BOYS ATE DEADLY SEEDS

Sons of F. Hustwick and J. W. Baggs Have Narrow Escapes

Were Poisoned by Seeds of The Stramonium Weed

Three little lads, two of them sons of J. W. Baggs, of Seventh street, and the third a son of Frank Hustwick, of Stanley avenue, had narrow escapes from death by poisoning through eating the deadly seeds of the stramonium weed last night. The boys found the weeds near Brundage's ice house, and not knowing of their poisonous nature, ate quite a quantity of the seed. A short time after returning to their homes, they were taken violently ill, and for a time their lives were despaired of.

The Hustwick boy's mother gave him an antidote at once. She appeared to know the symptoms of the poison, and her prompt action saved the boy a great deal of agony, and possibly from death.

A physician was hurriedly called to attend to the two Baggs' boys. One of them had not eaten sufficient of the seeds to make him dangerously ill, but Willie, the seven-year-old boy, fell into a stupor, from which it was with great difficulty he was aroused. His condition was very critical all night long, but The Planet understands that his condition this morning was much improved, and his physician hopes for his recovery.

The stramonium weed is known also by the names of Datura and the Jamestown weed. It is a genus of solanaceous plants, with large funnel-shaped flowers, and a four-celled capsular fruit. The commonest species are the (d. stramonium) with a prickly capsule, white flowers and green stem, and the d. tatula, with a purplish tinge of the stem and flowers. Both are narcotic and dangerously poisonous.

NICE ROW IS COMING

Will Be Stormy Meeting of Local Bowlers This Afternoon

Trouble Over July First Reception Will Be Aired

The chances are that there will be quite a stormy discussion at the organization meeting of the Chatham Lawn Bowling Club, which is to be held in Harrison Hall this afternoon at 4.30.

The old feud among the members relative to the reception, or rather lack of reception, on the occasion of outside teams visiting here at the tournament on July 1st, will be brought up, and there will probably be sensational doings.

It will be remembered that a number of the members of the club claimed that the Reception Committee made practically no arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting bowlers during the latter's stay in the Maple City. There were murmurs low but deep, and the trouble has hung fire ever since. The explosion is billed to take place this afternoon.

What the result of this meeting will be cannot be predicted at present, but it is hoped that the whole matter may be amicably settled, and that peace and good-feeling will once more prevail among the members.

A RUNAWAY

A horse from Leithbridge Bros. livery stables on King street created a little excitement this morning, by a mad run down from the power house to the stables.

The horse had been taken out by Ed. Northwood, who had occasion to stop at the C. W. & L. E. offices. He left the horse in the charge of a young man, who afterwards went away without notifying Mr. Northwood. He did not tie the animal securely, and when it became frightened at something, it broke away, and ran down home. In running into the stables the wheels of the buggy just grazed the doors. Beyond a break to the shafts, there were no serious results to the runaway.

MAKING A GREAT HIT

Passion Play Pictures at Wonderland Draw Big Crowds

Able Presentation of Scenes in The Great Christian Drama

The Passion Play pictures which are being shown at the Wonderland Theatre, King street, this week, make without doubt one of the greatest treats in the moving picture line of any which have been shown in Chatham in a long time. The citizens have not been slow to recognize the worthiness of this attraction, and large crowds are attending every afternoon and evening.

The pictures are, of course, of a sacred nature, and depict the various scenes in Christ's crucifixion, from the mental tortures of the Garden of Gethsemane till His death on the Roman cross and His subsequent resurrection. The pictures are large, vivid and clear, and are educational which will be endorsed by the clergy. They present and make clear the various scenes of the great Christian drama.

While the pictures are in progress a lecture on the Passion Play is given by Prof. Stacey, who explains everything minutely. Besides the pictures, there are several special numbers, amongst which are the songs by Mr. Gallagher, whose singing has become so popular with Chathamites. During the entertainment he sings the sacred song, "The Holy City," and another favorite, entitled, "There is a Green Hill Far Away."

The Messrs. Rolph are to be congratulated on the success with which their pictures are meeting, and the popularity of the Wonderland Theatre, which has been gradually growing since they took over the proprietorship.

DISCHARGED REVOLVER

Charles Coleman Is Arrested on a Very Serious Charge

He and Morley Tickner Had a Row With Bad Results

Charles Coleman, a young man about nineteen years of age, was arrested this morning on a charge of shooting a revolver at Morley Tickner, also of this city, with intent of doing actual bodily harm.

It appears that Coleman and Tickner got in a row, in North Chatham, when the former pulled out a revolver, and pointed it at Tickner's breast. Tickner became frightened immediately and commenced to run down the street. When Coleman saw him running, he evidently wished to scare him more, and this is when the revolver was discharged.

Coleman is employed as teamster for Graham the butcher. The revolver which he used is said to be one purchased from Andrew Thomson for $1. Although it is a cheap one it does the business all right. It is a .38 calibre, and the cartridges used were bought from Geo. Stephens.

When he was arrested this morning, P. C. Dezella found a number of cartridges in the young man's pocket. The gun was in the pocket of one of the pairs of trousers which he kept at the butcher shop. Two of the cartridges in the revolver were empty.

It is likely that Coleman will come up this afternoon before Judge Houston and will be remanded until to-morrow.

PASSED AWAY

Walter Brock, aged 45 years and eight months, passed away last evening at 5.15 after an illness of about three days duration. The cause of death was heart failure.

The deceased was born in Ongar, Essex County, England, in 1862. He was manager of the Miles Hotel, and was a man who was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. He was a hearty, whole-souled gentleman, generous to a fault, and his death will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends.

The late Mr. Brock was a member of the Sons of England, which Order will have charge of the funeral. He is survived by his wife, his parents and six sisters, and one brother, all of whom are living in Ongar, Essex County, England. Wm. Chellis, J. P., who lives near Thymessville, was a cousin of the deceased. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

WHERE IS FLEMING?

Rumor Says he Was Killed—His Mother Is Anxious

He Was an English Immigrant Who Came Here Short Time Ago

Chief of Police John Holmes has received a letter from J. C. Cropp, the postmaster of Ayr, asking as to the whereabouts of a young man named David Fleming.

The young man arrived in Chatham from England on August 1, 12, or 13. Mr. Cropp has a letter from him dated September 13. This is all that is known of him. There is a rumor around his home in England that he was killed and his mother and family are quite anxious about it. His mother wrote to Mr. Cropp, who is an old friend of the family, asking concerning the rumor. When the young man was first sent out, Mr. Cropp promised to look after him as much as he could. He has been expecting him every day to come to Ayr. In his letter of September 13, Fleming stated that he was living at 4 Wellington street, Chatham, and that he was working for the waterworks. He expected that his job would not last much longer, and he was then going to Ayr. He has not gone, nor has he sent any more word as to his intentions. His mother lives in Plumstead, Kent, England.

It has been learned since the receipt of the letter that a young man named Fleming was employed by the waterworks department, on the streets, and he may be yet. Further information concerning him could not be received before this afternoon. As far as the people of Chatham are concerned, they have certainly not heard of any young man named Fleming being killed, and unless the young man left Chatham, he is still safe and alive.

STILL LIVE IN A CAR

Chatham Immigrants Having a Hard Time In St. Thomas

Have Taken up Quarters in a Box Car—Shameful Neglect

St. Thomas, Oct. 2.—There are five men, five women and eight children occupying the three railway box cars on Yarmouth Heights.

As told in a previous issue, they are in straitened circumstances, the men are laboring on the Michigan Central.

They are some of the party of English immigrants who arrived in Chatham some weeks past and made the railway station their domestic quarters.

Their unpromised dwelling will never stand the winter weather, and a suggestion comes that the township of Yarmouth give them some protection over the coming cold season.

Their uncleanly surroundings and the sparse supply of furnishings, both personal and household, are a danger to their health and the more immediate neighborhood.

The unfortunate people are making the best of it and the residents in the vicinity are giving a helping hand.

