59TH YEAR. NO. 23392

LONDON, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 19, 1922.

PRICE, THREE CENTS

CLAIM JUVENILE COURT DELAY IS MERE ARTIFICE

Proponents of Child Welfare Believe Mayor Wilson Awaits Coming Election.

IGNORES VOTERS' WISHES

May Think Pledge That Bore Fruit Last December Can Be Used Again.

Six months ago, members of No. 1 committee of the city council appointed Mayor Cameron Wilson and Ald. J. C. Childs to investigate and report upon the feasibility of inaugurating a juvenile court in London.

Six long months have passed since that time, let it again be said, but the report of these two civic officials has yet to be received by the committee.

Meanwhile, although justice to the future citizens of London demands that a juvenile court be established in the Forest City, Mayor Wilson arrogantly turns a deaf ear to the demand, and declines to even offer comment on his failure to carry out the wishes of the people which he pledged himself to do in election propaganda last December.

Fluent citizens, whose efforts to obtain a juvenile court for London have up to date been of no avail, and who are familiar with the situation have suggested that his worship is holding up the juvenile court question to serve him as election propaganda again next December.

They suggest that this important reform will be utilized by Dr. Wilson as ammunition at the next municipal election, in the hope that it may result in a stirring shot in the campaign.

They point out that candidates for election in London have employed worse planks in their platforms than a juvenile court, and are not backward in stating that in their opinion the mayor is storing it up as reserve power.

Election day is almost six months away, and London needs a juvenile court now. London demands a juvenile court at once, regardless of the personal opinion of its chief magistrate.

The time has passed when young boys and girls are to be haled into the criminal courts for petty misdemeanors; so be contaminated by contact with thieves and drunks, thereby paving the way for a career of crime just to humor the whim of a mayor.

The idea of the juvenile court has challenged the world by its importance.

Because a decade or so ago the idea

DENIES ALLEGED ENEMY TRADING

London, England, July 19.—Lord Forbes, formerly Sir Archibald Williamson, who took his seat in the House of Lords yesterday for the first time on his elevation to the peerage, made a personal statement, rebutting the charges of Ronald McGill in the House of Commons Monday, that as a member of the firm of Balfour, Williamson & Co., Sir Archibald was doing business in South America, "with laxity in relation to trading with the enemy."

Lord Forbes explained that the contracts he had made with German firms in 1915 had been entered into with the knowledge of and consent of the British government, and that after the United States came into the war his firm, on instructions from the British government, ceased deliveries of oil.

ELLIOTT WINS CROWN ATTORNEY POST

Canada On Verge Of Railroad Strike

UNION CHIEFS BASE HOPES ON PREMIER KING

Charge Wage Cuts Should Have Been Submitted to Conciliation Boards.

ISSUE RESTS IN BALANCE

Grand Trunk Will Not Recede From Stand On 6 Per Cent Cut.

Montreal, July 19.—Heads of railroad employees left this morning to appeal to the prime minister of Canada, the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, against the action of Canadian railway companies in putting wages into effect last Sunday before conciliation boards under the Lemieux Industrial Disputes Act had given decisions on the reductions.

One union official said that the situation was so grave that "a sheet of tissue paper only hangs between Canada and a railway strike."

The local men will probably be joined by union officials from other parts of Canada. They met the premier at 6 o'clock this evening.

The delegation from Montreal consisted of R. J. Tallon, president of Division 4, Railway Employees' Department, American Federation of Labor, and Frank McKenna, vice-president of division 4, and vice-president of the railway carmen of America.

Two mass meetings of local railwaymen have been called to consider the situation and the matter of the strike vote which is now being taken throughout the Montreal district. One meeting will take place tonight and the other on Friday.

Maintenance of way union officials who requested T. G. O'Donoghue, a lawyer of Toronto, to be the men's nominee on the board of conciliation, asked for in connection with the wage cuts put into effect on Canadian lines last Sunday, have received word that he will accept. Mr. O'Donoghue will replace David Campbell, Regina, originally selected by the men, who is busy on another arbitration.

GRAND TRUNK STANDS PAT.
Ottawa, July 19.—(Canadian Press)—The Grand Trunk Railway Company will not recede from its decision to put into effect wage reductions, averaging about six per cent, and applying to the so-called stationary employees, according to a letter received today by A. R. Mosher, grand president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees. The letter was in the nature of a reply to representations, made to the company at Montreal by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, Grand Trunk general grievance committee earlier this week. The reason given for the attitude of the company was the generally unsettled state of affairs in respect to rates of pay for railway employees in all parts of the continent. The company suggests in their letter that the reductions should go into effect pending further consideration and negotiation.

AVERT BIG WALK-OUT.

Chicago, July 19.—Railway strike peace parleys assumed new and more important proportions today, with possibility of the walk-out of 400,000 maintenance-of-way men virtually removed by the action, the railroad labor board in indicating that it would grant new hearings on the wage question.

It was pointed out that the board's action in promising hearings commits the board to nothing it had not already indicated might reasonably be expected under the transportation

U. F. M. TO PICK LEADER FRIDAY

All Former Candidates Summoned to General Meeting in Winnipeg.

Chipman May Make Another Run in Deferred Election Constituency.

Winnipeg, July 19.—By the Canadian Press.—A call is going out immediately for a general meeting in Winnipeg of successful and defeated United Farmer and Progressive candidates in yesterday's provincial election. W. R. Wood, general secretary of the United Farmers of Manitoba, stated this morning that he expected the candidates would get together here on Thursday night or Friday morning. They will consider the situation generally in the light of the responsibility cast upon their group of 25 members elected by the people yesterday, and will take action in the matter of their vacant political leadership.

The formal call will go out from the central office of the United Farmers, from which candidates have been able to secure advice in the matter of organization. C. H. Hurl, president of the Farmers, was not at his office this morning, but he is expected later in the day.

Those in touch with the farmer movement, decline to speculate on the matter of their leadership. "If the mantle falls on George F. Chipman," said one, "it is his election in Winnipeg, it is his position out there that there are three deferred elections, and that in one of them he might secure a farmer nomination. The same thing would apply, of course, to any leader chosen from without the ranks of those safely elected. It is suggested that R. W. Craig, K.C., who is likely to be the only Progressive elected in Winnipeg, will be the logical choice for the attorney-generalship at the organization of a farmer government. The standing of the groups is unchanged today at 24 Farmers, five Liberals, four Conservatives, seven Independents and two Labor, which is counted, probably to 25 Farmers.

NAME CANDIDATES IN U. S. PRIMARIES

Omaha, Neb., July 19.—Senator Hitchcock and R. B. Howell, Republican national committeeman, were nominated at yesterday's state-wide primaries as Democratic and Republican candidates, respectively, for United States senator.

Senator Hitchcock's victory was sweeping, the combined vote of his two opponents, on the face of returns from approximately one third of the state, being about half that cast for the incumbent senator. Howell's lead over Congressman Albert W. Jeffries of Omaha, and Attorney General Clarence A. Davis, while safe, was by no means as commanding.

MINERS TO RESUME WORK ON 1917 WAGE SCHEDULE

Pittsburg, Pa., July 19.—Coal mines in the Pittsburg district, shut down since the strike was called April 1 last, will resume operations "to the greatest possible extent," at the scale of "wages in effect in November, 1917."

This announcement was made after a meeting of the Pittsburg Coal Producers' Association here today.

DENY MACNEILL FACES REMOVAL FROM OFFICE

Miss Mary Grant Has Heard Nothing of Alleged Dismissal.

PHYSICIAN UNDER FIRE

Ordered Section School No. 21 Closed Following Diphtheria Outbreak.

Denial of the rumor to the effect that Dr. D. G. MacNeill, medical officer of health for London township, is to be removed from office, was made by Miss Mary Grant, secretary of the board of health for that municipality, Wednesday afternoon.

According to a persistent rumor throughout the city, Dr. MacNeill was to be removed from office because he ordered section school No. 21 at St. Lawrence, in London township, closed, following an outbreak of diphtheria among the pupils, thereby necessitating tuition of entrance class at the teacher's home last June.

One death from diphtheria at St. Lawrence resulted from the outbreak. "It will be a funny thing if it is true that Dr. MacNeill is to be removed," said Miss Grant, "because I have not heard a thing about it, and I am secretary of the London township board of health."

SAYS BANKS WILL PUT ON EMBARGO IF LABOR LEADS

London, England, July 19.—(By the Canadian Press).—In an electrifying speech delivered last night at Mumbles, Sir Alfred Monk, stressing the necessity for people of ability and experience dealing with financial and other questions at the present critical time, said that if the Laborites came into power tomorrow the banks would put an embargo on finances and all financial operations would cease.

Mere Man Rivals Femininity In Use of Cosmetics

POWDER, PAINT AND ROUGE.

TORONTO, July 19.—The old boys and the young boys now have their favorite cosmetics. They have learned the secret of the ages—"what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

Did man powder, paint and rouge ten years ago? The answer is an emphatic "No." But today? The answer is just as emphatically "Yes!" Men are now demanding everything from the stores which deal in cosmetics which we once thought sacred to women and the stage.

The Toronto Star claims men now have their favorite powders, their particular hair oils and their delicate perfumes. Further, some of Toronto's "beauty parlors" are now specializing in giving men neat marcel waves, "that natural curl." We are now reverting in one respect at least to the Elizabethan age. In that past era, women wore lace cuffs and velvet clothes, silk stockings to the knee and trousers which we would now call bloomers. If a man was short he wore high-heeled shoes. He did all in his power to outshine his brilliantly garbed rivals. In later centuries our hardy forefathers came to Canada and laid nature's clavier low. They had little time or inclination to devote themselves to the acquirement of feminine charms.

Today, however, all is different. Girls in a number of Toronto stores handling powders and perfumes state that men are more fussy and exacting in their wants than women.

CANADA RECEIVES GREEK PAYMENTS

Ottawa, July 19.—By the Canadian Press.—Greece, it is understood, is again meeting interest payments on the loan of seven and a-half millions advanced by Canada in the form of credits in 1919. When the credits were first granted, interest payments were met regularly, but following government changes in Greece, there was a lapse.

Rumania is still in default in interest payments on the loan of twenty millions, but there is hope that they will be met eventually. On March 31, 1922, Russia owed to Canada in interest alone the sum of $2,606,652.

OFFERS SEABROOK $2 FEE TO BEAT UP DEMPSEY

"THAT would add a little color to a good show; if Mr. Seabrook will take on the job I will pay him the $2 fee and supply the baseball bat."

This is the offer of a prominent sports enthusiast of London today in the declaration of Ex-Ald. Seabrook, made at yesterday's meeting of the board of health, that he would like to see the heavyweight champion of the world levelled with a home-run slugger's hickory when he appears at Port Stanley Friday afternoon at the head of the band of fourteen world-famous athletes, who are to be presented in a two-hour $10,000 exhibition on the baseball diamond.

The coming of Jack Dempsey into Western Ontario on the eve of his forthcoming battle with Wills, the negro challenger for the heavyweight boxing title, has attracted widespread attention and arrangements are being made to accommodate the largest crowd that has ever appeared in Port Stanley.

Fair-Wage Clause Demands Delay University Building

LABOR THREATENS APPEAL.

DEMANDS on the part of the London Trades and Labor Council that the board of governors of Western University insert clauses setting specified wages per hour for all grades of labor, in the contracts for the new $2,000,000 university buildings, are delaying both the letting of the contracts and the beginning of actual construction of the structures.

Through circuitous channels, the trades and labor council, it was learned Wednesday morning, have made threats of appeal to the provincial government, for the withdrawal of the government grants to the university should they desire not to give to them.

As late as last mid-winter representatives of the trades and labor council approached university authorities asking that when the contracts were let fair wage clauses be contained in them.

