KEEN DUEL IN HOUSE

Laurier Charges Rogers' Reply to Galt's Report Wanders Unduly Afield.

By Staff Reporter.
 Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 7.—A lively scene was precipitated in the house of commons this afternoon by Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works. Mr. Rogers rose to a question of privilege, desiring to brand as false and malicious an editorial in this morning's Ottawa Citizen. The editorial dealt with the recent finding of Judge Galt, who, under a royal commission, investigated the provincial expenditure on the construction of the Manitoba Agricultural College. Mr. Rogers desired to castigate not only the Citizen, but also the judge, saying that Judge Galt's opinion disclosed in every line "animus, temper and misrepresentation."

The minister charged that the Citizen was hounding him day after day because he had refused to buy from its owners, Messrs. Southam, a lot in Montreal which they desired to sell to the government for a postoffice site at $400,000. He had been promised the support of the Citizen, he said, if he would enter into the deal. Sir Wilfrid Laurier frequently interrupted to protest against what he considered an abuse of privilege. Mr. Speaker Rhodes at first ruled with the leader of the opposition. He modified his ruling later on after the position taken by the prime minister. The Hansard report of the debate follows:

Rogers' Charge.
 Hon. Robert Rogers (minister of public works): Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of privilege. I have called attention to an editorial article which appeared in this morning's Ottawa Citizen, referring to a report recently made by Commissioner Galt of the City of Winnipeg, a report that carries with it in its every line unmistakable evidence of animus, temper and misrepresentation.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier (prime minister): I rise to a point of order. The hon. gentleman (Mr. Rogers) is speaking to a question of privilege. I submit to you, sir, that it is not in order for me to attempt to impugn the character of the commissioner. He can dispute the

DOMINIONS HAVE VOICE IN THE TERMS OF PEACE

Greatest Step Yet Made in Recognition of Relations on Basis of Equality Between Dominions and Britain.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.
 London, Feb. 8.—Earl Curzon, speaking for the government in the house of lords, said that the invitation to the dominions and India to come here in conference was no mere complimentary recognition of the part they had played in the war. Great as that had been, the most striking and memorable thing was that the dominions had regarded it as leaving them no alternative but to place the resources of their manhood at our free disposal.

"We therefore now regarded them as being entitled to a voice in the definition of her attitude to the German submarine blockade which the German government, which is sounding other neutrals before replying."

The correspondent in Athens undoubtedly refers to the suggestion of President Wilson that all neutral powers should take the step of the United States in severing relations with Germany.

Allies Reach Determination To Terminate War This Year

Minister of Labor Tells London Audience of Result of Recent Conference.

London, Feb. 7.—Addressing a meeting in London tonight, John Hodge, minister of labor, said he thought he was giving away no secret in saying that at the recent conference between representatives of the entente allies, the determination had been arrived at to terminate the war by the end of this summer.

CANADIANS CARRY OUT TWO BIG TRENCH RAIDS

Dominion Troops Take Twenty-Three More Prisoners in Dashing Operation—Quebec, Manitoba and Alberta Men Engaged.

London, Feb. 7.—The following communique was issued by the Canadian records office today:
 Revealing the opportunities presented by the wintry conditions, Canadian troops have carried out two more successful raids. Carefully planned and brilliantly executed, both operations were completed without a hitch and as a result recent Canadian captures were swelled by twenty-three prisoners and two machine guns.

One raid was made at night by a composite party from Manitoba and Alberta and the other in daylight, by men from Quebec. The principal purpose in each instance was to harry the enemy, destroy his mine shafts and secure prisoners. Both parties thoroughly fulfilled their mission.

In addition German dugouts and machine gun emplacements were destroyed by explosives and the enemy is believed to have suffered casualties four times greater than those of the Canadians, which were very light in proportion to the complete success of the enterprise.

The Canadians have now to their credit a total of seven successful raids in the past few days.

BRITAIN DISCOVERS WAY TO CHECK SUBMARINES

Admiralty Takes Measures for Frustrating of the Underwater Warfare—Sinkings of Merchant Ships Will Daily Decrease.

London, Feb. 7.—"We are not alarmed at the sharpened submarine war. We knew it was coming and prepared for it. Time will tell how our confidence is justified."

