DRESS AND MANTE MAKING

The Fashionable West End. To the Ladies: We have during the past two years contemplated the establishment of a Dress Making Department, in connection with our other branches. The difficulty of obtaining a suitable person to take charge, has up to the present time only prevented us from doing so. We have now great pleasure in informing you that we have secured the services of Miss Morrison, of Toronto, a lady of first-class abilities, highly recommended to us, and we believe eminently qualified to give complete satisfaction in every respect. Miss Morrison has for her work, she occupies the position of cutter and fitter in one of the leading Fashionable Dress making Establishments in the City of Toronto. Miss Morrison is also an experienced Mantle maker, and all orders entrusted to her will be executed in a style equal to anything that can be obtained in the largest cities. These departments will be received on and after Monday next, the 4th of May. A. O. BUCHAM, Fashionable West End Dress, Mantle and Millinery Establishment. dw

Guelph Evening Mercury SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 5, 1873

Town and County News. WESLEYAN CHURCH.—Rev. Mr. Harper, who has been the pastor of the Wesleyan Church here for the last three years, will preach his farewell sermon to-morrow at 10.30 and 4.30. No doubt many regrets will be felt at the departure of Mr. Harper, whose ministrations have been characterized by talents of a superior order. We wish him every success in his new field of labor. dw

THE CATHOLIC CEMETERY.—We learn that Friday at the funeral of Mr. Mulligan's daughter, a serious accident very nearly took place, by the frightening of some horses at the passing of a train on the W. G. & B. R. Some steps ought to be taken by the Catholics, who are on their burying-ground than the one now in use, which runs side by side with the railway track. dw

A CHILD FOUND DEAD IN BED.—This (Saturday) morning a child 11 months old, of Mr. Bilton, who lives in the Wellington Foundry, was found dead in bed by its parents. It appears that the child had been ill with diarrhoea, and the parents gave it a dose of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the previous night. Whether that was the cause of death remains to be seen. Dr. Tuck considered the case warranted an inquiry, and he summoned a jury this forenoon, who, after viewing the body, adjourned till 7 o'clock, to meet at Ellis's Hotel, for the purpose of taking evidence. dw

KICKED BY A HORSE.—Yesterday (Friday) Mr. Spence (colored) for many years employed by Mr. Raymond, to work about the factory, received severe injuries from the kick of a mare. Spence had Mr. Raymond's team in the yard, where Mr. John Crowe's teamster was passing with his mare, and the mare stepped on the sidewalk. As soon as came opposite the entrance she turned in and went up to the team. Spence at once endeavored to drive the animal away, when she wheeled and kicked him, one foot striking him in the breast, the other in the arm, cutting the other striking him on the arm, cutting it severely. Dr. Brock was soon in attendance and attended to his wounds, when Mr. Raymond had him sent home. dw

THE MORRISTON CONCERT.—A concert for the benefit of Mr. Fischer, cabinet maker of Morrison, whose late loss by fire while he was securing two ribs, and took place there on Friday evening, and was successful in every respect. The Drill Shed, fitted up and decorated for the occasion, was filled to its utmost capacity. Many were present from a distance, among them a number of our townspeople, not a few of whom possess much admired specimens of Mr. Fischer's workmanship. A good deal of preparatory labor must have devolved on Miss Leslie, the promoter of the concert, who deserves all praise and to whom, as well as to Mr. Fischer's other friends, its success must be very gratifying. In view of the handsome return realized, the entertainment was select, and many of the songs were rendered with so much taste and sweetness on the part of the ladies, and on that of the gentlemen with such effect, as to call forth repeated encores. The piano, a fine instrument, was kindly furnished by Messrs. Baines of our city. At the close of the concert it was intimated that an opportunity would then be afforded those desirous of joining in a dance, which was responded to by a large number present, and kept up till a late hour, or rather an early hour in the morning. dw

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday forenoon last as Mr. Jonathan Bowman, sen., of Woolwich township, accompanied by his wife, son, daughter-in-law, and grandchild, were driving down Queen street, Berlin, with a span of spirited horses attached to a carriage, a dog belonging to Constable Klippert ran out barking at the horses, which so frightened them that they became unmanageable and dashed against a post in front of Dr. Pipe's residence with such violence that the whole party were thrown upon the ground. Mr. Bowman, his son, daughter-in-law and the infant at her breast, escaped with trifling bruises, but the old lady, who is over 70 years of age, head collar bone dislocated, besides sustaining a severe internal shock and the fracture of two ribs. Owing to advanced age and feebleness, it is feared that the old lady may not survive her injuries. The dog in question has long been an annoyance to people passing along Queen street. dw

