DECLINES TO BREAK STRIKE MAYOR WON'T CALL MILITIA

Cars of Hamilton City Lines Kept in Barns. Non-Union Help Refusing to Operate Them Without Protection—Just One Small Demonstration.

Hamilton, Nov. 13.—(Special).—All the cars were no operated on the city system to-day, as a result of the riot yesterday, there was a small demonstration at the corner of King and James-streets, shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon, when a Dundas car struck T. B. Fairchild, a former hotel-keeper.

About 100 people gathered in a few minutes and stones were sent after the car, which did not stop.

So infuriated was the mob that had the car stopped for an instant the motorman would undoubtedly have been roughly used.

A trolley was turning the south corner of King and James-streets, when the car came up behind. Fairchild attempted to get in at the front door, but the car did not stop and he was jammed between the car and the wagon, being severely crushed. Instead of stopping, the motorman, who was a strike-breaker, applied the power and continued south on James.

Constable Brown, who witnessed the accident, had to chase the car for a block, in order to get the names of the crew. The car was later stoned on Herkimer-street.

Strike Breakers Nervous.
After the demonstration caused by the operation of the street cars Monday afternoon, the company was unable to run its cars to-day, but will start them again Tuesday morning, at 9 o'clock. The company instructed the strike-breakers to take the cars out, but the men were so frightened by the disturbance Monday that they refused unless given police protection.

The leader of the strike-breakers appealed to Chief Smith and the mayor for a uniform constable for every car. The request was turned down. Said the mayor: "The company has the right to run its own cars. We require our constables for street duty, and I am not going to deplete the force of men the company's cars to help break the strike."

The mayor was then served by W. C. Hawkins, manager of the company, with a formal application for the militia. The mayor replied: "I will not call out the militia. I would rather assume the responsibility of having a few of the company's cars smashed than to have any of our citizens shot down by the militia."

While the mayor has declined to allow the police to be used to guard the cars, and to call out the militia, he is taking steps to stop the recurrence of disorders. He has ordered his brother police commissioners to assist in the protection of the citizens, and a proclamation of the riot Act would be issued.

Any law-abiding citizens are requested to refrain from congregating on public streets, places or squares.

The persons named in the unlawful assemblies are liable, on conviction, to severe punishment.

One result of the disturbances will be a large increase in the police force. Judge Souter said that if things continued as they were the city would be burdened by another 100 police constables. In any event, the force will be largely increased at once.

BANK REALLY IN BAD SHAPE MCGILL SPECULATED ON ITS BEHALF

Ex-Manager Holland a Witness—Montreal Branch Shown to Have Swallowed Up Big Amount and Gilt-Edged Securities to Have Been Otherwise—Ames & Co. Saved the Bank in 1894.

While nominally solvent in 1896, at the time when the reconstruction took place and Charles McGill of the Peterboro branch became general manager, the Ontario Bank was by no means in flourishing condition, in fact, only optimistic valuation of its assets could give to it an appearance of anything like solidity.

These were the conclusions to be drawn from the results of the cross-examination of Charles Holland, whose successor Mr. McGill was. Mr. Holland professed belief in the soundness of the bank at that time, but was contradicted by Mr. McGill, acting for Mr. McGill, with a fairly formidable list of securities that had been rated as gilt-edged, but which had speedily proven by the collapsible order. The Montreal branch was shown up as a sink-hole, and altogether several hundreds of thousands of dollars had been swept away thru various channels. As the bank's surplus was only then estimated, so Mr. Holland stated, at from $50,000 to $60,000, the precariousness of the position appears.

Mr. Langton bore the brunt of a wearing cross-fire well, and his continued evidence elicited some significant facts. He stated that from 1891 onward, Mr. McGill had speculated on margin in New York, solely on behalf of the bank, until 1901, when $200,000 was the profit thru Denny & Co.

It was declared that the bank was in a bad way in 1896, and would have failed but for the support given by A. E. Ames & Co.

Frank Arnold, K.C., on behalf of Mr. Cockburn, declared that there was never any loan standing against the bank stocks bought by the company in 1901, and that there was a demand note as security.

The case was adjourned till Friday. In the morning the enquiry opened the crown attorney said that he had agreed with Mr. Arnold, counsel for Mr. Cockburn, to let the case go against the latter to stand over for a week.

Mr. Langton again appeared on the stand. At the time he began making up the government statement in 1896, he knew that some of the branches were in better condition than others.

"Then, did you know that the bank was in a pretty bad way at that time?" "I knew, of course, of the writing off of the capital about that time. The bank would necessarily be in a bad condition for that to be done."

"Had the bank's condition at that time anything to do with the change of managers?" "I wouldn't know that."

"Were you aware that the profits of the branches were made by the interest?" "Continued on Page 5."

TURN FOR BETTER.
Sydney, C. B., Nov. 13.—(Special).—Affairs at the plant of the Steel Company have taken a decided turn for the better within the past 48 hours. To-day one of the blast furnaces was started, and a second furnace was started, and it is believed that by the close of the week the best part of the plant will be in full operation.

A message was received in the city from Senator Cox. He expressed the hope that when the directors of both companies get together in Montreal tomorrow that satisfactory arrangements will be made for the carrying out of the work.

CITY, COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP CALLED UPON TO BUILD BLOOR ST. VIADUCT

Public Meeting of Ratepayers in Riverdale District, After Hearing Addresses From W. F. Maclean, M.P., City and Township Representatives, Pass Resolution Asking for Bridge.

At an enthusiastic public meeting, held last night at Danforth Hall, Danforth-avenue, under the auspices of the Riverdale Business Men's Association, the following resolution was unanimously carried.

Moved by L. A. Forster, seconded by Robert Davies: "That this meeting approves of the early construction of a high level viaduct connecting Bloor-street with Danforth-avenue, and directs their representatives in the city, county and township councils to apply to the legislature for a bill enabling said viaduct to be built forthwith."

In accordance with the resolution, Mr. Davies moved: "We have to be up and doing. This project is good. Let us progress and let us have this bridge as soon as possible. We do not want to go into the city yet. We can stand on our own legs a while longer. It is not fair to ask the city to do the work alone; let the township do its share as well. I am willing to have my property taxed to the fullest extent to get that bridge. Our own grounds have the honor to pay some of our debts."

