$2.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE
In United States $2.50

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Cut the weeds in the back yard and vacant lot.
36 inch Factory Cotton, 10 cents.—Swift's.
Service in the Baptist church, Watford, Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. Next Tuesday, 19th, will be John Barleycorn's last day of activity in Ontario.

There is now a possibility that Main street will be paved with something more durable than good intentions.

Wheat cutting is completed in some places and soon the merry sound of the threshing machine will be heard.

Electric bulbs 25 c p at 50 cents, 40 c p at 60c, 60 c p at 65c. Electric Irons and Toasters $6.50.—N. B. Howden Est.

After last week's hot spell we know what the weather man means by "mean temperature." It was "mean" enough to be quite disagreeable.

The Masonic Grand Lodge meets at Ottawa next week. G. O. Stephenson, W. M. of Havelock Lodge expects to represent the local Masonic lodge at said meeting.

The recent hot weather was not conducive to hard work and the necessity had to be great to induce some to work at all. The industrious became lazy and the lazy lazier.

A fine white Lisle Hose for 28 cts.—Swift's.

Stick to the work in your flower or vegetable gardens boys and girls. The 16th of September is not so far off and the Prize List is a good one. Read it over and attack those weeds.

The extreme heat of the last three weeks was broken Friday night by a heavy rain. Fortunately it was unaccompanied by any violent electrical storm. It was a welcome relief.

The Orangemen of Watford, Brooke and Warwick spent the Glorious Twelfth in London at the big western Ontario celebration and report a good time and a big parade. Some 1200 Orangemen were in line.

The oldest woman in Pittsburg, aged 102 ascribes her condition to the fact that she married but once and that her conscience never troubled her. Another explanation is that her only husband died more than 75 years ago.

The boys had a big time Friday morning hunting for the hidden Chautauqua tickets, but the search was not of very long duration. Within a couple of hours all the tickets were found, some of them in almost unbelievable places.

Fruit growers in this district say that the fruit crop suffered by the recent long drought and much of the fruit has dropped off the trees. Spys and snags have suffered least and will be an average crop unless adverse conditions crop up.

Mr. J. H. Humphries is making some extensive improvements on his cottage on Huron street. A substantial cement block foundation has been placed under it, and attractive changes made in the superstructure. When finished the place will make a handsome residence.

Those citizens who keep the grass cut on the boulevards adjacent to their property show their pride in the town and a respect for their immediate surroundings. Some streets in Watford present a beautiful appearance, while a few look like a forsaken concession line.

Up to date fifty-five monuments have been straightened at the Watford cemetery. That work is now completed. Some of the large trees at the front which were too close to each other are being removed this week. Considering the dry weather the cemetery is looking very nice.

One can have some real worthwhile food these days. Fresh peas, beans and potatoes right out of the garden, cool lemonade and a dish of luscious fresh berries prove a great relief from the taste-all-alike canned goods some people are forced to eat in winter. There is no season like the good old Summer time.

A good White Cotton, 15 cents, 36 inches wide.—Swift's.
Alvinston is to have Hydro by Nov. 15.

Burn your house refuse this hot weather, don't throw it in the open as a call for a swarm of flies to breed disease.

League baseball game at Watford on Monday, 18th, Forest vs. Watford. Everybody see this game. Game called at 5.30.

There was no complaint among housewives last Monday about lack of a sufficient quantity of soft water to do the family laundry.

AntiRust Tin Pails formerly $1.25 now $1.00. Copper Boilers $6.00. Nickel plated Copper Teakettles $3.00. Dairy Teakettles 35 cents.—N. B. Howden Est.

The Provincial Normal School examinations results were published in Thursday's papers. We notice that Miss Jean L. Fitzgerald of Watford, has received an Interim Kindergarten Primary certificate.

And now a Philadelphia doctor comes along and condemns the ladies for powdering their noses claiming that the powder causes irritation of the septum and that 75 per cent. of the women in the U.S. are suffering from this complaint. This is horrible news. Might as well condemn the mirror and all the other contents of the vanity bag.

Every day brings its record of drowning fatalities—the usual accompaniment of the summer months—and one wonders whether by some special organized effort something could not be done to diminish the number. In New York there is talk of making swimming a compulsory art for all children over five years of age, and the press is lending its support to the suggestion.

Print House Dresses $1.29.—Swift's.

The rain storm on Friday evening was welcome, being the first rain of any account for nearly four weeks in this particular district. The gardens in town were suffering, and when the moisture came were considerably revived and since the growth has been very rapid. Ripe tomatoes, butter beans and potatoes the first week in July is unusual. Still, some people are grumbling.

The sympathy of a large number of friends and acquaintances is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Basil Richardson on the loss of their infant daughter, Muriel Marie, who was called to the spirit land on Monday last, at the age of seven weeks, after a short illness. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from the family residence on Huron street, Rev. S. P. Irwin conducting the service.

Work Shirts $1.00 and $1.25.—Swift's.

Genuine Gillette, Gem or Ever-Ready Safety Razors $1.00 each at Howden's. Take one on your vacation. Straight Razors and pocket cutlery at lowest prices.

The heaviest rain storm accompanied by almost continual thunder and lightning ever remembered here raged over this district from midnight Saturday till after noon on Sunday, when over three inches of water fell creating such a deluge that the streets looked like miniature lakes. Whole blocks were under water at one time, streets converted into rivers, and hencoops and other small buildings marooned. A peculiar feature of the storm was the length of time it continued. The thunder and lightning were almost continuous during Saturday night, and until noon on Sunday, in fact one storm followed another closely for over 13 hours. The entire absence of wind during the downpour no doubt saved much damage. In the country the storm did not do as much damage as might have been expected. No doubt some crops suffered but it is said that most of them now ready for harvesting will revive to a large degree and come through with little loss. This seems to be the opinion of leading agriculturists.

Holeproof Hosiery in black and white. Open Friday.—Swift's.

PERSONAL

Miss E. Isabel Harris, Welland, is home for the holidays.

Dr. C. F. Kenward and son Gary, Ind., is visiting at his old home here. Mr. and Mrs. Ross McLaren, Regina, are visiting relatives here.

Miss Pearl Chapman, Huron St., is spending her holidays in London. Miss Jessie Jackson of the Wire Works is spending her holidays with relatives in London.

Mrs. D. B. Cornell, Saginaw, Mich., visited her brother, T. G. Mitchell last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis, of Oil City, Pa., are spending a few days with the former's sister, Mrs. Orlo Jacklin.

Miss Verna Bambridge spent a few days with Watford relatives and friends on her return from Macdonald College, Guelph, before going to Sarnia.

WARWICK

Miss Mabel Manders has returned from a visit with friends in Toronto. Service in the Calvary Baptist church at 7.30 in the evening next Sunday.

There will be service in Bethel church next Sunday evening at 7.30 Rev. C. L. L. Couzens will preach.

Mrs. W. J. Henderson and children of Wyoming, are visiting at the home of her brother, Chas Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones, Toronto, visited friends and relatives in Warwick and Strathroy over the holiday.

Miss Edith G. Joynt, who spent the last three weeks at her home on the second line south, has returned to London Victoria Hospital Training School for nurses.

A few ratepayers who appealed against the confirmation of assessment of the Court of Revision decided to appeal to the judge, consequently Judge Taylor held a court in the town hall on Friday last when the appellants were heard. After due consideration the judge confirmed the decision of the Court of Revision.

