STATEMENT BY SCHULENBERG

Already Civil War at Hand When William Made up His Mind—Even Then, it is Declared, He Tried to Remain King of Prussia

Berlin, April 7.—(By the Associated Press)—While admitting there was a difference of opinion among German leaders in an article on the abdication of Emperor William, published in the Freiheit, that there were enough loyal troops to have marched on Aix-la-Chapelle and Cologne and put down the revolution. The count says that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and General Groener, Prussian war minister, would not assume the responsibility for such a move, however, arguing that things had gone too far and that only the abdication of Emperor William would save the situation. The emperor, he says, was emphatic in declaring he did not desire a civil war and that he would not call upon the army to engage in such a conflict.

Trinity Church Protest Received at City Hall—Amendments to the Carrier Bill Relative to N. B. Power Company Approved

It is entirely likely that the civic by-law prohibiting the operation of a public garage within 300 feet of a place of public worship will be either amended or rescinded. Since it was passed the council has had almost endless trouble over its provisions and the matter came to a head today when Trinity church protested its objection to a proposed garage which the members of the council thought should be permitted to operate. Action will be taken by the council to restore their right to deal with individual cases on their merits.

He denied he had been a holdout but declined to say on what terms the controversy with the Detroit club had been settled.

GERMANS MAY BE FOXY

A traveler for a large Canadian house handling toys and fancy goods, thinks that it is very doubtful if the Germans will be able to market their goods in Canada for a good many years because of the animosities aroused. Japanese goods are more particularly replacing them at present but now that the war is over English and American goods as well as French makes will in all probability flood the markets of the allied countries. It is said that the Germans have been slow to be released through Dutch and Swiss channels with fictitious trademarks upon them as soon as peace is declared and barriers removed.

QUEER CAUSE FOR FIRE

Hot ashes upon an old mattress in a room at the Hotel Brunswick, 82 Exmouth street brought out the department firemen yesterday morning. The fire rendered all the work necessary to put out the blaze. The distinguishing feature of this alarm from box 15 was the fire run of the fire teams, Brussels street affording a veritable race-way for autos and horse teams which reached the scene before the second round of the alarm was finished—a two-number alarm too.

BRITISH FORCE OFF TO RUSSIA THIS WEEK

Many Canadians Among Those Anxious to Serve; Omsk Government Gains Power; Heavy Bolshevik Losses in North Lithuania, Which Country They Are Abandoning

London, April 7.—The British government hopes to be able to dispatch the first part of the relief force for northern Russia on Wednesday, says the Mail, which adds that the appeal for volunteers is meeting with a gratifying response. There is already a large waiting list of officers and men who are anxious to serve in northern Russia, many Canadian being included in the number.

OMSK GOVERNMENT GAINS IN POWER

Paris, April 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The Russian government's steadily gaining in power, according to advices to the Russian commission here, said Boris A. Bakmeteff, Russian ambassador to the United States, today. In Bolsheviki and non-Bolsheviki Russia, the ambassador added, there are as large organized armies as in any European country. He continued:—"General Denekine, in the Caucasus, has 200,000 men; the Koltchak government has same number, and the strength of the Bolsheviki, which has been variously estimated, is probably 500,000. All three forces are fairly effective, the discipline of the Bolsheviki having been improved greatly. The Russian military movements are so scattered over isolated territory that the world apparently has had slight of their magnitude, but other nations should remember that Bolshevism is no longer a Russian problem, but a world problem and the signing of a peace treaty with Germany does not solve it."

FAITH IN CANADA KNOWS NO LIMIT

Lord Milner Says no Other Country Less Likely to Be Swept Off Feet

London, April 7.—(Canadian Associated Press)—At a dinner given on last Friday night by W. M. Birks in celebration of the acceptance of the principality of McGill University by Sir Auckland Geddes, and attended by Right Hon. A. Bonar Law, Premier Borden, Lord Milner, Sir Eric Geddes, Sir Edward Kennel, Sir George Perley, Donald McMaster and others, Lord Milner, proposing the toast of the evening, said:—"My faith in Canada knows no limits and is the faith of a life time. His Lordship proceeded to speak of Canada's industrial development. He said:—"We must learn to speak of Canada not only as a great agricultural country, but as a great industrial country. We need a great unrest where we respect that the events of the last four years have given a tremendous shock to the whole world. Society everywhere is rocking. It would be foolish to underestimate the danger, but I believe we shall keep our heads. Canada will have troubles without doubt, but having regard to the generosity of her policy, her vast resources and power of expansion, I do not think any country less likely to be swept off its feet."