MURDER AT OWEN SOUND.—A man named Richard Forbes was brutally murdered by his brother-in-law, Wm. Dodds, on Wednesday night, near Spencer's house, Basslake, in the township of Keppell. It appears the party had been to a logging bee, and were returning home, accompanied by some others, when a quarrel took place, and Dodds beat Forbes with a stick until he killed him. Particulars are not yet to hand. Dodds has cleared out. Coroner Barnhart is holding an inquest. dw

There is great activity in the Goderich salt market at present; the demand is greater than the wells can supply, and prices are daily raising. dw

Dr. Chapin said grace, and Minister Jay offered the first regular toast to the health of the President of the United States, coupling it with the sentiment of perpetual friendship between Austria and America. Mr. Smith followed with a toast to the Emperor of Germany, which was warmly cheered. Baron Gogern responded, thanking the company for the cordial manner in which the toast was received, and saying that he was proud to be in the metropolis at the start of literary, scientific, and commercial development. The Burgomaster of Vienna replied with suitable acknowledgments of the compliment. The festival terminated with a display of fire-works in the gardens around the ball. dw

New York, July 4.—The fourth of July was celebrated here on a scale of greater magnitude than has been known for many years past. At sunrise the national flag was hoisted on the old black fort in Central Park, in presence of the veterans of the war of 1812. A salute was fired from the battery, from all the forts in the harbor and up the East River, and in the Navy Yard. At noon a national salute was fired from the battery. This evening there was a fine display of fire-works at different parts of the city. dw

The Assessment Question.

INFORMATION WANTED. To the Editor of The Daily Mercury. dw

MR. EDITOR,—I see by the published report of Town Council proceedings that our taxes are to be 1 1/2 cents on the dollar, the same as last year. dw

When the assessors went round the locality in which I live, they increased our assessments in some cases $200, in some $300, (this was on small properties) and when making such great additions to our assessments told us not to be frightened, as it was not likely we should have any more taxes to pay than heretofore, as there was to be a similar increase of assessment on all the property in the Town, because some judge had said that Guelph was the most lightly assessed Town in the Province. dw

It appears, however, that, at least as far as myself and neighbours are concerned, our taxes are to be largely increased. This has put me thinking;—I have thought, first, if all the properties in the Town have, in proportion to their respective value, had such an increase in their assessment as my neighbours and I have had in mine, the total assessment of 1873 must be, at least, half as much again as that of 1872. Secondly, that if it requires 1 1/2 cents in the dollar on this amazingly increased assessment to pay our way, we shall, if such a rate of expenditure be persisted in, get into a bad fix. There is an old adage that "A knowledge of the disease is one half its cure," and I have thought, thirdly, that the ratepayers generally, and perhaps some of our Town Councilors, are universally in the dark on the Assessment question; and that if annually each taxpayer was furnished with a proper copy of the assessment roll, it might lead to some trifling alteration as to who shall in the future carry the heavy end of the stick of local taxation. I am quite prepared to expect that those who wish us to be kept in ignorance will kick against such a plan as this being carried out. They will plead, first, that it will cost several dollars a year to get it printed. But, Sir, in the humble opinion of the writer, it will lead to the putting into the treasury of the Town ten times as much money as the carrying out of this plan will take out. They will plead, second, that any taxpayer can see the assessment roll at the Clerk's Office at any time. This is only partly true: if we wish to see it we must go just in the business part of the day, and then we cannot carefully examine it; it would be done hurriedly, which of course is not the way to do it. Again, time to the working man is money; he cannot afford to leave his work to go to look over the roll, but if he had it at home he could examine it at his leisure, and no doubt it will find food for thought. dw

The distribution of the sheets need be no difficulty in the way of the carrying out of the plan. The Tax-collector, when he brings round the taxpayers, can at the same time leave at the house of each taxpayer a copy of the printed assessment roll. dw

Perhaps some persons will move in the matter by getting up a petition to the Town Council, requesting them to order that some such document as has been suggested, shall in the present and future years, be furnished to the taxpayers of the Town of Guelph. dw

