DALHOUSIE TOUGHS ASSAULT POLICEMAN

Officer Lawson Not on Friendly
Terms With Shiretown.—
Rough Element

There was almost a riot at Dalho-sie, Monday night, when some of the rougher element of the town tried to "do" Policeman Lawson.

Officer Lawson has been making things lively for the law breakers, especially the violators of the local opo-tion law, and of course those who suffered from the discharge of his duties are sore on him.

Monday, Henry Good, who appeared to be the leader of the assault, went to Magistrate John T. Bassett of Upper Charlo and endeavored to procure a warrant for Officer Lawson's arrest.
This was refused him, and the Magistrate gave Mr. Good and his companion some wholesome advice.

Monday evening, a number of young men congregated and went to seek Officer Lawson, with the intention, it is said, of doing his previous bodily harm.
In the meantime, Lawson had learned of the proposed visit and with two other constables, awaited the arrival of the delegation, and upon its arrival, and the first appearance of rough house tactics, arrested Henry Good and three others.

It is said that Good was prevented from seriously injuring one of the constables with a club by a bystander, and now faces a very serious charge.
The four appeared before the Magistrate Tuesday. Good was sent up for trial, and is out under $3,000 bail, while the other three were fined $50, $25 and $20 and costs.

Officer Lawson has proved himself to be a good officer and is backed up by all the law abiding citizens of Dalhousie.

procuring the largest number of votes.
Every purchase made at the stores of the merchants entering into the agreement will entitle the purchaser to vote coupons, which can be marked for any candidate.

The rules and regulations governing the contest are being prepared, and are being made so that all will have an equal chance.

Full particulars will be published next week.

FIRST GAME DRAWN WITH AMHERST CLUB

Campbellton Vics Make Good Showing Against the Amherst Cracks

Before a good attendance at the skating rink on Wednesday evening, Campbellton and Amherst, the leaders in their respective leagues, met in the first engagement of a double header.
The weather was very mild, the ice being to the soft side, but the game from the start was hard, fast and remarkably clean, only one penalty being handed out.

The Teams
Campbellton
Hill Goal McLean
Twaddle Point Watling
J. Chisholm Cover McLatchey
E. McLean Rover Fraser
Lowther Centre Fowler
Percy Black R. Wing Matthews
L. McLean L. Wing Bellevue
Chisholm Spare Payne Goal Judges, Bob Bell, Jim Moores.
Time Keepers, Tom Carrigan, J.
Matthews.

Penalty Time Keeper, W. H. Luke.
Referee, F. J. T. McDonald.

The game throughout was of an even and end-to-end nature. At the end of the first period the score was tied. For the Vics, Fowler scored No.
1, from a pass from Fraser, and Low-ther equalized after Twaddle had worked his way well up on McLean.
Fowler again opened the scoring in the second period, and the equalizer came from Percy Black.

In the third period, Amherst were the first to net the puck. McLean had just saved a hot shot when Lowther got possession from the return and put his side ahead. The Vics equalizer again came from Fowler and with the game tied for the third time since the start, both sides worked hard for the decisive point but time was called with victory still undecided.

The game finished with play in centre ice, where it will be resumed tonight and as the teams are nicely matched, it will be of an interesting nature to watch and well worth the price of admission. Referee McDonald handles the game with impartiality to the satisfaction of one and all.
Penalty, Fowler 3 minutes.

INTERESTING CON- CERT LAST FRIDAY

St. Andrew's Club Gave Good Entertainment in the Opera House Last Week

Last Friday evening, a most enjoyable concert was given in the Opera House, under the auspices of the St.
Andrew's Club.

The big drawing card was the engagement of Pipe Major McKenzie Baillie, who was well received in his selections on the pipes and violin. Pipe Major Baillie who was attached to the 78th Highlanders is an old veteran, having seen much active service in the army, and was given a great reception on his appearance here. For the first time since her return from the West, Miss Irene Currie publicly delighted her many friends by her singing and had to respond to encores in both her numbers. Her songs were carefully chosen to show the beautiful rich quality of her voice, and were rendered in a manner most pleasing to the audience. Campbellton can well be proud of having a vocalist of her attainments in their midst. Mr. A. D.
Fleming assisted the club, and received much praise for his rendering of Scottish songs to which he responded with encores. A male quartette composed of Messrs. Lavoie, Ferguson Reid and MacColl, sang "Robin Adair" and "Annie Laurie" and obliged with some nonsense in darkey melodies. Their dressing or "undressing" up created a broad smile.

The novelty produced by Professor Dunklespeil was a decided hit, some of the local skits being much appreciated.
Owing to indisposition Miss Sadie Mowat was unable to take her place as accompanist, and Mrs. F. W. Campbell acted in that capacity very acceptably.

There was a very good audience in the house, the proceeds after expenses are paid, being held to liquidate the debt now carried by the club.

VALUABLE BONDS ARE NOW SOUGHT

The Montreal Mail of date March 16th, says:—
Twenty New Brunswick Government bonds, valued at $11,000, it is claimed, are sought for by Isabella Thornton, from W. S. Montgomery, in an action which the lady has entered through her attorneys, Greenshields, Green-shields and Langsdorff. The plaintiff alleges that she lent the bonds to defendant and that they are reclaimable by her at any time. Failing the return of the bonds, or the monetary value, she claims action.

ENTRIES COMING IN FOR AUTO CONTEST

Still Room For Others as Many Sections Are Not Yet Represented

The Graphic's Auto contest is creating great interest throughout this district and our Contest Editor has been kept busy answering enquiries.

We wish to impress this point upon all—that it does not cost anything to enter. Any one by simply filling in a nomination coupon and sending it to the Contest Editor will become a duly qualified candidate.

Some hustling young lady or gentleman is going to win this Ford auto, it could be you just as well as any one else. Of course, it means work, but what good thing was ever accomplished without work, and the more work, the more it will be appreciated.

The auto is now on exhibition at the Lounsbury Co.'s display rooms, and is being much admired. This is a five passenger model, but if the lucky winner wants a car to accommodate two only, a Runabout model will be supplied instead. The Lounsbury Co. are the local representatives for the Ford cars.