Eighteen washouts on the Sarnia Gravel road between London and Warwick has absolutely tied up that road as far as traffic is concerned, according to the officials of the London Motor Club. It is almost impossible to get access to the road from London, and at many points it is practically impossible. Although it was one of the most staunchly built highways in Western Ontario it suffered far more than any other road in the vicinity of London.

CHANGES IN H. S. COURSE

The changes that have been made in the high school courses of study as a result of the study given the matters by special committee on high school education were announced by Hon. R. H. Grant at Toronto, last week, and are being communicated to school boards, principals and others affected.

The changes are so important as to effect a revolution in high school education, and to give the high and continuation schools an entirely new status in the educational system of the province. Briefly, the aim of the department has been to provide a five-year course of training that will be an end in itself instead of a step either to university or Normal school work.

Hitherto the training given in the schools has had either both of these as an objective and the student who wished to round off his education by a high school course was obliged to take all the subjects required for university or Normal school matriculation. Under the new system, matriculation is still provided for, but by the adoption of the optional system, applied to all but a few subjects, the student can take the instruction he wants.

A feature of the plan is that the option lies with school boards to decide which of the optional courses will be provided, and this will permit the boards to arrange the course in a way to meet the particular needs of the school or district.

OUR CHAUTAUQUA

SURPASSED THE HIGHEST EXPECTATIONS AND PROVED TO BE FOUR DAYS OF INSPIRATION AND DELIGHTFUL AMUSEMENT AND ENTERTAINMENT

Since last Saturday interest in the Chautauqua programs given afternoon and evening in the big tent on the Armory grounds grew steadily. Every day has seen a steady stream of people from town and country setting their faces Chautauquawards. While it would be too much to say that every number on the meritorious four day program has met with the full approval of everybody, it is positive that the majority of items have delighted the majority of the audience, and the audience being so varied this is very high praise indeed. There was not a single mediocre feature on the list and the performers received unqualified praise from all classes of patrons. Both the Chautauqua officials and the guarantors who stood behind it have come in for unstinted praise, and this year's Chautauqua has insured success for next year when it will be repeated. In fact it has been said that the Chautauqua is the greatest treat that has been given to Watford people for many years. The lecturers commended the admiration of all honest critics. They have method as well as message, and a message to every sort and condition of society. The music acting and other lighter entertainment furnished unalloyed pleasure, the whole series proving an inspiration and an uplift to the community. At each entertainment Mrs. Quinlan in a brief speech gave a glimpse of the good things in store for the audience. Too much praise cannot be bestowed on this bright, little lady superintendent whose appearance on the platform each entertainment at the opening of the program dispelled there and then any forebodings of the audience as to the success of the evening's entertainment. Nature and education had combined to fit her for the part she played, and she made numerous friends during her short stay in Watford.

The community should be very grateful to the 29 gentlemen for providing the necessary financial backing to bring Chautauqua here and to all those who worked so hard to make it a success.

ECHOES

"I got my money's worth."

The guarantors are smiling, so are the Chautauqua managers.

"Jazz" music was distinctly conspicuous by its absence from the program.

The guarantors were sure of financial success after the first day's entertainment.

There were no complaints about paying the amusement tax as everybody was amused or edified.

Prince, the accordion player is a whole orchestra himself. He certainly can bring good music out of the instrument.

"I was never much in favor of this sort of thing but have changed my mind after attending this one", remarked an old-timer Wednesday.

Knots, bolts and bars soon fly asunder when Davis the Magician gets going. One wonders if he could be held by the marriage knot.

Some of the Committee work hard.

The death occurred at her home, lot 12, concession 5, Mosa, on Sunday, July 2d, of Mrs. Duncan McNaughton, aged 83 years. Mrs. McNaughton was taken ill some time ago with pneumonia, from which gangrene developed, resulting in her death after a long and painful illness. She is survived by her husband and four sons, Colin C. Mc-to make Chautauqua a success but their reward was to be seen in the faces of a pleased and satisfied audience.

Bobby says he is going to be a magician when he's a man. He took his first lesson Monday night and was given a guinea pig to start with.

The lady superintendent announced Tuesday night that Watford Chautauqua had proved such a success that a contract had already been signed for next year.

There are E flat cornets and B flat cornets but there is nothing flat about Chester Scott's cornet playing. The Professor is certainly a finished artist in that line.

Dr. Franklin Babb's lecture on "The 100 per cent. Man" was worth the price of a season ticket. It was witty and inspiring and gave all who heard it food for thought. How high percentage do you rate?

Lieut. Osborne—Dempster's lecture on "Red Russia with the Lid Off," was a vivid and enlightening description of affairs in that country and was filled with most horrifying description of doings in that land of the Bolshevik.

Wednesday afternoon's concert was a charming rendition of operatic and solo music that pleased all music lovers who heard it. At night Hon. Percy Alden, British M. P., gave his lecture on "The Outlook in Europe," but our forms were made up for press before it was delivered.

The small boy and some of the bigger ones have spent considerable time during the last two days trying to figure out how Magician Davis did some of his tricks. Many magicians and sleight-of-hand performers have been seen here, but Davis' stunts are far ahead of any heretofore seen here. Some of his tricks are certainly marvellous.

Not all the music was high-class but it was all good and rendered in a manner perfect as to tone, time and technic. Taken as a whole it was about the best ever heard here.

Even if the same entertainments had been given in a hall they would not have been so much enjoyed as they were in that cool, spacious and well ventilated tent.

A crowd which filled to overflowing the big tent flocked in from all parts of the district to see Elias Day players produce the comedy "Contentment". The play was fascinatingly interpreted by the Company, all of whom took their allotted role with much skill and feeling. The disadvantages of such a small stage and the limited amount of scenery were very skilfully overcome. The plot is simple and the moral good.

The musical numbers met the various tastes. There was something to please all—from the sweet Southern melody to the selection from grand opera. The latter provided a very enjoyable treat to those music lovers who are necessarily debarred from such concerts by living so far from a large city. The artists played many standard and classical selections with great accuracy and feeling, receiving the applause they so richly deserved.

Naughton, clerk of the township of Mosa; Hugh McNaughton, Newbury; Dan McNaughton, Mosa, and Robt. Gray, Shetland. Mrs. McNaughton was born in the township of Euphemia and was twice married, her first husband being John Gray, of Metcalfe township, who was accidentally shot in the Muskoka woods while hunting for deer.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The man who gauges success entirely by dollars and cents is a fool.

Sir Sam Hughes will resign his seat in the Federal House and retire from active politics.

Some people in Ireland are praying for peace. One wonders if they would recognize it if they should get it.

Sixty farmers who sailed recently from Liverpool for Canada took with them the sum of £35,000 to invest in Canadian land.

James Whitcombe Riley, the "Hoosier poet" would have no fault to find with Sunday's rain. He once wrote: "When God sorts out the weather and sends rain, why rain's my choice."

The Sandy Bill to prevent "short-circuiting" in the delivery of liquor will come into force simultaneously with the prohibition law. It will apply to Pat and John as well as "Sandy."

One hears lots of complaints that men cannot get work, but sixty immigrants who landed at Quebec obtained work in less than a week. There must be a reason for this. Perhaps they were willing to do a fair day's work for reasonable pay.

