Buildings Cannot be Made Ready Before That Date--- Would Like to Meet Before.

SIR WILFRID BETTER

OTTAWA, Ont., Monday.—There is at present no likelihood that the Dominion parliament will meet before January. The premier and some of the ministers are anxious to have a session before Christmas, but it seems impossible to get the building ready, after the recent enlargements. Sir Wilfrid is reported much better this morning. His indisposition is not serious and he will probably be out again in a few days.

There was no change today in the announced estimates of the opposing national chairman, Mr. Hitchcock, of the Republican National Committee, holding steadfastly to his forecast of 325 votes for Mr. Taft and Mr. Black, of the Democratic committee announced himself as equally certain that Mr. Bryan will receive 333 of the 483 votes in the electoral college.

SMITH AND MORRISON.

It is, perhaps, unkind and ungenerous to exult over a fallen foe, but the Liberals of New Brunswick cannot help feeling a great deal of satisfaction at the defeat of Mr. Frank Smith, and Mr. Donald Morrison, respectively the Tory candidates in Carleton and Northumberland.

These men, puffed up with an enormous sense of their own importance were sent to the legislature a few years ago, but concluded that the local arena was too cramped for them to display the great statesmanlike qualities with which nature and experience had endowed them, and so nothing short of parliament would suit them.

Well, something has happened, and they are neither members of the legislature nor yet entitled to sit in parliament, and the country loses nothing
by their exclusion from those bodies.

—Fredericton Herald.

DECEIVED BY MR. HAZEN.

Much complaint is made this year
concerning the condition of the roads,
not only in this but in other counties. The advent of Mr. Hazen to power has evidently not worked the revolution that some people expected after listening to the speeches on the public platform last winter.

We are told that the old government wasted the road money, and that the Hazen party would at once remedy this sad state of affairs, but when the people voted the new administration into office, about the only change made in the highway system was the passing of a highway act that nearly doubles the taxation for highway purposes.

This increase of taxation implies that the present authorities do not feel able to improve the roads without more money. Thus their charge of wastefulness against their predecessors falls to the ground; for if so much money was formerly wasted, surely an economical government could provide much better service for the same money.

Slowly, but surely, the electorate is waking up to the fact that it was badly fooled last March.—Advocate.

land.

Given the latest calculation of 645,
000 unemployed in England, figure out how many English immigrants will land in Canada in the next five years, for our own immediate and our later good.

The case with which the London Times is loaded up with wrong information about Canadian politics and the Grand Trunk Pacific, only goes to show that the editors are gullible now as their predecessors were in Parnell's time.

It is reported in Turin that the Dowager Queen Margherita remains immortal in her attitude of opposition to the marriage of the Duke of Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins, but that the Duke has declared that he will have his own way in spite of opposition.

Pugilism, which has been reviving in a quiet way for several years in New York, was given a hard blow
on Saturday, when Police Commissioner Bingham issued an order to police inspectors to stop every boxing bout scheduled that night, and in future, within the city.

The exports from the United States for September were valued at $139, 527,000, an increase of four million dollars over the figures of September of last year. This is held to mean that the tide has turned, and that henceforward there will be an upward movement in both branches of foreign trade. The good crop is doing its work.

President Castro of Venezuela, has refused to agree to Holland's propositions for the patching up of good relations between the two countries and is making arrangements to resist a bombardment of La Guaira. Whatever else Castro is, he is a man who stands for his country's side. Perhaps there is an understandable cause for his popularity with his people.

Everybody will read with interest
a statement that the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, a Japanese steamship company, operating on the Pacific, has determined to dismiss the European captains on its vessels. It will replace them with Japanese. Of course the true course for the Japanese now would be to secure the best men available, regardless of nationality. But the nations which practice a different system can hardly blame the Japanese for their new policy. Presumably,
it is taking one, nationality.

DALHOUSIE

DALHOUSIE, N. B., Saturday.—In spite of a downpour of rain there was a good attendance at the social given last evening by the ladies of St. Mary's Episcopal church.

Besides a grand piano, music and singing was rendered by Mrs. Potts, Miss Hadow and Mr. Storer. There was a very interesting lecture given by the rector, Rev. Mr. Dale. Mr.
Bate, who is a native of England, left his native country several years ago, and last summer paid a second visit to the old country. He and his son spent several months in England, Ireland and Scotland.

