NEW TURKEY AND THE picturesque old quarter near the ruins of the Constantinian city wall PATRIARCHATE

ONCE MIGHTY INSTITUTION IN GREAT DANGER

By Dr. Frederic Funder (Vienna Correspondent, N. C. W. C.)

The expulsion of the Greek Patri-The expulsion of the Greek Patriarch from Constantinople centers attention on the parlous condition of the once mighty Church of the East and at the same time reveals anew the determination of the Kemal Pasha government of Turkey to make all religions in that country subservient to the civil authority. With the expulsion of the Caliph, the Kemal Pasha regime the Caliph, the Kemal Pasha regime undertook the creation of a national Mohammedan church for Turkey subject to the wishes of the government. Now, unless the expulsion of the Patriarch is reversed through ment of Turkey.

It is taken for granted in well informed circles that the successor to Patriarch Gregorios will be Father Ephtim, an ardent supporter of Ephtim, an ardent supporter of Kemal Pasha. Father Ephtim in 1921 founded what he calls the Turkish Orthodox Church of Angora, thereby adding another schism to the long list within the church which owes its own origin to the Great Schism. It was this same Father Ephtim who, in October, 1923, at the head of heavily armed supporters, stormed the Patriarchal Palace in Constantinople and forced the resignation of the Patriarch Meletios Metaxakis II. At that time the Turkish Government exerted all its influence to induce the Holy Synod to choose Ephtim as the new Patriarch, but the Holy Synod refused and elected Gregorios of Kadikeny.

FLIMSY PRETEXT FOR THE EXPULSION

This election, in December 1923, was the signal for an outbreak of a persecution directed against the Patriarchate by the Turks. The expulsion of the Patriarch marks culmination of that persecution. In expelling the Patriarch, the Turks avail themselves of a flimsy pretext based on a provision of a treaty which permits the deporta-tion of all Greeks not domiciled in Constantinople prior to 1918 and registered with the police. And so, by one of the strange coincidences of history, the Greek Church is rent by another schism based on an act of violence almost identical with the procedure through which Photius brought about the separation from Rome in 867. Photius was raised to the Patriarchal throne by the Byzantine Emperor Michael III. after the rightful Patriarch Ignatius had been dislodged.

Up to the Eighteenth Century the Patriarch of Constantinople was regarded as the head of the Oriental Schism, as a sort of Anti-Pope of the East. In 1727 the Orthodox Church of Russia severed itself from the Patriarchate of Constant-Church of Greece declared its in-dependence which was recognized in 1850. Twenty years later the Bulgarian Church separated from Constantinople; in 1879 the Patri-arch recognized the independence of the Orthodox Church of Serbia, and in 1885 that of Rumania. Notwithstanding these separations, however, the Patriarchs of Constantinople were constantly ap-pealed to as the highest authority in matters of Orthodox Faith and they enjoyed all the prerogatives of highest ecclesiastical rank.

HIGH STATUS OF PATRIARCHS

The Patriarchs occupied a highly privileged status under the Turkish Empire. For example the schis-Empire. For example the schismatic Patriarchs of Antioch and of Alexander could not communicate directly with the Sublime Porte. but only through the Patriarch of Constantinople. This recognition of the Patriarchate by the Turks dates back to 1453 when Mahome II. captured Constantinople.

The Sultan then installed a new Patriarch and confirmed to him and his Church all the honors and privileges enjoyed by the Patriarchs under the Greek Emperors. The Sultan's words were "Thou shalt enjoy the same rights and privileges as did thy predecessors." Ever since that time, these words engraved in gold have shown above the jewelled throne of the Patriarchs surmounted by the Turkish and of arms. They have come to coat of arms. They have come to be looked upon as a sort of charter to which the Christians had recourse their dealings with Islamic rulers.

Those Christians who survived the massacre when the Turks cap-tured Constantinople settled in the quarter known as Phanar where the Patriarchs had their seat in the huge monastery of Pammakariste. When this structure was taken over as a Mosque in 1590, the Patriarchs moved to the old convent remained the Patriarchal Church up to the present day. Here in the -mute reminder of a glorious past -the Patriarchate of Phanar developed until it became practically a constituent part of the Ottoman Empire. It developed also all the splendor of Turkish display of power together with the open and hidden faults and vices of Turkish rule. The old aristocratic families after the Turkish conquest, clung to the Patriarchate. From their ranks many belliant discount of the Patriarchate. ranks many brilliant diplomats and statesmen came into power and prominence in Turkish affairs. The Patriarchs maintained a kind of Ambassador, known as the "Logothete" at the Court of the Sultans, whose duty it was to attend to all spiritual and secular business of the Patriarch in dealings with the civil authorities. On solemn church festivals when there was great the court of the sultans, which one of the Fathers are civil authorities. On solemn church festivals when there was great the court of the sultans are considered as the sultans are considered as the court of the sultans are collected as the court of the sultans. This occasion will be the first of the sultans are considered as the court of the Sultans. of the Patriarch is reversed through outside pressure. Kemal is in a fair way to set up still another branch of the Schismatic Greek Church which—with strange irony—will be a creature of the atheistic Government of Turkey.

Civil authorities. On solemn church and those who claim descent from Irish forbears. It will mark and magnificent jewels, the troops of the Sultans took part, thereby expressing the privileged position of the Patriarchate in the Turkish mon and their Canadian descendants, of different religious faiths, in a common and national effort to do honor from the country—men and those who claim descent display of gorgeous golden robes and magnificent jewels, the troops of the Sultans took part, thereby expressing the privileged position of the Patriarchate in the Turkish country—men and those who claim descent display of gorgeous golden robes and magnificent jewels, the troops of the Sultans took part, thereby expressing the privileged position of the Patriarchate in the Turkish country—men and those who claim descent display of gorgeous golden robes and magnificent jewels, the troops of the Sultans took part, thereby expressing the privileged position of the Patriarchate in the Turkish country—men and those who claim descent display of gorgeous golden robes and magnificent jewels, the troops of the Sultans took part, thereby expressing the privileged position of the Patriarchate in the Turkish country—men and those who claim descent display of gorgeous golden robes and magnificent jewels, the troops of the Sultans took part, thereby expressing the privileged position of the Patriarchate in the Turkish country—men and those who claim descent display to the sultans took part and the proposition of the Sultans took part and the proposition of the Sultans took part and the proposition an

Many of the old Greek families were immensely wealthy—most of their wealth dating back to the times before the Turkish conquest. In consequence, the Court of Patriarchs of Phanar was a scene of the times before the Turkish conquest. In consequence, the Court of Patriarchs of Phanar was a scene of the times o great splendor but it was often overcast and undermined by cor- which has extended from one end ruption and intrigue.

THE HOLY SYNOD

Side by side with the Patriarchate there developed the Holy Synod composed of twelve Orthodox Bishops. This body was the supreme authority of the Orthodox Chyrch in This provides that we are the supreme authority of the Orthodox deficient. Supreme authority of the Orothodox Church in Turkey and was also a civil council which dealt with secular affairs of the Church. The Patriarchs were elected by the Synod but the confirmation of the Sultan was required. In times gone by it was no rare thing for the Sultan to sell the Patriarchate itself as well as other Orthodox ecclesiastical dignities to the high est bidder. In 1857, however, the Patriarchate succeeded in doing told that the idea of Canadian unity away with many of the grave abuses which had grown up in connection with patriarchal elec-

FILIPINO PRIEST'S SOLUTION

Assistance from individual dio-eses of the United States is the solution of the critical shortage of priests faced by the Philippine Islands today, in the opinion of Father Pedro E. Monleon, young This admirable qualities, we Filipino priest of the Diocese of should not forget the architects and Lipa, P. J. Father Monleon a the workmen whose efforts alone student at the Apostolic Mission House here, will receive his degree as the Doctor of Canon Law this spring. He has had a notable career as a priest, for his years, and is now preparing himself, at the behest of his Bishop, for an important special task in his Father Monleon's view was expressed in commenting on recent reports in this country of the crying need for priests in the Islands. He himself comes from a diocese to the Protestant Irishmen of Quebec City in 1862 will suffice to exercised great influence in Church where 105 priests are structly and better part—will gary and the division of old ones. So, while it is true that St. Stephen and his successors indisputably exercised great influence in Church of the protestant Irishmen of Quebec City in 1862 will suffice to in 1883 the Orthodox | He himself comes from a diocese where 105 priests are struggling heroically to care for the spiritual needs of 800,000 Catholics, and at the same time perform diocesan administrative tasks and maintain schools and other institutions. In some instances, he says, one priest has from 25,000 to 30,000 in his parish. Elsewhere in the Islands conditions are as bad or worse, and there are eight dioceses and one prefecture besides Lipa.

This condition, Father Monleon thinks, should command the attention and resources of Catholics of the United States more than do the needs in foreign fields, because of the position of the Islands as possessions of this country.

FRENCH WAR HERO APOSTLE

War, is devoting his life at present to preaching the doctrine of brotherly love to the people of the villages throughout France. He also seeking permission to go to Germany to preach the same doctrine from the Catholic pulpits there. In this way he hopes to diminish the hatreds and animosities aroused during the conflict. "I am sure," he said recently, "that Christ's words will reach the hearts of our former enemies more easily than the empty words and promises of the politicians of both countries. Before the War Father Guerin Before the War Father Guerin was married and working as a reporter on a provincial newspaper. His wife and their only child were killed in an accident and he later decided to enter the religious life. He was ordained on the eve of mobilization and then the eve of mobilization and then joined his regiment as a corporal. He became noted for his skill in of St. George and the beautiful handling machine guns and at the church attached to this convent has close of the War was offered a modern Madonnas in galleries in

THOMAS D'ARCY

McGEE Ottawa Citizen, March 9

Steps to observe in a fitting manner the centennial of the birth of Hon. Thos. D'Arcy McGee have progressed far enough to hazard the prediction that the event will be worthy the man and the occasion. operated with Hon. Chas. Murphy, to whom belongs the credit for the idea and on whom has fallen all the preliminary work, to bring to a fitting climax a celebration unique to one of Canada's outstanding historical figures. These features of the Dominion to the other and has re-echoed from other countries within and without the British

The event will likewise bring rather forcibly to mind the fact that we as a people are singularly deficient in knowledge of the work most of us to recite even the names under the British crown was first promulgated by an Irishman who was regarded as an undesirable by the British government of his time

History, it is true, needs perspective and distance fully to be appreciated. We are still too close to Confederation to recognize it for what it meant and must always meant us. But in accepting and its admirable qualities, we should not forget the architects and made it possible.

Much will be brought to light within the next few weeks regarding the literary, political and personal qualities of Thomas D'Arcy McGee. Time and change, inevitable and inexorable, have given much of his work merely an anadomic interest the state of academic interest to us of a newer indicate the character of the man: We Irishmen, Protestant and Catholic, born and bred in a land of religious controversy, should never forget that now live and act in a land of fullest religious and civic liberty. All we have to do is each for himself to keep down dissentions which can weaken, impoverish and keep back the country.

It would be well were this sentiment adopted by all classes and sections of our country.

FATHER SEBASTIAN OER, O.S.B.

By Rev. Dr. Wilhelm Baron von Capitaine

Paris, France.—Father Guerin, a young Dominican priest who won the Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre for brayery during the company of the company of tery of Deuron in Bavaria. Father Sebastian was born in Dresden, Saxony, in 1845, the son of the Baron of Oer, head of a notable Catholic family. His mother was a convert. In his long life he had attained distinction as a soldier, an educator, an author and a priest.

Taking part in the wars of 1866 and 1870, he won the rank of major. At the conclusion of these conflicts he was appointed military instructor to the Saxon princes at the court in Dresden, and after completing this task joined the Benedictine order at Deuron in 1889. He was ordained in 1892, and for many Sebastian's family at the same time was winning fame as a religious permanent commission in the army, which he declined.

THREE CONCORDATS

PENDING NEGOTIATIONS WITH JUGO-SLAVIA, ROUMANIA AND CZECHO-SLOVAKIA MAY FAIL

By Dr. Frederick Funder (Vienna Correspondent, N. C. W. C.)