The names of the candidates in the contest will be published in an early issue. In the meantime, there is nothing to prevent and candidate from starting work by getting subscriptions to the Graphic.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

So that the candidates working in the country districts will not have candidates in the town of Campbellton to compete against in this contest, we have arranged with a number of the get possession from the return and put his side ahead. The Vics equalizer again came from Fowler and with the game tied for the third time since the start, both sides worked hard for the decisive point but time was called with victory still undecided.

BATHURST BURGLAR IS CAPTURED HERE

Young Man Suspect of Break-into S. J. Works at Bathurst Captured Tuesday.

A reckless burglar made an attempt on six Bathurst stores sometime Monday night or early Tuesday morning, and succeeded in effecting an entrance to one of them, W. J. Kent & Company, from which he took revolvers, knives, cartridges, jewelry and two pair of boots. He carelessly left an old pair of boots which have been identified as belonging to William Gagnon, aged seventeen, who has just returned to Bathurst after spending a term in Dorchester for burglarizing Kent's store two years ago.

Attempts were also made to enter the stores of Hugh Kent, Miss H.
Meahan, F. O. Landry, Sam Williams,
A. N. DesBrisay, but without success.
Mrs. Frank Meahan, who lives opposite DesBrisay's store, saw a man attempting to force the store door about three o'clock Tuesday morning, but she succeeded in frightening him away.
Price tickets that have been identified as belonging to W. J. Kent were found in the I. C. R. waiting room Tuesday, and it is known that the suspected party, Wm. Gagnon, was trying to get away on an early train Tuesday.

The police of all the towns between Campbellton and St. John have been notified and given a description of Gagnon and it is expected that he will be apprehended.

Entrance was made to Kent's store through a window of the lavatory in the same manner that young Gagnon made his entrance on a previous occasion.

On receipt of the information here,
Officer Mann was successful in locating the man and put him under arrest on Tuesday evening. The Bathurst authorities were notified and an officer was despatched to take the suspect in charge. He arrived here Wednesday morning and returned to Bathurst in the evening with the young man in custody. When apprehended by Officer Mann, the youth made no statement, but a large proportion of the stolen goods were found in his possession.

of this week, afternoon and evening.

The picture was taken in the Annapolis Valley, the exact location of the scenes of the story. The story opens when Evangeline and Gabriel are children under the instruction of Father Felician. The sad life of the lovers is portrayed until they meet as Gabriel is dying in a hospital, where Evangeline is a nurse. The producers have succeeded admirably in obtaining the atmosphere of the quaint old days in Acadia, and the happy life of the French peasants there until the time of the cruel and unjustifiable expulsion ordered by the English King. An attractive feature is the arrangement of several scenes, after famous paintings, which have been made of them.

Don't forget the day and date.

Gaelic Mistaken FOR PROFANITY

Grave Blunder of Mono-Lingual
Policeman of Toronto

Toronto, Ont., March 17.—Do Gaelic songs sound like profanity? A certain Toronto policeman said that two men, James Doherty and Daniel McCready, were disorderly on the streets by swearing.

Both men "swore they were singing Gaelic songs. The constable upheld his contention that both were swearing, and the magistrate, not being familiar with the language that was the mainstay of the builders of Canada, could not appreciate the vast difference in the two versions and remanded the two men for sentence. He hopes in the meantime to familiarize himself with the meaning, or at least some faint conception of the meaning, of these Gaelic words and find if they are at all profane. Incidentally, should he go deeply into the language that echoed through the Highlands and certain blessed parts of Canada, he may be able to add considerably to his vocabulary of qualifying adjectives. If they convey any sense of profanity to his mind then he will act accordingly.

In the meantime, the accused ones hope that his great grandfather may have been a fourth cousin of a Highlander, that a true appreciation of the great tongue may season his judgment.

CHAUDIERE CURVE MAN LOST ACTION

Sued Intercolonial Railway For $24,000 For Two Broken
Legs

Quebec, March 17.—Judge Audette in the Exchequer Court at Ottawa handed down judgment in the case of Brochu vs. the King; dismissing the action.

The action, which was a claim for $24,000 for injuries sustained by the plaintiff, was heard by Judge Audette in Quebec on March 6th last. The plaintiff, J. G. Brochu, is a merchant belonging to Chaudiere Curve, and on January 22nd, 1912, was drawing a hand sleigh on which were two trunks, to the railway station. To get there he took a short cut between two sidings and the main track. On the way one of the trunks fell off and when he returned for the trunk an engine of the Intercolonial Railway came along and struck him, breaking both his legs and otherwise injuring him. He subsequently took action for $24,000. Judge Audette has found that the Crown was not guilty of any negligence toward the plaintiff and the fact that he was a trespasser on the track was the cause of his injury, and consequently he was not entitled to recover damages.

NEW CARLISLE

Death has again visited our village, and taken another of the citizens. A comparatively young man, Mr. Noah Menard, former proprietor of Menard's Hotel, but now occupied by his son-in-law, Mr. J. A. Gaudet, Mr. Menard has been suffering for some time past from jaundice, and everything was done in the way of medical aid and good attendance, but the end came on the 14th. He leaves to mourn a wife, 4 daughters and 2 sons. Deceased was 54 years of age. Interment was in Roman Catholic cemetery. A large circle of friends accompanied the remains to its last resting place.

We are glad to announce the other sick folks are recovering slowly. Mrs. G. Duncan and Mr. Wm. Morrison appear to be the most serious, but reports show a slight turn for the better.

An open temperance meeting underway and will likely come off on the 24th in the Parish Hall. A large attendance is expected, as there is quite a fine program arranged. The liquor sellers time now is getting short but the temperance fight perhaps has only begun, and must be continued with increased vigor.

We congratulate Mr. C. R. Soles for good railway service in the past, under very unfavorable conditions, with one or two exceptions, we have had very good service all winter.

