THE ILL WIND BLEW THIS FARMER SOME EXTRA HARD CASH

Exeter Potato King Gets Shock of Life When Check
From Detroit Arrives.

"It's an ill-wind that blows nobody good," according to the old adage, and a farmer from the vicinity of Exeter had it proven to him in a delightful manner last week. The gentleman in the case received an order from Cleveland for a carload of potatoes, which he accepted at $1 a bag. He loaded the car and it merrily jaunted over the Huron and Bruce to London, where it was routed westward. In the meantime the railway strike broke out across the border, and the car of spuds was sidetracked in the Detroit yards.

Knowing that the contents of the box car were perishable, the freight agent at Detroit wired to the Exeter shipper, asking permission to dispose of the load, as there was no possibility of its reaching Cleveland for some time. The Exeter potato king wired back the necessary permission, and the potatoes ultimately found their way to the tables of hungry Detroiters.

And then came the pleasant surprise. The original owner of the tubers received a check from Detroit in payment for them, along with a note from the agent, stating that the best he could do was to get $10 per bag from the commission merchants in the City of the Straits. The Exeter lucky one did not take long to decide where the car of potatoes from his farm was to be shipped, but, unfortunately for him, the Detroit housewives have mused things up with their recent potato boycott.

BRITISH NEWSPAPER LOOKS FORWARD TO CONFERENCE

London, April 19.—(By the Associated Press).—There is a long editorial in the Morning Post regarding the dispatch of Mr. Lloyd George to Washington. "We have broken the back of the combine. Now we'll break its neck. I predict that if the warm weather continues potatoes will be selling for as low as $2.50 a bushel within a week."

Supplies of other vegetables were fairly plentiful on the markets Saturday and prices tended to decline. Potatoes and dressed veal were lower. The supply of livestock continued ample.

WANTS TO HEAT HOUSES WITH OIL

Matter Will Come Before
Meeting of No. 1 Committee.

A proposal to install an oil system by which this type of fuel will be available to every citizen for heating and similar purposes has been laid over for consideration by No. 1 committee of the city council.

Mr. Fisher has asked the council to discuss the matter and consult with the heads of industrial enterprises in the city upon the advisability of laying oil pipes mains to supply fuel oil to the citizens by meter measurement on similar lines to the gas supply, and also supplying a rental basis for pumping machines for heating purposes.

By this means the average citizen would be able to share in the benefits derivable from the use of oil as fuel, which would not be possible otherwise, owing to the cost of individual installations, incurred by the construction of the necessary underground oil storage tank and pumping system which is only economically feasible for manufacturing interests and large buildings, such as schools, and warehouses.

By the adoption of such a system, as suggested by municipalities generally, oil-burning machines could be manufactured on a quantity production basis to bring the cost to such a low point that a rental of $2 a month for machines and service could be profitably put in effect and the consumer could be assured of efficient heating at a cost much lower than by the use of coal.

Mr. Fisher claims that there is every incentive for the city to adopt the plan and points to the rising cost of coal, together with uncertain deliveries and consequent hardships entailed on the community, and the fact that the cleanliness of oil. He contends that its superiority is proved by its increasing adoption by manufacturing, railroad, marine and mercantile interests. He also claims that there is every possibility of Canada becoming an oil-producing country.

Canadian Born!

WE first saw light in Canada, the land beloved of God; We are the pulse of Canada, its marrow and its blood; And we, the men of Canada, can face the world and brag That we were born in Canada, beneath the British flag. We've yet to make our money, we've yet to make our fame, But we have gold, and glory in our clean colonial name; And every man's a millionaire if only he can brag That he was born in Canada, beneath the British flag. The Dutch may have their Holland, the Spaniard have his Spain, The Yankee to the south of us must south of us remain; For not a man dare lift his hand against the men who brag That they were born in Canada, beneath the British flag.

NEW ECONOMIC BIRTH DESIRED.

An Englishman writes to the Nation (London) with reference to the huge profits in
woolen yarn:

"The scandal of these huge profits ought not to be charged against the traders who have happened to be in a position to profit. It was due to the system by which all human effort is an effort first of all to make money, and only incidentally to make things useful to the community. Spinners are trying to make fur-tunes, not clothing. So long as we are content with the system we must put up with its evils, of which profiteering is not the only one.

There is some sense in this. Much glib talk
is heard in this country about work for service,
but the point of view of the Englishman quoted
is more clarified than is often met with here.
An economic conversion or second birth is required, of which Christianity certainly gives the hint, but which the pulpit does not often preach.

KING CHAMPIONS LABOR.

Mr. W. L. M. King shows again his lively interest in the welfare of the workers by his effort to secure justice for the G. T. R. employees who suffered from the strike of 1910.
Some of the strikers were deprived by the company's action of the pensions for which they had been paying in. Mr. King demands of Parliament that the nation shall do justice
to those who have right claims upon the G.
T. R.

This is characteristic of Mr. King, the first of our leading statesmen to specialize on the rights of labor. It is in a more general way characteristic of Liberalism, whose guiding principle is always the greatest good to the greatest number. Laborites, progressives, large-minded and patriotic agriculturists will
all find a natural leader and an experienced skilled leader, in Mr. King. Instead of scattering their energies, the great new mass of progressives in Canada will do well to rally to one standard, under a man who has the theoretical and technical knowledge of what is required, the will and experienced hand to give effect to reform ideas, and the generous sympathy which is more than anything else.

THE BRITISH BY-ELECTIONS.

Last week saw two more British elections
fought out in both cases they were notable wins of the Coalition Government. Dr. Mc-Namara, Liberal-Conservative, was elected in Camberwell with nearly 2,000 plurality over the Labor candidate, Miss Susan Lawrence, and 3,000 over the Liberal nominee. It is significant that this constituency has long been a Liberal stronghold, and that Carroll, the Liberal candidate, had the support of Mr. Asquith. In the Basingstoke contest the nominees of the Liberals and Labor ran second and third. As Paisley goes so goes the country is an English election maxim, but since that triumph for the Liberals the pendulum has been swinging strongly towards the Coalitionists.

So far as the Camberwell result is concerned
the radical element—the advanced socialism
section of the Labor party—has met a heavy defeat, as Dr. McNamara came out clearly as an opponent of the nationalization of industry.
He said: "I have fought the socialists in this contest from the word go and will fight them to the bitter end. I am opposed to their reckless, half-baked proposals for upsetting our industrial, social and economic foundations, and re-casting them on the basis of the abolition of all private ownership, of the means of production, distribution and exchange."

HOUSES FOR FARM HELP.

Six married men, three of them railroad men, out of work in St. Thomas on account of the American strike, and out of house and home
because their landlords had evicted them to make room for tenants paying higher rent,
applied for farm work Saturday morning at the Ontario Government employment bureau. Plenty of farmers want men to work for them, but what are the men to do with their wives and families?

The employment bureau officials are pointing out to the farmers how much easier it would be to provide them with reliable and capable farm help, if they would only provide housing for their employees. Years ago, there were many vacant houses in the country. When half the rural population moved to the city and the remaining farmers increased their land-
holding from 50 and 100 acres to acreages ranging all the way from 200 to 500 acres, there were houses and to spare in the country. Farm laborers in those days were mostly English young men, unmarried. The Great War called these home to their native land and the few who escaped death or maiming have returned to Canada accompanied by English brides.

Now, the housing situation in the country is just as acute as it is in the city. A few farmers are realizing the gravity of the situation are erecting small homes for employees with families. Others are clamoring in vain at the employment bureaus for single men. The single men, however, can rough it quite as well in a small hall bedroom in an overcrowded boarding-house, as they can in the spare attic of a farmhouse, and they can get larger wages in the city. The man with a family is much more anxious to have country air and sunshine for his children. He can't follow the construction boom from town to town just because he is offered $8 or $9 a day. So that's how the situation is complicated. Build houses in the country and the farm labor situation will be solved,

is the advice of the employment bureau officials.

"BOB" IS BUSY.

It would be interesting to know what the Tory members of the Unionist cabinet think
of the activity of their former valued colleague,
Hon. "Bob" Rogers, on behalf of the revival of the Conservative party in federal affairs. At least once a month for the last year and a half
the Hon. "Bob" has been able to induce some organization, in Toronto or elsewhere, to have him as its guest and give him an opportunity to proclaim the need of a return to the sound
gospel of which he is an exponent, the gospel chiefly of undiluted protection. The series of feasts of food and oratory have evidently had some effect, because it is now announced that there is to be a real heart-to-heart talk among the faithful in Toronto at an early date. It has not yet been announced how many of the cabinet ministers will be present, but at least
we can count on that stalwart friend of the people, Col. Curry, being found not far from the head table on the eventual night.

