HEALTH OF LYNDBURST
Whatever measure of uncertainty may have existed in respect to the disease that afflicted a number of families in Lyndhurst this fall, it is now apparent that many of the stories circulated respecting its extent and virulence were gross exaggerations. At no time was there any great alarm felt in the village, and a number questioned the wisdom of imposing a quarantine. However, the feeling of doubt and uncertainty was quite general throughout the surrounding country and the business of the village suffered in consequence. This, we are glad to learn, is now simply a matter of history, as several days ago the quarantine was removed from the last house, not even a suspected case exists in the village, and the public school is again being conducted as usual. The Reporter has pleasure in congratulating Lyndhurst on its clean bill of health.

THE COUNTY COUNCILS ACT
The Act respecting County Councils, passed at last session of the Legislature, provides that the County Councils shall consist of Reeves and Deputy Reeves of the Municipalities. Each town not separate from the county for municipal purposes, each village and township shall send a Reeve; and if the names on the last revised voter's list number over 1000, one Deputy Reeve; if over 2000, two; if over 3000, three Deputy Reeves. No name of the same person to be counted more than once, no matter how often it appears on the list. This will not increase the number of Councillors in villages and townships, as instead of, as now, having a Reeve and four Councillors, there will be a Reeve, a Deputy Reeve and three Councillors; or a Reeve, two Deputy Reeves and two Councillors.

A MINIMUM SALARY
At a meeting held on Oct. 1st the council of Front of Leeds and Lans downe condemned the minimum salary clauses of the Ontario governments new educational law, declaring them to be unfair and unreasonable, a "class of legislation of the most vicious type," and a "direct insult to the intelligence and business ability of the boards of rural school trustees." Commenting on this, the Brockville Times says that the action of the council betrays "a lamentable lack of intelligence and business ability upon the part of at least one township council in the province." It is some time before the next provincial election, and perhaps the politicians can afford to sneer at the intelligence and business ability of the representative farmers composing the rural councils, but "the men that pay are the men that should say" is the opinion of more than one township board, and we would not be surprised to see the government forced to modify these clauses, to which such strong objection is taken. This is not yet generally recognized as a political issue, and Conservatives as well as Liberals feel free to offer more or less intelligent criticism of these particular clauses.

OBITUARY
MRS. RICHARD KERR
The recent death of Mrs. Richard Kerr, wife of an old and esteemed farmer of Greenbush, under particularly sad circumstances, caused profound sorrow among the many friends of the deceased lady throughout this section with whom she enjoyed a wide and respected acquaintance. On August 28, Mrs. Kerr left home in her usual health for an extended visit with her son who resides at Yorkton, Sask. Arriving there safely after the long journey she was enjoying the visit splendidly until an acute attack of diabetes suddenly set in. All that medical skill and the services of a trained nurse could do was done to save her life but on Oct. 10, Mrs. Kerr passed peacefully away after a comparatively short illness. The deceased was a life-long resident of Greenbush where she was born 64 years ago, her maiden name being Miss Lucy Caroline Olds, daughter of the late William and Eliza Olds. On Dec. 11th, 1860 she was united in marriage with her now sorrowing husband and they shared each others joys and sorrows for nearly half a century. When a child she united with the Methodist church and continued a consistent member till the time of her death. The body reached home on Sunday, the 14th inst, and the funeral which took place the following day to the Greenbush cemetery was one of the largest and most representative seen in those parts in many years. From miles around sympathizing friends came to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased and show their heartfelt sorrow for the surviving husband. Rev. Mr. Curtis of Addison conducted the services and the pall-bearers were William Connell, Henry Davis, W. H. Tackaberry, David Johnston, W. Justus, E. Jackson. Mrs. Kerr was a woman possessed of many admirable traits of character and those who partook of her acts of open-hearted charity, dispensed in a quiet unostentatious manner, will have cause to long cherish her memory. She was a kind neighbor, ever ready to help in time of need, a faithful wife and affectionate mother. In all walks of life her christian character was strongly in evidence.

A Fond Adieu
Mr. Thomas Pounder of East Boston (familiarily called "Uncle Tom") has left for home, well pleased with the kind and sincere reception which he received from his numerous relatives and friends. Many of them drove for miles during his pleasant sojourn at Friend Gordon's, requesting him to come out next summer, if God permits and spares his health so as to be enabled to do so. He desires to thank, through the medium of the Athens Reporter, (a paper which he admires to receive in Boston, on account of its efficient publisher) all those relations and well wishers who opened wide their doors and extended that gentle hand of fellowship, which, while life lasts, he shall remember. He fully appreciated the unspeakable interest which they all manifested in endeavouring to make his stay one of pleasure to him.

Making Marriage a Success
"In business, if problems arise, a man seeks to master them; if inharmonies threaten to eclipse his success, he seeks to remove them; he does not let things drift or work themselves out in some way; he knows it is his business to find out where things are wrong and not be content to think that he is curing them by obscuring them. Men are often resigned to conditions in their home that they would never surrender in their business; they often accept as inevitable in their home life what they could change if they only would. It is cowardly to accept any wrong condition if any amount of effort will right it. People often fan themselves into the severe self-satisfaction that they are bravely accepting fate when they are really only too mentally lazy or morally inert to take a bold, firm stand to win the freedom of thought and action they desire. There are little rifts in the lute of marriage happiness that, unnoted and uncorrected, widen until the music of sweetness is lost. There are little differences that a few moments of listening, a few moments of kindly wisdom and explanation will set right, but foolish pride may deter, and a heart is wounded; unrest, vague misunderstanding and suspicion dethrone confidence and a sad growing apart may darken the years. Sometimes the lack of proper understanding comes from that moral cowardice that seeks only to preserve 'peace in the family.' This is a false peace. It is treason thus meekly to surrender, shutting out the true, white light of real peace for a silent suffering protest which eats into the heart."—From the November DELINEATOR.

