

OUR POTATOES FOR NEW YORK

Buyers Like Them—Death in Fredericton—The Exhibition.

(Special to The Times.) Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 20.—Possibilities for a first class market for New Brunswick potatoes as seed potatoes, are opened by the announcement of Messrs. Couch and Taylor, New York potato buyers that the potatoes which they have seen in the St. John Valley district, are the cleanest stock which they have yet seen and are superior to what they have seen this year in Aroostook region of Maine.

The attendance at the Fredericton Exhibition for the opening and the first day was about 200 in excess of that of the corresponding period for the 1919 Fair. Today is expected to be one of the big days on account of the opening of the harness racing meet.

The judging in some classes began today. The dog show under the auspices of the Fredericton Kennel Club was opened this morning. One hundred and eighty dogs are entered.

SEIZE FAIR WEEK RECEIPTS OF THE STREET RAILWAY

London, Ont., Sept. 20.—That the London Street Railway receipts for Fair Week to the amount of $10,000, were seized on instructions issued by City Solicitor Meredith, to satisfy a judgment of $7,000, awarded the city against the company, was the statement made at last night's meeting of the council by the solicitor of the company, who pointed out that as a result of the receipts being seized, the company could not be paid on the regular day.

On behalf of the street railway company, he offered to pay the money due to satisfy the judgment on the installment plan, $500 a month.

The council decided to refer the matter to the mayor and city sheriff, if such action is deemed advisable. The solicitor offered to pay interest on the money and all costs.

An amendment by Alderman Weigie that the $500 a month offer be accepted, provided the company's books show this is the best that can be done, without prejudice to the judgment, was lost, 6 to 3.

The $1,573 that was seized will be retained.

LIEUT. GENERAL SIR HENRY BURSTALL HERE NEXT MONTH

An inspection of this district will be carried out next month by the inspector general of Canadian forces, Lieut. General Sir Henry Burstall, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., A.D.C. On October 24 he will be in Fredericton where he will inspect No. 3 company, Canadian Machine Gun Brigade, and the Canadian Officers' Training Corps of the University of New Brunswick. He will be in St. John on October 25 and will carry out an inspection of the St. John Fusiliers, No. 6 Signal Company, headquarters and No. 1 company of the Canadian Machine Gun Brigade, and also military headquarters. October 26 he will spend in Moncton inspecting No. 2 company of the Canadian Machine Gun Brigade. At all points visited the armories will be inspected as well as forces of various kinds.

GRAND TRUNK APPEAL IS DECLARED LIKELY

London, Sept. 20.—(Canadian Press.) It now seems certain that the Grand Trunk stockholders will enter a double appeal against the finding of the board of arbitration respecting the common and preferred stocks.

More than 200 alleged violators of prohibition laws are being summoned in Superior, Wisconsin, to explain why they should not pay income taxes on money derived from the sale of liquor.

CONGESTION IN MONTREAL ENDS Report on Grain Matters—New York Says Our Grain to U. S. Ports.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—Congestion in this port is now a thing of the past. A survey of grain conditions in the harbor yesterday showed that facilities provided for the handling of this trade are not now being used to their fullest capacity. Paul Earle, of Thompson and Earle, grain and freight brokers, said last night that there was no congestion in the port and that much of the delay in issuing orders to load ships was due to the non-arrival of the particular grades of grain required for shipment. Mr. P. Fenell, secretary of the harbor commissioners, said that this matter of orders would probably work itself out within a few days.

MEYER NEAR TO COLLAPSE; RUM CASE GOES OVER

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 20.—Legal proceedings in the Dartmouth rum running case, involving the confiscation of 170 kegs of overproof rum and the detention of the steamer "Dartmouth," were deferred until Thursday, in the Dartmouth police court today when it was announced that William Meyer, head of the fishing company operating the wharf at which the seizure was made, was in danger of collapse through nervous exhaustion.

LATE SPORT NEWS

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 20.—With crisp, cool autumn weather prevailing, John A. Braden, 202 3-4, and Roy Volo, 208 1-4, are to race here this afternoon for a purse of $1,500 and the down set racing championship. Because of the weather conditions it is not expected that sensationally fast time will be made. Because of injuries sustained last week at St. Stephen, Bert Lint will be unable to drive Roy Volo today. "Red" Hamlin will be up behind the Fredericton pacer.

NOVELTY SHOWER

A delightful novelty shower was tendered Miss May Harrington last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Ernest Harrington, Main street. The house was prettily decorated and Miss Harrington, who is to be married this month, was the recipient of numerous handsome gifts. Refreshments were served.

LOCAL TRANSPORTATION MATTERS.

One of the jitney busses of the Union Bus Co., was taken to St. Stephen this morning to be fitted with its winter body, which has been completed. The new bodies will be finished in battleship grey. The bodies of the other 11 busses will be placed on the trucks as they are completed by the contractors. Commissioner Thornton said today that arrangements had been made by the power company to stop all street cars on the near side of street intersections, thus minimizing the possibility of accidents.

SCHOONER AND BRIDGE

There has been some comment on the fact that the American schooner Charles C. Lister came through the falls under the new railway bridge without mishap. The Lister, however, is one of five vessels that had been framed as being able to pass under the bridge. She is a vessel of only 265 tons register, and is more than twenty years old. She is only about half the size of any of the new St. John owned schooners. She came through on a strong tide, and was loaded, having taken cargo at Gagetown. Her masts are about seventy-four feet from the water line when she is loaded.

ALEXANDER BRISBANE.

Alexander Brisbane passed away last evening at the home of his son-in-law, Charles Murphy, St. James street, West St. John, after a lengthy illness. He was a native of Bannockburn, Scotland, and removed to Canada sixteen years ago and successfully engaged in farming in Saskatchewan until a few weeks ago, when an account of failing health he came to his daughter in St. John. He was seventy-one years of age and was a man of fine character who had won a good name in the land of his adoption. He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Murphy, West St. John; two in the United States and two at the old home in Bannockburn.

MRS. G. E. TITUS.

Sad news came to the home of W. A. Segge last evening in a telegram announcing the death of Mr. Segge's sister, Mrs. Lidda Titus, wife of G. E. Titus of Dover. Mrs. Titus was the daughter of C. W. Segge, Rockland Road. She had lived in the United States for twenty years although she always retained the link with her home city. She was here just one year ago this week on the occasion of her parents' golden wedding. Five months ago her mother died and her death is thereby made doubly hard for the surviving members of the family. She leaves children and grand children to mourn. Sympathy will be extended by many friends in St. John.

ORPHANAGE FAIR DAILY NEWS-LETTER. St. John, N. B., Sept. 20.

To the Protestants of N. B.—Greetings! In yesterday's letter we set out to suggest ways in which everybody interested might co-operate with us in this work. First came the appeal to those who could forward cash contributions in order to provide funds to pay for necessary preliminary expenses and to procure advance supplies. This was well received in a bank and acknowledged; any surplus left over will go to swell the grand total. We closed with a suggestion re community work in regard to fraternal societies, churches or other social organizations through the province. All that is required to insure this leadership. If you personally do not feel like assuming this responsibility, you will be rendering good service to a worthy cause in suggesting it to others. Correspondence is solicited. Kindly advise us if anything is being done in your locality and by whom.

In isolated districts or where persons do not feel like joining with others and yet feel disposed to help, donations of any kind will be very acceptable, such as cash, fruit, vegetables, preserves, aprons, quilts, mats or anything else that can be converted into cash or used in the homes; address everything care of the secretary.

THE UNIVERSAL FLOUR.

Most flours are good for making toast, but some are better than others. Ask anybody who is using "Regal" flour what sort of toast it makes, whether or not it is crisp toast all the way through. If you do you are sure you will be tempted to specify "Regal" flour.

If you buy your grocer has been selling a very large quantity of "Regal" flour this summer, and the reports he receives regarding it are that customers could not be better pleased than they have been with the results obtained. They find that "Regal" not only makes the best bread, but also that it spends in quantity of loaves to the barrel. If you have not yet had a barrel of "Regal" in your house, please order purchasing no longer; once you have tried it you will swear by "Regal."

TEMPERANCE WORKERS MEET.

The public temperance meeting held in the Prince Edward street church last evening was well attended. The chairman, Rev. H. E. Thomas, made reference to some general features of the campaign. He compared the temperance conditions under the old license system and as it is now. Rev. O. P. Brown said that if the gospel were generally accepted there would be no need of prohibitions. Prohibition had accomplished much when it drove the open bar from the streets. Private importation was the great loophole and with the referendum it might be closed. Walter Brindle dwelt upon intemperance as a habit. Given five years of prohibition, he said, we should have a province with the liquor habit unknown. Rev. W. D. Wilson compared the Quebec law with that of this province and spoke of the deplorable conditions which result up there. The chairman referred to the form of ballot to be used and directed all to vote Yes.

DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

The coroner's jury empaneled at St. Martin's to inquire into the cause of Haliburton Brown, last evening brought in a verdict that he met death on September 16, about one and one-quarter miles north of the Bayview post office, from one of two rifle bullets, fired simultaneously from rifles in the hands of Graydon Gilchrist and John Holland. They also found that all parties were in the woods at an unlawful hour and without licenses. They also believe that apart from criminal carelessness the tragedy was purely accidental.

GOOD TORY DOCTRINE

Mr. Walter McRay, described as "Canada's Patriotic Lecturer," told the Rotary Club yesterday that he would build against the United States "a tariff as high as Haman's gallows," until the Canadian dollar was at par with the American dollar; and that he would have Canadians refuse to buy goods from Germany. This may be patriotic or not—according to the viewpoint. Mr. McRay is an exceptionally brilliant speaker, and made a very powerful appeal for the development of a national spirit in Canada, to which his hearers could cheerfully assent; but he threw more feeling and fire into the passages about the tariff against our neighbors than anything else.

