HORRIBLE DEATH OF FRANK W. NIXON

Injured By a Furious Bull on Saturday, Dies Four Hours Later

Crushed to death by a vicious bull was the fate of Frank W. Nixon. The horrible affair took place at Lower Brighton at nine o'clock on Saturday evening. The bull, a mighty Holstein, weighing more than 2200 pounds, had escaped from his confinement and had rampaged about the premises, terrifying the inmates of the house and defying the efforts of the farm help to recapture him. Mr. Nixon was at Woodstock and returning found the bull in full way on the premises. He fearlessly leaped from his car and proceeded to secure the bull by the ring in his nose. As he did so the furious animal gave a fierce lunge, backed by all the strength of his heavy body, and crushed the unfortunate Mr. Nixon against the side of the barn. There was but one direct impact and but one sufficed to injure the man fatally. Though badly hurt Mr. Nixon managed to get within the barn door and other men who gathered distracted the attention of the bull. Several rifle shots were fired into his huge carcass before the angry brute succumbed.

Dr. Rankine of Woodstock and Dr. King, Hartland, were called to give aid to the injured man but their efforts were of no avail and he died four hours later.

Mr. Nixon was 36 years old and was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Nixon of Hartland. He is also survived by two brothers, G. Berton of Somerville and Dolph E. at Wakefield and by his sorrowing wife and three small children. He was a young man of sterling character, highly esteemed among his neighbors and by a wide circle of friends outside of his own community. His sad end cast a pall of gloom over the whole county and the funeral held on Tuesday afternoon, was attended by an immense concourse of people.

The sermon was preached by his pastor, Rev. F. J. Trafton, and participating in the services in the services were Rev. E. A. Trites, E. O. Jenkins, P. J. Jenkins, P. J. Quigg and T. S. Crisp. A selected choir from the United and Reformed Baptist churches of Hartland rendered beautiful music. Miss Bilde Wilson sang a solo (My Sheep Know My Voice), and there was a duet by Miss Emma Cogwell and Miss Dorothy Trafton.

The floral offerings were beautiful and expressed the respect and sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Nixon was president of the Lower Brighton Branch of the U.F. of N.B. and was an Odd-fellow and a member of the of Brighton Lodge K. of P.

The interment was made in the family lot in Greenwood cemetery. In the long funeral procession were more than 40 automobiles and as many carriages.

Mrs. Andrew Mack

On Tuesday, July 1, after a lingering illness Mrs. Andrew Mack passed away at her home in Beaufort. Deceased had spent the last four years with her husband in Rochester, N. Y., and returned to her home only a few days before her death. She was born in St. John 58 years ago. Her maiden name was Sarah M. B. Frith, she being the daughter of the late Captain Frith. Besides her sorrowing husband she is survived by one son, Charles A. of Fort William, Ont. and one daughter, Miss Edna G. of Beaufort.

Mrs. Mack was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church. She was highly talented and generous and took a deep interest in the welfare of others. Her loss is keenly felt by the community.

The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. M. H. Manuel. The body was laid to rest in the Glassville Presbyterian Cemetery.

BASE BALL IS NOW INTERESTING

Hartland Team Gets its Blood Warmed Up and Wins Two

Hartland ball team is at last coming into its own. Two games this week go to its credit, and renewed here fills the bosoms of the local fans.

On Monday evening Bath team came to Hartland for a return game and were defeated in a score of 9 to 1. The visiting team was a little off on this occasion, but the home team pulled together and did some brilliant playing. Walter Billings pitched throughout the game and did superior work, and was ably supported by Stanley DeWitt behind the plate.

On Tuesday evening the Hartland team played a return game at Centerville and were again victorious. The game resulted in a score of 13 to 6. This was a strong contrast to the score of the last previous game with the Centerville team, played here three weeks ago, when the Hartland team suffered an even worse defeat than they administered on Tuesday. A number of automobile parties accompanied the Hartland team to Centerville to give them moral support and courage, but the team did not require any special detail of rosters. The victories and losses of the contending teams are now such as to make excitement great, and the result of future games will be awaited with great interest.

Hartland team will play Grand Falls here July 18. They will play at Bath on Monday evening the Mars Hill team will come to Hartland.

