The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the lest page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the lest page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol → (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ▼ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires origineux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant per le premier plat et en terminant soit par le dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit per le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole → signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ▼ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents.
Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

BIOGRAPHICAL

MADAME ANNA BISHOP (SCHULTZ), the great English prima donna, was born in London. Belonging to a family of affluence and excellent social position, she received at an early age the advantages of a thorough musical education.

As her studies progressed, it became apparent that she possessed very remarkable musical talent, and, by the advice of her friends, she was entered in the Royal Academy of Music, where she became remarkably skillful as a pianist. The parents of Madam Anna Bishop at first destined her for this instrument, and, eventually, confided her to the care of M. Moscheles, the great German mu ician, who was the instructor also of Mendelsshon and Liszt.

In the meantime her voice developed into a sweet and pure soprano of extraordinary capacity, and it was decided for her to become a singer. The wisdom of such a decision has been proved by the wonderful success that has crowned her efforts as a vocalist.

Madame Bishop's progress in vocal art was so rapid and pronounced that, when quite young, she was prepared to make her debut in London at a concert, at which also appeared Grisi, Garcia, Persiani, Rubini, Tamburini and Lablache; Thalberg and Dohler presided at the pianoforte, and Bochsa at the harp. Notwithstanding this stupendous array of talent, never exceeded, if equalled, in the annals of concert-giving, the youthful cantatrice oreated a furore, and made one of the most brilliant debuts on record.

Mathin Bishop was engaged to appear at the great musical festivals of Gloucester, Workester, York, and Hereford. Not satisfied with her great successes in Greet Britain, Madame Bishop started upon a grand tour of Europe, and sang before nearly all of the Crowned Heads of that continent, receiving superb gifts from Royalty, being received socially in their p-laces, and producing an enthusia m among all classes. At Upsala, after her concert, three thun'red students assembled and escorted her as far as the hotel where she resided, and afterward servanded her under the window. The next day they formed a cavalcade, and accompanied her as far as the gates of the town, making the air ring with their huzzas.

Madam Bishop is not only a great vocalist, but is also an extraordinary linguist, speaking fluently eight or nine languages. In Russia, Denmark, and e sewhere, she sang the national ballads in their native languages, producing an immense sensation. At Moscow, in Russia, she sang the part of Alice in "Robert le Diable," in the Russian language, a feat of suppendous difficulty. Madame Bishop had a three years' engagement at San Carlo Opera House, in Naples a success never achieved by any prima donna since Malibran.

During Madame Bishop's European tour, she appeared in opera and concerts for several years, her popularity never waning, but absolutely increasing. As the radiance of her charms became steadily augmenting, her auditors joined in the most extravagant tolers of delight and appreciation.

With a love for traveling that almost amounts to a passion, Madam B'shop decided to make a concert tour of the entire globe, and if our space permitted, we might go into detail and mention the enthusiastic reception this great vocalist received in China, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, Sandwich Islands, ludia, Arlea, North and South America, and elsewhere.

Suffice it to say that Madam Bishop's progress was a series of successes, whereby she resped fame and torting, and also caused her to become the greate-t female traveler as well as the most widely known living PRIMA DONNA.

Of course ench a musical career has been necessarily replete with the most exciting experiences. Many remember reading of the time when Madam Bishop and troupe were traveling through a forest in Mexico and were attacked by bandits. Upon learning the name of their fair captive, Bochsa was required to get down his harp and perform, and Madame Bishop's silvery tones rang through the forest in some of her choicest moreous. The delighted bandits then graciously allowed the troupe to proceed unmolested, although their fair captive was laden with money and jewels. In fact, these cavallers absolutely escorted the party for a considerable distance, in order to protect them from others that might not be so susceptible to the harms of music.

