Island, Nov. 16.—A very pleasant took place on the 7th inst. of the late John Cole, of the island, when Mrs. Elizabeth R. united in the bonds of matrimony to John S. Marry of Long.

The bride was supported by Mrs. Cole of Sussex, and the bridesmaids by Mrs. Wm. Armstrong, of the marriage ceremony was officiated by Rev. D. McD. Clark of New Brunswick.

When all these people are so interested, all the responsibility should be assumed by those in charge. It is not fair upon the public or any of the parties concerned.

Some highly imaginative people seem to be bent upon trying to delude themselves and others into the belief that in taking this course it was necessary for me to take, I was actuated by some feeling of animosity against the American people.

I am unwilling to enter into a discussion of these subjects, more especially as everything I say or do is by some curious misadventure misinterpreted by the press of America.

There are some cases," said the man, "in which scientific smoking is beneficial." "It is a thing for a ham, for instance."

LORD DUNRAVEN

Presented With a Silver Model of Valkyrie by Cardiff People.

The Well Known English Sportsman Makes a Lengthy Speech.

A Reply to the Criticisms of the American Press and People on His Conduct.

Cardiff, Wales, Nov. 21.—A number of prominent residents of this city to-day publicly presented Lord Dunraven with a silver model of Valkyrie III.

Lord Dunraven, replying to the gentlemen who made the presentation, remarked that the occasion was one of the happiest moments of his life, and proceeding, he said: "I have passed through a very trying experience, and I adopted a certain course because it was my plain duty."

Continuing, Lord Dunraven warmly thanked his friends for their action in presenting him with the silver model of Valkyrie III.

His lordship then sketched his early experiences in yachting, and said that he regretted the unavoidable absence of Messrs. MacLennan and Robinson, who were equally interested with himself in the "little ship laid up in New York."

When all these people are so interested, all the responsibility should be assumed by those in charge. It is not fair upon the public or any of the parties concerned.

after the race; when I say the commission was informed, I had no notice to that effect; but put Mr. Fish on board the committee boat for the purpose of saying my complaint before them, and obviously, they were informed, for they acceded to a portion of my request, though most unfortunately not to all of it.

Obviously, also, the Defender's people must have known all about the matter. I myself, in the presence of three or four gentlemen, had a long talk on the subject with the official measurer of the New York yacht club.

I have been criticized here at home too, and it has been said: "Although you did make a complaint six weeks ago, the matter has dropped out of sight; why revive it?"

Why those interested in Defender did not insist that immediate steps be taken to prove the groundless nature of my complaint, I do not know.

I had no object in saying anything more of a matter which had been impossible of proof, and as nothing further was said by the Defender or committee I also held my peace.

As a matter of fact I believed the facts would not be publicly mentioned in New York, and I took measures to prevent its publication here. But, to my surprise, the committee reported upon it to the New York yacht club on October 24, and the club gave the report to the public on the following day.

Lord Dunraven then gave a history of his racing experiences, after which he said: "I would have admitted that my ship was beaten had she been beaten on a fair field as necessary to determine that question."

I did my best to avoid friction or annoyance to anyone, and in my anxiety I dare say I somewhat weakened my own case.

I cannot tell you how deeply I am touched by your expressions of sympathy and confidence.

RENOUNCED CATHOLICISM

Rev. Father Macrae Formally Received Into the Church of England.

Full Particulars of the Service in the Cathedral at Fredericton Thursday.

In an Interview Rev. Mr. Macrae Gives His Reasons for Leaving the Church of Rome.

Fredericton, Nov. 21.—Rev. Francis Macrae, a Roman Catholic priest of Lewiston, Maine, who has been in consultation with His Lordship Bishop Kingdon for the past few days in regard to a change of faith, was formally received into the Church of England this morning in the presence of a large congregation.

After prayers, the reading of the lesson and stinging, his lordship asked the penitent for his testimonials and in response, Rev. Mr. Macrae produced a certificate from the Bishop of Lewiston, dated the 10th inst., certifying that "Mr. Macrae was not hindered by any ecclesiastical censure or canonical impediment so far as we know; nay, indeed that that art approved for piety and other meritorious virtues; wherefore he is earnestly beseeched in the Lord all ordinaries of places to which thou mayest happen to go or where thou mayest remain to admit thee to celebrate the holy sacrifice of the mass, to receive the Eucharist and protect thee in every thing."

Another from Bishop Rogers of Charlottetown, dated June 17th, 1895, which testified that "since his arrival here on the 29th of April last he has excelled in the sacerdotal ministry in every respect during the constant daily intercourse with the reverend clergy of our house, and with myself and all others with whom his duties brought him in contact, he has excelled all by his correct generally and sacerdotal deportment. He now leaves to accept a position in the diocese of Portland, Me., U. S. A., and bears with him the best wishes of all."

A third from Rev. H. Wallace, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Lewiston, Me., of Sept. 30th, 1895, which certified: "Rev. Father Macrae has been with me as assistant for three months and I have found him a humble, laboring and faithful priest. He leaves of his own accord, being desirous of laboring in his own diocese."

The following questions were then asked by Bishop Kingdon and answered by Father Macrae, as follows: "Do you renounce and recede from those books of the Old and New Testaments which are received as canonical scriptures by this church contain sufficiently all doctrine requisite and necessary to eternal salvation through faith in Jesus Christ?"

Do you believe in God the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ, His only begotten son our Lord? and that He was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary, that He suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried; that He went down into hell, and also did rise again the third day; that He ascended into heaven and sitteth at the right hand of the Father Almighty; and from thence shall come again at the end of the world to judge the quick and the dead?

Do you believe in the Holy Ghost, the Holy Catholic Church, the communion of saints, the remission of sins, the resurrection of the flesh, and everlasting life after death? Mr. Macrae—All this I steadfastly believe.

Do you embrace the truth of the gospel in the love of it, and steadfastly resolve to live Godly, righteous and soberly in this present world all the days of thy life? Mr. Macrae—I do embrace it and do so resolve, God being my helper.

as by law established and declared in the 37th Article of Religion in Canada, as the law of England do I do sincerely acknowledge it.

Will thou then give your faithful diligence always to minister the doctrine and sacraments, and the discipline of Christ, as the Lord hath commanded, and as this church and realm hath received the same, according to the commandments of God; so that thou mayest teach the people committed to your cure and charge with all diligence to keep and observe the same?

Mr. Macrae—I will do so, by the help of the Lord. Will thou conform thyself to the liturgy of the Church of England in Canada as by law established? Mr. Macrae—I will.

Then the bishop said: Almighty God, who hath given you a sense of your errors, and a will to do all these things; grant, we beseech you, that you may have power to perform the same; that He may accomplish His work which He hath begun in you; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, who of His great goodness, and His tender mercies, hath promised forgiveness of sins to all them that with hearty repentance and true faith turn unto Him; have mercy upon you; pardon and deliver you from all your sins; confirm and strengthen you in all goodness; and bring you to everlasting life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then the bishop, taking the penitent by the right hand, said: By the authority committed upon me, I do upon this thy solemn profession and earnest request receive thee into the holy communion of the Church of England, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

After investigations and consultations of the works of theologians, both Anglican and Roman, I was convinced that the Catholic Apostolic Church has continued in its purity and continuity from the Apostolic times when it was founded in Britain by the apostles, and testified by Eusebius, Tertullian and Origen and Irenaeus, and that the Catholic Apostolic Church never submitted to the jurisdiction of Rome, and could not from the very nature of the jurisdiction acknowledge it.

How then would this affect the claim of the supremacy of the Pope? I am convinced that the supremacy of the bishop of Rome was never acknowledged by the primitive church.

The doctrine of transubstantiation, Mariolatry, the infallibility of the Pope and indulgences. Do you not suppose that one pope assumes infallibility for another? If infallibility resided in the Pope, and that he, while living, conferred it on his successor, I should say so, but a dead Pope cannot confer any powers, and as infallibility could only come from God no people or bishops can confer it on any man.

Mr. Macrae will henceforth engage in work as a priest of the Church of England in the diocese of Nova Scotia.

ABOUT TERRA NOVA.

R. G. Reid, the Builder of the Railway, Gives His Views.

The Railway, Brings the Colony Within Seven Hours of Cape Breton and Twelve of Pasphebas.

(Montreal Gazette.)

A representative of the Gazette had an interview, yesterday, with R. G. Reid, the well known contractor of this city, who has brought new life into the old colony of Newfoundland, and who has been designated by Judge Frowse as the saviour of that colony.

Mr. Reid is a firm believer in Newfoundland and the hardy people composing its population, and he becomes almost enthusiastic as he points out the unlimited resources, the vast field for legitimate enterprise, and the wonderful possibilities of that one portion of British America, which, up to the present time, has held aloof from the Canadian confederation.

Mr. Reid has returned from the scene of his operations on the island, and, with a map of Newfoundland on the wall of his private office, he gave the reporter some interesting pointers regarding the colony, its trade and its commerce. "Great improvements," he began, "are noticeable in St. Johns since the disastrous fire swept away an important part of the colonial capital. More attention has been paid to the streets than was the case in former times and the buildings erected since the fire are superior in many respects to those they have replaced."

"What is said to be the commercial outlook on the island?" asked the reporter. "The outlook is certainly more hopeful," was Mr. Reid's ready reply. "The fisheries have been particularly good, and this applies to seal fisheries as well. On the whole the trading population appears to be in a much better condition than a few months ago. I believe also that the stocks carried are considerably lighter than formerly, and the desirable state has been reached where no Newfoundland merchant makes a purchase that he cannot see his way clear to pay for at the earliest possible opportunity."

"It may be that the former banks encouraged too extensive trading," suggested the reporter. "Well, I do not care to criticize," replied the contractor, "but I will say that the present banks are doing a good work for the trading people of St. Johns and for the country generally. The managers of the several banks, while encouraging no extravagant tendencies in trade, are ready to grant whatever accommodation the just requirements of the situation may demand."

The reporter then questioned Mr. Reid as to the present state and progress of the island railway. The present undertaking does not start at St. Johns, but at Whiteburne, some 53 miles from the capital city, this stretch of road having been built by the Newfoundland Railway Co. as far back as 1881. Mr. Reid has, up to the present time, constructed a railway, under contract with the Newfoundland government, from Whiteburne to Eschville, on the western coast, a distance of 300 miles, and the benefits that have accrued to the colony and people, not only on the coast, but through the hitherto unknown interior, cannot be overestimated.

