The gun fire of the Americans and British is described as beautiful. After the relieving force pushed on to relieve Admiral Seymour, Chinese regulars, under Gen. Nieh, says a dispatch from Shanghai, again attacked Tien Tsin flercely, and bombarded the foreign settlement with a terrible fire. Col. Dorward (British) commanded the column that relieved Admiral Seymour. American marines participated in the achievement. The admiral was found entrenched and surrounded by immense masses of Chinese, who were driven off by the relieving column after a brisk fight. From official sources it is learned that the legations at Pekin and the foreigners there were safe on June 25. Washington, June 28.-Minister Wu called at the state department this afternoon and exhibited the following cablegram to Secretary Hay;

"Canton, June 28.—The legation min-

The Daily News has a dispatch from Wei Hai Wei, dated June 27, saying: The railway terminus, which is eight miles north of Tien Tsin, is destroyed. Capt. Barrey wishes it published that it is due to the Russians that anyone is alive at Tien Tsin. The American consul telegraphed that the American mission at Wei Hai Wei has been completely destroyed.

PEACE TERMS. It is asserted at Shanghai that Lie, the viceroy of Nankin, has received instructions from Pekin to inform the foreign consuls here that the legations at Pekin have been arranging peace terms. The foreign legations at Pekin, under the circumstances, can have no authority to arrange peace terms, in view of the facts that they are not in communication with their governments, and that they are most likely totally unaware of what has transpired since

A DESPERATE FIGHT. Cape Coast Castle, June 29 .- Col. Carter left Kiawsa on the morning of June 26 with the intention of reinforcing Capt. The casing of the water jacket split after half an hour's fighting and nine men, including Lieut. Edwards, who were working the 7-pounder, were put out of action. Half an hour later Major Wil-kinson was shot. The force then charged the bush and discovered a stockade 30 yaras distance in the bush, so carefully concealed that its existence would not be suspected. The stockade was carried at the point of the bayonet, and the force retired. The casualties were 6 officers and 87 men. The enemy's loss was 50 killed and many wounded. A POPU LAR MISTAKE.

Regarding Remedies for Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

The national disease of Americans is indigestion, or in its chronic form, dyspepsia, and for the very reason that it is so common many people neglect taking proper treatment for what they consider trifling stomach trouble, when as a matter of fact indigestion lays the foundation for many incurable diseases. No person with a vigorous, healthy stomach will fall a victim to orsumption. Many kidney diseases from poor digestion; thin, nervous people are really so because their stomachs are out of gear; weary, languid, faded out women owe their condition to imperfect digestion. When nearly every person you meet is afflicted with weak digestion, it is not surprising that nearly every secret patent medicine on the market claims to be a cure for dyspepsia, as well as a score of other troubles, when, in fact, as Dr. Werthier says, there is but one genuine dyspepsia cure which is perfectly safe and reliable, and moreover, this remedy is not a patent medicine, but it is a scientific combination of pure pepsin (free from animal matter), vegetable essences, fruit salts and bismuth. It is sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. No extravagant claims are made for them, but for indigestion or any stomach trouble, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are far ahead of any remedy yet discovered. They act on the food eaten, no dieting is necessary, simply eat all the wholesome food you want and these tablets will digest it. A cure results, because all the stomach needs. Is a rest, which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give by doing the work of diges-

Sir Hibbert Tupper Makes More Yukon Charges, But Leaves It to Mr. Pell to Bring Them Before the House.