It took him nearly two hours to describe his trip, and when he concluded by saying that there was no country like Canada, he was given great applause.

Before the close of the social, by singing the National Anthem, Mrs.
Bate advanced to the platform, and in well chosen words, presented a gold brooch to Miss Bessie Stewart, donated by the ladies' auxiliary as a mark of the appreciation for the service rendered by Miss Stewart as a very popular organist of St. Mary's church, Dalhousie, during recent months.

DALHOUSIE, N. B., Saturday.—A very important transfer of property, was made here at a late hour last evening.

For some time the managers of the Dalhousie Lumber Company have been looking forward to the enlargement of their shingle mill as well as to the erection of a planing mill, but they were handicapped for want of room.

Mr. Fred Ritchie, representing the New York capitalists, closed a deal with Mr. W. S. Montgomery last evening, by which the site formerly owned by the Restigouche Woodworking Company, Ltd., as well as all the water privileges owned by the Montgomerys is transferred to the Dalhousie Lumber Company. The amount paid has not been made public, but street rumor places the figure at $15,000.

Mr. A. H. Hilyard, manager of the Dalhousie Lumber Co., who attended a meeting in New York yesterday, received the news of the transfer at a late hour last night, and it is now reported that in addition to the present roasting and saw mill which has been doing splendid work, and has furnished employment for a large number of men, that the company will build on the upper block a modern shingle mill with a large capacity.

They will also erect a planing mill which will not only give employment to a number of men, but will prove to be of great service in our community, making it easy to secure all necessary building material. In addition to the above, large sheds will be erected for the storage of shingles in summer to be shipped during the winter months.

FEW ADVENTURES OF A MONARCH

Some Adventures Related in Which King Edward Figures Prominently.

A COURTEOUS KING

It is seldom that Royal persons can go far without being recognized; but sometimes luck is with them. There are many stories of the odd things that have befallen King Edward of England, when he has been looked on as an ordinary man in the street.

He had an amusing little adventure one day in Naples, when he wanted to gain admittance to a church while the monks who look after it are taking their mid-day meal. The sacristan, taking him for a beggar, replied to his knock with "Go in peace; there is nothing for you."

The King knelt again, explaining that he wanted to see the church. The sacristan, becoming irritated, told him it was no time for sight-seeing.

Eventually, he got into the church and the sacristan, hearing who the stranger was, nearly fainted.

To Dover one day, the Calais boat brought three French nuns. The noise and bustle of disembarkation bewildered them, and they appealed to the gentleman in undress naval uniform who stood on the quay. "Would he be so kind as to direct them to the train for Victoria?"

The gentleman, whom they had taken for the station master, was most courteous. He led them to the train.

REV. CAPT. ANTEL MINISTERS TO ALL

Has a Ship and Two Land Hospitals on the Wild Coast of British Columbia.

One of the most interesting, sensible and practical efforts in the way of human benevolence may be found on the Pacific coast where Rev. John Antel, with a hospital ship, the St. John, and two land hospitals, the St. John and the St. John, are carrying on a work that is only beginning to be known to the general public. In the forests of giant firs in Northern British Columbia there is a corps of men several thousand strong engaged in felling these forest monarchs and in hauling them to the sea, where they are forwarded to the saw-mills of Vancouver and elsewhere, to be transformed into merchantable lumber and sent forth to the ends of the earth to be used for the convenience and comfort of men. For years these men were a couple of hundred miles from civilization. The ever-present saloon was the only evidence that man had actually engaged in the logging industry took thought for the lumber-jack—it was a thought of course that did not go far on the road of benevolence. When, in their hazardous occupation, they were smitten down by an unmanageable tree, or mangled by a logging train, or nearly cut in twain by a flying cable, they had to die without surgical care or await in agony the chance call of a trading steamer to carry them to Vancouver—a day's journey hence. In that extraordinary aggregation of men were to be found all sorts and conditions of humanity, all nationalities, all grades of education from the Oxford graduate downward, and all degrees of self-control and dissipation. Up to these logging camps sailed a little craft some five years ago, with Rev. John Antel at the tiller, and his little son Victor, a boy of 12 years, making himself useful as a dishwasher. The entire trip covered upwards of 500 miles and was made in a month on a sea that had hitherto been unknown to the sailor. Into a cove where he had been told a camp was situated, he crept at dead of night with the cliffs on either side, towering hundreds of feet above him and seeming to mock his diminutive vessel. On another occasion he was caught in a "narrows" between the island and the mainland by the outgoing tide and his craft was tossed about like a bit of cork while on it sped like a race horse headed for the winning post.