Guelph, July 3, '73. ONE OF THEM. dw

Guelph and Collingwood Railway. dw

A preliminary meeting in connection with this railway was held in the Town Hall at four o'clock on Friday afternoon, for the purpose of organization. The Mayor presided, and D. Guthrie, Esq., acted as Secretary. dw

The following gentlemen are the Provisional Directors:—Adam Robertson, Esq., Mayor; Richard Mitchell, Esq., ex-Mayor; D. Stirton, Esq., M.P.; P. Gow, Esq., M.P.P.; Messrs. Massie, Chadwick, Goldie, Davidson, Horsman, Hogg, Guthrie, McLagan, Raymond and David Allan. dw

By Mr. D. H. F. Hollin, elected President; Mr. J. Chadwick, Vice-President; Mr. John Horman, Sec.-Treas.; Mr. Guthrie, Solicitor; Bank of Montreal as bankers. These appointments are only made provisionally. dw

A Committee was also appointed to watch the Company's interests in the matter of Municipal bonuses. dw

The Directors expressed themselves as being determined to set the matter in motion at once, and along the entire route from here to Collingwood have received the most encouraging reports as to the support this undertaking will receive. dw

POLICE COURT. Refore T. W. Saunders, Esq., P. M. July 4, 1873. dw

Caspar Stattleboro', of the township of Maryborough, was charged with feloniously wounding Wm. Sandford Trombush, on June 18. Mr. Oliver appeared for the defendant. dw

Dr. H. H. F. Hollin, was called in to see the plaintiff. I found his right arm broken between the elbow and wrist. Considerable violence must have been used. He was bruised and scratched about the eyes and forehead. dw

Mrs. Stattleboro' were in a store together, and an altercation arose about a churn. She thought he was going to strike two of her boys, who were present. Afterwards they went outside, and Mrs. Stattleboro' tried to strike plaintiff with a stick, which he seized and in the struggle they both fell. Defendant then came up and struck plaintiff with a club, breaking his arm. Some scuffling took place between other members of the families at the time. dw

THOS. SAUNDERS corroborated the foregoing. dw

PLAINTIFF, in his evidence, added that Mrs. Stattleboro' threw some pepper and resin in his face; also that she tried to scratch his eyes out. dw

The Magistrate committed the defendant on trial on the charge of assault; accepting bail, defendant $400, and two sureties $200 each. dw

Saturday, July 5. dw

Patrick Heffernan and Michael Heffernan, of Nichol, were brought up by Michael Piggott, the younger, on a charge of assault. The circumstances on a charge of which the case arose took place at a picnic in Pilkington recently. The defendant Michael was fined $5 and costs, and Patrick $2 and costs, each being bound over to keep the peace for twelve months. dw

The Cobourg World of July 4 is the first of a new series. The paper has been enlarged to 32 columns, and looks exceedingly well in its new size. We wish our contemporary a prosperous career. dw

Public Meeting—Sons of Temperance.

As previously announced the Guelph Division Sons of Temperance, 219, had an open meeting and public installation of Officers in the Good Templars' Hall, last (Friday) evening. The Hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with evergreen pictures, banners, flags, mottoes, bouquets, &c., and when comfortably filled with well dressed people, the members clothed in their new regalia and badges of office, presented quite an impressive and pleasing appearance. dw