Mr. Smith presided, and pointed out the advantages to the district that the bridge would mean.

On the platform were: W. F. Maclean, M.P., Controller of the City; Hon. J. H. Macdonald, Ald. Fleming, Ald. Church, Ald. Chisholm, Ald. Noble, Councillors Robert Barker and George S. Henry of York Township, Rev. Frank Vincent, Rev. J. McNeilson, Rev. A. L. Meraden, H. W. Barker, Manager of the Toronto Times, J. Hedley, Manager of the Toronto Star, J. W. Wood, J. A. Allison, J. B. Miller, G. E. Woods, A. E. Walton, S. McCord, A. E. Hayter, J. H. Shales, H. Green, J. Macdonald, James Pearson and others.

Mr. Maclean read a letter from Mayor Coatsworth, expressing his support of the proposal, while Ald. Church, the first speaker, brought Mr. Gaudin's motion into effect. Mr. Church pointed out that the viaduct would open a new territory for the building of workmen's houses.

Why City Grew West.
W. F. Maclean, M.P., received a splendid hearing. Toronto's growth, he finally settled, was on the Don River, with the parliament buildings and the government offices near it. Gradually, however, the westward, because the Don Valley grew obstructed and people did not know how to build houses there. The city grew on the west, not only objectionable features, such as the jail, the small hospital and the reformatory. As a result of the viaduct, the most flourishing street in Toronto, Bloor-street, was growing since the bridge was built. Bloor-street, and Danforth-avenue would make the long, long route if connected, and would join Toronto Junction via East Toronto. The viaduct would make the finest land available for building lots at reasonable prices, and the district is not as far away from Yonge-street as Bathurst-street.

Mr. Maclean cited the Rosedale bridge, which opened up a choice residential district, and putting it in residential use. The Doncaster district was large enough to accommodate the population, and would this district be benefited, but Queen and Gerrard-streets would be strengthened, and it would benefit the whole city. People on Yonge-street were interested because if the tide of population cannot be let eastward, Spadina-canal will become the centre of the city.

"How can the project be carried out?" the speaker asked. The answer was as follows: In the old country the municipalities have great power and can exploit land that is not being used. The land is enhanced in value, and it is sold afterwards at advanced figures, paying for the cost of building the street. The bridge would cost about $350,000. The cost was asking for three times as much, which would cost at least $1,000,000.

Somebody is applying for a street car franchise for East Toronto along Danforth-avenue. Do not give your franchise away. Hold it for the city system is bound to come this way, and you have only one face to pay," he advised.

Not a Dissenting Voice.
Ald. Noble said Danforth-avenue had always been a good road, and this project would benefit the city, the township and the taxpayers. Toronto was better able to afford 21 miles tax now than in some years ago.

Controller Hubbard was also in favor, but thought that the Township of York, and even the County of York, should aid in the project. The viaduct should be a bill passed at the next legislature.

Other Jones and Ald. Fleming and Chisholm supported the plan. Mr. Pearson asked, "Where would our new houses be built? In building the viaduct? Let us have the bridge." John B. Miller, in reply, said: "The quicker the councils get busy the better."

O'Brien Mine to Get Title In Return for a Royalty

An agreement has been entered into between the Ontario government and the holders of the "O'Brien" mine property at Cobalt by which a royalty will be paid the government in return for a title to the property.

This The World was informed on reliable authority last night. It was stated that the amount of royalty to be paid will be 25 per cent. of the value of the ore taken from the mine.

This agreement, if made, will be on the line of the suggestion which was made to The World last evening by a gentleman from Cobalt, an interview with whom will be found with other news from the camp on another page.

The "O'Brien" is a close corporation. The property consists of a total holding of 154 acres. The principal works consist of a shaft, which is down about 120 feet, and from which drifts have been run for a total of 400 feet. In June, 1906, 40 men were employed, but owing to litigation with the government concerning the right to title of the property, the mine has since been closed after having shipped one carload of 25 tons to Sudbury. About four carloads of high-grade ore have been sacked and waiting shipment since then.

POLICY HOLDERS' IDEAS HEARD BY COMMISSION

Ask That They Be Given Representation in Management and That Investment Powers of Insurance Companies Be Widened.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—(Special).—The first part of the afternoon sitting of the insurance commission was devoted to the hearing of the policyholders' grievance. They were varied by the vice-president, William Robins, of Walkerville, and Wm. Christie of Toronto, secretary of the Policyholders' Protection Association of Canada.

The former, discussing an intent of speaking as the direct representative of the association, laid a number of important points before the commission. First and foremost he insisted on the absolute safeguarding of the policyholders. Already, there had been revealed sufficient signs of departure from prudent management to warrant close investigation and consideration. To attain this safeguard, he insisted that the POLICYHOLDERS SHOULD HAVE PROPER REPRESENTATION IN THE MANAGEMENT OF COMPANIES AS FAR AS THE INVESTMENT OF FUNDS WAS CONCERNED.

For at present the best bulk of the money administered by the directors was being bagged as far as any security for the policyholders was concerned, and it was anomalous that the control should be in the hands of men with so small a stake.

KENSINGTON PASSENGERS ARE LANDED AT QUEBEC

Montreal, Nov. 13.—(Special).—The SS. Gaspeoise reached Quebec this afternoon at 2 o'clock with 522 passengers taken from the stranded steamer Kensington. Of this number, 520 are from England, who have been engaged to work on the Grand Trunk Pacific.

The storm continues in the Lower St. Lawrence, and little can be done for the crew of attempting to release the steamer. The Bouville will bring up the remaining passengers.

PETERBORO WILL INSTALL STEAM HEATING PLANT

Peterboro, Nov. 13.—(Special).—The city council by a vote of 9 to 3 decided to go in for municipal ownership of steam heating instead of granting a franchise to the Dominion District Steam Heating Company of Toronto.

Estimates as to cost, probably number of patrons, etc., will be submitted to the people at the January election.

BANK WANTS TO SET ASIDE PRES. COCKBURN'S TRANSFER

Writ Issued to Prevent Deeding Over of Bay Street Property to His Wife.

