BOYS DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING IN HUMBER AND ROUGE RIVERS; MANY CIRCUMSTANCES FROM HEAT

Edward Carter, Sixteen Years Old, Met in the Humber Because Canoeist Hesitated and Could Not Give Assistance—Clarence Clark, Aged Twelve, Sank While Playing in Water at Rosebank—Woman and Child Injured by Taxicab—Twelve Drownings in Three Weeks

Lack of life-saving appliances and the refusal of at least two boaters to assist in the rescue of drowning persons, were responsible for the loss of two more lives in the waters surrounding Toronto. The toll of deaths from drowning during the past three weeks is now twelve—six since Saturday. Yesterday one boy sank in the Humber river, when a man in a canoe could have saved him. Another youngster lost his life in the Rouge River at Rosebank.

In the case of the boy at the Humber the circumstances were identical with those under which Edward Vice, aged 25, who lived at the Hayden House, 1832 St. Clair avenue, was drowned at the fourth bend of the river on Monday night. Vice screamed for help. A man in a rowboat close to him, answered: "I can't help you. I've got a woman in this boat with me," then rowed down the river to a pavilion and told them a youth was drowning. When relief was sent the youth had disappeared.

Had there been a pulmotor handy at the Humber yesterday the lad who was drowned might have been saved. Because a man in a canoe hesitated about lending a helping hand to those who would have saved him, Edward Carter, aged 16, was drowned near the forks of the Humber river about 9:15 yesterday morning. Heroic work on the part of William Thomas would have effected a rescue had it not been for the timidities of the canoeist. The body was recovered from the water within twenty minutes of the accident, but artificial respiration, applied by Dr. Forbes Godfrey, failed to restore him.

Carter and William Thomas, who lives with his parents at 349 Royce avenue, set out early yesterday morning to get relief from the intense heat. The two decided to go for a swim. They started from the eastern bank of the river from West Toronto and undressed about one hundred yards south of the river forks (the 10th bend). After swimming for a few minutes Carter started for the opposite shore. He got out in the middle and suddenly thru up his hands and shouted. Thomas immediately suspected that his companion had taken a cramp. He plunged into the water and swam out to him. Thomas grabbed the youth around the waist and held him. But Carter was thoroughly frightened. He struggled fiercely. Both swimmers then sat up. The older man pulled Carter to the surface and called for help. Then they went under again. A man in a canoe came paddling up the stream. He became excited and on account of the stiff current was unable to get close enough to either man, and did not seem to know what to do. He should throw a paddle out or something of the kind. Thomas shouted to him to jump into the water and they could both get the youth. The canoeist then hesitated, and just then the current which was running down stream. By the time he fought back again the two in the water had disappeared. Thomas alone came to the surface.

Diving was commenced at once by swimmers in the vicinity and the body recovered about 9:35. Artificial respiration was commenced and Dr. Godfrey summoned. After working on the body for a little over an hour the doctor pronounced the boy dead. The body was removed to Norman Craig's undertaking parlors. An inquest opened last night and adjourned for a week.

DROWNED AT PICNIC.

Exhausted in his efforts while swimming in the Rouge River at Rosebank, about 16 miles east of Toronto, yesterday afternoon, Clarence Clark, aged 12, 113 Bellefair avenue, was drowned. No cries from the boy were heard and he was not missed until one of his playmates happened to mention his name.

The little Clark boy, in company with his elder brother, aged 14, and the two Prost brothers, about the same age, left his home early yesterday to go on a picnic at Rosebank. The heat was so intense that the little fellows decided to have a dip. They splashed about for some time and then began playing a game on the beach. It is thought the canoeist left the group for the purpose of having a little paddle by himself. The last the boys saw of him he was wading near shore. He evidently started to swim out farther and became so exhausted by the heat and his efforts that he sank without shouting for help.

RESCUED AT LONG BRANCH.

There is a little boy in Toronto who owes his life to George Whitworth, a brave young man living on Queen st. Whitworth this lad would have been drowned in the waters of the lake at Long Branch Park late yesterday afternoon. The man went to his rescue when others had desisted left the vicinity, fearing to see the body floating in the water.

Whitworth had gone to Long Branch to fish. He took up a position near the end of the wharf and dropped his book there. About 5 o'clock several little boys came running out on the wharf. One of them led the rest. There was an opening in the wharf, apparently to the tall person, but which could not be seen by the boy.

Right toward the opening he rushed and before a restraining hand could be put out he had fallen thru. The nearest man did not offer to jump in but the boys ran to land, shouting. Whitworth was some distance away. He went to the scene with his fishing pole. He placed this on the opening for the lad to grasp. It was too short. Again he tried, but failed. The boy then again came up, came up and sank out of sight again.

As the lad went under the third

PASSING CLOUDS OVER COCHRANE SAYS DUKE

Dominion Has Reason to Look Forward to Steady Progress His Royal Highness Declares at Notable Banquet—Duchess Will Accompany Him in Fall.

LONDON, July 1.—(C. A. P.)—Five hundred Canadians attended tonight's Dominion Day dinner, Lord Strathcona presiding. The Duke of Connaught was the chief guest. Other guests were the Japanese ambassador, Hon. Lewis Harcourt, colonial secretary; Earl Grey, Earl Aberdeen, Rt. Hon. William Seeley, minister of war; Hon. A. L. Sifton, and nearly every leading Canadian here.

In proposing the toast of the Dominion, Lord Strathcona alluded to the pride and gratification with which Canadians had received the news of the Duke of Connaught's extension of office.

The duke had a magnificent reception in rising to respond, and in thanking the chairman for the remarks regarding the duchess, the duke said: "I am very pleased to say that she is making splendid recovery and looks forward to accompanying me back to Canada in the autumn."

"Gentlemen," continued the royal highness, "I feel most desirous to be asked to accept an extension of my term another year. I think all of you will be aware, such an offer, made me by the King thru the secretary of state, was most highly appreciated by me. I have had the honor of being governor-general for nearly two years, and during that time I have learned more and more to take the deepest interest in everything regarding Canada.

"I am not going to weary you with statistics such as the chairman has given you, but no one rejoices more than I do in such a statement. Canada's prosperity is such that you must all feel the greatest confidence in the future prosperity of the Dominion. During the time that I have held office, Canada's advance has been most remarkable. There is no temporary depression passing over Canada, but those are the things which happen to every country, and I feel certain that the future of Canada is on a sound basis and has every reason to look forward to a steady advance in prosperity and population.

"I am afraid that in England they are beginning to get a little nervous over the immense number of emigrants going to Canada, but they must remember this: that also they may be leaving these shores, they are not at the Canada. I wish to see that they hope to be as great an asset to the empire in Canada as in the United Kingdom.

"The duke, continuing alluded to the large number of present emigrants, mentioning by name the Japanese ambassador, the high commissioner of New Zealand, Earl Grey and Earl Aberdeen, two predecessors in his own office, and the premier of Alberta, Mutual Sympathy.

"When I look around on this occasion," continued the duke, "we are one and all interested in the empire, as we are interested in Canada, and the more we are in sympathy with one another the more it will strengthen the Empire (cheers). "I little thought when I was at the Canada Club dinner two months ago, I should still be in England, but my enforced absence, I hope, will not lose me sympathy and affection of Canadians, and I look forward on my return to the same support and the same sympathy I have met with during the past two years, and I can assure you that during the next years, my interest will not flag; it will be even greater to show how highly I appreciate the manner in which they have always met me on all occasions, and I will try to show how much I value their friendship and their kindness, which, I hope, will not cease when at last I leave the Dominion." (Cheers).

Colonial Secretary Harcourt read a telegram received from the acting governor of Canada: "The prime minister desires me to say his government and the people of Canada have learned with the greatest pleasure, that Field Marshal His Highness, the Duke of Connaught has consented to accept for a one year extension.

"His term of office as governor-general has been already fruitful of the best results to Canada, and all rejoice to hear her royal highness may be seen with him in full enjoyment of her health." (Cheers).

NORTHERN FOREST FIRES SPREAD UNTIL BUSH IS ROARING FURNACE THREATENING TOWNS ON T. & N. O.

Prince Albert Sails

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 1.—(Can. Press.)—With Prince Albert, second son of King George of England, aboard, H.M.S. Cumberland will sail from St. John's at daylight tomorrow. The visit of the young prince closes with a garden party at government house this afternoon. Four hundred guests attended, including cabinet ministers, judges and other dignitaries.

ASQUITH STORY AGAIN REVIVED

Rumor That He Will Retire Soon, But The World Correspondent Says Not.

