A PRECEDENT. In sounding foreign governments on these points, the administration followed the precedent set. under Gen. Grant's administration, by Secretary Fish, who attempted to persuade the govern-ments of Great Britain, Germany, France, Russia, Italy and Austria that it was their first duty to make strong representations to Spain as to the necessity of putting a prompt end to the war in Cuba, or of abandoning the struggle. It will be seen, therefore, that the administration, in ascertaining the attitude of European powers, is acting not only with due regard to the opinion of the civilized world, but is following an American precedent as well. The secretary's report, referring to the strength of the league, says:

"The growth of our organization, while not quite so rapid as in former years, is still very gratifying. We have now 1,847 societies of young people in the Dominion of Canada, with a total membership of 81,162, an increase of 150 societies and 6,247 members for the year. The number of senior leagues in the London conference is 140, with a membership of 5,604; Epworth Leagues of Christian Endeavor, 170, with a membership of 8,775; affiliated societies, 4, with a membership of 159; unaffiliated societies, 9, with a membership of 435; junior leagues, 47, with a membership of 2,563, making a grand total of societies 370, with 11,286 active members and 6,250 associate members, financial situation is alike good and very encouraging. During the year the tributed $5,237 42 for league purposes, $263 99 for the general Epworth League board, $84 72 for the superannuation fund, and $4 99 for educational societies; for missions, $1,147 24, making a total contribution of $6,738 36. The report was unanimously adopted.

He advocated the study and constant perusal of the book adopted for league use by the general assembly, and that each society should be formed into a reading circle. This would always be a means of education and of propagation and fostering ideas, which would not be brought out in any other way. Wherever reading circles could be formed they would not only be profitable, but most pleasant.

meetings. Every successful leaguer must be prayerful and studious, ever seeking to inculcate the doctrines of Christ. He closed by advocating that each league should once a week hold a revival meeting.

THE EVENING SESSION. The proceedings of the final session were begun by the unanimous adoption of the resolution committee's report, recommending the following motion by D. A. Maxwell and Rev. James Husser: "Whereas it has been well established in many ways that the use of alcoholic liquors as beverages is destructive of the best interests of the human race; whereas the chief courts of several Christian bodies have at different times declared in effect that the manufacture and sale of such liquors, except for medicinal and scientific purposes, cannot be licensed without sin, and whereas the settled policy of the Methodist Church throughout the world is in open hostility to the so-called liquor traffic, be it resolved:

"1. That this convention calls upon all leaguers and church officials to see that the provisions in the Public Schools Act for teaching temperance in the public schools of Ontario shall not be a dead letter.

"2. That this convention protests to the Government of Canada against granting permits for the sale (other than for medicinal and scientific purposes) of alcoholic liquors in the provisional districts of the Canadian Northwest.

"3. That this convention respectfully and most earnestly requests the Gov-ernment of the Dominion of Canada to frame its question of prohibition about to be submitted to the popular vote, so as to demand a definite 'yes' or 'no' for the answer, and that there shall be no rider or additional question churches in the London conference was tions associated with the question on portation and sale of alcoholic liquors other than for medicinal and scientific purposes.

"4. That the president and the secretary of the London Conference League convention shall sign and forward to the minister of education for Ontario a copy of resolution No. 1, and also a copy of Nos. 2 and 3 to the premier of Canada, and to the secretary of the Dominion Alliance."
A motion was unanimously passed thanking the trustee of the First Methodist Church for the use of the edifice, and to the local union for the kindness of its members. Dr. Thornton, of Chatham, then introduced the newly elected officers in a happy little speech, and they in turn made appropriate replies. A hearty vote of thanks was also tendered the retiring officers and all others who had assisted the convention in any way. Mr. R. W. Dillon, editor of the Chatham Banner, gave an interesting address on "Sunset and Dawn." speaker, after dwelling upon the glory of the heavens and the sunset, said the world was on the eve of a new dawn. There were six dominating forces controlling the civilization of the world today. The first was the marvelous lessening of distance on the earth's surface; second, the increasing interdependence of the nations of the earth upon each other; third, the uniincreasing diffusion of knowledge; fourth, the grasping greed of wealth by which the poor were becoming poorer and the rich becoming richer; fifth, the spirit of selfish materialism; and, sixth, the marvelous life-giving power of the spirit of Jesus Christ. The speaker took these up individually, and pointed out the manner in which all forces should be used for the advancement of the evangelization of the world for Christ. Many men did wrong because they would not take the trouble to do right. The newspapers that supported

