Gray-McCollom.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, Oct. 2, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Guy McCollom of Ashland, when their daughter, Reba, was united in marriage to Raymond B. Gray of Pembroke by Rev. J. M. Malory in the presence of about fifty guests.

The bride was prettily attired and looked charming as they appeared at the altar.

After the ceremony a sumptuous repast was enjoyed, after which the party started for Pembroke where a reception was in waiting at the home of the groom's parents.

The happy couple were the recipients of many useful and costly presents including a purse of gold.

We wish the young couple a long, happy and prosperous life and a glad reunion when life's work is ended, where the flowers bloom forever and the sun is always bright. —Contributed.

Condensed Ads. Pay.

This issue The Observer opens a department for Condensed Ads. where advertisements of 30 words or less may be run one week for 25 cents or four weeks for 50 cents, cash with the order. The ads are few as yet but the department is bound to be interesting to those who read it and profitable to those who invest.

If you want to sell, buy, rent or hire anything of any description whatsoever you can tell about in nearly 2000 Carleton county homes, once, for 25 cents, or repeat it to them four times for 50 cents. Could you tell so many any other way?

Denis B. Gallagher.

Following injury to his spine received by a fall down stairs in a Fort Fairfield hotel about two weeks ago, Denis B. Gallagher died last week in the Fisher Memorial Hospital, Woodstock. He was a native of Woodstock, studied law with L. P. Fisher, and practiced for many years in his native town. Ten years ago he went to Bath and opened an office and practiced law until his last illness. He was about 65 years of age and unmarried. J. J. Gallagher of Grand Falls is a brother.

Edward W. Miller.

Edward W. Miller died on Sept. 3 at the home of his son-in-law, Burrill Britton, Woodstock, aged 74 years. Besides Mrs. Britton another daughter is the wife of Edwin Estey of Farmers-ton. His only son is Onslow A. Miller of Hartland. The funeral was held at Tracey's Mills.

For several years Mr. Miller, with his son, operated a sawmill a mile below the village, and while resident here he won the high esteem and respect of all those with whom he came in contact.

Some Entertainments Probable.

The young men members of the United Baptist church are considering the idea of giving a number of high-class entertainments the coming winter, and their efforts should meet with every encouragement. The proposed entertainments will be arranged through a bureau that makes a specialty of such things and will consist of an evening with Pitt Parker, cartoonist, the Norland Girls, vocal and instrumental musicians, W. H. Easton, lecturer, who gave a delightful entertainment in the Methodist church last winter, and possibly the Canadian Jubilee Singers.

If the young men should undertake to secure season subscribers for this excellent series they should not be turned down. There is far too little intellectual entertainment in a village that should be turning out young people with cultured tastes and the love of the things of life apart from the low and the uninspiring.

Hicks and October Weather.

Hicks, the St. Louis weather prophet, predicted a snow-fall for Oct. 1 and 2nd. It came on Sept. 30 but there were also hurries on the following days. The 'cloudiness and rain prevailing on the 4th and 5th' also came to pass according to prediction.

A severe storm of winds and rain is due between the 7th and 12 and is likely to have its climax on the Atlantic coast about the 10th. This will be followed by snow and high northwest winds with cold weather for a few days. Those who have potatoes in the ground at this time are likely to have them frozen. The unseasonably cold conditions may pass before the next storm period advances and a few warm and bright days are indicated.

From the 20 to the 25th there will again be cold rains and probable snow hurries.

Milder conditions will come at the end of the month preparatory to a big storm of rain or snow due early in November.

Neil Pratt Goes to Colorado.

Neil Pratt, who has lived in Carleton county for 50 years and most of that time at Carleton has sold his farm to his grandson, Frank Pratt, and with his wife has gone to Delta, Colo., where four of his children reside. The county loses a good citizen.

Mr. Pratt was 50 years ago engaged in the blacksmith business here with the late Murdoch Matheson. On "Cold Friday" he was at the residence of the late Israel Nevers and fire broke out in the residence of Charles Nevers, the house that later merged into Sayre's boarding house, and froze his fingers fighting the fire, which was soon put out.