We also notice Mr. McDonald and Jefferson, two expert men for the shops and no doubt under the present popular foreman, Mr. Geo. Duncan, these men will be useful.

The weather is beautiful for the past two weeks and every thing points to continued fine weather.

The hardest perhaps, has not yet come for the poor people buying feed, as hay is now selling at $25.00 per ton, and straw at $10.00, and will likely advance before the spring opens.

Mrs. H. Miller is at present visiting friends in Gaspé.

Mr. Edgar Caldwell, our popular meat man, paid a visit to Chandler in the interest of his business last week.

Mr. D. & A. Harquail has resumed work on the new Academy, and we expect by September 1st, to have everything complete for use, which will no doubt be the best in the two counties, costing in the vicinity of $20,000.

Mr. Ray of the McLaughlin Car Co., was here on the 12th and 13th, in the interest of his firm, and placed his order with their agent, Mr. J. O. Sherar for a car load of fine McLaughlin carriages for coming season. Mr. Ray is also desirous of placing one or more cars, and may be successful.

Miss Harrie of Port Daniel is at present visiting Mrs. J. A. Levesque.

Mrs. Gus Sutton of Grand River and her brother, Mr. Frank Beck, drove to Chandler to the "movies" last week.

Mr. C. Carlyon, our popular young clerk, left for Montreal Monday morning.

Many sufferers from rheumatism have been surprised and delighted with the prompt relief afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. This liniment is for sale by all dealers.

The Bazaar held in the Opera House on Sunday in aid of the Newport R. C. Church, was a great success and Miss May Meunier of Newport, who organized the Bazaar, is highly commended for her energy. The Opera House was crowded to the doors both in the afternoon and evening, and quite a large sum of money was collected.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ward of Dorchester, N. B., arrived in town Friday evening. Mr. Ward has accepted a position in the offices of the St. Lawrence Corporation.

PORT DANIEL

A hockey match was played at Port Daniel rink, Saturday, 14th March, Newport vs. Port Daniel. The score was N. P., 5; P. D., 3.

The Local team claim they could have put up a better fight if their goal keeper had not seen fit to withdraw almost at the last moment.

During the game, Mr. Carl Sweetman sustained a blow in the face, but the injury was not serious.

While pleased to record all matters relating to sport, we cannot undertake to give a full account of certain pugilistic contests which have recently taken place, we gravely fear, however, that a further raise in the price of beef steak is imminent.

Members of Port Daniel Lodge, I. O. G. T., are looking forward with interest to the quarterly session of District Lodge to be held here, Thursday, 19th March. A large number of delegates from neighboring lodges are expected.

"How soon can I get one?"

The wonderful new hornless instruments have talked and sung and played themselves into amazing popularity. DANGER SIGNAL

Cambridge Man Says It Will Stop Train Wrecks By His Invention

(From the Gloucester Northern Light) George Bryar of 119 Harvard street Cambridge, after laboring for months with but about three hours sleep a day, made the announcement yesterday that he believes he has at last solved the great danger signal problem for the railroads of the country.

DEMONSTRATED MODEL

With a crude model Mr. Bryar came into the office of the Post yesterday afternoon and demonstrated the new device, which he claims he can place on any engine for the small expense of $25.

The invention embodies a small clasp which is placed over the rail by the brakeman of the preceding train. This clasp protrudes just high enough for the oncoming engine to strike it, thus forming an electrical circuit which rings a bell in the cab of the engine. The bell continues to ring until the engineer shuts off the current.

Mr. Bryar claims that the clasp which fits over the rail will cost less than the red light which is used under the present system. He further claims that there will be no chance for dispute about a signal, inasmuch as when the oncoming engine strikes the protruding clasp the exact time will be registered on a sealed time clock in the cab of the engine.

Further than this a single iron post embedded in the road bed and connected by a small piece of wire to the rail carries a perfect current of electricity between stations in a certain block, thus registering at both stations. The inventor says he saw the futility of running wires along the railroad tracks and uses the rails to carry the current.

The above, taken from a recent issue of the Boston Post, is of especial interest to Bathurst people, as the clever inventor mentioned is a native of Bathurst Village, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bryar, and is very well known here, having paid his old home a short visit a year or so ago. This is not the only invention that has been the product of his ingenuity, for he has also the honor of inventing a contrivance for holding railroad rails in place, that has been adopted by the leading railroads of the country, as well as many other minor inventions. We trust that Mr. Bryar will receive the reward to which his abilities entitle him.

You judge a man not by what he promises to do, but by what he has done. That is the only true test. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judged by this standard has no superior. People everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. For sale by all dealers.

SENT UP FOR TRIAL

(From the Gloucester Northern Light)

Two Teteogouche young men, Sam F. Daigle and Alfred A. Gauthier were brought before Magistrate O'Brien last Saturday for preliminary examination on a charge of aggravated assault on John L. Daigle, also a resident of South Teteogouche. The victim of the assault gave evidence as well as two of his sisters, who bound up his wound after the fracas, and the prisoners also gave their side of the story. The evidence showed that Sam Daigle and John L. Daigle got into a fight over the fact that Sam Daigle had slapped the face of the other Daigle's son some time previously, and in the course of the row, which took place on the road about eight o'clock on the night of the first of March, Sam Daigle bit his opponent so savagely that he completely severed his upper lip from his face and also took out two teeth with it. Gauthier's part in the fight was not very clearly brought out, so the Magistrate let him go, but he sent Sam F. Daigle up for trial at the next session of the County Court.

BETTER FIRST THAN LAST
Speaking of the Tory National Transcontinental report, the Quebec Telegraph says:

It is stated that the C. P. R. is going to spend this year $80,000,000 on improvements to its lines. In other words, it is going to do at last what Messrs. Gutelius and Lynch Staunton are condemning the National Transcontinental for doing at first in order to save the country from having to do it later. In other words, the C. P. R. is going to spend some $80,000,000 or about one half of the cost of a well built through line like the National Transcontinental, on reducing grades and doing away with the cheap and nasty substitutes employed in its original hasty construction. Yet it is because the original Transcontinental Commission did not use these substitutes but on the contrary sought to give the country a solid, substantial and easily operated first class road from the start, that the Tories are crying "Scandal" and declaring that they wasted $40,000,000. Was there ever such an exhibition of mad partisanship and inconsistency witnessed before?