SUCCESSFUL TEA

The Ladies Guild of Holy Trinity were taxed to their limit Tuesday night to provide accommodation for the large crowd who attended their social in the school room. People were there from all over the city, and they were not disappointed in the entertainment provided. Mr. F. J. Naflet, of the Bank of Montreal, was in the chair, and before introducing the musical program gave a short address on the work of the Guild. He stated that since their organization less than a year ago they had made by their own efforts over $260, and after contributing the necessary expenses for their work have on hand at present $195. The following ladies and gentlemen contributed an excellent program: Misses Beatrice Smith, Hope Rankin, Flossie Edmondson, and Mr. Will Rutley, vocal solos; Miss Evans, of St. Thomas, three pieces on the mandolin; and Misses Vera Sheldon and E. Smith, daughter of the Public School Inspector, three or four splendid readings. Coffee, cake and sandwiches were then dispensed, and after a few remarks by the rector the company sang the National Anthem, which brought the evening to a close.

EVERYBODY likes to look well, which is both natural and proper.

The careful spending of money to that end is something that appeals to everybody, too.

That is our reason for the Cowan Shoe, with its characteristics of excellent style and quality at a moderate price.

A CELEBRATION.

The suggestion offered at the recent meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association, relative to the holding of a big civic celebration in Chatham on the First of July, 1908, is one which should not be allowed to drop. It should be encouraged in every possible way, until something definite results.

Chatham has not had a real live celebration in years, and there is not a man in the city who does not realize that this is a unfortunate truth. It is not because there is not the right kind of material for planning and carrying out such an event. Chatham in times past has boasted of the best celebrations ever held, and the best of these can be repeated.

The matter is now in the right hands. If the Retail Merchants will continue to talk it up, and WORK it up, they will find that their efforts will not be in vain, but that they will have every citizen behind them ready to both commend and assist them.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

For several years The Planet has advocated, as regularly as the fall season comes around, the establishment of a big Industrial show in the Maple City.

This suggestion invariably meets with unanimous approval, and is recognized as a worthy one, the acceptance and fulfillment of which would mean another source of benefit, not only to the citizens of Chatham, but also to the people generally throughout the whole county. Here the matter drops for the want of the boosting of some live man, who, as yet, has failed to take it up. The Peninsular Fair, it is admitted, does not fill the want, for reasons which are well known. It seems that no amount of work and hustle can make the Peninsular Fair the success that an agricultural exhibition should be in this garden centre. There must be some other reason behind it, for the directors of the West Kent Agricultural Society yearly put forth their best efforts along lines of providing the best show within their means.

Chatham should lead every other city of its size in Canada in the matter of Fall Fairs. No other city is surrounded by such fertile soil, in no other county can be found a better class of stock, poultry, etc. People should be brought here in just as large numbers as they are at present taken to London, and other Fair centres. Chatham should be made the Fair Centre of Western Ontario.

Some time ago it was suggested that the small township fairs should be discontinued, and that all of the effort at present spent upon these exhibitions be centred in the Peninsular Fair. This would undoubtedly bring about the desired conditions, if it were properly arranged and carried out.

Some of the people of the county have had this year a small taste of what such a scheme would mean. The municipalities of Raleigh and Tilbury East have in years gone by been holding two separate fairs. This year it was decided to amalgamate, and this week a joint fair was held. The results were most satisfactory. Instead of two poor exhibitions, one good one was held.

What it would mean if this idea were extended to apply to all of the fairs of the county, is not hard to imagine.

BEST OF PROOF

That Hyomei Will Cure All Forms of Catarrhal Diseases.

Testimonials could be printed by the thousands, many of them from Chatham and near by towns, that Hyomei is an absolute cure for all catarrhal troubles, but the best proof of its unusual curative powers is the guarantee that C. H. Gunn & Co. give, with every outfit that they sell. "Money back if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it."

Hyomei is not a secret remedy. Its formula is given freely to physicians who want to know what they use when they prescribe Hyomei. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Law by serial No. 1418. By breathing Hyomei, the healing medication goes directly to every nook and corner of the air passages where the catarrhal germs may lurk, and disinfected and healed. To be convinced of this you have only to give it a trial, remembering that if it does not cure, they will refund your money.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, and in most cases is sufficient to cure the disease, making it not only a scientific treatment but one that is highly economical. Get an outfit to-day from C. H. Gunn & Co. if you have any catarrh.

CLEMENTS RECEIVES REPORT ON THE CUT-OFF SCHEME

Government Engineer Says That Cut-off is Not Feasible—Suggests Widening, Deepening and Straightening The River Between Chatham and the Lighthouse

Mr. H. S. Clements, M. P., has received the following report in reference to the cut-off scheme which was talked of in connection with the overflows of the River Thames. Mr. Clements has spent much time in considering the interests of his constituents in this matter, and although the report given below discourages the cut-off idea, it will not discourage the energetic member for West Kent. Other schemes are spoken of in the report and these may be more feasible. One thing is certain, the farmers are suffering, and Mr. Clements' efforts will not cease until this suffering is either entirely removed, or greatly lessened. Office of the Engineer in Charge, London, August 7, 1907.

Sir,—I duly received your letter No. 2674, dated 28th June last, enclosing file No. 309,755, being a letter from Mr. H. S. Clements, M. P., asking that an examination be made with regard to the proposed cut-off in the River Thames for the overflow of the water in the spring, with a view to preventing floods at Chatham and in the vicinity and instructing me to report on the matter.

In accordance with your instructions I have made the necessary cursory examination sufficient to enable me to determine the approximate amount of work involved in such scheme, and as to whether such would apply in any way to the interests of navigation, or the proper maintenance of navigable waters of the River Thames which would place such matter within the control of this Department, and I have the honor to report as follows: The proposition to construct an off-take channel from near Chatham across to Lake Erie would involve a very large expenditure, as the distance would be from 12 to 14 miles and the height of land is a short distance from Lake Erie shore. Taking the level of Lake Erie as a datum, the level of low water at Chatham is approximately 2 feet and flood level 10 feet. The general level of the south bank of the River Thames is 20 feet, while the elevation of points south of the River Thames, and lying between said river and Lake Erie are as follows: Richardson 30 feet. Fargo 57 feet. Blenheim 118 feet. Gravel Ridge between Blenheim and Lake Erie 110 to 120 feet. Assuming that a cut were made about 200 feet in width and about 20 feet deep at the River Thames to 75 feet wide at the lowest point in the Ridge, such would necessitate the excavation of an enormous amount of material, and the purchase of a large strip of land upon which to excavate channel and for the disposal of materials.

Head works would also be required at the Thames end of canal to control the flow of water, otherwise, at low stages, a flow from Lake St. Clair would have to be maintained through this canal.

On making a careful examination of the banks of the River Thames from a short distance above Chatham to the mouth of the river, I find that there are a couple of very sharp bends in the river where an ice jam frequently occurs, thus damming the river and causing floods above these points.

The Canadian Pacific Railway engineers have, I understand, been for some time taking careful notes of the action of the ice during flood level, and agree with me that the straightening of the river at the bends mentioned, as also at a few points above the city, would be much more liable to prevent floods than the cut-off in question. Further more, as far as I can judge, such cut-off is merely a drainage scheme, which work comes directly within the jurisdiction of the municipalities interested, or the province, the work being purely provincial. I return, herewith, file in question.

Yours obediently,
H. J. LAMB,
Engineer-in-Charge,
A. St. Laurent Esq., C. E., Assistant Chief Engineer, Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

PREACHING FOR HIRE

Elder Russell, of the Latter Day Saints, contributes the following to The Planet:

The great God-ordained Peter who said he was not seeking man's admiration, commended in his first Epistle 5, 1, 2, the ministry who had charge of the respective congregations not to labor for money. The Christ who sent His ministry into all the world said provide neither gold nor silver, but go depending on the world, and to those who will feed and clothe you and minister to your wants I will give the second best glory in eternity. While to those who do not minister to you I will say depart ye cursed. And so that every man would get a reward for all the good he did, Christ said to His ministry I will make you fathers of men and will give you sons for your hire.

Then when the beggar asked alms of Peter and John they said silver and gold have we none, but such as we have we will give, and they healed him of his infirmities. Such miraculous powers were continually occurring while the ministry remained faithful, and the congregations got their lawful rights—the signs following the believers—but when the reformation set in Christianity died and then as the prophet said the preachers would preach for hire and divine for money, and in II. Tim. 4, 3, Paul says there will be heaps of such men, and he advises us to turn away from such. And today the people get none of those promised blessings in the churches any more than in the ranks of infidelity. Why said the speaker. Simply because they as Isaiah 24, 5, says, have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, and broken the everlasting covenant. Thus the widow and orphan are taxed to pay the preacher, who lives on the fat of the land and takes his summer vacation though the church be closed in his absence. Then he and his family must dress in the best and the children of course must go to the limit of college education and get the highest positions in the land, while the widow and orphan who are highly taxed to support the person and educate his family must live on the plainest of foods and go half clad, and almost the highest goal for her boy is a trade at some heavy work, though she would love to see her boy get at least a fair education if her means would so allow. Then apparently as though wishing to humiliate God, who but once called himself Rev. Es. 3, 9, they outdo him by calling themselves by the following titles and charge the enormous rates for year services—Right Rev. Bishop Horatio Potter, salary $15,000.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, $50,000.
Rev. Morgan Dix, D. D., $20,000.
Rev. DeWitt Talmage, D. D., $13,000.
Rev. John P. Newman, D. D., $20,000.

