BY TELEGRAPH THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

Earl Granville's Second Note.

The Mexican Revolution.

Tariff on Tea and Coffee to be Withdrawn.

A Bankrupt Express Company.

Excitement among the Mormons.

New York, March 23.—A private cable despatch states that the White Star steamer Baltic left Liverpool at 4:30 p.m. yesterday for New York, bearing the second note of Earl Granville on the Alabama Claims. She is due here on the 30th inst.

Matamoros, Mexico, March 23.—Gen. Trevino, with an escort, arrived at Saltillo and levied a prestamo of $20,000. He also directed the authorities at Monterey to levy $50,000. An American citizen named Langstroff refused to pay, when his store was broken into and his goods sold.

New York, March 21.—The Tribune's special says that the action of the Senate yesterday in placing tea and coffee in the free list is considered by the leading men in Washington to indicate that no general revision of the tariff laws will take place, and therefore that there will be no wholesale reduction of duties on articles manufactured in this country. It is pretty safe to say that salt will not be placed on the free list by the Senate, and that duty on coal will be at least reduced.

The New York and Boston Express Co., one of the creations of the Erie Ring, is discovered to be insolvent. It was started two years ago with the assistance of the Erie managers, the funds for its equipment being furnished from the treasury of the road.

Salt Lake, March 23.—Marshall Patrick, sent Hosea Stout, William Kimball, Brigham Young, Hampdon, Elith and Bart, now under indictment for the murder of various Gentiles, to Camp Douglas yesterday, under Captain Paul, Deputy-Marshal, and his guards. The prisoners were greatly excited and highly indignant, and the Mormon community generally is excited.

Everything was prepared for them, and the prisoners were allowed to carry their bedding and other comforts from the city prison. The cause of this change was a ball and supper, which was given in the city prison, on Wednesday night, by the friends of the prisoners, when they had music, wine, and a general festive time enjoyed, and duly commented on by the Mormon press next day. Marshall Patrick at once dismissed the guard and sent the prisoners to Camp Douglas.

The Washington Treaty. Debate in the Imperial Parliament. LONDON, March 22.

In the House of Lords this evening Earl Derby, in accordance with notice given on Tuesday night, proposed his question as to the course the Government intended to pursue with regard to the Treaty of Washington. He hoped the Minister of Foreign Affairs would be able to state that Her Majesty's Government was prepared to maintain the ground taken at the beginning of the present session, and decline to admit claims for indirect damages made by the American Government before the Geneva tribunal.

All knew that public anxiety was great. It was an anomalous state of things, that while all the newspapers of the country were discussing this question, Parliament should be forbidden to debate it. He warned the Government that the doctrine that they had already sacrificed much for peace, and had better give more than fail, was dangerous. He asked further, if Great Britain would appear before the Geneva Board under these circumstances?

Earl Granville replied that Mr. Gladstone and himself had already given answers to these questions, to which nothing could be added at present. Complete publicity at this juncture was impossible.

Lord Malmesbury objected to the continued silence of Parliament. If the Treaty of Washington had been denounced last year, the present difficulties would have been averted.

Lord Westbury spoke in condemnation of the conduct of the American Government. It has been distinctly promised that indirect damages would not be pressed, and it would be contrary to England's honour to admit them after such mutual understanding.

Earl Granville intimated that the treaty had been misunderstood.

Party Processions in Ireland. LONDON, March 22.

In the House of Commons, to-day, Mr. Johnston moved: That in the opinion of the House, the Home Government, in recently prohibiting the celebration at Londonderry, while allowing party demonstrations in Dublin and Cork, evinced a spirit of partiality highly to be condemned. Mr. Johnston addressed the House in support of his motion; he showed that this was not the first time the Government left undisturbed the Fenian anniversary meetings and processions, which were fully identified as those of John Foster, a weaver, of the township of Monaghan. The unfortunate man had come to Orangefield to attend the fair and was seen by two or three persons near the place of the accident about an hour before the breaking out of the fire. It was supposed that he had, while under the influence of liquor, found his way into Mr. Menary's shop, and in all probability, while attempting to light a pipe, had unwittingly set the building on fire, and thus was the instrument of his own destruction. The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict in accordance with the facts.