Letter of Condolence

Dear Mrs. Perry: A meeting of Brunswick Lodge No. 99, I.O.O.F. held on Wednesday, June 4, a resolution was passed directing me to express to you and your family, in writing, the sincere sympathy of the lodge for the loss you have sustained in the death of a husband and father.

Although Brother Perry had not been for some years, been a regular attendant at our lodge, yet he gave evidence that he honored the order and had a deep interest in its work. In his passing away, we, as a lodge, feel the loss of one who was an ardent advocate of oddfellowship. We sincerely sympathize with you in the loss of one who was ever kind and faithful in the discharge of his home duties.

We believe also that the loss is keenly felt outside the home circle for Mr. Perry was one who took an interest in the public welfare, and endeavored to apply the principles of Christ to all of life's activities.

While we mourn with you in the loss sustained in his death, we also rejoice with you in the hope that he has passed from the trials and sufferings of this life to the joys of that life with God where "they shall hunger no more, nor thirst any more

TOWN COUNCIL IN MONTHLY SESSION

Frank Dickinson Appointed Police Motor Speed Restricted

Owing to the large amount of business listed for the consideration of our Town Fathers, their regular monthly session occupied both the evenings of the 7th and the 8th inst.

The reports of the different officials and committees were especially interesting.

The Treasurer's report shows that the total amount expended by the Town to date for all causes is $715.66. The greater part of this amount—viz., $603.75—has been expended on the streets.

Ald. Hagerman reported that D'Archie Campbell, our genial bridge inspector, had consented to allow the Town to arrange a suitable place for hitching horses on the ground under the eastern approach to the bridge. This space, however, will be utilized for a time for storing the lumber to be used in the erection of the new bridge this winter.

Alderman Hagerman also reported for the Police Committee. Mr. Plummer, who now has charge of the labor on the streets the waterworks and pumping station, and is also Town Marshal, thought that after he worked all day on the streets with his men, or at some of his other duties, he did not feel exactly like getting out in the evening and doing police patrol work. He, therefore, suggested that he be allowed to hire a man to perform this duty for him, and that the town contribute a small sum toward the salary of this man. Frank Dickinson, a returned soldier and a good fellow generally, was suggested for this position by Mr. Plummer, and later he was heard and engaged, at a salary of $150, $100 of which is to be paid out of Mr. Plummer's salary and the remaining $50 will be paid by the Town. Mr. Dickinson will be on hand to act whenever called upon, and will be on active duty on certain days and evenings to be arranged by the police committee.

The By-law committee handed down By-law No. 15, dealing with the regulations governing motor vehicles. The speed limit for the town was fixed at 12 miles per hour generally, but limited to a much lower rate at crossings, corners and other dangerous places. The penalty for infringement ranges from $10 to $100 the severity of the sentence being left to the discretion of the Magistrate.

A motion was carried empowering the By-law committee to have the By-laws printed as soon as possible.

It was also voted to draw on the Bank of Montreal for $500 in addition to what had been already voted, to meet current expenses.

Alderman Campbell, Britton and Nevers were appointed as a fire Committee, and Aldermen Carr, Hagerman and Cameron as a Poor Committee.

A memorial service for Hazel V. Hatfield will be preached at the United Baptist church at Mt. Pleasant on Sunday July 13 at 2.30 p.m., by Rev. I. E. Van Wart.

and where God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes." We trust also that the separation which death has caused shall last only for a time and that by and bye his loved ones shall meet him again when the day breaks and the shadows flee away.

Yours in F. L. and T.
In behalf of the lodge

JUNE WEDDINGS

McLellan-Williams

A very interesting event took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams of Long Settlement on Wednesday June 25 at 3 o'clock, when their daughter Mildred Iva became the bride of Mr. Karl Ezra McLellan of Oakville.

The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, gowned in white georgette over white satin with bridal veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern.

The bride was attended by her little niece, Miss Mildred McIntyre, who acted as ring bearer, dressed in pink silk.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Rees Jones, rector of Centreville, the bridal party standing under an arch of green and white, the double ring service being used.

Mendelssohn's Wedding March was rendered by Miss Hazel Margison.

A large number of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, after which the guests repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous supper was served.

The dining room was prettily decorated with yellow and white crepe paper and cut flowers.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, including silver, cut glass, china and money. From the groom she received a beautiful neck lace of la tuesca pearls; to the ring bearer, he gave a gold locket and chain.

