How the Crowds Came.

The crowds came by all railways, and by every conceivable kind of vethe city, and in the afternoon not less than 2,000 people came into London over the same road. Year after year the Grand Trunk gets the bulk of the Western Fair business, and no complaints are registered against the company in regard to the treatment of its

The Pere Marquette came next with about 2,000, all of whom were wellhandled, both to and from the city. Then the Michigan Central brought in about 800 people, and the C. P. R. a like number, and as usual the management of both roads gained the good-will of the visitors. Added to these were the thousands who drove in from the surrounding country, and the very large number who had reached the city on Tuesday, but who preferred to attend the Fair on Farmers' Day. All these, with a large crowd of city peo ple, made up the bumper attendan over 40,000, which put in the shade the crowd of Wednesday a year ago. It rained on Wednesday of 1904. In 1905 the weather man did his prettiest.

The Crush Begins.

The crush of the day began down-As the railroads landed their thousands of passengers the main streets became congested. Everywhere crowds lined the walks and the busiest men in London were the policemen. They answered all sorts of questions : thousand times over, and never on lost their patience. The cafes, hotels, fruit and candy stores did a land office business. At the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, traffic was almost at a standstill. Many people preferred to go around a block rather than attempt to force their way through the crowds waiting for the street cars to take them to the grounds. As the motors with trailers attached came up they were filled in 30 seconds, though they were run at intervals of a minute. It was impossible to keep up with the demands of the thousands going to the grounds. Every car in the barns was pressed into service in the effort carry the crowds, but even at that the timid ones were compelled to wait sometimes for half an hour before they could get a place in a car bound for the Fair grounds Those who were pre pared to rough it good-naturedly fought their way into the trolleys, and took not luck in regard to seats. Th cenductors were the hardest worked men in London yesterday, but they managed to look after the company's interests and rake in all the nickels. The motormen were careful. too. All except one man. This individual was evidently bent on "showing off," and coming down from the grounds he sat back on a front seat of one of the big Springbank cars and folded his arms. Travel by train has been inter

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS.

Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, and 'is football players were smitten at Berlin, yesterday. Deah me! 'Ow crude! Berlin should have known bettah! Our old country cousins do not perform so well when they strike a town where they play real football. The Englishmen beat Hamilton, but that's nothing.

R. Burns, of Toronto, won the Ontario championship, from Boys, of Delbars, the Forest pacer, took a record of 2:12 1-4 at Detroit yesterday.

Flanagan, the New York policeman, when he gets tired of work (?) yawns, picks up the 16-pound hammer, and tosses it several feet farther than the record. The other morning he tossed it 175 feet. Stop that, Flanagan, or they will make you work hard.

Joe Gans wants to fight Nelson now. Now, Joe, we had quite forgotten about you. Let's see, the last man you fought was Jimmy Britt at California. We can taste that yet. It certainly was the worst ever. No, you have been in too many fakes already. You're a very good fighter, but that Baltimore crowd behind you are too crooked to sleep comfortably, any way but standing up. None of your game for ours, Joe.

The Toronto Telegram man is real savage when he works off this passage. We admit that the circumstances justify it to a degree, but a term in the penitentiary for getting money under false pretenses would help some. Here is the blood-curdling wish of that ink-slinger: "By the way, there aren't many of us who would go into black were we to wake up some fine morning and find that the Toronto ball team had played the star part in some awful railroad disaster." George Ballard, last year's quarter-back, has been appointed captain of the senior team of the Hamilton Tigers. Ballard learned the snapback game

Young McLeod teamed a fine race yesterday with Joe Leiter at the Fair. This boy is driving better every time out, and for a youngster he's good. He at 'Varsity, and is a very heady player. He is aggressive and a first-class

Jack London, the celebrated novelist, has a long account in the New York papers, in which he says the "abysmal brute" in Nelson won the fight against but Nelson kept the busier. These literary gents are great at the prizefight game. Jimmy had the more mind, but Nelson had the punch. Below are the paragraphs that explain the whole business:

