NASON DIVORCE

EVIDENCE ALL IN.

Testimony Charges Mrs. Nason

With Bigamy.

Left Husband in Marysville and Married John Hawley in Sussex—Nason Visited Her There.

(Special to the Star.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 3.—At the sitting of the divorce court this morning the plaintiff submitted his evidence in the case of Asa Truman Nason against Hilda Nason.

The husband is seeking divorce on ground of adultery. The evidence was taken today of Nason himself, his sister Lena Parkes and the latter's husband, William Parkes. The testimony of these three constituted the plaintiff's case.

The plaintiff told of his marriage to defendant in August, 1902. After marriage they lived at Marysville. On the tenth of October his wife disappeared, and he heard that she had gone to Bangor. Last year he received information that the defendant was living with a man named John Hawley at Sussex. Together with his brother-in-law, Wm. Parkes, of Norton, he visited Sussex and John Hawley's house, and found there his wife and Hawley living as man and wife.

Wm. Parkes corroborated this testimony. He told of how Nason and himself visited Sussex in September, 1904, and called at Hawley's. Mrs. Nason introduced her husband to Hawley, and he replied she would not if he were the last man on earth. Mrs. Nason said to Parkes the course of conversation that she had been hatched up to Hawley in March of that year, while at Norton, and she was satisfied with her present lot. Both asked Parkes to visit them again, and acted in every way to him as man and wife.

Mrs. Parkes in her evidence told of her visit to the Howley house in July. She got into the house under the pretence that she was a book agent. She had a book called "Steps to Christ."

Mrs. Nason said she did not want it, that since March she had become a Middy. Further conversation developed the fact that in that month she had been married to Hawley. She asked Mrs. Parkes if she were not Truman's sister, and on being told that she was Mrs. Nason bought the book. She asked Mrs. Parkes to stay for tea. The conversation, which showed that she regarded Hawley as her husband.

Mr. Gregory submitted the proof of registration of the marriage. The officiating clergyman when Truman Nason led to the altar the lady in this city last week.

The court will deliver judgment later.

SEARCHING FOR SUIT CASE VICTIM'S HEAD.

Boston Police Dragging Harbor For Last Link in the Chain of Identification

—More Arrests Coming.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Chief Wm. Watts, of the bureau of criminal investigation and Supt. of Police Pierce, with Pawnbroker Berkman, who sold the suit case in which the dismembered parts of Susan Geary, were found in Boston harbor, yesterday morning and at once adjourned in order that some of the interested parties might visit the case at the bureau.

Police Captain Dugan said today that the hearing of Morris Nathan, who is under arrest here, will not be held until next week.

On the strength of the alleged statement by Howard, one of the New York suspects, that the head of the victim had been thrown into Boston harbor, a weighted handbag, the police today began a systematic dragging of the bottom of the harbor at that part ordinarily travelled by the East Boston boats.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Supt. Pierce and Chief Watts of the Boston police arrived here today accompanied by Cabman Howard, who told of driving Howard and Crawford to Chelsea, Joseph Berkman, a pawnbroker, who alleges he sold one of the dress suits in the mystery, Meyer Kaufman, clerk for Berkman, and Morris Reuben, another pawnbroker, who sold a dress suit case.

When the party arrived at police headquarters the prisoners were brought out for inspection. Chief Watts recognized Crawford and said: "I feel sure that Crawford is the head on this case. He was the principal man who brought the doctor to the house and obtained Howard's help."

Chief Watts said that the case against those who are accused of the death of Miss Geary was practically closed now, but there would probably be other arrests within a few days, but who the others to be arrested are, or where, he would not say.

REIGN OF TERROR IN ODESSA AND OTHER CITIES.

Jews Massacred By Frantic Mobs and Their Shops Pillaged—Many Shot Down by Soldiers—Bombs Hurlled.

ODESSA, Nov. 3.—12.45 p. m.—After a fairly quiet night, shooting began again today. The red cross is busy attending to the wounded.

Up to the present no Christian shops or houses have been touched. The principal hotels are full of the better class of Jews seeking refuge from this week's disorders.

There was a veritable reign of terror on October 31. After the emperor's manifesto granting a constitution to Russia had been published, the Jews made the Russians furious with rage by making a prominent display of rage tramping on a portrait of the emperor tearing down the emblem of the crown. Late in the afternoon there was firing in the outskirts of the town and the massacre of Jews commenced and lasted during the night of Nov. 1. All Jews found in the streets were seized today. The red cross is busy attending to the wounded.

Another appeal to the people in the shape of an official note was published this morning. It says: After the manifesto of October 30 had laid an unshakable foundation for the development of Russian life on the basis of legality and justice, participation in the state is a duty of all citizens. The Russian people are called upon to support the government. The manifesto of October 30 had laid an unshakable foundation for the development of Russian life on the basis of legality and justice, participation in the state is a duty of all citizens. The Russian people are called upon to support the government.

The pogroms were continued yesterday and there was heavy firing all over the town. Nobody was safe in the streets. People carrying arms were caught by the troops and were shot at sight. The shutters of all houses were ordered to be closed and people detected shooting from windows were promptly shot. The soldiers used machine guns to clear away the crowd.

JAMAICA STEAMERS WILL COME HERE THIS WINTER.

St. John will have a steamship service with Jamaica this winter.

The business of the government port ready for their business. It is understood that Marsh & Marsh desire to transfer a large portion of their business to this port, as the shipping is more cheaply than from Halifax. It is expected that a schedule of sailings will be announced in a few days. The first steamer is due here on the 15th inst.

Beersville Mines Will Be Worked Again.

(Special to the Star.)

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 3.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Imperial Coal Company opened here yesterday morning and at once adjourned in order that some of the interested parties might visit the case at the bureau.

After returning in the evening the meeting was resumed and the following board of directors elected: Henry H. O'Neill, New York City; Senator William J. Keen, Somerville, N. J.; Milan McCarthy, Lyander, N. Y.; Charles W. Ashenbach, New York; Charles G. Polley, Montreal. At a subsequent meeting of the directors Mr. O'Neill was appointed president, Mr. McCarthy, vice president, Mr. Polley secretary and general manager, Mr. Ashenbach treasurer. The directors state that active work at the mine will be resumed at once and that operations will be on a larger scale than ever.

YANKEE FINANCIERS IN RUSSIA.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 3.—George W. Perkins, J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., Mr. Baring and other financiers arrived here today from St. Petersburg on the Russian steamer Oihonna. Mr. Morgan proceeded immediately to London. Mr. Perkins remains here until Saturday. Mr. Perkins said that when they succeeded in chartering the Oihonna, at Heligoland, the strikers tried to prevent the vessel from sailing from St. Petersburg. Her captain, however, succeeded in eluding them.

Horses play an important part in shipwrecking along the Belgian coast. A procession of volunteer fishermen starts from the shore, each man mounted on the back of a trained horse, dragging the triangular purse-shaped net, which scoops in the shipwrecked vessels. These fishermen, on horseback, frequently make hauls of several hundred weight in a single trip.

HOW MISSIONARIES WERE MASSACRED.

Five Slain by Frenzied Chinese Mob.

Two Men, Two Women and a Baby Murdered in a Cave Where They Sought Refuge.

HONG KONG, Nov. 3.—Bishop Merel, of the Roman Catholic church has received a letter confirming the news of the massacre of American missionaries at Lanchow, and giving the following particulars:

"Dr. Machie requested the removal of a street theatre near the hospital on account of the noise. This request incensed the Chinese, who, becoming violent, attacked the hospital. The mob then paraded the streets, exhibiting the skeleton used by the medical class, saying it was an example of foreign cruelty to Chinese. Becoming frenzied, the crowd burned the hospital, the girls' school and the residences of the missionaries.

Dr. Machie, Mrs. Machie, their one-year-old daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl, Dr. Christian and Miss Patterson took refuge in a cave. The mob cursed them and killed all except Dr. Machie and Miss Patterson, who escaped to the Yamen. Dr. Machie was badly wounded.

The American gunboat, Callao, and two Chinese gunboats with members of the American board of missions, proceeded to the scene of the massacre. Advice from Canton declare that the measures taken to suppress disturbances in the provinces are inadequate and the native officials are not given out any information on the subject.

The Catholic converts have written to Bishop Merel to petition the viceroy of the province for the protection of the French mission at Lanchow.

It is declared that the boycott headquarters at Canton received the first news of the massacre.

LORD STRATHCONA WILL RESIGN PRESIDENCY.

Sir George Drummond Will Succeed Him as Head of Bank of Montreal—E. S. Clouston, Vice President

(Special to the Star.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—Lord Strathcona will retire from the presidency of the Bank of Montreal at the annual meeting on December 4th, to be succeeded by Sir George Drummond, who has been a director since 1882, and vice-president since 1887.

Lord Strathcona became director in 1882 and vice-president in 1887. E. S. Clouston, who entered the banks as a junior clerk in 1865, and worked up to general manager, will become vice-president. Lord Strathcona will be made honorary president.

MIKADO CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

TOKIO, Nov. 3.—At a banquet given in honor of his birthday today the Emperor expressed his satisfaction at the restoration of peace, and toasted the sovereigns and rulers of the countries represented at his court.

Baron D'Anethan, the Belgian minister and Dean of the Diplomatic Corps, replied to the toast. In the course of his remarks, he said: "The entire world expressed great joy and a feeling of genuine relief at the news of the completion of the war and the plauds of the peace which was inspired by the sentiments of humanity and adds another page to the glorious history of his majesty's reign. He concluded by expressing a wish for the continuance of the growing development of Japan."

BURGLARIES IN MONTREAL.

(Special to the Star.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—The store of W. L. Hoge, flour and food, was burglarized last night. The safe was blown up and $30 taken. The burglars however missed $100 lying in the debris of the safe. This is the second safe cracked in a few days and it is thought a gang is at work.

SUSPICIOUS LIGHTS.

The captain of one of the Boston harbor tugboats, while travelling toward Boston one night, was compelled to place a green man on watch, with instructions to call him if he saw anything in their course. The captain was aroused from his slumbers by the new man shouting, "Something is right fore'nat us."

"What does it look like?" asked the captain, as he started for the deck. "Well," replied the watcher, "it have a green light and a red light, and sure I think it's a drug store."

The Paris correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette writes that, thanks to the recent anti-tuberculosis congress there, half the people of Paris are, at this moment, suffering from imaginary tuberculosis.

Some time ago a brown bear in the Bronx zoological park at New York was suffering from toothache. It took the combined strength of four men to pull the molar, after which the bear's former amiability returned.

BAIL FOR NORTHRUP NOT ACCEPTED.

Authorities Won't Let Him Out of Jail.

Children in Court for Stealing a Jew—Case of Cruelty to Animals—A Broken Pledge.

There was another large crowd at the police court this morning, most of whom were anticipating that the preliminary hearing would be commenced of Fred Northrup, charged with manslaughter, and of Wm. O'Keefe, Lorenzo Hickey, Louis Seely, Geo. Hicks, Andrew Coyle and John Creighton, charged with being accessories.

Northrup was not brought into court from the jail, and the magistrate said that as the inquest into the death of Chas. O'Regan was not concluded last evening, but had been adjourned until Monday, it looks as if the preliminary hearing would not be held until Tuesday. Those charged as being accessories were then bound over to appear next Friday morning, Nov. 10th, with the understanding that they can be brought up at any time in the meantime.

A. H. Macrae, who is representing Northrup, asked the magistrate if he would accept bail for the prisoner, but the magistrate refused bail.

One drunk was fined $4 or 30 days' jail. Manfred Merritt, Chas. Merritt, Simon Martin, Edward Pratt and Nathan Briggs, five young boys, reported as being a disorderly crowd on corner of Chapel and Acadia streets, and throwing stones at Raben Solomon, were arraigned in a row before the magistrate. They all acknowledged seeing stones thrown at Solomon, who is an old man, but all of the boys pleaded not guilty to the actual throwing. In answer to the magistrate, four of the youngsters put up their hands to show that they go to school. The magistrate said the boys should not be brought from school to the court. The case might have been brought up on Saturday, when there was no school.

Mr. Henderson explained that as the Hebrews did not attend to their religious observances, the case could be taken up a week later, as boys must not be taken away from school.

The Hebrew Solomon presented a number of stones in court that had been thrown at him by the boys, and through an interpreter he said that he saw Manfred Merritt throw stones, and the others threw them so that he had to run to get clear of being harmed.