Well might John Wesley say that in the latter days God would call new apostles and send them without salary. In fraternal societies to-day we pay about $15 per year for a $5 weekly sick benefit, and the heirs get $1,000 when we die. But if we pay the same to the person the benefits are music by a choir whom we also hire, several pathetic recitals of patent fables and a ten minute reading of a sermon purchased by the person from Rev. E. M. Long's sermon factory in Philadelphia. Then more music, and in one of the gay churches in Hamilton, Ont., waiters serve free of charge to the congregation cake and coffee. And then if you were in Chicago in some of the churches you could repair to the ball room in the basement where you could purchase cigars, high wines and beer, while you and the person waited your turn on the crowded floor where the man with the long prayers and angelic voice in testimony self praise is now tipping the light fantastic.

What think you, said the speaker, would Christ do were he to suddenly appear on the scene? engage in the beer, cigars and dance or plat another scourge and drive out the den of thieves?
Jer. 6, 16, advises to "seek out the old paths and walk therein, and he shall find rest for your souls." But the people said, "we will not walk therein."

THE END OF IT.

British Yachtsmen Consider New Yorkers' Attitude Finishes Races. Dublin, Oct. 2.—Sir Thomas Lipton again has expressed his deep regret at the refusal of the New York Yacht Club to accept his challenge to a race for the America's Cup, and in a lengthy letter to the Royal Irish Yacht Club he sets forth his reasons in detail. The committee of the club met last night.

The committee of the Royal Irish Yacht Club, in cabling its formal acknowledgment of the refusal of the challenge, expressed the regret of the committee and all the members of the club that a race could not be arranged. At the same time the secretary of the committee cables Sir Thomas Lipton in full.

One of the leading honorary officials of the Royal Irish Yacht Club, said the committee, had approved of continuing the reply to a mere formal acknowledgment. The terms of the communication of the New York Yacht Club precludes discussion, although the position assumed in the New York Yacht Club's communications was debatable on several points.

Yachting men on this side of the Atlantic regards the resolutions of the New York Yacht Club, as removing the America's Cup out of the field of sport. Sir Thomas Lipton would have put himself in the wrong with British yachting opinion had he acted otherwise than he has done, and it is now to be hoped that he will turn his attention to the sport to the home waters.

Accidental Success.

"In literature," said a publisher, "popular success frequently comes by accident. A remarkable case was that of J. H. Shorthouse. This man, a poor chemist, spent some years writing a book called 'John Inglesant.' But the publishers would have none of 'John Inglesant,' and finally Mr. Shorthouse printed 100 copies at his own expense.

"Only forty of these copies sold, one purchaser being a photographer. The photographer took Mr. Gladstone's picture some weeks later, and the old man chose a studious pose, sitting with a volume in his hand. He bent in absorption over the work, which happened accidentally to be 'John Inglesant,' and in the thousands of copies of the photograph that were sold by accident, the book's name was plainly to be made out.

"Mr. Gladstone was regarded as a great critic, and the people thought he desired to recommend 'John Inglesant.' What was the result? Within the year 300,000 copies of 'John Inglesant' had been sold, and Shorthouse was a made man."

Two Tall Ones.

"Eagles and hyenas, if they are starving, will eat themselves," said a nature fakir.

"Oh, of course."

"It's the truth. Pliny mentions it in his natural history, and I have proved it by experiment. I started an eagle three days, and he began to tear chunks out of his thigh and eat them. The thing was so sickening to me that I only permitted it to go on a day. I got two good photographs of it for my last book, then I restored the eagle's rations again. The poor fellow had made a hole in his thigh as big as your fist, and to this day he walks lame."

"And the hyena? The hyena was worse still. At first he was obstinate and refused to touch himself; but one night I heard angry growls from his cage and, going down with a lantern, I found him eating his hind leg. He had made great progress. He had got away with about three pounds. I believe if I hadn't come down in time he'd have devoured himself completely."—Exchange.

Strained the Jar.

A little old woman with a sharp nose and sharper tongue was in the country grocery store buying supplies. Among other things she brought in from her cart was a battle scarred jug, which she ordered to be filled with treacle.

At last, when her purchases were completed, she began looking over the account, item by item, before paying. "What's this?" she exclaimed. "You have charged me for two gallons and a half of treacle."

"But that jug holds only two gallons."

"You must be mistaken. I measured the treacle carefully, and it took two gallons and a half to fill it."

"Well," said the old woman with a sigh, "I don't so much mind having to pay for the treacle, but I do object to having the old jug strained by your putting in half a gallon more than it will hold."—Strand Magazine.

To think well is the way to act rightly.

MEMORIAL AT SALISBURY.

Marble Tablet to Americans Killed in Train Wreck.

In the ancient and beautiful Salisbury cathedral, Ambassador Whitelaw Reid recently unveiled a handsome marble tablet in memory of those killed in the terrible accident a year ago, when by the derailing of the American line boat train 28 persons, mostly Americans, lost their lives. The ceremony, the impressiveness of which was emphasized by the presence of the widows and children of the trainmen killed in the disaster, all in the deepest mourning, was attended by many dignitaries of the church, the mayor and members of the corporation in their robes of office, the American consul at Southampton, Mr. Stan; the United States consul at Portsmouth, Mr. Malm; numerous visitors and a large congregation of citizens of Salisbury, through whose generosity the memorial was made possible. At the conclusion of the formal ceremony of the unveiling, for which the tablet was draped with American and British flags, the bishop of Salisbury, Dr. Wordsworth, dedicated the tablet in a short address, concluding with the words:

"May God accept this gift at our hands and bless it as a token of love that binds our kindred nations one to another."

In his address to the congregation in behalf of the American nation, Mr. Reid recalled the incidents of the calamity by which "of 47 passengers to London half were stopped here to await the final trumpet," making special reference to the "happiest young bride" (Mrs. Frederick Henry Coe), daughter of ex-Judge Dugro of New York, whose bereavement was specially mentioned in the Queen's message of sympathy. After a reference to the "sympathy shown on every hand" and "the multitudes of manifestations from all classes and conditions," the ambassador concluded:

"They reach a fitting climax to-day in this cathedral to be a testimony while these walls endure to that quick community of feeling which, in spite of distance and circumstance, in our deepest sorrow as in our highest joys, binds us together as almost one great family still. We do not understand in the least the terrible event we record, yet I am persuaded that not even its mystery or awful severity will keep a people of one blood from clinging still to single faith. The American poet (John G. Whittier) says:

"I know not where his islands lift
Their fringed palms in air;
"I only know I cannot drift,
"Beyond his love and care."

Effect of Whistle on Rattlesnakes.
"Should you ever encounter a rattlesnake and he shows fight just begin to whistle softly and the reptile will uncoil and lay with his eyes closed and body quivering," said a Tennesseean. "On more than one occasion I have run across rattlesnakes and have always taken the fight out of them by whistling. The snake seems to become absolutely helpless when he hears a soft whistle and will make no attempt to spring upon you. This whistle appears to soothe his anger and rob him of fighting power. I saved my life on one occasion in this manner. Try it and you'll find that I tell the truth."

Labor is not only a necessity and a duty, but a blessing.

Politics to Play No Part Says President—After Extremists

Toronto, Oct. 2.—A meeting of the executive of the Ontario License Holders' Protective Association was held yesterday, when E. Dickie, for 13 years secretary, tendered his resignation, which was accepted with regret. John Stormont of Toronto was elected secretary pro tem. Arrangements were also made for a mass meeting of all branches of the trade, to be held in this city on Oct. 23, for the purpose of reorganization.

T. P. Phelan of the Canadian Railway News Co., who is president of the Ontario License Holders' Association, made the frank statement last night that he had been found impossible to secure the harmony and unity of purpose necessary as an organization whose objects were to defend the interests of the trade, when each of the cities had its separate association, not responsible to the general body, pique and jealousy, as he explained, giving rise to friction.