Special Cable to The World. Copyrighted by The Toronto World and N. Y. World. LONDON, July 1.—In usually well informed political circles, the report is revived today that Premier Asquith is planning to retire very shortly, the explanation being he is tired and the expansion after seven unusually strenuous years in office. According to the same story, he will be succeeded by Sir Edward Grey. The source from which this report now proceeds, is so authoritative it might be accepted as true, but for the fact The World is aware Asquith quite recently declared privately he had no intention of retiring until the home rule bill is law. His retirement now would necessarily weaken the government, for his personal position was never stronger.

On the T. & N. O. trains going south, express vans are full of trunks containing valuables sent out by men and women who are staying behind to fight the flames. Others are hastily burying their treasures. There is no knowledge of loss of life, and probably may not be, for pioneers, wiser than two years ago, are fleeing before the holocaust to lakes and rivers and other places of safety.

But the loss will be enormous. All lines are down north of Earlington, where it is reported fourteen families are homeless, and there is no communication except by the T. & N. O. trains as they come thru. Fugitives are beginning to come south bereft of all they possess and disconsolate, tired with long hours of fighting the flames.

Blackened with smoke and flames at Thornloe, a small station near Earlington two heroic women were directing a small hose against the encroaching blaze, their men folk all away defending other vulnerable points. Rumors thicken every minute.

ANXIOUS WOMEN ASK FOR PASSES

They Want to Hear the Evidence in Breach of Promise Action in London Today.

Special Cable to The World. Copyrighted by The Toronto World and N. Y. World. LONDON, July 1.—In the breach of promise suit brought by the actress, Daisy Marchant, against the Marquis of Northampton, which will be opened tomorrow, the Marquis has paid $50,000 into court in satisfaction of damages. The plaintiff considers this insufficient and is proceeding with the suit, but if the jury should give her a verdict with damages, even one farthing less than $50,000, she will be condemned to pay all the defendant's costs since the date of lodging the money in court. Evidence will show the plaintiff passed considerable time in Morocco, in the suite of Kaid McLean. The suit is awarded with great interest and the judge is overwhelmed as usual with appeals for passes from fashionable women.

FELL FROM A CAR.

As the Lambton suburban car was traveling east on Dundas street past Runnymede road about three o'clock yesterday afternoon, John Owens, a passenger seated at the end of a seat lost his balance and fell from the car to the road, striking and rebounding from the steps as he fell. For a short time he was unconscious, but before the arrival of Dr. Gilmour he regained consciousness and was taken to his home at 712 Indian road in Speers' private ambulance. His injuries proved to be not serious, but included many severe bruises and cuts.

LOST LIFE IN WELLDAN CANAL.

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., July 1.—Ralph Croasde of Humberstone, 17 years of age, was drowned this morning while swimming in the Welland Canal between Port Colborne and Humberstone. His body was recovered a short time afterwards.

SUMMER HATS ON BARGAIN COUNTER.

Dineens announce a clearing sale of all summer hats, straws and Panamas. It is mid-summer, but like the busy furriers they are, Dineens are clearing decks for action in the fur department. Room must be found for a large stock of skins and pelts, and a general cleanup made for this important end of their business.

Read the hat prices featured in Dineens' advertisement on another page of The World. The bargains are $200 inc. Dineens—140 Yonge street, Corner Temperance.

Flames Have Reached the Outskirts of Many Towns and the Wind Is Gaining in Velocity—Fugitives Have Started South, While Pioneers Are Taking Refuge at Lakes and Rivers—Rain Fell at Cochrane Just As Everyone Had Given Up All Hope.

COBALT, July 1.—(Special.)—The whole of Timiskaming is ablaze with forest fires, and every bush town north of New Liskeard is in danger. All along the T. & N. O. from Uno Park to Cochrane, along the Transcontinental east to Bell River and West to Hearst, the bush is a roaring fiery furnace, and fanned by a high wind may engulf the towns at any time. The inhabitants gave up all idea of the celebration of confederation and are fighting for their property and even their lives. For two days tired men have carried water and run to and fro in smoke and sweltering heat. Even around the settled towns of Cobalt, New Liskeard and Haileybury wood smoke makes the air acrid and Dominion Day crowds are covered with ashes. Pillars of smoke lower in air along the horizon and as the breeze strengthens, great waves of flame redden the heavens.

thick of the fight and it was a remarkable and stirring thing the way the men battled with them. Professional men, laborers and everyone who could lend a hand, joined in the fight, but at 2.30 many gave up hope. Those who went thru the terrible experience of the 1911 fire, said the town was doomed. The heat and smoke became so intense that they were driving the men back foot by foot. People in the town were requested to give up using the hose and buckets so that every ounce of pressure might be obtained to keep the bush in check, altho it was realized by one and all that the burning of any of the frame buildings in the west of the town would likely have resulted in a repetition of 1911.

Even with people responding to this appeal, foot by foot the fire forced the men back and preparations were being made to practically abandon fighting the fire at close range, when a storm came across the skies from the south and rain began to fall in torrents. Altho the rain lasted only about ten minutes, it was so heavy that it put a damper on the fire and cleared the smoke-filled atmosphere.

Nothing but the seemingly miraculous rain saved the northern railway hub from destruction. Notwithstanding that there are more clearings than two years ago, and that the business section is built up with more brick structures than then, the outskirts are still of frame and would have proved but kindling wood for the fire. The changing of the wind, coupled with the valiant efforts of the fire fighters, saved several buildings until the rain came. As a last hope, McDougall & McCuskey, the contractors who are diverting the main line of the T. & N. O. to the new union station, in the heart of the town, packed up a steam shovel they had at work with a gang of men and were going to attempt to cut a ditch between the bush and the west end of the town. Just as their shovel reached the end of the steel, the rain commenced. It was followed by a cessation of the wind, but no chances were taken and men, without a thought of food, and many parched and with their eyes seared from the clouds of smoke which were rolling up from the blazing underbrush, stumps and bush, stuck gamely to their task and continued pouring streams of water on the fire they could reach and the ground about. The wind died down until 5 o'clock, but then it started blowing at a velocity of 23 miles an hour, and the smoke commenced to float over the town for the second time, but the rain and thousands of gallons of water which had been poured from the streams, conquered the bush. It was as great a battle as was ever given a bush fire, and in the excitement many endured great suffering in the heat and smoke.

Many touching scenes and incidents took place in the west end of Cochrane, which is quartered principally by foreigners. Immigrant women, who, in some cases, were witnessing their first bush fire, stood with faces and infants in their arms along the streets, while others hurried to and fro packing furniture and trying to save their household effects. Considerable furniture and other things were moved to other parts of the town, and one Henry, a teamster, removed everything in his home but a stove to the T. & N. O. station, and was prepared to load it in a box car. Thru the central section business men kept employees at work drenching the roofs and preparing to save whatever they could. Work jewelry were stored in any vault that could be obtained, and along Railroad street a couple of merchants had goods cased and, in one instance, moved out of a store. A few frantic individuals began a small rush on the banks when the fire looked at its worst, about 2 o'clock, but it did not amount to much. At 4 o'clock, altho the town was out of danger, it was decided to keep 20 men on the scene with a hose. The wind was low thru the night, but it was late in the morning before many ventured to retire.

HARD STRUGGLE AT SOUTH PORCUPINE. SOUTH PORCUPINE, July 1.—(Special).—Where the fire broke out in the Porcupine camp the bush was about one mile and a half from the town of South Porcupine. There were nearly 600 cords of wood cut and piled on the Foley-O'Brien property, and much of this was fuel for the fire. The miners and townspeople turned out to man and they had almost as hard a struggle as the people of Cochrane went thru to keep the fire back. The dying wind was what many say saved the south end. The fire burned in places all night, and was still going on Tuesday, and with the heavy wind which blew all day, made it rather dangerous. While the smoke of the fire cut off communication west of Cochrane a raging fire swept along the Metarami and reached the town of Jacksonboro, where the New Ontario Colonization Company has a clearing of several hundred acres. The train from Hearst came thru about a clock, and at that time it looked as if Jacksonboro was safe, altho small fires were burning in many places along the line.

HUNDRED THOUSAND LOGS BURNED. Later word reached Cochrane that the big sawmill at Jacksonboro had been burnt down, but this could not be confirmed. On Monday evening, however, Chief Fire Ranger Stewart learned that 100,000 logs owned by the company had been burnt. These were nearly the entire amount of a year's slash, and were ready for cutting and dressing in the mill. While the official amount of the loss will not be known until communication with Jacksonboro is established, or until people get into the town on Tuesday's train for the west, it will be big and will undoubtedly greatly reduce the capacity of the mill for some time to come.