Col. W. J. Brown, executive secretary of Western University, in dealing with the application of the labor men, discovered that it was unknown to even the labor men just what the fair wage orders-in-council of the provincial government were. By writing the federal and provincial governments, however, Col. Brown obtained all the information that could be had on the matter of "fair wage" legislation, and the board of governors agreeing, it was decided that a clause binding the contractor to all fair wage provisions set forth in government legislation, should be placed in all contracts. Such a clause has been already put in the Western University contract, which has been let.

Last week a deputation waited on the board of governors of the university to present a plea for the insertion of a clause in the contracts for the science and arts buildings, stating that carpenters, bricklayers and all other grades of labor should be paid a fixed rate per hour for a 44-hour week.

They received a reply that if they would put their requests into writing they would be considered. But, according to Col. Brown, it is hardly likely that their requests will be conceded in full, on account of the fact that, granted, all competition amongst contractors for the contracts would be lost, particularly so when the trend of wages is downward at the present time.

"We wish to maintain cordial relations with the Trades and Labor Council," stated Col. Brown, "and we turn to Page 3, Column 3."

Buffalo, July 19.—Disorders occurred with the resumption of car service on the East Side lines this morning. Employees of the International Railway Company clearing obstructions from the car tracks on Seneca street were attacked by stone throwers. Three arrests were made. The company operated all West Side car lines, two cross-town lines and four East Side routes. Service was intermittent during the early morning hours, because of blocked tracks where strike sympathizers had dumped dirt, ashes and garbage. The International Railway Company conductors and motormen have been on strike since July 1. Extensive disorders marked yesterday's operation of cars on one line on the East Side, and strong police forces were held in reserve at the East Side station houses this morning, in expectation of more rioting when the additional service was begun.

The company yesterday operated 61 cars on a regular schedule, and added sixteen cars during what in normal times are the rush hours. Chief Burfield today asked the company to discontinue running these rush-hour cars. The regular cars are more than ample to take care of the few passengers who are riding, he said.

DENIES REPORT OF TROOPS' CRUELTY

London, July 19.—(By the Canadian Press).—The report of G. R. Hofmeyer, administrator of South-west Africa, on the matter of alleged cruelty by government troops in the suppression of the recent Hottentot uprising, referred to in a Reuters dispatch from Capetown last night with regard to Premier Smuts' denial of cruelty, says the officers were impressed with the necessity of recognizing the principles of warfare and the dictates of humanity. He has no reason to believe that any member of the force abused his confidence, he says, according to a Reuters cable today.

LAKE STEAMERS ON COAL RATIONS

Buffalo, N. Y., July 19.—Burke coal for lake steamers will be rationed until the miners' strike ends, it was announced here yesterday by the company supplying 90 per cent of the coal used by steamers sailing from this port. Vessels will be allowed 100 tons, which is sufficient to carry them to the Soo, where they will take on additional fuel. The scant reserve supply is being replenished to some extent by shipments from West Virginia and Kentucky.

Maintains Premier Lenin Of Russia Poisoned

STOCKHOLM, July 19.—Notwithstanding the denial issued by the soviet embassy at Riga yesterday, of the statement made by the Riga correspondent of the Svenska Dagbladet that he had been reliably informed Premier Lenin of Soviet Russia had been poisoned, the correspondent today telegraphed his newspaper here from Riga that he had obtained confirmation of his statement. Cyanide of potassium was the poison used, the correspondent affirms.

NEW YORK FIRE STILL BURNING

Inquiry Under Way to Determine Responsibility For Greenwich Village Blaze.

Manslaughter Charges May Result If Chemists' Contention Holds.

New York, July 19.—With tons of water from 66 lines of hose continuing to pour into the windows and through the roof of the seven-story warehouse still afire in Greenwich village early today, three separate inquiries were underway to determine the responsibility for the fire that caused the death of two firemen, injured thirty others and caused property damages of more than $1,000,000.

More than 300 persons were made homeless by the flames, and were housed for the night in school houses and Salvation Army barracks—on costs, provided by the Red Cross.

District Attorney Joab A. Banton declared if the contentions of fire experts and city chemists were true that the fire started from quantities of magnesium, banned from storage within city limits, he would ask manslaughter indictments against those responsible for the storage of the chemical in the warehouse. The fire was attended by a series of explosions which shook buildings for blocks around and sent pillars of acrid smoke bursting from the warehouse windows.

MASONS GATHER AT FORT WILLIAM

London To Bid For Grand Lodge Convention in 1923.

Fort William, July 19.—With every available seat taken in the auditorium and the platform occupied by the higher officers, the official opening of the Grand Masonic Lodge of Ontario took place this morning. Seven hundred Masons from Ottawa to the Manitoba boundary listened to the eloquent address of the Grand Master, Col. W. N. Ponton of Belleville, which opened the proceedings. Seated near the grand master were visitors from other provinces and states south of the line, including the Rev. J. Baird, D.D., grand master of the Grand Lodge of Manitoba, and grand secretary for Manitoba, and the grand secretary for Alberta.

Strong representations will be made by London delegates at the annual meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge in Ontario, A. F. and A. M., now going on in Port Arthur, to have next year's meeting of the Grand Lodge in London.

RANEY FILLS VACANCY IN COUNTY COURT

Prominent Lawyer Accepts Appointment Announced Today.

SUCCEEDS J. B. McKILLOP

Incumbent Will Be Permitted To Continue Private Practice.

Toronto, July 19.—J. C. Elliott, former member of parliament for West Middlesex, has been appointed crown attorney of London and Middlesex. This announcement was made at the attorney-general's office Wednesday afternoon.

Crown Attorney Elliott succeeds the late Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop, who died on March 27 last, and his appointment carries with it the privilege to engage in private law practice.

Interviewed by The Advertiser Wednesday, Mr. Elliott stated that he will accept the appointment, the only difficulty having been the privilege of practicing his profession in London and Middlesex, which has been overcome by Attorney-General Raney removing the ban on the appointee continuing his private practice.

EXPECT TO FLOAT NEW CANADIAN LOAN IN OCT.

Hon. W. S. Fielding To Go To Genoa Before Issue Is Placed On Market.

Ottawa, July 19.—(By the Canadian Press).—The new Canadian loan is expected to be floated in October or November, although a definite date has not yet been determined. Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, leaves for Genoa next month as one of the Canadian delegates to the meeting of the League of Nations assembly in September, but it is probable that he will be back in time for the actual placing of the loan on the market.

Authority was given by Parliament last session for raising $350,000,000 by loan, but the needs this year only total $225,000,000, namely: treasury bills outstanding $142,000,000; loan maturing on Dec. 1, $182,000,000, making together $324,000,000. Against this, however, $100,000,000 has already been raised in New York, leaving $225,000,000 needed in the current year.

TO STOP LIQUOR IMPORTS TO U. S.

Detroit, July 19.—As another step in the campaign to "dry up" downriver districts, the state government at Lansing yesterday ordered more than a score of state prohibition officers to establish headquarters at Ecorse. The men, it is declared, will conduct raids on liquor stores and activities to stop the flow of liquor from Canada into the United States. The state police have recently been active in the region under orders issued by the governor.

B. C. LIQUOR REGARDED AS LUXURY BY OTTAWA

Victoria, B. C., July 19.—Premier Oliver yesterday replied to Senator Barnard's statement explaining why the senate turned down the measure to give British Columbia control of liquor imports. In reference to the comparison of prices of liquor in Ontario and British Columbia, the premier said: "In Ontario liquor is supposed to be used only for medicine, while in British Columbia it is used as a luxury, and therefore profit is collected on it for hospitals and to reduce taxations."

TWO UNITED FARMERS TRIUMPH IN MANITOBA AS ELECTORS OUST PREMIER NORRIS FROM OFFICE

Agrarians Expected To Take Control of Administration At An Early Date With Clear Majority Over All Opposition Groups in the New House—Personal Defeat of George C. Chipman Believed To Weaken Prospects of His Selection As Government Head.

WINNIPEG, July 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—Manitoba is to have a government of United Farmers, following the precedent set just a year ago by the Province of Alberta. Today the Liberal government of Hon. T. C. Norris went to the voters for a vote of confidence and was rejected.

Premier Norris himself was returned in Lansdowne, his old constituency, and Hon. Robert Jacob, his new attorney-general, will get a place in Winnipeg, but three of his colleagues, Hon. Dr. Thornton, minister of education, Hon. John Williams, minister of agriculture, and Hon. C. D. McPherson, minister of public works, went down before the farmer onslaught.

Hon. Edward Brown, provincial treasurer, had intended to run in the deferred election in The Pas but, under the circumstances, it is thought that he will retire to private life.

Mr. Norris will find himself at the head of a group of about eight members, one of four opposition groups confronting a Farmer party, which is expected to have the support of a clear majority over all parties in the new house.

The United Farmers came to the city with 24 members. In Winnipeg, their allies, the Progressives failed to live up to their own expectations, and it appears that only one of their eight candidates, R. W. Craig, K.C., will be among the ten chosen, but he will give his support to the Farmers. Dr. J. H. Edmondson, elected in Brandon, as a "Fusion" candidate, is likely to support the controlling party, and it is considered that the Farmers have an excellent chance of electing their candidates in the three deferred elections.

Can Elect Speaker.
In a legislature of 55 members a government can elect a speaker and carry on with a total of 29 members, particularly when the opposition is divided, as it will be in this case, and there is no thought tonight that anything can prevent the United Farmers from entering into control of the administration at an early date.

Premier Norris undoubtedly will place his resignation in the hands of the lieutenant-governor. He will be asked to carry on until the Farmers have had a chance to organize, and they will be called together at an early date—elected and probably defeated candidates—to select a leader, who will become automatically premier of the province.

At this time it appears to be very doubtful if George C. Chipman will be elected in Winnipeg, and it is impossible to predict what effect his personal defeat will have on the prospect of his election to the leadership. Mr. Chipman has been considered in many quarters to be the favorite for the position in the event of a farmer victory.

Leaders Discussed.

He has been for years editor of the Grain Growers' Guide, and, therefore, associated closely with the economic and educational work of the organized farmers' movement in the Western Provinces. Other names have not been discussed very much in recent weeks.

The Liberals went into the fight with 21 members, with whom Mr. Norris had carried on the work of government for two years as a minority administration. They come back with probably eight. Conservatives find their group reduced by one, or at the best no greater than in the last house, where they had seven members.

The little group of independents of various degree, all of whom are not likely to be very decided in their opposition to a farmer party, is increased from four to eight.

Labor's representation is cut in two, from ten in the last house to five or six in the new.

A. E. Smith, labor member for Brandon in the last legislature, went down in Brandon before the fusion candidate, and Palmer in Dauphin and Stanbridge in Kildonan also met defeat. Labor, however, was gratified in a great measure by the tremendous vote given in Winnipeg to F. J. Dixon, its leader, who headed the poll again. In the same manner the Conservatives express much pleasure over the success of their leader, Major F. G. Taylor, over a minister of the crown in Portage La Prairie.

Five Women Candidates.

Five women were candidates, and one of them, Mrs. Arthur Rogers, on the Winnipeg Liberal ticket, may be counted in. She sat in the last house. The Farmer group contains only six men who were in the last legislature—Little of Beautiful Plains, Prefontaine of Carleton, Boivin of Itherville, Clubb of Morris, McKinnell of Rockwood, and Edmond of Swan River.

Of 31 members of the old house who sought re-election in constituencies outside of Winnipeg, only 13 were elected. Mr. Norris' little group of four from the country has only one old member, Kistean of Fairford.

Hon. J. B. Baird, former speaker, who ran as a Liberal in Mountain, failed to be elected. Hon. Dr. Thornton, minister of education, was ill during the greater part of the campaign and his friends, including Mr. Norris, made valiant efforts in his behalf, but to no avail. Mr. Williams, minister of agriculture, has held office only a few weeks, but Dr. Thornton was a veteran of the Norris administration and among those who entered the cabinet which Mr. Norris formed seven years ago when he took over the reins of office from Sir Edmund Roblin.

