

URGES MONROE DOCTRINE BE ABOLISHED ENTIRELY

Writer on South American Affairs Suggests Pan-American Defence.

SOUTH AMERICAN HELP IN MEXICAN AFFAIR

Former Minister to Buenos Ayres Favors Inviting Them in Case States is Obligated to Intervene.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 21.—The Monroe doctrine was attacked and defended at today's sessions of the Pan-American conference at Clark University. Geo. F. Tucker of Boston, author of books on South American affairs, urged that the words "Monroe Doctrine" be given up and a policy of Pan-American defense adopted. Prof. Hiram Bingham, of Yale, expressed similar views.

Charles H. Sherrill, former American minister at Buenos Aires, suggested that in case affairs in Mexico should make it necessary for the United States to intervene in Argentina or Brazil or some other South American country be invited to join.

Rear-Admiral Chadwick, U. S. N., retired, and Prof. James M. Callahan, of West Virginia, discussed the doctrine at the afternoon session. Admiral Chadwick held that while the relations of the United States to the larger nations of South America should be as an equal among equals, the question of the Caribbean, the Gulf of Mexico and that part of the Pacific bordering Central America had a different status.

"Under no circumstances," he said, "can we brook any attempt on the part of foreign nations to secure new footholds in these regions. The protection of the Panama Canal, which is so vital a link in our defensive system, demands such an attitude."

Prof. Callahan defended the doctrine saying that it had aided people who were struggling to free themselves from control imposed by European politics. He also prevented the partition of Latin America. He declared that with the development of orderliness in the Caribbean Sea the United States would gladly be relieved from the often embarrassing responsibility which it has sought to preserve constitutional government and peace on the western hemisphere.

INVESTIGATING THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE

Deputy Minister of Labor at Vancouver—Thinks Trouble Will be Amicably Settled—Finds Good Order.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 21.—F. C. Acland, deputy minister of labor, is here on his way east after making an investigation of the coal miners' strike on Vancouver Island. He said:

"The tension which has existed for several months appears to have been greatly relaxed. Excellent order prevails in all the camps and only the technical point of union recognition appears now to prevent a return to normal conditions. It is not quite clear what will take place on this latter point, but the trouble gives every appearance of diminishing."

PLOT TO OVERTHROW CHINESE GOVERNMENT

London, Nov. 22.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Shanghai says the foreign authorities there have discovered documents which reveal a plot of wide ramifications to overthrow the Peking government. The correspondent says the documents show that the revolutionists were promised the assistance of the troops stationed at Shanghai, Hankow and Hankow and in the Kiang Yin and Wu-Sung forts. Six of the plotters have been arrested.

VISITING THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Quebec, Nov. 21.—Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of that province, and Lady Gouin, left for Ottawa this afternoon on special invitation of His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught. Sir Lomer is to be invested with K. C. M. G.

LAWYER COMMITS SUICIDE

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The body of James A. Twopen, an attorney of Washington, D. C., was found in a room in the Grand Union Hotel early this evening. A man had committed suicide with a razor which was found at the side of the bed.

WHITE PLAGUE ON INCREASE IN MONTREAL

President of Royal Edward Institute Sounds Warning Note—Indifference of Citizens and Officials Responsible.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Some plain speaking was indulged in with regard to sanitary conditions in the City of Montreal at today's annual meeting of the Royal Edward Institute for the Study, Prevention and Cure of Tuberculosis.

The Hon. Dr. J. J. Guerin, former mayor, stated that a fully prepared draft of regulations for the department of hygiene had been before the city council for several months—the original draft having been submitted some six years ago—yet nothing had been done to put them in force. The attention of the mayor and council will be called to these facts in an adopted resolution.

Colonel J. H. Burland, president of the institute, gave a none too cheerful account of existing conditions in the city. While much was being accomplished they faced the fact that tuberculosis instead of being checked, was on the increase. He attributed the high tuberculosis death rate to the indifference of the citizens who are not in office and the criminal negligence of those who are.

Mr. Justice Weir concurred in the frank criticism which the chairman offered of existing inefficiency in the city's administrative efforts.

I.C.R. PREPARES FOR INCREASE IN TRAFFIC

Twenty-nine New Locomotives and Hundreds of Cars Ordered to Handle Additional Business.

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 21.—The management of the Intercolonial is making extensive preparations for the increased business expected this winter. Orders have recently been given for large quantities of additional rolling stock, including 29 locomotives, 5 of which are switch engines and the balance heavy freight, four of the Pacific type and 20 consolidated.

Of the locomotive orders fifteen go to the Montreal Locomotive Works, nine to Kingston and five to Toronto Works. Hundreds of additional cars already being procured. The two hundred will doubtless be in a position to handle the greater traffic in an expeditious manner.

PIERCED NEAR THE HEART BY A BULLET

Nova Scotia Bank Clerk Has a Narrow Escape When Rifle is Accidentally Discharged by Companion.

Lusenburg, N. S., Nov. 21.—While skylarking with a revolver which they believed was unloaded, Harold Johnston, a young clerk in the Royal Bank here, was wounded in the breast, when the weapon in the hands of his companion George Connors, clerk in the Bank of Montreal, was discharged. The bullet, which entered six inches below the heart, was extracted, and the victim will recover. The two had been out shooting, and it was after they returned and were unloading the revolvers, that the shooting took place.

U.S. WARSHIPS MOVE TO PROTECT ALL BRITAIN'S INTERESTS IN MEXICO

Constitutionalist Leader at Tuxpam Declares he Will Respect Foreign Property.

WILSON ROUNDLY SCORED BY VARIOUS NEWSPAPERS

Mexican Publication Declares He Must Take Full Responsibility for Charges Which Humanity Will Make Against Francisco Villa.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—The bulk of the evidence at hand continues to indicate that General Huerta is unalterably determined not to accede to the demands of the United States government for his elimination as president of Mexico; but there is some basis for the belief that he may at last give in, but in such a manner as to leave the impression that he acted of his own free will, defying Washington to the last.

The high handed parliamentary practices in the chamber of deputies this afternoon gave rise to considerable speculation.

The roll of members was called and it was quite evident that the number necessary for a quorum was present. But Col. Victor Carril, president in the absence of Eduardo Tamayo, the speaker, who was said to be ill, looked the deputies straight in the eye and declared there was no quorum. Not a deputy protested, and the chamber stood adjourned until tomorrow.

It was suggested that this action might be part of a plan to bring about the death of congress and split hairs with the Washington government which through John Lind, president Wilson's personal representative, had insisted that this new legislative body should not come into existence. Under the law should there be no quorum there is no session.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Rear-Admiral Fletcher, commander of the American fleet on the east coast of Mexico, today cabled the Navy Department a message he had received from General Aguilar, the Mexican constitutionalist leader, who has occupied the vicinity of Tuxpam, giving assurances that American and other consular interests in that territory would be protected.

Admiral Fletcher is under orders to take such steps as may be necessary to protect foreign lives and property, reports from Tuxpam having indicated that the constitutionalists were threatening to destroy the tanks of British oil interests. This led to talk of the possibility of the landing of marines or blue jackets from the American warships, and the admiral stated the situation here was awaited with intense interest.

General Aguilar's message, sent in reply to Admiral Fletcher's demands, that no harm should come to foreigners or their property, said: "I am governing on a constitutional basis, my attitude being to guarantee the interests of all foreign and domestic oil concerns, existing in the territory I occupy, fulfilling in the manner the demands of civilization, and not being governed by vengeance."

Officials here think this means there will be no troublesome developments in the oil fields territory. Destruction of the tanks would have endangered the lives of American and British foreigners. Two British armoured cruisers have been ordered to the scene, but in the meantime the United States has been asked to guard British interests.

"A Money Grubbers' War."

London, Nov. 21.—Under the heading "A Money Grubbers' War," the Outlook today publishes a bitter article on the Mexican situation. "Across the Atlantic," the Outlook says, "there is in busy preparation, if certain forces can accomplish it, a crime against civilization, against humanity. At any moment we may hear of its first overt stages, with inevitably the ensuing slaughter of tens of thousands of young Americans and half-bred peasants, the devastation of humble towns and rude countryside, the sufferings of the helpless and the innocent, and the outpouring of millions of money."

"And all for what or for whom? Wars have been waged for military ambition, but who is the Napoleon of the United States? They have been due to colonial expansion, but half the States are sparsely peopled; and they have been fought for liberty—and what wars have we seen lately sheltering under this claim?"

"But there is no pretense of this or of any of the historic reasons for a war between the United States and Mexico, if it arises, will be the first war waged solely for private greed—the first money grubbers' war."

After saying that the United States have been sipping territory from their neighbors for sixty years and have reduced weak states to obedient dependencies through the Monroe Doctrine, "which means anything it is required to mean," the Outlook predicts that American demagogues will create revolutions in Trinidad and Jamaica, as it alleges they did in Panama, and predicts the annexation of the northern Mexican states.

"If the guides of American opinion, among whom we refrain from mentioning Dr. Wilson," the article concludes, "are to be followed, the article continues on page 2)

INTERVENTION OF U. S. MAY BE DESIRABLE INQUIRY INTO STRANDING OF TURRET CHIEF

American Federation of Labor Refuses to Adopt Resolution Condemning It—May be Justifiable.

Seattle, Wa., Nov. 21.—The American Federation of Labor refused today to adopt a resolution condemning armed intervention in Mexico on the ground that such intervention might be justifiable and desirable.

John Mitchell took the floor and begged the convention not to hamper President Wilson. While he was a peace advocate, he believes there were conditions that sometimes justified war within a nation and between nations. President Gompers said the subject had taken much time of the executive council, which had listened to representations of both Mexican factions and had had much correspondence on the subject.

"We are unconcerned in that connection," he said, "if it means displacement of an armed man like Diaz by another armed man."

Two resolutions endorsing Winston Spencer Churchill's proposal that the United States, Great Britain, and Germany discontinue warship construction for a year were adopted.

The convention virtually declared war on the bricklayers, masons, and plasterers' international union, which is alleged to have made an agreement with the National Association of Marble Dealers, by which the union undertakes to do work properly belonging to marble workers. The bricklayers are not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

SAYS ENSIGN PROPOSED AT THE FIRST MEETING

Wooded and won at their first meeting by an ensign aboard the Terry, torpedo boat destroyer, at the New York Navy Yard, married ten days later and keeping the secret for almost a year was the romance of Mrs. Wallace B. Phillips, of New York city. Before her wedding she was known on the stage as Miss Edith Elliott.

Mrs. Phillips has a husband, but she hasn't got him. The responsibility for this paradox she places on the Mexicans, for her husband is now aboard his ship in Southern waters.

TRAIN STRIKES BOULDER, ENGINE GOES INTO RIVER

First Section of Imperial Limited Wrecked Near Fort William.

PASSENGERS WERE ALL ON TRAIN FOLLOWING

Locomotive Drops Into Seventy Feet of Water—Fireman Carried to Death—Others of Crew Narrowly Escape.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 21.—While tearing along the brow of a cliff that overhangs Lake Superior, 178 miles east of Fort William, at 2 o'clock this morning, the first section of the C. P. R. east bound Imperial Limited, travelling forty-five miles an hour, crashed into a gigantic boulder which had been hurled down onto the track from far up the cliff side. The engine was hurled from the steel into the waters beneath carrying in its mangled mass to a watery grave Fireman Ernest O'Connor, of Schreiber. The engineer escaped miraculously as the train was struck, but his warning cry to his fellow workman was too late.

Luckily the engine broke away from the rest of the train before it plunged into the water. Three cars only left the track and the train held the foremost from following the engine into the lake. No one else was injured. In any event the death rate would not have been high as the train was composed only of continental mail, express and baggage car with a first-class passenger coach at the rear occupied by but one man. There were, however, besides the engine crew a conductor, two brakemen, a mail clerk and baggage and express agents on the train.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—An official statement given out at the Canadian Pacific Railway general offices here tonight says that at 2:40 a. m., the first section of the Imperial Limited, which consisted only of an engine, express and baggage cars, conductor, engineer, fireman, express and baggage clerks but no passengers, when nearing Angler, Ontario, between White River and Schreiber, on the north shore of Lake Superior, ran into a pile of rocks on the railway track.

It had been raining very hard in that district the previous day and evening, and it is anticipated that the rocks were washed away from an over-eroding ledge.

The baggage and express cars were derailed, but remained on the roadbed while the engine toppled over the embankment and plunged down into the lake. The fireman is missing and it is believed that he went down with the engine. The water in this place is seventy feet deep, and no probing has yet been undertaken to establish whether the engine went to the bottom or lodged on the rocky ledge that marks the edge of the lake. None of the other members of the train crew were seriously injured, the engineer and others escaping with a few scratches.