GREENBUSH
Mr. C. L. Kerr has returned to his home in Elgin, after visiting friends here. Mr. Curle of Toronto has returned home after visiting relatives here. Fred Olds is all smiles now—it is a girl. Mother and child are doing well. A painful accident happened at the farm of Edward Kennedy on Saturday last. While several men were shingling a building the scaffold gave away and the men fell to the ground. Charles Davis is suffering from a broken arm, H. Watts an injured back, Willie Kennedy a sprained wrist, Edward Kennedy an injured back.

I am glad to have this chance of speaking, resumed Waring, suddenly, and looking full at her, a kind expression in his handsome, soft brown eyes, "For I want to explain that I don't want to have intruded on you had the least idea who the niece was about whom Mr. Craig spoke with such very justifiable pride. I am afraid that—that I can not be a very welcome guest to you."

train! They had started in abundant time. Waring was leaning back in a languid manner quite unusual. "Uncle Sandy!" she cried, running to the library, "here is Mr. Waring returning with Kenneth."

"I feel awfully ashamed of myself for giving all this trouble," said Waring, his eyes resting on Mona's for a moment with a deprecating glance. She, still silent and pale from the shock she had received, stood noiselessly and brought the wine by the time the little procession had reached Waring's room, which the housemaid had not yet dismantled.

"I have heard something of the kind," murmured Mona, enveloping her hands, and putting her face to a pretty, troubled, questioning expression, as she generally did when in any little difficulty. "And— (and I am to speak freely, you know) I was infinitely distressed. I feared I might in some measure—"

"I hope I am not in the way, Mona, dear? Why did you not put me off?" "You will be of the greatest assistance."

Handling the Apple Crop

In commercial orcharding, the business end of the enterprise, that of marketing the crop to the best advantage, is second only in importance to that of producing fruit of the best quality. It is in this particular that there is the greatest need for improvement at the present time.

A THANKFUL MOTHER.

"I thank you with all my heart for what Baby's Own Tablets have done for my little girl," says Mrs. Antoine Charette, jun., of St. Boniface, Que. "When I began giving her the Tablets she seemed to be pining away, but after using less than a box she was rapidly gaining and she is now a fine, fat, healthy little one."

THE LOGGER'S VOCABULARY.

Man of the Woods Has a Language of His Own. The language of these woodmen, often more forcible than elegant, is as picturesque as are their surroundings, writes Thomas R. Shipp in the Reader in an article about the logger. Most of us know what a "sapling" is, but what is a "road monkey" or a "bull donkey"?

COULD SCARCELY WALK A Rheumatic Sufferer Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Rheumatism is rooted in the blood—that is a medical fact every poor rheumatic sufferer should know. Liniments and outward applications cannot possibly cure rheumatism. They are a waste of money, and while the sufferer is using them the disease is steadily growing worse—is slowly but surely taking a firmer grasp upon the entire system.

The Stay-at-Homes.

The summer months bring comparative leisure not only to the city dwellers who flee to the country or the seashore to escape the hot weather, but to a great majority of the stay-at-homes. Many people who are too busy during the rest of the year to make a satisfactory selection of staple articles, such as household supplies, for instance, find time to do their buying in July and August.

MADEIRA.

Madeira is a little land peering in mellow ripeness, as if a fallen tree, but a "dead head" is a sunken log. "Darcy" log is one that is decayed. A single log is a "dry," but it likewise may also be a "bob," a "crotch," a "go-devil," a "lizard," a "scoot," or a "sloop," but never a "sled." With fine insight into human nature the woodsman knows the sub-foreman as the "head push."

On board all is confusion, for the decks are swarming with Portuguese, shouting in despondent, querulous tones, demanding extortionate prices for their native wares of inland wood and of wicker work for lace, fruit, jewelry, photographs, and what not.

The former prods the boats with a stick and shoulders the car round sharp corners while the latter leads the way, and occasionally liberates the runners by placing a grose-laden rag on the ground for the runner to run over.

The roads and pathways for miles around are beautifully laid by hand with little black pebbles, which are frequently arranged in intricate patterns. These pebbles have, through constant wear, been flattened on the top, and being covered with grease from the cars are difficult to walk upon.

The men are attired in dark trousers, a white shirt, a waistcoat worn open, and a round sombrero hat, look like so many trovadores. Despite their fierce appearance, the men are polite, gentle, and kindhearted; moreover, they are as industrious as any are over.

The quiet ones look mysterious and uncanny; they seem to shiver and tremble with awe at the approach of night. Deep down between the tall houses all the whitewashed fronts a cold blue and the pebbles of the roadway a deeper purple.

Overhanging balconies and dark shutters increase the gloom which contrasts strongly with the colors of the dying sunset seen in a little strip of sky overhead. Underfoot is a cadaverous-looking refuse, unscathed by the cadaverous-looking people who are moving about silently and stealthily.