Vienna. - Governmental pretensions to religious prerogatives hark-ing back to the medieval conflict over Investitures have so far prevented the conclusion of a Concordat between the Holy See and the so-called Succession States of the Austrian Empire: Jugo-Slavia, Czecho-Slovakia and Roumania. The governments of these three States claim special rights regarding the nomina-tion of bishops, control of Church property, and even approval or dis-approval of decrees and actions of the Church, all utterly inconsistent with present day canon law.

CLAIM RIGHT TO PRIVILEGE

In support of their pretended prerogatives the governments of Jugo-Slavia, Czecho-Slovakia and Rou-mania advance a strange line of argument. They contend that, inasmuch as they have inherited sovereignty over territory formerly ruled by the Hapsburg Emperors, they have also inherited all the special rights and privileges enjoyed by the Hapsburgs as Kings of Hungary. The Kings of Hungary formerly enjoyed some special privi-leges in connection with the nominations of Bishops, accorded them by the Holy See and exercised always on the basis of special privileges and not by virtue of inherent right. The many services rendered to the Church through the centuries by the rulers of Hungary made such an arrangement not unreasonable. But it seems to be overlooked by the Succession States governments that it is one thing to accord special privileges to a thoroughly Catholic dynasty whose devotion to the Church was beyond dispute, and quite another thing to allow those privileges to be exercised by gov-ernments which are not only non-Catholic but openly hostile to the PREROGATIVES OF KINGS OF HUNGARY

The special prerogatives of the Kings of Hungary date back to the reign of St. Stephen in the Tenth century. Uponthisruler who in person preached the gospei Pope Sylvester II. conferred the title of "Apostolic King." The Pope also granted to St. Stephen certain rights pertaining to the administration of the Church which in history tion of the Church which, in historical practice, amounted to the right of nominating Bishops. Such no inations, however, required Papal confirmation, and this right of approval or disapproval was always insisted upon by the Popes despite efforts on the part of several Hungarian rulers to do away with it.
The Popes also reserved to themselves the right to decree the establishment of new dioceser in the server of the server is the server of lishment of new dioceses in Hungary and the division of old ones. affairs, it must be remembered that they did so by virtue of special concessions from the Pope and in harmony with the interests of the Church. The relationship between the Church and the Hungarian State was remarkably cordial dur-ing the whole thousand years from the reign of St. Stephen down to fall of the monarchy. Even the Emperors Franz Josef and Carl, at their coronations, took an oath to "protect the Church and the Gospel."

CHURCH ALWAYS CONTROLLED

PRIVILEGES

That the privileges exercised by the Hapsburg Kings were not held to be theirs by inherent right is shown by the fact that several times various Popes took occasion to confirm certain of the prerogatives of the Crown. For example, Pope Clement XIII. renewed the privilege of nominating Bishops and Canons during the reign of the Empress Maria Theresa. And in a Concordat concluded in 1855 these privileges were again conferred by the Pope upon the King of Hungary. In this latter case, however, there were reciprocal grants of privileges from the State in connection with denominational school questions. Such renewals of ecclesiastical privileges and particularly, the granting of reciprocal privileges in 1855, would have been entirely superfluous had the Kings of Hungary exercised their ecclesias-tical privileges as rights inherent in their sovereignty.

SITUATION CHANGED

Since the break-up of the Empire, however, the situation has changed. In the States which now claim the prerogatives of the Apostolic Kings of Hungary, the Church is constant-ly harassed by persecution. Church At the present time, for instance, with the priests of Czecho-Slovakia who ized.

preached to their congregations in support of a Pastoral Letter for-bidding Catholics to join anti-Catholic organizations, are subjected to serious humiliations and persecutions. Suppression of relig-ious orders and of theological faculties at the universities, abolition of Church festivals and the institution of compulsory civil marriages, are other features of the governmental program in Czecho-Slovakia which Catholics of that country regard as a strange foundation for assertions of prerogatives based upon devotion to the interests of the Church.

As a matter of fact, the real motives back of the pretentions of the governments in Jury. of the governments in Jugo-Slavia, and Czecho-Slovakia and Roumania center around a desire to place the Church under governmental tutelage—a proposal which is regarded as ridiculous pretension.

ARCHBISHOP'S STERN MEASURES

London, Eng. — Pastors in the archdiocese of Glasgow have been forbidden by the Archbishop to baptize the children of irregular marriages, unless in danger of death, and parties to irregular marriages are to be refused the Church's ministrations unless they agree to have their names called out from the pulpit after repentance.

This is the first time such stringent regulations have been laid down in Great Britain to combat the evil of mixed marriages contracted outside the Church.

Already priests in the South have opened their eyes wide in reading the announcement of Archbishop Mackintosh's stern measures. course the ruling concerns only the archdiocese of Glasgow and is designed to meet local conditions.

The Archbishop was speaking at Shieldmuir on the occasion of a pastoral visitation when he exploded gov- the bombshell. He had spoken of mixed marriages and went on to refer to the far more serious cases of marriages contracted by a Catho lic or Catholics outside the Church

In the past, he said, the clergy had gone out of their way to "pu matters right, as one would say. In consequence others had pro-ceeded in the same irregular way. thinking that the matter was not of very great importance and that the clergy would be running after

" In order to stop that unfortunate state it has been found necessary to lay down that henceforth when a Catholic with a non-Catholic or when two Catholics turn their backs upon the laws of the Church, proceed to taint themselves with what death.

in an irregular marriage, said the In all such cases, should by the grace of God those concerned repent, and desire again to be members of the Church and endeavor to live as good Catholics, they will be admitted only on condition that the facts of their repentance be published from the pulpit to their fellow Cath-

The Catholic idea of marriage must be kept high, said His Grace, in explanation of his ruling. Glasgow archdiocese with 450,000

Catholics has the largest Catholic population of any diocese in Britain, and includes about three-quarters of the total Catholic population of Scotland.

MILITARY HEROES

London, Eng.—G. K. Chesterton disputes the idea that admiration of soldiers expresses a brutal and barbaric love of slaughter. Some people imply, he told the Royal Literary and Scientific Institution at Bath, that the cult of the fighting hero has always been the mere admiration of him because he killed

"I think that is a wholly false conception, and it has been refuted by a very obvious test," he said. a very obvious test, I have never heard that the hangman is a popular or dashing figure, or that the girls run after the lic executioner. Neither is the hangman escorted by trumpets. Men who are generally proud of the soldier have always been ashamed of the hangman. In olden times the hangman was generally masked and every effort was made to conceal his name.

It was evident. Chesterton tinued, that men had not admired the mere act of killing another man. The man who killed another with-

BISHOP A LEADER NOT RULER

Cleveland.—Addresses by the Right Rev. Joseph Schrembs. Bishop of Cleveland, and Miss Agnes Regan, executive secretary of the National Council of Catholic Women, featured the annual banquet of the Cleveland branch of the Catholic Daughters of America.

Miss Regan also spoke twice in Miss Regan also spoke twice in Youngstown, giving one address before the Youngstown Catholic Daughters and a second before the city's unit of the Travelers Aid Society. She is vice-president of the National Travelers Aid organization.

ation.

Bishop Schrembs praised the work the Catholic Daughters had done in maintaining the Girls' Catholic High school in the cathedral school in the downtown section, and thanked them for their cooperation in every movement he has undertaken.

"It is a great thing for a Catholic Bishop to see himself surrounded by so many women who hold up his hands and work and labor with him indeficiently. indefatigably to bring about a realization of the ideals holy mother Church places before us," he said.
"What is the office of a Bishop?

Is he some despot, some tyrant, some figure possessing some special qualification, somehow set up on a candlestick for admiration or for the purpose of ruling? No! He the purpose of ruling? No! He is merely in the position of one who has been placed by virtue of a divine command, to be your leader. In the daily Catholic life, he goes before that you may follow. That is all. "In going before, he is following a charted road, not going aimlessly, not going on his own persons."

turies ago not by mere human mind, but by the divine intellect, by the great loving heart of God who saved man. And all that he asks of his people is that they work and labor with him for the voliting and labor with him for the uplifting and upbuilding, for the expansion of the kingdom of God upon earth."

JESUIT FOREIGN SERVICE SCHOOL

Dr. James Brown Scott, noted internationalist who is Professor of Foreign Relations of the United States and of International Law at the Foreign Service School of Georgetown University, Washington, has just returned to the university after mission to Peru on which he was signally honored.

Dr. Scott was made an official guest of the Republic of Peru at the instance of the President, and ceed to taint themselves with what is called a civil marriage—hence-forth shall no pastor seek them in this diocese."

"Some may again desire their offspring to be baptized. Their offspring may not be baptized except in the serious case of danger of death."

the instance of the President, and finger of John the Baptist, was received the honorary degree Doctor of Laws from the University of San Marco, held to be the oldest university in the Western Hemisphere. It is interesting that Dr. Scott holds a degree also from Harvard, the oldest university in the United States.

Harvard, the oldest university in the United States.

The Georgetown Preference poetror of Laws from the University of San Marco, held to be the oldest university in the University in the University of San Marco, held to be the oldest university in the University of San Marco, held to be the oldest university in the University of San Marco, held to be the oldest university in the University of San Marco, held to be the oldest university in the University of San Marco, held to be the oldest university in the Western Hemisphere. It is interesting that Dr. Scott holds a degree also from the fire.

The George of Herman Control of the President, and finger of John the Baptist, was saved from the fire.

Dom Luigi Sturzo, founder of the Italian Popular Party, who is making a tour of various countries to study educational, social and political questions is visiting Ireland. His interest in Irish affairs its particularly keen, he says, as his

The Georgetown Professor went caused by a Catholic's participation States Government at the Pan-American Scientific Congress. At the same time, as president of the American Institute of International Law he arranged for informal meetings of the Institute in connection with the Congress. Dr. Scott heads the United States delegation to cooperate with delegations of the other twenty American Republics in preparing a code of international law for their use. On his way back, he was the principal speaker at a banquet in New York of the Pan American Society, given in com-memoration of the Peruvian victory of Ayacucho.

Col. Alan G. Goldsmith, another member of the faculty of the Georgetown School of Foreign Service, who also was Chief of the European Division of the United States Department of St. Paul, the patron of the island, with the inscription "Primus Episcopus Melitae, A. D. 53." The ten shilling stamp will have the figure of St. Paul, the patron of the island, with the inscription of St. Paul, the patron of the island, with the inscription of the same parameters. States Department of Commerce, has severed his connections at Washington to assume an important commercial post in Europe. He has taken with him as his assistant Alvin C. Eicholz, one of the graduates of the school.

IRISH TREASON BILL

Dublin, Ireland.-The Governnent speakers in the elections have had to answer a fair share of criticism regarding the Treason lately introduced in the Dail. One of the justifications offered is that the measure is merely a concentration of powers already vested in the Government under numerous statutes, some going back to the reign of Edward the Third. The new Bill, it is argued, avoids the cumbersomeness of those old enactments and also gets rid of the frequent allusions to the King.

It is noteworthy, however, that very thin sittings of the Dail have indicated that the supporters of the property has been confiscated, Catholic schools suppressed and even the publication of pastoral letters interfered with when the letters contained sentiments disapproved by the political rulers, At the present time, for instance, the mere act of killing another man. The man who killed another milling another man. The man who killed another man and contained another man. The man who killed another man. The man man and the animal another with the midicated that the supporters of the laying urgent with the man who killed another man. The man who killed another man and the animal man and the animal man and the man who killed another with the man who killed another w

CATHOLIC NOTES

Associate Justice McKenna of the United States Supreme Court has resigned after twenty-seven years in that high office. He is in his eighty-second year.

London, Eng.—Two complete vestment sets have been made from a red brocade dress worn by Queen Victoria. The dress was presented to the Catholic Women's Missionary League, which converted it into vestments and is disposing of them on behalf of its funds.