It is fair to ask if he believes a national spirit can be developed by tariff legislation—and how. If people do not possess that spirit, would it be born on the day a high tariff bill was enacted into law at Ottawa? And when did a tariff equalize the exchange between nations under such conditions as now prevail in the world? If Canadians have the disposition to purchase luxuries in the United States, and by that act declare themselves as lacking in national spirit, will they not go on spending about the same amount—or more—in the same way—tariff or no tariff—until they get a change of heart? Mr. McRay's views on this subject are amazingly like those of the Conservative party, and were no doubt quite acceptable to the president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who sat beside him. They do not coincide with those of the Liberals or the Progressives, or with those of Sir D. M. Stevenson, Bart., of Glasgow, Scotland, who wrote recently to the New York Commercial.

"The next step (after disarmament and putting a stop to the inflation of currency) and one which I suppose will meet with scant approval in America, is to intensify production and to restore, and if possible increase, pre-war freedom of trade. Imports can only be paid for by exports and services or by borrowing. The more we import the more we must export or borrow. When we get freely allowed and paid for by exports and services, without borrowing, exchanges will right themselves automatically.

The country that does not buy cannot sell. A prohibitive tariff restricts buying, and that in turn restricts selling, since the country which imports goods must be able in turn to export them. The United States today is beginning to realize that a high tariff will be no remedy for its ills, and the Fordney bill probably will be enacted in its present form. Nor does Canada want "a tariff as high as Haman's gallows." The maritime provinces and the west will never consent to a policy which would sacrifice them for the benefit of the manufacturers of Ontario and Quebec.

With regard to Germany, Mr. McRay's policy would bankrupt the country, and render her forever unable to pay the debts she owes the world. Her only hope of paying them is in selling goods, and, if nobody should buy, her fate would be sealed. Every country is buying some German goods, because they all recognize this fact. It is not the Germany of the Kaiser, but the new republic of Germany with which the world is dealing; and even if we say they are the same people we cannot blink the fact that she lies there in the centre of Europe, and that while she should be held to the strict terms of the peace treaty she could not fulfill those terms in the face of a world boycott.

Is Canada so helpless a member of the comity of nations that her only hope lies in prohibitive tariffs and boycotts? And is it by those methods a real national spirit is to be developed? Let us sincerely hope it is otherwise.

A Halifax despatch says that Liberals are favorites for all the sixteen Nova Scotia seats except Colchester and South Cape Breton, which has two seats. It adds that the farmer-labor group will make the best showing where the Conservatives are strongest, and hence in "seats such as South Cape Breton, Colchester and Pictou, if the three parties run, the Liberal chances are better."

Toronto Star: "Feeble administration, class and sectional conflict, inequitable taxation, industrial instability and national retrogression." In these words Sir John Willison is, on one might suppose, describing present conditions. No. He is seeking to alarm the people by describing what might happen if the present priceless government were lost to us.

The Toronto Star bears that if Hon. Dr. Pugsley should re-enter active politics "it is quite on the cards that Gen. E. H. McLean, M. P. for Royal, will become lieutenant governor of New Brunswick."

Fred Pardee, M. P.: "Don't be carried away by the National Liberal-Conservative party, and don't let anyone put salt in your tail to get you to vote Tory because of the Liberal in the name."

"CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS"

"Criminal carelessness" is the term the jury used in connection with the shots which ended the life of a young man of St. Martin's, who was mistaken for a moose. None of the hunters had a license. They thus began with disregard of the law. Distressing and tragic as the incident is, it should not end with the coroner's inquest. It appears to be necessary in the public interest to impress more strongly upon the minds of young men that they must be sure what their target is before they discharge a rifle. Each hunting season brings its quota of fatalities due to "criminal carelessness." The law must be vindicated or fall into utter disrepute. Human life is too precious to be sacrificed because some man with a rifle in his hands is unwilling to be sure before he sends the deadly messenger on its way. The excuse cannot be offered that the like never happened before. Each year adds to the list of victims. Apart entirely from the sympathy which may be felt for the young men and their families, there is the right of every individual to traverse the woods without fear of being shot down by a careless marksman; and unless an example is made in such cases that right will cease to be recognized.

ANOTHER WARNING.

The sordid tale told by O'Brien in connection with the murder of Norris reveals more than the killing of a man. It throws a lurid light upon the manner in which some young men spend their leisure time. The citizens at large have winked at this sort of thing, and perhaps regarded it as none of their business; but if this is the best we can do as a community it is time a missionary work was done in the streets and alleys and byways of St. John. What shall it profit us if we remain indifferent, and vice and crime spread and flourish in our midst? There is not a drunkard or a wastrel, or a youth going wrong, but somebody knows about it, and real community effort in any section of the city would soon remove its sources of evil communication. Now and then the results of general disregard of public welfare give us a rude shock, and we look around for a victim upon whom to visit our righteous indignation. Is that enough? Everybody who lives in the eastern part of the city—and in other parts—has known in a general way what was going on; but there has been no community effort, no committee of law and order, no real and united effort by all the best elements in the citizenship to root out the evil thing. We reap what we have sown.

Monday Transcript: The Montreal Star and the Montreal Standard are shouting that the Sacred Tariff, the golden calf of the privileged interests, is in danger, because a farmer's party has arisen in the land. The Ottawa Journal, partisan of Premier Meighen, declares that our independence is menaced because Uncle Sam's bright politicians have raised new tariff bars. Of course invitation to rally round the old flag will again be an election slogan of the Tory party, for, as all good Tories know, the old flag in this country only floats over high protection, though in Britain it managed somehow to float over free trade for many years. The Tory tacticians will no doubt have a surprise, for the people have learned a lot in recent years.

A writer in the Toronto Star says of St. John's new member for the cabinet: "Baxter would have made a great asset. He loves not the things of the flesh; and he speaks like a grand seigneur sans peur et sans reproche. He has a nearer thing to the grand manner than any politician now entitled to lord it over God's ancient heritage. He can and does address a humble servant of the public as 'sir' in a manner that makes him feel he is looked up to by a very great gentleman indeed. His speeches have a certain literary distinction in form and a dignity in manner which tends to prevent them striking fire. He reminds you of the oldest, finest type of the family lawyer, who draws up marriage settlements and reads wills after funerals in the parage."

De Valera's determination to spit hairs and have the last word is at the moment Ireland's greatest danger. If he reads the American newspaper comments he must see that his course is condemned even by those who were formerly strong advocates of the cause of Ireland.

The results of medical inspection in the schools of St. John have proved most gratifying, and it has given to many a child a fairer opportunity to get the full benefit of study. It is also a valuable kind of insurance against the spread of infectious diseases.

Of the seventeen barristers who were sworn in by Mr. Justice Hodgins at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, last week, six were women graduates of the Upper Canada Law School.

NATIONAL WILDERNESSES.

(Stephen Graham in N. Y. Evening Post.)

Note—Stephen Graham, English writer, and Vachel Lindsay, high-spirited poet from Illinois, are trumpeting together through the Rockies.

Glacier in Montana, Yellowstone in Wyoming, Sequoia and Yosemite in California, Grand Canyon in Arizona, besides Mt. McKinley in Alaska and many minor reservations and national forests—they ought truly to be called by some name other than parks. The same also is true for Canada, which possesses many such places. It has evidently been done to popularize them. We call them "wilderesses" in Russia, where there are many such domains resorted to for meditation. They are called literally "empty places," the same word that is used in the Bible for wilderness. Tolstoy when he died was on his way to one of these wildernesses—the "Empty Place of Optive." And believe in our life as is meant in the Gospel when it is written: The Spirit drove Him into the wilderness; or He went up into the mountain to pray.

The spiritual background of Great Britain is in the mountains of Scotland, among the Cumberland fells and other wilderesses. Small though the mountains may be, they are continually in the minds of English people. The way of escape is clear, and the bright spirits of England and Scotland derive their strength direct from the hills. This is specially true of Byron and Scott and Keats and Wordsworth. I find a belief in the wilderness strong in Vachel Lindsay. He holds that the wild west has been and still must be the spiritual lodestone of American poetry. Untamed America has remade the race. Andrew Jackson was the voice of the west of his day, Abraham Lincoln of his. And though New England has held the hegemony of letters he divines that the wilderness—the mountains—will be the source of the inspiration of the coming time. Early America derived most of its inspiration from across the Atlantic. Her heart was outside of her body. But nature America, conscious of herself as a whole, will know more surely that she has a heart and a soul and a way to God in herself.

Oh, I look to a time when these national wildernesses will have a tremendous significance in our public life, when men and women of all classes of life will naturally retire to them for recreation—as naturally as people go to church on Sundays and for a similar reason all praise to the foresight and energy of Frank Hamilton, minister of the interior, who has done so much to bring the people's heritage before their eyes.

The "See America First" is a poor slogan. Like "Do Everything Once" and "Buy a Book," the whole question needed to be raised to a higher level. People need not visit Gloriosa, they can visit Switzerland, in a spirit of curiosity. Even in this sophisticated age they can come as pilgrims as easily as they can come as tourists. "Four-day tours" are entirely in the wrong spirit. Time is immaterial. By three or four in the afternoon, in the heart, virtue in the saddle of the horse. Not much virtue in guides, in hotels. You come to these places to be alone with your heart or you do not arrive.

So much for the idea and possibilities of the national parks. Lindsay showed me a rough sketch of a mountain, when he was in London, and he did much to persuade young Englishmen interested in America to visit them, go through the mountains, and see what we had heard in a dim way of Yellowstone Park and of the Indian reservations both in the United States and Canada. He said that the Englishmen are born trappers and lovers of the wilderness, and are ready to reverse the American proverb—Why walk if you can ride?—and out it will ride when you can walk? And I shall not be the first Englishman to seek refreshment hiking through the wild places of the forest.

PUBLISH MEMO BOOK TO ASSIST SETTLERS

Manual of Citizenship is Offered by Department.

Something new in the form of a booklet has just been issued by the Publicity Branch of the Federal Department of Immigration and Colonization. It carries the title "A Manual of Citizenship," and in size is small enough to fit the vest pocket. The object of this booklet is designed not to induce settlers to come to Canada, but to acquaint new arrivals with some of the salient facts concerning the dominion, and thus help them to more quickly appreciate the advantages of becoming Canadian citizens.