NURSING SISTER NELLIE DONAHOE HOME AGAIN

St. John Girl Who Had Been Nearly Four Years in France

Among those who arrived in St. John from Halifax yesterday morning, having come from England on the S. S. Coronica, was Nursing Sister Nellie Donahoe of St. John. She went overseas in May, 1916, to England and from there was sent to France soon after her arrival. She spent most of her time in No. 1 Canadian General Hospital at Etaples in France. After for time spent in England after the armistice she signed until leaving for Canada, Nursing Sister Donahoe has spent nearly four years in France, probably as long as any other nursing sister who has been there, and has no doubts had some thrilling experiences. A large circle of friends will be glad to hear of her safe return and congratulate her on her excellent work which she has done while "over there."

PROPOSAL TO SMUTS

Hungarian Government's Proposition to Entente Delegate

Budapest, April 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The Hungarian government has proposed to General Jan Christian Smuts, who was sent here by the peace conference at Paris, that conferences be held at Vienna or Prague by representatives of Czechoslovakia, Roumania, German-Austria, Hungary and Jugoslavia regarding boundaries and economic questions. Bela Kun, Hungarian foreign minister, in discussing the situation, said:—"This is the first time the Entente has sent us a diplomatic mission. This is proof that the Soviet government is the first strong regime since the November revolution. There is not the least sign that the Entente wishes to undertake military operations against us. General Smuts has been received in a friendly spirit and a proposition for a conference concerning boundaries has been submitted to him."

PROVINCES MAY UNITE

Rev. Dr. David Hutchison of the Main street Baptist church left for Amherst on the noon train to attend a joint meeting of the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia home mission bands at which the matter of maritime union will be discussed. This meeting, if its purpose materializes, will be an historic one in the history of the denomination. Fourteen received Five candidates were baptized in Main street Baptist church yesterday forenoon and at the evening service fourteen were given the right hand of fellowship into the fold. The joint evangelistic meetings between Main street and Victoria street churches have been finished.

CITY AND POWER COMPANY
Either this week or next week the matter of the New Brunswick Power Company and the city will come before the legislature. The Currier report would give the company a rate base of $2,800,000, but would recognize the whole $3,100,000 in bonds and preferred stock, and add $500,000 from the common stock when a surplus reserve of $300,000 had been piled up out of earnings.

CRACKS THE WHIP AGAIN.
The Standard devotes nearly a column to an article informing the Conservative party in this province that the old discredited leaders are to be jammed down its throat, and it must follow them or die.

USE THE SCHOOL HOUSES.
New conditions bring new problems. Human society today is in a transition stage of a peculiarly marked character. Thoughtful people are concerned about many things. What are to be the future relations between capital and labor? What is to take the place of the old conditions of home life which existed when there were fewer attractions and distractions and life was not so terribly complex? How is child-life to be conserved and the children equipped for the tasks of an age so utterly different from that in which their grandfathers lived? How is public health to be promoted, all children educated, social evils overcome, poverty removed, the principles of good citizenship inculcated, and human brotherhood brought appreciably nearer?

There has seldom been a more biting arraignment of public disregard for the country's health than was expressed by Dr. Hastings, of Toronto, at the convention of the American Public Health Association some months ago when he said: "Attend almost any church burial service and you will hear the officiating parson read from the service, 'The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh away, Blessed be the name of the Lord.' In the light of modern knowledge can you conceive of anything more illogical on the Almighty? If the church is determined to retain its form, why not change it sufficiently to make it consistent, and have it read: 'The Lord giveth and the municipality taketh away. Cursed be the name of the municipality.'"

Let us hope Canada will not destroy the faith of Lord Milner when he said in London on Friday evening: "Society everywhere is rocking. It would be foolish to underestimate the danger, but I believe we shall keep our heads. Canada will have troubles without doubt, but having regard to the generosity of her policy, her vast resources and power of expression, I do not think any country less likely to be swept off its feet."

Development along this line is strongly advocated in England. In one of last year's issues of the Nineteenth Century Lady Barrington outlined a plan for vil-

A Refreshing Shampoo
An Ivory Soap shampoo is a distinct pleasure. The soft, smooth, delightful lather quickly covers the head, absorbing the dirt of scalp and hair. Rinsing leaves the hair fluffy and soft and the scalp pleasingly invigorated. A regular shampoo with Ivory promotes healthy hair. IVORY SOAP 99.44% PURE IT FLOATS

The Story of the Diamond

Until the discovery of the South African mines, diamonds had always been found on the surface, in river beds and gravel pits.

