THE SITUATION.

Germany with regard to so-called peace bluffs is about to have the issue put up to her in an unequivocal manner.

From the head office of the Fuel Administrator in Ontario a statement has been issued that the fuel situation in the Province of Ontario at this date (Oct. 30th) stands as follows:

The United States authorities have limited the export of anthracite coal to the Dominion of Canada for this coal year to approximately 4,000,000 tons, a reduction as against the coal year 1917-1918 of 3,200,000 tons.

Careful consideration has been given to the framing of regulations and the instituting of economies to effect the general saving of anthracite, which must be made to meet domestic necessities, but in the last fortnight a new and more serious condition has arisen.

Under these circumstances, it is evident that the Ontario Fuel Administration, in co-operation with the Commissioners for each municipality, must put forth every effort to deal with a serious situation.

The recommendations in chief are as follows:— 1.—That every coal dealer should at once put in his bins a supply of bituminous coal.

2.—That at the present time stocks of buckwheat coal are available and can be secured by dealers. It can be successfully mixed to the extent of 25 per cent. with 75 per cent. anthracite.

3.—Every effort should be made by each municipality to secure all available wood. 4.—The church authorities should at once decide to adopt co-operative services.

5.—The saving of coal must be practised in every possible way.

BRITAIN'S ACHIEVEMENTS Britain's deeds in the war are summarized by Louis Tracy, the novelist and member of the British War Mission as follows, covering the period from the declaration of war on Germany on Aug. 4, 1914 until July of this year.

The British casualties in officers and men are as follows: August, 1914, to the end of 1915 . . . . . 550,000 In the year 1916 . . . . . 650,000 In the year 1917 . . . . . 800,000

In the six months of the present year (estimated) 500,000 Of these at least one-fifth must be counted among the dead.

More than another half million are so maimed and broken that they can never again be counted as useful citizens of a world wherein a man must work if he would eat and, therefore, live.

Your Problems Solved??

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D. (All rights reserved.)

Dr. Linscott in this column will help you solve your heart problems, religious, marital, social, financial and every other anxious care that perplexes you.

"Self Denial" asks, "Is suffering necessary to advancement?" If self-denial is a form of suffering and if very hard work, mentally or physically, may be called suffering, then suffering is essential to advancement.

Keep Sweet—"A Back Number" asks: "How may a man of 72 keep sweet if he has been successful in keeping sweet for 72 years he can continue to keep in that heavenly frame of mind in proportion as he continues the habits of the past."

Central Park to Washington Square in ten long summer days.

During one month in France in 1917 Britain had 27,000 men killed. In the first twelve months of the war Britain had 8,660 officers and 95,000 men killed.

During the month of April this year, as the result of the great battles which began on March 21, 1918, Britain had over 10,000 casualties among officers alone.

Oxford and Cambridge gave 8,000 of their undergraduates to the army in the first year of the war. Britain had lost nearly every officer and man of that small but superbly efficient army which she threw into France early in August, 1914.

Britain has fought on seventeen fronts during the last four years. Her troops have been to the fore in Belgium, France, Italy, Serbia, Greece, Russia, Palestine, Mesopotamia, China and North, East and West Africa, to name only the main theatres of the war.

Britain and her colonies have raised 7,500,000 soldiers, and of this total England's (not Great Britain's) proportion is 60 per cent.

One man in every seven and a half of the population of England is in the army.

The same ratio holds good of Scotland. Wales has contributed one man to every ten and a fifth, Ireland one man in every twenty-six and a third and the overseas dominions one man in every fifteen.

Those are the cold hard facts as to man power in the army, while the following table tells its own story and refutes another Hun lie.

Relative proportions of men in British forces and of casualties suffered by each part of the British Empire exclusive of India, Africa, etc., to November, 1917.

Table with 2 columns: P.C. of Armed Forces, P.C. of Casualties. Rows: England and Wales (70, 76), Scotland (8, 10), Ireland (6, 6), Dominion and colonies (16, 8).

In heavy guns alone Britain manufactured during the third year of the war twenty-seven times as many as in the first year and 220 times as much ammunition.

