

General Business.
HARDWARE STOCK & BUSINESS.

Miramichi Advance,
 CHATHAM - - - - APRIL 26, 1883.

The Finance of the Province.

THE Subscriber offers for Sale his Hardware Stock is well assured and in first class order. The average cash received per year is about $10,000.00. This is one of the best stocks and will be let to the purchaser for one or more years. The subscriber has no time to waste in order to close business in Chatham so that I may get the best price. All persons requiring Hardware, Paints, Oils, etc., can find that they can get 40 per cent by buying their goods from him. No special discounts. If not sold all the 1st of August, next,

 It will then be sold at PUBLIC AUCTION.

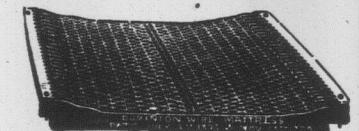

J. R. GOOGIN.
 Chatham, April 19th, 1883.

We are now receiving our Spring Stock of Men's Women's and Children's Boots and Shoes of the now well established superior quality, and in the matter of price our goods will be sold nearly as low as the common kind imported. We, of course, keep on hand a few of these cheap lines as well.

Our Furniture Department will be found complete comprising Parlour Suits, Bedroom Sets, Sideboards, Whistnats, Parlor Tables, Chairs, Washstands, Spring Beds, Mattresses, Bed Lounges, etc., etc. Our Stock of Trunks and Hand Bags is large and good, and we must not omit to mention an assortment of Baby Carriages we wish to sell.

FOTHERINGHAM & CO.
 GOLDEN BALL, BOOT, SHOE AND FURNITURE EMPORIUM.

GOLDEN BALL SHOE STORE AND
 FURNITURE EMPORIUM.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

New Departure.

WE ARE NOW SELLING

MEN'S HAND MADE DRIVING BOOTS.
 MEN'S HAND MADE KNEE BOOTS.
 MEN'S HAND MADE SHOES.

at Prices unequalled hitherto.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or a Money Refund.

The Trade Supplied on Satisfaction Terms.

FOTHERINGHAM & CO.
 Chatham, April 19th, 1883.

NOW IN STOCK.

MANILLA ROPE

ALL SIZES FROM 6 INCH TO 4 INCH.

White Lead and Colored PAINTS.

Good Quality and Cheap.

ALSO

A FEW CASES OF TAR AND WAXONS FAMOUS

COPPER PAINT,

unmixed as a preventive against bottoms of Vessels Sealing.

CHEAP FOR CASH.

GEORGE WATT.

Chatham, April 19th, 1883.

BAY-SIDE HOTEL,

BAY DU VIN.

THE Proprietor of the above well known Home begs to announce that he will be open during the summer months for Summer Boarders and Tourists.

It is situated convenient to the shore of Bay du Vin and the surroundings are the most pleasant and healthful.

SPLENDID TROUT FISHING and admirable BOATING facilities are at the door, with roundings and excursions for the student of natural history, the pedestrian and the connoisseur.

Boats, Horses, Teams, and other facilities usually found at watering places provided by the proprietor and also to be had from others in the neighborhood. Charges moderate.

T. B. WILLISTON

HAT & VIV.

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL OIL TABLE COVERS.

GREY COTTONS, WHITE COTTONS, WINECYS, PRINTS, ETC.

BLACK PRICE, F. W. RUSSELL.

Black Brook, April 19th, 1883.

FOR SALE.

SCHOONER SFY, nearly 18 tons, well built, a good carrier and fast sailor.

JOHN WATT.

Chatham, April 19th, 1883.

Assessors' Notice.

THE Assessors of Taxes for the Parish of Chatham have received the warrants of assessment for the year 1883.

For Fire Purpose . . . . . $1,500.00

For Police Fund . . . . . 1,74,50

For County Assessments . . . . . 4,70,00

For Almshouse . . . . . 4,27,00

For School Fund . . . . . 1,00,00

Total . . . . . $6,627,00

hereby request all persons liable to be rated in said Parish to bring to the Assessors within thirty days of the receipt of this notice, the value of all property which will be rated at the rate of one mill in the pound.

JOHN ELLIS, JOHN MCDONALD, Assessors.

JOHN GALLAWAY, Auditor.

Chatham, March 14th, 1883.

1241

SEED WHEAT.

Good clean seed wheat can be bought at Alex Morris, Sp. G. & Co., Chatham.