Potatoes.

The following is from the Fort Fairfield Review, Oct. 2.

Ask every farmer you see about the potato yield, how much is dug, the wages paid pickers, etc., and you naturally get a different answer from each. As nearly as we can find out, the present conditions are these: About a third of the total crop is harvested. The yield varies much more this year than usual, being on the whole nearly an average. Blisses are rather poor. The amount of rot is hardly worth reckoning. The quality is good. The standard price for pickers is $3.00 or nearly that. A good many are paid less, and a few more. Many pickers are working by the barrel, some for five cents and some for 6, with hoard, of course. We have heard of 7 cents in a few cases. Some men working for 9 cents are making $5.00 a day. It will take 3 weeks of good weather to complete the harvest, and that is a little more than can reasonably be expected now. Hence the conclusion is irresistible that a considerable fraction of the crop must be frozen up in the ground unless the autumn is unusually late. The extreme wetness of the ground now makes the danger of freezing very great. A very few farmers are now nearly done digging. Quite a number have only just begun. The factories are getting only a smallish run, the standard price being 50 cents a barrel. During the time of lowest price in the market, some whole stock have been bought by 1 or 2 of the factories for 75 cents. The potatoes are yielding about the average amount of starch, but, unless a bad freeze comes along soon, the starch output of Acrostook will not much exceed half the usual output. Starch is well cleaned up from the market and from Acrostook, and 5 cents can now be got for it, while more is expected. In the market Cobblers and Mountains are coming in freely and about equally. Cobblers this Wednesday bringing from $1.00 to $1.30 and Mountains from $1.00 to $1.10.

On Saturday evening Clyde Rideout's team, driven by H. K. Shaw, collided with a single rig driven by Arthur Sippel, smashing the lighter vehicle pretty badly.

VOL. 4 OCT. 10 No. 17

THE DEADLY GUN.

Within a few days many shooting accidents caused by the careless handling of guns have occurred in nearby localities. There were several on the north shore—people shot dead—and near Fredericton George Colter, a county councillor, was found near his home with a bullet in his brain and the gun at his feet. Near Presque Isle on Wednesday an eighteen-year-old boy, picked up his gun by the muzzle and got a bullet through his heart. On Sunday several little boys of Amherst went into the woods shooting and one of them was shot dead. The boys left the remains in the woods, went home and did not tell about the tragedy until hours afterward.

Were as many deaths nearby as this attributable to drink in a week, the hounding of the dealers would be severe as it would deserve to be. But of the promiscuous sale of firearms and the placing of them in irresponsible hands there is no law and too little protest. Thus young boys are called to yield up their souls with no warning. It is a terrible state of affairs.

A DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT.

For many years the New York Herald has, a month previous to a Presidential election, given out a fare cost of the result with wonderful accuracy. Last week its prediction for the election that will occur on Nov. 5 was printed, and Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic candidate was named the winner. The chances of Taft, the Republican, and Roosevelt, the Progressive were considered equally hopeless.

Canadians will stand to gain by a term with Democrats in power as they are the low-tariff party. They are not likely to repeal the reciprocity agreement which is likely to stand until another Canadian election.

Mrs. Catherine Snow has been spending some of the summer months with her son, Charles Raymond. Of late she has been making her home in one of the southern states. Since coming here she has been called to mourn the death of her son, Horace, in the south, and again sad news comes of the death of her grandson, Roy Estey, in Salt Lake City, after an illness of typhoid fever. He formerly lived at Bridgewater. Mrs. Snow has our heartfelt sympathy.

Hanford Shaw has been working a few days for Horace Shaw.

We were sorry to learn through The Observer that our former neighbour, Elsie T. Shaw, was stricken with such a malady. Well, try again and perhaps you will yet be able to bring down the monarch of the forest. Sorry still to know Mr. and Mrs. Shaw plan on a western trip. It is a pity that so many of our best people leave our fair land, and perhaps it would not be unwise to say that we would not regret hearing that Mr. Shaw had become a victim to "stay-at-home fever," before going, as he will be much missed in social and business life.