The booklet gives an outline of how Canada is governed, the principal facts about each of the provinces, distances between the chief centres in the dominion, and thus help them to the dominion's worth knowing concerning naturalization and voting, a list of immigration halls, hostels for women, employment offices, character references, weights and measures, how education is administered, some of Canada's resources, help in case of accidents, etc.

There are a dozen blank pages in the back of the booklet for addresses and memoranda.

LOCAL NEWS

A special meeting of the board of commissioners of the General Public Hospital was held yesterday afternoon to receive the report of the house committee regarding proposed alterations of the old hospital. No definite decision was arrived at, but quarters for the help and additional laboratory space will be made there as soon as possible. The alterations will also be made. M. E. Agar presided at the meeting.

In the police court yesterday afternoon Leonard Steves was charged with stealing wood from John K. Mahoney to the value of $40. The complaint said he had had 100 cords on the Black River road and that five cords had disappeared. In consequence of information received by him charged Steves with the theft. The defendant said he had been hired by another person to haul wood from the pile and had done so. The case was postponed for further evidence.

GOLD MINING IN THE DOMINION FLOURISHING

Production in Canada For Six Months Worth $3,000,000.

The total gold production in Canada during the first six months of this year amounted to 396,391 fine ounces, worth $2,194,120, according to a statement contained in a report on the subject issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This amount of gold represents 62 per cent of the amount mined during 1920, and the report says the gold mining industry throughout the Dominion is in a flourishing condition. A feature of the market for gold is that all sales to the Royal Mint, Ottawa, are paid for in New York funds.

Ontario credited with being the premier gold producing province and during the past six months produced 73.5 per cent of the entire Canadian production. British Columbia ranked second with 2.9 per cent, and the Yukon third with 3.3 per cent. Quebec, Manitoba and Nova Scotia together produced 0.3 per cent.

During the first six months of this year the Royal Mint received 396,391.33 ounces, gross weight, of precious metals. Of this amount the precious metal contents was 308,911.091 ounces of fine gold and 51,671.66 ounces of fine silver.

BEAUTIFUL BERMUUDA.

(Montreal Gazette.)

One impression of Bermuda, gathered in conversation with Major-General McDougall, a resident at the Place Viger yesterday, was that of a little island, nineteen miles long, set up on the edge of the delight of visitors. It is coral-enclosed in the sun, due to the coral-limestone they are laid on, and there are no railways or factory smokestacks. The coral that the coral insects have reared for the delimitation of men.

There are no mountains, rivers or springs in Bermuda. The highest point is probably not more than 250 feet. And there is no forest there, other than a species of Juniper or cedar which the natives make dainty boxes, principally for traffic with the tourists, and walking sticks, also sold to those who happen along. The houses for their own use are built of coral blocks, and the general brightness of the prospect. In the towns, as elsewhere, the residents look after their own water supply, the sewerage being provided for by a very efficient system of septic tanks. At a point called Prospect, where the military barracks are situated, there is a huge water tank with a capacity of two million gallons. Little Need For Fuel.

In Bermuda there is little need for fuel for cooking, and oil is generally used for this purpose. Bermudians are not as subject to fire menace as people less fortunately situated from the point of view of a blizzard. An incident was mentioned by General McDougall suggesting that they are not as alertly prepared for it, either. A friend of his living in Hamilton discovered fire in his residence at five o'clock one morning. He went abroad in his pyjamas to see if he could find a fire extinguisher, but was unsuccessful. Finally he thought of trying aboard a steamer lying at the docks. He got one there and managed to get back soon enough to successfully extinguish the blaze.

The soil of Bermuda, though limited in area, is remarkably productive. It produces three crops a year. Potatoes, onions, celery, parsnips and other vegetables are raised and exported largely to New York. Bermuda is visited every year by United States tourists in large numbers and General McDougall says the people would like to see Canadians coming along also. With its wonderful coral grottoes and the general delight it has to offer to the eye, he says, Bermuda is well worth a visit from those who seek pleasure and recreation in traveling abroad.

CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has just issued a second edition of the Directory of the Chemical Industries in Canada, listing the names, addresses and products of over eight hundred Canadian firms manufacturing chemicals, or other products in which the processes used are essentially dependent upon the agency of chemical change.

The first edition of this publication issued two years ago met with such cordial reception that within a few weeks the entire supply was exhausted. Since then, the subject matter has been entirely revised and added to so that the present edition three hundred new names appear.

FORGET YOUR TROUBLES. WORK

"Sleep knits up the raveled sleeve of care," wrote the Bard of Avon. Work is just as good a knitter, according to Brig. Gen. Charles E. Lawyer, in Forbes Magazine. He says: "You can't overwork. God Almighty intended this wonderful mechanism called the human body to work. It is working all the time. Did you ever think of that?"

"Think of it once more! This heart of yours pumps, seventy-two times a minute, from the moment that it takes its first breath until it dies, at fifty years or sixty years or a hundred. It pumps 4,320 times an hour, 103,680 times a day.

"Everything in us is constructed to work. Everything in us is constructed to carry big loads, big burdens.

"This human hand—it's a masterpiece of mechanics. This spinal column—it's constructed to hold your body up, and teams of horses pulling in opposite directions could scarcely pull it apart.

"God intended us to work. He made it necessary for us to work. Whether you know it or not, your day's work lights up the glad side of your ledger. And idleness is loss.

"The happiest moments in the life of a man are those in which he is at his best intellectually and physically working at high speed with the greatest necessity for good judgment and quick action. Then, if he has troubles, he forgets them in the exhilaration of the hour. Whether he knows it or not, his actual everyday employment, is his biggest boon to happiness."

THOSE WHO MAY
VOTE IN COMING
FEDERAL ELECTION

The inauguration of a general election campaign directs attention to the franchise and its operation, to the citizen's rights as an elector and the manner in which he will be called upon to exercise those rights says the Montreal Gazette. The election to be held this fall will see the first general application of the new, or remodelled, Dominion Electors Act, and it is possible that some uncertainty may prevail as to the manner and extent in which the position of the elector is affected by the provisions of that act. There is, or ought to be, no room for confusion in this respect; the act as amended embodies the same fundamental principle as was contained in preceding legislation, that of what is virtually universal suffrage. This has been known in Canada as manhood suffrage, the right to vote being enjoyed, theoretically, by all adult males, but the extension of the franchise to include women upon practically equal terms with men, renders the term "universal suffrage" more appropriate. The fact that women will have the right to vote in all provinces necessitates the preparation of what will be substantially new lists, and will add, incidentally, to the expense of the election.

The voters' lists for federal purposes are based upon the provincial lists, provided the latter are not more than two years old. In this province the provincial lists are those of the municipalities and are revised, either annually or bi-annually, by the municipal authorities under statutory direction. These lists will be employed in the coming election as far as they go, but as being based upon the manhood principle, and not upon the manhood suffrage principle, and does not accord to women the right to vote, very considerable amendments will have to be made. This will be done by the voters' lists for federal purposes.

The qualification of electors under the provisions of the Dominion Elections Act requires that every voter, whether male or female, shall be:
(a) A British subject;
(b) Twenty-one years of age;
(c) Shall have ordinarily resided in Canada for one year immediately preceding the date of the issue of the writ of election;

(d) Shall have ordinarily resided in the electoral district for the two months immediately preceding that date; and
(e) Is not expressly denied the right to vote.

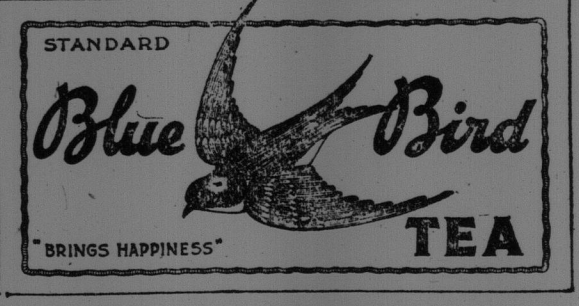

A British subject, under the act, means one who:
(a) Was born in any of His Majesty's Dominions or on a British ship, whether of alien parentage or not; or
(b) Was born elsewhere of a father who, at the time of the child's birth, was a British subject either by birth or naturalization; or
(c) Has been either granted a certificate of naturalization in Canada, Great Britain or any of His Majesty's Dominions; or
(d) Has had his name included in any such certificate granted to a parent; or
(e) Is the wife or unmarried widow of a British subject by birth or naturalization; or
(f) Is the child of a person naturalized in Canada, otherwise than under the Imperial Naturalization Act, and was, at the time of the child's birth, naturalized and before he or she became twenty-one years of age, resident in Canada with the naturalized parent.

It has been pointed out that the expression "ordinarily resided" has no technical meaning, but the qualification as regards either residence in the Dominion or in a particular constituency, rests upon the fact of the individual having had a personal or family home in the place in which he has lived, or from which he has been merely temporarily absent, or upon his having actually lodged for two months in the constituency.

Those who may not vote include election employees who are paid out of other than public funds; patients in lunatic asylums; persons wholly or partly supported by public charity in municipal poor houses or houses of industry; persons supported in provincial charitable institutions and persons disfranchised for corrupt or illegal practices.

In view of the existing inequality between the provincial and federal franchises in this province and the resultant inadequacy of the provincial lists for Dominion purposes, great importance attaches to the registration of voters. The man or woman whose name does not appear in the voters' list on polling day, does not vote, however well qualified and bona fide absentee. In either case the means whereby individuals who are entitled to vote in Dominion elections, but whose names have been omitted from the provincial lists, may have their names recorded. As the franchise is not compulsory, so neither is registration, but as the exercise of the franchise is not less a duty than a privilege, those who are entitled to have their names recorded in the lists should avail themselves of the opportunity which registration affords.

Registration booths will be opened in the various electoral divisions immediately following the issue of the writ of election. Application for registration may then be made, either by the voter personally, or by a relative or employer on his behalf, provided he cannot attend personally because of sickness, disability or bona fide absence. In either case the registrar will put to the applicant, after swearing him, a set of questions prescribed by statute, as follows:
(1) Where is your ordinary residence?
(2) Have you, on application made by you or on your behalf, been registered as a voter in any other polling division in this election?
(3) Are you a British subject in Canada by birth or naturalization?
(4) Are you of the full age of twenty-one years?
(5) Have you ordinarily resided in Canada for the twelve months immediately before (the date of the issue of the writ)?
(6) Have you ordinarily resided in this electoral district for the two months immediately before the said day, etc?

