

Kent County Invades The City To Take In London's Big Fair

35,000 On the Grounds Today

'Citizens' Day' and 'Kent County Day' the Feature at the Western, and Thousands Have Come in by Special Trains
—Blenheim's Mayor Declares Holiday for Occasion.

A BIG PARADE OF PRIZE-WINNERS PLANNED

Everything in place, prospects of a record-breaking attendance, promise of the finest fair weather conceivable, and an excellent list of entries and attractions, characterized the opening of Kent County and Citizens' Day, combined, at the Western Fair grounds this morning.

As early as 8 o'clock the people were passing through the entrances, and at 10 o'clock every building on the grounds had a fair proportion of the crowd, all bent on viewing the products of farm, home and factory displayed.

Many From Outside.

Many people from surrounding towns arrived in the city on Monday night to visit their friends and also see the fair, but the majority of today's visitors arrived via the different railroads early in the morning, and went directly to the grounds. Every incoming passenger train was filled to capacity, and a number of specials were put on by the Grand Trunk and C. P. R. to accommodate the crowds.

Many From Blenheim.

The people of Kent County are so enthusiastic about the fair and so pleased with the action of the fair board in setting one day aside as Kent County Day that they are coming to London today en masse. Blenheim, one of the largest towns in Kent County, will be like a closed book today. The Blenheim Band is in attendance and the mayor of the town issued a proclamation declaring today a public holiday in order that the citizens might come to London. A special train left Blenheim early this morning and arrived in the city about 10:45. The train was filled and other trains carried the overflow.

Everything Going Fine.
"Going fine; in fact, things are working as well, if not better, than in previous years," was the answer that Secretary A. M. Hunt, the busiest man in London, gave to a reporter, who had the temerity, after gazing at the pile of work in front of Mr. Hunt, to ask him how things were going. "Biggest crowd we ever had on opening day," he said, "and we expect another record-breaking crowd today."

"How many visitors do you expect to the grounds today?" asked the scribe.

Expect 35,000.
"Oh, we generally have about 25,000," he replied. "But from present indications we will have an attendance that is nearer 35,000. The weather this year has been ideal for the farmers, and gives them an opportunity to get away from their farms a little earlier than usual. I have had several people in to see the fair who have never been to the London fair before. All say they are well pleased, and will come here next year instead of going to Toronto." Then Mr. Hunt dived into a pile of correspondence, and the interview was at an end.

Early this morning the judges started on the cattle, sheep and swine, and it is expected that the work will be finished by tonight. Wednesday at 1 o'clock a parade of every prize winner will be held in front of the grandstands. It starts at 1 o'clock.

Poultry judging was finished today, and only one protest, the first in the history of the fair from poultry exhibitors, was registered. It was made Continued on Page Ten.

Marriage Case To Go to Privy Council

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, Sept. 9.—By the deposits today of the fees required for the appeal of cases to the privy council, the way was cleared for the transfer of the Tremblay-Debatte fourth cousins' marriage case to London.

The fees amounted to $200 and were deposited by Arnold Wainwright, lawyer for Mrs. Tremblay, nee Debatte. Mr. Wainwright said that the privy council would likely reach the case in February, when he will appear to represent Mrs. Tremblay.

The Tremblay-Debatte dispute is one in which the Roman Catholic Bishop of St. Hyacinthe annulled the marriage of fourth cousins, who were married without the necessary dispensation. The church annulment decree was upheld in the courts, but in the first instance on appeal.

Mr. Wainwright was then authorized by Mrs. Tremblay to appeal to the privy council and funds for the purpose were provided by a number of Orangemen in Ontario.

Aged Calgary Visitor Dies On Radial Car

John Flynn Drops Dead While Coming to the City
From St. Thomas in Car of Which One of His Nephews Was the Conductor.

Sitting in his seat on board one of the cars of the London and Lake Erie Railway and Transportation Company, John Flynn, of Calgary, Alta., aged about 65 years, fell back dead, just as the car entered Lambeth shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. The body was brought on to London.

Mr. John McIntosh, a nephew of the deceased, was the conductor on the car. He states that his uncle had not visited this vicinity for 25 years or more. "I hardly knew him," he said. Mr. Flynn left for St. Thomas on the 12:30 car Monday to visit another nephew, Mr. Hector McIntosh, of St. Thomas. He told some of the clerks at the station about his long absence, and how surprised his nephews would be to see him. He appeared to be in his usual health this morning and was sitting smoking his pipe, when suddenly his head fell back, and passengers were horrified to find that he was dead.

WORLDLINESS IS GREAT OBSTACLE TO CHURCH UNION

Hon. S. H. Blake Flays Tendency to Mechanical Service in Church Today.

Abandonment of Prayer Has Made Church Self-Sufficient and Ungodly.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—That the churches are not ready for union, that they must first get rid of a chilling worldliness, a tendency to formal worship and mechanical services, is the opinion of Hon. S. H. Blake, voiced in an open letter from his pen, just issued.

"If a union be attempted," he says, "without casting out the world from the members which are to compose it, this breed will decay, and a process of disintegration will set in, as such ineffectual union is inaugurated.

An Easier Task.
"If you desire a mechanical union of churches in order to save money in the work which they are attempting to carry on, this should be difficult to accomplish. It must, however, be clearly understood that this is not the union for which our Lord prayed. Such a union is pleasing to the natural man whether inside or outside the church."

Prayerless Church.
Mr. Blake finds in the prayers one of the sources of weakness. He says: "To what may the present cold, prayerless, self-sufficient, ungodly state of the church be traced? Must not the virtual abandonment of prayer be placed first? The people were, and are, being taught to abandon it, and are abandoning it in our churches. Most naturally it follows that it is not found in the homes. This portion of the service is taken possession of by the choir and ceases to be prayer. The tone and spirit of prayer is cast out. The union from on high is looked for in vain. The holy, grave and reverend manner of the early days is replaced by a cast-iron, unnatural utterance on one note, which the choir seeks to catch from the minister, who seeks in turn to pick it up again from the choir."

The process of educating the people away from prayer to a monotonous singing game between the minister and the choir has been fatal to the act and spirit of prayer.

Railwaymen Will Present Their Case

The committee of one hundred representing the conductors and trainmen also will arrive here Wednesday to prepare for the hearings which will begin here Thursday.

Many of them will take the witness-stand and give testimony in support of the contentions of the men for a change in working conditions and increased pay.

The hearing, which will be the first held under the Newlands amendment to the Erdman act, will be public.

FORTY HURT IN PENNA WRECK

Express Making Fifty-Five Miles an Hour Was Ditched Near Cincinnati.

[Canadian Press.]

Cincinnati, Sept. 9.—Forty persons were injured, many seriously, when Pennsylvania train No. 31 struck a raised rail at Wylie Station, 20 miles east of here, this forenoon, and four coaches were overturned. Two are reported demolished. The train was travelling at high speed.

The engine tender and all but the rear coach of the solid steel train left the track and rolled over. The train passed through New Madison three minutes before the wreck, and was travelling at an estimated speed of 55 miles an hour.

Doctors and nurses have been sent from Richmond, and a wreck train from Columbus.

Cost of Living Is Higher Than Ever

Many Necessities Took a Slight Increase in August.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The cost of living index number took another jump upwards last month from 135.9, the figures for July to 136.2. In August, 1912, the figures were 133.3, so that there was nearly a three-point increase in August of this year compared with the same month a year ago.

"And," say the officials at the labor department who compile the average cost of prices every month, "the prospects for any pronounced drop in the average cost of the commodities classified under the list of necessities of life are not very bright."

The cause for the advance in the average cost last month was principally due to the increase in the price of potatoes, eggs, canned lobster, anthracite coal, grains and fodder. Such things as beef, lamb, butter, lake trout, whitefish, canned peas, honey and coffee dropped a few points. Meats are a little higher in price than they were a year ago, but grains and fodder are lower.

NO PARLIAMENT UNTIL JANUARY IS PRESENT PLAN

Rogers and White Are Anxious to Get Foster Out of the Way.

ALSO AFTER HUGHES
Premier Borden and Churchill Framing Up a New Navy Program.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The Government has practically decided that Parliament shall not be called until January. There are several reasons why the regular opening date is found inconvenient this year. In the first place, members of the Administration have taken unusually long holidays this summer, and some of them are still enjoying themselves away from Ottawa.

As a result no business has been prepared for the session, and the accumulation of routine business will keep them so busy for weeks that they will have little time for legislation. There have been some differences in the Government over this.

Foster Objects.

Hon. George E. Foster, who was sent to Australia last session, objects to being sidetracked again. He was to leave to go to London, South Africa and Newfoundland, staying in January for meetings of the imperial trade conference. He will be away all winter. If Parliament were called in November, Mr. Foster would be able to make an appearance.

Hon. Robert Rogers does not care to see Mr. Foster shine in Parliament or anywhere else, and he, as usual, is going to have his way.

Finance Trouble.

The financial situation is such that Hon. Mr. White does not want to meet Parliament any earlier than he can. He is running wild with the West, he feels that time will work for the improvement of his budget statement. He, too, wants ex-Finance Minister Foster to have as little show in Parliament as possible, and therefore favors Parliament sitting at a time when Mr. Foster must be out of the country.

Some of the ministers feel that Col. Sam Hughes is running wild with militia expenditure, and they would like to put the curb on him. They realize that this will take time, persuasion and pressure.

On the other hand Col. Hughes would like time for the preparation of an elaborate program of military development based on Sir Ian Hamilton's report.

Many By-Elections.

There are a number of by-elections which have to be held before the session opens, and in a number of ridings the Government will have to do a good deal of organizing before writs issue. South Bruce is one of these.

A number of additional constituencies will be opened by the appointment of such members as E. A. Lancaster, M.P., A. C. Boyce, M.P., and O. S. Crockett, M.P., to the bench. Their ridings will have to be prepared for election.

There may be some difficulty about getting supplies through Parliament between January and the close of the fiscal year, at the end of March, but this year the Government meets Parliament for the first time with the gag of closure in its hands, and feels that it will be more easily able to silence the opposition than has been the case in the past.

Hon. Winston Churchill and Premier Borden are understood to be framing up another naval program for the Canadian Parliament to deal with at the coming session, and this will take time. Therefore everything points to opening in January.

MRS. H. A. BOOMER NAMED FOR HIGH HONOR BY HIS MAJESTY

Activity of London Lady in Advancing Cause of Women Recognized by Gift From King of Membership in Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—On the recommendation of the Duke of Connaught, grand prior and approved by His Majesty, several promotions and appointments in the order of the hospital of St. John of Jerusalem have been made. Included in the list are the following Canadians:

Major Henry Bridges Yates, M.D., of Montreal, is promoted from the grade of Esquire to Knight of Grace; Sir Louis S. Davies, of Ottawa, and Mr. W. J. Gage, of Toronto are created Knights of Grace; Mr. E. J. Chamberlain, president of the Grand Trunk Railway System an honorary Knight of Grace, and Mrs. A. E. Godeham, of Toronto, a lady of Grace; Major F. L. Vaux, of Winnipeg, Mr. George Bury, of Winnipeg, General Manager of the C. P. R. Western Lines; Lt.-Col.

J. T. Fotheringham, of Toronto, and Mr. W. K. George, of Toronto, are created Esquires. Mr. H. G. Kelley, of the Grand Trunk, receives the rank of Honorary Esquire, while D. James A. Hutchison, of Montreal, Lt.-Col. F. Fenton, M.D., and Mrs. Boomer, of London, are made Honorary Associates.

The many friends of Mrs. H. A. Boomer, of this city, will rejoice to hear of her appointment as an honorary associate in the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, an honor accorded to very few women in Canada. This recognition is undoubtedly due to Mrs. Boomer's long association with the cause of women in the national bank act with a view to strengthening that measure. Points where experience has shown the necessity of alteration.