In the South African mines, as the excavation progressed, they found "shoots" or pipes filled with blue clay, reaching downwards, which were rich in stones.

To account for this, some have ventured the opinion that at one time small lakes were, through some eruption, discharged into the bowels of the earth and, that through eruptions which followed, these funnels filled with "crystallized carbons" were shot forth.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. B. R. Macaulay.
The relatives and numerous friends of Mrs. Eunice Weston Macaulay, widow of Beverley R. Macaulay, were further saddened late Saturday when she passed to her rest after an illness of nine days. Mrs. Macaulay was one of the best known and most highly esteemed ladies of St. John and her death following so closely that of her husband is a severe shock to members of the family circle who are at home. Mr. Macaulay, who was a member of the drygoods firm of Macaulay Brothers & Co., became ill on Tuesday, March 25, and died on March 28, pneumonia being the cause of death. Mrs. Macaulay was stricken with the same disease the day before her husband's death. Dr. John A. Macaulay of Grand Manan, a nephew, has been in constant attendance.

Mrs. Macaulay's daughter, Jeanet, wife of John A. Cameron of London, with her husband, is a passenger on the steamship Megantic, due at Halifax some day this week. The sons, Lieutenant Robert A. Macaulay, Donald A. and Norman A., are in England, and the two latter are expected to sail for home any day. Donald and Norman went overseas with the 4th Siege Battery under command of Major Barker and Lieutenant Macaulay is stationed at Seaford, England. E. Percy Howard, a son-in-law of the late Mrs. Macaulay, will leave for Halifax upon the arrival of the Megantic and will convey the sad news to Mrs. Cameron.

Mrs. Macaulay was born in Richmond, Carleton County, July 26, 1863, the daughter of the late James Henry and Ann Merrill Russell. On June 18, 1888, she was married to Mr. Macaulay. The surviving children are: Jeanet, wife of John A. Cameron; Marion A., wife of E. Percy Howard of St. John; Lieutenant Robert A., Donald A. and Robert A.

The surviving sisters are Mrs. Alice Blanchard Macaulay, wife of Alexander Macaulay; Mrs. Bertha Dean Allen, widow of Walter H. Allen; Mrs. Mary Francis Kane, wife of Edgar V. Kane of Miramichi (Wis.); She also leaves a brother, James William Russell of San Diego (Cal.).

Mrs. Macaulay was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and was an active worker for the welfare of the church and sister. The sincere sympathy of the community is tendered the family in their great sorrow.

Capt. Joseph Read, M. P.

Ottawa, April 6—In the death of Captain Joseph Read, member of parliament for Prince Edward Island, in his seventieth year in St. Luke's Hospital from pneumonia tonight the house of commons loses a member universally beloved, and one who was regarded as one of the characters of the house. His long flowing beard, his venerable appearance, his twinkling, humorous eyes, his broad shoulders and thick chest all made up a general ensemble which led his friends to dub him in an wholly affectionate manner, "the ancient mariner." This appellation was given as well because Captain Read was a master mariner, who had commanded his own vessels in many parts of the seven seas, and who was able to enrich his occasional addresses in the house by appropriate yarns to illustrate almost any subject that might come up.

Especially was this true when subjects like free trade and reciprocity with the United States came up when from the store of information he had gleaned in the capacity of captain of a merchant ship he could tell what free trade or protection had actually done in the trades in which he had been engaged.

The death of Captain Read came very suddenly to the members, although he had been known to be sick during the last few days. He came to the present session as full of energy as ever and he seemed to be so full of life and vitality even at his advanced age that a fatal termination to his illness was not expected. He was a staunch Liberal. His home was at Summerside. His body will be interred at Summerside. John E. Sinclair will accompany it to the east tomorrow. The deceased was in his seventieth year, having been born on October 31, 1849. His death makes the fifth vacancy in the commons, the others being: Quebec East, Assiniboia, Saskatchewan, Glangary and Storm, Ontario, and North Ontario.

The death of William McFawn occurred at his home in Donk Saturday morning after a short illness from pneumonia. He was sixty-three years of age and is survived by his wife, five sons and three daughters.

The death of Mrs. Charlotte Wilbur occurred Friday morning at the home of her half-brother, Captain Charles Bishop, Cape Station, after a short illness from pneumonia. She leaves one brother and two half-brothers.