The happy couple left by auto amid showers of confetti for their future home at Oakville bearing with them the good wishes of their many friends.

DeLong-DeLong

One of the prettiest of June home weddings was that solemnized on Wednesday, June 25, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford DeLong, Avondale, when their daughter Edith was united in marriage to Hilston DeLong of Brookville.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. N. Barton, the bridal party standing beneath a beautiful arch of roses and ferns. The bridal march was played by Mrs. Barton. The bride's gown was a very pretty one of white silk with lace and beaded trimmings. She wore a bridal veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of maiden-hair fern and white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude DeLong, wearing a gown of white silk. Little Miss Lottie DeLong looked very sweet as flower girl dressed in pink silk. After the ceremony and congratulations luncheon was served to about 80 guests, and following the bride and groom motored to their home at Brookville. A number of valuable wedding gifts were received testifying of good will and high esteem. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold necklace and to the bridesmaid a gold pendant.

On May 21, at the home of the bride's parents, Royaltown, by Rev. W. J. Hurlow, Beecher Smith and Emma Miller, both of Knox Hill.

and Mildred Abigail Burt of Royaltown.

On May 24, at the United Baptist parsonage, Tracey Mills, by Rev. W. J. Hurlow, Beecher Smith and Emma Miller, both of Knox Hill.

On June 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wheeler, Knoxford, by Rev. W. J. Hurlow, Rollie Herbert Bartley and Neta Belle Wheeler, both of Knoxford.

On June 21 at the United Baptist parsonage, Tracey Mills, by Rev. W. J. Hurlow, Theodore Parks and Alma Kinney, both of Bridgewater.

S. S. District Conventions

Wilmot District held their annual S. S. convention in the United Baptist church at Carvell, on Monday, June 23. Rev. J. W. Brown, Ph. D., of Fort Fairfield, was present and charted the schools at the afternoon session, giving an explanation of the organization and pointing out the particular needs of the different schools.

Mrs. S. S. Miller had a splendid paper on missions, giving extracts from the addresses of missionaries at the World's Missionary Convention which she attended at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

In the evening Rev. J. W. Brown gave an address on "The Call of the Sunday School to Men."

The County Secretary, Clark A. McBride, read a paper on the "Cigarette Evil."

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Jas. F. Anderson; vice-pres., F. D. Flewelling; sec. treas., Clarke A. McBride; Supt. of Children's Division, Mrs. Geo. R. Smith; Supt. of Young People's Div., Mrs. W. W. Wilson; Adult Div., Rev. J. B. Champion; Administration, F. D. Flewelling; Teacher Training and Temperance, Mrs. B. W. Campbell; Missions, Mrs. Benj. London; I.R.A. Benj. Crandall.

The attendance was good at both sessions. A strong resolution was passed protecting against the action of the Senate in regard to prohibition. Rev. J. W. Brown and the County Secretary went to Waterville on Tuesday to attend the Wakefield District S. S. Convention.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweltering nights, is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the troubles do come suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts., a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice in regard to such ailments write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its forty years experience is at your service.

Orser and Miles Kimball held services here on Sunday.

Rev. Charles Orser has been visiting relatives and friends here for the past few days.

Mrs. Lillie Shaw returned home on Tuesday from a visit with her brothers at Andover.

June, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foye Pratt is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Crabbe of Hartland, spent Sunday at Wm. Orser's.

Mrs. P. Hanning and son Fred are guests at Albert Pratt's.

An auto party consisting of Rev. P. J. Quigg, C. H. Orser, Joseph Melvin and Wm. Orser visited Fredericton one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Orser gave a party on Thursday evening in honor of their son Harold who saw much active service in France. About thirty-five of the younger set were present and enjoyed the evening in music and pleasant chat. A dainty treat was partaken heartily, and the party dispersed at a late hour.

Harold Newell left on Friday for Mars Hill to spend the summer.

Miss Della Pratt and Janita Shaw spent the week-end at Woodstock.

Clifford and Frank Pratt returned on Saturday from Miramichi where they have been engaged in a saw-mill for some time.

John McDougall

The whole community was shocked to hear of the sudden death of John McDougall which took place at his home in East Glassville on June 10 after an illness of only 24 hours. He had been troubled with stomach trouble for some time but had always been able to attend to his work until the night previous to his death, when after working all day on the hay press he was taken violently ill and medical aid proving of no avail he passed away Tuesday night.