A pretty reliable tip that the advisory board of the Ontario Bank contemplate civil proceedings to recover damages from the directors for any mismanagement of their part that may appear was furnished yesterday when Dicknell & Bain, on behalf of the Ontario Bank, and "all other creditors" of the defendant entered an action at Osgoode Hall against G. R. Cockburn to set aside a transfer of property made by his wife on Oct. 26.

The writ asks that the transfer be declared fraudulent, and to have it directed that the lands and premises be sold "for the satisfaction of the commission" of the defendant.

Mr. Arnold, counsel for Mr. Cockburn, said the property was bought with Mrs. Cockburn's money and placed in his name only as a matter of convenience.

JAIL CALLED A NUISANCE

GRAND JURY INDICTS CITY

Place Declared Unfit for a Stable—Electoral Crimes Viewed With Amazement.

Yesterday the assizes grand jury presented a true bill against the city for "maintaining a nuisance" in Toronto Jail, which "for a number of years past and down to the date of the finding of this indictment was and is in a foul, noxious, unwholesome, uncomfortable, offensive, and inconvenient state for want of due attention, separation, accommodation, ventilation, cleansing and amendment."

The women's wards, the jury reported, are reached by a wooden stairway, which would be quite insufficient in case of fire and the entire building is provided with no system of fire protection. It was recommended that a new site of about fifty acres be secured at once and a new jail erected.

The indictment was traversed to the next assizes. Of other hallmarks of the indictment, the jury stated that the election cases, and from the numerous election suits arising from time to time in widely divided parts of the Dominion. It would seem as if all the election cases were being tried at the same time.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

MANAGER DOES NOT KNOW COST TO PRODUCE POWER

Says Cataract Charges Street Railway Same Price as Other Large Consumers.

Hamilton, Nov. 13.—(Special).—W. C. Hawkins, general manager of the Cataract Power Co., said under oath this afternoon before the Ontario railway and municipal board that he did not know what it cost the company to produce one horse-power of electricity.

When Mr. Kerr asked him on what basis his company charged the users of its power, when it did not know the cost of producing it, he could not give a satisfactory answer.

During the afternoon the chairman said he was haunted by a suspicion that the company charged the Street Railway Co. too much for horse-power, and that it would be interesting to know what it cost to produce its power. He would not insist on the company being compelled to say what that cost was.

FOR PASSENGER SERVICE

First Train on C.N.O. Leaves Here at 8.10 a.m. and Parry Sound at 7.30 a.m.

The Canadian Northern Ontario Railway will open their line to Parry Sound for passenger service next Monday.

The first southbound train will leave Parry Sound on Monday at 7.30 a.m. arriving in Toronto at 2.30 p.m.

The principal station on the line is Beaverton, 63 miles north of Toronto.

Rosedale, Duncan, Thornhill, Richmond Hill, Gormley, Vancor, Wood, Torrance, Isala, Dudley, Footes Bay, Lake Joseph, Blackstone and Falding.

There are nine other flag stations and sidings at which the company will do business, but there are no platforms or sheds, so far, at these points.

A copy of the passenger tariff has not yet been placed with the railway commissioners, but this will be done to-day or to-morrow.

Have a Telegraph Line. Telegraph communication between Toronto and Owen Sound has been established and there is some likelihood of the company opening up a public telegraph business between these two points.

W. H. McEwan has been appointed train dispatcher and will supervise the running of C.N.R. trains. All C.N.R. trains will use platform No. 4 at the Union Station and run over the Grand Trunk tracks to the Don, then over the old belt line till their own tracks connect.

Timetable No. 1 was issued to the company's employees last night and will go into effect at 12.01 p.m. Monday morning.

The new freight sheds at the foot of Cherry-street will be ready by Saturday.

H. M. Kilaly of the C.P.R. Toronto construction department has been named as the successor of the late H. Jordan, division engineer of the lines east of Montreal.

The C.P.R. will shortly call for tenders for their station at Parry Sound. The Eastern Passenger Agents' Association has decided to issue cheap tickets to the schoolteachers of Great Britain and Ireland on their visit next week.

F. S. Darling, construction manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, left last night for Parry Sound to inspect the "Parry extension line. Mr. Darling will remain up north for a week at Parry Sound.

Queenstown, Nov. 13.—On the arrival of the Cunard Line steamer Caronia off Rocher's Point, at the entrance of the harbor, this morning, it was reported that fire had broken out on board, but that it was extinguished.

The fire was discovered in the electric fan room at 1 o'clock this morning, after the Caronia had passed Broadhead. The flames were extinguished before the vessel reached Queenstown. All the precautions possible were taken against eventualities, but there was never any real danger, and the momentary excitement among the passengers who were aware of the outbreak of fire soon subsided.

President Castro is dying. REBEL LEADER LOOSE AGAIN.

Hockey League Endorses Eastern Decision to Mix Classes.

Winipeg, Nov. 13.—For my part I am heartily in accord with the action of the Eastern Hockey League...

Certain it is that the Manitoba League has arrived at the parting of the ways, and a decided stand must be taken one way or the other.

It should be either one thing or the other, and this idea of openly playing certain men on the team is a lot better than the veiled spirit of professionalism which we all know exists.

Another gentleman prominent in sporting circles visited western sentiment pretty fairly today when he said...

Where, then, does all the money go? Expenses are not so great as they are reported to be...

Another factor this season will be the possibility of drawing players from the International League...

esting process of adding interest to debts—a practice well known to bankers."

"I do not recollect any."

"As a matter of fact, only one or two branches were in anything like a satisfactory condition."

"I think that was so."

"Arrangements had been made with some brokers to support it."

"Yes."

"With whom?"

"Mr. Ames."

"So that Mr. Ames, prior to 1895, was entrusted with the obligation to support the stock of the Ontario Bank on the market?"

"He is the only one that did support it."

Mr. Langton thought that before 1895 some directors had bought stock in their own names, bought thru J. K. Niven & Co. The financing for the directors was done thru the names of the directors, and credit given them.

The stock was sold and bought as opportunity offered.

Mr. Langton's recollection was that when the bank was being reorganized certain Montreal stockholders were asked as to writing off the stock.

He didn't know whether these negotiations were intended to strengthen the support of the stock. Mr. Langton personally knew that Mr. Ames was likely to go on the board.