The Montreal Gazette reports Hon. Robert
Rogers in the capital this week, gives the notice
special place on the front page with as large
a heading over it as Gazette taste allows.
Further it records, even in its heading, that along with the former minister in Ottawa was Sir William Mackenzie, of Canadian Northern fame. His mission to the capital, according to the Gazette, is obscure. "He is a keen politician and a friend of Hon. Robert Rogers," we are rather needlessly informed, "but he has also many friends in the Unionist party and the cabinet." So here we have another element in the new Conservative party that is to be, Rogers, Curry, Mackenzie. And above all we must remember that Hon. Robert Rogers is the man who knows how to win elections. He admitted that himself on one occasion in the House of Commons. As for Sir William Mackenzie, it would appear that he prefers the old
Conservative party to any of these new-fangled Unionist ideas. The Conservative party feathered his nest for him year after year, but the Unionists stole the eggs. We rather suspect that his presence in Ottawa is not for the purpose of advising Unionism how to perpetuate itself.

After all, the perpetuation of Unionism is rather discounted today even by its best friends. Even that faithful friend of the administration, the Ottawa Journal, finds itself
unable to keep up steady adulation and occasionally falls from grace. It was only a couple of weeks ago that the Journal, reviewing the session up to the Easter adjournment, was able to persuade itself (it didn't persuade anyone else) that the Government was stronger than when the session opened. That, however, was before the Temiskaming by-election. When the news of that setback came into the Journal
office there arose a howl that could be heard over in Hull. There were immediate demands for reconstruction, for some decision on the leadership, for clear policies and a halt to facing both ways. Probably by now the Journal has recovered its serene faith in the all-seeing wisdom of Meighen, Reid, Calder and Rowell,
but, having lapsed from grace over Temiskam-
ing, there is no telling when just such another backsliding may occur.

The latest news is that the premier will be in Ottawa in time for the budget, and that he will take that occasion to make a pronouncement on the country's problems. In view of the fact that the premier has spent about one-fourth of his time in Canada for the last two years, it is a question how far his judgment
may be of value. The people who have been looking to Ottawa for some leadership in the solution of the class of problems that affect every individual life, the high cost of living for instance, will take with a grain of salt any pronouncement that Sir Robert Borden may make.
It is not pronouncements that this country
needs as much as action. If pronouncements would solve our difficulties we ought to be the most satisfied nation on earth. Meanwhile it will be interesting to wait and see what kind of a "pronouncement" will come from Hon.
Robert Rogers at the Toronto tea-party.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

You can't do much to force down the high cost of living by wearing cotton overalls if you are wearing silk underalls.

A parliamentary correspondent says the farmers are in a "chastened mood." Read
"chasing" for "chastened" and you get it right.

A Florida paper features the Jews that
"eight insane persons are at large." Pahaw!
A real sensation would be in announcing that eight sane persons were at large.

ALGY AND THE BEAR.

[E. E. Slosson in the Independent, New York.]
The disappearance in this swift succession of Generals Koehak, Denekine, Yudenitch and Petura, and the simultaneous expansion of Soviet Russia in four directions, reminds me—or anyhow
I am not likely to have a better chance to lug the story in of the tragic tale of "Algy and the Bear."
The story is told in three chapters, viz.:
Chapter I.—Algy met the bear.
Chapter II.—The bear was bulky.
Chapter III.—The bulge was Algy.

NEWSPAPER ETHICS.

[Toronto Star.]
The fact comes out from time to time that the daily newspapers are conducted in a manner that does not meet with the approval of certain persons.
Now and then one of these speaks out and says
what he thinks about it, as did Dr. Waugh in addressing a women's convention.
"The newspapers do not try to elevate the people," Dr. Waugh is quoted in newspapers as saying.
If the newspapers were all to start in tomorrow
to "elevate the people," as Dr. Waugh would have them do, how would they go about it? If they followed plans laid down by Dr. Waugh, how many others would approve of these plans—how many even of his fellow-critics, would approve? The newspaper that tries to "do things" to its readers,
that makes itself a sort of constable or severe
schoolmaster to the public, very soon learns that it can't be done—that it is useless to publish a newspaper unless the people read it. It is so useless to do this that it quickly becomes financially impossible to go on doing it.

Those who want a press that will "elevate the people" have in mind an ideal sort of newspaper
which would be filled with such reading matter as they are fond of, and which would leave out all
those kinds of news in which they are not interested.
It takes a rich man to afford a daily all his own.
Ours is a busy, bustling world, crowded with all sorts and conditions of people, and a newspaper is a modern necessity, serving the public needs. If it is honest in its dealings with the news, if it is in its character wholesome, and in its purposes intelligent, it is bound in course of time to have its influence on its generation.

From Here and There

LOCATED AT LAST.
[Seattle Post-Intelligencer.]
"Those blankety-blankety profiteers!" shouted
the laborer, as he struck for a 50 per cent. raise.
"Those blankety-blankety profiteers!" shouted the
manufacturer, as he tacked 25 per cent more on his prices. "Those blankety-blankety profiteers!"
shouted the middleman, as he added 20 per cent.
"Those blankety-blankety profiteers!" shouted the
retailer, as he contributed a 30 per cent boost.
"Those blankety-blankety profiteers!" shouted the
ultimate consumer. And the U. C. was approximately correct.

VAIN AND FOOLISH TALK.

[Johannesburg Star.]
Is there any sort of sanity in talking about the advantages of South Africa? The answer is, of course, no. The only advantage of South Africa is the fact that it is a free country. The doors of parliament are open to any man who can persuade his fellow-men to march him there. We are living under no despotism—Prussian or Bolshevik.
What would be gained by kicking away the ballot box and substituting the rifle? The attempt has once before been made for political and racial reasons. To repeat the attempt for economic reasons would be even more futile and more criminal.

OTHER CITIES ARE NOT JEALOUS.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]
New York is boasting that four celebrated
European rulers—Premier Paderewski of Poland,
President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, Clemenceau
of France and Trotsky of Russia. But to make good its claim, New York will have to beat even the annexation record of Los Angeles. For Clem-enceau's American experience was as a teacher at Stanford, Conn.; Masaryk lived in the Middle West,
and Paderewski anything American, belongs to California, where his ranch is, and where he is said to be now coming to retire. No one, however,
will dispute that the honor of Trotsky belongs to
New York.

KERENSKY FINDS HIMSELF.

[London Morning Post.]
Kerensky, the one-time dictator of Russia, has found himself. He has been in the United States
according to the impressions of French Journalists.
He is a much better lecturer than a dictator, for
he impresses his audience in a way he failed to impress Russia. The lecture hall, it appears, is thrilled with an eager, diverse audience, at one
end Russian aristocratic emigres, at the other
vociferous Bolsheviks, but both bitterly hostile to
the man whom the world once and then for a
moment, yet Kerensky, impassioned, demonic,
possessed, holds them all under his spell until he
falls exhausted on his chair. He has failed as a man of action, but in his oratory he has the force
and attraction of a wild animal at bay.

LIKE THE JACKAWD OF REIMS.

[Westminster Gazette.]
The Greek Church excommunicated "the hireling Scoundrel" but Venizelos in 1915, on the ground that he had "betrayed the nation to the Anglo-French," of whom "the coward Sarraïl" was the representative of the time being. "Against this traitor Venizelos," the sentence runs, "I have invoked the following injuries: The ulcers of Job, the whale of Jonah, the leprosy of Naaman,
the bite of Death, the shivering of the dying,
the thunderbolt of hell, and the mauling of the lion." The lecture hall, it appears, is thrilled with an eager, diverse audience, at one
end Russian aristocratic emigres, at the other
vociferous Bolsheviks, but both bitterly hostile to
the man whom the world once and then for a
moment, yet Kerensky, impassioned, demonic,
possessed, holds them all under his spell until he
falls exhausted on his chair. He has failed as a man of action, but in his oratory he has the force
and attraction of a wild animal at bay.

GERMAN CURRENTS.

[London Times.]
The German military mind is logical, and if it desires the end badly, it is willing to use the means, however distasteful. Ludendorff hated Bolshevism, but he has said that he "would rather die in a Bolshevik Germany than in a Germany controlled by the revolutionaries." The constancy of the German people has defeated the revolutionary reconquest in force; the real attack has not yet been delivered.

DRUNKENNESS AND CRIME.

[London Daily Telegraph.]
The House of Lords has declared that drunkenness is not an excuse for murder. There will be general satisfaction that the highest court has pronounced this as the law of the land. Any other decision, we venture to say, would have been repugnant to the conscience of the community. For the law to punish more leniently a man who chose to make himself drunk before committing a crime than the sober criminal would have been not merely dangerous to society, not merely an encouragement to drunkenness and crime, but a glaring offence against justice and morality. If a man puts himself into a state in which he is incapable of self-control, he is not thereby entitled to wrong
others.

NEW ZEALAND FEARS JAPAN.

[Manchester Guardian.]
Over all plans, perhaps rather dreams, of the future—a New Zealand exploiting her own iron ore
and weaving her own wool, a self-contained little country proud to be a dominion of the British Empire—lowers the cloud in the north, Japan. Not all the services of Britain's ally in the war can sleep New Zealand's fear, and to all the complications and burdens is added this of adequate defence. The question is too big to be discussed here, but the feeling of the country is all against complete disarmament. Some such scheme as that proposed by Lord Jellicoe would undoubtedly command approval, and the party returned to political power has given the proposals its general support.
Until the League of Nations becomes a real factor in the defence of small nations, those nations will have to do the best they can for themselves. For these reasons New Zealand is faced with heavy responsibilities for her future.

