TOWN COUNCIL

Two Meetings Held During
the Past Week

TELEPHONE MATTERS

Permission not Granted to
N. B. Tel Co. to erect Poles

A meeting of the Town Council was held on Friday evening. His worship Mayor Murray presiding,
the full board being present.

A communication from Messrs McAllister & Mott was read by the Mayor, acknowledging receipt of notices in re Duncan case arbitration and calling attention to the fact that no offer had been made by the town to Messrs. Duncan.
Request was made that this should be done before the case was carried any further. A second letter was also read from McAllister & Mott covering the same ground as the first.

A letter was read from Mr. Wm.
Murray solicitor for the N B Telephone Co., giving notice that this company intended running lines in the town, and asking that permission be given for the erection of poles under the supervision of the Public Property and Street Committee.

Mr. H. F. McLatchy, the town's solicitor, was heard in connection with the communications from Messrs. McAllister & Mott. He thought it unwise to discuss the matter in open Council but would be pleased to meet with any committee or any member of the Council and give them any information desired.

The communications were referred to the special Arbitration
Com.

Mr. Murray next addressed the Council on the application from the N B Telephone Co. to erect poles in the town, and pointed out the advantages to the business men of having this company's lines
in Campbellton.

Coun. Blackhall called attention to the fact that the Central Telephone Co. had recently purchased the local system and were making improvements. This company were under contract to meet a Quebec company at Matapedia,
thus giving direct communication with Quebec and Montreal. They also intended connecting with Newcastle, the Bathurst system being recently bought out with that end in view. Then there was the question of overcrowding
of poles on Water and other streets if the N. B. company were given permission to enter the town.
Already both sides of many of our streets were lined with poles,
on one side the telephone poles

PRESENTATION.

Mr. Thos. Roy Honored
on the Eve of His Departure

Last Monday evening the Young People's Society of the Baptist Church gave a social in honor of Mr. Thomas Roy, one of their members, who is leaving the town
for the purpose of pursuing a course of study at Horton Collegiate Academy, Wolfville, N. S.

The Church Vestry was tastefully decorated for the occasion.
The congregation was well represented by both old and young and all conspired to do honor to their guest.

A brief entertainment was given consisting of readings by Miss Mary Richards and Miss Wild of Montreal, and duet by Misses Aggie
Patterson and Mattie Richards.
All acquainted with these talented young ladies will not need to be told that all parts of this programme was well rendered.

After ample justice had been done to the Ice Cream and Cake,
Mr. Roy was presented with a purse and the following address:—

Dear Brother Roy,
It is with mingled feelings of regret and pleasure that we are met here on the eve of your departure from our town to say farewell to you.

During the two years that you have sojourned in Campbellton you have won the respect and esteem of all classes of citizens who have been fortunate enough to have made your acquaintance. But it is to this Church that you have especially endeared yourself. Coming to the town you brought your church letter with you, as all loyal Baptists ought to do, and becoming one with us you have ever been willing to bear your share of toil and responsibility. In the Young People's Society and in the Choir
you have rendered most efficient and acceptable service, and by both of these institutions as well as by the Church in general, you shall be gratefully remembered and greatly missed.

We deeply regret your departure and especially do we regret the shadow that has been cast over your pathway by the accident that has befallen your father, but trust that may not prove so serious as is at present feared.

We said at the opening of this address that our feeling of regret at your departure was tempered by joy, and now let us say that this joy results from the purpose that is taking you away. We are glad that you are going from us to college where you are to prepare yourself for greater efficiency in the Lord's work, and we trust that you shall be able to give as good an account of yourself in the Academic halls as you have in the workshop and in your Church and social relations. Indeed we know that you will do conscientious work and honest, hard work always brings its reward.

And now dear brother, as a further token of our regard, please accept this purse. It is not large in itself, but be assured that it is accompanied by our most hearty sympathy and best wishes for a bright and useful career in the service of Our Lord and King.
Yours faithfully,

On behalf of the C'ton Baptist Church, J. W. Keirstead,
C'ton., N. B., Aug 28, 1905.

Mr. Roy made a very feeling and suitable reply in the course of which he expressed the surprise he felt at being thus honored when he had done so little as compared with what he felt he might have done. His plans were a little unsettled by the accident that had overtaken his father, but he hoped to be able to realize that all things work together for good to those who

Lady Eileen Makes Trip
From Gaspé in 18
Hours.

The Lady Eileen arrived in port
on Monday afternoon at five o'clock from Gaspé with a very large passenger list and cargo. Quite a large number made the round trip
in her, and were enthusiastic over the scenery and the fine service given.

Passing Perce at one o'clock in the morning, the powerful searchlight was turned on the famous rock and it was a scene not soon to be forgotten, the rock standing out in all its majesty in the light, with the inky night for a background,
and the birds, of which there were myriads on the rock, protesting against being awakened from their slumbers.

The Lady Eileen made the run
from Gaspé in 18 hours, the fastest on record in the Bay Chaleur.

FOR TRACADIE.

B. C. Government Wish to Send Lepers to Lazareto.

A communication has been received at the department of agriculture from the government of British Columbia, suggesting an arrangement whereby the provincial leper colony at D'Arcy Island,
a few miles from Victoria, may be transferred to Tracadie, N. B.
There are six or seven Chinese lepers on D'Arcy Island, and while they are well housed and fed, they are not receiving that attention which they should get, because it is impossible to induce any responsible person to go and look after them. In the event of the Dominion Government, according to the request, the British Columbia authorities promise that the cost of transportation will be defrayed
by that province.

should go, or whatever he should undergo; he hoped to prove himself worthy of the confidence and esteem that was being shown him
this evening.