GERMANY PASSES FORCED LOAN LAW

Berlin, July 18.—After a prolonged discussion, the bill providing for a compulsory loan of seventy billion marks was read for the third time in the Reichstag yesterday. The limit of a subscription was fixed at three million marks. The compulsory loan laws on legacies and income tax. The income tax and legacy tax bills were also read for the third time.

London's chief magistrate as a weapon to stimulate action.

The ideal for which these organizations are striving is to treat the child offenders of London, regardless of race or creed, in the same manner as a wise, competent and patient parent would treat his child under the same circumstances. The children brought before the criminal courts of London for petty offences are just the same as other children.

The boys are the boys that are caught. They loot the same loot, "twice" the same fruit, experiment with the first cigarette, play the game in the streets and run the same course that their fathers have run. That strange being designated the "born criminal" is an oddity in London.

It is the unsympathetic magistrate who, because a boy hailed before him maintains that impudent demeanor so characteristic of many of the world's greatest statesmen in their younger days, or refuses to tremble in his presence, makes criminals by condemning such youths to industrial schools where a portion of their unofficial training is the crime and vice learned from hardened inmates.

The city of London sends its quota of boys to the Victoria Industrial School at Mimico every year, their maintenance at that institution adding to the city's annual expense. The funds used in this manner alone would be sufficient to maintain a juvenile court in this city.

Are Not Bad Boys.

Aside from the expense, which is a minor point in the argument, there is the dreadful realization that many boys sent from London to the provincial reformatory were not bad boys in the real sense of the word, but on their return home their parents were horrified to find them confirmed crooks.

Responsibility for this state of affairs cannot be fastened upon any one person, but the whole system has to be blamed. Juvenile courts offer a solution to the problem, with only the confirmed youthful convict condemned to prison, and then when all other methods of reformation have failed.

Responsibility for a continuance of the above unenviable state of affairs can be fastened upon one body of men. Unless action is taken at once that responsibility will be fastened upon the shoulders of Mayor Cameron Wilson and the city council, and will overshadow all or any good works enacted, or claimed to have been enacted, by them during their term of office.

Some members of the city council have sponsored a juvenile court in an outspoken manner, but they are in the minority. There is no excuse for a continued shelving of a laudable enterprise which will put London with other progressive cities in the Dominion.

The only barrier to a juvenile court in London is the obstinate attitude assumed by Mayor Cameron Wilson which is making him no new friend and serving to irritate those who are already his possessors. His Worship cannot hope to shelve the proposed juvenile court indefinitely because the people of London will not brook such a proceeding.

The time has come for a showdown. London needs and wants a demand for a juvenile court. How about it, Dr. Wilson?

and Progressives, seven or eight Liberals, six Conservatives, eight independents and five or six Labor. Deferred elections traditionally go with the government, and upon the three of them the farmers are relying with considerable confidence. In Roblin, the farmer, H. R. Richardson, is defeated by five votes by F. Y. Newton, Conservative, and a recount there is probable.

Without the support of a single independent, the Farmers will be in a much more secure position in the new legislature than were the Liberals with 21 members in the old. Incidentally the possibility of a working agreement between the Labor members and the Farmers, which would mean a cabinet post for F. J. Dixon, is not being overlooked in political circles.

It is taken for granted everywhere that the Farmers will form a government without undue delay. The alternative would seem to be another general election, which would not be a popular feature.

The checking of Winnipeg's vote under "P. R." is proceeding today.

KITCHENER CITIZEN DIES FROM FALL TO PAVEMENT

KITCHENER, July 18.—E. Berwick, an employee of the street railway, while working on a high ladder repairing overhead wiring at the corner of King and Francis streets Monday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock, slipped and fell to the pavement, striking his head on the concrete.

He was rushed to the hospital where he died a few minutes after being admitted. The man was about 32 years old and came to this city from England. He had no relatives in this city. He was a veteran of the great war, having served through the entire five years without a wound.

An inquest will be held.

HYDRO SHOWS BIG REDUCTION

Commission Issues Official Figures Relating to Electric Business of City.

Lighting Cost Reduced From 9 Cents to 1.9 Cents Per Kilowatt Hour.

Toronto, July 18.—Some official figures relating to the hydro-electric business of London, Ont., and four local systems served from London were issued today by the provincial commission.

Pre-hydro service in London cost 9c per kilowatt hour, with a meter charge of 25c per month. The first rate schedule put in force by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario gave an average price to London 4.5c for domestic lighting, and 3c for commercial. That rate remained until 1915, when it was reduced to 3.3c for domestic lighting. From that time there were reductions to consumers every year. In 1921 the rate for domestic lighting averaged 1.9c per kilowatt hour; for commercial lighting, 1.5c.

The industrial energy had fluctuated according to the demand from $20 to $25. The price charged by the provincial commission for delivered energy has dropped in ten years from $28 to $20, mainly because the load has increased from 2,100 horsepower to 12,365 horsepower. The increased cost of generating at Niagara has not been reflected in either the delivery rate or the rates to consumers.

The operating report for 1921 showed revenue of $589,889.22. Ordinary expenditures were $530,484.19, and $58,898.95 was applied to plant renewal reserve, leaving a net surplus of $506.48. The balance sheet, taken on December 31 last, showed assets of $2,071,186.97. The liabilities were $1,087,906.60—52 per cent of the assets. The reserves and surplus funds taken together are $983,280.37. Had there been no rate reductions in London since 1915, the accumulated surplus would exceed the outstanding obligations. London has a population of about 60,000.

Saving In Strathroy.
Strathroy, 150 miles from Niagara Falls, and with 2,756 population, had average rates last year of 3.8 cents per kilowatt hour for domestic lighting, 4.4 cents for commercial lighting, and $21.75 per horsepower for industrial energy. In 1915 the average "Hydro" rates were 9.3 cents. Before that time the rate under private ownership was 12 cents, with a monthly meter rental of 25 cents. By reason of the rate reductions, authorized by the provincial commission, the consumers have saved $66,684.21.

The load has increased from 115.2 horsepower to 394.7 horsepower, and the price for delivered energy has declined from $44 to $37. The revenue in 1921 was $29,922.58; the total expenditure, including $2,500 for plant renewal, was $26,046.22, leaving a net surplus of $3,876.36. Assets are $48,641.66; reserves and surplus make a total of $48,326.30.

Ailsa Craig's Position.
Ailsa Craig, with a population of about 600, and situated 152 miles from Niagara Falls, began to take hydro-electric energy in 1916, the load being only 13.6 h.p., and the average rates being 9.2 and 11.2c per kilowatt hour for domestic and commercial lighting respectively. Today the load is 127.9 h.p., and the rates average 6.8c and 9.5c respectively. The industrial power rate has been variable, ranging between $31 and $46. The present rate is $42.71. Last year the revenue was $2,298.26; the expenditure, including $479 to plant renewal reserve, was $6,885.90, leaving a surplus of $1,412.36. This surplus was equivalent to $11.04 per horse-power on the amount purchased from the commission. The assets are $15,394.84; the liabilities, $6,789.59, leaving in reserves and surplus accounts $8,605.05.

Progress In Lucan.
Lucan, with fewer than 700 people, and situated 142 miles from Niagara Falls, had average rates last year of 3.3c per kilowatt hour for domestic lighting, 4.8c for commercial, and $34.50 for industrial power. Five years ago the kilowatt hour rates averaged 9.3c and 10.2c. At that time the load was 28.9 h.p. It is now 194.3 h.p.

In 1921 the revenue was $11,763.01; the expenditure, including plant renewal contribution was $9,267.21, leaving a net surplus of $2,495.80. The assets are $23,899.22; the liabilities, $9,135.01. Reserves and surplus funds make a total of $14,764.21.

Reductions In Exeter.
Exeter, with a population of about 1,500, is 155 miles from Niagara Falls. Before the town began taking hydro-electric energy in 1917 the local electric rate was 10c per kilowatt hour, with a meter rental of 25c a month. The first "Hydro" rate averaged 7.9c domestic, 8.4c commercial, and $25.69 per horsepower for industrial energy. The present rate averages 4.7c, 6.4c, and $27.01. Because the load has increased from 28.9 h.p. to 178.4 h.p., it has been possible to reduce slightly the cost for delivered energy, despite the increased generating cost at Niagara.

Last year the revenue was $14,487.44; the expenditure, $12,745.91, leaving a surplus of $1,741.53. The assets are $33,489.04; the liabilities, $18,270.65; and the sum of the reserves and surplus accounts is $15,218.41.

Senator Cummings' announcement that he would hold hearings on the transportation act to ascertain how the law may be amended so that the living wage principle would be made clear, was received as favorable to peace, both by rail heads and strike leaders.

This has been the outstanding question in wage disputes brought before the railroad labor board. With the wage question thus eliminated from the dispute, certain rules affecting overtime pay of the shopmen, and the question of the restoration of seniority rights to men now on strike were left as about the only issues.

The railroad labor board was expected to give immediate attention to the petition of maintenance-of-way men on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway for a revision of wage scales.

President Grable of the maintenance-of-way brotherhood, was back in Detroit preparing for the meeting of the grand lodge of the brotherhood on Friday.

Only isolated instances of disorders marked the strike yesterday.

TO HOLD MASS MEETING.
Determined not to accept the wage cut which came into effect on all railroads in the Dominion Sunday last, and which the Canadian Railways Association will attempt to enforce, between 700 and 800 maintenance-of-way men employed on the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways in this city will hold a mass meeting Sunday afternoon, July 23, and will in all probability draw up a formal refusal to the cut, which ranges from 1 to 6 cents an hour.

When the notification of the proposed reduction was received by the Canadian Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees, after a consultation of union officials, it was decided to ask for a postponement of three months before the reduction would be enforced in order to give the matter time for discussion. At the refusal of the Canadian Railways Association to grant this concession, the ire of the Canadian employees was roused, and the declaration was made that a reduction of any amount would only be met with an indignant refusal.

The reduction as it affects the different classes of maintenance-of-way men is as follows:

Extra gang and assistant extra gang foreman and bridge and building foremen, 8 cents an hour. Sectional and assistant sectional foremen and snowplow foremen, 3 cents an hour. Blockmen and signalmen at interlock crossings, $10.25 per month. Carpenters, bridgemen, painters and plumbers, 4 cents an hour. Bridge and building laborers, 5 cents an hour. Track and bridge watchmen, 5 cents an hour. Signalmen and repair men, 4 cents an hour. Mechanics' helpers, 1 cent an hour. Sectionmen, 3 cents an hour.

The board of conciliation, which was finally granted by the minister of labor, will have P. Campbell of Regina, as the representative of the

ASK FUNDS FOR NURSES' HOME

Victoria Hospital Trustees Want Bylaw Submitted to Ratepayers.

Present Accommodation For Student Nurses Regarded As Inadequate.

In order to alleviate the present situation with regard to inadequate accommodation of pupil nurses at Victoria Hospital, the board of trustees at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night, decided to ask the city council to submit a bylaw to ratepayers, authorizing the issuing of debentures to the sum of $300,000, the money thus raised to be used in the erection of a nurses' home.

The nurses' home, now in connection with the hospital, is not sufficiently large to accommodate the constantly growing classes. At the present time the situation is so bad that 40 nurses are obliged to use hospital beds, thus depriving hospital patients of a certain amount of accommodation. If a new home were built it would be possible for the one now in use to be converted into an out-patient department and utilized for hospital beds.

THE STANDARD BANK of Canada has issued a writ in the county court against Edward Dent for $500, the amount of three promissory notes alleged to have been made by J. E. Tate, and endorsed by the defendant.

WORDS OF ENCOURAGEMENT to those persons interested in the next meeting of the civic commission fell from the lips of Mayor Cameron Wilson on Wednesday morning. "Let me see, this is the 6th day since the commission met, is it not?" asked his worship. "I guess the next meeting will be held right away to consider the formation of a juvenile court."