SECOND ANNIVERSARY The second anniversary services of the amalgamation of St. Stephen and St. John Presbyterian churches was celebrated at Knox church yesterday morning and evening. There were very large congregations at both services and the speaker for the day was Rev. Thomas Stewart, B.D., D.D. Rev. Dr. Stewart is at present agent for the Presbyterian church, eastern division, and his headquarters are at Halifax. Formerly he was professor of church history at the Presbyterian College, Halifax. At the evening service he spoke of the forward movement. His subject was "What is the business of the church." He said that the business of the church was not to legislate, nor was it for social services, but it was for the building up of character. In other words, it was to lay a sure foundation for the future in Jesus Christ. This has always and will always be the work of the church. A special offering was held at both services for church purposes and amounted to $610.

GOODYEAR MADE IN CANADA Measure Tire Costs Right You can't measure the value of a tire by its price. You must consider the service you get. A season's mileage from three tires at $30.00 each is more costly than the same service from two at $40.00 each. Consider mileage --- measure tire value by cost-per-mile. Obviously the most economical tire to buy is the one that will give the most in miles and in untroubled service. Most motorists have discovered that a cheap, inferior tire is not an economical tire to own ---even at a very low price. It is natural that a big, growing organization should possess the resources for building tires of unstinted quality. Only a world-wide organization can excel in such resources. Tire-making machinery is costly. Tire-makers are expert and highly-paid men. Trained chemists are a necessity. And the broad experience of the entire organization is a vital factor. Such are the resources of world-wide Goodyear. And the result has been Tires so good that motorists buy them in ever-increasing numbers. To-day Goodyears are the largest selling tires in the world. Such sales, steadily increasing over a period of years, can only come from actual value in the tires. The Goodyear Service Station Dealer nearest you will show you further reasons why you should use Goodyear Tires. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Canada, Limited

Indemnities And Reparations Are Agreed Upon

Germans Must pay 25,000,000,000 Francs — First Ten Billion to France and Five to Belgium

Paris, April 6.—(Havas)—The council of four on Saturday reached an agreement on the principles on the indemnities and reparations to be paid by Germany and examination of the details will begin immediately, the newspapers say. It is not believed there will be any disagreement as to details, and it is indicated that the text of the financial terms will be finished during the week. The Echo de Paris says that compromises were effected on all debatable points regarding the sum to be paid at once by Germany and the payments in the future. Against the opposition of the French government, it was agreed, the paper says to distribute the future payments over a term of thirty years. The payments for the next few years were fixed. The journal says there are indications that the rights of France and Belgium to prior consideration in the payments by Germany have been recognized. The first German payment, it says, will be 25,000,000,000 francs of which five billion will go to pay for raw materials to insure the resumption of German economic life. France will get ten billion francs and Belgium five billion of the first payment. The rest of the indemnity, the paper says, will run over a period of thirty-five years. Plans for continued occupation of the left bank of the Rhine have been abandoned and the Allies will send upon an economic blockade as a means of pressure on Germany. Final agreement on the Rhine and Sarre valley questions will be reached before the end of the week, it is added. Increased optimism in diplomatic circles is noted by the press, while in editorials the newspapers express satisfaction over the progress made over the reparation and indemnity. It is pointed out that each day of delay in reaching a final agreement adds to the losses of France. The favorable solution of the Danzig question is commented upon in complimentary terms. The moral and political advantages of the agreement are emphasized by the papers.

HEAVY CASUALTIES AMONG HUN OFFICERS

Berlin, Thursday, April 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Prussia's huge losses in officers and men during the war are indicated by a staff officer, who writes in the Lokal Anzeiger. He submits figures compiled from the official casualties lists to show that 92,454 active officers at the front were killed, wounded or missing out of a total of 34,350, and that more than 4,350,000 soldiers were killed, wounded or missing out of 10,178,000 who actually fought at the front. He points out that these figures belie the stories sometimes heard that the Prussian officers did not attack with their men, and asserts that their losses were particularly heavy in the first two years, but were much less in the later years of the war because the officers had to be saved for general staff work. The figures show also how little Germany counted on a long war, for the Prussian mobilization contemplated 3,700,000 soldiers to which approximately 6,500,000 had to be added before the end. Germany started the war with 18,226 active Prussian officers, and drew 14,824 more into the service.