Spence spoke for nearly an hour. He might be of use in this crisis. He was sure they all knew the Methodist maxim of "Total abstinence for the individual and prohibition for the community." He felt as confident of the outlawry of the liquor traffic and the triumph of temperance in the near fu-ture as he did that tomorrow's sun would rise. Some people imagined this agitation was based on a few fanatical ideas, but it was the natural outcome of a moral persuasion that had been born of the misery, desolation, degrada-tion, privation, suffering and crime caused by intemperance. The degree of success could be measured by the progress of the past, and today the temperance party were more powerful and influential than ever before. It was only in 1838 that Father Theobald Mathew, the Apostle of Temperance, began his reform work in Ireland. Shortly after that he became the first president of the first total abstinence society, and in the first five months he administered the pledge at Cork alone to 150,000 converts. At Galway he administered the pledge to 100,000 people in two days. He started the movement in America, and this would have to go on until it either conquered or was vanquished. Mr. Spence went carefully over the different stages of the temperance movement, and explained that prohibition was only the crystallized opinion of the people, and without which there could be no good law. If prohibition passed, the work of prohibitionists was but begun. The three great essentials to the success of the movement were, sound sentiment in the community, wise laws on the statute books of the country, and honest administration of the same when placed there. The first was gained by putting principle and religion before politics, the second by the power of the ballot, and the third by seeing that none but the right men were at the head of the country's affairs. The young men of the country owed a duty to the political caucus as well as to the prayer meeting, and they could prevent the presen-Disordered Liver

St. Catharines, March 10 .- The Grand Lodge of the Sons of England Benevolent Society is holding its 23rd session here, Supreme Grand President Bar-Cumberland in the chair,

The grand president's report, under the heading of membership, says: Twenty-one hundred members were added during the year, of whom more than half were added during the jubilee period, while the charters were opened, and the total membership now stands at the highest point in the history of the order, there being over 13,000 on the books.

The report of Mr. J. W. Carter, the supreme grand secretary, contains a very complete statement of the financial condition of the different departments of the order, as well as those of the individual lodges. Number of lodges instituted during the year, in addition to the four lodges reported in the last year's returns, six; one each at Harbor Grace, Nfld.; Vancouver, B. C.; Cobourg, Ont.; Hamiota, Man.; Calgary, Alberta; Nelson, B. C.—one in Ontario, one in Newfoundland, two in British Columbia, one in Manitoba, and one in the Northwest Territories. Number of members initiated during the year, 2,092, 343 over 1896; number in good standing, 11,881, an increase of 1,-030 over last report; number of members clear on the books, Dec. 31, 8,492, an increase over last year of 767. The present membership, after deducting 1,020 struck off the lodge books, is 13,362, including South Africa; honorary members, 243; White Rose degree members, 4,741, with several loage returns incomplete. ELOPEMENT AT TILBURY. Tilbury, March 10.-Tilbury had an elopement on Monday. Miss Alice Brooks, a dressmaker, living with her parents near the Middle road, eloped with a young Englishman who had been boarding at the house for some time past. The couple packed up all their worldly effects during the absence of the parents at Glenwood, and took the C. P. R. train from there. The bride is aged about 18 years, and the groom but little older don't call one. You suffer pain in fifty forms and yet won't call the doctor, because you hope that the pain "will go away after a while." And, too, you know by experience, that that first visit of the doctor is generally followed by many others, with the inevitable consequence of a big bill "for professional services." You don't know what to do for yourself or what to take. But suppose that you could get free, absolutely free, the advice of one of the most

London and West Huron in Evidence.

The Toronto News, a Conservative journal, has misread history, and lacks knowledge of the law, if it believes, as it professes to believe, that there is analogy between the Dominion election outrage in this city, by means of which Mr. Hyman was cheated out of his seat, and the irregularities in the West Huron election case. Says our contemporary:

Liberals had a grievance against Judge Elliot, of London, for counting the minority candidate in on nt, but that was not quite the equal of the present proceeding by the registrar of West Huron. If a returnng officer can disfranchise three polling subdivisions because of the failure of his assistants to perform their ty, representative government is a thing of the past." Let us briefly recapitulate the facts in the two cases: The charge against the returning officer in the West Huron election is that he failed to take into account in his official return the statements of three polls which had not been signed by the deputy returning officers, and thereby declared Mr. Garrow elected. By section 117 of the Ontario Election | The Old Game That Is Being is defined, and it seems to us that he clearly acted within the law. He is bound not to touch the ballots, which are sealed up when they reach him, and he has to rely on the signed statements of the deputy returning officers in the poll books. As some of them failed to sign their poll books the returning officer was debarred from counting them in his summary. That such failure to observe the law by deputy returning officers cuts both ways, and can scarcely be charged to partisanship, is exemplified by an experience in North Ontario, where, owing to a similar occurrence to that which took place in West Huron, a division giving a good Liberal majority was not counted by the returning officer.