All the passengers were on the second section of the Imperial Limited, following some time behind, which was warned in time to avert accident. No report has yet been received as to when the track was cleared and traffic resumed.

THE CRUISER NEW ZEALAND AT HALIFAX

Arrived Yesterday from Bermuda—Civic Officials Extend Welcome—Prince an Officer.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 21.—The battleship cruiser New Zealand arrived here this afternoon from Bermuda, and is anchored off the dock yard. The cruiser was met off the harbor entrance by the Canadian government steamer with Mayor Bligh and civic officials, F. B. McCurdy, M.P., president of the board of Trade and others, and the warship welcomed to Halifax.

The forts of the harbor were silent the big ship being given no salute. Tomorrow a civic address will be presented to the captain and officers and the ship will be thrown open to the public.

On Sunday, Prince George of Battenburg, who is one of the officers on the New Zealand, accompanied by Captain Halsey, leave for Ottawa, where the prince will be received by the Duke of Connaught.

Discovery Attempts to Wreck Trains

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 21.—The Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo officials today made a discovery yesterday that attempts had been made to wreck trains on their freight spur line in the East End of the city. A section foreman found rail joints in several places plugged, and when he removed the obstructions it was discovered twenty minutes later that the obstruction had been replaced at one point.

NOT QUITE SUFFICIENT.

New York, Nov. 21.—Fluency in seventeen languages would not, in the opinion of the immigration authorities, necessarily fit a man to support himself in the United States.

Although Lucian Canale, a Rumanian immigrant proved that he could speak all these, and seven Slavish dialects besides, he was detained at Ellis Island today pending further inquiry. Canale said he served as interpreter for some of the Boer generals in the South African war.

NO CONTRACT UNTIL AFTER INVESTIGATION

Montreal Citizens' Association Want Transportation Question Thrashed Out Before Making New Agreement.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—"Considering that the question of granting a new franchise to the Montreal Tramways Company is of the greatest importance to the welfare of the city and island of Montreal; and

"Considering also that it is a question of making a new contract for a considerable number of years, and in view of the importance of the enormous changes proposed;

"It is the opinion of this association that no new contract should be concluded until a complete, careful and explicit study of the whole question of transportation has been made."

This formal resolution was passed yesterday afternoon, at a meeting of the executive of the Montreal Citizens' Association, and ordered to be sent to the Board of Control. There were present at the meeting Charles Chaput, president; C. S. J. Phillips, first vice-president; C. A. Harwood, second vice-president; Arthur Gagnier, honorary secretary; James Morgan, honorary treasurer; J. C. Beauchamp, H. J. Kavanaugh, and A. W. Roy, directors and Ed. Montet, secretary.

Another important point which it is hoped to have embodied in any new agreement between the city and the tramways company is the fixing of a definite price or standard at which the city may purchase the tramways' undertaking upon the expiration of the present contract, or a renewal thereof.

NEW FISHERY CRUISER ARRIVES AT VICTORIA

Made Splendid Time on Her First Voyage from Scotland to Pacific Coast in Rough Weather.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 21.—The new fishery protection cruiser Malaspina, the first of the wto to be built for the Dominion government, dropped anchor in Esquimaux Harbor this morning, seventy-five days out from Obonock, Scotland. She made excellent time on her 15,000 mile voyage via the Straits of Magellan. She met very rough weather off Rio De Janeiro and the firemen had to work in water hip deep in the engine room. Captain Hove, of the Hainbow boarded her this morning and she went on a trial spin. It is understood that after she has been overhauled here Captain Newcomb will take command.

AWARD TENDERS FOR WELLSLAND CANAL IN A FEW DAYS.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 21.—Special—Tenders for the new Wellsland ship canal section that the have been opened and the contract will be awarded within a day or two.

The opinion among contractors here is that the choice is between the tender of the Canadian Dredging Co. and that of another concern. It is said that there is a slight formal impediment in the way of awarding the contract, owing to the nature of the tender. The work will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000,000.

WHERE SALT WATER MEETS FRESH; THE TUG GATIN MEETING FRESH WATER FROM GATIN LOCKS

The two salt water sections of the Panama Canal are now open for actual use. These two sections of the canal connect respectively the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. In this view the spectator has his back to the Atlantic Ocean and is facing the Gatun locks. The tug shown in the foreground has come up a wide channel between low wooded hills. The waterway at this section has the appearance of a natural estuary. It ends at the lock shown here. It is at this point that the vessel encounters the fresh water which operates the two sets of locks. In order that the Atlantic and Pacific locks may be in constant use an immense supply of fresh water will be necessary as by the passing of every vessel millions of gallons of water will of necessity pass out of the canal. This fresh water will be replenished from the huge reservoir known as the Gatun Lake.

Slum Poverty. (Chicago Tribune.) Poverty breeds slums. The slums destroy the health of their inhabitants. They distort their vision. And there can be no sane mind in an unhealthy body. Where the conditions of life are as brutish and foul as they are in the slum, virtue cannot thrive. Poverty in generations past have been a spur to ambition sometimes. The grinding poverty in the slums of today nearly always crushes and destroys.

ASHAMED OF THE PIMPLES. Pimples and disfiguring skin diseases are particularly distressing to young ladies and gentlemen. The embarrassment is so great that you feel ashamed to appear among your young friends in society. Fortunately, there is a cure for such annoying skin diseases by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. So much is heard of this great, soothing, healing ointment as a cure for eczema and the more serious diseases of the skin that many overlook it when bothered by pimples, blackheads, roughness of the skin and skin irritations. It is surprising what Dr. Chase's Ointment will accomplish in a few days when applied frequently. Instead of merely covering up the disfigurement, and further aggravating the inflammation, it soothes and heals the skin, and leaves it soft, smooth and velvety. PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS. Miss Carrie Atwater, Bittern Lake, Alta., writes: "I was entirely cured of pimples and blackheads some months ago by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. As I have also found this ointment a splendid treatment for sunburn and chapped hands, I would not be without it in the house. It is the best I ever used." Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, all dealers. Sample box mailed free, if you mention this paper. Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

U.S. WARSHIPS MOVE TO PROTECT ALL BRITAIN'S INTERESTS

Waterloo, Ont., Nov. 21.—The members of the Canadian Life Officers' Association held their annual meeting at the home office of the Mutual Life, Waterloo, today.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—Commenting on the situation in an editorial article today, El Pais says: "Does President Wilson not know or does he not care to know that in history and before the civilized world he will be obliged to answer the charges which humanity will make against Francisco Villa, the rebel leader, at Torreon and Juarez, alleging that if the revolution triumphs Villa will become vice-president, minister of war, or some other functionary by virtue of the valuable services he has rendered to Carranza, the constitutional leader. It continues: "This President Wilson should know and does know for a certainty, yet wishing to justify his unwarranted and absurd meddling in our affairs, he chooses to protect Francisco Villa, the better to impose his will and caprice upon Mexico even though such a course be the direct cause of crimes without number, such as have been committed at Torreon, Juarez and many other towns."

A Plea For Huerta. The impartial publishes today under a care who is statement that the adherents of Carranza in the vicinity of Juarez shot two American army officers. This news is alleged to have been conveyed to the federal capital by private messages which declare that President Wilson is horrified by the infamous executions carried out by Villa which have inclined him to give to the Mexican question, "the solution demanded by justice and common sense—that is to say, the recognition of the constituted government whose chief is the illustrious Huerta."

Paris, Nov. 21.—In commenting on the convening of the new Mexican congress today, "Tempe" says: "Provisional President Huerta displays remarkable serenity in the face of its statements, temporizes and which he almost ignores in his message. "General Huerta speaks and acts like a man who is absolutely resolved to retain power in spite of the wishes of the United States government, and the Mexican congress seemingly will confirm his powers. "In the meantime, Washington, under an appearance of optimism which ill-disguises the profound anxiety of its statesmen, temporizes and asks itself into what path bestrewn with uncertainties and complications is being led by the diplomatic policy to which it stands too far committed."

Montreal, Nov. 21.—James A. Twohey, of Washington, D. C., was the son of the late Edward H. Twohey, for many years a resident of Montreal as head of the United States customs in this city. Two brothers survive, John Twohey, of Washington, D. C., and Edward Twohey, United States immigration inspector stationed at St. Albans, Vermont.

OFFICERS LIFE ASS'N HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Waterloo, Ont., Nov. 21.—The members of the Canadian Life Officers' Association held their annual meeting at the home office of the Mutual Life, Waterloo, today.

The newly elected officers are: President, T. B. MacAulay, F. I. A. S. First vice-president, A. Blissett. Second vice-president, G. A. Somerville. Honorary secretary-treasurer, D. E. Kilgour. Assistant secretary-treasurer, W. G. Roburn. Executive committee: The above and Messrs. George Wegeman, J. E. Kavanagh, A. R. Howell, Col. W. C. MacDonald and J. T. Weston.

Recent Old-Fashioned Times. How time flies! It is only twenty-two years since Sir John Macdonald passed off the scene, and yet Sir John never missed a letter regularly for less than three cents, never listened to the squeaky voice of a phonograph, never saw an aviator capering around in the atmosphere with a heavier-than-air machine, and never was kept awake at night by the frantic howling of an "emergency."

Then All Was Silent. They had scrambled through the first dance on the programme and he was leading her back to a seat. "I could die dancing, couldn't you?" "No," she replied. "There are pleasanter ways than this being cramped to death."

Every one to their taste. Some prefer the Shift Key Machine—The Remington. Others the Complete Keyboard Smith Premier. I sell them both. Take your pick. A. Milne Fraser (J. A. Little, Mgr.), 37 Dock street, St. John, N. B.

ARRIVES AT YARMOUTH AFTER STORMY VOYAGE

Special to The Standard. Yarmouth, N. S., Nov. 21.—The schooner Eddis Theriant, Captain Pittan, arrived at Yarmouth this morning after a stormy passage of 23 days from Turk's Island with salt for Parker Eakins Limited. The schooner put to sea on the afternoon of Oct. 28 and the same evening carried away her fore rigging. The passage was a succession of gales and her rigging and sails suffered considerable damage. All her ribs and masts were carried away on the trip. She was forced to run to the eastward in the Gulf Stream, a distance of four hundred miles under bare poles. On Monday last as she was approaching this coast at five o'clock in the morning, which was dark and hazy, she passed within a few feet of a wreck which is a dangerous obstruction to navigation. The mate says it was either a small vessel bottom up or a part of a large vessel. The cook, who has been going to sea for forty-eight years, says it is the worst trip he ever saw and he would rather go through a ship wreck than experience another trip like it.

WHOLE BODY A SOLID RASH

Thick, Fine and Red. Agony of Itching and Burning Frightful. One Cake of Cuticura Soap and Box of Cuticura Ointment Cured.

Lower Ostow, N. S.—"At first we thought my child's trouble was his teeth. The whole body was a solid rash and as the rash pits and ulcers and as the rash broke out in little yellow pimples and the bottom of his feet did the same and he would say he could not walk, that there were pins sticking in his feet. The agony of itching and burning was something frightful. If he got a chance he would scratch the skin right off and make a sore, but to prevent that I made mittens for him out of cotton. Every night from twelve o'clock until three in the morning he would have to be taken up out of bed and rocked, his sufferings were so bad. With no permanent cure in sight I got the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The first night the child slept the whole night through, the first night for four months. I am thankful to say the cure was complete and I just got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. James Higgins, May 17, 1913. WHITE STAR LINE. White Star Dominion line Toronto 280 miles west of Fastnet, one pier yesterday. DOCKS AT I. C. R. Pier. Harry Milburn, marine superintendent of the Royal line in London and yesterday had a conference with the mayor and the ships dock at the I. C. R. pier. The ships are so constructed that they are bunkered from both sides. The Long Wharf is the most suitable for this purpose. It is understood that when the numbers of passengers are brought these will be landed at Carleton Place where the immigration facilities and the vessel will then be moved to the eastern side of the harbor to clear her freight. Mr. George Hill, of the I. C. R., will continue to act as ticket agent of the Royal line.

SIGHTED ICE BERG. New York, Nov. 21.—Ice bergs appeared in the lanes of west of Atlantic liners considerably earlier than usual. The captain of the Hamburg American line steamship Pergylvania reported to the United States hydrographic office here yesterday that he had sighted 12 such bergs. The message was transmitted through the Cunard liner Connaught bound for Boston. These bergs were in latitude 45.04 north and longitude 47.27 west, and were described as being 100 feet long and thirty feet high. Another ice berg, 150 feet long, fifty feet high, was sighted by the captain of the steamship Bristol west bound from Bristol to New York in latitude 45.45 and longitude 47.27 west, and were described as being 100 feet long and thirty feet high.

