Fourteen Fires in Victoria, B. C., Attributed to Firebug.

Victoria, B. C., June 22 .- A firebus is believed to be responsible for the greater portion of fires since Thursday night. Since noon Saturday three were discovered, following upon the series of the foregoing morning. All were small affairs, being discovered before they made any headway. The office of Ridgeway Wilson, architect, was visited in his absence and fire kindled among the drawings on his desk. Wm. Mason, from the adjoining office, extinguished the fire. Twenty minutes later the firebug started a fire in the office of George Carter & Co., commission agents, while the staff were absent. No damage resulted. While starting a fire in some straw-filled packing cases in a lane near the court house, he was almost caught, as Mr. Ogilvie, proprietor of a tin-shop, came in as he took flight. Nearly every merchant in the conwas arrested here Tuesday night charged with arson. Bratton was arof trade building, where on investigation a smouldering fire was discovered in a corner. He has been under suspicion by the police for some days and he is thought to be responsible for fourteen fires which have broken out since Thursday, one of which dif damage to the extent of $50,000. DESIGNED BY MARTHA DEAN.

GIRLS' JUMPER DRESS. Paris Pattern No. 1923

All Beams Allowed. All of the best jumper features are combined in this useful and attractive design for a child's frock. It is adaptable to serge, mohair, Panama cloth or challfs and should be worn over a guimpe of embroidered pongee, dotted challis, linen or Victoria lawn. The slashing over the shoulder, as well as the V-shaped effect to the front, combine to give the large arm-hole aspect to the pinafore portion and also the appearance of the two being buttoned together on the shoulder. The full gathered skirt is joined to the waist under a belt of the material embroidered by hand. The pattern is in 4 sizes-6 to 12 years. For a girl of 10 years the dress requires 4 % yard of material 20 inches wide. 2 3/4 yards 86 inches wide, or 2 1/4 yards 42 inches wide; the guimpe needs 31/4 yards 18 inches wide, or 1% yard 86 inches wide; with 4% Price of pattern, 10 cents.

SUNSHINE FURNACE And Coal Economy

OMBUSTION taking place in the dome or top chamber of furnace fire-pot is the result of air and heat mingling with fumes. This combustion produces heat-energy, which the radiating surfaces above and around fire-pot absorb or draw in and then deflect or throw off. Incoming cold air receives this heatenergy, the result being heated air. Now, if the combustion takes place at a faster rate than the radiating surfaces can absorb and deflect, the surplus heat-power will pass up the chimney or into cellar—a waste of coal. There is no waste of coal in "Sunshine" Furnace. Circuit of radiator is so complete, and aircirculating space so large, that every bit of heat-energy is quickly absorbed and quickly deflected on the circulating cold air, which Is thus quickly heated and ascends through the hot-air pipes to rooms above.

The check-draft of a furnace is situated on the smoke-pipe. When this draft is closedespecially on an "ordinary" furnace-heat particles can escape up chimney. When checkdraft is opened the incoming cold air from the cellar drives all heat particles back into furnace proper. If the grates and fire-pot of furnace are not constructed properly, there's a clogging and gathering of ashes, and fire does not burn up readily. If no provision is made for gas escape, the check-draft must be left closed indefinitelya waste of coal.

There is no waste of coal in "Sunshine" Furnace. No clogging can take place in the 4-piece grate, no ashes can gather on the straight fire-pot walls, and the Automatic Gas Damper makes every provision for the escape of gas; consequently, check-draft can be opened shortly after coaling and all heat-energy saved for radiation.

We can vouch for the "Sunshine" virtues mentioned above. We have installed this furnace and kept records of its performances, and know it to be exactly as represented. J. A. BROWNLEE, 385 TALBOT ST. LOCAL AGENTS. J. A. PAGE, 807 DUNDAS ST.