"Fighting with his intellect and with his body as well, Britt was knocked out because his body was not strong enough to keep his mind poised in control and directing his body. When the body was weakened the mind was overthrown, and his cleverness and his intelligence counted for nothing. "Not so the Dane, the abysmal in him fought on. It was the will of life itself. The fleshy life as a thing apart from the mind, and the spirit that moved in on him, and that outmoved the same kind of life that was in Britt. Britt is the finer human, Nelson is the finer fighting animal. "Nevertheless, all hail to both of them. They play the clean game of life, and I, for one, would rather be either of them at Colma than a man who took no exercise with his body today, but instead waxed physically gross in the course of gathering to himself a few dollars in the commercial game." The conclusion is all right, but that "abysmal brute" part has us sitting COVERPOINT.

An Addition to Our Spacious Store...

Perhaps, when you have been strolling along Dundas street lately, you have noticed that the store next door east to us, has been undergoing repairs. Possibly the sign-SMALLMAN & INGRAM'S-in the window has attracted your attention. Maybe you have felt a little curious-wondered what departments were to be located in this addition. Well it is now the home of the Linen, Cotton, Fancy Goods, Wash Goods and Flannel Departments.

To many of our friends and customers-especially those that have visited us within the last few months-this addition to our already spacious establishment will not come as any great surprise. They know we needed more room. In fact, a number have remarked that we had more goods than space to show them in. Larger stocks and a rapidly increasing business made more space necessary. Hence the addition.

We can perhaps be excused if we experience a slight feeling of pride when we contrast the little store in which we commenced business twenty-eight years ago with the commodious premises we now occupy. And the reason for our success can be given in one word-Satisfaction. For nearly thirty years we have endeavored to treat every man, woman and child that came inside of this store courteously and honestly, to give everybody full value for their money, to satisfy them in every possible way. And we still desire this store to be known as The Satisfactory Store.

Just here, we wish to express to our friends and customers our heartiest thanks and appreciation for the liberality of your purchases in the past, and for your kindness in recommending this store to your friends. We hope you will continue to visit us. We want you to feel at home here-Britt. That's a fine line. The abysmal brute was busy in Britt likewise. to come as often as you like, to stay as long as you like, to buy when you feel like it. Come today or tomorrow-bring the Exhibition visitors, too-and see us in our larger store.

A Special Inducement to Visit The New Addition at Once.

Our Linen Section is making it decidedly to your interest to visit its new home immediately. This department is offering for sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday-if it will last that long-a special line of 60-inch Half-Bleached Pure Linen Tabling at a very low price. This Tabling is an odd line from a prominent Belfast manufacturer. If bought in the regular way it

LONDON, THURSDAY, SEPT. 14. Professor Mavor's Report.

Professor Mayor, the author of the pessimistic report upon Canada's potential wheat production, has found some defenders, but they go no further than to credit him with good When it comes to an analysis of his figures, his critics have the best of the argument. For instance, he declared that Manitoba would never produce more than 52,000,000 bushels of wheat. The Prairie Province has this year produced more than this estimate, and only 2,643,000 acres out of 50,000,000 acres are under crop. Again, Professor Mayor described a whole district traversed by the Canadian Northern Railway as of no value for wheat-raising purposes, whereas this very district is producing magnificent crops. These are facts which are incontestable, and make Professor Mavor's report ridiculous. It is a pity that a man of high reputation in his own department should have ventured outside it with such unfortunate results. The Winnipeg Board of Trade is justified in taking, as it has done, immediate steps to discredit the Mavor report, and correct the injurious impressions which it has created in the mother country. It has been seized upon as a weapon of party controversy by the opponents of Mr. Chamberlain. They point to it as a refutation of the claim that the Canadian wheat fields will some day render the mother country independent of foreign supplies. While it cannot be assuredly said that the majority of Canada are partisans of Mr. Chamberlain, they do run gasoline motor 'buses to take pasnot wish his opponents to score on him sengers from its stations to hotels and at Canada's expense. Professor Mayor places of business. In the United is drawing a lamentable amount of attention in Great Britain, because it operating motor cars for its suburban has got into politics. As it has been traffic around Omaha. The Lake Shore published upon the authority of the British Board of Trade it should be authoritatively challenged.