A young fellow named Ross, who gave the names to the police of the boys reported, had been notified to appear in court, but did not put in an appearance. The case was adjourned until a future date, and the boys were allowed to go until such time when they might be brought to court on a warrant.

A case of cruelty to animals was to have been brought up this morning, but owing to James Cunningham, the accused, not being present the case was left over until he could be brought to court. It appears that Cunningham's dog and one owned by George Livingston got into a fight. Livingston caught hold of his animal, trying to separate the dogs and asked Cunningham to do the same, but instead of doing so Cunningham drew a knife and drove the blade into the flesh of the Livingston's dog. A small boy had the Livingston's dog at the police station this morning to present as evidence in the case. It shows an ugly cut that is just healing up. The case may be brought up tomorrow.

Mrs. Dunlop appeared in court this morning and complained that her husband was drinking again and using abusive language to her, and she wished him arrested.

It is only a few days ago that Dunlop was allowed to go from jail, promising to shun bad companions, stop drinking liquor and lead a better life, and if he was brought back to court he would get a sentence of six months' jail.

MRS. BRIGGS SENT UP; CHARGED WITH MURDER

(Special to the Star.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 3.—The preliminary examination of Mrs. Briggs, charged with infanticide, was concluded this morning before magistrate Marsh. Mr. Crockett argued strongly for the discharge of the prisoner on the ground of insufficiency of evidence.

The magistrate decided to send the prisoner up for trial and said that she would be sent up under the charge of murder.

THERE WAS A LIMIT.

An Irishman one day went into the shop of a barber to get shaved. After being properly shaved and the latter being properly paid, the barber was called into an adjoining room, where he was detained for some time. The barber had in the shop as a pet a monkey, which was continually imitating his master. As soon as the latter left the room the monkey grabbed the brush and proceeded to finish lathering the Irishman's face. After doing this he took a razor from his case and stropped it and then turned to the Irishman to shave him.

Stop that! said Pat. "Ye can tuck the towel in me neck and put the soap on me face, but, begorrah, yer father's got to shave me!"

A farm house near Minchew, Enniscorthy, is situated in so deep a hollow that for three months of the year the sun's rays do not fall upon it.

Brewster's Millions

Copyright, 1904, by George Barr McCutcheon & Company

By GEORGE BARR MCCUTCHEON (RICHARD CRAVENS)

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS

Young Montgomery Brewster falls heir to $1,000,000, left him by his grandfather Edwin Peter Brewster. He is confiding his good fortune to Peggy Gray, the daughter of an old friend of his mother, with whom he has made his home when he receives word that his uncle James M. Brewster, a bitter enemy of his grandfather, has died in Montana leaving him $7,000,000 on condition that on his 25th birthday, just one year away, he is absolutely penniless. The money is left in trust of a peculiar character, Brewster starts to spend his money and is worried that he can't get rid of it fast enough. He seeks the aid of a young society woman, Mrs. Dan DeMille, to help him entertain on a most elaborate scale which makes him the laughing stock of his friends who don't understand his predicament. He is fascinated by and proposes to Barbara Drew who gives him leave to try and win her and on whom he lavishes his money. He gambles in stocks but has the ill luck to gain instead of lose and thus gains a reputation as a good business man. Many of his schemes for losing money fail, turning out to be money-makers instead. He decides social extravagance is the most effective and proceeds to give a series of enormously expensive entertainments, one ball costing $50,000. An attack of appendicitis through which Peggy nurses him sets him back as the doctors let him off easy. Recovering he starts with a party of friends, including Peggy, for a wildly extravagant tour of the Mediterranean. In the last chapter an incident is provided by a sheik named Mohammed, who falls in love with Peggy, and kidnaps her. A relief crew is at once sent out.

The flitter's boat were in the water and manned by sturdy oarsmen before the glad cry went up that the robbers had been discovered. They were so near the yacht that it was evident the dusky tribesmen were poor oarsmen. In the clear light from the ship's deck they could be seen paddling wildly, their white robes fluttering as though inspired by a wind that came from both, all of them crowded to the gunwales. "Keep the light on them, captain!" shouted Monty from below. "Try to pick out the boat that has Miss Gray on board. Pull away, boys! This means a hundred dollars to every one of you, a thousand if we have to fight for her!" "Kill every one of them, Mr. Brewster!" roared the captain, who became aware of the presence of women on deck. Three boats shot away from the side of the yacht, Brewster and Joe Bragdon in the first, both armed with rifles. "Let's take a shot at 'em!" cried a sailor who stood in the stern with his finger on a trigger. "Don't do that! We don't know what boat holds Peggy," commanded Brewster. "Keep cool, boys, and be ready to scrap if we have to." He was half mad with fear and anxiety, and he was determined to exterminate the band of robbers if harm came to the girl in their power.

"She's in the second boat!" came the cry from the yacht, and the searchlight was kept on that particular object almost to the exclusion of the others. But Captain Perry saw the wisdom of keeping all of them clearly located in order to prevent trickery. Brewster's brave sailor boys came up like greynobles, cheering as they dashed among the boats of the fugitives. Three or four shots were fired into the air by the zealous American lads, and there were loud cries from the Arabs as they veered off in panic stricken. Monty's boat was now in the path of light and not far behind the one which held Peggy. He was standing in the bow.

"Take care of the others!" he called back to his followers. "We'll go after the leaders!" The response from behind was a cheer, a half dozen shots and some of the most joyous profanity that ever fell from the lips of American sailors, mingled with shrieks from the boats they were to "take care of."

"Stop!" Brewster shouted to the Arabs. "Stop, or we'll kill every one of you!" His boat was now more than fifty feet from the other. Suddenly a tall, white-robed figure arose in the middle of the Egyptian craft, and a moment later the pursuers saw Peggy's form passed up to him. She was instantly clasped by one of his long arms, and the other was lifted high above her. A gleaming knife was held in the upraised hand.

"Fire on us if you dare!" came in French from the tall Arab. "Dog of an American, she shall die if you come near her!" CHAPTER XXV. BREWSTER'S boat almost ceased beating, and every vestige of color left his face. Clear and distinct in the light from the yacht the Arab and his burden were outlined against the black sea beyond. There was no mistaking the earnestness of the threat, nor could the witnesses doubt the ghastly intention of the long, cruel knife that gleamed so high. Peggy's body served as a shield for that of her captor. Brewster and Bragdon recognized the man as one of Mohammed's principal retainers, a fierce-looking fellow who had attracted more than usual attention on the day of the sheik's visit.

"For God's sake, don't kill her!" cried Brewster in agonized tones. There was a diabolical grin on the face of the Arab, who was about to shout back some defiant taunt when the unexpected happened.

The sharp crack of a gun sounded in the stern of Brewster's boat, and an unerring bullet sped straight for the big Arab's forehead. It crashed between his eyes and death must have been instantaneous. The knife flew from his hand, his body straightened and then collapsed, toppling over, not among the oarsmen, but across the gunwale of the craft. Before a bullet could be lifted to prevent, the dead Arab and the girl were plunged into the sea. A cry of horror went up from the Americans and something surprisingly like a shout of triumph from the abductors. Even as Brewster pointed the shot had reckoned cleverly, and he was carrying out the final details of an inspired plan. The Arab's position as he stood in the boat was such that the shot had been fired from a position that he could fall no other way than forward, and that meant over the side of the boat. With all this clearly in mind, he had shot straight and true and was on his way to the water almost as the two toppled overboard.

Monty Brewster was in the water an instant later, striking out for the spot where they had disappeared, a little to the left of the course in which his boat was running. There was a rattle of firearms, with curses and cheers, but he paid no heed to these sounds. He was a length or two behind the sailor, praying with all his soul that one of the other might succeed in reaching the white robes that still kept the surface of the water. His crew was "backing water" and straining every muscle to bring the boat around sharp for the rescue.

The sailor's powerful strokes brought him to the spot first, but not in time to clutch the disappearing white robes. Just as he reached out an arm to grasp the form of the girl she went down. He did not hesitate a second, but he was a length or two behind the dead Arab's embrace, and that worthy already was at the bottom of the sea. He was half conscious when the shot came, but the plunge into the cold water revived her. Her struggles were enough to keep her up for a few moments, but not long enough for the swimmers to reach her side. She felt herself going down and down, struggling, smothering, dying, then she clutched her arm, and she had the sensation of being jerked upward violently. The sailor fought his way to the surface with the girl, and Brewster was at his side in an instant. Together they supported her until one of the boats came up, and they were drawn over the side to safety. By this time the abductors had scattered like sheep without a leader, and as there was no further object in pursuing them the little American fleet put back for the yacht in great haste. The words he whispered to her as she lay in the bottom of the boat were enough to give her life.

The excitement on board the flitter was boundless. Fear gave way to joy, and where despair had been a moment reigned supreme there was now the most insane delight. Peggy was bundled below and into her berth. Dr. Lettles attended her. Brewster and the sailor were carried to a place where hot toddies were to be had before blankets came up, and they were drawn over the side to safety. By this time the abductors had scattered like sheep without a leader, and as there was no further object in pursuing them the little American fleet put back for the yacht in great haste. The words he whispered to her as she lay in the bottom of the boat were enough to give her life.

"It wasn't anything, Mr. Brewster," said young Conroy. "I saw a chance to drop the big blazer, and then it was up to me to get her out of the water."

"You took a big risk, Conroy, but you made good with it. If it had not been for you, my boy, they might have got away with Miss Gray."

"Don't mention it, Mr. Brewster; it was nothing to do," protested Conroy in confusion. "I'd do anything in the world for you and for her."

"What is the adage about casting your bread upon the water and getting it back again?" asked Rip Van Winkle of Joe Bragdon as they jubilantly followed the procession below. There was no more sleep on board that night. In fact, the sun was not long in showing himself after the rescuers returned to the vessel. The daring attempt of Mohammed's emissaries was discussed without restraint, and every sailor had a story to tell of the pursuit and rescue. The event furnished conversation food for days and days among both the seamen and the passengers. Dan DeMille blamed himself relentlessly for sleeping through it all and moped for hours because he had lost a magnificent chance to "do something." The next morning he proposed to hunt for the sheik and offered to lead an assault in person. An investigation was made, and government officials tried to call Mohammed to account, but he had fled to the desert and the search was fruitless.

Brewster refused to accept a share of the glory of Peggy's rescue, pushing Conroy forward as the real hero. But the sailor insisted that he could not have succeeded without help—that in was completely exhausted when Peggy came to the rescue. Peggy found it hard to thank him while his good heart was so dangerously near the riot point, and her words of gratitude sounded pitifully weak and insufficient. "It would have been the same had anybody else gone to her rescue," he mused dejectedly. "She cares for me with the devotion of a sister, and that's all. Peggy, Peggy," he moaned, "if you could only love me, I'd—oh, well, there's no thinking about it. She will love some one else, of course, and—and be happy too. If she'd appear only one-tenth as grateful to me as Conroy I'd be satisfied. He had the luck to be first, that's all, but God knows I tried to do it."

Mrs. Dan DeMille had been enough to see how the land lay, and she at once tried to set matters straight. She was far too clever to push her campaign ruthlessly, but laid her foundations and then built cunningly and securely with the most substantial material that came to hand from day to day. Her subjects were taking themselves too deeply to heart to appreciate interference on the part of an outsider, and Mrs. Dan was wise in the whims of love.

Peggy was not herself for several days after her experience, and the whole party felt a distinct relief when the yacht finally left the harbor and steamed off to the west. A cablegram that came the day before may have had something to do with Brewster's depression, but he was not the sort to confess it. It was from Swerensson, Jones of Butte, Mont., and there was something sinister in the laconic admonition. It read:

Brewster, U. S. Consulate, Alexandria: Have a good time while good times last. His brain was almost bursting with the hopes and fears and uncertainties that crowded it far beyond its ordinary capacity. It had come to the point, it seemed to him, when the brains of a dozen men at least were required to operate the affairs that were surging into his head. The mere fact that the end of the year before may have had something to do with Brewster's depression, but he was not the sort to confess it. It will be interesting now to see how he fares in the hands of the wealthy money interests whose benefactor he claims to be by giving them a terrible and timely warning.

HORNS AND TUSKS TAKEN FROM CIRCUS WILD MAN.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 2.—A real wild man with horns and huge tusks was discovered here yesterday. He is George Brown, a big negro, hailing from Georgia, who applied to Dr. Walter Ryan to have the silver plate, which he had the horns held in place with removed from his head. For more than a year and six months the negro had been carrying the plate upon his head, and it had been inserted under his scalp. It began to slip out of place, causing considerable discomfort. He says it had been inserted under his scalp for the purpose of fastening two horns upon it. At the same time two of his front teeth had been saved off and supplied with gold crowns upon which could be screwed down two formidable looking tusks, and when this had been accomplished he went on the road with a show, posing as a real "wild man." He declared that in this fashion he had travelled all over the state of Georgia, attracting wondering multitudes of people, who came to gaze upon the wild man captured in the recesses of Africa. As the negro said the tusks had been hurting him for some time, Dr. Ryan took the man to a hospital, where he removed it.