As a result of that trip it can be said with perfect truth that the whole northern coast has been transformed as a place of habitation. First of all, there is the mission-ship, Columbia, which is the centre and key of the whole situation. It was built originally as a sailing vessel, with auxiliary gasoline engines. Now the sails are auxiliary and the engine the chief motive power. It is so built that it concentrates many functions in one structure. It is a library, hospital, library, dispensary, postoffice, church and a

Friends of Frank Smith and Vitro Miceli—Lawyer Now Has Case in Charge.

DEATH WATCH SET

MONTREAL, Monday—In two large and lofty cells, to which the light of day is admitted from high-up little latticed windows, on an upper floor in the jail here, Frank Smith, otherwise known as "Crooked-Neck" Smith, and Vitro Miceli are awaiting their doom. Unless before the 27th of this month the sentences of death passed on them shall have been commuted to a lesser penalty, on that Friday morning there will be a double execution.

Up to the present time the result of the application which was made for a new hearing in the case of the former criminal is not known and in a similar request will not be given until next week. In the meantime, under the never-ceasing surveillance, day and night, of the "Death Watch," the two convicts, their passionate or deliberate moments having passed with the quick committing of the acts, are passing the long days in the dread suspense.

Twenty-five more days have yet to go by before the law of Moses calls for its fulfillment, and whereas the 20-year old Italian is cheerful in the strong hopes he entertains of a commutation of his sentence, Smith is said to be filled with resentment and disgust at after having given himself up to the death sentence should have been passed upon him.

Every second of the day or night the men who compose the "Death Watch" keep the two prisoners in sight. In addition to this physical duty, they have moral responsibilities, for they are strictly enjoined to converse with the condemned men only on impersonal subjects and in encouraging words. Whatever else either Smith or Miceli might wish to speak about the "Death Watch" are not permitted to allow it, and no visitors are admitted. Both prisoners are in good health, are quiet and submissive in manner, give no trouble to the officers, and have great hopes of securing a commutation of their sentences.

The regulations for prisoners condemned to death permit the supply of food, better than the ordinary prison fare, also smoking and reading, and both privileges are used by the unhappy men, as far as they can dissociate their minds from the gravity of their positions to allow them to do so. Improving books are supplied, and frequent visits are paid by two clergymen who have volunteered to render spiritual consolation and any other assistance their positions enable them to furnish.

The condemned man Smith is being visited by Rev. W. T. G. Brown, pastor of the East End Methodist church, Smith having declared himself to be a Methodist in religious persuasion. Rev. Father Carmelo, of the Italian church, Dorchester street, east, visits Miceli twice weekly.

Father Carmelo stated yesterday he has strong hopes of a commuted sentence, both out of regard to the manner of the extradition and to the fact not having been murdered in the first degree. His hope is fully shared by Macrelli, whom Father Carmelo says is patient and cheerful. He spends most of his time reading Italian books in devotion at his prayers, and expresses pleasure at the frequent visits of his spiritual adviser.

At the end of Miceli's trial after sentence had been pronounced, he stated in court that he was glad he would have time to write to his parents in Italy and hear from them before ascending the scaffold. This task of writing home he has left to his brother in this city, who however, is waiting, still hoping that he may yet have heard news to communicate, and so far the parents know nothing of the fate of their absent one.

In the opinion of Father Carmelo, all the trouble charging the Italian crimes is due to drink, and particularly to the sale, on Sundays, of beer in the lower-class houses tenanted by Italians. It ought to be stopped, says Father Carmelo, and then many less would be heard of crimes in the Italian fraternity. That at present the police have no power to enter such houses is a fact, he declares, which is deplored by all the better class Italian residents in the city.