School teaching might be nicknamed "The Restless Profession" judging from the numerous columns of Teachers Wanted ads. in the daily newspapers. The idea of "How much good can I do in the world" seems to be overshadowed by the thought "How much money can I squeeze out of the public."

The knowledge that they are soon to have a portion of tobacco given them each week has greatly improved the morale of the convicts in Kingston penitentiary. It is expected that they will be allowed two ounces a week. 90 per cent. voted for smoking tobacco.

The secretary of the British Divorce Law Reform Association says that the British divorce rate is higher than in the United States. The courts have been swamped since Easter with cases. The war played havoc with many matrimonial unions and there is no sign of improvement.

The word artists of the West never dip the flag to the effete East. While Ontario correspondents were telling about the damage done by hailstones as large as marbles Regina reported "hailstones the size of tennis balls." The number of fatalities is as yet unrecorded.

Chas. H. Jackson of Brocton, whose friends claimed he was the largest man in the world, died at a hospital at Cambridge, Friday. In 1916 he weighed 630 pounds, but a five years' illness had reduced him to 400 pounds. He was 61 years old and was six feet tall.

There is an abundance of work in this community for every man and boy. There should be no one, with the least grain of 20th century pride, out of employment. Even if you don't need the money or you are a distant relative of the tenth Earl of Do-nothing, get out and work; pull flax, cut hay, work on the highway; never mind what it is, as long as it is work.

Walkerton Times.—A Walkerton resident had an experience last week which he is not likely to forget for some time, and in these days of daring burglaries and holdups, would make the strongest nerve vibrate. The young man had been out to a late lodge meeting and was making his way into his house so as not to awaken his faithful wife. In turning on the electric light which would illuminate the room, what was his horror to hear a hiss and a terrific roar. The man made a rush for the door to escape, but as the noise continued, he mastered his fears sufficiently to venture back, when he discovered that some enterprising salesman had left a vacuum carpet cleaner on trial and had attached it to the lamp socket controlled by the switch.

A German Major who confessed to giving orders that French prisoners and wounded should be killed in cold blood has been sentenced to two years' imprisonment by the German Supreme Court. The lightness of the sentence is almost as shocking as the crime. Germany's moral rehabilitation will not come from the so-called upper stratum. The aristocracy, the official classes, the University professors and the Judiciary are still addicted to the old system and the old ideas.

London Advertiser.—There ought to be greater restrictions placed on the traffic in firearms and ammunition. The ease with which guns and shells can be procured is nothing short of an incentive to crime. Being a "gunman" is more and more being looked upon as a genteel, easy and lucrative profession by the degenerate element among the youth of the day, and not till the finding of loaded weapons on these budding bandits is treated as presumptive evidence that they intended to commit murder will this menace receive an appreciable check. But to see that every possessor of a firearm is duly registered and licensed would insure that no one is in possession of such dangerous things except those entitled for legitimate reasons to be so.

In a greenhouse at Kew Gardens near London, Eng., are growing three new plants which may possibly prove of considerable economic value in the near future, remarks the Manchester Guardian. They belong to a species now styled Stevia rebaudiana, which was discovered about twenty years ago by an Italian botanist, Dr. Bertoni, in Paraguay, where the leaves are used by Indians to sweeten tea, coffee and other beverages. The leaves are remarkable for their extraordinary sweetness—said to be about 200 times greater than that of sugar—and they are easily prepared. All that seems needed is to collect the leaves, dry them in the hot sun or moderate oven and reduce them to a powder. This powder, it is claimed, can be kept dry for an indefinite period without losing any of its sweetening properties.

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsoftened stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are hurtful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

UNFORTUNATE

I've been to seven doctors
To find out what to do,
When on the street degrees of heat
Are more than ninety-two.
And their advice, devoid of price,
I pass along to you:
Dark clothes intensify the heat,
Light clothes are hotter still.
To wear such things is indiscreet,
Except when days are chill;
A collar subjects one to shocks;
All underwear's a fad;
In summertime to put on socks
Is very, very bad;
Avoid all meats, eschew all fish,
Beware of eating bread;
Green vegetables compose a dish
That's harmful to the head,
Cut out ice cream and lemonade,
And jelly soup and pie.
Canned goods most likely are Decayed;
Eat fruit and you will die.
Now, one who goes about sans clothes,
Is very rash indeed;
And though it's hot one's simply got
To take a little feed.
So, I will add, it's quite too bad,
The doctors disagreed.

"COLD IN THE HEAD"

is an acute attack of Nasal Catarrh. Those subject to frequent "colds in the head" will find that the use of HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will build up the System, cleanse the Blood and render them less liable to colds. Repeated attacks of Acute Catarrh may lead to Chronic Catarrh. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. All druggists. Circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

BENEFICIAL EFFECTS OF SCHOOL FAIRS

School fairs are to the boys and girls of the land what the larger fairs are to adults. By this time they should be thoroughly organized; prize lists published and circulated and programmes of proceedings prepared, the two indeed given in one publication. These fairs increase in number every year and are proving of inestimable value in the agricultural education of the young and even in beneficially influencing the more mature. Of course boys' and girls' clubs are the principal feeders of the fairs, but entries are usually accepted from children who are not members of any such organization. Agricultural Representatives all testify to the splendid effect the fairs are having upon farm life and agricultural pursuits generally. One, for instance, writes: "I do not know of any one thing which is a greater factor in improving the farm production and the farm industry of the country than the school fairs..... In addition to bringing direct, practical results, school fairs have had a very effective influence in encouraging teachers to take up the teaching of agriculture in the public schools." Another says: "The importance of the school fair cannot be over-emphasized. It teaches our future farmers how they can take the most out of the soil. It makes our rural people better and happier." In recognition of the truth of the old adage "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" a program of sports is usually included in the days list of proceedings.

Recent Changes in The Election Act

Dominion Parliament at Last Session Made Substantial Amendments

At the recent session of Parliament much attention was given to amending the Dominion Election Act. The majority of the Amendments deal with the administration of the enabling clause of the Act. One judge who acted as revising officer in a city declared the work of revision and the result was heartrending, and Hon. F. B. McCurdy, after his election in Colchester, N.S., also had some suggestions to make on the administration of the Act. These and many other intimations were duly weighed by the chief electoral officer, O. M. Biggar, K.C., and the main features of the representations made embodied in a memorandum to Parliament by him. This memorandum was referred to the Privileges and Elections Committee of the House of Commons. When the committee met Hon. Hugh Guthrie, K.C., M.P., chairman, stated he had read the Election Act several times and was bound to say it was difficult to make stand and still more difficult to make it clear to others. The chief electoral officer said that to make the Act readily intelligible would necessitate the rewriting of the whole Act, but his duty was in the administration of the same and it was not for him to suggest changes in the underlying principles. The committee, however, unanimously suggested that Mr. Biggar in the next handy consolidation of the Act embody as an introduction explanatory pages.

This Mr. Biggar readily agreed to and he has compiled about one hundred pages of explanatory notes covering each branch of the Act. Those who will have to do with administering a branch will be supplied with the notes on the branch in booklet form on the eve of the election or immediately after the writs are issued.

It may be stated generally that any British subject 21 years of age, resident in Canada for one year and in the constituency two months may vote provided he or she satisfies the details of the Act, especially as to being seized with the requirements necessary to be allowed to vote on election day.