After the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" the company said good bye to Mr. Roy and the pleasant function was brought to a close.

WAR IS ENDED

Japan Waives Indemnity
And Interned Vessels

GREAT MORAL VICTORY

Diplomatic Triumph for Witte—Treaty Ready
in a Week

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 29.—
The peace conference arrived at a complete accord today on all questions and decided to proceed to the elaboration of a treaty.

The Japanese practically yielded everything. They accepted the Russian ultimatum. No indemnity, and a division of Sakhalin
without payment of redemption money. The Japanese yielded interned warships and limitation of naval power.

The delegates will be called in afternoon session and the actual work on the preparation of the treaty will be begun.

St. PETERSBURG, Aug. 30.—"A great diplomatic victory for M.
Witte but a great moral victory for Japan," is the verdict of Prince Oukhtomsky in his editorial in the Viedomosti today. He says: "Notwithstanding the difficult circumstances under which the negotiations commenced, M.
Witte carried out his task with the greatest skill, and obtained from Japan the utmost she was prepared to give. More we would have to give, but though M. Witte wrested out of defeat these advantageous terms the moral advantage rests with Japan. She will be recognized in the eyes of the east and of Europe as the victor, and she has acquired a predominant position in Asia,
while Russian prestige has suffered a correspondingly heavy blow."

LONDON, Aug. 30, 12.43 p. m.
The news of the conclusion of peace at Portsmouth, N. H., yesterday, reached London so late last evening that with the exception of official and diplomatic critics and those who were in the city at a late hour, the announcements in the morning papers came as a complete surprise. Even many cabinet officials and other high officials were ignorant of the momentous event until today, as these who compose the official and social circles in England are now gathered around the moors, some of them out of reach of the telegraph. With her general public the news was received with the greatest satisfaction and admiration for Japan's "sacrifices in the cause of peace."

In this connection the Pail Mall
Gazette says:—"The enlarged treaty with England may have had a considerable weight in persuading the Mikado and his advisors that Japan's position in the Far East is now practically impregnable and that peace may be made without pressing for the payment of the indemnity."

"Weak Heart"

Palpitation and irregular action of the heart are due largely to a thin, watery condition of the blood. The heart and nerves refuse to perform their proper work for want of support. Pale, weak, or anemic people should use "Psychine" and avoid heart troubles. "Psychine" makes rich blood, tones the system, regulates the heart action and restores vitality. All weak people should have a bottle handy in case of sudden heart troubles.

ANNUAL REPORT

I. C. R. Employees Relief and Insurance Ass'n

SHOWS BIG SURPLUS.

Large Payments Made During the Year—Good Condition.

Following are the death claims assessed and paid during the year for Campbellton district.

Ronald Currie, $250; J. H. Pineault, $250; J. G. Ross, $250; William Hachey, $250; J. R. Thompson, $250; James Connel, $250; Emile Chouinard, $250; total $1,750.

The amount paid for sick and accident indemnity for Campbellton district was $1260; surgical and medical attendance $1092.19.

The sixteenth annual report of the Intercolonial Railway Employees' Relief and Insurance Association shows that the association has a net surplus for the year ending June 30th, 1905, of $13,890.22, and the order is in excellent financial condition.

The total receipts for the year from all sources were $78,661.27 and the credit balance from June 30th, 1904, was $13,329.56. The total expenditures were $74,200.61, leaving a credit balance of $17,790.22 which less the estimated outstanding liabilities of $3,900, leaves a net surplus of $13,890.22.

The claims against the sick and accident fund for weekly indemnity, medical and surgical attendance, and for special treatment during the year has been considerably in excess of its outcome. The deficit in this fund was found to be increasing so rapidly that the General Executive Committee found it necessary to order a special assessment of 25 cents per member, and this reduced the deficit very materially and it amounted to $4,179.78. In view of the state of this fund the executive officers have under consideration the allowances made for special treatment and for hospital charges. Ten death claims were paid from the temporary employees' accident fund during the year.

Fifty-three death claims were assessed during the year. Forty-one were due to natural causes and twelve due to accidental injuries and they totalled $20,750.

Fourteen claims for total disability allowance, aggregating $6,250 were approved by the general Executive Committee, assessed and paid.

Grand Total—Sick and accident indemnity, $19,883.25; surgical and medical attendance, $14836.11.

BRITAIN AND JAPAN

Believed That a New Anglo-Japanese Treaty Has Been Signed.

London, Aug 25.—The Associated Press has given reason for stating that a new Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance has been signed. The foreign office declines to give official confirmation or denial, but the Associated Press understands that the treaty was signed some days ago.

There is no reason why it should not be signed prior to the conclusion of the Portsmouth conference, as the action of that conference will not affect its terms.

The new treaty is broader in scope in some respects than the former notably where it includes the recognition by Great Britain of a Japanese protectorate over Korea and on other points which it was not necessary to include in the old treaty.

In some respects the new treaty contains limitations as compared with the old treaty. For instance the latter contained a clause to the effect that in case of a combination of two powers against Great Britain Japan would be obliged to assist her ally, while the clause in the new treaty requires the assistance of Japan only so far as the British colonies of the far east and the Pacific are concerned.