"The idea is a general consolidation of the different interests engaged in the liquor trade. There are now different organizations throughout the province at present, but a plan of reorganization contemplates making such organizations committees of the whole body."

Mr. Phelan denied that politics played any part in the life of the association. If the hopes of the executive are not disappointed, the meeting to be held within the next three weeks will be attended by between 500 and 800 license holders.

Mr. Phelan said that it was intended to adopt a vigorous policy of protection against would-be extremes of over zealous temperance workers. A member of the executive, in discussing the reorganization plans last night, said that some dissatisfaction existed among license holders under the present regime, and that this was especially the case in the larger cities. He intimated that politics had something to do with the unsettled conditions and that there was a feeling in some quarters that the present Ontario Government was not dealing as generously in the matter of licenses as the former Government. Some of the members of the provincial association were "lukewarm," and it was felt that the system of a general organization for the province and separate associations for each of the cities of Ontario did not work well.

JOHN W. MORRIS KILLED.

Struck by a Train—Formerly Drove a Bus at Bowmanville.

Bowmanville, Oct. 2.—John W. Morris, formerly driver on Glover's bus line for many years, was killed near Galbraith's crossing on the Grand Trunk Railway yesterday afternoon by the passenger train leaving Toronto at 1.50. He had lately been employed as section man in Conner's gang. Yesterday afternoon he was work at a culvert, and had occasion to cross the track for a shovel just as two trains were approaching in opposite directions. Morris evidently did not observe the train from the west, as he stood on the track watching the other train passing, and was struck by the engine and thrown on the side of the track. He lived about half an hour after the accident.

Morris was about 48 years of age, and had lived in Bowmanville all his life. He leaves a wife and five children.

Sarnia Man Killed.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 2.—Charles Nelson, a C. P. R. yard foreman, while working on the Arcadia switch yesterday evening, was struck and killed by the brakeman, but eventually got caught between the coaches when the train started to move. No one knew of the accident, and the engine was uncoupled and taken away, but immediately after the car inspector found Nelson in a terribly crushed condition, jammed between two coaches.

Nelson was immediately rushed back and Nelson removed, but life was extinct. He was 23 years of age, and has a brother in Regina. His parents reside in Sarnia.

BIG MEN ARRAIGNED

American Insurance Officials Ordered to Appear in Court

Prominent Men Who Will Be Called Upon to Defend Themselves on Serious Counts—Forgery and Perjury Are Among the Charges—District Attorney Jerome Proposes to Push the Cases to the End.

New York, Oct. 2.—Leading officials of several of the large life insurance companies were summoned by District Attorney Jerome yesterday to appear before the criminal branch of the Supreme Court to plead to indictments found against them by the grand jury.

Among the officials summoned were Charles S. Fairchild, formerly secretary of the United States Treasury, and formerly trustee of the New York Life Insurance Co.; George W. Perkins, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.; also formerly vice-president of the same company, both of whom are accused of forgery; John R. Hageman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.; accused on seven counts of forgery and three of perjury; Frederick A. Burnham, President George D. Eldredge, formerly vice-president, all of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Co., against whom indictments are pending fifteen indictments, alleging forgery and perjury; Walter R. Gillette, formerly vice-president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., charged with forgery; and Thomas D. Jordan, former comptroller of the Equitable Life Assurance Co., against whom there are eighteen counts, alleging forgery and perjury.

They are all ordered to appear in court on Monday.

BARNWELL A WITNESS.

Defaulting Crown Bank Teller to Be Summoned to Give Evidence.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Edwin Barnwell, at present serving a sentence in the penitentiary for theft from the Crown Bank, will be brought to Toronto soon to testify in the court suit of the bank against the London Guarantee & Accident Co.

Barnwell decamped with $48,000, of which but $1,700 was recovered after the bank had spent $8,000 in getting him back from Jamaica. The bank wants to be reimbursed for the latter amount.

The guarantee company paid $2,500 into court, of which $1,700 is for the money lost, and $800 for the pro rata share of the expenses, which is all that the company maintains it is liable.

The bank had two policies with the London company—one on Barnwell for $5,000 and one on the account, through whose negligence it was alleged the defalcation of Barnwell was possible, for $5,000.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the nose or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing hope to the prize fighter, coupled with the fact that there was no doubt whatever that aerial ships would play an important part in future wars and that it was consequently most desirable that this country should take steps to ensure a suitable aerial force being ready when the time for the struggle arrived, he suggested the appointment of a royal commission.

In the course of a discussion, Sir Hiram Maxim said that there was no doubt now about the success of flying machines. They would soon be in the air in more senses than one. The Americans had spent large sums of money on the problem of the navigation of the air, the French Government had also spent a good deal of money, and the German Emperor was taking the matter up. Flying machines were things we had got to compete in, and unless England soon took up the question she would be left in the cold.

BATTLES IN THE AIR.

British Engineering Colonel Predicts That Aerial Machines Will Be Principally Used For War.

What Tennyson in his poetical imagination saw dimly as a vision and described in "Locksley Hall":

There rain'd a ghastly dew
From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue.

was dealt with as a matter of hard fact and practical military science lately by Col. Fullerton, R.E., at the Royal United Service Institution.

There was no doubt, said the lecturer, that in the next great war flying machines would be regularly employed. The purposes for which they were likely to be used were three—against other airships, against sea forces and against land forces. As regarded purely aerial warfare, the first object of each side would be by means of their air forces to obtain the command of the air. For this purpose both sides would maintain high-speed flying machines armed with light guns. The aerial battle would practically settle the first period of the campaign, the victor gaining the command of the air and all the advantages which would ensue therefrom.

Against an enemy's sea forces, the flying machines would be used chiefly for reconnoitering purposes, but it was probable that efforts would be made also by firing specially-designed projectiles more or less vertically downwards on the decks of ships, to damage seriously the engines, boilers, etc., of the floating vessels. No doubt the flying machines would have considerable difficulty in carrying out this duty, but light high-speed machines painted so as to resemble the sky as much as possible would be able to do a great deal of damage. The location and destruction of submarines would possibly also be an important function of the aerial ship, as her position high up in the air would enable her to trace the course of vessels some 30 or 40 feet below the water.

Against land forces reconnoitering would be the principal duty, but setting fire to store depots and attacking mounted troops and stampeding or destroying their horses would also be practiced.

Speaking generally, it would seem desirable at present to construct machines as follows: For one passenger, weight 800 to 1,000 pounds, velocity 30 miles per hour, indicated horsepower 20 to 25; for two passengers, weight 1,000 to 1,500 pounds, velocity 35 miles, indicated horsepower 25 to 30; larger type for four passengers and 1,500 pounds of stores, weight 7,000 to 10,000 pounds, velocity 35 to 40 miles, indicated horsepower 250 to 300. This last would be suitable for military reconnoitering work. The 1,500 pounds for stores would include a light gun for use against opposing flying machines and a special class of gun with heavy shells for use against troops or ships.

At present it was doubtful whether the flying machine was suitable for commercial purposes, as transport by rail or ship was probably cheaper. There seemed, however, to be an opening for postal and light parcel work, and when more experience had been gained, and airships with a higher speed were available, it should be quite possible to convey passengers and light goods at a rate ensuring a reasonable return on the expenditure involved. In view of the enormous importance of the subject, coupled with the fact that there was no doubt whatever that aerial ships would play an important part in future wars and that it was consequently most desirable that this country should take steps to ensure a suitable aerial force being ready when the time for the struggle arrived, he suggested the appointment of a royal commission.

In the course of a discussion, Sir Hiram Maxim said that there was no doubt now about the success of flying machines. They would soon be in the air in more senses than one. The Americans had spent large sums of money on the problem of the navigation of the air, the French Government had also spent a good deal of money, and the German Emperor was taking the matter up. Flying machines were things we had got to compete in, and unless England soon took up the question she would be left in the cold.

Business Is Business.

A city merchant used to give an old crossing sweeper a shilling every Saturday. One day he discovered he had given him half a sovereign by a mistake. So he hurried back to the crossing. The sweeper said in reply to a question, "Will you come, sir, after 4 o'clock to this address, and I will see if you are right about the coin." The merchant did so, and found a small office and two clerks busy at work. Presently the sweeper appeared, but, oh, so altered! He was dressed neatly and looked a business man. "Oh, yes," he said to the astonished merchant, "you were correct. Our receipts to-day were about 10 shillings more than usual, so here is your half-sovereign." As the merchant left the "office," vowing he would never give to the rogue again, the sweeper called after him, "You've forgotten your usual shilling, sir!"—Dundee Advertiser.