MAN GAVE LIFE FOR A CAT.

HAMBURG, Oct. 31.—Mr. Meyer, master of the steamer Cito, from Hull, which recently arrived at Hamburg, says that during the voyage they met the Norwegian vessel Candor with its sails in tatters and flying the distress flag. A boat was immediately lowered, and in spite of the rough sea contrived to approach the sinking vessel, on the deck of which only one man was seen. Suddenly the man disappeared below deck and at the end of a few minutes reappeared with a cat under his arm. But at that moment the vessel sank, and the two sailors were drowned. Or the man or of the cat nothing more was seen. Had the man been willing to leave the cat behind he would have had no difficulty in reaching the boat with the help of a life boat.

confidence that had carried him to Barbara Drew with a declaration of love to the stunning, worldly Barbara—and smiled bitterly when he saw how base the two sailors were deserting him in this hour of love for Peggy Gray. For some reason he had felt sure of Barbara; for another reason he saw no chance with Peggy. She was not the same sort; she was different. She was—well, she was Peggy.

Occasionally his reflections assumed the importance of calculations. His cruise was sure to cost $200,000, a princely sum, but not enough. Swerensson Jones and his cablegram did not awe him to a great extent. The spending of the million had become a mania with him now, and he had no time for consequences. His one desire, aside from Peggy, was to increase the cost of the cruise. They were leaving Gibraltar for the North Cape, thereby adding more than $50,000 to his credit.

CHAPTER XXVI. MONTY was on deck when the inspiration seized him, and he lost no time in telling his guests, who were at breakfast. Although he had misgivings about their opinion of the scheme, he was not prepared for the ominous silence that followed his announcement.

"Are you in earnest, Mr. Brewster?" asked Captain Perry, who was the first of the company to recover from the surprise. "Of course I am. I chartered this boat for four months, with the privilege of another month. I can see no reason to prevent us from prolonging the trip. Monty's manner was full of self assurance as he continued, 'You people are so in the habit of protesting against every suggestion I make that you can't help doing it now.'"

"But, Monty," said Mrs. Dan, "what if your guests would rather go home?" "Nonsense, you were asked to go a five months' cruise. Besides, think of getting home in the middle of August, with every one away!"

Brave as he was in the presence of his friends, in the privacy of his stateroom Monty gave way to the depression that was born of his upon him. It was the hardest task of his life to go on with his scheme in the face of opposition. He knew that every man and woman on board was against the proposition, for his sake at least, and it was difficult to be arbitrary under the circumstances. Purposely he avoided Peggy all forenoon. His single glance at her face in the salon was enough to disturb him immeasurably.

VIENNA, Nov. 1.—A sixteen-year old boy has been acquitted in Budapest on a charge of murdering a coachman by all his mother had carried on an intrigue since the death of his father. The coachman made himself a tyrant in the house, ill treating the mother and children. The boy bought a revolver, and shot him dead on the street. Afterwards he gave himself up to the police.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—For the first time since the fever was announced here on July 21, not a single new case was reported today. There are only 18 cases under treatment. Up to date there has been no frost, nor any temperature approaching frost. The death rate up to date is 13.01 per cent. The total number of cases treated is 2,396 of which 448 have died.

IMAGINATION CAUSED FATAL HYDROPHOBIA.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—According to the Herald after being scratched by the teeth of a little pet dog which has never shown symptoms of rabies, Edward Brunner, aged 25, a graduate of Columbia University Law School, athlete and unusually intelligent, read books on rabies, symptoms and treatment until he conceived the idea that the dread infection had seized him. Thrown into an acute hysterical condition by his imagination he soon began to simulate the symptoms of rabies, became delirious and was taken from his home to Bellevue last Monday. He jumped from a window of a ward there on Monday night but was unhurt and died at eleven o'clock yesterday morning from acute hysteria. An autopsy disclosed congestion of the brain.

WON'T INSURE RAISINS.

FRESNO, Calif., Nov. 2.—The manager of the California Raisin Growers' Company received notice from 137 different insurance companies withdrawing their insurance from packing houses and freight now owned by the association. Raisin handlers are suffering from several hundred companies. No reasons are given, but it is said to be the result of one of the packing houses and different attempts to fire another had the effect, causing them to withdraw.

GREAT DROUGHT IN CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The weather bureau's report for October shows that California is suffering from an extraordinary protraction of the dry season. Agricultural interests in certain sections of the state are seriously threatened by the drought. North of the Sacramento River in particular the farmers fear great losses. In that section of the state less rain than usual fell last season. The last rain here was on May 8, nearly six months ago. Only nine times in the last 57 years has San Francisco had a rainless October.

AN ACCOMMODATING WITNESS. "Do you know the prisoner well?" asked the attorney. "Never knew him ill," replied the witness. "No levity," said the lawyer. "Now, sir, did you ever see the prisoner at the bar?" "Took many a drink with him at the bar."

"Answer my question, sir," roared the lawyer. "How long have you known the prisoner?" "From two feet up to five feet ten inches."

"Will the court make the —" "I have your worship," said the witness, anticipating the lawyer. "I have answered the question. I knowed the prisoner when he was a boy of two feet long and a man five feet ten."

"It's a fact, yer worship; I'm under oath," persisted the witness. "The lawyer placed his hands on the table in front of him, spread his legs apart, leant his body over the table, and said: "Will you tell the court what you know about the case?" "That ain't his name," replied the witness. "What isn't his name?" "Case."

"You said it was?" "You did. You wanted to know what I knew about this case. His name's Jones."

"Your worship," howled the lawyer, plucking his beard out by the roots, "will you make this man answer?" "Witness," said the magistrate, "you must answer the questions put to you." "Gret Scott! haint I been doin' it?" Let him fire away. I'm all ready."

"Then," said the lawyer, "don't beat about the bush any more. You and the prisoner have been friends?" "Never," promptly responded the witness. "No, sir, I was summoned here as a friend."

"What! Weren't you summoned here as a Presbytery. Nary one of us was ever Friends. He's an old-time Baptist, without a drop of Quaker in him."

"Stand down," yelled the lawyer, in disgust. "Stand down!" "Can't do it. I'll sit down or stand up."

"Constable, remove the man from the box." Witness retires, muttering, "Well, if he ain't the thick-headed lawyer I ever laid eyes on!"

PERSONALS.

Mrs. W. S. Vaughan, of Orange street, and Master Murray Vaughan returned today from a very pleasant visit to friends in Boston and Manchester, N. H.

Mrs. Russell Sturdee gave an enjoyable five o'clock tea yesterday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Payne.

Mrs. William Hotchkiss, of Halifax, left on the Prince Rupert this morning. She has been visiting her sister, Mrs. David Monahan, of Elliott Row.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Teed, Master Gerald and Miss Dorothy Teed returned home Wednesday night from Dorchester.

Miss Kathleen Holden leaves this evening on a visit to her sister, Mrs. George Blair, Ottawa.

Fred W. Blackmore, of Cambridgeport, Mass., is in Sussex.

Mr. and Mrs. George Price have returned after a vacation trip to Boston.

Mrs. T. D. Toser, who was here for the wedding of her sister, Miss Cate, has returned to her home in Campbellton.

W. H. Bourke and Mrs. Bourke, of St. Martins, were in the city yesterday. C. E. Phelan, manager of the Canada Railway News Company, was in the city yesterday on an inspection trip.

KOMIENSKY LOST

$6,000; NO INSURANCE.

Fire Last Night a Severe Blow to a Mill Street Merchant--Hot Ashes the Cause.

David Komienksy, the proprietor of the Depot Clothing Store, returned this morning from Moncton, called home by word of the blaze last night about eleven, which badly gutted his store.

Mr. Komienksy feels keenly his loss, and considerable sympathy will be felt for him. When seen this morning he estimated his loss at about $6,000. He has no insurance whatever. There was a full stock of fall and winter clothing and furnishings on hand. This will be practically a total loss, as the stock not destroyed by fire was rendered unsalable by water.

Mr. Komienksy could not say whether or not he will continue his business, and said that it depended upon the state of his goods, which a thorough investigation will show.

The fire, Mr. Komienksy was inclined to think, started from dumping hot ashes in a wooden box. It was blowing quite fiercely when discovered. Isaac Webber, who lives near, was the first to notice the blaze and rang in an alarm from box 5. Policeman Marshall hurried to the scene and broke open the door. When the firemen reached the spot it had gained considerable headway, and although under control in a few minutes the stock was ruined.

The building is owned by J. A. Likely and is insured in the Keystone Fire Insurance Co. The loss, which has not yet been estimated, is fully covered. The floor over the store is occupied by Thomas Hoffman and family, who were considerably alarmed. The fire, however, did not go through.

A SPEECHLESS SPEAKER.

(Chicago Tribune.)

Speaker Cannon while presiding at the exercises attending the installation of Dr. Edmund James as president of the University of Illinois, told this story:

"Like all other good citizens at the age of 50, I am a grandfather. One time one of my little grandchildren wanted to go to the House of Representatives to see grandpa Joe perform. They went into the gallery. It was a stormy session and nearly everyone except the presiding officers was talking. The little girl finally said:

"And, Helen, if grandpa Joe is a speaker, why doesn't he speak?"

JOKE WAS ON RUBE.

(Harper's Weekly.)

At a certain reading, "How to Make Your Trouser Last," occupied a prominent position in the grounds and attracted much attention. A countryman who stood gaping before it was told by the exhibition, a person with a long black moustache, a minstrel striped shirt, and a ninety-four-cent diamond in a red velvet, that for one cent deposited in the slot the machine would dispense its valuable sartorial advice. The countryman dug the required coin from the depths of a deep pocket and dropped it in the slot. Instantly the machine delivered a card on which was neatly printed:

"Make your coat and waistcoat first."

AGED FARMER IN RAFFLES ROLE

Long Series of Bold Maine Burglaries Brought Home to Elderly and Respectable Agriculturalist

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 2.—While it has been generally supposed that the burglaries and safe blowings which have been so frequent in this state have been the work of professional yegmen, investigations made by the postoffice authorities have gone so far that they are ready to arrest for one of these burglaries, the postoffice at Shawmut, a humble, elderly, farmer, whom it was never supposed committed any worse offence against the law than shooting a deer out of season.

Postoffice Inspector Robinson, of Portland, and Sheriff Smith, of Somerset county, have been hard at work since the burglary of the postoffice in Shawmut trying to locate the burglar or burglars. Sufficient headway has been made, so the officials now believe, that they would, then the restricted character of the powers of the deep waterways commission, the American held last evening, and the officers of last year were re-elected: J. Gibson Williams, president; Arthur G. Byrne, secretary; Rowland Pith, treasurer. A programme of entertainment for each Thursday evening in November was drawn up.

Laurence Olsen, arrested in connection with the assault on Charles Murray, a few weeks ago, attempted to escape from the chain gang in Rockwood park yesterday afternoon. He was captured by Constable Beckett. Joseph Hughes, who was also implicated in the Murray assault case, and forthwith given a few shares in the rock candy mine, escaped some days ago.

The American topmast schooner Flyaway, of Bangor, Me., Capt. Patterson, making for Musquash harbor, mis-stayed and went ashore at Beavers Harbor at noon Wednesday. Word from Beaver Harbor last night was to the effect that she had foundered on the high tide Thursday morning and will continue to Musquash harbor, where she will load. The schooner was practically undamaged.

John Driscoll, one of the oldest and best known residents of this city, died yesterday. He was a man of sterling qualities and he will be missed by a large circle of friends. His wife died nearly twenty years ago. Mr. Driscoll leaves three sons, one resident at Portland, one at Somerville, Mass., and one here, William, a well known printer in the employ of Barnes & Co. With this son the deceased has lived for a number of years.