SUBMARINES.

[Herbert Asquith in the Spectator.]
The first lay like a dragon's tongue tonight
flaming to westward with her smoke aloft
The first town beyond a village, a village beyond
Then one by one those ranging shafts of light,
With passing benediction fading home,
Have left each lake of calm on sea and land,
The ripple scarcely moves to stir the foam
Or lift a bubble from the quiet sand.

THE FIRST POSTULATE.

[Johannesburg Times.]
Before anything else at all is settled, we must decide whether South Africa is to go forward under the Act of Union, or whether it is to secede from the British Commonwealth and start out afresh as an independent republic, or, what would be far more likely in the event of such a decision, break up once again into separate and rival states. It is fatuous to vote upon the industrial question, or
the native problem, or national development,
any other thing, until you have first decided that
form of every other problem in South Africa.

WHITE MAN

[By George Agnew Chamberlain.]

CHAPTER XVI.

Andrea drew a long whimpering
sigh and nestled down against the warm fur. Her eyes gazed imperson-ally and a little wonderingly at Maungo's bowed head; then they wandered about the room. She had never been in it before; with the coming of the rain her own veranda had been
quickly transformed into a weather-proof dining-room. So this was where he had lived and worked during many months. It was a bachelor's room, arranged at once for comfort, utility and sloth. On one side was his cot, permanently inclosed in mosquito netting
and having at its head a lantern for reading in bed. Next to it, came a high draughtsman's desk roughly made of packing cases. On each end of it, sputtering candles, still lighted, rose
from mysterious pedestals, empty
bottles disguised under cascades of molten wax.

In the shadow of the high desk stood
the one utterly incongruous bit of furniture, a glistening mahogany phonograph. Andrea's eyes passed it and then went back to linger for an instant in vague wonder. Why had Maungo never brought it out? Never played it? It was not interesting enough to ask aloud. The floor was completely covered with grass mats
and on these were scattered many untanned skins, hair-side up. There were two of the wicker chairs, the couch and a much worn Bombay table-top, with its extension arms opened at the angle
at which the white man's tired legs had
last returned from his general circulation
the blood shaken down into them by much walking.

Built into the wainscoting of reeds
were many pegs upon which were hung
a small collapsible bookcase, articles
of clothing, a hat, a cane, a pair of slippers and a pair of shoes. Andrea looked at the high desk lay eye-
level, and then she turned to look at Maungo. He had been working at the sounding of the gong; before it, legs
in air, with never a hitch, words and
the story seemed to flow through
him as though he himself were far
away living in the tale.

Very gradually the hardened and
cheerful look in Andrea's eyes died
out. They grew wide again and dwelt dreamily on the man's slim figure. She saw many things about him she had never noted before. His hair was crisp and touched with premature grey at
the temples; his shoulders were broad and his hips very narrow. He had a good "boot leg," but his feet were small enough to preserve balance even there. In spite of his height, he was well-knit by grace of the life he had led.

"He is very strong," thought Andrea as she remembered how lightly he had swung her into his arms. Then she began to think of other things about him. He never was too tired to shave before the evening meal. He had shown an almost uncanny tact in forsaking and preventing the embarrassing
situations that one would have thought inevitable under the circumstances of their life together. He never forgot.
He had called her "my dear girl" once
and she had shown that she hated it.
It was enough.

"How old are you, White Man?" she asked.
"Thirty-four, normally," he answered
instantly, and went on with his absorbing reading almost without a break.
Andrea fell silent, even her thoughts stopped talking. Gradually the flowing voice possessed her, picked her up lightly, bore her away and away. She floated through a wonderful country,
between banks that were carpeted with
green and crowned with a thousand poppies, all nodding and swaying under
the featherweight of gnomes at play.
In other words, she slept as children
sleep when put to bed in the good old
way.

When she awoke, hours later, the ruption; his voice went on and on. He was a master reader. With never a hiccup, with never a hitch, words and

the story seemed to flow through
him as though he himself were far
away living in the tale.

Very gradually the hardened and
cheerful look in Andrea's eyes died
out. They grew wide again and dwelt

In other words, she slept as children
sleep when put to bed in the good old

When she awoke, hours later, the

strident protest and incidentally startled
one young lady.

"There you are, you little devil," he growled and strode from the room with the satisfied air of a dog who has just carried home eight pounds of prime roast intact.

Andrea watched him go, then she
arose, took the cord from her bathrobe
and advanced upon the door to the covered way. She closed it, let down the bar and with the cord bound it in place.
She sat, and after a hard knot, and as she drew each one of them tight she said, "Just to give you time to think twice, Andrea Feller."

CHAPTER XVII.
Scarcely had she finished when a sudden clangor seized her. She knew that she ought to bathe and dress quickly
for Maungo would be keen for his breakfast after his "white" night. Why did all latins cry in a sleepless night
"white" anyway? Her brows puckered
over that problem and it seemed as though she must puzzle it out before she did anything else. She crept into her cot to attend to it. A cold wave
swept over her body and left it frozen;
a pain stabbed into her side.

The pain was like a knife, red-hot.
It terrified her. In an instant her tongue was parched, her eyes were burning. So suddenly had sickness come upon her that even in the face of its clamorous presence, her mind declared it incredible. Surely it would pass swiftly. She clenched her teeth and waited. There was a look in her face as though she
had died.

The pain ceased. When it came back again it was no longer a knife
but the raving fangs of a wolf tearing
their way toward the vitals of her body.
She tried to clench her teeth, to keep silent until the spasm passed, but she could not hold out. "White Man!" she moaned and then, realizing that she must make him hear, she screamed. She gathered all her strength and screamed.

The Hacking Cough STRAINS THE LUNGS

The terrible, hacking lung-racking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of
it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough
or cold at its inception by using Dr.
Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy
that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E.
I, writes: "Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for some time. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night, and did not think I could ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me, and
was surprised to see how bad my cough
was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief,
my cough was all gone, I doubt there
is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A school room Lesson too seldom learned

SCHOOL days are rough days for school furniture; there is hardly any varnished article that has to stand what dew and chairs in the school go through.

Their salvation is surface protection.
Ordinary wear and tear leave their surfaces unharmed. It is a hard test but varnish is equal to it!

Interest to you lies in what it teaches.
It teaches that in your own home you can have the same protection.

You know better than anyone else
what the good floors and good furniture
in your home have to stand. You know,
but do you think much about it? Do you accept it as a necessary evil or do

you realize that by keeping every surface
intact under a tough, enduring protective coating you will save your property—save replacing furniture—save repairing, indoors and out?

The surface is the danger point. The surface is the point attacked. Whether property be wood, metal, stucco or concrete the surface is the place where deterioration tries to get a foothold. It has no chance if there is always a protective coating in the way.

Look at all your property from this extremely important angle. Save the surface and you save all.

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is issued by the Canadian Save the Surface Campaign Committee, for the purpose of educating the public in the Preservative and Protective use of Paint, Varnish and Allied Products for the Conservation of Property, and has received the approval of the Canadian Trade Commission in the following words:
"The realization of the above objects will lead to employment during the Reconstruction Period and bears our entire approval."

Milk is the food of children and old people. Combined with cereals it makes the ideal ration—but if your stomach does not take kindly to milk pour a little hot water over two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, put a small chunk of butter on each Biscuit, allowing it to melt into the shreds. If you like the biscuit "dry" split it into two halves and crisp them in the oven and eat them with butter—a real whole wheat toast, wholesome and nourishing.

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unarmored tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Ries's Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-drainage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Mrs. Thomas Downey announces the engagement of her eldest daughter, Eleanor May, to Mr. Raymond Woollett. The marriage is to take place at the end of the month.

On Friday evening the branch managers of the McCarty Manufacturing Company, who have been spending the past week at the company's head office here, attended the initial performance of "Liberty Hall," as the guests of Col. and Mrs. Gartschke. Incidentally, they were so pleased with the performance, and so interested in the project for which this play was given, that they made up a donation of $100 to the hospital, which was placed in the hands of their host for this purpose.

A very successful social time was held in the kindergarten of the Simcoe school by the Mothers' Club, Mrs. John Curmeo, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Campbell. This was a unique affair in the form of an autograph party in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital. The teachers of the school and the fathers were the invited guests and turned out in goodly numbers. A splendid program included the following numbers: Mrs. John Curmeo, solo; Miss Edna Brownlee; a short address by W. W. Wallis, principal of the school; readings by Miss Agnes Richmond; duet by the Misses Edna Perry and Leah Davis. An original guessing contest was given, the prize going to Miss Zella Fawkes. A buffet luncheon was served, after which compliments on the efficient work of the Mothers' Club were paid by the teachers.