And it is well to remember that Mr. Gutelius, who so glibly denounces the construction of the Transcontinental by the Liberals, declaring that $40,000,000 would have been saved if they had employed the substitutes which the C. P. R. now proposes to do away with, is an employee of the C.P.R. for we have the admission of his own present employer, the Minister of Railways himself, that his connection with it has not been broken as he has only been "lent" to the Government by the C. P. R. for two years. In the light of what has since transpired, it is easy to see what he was "lent" for!

Unless, indeed, it be to repair the damage done to the high standard of the National Transcontinental by Major Leonard's changes, there will be no $80,000,000 needed hereafter to make it the best road in America.

ANOTHER REMINDER
It is very often the case that people can not see the small things to their hand, but rather view some distant project and call it far sightedness. Is there nothing can be done to let the employees on the I. C. R. have their pay checks on the day they are due? It is quite understood that Mr. Gutelius said that the I. C. R. was overmanned and under officered, but surely among all the C. P. R. appointments he has made, he has one pay clerk who can get out the checks on time. If he hasn't, well we are quite willing to stand for the addition of another C. P. R. official if he will do this work.

The money due the employees ought to be paid on the day it is due, and there seems no ground for excuse in not having it done. It interferes with business to a greater extent than what is imagined, as storekeepers who carry I. C. R. employees accounts look to this pay for liquidating business accounts and when they make arrangements to meet their own bills on this date, it leads to a tangle up all around.

The powers that be in Moncton, who are ever after "the" money of the week" might let the small storekeeper have a little of the gravy once in a while.

THE PRELIMINARY HEARING FREDERICTON

The preliminary examination of George Betts, charged with the theft of five Fredericton-Chatham return tickets and $39 in cash from the I.C.R. station, engaged the attention of Col. Marsh in the police court at Fredericton on Monday morning. At the conclusion of the evidence Betts was sent up for trial at the next session of the York County Court, which opened today.

Three witnesses were produced by the prosecution which was conducted by Chief Tingley, of the I.C.R. detective force. James Dunn, night operator at the I.C.R. office was the first witness. He swore that on Saturday, March 7th, he went off duty at 5 a.m., and locked both office drawers and the cash drawer. He had seen Betts around the office the previous night of the I.C.R. station agent for the I. C. R., was the next witness. He swore that in making up the cash account he found a shortage in the ticket sales on March 7th. The shortage amounted to $71.70 in box car tickets, the five tickets being valued at $24. He reported the loss to Superintendent Evan Price.

The last witness called was I. C. R. Detective Harry Cullen of Campbellton, who testified that Betts in St. John. He gave an account of the arrest of Betts at St. John. The prisoner had been cautioned by the witness not to tell him (the witness) anything about the case that he (the witness) did not wish to be accused of the theft of the tickets, and the witness replied that he would have to arrest him any way. He brought the accused to Fredericton. The prisoner later admitted to the witness that he had stolen the money to the amount of $30 and five Fredericton-Chatham return tickets from the I.C.R. station. He later gave the witness a key which he said belonged to the station. He also gave witness $11, a part of the money stolen and the accused gave the witness a list of items of expenditures to make up the balance.

In reply to Mr. Guthrie, who appeared for Betts, the witness said that he had no warrant or papers when he arrested the accused at St. John, and he had never served him with nor read any warrant or paper.

Col. Marsh stated that the Dominion regulations provided that a constable could make an arrest at any time without a warrant.

After the evidence had been taken, His Honor sent Betts up for trial at the next session of the County Court.

MEETING OF POINT LA GARDE CHURCH

The annual meeting of the Escuminac Congregation was held on March 11th, in the church at Pointe a la Garde, there being an attendance of about thirty-five, an advance in numbers, over last year, when the meeting was held in the afternoon, instead of in the evening.

Rev. Pierre LeBel was appointed chairman, and called the meeting to order at 7.30.

The minutes of last meeting, as read by the Secretary, H. F. Fair, were accepted.

The Treasurer's report was as follows: Total receipts for the year $917.20 Total expenditure for the year $85.97

Balance on hand December 31, 1913 $31.23

The encouraging and satisfactory condition of the church, financially, is largely due to the efficient and painstaking efforts of Rev. A. H. Barker, who introduced an envelope system of

What Do You Know About It?

That's what a customer asked me recently about a patent medicine I had sold for years, and I was forced to admit that in reality I knew nothing more than what appeared on the label, wrapper and advertising.

Some of the claims made were so extravagant that of course I could not take them seriously, but I concluded I had better find a line of remedies I did know something about.

GILLETTE'S EATS LYE DIRT

CURLING NOTES

The Married vs. Single series just finished ended as per usual in favour of the Bachelors by 10 points. It seems far back in the dim and distant pages of the past since the married men were able to eat the supper at the expense of the bachelors, but still it is true, more's the pity.

Two interesting games were seen on the rink on Tuesday evening, when the I. C. R. skipped by Harry Wilson, defeated the Bankers, skipped by G. G. Next season should be a bumper one for the Campbellton curlers. In addition to our own local matches the North Shore Bonspiel will be held here, and the splendid way the matches were handled this season should ensure a large entry of new members to the club.

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in."

"After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. ONILLA BRADLEY, 284 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can.

Why will women take chances or drag out sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ailments, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

HOME MADE LIQUOR SOLD IN AMHERST

Many Scott Act Cases are Yet to Come Before The Courts.—A Record Campaign

Amherst News: Over a score of Scott Act cases have come before Stipendiary McKenzie since February 18, and three more are yet to be dealt with. This constitutes a record campaign in Amherst police annals.