Extraordinary Golf Drive.

It is stated by the secretary of the Weston-super-Mare Club that when playing on that course a few days ago Mr. Douglas Robinson accomplished an extraordinary drive. The distance from the sixteenth tee to the green is 305 yards, and there is a bunker just guarding the green, but Mr. Robinson is said to have carried the bunker with his drive—that is, to have driven his ball so that it went over the bunker before it touched the ground. In the ordinary way 160 yards or 170 yards represents the carry of a very fine drive. The longest drive—carry and run combined—on record is generally understood to be one done by Mr. Edward Blackwell at St. Andrews some years ago, when he drove his ball 366 yards.

ART OF THE ETRUSCANS.

Mysterious People Who Left Traces of a Remarkable Civilization.

Why did the Etruscans devote their whole lives to the incessant making of pottery until it accumulated in such quantities that they were compelled to bury it in order to keep room for themselves in their streets and houses? Then, again, there is the mystery of the Etruscan inscriptions. These inscriptions are fairly numerous, but hitherto they have proved to be utterly undecipherable. The Etruscan is the only dead language that has defied investigation. Considered as a language, nothing could seem more improbable than the hieroglyphics of the Egyptians, but Egyptologists can read them with such ease that almost any given series of hieroglyphics can be read in three or four ways by an equal number of rival Egyptologists. Any language more utterly impossible at first glance than the Assyrian arrow-headed language could not well be imagined, but there are many learned men who can read, write and speak arrow-head with facility. And yet no man can make the least sense of the writings left by the Etruscans, although they are written in Roman characters.

All that we know of the Etruscans seems unreasonable and preposterous. Naturally this makes them fascinating to every one who delights in mystery and the solution of puzzles.

A SCRAP OF PAPER.

It Was the Means of Bringing a Murderer to Justice.

Scraps of paper have on several occasions been the means of throwing a light on some of the greatest criminal mysteries of modern times. Had it not been for the minutest scrap of tissue paper it is quite possible that the notorious Franz Muller would have remained a free man to the end of his days.

After foully murdering a Mr. Briggs in a railway carriage on the North London line Muller made off with the victim's hat. When caught several months later a top hat declared to be Mr. Briggs' was found in his possession. Its shape, however, had been considerably altered, and Muller insisted that the hat had been bought by himself.

"Was it Mr. Briggs' hat?" said the first glance than the Assyrian arrow-headed language could not well be imagined, but there are many learned men who can read, write and speak arrow-head with facility. And yet no man can make the least sense of the writings left by the Etruscans, although they are written in Roman characters.

All that we know of the Etruscans seems unreasonable and preposterous. Naturally this makes them fascinating to every one who delights in mystery and the solution of puzzles.

This is only one instance among many where bits of paper have solved great mysteries.—London Answers.

Police But Make EscapeOdessa, Oct. 3.—A train having on board over 300 passengers, was held up Tuesday night by a band of robbers, who opened the mail car by exploding dynamite.The explosion set the car on fire and the flames communicated to a crowded passenger car, with the result that a number of women and children were badly burned before they could escape.While the robbers were trying to blow open the safe in the mail car they were attacked by some gen-darmes, who were passengers on the train. A number on both sides were wounded, but the robbers escaped.

OFFICIALS IN CHARGE.

Mechanics Quit Work at Springhill
Mines, Nova Scotia.Springhill Mines, N. S., Oct. 3.— The mechanics quit work yesterday morning and the officials are now in charge of the mines. These include regular mine officials, besides a number of the company's office staff. High collars and fine linen are thus laid aside and brawn and backbone are essential for the time being. All freight traffic on the company's line between Springhill Junction and Parabola ceased yesterday, but the passenger trains will run as usual.In case of necessity the passenger crows will also be called out to assist in the general tie-up. The company has evidently not succeeded in getting the Government to take charge of the mine, as Inspector Cameron says that he has not received instructions to do anything.Attorney-General Pipes was here on Tuesday to get the feeling of the men, and he must have been convinced that any compulsory measures on the part of the Government to assist the company would lead to serious trouble in the town. The men to a man would refuse to obey any orders to keep the mine running, let the penalty be what it would. The company is undoubtedly bothered by the situation, as the hope of beating the men is now at a vanishing point. It would seem that Deputy Minister of Labor King's appearance on the scene to-day is a very opportune time.Must Pay Insurance.
Belleville, Oct. 3.—In Crooks v. the Mutual Life Assurance Co. of Canada, at the Assizes here, the mother of James J. Crooks, killed on the G. T. R., sued the Mutual Life for the amount of a $1,000 policy on his life. The company pleaded that the policy was void, as Crooks had insured as a car-checker when he was really a switchman. The jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff.Lashes For Brute.
Belleville, Oct. 3.—David N. Fife yesterday morning at the Assizes pleaded guilty to attempted criminal assault on Bessie Collins, a five-year-old child. Two years in the Central and 20 lashes was his sentence.

LATE ARCH: McALPINE

London, Oct. 3.—The death of Mr.
Archibald McAlpine, of Alberta, late of Glencoe, occurred on Tuesday. He came here recently to be treated at St. Joseph's Hospital by Dr. Wishart, but he did not improve, and gradually sank until the end came.
The late Mr. McAlpine, who was in his 70th year, was an old resident of Glencoe, but for the past five years he had been a successful farmer in Alberta, where his wife and six sons still reside. He was well known and highly respected by all who knew him in Alberta as well as Western Ontario.Deceased is an uncle of J. D.
McAlpine of The Planet's reportorial staff. Mr. McAlpine left yesterday for Glencoe to attend the funeral.Happiness and misery, after all, is very equally divided among mankind.

LIBRARY BOARD

Fred. Stone was present at the Library Board meeting last night, for the first time since his recent illness. The other members welcomed him back to the Board and congratulated him on his complete recovery. Those present at last night's meeting were Chairman Anderson, S.
Smith, Fred. Stone, A. Sheldrick, J.
W. Humphrey and Secretary Twiss.
The Wm. Dawson & Sons Publishing Company, who have recently established a branch in Toronto, wrote asking that the Board favor them with some of the orders for books for the Library.—Book committee.

Secretary Twiss stated that $63.64 worth of new books have arrived, and the balance of the recent order will arrive shortly.

It was moved by Messrs. Stone and Humphrey that the books be paid for and put in circulation at once.—Carried.

Mr. Kelly, agent for the Catholic Encyclopedia, was then heard by the Board. He stated that the Encyclopedia not only contained information of interest to Catholics, but also information which would be welcomed by theologians of every denomination.
There are fifteen volumes to the Encyclopedia, and they are sold at $6 per volume, three volumes being issued each year. He said that he had brought this matter before the Separate School Board, who had said that their representative at the Library Board would bring it up at the Library Board meeting. He had afterwards discovered, however, that the Separate School Board representative —Mr. Robert—did not attend the Library Board meetings.

Mr. Sheldrick remarked that as the book had been ordered by a great many of the libraries throughout the Province, the Chatham Board could not afford to be behind the times, and they owed it to their patrons to order this Encyclopedia for them.

It was moved by Dr. Charteris and seconded by Mr. Sheldrick, that the Secretary be empowered to subscribe for the Encyclopedia, and have it put in the reference library.—Carried.

The monthly report of the Librarian was then read and adopted.

SOCIETY

AFTERNOON TEA.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Dresden, Oct. 1.—Mrs. James Mc-Vean gave an exceedingly pretty tea on Tuesday afternoon, in honor of her niece, Mrs. William Peace.
Mrs. McVean received her guests in a handsome black net gown over a taffeta, and Mrs. Peace wore a beautiful gown of pale green satin, with lace yoke and sleeves, over white taffeta. Mrs. J. McE. Murray and Mrs. Sandy McVean assisted in receiving; the former wearing a light green gown with hat to match, and the latter a cream voile with white hat. The drawing rooms were decorated with red asters.
In the tea room the color scheme was pink and white. The table was prettily decorated with pale pink asters. Mrs. Wm. McVean poured the tea. Mrs. Dr. McDonald served a charming gown of cream lace with black picture hat, and Mrs. Mc-Donald a face gown trimmed with blue velvet, and cream hat. The girls in the tea room were, Miss Guy, Guthrie, who wore a pale blue gown with leghorn hat; Miss Eva Aikin, who wore a cream pongee silk with white hat; Miss Alice Mc-Vean, in a pink gown with white hat; Miss Maude Watterworth, in white silk gown with lingerie hat, and Miss Nora Smith in white dotted muslin with lingerie hat.