Ottawa, June 28 .- Mr. Bell, the junior member for Pictou, performed the duty of acting for Sir Hibbert Tupper today. The latter went off to British Columbia some days ago, but before he shook the dust of the capital off his feet he drafted a typewritten resolution of many pages, embodiyng all the accusations against Yukon officials which he had preferred during the last two or three sessions. In addition he incorporated with the motion statements by Dr. Catto, alleging that gambling, immorality and other kinds of vice went on at Dawson under the very eyes and with the connivance of officers of the government. These statements were put in the boldest kind of language, but were strung to-gether in such a halting, rambling strain as to suggest that they were the emanations of a disordered mind. A resolution so discreditable tenor has never before been heard in halls of parliament. By some of the Conservatives the matter was regarded as a huge joke, and they nudged each other and laughed in hearty glee at the highly colored and improbable story told by Dr. Catto in such confused and disjointed terms as to bear upon its face its own refutation. The motion asked for a judicial investigation into the accusations made. It was easy to see why Sir Hibbert Tupper had returned to British Columbia. Just as on a former occasion although quite willing to be the medium for making outrageous accusations, he did not remain and face the stinging rejoinder which his conduct brought forth. The object of the motion was clearly apparent. It was not to obtain a searching and impartial inquiry, but to asperse the officials, and through them the government, in the hope of making political capital. This was rendered plain by the subsequent course of the debate. Mr. Sutherland, the acting minister of the interior, might have excused himself from replying to the resolution, on the ground that the matters treated of had already been ventilate and shown to have little basis in fact. Nevertheless he went carefully into each question and furnished a satisfactory explana-During his remarks he produced affadavits from Major Walsh and Messrs. Louis Charbonneau and Armand Cyrette, giving an emphatic denial to certain charges attempting to implicate them and setting forth in detail the evidence in support of the denial. Instantly Mr. Foster was on his feet with a protest against reading the affi-davits, on the ground that it was not proper to read a statement by a party outside the house reflecting on a member of parliament, thus demonstrating his own imperfect idea as to what constituted fair play. Mr. Foster was quite willing that Sir Hibbert Tupper or anybody else should bring charges, unsupported by evidence, against officials and others, but when it came to the accused making statements in their own behalf the ex-finance minister would interpose the filmsiest pretext to prevent it. The speaker ruled against o Mr. Payne. The choice was unan-nous.

The supplementary estimates of the trick, that of objecting to any reference Dominion Parliament include $15,000 for to a matter that was closed a year a drill shed in Windsor; $15,000 for re- ago. Mr. Fielding quickly pointed out that the affidavits were in reply charges preferred in the resolution then before the house, and, moreover, Mr. Foster had abandoned his only ground of objection when he urged, not that the affidavits referred to a previous debate, but that they related to a matter a year old. Foiled in his attempt to shut out the defense of men against whom serious charges were brought,

Mr. Foster said nothing further.
One of the charges made in Mr. Bell's resolution was that the mounted police at the Yukon passes had accepted bribes for according favored treatment to those who had occasion to do business with them. The charge was made on the strength of statements by a Mr. John R. Whitesides but Hon William Paterson read a report from Lieut.-Col. Steele, now the gallant commander of Strathcona's Horse in South Africa, stating that he had carefully investigated the allegations made, and found that they were utterly baseless.

Sir Louis Davies, in one of the best and most forcible speeches which has ever been heard in the house, replied to the arguments advanced by Foster and the other opposition members, and exposed the flimsy grounds upon which it was sought to defame officials of good reputation and standing. He showed that so reckless were the opposition in their desire to discredit the government that they were not deterred ever by the possibility of working great injury to the good name of the country.

A vote was taken at 12:50 a.m. (Friday). Mr. Bell's amendment was lost a vote of 70 to 34.

Mr. Fielding withdrew the motion to go into supply. Sir Wilfrid Laurier laid on the table a message from his excellency setting

Mr. Balfour said the govan independent committee, as suggested by Lord Roberts, so that the house would have an opportunity to thoroughly thresh out the matter.

WHAT LORD ROBERTS SAYS. The War Office has issued corres-dondence with Lord Roberts regarding the charges of Mr. Burdett-Coutts. On June 4 his attention was called in telegrams to the allegations, and also to other complaints, of a general break-down in the hospital system. Two days later he replied in part as follows:

"The principal medical officer reported that the arrangements at Kroonstad were in all respects in good order, and Lord Methuen said they were thoroughly satisfactory. I was deeply distressed at being unable to make suitable arous that a certain amount of suffering

Mr. Balfour said the gov-ernment agreed to the appointment of comings of the medical corps, and he and the terribly uncanitary condition of the camp at Paardeberg, where the only water available for drinking flowed from the Boer camp, higher up, where the river was crowded with decomposing animals, and also with a considerable number of wounded, after the fight on March 10. To improvise accommodations at Bloem-fontein for such a number, which had become 2,000 before he left Bloemfontein, was no easy task, said Lord Roberts. No tents were carried, and the public buildings had to be turned into hospitals. In three months there were 6.369 admissions to the hospital of patients suffering from enteric fever, while the deaths numbered 1,370, about 21 per cent. Lord Roberts observed that he did not know whether would be an abnormal rate in civic hospitals in peace times, but if the rate were abnormal, it was due to the exhausted state of the men, and

St. Thomas, June 29.—George Benedict, M. C. R. conductor, of St.Thomas, had an experience on Lake Brie which he will not soon forget. He left Port Stanley on Friday in a sail yacht for the Eau, and when some distance off Tyrconnel, the wind became a stiff gale and he was compelled to drop two anchors. Mr. Smuck, who was in his 43rd year, resided in Sarnia. The remains will probably be conveyed there for interment. RED CROSS.