This statement was made to the Associated Press today at the admiralty and it was added:
 "It must be remembered that one submarine may cruise whole days without getting a victim. For instance, on one day since February 1, forty pedoes were fired on sight at seven of our merchantmen without getting a single hit. We have taken measures which we have every reason to believe will frustrate the U-boat warfare. Of course it is obvious that we cannot reveal them—the daily reports of the decrease in sinkings will be the best evidence of our success."

HOUSE IN ADJOURNING GIVES BORDEN CHEERS

Laurier Joins With Premier in Expressing Determination to Prosecute War to Final Victory, and Enthusiastic Demonstration Follows.

By a Staff Reporter.
 Ottawa, Feb. 7.—The house of commons, after a brief sitting this afternoon, adjourned until April 19. The members went up to the senate to witness the royal assent to the bills passed this session, which was given by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick as the deputy of the governor general.

When they returned to their chambers Sir Robert Borden moved the adjournment of the house.

In moving the adjournment the prime minister took occasion to thank the leader of the opposition and all the members of the house for facilitating the passage of important measures which had to be disposed of before he could leave for England. The call to the war council of the empire was like a call to the trenches, and Sir Robert deemed it to be his duty to obey. He knew the long adjournment would cause considerable inconvenience to members of the house, but believed it was a sacrifice they would cheerfully make for the cause which Canadians had at heart. Great events had been happening especially in the last few days, and whether the war came to a sudden end or would be prolonged for some time was purely a matter of conjecture. He spoke eloquently of the determination of the allies to win the war, and of the horror caused through the civilized world by the submarine raids and the Belgian atrocities. Canada during the past year had enlisted 180,000 men, and had sent 165,000 overseas.

Laurier's Graceful Tribute.
 Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the opposition deserved no thanks for facilitating the business of the house; they had only discharged a plain duty. He desired to associate himself with the eloquent words of the prime minister as to the determination of Canada and the allies to prosecute the war to a final victory.

Mr. Middlebro, chief Conservative whip, moved three cheers and a God-speed to the prime minister. The cheers were given, all the members on both sides of the house joining heartily.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

JOHN HODGE, British minister of labor, told a London meeting last night that the recent conference of the allied representatives had decided to terminate the war by the end of the coming summer. This news will give the enemy a considerable worry, for he has counted on his submarine campaign to prolong a decision long enough to permit his frightfulness to weary the allied peoples of the war, so they will sign an easy peace. This is his only hope. The preparations of the allies for victory have advanced, it is certain, much further than anybody has supposed or as even the formidable offensives of last summer would suggest. An early start for the spring campaign is in prospect.

While German submarines in their new and sharper campaign have sunk many merchantmen and two passenger steamers, the British admiralty already foresees the end of this menace. It has found a means of frustrating this warfare and it believes that from now on the daily reports will show a decrease in the sinkings. It had warning that this sharper submarine warfare was coming and it has prepared for it. Admiral Sir Horatio Milne had, probably, knowledge of this coming success against the enemy when he told the house of commons yesterday that they had every reason to hope that the same success attended the destruction of the zeppelin was in a fair way of being realized to counter the submarine trouble.

It requires little imagination to fancy the effect of defeating the German submarine campaign on the morale of the German people. They now

WARNING OF PLOT TO DESTROY GREAT BRIDGE

Special to The Toronto World.
 New York, Feb. 7.—Every policeman in the downtown section of the city and scores of plainclothesmen, as well as the members of the naval militia, are carefully watching for the first sign of trouble at or near the Brooklyn bridge, oldest of the bridges connecting Manhattan with Brooklyn and the one which if destroyed would effectively sweep the lower section of the city thru the great cables which support it.

An anonymous warning of a plot to blow up the bridge tonight prompted unusual vigilance.

Torpedoed Without Warning from Distance of 300 Yards—Some of Passengers and Crew Are Still Missing.