At the end of the Hall opposite the entrance was the Charters of the Guelph Division Sons of Temperance, and Beaver Temple I. O. of G. T., the British Union Jack the American Flag, two large banners, triangle and motto of the Order, "Love, Fidelity, and Purity." On one side was the British white ensign, and motto "Prohibition our only Hope," and on the opposite side was the red ensign, and motto, "Welcome to our Order." The front of the gallery was draped in white and red looped in graceful folds. Owing to some delay the Grand Officers did not arrive until some time after eight o'clock, when the meeting was called to order by Bro. P. Bish, retiring W. P. After opening in the usual way, Bro. Webster of Brantford, Grand Worthy Scribe of the Division of Ontario, entered and announced that the G. W. Patriarch was in waiting. Bro. Rose, of Toronto, G. W. P. of the Ontario Division Sons of Temperance was then admitted with the usual ceremonies, and proceeded at once with the installation, and installed the officers of the Guelph Division as elected at last meeting, whose names we have already given. Bro. Webster acted as Grand Conductor. After the impressive ceremony of installation was over, and the new W. Patriarch, Bro. Wilkie, had taken the chair, it was moved that the G. W. P. take the chair. An impromptu Choir, under the leadership of Mr. Osborn, who has lately come to reside in Guelph, gave a piece in good style. Bro. Rose then addressed the meeting, giving a history of the origin of the Order, its introduction into Canada, the number of Divisions in Ontario being 275 with a membership of about 10,000, and closed by giving the object and aim of the organization, and instanced some of its members who had risen to honorable positions. Mr. and Mrs. Osborn then gave a duet, "Look me in the eye, Johnny," a temperance piece, which was rendered in an excellent manner and was loudly applauded. Bro. Webster, G. W. P., then addressed the meeting, showing the evils of drinking intoxicating drink, comparing it with other evils, and showing that while anxious about checking the spread of other evils, the drinking system is allowed to go on, sending many thousands of its victims every year to an untimely grave, and closed by stating that at the Grand National Division recently held in New York, he in company with Bro. Rose met with two of the sixteen members who formed the first Division of Sons of Temperance 32 years since, in that city. Both speakers have an easy manner of speaking and good voices, and were listened to with marked attention. After another song by Mr. Osborn, the Rev. Mr. Ball, of Guelph addressed the meeting, expressing his earnest sympathy with the temperance cause. The Rev. Mr. Howie, seconded by Bro. D. Kribb, moved a vote of thanks to the Grand Officers for their friendly visit, which was unanimously carried. Mr. Dalgleish, on behalf of the Guelph Y. M. C. A., made a few remarks, followed by a recitation by Bro. Rose. The W. Patriarch then stated that in two weeks there would be open public meeting in the Good Templars' Hall, and afterwards every third Friday evening in each month by the Sons of Temperance. The meeting was then closed, all present feeling gratified with the performance of the evening. dw

THE CHALLENGE TO FIGHT A DUEL FOR $100 ASIDE. dw

Mr. J. M. Donnelly, Principal of the Mitchell Public School, appeared before the Reeve on Wednesday, charged by Mr. Wm. Abbott with abusing his son Albert, a boy aged eleven, by striking him on the head. As this case so soon followed a recent prosecution on behalf of the boy Lemon, much interest was manifested. dw

Mr. Abbott said the lad was brutally used. Both ears were quite black, and each swelled as large as three ears; the temple and cheek were also disfigured; and behind the ears also showed marks of rough usage, and one eye was bloodshot from the blows. He never strikes with more or less complained of headache. Saw Donnelly, and gave him the choice to go out in the back yard and treat him as he had treated my boy, or take proceedings against him. He accepted the latter. dw

The boy was presented to the court, and even then, two days after the occurrence, both sides of his head and one cheek, showed marks of very rough treatment. The Reeve said it was brutal to use a boy so, especially about the head. dw

The boy gave evidence as to the whipping, and denied being cautioned against talking before hand. Another boy, aged 16, never saw Abbott whipped before. Keeps pretty quiet, but was talking on this occasion. Another boy called for the defence said Donnelly was out of both wind and temper when he left the boy. dw

Did not try to hit boy any place but on ears and head. Usually strikes with hands. Did not think boy was punished too severely. Mr. Donnelly generally slaps boys on ears. Never saw any other boy get so severe a whipping before. dw

His Worship, said that the evidence was altogether against Mr. Donnelly, and he must fine him. The boy was badly abused about the head, which was a dangerous place. dw

Mr. Donnelly, excitedly,—Allow me to throw out a challenge: I will fight Mr. Abbott in three months for $100 aside, and I believe I can whip him too! dw

Mr. Abbott—I accept! dw

Mr. T. Babb,—I will hold the stakes! The Reeve.—Mr. Donnelly if you don't keep quiet I will put you both in the lockup and let you fight it out there! For the present offence, I will fine you $5.00 and $3.50 costs, to be paid within ten days, or be imprisoned in the county jail for fifteen days. dw

Governor Dix of the State of New York has vetoed no less than forty-eight bills passed during the late session of the Legislature of that State, by declining to attach his signature to them. The refusal, under the constitution of the State is equivalent to a veto. dw

SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 5, 1874

The Pacific Slander.

Sworn Statement by Sir Hugh Allan.

