was carried without discussion and unanimously.

It was decided to pay the bill of $10 for the repair of clothing of Policeman J. H. Saunders and that he be retained in the county service at the former salary.

J. S. Gregory wrote asking for a hearing before the proper body to show that his assessment in Lancaster was too high. He will be directed to the proper authority.

The nominating of delegates to the New Brunswick Association of Municipalities to be held at Fredericton in August, was left with the warden. Unsettled Bills.

Councillor Golding brought in a resolution to restrict the placing of bill boards in places where they would be unsightly, and asking for legislation on the matter.

The county secretary explained that the council already had the necessary legislation, passed in the act of 1913, to prevent needless bill boards, and all the councillor would have to do would be to notify which were not wanted and the license would be withdrawn.

Councillor Howard—"There must be something wrong with it, for it took five or six weeks to get a bill board removed from Peter street, in Fairville."

Councillor Potts—"Well, it took you even more time to get some steps removed."

Councillor Carson moved, and it was agreed, that County Policeman Saunders be given a khaki uniform as his work was so much dirtier than that of a policeman on the Bay Shore at a salary of $2 a day, and that the other policemen of the county be paid at the same rate.

Councillor Wigmore moved that the appointment of a policeman should be something more than a political job, and been looked upon as one. They should know what time and what places the policeman should patrol.

Councillor Howard asked if the work of the valuers had been completed, and if they had been paid.

Councillor Howard—"I heard in an indirect way that they were complaining that they could not get their money."

The warden—"I have not heard that one."

Lancaster Sewerage. Councillor J. O'Brien brought up a lengthy and technical resolution for the extension of the sewerage system in Lancaster on the lines discussed some months ago at the council. He supported it with a petition from the whole of the residents in the district. The resolution read:

"Whereas, it is desirable to extend the benefits of the sewerage to the districts hereinafter mentioned, and described and to provide for the installation of a sewerage system and to pay for the same by an issue of debentures as hereinafter set forth; therefore the council of the city and county of St. John do hereby extend and enlarge the operations of the parish of Lancaster sewerage act, 1913, to include the portion of the parish of Lancaster described as follows:

"All that certain tract of land situate, lying and being within the parish of Lancaster in the city and county of St. John and the province of New Brunswick bounded as follows: Beginning on the southwestern boundary line of the city of St. John at the northwestern corner, or angle of Lancaster sewerage district, as extended by resolution of council, dated May 18, 1913; going thence southeasterly along the said boundary of the city of St. John crossing the tracks of the Canadian Pacific Railway to a prolongation of the southeastern boundary line of the lands owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway, thence southwesterly along the said prolongation of the said line crossing City Line street, so called, sixty-six feet to the southwestern line thereof; thence northwesterly, along the said line of the lands of the Canadian Pacific Railway and lots fronting on Lowell street; going thence southwesterly and westerly along the Canadian Pacific Railway boundary line to its intersection with an extension of the rear line of lots fronting on City Line, as aforesaid, formerly known as the Hassan and Ker-igan properties; thence northwesterly along the said line and prolongation thereof to the Bay Shore road in a direction at right angles thereto to the western line thereof; thence northwesterly along the said line to the rear line of the lot designated as lot No. 72 fronting on a portion of the said Bay Shore Road, sometimes known as Chapel street; thence westerly along the rear line of the said lots fronting on the said Chapel street and an extension thereof to St. John street extension or Dufferin Row; thence northwesterly along the line of the said Dufferin Row being the boundary of the Lancaster sewerage district as extended in 1913 to the place of beginning; and further

"Resolved, that for the carrying out of the extension of the sewerage system of the parish of Lancaster aforesaid within the district herein before described, it is ordered that bonds to the amount of $10,000, in addition to bonds already issued, be now issued to raise a loan to pay for the construction of the sewers in the said district, such bonds to be of the denomination of $250 each and to be repayable at the expiration of twenty years from the date of issue with interest thereon payable semi-annually by coupons at the rate of five per cent per annum, such bonds to be issued in accordance with the terms of the Public Loan Act of 1908 and the terms of the Lancaster Sewerage Act 1903 and amending acts."