The telephone line from this place to Caintown about 5 miles was finished on Wednesday last when a telephone was placed in the store and P. O. of Mrs. S. Hogaboom, who also has full charge of the telephone in Caintown. It is a double line and everything is first class, substantial.

The members of Caintown Union Cheese factory are considering the advantages of removing the old tumble-down buildings and replacing them with a set of fine brick buildings. There is likely to be a division of opinion as to the new location. The sooner the old disappears before the new the better.

Twelve years ago, a broad, deep ditch, from Yonge Mills was cut through the marsh, up the creek between Caintown and Mallorytown, and on to Rockfield, and diverging in a semi-circle northward in back of the Purvis settlement in Junetown—11 miles all told. Six miles from the marsh end has been lately recut and cleared, a matter of much interest to farmers along the ditch.

Let Fire Judge Between Us!

Your judgement can tell and do a lot, but it can't fry potatoes. Your judgement can tell who has the best looking and best $10.00 fitting Suits and Overcoats in town; but it can't tell positively whether the suit is cotton or wool. Fire can do that. We claim we sell 365 days in the year the only wool $10.00 Suits and Overcoats in Brockville, and we ask fire to decide whether that is true or not. Sir! Madam! Will you employ the fire test; will you please find out for yourself, who is bluffing and who is not? Will you make up your mind right now that you will once and for all find out for yourself to whom you should pay your money in purchasing a $10.00 Suit or Overcoat?

HOW TO APPLY THE FIRE TEST.

Go to any store that makes most noise about the suits they are selling just now for $10.00, get a thread out of the trousers, apply a burning match, if after the thread is consumed you have ashes left, the suit is cotton; if you have a cinder the suit is wool, then call on us, go through the same process, and don't be surprised to find ours all wool and the only $10.00 Suits and Overcoats in town that are all wool—no matter what big reductions are promised, the bigger the promise of reduction the bigger the shame the fire test will reveal.

We are heartily glad that fire will tell the truth, it can't be false, it is our hope.

We must win, if people are willing to employ—fire—fire! fire! We will gladly stand by your decision.

SIR! MADAM! ARE YOU WILLING TO ALLOW AN INFALLIBLE AGENT (fire) to tell you where you should purchase your clothing? Any child can tell which is cotton or wool by the fire test. WILL YOU JOIN THE FIRE BRIGADE if you are in doubt as to where your money would be best spent, we urge you to employ this faithful servant—fire.

Yours for a Fire Test

St. REGIS LUMBAGO CURE
AN INDIAN REMEDY.

Guaranteed to Cure Lame Back or money refunded!

An excellent remedy for Rheumatism, Lame Back, Etc., Etc.

Read the following testimonial from a man you all know:

Mr. W. A. Singleton, Forfar, Feb. 6, 1906
Crosby, Ont.

Dear Sir—Being laid up with lame back, I thought I would drop you a line to tell you that your St. Regis Lumbago cure will do all you claim for it, as I have only used part of the bottle and I feel no returning symptoms of the disease.

I may say I have been troubled with lame back for the last ten years, and tried several other patent medicines but without result. I can heartily recommend it to any troubled with lame back, and I feel safe in saying that it's the cheapest medicine on the market.

Yours Truly,

Only part of the wheat berry is fit for food. Yet much that isn't often gets into flour. You cannot see it or taste it, but it's there. It is simply a case of the miller getting more flour from his wheat and your getting less nourishment.

Royal Household Flour

is so milled that nothing goes into it except the part of the wheat that is food. You get just what you pay for—the best and purest flour made. It goes farther because it is all flour. Your grocer can supply you.

An Amazing Experiment.

A simple kaleidoscope may be made by any boy or girl by taking a glass chimney—an argand gas lamp—and painting the outside of it black. If you make a pinhole in a piece of paper and hold it at one end and look at it through the other it will appear as a number of circles of light. It is the cylindrical surface that reflects and causes this. If now you fasten two pieces of glass at one end of the chimney, placing between them beads and bright colored bits of glass so that they may move as you turn the chimney you will have as good a kaleidoscope as you would care to buy.

Generous.

A little three-year-old, whose mother was mixing a simple cough medicine for him, watched her curiously and asked if it was good. He was permitted to taste.

"Oh, mamma," he exclaimed, "it's awful good! Let's keep it all for papa."

The Persian Zoo.

Did you ever see a two-headed cat? With five legs that are black and blue, and horns like a cow, and elephant's ears, and neck like a mutton sheep?

Did you ever see a mouse with wings, its tail like a kangaroo, its nose like a couple of scrambled eggs? I often have. Haven't you?

Just lie on the floor near a Persian rug. And the figures that stare at you are the strangest animals ever seen either in or out of the zoo.

WELL KNOWN IN JARVIS, ONT.

Haldimand County Councilor tells how Psychine cured his Lung Troubles

"I contracted a series of colds from the changing weather," says Mr. Bryne Allen, a well-known resident of Jarvis, Ont., and a member of Haldimand County Council for his district, "and gradually my lungs became affected. I tried medicine and doctors prescribed for me, but got no relief. With lungs and stomach diseased, nervous, weak and wasted, I began to use Psychine. With two months' treatment I regained my health. To-day I am as sound as a bell, and give all the credit to Psychine."