Nearly everybody is familiar with the account of Madam Bishop's shipwreck in the Pacific Ocean, and of the hardships undergone after this mishap, being, in fact, many days exposed be wind and weather, in an open boat. At this time, Madame Bishop lost an imministly valuable, stock of jewels and presents given her by European monarchs ad rulers of various climes, besides her wardrobe and music. She still retains he wears at her concerts some jewelry of rare value and design, given her by celeprated scions of royalty.

Madame Anna Bi-hop is a mether of the Philharmonic Societies at Copenhagen. Florence, and Vienna, of the great musical societies of St. Petersburg, Moscow, Palermo; an Associate of the Society of Santa Cecilia, at Rome, etc.

And now this truly great ABTHE and wouderful woman is making another tour of the American Continent, saining still her magnificent voice and fault-le-s method. It has been remarked by eminent musical professors, that to hear Madam Bishop's interpretation of ratorio, operatic, and ballad music, is one of the BEST LESSONS students of the call art can possibly secure.

It is entirely probable that Malme Bishop has been heard by MORE PEOPLE than any artiste that history recos. In some respects, she is the GREATEST ARTEST NOW on the concert stage. Irsonally, she has thousands of warm friends, of all climes and kindreds, and whever she appears in concerts, the magnetism of her name, which for a number eyears has been the synonim of all that is TRUE and REAL in vocal art attress the learning, culture, and fashion of the place, who assemble en masse to honor to such consummate ability. It is reported that Madam Bishop is copiling a history of her travels, which will be replete with reminiscences of the gatest musicians of modern times.

Evening Post, San Francisco, ys:—"England," said Mendelssohn, senentiously, "has given three great agers to Italy—Clara Novello, Catherine Hayes and Anna Bishop."

They were a grand trio—womewith the stanch, lasting English physique, plus the glorious Italian training, ambination that makes extraordinary singers. These three upheld their summacy when there was no lack of prima donnas. Madame Anna Bishop reins the last of that great school of vocalists which began with Storace nearly anndred years ago. Oh, the memories that come with that neat figure as it triph to the stage! The recollections of triumphs won when Grisi and Viardo Alboni and Cruvelli, Lind and Persiani, were acknowledged queens of song! If tales of adventure and travel, of peril by flood and field, of wreck, robbery i danger! Of all these and more survived and conquered until admiration of pk and endurance grows until it would almost forgive vocal deficiencies did to

MADAME AN BISHOP'S SINGING

Is a thing to be watched and studied the secret of her success is in her method. No voice, however naturally beaul, can last if it be badly trained or badly managed, and if any ambitious yet lady wishes to preserve her voice for a whole lifetime, she must do as Made Bishop does—that is, open her mouth and let the sound come clear from tlarynx, without affectation or hindrance.

TWENTY-FIVEARS OF TRAVEL

And good fortune, she elects to begier farewell trip in San Francisco. Her mezzu-voice singing is still superb it upper notes clear, sweet and resonant, her scales and shakes brilliant and fe, and her figure, gestures, attitudes and expression, exactly, precisely and enly like what they were when first she made her bow in America. If this bally what we hope it is not—her farewell trip—we can only counsel every once wishes to know what good singing is, to go and hear her.

	I've wandered by the village, Tom, I've sat beneath the tree, Upon the school-house play-ground That sheltered you and me; But none are left to greet me, Tom, And none are left to know That played with us upon the green Just Twenty Years Ago! My lids have long been dry, Tom. But tears come in my eyes: I thought of her I loved so weil— Those early broken ties: I went again to the old churchyard. And took some flowers to strew Upon the graves of those we loved Some Twenty Years Ago!
	The grass is just as green, dear Tom, Barefooted boys at play Are sporting just as we were then, With spirits just as gay; But the naster sleeps upon the hill, All covered o'er with snew, Where once we used to slide, dear Tom, Just Twenty Years Ago! And some are in the Churchyard laid, Some sleep beneath the sea, And few there are of all our class Excepting you and me; And when our time shall come, dear Tom, And when we are called to go, I hope they'll lay us where we played Just Twenty Years Ago!