The magistrate suggested that the bank would have collapsed without this support, but there was no doubt about it. He stated that the president had once shown alarm over the street rumor that Mr. Ames was likely to go on the board.

The magistrate asked that payment of two sums of $20,000 each to the Ames firm looked in island ledger books they were for Long Island Railway bonds. Further, the books showed payments of $10,000 to the Ames Co. thru Hood & Co., and $15,000 thru Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co.

Was for the Bank.

The witness said these were calls on margins due to the falling market.

Mr. McKay, and the witness said vouches that the securities being dealt in by Mr. McGill from 1897, at least, were being dealt in in the interest of the bank.

"Absolutely."

"There was not the slightest doubt about that?"

"Not the slightest."

"And it was done in the hope of accumulating money to put the bank in a better condition?"

"Yes."

It appeared that up to 1901 the Denny account had shown a profit of over $200,000, including $177,827.51, in profit in stocks, $32,984.58 on bonds, and interest on stocks $10,117.17.

"Then, when the losses commenced they were also made on the bank's account?"

"Yes."

"No one imagined they were being made by Mr. McGill on his personal account?"

Mr. McKay asked about the stock ticker installed in the bank, and the information was obtained that when the Toronto Stock Exchange started a continuous service, more than one bank put in an instrument. Mr. Langton said he had seen at least one ticker in another bank.

The court asked if the sums of $10,000, $15,000 and $20,000 were not sent to New York to cover margins already lost, and if they weren't treated as assets. The witness agreed that this was so, and that the books showed a false state of affairs.

Question of Treatment.

The magistrate pointed out that in June, 1901, $150,000 appeared in the government reports under the head of stocks, bonds, debentures, etc., and had been put under balances due to bank from other banks and agents, and asked whether it might not be proper to do this in view of the condition of the bank. Mr. Langton said that that construction might be placed upon it. To Mr. McKay, he said that if the sum represented balances due from New York brokers, he thought it would be proper treatment, and was taken in hand by Mr. McKay, who asked whether the speculations began. In reply, he said he thought the manager's series of plunges began just prior to 1897.

"Probably just after the reconstruction of the bank," suggested Mr. McKay, and witness agreed.

Mr. McKay proceeded to ask Mr. Langton whether he had the knowledge or impression that the directors were cognizant of the speculations before the securities were bought and sold.

"The magistrate returned that this did not do away with the original defective entry of assets, which did not exist."

"In those charges made by those transfers to current loans there was no change in the assets of the bank?"

"None."

"So that it is a question in each instance of treatment?"

"Yes."

The magistrate returned that this did not do away with the original defective entry of assets, which did not exist.

When the Plunge Was Taken.

Mr. Langton was again on the stand at the opening of the afternoon's evidence, and was taken in hand by Mr. McKay, who asked whether the speculations began. In reply, he said he thought the manager's series of plunges began just prior to 1897.

"Probably just after the reconstruction of the bank," suggested Mr. McKay, and witness agreed.

Mr. McKay proceeded to ask Mr. Langton whether he had the knowledge or impression that the directors were cognizant of the speculations before the securities were bought and sold.

lors must have had some other knowledge, and took the step in consequence.

The court: There was no change in the method of keeping accounts after this.

Mr. McKay again referred to the summary of stock deals, and said that whoever got the sheet in 1902 must have been aware of the marginal dealings.

The magistrate said that the fact that Mr. Cockburn's writing appeared on the back did not imply that he had seen it in 1902. It might have been picked up in any following year.

Mr. Langton said that the idea in keeping two ledgers was to keep the deal anything as the balance could not be obtained without reference to both books. If either of the two were submitted to the directors, it would certainly be the "active" one.

To Re-trustee Solicitors.

An explanation of the "collector in trust" account proved more than satisfactory. One object was to keep the lawyers from getting 50 per cent of the net proceeds on shares held by an estate, thru notifying the beneficiaries.

Mr. Corley agreed that barristers' settlements referred to this practice.

Mr. Langton stated that Mr. Cockburn that it was decided at the annual meeting, June 15, 1897, to start the Ontario Bank of funds. There was an annual vote of $300,000.

"So that, from 1897 to 1905, there would be credited about $400,000?"

Mr. Corley said that more than that, said the witness, and Mr. Langton stated that several other amounts were charged up in the fund, and there were a few payments by officers of the bank of guarantee bonds. In all, it might come to $500,000.

It appeared that, in 1901, no less than 219 3/4 shares were carried, standing for $36,000 at par value, which they cost, at least, Mr. Langton thought the directors knew this was carried. Two of them did, at least. He was under the impression that a couple of the directors held blocks in their names, in trust. Their names he couldn't remember.

The court then referred to the fact that Frank Arnold, K. C., had been named by Mr. Cockburn, wished, thru him, to examine the witness touching the deal in Ontario Bank shares, by which the president was stated to have cleared over $400,000.

The first question was as to the number of shares held by Mr. Cockburn at the time of the annual meeting of new stock. Mr. Langton consulted the books, and said about 317 shares.

The magistrate commented that for three years the shares were carried with a loan against them.

Mr. Arnold: There was never a loan against them. The loan was against the shares. There was never a personal loan. It was not on the shares at all.

Other shares were carried under the name of "W. S. D., in trust," and "Confederation Life," in trust.

Mr. Corley asked Mr. Arnold how many shares of new stock Mr. Cockburn would be carrying. Mr. Langton replied that the 138 shares would represent one to three of the old. The issue price was 120, at which figure Mr. Cockburn would have necessarily taken them up. This was the first issue in December, 1900. On the 15th of February, 1903, the aggregate loan to the directors had been $300,000.

Mr. Langton repeated his assertion of Monday as to a call loan having been put thru the long-street branch. Mr. Corley suggested that the call meant a demand note. The witness referred to the ledger, and said that in October, 1903, the directors were shown as over $45,000, direct in December they showed as $30,456. In February, 1903, the aggregate loan to the directors had been $300,000.

March, after Mr. Cockburn had sold out, the loan was reduced to, in round numbers, $25,000, the loan to the president of the bank had been $25,000, till Feb. 28, and then wiped out.

"It was secured by a demand note it was a loan."

"Was there any transfer of stock?"

"Not that I recollect."