Amend Bank Act.
"Beyond these cardinal and simple propositions the committee has not deemed it wise at this time to make any recommendations, save that in a few particulars it has suggested the amendment of existing provisions in the national bank act with a view to strengthening that measure. Points where experience has shown the necessity of alteration."

CURRENCY BILL WOULD REFORM
BANKING SYSTEM
Creation of Mechanism for Extending Credit to Sound Banks Favored.

Provision for Better Facilities for American Institutions in Foreign Countries.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, Sept. 9.—The administration currency reform bill, as approved by the Democratic caucus, was reported to the House today from the committee on banking and currency, by Chairman Glass.

The majority declared that the bill "is intended to bring about necessary changes in the present banking and currency system of the United States and to correct long-standing evils that have had a slow and deep-rooted growth. It aims at the rectification of the essential defects of the present system, although it does not seek to make all the innovations that might, from an ideal standpoint, be deemed desirable."

Against Aldrich Plan.
Reviewing the arguments against the so-called Aldrich plan outlined by the national monetary commission and against all central plans suggested, the report said:

"After looking over the whole ground and after examining the various suggestions for legislation, the committee on banking and currency is firmly of the opinion that any effective legislation on banking must include the following fundamental element, which it considers indispensable in any measure likely to prove satisfactory to the country:

"Creation of a joint mechanism for the extension of credit to banks which possess sound assets and which desire to liquidate them for the purpose of meeting legitimate commercial, agricultural and industrial demands on the part of their clientele."

Retiring Bonds.
Ultimate retirement of the present bonded currency, with suitable provision for the fulfillment of Government obligations to bondholders, coupled with the creation of a satisfactory, flexible currency to take its place.

Provision for better extension of American banking facilities in foreign countries to the end that our trade abroad may be enlarged and that American businessmen in foreign countries may obtain the accommodations

BOY'S HACKED BODY REVEALS CRIME OF MADDENED FIENDS

With Head Severed, Corpse of Thos. Dawson's Son Found Near Brantford.

HEAD SEVERED; MANIACS USED KNIFE ON VICTIM

Copy of Service's Klondike Poem Found in Youth's Clothes.

MAY BE "BLACK HAND"

Father Hears of Horror and Identifies His 14-Year-Old Son.

[Canadian Press.]

Brantford, Ont., Sept. 9.—An unknown lad, 12 to 14 years of age, was found in the ditch on Blossom avenue, sometimes called the river road, a branch of the Hamilton-Brantford road, near the farm of William Tottle, about a mile from Cainsville, at 7:45 this morning, mute evidence of the ghastliest crime ever recorded or committed in Brant County.

Only a maniacal murderer or a member of some society exacting a terrible vengeance, could have committed such an awful outrage on a lad, whose face, even in death, wore a smile that would break the heart, one would think, of any villain.

A Ghastly Crime.

Terribly mutilated was the body. The head was almost severed from the trunk, this being the cause of death, and in the opinion of the coroner the first wound inflicted. Then, having seen the dreadful result of his fury, the murderer was overcome by a frenzy, and stabbed repeatedly. There were three stab wounds in the head, twelve in the chest, many of which penetrated to the lungs, and the body was disembowelled by a long, sweeping cut.

Not Yet Identified.

The identity is not known. It is thought that the body was brought to this lonely spot by the murderer from the scene of his atrocious crime, and gently lowered into the ditch, but left exposed, the clothes having been drawn down before the wounds were inflicted. The coroner is of the opinion that the lad is a foreigner, but the fact that he was carrying a copy of Robert Service's poem, "The Call of the Klondike," in excellent writing, and that he had dark brown hair and blue eyes, militates against the fact. There is no boy missing in Brantford or in the section where the body was found.

An inquest was held and adjourned until Monday afternoon next.

BOY'S FATHER HEARS OF MURDER ON STREET

[By An Advertiser Staff Reporter.]

Brantford, Sept. 9.—Charles, the 14-year-old son of Thomas Dawson, a farmer at Echo Place, three miles from Brantford, was found murdered here today. The remains were stabbed in a dozen places, and with the head almost severed, were found on the road near Cainsville.

The body lay in a local undertaking establishment for many hours before being identified.

Identified by Father.

Identification was finally made by John Dawson himself, who happened to be in town and heard the street talk of the murder of a boy, wearing a belt with a peculiar buckle. Dawson went over to the undertaker's and at once identified the lad.

He has been in close connection with Chief Slemin ever since, and it is believed that an arrest will be made before many hours.

Not Seen Since Yesterday.

Dawson told the police that he had not seen his son since he had breakfast at the family home on Monday morning.

The theory of the police is that the crime was committed some distance away from where the body was found. This is borne out by the fact that in the dust of the roadway near the body there are absolutely no signs of any struggle having occurred.

Chief Slemin notified the provincial detectives at once and special men from Toronto will take up the case this afternoon. With the trail only a few hours old they have every hope of running down the murderer shortly.

Torn To Pieces.

The police seem absolutely at a loss to account for the fiendish cruelty of the crime. The lad was a handsome child, and he is literally torn to pieces, the murderer apparently having gloied in his work of mutilation.

As far as the police can learn, Dawson had had no quarrels with anyone or had no enemies who would seek to vent their spite upon him in such a cruel manner.

MONDAY A BANNER DAY

FOR ATTENDANCE AT FAIR

Ten Thousand Thronged the Grounds at The Western on Opening Day and Were Repaid by Splendid Exhibition—Judging Is Now Well Advanced.

It was opening day at the Western Fair Monday, and although not as many availed themselves of seeing the exhibits, and the excellent vaudeville before the stands, as might have been, the attendance, estimated at 10,000 by Secretary A. M. Hunt, was a banner one for first-day crowds at the Western Fair.

A great many people have the idea that Monday is not a good day to attend the Western Fair, because they think all the exhibits have not been placed and all the shows for the stand ready, but that is a mistake.

The grounds were opened at 7 o'clock Monday morning, and from that time until late in the evening a steady stream of visitors—the majority of them citizens—passed through the turnstiles after passing their quarters through the tickets to the ticket sellers.

Stands Were Well Filled.
During the afternoon performance the main stands were well packed.

Every cloud seems to have its silver lining and the cloud which threatened to overshadow the fair this year in gloom, when part of the buildings were destroyed by fire, proved to have a considerable amount of silver in its lining, for it has done much to advertise the fair and the energy and "stick-to-it-iveness" of the directors, who to reverse the old axiom, made a mole hill out of a mountain and surmounted almost impossible difficulties.

All Visited Scene of Fire.
As the hundreds of people filed through the gates Monday they started at once for the scene of the fire to see where $30,000 worth of buildings were erected in less than three days by indomitable will and perseverance. And if one were a stranger to the Western Fair grounds and the buildings, he would never know that such a conflagration took place out there, only a week ago, owing to the compactness of the new buildings and the accommodation afforded to every one of the exhibitors.

The new addition to the Crystal Palace, which was built this summer, is crowded with exhibits, many of them new to the eyes of fair visitors, and not an inch of space is available in it, which goes to show that if the board were to erect another building, the same nature it would find enough firms willing to take space to fill it also.

Boys' and Girls' Exhibit.
In one corner of the palace is an exhibit of work done by the boys and girls of the Industrial School that is nothing short of marvelous. Upholstered solid oak chairs, tables, reading lamps, cabinets, mechanical drawings, castings, machine parts, anything that could be found in almost any store in London are to be seen in the exhibit, and all were turned out by the boys and girls of the day classes.

In practically every building on the grounds in which manufactured goods are exhibited, a number of the exhibits are from London firms, and one man went so far as to stick cards on his goods calling attention to the fact that they were all made in London. Such a thing if followed up next year would prove one of the finest advertisements that London as a manufacturing city could obtain and would also enhance the value of the advertising the manufacturer gets by exhibiting at the fair.

Judges Were Busy.
The judges were busy all during the afternoon working on the horses, and many of the finest specimens of horse-desh to be found in Canada both in the heavy and light classes were to be seen walking around the grounds, while the judges passed on their merits. The poultry was also judged during the afternoon. During the fine arts, and the ladies' work and awarded the prizes. Judging of the cattle, sheep and swine started early this morning, and will be completed before nightfall.

The dog show, which has a great many entries, will be opened today at noon, and judging of the canines will start as soon as the doors are opened. The board of directors held the daily meeting Monday morning at 11 o'clock with an excellent attendance. All expressed themselves as being well pleased with the entries so far. As all the men are busy men and check full of optimism, particularly the secretary, Mr. A. M. Hunt, who is the busiest man in London just at present, speeches and idle words were dispensed with, and the business concluded as quickly as possible.

Tender a Vote of Thanks.
Before the close of the meeting a standing vote of thanks was tendered to Mayor Graham and the city council, and to all who assisted so ably in overcoming the extra work which the fire of Aug. 29 put on the board and the city.

The vote was as follows:
That, whereas, on the morning of Friday, Aug. 29, several buildings were destroyed by fire;
And, whereas, it appeared on account of the short time before the exhibition that it would be almost an impossibility to be ready;
And, whereas, his worship the mayor and the city council so readily came to our assistance;
We take this, the first opportunity, of expressing our appreciation of their efforts, first to His Worship Mayor Graham, for his untiring energy displayed in the erection of the new buildings; also to the council for their support; to the water commissioners for their prompt assistance, and to the several contractors and their men, who so loyally came to our assistance, sacrificing their holidays in order to advance the work.

"And last, but not by any means least, to our exhibitors, who have so loyally stood by us, and at no little expense and trouble have placed their stock and exhibits."

"We feel grateful to know that we have had such good support and help, and hope to make this year's exhibition the best ever held in London."

On the Grand Stand.
The grand stand attractions this year are considerably in advance of previous years. In the Arab troupe of acrobats the Western Fair has undoubtedly secured an attraction that is new, really thrilling, and altogether removed from the ordinary run of grand stand attractions. Probably their equals have never been seen at the Western. The grand stands were not crowded Monday night, but the spectators who were there cried out with both fear and admiration more than once when the agile acrobats took them by surprise with some particularly risky feat. Leaping from their feet, they turned somersaults and double somersaults in mid-air, first one way and then another. Several even more intrepid and skilled than the others achieved the more difficult half somersault, and then turned back before alighting again on their feet. One performer quite unobserved by the spectators by the narrow margin between his head and the floor in his hair-raising aerial somersaults. Another's forte consisted in twisting his body about in mid-air and finishing a somersault backward. After witnessing the ease and rapidity with which they spin their bodies like wheels and tops, one can quite readily understand the term "like a whirling dervish."

Some good feats of head-balancing are carried out, and a head remarkable feature is the act in which one member supports on his head and shoulders the remaining eight members of the troupe.

Girl Musicians.
The Cora Youngblood musical agency

regretted to learn that the young lady cornet and trombone artists, the excellence of whose musical act ought to add to the reputation of the Western Fair as an exhibition characterized by the very finest grandstand attractions.

Danny Ryan's clowns are funny. They got not a few laughs, and so long as clowns do that they are good clowns.

The Five Marions are very fair trapeze artists, but their program was cut short by a little accident, the dropping of their emergency net when one of them fell in it. Although it only partially broke his fall, he was not injured seriously.

Staines' Comedy Circus, the mule that rides on the whirling table, and the clowns the try to ride the mule and cant; two other ponies, and Prof. Staines himself, are better than the usual show of this class.

Music was furnished by both the Hussars Band and the Seventh Regiment Band. The vocal choruses of the Hussars were well received by the audience.

The fireworks were as usual very fine. They included a battle at sea, to be exact, "a conflict in the West Indies," a realistic representation of the Horseshoe Falls at Niagara, and a thrilling outburst. Altogether Monday evening's program was highly satisfactory.

Usborne Pioneers

Dead at Exeter

Francis Coward and Michael Elford Were Among Oldest Residents.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Exeter, Sept. 9.—The funeral took place this afternoon to Exeter Cemetery of Francis W. Coward, son of the late Wm. Coward. He was 34 years old and died at his home in Usborne after a long illness. Rev. T. A. Steadman, of Elmville, conducted the services.