The most serious of the Hallowe'en depredations yet heard from is one of which John Sims of the Manawagonish road is the victim. In a field which is situated about a half mile outside the village, there stood a stack containing several tons of hay, which boys upset Wednesday's heavy rain, however, made their action a serious one. The fodder was entirely ruined. Yesterday Mr. Sims paid a visit to the city to obtain legal advice, and expresses his intention to push the matter to the fullest extent. It is understood that Mr. Sims has the names of the guilty parties.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Arthur Best, when her cousin, Miss Lizzie A. Pettet, was united in marriage to Benjamin V. McCrackin of Bangor, Me. The bride is the daughter of John Pettet, of South Chatham, Queens Co., N. B. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. W. Colston of Wolford in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attired in a dainty dress of white silk with chiffon trimmings, and carried a white prayer book. The bridesmaid was Miss Ella M. Pettet, sister of the bride. Charles Heans being best man. The bridesmaid was prettily gowned in grey and the groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, and to the bridesmaid a sunburst of pearls.

MANUFACTURERS TO HEAR COMPLAINTS.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has several complaints down for hearing at the Toronto meeting of the railway commission next week. The association wants a restoration of the old rule No. 2 governing mixed carloads of freight. The association alleges that rule No. 6 of Canadian freight classification respecting the minimum charge for articles shipped in platform cars is excessive and discriminatory as between United States and Canadian shippers, and they want the minimum reduced from 6,000 lbs. to 4,000. They also desire a reduction of additional charge on goods carried at the owner's but shipped at the carrier's risk. The association also wishes a reduction from 35 cents to 25 cents for single consignment, commonly known as the "small" rate.

WILL ASK FOR MORE POWER.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—Owing to the opinion given by the attorney general of the United States as to the restricted character of the powers of the deep waterways commission, the American held last evening, and the officers of last year were re-elected: J. Gibson Williams, president; Arthur G. Byrne, secretary; Rowland Pith, treasurer. A programme of entertainment for each Thursday evening in November was drawn up.

A meeting of the executive of the Bible Society was held last evening at the home of Judge Forbes. It was decided to ask all clergymen in the province to preach special sermons on the work of the society the last Sunday in November. The committee will also arrange for a special centennial service. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the visit of Rev. R. E. Welsh of the British society, who is shortly to come to New Brunswick.

The convenors of the committees having in charge the different houses of the Fair of Nations will assemble next Saturday at 4 p. m. to hand in the money taken at each booth and to ascertain the total receipts of the fair. The meeting will take place in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on King street, and after the meeting all bills will be paid in full. To date only four booths, Holland, Scotland, New Zealand and France, have handed in their returns, besides the admission and supper tickets, but their combined amount amounts to $2,800. The expenses are not thought to exceed two or three hundred dollars.

Lo coupon tickets calling for reserved seats have been issued for the industrial entertainment to be held in the Opera House on the evening of the 4th, as under the circumstances it was not found practical to do so. Users will be sent to the theatre for the first seat to each guest. The number of invitations has been limited as far as possible to the seating capacity of the theatre. The programme on this occasion will be an entire change from that to be rendered Monday evening.

Dr. G. A. B. Addy returned yesterday on a visit to New York. He has not yet been asked to make a test of the water from Black Tom's Wall on the Hudson. Dr. Addy says that such a test as is required would occupy twelve or fourteen days.

Judge Willich will occupy Henry Hildyard's house on Douglas avenue, recently occupied by George McDonald. Mr. McDonald will be the guest of the judge, who is in poor health.

Leifaron Coleman of Douglas avenue, has been appointed city agent at Halifax for the Canadian Express Co. Mr. Coleman has been for some years route agent for this company.

LACK OF SINNERS.

(Boston Herald.)
Dwight L. Moody once called on a ministerial brother in Massachusetts, desiring to spend next day, Sunday, with him. The minister was agreeable, but said he was ashamed to ask Moody to preach.

"Why?" asked Mr. Moody.
"Well," was the reply, "our people have got into such a habit of going out before the close of the meeting that it would be an imposition on a stranger."

"I will stop and preach," said Moody.
When Sunday arrived Mr. Moody opened the meeting, gave out his text, and then encouragingly said: "My hearers, I am going to speak to two sorts today, the sinners first, then the saints."

After earnestly addressing the supposed sinners, he said that they could now take their hats and go. But the whole congregation waited and heard him to the end.

Bishop Hanlon, of Uganda, in describing some of his experiences in central Africa, said recently that though many of the medicine men had been converted, they could not be induced to carry their confessions so far as to divulge their undoubted valuable remedies for native diseases. Some of the converted medicine men were not so reticent, but their revelations were generally worthless.

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 3, 1903

THE SITUATION IN RUSSIA.

Has the Czar's surrender, like that of Louis XVI., come too late to head off the revolution? Are the prevalent and alarming disturbances throughout Russia merely the natural ebullition of popular sentiment following the sudden removal of long worn bonds or the rage of a people frenzied by persecution to the point of insanity and only to be quenched by the blood of their oppressors?

It is too early yet to answer these questions. Certain it is that the situation on the surface seems as grave as before the Czar signed his historic manifesto granting his people what a few months ago was the limit of their hearts' desire. Premier Witte has as heavy a problem on his hands as ever the Czar had. In the presence of the deep-seated and widespread suspicion of the good faith of the autocrat, his own undoubted sincerity seems forgotten. He is the nominee of the Czar, of the Czar who has lied to them and tricked them, and time and again, has treacherously slaughtered them while the breath of fair promises was scarcely past his lips—that is what Witte is in the minds of these distracted Russians. Because of the source of his power he cannot escape the justifiable hatred and suspicion that they have felt for that source.

But Witte is a strong man and has faced difficult situations successfully before. He forced the Czar to grant this freedom and there is good ground for hope that he can force the people to accept it. If he does he will earn the gratitude and praise of those who now apparently consider his tyranny little better than the one they have just escaped. If he fails history will accord to him the honor due to a great man who did his splendid best to save the nation from anarchy and disunion; for that and these and unimagined accompanying horrors will follow his failure seems beyond doubting.

GIVE HIM A CHANCE.

"If I am re-elected I will pursue to the bitter end, to the extent of my ability, every person connected with these insurance matters in every case where by my best effort evidence can be obtained showing the commission of a crime. In such prosecutions I shall avail myself without reserve of every aid and assistance that I can obtain from any quarter, for I am much more anxious that the guilty man should be brought to justice than that my own reputation may be enhanced. I have absolutely no relations to anybody in any way connected with these insurance troubles that would hamper or embarrass me in the slightest degree in the prosecution of those who have committed a crime."

That is the declaration of District Attorney Jerome who, in face of determined opposition from both Democratic and Republican machines, is running for re-election in the New York city campaign which ends next Tuesday.

That pledge alone, aside from his fine record as an administrator and as a punisher of law-breakers ought to win him his seat. There has been enough evidence against some of these high financiers and missionaries accumulated during the past few weeks to send every poor man in America to the penitentiary. And yet these millionaire embroilers are holding it as brazenly as before the finger of the public investigator twined the costly drapery from off their moral leprosy. Not a sign of any legal action is manifest; nothing has been done to prevent them from continuing on their conscienceless career of loot, from persisting, as they undoubtedly are persisting, in their shameless robbery of widows and orphans.

Now comes a man who declares that if given the authority he will place these canting hypocrites in the jails where they belong, will stop their devilish depredations and hang them up for an awful warning. For the sake of honesty and decency and fair dealing, for the sake of all widowed women and orphan children give him a chance.

A NOTABLE EXPERIMENT.

A notable experiment in municipal enterprise has just been made in New York where a civic plant for the electric illumination of the Williamsburg bridge and several school houses has just been started, the power for which is derived solely from the burning of garbage. Under the old system the refuse was towed out to sea, and dumped at an enormous expense. If this departure proves as successful as the first trial if it indicates, this expenditure will not only be saved but worse than useless material will be made greatly profitable. As showing the saving to the taxpayer through the installation of the plant, its inventor has submitted to the mayor a report of one day's consumption of rubbish in the new incinerator, or 253 cubic yards.

LEAVING IT TO THE LORD.

(Church Times.)
Some 60 years ago there lived in Gorham, Me., a quaint character, Parson Bradley. He was an itinerant preacher of the Methodist church, and was noted for his original and familiar expressions in prayers.

Upon one occasion he was preaching in North Yarmouth, a township near Gorham, but his usual as a farming community. There had been dry weather, and some one requested the parson to pray for rain.

In his prayer he said: "O Lord, these people say they need rain. I say they need manure. Give them what they need most."

It would cost the city $53.80 to tow this amount of refuse to sea and dump it. The cost of burning it at the city's lighting plant is $19.60, thus effecting a saving of $34.20 a day, or $10,260 a year of 300 working days. And this in addition to the greater saving the city will make in supplying its own light, free of cost for fuel.

A NEEDED WORK.

The decision to have the city by-laws and statutes codified comes none too soon, as they are in a wretchedly incomprehensible state. Since the incorporation of the city law after law has been made and amended and abrogated, until they are piled dusty hundreds deep and no man knows the significance of a tenth of them. A codification was ordered about thirty years ago, and was practically completed, when the work was destroyed in the great fire. Since then no record has been made, and a few months ago, when a reporter of the Star attempted to find out something about by-laws which were still enforceable though ignored, not an official nor a lawyer in the city could furnish him with the desired information.

THE HERITAGE.

(By Rudyard Kipling, written in commemoration of Trafalgar.)
Our Fathers in a wondrous age,
Dre yet the Earth was small,
And doubted not at all
That we the children of their heart,
Which then did beat so high,
In later times should play like part
For our prosperity.

A thousand years they steadfast built,
To vantage us and ours,
The walls that were a world's despair
The sea-constraining Towers:
The unadorned yoke that brings
And unto kings made known
Not all from these their strength they drew
Their faith from brass or stone.

Youth's passion, manhood's fierce intent
With age's judgment wise,
They spent and counted not they spent:
A daily sacrifice.
Not lams alone nor purchased doves
Or tithes of traders' gold—
Their lives most dear, their dearest loves
They offered up of old.

Refraining 'e'en from lawful things
To save the neck to bear
The unadorned yoke that brings
Stark toil and sternest care.
Wherefore through them is freedom
From all but sloth and pride secure
In a delightful land.

Then fretful murmur not they gave
So great a cause as theirs,
Nor dream that awe-struck Time shall save
Their labor while we sleep.
Dear-bought and clear a thousand year
Our fathers' title runs
Make we likewise their sacrifice
Defrauding not our sons!

TOUCHING EPISODE.

(Dover, N. H., News.)
President White, of Colby was recently making an appeal for donations to the college, and in the course of his remarks cited the case of a wealthy gentleman in the West to whom such an appeal was not made in vain.

"I spoke of his boyhood days in Waterville," said President White; "I recalled the dear old landmarks he knew so well, and as I spoke of the college on the dear old Kennebec, he made out a cheque, while tears ran down his cheeks. I tell you, gentlemen, he was touched."

And President White, not as well versed in the slang of the day as in the management of an institution of learning, stood amazed at the ripples of merit which followed his tale of pathos.

DIAMOND ADVICE.

PUT YOUR MONEY INTO DIAMONDS. Diamonds in your possession represent money—more money than you pay for them after you have worn them a while, for the advance in price is very marked and there is positively no danger of Diamonds depreciating in value in our time. Of course it is always necessary to choose wisely and pay the right prices when you make your selection; therefore it is essential that you should choose the gems at a responsible house and I have a record and a reputation. I think enviable, and my very large stock of set and unset gems allows for the best selection in this city or province.

FOOTBALL.

ACADIA DEFEATS U. N. B.
WOLFVILLE, N. B., Nov. 2.—A football match between Acadia and U. N. B. took place here this afternoon. Acadia, coached by Mr. Bagnall, defeated U. N. B., coached by Mr. Bagnall, by a score of 10 to 0. Acadia's strength was in her forwards, and she controlled the ball easily in the scrimmage, keeping in the visitors' territory and forcing a safety touch, which counts 1 to 0 for the intercollegiate cup. The visitors were treated to a drive this morning and to a reception this evening in College Hall.

ACADIA WILL PLAY MT. ALLISON.
MT. ALLISON, N. B., Nov. 3.—An exciting game is expected. The Mt. Allison boys have held the King Richardson trophy for one year, and they are determined to keep it—Sackville Tribune.

CABINET WAS IN SESSION THURSDAY

Question of Further Sitting of Tariff Committee Under Discussion.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 2.—The cabinet was in session after noon, when the question of further sitting of the ministerial tariff committee was under consideration. There is a difference of opinion amongst the ministers as to what should be done. All are agreed that the committee should meet early, and it is therefore not unlikely that as intimated the other day, the two houses will be called together in January. In the meantime the tariff committee will continue its work, leaving it an open question whether or not the tariff proposals will be brought down at the coming session or postponed until 1907. Mr. Fielding's view of the situation is set out in this statement: Without binding ourselves to details it will be the policy of the government to have the inquiry made throughout the dominion with the utmost care with a view, if possible, to have the tariff brought before the house in a revised shape next session. It is impossible to guarantee that, but it is our hope and full expectation that the work can be accomplished in time for the next session of parliament.