The expenditure of rifles ammunition per week is now sixty-five times greater than the average weekly expenditure during the first 10 months of the war.

The output of machine guns has been increased thirty-nine times. Two thousand miles of railway track, 1,000 locomotives and many tens of thousands of wagons have been shipped abroad.

The ministry of munitions handles 50,000,000 articles per week and sends abroad 60,000 consignments per week.

In addition to over ninety national arsenals, Great Britain now has 5,046 government-controlled factories, all working day and night on munitions supplies.

In October, 1917, about 2,000,000 men and about 700,000 women were engaged in munition work proper.

In July, 1917, the number of women employed in government work of all kinds stood at 1,065,000. According to the board of trade "Labor Gazette" of November 16, 1917, the number had risen to 1,302,000 before the last date.

Women do 70 per cent. of all the machine work on shells, fuses and trench warfare supplies and have contributed 1,450 trained mechanics to the most trying work in one way or another about 16,000,000 British women are working for their country in her need, many of whom have never worked in their lives before.

British ships have kept open the ocean "highways" and penned the Hun in his few protected harbors.

Col. Roosevelt has just celebrated his sixtieth birthday, and still going strong.

On Tuesday next our neighbors will elect a new House of Representatives and one-third of the Senators in the Upper Chamber.

former letter, which distinctly says that all people that cannot afford to pay for the ambulance they are moved free. Does he know that there is not a city in Ontario that has free ambulances, in fact, Toronto charges $8 in the city limits, and $4 to $5 is a common charge.

We think at this time that it is very unfortunate that a citizen should raise a question of this kind when there is so much sorrow and trouble. Did he ever think of the noble band of ladies in our midst who have given their lives to help our suffering citizens, free to us and him as we should be stricken?

We hope that you and your family, God helping them, will put through without the ambulance or any other conveyance. As to the howls you speak of we leave that to you.

Friend, Tom, the threat regarding your support is very, very important at this distressing time, but we really believe that if either of us were in your ward that you would vote for us. We thank you for the attention you gave to the splendid equipment in our fire hall, which is all free.

We hope, in closing, to say as yourself that we will end this unnecessary controversy in the press. Try and help the worthy sidewalk in rectifying any mistakes we poor mortals make. We feel and think that any fair-minded man that has got the least citizenship in his heart won't object to the charge as it all goes to reduce the city expenses. It is just a matter of opinion which you have a right to express. Come down and let us talk it over at the wish of THE WORTHY ALDERMAN.

WIN IN EVERY HOME. SUBSCRIBER VICTORY LOAN 1918

In every home in Canada a Victory Bond! That is the Victory Loan objective this year.

Last year Canada made a War Loan record.

Aiming at one bond to every 20 of the population Canada responded by taking one for every ten, 9.6 to be exact.

Now that we all have learned to invest in bonds.

—now that we know how greatly Canada benefits from Victory Loans.

—now that our wonderful fighting men and our noble allies have brought Victory almost within our grasp.

—it is almost certain that one in every five of our people will bring forward their savings and lend them freely to Canada.

That will mean an average of one Victory Bond for every home in Canada.

One in every home! Display your card in your window. Persuade your neighbour to do the same.

If you do this and you, and You and YOU—if we are all skimming, working, saving with the one end in view, to win the war—Canada's Victory Loan 1918 must meet with overwhelming success!

“Staunch to the End Against Odds Uncounted”

THE MEN OVER THERE have fought the Hun, month upon month, season in and season out. They have suffered and fallen—but never failed. The fifth year of the war finds them dauntless in spirit, matchless in valor—the first to break through the Hindenburg line, the spearhead of the British attack on Cambrai. They are carrying on with a new and intenser persistence—“trusting” with death every step of the way.

And the task before us at home is to go on lending our money.

Can we do any less than put our last possible dollar in this Victory Loan, upon which depends the maintenance of our defenders—their food, clothing, pay and munitions?

The Government of Canada asks us to lend any sum we can spare, and promises to pay for it at the liberal rate of 5½ per cent.—demanding of us no sacrifice, but offering a reliable, good paying investment.