A few days ago two automobile parties, including about ten passengers from Limestone, drove into Mrs. Margaret Shaw's yard and stopped for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ebbett took tea at Norval Guerrier's on Sunday.

SUCCESSFUL FAIR AT CENTREVILLE.

An Interesting Budget of News Items.

A lot of oats are yet to be cut and potato digging has only started. Men are scarce and wages across the border are exceedingly high. Last week the price of potatoes at Florenceville was 70 cents for only choice stock, every load raked and about two barrels in 20 rejected. Across the border prices have been $1 to $1.10 for Mountains, $1.25 for Cobblers and as high as $2. for Bliss. We need more than a Canada West India Company to make a market equal to the American.

W. W. Melville spent several days last week in the interest of this West India Co.

Pork is high, Harry Gillin paying at Florenceville last week 75c. live weight. Butter and eggs are also a good price—24 and 25 cents respectively. A great many of our best butter makers have private customers in the cities and towns and have been getting 25c. a pound all summer. This has a tendency to make butter scarce locally.

Roy McCall is visiting with his wife at Chas. Wilkinson's. Mrs. McCall has been here for some time.

C. F. West and friend are visiting E. L. West. Charles is now working at the electrical business.

Herman Ritchie, son of Charles Ritchie, is home on his vacation; also Miss Clara, his sister, who is studying nursing.

B. B. Estabrooks has gone to Portland to return with his wife and daughter who have been visiting Mrs. Fred Cheney.

Fred Cliff and wife where at his old home on Sunday; also Burt Cliff who is working at Mars Hill with his brother.

Miss Kathleen O'Hara spent last week at her home and returned to her school at Lower Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. E. Jeffries of Glassville is visiting friends in the village.

J. B. Daggett drove to Hartland on Monday. According to the Standard we are about to lose him as there is prospect of his getting a government job and removing to Fredericton.

Roy Hartley returned yesterday from Miramichi. He had spent 12 days guiding Mr. Watkins, his wife and son, of Ohio. They saw several deer and small moose but nothing that Mr. Watkins considered worthy of his shell.

A. R. Hawkins is cooking for a railway camp three miles north of Woodstock.

Thomas Longstaff and family of Knoxford leave on Thursday for New Westminster.

Walter Mott of Jacksonville has bought a matched pair of black horses from Geo. Lawrence of Knoxford.

Rev. Mr. Penna, Methodist, in the course of his sermon on Sunday called attention to the wheels of fortune on the Fair grounds. He considered it bad education for the young and thought the financial gain to the society would not offset the bad influence. The reverend gentleman is undoubtedly right. All affairs, to be successful, require lots of amusements, but gambling is not necessary and is contrary to law.

The Annual Agricultural affair last week was a success considering the weather conditions. The attendance was not as large as usual. The exhibits were good. Horses were not up to our usual standard. Cattle and sheep were shown in abundance, more than in any previous year.

The poultry exhibit was also good. Roots and vegetables were not as numerous as usual on account of the bad season. Apples were also conspicuous by their absence. This is an off year for apples in this vicinity.

The exhibits by the different schools was a new feature and was excellent. The teachers and scholars certainly deserve praise for the splendid showing made on short notice. Amusements were lacking, not even a band to enliven the occasion. Our society will have to wake up next year and follow the usual practice of the big shows and have something to amuse as well as to educate the crowd that attends. Stock at this time of year is rough and does not show up well as a few weeks earlier. Better consider these matters when arranging the next show.

Mr. Bell, judge of horses, called particular attention to a black pure-bred Per.

Last week notices were sent to over 500 subscribers whose subscriptions were due or past due. This represented a sum considerably exceeding all the liabilities of The Observer. Although most of the notices called for but 50 cents, the money is needed, needed badly and needed right away. Here's hoping subscribers will be quickly responsive—surely before Oct. 20, the time-limit set for the low rate of 50 cents a year. Those who find an error in their statement will oblige the manager by kindly pointing it out.