GRANT FOR TEACHERS

To the teachers at rural and village schools who, at the Ontario Agricultural College, fit themselves to give instructions in elementary agriculture and establish courses in their schools, the Department of Education will give a special grant of $30 apiece. Moreover, seedlings and other necessary equipment will be supplied by the Ontario Agricultural College to rural school boards which desire to inaugurate more extensive courses in practical work in the garden. These new departments are the subject of a circular being sent out by the Department.

PATRONAGE FIGHT IN ESSEX

A vacant judgeship and a senatorship are the subjects of some discussion in the Liberal camp in Essex County. Hon. R. F. Sutherland, North Essex, Speaker of the House of Commons, who was accounted a Cabinet possibility at the last reorganization, and Mr. A. H. Clark, M. P., Essex South, are said to be cherishing ambitions for a seat on the bench. They are unable to decide on whom the judicial mantle shall fall and in the meantime refuse to recommend any person for the position, although, as is usual, there is no lack of candidates. Among those mentioned for the judgeship are: E.
A. Wismer, of Essex; Alex. R. Bar-let, of Windsor, and F. D. Davis, of Windsor. The first and last mentioned of these gentlemen have, it is said, waited upon Messrs. Clark and Sutherland in reference to the appointment. They have urged that some local man be recommended for selection, even if they should not be the lucky ones. The request has, however, not resulted in any move by the two members.

The vacancy in the judgeship was caused by the resignation of Judge Clement. The senatorship is unoccupied as the result of the death of Hon. Mr. Cagrain.

Men of ability are conscious of how far they are from being what they should be.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company will run a special excursion to Detroit, when the championship baseball game is played off there.
The special will leave here at a convenient morning hour, and will return the same evening. Schedule and rates will be published later.

THE LATE GEORGE FRY

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Wallaceburg, Oct. 3.—The funeral of the late George Fry took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of his father-in-law, S. L. Mann, to the Baptist church, where the service was conducted by Revs. Gunton and Matthews, of Chitham, former pastors of deceased, and the new pastor, Rev. Mr. Roberts.
The funeral was one of the largest that ever took place in Wallaceburg.
The I. O. O. F. attended in a body, the pall-bearers being members of the I. O. O. F. and B. Y. P. U.
They were as follows: Charles Crummer, Hugh Munroe, Wm. Howard, Omar Howard, Samuel Dundardile, Herbert Dixon. The employees of the Blonde Bros. factory came by special car to the funeral.
Mr. Fry was a young man who had many friends. He was of a cheerful disposition, which made him beloved by all, all of whom feel the greatest pain over the loss.
The sympathy of the whole community goes out to the wife and parents in this sad hour of their great affliction.
Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Fry, Mrs.
W. A. Gunton, Miss Alice Kennedy, and J. J. Hinnegan, of Chatham.

THE LOVING LEAVES.

Brown is the hill where the maples grow
So brown, so calm, so cold and still;
But the loving leaves creep snug and close,
And warm the feet of my dear old hill.

And they don't forget the violets small,
Shivering and cold in the damp and wet;
They cover them up in blankets
brown,
Whispering, "Darlings, we love you yet!"

Down in the hollow amid the ferns,
Their billowy wraps they wreath and roll;
And they spread a carpet, rich and
brown,
To keep the snow from the mouse's hole.

And the lady-slipper—so shy and weak—
They wrap a muffler about her neck;
And the maiden's hair they cover deep
And furnish the moss with an overcoat.

—The Khan.

MRS. PAGET'S MISSION.

Studied Anglont Lore of the Indians
For the Government.

After a three months' trip through Saskatchewan, which included twelve hundred miles of driving by horseback, Mrs. F. H. Paget and Miss Mabel Ferguson returned recently to Winnipeg from a summer spent among the Indians of the Cree, Saulteaux and Assiniboine tribes.

Mrs. Paget is a resident of Ottawa, but was, before her marriage, Mrs.
McLean, of Winnipeg, and has been heartily welcomed by her many friends in the city.

Her father, Mr. W. J. McLean, was for many years in charge of the Hudson Bay Post at Fort Qu'Appelle. Accompanied by Miss Mabel Ferguson, of Ottawa, Mrs. Paget went up to the File Hills on July 19, and made that district her headquarters. The Indians there are Crees, occupying three reserves.

She undertook the journey at the instance of the Dominion Government, as owing to the fact that she speaks the Cree and Saulteaux languages, she was thoroughly qualified for the work of research, which was the studying the Indian folk-lore and obtaining records of the early history and customs of these tribes. She traveled over familiar ground, as in her childhood every aspect of the country was familiar to her, and it will be remembered that she with the other members of Mr. McLean's family were taken prisoners by the Indians during the Rebellion. Miss Ferguson accompanied her and acted as her secretary.

Mrs. Paget found the space of time all too short in which to gather the material, there was so much that had never been touched on, and her interviews with the Indians were full of possibilities in the way of historical matter along many interesting lines besides those to which she confined herself.

The Indians would not talk freely in the presence of a third person, so Mrs. Paget took her notes alone, while the story-teller (like all Redmen very good in narrative)—told her what she wanted to know. Sometimes three or four women were called in and asked to corroborate some date, but as a rule the one Indian took up the burden of the tale. An Indian is never interrupted once he begins his story.
When he is done, there is a pause and then another may speak, but to break into a monologue by asking questions would at once place a rash person in great disfavor.

It was necessary to talk with a great many Indians to get all the facts. Mrs. Paget endeavored to find out whether they had any idea where their people came from originally;
with what other Indians they had at any time been at war; and what had been their early customs. The one thing found impossible to secure was the telling of any of their fairy stories, owing to an amusing superstition. They never tell these stories except in winter, saying that if they were to take time to tell them in warm weather, the sun would come and suck their blood, meaning by this that the summer is no time for looting. The Indians have a series of such stories dating back to the flood. Mrs. Paget used to hear them in her childhood, and she is able to write many of them from memory, but it would be necessary for her to visit the people in the winter to get them to tell the old tales over again.

An Editor's Appreciation.

The editor of The Halleyburian, in the midst of his duties as mayor, and his efforts to keep his political and editorial columns straight, manages to find some time to devote to literature, and here is an appreciative note from his pen of a presented fellow-townsmen, mixed in with a few subjective reflections: "If there is anything on two legs that we like it is Dr. Drummond. We all know his literary fame, and such a connection should shed a reflected glory upon himself, but 'Wait a little bit.'
We absolutely refuse to hunt tuffs, whether in season, or out of season.
We simply glory in intellect, and when we see it writ large upon a man, we admire with reservations. The doctor is a dreamer, and they accuse us of being the same. In spite of the prosperous of the world, the blessed legend of King Arthur, with all its incongruities, appeals to our very souls. Tennyson saw it. We personally have caught a glimmering reflection of that which wiser men have seen with clear vision. We would not attempt to scale the stately heights of Perceval, but Doctor Drummond has done this thing, and in the interest of Canadian literature, let him dream on, for his effusions are like those of the song-bird, hard to imitate."

FRENCH TEAM.

Will Likely Be a Candidate For the Palma Shooting Trophy.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—France may send a team for the next Palma trophy match. A letter to this effect has been received by Major Winter, secretary of the D. R. A., from the French National Rifle Association.
In July, Major Winter sent to the French association the regulations of the last match, which was the communication, however, apparently reached the president too late for action.
He has written for the results of the recent contest at Rockfield, and has further stated that if a competition with their own efficiency is encouraged, a team will doubtless be entered in 1908. Les Tireurs Francaise would add even greater international interest.

LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT.

That's how pain comes. We sit near an open window, get stiff neck or sore back. Perhaps cool off too quickly after exertion—rheumatism develops.
Spend what you may, but money can't buy anything better than P-son's Nervine. It's penetrating power enables it to reach deep tissues—that's why it cures aches that all else can't touch. For outward application we guarantee five times more strength than in any other liniment.
It's harmless and as sure as the hereafter to ease at once.
Don't accept a substitute for P-son's Nervine, which is the one great household panacea of today.