Bearing on the administration clauses of the Act some important changes were adopted, one of these bearing on the nomination form or paper. At the meeting of the committee Alexander Smith, barrister, Ottawa, was introduced to submit such interpretations as he might deem helpful. It was subsequently announced on the floor of the House by the Solicitor-General that the amendments to the Act were in consequence of suggestions by Mr. Smith. It has been stated at the meeting of the committee by the chief electoral officer after the attention of the committee had been called to the nomination form as printed that if a person were nominated in accordance with that form and objection taken to such nomination the same could be rejected and the person so nominated would not be allowed to be a candidate.

After the committee made its recommendations members of the House of all shades and groups took up the consideration of other features of the Act which by interviews with Mr. Smith and others during the past year had been dealt with in the press. This resulted in other substantial changes in the Act. The discussions for these changes were conducted on the floor of the House by all parties. The amendments adopted were demanded by Opposition speakers and successfully moved by Government supporters. One amendment adopted at the recent session greatly reduces the number of naturalized persons who have to obtain a voting certificate before being entitled to vote. The only naturalized persons now required to obtain such a certificate are alien women born outside of North America who are the wives or unmarried widows of British subjects, natural born or naturalized, but any of these who are entitled to vote under the War Time Elections Act of 1917 do not require a certificate.

The new Election Act of 1920, before being amended this year, made it necessary that the thousands of persons who became naturalized by process of law simply because their fathers were naturalized, should before voting obtain a voting certificate from a judge. This has been abolished.

Keeps Motors Smooth Running

Quality maintains economy. You may pay less "per gallon" for other lubricating oils but you get more lubrication "per dollar" when you buy Imperial Polarine Motor Oils.

USERS of Imperial Polarine Motor Oils enjoy a singular freedom from engine trouble, which is at once a source of profit and pleasure to them.

Every bearing and rubbing surface is cushioned with an unbreakable oil film which relieves friction and minimizes wear. Good compression is also maintained, saving both fuel and oil and increasing power.

Lessened repair bills, lower upkeep costs, better satisfaction and longer service from your car follow the use of Imperial Polarine Motor Oils.

Consult our Chart of Recommendations for the grade of Imperial Polarine best suited to your motor. See Charts at your dealers or write to 56 Church Street for "Automotive Lubrication," a booklet which contains the Chart and other valuable information.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

FOR A CLEAN EFFICIENT MOTOR

The crank case of your motor should be drained, cleaned and refilled with fresh Imperial Polarine every 1,000 miles or less. Dealers who display this sign give expert crank case cleaning service, using Imperial Flushing Oil, a scientific cleaning agent which removes all dirt, grit and impurities, which are so harmful to your engine. It will pay you well to employ Imperial Polarine Crank-Case Service to-day.

DEATH OF MR ROBERT C. WILLIAMSON

The death occurred on Wednesday July 6th, after poor health for some time and serious illness for over two months, of Mr. Robert C. Williamson, at his home on John street, aged 75 years. Deceased was born on the fourth line of Warwick. Over 50 years ago he was married to Miss Sarah Healey of Warwick, who survives him. He is also survived by three sons and two daughters, namely, V. R. and Harvey, London, Ralph of Brandon, Mrs. John Kernohan of Durand, Mich., and Mrs. E. Baker, of Winnipeg. Mr. Williamson spent a large portion of his life at railroad work, living at Windsor, London, Winnipeg, and other cities until about four years ago when he came back to Watford. He was a member of Lodge 209a, A.F.&A.M., London, and his funeral on Friday afternoon to Watford cemetery was conducted by the Masonic brethren of Watford. The church service was conducted by Rev. E. H. Sawers, and the pallbearers were J. Saunders, E. D. Swift, J. W. McLaren, Reg. Thorne, W. C. Aylesworth, S. Saunders.

DEATH OF MR. C F ABBOTT

Another of the early residents of Watford passed to the great beyond on Friday last in the person of Mr. Charles Frederick Abbott, after a prolonged illness of more than a year's duration. Mr. Abbott was born in Clennell, Tipperary county, Ireland, in 1848 and was in his 73rd year at the time of his death. He came to Canada when a young man, locating near Bothwell, but shortly afterward moved to this vicinity. In 1868 he was married to Miss Eliza Wilson in Warwick Village, who predeceased him in 1911. From the union six children were born. One of them, Dr. Frederick C. died in 1910, the surviving ones being Dr. Clifford J., of Holland, Mich.; Dr. Harry V. of Shepherd, Mich.; Dr. Gordon M., of St. Charles, Ill.; Mrs. W. C. Howden (Eva C.) and Miss Lillie I. of Watford. For many years Mr. Abbott was in business in Watford and was highly respected as a business man and resident. For several years he lived in St. Charles, Ill., but a few months ago returned to Watford where the end came.

The funeral (which was private) was held on Sunday afternoon from the residence of his son-in-law Mr. W. C. Howden, Erie street. Rev. S. P. Irwin rector of Trinity church, had charge of the service, interment being made in the family plot at the Watford cemetery. The pallbearers were A. G. Brown, E. D. Swift, W. H. Shrappnell, Paul Kingston, W. Trenouth and I. J. Hastings.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Mrs. Middleton and Miss Davis of Wyoming; Mr. Clifford Abbott and wife of Sarnia; Dr. Clifford Abbott of Holland, Mich.; Dr. Harry Abbott and wife of Shepherd, Ill.

SAUNDERS—CLARK

A very pretty event was solemnized at the home of Mr. John Clark, Brooke, on Wednesday, July the sixth, when his elder daughter, Margaret Mae, was united in marriage to Mr. Basil Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Saunders, also of Brooke, Rev. Mr. Petter of Wyoming, officiating.

Promptly at four o'clock to the strains of Lohengrin played by Miss Myrtle Saunders, sister of the groom, the bridal party entered the parlor and took their places beneath an arch of evergreens and sweet peas.

The bride wore a graceful gown of ivory satin, with over dress of pointe de Venice lace and silver trimmings, and bridal veil banded with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and maiden hair fern.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the pianist a gold ring set with a ruby, to Miss Mary Clark, who with Mr. Leo Saunders, signed as witness a pearl set sunburst.

After congratulations the guests repaired to the diningroom which was beautifully decorated in pink and white, where a dainty luncheon was served by cousins of the groom.

The bride and groom received many lovely gifts, including a substantial check and a victory bond from the bride's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders left by motor amid showers of confetti and good wishes for Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a smart suit of navy tricotine with hat and veil to match, and on their return will make their home in Watford.

On Monday evening previous to the wedding about thirty-five friends of the bride and groom gathered at the home of the bride and presented her with an elaborate kitchen show-er.

STEADMAN FAMILY RE-UNION

The annual social event of the Steadman family took place on July 1st when about forty-two members and relatives of the family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Steadman, Townline, to spend the day together, it being their annual re-union. Members of the family were present from Woodstock, Watford, Windsor, Detroit and Petrolia.

After dinner the family met in a pleasant spot on the farm where games of all kinds were played. Arrangements were also made for the next re-union to be held on July 1st, 1922. Although the day was extremely hot a splendid time was spent by all.

After spending such an enjoyable day on Friday, the family assembled at Acorn Lodge, owned by Mr. W.B. Smith, at the lake on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Thos. Steadman, father of the family, who has been an invalid for a number of years made his appearance at the lake for the first time in nine years, and although he and Mrs. Steadman are gradually creeping up in years they thoroughly enjoyed the outing. Everyone present was delighted with the success of the re-union and the hope was expressed that next year would see a still larger one.