ACCIDENT ON THE GREAT WESTERN.—Trains on the Great Western were thrown out of their usual regularity on Thursday night by an obstruction caused by the collision of two freight trains between Harrisburg and Paris, which resulted in the damage, to a slight extent, of two of the Company's broad-gauge engines, and seven freight cars, but we are glad to add no serious injuries to any of the trainmen. A brakeman and one of the engine drivers were slightly bruised.

West Garafraha Council.

The Council of this Township met pursuant to adjournment at 10 a.m. on Saturday, the 16th March, at James McKelvie's Tavern. Members all present; Wm. Gibson, Esq., Reeve, presiding. The clerk read the minutes of last meeting which were approved.

The School Section: By-Laws applied for at last meeting were introduced and read. The Council went into Committee of the whole on By-law No. 25, Mr. Piper in the chair, granting to the School Trustees of School Section No. 2 authority in borrow $1,100, for the purpose therein set forth. By-law read a second and third time and passed. The Reeve introduced and read a By-law, in accordance with the resolution at last meeting, after the School Sections No. 7 and 8, and amending By-law No. 9. The Council then went into Committee, Mr. Richardson in the chair. It was moved and seconded, that this By-law be numbered 27, and read a second and third time and passed. The signatures of the Reeve and Clerk, and the Township seal were then affixed to the above By-laws.

A petition, signed by Geo. Brown and several others, was laid before the Council, praying the Council to grant aid to fence the Fair ground in the village of Douglas—laid over for further consideration.

The Auditors' report was received and adopted. Moved by John Mitchell, seconded by Andrew Richardson, that the Auditors be paid the sum of $1 each for auditing the Township accounts for 1871, and that the Reeve do grant his order for the same—Carried.

The following accounts were by resolutions ordered to be paid, viz:—George Wilson, for removing covering, &c., from Grand River bridge on 2nd Con. $10; H. B. Fleming, for use of Hall for municipal elections, $8; Mathew Mills, expenses caused by selling his village lot for taxes $10; Wm. Cancell, for services as returning officer at municipal elections, $6; Samuel Hays, Tavern Inspector, on account, $3; John Winters, indigent, $8.

Moved by Stephen Piper, seconded by R. McEldan, that the sum of $1 be refunded to the Clerk, paid for a map of Allan and Mathison's surveys on 1st Con. for Township Clerk's office, and 50 cents paid for an abstract from Registrar's office.—Carried.

Moved by John Mitchell, seconded by Stephen Piper, that the following be Road overseers:—John Jordan, sen., between 5th and 6th Con., from the Irvine bridge to side line between lots 15 and 16; Robt. Moore, in place of John McEldan, removed; Wm. Chelov, on side line between lots 25 and 26 on 8th Con.; and James Turnbull, in his local division.—Carried.

Moved by John Mitchell, seconded by Stephen Piper, that the Reeve is hereby authorised to make a deed to Wm. Mitchell, at the expense of this Township, of the old road allowance between the west halves of lots 10 and 11, in 3rd Con., according to By-law No. 76 of the old Township, passed Oct. 4th, 1865.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned, to meet again on 25th May next, at H. B. Fleming's, as a Court of Revision, and for other business.—W. CAMPBELL Township Clerk.

Jerky Eloquence. The recent work by the Rev. DeWitt Talmage on "the Abominations of Modern Society," is attractive on one account at least. Its style is original, being something between the shriek of a wild Indian and the ravings of a madman. Here is a specimen, the subject being a masquerade ball:

"Across the floor they trip merrily. The lights sparkle along the wall, or drop from the ceiling—a very cohort of fire! The music charms. The diamonds glitter. The feet bound. Gemmed hands stretched out clasp gemmed hands. Dancing feet respond to dancing feet. Gleaming brow bends low gleaming brow. On with the dance! Flash and rustle, and laughter, and innumerable man-making! But the languor of death comes over the limbs, and blurs the sight. Lights lower! Floor hollow with sepulchral echo. Music saddens into a wail. Lights lower! The masquers can hardly now be seen. Flowers exchange their fragrance for a sickening odor, such as comes from garlands that have lain in vials of cemeteries. Lights lower! Mists fill the room. Glasses rattle as though shaken by sullen thunder. Sighs seem caught among the curtains. Scarf falls from the shoulder of a beauty—a shroud! Lights lower! Over the slippery boards, in dance of death, glide jealousies, disappointments, lust, despair. Torn leaves and withered garlands only half hide the ghastly festering stench of smoking lamp-wicks almost quenched. Choking damps. Chilliness. Feet still. Hands folded. Eyes shut. Voices hushed. Lights out!"