THE TOWN OF HEARST HAD NARROW ESCAPE. The Town of Hearst, 132 miles west on the Transcontinental, was surrounded by bush and on Sunday fire broke out in several places. As there is not a brick building in the town, and as yet no water supply, the people were powerless to do anything, but fortunately there was no wind, and the fire was confined to the bush. Fires are also said to be raging for miles west of Hearst. In fact, from nearly anywhere along the western division of the Transcontinental clouds of smoke can be seen at a distance. It is not thought any serious losses will be sustained by settlers in this section tho they have nearly all squatted near the steel where it is pretty well cleared. Considerable anxiety is felt in Cochrane for settlers in the vicinity of the Labelle Lake, where there are a number clearing land. The buildings, however, are mostly frame shacks, but many of the pioneers have everything they possess in the way of household effects and farming implements on their property and the loss, if the fire has reached them, will be felt keenly. Some definite information will probably be obtained from them at any moment.

FAMILIES HOMELESS AT EARLTON. EARLTON, July 1.—(Special).—Later details of the fire at Earlton place the loss at $20,000 to $25,000. The destroyed property includes the Methodist Church and parsonage, Robert Kerr's hotel, a boarding-house, the T. & N. O. Station and Lafleur's Lumber and Planing Mill. There were also a dozen or so smaller residence destroyed and 14 families are homeless. The fire started to save his belongings by transferring them to a car, but it and three others were burned to the trucks as they stood on the tracks. The town is still enveloped in smoke and flames. Thornloe, the settlement immediately south of Earlton, appears to be doomed. It has been in a state of utter panic for two days with fires burning all around. Yesterday a sudden twist in the wind saved it from annihilation. Nothing but a heavy downpour of rain can save the town, as there is a lumber mill here with thousands of feet of lumber and telegraph poles. At Charlton a lumber mill has been burned, 90,000 feet of lumber destroyed and eight families rendered homeless. The fire is still raging. At Elk Lake bush fires have been causing anxiety all day, and the whole population has turned out to fight them. Tonight the wind has dropped and further danger is probably over till the dawn breeze. Then the weary and hopeless battle will be resumed all over the north until rain brings salvation.

SCOTSMEN DECYR COATLESS GOLF. LONDON, Ju.—A forerunner of the silly season is the discussion in the newspapers here as to the etiquette of playing golf in shirt sleeves. No Scotsman ever plays the ancient and honorable game except in a coat or Norfolk jacket, most of which garments have a sort of pleat or vent over the shoulders blades to give free play to the shoulders. The letters in the papers are deadly serious, most of them lamenting the American innovation of playing in sweaters or shirt sleeves. The American amateur champion, Travis, usually plays in a sweater, while Travers prefers to be correct and never dons his jacket. It is felt by Scotsmen and other enthusiasts here that the American innovation of shirt sleeves will un-determine the best traditions of the game. According to the sartorial ethics of the links, a man may play in the oldest and raggedest coat, the most disreputable headgear and the roughest sort of shoes, but to uncover a clean shirt on the sultriest day is deemed as a fatal breach of etiquette. It is explained that golf is supposed to be a leisurely game of dignity, violent exertion being quite unnecessary, and that appearing in shirt sleeves is out of keeping with its character and therefore bad form. Defenders of the shirt sleeves point out that Norfolk jackets are all very well for bleak Scotch links and English high hills, but that it is absurd to expect golfers in more favored climates to play coated in the blazing sun for the sake of etiquette. Evelyn Thaw, wife of Harry Thaw, who was very much in the limelight a few years ago when he shot Stanford White, will shortly appear on the stage in London at a huge salary.

BOOK REVIEWS

BY CHESTER FIELD

Religious Beliefs of Scientists

This work contains more than one hundred letters, nearly all received by the compiler in his efforts to establish the truth or falsity of certain assertions made by freethinkers, agnostics, and other opponents of religion, whose assertions are to the effect that religion and science are diametrically antagonistic to each other, and that men of science are, and must necessarily be, irreligious and anti-Christian. The following short letters may be of interest. Prof. R. Ramsay Wright of the University of Toronto, says: "In my opinion there is no real conflict between the facts of science and the essential teachings of Christianity, and eminent men of science to find no conflict of religion and science." Prof. Gerald Leighton of Edinburgh says: "The trend of scientific thought today is towards the establishment of what might be called a scientific Christianity, a tendency to bring into close relationship the truths of both science and Christianity, rather than the contrary." Letters from the well-known chemists, physicists, geologists, botanists, astronomers, etc., are brought forth all refuting the assertion that religion and science are antagonistic.

Historical Ballad Poetry of Ireland

Irish anthologies, we believe, are more numerous than individual collections of the work of Irish poets. The result is to keep Irish poetic taste at a high-water mark in point of workmanship, tho there may be a tendency on the part of editors to partisan selection in point of sentiment. In M. J. Brown's "Historical Ballad Poetry of Ireland," the aim has been to fulfil Thomas Davis' idea of making Irish history familiar to the minds, pleasant to the ears, dear to the passions, and powerful over the taste and conduct of the Irish people in times to come. English patriotic anthologies abound, but they rarely include Irish historical events. In fact, Irish history does not exist for the average English reader. Mr. Brown states that it has been his aim to show, in a practical, political or otherwise, and if the collection is mainly from one point of view it is, he says, because the poets have not achieved sufficient literary value in their work. At any rate, outside Colonel Blacker's "Battle of the Boyne," and Charlotte Elizabeth's "The Maiden Chain," the selection will find little sympathy in the collection. Sir Samuel Ferguson is not represented. Audrey De Vere properly furnishes the largest number of ballads, having 18, and Thomas Moore next with half as many. Eight from Thomas Davis, seven from P. J. McCall, six from Ethna Carbery, five from James Clapton, and four each from Denis Florence McCarthy and Thomas D'Arcy McGee provide the bulk of the book, and there are a couple of dozen other writers. The volume bears no trace of the influence of what has been called the Celtic revival, but is full of the "old, far-off" and "discolored" ballads of long ago, which see the life in the heart of the Irish people and fill them with blither memories. The book is handsomely produced by Longmans, Green & Co., the Toronto Publishers, Co. of Montreal being Canadian agents. A. E. S. S.

The Lost Mameluke

The scene of "The Lost Mameluke" is set in Egypt in the closing years of the Mameluke ascendancy. For five hundred years youths from the mountains had flowed into this country to replace the great gaps in the Mameluke ranks. The story was a curious one; the lads were kidnapped and brought into the country where they were purchased by a bey who brought them up in his own house, educated them in his own way, and then gave them their freedom. So stern were the days of Mameluke supremacy that not even the son of the Sheikh of Belled could be placed in a position of prominence unless he had once been a slave. The central figure in the story is a young English adventurer who, for material purposes, had adopted the Mohammedan religion. He had been brought up in a haphazard way and then turned out to earn his living. After six years' service he had attained the rank of a non-commissioned officer, and, wearying of this, had purchased his discharge. In India he had replaced the British more than once, and he wanted, went with a detachment to Egypt. In Suez he married. He had been a soldier, but he had not been a soldier in a haphazard way and then turned out to earn his living. Procession Three Miles Long Followed Early Morning Judging in Queen's Park—Interest in Big Holiday Event Unabated as Shown by Crowds and Entries.

What is like unto the horse and what can stand before him in all his glory? The Good Book points out that he is a creature of awe when his snuffletts the battle from afar, and singeth ha-ha among the trumpets. But yesterday on the occasion of the annual horse parade, he was a thing of splendor, and thousands of admiring Torontonians turned out to worship in his train.

Seldom, indeed, has an aggregation of more beautiful animals been witnessed under happier circumstances in the city. All morning the leafy avenues of Queen's Park rang with the neigh of spirited equines, and the sun flashed brilliantly upon the red wagons, silver mountings and gay trappings and the equipages whirling about under the judge's whip.

From 7 o'clock in the early morning local residents heard the low thunder of rolling wagons and the beat of hoofs as ambitious teamsters hurried to the ground to seek advantageous sites. The judging followed at the stroke of 9, and was completed with expedition.

Highbred and Heavy Draught. Round and round, in great circles, traveled the exhibits. Carriage high-bred trotters, and the equines cart-horses, with hides shining like oiled silk, and flaring Bulgarian ribbons swaying their tails, pranced kitchenedly about, dragging huge vans after them, like so many phantoms. Up on the seats the red-faced drivers, clad in loosest negliges, smiles in careless pride at the holiday antics of workaday Tom and Maud, and merited the prize to their own satisfaction at least, whether or not to the judges.