(7) Are you within any of the classes of persons who lack qualification or are disqualified by reason of appointment as a judge, employment for pay or reward in reference to the election, place of birth, race, crime, mental incapacity, or disfranchisement for corrupt or illegal practices?
If these questions are answered satisfactorily (the questions put to the relative or employer being substantially similar), the full name of the voter is taken and entered, together with his address and occupation.
Following the registration of voters, the lists are revised by officials appointed for that purpose, after copies have been posted in conspicuous places, municipal buildings, etc. Any person may apply to the revising officer to have his name added to the lists, whether he has applied for registration or not, and persons who have been refused registration by registrars may appeal to the revising officer against the refusal, or so make his own mistakes, if any, corrected in this revision, and anybody else may apply for the removal of names after proper notice has been given.
The sittings of the revising officers begin on the twenty-first day before the day of polling, and continue for six consecutive work days.
The procedure, while it appears to be more or less elaborate and complicated when regarded as a whole, is simple enough as it affects the individual voter. The status of the latter is clearly defined by law and his or her rights as an elector carefully and fully protected.

300 FROM ARMENIA
BARRED OUT BY LAW

Classed as Turks Because Their Nation Has Not the Power to Issue Passports.

Three hundred Armenians, mostly women and children coming to join relatives and young women intending to be married, are held on Ellis Island for deportation because of an alleged technical flaw in the law or its interpretation which operates to stop Armenian immigration entirely, according to George H. Topakyan, general secretary of the Armenian Immigrant Welfare Society.
These Armenians are refugees from Turkish rule, according to Mr. Topakyan. Most of them have had relatives massacred by Turks and many of the women have suffered at the hands of the Turks, said Topakyan, who predicted that they would commit suicide in large numbers if compelled to return to Turkey.
"Four young Armenian women have thrown themselves overboard and drowned at Ellis Island this year, because they were in danger of being deported into the hands of the Turks," he added.
No Armenians have been admitted this month, although they are entitled to enter at the rate of 318 a month under the new law, said Mr. Topakyan. He attributed their exclusion to a strange blunder in the law or its interpretation. Although 318 Armenians a month have the abstract right to enter this country, they are being denied this privilege because they cannot produce Armenian passports, but only Turkish passports and are refused admittance according to Mr. Topakyan, on the ground that they are Turks and that the quota of Turkish immigrants has been exhausted.
"If these Armenians are deported it will be one of the most tragic blunders ever committed in the history of this country," said Mr. Topakyan. "They arrived here on the second of this month. On looking at their passports, the immigration officers said: 'You'll have to turn around and go back to Turkey. Turkish quota is already exceeded this month.'"
"But these are not Armenians. They are Turks! We explained that de Turk had driven the Armenians out of all parts of the Turkish Empire, that there had been no Armenian nation during the period of 500 years, and that almost all the Armenians were under Turkish rule and should be counted against the Armenian quota, regardless of the fact that they came with Turkish passports.

WHEN AUSTRIA WAS READY TO QUIT

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
One of the most sensational letters to be made public in the course of the war was undoubtedly that addressed to "My dear Sixte," Prince Sixte, by the Emperor Charles of Austria. The prince was a loyal Frenchman, but happened to be the brother of the Empress Austria. He and Charles were on excellent terms, and when Austria concluded that it might be possible to withdraw from the war, it was to Sixte that the emperor appealed to begin the negotiations. The correspondence between them and chronicles of the personal interviews of representatives of Austria and those of the Allies have been published in book form by Constable, London. One who reads them is likely to come to the conclusion that the war might have ended many months before it did had real statesmen been conducting the negotiations. Prince Sixte frankly put to the emperor the blame for continuing the struggle upon Ribot of France, Sonnino of Italy and Czernin of Austria. He has the warmest praise for Poincaré and Lloyd George, and says that had their broad grasp and reasonable spirit been shared by the others, Austria would have been easily defeated from Germany a year and a half before the end came.

RECENT DEATHS

Laura McDonald
The death of Laura, youngest daughter of the late Edward and Sarah McDonald, occurred suddenly at her home, 142 Prince Edward street, yesterday. Miss McDonald leaves to mourn two brothers, Edward J. and James, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Edward Walsh, of this city, and Mrs. George Proud, of New Hampshire. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

O'Brien and Spellman Held Responsible By The Jury

Inquest Into Death of Albert Norris Completed Last Night—O'Brien's Written Confession Admitted in Evidence—Text of Statement.

The coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into the manner in which Albert Norris, of Barnsville, came to his death in this city on September 9, brought in a verdict last evening in which it held man responsible and the death to be a fracture of the skull. O'Brien recounted his story as given in his written confession. Bayard Vanwart told of being with O'Brien and Spellman on the night of the tragedy in Bows' store and of them giving him a drink a whiskey. He said both were quite drunk. He did not think he associated the two men with the fact of Norris' death.

H. Harry Driscoll told of selling whiskey on prescription to Norris. In response to a question O'Brien said he had heard that Spellman was shell-shocked. O'Brien was represented by W. M. Ryan, Spellman by G. E. Logan, and J. King Kelley appeared for the Norris family. After the coroner had summed up the evidence the jury retired for about thirty-five minutes when they returned with the following verdict: The verdict in full follows:

"We, the jury empaneled to inquire into the death of Albert Norris, do find that the said Albert Norris came to his death in the morning of the ninth day of September in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and twenty-one, in the St. John Public Hospital, in the city of St. John, province of New Brunswick, from the effects of a violent blow in the head, causing a fracture at the base of the skull.

"We further find the blow was struck in a yard off Erin street in the evening of the eighth, same month and year as before mentioned, while the deceased was in the company of Edward Patrick O'Brien and James Thomas Spellman.

"And we further find that the said Edward P. O'Brien and James Thomas Spellman, acting together, aiding and abetting each other, are responsible for the death of the said Albert Norris.

The text of O'Brien's written confession made on the day of his arrest is as follows:

"I, Edward Patrick O'Brien, of 103 Erin street, age 20, on the night of Thursday, Sept. 8, left home about six o'clock and went to the corner of Hanover and Erin streets and met Thomas Spellman and Louis Daley. We went down to Haymarket square opposite the exhibition grounds, but did not go in. On our trip down he told me not to tell anybody what happened the other night. I told him I would not. We sat down near the track at the exhibition grounds and talked. Referring to the murder, he said, 'I see by the paper they have not got any clue to who did the murder.' He said, 'I did not mean to hit the old fellow so hard; I don't think I will ever get out of this jail.' We talked about work, etc. We returned back by the back shore, and I left Spellman at Clarence street and went home. 'I have not seen Spellman since. In Ryan's yard on Erin street it was very dark. We were standing about three or four feet from the sidewalk when Norris was hit. I had stepped to the sidewalk to watch for police or inspectors. Just at this time was when I heard the crash, and as I stepped back I saw Norris lying on the ground. The bottle had rolled out and I picked it up and ran, followed by Spellman.

CHASE IN BURGLARY LIKE COMEDY FILM

Negro Knocks Over Baby Carriage, Women Pursue, Ladder and Painters Fall on Him.

(New York Times.)

The list of property crimes reported in New York and vicinity yesterday included a burglary chase on the West side, a safe robbery and a burglary at 149th Street and Third Avenue and hold-ups in Bayville, L. I., and Hackensack, N. J. A six-foot negro was locked up at the end of the burglar chase, which had some of the comic aspects of an old-fashioned movie scene. William W. Wood, superintendent of an apartment house at 229 West 109th Street, went out yesterday afternoon, leaving his apartment in the basement locked. He returned to find the apartment open and a negro stacking clothes and valuables on a bed. The loot included $500 in cash and Liberty bonds.

The negro dashed out and stumbled over a baby carriage. The infant was unhurt, but an irate mother joined Wood in pursuit. Others chased the negro, who had run in and out of a traffic jam consisting of frightened mothers with baby carriages and many children. The man ran through 109th Street and turned down Broadway Avenue. When he reached 104th Street, a street cleaner, warned by the noise, pushed his cart in front of the negro. The fugitive tripped and sprawled but jumped up again and kept on.

By this time Wood was blowing a police whistle and scores were chasing the negro. He ran into a hallway, but it was occupied by two painters and a scaffold. He fell against the scaffold, which collapsed on him, bringing the painters down on top of the pile. Still fighting for liberty, the negro struggled out of the tangle and got into the back yard. He turned into the first open door, but when he emerged he was back on Amsterdam Avenue, facing the open arms of the crowd and Detective Edward Fitzgerald of the West 109th Street Station. The negro said that he was Joseph King of 20 West 134th

LEAVES MONEY FOR USE IN 2021

Boston, Sept. 20—An old square Colonial house, in the shadow of Bunker Hill Monument, with its entrance at the side and its deep yard thick with trees and shrubbery, tells at least part of the story of the late Alfred V. Lincoln, old Charlestown resident, whose will filed in the Probate Office provides a fund, to become available in the year 2021, to plant shade trees in Charlestown streets.

Mr. Lincoln, who died in August at the age of 69, was one of the outstanding men of Charlestown and the owner of much real estate in that district. He was a trustee of the Charlestown Five Cent Savings Bank. He had lived in Charlestown since he was 18 years of age most of this time in the old "Adams house" at 28 Cordis street, his home when he died and now the residence of Mrs. Ida H. Lincoln, his widow.

The income from the $7,500, which his will directs shall be placed at the disposal of the city for the planting of more trees in Charlestown streets, will not become available, according to the stipulation, until the year 2021, because it is specified that the sum shall not be set aside until 10 years after his death, and then the income is to be allowed to accumulate for 90 years before it can be touched.

The will specifies that the "Lincoln shade trees" are not to be planted in the squares of Charlestown, but in the streets, and each tree must bear a metallic tag to distinguish it.

