

RUSSIA MAY PROPOSE PEACE AT ANY TIME.

Japanese Pursuit Seems to Have Slacked, Though One Army is Marching to Cut the Railway West of Harbin.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 22.—At the admiralty it is strongly intimated that Admiral Rojstvensky will effect a juncture with Admiral Nebogtoff within ten days and then proceed to meet Admiral Togo.

The third division of the Russian Pacific squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Nebogtoff, left Suda Bay, island of Crete, yesterday, for Port Said.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 22.—The new international loan will be issued at 95 per cent.

TOKIO, March 22.—It is reported that the rear guard of the retreating Russians is twenty miles north of Kai Yuan (about twenty miles north of the Pass) yesterday the Japanese vanguard following closely.

The Russians are retreating along the three main roadways, their destinations being Kirin and Changchun.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 23, 12.35 a. m.—The party within the government which is urging the emperor to indicate to Japan Kuesia's willingness to end the war if a reasonable basis can be reached, as related in these despatches on March 20, has been greatly encouraged the last few days, and an actual pacific proposal may be just ahead.

The Russian government now feels certain that Japan will not make the first move nor disclose her position until overtures are made authoritatively in the Russian emperor's name, on the ground that he alone is capable of binding Russia. It is quite possible that Japan's attitude in this regard has been exposed through unofficial attempts to ascertain terms.

In the conference concerning the question whether Russia should now indicate her willingness for peace all agreed, firstly that preparations to continue the war shall not be relaxed, and secondly, to reject humiliating terms. There probably would be two points on which Russia would be found implacable, namely, cession of territory and indemnity. It is pointed out, however, that if Japan seriously desires enduring peace on collateral questions Russia might be ready to offer liberal compensatory considerations.

GUNSHU PASS, March 22.—The Japanese appear to have given the Russians a temporary respite from pursuit, probably for the purpose of reforming their forces, as they did at the end of the Russian northward march from Liao Yang. The Russian front runs southeast by northwest with the Russian right much nearer the railway than the left, while the Japanese position follows a line intersecting Kai Yuan.

The impression here is that the Japanese eastern army is marching on Kirin, while the western army is continuing north between the Mongolian border and the railway, with the main line from Harbin westward its objective, but a period of inactivity is the likeliest outcome after the great exertions of the Japanese on the Shikhe at Mukden and the Pass. Rumors of a probability that Grand Duke Nicholas Nikolaevitch will assume command of the army, lately current at Mukden, have been revived here the past two days and are continuing in spite of the nomination of General Litvich.

LONDON, March 22.—The correspondent at Tokio of the Daily Telegraph says: "An officer who has returned from Mukden describes the terrible fighting which occurred at the various gates before the capture of Mukden. He says that never in the history of warfare were such formidable defenses protected Mukden. The ground became covered with hillocks of corpses. Three separate forces attacked the western, southern and eastern gates. The Russian government now feels certain that Japan will not make the first move nor disclose her position until overtures are made authoritatively in the Russian emperor's name, on the ground that he alone is capable of binding Russia. It is quite possible that Japan's attitude in this regard has been exposed through unofficial attempts to ascertain terms.

Resolved.—3. That copies of this resolution be forwarded to our representatives, B. D. Wilton, P. S. Sproule (Grand Master and S. B. A.), and to the press.

R. L. BORDEN'S STRONG STAND AGAINST COERCION OF NORTH WEST

Attacks Laurier for Infringement on Provincial Rights--Fielding Meekly Defends the Bill.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 22.—The galleries of the house were crowded this afternoon never before this session, the attraction being the debate on the bill for the amendment of the constitution, known as the Borden bill.

The opposition leader resumed his speech at nine o'clock, the first hour of the sitting being given up to private bills, during which the bill to give effect to the territorial company monopoly of electric lighting, heating and power was carried by a vote of 52 to 58.

Mr. Borden devoted the first hour of his speech to a keen analysis of the constitutional question raised by Laurier, showing that while professing to stand up for the B. N. A. Act in the privileges it confers on the provinces, the premier had craftily varied his ground in the speech.