The parade began and wagon, wattle, brougham or sulky, rattled into line and off thru the downtown streets. Like a huge serpent it wound away out of the park and its length was three miles. Had all the entries joined in the procession it would have been much greater, but many of the drivers, perhaps more of the disappointed ones, argued that a good road is how his eyes glistened with pride at the splendid showing of the civic department.

With a few words of eulogy on the success of the day and the hope that succeeding years might see it grow greater, the mayor concluded the affair and the band broke into popular strains as the crowd dissolved.

FROM PATENT FOODS TO MILK

To change the food of a delicate infant requires infinite care, conservative judgment and some courage.

There are babies in this city making a brave effort to be all that a baby should be on the most unsatisfactory food.

Babies who do well on any kind of patent food are going to do ever so much better on milk.

Very careful observation is necessary to know when a baby's food may be safely changed.

For general use, however, plain, whole, fresh, cow's milk mixed with water and sugar answers all the requirements of a good food until seven or eight months...

Dip the flowers in melted paraffin, withdrawing them quickly. The liquid should only be hot enough to melt the wax...

Mending Day "MISTRESS of herself the China fall" is a pretty sounding phrase, but it conveys to anyone's mind a picture the opposite of what is intended.

Begin with the broken china. Wash it very clean and dry thoroughly. Cover a table with clean white paper and sit down to it in a good light.

For very fragile china and delicate porcelains use white of egg and plaster of paris. Sift the plaster three times and then tie a little of it in a piece of coarse netting.

Articles that are broken so they cannot possibly stand alone will need a sand box. Fill a conveniently sized box with coarse, clean sand.

Now for the glassware. Almost everyone has some precious cut glass that has been broken but is still kept for association's sake.

It takes on a more or less cone shape, very striking.

SEEK DEATH TO ESCAPE REBELS

Forty Women in Durango Driven to Desperation by Insurrectos' Treatment.

MEXICO CITY, July 1.—(Canadian Press.)—Forty women residents, most of them of the better class, have committed suicide in the City of Durango since its occupation last week by the rebels after a long siege, according to a private letter received here from that city today.

Consular advices say that the rebels who entered Durango conducted themselves like bandits, burning a large portion of the business section of the city after looting it and joining in the wildest excesses. The report says that foreign citizens were not respected.

Private advices from other sources say that a group of German women in Durango were forced to submit to indignities from the rebel adherents.

The Mexican Government is preparing a column of troops to march to the relief of the city, but many days must pass before its arrival there. In the meantime it is assumed here that the occupation of Durango by the rebels has done nothing toward relieving the famine-like conditions prevailing there except perhaps that fresh supplies of beef have been taken in.

NEW YORK, July 1.—(Can. Press.)—Beginning today the weight of the carat, heretofore at slight variety in various trade circles, will be internationally standardized at two hundred milligrams for weighing all kinds of gems and precious stones.

THE GARDEN SERIAL STORY

RAGGS' WEEKLY LETTER

Squeedunk, Can., June 27. My Dear Toronto-Onters: When a "galley slave of mammon" forgets her slavery; and lustily, sledge-like, heart and soul, tooth and nail, hammer and tong, by the sweat of her brow, and to the best of her muscular ability, "heweth wood and draweth water" in a cottage by the side of a little blue lake, said "galley slave" grows so fat that she bursts through her vestments at the seams!

Did you ever get up at half-past six and hike out to the back yard with a basket, to pick up chips, then visit the wood-pile and return to the kitchen, staggering under half-a-dozen logs of wood, the chip basket suspended from your little finger?

There's an enormous satisfaction in building a fire, I think. I love burning things—especially SOME things. You should have seen the bonfire I made the other day in the garden—burned my old rags for a mannikin which had just returned from its travels for the sixth time. The flames looked so hungry for that poor old story that, just to be spiteful, I burned the rejection slip instead!

Did you ever roll up your elbow sleeves and wash a lot of three-year-old's dresses, and petticoats, and towels, and hang the cunning things out on the line in the warm sunshine and cool breeze?

Did you ever mix up a pan of hot biscuits for breakfast—for the first time in six, or maybe, eight, years—and fry eggs, with thin slices of bacon and all the abandon of your lost youth?

Oh, it's grand to have a four-barrel and a wash-tub right at your elbow, instead of a desk and a tick-tick typewriter!

It Must Be! Did you ever make a cake of butter, sugar, flour, eggs, milk, baking-powder and reminiscences? It's the grandest cake that ever happened! One enjoys the making even more than the eating. This is what we stirred into a "sunshine cake" this morning:

Friend Hostess: "Will you ever forget that morning six years ago when you and Minnie and I dashed thru the New York streets in the pouring rain, looking for a flat—with one umbrella between us?"

Raggs: "Sure—you were in the middle, and Minnie had on the raincoat."

Friend Hostess: "You had no kick coming—you wore the rubbers."

Raggs: "Golly, we had the time of our lives that winter—member the house warming?"

F. H.: "And the butter we borrowed from H. L., and how he drank all the wine instead of mixing it in the punch?"

R.: "Wonder where all that bunch has disappeared to now—the Pavlovshams are playing in Shakspeare somewhere. Avery Hopwood has made his fortune out of "Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow." Bayard Veller has struck a gold mine in "Within the Law," and the best beloved Percy Haswell is teaching the youthful heart of Toronto to lose itself.

F. H.: "Bless her heart! Is she as sweet as ever? I'd give a good deal to see her give one of her beautiful performances again, and then hike behind the scenes for a large hug!"

R.: "So would lots of people."

F. H.: "Do you remember when I tried for the Athletic Girl part in 'The College Widow' and wore your Panama hat that was too small for me, and Minnie's white canvas shoes, that were too large?"

R.: "And carried a tennis racket to look 'real sporty' and 'athletic,' with some fool idea of murmuring; 'On my way to a little game uptown?'"

F. H.: "And will I ever forget the 'On your way' that was handed to me by Henry W. Savage, the old stiff?"

R.: "Cut out the slang, old sport; remember you're a wife and mother, and no longer an actor-girl, with a natural antipathy to English-as-she-should-be-spoken!"

F. H.: "Oh! those were the good old days. Not much did we think, when we stored our stuff that spring, that Minnie would go abroad to study the next year, and you to California?"

R.: "And that Fate would shuffle the cards some more, deal you a king of hearts?"

F. H.: "And that I'd marry it!"

Babe Joan: "Doggone it!"

F. H.: "Doggone it!"

and blood to demand her protection), to lavish it upon the world in general, and, in particular, the human nearest at hand who had a need of her.

Then the big friendships of big women are, perhaps, the highest expression of that protective tenderness toward the weaker of her kind, which is an instinct common to human and animal alike.

It is a great and good thing for humanity when a woman, spiritually and mentally the superior of us weaker mortals, is sent into the sad world to manifest an example of the love for human beings, which asks only to be permitted to give.

A Baseball Game. We had a ball game in Squeedunk, Thursday, the Counter Jumpers had the Pen Pushers slinging ink early in the game, but they were soon thoroughly kalsomined that their own best girls couldn't tell 'em apart! There were few female fans on the grounds, and they all seemed to be there for the express purpose of yelling encouragement to one "Joe," a baby-faced bank junior, who reminded me of my dear young friend, Kewpie, the Wattler.

Joe pitches grand! He never stopped grinning! At one exciting point in the game the bases were full, and the man at the bat struck a home run! I thought he'd have to relinquish that smile, but his "I should-worry" expression never changed!

Joe wasn't much use to the Pen Pushers when he went to bat. He wasn't what you call a "batter," I imagine, however, that he'd play a fine game of cricket, or chop down trees with the best of them. Perhaps it wasn't all his fault, maybe he got kinder rattled at the encouragement of the girls, and an old man who yelled, "Fob!"

There was one batter among the Counter Jumpers who had what I call "style." His "Battling Nelson" crouch gave the impression that he was going to hit the ball an uppercut that would knock it into the middle of next week.

He fanned. Yours, Raggs.

CANADIAN ORGANISTS MEET IN SEPTEMBER

Arrangements Have Been Made For National Gathering in Toronto.

The annual meetings in connection with the Guild of Organists will be held in Toronto on Sept. 12 and 13 under the presidency of Dr. Albert Ham, F.R.C.O. Short papers on topics of interest to organists generally will be read at the conference by prominent Canadian organists. A garden party and banquet will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 10.