No one now living, it is presumed, can expect to enjoy the shade of these trees. However, there is another bequest of $1,000 to the city, which the income is made available for planting trees, particularly on the westerly side of Cordis street, where Mr. Lincoln lived.

He leaves his wife and several children. The bulk of his estate, estimated at half a million dollars, goes to charity.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

In Halifax yesterday customs officials raided and seized the Royal Mail Steam Packet steamer Chignecto. They found two five-gallon tins of overproof rum and twenty-four bottles of the same liquor in the quarters of the colored crew. The customs officer in charge said he did not believe the officials of the ship, who gave all assistance possible in the search, knew of the presence of the liquor on the steamer.

A sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary imposed on Charles Dimoff, a Greek who pleaded guilty to wounding his wife on February 25 last was changed yesterday in Montreal to one of three years. The presiding judge said he was under the impression that the accused had pleaded guilty to attempted manslaughter whereas he had pleaded guilty only to wounding.

Roscoe Arbuckle, on trial for causing the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, and his wife, from whom he had been separated for more than four years have effected a reconciliation. Mrs. Arbuckle visited her husband at the city prison in San Francisco yesterday. The actor's mother-in-law and brother also were present.

Jesse C. Scott, a lumber cutter, who has been in prison since March 14, 1920, at Dover-Foxcroft, Maine, for the killing of Robert C. Moore, formerly of Montreal, will be released. He had been convicted on a charge of first degree murder but was granted a new trial. The prosecuting attorney has decided to let the matter drop.

HIS BROKEN NECK IS WHOLE AGAIN

Remarkable Recovery of a Hamilton Man from Driving Accident.

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 20—Completely recovered from a broken neck, H. S. Ayres, of the Meriden Britannia Company, was able to leave the City Hospital. His remarkable progress was due to the skill of Dr. J. K. McGregor, one of Hamilton's most successful surgeons, who attended him from the time of the accident.

Mr. Ayres was diving two months ago, into the lake, and struck his head. He was found to have a broken neck and practically no hopes were entertained for his recovery. After several days in a plaster of Paris cast, Mr. Ayres began to gain strength, and his condition improved until he made a complete recovery. His case is probably the most remarkable in the history of the city. So far as is known it is the first recovery of its kind here and one of the very few reported in Canada.

MARRIES AT THE DEATHBED OF HER MOTHER

Miss Helen N. Bogart hurriedly weds Henry G. W. Parmele in Her New Brighton Home.

New York, Sept. 20.—Miss Helen North Bogart was married to Henry Gilbert Woodruff Parmele at the deathbed of her mother, Mrs. Antoinette N. Bogart, at her home, 106 Hamilton avenue, New Brighton, S. I. Mrs. Bogart died a few minutes after the ceremony. The arrangements for the marriage were made very hurriedly as death approached, and it was Mrs. Bogart's wish that the ceremony be solemnized before she died. She had been in ill health for a year following the death of her husband, William Russell Bogart. Miss Bogart and Mr. Parmele had been engaged for about a year, but had delayed their marriage owing to the continued illness of Mrs. Bogart. The families are neighbors, Mr. Parmele residing at 102 Hamilton avenue. He is the son of Charles Roome Parmele. Only a few of the immediate relatives and intimate friends were able to reach the house after word had been sent out that the marriage was to take place. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. R. Mansfield. It was just eight minutes after the young couple had been pronounced man and wife that the mother breathed her last.

Mrs. Bogart came originally from Providence, R. I. Her late husband was connected with the American Exchange National Bank of this city. The funeral services will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock, and the interment will be private.

CHILD ELECTROCUTED WHILE TAKING BATH

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 20.—Robert Fox, five, aged six, died two hours after he was knocked unconscious by a powerful electric current which passed through his little body while his mother was giving him a bath. The child was standing in the bathtub, when his mother stepped out to get the room. The room was darkened by an approaching storm, and the boy reached up to turn the light on. When the tip of his fingers touched the electric fixtures he fell prostrate in the half-filled tub. At one time the physician believed the unconscious lad was reviving, but his life flickered out.

HAT SMASHERS COURT WORKHOUSE

Magistrate Says He Will Deal Severely With Those Who Destroy Straw Headgear.

(New York Times.)
Straw-hat smashers who come before Magistrate Francis X. McQuade will have opportunity to get playful in the workhouse. The magistrate made this clear when the first of the straw hat destroyers appeared in Men's Night Court.
George Seamon of 661 Washington street was arraigned on complaint of Policeman Stephen Connolly of the Charles street station. The officer said that he was riding on an Eighth street cross-town car last night when he observed a group of young men snatching hats at Washington street and West Tenth street. Connolly said that he saw Seamon reach through the window of an Eighth street car and lift the straw hat from the head of an elderly man. The policeman testified that he chased Seamon for two blocks and caught him just as the young man was about to kick the hat into the street. Magistrate McQuade fined him $5, with the alternative of five days in the workhouse.
"I regard this hat-smashing as a serious piece of business," said the magistrate, "and I intend to act accordingly in the future. Many men who are poor cannot afford to buy derbies or soft hats and continue to wear their straw hats. If anybody comes before me and the evidence indicates that the straw hat was smashed with a stick or the like I'll personally make a charge of felonious assault against the defendant. I'll send them to the workhouse."

SIX GENERATIONS OF ONE FAMILY

Cree Indians' Aggregate Ages Amount to 342 Years.

The Pas, Man., Sept. 20.—Six generations of one family, whose aggregate ages amount to 342 years, have been discovered at Nelson House. They belong to the Cree tribe of Indians and were photographed at the payment of treaty in July. It is believed that this establishes a record, at least among the Indians of Canada.
The names and relationship of the family follows: Sarah Donkey, aged 112; Caroline Spence, aged ninety, daughter; John Donkey, aged seventy, grandson; Ina Spence, aged forty-four, great-granddaughter; Sarah Donkey, aged twenty-two, great-great-granddaughter; Jennina Donkey, aged two, great-great-great-granddaughter.
Sarah Donkey the first, was born at York Factory of full-blooded Cree parents. She retains possession of all her faculties excepting her eyesight, which is failing. To attend treaty, she travelled in a canoe for 150 miles and lived in a tepee for three weeks while the treaty festivities were on.

EUGENE O'BRIEN IN FINE PICTURE

"Worlds Apart" at the Imperial Very Rich and Classy — Splendid Special Reels.

In Eugene O'Brien's newest picture he is once again the society gentleman and thoroughbred. He has never played to better advantage than in "Worlds Apart," which opened at the Imperial theatre yesterday.
Hugh Leyard, a young fellow with faith in the goodness of mankind, he is very appealing. His faith shattered by the girl he loves when she marries a man with more money, he harbors a grudge against the world and determines to do something to hurt. He rescues a girl who has jumped into a river with the intent of killing herself, and these two, with the distrust of mankind uppermost in their minds, marry. They agree to live together and present a brave front to those who have wronged them. However, Hugh is in darkness as to his wife's past. Astonishing facts are unearthed when a servant in their house is accused of having killed a guest, a rough, uncouth upstart.
The mystery is cleared in a unique manner, and the principals settle down to a life of happiness, having recognized their love for each other.
Director Alan Crosland has made the most of the John Lynch story and has brought out the theme in a very attractive and interesting manner. Mr. O'Brien is assisted by some of the screen's celebrities, among whom are Olive Tell, W. H. Tooker, Florence Billings, Arthur Housman, Louise Prussing and Warren Cook.
The whole programme was of the most enjoyable quality, and with the British-Canadian Pathé News and Topics of the Day, to say nothing of the fine orchestral music all the while, the evening passed delightfully. The same bill is on today, but tomorrow Wally Reid, the good-looking matinee hero, in "Always Audacious," will be the main feature, backed up by a Buster Keaton comedy in two reels on Friday and Saturday Charles Read's English sea tale, "Foul Play," is to be shown. It is a British Mastercraft production.

UNIQUE HAS AN ABSORBING DRAMA

Carmel Myers has a thrill for every temperament at the Unique Theatre, where she began her local engagement last night in "The Kiss," her most recent Universal photodrama from a fascinating romance of old California, by Johnston McCully.
The story was originally printed in novel form as "Little Erolinda." The director has taken pains to establish the romantic atmosphere of old California, and the first few sequences are devoted to that end. One sees the languorous hacienda where dwells the daughter of the administrator of the rancho; then a brilliant fiesta to celebrate the return of the old don's son from his conquests abroad and finally a thrilling drama which develops when the gallant young caballero falls in love with the lovely but charming daughter of his father's ranch superintendent.
Those who love beautiful women will see them in "The Kiss" in profusion; but none of them is quite as lovely as Miss Myers herself. Jean Acker, playing the second feminine lead, is a close second, however, for looks.
For those who like to see a dashing big caballero in action, there is William E. Lawrence in the principal masculine role. He is in fact and furious encounter from the instant of his appearance on the screen.
Picturesque moonlight scenes, the serenity of hundreds of hot-blooded sons of Spain, a spectacular dance in the old hacienda and the wild night ride of the vaqueros to avenge the supposed death of their young chieftain, give the story a fast tempo, which is sustained until the unexpected climax shows that a marriage is inevitable.
George Periolat, P. J. Lockney, Harvey Clarke and Edward Brady appear in interesting characterizations in Miss Myers' support and help to establish "The Kiss" as one of the season's most entertaining productions.

CALLS ISSUED FOR FOOTBALL PLAYERS

It begins to look as if senior Rugby football may be played in St. John this fall if a suitable field can be obtained. W. E. Stirling, the Y. M. C. Y. physical director, has issued an open invitation for all former players and those interested in the game to meet at the Y. M. C. Y. in Cliff street this evening at 8 o'clock to see what can be done towards getting a team in the field. The St. John Hockey and Athletic club has also called a reorganization meeting for this evening and it was said last night that this association would consider the formation of a team in order to have two local opponents in the field from which, should occasion arise, a team might be picked to represent the city against outside clubs and college teams.

Envy your friend's sound sleep won't get you the sleep you need. Watch what he drinks and ask him the reason why

You can't help noticing the man who comes down to the office in the morning with ruddy cheeks and clear sparkling eyes—full of energy, and eager for the tasks of the day.