Mr. Langton assented to the suggestion that Mr. Cockburn would have been able to obtain a loan elsewhere. He was not aware that the 278 shares were covered by security. Mr. Corley asked if the interest was charged, and the reply was that the dividends, which were to cover the interest, were at the rate of six per cent on $20, or practically five per cent.

"If Mr. Cockburn had not been up the allotment, it would have been sold."

The officers guarantee fund would have taken them up.

Other queries touched the form of the transfer. Mr. Langton said the body of it was in his own writing, and that it was witnessed by Mr. Cockburn.

Mr. Langton volunteered the statement that in the summer of 1902 Mr. Cockburn had given the power of attorney to sell his 278 shares if the market price touched 140, while he was away.

"So that when he sold at 138 3/4 he didn't sell at more than he thought it was worth," declared the magistrate, with apparent relief.

Mr. Holland Called.

Charles Holland, the former general manager, was then called. Mr. Holland said he had filed this post from 1892 to 1895, and was then succeeded by McGill.

"It is said that the bank was insolvent at the time you left," informed Mr. Corley.

"I do not believe it; the bank, in my opinion, was entirely solvent," returned Mr. Holland, with much vigor and quickness.

"Do you recall anything that happened that would confirm that opinion?"

"Yes," said the witness, beginning volubly. "It was valued by the president and a committee of the board and general managers. They went thru the whole bank and assured themselves as to its condition. They valued the assets, went to Montreal and submitted them to the shareholders there. I believe they also submitted them to one of the banks, the premier bank, and came back and reported to the shareholders at the annual meeting in June, 1895. There was a surplus credited to profit and loss. The report was submitted to the shareholders, passed and adopted."

Mr. Holland stated that McGill was one of the managers who took part in the inspection. He was then manager of the Peterboro branch. When he came to succeed the bank, unfortunately he took thru the accounts, saying they were "all right," and that he was going to carry on precisely the same policy of management as Mr. Holland.

Mr. Corley: "How soon after was the capital cut?"

"The dividend was paid for six months following the date of the report, there had been a considerable shrinkage of the assets," Mr. Holland remembered Mr. Cockburn saying he would like to provide for his own future. The witness explained further that Mr. Cockburn wished to "lay a sum aside for his own future from the extra profits." Mr. Holland told Mr. Corley he believed the bank was then earning 12 per cent on the face value of stock.

Inspection of Head Office.

"Was there any inspection of the head office?"

"It was merely an advisory and supervisory office. The inspector was part of the office and there was really a constant inspection going on. The name of the inspector was Mr. Morris, and he continued in the post till his death."

Mr. Holland assured the magistrate that there had been no "gambling business on margin" in his time. A quantity of bonds had been bought, however, in New York, thru Denny & Co.

Mr. Corley: "Did you ever sell anything that you didn't have—go short?"

"Going down, but I never did anything of that kind."

"Did you ever buy any of your own stock?"

"Never."

The magistrate asked if it was "proper banking to gamble with stock on margin," and quoted Mr. Ames' remarks as to the "gambling" nature of the deal.

"I never heard of a case. I don't think any of our chartered banks do it. It may be done, but I don't believe it."

Mr. Holland didn't think it was "proper banking."

Mr. Corley: "Can you tell why Sir William Howland left the bank in 1895?"

"Because a number of shareholders wished a change in the bank."

"And shortly after in your own case, they thought a change would be beneficial?"

"They got both."

"And you see the result?"

"The result was to attack the bank in a deprecatory gesture and there was a ripple of amusement."

Mr. McKay here plunged into the proceedings in October, 1903, on the supposition that the bank was perfectly sound in 1895. He premised that the only true basis of computing value of assets was upon their realizable value, and asked whether all the assets of the bank in that year would have realized one hundred cents on the dollar.

Mr. Holland replied that there was a good deal of difference between a realized concern and a going one. Mr. McKay asked how much money would have been required to make the bank solvent if the assets had been calculated upon their realizable value. Mr. Holland replied that that would depend upon the size of the trade.

Mr. McKay selected a specific instance where an asset had been much overvalued. This was the paper of Jas. T. Hurst, which he said was valued at about $125,000. He said the Hurst concern had shortly after proved entirely insolvent, and Mr. Holland expressed his surprise. Mr. McKay added that in 1897 and 1898, possibly in 1896, it was wiped out.

Some inquiry was directed to the lumbering accounts carried in 1893, claimed to have been the worst year in the business on record.

Mr. Holland could only recall one account of a large one. Mr. McKay questioned whether the bank could have realized 20 cents on the dollar on it at that time, and cited that certain timber limited to the Ontario Bank, sold for a few years later, for $125,000, or $1,900,000. Mr. Holland would neither affirm nor deny, reiterating that the account was not absolutely good, and could then have been recommended as a going account.

The witness admitted that the Montreal branch had been unfortunate in the matter of some credit allowed, and that $100,000 had been lost by the bank. He said that at the time the valuation of assets was made, the account was one "in danger."

Another touch of adversity, as pointed out by Mr. McKay, was the result of credit to the Balaclava Railway, on which about $30,000 was dropped, as a result of the Montreal branch, as a result of the Montreal branch, as a result of the Montreal branch.

Another weak spot was shown up in the bank's holdings of real estate in Port Arthur and Fort Arthur, and also some Manitoba farm land. Mr. Holland said they had come in thru the winding up of the Winnipeg branch, which had held the lands on second mortgage. They were valued at $100,000, but Mr. Holland declined to say whether they were then actually worth more than $10,000. He denied that a mortgage of $30,000 had been held on the Stevenson House at Niagara Falls.

It was sought to show that the Port Arthur branch had led the bank into difficulties, and certain large examples, it was asserted, having been unrealized up to 1898. Mr. Holland held that the branch had proven a good one; as had also the Mount Forest branch, which was a large loss thru a firm there, as suggested by the examiner.

This valuation the president evidently did not agree with. He presented it to the stockholders, by way of example, on the strength of it, he admitted the reduction of the capital, summed up Mr. McKay.

The magistrate asked what balance the bank, in calculating its assets and liabilities, had, over and above the latter, and whether it was $300,000 or $400,000.