Deceased was 63 years of age, and was born in Scotland, coming to this country with his parents when young. He married Margaret Lamont of West Glassville who died eight years ago. His eldest son Archibald made the supreme sacrifice three years ago. Three children survive: William, Lillian and Harold all of this place. He leaves one sister Mrs. Sarah McFay of Cedar Rapids, whom he visited a few weeks before his death.

Mr. McDougall was of a jovial disposition with a cheerful word for all. He will be greatly missed by everyone and much sympathy is expressed for the family.

Services were held at the house conducted by Rev. Mr. Leslie assisted by Rev. A. G. Pentz. Interment in Glassville Presbyterian cemetery.

AN IDEAL GENERAL

Late Gen. Lipsett Idolized by His Men.

Appropos the discussion of Canadian high commanders arising out of Sir Sam Hughes' charges in Parliament, Maj.-Gen. Louis James Lipsett, C.B.E., C.M.G., B.S.O., commander of the Third Canadian Division, who was killed just before the armistice, was about as splendid an example of the ideal general officer as could be found. He commanded the division for nearly three years, and in that time won the affection and sincere esteem of tens of thousands of Canadians.

Gen. Lipsett won his way into the hearts of his men by two means: his personal bravery, and his personal interest in the men.

It was not only before battles that Gen. Lipsett was to be found in the front line. He was an indefatigable "straffer," and in order to keep his twelve battalions up to concert pitch all the time, he spent every hour he could spare from his command and the machinery of administration, up in the line, stirring the ground, circulating on raids, and keeping in touch with the spirit of the troops. In the infernal mud and corruption of the Somme, he was an ever-present visitor in the heart of the fight. In the unimpeachably filthy trenches in which the corps spent the winter of 1916-1917, around Neuville St. Vaast, Gen. Lipsett braved the mud three and four times a week to cheer the troops with his shy smile. And at Amiens, in August, 1918, no third division man will ever forget the sight of Gen. Lipsett, with his orderlies, galloping cheerily along the shell-swept roads and over the green fields, not more than a thousand yards from the front of the battle.

He was a practical believer in the army regulation that staff officers should be personally acquainted with the ground and the progress of their battle. And as he walked around the shell-swept battle ground, the fact that his bravery was too big for a soldier of the third division felt they could not spare "Louis" Lipsett, and it was with trepidation that the troops watched him striding about the countryside. In fact, it was a common saying among the men that Gen. Lipsett was bound to "get it" sooner or later. Alas, he "got it" only a few days before the finish of the great war in which he had played so noble a part.

Quite unexpectedly, after the battle of Arras in August, 1918, word came that Gen. Lipsett was to leave the Third Division of Canadians and go to take command of the Fifth Imperial Division. Of course, it was intended as a boost for Gen. Lipsett, as he would be having command of a force in the British army, which was his life's profession. But neither the Third Division nor Gen. Lipsett could see it that way. He came up early in September to the neighborhood of Vis en Artois, where his battalions were in rest, and called for battalion parades. He visited the battalions in turn, and there were tears in his eyes and in his men's, too, as he made a typically shy, bashful speech to them in farewell.

"For three years," he said, "I have done all in my power to command you as efficiently as you responded to command. It has been a great privilege to command you splendid men, and I desire to thank you with all my heart for the honor you have bestowed upon me as your commander."

And the battalions, formed up in hollow squares, presented arms, and then cheered themselves hoarse, remembering how this shy, brave young general had spent his days in eliminating all chance out of the men's way.

He had a great memory for names and faces, and knew even the newer lieutenants by name, and many of the old non-coms.

Gen. Lipsett was only 44 when he was killed. He was a professional soldier, born in Wales, and belonged to the Royal Irish Regiment. He came out to Canada in 1911 as a staff officer on the Canadian permanent force with the rank of major. At the outbreak of the war he raised the 8th Battalion, "Black Devils," in Winnipeg, and commanded them in France through the Canadians' first battle at Ypres.

It is said that he would certainly have been chosen corps commander after Byng if he had been Canadian-born.

The Third Division has the one big regret that "Louis" Lipsett, the fair-haired and blue-eyed young man who made the division one of the finest in the whole British army, was not with them when the came home.