The source of supply has been eradicated and presumably illegal sale of liquor considerably cut down, but evidence is now found that still an other method of eluding the law has been devised. Moonshining, the old and wily way of home production with the secret still, is ignored as too troublesome; and a simpler recipe for bad whiskey is tried. A small bottle of dose procured through the post office from a United States concern in the essential to making a bottle of alcohol and boiling water taste like and be an intoxicant albeit of low grade.

The new method threatens to come into common use "around these parts," but the police believe they are able to nip it in the bud. At any rate, they feel they made some progress in this direction in the arrest and conviction of one young man this week. He denied manufacturing the stuff on examination and his statement had to stand owing to insufficient evidence. He was fined on a charge of peddling, and although not punished for mixing it himself has been impressed with the risk he is running.

BATHURST CURLERS AGAIN VICTORIOUS

Moncton Rinks Went Down to Defeat in McLellan Cup Games

Once again the Bathurst Curlers proved their superiority in last week's game for the McLellan Cup, when they sent two able Moncton rinks home empty handed. For the first ten ends it was anybody's game, the score being tied. The thirteenth end showed Moncton with a total lead of six points, and their hopes were high, but not for long were they allowed to have any encouragement, for the Bathurst men then began to show just what good curling they could do, and when the last ends were played, their count was nine ahead of their opponents. Both Moncton rinks played well, in fact, they put up as good a fight, particularly for the first half of the match, as has been seen here this season, and that is saying something, for this season's games have shown very high

(From the Gloucester Northern Light) NEW STATION COMPLETED

The new I. C. R. Station which has been in course of construction for a long time, was formally taken over by the Railway last week. Employees of the Railway are now busily engaged in connecting the telegraph instruments, and in other ways making the station ready for occupancy, and it is likely that it will be opened for the use of the public in the course of a week or ten days. The new building is a great improvement on the old one, although it looks a little small for the needs of a station the size of Bathurst. It is fitted with hot water heating, has well equipped lavatories, the ladies' and gentlemen's waiting rooms are very nicely finished in red and white tiling half way to the ceiling, and the comfortable modern seats with which both these rooms are furnished leave nothing to be desired. Large windows give ample light in the daytime, and the electric equipment for the night service is both artistic and sufficient.

REMEMBERED IN WILL

The members and friends of St. Luke's Presbyterian Church had their memories of the late Dr. G. M. Duncan revived and freshened a short time ago when it was announced that the Trustees of the church had received a cheque for a sum of money bequeathed by the good "Old Doctor" for the Manse Fund. The announcement furnished a fresh evidence of the genuine goodness of heart of the late Doctor, and inasmuch as he does not seem to have made known to any of the church people his intention to give this money, it is a pleasing proof of his compliance with the Scriptural injunction—"Let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth."

ONE TERM FOR DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

London, March 15.—An authoritative and emphatic contradiction is given by the Sunday Times to the report that the term of the Duke of Connaught as Governor-General will be extended. The Sunday Times says that the offer of an extension has neither been made or contemplated by the government, while if the offer was made it would be declined. The Sunday Times further states that H. R. H. the Duchess Patricia will embark for England in September, while the Duke, after paying a visit to the Yukon, will join the Duchess here in December.

CANADA AND PEACE.

Dr. Evans Darby's Tour.

(Special).

The Rev. Dr. W. Evans Darby, London, England, Secretary for 25 years of the Peace Society, recently had a remarkable successful tour in Western Canada—a Peace Mission.

"The tour," Dr. Darby told a journalist, "was at a psychological moment. It followed on the opening of the Peace Palace at the Hague, and many circumstances, including utterances of Cabinet Ministers, had impressed the public mind. These, and also the long pressure put on Canadian loyalty from the Motherland, all helped to prepare the way."

"What did your journey cover?" asked the pressman.
"A six days' crossing to Quebec by the C.P.R. 'Empress of India', an almost unbroken journey by the Canadian Pacific Railway right across to Victoria, B.C., a strenuous round of remarkable meetings on the return Eastward, a call at three or four points in the East, and a second crossing, homeward, the whole occupying four months, and covering 14,000 miles—5,830 by sea, and over 8,200 by land."
"And you had an active time?"
"I gave over eighty addresses, before many thousands of Canadians—addresses of various types, but all on the one great topic of International Peace, including a special development: a Peace Policy for Canada."

"How was the Peace question received?"

"Most cordially. I found much enthusiasm, marked earnestness, and practical unanimity against aggressive naval policy and militarism. It is indeed doubtful whether the Canadian warship will ever be built, for Canadian opinion is rapidly moving against the policy of both political parties."
"There was only one note of dissidence—at Edmonton. At the Canadian Club meeting, Major Gresham, who seconded a vote of thanks argued that 'war was good and beneficial, and necessary for a nation.' That view was decidedly not accepted by the audience."

"Were you exclusively in the West?"

"Yes, as regards definite propaganda. I had not time for more—but I conferred with Pacifists in Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, and St. John, and had excellent meetings in all."

"Do you go again?"
"Another tour is projected for the Eastern Provinces. It is under discussion, and when undertaken will doubtless be as effective as the one in the West."

"Indeed?" Dr. Darby added, "there are unmistakable signs of large developments on the question throughout the Dominion."

"What sort of meetings had you?"
"Great public meetings, specially called Conferences, week-end meetings, sermons in the churches, mass meetings after service hours, Brotherhoods, Ministerial Societies, Canadian Club receptions, others with the W. C. T. U., the Y. M. C. A., Christian Endeavourers, and one, at Kamloops, in the goal, where I preached to the prisoners."

"Where were the Western meetings held?"
"At Victoria, Vancouver, Kamloops, New Westminster, Kelowna, Summerland, Vernon, and Revelstoke, in British Columbia; at Calgary, Red Deer, Edmonton, and Medicine Hat, in Alberta; at Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, and Regina, in Saskatchewan; and at Brandon, and Winnipeg, in Manitoba."

"And you met with success?"
"All the meetings were excellent. Those at Winnipeg were the climax. The newspapers proclaimed 'Peace Week', and gave great prominence to the effort in leading articles, and full reports. The press throughout, was most cordial, and did full justice to the tour and its object."