HELD A SMOKER.

After their regular meeting last evening the St. John Council, 297, of the Knights of Columbus, held their first smoking concert. Each member brought a friend and a large number were present in the rooms at half-past eight o'clock, when the programme commenced. Messrs. Joe Mullaly and Harry O'Neill started the musical portion of the programme. Songs were rendered by John Keefe, Dr. Lunney, Frank McCafferty. A piano solo from Joe Mullaly was followed by songs from V. T. Kelly and John A. Barry. Then came some gramophone selections. Pipes, cigars and tobacco were passed around, and during the evening refreshments were served. A good speech was made by Grand Knight W. J. Mahoney, and George V. McInerney, the chancellor, delivered a very fine address on behalf of the society, while Thos. P. Regan, Thomas Klockham and Dan J. O'Neill spoke for the visitors. At 11:30 p. m. the concert ended.

STOLEN RACE HORSE FOUND.
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Identified unhesitatingly by John J. McCafferty, his former trainer, as Freckman, a race stolen last February from the Oakland race track, the horse called Cataract spent yesterday in a stable at the Jamaica track. Men in charge under Robert Pinkerton, by the aid of anonymous and other witnesses, removed the dyes which disguised the animal, under the name of Cataract was debauched from starting in the maiden race on Monday, which act of the officials probably saved the betting ring here and elsewhere from one of the big "killings" which accompanies the victory of a "ringer".

The negro who had immediate charge of the horse, and who is known as Wilson, has disappeared. He is fat man of about twenty-five, not too intelligent in appearance. He has been warned away from Baltimore as Providence because of suspicious actions. M. L. Mitchell, in whose name and colors the suspected race appeared on the programme, said yesterday that he had bought the horse for $15 from his foreman, a negro named G. Steel, who, he alleges, has been in his employ for three years. Steel declares he got the horse from another negro, who says he purchased him from an ex-convict named Mooney, at Gravesend. Mooney is said to have told the last mentioned negro that the horse was left in his care. Who left him has not yet been developed, but it is known that when the animal was placed on the "roughed express" at Sheepshead Bay to be conveyed with other horses shipped to the Jamaica track to race there, a man named Martin paid for the transportation of the horse Cataract.

The very gross sum of $10,000 was paid for having run a "ringer" three years ago at Detroit, has been seen in this vicinity, and this presence made them suspicious. In Michigan it is a penal offence to "ring" a horse, but there is no such penalty in New York state, though there should be, horsemen say. The real Cataract died as a three-year-old, and the selection of the name for the "ringer" was a bungling bit of work.

BELLE OF NEW YORK MADE ANOTHER HIT.

The performance of "The Belle of New York" last evening at the York Theatre by the Lilliputian Opera Co. was quite as successful and quite as entertaining as either of the other plays which they have staged in this city. The costumes in this play were elaborate and the settings more elaborate than in either of the other plays. A good sized audience was present last night and the honorees of the evening were the two leading ladies and gentlemen. The youthful chorus has been marvellously trained while in the cast of characters, the company is so well balanced that there is not one to whom exception may be taken. The honors of the evening probably fall to Miss Daphne Pollard, aged 19, as Cora Angelique, queen of comedians, and to Tiedie McNamara, as Ischabod Bronson, president of the Young Men's Rescue League. Miss Eva Thompson, aged nine, held the title role and was as charming as could well be imagined. The Portuguese twin comets as depicted by Freddy Holm, aged eight and Miss Ivy Pollard, aged seven, were splendid. Freddy Olive Moore who held the title role of the first of the week, was exceedingly good as Fifi, the young Parisienne. The company introduced local remarks which caught the fancy of the audience. Applause was readily bestowed last evening and there were many encores.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN SCHOOL LAW

FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 2.—It is altogether probable that at the next session of the legislature several changes will be proposed in the school law of New Brunswick. As the law now reads, one school district can block a consolidation movement by refusal to join. It is understood the Board of Education will apply to have the law changed so that it can say whether a consolidation will go through without the ratepayers taking a vote. It is also the idea to have the law relating to vaccination of scholars changed so as to throw the responsibility upon the trustees or parent, and not upon the teacher. Dr. J. R. Inch says he thinks that the various Boards of Health should have authority to have children vaccinated at a certain age.

PROOF POSITIVE.

(Boston Traveller).
"Can a man serve two masters?" enquired a visiting pastor of a deacon of a Trinity church.
"He has to, sometimes," confessed the deacon.
"I think not," said the pastor.
"You have never had boy twins at your house, have you?" enquired the deacon, softly, and the pastor retired in discomfiture.

O'REGAN INQUEST NOT YET FINISHED.

His Father Tells of An Injury to His Head While Young—Other Evidence of Little Importance.

The coroner's inquest re the O'Regan tragedy was resumed last evening. The evidence of Deputy Chief Jenkins, Sgt. Caples, and of the time-keepers, ticket vendor and seconds was taken. The general purport of the testimony was that the deceased and Northrup were novices at the boxing game, and that there was no unusually severe hitting during the contest. The referee, in his testimony Tuesday evening could not recall having seen a single blow struck, but the majority of those who testified last evening remembered seeing one of two. The coroner questioned all the witnesses very closely with reference to foul, seeming to lay particular stress on this feature of the fight. Northrup was in the court room, accompanied by his father, and sat near his counsel, A. W. Macrae. He seemed in better spirits than on Tuesday night.

Owing to the somewhat inconclusive condition of Dan Littlejohn, who is regarded by the coroner as a rather important witness, it was decided to adjourn until Monday evening. The coroner also announced that a newspaper man would be summoned, and he expected his evidence to be very important. The first witness was Lorenzo T. Richey, the ticket seller. He said he had been engaged to sell tickets at the boxing match and was in the rink office at the time of the contest. He never saw a boxing match in his life.

Harry Ervin sworn, said that Northrup was the heavier man of the two boxers. Before O'Regan had given the boxers instructions before the exhibition commenced. Witness saw deceased hit on the body and face, but there were no foul blows struck. As a boxing match contest it was a very tame affair and the boxing was not considered hard. Deceased came out in the sixth round apparently as fresh as in others.

Charles O'Regan, father of the deceased boxer, then came forward and was sworn. My son was at a boxing match in the Queen's Rink on Monday evening. I recognized the body in the rink as that of my son. He was 23 years of age. He was five feet eight in height. He probably weighed one hundred and twenty-five pounds. I cannot speak positively on this point, though.

Cross-examined by Mr. Macrae—My son was always in perfect health. He fell off a banister about thirteen feet when young, and struck his head on the stone, and was unconscious for eight or ten hours. He was then between nine and ten years of age. He was a very strong man. He was a very strong man.

James Sugrue, one of O'Regan's seconds, said he saw the fight and was not in a position to give an accurate description of the contest as it was his first time as a second and he was excited.

Sergeant Caples said he saw O'Regan hit on the head and also land blows on Northrup. There was about twelve pounds difference in their weight and Northrup was physically a better man than O'Regan.

Dan Littlejohn sworn. I am slightly acquainted with Robert Nixon. I have seen him recently. I made arrangements with Nixon to have a boxing match. He was supposed to be the manager. The receipts were to be divided into three between Gardner, Nixon and myself. I saw the bout between Northrup and O'Regan. I saw O'Regan receive a blow on the side of the nose, and jaw. I did not see him get hit on the ear or chin. Northrup got three or four blows on the head.

The coroner at this juncture suggested that the room might be too warm for the witnesses. He got in a condition to give particularly coherent testimony, and was told that he would be.

Fred Driscoll, the timekeeper, said he had been requested to act as timekeeper by Robert Nixon. In one round he had seen O'Regan weakening and he had cut the round short a half minute, but he returned in the next round good and strong. He observed Mr. O'Regan and Powers the best referees he had ever seen.

Wm. H. O'Keefe was recalled and said the men did not hit in the clinches after being warned. He had never given Nixon authority to get a license in his (O'Keefe's) name.

Louis Seelye, one of Northrup's seconds, said there was no ill-feeling between the men.

Geo. Hicks, another second, also swore to seeing blows exchanged.

Deputy Chief Jenkins said O'Regan showed weakness in the fourth round, but was strong in the others. He saw O'Regan hit on the body, chin and mouth.

The inquiry was adjourned until Monday evening.

THREE MASTER IS BADLY DAMAGED

SALEM, Mass., Nov. 2.—The three-mastered schooner Ruth Robinson, Capt. Beck, went ashore early today on Half Mile Rock, Salem harbor, and was still fast this afternoon. The Robinson is bound for St. John, N. B., light, from Boston. She put into this port last night and early this morning started for St. John. She struck the rock and her keel was badly damaged, while she sprang a leak. The crew remained on the vessel and made every effort to float her, but without success. The Robinson is owned in Boston, and tugs are expected to arrive tonight from that city. The Robinson registers 422 tons net and was built at Portland, Conn., in 1874. She carries a crew of six.

FINAL SOLUTION OF SUIT CASE PROBLEM IS NEAR.

Police Have Three Men Under Arrest. One of Whom is Said to Have Made a Confession.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—With three men under arrest, one of whom is said to have made a confession, and four important witnesses on their way to New York to confront two of the men in custody, the local authorities believe that they are within a measurable distance of a final solution of the dress suit case tragedy and the mystery surrounding the death of Miss Susanne Geary, as the result of a criminal operation.

The men in custody are Morris Nathan, to whom the girl was engaged, and when Howard put in an appearance, he had to wait for more than fifteen minutes before his rappings on the door brought any response. "When Howard entered the room in the hospital, Crawford told him to wait for a few minutes while he prepared to make arrangements for the removal of the remains. He kept Howard there all that day and when night came the two made ready to start."

Crawford handed Howard a small hand satchel, the latter says, while Crawford himself carried a dress suit case. Howard was told what was in the bag and the satchel, but was assured that no suspicion would be created. Then they started for the East Boston ferry at the foot of State street, and on the way Crawford explained that they would throw the body into the harbor at the first opportunity. Crawford told Howard not to lose his nerve and that they would accomplish their object without any trouble. When they boarded the ferryboat, however, there were more people going to East Boston than they had expected. Howard says no favorable opportunity presented itself for them to throw the satchel and the suit case overboard. When they reached East Boston, they went ashore and to direct suspicion, boarded a trolley car and rode as far as Orient Heights and there the craft was well out to sea. Upon reaching the ferry house there were few people around and when the craft was well out to sea, Crawford said, "Let her go," and Howard dropped the satchel which contained the body of the girl, while Crawford dropped over the stern the suit case containing the limbs.

Howard thought the job done, but Crawford then told him that there was another portion of the body to be disposed of and straightway they went to the Tremont street hospital and got another suit case, one much smaller than that carried by Crawford on the first trip. However, Howard obeyed Crawford's order and took the case and walked with Crawford as far as Tremont and Boylston streets. There Crawford halted and said, "The body has been thrown into the harbor, and the driver whipped up his horse and conveyed them to their destination."

On the morning of Sept. 19 last two bodies were found in the harbor. One was the dismembered body of Susan Geary was found, Howard called at Dr. Bishop's to see Crawford. Howard left Crawford at the Dudley street terminal, Howard going to his home. Before he left, Howard got $60 he says, Crawford telling him to call the following morning, when he would get the remainder of the sum promised.

Howard did as he was instructed, and the next day says he got $30, Crawford holding out $10 and saying the patient is dead, and we have got to get rid of the body; we've got to get rid of it by some means, and without delay."

Then he went on to tell Howard, according to the confession, that a girl had died from the effects of an operation. He explained in detail what was required to remove the remains to the hospital, and that they would not be discovered for some time.

"How much is there in it?" asked Howard.

"One hundred dollars," answered Crawford, and immediately, Howard says, they closed the deal. They made an appointment to meet at the Lyng.

Two days later Howard was started when he heard newsboys calling out about a gruesome find of a dismembered body in the harbor and immediately he went to the hospital and told Crawford that he was scared and wanted to get out of the case, and told him that he intended to get out, and that he would not be a part of it any more. So the following morning, Sept. 22, they boarded a train at 10 o'clock, and they started and came to New York.