There is a proof of what Psychine does. It not only cures Colds and kills the germs of La Grippe, Pneumonia and Consumption, but it helps the stomach, makes pure, rich blood and spreads general health all over the body. You will never have Consumption if you use

A SUIT ENTERED

The affairs of the south ward ditch have now reached a point where an authoritative opinion is likely to be obtained which will set at rest many doubts that have cropped up during the long preliminary campaign. Mr. Thomas Henderson has entered suit against the corporation for damages to amount of $60, said to have been done to his property by this ditch, and the case will probably be heard at the next session of the Division Court. In the meantime, the village engineer has had the ditch thoroughly cleaned out, preparatory to completing the work next spring.

A Credit to Canada

Newspapers in the United States with a circulation of fifty to a hundred thousand copies make a great deal of noise about it; but when one considers that right here in Canada we have a weekly paper with over 150,000 per week, representing perhaps 750,000 readers, Canadians have good reasons to boast of. The paper referred to is the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, and it deserves its success, for it is the greatest dollar's worth in America. Every enterprising farmer in Canada reads it and few homes will be found without it. Their premium picture entitled "A tag of War" which is given free to every subscriber is so vastly superior to the ordinary newspaper premiums, that one wonders how it can be included with such a paper at so small a figure. No wonder the Family Herald and Weekly Star is gaining circulation.

Facts for Catarrhal Sufferers

The mucous membrane lines all the passages and cavities communicating with the exterior.

Catarrh is an excessive secretion, accompanied with chronic inflammation from the mucous membrane.

Hood's Sarsaparilla acts on the mucous membrane through the blood, reduces inflammation, establishes healthy action and radically cures all cases of catarrh.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Two-thirds of what people call principle is bullheadedness.

Ever remark how often heroes are changed. A hero seldom lasts three months.

A man who behaves himself and is industrious can get along with mighty little genius.

Photographs of "mother" never look natural, because she seems to have been idle when they were taken.

One of the most pitiful things in town is a man who is dying, but who is able to walk feebly on the streets at intervals.

About every five minutes in a congested man's life he imagines the custodian of gems in the world above hears of his good deeds, grabs for another jewel and puts it into the crown that is waiting for him.

A Proper Distinction.

Here is a story of John Fiske which illustrates his frankness:

It seems that one day his wife had to report to him that their son had been guilty of calling Mrs. Jones, a neighbor, a fool and Mr. Jones a much worse fool.

Professor Fiske sent for the youngster and when he appeared in the library said to him sternly, "My son, is it true that you said Mrs. Jones was a fool?"

"Yes, father."

"After a moment's reflection the famous historian said slowly, "Well, my son, that is just about the distinction I should make."

Face Screen For Lepers.

In the leper colony of Audijan, Turkistan, there are a number of women who have become professional beggars. The sad creatures on whom the frightful disease has made visible marks use large fans made of leaves to shield their faces when they present their palms for coppers. The oddly shaped screens are large enough to entirely conceal the head, and if the hands, too, have begun to show signs of the disease pieces of linen are sometimes wound over them.

Charity Begins at Home.

The absent-minded Professor Lumpkin is always so shabbily dressed and presents altogether such a broken down appearance that the other day on seeing his own image reflected in a large mirror he drew out his purse to give himself an alms.

Mistress (trying on one of her new gowns)—Narah, how does this dress fit? Narah (without looking up)—Not very well, ma'am. I found it a little tight under the armpits.—London Answers.

THE ALAMEDA.

A Famous Park That is the Pride of Mexico City.

Nearly every city thinks its own parks the most beautiful on the face of the earth. This pride it is that has given to Europe and America their magnificent recreation and pleasure grounds. The German points with pride at the Tiergarten in Berlin and cries out "Match it if you can!" Whereupon the Russian and the Londoner set the showman, with a wealth of gestures, proclaiming their own achievements.

The New Yorker has his Central park shrine, with which Belle Isle, at Detroit; Fairmount park, at Philadelphia; Shaw's gardens, at St. Louis; Lincoln park, at Chicago, and a hundred others are constantly being compared. With such a host of competitors for world honors it would be a bold person who would claim for Mexico City's Alameda the first place. It can at least be said of the park, however, that it stands at the head in a land of riotous flowers and tropical growths.

We Americans who have heard a hundred times of the Alamo, at San Antonio, Tex., may associate that name with the Alameda, for alamo is the Spanish word for poplar, the tree that was first planted extensively in the Alameda. Just twenty-eight years before the landing at Plymouth rock the viceroy of Mexico, Don Luis de Velasco, asked that a sum should be appropriated by the city for making pleasure grounds.

The market place of San Hipolito was the most convenient for that purpose, so changes were immediately made, trees planted, fountains erected, flowers set out and a high inclosing wall built that was pierced by gateways. West of this park extended an open space known by the significant name of Plaza del Quemadero, or burning place. Here rose a broad stone platform where the victims of the inquisition were burned.

About the time of the American Revolution this torture platform was removed and an open space added to the Alameda, resulting in a tract containing some twenty-two acres, being nearly 1,500 feet long and about half as wide. Miles of walks wind in and out among the shady nooks and pass in their meanderings a garden for birds and playgrounds for children, as well as numerous statues and figures.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

A complaint is always exaggerated.

The trouble with the marriage list is that it has to be revised so often.

About the only consolation found in growing old is that there is always one who is older.

These people with a great deal of assurance are quite often right, much as we dislike them.

Hatred of the rich is not modern. Remember the Bible story about Dives and Lazarus and how the rich man was punished?

Every man must be his own doctor and decide what is best in his case. The doctors and philosophers do not agree on anything.