April 19th, 1883.

20

Miramichi Advance,

CHATHAM - - - - APRIL 26, 1883.

The Finance of the Province.

THE Subscriber offers for Sale his Hardware

Stock is well assured and in first class order.

The average cash received per year is about $10,000.00.

This is one of the best stocks and will be let to the purchaser for one or more years.

The subscriber has no time to waste in order to close business in Chatham so that I may get the best price.

The late Government asked for a little time to fix up their accounts, etc., etc.

before giving up office, after the House of Assembly had voted no confidence in them. Their accounts were in a most scandalous condition and they could not be fixed "right".

Also, helped to explain why the defeat of the Government was due to the desperate tricks and blunders of the Government in their efforts to make themselves popular by deceiving

the people to whom they were accountable and who were, by law, as well, entitled to know all about how the revenue and expenditure accounts stood.

The Government, at the end of the last fiscal year—31 October—caused the Auditor-General to show a balance of $5,120.30 to the credit of the Province, when they had at that date drawn $63,847 out of bank by cheque, while the amount of the cheques drawn by the late

Government was $1,000.

Ordinary business men would ask what kind of a person

the Auditor-General is to be to such a public exhibit?

Besides this, in order to keep their heads above water, and by means of their efforts to keep the public in the dark about their financial condition, they had obtained a loan of $60,000 at Ottawa, which was not to be repaid out of this year's subsidy. This was a trick that had been performed for several years and it explains the ferocious declamation of members of the defunct concern on the advantage of the Government of New Brussels being a king of a scoundrel. And the others who were not specieally political, but who were not members of the opposition, were

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was

not to be deceived by this.

The late Government was not to be

Miramichi and the North Shore, etc.

BATHURST Harbor Channel is open.

BAIE DES CHALEURS ice is moving out.

ANOTHER CARNIVAL was going on at the Chatham Rink last night.

"CEDAR GROVE" Goods at Auction and private sale. See ad.

THE SCHOOLS are undergoing examination. We are obliged to hold over our reports until next week.

SPRING HERRING have already been taken in Blue Cove near the mouth of Caribou harbor.

I FERTILE SALE—Attention is directed to the sale of valuable lots of land belonging to the Lobus estate.

THE COUNTY RIFLE ASSOCIATION is to hold its annual meeting on Tuesday evening, 8th May.

MESSRS. RITCHIE'S Mill, Newcastle and Messrs. Guy, Beauv. &amp; Co.'s Water Mill, Lower Newcastle, are running.

LOBSTERS.—Lobster packers appear to be increasing the number of their traps places where the catch is falling off.

EARLY.—Lobster trap lines are already being "stretched" on the Baie des Chaleurs shore of Gloucester County.

GRINDSTONES.—Messrs. Lambert &amp; Co., an American firm, are building a new grindstone mill at Scott's quarry about 15 miles below Bathurst.

STEAMERS.—Mr. Snowball's little tug St. Louis and Mr. Call's stern wheeler, Scud, were running yesterday on the river.

A JAM.—The damage done to the S. W. Bouy by last Friday's freshet will render a jam of the river for the greatest part of the summer inevitable.

A GOOD MOVE.—The Fireworks are, we understand, endeavoring to bring about an amalgamation of the Fire and street departments of Chatham, as we long ago suggested.

"ABDAHL MESSINGER"—a blood boy 16½ hands high and weighing 1200 lbs., is we are requested to state, to be among the stock horses travelling in Northern Ireland the coming season.

THE ODD-FELLOWS are to hold an anniversary to-night, opening with addresses, etc., in their Hall, Water St. and closing with a supper and sociable at the Canada House.

BAD TEMPER.—We advise our loco-contemporary to keep its temper. We know what a pickle it is in and it has no sympathy. As Mulchay, er, says, "the poor curmudgeon's an orphan."

GAZETTEER.—Robert A. Stuart, Esq., has been appointed High Sheriff of Clarets County, in place of the late Alex. T. Paul, deceased.

MESSRS. JOHN BALDWIN and THOMAS GAYnor, Sr., of Chatham, have been appointed Judges of the Peace.

SCHOOLS.—The semi-annual examinations of the schools in No. 8 District Chatham will be held in the following order. Miss Hogan's school, Thursday afternoon, 26th inst. Mr. Henderson's school Friday forenoon and Miss Quinlan's Friday afternoon, 27th inst.