The publication by the Globe of Sir Hugh Allan's correspondence, after the strenuous efforts made by the Ministry to suppress it, has evidently produced a terrible commotion amongst the parties most immediately concerned, and has brought out from Sir Hugh a sworn statement of the matter, which is published in Saturday's Mail with huge headings and accompanied with a great flourish of trumpets. This statement commences with a long and carefully elaborated statement of Sir Hugh's version of the course of Pacific Railway negotiations from their inception in the autumn of 1871, when Sir F. Hincks first named certain American capitalists to Sir Hugh. In the course of this Sir Hugh makes the statement that there was no intention or agreement to retard the work of construction or to place in it the power of the Northern Pacific Railway Company or any other party. We may remark in passing, that Sir Hugh can answer for his own intentions, and for what was stated between him and the Americans, but he can know nothing of their ulterior objects. The statement goes on to recapitulate with much prolixity events attending the unsuccessful endeavours to amalgamate the two rival companies. Concerning the attempt to hoodwink the public by pretending to eliminate the American element whilst really retaining it, Sir Hugh makes a very lame and at the same time significant excuse. He says that notwithstanding the bill which was introduced contemplated by its terms the exclusion of foreigners, he did not feel by any means convinced that the Government would insist upon any such condition, and he did not therefore feel justified in entirely breaking off his connection with his American associates; also that the correspondence was not intended to bind any other members of the Company. A letter from Sir Geo. Cartier, sketching a scheme for the amalgamation of the Companies, and dated July 29, 1872, is given, reference being made in it to a telegram from Sir John A. Macdonald dated four days previously. About this Sir Hugh says—

"I positively declare that up to the date of this letter I had not any understanding of any kind or description with the Government, either directly or through any other person, than that contained in Sir John Macdonald's telegram of the 25th July, which is given above; and that telegram and the above letter from Sir Geo. Cartier contains everything that was ever stated or agreed to between any member of the Government and myself on the subject of the Pacific Railway project up to that date."

It is a little singular that in the interesting letter dated July first to the unnamed American gentleman, Sir Hugh says—

"He (Sir Geo. Cartier) then agreed to give the contract as required, in a way that there would be seventeen provisional directors, of which Ontario would have eight and we nine, thereby giving us the control."

Now comes the answer to the main charge. It is to the following effect—

"Sir Hugh states positively, that no money derived from any fund or from any of his former American associates was expended in assisting his friends or the friends of the Government at the recent General Election; that he never had any agreement or understanding of any kind with the Government or any of its members as to the payment of money in any way whatever, in consideration of receiving the contract for the Canadian Pacific; he did not, on any occasion, or in any way, pay or agree to pay anything whatever to any member of the Government, or to any one on behalf of the Government, or at the instance of the Government, for any consideration whatever in connection with the charter or contract; that a considerable portion of the money referred to in those letters was expended by him in furtherance of the Northern Colonization Railway."

Sir Hugh adds, that he considered that those members of Parliament who had shown any interest in the Canadian Pacific should be aided in their elections; and he says, "I subscribed some money to assist in the election of such persons as were my friends and in whom I was interested, but without any understanding or condition with them, or any of them, as to Parliamentary support or assistance in the event of their election."

This last admission simply disposes entirely of any value which might attach to the statements immediately preceding it. Sir Hugh now admits under his own hand that he contributed money for corruptly obtaining the return of members of Parliament, and these men were of course Government supporters. Compare this with the whole conduct of the Government since. Of course there was no agreement between the Government and Sir Hugh, and none wanted—they managed admirably without it.

We conclude with a specimen of Sir Hugh's ideas of political morality:—

"In these and in similar ways I expended sums of money approaching in amount to that mentioned in those letters, as I conceive I had a perfect right to do."

MR. BROWN AND THE PACIFIC RAILWAY

The correspondence published in Friday's Globe contains a list of persons whose support Sir Hugh thought it desirable to endeavor to secure by allotting to them stock in the undertaking. Amongst them the Hon. George Brown was set down for $50,000, although there was nothing whatever to show that he and the majority of the other gentlemen named had been communicated with in any way. In the Globe of to-day (Saturday) Mr. Brown publishes, over his own signature, an explicit denial that he had any knowledge of the suggestion, or gave any authority for it, stating that it was the act of Sir Hugh Allan alone. He adds, "I have never in my life had the slightest interest, directly or indirectly, in any contract or work of any kind dependent on public aid; and the Pacific Railway contract was certainly the last enterprise I could, under any circumstances, have been induced to touch."