Although the present terminus at the Bay of Islands affords ample shipping facilities and water sufficiently deep to float a British fleet, the railway's objective point is at Port aux Basques, 140 miles farther on, and when the island railway system is completed the distance traversed by the iron horse, from St. Johns to Port aux Basques, will be something like 550 miles, or a run of about 24 hours. It is understood that when the railway reaches Port aux Basques a steamer will connect at this port with Sydney, C. B., and as the distance is but 66 miles, the coast of eastern Nova Scotia, can be reached in seven hours.

As for the connection to be made from the port of Pasphebas, at the mouth of the Bale des Chaleurs, Mr. Reid presumes that the Newfoundland port would be the Bay of Islands, as the last named point can be reached in at least twelve hours from Pasphebas by a first class steamer.

ANOTHER ASSOCIATE.

In the course of a campaign speech delivered last week in Jacques Cardier Mr. Laurier said that if the constitution sent Mr. Charbonneau to parliament, and Montreal Centre sent Mr. McShane, he would wish their help soon be in a position to settle the school question. Nothing is known at this distance about Mr. Charbonneau, but Mr. McShane belongs to the worst political element that this province produces.

IT IS A LIVE ISSUE.

The complaint comes from Toronto that the Liberal conservatives are discarding current issues and discussing such ancient history as the commercial union movement and the secession agitation in Nova Scotia. Why should not the commercial union movement and the repeal agitation be discussed? One issue in this country is the question whether Canada shall be ruled by the party now in opposition. The leaders of that party are to be judged by their record. If they claim to be more patriotic than their opponents it is certainly relevant to show that they have advocated a policy of discrimination against Great Britain in favor of a foreign land.

THE HISTORY OF A STEAL.

It is understood that the Quebec government has recommended proceedings against Mr. Ernest Pacaud for $100,000, which was lost to the treasury by the Bale des Chaleurs railway deal. In 1891, when the federal elections were pending, the Quebec government was negotiating for the completion of the railway, which had been subsidized by the government, and which Mr. C. N. Armstrong had partially completed.

Why did you pay Mr. Pacaud $100,000? Answer: On the principle that half a loaf is better than no bread.

Who was to repay you the $100,000? I said good bye to it. In order to get a settlement, I was obliged to deal with Mr. Pacaud.

LORD DUNRAVEN'S FRIENDS AND FOES.

While the New York yachting men and the press of the country continue to describe Lord Dunraven as a creature worthy of all contempt, the fraternity on the other side are bestowing on him the highest recognition of his services to legitimate sport.

THE POOR SULTAN.

The pathetic feature of the Sultan's letter to Lord Salisbury, begging him to persuade the English people that the word and honor of the Turkish sovereign have some value, almost obscures the absurdity of the incident. It is virtually an admission of utter incapacity and helplessness, and a confession that the sultan hardly expects to be taken as his word.

An account printed in two St. John papers goes to show that the attorney general is even more elastic than had been supposed.

The tilt was the most interesting one that has taken place in the supreme court for years. Both the judge and the attorney general spoke with great earnestness. In one of his bursts of oratory Mr. Blair raised himself several inches beyond his usual height, while with shaking eyes he delivered his clear cut phrases.

The troubles in Turkey are brought home to the people of the provinces by the reports in the despatches to day. The latest missionary victim is a native of Prince Edward Island, who has been exposed to great danger and suffering.

Mr. McMillivray, the Liberal conservative candidate in North Ontario, is well known to Foresters as one of the most efficient general officers of the order in the Dominion.

HENRY D. YERXA,

A York County Boy, Who, Starting Without a Dollar,

Is Now a Millionaire, Honored and Respected for His Excellent Qualities and Charitable Deeds.

He is One of the Benefactors of Victoria Hospital in Fredericton and a Generous Giver to Church and Other Deserving Objects—A Remarkable Career.

It is a long way from a Keswick farm to the position of a millionaire merchant and public benefactor, but the road was covered by Henry D. Yerxa, the subject of this sketch.

Mr. Yerxa, who is a resident of Cambridge, Mass., and the leading member of the big mercantile firm of Cobb, Bates & Yerxa, known all over the United States for its entire history, is a son of the late Benjamin Yerxa of Keswick in this county, and a younger brother of Abraham D. Yerxa, recorder of deeds for York.

Mr. Yerxa's first active participation in city affairs was in the Richard H. girl started out for her journey of 1,300 miles, through strange states and over rough roads.

Mr. Yerxa is a director of the Faneuil Hall bank and also in the Mercantile Loan and Trust Co. He is a member of the Cambridge Citizens' Trade association, and represents that body in the state board of trade.

Mr. Yerxa is a frequent visitor to his old home at Keswick and to this city, and his reception among his old friends is always of the most cordial character.

In his adopted home, the Cambridge, Mass., Chronicle, under the head of majority possibilities, has the following appreciative sketch of Mr. Yerxa.

Mr. Yerxa is married and has a family of one son and three daughters, the eldest a young lady of 22 or 23 years.

trained, both by native talent and by training in commercial and municipal business methods, to fill the mayor's office with credit to the city and himself. It has been the Chronicle's purpose in this series of articles on majority possibilities to compare the merits of the various names mentioned to the advantage of any particular individual, but rather to point out the special qualifications possessed by each.

The great grocery house of Cobb, Bates & Yerxa, in which Mr. Yerxa is one of the moving spirits, is a remarkable exhibition of the genius for organization which which gentlemanly possesses. Like all successful organizers of large enterprises of a permanent nature, Mr. Yerxa has the quick discernment to see and use the abilities of other men.

A GIRL'S LONG RIDE.

Unique Journey of Marion Campbell, of Woodstock, Ont.

From Nebraska to Ontario in a Prairie Schooner—Bringing Home Five Horses, Two of Them Pets.

(Woodstock, Ontario, Sentinel-Review.) With the arrival in Woodstock of Miss Marion Campbell, which is expected tonight, one of the most remarkable journeys ever undertaken by a woman will have been completed.

The circumstances connected with the young woman's departure from North Platte, Neb., the incidents occurring in her long journey and her arrival after two months of wearying, rolling through a strange country and over mountainous roads, forms a story of pluck and endurance which few can boast of.

About fourteen years ago G.C. Campbell, who is now an employe of John Powell, implement dealer, Market square, lived with his family in Guelph.

Things were looking rather blue for Campbell, so he decided to leave his farm and stock and return to Canada.

BRITISH LUMBER MARKET

Stocks of Spruce in London the Smallest in Seven Years.

Only One Month's Consumption of N. B. and N. S. Spruce and Pine Deals in Liverpool.

Stocks Generally Reduced and Prices Hardening in all the Leading Centres of British Trade.

Provincial lumber operators cannot but be cheered by the news that comes from the British lumber market.

The market has been steadily improving of late, and English journals to have noted a general advance in prices, with stocks small.

For example, the London market has not been so bare of spruce since 1883, when 3rd spruce was selling at 58 to 59 1/2 in the docks, and one authority reports that prospects were not as good then as they are at present.

Liverpool and London papers of Nov. 9th contain a comparative table showing the stocks of lumber of all kinds in Liverpool, Birkenhead, Garston, Saltport and Runcorn, the relative consumption and import, during October and for the period from Feb. 1st to Oct. 31st.

From this table we learn that the import of N. B. and N. S. spruce and pine deals at these points during October was 5,745 stds., compared with 14,238 stds. in October, 1894, and 7,909 stds. in October, 1893; for the period from Feb. 1st to Oct. 31st the imports were 51,427 stds., 56,382 stds., and 52,371 stds. for 1895, 1894 and 1893 respectively.

Consumption during October was 8,695 stds., compared with 4,118 stds. in Oct., 1894, and 7,421 stds. in Oct., 1893; for the period from Feb. 1st to Oct. 31st, the consumption this year was 61,796 stds., compared with 52,663 in same period of 1894 and 55,338 in 1893.

Thus, while reports were made for the whole period, consumption was greater. But the most significant fact is that on Oct. 31st the stocks on hand were only 8,877 stds., compared with 18,816 a year before, and only two years before.

Roughly speaking there was only one month's consumption in stock Oct. 31st.

Stocks of birch were 348,000 ft., compared with 428,000 ft. on Oct. 31st, 1894, and 530,000 on same date in 1893.

In general, lumber stocks are lower than a year ago, and far below what they were in 1893.

Of the situation in London one journal says: "Another good week's work has been done and travellers are somewhat elevated at the results, and prospects ahead are considered of the best.

The feature of the week has been a further hardening of the spruce market. Those having goods on the way have in some instances withdrawn quotations. No doubt both dock and yard stocks fully justify the course.

A general improved export business in all kinds of goods is anticipated, and packing cases will, therefore, be required. There has also been a great activity in the pine deal market, and thus early northern buyers are moving about in large numbers, seeking out any good parcels of pine timber in both waney and square stuff.

Good parcels of square birch and ash timber are also inquired for, but we are afraid prime stuff of these two latter descriptions is difficult to be obtained. It is thought that dry pine deals are certain to further advance in all qualities."

Stocks of spruce in London on Oct. 31st were only 407,000 ft., compared with 678,405 in 1894 and 1,221,630 in 1890, and there was great reduction in Baltic goods.

Of the general situation the same journal says: "Our correspondents in every part of the kingdom have lately been reporting a rising in prices, as studious readers will have noted to their benefit. This week a tendency towards further rises is reported, and nearly all kinds of wood appear to be going up. The November circulars of our correspondents, and testify to the hardening in various parts of the country. In Liverpool, Farnworth & Jardine, E. Chaloner & Co., A. Dobell & Co., and Duncan, Ewing & Co. we read that imports in Liverpool and neighboring ports have generally been moderate, in some articles under the average, and as the deliveries have been fairly satisfactory a better feeling prevails; values are steady, with a firmer tendency in some of the leading articles. The following goods are specified as hardening in value: Pine deals, spruce deals, birch planks, and flooring boards. With regard to other woods no definite advance is reported, but in no case is a drop in prices expected."