The Associated Press understands that the terms of the new treaty were fully agreed upon before parliament adjourned, but it was also agreed that the official announcement of its signature and of its full terms should be deferred until after the conclusion of the Portsmouth conference.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Takes trip to Bottom of Sound in Submarine Boat

Oyster Bay, Aug 25.—President Roosevelt this afternoon made a descent in Long Island Sound on board the submarine torpedo boat Plunger. He was aboard the vessel about three hours. At one time the little boat was submerged for fifty minutes, and in that time was put through all of the submarine tests of which she is capable. The president expressed his delight at the novel experience, and said that he was immensely impressed with the boat and with the manner in which she was handled. In thus braving the dangers of submarine maneuvering, the president has endeared himself to naval officers and men the world over, and made Lieutenant Charles H. Nelson, commander of the Plunger, the proudest and happiest man in the United States navy.

The special trial of the boat with the president on board took place in Long Island Sound, just off the entrance to Oyster Bay.

A stiff northeast breeze kicked up a heavy sea in the sound, but the Plunger behaved beautifully. The water is about forty feet deep, too shallow in the opinion of Lieutenant Nelson and his experts to enable the vessel to do her best work.

Soon after the vessel reached the necessary depth she was directed downward until she tested on the bottom. When the mechanism of the craft was explained minutely to the president by Lieutenant Nelson, so that he afterward experienced no difficulty in understanding the manoeuvres.

Lieutenant Nelson then began to put the Plunger through her paces.

During the operations of the Plunger, the tender Apache remained within a short distance, prepared to render any assistance that might be necessary.

In describing his experience President Roosevelt expressed great satisfaction. He remarked particularly on the possibilities of the submarine torpedo boats in warfare. Not even the members of his family knew of the president's intention to make the descent of the Plunger. One result of the secrecy maintained was that the Plunger had practically the entire Long Island Sound to herself.

A WHALE STORY

A genius up at the Balena wharf fisheries has, according to veracious reports, succeeded in domesticating the cow whale. The whales are not exactly household pets yet, but, according to Professor Muller, their owner, they are very useful. Fifty of the whales come daily to a little inlet and are milked each of them giving five to seven hogshead a day of milk. When the adventurous Professor Muller began to experiment with cow whales he found great difficulty in persuading them to keep still while being milked. The whale could not understand the process. But they like good things to eat, particularly sweets. They were lured, a few at a time into an inlet where they were fed with choice whale food. At last they were taught that no milk meant no food. And they would make. They now stand without twitching and have never been known to put foot in sail when stamping to keep off the flies.

Economy on I. C. R.

As foreshadowed in the Record the position of Superintendent of the I. C. R. made vacant by the death of James E. Price, will not be filled. The work of this department will be divided up among several heads of departments. There are a number of changes that could be made on the I. C. R., which would save a lot of money without impairing the efficiency of the road. It is to be regretted that Hon Mr Emmerson could not take the time to make the thorough investigation of the working of the road that he promised that he would make. There are a large number employed on the people's road who are being paid altogether too much for the work they perform. Not even the others who are not being paid what they are worth and it makes them discontented with Coughers, Hawkers, Spitters! Public expectation is against common law, against the law of health. When the throat tickles, that's the time you need "Catarh-ozone"; it soothes away the irritation, cuts out the phlegm and loosens the tight feeling. You'll quickly cure that catarrh without trouble with Catarh-ozone. It positively prevents new attacks and cures catarrh forever and for all time to come. Don't take our word for it, try Catarh-ozone yourself. Once used you'll be delighted with its pleasure and influence.

Miss Bernard of Carleton and Mr. Albert Drapeau of Barachois were united in marriage at Carleton Monday and arrived in Dalhousie Monday evening by steamer. Lady Ellen where they were met on the wharf by a number of their relatives and friends.

The bridal party drove to Mr Drapeau's home in Barachois where a sumptuous supper was served to over one hundred people. After tea dancing was the principle amusement during the evening. Mr and Mrs Drapeau were very popular here as was shown by the numerous presents they received.

John Sillass has already cut and threshed 15 bushels of barley the first of the season here.

The agricultural meeting held here last week was a grand success over 200 persons being present.

All the schools are open here under a full house of children.

Mr William Bernard and Mr Edmond Drapeau have erected fine barns which are a credit to the place.

All the farmers are done haying and the grain crop is the best here for years.

What causes Appendicitis The most common cause of appendicitis is constipation. When you require physic don't use cheap drastic pills—get Dr. Hamilton's Pills which strengthen the stomach, regulate the bowels and prevent any tendency to appendicitis. In one day you'll feel the tremendous benefit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. By purifying the blood and cleansing the system they prevent hemorrhoids, indigestion and drive away weariness. No medicine so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, sold everywhere in 25c. boxes with yellow cover; get the genuine.

IRISHTOWN. As considerable time has elapsed since I saw any report from Irishtown in your bright news columns I thought I would let your readers know that Irishtown and its people are still in existence.

A very pretty and interesting marriage was solemnized at St. Jules' Church, August 1st, at seven in the morning. The contracting parties were Mr Samuel Paquet of Point Le Garde to Miss Mary C. Hughes of this place. After the ceremony was performed by Rev Father Morin the happy couple drove to the home of the bride where a well laden table and a large number of friends awaited them. Their many friends extend to them their heartiest congratulations and good wishes for a happy and prosperous journey through life. The bride received many handsome and costly presents.