DR. T. ORMIE SMITH of London has accepted an appointment to the staff of the Berwin Clinic at New York City. Dr. Smith received his early education in public schools of this city, and graduated from Western University Medical School. Prior to being honored by an appointment to the New York Clinic, Dr. Smith acted as an interne on the medical staff of Victoria Hospital here.

A DEPUTATION of representatives from city mothers' clubs contacted a tour of city playgrounds Tuesday. Hunted by acting manager of the public utilities commission, reports that the ladies present were well pleased with the manner in which these recreation centers are being operated. "Judging from the comments of the deputation during the inspection we have every reason to believe that everything is going fine at our playgrounds," declared Manager Hunt.

SUPERINTENDENT MOFFAT of the city engineer's department, reports that following complaints of citizens that sanitary sewers overflowed their premises during recent rains, several gangs of men have been sent out to inspect the sewers involved, and that as soon as the cause of the flooding is ascertained steps will be taken to eliminate it. The chief cause of complaint came from King street residents, and every sewer in the district involved is being inspected by the city engineers.

GROCERS PICNIC AT PORT STANLEY

London Merchants Take Respite For Annual Frolic at Lakeside.

Thousands strong, members and friends of the Retail Grocers' Association left the city Wednesday morning for Port Stanley confident that their 1922 annual picnic would be the greatest yet.

With the best of weather conditions prevailing, an all-important item in the success of a picnic, it is expected that Wednesday's outing will be a successful culmination of efforts spent for weeks past to surpass all and any of the season's picnics.

The day will offer unusual attractions to both members of the association, and to those who go to witness and participate in the sporting events. Not only Londoners are expected to be present, but scores from points throughout the district, including a representation from the city of St. Thomas.

Capable committees under the leadership of Gordon Drake, president; P. H. Ranahan, treasurer, and Frank Pierce, secretary, are in charge of all department.

TO REVIEW CITY'S TRANSPORTATION

Mayor Promises Fair Consideration of Problem Confronting London.

That the commission authorized by the city council to investigate and report upon the transportation problem of London will bring in a fair review of the London Street Railway system, and also recommendations regarding the use of trackless trolleys or busses for the city, is the pledge of Mayor Cameron Wilson, who is chairman of the new body.

Although the commission bears the rubber stamp of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission in the person of its membership, Mayor Wilson denies that the recommendation of the committee is cut and dried as favoring the provincial commission taking over the London street railway system.

"As far as I am concerned, the report on the transportation problem of London will be a fair and impartial one," the mayor informed The Advertiser Wednesday. "Trackless trolleys and motor busses will be considered, and the data available will be placed before the people to vote upon at the next municipal election."

"All the commission can do is to submit recommendations. I expect that experts will be called in to evaluate the London Street Railway system. Regarding secret meetings of the civic commission, I maintain that the press should be excluded from the negotiations and valuation is being considered. At any meetings where reports of interest to the public are to be presented, the press will be invited to attend."

"If Mr. Baker can spare the time he will be the secretary of the new commission, in all probability. I see no objection to him being appointed, and know of no opposition to him for the job."

are willing to give them every consideration, but the university is not entirely a public institution that could be run on any other than a business basis."

If the board of governors choose to set the wages on such an immense project as the university buildings, Col. Brown said, then it would be setting a standard for all this part of the country, and individual carpenters working on small jobs would ask a price for their work, gauged on the price the university contractors were paying.

Meanwhile, delay in the letting of the contracts and in the beginning of the buildings continues until the trades and labor council find themselves reconciled to negotiating with the contractors instead of the university on all matters of wages and working hours.

The trades and labor council have also hinted at some other methods of delaying the construction of the university buildings, besides appeal for the withdrawal of the provincial grant, it is stated.

Hands Fortune To Greenwich Village Cult

Garland Refuses Million.

New York, July 19.—By Canadian Press.—Charles Garland's famous fortune of $1,000,000, which he first rejected, and then decided to accept, is now destined to fall into the hands of a group of Greenwich Village Liberal Thinkers, whose views of life are shared by the young unwilling-to-be-millionaire.

The prospective recipients of the money have incorporated as "The American Fund for Public Service" for the purpose of receiving it. Formal announcement of the gift has not been made, pending a few finishing touches, but the World this morning declares it has learned that in is immediate prospect, and that Garland, who still tills the soil on a remote Cape Cod farm, is thoroughly committed to the plan of divesting himself of his riches.

What is to become of the money after it is thus conferred remains a somewhat uncertain matter. According to the incorporators of the fund, they expect to use it in aid of "agencies which are so new or experimental that they do not command general public support."

Garland, who is now 22 and separated from his wife and two small children since his unsuccessful experiments in bringing a "soul mate" into his household a year ago, recently came to New York and agreed to endorse the contemplated organization, according to the World. This came about largely through previous contact with its leading spirits.

MACBRIDE RAPS RANNEY ELEMENT

Predicts Many Independent Candidates To Run in Coming Election.

Special to London Advertiser. BRANTFORD, July 18.—Mr. M. M. MacBride, M.P.P., speaking in a meeting of the city Tuesday evening at a meeting on the prospects for another election in the near future, said: "I believe that there will be at least 16 to 20 independent in the next election. Some from the Farmer, Labor and Liberal groups, men who will refuse to be swallowed in any 'broadening-out process' directed by the Rowell-Ranney element."

"They will be prepared to give support to any government that is opposed to the methods that are in existence at the present time, in connection with the administration of justice in the province. I am not in a position at the present time to say whether they will sponsor a plank for government control of the liquor trade, that is a matter that will have to be decided, but I believe a safe, sane, constructive policy, aimed particularly at the bootlegging fraternity and the use of the spottier element" will be one of the main issues.

"Of course, there are some that would attack such a policy, alleging that the liquor interests would be behind it. All I have to say to that is that the only liquor interests I know anything about and the only people making money out of the trade at the present time are the disreputable 'bootlegging element.' What was formerly the liquor interests in this fair province has ceased to exist, and everybody knows that the old barrooms will never again come back."

"Here in Brantford I expect to be opposed on the one hand by the extreme prohibitionist, and on the other by the bootleggers. If I can't go down the line and be elected against that kind of a combination I will be much mistaken, and anyway, I will have the satisfaction of knowing that I stood for what I believed to be right."

WILL TEST STRENGTH IN PROVINCIAL BY-ELECTION

Quebec House Experts Papineauville Contest to Prove Feeling of Electors.

MONTREAL, July 18.—Feeling in the Province of Quebec in the matter of provincial issues is soon to be tested by the Quebec government by means of bye-elections. The first election, as far as present plans go, will be held in the County of Labelle. To that end a liberation in that county will be held at Papineauville on Thursday.

There are a number of other counties in the province vacant, namely, Chambly, St. Hyacinthe, Sherbrooke and Rouville, and if the government finds the result satisfactory in Labelle it is on the cards that these other seats will be opened up. With a reasonable amount of success in these bye-elections the government, it is thought, will have no reason for holding general elections this year, and this would mean another session of the Legislature, the fourth of the present house.

Have No Trace of Boys Who Ran Away

Commissioner Grant Disagrees On Street Railway Assessment.

NO trace of the two 16-year-old boys who are believed to have run away from home to join the circus last Wednesday, has been secured, according to the Children's Aid Society Thursday morning. A circular was sent out to branches of the above society in the province, describing the boys, but reports sent in to London declare that they have not been seen.

When they left home, the boys, who reside in East London, wore no coats, and were riding bicycles.

PENSIONS ACT AIDS LONDON MOTHERS

Many Become Self-Supporting Through Operation of Measure.

Readjustment is continually taking place in the working out of the Mothers' Allowance Act in the city. Many of those to whom allowances have been made have benefited sufficiently by the financial aid afforded to make themselves self-supporting by taking in boarders, thereby making themselves independent of the act. The children of others have become wage earners since the early enforcement of the act and are able to support the mother without the aid of the law.

Since the first meeting of the local board on October 4, 1921, 175 cases have been under consideration, and of these 40 cases have been rejected as having no claim on the Mothers' Allowance Act. Of the 135 cases which did receive consideration, there are at present 85 cases on the list; of the remainder, a number have removed from the city, some have become self-supporting and still others were, on further examination, proved not entitled to receive benefit.

Throughout the winter the number receiving allowances in the city varied in the neighborhood of 70, but the July statement shows that 85 mothers are on the allowance list, showing that of these 85 all are running the home on an efficient basis.

SAYS TRACK IN SHED EXEMPT

Commissioner Grant Disagrees On Street Railway Assessment.

Declares City Loses Out On 3.4 Mileage Not Recorded.

Acceptance of the figures provided by the London Street Railway Company by the city each year is believed to be the cause of the city's loss of revenue from $17,000 assessment on the company's tracks, discovered when City Engineer H. A. Brazier measured them recently.

The company quoted its mileage at 24.5, and it was upon this total that the assessment of $5,000 per mile was based. However, the city measurement now shows that the actual mileage of the London Street Railway Company in this city is 27.9, the city losing out on assessment of 3.4 miles of tracks.

While it is not considered that the company deliberately misquoted the track mileage in an effort to escape payment of taxes, the fact remains that the assessment of $17,000 escaped notice until the tracks were measured up at the instigation of Ald. L. H. Douglass.

Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant disagrees with City Clerk S. Baker, who holds that tracks on the company's property are assessable. Mr. Grant, who was back on duty Wednesday after an illness, quoted the assessment act in support of his statement.

"The tracks in the car sheds and other places on the company's property is not assessable," said the assessment commissioner. "The law differentiates between roadway and highway. Roadway takes in tracks on the company's property similar to the Grand Trunk right-of-way, and they are not assessable for municipal taxation although the land on which they run is liable."

"However, the tracks on the company's property would not account for all of the 3.4 miles of track extra discovered by the city engineer," continued Mr. Grant. "I have not received an official report from the city engineer on this track, which was not assessed, and therefore cannot say much until I see it."

WOULD MAKE USERS OF ROADS PAY FOR UPKEEP

Ex-Mayor of Waterloo Would Tax Gasoline and Horses, Reducing Franchise Tax.

Special to London Advertiser. WATERLOO, July 18.—Ex-Mayor Dan Bohlender of Waterloo has announced his intention of furthering an idea in connection with a proposed change in the system of road taxation.

His proposal is to have the provincial government pass an act which will put a five-cent tax on a gallon of gasoline, a three-dollar head tax on every horse and a one-dollar tax on bicycles, the purpose being to make the people who use the roads pay for their building and maintenance.

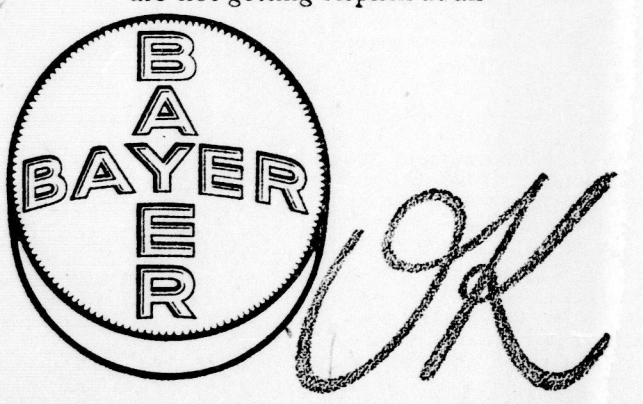

Ex-Mayor Bohlender would have the various county treasurers collect the tax with each county as administrator of the funds thus secured.

The money thus collected, he proposed, should be used for the building of the roads in the county and the cities of the county. The cities and towns to get their just proportion for the upkeep of city streets.

By this scheme he proposes to cut frontage assessment from a 100 per cent assessment to a 25 per cent assessment, the gasoline, horse and bicycle tax will pay the remaining 75 per cent. It is expected an endeavor will be made to have the matter brought before the various municipalities of the county and the boards of trade.