A hen never tries to spread her wings over her grown rooster size son to protect him, but you will see mothers who haven't as much sense as the hen.

The Russian Crown.

The crown used by the Russian czar resembles the dome formed patriarchal miter, which was a favorite shape among the Byzantines. Upon the summit appears a cross formed of five beautiful diamonds, which is also supported by a large spinel ruby, polished, but not faceted. This ruby and cross are supported by a foliated arch composed of eleven great diamonds and rising from the back and front of the base of the crown. On either side of this central arch is attached a hoop formed of thirty-eight large and perfect pearls. The spaces on either side of these arches are filled with leafwork and ornaments in silver, incrusting with diamonds, underlaid with the richest purple velvet. The band which forms the base of the crown is of gold and is ornamented with twenty-eight magnificent diamonds.

The Independent Farmer.

Buy a farm, young man. No matter how small it may be, buy a farm and prepare it so that your land will provide you a living. Twenty years from now the man who owns his own farm will be independent and will have at his command the means of a livelihood. The expansion of manufactures cannot go on forever, and there will come a day in this country, as there has in others, when the supply will exceed the demand and the only absolutely sure occupation will be farming. Buy a farm while one may be had.

Rome's Triumphant Crown.

The triumphal crown of Rome was made of laurel leaves and was given to the general who achieved a great victory over an enemy. He entered the city not by a gate, but over a portion of the wall which was thrown down to afford a passage. At his funeral his laurel crown was placed in his bier and buried with the body.

The Heartless Editor.

Assistant—This poet says that the last two verses of his poem may be omitted if you think it is desirable. Editor—I'll do better than that. I'll omit the whole poem.

His Girl.

"Her father and mother both strenuously object to me."
"And the girl?"
"I don't think she'd look at me but for that."

ATLANTIC CITY

The Greatest Place of Its Kind in All the World

The most popular and most wonderful place of its kind, not only upon the Jersey coast, but in the world, is Atlantic City.

This resort was established, or rather discovered, in 1854, and was known as Abscon Beach.

The most interesting feature of Atlantic City is its grand boardwalk, about sixty feet wide, and which follows the contour of the beach for about eight miles.

FINDING AUTHOR'S MEANING.

Interpreter Sometimes Surpasses Originator.

George Meredith has just complimented an admirer who has made an attempt to expound "The Shaving of Shagpat," by remarking that the commentator's elaborate exposition recalled some of the thoughts he had when writing that delightful fantasy.

When the famous mystic Bohme was on his deathbed, it is related that some of his followers came to him with the request that he would explain a certain more than usually cryptic passage in his writings.

A very similar story is told of other authors—perhaps with as much truth. Klopstock, the German poet, whom his admirers rashly compared to Milton, was once questioned at Göttingen as to the exact meaning of one of his stanzas.

NO HAY FEVER YET.

Man Who Copied the Last Year's Date Was Wrong.

"This will be an off year for hay fever, unless all signs fail, which they do only in a drought," says a medical man, and I believe there will be little hay fever this season.

"The pollen which is supposed to be the inciting cause of hay fever has been constantly washed out of the air by the recent continuous rains and so the victims are enjoying a respite. Will they catch it later. I don't know. Hay fever is not caused by eating hay, as some suppose and horses never have the disease. It's a monopoly of the human race."

Jimmy Fixed It.

A persevering youth has called several times at the home of a young lady, to be met each time with a "not at home." Upon one occasion he had seen her go in just before he reached the gate. His ring was answered by her small brother.

"Jimmy, I'd like to see your sister," the determined young man said.

"She ain't at home," Jimmy said, surveying him disdainfully.

"But I just saw her come in," the youth protested.

"Can't help that. Tell you what I'll do, though," Jimmy said, condescendingly. "You give me your pack of cigarettes, and I will send her own."

"You are too young to smoke, Jimmy."

"Do I get 'em?" Jimmy said, aggressively, half closing the door.

"Here they are," was the conciliating reply, and the box was handed over. Leaving the visitor seated in the parlor, Jimmy disappeared, to return in a few minutes.

"She'll be down soon," he said.

"How did you work that, Jimmy?" the youth inquired.

The boy surveyed him with an amused grin.

"Aw, I told her it was the fellow she's engaged to," he said.—Harper's Weekly.

The Cuban Mess.

(Mail and Empire.)

The time was when our neighbors worried over the Spanish oppression of which the islanders were the victims, and longed for an excuse to hasten to the rescue of these unfortunates.

When the Maine exploded the opportunity presented itself. It stood to reason that the Spaniards, knowing the attitude of the United States towards them, and fearing intervention, would blow up a warship visiting their port and thus play into the hands of the other side! War followed. The rescue of the Cubans began, and was successfully accomplished. There can be no doubt that to-day well-informed opinion in the United States regrets that Cuba was ever saved from Spain.

HAY HUNG OUT TO DRY.

One of Norway's Peculiar Sights During Harvest Season.

One of the most peculiar harvest scenes in the world is to be witnessed in some parts of Norway. Those are districts in which the rainfall is excessive, a common boast of the country folk there being: "We are sure to have one dry day in a year."

When the hay is cut, to leave it upon the ground to rot would, instead, mean that it would rot and be rendered valueless, says Cassell's Saturday Journal.