Borden in the early part of his speech said he would leave Sir Wilfrid Laurier to answer for the amendments which he had introduced, and which he had not the first minister himself who had failed to treat this question of new provinces in a serious way.

On the introduction of the bill Sir Wilfrid had declared that the step which they were taking for the creation of new provinces was easy and comparatively unimportant in view of and in comparison with what had already been accomplished. He did not know whether Sir Wilfrid was of the same opinion today.

Borden said he did not desire to make this any race or religion question, and reminded the first minister that the house was better in the committee of the whole house than at the present stage of the bill.

But if the institutions of the two countries were so much alike that they were granted to the people of the Northwest Territories exactly the same rights as are enjoyed by the people of the United States and by the provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Fielding began to speak at 10.30 o'clock and defended the provisions of the bill, particularly with regard to the Dominion retaining the control of the public lands in the new Northwest provinces on the ground that as the Dominion had to deal with immigration, it was wise to keep control of the acres on which the new settlers will have to locate.

Fielding asserted that the Northwest school system was today a national system pure and simple and should not be interfered with. He said that the bill was a national system pure and simple and should not be interfered with.

Fielding spoke till almost midnight, making a plausible plea for the continuance of Laurier's power on the ground that even the opposition could not form a government except a Protestant one.

Oiler, amid loud cheers, said this was the first time in the history of the house such a religious cry had been raised. Fielding asserted that Borden had started the cry, which Borden indignantly denied amid a storm of conservative cheers.

Dr. Sproule moved the adjournment of the debate, and the house rose just at twelve o'clock.

For delicate women and children, Dr. D. & L.'s Emulsion is especially suited. It is sweet and palatable as cream, easily digested and of the greatest value as a tonic and tissue builder.

PEACE SENTIMENT IN RUSSIA IS GROWING.

Telegrams Conveying Intelligence of International Disturbances Being Thrown into Russian Lines.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 24, 1.45 a. m.—The possibility that if the Russian army should be unable to hold the line of the Sungari river at Chunchiatu, it may be compelled to retreat not only to Harbin, but also farther westward along the railway, about only the Japanese Northern Manchuria and the Russian maritime Amur provinces, is the latest startling news from the front.

The strategic weakness of General Litvich's position as he falls back northward is made clear by a Gungshu despatch to the Associated Press, in which it is pointed out that unless Chunchiatu and Sungari lines, a scant hundred miles below Harbin, can be held, it will be difficult to maintain a position farther back before Harbin, where with the front of the army a turning movement to completely sever communications and isolate the army, six thousand miles from home, is too serious for Russian consideration.

For some time there has been substantial evidence that the exertion of quiet pressure from the outside upon the St. Petersburg government, it might be induced to break the deadlock in the situation, which results from the reluctance of each belligerent, as a matter of pride, to making the first overtures for peace.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The sudden growth of the sentiment in Russian official circles in favor of peace does not surprise officials here, who are cognizant of the fact that recent predictions of the American embassy at St. Petersburg, in fact, it was gathered that the real obstacle in the way of beginning negotiations to end the war was to be found rather in the jealousies of European powers outside of Russia than in the Czar's own country.

Field Marshal Oyama has communicated to General Litvich the news that the entire Russian medical staff which remained in Mukden after the evacuation, is uninjured and well.

WHEELING, W. Va., March 23.—Mystery surrounds the death of Miss Hulda Schubert, whose dead body was found lying in a gutter about twenty yards east of Chapline street, near this city, this afternoon. The girl's watch was made by Frank Smith, an iron worker, who is reported to have been engaged to be married to Miss Schubert. The girl was the daughter of William Schubert, a farmer on Chapline Hill. She was seen alive last when she left her home on Monday morning to go to her place of employment in the city.

OTTAWA LETTER.

OTTAWA, March 19.—Fielding of Nova Scotia, is the only provincial premier left of the job lot Laurier called from home surroundings to the larger federal arena.