BALK AT PAYING FEES FOR OUT-OF-TOWN PUPILS

NEARLY fifty pupils, children of parents who reside outside the city limits, attended London public schools last year, while to date no fees have been collected for their tuition.

This was the official announcement Wednesday morning by board of education officials, who while declaring they will continue every effort to obtain what they consider the city's just due, admit frankly that they are somewhat at a loss as to what proceedings to institute in the matter.

While the federal government at Ottawa is claimed as a long offender in this respect by reason of the fact that a number of pupils residing on the Tecumseh Barracks reserve are seemingly protected, the London city council happens to be the latest and next culprit of importance.

During the past term, it is recorded seven pupils who reside on city property at Springbank Park attended the Riverview Public School, South London. No payment of fees for their tuition has been forthcoming from the parents, all said to be civic employees, and the school authorities hold steadfast to their claim that, as they reason it, the city council owes the board of education nearly $300 for these children alone.

At the Knollwood Park, Boyle Memorial and St. George's public schools attend children, more than 40 in number, all residents of Westminster Township. The majority of them it develops reside on the government military reserve at Tecumseh Barracks. From none of these is receiving any financial support by the local trustees despite the fact that they attend school year after year without interruption.

While explaining that all efforts to make collection in the past have resulted in a blank failure, W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board of education, declared Wednesday that the incident was by no means closed. The entire question will come

Is There a Remedy?

THE WORLD is in debt, and it is going deeper into debt. Whether driven on by force of circumstances that are greater than those who seek to control them, or from the warped and depreciated nature of their respective currencies—the fact remains that a resume will show the money markets of the nations as being poor. Seen to the point of exhaustion, with the nations concerned bungling ahead, adding more and more to the sum total of the staggering figures they cannot afford to pay.

In 1921 France spent over 46 billion francs. Her tax receipts were only slightly over 23 billion francs.

Belgium spent about 10 billion francs, and her tax returns were about 5 billion.

Italy's tax receipts were less than half her expenditures.

Even Switzerland, which should be in a very favorable position, collected only 70 per cent of the amount spent.

England, alone of all the nations of Europe, balanced her budget in 1920. In 1921 she spent 100 million pounds more than she collected in taxes. Yet in 1920 the British people paid in taxes approximately 23 per cent of their total income; and in 1921 32 per cent. In other words, in 1921 an Englishman, who paid his share, worked one-third of the time, or four months, to pay the cost of government, present armament and interest and pensions on account of past wars. On many of the great English estates the land is taxed in excess of its production.

If you would have a picture of the burden of taxes that presses upon the ordinary family consider the government's expense in the five great Allied nations in the year immediately before and in the year immediately after the war, apportioned to a family of five. In United States before the war the portion of the federal taxes chargeable to such a family was $23; in the year after the war it was $214; in Great Britain, before the war, $102; after the war, $548; in France, before the war, $122; after the war, $633; in Italy, before the war, $70; after the war, $642. Clearly, an Italian family of five cannot pay in taxes $642 a year; yet the expense of his government, if paid, would call upon him for just that. Sometime the debt must be paid, or there must be repudiation with all that entails.

So much for debt. How is it going to be paid? The currency of many foreign countries now is worth hardly the trouble of carting away were it available. Although French and Italian currency is slightly better today than a year ago, with most other nations it is infinitely worse. In the spring of 1921 German marks were worth 240 to the English pound. Now it takes 1,340 marks to buy an English pound. Polish exchange was 3,200 marks to the pound; now it is 17,000 marks. Of Austrian kronen 1,500 bought a pound a year ago; now it requires 35,000 kronen. The Greek drachma was worth 54 to the pound in April, 1921; now 100 drachmae are required to equal a pound.

Where will come the end and how? United States may imagine it holds a peculiar and a strategic position—that it cannot be touched by the horrors of post-war misery or hurt by the breaking of the credit of the world, but United States is already being caught in the backwash from all these world events. Her exports for January of 1922 were little more than half what they were in the same month of 1921. Europe cannot buy materials from the world. Her poor, shrivelled up money has thrown many of her countries out of the running. Her factories can make nothing, can sell nothing—her people cannot work, therefore, they cannot pay, and yet, in face of it all, they must face the problem of existence.

These are all positive facts, based on positive conditions. What will be the outcome? Anarchy. It is in such ground that anarchy grows. It is quite logical to see anarchy following bankruptcy and desolation. Plans of finance and the floating of loans, will not suffice—they may create a few bright spots for a few days, but unrepaid loans simply mean weight added to the millstone that hangs on the neck of sick Europe today.

These nations have got to get help, of course, but they have got to help themselves at the same time. If they are clinging to a system of armament or extravagance that is eating out the national soul, they must come out from under or be crushed in the wreck. The more favored nations of the world cannot stand to one side and pin on themselves the badge of disinterested spectators—they are all the time in danger of getting hit by stray bullets.

It is a world affair, absolutely. Money and effort spent in making an honest and well-directed attempt to put new life in sick Europe may go much farther now than a similar amount later on invested in gunpowder for the suppression of anarchy.

The Future of Palestine.

SELF-GOVERNMENT for Palestine may have a new and unknown sound, but it is the avowed intention of the British government to move in that direction. Some time ago the announcement was made that there would be established a Jewish home in Palestine. Since then the Jews of the world have sent forward some $10,000,000 to aid this object, and previous contributions for the same purpose would total many millions more.

The war left Britain with Palestine on its hands, and there is no intention on the part of the British to step aside the issue, or to turn the territory back to the Turks or to any other nation.

Palestine is a country of mixed population, the majority of cultivators there being Turks, an uneducated, unprogressive and materially weak people. The Jewish element is the one force that can lend strength and progress to the ancient capital of its religious and national love and tradition.

WINSTON CHURCHILL has stated what seems to be the policy of the government—"a Jewish national home will be founded in Palestine. The Jewish people will be in Palestine as of right and not on sufferance."

This cannot be interpreted as meaning that others will be excluded, as there has always been an expressed desire on the part of the Zionists to deal fairly with the Arab population, and to encourage its support rather than antagonize its presence. An elective legislative council will be set up in that area in a short time.

The Jewish people of the world look for the protection of Britain in allowing them to go ahead with the Zionist movement. Driven from the Holy City years before our time of civilization, scattered all over the world, the Jewish people have always and will always turn the heart to Jerusalem. Time, persecution and the shaking and shattering of nations has not changed his love and his vision. He still looks to Jerusalem.

Strike Not Best Way.

ONE authority has estimated that the wages lost in United States through strikes now on there amounts to $8,000,000 per day. Of course, against this should be placed the amount of strike pay the men are drawing, which must amount to quite a tidy sum. In one sense strike pay drawn by the men is lost money, because the men themselves have put it up in the first place, and the more they draw of it means the further depletion of their finances.

Strike pay, while helping out a good deal in the running of household affairs, is a poor substitute for the regular wage earned by a striker. It generally runs around forty or fifty per cent of the amount earned.

In centers where only a small portion of the people are on strike it is difficult to see the real effect of a strike on the business of the community. In other places, where the majority of the men work at one business, such as mining, railroad or lumbering, business gets the full brunt of the conflict, and it is a poor day for the merchants as well as for the people receiving strike pay.

Just now the strike idea seems to have returned and taken possession of this continent. Our chief objection to a strike is that the man on a wage cannot afford it. There have been times when a strike was the only way out of a difficulty, but those cases are not frequent. The victories won by strikes are at too great a price to understand and appreciate the position of a man who sees his wages being cut, and his standard of living brought down—altogether with his fellows he sees the strike as the only way to successfully lodge his protest against such a move. Before striking a man should seriously consider if he can afford it.

There must be a better way out. The reasonable men on both sides of the argument could probably bring it to pass. There must be a settlement eventually. Why not have that eventually right now.

The Kiwanis Camp.

SUMMER CARRIES with it the idea of a vacation. And why not? We have a wonderful outdoors, lakes, rivers and woods. And the average man likes to plan that he will take his family here or there, give them a little change, have a chance to get better acquainted with them, and enjoy some of the pleasures that are right at our very doors. And so we have our lakes and rivers dotted with summer houses, cottages, tents and all sorts of summer hotels and stopping places.

Very good and very excellent, and not a fault to be found with the idea. But what about the children who cannot get away to any of these great places? They are young only once. It is no fault of theirs that their parents or guardians cannot finance a summer trip. Chances are they have as much or more than they can look after to keep going at home.

London Kiwanis Club figured this thing out. They have done a big work and a good work in looking after boys, especially those whose fathers fell in the great war. But for the summer holiday? A few miles from the city at Sago's farm, is an ideal camping ground. And there they have erected a substantial camp site, with suitable buildings, and there the whole family goes for a couple of weeks or more, financed and cared for by the Kiwanians.

It is not charity—it is something better. When one gives to charity he can put his hand in his pocket and lay out $10 or $20 and be done with it. This work calls upon men to give their time, their ability and themselves. They cannot do it by proxy, and for this reason they are going to get a whole lot out of it themselves, because they are putting a whole lot of themselves into it.

Neglect business? Yes. Take time that should be spent at home? To some extent, yes. Give up other pleasures? Surely, but only to find a greater one.

So there they are, the Kiwanians and their family of some hundred boys, who would not otherwise have a holiday in a summer camp.

We have a great heap of organizations in this day and generation, and we might have wondered what under the sun the Kiwanians would find to do when they came into existence in this very much organized generation. But when you look them over and see them in action, you can't help liking them for the things they do. They have carved out quite a good-sized niche for themselves in the community.

Action Needed.

GOOD REASON exists for the government of United States taking action to end the coal strike.

United States, with its hundred million and over, is a bigger concern than the coal miners or the coal operators.

It is high time that the two parties concerned were made to see that the points at issue in their controversy are not of sufficient importance to tie up the industrial life of the republic and make the householders of the continent shiver and freeze in the coming winter.

The position of the government must now be that coal consumers of the continent need coal, and must have it.

If the parties to the strike continue in their desire to lock horns and starve to death, that is their business.

LITTLE 'TISERS

And now a certain amount of suspicion hangs on the man who drops in at the grocery store on the way home to get a cake of yeast.

Now they are talking of having ice-cold buttermilk for sale in booths at the fall fairs. Boy, bring in that list of fair dates.

Complaint is made that one race track at Windsor lost money and may close its gates. Very well, that is their privilege, so why not exercise it?

A Cobalt cat is looking after a litter of bull pups. Think of the trouble when the pups wise up to the fact that one of their chief functions in life is to make cats climb trees.

When the announcement was made that Brantford was to have another new Grand Trunk station Hamilton and London simply got ready for their sixteenth howl about being overlooked.

And now a Toronto paper lodges the complaint that Ottawa is getting people to go there by telling them they can eat in Ontario and drink in Quebec. That's nothing—quite a few seem to have found out how to do both right at home.

An odd case has come before a local court in Pennsylvania, where the victories won by strikes are at too great a price to understand and appreciate the position of a man who sees his wages being cut, and his standard of living brought down—altogether with his fellows he sees the strike as the only way to successfully lodge his protest against such a move. Before striking a man should seriously consider if he can afford it.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

By Digby Phillips.

NO. 270—SELECTING A DETERMINED WILL.

Sometimes in picking your employees it is important that you select a man with one of those determined, stick-to-it-through-thick-and-thin types of mind, out of those "carry-the-message-to-Garcia" kind of fellows.

This is a characteristic you can pick out very easily from a batch of letters applying for the position. Other qualifications you may be in some doubt about, or for other reasons may prefer to suspend judgment upon until you have had an opportunity to talk to the prospective employee face to face. But there is no necessity to go any further than his letter of application, providing it is not typewritten, in order to find out whether he has the kind of will that terminated will you are looking for or not.

Simply observe whether the letters in every word would all be absolute—even of the line if he were writing on lined paper. If he happens to be writing on ruled paper, of course, your test loses a great deal of its significance, for the tendency of almost anybody in using this kind of paper is to rest each letter on the line. The test is conclusive only when the line is an imaginary one.