The fairness of the Ontario law lies in this, however: An acts of those till someone gets his hands on them; charged with the administration of the then comes the rub." statute can be promptly subjected to | If there were no disappointed United review of a higher authority, and jus- States chartermongers, or greedy Yan- Ross, minister of where a candidate had a grievance, as belongs to the Canadian manufacturer stability of the government. We are now told that the Franchise Act, fitting complement to Conservative majority in the Senate the gerrymander of 1885, to do as it pleased him, and he did it.

Our contemporary will perceive the difference that there is between the conditions governing the acts of the returning officer of West Huron and the revising officer of London, and the absurdity, if not unwisdom, in view of all the facts, of making any comparison millions of dollars in cash, and its perbetween the conduct of the two men.

Our city contemporary the Free Press now realizes the danger of anyone going into the business of manufacturing evidence to the hurt of Col. Leys, M.P.P. Anglo-Canadian Trade Increase. The most satisfying news from Britain today is the great increase in trade between Canada and the mother country. There are big advances in both the imports from and exports to the Dominion, and the cablegram makes the significant announcement that the preferential tariff, put in force by the Laurier Government, is now beginning to get in its work. The enormous advantage of that beneficial unifying agency will be better seen when it comes fully into force next July. Our trade with Britain will be much increased before the present year ends.

-Says Mr. Robillaird. "I'm out of the field to stay; I wish you all good day."

Mr. W. J. Tyrell, the famous explorer, has this to say about the Hudson Bay district, lying north of settled Ontario: The animals to be found there lynx, sable, fisher monk, weasel, erbear, brown bear, walrus, square flipper seal, ring seal, fresh water seal, white whale, sea unicorn, and right whale, worth $15,000 apiece. According to Mr. Tyrell, these whales are being ruthlessly killed by the United States poachers. The lakes of the district teem with fish, and trout of 25 pounds weight, and whitefish of 14 pounds are every day matters.

Played to Kill Canada's Trade With the Yukon.

Mr. Edward Gurney, the 1897 president of the Toronto Board of Trade, who is a Conservative, considers the Government's Yukon Railway bargain a good thing. Mr. Gurney says: "I think that if the Canadian Government had advertised for tenders upon the basis of giving 3,700,000 acres of land with the other conditions that attach to this contract, and had called upon people to bid in the usual way, providing a cash payment for any increase in the terms of the offer, the whole thing would have any time within the past year been taken as a piece of humor, and the people who are howling most loudly now would have been the loudest laughers at the absurd proposition. It is the old Tor-

ROBILLARD RETIRES. Ottawa, March 10.-Mr. Robillard, Conservative candidate in Russell, this morning definitely announced that are moose, woodland cariboo, ground he had retired from the contest because he was unwell and it would require a "live" candidate to carry Rusmine, otter, beaver, muskrat, black ment of Mr. Robillard leaves the Conservatives in rather an awkward position. The names of Mr. St. John, late of West York, and of Mr. A. E. Fripp, of Ottawa, are spoken of as possible candidates against Mr. Guibord, but the election of the latter is now a foregone conclusion. Hon. George W. Ross will speak at the nomination proceedings at Duncanville tomorrow. The Russel county and city Conservatives met yesterday afternoon at the Russell House to discuss the situation created by the retirement of Mr. H. Robillard, the Whitney candidate. The names of Reeve Marier, Mr. Benj. Rothwell and ex-Mayor Durocher were submitted to the meeting, but no satisfactory arrangement was reached, and it was finally decided to leave the matter over until nomination day, and in the meantime obtain the advice of Mr. Whitney.

RECOUNTS. The recount in West York, which the Conservative press had confidently predicted would give the seat to Mt. St. John, left the vote practically un-changed, Mr. Hill's majority being simply cut by two, standing now at 35. In East Elgin the majority of Mr. Brower, the Conservative member-elect, was increased from 19 to 29 on the

A CHAT WITH MR. ROSS. In an interview with the Hon. Mr.