The auditor general's report, like an unabridged dictionary, contains a great amount of information for those who take the trouble to dig into its pages.

Some members are surprised at the comparatively small number of private bills that have been presented to the house so far this season, but it should be borne in mind by them that it was generally believed the session would be a short one.

The Toronto Globe in its Saturday magazine section contains the following appreciative sketch of the charming wife of the leader of the opposition:

The return to parliament as the member for Carleton Co. of the hon. the leader of the opposition brings again to the federal capital one of the most welcome of seasonal visitors, his charming wife, Mrs. R. Borden.

For some time there has been a growing feeling in the conservative ranks that their leader should have a home near the "pulse of the nation."

Nothing has been more ably attested by popular rumors to the contrary—but there is a possibility that the not far distant future may see Mr. and Mrs. Borden established in a residence of their own in Ottawa, although it would be very difficult for them to give up their beautiful place in Halifax, with all its associations and memories.

Which has been their home during their fifteen years of married life. "Pinhurst" is situated about two miles out of Halifax, and looks out over the waters of the northwest arm of the harbor.

It is signed by Fraser Great, secretary to the St. John mill owners. The proposition is to build a dam across the St. John river, where it is the source of the Winding Ledges dam, and the province of New Brunswick, and would prove most detrimental to established Canadian industries whose continuance depends on the free navigation of the river.

The legislature of the state of Maine has already passed a bill empowering the incorporators to build a dam from a point on the American bank of the St. John river, at the Winding Ledges, to the boundary line in the river, and the objects of this bill, No. 101, is to enable the same incorporators to build a dam starting from the Canadian side of the river to the boundary line of the river at the same place, meeting the portion of the dam erected from the American side, thus completing the dam wholly across the river.

The incorporators also ask for power to build from Grand Falls to the mouth of the St. Francis river (a distance of about 65 miles) whatever other dams they may consider necessary.

much of the gaiety of the very busy social season at the capital which this year ushered in the quieter pleasures of Lent.

The home of the leader of the conservatives, like that of the prime minister, is a childless one, and perhaps that is one reason why the mistress of the mansion is so much devoted to her duties and her friends.

GERTRUDE MACDOUGALL. The Winding Ledges Dam bill will be up on Wednesday before the private bills committee. The opponents of the measure are here in gathering force, and there bids fair to be a hot debate over its merits and demerits.

The proposition is to build a dam across the St. John river, where it is the source of the Winding Ledges dam, and the province of New Brunswick, and would prove most detrimental to established Canadian industries whose continuance depends on the free navigation of the river.

The legislature of the state of Maine has already passed a bill empowering the incorporators to build a dam from a point on the American bank of the St. John river, at the Winding Ledges, to the boundary line in the river, and the objects of this bill, No. 101, is to enable the same incorporators to build a dam starting from the Canadian side of the river to the boundary line of the river at the same place, meeting the portion of the dam erected from the American side, thus completing the dam wholly across the river.

The incorporators also ask for power to build from Grand Falls to the mouth of the St. Francis river (a distance of about 65 miles) whatever other dams they may consider necessary.

A large portion of the lumber lands above the proposed dam, both in New Brunswick and Quebec territory, and from which the lumber is driven down tributary streams into the St. John river, are owned and under lease to Canadian parties, who drive this lumber so cut above the proposed dam down the St. John river to mills below the proposed dam.

By the terms of the Ashburton treaty it is provided: ARTICLE III. In order to promote the interest and encourage the industry of all the inhabitants of the countries watered by the River St. John and its tributaries, whether living within the province of New Brunswick or the state of Maine, it is agreed, that where by the provisions of the present treaty, the River St. John is declared to be the line of boundary, the navigation of the said river shall be free and open to both parties, and shall in no way be obstructed by either; that all the produce of the forest, in logs, lumber, timber, boards, staves, or shingles, or of agriculture, not being manufactured, grown on any of these parts of the state of Maine watered by the River St. John or its tributaries, of which fact reasonable evidence shall, if required, be produced, shall have free access into and through the said river and the tributaries, having their source within the state of Maine, to and from the seaport at the mouth of the said River St. John, and to and around the falls of the said river, either by boats, rafts, or other conveyances; that within the province of New Brunswick, the said produce shall be dealt with as if it were the produce of the said province; that in like manner the inhabitants of the territory of the River St. John, determined by the treaty to belong to her Britannic Majesty, shall have free access to and through the river for their produce, in those parts where the said river runs wholly through the state of Maine; provided always, that this agreement shall give no right to either party or interfere with any regulations not inconsistent with the terms of this treaty, which the governments, respectively, of New Brunswick or of Maine, may make respecting the navigation of the said river, where both banks thereof shall belong to the same party.