It Helps Others Will Help Me

With This Belief Many Thousands Have Learned the Exceptional Value of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

You hear people talking about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You read about it in the newspapers. You wonder if it would benefit you. And while you are hesitating others are using it to great advantage.

This treatment for the restoration of the blood and nerves is so different to most medicines that you may not realize why you can be so certain of benefit from its use. In order to maintain the vigor of the nervous system an abundance of pure, rich blood is necessary. When the nervous system becomes exhausted and you are easily tired and suffer from headaches, dizziness, instability of indulgence, it is because the blood is failing to supply proper nutrition to the nervous system.

By forming a rich blood, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food naturally and certainly restores the vigor of the nerves. Since it works "hand-in-hand" with nature, it cannot fail to be of benefit, and there is no reason why it will not help you just as it has the writer of this letter.

Mrs. Stephen G. Thwaites, Box 205, Jordan, Ont., writes: "For about a year I was troubled with nervousness, and took doctor's medicine, but it did not seem to relieve me. I could not sleep nor concentrate myself to do anything. I had severe headaches, was tired all the time, and afraid to stay alone. I also had several nerve medicines until almost discouraged. At last I discovered Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found relief in this. I had only taken one bottle when I began to feel better. I continued using this treatment until my nerves were restored to perfect health. I think the Nerve Food splendid for nervous troubles of any kind, and cannot recommend it too highly."

(Rev. J. P. Brennan, Vineland, Ont., states: "This is to certify that I know Mrs. Thwaites, and her statements are correct.") Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box. A full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.75, at all dealers or Edman, Box 4, Co. Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint.

LING COLE TEA

"You'll like the Flavor"

The Big Value Package that is Guaranteed.

Perfectly packed in bright lead foil, and price marked on every package.

A Fine Car—Low Priced

WE could build a Gray-Dort car to sell at a lower price. But we don't believe you want such a car—a car whose only merit is cheapness.

We believe you would rather pay a fair price for a good light car. And in buying the Gray-Dort you get the finest light car that engineering skill and high-priced materials can build.

More than that, you get the fine car at a really low price. Efficiency in the factory and big production make it possible.

We have built the Gray-Dort for the man who wants a car of sensible price; a car economical in upkeep; but a car of sure performance, free from trouble, comfortable and commodious, equipped for care-free driving, and unquestionably handsome.

The touring car is $1,245; the Gray-Dort Special—the car with added refinement and extra equipment—is $1,335 extra; there are also the coupe and the sedan. All prices cash. Chatham; all prices subject to change without notice.

WEAK MOTHERS REGAIN HEALTH

Through the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make

No mother should allow nervous weakness to get the upper hand of her. If she does worry will mar her work in the home and torment her in body and mind. Day after day spent amid the same surroundings is enough to cause fretfulness and depression. But there are other causes as every mother knows, that tend to make her nerves run down. A change would benefit her jaded system, and rest might improve her blood so as to give the nerves a better tone. But rest and change are often impossible, and it is then that all worn out women should take a short treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood, rich with the elements on which the nerves thrive. In this way these pills restore regular health, increased energy, new ambition and steady nerve. There is a lesson for other women in the case of Mrs. Harry P. Snider, Wilton, Ont., who says:—"Five years ago my twin babies were born, and I was left very weak and very miserable, hardly fit to do anything. The doctor gave me medicine, but it did not help me. Then I tried another doctor, but with no better results. One day I went home to my mother, telling her how miserable I felt, and that the doctor's medicine had not done me any good. Mother asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I was glad to try anything that might help me, I got three boxes when I went back home. By the time these were used there was no doubt they were helping me, and I got three more boxes. But I did not need them all, for by the time the fifth box was used, I was entirely cured, and never felt better in my life. Now when I hear people talk about feeling weak or miserable I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and tell what they did for me, and in similar cases I shall continue to recommend them."

At the first sign that the blood is out of order take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Necessity in the House

Most of the common ills of life arise from a torpid, sluggish condition of the Liver, Kidneys or Bowels, and because they act on each of these organs in a direct and specific way, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills overcome serious and painful diseases over which ordinary medicines have no control.

COPENHAGEN CHEWING TOBACCO

Copenhagen is used differently from ordinary chewing tobacco.

Take a small pinch, for a start, and put it between the lower lip and gum, in the centre.

Afterwards you can increase the size of the pinch to suit the strength of the chew you desire.