Mr. Holland replied that it couldn't have been more than $50,000 or $60,000. The court suggested that this would absolutely secure the shareholders, and Mr. Holland said he had thought so. His own opinion had been based largely on the valuation of the committee, and the president had told him the valuation was sound.

The court adjourned about 5:20 p.m., after it had been suggested by Mr. C. Larkin should go surety for $10,000 and John McGill, J. Gough and J. W. G. Fairweather $5,000 each.

Semi-ready

Every genuine "Semi-ready" garment has this Trademark sewn on the inside of the pocket. None genuine without this Governmental Trademark.

We create styles—not copy them, and our $15 suit has the same style as our $25 suit. As for fit there is not one man in 425 who cannot be perfectly fitted from any representative stock of Semi-ready Clothes—and that without delay—tall, short, thick, thin, high-shouldered, stoop-shouldered, sloping-shouldered, erect or over-erect. Men of all types—our physique type system makes special clothes to fit them. The 426th man may have to wait a couple of hours to have slight alterations made.

That is where we stand now: no thread of cotton in any of our fabrics; all seams sewn with pure silk threads—no "mercerized" cotton that looks like silk; all silk linings made of real silk. The clamor for low prices and the very high price of wool debased quality in many quarters, but we met it fairly, honestly and straight—and we have strengthened our position even while doing the pioneer work for a tailoring system which must ultimately prevail.

Semi-ready Tailoring, in fit, in style, in quality and in cultured tone expression, are good enough for every man; and not too high-priced for any man.

You will find it out some day; even though to-day you may be contented to abide by that which was and is not now.

A copy of our book, entitled "Manners and Modes for Men," is yours for a simple request. It pictures some of our fall and winter models.

WILLIAM GRAY RETURNS.

Conservative Candidate in London Election Back From Europe.

London, Nov. 13.—William Gray, president of the London Conservative Club, and Conservative candidate in the 110 vote election of a year ago, arrived from Europe this morning, where he had been three months.

Asked concerning the disclosures which have been made in the Toronto police court touching the means by which his defeat was accomplished, Mr. Gray said he did not wish to make any statement at this time.

BRONCHITIS CAN BE CURED

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup Will Do It.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by inclement weather or exposure to wet, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes.

The symptoms are tightness across the chest, sharp pains and difficulty in breathing, and a secretion of thick phlegm, at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color.

Neglected Bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. S. Fidler, Linton, N.B., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of my experience with Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. My little girl was very low with Bronchitis and our doctor did all in his power for her, but could only give her relief for a short time. My husband saw your medicine advertised, and immediately procured three bottles. I never saw anything give so much relief in so short a time. It stopped the annoying cough at night and she is now perfectly cured. I am so glad I can hardly express my gratitude for what Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has done for us."

Price 25 cents at all dealers.

IMPERIAL UNION TO COME BY EVOLUTION PROCESS

Prof. Jebb Emphasizes Importance of Preference as Means to Making Empire Real.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, Nov. 13.—Prof. Richard Jebb, lecturing on Imperial Organization before the Royal Colonial Institute to-night, said the question could only be solved by a process of evolution. He conceived imperial union as an international alliance, the central principle of which should be sought in consultations between the nations by means of conferences and with permanent ambassadors, who would be privy councillors and members of their governments.

He emphasized the importance of preferential trade as a means to making the empire a reality to its people, and denied that England was being asked to sacrifice her national interests on the imperial altar. Home-tariff reformers should make the question a domestic one and exclude the idea that a new imperial machinery was required to deal with it.

Regarding imperial defence his conception of an imperial alliance would be fulfilled when each partner state gave its young men rudimentary military instruction, entrusted its home defence to an efficient citizen army and supplied contingents to an imperial striking force stationed, perhaps, in South Africa, and furnished a squadron to the imperial navy. (Applause.)

Under these conditions there would be an all-round ability to fight if ever the alliance occurred in willingness to fight.

In foreign relations he claimed that our foreign friends who had this ability inevitably outweighed the claims of imperial dependents who had it not.

The lecturer also stated that the government has no use for such a measure. He hoped the house of lords would realize that the bill as sent up was in accord with the pledges the government meant to keep.

GASTUBE UNDER BEDCLOTHES AGED MAN'S METHOD TO DIE

East Toronto Resident Found Dead in Bed—Left Money to Pay for Notifying Brother.

For years Charles Bartholomew, a well-to-do and highly respected citizen, who lived a solitary life in the premises belonging to him in East Toronto, called every morning at the postoffice of the village and then made his purchases for the day. The fact that he did not call at the postoffice, as usual, on Monday morning attracted attention. When he was missed again on Tuesday morning, some alarm was felt that he might be ill, and a search was made for him.

Mr. Bartholomew had committed suicide, probably Sunday night. He had attached a long rubber tube to the gas jet in one of the rooms and turned on the gas full head. The tube was found near his face under the bedclothes where he had evidently lain down to die.

A note addressed to the mayor and Mr. Cobley asked them to notify his brother, Thomas C. Bartholomew of Norwich, Ont. There was also a statement that he could no longer endure the suffering caused by his disease, and that he was unable to undergo further operation. He left 25 cents to pay the telegraph charges in notifying his brother.

The remains are held awaiting an order from the coroner. He is not known to have any other relatives.

KNOX COLLEGE M.S.

The Work of a Year Under Review at Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Knox College Missionary Society was held in the College Chapel last night. Rev. Dr. John Neil of Westminster Church presiding.

Rev. Dr. E. H. Oliver, one of the 20 missionaries sent out to the west by the society, also an interesting account of his experiences in the Algonquin and lumber camps of British Columbia.

The financial secretary, F. H. Moyer, reported that the society had started out with $3282. Of this $3282 had been expended for student workers' salaries and board and $1838 for railway fares. The total expenses for the year amounted to $3538, leaving a balance of $381.90. Mr. Moyer stated that 33 missionaries, mostly students, were sent out and the results were very satisfactory.

OBITUARY.

Harry Webb, The death took place yesterday of Harry Webb, president of the Harry Webb Co., bakers and confectioners. Mr. Webb retired from active business twelve years ago. He was 68 years of age and leaves a widow.

CONFERENCE TO-DAY.

Between Mr. Beck and Western Municipalities Association.