Lord Romilly, the British Master of the Rolls, has recently given judgment in a singular suit. In 1861, Mr. Gilchrist, a wealthy resident in Calcutta, induced the widow of a merchant named Farquhar to marry him by the persuasive argument contained in these words addressed to her: "If you will decline Mr. Evans and marry me I will undertake to maintain and educate your children, I will make a will leaving you half my fortune, and that will shall not be altered." The Dr. Evans referred to had proposed for her at the time this was made. Mr. Gilchrist, despite his parent attachment, abandoned his wife after the first nine weeks of his married life. They lived together again after an interval of two years, but soon agreed to separate, she accepting an annuity of $2,000 during her joint lives, and $1,000 for her life after his death. In 1868 Mr. Gilchrist died, leaving the whole of his property amounting to $700,000, to his only daughter by a former marriage. His widow, having sued for half that amount in accordance with the promise quoted, Lord Romilly decided that she was entitled to it, and awarded the remainder of the estate to the daughter.

A bachelor had the blues, and applied to a doctor for some medicine. The doctor enquired into the case and wrote a prescription in Latin which the bachelor took to the drug. Translated, the prescription read: "Seventeen yards of silk with a woman in it." Not bad to take, but an awful expensive remedy.

THE RAILWAY MEETING AT LINWOOD.

We find in the Stratford Beacon a report of the railway meeting at Linwood on Friday last. Mr Bowman, M.P. was appointed chairman, and in the course of his speech explained two different schemes which were advocated. These were a branch of the Grand Trunk from Berlin; an extension of the Great Western from Guelph, and the Credit Valley, which latter he was not prepared to support until the principles of the narrow gauge had been more thoroughly tested and proven to be able to surmount the difficulties of this land of snow-drifts. Mr Springer, M.P. P. also spoke, and was rather inclined to favor the Credit Valley. Mr. Thos. Cova, Dr. Pipe and others spoke in favour of a line from Galt to Berlin, and thence through the Townships north of that place. Dr. Walmesley, of Elmira, spoke at some length in favour of a line from Guelph through Woolwich and Wellesley, thence westward. He was succeeded by Mr Wagner, of the same place, who spoke to the same effect. Dr Ferguson supported the other speakers from Elmira. Some further discussion took place, after which the following motions were put to the meeting and carried unanimously:—Moved by Mr M P Empey, seconded by Dr Walmesley, that it is the opinion of this meeting that the time has fully arrived when action should be taken to secure better railway facilities for this section of the country, lying between the Wellington, Grey & Bruce railway to the north, and the Grand Trunk railway to the south. Moved by Dr. T. W. Vardon, seconded by Mr Alex. Adams, that a committee composed of Messrs Lawrence, Doering, of Wellesley village, Robert Simpson, of Linwood, and Robert Morrison, of Hawksville, be appointed for Wellesley township, to confer with the committees appointed in other municipalities on the subject of a line of railway through this county.

The City Council of Ottawa have voted $1,000 to aid in an exploratory survey of the proposed Ontario and Quebec Railway. The line will run from Toronto to Ottawa via Peterboro, Madoc and Carleton Place, crossing the river at Ottawa and connecting with the North Shore line.

The oldest navigators say they never knew so much ice in Lake Erie with so little snow. For nearly 80 miles out the ice measures three feet and six inches thick. Teams are crossing at points never known before. It is feared that navigation will not be opened until late in May.

TROUBLE AMONG THE TORONTO PRINTERS.—The master printers in Toronto, with the exception of the Leader, have combined for the purpose of resisting the demand made by the members of the Typographical Union for the reduction of the hours of labor to nine a day. They have acceded to the wishes of the news-compositors for a slight increase of wages, but are determined to resist any attempts to enforce the nine hours movement by the job-hands, and have advertised for printers to fill the places of those who have been discharged, or who may strike work.

The editor of the St. Catharines Journal, in some remarks relative to the contemplated removal of the Agricultural College to the neighborhood of Guelph, says that the climate of that town is too cold to grow anything but Scotchmen, cattle, thistles and hogs. "To which the Galt Zephyr replies:—If he'll appoint a day to visit our flourishing neighborhood, we'll guarantee that they'll make the place too warm to be comfortable for him—Saint and all though he may be." To which we reply that the said editor deserves, as he will assuredly receive, a very warm reception at our hands.