Mrs Charles Bujold who spent a few weeks visiting her parents here, returned to her home in Rumford, Me., last week.

Chills prove fatal. If warmth and circulation are not promptly restored, chills result in fatal pneumonia. This necessitates keeping Nervine on hand. Taken in hot water it breaks up a chill in two minutes. By rubbing freely over throat and chest it prevents colds.

Noninflammation so strong, so penetrating, so swift to kill pain and inflammation. Nearly fifty years' record has proved the value of Polson's Nervine. You should get a bottle to-day.

Sixth Pair Of Twins Allentown, Penn., Aug. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Depp of Hickory Run, with the appearance of a pair of twins to day, the parents of 23 children. Being only 40 years old, they make the pound claim, age considered, of having the banner family as to size in the United States. They were married when they were 22 years old. Seventeen times has the stark come to visit them, and on six of these visits left twins. The last pair are a boy and a girl. Nineteen of the children were sons and four were daughters.

Two sons and two daughters died, leaving 17 boys and two girls. The father of the interesting family is a section foreman of the Lehigh valley railroad and owns a truck farm. The mother was one of a family of six children, but is herself one of a pair of twins.

GASPE The bazaar which took place here last week was a great success. The nights were all that could be wished for, as far as the weather was concerned, and nearly two hundred people were present. The bazaar was well law, by Mrs P. McKenzie and Miss Minnie Karamagh. Many of the young folks enjoyed a good supply of ice cream.

A grand picnic was given on Monday last, by Mrs John Adams in honor of her daughter Clarissa who has lately returned from Montreal where she has spent a few months.

The Misses Sadie and Gertrude Lehoullier, accompanied by some friends spent Sunday in Douglastown.

MARITIME UNION

To unite the Maritime Provinces under one executive would appear to be dictated by common sense. The commercial interests have begun to favor it and a conference to consider the project would certainly do no harm. Prince Edward Island one of its spokesmen says, would be apt to favor union if a tunnel accompanied the boom. The marvel is that the expenditure at Ottawa has not provided for at least one tunnel to the Island, and the omission must be purely accidental. When we build Island wharves, deepen rivers for canoe traffic and speak encouragingly of canal, with two mouths, why not a tunnel through which the Intercolonial could be extended under Northumberland strait, and thus tap the traffic of a rich and fertile province. The fees of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick for entering the union are not mentioned, but they would doubtless be of a practical sort, so as to enlist the sympathy of the Dominion treasury. The first step toward unity is being taken in demand for increased Federal subsidy. The premiers are ready to sink minor differences on this point with a noble patriotism which will enhance their credit in the bank.

—Toronto News

Hereafter persons found guilty of throwing paper or other material on the streets and teamsters allowing blocks of wood dropped from their loads to remain on the streets will be prosecuted. This is a move in the right direction and Coun. Joudry is deserving of praise in his efforts to keep the streets clean. If we cannot have stone pavements by all means let us keep our streets as clean and respectable as possible.

WATCH REPAIRING

JEROME ROY SERIOUSLY HURT.

Thrown From Trestle at Newcastle Friday Evening.

Mr. Jerome Roy, who is in charge of the Coal shed at the I. C. R. depot here received severe injuries while at work Friday evening. He was preparing to unload a box car of coal and as the door of the said car was stiff and would not run on its slides he was using a crowbar to pinch it open. In doing so the door raised slightly and loosened from its top fastening fell outward. In endeavoring to escape this Mr. Roy evidently fell between the openings in the trestle, striking his head and falling to the plank floor below a distance of about twenty feet. In falling his head came in contact with the beams of the trestle making two severe cuts and slightly fracturing the skull. He landed on his breast, which is severely bruised.

Dr. Desmond is in attendance and states that the injured man is progressing favorably although he is still in a very serious condition.

Thos Roy of Campbellton, son of the unfortunate man, went to Newcastle last week having been called there by the serious accident to his father.

THREE JURORS CURED.

With Cholera Morbus with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Alacates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some sausage meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one twenty-five cent bottle cured the three of us." For sale by all Druggists.

YESTERDAY'S ECLIPSE

Sky was Cloudy and only Occasional Glimpses could be had.

Those who rose early yesterday morning to see the eclipse of the sun witnessed a most glorious sunrise. A narrow strip of clear sky stretched across the eastern horizon and as Old Sol peeped above the skyline the coloring of the clouds was superb. Clouds soon hid the sun and only an occasional glimpse would be had of the eclipse. At 7.45 the clouds parted for about a minute and the eclipse was visible.

Cured of Lame Back after 15 years of Suffering.

"I had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bisher, Gillam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by all Druggists.

FELL OVERBOARD

Chatham, N. B., Aug 28.—About six o'clock Saturday evening, when the steamboat "Laura" was about opposite Point Aux Carr, on her return trip down the river, the captain John McManis, of Millerton, seemed to take a weak turn and fell overboard.

George Miller jumped into the water and caught him before he sank and held him until a boat, which had been lowered from the Laura reached the spot.

Both men had just been pulled into the boat, Captain McManis helping himself, when she was sent by the waves against the Laura, which was turning, and was upset. When the captain was taken again into the boat life was extinct.