On Thursday evening a most successful social time was spent at the home of Mrs. A. T. Edwards, president of the Talbot Street Baptist Ladies' Aid Society, when 48 were present, although the weather was most unfavorable. Miss Beryl Walworth, accompanied by Mrs. Murray Sangster, sang several numbers very nicely, and Mrs. T. S. Roy delighted all present with readings. Mrs. C. J. Leach, on behalf of the society, presented Mrs. Edwards with a bouquet of flowers, a handsome bag and a writing portfolio, all of which Mrs. Edwards was very pleased to receive. She also presented the society with a bouquet of flowers, a handsome bag and a writing portfolio, all of which Mrs. Edwards was very pleased to receive. A pretty wedding was solemnized at Lestown, on Wednesday last, when Ethel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson, was united in marriage to Mr. Sidney Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Nichol. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Nichol, and Mrs. Emery will reside in Park Hill.

FACING PROBLEM

Housing Accommodation and Increasing Rents Make Situation Acute.

Montreal, April 16.—The problem of finding living accommodation within their means for the vast army of business girls of Montreal, who are without homes in the city, is becoming every day more acute, owing to the scarcity of houses, the increase in rent coming into force with the first of next month, and the constant upward trend in the cost of food, and other living necessities. The problem is more acute for the girls of the Protestant faith, as the Y. W. C. A. is at present the only agency which is attempting to deal with it on their behalf, and the secretary in charge of that work, in discussing it yesterday, said that in spite of greatly increased housing accommodation in 1919, and the addition of 200 supervised boarding houses to the former list of 150, there were still girls being turned away daily for whom it was impossible to provide permanent accommodation. In all, 1,100 girls were provided with permanent homes by the association last year, only 200 of whom could be housed in the central buildings.

The difficulty of making the salary paid to the majority of these workers cover living expenses was explained, as the average wage of the girl clerk in the stores and offices ranges from $50 to $60 per month, while the cost of a suitable room cannot be obtained under $15 or $20 a month, food is reckoned at $1 per day, as the least possible expenditure, so that the margin is very narrow in most cases. The association finds it possible to supply a room and two meals per day for girls varying from $20 to $24 per month, the residents of the central homes having the advantage of the lounge, room, gymnasium and libraries. The association also has limited accommodation for the more highly-paid women, whose case is scarcely any better, although they may have a little more

CANUCK AND CZECHOSLOVAK TEAMS ARE HOCKEY FAVORITES

Six Nations Compete in the Hockey Games Opening Next Friday.

Wet Diamond Keeps Local Squad Indoors in Gym

Manager Wetzel's Crew Expect To Get Out Today If Weather Keep Fine—Boys Visit Columbus, the Capital, Over Week-End.

(BY G. H. TOWNSEND.)
DELAWARE, O., April 18.—Because the wet grounds the Canadians could not get out on the diamond today. The players and catchers had a short, light workout in the cages of the Edwards in this morning, while the remainder of the squad prattled in the gym playing volleyball, hand ball and other indoor sports. The day was clear and bright, allowing the grounds on the Ontario to dry considerably, and it is hoped that Monday the diamond will be ready for practice. Thus far the Londoners have not had a practice. Wetzel has an intensive training course planned for the Canadian artists as soon as he can take them out of doors.

Independent Ball Club To Be Formed at Meeting Tonight

Jo Keenan Will Manage Proposed Team Known As Hyman's—Good Games in Prospect.

A meeting will be held this evening at Hyman's for the purpose of organizing an independent baseball team. The team will be managed by Jo Keenan and the best local talent will be picked for it. It is the intention of manager Keenan to play independent ball throughout Western Ontario, several towns and cities in this part of the province boast of good baseball teams and games will be arranged with ease. It is also probable that several games will be played at Port Stanley with teams from Cleveland and other American points across the lake. The baseball diamond at Port will be put into good shape and the big crowds at the stadium this summer will get a chance to witness some fast baseball. The local teams will be known as Hyman's and will appear in uniforms similar to those worn by the Hyman's in the old W. O. B. League.

"PALS" SYSTEM OF RECRUITING HELPS SPORT PROMOTION

The decision to follow the "Pals" system of recruiting in the Western Ontario Regiment, first battalion, as the reorganized Seventh Fusiliers will be known, will be of great assistance to a number of the smaller athletic organizations in the city. As any number of young men will be allowed to join any company of their own selection, it means that any baseball or other club can secure the financial backing by the members joining any of the companies of the regiment. The regimental association, as well as the various companies, are going in for athletics to the full extent, and as the militia has the money needed, all that is necessary for the athletes to do is join the regiment and the financial backing is assured.

The indoor baseball season next fall and winter will be a success largely guaranteed by the number of players from the recently completed City League who are joining up. It is also practically certain that the regiment will enter a team in the O. R. F. U. next fall.

TURKISH TREATY IS FIRST PROBLEM ON LIST AT SAN REMO

Supreme Council Meets Today
—United States Absent.

SAN REMO, April 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Questions in connection with the peace treaty with Turkey will comprise the first business to be taken up by the supreme council of the Allies at its first formal session here tomorrow. This was decided upon at a conference today in the Duvauchan Palace, where the sessions are to be held, attended by Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, Nitti of Italy and Millerand of France, for the arrangement of the official procedure. With the premiers were Foreign Minister Scelafos of Italy, Earl Curzon, the British foreign secretary, and General Berthelot, the French chief of staff.

It was agreed that daily communiques should be issued, as upon the occasion of previous sessions of the council.

United States Absent.

It developed definitely today that the United States would not be represented at the conference. For the present the premiers, foreign ministers and ambassadors of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium and Greece at the meeting are occupied with problems particularly affecting themselves, and there is no disposition to dwell unduly upon the lack of American participation.

The first meeting of the conference will be opened at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Sessions will be held mornings and afternoons, with the possibility that evening sittings may even be arranged for.

Entirely Approved.

On his way to San Remo, Premier Millerand made a statement to the correspondents, in which he said that he entirely approved of the declaration of Mr. Lloyd George at Marseilles, where the British premier spoke of the necessity for the Allies remaining united.

"Unity and co-operation between France and England," said M. Millerand, "are necessary to reap the fruits of the victory we have won together. I am sure that after the viewpoints of the two Governments are clearly made known, we will find ourselves equally devoted to the maintenance of the Entente Cordiale, which prevails to the victory united us so efficaciously."

ONTARIO RESIDENTS MAY CARRY LIQUOR HOME FROM MONTREAL

Osgoode Hall Quashes Conviction of Windsor Man Fined Recently.

WINDSOR, April 18.—Deciding that a resident in Ontario is perfectly within the law in acting as his own carrier in bringing liquor home from Montreal, Osgoode Hall has quashed an order by the local magistrate in the case of John Kozak, Windsor housewife, who was recently fined $500 and costs, and his liquor confiscated. Kozak had been in Montreal to bid farewell to some relative who were leaving for Europe, and on his return carried home with him ten gallons of whiskey in suitcases. He was apprehended on arrival here, and later convicted.

PATROL DETROIT RIVER.
Inspector Hunter of the Dominion department of marine service has been in this district for the past few days, arranging for a patrol of the Detroit River to curb the activities of rum runners who have been operating on a wide scale here for months past. Launches are to be placed in service with revenue officers by the Government in response to the recent appeal signed by mayors and police officials of the various municipalities.

USE OF ARMORIES GRANTED.
Notification was received Saturday through Lieut.-Col. Robinson by the Windsor Trades and Labor Council of permission from the Government to use the armories here for the annual convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, which will assemble here for a big conference on September 23. Over 2,000 delegates from all parts of the Dominion are expected to be present, and others from the United States and representatives from overseas organizations will also be in attendance. Premier Borden is slated to address the convention, in addition to a number of other notables. Accommodation of the visitors is the most perplexing question now confronting the committee in charge of arrangements, who today declared they had practically worked out a novel plan, details of which are being kept private until its success is assured.

ARRESTED AS DRUNK, COLORED MAN DIES AFTER LIBERATION

Had Just Left Revival Meeting
When Picked by Police.

WINDSOR, April 18.—An adjournment was declared Saturday night by the coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Gordon Wall, colored, who died in Windsor police station on Friday after having been arrested on a charge of drunkenness. The inquest will convene again next Thursday night. Friends of the deceased claim he was the victim of a paralytic stroke, headed by Rev. Wells of the First Baptist Church, are planning to take action through the courts to obtain redress from the authorities.

Wall was seized on his return from a revival meeting in the B. M. E. Church, and taken to the lock-up, where he remained until 4 o'clock in the morning when a member of the force recognized him and notified his relatives. He expired at his home within an hour later.

WINTER CROPS OF WORLD PROGRESSING

ROME, April 17.—A bulletin of the International Agricultural Institute made public here announces that winter crops are making good progress in Austria, Belgium, Denmark and the United Kingdom. Parts of Italy and Algeria suffered by drought, otherwise the condition of the crops is satisfactory.

Winter wheat reports comprise about one-half the usual extent sown in the northern hemisphere, showing a decrease in the cultivated area of 7 per cent compared with last year. Spring sowing was carried out favorably in Morocco and is well advanced in Austria, Belgium, France and Ireland, and favorably commenced in Denmark, Scotland and Italy.