According to announcement in the last issue of this paper, the roller rink reopened for the season on Friday evening. There was a very good attendance and the floor is said to have been in excellent condition.

Hon. J. K. Flemming and family removed to Woodstock last week and will board at the Turner House during the winter. They will be greatly missed from the village and their departure causes a feeling of general regret. Mrs. Flemming has been closely identified with the different women's societies and is held in universal esteem; while the Premier, himself, has no political opponent here whose prejudice is sufficiently grounded to make his removal to another town a matter for rejoicing.

Sunday was certainly a beautiful day, one of the few in many months that the sun shone unceasingly from the moment it came up until it sank in the western horizon. The air was really warm. The same thermometer that recorded 92 as the hottest day of the season registered 80 degrees in exactly the same location.

If you have any article that you want to sell you can advertise it in this paper once for 25 cents, 4 times for 50 cents, provided you do not use more than 30 words. If you want to sell or buy a farm, house, horse, cow, pigs, hens, wagon, plough, stove, anything at all, you are pretty sure to strike a good trade by the 50 cent ad. Try it.

On Friday evening a meeting was held in the Methodist church for the purpose of organizing an Epworth League. The pastor was met by a number of members, largely representative of the younger portion of them, and good progress was made. F. G. Stevenson was elected president; Mrs. J. F. Murdoch, 1st vice and chairman of Christian Endeavour committee; Burton Taylor, 2nd vice and chairman of committee on Missions; Mrs. G. E. McGinley, 3rd vice and chairman of committee on Social questions; J. S. Faulkner, 4th vice and chairman on Citizenship; A. Plummer, treasurer. Guy. E. McGinley, secretary (pro tem). The object is to stimulate a greater interest in different departments of church work among the younger members. The first devotional meeting will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 11, with a business meeting afterward. There was a meeting of the executive at the home of Mrs. Murdoch on Tuesday evening.

Charlie Joseph disposed of nearly all the goods he had left from his cheap sale on Friday by auction. John McDougall, of Woodstock, did the knocking down for him. Charlie intends leaving Hartland forever on Oct. 21, sailing soon afterward from New York for his home in Beirut, Syria, from which he has been absent 20 years. Most of that time has been spent in Carleton county, five years of it in Hartland. During the time he has been in America he has become a full-fledged Canadian citizen and he has been a good one, paid his taxes and attended diligently to his business, giving offence to no one.

cheron stallion owned by Ednor Reid of Roxford. This horse was raised by Stanley Burke and sold to Mr. Reid when a colt. He is a splendid specimen of draught stock and is a credit to the gentleman who reared him. Pure bred cattle were also shown quite extensively. The farmers are getting the pure bred bee in their bonnets. It costs no more to feed a good animal than it does a scrub and the return is much more. As usual the Hartland Poultry Yards carried off a lot of prizes on their poultry but one local fancier gave them a run for their money and captured some of the prizes.

A POTATO CONTROVERSY.

St. John Standard Badly Mixed Trying to Fool Farmers.

From an interview with Mr. Frank Clements, of the Clements Company, wholesale produce dealers of St. John, printed by the Standard on September 24—

"Asked about the prices of potatoes Mr. Clements said that whereas $1.50 was being paid last year the price this season was only sixty cents a barrel. The decline in price was, he said, due to the fact that the farmers in Ontario, Quebec and the western provinces had large crops of potatoes this year. He added that the shippers here were looking to the Cuban market to take a large quantity of New Brunswick potatoes this year, but at the present time it would only be guesswork to make any forecasts about the probable quantity which could be disposed of in the Cuban market."

It is unfortunate that the director of the Standard's editorial columns last Monday did not consult the Standard's local columns and read with care the authoritative statement credited to Mr. Clements before attempting to contradict The Telegraph's Hartland correspondent, who said that potatoes that were being sold at from fifty to sixty cents a barrel. Editorially the Standard on Monday asserted that New Brunswick potatoes were being sold at quite as good a price as can be obtained for stock of equal quality in the American market—an assertion to which the Clements interview in the Standard gives an effective answer.