Michael Elford, one of the oldest settlers of Usborne, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Isaac Johns, on Sunday evening. Since his second marriage Mr. Elford had lived at Port Hope. Two weeks ago he and his wife came to Exeter and Usborne to visit their relatives, and on Thursday Mr. Elford was stricken with paralysis, from which he never regained consciousness. He leaves besides his wife and daughter, one son, Michael, jun., on the old homestead. Mr. Elford was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. E. G. Powell, on Wednesday at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Johns, to the Exeter Cemetery.

The anniversary and harvest home services of Trivitt Memorial Church, which were held on Sunday, were a good success. The rector, Rev. D. W. Collins, was assisted in the service by Austin Duplan, and Rev. W. J. Ten Eyck, of Hamilton, a former rector. The church was decorated with flowers, fruits and grains. Rev. W. J. Ten Eyck gave very appropriate sermons. The choir was assisted by the Caven Presbyterian choir, in the song service, and by Miss Nora Walden, soloist of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, London. Miss Birdie Boyle, of Exeter, also sang. The congregations were very large, and the collections were very liberal. The anniversary was one of the best in the church's history. The Presbyterian Church was closed in the evening for the Trivitt Church anniversary.

Mitchel Is Anxious to Defeat Tammany

Has Reconsidered His Decision in Regard to Independence League.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Sept. 8.—The complicated tickets, which voters will have to mark at the approaching city election, will be still more involved if the fusion managers decide to permit their candidates to accept endorsement by other parties. The Independent League committee at its meeting today was expected to grant this permission and its most important result may be the appearance of the name of John Purroy Mitchell, fusion nominee for mayor at the head of the ticket of the Independence League.

When the Independence League offered Mr. Mitchell this endorsement several days ago he declined it, because the league refused to accept the fusion candidates for comptroller and president of the board of aldermen, Wm. A. Prendergast and George McAneny. Now it is said that Prendergast and McAneny have urged Mitchell that it was his duty to accept all endorsements that would help him beat Tammany Hall, and that Mr. Mitchell has reconsidered his decision.

His way would be left open by the action of the Independence League committee to fill vacancies, which at its meeting tonight is expected to leave the place at the head of its column open and have its candidate's name inserted on posters.

In the absence of Mayor Gaynor, who went abroad last week for a three-weeks' stay, the other places on the Gaynor ticket have not been filled. When Mr. Prendergast comes back from Europe Wednesday there will be a conference to see whether he and McAneny shall be endorsed by the mayor's party.

TRESPASSERS FINED

Ingersoll Men in Court for Making a Short-Cut Over C. P. R.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Sept. 9.—Detective Holding, of the C. P. R., brought more business to the local justice mill yesterday. Five local men were charged with trespassing on the railway. It seems that here as elsewhere many men are in the habit of making short-cuts over the company's property in going to and from their work. This is done contrary to the regulations, and so far as Detective Holding is concerned it has got to stop. The cases today were that one man was fined $10.00 for trespassing on the railway, and the result of the magistrate imposed the nominal fine of $1 without costs.

A Demonstration of the Building of Brass Beds

Wednesday and Thursday

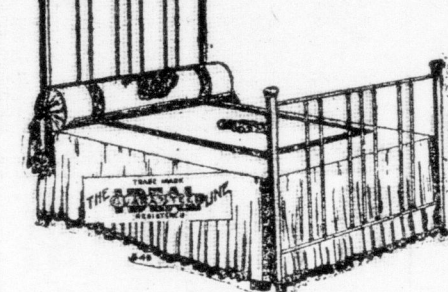

Third Floor.

Arrangements have been made with the largest manufacturer of Brass Beds in Canada for a two days' demonstration at this store (during the Western Fair) of actually building them before the eyes of the public. This should be of great interest to everyone, especially to those contemplating a new Brass Bed, as it affords an opportunity of examining the smallest details that otherwise would be impossible in the ready-to-use beds. Some of the advanced features that go to make up these high-grade Brass Beds are:

Reinforced blind construction; results—no rough edges around the posts, no nuts to come loose, insuring a permanently solid bed.

Best English lacquer, electrically applied by a special patented process, guaranteeing a pleasing and durable finish.

Ten styles and prices, $16, $18, $21, $22, $27, $28.50, $32, $35, $36 and $40 each.

$16.00 (SAME AS ILLUSTRATION).

CASCARETS CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS
No Headache, Bad Taste, Sour Stomach or Coated Tongue By Morning.
It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction. Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing.

THE CHIC PARISIAN TOUCH

This dainty frock illustrates the chic little touches that the Parisian couturier always adds to make a design as charming as possible—the dainty frill above the girdle, set in loose box-pleated effect, the bow at the girdle that gives the proper uplifted effect to the front, the three-tier bordered tunic, parting down the centre to reveal the softly hanging underdress, held in with two straps and bows.

KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME CHAT

THE SINGLE FLOWER FOR DECORATIVE USE.

The woman of taste and judgment can do more with a few common field flowers in the matter of tasteful decoration than the woman who lacks taste, and who has quantities of expensive hot-house flowers from the florist. It is all in the matter of arrangement, in the nice disposition of color, in the placing of one color against a background of another. For there are women who never see beyond the object in their hand. I mean they are never conscious of its relation to the things about it. They see only the object, and never dream that it is the setting that gives an object or a flower its value, its beauty, or that makes of it a discordant thing, out of place, harrowing to the eyes of all sensitive to color and color effects and color schemes. I remember to this day with keen pleasure a room decorated with a few spikes of that—with us—common, yet beautiful wayside flower that is cultivated merely for its root, the chicory. The flower is, as you know, of a delicious blue and clings to its long stalk here and there like a star. The woman who used this flower for decorative purposes, had a room whose color scheme lent itself to the use of blues and yellows, and she knew better than to use the chicory in bunches. Here and there about the room in little slender jars and vases that seemed made on purpose for this flower, she placed single spikes of the wayside "weed," so that its structure was plainly seen, and its lovely flowers, clinging lightly to the slender stalk, literally sang their heavenly note of blue in the quiet room. It is when one sees this truly beautiful use of simple flowers in decoration that one realizes that there is something a little gross in the taste of those who mass flowers together in such quantities that the grace of the fashion of the flower itself is quite lost in the mass of color. I saw a dinner table recently decorated with a few pink roses so full blown that the slender stalk, literally sang their heavenly note of blue in the quiet room. It is when one sees this truly beautiful use of simple flowers in decoration that one realizes that there is something a little gross in the taste of those who mass flowers together in such quantities that the grace of the fashion of the flower itself is quite lost in the mass of color. I saw a dinner table recently decorated with a few pink roses so full blown that the slender stalk, literally sang their heavenly note of blue in the quiet room. It is when one sees this truly beautiful use of simple flowers in decoration that one realizes that there is something a little gross in the taste of those who mass flowers together in such quantities that the grace of the fashion of the flower itself is quite lost in the mass of color.

PROBLEMS OF THE FAIR SEX SOLVED BY CYNTHIA GREY

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

How Much Should She Weigh?

Dear Miss Grey: Will you please answer the following questions:

1. What style purses will be carried this fall and winter?
2. What would be a nice way to make a mauve satin evening dress? What trimmings could be used for the neck?

3. What is the highest weight for a girl of 16, who is 5 feet 3 inches in height? And what is the ordinary weight for the same girl?

4. What do you think of my writing?

5. Hoping to see this in print soon and thanking you in advance, MONTE.

1. Mesh bags are still being displayed, and the small book-shaped change purses are also popular.
2. Have a waist made with tulle of satin, with neck of tulle or fine net. A dainty shirring of chiffon gives a pretty touch to the dress.

3. You are tall for your age, and could weigh from 125 to 130 pounds. Of course, this depends on whether it is your nature or not to be stout.
4. Your letters are well formed, and your writing is neat.

Sweet Sixteen Must Go To School.

Dear Miss Grey—I here I am to ask you a couple of questions:

1. Has the law for making girls go to school till they are sixteen been passed yet?

2. What is the meaning of Ada, Lucy and Marie?

3. What do you think of my writing?

Hoping I have not troubled you very much, I remain, HONEYBUNCH.

A.—1. Yes, they must attend either evening or day school.

2. Ada, happiness; Lucy, born at break of day; Marie, star of the sea.

3. Your writing shows freedom of movement.

Not Beautiful If Fat.

Dear Miss Grey—I see so many letters written to you concerning "flesh" that I hope you can help me. Unfortunately I am very fleshy, and growing more so all the time, and all know that a fat woman cannot look beautiful. Can you tell what to do and how to diet? MRS. H. W.

A.—Diet, well-directed exercise and mental activity are the only safe means of reducing. Here is a suggestion for your diet which may be varied a little by substituting foods of similar properties.

For breakfast, one egg, two slices of dry toast, a cup of tea, cream, but no sugar; luncheon, cold roast chicken, boiled rice, one green vegetable, but not much of it; lemonade, not too sweet; dinner, lean beef salad, without oil, and fruit for desert.

Exercise the mind by being energetically absorbed in something. After that exercise the body, by vigorous walks, no snuffling along, and use Indian clubs.

stretching your arms high above your head and well out at the sides. Stand firmly, with chest up, and then bend forward, without bending the knees, touch the floor or your toes. This will be hard for you at first, but you will come to it in earnest about exercising. Standing rigid, and swinging the waist around from side to side, is another way of reducing the figure.

The Poets' Corner

About the little chambers of my heart Friends have been coming—going—many a year.
The doors stand open there.
Some, lightly stepping, enter; some depart.

Freely they come and freely go, at will The walls give back their laughter; all day long
They fill the house with song.
One door is shut, one chamber still.
—Mary E. Coleridge.

Punctilio.

O let me be in loving nice,
Dainty, fine, and ever precise,
That I may charm my charmed dear
As tho' I felt a secret fear
To lose what never can be lost—
Her faith who still delights me most!
So shall I be more than true,
Even in my ageing new,
So dull habit shall not be Wrongly call'd Fidelity.
—Mary E. Coleridge.

Half an Hour With the Cook

Readers of this page are requested to contribute recipes or helpful hints along culinary lines for publication in this column, the desire being to make it one of mutual benefit. Original recipes, or any found to be tried and true, will be especially appreciated.

"M." Elmwood avenue, forwards the following excellent recipes for fruit cheeses, and quince and apple preserves. That our readers will appreciate these goes without saying:

Grape and Apple.
Pulp the grapes into a porcelain kettle, leaving the skins and pulp together, boil until the seeds separate, press through a colander. At the same time have some tart apples prepared and boiled as for jelly, and when cooked rub through a colander. Have equal quantities of pulps, measure and put together in a kettle, and to every four measures put three of sugar, boil fast for twenty minutes, stirring all the time. Seal the same as jelly. This is nice to slice for sandwiches and to put between small cakes.

Plum Cheese.
Almost cover the plums with water and cook till very soft, break and take out the stones. Then put three measures of sugar to four of cooked fruit and boil, stirring all the while until a smooth, stiff mass, pour in bowls and seal as jelly. When serving cut in thin slices, dust with sugar and serve with gelatines or cakes.

Cherries, stoned and chopped fine, using half a pound of sugar to a pound and made in the same way is delicious.

Quince and Apple.

Take one-third as many quinces as apples, wash, pare, cut into eighths and core, boil gently in water until tender. Have the apples pared and cored and put in with quinces now, together with three-quarters of a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit and put kettle on the back of stove and simmer until all is a golden brown color. Seal in self sealers.

Quinces should be cooked first before putting the sugar to them or they will be tough.

"M." Elmwood Avenue.

To remove smoke-stains from ceilings, mix a thick paste of starch and water, and with a clean flannel spread it over the mark. Allow it to get thoroughly dry, then brush off with a soft brush, and the marks will have disappeared.