At a recent meeting of the London Red Cross Society the following officers were elected: First honorary president, Mayor Rumball; second honorary pre-Mrs. George Robinson; president, Mrs. Boomer; first vice-president, Mrs. Marshall; second vice, Mrs. Ingram; third vice, Mrs. Bapty; fourth vice, Mrs. Callard; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Yarker; recording secretary, Mrs. Wells; treasurer, Miss Shaw-Wood.

Rev. Dr. Robert Johnston, of St. Andrew's Church, was among those present at the meeting of the executive board of the Ontario Lord's Day A!liance yesterday afternoon in Toronto. A report of the government investiga-tion into the question of the necessity of opening canals on Sunday was to the effect that the investigation was not yet completed, and that the question would be argued before the government some time after the closing of the session. The members expressed their gratification at the action of the government in ordering the closing of Canadian exhibit at the Paris Exposition on Sunday, and expressed their belief that the country heartily indorsed the action taken. Special attention was called to the increase of Sunday freight and passenger traffic on railways, and the large amount of other unnecessary work which was being forced upon railway employes on that day, and some effort will be made to secure legislation, which will protect railway workers from unnecessarily losing their day of rest.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE. The followng letter of condolence has been received by Mrs. J. W. McBride,

Dear Mrs. McBride,-At the last regular meeting of Pine Grove Camp, No. 2, Woodmen of the World, of which your late husband was an honored member, it was unanimously resolved that a letter of condolence be tendered to you and your family. The sovereigns desire to convey to you their deep and heartfelt sympathy in the great loss you have sustained by the death of your loving husband. As his associates in the lodge, we realize very keenly that we, too, have lost a tried and true friend and well beloved and trusty sovereign; but upon you and your dear family the blow has fallen with crushing weight. In this time of great sorrow and deep distress we commend you to the loving watch and care of Him who is too wise to err, and too good to be unkind, and who has promised to be a husband to the widow and a father to the fatherless. Praying sincerely, as we do, that during the rest of life's journey, you may be sustained by grace divine, and guided by infinite wisdom, until the glad day of reunion, when as a family you shall meet and greet one another again in a land that is fairer than day, where parting will be forever over and farewells are unknown, and spend a happy eternity together with the blessed Christ, whose service was a joy to your late husband in life, and whose divine presence cheered and comforted him as death approached. Again assuring you of our sympathy and regard, we are, dear Mrs. McBride, very sincerely yours, Pine Grove Camp, No. 2. (Signed) J. W. Young, C. C.; W. A. Hall, Clerk; T. J. Robson, Banker. FOR THE OLD BOYS' FUND.

The large crowds that went to Springbank last night attested the popularity of the latest scheme for raising money that has been adopted by the London Old Boys' reception committee. The street car company had some lit-tle difficulty in providing cars with a rapidity that was satisfying to the large numbers that were waiting. Nearly every car was filled before it reached the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets by those who walked several blocks to meet them. Several thou-sand people, by far the largest number ever taken to Springbank in the evening, were there last night. The 7th Band, in an open car, with the committeemen in a trailer, went down about 8 o'clock. The music that was furnished during the evening was particularly enjoyable.

As the public probably know by this time, the reception committee in-tend to enrich their coffers as much as this work the committee was assisted by a bevy of bright young ladies, who, in slang parlance, simply "froze" to the roseless young man, or old one, either, for that matter, until a flower culvert, $10, and for stripping a gravel pit, $9.75; James Dawson, stripping gravel pit, $12; Thomas Faircloth, grading, $20; James Gillis, repairing culvert, $1.50; R. ### REV. G. B. SAGE

Presented With an Address and a -Has Been Pastor of St. George's Church for Twelve Vears