Ludlow Street Church Honors Hero Members

Memorial and Honor Rolls Unveiled—Thirteen From Church Gave Their Lives

A memorial tablet, bearing the names of all the members of the congregation who had fallen on active service, was unveiled in the Ludlow street United Baptist church yesterday morning. There was a very large attendance present and a most impressive service was held. The tablet was unveiled by Miss Pearl Barton, a young daughter of Edward Barton, one of the soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice. There are thirteen names in all on the tablet. The pastor, Rev. W. R. Robinson, gave the address and chose his text from Deut. 32:7, "Remember the days of old." He told the congregation that the gathering was not one of sorrow, but of rejoicing, not one of condolence but of congratulation. Those who had gone forth and died had erected by their sacrifice in defense of freedom and liberty a monument more enduring and lasting than that of marble, silver or gold, as the monument of a life given in the defense of mother, home and country. He pointed out that the silver lining to the dark cloud of the present condition of those who have been bereft of father, husband, brother or son will be readily appreciated if they consider, first, what their loved ones were; second, what they became; third, what they did for those at home; and fourth, what they now are. The honor roll tablet bearing the names of all from the congregation who had enlisted for active service was unveiled at the evening service. The church was crowded and many who wished to attend were unable to gain admittance. In his address, Rev. W. R. Robinson referred to the services those on the honor roll had rendered to their king and country, and urged on all present to give them a royal welcome as they returned to their old homes, many of them having spent more than four years at the front. Two special features worthy of mention were the facts that one of the ninety-three who had gone to the front was Nursing Sister Isadore L. Smith, who is still doing her bit in nursing back to health the wounded and sick soldiers; and that Mr. and Mrs. James Burnett gave six sons, all of these being members of the church.

Following the address Mrs. Price, president of the Sunshine circle of the church, by whom the tablets were erected, unveiled the memorial tablet. As the flag dropped from the tablet the whole congregation rose and the national anthem was sung. The honor roll members are: Isadore L. Smith, Renwick M. Anderson, Kenneth Allaby, James Adams, Rudman W. C. Allen, Albert Burnett, John Burnett, James Burnett, Edgar Burnett, George E. Burnett, William Burnett, James Brazillion, Thomas B. Browne, James W. The C. P. O. S. liner Melita, with 1,529 passengers, including 860 officers and men of other ranks and a large number of soldiers' dependents, arrived here Saturday and docked at 9 o'clock. CAPITAL AND LABOR

To the Editor of The Times-Star: Sir,—Under the heading "Ottawa Takes Important Steps in Labor Matters" I read where the minister of labor in answer to an interpellation as to what steps the government is taking to create more harmony between capital and labor, replied that as a result of a conference with the captains of industry he proposes to appoint a commission of five to inquire into conditions and get at the facts pertaining to the situation in the different lines of industry and upon their recommendation he proposes to base a policy that will dispel the clouds from the industrial and labor world. He hints that labor will have the privilege of telling their employers how to conduct their business and share in their profits. I would like to know how he proposes to reconcile the different wage-earners, some employed in corporations paying dividends of 100 per cent and others, some just paying their wages and others going to the wall. He did not divulge the personnel of the commission, but I suppose it would be composed of men interested in the beef trust, the millers association or some such corporation. If so, he will have about as little to say about the policy as the minister of finance has to say about the tariff.

cluding wear and tear of machinery, the cannon would cost 2,000 hours. Since labor receives only sufficient wages to buy bare necessities of life on the average, it follows that those necessities are produced by other workers. The producers having been paid for their labor time, it follows that the product is paid for. Cannon may be a necessity in a society where the productivity of labor is sufficient to create them, but in the past the productivity of labor was so low that man used crude clubs.

To "put back" the two billions would largely mean "adding to them that which" and taking from them "that which" (What the Times understands Mr. Ames to mean by "putting back" is to pay a debt incurred in the defence of civilization. It is a national obligation.—Editor Times.)

PLANTING TREES AND HOW TO DO IT SUCCESSFULLY

To the Editor Times:—Sir,—A letter published in another paper a few days since advised that St. John city council "adding to them that which" and taking from them "that which" in every other city by planting trees in every street in the town. He said it would be best accomplished by appointing a commissioner who had the practical knowledge. A commissioner means a large sum for services rendered. Now if he is as honest as he is practical and which I feel sure can be accomplished. As to our own knowledge of planting trees we can point to the writer of the letter the growth of the trees planted in Forest street in this city. They were planted there in '77, the year of the big St. John fire. I saw to the planting of every tree there, not one of which failed to grow, and this brought about the whole planting of the Marsh triangle square at the foot of Waterloo street. At first there were some bad boys to contend with and some of them had nearly succeeded in rigging a fine against me. I was saved by using the saw with grafting wax and so it grew in time all right again. We then thought to remedy this mischief by selecting the toughest amongst the boys and offering the chance to them of planting the tree personally and to see that it was not injured. No tree after was injured and these boys grew as large as the trees in body and their minds greatly improved.