The reverses, Mr. Ross said, were not owing to any want of confidence in the leaders of the party or in their policy, but rather to local dissensions and in some cases to over-confidence. It is true, he said, that two ministers have been defeated, but at the same time Mr. Whitney has lost five of his most active supporters, viz., St. John, Magwood, Meacham, Kerns, Willoughby, and the ex-leader, Mr. Marter, had a very narrow escape. Two possible cabinet ministers, Dr. Rverson and Mr. Howland, declined to re-enter the Mr. Whitney is, therefore, not in a minority, but almost all the available material he had with which to form a cabinet has been routed at

The City Engineer Is After the Street Railway Company.

Threatens to Put It in the Solicitor' Hands-Latest Phase of the Situation-City Hall Notes.

Open war has been apparently declared between the city engineer and Manager Carr, of the street railway company. The engineer yesterday submitted a time table to the company and asked its enforcement. Manager Carr ·acknowledged the receipt, and declared that he would hold the city responsible for any damage arising from the adoption of the time table presented by the city engineer.

Today the engineer sent a hot letter to Mr. Carr, asking him if he intended to ignore the bylaw or if he was merely raising a small quibble to evade it. The engineer further says he intends laying Mr. Carr's letter before the city council, and he will notify that body that Mr. Carr considers the street railway bylaw cannot be enforced, and, therefore, the matter should be placed in the city solicitor's hands to test its validity. The engineer also says he will compel the company to extend their double tracks to Oxford street on Richmond, and that he will make them live up to the letter of the law in every respect. Manager Carr is preparing the company's side of the dispute, and will claim that the engineer's time table is impracticable.

** ** ** The street railway agreement empowers the engineer, with the council's approval, to regulate the street car service. It is, of course, implied that the company will not be asked to do impossible or unreasonable things.

** ** ** The city engineer has also written to the street railway company, charging them with destroying the city's watercourse at the corner of Dundas and Rectory streets, and demanding that they restore it, or he will have the work done at the company's expense. The engineer alleges that the company's track allowance is out of repair, the block pavement having been raised by the water which the company had diverted by blocking the watercourse.

Mr. McMullen's Bill to Prevent Aliens From Going Gold Mining.

The Railway War Occupying the Attention of the Government.

Ottawa, March 10.—In the house yesterday Mr. McMullen introduced his bill to amend the law relating to aliens. He explained that it provided that any person desirous of owning or occupying or becoming a director of any mining canopy aware of its being a symbol of must be a resindent of her Majesty's the protecting shelter and everlasting realm for at least twelve months, or of a country in which there is no alien labor law in opposition to her Majesty's subjects.

Col. Domville asked if it was the intention of the government to permit companies registered under the English joint stock companies act to operate in the Yukon. Mr. Sifton replied that it was, and that legislation would be introduced this parliament to permit the registration of such companies. The minister of the interior informed Mr. Richardson that the government are considering the advisability of refusing to grant licenses or permits for the sale of intoxicating liquors in the Yukon.

Mr. Maclean moved the adjournment of the house to call attention to the railway war in Canada. He asked the government to take steps to compel the railways to adjust their differences. He suggested that parliament might cut off the mail subsidies to these lines, or refuse to grant them any legisltion until they adjusted their differences.

Mr. Blair replied that he was fully sensible of the gravity of the situa-tion, and that the question was receiving his very serious and closest attention. The jurisdiction of the railway committee of the privy council could only be exercised at the request of one of the railways, and in this case neither railway seemed inclined to call in the committee and put the machinery of the committee in mo-

Ald. posed to have an interview with representatives of the two companies, so that, having an authoritative statement of the position taken by the companies, he would be better able to tell what course to adopt. Sir Wilfrid Laurier added that all were agreed that the power of parliament over such matters under the present law was not sufficient, ought to be supplemented, and that the time had come for action to be taken. The difficulty had been dormant, but had now taken form. The government had had the question un-der discussion and were devising legislation for this session, and it would depend on the length of the session whether it was introduced. Dr. Sproule repeated some of the arguments which he had advanced the other day, and Mr. Bertram also emphasized the necessity of taking action

It was open to him to make definite charges f he chose to do so. Mr. Quinn pleaded that he was not making insinuations, but simply informing the government of the existence of street rumors. He did not, however, say there was any truth in Mr. Maxwell, who represents Burrard, B. C., deplored the action of Mr. Quinn in introducing the slanders of the streets with the object of insidiously blackening the characters of the course of events since the Yukon rush commenced, and declared that the manner in which the government had met the situation that confronted them showed that they were fully equal to the demand upon them. Sir Charles Tupper's criticisms he likened unto tinkling cymbals and sounding brass, and he said that most of his followers had succumbed to the inglorious exigencies of party. The oposition amendment was mere clapfrap.