Mr. Laxton's diplomatic brevity and directness are well illustrated in the following characteristic autograph note, found in an old desk of the late Gen. Peter Swartz. The note is dated April 1, 1862: In U. S. A., I can think of no man better suited for the appointment than yourself; and if you will accept the appointment, I will be most happy to send your name to the Senate, and will immediately order you to duty in Gen. Halleck's department. Please inform me at your earliest convenience whether you will, or will not, accept of a commission."

The Coming Country. The coming importance of the Lake Superior region for mining purposes seems to be understood as fully in England as with ourselves. A large amount of capital is already placed for use for mining purposes at the opening of Spring; several companies based upon English capital have been formed, and now a telegraph company and a banking company are to be set on foot to operate specially at Thunder Bay. These are good signs. They indicate a growing confidence in a region which though but very imperfectly developed, has already given some wonderful illustrations of richness, which bids fair to be far more valuable to Canada than the gold mines of California have been to that State. We hear of many people who are preparing to go up on the opening of navigation, and of unusual energy to supply the transport which will be required. Hitherto, the Lake Superior region in Canada has been spoken of as a nice place to go to, as one to which a pleasant trip might be made in search of health. The wilderness of the shores; the "pictured rocks"; the notes that may be picked up, and the auric and stations on the steam-boats have been the grand attractions to old and young, but now much of all that will give way before the eager rush of industry and commerce, before the avalanche of those who will have to be rich, and would go to the countries of the visible world if they could put money in their purse. In addition to these there will be the legitimate trader, seeking to turn an honest penny out of the necessities of the miners, and who will prefer to hasten slowly to the acquisition of wealth. Then there will be a large class who already have "got something good;" something that needs but the drill and the blast to turn up the rock-bound riches that lie beneath the surface. For the last two years the amount of mineral land that has been taken up has been some what enormous. All the available localities in Black Bay and Thunder Bay, and into the back country for some miles, have been secured by "lucky fellows," many of whom may yet have occasion to curse their luck. Then, what is of more importance, rich valleys have been trodden, the soil of which is capable of growing the food supplies necessary to the use of those who will flock there. It was the farmers in California that got rich in early days, and so it will be up along the bright cold waters of Superior. There will be cheap land, rich soil, healthy climate, and a home market of excellent prices for hundreds of farmers. Perhaps, in the whole Dominion there is no place promising to offer so rich a reward, for properly directed energy in connection with agriculture, as Superior. It is close at home—four days distant—can be reached by steamboat, and will soon contain many illustrations of modern civilization as any new place is capable of. For now it is, in the sense of being recently opened to the uniting energy of the day; though the grey old rocks, the rugged shores and frowning eminences look down with a sceptic majestic contempt upon the efforts of the modern explorers to rattle them of their time-hid treasures.

The Queen of Holland is one of the most cultivated women in Europe, and was doubtless intended by nature, says an exchange, to be an editor instead of a queen. She is the possessor of a very large income, and spends at least two-thirds of it in literature.

ONE CHANGE MORE.—We will give subscribers in arrears, and those who have received accounts and not yet paid them, one more chance before taking steps to collect them. We will extend the time to the 11th of April, after which accounts then unpaid will POSITIVELY be put in suit.

WE beg to call attention to Mr Horsman's advertisement about Ploughs. The Plough referred to is having a large demand, so great has it become that three car loads have been forwarded to Mr. Horsman to supply the farmers in this neighborhood this Spring. All pronounce them the best, general purpose Plough made; as a guarantee of this we need only say that they are manufactured at the celebrated Agricultural Works of F. W. Glen, Oshawa. The price it will be observed will be kept at $13, the old figure, until the 1st of April, when it will be raised to $15 in consequence of the advance in Iron and Steel. We should therefore recommend our farmer friends to lose no time in procuring one at Mr. John Horsman's, Hardware Merchant of this town.

HELEN MOIR OR—
LOVE AND HONOUR.

A TALE OF THE CLYDE.
CHAPTER XXIII.
ANXIOUS DAYS AT ARDENHAM—EDWIN AND RITCHIE IN LONDON.