Mr. J. F. Burnett, our Western representative, left last week on a business trip to the coast.

Among those of our employees now away on vacation are: Misses Lillian Jarriott and Jessie Jackson, Messrs. Robt. Caley, Kenny Williamson and Chas. Gardner.

The total sales of our Canadian plants to date show an increase of nearly $30,000.00. Our sales for 1921 up to date $203,990.96 while last year's for the same time amounted to $174,244.28.

Pat: "Have you christened your new baby yet?" Mike: "We have." Pat: "An phwat do you call it?" Mike: "Hazel." Pat: "Sure, bad cess to ye. With 223 saints to name the kid after, ye had to go and name it after a nut."

About 40 season tickets to Chautauqua were sold to the employees of the Andrews Wire Works. This shows we know a good thing when we see it, and by the comments around the factory Monday morning everyone thought they had had the worth of their money already. The other entertainments on our tickets we figured would be clear profit.

There seems to be no limit to the number of trades our Superintendent W. L. Millar is master of. One hour they will have him fixing a sewing machine, the next hour a contrary motor and possibly the next a big punch-press or a delicate time stamp. Once a locomotive broke down near our shop. To the engineer in charge it looked like a message to London and a long wait for another engine to be sent from the Roundhouse but somebody mentioned Mr. Millar and in a few minutes Mr. Millar had the trouble located turned up a new piece on a lathe and started the happy crew on their way. But last Tuesday his real test came when Tony the Italian accordion artist appearing at the Chautauqua had the misfortune to break his wonderful instrument and Chicago being the nearest place where he could get repairs Tony was in a dilemma, but Mr. Millar was sent for and the sky cleared quickly. There are some 180 keys on the accordion and each one must work in unison with several others to produce the music. With Mr. Millar's assistance the instrument was fixed in time for the evening concert and the obliging Tony did not disappoint his evening audience. To further show his appreciation of Watford hospitalities he gave an impromptu concert at the hotel after the evening performance.

The damage from Sunday's rain storm in the city of London is estimated at from $100,000 to $200,000.

THE HEALTHY MAN HAS THE BEST CHANCE

Is Always Full of Life and Energy—Failures Are Weak and Bloodless

Some men seem to have all the luck. If there are any good things going these men seem to get them. If they are business men they are successful; if they are workmen they get the foreman's job. They have the power of influencing people.

The same is true of women. Some have the charm that makes men seek them out; others are neglected. But this is not luck. It is due to a personal gift—vitality. Men and women of this sort are never weak, puny invalids. They may not be big, but they are full of life and energy. The whole thing is a matter of good blood, good nerves and good health. Everyone would wish to be like this and the qualities that make for vitality and energy are purely a matter of health. By building up the blood and nerves, sleeplessness, want of energy, weakness of the back, headaches and the ineffectual sort of presence which really comes from weakness can be got rid of. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made many weak, tired men, vigorous, and many pale dejected girls and women, rosy and attractive by improving their blood and toning up their nerves. If you are weak, low-spirited or unhealthy, try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and note their beneficial effect.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Wm. Brownlee, a farmer living on concession 4, Biddulph Township, found three of his finest head of cattle lying dead under a tree after the storm Sunday morning. Erie Haskett, his nephew, living on the same concession three miles north, had three struck. One is dead and the other two not expected to recover. Joseph Powe, concession 10, Biddulph, found five of his cows piled one on top of the other in an unusual well. The bottom one was dead.

The Opening Services in connection with the new shed of the Methodist church here took place on Sunday and Monday last. The old church where the congregation worshipped for the last 48 years had been torn down the first week in June and for four Sundays the congregation have worshipped at different places. Sunday they began worship in the new cement block shed which is 100 feet by 48 feet built of concrete blocks and covered with corrugated galvanized roofing, a very fine structure. The Rev. A. E. Moorhouse of London St., Windsor, brother of the pastor, preached excellent sermons morning and evening, being assisted by Rev. J. C. Reid and the pastor. The duets by Rev. A. E. Moorhouse and Rev. C. J. Moorhouse were much enjoyed. The day being very warm Mr. Meredith Morgan kindly loaned his electric fan, he also lighted the building in the evening with Delco. On Monday evening

Isaac Hamilton, aged 62, a farm hand employed by Duncan C. Graham of Mosa, was overcome by the extreme heat on Tuesday and died within two hours. Deceased and four other men were at work in the wheat field adjoining the fair grounds at Glencoe. At noon he complained of feeling ill and shortly afterwards became unconscious passing away at two o'clock.

the ladies served supper on the grounds and a splendid concert was given in the new shed. The Thomas Orchestra of Strathroy furnished music and a play was presented by the young people of Walnut. Addresses by Rev. J. Currie, Middleboro, Mass., Rev. T. A. Steadman, and Rev. E. Moorhouse were given. The True Blues had charge of the booth on the grounds.

The workmen have the basement work of the new church completed and many favorable comments have been made concerning the splendid workmanship that has been done. All the workmen returned at the end of the week to Woodstock.

The June meeting of the Kerwood Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. E. deGex, about 45 members and visitors were present as this is our special meeting of the year, we like to have as large attendance as possible both for the credit of our Institute and we like to have all the ladies who can possibly hear the talk given by the speaker of the meeting who is sent from the Department headquarters. This year we were fortunate in having Miss Janet Preston. She had only time to give us a very meagre bit from her vast store of knowledge, Domestic Science. The ladies present voted to have Miss Preston give her talk on Dress and sewing instead of the one we had planned for. The talk on dress was practical and hit quite a few present in various ways. Time did not permit her to say all the things she might have said or some more might have had a hard hit. These practical talks are for a purpose and we hope all those hearing this talk will consider well Miss Preston's good advice. Two good rules in dress were: Avoid extreme styles, Avoid things that will make you conspicuous. The talk on sewing and the new styles in "small wears" were well received. It will take root and bear much fruit at our coming fancy sales as all the patterns were copied and new ideas for decoration were minutely inquired into. Miss Preston was greatly delighted with the Kerwood Institute and said our branch was one of the most progressive she had visited. We should take our praise with caution and let it stimulate in greater efforts in doing good in our community. No matter what help we give to societies depending on the generosity of the public at large we must not forget that "community good" is the first aim of Institute work. The entertainment was much enjoyed by all. Mrs. Edgar favored us in her usual good style of elocution and Mrs. Conkey, Miss Jean Sullivan and Miss Nona Wilson with piano solos. The large committee in charge of eats made their best at least we would judge so by the variety and excellence. The programs for the new year were given out and we hope for many treats in the future. The July meeting will be held on the 20th at the home of Mrs. Wm. Johnston.

"There's never any tellin' how far your nerve will carry you until you get into a tight place and give it a good try."

Leary—goodness only knows what his name may have been originally—tilted his stein and took a deep draft before he continued.

"Take my own case, for instance."

"'Twas this way," Leary went on, when the replenished steins were set before us. "There was a dinky little county fair back in a town among the hills, three years ago this fall, and as there didn't seem to be nothin' doin' just about then, I packed up a wheel of fortune—one of them kind with a concealed brake on it—and hiked it to the hills. When I hit the town I found I'd got the field pretty much to myself, for the only other thing in the way of educational entertainments was two broken-down thimble-riggers and a one-horse ring-'em-on outfit."