NEW ACTION AGAINST ROYAL ARCANUM.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—Attorney General Parker of Massachusetts has been asked to petition the supreme court for an injunction restraining the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum from the assessment rates adopted at the convention at Atlantic City last April and ratified at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, in August.

Those who are acting in the matter include residents of New York, Detroit, Paterson, N. J., and Providence, R. I., as well as several Massachusetts members. Their request was transmitted to the attorney general by Insurance Commissioner Cutting.

"The matter is before the attorney general's department, but no decision has as yet been reached. The papers are being given careful consideration, and it cannot be stated at this time how long this will take. The work is being done as expeditiously as possible because of the importance of the case."

The question was brought before the Supreme Council in 1877, a charter having been granted on November 5 of that year. The petitioners members contend that the action of the Supreme Council in adopting the new rates was unreasonable, unnecessary, inequitable, unjust and illegal, and for those reasons inoperative and void. They further submitted that never, expressly or impliedly, had they assented to change in the by-laws adopted at Atlantic City, and that the passage of these laws was beyond the power of the Supreme Council, and for this reason not binding.

THE G. T. P. SURVEY

Eight Parties Now at Work But May Not Finish This Winter.

Chief Engineer Dunn of the transcontinental survey in and then called on the Royal yesterday. Eight surveying parties are now in the field doing preliminary location work. The survey parties working on the "river" route are David Maxwell, Guy Balloch and C. L. Harvey. The parties working on the central route are under the supervision of H. M. Balcom, Archibald Foster and Hector Macneil. Karl Weatherber and Horace Longley are in charge of the parties on the neutral stations. It will be impossible to finish the preliminary location work this year, and whether it will be finished this winter depends largely upon the severity of the winter.

BEEF TRUST CLAIMS IMMUNITY.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Immunity from prosecution under the pending indictment returned by a Federal Grand Jury several months ago, is claimed by J. Ogden Armour and the other defendant packers and agents charged with being promoters of the so-called "Beef Trust," in an additional plea filed late this afternoon by attorney John S. Miller, for the packers. The new plea, which came as a surprise to the Government, sets up as facts that when Commissioner Garfield of the Department of Commerce and Labor investigated the beef packing business he had promised the packers that in whatever testimony they provided, being under oath, or whatever documentary evidence they voluntarily produced, the defendants should have the same rights, immunities and privileges as if they had testified under oath and compulsion.

NEW KIND OF DOLL.

(Brooklyn Eagle).
Since Mrs. Clarence Mackay became school commissioner of Boston, she wished to make a birthday present to one of the children, a little girl. "Will you give me a doll," she said. "Thank you," and what kind of a doll? "Twins, please." Twins it was.

OLDS AND ENDS OF INTEREST FROM FAR AND NEAR

CURIOUS OBSTRUCTION ON THE "L" ROAD.

HOW did the gentle looking dog manage to reach his elevated position on the railroad? There he sits, apparently untroubled by his unique surroundings and oblivious of the elevated train rounding the curve and heading directly for the severe fur-coated obstacle blocking the way. Even the pedestrians below do not appear at all startled by the apparition and yet if the curly dog made a jump from the pavement to the tracks some of them must have seen it. Or if they had, they would have been amazed.

Costly Bed.

WHILE a certain New York hotel boasts a bed costing $10,000 this is by no means the record holder, for there are instances of beds far more costly. The most magnificent of all was that presented the czar of Russia by the Shah of Persia some seventy years ago. Possibly appreciating the application to the Russian ruler of the quotation that "treasure lies the head that wears a crown," the Shah presented a bed made of crystal, ornamented with silver. It was cut from a solid block, and in addition to being provided with steps of blue glass was furnished with a fountain that through the night threw streams of scented water into the air.

Not so costly was one built in Bombay for a native ruler some years ago, and which is still in use. At the four corners were tall steel figures of Greco-Roman deities, the ones at the top holding strings of instruments, while those at the foot bore their hands huge fans.

Extending the full length of the bed was a music box capable of playing for half an hour before the repertoire of tunes was exhausted.

The weight of the body set this music box in motion, while at the same time the figures at the head of the bed fingered the strings of their instruments, and the feet waved their fans, a concealed motor furnishing the power that kept the fans going all night long.

Key West sent to the North the first six months of this year about 15,000,000 cigars, Puerto Rico threw into the United States during the same period about 40,000,000 cigars, while there came from Cuba during that time 2,000,000 cigars.

An Electric Bed.

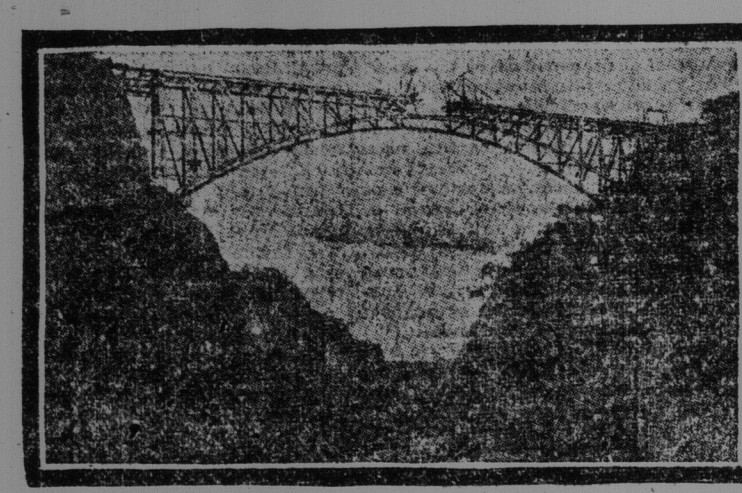

NEARBY of an electric massage, the latest use of the wonderful current in the medical world is the electric bath. The accompanying picture illustrates how the bath is arranged and taken. The patient is placed in a recumbent position, and the bed is surrounded with electric lights having shades to protect the patient's eyes from the bright rays. When the current is turned on the entire body is bathed in a germ killing light. The novel bath has been found very effective in the treatment of certain malignant diseases.

Lord Sheffield is the proud possessor of a photograph of the Bullfinch cricket club of Oxford, and among the team is King Edward, then an Oxford undergraduate.

Mr. E. Vickery, a leading member of the Methodist Church in New South Wales, has bought the Lyceum Theatre and Hotel in Pitt street, Sydney, and some adjoining property, for about $750,000, and intends to hand the whole over to the Sydney Central Methodist Mission.

SAFETY NET HUNDREDS OF FEET HIGH.

DEVELOPING the construction of the steel arch which spans the Zambezi River at Victoria Falls every precaution was taken to prevent accidents to the steel framework some distance below the level of the bridge. The picture here shows the structure at work on the aerial frame. The bridge is the highest in the world, and a fall from it would be fatal.

A Water Duel.

NOT long ago at Antwerp was fought one of the oddest of bloodless duels. Two friends had become so incensed at each other that only blood letting seemed the end, and they had recourse to their friends.

The seconds were averse to a sanguinary contest and insisted upon being given full authority to act without consulting their principals. A meeting was appointed for the following day in the courtyard of an inn and just after sunrise the two principals presented themselves at the rendezvous.

With great gravity the preliminaries were gone through with, but instead of pistols each had thrust into his hands the nozzle of a hose, and was informed that the first to run from the chilling stream was to be considered the defeated one.

At the word to fire the water was turned on. The first moment of the chilly stream was far more painful than would have been the shock of a bullet, but each stood his ground manfully for perhaps ten minutes. Then one of them hesitantly turned his face full toward his opponent and received the stream in the eye.

Blinded by the gush of water in his eyes and half strangled by the stoppage of his breathing he staggered wildly about for a moment and then threw himself full upon his face, escape his torment, whereupon the second ceremoniously declared honor to be satisfied and spent the rest of the morning in joking the two braves.

Emancipated Women.

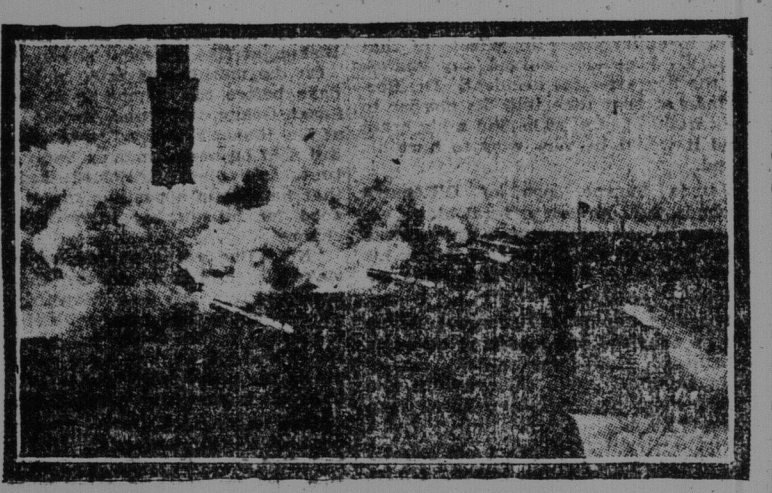

THERE lives a community in the valley of the Barca, Abyssinia, where the women are virtually independent, though they have never held meetings or conventions to get their rights. They have to pay for this freedom, for while they work hard the men are free to do as they please.

The husband must behave himself, for at the first unkind word the wife of the family will turn him out of doors in storm or rain, and he is only allowed to return when she has been satisfied. These independent women are never guilty of showing any tenderness toward their husbands, considering it their duty to abuse them. If a woman showed her husband any affection she would be regarded as a disgrace to her family.

When so disposed the wife can strike her husband and leave him as she pleases. The husband, unless he is a doctor, may not live outside of his tent, while the wife is out, and he must spend a year with her parents and for the time being must be a member of her family. This emancipation only comes when the husband is unable to support his family. If it is difficult for the husband to support his family, he must change his freedom for this sort of independence.

Dr. J. H. White, United States Marine Hospital surgeon, in the city of Orleans, has announced that the new influenza epidemic under one of the sides, discovered by Dr. Min. element for the Board of Health of that city, will be adopted by the government.

SNAPSHOT OF A BATTERY SALUTE.

MANY of us know what a battery salute looks like, but few of us know how it looks. In the accompanying picture several guns are shown in the act of exploding simultaneously. It is a remarkable snapshot, with volumes of smoke bursting from each black throat. It is a picture of a battery salute.

Wedding Races in Russia.

ASHIONABLE weddings would lose much of their dignity if the Russian customs obtained, for at a wedding in Russia immediately upon entering the church, bride and bridegroom make a dash for the altar, where the priest is waiting to bless their union.

It is believed that the most arriving first the bride, followed by the groom, and then the bridegroom. The bride is dressed in a white gown, and the groom in a dark suit. The bride is carried to the altar by the groom, and the bridegroom is carried to the altar by the bride.

At last there is a shout as the bridesmaids of both contracting parties approach and presently the doors are thrown wide open and the bride and groom are seen. The bride is carried to the altar by the groom, and the bridegroom is carried to the altar by the bride.

This is one of the customs not brought to America by emigrants, and even the process of the Greek Church would be shocked were the happy pair to indulge in a foot race as a prelude to their marriage.

Old Naval Christenings.

ONE own W. C. T. U. has no monopoly on old naval christenings, for many yacht owners abroad have taken kindly to the idea of the Japanese, whereby a careful of birds are liberated as the boat glides into the water.

The New Orleans man whose boat was given the name as a bottle of molasses was broken over its prow into a companion in a wealthy English brewer who used a bottle of his own ale for the baptism of the yacht purchased with money made in that line.

Perhaps the oddest event was the christening of a vessel last recently at a bottle of water from a famous mineral spring. The owner had made a fortune in the bottling of the water, and as the boat slipped from the ways the water was sprinkled over the bows.

Champagne is still used in the christening of royal ships, but before the bottle is affixed to the prow the label and cap are carefully read for the fear that the makers might take advantage of the incident to gain advertising. One firm recently offered certain officers of the British Admiralty $5,000 to make use of one of their label bottles.

The Bosnian is as celebrated in Europe for the fireworks, salutes and knives which he manufactures as the inhabitants of Spanish Toledo were for their steel swords.

Odd Golfing.

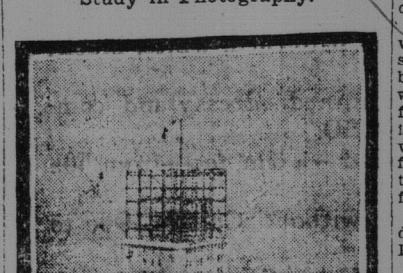

PROBABLY the oddest "twosome" ever played was one in which one of the contestants was provided with a bow and arrow in place of the customary club. It was played in the North of England, and the victory went to the archer whose long shots carried him to the tee more quickly than his opponent.