FIRST DIVISION EMBARKING BEFORE MIDDLE OF MONTH

London, April 5.—(By Canadian Associated Press Cable)—It is officially announced that the embarkation of the first division units will start before the middle of the month. Embarkation of the second division from France to England last Friday.

At a small luncheon given here today by Sir Edward Kemp to meet General Currie, the overseas minister took the opportunity to voice his own sentiments upon criticism from Canada. Sir Edward Kemp said he had never since the armistice urged that Canadian soldiers should be repatriated as fast as possible.

Before the end of this month half of all the Canadian troops on this side would be back on the water. "We had a little trouble in Rhyol," continued Sir Edward, "about which we all felt very sorry. I don't want to say much about it just now because it is still under investigation but I have felt worse about what happened than the men themselves who were led by excitement into such unhappy courses."

SUGGEST PUBLIC DISCUSSION OF POWER-CO. BILL

The executive of the citizens' committee met Saturday afternoon in the board room to go over the proposed amendments to the Currier bill relating to the city and the New Brunswick Power Company. The amendments are radical in the nature. They will be put in proper form by the city solicitor for presentation to the legislature.

ALL HOME BY THE END OF AUGUST BUT MEDICAL SERVICES

Expectation of General Ashton—Says Much Depends on the Trains

Brantford, Ont., April 7.—A plan for the perpetuation of every overseas unit by assimilating it with some militia organization in Canada, and the prospects of a great speeding up in demobilization were announced here on Saturday night by Major-General E. Ashton, adjutant-general, Ottawa. The occasion was a banquet by the Dufferin Rifles to the returned officers of Brantford and district.

In regard to demobilization Major-General Ashton said there had been times when the militia department was not sure it could unload the number of men arriving in port, because of lack of train facilities to move them out. The job at present was an appalling one, but was being met to the last car.

With the opening of the St. Lawrence for navigation the rapidity of transit would be increased, and demobilization within a month, the general expected, would be speeded up from 45,000 to 60,000 a month. By the end of August every Canadian soldier, with the exception of the medical services, should be home. More than 140,000 men had been demobilized since the armistice and the remainder could be handled in a month if trains were available.

Ostend Port Is Reopened

Great Task Ahead to Clear Out German Wreckage Will Take Some Months—Largest Salvage Corps in the World at Work Repairing Damage

Watching the naval salvage parties at work, says The London Times, at Ostend, one realizes how much easier it is to destroy than to rebuild. Practically from the time the enemy evacuated Ostend we have had the largest salvage equipment in the world engaged in repairing the damage the Germans wrought. This colossal task is being carried through by the Admiralty Salvage Section, under Commodore F. W. Young, R. N. R., in co-operation with the Royal Marine Engineers, who have charge of the civil engineering side of it. The work is progressing well, having regard to the difficulties that have to be encountered. Already the port of Ostend has been temporarily re-opened. This does not imply that all enemy strewn wreckage has been swept up, but merely that a fairway good enough for makeshift purposes has been made.

And placing a trawler bows on into the stream her hold her in position. A little higher up the stream they put down a couple of dredgers, one on top of the other, besides securing all the fishing snags they could find. Wherever the snags lay they had to be got up again, although raising them was a light task compared with picking up vessels of larger tonnage. Owing to the tidal scour being obstructed, the harbor silted up over its whole extent. Flanders mud accumulated around the sunken vessels, and when the salvagers started trying to lift these they found the mud had anchored them fast.

Channel is Cleared. La Flandre was cut away until little more than her bare keel remains across the entrance. Next the trawler driven into her was hauled on to the beach. The two dredgers and the fishing boats were next raised. Working inwards in this fashion, the salvagers dealt successfully with all the obstructions met with in a channel, and the shipping lanes were next raised. Whatever may be the ultimate fate of the Vindictive, she impedes navigation very little; but the port must shortly be closed again temporarily, so that the remnants of La Flandre may be removed. Meantime the salvage section is engaged, raising the dredges Ost Friesland, which lies opposite the quay, though not near enough to prevent steamers berthing there. Once La Flandre and the Ost Friesland are out of the way, only the Vindictive will be left unsalvaged at the lower part of the harbor.

By means of sheer-legs rigged on shore the sunken craft were lifted from the canal entrance. Different lock gates were also hauled out and prepared. Then the largest basin was cleared out so that the vessels could use it, and a passage was made for the enemy's cargo traffic to get in and out of the Bruges Canal. Although much salvage work remains to be done in the latter, barges can now go as far as the locks. It will be a long time before they can get through that part owing to the wholesale wrecking of the canal by the Germans.