A meeting of the hydro-electric power commission is to be held this morning. There will also be a meeting of the municipalities commission in the mayor's chambers at the city hall at 10.30.

PROBE WEST HURON.

Hibbery Enquiry Resumes and May End To-Day—18 More Witnesses.

The London bribery investigation will be resumed in the police court this morning, and Mr. DuVernet said last night, will probably be wound up before the day is ended.

The West Huron election is to be probed. Eighteen Goderich Liberals have been subpoenaed, among them W. L. Horton, president of the local association; Jas. Yates, division court clerk, and a number of those who acted as deputy returning officers, including H. L. Watson, John Edwards, A. Smith, R. Young, Wm. McCarthy, and Police Magistrate Humber, A. M. Todd of the Goderich Star, who acted as returning officer, has also been subpoenaed.

A state of affairs similar to that existing at Brockville is to be revealed. The witnesses are also expected to corroborate Pritchett's evidence.

The crown has been unable to induce Farr, who knows a great deal about the misconduct of elections in Western Ontario, to return from the United States to give evidence.

RICHIEU CANAL SCHEME BEFORE DEEP WATERWAYS

Company Proposes to Make Lake Champlain a Storage Basin and Use Water for Power.

Buffalo, Nov. 13.—The international waterways commission met here to-day. The application of the Richelieu Canal Co. was under consideration. Canadian interests, it is said, are behind this proposition, which, if present plans are carried out, will open a direct water route between Montreal and New York.

Men prominently identified with the project arrived here to-day, and they will be given a chance to lay their plans before the commission to-morrow.

It was learned to-night on good authority that the company proposes to make Lake Champlain a storage basin for the canal, and that they want to use about 9000 cubic feet per second from the waters of the lake. The promoters intend to utilize the waters of the lake for both navigation and power purposes.

The Minnesota Canal and Power Co.'s application for water rights was considered, but no definite action was taken.

The commissioners also discussed the Lake Erie international boundary question, and the present status of Niagara Falls power. No recommendations were made, the discussion being largely over matters of detail.

The commissioners at the meetings are: American section: General O. R. Ernst, George Clinton of Buffalo, and E. E. Haskell of Detroit.

BELLEVILLE CITY HONORS PROMINENT EDUCATIONIST

Leading Citizens Join in Tribute to Robert Mathison, Who Becomes I.O.F. Supreme Sec.

Belleville, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—One of the most brilliant social events seen in this city for many years was the banquet tendered to-night by the Canadian Imperial Club of Belleville, to Mr. Robert Mathison, who to-morrow retires from the office of superintendent of the Ontario Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, an office he has held for 21 years.

ROBERT MATHISON. Twenty-one Years Supt. Ontario Institution for Deaf and Dumb, Who Retires to Take Office of Supreme Secretary of I.O.F.

whom were Dr. Spankle of Kingston, superintendent of the Ontario Educational Institutions; H. F. Gardiner, superintendent of the Ontario Institution for the Blind, Brantford; Magistrate Woodgett of Brantford, and Lionel Parker of Minneapolis, brother of Sir Gilbert Parker.

Among the local men present were Mayor Sulman, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, his son, J. C. Bowdell of Vancouver; E.C. E. Guss Fortier, M.P.; W. B. Northrup, M.P.; J. W. Johnson, principal of the Ontario Business College; Col. Ponton, ex-Mayor of Graham; Thomas Ritchie, at one time Liberal candidate for the commons in West Hastings; most of the members of the city council; the entire staff of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, and in fact the great majority of the prominent men in our professional and business life.

Regret His Leaving. Mr. Mathison, during his 27 years residence practically in this city, has endeared himself to all, both by his urbanity, wisdom of administration and fairness to all, and the banquet to-night, judging by the tone of the speeches, was a spontaneous expression of general regret at his departure. The Canadian Imperial Club, under whose auspices the banquet was given, is, as its name indicates, devoted to the furtherance of imperial things, and Mr. Mathison has, since the club's formation, been one of its most valued members.

YOU'LL NEED A FUR-LINED OVERCOAT SOON

Out of the abundance of cheap fur-lined overcoats sold in Toronto, how many ever prove satisfactory? It pays much better to pay a little more and get one that has real value and a quality that makes it both comfortable and durable. We sell fur-lined overcoats as low as $37.50, but the one we recommend is this:

To-night's spread was served up in the hotel's best style, the cuisine and service being excellent. Thomas Ritchie was chairman, and on his right was the guest of honor. Letters of regret were read from A. H. U. Colquhoun, deputy minister of education; Dr. Oronhyateka, Dr. Fyne, minister of education, and the Hon. A. G. Marshall of this city. The different letters overflowed with praise of Mr. Mathison, Dr. Fyne and Mr. Colquhoun both adding a tribute of praise to his efficiency.

The toast to the King was loyally honored. The next toast was "The Empire," which was subsequently proposed by ex-Mayor Johnson, and responded to by E. Guss Porter, M.P., and Col. Ponton. The toast, "Our Guest," was eloquently proposed by the chairman, supported by Walter Alford-Johnson and A. F. Wood of Madoc, the magistrate who tried the hall's case. All the speeches referred to Mr. Mathison's services and the cause of education in general, and the education of the deaf and dumb in particular.

In his reply Mr. Mathison expressed his gratification at the many kind things said of him. When he came to the institution 27 years ago, he expected to stay about a month, but the government told him to stay and take charge, and he had then no voice in the matter. He knew few persons in Belleville then, and was glad those persons were still his friends.

Mr. Mathison then told how he had studied the sign language with Mrs. McDermid, now wife of the principal of the school for the deaf, Winnipeg, and also with the late Dr. Bell at Brantford. The institute had had good teachers, and they freely gave the best advice and assistance they could. Their former pupils were now successfully following many occupations, and many had made their mark in athletics.

Make Good Citizens. There had been 182 deaf children under his superintendence, with few exceptions, those now alive were good law abiding citizens of the land. Many letters of thanks from parents had been received, a couple of which he read. There had been only one complaint during his time of office. That is now being investigated. He was proud of the fact that he had been instrumental in having the Belleville Institute, and also that in Brantford, taken out of the category of asylums and placed under the head of educational institutions.