A most successful garden party was held last evening on the grounds of the St. George's Church, West filed. London, both in point of attendance and splendid financial results. Dean Innes occupied the chair. During the proceedings Rev. G. B. Sage, B.A., B.D., rector of the church, was treated to a little surprise party, being presented with a beautifully-worded address and a purse of gold containing $120. Mrs. H. B. Gahan made the presentation. Mr. Sage, though totally surprised, subceeded in thanking the congregation in befitting terms, for their kindly address and giff. The dean followed, congratulating the rec-tor and congregation on the happy event, and speaking in high terms of the devotion of the rector and Mrs. Sage to the work, and the cordial cooperation of the congregation of the church. Congratulatory addresses were also made by Rev. W. T. Hill, Rev. C. C. Owen, Provest Watkins, Rev. E. N. English, and Messrs. S. Gibson, R. Kingsmill and Wm. Ellis. Expressions of regret at unavoidable absence and of cordial good wishes were sent by Bishop Baldwin, Archdeacon Davis, Canon Davis, and Rev. J. H. Moorhouse. Accompanying the address was a request by the churchwardens that the rector should take a well-earned month's vacation. The evening was a success in every way, the party being the largest in number ever held on the parish grounds. A cordial vote of thanks was tendered those who contributed to the success of the carrying out of the presentation, and to Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and the choir for the musical part of the programme.

The address presented was signed on behalf of the congregation by R. A. Jones and R. F. Kingsmill.

"I shall tell her all today; but mind, Aunt Phebe, and don't betray me before I speak. Now, give me my sunhat and parasol. I am going to slip way to the graveyard, to poor Josepha's grave."

She escaped without encountering anyone, and took the liberty of filling her hands with fragrant flowers as she went through the grounds down to the broad gate that led to the village.

"Poor Josepha! she always loved flowers," she sighed, thinking of the honeysuckles and pinks and roses that had adorned the cottage garden. She went slowly along the sunny village street toward the little cemetery, and as the day was warm all the townsfolk had their doors and windows open. Many of them recognized the pretty village belle of past days, and the murmur ran from lip to lip that Vixen Jarvis had returned to Sunnyside, creating quite a ripple of excitement among the gossips.

But our beautiful Dawn walked along with her head held high, looking nel-ther to the right nor left. She had not forgotten how they had scorned her two years ago, and her blue eyes sparkled with resentment as she recalled it all. But she soon forgot all but the past kneeling down in the long green grass by faithful Josepha's quiet grave, and sobbing out all the tenderness and grief of her heart over the dear old maid who had been called from the earth so suddenly, and just as she was about to reap her earthly reward.

She brought water from a little spring and filled the vase upon the grave that it might keep fresh the rare flowers she had brought.

"Dear, good Josepha, I hope you know it all in heaven," she sighed, lifting her blue eyes upward to the clear, bright sky, and for a little while she remained reverently silent as if holding communion with the spirit of the kind woman she had loved so well. She did not know she had been followed to the cemetery until she was leaving, and came suddenly upon a dapper little man with a cane, who was lingering near the gate. He came forward eagerly, and Dawn recognized him instantly as her admirer of other days. Mr. William Sanders.

"Proud as ever, and pretty as a ink," he muttered. "Who does she think she'll get I wonder that's a better match than me?" and turning about he made haste to return to the store, humiliated and angry over his rejection.

The sun was setting in all its glory as she went up the wide avenue to the great house; but no one was in sight, and she paused on the long, broad porch, and, weary with her long walk, flung herself down into a rustic chair to rest. Suddenly assuming the arch, teasing air of the little Vixen of old, and cresting her fair head with a pretty spirited motion, she turned her face toward the green lawn and sung, in soft, clear tone:

Lettie caught her breath with a sharp gasp of rage at Dawn's soft little laugh. With returning courage she said softly, so as not to be overheard by anyone near:

[From our Ottawa correspondent.] Ottawa, June 25.-The course followed by the opposition in connection with the emergency rations is one scarcely likely to commend itself even to their own supporters who are inclined to be fair and reasonable. It will be remembered that Mr. Monk, the member for Jacques Cartier, who first brought the matter to the attention of the House, read a formal statement containing hineteen paragraphs, the first eighteen of which set forth in detail the facts that are alleged she leaned back, a pretty picture on have occurred in connection with the which Lettle's eyes rested loathingly puchasing of a quantity of concentrated food or emergency rations for the boys in South Africa. Upon those facts as thus set forth, Mr. Monk charged in the nineteenth paragraph, that the Minister of Militia "was guilty of gross and culpable negligence," and wound up his satement by a resolution calling for a committee of investi-

HANG HIM FIRST AND THEN TRY HIM.