NEW STEAMER.—The machinery engineer has been engaged to make the Miramichi River steamer for Mr. Wm. David's new steam tug to go on the Quoddy River, were prop. placed last week by Mr. J. M. Radford at St. John and are pronounced a first class job. The hull was built at St. John.

LAID UP.—James Robinson, Esq., lessor of the S. W. Bouy, is laid up with a fractured leg caused by a slip and a twist while halsting a swaying end. Jamming the limb against one of the new boom blocks in the S. W. River. He is under the care of Dr. Fish and will be again about in a fortnight or so.

SHIPPEAN.—A Shippean correspondent writes, follow, on 21st. The shores and waters here are all clear of ice. The weather has been fine and spring-like.

We have made our first hauls of herring and, in fact, we consider the season from two to three weeks ahead of this date last year.

GREEN BEANS.—We have at present in the store a great barrel two feet long with a bear three inches long and several small cans upon it, which were grown within the last seven weeks in Mr. John A. McDonald's lumber camp on the Lord and Foy Brook—a branch of the Tracadie. This is the best sign of early spring we have yet seen.

LITTLE BAPTISTE PARISH is reported to be in a worse condition than it was last year when we directed public attention to it. It is rotten, being kept from going down into the stream only by an upright which props it in the middle. Bathurst road affairs require stirring up as there is evidently great neglect of duty on the part of those having charge of them.

FOOT COVE.—A Shippean correspondent writes, follow, on 21st. The shores and waters here are all clear of ice. The weather has been fine and spring-like.

We have made our first hauls of herring and, in fact, we consider the season from two to three weeks ahead of this date last year.

A VALUABLE.—The Bartibogue—known as the oil Carr Farm—was to be sold at public auction on Tuesday next, May 1st, by Mr. E. Johnson, opposite Haviland's Ferry Landing. The place is well known to the local people, situated on the left bank of the Bartibogue river giving it special advantages for travellers and sportsmen. See Advt.

THE RIVER ICE started in earnest on Wednesday, 17th, and by Saturday had run out of Chatham. It ran heavier than for many years at the S. W. Boom, carrying away a number of blocks. The new piers built by the lessee, Jas. Robinson, Esq., last winter, are believed to have saved the boom destruction as they broke the ice up and withheld the shock splendidly. As it was nearly a million feet of logs were carried out of the Grand All block, and all but two or three of the Grab All blocks were destroyed. A good deal of lumber was saved before reaching Newcastle and much more below, so that the loss will be comparatively light. The owners of the said piers are Messrs. Wm. &amp; Charles and J. B. Snowball.

FOUNDED.—The Liverpool steamship San Columbo, commanded by Capt. Philip Damareas, from Cork, 26th January last, came laden from Bombay, double founded in the Bay of Biscay during the heavy gales in February with all hands (about thirty persons). Wreckage of the San Columbo was washed on shore near Mavenna in the Bay of Biscay. Capt. Damareas was a son of the late Percy Damareas, Esq., Collector of Customs at Bathurst. He was a kind hearted Christian, a pugnacious, and greatly esteemed by his many friends and acquaintances. His widow and family reside in London—New.

PERSONAL.—Jas. T. Griffin, Esq., who has been seriously ill for some time was somewhat better on Tuesday and yesterday.

DAN'L McLAUGHLIN, Esq., of Renous River, died on Saturday evening, having recovered from his recent severe illness.

REV. DR. RICE, President of the Methodist General Conference, who was stationed at Chatham forty years ago, preached in the Methodist Church here last Sunday evening to a large congregation.

LONIA PONIER is appointed Harbor Master of Caraquet.

J. B. Snowball, Esq., has returned from Ottawa.

A TEACHER'S DEPARTURE.—A correspondent writing from Clifton, Gloucester, on 24th inst., says:—"Miss Rivers has signed teaching in this District for the purpose of becoming a telegraph operator. The people here regret that she is leaving, as the pupils have made excellent progress in their studies while under her charge. She proved to be a very efficient teacher and had complete control over her pupils, numbered more than twenty. Her students are now better educated than before her departure. It is said that she is to leave next week and that her destination is Quebec. Wherever she goes the best wishes of our people will follow her."

BUSINESS NOTICE.