Washington, Jan. 19.-The Right Washington, Jan. 19.—The Right Rev. James A. Griffin, Bishop of Springfield, Ill., has been commis-sioned as a Major in the Chaplains' Reserve Corps of the United States Army. His rank dates from Army. His rank December 29, 1924.

Electric burglar alarms fitted to offertory boxes in a Preston, Eng., church were responsible for the arrest of a man who was charged with stealing. Any attempt to open the boxes causes a bell to ring in the rectory.

Salem, Oregon, Feb. 21.—The Oregon house of representatives defeated without a record vote Senator Garland's bill providing for compulsory Bible reading in the Public schools of the State. A Jew-ish delegation, led by Rabbi Jonah Wise of Portland, protested against the measure. Portland, Oregon. - The Rev. Thomas Jackson, ordained to the priesthood for the Archdiocese of Oregon City, is a convert from Judaism. He is an Oregonian and made his ecclesiastical studies at St. Patrick's Seminary, Menlo Park, Calif.

The Rev. Gerald P. O'Hara, not going on his own personal Secretary to Cardinal Dougherty of whims; not at all. His road is marked and charted. Charted cenand Roman Law at the Roman Pontifical Seminary. His thesis presented for the Doctorate in Laws, was entitled: "The Juridical Status of the Parishes in the United

The diocese of Erie, Pa., has begun the organization of mission aid for home and foreign missions, and Right Reverend Bishop Gannon has entrusted the task to Rev. Hugo Aubry, of the Fathers of the Divine Word Society, which has at Girard, Pa., within the confines of the diocese of Erie, a preparatory college for foreign missions. Morlaix, France, Feb. 25 .- The Church of St. Jean-du-Doigt, built in the fifteenth century, was destroyed by fire here today. Lightning struck an adjoining house and the flames ignited the Church. A reliquary designed by Benvenuto Cellini, said to contain a finger of John the Baptist, was uncle, Father Luigi Sturzo, was Provincial of the Jesuit Order in Ireland for several years.

Chicago.-When a man and a woman threatened the Rev. Thomas J. Bobal, pastor for many years of SS. Cyril and Methodius' Church, in an alleged blackmail plot, the priest sent for the police. They arrested the man, who, they said, had posed as a priest, and the woman, and took them to jail, charged with conspiracy.

London.-Two new stamps to be issued in Malta in April will bear the effigies of saints, it is announced here. The new 2s.6d. issue will be adorned with the figure of St with the inscription "Patronus Melitae"

Paris. - A very beautiful embroidered vestment which was greatly admired at the recent exposition of Religious Art in Paris, has taken the road to the United States. It is intended for Father Ducharme, of Southbridge, Mass. It was made in the workshops under the direction of Mademoiselle Sabine Desvallieres, daughter of the great painter George Desvallieres.

St. Louis.—St. Louis University, took on added importance as a center for Central American stu-dents with the recent appointment of one of its senior medical Students as consul at St. Louis for Nicaragua. The student diplomat is Salvadore Cerda, president of the Cosmopolitan Club of the University. Several months ago Corda also was made consul for Costa Rica.

Four million Czech crowns were granted by the Committee of Ministers for the completion of the Metropolitan Cathedral of St. Vit millions will have to be raised by a public collection. Copyright 1924 by Joseph J. Quinn All Rights Reserved WOLF MOON

A ROMANCE OF THE GREAT SOUTHWEST

BY JOSEPH J. QUINN CHAPTER X.

THE STRANGER AND THE STORM Came weeks and weeks of blistering suns sending heat waves rising giddily from the earth. Long before the dog days and July noons men welcomed shade. Jack soon realized why the wide-brimmed sombrero is necessary in the South-west. The hard baked earth swept free of sand sent back its actinic rays to bite and burn. And the wind ever blew from the South. It raised puffs of sand into spinning baby cyclones that whipped the fiery grains against face and saddle. It burnt the pastures dry, stunted the buffalo grass and seared cottonwood leaves. Sweeping up the mess from some distant desert it swayed the sage and cracked the high weeds until they bent over in the dust. Earth ground finer than powder drifted into dunes along the road-sides, under fences, changed a green world into a red, wan realm. Its constant drive against trees twisted their branches and made them sag to the North. The sun held sway through weary, heat-filled hours stirring the bottle flies into swarms that irritated cattle. Night came bringing relief and a breeze that seemed to spring from a mythical sea at the end of the horizon. Days spent out in the open brought back strength to Jack's body. His hand became steady, his eye clear, his whole being pulsated with a new and greater life. Sometimes he would be represented. times he rode the range alone; at others the slender figure of a girl could be seen on a pony beside him. He loped from Roundtop to the Gulch and then down into the flat country beyond where the chaparral broke the sweep of the wind. blazing sun streamed down upon his back and upon his horse's mane and returned from the red earth quivering with intenser fire.

Each day at noon Jack rode over to the Christians and at each visit was forced to deny their assertion that he would not come back to their ranch to live. Yes, he would go back when Mrs. Trichell declared that he had fully recuperated down in his heart Jack hoped she never would admit it. He preferred the Trichell ranch and one did not have to go far for the reason. Buster was the ring leader of the teasers. He wanted Jack at home teasers. He wanted Jack at home she ain't putting nothing over on me. She knows I'm wise. What's she been a telling you?"

""" Why do you want to know?"

"Just to see how her story hooks"

for friendship's sake.

"Huh! when they say so," ejaculated Buster. "You know John Trichell thinks the sun rises and sets on you. He swears he couldn't repay you in a lifetime. Look at Satellite, his wonder horse. You know you stand aces high with him or he would never here.

the underbrush at dusk and darted in and out among the blackiacks. He laughed at their frisky ways but especially at their quick getaway when a bullet splashed the dust

Jack was turning away from the tall, splendidly built chap, wearing a large black hat in Mexican fashion. was booted and spurred though his horse was not in view. His hands were on his belt and he fingered its smooth surface. His shirt thrown open exposed a huge

"Came mighty close to nipping me stranger. A friend and me was just talking down there when one of your bullets whizzed pretty close to my head."

"Reekon, I'll beg your pardon. Hadn't the faintest idea that you or anybody else was down there," answered Jack, surprised at the news. "Wal, it pays to be careful, especially when I came mighty close to answering you with my .45. I don't welcome pot shots from nobody."

"Sure am sorry old man but I repeat I didn't know anybody was over there."

"No, I don't guess you did. You might have shot straighter. Wal, be careful hereafter." After a mysterious pause in which the man looked over toward the Trichell ranch house, he continued, "Say. stranger, are you acquainted with that young lady over there on the

His words carried a note of finality and emphasis.

"Well, why don't you visit the ranch and ask for her?"

"Huh, with you so handy to supply the information? Son, you talk as if you'd been draining some Oklahoma choc. I'm going to visit her when I get good and ready, I have some news to convey to her. I reckon you're just itching to find it out. Wal, I'm just good-natured enough to teil you. Her people want to see her out in Nevada and they a-knowin' I was comin' here to deliver a sould only soare a moment and ride head window. Reckon the greated don't do much herding for ole' man Trichell."

Louise turned away in alarm. The night-bell rang; I moved quickly, and went out-into the hall. I could hear Father Robert moving quickly about his room. Presently have some news to convey to her. It was almost two years since she had escaped. They would hardly return to Oklahoma so early in the summer. But the inmate curiosity of woman was aroused in her. She want to see her out in Nevada and they a-knowin' I was comin' here to deliver a could only soare a moment and ride

"Just to see how her story hooks up with the truth. You let me quired for Tulane. The latter had left for town after supper. It was It was just as he had surmised. brooding stranger had come for no good purpose. The mystery of Louise's past seemed to deepen.

Was this man related to her? Why Gulch one evening when a loud haloo fell upon his ears. He stopped and looked back. A stranger on foot emerged from the cover that she was living here? stranger on foot emerged from the trees. Jack then recalled that he had failed to reload his gun. It was something unusual for him yet he turned and faced the man, a should be refuse to tell him her name? Hiding her identity more than the stranger of faced the man, a should be refuse to tell him her name? she refuse to tell him her name? Hiding her identity would have brewn a storm of suspicion in a man lacking faith in his love but Jack divined that back of it there must he some great repren for withheld ing her name and family. Time would lead the story out from the cavern of darkness.

cavern of darkness.

Jack felt that he should tell
Louise of the meeting with this

Then the third member of our

It had disappeared. Only when the ranch was as quiet as a sanctuary did he stretch across the bed to sleep fitfully and in snatches.

Morning broke upon a world of swirling sand. During the night the wind had started to moan and the sand to sift. Pouring steadily from the South and Southwest, the increasing wind lifted high into the sand to sift.

find out. But I reckon I know her a little better than you do. Jes' reckon I could surprise you with what I do know about her. Maybe I could tell you some things that you would like to know."?

"Is that so?" Jack drawled out the question purposely.

"Wal, I reckon so. I knew her father and mother and that's saying a little more than you. Sort of called me a fren' of the family."
The man glanced back towards the blackjacks as if expecting semeone

Jack was tempted to ask.

"Hah, I see you don't know much about the girl. Guess she's wrapped up a purty sweet story and she could satisfy her curiosity. She askin' for you." He began to sob. wrapped up a purty sweet story and she could satisfy her curiosity. She handed it to you. Them blue eyes knew the children of Pemella's

TO BE CONTINUED

AS ST. PAUL CAME

We were three and we sat before We were three and we sat before the little open fireplace in Father Robert's study, watching the flames that flickered and purred so merrily before us. There was no light other than the dancing, flickering fire-flames, and it was pleasant to watch them as they fitfully illumined the different objects in the room. Now a sepia engraving of Hoffman's Gethsem ane flashed into bold relief, tinged Satellite, his wonder horse, know you stand aces high with him or he would never have given you that pony. Jack, when are you going to build a little nest, way out in the West and let the rest of the in the West and let the rest of the more large and let the rest of the large and large

It was Sunday evening, and old ust as he had surmised.

Jack had a premonition that this

Jack had a premonition that this

wind whistled and swished without, but our fire flashed its signals of warmth and comfort. The clock struck nine. Old Father Robert moved slightly in his chair, passed his fingers through his snow-white hair, in a preoccupied manner, then, speaking from a knowledge of humanity begotten during thirty years' faithful service in his little scattered mission, he said slowly, and as if addressing himself, "I shouldn't be

I shuddered at the thought of going out at night; but I said

Louise of the meeting with this stranger. But perhaps it would only be a source of worry for her. He would just warn her to keep close to home. In the meantime he would try to discover who the stranger was.

Goaded by strange thoughts and surmises Jack sat at the window of his room until late that night. He was looking out toward the Gulch. Occasionally a light flickered over on the Western slope and sparks student's enthusiasm, and once or Occasionally a light flickered over on the Western slope and sparks sprang upward through the trees. But when Jack gazed more intently it proved only a will o' the wisp. It had disappeared. Only when the trees the young fellow plunged into the the young fellow plunged into the depths of his speculative theories the less attentive the old priest seemed to become.

stranger, are you acquainted with that young lady over there on the ranch?" responded Jack, getting the import of the question.

"That's neither here nor there. Isn't a young girl staying over there?"

"What do you want to know for?"

"Damn your inquisitiveness.

That's for me to know and you to the to when I came to you, came not in loftiness of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the wisdom of God in a mystery, a wisdom which is hidden." * * *

Before retiring that night the young fellow came to my room to say a few words, and I sat on my bed and listened to his excited utterances, not knowing whether to smile or to be angry. "Now," he ing a little more than you. Sort of called me a fren' of the family."
The man glanced back tawards the blackjacks as if expecting semone to show himself. Jack thought his eyes shifted as if telling a lle.

"Well, if you know her so well your business?"
"That's a purty smart answer around young youn like you. But I guess I have may own reason. Suppose I tell you that if she knew I was here she'd a come running over here to see me. The stranger's eyes twinkled as if suppressing humor.

"Well, what's the idea of keeping the telling if there's to be any done. I just wish to shire up a bit before a life to the west.