Copenhagen is strong, because the tobacco of which it is made is cut into fine grains, which makes it impart its strength thoroughly and quickly.

Hence, a little "pinch" goes a long way, showing that Copenhagen is not only an unusually economical chew, but also one of the finest quality, being made of the best, old, rich, high-flavored tobacco.

A wedding of much interest was solemnized on Tuesday evening, July 1 at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. A. H. Sisson when Miss Christina Delilah Gee, youngest daughter of a family of nineteen children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gee, Hillendale, became the bride of Cyrus D. Hatheway of Beach Glen. The bride was attired in a georgette gown with hat and shoes to match, while the groom wore the conventional black suit. They were unattended. Immediately after the ceremony, the happy couple repaired to the groom's bungalow at Beach Glen, where a grand reception was tendered. Vocal solos by Charles Fisher added much to the pleasure of the evening. Miss Hatheway acted as accompanist. Miss Tapley assisted the bride in receiving her guests. Refreshments were served at a late hour. The bride is a very popular young lady, a graduate of Willow Grove school, class 1918. The groom owns a large berry farm at Beach Glen, and also carries on an extensive lumber business. The good wishes to all are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Hatheway.

POTATO INSPECTION

It has been decided by the Pathologist. In charge of potato disease investigations that only the fields of potato growers who apply for field inspection will have their crops inspected this year. That is, every grower who wishes to have his crop inspected must make application. This differs from the method followed previously in that we endeavored to inspect every grower's field as far as time would permit, without requiring them to make application for the inspection. There will be no expense attached to this inspection, and all tags and certificates will be issued free of charge. Last year we inspected approximately 3000 fields, but this year we will be anxious to receive in the neighborhood of 500 applications.

In some sections of the province, particularly around Hartland, Florenceville, and Woodstock there was quite a demand for certified stock, and in many cases the shippers were able to get a larger price for the inspected stock than they were for the uncertified crop, and no doubt this inspected stock will be in greater demand next season than during the past year will be able to carry on some form of propaganda which will make the inspected stock which has passed the standard successfully sell at a much better price than uninspected stock.

Applications or lists of growers whose fields are to be inspected should be in our hands by the July 15 or not later than July 20.

G. C. CUNNINGHAM,
Pathologist.

FOR SALE—Fast driving mare, seven years old, standard bred, not afraid of autos. Also buggy, harness and sleigh. For particulars apply to Observer, Hartland.

Fitting reference was made to "Peace Sunday" in the churches on July 7. Rev. J. B. Champion of Centreville acceptably filled the Methodist pulpit in exchange with Rev. T. S. Crisp. The floral decorations in this church on Sunday were of exceptional beauty.

Pupil Nurses wanted for training in special hospital. Three year course, second year in a large general hospital. Graduates qualified for state registration and private and public health service. High school qualifications or an equivalent required. Address Butler Hospital, Providence, R. I.

There was a nice rain on Monday night which refreshed the earth and encouraged vegetation to renewed effort. During the week cool weather and scattered showers have benefited crops and injury from the prolonged drought may not after all prove serious.

There has been much good work done on the road between Avondale and Lakeville and on the Williamstown road. The road between Centreville and Florenceville is now in about as good condition as it is possible to make it. A. D. McCain is receiving much praise for his efforts to promote good roads.

Some French Superstitions

THE soldier who does not know, in his own experience, of a case where a man who lit his cigarette "third off a match" and promptly went to his death, is a rarity. Third off a match, going up the line when warned to leave, passing a horseshoe on the road, being in the same platoon as one's brother or father, speaking one's regimental number in the trenches or being a determined souvenir hunter—these were the principal superstitions of soldiers in France. And superstition, even to the supposedly hard-headed young business men who joined up, became, after a few days in the line, just as much a part of a soldier's equipment as his rifle. The superstition was not the blind and terrified sort observed by savages. It was good-humored, even cynical; but was rigidly observed nevertheless.

Matches were often, nay, usually scarce among the fighting troops. And soldiers smoke gregariously. That is, when one soldier pulls out a packet of cigarettes, however stealthily, at least two or three of his comrades discover the act and share a smoke with the owner. Then the match is lit. Even if the lighter of the match is not superstitious, and attempts to give a light to a third man, some one of the party is bound to bend forward sharply and blow it out.