"The London circulars to hand from Messrs. Churchill and Sim and Foy, Morgan & Co. report that October has been a good month for the London wood trade. The improvement which began in August has in the month just closed developed with considerable force, and bids fair to continue. An excellent consumption, a normal importation, and moderate stocks have led to a general rise in prices. The figures show that this is mainly due to an increased demand, but the market has also been helped by the barrier which has been raised up against further large or cheap importations by the heavy rise which, as well as concurrently taken place in freights. Both Swedish and Russian shippers are looking confidently for higher f.o.b. prices for open water shipments next year, but buyers are well content to make the best of their present stocks, and to let next year's business take care of itself. A definite rise is reported in the following: Swedish deals and battens and prepared boards, Norway prepared boards, Russian deals and battens, Finnish battens, Prussian f. o. m. Canadian spruce, and sawn pitch pine."

"From the Scotch circulars of Messrs. Allison, Cousland, and Co. and Edmiston & Mitchell we learn that the month just finished has been marked by a healthy business. Prices

Lord Salisbury Has an Audience With the Queen on Turkish Affairs.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Lord Salisbury was granted an audience with the queen at Windsor castle yesterday.

It is supposed that the message to the sultan concerning affairs in the Turkish empire has been sent by the queen and that this was the subject under discussion.

The principal topic of discussion was the rapid rise in prices, sellers of spruce in particular being highly jubilant, and prophesies to the effect that spruce was bound to go much higher were made on all sides.

"The principal topic of discussion was the rapid rise in prices, sellers of spruce in particular being highly jubilant, and prophesies to the effect that spruce was bound to go much higher were made on all sides. A strong argument in favor of this is that the stocks of spruce in Liverpool and other ports are very low as compared with the same period last year—in Liverpool 8,800 stds. as compared with 18,800. Freights also have advanced to a rapid advance, and one thing is certain that spruce will not be by any means cheap for some time to come, and the same remark may be applied to pretty nearly every thing in the way of wood goods.

Freights also have advanced to a rapid advance, and one thing is certain that spruce will not be by any means cheap for some time to come, and the same remark may be applied to pretty nearly every thing in the way of wood goods. In regard to mahogany and other hardwoods, sellers report a brisk demand at higher rates, so that the leveling-up process has been pretty general."

"Prices were stiffening at Preston with stocks lighter than a year ago. At Hull prices were firm, with an upward tendency. At Grimsby, a 3rd quality deal had gone up 1/2 per cent, and largely due to advance in Baltic freights. At Dublin trade was good and the demand for Quebec, St. John and Miramichi deals good at firm prices.

"At Glasgow on Oct. 31st, Quebec pine deal ends 11-17 sold at 9 1/2-13; 1st quality deal ends 4-10 at 12-13; 2nd quality and ends 10-4; 3rd do., 5-11 at 8 1/2-14. On Nov. 6th, at Glasgow, St. John spruce deal sold at 10 1/2-12 1/2.

"At London sales on Nov. 6th, a general hardening of prices was reported. At Bristol spruce deals were in more request, and with small stocks it was thought there should be an advance. The transatlantic lumber shipments from Miramichi for this season to Oct. 25th are given, with comparison: Total this season to that date, 61,423,103 ft. deals, 1,858,716 ft. scantling, 1,320 ft. boards, 251,785 ft. palings. In the corresponding period of 1894, 79,329,109 ft. deals, 2,635,260 ft. scantling, 4,891,712 ft. ends, 5,540,846 ft. boards, 2,478,745 palings, 1,944,855 ft. spoolwood.

"Among recent arrivals in Liverpool were noted the Jolani from Campbellton, discharging at Birkenhead; at Manchester, the Barcelona from Halifax, Prince Charles from Westport, D. Everset from Parraboro, the last two cargoes sold, and the Gunhilda was due from Cape Tormentine; also the Sherwood and Nordstjernan from Pughwash, Carl Frederic from Miramichi, the Gairland from Halifax, Julie from Bale Verte, Kalstad, Alert and W. W. McLaughlin from Shediac, Aerolite from Cape Tormentine; at Preston, the Enterprise from Hillsboro, Appollonia from Shediac, Ebele from D. Everset from Parraboro, the Zaida from Dalhousie, an Alert from Alma to arrive; at Dublin, the Neophyte from St. John."

OUR LETTERS FOR AMERICAN PRODUCTS. Horseflesh for German Eaters.

A bulletin recently issued at Washington, in view of the closure of German markets to American cattle, some interesting details as to the preparation and the sale of horse meat in Germany. It is asserted that in the large cities the consumption of horseflesh is almost as large as that of beef or mutton, whilst even in the small cities it is, despite prejudice, steadily growing larger.

"In the big cities some of the shops are devoted exclusively to the sale of horse meat, which is used only by the poorer classes. The German artisan is finding out that at 3 1/2-4 lb. horse meat provides him with a food described as excellent in every particular, and the supply is greatly increased to the demand. The German butcher used to procure worn-out horses at 12 to 22 each, but as the supply of animals of this type is exhausted he has now to pay 25 or 30. Hence, though the poorer classes have been attracted to horse meat because of its cheapness as compared with beef, the butcher has been compelled to advance his prices. It is contended that as the horse supply of the United States is practically inexhaustible, and as horses can be raised in the west almost as cheaply as cattle, and can be shipped across the sea much more cheaply than cattle, and can be sold, either on the hoof or dressed, at prices certainly not exceeding 3 1/2-4 lb.—horse meat can be sold at a price not higher than that which the German artisan has hitherto paid. The flesh is consumed in Germany both raw and smoked, as well as fresh, and the American producer is able to supply it in all three conditions. The importance of the subject is obvious to the American exporter, whose beef and best products are now excluded from the German markets, and to the horse-breeder, whose invested capital at present brings in very unsatisfactory returns. The German tariff on fresh and prepared meats is equivalent to 10s per cwt., or about 1d per lb.

"The Standard says that the pathetic sincerity of the letter to Lord Salisbury warning the sultan was the result of the sympathy of all Englishmen. The Daily News says that the incident shows that callous as the sultan is, he really cares for the good wishes of the people of England. The Chronicle says: 'So undignified and childish an act is unprecedented in the history of diplomacy, and adds that the sultan's repentance probably comes too late.'

"The Times this morning, commenting upon the speech of Lord Salisbury, asserts that the letter written by the sultan to the prime minister has a remarkable tribute to the influence which Lord Salisbury wields in Europe. The Times adds editorially that it may be doubted whether the sultan will be really greatly pleased with the result of his appeal, since Lord Salisbury declines to act outside the concert of the powers."

BORN IN HAMPTON. Death of Rev. J. W. Campbell After a Lingering Illness of Typhoid Fever.

His Wife Was Miss Penelope, of Rolling Dam, Canticus County.

Rev. James W. Campbell, pastor of the Freebyterian church in this city, died about 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, after a lingering illness of about five weeks. Naturally the announcement of his death has cast a gloom over the people of Wenona and vicinity. Death is indeed a sad thing, and must come to each one sooner or later, but in this instance it is doubly sad, as Mr. Campbell died in what may be termed the prime of his life, being but thirty-two years of age. In addition to this he leaves a loving wife and two children to mourn the demise of a devoted husband and kind father. True, Mr.

Campbell and family have not been residents of our city for any great length of time; however, during their residence here, brief as it may seem, they have gained a host of friends, all of whom will join the funeral cortege, and express the deepest sympathy to Mrs. Campbell and her two children in this hour of affliction.

Rev. Mr. Campbell was a man of kind deeds and cheerful words, and never lost a chance to do good when an opportunity presented itself. During his time as pastor of the Wenona Freebyterian church, it has enjoyed a steady growth in membership, 28 new members having been taken into all connection and over 30 baptisms recorded, and it is safe to assert that it will be a difficult task to find a pastor who will fill the vacancy with such general satisfaction. Before his death he gave a brief outline of Mr. Campbell's life as near as we were able to obtain it.

Rev. James W. Campbell was born in Hampton, Kings county, New Brunswick (near St. John), April 14, 1863, and came to the United States to settle in Volga City, Iowa. While a resident of that place he preached to a Wisconsin parish for a year. However, before coming from New Brunswick Mr. Campbell went through Normal school at Bellevue, Charlotte county, New Brunswick, and to them were born two children, Edith and Murray.—Wenona Index.

A later issue of the same paper gives the following account of the funeral services. The funeral of Rev. James W. Campbell took place Friday afternoon, October 11, from the Freebyterian church, of which he had for more than a year been the honored pastor. The services were held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. The church was filled with sorrowing and sympathizing friends. At 2:30 the tolling of the bell which had so often called the pastor to his place in the church called him again. He came with the firm, manly tread of old, but borne in silently by friendly hands and followed by those who loved him best on earth. Quietly and reverently the casket was placed where a few short weeks before the pastor had stood, seemingly a type of physical strength, to administer baptism and dispense the sacrament of the Lord's supper. There were signs of mourning everywhere. Both entrance to the church were draped with black and white, while inside the church were masses of potted plants and draperies of black. The organ, pulpit and pastor's chair were all heavily draped. The walls around the casket were flowers and floral designs, gifts from the Epworth League, Christian Endeavor, Ladies Aid society and King's Daughters. At the request of Mrs. Campbell, Rev. J. W. Campbell, of the Freebyterian church and congregation were seated as nearly as possible in the middle of the church at that hour of loneliness. Rev. D. K. Campbell, of the Freebyterian church, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. J. B. Stillson of Rochester, N. Y., and Rev. Frank P. Stoltz of Streater. Other pastors present were Rev. Minnie M. Bell of the Freebyterian church, the Swedish Lutheran, and Rev. James H. Clark of La Rose.