Mr. Powell (Westminster) opposed Mr. Edwards (Russell) discussed the question from the point of view of the practical business man, and presented an effective argument in justification of the contract. The urgency of the need of transportation facilities to and from the Klondike, he said, precluded the immediate adoption of the Edmonton route. He was in favor of the Edmonton route because he would like to see the road constructed through a country capable of agricultural cultivation, which might hold those whose expectations of golden treasure were not realized, but time was the essence of the present undertaking, and the Stikine route was the only one presently available. Mr. Clancy arose within a quarter of an hour of midnight to speak. He asked to be allowed to move the adjournment of the debate, but the government would not consent. He took that would justify the haste of the government in regard to the railway. He warned the minister of railways round that there was no urgency that if the bill became law the founda-tion would be laid for a rebellion in the Yukon district.

Mr Foster moved the adjournment of the debate.

Grangers Want

Recommendations by the Order .-The Delegates Present-Municipal Insurance Advocated.

THURSDAY MORNING. The annual meeting of the Dominion Grange Association resumed at 10 o'clock.

The committee on legislation recommended the Legislature of the Province of Ontario be memorialized to have been laid with Police Court Clerk pass an act enabling all municipalities within its jurisdiction to carry their Another recommendation was that the Dominion Government appoint a regular day for the holding of eleccept in cases where the government has been defeated. Also that the Dominion Government be asked to distribute statutes to all magistrates and to the officials of the or country where the San Jose scale is known to exist. Also that the Grange insist on asking that those who wish to receive higher education should pay for it themselves, and that more attention be paid to the public schools.

W. Pranglen, St. Thomas, and P. Southcombe, Clinton, were elected auditors. The secretary presented his report, showing that the Grange, when only two years organized, had a balance of $200; at the end of four years it had increased to $600, and at the end of ten years the balance was swelled to $3,000. This surplus had, however, been wiped out.

A communication was presented asking that the Grange use its influence towards securing amendments to the Statute Labor Act, in order to have the work more thoroughly performed. A report was received from the Pro-vincial Grange of the United States showing that it had a balance of $52,-600 invested in bonds drawing 6 per cent interest per annum. The annual meetings of the Grange cost $3,000, all of which was paid out of the income from the balance invested Adjourned until 1:30.

They have have been in the habit of calling Miss sneered at her and tip-tilted noses when she passed and called her "tomboy," because little Mary loves more to play in the company of boys than with girls, because she loves marbles more than dolls, because she house." Yesterday little Mary proved how very near a tomboy can come to being a heroine.

She is about 7 years old, a blonde, with blue eyes, the daughter of Chas.

Carley, a conductor of the Erie Railroad. Yesterday she was watching her brother Charlie, 10 years old; Elmer Hornbeck, 11 years, and George Decker, 9 years, playing "stump" on the ice in the Delaware and Hudson Canal. This dangerous game was too risky for Mary, tomboy if she be, for it consisted in each boy daring the others to follow him on the thin ice, and trying to get nearest the open water at

"Hold on to the ice, boys," she cried to the boys, but the advice was really not needed, for the boys, with all their strength, were holding on to the edge of the ice, which constantly crumbled under their weight. Mary ran to a yard nearby, grabbed a long pole, and, climbing down the canal's sloping bank, went as far as she dared out on the ice. Young Hornbeck first grasped the pole and this heroic young tom-boy drew him in until his feet touched the bottom of the canal. In the same way she saved little Decker, and last her brother Charlie. She hugged Charlie, saying: "Oh, I'm so glad you didn't drown," and then, like a woman, however young, she scolded him, saying: "You had no business to go out on that thin ice." When help came it was not needed.

Little Miss Mary is as modest as brave, and thus recounted her adventure: "Oh, I pulled awfully hard, and the ice broke till it made a little channel, where the boys touched the bottom on their toes, and then Elmer climbed up on good ice and was safe. Then I pulled Georgie out, and then Charlie. I was so afraid they would be drowned that I just trembled all over. They are all my playmates, and it would be ful to have them die. But I don't know that I could do it again." Piles! Piles! Itching Piles. Symptoms: Moisture, intense itching and stinging, mostly at night; worse by scratching. DRIVING MANY MEN AND WOMEN TO USE DANGEROUS NARCOTICS.