The other condemned man, Smith, is says Rev. Mr. Brown, an intelligent man. He spends much of his time in smoking and reading and listens appreciatively to the talks Mr. Brown from time to time, is giving him. Farther than this Mr. Brown does not think it wise to say anything as to how Smith is taking his sentence, as he visits him only at intervals as spiritual adviser and he does not ask any questions of the condemned man, or seek any information from him apart from that of a religious character. What are his hopes or fears regarding the carrying out of the sentence Mr. Brown does not know, but from another source it is understood that his resentment is very strong, and that in his bitter disgust and impatience everyone whose duty it is to be near him wishes themselves away. When it is remembered that but for his own action in giving himself up, the law might still be seeking him, his feelings may readily be imagined.

In the event of nothing interfering the sentences will be carried out in the yard of the Montreal jail on the scaffold on which Laplaine was hung in December 1901, and Hanson in June 1902. For eighteen years prior to the first date there had been no execution in the city.

MONTREAL, Monday—With the date fixed for the hanging of Frank Smith and Vitro Miceli less than a month away the first definite steps were last week taken towards obtaining pardon or a new trial for Miceli, the 20-year-old prisoner sentenced to death.

On behalf of the young Italian, Mr. Daniel McEvoy, before Mr. Justice Tremblay in the Court of King's Bench, last week presented arguments in favor of the two motions he had made.

The first motion on behalf of the prisoner was: That the verdict in the case be declared null and of no effect and that it be decided by the court that it did not have the jurisdiction to judge the present case and that the prisoner be liberated and be permitted to leave Canadian soil.

Next it was submitted that, without prejudice to the first motion, the prisoner should be accorded a new trial.

In support of the first motion, Mr. McEvoy contended that Miceli had been illegally arrested in the United States, where he escaped after the murder of his compatriot in Cadieux street, Montreal. It was alleged that Miceli's presence in Canada, was not justified, because he had not been extradited in conformity with the international law.

Provided this motion is not maintained, the counsel argued that a new trial should be granted because he claimed that Mr. Justice Tremblay, while charging the jurors in the murder case, had neglected to warn them that if they found that they were to render it in favor of the prisoner.

Crown Prosecutor Hibbard claimed on behalf of the Crown, that when the accused murderer was released by the United States authorities, it was because he was judged to be an undesirable immigrant, and as such was deported. Only when he reached Canadian soil, it was claimed, was Maceli arrested for murder.

Mr. Justice Tremblay remarked that he did not consider much of a case had been made out of the defence but His Honor said he would read the entire evidence, submitted at the murder trial and render his judgment on the two motions in a few days. He remarked that he might refer the motions to the Court of Appeal.

LAND AND WATER IN THE UNITED STATES.

One of the most interesting of census tabulations is that made of the water surface of all the states and territories of the union. Their gross areas appear in one column, their water surface in the next, and the amount remaining, which is the land surface, in the third. This last series of figures is the one used in compiling the average number of people to the square mile.

To this some statisticians object, maintaining that the water surface as well as the land area would be regarded as a basis of human support. "Ching, people live on the water, but as they have never done so here, the census bureau prefers to limit its calculations to land. It is a remarkable fact that fifteen states have a greater water surface than the state of Rhode Island, one of them, El Paso, is considerably larger than Massachusetts.

Minnesota's lakes and rivers cover more than 4,000 square miles, and this does not include any of the Lake Superior or Lake Michigan basins, except harbors and landlocked bays. Large Florida slightly outranks Minnesota on account of such harbors and bays in water surface, taking the lead for the country. Delaware has about the same water surface as Arizona, although only one-fiftieth as large. In Texas there are sixty-six counties that have a greater land area than the state of Rhode Island; one of them, El Paso, is considerably larger than Massachusetts.

THE HORSE'S EYES AND EARS.

Never buy a horse that shies without first having a veterinarian examine his eyes for cataract, as the tendency to shie is more often than not the result of defective vision. It may be only a small, bluish white speck to begin with, but even at this stage it impairs the sight, and it is incurable, says a writer in Country Life in America. Any one versed in equine character reading can learn much the way a horse carries his ears. If they are always "pricked up" or carried forward, he may be partly blind or deaf, or both. If the ears are always laid back he is nervous or vicious, and in either case will give you trouble.

OPEN WINTER PREDICTED.
One of the native Indians of P. E. Island, has predicted that the month of November is to be mild and fine, tending his prediction on the manner in which the moon came in. He also foretells a mild winter.