Now if, in addition to this, the writing of the prospect is evenly spaced throughout, and the strokes of the pen have been made in a decided, determined manner, you can make up your mind that you are looking at the writing of a strong-willed person, and it only remains to be seen whether the other conditions are right to enlist that will in your service.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is PERPETUATE.

It's pronounced per-pet-u-ate, the first e as in fern, the second e as in unite, and the a long. Accent is on the second syllable.

It means—to cause to endure, or to be continued, indefinitely. It comes from the Latin perpetuatus, perpetuare, meaning to perpetuate.

No Preference.

The son made up his mind that he must have a dog. But the father said there was nothing doing.

"Please, daddy, buy me a doggy," coaxed the youngster.

"Can't afford it," grumbled daddy.

The youngster looked pretty sober for a minute, and then his face lighted up.

"I'll tell you what, daddy," said the youngster. "You go down to the pound and get me a doggy. I'd just as soon have a used one."

Saleswoman—Well, it wouldn't be any great calamity, anyhow.

AN OWL.

An Englishman and his American friend were walking down the street of an American town one night. An owl set up his ancient "W-h-o-o-o! W-h-o-o-o!"

The Englishman asked: "What is that?"

"It's an owl, then, is it?" said the Englishman, disdainfully.

"Yes," replied the American, "an owl."

"Well," stormed the insulted Englishman, "I know it's an owl. But what the hell is it that's 'owling'?"

MOST ASSUREDLY.

"Where shall I find ladies' waists?" "Between the neckwear and the hosiery, madam."

BRAVE BY PROXY.

"Yes," said the dentist, "to insure painless extraction, you'll have to take gas, and that's fifty cents extra."

"Oh," said Casey, "I guess the old way'll be best; never mind the gas."

"You're a brave man," said the dentist.

"Oh," said Casey, "it ain't me that's got the tooth; it's my wife."

THAT WILL COME.

A candidate in a country district was getting a firm hold on his electors, and was volubly painting in vivid colors the happy life they would lead if he were their member of Parliament.

"You have not yet got two acres of land each, and a cow, but that will come," he cried.

"You have not got free homes for old people—but that will come."

He passed on to prison reform.

"I have had no experience of those institutions," he remarked, "but—"

A voice—"But that will come, guv'nor."

9% BOOKSHELF

THE TATTOOED ARM. By Isabel Ostrander. New York: Robert M. McBride & Co., publishers. $1.90.

WHILE Mrs. Ostrander's new book, which is being published in serial form in this issue of The London Advertiser, is a novel of the mechanical variety—that is, one depending for its interest more upon plot and construction than upon portrayal of life—it is ingenious and skillful enough to offer good entertainment for those who enjoy that kind of story.

The author has specialized in mystery and detective fiction, of which she has nearly a dozen books to her credit, and in the course of all this writing she has become expert in the fitting together and the working out of her complications of construction, while improving also in the freshness, originality and ingenuity of her plot and incident.

The theme of this new story is, indeed, so novel and ingenious as to enlist the attention of even a jaded reader of novels, although it is no more than a story of a jaded man.

It opens with a peculiar situation in the family of some well-to-do, well-descended, highly respectable Long Islanders.

The family consists of three middle-aged brothers, their sister and the young daughter of one of the men. One of the brothers is a famous scientist, another a wealthy Wall street man, and the third has recently returned from Australia, where he has been for many years, and where he is believed to have accumulated a fortune. But some of the family members seem to have taken possession of this serious, upright, respected and useful family.

The financier is brought home in the early morning hours almost in a state of collapse, having been found in flowing robes spouting an oration about himself and Julius Caesar in front of the town's soldiers' monument.

The scientist delivers a lecture that is a travesty on modern science and scientists so scathing in its satire and so scurrilous in its statements that it seriously compromises both him and his family.

The returned Australian is found in the drawing-room in the early morning, playing around on all fours like a small boy. The whole family is rapidly becoming ridiculous and suspected in the neighborhood, its reputation is undermined and its members seem ready to give up, when the financier's daughter secretly takes matters into her own hands, introduces a police detective as a house servant and another as gardener, and the investigations and revelations of these two make a story that lovers of mystery and detective fiction will find clever and entertaining.

They Overlooked the Diamonds

THERE is a modern flippancy to the effect that, "What you don't know won't hurt you." It is also a fallacy. For instance:

The farmers of Kimberley were a disgusted, disheartened lot. They said the soil was too rocky to earn them a living. Some of them left. Others died in poverty.

And all the time their children were playing with diamonds.

But the farmers didn't know. They thought the priceless gems were pebbles.

Don't be like those Kimberley farmers. Know!

Don't seek opportunity in some distant place and overlook the diamonds that are daily within your grasp. Know!

CULP IN TEARS AT JAIL TERM

Pastor Cowers As Judge Plays
Him As a Sinful Character.

Loyal Wife Would Forgive
Girl Elopers "With a Stick."

XENIA, Ohio, July 18.—The Rev. Walter W. Culp was sentenced to one year in the Dayton Workhouse, plus a $500 fine by J. Carl Marshall, probate judge of Greene County, after he had pleaded guilty to wife abandonment this morning.

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Marshall played Culp unmercifully as a perverted and sinful character. "Your wife may have been illiterate and ignorant," he said, "but you married her for better or for worse. Nine times she has gone into the valley of the shadow for you. What kind of a preacher of the gospel are you to criticize her? All you have done is to make excuses."

Asked whether he had anything to say for himself before sentence was passed, Culp broke down in the courtroom, and had to be led into a side room by a deputy sheriff. "Oh Lord, Oh Lord," he sobbed, "help me now. Come to your humble servant."

After he was returned to the court he gave a dramatic account of his life and the incidents that led up to the elopement with Mary Esther Hughes. Then he pleaded for clemency on the grounds that his family needed him.

"I have been cruel to my wife and unjust to her," he sobbed. "Let me

Battles Bandit To Death As Auto Speeds Through Streets of Gotham

NEW YORK, July 18.—A desperate hand-to-hand battle on the narrow running-board of a swaying taxi, roaring through vacant streets early today, ended when an alleged gunman was mortally wounded by a policeman, and two members of a Harlem gang were shot.

With sawed-off shotguns, the bandits gave battle to three policemen up and down Harlem streets until two of their number fell. The rest scattered. One leaped to the running-board of a cab and held a revolver go back to her now. I have been blind."

The courtroom was crowded. Many of those present were parishioners from Culp's four churches. The wife and children remained outside the door, the court having deemed it inadvisable for them to enter.

"That wife of yours, by her daily conduct and example, has been far more of a Christian than you have," Judge Marshall said. "She has preached the gospel down in Spring Valley by taking care of your children."

Fearful that Spring Valley citizens, churned into an emotional tempest by the rapid succession of events that led to their pastor's arrest, man-about-town being brought here in handcuffs late Monday, may tar and feather Culp, authorities kept him under close guard at the Greene County jail last night.

Wife Forgives.
Over in Spring Valley, seven miles from here, Mrs. Culp sat with her family in the claspboard cottage just off Main street.

"I have forgiven him," she said, "but that girl, that man thief, the only way I'll forgive her is with a stick."

Monday night crowds of ruddy, leather-faced farmers walked up and down the straggling business section of town vowing that if Culp be returned there will be tar and feathers loose.

"We will ride him out of town on a rail," declared one man. "A sound horsewhipping in public would serve him right," ventured a second. "A ducking in the watering trough," put in a third.

Lights in the soda water and soft drink parlor, Spring Valley's social rendezvous, glowed to an unusually late hour, while the villagers, many of them Culp's former parishioners, denounced him in crisp, crackling terms.

KITCHENER, July 18.—City Clerk Millar of this city was in receipt of a letter today from Premier King accepting the invitation of the city council to be the guest of Kitchener at some future date.

The invitation was sent out in the form of the fact that Kitchener is the premier's native city. It was in a kindred spirit that the premier accepted the invitation. The date of his visit is still in abeyance, but it is expected it will later be announced for some time in the latter part of September.

HEAVY FOG TIES UP BOATS IN RIVER AT PORT LAMBTON

Over Fifty Freighters Forced to Drop
Anchor in St. Clair.

Special to London Advertiser.

PORT LAMBTON, July 18.—A heavy fog settled down on the St. Clair River at this point on Saturday night and lasted till about 8 o'clock Sunday morning, necessitating a large number of vessels to lay to and drop anchor.

The sight in the early morning as the mist cleared away and the large freighters, numbering about forty, were heaving anchor and rounding to to proceed on their journey, attracted many.

The largest number of boats during the season passed up and down during the forenoon on Sunday, as a result of being held up in the river by the fog.

POLICE FOLLOW LAMBTON TRAIL

Officers Believe Victims of Slaying Involved in Liquor Business.

Officials Discover Evidence of Drug Traffic From America
To Canada.

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, July 18.—Detroit police, in their effort to locate the slayers of Robert D. Cochrane and Neil Doherty, who were found in an auto in Detroit early Sunday morning with their bodies riddled with bullets, have embarked on a trail clue which is leading to Lambton County.

On the body of Doherty was found a subpoena to attend the trial of Peter Kehoe of Sombra, charged with perjury at the recent sessions of Lambton County court and acquitted. The American and Canadian police have excellent ground for believing that Doherty was mixed up in the thriving liquor business carried on between the city of Detroit and the Ontario townships bordering the St. Clair River in Lambton County. It was for his knowledge of these operations that prosecution required his presence in connection with the Kehoe trial.

Rex Bush of Detroit, who was jailed at Courtwright on the evidence of Peter Kehoe, which the crown later alleged to be perjurious, was a friend of Doherty. The latter was known to have purchased 50 cases of liquor from Kehoe's brother William, and it was known that he was the man who led a string of high-powered autos into Detroit conveyed by bogus motorcycle policemen, in which Bush also was concerned.

The Detroit police are inclined to believe Doherty double-crossed someone in a liquor transaction, and the gruesome find of Sunday morning was the result of a vengeful spirit on the part of hoodligger friends.

It is claimed that should arrests follow the investigation many of the extraordinary happenings of the last twelve months along the international boundary line will be brought to light.

While it is known that the liquor operations in Lambton County have decreased greatly in the last six months owing to numerous convictions, officials in close touch with the international traffic are now finding evidence of drug traffic from the American side into Ontario, and liquor baskets brought by picnicking parties from the vessels plying between Detroit and Sarnia are likely in the very near future to command more than ordinary interest from customs officials.

The fire department responded at 10:22, and by 11:45 they had succeeded in entirely quenching the blaze.

The mill had been used recently by the London Pure Milk Company as a storage place for trucks and sleighs. Some damage was wrought to the latter by the heat and flames.

BELIEVES MARTIN APPOINTED JUDGE

Cabinet Understood To Have Elevated Ex-Premier of Saskatchewan To Bench.

OTTAWA, July 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—The cabinet sat for more than four hours today, and at its close the premier announced that good progress was made with the problems before it. It is understood that several appointments were made, but as they have not yet been approved by the deputy governor they were not made public.

One appointment understood to have been made today is that of Hon. William Martin to the Saskatchewan Court of Appeals. Three others which also probably went through are those of a district judge for Gravelbourg, Sask., and two judges on the superior court bench at Montreal.

The premier made a report to the council today on his trip to Washington and some time was spent in discussing the various problems which came up between the two governments. It is understood that detailed study of the questions involved was laid over for a subsequent sitting of the cabinet.

There are a number of intricate details that yet remain to be worked out in regard to the revision of the Rush-Bagot agreement, and it is likely to be some time before a treaty will be signed.

The railway question continues to occupy the close attention of the cabinet, and it is understood that steady progress is being made towards its settlement. It is understood that Hon. W. C. Kennedy made a report to the cabinet today as to his success in looking for a general manager in the United States.