Rev. D. K. Campbell, after giving a brief sketch of the life of James W. Campbell, said that he was fond of him as a beloved friend and countryman, took for his text Matt. 25: 13: "Watch, therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of Man cometh." His theme was that it made little difference when, where or how death came to a person, whether in youth or old age, or as it came to this brother, in the vigor of early manhood. Whether it found us at home, in the street, at the desk, or at a meeting, if it comes like a "thief in the night," striking its victim down suddenly and without warning, or after much pain and suffering, it is all the same. He was ready to go into the marketplace with us "our lamps trimmed and burning," ready to go into the marriage supper of the Lamb. The choir, who were all dressed in black, rendered the following selections during the services: Anthem, Blessed are the Dead Who Die in the Lord; Lead Kindly Light; A Home on High, and The Christian's Good-bye. The schools were dismissed and all business houses closed during the services as a last tribute of respect to one who had gained so much for the preservation, care and economical use of her forests. Here is an object worthy the attention of our great lumbermen. Let them find chords of forestry in universities." Concluding he said: "We, as a community, wish to survive, and we must therefore, in the age of fusion, look around us, to select some sure basis of morality; some guiding principle we can follow ourselves and teach, with the assurance that it has within it the quality and infinite expansion to meet the developing wants of succeeding generations. We find it in the teachings of Jesus Christ. Great is the power of sentiment. The men who have so far done most in making Canada are men who have been filled with some lofty sentiment, patriotism, loyalty to the mother country, honesty in public life, etc. Men without sentiment have no inspirations for the youth of a country. Let no man try to reduce us to a dollars and cents basis of civilization, to a mechanical political economy. The law of love, the law of honor, the law of fairness, are sounder foundations for life; and these laws find their best expression in Christianity."

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

The Meetings in Various Parts of Westmorland County.

A correspondent writes: The parish of Westmorland held its semi-annual convention at Tishish Bridge on Nov. 15th, under the presidency of James Fillmore.

The president's address was encouraging. The superintendent reported their school work during the last half year. Some of these expressed gratitude for benefits received.

The president's address was encouraging. The superintendent reported their school work during the last half year. Some of these expressed gratitude for benefits received. The report was so reviewed as to emphasize important points and lead to better work. The school at Tishish Bridge resolved to become evergreen by working all through the approaching winter.

In the evening addresses were given by Howard Trueman, Rev. A. Lavers, together with Normal lesson and address by the field secretary.

Mr. Lavers, with his daughter, the secretary of the parish, have been in this parish convention. As they are removing to St. George, in Charlotte, a resolution was presented and unanimously carried recognizing their usefulness and praying for blessings to attend them in a new field of labor. Mrs. Fullerton was elected as the new secretary.

The Botsford parish convention was appointed for Bayfield, Nov. 15th, but an extraordinary day's rain prevented their assembling.

On Sunday morning, 17th, the field secretary preached in the Sackville Methodist church, and in the afternoon to the Baptist congregation at Wood Point.

On Monday, 18th, Sackville parish convention was held at Midgie. There was a good attendance in the afternoon but large in the evening. Rev. T. D. Hart aided the field secretary in the afternoon. The sessions were of deep interest to all.

Dorchester parish held its convention in the Baptist church on Tuesday, 19th. The afternoon was spent in the reading and exposition of the Home Class department. Mr. Joseph Bishop, as president, occupied the chair. His address in the evening was strong and cheerful. Rev. Geo. Dawson spoke of some benefits he had derived in convention work elsewhere, and urged the teachers to pursue their duties under the constraining love of Christ.

Mr. Lucas gave a normal lesson address adapted for both young and old present, dealing with ways of better study and work. He was followed by Rev. Mr. Kiewstead on the Importance of Sunday School Work, and by Chas. Knapp on some features of progress in Sunday schools. Many spoke of this as very profitable.

PROFESSORS BURWASH AND GOODWIN. Two Former Mt. Allison Professors Speak in Ontario Cities.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Dr. John Burwash of Victoria university was the chief speaker at the Sunday meeting of the Canadian Temperance League yesterday afternoon. A portion of his address dealt with the Women's Christian Union. He said that the membership of the organization in Toronto numbers but little more than three hundred ladies. He estimated that in number of ladies in Toronto eligible for membership was thirty thousand.

"The W. C. U. claimed only one out of a hundred. This, he said, was deplorable; our women must have courage to urge their opinions in society and not bow to the convention that made drinking a usage. A little vice-regal patronage would send thousands of ladies who were now afraid to join into the W. C. U., and he prayed that the day would come.

Kingston, Nov. 15.—Prof. Goodwin spoke at Saturday afternoon in convocation hall, Queen's university, on the Signs of the Times. Among many things said were these: "In the contest of physical forces man has reached a height never before attained. He is able to accomplish feats of construction, in view of which the tales of the Arabian Nights seem true. And let it be noted that these great powers are in the hands of the Christian nations. Science and industry are at last wed. As a consequence of this union the advance in the material well being of the civilized world has been, particularly in the last half of the century, unprecedentedly rapid. At the present rate of advance the new century will be very young when it shall see the waterfalls of the civilized world fully utilized. This supply of energy will never fail so long as the sun gives heat and the dry land remains above the waters. But along with the new use of water power must come a general attention to forestry, for as the forests are cut and burned away, the soils will disappear from the hills; deserts will abound, steady rainfall will be replaced by heavy streams of water, and permanent streams will be required, who may then ascend from the murky depths of the coal mine and engage in the more human occupations of woodmen. The time is at hand when Canada must be educated in the preservation, care and economical use of her forests. Here is an object worthy the attention of our great lumbermen. Let them find chords of forestry in universities." Concluding he said: "We, as a community, wish to survive, and we must therefore, in the age of fusion, look around us, to select some sure basis of morality; some guiding principle we can follow ourselves and teach, with the assurance that it has within it the quality and infinite expansion to meet the developing wants of succeeding generations. ENTIRE ROMAN HOUSE DUG UP. (London Daily News.) Rome is really an inexhaustible mine to the lover of antiquity. Almost every day, says a correspondent the new discoveries are announced, while almost any spot repays excavation. Lately, in Via della Sette Sale, near the Colosseum, and next to the ruins of the Baths of Titus, while digging year being carried on at some foundations, there came to light, at the depth of twenty-six feet, an entire Roman house with black and white mosaic floors, and with some remains of the subdued polychrome decorations which the houses of Livia of the Palatine is celebrated. The walls are frescoed with garlands of flowers, with cocks in the centre. It seems to be the remains of the residence of the Prefectus urbis, the situation of which corresponds to the locality in which the ruins have been discovered. Almost at the same time, in the vicinity of the Piazza della Carrette, near the Roman Forum, there have been unearthed, sixteen feet deep, some private baths of considerable extent, with passages paved with large pieces of basalt, similar to those of the antique Via Sacra.

RICH SILVER VEIN. Its Appearance at the Point of Discovery Caused a Surprise. Port Arthur, Nov. 15.—The most wonderful silver discovery of recent years has been made on the north shore of Lake Superior, near the mouth of the Papsayat river, not far from the Indian reservation. ST. STEPHEN.

Weavers in the Cotton Mill Granted an Increase in Pay Without Solicitation.

London, Nov. 18th, 1895. The Registrar of the Supreme Court, Ontario, has granted an order of prohibition in the case of the corporation of the city of Toronto v. Virgo, on appeal from the supreme court of Canada. Judgment was delivered today. Their lordships thought that there was a marked distinction between the prohibition and the regulation or governance of a trade, and the regulation or governance of a substance and should be regarded from the point of view of the public interest. They regarded the effect of the by-law to be practically to deprive residents of buying goods or trading with the class of traders in question. Their lordships concluded that it was the intention of the act to give to the corporation the prohibitory powers claimed under the by-law, and, agreeing with the majority of the judges of the supreme court, they dismissed the appeal, with costs.

OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Cable advice received from the government today announced that the imperial government has decided to support the project of a fast mail service between Great Britain and Canada to the extent of $75,000 annually for a class of twenty knots vessels similar to the Teutonic.

The home government requires the dominion to invite new tenders for the service, so that the different syndicates which have been asking permission to submit tenders since the matter was placed in Mr. Huddart's hands will have an opportunity of submitting offers.

His excellency had under consideration the petitions asking for a new trial for the wife murderer, J. R. Hooper, and the granting of the application for a commutation of the sentence.

Applications have been received from the maritime provinces asking for the shortening of the close season for smelt. At present the fishery commences on the 1st of December.

The fishermen would like it to begin a few days earlier. Hon. Mr. Costigan has the matter under consideration. Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Major Markham, commander of this year's Blesley team, has forwarded his report to the president of the Dominion Rifle association.

QUEBEC.

Montreal, Nov. 22.—Azair Gauthier, the murderer of Miss Consigny, was pronounced guilty by a jury as unfit to stand trial because of insanity. The accused will be sent to the asylum and carefully watched and if it is found that he is simulating insanity he will be put on trial.

There has been another change in the management of the Montreal Morning and Evening Herald. The McLeans of Ottawa, father and son, who for the last two years or so have been forced out and "Jack" Garvin, formerly parliamentary correspondent of the Toronto News, has been appointed provisional managing editor.

It is understood that the project of an action at law, but this is probably just what the Journal would like.

The government expects by this week's mail particulars of the conditions under which the imperial government intends to assist the fast line project. Inasmuch as a stipulation is made that new tenders must be called for, it is generally believed the service can be secured for a less sum than the amount of the two subsidies from Canada and Great Britain, which, as they stand, aggregate $1,125,000.

The Canadian subsidy of $750,000 had to be put at that high figure in order to secure connection with a French port, but in some quarters it is thought the imperial government may insist upon an English port being made the European terminus of the line, and in that event it will be a tussle between Liverpool and Southampton.

The unweaving of the historic monuments on the battlefields of Chateauguay, Lundy's Lane and Chrysler's Farm within the past few months has awakened considerable interest in the events of the American war of 1812-13.

FORESTERS' HALL

Formally Dedicated Thursday Evening.

by High Court Officers and a General Programme of Interest.

giving was another red letter day in the history of Foresters in this city. The handsome hall order on Charlotte street was dedicated.

affair was under the auspices of Log Cabin, whose members are the leading officers of other and the two encampments of Foresters, also accompanied by filled the hall completely.

Ranger Hazelhurst occupied his until the departing officers formally received, when High Ranger Kinghorn took charge.

As assisted by High Vice E. G. Rev. J. J. Teasdale as high priest; Geo. E. Day as high marshal; Messrs. Lingley, Geo. Cochran, Stewart and E. S. Gifford as H. C. R. Coleman, H. S. F. Munson, H. C. Chapman and prominent in the order were brief but impressive service was carried out, and the hall solemnized to the work of the order.