"Don't work so fast. I'll do all the telling if there's to be any done. I just wish to shire up a bit before the wish to shire word that was brome the girl's over there. That's all." He pollowed his words with a wide sweep of the arm to the west.

"That and more. I sin't a-stating they businees nor profession to strangers, I just want to make sure the girl's over there. That's all." His words carried a note of finality and emphasis.

"Well, why don't you visit the richell."

"Louise turned away in alarm.

I make the wards and were the wind ablowing and the present them. The mail. I done to limit of the wist. The man glanced back tawards the bottom state to wist the wild select the village. She went to the corral with a lump of sugar and with a lump of sugar and with the village. She went to the corral with a lump of sugar and contain."

I was here she'd a come running of the bars. A minute later pealed an answer and came running of the b smile or to be angry. "Now," he continued, standing before me, his

The old man patted the snow-covered shoulder. There now, lad! There now, Davie!" he said kindly.

I stepped back into my room and finished dressing. I knew Father Robert's man had gone away for a few days, and Davie was asking the priest if he would take his own horse. The lad was going to drive world go by?"

Twilight always found Jack at the rim of Navajo Gulch. He could enjoy the sunset here more fully, could see the sky flowers bloom and fade and change their colors in the garden of the West. Some eventides were serene, that was when the color riot was most profound.

Jack took great sport in shooting at the coyotes that came up from the undertrush et dust and dearly sport at the color fully sport at the stranger, I know the girl from a time these heah parts never knew you. Adios! But just watch your then a black crucifix, the figure in white, or a steel engraving of the Madonna and Child, would stand out vividly.

Outside the wind sighed and moaned through the leafless trees, blow the dry, powdery snow about the cold marble monuments in the cometery, and whistled in through mustered courage to say. 'God bless you !" said the priest,

It was cold and dark, and in many places the snow had drifted across the road in deep banks, which at times made progress very difficult, but our horse was strong.

Old Father Robert held his right mitten over his left side, where beneath his coat, in the little golden pyx over his heart, reposed the Holy Viaticum. In his left hand he held a large smoky lantern which cast a faint yellow shadow into the snow-flaked night. The fine dry snowspecks beat against my face smartingly, making it almost impossible for me to keep my eyes open for any length of time. Clouds of steam rose from the warm horse into the cold air. In the faint light of our lantern only a few of the evergreens which fringed the road could be seen. The branches of these hung low, weighted with the thick white snow patches. From time to time I glanced at Father Robert who with head bent was trying to protect his face from the fury of the storm. Always his right hand rested over the pyx. He spoke no audible word, but sat in reverential silence, in presence of his King. My hands, holding the reins, were very cold; my face pained from contact with the snow-pellets. At times our large black horse dashed into the teeth of the storm, while the sleigh bells jingled sharply. Once or twice an overweighted branch lost its balance and upset its soft white burden, which fell with a thud to the snow beneath. And on we plunged through the stormy night to a little girl who was dying. An old man was standing in the shelter of the house, a lighted lantern in one hand; the other shaded his straining eyes, which

The Critical Age

From babyhood to adolescence is the time of growth—the time when the body is being built. The food must be such as will build muscle, nerve tissue and bone.

Virol is a food specially designed by Medical and Food Experts to meet the needs of growth. It is used regularly in 3,000 Infant Clinics, and prescribed by many thousands of Medical Men, because it builds the tissues and increases the defensive powers of the body against disease.

The remarkable power of Virol is seen at once in the improved condition of those who take it.

Bathe freely with Cuticura Soap and hot water, dry and apply Cuti-cura Ointment to the affected parts For eczemas, rashes, itchings, irri Nothing so insures a clear skin and ood hair as making Cuticura you every-day toilet preparations. Sample Each Free by Mail. Address Canad Depot: "Cuticura, P. O. Eox 2616, Montres Price, Sony 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 2 Try our new Shaving Stick.

Order Now

WE HAVE EVERYTHING MADE OF CANVAS

Certer, Son & Co. 619 Dundas St. Phone 6197

Progressive Everbearing

ARCHITECTS. Randolph 7887 I. M. COWAN Architect Churches, Schools Colleges a Specialty

TORONTO WATT & BLACKWELL Members Ontario Associat
ARCHITECTS Sixth Floor, Bank of Toronto Chambers LONDON ONT.

W. G. MURRAY ARCHITECT

Churches and Schools a Specialty Dominion Savings Building
TELEPHONE 1557-W London, Ont. JOHN M. MOORE & CO.

ARCHITECTS 489 RICHMOND STREET LONDON, ONT.

Members Ontario Association of Archit J. C. Pennington John R. Boyde John W. Leighton

BARTLET BLDG. WINDSOR, ONT. London Diocesan Architects Specialists in Ecclesiastica and Educational Buildings

F. E. LUKE

OPTOMETRIST AND OPTICIAN 167 YONGE ST. TORONTO

Eyes Examined and Glass Eyes Fitted BROWN OPTICAL CO.

Physical Eye Specialists PHONE 1877 223 Dundas St. Branches: Hamilton, Montreal and Windsor

London Optical Co. Eyesight Specialists A. M. DAMBRA, Optometrist PHONE 6180

Dominion Savings Building London, Ont. Wright Teale Co. Plumbing and Heating

Phone 7984 60 Dundas St. London, Ont.

THE DARRAGH STUDIO SPECIALISTS IN PORTRAITURE 214 Dundas St. Phone 444

Photographer to the Particular Geo. Winterbottom & Son Sheet Metal Workers

Agents Pease Furnaces Phone 5889 W 519 Richmond St. London, Ont. HEXTER TAXI

Phone 2859 Marley Hexter)

Phone 2859 Day and Night Service
5 and 7 Passenger Sedans 483 Richmond St., London, Ont.

Let Us Buy Your EGGS and POULTRY

C. A. MANN & CO.

Cassocks, Surplices Clerical Suits, Etc. HARCOURT & SON

Buy a Copy Now

"Some of the Pastor's Problems" BÝ REV. M. V. KELLY

FOR SALE BY Canada Church Goods Company 149 Church St. Toronto, Canada

TH Causland Windows Church Painting and Derorating.

Designs and Estimates on request ROBERT · ME CAUSIAND · LIMITED

DR. REBECCA HARKINS DR. MARIE H. HARKINS OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIANS

DR. LEROY V. HILES SPECIALIST IN ALL

FOOT AILMENTS 202 Dundas St. Phone 7808

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS MURPHY, GUNN & MURPHY

Solicitors for the Roman Catholic Episcopal Corporation Suite 53, Bank of Toronto Chambers
LONDON, CANADA Phone 170 FOY, KNOX & MONAHAN

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc Cable Address : "Foy" Telephones { Main 461 Main 462

Offices: Continental Life Building
CORNER BAY AND RICHMOND STREETS TORONTO DAY, FERGUSON & WALSH BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, &c.

Rooms 116 to 122, Federal Br TORONTO, CANADA James E. Day, K. C. Frank J. Hart Joseph P. Walsh T. M. Mungovs

LUNNEY & LANNAN BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIE Harry W. Lunney, K.C., B.A., B.C.L. Alphonsus Lannan, LL. B.

CALGARY, ALBERTA JOHN H. McELDERRY BARRISTER, SOLICITOR NOTARY PUBLIC UNION BANK BUILDING

GUELPH, ONTARIO Res. Lekeside 1395. Cable Address "Leedor"
" 2596W
" Hillcrest 1997 Main 1583 Main 1583

Lee, O'Donoghue & Harkins Barristers, Solicitors, Notarles, Etc. W. T. J. Lee, B.C.L. J. G. O'Donoghue, K.C. Hugh Harkins Offices 241-242 Confederation Life Chambers S. W. Corner Queen and Victoria Sts. TORONTO, CANADA

KELLY, PORTER & KELLY BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS

NOTARIES W. E. Kelly, K. C. J. Porter David E. Kelly Crown Attorney County Treasurer Solicitors For Norfolk County Council SIMCOE, ONT., CANADA.

DENTAL MICHAEL J. MULVIHILL L. D. S., D. D. S. 25 PEMBROKE STREET W. PEMBROKE, ONT.

PHONE 178 Dr. W. S. Westland

Office and Residence— DENTIST 287 QUEENS AVE. Beddome, Brown, Cronyn and Pocock

INSURANCE Money to Loan Telephone 698W
392 Richmond St. LONDON, CANADA

James R. Haslett Sanitary & Heating Engineer Agent for Fess Oil Burner

521 Richmond St. London, Ont. UPHOLSTERING CHAS. M. QUICK Richmond St. London, Ont.
Opposite St. Peter's Parish Hall

Where Do You Go When You Wish to "Say it With" The West Floral Co. 249 Dundas St. London, Ont. St. Jerome's College

Founded 1864 KITCHENER, ONT. REV. W. A. BENINGER, C. R., President.

Casavant Freres CHURCH LIMITEE Organ Builders ST. HYAOINTHE

Benjamin Blonde

General Contractor CHURCHES and Educational Institutions a Specialty
Estimates furnished on request
CHATHAM, ONT.

Lightning Battery Service 294 York St. Opp. C. N. R. Freight Sheds 362 Dundas Rear Super- London, Ont. Phone 8376 Your Battery Recharged in 1 Hour. In or out of your Car

REGO RADIATOR REPAIR "WE KNOW HOW" Radiators, Fenders, Bodies and Lamps

H. G. KAISER

Phone 7249 M Nights 1006 J 150 Fullarton St.

ELEONARD&SONS BOILERMAKERS&ENGINEER Write For Heating Boiler Catalog

and, holding his lantern up from the snow, raised his eyes to heaven. "Thank God!" he said very rever-"Thank God!" he said very reverently. Then placing his lantern on the snow, he arose and came forward. As he took Father Robert's lantern he pointed silently towards the door of the house, which was in the lee of the storm. The old man whispered to me that he would attend to the horse; so I followed the priest. The door opened quietly, and an elderly woman, with a lighted candle in her hand, met us.

We entered the great low, warm golden doors. Jesus goes up towards the Temple: the Man transfigured on the mountain is set against the scribes parched and withered among their scrolls; the Messiah of the New Kingdom against the usurper of the kingdom doors. Jesus goes up towards the Temple: the Man transfigured on the mountain is set against the scribes parched and withered among their scrolls; the Messiah of the New Kingdom against the Usurper of the kingdom against the Usurper of We entered the great low, warm kitchen. Three little children were kneeling in a line. The tallest, a little girl of about twelve was in the middle, and she held one arm around the neck of a little laddie of about three, who gazed wide eyed at the priest; on her right, with hands folded devoutly, knelt a little girl of five. A young with hands folded devoutly, knelt a little girl of five. A young woman came out from the sick room, which was just off the kitchen, and took Father Robert's coat and hat from him.

The priest was in cassock, white surplice, and stole. The woman with the candle went into the sick room, Father Robert following. I removed my coat and knelt down near the children, not far from the stove. I could see the sick room and its young occupant. She could not have been more than seventeen. As Father Robert sprinkled the room with holy water, she made

As Father Robert sprinkled the room with holy water, she made the Sign of the Cross very slowly, and seemingly with great difficulty. The priest turned the stole so that the purple side showed, sat down on the chair near the child, and heard her little story. The old man, coming from the barn, noisily stamped the snow off, then tip-toed softly over and knelt down near bowed her head and that of her little brother; the little one to her right inclined devoutly; and the old man, unable to restrain his devotion, burst forth in prayer: "Lamb of God, Who takest away the sins of the world, have mercy on us!" I could hear him strike his breast as he continued, "O Lord, I am not worthy!" and then, "God bless the priest!" I raised my eyes. The old priest had drawn nearer the sick child: "Receive, O Sister, the Viaticum of the Body of Our Lord Jesus Christ," etc. He placed the Sacred Host on her tongue. Her Lord and her God had ome to her.

After the priest had administered Extreme Unction, the doctor arrived; and Father Robert and I waited until he finished his exam-

He came out sooner than we expected him. He spoke excitedly, which was not his custom. "All the fever has gone and the patient is improving! I must confess that I cannot understand it all!"