One arrow was used, taking the place of a club. The archer, who was a professional, was a player equipped with a full set of clubs and a second who threw the ball, except when on the greens, when he used his club.

Not long since the comments of a workman at a golf club, who dared the man to prove his statement that he could not swing a golf club, were that the player, while the latter took only the spade and hammer of the workman and yet beat him with ease.

Games between professionals armed with only single club, and an amateur with a full set, are common enough, usually ending in the defeat of the amateur. Perhaps the oddest accomplishment was driving a ball from the Brimfield Links, in Edinburgh, to Arthur's Seat, a height of 82 feet.

Study in Photography.

Royal Trains.

WHEN President Roosevelt would go West for big game or to Oyster Bay for relaxation the railway officials are a little more alert than would ordinarily be the case, a special train is made up, with the usual accommodation for newspaper men, and the train goes.

When King Edward would travel he would use the entire line. In the first place, a half hour before the pilot of the royal train is due, the pilot preceding the actual train by fifteen minutes. Switching to side tracks is suspended at the same time and the switches are inspected by the yard master to make certain that no switch has been left open.

Trains traveling in a reverse direction to the royal train must come to a dead halt when the pilot passes them and not resume their travels until the other train has passed, and even then the loaded freight cars must be examined by the pilot to make certain that nothing protrudes across the other track.

Trains must be permitted to die away, that smoke may not obscure the track, and whistling is prohibited while the train is passing. Signals men are stationed along the track within hailing distance of the other for the entire distance.

In the cars every compartment is provided with a special electric signal for ringing the engine is at once stopped, while attendants hurry to the compartments from which the call comes. A telegrapher is aboard the train ready to receive the wire at the first sign of trouble, and at the new crossing the pilot passes until the royal train has passed.

There is a difference between a President and a King. Railway men prefer President.

Divining Rod Science.

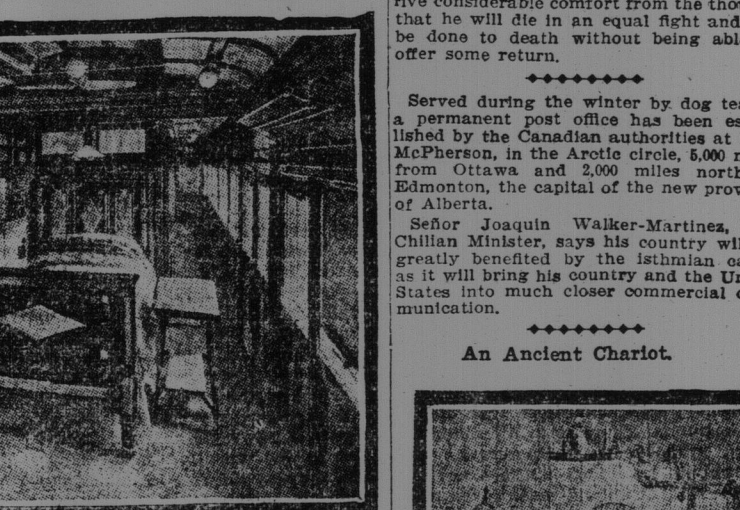

MORE than once has the divining rod been investigated by men of science, but for the first time there comes forward one who will admit that there is possibly some truth in the tale of the willow wand.

According to Sir W. Preese there is some slight friction in the earth from running water which sets up a vibration which acts upon persons of extremely sensitive nervous organizations.

This vibration, when encountered, induces a feeling akin to mild assailing, and results in an involuntary movement of the muscles holding the rod, which causes the latter to dip toward the earth.

Costly Trifles.

THE "hotel men" said the manager of a big New York caravanserai, "are robbed systematically by their guests and strangers. It may seem a small matter for us to give away matches, note paper and toilettries, but in a good sized house it amounts to thousands of dollars a year."

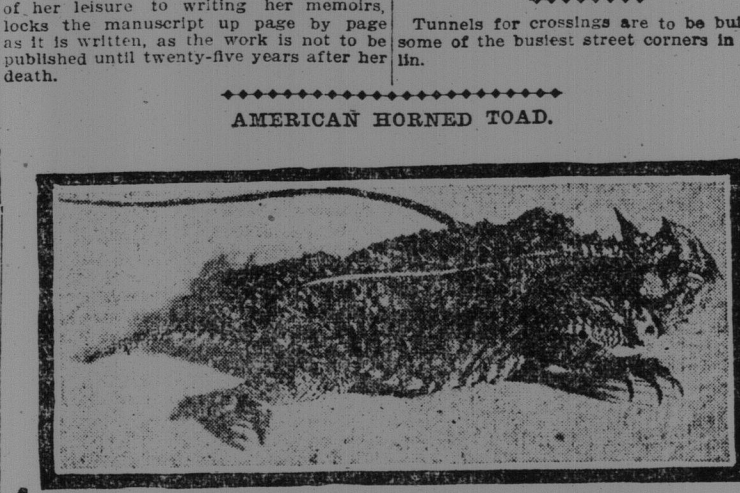

One thousand sheets of note paper and half as many envelopes we give away on an average every day. The other trifles I have mentioned are swept off ever more quickly. Even such an insignificant thing as blotting paper costs us ten or twelve dollars a month, while every well dressed waiter who haunts our lobby and owns a fountain pen generally fills it from the hotel inkstand. We are kept at it by the hotel inkstand. We are kept at it by the hotel inkstand.

The donation of the stamps is required by law, and the payment of these stamps is taken into consideration when an engagement is made.

Instead of tips for good service the mistress passes additional stamps into the book, and a good servant will retire with a sum sufficient to keep her in comparative luxury when her days of toil are over.

Tunnels for crossroads are to be built at some of the busiest street corners in Berlin.

AMERICAN HORNED TOAD.

THE queer looking animal in the ac-head has two or more upstanding points, frequently met with in the West and known. These points are often of the same color as the ground, and for this reason are more difficult to detect, except with the practiced eye.

Ask Your Grocer About Red Rose Tea

MOST good Grocers sell Red Rose Tea. If a grocer recommends Red Rose Tea, it will be an honest opinion, because he makes less profit on Red Rose Tea than on most others. When a merchant recommends an article upon which his profit is less than upon other similar goods, it is because he wants to sell satisfactory goods and to please his customers. Your grocer knows he can recommend Red Rose Tea for its "rich fruity flavor" and its strength, and because

CIVIC BOARD MEETINGS.

More Loch Lomond Trouble—City By-Laws Will Be Revised and Codified.

The adjourned meeting of the board of water and sewerage was held yesterday, to determine the question of building the gate chambers. The recorder then read section 49 of the specifications, which described the construction of the chambers. Engineer Hunter said he did not understand why the contractors did not go ahead and build the chambers, as they did not cost much. The recorder said if it was in the specifications, and though not in the plan, yet the work was in the contract and should be done. Engineer Hunter said the chambers cost from $15 to $20 a piece. Ald. Christie wanted this refusal in writing, in case of future law suits. Mr. McArthur, the other member of the firm of McArthur & MacVay, came before the board, and said he would put their refusal in writing. This was satisfactory to the board, and the contractors withdrew. No action was taken.

TREASURY BOARD.

The mayor read a statement of the library fund, showing a balance of $113.23 on hand. He moved the adoption of the report. On the motion of Ald. Macrae's amendment that the balance go back to the commissioners for a report on the best possible use was carried. The bonds for the new wharf building were taken up. The chairman thought the matter might be held in abeyance for some time. The contractor would need no payments until the first of the year. A statement of the city's fire insurance was laid before the board. The report will be taken up at the next meeting. The extra $10,000 insurance on the Ludlow will be placed with Cowie & Edwards. The necessity of a new valuation on city property was spoken of. No action has been made since 1873. Several aldermen felt that there was too much exemption to church property. A petition from ship owners was read protesting against the collecting of harbor dues on ships passing through the port on their way inland. It was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the recorder for an opinion. Ald. Macrae moved the board recommend the council that the city by-laws and statutes be revised and codified. Ald. Frink said it would take three lawyers continuously working for six months. Ald. Macrae said the expense would not exceed $1,000. Ald. Pickett agreed that the work was absolutely necessary. The motion was carried. On motion of Ald. Pickett all overdue rents in Carleton were recommended to be recovered by legal process, after a final intimation. The chamberlain was instructed to prepare a list of those whose taxes are more than two years in arrears, with a view to giving special attention to their collection. The board then adjourned.

HALIFAX MAN

IN LOWELL JAIL.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—Alexander Robinson of Halifax is in the Lowell jail because of his inability to furnish a $100 bond to keep the peace. In court it was brought out that Robinson had threatened his son-in-law, W. A. Dow, Mrs. Dow testified that she was compelled to leave her home in Halifax because her father threatened her. Robinson's youngest daughter came to Lowell also, and it is claimed he has been attempting to force her to return home with him. When you cut your advertising you tell outsiders that there is something the matter with the inside of your business.—Nathl. C. Fowler, Jr., Boston.

I. C. R. COULD BE #### MADE TO PAY.

All It Needs is an Expert and Independent Business Management to Ensure Profits.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 2.—"I consider the Intercolonial railway a good Dominion asset and if carefully operated under an independent head, absolutely free from political influences, it would pay all the operating expenses and contribute in addition a substantial revenue to the Dominion treasury. Put the line under the management of Shaughnessy or Hays, give him a free hand and I am satisfied the results would be as above stated."

This optimistic statement regarding the government railway was made this morning by Senator McMillan, who was at the Walker House on his return from a trip over the Intercolonial system to ascertain for himself facts about that line. He travelled over the line and its branches, and he has carefully noted the conditions of the road and the general system, both as to its operating staff and the repair staff at Montreal.

"The road is over-stationed," he said, "especially between Montreal and St. John, where the average distance between stations is three and a half miles for eighty-nine miles of line, and this is no exception, but virtually the rule on nearly the whole line. The operating staff is too numerous, the repair shops are overcrowded with workmen, and in many cases men simply put in their time as easy as they can and draw their pay, and it is no worse now than it has been for many years, and under both governments."

"The schedule of rates is altogether too low, especially on coal, lumber, hay, etc., and these conditions cannot be got rid of under a political head, either conservative or liberal. 'We have tried both and both have failed. Put the road under an independent head and it will show its earning power in very short time. I have no doubt shippers in the maritime provinces will oppose the changes simply because they know they will have to pay increased rates, and under the independent management, political influence would not count. 'I was glad to learn, however, from those in a position to know, that the greater portion of the people would willingly accept the change. It would be likely those that are getting special advantages who would offer opposition.'"

AMERICAN NAVY

ENTERTAINS PRINCE.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 2.—"The President," "The King." Glasses clinked with a ring of good-fellowship as the healths of King and President were drunk by their faithful officers standing at the dinner of Admiral Evans on board the Mayflower tonight to Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg and the officers of his squadron. The Prince proposed the health of President Roosevelt and Admiral Evans, the health of King Edward. The dinner tonight was the concluding feature of the second day of Prince Louis' visit to America. The official programme of entertainment did not begin until the afternoon. The morning was given over to an informal exchange of visits between the commanding and junior officers of the several squadrons. Perfect weather prevailed and the sea was smooth. The spectacular feature of the day was the review of the brigade of midshipmen on the parade grounds this afternoon, followed by dress parade. Then came the reception of Admiral Sands for the British and American officers, a brilliant affair, after which the Prince returned to his flagship to shift into evening dress for Admiral Evans' dinner.

Prince Louis found time to return the call of the Mayor of Annapolis, who called on him at the Drake yesterday afternoon to offer the Admiral Prince the freedom of Maryland's capital. It is understood that Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, has been invited by Prince Louis to inspect his squadron, but the exact time of this ceremony has not yet been announced. Officers from each of the American ships will accompany the British officers to Washington during the next few days, where they will be the guests of the Washington government.

Many British and American sailors are ashore tonight, and the streets of this historic little capital are alive with the jockies of the two navies.

ARTILLERY CO.'S SUPPER.