Therefore, long fences are built in rows reaching right across wide fields, and to these the grass is brought in carts. In the daytime the hay is tossed about on the ground, but toward evening it is all carefully hung upon the fences to dry. In very damp weather it remains all day on the fences. The peasants say, "Our women and men do the same work, only while the women hang out clothes, the men hang out hay to dry."

Cruel Trust.

The lean poster artist in the voluminous trousers and big black bow grew enthusiastic.

"I'll always be a true Bohemian," he exclaimed, proudly, "Trust me for that."

"That is the very reason I won't trust you," replied the landlord. "No one will trust a true bohemian—not even for a drink."

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W 8, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother the successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her to-day if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

What Socialism Fails to See.

(Chicago Chronicle.)

If the right of private property in the means by which the multitude of useful and convenient things were produced were taken away the motive to maintain their excellence and to produce them at the least cost would disappear.

Deterioration and privation and high cost would take the place of excellence and abundance and cheapness, to the vast injury of the masses of the people whom the socialistic dreamers promise to benefit.

Private producers must sell on a narrow margin and economize on cost of production in order to bring their products within the reach of the greatest possible number. No such force would be in operation to secure the most abundant supply to the greatest number under public ownership of the means of production.

There would, therefore, be less supply, inferior quality, higher prices, no effort to meet new wants and general economic retrogression in place of the Utopia promised by the socialistic visionaries.

Sounds Reasonable.

(Harper's Weekly.)

"It's dreadful queer," said the housewife, "that old-fashioned iron brings me about so much bigger at the top of the sack than they are at the bottom."

"Not at all, mum," said the honest farmer; "it's just this a-way. Potatoes is growing so fast just now that by the time I dig a sackful the last ones dug is ever so much bigger 'n the first ones."

The Vanishing Human Voice. (La République Française.)

A few more years and our ears will no longer be charmed by the sweet tones of the tenor and the soprano. Ball Player's Finish.

(Brocton Enterprise.)

The ending of a ball player's career has in it much the same tragedy that accompanies the loss of voice by the singer. At one fell swoop the player and his family drop from comparative luxury, ease and ability to have all the ordinary pleasures of life and fall to something like actual poverty. Oftentimes poverty is encountered before the end of the struggle is reached.

The still young couple, after several years of good living, travelling, seeing the world, enjoying all the fun in sight, suddenly come with a splash to the icy water of poor living, poor clothes, inability to pay for theatre tickets and trips about, and inability perhaps to much more than pay the rent of a small flat—for the player who has never done anything but play ball and who has not saved his money is against a hard proposition before he can learn a trade or find something to carry him safely along.

Trying to Outdo Chicago.

It is remarkable how rapidly the new city is rising from the ruins of the old. Last week one vast expanse of ghastly and tangled ruins met the eye on all sides in the burned district. But behold the transformation one short week has effected. The dismal expanse is already dotted with low wooden and corrugated iron tenements for trade, all bright, new and smiling. They are even now imparting to the desolate scene a cheerful air. At the rate at which they are getting up the burned area will be pretty well buried in its own graveyard within sixty or ninety days, and we shall see no more of it. We shall bid it farewell forever without regret. Chicago has already been held up as an example of how quickly a lively and enterprising American city can arise from its ashes. Let us see if we can not beat Chicago.—San Francisco Call.

GREAT LOSS TO TORONTO.

Exhibition Buildings Almost Swept Out of Existence.

Grand Stand, Transportation Building and the Cattle Sheds Gone.

A Toronto despatch, dated Thursday says: The most spectacular and disastrous fire that has visited Toronto since the conflagration of 1904 swept through the grounds of the Canada National Exhibition last night, and caused damage that at this hour may be roughly approximated at $1,000,000.

The fire originated from some cause unknown in the west end of the colossal grand stand, and before it was discovered had worked its way, fanned by a stiff breeze, through the basement, and finally burst forth from end to end, illuminating the western end of the city. By midnight a gale was blowing and a solid tongue of fire 725 feet long was being driven across the driveway to the large group of animal sheds.

Quickly the inflammable material in the grand stand was reduced to a toppling skeleton of posts and joists, and where these collapsed the heavy gale from the east sent long tongues of fire across until they lapped the sides of the new Press building and extended almost to the great Manufacturers' building, just missing it by a lucky chance.

The wind took up and carried its millions of burning cinders until fire finally rained over the grounds and on the residential area of the west. Effects were hastily packed, and the hurriedly-dressed citizens in that locality prepared for the worst. A drenching downpour of rain in the meantime added to the handicap under which the firemen worked.

For the first time the thousands lost their curiosity in the presence of a great danger. There was no more practically a circle of fire with the grand stand, stock buildings and Annex all contributing to the conflagration. The people rushed en masse along the Manufacturers' building down towards the lake-front, and found an exit from what might have been the scene of a disaster.

The police were the first to see the danger, and word was at once sent to headquarters for assistance. "Those people are in danger of being hemmed in," decided a police sergeant, as he nervously awaited central at a nearby residential telephone.

There are freakish features to nearly all conflagrations, and it is notable that while the fire destroyed the grand stand, stock sheds, and the big Annex, a considerable distance to the west, the Press building and other modern structures which lay between escaped damage. The tight little Press building, though at one time literally wrapped in flames, stood the test as though its walls were of asbestos.

The Horticultural building had a remarkable escape. It was the scene of the last heroic and effectual stand of the fire fighters. The firemen cannot be spoken of too highly for their manly fight that left to the Canadian National Exhibition a building of horticulture.