OLD BATTLE SHIP OREGON MAY HAVE OLD CREW FOR TRIP THROUGH CANAL

Fifty former members of the crew of the famous old battle ship Oregon have petitioned the Secretary of the Navy for permission to enlist for a period of sixty or ninety days when the ship is sent through the Panama Canal in 1915.

These men live in and around this city and all are desirous of again treading the decks of the war ship on which they made a forced run from the Pacific to the Atlantic in 1898, and arrived off Cuba in time to play an important part in the destruction of the Spanish fleet.

Worthy of the world's best music

To most of us the chance to hear human playing of good music comes infrequently. Only in the great cities are the appetites of the music-hungry satisfied. Even then one can hear but a small part of all the worth while concerts. Fortunately for those who love the masters of the past, and who have the judgment to recognize in present day composers the masters of the future, there is the

Edison Phonograph

It is worthy of Wagner, of Bach, of Puccini. The clear, sweet tone, remarkable in its purity, is simply a translation of human music into your own home. Unless you have heard the newest Edisons, you have no conception of their wonderful mellow quality. You never realized that such beauty could be applied to sound. Ask your Edison dealer to play one of the Blue Amberol Records—then you will know that the whole world of good music—past and present—is open to you.

Edison Amberol I
Has Diamond-Point reproducer, double-spring motor, worm gear drive and automatic stop. Beautifully designed in mahogany, Circassian walnut and oak.

COMMISSIONERS, BOARD OF TRADE MEMBERS AND PROMINENT CITIZENS, GUESTS OF ROYAL MAIL PACQUET CO.

The inauguration of the new service to the British West Indies was marked yesterday by a luncheon given on the Royal Mail Packet Company's steamer Cobekid.

The luncheon which was given by the company was intended to give J. Alsop, the manager, and Capt. Henson and officers an opportunity to meet leading citizens of St. John. The toast to the company was proposed by Mayor Frink and Mr. Robinson, president of the Board of Trade, who expressed their appreciation of the fine type of vessel selected by the company and the president had there would be a big trade between St. John and the West Indies.

John Alsop, the manager, in reply to the toast to the company said he desired on behalf of his principals, the chairman and court of directors and managers, to thank His Worship the Mayor and the president of the Board of Trade for their kind remarks. It was gratifying to receive such a warm welcome upon the occasion of their first visit to the port and city.

Forty-seven persons sat around the tables. The guests were: James H. Frink, Mayor of St. John; Hon. Wm. Pagnley, M. P.; Hon. John E. Wilson, M.L.A.; Col. H. McLean, M.P.; Captain Hanson, commander of the Cobekid; J. Alsop, Purser Houghton, Dr. Lester, Albert E. Dunn, Collector of Customs; J. Morris Robinson, president of the Board of Trade; J. B. M. Baxter, Recorder; Robt. Thomson, F. E. Williams, H. C. Schofield, H. C. Groat, W. B. Bamford, H. H. James, Geo. S. Cushing, Geo. L. Wetmore, F. P. Storr, Chas. Miller, G. N. Kennelby, James Pender, Lewis W. Simms, J. P. Gregory, Edwin Peters, Fred S. Crosby, F. E. Sayre, R. R. Ross, J. H. Dedy, W. A. Harrison, J. B. Ellis, H. V. McKinnon, A. M. Bellings, C. H. Peary, S. TRADE SHOWING VERY CONSIDERABLE INCREASE

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Nov. 21.—As a result of the reciprocity agreement with the British West Indies and British Guiana, the trade between Canada and those portions of the Empire is showing a material increase according to a statement from the customs department. Canada's exports of dry and salted fish, butter, cheese, canned meats, oats, flour, cereal foods, show increases and a trade in Canadian automobiles is being built up.

A WOMAN'S HELPLESSNESS Cured Through the Rich Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Thousands of women suffer from headaches, nervousness, dizziness, languor and backaches. Few realize that their misery all comes from the bad state of their blood. They take one thing for their head, another for their stomach and a third for their nerves. And yet all the while it is simply their blood that is the cause of all the trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure because they actually make new, rich, red blood, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, carrying with it a new health and new strength. Mrs. Wm. Acorn, Charlottetown, P. E. I., says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was one of the most miserable women living. For more than three years I lived a life of constant dread. I was taking weak spells so that I could not be left alone. If I walked from one room to another my heart would palpitate so violently that I feared I would die. I was continually sending for the doctor, who told me I had no blood and that my nerves were shattered. Notwithstanding his treatment I did not get any better. I could not keep anything on my stomach, and the least thing would make me sick. Then my trouble was complicated with rheumatism, which became so bad that I had to be lifted like a child, and the pain was almost unbearable. I was in this deplorable condition when my husband read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and got me a supply. When I had taken half a dozen boxes I felt much better, and could go about the house. I kept on taking the Pills until I had used twelve boxes, and I can truly say they made me a well woman. Indeed I do not think I could be living now but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I wish I could persuade every woman who is sick to follow my example, for I have proved they will cure the most desperate cases, and I consider myself a living witness of this fact."

You can get these Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail for $2.50 in 50 cents a box or six boxes for $12.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

JUDGMENTS GIVEN BY SUPREME COURT

Conviction in Kent County Liquor Case—Plaintiff's Appeal in Insurance Company Matter is Dismissed.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 21.—Special.—The supreme court delivered the following judgments this afternoon.

In Groundwater vs. Waterman, Judge McLeod read the judgment of court, rule refused with costs.

Chief Justice Barker read judgment of court in Sweeney vs. DeGrais allowing appeal with costs.

Conviction in ex-parte Miranda, a liquor case from Kent county, conviction, Chief Justice Barker reading judgment of court dismissing appeal.

Plaintiff's appeal in Pacific Coast Fire Insurance Co. vs. John L. Hicks, has been dismissed with costs. Chief Justice Barker reading judgment of court sustaining Judge White's decision in this case. The point involved was that of an unlicensed insurance company doing business in Canada. Judgment was read by Chief Justice Barker and Justice Barry, dismissing defendant's appeal with costs in the case of Frederick and Grand Lake Coal and Railway Company vs. Hardin.

Harris G. Fenety, a Harvard graduate of 1880, left this evening for Boston to attend Harvard-Yale football game tomorrow.

W.C.T.U. DELEGATES TO WORLD'S CONVENTION

Continued from page nine. ing by "white men were being dragged down and down and not offering a helping hand."

The little town Eden, in New Zealand, Mrs. Drew said, was a prohibition town. "Our people are a very good set, and even before we banished liquor we did not have much trouble. Our one policeman was relieved of his duty and put to other work, however, after we closed up the saloons."

C.P.R. MAJORITY IS A SUICIDE AT OTTAWA

Found with Throat Horribly Gashed—Prominent in Legal Circles in Washington.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—James A. Twohey, a Washington, D. C. attorney, and chief counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway in that city, was found dead in a room in the Grand Union Hotel this afternoon. He was lying in the floor of the room before a chair, and his right hand clutched a broken razor. His throat was cut from ear to ear. The man had evidently made every preparation to end his life, as he had placed a wash basin in front of him and it was partly filled with blood.

On a table in the room was a letter addressed to Mrs. James A. Twohey, 3179 Eighteenth street, Washington, D. C. This has been taken in charge of by Coroner Baple, who is investigating the case. No inquest will be held.

Twohey arrived in Ottawa Wednesday morning of this week, and was taken from the C. P. R. station by the railway constable to the hotel, apparently ill.

Mr. W. L. Scott, solicitor for the C. P. R. here, was unaware of Mr. Twohey's presence in the city until he learned of his death. He is ignorant of the business which would bring the dead man to the city. Twohey appeared in inter-state commerce cases for the C. P. R. at Washington. The body is being held pending instructions from relatives.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—James A. Twohey, the Washington attorney who committed suicide in Ottawa, Ont., was prominent in legal circles here, his practice being before the various executive departments of the government and the inter-state commerce commission. He left here for the west on a business trip about two weeks ago in good health, and apparently in the best of spirits. His family could assign no reason for his act.

Mr. Twohey, who was born in Burlington, Vt., 43 years ago, is survived by a widow and five children.

AN AMENDMENT TO BY-LAWS PROPOSED

New York, Nov. 21.—The board of managers of the cotton exchange today proposed amendments to the by-laws government and the inter-state commerce commission. He left here for the west on a business trip about two weeks ago in good health, and apparently in the best of spirits. His family could assign no reason for his act.

Dr. L. Pearl Boggs, representing China at the W. C. T. U. convention, spoke last night in St. John's M. E. Church, Wilson street and Bedford avenue, drawing a contrast between the use of opium in China and alcohol here. Declaring that the Chinese rid themselves of the opium habit in six years, because they realize the physical deterioration that the drug caused, Dr. Boggs said that the alcohol habit here could be wiped out if drinking was discontinued, because its use undermines health, shortens life and reduces one's usefulness.

FIFTY THOUSAND IS MORGAN'S CONTRIBUTION

Generous Donation Made to Y.M.C.A. Fund—Almost $3,000,000 Donated thus Far.

New York, Nov. 21.—The contribution of the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian Associations, which are engaged here in a two weeks' campaign to raise $4,000,000, registered $100,533 today and its hand showed that the fund now totals nearly $3,000,000, the exact figure being $2,949,833. Today's gifts included $50,000 from J. P. Morgan & Company, $10,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Clark, and $1,000 each from Daniel Guszenheim, Hermann Sleicken, and William Nelson Cromwell. Daikehiro Tagawa, vice-mayor of Tokio and a member of the Japanese parliament, made a speech to the campaign workers and presented $50. A conditional pledge of $100,000 was announced, if the fund reaches the $3,000,000 mark by noon tomorrow, or, failing in this, the $3,000,000 mark by noon Monday, the pledge will be fulfilled. The identity of the prospective donor was not made known.

Throughout the winter and up till the past two weeks there has been a decided shortage in the local beef market and the prices were unusually high. The approach of the winter season and the closing of the river traffic, dealers claim, have been responsible for the good supplies of the past few weeks. The beef, however, is that later in the season will find a shortage in the beef and lamb markets. At present some of the best beef produced in the province is being exported to the local markets as being supplied with stock inferior to the usual grade of beef offered in the city.

In the market today there is a scarcity of eggs and butter and prices in these lines remain high. The poultry market is exceptionally good with a large variety and moderately low prices. Turkey is slightly scarcer than on the previous week, and a rise in price has been effected in this line. The meat market is good and a fairly large supply of vegetables is offered for disposal. The prices run as follows:

Beef, 12c to 23c; lamb, 13c to 26c; veal, 10c to 16c; chickens, 25c; fowls, 18c to 20c; turkey, 30c to 35c; duck, $1.50 to $2; geese, $1.50 to $1.75; venison and moose, 18c to 20c; ham and bacon, 25c; eggs are selling at 45c a dozen and butter is bringing 34c a pound.

CHRISTMAS BEEF WILL PROBABLY BE DEAR

Supply Likely to be Scarce—Dairy Products not Plentiful at Present, but Poultry in Good Quantity

Although the supply of produce in the country market today does not show as large a variety or as well stocked a market as last week, taken as a whole the market is in advance of the usual run of Saturday markets and particularly in the supplies of beef and lamb the amount on hand for disposal this week is much greater than has been offered during the summer months and early fall.

While beef and lamb are quite plentiful now, it is said by dealers in the country market that the outlook for later in the season is not so bright and that Christmas beef this year will be considerably in advance of the price now being asked.

SUCCESSFUL FESTIVAL IN STONE CHURCH

Sunday School Gathering Proved an Enjoyable Affair—Supper Followed by Interesting Programme.

A large and successful Sunday school festival was held in the school room of the St. John (Stone) church last evening. At 6:30 o'clock the pupils of the intermediate school and members of the Young Men's Bible class sat down to tables laden with a bountiful repast, and decorated with red geraniums and red bon-bon holders. The primary class was served with supper in their own room, the tables being decorated in the same color scheme as those of the older pupils.

Those who had charge of the tables were the older pupils, enjoyed a fine repast were, Mrs. R. D. Taylor, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. Edgar Holder, Mrs. Edgar Bates and Miss Sadler, assisted by the Sunday school teachers and members of the Young Ladies' Bible class.

Those in charge of the primary class were, Mrs. L. Kelly, Mrs. H. Wetmore, Miss Alice Fairweather, Miss Mabel McAvity, and Miss M. Mellick. After supper an interesting entertainment was given in the large hall. The program consisted of a song by Mr. Storey and a recitation by Miss Margery Manning, a chorus, "In Springtime," by the choir boys, a recitation by Miss Gertrude McGinley, a musical duet by Messrs. Karr and Crossley; after which the story of "The Life Boat," illustrated by magic lantern slides, was told, followed by patriotic songs.

Mrs. George Kimball and Mrs. John McAvity headed a committee which had the arrangements for the festival in hand, and to the work of the committee much of the credit for the success of the affair is due.