HISTORIAN AT FOURTEEN

At fourteen years of age a Clapham school-boy is attempting to write in verse what many a grey-haired savant has failed to write in prose—that is, a History of England.

The lad who has set his hand to this ambitious task is Ernest Coleman Axford, of Manor House School, Clapham, the son of Thomas Axford, of Lullington Court Farm, Lullington, Sussex. For two years he has labored in this work, and the volume, if published, should attract a good deal of attention.

Axford is a studious, reticent youth, and a lover of Scott and Tennyson. His gift of versification was discovered accidentally by his mother, who found at home, scraps of paper on which the lad had secretly written his rhymes while at school.

One of Axford's recent poems, "Evening on the Downs," has the following lines:—

The men that till your valleys leave their ploughs and others come, But still you feed the badgers, you're still the fox's home. So, good night, sweet scented Downland, till the sun comes up once more; We will leave you calmly sleeping as you've slept in nights of yore; You can ever charm, dear hill-land, be you clad in snow or mist; Be you storm-swept or by sunshine your face be gently kissed.

CHARTING THE AIR FOR ATLANTIC FLIGHTS

Lieut. Guy Harris, F. R. M. S. R. A. F., arrived in the city yesterday as the only passenger on the steamer Montcalm. He made the voyage for the purpose of securing data regarding air currents and atmospheric conditions chiefly for the benefit of air navigation in preparation for the transatlantic flights which are expected to begin before long. The reports were secured by means of automatic instruments attached to box kites which were flown at great altitudes.

NORTH END PETITION

A petition is being widely circulated in the North End, and has been signed by a great many residents, calling upon the city council to use its influence to have the federal government adopt a universal daylight saving policy, and failing to succeed, to adopt daylight time locally. It is expected that the petition will be presented at Tuesday's meeting of the common council.

MORE CHANGES IN PHYSIQUE THAN IN STYLE

The altered physique of the homecoming warriors has found its true reflection in a "Type B-erect form" suit. The figure transformation effected by military training has made new clothes an absolute necessity for most of our heroes.

A story is told of an officer who left home when women wore bustles and wide skirts, and when he came back found them dressed after the pattern of a beanpole. He said to his wife: "Why, when I left home you reminded me of the letter O; now you look like a capital I."

It is a transverse transformation in the physique of the men who have been undergoing such strenuous military service. They have a figure and bearing which has been shown for years in the Semi-ready physique Type B-erect form. This requires particular designing and cutting.

"Will the existing shortage in the available wool supply by the cessation of war-time demands be alleviated or accentuated by the requirements of peacetime conditions? It's a problem—and the civilian demand makes it look like a fifty-fifty solution until we get more wool and less mutton."

The Semi-ready Store at King and Germain streets has just received from the shops some extra special Semi-ready suits for $35—the equal in quality of most $50 suits values.

"We have suits in every physique type to fit the normal man and he who is hard-to-fit," said Mr. Creary.

mission "whose unparalleled exigency for the first time in history caused a lord chief justice temporarily to lay aside the crime."

"The close of the great war," he said, "leaves courts and lawyers charged with an awful responsibility amid the shifting conditions. It is nothing less than the duty of administering justice so that it may command the respect of the average citizen. The administration of justice must be so pure and perfect that all right-minded citizens shall yield assent to its righteousness. These endeavors and more we have every reason to believe that you, lord chief justice, passed in ample measure."

Mr. Root discussed the league of nations proposal, assuring the Earl of Reading that "it is the earnest hope of the American people that in due form and by wise and suitable provisions, the country which you represent and our own may unite for effectual and perpetual organization to preserve the peace of the world for all the centuries to come."

The same sense of loyalty, he said, that kept American and British soldiers "side by side, charging against death, to make certain the fruits of their victories."

The Earl.

When the Earl of Reading rose to speak he was given an ovation that lasted several minutes. He was acclaimed as the only honorary member of the bar of New York. He was cheered again when he declared early in his address that he was "assured that the feeling in America toward Great Britain is far better since the war than before."

Both the United States and Great Britain, he declared, went to war "to vindicate the public law of the world," and it was the duty of both countries to see to it that international law was properly safeguarded in the future.

"Throughout the war," he declared, "there was always one thought in all our minds—that this war must be the last war that shall take place on the globe."