They were placed so that each rose stood embowered in its own green leaves, and to see those roses was to realize that there is an undreamed of beauty in the rose so full blown that the leaves curled backward into exquisite, graceful curves such as the bud and the half-blown flower could never possess. In fact one saw for the first time that the full blown flower bore a resemblance to that most exquisite of all flowers, the wild sweet briar rose, and one saw its beauty because it stood alone, free and graceful and sweet and not huddled together with many others so that its form and structure were lost to view.

WILLIE COLLIER, JR., IS AN ACTOR LIKE HIS "DAD"

But He's a Regular Boy, You Know—Loves Baseball, Rides a Pony and Plays Tennis.

[By Aunt Gertrude.]
WILLIE COLLIER, JUNIOR!
That's the young man whom I shall tell you about today.
He is about 10 years old. He has curly, jet-black hair, big brown eyes, and a handsome face.
But although he is very good-looking, he is manly and stalwart and strong.
Maybe you have heard of him already, for he is the son of William Collier, the actor, who drives away the blues for thousands of theatregoers every year.
He told me about a dear, little pony he rides all summer long down at the Collier summer home on Long Island.
He told me about the tennis matches in which he plays every year. He just loves tennis.
And baseball, boys! Why, he is just crazy over it.
He says he is going to be an actor, always, and he hopes some day to be as clever as his daddy is now.
Besides rowing and riding and tennis and a host of other outdoor sports, "Buster," as he is called in "Never Say Die," studies each day.
He is a regular boy and means to be a regular man.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

THORNDALE.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Thorndale, Sept. 8.—The regular meeting of the Women's Institute, held at the home of Mrs. Sketon, was attended by over 40 ladies, and was a great success. The program consisted of a very interesting address on "Contagious Diseases of Children," by Dr. Armstrong; an essay on "How Hurry Ruins Our Lives," by Mrs. R. Stephenson; a reading on "Habits," by Miss V. Bailey; a duet by Mrs. C. and Mrs. A. and several selections on the gramophone. At the close of the program lunch was served.

The first and most common one, perhaps, is the indigestion headache. Its chief causes are insufficient or unsuitable foods, the candy and pastry habit and indolence. The cure for this is plain, wholesome food at regular times and proper exercise in the open long enough to offset the hours of study and confinement in the schoolroom.

The second type of headache is the "sick" headache.

It gets its name from the fact that it is accompanied with a constant nausea or sickness at the stomach. With the schoolgirl, this headache often begins in the morning as soon as she wakes from a heavy sleep. She feels an intense pain in the temples, which sometimes extends to one eye. The hands and feet get clammy. She has an offensive breath and a coated tongue.

The remedy is a gentle emetic, which will cause vomiting without too much strain. Then give the stomach a good rest, and the headache will pass off naturally.

To sum it up, the schoolgirl with the Headache a Common Schoolgirl Complaint—Why?

[BY A PHYSICIAN.]

The headache is the bugbear of the girl at school!

There are several reasons for this schoolgirl complaint.

They are so simple and so easily remedied that we wonder, when attention is called to them, that we have not thought and acted before.

One of the commonest causes is shortsightedness. An equally common one is farsightedness!

The bad air of schoolrooms is another.

Tight corsets, late lunches, continuous reading without the proper counterbalance of outdoor exercise are also first aids.

Headaches are always more frequent among girls who think a great deal and have a highly-nervous temperament than among the girls who treat life lightly and do not worry.

The very active girl who gets plenty of exercise is usually free from them.

Frank Chance Getting Together
Team Fit For $25,000
Manager to Lead.

Frank Chance has been showing the American League "something different" on his last swing around the circuit. With Maisel, his $18,000 third baseman, and Williams, the hard-hitting first baseman, the "Peerless Leader" has an outfield which, with seasoning, will compare favorably with any in the league.

Chance has Roger Peckinpah, the ex-Cleveland shortstop, who is playing a wonderful fielding game and hitting the ball opportunely; at second is Jack Knight, the elongated ex-Athletic, who was chased to the minors from the Yankees, only to be recalled by Chance, and Knight is playing a wonderful game these days.

The real Yankee star, however, is Maisel, whose work at third, coupled with his batting, reminds old-timers of the days when Jimmy Collins was third-basing in a class by himself. Maisel is one of the brightest stars picked up in years, and Chance has been worried about the difficult corner.

On little base Chance has Cy Williams, a big fellow, who looks as if he only thing he needed was experience. Williams covers lots of ground and is a whiz with the switch-hitter. Rolfe Zeider is the fifth infielder, and Rolfe is at home anywhere from first to third, although naturally a third baseman. Just now he is playing first, not because Williams was not doing well, but Chance figured that a veteran would steady the kids, a job which before Zeider's banishment was removed fell upon the shoulders of Jack Knight alone.

The numerous and costly prizes are now on exhibition in the window of Pow & Wilcox's hardware, and are above the average given at similar events of this nature.

RAY CALDWELL TOYED WITH THE SENATORS

Only 32 Men Faced Him During the Game and Only Three Hits Were Made Off His Delivery.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Ray Caldwell, the slim twirler of the New Yorks, simply toyed with Washington this afternoon, applying the whitewash brush with deadly effect. The score was 4 to 0, and does not begin to show how effective was the big chap. Three hits were all he yielded, only one member of the home flock reaching third base, and but thirty-two men facing him in the nine innings.

WOLGAST ANNOUNCES HIS FINAL RETIREMENT FROM THE PRIZE RING

Former Lightweight Champion Says He Positively Will Not Fight Again—Has Bought a Ranch and Will Settle Down.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 9.—Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, announced today his final retirement from the ring.

"I have just completed the purchase of a ranch near Medford," he said, "and shall settle there permanently after a brief visit to my old home in Michigan. I positively will not fight again."

Wolgast attributes his recent defeats to the effects of an operation for appendicitis.

PHILLIES WON TWO.

Boston, Sept. 8.—Philadelphia moved doubly forward today in the race for the National League pennant, winning both games of a double-header from Boston, the first, a shut-out, and the second 6 to 2. The winning team made 30 hits for a total of 42 bases in the afternoon's play. The first game was a slugging match, in which the visitors battered two local pitchers to all corners of the park. Quinn was driven out of the box in the opening inning after six hits and five runs had been made. James, Boston's second pitcher, was unable to stop the batting.

WILLARD IS HELD FOR YOUNG'S DEATH

Heavyweight Fighter and Eleven Others Are Held To Answer Charge of Second Degree Murder.

Los Angeles, Sept. 8.—Jesse Willard, as principal; Thomas McCarty as promoter, and ten others interested in the fight, were held today for the murder in the Vernon arena on Aug. 23, were held today for the murder in the second degree.

The decision was rendered by Justice Sumnerfield at Vernon before whom the preliminary hearing of the accused men was held. The case was held to the higher court because Willard and McCarty are: Al Greenwald, promoter; Tom Jones, Willard's manager; Harry Gilmore, Jun., Willard's second; Al Harder, timekeeper; Chas. Epton, referee; Walter Monahan, boxer; and Eddie Webster, seconds.

In addition to the charge of murder in the second degree, charges of prize fighting, carrying a dangerous weapon, and the bonds of $5,000 for Willard and $1,500 for each of the others were left unchanged.

In the hearing just ended, counsel for the defendants made a futile attempt to prove that the death of John Young, following a knock-out score by Willard, was not caused by a blow, but by a wound on the brain inflicted accidentally by one of the surgeons who operated on the injured fighter's skull. The prosecution on the other hand, succeeded in having the twelve men held for trial on the charge of simple manslaughter placed against them.

PIRATES WON AND LOST.

Cincinnati, Sept. 8.—Pittsburg and Cincinnati broke even in a double-header today, the former winning the first game 15 to 2, and the latter the second game, a six-inning affair, 2 to 1. The scores: First game—R. H. E. Pittsburg 0 0 0 2 1 2 1 1 15 15 1 Cincinnati 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 7 2 Adams and Simon; Ames, Packard, Harrington and Blackburn. Second game—R. H. E. PEITZ IS NOW A MANAGER.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—"Heinie" Peitz, who has been acting as coach for the St. Louis National Baseball Club this season, has been appointed manager of the Kansas City Club, City star, in a pretty pitchers' battle, and Vaughn won his third straight game. And Won Both Games From Boston by Big Scores—Pirates Won and Lost.

New York, Sept. 8.—The Giants were easily the superiors of the Brooklyn today in the renewal of the municipal strife at the Polo Grounds. They played well and attended strictly to business all the time and won by a score of 8 to 1. Marquard pitched an even and capable game and probably could have whitewashed the Trolley Dodgers had he been bent on doing so. His control was perfect as control goes. Score: R. H. E. N. Y. A. B. H. PRINCE RUPERT WON 2.22 TROT

Big Field of Twelve Starters in This Event at Western Fair.

With twelve starters in the 2:22 trot and five in the 3-year-old race, the two speed events in front of the grand stand at the Western Fair yesterday afternoon provided some excellent racing.

Prince Rupert's 2:22 Trot. The 2:22 trot provided the feature. Starter Yeates getting the field away in great shape in all three heats. Prince Rupert captured first money in this event in three straight heats, coming from behind in the stretch in the last heat and winning by a length. In the first two heats Edmond's pacer was hard pushed by the Earl of Chester, who fell back to third position in the last heat. Lou Hal getting second after leading the field on the first lap.

VANKO WON FIRST RACE

Captured the Three-Year-Old Event in Straight Heats—Some Good Racing at Fair Grounds.

The 3-year-old trot went to Vanko's Vanko in straight heats, with Bingen Celeste, a Wilks entry, taking second money. Vanko showed up splendidly under the handling of Urt Pierce, and was not pushed to the limit in any of the heats. Lady Uno was withdrawn at the end of the second heat, owing to the death of her driver, William O'Dell, who was killed when the horse stumbled and threw him out while returning to the stables at the end of the heat.

HORSES AT FAIR ARE SPLENDID LOT IN ALL CLASSES

Showing of Clydesdales Considered Best in a Number of Years.

Falling Off in Shire Horses, But Other Types Are Well Represented.

Without doubt the best showing of Clydesdales we ever had," said Judge Gardhouse, as four spanking big teams trotted out of the ring at the conclusion of the afternoon's judging. And certainly they were a sight to make glad the eyes of the many horsemen who gathered to see the exhibition of the various breeds and competition was keen. It was no easy task to allot the red ribbon in many cases. The Shire horses, judging by the showing made, seem to be declining a little in popularity in this district, the numbers shown being slightly less than in previous years. In every other branch the horse exhibit this year was far in excess of anything seen here before.

In every other branch the horse exhibit this year was far in excess of anything seen here before.

The Sweepstakes. To Mr. J. Telfer, of Milton, West, went the chief honors in the Clydesdale class, when Sand Bay was awarded the sweepstake ribbon for stallions of any age. The sweepstake ribbon for mares, any age, went to Mr. S. R. McVittie, of Muncy.

Although there was a falling off in the number of Shire horses shown, the quality was quite up to the standard. Mr. Dell Drury, of Charing Cross, had some magnificent beasts on display, and carried off the sweepstake honors in that class for stallions, the ribbon for mares, any age, going to Webster Bros., of Glencoe. Hon. Adam Beck won premier honors in the saddle class. The Reason Bros. were strong contenders, however, and carried off several prizes in the light hunters' class. Fourteen entries were made, the largest class in a number of years. Under the experienced eye of Dr. George W. Bell, these fancy steeds trotted, walked, cantered, and jumped before a number of delighted spectators. Thoroughbred horses also attracted much attention. Mr. R. Thayer, of Dunthorne, being a heavy winner in that class. He won the sweepstake for stallions of any age, mare of any age, and stallion, and three of his get. Mr. J. H. Banbury, of Zoula, was perhaps the strongest contender in the ponies' classes, although an excellent showing was made.