ESTATE PROBATED AT $164,619.

LLOYD GEORGE MURDERER, SAYS JURY'S VERDICT

Charge of Wilfully Slaying
Mayor MacCurtain of Cork.

INCLUDES LORD FRENCH

Lord Lieutenant and Ian Mac-Pherson Also Charged With Killing.

CORK, Ireland, April 17.—Charges of wilful murder against Premier Lloyd George were brought in in the verdict of the jury in the inquest into the death of Mayor MacCurtain of this city, assassinated last month, which was rendered today.

The verdict also charges Viscount French, lord lieutenant of Ireland; Ian MacPherson, former chief secretary, and several police inspectors with murder.

The text of the verdict reads:

"We find that the late Alderman Thomas MacCurtain, lord mayor of Cork, died from shock and hemorrhage caused by bullet wounds; that he was wilfully murdered under circumstances of the most heinous brutality; that the murder was organized and carried out by the Royal Irish Constabulary, BT by the Royal Irish Constabulary, officially directed by the British Government, and we return a verdict of wilful murder against David Lloyd George, prime minister of England; Lord French, lord lieutenant of Ireland; Ian MacPherson, late secretary for Ireland; Acting General Smith of the Royal Irish Constabulary; Divisional Inspector Clayton of the Royal Irish Constabulary; District Inspector Swanney and some unknown members of the Royal Irish Constabulary.

Caused No Surprise.
That part of the verdict laying the crime to the hands of the police caused no surprise here, but few thought the jury would go so far as to charge the premier, Viscount French and Mr. MacPherson with the murder, even though the charge is likely to mean little more than an expression of sentiment against these officials. It is different, however, with the police officers, who, in the usual course would be expected to be placed under arrest immediately.

The verdict charging constabulary with the murder was a foregone conclusion. It is known that some of the Sinn Féin leaders believed two weeks ago that the verdict would simply charge the police as a body without mentioning names. This doubtless influenced Viscount French and Sir John Taylor, under-secretary for Ireland, to ignore summary proceedings as a business. Elaborate military precautions and the counsel of court heads among the Sinn Féin leaders, it is believed, will forestall serious trouble here.

FRENCH REFUSED REPLY.
CORK, Ireland, April 18.—When the inquest resumed Saturday Coroner McCabe announced that he had just issued summonses against the lord lieutenant, Viscount French, and the under-secretary for Ireland, Secretary John Taylor, but had had no reply. He understood the then sent a letter to him which, on its arrival, he would read.

Crown Solicitor Wolfe, addressing the jury, dealt with the tragedies preceding the lord mayor's death. He said the story had unfolded forth into the open suggestion that those interested in preserving the peace in the city were responsible for Alderman MacCurtain's death.

It would be a wanton scandal, he declared, if that charge were persevered in to the end. The maintenance of friendly relations between the police and the public was a matter that concerned everyone. The police were their own kith and kin, and instead of acts of murder and brutality to drive them from that friendship, it was to the interest of every Irishman, no matter what politics, to preserve and enhance those friendly relations.

Groups of Men.
Alluding to the groups of men seen on the night of the murder, he said that if the suggestion was to be made, and if they were dealing with forty or fifty policemen, then this was a charge of murder against every policeman in Cork. It would be tantamount to have forty policemen out that night without the consent and connivance of every policeman in Cork.

Attorney Lynch, for the next of kin of the deceased, also addressed the jury and told them he was sure they would try the case upon the evidence alone. He made that observation, he said, as he would not be doing his duty to the memory of the dead if he did not call attention to the action of a person or persons in what had been described as an authoritative quarter.

In circulation through the press a cause of the tragedy which was utterly unfounded and without vestige of truth, the justice of which the person or persons might be in the authoritative quarter who were responsible and actually submitted their evidence to public examination. It was attributed to a representative of the king. He, the attorney added, forced his high position and entered into the arena of the public controversy about this case which was sub-judice. If that allegation was well founded, Attorney Lynch maintained, the action of his excellency was without precedent or authority, as the present case would have to be decided by a jury on the evidence alone, regardless of an expression of opinion by any person, no matter how high and powerful his position might be.

Occupied Christian Country.
The case was unique, he added, as all the resources of the authorities had not been directed to detect the perpetrator of the crime. It was not the defence that it was not done by the constabulary. It was without precedent when a person in power occupied a Christian country with disciplined troops and forces, that the lives and liberty of the civilian population should be imperilled by that occupation. The eyes of the civilized world were upon the trial and its result.

The people of Ireland, the attorney said, must wait patiently the divine will to determine when the reign of terror which at present prevails in the land will come to an end.

"We will patiently suffer," he continued, "confident that right and justice will ultimately relieve the burden of oppression under which we are at present."

The jury retired and on its return the coroner read a letter from the chief crown solicitor, stating that the lord lieutenant and the assistant under-secretary would not attend the inquest.

The jury's verdict was received with applause.

MACEDONIAN FOUND BURIED IN CELLAR OF BOARDING-HOUSE

Mystery Surrounds Murder of Toronto Resident.

TORONTO, April 18.—Ramasha Hassan, a Macedonian, 35 years of age, had been missing from his boarding house at 159 Wolsey street since early in March. His dead body was found in a shallow grave in the cellar there on Saturday evening. His throat was cut from ear to ear and there was a wound on the left side of his head.

The discovery of the body was made by Albert Adasia, a friend of Hassan, who had engaged two laborers to dig up the cellar in the belief that the mysterious disappearance of Hassan would thus be solved. Adasia had told Inspector Crowe of the police department of his intention to search beneath the cellar for his friend.

The murdered man had a wife and family in Macedonia. A number of fellow-countrymen live in the house where he made his home. One of them was reported missing Saturday night. Other inmates denied having any knowledge of the murder.

Two Victory bonds, $100 each, and Hassan's bank book are said to be missing. Hassan had money in the bank.

WALLACEBURG SETS PACE FOR DOMINION "OVERALLS CLUB"

Men Pledge Themselves To Wear No Other Clothing.

CHATHAM, April 18.—Eighty-one members have enrolled in the newly-organized "Overall Club" in Wallaceburg to date, and there are prospects of many others joining within the next few days.

As a protest against the high cost of clothing, the young men pledge themselves not to wear anything other than that which is made of overall material. The club contends that it men in all parts of Canada did the same, that the cost of clothing would be reduced. The Wallaceburg "Overall Club" is perhaps the first of its kind in Canada.

PITILESS PUBLICITY FOR RENT PROFITEER

Mayor Winter of Windsor
Plans To Publish Names of Rent Gougers.

WINDSOR, April 18.—Mayor Winter is planning a program of pitiless publicity to curb the activities of rent profiteers, which, he declares, are daily growing more and more rampant. This method has been employed with considerable success in Detroit when Mayor Cullen of that city, as advocated by Governor Sleeper of Michigan. Mayor Winter plans to have published the names of the rent gougers, and suggests the reproduction of houses where exorbitant rents are being charged in the local papers.

GALT MAN INSTANTLY KILLED BY G. T. R. TRAIN

Edward Bedford, Aged 50, Was Taking a Short Cut Home.

GALT, April 18.—Taking a short cut home from his work at the Perfect Machinery Company on Saturday at noon, Edward Bedford, of Cambridge street, was struck by a southbound G. T. R. passenger train while walking across the tracks and instantly killed. He was a laborer and had lived here a number of years. He was about 50 years of age and the fatality is believed to have been due to the fact that he was deaf, as his fellow-workmen heard the whistle. When they reached Bedford he was dead, his body having been badly mutilated.

A sad feature of Mr. Bedford's death was the fact that he received news on Saturday morning of the arrival at St. John from England of a daughter.

An inquest was opened by Coroner Galt on Saturday afternoon and adjourned till Tuesday.

DE VALERA WELCOMED AT NEW ORLEANS IN SPITE OF OBJECTIONS

New Orleans, April 17.—Despite the protest of Major Braithwaite Wallis, British consul general, Tamon de Valera, provisional president of the Irish republic, was welcomed here last night as a distinguished visitor, and received the freedom of the city. Major Wallis filed a formal protest in the name of the British Government, with Acting Mayor Ricks against the plans for the entertainment of the visitor.

At a reception in his honor of Loyola University the decree of doctor of laws was conferred upon De Valera.

NO POISON GAS FOR GRASSHOPPER PEST

OTTAWA, April 17.—(By the Canadian Press.)—There is no probability of poison gas being used to stop the grasshopper plague throughout the prairie provinces. It is announced by the department of agriculture. Returned men in the service of the department and well acquainted with the use of the gas believe it would destroy vegetation, also that its use would be too risky owing to changeable wind conditions.

MRS. R. T. BUTTS of Kansas City, who says her life was miserable for two years before she began taking Tanlac. She now declares she is enjoying the best of health and that she has gained twenty pounds.