The Indemnity Derended.

The increase in the parliamentary indemnity is a sore spot with many Liberals, as well as many Conservatives. The Conservatives of West Lambton consoled themselves by laying the entire responsibility on the Government, but the Liberals are deprived of any such casuistical device to soothe their feelings. The repre sentatives of both parties should meet the question fairly and squarely, and not beat around the bush, as the members for North Oxford and South York have done, by denouncing the indemnity after voting for it and pocketing it. Mr. Telford, the Liberal member for North Grey, has faced the music in a manly way. He makes this outand-out defense of the so-called "salary grab":

"The electorate at their conventions press a man into the contest against his own inclinations at a cost of anywhere from $1,000 to $10,000, with the proverbial uncertainty of a horse race as to the result. One can didate or the other must lose, and if he loses, all the money and time expended in canvassing and election expenses are lost, and he has nothing left except the very questionable ading. If he is fortunate enough to win the contest there is a strong probability he may have a protest awaiting him to cost from $1,000 to $10,000 more. If he escapes both defeat and unseating he is under the necessity of leaving his business, whatever it may be, for six or seven months yearly, and before his term of office vanishing quantity. This has been the experience of scores of men who have been members of Parliament. I cepted the nomination for North Grey other members had been forced into the indemnity is reasonable, if it is to be deemed payment for time and money expended in the public service and the risks incurred.

"* * There is this to be said in favor of the present system, that in a country like ours where there are few men of leisure, where nearly individual is engaged in business in order to provide for the comfortable maintenance of those dependent upon him, I think Canada would find it somewhat difficult to get a sufficient number of individuals possessed of the necessary qualifications, financial and otherwise, who would be willing to devote their time and talents to the proper manage-ment of the affairs of this country

Mr. Telford is a private banker, the written," and has continued to be president of the Sun Portland Cement known ever since as one of the best Company, and the manager of the selling books in the country. Like fa-Grey and Bruce Loan Company. Presumably, he is a man of means; certainly his private affairs are too remunerative to permit his parliamentary allowance to recoup him for the loss of several months in the year in Ottawa, to say nothing of his election Boston runs. Matinees at reduced expenses. Mr. Telford says there are prices will be given on Friday and broken up; the mother died and the many members in his position, who would not remain in public life if they consulted their personal interests and inclinations. All of which shows there are two sides to the indemnity ques-

These hostile sects have een kept in order only by military TWO EDITIONS DAILY - WEEKLY. force, but Russian authority has been relaxed by the withdrawal of troops for the war, and the foreign colony, which controls a large part of the oil industry, is helpless. The reports state that half the oil wells have been detroyed, the loss being from $100,000,000 to $120,000,000. The city of Baku is the center of the greatest oil region in the world. During the last year for which statistics are available there were 3,500 wells in operation, producing 71.626,000 barrels. The total production of the whole United States in a year is about 80,000,000 barrels. The blow to the Russian Government will be a staggering one, as it was in receipt of heavy royalties. In Russia oil is used to a greater extent for transportation and industrial purposes than in any other country, and the paralysis of the oil industry will cause the greatest distress. What other calamities are in store for the unhappy country?

New Uses for Motor Cars.

The adaptation of the motor car to the steam railroads goes on apace. In this country the trolley car has not roads, but the latter in England and the United States are beginning to meet the competition in an effective manner. Several English roads are now operating motor cars for suburban traffic with satisfactory results. When they are operated on steel tracks with flanged wheels, the danger of excessive speed on streets and highways is avoided, and the economy of power i very marked. On the Northwestern Railway in England the number of passengers on motor cars increased 460,000 in a year, against an increase of 160,000 on the regular trains. The Northwestern Railway in England has secured legislation authorizing it to States the Union Pacific Railroad is is credited with the intention of making a similar experiment between Detroit and Toledo. The automobile is evidently destined to play a very large part in the transportation problems of the future. Hitherto it has been a private luxury, designed for pleasure purposes only. It may become as useful a public servant as the trolley car.