"Were any resolutions passed?"
"Yes, at many meetings. The typical one was at the one at Winnipeg. 'That in the opinion of this meeting, Canada, being free from international difficulties, should devote her energies to the arts of Peace and the attainment of social and economic justice, and in so doing, can without embarrassment, set such an example as will enable her to take the lead among the nations as an advocate of International Peace and Arbitration; therefore, we recommend that a generous portion of the money it is proposed to spend on Naval Armaments, under either Conservative or Liberal policies, be diverted to prosecuting an international educational propaganda for Peace and Arbitration; and that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Right Honorable Robt. Laird Borden, and to the Right Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier.'"

"You found the Canadian Clubs interested?"
"Very, in nearly every place. The President at Vancouver, Rev. J. MacKay, D.D., who is also president of the Federation of Canadian Clubs, told me he would make Peace the main subject of his year of office."

"You know there has been some press criticism of a Peace policy."
"Yes, in one instance. But here is a pregnant fact, which shows the trend of opinion."
"The Grain Growers Guide at Winnipeg took up the Peace question prominently, and included it in a list of subjects submitted to a plebiscite of its readers. The question put was: 'Do you believe that Canada, instead of spending millions for Naval Armaments (either British or Canadian) should devote her energies and spend her millions, if necessary, towards the establishment of Universal Peace and Disarmament and the settlement of international disputes by Arbitration.'"

"In the result 6,403 men and women voted—6,050. Yes, and only 353. No. A very remarkable result."

"I was," concluded Dr. Darby, greatly interested in, and impressed by the wonderful Canadian scenery—the rich prairies of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the mountain grandeur of the Rockies, the heights, and passes, and valleys of these mighty mountains. The wonders viewed from the observation cars of the Canadian Pacific Railway make an experience that is indescribable, and impressions that will live. The great railway itself is marvellous, and travel by it a delight. Also the vast development of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway System and the Canadian Northern stand out as wonderful factors in the commercial, material, and human progress of the great Dominion the limits of which no man can see."

CHARGE OF STEALING FROM THE I. C. R.

Prominent Young Man Before The Fredericton Court on a Theft Charge

The Fredericton Mail of Friday says—George Betts of this city, a well known young man, appeared before the police court this afternoon on the serious charge of breaking and entering the Intercolonial Railway station in this city and stealing a sum of money and a number of railway tickets. The break took place between six and seven o'clock on the morning of Saturday, March 7. Forty-six dollars in cash, four first-class tickets Fredericton to Chatham and one second-class ticket, Fredericton to Chatham, were stolen.

The Intercolonial Railway authorities took up the matter and I. C. R. Policeman H. Culligan of Campbellton, took up the case. Policeman Culligan was here yesterday and went to St. John, where he arrested young Betts at a hotel where he was staying bringing him back this morning. The railway tickets were recovered and a small portion of the money. Betts accounted for what was missing and acknowledged that he was guilty of the theft.

Betts is in a serious position, being liable to two years' imprisonment for the theft of the tickets as well as a sentence for breaking, entering and stealing. Betts is of good family and much sympathy is felt for his relatives. He attended Fredericton High School until within a few months ago. The police magistrate this afternoon remanded the young man until Saturday morning.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it causes a few months and a time of the scalp; the hair roots fall out, and die; then the hair falls out, and you are left with a bald spot. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

national educational propaganda for Peace and Arbitration; and that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Right Honorable Robt. Laird Borden, and to the Right Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

"You found the Canadian Clubs interested?"
"Very, in nearly every place. The President at Vancouver, Rev. J. MacKay, D.D., who is also president of the Federation of Canadian Clubs, told me he would make Peace the main subject of his year of office."

"You know there has been some press criticism of a Peace policy."
"Yes, in one instance. But here is a pregnant fact, which shows the trend of opinion."

"The Grain Growers Guide at Winnipeg took up the Peace question prominently, and included it in a list of subjects submitted to a plebiscite of its readers. The question put was: 'Do you believe that Canada, instead of spending millions for Naval Armaments (either British or Canadian) should devote her energies and spend her millions, if necessary, towards the establishment of Universal Peace and Disarmament and the settlement of international disputes by Arbitration.'"

"In the result 6,403 men and women voted—6,050. Yes, and only 353. No. A very remarkable result."

"I was," concluded Dr. Darby, greatly interested in, and impressed by the wonderful Canadian scenery—the rich prairies of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the mountain grandeur of the Rockies, the heights, and passes, and valleys of these mighty mountains. The wonders viewed from the observation cars of the Canadian Pacific Railway make an experience that is indescribable, and impressions that will live. The great railway itself is marvellous, and travel by it a delight. Also the vast development of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway System and the Canadian Northern stand out as wonderful factors in the commercial, material, and human progress of the great Dominion the limits of which no man can see."

"You can say goodbye to constipation with a clear conscience if you use Chamberlain's Tablets. Many have been permanently cured by their use. For sale by all dealers."

POSTAL DEPARTMENT HAS LARGE SURPLUS

Profit of Nearly Two Million Dollars in Spite of Increased Outlay

Ottawa, March 13.—Although the postal service of Canada was greatly extended last year, new offices opened, new routes established, and the pay of employees substantially increased, there was a surplus of $1,777,671 on the year's operations, according to the annual report of the Postmaster-General tabled by the Hon. L. P. Feltner.

The statistics are always of interest because of the extent to which the mails are used as an index of commercial conditions and to a large degree of the intellectual standard of the people.

During the year the immense number of 638,475,000 letters were carried, along with 60,644,000 postcards, 14,586,000 registered letters and 14,586,000 free letters. The estimated increase in 1913 was 25,000,000, or almost 12 per cent.

The number of post offices increased by 319, postal note offices by 358, money order offices by 250 and savings bank offices by 40. The number of miles of mail carriage increased by 2,264,362. The expenditure increased by $1,710,769, yet the surplus is well in excess of a million. The total revenue was $12,060,476, the expenditure $10,882,504.