This was seconded by Councillor Golding and after some discussion as to the advisability of making the denomination of the bonds smaller, possibly in Lancaster, and in the case of the resolution was passed unanimously.

CHURCHILL ON DUTCH POLICY

Neutrality Correct Attitude, He Says, But to be Prepared For Invasion is Wise - No Danger From Allies

London, July 20.—The Daily Telegraph prints what purports to be an interview granted by Winston Spencer Churchill, former First Lord of the British Admiralty, to the London correspondent of the Miesse Rotterdamche Courant, and sent by the Daily Telegraph's Rotterdam correspondent. It deals mainly with the question of Dutch neutrality.

Mr. Churchill, in the interview, did not conceal his opinion that geographically and strategically the territorial arrangement of the mouth of the River Scheldt appeared to him unusual and that it doubtless had done harm to the cause of the Allies.

If Antwerp had been able to obtain transports along the Scheldt, Mr. Churchill said, the city need not have fallen. At the same time, he admitted that had the Netherlands permitted such a violation of its neutrality, it would have been attacked and probably, he said, had a right to expect such a sacrifice from the Netherlands.

Mr. Churchill was emphatic in stating that the Allies would not under any circumstances attempt to exert pressure on the Netherlands to make it abandon its neutrality, but while there was no danger from the Allies, the Dutch were doing well to be prepared, for, he declared, "a free Netherlands cannot exist with a German Antwerp, and Germany may be forced to attack Holland."

"Germany," Mr. Churchill continued, "is getting into the position of a wild beast in its cage that sees the flame getting nearer and nearer and makes separate dashes left and right. Fortunately, you have a great and brave army. And then your wonderful waterline."

Repeating that Holland had nothing to fear from the Allies, even now or when peace came to be concluded, Mr. Churchill ended the interview by expressing the opinion that the Allies must be when reminded that the Russians were drawing back, the First Lord of the Admiralty added: "Well, then, perhaps not this year, then next year. Our people are tough and tenacious."

CONFESSES TO KILLING FOUR. Chicago, July 21.—Police of several cities delved into records of mysterious axe murders while two Chicago detectives and Mayor Jones of Blue Island, Ill., left for Buffalo to bring back Casimir Arzieski, who is said to have confessed to the murder of Jacob Misch, his wife, and his daughter, Mrs. Mary Mansfield, and her baby, Mary Mansfield, on Blue Island on July 5, 1914. Arzieski was a boarder at the Misch home, and he told the Buffalo police that he waited until the family was asleep and then killed his victims with an axe.

The similarity of the series of axe murders which began four years ago in Colorado Springs, stretched across the country to Ellsworth, Kan., to Monmouth, Ill., then to Villisca, Ia., and east to Boston, led the police to believe that perhaps one man was responsible for all the crimes.

The murder of the four persons on Blue Island brought the total number of victims to thirty-one.

CHURCHILL ON DUTCH POLICY

Neutrality Correct Attitude, He Says, But to be Prepared For Invasion is Wise - No Danger From Allies

London, July 20.—The Daily Telegraph prints what purports to be an interview granted by Winston Spencer Churchill, former First Lord of the British Admiralty, to the London correspondent of the Miesse Rotterdamche Courant, and sent by the Daily Telegraph's Rotterdam correspondent. It deals mainly with the question of Dutch neutrality.

Mr. Churchill, in the interview, did not conceal his opinion that geographically and strategically the territorial arrangement of the mouth of the River Scheldt appeared to him unusual and that it doubtless had done harm to the cause of the Allies.

If Antwerp had been able to obtain transports along the Scheldt, Mr. Churchill said, the city need not have fallen. At the same time, he admitted that had the Netherlands permitted such a violation of its neutrality, it would have been attacked and probably, he said, had a right to expect such a sacrifice from the Netherlands.