The deceased was about fifty-five years old and had been captain of the Laura, owned by J. C. Miller of Millerton, for twenty-three years. He married Miss Wilson, of Napton, who died several years ago. It is thought death was due to heart failure.

THE RETURN OF SHERLOCK HOLMES ...

BY A. CONAN DOYLE

However, Lestrade was anxious to get his man into safe quarters, so within a few minutes our cab had been summoned and we were all four upon our way to London. Not a word would our captive say, but he glared at us from the shadow of his matted hair, and once when my hand was within his reach he snapped at it like a hungry wolf. We stayed long enough at the police station to learn that a search of his clothing revealed nothing save a few shillings and a long sheath knife, the handle of which bore copious traces of recent blood.

"That's all right," said Lestrade as we parted. "Hill knows all these gentry, and he will give a name to him. You'll find that my theory of the Mafia will work out all right. But I'm sure I am exceedingly obliged to you, Mr. Holmes, for the workmanlike way in which you laid hands upon him. I don't quite understand it all yet."

"I fear it is rather too late an hour for explanations," said Holmes. "Besides, there are one or two details which are not finished off, and it is one of those cases which are worth working out to the very end. If you will come round once more to my rooms at 6 o'clock tomorrow I think I shall be able to show you that even now you have not grasped the entire meaning of this business, which presents some features which make it absolutely original in the history of crime. If ever I permit you to chronicle any more of my little problems, Watson, I foresee that you will enlarge your pages by an account of the singular adventure of the Napoleonic busts."

When we met again next evening Lestrade was furnished with much information concerning our prisoner. His name, it appeared, was Beppo, second name unknown. He was a well known ne'er-do-well among the Italian colony. He had once been a skillful sculptor and had earned an honest living, but he had taken to evil courses and twice already been in jail—once for a petty theft and once, as we had already heard, for stabbing a fellow countryman. He could talk English perfectly well. His reasons for destroying the busts were still unknown, and he refused to answer any questions upon the subject, but the police had discovered that these same busts might very well have been made by his own hands, since he was engaged in this class of work at the establishment of Gelder & Co.

To all this information, much of which we already knew, Holmes listened with polite attention, but I, who knew him so well, could clearly see that his thoughts were elsewhere, and I detected a mixture of mingled uneasiness and expectation beneath that mask which he was wont to assume. At last he started in his chair, and his eyes brightened. There had been a ring at the bell. A minute later we heard steps upon the stairs, and an elderly, red faced man with grizzled side whiskers was ushered in. In his right hand he carried an old fashioned carpetbag, which he placed upon the table.

"Is Mr. Sherlock Holmes here?" My friend bowed and smiled. "Mr. Sandford of Reading, I suppose?" said he.

"Yes, sir; I fear that I am a little late, but the trains were awkward. You wrote to me about a bust that is in my possession."

"Exactly." "I have your letter here. You said, 'I desire to possess a copy of Beppo, Napoleon and am prepared to pay you £10 for the one which is in your possession.' Is that right?"

"Certainly."

"I was very much surprised at your letter, for I could not imagine how you knew that I owned such a thing."

"Of course you must have been surprised, but the explanation is very simple. Mr. Harding of Harding Bros."

"Yes, gentlemen," said he, "it is the most famous pearl now existing in the world, and it has been my good fortune, by a connected chain of inductive reasoning, to trace it from the Prince of Colonna's bedroom at the Ducal hotel, where it was lost, to the interior of this, the last of the six busts of Napoleon which were manufactured by Gelder & Co. of Stepney. You will remember, Lestrade, the sensation caused by the disappearance of this valuable jewel and the vain efforts of the London police to recover it. I was myself consulted upon the case, but I was unable to throw any light upon it. Suspicion fell upon the maid of the princess, who was an Italian, and it was proved that she had a brother in London, but we failed to trace any connection between them. The maid's name was Lucretia Venetia, and there is no doubt in my mind that this Pietro who was murdered two nights ago was the brother. I have been looking up the dates in the old files of the paper, and I find that the disappearance of the pearl was exactly two days before the arrest of Beppo for some crime of violence—an event which took place in the factory of Gelder & Co. at the very moment when these busts were being made,

said that they had sold you their last copy, and he gave me your address."

"Oh, that was it, was it? Did he tell you what I paid for it?"

"No, he did not."

"Well, I am an honest man, though not a very rich one. I only gave 15 shillings for the bust, and I think you ought to know that before I take £10 from you."

"I am sure the scruple does you honor, Mr. Sandford. But I have named that price, so I intend to stick to it."

"Well, it is very handsome of you, Mr. Holmes. I brought the bust up with me, as you asked me to do. Here it is!"

He opened his bag, and at last we saw placed upon our table a complete specimen of that bust which we had already seen more than once in fragments.

Holmes took a paper from his pocket and laid a ten pound note upon the table.

"You will kindly sign that paper, Mr. Sandford, in the presence of these witnesses. It is simply to say that you transfer every possible right that you ever had in the bust to me. I am a methodical man, you see, and you never know what turn events might take afterward. Thank you, Mr. Sandford. Here is your money, and I wish you a very good evening."

When our visitor had disappeared Sherlock Holmes' movements were such as to rivet our attention. He began by taking a clean white cloth from a drawer and laying it over the table. Then he placed his newly acquired bust in the center of the cloth. Finally he picked up his hunting crop and struck Napoleon a sharp blow on the top of the head. The figure broke into fragments, and Holmes bent eagerly over the shattered remains. Next instant, with a loud shout of triumph, he held up one splinter, in which a round, dark object was fixed like a plum in a pudding.