A CURIOUS FIND.
A remarkable find was made a day or two ago by some men employed at Ruddick's foundry, Chatham. Four feet underground they unearthed a perfectly formed fish of considerable size and curious formation preserved perfectly, and Mr. Ruddick vouches that the earth has not been disturbed in that vicinity for at least seventy years.

WHO SAID
That the Daily Graphic classified ads. don't pay? Last evening a gentleman, who had inserted a two line ad in yesterday morning's Graphic, advertising a house to let, telephoned us to be sure and take the ad out this morning, as he had been flooded with answers to the little advertisement. If you don't see what you want ask for it through a small ad in the Morning Graphic, and watch the results.

RAILWAY EXTENSION.
It was announced on Saturday evening at the Loggie meeting in the Opera House, that the Government had filed a plan with the registry office in Newcastle, showing the route of the railway extension from Morrisson's Cove to the Canada Dock, across the Mulrhead boom, past the rear of the World building, and across the wharves, thereby practically taking possession of the required land, which will be paid for at a price fixed by valuers.—World.

MARRIED YESTERDAY.
A very interesting event took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. James MacDavid, of Flatlands, when Miss Rebecca S. Mann, daughter of Mr. Edward Mann, of Rivesdale, was united in marriage to James W. MacDavid. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives by Rev. J. P. Stachhouse. A host of friends wish every happiness to the newly wedded couple. Mr. and Mrs. MacDavid will reside at Flatlands.

MARRIED TUESDAY.
A quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid, Point la Peste, Tuesday evening, when their youngest daughter, Miss Mary, was united in marriage to Mr. Allan Miller, of Campbellton. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of champagne silk, and was unattended. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Kirk, of Dalhousie. Owing to the serious illness of the bride's mother, only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present. The young couple will reside in Campbellton. The Graphic joins in wishing them a happy and prosperous life.

WILL RETURN.
The following is quoted from the Plainfield, Ill. Enterprise of Saturday's issue and pertains to Rev. Mr. Robinson, who assumes the pastorate of the Ludlow street Baptist church, St. John, on November 22nd:

"The members of the Baptist church were much disappointed on October 18th, to receive the resignation of the pastor, Rev. W. R. Robinson, who finds it necessary to remove back to New Brunswick for his health and the ill-health of Mrs. Robinson's mother there, whose condition is such that she requires the constant attention of her daughter. Plainfield can ill afford to part with a man of Mr. Robinson's talent and character. Since he has arrived in Plainfield he has made many staunch friends by his interest in others, and his keen perception of his duty as a pastor and the willingness to stand firm for what he believed in. The community will regret a loss by the removal of Pastor Robinson and his family, and many kind wishes will follow them across the northern border."

ASSAULTED IN THE DARK.

Clifford Cassidy, manager of Babin's bowling alley, Chatham, is suffering from the effects of a brutal assault committed on him while on his way home on Tuesday night. He had the misfortune to be mistaken for a policeman and a ragged stone of large size was thrown fairly in his face as he passed a dark corner. He dropped to the ground like a flash and was carried unconscious into a neighboring house. He recovered later and is able to walk about, but his face presents a terrible sight.

It is thought that his assailant was a countryman, who had been moved on by the police and, seeking revenge, attacked Cassidy, who is of the same build as the policeman on the beat.

NOVEMBER MAGAZINES.

In "Moose Hunting in New Brunswick," Mr. Douglas W. Clinch, of St. John, presents the readers of the Canadian Magazine for November with an article that has about it the snap of the autumn woods, one that is picturesque and entertaining. It has first place in the magazine and is well illustrated. An able and interesting article is contributed by Mr. John Boyd, entitled "The Poetry of Louis Frechette." Other contributions that go towards making a good number are the following: "Canadian Prominent on the Stage," by John E. Webber; "The Ice-lander in Canada," by H. B. Guest; "The Art of Curtis Williamson, R. C. A.," by H. Mortimer-Lamb. Rev. J. Patterson Smyth, of Montreal this month furnishes a very interesting series of papers on the "Hereafter," dealing in this issue with Hell and questioning the ordinary popular idea. There are short stories by Ruth Harrington, A. Clare Giffin, Grace E. Denison and Marjory Bowser.

CARIBOU STEAK.
Many friends enjoyed choice cuts of caribou steak from Mr. Jeff Morrison. We return thanks for a generous portion.