The old father looked at the priest quickly. And then, while I said slowly to myself, "Not in loftiness of speech—but a wisdom which is hidden"—I thought I understood!

BY GIOVANNI PAPINI Copyright, 1923, by Harcourt, Brace & Company

THE DEN OF THIEVES He went up to the Temple where all His enemies were assembled. On the hill-top the sacred fortress Ark of the nomads, drawn by oxen through sweltering deserts and over battlefields, had halted on that height, petrified as a defense for the royal city. The moveable cart of the fugitives had become a heavy citadel of stone and marble as nonexperience of the day. The benches had become a heavy citadel of stone and marble as nonexperience. heavy citadel of stone and marble, yells of astonishment and wrath: a pompous stronghold of palaces the seats of the bird-sellers were and stairways, shady with colon-nades lighted with courts, enclosed nades lighted with courts, enclosed by walls, sheer above the valley, protected by bastions and by towers, a fortress rather than a place of worship. It was not only the precinct of the Holy of Holies, and the sacrificial altar, it was no longer only the Temple, the mystic sanctuary of the people. With its great old towers, its guardrooms, its warehouses for offerings, its strong-boxes for deposits, its open plazzas for trade and covered galpiazzas for trade and covered galeries for meetings and amusement, it was anything rather than a sanctuary for meditation and prayer. It was everything, a fortress in case of assault, a bank-vault, a market-place in time of pilgrimage and feast-days, a bazar on all days, and feast-days, a bazar on all days, a forum for the disputes of politicians, the wranglings of doctors and the gossip of idlers; a thoroughfare, a rendezvous, a business center. Built by a faithless King to win over the favor of a captious and seditious people, to satisfy the pride and avarice of the priestly caste, an instrument of war and a market place for trade, it must have seemed to the eyes of Jesus of obsequious brigands, of tolerated the wind.

BUSINESS THE GOD

The day-laborers had come, the weavers, the dyers, the cobblers, the woodworkers, all those who detested the swindlers, the stranglers, the shearers of poverty, traders who enriched themselves at the market-place was therefore a cave of obsequious brigands, of tolerated the cobblers, the woodworkers, all those who detested the swindlers, the shearers of poverty, traders was for Him a form of theft. A market place for trade, it must have seemed to the eyes of Jesus of obsequious brigands, of tolerated the who hope for miracles, or revenge.

The day-laborers had come, the woodworkers, all those who detested the swindlers, the shearers of poverty, traders was for Him a form of theft. A market place was therefore a cave the natural focus for all the enethe natural focus for all the ene-

Jesus goes up to the Temple to destroy the Temple. He will leave to the Romans of Titus the task of

with its piled-up blocks of ordered stone, its paved terraces and its golden doors. Jesus goes up golden doors. Jesus goes towards the Temple: the stamped the snow off, then tip-toed stamped the snow off, then tip-toed softly over and knelt down near me. I said the "Confiteor" as Father Robert opened the pyx.

"Ecce Agnus Dei," said the priest carried in the atrium of a sanctuary, but a dirty market-place. An immense, roaring din rises up from the vermin-like crowd of bankers, of money and sellers, of money. "Ecce Agnus Dei," said the price so reverently and sweet that one would think that for him faith had would think that for him faith had buyers and sellers, of money-changers who give and take money. There are herdsmen with their oxen and their flocks of sheep; venders of pigeons and turtle doves, standing by the long lines of their coops; bird-sellers, with cages of chirping sparrows; benches for money-changers, with bowls overflowing with copper and silver. Merchants, their feet in the freshdropped dung, handle the flanks of the animals destined for sacrifice; or call with monatonous iteration women who have come there after child birth, pilgrims who have come to offer a rich sacrifice, lepers who offer living birds for their cure, obtained or hoped for. Money-changers, with a coin hung at their ears as a mark of their trade, gloatthe gossiping groups; niggardly, wary provincials hold excited conferences before loosening the purse strings to change their cash for a votive offering, and from time to time a restless ox drowns out with his deep bellow the thin bleating of the lambs, the thrill voices of the women, the clinking of drachma and shekels.

and shekels.

Christ was familiar with the spectacle. He knew that the house of God had been turned into the house of Mammon, and that, instead THE STORY OF CHRIST of silently invoking the Spirit, material-minded men trafficked there in the filth of the Demon, material-minded men trafficked there in the filth of the Demon, with the priests as their accomplices. But this time He did not restrain His scorn and His repugnance. To destroy the Temple, He commenced with the destruction of the market-place. The Eternal of the market-place is the special market and the second market by the dangerous intruder. It was perhaps that very evening that avail. As long as He went about the priests and there was only one doubt about there was only one doubt about the was only one doubt about the two posters? To put the matter to the trap Him by theological tricks, or the market-place. The Eternal priests and there was only one doubt about the was only one doubt about the was only one doubt about the posters? To put the matter to the trap Him by theological tricks, or the market-place. The Eternal priests and there was only one doubt about the posters? To put the matter to the trap Him by theological tricks, or the market-place. The Eternal priests and their associates, the traffickers and there was only one doubt about the posters? To put the matter to the trap Him by theological tricks, or the dangerous intruder. It was perhaps that very evening that the market-place. The Eternal Mendicant, the poor man, accom-panied by his poor friends, flung Himself against the servitors of money. He had in His hand a overturned beside their scattered pigeons. The herdsmen began to on high, and driving the money-changers towards the door. And He repeated in a loud voice, "My house shall be called the house of prayer ; but ye have made it a den thieves. Among all the elements of leprous scabs, with their sores unthe legalized theft which is called cared for, with their bones procommerce, none is more detestable truding through the skin to testify and shameful than the use of to their hunger. There had also destroy the Temple. He will leave to the Romans of Titus the task of literally dismantling the walls, of statering the masses of stone, of burning down the buildings, of stealing the bronze and gold, of reducing to a smoky and accursed ruin the great stronghold of Herod; but He will destroy the values which the proud Temple upheld and shameful than the use of money. If some one gives you a money to their hunger. There had also money. If some one gives you a look sheep in exchange for money, you of Galilee, who had accompanied Jesus in His festal entrance; and with them Jews from the Syrian and Egyptian colonies, dressed in their best, like distant relatives who reappear every once in so often at the family home for a family festival.

> And the last money-handlers disappeared from the courts like rubbish scattered by the wind.

which will bear you a lamb, and which you can eat if you like. But the exchange of money for money, of coined metal for coined metal, is something unnatural, paradoxical and demoniac. Everything that is known of banks, rates of exchange, discount and usury, is a shameful and repellent mystery which has always been the terror of simple souls, that is, of upright and deep souls. The peasant who sows his grain, the tailor who makes a gar-ment, the weaver who weaves wool or linen, have up to a certain limit a real right that their wealth should increase, because they have added something which before was not in the world, in cloth, in wool. But cian, who is at the same time a that a mountain of money should bring forth other money without labor or effort, without production labor or effort, without production by man of any object to be seen, to be consumed, to be enjoyed, is a scandal which goes beyond, and confounds human imagination.

gives power on this earth: they are the ones even today who rule indignation felt by them, God's privileged sheriffs. nations, instigate wars, who starve nations, and who, by an infernal system of their own, suck out the life of the poor, transformed into gold, dripping with sweat and expound. But with that violent ism, believed in ithe imminent action, He had antagonized all the arrival of the Saviour. action, He had antagonized an the arrival of the Saviour.

Salem. The men He had driven away demanded that their patrons should punish the man who was they held that to be worthy to ruining business on the Holy Hill. These men of money found ready hearing with the men of Law, already embittered for other reasons, so much the more because Messiah, the son of David, would sons, so much the more because Jesus in disturbing the business of the Temple had condemned and harmed the priests themselves.
The most successful bazars were the property of the sons of Annas, that is, close relations of the HighPriest Caiaphas. All the doves which were sold in the Court of the Captiles were raised on the prope. Gentiles were raised on the prop-erty of Annas, and the priests who did business in them made a good income every month out of turtle-doves alone. The money-changers, who should not have been allowed ingly plunge their greedy talons into gleaming piles; the go-be great Sadducee families of the tweens run about in the swarm of the gossiping groups; niggardly, on the thousands of shekels brought in every year by the exchange of foreign money into Hebrew money. Had not the Temple itself perhaps become a great national bank with coffers and strong boxes in treasure chambers?

> Jesus had wounded the twenty thousand priests of Jerusalem in their prestige and in their purses. He had overturned the values of the falsified and mutilated Letter, in the name of which they commanded and on which they fattened. was made for man, rather than man for the Sabbath. More than this, He had driven out priests and merchants agreed on in the provinces drawing after Him the purchase of a betrayer and a few dozen peasants, they had let the purchase of a betrayer and a few dozen peasants, they had let cross. The bourgeoisie were to give the small amount of money necessary; the clergy to find the religious pretext; the foreign government, naturally desiring to be on good terms with clergy and bourgeoisie, would lend its soldiers.
>
> But Jesus having left the last beginned by a bond of excitable countrymen, He had gone so far as to enter into the Temple as though > the doors, but the courts were humming with crowds of excited Pharisees had been too easy going with the restless anxiety of those who hope for miracles, or revenge. The day-laborers had come, the weavers, the dyers, the cobblers, the woodworkers, all those who detested the swindlers, the stranglers.

But there came up also, in groups of four or five, the Scribes and Pharisees. They were fraternal colleagues, fitting companions for each other. The Scribes were the Doctors of the Law; the Pharisees were the Puritans of the Law. Nearly all the Scribes were Pharisees were Scribes. sees, many Pharisees were Scribes. Imagine a professor adding religious pedantry to his doctoral pedantry; or a religious hypocrite provided also with the grave face of a casuitied redecare. casuitical pedagogue, and you will innun have the modern equivalent of a Pharisaical Scribe, or of a Pharisee who was also a Scribe. A Tartuffe they are the second of the with academic honors; an Academi-cian, who is at the same time a TO BE CONTINUED

These men therefore went up that morning to the Temple with much show of pride without and with many evil intentions within. They came Money-changers, bankers, amassers of silver and gold, are slaves of the witchcraft of the Demon more than all others. And it is to those men, the men of banks and of finance, that the grateful Demon gives power on this earth: they are the ones even today who rule indignation felt by them. God's

Jesus, in the midst of all these eyes turned on Him, waited for those men. It was not the first time that they had come about Him. How many discussions between Him Christ, who pitted the rich, but who hated and detested wealth, the great wall which cuts off from men the vision of the Kingdom of Heaven, had broken up the den of thieves and had purified the Temple where he was to teach the last truths which remained to Him to expound. But with that violent is the Messiah—because the Pharisees, unlike the skeptical Sadducees, sunk in legalized Epicurean-expound. But with that violent is more believed in ithe imminent.

day. In their eyes Jesus could not possibly be the Divine Redeemer. No spectacular and magic signs had been seen: He had contented Him-self with healing the sick, with talking about love, and with loving. They had seen Him dining with publicans and sinners, and, worse than everything else, had heard with horror that His disciples did not always wash their hands before sitting down to the table. But the greatest horror, the unendurable scandal, had been His lack of respect for the Sabbath. Jesus had not hesitated to cure the sick, even on the Sabbath, and He held it no no crime on that day to do good to His unfortunate brothers. He even shamelessly gloried in this, claim-

In the minds of the Pharisees But Jesus, having left the Temple, went His way towards Bethany, passing by the Mount of Olives.

THE VIPERS OF THE TOMBS

The next morning when he went back, the herdsmen and merchants had squatted down outside, wear even if they did not entirely imipeople.

The sentence pronounced and executed by Jesus against the honest thieves had set gossining Jerusalam thieves had set gossiping Jerusalem all agog. Those blows of the whip, like so many stones thrown into the Jerusalem frog-pond, had awakened the poor to joyous hope and had set the lords quaking with fear.

ness of heart of those extremely mild and tolerant professors would be dangerous and inopportune. The intolerable scandal, the reiterated profanation, the public challenge, called for condemnation and punishment. The false Christ must the lords quaking with fear.