"Gentlemen," he cried, "let me introduce you to the famous black pearl of the Borgias."

Lestrade and I sat silent for a moment, and then with a spontaneous impulse, we both broke out clapping, as at the well wrought crisis of a play. A flush of color sprang to Holmes' pale cheeks, and he bowed to us like the master dramatist who receives the homage of his audience. It was at such moments that for an instant he ceased to be a reasoning machine and betrayed his human love for admiration and applause. The same singularly proud and reserved nature which turned away with disdain from popular notoriety was capable of being moved to its depths by spontaneous wonder and praise from a friend.

"Yes, gentlemen," said he, "it is the most famous pearl now existing in the world, and it has been my good fortune, by a connected chain of inductive reasoning, to trace it from the Prince of Colonna's bedroom at the Ducal hotel, where it was lost, to the interior of this, the last of the six busts of Napoleon which were manufactured by Gelder & Co. of Stepney. You will remember, Lestrade, the sensation caused by the disappearance of this valuable jewel and the vain efforts of the London police to recover it. I was myself consulted upon the case, but I was unable to throw any light upon it. Suspicion fell upon the maid of the princess, who was an Italian, and it was proved that she had a brother in London, but we failed to trace any connection between them. The maid's name was Lucretia Venetia, and there is no doubt in my mind that this Pietro who was murdered two nights ago was the brother. I have been looking up the dates in the old files of the paper, and I find that the disappearance of the pearl was exactly two days before the arrest of Beppo for some crime of violence—an event which took place in the factory of Gelder & Co. at the very moment when these busts were being made, by breaking them could be seen. Even shaking would tell him nothing, for as the plaster was wet it was probable that the pearl would adhere to it, as, in fact, it has done. Beppo did not despair, and he conducted his search with considerable ingenuity and perseverance. Through a cousin who works with Gelder he found out the retail firm to which he had bought the busts. He managed to find employment with Morse Hudson and in that way tracked down three of them. The pearl was not there. Then, with the help of some Italian employee, he succeeded in finding out where the other three busts had gone. The first was at Harker's. There he was dogged by his confederate, who held Beppo responsible for the loss of the pearl, and he stabbed him in the scuffle which followed."

"If he was his confederate, why should he carry his photograph?" I asked.

"As a means of tracing him if he wished to inquire about him from any third person. That was the obvious reason. Well, after the murder I calculated that Beppo would probably hurry rather than delay his movements. He would fear that the police would read his secret, and so he hastened on before they should get ahead of him. Of course I could not say that he had not found the pearl in Harker's bust. I had not even concluded for certain that it was the pearl, but it was evident to me that he was looking for something, since he carried the bust past the other houses in order to break it in the garden which had a lamp overlooking it. Since Harker's bust was one in three, the chances were exactly as I told you—two to one against the pearl being inside it. It was obvious that he would go for the London one first. I warned the inmates of the house, so as to avoid a second tragedy, and we went down with the happiest results. By that time, of course, I knew for certain that it was the Borgia pearl that we were after. The name of the murdered man linked the one event with the

He carried an old fashioned carpetbag.

Now you clearly see the sequence of events, though you see them, of course, in the inverse order to the way in which they presented themselves to me. Beppo had the pearl in his possession. He may have stolen it from Pietro, he may have been Pietro's confederate, he may have been the go-between of Pietro and his sister. It is of no consequence to us which is the correct solution.

The main fact is that he had the pearl, and at that moment, when it was on his person, he was pursued by the police. He made for the factory in which he worked, and he knew that he had only a few minutes in which to conceal this enormously valuable prize, which would otherwise be found on him when he was searched. Six plaster casts of Napoleon were drying in the passage. One of them was still soft. In an instant Beppo, a skillful workman, made a small hole in the wet plaster, dropped in the pearl and with a few touches covered over the aperture once more. It was an admirable hiding place. No one could possibly find it. But Beppo was condemned to a year's imprisonment, and in the meanwhile his six busts were scattered over London. He could not tell which contained his treasure. Only other. There only remained a single bust, the Reading one, and the pearl must be there. I bought it in your presence from the owner, and there it lies."

We sat in silence for a moment.

"Well," said Lestrade, "I've seen you handle a good many cases, Mr. Holmes, but I don't know that I ever knew a more workmanlike one than that. We're not jealous of you at Scotland Yard. No, sir, we are very proud of you, and if you come down tomorrow there's not a man, from the oldest inspector to the youngest constable, who wouldn't be glad to shake you by the hand."

"Thank you," said Holmes. "Thank you." And as he turned away it seemed to me that he was more nearly moved by the softer human emotions than I had ever seen him. A moment later he was the cold and practical thinker once more. "Put the pearl in the safe, Watson," said he, "and get out the papers of the Conk-Singleton forgery case. Goodbye, Lestrade. If any little problem comes your way I shall be happy, if I can, to give you a hint or two as to its solution."

Degenerate.