OFF THE TRACK.
The Atlantic & Lake Superior train left the rails at Esquimaux yesterday afternoon and only reached Cross Point at an early hour this morning. No one was injured as a result of the accident.

PASSAGE CLEARED.
Parties scowling up the South West will now have no difficulty in getting over what is known as the falls. Rocks have been removed and a very large amount of work was done, and now there is no difficulty in getting past this former hard piece of water. The work was done by Enoch Stiles, who has received many compliments on the thoroughness of the work.

SUCCESSFUL HUNT.
Messrs. J. D. Morrison and Charles Gray, returned on Wednesday evening from a very successful hunting trip on the South East Branch of the Upsalquitch. They had with them Messrs. Howard Linn, and Mason T. Phelps, both of Chicago, and succeeded in securing two fine caribou and one moose, with an antler spread of fifty-four inches. The weather was ideal and everything was favorable to the success of the expedition. This is the second party of American hunters that Messrs. Morrison and Gray have had this year and both trips have been highly successful ones.

NO HUNTING LICENSES.
Registered guides throughout the province are very indignant, and justly so, at the treatment they are receiving at the hands of the Hapen Government.

Formerly guides were not allowed to shoot moose or caribou, while acting as guides for other parties. This from a guide's standpoint was bad enough, but now, according to the new regulations, all registered guides must send their guide licenses to the Crown Land Office at Fredericton, from which office they would receive their shooting license. This cancels their guide's license for the season, and should they wish to take another party to the hunting grounds they would be unable to do so. The guides are the means of bringing a large number of wealthy American sportsmen to this country and also circulating thousands upon thousands of dollars in the province, and they are deserving of better treatment at the hands of the provincial government.

KIDNEY KICKING.
Some months ago a largely signed petition was sent to Mr. James Reid, M. P., to lay before the railway department, praying that a platform be erected for passengers, at or near the Lansdowne Crossing, at which the locals and freights might stop to allow passengers to get on board or alight. Mr. Reid has promised to use his endeavors, to have this stop made and we think it should be done at once. Three-fifths of the residents of Campbellton live in the vicinity of this stop and it would be a great convenience to them and no hindrance to the other passengers. These trains are supposed to run through town at slow speed, so that no time would be lost making the stop.

We would suggest that besides the petition and an occasional article in the Graphic that electors write personal letters to our member and request him to take the matter up at an early date. We can see no reason for a refusal on the part of the department, and are confident that if properly pressed the platform will be erected and orders given the train crews to make the stop. Now is the time for action.

Every chilling turned out by the English mint shows a profit of three pence.

NOT OUR FAULT.

The bundle of Graphics addressed to Dalhousie, did not reach their destination yesterday morning. These were put on board the Maritime Express and were evidently carried past. This is the first time in three weeks, but we trust it will not happen again.

COLLISION AT WHARF.

A serious collision took place between two vessels at the deep water terminus on Thursday. A tug was taking out a vessel, when the strong current swung it around before it could be controlled. Some damage was also done to the Interprovincial Navigation Co.'s shed.

A DAILY NOISE.

We guess that the Conservatives need a new daily newspaper in the capital of New Brunswick.—Ottawa Journal. (Con.)
This campaign has evidently persuaded the Ottawa Journal that the Fredericton Gleaner is not a Conservative newspaper, but merely a daily noise.—Telegraph.

THE RIGHT COURSE.

The declaration day proceedings at Dalhousie were of the most pleasant nature, and nothing but the best of feeling prevailed. Both the candidates spoke in a pleasant manner, leaving out the bitterness which sometimes runs up, at such times. Mr. Reid proved himself a good winner, and Mr. W. Albert Mott, an exceptionally good loser.

A BIG MOOSE.

One of the largest moose heads of the season was received at Emack Brothers' establishment, Fredericton, on Thursday morning from Bathurst. It is the property of Mr. Daniel Currie, and was secured by him on Little River a few days ago. The antlers are well formed and have a 61-inch spread.

FIRST SNOW.
The westerly wind blew up snow, and it was blustery all day Saturday and Sunday.

SOME SNOW IN QUEBEC.

Trainmen arriving from Montreal, report about six inches of snow along the line in several places.

QUIET HALLOWEEN.