A Smooth, White Skin That Defies Weather (From the Woman Beautiful.) During the coming months of biting winds and intense cold, you would keep your skins smooth, white and velvety, should turn your attention to mercerized wax. Nothing else will so effectively remove chapped, roughened or discolored surface. By gradually absorbing the weather-beaten cuticle, the complexion is kept in perfect condition and even the beauty of expression appears more pronounced. If your skin be blotchy, pimply, freckled, coarse, sallow or over-red, why not shed it?—One ounce of ordinary mercerized wax, to be had at any drug-gist, will completely transform the most unsightly complexion in less than a fortnight. Use the wax nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings. If weather, age or poor health has marred your face with wrinkles, here's good news. You can quickly remove every line by using a harmless, refreshing face lotion prepared by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. The firmer, smoother skin, the more youthful appearance, even after one application, will astonish you.

Mortified by Pimply Face. Stuart's Calcium Wafers Will Restore Good Looks and Clear Complexion to Your Face. There is no humiliation so intense as the knowledge that people are constantly noticing the pimply condition of your face. Women, especially, realizing the attraction of personal beauty and longing as every woman does, for admiration and love, find them the source of the greatest unhappiness and misery. They know that even to their own families their pimples are annoying, and they imagine they are the laughing stock of every stranger. "It was feared in China that the continued use of opium would devitalize the race," said Dr. Boggs; "so war was waged against it, which culminated in the Empire, resulting an edict that every public office holder should shake out the opium habit within five years or forfeit his job. This was effectual. Legislation followed and soon that great evil that for so long held the Chinese down will pass into history."

Stuart's Calcium Wafers Will Restore Good Looks and Clear Complexion to Your Face. In answer to the claim that the sale of liquor in this State is highly taxed and to discontinue the sale of it would be to cut off one of the State's chief sources of revenue, Dr. Boggs simply said: "China found that it was able to stand the financial strain when the prohibition was placed on opium, which was similarly taxed, so I cannot see why this State can't do without the money realized by the excise tax."

Message to Maritime Merchants

(No. 2.)
Possibly the business men of the Maritime Provinces do not fully appreciate the advantages of our Partial Payment Plan, as applied to their own investments. This may be due to a misconception of the plan on their part—or to some neglect of ours in placing the matter squarely before them.
Of course this unique system appeals primarily to the wage-earner or salaried man, because of the convenience and regularity of the payments. And, consequently, the great bulk of the orders come from this class.
But if he takes the time to investigate, the business man will find that the plan also conforms to his own circumstances in a very satisfying way.
Instead of allowing his reserve funds to remain idle (or practically so) until they are sufficient to permit a fair-sized outright purchase, he may make an immediate investment through the Partial Payment Plan and thus keep his money constantly earning the highest wages consistent with safety. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS AND COMMENT

CLOSING LETTER ON COTTON MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, Nov. 21.—The official ginning figures proved a little over easy at a decline of 14 to 16 points this morning. This carried January and later months below the 13 cent level and attracted a good demand, partly from trade sources, partly from shorts, partly from reactionists. Liquidation was heavy and some stop orders were uncovered on the opening prices, but the offerings were well absorbed and the market has rallied, although talk around the ring has been generally bearish. Our own experience with statistics does not lead us to regard this morning's report as conclusive either way. It is true that the ginning of 1,598,474 bales between November 1st and November 14th this year represented the best net returns for this period since 1906, but ginning got a much less rapid start in 1906 than it did this year, so that heavy ginning period came later in the season, and this year ginning facilities have improved while there has been no fault with weather conditions since the middle of October. It is quite possible, therefore, that the ultimate result will show a large percentage of the crop ginned to November 14th for this season, and it will take later ginning returns to settle the question. No percentage of the crop ginned to November 14th this year, it was last year, the figures would point to 13,750,000 bales excluding linters.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PRODUCE CLOSING LETTER

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
Chicago, Nov. 21.—Wheat—Export aggregated about 750,000 bushels, showing that little decline can be expected in our market from the present level as long as foreign markets remain firm.
Corn—Slightly firmer, due to predictions of rather unfavorable weather over the belt but trade has quieted down considerably. Market appears to be awaiting one, the next turn depending mainly on the weather.
Oats—Remain practically featureless.
Provisions—Easier all around with trade light.

LIDLAW & CO'S CLOSING STOCK LETTER

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)
New York, Nov. 21.—Today's stock market developed no new features of interest. There was the same depression of spirits that had been in evidence for many days past, based upon uncertainties in the situation which are familiar to all and the dearth of demand from the outside public. There was, however, no increase in the volume of pressure from bear sources and more than once the market gave fresh evidence of a liquidated position. The market remains entirely professional and until something fresh develops to stimulate activity in one direction or the other these conditions are likely to continue.
LIDLAW & CO.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER FROM RANDOLPH

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, Nov. 21.—A dull, dragging market, with stocks apparently going down under some slight, dribbling liquidation, and absence of support, describes the dealings which have taken place today. Apart from one or two specialties, like Alaska gold, which sold at the lowest price it has touched since it was put on the Exchange and New Haven which broke down close to its previous low level, price changes have been small and general interest entirely lacking. There was further news from Mexico, where affairs apparently are to be allowed to drift along in the present condition for some time yet, and the engagement of two and a half million of gold for shipment to Canada created but little interest in the present condition of the money market, and in view of the fact that banks continue to gain quite freely from the interior. The leading issues like Union Pacific, Reading, U. S. Steel and Amalgamated Copper recorded at most but small fractional declines, and, while the general tone of the market was heavy during the greater part of the day, it was at no time weak. Transactions were on about the same scale as those of the last few days. In the last few minutes some covering by room shorts was sufficient to convert in many instances small fractional losses into correspondingly small fractional gains.
Total sales 110,000; bonds $1,274,000.
E. & C. RANDOLPH.

WHO WILL BE NEXT TO PASS THROUGH THIS GATE AND BE LOST?

In the prisons the political leaders in Mexico have a great instrument to force people to do their will. How many a promising career has been ended by the clank of the prison gate! How many great men have fled at the threat of prison! If a man high in power wishes something that can be gained only by putting some one out of the way he will resort to the prison. He will have the man arrested on a false charge, cast into a cell and left there to die. This thing is now going on in Mexico, but fortunes rise and fall in Mexico. Who will be the next man of importance who will darken the gateway at the military prison in Mexico City?

NEWS SUMMARY SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT AFFECTING MARKET IN YESTERDAY'S MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, Nov. 21.—The new Mexico congress was organized by Huerta last night with no reference to the international situation. Mexican City faces a coal and iron famine with the rebels in control of the sources. A sugar plant at Janesville will close. The tariff law is blamed. Three drafts of the currency bill will be laid before the senate tomorrow. New Haven directors may take action on dividend today. The I. C. C. hearing on rate advances begins Monday. Developments scheduled for today include New Haven directors full board meeting; monthly earnings report due; B. & O. dividend meeting; government cotton ginning report; Illinois Central special financing meeting.
Outlook—On weak spots after drives at standard stocks believe purchases will give reasonably satisfactory results.
Detailed—While the offerings of steel, Amalgamated copper, American smelters and other industrial stocks is going on because of bad trade reports the Standard railroad list, including Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, B. O. and L. & N. is well taken on a scale.—New York Financial Bureau.

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)
New York, Nov. 21.—Cotton ginning report at ten this morning. Ninety-nine members of Frisco syndicate made profit of $3,000,000 in promotion of Brownville road and its sale to Frisco. Carnegie plant of Steel Corporation closes down affecting about 900 employees. Cotton exchange reforms expected to be announced today. Attorney General McReynolds says unless New Haven speeds up plans for re-organization to conform with the Sherman law he will take matter to court. President Wilson reported to be inclined to await Huerta's fall. Strike threatened in General Electric plant at Schenectady following laying off of about 3,000 men. December disbursements estimated at $95,000,000 compared with $91,000,000 last year. Twelve Industrials declined .46 per cent. Twenty active railroads declined .38 per cent.

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)
New York, Nov. 21.—Heavy liquidation followed the publication of the ginning figures this morning which were apparently disappointing to many recent buyers of contracts. Large local spot interests and the south were supplying contracts in the early session but on the decline the former turned buyers on a considerable scale and Liverpool interests also appeared to be buyers. Bull interests took the view that the figures did not justify calculations of a large crop, contending that the percentage of the movement to the gins was one of the largest on record. The bullish week-end figures helped the subsequent recovery. The market appeared to have worked into a very strong technical position through liquidation and increased short-selling. The decline has stimulated a better spot demand.

A Splendid Opportunity for Investment

THE GULF SHORE SILVER BLACK FOX & FUR CO., LTD.
having applied for incorporation with a capitalization of FORTY FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS, have in breeding 2 pair genuine silver black, 2 pair silver grey, 2 pair patch crosses, and nine pups.

It is proposed to issue 450 shares at par value (One Hundred Dollars each) and owing to the low cost of capitalization this should prove an attractive investment with good returns.

PROBABLE FINANCIAL RETURNS:
Figuring an average of 2 1-2 to a litter there should be

5 Silver Black Pups at $5,000 each	- - -	$25,000
5 Silver Grey Pups at $2,500 each	- - -	12,500
5 Crosses at $500 each	- - -	2,500
		$40,500

As all expenses for the first year are included with the original cost of the foxes, there is practically no expense to be deducted from the very low average of production, so that the propable returns should be in the vicinity of 100% for the first year.

October auction sales of fox furs (report of C. M. Lampson & Co.'s sale of furs in London.)
On the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th of October, 1913:

SILVER BLACK FURS, 40% Higher Than Last Year.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES NEW WEST INDIES SERVICE

Will Mean Greater Volume of Traffic Passing Through this Port—Stimulate New Brunswick to Develop Trade—Shipping Men Greatly Pleased with the Outlook.

That the new steamship service from St. John and Halifax to the British West Indies will prove of great benefit to the people of this province is the opinion of shipping men and merchants interested in the West Indies trade. Under the new service arranged for by the Board of Trade through the amount of cargo space available to shippers of the port of St. John will be about double what was allotted to them under the old service carried on by the Pickford and Black Company.

Under the old arrangement there was little difficulty filling the cargo space allotted to this port, though the exports from the province to the West Indies were rather limited in variety. Owing to the difficulty of securing space there was not much encouragement for exporters to try to open new markets and increase the trade with the West Indies.

It is expected that with the new service provided by the Minister of Trade and Commerce, Hon. Mr. Foster, and the enlarged opportunities of trade opened up by the preferential trade arrangement, exporters of St. John and the province generally will give more attention to the West Indies trade with the West Indies, and that the traffic will be greatly increased in a few years.

IS CAUGHT STEALING FROM HIS EMPLOYER

A case of thieving which it is understood has for some time been a permanent business with an employee of J. Fred Williamson who conducts a machine shop at Indian-town was brought to light yesterday morning, when Sergeant Kilpatrick, suspicious of the young man, traced him to his destination and discovered that he carried a bag of iron which he intended to dispose of at the Indian-town wharf. According to the store-keeper, the young man is about eighteen years of age, the practice of removing iron and cast off metal from the workshop of his employer, has been a regular one for some weeks and was carried out without detection until yesterday morning when Sergeant Kilpatrick caught him disposing of some scrap iron to a Jewish junk merchant.

NORTH END POLICE TRACE YOUNG MAN AND FIND HIM WITH THE GOODS—NO ARREST MADE.

The actions of the young man in his regular habit of carrying a bag of junk through the street led to a certain suspicion as to his honesty and when the North End Sergeant investigated the case yesterday morning he discovered that the practice had been going on for some time. Seeing the young man in question board a car early this morning carrying a bag, Sergeant Kilpatrick followed him in the car and on arriving at Indian-town he found a junk dealer waiting to purchase the iron.

USES KNIFE OF POLICEMAN MAKING ARREST

Officer Anderson Cut about Face while Attempting to Take Man into Custody—Injuries not Serious.

Last night shortly after nine o'clock David Hennessey created a disturbance in the Queen Hotel, interferred with the guests and a guest stated that he had been stabbed on the neck by Hennessey. The guest went out of the hotel looking for a policeman and found Policeman Anderson on Charlotte street. The officer returned to the hotel with the man who wished to give Hennessey in charge and when he attempted to take hold of Hennessey the latter's sister caught hold of the officer by the hand and at the same time Hennessey cut the policeman on the face.

FROM TEXAS TO PROCE

Edwin Hodge, of Thompson-Woods Co., Tells of His Work.

FIVE YEARS OF TOIL BEFORE FOOTLIGHT

Played in Command Performance before Earl Grey and has had other Notable Engagements.