Miss Annie Forbes, who was one of the Toronto people on board the California, which was sunk yesterday, was about 28 years of age, and lived with her married sister, Mrs. Robertson, 1250 Bayview avenue. She, like her sister and brother-in-law, John Robertson, was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland. She was on a visit to her parents in Edinburgh, and when a reporter for The World called at the home last evening no word had been received concerning the fate of the vessel. John Robertson left for overseas with the 35th Battalion and has been wounded. He is now in England.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Consul Frost, at Queenstown, called the state department tonight that the British passenger liner California had been torpedoed without warning off the Irish coast, and that one American known to have been on board was saved. Some of the passengers and crew still were missing, including two women and several children.

The captain of the ship was quoted as saying the submarine did not hail or give any warning before firing two torpedoes from a distance of 300 yards and sending the California down.

The liner carried 21 passengers and a crew of 184. Advice to the local offices said there were 160 survivors; those to the state department from Consul Frost at Queenstown that one life was lost and that there were "20 hospital cases."

The California was armed when she left New York on Jan. 29 with a steam gun and carried a large cargo, including it was said, war supplies. The vessel was due in Glasgow today or tomorrow.

All British Subjects.
 The passengers, it was said by officials of the line, were all British or Canadian subjects. The British shipping commissioner here said that only four members of the crew were shipped at this port, none of them being said, were taken on at Glasgow and he believed they were all British subjects.

The California's passenger list follows:
 First cabin: J. L. Broughton, Shanghai, China.
 Second cabin: Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. J. Kidd, Edith Smith (infant), Calgary, Alta; Neil Gilles, New York City; Miss Margaret McInnes, New York City; Miss Madge Roberts, Toronto, Ont.; Miss Annie Chambers, Philadelphia, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Anderson and son, Vancouver, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Gilchrist, New York City; Miss Rose Martin, White Plains, N.Y.; Alex. Martin, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. A. Cuthill, Casper, Wyoming; Mrs. Mary J. O'Donnell, Philadelphia.

Third cabin: J. Anderson, Boston, Mass.; Miss Margaret Little, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Jennie McKinley, Bridgeport, Conn.; Miss Jessie Robertson, Buffalo, N.Y.; Mrs. Margaret Little, Master Margaret Little, Master Andrew Little, New York City; Alfred Knox, New York City; Miss Annie Forbes, Toronto.

Also many in the above list are recorded as coming from American cities, it was explained by the officials that all the passengers were, nevertheless, British or Canadian, who either resided in them or booked from them.

Built at Glasgow in 1907, the California is registered as a vessel of 8652 tons gross and 370 feet in length.

WASHINGTON EXCITED. Wilson Will Wait for Complete Reports Today.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The steady stream of reports telling of the destruction of merchantships by German submarines was brought to a climax tonight by a cablegram to the state department from Consul Frost at Queenstown, announcing that the British passenger liner California had been torpedoed without warning, and that an American citizen was among the survivors.

Whether this will prove to be the overt-act to drive the United States into war no one would attempt to say tonight. President Wilson, who must make the decision had retired when the news came, and officials did not wake him. The president undoubtedly will wait for complete reports on the disaster before determining whether the time has come for him to go to congress to ask authority to "use any means that may be necessary for the protection of our seamen and our people."

The First Report.
 The consul's first report said there was "one death and thirty hospital cases" among the more than 200 people on board the liner. The second added no information concerning casualties, except that the survivors were landed at Queenstown tonight, among them being John A. Lee of Montgomery, Ala., the only American known to have been aboard, and that some still were missing, including two women and several children.

The fact that the American escaped

AUDITORS' REPORT

We, the undersigned, beg to report that we have made a full examination of the books, accounts and vouchers of The Toronto General Trusts Corporation to 31st December, 1916, and find same to be correct and properly set forth in the above statements of Profit and Loss and Assets and Liabilities.

The Bankers' Balances, after deducting outstanding cheques, agree with the books of the Corporation. All our requirements as Auditors have been complied with.

The President, Mr. Featherston Olesler, K.C., D.C.L., in moving the adoption of the report, which was seconded by John Hoskin, K.C., LL.D., D.C.L., addressed the Shareholders as follows:

Mr. Featherston Olesler, K.C., D.C.L., in moving the adoption of the report, which was seconded by John Hoskin, K.C., LL.D., D.C.L., addressed the Shareholders as follows: "In moving the adoption of the Thirty-fifth Annual Report of the Corporation, which has already been placed in your hands, I do so with some confidence that the shareholders will feel no difficulty in expressing their approval of it, and their satisfaction with the manner in which their Directors have handled the large and varied interests entrusted to their care."