"First thing when I struck the grounds I fell in with a bewhiskered limb of the law who was floatin' round dazed-like, with a big nickel 'chief-of-police' star on his coat-front."

"Fine weather," says I, off'r'in' him a cigar.

"Uncommon," says he, bitin' off a third of it and lightin' the wrong end.

"I've brought up a little show," says I. "It's entertainin', harmless and educational. I s'pose there's no objection to my setting up over by the fence?"

"Well—er—" says he, his little eyes narrowin' in a try at bein' shrewd that was funny.

"How much?" says I, comin' to the point at once.

"I s'pose I ought to have about twenty-five," says he. "That's what the other gents give me."

"Sure," says I, passin' out the stuff. "It's a pleasure to do business with such an intelligent man."

"And off he goes, puffed up to near the bustin' point."

"I opened up business next door to the thimble-riggers, and in ten minutes I owned the crowd. Those other outfits was bit by a drought immediately. Would y' believe it, most of the yaps hadn't never seen a wheel of fortune before, and after the first four or five of 'em had won somethin' like fifty, the rest fairly fell over one another tryin' to get a chance to have a whirl at it."

"In an hour I took in a cool four hundred. Then a yap who'd lost twenty dollars in one fling set up a yell of 'Robber!' and 'Skin!' The crowd took it up and began to shove in close, lookin' ugly. I tried my best to pacify 'em, but it wasn't no use."

"Right in the middle of the trouble the chief of police come pushin' through the crowd."

"What's wrong here?" says he, lookin' like a villain in a melodrama with a bad attack of stage-fright.

"He's got our money with a skin game!" yells one sucker.

"This here wheel is crooked!" sings out another.

"His Whiskers lays a hand on my shoulder."

"See here," he says, throwin' out his chest most virtuous-like, "we can't have nothin' of this kind goin' on here. You come with me!" an' he leads me toward the gate. I kept mum till the crowd'd all trailed off and we was alone; then I turned on him.

"Look here," I says, "where do I fit? D'y'er think I coughed up to have you buttin' in?"

"That crowd was gettin' ugly," says he, sort of apologetic.

"Oh, stow it!" says I. "I'll look out for myself. I got to make my expenses, ain't I?"

"Well, what do you want to do?" says he.

"I'll tell you," I says, droppin' an eyelid at him. "I'll make it up on the 'dip.'" What's the matter with my weedin' out a few leathers, just to get enough to get home on?"

"He springs his wise look on me again."

"I'll have to have another twenty-five for that," says he.

"Sure, cull," says I.

"And if there is any trouble, I ain't responsible for none of the consequences," he goes on. "They pretty near killed a feller that got caught pickin' pockets up here last year. If there's any trouble, you'll have to look out for yourself."

"That's all right," says I. "It's time enough to worry when the trouble is here." And I chuckled to myself, for those yaps sure did look easy.

"It was about four o'clock when the crowd and that jay cop between 'em broke up my game, and at five a balloon ascension and a parachute drop was goin' to take place. Already the balloon was tied and was awaitin' to start, and I squeezed near the ropes a man shouted at the top of his voice that, owing to the extreme velocity of the wind the balloon ascension and parachute jump of the world-renowned Professor Angelone would have to be postponed until the followin' afternoon at four sharp.

"While the crowd was growlin' its disapproval, my right hand was liftin' the leather from the inside pocket of a sober-lookin' old codger beside me. It would have been a neat little job if some one behind hadn't butted against me and rammed my hand into the old cove's ribs. He looked down quick and saw his leather leavin' his pocket, with my right hand attached to it.

"He grabbed me by the collar and squealed 'Thief! Pickpocket!' so loud you could have heard him a mile.

"I broke away from him, and slippin' the leather into my own pocket, tried to butt through the crowd to the rope. I s'pose it was one of them times people call psychological moments. You see, the crowd was sore 'cause the balloon ascension had fizzled, and just the minute it was sorest I makes a mess of my little dip act, which gives the push a good excuse to get rid of their spite on me.

"Say, when they closed on me, yellin' and cussin', with the old buck screamin' 'Stop thief!' just behind me, they didn't look so dead easy as they had an hour before when I first contemplated workin' the dip on them."

"It was up to me to do a hurried fade away. I tripped up one man, and gave two others the straight arm. Then I jumped the rope and made for that restless balloon, with the pack yelpin' close at my heels. An' as I ran, a crazy scheme flashed into my mind and I whipped out my knife and opened the biggest blade.

"Honest, to this day I don't know how I had the nerve to do it, but when I reached the balloon I jumped onto the trapeze-bar, which was swingin' low, and with one slash of the knife I cut the moorin' rope.

"Something gave me a fierce yank upward.

"Then I looked down. Holy smoke! The fair ground, the crowd, and the whole earth was droppin' away from me so fast my heart stood still. I didn't look down again, but put all my effort in a desperate attempt to stick to the bar. It whipped about, and swayed and twisted, while that crazy old balloon laid over in a fashion that made me shut my eyes and bite my lips until I could taste blood.

"I don't know how long this lasted. It seemed ages. But by and by we must have risen higher, for the balloon righted itself and sailed along easy and gentle as could be.

"After a long time I screwed up my courage and looked down. Miles and miles below me was the little old earth, lookin' like a kid's toy village laid out on a table. Then the sun went down and it grew cold.

"When I looked down next I could see the toy village comin' up, and I knew we was sinkin'. I honestly b'lieve I'd 'a' known how to get that parachute loose I'd done it an' taken my chances then an' there. As it was, I could only hold on with shakin' knees and chattering teeth, and hope the earth wouldn't biff me too hard when it got up to us.

"It grew dark fast now, and we must have sunk into a layer of wind again, for the balloon began to switch about in scandalous fashion. Talk about your buckin' broncos! I felt as if I could take my chances with any of 'em after that. We went lower still, until we was just clearin' the tops of the trees. All at once I noticed on the spread-bar above my head a coil of rope and a dinky little grappin' anchor. Five times I tried before I had the nerve to reach with one hand and loosen that coil of rope.

"When finally I did get it loose and drop the anchor we was tearin' along above a stretch of pine woods, and just as I let go the anchor we came upon a clearin' all lighted up with gasoline torches. All around was rows of benches with a lot of people on them, listenin' to a tall man who was wavin' his arms and bellowin' a hymn. Say, I'd never been to a camp meetin' in my life, but I knew one soon's I spotted it.

"I let out a yell as the anchor caught beneath the rear seat, ripped it up, and spilled three good sisters into a promiscuous heap. The hymn stopped sudden. There was yell and havis. Then that meetin' scattered's if a cyclone had struck it.

"Everybody seemed to lose his head 'cept the tall man, and he made one dive for the anchor rope and hung on for dear life.

"Keep hold!" I yelled. "Keep hold! Don't let me loose!"

"And that old psalm-singer was dead-gone. He got hoisted up, banged into trees, dragged through underbrush, but still he hung on, yellin' to the others to come and help him, and callin' 'em all sorts of variations on white-livered and chicken-hearted.

"Well, after a bit some fifteen or twenty of 'em got hold of the rope,

THE DAILY MISERY OF ILL-HEALTH

Three Years of Suffering Quickly Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. GASPARD DUBORD

159 Avenue Plus IX, Montreal.

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and my general health was very bad. I consulted a physician and took his medicine and faithfully carried out his instructions, but I did not improve and finally the doctor told me I could not be cured.