Mr. H. J. McLardy is believed to have been drowned in the Ottawa River on Thursday evening. He came to Ottawa some years ago from the Lower Province as a clergyman of the Church of Scotland. He preached with acceptance and quickly made himself popular. Intemperance, however, undid him for that calling and he attached himself to the Ottawa press, with which he maintained more or less connection until his death.

OR THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER XXVI. AMONG THE INDIANS.

Once, however, when he turned his anxious gaze in that direction he thought that Steve was not quite so close to the tree as he had been—that he had moved more to this side of it, and was therefore nearer to himself. Then he reflected that this must be a delusion, for he had heard nothing and seen no motion. Besides, the cords which bound Steve prevented him from effecting such a change of position.

No, it must be a mere fancy. And yet a longer and more steady look did not remove the impression. On the contrary it confirmed it. Steve was away from the tree, and what was more singular still he was getting farther from it every moment, and coming closer and closer to where he himself lay.

Philip grew seriously alarmed, for he deemed himself the sport of his senses. There was neither sight nor sound of motion, and yet his vision testified that the trapper was drawing nearer to him. His eyesight must therefore be playing him false and this testified that some strange distemper was coming upon him.

Yes, there could at least be no mistake about the impression under which he laboured. To his vision Steve was unquestionably coming nearer, though still he could detect neither rustle nor motion. So mysterious was the affair that the youth could only lie silently wondering at the phenomenon, and wait to see when his distorted gaze would return to its normal state, and show his companion in his true relative position.

But still the hallucination seemed to increase. Nearer and nearer did the form of Steve appear to come to him, till he thought if his arm had been at liberty he could have stretched it out and touched him.

He would not do this; but, to his horror, Steve's hand was thrust forth and touched him, while a voice in the very faintest of whispers uttered his name.

"Yes," replied Philip, in a spasmodic manner.

"Hush," was the warning response. "Keep still as you are, while I cut the thongs."

For some moments Philip was too bewildered to decide whether it was a dream or a reality, and was inclined to consider the former, till he felt that his limbs were being released one by one from the ligatures which compressed them. This was a sensation which mere fancy could not conjure up, and make it evident that in some extraordinary way the trapper had first released himself and had crawled along to deliver him.

"Are you free now?" asked Steve.

"Yes," grasped Philip.

"Then don't move yet; wait till I do the same for Jim."

"All right; I'll remain as still as a stone."

And now it was that Philip saw how Steve moved so noiselessly. Inch by inch he drew himself along, with his body close to the ground, so slowly that motion was nearly imperceptible. Though only three or four yards separated him from Jim, he took minutes to accomplish the distance, so patiently careful was he to elude the notice of the Indians.

At length he was close to Jim's side, and his thongs were cut in the same silent fashion, Jim lying equally still under the operation; and sensible of the freedom he was receiving only by the sudden relief which his limbs experienced. He, too, was fully alive to the immense importance of doing nothing to draw the attention of the Indians, and conducted himself with a degree of passiveness which elicited the trapper's mental approval.

The three being entirely now at liberty so far as their limbs were concerned, the next required to be taken, and Steve was looked to by the others for directions as to further procedure.

"You see yonder tree, I guess?" said the trapper, indicating an immense beech which stood on the edge of the forest at the point where the warriors had departed.

They silently intimated that they did. "Move after me towards it, but, for heaven's sake, be cautious—one creak of your boots will betray our flight."

They promised to do their best to follow the example of motion as shown by their leader, behind whom they crawled, and glided with seemed to their impatience interminable slowness. Many was the glance they cast back to assure themselves that they were not observed, and were glad to find that utter quiet reigned throughout the village.

They had accomplished fully two-thirds of the distance when Philip's knee trod upon a rotten twig which lay upon the ground, and it broke in two with a low but distinct crack. Instantly a dusky form issued from the nearest hut, and a terrible whoop denoting fight on the silence proclaimed that their flight was discovered. There was no more need for creeping along the ground. By one common impulse the three leapt to their feet and Steve calling out "Follow me," they bounded into the darkness of the forest as a shower of arrows came whizzing through the air.