and the animals belonging to the smailer exhibitors are especially of a high order. It has been claimed that Western Ontario is fitted above most parts and two carriage stallions, all native of America for breeding animals of stamina and quality. The stock in the exhibition stables bear this out. Most of the exhibitors are farmers rather than dealers, and they have won most of the prizes with native-bred animals, competing often with those imported. It is also a second and a third with two Hackney stallions. The stock of the most noteworthy stables for the most noteworthy stables is that of Amos Agar, Nashville, Ont. ### $12,000 IN GEMS LOST IN STREET

From His Pocket.

Boston, Sept. 9 .- Diamonds valued at almost $12,000 were lost by Myer Slotopolsky, a diamond dealer living at 40 Wolcott street, New Dorchester, and having desk room and a safe in the jewelry store of A. Gordon at 62 Hamover street, next door to and below the American House.

The jewels were unset and wrapped in tissue papers in 29 or 30 precious little packages, all contained in a diamond broker's leather wallet, about five by eight inches in size and two wide elastic bands about it. They were lost or stolen from Slotopolsky's inside coat pocket, between 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock in the morning. While Slotopolsky is not sure that he was not robbed, he is willing to believe he jolted the wallet out of his pocket in boarding a street car. Immediately upon discovering that the diamonds were gone, Slotopolsky reshed to police headquarters and reported the case to the detectives. to last evening the detectives had failed to find a clue, although Slotopolsky said that the detectives had told him not to be discouraged, for he may receive his diamonds back soon. When Slotopolsky discovered his loss he became weak and sick. He almost fainted, for the wallet represented nearly all his capital. Slotopolsky is given an excellent reputation. Having bought as much as $20,000 worth of diamonds at different Brokkeepers at Car Barns Used times from Abraham S. Hirshberg, of room 810, Jewelers' building, 373 Washington street, Slotopolsky went to him on Aug. 29 and took out about $1,600 worth of small stones on memorandum for the accommodation of one of his customers. There being a difference of $5 a karat between him and his prospective customer, Slotopolsky decided to return the stones and get credit for them. He says: "I told Mr. Hirshberg I would re-turn those diamonds before 12 o'clock last Saturday. I did not receive them from my customer until very late, so I hurried to the jewelers' building. I arrived there shortly after 12 o'clock and found Mr. Hirshberg's office closed. Bridge Spanning the Zambesi River.

Victoria Falls, East Africa, Sept. 14.

The bridge over the Zambesi was formally opened yesterday in the pres-British Association. Professor Darwin made the opening speech. He commented on the remarkable achievements which permitted a party traveling in electric-lighted sajoon cars to visit a place which he and early explorers had spent months of fruitless endeavors to reach. Professor Darwin quoted the forecast writen by Erasmus Darwin in 1875:

'So on shall thy arm, unconquered steam, afar. Urge the slow barge and draw the flying car.'

At the conclusion of his speech Professor Darwin touched an electric button, which fused a wire stretched across the tracks of the bridge, and an engine decorated with Union Jacks passed over. The party then proceeded on an excursion to Livingstone Island.

The total length of the bridge is 650 The total length of the bridge is 650 feet, consisting of a main span of 500 feet, consisting of a main span of 500 feet and two side spans. There are two lines of rails, and the weight of the structure is 1,650 tons. The height is about 400 feet from the water. The work was commenced in October, 1904, and the bridge was linked up on April Back by the Treaty of thim to be Crushed.

PEACE THROTTLES RUSSIAN LIBERTY

Portsmouth.