The annual dinner given by the officers, non-commissioned officers and gunners of No. 3 Company, R. C. A., was held at the Park Hotel last evening and proved to be an exceedingly enjoyable affair. Capt. Harrison was in the chair, and the guests were: Lt. Col. W. W. White, Major Baxter, Capt. Armstrong, Capt. Drake, Capt. W. E. Foster, Lieut. T. E. Powers, Sergeant Major Hughes, Sergeant Major Edwards. The toasts were: The King; the Regiment, responded to by Lt. Col. White; The Company, by Capt. Harrison and Staff Sergeant. Wiggins; Regimental Staff, by Capt. Armstrong; 15th Field Battery, by Capt. Foster; Signalling Corps, by Lieut. Powers; Canada, by Sergeant Wiggins; Ladies, by Lieut. Vassie, Lieut. Magee, and Sergeant Simmons. The programme included solos by Messrs. Watson and Plummer, Gunner Dickson and Sergeant Eaton; piano by Mr. Turner. The company broke up at a late hour.

Comparison Proves Our Clothing Best

Compare Our $8 Overcoats with what's sold elsewhere at $10

Compare Our $10 Overcoats with what's sold elsewhere at $12.

Compare Our $12 Overcoats with what's sold elsewhere at $15.

If all the various makes of Clothing sold in Saint John were placed side by side for you to choose from, its "dollars to doughnuts" that you'd decide in favor of Oak Hall.

Why? Because Oak Hall Clothing is made as well as clothing can be made—it is thoroughly stylish—fits well—wears splendidly and costs about 25 per cent. less than any other clothing approaching it in quality.

It costs less because we make our clothing and sell them to you direct; you can buy at practically the same prices other stores must pay. If you are not familiar with these facts, it is because you have never made a comparison. Hundreds of men have, and that's why we sell more clothing than any house in the Maritime Provinces.

If you're one of the few men who don't wear Oak Hall Clothes, it will pay you to investigate before buying your new winter Suit or Overcoat.

Compare any of These Overcoats With Those Found Anywhere. We Have no Fear of the Result.

SCOTS WILL CELEBRATE

ST. ANDREWS DAY.

A Scotch Evening Instead of a Dinner Will Be Held on the Evening of November 30th.

At the annual meeting of St. Andrew's Society, held last evening, it was unanimously decided to hold a Scottish night on the evening of St. Andrew's Day, November 30th. It will be remembered that last year the celebration took the form of a dinner at the Royal Hotel, which form of celebration was settled after a lengthy discussion. In previous years there has always been more or less talk as to the style of entertainment, and last night was the first time the society was ever unanimous on the subject. No suggestion other than the one decided upon, was made. The committee in charge will consist of the executive officers of the society. It was also agreed that the society should attend divine service in St. Andrew's church on Sunday, Nov. 26th, when the sermon will be preached by the chaplain, Rev. David Lang. The hour of service will be arranged later.

Last evening's meeting was very largely attended and reports showed that the society had had a most prosperous year, a large number of members having been received. The president, B. R. Macaulay, was in the chair. The treasurer's report showed total receipts during the year of $1,247.87, and expenditures $1,261.61, which latter included the purchase of a $500 bond and a deposit of $100. The sum of $681.61 had been paid out in charity and for general expenses. The society now holds funds and investments amounting in all to $9,142.22.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—B. R. Macaulay, re-elected. 1st Vice-president—C. K. Cameron, re-elected. 2nd Vice-president—Dr. McIntosh, re-elected.

Treasurer—John White, re-elected. Secretary—Cyrus Inches; vice, Dr. T. D. Walker, resigned.

Historian—A. Gordon Leavitt, re-elected. Marshals—C. W. Bell and J. H. Robertson.

Chaplain—Rev. David Lang, vice Rev. G. M. Campbell, retired. Committee on charity—Dr. Inches, Thomas White and Andrew Malcolm. Auditors—R. C. Barclay Boyd and W. C. Whittaker.

Pipers—Homer Cruikshank, Alex. Cruikshank and W. H. Ross.

After the business of the meeting had been completed, the members on the invitation of President Macaulay, marched to White's restaurant, where an oyster supper was enjoyed. Between fifty and sixty sat down. Later the health of past presidents was proposed, and responded to by Geo. Robertson, M. P. P., and Judge Forbes.

The gathering then adjourned to the parlors, where a couple of hours were most enjoyable spent in a free and easy way. Cigars were passed around, no one was shy about contributing his share to the entertainment, and the result was very pleasant. Songs and speeches were made, and stories were told, and through the clouds of smoke the name of Scotland and the renown of her sons were duly honored. Among those who took part in this impromptu programme were Messrs. Ledingham, Hogerson, S. J. McGowan, W. H. Ross, Duncan Ross, Rev. G. M. Campbell, Thomas White, Rev. David Lang, Geo. Scott, B. R. Macaulay, Carmichael, C. K. Cameron, George Robertson, M. P. P., and others. Mr. McGowan's singing was particularly enjoyable, and that of Mr. Hogerson and Mr. Ross received great applause. The gathering broke up shortly after midnight, when the members, headed by the pipers, escorted the president to his home.

MEN LEAVE FOR #### LUMBER WOODS

FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 2.—A large crew of men left this afternoon for the upper St. John to work on William Stone's operations for Thos. Crockett. This morning another large number of John A. Morrison's men left for his operations. Wages for good men for permanent work range from $25 to $28 per month, while for transient business as high as $32 is paid. At the present time there are about eight million feet of logs hung up in the main river between Grand Falls and Kilburn's and there are about twenty millions above the falls. The chance of getting any of this lumber into the booms this season is very poor and there is danger of much of it going out with the ice in the spring. The boom company has not had a very successful year and it is quite probable that legislation will be sought at the next session to enable the company to increase the tolls on lumber.

MORE TROUBLE

BETWEEN FISHERMEN

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 2.—Another serious complication arose yesterday in the herring fishery situation at Bay of Islands, when the steamer Active, carrying eight small boatsloads of local fishermen, sailed with the intention of proceeding outside the three-mile limit and there transferring the fishermen to American fishing vessels, on which they would find as members of the crew.

The colonial cruiser Plover chased the Active and threatened her with seizure if she went beyond the three-mile limit without clearance papers. The Active thereupon returned. The customs authorities refuse to grant clearance papers to the steamer, except for a bona fide voyage. The Americans are indignant and threaten to appeal to Washington for a warship. The British cruiser Letitia is patrolling the bay to prevent collisions between the rival fishermen.

oyster supper last evening to a number of their friends. Among the guests were Messrs. V. H. Perry, who later resigned from his church at Salisbury and who is here on his way to Campobello where he will have charge of two churches.

The freights on the river boats are very large at the present time. The Victoria brought down a particularly heavy load yesterday, including 150 barrels of vegetables, principally potatoes and fifty hogs. Reports from up river say that there has been considerable formation of ice lately. Yesterday Salmon River was covered by a thin coat and the May Queen hesitated to enter.

The Halifax Mail says that a movement is now on foot to have the death sentence passed on Hope Young,
who last spring murdered two children.
The reasons given are chiefly that the woman is a mental and moral degenerate, members of her family for three generations back having been criminals, and that her early surroundings
were degrading in the extreme.

It is thought that in the near future
a new industry may be established in St. John, at Mr. E. Fisher, representative of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association for New Brunswick, has received a communication from a Cincinnati man who wishes to find a suitable locality for a patent kindling factory.
In reply to this letter Mr. Fisher has pointed out the suitability of this port for an industry of this kind and invited a personal inspection of the locality.

William Humphrey, of Humphreys, a clerk in the Royal Bank, Moncton, arrived home from his work late one night recently, in a very bad and upset condition. His face and head were badly bruised and his condition was so serious that a doctor was summoned.
The reason given was chiefly that the woman is a mental and moral degenerate, members of her family for three generations back having been criminals, and that her early surroundings
were degrading in the extreme.

SUDDEN DEATH OF CAPT. A. F. NOBLES.

Master of the Bark Nellie Troop Left Here
Saturday and Died Last Night in Boston.

A telegram to Messrs. Troop & Son this morning brought the sad news of the death which occurred last night in Boston of Capt. Arthur F. Nobles, one of the best known and most highly esteemed seamen sailing out of this port.
Capt. Nobles, who was master of the bark Nellie Troop, which is loading in Boston with lumber for Buenos Ayres, has been in the city for the past two weeks visiting his family who reside on the corner of Adelaide street and Main.
Saturday night he left for Boston accompanied by his wife who was to stay with him until the ship sailed. He was in good health when leaving here and it is supposed that he caught a cold during the journey as he was taken ill almost immediately upon his arrival.
Pneumonia set in and he sank rapidly,
dying last night on board his vessel,
which is ready to sail.

Capt. Nobles has been in the employ of Troop & Son for twenty years, and was one of their most valued captains.
He is survived by his wife and a family of three, two boys and one daughter, besides his father and mother. The body will be brought home for burial.

FUNERALS TODAY.
The funeral of the late William Steele took place at 2.30 from his residence, Waite street. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Cunningham of St. Stephen's church. Interment was at Cedar Hill. There were no pall bearers.

The funeral took place at 2.30 this afternoon of the late John Driscoll from his residence, Carleton street to the cathedral where services were conducted by Rev. Father O'Keefe. Burial was made at the old Catholic cemetery.

ORIGINALITY AND SUCCESS.
"Your success depends on how well you know men and their methods." The Currie-Business University, Limited, has no set curriculum, does not depend on text-books for instruction, but bases its system of training on new ideas, facts and theories gleaned through contact and argument of its special agents with live people, such as bankers, directors, professional men, etc. It is a business school and teaches business as it should be taught. It distinctly is an aggressive school and enjoys the largest attendance in Eastern Canada.

SEARCHING FOR TYPHOID GERMS.

The Board of Health has ordered an analysis of the water of Black Tom's Well on Douglas avenue which is said to have been the cause of the typhoid fever epidemic in that district. The analysis was begun this morning by Dr. G. A. B. Addy. No new cases are reported in this district to-day but a new case was reported this morning in Lancaster.

ROBT. NIXON MAY BE ARRESTED.

It is said that Robert Nixon, who was the supposed manager of the boxing exhibition held in the Queen's rink on Monday night, at which Charles O'Regan died, may be arrested, as he did not appear when called on at the coroner's inquest last night. Had he appeared and had another witness been in a proper condition to give evidence the inquiry might have been brought to a close last night and the preliminary hearing of Northrup might have been taken up today, but as the case now stands Northrup must remain in jail, not being able to get out on bail, and the hearings have been delayed.

EXCITEMENT ON PRINCE WM. ST.

There was considerable excitement about the Canada Life Building, Prince William street, last night when the building was pretty well filled with smoke. An occupant of the building rushed from the building without hat or coat thinking the building was on fire. On investigation it was found that a fire had been made in the building adjoining and the smoke instead of going out of the chimney found vent through a flue hole being left open in the Canada Life Building.

LITTLEJOHN WON'T FIGHT AGAIN FOR AWHILE.

Dan Littlejohn stated to the Star
this morning that he had not been communicated with in regards to a bout with Harry Seers to take place at Sydney. Littlejohn further stated that while he had no intention of retiring from the ring he would not consider any offers until the deplorable accident now before the courts was settled. He deeply regretted the occurrence and could in no way account for it. He frequently boxed with O'Regan, who was a clever lad and never so happy as when he had the gloves on.

Littlejohn, when asked about the division of the money, said that he did not wish to wash any dirty linen under the existing circumstances, but indicated that had the preliminary commitment been made he would have successfully and his go with Gardner been pulled off there might have been a bigger fight over the receipts than there has been in any prize ring for years.

NO NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE.

BUFFALO, Nov. 3.—President Harry
I. Taylor of the Eastern Baseball League, said today relative to published statements intimating that he might lead a movement looking to the combining of the Eastern League and American Association by taking four of the strongest clubs of each association and forming a new league, that there was nothing in the story. His object, he said, would be to keep the Eastern League intact. Several of the teams needed strengthening and it would be his earnest endeavor to help them along so that the fight next year would be a more equal one.

ANNUAL APPLE RALLY.

The scholars of the Murray street Baptist mission were given their annual apple rally last evening. There were over 200 boys and girls present, and they enjoyed the varied programme immensely. Miss Daisy Oram gave a solo, there were mouth-organ and bone selections by Messrs. Oram, Ramsey and Gray, recitations and choruses.
Miss Gray presided at the organ. The big war between the Alerts and Hus-lers was the event of the evening, the Alerts winning both pulls by about 5 inches. There were also pulls between teams from Sheriff and Murray streets.
After everybody had eaten all the apples they could hold the entertainment came to a close with the National Anthem and Devotional and cheers for the management.

Capt. Welsh, marine superintendent of the C. P. R., arrived in the city this morning.
Fred A. Jones, Chas. T. Bailey, Capt.
E. C. Eskin and Stanley Robin arrived home on the Boston express.