The suspicions were not spoken of to Bridgenorth himself, nor to Helen either. They thought it better not to agitate them by their discussion, so long as they had no means of confirming or exploding them; but among themselves they had earnest conferences, with a view to taking action upon them. One such conference had been held between Hermann and Edwin before the former departed, and it was resolved that Edwin and Ritchie should spend a day or two in London, on their way to the Continent, and make what inquiries and investigations they could to throw light on the matter. They could not conceal from themselves that at such a distance of time it was not probable that the truth of the transaction could be discovered; yet the importance of the matter was so supreme that every possible means should be taken—and that promptly—to reach it.

This was desirable for the sake of Hermann and Helen chiefly, though not wholly for their own. The honor of the name was dear to Edwin and to his mother, and they would both rejoice to have all appearance of stain removed. The regret and remorse of Bridgenorth were unceasing and unavailing; what deep pleasure to bring rest and comfort to his worn heart by the knowledge that he had not done the thing for which he had suffered so terribly and so long. In every view of it the investigation of the matter was of unspeakable importance, and the resolution was taken to proceed with it without delay.

In less than a week after the departure of Hermann, Edwin and Ritchie bade adieu to the other inmates of the villa, and crossing to Greenock in the Craigowrie, got the night train for London. In the streets of which great city they found themselves at an early hour of the following forenoon.

Of the three now left at Ardenham, Mrs. Allerton alone knew of their purpose. Bridgenorth and Helen were wholly ignorant of it. They deemed the two were directly on their way to the seat of war, where, indeed, they did mean to go so soon as they made the intended investigation in London. The result of this investigation Edwin was to communicate to his mother by a letter. If unfavorable, she was to keep silent regarding it; but if successful, and according to hope, she was to make her two companions happy by the joyful intelligence.

We must for the present leave the inmates of the villa, now so much lessened in number, and accompany Edwin and Ritchie to London, lingering only to observe how dull and anxious they were in the still and quiet house. Between them and the Rheinbergs at Dunoon a constant association was maintained, a common anxiety, as well as a warm friendship and fond affection, binding them closely together.

There was no restriction on their intercourse now. True to the false and hollow principles of worldly consideration which governed the Herr, he had no longer an objection to the union between Hermann and Helen. She was no longer the penniless and obscure governess, but well born, and an heiress, therefore highly eligible as a daughter-in-law, and he was now as eager to forward the marriage as before he was averse. Thus the friends were free to visit each other as openly as they chose; and in these days of trembling suspense which had come upon them the society of each other was a mournful amelioration of their pain and fear.

Mignon was nearly as tremblingly anxious as Helen, for she loved Hermann with the deepest sisterly affection, and Edwin with a feeling still more tender. They had thus each a dear cousin and a dearer lover in the midst of danger, and though Edwin, as a non-combatant, was not exposed to such deadly peril as either, his bold, venturesome nature was sure to lead him in the midst of the strife.

For Mignon now loved Edwin with all the strength of her warm ardent nature, and so open and guileless was she that she scarcely concealed it. And that Edwin loved her she was pretty certain, though as yet she would not have spoken of the vows exchanged which bound them outwardly to each other. But the deep, true, abiding bonds of the heart had been formed, and the time would surely come when the lips would avow what the heart experienced.

With what anxiety the newspapers sought for at the earliest possible moment every morning, to learn the tidings of the war. When the first steamer from Greenock touched at the long pier, almost opposite the villa, Helen was waiting to obtain the Herald or the Mail, and with shaking fingers and a bosom quivering with apprehension, she unfolded it to devour with almost raving eyes the Continental telegrams. These as yet contained nothing of a positive character. The French army was concentrating on the German frontier, preparing to invade it, and Prussia and the German States were sending forward their armies for resistance, but as yet no blow had been struck. The Emperor, who was to command the French force, had not left Paris, and till he was at the front no forward movement would be made; but every day it was expected the hosts would be across the Rhine, and then—oh, Helen shuddered to think what would happen then; and she prayed that thoughts of peace would come into the hearts of the Emperor and King, so that the slaughter and the desolation of war might be avoided.

Her heart was occupied with the danger of Hermann. She dreamt not of the danger which threatened herself—dreamt not of the fortifications which were being put in progress to effect the outrage which had been plotted against her, and which the departure of Edwin and Ritchie rendered the more easy of accomplishment. Yet was this danger secretly approaching, and that too in a form which might well have filled her with terror and dismay.