The cabinet will meet again tomorrow, and it is expected to be in session all day. Unless it completes the business before it, a session will also be held on Thursday.

WILL STAY 2 YEARS IN NORTH COUNTRY

QUEBEC, July 18.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon Captain Bernier, of Arctic fame, left on board the good ship Arctic for an extensive trip in the northern region in the interest of the Canadian government. He was tendered a bon voyage by hundreds of people from the King's Wharf.

At 6 o'clock this morning the ship left the King's Wharf, where she had been making the final preparations for the last six weeks. Compasses were adjusted by experts, and Mr. J. D. Craig, of the department of the interior, who is in charge of the expedition, and Captain Bernier, who is in command of the Arctic, gave the departing signal.

The trip will not be a very long one. Captain Bernier expects to return to Quebec in November, but the Royal Mounted Police will not be replaced before two years, remaining on duty in the lost lands of the north until 1925. This detachment is in charge of Inspector Wilcox. At various posts a non-commissioned officer with two constables and an Eskimo guide will be stationed. Each mountie has two suits of Chin-ese goatskin covering him from head to foot.

While in the northern regions the mounted police will collect duties and also make a census of the population, which can be located.

"They are merely acting as their own lawyers, and preparing their case preparatory to the opening of the public sessions," the premier added.

The royal commission which is inquiring into the costs, etc., of the Chippewa Canal electric development is merely making a "physical examination" of the various properties under the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission system, Premier Drury said.

Union Mothers' Club Members Pay Awakening Visit To City Playgrounds.

RIVER HAS BIG PULL

Boys Trek Five Miles To Learn Good Sportsmanship At Birketts.

"One of the things that pleased and surprised me most in visiting the playgrounds on Tuesday afternoon was to see such a large sprinkling of mothers and fathers, some of the fathers teaching their little boys to swim."

The foregoing comment was made to the women's department of The Advertiser, Tuesday evening, by Mrs. John A. Rose, president of the London Union Mothers' Club, following an afternoon spent in seeing for herself London playgrounds, in company with several members of the Union Mothers' Club sub-executive, and Trustee (Mrs.) John I. A. Hunt. Arrangements for cars to take the party around were made by the chamber of commerce, Messrs. Philip Pocock, chairman of the utilities commission, and Mr. T. W. McFarland giving the use of their automobiles and participating in the trip.

Further with regard to the delights of the playgrounds, Mrs. Rose said, "It was gratifying in the first place to see the mothers and fathers taking such an interest in the play life of their own and other people's children. At the annual meeting of the Union Mothers' Club, I urged upon the members of the individual clubs the importance of taking an interest in the playgrounds, and I was pleased to recognize several of our club mothers this afternoon."

"Out of the playgrounds movement has grown a recognition of the importance of recreation and of play for the growing up young people and adults, as well as the boys and girls. Indeed, the National Council of Women has changed the name of one of its standing committees from committee on playgrounds to committee on national recreation."

Forging Ahead.

"One thing we had thought the playgrounds would lack, and that was appeal to the grown-ups and their interest. The discovery we were mistaken was one of the agreeable surprises of the day. And it was a revelation to discover the way the playgrounds movement is going ahead here."

Members of the sub-executive who shared in the trip with Mrs. Rose were: Mesdames W. A. Tanner, A. Cress, T. Benson, J. Gemmell, A. E. Tutt. Delay was caused by the heavy shower of the early part of the afternoon and, in consequence, it was not possible to inspect all the playgrounds of the city before 5 o'clock when the chief interest was leaving the children themselves. Starting with Thames Park, where aquatic sports were in full swing, wading and bathing in the swimming pool, visits were paid to Birketts, on the river bank behind McClary's; Queen's Park, Tecumseh and Lord Roberts School grounds, and Dexter's swimming pool, in all of which supervisors were on duty.

While Thames Park was recognized as probably the most efficiently equipped, the mothers completely lost their hearts to Birketts, declaring it to be the ideal natural playground, with a feature irresistible to boys and girls, a real river in which to wade, dip and swim, a modern edition of "the old swimming hole."

Children, it was discovered, had come as far as five miles to share the joys of Birketts, trekking from beyond Ealing in the east, and away to the city limits in the north. "The swimming brought them," said Mrs. Rose.

"And you found the playgrounds thoroughly supervised, every precaution taken for the safety of the children?" asked The Advertiser.

Are "Brothers' Keepers."

"That would be pretty big task for one supervisor to look after many children to look after, wouldn't it?" countered the president of the London Union Mothers' Club. "It would keep two pretty busy all the time in some cases. Some of the supervisors told me they get the best possible assistance from the older boys after they win their confidence and get them on their side. They are in this way developing a sense of responsibility for the younger and weaker children, developing in them the protective spirit, which, it seems to me, is a very fine thing in the making of citizens. I am sure the supervisors themselves are getting a great deal out of their work besides jobs for the summer."

"In the playgrounds the children are learning to play the game fairly, a pretty important life lesson. What is life, after all, but a game, and what better to learn than to play the game of life fairly and squarely, with consideration for the rights of others, and sense of responsibility towards others?"

"When we got to Thames Park, we found the Thames Park girls had gone to the Tecumseh playground to play a baseball match. Birketts children, we were told, were playing a match at the Lord Roberts playground. In this way the children from different sections of the city are coming together and a feeling of the unity of the whole city is being created in the hearts and minds of the young citizens-to-be. In other words, they are getting the city viewpoint. Altogether, a trip to the playgrounds is a most awakening experience, and it must be a satisfaction to the members of the commission to

Mail-Box Cot Fund Is Now $720

FIRST a crib and then a cot! This is the way the ambition of the Cynthia Grey family circle has grown up to serve the War Memorial Children's Hospital. In the early days of the movement, $500 for the endowment of a crib seemed a large amount to be collected. When the $500 mark was exceeded, then there sprouted the idea of raising the objective to $1,000, which would endow a cot in memory of husbands, brothers, fathers, sweethearts and sons of the Boxes who gave their lives in the great war. Hit by bit, mite by mite, with here and there a bill to speed the treasure on its way, and the great big goal given by the Mail-Box quilt, the fund has steadily and weekly increased until almost three-quarters of the journey to the goal has been achieved. A receipt has just been received from the honorary treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Campbell, for an installment of $32 paid in this week, which she acknowledges as follows:

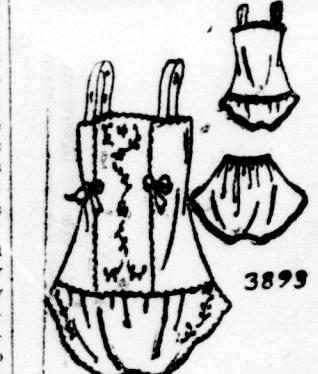

Dear Cynthia Grey: The Advertiser Mail-Box Fund for the War Memorial Children's Hospital is steadily growing. The last check of thirty-two dollars ($32) brings the amount to $720. It will not be long until the $1,000 will be in, and then how happy the contributors will be. Thanking you, on behalf of the hospital committee, I am, sincerely yours, L. K. Campbell, hon. treasurer, Hospital Fund.

Brings to Close Successful Campaign—Plans Garden Party.

Harrietsville Women's Institute has just brought to a close a most successful membership campaign in which the numbers on the roll were more than doubled, according to reports presented at the July meeting, held at the home of Mrs. R. Young. Mrs. E. O'Neill's team had the proud distinction of announcing 46 members as their quota, while that of Mrs. B. Marsh introduced 27 names; 73 in all as a result of the big drive. An inspiring feature of the meeting was an address by Mrs. H. Bullard on the subject of "Fostering the Community Spirit." Mrs. R. Young and Mrs. H. Mahar gave a piano duet, and Mrs. L. McCallum a piano solo. Arrangements were made to hold a garden party on Aug. 4, at the home of Mr. D. McVicar, Harrietsville.

Simple Treatment For Oily Skins

If your skin is sallow, oily or muddy, if the pores are full of dirt and other accumulations—if blackheads inhabit the face—get from your druggist a package of peroxide powder. At night just before retiring, take your wash cloth, wet it with hot water and sprinkle a liberal quantity of the peroxide powder on it. Now rub over the face with it. In a few seconds you will feel a delightful tingling sensation. Now, take a dry wash cloth and powder is dissolving away every particle of the dirt and dust and excess oil—even to the blackheads—you can just feel it doing its work.

After a minute or two, wash off with plenty of warm water, finishing up with cold—the colder the better. Now dry the skin and look in your mirror—you'll be surprised at the wonderful refreshed appearance of your complexion.—Adv.

Special words of praise have been given for the handsome gate, which makes a dignified and impressive approach. The Healthy Baby Is Happy Baby.

ARE London babies healthier and happier in summer because of the work of the London Child Welfare Association?

If sickness brings misery, then the answer is in the affirmative.

According to Miss Bertha Smith, supervisor of child welfare nurses, bread "summer complaint" has been practically unknown this summer among the clinic babies and in the households which are on the visiting lists of the welfare nurses. Proper feeding and generally intelligent care are making summer days as safe for wee tots and as happy for them as for the grown-ups who love the outdoor months.

NOOSE AWAITS MURDERERS OF SIR H. WILSON

Condemned Prisoners Admit They Shot Field Marshal At Old Bailey.

GET JUSTICE PROMPTLY

Precautions Taken To Ban Sinn Fein Sympathizers From Court.

LONDON, July 18.—Reginald Dunn and Joseph O'Sullivan were found guilty today after trial in the Old Bailey of the murder of the late Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, who was shot down in front of his home on Eton Place last month.

Both the convicted men were sentenced to death.

Thus, twenty-six days from the date on which the noted Irish soldier was murdered, the men who fired the fatal shots were convicted and the death sentence imposed on them.

This constitutes a record in the dispatch of a criminal case even for England, where murder trials usually are completed more quickly than in Canada.

"The Right to Kill"

The attorney general's case for the prosecution required barely half an hour to present. The prisoners had admitted the killing of the field marshal, but the judge, nevertheless, ordered the trial to continue.

Before opening the defense, Artemus Jones, counsel for the prisoners, asked that Dunn be allowed to make a statement from the dock. The statement was handed to the judge, who declared it to be a political manifesto, justifying the right to kill.

The court said Dunn could give evidence if he wished.

The defendant's counsel thereupon asked the court for a short adjournment for consultation, which was granted. When the attorneys returned Mr. Jones announced that the defendant took the view that owing to the judge's refusal to permit Dunn's statement to be read they no longer wished to have legal representation. Therefore, Mr. Jones stated that he had no alternative but to withdraw from the case.

Other Charges Also.

Besides the murder of Field Marshal Wilson, the prisoners are indicted on charges of attempting to murder two police constables and a taxi-driver.

The assauration charge, however, was the only one taken up at today's trial. Attorney-General Sir Ernest Pollock, Travers Humphreys and Eustace Fulton prosecuted the case on behalf of the crown, and the prisoners were defended by Artemus Jones, a member of the House of Commons, and Jeremiah McVeagh.

Elaborate precautions were taken to see that no Sinn Fein or sympathizers with the Irish republicans gained admission to the court. Even the few admitted to the public gallery were carefully scrutinized by the police, and those who obtained admission were given a special pass.

Brant County Rejoices As Indians Decide To Police Reserve.

Special to London Advertiser. BRANTFORD, July 18.—Administration of justice on the Six Nations Reserve has cost the county of Brant some $100,000, county officials announced today. They were pleased to learn that the Six Nations chiefs had decided to try to administer their own justice, hold their own courts and to keep miscreants in a jail of their own.

For 75 years ratepayers of Brant County have met the cost of administration of justice to administer their own justice, hold their own courts and to keep miscreants in a jail of their own.

City Engineer Miller advised the board that about $6,000 would be required to move the main, which is claimed to last for 50 years, down, and to construct a new auxiliary main at the side of the hill in the outskirts of the city, suitable as a highway for those desiring to enter the Waterworks Park.