At this time, a friend advised me to try Fruit-a-tives and I did so. After taking two boxes of Fruit-a-tives, I was greatly relieved; and gradually this marvelous fruit medicine made me completely well.

My digestion and general health are splendid—all of which I owe to Fruit-a-tives."

with him and hurried to get me down to earth.

"Say, I couldn't believe it was true when I found solid ground beneath me once more. I was near crazy with joy. I was laughin' and gaspin' all at once, and between times I was shoppin' the tall cove on the bar, and tellin' him what a dead-game sport he was. Then I pulled out my roll—my last dollar of it.

"Has the collection been made?" says I. "Because if it hasn't, I want to put this in for me."

"You should 'a' seen them eyes stick out! There was somethin' like five hundred in the wad. I was after that, all right."

"But by and by I edged down enough to find out the way to the nearest railway station, and I was there settlin' down to the camp-meetin' business again. I managed to sneak off through the woods."

"When at last I hit the next I took out the wallet I'd lifted from the old chap back at the fair ground. It was good and fat, and I was glad as I struck a match to see what was in it. And say, what do you think was in it? A bunch of receipted tax bills, two tin-types and one of those big, old-fashioned copper cents with a hole in it. Not another thing, I swear."

"If there had been, I wouldn't 'a' been lame for a month from ridin' home on the hummers."

YOUNG WOMEN AVOID PAIN

This One Tells How She Was Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Regina, Sask. — "For two years I suffered from periodic pains and nausea so I was unable to get around. My mother had me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am much better and able to go about all the time, which I could not do before. I recommend Vegetable Compound to my friends if I know they suffer the same way, and you may publish my letter if it will help any one, as I hope it will." — Miss Z. G. BLACKWELL, 2073 Osler Place, Regina, Sask.

If every girl who suffers as Miss Blackwell did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, sideache, dragging down pains, inflammation or ulceration, would only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial they would soon find relief from such suffering.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years' experience is at your service.

"Here Comes The Bride!"

Everybody wishes her well! Happy and radiant she starts out on life's adventure. She should have health to begin with. Good looks in woman do not depend upon age, but upon health. You never see a good-looking woman who is weak, run-down, irritable, out of sorts, fidgety and nervous. Headaches, backaches, and troubles of that sort are all destroyers of beauty. Men do not admire sickness. It is within the reach of every woman to be well, healthy and strong if she will take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
 TORONTO, ONT.—"Less than a year ago I was in a very poor state of health; my back ached dreadfully and I could scarcely drag myself around to do my housework. I started to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I cannot praise it too highly for the great benefit I received. My backache and pains disappeared entirely and I soon was restored to perfect health. I know that Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best woman's medicine, for I have tried others that were recommended, and nothing has ever helped me so much as the Favorite Prescription."—MRS. KATHLEEN WHILLANS, 13 Brookfield St.

CANADA'S EXPORTS OF BACON

Dominion to Offer Prizes for the Encouragement of Boys' and Girls' Pig Clubs.
 During recent years, and particularly during the war period Canada's export bacon trade developed very rapidly. This is proven by the fact that last year exports of bacon from the Dominion amounted in value to $34,000,000 and that our killings of hogs in eight years doubled in number, while those of Denmark and Ireland decreased considerably. With the return to normal conditions, vigorous efforts will have to be made in order to maintain this position. The Live Stock Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has entered upon a special campaign to stimulate the production of hogs of the bacon type. In co-operation with the provincial departments, an arrangement has been made to offer attractive prizes to members of boys' and girls' pig clubs who exhibit at local fairs, both for quality of product and ability in judging. Where such clubs do not exist, attempts at organization will be made. The idea is not only to stimulate and sustain production, but to circulate knowledge of actual market requirements and thus to create a standard type of bacon hog for the entire Dominion. When it is stated that the British market imports annually 500,000,000 pounds of bacon, understanding is possible of the value of the trade that is at stake. It is hardly necessary to suggest that the hearty co-operation of farmers and everyone interested is hoped for. Rules and regulations governing the competition may be obtained from the Dominion Live Stock Commissioner at Ottawa.

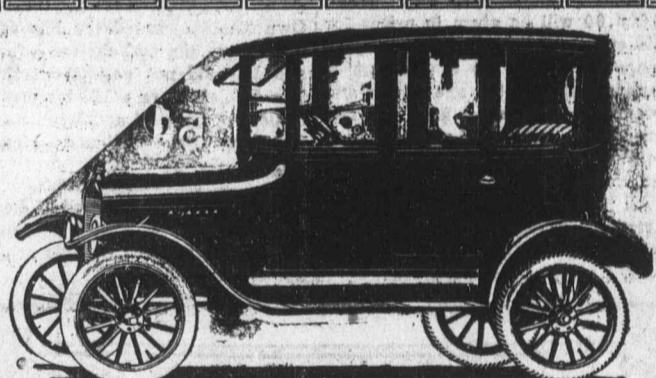

The Cow a Food Laboratory

 (National Crop Improvement Service.)
 How can we build a new breed of men without we start with the babies? It is impossible to improve our race unless we nourish our infants that they may develop both physically and mentally.
 The dairy cow is at the foundation of every industry. She is a most wonderful laboratory. She fills her stomach hopper with grain, grass and silage, then she lies down and by chewing her cud, converts this raw material into the most perfect food in the world.
 Doctor McCallum, of Johns Hopkins University, tells us that the "water soluble A" and the "fat soluble B," two mysterious somethings, are found in milk as nowhere else. Without these mysterious vitamins children will not grow, so milk-fed babies have the greatest possible advantage over the wolf-reared children raised without milk to drink.
 How are the slim babies fed? Black coffee, pickles, imitation jams and molasses are their bread, constitute the daily rations of thousands of our poor families in the cities.
 Without milk children languish, the vigor of the adult declines and the vitality of the human race runs low.
Early After-Harvest Cultivation.
 "A stitch in time saves nine." In the case of weeds prompt and thorough after-harvest cultivation prevents many thousands of weeds from developing seeds, and thus saves hours of tedious labor the succeeding season. Early after-harvest cultivation is one of the best ways to destroy annual and winter annual weeds, such as False Flax, Corn Cockerle, Wild Buckwheat, Pigweed, Ball Mustard, Wormseed Mustard and Annual Sow Thistle. Plough shallow, not more than three or four inches deep, immediately after harvest, and harrow and cultivate frequently. By the shallow ploughing the weed seeds are kept near the surface and by the frequent stirring of the soil they are made to sprout, and having sprouted they are easily destroyed by further cultivation.—Dr. C. A. Zavitz, O. A. College, Guelph.
 One and a half oz. of formalin in 15 1/2 oz. of water fed at the rate of one teaspoonful per pint of milk is a good remedy in the case of diarrhoea in calves.

THE FORD POWER PLANT

 THE first model T Ford engine was made in 1908. It was the perfected development of Henry Ford's motor inventions dating back sixteen years to 1892 when he built his first little one-cylinder motor.
 During that sixteen years Ford Cars were made in many models from little two-cylinder "chuggers" to big six-cylinder, high-priced cars.
 But in 1908 the crystallized results of all those years of experience and study was the model T, the Ford power plant of today.
 And since 1908, thirteen years of test under every condition of use in peace and war, in every nook and corner of the globe has shown not a single weakness nor a need of improvement, nor of additions to the power plant which drives half of all cars on earth.
 The wonderful durability and power of the Ford engine, its simplicity of operation and its economy in fuel and repairs, are reasons why the Ford car should be a good car for you to own.