One day in the cloakroom of the senate, apropos of a discussion whether, from an intellectual standpoint, statesmen of the present fall below the standard set by those of the past, one of the members told the following story:

"There lived in Lee county, Ky., a local sage by the name of Jesse Cole. Jesse entertained the notion that the present day type of lawyer was not to be compared with the jurists of the old days. One day as he was entering the courthouse at Beattyville he noticed a group of lawyers who were discussing the points of a case that was to come up that day. Cole, disgusted by their conversation, stepped up to them and said:

"Gentlemen, thirty or forty years ago the lawyers in this state were men—great, big, immense men, wearing fur hats as big as bushel baskets. But now, gentlemen, I honestly believe that a fellow could without the least difficulty draw a tomato can over the head of any one of you."—Harpers Weekly.

Those people whom we go to see and also entertain, yet really care nothing for—is this society of any real use or benefit?

FRENCH ACADIAN LOYALTY

"There are a little less than one hundred and fifty thousand French-Canadians in the lower provinces, and their congress at Caraque, N. B., was certainly a credit to that most interesting race."

Mr F. D. Monk, M. P., for Jacques Cartier, who has returned to Montreal after one of the most interesting experiences of his life, says in addition to the forgoing that marked progress has taken place since the convention at Arichat three months ago, and more since the congress at Memramcook, N. B., at which the member for Jacques Cartier attended.

There were five thousand people at Caraque, all well disposed, exceedingly well behaved, all speaking the French tongue and, best of all, the Quebec delegates did not see one intoxicated person in the crowd during the whole day.

Mr Monk says the Acadian clergy have taken a deep interest in the advancing of temperance principles among their people, and if their conduct at Caraque is a criterion the efforts of the clergy are being crowned with success. Then Mr Monk was glad to see that all classes are taking a great interest in the cause of primary education, and all feel the absolute necessity of mastering the language of the majority. Dwelling upon this subject Mr Monk said that Mr Justice Landry emphasized the necessity of the Acadian people living in harmony with their English speaking fellow countrymen. He also remarked that all official as well as individual utterances breathed the most enthusiastic devotion to the British flag.

"Yes Mr Monk said, 'the memories of those dark days of the great derangement have been rapidly deprived of their old time bitterness, and one and all, priest and people, rejoice with their fellow countrymen of another race, in the splendid possession of British liberty."

The speeches delivered by the Acadian representatives and the resolutions adopted in matters affecting the welfare of their race were of a practical character.

Mr Monk would express no opinion on the leading question of Acadian representation in the Maritime provinces episcopacy, which was dwelt upon so strongly by Senator Poirier. If such an address was delivered in Quebec it would be considered violent in the extreme, said Mr Monk. The Senator had always held very strong feelings on that question, and he has made them known in a spiritual manner on more than one occasion.

Returning to the question of education among the Acadians, the M. P. for Jacques Cartier said that Memramcook was the oldest seat of Acadian learning, yet the

Burdock BLOOD BITTERS
Mrs. A. Lehanne, of Ballyguff, Ont., writes: "I would have been in my grave long ago had it not been for Burdock Blood Bitters. I was run down to such an extent that I could scarcely move about the house. I was subject to severe headaches, backaches and dizziness; my appetite was gone and I was unable to do my housework. After using two bottles of B. B. B. I found my health fully restored. I warmly recommend it to all tired and worn out women."

Eudist fathers, who had been expelled from France, had established a college at Caraque, and were evidently doing some work. He had taken the liberty of reminding these good fathers that they had cast in their lot with the British people, and that it was better for all concerned that the Acadian young committed to their charge should grow up imbued with a broad Canadian spirit and taught to appreciate the value of those precious liberties which the British flag and British institutions had vouchsafed to them.

The fathers he says, accepted the advice in good part, and seemed to realize perfectly well the responsibility attached to their sacred and at the same time patriotic calling.

"Now, Mr Monk, after visiting the Acadians, what do you think of their views on political matters?"

"Well," replied the member for Jacques Cartier, "I, of course, did not go down there on a political mission, but I may tell you that I did not find any prejudices whatever against the Conservative party. They are certainly well up in our daily political happenings, and no one can deceive them as to the merits or demerits of our public men. They are more sparing of their applause than the French Canadians, but I think they take fully as intelligent a view of public questions as their brothers of the of the same tongue in old Quebec. As far as our party is concerned, I believe the Acadians are well disposed to give us a fair hearing and judge us upon our merits. I did not see that the name of Sir Wilfrid Laurier evoked any great enthusiasm, and I do not think the Acadians have any national prejudices of an illegitimate nature when weighing the merits of the two parties."

Mr Monk met representative Acadians from the three provinces, and he believes they will compare most favorably with the same class amongst the other elements of the Confederation.

Bottles Thrown From the Train Windows.

Fort William, Aug. 22.—A riot was narrowly averted here this morning when C. P. R. Constable Martin arrested a harvester who was pelting flowers. As the train pulled out the passengers hurled bottles and tin cans at pedestrians. At Buda, forty miles west of here, J. Davis, a section-man, was struck in the head by one of the bottles and hurt badly; he may die. On this same train a man was stabbed just west of Montreal. Fredericton-Loggieville I. C. Branch Scene of much Activity.

A day or two ago Chief Engineer Burpee of the Maintenance of Way Department inspected the road and work has now been commenced at ballasting the Chatham Junction Loggieville end of the branch. Yesterday a special train in charge of Conductor Ran Hoben left here to take part in the work. The train crew was—Engineer John Cameron, Fireman Byron Pickard, and Brakemen Brock Allen and Herbert Malone. They will run as a ballast train. In this work of improvement what is known as the "Doukhobor" style of locomotive has been in use for the first time on this branch of the I. C. R. system.—Gleaner.