On Thursday evening, Sept. 11, a guild service and recital will be held in the Church of the Redeemer, at which the Reverend Archdeacon Cody will give an address. The musical arrangements will be under the direction of Mr. Otto James, A.R.C.O.

Representatives are expected from Winnipeg, Calgary, Montreal, Ottawa, London, Hamilton, Brantford, Halifax, Truro and other important cities of the Dominion.

TAFT AT MURRAY BAY FOR SUMMER'S GOLF

"Big Bill" Has Since Comparatively Thin Since Leaving Washington.

NEW YORK, July 1.—(Can. Press.)—William Howard Taft, Mrs. Taft and two of their children, Miss Helen Taft and Charles Taft, left here last night for Murray Bay, 30 miles north of Quebec the former president and family will spend the summer at the Grand Central Station three porters almost staggered under a weight of golf sticks.

The ex-president has lost perceptibly so much weight that he passed almost unrecognized in the throng at the train gates. It is said that he had dropped forty pounds.

NO OTHER WAY

By GORDON HOLMES

She was quite certain that she could never have drawn this later Claude Waverton into her toils, and, for that very reason, she would never have tried to achieve the impossible task.

It was inconceivable that a rap on the head could convert a profligate into a man of fine instincts, a rascal into a quiet-mannered gentleman, a brainless scoundrel into an individual of such strength that it dominated men like the district attorney, the coroner and those preternaturally alert and sharp-eyed detectives.

Granted even that these marvels might be accomplished, or did they account for the undoubted fact that Claude Waverton, the gambler and drunkard, spoke Spanish so badly that he was barely able to stammer thru an order to a peon of a transaction in a store; whereas his "double" was thoroughly proficient in the language. Moreover, he himself was aware of this astonishing thing was possible.

Who was he, then? How had he attained such close knowledge of Waverton's history and associates as to step coolly into his shoes? Was the man supposed to have been killed on the Boynton road? Was it possible that she could have been mistaken in his identity? She saw now that this astonishing thing was possible.

PATTERN SERVICE NEWS FOR WOMEN

THE TRIPLE TIE

By A. H. C. MITCHELL

Not as it is the intention to chronicle all that took place between Gordon Kelly and Mildred Deary, that young woman remained in blissful ignorance of her young man's occupation. He could not mention a thing, however, to her. Mildred was at that particular age in a young woman's career when she had not yet learned to read the newspapers. The news of the day for her consisted of the social activities of her friends, and she would read the news of the world that she and her friends would care to talk about. As far as her father was concerned, his newspaper reading was confined almost wholly to the financial pages, with just enough general news to keep him informed on the topics of the day. He passed over the sporting pages of the newspapers without even glancing at them. It was so engrossed in his business affairs that he had no time for play. And so it was that no member of the family was aware of Gordon Kelly's connection with baseball.

But the family were soon to know and the knowledge of it, rather, the circumstance connected with it, came as a distinct shock to at least one member of the household.

Who will ever forget the baseball excitement, since all admit that settled the case, and which was the first time that the name of Gordon Kelly was mentioned in connection with the game of the southern states. Daily Fashion Talks BY MAY MANTON. A DAINTY SUMMER FROCK. NOTHING is prettier for summer wear than the lingerie frock lace trimmed. It is always dainty and attractive and it comes forth from the cleansing in perfect condition. This one shows the trimming arranged in a quite novel manner and, while it seems especially well adapted to lingerie materials, it can be made from crepe de chine, India silk, challis or any simple material of the kind. For immediate need, the round neck and the short sleeves are both pretty and comfortable but the back view shows the same frock with a yoke and long sleeves so that it can be adapted to all needs. The skirt is straight and the blouse is a simple one but the tucks are arranged in groups and the trimming is applied between them and on curved lines that give a very distinctive effect. For the dancing party and occasions of the kind, chiffon would be pretty with shadow lace and insertion. For the afternoon summer frock, the treatment illustrated is charming with fine lawn, voile or cotton crepe used as the foundation. For the dress designed for the cool afternoons and evenings that will come even in mid-summer, challis would be pretty with Cluny lace as trimming. For the 12 year size, the dress will require 5 yards of material. 27 3/4 yards 36 1/2 yards 44 inches wide, with 18 yards of banding, 7 1/2 yards of edging and 3/4 yard 18 inches wide for the yoke. DESIGN BY MAY MANTON. 7854 Girl's Tucked Dress, 10 to 14 years. Dress 7968 is cut in sizes for girls from 10 to 14 years of age. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of 15 cents. Name: Address:

Have a cool air shower bath. TO-NIGHT when you go home put on your slippers, pull up the "Mawruss" chair alongside the table, and start the Electric Fan. Currents of brisk, bracing air will roll over you in waves of delightful coolness; the oppressive heat will vanish; the grouch will disappear, and serene good nature and cool comfort will make your evening as enjoyable as a first-row seat on a lakeshore bench at the Island. Sunbaths are all right for the cooler months, but for a real cooling, steaming hot day there's nothing can beat the feeling of exhilarating coolness brought by the breeze of an Electric Fan. It's the cool-air showerbath that sustains you against the enervating effects of the heat. A complete line of Electric Fans in various types and sizes are displayed in our showrooms. Come in and see them to day. Toronto Electric Fans can be attached to any ordinary lighting socket and can be operated for the almost invisible cost of less than one-fifth cent per hour—so small "you cannot find it in the bill." RHEUMATISM KEPT HIM IN BED. Suffered Tortures Until "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him. McClellan's Corner, Ont., Sept. 30th, 1910. "Your remedy, 'Fruit-a-tives' is a perfect panacea for Rheumatism. For years, I suffered distressing pain from Sciatic or Sciatic Rheumatism, being laid up several times a year for days at a time. I went to different doctors, who told me there was no use doing anything—it would pass away. They gave me mustard plasters and other remedies that did no good. Plasters took no effect on me—except to blister me and make raw spots. I took many advertised remedies without benefit, but fortunately, about two years ago, I got 'Fruit-a-tives' and they cured me. "Since then, I take 'Fruit-a-tives' occasionally and keep free of pain. I am satisfied 'Fruit-a-tives' cured me of Rheumatism and they will cure anyone who takes them as directed. If this letter would be of value to you, send me a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and I will publish it." JOHN B. McDONALD. Indeed, this letter is of value to you and to the thousands of sufferers from Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and Neuralgia. It points the way to a certain cure. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa. John Stratton Teale. "The game is up, Jack," she said, when the door of a private sitting room had closed on them in the hotel; for Teale had traveled to Atlantic City by the night mail, but had judged it prudent to keep away from the city, when Mrs. Delamar told him of the mischance that led to a couple of detectives witnessing his leaving-taking at New York. "Whose game, or what game?" he demanded crossly; for he, too, had been weighing possibilities during some care-laden hours. "Yours, of course—and mine, as well," Mrs. Delamar added hurriedly, since there was no sense in converting a friend into an enemy by hinting that their interests were not jointly endangered. "What has happened, Feena? Come to the point in plain English. You and I can afford to talk to each other in that way, you know." There was an ugly glint in her ally's eyes which warned her that some display of tact was advisable. (To Be Continued.)

POPE IS TAKING OPEN AIR EXERCISE

Walks in Vatican Gardens to Remind Him of the Country.

CURES HOMESICKNESS

Pontiff Likes to Saunter in Vineyard Planted by Leo XIII.

(Special Correspondence.)

ROME, June 24.—Pope X has finally been prevailed upon to spend a couple of hours daily in the Vatican gardens and to walk up and down some shady avenues instead of driving around the square in a closed carriage.

At first the Pope himself, who has been so ill, argued the case against the exercise, which the doctors insisted was the best thing for the after-effects of his recent illness, but took no interest in the Vatican gardens, which he often compared to a cemetery, and invariably considered a sort of prison yard or exercise ground.

Since the last few days, however, he is beginning to like the garden, and, like his predecessor, Leo XIII., he selected the highest point of the garden, close to the old tower and walls, which are now used as an observatory, for his daily walk.

Here is the Casino, or country house of Leo XIII., where the Pope used to spend the summer, and Pius X's favorite walk is around the vineyard planted by his predecessor.

The Pope says that this part of the garden reminds him of the country where that when he walks here daily for an hour he almost forgets that he is a prisoner. This vineyard relieved the homesickness of his predecessor, who during the last years of his long pontificate used to think of the great vineyard of the village of Carpineto, among the hills, and of the vineyards there. Two or three years before his death, Leo XIII. had a vineyard planted, modeled on those of his native village, and he hoped to get the white wine of Carpineto.