Correspondents of The Telegraph in Woodstock and in Hartland present corroboration of the earlier report from Hartland, and show that while Aroostook potatoes are being sold at from $1 to $1.25 per barrel, the prices in Carleton county range from fifty cents to seventy cents, and that the starch factories of Maine are paying for undersized and imperfect potatoes virtually the same price that is being received for good potatoes in New Brunswick.

The Standard's explanation to the low price in Carleton county is that "dealers dropped the price the other day to sixty cents to prevent a lot of poor quality potatoes getting on the market." This careful solicitude on the part of the dealer, and the Standard's earnest exposition of it will doubtless delight all farmers who draw instruction from the Conservative newspaper.

There is one aspect of the trade question with respect to potatoes which the Standard ought to consider, and which all of its rural readers undoubtedly have considered already. If the American price for potatoes is not higher than the New Brunswick price, no New Brunswick potatoes will cross the border and there will be no harm done, even the Standard's viewpoint. As the Standard contends that the home market affords the farmer as good a price as he can secure anywhere, but as the farmer does not think so, and even adduces evidence to support his belief, the fair thing is to permit him to try American market, since it is certain that he will not trade across the line at a loss.

If the Standard is still afraid that the sale of Canadian potatoes in the United States will lead to "an entangling trade alliance with a foreign country," it should explain to the farmer how it is that the Canadian manufacturers were able recently to place $150,000,000 worth of insurance with American companies without involving us in one of those undesirable alliances, and how Canadian milline companies, at certain seasons proceed to purchase American wheat without wrecking the Imperial fabric.

Is the loyalty of the farmer less valuable, or less reliable, than the loyalty of the manufacturer? Also, the Conservative journal should not fail to remember that a majority of the people of New Brunswick voted for free access to additional markets, and that, with the exception of Ontario, a considerable majority of the people of the whole dominion did likewise.—St. John Times.

The Great Bassano Dam.

The dam, which the C.P.R. is constructing three miles southwest of its station at Bassano, Alta., as part of its Irrigation System, will be the biggest of its kind in America. It is a composite structure, consisting of an earthen embankment on the south side of the Bow River and a reinforced concrete spillway in the existing channel. When completed, the embankment will have a total length of 7000 feet, with a maximum height of about 45 feet; will be 350 feet wide at base at its highest point, and will contain one million cubic yards of material. The spillway will be 720 feet long between abutments, with a maximum height of 40 feet to the overflow crest, above which eleven feet of water will be retained by stone gates.

The lake created by this dam will be over ten miles long, half a mile wide and forty feet deep.

The irrigating canals and ditches which will be fed by water controlled by the Bassano dam will have a total mileage of 2500 and almost half a million acres will be irrigated by it. Some idea of what this dam means to Alberta can be had by remembering that while it will serve almost half a million acres, the Dakhwan Weir, which dams for a similar purpose the Betwa River, near Jhansi, India, is almost a mile long (or nearly two-thirds of the length of the Bassano Dam) and yet it supplies water capable of irrigating only about 38,000 acres, or say seven per cent of that supplied by the Bassano Dam. The Roosevelt Dam in Arizona is expected to irrigate some 240,000 acres, or about half what will be served by the new C.P.R. dam at Bassano.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz. Mrs. P. H. Bogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For cough there is nothing that excels it." For sale by all dealers.

GRAND FALLS POWER DEVELOPMENT PLANS.

The Grand Falls Co., Ltd., the new company headed by Sir William Van Horne, which is to spend upwards of $8,000,000 in the development of the water power at Grand Falls and the erection of vast pulp and paper mills, is making the first move towards commencing its immense undertaking. An order-in-council has been passed empowering Hon. J. K. Flanagan to convey by deed to the company the water power and five acres of land along the banks of the river upon payment of the sum of $60,000, which the company has signified it is ready to pay.