Ranger Hazelhurst then retired to the chair and called upon the high ranger for an address.

Kinghorn said he was highly pleased to be present and must congratulate Court Log Cabin on their courts on the possession of a hall. Court Log Cabin starts the largest charter list of courts ever instituted, and it was up to its record.

Progress had attended the order of independent Foresters everywhere. Application was made at the next session of parliament for power to extend the borders of its operations to bring its financial affairs under independent inspection.

The order was sound financial basis. Secretary Emmerson was called and gave a short historical of Forestry from the organization of the order of Royal Foresters in 1747 down to the present, noting the various secessions and formations of different orders, such as the Independent order, the Chartered order, the I. O. F. in 1881 had only 400 members altogether, while today there are 2,000 in St. John and 900 in Kingsport, with $4,000 in the treasury. In 1881 it was $4,000 in debt; it has a surplus of $1,500,000, and paid out in fourteen years $2,000,000 in benefits, of which $500,000 was paid to beneficiaries.

Some of whom would have had little left but for the fact Forestry existed. The order had a good name and large membership in St. John because of its recording after back and afflicted here and those dependent on it, and it was so everywhere. He noted there would be no lapse or decrease of interest and zeal on the part of the members, but that they might like to prove that this was not only an insurance society but a fraternal and benevolent organization.

He hoped Court Log Cabin would not be content with its past gains, but go on until it was the best court in the jurisdiction.

Chief Ranger Hazelhurst thanked the high court officers for their attendance and for their kind and interesting addresses. Mr. Macrae came down for an address, but was of town and could not arrive in time for this portion of the programme.

Other refreshments were served by a committee of gentlemen, afterwards the following programme was carried out: Reading, Maxwells; song, Dr. J. W. Macrae; solo, Wm. Brown; recitation, John Salmon; instrumental trio, Brown, E. Bowman and A. Bowring; song, Alex. Gunn. Nearly all numbers were encored, and the programme was very heartily appreciated.

THE C. P. R. MAKING MONEY.

Considered in C. P. R. earnings for November of last year. It is said this week's earnings will show an increase of $70,000. Net earnings for November will run well up to $1,000,000. Traffic on the coast is very heavy, and the prospects for the continuance of big earnings are favorable.

ONTARIO'S OAT CROP.

Oats is the big crop of the year in Ontario. It has exceeded the August estimate, increased acreage and the average yield of 32.7 bushels per acre, have given a total of 84,075,555 bushels. There are a few poor records, but the following are fair samples of reports: "Good, but not in stream," "best for some time," "a fair crop, and good quality," "best crop for a decade," "the heaviest yield in the province." The total yield of the province is 9,528,024 bushels larger than the big crop of 1891, and 14,525,000 bushels larger than that of 1884.

Hopewell Hill, Nov. 21.—The south-west gale which prevailed here all day exceeded in violence any that has visited this quarter this season, and during the latter part of the day increased almost to a hurricane. The sea in Shephoy Bay was tremendous. The schr. Fraulien, bark laden, which had anchored on the bar above Grindstone Island, dragged her anchors this morning and went around on the flats near here. As the tide made she pounded and drifted up the river, finally getting off into deep water. While on the flats the sea broke over the schooner crossing the river, she probably badly strained. With the gale, the long spell of remarkably mild weather has been broken, there being a quite remarkable lowering of the temperature within the past 24 hours.

CHARLOTTE CO.

St. Stephen, N. B., Nov. 22.—Hon. L. G. Downes, one of the most prominent citizens of Canada, seriously ill at his residence in this town. The body of Patrick Mahoney or Mahany, drowned on the schooner Maud Malloch at Calais about five weeks ago, was found on the Canadian shore last night near the Joseph Donald's house about a mile and a half from where he was knocked overboard. The body, which was badly decomposed, was buried by the poor commissioner for the parish of Dufferin. Money claimed to belong to Lower Cove, St. John, but as yet no trace of any relatives has been found.

St. Stephen, Nov. 24.—Captain Worcester of the tugboat William Hinds left his home in Charlottetown and took his family that he would not be home for dinner. He did not return that day or night, and as the William Hinds was not away from the wharf they became anxious. Enquiries were made and it was ascertained that he had been seen at one o'clock on Friday fishing from the side of Jewett's wharf. An inspection of the wharf resulted in the finding of Capt. Worcester's fishing pole and hat, and a further search at low tide last night resulted in the finding of the body lying between two rocks. It is supposed that he became numb and in attempting to rise fell over the wharf and was drowned. He was an industrious and respected man, between sixty and sixty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and four or five daughters.

KENT CO.

Richibucto, Nov. 22.—A heavy south-west gale prevailed in this locality yesterday. The Kingston bridge had a narrow escape from serious damage. A large force of men watched it all day and ropes were run from parts of the bridge to the wharf that projects out above on the south side of the river. The schr. Favorite broke away and came down against the bridge, carrying away her jibboom and moving one of the spans several feet. A Thanksgiving service was held in the Methodist church last evening. Our town will soon be able to boast of a band, as one consisting of sixteen pieces has been ordered from Toronto and will be here next week.

WESTMORELAND CO.

Moncton, Nov. 21.—The schr. Fraulien Crocker was blown ashore at Hopewell Cape in the gale of yesterday. She is loaded with lumber by Sumner & Co. of Moncton. The damage was not serious and she was expected to come off next tide. Evangelist Gae concluded his series of meetings here yesterday, speaking to immense audiences afternoon and evening. He stated that between 800 and 1,000 persons expressed a desire to lead Christian lives, but the final summing up has not yet been made.

Walter C. Sumner, son of W. H. T. Sumner, Moncton, was married in Truro yesterday to Lola May, daughter of Mrs. Elmira Reta of that town. The bridesmaid was Miss Alva Laucher, and the groom was attended by Master Fred C. Loucher. The ceremony was performed by the bride's brother-in-law, Rev. W. C. Goucher. The happy couple will reside in Truro, where Mr. Sumner conducts a flour mill business.

Sackville, Nov. 22.—The sixth annual convention of the Inter-collegiate Y. M. C. A. is now in session here. About 25 delegates from the maritime colleges are present and the convention gives evidence of being one of great interest. H. W. George of New York secretary of the National College Y. M. C. A. is present, and will take a very prominent part in the proceedings. The opening services were held to-night in Lingley hall. Dr. Allison gave an address of welcome, which was followed by a most interesting paper by Prof. Tweedie, subject, "The Student and Religion." The paper is reprinted from the lecture course last year by special request of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. George gave a very encouraging report of the maritime college work. Many other interesting papers will be read. Among them, "Method of Work," by H. H. Clark, Dalhousie; "The Relation of Associations to College Athletics," by J. A. Allen of U. N. B., and "How Can We Further Create Interest in Missions in Our College?" by J. A. Corbett of Acadia. A reception will be tendered the delegates by Dr. and Mrs. Borden in the parlors of the Ladies' college on Saturday evening.

The remaining discourses of the university course of sermons so admirably inaugurated by Bishop Courtney of Halifax on the 10th inst., are to be delivered in successive months as follows: December, Rev. F. H. Wright, D.; January, Rev. Dr. Forrest, president of Dalhousie college; February, Rev. Howard Sprague; March, Rev. Dr. Sawyer, president of Acadia college.

Moncton, Nov. 24.—The Scott act re-appears in the Westmorland district probably take place Thursday, 6th January next. A hot contest is looked for. As the result of the recent evangelistic services, six names were received in the ordinance of baptism in the First Baptist church today, afternoon services held morning, afternoon and evening. Others will be baptized during the week. Over two hundred persons were present at the trial in the Presbyterian and Methodist churches.

COUNTRY MARKET.

The occurrence of Thanksgiving day last week had a good effect on the market for poultry and supplies were well cleaned up at higher prices. It is thought this will also be a fairly good week in that line, as Thanksgiving day over the border is at hand. Lamb is scarce and a little firmer in this market, and lambkins have a higher range. Eggs are also higher this week. Meats, with the exception of lamb, are unchanged. The supply is ample. There is a large stock of common goods of butter and much more is offered, causing the market to be rather dull and weak, but for really choice butter the market is firm. Cabbage is firmer, also cranberries. Cheese varies according to the month of manufacture.

SERIOUS CHICAGO FIRE.

Interior of the Exchange Building, a Seven Story Structure, Burned.

Four Firemen Killed and Several Persons Fatally Injured.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—The interior of the Exchange building, a seven story structure at the corner of VanBuren and Franklin streets, was burned today, entailing a loss of $375,000 upon the owners and tenants of the building, causing the loss of four lives, the fatal injury of two others, and the injury of six other people, all of whom are expected to recover. The dead are: Patrick J. O'Donnell, lieutenant of Engine Company No. 2; Martin Sherrick, John Downs and John Kredergast, pipe men. These four men were crushed by falling debris; John Landgren jumped from the fourth story, injured internally and died at Cohoes hospital.

THE FARM.

An Interesting and Profitable Meeting Held at Shediac. The Farmers' and Dairyman's Association of Westmorland county met in annual convention at Shediac on Thanksgiving day. Prominent farmers from different parts of the county were in attendance, and great interest was taken by those present in the proceedings. John Robertson, dairy commissioner of New Brunswick, and H. Mitchell of the agricultural department, were also present and delivered interesting addresses.

THE FARM.

The following were overcome by smoke, but recovered: Aggie Brennan, Olga Kellar, Hattie Brennan, Edna Ritter and Mary Pink. Daniel McNally, driver of No. 3 engine, was buried beneath debris. He will recover.

THE FARM.

It was a few minutes before eight o'clock this morning when Rose Brice, employed by Stein & Beirs, noticed that the corridors were filled with smoke. She ran into the workroom, where thirty girls were working, and screamed for help and attention. She was confused. Although every effort was made to control the frightened girls several opened the windows and climbed out on the ledges. One of the first to do this was Nellie Turner. She screamed for help and some one on the ground shouted for her to jump. She, however, went to another window, near the fire escape, and climbed out. Those below watched her movements and anxiously awaited herself off from the stone ledge on which she had stood, and every one on the street cheered. She descended and Officer Whalen, who was on the scene, started up to assist her. He was too late. She suddenly lost her balance and fell. Officer Flaherty tried to catch her, but failed. She was picked up unconscious.