THE WESTERN FAIR

London, Sept. 10th to 17th
The Management of London's Exhibition have mailed out thousands of Prize Lists, Hangers and Maps throughout Ontario. There are many attractive features in the Prize List this year. $6,000.00 in cash has been added to what was already a very liberal list. One of the new features this year is the boys' and girls' calf competition, which is creating considerable interest. $1000.00 will be given in prizes for this event alone. The boy or girl competing must be a resident of Canada, between the age of ten and seventeen. They must have fed and cared for their calf at least four months previous to the Exhibition and must show it themselves.

All information regarding any department of the Exhibition obtained by writing the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, General Offices, London.

CHOLERA INFANTUM

Cholera infantum is one of the fatal ailments of childhood. It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months, and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warding off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus prevent all the dreaded summer complaints. Concerning them Mrs. Fred Rose, of South Bay, Ont., says: "I feel Baby's Own Tablets saved the life of our baby when she had cholera infantum and I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Presbyterian Synod of London and Hamilton will hold a summer school for western Ontario at Alma College, St. Thomas.

ONE WORD COSTS THREE MILLION DOLLARS

"Please" is the three million dollar word. Used in telegrams alone it is estimated that it costs the peoples of the American continent three million dollars annually. Yet it is cheap at the price.

"Please" is to business what oil is to the automobile.

"Please" represents courtesy, without which no business can run smoothly, without which there is no service—for courtesy is the foundation of service.

CROPS IN THE WEST

Winnipeg, July 13.—Western Canada is within measurable distance of harvesting the best crop reaped since 1915, and the harvest will be early—very early in southern districts—according to the weekly crop review issued by The Grain Trade News today.

August 1 is the date mentioned by some correspondents for the commencement of wheat cutting in Manitoba.

Parts of Alberta were visited by torrential rains Tuesday afternoon and night. At Bow Island two and one-quarter inches of rain fell in 45 minutes. This is the heaviest rain in the history of that district. In the Medicine Hat district nearly one-half inch of rain fell during the past 24 hours.

Later reports of the hailstorm which struck southern Alberta Tuesday evening indicate that it was much wider in extent than first reports showed. The storm gathered in the foothills west of Claresholm, Nobleford, Coaldale and Chin districts, swinging south through Skiff, on the Lethbridge-Weyburn branch of the C.P.R. The storm varied in width from one to three miles and the loss of the crop in its path was nearly total.

The length of the storm path was approximately a hundred miles. All crops but two on the Canadian Pacific Railway and the VanHorne soldier colony north of Coaldale, in the irrigated belt, were wiped out. Chickens were killed by the force of the storm in some districts.

LIVING IN AUTOMOBILES

In Canada here automobile owners use their cars for dressing rooms when at the lakeside and want to go in bathing but in Paris, France, cars are being fitted up to serve as dwellings. While there are many drawbacks to the automobile as a permanent abiding place, yet considering the space which such cars occupy it is not strange that distracted persons in Paris are turning automobiles into dwellings. It has the appearance of a novel solution to the problem of scarcity of houses.

The interior arrangement of the new abiding place is unique. The automobile, fitted up with tiny living-room, bedroom, kitchenette and bathroom, is to be parked in an attractive suburban spot for the night. In the morning the housekeeping appliances are tucked out of sight and the car is used to carry the husband and wife into the city—so far no attempt has been made to make the automobile serve as dwelling place for a family with children. The husband goes to work and the wife to hers, or if she be a woman of leisure she spends the day in the shops and tea rooms or in visiting friends who are encumbered with the care of houses.

According to the report this arrangement is hailed with joy by the large number of young persons in Paris who wish to marry, but cannot do so because they can find no place to live.

GET THE CHEERFUL HABIT

Here's a little bit of genuine wisdom culled from ripe experience:

Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine. Learn how to tell a story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick-room. Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to care for your ills and sorrows. Learn to stop croaking. If you cannot see any good in the world keep the bad to yourself. Learn to hide your pains and aches under a pleasant smile. No one cares to hear whether you have an earache, headache or rheumatism. Don't cry. Tears are well enough in novels, but they are out of place in real life. Learn to meet your friends with a smile. The good-natured man or woman is always welcome, but the dyspeptic or hypochondriac is not wanted anywhere and he is a nuisance as well.

Fire completely destroyed the barns of Hector McLean, con. 6, Caradoc, at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mr. McLean was harvesting his hay crop and had just put in the last load when the barn was discovered to be on fire. How the fire started is a mystery. Mr. McLean lost practically all his farm machinery, hay crop, as well as his Ford automobile. His loss is partially covered by insurance.

While Albert Duncan of Detroit was motoring along the second line of Warwick his car skidded and turned over on its side in the ditch. Mrs. Duncan and daughter and Mr. Duncan's great-uncle, James Duncan of Corunna, who were riding in the car at the time were thrown out. Mr. Duncan suffered a fracture of the arm above the wrist and Mr. James Duncan who is 76 years of age was badly shaken up. The car was considerably damaged.

A singular accident happened in the blacksmith shop of M. Bailey, Winchester, by which William Link of Cass Bridge, lost a valuable horse, worth, it is claimed, more than $200. The horse, which was a highly excitable and nervous animal, was brought in to be shod. Above its head hung an electric wire for a light. The horse in its nervous state made a snap at the wire and caught it in its teeth, when it immediately fell to the floor, dead. There was no mark of burning about the horse's mouth.

An Hillsboro correspondent writes The following have moved into their summer cottages:—D. McCahill and family, W. H. Stinson and family, Jas. Lothead and family, and Rev. H. D. Cameron and family, all of Forest; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Howden and Dr. Howden and family of Watford; also Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and family of Watford. The following have also pitched tents on the camp ground, a number of girls of Forest, Vera and Ora Rawlings, Bessie Weir and Laura McPherson; Mr. and Mrs. McLean and son Billy of Watford, and Mr. Weeze and Don Livingston, of Forest.

Wm. McRae, teamster, a respectable and industrious citizen of Glenora, while at Port Stanley on July 1st, happened to get into a crowd where pickpockets were active and among a number of other men was accused by a Londoner who lost his purse containing some $60. Several arrests followed and among others Mr. McRae was taken in a summary manner by the police. It was not till after midnight that he was released and allowed to go on bail to the extent of $4,000 being given for his appearance to answer to the charge before the magistrate at St. Thomas.

Middlesex county fared badly in Sunday's downpour of rain. The deluge struck the district between Komoka and Hyde Park with all its fury. At sunset whole fields that on Saturday were alive with growing grain and cereals were wide wastes of water. Harvesting of wheat has commenced. The shocked stacks drifted seepily, with floating debris of all kinds, on the vast murky flood. The uncut grain and corn was beaten into the ground beneath the Niagara from the clouds. Acres of market garden produce were buried under its fall. Barns and farmhouses stood out like islands on the waters. Scores of trees were cut down or stripped of the branches, and were carried slowly away or stranded as the flood found a level. At some of the lower points the water centralized to a depth of over eight feet.