"If it had not been for Tanlac I would still be a sick woman, so I feel like I ought to tell everyone what this wonderful medicine has done for me." was the sincere statement made recently by Mrs. R. T. Butts, 1924 Troost avenue, Kansas City, Mo.

"By the help of Tanlac I have gotten rid of a severe case of nervous indigestion that had made my life miserable for the past two years. I could not eat anything without suffering afterward. The gas on my stomach would rise up into my chest and press on my heart and at times would almost cut off my breath. My nerves were so upset that the least unexpected noise would almost distract me. I seldom slept well and was so nervous I would often roll and toss until after midnight, and what little sleep I did get seemed to do me no good. I was also a great sufferer from headaches and would often get so dizzy I would have to hold on to something to keep from falling.

"One day I happened to see a testimonial for Tanlac, describing a case like mine, so I bought a bottle and before I finished it I began to feel just like a different person. Those terrible headaches disappeared and my appetite returned. When my first bottle was gone I got another and I kept on improving until now I can eat just anything I want and I never suffer any more from indigestion. I am not the least bit nervous and rest well at night and never know what it is to have a headache or a dizzy spell.

"Tanlac has not only relieved me of my suffering, but I have actually gained 20 pounds in weight and have not enjoyed such good health for years. Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine and I will always feel grateful for what it has done for me. I want to recommend this medicine to all my friends because I believe it will benefit anyone who is suffering as I did."

"Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town."

TRAFFIC ON FERRIES BEATS ALL RECORDS SATURDAY-SUNDAY

Detroiters Flock To Windsor
in Search For Liquid Refreshments.

WINDSOR, April 18.—All records for trans-traffic on the ferries of the Detroit and Windsor Ferry Company were broken Saturday, when approximately 20,000 people were carried, according to estimates given out today by Walter G. Campbell, president of the company. The rush was continued Sunday and the streets of Windsor were crowded with Detroiters in the downtown business section.

"Possibly 10 per cent of the traffic during the week has been the result of the railroad strike," Mr. Campbell said. "Foodstuffs and print paper were transported across the river in large quantities during the week, and there has been considerable additional traffic through railroad companies taking passengers across in buses to make Canadian connections."

Detroiters in search of Canada's beer and stronger refreshments were responsible for the heavy traffic over the week-end, according to a statement issued by the Windsor Police.

HELD FOR INVESTIGATION.
With 65 gallons of whiskey concealed in a roadster automobile, Steve Cettinski, Detroit, was taken in charge by customs authorities when he reached the American shore on the ferry. Both car and contents were confiscated by the officials, and the owner is now being held for investigation by the federal courts.

CHARGED WITH SELLING.
Ford City police raiding the cellar of Morris Witta, discovered 80 cases of whiskey and 40 "empties" held on a charge of selling liquor.

PAY POLICE EXPENSES.
Fines already collected for infractions of liquor laws are sufficient to pay the expenses of running the department for the balance of the year and to purchase a motor car in addition, according to Assistant Chief of Police George Pilon, Police headquarters in the county town is glutted with whiskey as a result of the week-end.

FINED $1,000.
One hundred cases of G. & W. were taken off a motor truck on the Huron line, the property of D. Huette of Detroit, who was fined $1,000.

CONFEISCATE AUTO.
Some European countries will be compelled to import much larger quantities of whiskey than in pre-war times, provided they are able to arrange satisfactory factory credits, the report said. Collecting reports in London from Russia, place wheat available for export at $3,000,000 to 14,000,000 bushels, but railroad equipment is not sufficient to move any large quantity. England and other European countries will have to depend on the United States and the United States will have to depend on other wheat exporting nations.

The British Government has announced the maximum price for wheat to be the average price of imported wheat of similar quality, provided the price as paid to the grower shall not exceed $2.50 a bushel. United States imports the commission on wheat ranging from $3.00 to $4.11, or an average of $3.46 a bushel.

BISHOP OF NIAGARA
CONSECRATES CHURCH
OF ST. JAMES, GUELPH

Mortgage Paid Off and Church
Now Free of Debt.

GUELPH, April 18.—St. James' Anglican Church was consecrated at the morning service today the 30th anniversary of the foundation of the parish by the Bishop of Niagara.

The mortgage was paid off a few days ago, and the church is now free from debt. The morning and evening services were preached by the Archbishop of Algoma and other members of the clergy took part in the ceremony. The present rector of the parish is Archdeacon A. C. MacKintosh. There have been five rectors, the late Rev. A. J. Hill, Rev. E. A. Nesby, Toronto; Rev. C. P. Sparling, London; Rev. G. H. Buckland and Rev. Archdeacon MacKintosh. The bishop conducted confirmation services at St. Patrick's Mission this afternoon, and at St. George's church this evening.

UNVEIL MEMORIAL TABLE.
An impressive ceremony took place in St. George's Church Saturday afternoon when a handsome memorial table was unveiled to the memory of the late Capt. R. B. McCook, son of Mrs. B. R. McCook of this city. The rector, Rev. G. P. Scoville, conducted the service, which was attended only by the immediate members of the family. Capt. McCook died of wounds on May 30, 1918. He was a graduate architect from McGill University.

DISPUTE NOT SETTLED.
Another meeting of the carpenters' and joiners' union was held last night to discuss the wage scale situation and consider the offer of the bosses, but no decision was reached. The bosses offered the men a scale of 75 cents an hour, from May 1 to August 1, and 85 cents an hour from August 1 to May 1, 1921, either side to give the other 30 days' notice if they desire to make any change.

RURAL MAIL-CARRIERS THROW UP CONTRACTS

Opposition To Expenditure On Rural Road Grows In Brantford.

BRANTFORD, April 18.—Five local rural mail carriers have resigned and have thrown up their contracts, following the statement of Hon. N. W. Rowell that they were at liberty to do so. Whether the resignations will be accepted or not is not known. The five carriers resigned on Saturday.

SEARCHING FOR SPEED.
The Brantford police are looking for a motorist who sped by a standing street car on Saturday afternoon, May morning and in doing so struck Frank Patterson, knocking him twenty feet from the curb. Patterson fortunately escaped with a severe shaking up. The motorist kept on his way, apparently bound for Paris. Chief Slemin is asking the police commission to purchase a motorcycle which will regulate motor traffic in this city, and to prevent outrages such as was reported on Saturday.

OPPOSE EXPENDITURE.
Opposition is developing in the city council, a special meeting having been called for Monday to approve of $12,000 expenditure to make the new pavement between here and Cambridge a 30-foot affair instead of a 20-foot highway. Several of the aldermen are opposed to the expenditure on the ground that street paving in the city has been called off during the year for financial reasons, and no new roads should be given preference over the city streets. Ald. J. Kelly is heading the opposition.

FRENCH WITHDRAW HALF OF TROOPS IN OCCUPIED TERRITORY

Colored Soldiers Among Those Pulled Out.

Frankfort, April 18.—By the Associated Press.—The French announced this morning that the withdrawal of the 37th Division to Wiesbaden had been completed with the exception of staff officers who are leaving this afternoon. So quietly was the withdrawal carried out that the people of Frankfort are still unaware that half the French occupational forces are gone.

The division included the Moroccan and Algerian troops, whose presence in Frankfort was greatly resented by the populace. No colored soldiers are here now.

General de Metz and his staff attended mass in the Frankfort Cathedral this morning.

GERMANS TO EVACUATE.

SEES WORLD-WIDE
SHORTAGE OF WHEAT AND BIGGER DEMAND

American Trade Commissioner Reports Indications.

Washington, D. C., April 18.—Indication of a world-wide shortage of wheat this year and world-wide increase in demand, was reported today by the American agricultural trade commissioner at London, who said bread was selling in England at what was generally considered the highest price the world market would tolerate without grave disorders. With Russia still in a chaotic state, there is little to be expected from that country in the way of wheat exports, and Europe naturally turns to Canada, Australia, India, and the United States, and Argentina.

Some European countries will be compelled to import much larger quantities of wheat than in pre-war times, provided they are able to arrange satisfactory factory credits, the report said. Collecting reports in London from Russia, place wheat available for export at $3,000,000 to 14,000,000 bushels, but railroad equipment is not sufficient to move any large quantity. England and other European countries will have to depend on the United States and the United States will have to depend on other wheat exporting nations.

The British Government has announced the maximum price for wheat to be the average price of imported wheat of similar quality, provided the price as paid to the grower shall not exceed $2.50 a bushel. United States imports the commission on wheat ranging from $3.00 to $4.11, or an average of $3.46 a bushel.

Federal Court Judge Refused To Grant Appeal of Milk
Distributors Against Ruling of Fair Price Commission That Milk Be Sold at 14 Cents

(Special To The Advertiser.)
DETROIT, April 18.—In federal court held here yesterday Judge Tuttle refused to grant an injunction holding up the sale of 14 cent milk.

Earlier in the week the federal fair price commission had ordered the price of milk to domestic consumers to be reduced from 16 to 14 cents a quart.

Later the distributors got together, and, after much legal advice had been taken, the United States federal court was asked to issue a restraining order against the enforcement of the 14-cent milk ruling.