Some of the Winners. Despite the fact that the number of horses was so large there was no trouble in finding accommodation for all of them, the temporary sheds proving to be quite ample for all requirements. Following is a list of some of the winners in Monday's judging:

BUGGY HIT BY CAR THREE PERSONS HURT

Cronyn Park Lady and Her Two Children Were Painfully Injured.

Struck by Oxford car No. 74 at 3 p.m. yesterday, Mrs. A. McMillan, Cronyn Park, and her two children, Arnold, 10 years, and Evelyn, 4, were thrown under the wheels of their own buggy at the corner of Hamilton road and Chesley avenue.

Both car and buggy were going east. Mrs. McMillan endeavored to pull her vehicle to the side of the road, but the water main trenches, now being dug there, left the rear of the buggy off of the street clear. Before she could draw farther over the car struck the vehicle.

Buggy Demolished. Without waiting a second, it is alleged, the car continued, leaving Mrs. McMillan and her children in the wreckage. Eye-witnesses of the accident, frightened from her dangerous position, and endeavoring to right the buggy, but the latter was practically demolished.

The little boy was the most seriously injured of the trio. The wheels of the buggy passed over him, and he is suffering from a badly wrenched spine. All were cut and bruised severely, but the little girl escaped with the slightest injuries.

No report of the accident was submitted to the street railway authorities, according to a statement made at the barns this morning.

Thaw Patiently Waiting Next Move

People Have Stopped Sending Flowers to His Cell.

[Canadian Press.] Coaticook, Sept. 9.—Thaw is biding his time patiently in the immigration pen here, apparently contented in the thought that his lawyers are doing all in their power to block his return to the asylum. His stenographer sees him every day, but Thaw seems to have dropped his "publicity campaign." The need of spreading sentiment in Vermont, for one thing, is not so immediate as it was a few days ago, and it is understood that Thaw's lawyers told him he must desist.

Few flowers have been sent to him here, although the pro-Thaw feeling was much more in evidence than at Sherbrooke, where his cell was banked with flowers daily. Accompanied by Deputy Attorney-General J. Franklin Kennedy, Jerome was on his way to Albany, N. Y., by motor today. He will drop Kennedy at Albany on his way down to New York, returning to Montreal by rail on Sunday next, preparatory to Thaw's production Monday before the King's bench on a writ of habeas corpus. The arguments on the writ may mark the beginning of a legal battle of many weeks, and even months' duration.

Deceased, who was 36 years of age, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Main road, Warwick. The bearers were: Ed Wallace, Robinson and Geo. Karr, Charles Stewart and Charles Cope, all of Warwick.

R. E. Scott and family are moving into the new home on Union street, recently purchased from Mrs. R. J. Parker. G. M. Van Valkenburg and daughter, Mary, spent the week in Toronto. Mrs. H. W. Clarke and two children, of North Bay, are visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. B. Treble.

Their daughter Dorothy, age 15, with a girl friend, who were also in the machine, are in the Norwalk hospital in a serious condition. Mr. Millar was a well-known landscape artist.

Woman's Hair Reaches to Knees

A Year Ago Was Threatened With Baldness—Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow.

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the city, is the fortunate possessor of marvellously beautiful hair, which, when loosened from its coils, reaches to her knees. Moreover, it is of soft, silky and fluffy texture, and in color a glorious glossy gold. Yet just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. Urged to tell how she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time, she said: "Had anyone told me such marvellous results could be accomplished so quickly, I positively would not have believed it. Twelve months ago my hair, which then reached barely to my shoulders, was falling out at an alarming rate and growing very thin, actually exposing the bald scalp in several spots. It was dull and lifeless in color, turning gray in patches, and very dry and brittle. My head was covered with dandruff and itched like mad all the time. I tried fully a dozen different hair dressing preparations, but all the same and never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my evening paper of a simple and effective method to make the hair grow that was recommended by a well-known physician. It said that by taking Laxona Compound and mixing with Bay Rum and Menthol Crystals and applying to the scalp with each finger tip, the hair would grow very rapidly. I decided to try it, and I had my druggist mix two ounces of the Laxona Compound with six ounces of Bay Rum and half dram of Menthol Crystals, and started to use it. First the hair stopped falling. Then it ceased and the dandruff disappeared. Then tiny little hairs appeared all over my scalp. These grew and grew as though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet and while, of course, I have used the treatment steadily, and expect to continue it, at least until my hair reaches the floor. I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can get long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription, as I have recommended it to several friends, and all are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive, and any druggist can fill it." Those who use it should be careful not to get it on the face or where the hair is not desired.

Federals Plan To Trap Gen. Villa

[Canadian Press.] El Paso, Texas, Sept. 9.—The federals are laying a trap for General Francisco Villa and his 1,200 rebels, and are ready to attack him from front and rear.

General Salazar is entraining his 600 federals in Juarez, and General Marcelino Caraveo, with a thousand federals from Chihuahua, is following the trail taken by Villa's troops northward. Salazar's train will leave over the Mexican National for Villa Ahumada today.

Villa and his troops, according to reports received by the federals at Juarez, have turned their course from Casas Grandes towards Villa Ahumada, directly east.

Col. Enrique Portillo, of the Juarez federal garrison, was arrested by United States troops last night as he was returning to Juarez after a visit to El Paso. He was detained until General Hugh L. Scott could be notified, who ordered his release. No charges were filed against him.

Death of Two Ends Long-standing Feud

[Canadian Press.] Antlers, Okla., Sept. 9.—C. B. Taylor, postmaster at Farris, Okla., and Bert Stevens, a constable, are dead as the result of a pistol duel in which they engaged on the streets of Farris last night.

Two years ago two men went to Taylor's home and, after calling him out, attacked him and inflicted injuries which kept him under a physician's care for three months. Stevens accused Taylor of being one of the assailants. Since then both men have threatened to shoot each other on sight.

Club House Was Destroyed By Fire

[Special to The Advertiser.] Dorchester, Sept. 9.—The fine club house of the London Fishing Club, together with several boats, was completely destroyed by fire here early today. The blaze was noticed about 4 o'clock in the morning, and the flames then had such a hold on the building, which was of frame, that nothing could be saved.

Several neighbors gathered and tried to save some of the boats, but could not. A few of the members of the club were out yesterday, and it is supposed that the fire started from either a match or cigar carelessly thrown away.

Winnipeg City Council Plans Big New Waterworks System.

[Canadian Press.] Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—Winnipeg city council last night passed a $12,000,000 bylaw for the construction of a water system from Shoal Lake.

Mayor Deacon pointed out that it was the intention of the city only to apply to the London market for the money, as it was needed for the work. Voting will take place on this bylaw Oct. 1.

A bylaw granting $275,000 to the Winnipeg General Hospital also passed. This money will wipe out all the indebtedness of the institution. It was decided to allow a rebate on all taxes promptly paid.

Burroughs Service

Some guarantees are like a fire department which will put out your fire if you bring your building around while it is burning.

Burroughs Service comes to the "fire" before the idleness of your machine causes a serious loss.

An insurance policy doesn't remove the need for a fire department. Neither can perfect material and workmanship in the product prevent accidents in its use.

When a manufacturer tells you his product is so perfect you don't need service—that he won't give service—better compare his guarantee to a stationary fire department.

Perfect construction is good. We can't afford to make it anything but "fire-proof," because we have to take care of the "fire."

Write for demonstration.

FEAR SUICIDE

MacLeod, Alta., Sept. 9.—With a bullet from a revolver through his head, the body of James Patterson, one of the most widely known cattle men in Canada, was found on J. Franklin's ranch, eighteen miles south of MacLeod.

The authorities consider it a case of suicide. Patterson was 62 years of age, and was born in Texas. He is said to have brought the first big herd of cattle into Alberta 20 years ago. For six years he was inspector of brands at the West End stockyards in Winnipeg, and was judge of the fancy and trick roping at the recent stampede in Winnipeg.

No Other Way

BY GORDON HOLMES.

Author of "A Mysterious Disappearance,"
"The House of Silence," Etc.

Clancy bounced up so suddenly that Stehngal drew back, and Mrs. Delamar was compelled to peep over the top of her newspaper to watch them.

"I'll prove to you that this is no comedy, dull and deadly earnest," cried the little man, snatching the parcel from the rack. "This is Exhibit A in the Kyrie inquiry, a witness whose testimony would be most valuable if only it were true and had the gift of speech. It could talk, too, in its own way, and frighten people out of their wits with its untutored eloquence.
It could a tale unfold whose lightest word could harrow up thy soul; freeze thy young blood into thy veins; and t'ho' a stare, start from their spheres; thy knotted and combined locks to part, and each particular hair to stand on end, like quills upon the fretful porcupine."

The quotation from "Hamlet," delivered with some histrionic force and marked clearness, was accompanied by a stripping of the paper wrapping off a square box,
painted green, with gold front and sides.
Within reposed a fine stuffed owl, which Clancy held before Stehngal's indignant eyes, while it was, of course, equally visible to others.

In spite of his annoyance, the chief inspector realized that there must be some method in his subordinate's madness. He was completely at a loss to account for it, but he deemed it best now to play up to the lead given so confidently. What else could he do? Apparently Clancy meant to blab out the whole story.
"So you have brought that 'have you?'"
he said, catching wildly at the first non-committal words his perplexed brain could conceive.

"Yes. You remember, it was given me by an Absecon policeman. Mrs. Kyrie's gardener killed it, after it had attacked the lady in her garden, causing her to scream out something dreadful, as the man said."

"It is a curiosity, certainly," admitted
Stehngal, still trying to supply Clancy with a cure, for by this time Mrs. Delamar had abandoned pretence, and was gazing at the two men with an alarm that they were well aware of, though the other man, who was taking in this scene with unrestrained astonishment, probably attributed her furtive eyes and parted lips to a nervousness induced by the little man's eccentric behavior.

"A cure? Sept. 9.—It is an inspiration, too," cried Clancy. "Don't you understand that this bird shared the secrets and the vigils of the dead man? It watched his coming and goings; for he, too, was a night prowler, and it may be, met his fate at the claws of some human vampire. This very owl must have seen him starting out at that fatal voyage, or, if one might hazard a far-fetched guess, was present when his dead body was placed in the cutter by the hands of those who killed him. Can't you catch some hint of the tragedy from the creature's baleful eye?
It is only glass, we know; but it has been chosen by an artist, and is welded as a snake's. I am only going to make one small alteration in the setting. I brought back from the Palm Beach road a piece of the rock on which Claude Waverton's body was flung, and it ought to go into this glass case with the owl that was Mrs. Kyrie, with its dying breath. Don't you agree?"

"It's a queer notion, but the two may have a good deal in common," said Stehngal, mopping his forehead vigorously, because the weather was warm, and the atmosphere of the car had become sultry.
Suddenly the train plunged into the Hudson tunnel, and the chaos from the electric lamps brought a respite.

Clancy repacked the case in the brown paper, tied the string carefully, and replaced it on the rack. Then, seemingly for the first time, he glanced at the two women, and for a fraction of a second his eyes encountered those of Mrs. Delamar. She was deadly pale, but so composed in manner that he fancied she was about to speak.

"I suppose you are pining for a smoke," he said to Stehngal. "Shall we go forward?"

They went out, and the going woman caught Mrs. Delamar's contemplative gaze.

"What a peculiar man the little one is," she exclaimed. "And do you think they are really detectives? I should not have expected to find such persons travelling in a parlor car."

"One never knows whom one may be travelling with nowadays," said Mrs.
Delamar, glancing up at the square package.

"That was really a very fine owl,"
I wonder if it did attack the Mrs. Kyrie he spoke of? I remember reading something about the death of a man named Kyrie. Oh, I know now—the body was found in a boat. But why should the detective drag in the Waverton case?"