Between the ages of 6 and 12 Here is advice for parents It is between the ages of 6 and 12 that the jaws as a rule fail to develop to their normal size, writes H. P. Fickler, M. D., a world-quoted authority. During this period, therefore, the need for generous mastication (chewing) is imperative, the eminent Doctor continues. For new and larger teeth are coming. The jawbone must grow normally to accommodate them. Otherwise "crowding" of teeth is very apt to follow—and "crowded" teeth invite lodgment of food particles between them. The food particles make the acid which hastens decay. At this period of the child's life chewing of Sterling Gum gives the jaw much needed exercise—promoting full growth and full room for the important second set of teeth. Welcomed as a "gooey," the delicious peppermint flavor of Sterling Gum pleases the children while doing them good. This may sound interesting enough to you to be the 7th Sterling point. A Remedy For All Pain "The efficacy of any drug" says Dr. C. P. Robinson, "is shown to us by the results it obtains from its use. If we are able to compare, we certainly are warranted in the opinion that the efficacy of any medicine is shown in its ability to relieve pain. If we can arrest this promptly, the patient is most likely to trust in us for the other remedies which will effect a permanent cure. One remedy which I have used largely in my practice is Anker-Pain-Expeller. Many and varied cases have been taken. They appear to prevent the headache of malaria origin, where quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the headache of a neuritic origin, and especially of women subjected to such overstrain. Two Anti-Kamagra pills, and especially the latter, and in a short time the patient is free from all pain. These pills may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A. K. The Man In The Street

Tut, tut! The weather man will have to do better than this for the picnic tomorrow.

Every appetite that goes up river tomorrow will be an asset to the Red Cross Society.

Provincial government today is debating whether the Mistake would be a mistake as the terminal of the Valley Railway.

The government seem to have enough mistakes on their record to mark their finish.

If our government had the price of 500 machine guns, like the Ontario government, it is a safe bet that they would keep the guns for self-protection at the next election.

Ontario clergymen must be of the militant brand; the ministerial association seeks to promote peace by the contribution of a machine gun.

"Only a miracle can save Warsaw." Well, it will take more than a miracle to save the Germans, ultimately.

Drafting notes and letters seems to be the popular international sport at present.

The Gloucester investigation seems to show that government foreman with a large family had no cause to fear the high cost of living. But it must have been an able-bodied ten-year-old who would earn $32 in ten days.

The Canadian Union of Municipalities wants the government to find work for the unemployed. Our municipality is already helping to solve that problem, with the aid of the jail gang.

Heavy Contributors
"Do you know who pays more war taxes, according to their means, than anyone else?" asked the sleeping car porter.

"If that's a conundrum, I give it up," the passenger answered.
"It's no conundrum, or whatever you call it, it's just plain facts," said the porter. "It's us. Since the war taxes were put on, my eye have slumped something scandalous. Near as I can figure it out the gentlemen just knocked off the extra war tax they have to pay on their berth tickets. You'd be surprised to know how many ten, fifteen and twenty-cent tips we get now instead of the regular quarter. I reckon that, by the time the war is over, I'll have contributed a machine gun or two to the government, myself."

LETTER FROM DRIVER NASH
Driver F. Nash in a letter to his wife, No. 29 Clarence street, from somewhere in France says: "We are having fine weather over here, with very little rain. This is certainly some country. You should see the women working on the farms, as the men are very scarce. We are all kept busy with very little time held sports of all kinds and in the evening a sing-song, making the day very enjoyable. On other evenings we have baseball and cricket, which all helps to pass the time away."

RAISE $100 FOR PEWS
The sum of $100 was realized for the purpose of purchasing pews for St. Paul's church, Whitehead, as the result of the efforts of a committee, under the leadership of Miss Annie Megaw, who served dinner and tea at the Orange-men's picnic on July 12. The lodges from Whitehead, Long Reach and the surrounding district, headed by the file and drum band of White's Mills, marched from the hall to A. E. Macgaw's grounds, where the picnic was held. There was a series of games and sports, and in one of the games the winner was an octogenarian, while the second man was nearly as old.

R. M. Hope of Chatham Has Enlisted—Machine Guns From Moncton

A Motor Ambulance.