The rural mail service has proved to be a remarkable popularity. The report says there has been a persistent clamor for it all over the country, and up to November last, 1,565 routes had been established. The number has materially increased since then. The issue of postage stamps amounted to $14,112,927, or an increase of 17 1-4 per cent.

The amount of deposits in the postal savings banks at the end of the year was $42,728,941, a decrease of $34,822, as compared with the previous year. Remittances by money order totalled $109,206,799. Dead letter orders totalled 3,667,605, of which 38,628 contained articles of value or were registered.

The annuities branch is now under the Postal Department, and up to the end of the year 3,084 old age annuities had been issued, amounting to $612,063. The revenue received in payment of them was $1,586,659. The Canadian interest in the Pacific cable also is directed by the department and cable traffic totalled 575,042 words, over 400,000 being "deferred" messages.

An anonymous letter of warning, which 31 people had apparently joined in writing, was read in the London Divorce Court. Each syllable of the letter was in a different hand writing.

Owing to the recent militant outrage the art galleries in England will be closed temporarily.

UP IN ARMS AGAINST STANDARD RULES

I. C. R. Railroad Brotherhoods to Meet in Moncton Today to Protest Against Adoption

(Moncton Transcript)
The long threatened revolt against the immediate and arbitrary adoption of the Standard Rule system on the I. C. R. is about to come to a head, according to information which has recently come to hand.

At a meeting held in St. John last week, the members of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, which embraces practically every despatcher and operator on the road, decided to head the movement and call a meeting of representatives of the other railway Brotherhoods interested.

This has been done, and it is understood that representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, have been invited to meet with representatives of the I. C. R. men on Thursday in the I. C. R. rest house at Moncton.

Because of the close-mouthed policy of the railroad brotherhoods, it is practically impossible to secure an official statement, but there is nothing of a secret nature about the meeting, and it is learned that the I. C. R. management have been formally notified by letter of the meeting and invited to have a member present, if desired.

It is stated that the men do not ask for an entire abandonment of the Standard Rules, but only that their introduction be deferred for a year from date, in order to give the train and operating men time to get thoroughly versed in them.

In this connection it is stated that other roads have allowed a period of two to two and a half years to elapse between the date of announcement of the change and the actual introduction of the system. The I. C. R. men, it is stated, want more time.

The sudden shift of rules on certain other roads is said to have been attended by considerable loss of life through accidents and the I. C. R. men say they are determined to avoid this. It is understood that the meeting will also consider the question of asking that the rules be introduced a few at a time, instead of en bloc, as now proposed.

The Sable Lorcha

By Horace Hazelton.

"I thought you were never coming out of that room," she declared, nervously. "Once, I was on the verge of going after you. The first time you rang for Cheekabeddy, I mean. . . . What did you have him telephone for? He absolutely refused to tell me. Was it the two policemen? . . . What did you want them for? . . . Why did you let them go away again? . . . Aren't those Chinamen ever going? . . . What on earth did you want with Mr. Bryan? . . . What are you going upstairs for, now?"

How tactfully I answered these questions and others I shall not attempt to decide. I know only that I set my teeth to guard the one problem which absorbed me, and which for worlds I would not have her know.

"It is all right, Evelyn," I assured her, over and over again. "There is not the smallest danger. . . . They came to give me information. . . . You must be very tired, little girl. Go to bed, now, and forget it all until morning. . . . Yes, I'll tell you everything, then."

I wonder how many women there are who, burning with curiosity as she was, would have obliged me as she did! Is it pardonable, then, if again I say that throughout all this trying experience she proved herself a girl of a thousand?

Bryan was waiting for me in the passage outside Cameron's door. "I left him sleeping," he explained, "and, if possible, I don't wish to disturb him; so we'll go in quietly together."

Slowly and with infinite care lest he make the least noise he turned the knob. Quite as cautiously he opened the door, and tiptoeing softly, we entered.

It was the first time I had been in the room since the day of that terrible outburst, and it still held for me an atmosphere as grievously forbidding as that of a tomb.

Only one lowered light burned, over a tall, antique bureau between the dark curtained windows; the chamber was in semi-gloom. But scarcely had I passed Bryan, who stopped to close the door with the same adroit silence with which he had accomplished its opening, than a stealthily moving white figure defined itself, issuing, apparently from a massive carved wardrobe, which stood against the wall opposite the huge, testered bed.

The spectacle was at least striking. I know I halted abruptly as if stricken all at once with total paralysis. For a heart-beat or two I think I stopped breathing. But my eyes meanwhile were strained fixedly upon the apparition, and seeing it pass with almost incredible swiftness beneath the one dim light, I recognized the one figure I had seen in the bureau, I recognized Cameron.

At the same moment the room was flooded with a sudden glare. Bryan too, had seen, and had switched on the electric. Simultaneously he flashed past me, and was at his patient's side. "What does this mean?" I heard him say. "What did you want? Cameron trust you alone for ten minutes? I told you, Cameron, that you must not leave your bed unless I am with you." I saw Cameron cover under the upbraiding in his eyes I read terror, and all my sympathy was aroused on this instant. Bryan might be carrying out Dr. Massey's orders, but he appeared to me unnecessarily harsh.

"What were you doing?" he insisted; and then I saw him roughly grasp his patient's arm, and hold it up, revealing a tightly clenched hand.

"Mr. Bryan!" I cried in remonstrance. "Gently, gently. Remember—"

But the nurse paid no heed to me. He was busy opening the double door.

I stood now where I could look Cameron squarely in the face, but my gaze was elsewhere. It was his left hand over which Bryan was engaged, and from his wrist to his elbow the sleeve of his white night robe had been pushed back, exposing a sinewy forearm, marked precisely as Bryan had described it.

Scritchin'ly I bent forward. The tattooing was indubitable, and, as the nurse had said, it bore no evidence of being recent work.

Up to that moment I had hoped against hope that in some way or other a misunderstanding had occurred. I had hoped, I suppose, for the performance of some miracle which would exonerate this man. And now that hope was obliterated by those blue-inked letters D. M. N. beneath an almost exact facsimile of the black smudge which had taken the place of signature on each of the three threatening letters—the black smudge, of which Cameron, wearing it then indelibly upon the cuticle, had dared to feign utter ignorance.