"Why, indeed?" sighed Mrs. Delamar, opening her writing-case and beginning a letter forthwith. If the conversation did not stop, she would have written a few lines, but she scribbled a memorandum of Clancy's words in the form of a letter to Pearle, but only to the effect that the parcel, which she had seen, was a stuffed owl. Once again she looked at the parcel. Would her visa-vis go to the parlor car? No, so, and the man had not returned, she would certainly pick that horrible bird through the window, and take it home with her. If it was attributed to her.

Oddly enough, Clancy read her thought.
He claimed that he had the power of projecting himself into the mind of a person, and the destruction of the owl was the only way to prevent it.

"If you must smoke, smoke alone," he said, holding the cigarette near the smoking-room. "I shouldn't be surprised if our agitated lady friend didn't chuck her cigarette out of the window."

"I don't see any valid reason why I should not chuck you after it," growled Stehngal.

"There you go again, O man of methods," cackled Clancy. "It gives you a pain to keep up against the least deviation from the judge-and-jury way of conducting a case. You ought to compose a book to be sung by members of the bar."

On receipt of information at the central police station we marched to arrest some Yiddo who could hear the feet all the way down Centre street—Sling the cops and the Yids! How's that for a prompt verse, with a manual chorus?"

"This affair is making you hughose," said Stehngal, glancing at the parcel, and the clear from which he had already clipped the end. Why on earth—
"Oh, if you don't like my muse I'll talk witless-box English. You want to know why I advertised you and myself to Mrs.
Delamar? Well, you see, she's a clever woman.
This bloated stockbroker person must be goaded into doing something. They're behaving, scaring, anything you like, so long as they get busy and act. And, when all is said and done, it's the least deviation
from the judge-and-jury way of conducting a case. You ought to compose
a book to be sung by members of the bar."

"She'll want to explain why she returned to The Rosery on that Tuesday evening."

"We don't know that she did return;
but go on! You're expanding visibly."

"We ought to be sympathetic, and get the district attorney to follow suit."

Clancy raised himself on tiptoe and pretended to scan Stehngal's forehead anxiously. Such was the way of these two. They would quarrel ferociously and chaff each other without mercy, when a case they were investigating together promised to expand into its final stage.
And was beside the manufacturer on whose heels they were treading when they fought and bickered; for Clancy was then becoming a snare unto the evil-doer's feet and Stehngal an unbreakable shackle for that same evil-doer's hands!

The train stopped to exchange the electric motor for a steam engine, and Mrs.
Delamar called a porter, gave him a piece of paper, a dollar and some whispered instructions. Stehngal re-entered the car and asked a passing official how long the train waited there. Five minutes, he was told, whereupon he consulted his watch.
Mrs. Delamar covertly summing him up the while.

To Be Continued.

SCHOOL CONGESTION GREATER THAN EVER

Overcrowding Has Necessitated
the Transferring of London
West Scholars.

Congestion and over-crowding of the city schools, more in evidence this year than any other, forms a problem that will have to be dealt with by the board of education immediately. Never in the history of the local public schools have the school plants been so inadequate to handle the school children.

Over-crowding is particularly acute in West London. Four or five schools are required before it can well be taken care of. Under existing conditions part of the West London pupils are being accommodated at the old King street school, while others are being sent across the river to The Strand street school.

Neither of these transfers is in favor with either the school authorities or the parents of the children. The latter have an objection to having their children cross the bridges. The school authorities disfavored the idea of having the children transferred from one school to another.
There will be no board meeting on Tuesday as was expected. One will be held after Fair week. The question of additional accommodation will be the main question up for consideration when this meeting is held, however.

STAGE IS NOW CLEAR FOR FINAL VOTE ON TARIFF

After Sixteen-Hour Session
Sleepy Senators Are Ready to Adjourn.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—The final vote on the tariff bill will be taken in the Senate at 4 o'clock this afternoon, in accordance with an agreement reached before the Senate adjourned shortly before 2 o'clock this morning, after a sixteen-hour session, in which many important features, including free wool, and free sugar, were disposed of.

Final Deliberations.

Senators who had remained in the chamber until 9 o'clock, tired and sleepy-eyed at 9 o'clock, final deliberations, the income tax, the cotton schedule and several other amendments remaining to be discussed. Senator La Follette planned to discuss the cotton schedule and to offer amendments; Senator Brister and Senator McCumber were ready for the final arguments against free cattle, free wheat and rates on other agricultural products, and Senator Norris planned to urge valorization of coffee amendments.

Will Leave Soon.

An exodus of senators was confidently expected soon after the final vote, many indicating last night that they would leave for their homes, or vacation resorting places as soon as possible. Senator Simmons, in urging the hour of 4 o'clock for a vote, asserted
it was imperative that one Democrat, who wished to vote for the bill, should leave town on a train at 5 o'clock.

For Four Months.

The tariff bill has been in the Senate exactly four months and two days,
having been sent over from the House
May 8 last.

During the lull in the Senate, little business will be transacted, and a quorum is not expected until demands are made for consideration of the currency measure. This, in all probability, will not come from the committee for many weeks. In the meantime the Senate probably will meet and adjourn every three days.

A Message From a Woman to Women

Every Woman Should Take "Fruit-a-lives."

Lakelet, Ont., May 12th, 1911— "Kindly publish this letter of mine if you think it will benefit other women who might be afflicted with the disease I have had in the past, but am now, thanks to 'Fruit-a-lives,' completely cured. It is my firm belief that every woman should take 'Fruit-a-lives,' if she wants to keep herself in good health.

"Before taking 'Fruit-a-lives' I was constantly troubled with what is commonly known as 'Nerves' or severe Nervousness. This Nervousness brought on the most violent attacks of Sick Headache, for which I was constantly taking 'doctors' medicine without any permanent relief. Constipation was also a source of great trouble to me and for which the Doctors said 'I would have to take medicine all my life,' but 'Fruit-a-lives' banished all these troubles and now I am a well woman."

MRS. FRED GADKE.

Henry Was Elected by 600 Majority

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, Sept. 8.—George S. Henry, Conservative, was elected in East York today over Albert Chamberlain, by a majority of 616. The final returns were: Henry 1,774, Chamberlain 1,158. Mr. Chamberlain succeeded in reducing Conservative majorities in many of the rural districts, but the cities went against him.

THOUSANDS SEE DRIVER KILLED AFTER FAIR RACE

Grand Stand Crowds Helpless Witnesses of London Trainer's Death From Horse's Kick.

PLUNGE CAUSED TRAGEDY

Sudden Stumble Jerked William O'Dell Beneath Iron-Shod Heels.

The first fatality in the history of the Western Fair occurred at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, when in the sight of thousands, William O'Dell, 510 Talbot street, a horse trainer, was instantly killed beneath the heels of his horse, after having been jerked from his sulky seat by the tripping of the animal. The accident occurred at the conclusion of the second heat of the half mile trot for three-year-olds.

O'Dell was up behind Lady Uno, a fast little trotter from the string of George Graham, of Lobo, who had teamed her through the first heat. The mare had finished in fourth place. The driver turned her opposite the stables and was returning to the judges' stand when she stumbled and fell. The man was jerked forward onto her heels, and instantly killed by a terrific blow from one of the iron shod hoofs in the abdomen. He was dead when picked up.

Drove at Own Request. O'Dell, trainer of the mare, had taken the mount for the second heat at his own request, she having failed to get even a place in the first with the owner up.

In the excitement, following the conclusion of the heat, it was only those along the rails that noticed the mare's fatal plunge. The turn had just been completed when the horse pitched suddenly forward, and O'Dell, his hands wedged securely in the holders, was pulled on his horse's heels.

Full in the stomach one of the iron shoes caught the unfortunate driver and he rolled beside the horse. Bystanders rushed onto the track and lifted the inert body. He was beyond help.

Grim Sequel of Death. In the grandstand, particularly the main one, the antics of a troupe of clowns, one of whom feigned death, while the band solemnly played the Dead March, engrossed the crowd, unaware that a real tragedy was being enacted only a few hundred feet away and that the Dead March had its grim reality. The rush across the track, the plunging horse, the story of the accident, and it was a breathless audience that saw the driver's body lifted from the track to the grass of the enclosure.

There Drs. W. J. Stevenson and G. A. Routledge, one of the judges, worked over the body, but it was useless. A hasty examination showed all too plainly that O'Dell had driven his last race. The big motor ambulance that had been summoned at the first hint of trouble, arrived too late.

In Crossing Accident, Too. O'Dell, who was 62 years and unmarried, was seriously injured in a level crossing accident at Wellington street a few years ago when his sleigh was struck by a Grand Trunk freight. His horse was killed and the sleigh demolished. The man himself was extricated from beneath the locomotive with considerable difficulty.

He was one of the best-known horsemen of the city, and had been in the game since boyhood. Lady Uno and the other horses of the Graham string were trained by him this spring, and he had great expectations of their ability. He was born in this city, and was a son of the late proprietor of the O'Dell Hotel, Wellington road.

Mare Was Choked. The exact cause of the accident is pronounced. One theory advanced at the track side was that O'Dell had a too-tight rein on his horse as she rounded the turn and that he had choked off her wind, causing her to pitch forward.

W. Mahoney, 281 Wellington street, and a life-long friend of the dead driver, was one of the first to reach his side after the accident occurred. Mahoney rushed forward when the horse stumbled and raised O'Dell's head in his arms.

"He seemed to look an instant into my eyes, then the muscles of his face stiffened and his eyes set in a fixed stare," said Mahoney to The Advertiser.

It is believed that to Mahoney O'Dell's last words were spoken. As he went to take his place on what proved to be his last drive, he laughingly called to his friend that he was "back in the game again."

Trained in Lobo. O'Dell trained George Graham's string at the latter's farm in Lobo Township during the spring. While in Lobo he lived with a brother and sister at 510 Talbot street. News of his tragic death was broken to the sister by an Advertiser reporter.

Rushing Work On Fine New Raceway [Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, Sept. 9.—The work of constructing the new raceway on King street east is being rushed forward. Thus far very satisfactory progress has been made. All the excavating has been done, and the old steel tube is being removed. It is expected the work will be completed without much inconvenience through the diverting of traffic. Work on the curbs and gutters on Thames street will likely be commenced next week.

The young people of the Baptist Church and their friends held a most successful and enjoyable corn-roast last evening at the home of Mr. Bowman, Thames street north. There was a large attendance, and the evening was pleasantly spent by all.

BUSY THRESHING [Canadian Press.] Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—Threshing is general in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, especially in the former province. Reports from various points contain allusions to the amount of wheat cut, which is 70 per cent for Saskatchewan, but are devoted mainly to information as to the amount of threshing going on, the shortage of labor and the freight car outlook. The weather is ideal is the gist of the information from everywhere. A remarkable yield of oats is reported from Morris, Man., where four acres gave an average of 120 bushels.

FREE JEROME ON GAMBLING CHARGE AND APOLOGIZE

His Arrest Was Inexcusable, Says Magistrate—Hissed and Cheered in Court.

JEROME IS SATISFIED

Says He Has Been Treated Fairly by Thinking People of Canada.

Coaticook, Que., Sept. 9.—William Travers Jerome was acquitted last night of the charge of having gambled on Thursday last on the station property of the Grand Trunk Railway here while waiting for the immigration authorities to pass on the case of Harry K. Thaw. In discharging him the court apologized for the humiliation to which he had been subjected.

The townspeople packed the court room like sardines when the hearing was opened. Every bench was taken, every inch of standing room was occupied, the throng in looks, grimaces, and subdued remarks was plainly hostile.

A. C. Hanson, joint crown prosecutor, opened the case with the reading of the complaint of Milford Aldrich, a mill hand, who swore that he had seen the defendant playing at cards for money, that the money was Statutes were quoted to show that this was an indictable offence, punishable with a year's imprisonment.

The Defence. Samuel Jacobs, of Montreal, who had been retained by the State of New York in its effort to return Thaw to Matteawan, contended that the statute applied only to gambling on a public conveyance proper. The court took this question under advisement and called for witnesses.