The matter of religion had been well looked after during his regime at the institute, and Mr. Mathison dwelt with pleasure on the fact that the old pupils had many literary and other societies, where they helped each other in many ways.

Loyal Teaching Staff. Again, he asserted that for whatever good had been accomplished much credit was due to the teachers and officers, who had been true and loyal to the pupils, himself and their duties. There was nothing political in his attitude, and he bespoke for his successor the same kindness, fairness and generous treatment that had been accorded to him.

In conclusion, he said he and his

A housefurnishing club opens at this store, to-morrow. This being the fourth club of the kind we have inaugurated, we feel that it is unnecessary at this date to do much more than announce the New Club and to state that it will be conducted upon precisely the same plan as was found so satisfactory last Christmas. In brief the plan is this:

family had spent the happiest years of their lives at the institute, and it was with feelings of the deepest regret that he said farewell. Mr. Mathison was given a tremendous ovation at the conclusion of his speech. His feelings overcame him as his old friends cheered him.

Canada. "Canada and Her Parliaments" was the next toast, proposed in eloquent terms by W. S. Morden. W. B. Northrup, M.P., replied in a brilliant speech, touching with a master hand many of the questions of the day. Very warm and spontaneous, indeed, were the tributes both speakers paid Mr. Mathison, whose loss they deplored, but at whose good fortune in departing such a prominent position with the tributes they rejoiced.

Paul Denys, for 32 years a teacher at the Deaf and Dumb Institute, also replied to the toast. Mr. Denys is a French-Canadian, and his words were glowing ones. French-Canadians, Mr. Denys said, were loyal to the core, and he was deeply affected in the speaking of Mr. Mathison's departure. At the institute they had loved and respected Mr. Mathison more than words could tell.

The next toast was "Our Educational Institutions," proposed by Police Magistrate Flint and responded to by Dr. Spankle and several others. Among the educational institutions of Canada, all the speakers said, none were greater than the Belleville Institution for the Deaf, mainly thru the efforts of Mr. Mathison, who had always been ready to welcome visitors at the institute, and always ready to lend his aid to any good movement.

Belleville's Loss. "The City of Belleville" was ably proposed by C. M. Reid, and responded to by ex-Mayor Graham, Mayor Sulman and Ald. Sinclair. All the speakers eulogized Belleville, and everyone agreed that no citizen of this city had ever been more a credit to it than Mr. Mathison. His loss to the city would be an irreparable one, and many good wishes and blessings would follow them.

Several votaries toasts followed, replied to by Sir Mackenzie Bowell and others. The burden of each speech was eulogy of the guest of honor. Excellent songs were rendered thru-out the evening by Messrs. S. R. Burrows, Taylor, Lionel Parker, Doyle, Holgate and Ilsey. Reginald Geome acted as accompanist in splendid style. The banquet was graced by the presence of many ladies, among them

Lady Parker, who is at present visiting in the city; Mrs. and Miss Mathison, and several others, all of whom followed the proceedings with great interest. It was between 2 and 3 o'clock when the gathering broke up, all voting it a huge success, and to which Mr. Mathison could look back with pride and pleasure for many years.

SIXTH WARDERS MEET.

David Spence Elected President of the Central Association.

Madison's Hall never held a more enthusiastic gathering than that of last night, when the annual meeting of ward six Central Liberal Conservatives took place. Taxing the capacity of the building to accommodate, the meeting was promptly called to order by Dave Spence, and the first order of business, the election of officers, was proceeded with. Seated on the platform were: E. B. Oaler, M.P., Claude Macdonnell, M.P., Thomas Crawford, M.L.A., Mayor Costwood, Controllers Stuart, Hurland, Jones, Ald. Dunn, Trustee Davis, Ald. MeChie, Dr. Ger. Sam Wright, Wm. Creel and F. J. Roche.

The election of officers resulted: Honor-

Never So Well Since Girlhood

Mrs. E. J. Vanderburgh of Eastern Weiland-avenue, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "For twenty-one years I was badly afflicted with heart trouble, nervousness and cramps in the limbs, also twitching of the muscles and nervous headaches. I became weak, debilitated and emaciated. My condition was so distressing and I was made worse through worry and loss of sleep. I tried a hundred remedies in vain, and finally, about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I decided to try it. After having used half a dozen boxes of this preparation my old trouble had entirely vanished, and I was enjoying better health than I had since girlhood. I am now past middle life and am in perfect health. I would not take words-to-day and go back to my former state."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is especially popular with the women because of its gentle action and remarkable restorative influence; 50c a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

ary presidents, E. B. Oaler, M.P.; Claude Macdonnell, M.P.; Thomas Crawford, M.L.A.; president, Dave Spence; first vice-president, Ald. McGhie; second vice-president, W. Corrigan; third vice-president, John Jones; secretary, C. McKee; treasurer, John Fawcett; executive committee, A. G. Caldwell, J. Fryer, R. W. Wray, John Hall, J. Wright, C. Steele, J. Hunt, A. Hurl, C. Campbell, J. Gray, G. Robbie, W. H. Warrington and W. Mann.

The annual banquet was held and addresses given. Mr. Oaler declared that Toronto would have to clean up the bay before the government would improve the harbor. He also advocated more playgrounds in the city. There were a number of other speeches. A resolution of regret at the absence of John Laxton was passed.

LORDS HAVE GONE TOO FAR IN MUTILATING MEASURE

Mr. Birrell Declares Education Bill, as Amended, is a Sheer Impossibility.

Ristol, Eng., Nov. 13.—In a speech delivered here to-night, Augustine Birrell, president of the board of education, said the education bill, as reconstructed in the house of lords, was a sheer impossibility. As the measure came from the house of commons, it was unobjectionable, but the lords had fostered and bolstered up the demoralization.

Mr. Birrell said he hoped the lords would recognize during the committee stage of the bill that they had gone too far, and that a liberal government could not be carried on with advantage and sincerity if measures prepared in accordance with its pledges were mutilated and destroyed by an unrepresentative assembly.

The Liberal papers this morning comment upon the speech, as an ultimatum on behalf of the government to the house of lords. The Tribune declares the education bill is the last effort that will be made to reconcile popular control with religious education, and avers that if the present bill is destroyed it will be substituted not a denominational, but a secular, system of religious education.