The government had promised the committee in advance, even before the indictment was formulated, for upon the first intimation from Mr. Monk that he would bring charges against the government, the premier had in-stantly replied, "Submit your charges and you shall have your committee." But Sir Wilfrid very properly took exception to that nineteenth paragraph, which declared that the Minister of Militia was guilty of grave dereliction of duty before hearing a word of evi-dence, and he required that that clause should be struck out of the statement before it could be submitted to the committee, saying that the committee should investigate the allegations comreport thereon to the House, and it would then be within the province of the House to pass judgment, after the evidence had been produced and both sides heard. It would have seemed impossible that any objection be taken to a proposal so manifestly in accord with all the recognized and accepted prin-

BRITISH JUDICIAL PROCEDURE. but the opposition evidently thought it would be safer to condemn the Minister first and try him afterwards; such a contention, however, does not impress one with the idea that they have very much faith in the strength of their charges against the government. The division upon the amendment to strike out the nineteenth paragraph gave the government a majority of 16 only, and the opposition appeared to derive immense satisfaction from it being so small, but of course the reason was simply that, being Friday night, at least 30 of the Quebec members had gone home for Sunday; the absentees were not paired because there were no pairs for them. The opposition and the country knows perfectly well that there is no significance whatever in the small majority, and that the ranks of the government's supporters remain unbroken. A FORECAST OF THE YEAR'S

TRADE. The fiscal year is rapidly drawing to a close, and in a few weeks the country will be in possession of the trade figures for the completed months. On the basis of the imports entered for consumption and the total exports, the trade for the eleven months ending May 31 was $323,596,476. Taking the same basis the best year under Conservative regime was 1893 when the total trade amounted to $240,-

On the same basis for the whole of the present year it is estimated that the trade will amount to $350,000,000, which would give a still better showing. Nearly the whole of this important gain is to be credited to the British market. Last year Brit-ain's imports of pulp from Canada amounted to $670,000 as against only $165,000 the year before, bounding up $565,000 in the single twelve months. To put the case otherwise, Britain's imports of Canadian pulp were last year more than four times as great as they were the year before." Much of this improved condition of the pulp Much of trade is due to the far-sighted policy of both the Federal and the Ontario local governments in offering substantial inducements to British capital to develop the industry in the Dominion. But so far from offering any encouragement or assistance to the administration in this wise and businesslike policy, the Opposition in both parliaments have done all in their power to would remain unexploited for many a long year. In making this statement it is not suggested that this was the deliberate intention of the Opposition, but that it would have been the actual outcome, had their policy been successful, must be admitted by all who have made themselves acquainted with the facts of the case.

Questions for Farmers

Is it not true that during the last three years the old National Policy would have taken out of the pockets of the people six million dollars more than have been taken out by the Fielding tariff?

Is it not true that Mr. Fisher secured better quarantine regulations between Canada and the United States, and that while only $50,000 worth of cattle were exported to that country during four and a half years while the quarantine was in operation, the trade has mounted to $3,000,000 since the regulations were improved?

Is it not true that cold storage facilities have been improved, and that the value of our butter exports have increased from $1,000,000 in 1896 to $4,-000.000 in 1899? Is it not true that the export trade in poultry, eggs, fruit, and other natural products has increased nearly three fold, and that from year to year there promises to be increasing progress and development?

Is it not true that the export trade In cheese has increased 25 per cent, in pork, bacon and hams 82 per cent, and in butter, as stated, over 300 per cent? Is it not true that creameries have been established in the Northwest, tuberculosis in cattle investigated and remedies suggested, the San Jose scale stamped out by prompt and effective measures, a live stock commissioner appointed at the Central Experimental Farm, the work of the experimental farms generally developed and energized, and our relations with the British market generally improved, as witness the orders from the imperial authorities for horses, hay and other war supplies? Is it not true that you grew poorer under the National Policy, that under the Fielding tariff your farms have increased in value, that those of you who had mortgages have reduced the indebtedness, that you are better able to meet store accounts and put up new buildings, that Mr. Fisher is the only practical farmer who has filled the office of minister of agriculture at Ottawa, that in the administration of his department he has shown enterprise, courage and judgment, that no oppositionist seems to have equal fitness for the position, that all things considered the government has done well for agriculture, and that there would be no certainty of gain, and grave risk of loss, by a change of government at Ottawa and untimely interference with the wise and progressive policy of the department as now administered?

NILESTOWN.

Nilestown, June 29.-John D. Milne made a flying call here recently. The barn-raising of Walter Edwards went off splendidly. Sides were chosen. Mr. H. Piggott led one contingent, while Mr. H. Harris was his opponent with his quota of stalwarts. The latter forces reached the goal first. The barn, when completed, will be a firstclass one. The ladies' part was equal-ly cleverly executed, the spread being delightful to the eye, but more charming to the taste.

The Sunday school here revelled in innocent gayety and June delights at their annual picnic, held on Thursday, in John Byers' grove, situated along the attractive waters of the River Thames.