FATHER AND SON BURNED.

Hamilton, Oct. 2.—Last evening about 7 o'clock George Hutchison got his boy to hold a lighted candle while filled a lamp with gasoline.
He did not have to wait long for the trouble. There was an explosion and the boy, man and shop were soon enveloped in flames.
The boy and his father were severely burned and the shop was gutted, the loss amounting to several hundred dollars.

GREAT DISTRESS IN HER THROAT.

Not an uncommon experience was that of Mrs. H. S. Wilmet, of Shuler, N. S. Doctors failed, still a quick cure was found in Catarrhoxone. Notice this statement: "I have been a most dreadful sufferer from bronchial trouble and catarrh. On damp days I would hawk and suffer great distress in my throat. I used all kinds of medicines, but didn't get permanent relief till I used Catarrhoxone. It has strengthened my throat, cured my cough and made me entirely well." Refuse substitutes for the one reliable bronchial and throat cure. All dealers sell Catarrhoxone in 25c. and $1 sizes.

New Steamer for Lake Trade.

destined for the lake-carrying trade, arrived in Montreal last night from Dundee. She is the G. R. Cole, and was built in Great Britain for the St.
Lawrence and Chicago Navigation Co.

TALKS PEACE.

Taft In Tokio Says War Between Japan and States Would Be Insane.

Tokio, Oct. 2.—Secretary of War
Taft aroused the wildest enthusiasm and loud cheers when, during the course of his speech at the banquet given in his honor by the municipality of Tokio and the Chamber of Commerce, he declared that war between the United States and Japan would "be a crime against modern civilization, and as wicked as it would be insane," adding that neither people desired it, and that both Governments would do their utmost to guard such an awful calamity.

The Secretary spoke with intense earnestness, his speech being the result of careful deliberation and preparation.

Viscount Shibasawa presided at the banquet, and in welcoming Mr. Taft, paid a glowing tribute to the greatness of the nation which the Secretary represented, the friendliness which the United States had always displayed for Japan, and the influence which America exerted throughout the world.

SUICIDE ENDS QUARREL.

Newton Man Tries to Kill Wife and Then Shoots Himself.

Brookville, Oct. 2.—As the result of a domestic quarrel Daniel Reno of Newton Falls attempted to kill his wife, at the home of her aunt in Anterville, afterwards committing a bullet into his own head and dying about an hour later. The woman left her home and came to Antwerp, leaving their 19 months old babe with Reno. He followed her and while begging the woman for a kiss in the yard he drew a revolver and fired a bullet into his own forehead, the bullet striking in the forehead and passing through the brain.
Regaining her feet she ran quickly towards the house, when Reno fired again, the bullet grazing the head of a neighbor who was attracted by the first shot.

Reno then turned the weapon on himself, putting a ball into his head near the right temple and fell to the ground. He raised himself upon his elbow and fired the remaining cartridge at the child sitting in a buggy a few feet away. The bullet missed it.

CORPSE COMES TO LIFE.

Huntington Woman In a Trance Was Prepared For Burial.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—A despatch from Wheeling, W. Va., says: Relatives of Mrs. Frederick Hartzell, the young wife of a farmer living near Huntington, were bemoaning her death Monday, a few minutes before the minister arrived to conduct the funeral rites, when she suddenly sat up and climbed out of the coffin.

There was a rush of mourners for the open air, windows being used as exits. The minister swooned when a pale-faced woman, over whose body he had been called to conduct services, met him at the door.

The family was too poor to have a physician, and the woman fell into a swoon, in which state she remained for four days.

ferry boat. There all trace of her ceased.

$100,000 For Opera Box.

New York, Oct. 2.—For the first time in nearly five years a box in the famous "diamond horseshoe" in the Metropolitan Opera House has changed owners.

For a price in excess of $100,000, Henry Clay Frick, millionaire iron master and long-time friend and associate of Andrew Carnegie, has purchased a coveted place in the parterre row, box No. 19, which, since the opera house was built, had been owned by the late Henry I. Barby, who died last winter.

Mr. Frick, who has long desired a box in the Metropolitan, had the first call on the box.

This is the first outright sale of a parterre box in the Metropolitan since January, 1903, when the late Heber R.
Bishop's box was bought by James R.
Haggin for $20,000.

OH, FOR A CLEAR COMPLEXION!

A clear complexion is the outward evidence of inward cleanliness. In bad health the face becomes a sign-board, telling of disease within. If yellow, bile is not properly secreted; if pallid, the kidneys are faulty; if skin is murky and dark circles beneath the eyes, look for constipation.
Whatever the cause, no remedy compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are mild, safe, purifying and vitalizing in their action. They give a marvelous rosy tint to the cheeks, brighten the eyes and establish health that defies age and disease. Sold everywhere in 25 cent boxes.

REMARKABLE HORSES.

Some Clever Animals and a Wonderful
New England Nag.

In his letters to Lord Granville, published by the Royal Philological society, who was also greatly interested in natural history, Smithson, the founder of the Smithsonian institution in America, says London Tit-Bits, relates how the horse of Alexander the Great, Bucephalus, would at night on hearing a blast of the trumpet from the soldiers on guard, showing the approach of the enemy, run at great speed to his master's tent and with his teeth grab the sleeping monarch and shake him until he sprang into the saddle and galloped toward the enemy.

Also that the great Caliph Haroun-al-Raschid in the eighth century in marching toward the forces of Queen Irene of Constantinople always had a number of trained Arabian horses (direct descendants of the famous horses owned by Ishmael 4,000 years ago) thrown forward as scouts, which from time to time returned to camp and by a peculiar whinny and neigh reported the proximity of the enemy.

Again, he relates the experiences of the Portuguese explorer, Albuquerque, who lived for many years in the sixteenth century on the island of St.
Helena, where he and the natives taught the herds of wild horses there not only to dig potatoes, but to husk corn, and these horses descended from a herd taken there from Cappadocia in the second century, as related by the Greek historian, Philostratus.

But, to come down to the present day, it is related by a retired New England clergyman whose sands of life had nearly run out that one day on leading his horse down through a lane to a brook for a drink the animal suddenly halted and, turning its head around, grabbed up with its teeth one of its hind shoes which had just dropped off, holding it in its mouth with the nails dangling, it backed up against a stone wall and clapped it on to its hoof and with a few violent kicks nailed it on again.

How Slow the Train Was.

Two men were coming into Denver from a nearby town on a local train the other day. The train stopped every five minutes, it seemed, and one of the men became impatient. Finally when the train halted for the engine to get up steam the man's impatience overflowed.

"Now, what do you think of this train?" he said to the other.

"It isn't making much progress," replied his friend.

"Progress? I should say not," said the impatient man. "It would be a severe job to take a moving picture of this train."

In Doubt.

Some years ago Henry James reviewed a new novel by Gertrude Atherton.
After reading the review Mrs. Atherton wrote to Mr. James as follows:

Dear Mr. James—I have read with much pleasure your review of my novel. Will you kindly let me know whether you liked it or not? Sincerely, GERTRUDE ATHERTON.

FAIR WAS BIG SUCCESS

Thamesville Event Attracts Large Crowds—Old Boys' Reunion

Exhibits Were Many And Worthy—Races And Other Attractions

From a Staff Correspondent.

Thamesville, Oct. 5.—The Executive, and the hustling Secretary, C. A. Mayhew, of the East Kent Agricultural Society, should be proud, and no doubt are, of the magnificent success of that fair on Tuesday and yesterday. The weather was fine for both days, and as one spectator said, "We could not order better if we ordered it ourselves."

The entries numbered 2,000 and over, and Tuesday's crowd numbered 3,000 with a 500 crowd at the evening concert. Wednesday saw over 3,000 on the grounds, and an anticipated 500 for the concert in the evening.