Edwin Hodge, who perpetrates juvenile character work in the Thompson-Woods Stock Company, in Opera House, started life as a to-be-it-not understood from this the versatile Mr. Hodge, in his later days, was connected in a professional capacity with any of the institutions of learning with which this great and glorious country dotted, for such has been his case he tooted nevertheless. His toot was done as the star clarinet player in the band in his home town, Brownville, Texas, and the toot-chronicles still relate that as a clarinet artist he was the original toot. Finally he became so impressed with the idea that the toot-toot way to fortune and fame that he peddled up the town band and resolved in future any tooting he did was to be for real money, when the toot-toot real, payable every Friday, so joined a minstrel company. The toot of the aggregation was the Peer Minstrels, and the title was the best thing in the show. But good-bad it was enough to give Mr. Hodge a start, and thereby hangs the tale. Not a very long tale, for the juvenile gentleman of the Thompson-Woods Company, who has made many friends since he first came to the city, is much by his social qualities as his really clever work on the stage. He confesses that he has had but a few years' experience on the boards. It is apparent that he has made good use of his time.

How He Started.

Now from a tooter in a Texas band to the regular first clarinetist of a company as good as that of the Peer Minstrels, St. John theatre goers are entitled to a full and complete musical goddess through medium of his clarinet, must be behind his other talents under the toot. He has told him to be like any other prudent young man desiring to make the most of his talents and which nature endowed him he proceeded to see himself whether he was as good as they said he was. Consequently, one night, when the first straight in the Peerless Minstrels was to fill with the epizotic and could appear in time to perform in a creditable sketch of the dramatic nature which the company offered a feature of their entertainment, Hodge was the man on the job. He jumped in and took the place of the invalid. He made good, and though he continued to "double-wid" for the remainder of the engagement, he became convinced of his force in playing something else beside the clarinet.

It was his ambition to become actor in the following season of his playing in a stock company in San Antonio, Texas. In that aggregation he did the shouts in "Wings," he led mobs and rescue ties, and once in a great while entrusted with the duty of opening the dining room door of Earl Grey's. He has made good in the position where he had a place to fill with the epizotic and could appear in time to perform in a creditable sketch of the dramatic nature which the company offered a feature of their entertainment, Hodge was the man on the job. He jumped in and took the place of the invalid. He made good, and though he continued to "double-wid" for the remainder of the engagement, he became convinced of his force in playing something else beside the clarinet.

A Hard Worker. Edwin Hodge, in his brief time on the stage, had more than an ordinary share of hard work, and today he is one of the most consistent and ambitious thoughtful young men in the business. He has gone from the bottom position where he had a place to fill to a prominent place for himself in profession.

After San Antonio he went west to road company playing a classic known as "The Cow Puncher." In that aggregation he continued to glean experience, but not musical else, and the company went to pieces at Orleans because the ghost refuse walk with any degree of regularity returned to his home in Brownville determined to go back to clarinet and regular meals.

The virus, however, was in blood and after he had played he refused to be satisfied with a lone. The next season, there found him a member of a stock company in Wheeling, West Virginia, longer a door opener or an announcer but a full fledged actor, playing sorts of juvenile character parts they came to him and doing it enough to draw a regular salary a better line of work. Then came summer engagements at New Jersey, with a corresponding improvement in remuneration and class of work before Earl Grey.

Played Before Earl Grey. Following the New Jersey engagement came an offer to go with a show playing "The Chorus Lady,"

FROM TEXAS TO BRAD TO PROFESSIONAL STAGE

Edwin Hodge, of Thompson-Woods Co., Tells of His Work.

FIVE YEARS OF TOIL BEFORE FOOTLIGHTS

Played in Command Performance before Earl Grey and has had other Noted Engagements.

Edwin Hodge, who perpetrates the juvenile character work in the Thompson-Woods Stock Company in the Opera House, started life as a tooter. He is not understood from this that the versatile Mr. Hodge, in his earlier days, was connected in a professional capacity with any of the noted institutions of learning with which this great and glorious country is dotted, for such is not the case. He tooted nevertheless. His tooting was done as the star clarinet player in the band in his home town of Brownville, Texas, and the few chronicles still relate that as a clarinet artist he was the original out-up the town band and resolved that in future any tooting he did would be for real cash, money, coin of the realm, payable every Friday, so he joined a minstrel company. The name of the aggregation was the Peetees Minstrels, and the title was the biggest thing in the show. But good or bad it was enough to give Mr. Hodge a start, and thereby hangs a tale. Not a very long tale, for the juvenile gentleman of the Thompson-Woods Company, who has made many friends since he first came to this city, as much by his social qualities as by his really clever work on the stage, confesses that he has had but five years experience on the professional boards. It is apparent that he has made good use of his time.

How He Started.

Now from a tooter in a Texas band to the position of first violin in a company as good as that which is now entertaining St. John theatre goes a sufficiently long jump to demonstrate that Mr. Hodge, when wearing the musical goddess through the medium of his clarinet, must have been hiding his other talents under a bushel. Some of the things he has done like any other prudent young man desiring to make the most of the gifts and talents which nature has endowed him he proceeded to see for himself whether he was as good as they said he was. Consequently one night, when the first "straight" of the Peetees Minstrels was taken ill with the epidemic and could not appear in time to perform in a really creditable sketch of the musical comedy which the company offered as a feature of their entertainment, Mr. Hodge was the man on the job and jumped in and took the place of the invalid. He made good, and although he continued to "double in wind" for the remainder of the engagement, he returned to his playing something else beside the clarinet.

A Hard Worker.

Seriously though, Edwin Hodge, in his brief time on the stage, has had more than an ordinary share of hard work, and today in one of the most consistent and ambitiously thoughtful young men in the business. He has gone from the bottom to a position where he has fair to make a prominent place for himself in his profession.

After San Antonio he went with a road company playing a classic known as "The Cow Puncher." In that aggregation he continued to glean experience, but not much else, and when the company went to pieces at New Orleans because the ghost refused to walk with any degree of regularity, he returned to his home in Brownville determined to go back to his clarinet and regular meals.

The virus, however, was in his blood and after he had played part he refused to be satisfied with a clarinet. The next season, therefore, found him a member of a stock company in Wheeling, West Virginia, no longer a door opener or an announcer, but a full fledged actor, playing all sorts of juvenile and character parts as they came to him and doing it well enough to draw a regular salary and a better line of work. Then came a summer engagement at Woodstock, New Jersey, with a corresponding improvement in remuneration and the class of work done. He was getting on.

Played before Earl Grey.

EDWIN HODGE.

PRINCE ARTHUR ACKNOWLEDGES WEDDING GIFT

Writes to Premier Borden Expressing His Appreciation of the Present Sent by Federal Ministers.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Special—A cordial letter addressed to Premier Borden has been received by the members of the government from Prince Arthur of Connaught in acknowledgement of the handsome wedding gift sent by the federal ministers on the occasion of His Royal Highness' marriage last month. The note is as follows:

"I write these lines to thank you the ministers of the Dominion of Canada for the valuable and beautiful present, which you have been good enough to send me. May I ask you to convey to them my deep sense of gratitude and most heartfelt thanks for the handsome gift which they have so kindly joined in giving me. I need hardly tell you that the memory of my visit to Canada in 1906, as the guest of the government, remains ever fresh in my memory and I am deeply touched that I should have been remembered by the ministers of the Dominion in such an important occasion of my life. I appreciate the present all the more from the fact that such a signal mark of esteem and goodwill should be shown to me as the son of the governor-general by his ministers. With renewed thanks for your kind and good wishes on my behalf."

He took the bill at the Opera House, and he took it. He then joined the well known troupe of comedians, playing in support of C. J. Bancroft, an eminent English comedian. The vehicle was Sol Smith Russell's famous comedy "The Private Secretary," and in the role of Hodge went through Canada from Montreal to the West, appearing while in Ottawa at a command performance before Earl Grey as Governor-General. The souvenir programme used on that occasion is one of Mr. Hodge's most highly prized possessions. After the Bancroft engagement he played in "The Yoke" on a western engagement. The company was a good one and did great business but objections were taken to the play and it was withdrawn. Mr. Hodge then joined the Thompson-Woods forces and has been in their service for a year, first with the Asrey Strong Company, one of the best attractions sent out under the Thompson-Woods banner and then coming to St. John with the present stock company.

Quiet and unassuming, it was not the easiest thing in the world for The Standard man to get Mr. Hodge to talk about himself. He was willing enough to tell how well he liked his fellow players in the company, or just what sort of decent white men are the proprietors of the attraction, but he worked the soft pedal when asked about himself. "I like character work best," he said, "for in juvenile parts a man has to work in straight make-up and if the part is not good then he suffers. In a character part, even if the lines are not the best, there is an opportunity to make something of ones' work." Mr. Hodge also said that he liked his parts in "Allis Jimmy Valentine" and "The Gambler" better than any others he has played. A good actor, a hard worker, reliable as the sun and a good fellow withal, the members of the Thompson-Woods company have nothing but the highest regard for Edwin Hodge, graduate clarinet player in his home town band, Mr. Hodge has young ambition, much ability and a capacity for hard work. Judged by the standard of the work he has done here there is no doubt that he will make marked progress in his profession before he receives his final cue.

RECOMMENDATIONS CHANGES OF TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION IN QUEBEC

Commissioner Appointed to Investigate Conditions Make Report.

FOUND PEOPLE DON'T WANT PROHIBITION

Sweeping Reduction in Number of Montreal Bars
—Favor European Cafes
and Monopoly System.

Quebec, Nov. 21.—In a sixty page report by the license commissioners, the Honorable Judges H. G. Carroll, A. G. Gross and Auguste Tessier, who have been investigating hotel conditions and problems throughout the province for several months, the following recommendations are made:

1. The gradual elimination of refreshment rooms, counters, and bars, and the substitution of cafes, European style, where there are tables and chairs.
2. The reduction of the number of hotel licenses at Montreal to 350 and those in Quebec to 50.
3. The reduction to the same number of retail licenses.
4. The separation of the grocery business from that of the retail liquor trade.
5. The opening of all places where liquor is sold in Montreal and Quebec at 7.30 p. m.

The trial of the Gothenberg and Bergen systems in all cities of more than four thousand population. By these systems the attraction of profit is taken away from the individual by contributing all profit on the business to the state and the municipalities.

7. The execution of the new law for a period of, at least, five years, so as to allow of a complete trial.
8. The strict maintenance of the law for a period of, at least, five years, so as to allow of a complete trial.

The report is now before the house for consideration. The commission's duties did not consist in the construction of a new license law, but only in the suggestion of amendments to existing legislation. The report begins with a history of license laws dating from 1774 and of the Canadian Temperance law, passed in 1906. Speaking of the bill, the commissioners declare that the evidence shows that an immense majority of the population of the province are opposed to that prohibition which would be more successful in the larger towns here than elsewhere. It is not practical, and the commissioners quote the opinion of Cardinal Gibbons and other clerical and law authorities on the subject. The present system is being played near their goal, the whistle was sounded and the Alberts had won with a score of five to three. The winners cheered their opponents and they were cheered in return. Then came heavy cheers from both teams for Dr. Malcolm, the referee, and the game was over.

WELL-KNOWN RESIDENTS OF WOODSTOCK DEAD

Joseph Vantassel and Mrs.
Calvin Churchill Die at Advanced Age—Its First
Italian Wedding.

Special to The Standard.
Woodstock, N. B., Nov. 21.—Joseph Vantassel, a well known citizen, died last night at his home here aged 76 years. He is survived by a widow and one brother, Boardman Vantassel. The funeral will take place tomorrow with burial at Woodstock.

Mrs. Calvin Churchill, one of our aged residents, died yesterday at the home of her nephew, Thomas Corbett, Lakeville, aged 81 years. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. John Smith, and one brother, Howells Corbett, both of Lakeville. The funeral service will be conducted at Lakeville by Rev. Mr. Pierce, and tomorrow the burial will be made at Jacksonville, Rev. George Ayers officiating.

The first Italian wedding to be solemnized at St. Gertrude's, will unite in marriage Habel Boscuca, who is connected with a firm supplying men for the Valley Railway, and Miss Thecla Burano of Woodstock. Many handsome presents were received by the bride from relatives in Boston and New York.

ALBERT SCHOOL WINS THE STANDARD'S CUP

Exciting Football Match, Yesterday, in Finals for The Schoolboy League Trophy.

The Albert School team of the West End showed that they were the superiors over the Grade VIII, team from the High School on the Marathon grounds yesterday afternoon in a deciding football match for the large silver trophy presented by The Standard. The score was five to three and there was as much excitement on the grounds as there would be if senior teams were playing.

The trophy will be the property of the West End school boys for twelve months and if they are successful in winning it the next two seasons the cup becomes their property.