The legends of death and calamity following the unlucky third man on a match are as numerous as there were troops in France. Every man has a story to illustrate the dire consequence of that breach of a malign fate's decree. And strangely enough, many actual examples are available. The soldier, of course, in a war where death comes screaming and rushing through the air, blindly striking out for victims and so often blindly catching them, comes to believe in a peculiar sort of spirit, a fate with a sense of humor perverted by too much handling of human life. The soldier sees around him every day death under so many queer and shocking circumstances and so many fine and lovable men getting killed, that gradually he comes to sort out the deaths of the splendid fellows as evidences of the mocking gestures of that sardonic fate. Hence, the superstitions, which are a sort of offering from the war-stained human mind to the malign spirit.

The writer sat at the foot of a dug-out stairway, on the Ecurie front. Up at the top, the morning sun shone, and a sentry whistled and hummed to himself. Two signallers sat on the stairway repairing a telephone box. A man came along the dugout and ascended the stairway. As he passed the signallers, one of them was in the act of passing his chum a cigarette. The man who was ascending stopped with a "What ho!" and helped himself to a cigarette. The second signaller lit a match, and before thinking, all three lit up from it, and the man who was ascending lighting his last.

The signaller who was holding the match jerked his hand back, but too late. The third cigarette was aglow, and the man who was ascending lighting his last.

"You will bum cigarettes, eh?" warned the signaller, laughing. "You'd better throw that fag away, or you're a goner."

"Nothing doing!" said the man and continued his way up the stair-

Lord Reading Made Hit As British Ambassador

VISCOUNT BRYCE, probably the most popular foreign ambassador who ever served at Washington, and when the American people think of an ideal ambassador they think of the author of the "American Commonwealth." But not even Ambassador Bryce's coming or going was the occasion of such an outburst of respect and admiration as that which has marked the departure of Lord Reading. In the general chorus of praise that has gone up from the American press there is not a dissenting voice. Indeed, there is not the slightest doubt that if such methods were in vogue a petition praying for his speedy return could be circulated and signed by practically every leading American in the country. His mission has been a "brilliant, unqualified success," as one paper describes it, and this is a typical comment.

There is hardly a modern parallel for it. Two disadvantages had to be met and overcome by Lord Reading. In the first place, he was known to be one of the greatest lawyers in Great Britain, the greatest with the exception of Sir Edward Carson. This fact might well have created the impression that he had been chosen for his ability to "put some things over" and would have the natural tendency of making the Americans with whom he came in contact rather wary and reserved. In the next place he had had no diplomatic experience, surely a grave disability at a time when the most delicate negotiations were on foot. The fact that Lord Reading is a Jew may also have had some influence, for while this would aid him among the Jews, and would be particularly valuable in financial negotiations, it might not prove an asset with others, not quite free from anti-Jewish prejudices. Yet here in Lord Reading in the last days of his departure, banquipped by the Pilgrims, the American Bar Association and as many other bodies as he can accept invitations from, escorted to his boat by a distinguished company, his rooms flooded with gifts, and newspapers displaying almost ill-temper that he is leaving the United States.

Lord Reading has done his part in winning the war, and he has done it well. In the first two years of the struggle, besides being Lord Chief Justice of England, he was the principle financial adviser to Lloyd George, who was then Chancellor of the Exchequer, and is credited with having devised those methods of financing that have resulted in the British Empire emerging from the war in a sounder economic position than any other belligerent.

Central, with the exception of the United States, which bore only a tithe of her burden. In 1916 he was sent to the United States to negotiate loans for the British and French Governments. This was a difficult task. There was pro-German propaganda to be overcome, and the military position of Germany at that time made lenders chary, while the money market conditions were generally unfavorable. Yet Lord Reading succeeded. The next year he returned again as British High Commissioner, and on the death of Sir Cecil Spring Rice was given the additional honor and burden of the American Ambassadorship.

But so greatly was his counsel in demand that last fall he was summoned home to consult with the British Government on the peace terms, and for several weeks he was busy in Paris as a member of the commission for the feeding of the European neutral and enemy nations. A short time ago he again returned to the United States, but simply to close his desk and say good-bye. He was urged by the British Government to continue the post, and the American Government, it is hinted, made similar representations, but Lord Reading's health cannot face the continued strain, and he returns to resume the office as Lord Chief Justice. It may be, indeed, that he will be one of the international court that will try the Kaiser. This would set the crown upon one of the most remarkable of contemporary careers.