THE FARM.

By noon the firemen thought the worst of the day's battle was passed. They were mistaken. Shortly before 1 o'clock a large safe on the fifth floor fell, carrying it and the third, second and first floors with it. There were five members of Engine Company No. 2 working on the ground floor and they were buried beneath the brick, stone and timber. All were killed but McNally.

THE FARM.

After nearly four hours' work the rescuers had opened a passage way through the debris and succeeded in getting close enough to where the men were buried to assure themselves that Lieut. O'Donnell was alive. He was just about able to talk and it was with great difficulty that his words could be heard. Men who knew him well recognized his voice. Gradually the lieutenant's voice became weaker and his reply to the last question was scarcely audible. The rescuers called on him, but he could not make reply. The fire soon broke out again and the rescuers were compelled to abandon their work.

THE FARM.

O'Donnell's dead body was recovered at 9 o'clock tonight. The heaviest losers are: Kuhn, Nathan & Fisher, owners of the building, $100,000; D. H. Arnold, clothing's supplies, $20,000; Rosenberg & Co., tailors' supplies, $20,000; Stein & Beirs, wholesale clothing, $20,000; Broadhurst, Lee & Co., cotton and woollen goods, $20,000; S. D. Stryker, dry goods, $20,000. The balance of the loss was divided among the many small establishments in the building, to the losses running from a few hundred to $10,000.

DEBS' RECEPTION

The Leader of the American Railway Union Released From Prison.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Eugene V. Debs spoke in Central Music hall tonight to an audience that taxed the seating capacity and standing of the hall. Most of the leading organizers were represented and the reception accorded to the leader of the American Railway union was extremely enthusiastic. Eight carloads of Debs' friends went down to Woodstock to greet him on his release from jail and several thousand men were at the station of the Northwestern road when the train bearing Debs and his friends arrived at 7:30 o'clock. The reception given Debs as he stepped from the train bordered on the frantic. Hundreds of men pushed and struggled to get a grasp of his hand, many of them hugged him and some went to the extreme of kissing him. Finally he was tossed upon the shoulders of four men and followed by a dense throng that never for an instant stopped shouting, he was escorted to the hall, about one mile distant. The warmth of the reception at the depot was repeated when he entered the hall. The speech delivered by Mr. Debs was received with great applause by the audience.

HALIFAX.
Halifax, Nov. 19.—Edward E. Thereseau, Bellevue Cove, Digby county, caught there yesterday a carrier pigeon with a slip of paper made fast to its leg, and the following written on the same: "Sable Island, 12, 11, '95—Wind N.W. & clear; one bird only; to J. Parsons, Marine and Fisheries, Halifax, from superintendent; all well."
A cable announcement of the barkentine Sentinel, Holms, from Yarmouth for Buenos Ayres with lumber, had been burned at sea. The crew landed at Buenos Ayres. The vessel is partially insured, the freight being fully covered, mostly in American offices. The Sentinel was 485 tons, launched in 1885 and owned by the estate of W. D. Lovitt of Yarmouth.
Some weeks ago Joseph Bond, "cancer doctor," treated a young woman for cancer. She died. Bond was charged with carelessness and ignorance. The stipendiary magistrate decided proceedings should be taken against him. A warrant was issued for his arrest and today Bond gave himself up to the police. The charge reads: "Joseph Bond of Halifax, cancer doctor, on this day being charged upon oath for that he did unlawfully kill and slay one Mary Ann Webber and thereby commit manslaughter." Bond has been practicing his cancer cure here for thirty years. He was released on $4,000 bail to appear on Friday.
No statement has as yet been made of the assets and liabilities of Farquhar, Forrest & Co. John McNab will probably be assigned as receiver. The Presbyterian church might be among the creditors, but it is learned the church has not had its accounts there for some time. A statement was made today that the tannery business in which Farquhar, Forrest & Co. had been engaged has been a source of $100,000 loss to them since started. It never paid from the beginning. Royal Fire insurance agency which they handled did not more than pay expenses, and their banking and brokerage business had become very small. It is not at all probable the firm will resume business.

was the Condition of the Young son of Mr. John English, of Lakefield, Ont.

They Nervous, Debilitated, Seemingly about to die, and Vigor, the Highest Medical Skill was called to Battle With His Disease.
Whatever may be the cause, it is unfortunately true that large numbers of children are afflicted with nervous troubles. These in many cases are aggravated conditions and often lead to what is really a form of paralysis. result of severe sickness some time ago, Robert B. English, the son of Mr. John English, who lives at a large country business, Lakefield, Ont., became the victim that seemed like chronic nervousness. The child was taken with twitches accompanied by fits were deemed to speedily wreck the whole system. Naturally the best medical skill was brought into requisition but no relief was secured. South American Nerve was used, with result that after six bottles had been taken the boy was restored to perfect health and is today one of the most robust and healthy children in section of country. The case of little Stevens of London, Ont., sister of Mr. F. A. Stevens of the Stevens Manufacturing Co., is a somewhat similar case. Twelve bottles of Nerve cured a severe case of paralysis.
The great secret of Nerve is that it acts at the nerve centres, and for reason is a panacea sure, certain lasting, in all cases of nervous debility, general debility, indigestion, headache, and like difficulties in old and young. It removes these troubles and besides, builds up the system for it is one of the greatest fleshers that the age has seen.

AMHERST.
Amherst, N. S., Nov. 19.—Last evening about 7 o'clock Jallor Acoro discovered that the men now held on the charge of burglary were trying to make a way of escape. They had succeeded in taking several bolts out of the framework of the iron door and had their plans made to escape tonight, conversation to that effect being heard by Jallor Acoro, who suddenly opened the outer door and found one of them in the act of taking out the bolts. Police assistance was summoned and the prisoners were placed in close confinement in the cells, where they will be kept until tomorrow, when they will be brought up for trial before Judge Morse.

A curling club was organized in connection with the Y. M. C. A. here last night. The officers appointed were: B. C. Fuller, president; J. B. Gas, vice president; John Mowatt, sec. treas.; the executive is composed of the officers and D. T. Chapman, T. N. Campbell, Dr. F. G. Hall, H. J. Logan, H. W. Rogers, and J. H. Crocker. There are to be two curling rinks in connection with the new skating rink and sixteen pairs of curling stones have been ordered for the club.
Amherst, Nov. 19.—Excitement ran high today in the different polling districts of the county over the municipal election. The principal canvasses against the old councillors was in reference to the coat Act inspectors' salary. The following is the result:
Amherst—Bright Pipes, R. Byron Atkinson, John Roach.
Pugwash—McDonald and McKinnon defeated the old councillors, Redmond and McLean.
Wallace—Smith and McFarlane defeated the old councillors, McKinnon and Drysdale.
Malagaash elected Porteous over McDonald.
Middleboro elected Ross over Howard.
Oxford elected Ross over Johnston.
Wentworth elected the old councillor, J. H. Livingston, over L. M. Ogilvie.
River Hebert—Seaman and Christie were elected by acclamation.
Parabro elected Simpson and Ruthford over the old councillors, Fuller and Spicer.
Port Greville—Elderkin by acclamation.
Advocate—Lewis defeated Duff.
Westchester—McDonald by acclamation.
Southampton—Smith defeats Taylor.