FLYING COLUMN IN MOROCCO

French Troops' Movement Against the Sultan

Paris, Aug. 25.—General Liantry, commanding a flying column in Algeria, near the Moroccan frontier, after conferring with the Ministry, is preparing for the eventual military movement along the frontier of Morocco if the Sultan should refuse the demands of the French Government for the release and redress for the arrest of French Algerian merchant Bonzian. Considerable time is expected to be taken in forwarding the demands overland to Fez, so that the final arrangement of the military plans will not be determined for a week or ten days.

A despatch from Oran, Algeria, says that The Libertes, a newspaper of that place, declares that a flying, comprising infantry, artillery and cavalry, is ready to occupy the Moroccan garrison town of Saiba in the event of the Sultan's non-compliance with the French demands.

WATER LOW.

Continued Drouth Has Caused Many Tanks to be Exhausted.

The continued drouth is pitting the I. C. R. watering tanks into bad shape and already several have been completely exhausted and matters are beginning to assume a serious aspect. It is some weeks now since there has been rain in any quantity, and crops have suffered correspondingly. Along the I. C. R. the drouth is keenly felt. There is no water at Springhill Junction, Calhoun, or Westcock, and water is scarce at Harcourt and Rogersville. At other places along the line, the water is becoming alarmingly low, and a good rain-fall would be welcome by the I. C. R. as well as by the farmers.

STABBING AND ROBBERY.

Chatham Chinamen burglarize Another Laundry and Stab the Occupant.

Chatham, N. B. Aug. 29.—At about 2:30 o'clock this morning three Chinamen, who carry on a laundry business of their own in town, made a raid attempted robbery and murder on two other Chinamen who also do a laundry business on Water street, stabbing the occupant, who happened to be alone at the time, and inflicting a very painful wound. One of the robbers, the stabbing, while the other two ransacked the place and succeeded in getting about $130. But the victim of the would-be murder had, in the meantime, escaped through the back door and soon assistance was rendered by nearby neighbors. The police were then summoned and two of the robbers captured. The third is still at large. These Chinamen have been running a laundry business in this town for some time and seemed always to have an ill feeling towards each other. Meanwhile the prisoners are locked up, awaiting their trial.

CAUSED BY POISON. NEW CARLISLE

Joseph, the four year old son of Mr and Mrs Warren Reid, Middle Coverdale, died Saturday evening making the third and last victim of the mysterious poisoning case, which has attracted a great deal of attention all over the province. The third victim was buried yesterday afternoon in the Methodist burying grounds, Coverdale, beside his two little brothers. A post mortem examination was held on the body of the third child, and the suspicion that death was due to irritating poison was confirmed. Exactly what poison it is is unknown, but the symptoms point to arsenic poison. It is likely that a thorough chemical examination will be made by an experienced chemist to ascertain the exact poison. The theory that the children's death was caused by poisoned well water is not yet confirmed, and the matter will probably be thoroughly investigated.

The Prescotts are cutting about six million feet at New Mills this season and report operations at that place going on very satisfactorily. Mr. Geo. Coun. Miller from the assessment Com., recommended that the assessment of Mrs. Sarah West be reduced from $2100 to $1700. Report adopted.

Coun. Blair was added to the special expropriation committee.

An enquiry from Coun. Joudry as to how often the sewers were flushed led to some discussion.

Coun. Taylor said that the syphons in use, although the very best on the market, were not absolutely reliable and sometimes failed to work properly. The manager of the system, however, always looked after them and sewers were properly flushed.

Not long ago the outlets were tested and found to be quite clear.

Coun. Ferguson said the sewer should be extended up Gerard St. and residents compelled to enter.

Coun. Blair thought there should be no charge for entering sewer. It looked too much like putting a premium upon disease. He gave notice of motion for a bye-law for compulsory entrance to sewers.

Coun. Joudry asked for amount of pedlar's license fees collected during the current fiscal year.

The town clerk promised the desired information at next night of meeting.

Meeting then adjourned.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held in the Council Chambers last evening. Present, His worship Mayor Murray, Couns. Blackhall, Blair, Ferguson, Joudry, Laughlan, Miller, Taylor and Vautour.

Daniel Hantott 1.25
Shives Lumber Co. 350.40

Report received and adopted.

Coun. Joudry reported on the application of the New Brunswick Telephone Co. for permission to erect poles, string wires and do business in town. He recommended that the said company be not allowed to erect poles but that they be allowed to run their wires through town in an underground cable.

This report brought forth quite a discussion, several of the members of the Council being of the opinion that the N. B. Telephone Co. should not be allowed to come into town at all.

Coun. Blair moved that the report of the Public Property and Streets committee be requested to retire and prepare further report. Carried.

Committee retired and on returning brought in the following report:—

To the Town Council to the Town of Campbellton.

Gentlemen:—

Re application of Mr. Wm. Murray, solicitor for the New Brunswick Telephone Co. asking for permission to erect poles, etc., would recommend that the request of the applicant be not granted.

Report received and adopted.

Coun. Taylor of the Water and Sewerage committee submitted report and recommended the payment of the following accounts:—

Geo. Main	$4.25
Jas. E. Kelly	6.33
Peter McLean	2.82
A. G. Adams	47.18
Walter Dow	155.65

Report received and adopted.

Council then went into committee of the whole to discuss matters relating to reservoir.
