WEDNESDAY, JUNE 18TH, 1902.

Colonel Arthur Lynch, the member-elect from the Irish constituency of the British parliament has achieved a notoriety that is widespread enough to satisfy any sane man, but the price he will pay for the distinction must be causing him anxiety just now. His honest admission of his own acts brands him as a traitor in the full meaning of the word but the punishment of treason when it is lodged with the complex questions that are brought into prominence in the case in question is likely to be a bother.

—The marriage of Dr. C. H. Balzer of Middle and Miss Lydia Waterman of North Brookfield, took place last week at the home of the bride, Rev. J. H. Balcom officiating. Dr. Balzer is a native of Middle.

—In addition to the speakers announced for Coronation Day, it is hoped that another may be secured. Prof. Robertson is in the maritime provinces and if it is possible to make arrangements enabling him to be here on the 26th, it shall be done.

—The summer time table of the D. A. R. went into effect on Monday. The express from Yarmouth is now twenty-four minutes later, being due here at two twenty-two. The morning freight from Annapolis is due at seven thirty and the evening freight at five-thirty.

Local and Special News.

—Mr. Herbert Hicks intends to erect a cottage on Granville street east, and already has the soil turned.

—Mr. Pinos will be in Middleton July 10, Lawrencetown July 16, and at Bridgetown July 17 and 18.

—A fine driver and worker. A grand mare to breed. J. H. Hicks & Sons.

—Annapolis is holding a grand bazaar tomorrow and expects a big time. Excursions run from Halifax and Yarmouth, and a good program is on for the day.

—There will be no service in St. James' church, Bridgetown, or St. Mary's, Bridgetown, Sunday next, the Rector being in Halifax attending the bi-annual session of the Diocesan Synod.

—The ladies of the Upper Granville Sewing Circle have arranged for an ice cream social and fancy sale to be held in Granville Hall on the evening of Friday the 26th, from seven to nine. All are invited.

—Mr. Fred R. Fay, who represented Hobbsey Lodge, A. F. & M., at the session of the Grand Lodge held at Truro last week, was elected to the important office of Senior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge.

—Dr. Robert Miller carried back to Bonchester, Mass., last week a handsome trophy of his late fishing trip to southern waters, in the shape of a splendid water snake having webbed feet and a tail which was used as a rudder.

—A meeting of Court Bridgetown, I. O. F., is called for Wednesday evening, June 25th. Every member of the order will please bear this date in mind and make an effort to be present as business of importance will come before the meeting.

—The marriage of Dr. C. H. Balzer of Middle and Miss Lydia Waterman of North Brookfield, took place last week at the home of the bride, Rev. J. H. Balcom officiating. Dr. Balzer is a native of Middle.

—In addition to the speakers announced for Coronation Day, it is hoped that another may be secured. Prof. Robertson is in the maritime provinces and if it is possible to make arrangements enabling him to be here on the 26th, it shall be done.

—A despatch from Ottawa says: "The use of dip nets for catching any kind of fish is prohibited in the Round Hill river, provided however, that such fishing may be permitted on Wednesday and Thursday of each week in the portion of the river below the falls."

—H. Kirwin, the eye specialist of Boston, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Friday p.m., for one week. Now is the time to have your eyes properly attended to. This is the seventh year of Mr. Kirwin's visits to Bridgetown, and his work is its own recommendation.

—Owing to the farmers' picnic and coronation celebration at Bridgetown, June 26th, the mid-summer session of Annapolis County District Division, S. of T., which was to have been held on the above date has been postponed until Tuesday, July 8th, and will be held at Hamilton.

—Commemorating Sunday, June 15th, the steamship "Prince Arthur" and "Prince George" will make four round trips per week between Boston and Yarmouth, leaving Boston Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and Yarmouth Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

—A most deplorable incident occurred on Sunday at Granville Centre when Miss Ella Eaton, a sister of Mr. Weston Eaton, of whose family she was a member, disappeared and it is believed she met her death by accidental drowning in the river. The body has not yet been recovered.

—In order to defray the expenses that will arise in connection with the coming coronation, as well as to provide a fund for prizes offered, etc., a subscription has been started and the sort of soliciting is in the hands of Mr. B. H. Hovey. The merchants and other townsmen will be called on during the next few days and a liberal response is expected.

—It is hoped that our public spirited citizens will cooperate with the committees in charge of Coronation Day celebrations, in the way of decorations etc., and will endeavor to dress the town in a gay holiday garb. On former occasions the appearance of the streets and business houses has been very creditable and the present occasion is certainly an equally good if not better opportunity for manifesting signs of loyalty and rejoicing.

—The summer time table of the D. A. R. went into effect on Monday. The express from Yarmouth is now twenty-four minutes later, being due here at two twenty-two. The morning freight from Annapolis is due at seven thirty and the evening freight at five-thirty.

—This is intercolonial standard time which has been adopted throughout the maritime provinces, and which is the same as our "local" time.