Last year's loan was $416,000,000. This year the Minister of Finance asks us to subscribe for $500,000,000.

As in the loan of 1917, the denominations of the bonds will be $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, with interest paid twice a year at 5½ per cent. per annum. They may be had in either of two maturities—5-year bonds, due November 1, 1923, or 15-year bonds, due 1933.

That every possible man, woman and child may have a part in this great Victory-winning investment, arrangements have been made for payment of bonds in five installments.

Suppose you buy a $50.00 bond. You may pay for it as follows: 10 per cent. ($5.00) on application; 20 per cent. ($10.00) December 6th, 1918; 20 per cent. ($10.00) January 6th, 1919; 20 per cent. ($10.00) February 6th, 1919, and 31.16 per cent. ($15.58) March 6th, 1919. The last payment of 31.16 per cent. represents the 30 per cent. still owing on your bond ($15.00), plus 1.16 per cent. (58 cents), which represents the accrued interest from the time of application to the due dates of the various installments. In other words, you pay 58 cents for the privilege of deferring your full payment of the bond. But a full half-year's interest ($1.25) will be paid to you on May 1st, 1919.

And remember—the proceeds of the loan will be used for war purposes only, including the purchase of grain, foodstuffs, munitions and other supplies, and will be spent wholly in Canada.

Moreover, your bond will be free from taxes—including any income tax imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

THE SOURCE OF SUPPLY OF PURE BRED HORSES CHANGING

TYPES OF HORSES BRED ON AN ALBERTA FARM

CANADA has the largest horse-breeding establishment of any single breed of horses in the world. It is that of Mr. George Lane, who on his ranches at High River and Napanee, Alberta, has some six hundred thoroughbred horses of the Percheron breed. Mr. Lane is said to own more pure bred horses of one breed than any other three men. He has built up a magnificent establishment, to which he attracts from all parts of the world, which reflects great credit to his foresight, enterprise and industry.

Mr. Lane was one of the first to realize the favorable conditions existing in Alberta to the production of healthy live stock, and early saw the enormous possibilities of the horse industry there. A soil rich in mineral matters; the availability of an abundance of nourishing feed for the horse; the purity of the atmosphere; the abundance of pure drinking water—these are some of the advantages possessed by Alberta, which contribute to the growth of a strong, vigorous healthy animal, unsurpassed anywhere in the world.

Mr. Lane's first experience with imported horses was with a number which he brought over the border from Montreal in the early nineties, later, which he had purchased for the sum that he intended to invest in the best pieces of the business he ever transacted in his life.

Thus was laid the foundation of his great establishment, which was now, although it was not in any sense a considerable expansion, in the hands of Mr. Lane's first partner, who was disappointed to find that the good war he had become a regular importer of Percheron horses from that country, but the tables are now being turned, and after the war it is expected that France will look largely to Alberta as a source for the renewal of her pure bred stock.

The work of the horses from Alberta in the war has made big reputations for them. There is something in the environment which brings out in the offspring which the best of the breeding in which the foundation has been laid. Just as a high grade sample of wheat planted upon the land and by the fertile soil of Alberta with greater vigor, producing larger and better grain than seed sown in better land in the future must be the case with horses of the highest breeding, and more healthful environments, so must the horse develop all its finest points to perfection in Alberta.

It is an outstanding fact that the low percentage of mortality among the young animals, especially among those who have experience in other countries, is the most noticeable feature of the breeding animals bred here. As a very competent authority has pointed out, it is the high altitudes from New Mexico north that must be looked to for size, ruggedness and strength in horses, and the larger percentage of sunshine, the greater vitality we may expect. That Alberta is amply endowed in this respect is shown by the class of animals that is being raised here, and by the fact that the stud herds of the province are being heavily trained and brought to the highest standard of excellence.

One of the most recent features in the history of horse breeding in Alberta is the fact that the breeding in which the foundation has been laid, just as a high grade sample of wheat planted upon the land and by the fertile soil of Alberta with greater vigor, producing larger and better grain than seed sown in better land in the future must be the case with horses of the highest breeding, and more healthful environments, so must the horse develop all its finest points to perfection in Alberta.