The amount of lumber cut by Canadian operators above the proposed dam, and driven down the St. John river to points below the proposed dam, is annually from 60 to 70 million superficial feet.

At the point where the dam is proposed to be built, and for some miles above and below such point, the water is very shallow, and at the most only about 25 to 30 days' driving can be afforded.

If the dam is built, no matter what arrangements for shuttles through are provided, it will be utterly impossible for the lumber cut above the dam and destined for points below to be driven to its destination.

The effect of the dam will inevitably be to prevent the owners of the mills at any distance below the dam from securing the lumber cut of their own lands, thereby rendering their lands useless to such owners or lessees, and destroying the value of their mills.

The incorporators ask for power to erect mills on the American side, and the result will be to build up the American mills and lumber industries at the expense of Canadian operators.

A railroad has been proposed in the state of Maine to a point near the site of the proposed dam, and the result of this legislation will be not only to complete the manufacture of this lumber by American mill owners on American soil, but also to open up the channels of the export trade in this line previously carried on by Canadian ports.

The amount of capital invested by Canadians in mills thus affected, and necessary facilities for the handling of this business, amounts to about $5,000,000, and the wages yearly expended in the vicinity of $300,000. The capital thus invested will be rendered practically valueless, and our workmen, if they follow their business, will be forced to become American citizens.

Practically all the lumber manufactured in the Canadian mills, whose interests are thus affected, is cut above the proposed dam, and the erection of such works must necessarily prove absolutely ruinous to those individuals, besides being detrimental to the Canadian interests involved.

That since 1903, contrary to the terms of the Ashburton treaty, an American company, which includes some of the incorporators in this bill, have erected piers and booms in the St. John river, and last season stopped all the logs of Canadian lumbermen when in transit to their mills.

PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, March 20.—Laurier's amendments of the autonomy act, to be placed in the hands of the clerk of the house tonight, are, beneath the surface, no abandonment of the premier's original attitude that separate schools shall be imposed on the new provinces by federal legislation.

The night session was taken up in committee on the marine and fisheries estimates. Prefontaine's life was made miserable for a couple of hours by opposition members showing he had sold the absolute fishing rights of the Great Slave Lake and other waters to party favorites for ten dollars a year.

Senator Ferguson of P. E. I. arrived today and took his seat.

MR. BORDEN AND THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The leader of the opposition has taken the stand that his own party and the people of Canada had a right to expect from him. Mr. Borden has not sought premature applause by delivering opinions on the question until the time came to deal with the issue in his place in the house.

It may be that Mr. Borden will not have the support of some of the Quebec conservatives. He would be the last to seek to impose his own views upon followers whose training, associations, religious views or personal judgment lead them to other conclusions.

A recent mass meeting in Toronto, attended by two thousand people, passed resolutions emphatically protesting against the proposed interference with the western schools.

Mr. Borden is thus speaking for more than his own party when he submits his amendment and makes his declaration in favor of provincial rights. For weeks to come this vital question will be debated in the house of commons. In this period individual electors, and especially those represented by liberal members, can do a great deal to influence the action of parliament.

SIR WILFRID'S LETTERS.

A letter which Sir Wilfrid Laurier wrote early this month to one Mr. Orr of Toronto, pleased the premier so well that he has sent it to several other correspondents. It has appeared two or three times in some of the ministerial papers.