And yet, I asked myself once more, how was it that I had never noticed it before? Again and again I had seen that forearm bared. Surely I would have observed so odd a mark; certainly, I would have been perplexed by those three unifying initials.

"There, now!" Bryan was saying. "Back to bed with you, Cameron. What did you want this letter for, anyway? If it was necessary for you to have it, wouldn't I have got it for you?"

possible pregnancy of the disclosures that lured in his apparel was entirely lost sight of.

When we did make the examination, on the morning following the episode of the letter, it was to discover that the suit and overcoat worn by McNish were of Scotch manufacture, having been made in Dundee, according to sewn-in labels, early in the current year.

The contents of the pockets were not significant. The letter he had been so anxious to secure and destroy was the only letter, apparently, he had carried. There was a cheque-book on a Chicago bank, and there was a wallet containing a small sum of money in bills, and a few business cards of importing houses, which we took to locate the man, the possessor was still desultorily engaged in trade, or some species of smuggling, with the Malay states and the Straits settlements as his field, since most of the cards made reference to goods of such origin.

That morning, which succeeded the night of exciting events already detailed, was crowded with another succession of happenings scarcely less sensational.

At seven o'clock, O'Hara, in obedience to my instructions, came to my room in the Loyalton, rousing me out of a heavy sleep; for I had not got to bed until four, and then had lain awake with teeming brain until after five. I received him in bath robe and moles, sitting on the bedside, and sipping coffee, while he, perched on a low, brass-bound clothes chest, poured forth his story.

"Sleep!" he echoed, when I had made my apologies. "I haven't had a wink, myself. I've been with the boys all night doing as pretty a round-up as you ever see. We've got the bunch right this time, Mr. Clyde, and there'll be a clearin' out down there in Chinatown such as hasn't been known since the Chinese discovered poppers' street."

"Yes," I said, encouragingly.

"It's another war of the tongs," he went on. "They have 'em periodically, you know, and there's always a few of the moon-faced boys snuffed out, which ain't much loss now. But this time they interfered, you see, with you and Miss Grayson, and they beat up that driver of our buzz-carriage something fierce; and the Commissioner's issued orders to put the whole yellow population on the pan if necessary to get the ones what is responsible."

"Were any arrests made?" I inquired.

O'Hara smiled. "Were any arrests made?" he repeated in a tone that indicated supreme pity for my ignorance. "Why, we took 'em in by the whole sale. We lowered the net and dragged it and you ought to see what come up. There was one fellow, a skinny old geezer half-breed, neither Chin nor white man, but a slimy mixture of all that's bad in the two. We had him on the griddle all night. Talk about the third degree! He got it good. He's made enough admissions already, to send him to the chair."

"And Murphy?" I asked.

"He's a tough one, that's all. When they'd brought him in, we figured they'd got him to convict himself in the same old way. But there was nothin' doing. He just shut his trap, and not a word would he answer one way or the other, post his turn of come, all right, I've got it on him, Mr. Clyde. While I've been shadowin' him for the past month I've picked up a bunch of stuff that will come in good. To begin with, his name ain't Murphy. It's Fat Moran, and his mug's at headquarters."

"His mug?"

"Bure! in the Rogue's Gallery. And his record's there too. He's done time, already."

"For what?"

A SONG OF OLD DREAMS

Sometimes, amid the tumult and the throng,
We hear an old, sweet song;
A broken strain from one we used to hear,
Back in some yesteryear;
A melody, borne through the drifting haze
Of Life's forgotten days;
The tumult dies around us, strangely thrilled,
With roar of traffic stilled;
Our eyes are dimmed—our hearts turn back—and then
We dream old dreams again.

Sometimes, beneath Love's new-found, smiling skies Remembered perfumes rise;
An incense from the violet or rose,
Where summer's south wind blows;
Lost fragrance from old lanes of mignonette,
That Love cannot forget;
And in the twilight or the dawn we turn
To where old altars burn;
And new-found Love must bide its moment then—
We dream old dreams again.

And then, like silent ghosts from memory's tomb,
They come in night's deep gloom;
Gray ghosts, uprisen from the dream-less dead,
They come with phantom tread,
Without excuse, as restless winds of spring,
That wander, whispering;
And jeer that we have gone so far away
From what we dreamed one day;
We cry to God, as in the silence then,
Old wounds gape wide again.

A PEAL NERVE AND BODY-BUILDING MEDICINE

We believe Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is the best remedy made for toning the nerves, enriching the blood, building up wasted tissues, renewing health, strength and energy—the best medicine you can use if you are run-down, tired-out, nervous and debilitated, no matter what the cause. It doesn't depend for its good effect upon alcohol or habit-forming drugs, because it contains none. It may not make you feel better in a few hours, but it will make you feel better, we are sure, just as soon as the tonic and food properties it contains have a chance to get into the blood and, through the blood, into the rest of the system. Pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites have long been endorsed by successful physicians, but here, for the first time they are combined into one preparation which is a nerve-food and builder of strength and health, we believe, has no equal.

If you don't feel well, begin taking Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion today, and build your health and strengthen your system against more serious illness. To convalescents, old people, puny children and all others who are weak, run-down or ailing, we offer you Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion with our personal promise that, if it doesn't make you well and strong again, it will cost you nothing. If we didn't have the utmost faith in it, we wouldn't offer it with this guarantee, nor even recommend it to you. We are sure that once you have used it you will recommend it to your friends, and thank us for having recommended it to you. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00.

Mr. C. H. Cahan, K. Mr. Cahan at the same time asserted that he was a Tory of the Tories, but he believed in playing the game fairly.

BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE

Many prosperous citizens have lost their valued possessions over night. Then they kicked themselves because an outlay of a few dollars on every thousand of valuation every few years would have left them protected and prosperous. Don't be foolhardy. Few things are as cheap as fire insurance in the beginning, and nothing may prove more costly in the end than its lack.