The poultry building was immediately in rear of the Secretary's office, and ticket window, and a good showing of stock was in evidence. But there were several coops that needed filling. However, the quality made up for quantity. The main hall was worth a visit, as it contained what was said by experts to be away ahead of the average. The fruit exhibit was a feast for the gods, which included some excellent pears and grapes. The needle work, crayon work, painting on china, and doyley work, painting in oils, photographs, was certainly of a very high standard and was a credit to the ladies of Thamesville and vicinity. In this building, same floor, was a display of fungi which attracted considerable attention. The lot contained a mammoth puff ball. The vegetable and root department was next viewed and contained the best that Kent can produce. The potatoes were extraordinarily fine, twenty-two pumpkins lined up made the auditorship for the good old pumpkin pie. Carrots, cabbage, mangolds, sugar beets, were fine and one very noticeable feature of this display was the smoothness and cleanliness. Grains of all kinds were there in plenty, and good at that. In the same hall was lined up like soldiers all kinds of pickles, and they looked good at that, also canned goods, judg'd, six-tern samples of butter, and eight or ten loaves of home made bread, besides on the same side of hall, corn in cob, good showing. Maple sugar and maple syrup, strained honey, etc., was also in this building. In both these buildings some of the merchants had a display on exhibition. Wm. Gray & Sons had a fine exhibit of carriages and cutters, which attracted attention. The sheep, pigs and cattle were well represented and some excellent animals were shown. The horses were fine, and it was a fine sight to see the several classes being judged. A Hackney colt owned by Wm. Gould, Dawn, carried away two first prizes here, one prize as best colt from any Hackney stallion, and first in general class. This colt was foaled May 27, and has also taken two first prizes at Petrolia, the same at Ridgeway, and two at Chatham. In one class yesterday he had twelve or fourteen competitors, but won out. Mr. James Davidson, of this city, is the owner of Seranton Electricity, sire of this colt. Mr. Gould, of Dawn, is a noted breeder of horses, and had this colt photographed in F. Ridgeway by N. C. Gibson, of this city. This colt is certainly a beauty and looks like a winning animal. The refreshment stand people did a good business yesterday, and there were lots of them; the 3-for-a-nickel-dummy-men were there in plenty, and managed to gather the coin somewhat. Two Highland dancers and a piper did their several stunts, and a rope-walker did some trick work on the rope.

Implementers were in evidence, also the cream separators, all having more or less attention.

The horse judging seemed to be the leading attraction until the races came on.

It would be hard to beat the horse exhibit which was put on yesterday, carriage, general purpose, etc., being well represented and first class.

The Wabash Band discoursed sweet music from the band stand. Messrs. G. Harrington and Gammage assisted the boys for two days, and Messrs. Cooper, Robinson and Hahn assisted in the orchestra, under Dr. Decow, for the dancing.

The Old Boys' and Old Girls' Associations of Detroit and Windsor were well represented, there being 300 from those points, with the Amalgamated Band to furnish music. This contingent had a make-up of Uncle Sam and Johnny Bull, the latter being as broad as he was long, and in the parade on Tuesday they furnished all kinds of fun and amusement. John Witter, of the Chamber of Commerce, Detroit, was president of the association, and speaks in the highest terms of the treatment extended to the Old Boys and Girls by the citizens of Thamesville. Probably 100 returned home via Grand Trunk at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A fine carriage team of blacks, from Ridgeway, carried off first prize, and they certainly were beautiful.

A gentleman with grapes for sale in large and small lots did considerable business yesterday.

Taking it all in all, East Kent Fair was a success, financially, numerically and socially. It was a happy thought on the part of the management to work in the Old Boys' and Girls' Reunion at the same time as the fair, as it added to the fair receipts and helped in other ways.

The town's decorations cost something over $150 and were a credit to the committee in charge.

The Methodist Church Ladies Aid furnished dinner and did a good business.

MR. JONES IN MT. CLEMENS

City Engineer E. B. Jones has returned from Mount Clemens, where he had been spending a few days' holidays. He was greatly taken up with Mount Clemens, and in a chat with the Planet yesterday he had the following to say with regard to it.

"The real secret of Mount Clemens' success as a popular resort lies in the energetic work of their Board of Trade, which is thoroughly alive to every opportunity, and is composed of the foremost citizens of the town. They spend somewhere between $50,000 and $75,000 yearly in advertising both in America and in Europe. In this way they catch a great deal of the tourist trade. Everybody who knows anything knows of Mount Clemens, and this is the reason why."

"Mount Clemens is a city of wide avenues and beautiful lawns. It boasts of about two and one-half miles of paved streets, which are forty feet wide, and the balance of the streets are gravelled with curbing to each side. These sidewalks are all six and one-half feet wide."

"There are very few stores or manufacturing in Mount Clemens, and nearly everyone resident in the city is either a hotel or boarding-house keeper. Rooms cost all the way from six dollars to twenty dollars per week. One hotel boasts of a suite of rooms at $125.00 per day. This, however, is rather unusual, but millionaires who visit the place do not seem to mind squandering their money."

"The city was founded by Judge Clemens, and in honor of his park they have a monument erected to his memory. Nearly every hotel in the place has its own wells. It is practically a city of hotels, although there are some very fine residences there. Most of these, however, are frame structures, and there are very few brick buildings to be seen."

THAMESVILLE 9—ABERDEENS 5.

In a hotly-contested game the Aberdeens were defeated at Thamesville by a team composed of Senior and Intermediate players. Thamesville got their lead in the first innings, when they hit Knott, who was in the box for the Aberdeens, for five runs. The Aberdeens made a couple of costly errors in the first innings; after that they settled down and played good ball. Knott pitched fairly good ball, getting out of some tight corners after he had filled the bases by giving passes. He was very wild in the first few innings, but towards the last struck them out in order. Stewart, who pitched for Thamesville, only struck out five men. He was hit hard, but good support kept the score down. Rumble, as usual, played a star game, getting three of the five runs scored. "Bob" Little, of Thamesville, who umpired, gave very unsatisfactory decisions to both teams, especially to the Aberdeens. They were practically robbed of the game by decisions on bases. Even the Thamesville players admitted this.

FOOTBALL

FIRST LEAGUE GAME.

The first league football game of the season was fought out Tuesday between the Chatham City team and the Thistles. The latter team were strengthened by the inclusion of Jack of Durrell, and Stonehouse, of Kent Bridge, whilst the City team were handicapped by having to play with ten men. Clements failing to show up. The Thistles started with a rush and the game had only been in progress 15 minutes when McComb scored with a shot that the goal-keeper had no chance to stop.

This early success of the Thistles has put them on good terms with themselves. The City goal was bombarded with shots from every direction. Eventually the City broke away, and Newby, after tripping three of the Thistles' defenders, beat Lister with a swift curling shot. The play was very exciting at times, with the score even. Lindsay Parrott scored with this time and the score stood 2 to 1 for the City team.

The second half was almost a repetition of the first. The Thistles were continually swarming around the City goal, but the fine defence play of the City's halves and backs kept them out until near the end of the game, when a mistake by Fisher led in a hot shot by McComb, who scored well to Marshall, who in turn beat the goal-keeper with a well-placed shot. The whistle blew for time shortly after the tying of the score. The Thistles played a fast, snappy game all through, while the City sadly missed their eleventh man. Had he turned up, the City team would undoubtedly have held their 2 to 1 lead until the finish. A large and enthusiastic crowd watched the progress of the game.

A PROGRESSIVE FIRM

The Hamilton Spectator of last Saturday contains fine large photographs of Messrs. Trudell and Tobey, proprietors of The Two T's Men's Furnishing store of this city, who have established a large branch of their rapidly growing business in the Ambitious City. They have opened a handsome store at James street north, one of the best sections of Hamilton, and their doors opened to the public Saturday.

The Spectator devotes considerable space to a description of The Two T's new store, which it states is one of the finest in Hamilton. The marvelous success which has attended the efforts of these two enterprising and hustling young Chathamites is well known to Planet readers. Their large gents' furnishing store here, which they are continually improving and enlarging in order to keep strictly abreast of the times, is a credit to King street. Their fine showings, excellent and reliable goods and remarkably easy prices is the key to their popularity with the well-dressed and fastidious men of this city.

Further, Messrs. Trudell and Tobey long ago learned the immense returns which are to be earned through a liberal use of printers' ink. Their advertising appropriation has never been stinted, and while it has been judicious, catchy and interesting, they have not been slow to recognize the possibilities of the big display ad, when combined with a money-saving sale at appropriate seasons of the year.

The Two T's have now a staff of fifteen, and their buying capacity is $150,000 per annum, the bulk of which will of course be felt by their customers, as it is well known that large buyers secure the choice of goods at the most reasonable figures.

NEW CHOIR LEADER

The Planet, with the citizens of Chatham generally, extends congratulations to Messrs. Trudell and Tobey and wishes them success in their new branch in Hamilton.