London, Sept. 14.-It is becoming evident that the advent of peace at the present moment is not an unmixed blessing for the fortunes of Russia in their broadest aspect. Lovers of peace in their humanitarian desire to stop the far eastern conflict lost sight of the emancipation of the Russian people As a result, the clock of civilization in Russia has turned back for a century. The awful conflict there this rected against Russian authority. The plans of the revolutionaries were fully explained to the writer in confidence in June last by one of the leaders who came to London to arrange for a further shipment of arms. Their first move, he said, would be to completely destroy the oil industry. Asked the reason for this wanton destruction, he said the object was to paralyze transportation in the Caucasus and southern Russia, where oil is the sole fuel of the

Expert Tea Blending

HAVE you ever tried to blend colors to match the shade of the red rose?

Pretty difficult, yet an expert can do it easily.

Why? Because he can tell by looking at the rose what colors are required to produce that tint or shade. He can make that precise color every day in the week.

Just as the artist in colors blends the tints of the red rose, so my artists in tea blend the "rich fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea.

With expert knowledge and intuitive skill he selects the particular picking of rich, strong Indian tea and the precise grade of fragrant, delicate Ceylon, and by skilful blending produces the peerless flavor of Red Rose Tea-a tea which for delicacy and strength is matched by no brand of Ceylon alone. Red Rose is good Tea T. H. Estabrooks

The C. P. R.'s Good Work. Every patriotic Canadian is interested in the magnificent display of the Canadian Pacific Railroad Company. All day crowds of eager tarmers have besieged Mr. Crisp, who is in charge of the exhibit, for information, which he is willing and glad to give. It is impossible to estimate the value of the work the C. P. R. is doing for Canada. It has opened the Canadian Northwest to the world and the world is flocking to Canada. Every year the number of immigrants from Great Britain and the United States increases, and every year the great Northwest is becoming more densely populated.

But there is still lots of room for er terprising Canadian youths. Forcunes are to be made in the West. Why stay in the crowded towns when you can have your own homestead in that rich country? It is in the west that the future of Canada lies; it is the future granary of the British Empire; the greatest grain-producing country in the world. The immense natural resources of the country afford opportrnities denied elsewhere, and in such an invigorating climate, with such inrumerable opportunities, the industrious are sure of success Every young man star ing in life should see the great Nor hwest, and there is only one way to go, the best, cheapest and quickest, the great highway to the Pacific coast, the Canadian Pacific Railway. See Mr. Crisp at the Fair and have him tell you all about it. You will never regret it.

MARVELOUS CARBORUNDUM Its Wonderful Properties Demon strated at Rice Lewis'.

The wonderful properties of carbon undum are at present being demon-strated at the Western Fair by Rice Lewis & Son, Limited, of Toronto whose attractive exhibit at the en trance to the Machinery Building is attracting large crowds. Next to the diamond, carborundum is absolutely the hardest material on earth. It used for all kinds of grinding and pol-ishing, and stones of all sizes and de scriptions are supplied for sharpening from the razor hone to the farriers stone. Knife sharpeners, combinatio stones for carpenters and mechanics, pocket stones for sharpening penknives hunting knives, etc., slip stones, roun edge gouge stones, oil stones, carvers slips, points for die sinkers, silver smiths' stones, scythe stones and Manufacturing Company to which are produced in the manufacture Carborundum is made by combining carbon and silicon, two of the hardes known elements. ical process in the large est electrical furnace in the world, and ultimately emerges in its final form so hard that it is used for the grinding and finishing of diamonds. The publi have taken full advantage of the invitation extended by the Rice-Lewis representative to "come and get a knife sharpener free."

ROLLER POLO NEW GAME FOR LONDON

Sport To Be Introduced Here Shortly—Is Expected to "Catch On."

London is to have a new sport, and its name is "roller polo." In other words, it is hockey played on roller most modern machine of its kind on skates, and with a rubber ball instead of a puck. The sticks used are some thing similar to hockey sticks, but ing with teams from Grand Rapids and Detroit to get them to give an exhibi-

game is like. A polo team is also being got together from among the members of the Horton Hockey Club, and it is expected that it will make a hit here. The game is said to be fully as fast and interestmoreover, a game that prepares hockey players for the winter game in a way that no other system of training can, is hit with the other side of the stick. This in itself is a valuable feature, the cartridge goes off with a loud since the hockey season is comparatively short here, and the great problem among team managers has always been to get the seven men in good form before the ice arrives. Sometimes half the season is over before a hockey team takes on its proper shape. Mr. Smith has ordered fifteen pair of reller skates especially adapted for polo playing. The game is a great favorite in many cities across the line.