Saturday night was so cold and disagreeable that there was very little damage done, though it was Halloween. A delivery wagon belonging to Mr. William Currie, was taken from his yard, and was found near Harquail's factory, and small summer house belonging to Mr. Currie's children was overturned and the roof torn off.

PUPILS STANDING.

In grade 9, making an average of 70 or above, for the month of October: Stockton Smith, Jetta Gray, Lydia Campbell, (from Bathurst), Paul Fraser, Stella McKenzie, Ruth Cameron, Harold Lapack, (Gladys Currie, Stewart McLean, Bruce Stewart), Lucy Wiers, Edith Beatty, (Hazel Mowat, Lottie Keith).

HANDY ADVERTISING SOUVENIR.
One of the neatest advertising souvenirs ever presented in Campbellton, is a patent match box, which Messrs. Cyr & Nelson are presenting to their customers. This shows that this young and energetic firm firmly believes in good advertising, and as you can see they always have good advertising.

Our morning edition. Results are shown by the progressiveness and up-to-date way in which they carry on their business. Furthermore, this firm claims that the best results they ever obtained in their advertising, was from the Morning Graphic. Of course they always live up to their advertisements.

DIED IN OTTAWA.

About a week ago Mr. Andrew Adams of Maple Green, received a telegram stating that his son, George, was seriously ill at the public hospital at Ottawa. His son, Everett left immediately for Ottawa, and arrived there before the young man had passed away. The remains were brought back and were interred yesterday afternoon in the Rural cemetery. The funeral was very largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Carr, both at the house and grave. A father, mother and two brothers survive. Deceased was twenty-eight years of age. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes. The symptoms are tightness across the chest, sharp pains and a difficulty in breathing, and a secretion of thick phlegm, at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color. Neglected Bronchitis is one of the most general causes of Consumption.

Cure it at once by the use of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine SYRUP

Mrs. D. D. Miller, Allendale, Ont., writes: "My husband got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for my little girl who had Bronchitis. She wheezed so badly you could hear her from one room to the other, but it was not long until we could see the effect your medicine had on her. That was last winter when we lived in Toronto."

"She had a bad cold this winter, but instead of getting another bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, I tried a home made receipt which I got from a neighbor but found in her old letter about twice as long. My husband highly praises 'Dr. Wood's,' and says he will see that a bottle of it is always kept in the house."

The price of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 25 cents per bottle. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pins keep the trade mark, so, be sure and accept none of the many substitutes of the original Norway Pine Syrup.

TYPHOID FEVER.

A young man named Macmure, of Truro, N. S., was taken to the hospital yesterday, suffering from typhoid fever.

DID NOT COME.

The Compton Comedy Company failed to put in an appearance at the Opera House on Saturday night. They were delayed at Quebec.

NOTHING MISSING.

It was reported yesterday that the Shives Lumber Company's store had been broken into on Saturday night, but although the store was found open, on search nothing was found missing.

VERY LATE PANSIES.

A bunch of pansies was picked on Saturday in the garden of an up-town resident. Strange to say the hardy little blossoms maintained all the lustre of their mid-summer brethren.

WINTER WEATHER.

Yesterday was the coldest winter's day so far, and last evening the ground was nearly covered with snow. Reports from up the line state that the storm was very heavy, there being about two feet of snow at St. Moise.

DIED SUDDENLY.

While attending the funeral services at the home of Dr. McKenzie, Dr. McKenzie's wife, Mrs. Gillie was taken suddenly ill and expired. A husband, who was working at Esquimaux at the time, and two children survive.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

The Power Stock Company will open a week's engagement at the opera house on Monday, Nov. 5. Mr. Power has surrounded himself this season with a company of exceptional merit and the plays are of a nature to please the most exacting audience.

High class specialties will be introduced between the acts, thereby avoiding long and tedious waits. The opening bill will be "Sunshine and Shadows," a beautiful melo-drama, with a strong plot, a very interesting story, with plenty of clean and wholesome sentiment. We wish to call the attention of the public to the acting of Little Gladys, the child actress, who appears in several of the plays; also in bright specialties. Popular prices will prevail.

OBITUARY.