A motor ambulance for service at the front with the First Canadian Division as the gift of the Women's Institutes of New Brunswick has been sent out to the Women's Institutes to bring the fund up to the required amount before the time set for delivery of the ambulance, six weeks hence.

Machine Guns from Moncton.

At a meeting of the Moncton city council this week, Mayor McAnn said that our boys at the front are armed with only four machine guns per regiment against twelve to sixteen guns in the view of this it was wonderful what they have done under such handicaps. He thought that Moncton should give at least two Maxim guns, and as many more as the citizens desire to purchase. "We have $300 on hand returned from the soup kitchen fund, let us add $40 more to go forward a check to Ottawa immediately."

His Worship's remarks were greeted with loud applause and the motion to forward the check was passed. His Worship suggested that Ald. Belliveau hold sports at the playground on League Day, the proceeds to be devoted to the purchase of still another machine gun, and the affair be under the supervision of the city officials. This was enthusiastically agreed upon.

The Moncton Transcript acknowledges subscriptions amounting to $14.50 toward the purchase of a machine gun.

The Sons of Cumberland.

The Amherst News says that Cumberland county leads Nova Scotia and has sent nearly 700 men into military service. Five hundred of these men signed their papers for overseas service with the 17th Highlanders, 29th Battalion, the Heavy Artillery, 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles, and the 4th Battalion. The remainder include the men who will guard Canada.

Private Page's Injuries

Of the injuries of Private Elijah Page, of Woodstock, now in hospital in England, a nurse wrote from a hospital in France: "I saw him yesterday (June 8th) at No. 11 St. Andrew's Hospital, Rouen. He has been very badly wounded, poor man, but he is going to get better. Every day he has his knee in plaster and he has gone through, I know you will feel thankful he is alive. He has lost one eye and has his knee injured, but all the other injuries will get better. They also took a large piece of shell out of his purse which he had in his pocket, otherwise that would have gone into his heart, so you see he has had a narrow escape. He will go to England as soon as he can travel."

SUES ST. JOHN NEGRO FOR $5,000 FOR ALIENATION

Maine Farmer Thought it Was Too Much When Wife Bought Theo. Hamilton an Automobile

(Bangor Commercial)

Dover-Foxcroft, July 20—Because his wife purchased an automobile and presented it to a colored farmhand, Algine B. Whiting, a prosperous Dover farmer on Monday afternoon brought suit against Theodore Hamilton, who claims to be John N.B., as his residence for alienation of his wife's affections and the sum named in the papers served is $5,000. The woman in the case is Mrs. Flora Whiting, aged about 30 years. The attorney for the plaintiff is Harry Lee Smith of Dover. The papers were served late on Monday afternoon and the car which Mr. Whiting alleges his wife purloined and presented to Hamilton was attached.

The suit came as a result of a visit of Mr. Whiting to Dover village and early on Monday morning. Mr. Whiting, who formerly lived in Newport and who is said to be possessed of a good amount of this world's goods, came to the village and at first visited the office at the county jail where he related his troubles to Deputy Sheriff Plummer Chadbourne. As there seemed to be nothing in the criminal line possible the farmer was advised to seek the advice of an attorney. The suit came as a result.

Mr. Whiting, who seemed distracted because of his domestic difficulties, related them to all who would listen. His story was substantially as follows: Hamilton was hired as a farm hand on the Whiting farm several months ago and after working two or three weeks became a boarder. Mr. Whiting, according to his story, had little faith to find until several days ago when his wife went to Bangor and drew a part of $1,000 from a bank and purchased a touring car which she presented to Hamilton. Neither Whiting, his wife or Hamilton was able to operate the car. The climax, according to Whiting, came on Sunday morning. Mrs. Whiting telephoned to Dover village and engaged a chauffeur who came to the farm and left with the car with Mrs. Whiting and Hamilton in the back seat. Mr. Whiting told a Commercial reporter that they were absent all day, visiting numerous towns in Piscataquis and West Penobscot counties. As a result of this trip Mr. Whiting came to the village early on Monday morning seeking the law.

The papers in the case were served by Deputy Sheriff Chadbourne on Monday afternoon.