Forgot the Gardemars. Despite the fact that he took great pains in planting the vineyard, and that he brought an expert wine-grower from his native village, the wine did not taste the same, and Leo XIII. has been sorely disappointed. Still, the sight of the vines trained on canes was a familiar one, and up to the time he died he loved to walk under the old walls and interest himself in the vineyard, as in the days when he was a priest, and a wine-grower, more than half a century before.

Leo XIII. asked his wine-grower for an estimate on the quantity of wine that his vineyard would yield. In the year of the first vintage the wine-grower told him that he expected to have at least four barrels of wine, but when the time came to gather the grapes it was found that hardly a barrel and a half of wine would be yielded.

"You made a mistake," the Pope said to the wine-grower. "The man replied, 'we really should have had four barrels.' 'How is it that we have not?' asked the Pope. "Your holiness," replied the man, "I forgot to make allowance for the grapes that the gardemars on night duty would steal."

The vineyard was then enclosed with a fence, and no grapes were stolen the next year.

SINGER SHUT OUT OF BERLIN OPERA

Official Policeman Nearly Caused Postponement of Gala Performance.

BERLIN.—(Special Correspondence.)—The stupid officiousness of a Berlin policeman, who held up Putnam Griswold, the American basso, as he drove to the stage door of the opera house, nearly caused the postponement of the gala performance which Emperor William gave last Monday to the German princes and foreign guests in honor of his jubilee.

Griswold, who sang King Henry in the first act of "Lohengrin," was stopped outside the opera house by a policeman who said he had orders to let nobody thru.

Griswold showed his card and said he was to sing that night. "Oh, yes," said the officer, "of course you have heard that story before. It is old. You just get back or there will be trouble."

Griswold submitted and was about to leave, when the theatre management when they arrived a lieutenant who knew the singer, and being informed by Griswold of the situation, gave the stupid policeman a piece of his mind, much to the amusement of the crowd.

J. SALE, JR., WINS GOLF HANDICAP FROM FIELD OF OVER A HUNDRED

Opening Day of Royal Canadian Tourney Sees Novice Capture First Event—Ontario Won Provincial Match and Rosedale the Team Competition—Veterans in Form.

Yesterday at the Toronto Golf Club the nineteenth annual Royal Canadian Golf Association tourney got off to a splendid start, and the Ontario team in the light of it becoming an epoch making one in the history of the association. No less than one hundred and ten players started in the handicap match in the morning despite the excessive heat, and considering the fact that the Ontario team was very good. The course, which has the honor of having the tourney played upon it in the first year of its history, was perfect, and the green and fairway are deserving of all kinds of praise. As usual several surprises were the feature of the opening day, and they added considerably interest to the forthcoming matches that had at first looked as if the old timers would be the only contestants in the race. Julian Sale, Jr., practically a novice, but most of them in the afternoon with a handicap of eight. He tied with Webster, a 14 man, and in the play off defeated him in the above match, losing only two games to the Quebec representative. They won by 8 points to 2, which they increased to 11 and 10 from the turn, the standing being at that point in favor of the winners, 3 points and 10 to 1. The rest of the field was very good, and the Canadian champion, tied with S. H. Turpin for the gross score prize, both turning in cards of 80, which is extremely good, considering the trying effects of the heat, etc. G. H. TRAFFIC AND NOT AN ACCIDENT

Record Crowds Totalling Over Hundred Thousand Handled at Station Yesterday.

With a holiday traffic exceeding the hundred thousand mark, and many of the trains running in three sections, yesterday was the busiest Dominion Day in the history of the Union Station.

Superintendent J. J. Beck was high in his praise of the way the station officials had handled the large crowds, especially the six gates, who each looked after over fifteen thousand travelers.

Although such immense throngs are handled at the Toronto Union Station on holidays, it is worthy of note that an injury to a passenger while boarding or getting from a train, or in the vicinity of the station has yet to be recorded.

KING OF ITALY TO MEET THE KAISER

Important International Questions to Be Discussed at Kiel Conference.

PISA, Italy, July 1.—(Can. Press.)—The King and Queen of Italy, with a large suite, including the Marquis Antonio, Duke of Genoa, the Italian foreign minister, left yesterday to meet the German Emperor at Kiel, and also to return the visit paid to Italy by the Swedish King and Queen at the time of the jubilee of Italian unity in 1911.

The presence of the Italian foreign minister with the king is believed in Italy to emphasize the importance of the approaching triple alliance, in which the two sovereigns will, it is assumed, discuss the most important international questions, and more especially the solidarity of the triple alliance, the settlement of the Balkan dispute and the maintenance of peace between the European powers.

MADE-IN-CANADA TRAIN RETURNING

Nearly Quarter Million People Viewed Exhibits on Western Tour.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., July 1.—(Special.)—With a total attendance of approximately 250,000, the made-in-Canada exhibition, which was completed here tonight its second annual tour of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and left for Toronto and Montreal, where it will arrive on Friday.

By the time the train will have traveled 6,000 miles, the number of stops being 124. As indicated by the big attendance, the interest of the public in the exhibition was continuous throughout the trip.

NILES, THE AVIATOR, AT NAPANEE

NAPANEE, July 1.—Charles F. Niles, Curtiss' best aviator, made a splendid flight here in the Napanee Driving Park grounds this afternoon. He went up the back streets between the office and the ground, and rose at the track in an opening between the trees not over 75 feet wide. He had great difficulty in rising to a good altitude, and only by very careful handling of the machine was he able to do so.

THE DUNLOP TROPHY

Ernest G. Hanson has entered the Dunlop under the Royal big revolver. This is the solitary link connecting the most famous bicycle club in Canada with the Dunlop trophy race.

The approach of the Dunlop trophy race thru Berlin on July 1, sees a tremendous interest on the part of the Ontario. Nearly all the newspapers within 100 miles are sending special reporters to cover the race.

IF WE BORROW NOW RATE WILL BE HIGH
 Canadian bankers are taking careful note of the London intimations to the effect that if the colonial governments must borrow in London just now they will have to be prepared to pay perhaps 4-1/2 or even 5 per cent, says The New York Post. The Dominion Government's last loan put out some time ago was on a basis of about 3-3/4 per cent.

Stock Markets Start Second Half of Year in Depressing Fashion.

BERLIN MART IS WEAK

Balkan Bugbear Looms Up Again—C. P. R. Leads Early Downturn.

LONDON, July 1.—The stock market commenced the second half of the year in depressing fashion today. The Balkan trouble, a strike in the South Africa mines and the setback in New York yesterday made the markets weak and lower. Local and continental operations realized through the session and although slightly over the lowest in some instances the close was weak. American securities opened quiet and unchanged. Trading was light during the forenoon and most of the list declined under the lead of Canadian Pacific. Light buying advanced values a fraction in the early afternoon, but the market reacted again on Wall street selling and closed undecided. Money was plentiful and discount rates were easy.

Another Version.
 LONDON, July 1.—Confidence was lacking in the final dealings, showing a slight improvement from the lowest. Consols were weak. New capital issues for the six months just ended aggregated £207,746,000 against £144,028,000 last year. In spite of the fact that the higher schedule of freight rates became effective today, Home Rails had an irregular appearance. The American department was dull. The new Mexican Government loan was not quoted notwithstanding the announcement that the offering of the French portion had been a success.

Very Weak in Berlin.
 BERLIN, July 1.—The decline in New York yesterday and reports of German fighting between the Balkan nations made prices very weak on the Bourse today.

EUROPEAN INVESTORS HAVE LOST HEAVILY

How the Important Gilt-Edge Issues Have Dropped During Past Year.

Just what effect the recent semi-panic in the stock markets has had on the pocketbooks of European investors is evident from the big losses in some of the leading investment issues. These are given in the following table, which displays the price now and a year ago, together with the depreciation per share:

British Consols	July 1, 1912	July 1, 1913	Loss

C. P. R. BONDS HAVE NOW BEEN PAID

Company Has No Mortgage Indebtedness—Surely a Unique Position.

The Canadian Pacific yesterday paid off the $28,000,000 outstanding first mortgage 5 p.c. bonds which did not mature until July 1, 1915, and now the company's outstanding capitalization is made up of common and preferred stock and debenture bonds which do not carry foreclosure rights. The C.P.R. can now boast that it is the only railroad of any importance in the world that has no mortgage indebtedness. In the United States there is scarcely a road that has not added greatly to its fixed charges during the past decade, whereas C. P. R. has gradually wiped out its bonded debt by using the proceeds of its land sales. Even at that, the company still owns over 6,000,000 acres which promise to go up in value from year to year.