And early in the morning, all had gone up there from the dark alleys and from the fine houses, from the work-shops and from the public squares, leaving all their affairs, with the realless anxiety of those Jesus was waiting for just those men. He wanted to say to them publicly, with the open sky as witness, what He thought of them, what God thought of them, the definite truth about them. The day before, with His whip, He had con-demned the animal-sellers and money-changers. Now He was dealing with the merchants of the Word, with the usurers of the Law, with the swindlers of Truth. The condemnation of that day did not exterminate them : with every generation such men spring up again, innumerable, with new names; but faces are stamped forever with this condemnation wherever they are born and command.

"We Keep Out the Sun' Raymond Bros. wnings and Tents

Order Early

182 York St. London, Ont. ALSO-

172 Sandwich St. West WINDSOR, ONT.

Rosary $1.00

The Catholic Record LONDON, ONT.

2-Room & L. L. 82. 85. J. 1

The Canadian Aladdin Co., Limited

Save Money, Send your old Rugs or Carpets to us. We make them into "VELVETEX" RUGS CANADA RUG COMPANY London, Ont Toronto, Ont Windsor, Ont Montreal, Que Phone or write for folder # 46.

PRESCRIPTION 2898

SESTED and tried for many years, our pre-scription for Asthma Relief has helped thou sands of sufferers from this distressing com-

It gives immediate relief, stops the cough, ease ne/tired, irritated membranes, restores natura reathing and promotes restful sleep. 2898 is a pleasant, harmless liquid prepara ind contains no harsh drugs. Our confiden-ts power and our experience with a vast nur of Asthma cases enables us to put a positive g intee on every bottle sold. If you are not ent atisfied, we refund the money.

Prescription 2898 costs $1.00 a bottle plus 100 or postage or 5 bottles for $5.00, express prepaid F. A. Lemon Drug Co. ST. THOMAS, ONT.

economy's sake I buy a supply and let it age" -says Mrs. Experience, > speaking of the economical use of soap.

"I always keep a good supply of Sunlight Soap on the shelf because I find that Sunlight actually improves with age. It becomes harder and so goes much further.

"With this added economy of lasting longer, I've learned that Sunlight is by far the most economical soap I can buy. The reason is that every particle of Sunlight is pure, cleansing soap—a little of it does a lot of work. Sunlight, you know, is guaranteed to contain no injurious chemicals or harsh filling materials to make the bar large and hard. These filling materials, of course, are just so much waste as far as cleaning goes.

"To any woman who wants to get real cleaning value out of a soap for her money, I decidedly say, 'Use Sunlight,' and keep a good supply on the shelf." Sunlight is made by Lever Brothers Limited, largest soap-makers in the world.

Sunlight Soap

Wonderful Egyptian Remedy "Samaria" Prescription for drunkenness, which science has proved is a disease and not a habit and must be treated as such. Prohibition legislation does not help the unfortunates. "Samaria" may be given in Tea, Coffee, or any liquid food. Send stamp for trial treatment.

SAMARIA REMEDY CO. TORONTO, ONT.

Steel Hospital Furniture

and guarantee satisfaction in quality and workmanship. All our goods are made in Canada by Canadians. Ask for Catalogue. The Metal Craft Co. Ltd.

E. C. Killingsworth FUNERAL DIRECTOR Open Day and Night 889 Burwell St. Phone 3971

J. SUTTON & SON Funeral Directors 521 Quelette Ave. Windsor, D PHONE SEN. 835

WINDSOR, ONT

The Catholic Record

Price of subscription—$2.00 per annum.
United States and Europe—$2.50.

ablisher & Proprietor, Thomas Coffey, LL. D.
Editors { Rev. James T. Foley, D. D.
Editors { Thomas Coffey, LL. D.
Associate Editor—H. F. Mackintosh.
Manager—Robert M. Burns.

Address business letters to the Manager. Address business letters to the Manager.

Jassified Advertising 15 cents per line mittance must accommany the order here CATHOLIC RECORD Box address i quired send 16 cents to prepay expense control of the control of

The CATHOLIC RECORD has been appround recommended by Archbishops Falce and Sbaretti, late Apostolic Delegates landa, the Archbishops of Toronto, Kings ttawa, and St. Boniface, the Bishop and on Hamilton, Paterborous And Ord

LONDON, SATURDAY, MARCH 21, 1925

CENTENARY OF THOMAS D'ARCY McGEE

One hundred years ago next 13th was born in Ireland. At seventeen the impassioned oratory of the fellow-countrymen in Boston, where journalist. Then the great O'Connell recalled him to his native Ireland whence he had to flee after taking part in the Smith O'Brien injournalism and later the lecture platform. His views, enlarged and enlightened by his varied experience, became more moderate, and for that reason less acceptable to his more ardent if less wise American compatriots. Still comparatively young in years, but old in exhe came to Canada in 1857. Here ability, the field for the great work that links his name forever with the history of his adopted country.

It might even be said that D'Arcy McGee was the first Canadian.

It is difficult for the younger generation to realize that Canada as we know it was non-existent when McGee came to Montreal. The Celtic imagination of Thomas

Canada of today:

"I see in the not remote distance one great nationality, bound like the shield of Achilles, by the blue rim of ocean. I see it quartered into many communities, each dis- its strength and its reputation; posing of its internal affairs, but each for himself to welcome every all bound together by free institutions, free intercourse and free commerce. I see within the round of that shield the peaks of the wes- every acquirement and every tern mountains and the crests of the eastern waves, the winding Assini- level of our destinies, to rise above boine; the five-fold lakes, the St. all low limitations and narrow cir-Lawrence, the Ottawa, the Saguenay, the St. John and the Basin of catholicity of spirit which embraces the Minas. By all these flowing all creeds, all classes and all races, he waters, in the valleys they fertilize, in order to make our boundless again to Butler's Catechism, the in all the cities they visit in their province, so rich in known and official Roman Church catechism in courses, I see a generation of indus-unknown resources, a great new trious, contented, moral men, free northern nation." in name and in fact—men capable of maintaining in peace and in war a constitution worthy of such a country." Nor was this the fancy of the poet; it was the prophetic vision of the statesman. And it is his work as a statesman in bringing about the practical realization of his vision that gives him his place in Canadian history and in the hearts of Canadians.

D'Arcy McGee was Irish and Catholic; but he was much more than an for himself," rise to the higher con-Irish Catholic Canadian, important and necessary as was his work in nation-building from this particular angle. But to confine his centenary celebration within these narrow celebration within these narrow Speaking of the Geneva Protocol imits would have been the most and the likelihood that it would afraid that the children might get serious mistake possible from a fail of its immediate object Elihu Catholic as well as from a national Root said: "You must not seek point of view.

Honorable Charles Murphy con- tions and centuries." of Canada.

of greater wisdom and wider free- manship.

dom there is something arresting in the sometime Irish rebel, setting out by the Honorable Mr. Murphy cat is out of the bag. forth as a reason for Confederation, can not fail to be of incalculable provinces." And this, be it rememcolonies altogether.

We have before us some letters the late Senator Coffey, founder generations and centuries." and publisher of THE CATHOLIC April 30, 1859, we take this extract : "Had I known they would reach you at Rochester I would have sent you the Quebec papers, such as they were, containing allusions to the debates-for reports they cannot be called. It is one of the evils of April Thomas D'Arcy McGee attendant on sitting in a city without a first rate press that the debates are stifled in their birth young Irish patriot at once found and public opinion is none the wiser its way to the hearts of his exiled or better for all our learned discussions. In Ottawa-if we go he spent the next three years as a there—this mischief will be aggravated."

There is something intimate about this that reveals the man and puts us in touch with him and surrection in 1848. He again took up his time; his realization of the importance at that time of reaching, educating, and inspiring the people; of keeping before them the great future he saw for the Canada of that time and the Canada of his vision. His complaint of the press of that day was doubtless justified; but the press of today from ocean perience and mature in judgment, to ocean carries his inspiring eloquence with its pregnant message he found the scope for his great as real and as necessary as it was sixty odd years ago.

This from an address to Protestant Irishmen of Quebec City in 1862 has deservedly been given place in many papers :

"We Irishmen, Protestant and Catholic, born and bred in a land of religious controversy, should never forget that we now live and act in a land of the fullest religious D'Arcy McGee first bodied forth the and civil liberty. All we have to do is, each for himself, to keep down dissensions which can only weaken, impoverish and keen hack the country ; each for himself to do all he can to increase its wealth, talent, to hail every invention, to cherish every gem of art, to foster every gleam of authorship, to honor natural gift, to lift ourselves to the cumscriptions, to cultivate that true

The Canadian of today whatever list? be his creed or racial origin can not read this without feeling something of the thrill that McGee's eloquence always gave those who listened to him. But the wisdom is greater than the eloquence, the patriotism not less than either.

Then that virile iteration "each for himself" points its moral today and always. We are apt to forget that only when Canadians, "each ception of patriotic and civic duty that Canada can realize that great destiny foreseen and striven for by D'Arcy McGee.

Speaking of the Geneva Protocol to measure the progress of nations Grateful alike as Catholics and as by the foot-rule of our short lives ; Canadians must we be that the you must think in terms of genera-ceived and organized this great We of this generation can better celebration on lines as broad as the grasp the magnitude of the task Canadianism of McGee himself. And of federating the provinces of since those seemingly far-off days British North America than could when Canada was only a hope, an McGee and his associates. They aspiration, a prophetic vision, there were sustained by faith and hope in has not arisen a Canadian broader a greatideal; its realization had to in his patriotism, more statesman- be left largely to the future. like in his views, more firm in his Disappointments, discouragements, faith or confident in his hope for have at times weakened the faith this "great new northern nation" and lessened the hope of those who carried on since 1867. We have But yesteryear we saw a grand- sometimes sorely needed the eloson of a rebel from Canada, rebels quent appeal of a McGee to sink all from South Africa and rebels from differences of race and creed in that Ireland, who had actually fought unity which is essential to the with all their might the armies of building of a new nation. There is Britain, seated around the Imperial now an economic division of inter-Conference table with the British ests in Canada that is comparable Prime Minister and other ministers in some measure to the political weaken the connection with the through the younger generation of do not more often ask their equally Empire so essential to these rising Canadians, to whom it will be intelligent Catholic neighbors as to bered, when British statesmen the vital history of Canada. It for information on those whose Our Anglican friends have recently traceptives was contrary to the openly advocated getting rid of the should and it will renew in us the avowed purpose is to make Catho- found it expedient to follow this laws of the Church, and exposed written by D'Arcy McGee to a mated Thomas D'Arcy McGee and more often than not, Catholics lend thus: friend, Dr. Michael Casey of the other founders of Canada. It but little encouragement to such Buffalo. Dr. Casey was a cousin of will help us to "think in terms of enquiries on the part of their shalt not have strange gods before perishing."

TEN COMMANDMENTS Protestants and Catholics live together in Canada as neighbors, trusting one another, helping one another and, as a general rule, respecting each other's religious beliefs and practices.

That is as it should be. But there are bigots of the baser sort, who take an unholy joy in attempting to destroy this mutual respect and good will. In the name of religion, they go about bearing false witness against their Catholic neighbors; and they glory in their shame.

An esteemed subscriber writes us of the activity of one such apostle of ill-will in a neighborhood where Catholics are few and Protestants many. This subscriber writes:

"A milfennium-dawn woman is going about here preaching and giving out magazines, pamphlets. etc. She called on me and tried to convince me that I believed a lot of impossible things. It would be laughable were it not that good Protestant neighbors are led to believe absurd calumnies about us Catholics. . . I enclose a couple of pages from a magazine the poor deluded woman distributed around here just to give you an idea of the awful stuff that good Protestants are led to believe about their Catholic neighbors. Whether or not it is worth answering I leave to your judgment; but it is a pity if something cannot be done to restore the kindly Christian feeling that this apostle of ill-will and false witness has done her best (or her worst) to destroy. . . .

"We have been reading THE CATHOLIC RECORD in our family for twenty-four years. Thank God for it; we have now three sons studying for the priesthood."