Speaking unofficially, the lord chief justice discussed the league of nations plan, which he indicated he was confident would be adopted. "I have no doubt," he said, "that a number of amendments will be made in the covenant. Innumerable discussions appear to have taken place. That is not unnatural. The commissioner of public safety has received reports that the overhanging cornice on the northern side of the old court house is in danger of falling. He said this morning that it would be necessary to take down the upper part of the walls in order to make the structure safe for passers by.

ORGAN RECITAL ENJOYED.

There was a large congregation in St. John's church last evening and an organ recital which followed was greatly appreciated. For the occasion, the organist, D. Arnold Fox, had prepared a special Fashion Week programme, and his selections and their rendition called forth many favorable comments.

THE TAX ASSESSORS.

The board of tax assessors still have some delinquents to follow up among the citizens who neglected to file their statements of income and personal property as required by the new act. Excellent progress has been made, but special circumstances in some cases have made it impossible to secure entirely complete returns.

MRS. VANDERBILT

WEDS SON'S FRIEND

Divorced Wife of Alfred G. Marries Lieut. Paul Fitzsimons, U. S. N., 28—She is 38

Mrs. Ellen French Vanderbilt, one of the most prominent women of society and philanthropic workers, and first wife of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt who was lost when the Lusitania was sunk by the Germans, was married in Newport on last Thursday morning to Lieutenant Paul Fitzsimons, U. S. N., in the library of the bride's residence, Harbourview.

The Rev. Stanley C. Hughes, rector of Trinity church, New York, performed the ceremony.

The marriage came as a great surprise to Newport. Lieutenant Fitzsimons is attached to the United States destroyer Evans, now in New York waters, to which is also attached Ensign William H. Vanderbilt, the bride's son by her former marriage, and they are close friends. He is the son of the late medical director, Paul Fitzsimons, U. S. N., and Mrs. Fitzsimons of Washington, D. C. He was born in Newport, and is twenty-eight years old. His bride is ten years his senior.

A small group of relatives and intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. Ensign Vanderbilt acted as best man for the lieutenant, and Major Amos Tuck French, brother of the bride, who just returned from overseas, after a year's service in France, gave her in marriage.

Her first marriage, to the late Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, took place on Jan. 14, 1901, in the Zabriske Memorial Church of St. John the Evangelist, Newport, and was a large and brilliant affair. It was referred to as undoubtedly a love match, the culmination of an attachment from early girlhood and boyhood.

Seven years later Mrs. Vanderbilt started suit for divorce, which was granted, and the papers ordered sealed. Mrs. Vanderbilt took her maiden name, and received the custody of their only child. After the divorce Mr. Vanderbilt spent much of his time in England, and it was there, three years after his divorce, that he was married to Mrs. Margaret Emerson McKim, who had divorced Dr. Smith Hollins McKim in 1910 in Reno, Nev.

LEAVES WITH MANY GOOD WISHES FOR SUCCESS

Ray Hansen to Toronto Leads Tonight for Try-out as Fitcher—Presentation by Giants

At the monthly meeting of St. Peter's Y. M. A. held yesterday afternoon John Hagerty, one of the members of the executive, announced that one of the association's most prominent young men, Ray Hansen, was to leave the city this evening for Toronto where he was to get a try out with the Leafs, champions of the International League. He asked the members to express in the form of a resolution their regret at losing his services and the confidence that he would make good. On behalf of the association John J. McDonnell, who was presiding, reviewed the work of his associate and in a few well chosen words assured him that if good wishes counted his success was assured.

In reply Mr. Hansen said that it was only a try-out and while he intended to fight hard to make good he was up against a hard proposition and might not be fortunate enough to be selected among the few required. He assured the members that whether away or at home he was ever ready to assist them in any way in his power and thanked them for their kind words and good wishes.

William O'Connor, who went overseas with the 88th Central Postal Directory and recently returned home, was present at the meeting and was warmly received by his many friends.

In newspaper circles Mr. Hansen is a member of the Times staff. He has the record of a capable, energetic reporter. His friends of the fourth estate wish him success in realization of his hopes in baseball.

Ring from Giants

A meeting of the executive of the St. John baseball league was held in the Y. M. C. L. on Saturday evening and a schedule of games and rules governing the playing season were drawn up. The league is to open on May 19 and will continue until August 24.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was a presentation made by the Giants Baseball Club to the St. John baseball league. It was made by Charles Morris, president of the new organization. In giving Mr. Hansen the remembrance, which was a very pretty amethyst ring, Mr. Morris recalled his good work during the season of 1918, and prior to that, and said that the boys were confident that he would make good in the International League. On behalf of the team he wished him a pleasant trip and expressed the wish that his efforts would be crowned with success.