Amherst, N. S., Nov. 20.—The trial of the two burglars, Charles White and John Hickey, implicated in the burglary at Angus McDonald's store, River Hebert, commenced today before Judge Morse and was adjourned until Friday. On the night of October 23rd. The above store was burglarized, the safe was blown open and $30 stolen. The principal evidence was given by James Martell, implicated in the burglary, who turned Queen's evidence. He was driving the prisoners to Jogjins and George Pursley of Jogjins, who swore he heard White say to Hickey that if Martell had any of the money he would have blown his brains out. The greatest interest is taken in the case. The court room was thronged with spectators.
The election for councillors of Cumberland proved a victory for the conservatives. The majority at the council has just been reversed. Three old councillors have been left to sit in the new council, the number now being sixteen conservatives against seven liberals.
Amherst, N. S., Nov. 22.—Three of the gang of burglars who have been on a burglary tour of the provinces are now in Dorchester penitentiary. Chas. White, John Hickey and Isaac Hickey, who were captured in the store, were sentenced to ten years each for the burglarizing, five each for burglarizing the store and blowing open the safe in J. H. Seaman and Co's store, Jogjins, and five years each for the same offence from Rev. L. H. Jordan.
The case of Richard S. Dixon, charged with attempting to blackmail Malcolm McDonald, liquor dealer, was finished in the police court today. He was acquitted for trial in the supreme court. Dixon threatened to give information to convict McDonald of illegal liquor selling.
Nicholas Fitzgerald, helper to workmen employed at the Tudor gold mine at Waverley, was killed Saturday evening by falling down a shaft from 300 to 400 feet level. He had led a gang of men with a load of tools for the surface and was waiting the case in a somewhat hazy way. He fell down the shaft 100 feet to the bottom of the mine and was killed instantly. A verdict of accidental death was returned by the coroner's jury. The boy was 17 years old and the son of John Hickey. His brother was at work in another part of the mine when the accident happened.
Following on the failure of Farquhar, Forrest & Co., and the result from it, comes the assignment of Grant Bros., proprietors of the Albion hotel. Much sympathy is expressed for Grants. They lose heavily by Farquhar & Forrest, James Grant, senior member of the firm, had personally $30,000 with them on deposit receipts. That is gone, as well as the firm's business account, which approached $1,000 at the time of the failure. What brings Grant Brothers down, however, is the large amount of Farquhar & Forrest paper which they endorsed, estimated to be about $10,000. James Grant before starting the hotel business, which has been most successful, was clerk with Farquhar & Forrest, probably to a certain extent accounting for the lengths to which the Albion hotel people went in accommodating them recently. Scores of widows and people who can ill afford to lose, will be impoverished by the failure of the banking and broking firm.
All steamers arriving yesterday and today report Thursday's storm one of the worst they ever experienced. Many schooners are stranded along the Nova Scotia coast, but no loss of life is reported. The Gloucester schooner Caroline Voght arrived today from the banks to repair sails. She is haddocking and has sixteen thousand in Thursday's gale was very severe. There were some desperate seas. Judging by correspondence to Truro newspapers from different parts of the county in reference to municipal elections, the impression might be formed that a quite general disposition prevails towards having municipal councillors elected by acclamation and without any interference of party politics. Such a quiet way of managing this matter has largely been followed by the voters of the populous Salmon river district, which adjoins the town eastwardly. Hiram Hyde Eaton has been councillor for this district for thirteen years past, and in that time has only had to contest three elections, previous to the one held yesterday. Eaton is acknowledged to be a model councillor, and faithful in the discharge of his duty. The opposition to him at this time was mainly on the plea that a change of councillors now and then was thought to be advisable, and lest the municipality machinery should get rusty through disuse, it was deemed best to have a good-natured contest, get up steam and give the wheels a spin. Timothy Johnston opposed Mr. Eaton, being elected by a majority of the voters. Both an liberal conservative. Only a moderate number of votes were polled.
Rev. Dr. Sexton lectured Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. hall to a large audience on "The Origin of Evil, Was it by Creation, or by Evolution?" He used very ingenious and witty arguments in the way of showing that the evolution theories of Spencer, Darwin and Huxley, and the materialistic scientists was untenable, and expressed the firm belief that man was created in the image of God, and that that event had not occurred more than 14,000 years ago, most likely within 8,000 years, or a period approximating to the 6,000 years generally accepted as the time given in Scripture chronology. He considered, however, that Scripture chronology was not altogether correct in first the date of the creation of man. In answer to a question asked by some one in the audience he gave the opinion that in the days of Adam and Eve, Cain and Abel, all mankind were of one family, and that over a period of 2000 years he repelled, in effect, that all the inhabitants of the antediluvian world except those in the ark, were destroyed by the flood, which he considered did not end over a period of 200 years. His purpose in the discourse was to show the destruction of the human race, save Noah and his family, was accomplished by a partial submergence. The position taken by Dr. Sexton in the discussion of the subject, and interpreted by the Scripture in replying to questions, did not appear to differ essentially from the orthodox standpoint of 50 years ago, or from what that standpoint is generally understood to have been during preceding centuries.
The new Learmont hotel at the corner of Outram street and railway grounds, is a building which has very much improved the appearance of that part of the town, and when completed will be among the finest hotels in the province. It is 80 feet front by 84 on Outram street, including the old hotel, which has been rebuilt almost from the frame, and forms a wing in the rear. The building is four stories in height, and the whole building is estimated to cost about $16,000. Mayor Turner has the contract for building it. The plastering was let to A. E. McKenna, and has been done for a short time, and the carpenters are hurrying the inside finishing work along.
Moose meat is occasionally offered in the market and rates at about 10 cents per pound. Last Saturday the carcass of a two year old bull moose was brought in from Upper Stewiacke and sold around town. The head and spending antlers of this one were most striking looking compared to the shaggy head and broad branching antlers of another male moose to be seen at the market a week before. The wearer of this formidable head piece was estimated by moose hunters to be 12 years old and to have been an expert in dodging bullets and snares. The large head was valued at $12 and would be worth $20 after being preserved and mounted.

SOUTHAMPTON.
Southampton, Nov. 20.—The municipal elections yesterday resulted in a return of M. B. Smith, former councillor.
John Harrison snared a wild cat on Tuesday. Robinson Hatherly has caught a black fox, and Albert Brown another, besides two red ones and a number of hares.
The marriage took place at Half-Way River on Tuesday at noon, of Miss Ada Knowlton and Albert Wilson of Greville. There were a large number of guests, and Revs. Johnson and McKenna united the couple.
While the heavy gale of Thanksgiving day was raging, fire caught in D. Dickinson's wood pile, by sparks flying from a fire where pigs feed was kindled. The fire spread by the neighbours, and half dozen men and boys were on the spot in a very short time. Buckets of water were pumped and the wood deluged with it, but so heavy was the gale that it was more than an hour before the flames were subdued.
Mrs. D. P. Lewis returned last week from Pugwash, where she spent a month in her milliner shop. Little Sadie McLellan, her niece, did not return, as she is very ill, and her doctors consider her case dangerous. Henry Brenton has returned from the States. At certain seasons Nova Scotia has attractions, and one of these is when work falls in the States.

DURANT'S CASE
San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Theodore Durant was again brought in the superior court today to be sentenced for the murder of Blanche Lamont. The prisoner's counsel requested further time to prepare affidavits in support of a motion for a new trial, and the matter went over until Wednesday next.
TRURO.
Truro, Nov. 20.—Miss Jessie E. Archibald of Truro spent a few weeks this fall with old friends at Yarmouth, and in the course of her visit gave her lecture on "Bermuda," and has since repeated the lecture (which has been highly commended in a late issue of the Wesleyan) at Kentville and other western towns. Miss Archibald made her home in Bermuda during 1893 and part of 1894, and while there improved the spare time gathering facts and

P. E. ISLAND NEWS.

Charlottetown, Nov. 19.—N. A. Rhodes of the firm of Rhodes, Curry & Co. of Amherst is in town for the purpose of signing a contract with G. D. Longworth to erect a grand summer residence at Grand Fallside former residence of Alexander McDonald, president of the Standard Oil Co. of Cincinnati. The grounds have been laid off about two hundred yards from the surf and are sheltered by a very beautiful grove of spruce trees. The site is on a part of the farm lately owned by J. D. McAlay, and is considered a most charming place for a summer residence. Work is to be commenced at once and to be completed by the first of July. It is expected Mr. McDonald and family will be in their new home next season.
A very unfortunate trouble is reported from the place known as the Queen's Arms, a few miles from town, through which a young man is now lying at the P. E. I. hospital. It appears a young man named Benjamin Doane, employed at S. W. Crabbe's, left town with five or six other young men for cutting on Saturday last. They called at the above place, occupied by a family named Mallet, and by some means a misunderstanding arose between them, and after reaching home the one named Doane, who was hot, until, it is alleged, some one produced a gun and fired, striking young Doane on the leg just below the knee, and injuring it very much. After arriving at the hospital, an X-ray examined the wound and found the bone badly fractured and the knee cap painfully injured. Two pieces of bone were removed and the young man at last accounts was as strong and well as could be expected.
A large building on Kent street, 120x40 feet, has been rented by W. P. Doull, and is being fitted up for a winter bicycle academy and roller rink.
The remains of the late W. H. Irving arrived from Boston on Saturday and on Sunday morning a large gathering of people attended his funeral. He was prominent amongst them being a contingent of the Young Liberal society, of which the deceased was a member. He was in the fortieth year of his age and leaves a sorrowing wife and seven children.
W. W. Clarke has resigned his connection with the Canada Express Company and his place has been filled by the appointment of George E. Henderson, in the employ of R. Heartz & Son.
Miss F. Cowperthwaite, daughter of the Rev. H. P. Cowperthwaite of St. John's, Nfld., left for home Tuesday after an extended visit in the provinces.
Crosley and Hunter commenced work in this city on the 17th. Mr. Crosley spoke for a short time in the Baptist church at the opening of the morning service, and then going on to the Upper Prince street Methodist church preached an excellent sermon from James v.16 and gave some very clever ideas on prayer. The Rev. Mr. Hunter preached to the congregation of the First Methodist church, outlining their methods of work, and in both instances the evangelists made a fine impression. The afternoon services being present, both evangelists being present, Mr. Hunter speaking on the five open doors, viz.: "Christ, prayer, opportunity, the church and heaven." The address was much enjoyed by the large assembly, and several pieces of praise during the evening. At the after meeting several persons rose, asking the prayers of God's servants for their friends, and others for themselves. Monday night's meeting was not quite so well attended, there being several church meetings in the city, but a most interesting and profitable meeting was held, several more persons showing a desire to be saved.
The Baptist and other churches have united with the Methodists and the services are now being conducted on purely union lines.

THE STORM IN P. E. ISLAND.
Halifax, Nov. 22.—Despatches from Prince Edward Island show that the storm of yesterday was general throughout that province. The wind blew with hurricane force and at Charlottetown it was difficult and dangerous to move about the streets of the town. Mr. Crossley, signboards and other debris. The roof of several houses were crushed in, but no one killed. The tide was tremendously high at Charlottetown. A steam launch and small schooner were sunk at the wharves. Schr. Lily, coal laden, from Pictou, is stranded at Victoria Point, and the schr. Minnie Bell at Crapaud.
The steamer St. Lawrence, from Pictou, was only able to reach Charlottetown after a hard battle with the storm and did not attempt to return. The steamer Northumberland reached Summerside from Point du Chene, N. B., three hours behind time.

MR. JOHN ROBAR of Isaac's Harbor, N. It has also cured me of a dizziness in my head, which had troubled me for a long time by using it freely internally, and I feel like a new man, today. I really believe there is no medicine equal to it in this country for both inward and outward application, for—it cures so quickly and surely."

WILL CHAMBERLAIN DO IT?

The London correspondent of the New York World is of the opinion that Mr. Chamberlain is not of the same mind as his predecessor on an important question affecting Newfoundland and Canada.

EXPORTING BUTTER.

The experience of Quebec in working up a successful butter trade with England points to the possibility of New Brunswick developing a profitable business in the British market.

HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS.

The Globe and Moncton Transcript, which have been worrying over "the exodus of brain and muscle," obtained their information from the consular return of the value of household effects sent out of this country.

Concerning the Beaver Line service the Middleton, N. S., Outlook says: "The people of this part of Nova Scotia will, however, receive from this new line more than a gratification of their patriotism."

BIBLE LEARNING AND OTHER LEARNING.

It is taken for granted in this country that the people are more familiar with the Bible than with any other book. The Bible is found in nearly every house, though there are many houses which contain no other book.

The headmaster of a large public school has furnished a startling piece of evidence in support of the proposition that pupils in the best schools know more about heathen religions, and about other literature and history which they are not specially taught in school, than they do about the Bible, which they are not specially taught.

I. Name six heroes, prophets, or gods of the Greeks, Romans or Arabians. What was each noted for? II. One of the poets of Queen Victoria's reign wrote a lament on the death of a friend.

I. Name six great Old Testament characters. What made them great? II. Name the poet of the Bible who wrote a lament on the death of a friend.