About a week ago there was a dispute between these two teams and the matter was left to a committee who decided that the teams should play the game over again and it proved a hard fought battle. The game started at four o'clock with Dr. Malcolm acting as referee and as the Standard cup was the prize and the winners were to receive the trophy, the school boys and girls were out in force. The youngsters in playing the game were earnest and there was no lost time for it was kick and tackle, and when they would get into a scrum they were so much engaged that they would fall over each other before the ball was put in play. Of course this was only at times and the players showed plenty of strength and pluck, and they surprised the old football players with the manner in which they learned the game during the last month.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—A town over which a huge mountain hangs, like a sort of Damocles sword threatening, if disturbed, to fall and bury its inhabitants, figures in a statement which Professor R. W. Brook, director of the Geological Survey, has had to make in connection of an alleged assurance from him that the danger which formerly existed had disappeared.

The town is Frank, Alta., and the overhanging mountain is known as Turtle mountain. It is somewhat shaky at its foundations and Prof. Brook some time ago reported that if coal mining operations were carried on at its base, as certain capitalists wish to do, it would probably cause the fall of the mountain and the wiping out of the whole town under its huge mass as a result. This stand Prof. Brook has maintained and still maintains.

Recently, however, in some manner it became circulated that he had advised the Alberta government there was no further danger. This, if it were followed by a resumption of mining operations, might, by a conceivable happening of events have made Prof. Brook's alleged statement responsible for terrible results so, that, the matter being brought to his attention he has promptly contradicted it.

RADIO SIGNALS FROM PARIS TO WASHINGTON

Weeks of Experiment End in Success—"Beats" from Eiffel Tower Heard at U.
S. Naval Observatory.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Three weeks of patient experimentation culminated in success last night when the United States Naval Observatory here heard the beats of the Paris observatory clock as transmitted by radio signals from the Eiffel Tower to the great Navy radio station at Arlington. The "beats" were compared with those of the Washington clock for some minutes by the method of "coincidences."

The American and French commissioners, who are conducting these experiments to determine the difference in longitude between Paris and Washington, and the velocity of propagation of radio signals through space, were greatly encouraged by their success.

They announced today that the season of the year when atmospheric conditions are best for radio work is now coming on and that their work will proceed as planned.

ST. MARTIN'S LIQUOR CASES

Saint Martins, N. B., Nov. 20, 1913. To the Editor of The Standard.

Sir—Will you kindly allow me to speak in your valuable columns to correct a report which appeared in the Daily Telegraph on November 13th.

The report says: "The charges made against Councillors Black and Howard for violating the Liquor License Act on the 21st of October and which were to be heard before Magistrate Moran on the 12th of November were dismissed for lack of evidence."

As a matter of fact such was not the case—for if the information against the councillors had not been amended by request of the Chief Inspector, to bring them under the same offence as their agents, Osborn and James Black there would have been four convictions instead of two.

If the councillors would like to open these cases for investigation, I would be pleased to satisfy them of the truthfulness of this letter.

I make this statement to correct a wrong impression held in this community.

Signed,
EDWIN LEWIS,
Sub-Liquor Inspector.

MISSIONARY WORK PLENTY AT HOME

Not Necessary to go Afild to Find Work to be Done
—Men, not Missionaries, Needed.

Delegates to the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which held its convention in the Academy of Music, were heard in many of the pulpits of Brooklyn recently. Announcements were made that there would be delegates in most of the churches of the Borough of every denomination, figures in a statement which Professor R. W. Brook, director of the Geological Survey, has had to make in connection of an alleged assurance from him that the danger which formerly existed had disappeared.

"I am making no apology for my appearance here, and am bringing nothing into your lives that you have not directly or indirectly known, the liquor traffic has touched you at some spot, and you understand, because you are a missionary I know of missionaries, and why they so often fail to get results. While they preach the Gospel, they drink the mal. The women workers are unauthorized. They were not getting the result that should have been got, when that wonderful woman, who might have had a world at her feet, in our campaign she understood, said 'We must become an organization, a Christian organization, and now, since Frances Willard's words were first spoken, we have three-fourths of the feminine world enrolled.'

"Often the family is faithful to its direct members, but socially it is corrupt; fashion again prevails. What one man does another man must follow, so that the wine appears upon the social table. Being faithful to one's family is not being faithful to one's country. No one is faithful in a party. There is no measure to it; nor are there bounds by which we can measure it, and give it there any way in which to do it in half."

"I've come to you to set and give the big idea—vote to secure legislation which will stop the liquor traffic. I represent not Australia, but all humanity, I come with no word from the pulpit, but appeal for justice, as it holds its right to a sane world uncorrupted by drunkenness, undefiled with the tramp in the street. I want you to hear me, not because I'm a member of the W. C. T. U.; not because I'm a stranger from the foreign land; not because I am a woman, but because you have a conscience and should heed it; because you have a home and should be true to it.

Other evils are settled at once, but this evil of the saloon has been allowed to live too long. It has become a habit, a custom and money surrounds it. It was not killed in the beginning without hesitation, and now it will not die without legislation."

Mrs. Drew at Flatbush Congregational Church.

Mrs. Anderson Hughes Drew, delegate from New Zealand, made an address in the Flatbush Congregational Church, Dorchester road and East Eighteenth street recently. The church was well filled.

Taking as her text St. John, xv. 13, usually known, she said, as the "Milk of Pity Gospel." Mrs. Drew urged those present to join in the good work that was being done by the Temperance Union.

She stated that some people point out that in "dry States there is much temperance, she remarked, "It surprises me to hear that you have laws that are not enforced. If an officer failed to enforce the law we would see that he was replaced by another."

Mrs. Drew then told of how she got "fussed up" when asked to cooperate with the Temperance Union and say that it is no fault of theirs that some people do not drink liquor moderately; that they know when to stop. "My answer to them," she declared, "is, 'Did Jesus ever say, why should I be inebriated?'"

Some people were charged with having wine in their homes to be served to company, "because what would you think if we did not have it?" Mrs. Drew accused those present of stand-

One Month Only

$225.00 IN PRIZES!

1st Prize, $100.00; 2nd Prize, $50.00; 3rd Prize, $25.00, and Fifty Prizes of $1.00 each

The $225.00 Total Prizes has been deposited in the Royal Bank

Commencing on Saturday, November 22, 1913 to December 22, 1913

We intend giving a coupon to each purchaser of one card or more of Lace or Insertion of 36 yards to the card at 60c per card. There will be in all 4,000 cards and each card will be numbered, the numbers running from 1 to 4,000. Each purchaser will get a coupon bearing a number and we shall keep the corresponding number, together with the name and address of the purchaser.

How the Drawing will be Conducted. The drawing will take place on Monday, December 22, 1913, commencing at 7.30 p. m. at 71 Germain St. The coupons, numbering 1 to 4,000 with purchasers' names, will be put into a bag, and any parties not interested, unambiguously chosen by the purchasers at that time, will be the drawers. The first coupon drawn by them will be awarded the first prize; the second drawn, the second prize; the third drawn, the third prize, and the first fifty drawn will be awarded the remaining fifty prizes.

This is undoubtedly one of the biggest offers ever made in Laces. There is not one card in the whole 4,000 that you can purchase outside for less than 3c per yard. Now, then 36 yards at 3c per yard will total $1.08; all we ask is 60c for the 36 yards, which cuts the price per yard down to a fraction over 1-2c.

What is Lace Good For? It is good for making innumerable fancy things suitable for Xmas Gifts, as well as for making fancy aprons and handkerchiefs. Lovely for children's dresses, corset covers, fancy cushions, underwear, shirt waists, and many other things too numerous to mention.

YOU LOSE NOTHING

You save 48c on each card and you stand a grand opportunity of securing one of the 53 prizes that her condition was some- improved. Shortly before her pneumonia set in, from which she did not rally. The late Mrs. Ross, as formerly Miss Clara Morris, of Halifax, was but thirty years of age, and during her residence in St. John, she had endeavored to be a circle of friends, who deeply regret her early death. She is survived by her husband and three little ones, one of whom is an infant a few days old. The remains of the late Mrs. Ross were brought here on Tuesday morning to St. Joseph's R. C. Church. A large number of the friends were present and the floral tributes were many. Rev. Fr. LeBlanc officiated at the last rites, which were held at 10 o'clock. The bearers were: Mayor Patenaude, Dr. Jas. E. White, E. R. White, J. V. Bougie, and A. Hebert. Mrs. Ross was in poor health for some time. Senator Polier passed away on Tuesday morning last, and on Wednesday morning the funeral took place at St. Joseph's R. C. Church. The pall-bearers were: Rev. Fr. A. Polier, Henry Digne, O. M. Melanson, M. Sormony, Dr. Jas. E. White, Dr. E. Moncton, and Hon. J. D. Jones. Strangers present at the funeral included Judge Lan- chester; Father LeClerc; Father's Collage; Father Belliveau; Digne, Father LeBlanc, St. John's, Dr. Richard, Moncton. Many floral offerings were made in memory of the deceased. The sympathy of his many friends is extended to Senator Polier and his relatives. A. G. DALHOUSIE

Dalhousie, Nov. 20.—On Tuesday a most interesting ceremony was per- formed in the Roman Catholic church here occasioned by the anniversary of fifty years' married life of Mr. and Mrs. James Harquail. Anniversary High Mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock by Rev. A. A. Boucher, parish priest. This was an occasion for a family reunion. A wedding dinner was served at which the happy bride and groom, six children and seventeen grandchildren sat down. The family consists of two sons and six daughters, John and David of the firm of J. & D. A. Harquail of Campbellton, Mrs. Edward Kean of St. Fiove, P. Q., Mrs. M. Doyle, of Stephenson, Mich., Miss Alice, nurse, of St. John, N. B., Miss Lena, at home; two daughters are sis- ters in the convent at Campbellton. The tokens of love and esteem were numerous, including gold in money, jewelry, cutglass and easy chairs. Many messages of congratulation were received from the various parts of the country from their numerous friends, attesting to the high esteem in which the family is held. In the evening the numerous friends of the family from the town and surround- ing country called to extend hearty congratulations and were served with a delightful lunch before leaving. Mr. Edward Kean of St. Fiove and Mr. M. Doyle, of Stephenson, Mich., were present at the anniversary of the fifty years' married life of Mr. and Mrs. James Harquail. Mr. R. W. Heine, Inspector for the Provincial Fire Insurance Company, of Canada, was in town on Thursday. Last Thursday evening Mrs. Haddow entertained her lady friends, the occa- sion being her seventy-eighth birth- day. Among those present were Mrs. James E. Stewart, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. C. H. LaBilials, Mrs. Storer, Mrs. H. A. Hilyard, Mrs. Robinson (St. John), Mrs. D. G. Stewart, Mrs. F. G. Scott, the Misses Stewart, Mrs. Burr, Mrs. Doherty and Mrs. N. Ingram. Mrs. J. B. Storer was hostess to a very pleasant five o'clock tea on Fri- day last when she entertained a few out of town guests.

For Baking Success—This Oven Test

Success on some baking days can be expected no matter what flour you use. But constant success is rarer. It can be assured in only one way. The miller must select his wheat by oven test. So from each shipment of wheat we take ten pounds as a sample. We grind this into flour. Bread is baked from the flour. If this bread is high in quality, large in quantity, we use the shipment from which it came. Otherwise we sell it. Constant baking success comes as a matter of course from flour bearing this name

ON PERSONALITY

THE FIRST WORD.—A pleasing personality will usually bring you anything you desire.

The modern woman in her mad search for physical beauty is neglecting a much more important part of womanly fascination.

They do not realize that the personality which draws people to you, you must have a combination of many things, of which physical beauty is but one.

Everything a Woman Thinks, Does and is, Enters into Her Personality.

We, of the stage, know that personality is our greatest asset. Some of us, however, have almost come to hate the world because, try as we may to perfect ourselves in our art, they are critical in seeing only the personal side of us.

Yet, personality has given face to every successful man or woman since the world began. Napoleon's personality made millions of loyal Frenchmen drop in the freezing Russian wastes with "Victory" on their dying lips. Not the beauty of Mary, Queen of Scots, brought men gladly to her precarious cause; it was her personality.

Beautiful women of tradition and history were seldom of classic features. Neither did they measure up to the modern beauty standard. It was personalities which made men declare "The world well lost, and all for love."

I presume that more has been said about the Billie Burke personality than that of any other American artist, excepting that of Ethel Barrymore. And when people write or talk about it, they always intimate that it is a part of me, something, it is the part of my secret soul that cannot help itself and that it is affected by every vagrant thought, every unattended action as well as by your highest ideals and greatest deeds. You are interested in life, in your fellow man and in your work; if you can sympathize with the sorrowful and laugh with those who come to you with a smile, if you can live to the fullest every God given moment, if you can put self behind and enter into your everyday work, your friends will talk about your magnetic personality.