It developed during the hearing that six of Detroit's largest creameries have been paying 8 cents a quart for milk and selling it for twice that amount. When Judge Tuttle got this information he abruptly terminated the whole proceedings by telling counsel for the creameries that he was "wasting his time" and that "no restraining order would be issued."

BRANTFORD'S CIVIC RAILWAY CONTINUES TO SHOW A SURPLUS

Present Sunday Service On Paris Line Considered Quite Sufficient.

BRANTFORD, April 18.—Brantford's municipal railway continues to show a surplus, although last year's is a small one.

The surplus, after all charges except depreciation were met, was $2,342. The city lines carried 239,202 more passengers than during the previous year, for an increased revenue of $26,338, while the Paris line carried 30,238 more passengers for an additional revenue of $7,961. Expenditures were largely increased during the year on account of a new scale of wages, amounting to $31,000.

The commissioners have been studying the question of raising the fares to 15 cents, but have arrived at no decision in the matter, although pointing out in their report that the fares in the United States have gone beyond the five-cent fare limit.

It was announced Saturday that Brantford would hardly take advantage of any legislation to run Sunday street cars. A partial service is already provided by the Paris cars, which run hourly from the north end of the city to the south end, and this, it is thought, meets all requirements.

PREDICTS DIFFICULT TRANSPORTATION FOR LIVE STOCK THIS YEAR

OTTAWA, April 18.—Difficulty in securing transportation for livestock from the United Kingdom to Canada during the coming summer is predicted by the department of agriculture. The extraordinary loadings and passenger and freight traffic places the steamship companies, it is pointed out, in the position of being unable to secure properly equipped vessels for livestock traffic. Few such vessels are actually available for unit the department of agriculture. The steamship companies have suggested that shippers assemble their ships at certain dates in order that available space may be utilized to the best advantage. The livestock branch of the government in Ottawa invites shippers and importers to communicate with the department stating their requirements and operating in solving the problem of restricted space.

TORONTO CARMEN
MAY ASK 75 CENTS

Toronto, April 18.—A mass meeting of the members of the Toronto Street Railway Employees' Union will be held on Saturday night, May 1, to discuss the terms of a new agreement which the employees will ask the Toronto Board to sign. The proposed agreement, which was for a year only, will expire on June 15. By it the men received a cent an hour, but now they want 75 cents an hour, and it is said this is the wage they will demand. A meeting of members of the union was held today when instructions were given the executive committee to call a mass meeting the first of May.

A two weeks' strike occurred last June over the wage scale asked by the men, and it is possible there may be another strike this June.

SHOE FIRM FEARS
PRICE WILL GO HIGHER

OTTAWA, April 17.—One of the largest firms of shoe jobbers in the district received a letter from a well-known Canadian firm of boot and shoe makers, stating that the price of shoes is bound to go considerably higher in a short time in this country. It says in the letter that the price of shoes is now $1.40 in the United States, plus 15 per cent duty and 10 per cent new shoe charge.

"Labor cutters are now getting 55 cents an hour. They are asking $1.10 an hour."

TUESDAY WILL PROBABLY TELL WHETHER ONTARIO IS TO ASK FOR REFERENDUM

TORONTO, April 18.—Tuesday will probably tell the story, is Ontario to ask a referendum on the importation of liquor? The McCreary motion will come up again then. Whether the members who have gone home over the week-end will change their views after consulting with their constituents remains to be seen. Meantime all the members left in Toronto are gathered in small groups discussing the question. Another question to be settled this week will be the leadership of the Opposition and the salary of $5,000 which the government has offered to give him to take. It can either do away with the salary altogether, name either Mr. Dewar or Mr. Ferguson as leader and give him the $5,000, or it can split the $5,000 two ways and recognize both.

The debate on the budget is to be continued. So far it has just got started.

A government caucus on Friday discussed the amendments proposed to the workmen's compensation act. Such amendments should have been decided by now. Labor legislation is rather slow in being brought down. The elections are now being delayed yet. It is to be fought by the Conservatives, and perhaps some of the Liberals especially the clause, which makes a fixed election date. The government expects to finish up about May 15, but it looks doubtful unless there is a lot more speed than there has been. The private bills committee hasn't got half way through with its work yet, and including the budget most of the government bills are still to be debated. The temperance legislation will occupy more than one day, especially with so many varied views to be presented.

BACHELORS TO PAY

PARIS, April 18.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday voted for an increase in the income tax of 25 per cent in the case of bachelors over 30 years, as well as divorced persons, if in each category there are no dependents. The income tax was increased 10 per cent in the case of persons who have been married two years, but are childless.

Taxpayers who are pensioners, with 40 per cent invalidity, are exempted.

DEAD ON WINDSOR STREET

WINDSOR, April 18.—An unidentified man dropped dead on Ouellette avenue, Saturday afternoon, while waiting for a street car. Papers in his pocket bore the name of John Frank, but gave no address. A receipt in payment of a bill at the Congress Hotel, Detroit, and $60 in currency were also found. The remains were viewed in Campbell's morgue by Coroner Labelle, and efforts were made to locate friends or relatives.

STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLE

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal state, you should take Milburn's Laxative Pills. They loosen up the liver, condition and tone up the stomach.

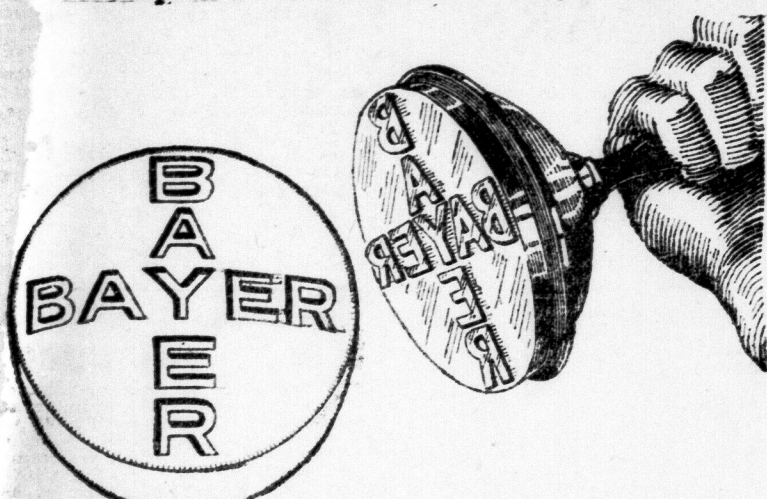

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxative Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results."

"They are also good for headache."

LONDON, April 17.—The Zionist organization says it is authoritatively informed from Palestine that the Arabs have demanded the suppression of the Zionist commission in Palestine within five days, the expulsion of its leaders and the disbandment of the Jewish battalion, threatening a massacre of Jews if the demands are not carried out.

The Zionist reports say the Palestine administration agreed to accede to the demands, but that Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, commander of the British forces in Palestine, vetoed this decision.

NEW YORK SURGEON KILLED BY FORMER CANADIAN SOLDIER

Dr. James Markoe Shot While in Church.

ASSAILANT ARRESTED

Prisoner Gives His Name As Thomas W. Shelly.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Dr. James Markoe, a well-known surgeon, was shot and killed today while taking up the offering at the morning service in the fashionable St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church, 15th street and Stuyvesant Place, in the old aristocratic district of New York.

His assailant was captured after a short chase by a group of parishioners, headed by William F. Morgan, president of the Merchants' Association of New York; George E. Brewer and J. Morgan Jones. At the East 22nd street police station the prisoner gave his name first as Thomas W. Shelly, and later as Thomas W. Simpkins. The police said he told them he had escaped Thursday from the Eastern State Hospital for the insane at Williamsburg, Virginia.

The man was born in London, England, and said he had spent some time in Canada before coming to the United States.

Dr. Markoe, a wealthy vestryman of the church, was a friend and personal physician to a Presbyterian minister, a parishioner there. He was 56 years old.

Crowded With Parishioners. The church was crowded with parishioners, many of them representatives of the wealthy families in New York, when the shooting took place. Dr. Markoe was walking down the left aisle taking up the collection, while the choir was singing an anthem. As he reached the front of the church, he was seized from behind by a man who reared and leaped over to pass the plate. Shelly, who was seated next to the aisle, was startled and turned to look at the assailant. The bullet struck him over the left eye, and he collapsed.

Several women screamed and rushed from their seats, some to the aid of the physician and others in pursuit of his assailant. Shelly, with the revolver in his hand, leaped over the body of the physician and started to run out of the church. The choir led by Charles Stanford continued singing in an effort to quiet the congregation. Shelly continued shooting. His second shot directed at members of the congregation who were pursuing him, went wild. John C. Tiedman, the sexton, dropped to the floor in time to escape the third bullet, which grazed the cheek of J. Morgan Jones. Shelly then ran from the church into the street, shouting "I am a doctor!" He was followed by a man who was shouting "I am a doctor!" and a woman who was shouting "I am a doctor!"

Meanly, Dr. Markoe had been carried out of the church to an ambulance. As he was being lifted into the car he regained consciousness long enough to say: "I will be all right, and then collapsed."