The net profits for the year are shown to be upwards of $321,000—no very material difference, all things considered, from those shown in the previous year. The disposition of these profits has already been outlined in the Directors' Report and will be dealt with at greater length by the General Manager.

The past four or five weeks have been fruitful in meetings of banks and other monetary institutions at which the prevalent financial conditions and prospects of the country, and, indeed, one may say, of the world at large, and those of which the existence may be anticipated after the war, have been discussed from many points of view.

Mr. Langmuir said that the new Trusts Estate work taken over during the past year was submitted to you, and which are set forth in such detail clearly show the results of the past year's operations, and a confident will be accepted by the Shareholders and other clients as satisfactory.

It will be observed that the new Trusts Estate work taken over in 1916 is larger in amount than the total volume of business taken over during the first ten-year period. This is a fact of some importance, and is a reflection of the confidence which the public has placed in the management of the Corporation.

On the other hand, it will have been observed that our investments in the Municipal Securities and Government Bonds which a few years ago would have been considered highly satisfactory for even mortgage loans, the result being that lower rates of interest are now being obtained for our investments.

prompt payment of interest which is obtained, rather than seek higher rates in Western Farm mortgages with interest only payable yearly, and where a considerable amount of arrears of interest has to be carried over, not to say anything about the legal liabilities that are being exacted from time to time in the Western Provinces.

With regard to the collection of interest and income on investments negotiated by the Corporation, we have no arrears on any of the $5,770,885.25 invested in Municipal Debentures and Bonds, and $3.24 per cent. has been received in respect of the interest charged during 1916, including arrears brought forward from 1915 on the $16,517,309.79 invested in Ontario Mortgages and 73.38 per cent. on the sum of $7,450,023.90 invested in Western mortgages.

The Net Profits as a result of the year's operations amounted to the sum of $321,000, or 118 per cent. on the Corporation's paid-up Capital and Reserve Funds, which, added to the balance of $77,874.12, the amount carried forward from last year, after deducting $21,138.48 for 1916 Dominion War Tax, leaves $899,057.00 at the credit of Profit and Loss for distribution.

It should be well understood that the matter of the Corporation's earnings that the profits are not entirely derived from Commissions and Compensation received from the management of Estates—there are also the profits from our Guaranteed Investment Funds as well as the interest received from the investment of our Capital and Reserve Funds, and from other sources of the Corporation's business.

Having regard to existing conditions, I feel, with General Managers of Banks and other Financial Institutions who have already expressed themselves as being impressed upon all Canadian sources of a national character, that our full share of the burden that devolves upon us in connection with the great world war in which we, with so many other nations, are engaged, has been generally well met.

During the past year seven more members of the staff have been released for active service overseas, bringing up the number of those who have left us for that purpose to thirty. Three of these—Gavin Ince Langmuir, Lawrie B. Shields, and E. Raymond Jarvis—have laid down their lives for their King and Country.

Arbitration Ahead

Senator Nichols touched the spot at the meeting of the directors of the Toronto Railway Company when he declared that he was astonished that any man should ask such a fool question as to enquire for details about the subsidiary companies of the corporation.

"I can't see," the senator is reported to have said, "how any man having the interests of the company at heart would do it, when we are to arbitrate in five years for the franchise."

Evidently the company reckons on important advantages to be gained from arbitration in 1921. It will be remembered that the values on which the proposed purchase price was based a few years ago were not arbitration values, but those set by an expert who discounted heavily all the items considered.

Rigid economy was shown to be the policy of the company in its balance sheet yesterday. Operating and maintenance charges had been cut down by $178,889, and the receipts were smaller than in the first year of the war, the net earnings were greater.

An interesting item of the balance sheet is the valuation of the road and equipment, real estate and buildings, including pavements, at $20,177,493. This represents an increase of $400,000 over the values of 1914.