Many friends in Restigouche heard with deep regret of the death of Mrs. M. McKenzie, which sad event occurred at Loggieville at an early hour on Saturday morning. The deceased lady was the only daughter of Mr. John Moffat, Tide Head, and was married to Dr. McKenzie about a year ago, and has since resided at Loggieville, where the doctor practices his profession. Mrs. McKenzie was a general favorite and made many friends wherever she was known. The bereaved husband and the deceased's family at Tide Head have the sympathy of the entire community in their very sad bereavement.

The remains arrived at Loggieville Sunday morning's Maritime. The funeral will be held from the deceased's father's residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Campbellton Rural cemetery.

(From Saturday's Graphic.)

Nelson, the colored porter, who was recently arrested on a charge of theft, has "wreaked the coop." Nelson, who was for some time employed as the porter at the Minto Hotel, and who recently got out of town, taking with him a quantity of goods which did not belong to him, and who was arrested at Rimouski, and brought back to town to stand trial, escaped from the lockup last evening.

He was last seen in his cell at the police station, about six o'clock, and when next the policemen visited the lockup the cell door was open and the prisoner gone. A search was immediately made and later telegrams were sent to all sections of the county advising the police to be on the lookout for the escaped prisoner.

His preliminary examination was set for Monday. Nelson is a negro, a young man of stocky build, about five feet nine tall, and would weigh about one hundred and fifty pounds. He had the usual prominent teeth, and curly black hair. When he escaped he wore a dark cloth square cut coat, black trousers and low tan shoes. He also wore a black derby.

Any information in reference to the escaped prisoner should be sent by telegram or telephone at once to the chief of police at Campbellton.

CHATHAM, N. B., Sunday.—Mrs. (Dr.) J. B. McKenzie, (nee May Moffat), of Tide Head, passed away on Friday night, within a few hours after the birth of a child, which only lived but a short time. Dr. and Mrs. McKenzie had only been married about a year and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband. The body was taken to Tide Head last night.

While attending the religious service held at the house last evening, shortly before the remains of Mrs. McKenzie were taken to the train, Mrs. Gillie, wife of William R. Gillie, a well known Loggieville citizen, dropped dead. She was about to enter the room containing the remains, when she was struck, and expired in the hall. Mr. Gillie was in Esquimaux at the time. Two small children survive.

Saturday's three Campbellton young men, Jas. Haines, George Dobson and Robert Butler, were down river on the Quebec shore, shooting wild fowl.

Just about dusk the young men were alarmed to see, what they thought to be a bear, quite close to them, and one young man fired at it.

Fortunately the aim was not true, and the victim, guessing some of the heavy bird shot in the face, seriously injuring him. The outcries of the unfortunate young man, soon convinced the goose hunters that they had made a mistake, and they went to the man's assistance.

One of the men left immediately for medical aid, and the others endeavored to do what was possible for the unfortunate victim. At last accounts he was doing nicely and will recover. The name of the injured man is said to be Thomas Rattie.

Afflicted for years with a Diseased Liver.

Mr. L. R. Devitt, Berlin, Ont., better known, perhaps, as "Smallpox Ben," has used

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

He has also used them for his patients suffering from liver trouble, and is a well-known fact that small-pox sufferers must keep the bowels well regulated. "Read what he says:—'I have been afflicted for years with a diseased liver, and have tried all kinds of medicine, but of no avail until about four years ago I tried your Laxa-Liver Pills, and got instant relief. Since then I have turned different patients afflicted with small-pox, and in each case I have used your valuable pills. 'My wishes are that all persons suffering with stomach or liver troubles will try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I will advise them whenever and wherever I have an opportunity and I hope that 25¢ at any time will save a life.'"

Mr. James Reid was declared elected to represent Restigouche county in the house of commons.

The business of the court being then completed, Mr. Duncan Rallings, of New Mills was elected chairman, and he introduced the speakers.

James Reid, M. P., was the first speaker.

He said in part:
The battle is now over, and the victory is won. He would say with the men of old, "its good to be here."

He had much pleasure in coming before the electors as their representative in the Dominion parliament. He thanked the many friends who had so nobly worked for him and stood by him. To those who had opposed him for good and sufficient reasons he had no complaint to make, they did their duty as every man should. Of his opponent Mr. Mott, he had only the kindest of thoughts. During the campaign he had not, so far as he knew, said an unpleasant word. But he was sorry that the battle was over, and the victory was won. He would say with the men of old, "its good to be here."