A SIMPLE WAY OF INDUCING REFRESHING SLUMBER BY RE-STORING HARMONIOUS ACTION OF THE NERVE CENTRES.

TO the thousands of people all over the land who are tossing on sleepless pillows night after night, or who pace the bedroom floor with nerves unhinged, and to whose leve sleep will not come, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound, refreshing rest. They restore the equilibrium of claimed. "Why, you make our dull house more of a home than I have had for many years. I can never be grateful enough to Miss 'A Bricot and you for deigning to take up your abode with us. It makes me ten years younger."

Abby tried to stammer out a few words of protest, but was too much embarrassed

"You forget," I said, "It was you who offered us a home when we had none. And we, too, are happy." "Oh, yes!" exclaimed Abby, fervent-

"But you are not yet quite free of the house," said David Palmer. "I will put up the shutters and close the shop, and then I will show you my hobbyhorse. Every lonely man or woman should have a hobby."

He led the way upstairs to the garret in the sloping gable of the gambrel room. Here there was a small hand printing-press under the loftiest part of the roof. The ceiling and the walls appeared to be in squares of black and white: but on closer inspection they proved to be verses printed in uniform

"You see," he said, cheerfully, "as nobody gave me any orders for printing, my press and my one fount of type would have been useless. So I have used them myself in setting up every hymn I came across, especially in old volumes, where they were forgotten. I have thousands of them in these boxes; but my favorites are pasted on the walls, as you see. When I come across a very beautiful hymn, or one very suitable for the poor, I print hundreds of them, and Felix distributes This week I have printed five hundred copies of the American battle hymn.

"What is it?" I asked, "I never saw "We will go and hear Felix sing next week," he replied. [To be Continued.]

The Lake Shore's report for 1897 will show that the company has a surplus of $3,745,000, which is equal to a dividend of 71/2 per cent on its stock. The Gould lines now have a mileage of nearly 10,000 miles. Starting with the Wabash, the Gould lines extend to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver and the Gulf of Mexico, with headquarters in St. Louis.

The Swiss people, through a recent popular vote, have shown themselves desirous of owning the roads of their republic. The proposed state purchase of the railways in that country will cost about $200,000,000,for which the government is now projecting a loan. There were nearly 400 passengers

Free Colonist Sleeping Cars Placed on the Route-First Trains Out of Toronto Last Night to the West.

[From Toronto Globe, Wednesday, March 9.1

The Grand Trunk Railway inaugur ated a new feature in its train service time of through coionist trains to Winnipeg by way of Chicago and St. Paul, west, and last night the first through colonist train in connection with this service left here. The through ser-Mr. Arthur White, district freight | Montreal and Toronto, via Chicago and lines in Ontario acting as feeders to it. The company is placing four new colonist sleeping cars on the service, which will be continued during March and April, and, by the way, it may be mentioned that these are free. Two of the cars were at the Union depot last night, and were inspected by a reporter of the Globe. For comfort, convenience and even elegance of design and finish the care are far superior to the sleeping cars ordinarily supplied to colonists going through to the west. One car was a first-class Pullman adapted as a colonist sleeping car. It was finished in solid, dark, carved mahogany. The seats, which were softly cusnioned, were upholstered in leather, being at once comfortable and durable, and making when transformed into beds easy sleeping couches. One portion of the car was furnished as a smoking apartment, so that women and children in the car would not be put to an discomfort by reason of smoking. One very good feature in the arrangements was that there were separate wash rooms, that for the women being shut off from the men's wash room. It would in fact be hard to conceive a colonist sleeping car better suited for the purpose. arrangements in the second car were much the same as those of the first. except that the upholstering was much more elaborate, being done in rich plush. Both the cars were well lighted, and in fact everything done that could take away the hardship of a long journey. The new Grand Trunk western service is a weekly one, and consists first of a train with stock and settlers' effects, to which is attached a colonist sleeper, and then a colonist sleeping service attached to the regular Grand Trunk Chicago express on Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning. The first through live stock and settlers' effect train left here at 7 o'clock last night, with the colonist car attached. The idea in this car is that intending colonists with their families can take this train, which runs straight through priate every life-giving element from the food taken into the stomach and transforms it into rich, highly vitalized blood and healthy flesh, bone, sinew and nerve fiber. to Winnipeg, and look after their stock freight along the route.