We must leave her, however, even thus circumstanced, and follow Edwin and Ritchie to London, where they have just arrived.

TRADE BETWEEN MONTREAL AND GLASGOW.—The increase of the trade between Montreal and the Clyde has during the past few years been very great. During the season of 1871 the despatch of vessels from the Clyde showed an increase of 13,500 tons over that of 1870, and of 30,000 over that of 1869, while the arrivals from Montreal during the same period showed respectively an increase over the two previous years of 15,500 and 22,000 tons. In 1865, the arrivals in the Clyde from Montreal were only 21 vessels of 27,200 tons aggregate burden. This amount has more than tripled during the past five years, and every year promises to have more than the same thing said for the five years next to come.

BREAKFAST—EPPE'S COCOA—GRATEFUL and COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern
the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr.
Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which will save us many heavy doctor bills.
—Cient's—Grateful. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labelled "James Epps & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists, London." Also, makers of Epps's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk).

A large volume would not contain the mass of testimony which has accumulated in favor of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry as a safe, efficient and reliable remedy in curing colds, and pulmonary diseases. Many of the cures are truly wonderful.

I strongly recommend the use of Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all who suffer in any way from disease or weakness of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, or from general debility. J. W. Scott, M. D. Gagetown, N. B.

Pills which contain antimony, quinine and emolent, should be avoided, as severe griping pains would be their only result.
The safest, surest, and best pills are Parson's Purative or Anti-Bilious Pills.

More than forty years have elapsed since Johnson's Anodyne Liniment was first invented, during which time hundreds of thousands have been benefited by its use. Probably no article ever became so universally popular with all classes as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

HAVE YOU A COUGH?

HAVE YOU A COUGH?
HAVE YOU BRONCHITIS?
HAVE YOU THE ASTHMA?
HAVE YOU ANY LUNG DIFFICUL-TY, OR WEAKNESS IN YOUR THROAT?

READ THE FOLLOWING:
Mrs. Amy Kennedy, of Fairville, Ohio, says: "I have suffered with Asthma 24 years, have been doctored by many Physicians, as soon as I took the Balm it relieved me. I cannot express the gratitude I feel for the benefit your Allen's Lung Balm has been to me."

Dr. Harris, of Middlebury, Vermont, says: "I had been troubled with Bronchitis for two years so affecting the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for a week, I had with it a severe cough and cold night sweats. I took two bottles of Allen's Lung Balm, and an entire cure."

Capt. Foster, of Burwell, Ont., says: "I have been troubled with a cough at times very severe for years past. I have found Allen's Lung Balm to relieve my cough more readily than any other cough medicine I have ever tried. My wife also used it with the most satisfactory results."

The Balm is sold by all druggists. Price
5 per bottle.

FELLOWS

COMPOUND SYRUP OF

HYPOPHOSPHITES

All life-endowed bodies, whether they be Beasts, Birds, Reptiles, Insects, or even Zoophytes, and subjects of the Vegetable Kingdom are governed by vital force, which binds all the springs of existence, and as such if it were to be destroyed, the organism would be reduced to a mass of inert matter. It is therefore a boon to the world.

Modern Chemistry has established the question and discovered the ingredients constituting the brain, muscles and nerves, and finds that by introducing these ingredients in proper proportions the brain and nervous system are strengthened.

It is a substantially the basis on which the Hypophosphites is built, its direction upon the Blood, the Brain and Nervous System, and the Muscles, strengthening the Nerves, it causes the rapid distribution of Vitalized Blood in the Muscular Organs of the Body.

Restoring the Stomach and Liver, strengthening the Action of the Stomach and Bowels, and enabling the Lungs to be fully infused with Oxygen.

It is adapted for all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, whether arising from a Sedentary Life, a malarial climate, from fever, or debility from any cause, and is efficacious in Pulmonary Consumption, many confirmed cases having been cured and all benefited, where its use has been continued over a fortnight.

In Bronchitis it is a specific, and in Asthma
it is a relief where every other remedy fails.
For nervous Debility it stands unrivalled,
and may be used with confidence in all cases.
As it is entirely distinct, and different from every other preparation of Hypophosphites, be careful to ask for Fellows' Syrup, and take no other.