"You remember the proceedings of the Quebec conference, and that much of the apprehension was then felt by the English Protestants of Quebec as to the security of their education privileges in the hands of the majority in that province; you remember that Holt made a fight for the security of the system of separate schools in Quebec; you also remember that Galt made a similar fight, and that as a compromise it was agreed in the Quebec resolutions, with which you are well familiar, that in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec the minorities, Protestant and Catholic, should be granted the right to a separate school system.

"It is not long since Sir Wilfrid—feeling safe behind his majority, and especially the portion of it which was not interested in the Methodist matter in South Africa. That declaration he gave out to the country through his chief organs. The premier, no doubt, counted heads then as he does now. But not many days after that announcement went out that he was organizing a contingent. The direct issue has been taken with him in two-thirds of the towns and counties of Canada and the premier had simply to back down.

A COOL PROCEEDING.

The cool audacity of a government which lends $30,000 out of the treasury to a railway, because the head of the company will not pay the debts of the road and buy the required equipment, ought to be tested with a thermometer. Dr. Pugsley and Mr. Tweedie had no sign of authority to take this money out of the treasury, or rather to borrow it out of the banks on the credit of the province, and give it to their friends. If a clerk in a shop took his employer's money out of the till and lent it to a sporting friend to buy a horse we can guess what would happen to him.

LOCAL OPPOSITION AND THE DAM.

The press supporting the provincial government finds comfort in the fact that the government resolutions respecting the Winding Lesage dam is supported by the opposition. This is not the exact situation. It is the government which is supporting the movement started by the opposition. Two years ago Mr. Hasen introduced the first resolution on this matter. At that time, or shortly before, the attorney general was associated with Mr. Costigan in the very enterprise that the legislature is now opposing.

THE PRINCIPALS ESCAPE.

The foolish young schoolmaster who made a criminal of himself that two of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's candidates might seat in parliament, has been sentenced to one year in jail. While he suffers this penalty for his sin in procuring the false ballot boxes, the politicians and candidates who paid for the work and the machinery, have escaped. The candidate for Frontenac fled before he could be arrested. The government standard-bearer in Hamilton was released on bail and ran away before the preliminary trial. Reilly was the instrument engaged by them and their friends to carry out a plot invented by the political machine. He is properly punished, for he was old enough and sufficiently well educated to know better. But the men who deserved the heaviest punishment are still at large.

Hickey was a member of the fourth contingent that went to South Africa. On the voyage out Hickey and a comrade met with an accident, walking into a hatch which was left open on board the trooper. Hickey's comrade was killed outright, and Hickey received such serious injuries about the body and head that his life was for some time despaired of.

DEATH OF W. B. DEACON.

One of Shediac's Most Prominent Citizens Passes Away.

SHEDIAC, N. B., March 23.—Flags are at half-mast and a gloom is cast over the town owing to the death of W. B. Deacon, who passed away at his late residence, Sackville street, on Wednesday morning. Although Mr. Deacon had been in poor health for some time and for the past few weeks previous to his death confined to his home, the end being so near, was not anticipated and came with a shock to his large circle of friends, who learned of it with deep regret.

POETRY BY CABLE.

George Meredith's Poem on the Russian Crisis Wired Across the Ocean Just Like Kipling's.

LONDON, March 23.—George Meredith contributes to the Times the poem entitled "The Crisis" beginning: "Spirit of Russia, 'Now has come 'The day' when thou canst not be dumb."

After eloquently painting the perils surrounding the empire, the poet thus addresses the spirit of Russia: "Those who bind thy limbs and iron cap thy mind 'Take thee for quaking flesh, mid 'That thou art of the rabble rout, 'Which cries and fees with whimpering pip 'From reckless sun and brutal whip, 'But he who has heard the debts 'Of thy heroic offering reads 'In them a soul not given to shrink 'From peril on the abyss's brink."

RUSSELL WANTED BLAIR TO BE PRESIDENT.