You must know, however, that you cannot be mentally and morally fine without being physically fine. Indeed the best authorities say that those who neglect themselves phys-

The woman of fascinating personality must have beauty as well as brains, and every mother should teach this to her daughter, both by precept and practice.

Just one last word. Personality is the golden side of the shield of feminine fascination.

Mainly Of Men And Maids

(Montreal Daily Star)

THE man or woman without a hobby is usually an unhappy person in his or her spare moments. But while we advocate having a hobby, let us try to have one that is worth while, a hobby that will brighten up, broaden us, and others. One danger there may be of working it to excess, and in no hobby is this more apt to happen than that of fancy work.

I do not mean to altogether decry the custom of having a pretty piece of fancy work to pick up at odd moments, but to protest against the extent to which it is carried by some girls. That fancy work if not overdone is quieting to the nerves and a piece of needlework tucked away in a drawer is a luxury and a treat. Surely, this is very unbusinesslike, and could hardly find favor with an employer. Teachers in schools are especially prohibited from taking anything of the kind to their school, but needless to say this rule is sometimes transgressed by the girls at lunch hour and at other times, when instead of resting body and mind, by a brisk outdoor walk or recreation of some kind, they sit over their fancy work and return and out to their class.

The time passed when women are expected to spend hours each day at their samplers and embroideries, and manufacturers have aided in this by producing materials of such exquisite textures that needlework might almost be dispensed with. Take a cover of a sofa cushion, which though indifferently well worked has taken many, many hours to accomplish and compare it with a cover of dainty satin, tapestry, or even cretonne and one would hardly feel repaid for all the time and energy expended. Of course, there is a certain charm about hand made articles, but do not push the handwork to such a point that you have no time left for study, reading, keeping up your practice, or even for quiet meditation and repose of which accomplishments we are all too chary nowadays.

Girls in offices sometimes have a piece of needlework tucked away in a drawer to be caught up and worked at during any lull in the office work. Surely, this is very unbusinesslike, and could hardly find favor with an employer. Teachers in schools are especially prohibited from taking anything of the kind to their school, but needless to say this rule is sometimes transgressed by the girls at lunch hour and at other times, when instead of resting body and mind, by a brisk outdoor walk or recreation of some kind, they sit over their fancy work and return and out to their class.

A New Way To Wash Shirtwaists

Fine waists are very much the vogue now. Sheer, muslin, marcellite, shadow lace, tulle, etc., are very pretty, no doubt but how many of these are ruined when washed. To be freshly washed and ironed; consequently, the laundry bill is a big item when these are done outside.

Starch, either cooked or cold, is not very satisfactory, as it spoils the look of the thin material and has a tendency to shrink it. Also, it is the uncle of the soft muslins, and starching does not harmonize with the requirements of the present fashion.

Here is a good way to wash and iron the sheer blouse which will give you a more satisfactory result.

Let the shirtwaist soak in warm soap

Seasonable Recipes

- Method-Cream the butter and sugar, sift flour and baking powder together, beat milk and egg together, add the milk and egg alternately with the flour to the creamed butter and sugar, add flavorings. Put the apples in a batter. Bake fifteen to twenty minutes.
- Sago and Apples.
Cook one-half cup of sago in about five times its bulk in water for half an hour. Add half a teaspoonful of salt, a small piece of butter and a heaping tablespoonful of sugar. Pare and core as many apples as will cover the bottom of the baking dish and pour the sago over them. Cook in a moderate oven until the apples are done. If the apples are large they can be quartered, and the baking dish can be about half filled with them, and the sago put over them the same way.

Keeping The Hands And Arms Young Looking

As old pair of loose kid gloves, worn at night, after an astringent has been applied, will do wonders in keeping the hands small, and also in breaking down the fatty tissues. However, if the bones are large, reducing the flesh will only succeed in making the bones more prominent, and the hands look old and even larger. It would be better for you to spend your time making them soft and white, and in keeping your nails well manicured. Large hands that are well cared for, have a charm of their own, and ex-

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Beatrice, Neb.—"Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited several doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."

—Mrs. R. B. CHILDS, Beatrice, Neb.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and I was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but my husband thought I had better write to you and I did so, stating my symptoms. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your Vegetable Compound."

—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

FIGHTS

Navarino, too, was a battle fought without being declared. Codrington, in a word, had to make his way by the argument of cannon-shot, as he sailed into Navarino as into an ostensibly friendly port. He was cleared for action as it were, but his lower-deck ports were not hoisted flat against the ship's sides, but kept square, as at sea in fine weather, as a visible symbol that he did not mean battle. And as the great column of line-of-battle ships—the Asia, Codrington's flagship, leading—glided into the harbor before a gentle breeze, his officers knew whether the batteries on either side would open on them or not.

Never, however, was a sailor better fitted for this difficult task than Codrington. He was not merely a gallant sailor of Nelson's school, a seaman of the utmost skill, familiar with ships and battles since he began his career as a midshipman of thirteen, more than forty years before Navarino. He was a gentleman in the broadest sense, of stalling simplicity, and integrity of character; and, to a degree rare even amongst British soldiers or sailors, he combined the faculty for swift decision with the quality of unshakable composure.

Codrington underwent his "baptism of fire" in Howe's great victory of June 1. He was lieutenant on the Queen Charlotte, Howe's flag-ship, and had charge of seven guns on the lower deck. The Queen Charlotte, it will be remembered broke the French line by suddenly tacking and passing between the stern of the French flagship and the next ship following. He commanded the Orion, the fourth ship in Collingwood's column at Trafalgar, and was, perhaps, the coolest and the hardest fighter of all Nelson's captains. In that battle of giants he strictly ordered his men to reserve their fire till he could put the enemy in the position he desired. The ships not merely before him, but behind him, were fired on with the thunder of broadsides, but the Orion kept grimly silent. Codrington, indeed, had to halt a British ship near him not to fire into the Orion. "Passing down the Orion's side," he wrote afterwards, "through the whole group of those ships whose fortune it was to be placed foremost in the attack, and whose men were engaged with their various opponents without firing a single gun to impede my view, although the ship next astern as well as all the others were firing broadsides after broadsides, I had an opportunity of seeing more of what was doing than perhaps any other captain in the world. I suppose no man ever before saw such a sight as I did, or, rather, as we did; for I called all my lieutenant's attention to it. So grand, so awful, so tremendous was the scene before me that the impression will ever be fresh in my mind." The coolness which Codrington reserved his fire so long, such a scene, was linked to a skill which made his fire, when he did fire, so effective.

He chose as his antagonist the Swiftsure, a ship bigger than his own, rounded under her stern, and poured in one blast of Turkish fire, and a second of flying shot, a broadside so overwhelming that it carried away three masts of the Frenchman, and made the unfortunate ship strike without waiting for a second discharge.

A sailor of this quality was, plainly, admirably qualified for leading the fleet into the bay of Navarino. The Turkish and Egyptian fleets had spent some three days, under the protection of a French service, in preparing for Codrington's approach. The fleet formed, in brief, a huge crescent, the lighter ships filling up the gaps in the file, the heaviest and the fiercest, a cluster of fire-ships, formed either tip of the crescent. Navarino is only a tiny bay, about three miles long by two broad, and as the tips of the crescent aimed towards the entrance, the allied fleet entering the harbor in a long straggling column, would be met by the converging fire of the 2000 odd guns of the Turkish and Egyptian fleets, to say nothing of the batteries. Ibrahim Pasha, however, allowed Codrington to enter without firing a shot. He calculated that the allied fleet would anchor betwixt horns, so to speak, of the crescent, then, when night fell, the fire-ships would be launched on the allied fleet, whole crescent would break into tremendous columns of fire, and allied fleet, he did not doubt, would be destroyed.

This ingenious plan was spoiled by Codrington's advance. With quick, sure glance he read Ibrahim's purpose directly he saw the crescent shaped formation of his fleet. As it was a noble example of the way an three-decker now extinct, a stately ship of about 3500 tons built quick and weatherly, and making her triple pyramidal sails, a stately noble and stately spectacle about three o'clock on the afternoon

FIGHTS FOR THE FLAG

Navarino, too, was a battle fought without war being declared. Codrington, in a word, had to enforce peace by the argument of cannon-shot. He sailed into Navarino as into an ostensibly friendly port. He was cleared for action. It is true, but his lower-deck ports were not hoisted flat against the ship's sides, but kept square, as at sea in fine weather, as a visible symbol that he did not mean battle. And as the great column of line-of-battle ships—the Asia, Codrington's flagship, leading—glided into the harbor before a gentle breeze, nobody knew whether the batteries on either side would open on them or not.

Never, however, was a sailor better fitted for this difficult task than Codrington. He was not merely a gallant sailor of Nelson's school, a seaman of the utmost skill familiar with ships and battles since he began his career as a midshipman, more than forty years before Navarino. He was a gentleman in his fingertips, of crystalline simplicity, and integrity of character; and, to a degree rare even amongst British soldiers or sailors, he combined the faculty for swift decision with the quality of unshakable composure.

Codrington underwent his "baptism of fire" in Howe's great victory of June 1. He was lieutenant on the Queen Charlotte, Howe's flagship, and had charge of seven guns on the lower deck. The Queen Charlotte, it will be remembered, broke the French line by suddenly tacking and passing between the stern of the French flagship and the next ship following. He commanded the Orion, the fourth ship in Collingwood's column at Trafalgar, and was, perhaps, the coolest and hardest fighter of all Nelson's captains. In that battle of giants he strictly ordered his men to reserve their fire till he could put the ship in the position he desired. The ships not merely before him, but behind him, were girded with the thunder of broadsides; but the Orion kept grimly silent. Codrington, indeed, had to hail a British ship near him not to fire into the Orion! "Passing down as the Orion did," he wrote afterwards, "through the whole group of those ships whose fortune it was to be placed foremost in the attack, and whose eyes all day were turned to his various opponents, without firing a single gun to impede my view, although the ship next astern as well as all the ships behind me were firing broadside after broadside, I had an opportunity of seeing more of what was doing than perhaps any other captain in the whole fleet. I suppose no man ever before saw such a sight as I did, or, rather, as we did; for I called all my lieutenants together and said to them, 'So tremendous was the scene before me that the impression will ever be fresh in my mind.' The coolness with which Codrington reserved his fire so long in such a scene, was linked to a skill which made his fire, when he did deliver it, effective to the highest degree. He chose as his antagonist in the Swiftsure, a ship bigger than his own, rounded under her stern, and poured in one blast of darting flames and tempest of flying shot, a broadside so overwhelming that it carried away three masts of the Frenchman, and made the unfortunate ship strike with out waiting for a second discharge! A sailor of this quality was, plainly, admirably qualified for leading the allied fleet into the bay of Navarino.

The Turkish and Egyptian fleets had spent some three days, under the direction of a French service, in preparing for Codrington's approach. The fleet formed, in brief, a huge crescent in the first line occupied by the heavier ships. A cluster of fire-ships formed either tip of the crescent. Navarino is only a tiny bay, about three miles long by two broad, and as the tips of the crescent almost touched the batteries on either head-land of the entrance, the allied fleet, land of the harbor in a long and struggling column, would be met by the converging fire of the 2000 odd guns of the Turkish and Egyptian fleets, to say nothing of the headland batteries. Ibrahim Pasha, however, allowed Codrington to enter without firing a shot. He calculated that the allied fleet would anchor betwixt the horns, so to speak, of the crescent, then, when night fell, the fire-ships would be launched on the allied fleet, the whole crescent would break into a tremendous converging fire, and the allied fleet, he did not doubt, would be destroyed.

This ingenious plan was spoiled by Codrington's address. With a quick, sure glance he read Ibrahim's purpose directly he saw the crescent-shaped formation of his fleet. The Asia was a noble example of the wooden three-decker now extinct, a stately ship of about 3500 tons burden, quick and weatherly, and making, with her triple pyramids of sails, a singularly noble and stately spectacle, as about three o'clock on the afternoon of October 20, 1827, she came through the headlands of the bay of Navarino; and, ship after ship following in perfect order, moved across the crescent. We have described, straight for a huge 84-gun ship flying the flag of the Turkish admiral. Next to it was the Egyptian flag-ship under Moharrem Bey. Nothing could be more impressive than the silent, menacing fashion in which the British flag-ship came on, passed close to the ship of Moharrem Bey, where the men were all at quarters, ciewed up her topsails, rounded to, and dropped anchor with the most beautiful accuracy alongside the Turkish flag-ship. Ship after ship of the allied fleet came up in succession and anchored along the enemy's vessel, the French squadron taking the southeast curve of the crescent, the Russian the opposite curve. The corvettes and brigs of the fleet, under Captain Cellova, of the Dartmouth, were detailed to "attend to" the enemy's fire-ships. Codrington had given the strictest orders that not a gun was to be fired without his orders; but if any ship fired on the allied fleet she was to be instantly destroyed.