He is physically "fit"—and can do twice the amount of work the average person can do, without becoming fatigued.

If you go out to lunch with this man you'll notice that probably he avoids tea and coffee, though he may drink Postum—the well-known and delicious beverage, satisfying in flavor.

This is the secret of his superb health. He isn't putting the drugs from tea or coffee into his system three times every day. As a consequence he sleeps like a healthy baby all night. His sleep refreshes and rests him. He has perfect control of his nerves.

Do not delay another day in starting back on the road to robust health. The rich, delightful flavor of Postum will surprise and please you.

Order Postum from your Grocer today. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for ten days and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

EX-CONSTABLE IS GIVEN FIVE YEARS FOR ARSON

Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 20.—Charles R. Veale, harness maker, of Springford, and former constable for the district, has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment in Kingston by Judge Wallace on a charge of arson. Veale, who had been in poor health since his arrest refused to leave the cell, and so the trial was held inside the jail. Two charges were laid against him, one of setting fire to a house on the farm of Eli Barnum at Springford on August 4, and another of sending threatening letters to the manager of the Otter Mutual Insurance Co. and to several farmers in the district. Veale pleaded guilty to both charges.

Mrs. T. H. Vincent last night received reports of the tea room which the institute conducted at the exhibition. Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor, the president, was in the chair. All the details of the financing of the tea room were gone into and the meeting was gratified at the excellent returns of the venture.

Fire broke out in the coal storage yard of the C. P. R. at Bay Shore on Saturday and since then a gang of men have been making strenuous efforts to extinguish it with the aid of two tank cars, each of 45,000 gallon capacity. The fire was burning underneath the coal and was not visible. It was reported last night that it was under control but that no chances were being taken and a guard had been placed at the scene.

Knew His Business.

Bill was a politician of the ward heeler type, and a fairly successful one. For years he had been content to accept such crumbs of patronage as the organization saw fit to give him. Then, all of a sudden, his life developed ambitions and decided that Bill ought to be a member of Congress. There was nothing for Bill to do but to go and see the boss about it.

The boss listened patiently to his arguments, but was unconvinced. "You've done good work for the party, Bill," he admitted, "and I'd like to help you, but this Congress thing is not in your line. You haven't got the class, and you haven't got the education. Where would you be when some of those highbrows down there began to talk to you about political economy? You don't even know what it is."

"I don't, hey?" retorted Bill angrily.

"You just show me a guy that gets the votes any cheaper than I do."-Isaac Anderson, in Judge.

Here's Your Chance to Save Money on Lumber

A careful survey of the Lumber market has convinced us that prices have struck bottom, and an advance is certain in the near future. There is already a stiffening; certain sizes are off the market; others have been marked up in the United States, notably 2 by 8. This is especially true of rough lumber, also of doors and trim.

BUY NOW and head off high prices as far as you are concerned.

SOME TAXES IN LONDON LOWER

London, Sept. 20-(Canadian Press)-A gleam of comfort has appeared for the majority of the London ratepayers whose rates have steadily risen since the war. Reductions varying from two pence to a shilling in the pound are recommended by nineteen out of twenty-nine metropolitan boroughs for the ensuing six months.

SUIT OVER PAVING WORK IN HALIFAX

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 20-A suit by the Canadian Bituminous Paving Corporation against the City of Halifax for $100,000, said by the plaintiffs to be damages out of an alleged breach of contract by the city, was opened yesterday before R. T. McIlreath, special referee. It is over Halifax street paving.

CHANGE OF WATER WAS THE CAUSE OF DIARRHOEA

People moving from place to place are very much subject to diarrhoea on account of the change of water, climate, diet, etc. Prompt treatment with DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY in such cases relieves the pain, checks the diarrhoea, and thus does away with the suffering, the weakness and often-times collapse associated with an attack of this kind. It does this by checking the too frequent and irritating stools, settling the stomach and bracing up the weakened system, thus rendering it without a peer for the treatment of all bowel complaints of both old and young. Mrs. Ernest S. Beaton, Grayburn, Sask., writes: "Coming out here from the East, my two little girls took very sick, the change of water, etc., giving them diarrhoea. They were so pale, and used to vomit everything they would take, so I finally got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and I must say it certainly helped them. I have also used it when my children were teething and it is all you claim for it." Seventy-six years' reputation stands behind this remedy. Price, 50c a bottle. Put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MONCTON PERSONALS.

(Moncton Transcript) Mrs. C. A. Murray returned home on Saturday evening, after an absence of some months, which she spent in Los Angeles, California, and in Tacoma, visiting Yellowstone Park, New York and Boston en route home. Mrs. Alan Mann is spending a few days in town with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Clarke. Mr. Mann is at present in Fredericton, but will return here this week and with Mrs. Mann will proceed to Halifax, in which city they will make their home. Mrs. McTearish, of Newcastle, who is en route to spend the winter in Boston with relatives, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Gilbert DeMille, Dominion street. Miss Tennant, R. N., of New York, city the guest of her brother, F. M. Tennant.

CHANGE OF WATER WAS THE CAUSE OF DIARRHOEA

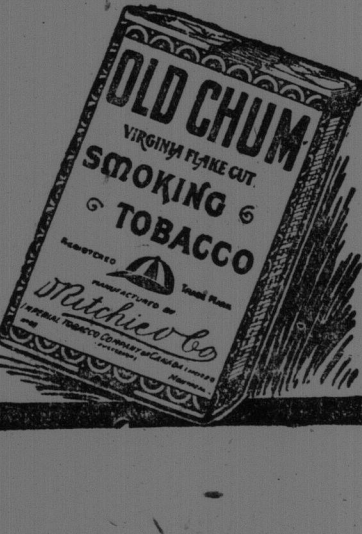

People moving from place to place are very much subject to diarrhoea on account of the change of water, climate, diet, etc. Prompt treatment with DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY in such cases relieves the pain, checks the diarrhoea, and thus does away with the suffering, the weakness and often-times collapse associated with an attack of this kind. It does this by checking the too frequent and irritating stools, settling the stomach and bracing up the weakened system, thus rendering it without a peer for the treatment of all bowel complaints of both old and young. Mrs. Ernest S. Beaton, Grayburn, Sask., writes: "Coming out here from the East, my two little girls took very sick, the change of water, etc., giving them diarrhoea. They were so pale, and used to vomit everything they would take, so I finally got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and I must say it certainly helped them. I have also used it when my children were teething and it is all you claim for it." Seventy-six years' reputation stands behind this remedy. Price, 50c a bottle. Put up only by The T. FOKKER TRIES OUT NEW MONOPLANE Machine Designed for Use in America — Completed in Holland, Also a Novel Instruction Plane.

The Hague, Sept. 18.—A trial flight of Fokker's latest invention, the F-4 monoplane, which, it is said, has been constructed especially for use in America, and for which many orders already have been received from a large American company, has been made.

Since his trip to America, Fokker apparently has become very ambitious. He has started a large, new factory at Vreth, and parts formerly made in Germany will be constructed in Holland.

The F-4 is the first machine made entirely in this factory. It has a 400-horsepower Liberty motor, and the pilot's seat is next to the motor, affording a good view.

The benzine tank holds 450 litres, sufficient for a six-hour trip. It is constructed at such a height that the benzine will flow naturally without pumping or air pressure.

Fokker has just turned out a new instruction plane in which teacher and pupil sit side by side and are able to converse and demonstrate a double steering wheel. This machine also is for America. It is equipped with a Curtiss motor of ninety-horsepower and can fly with an auxiliary motor.

MEN'S COLLARS TO BE LOWER IN PRICE, NOT STYLE But Old Fifteen-Cent, Two-for-a-Quarter Days Have Not Yet Returned.

Men's collars, like women's skirts, are to be lower this season. That is, the price is to lower, says the New York Times.

A reduction of more than four cents a collar, wholesale, has been put into effect by manufacturers of the three more popular brands, Cluett, Peabody & C., Earl & Wilson, and George P. Lile & Co., and collars which formerly sold at $2.10 a dozen, wholesale, are now quoted at $1.60.

While this means the wholesale price of a collar is now down to 13 1/3 cents, the old pre-war fifteen-cent collar, two for a quarter, has yet to put in an appearance over the retailer's counter. The prevailing retail price is twenty cents straight, while some dealers will part with four for seventy-five cents.

years ago an ulcer appeared on my ankle," writes Mrs. Jeffrey, of Methuen, Mass. "In spite of all the remedies I used, it spread to my knee, and developed into an open sore. I had medical treatment for twenty-five years, but only got temporary relief. The pain I suffered was terrible, and for years I was unable to leave the house.

"One day I saw in a newspaper an account of a bad ulcer having been cured by Zam-Buk. Although I was skeptical, now, of anything curing me—having tried so many remedies in vain—I decided to give Zam-Buk a trial. I applied the balm freely every day and to my delight the sore soon showed some improvement. Gradually the inflammation was drawn out, the pain was ended, and, after thirty years of suffering, I realized I was on the road to recovery.

Zam-Buk is the best remedy also, for eczema, boils, pimples, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, scalds and cuts. All dealers, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

CAN'T RUN BECAUSE OF HANNA'S ORDER

Renfrew, Sept. 20.—A. H. Johnston, Grand Trunk agent at Glasgow Station, and member of the telegraphers' union was endorsed by the Glasgow Station branch of the U. F. O. as candidate for the federal parliament.

Oyster died three months after his wedding, and the codicil was executed four days before his death. The widow charged the codicil was written because of undue influence or under duress at a time when her husband lacked testamentary capacity to execute such a document.

Mrs. Oyster was said to have been estranged from her husband and was not with him when he died.

SHORT CHANGE THE RAILWAY

Two London Conductors Have New Trick, but Plead Guilty.

London, Sept. 20.—William Watson and Alfred Britton, conductors employed by the London & Port Stanley Railway, appeared in the Police Court, charged with theft, the information having been laid by General Manager J. E. Richards. Both men pleaded guilty, and were remanded for sentence.