It was at 12:30 that the upper north side of the Transportation Building collapsed, and after sending skyward its millions of cinders, with the consequent pyrotechnical fire, the fire settled into a pit, which gave the firemen their opportunity, and they followed up the rout with a deluge of water.

CARNIVAL OF CRIME.

MURDER TRIALS IN ALL THE JUDICIAL DIVISIONS OF MANITOBA.

Nearly a Dozen in Winnipeg—Seventy Indictments to be Presented at Winnipeg Assizes—Two Important Cases.

Winnipeg, Oct. 22.—The Fall Assizes for the four judicial districts open this month and the big lists are published to-morrow morning. The calendars are such as to indicate that during the last half-year there has been an awful carnival of crime throughout the whole of Manitoba, it being confined to no particular district, though in the eastern portion it is most alarming to note the number of men charged with murder.

For the first time in the history of the province juries will have to try men for capital punishment in each of the judicial divisions of Manitoba. In Winnipeg charges of murder will be preferred against nearly a dozen men and charges of a like nature will be laid in Brandon, Portage la Prairie and Morden. It is estimated that about 70 indictments will be presented to the grand jury at the sittings, which open here next Tuesday, all of which are of a most serious character, the gravest offences being against the Galician and other foreign elements in the north end of Winnipeg.

There will be two of the murder trials of more than ordinary interest. That of Eli Grob will take place at Portage la Prairie, for the shooting of Bailiff Clarkson. The trial of Martin Doyle, for the murder of Vincent Weller, both Dakotans, near Snowflake, Manitoba, five miles from the international boundary, last winter, and which will be held at Morden, will be of a sensational nature, being of the nature of the famous Birchall case.

POWER IN ENGINE. SAMUEL BAIN IS BLINDED BY TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

Was Working With a Thrashing Machine on the Farm of John Oldham, Georgina Township.

Toronto despatch: Perpetrators of a dastardly outrage by which Samuel Bain, a Georgina township farmer, has been totally blinded, are being sought by County Constable John Brown, who has been detailed on the case by the county crown officers in this city. Bain was injured by an explosion of gunpowder placed in a thrashing machine engine by some malicious persons last Saturday morning. The engine was on the farm of Mr. John Oldham, near Baldwin P. O., and the explosion occurred when Bain started a fire about 6 o'clock.

Bain was badly burned about the face and hands, and his eyesight is believed to have been permanently destroyed. The injured man is an employee of Mr. Henry Stephenson, also a farmer of Georgina, who owns the thrashing machine and engine.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP. RUN MAD IN THE BOROUGH OF BATTERSEA.

Town Piling Up Enormous Debt With Municipal Libraries, Baths, Billiard Rooms and Other Public Utilities and Novelties.

London, Oct. 22.—An illustration of what municipal trading is apt to bring upon a municipality is seen in the situation in which the borough of Battersea finds itself. The devotees of municipal ownership seem to have the borough in a tight grip, and it is feared they will not stop expanding its municipal activities until they bankrupt it. Not content with the libraries, gymnasiums, baths, billiard-rooms and the infant milk depot they have already established, they promise to take the coming election to power at the coming election that they will give the borough more of these things, and in addition will establish municipal public houses, municipal bake-houses and other municipal novelties. They are piling up an enormous debt for Battersea, but that thought of that does not trouble them.

LOOKS ON BRIGHT SIDE. MR. BRYCE NOT ALARMED BY POTATO FAMINE.

Extent of Distress in Ireland Not Fully Determined—Secretary Will Recommen- dation Such Relief Work as Will Be Permanently Valuable.

Dublin, Oct. 22.—Replying to-day to a deputation which urged the beginning of relief works in the west of Ireland in consequence of the potato famine, Chief Secretary for Ireland, Mr. Bryce, said he did not yet know the extent of the distress, and was, therefore, unable to say what would be done in the way of relief. Speaking generally, the Secretary said he did not think things were as bad as they had been described, and he did not take a gloomy view of the situation. If, however, he found that some of the work suggested was likely to be permanently valuable, he would recommend it, but he explained he did not control the money and could only make representations.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

DEACON GRAHAM'S HOT SPEECH AT BAPTIST GATHERING.

Convention Devotes the Day to Home Missions—Excellent Work of the Church Edifice Board—Election of Officers.

A Peterboro' despatch: Deacon Peter Graham, of Gilmour Memorial Church, near Peterboro', and an Orangeman, gave zest to this morning's session of the Baptist convention by making antagonistic remarks about the Catholic Church and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada.

"We thought we had a noble, grand man at the head of our Government," he said, "but he has proved a traitor and a Jesuit."

The Church Edifice Board was reported by Rev. William John Scott, Toronto. During the year the permanent fund was increased by $1,000. The number of churches contributing to the funds increased from fifteen to forty-five. Extension Boards have been organized in Hamilton and Montreal. Adelaide Street Church London, has been enlarged and Maitland Street Church has been rebuilt and enlarged.

Loans have been repaid by the following churches: Park Street, Peterboro'; Medora and Caledonia. During the year six loans were made, totalling $2,950.

SUN LIFE INVESTIGATION.

MR. MACAULAY ON WRITING DOWN SECURITIES.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—(Special).—T. B. Macaulay, actuary of the Sun Life, took the stand again to-day at the insurance inquiry. Before dropping the question of principle, which should be adopted in writing down securities, he wished to offer explanations. The company had been criticised for writing down securities on real estate and other securities before the losses had been actually realized upon certain of them. The impression had got abroad that the company's course had been wrong, but the witness held that they had been absolutely in accord with the course pursued by all the banks and all commercial corporations.