HE FEELS SURE OF HOME RULE

The Masses of trish People Cling Tenaciously to the Policy of Charles Parnell.

Chicago, Sept. 14 — William Kearney Redmond, brother of John Redmond, eader of the Irish Nationalist party in the British Parliament, was enter-tained at dinner by the Irish Fellow-ship Club in the Sherman House. In talking of Ireland's hopes and pros pects, Mr. Redmond predicted a Liberal victory in Britain this fall, the urther development of Irish party sentiment among Englishmen, and the iltimate establishment of home rule government on the Emerald Isle. Mr. Redmond, who resembles to marked degree his famous kinsman, and whose manerisms as an orator are those of his senior, was welcome Chicago by Mayor Dunne, who man chicago by Mayor Dunne, who mayor short speech of greeting. The mayor referred to a great mass meeting held in Central Music Hall a decade ago, when he had the honor of being the speaker to introduce Hon. Mr. Redmond, with 23 years' experin the English Parliament and a reputation as a hard fighter for the Celtic cause as his letter of credit, was received with sincere applause. spoke easily and fluently, first thanking his hosts for the welcome, and declaring it was accepted in the name of the party he represented. He referred with delicacy to the high places won by his countrymen in America, speaking particularly of the elevation to the mayoralty of the two Irishmen who sit in the executive hairs in Chicago and Boston. "Our party at home," he said, "has ever felt that it had behind it the nearts, the sentiment, and, if needed, he strong right arms of the million prothers who have sought and achieved iberty in America, across the sea." He said there was no quarrel within the Irish party at home, and he pleaded with Irish-Americans to leave it to the best judgment of the men who were bearing the burdens of the struggle in the native country to solve the question as best they could. Mr. Redmond took the stand that to free Ire and by force was impracticable. H declared that if Ireland possessed the military strength to wrest this conession from the English crown h rould not oppose it, but, lacking it e regarded the idea as futile. "If she had the strength, I believe that in the sight of God our nation vould have the right to do it," was his

PARNELL'S POLICY WINS. He asserted that the masses of the rish people clung tenaciously to the olicy laid down by Charles Stewar Parnell 25 years ago; that the Iris party had successfully followed this policy in the British Parliament, and that through it the greatest victory ever wrung from that body—the land grant law—had been obtained. The speaker said there was a com-plete understanding between the Irish nembers of Parliament and their constituents, and summoned in proof the regular return of these representatives to the British House of Commons. He predicted that in the approaching elections there would be no change of heart mong the Irish people. "We are as ready and eager to make our country free by the shortest cut as are any of the loyal members of the race in this, your great country," he said. "And we have been advancing Practically all of the proposals of Par nell and Davitt have been carried to their consummation. The system of andlordism that has been crushing Ireland for centuries has been stampe ut, and the great principle to give t ach and every Irishman the chance t ill his own land and profit by his laors has been fully gained." Mr. Redmond assured his auditors that England's avowed policy today "is to root the Irish people in their own soil." He then prophesied a liberated and independent Ireland, and did so such a clear and forceful style that he was interrupted by cheers and hand, clapping. He said that beside the ablition of landlordism, the Irish party had won many local reforms for the people. Among these was the elective ity councils and a fair representation and voice in town government. LIBERAL VICTORY SURE. Mr. Redmond finally spoke of the ear future, telling of the disconten existing, as he said, among the English as well as Irish masses, and predicting receiving a blow from a bottle in the a sweeping Liberal victory at the polls Gamble shanty, murdered the Indian With this gained he believed the highest hopes of the Irish party would be "started on their commencement." He united, and that the Protestant Irishmen were as earnest as the Catholic that even the Orangemen, as he expressed it, were in line.