These values, compared with the $18,000,000 of the city's purchase offer, will make interesting material for an arbitration board, even though the plant be valued as scrap. But suppose the plant be valued as scrap and the cars be decided to be junk, they still belong to the company and there is nothing to prevent it from selling them to the scrap merchant.

Yesterday's meeting showed that the city has none too much time to begin to prepare for the expiration of the franchise. Purchase of the street railway system may be no longer feasible, though the stock is cheap enough to make it desirable that the city had power to buy it, or enough of it for control. But if we will not buy, we must arrange for the extinction of the franchise which the shareholders eagerly desire to renew.

Eliminate the Hohenzollerns

Col. Denison has made an interesting pamphlet of his speech to the Empire Club last December, and he lays the emphasis by sub-titles where no doubt, he desires it to rest—No peace without complete victory—A timely warning against enemy intrigue. He has no doubt of victory, but dreads the intervention of "some philippic fool or diplomat or politician," who will "give away all that our men have died for."

Col. Denison makes his argument from history; first, with the experience of Rome with Carthage; secondly, with the example of Britain's treatment of Napoleon; and, thirdly, from the precedent set by Lincoln in dealing with Jefferson Davis. Complete and undeniable victory was the first consideration. After that the first word dictate the terms of peace. Col. Denison, speaking of the extinction of Carthage by Rome, says: "They did not do that from anger, or from a feeling of vengeance or cruelty; they did it from sheer fright, that it was the only thing they could do to save themselves."

Col. Denison insists that we must never listen to any terms from the Germans. "We must never have any of our representatives sit down at the same table with them. We must never discuss it in any way; such a thing would be a cruel wrong to all the young men of ours who have fought and died for this country, and for freedom; that have died for our empire."

To some people this may seem unforgiving, unchristian. It is very largely a point of view. If we wish a repetition of world-war every generation or so, as Rome had it with Carthage, until the lesson was learned, then we may revert to the status quo ante bellum and begin all over again. But if we wish for no recurrence of world-war, we may well consider Col. Denison's views. They involve no inhumanity, no unchristianliness, least of all, cruelty or barbarism. But they do insist that there can be no trucking or chaffering with men who are capable of the deeds that have shocked the world for two years and a half, and that increase in savage violence daily. The only way to restore sanity to Europe is utterly to destroy the Prussian power. They had made up their minds forty years ago "without any grievances or wrongs or reasons, to make a great push for world power." The Kaiser should be treated as Napoleon was treated before Elba. The different German states, Saxony, Bavaria, Wurtemberg, Baden, Hanover, should be invited to reassume their freedom as separate and independent kingdoms. None who know the facts will be disposed to disagree with the colonel in his suggestions, and there appears to be general unanimity among the allies regarding their elimination of the Hohenzollerns from European affairs.

What We Need Makes Wealth It is estimated that six billion dollars worth of property has been destroyed in the war. Beside this the estimated damage to vessels interned in United States ports amounts to $300,000,000, and so on.

The artistic values of the Cathedral of Rheims can never be given back to the world. The Germans are regardless of such values, and this is what makes them what they are. They might offer to rebuild a cathedral for a certain sum. But the intangible artistic value is beyond their barbarous resources. They destroy the homes in a village, and the material loss is put down at so much, but the real loss is in the families who dwell in the homes.

Mr. Angell mislaid nearly everybody who listened to him by his reduction of the terms of war to money values. He said that war was impossible because the nations could not afford it. He seems to have forgotten that the capital wealth of the world is practically renewed every year by labor. Gold is not wealth, but is only recognized as the sign of power to command labor, which is the real wealth.

All the destruction of the war can easily be replaced by labor, if the mere use is to be regarded. But when the element of beauty enters, the problem is more complicated. Wealth cannot create artistic values. They, being intangible, proceed from the intangible nature of man. It is the neglect of the intangible values that has ruined Germany.

In Great Britain at present a great effort is being made to educate the people, especially the people classified as wealthy, to the view that it is work and not money that makes wealth. The war has dissipated the Norman Angell illusion, but there are still others to escape from. What is needed is a realization of the fact that the making of useful things in time of peace and with the same degree of concentration and care expended in making destructive and useless things in time of war, would produce a similar amount of prosperity. The only stipulation is that the things made will be wanted. Everybody wants as much as anybody, and with true democracy of the future he shall have it.