MONTREAL, March 23.—There is no addition to news in the purchase of the Russell interest in the Lake of the Woods Milling Company. The gossip in financial circles is that the cause which led to the breaking off of the Russell interests was the offer of Russell to make Mr. Blair the president of the company shortly after the former minister's resignation from the chairmanship of the railway commission. The offer was made in this plain language, which led to such a state of affairs that the Melgish interests decided to buy out Russell's control.

cannot help but add weight and importance to the thousands of testimonials from the humbler walks of life. Catarrh is the cause of at least one-half of the ills to which the human family is subject. Is there no way to escape from it? There is.

"My Life Hung by a Mere Thread, Po-ru-na Cured Me."

Mrs. Sarah Smart, 276 Hayward St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I can't tell in words how low I was. My life hung by a mere thread. I was waiting for months to die."

"My trouble was consumption or bronchitis. I suffered no pain when I was low, but coughing and breathing kept saying what little strength I had. I could not eat, sleep or even lean back on a chair. I was a mere skeleton. I said to my husband, 'I can't last much longer.' My neighbors say they do not know how I ever recovered. It was almost a miracle."

"I took your medicine but three months, when I could do my housework and washing, and have been doing it ever since. Now I am able to do anything. You would never think I had been troubled with such a serious illness. I shall always keep your medicine in my house."—Mrs. Sarah Smart.

DESPAIRED OF RECOVERY.

Mrs. R. L. Atchiff, Vice President American Genealogical Association, 604 H street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I know whereof I speak when I say that Po-ru-na is a wonderful remedy for colds and catarrhal troubles. Last fall I was very much debilitated from the effect of a cold contracted early in the summer and which neglected. I knew that my system was in need of medicine and rest, but to find the right thing was the problem. Happily I gave Po-ru-na a trial first and have no reason to complain of the results. Within a month I had entirely recovered my strength and good health and really felt better and stronger than before."—Mrs. R. L. Atchiff.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Po-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

SUCCESSFUL PERFORMANCE OF SEMINARY STUDENTS.

Lady Dead at Age of 104—News of Wolfville.

WOLFVILLE, March 20.—The pupils of Acadia Seminary gave their annual vocal recital on Saturday evening in College Hall before a large and appreciative audience.

A chorus of about twenty girls' voices sang Now the Twilight Softly Stealing, and the Gipsies, with a fine blending of tone and voice, giving a very pleasing effect.

Miss McLean, who gave Love's Madrigal, and Miss Grace Burgess in Madrigal, made decided hits. They have clear musical voices and the sprightly airs they rendered were quite taking.

Miss Treva Mitchell is an effective reader, and gave Old Missis in a most realistic manner. A lively gavotte on the violin by Miss Hilda Vaughan and a sprightly selection from Bendel on the piano by Miss Mary Woodman, made a pleasing variety to the entertainment.

Special meetings are being held in connection with the Baptist church. On Sunday evening the rite of baptism was administered to 12 candidates by the Rev. L. D. Morse.

The Acadia Senior class was most pleasantly entertained on Saturday evening at the house of Prof. A. Chute. Miss Margaret Higgins of Victoria, Oregon, who has been spending the winter here, has gone to Truro, where she will be the guest of her friends.

Miss Mabel Archibald, Acadia, '95, who went missionary to India shortly after graduation, will leave for that country in May with the L.A. Flames, for a well earned furlough.

Miss Edith Bars of Dartmouth is the guest of her friend, Miss Portia Starr, and other friends.

Dr. Reid, Halifax, health inspector, visited Kentville and pronounced two cases of the disease as unattended as strict quarantine is enforced.

John Wall of Kentville, N. B., has been visiting his father, the Rev. E. C. Wall, at Kingsport.

James Sealey of Kentville, spent a few days in St. John this week. It is said that hundreds of partridges on the North Mountain were killed under the immense weight of snow and frozen sleet.

Two liquor sellers of Bridgetown, were convicted and sent to the county jail for failing to pay their fine.

The well known ship builder, J. B. North, of Hantsport, is in poor health and Dr. DeWitt in town, was called in consultation.