Mr. Macmurchy showed the papers to a professional friend and they agreed that pupils who would answer the first set of questions would answer the second. The result of the examination was, however, a surprise to both of them.

One pupil obtained the maximum for both papers. Nine other pupils obtained the maximum for A. One other pupil obtained the maximum for B, and only five out of the hundred and nineteen pupils knew more about B than about A.

these children had been brought up in Christian or heathen homes. Forty-eight pupils seemed never to have heard of David and Jonathan, and thirty-two could give no answer whatever to the question about the directions of the Bible for a citizen, king or judge, above Tenyson and Hallam, and only three who gave an answer to the question about the Hindu and the Mormon.

On thirty-two papers there was no answer at all about the words of our Lord quoted in B. IV., and there were only seven correct answers to this question. But on the same papers sixty-two perfectly correct and complete answers were given to the question about the words of Wolfe which are interesting, though one could not think special emphasis would be laid on them.

The results tabulated according to the sex of the pupils, and also with reference to the denominations, show that pupils of both sexes and of all denominations were almost equally defective.

On paper B, the Episcopalians made 44.8 per cent.; Presbyterians, 45.2; Methodists, 35.8; Baptists, 39.6, and Congregationalist, 42. The boys' average was 42.8 and the girls' 42.4.

We are nearing the time for the meeting of parliament, and may expect to know within two months what is to be done about remedial legislation for Manitoba.

There are some who say that the government, having ascertained that it has the power to intervene, ought still to refrain from intervention. There are others, like Mr. Laurier, who say that there is no need of interference and all that is necessary is for the government to resign and then the matter will be arranged amicably.

Answer—Give a little general medicine to purify the blood, and apply to the scratches daily the following: Zinc oxide, 1 part; vaseline, 4 parts. Keep the legs dry.

C. T.—I have an ox six years old that has a lump on the side of his fore leg below the knee joint and back of the leg. It is as large as a hen's egg; hard to the touch, but does not lame him.

Ans.—I would not meddle with it, but if you decide to treat it, removal with a knife would be the best way.

E. W. E.—I have a six year old horse that took lame this fall in the right fore foot and has been lame about two months. It seemed to get a little better at first, but now he is lame in the last than in the first. I got the blacksmith to remove the shoe. He could see nothing, but the animal seemed very feverish in the foot. The horse is in good health and does not work hard.

Ans.—Although this is a difficult case to diagnose without seeing, still from the description I consider it a case of laminitis, also commonly known as "fever in the feet," "inflammation of the laminae," "infarction of the laminae," etc. For treatment bedded loose box, put the feet occasionally with bran poultice and blister around the upper border of the hoof with the following: Cantharides, 1 part; lard, 3 parts. Repeat the blister if necessary.

C. C.—I have an eight year old stallion that swells in the hind legs when in the barn. The swelling leaves when worked. He is also troubled with pin worms. What is good for lice on calves? Also what is the best food to feed a yearling colt this winter? What is the best feed for a boar pig to ensure success in breeding?

Ans.—For the stallion's legs give tonic powder to which may be added tonic 15 grains of white veratrum, if it is of long standing it may be difficult to do much with it, but this will stop it from getting worse.

For pin worms inject an infusion of quassia into the rectum once daily for a few days.

For lice on calves you will find Shives' insect powder, which you can get at any store, useful.

As to the boar, feed on a grain diet and do not let him get too fat.

For the cow, if he has warm quarters and is in a healthy condition, should do well on good hay with a liberal allowance of crushed oats and an occasional bran mash; also give a few carrots. Groom well.

THE MISTAKES OF FOOLS AND OF WISE MEN. When Wamba, the Jester (in Sir Walter Scott's "Ivanhoe"), was accused of having misdirected some strangers who had inquired of him the road to his master's house, he replied: "I did but mistake my right hand for my left, and he mightily pardon a greater who takes a fool for his guide."

I perspired a great deal. The glands of my neck enlarged and my legs and feet became puffed and swollen. In spite of all that was done I grew weaker and weaker, until both my mother and I thought I was in a consumption. For two years I was in this condition; part of the time an outdoor patient at the Salisbury Infirmary.

"Well! surely, one would almost fancy that an ordinary person might have noticed that. But what caused the weakness? Quite another question—that."

"I took cod liver oil," she says, "and other medicines, but got no better. Indeed, I gave up all hope of getting better. In February, 1892, Seigel's Syrup was recommended to me, and after taking it a short time I found myself better. My food agreed with me and the cough was easier. I kept on with the Syrup and by degrees I recovered my health altogether. All who know me remark the wonderful change, which is due wholly to Seigel's Syrup. You may publish this letter if you think it will do good."

Steeves were initiated into our noble order the same evening, which added much to the enjoyment of all present.

THE CLOTHING AIR IS BLUE

$25,000 worth of Clothing, bought at 50 cents on the dollar, will be ready next Saturday for eager buyers who will crowd this store. Everybody is interested, people are full of it, neighbors talk about it. Mothers, fathers, children, even men who don't want clothing are wondering. How can they sell such good clothing at these ridiculous prices? Who loses the money?

COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELF WHAT A DIFFERENCE BANKRUPT PRICES MAKE IN GOODS

We haven't space for every Bargain this stock possesses.

What's the use of turning a plain matter into a mystery?

We have bought the entire Bankrupt Stock of J. W. MacKedie & Co., wholesale manufacturers of men's and boys' clothing, at 55 cents on the dollar.

$25,000.00 worth of perfect fitting, well made, ready-to-wear clothing bought at less than the cost of making. We bought all they had on hand when bankruptcy came. We bought it right, and will sell it for less money than you ever paid for as good clothing.

At the time of writing the goods are beginning to arrive. As you read the cases are being opened and the garments sorted and put into piles ready for pricing.

To hasten and perfect the getting ready of this sale of bargains we will be obliged to close the store all day Friday. Not merely a shutting of the doors and a pulling down of the blinds, but a fast and tight lockout. Nobody but employes will be admitted under any pretence on Friday.

We need the time in getting ready to serve you all the better on Saturday. We want to give you all equal chances to be here at the beginning.

You can imagine the work and detail of opening, marking and placing on the counters ready for selling the immense amount of clothing offered at this sale, a whole store full in itself.

This great purchase of bankrupt stock, the garments of which we are offering at less than the cost of manufacture, may be called a foolish move by other retailers.

Listen—This is the benefit we expect to get by selling, the benefit you may expect by buying. We do it because we are desirous of pleasing the hundreds that come—that come with a purpose to save money. The hundreds of people who's dollars are laboured hard for, who's pennies have many ways to go, who's incomes are moderate will be brought to this store for this high-grade, low-priced clothing.

The people who always trade here, as well as the newcomer, will be made acquainted with new goods and lower prices. You may expect to clothe two boys or two men for the same money usually paid for one. New customers will be made to appreciate this store and know its worth more fully. Old customers will redouble their praises of our retailing and send everybody within their reach.

This sale begins Saturday morning, Nov. 30th. We have prepared for the rush that is sure to come, that MUST come.

Every garment is priced in plain figures. The bargain garments are separated from our regular stock. We're going to make buying easy and quick.

Everything we sell goes out with the distinct understanding that it in any way it is not perfectly satisfactory you can bring it back and get the money. That fact will be particularly interesting to persons who wish to trade here and can't come to the store. Write for what you want and let us send it to you. If our choice doesn't happen to be your choice send it back at our expense and we will return the money by next mail.

We have never been asked for it. Dr. Stockton's matter of fact you are willing to give a certified copy to anyone that may apply for the same?

Yes, sir, we are. Dr. Stockton—Four court has adjourned until when? Next Friday, the 29th.

Dr. Stockton—And you expect to proceed with the prosecution in the Scribner cases? Dr. Stockton then pointed out that a stipendiary magistrate had the same authority as two justices sitting together...

In the evening a glass of Scotch whisky, both of which he paid the proprietor. He registered at the hotel as E. Earle.

The witness said he read this over to Peck, who signed it. He heard Peck swear that he purchased a licence from Scribner and paid for it. The witness then produced the affidavit on which the warrant was issued by Justice Piers and McLaughlin to hold Peck in the Keltie case.

Dr. Stockton asked what cases were up and what occurred. Mr. Tweedie objected to this. The question was allowed and the witness said: Pierce arrested Peck, who had been giving evidence in the Scribner case. He had got through with it when Peck was arrested by Pierce. There was a big squabble on Boardwalk and I gave Cusack the warrant to hold Peck. It was issued in the case against Keltie, which is to come before us. A proper information had been laid. The case was to have been heard nearly a week ago, but the warrant was given the constable to hold the man to get his evidence. Cusack maintained that Peck was his prisoner and that he would hold him. After a short squabble charges quieted down at the station. Mr. McCully, the prosecutor, called on two cases against Patrick Doherty. We began the first one and Mr. McCully asked that Peck be sworn. Peck was willing to go on the stand and be sworn, but he would not let him touch the Bible. Pierce and with him did this. There were several assisting Pierce. One of them was Coun. Gilbert Crandall of Springfield.

Dr. Stockton—Do you mean to say that a councillor did that? Witness—Yes, he did. Pierce and Crandall did as I tell you. The second case against Doherty was then called on. He allowed Peck to show that Peck was properly held. Dr. Stockton replied that if Mr. Tweedie or his honor desired to look at the warrant and information spoken of, he had no objection. But if they wanted to put them in his hands, he would advise the witness not to bring them.

The court then adjourned for dinner. In the afternoon Justices Piers and McLaughlin called on Mr. Tweedie to produce the records of his court relative to the Scribner case. The witness laid them on the table. They were, he said, all in his handwriting.

Dr. Stockton asked the witness if he was a justice of the peace for Kings county and live here at Hampton. My home is about a quarter of a mile from the court house...

Dr. Stockton was glad Mr. Peters had mentioned that. He was instructed that Mr. Tweedie gave word for its execution. Mr. Tweedie denied that such was the case.

Dr. Stockton and Mr. Hanington asked that the prisoner be admitted to bail. They undertook to furnish the best of bail. Dr. Stockton said the jail was not fit for a man to live in.

The court refused the application. The matter was then adjourned till Monday at 10 a. m.