DID THE KAISER LOSE MONEY THIS?

BERLIN, July 1.—German Imperial 3 per cent. have now reached 73 in the hours, which is the lowest price on record. These capitalists who bought the stock in the nineties have now lost a quarter of the money then invested, and even those who had not the misfortune to buy at the highest price have suffered heavily.

BRAZILIAN LOWER IN LONDON MARKET

Toronto Brokers Followed the Action of Their Pet Closely—C. P. R. Up.

On account of the practical renewal of the Balkan war and the effect the outbreak of hostilities between the former allies had on European markets, Toronto brokers found much of interest in the action of the stock exchanges yesterday. In London prices were weak, consols dipped to within a shade of their recent low record, and the general list was quoted lower. Early cables received here quoted Brazilian at 87 to 87-1/2, London basis, equivalent to 84-1/2 to 85, Toronto basis, revealing a drop of over a point from the previous close, and a loss of a full point and a half from the final sale here on Saturday last. There was no comment on the setback, but in view of the general decline, none was required. The last cable reported the price at a slight rally, 87-3/4 to 88-1/2, equivalent to 84-1/2 to 85-3/4 here. The acute weakness on the Berlin Bourse doubtless accounted for a portion of the early loss in C.P.R., which sold at low as 214-1/8 in New York, a drop of about 2 points. In the sharp rally which occurred in Wall street in the afternoon, the shares rose again rapidly, crossing 217, which was a new high level for the week and a full 1-1/4 points up for the day. Numerous speculators gathered in the local brokerage houses having New York and London connections during the day, but very little trading was done. There was some selling of Brazilian on the decline, by those who feared complications in European diplomatic circles on account of the Balkan scare being revived, but no material amount of the shares were liquidated for Toronto account. If there were any transactions in C.P.R. over the wire, nothing was said about it.

TEN YEARS' RECORD OF GRAIN PRICES

Average Quotations in Chicago Pit—Next Government Report Due Week Today.

The next United States Government report is due at 2:15 p.m. on Wednesday, July 3, and will go into detail on the average and conditions of corn, winter and spring wheat, oats and barley, etc. The following table, giving the average price of grain for each year since 1903 should prove of interest:

Year	Wheat	Corn	Oats
1903	104 1/2	68 1/2	44 1/2
1904	111 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2
1905	110 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2
1906	110 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2
1907	110 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2
1908	110 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2
1909	110 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2
1910	110 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2
1911	110 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2
1912	110 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2
1913	110 1/2	68 1/2	38 1/2

NEW LOW RECORDS ON BRITISH CONSOLS

Last Week's Figure Was Bottom For Present Form Stock.

The renewal of the Balkan war occasioned a good many tremors in European markets yesterday, and heavy declines were shown by the leading issues. The price of the C.P.R. Consols dipped to within an eighth of their recent bottom figure of 72-3/4 recorded last week, which was a new low for the present 2 1/2 per cent. bond, and at this price yield the investor 8.43 per cent. In 1896, after the bank rate had remained at the nominal figure of 2 per cent. for nearly two years, consols, which were then a 2-3/4 per cent. security, sold as high as 114. The highest figure in the present form was 92 1/2 in 1902, the year in which the C.P.R. issued its 2 1/2 per cent. bond for the present yield, or better, as late as 1886, after the Overend Gurney panic.

"BIDS AND OFFERS" IN CHICAGO PIT

Under the new rule formulated by the authorities in grain options in the Chicago pit began on July 1, and all dealings in privileges and indemnities will be under the new section hereafter unless otherwise specified. The old titles "Ups and Downs" and "Puts and Calls" are abolished, and options in future being designated "bids and offers." Buyers of "bids" will have the right to sell the grain at the price they have paid for the bids, and buyers of "offers" will be able to buy the grain at the price specified. The privilege will be good for the following business day, and the hours for trading in them will be 1:45 to 2:30 p.m. each business day, except Saturday, when they will be 12:15 to 12:45, Chicago time.

SHOULD HELP SOME

NEW YORK, July 1.—There was distributed today in interest on dividend payments the sum of $263,000,000, which is the largest disbursement for any July on record. After such a period of stock market inactivity as has been experienced this is expected to help some in revivifying the market.

BUTTE COPPER MINE IS UP AGAINST IT

BUTTE, Mont., July 1.—Application has been made for the appointment of a receiver for the Butte and Ely Copper Co. A restraining order has been asked enjoining the company from transferring upwards of 23 shares of stock held by one Heilbrunner to organize a Consolidated Copper Mines Co. A hearing will be given on July 26.

BANK CLEARINGS OF THE CONTINENT

Toronto Moved Up Into Tenth Rank Last Week—Beat Out Baltimore.

Toronto moved up from eleventh to tenth rank in the record of all cities of the continent in point of bank clearings last week, thus recovering the ground lost in the previous week, and regaining its customary position. The improvement was due to a big falling off in Baltimore, not to any gain in totals here. Montreal failed to make up its loss, still holding seventh place, while Winnipeg dropped back from twelfth to thirteenth being ousted from its former standing by Detroit, which reported a large decrease—34 per cent. over the figures for 1912.

There was nothing particularly interesting in point of increases or decreases from last year. Of the first fifteen centres there were six decreases, which compared with five in the previous week, six in the week before, and seven in the week preceding that. The detailed figures for the week and the previous week, together with the percentage of increase or decrease compared with last year:

City	Last wk.	Prev. wk.	% chg.

FOREIGN CROPS IN GOOD CONDITION

Outlook in Europe Is Favorable—Yield Will Be Below Last Year.

Bromhall's weekly report on foreign crop conditions, issued in Liverpool on Tuesday, states that the outlook is favorable in the main, but that in many countries of Europe the yield this year promises to be below last year's figures. The details follow:
 United Kingdom—Weather favorable for wheat, but for wheat mostly good. Spring crops suffering from dryness.
 France—Outlook for wheat fair, but for oats and barley poor, especially in the north. The outlook for oats is poor. Native wheat small and of poor quality.
 Germany—Outlook for wheat good; rye, triticum and barley poor, especially in the drought region.
 Italy—In the southwest threshing is progressing with the yield disappointing, otherwise the promise is maintained.
 Spain—The yield will be below the average.
 Russia—The south is expected to harvest a good crop and cutting of wheat has commenced. In Volga districts the improvement is maintained, but the crop is very backward and liable to heat damage later on which becomes very intense. Outlook for oats unsatisfactory.
 Roumania—Wheat and barley promise a good yield, corn has improved. The improvement is maintained, but the crop is very backward and liable to heat damage later on which becomes very intense. Outlook for oats unsatisfactory.
 Hungary—An official report confirms our recent statement that the yield of wheat will be fully 20,000 bushels under last year. Outlook for oats is poor.
 North Africa—Most reports are favorable regarding wheat, but for corn, especially in the north.
 Argentina—Northern Santa Fe is suffering from dryness, otherwise outlook for wheat and corn satisfactory.
 Australia—Many reports confirm our statement that a large area is badly in need of rain.
 India—Wheat firmly held with uncertainty attending the monsoon.

DRIFTING BOTH WAYS AT COCHRANE COBALT

Management Hope to Get Paying Ore Shoot at Two Hundred-Foot Level.

COBALT, July 1.—Drifting is now under way at the 200-foot level of the Cochrane mine in southeastern Coleman. The vein showing between six and ten inches of calcite, with some native silver, and in drifting both ways on the vein the management hope to encounter a paying ore shoot. The 200-foot level was reached by means of a winze from the 100-foot level sunk on the vein, which will barren at 100 ft., developed native silver about 65 feet down. The 200-foot level was reached the fore part of this week and the drifts have just nicely been started.

OUR MINING STOCKS QUIET ON N. Y. CURB

Our mining stocks continued quiet in the extreme on the New York curb again yesterday. As on Monday buyers and sellers failed to get within speaking distance of each other, so no sales were reported in the Canadian issues. Traders raised their bids on Pearl Lake to 30c and on Hollinger to $16.75, but even as that the quotations were away below the closing sales here on Saturday. Our markets open for business this morning, and in view of the probable accumulation of orders over the long holiday, it would not be surprising to see a fair degree of activity throughout the session.

POUNDING OUT GOLD AT THE DOME LAKE

PORCUPINE, July 1.—The first clean-up from the ten-stamp mill at the Dome Lake Mines in Porcupine is expected here this morning. The prospects have been running well during the experimental month, and it is hoped that the recovery will come up to expectations during the clean-up is made. At present the mill is treating fifty tons daily, but the average for the month will be below these figures.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN EXCHANGE.