After two witnesses had testified to seeing Jerome playing poker in an automobile in the railway yards, Magistrate Mulvena leaned back and pondered for not more than 50 seconds. "In rendering judgment," he said, "I shall be very brief. I believe every right-minded man in Canada regrets and feels the humiliation at the indignity which has been placed upon it. It is excusable neither in law nor in fact. The evidence adduced at the hearing gives no reasons for the charge which was laid against you, nor for the indignities which you have suffered."

"I believe, sir, in all the circumstances, you will not attribute the apparent offence offered you while in a friendly country in the discharge of your duty as a public citizen to the real-thinking people of this community. You are, sir, honorably discharged."

Mr. Jerome Understands. Dead silence greeted the conclusion of the court's remarks. Then Mr. Jerome stood up. "You may feel assured, your lordship," he said, "that I understand thoroughly the circumstances of this case. Since I have been in Canada I have been received with uniform courtesy in Sherbrooke, in Montreal, and I may say, in Coaticook—by the thinking people. I am sure those who have been intemperate have been misled rather by ignorance of the facts than by any real malice."

"I shall always remember my visit to Canada with great pleasure, and I have been something of a humiliation to me, but I do not feel I have been humiliated before the thoughtful people here."

Trouble in Court. There was a subdued outburst of cheering when Jerome sat down, but the cheers were drowned by hisses and catcalls. Magistrate Mulvena called for order, and the crowd fled out of the room. Jerome went to the station and bought a ticket for Island Pond, Vt., where he will pick up his automobile, and motor to New York by way of Albany.

"That's good," he said. "It saves me $250." This remark referred to the fact that Thaw had magnanimously offered to make good any loss sustained by Andre Rousseau, a local hotel-keeper, and one of the two sureties in Jerome's $500 bond. It has not been decided tonight when Thaw would be removed to Montreal.

AMUSEMENTS

A New Irish Play. Flske O'Hara, in a new play, "In Old Dublin," will be the attraction at the Grand, coming tomorrow evening for five performances at special prices. The popular young star is said to have in the new play a vehicle for his talents that is better than anything in which he has yet appeared, and it is certain that he has never been so successful in anything that he has hitherto presented. Mr. O'Hara introduces a number of charming melodies in the performances, which display his fine tenor voice to advantage, and Manager Pittou has surrounded his star with an excellent supporting company in which are such players as Madeline Tyrone, Gertrude Maitland, Marie Quinn, Rose Watson, Lou Ripley, Emma Naylor, Elizabeth Page, Eugene

Lesson in Scientific Complexion Renewing

[From the Family Physician.] Everyone has a beautiful skin underneath the one exposed to view. But the mind, and it will be easier to understand the correct principle in acquiring a lovely complexion. Nature is constantly shedding the top skin in flaky particles like dandruff, only much smaller in size. In abnormal conditions, or in advanced age, these particles are not shed as rapidly as in robust youth. The longer they remain on the face, the more they become—that's the immediate cause of a "bad complexion."

It has been discovered that ordinary mercurized wax, to be had at any drug store, will absorb these worn-out particles. The absorbing, which has been Nature's work, goes on gradually enough to cause no inconvenience. In a week or two the transformation is complete. The fresh, healthy-hued, youthful under-skin is then wholly in evidence. You who are not satisfied with your complexion should get an ounce of mercurized wax and try this treatment. Use the wax nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings.

Someone who is more interested in selling you something else may say to you that the chamber containing the top burners cuts off the coal fuel and will cause the range to work badly. Well, look into the flues and see if it does.
You see this chamber is cunningly devised so that it presents only a very narrow division between the two top flues. It is pointed on the end like a boat,
so as to split the current of draft without friction. As it spreads out a little on each side the flues at each side get a little deeper,
so that the same flue space is preserved right along. The heat from the flues covers the oven top from front to back and the gas burners are left right in the range—not touched.

ART BUILDING AT FAIR MAGNET FOR THOUSANDS

Many Striking and Interesting Canvases at This Year's Exhibit.

Perhaps no other department at the Western Fair is a greater centre of attraction than the Art Gallery, situated on the grounds near the main entrance. At each and every hour of the day, visitors a-plenty are to be found here some stepping closer to view a painting, and others retiring across the gallery to view a scene in a better light.

And one and all, the Fair visitors this year have warm praise for the art exhibit. The number of paintings by local artists, professional and amateur, far exceeds the showing of last year, and the collection of signed pictures is exceptionally good. Once more the advantages of the new art gallery are apparent, and the excellent facilities for light, together with the spacious wall area, elicited much favorable comment from visitors yesterday and today.

A Home Picture.
Perhaps the first canvas which strikes the eye upon entering the gallery is the magnificent painting by William Howe in the loan exhibition.
This is the largest picture in the loan and occupies the centre of the wall side of the gallery. Hanging quite near it, is a painting of entirely different type, "Vespers" by Carl Melchers. The scene portrays the interior of a home, the dwelling of a peasant, humble and plain like the man who sits on the hard-backed chair in the foreground of the canvas his blue eyes looking solemnly into the unknown with a hope doubtless inspired by the copy of the Book which lies beside him. Standing just a little behind him, at one side, is his daughter, also in rapt attention, with an open book in her hand. A moose picture, showing a Spanish rural scene, most beautifully worked in colored marble, is the subject of much interested comment.

Some Beautiful Marines.
"Moonlight on North Sea" is the title of one of St. Thomas Smith's fine marine paintings of which several have been loaned for the Western Fair. This artist has the knack of throwing upon his canvas exactly the right color combination for marine pictures. The visitor gazes upon cold, green-blue, white-capped waves that seem to go down to unfathomable depths.

A Striking Canvas.
John Russell's canvases are worthy of considerable study in themselves. One particularly striking subject is that of an Italian boy, dark of hair and eye, and nestling close to his dark coat, a macaw of most brilliant plumage.
Mr. J. P. Hunt, of this city, exhibits quite a large collection of paintings in oils, winning several awards. One scene that elicits perhaps especial attention depicts a sugar camp in the heart of the early spring woods. The toiler is seen through the sombre trees returning with his spoils to the cabin, and over all a gentle halo of smoke hovers like a benediction. It is a home-ly scene none the less pleasing because of its familiarity.

The same might be said of a loan picture by C. P. Gruppe. The subject is one that surely appeals to Canadian blood. A background of shadowy-trunked trees, a foreground of cold, icy-looking snow, and in the centre a man guiding a team of horses attached to a lustrous log. The only bit of bright color in the picture is the coat and muffler of the man who stoops to his task, and the artist has caught the exact atmosphere of a winter afternoon.
A long list of prizes were awarded in the amateur and professional exhibitors of oils, marine sketches, water colors, pen-and-ink work, charcoal drawing, etc. Among those drawing awards were noted, Miss M. O'Dell, London; Miss English, St. Mary's; Miss E. Waddell, Orono; Miss Brash, London; S. K. Davidson, London; J. P. Hunt, Miss Burnett, London; Miss O'Keefe, Guelph, and many others.

The section devoted to other decorative arts contains some beautiful handwork in china, painting, wood carving, painting on silk, and pyrography. In all classes some excellent designs in both formal and conventional patterns are shown. For china decorating, Miss Agnes Middleton, Mrs. J. N. Dean and Miss I. Moore, of this city, and Miss Katie Roehn, of Brenner, Ont., were successful. Mr. W. R. Hawthorne and Miss K. S. Matthews, of this city, exhibit some beautiful samples of wood carving.
The entire exhibit is good, and is as has been stated before, a centre of general interest for all fair visitors. There is but one thing missing and that is any specimens of the current draft, which is conspicuously by reason of its absence.

KENT COUNTY INVADE CITY

by Mr. G. Vaughan, who protested against the awards in the dark braham class. It will be dealt with by the board at the meeting today.

An Orderly Place.
A corps of local police is busy on the grounds and a more orderly spot could not be found in the winter city. Sergeant Birrell, who has charge of the police work at the grounds, raided seven games of chance Monday night and closed them up. The owners protested vigorously, and even went to the police in some of the directors, but the police were adamant and refused to allow the games to go on as they were being conducted. The raid was made at 7 o'clock and half hour later every one of the games had stopped doing business. The proprietors were told by the police that if they wanted to continue to do business on the grounds they would have to change their methods. The police agreed to do, and they will likely open up this afternoon with something new.

Up to a late hour Monday night and tonight this morning the grounds have been held up in transit were arriving at the grounds and being put in place, and at 11 o'clock Secretary Hunt declared that everything was in, and that the big show was on all its glory. Heavy rigs, automobiles and in fact anything that would tend to cause trouble by being driven through the crowds are stopped at the entrance by special officers and are not allowed to enter. Even a woman, who wanted to deliver to the different booths, was told that he would have to come around either in the morning or there would be "nothing doing" in his line of business. The drivers of the rigs all seem to take it philosophically and appear to be endeavoring to assist the board in every way to make the fair one of the most orderly in America.

NOTABLE EXHIBITS.

An Old Custom Revived

It is interesting to see the old colonial styles in house furnishings coming back into vogue. Among these are not to be forgotten the rag rugs, and carpets. In the halls and bedrooms of many homes these are again becoming very popular. The beauty of these rugs and carpets is the fact that they can be woven to order and thereby match your decorations at a cost within everybody's reach. Fair visitors will have an opportunity to see an unusual display of these colonial rugs at the exhibit of the London Art Carpet Works in the old annex of the Main Building. Persons who are not coming to the Fair and wish information about the rugs, send a postcard to 96 Carling street, London, 18c

FINE FARM FENCES.
Thirteen different styles of farm fence are shown by the Sarnia Fence Company near the transportation building. This company's policy is to sell direct to farmers at factory prices. Orders will be booked at the fair at two cents a rod less than last year, and guaranteed to be the best salvanized and most perfect fence obtainable. The Sarnia Fence Company also specializes in farm gates, a fine exhibit of which are shown.

LONDON ASBESTOS AND SUPPLY COMPANY.
A fine exhibit of high-class asbestos products is found just west of the south end of the midway. The exhibit is by the London Asbestos and Supply Company, who have recently opened large local warehouses and offices at 327-331 Ridout street. It will be instructive to all interested in fireproof building materials. The company specializes in shingles which are made of slate-like material, composed of Portland cement and asbestos fibre. They are cooler and lighter than slate, and may be seen on the roofs of the Quebec street C. P. R. station, Memorial Methodist Church, Richmond street, Mr. E. J. Allan, secretary-treasurer of the Fair and Mr. O. H. Johns, owners of the exhibit, are in charge of the exhibit.

STRANGE FREAK OF NATURE.
Beauty, the funny little three-legged horse exhibited by Perry & Valliant on the midway, is standard-bred of fine racing stock. Born at Tecumseh, Ont., her mother was a dark queen of distinction. Beauty walks like a kangaroo, drinks from a bottle like an experienced toper, and likes to eat tobacco. A visit to this show will be every visitor to the fair, and the ladies and gentlemen, and will please the ladies and children.

ARTISTIC AND INSTRUCTIVE SHOW.
Johns' Glass Blowers on the midway present an entertainment that is at once artistic, instructive and pleasing. The glass blowers are always a favorite attraction at the Western Fair, and the glass blowers are in the front rank of their craft. Glass is spun finer than silk, miniature ships, birds of paradise and other artistic creations are produced to the delight and admiration of the spectators. The only real entertainment should not fail to see Mr. Johns and his staff at work.

NEW IDEA IN RANGES.
The Canada Combination coal and gas range, exhibited by the Moffat Stove Company, in the stove building, is a distinctly new idea in range construction. The only real combination range on the market, it is described. Occupying only the space of one range it does the work of two ranges, both coal and gas being available for use without changing the fixtures, and separate ovens being provided for each fuel, both of which may be used at the same time. A Westman & Co., 121 Dundas street, are the local dealers. It is made of fireproof material, is a conceivable style, and no one should fail to see it at the exhibition. Householders, ladies and others, interested in stoves and ranges, should especially examine the Canada B range.