Mr. Shepley—The question is whether in the first place you disclose exactly what has been made on other securities and set up one against the other.

Proceeding, Mr. Macaulay said that as soon as he learned that the return made by the company to the Government was defective he wrote to the Inspector of Insurance explaining the situation along the lines required to complete the return. He explained the basis of the plan for setting aside 4 per cent. of the profits on the side of investments for the benefit of shareholders, and this plan was begun in 1901.

U. S. FISHERMEN.

THEY ARE THE TRANSGRESSORS ON THE LAKES.

Report to Washington by Captain of Revenue Vessel Places the Blame on His Countrymen—Most of the Fish on the Canadian Side.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The controversy which has been waged between the American and Canadian lake fishermen for the past 20 years has been placed in a different light by a report made to the State Department by Capt. E. C. Chayter, commanding the United States revenue cutter Morrill on the Great Lakes. The report shows that the American fishermen have been transgressors and that they have been treated with the greatest consideration by the Canadian fishing patrol.

Some time ago the American State Department considered favorably a plan of settling temporarily the vexed question of fishing rights on Lake Erie by placing a series of buoys in the middle of the lake to define international boundaries. The Canadian Government cordially accepted his proposal, and Capt. Chayter was instructed to place the buoys. As it was apprehended that honest differences of opinion as to the location of the boundary line might arise from differences between the automatic logs of the American and Canadian patrol vessels and the use of different charts, Capt. Chayter was instructed to compare notes on these points with Capt. Dunn, of the patrol boat Vigilant.

Under date of Oct. 12th, he reports from Erie that he started from that port on the 8th inst. on the Morrill, accompanied by Capt. Dunn on the Vigilant, to place the buoys. He found that there could be no question of differences in charts, because the Canadian vessel was using the American hydrographic charts, while their logs exactly correspond and in the course of several days buoys were placed at intervals of five miles.

Then Capt. Chayter adds that the American fishermen crossed the boundary as indicated on the United States charts. No Canadian fishermen beach on the American side of the line for the same reason. The fish are in Canadian waters.

Capt. Crayter says these temporary buoys will be swept away by the next winter and should be replaced by permanent buoys lighted at night so as not to endanger navigation.

CHEEKY THIEF.

DARING FEAT OF GERMAN ROGUE DRESSED AS OFFICER.

Soldiers Were His Tools—Presented Forged Order, and With Their Aid Gathered in Aldermen in Kaiser's Name.

Berlin, Oct. 22.—A robbery that was as novel as it was daring was carried out this evening at Kospoluk, an outlying suburb of Berlin. While the Mayor and municipal officials were holding a business meeting in the town hall an infantry captain entered at the head of a squad of soldiers and informed the meeting that the Government had discovered irregularities in the municipal government. He ordered the arrest, in the Emperor's name, of all those at the meeting. The frightened officials protested, whereupon the officer threatened violent measures unless they were obedient in the face of an armed force acting under the Emperor's order. The officials then submitted to arrest, and handed over the keys of the town's safe. The officer seized the contents, amounting to about 8,000 marks ($12,000) and official documents. He then left after instructing the non-commissioned officer to wait half an hour and then convey the prisoners to Berlin.

These orders were carried out, and the Mayor and the other officials were brought to the capital, where they soon found they were the victims of an impudent robbery by the pseudo captain, who cannot be traced. It seems that he met in the street a squad of soldiers commanded by a 2nd-commissioned officer, who were returning from rifle practice. He showed a forged order directing that his instructions be followed. The soldiers unsuspectingly obeyed him. The chief wore the exact uniform of a captain of the Foot Guards.

A Favorable Report

Mr. Malvin Wiltsie returned home last week from his homestead in Saskatchewan. There are many fertile, prosperous settlements in that great province, but as Mr. Wiltsie discourses concerning what he has seen this fall one is forced to the conclusion that the Big Quill Lake district is about as good as the best. The railway station and market village are now both called Watson. By our correspondence from Prairie Rose, on Oct. 3 and this week, a fair idea may be obtained of what our Leeds county people are doing.

Asked as to the possibility of homesteading in that district, Mr. Wiltsie said all free grant land for many miles was located, but said that a person earnestly desirous of settling there, and possessed of the necessary patience, might secure the cancellation of good locations made by easterners who had for various reasons (chiefly homesickness) failed to qualify for their patent deed.

Old People's Day

The fifth anniversary of Old People's Day at Glen Buebe was honored on Sunday last, and it was a notable gathering. During the forenoon a well attended class meeting was held, over which Mr. James Patterson of Athens presided very acceptably.

In the afternoon, following the S.S. a very large number from near and far heard with pleasure and profit an able address by the Rev. F. C. Reynolds of Brockville.

The large audience, each wearing a memorial badge, was an impressive sight, and the many aged persons present must have indeed felt gratified at the honor thus done their past years of service.

Through the generosity of Mr. D. Derbyshire, M.P., a silver cup, suitably inscribed, was offered for the oldest person present, and the old friend of many in Leeds county, Richard Rowson of Fortchorn, was awarded the prize, his age being 91.

The event was in all respects highly successful, and the proceedings will long remain a pleasant memory.