The alarm had spread like wild-fire and, as they sped on at utmost speed along the opening under the trees, they knew by the shouts and yells that the Indians were in full pursuit.

An Ohio postmaster has received a letter wherein the writer proffers a curious request, as follows: "If you can and will ascertain the name of some rich old man or widow worth from 5 thousand, to 50 thousand or more let me know by return mail and I will pitch in, and if I make it tie the knot, it is a hundred dollars in your pocket. Keep this a profound secret between us two if it gets out all is spoiled, I am poor but want to marry rich."

CHOLERA is reported at several points in Europe. A dispatch from Dantzic says 42 Polish raftsmen on the Vistula were attacked by cholera, and 25 of them died. Of the remaining 17, four have entirely recovered. Another Lazaretto has been established at Fort Neufahr, Wasser, four miles from Dantzic.

OUTSIDE SPORTS.

BASE BALL.
PROFESSIONAL GAMES.
The 3rd game of the series between the Washingtons and Mutuals, took place on the Brooklyn Grounds on Thursday. The game was stopped by rain on the 6th innings, the score being Wash. 1, Mut. 2. Field errors, Mu. 6, Wash. 5.

The Mutuals have had to forfeit their game with the Resolutes 9 to 0 on account of their not putting in an appearance on Thursday.

The Philadelphia and Baltimore nine played their fourth game in Philadelphia on Thursday. The Philadelphia by remarkably heavy batting won in 1st and 2nd innings. The fielding of the Phil's was faultless, Fulmer excelling at s.s., while at the bat Meyerle made a clean home run in 1st-inning. The score closed Phil. 13, Balt. 3. 1b. 50m.

LOCAL.

The Ottawa nine have beaten the Newcastle club by a score of 15 to 3; also the Eastries of Ogdensburg by a score of 18 to 13.

BURGLES AND INCENDIARIES.

About two o'clock on Tuesday morning last, the brick cottage of Mr. Wm. Guest, on the River road, Blanchard, was discovered to be on fire. Mr. Guest aroused his family and got them out with considerable difficulty. The fire when first seen was in the hall, and this fact is taken as proof of the house having been set on fire. The front window was open, and some articles of clothing were found outside. Very little was saved, as the flames had made considerable headway when first seen. There is no doubt that burglar had been at work, and after riding the house had set it on fire. There was but little money in the house at the time, four watches were in the bureau drawer in the front bed room, but it is not known whether they were stolen or not. A couple of silver spoons, it is said, were picked up near the Water street bridge early on Tuesday morning. Mr. Guest saved very little but is insured. St. Mary's Angus.

Now FOR WALL PAPER.—Day is selling off his wall paper previous to stock-taking. He offers the 80c. satin paper at 24c.; the 25c. paper at 15c.; the 20c. paper at 12c.; the 15c., 12c. and 10c. papers at 10c., 8c. and 6c., respectively. Only call and see before buying. See his advertisement—regularly will do what he says.

A union temperance picnic was held at Galt on the first by the Galt and Bergerons. A procession was formed, accompanied by the Brantford Firemen's Band, and after travelling the principal streets, the remainder of the day was spent "under the greenwood tree."

Mr. Wm. BRISTOL, has been appointed Head Constable of Galt, in place of Mr. McDonough, who goes to Dundas. Mr. Bristol was for some years a member of the Metropolitan Police of London, England.

JOHN ANDERSON has reduced the price of his wall paper 20 per cent. He has a large stock. There is a splendid chance now to those who want to paper their rooms cheaply. See advt.

BE WISE TO-DAY.—This madness to neglect a cough or cold, however slight. Consumption may follow, and John Dr. Hyster's Balsam of Wild Cherry has frequently cured this much dreaded disease, it also invariably cures the primary diseases of the throat, lungs and chest, where other remedies fail.

DR. WHEELER'S COMPOUND ELIXIR OF PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA. Sandy Creek, Aug. 31st, 1873. The Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya prepared by you I have been for two years using with the most successful results. I assure you that in my judgment there is no preparation of its kind that can compare with it where it is applicable. With feeble, anemic women, of whom we have so many, and in cases convalescing from prostrating diseases I should recommend it to get along without it. In Dyspepsia it acts like a charm—in fact in any of the long list of exhaustive diseases it is THE REMEDY. I am, yours truly, L. L. BUCKLEY, M.D.