Commissioner Geddes also took the position that the pipes should be renewed and moved, as those in service at present are in danger from the rubbish that has been dumped in the ravine.

Chairman Roberts replied that the water board was not responsible for such dumping, that the onus was on the city.

City Solicitor Doherty had advised him that it would be distinctly illegal for the board to use part of the debenture surplus for moving the mains. Chairman Roberts continued: "Moreover, he was opposed to using the surplus for that purpose, if special permission was obtained, as he felt that the money will be required for protecting the inner storage basin in connection with the new dam from the wash of the water."

"If we endanger the Bell Telephone Company's poles with some work we undertake, we are liable for the cost of moving those poles," insisted Chairman Roberts. "In the same way I hold that the city is liable for the cost of moving our mains. However, I think it would be legitimate for us to assume the difference between the cost of steel and cast iron mains."

Mayor Raven adopted views similar to Commissioner Geddes. He felt that the people in the Hughes street district were entitled to some compensation, as he had lived there and knew the conditions that exist. The question of assuming the expenses would be settled later, he believed.

St. Thomas Commission Decides To Move Water Mains At North End.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, July 18.—Water mains at the north end of Hughes street will be moved by the St. Thomas Water Commission to further the scheme of the city and county to open the street to traffic. It is intended to fill in the ravine and make the street, which should be one of the most important roads on the outskirts of the city, suitable as a highway for those desiring to enter the Waterworks Park.

City Engineer Miller advised the board that about $6,000 would be required to move the main, which is claimed to last for 50 years, down, and to construct a new auxiliary main at the side of the hill in the outskirts of the city, suitable as a highway for those desiring to enter the Waterworks Park.

1000 Eggs In Every Hen TELLS HOW
New System of Poultry Keeping—Get Dollar A Dozen Eggs—Famous Poultryman.
"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short," says Henry Traford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years editor of Poultry Success.
The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then, she goes to market. Yet, it has been scientifically established that every pullet, in born or hatched with one other thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years, if given proper care.
How to work to get 1,000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up the production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple hatching; $5.00 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other money making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Traford's "1,000 EGG HEN" system of poultry raising. One copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Eggs should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Traford tells how, if you keep chickens and want them to make money for you, cut out this ad and send it with your name and address to Henry Traford, Suite 470-M, Herald Bldg., Birmingham, N.Y., and a free copy of THE 1,000 EGG HEN will be sent by return mail.

Advocate Scenic Highway From Windsor To Goderich.

Special to London Advertiser.
SARNIA, July 18.—Sentiment for the Windsor-Goderich scenic highway through Western Ontario will crystallize Monday, July 24, in a convention at Sarnia.
Organization and publicity arrangements will be made, and plans will be laid for sending a big delegation from all the towns interested to Toronto to ask for a provincial highway from Windsor to Goderich.
Petitions already been sent to the Ontario government from the municipal councils of towns, villages and cities along the proposed route. Handbills are being scattered about for the Sarnia convention, announcing the campaign for "A Canadian road in sight of the water almost all the way which will attract tourists by untold thousands and become famous throughout America." The Windsor-Goderich scenic highway committee and the Sarnia chamber of commerce are in charge of the convention.

was eulogistic of the prospects of further grand progress.
The grand master set a membership mark of 100,000 to be attained by this jurisdiction during the year 1923. He was confident that it could be done. He recommended that each member contribute $5 towards the erection of the proposed Masonic home, making a fund of half a million to start with. The membership at the present time is approximately 34,500.

Colonel Ponton commended the work undertaken for the boys, the sons of Masons. He recommended against the "gaudy display of Masonic ornaments outside of the lodge room."
The annual report M. W. Bro. Malone showed receipts of $160,732, and there was a surplus of $8,356 after $45,500 had been invested. The general charges amounted to $33,215, and benevolent orders to $73,440. The general account showed investments of $236,935. The sum of $13,187 was collected during the year for the semi-centennial fund, which now amounts to $103,638.

The grand secretary, W. M. Logan, Hamilton, reported receipts of 583 lodges and the 27 under dispensation of $122,590. Other receipts brought the total up to $150,850.

ALLEGED FIRE BUG HELD AT CHATHAM
County Police Arrest James Jacques On Incendiary Charge.
Special to London Advertiser.
CHATHAM, July 18.—Two mysterious fires, which broke out on the Terry farm in Chatham Township on Sunday last were responsible for the arrest of James Jacques by the county police Monday afternoon. In the county police court this morning Jacques was charged with causing the fires which endangered the barns and buildings of the farm. He was remanded to the county jail for a few days until the county police investigate the case.

According to the police the Terry family left the farm on Sunday in their automobile. In the afternoon neighbors saw smoke in the barnyard, and arrived on the scene just in time to prevent what might have developed into a serious blaze. In the evening a fire started in another portion of the farm. The police state that it was rather curious that the cattle had been herded into such a position that if the flames had got beyond control, the stock would have perished in the fire.

Dr. O. Hall of the veterinary surgeon-general's department at Ottawa, Dr. Wm. Moyle of the federal board of health, and Dr. A. R. Farewell, federal inspector for London district, who will conduct the tuberculosis tests, assisted by Dr. Tamlin, were present at the meeting.
They reported that as these tests for tuberculosis in cattle necessitate driving the herds in from pasture, they would not commence work until next month, when the harvest is well in hand on the farms involved. However, owing to the fact that an early test is desirable on herds supplying milk to London hospitals and Byron Sanatorium, this work will be conducted on these herds at once.

PLAYBOY AT PORT STANLEY

Members of London Board of Health Condemn Railway Commission.

Chairman Seabrook Would Pay $2 "To See Dempsey Hit With Baseball Bat."

Condemning the London Railway Commission for permitting the use of city of London property on which to stage a boxing bout starring Jack Dempsey, world champion, next Friday, members of the board of health, in session Tuesday night, expressed the opinion that the money utilized to obtain this exhibition might better be employed in providing lavatory accommodation at the London and Port Stanley Railway depot here for patrons of the road and company employees.
"They can spend $400 for flowers and yet cannot provide lavatory accommodation at the London station," said Ald. O. I. Cunningham, referring to the London Railway Commission.
"Yes, and they can spend four or five thousand dollars bringing a couple of plugs to box at Port Stanley," commented Charles Mitchell, who is also a member of the board of health. "It is one of the most disgraceful things ever perpetrated on the city of London."
"They are charging two dollars to see it," interrupted Chairman E. R. Seabrook. "I would willingly pay two dollars to see some one hit Dempsey on the head with a baseball bat."
The board decided to write to the London Railway Commission pointing out the need of lavatory accommodation at the depot here, emphasizing the fact that it is compulsory according to provincial health laws.

Boost Two Salaries.
On motion of Charles Mitchell the board recommended to the city council that the salaries of Sanitary Inspector Richard Sanders and Plumbing Inspector James Young be increased $200 per year. This action was taken because of the fact that the above increases were recommended by the board of health in 1921, but were never authorized by a bylaw.
Tribute to the work of Sanitary Inspector R. H. Sanders was paid by members of the board, who commented on the fact that the revenue obtained in Inspector Young's department makes it self-sustaining.
"It is a most disgraceful thing to the London Board of Health the salary paid to Inspector Sanders," said Mr. Mitchell, who sponsored the $200 boost in salary. "It should be retroactive to January 1."

"The city council felt Inspector Sanders was away underpaid," declared Ald. O. I. Cunningham. "I think he has placed the board of health on a proper basis. It was a joke in the past. Inspector Sanders has produced astounding results by his good work."

"You will lose him one of these days," commented Dr. C. S. Tamlin, veterinary inspector.
Salary Ridiculous.
"He is only getting $1,300 per year," continued Ald. Cunningham. "We cannot replace him. It is ridiculous. We cannot replace him at three times that salary."

Chairman Young voiced a complaint to the board regarding backing up of sanitary sewers on King street during recent heavy rains, thereby inconveniencing the tenants of the buildings involved, and menacing their health. Ald. Cunningham explained that the backing-up was due to the fact that years ago sufficient allowance was not made to take care of surplus rain water in the sewers, but that modern sewers are devised to eliminate this nuisance.
The report of Sanitary Inspector Richard Sanders showed that he had completed 465 inspections throughout the city during the month of June. A general improvement in the condition of all places visited was noted in the report.

The chief difficulty encountered by proprietors of 37 cafes and restaurants of London was disposal of refuse during the hot weather. Grocery stores inspected were found to be in first-class condition, as were also laundries and the majority of city barber shops.
Demand Sterilization.
The complaint regarding soft drink establishments was the fact that facilities for sterilizing drinking glasses had not been installed, particularly in the case of open air booths. Inspector Sanders reported an improvement in butcher shops of London, with the proprietors co-operating to enforce the law.

Hotels of the city were given a clean bill by the report, and stables were found to be clean, with the exception of occasional piles of manure, which were ordered removed, on the grounds that they serve as a breeding place for flies.
Inspector Sanders reported that he had condemned two mattresses offered for sale on the market as insanitary, and that in the future no used mattresses are to be sold in the city unless they pass the board of health inspection.

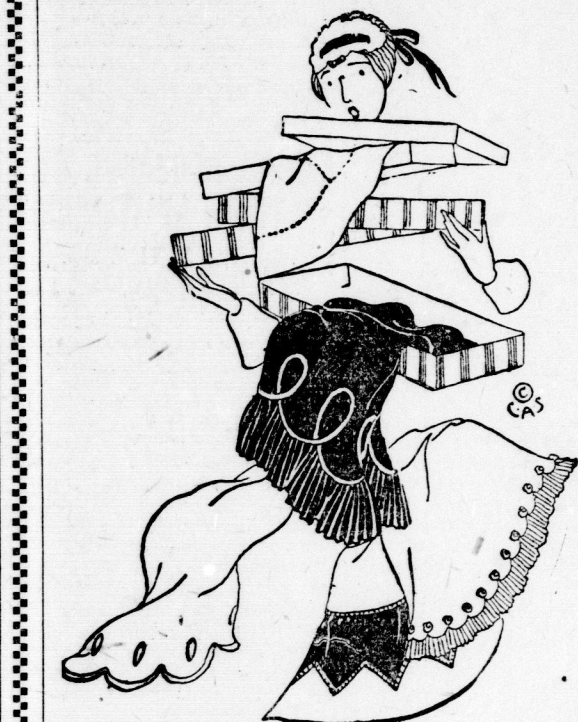

The report of Dr. C. S. Tamlin, veterinary inspector, for the month of June, which was published recently, was also considered by the board. Inspector Tamlin visited 120 producers of milk for London homes preparatory to the tuberculosis testing of herds, and found the dairies in good sanitary condition.
To Conduct Tests.
Dr. O. Hall of the veterinary surgeon-general's department at Ottawa, Dr. Wm. Moyle of the federal board of health, and Dr. A. R. Farewell, federal inspector for London district, who will conduct the tuberculosis tests, assisted by Dr. Tamlin, were present at the meeting.

They reported that as these tests for tuberculosis in cattle necessitate driving the herds in from pasture, they would not commence work until next month, when the harvest is well in hand on the farms involved. However, owing to the fact that an early test is desirable on herds supplying milk to London hospitals and Byron Sanatorium, this work will be conducted on these herds at once.

SMUTS DENIES REVOLT SUPPRESSED BY CRUELTY

LONDON, July 18.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Premier Smuts of the South African Union, in reply to an interviewer, says a Reuter dispatch from Cape Town, emphatically denied the allegation made by J. H. Harris in a London newspaper that the suppression of the recent Hottentot revolt in South Africa was characterized by cruelty.
Premier Smuts declared that the operations were conducted with great humanity and that there were no grounds whatever for any such allegations. He adds that G. R. Hoffmeister, administrator of South-West Africa, made a report on the question, and the government had also appointed a commission to inquire into the matter. Both reports, he said, would be sent to the council of the League of Nations.