THE ADVANCE office is open for business from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. every working day. It is not open for delivery of papers in the evening. Town and local country subscribers will, therefore, please call for their papers at the delivery window above.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The insertion of advertisements can only be insured each week by their reaching the office before 6 p.m. on Tuesdays.

L. C. K. SOBRETY.—Circumlets have been distributed among all employees in the I. C. R. service, which read as follows:

Chief Superintendent's Office, Moncton, N.B., April 6, 1883. Circular No. 64.

To Officers and Employees:—

The Honorable Minister of Railways has so much importance to subordinates the employees of the I. C. R. to the public, that he has placed in the higher grades of the service to the nation, which is of great importance to the welfare of the Province.

And, hereafter, any officer or employee who is found to be intoxicated, whether fit or not, will not be at once dismissed from the service.

D. POTTERING, Chief Superintendent.

Shipping List.

VEGELS BOUND FOR MIRAMICHI.

Nor. 1k. Zelotes, Armenton, sailed from Glengary, April 1st.

Nor. 1k. Dromming, Merv, old at London 5th.

Nor. 1k. Leples, Knudsen, sailed from Rosedale 5th.

Nor. 1k. M. McMillan, sailed from Belhaven 5th.

L. G. H. Rixton, Haworth, sailed from Belhaven 5th.

R. Minchenden, Melburn, sailed from Liverpool 5th.

R. McCardle, N. L. Newell, old at Rosehill 5th.

R. Scott for Miramichi, April 5th.

R

YOLANDE.

By WILLIAM BLACK,
Author of "SHADOW BELL," "MACBIRD OF DARE," "WHITE WINDS," "SCURVY," etc.

(Continued.)

CHAPTER XII.

A CONSPIRACY.

"I think I am doing what is right," the Master of Lynn said to his sister, of whom, in his perplexity, he was driven to take counsel.

They had once more resumed their idle, uneventful, dream-like voyage up the broad river; and the dabaheyyah was large, and had many quiet corners for confidential conversations. Their attention was seldom called away by any striking feature or incident, and never at all by any atmospheric phenomena. They had grown accustomed to the level plains of yellow sand, the distant hills quivering in the heat, the white, yellow-green waters ruffled by the evening breeze, and the palms, and the mud villages, and the groups of swarthy Nubians lazily driving down the shore, and camel and buffalo to the banks of the stream. The pulse of the world beats slowly there.

"Yes, I think you are doing what is right—though not what is usual, perhaps," said his sister, regarding the page's permission first; it is quite according to rule and etiquette; but generally, I should think, some understanding exists."

"But I am afraid to startle her," he said, quickly. "Besides there might be some one else, and I would rather get to know from her father."

"There is no one else," said pretty Mrs. Graham, sipping her tumbler of cold tea. "What is more, you are acting with greater prudence than I could have given you credit for. But I suppose you don't know; you don't understand."

"What's the conundrum now?" he asked, bluntly.

"Yolande and I have had some talk together," she said, and regarding him with an air of superior sagacity "I happen to know what she thinks; and you are acting very prudently in going to her father first. She has been educated in France."

"What do you mean? Why don't you speak on it?" he said, irritated by these women's ways of mystery.

"Is there any need? She has been educated in France, and she knows what her duty is. She will marry any one her father approves of. It is for him to arrange it. But there is something further in her case. Yolande is haunted by the fear that she is a burden and drag on her father—that she is taking him away from public life. And I think she is right. Why should he be here just now, for example? It is all very well for Jim and me to take a holiday; but for a member of the House of Commons to be continually leaving England to travel about it is absurd. Very well; if she once imagines that her father would like to see her married, so that he might attend to his own affairs, the way is clear. And it would be a very good thing. I like the girl. She sticks up for her own; whether she marries won't have to blow her own trumpet. It would be a good thing in many ways. I was saying to Jim only the other day that you might buy back Corrievreck."

"Do you think I want to marry her for her money?" he said.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well, no. But she has money—or will have it. I dare say, now, if H. F. Ven—"

"Leave Miss Stewart alone," said he, somewhat hotly.

Poor girl! It wasn't her fault that she was born in a Scotch town instead of being the daughter of a member of the House of Commons. But I think Shera Zara, with all her pretty eyes, had a bit of a temper, you know, Archie."

"Leave her alone, will you!" he said, roughly. "You have done her enough mischief."

"It's all right," said Mrs. Graham with a smile.

"Well