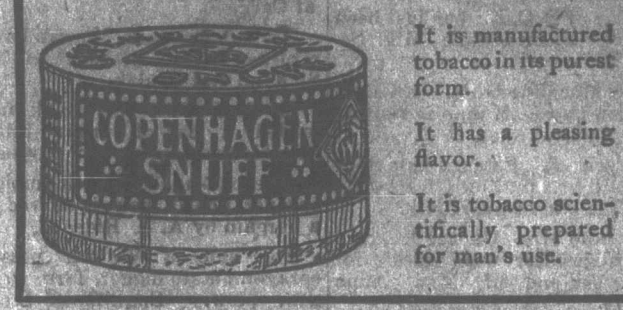

Fact appears to lie at the bottom of Lord Reading's success at Washington. This, gift, however, is an extraordinary degree. It is especially desirable in the British representative at Washington, for while he is on a slightly different footing from all other ambassadors, his privileged position makes it all the more necessary that he shall live up to a higher standard than is demanded of others. A "break" on the part of some ambassadors might be excused on the ground that they were unfamiliar with certain American prejudices or conditions. It would not thus be forgiven in a British ambassador. Moreover, personal relations enter into Washington diplomacy to a greater extent than in any other great capital. It is one of Lord Reading's gifts that he has been able in a remarkably short space of time to get on terms of friendship and intimacy with the leading men in American public life. Maybe the fact that he is a great lawyer, and thus has been able to make use of the legal transmission in a country where every lawyer is a politician, has helped him greatly. Anyway, he will be a hard man to follow at Washington.

Admiral Kolchak. News comes slowly out of Russia, but what there is of it seems to show that the next Russian name prominent in the thought of the world will be that of Admiral Alexander Vassilievitch Kolchak, head of the Omsk Government. Admiral Kolchak after the abdication of the Tsar, supported the Provisional Government of Prince Lvov, and was nearly lost when that Government was overthrown by the revolution. Kolchak was then at Sebastopol, where the sailors of the Russian fleet united in response to the demand and promises of Kerezhny, and the admiral was arrested on his own flagship. Refusing to surrender his sword, he threw it into the sea, and indignantly withdrew to his cabin. A guard was posted outside the door, and the fate of the imprisoned officer became a serious question. The sailor revolted, but was finally persuaded by the Bolshevik leaders that Kolchak should be executed. The decision was reversed by the several appeals of Rear Admiral J. H. Glennon of the United States Navy, who was in Russia as part of the members of the Ellin Root embassy, and arrived at Sebastopol just in time to prevent the execution. Kolchak was permitted to return with the American officer to Petrograd, and shortly afterward became the head of the anti-Bolshevik movement when another provisional government was set up at Omsk.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Don't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezzone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!
A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, which so annoy or irritate. Frezzone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

OTHER TABLETS NOT ASPIRIN AT ALL

Only Tablets with "Bayer Cross" are Genuine Aspirin

If you don't see the "Bayer Cross" on the tablets, you are not getting Aspirin—only an acid imitation. Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" are now made in Canada by a Canadian Company. No German interest whatever, all rights being purchased from the United States Government.

During the war Aspirin tablets were sold as Aspirin in pill boxes and various other containers. The "Bayer Cross" is your only way of knowing that you are getting genuine Aspirin, and that safe by millions for Headache, Neuralgia, Cold, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for Pain generally.

Handy little boxes of 10 tablets—also larger sized "Bayer" packages—can be had at drug stores.

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacturing of Monroeville, Pennsylvania, U.S.A.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream, one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and in the skin's softener, whiteners and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

Economical
Because It Covers More
EVEN if this paint were sold at a price half as high as any other—it would still be the economical paint to use on your house. In sheer covering capacity it has no equal. A gallon of it goes so far that you'll buy less of it and yet do more with it.

B-H PAINT
70% Pure White Lead (Equivalent to 100% Pure White Zinc)
30% Pure White Zinc
100% Pure Paint
This paint is guaranteed to possess as its important basis the above formula which we inscribe on every can. The result of such a formula is all that you could ask in brilliance of color and in proper "body"—a paint which gives a fine lasting finish, excelling all others in "covering capacity" and in durability. Paint with B-H "Economy" Paint—and your house is protected for years, where a coat of ordinary paint will last but a few months.