It may easily be imagined that the Turkish captains watched the cool, steady, silent approach of Codrington's ships with very mixed feelings. Their men were at quarters; the guns were run out, loaded to the muzzles with shot, broken bars, rusty iron, etc. But whether a battle was to take place, or when, or at what signal, nobody knew. But the signal for battle quickly came. The Dartmouth sent a boat—or boats—to the fire-ships requesting they would "move a little farther off." One of the fire-ships discharged a musketry volley into one of the Dartmouth's boats, killing the lieutenant in charge with part of the crew; the Dartmouth fired with very mixed feelings. The Sirene, the French flag-ship near by, also fired, but used only muskets. Then one of the Egyptian ships discharged a round shot at the Sirene; and, with a deep, intermittent, broken roar that ran—sometimes pausing but then leaping forward again round the whole crescent of the Turkish and Egyptian fleet, the battle began.

For four hours the tumult of it never ceased. High above the eddying thunder of the combat broke, in quick following blasts of sound, deep, distinct, and lionlike, the roar of the Asia's broadsides. For three-quarters of an hour Codrington poured a tempest of fire on the Turkish flag-ship; at the same time no less than five ships were pouring their fire into the Asia, two of them delivering a raking fire across her stern. In three-quarters of an hour, however, the Turkish flag-ship was a wreck, had cut its cables, and was drifting mastless out of the line of battle, having lost 650 men of a crew of 850. The Egyptian flag-ship at first did not fire; Moharrem Bey, indeed, sent a boat to say he did not intend to fire. But on Codrington's sending a boat in return with the assurance that he would not, in that case, fire on Moharrem Bey, the boat was fired into, the officer in charge killed, and the Egyptian flag-ship opened its guns on the Asia. Codrington instantly broke into fire, by way of reply, and so swift and destructive were his broadsides that in ten minutes Moharrem Bey's ship was a wreck! The coolness and steady precision of the Asia's fire satisfied even Codrington's fastidious taste. His son, who was a midship on board, wrote to his brother, "How astonished I was at the coolness and intrepidity shown by all the men during the action! For my part, I was hopping about here and there and everywhere, hurrying them on, for I had not that cool way at all; but devil a bit would they hurry, and they went on in a way that actually made me stare. My father says that he never saw any ship's fire equal to ours from our main and lower decks in precision and steadiness."

Evening fell on the sea. The crescent of Turkish and Egyptian ships was a jagged curve of blackened or flaming wrecks. The Turks, too, as each ship in turn was overcome, abandoned it, first setting it on fire. Ship after ship in this way broke into flames, and ended its existence with the blast of an explosion. "We have had," wrote Codrington himself the next day, "some thirty-seven beautiful explosions! All through the night the hills round Navarino shone with the light of burning ships, or shrank to a few brigs and schooners, alone survived. More than sixty ships had been destroyed, with a loss to the vanquished of more than 7000 lives.

Nothing could surpass the skill and courage shown by the allied fleet. English and French and Russian vied with each other in daring and energy. A great fight has always its humors, and the amusing element in the great drama of Navarino is supplied by the Hind, a little cutter of 510 tons, which served as tender to the Asia. She had been despatched on some errand one day or two before, and came in sight of the allied fleet just as the leading ship had disappeared within the head-land of Navarino. Its commander, a quiet youthful lieutenant, felt bound to "support" his admiral, and he did so by running down to the battle-line, and placing his tiny craft on the inshore side—the exposed side, that is—of the flagship! In this position the tiny Hind was struck with no less than twenty-three round shot, half its crew were killed, its two midshipmen each lost a leg, and on one occasion the very surgeon had to leave his patients and join in the business of repelling boarders. The Hind afterwards was known through the fleet as "His Majesty's line-of-battle cutter."

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Beautify your hair! Make it soft, fluffy and luxuriant.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be pliant, soft and wavy, and have appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Thought She Would Go Mad WITH HEADACHE.

In all cases of headache the treatment should be directed to remove the cause, for with the cause removed the headache vanishes for all time. Headache powders just relieve for the time being, but what is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy than Burdock Blood Bitters, acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Althea Downman, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I have suffered terribly with my head for weeks at a time till I thought I would go mad. A friend advised me to give Burdock Blood Bitters a trial, so I got a bottle and found relief. I have used four bottles in all and I am glad to say that I have had no more headaches since. I would advise all sufferers to give it a fair trial."

BOWLING

REAL BOWLING SENSATION, ACTORS VS. STANDARD MEN

A bowling team from the Thompson-Woods Stock Company, now filling an engagement in the Opera House, narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of five members of the writing staff of The Standard yesterday afternoon on Victoria alleys. If The Standard team had knocked down 15 more pins it would not have been called upon to pay. Luck, however, and the fact that the actors had had several hours of practice before the match were against the newspaper team and of course it could not win against such odds.

Right here it might be remarked that the ten men composing the two teams have every qualification for becoming experts in the great game, that is if they practice diligently for several years or so. As it was the game was a revelation to other bowlers in the alley and many of them left their own games to watch the actors and writers and see if they could not get some of the higher points of the game. The spectators were very enthusiastic during the progress of the match and their applause was particularly gratifying to actors and writers alike.

The new getters (?) got off to a bad start, but this was wholly on account of three members of the team not being familiar with those particular alleys (or any other, for that matter), but as the match progressed it was clearly shown that both teams were strong and the way the balls shot down the gutters was marvelous. After the players found that the balls had to run along the smooth floor between the gutters in order to knock the pins down they did much better and before the game was over they were disputing among themselves about spares, strikes, English, side and other matters, too complicated for ordinary bowlers.

The tabulated score which is appended will show the relative strength of the players. The scores would have been much higher, only both teams put up a strong defensive game and this was the sole reason why the number of pins bowled over is not higher.

Up to a late hour last night it could not be learned who had arranged the match but it was announced that a return game would be played two weeks from last night. In the meantime The Standard team will practice on the office roof, and the actors will go into real training. The newspaper team expects to have an expert coach on hand early next week and a new code of signals will be arranged.

The next game has been arranged for Friday, December 5, immediately after the reporters have received their weekly (beg pardon, weekly) stipend. The details of the game in tabulated form will be found below:

PAVLOVA, MARVEL OF PHYSICAL ENDURANCE, EXPLAINS SECRET

By Minnie Minturn.

On the stage Anna Pavlova, declared by the experts to be the greatest living dancer, and perhaps the greatest since Perteleika, the Russian who invented dancing, seems to the beholder to be but an airy, fairy sprite from another world, to whom the demonstration of the poetry of motion is a gift of the gods, rather than art attained through years of toil and labor.

Yet we know that the illusion is false, that Pavlova is a "strong enough" woman of flesh and blood, and that she must have earned her supremacy by unremitting and unflagging toil and remains it by the same method. Even that disciple of strenuousness, Col. Roosevelt, is not such a marvel of physical endurance as the wonderful Russian dancer. From year's end to year's end, with never a respite, Anna Pavlova travels about the earth and up and down in it. In every great city of Europe and North and South America she is known to enthusiastic millions. She never stops, her energy never flags, she has no "off-season."

How can she do it?

The secret is simple, very simple. It is—ouch!—hard work!

I should like to tell you that Pavlova keeps well and strong, that she obtained and maintains her tremendous vitality, by taking something out of a bottle.

You, too, fair lady and brave man, might attain symmetrical development, health, ease, grace and remarkable vitality by following the Pavlova method. True, Pavlova was only ten years old when, at the Imperial dancing school in St. Petersburg, she began those exercises which she continues to follow for two hours every day. At your age, you cannot hope to become another Pavlova. Still, by following the recipe faithfully, you may had the blessings of health and vigor—if you have the ambition and the perseverance and the energy to stick to it. As of course you haven't!

The exercises used by Pavlova, in common with other Russian dancers, for developing suppleness and strength and endurance and grace include the "plier," "le grand battement," "Ronde de jambe, fouettée, entre chais, elevation, pirouettes and arabesques. The list reads like a menu, but they are not so difficult as they sound.

The exercise called the "plier" is an improvement on the "tuck squat" of the gymnasium, and is very like it except that the heels must be kept on the ground. Four different positions of the feet are used in executing the plier. The easiest is with the heels about ten inches apart, and the toes turned outward as far as possible. In the second position one foot is on tip-toe and is supported on the other foot, which is flat on the floor. The feet, of course, should alternate in these positions. Another position for performing the plier is with one foot flat on the floor and the other extended backward. The fourth position can be acquired only after experience. It is with one foot in front of the other, with the large toe of one foot touching the heel of the other. To perform the plier in this position will at first be impossible to the average person. With the feet in these positions, the plier is merely a matter of squatting as far as you can. At first it would be just as well to hold to some firm support with the hands.

The "grand battements" is—a—ah!—just the high kick under a more imposing name. The feet are planted firmly on the floor, heels turned in and about a foot apart, toes turned out, arms extended, with one outstretched hand grasping something tangible that will prevent the high kick from becoming a low flop.

In the "elevation," the same foot positions are used as in the plier. To perform the elevation—elevation! Rise on the tips of the toes, at the same time stretching the arms and the entire body. Start the movement with the hands at the sides, and gradually extend them.

Chief honors went to foreigners in the feature event of the afternoon the water jump, a leap at first of fifteen feet and finally widened to eighteen feet. Twenty-three horses were exhibited in the spectacular event.

First prize went to Romeo, exhibited by the French government and ridden by Lieut. D'Orsetz; second, Ra-muncho, owned and ridden by Chevalier Selliers De Moranville, Belgium; third, Commander, exhibited by Squadron "C," farm, United States army, and ridden by Dennis Stockton; fourth, Mayfair, exhibited by Captain J. W. Sifton, Canada, and ridden by Jack Hamilton.

none rise to the rank of this contest, which may definitely decide the championship of this section of the football world. There is the same under-graduate interest and rivalry in the Wesleyan-Trinity, Syracuse-Carlisle, Lehigh-Lafayette, Stevens-Rutgers, Army-Springfield and Navy-New York University games, but the fame and traditions of the gridiron classic at Cambridge overshadow all others.

She is shown here riding her thoroughbred Supplement, which won a blue ribbon at the big horse show now in progress at Madison Square Garden, New York. Mrs. Clark has exhibited with her horses at many of the horse shows throughout the country and has carried off many prizes.

New York, Nov. 21—Master and Masterpiece, the splendidly matched pair of ponies exhibited by Major C. W. McLean, of Brooklyn, Ont., were again in the limelight today at the horse show. As in the Olympia show in London, they carried off the blue ribbon in the class for ponies in blue-ness, and excited the admiration of the older lovers of horses as well as that of the children present. In the class for ponies not exceeding thirteen hands two inches, Masterpiece took the blue ribbon and Master the red.

Chief honors went to foreigners in the feature event of the afternoon

the water jump, a leap at first of fifteen feet and finally widened to eighteen feet. Twenty-three horses were exhibited in the spectacular event.

Various other exercises are taught the pupils of the Russian dancing school, but the ones described are those most used. At first they go through the drill awkwardly and mechanically, but those who persevere finally achieve the capacity to go through the most intricate motions without apparent effort.

While few professional dancers depend upon dancing itself to keep the muscles supple and the body and mind fit, yet dancing, of the right sort and under proper conditions, is in itself a wonderful exercise. The professional dancer, man or woman, is usually well and symmetrically developed. Naturally the leg muscles are better developed than those of the arms, but dancing also makes for strong and dependable lungs and heart. The Russian style of dancing is particularly good as an exercise, and in its various evolutions makes use of nearly all the muscles in the body.

HAD HIGHEST SCORE

Edward Morrisey won the prize for the highest score on the Victoria All-boys yesterday—His highest string was 118.

HARVARD AND YALE PLAY TODAY

New York, Nov. 21—The Harvard stadium will be the mecca toward which the eyes of all faithful football followers will turn tomorrow, for on the green turf of that arena, surrounded by towering walls of humanity, will come the climax of the gridiron season in the meeting of the Stevens of Harvard and Yale. Other games are scheduled for eastern football fields, but none rise to the rank of this contest, which may definitely decide the championship of this section of the football world. There is the same under-graduate interest and rivalry in the Wesleyan-Trinity, Syracuse-Carlisle, Lehigh-Lafayette, Stevens-Rutgers, Army-Springfield and Navy-New York University games, but the fame and traditions of the gridiron classic at Cambridge overshadow all others.

AT POWERS' GYM.

On Monday night Jack Powers will have a number of his pupils give an exhibition in his Gym on Union street. During the past few months Instructor Powers has a class of young men who have learned the boxing art in such a manner that their work with the gloves is remarkable, and it is to show their friends, who are members of the club, how skilful they are that