STOLEN POLICE AIRPLANE IS WRECKED IN FLIGHT

Chicago, Sept. 20.—An airplane which was part of the Evanston Police Department equipment, but was owned by W. C. Burnmeister, was stolen from his hangar by Frank Strand, who gave his address as Sioux City, Iowa.

The plane was found, badly damaged, on the Evanston Golf Club course this morning. Charles Heinz, a farmer living near by, reported that he helped disintegrate the aviator from the wreckage and took him to a doctor's office. Police arrested Strand, who admitted taking the plane.

MRS. OYSTER ATTACKS WILL

Washington, Sept. 20.—An action protesting the validity of the codicil to her husband's will by which she is given $25,000 in lieu of her dower rights to his estate was filed in the Probate Court here by Mrs. Cecile R. Oyster of Syracuse, N. Y., twenty-six-year-old widow of George M. Oyster, Jr., aged eighty-one.

Mr. Oyster died three months after his wedding, and the codicil was executed four days before his death. The widow charged the codicil was written because of undue influence or under duress at a time when her husband lacked testamentary capacity to execute such a document.

Mrs. Oyster was said to have been estranged from her husband and was not with him when he died.

Miss Ella Johnson Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"My trouble began as small pimples and in a few months they got worse and my forehead was just a mass of large pimples. They were hard and red and caused me to scratch, and I was disgusted for the time. They made me embarrassed when out in company. I tried sassafras tea but it was of no help. I saw a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and sent for a free sample. After using them I bought more, and when I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment for about a month I was completely healed." A PICTOU CO. BOY SHOT AND KILLED

Westville, N. S., Sept. 19.—Bruce Joyce, seven-year-old son of George Joyce and Mrs. Joyce, Westville, was shot and instantly killed when a rifle with which he and other children of the family were playing was discharged. The little fellow was struck by the bullet in the neck.

An unknown woman was borne through the rapids at Niagara Falls yesterday and carried over the falls. Her body was recovered soon after. In a purse found on the shore was the name "Mrs. Wyant," and an address in Buffalo. By this means the body may be identified.

CANDY MAKERS HAVE THE SWEETEST IDEA

They Just Want Everybody to Eat Candy — So They Would Set Aside October 8 to Give Sweet Tooths a Feast.

(New York Post) The lid is off the sugar bowl and the cup of molasses runneth over. Pass around the lollypops and give baby a heaping tablespoonful of soothing syrup.

Now, children, gather 'round and you shall hear the sweetest story that you ever sharpened your sweet-tooths on. It's all about the Sweetest Day in the Year, Candy Day, and you'll never guess who invented it—no, never, never, never. The Sugar Loaf Fairy? No. The Rock Candy Man? No. The Beet Sugar Giant, who lives 'way out West when he isn't in Washington fighting the Cane Sugar Dragon? No, try again. Sausy Jack Frost or Little Domino, who comes in two-pound cartons? Wrong again.

You'll never guess. The right answer is the National Confectioners' Association of the United States, 111 West Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

Think of all the happy holidays in the year — of Christmas, New Year's Day, the Fourth of July, Moving Day, Thanksgiving, the opening day of the World Series. The very thought of these may send a responsive thrill to the roots of your right upper sweet tooth, but they are as nothing compared to the gastronomic, not to say disaccharide, delights in store for one and all on October 8, the date set aside by the good fairy with the long name out in Chicago for the nationwide celebration of Candy Day.

Another lollypop, if you please. You see, the good fairy out in Chi. has been applying the sugar test to all the other holidays of the year and finds them underweight. They don't assay 100 per cent. saccharine. There is, he finds, always some bitter with the sweet, some sand in the sugar barrel of happiness.

No particular reason is given for setting October 8 as the date for the first Candy Day except that October 8 is Saturday, which enables all those who inadvertently swallow one too many gum drops to sort of rest up and get back to normal over Sunday.

GERMAN HOUSEWIVES BARRED AS LABOR UNION

Prussian Parliament Holds They Must Be Designated as Employers or Employees.

Berlin, Sept. 20.—The National Association of German Housewives has asked the Prussian Parliament to recognize it formally as a labor union, but the request has been denied because the organization's constitution failed to specify whether the housewives were employers or employees.

The rejection disclosed differences of opinion among the members of the various branches, some asserting that women who did their own housework were employees, while housewives having maids or other hired servants were employers.

Objection, particularly by peasant members, to classifying married women whose household duties were performed by servants as "professional wives," brought about an attempt to evade the issue by the use of the words "professional calling," instead of laborers, in the constitution.

The Parliamentary spokesman stated that "an organization must justify under the statutes by its activities the right to be designated as composed of professionals."

In relation to the association's activities, which extend virtually to all towns and hamlets, with thousands of members, there is much discussion as to whether an attempt will be made to enforce full demands by strikes, lock-outs or arbitration. It is even suggested that the ultra-radicals supersede the present conservative officials. There is a probability that husbands will be asked to put their wives on a salary and recognize woman's equality by sharing in the work of cooking, washing and caring for the children.

Why People With Weak Nerves and Thin Blood So Often Fail in Life and are trampled down by strong, keen, red-blooded men with nerves of steel.

Without strong nerves you lose your magnetism, force and courage. You feel your own weakness and others know that you are weak. Trifling things annoy you—this is a sure sign of nerve exhaustion.

Some people are born with a very small amount of neuro-vital fluid, because their nerve force has been squandered by the lives led by their ancestors. Others use up their nerve force faster than the body can make it.

When your nerve force becomes weakened, all the vital organs of your body lose their normal strength and vigor and as a result, all kinds of alarming symptoms may appear. From the pains across the back, one person thinks he has kidney trouble; another may think his spine is injured because of the tender spots which may occur thereon.

The dull, heavy pain in the lower part of head leads another to think he is going to have paralysis and from the disagreeable fullness or pressure in the front of his head, another feels he is going to die from high blood pressure.

Sleeplessness, nervous irritability, heart palpitation and indigestion are very common symptoms. Naturally your strength, vigor, endurance and brain power are all greatly weakened, and in such a condition you are in no position to compete with the strong, keen, red-blooded man with nerves of steel. When you lack nerve force, there is only one thing that is going to help you—and that is more nerve force. It is this most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron.

This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man. It also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. This form of iron will not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take. Nuxated Iron may therefore be termed both a blood and a nerve food as it feeds strength-giving iron to your blood and the principal chemical ingredient of active living nerve force to your brain and nerve cells.

Over four million people are using Nuxated Iron annually. From the remarkably beneficial results which it has produced, the manufacturers feel so certain of its efficacy that they guarantee satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package. Nuxated Iron for the blood and nerves is sold by all druggists.

An Unfailing Way To Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes) Ugly hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of depilatory and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about two minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real depilatory.

John Crombie, aged seventy years and a resident of Apohaqui, was struck by the Maritime Express at Sussex last evening and severely injured. He started to cross the track at the station in front of the train and received a bad cut in the head. It is said that he may recover.

Teeth You Love to Show

Find out how millions get them

This offer is to women who desire to look their best. To men who find that tobacco stains, etc., make their teeth look dingy. To young folks who know what beauty lies in glistening teeth.

It is to all who have learned that old methods are wrong. And that, despite the tooth brush, tooth discolor and decay.

Clouded by a film Teeth are clouded by a dingy film. At first it is viscous—you can feel it. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

Old ways of brushing do not effectively combat it. Much of the film remains. Then night and day it may do ceaseless damage. Most tooth troubles are now traced to film, and those troubles have been constantly increasing.

It is the film-coats that discolor, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles, local and internal.

Science combats it Dental science, after long research, has found ways to combat film. Able authorities have amply proved them. Now leading dentists, here and abroad, advise their daily use. These effective methods are embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Thus one may twice a day apply them in a most delightful way. Millions already do this, and to them it has brought a new era in teeth cleaning.

Three other effects Modern authorities find that a tooth paste should also bring other effects. This to cope with the average diet, rich in starch and low in fruit acids.

So Pepsodent stimulates the salivary flow—Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva—put there by Nature to digest starch deposits that cling. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva—Nature's neutralizer of the acids which cause decay.

These are natural results, but modern diet often fails to bring them. This tooth paste brings them, at least twice a day.

Note the white teeth Note the glistening teeth you see. Ask how people get them. You will find, we think, that most of them are due to Pepsodent.

But this is more than a question of beauty. Those whiter teeth mean cleaner, safer teeth. To young and old they mean better tooth protection.

It means more to children than adults. Young teeth are most easily attacked. Very few children escape. So dentists advise that Pepsodent be used from the time the first tooth appears.

Let one person try it in your home. Then show the results to all.

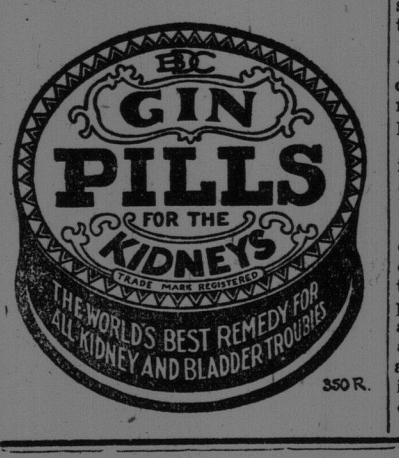

You'll quickly see The Pepsodent results are very quickly apparent. Some are almost instant. A ten-day test is usually convincing.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

The test will be a revelation. The book we send will explain each new effect. Then judge by results, and your scientific basis, what is best for you and yours. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

FEARS EXTINCTION OF WILD FLOWERS

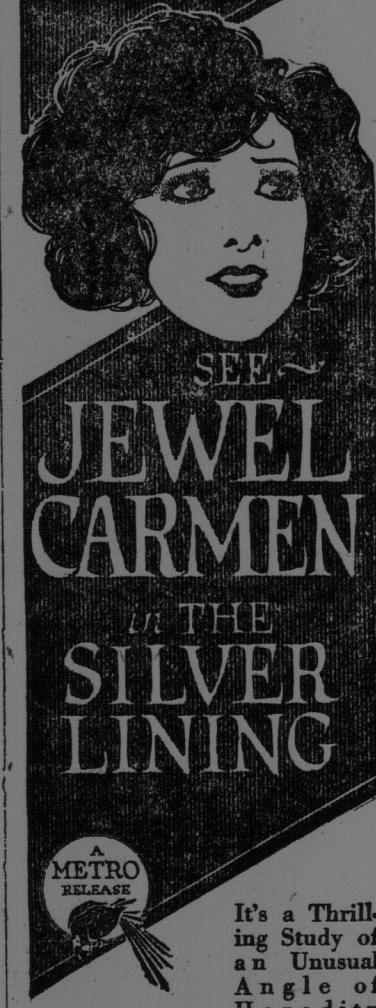

(New York Times.) Persons with large country estates who import trees, shrubs and flowers from all over the world would do their own country real service if they would start preserves for native wild plants and flowers which are in danger of extermination, says Dr. E. T. Wherry, Government chemist and crystallographer, of the Washington Bureau of Chemistry who gave an illustrated talk upon "How to Grow Wild Flowers," at the New York Botanical Garden lately.