All that we need is ingenuity enough and enterprise enough to keep making and building and cultivating the useful things and structures and foods that we all need and want, and there will be no dead times after the war, and no stagnation. The politicians are all afraid of such a happy solution, and think there must be a joker in it. The business monopolist objects to it as likely to rob him of his supremacy. The ordinary man thinks it is too good to be true, and is unwilling to accept it, as he was the war, until it is thrust upon him. The worker sees nothing in it but the work, and does not see how any benefit can come to him. The capitalist is appalled at the idea that he might be expected to work for his living. The landowner does not care as long as he can collect his rents. Everybody is occupied with a prepossession, as they were about the war. They declared there never would be such a war. And here it is. They declare there never shall be such a peace. It is up to them.

GARDEN LECTURES WILL BE POPULAR

Many Principals of City Schools Ask for Government Expert. ARE UNIFORMS DIRTY? Board of Education Management Committee Hears About Cadets' Clothes.

At the meeting of the management committee of the board of education yesterday, the following report was submitted by Chief Inspector Cowley: "It is announced that the Ontario Government is prepared to send experts to address meetings on home gardens, etc., in cases where schools, businesses, organizations, etc., guarantee an audience."

The principals of fourteen of the public schools have already expressed a desire to have such lectures at their schools, and it may be expected that others would wish to avail themselves of any opportunity in this direction. If the committee of the board decide to encourage this project, communication with the department of agriculture should be made at an early date.

An idea of the good this has done is revealed by the fact that last year 2,200 home gardens were conducted by pupils, and a large number of exhibitions of produce were held in various schools in September. No decision was arrived at by the committee. Dr. Steele's motion that teachers be not allowed to answer circular letters asking for information unless signed by the chairman of the board was reported against.

PROMISES ROAD THRU FRUITLAND

Hon. F. G. Macdormid Pledges Support to Hamilton-Niagara Highway. UNDER GOVERNMENT Legislation Will Be Brought Down This Session for Provincial System.

Hon. Finlay G. Macdormid practically granted the request that the highway from Hamilton to a point on the Niagara River be taken under the care of the government as a provincial highway, as presented by a delegation of fifty prominent men from the Counties of Lincoln and Wentworth who waited on him yesterday at the parliament buildings.

After the representations of the delegation the minister of public works expressed his conviction that their arguments were well grounded. "The department is alive to the importance of the highway, and realizes that the traffic along it is no longer of a local but of an international character," he said. "At the coming session we propose to introduce legislation for a system of provincial highways, and a road from Hamilton to the international boundary must necessarily be included in such a scheme," said he. The details will be worked out later.

The delegation from Wentworth was headed by Warden Stenbaugh, who favored a concrete road, estimated to cost $25,000 a mile and a total of $60,000. The deputation from Lincoln, headed by Warden Claus, supported a 28-foot bituminous roadway to cost $15,000 a mile and a total of $60,000. The road proposed is 44 miles long.

May Be Lieut. Boyd, Lately an Engineer in Toronto Harbor Commission Office.

William Boyd, of 145 Delaware avenue, who on Tuesday was notified that his son, Lieut. J. W. Boyd, was reported dead, has now been advised that the young man had died. As "infantry" was the word used in the despatches, and the lieutenant was in the flying corps, the father hopes there may be a mistake, but states the initials and street address were all given correctly in the despatch. Lieut. Boyd was a member of the Toronto Harbor Commission prior to enlisting. He was born in Stratford and educated in Toronto.

The CANADIAN ARMY in Action and the Advance of THE TANKS The Official Moving Pictures Of The Battle Of COURCELETTE

A GROUP OF CANADIAN OFFICERS AT THE SOMME.

Do you recognize any of these men? Do they not look like men you know? Is there not something familiar about their faces? Do you know why?

Because they are Canadians. You'd know they were Canadians—know them though you'd never met them or heard their names; know them as Canadian though you'd never seen these faces before.

We are a young nation and we combine many races. But there is a family resemblance about Canadians, just the same.