Canada.—Mistress of Wheat.

100 lbs. of Canadian Wheat exhibited at the American Land & Irrigation Exposition, Madison Square Garden, New York, November 3rd to 5th, 1911, brought Canada the honor of producing the best hard red milling wheat in the Western Hemisphere, raised the value of farm lands in the Prairie Provinces, put a thousand dollars in the pocket of the farmer who grew it and irrefutably demonstrated that as a wheat-growing country Canada is without a peer. There were 16 entries for this contest. Mr. S. Wheeler of Rosberg, Sask., carrying off the first prize, $1,000 gold, donated by the President of this Company. Mr. Wheeler's land was purchased from the C.P.R. some years ago for $3,000 an acre; he had no previous farming experience but went about his work with forethought and intelligence. The grain was a hard red spring variety known as "Marquis"—the seed came from the local experimental farm and had been grown on the land one year. The soil was a sandy loam with a clay subsoil. In 1908 and 1909 a crop of wheat was raised, while in 1910 the land was summer-fallowed. It was ploughed once in June and cultivated ready for the seed during the summer. Eighty lbs. were sown to the acre in April and threshing took place on Sept. 28th. The wheat, which of course was specially grown, weighed 64 1/2 lbs. to the bushel, was high in milling quality and uniformity with average yield of 73 bushels to the acre. Mr. W. J. Glass of Macleod, Alta., who took second place, exhibited a hard winter wheat, known as Alberta Red, weighing 66 1/2 lbs. to the bushel and Mr. Thos. Maynard of Deloraine, Man., came third with a Red Winter Fife which tipped the scales at 64 1/2.

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion: "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for fifteen years," says Enos Lollar of Saratoga, Ind., "and consider it the best on the market." For sale by all dealers.

Wells in Alberta.—A Big Contract.

The C.P.R. has made a contract with the Alberta Well-Digging Co. for 600 wells to be dug on the C.P.R. Ready-Made Farms, 80 of which are to be completed this year and the remainder within the next two years.

KINNEY-KIMBALL.

Wedding in Hartland Wednesday Evening of Fort Fairfield Young People.

Roy L. Kinney, youngest child of Henry S. Kinney of this town, and Miss Dorothy Ludgate, eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kimball of Fort Fairfield, were united in marriage last Wednesday by Rev. P. J. Tratten of Hartland, pastor of the Reformed Baptist church in that place, at his home, in the presence of a few invited friends.

The double-ring service was used. The bride appeared to advantage in a traveling suit of dark purple, with hat to match, while the groom wore the customary black. The maid of honor was Miss Asenath Watt of this village and the bridesmaid Miss Gay-nell Kimball, a cousin of the bride. The groomsmen were Thurbar Holt and Thomas Houghton, both of this town.

The presents consisted of cut glass, linen, and many other useful, beautiful and valuable articles.

After congratulations and refreshments the newly married couple started on their trip to Fredericton and St. John, and will probably extend it to various parts of Nova Scotia. Then they will go to Burnham to visit the bridegroom's brother Harry E. Kinney, formerly of this town, thence to Portland and beyond. It will be some days, therefore, before they return to Fort Fairfield, when they will take up their residence in a part of Mrs. H. N. Goodhue's house. It is rumored that Mr. and Mrs. Kinney may spend the winter in Florida, where Mr. Kinney owns real estate.

This young couple are most favorably known in their home town, and rightly have hosts of friends who wish them every happiness in a long and successful journey through life.—Fort Fairfield Review.

If you have young children you have perhaps noticed that disorders of the stomach are their most common ailment. To correct this you will find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets excellent. They are easy and pleasant to take, and mild and gentle in effect. For sale by all dealers.

Rheumatism, catarrh and tuberculosis are always relieved and cured in numbers of instances. This land is extremely productive if properly handled. We are offering lands in tracts of ten acres up to five hundred acres at twenty dollars per acre; three dollars per acre per month.