And now we shall quote from one of the less scurrilous articles from of the magazines that this harbinger of the dawn of the millennium peddles and distributes:

" How can a Roman Catholic child keep the commandments of God if he has not learned them? Turn Toronto, and it will be noted that the second commandment of God is God, one of the ten commandments, that is not taught to Roman Catho-

"Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate Me; and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love Me and keep my commandments." (Exodus 20: 4-6.) wise if they were only taught nine commandments of God, makes up for the elimination of the second commandment by splitting the tenth commandment in two. This is the way the tenth commandment is divided in Butler's Catechism, so as to complete the list and make it appear that the ten commandments are being taught:

"'9. Thou shalt not covet the neighbor's wife. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's goods.'

"This is nothing short of deliberate mutilation of the Word of God The purpose, however, is quite obvious. If children learned the second commandment they might hesitate to bow down to the graven images of Rome, or, worse still, they might turn Protestant when they grow up. . . Many have the retrospective glimpse of McGee, conceived, organized, and carried suppress! But there it is. The importance; the great thing is that solemnity and reverence of mar-

'that it will strengthen rather than benefit to Canada, especially to and thing that intelligent Protestants Commandments of God.

RECORD. From one dated Montreal SUPPRESSING ONE OF THE division of the Commandments. They are found in Exodus, chapter 20, and again in Deuteronomy, contained therein are distinctly tenalike speak of the Ten Commandments and mean the same thing. But they number them differently. Protestants divide our First Commandment into two, making of it their First and Second. Our Third, and so on until our Eighth becomes the Protestant Ninth, and less lies. our Ninth and Tenth together make up the Protestant Tenth.

This difference extends to the numerical division only; in all other respects the Decalogue is absowhen you speak to a Protestant Commandment that that number God gave us this Commandment: connotes with him: "Remember that theu keep holy the Sabbath day," and not "Honor thy father and thy mother" which is the Protestant's Fifth Commandment.

Now why is there a difference? The Catholic division, based on the Hebrew text, was made by St. ago in a work entitled Questions on in very truth the "Dark" Ages, and by flowers." Exodus. It was adopted by the that the Reformation was the Council of Trent. The reason that ushering in of the age of light, we include the Protestant Second in liberty and moral advancement, our First is that the First Com- that it comes as a surprise to now mandment enjoins the worship of find its most ardent champions the one true God and of Him alone; plumbing the very depths of pessimand therefore prohibits the making ism in regard to the times in which of images to be adored as idols. It we live. The spirit of the "great is one and the same subject-wor- upheaval" has now had some four ship. It commands true worship hundred years in which to demonand at the same time forbids false strate the truth of its pretensions worship. Therefore we make the First Commandment include the first six verses of the twentieth chapter of Exodus.

The reason for making two distinct commandments of our Ninth and Tenth is precisely the same as for making two distinct Commandments of the Sixth and Seventh-the Protestant Seventh and Eighth.

6. Thou shalt not commit adultery.

7. Thou shalt not steal. Both Protestants and Catholics agree in making these two separate But Here is a commandment of if theft and adultery are two distinct species of moral wrong, then the same must be said of the desire to commit these evils. To covet a neighbor's wife is quite a different thing from coveting his property. And in Deuteronomy v. 21, this is clearly indicated:

"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife: nor his house, nor his field, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is his."

Covetousnous, that inordinate and unlawful desire for what belongs to another, covers two distinct species of sin. Our divine Lord Himself (Matt. v. 28) makes this absolutely clear and unquestionable: "But I say to you, that whosoever shall look on a woman to lust after her, hath already committed adultery with her in his heart."

So the species of this sin of covetof theft. For this reason we have two Commandments: "Thou shalt not covet."

Now, thank God, Protestants and Catholics have the same Ten Commandments word for word; the difference is only in the division and numbering of them. The German

Turning to page 92 we find the Commandments given in full and chapter 5. But the injunctions here is that identical commandment the Universe pertinently remarks fold. So Protestants and Catholics wild magazine writer accuses us ing themselves, just as excavations are some minor verbal differences streets in old London reveal the due to different translations, but Roman occupation. It is now prothat is all.

Whether we call it the Eighth

"Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

and where has it landed itself? A leading Baptist minister of New York—one, too, who has made National Committee.

Somewhat of a name as an ultraThe list includes men of Irish Protestant-answers that question. In his regular Sunday sermon of the 8th, the Rev. Dr. J. R. Straton, thus arraigned present social conditions in the United States. No professed assailant of the Reformation could put it more strongly. And he attributed it all to the "Modernism" which predominates in all the sects today. This modernism, it may be added, is but the working out of Reformation prin-

DR. STRATON thus listed the evils under which the United States is laboring in this twentieth century: "Stolen in hold-ups, $2,650,000,000; squandered in swindling stock schemes, $6,000,000,000; lost in forgeries by trusted employees, $100,-000,000. The worst divorce record Judge Court of Appeal, Victoria of any nation on earth, not even excepting Japan. The transformexcepting Japan. The transformation of churches everywhere from great spiritual soul-winning centres into mere literary societies, social clubs and forums for the promulgation of modernistic and infidel views. The breakdown of parental authority through the destruction of faith in the Bible at the state of ation of churches everywhere from of faith in the Bible as the authoritative Word of God. The consequent loss of obedience and moral idealism among our youth resulting idealism among our youth resulting G. Brett, Lieutenant-Governor of in such things as the Leopold-Loeb Alberta, Edmonton; the Most Rev. H. murder. Sixty-four per, cent. of American school children proved dishonest by experiments conducted busnous is determined by the object by scientists and school teachers. coveted. It may be of the nature The complete destruction of multiof adultery; it may be of the nature tudes of American homes through the competition of commercialized amusements, the movie theatres, dance halls, etc. The decreases of the stronger and more successful the stronger and more successful W. T. Lucas, M. P., Lougheed, Alberta; the Right Rev. John T. Kidd, Calgary; J. W. Hefferman, K. C., M. L. A., Edmonton; Hon. W. R. Motherwell, M. P., Aberneelements of our society through the substitution of dogs for babies.'

THE RIGHT Rev. Dr. Walpole. Prime Minister and other ministers of the Crown.

Yet even in these spacious days of greater wisdom and wider free
The Comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and the Catholic less in Canada that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation, and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos before Confederation and that is comparable in some measure to the political chaos b

IN REFERENCE to this increasing infiltration of Catholic ideas and verbatim as they are found in the ideals into the more conservative twentieth chapter of Exodus. And elements of the separated bodies, -the Protestant Second-that our that they are continually reassertof deliberately eliminating. There through the overlaying stratum of posed, says the Universe, "to keep Hume Blake, Director, Union The writer quotes Butler's Cate- a light perpetually burning on the of Canada, Toronto; chism; he must therefore have Cenotaph, as tribute to our Dead of President, Canadian Railway Second becomes the Protestant known the truth all the while he the Great War. A beautiful idea, was maliciously penning his reck. but only a revival of an old Catholic practice when lights were kept P. C. Larkin, Canadian High In the light of the foregoing burning in death towers, as they explanation we may leave it to were sometimes called in the old fairminded and honest Protestants pre Reformation churchyards, and to decide whether writers such as really a light is only a symbol of friend of, for instance, the Fourth or the Ninth we both believe that it is not the first Catholic revival O'Keefe's Limited, Toronto; D. L. whole idea is intensely Catholic, but stone canopy was unveiled in the PROTESTANT controversialists have | churchyard of a well-known London so long been telling the world that parish church, to the memory of the centuries in which the Catholic the fallen men of the parish, and Augustine fifteen hundred years Church held undisputed sway were that crucifix is always surrounded

McGEE CENTENNIAL

PROMINENT MEN FROM ALL PARTS OF CANADA MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE The Gazette, Montreal, March 7

Ottawa, March 6 .- Perhaps the most outstanding feature in connection with the arrangements for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, on April 13th next, is the membership of the Honorary birth or descent prominent in every field of Canadian activity and their numbers extend from Prince Edward Island in the Atlantic to Vancouver Island in the Pacific

Up to the present the following have consented to their names being included in the Honorary National Committee

Lord Shaughnessy, Montreal Sir Vincent Meredith, Bart., President Bank of Montreal; Sir Herbert S. Holt, President Royal Bank of Canada; E. W. Beatty, President Canadian Pacific Railway Hon Chief Justice of Canada; the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, M. P., Leader of the official Opposition, House of Commons; Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, Cranbrook, B. C.; Hon. Gordon Hunter, Chief Justice of British Columbia, Victoria; Hon. Archer Martin, Judge Court of Appeal, Victoria; Hon. A. E. McPhillips. Vancouver; Hon. John Hart, for-Kamloops; Hon. Robert F. Green, Victoria; G. G. McGeer, K. C., Vancouver; Mr. Justice C. D. Macaulay, Dawson City; His Honor Dr. Robert G. Brett, Lieutenant-Governor of O'Leary, D. Alberta; Patrick Burns, President P. Burns & Co., Calgary, Alberta; Mr. Justice M. S. McCarthy, Calgary; Mr. Justice W. W. Walsh, Calgary; P. J. Parker, Manager Hudson Bay Stores, Calgary; E. J. Garland, M. P., Rumsey, Alberta; W. T. Lucas, M. P., Lougheed, thy, Sask.; Gerald Willoughby, President Irish Society, Saskatoon; T. C. Davis, barrister, Prince Albert, Sask.; J. J. Leddy, Manager

The centenary celebration as conceived, organized, and carried out by the Honorable Mr. Murphy can not fail to be of incalculable benefit to Canada, especially to and through the younger generation of Canadians, to whom it will be something of an object lesson in the vital history of Canada. It is marked Thomas D'Arcy McGee and the other founders of Canada. It works and the courage that animated Thomas D'Arcy McGee and the other founders of Canada. It works and the courage that animate the other founders of Canada. It works and the courage that animate the other founders of Canada. It works and the courage that animate the other founders of Canada. It works and the courage that animate the other founders of Canada. It works are a bridged for the sake of memorizing them more easily.

In the Catechism the commandance to founder the tother that the use of court of King's Bench, Winnipeg; Hon. J. Parameter of Canada. I Justice of Ontario, Toronto; Hon. F. R. Latchford. Chief Justice of the Second Divisional Court Toronto; Hon. R. M. Meredith Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, Toronto; Hon. H. T. Kelly, Puisne Judge, Supreme Court of Ontario, Toronto; Hon. W. N. Ferguson, Puisne Judge, Supreme Court of Ontario, Toronto; Sir Thomas White former Minister of Finance, Toronto; Sir Clifford Sifton, former Minister of the Interior, Toronto; Company, Toronto; R. Y. Eaton, President, T. Eaton Co., Toronto; E. T. Malone, K. C., Toronto; Hon. missioner, London, England; D. Spence, M. P., Toronto; Colone Agar Adamson, Toronto; A. T. De Lury, M. A., LL D., Toronto University, Toronto; Alexwe have quoted and the pedlars of that constant prayer which can ander Brady, Professor Political lutely the same for Protestants and their poisonous wares are doing alone be carried out by religious Science, Toronto University, Toronto, It is worth remembering God's work or the devil's. of the County of York, Toronto; W T. Kernahan, Managing Director, which we owe to the Great War.