The preservation of wild flowers and their cultivation has been a personal hobby with Dr. Wherry. He has applied chemical methods to the study of the soil and in the grounds of his suburban home in Washington many hundreds of wild flowers of the country have been made to feel at home. He emphasizes the fact that they are growing on what he calls a "suburban lot" to show that a large estate is not needed to grow them under satisfactory conditions. He exhibited yesterday afternoon slides of different wild plants, and told the conditions of soil required. "The Wild Flower Preservation Society is constantly increasing in size and forming chapters in many States," he said. "There are various ways to stop the destruction of wild flowers. Laws can be made, but they cannot be enforced to any extent, and that method is impractical and uneconomical. The society is taking up the education of children, which is worth while, and if people would make small preserves there

Is the Sailing Ship Coming Back?
(From The Chicago Tribune)
A great deal of the beauty and romance of the sea passed with the decline of the sailing ship. There is nothing aloft today not even an American cup winner, that could give the esthetic thrill of a clipper under full sail. As for speed, only a relatively few steam ships surpass even today the fastest of the clippers, which sometimes ran 350 knots in twenty-four hours.

The sailing ship gave way to the steamer because the latter was more reliable as to runs and was not hung up by calms or slowed down so much by head winds and gales, and finally could be operated in larger units. So it has been assumed that the sailing ship would be replaced forever. It survives, though chiefly under for and aft rig, but most ocean freight is carried by the steam driven vessel.

But not there is talk of the revival of the sailing ship as a carrier. The Suez and the Panama canals have shortened the world routes materially, coal is becoming a more expensive fuel, and oil is not cheap. So there are interesting proposals for a return to sails. Of course there would be great improvements. The rig would be fore and aft instead of the old square sails, and there would be machinery for handling and auxiliary in case of calms.

A naval architect of standing has come forward with a design of this kind making use of the Diesel engine, steel wire running gear, and electricity for lighting and heating. American ships have been operating with as many as seven masts and the use of power would permit the operation of large units with a comparatively small crew.

In long voyages, carrying freight from the Far East to America and Europe, such ships would make good time and would be cheaper to operate than the coal burner. The problem is not a simple one, but it is by no means improbable that commerce can make profitable use once more of the cheap power supplied by nature in the great trade winds.

The fore-and-aft will never match the beauty of the square rigged clipper, but with the aid of auxiliary machinery it can be made safer and far more comfortable. In such case men of the white races may be more willing to follow the sea than they have been since modern industry has made it possible to live on terra firma with the aid of good wages. Something at least, of the old charm of the sailing ship may yet be recovered for the romantic and without a return of the miseries and dangers of the older sea dog's existence.

FOR MEN OF NAVY.

A meeting of the Navy League was held yesterday afternoon at which plans for the entertainment of the men of the Canadian navy who are coming here were discussed. The programme was not definitely decided upon, but every effort will be made to give the men a good time while they are in port.

TO WED ST. JOHN GIRL.

Moncton Transcript: Antoine J. Leger, formerly of the Moncton C. N. R. offices, now of the Quebec offices, is in the city. Mr. Leger will soon be a principal in an interesting event which will take place in St. John. He is being warmly welcomed in Moncton. Recently the bride-to-be, Miss Nellie Alexander, St. John, was tendered a variety shower at 110 St. James street.

THE REFERENDUM.

A meeting of the temperance workers of Fairville was held last evening in the Fairville Methodist church. Rev. Wm. Townshend was in the chair. Several committees were appointed to make arrangements in connection with the referendum. It was urged that all vote. A successful and largely attended meeting of the temperance workers of Guys ward was held yesterday in the school room of the Carleton Methodist church.

ONE SIDE FINISHED.

The city public works department yesterday completed the asphalt surface on the western side of Prince Edward street and today the whole of that side of the street was open for traffic in both directions. Work on the foundation in the eastern track section is proceeding and the crews are preparing for the foundation on that side of the street. Work on the renewal of the retaining wall in Burpee avenue was commenced today by a city crew.

CHANCERY COURT.

With His Honor Mr. Justice White presiding, the chancery court opened this morning. Only one matter was taken up, all the other cases being allowed to stand over until next session. The case of Penton vs. Craft, a matter of foreclosure was begun. B. S. Smith appeared for the plaintiff and J. F. H. Teed for the defendant. An adjournment was granted in the matter of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association vs. Martin, a North Shore case. P. Michaud of Edmundston appeared for the defendant and J. F. H. Teed for the plaintiff.

A LITTLE WANDERER.

A golden haired, blue eyed little girl of two or three summers was the centre of attraction at the central police station this morning. She was brought there by two women and placed in the care of Miss Ross, police matron, and listed as "lost." Finally she came under the ever vigilant eye of Sergeant-Detective Fowler, who, though he had never seen the child before, recognized the features and called up its mother, Mrs. L. A. Conlon, 114 Mechenburg street. The child was taken to its home in the departmental car.

STRANDED SEAMEN.

Some time ago the officials of the Navy League wrote to the Minister of Marine at Ottawa, pointing out that in previous winters numerous sailors had been stranded at this port, and it became necessary for the league to furnish them with transportation to their homes, which in some cases meant clear to Vancouver. This expense is too heavy for the league to bear, and they asked that something be done, suggesting that one of the departments at Ottawa bear the transportation costs of these men, as it was a Canadian matter and not one bearing only on the city of St. John. A reply was received yesterday from the deputy minister of marine saying that no difficulty in this direction was anticipated this winter.

BURIED TODAY.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth MacFarlane was held today from her late residence, 16 Harding street, Fairville, to the Church of England burying ground. Rev. J. F. King, of Zion Church, conducted service.

The funeral of Willard H. McCormack was held today from his late residence, Golden Grove, to the Golden Grove cemetery. Rev. C. P. Carleton conducted the service.

The funeral of Mrs. Lena Blackhall was held this afternoon from her late residence, 29 Paddock street, to Fernhill. Rev. R. A. Armstrong conducted service.

The funeral of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Coyle, 24 Barker st., was held today from his parents' residence to the old Catholic cemetery.

NEW PHASE TO WOODS TRAGEDY

Relative of Man Killed Asks for Action.

Here Today to See Authorities, Alleging That One of Men Named by Coroner's Jury Had Been Heard to Threaten.

Containing that the shooting of his nephew, Halliburton Brown, near St. John's, September 16, in mistake for a moose, was not accidental as decided upon by a coroner's jury last evening, Halliburton Brown, Sr., came to the city this morning and asked the county authorities to take some action in the matter. On account of the coroner's jury returning a verdict of accidental death, however, Warden T. H. Bullock and J. King Kelly, county secretary, decided that the matter should go to the attorney-general and referred Mr. Brown to him.

Mr. Brown said that one of the two had been heard to threaten to shoot any man who informed on him for hunting without a license and within prohibited hours. He also said that the same man was a member of a gang which inflicted a severe beating on young Brown last year, following a dispute regarding the relative speed of two automobiles.

Premier Foster, asked regarding possible action by the provincial authorities in the matter, said today that he had so far heard nothing about the new phase in the tragedy, though there is a possibility of any criminal features in it, however, action would be taken by the attorney-general's department.

According to the verdict of the jury last night, the young lad came to his death on September 16 at or about 7.45 o'clock on a wood road about one and one-half miles north of Bayview post office by means of one of two bullets fired simultaneously from rifles in the hands of Gilchrist and Holland; that all parties involved were in the woods at an unlawful hour and without licenses, but that, apart from criminal carelessness, the tragedy was purely accidental, Gilchrist and Holland mistaking Halliburton Brown Clifford McDonough and Frederick Ross for moose.

The Times has received from the orchard of Abram Day at Elands Landing a spray of plums that looks exactly like a cluster of great purple grapes. There are thirty-one plums in this cluster, growing on one small branch, one plum touching its neighbors as grapes do. Mr. Day has three young trees bearing heavily this year, and plans to have many more. These three are the result of grafting shoots from a tree he bought upon the stems of others which were not doing well. His fine orchard of apples, the trees nearly all young, is yielding well this year, and he has a large area under strawberries for next season. He has one fine pear tree and will plant more.

The hillside along the western side of Long Reach are a natural fruit garden. Just above Public Landing George Day experimented with a grape vine, and this year it bore several clusters of fruit. Apples, plums and small fruits yield largely. A gentleman familiar with the fruit belt of British Columbia said to the Times that Long Reach was peculiarly adapted to fruit and that some of the finest pears in the Pacific provinces were grown where it was necessary to carry soil to the rocky hillside to enable them to take root.

In orchards along the Reach apples are lying under the trees that would be a boon to people in the city, but because barrels and freight are so high they are not marketed.

Choice varieties of apples may be grown by grafting them on the wild apple tree, and Mr. Day said he had seen twenty-one varieties growing on a single tree. He has seen an apple shoot graft on a bilberry, and the tree yielding both kinds of fruit. Both early and winter varieties are in his orchard. Most of it is still young, and the yield will therefore increase from year to year. There are many orchards along the Reach, and the possibilities in that line are great. It is surprising that greater advantage has not been taken of the opportunity of producing choice fruit so near the city.