A very successful dinner was given at the Acadia Hotel here on Friday evening by the Liberal Conservative Club, organized on the night of the last federal election.

At a recent meeting of the Kentville board of health, Dr. Webster stated that the origin of the sudden outbreak of smallpox could not be explained unless it was from the outside.

Rev. J. H. Nichols who has been visiting friends in the county, has returned to his home in Illinois.

At a representative meeting of the ratepayers of the parish of Simonds, held at Coldbrook Tuesday evening, J. M. Donovan was nominated to run as councillor in the coming election, April 18th.

Since March came in we have had eighteen days of bright sunshine, but the snow drifts show no appreciable decrease in size.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

In 1902, 160 meetings were held, total attendance 8,084, being an average of 50.2.

In 1903, 162 meetings were held, total attendance 7,146, being an average of 44.1.

In 1904, 139 meetings were held, total attendance 5,224, being an average of 38.2.

1,263 addresses were delivered at these meetings during the four years. The Dominion election campaign and severe stormy evenings interfered with the attendance in 1904, reducing the average.

What results to the province in the increase at any line of farm produce in 1904? The Farmers' Institute system was established for the purpose of disseminating information in regard to agricultural methods.

In a general way the adult farmers cannot afford the time or expense of attending agricultural colleges, and even if they could the accommodation of the province would not be sufficient.

The Farmers' Institute carry to a certain extent the college to the people. One of the main benefits is to induce organization and co-operation among farmers, as well as professors, notes, exchange experiences, and thus become more conversant with the best and most profitable methods of farming, stock raising, dairying, etc.

The speakers sent out have been selected from practical farmers in our own province, who are successful on their own farms, and experienced farmers' institute workers from Ontario and Quebec, as well as professors and experts on the several subjects.

It has been found, after years of experience in the province of Ontario, that the Farmers' Institute has been of immense advantage in improving the general condition of the agricultural community.

In this province the system is, comparatively speaking, in its infancy. It is in the improvement of live stock, more attention is being given to the proper feeding and care of animals, a marked increase in the quantity and quality of butter, and a noticeable increase in the production of milk.

THE HOTEL SHERIDY. JERSEY COW ENTERS

HOPEWELL HILL, March 19.—The heavy rain last night put cow in a very bad condition and traffic has been pretty well held up today.

Although there are many in this section whose ancestors hailed from the land of the Shamrock, the anniversary of Ireland's patron saint, was practically unobserved hereabouts.

The Hotel Sheridy, Riverside, had an unexpected guest on Friday, when a peaceful looking Jersey cow mounted the steps of the side door and quietly walked through the hall and surveyed the kitchen, her dreamy eyes, no doubt, mutely asking what they had for dinner.

Mr. Virgile will be well remembered by the older residents of the village. He was an unexpected guest on Friday, when a peaceful looking Jersey cow mounted the steps of the side door and quietly walked through the hall and surveyed the kitchen, her dreamy eyes, no doubt, mutely asking what they had for dinner.

BRITAIN'S QUEEN ROYALLY RECEIVED IN PORTUGAL.

LISBON, March 22.—Queen Alexandra of Great Britain today was given a most hearty welcome to Portugal. The harbor was crowded with gaily decorated steamers and yachts, and the British royal yacht ascended the river amid a deafening volley of salutes.

The ceremonies all were arranged most picturesquely. Two great golden galleys pulled by eight boats in medieval costumes of scarlet and gold, took out King Charles, his suite and ministers to meet the royal guests. After a state banquet at the palace, where 200 covers were laid, and a grand state concert by opera artists, the streets were illuminated and crowded to a late hour.

Andrew MacGowan of the I. C. R. engineer's office, has resigned from the I. C. R. and accepted a position with P. S. Archibald, C. E., who leaves shortly for Maine, where he will be engaged in railway construction with A. E. Trites, of Salisbury.—Moncton Times.

The friends in New Glasgow of Fraser S. Marshall, maritime secretary of the Y. M. C. A., recently took him by surprise by sending a check for $500.