In the church at the time were George W. Wickerson, former United States attorney general; Herbert Satterlee, brother-in-law of J. Pierpont Morgan; and Mrs. Satterlee; R. Fulton Cutting, president of the bureau of municipal research; and many other prominent persons.

Shelly freely admitted that he had shot Dr. Markoe, according to the police. "There are a lot more who are going to get it, too," he is reported to have said when questioned by police detectives.

Search of a suit-case Shelly had checked at the Pennsylvania terminal revealed the police say several radical papers and pamphlets. He also had a card showing he had registered September 1, 1918, under the name of Thomas W. Simpkins, 203 Fourth street, South City, Wis. There were also several business cards reading: Thomas W. Simpkins, and in the lower corner, "Representing the Swift County Printing Company" and "Kerkhovan Banner."

A letter addressed to him and found in the suit-case had the address, "5118 Peabody street, Duluth, Minn." The police believe it was from his wife. Shelly told the detectives he had been given the letter by a man named "Miller," whose first name he could not remember.

"My memory is very bad," he said. "Are you an I. W. W.?" he was asked.

"No," he replied. "I am against the I. W. W. because they don't give credit to the brains of the country." Shelly said he was a doctor, but he was certain about that was that he had never seen Dr. Markoe before. He told the running story of his movements covering the seven years he has been in Canada and the United States.

He said that he had been at St. George's Church on a previous visit to New York on February 12, 1919. After arriving here this morning from Richmond, Va., he said he had breakfasted and went to the church.

Shelly later told the police he brought his wife and two children to Canada seven years ago. He enlisted in the Canadian army and was about to sail overseas, he said, when he learned his wife had become a mother. He asked for transfer to an organization stationed near his wife's home but was refused as being "too valuable a man."

"I figured," he explained, "that if I was too good a man for the outfit to lose, I was too good for my wife to lose. I jumped the outfit and entered the United States and later brought my wife and children over."

About two years ago, Shelly added, he escaped from the insane asylum at Piquette Falls, Minn., after three unsuccessful attempts. Six months later he went to the United States and there bought a revolver which he has carried ever since with which he did the shooting.

"They say there is a physical cause for every mental reaction," said Shelly. "I was tubercular and they cured me. Then I got cancer and I was operated on for that. So I guess these are the cause."

No One Spoke. The preacher, in his sermon at the church, Shelly continued, "told them to be good to strangers, but no one spoke to me at all. I resented it." Rev. Dr. Karl Reinhard, rector of St. George's, in part of his sermon, had urged the wealthy congregation to befriend strangers and show Christian courtesy.

In addition to the prominence achieved as physician to the family of J. Pierpont Morgan, Dr. Markoe was noted for his philanthropies to the poor of New York. The lying-in hospital, first established on the lower east side, was the result of his influence, and later he induced the elder Morgan to endow and erect a modern institution. The financier gave $1,000,000 to the charitable project. His son has maintained the hospital. Dr. Markoe was its attending surgeon and consultant head.

Dr. Markoe was physician to the side Mr. Morgan until his death, and continued to be the family physician. When J. P. Morgan Jun. was shot by Frank Holt, who later committed suicide, Dr. Markoe attended the financier, and a few months afterward the surgeon performed an operation on Mr. Morgan for appendicitis.

A widow and a daughter, Mrs. Chas. Sargent, survive.

ADVISES ENGLAND TO GIVE IRISH FREEDOM CHOICE OF FUTURE

For First Time in History New Statesman, Non-Partisan English Journal, Says Final Decision Rests Not With England, But With Irish People.

FRENCH RESIGNS.

LONDON, April 18.—The Standard says it can be asserted on very high authority that Lord French has placed his resignation as lord lieutenant of Ireland in the hands of the Government.

The Sunday Times also says it is informed that Lord French has resigned, from the post of lord lieutenant of Ireland, which have been current for the last few days.

(Special Cable to The London Advertiser and New York Tribune, Copy right 1920.)

LONDON, Eng., April 18.—For the first time in history a reputable non-partisan English periodical today put before its readers the possibility of Ireland becoming a republic.

The New Statesman says in part: "The final decision as to whether Ireland is or is not to remain a part of the British Empire rests in fact, whether we like it or not, with the Irish people, and the sooner we discard the illusion that it rests with us, the more likely we will be to avert what most of us regard as a catastrophe."

"If Ireland's desire for republican independence is sufficiently deep and persistent then beyond all question she will get it. She needs only to continue the present tactics sufficiently long time and she will force a withdrawal of British war power over her."

Refuses To Face Facts. "So long as British statesmen refuse to face the facts and while continuing their policy of military coercion, insult and provocation the Irish people by such proposals as those embodied in the bill now in Parliament the only result will be an extension of the chaos and anarchy in Ireland, and an ever-increasing determination on the part of the Irish people to reject all half-measures and win by maintaining their insistence on an absolute separation and independence."

"We do not for a minute believe that the Irish people are insoluble within the British Empire of her own free will. The Irish people are a people who exist in Ireland in one sense terribly real, but in another purely imaginary. Experience who knows Ireland also knows that if Ireland were independent it would be hard to control. The Irish people are a people who would not be our indispensable friend and ally."

Tragedy of the present situation lies in the fact that Ireland might be transferred by an act of parliament to a free state, but the Irish people can win her, or whether by maintaining our present indefensible inane policy of coercion we should lose her."

"Ireland never will be a willing member of the British commonwealth, but she has a free choice in the matter of complete independence if she so wills. That ultimate choice must be entirely free. No alternative even that of a republic in alliance with the Empire, must be excluded. Only so can the 'Irish problem' be solved."

The risk we are convinced, would be far lighter than in the average British imperialistic dream, indeed, would be nothing for unless we offer now, in the long run Ireland will take."

Words like these coming from a responsible paper like the New Statesman show that events of last week in Ireland did not leave the Irish question where it was before. There is a new significance behind the article and the majority of the other periodicals are quite as firm in their imperative attitude towards Ireland as before.

TWO CONSTABLES WOUNDED IN CLARE

DUBLIN, April 18.—Sergeant Carroll and Constable Collins were seriously wounded today while returning from Mass at the Kilbilly Church in Kilmaley West (Clare). The men were shot from behind. Carroll's heart was pierced by a revolver bullet, and Constable Collins, who was with Carroll and Collins, was not wounded. The returned the fire of the assassins, killing Stephen Breen, the son of a farmer, and wounding two or three other persons.

FIVE-HOUR MELEE AT LONDONDERRY

BELFAST, April 18.—Sticks, stones and iron bars were freely used, and revolver shots occasionally were exchanged in a five-hour melee at Londonderry last evening. Three separate attacks on soldiers were made by civilians and factional fights occurred between Unionists and Sinn Féiners. These necessitated frequent charges by the police and military in which twelve persons were injured. Their wounds were treated at the local infirmary.

The police barracks at Rossville were considerably damaged by a mob. Two arrests were made in this connection.

SAY POLICEMAN SHOT DUNDALK MAN

BELFAST, April 18.—Thomas Mulholland, an employee of the Dundalk Urban Council, was shot on the street at Dundalk, 45 miles northwest of Dublin, Friday night, and died en route to the hospital.

In a statement made on the way to the hospital he said a policeman shot him. The police, while not admitting that they shot Mulholland, say that three policemen while patrolling were attacked by a mob of civilians; two policemen were knocked down, and the third fired three shots at their assailants.

Mulholland was interned after the rebellion of 1916. The shooting of Mulholland has created a considerable sensation, as it is the first of the kind that has been reported so near the Ulster border.

When the judges of the assizes left Belfast yesterday for Dublin they were for the first time on record accompanied all the way to the hospital by armed policemen.

"Keeping Up With the Joneses" is the title of a new Gus Hall offering which is to hold the boards at the Grand Theatre, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15, and Saturday matinee at 2:30. The play, which is a combination of music, fantasy, novelty, startling surprises and dancing, is founded on the popular cartoon of Pop Momand. It was Mr. Hill who first conceived the idea of transferring newspaper comics to the stage. The new offering is surrounded with a beauty chorus, and from all accounts is a most sensational hit. The cast is a large one, containing 30 capable people. The seat sale opens tomorrow.

ANITA STEWART'S THRILLING SPECTACLE "IN OLD KENTUCKY"

Anita Stewart's mammoth production "In Old Kentucky," the great screen spectacle, in which hundreds of actors, horses and numerous big scenes are presented, is now showing at the Allen Theatre, tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday.

Today comes the greatest screen star of the present time, Norma Talmadge, who has risen to the utmost rung of the film ladder of success through her sterling and wonderful character interpretations on the screen. She will be seen in her First National feature entitled "A Daughter of Two Worlds," and the story deals with the rise of an under-world divekeeper's daughter, portrayed by Miss Talmadge. The drama affords Miss Talmadge wonderful scope to display her artistic talents as a character actress.

Manager Lake has requested all who can possibly attend the matinees to do so, as the evening performances are