LIVERPOOL, July 1.—The market opened under realising and lower, following the opening there was further pressure in July, which declined. The weaker American cables, yesterday, liberal tenders on contract and ideal weather in Western Europe stimulated the selling. The distant months were dull, but steady, with some apprehension felt regarding the outlook in the American northwest and the comparative firmness of distant offerings, also the crop outlook generally in Europe is very favorable.

EUROPEAN GRAIN MARKET.

The Liverpool market closed 1/4 to 3/4 lower on wheat, and 1/4 to 3/4 lower on corn. Antwerp closed unchanged on wheat. Berlin 1/4 lower, Budapest 1/4 higher.

WORLD'S VISIBLE SUPPLIES.

The World's visible wheat supply decreased 6,244,000 bushels during the past week, according to Bradstreet's weekly report. Corn increased 1 1/2 million bushels, and oats increased 3,271,000 bushels.

But Pennants in a Multitude of Hues Will Do It Better! The World Has Made it Possible at a Very Nominal Cost. The phenomenal demand for the Canada Pennants has prompted us to issue one with the name of our fair city, and with the city crest. They are now ready for distribution. One Coupon from The Daily World and 22 cents secures one, when presented at The World Office, 40 West Richmond Street, Toronto, or to the Branch Office, 15 East Main Street, Hamilton, Ont. By mail, add 2 cents for postage. NOTE.—Many people are buying Pennants as souvenirs and sending them to their friends abroad. Present your visitors with one, they will favorably remember Toronto and Canada.

The indications are that many thousand visitors will invade this fair city during the next three months. Thanks to an efficient civic administration we have well paved and clean streets---but let us brighten up and put on a gala holiday appearance, a bit of bunting on our Verandah, on that Motor Boat, on that Island Cottage and on that Motor Car would help some.

CATTLE MARKET WAS VERY DULL

Hogs, Sheep and Common Calves Lower—Good Calves and Lambs Steady.

Receipts of live stock at the Union yards were 134 cars, 2375 cattle, 472 hogs, 783 sheep and lambs, 659 calves, and 15 horses. A comparatively light demand on account of the holiday, and few outside buyers, as well as the hot weather all combined, caused a dull sluggish cattle trade. Export steers, cows and medium, common grass cattle were easier, but just how much lower would be hard to say. On account of the holiday the market closed at 1 p.m., when there was large percentage of the cattle still unsold. Sheep, hogs and rough calves were lower, but choice calves and lambs held about steady, as will be seen by many sales given below.

Wm. Howard bought for Swift and Company of Chicago 150 export steers for the London market, weighing from 1250 to 1375 lbs., at $6.75 to $7.15. Choice picked butchers' cattle sold at $8.75 to $7, with few at latter price. The good butchers' cattle sold from $6.50 to $6.25, 2 to medium, $5 to common, from $5.25 to $4; cows, from $3 to $5.75; bulls, $4.75 to 5.75.

Feeders, 700 to 800 lbs. sold at 5.60 to 5.25; stockers, 550 to 650 lbs., sold at $4.75 to $5.25. The market for milkers and springers continued slow with prices about steady, with last week's quotations. The bulk of the sales ranged from $45 to $65, with one or two exceptions at $70 and $70 being paid for extra choice quality. Good to choice quality veal calves sold at about steady prices, but common rough eastern quality calves were lower. Choice yearling calves, 35 to 45 lbs., good, $7.50 to $8; medium, at $6 to $7, and common, at $4 to $5.25 per cwt.

There were about 800 sheep and lambs on sale. Light ewes sold from $2.75 to $4.25; heavy ewes and rams, $3 to $5; lambs, the bulk sold at $3 to $3 per cwt; cull lambs sold from $2 to $3.50 per cwt. Selects, fed and watered, sold from $3.25 to $3.50, and $9 f.o.b. cars. McDonald and Halligan sold at the Union stock yards, Tuesday, 15 cars of stock as follows: Best butchers, 1150 to 1250 lbs., at $6.70 to $6.90 per cwt.; good fair butchers' steers, 1100 to 1200 lbs., at $6.60 to $6.75 per cwt.; best butchers' heifers, 850 to 1050 lbs., at $6.85 to $6.65 per cwt.; medium butchers, $5.75 to $6.25 per cwt.; best heavy cows, $4 to $5.50 per cwt.; fair to good cows, $4.80 to $5.15 per cwt.; common to medium cows, $4 to $4.50 per cwt.; best bulls, $3 to $5 per cwt.; medium bulls, $4.75 to $5.25 per cwt.; eastern cattle with a little kill, 650 to 750 lbs., at $4.75 to $5.25 per cwt.; 100 lambs, at $3 to $3.25 per cwt.; 500 lbs. to $60 each; medium, $40 to $50 each.

All classes of cattle selling from 20 to 30 cents per cwt. lower, especially cows. D. A. McDonald sold for McDonald and Halligan, 100 lbs. of piglets, $3.40 per cwt.; fed and watered; 75 calves, good yearling, at $7.50 to $8.50 per cwt.; common to medium, at $4 to $5; 75 sheep, light ewes, at $4.25 to $4.75 per cwt.; heavy ewes and bucks, at $3 to $3.50 per cwt.; 100 lambs, at $3 to $3.25 per cwt. Rice & Whaley sold: Butchers—18, 2100 lbs., at $7; 21, 950 lbs., at $6.80; 16, 1110 lbs., at $6.75; 4, 1175 lbs., at $6.75; 8, 1030 lbs., at $6.70; 10, 1110 lbs., at $6.70; 17, 1210 lbs., at $6.70; 6, 1080 lbs., at $6.60; 7, 1140 lbs., at $6.60; 6, 1090 lbs., at $6.55; 19, 1190 lbs., at $6.50; 10, 975 lbs., at $6.45; 14, 1030 lbs., at $6.45; 4, 1050 lbs., at $6.45; 18, 1030 lbs., at $6.40; 5, 970 lbs., at $6.40; 2, 800 lbs., at $6.40; 910 lbs., at $6.35; 1, 1050 lbs., at $6.12; 6, 810 lbs., at $6. Calves—2, 135 lbs., at $5.25; 1, 130 lbs., at $5; 2, 220 lbs., at $4.85; 1, 270 lbs., at $7.25; 4, 150 lbs., at $6.25; 1, 270 lbs., at $4.50. Cows—3, 980 lbs., at $5.80; 14, 1200 lbs., at $5.60; 4, 1240 lbs., at $5.55; 15, 1210 lbs., at $5.50; 17, 1210 lbs., at $5.40; 15, 1110 lbs., at $5.35; 8, 1170 lbs., at $5.35; 2, 1060 lbs., at $5.30; 14, 1140 lbs., at $5.15; 4, 1050 lbs., at $5; 2, 1100 lbs., at $4.85; 1, 900 lbs., at $4.50; 2, 1070 lbs., at $4.50; 1, 110 lbs., at $4.25; 9, 960 lbs., at $4.10; 1, 950 lbs., at $4. HENRI ROCHEFORT DEAD.

AIX DES BAINS, France, July 1.—(Can. Press).—Henri Rochefort, for a long series of years one of the most prominent figures in French political life, died here today, from a complication of maladies, at the age of 52. The real name of Henri Rochefort was the Marquis Victor Henri de Rochefort-Lucay, and he was the son of the Marquis Claude Louis Marie de Rochefort-Lucay, who was a most successful author of light plays. Rochefort was a most picturesque figure and was always ready to defend his own honor or that of his country, and for this reason engaged in a large number of duels.

NO PLAQUE IN HAITI.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, July 1.—(Can. Press).—During the past ten days no cases of suspected plague has occurred at the seaport of Jacmelien, 30 miles from here. A report was published two weeks ago that numerous cases, many of which had been fatal, had occurred there, but this was denied by the administrative authorities, who sent a scientific mission to the port, which recognized the existence of an epidemic of fever. The Haitian Government declares today that the sanitary conditions throughout the republic are perfect.

FOUR SISTERS DROWNED.

ELKHART, Ind., July 1.—(Canadian Press).—Four sisters were drowned here yesterday when the three of them sprang into St. Joseph's River in a vain attempt to save the youngest sister, Grace Scher, 7 years old, fell into the river while picking cherries from a limb which overhung the water. The other girls—Alice, 16; Clara, 13, and Ida, 11—attempted to save her and themselves were drowned. The bodies were recovered.