Sons, brothers, fathers, chums and neighbors make up the army of Canada at the front. You know them all, and you know each one. They are yours—the boys from Canada, and they are worthy of Canada. It remains only for Canada to be worthy of them.

Thanks to the Canadian War Records Office the record of their deeds will be preserved in detail and filed for historians and the future. And the greatest achievement for which Canadians may thank the War Records Office was the securing of a film record of the Battle of Courcellette, the action in September last when the Canadian army advanced to their greatest battle since the beginning of the war, the battle when they went cheering into the German strongholds on the Somme front with the terrifying tanks.

This is the new war film that is to be shown in Toronto next week at the Regent Theatre under the auspices of The World.

"It will sweep Canada like a prairie fire," declares a London correspondent.

It shows how the sons of Canada, sons of the people you know, braved death for victory in the cause of right against might.

MARK HARRIS on MINES and MINING

Last week was "break week." First the States had a "break" with Germany and then all of the security markets had a "break."

When Germany announced its intention to sink anything and everything within certain described "zones" investors must have thought "America was going to the dogs," if the way they threw high-grade securities on the market is any criterion.

The first news of the trouble came after the close of the market last Wednesday, and at the opening next day everybody and his brother wanted to sell.

The gamblers, who buy and sell on margin, start the ball going and when the investors outside of New York see stocks breaking a point or two between sales they become panic-stricken and their brokers to sell at any price.

The result is that the best securities of the United States and Canada lose 10, 20 and even 30 points in value simply because people lose their heads and do not attempt to reason.

I am satisfied that war with Germany is only a matter of days, if not hours, but even so, it cannot affect intrinsic values to any great extent, and those who sacrifice good stocks at these low prices are really selling gold dollars at half value.

War with Germany would, no doubt, mean depression in a few lines, but in other companies it would bring enormous profits and prosperity.

Japan has been at war with Germany for over two years and the country has had a stock boom greater than anything yet experienced in the United States.

Now, Japan is isolated from Europe in much the same way as America, therefore we have every reason to believe it is the one country for comparison.

What has already happened in Japan will, no doubt, happen in the United States, and if this hazard is correct, we will experience the greatest bull market in history.

A bull market means higher prices—much higher prices—for stocks of almost every kind and character. So I say in all sincerity that this is the time to buy and to buy quickly.

I believe values are near bed rock and, although prices may sell down a few points when war is actually declared, it is not advisable to hold back for the sake of a point or two.

The man who attempts to buy at the bottom and to sell at the top is usually the man who waits too long. So if you contemplate investing money do it now while the bargains are in evidence.

I do not advise the purchase of any old stock or bond, for any old stock will not make you money.

When you invest, select good securities with intrinsic values behind them and a bright future before them, and you will be able to sleep every night without having the nightmare of loss before you.

War means prosperity for companies dealing in or producing necessities. Therefore, when you invest, put your funds in the securities of such companies.

Copper and silver, coal and oil, food and clothing are all necessities, and companies manufacturing or producing these commodities should derive great benefits from now on.

A company producing gold is not affected by either war or peace, and, although such companies cannot hope or expect any higher prices for their product, they represent the ideal investment right at this time, because nothing—mind you, nothing—can cause lower prices for their product.

While copper or silver may go up or down with the supply and demand, gold must remain stationary, and a company producing the precious yellow metal is as certain of a ready market as we all are of death and taxes.

Last week two of the best gold stocks enjoying a wide public market had a bad "break" and you can invest your money in these stocks today at prices that I never expected to see again.

These stocks are Newray and Boston Creek, and I have no hesitation in recommending the immediate purchase of either or both.

Newray was the sensation of the great Porcupine camp last year and it was only a few months ago when a group of Baltimore capitalists, after sending their own engineer to inspect the mine, came out openly with an offer to buy 200,000 shares at the market, and the market at that time was above par.

They wanted the stock, because it had merit and intrinsic worth behind it, and I tell you that is the only kind to place your money in.

Take my advice and buy now while the price is low—buy nothing that is without real merit—and if you don't know the good from the bad, write me for personal advice.

The market is full of real, genuine bargains—full to overflowing—and by acting quickly you should double your capital within a few months. Yours faithfully, Mark Harris.