—Miss B. Parker, a daughter of Mr. J. Parker, Bellisle, was among the graduates from the Hotel Dieu Training School at El Paso, Texas, a few days ago, and as valedictorian of the El Paso Times says, "It would be necessary to feel the charm of her splendid appearance, the magnetism of her splendid voice and the clearness of her enunciation to properly appreciate her address. It gave pleasure to her auditors, certainly, for after the pretty farewell words with which she closed, she was so heartily applauded as to demand a graceful acknowledgment."

—The Bluebonnet train is not scheduled to stop at Bridgetown this summer, as the railway company demand from the town a larger consideration for the privilege than they bargained to get last year, and an amount which appears to be in excess of the estimated value of such a privilege. It is believed that there is a disposition on the part of the town to underestimate the value of this service to the travelling public, but there is no such danger on the part of the railway company, judging from the terms they ask. A fairer basis for bargaining, it would seem, would be an even exchange of a good portion of passenger traffic, such as the town can offer, and the accommodation of such a service.

—Supreme Court met here yesterday morning with Mr. Justice Weatherle presiding. Owing to the lengthy calendar of criminal causes, arrangements had previously been made by the various solicitors engaged in the civil suits that these should not be tried at the regular term, but a special term applied for. There are seventeen criminal charges before the grand jury, and it is scarcely possible to complete the grand jury on the absence of crime from the country. The grand jury so far have dealt with four charges against Daniel Messenger for receiving stolen goods, and have returned true bills in three and thrown out the fourth. Mr. Messinger is now being tried upon a charge of receiving stolen goods from Smith, knowing it to have been stolen. Messinger, K. C., and Parker are prosecuting, and Ritchie, K. C., and Miller are defending. The grand jury have also found a true bill against Timothy Riley for assault with intent to do bodily harm. The trial of Mr. Messinger is being continued this morning.

CORONATION DAY PROGRAM.

Though plans for the 26th are not completely detailed, we are able to give a pretty full account of the program for that day, and handbills issued tomorrow will tell the whole story. The committees appointed by the town and by the County Farmers' Association have worked industriously and have been able to arrange their programs so that a full day's entertainment beginning at ten o'clock in the morning and continuing until the evening, is promised. Some of the attractions are: A jubilee procession, a procession of flag-bedecked school children (including the school children from the neighboring sections) a bicycle parade and bicycle race, tug-of-war, etc. Prizes will be offered in the catfishing, the tug-of-war, the bicycle parade and races. Mayor Shadner, Dr. Armstrong and Councilor Neely are a committee on sports, and all applications for entry in any of these events may be placed with them. Following the school children's procession, which will be accompanied by several bands, will be their assembly in the driving park where patriotic songs will be sung and a salute to be one of the most attractive features of the day as between three and four hundred children will be present in the procession and are being trained to sing. At this point the program of speeches provided by the committees will be given, and among the speakers promised are B. W. Chipman Esq., Wade Egan, M. P., a committee of three from each agricultural section in the county, known as an introduction to the coronation committee, has been appointed to promote social intercourse and also to solicit membership for the county association. Efforts are being made to secure other speakers in addition to those mentioned and the committee feel safe in saying that this program will amply repay the company and the town of every farmer in the county. But the program is not wholly intellectual, for the ladies (and gentlemen) are busily working to prepare dinner and tea for the hungry. In the evening there will be a grand torch light procession and the day will conclude with a magnificent display of fireworks. Needless to say every flag in town will wave to the breeze and plenty of hunting will be in evidence. It is hoped also that the town may be illuminated in the evening, and citizens are invited to enter themselves in this and make their grounds as beautiful as possible. There will be ample accommodation for all, and as you can't attend the Coronation, do the next best thing, and that is the celebration of the event that Bridgetown has prepared.

OBITUARY.

MR. ALDEN G. WALKER.

On Thursday morning last at her home near Carleton's corner, Mrs. Alden G. Walker passed away after a painful illness of several weeks, caused by tumor on the brain that bore her suffering with christian resignation and noble fortitude. She was a woman of noble character, a devoted wife and mother, and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The deceased was forty years of age and a daughter of the late Willis Foster, Port George. She is survived by a husband, three small children, a widowed mother, Mrs. W. Foster of Port George, two sisters Mrs. Parker of Lawrencetown and Mrs. Foster of Port George, two brothers, Frank and John Foster of Danvers, and a sister, Mrs. E. E. Daley, and was attended by a large number of friends and friends. Among the many beautiful floral offerings was a pillow of pines and lilies from the W. A. Hovey of Bridgetown, of which Mrs. Walker was a member. The remains were interred in the Annapolis cemetery.

FREDERICK J. C. FREEMAN.

As his home in Clarendon Hills, Mass., Frederick J. C. Freeman died of heart trouble last Saturday morning. He was a well known and highly respected citizen of that town. He was born in Liverpool, N. S., and came here from South Boston 25 years ago. He opened a grocery store in the Clarendon Hills district, which he continued about four years, after which he entered the employ of Chas. L. Farnsworth, baker, with whom he remained 21 years. Last fall he again entered business for himself as a fish dealer. He was prominently connected with the Clarendon Congregational church, of which he was deacon and collector, both of these offices he held for nearly 15 years. He was the teacher of the Bible class in the Sunday school, and for several years was superintendent of the school. He is survived by a widow and a son.