INDEPENDENT ORDER OF FORESTERS.

The Independent Order of Foresters' tent at the exhibition will be found just south of the main building on Dundas street. Mr. C. H. Merryfield, P. H. C. R., and Mr. Thomas Hall, D. S. R., are in attendance. The tent is beautifully furnished and every comfort will be made welcome during the week. This is one of the fraternal and insurance societies that give not only insurance but sick benefits of $5 to $10 per week, as well as a funeral benefit and free medical attendance. This order cares for 750 little orphan children. The Independent Foresters have also cared for during the past year 112 tubercular patients in their sanatorium at Balnaw Lake in New York State. The order has also a sanatorium on the Pacific coast for western members. These patients are cared for free of charge to all who are in good standing in the order. Financially the order is in good shape, with $20,000,000 of a surplus, and at the last supreme court meeting held in Toronto Aug. 26 and following days, the order was placed on an actuarial basis. Mr. Merryfield states that now is an opportune time for every man to protect his family as well as himself. Women are also admitted on the same rates as men. Fair visitors are invited to call and get a souvenir.

ANCIENT FORESTERS

A RELIABLE SOCIETY.

One of the main features of Society Row is the tent occupied by the Ancient Order of Foresters. It is com-mendably furnished as a rest room for the members and their friends, and for the giving out of information governing its benefits.
This well-known society has been in existence for more than 200 years, has courts in all parts of the world, and is proud of the fact that having the experience of time, it can give the practical protection the people need. It provides medical attention and medicine free. It gives $4 per week for benefit for one year, $2 per week for one year, $100 funeral benefit, and $50 funeral benefit on the death of a member's wife. It is the only society doing business upon the contract plan, on the 3 1/2 per cent. Government basis. There is no assessment system.

It gives the applicant a straight life, or life or endowment policy as he desires, with loan privileges, cash surrenders, paid-up policies, and extended insurance. All policy-holders are shareholders and participate in the profits.

Sample Policy—Age 25, $1,000, 20-year endowment, Cost $11.70 quarterly, or $44.51 yearly. Insured for $1,000 in case of death. Cash surrender value on policy after 3 years, and in 20 years the full face value, together with the profits, are due.
The Ancient Foresters cater to the home. The order has juvenile branches for the protection of the boy. There are circles of Companions of the Forest, where the wives and lady friends may seek the benefits of the institution. Anyone desiring any form of protection for the home, whether in sick benefits or insurance, is advised: Seek it right, and the benefits of this well-known society will be fully explained at the society's tent at the Western Fair. It is in charge of Mr. Fred G. Butt, superintendent of organization, Toronto, assisted by Mr. Walter Richards, P. H. C. R. London. Information may be had at the tent, or will be sent in response to a postcard request.

A BETTER AND DIFFERENT PLAYER-PIANO MADE BY YE OLDE FIRME.

Visitors to the Western Fair will be more than delighted with the exhibit of the Heintzman Piano Company, located in the northeast corner of the main building.

The most attractive feature of the display is doubtless that of their magnificent Player-Piano. It is a new and different kind of instrument, long lines common to no other instrument.
The most outstanding feature of this Player-Piano is the aluminum action. By this means the instrument is impervious to varying climatic conditions. The swelling and shrinking of wood which takes place with atmospheric changes opens up minute passages through which the air escapes, and if leakage of air takes place the action immediately deteriorates. Of course, it is known that the controlling of air is the great consideration in all pneumatic player-pianos.

The Heintzman Company have engaged Mr. Chris Pink to show the adaptability of their instrument to the human voice, and will be heard at different times during the Fair.
Anyone who can sing, can enjoy themselves to the full with a Heintzman Player-Piano, for the simple reason that they can get the words of their favorite songs printed on the rolls.

PRESSED BRICKS "MADE IN LONDON."

Pressed bricks from the first and only pressed brick plant west of Milton and Hamilton are the features of the exceedingly attractive exhibit of the London Pressed Brick Company in the stove and range building. Roofing and pressed bricks made by this company, of which Mr. John W. Cawse, a brickmaker of 20 years' experience, is president, are manufactured by a new "ante-fired" process, which is an adaptation of an old Roman method of clay treatment and rebuilding. This process produces results far surpassing any heretofore obtained. Exhaustive tests by the School of Practical Science, Toronto, and the Department of Applied Mechanics, McGill University, Montreal, show that these bricks will withstand 4,000 pounds pressure to the square inch, while ordinary pressed bricks crumble at 2,450 pounds pressure and common brick at 600 pounds. London pressed bricks absorb only 8 per cent of their weight of water, while ordinary bricks absorb 36 per cent. Absolutely impervious to extremes of heat and cold, the London bricks are admirably adapted to withstand Canadian climatic conditions. Heated red-hot and plunged into cold water, the sudden change in temperature has no effect whatever.

By the "ante-fired process" the clay is gathered and burned in heaps, after which the bricks, cured in a steam cylinder, are ready for delivery and eight hours. The bricks exhibited were made on new machinery especially manufactured by the Berg Machinery Company, Toronto, for the London Pressed Brick Company. Two large heaps of clay are burned ready for use, and more is being burned at the plant two miles south of the city. Ready for building as soon as turned out, the bricks can be manufactured in any quantities to meet the existing demand. They are close and even in Continued on Page Eleven.

St. George's Day.—Capt. Smith—Great satisfaction is being expressed among military men in this district at the success of Capt. Neil Smith, of the Twenty-fourth Regiment, Chatham, at the rifle matches in Camp Perry, Cant. Smith headed the list in the Canadian team that shot for the Palma trophy, making a splendid showing. He is well and popularly known to most of the officers in this district.

Horse Through Roof.—On the farm of George Meehan, Hubrey avenue, London Township, last week, a team of horses hitched to a threshing separator belonging to George Metcalfe ran away when left standing, and one of them dropped clear through the roof of an underground root cellar. Beyond a few scratches it was not badly hurt, but one side of the cellar had to be torn out before the animal could be led out.

plays as can possibly get away will be present at the meeting.

Constable Logan Back.—Constable Robert Logan, of the Grand Trunk, who was unable to appear at work for two weeks on account of an injury to his leg, is back again and was welcomed at the depot by many old friends yesterday morning. Seven years ago Mr. Logan's leg was injured when one of the station employees ran a heavy iron bar against him. Although he has tried in many ways to have it successfully treated, he has been unable to do so, and two or three times every year it gets so bad that he is unable to walk.

Meeting of the Board.—Rev. John McMillan, of Thorncliffe, was elected president of the London Ministerial Association at a meeting in Wesley Hall on Monday. Rev. D. N. McCamus, of Colborne, was elected secretary. The first meeting of the association was devoted to organization and the arranging of the program for the fall and winter.

Meeting of the Board.—The first meeting of the association, the first Monday in October, arrangements were made for the committee on missions and evangelization to report at the fall district meeting to be held at Thorncliffe on Sept. 23.

No Decision Yet.—President F. G. Rumball, of the Kensington Furniture Company, turned out some time ago to see if the decision whether the plant will be re-located at the lake port or will be brought to London. "I have not made a definite decision as to what will be done," said Mr. Rumball yesterday morning. "There will be no announcement made until early next week."

Has Magee Site.—It is generally understood that the Magee property on Dundas street, which was sold to a Toronto firm some time ago for a record sum, is to be converted into a restaurant by a Chicago man. At the time of the sale it was not known for whom the property was purchased on account of several offers having been made, but since then a rumor to the effect that a large restaurant of the kind in vogue in the large American cities would be opened there has steadily gained ground. As no denial has been made it is thought that there must be some truth to the story. The present occupants of the store have a year in which to vacate, and it is not likely that anything will be done with the store before then.

An Honest American.—Mr. Arthur J. Howland, of Detroit, is an honest man, and although he might have escaped to the American city without paying a fine for a breach of the traffic by-law he committed unknowingly, he preferred to leave Saturday he drove past a standing street car on Dundas street, and an officer took his name and the number of his car. This morning he was ready to return to his home, but he had not been served with a summons to appear in court, so he delayed his departure until he could call at the police station and learn what was to be done with his case. He admitted driving up to the car, but said he was ignorant of the laws. He also asked that he be allowed to settle the case at once so that he might resume his journey. The court was willing.

ing and imposed a fine of $5 and costs, amounting to $1.85.

Buss Street Railway.—James Duncan, a young man under 21 years of age, is bringing suit against the London Street Railway Company through his next friend, Mr. Maurice Gootson, for unpaid damages for injuries received when he was struck by a car last month. He claims negligence on the part of the defendants. Messrs. Meredith, Judd & Meredith have issued the writ. Duncan sustained his injuries when trying to board an Ottawa car that ran from Victoria Hospital late at night. The car, it is claimed, did not stop, and he was thrown down and dragged a considerable distance, sustaining such severe injuries to his foot that amputation was necessary. He managed to crawl from the roadway to a lawn nearby, where he was found by a passerby some time later.

CORRESPONDENCE

City Hall and the L. and P. S. R.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:—The council made a tremendous mistake in not having the outside of the new city hall, opposite McCormick's, painted a yellow color. The freshly-painted woodwork makes the rest look dingy. Again, if a story or two were put on the end building it would make the block look more solid.

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURED HER.

Mrs. Jacob Smith, Manor, Sask., writes: "I am pleased to express my gratitude for your remedy in my case. I had a terrible attack of Diarrhoea. Just about every three minutes, I would have a passage, and it would keep this up for a week at a time, causing the passage of bloody water. I was so pained and weak, I could not do anything. SERGEANT ARBITRATES ARGUMENT OVER DOG

One Man Had Canine Which Second Man Claims Was His Property.

Walking through the King street entrance to Queen's Park Monday afternoon, and leading an excellent specimen of English bulldog, a well-known merchant of the city was started out of his thoughts of the fine prizes the dog would win, by an advance upon him of another man, who was formerly a merchant on Dundas street, with a demand as to where he got the canine. "I purchased that dog some time ago for $15 from some people passing through London," said the grocer. "You did, how funny," said the former merchant. "That dog is only worth $300, and was stolen from me three months ago."

Then he called the dog, and it ran to him, wagging its tail and putting up its muzzle to be patted.

A heated argument then took place as to the ownership of the dog, and Sergt. Birrell was called in as arbitrator. The man who claimed the dog was stolen from him said he had the animal's pedigree, and could show receipts confirming his purchase. He also agreed to bring the former owner to prove his claim.

The matter was finally settled by a suggestion made by Sergt. Birrell to the effect that the dog be placed in the dog show and that matters be arranged so that no one but he be allowed to take the dog out.

The suggestion was satisfactory to the men, who were anxious to get away from the crowd that gathered, so the dog was placed in the show, and will be left there until the end of the week.

PRINCE GEORGE TOWNSITE

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway announces the sale by auction of the townsite of Prince George, situated at the confluence of the Fraser and Nechaco Rivers, in Central British Columbia, 450 miles northeast of Vancouver, and 467 miles east of Prince Rupert, British Columbia, or midway between Prince Rupert and Edmonton, Alberta. By reason of its central location, Prince George will be the natural distributing point for the extensive territory comprised in the Pacific province of the Dominion, and has, therefore, long been the expectation of the general public that upon the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Prince George will early become a large and important center. Having been purchased what was known as the Fort George Indian Reserve, No. 1, for the purpose of locating a townsite thereon, the Grand Trunk Pacific Development Company has caused the same to be surveyed and platted and will offer lots in this townsite for sale by public auction at Vancouver, British Columbia, Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1913, and at Edmonton, Alberta, Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1913. The terms of the sale will be one-quarter cash and the balance payable in one, two and three years, with six per cent interest. All particulars and plans can be secured by applying to C. U. Ryley, land commissioner, Grand Trunk Pacific, Winnipeg, Manitoba. 181