Crucifixes are now to be found up and down the land in conspicuous places. Only last week a crucifix erected under a beautiful carved crucify and constant of the constant of the crucifix erected under a beautiful carved crucifix erected crucifix erected under a beautiful carved crucifix erected crucifix erected crucifix erected crucifix erected crucifix erected crucifix ere onto; Frank G. J. McDonagh, onto; Frank G. J. McDonagh, Barrister-at-Law, Toronto; J. T. Clark, Editor, Toronto-Star, Tor-onto; Harry McGee, Vice-President, T. Eaton Co., Toronto; Rev. Canon H. J. Cody, Toronto; William Pakenham, B. A., LL. D., Dean of the Ontario College of Figure 1 the Ontario College of Education, Toronto; Michael O'Brien, Toronto; W. J. Hammel, M. P., Raymond, Ont.; R. H. Halbert, M. P., Uxbridge; M. J. O'Reilly, K. C., Hamilton; the Right Rev. M. F. Fallon, London, Ont.; Rev. J. T. Foley, Editor of The CATHOLIC RECORD, London, Ont.; Major T. J. Murphy, K. C., London, Ont.: Hume Cronyn, London, Ont.; Philip Pocock, merchant, London, Ont.; the Right Rev. D. J. Scollard, North Bay; George W. Lee, Chairman, T. & N. O. Railway, North Bay; A. F. Healy, M. P., Windsor, Ont; E. A. Cleary, K. C., Windsor, Ont.; Judge J. J. Coughlin, Sandwich, Ont.; Dr. R. K. Anderson, M. P., Milton, Ont.; J. L. Killoran, K. C., Goderich, Ont.; Hon. R. J. Manion, M. P., Fort William; the Right Rev. P. T. Ryan, Pembroke; C. A. McCool, Pembroke; D. A. Jones, journalist, Pembroke; Hon. Charles McCrea, K. C., M. L. A., Minister of Mines, Sudbury; Judge John J. Kehoe, Sudbury; the Most Rev. M. J. Spratt, Kingston, Ont.; Rev. Canon W. F. Fitzgerald, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Kingston, C. Birmingham, Kingston; James A. McSloy, St. Catharines; W. H. Sullivan, St. Catharines; A. B. Collins, K. C., Belleville. Ont.; T. H. Thompson, M. P., Madoc Ont.; Hon. M. J. O'Brien, Renfrew I. E. Pedlow, merchant, Renfrew J. L. Murray, Renfrew; Hon. Geo. J. L. Murray, Kenfrew; Hon. Geo. McHugh, Lindsay; L. V. O'Connor, K. C., Lindsay; J. J. Duffus, Peter-borough, Ont.; C. J. Foy, K. C., Perth; Hon. George P. Graham, Perth; Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals; J. E. McGlade, K. C., Brockville W. M. Leacy, contractor, Prescott Judge Colin G. O'Brien, L'Original, Ont.; Judge J. R. O'Reilly, Corn-wall; Dr. R. F. Preston, M. P., Carleton Place; the Ven. Archdeacon Carleton Place; the ven. Architecton C. A. Carson, Morrisburg; Hon. Charles Murphy, K. C., Ll.D., Postmaster-General, Ottawa; Hon. H. B. McGiverin, K. C., M. P., Ottawa; Hon. Andrew Haydon, Ottawa; John J. Heney, Ottawa; Thomas Ahearn, President, Ottawa Electric Railway, Ottawa; Lieut.-Col. J. W. Woods, Ottawa; John Gleeson, contractor, Ottawa; M. J. Gorman, K. C., Ottawa; John J. Gorman, K. C., Ottawa; John J. Lyons, contractor, Ottawa; W. L. Scott, K. C., Ottawa; Edward Wallace, retired merchant, Ottawa; Hon. J. A. Mulligan, Senior Judge, County of Carleton, Ottawa; Rev. Dr. J. J. O'Gorman, Ottawa; Thomas Mulvey, K. C., Under-Secretary of State, Ottawa; Dr. B. G. Connolly, manager Control Trust

Connolly, manager, Capital Trust Co., Ottawa; W. J. Egan, Deputy

Co., Ottawa; W. J. Egan, Deputy Minister of Immigration, Ottawa; M. Grattan O'Leary, Editor, The Journal, Ottawa; Colonel John Thompson, Chairman, Pension

Thompson, Chairman, Pension Board, Ottawa; Sir Henry K. Egan, Ottawa; Rev. Canon J. F. Gorman, Ottawa; Hon. W. J. Roche, M. D.,

Ottawa; Dr. J. F. Kidd, Ottawa; Hon, H. J. Cloran, Ottawa; C. A. Magrath, Chairman, International

Magrath, Chairman, International Joint Commission, Ottawa; Harold M. Daly, Ottawa; Major H. Willis O'Connor, D.S.O., A.D.C., Ottawa; Col. Geo. Patterson Murphy, Ottawa; Capt. C. B. Reilly, Pensions Appeal Board, Ottawa; Lieut.-Colonel the Rev. J. B. Davidson Ottawa; P. Harbis.

Donaldson, Ottawa; J. B. Harkin, Superintendent, Dominion Parks, Ottawa; Wm. Foran, Secretary, Civil Service Commission, Ottawa; M. W. Casey, Roger Ryan, W. D.

Chairman, Civil Service Commission

Gough, W. J. McCarthy, Geo. Higgerty, P. T. Coolican, W. J. Glover, G. C. Anderson, Ottawa; E. W. Tobin, M. P., lumberman, Bromptonville; Frank S. Cahill, M. P., Broker, Campbell's Bay, Que.; J. J. Harpell, Garden City Press, Gardenvale, Que; Right Hon. C. J. Doherty, Montreal; W. J. Hushien, M. P., Montreal, Rev. Press, Gardenvale, Que.; Right Hon.
C. J. Doherty, Montreal; W. J.
Hushien, M. P., Montreal, Rev.
Gabriel Maguire, pastor, Westmount
Baptist Church, Montreal; Rev.
James Smyth, D. D., LL. C., Principal, Wesleyan Theological College,
Montreal; Rev. George Hanson,
M. A., D. D., Montreal; A. W.
Robertson, Hugh Quinlan, John
Quinlan, J. J. Guerin, M. D., H. J.
Trihev. K. C., Montreal; Rev. Gurian, J. J. Guerin, M. D., H. J. Trihey, K. C., Montreal; Rev. Gerald J. McShane, St. Patrick's Rectory, Montreal; Rev. W. H. Hingston, Rector, Loyola College, Montreal; John J. Scully, Montreal; Jo Hon. Smeaton White, President, The Gazette, Montreal; John Bassett, Vice-President, the Gazette, Montreal; Gerald F. Brophy, Montreal; Chas. Gurd, President Chas. Gurd & Co., Montreal; Dr. F. W. Gilday, President P Co., Montreal; Dr. F. W. Gilday, President Irish Protestant Benevolent Society, Montreal; Alex. McA. Murphy, Chas. Gurd & Co., Montreal; W. B. Lanigan, C.P.R., Montreal; Right Rev. J. E. Donnelly, Pastor, St. Anthony's Parish, Montreal; Mr. Justice E. Guerin, Judge John D. Purcell, H. J. Kavanagh, K. C., F. J. Laverty, K. C., N. A. Phelan, K. C., Thomas O'Connell, Dr. F. J. Hackett, Dr. E. J. C. Kennedy, Montreal; W. M. Weir, President, Canada Foundries & Gorgings Limited, Montreal; W. A. O'Brien, Broker, Fred McCourt, P. M. Wickham, Insurance Agent, Recorder G. ham, Insurance Agent, Recorder G. H. Semple, K. C., Montreal; Hen. Martin Madden, Quebec; Right Hon. Martin Madden, Quebec; Right Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, Quebec; Michael Monahan, Quebee; Hon. Frank Carrel, Quebec; the Most Rev. E. J. McCarthy, Halifax; George W. Kyte, K. C., M. P., St. Peters, N. S.; W. F. Carroll, LL.B., M. P., Syndey, N. S.; Professor H. L. Stewart, Dalhousie University, Halifax; Hon. R. G. Beazley, Halifax; Wm. A. Henry, K. C., Halifax; Right Rev. L. J. O'Leary, D. D., Bishop of Charlottetown, P. E. I.; C. Gavan Duffy, Barrister, Charlottetown; James J. Hughes, M. P., Souris, P. E. I.; Peter McCourt, Publisher, Charlottetown; Hon. A. B. Copp, M. P., Secretary of State for Canada, Sackville, N. B.; Hon. J. H. Barry, Chief Justice of New Brunswick, Fredericton, James P. ville, N. B.; Hon. J. H. Barry, Chief Justice of New Brunswick, Fred-ericton; James P. Byrne, Puisne Judge, King's Bench Division, St. John, N. B.; Charles J. Morrise; M. L. A., Newcastle, N. B.; William E. Scully, M. L. A., West St. John, N. B.; Dr. W. P. Broderick, St. John, N. B.

GERMAN EMBASSY AT VATICAN

By Rev. Dr. Wilhelm Baron von Capitaine

Dr. Eugene Klee, secretary of the German embassy at the Holy See, has been named counsellor of the embassy. He is the first Catholic ever to hold that post.

German Catholics are gratified at the appointment of Dr. Klee, particularly since the early close rela-tions of Catholic Germany and Italy recently were recalled at the laying of the foundation stone of the Gregorian University at Rome. Members of the Faith in this country have ever had a deep reverence university, which lent German Catholicism great aid in an

Pope Gregory XIII., the reformer University and the German College, in charge of the Jesuits, was affiliated with it. When the socalled Reformation drove the seminaries from many German dioceses, it was this college which trained many priests for the German field. when otherwise there would have been a dearth of spiritual workers.

German professors have had a leading place in the faculty of the university since the Sixteenth Century. When the Papal States were taken away, the world famed astronomer. Father Secchi, S. J., was per mitted to retain his post so that his observatory might continue its

CATHOLIC PUPILS WIN MOST

Cleveland .- Catholic school students carried off the majority of the prizes offered in the Flag Story Contest conducted here by the Western Reserve Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. All of the sixteen prizes offered in the eleventh and twelth grade group were won by children from Catholic schools and the winner of the first prize in the fifth and sixth grade group was also a pupil from a Catholic school. In each group the prizes were: first, $25.00; second, $10.00; and $1.00 for each of the next fourteen.

Commenting on the results of the contest, the Rev. John R. Hagan, Diocesan Superintendent of Schools,

"Our teachers have always tried to inculcate reverence for the flag and are unremitting in their effort to raise the standards of spoken and written language in our schools. prize contest is absolutely indicative of the relative standings of different schools. However, insofar as this contest is indicative of the achievement in the teaching of patriotism and good English, the results are naturally very gratifyHOLY SCRIPTURE WEEK

Ottawa Citizen, March 9

The Franklin Theater was crowded almost to the last seat last even-ing, when the Catholic Truth Society held the first of this year's Society held the first of this year's public gatherings for the discussion of the teachings of the Roman Church. Long before the time for commencing the meeting the audience crowded into the building, and when the chairman, Mr. W. L. Scott, K. C., President of the C. T. S., opened the proceedings he was faced by one of the largest and most interested audiences ever gathered together in the city on such an occasion. such an occasion.

His Grace, Most Rev. Joseph Medard Emard, D. D., Archbishop of Ottawa, delivered the opening lecture, taking as his subject, The Church and the Bible. Much interest was attached to the Archbishop's ecture, on account of the fact that it was the first time His Grace had delivered a public lecture in the city. He had been heard as a preacher often, but not in the Capital on the lecture platform.

In addition to the Archbishop, Rev. Dr. John R. O'Gorman, of Cobalt, delivered the first of his series of addresses on the Rible.

series of addresses on the Bible.

The meetings being held in the Franklin Theater every night this week will constitute the first Holy Scripture week ever conducted by the Catholic Truth Society, and the opening meeting was an indication of the widespread interest among men and women of all creeds in the subjects to be discussed. Representatives from other than Roman Catholic churches were scattered throughout the big audience. HIS GRACE'S ADDRESS

Archbishop Emard, in the course Archbishop Emard, in the course of his fine lecture, gave a comprehamive summary of the need, nature, authority and utility of the divinely inspired Scriptures. He added that the best single document on the question was the Encyclical on Holy Scripture which Pope Leo XIII. issued to the bishops of the world in 1893. Following the footsteps of this great pontiff, the footsteps of this great pontiff, the Archbishop first showed the necessity of supernatural revelation that mortals may know and reach the supernatural goal for which they were created. This revelation was in the early period of man's history oral only, but from the time of Moses, part of it came to be written down by men inspired of God for this purpose. Book after book was thus composed, the law, the early and later histories, the prophetical and sapiential writings, till, the century before Christ, the collec-tion of divinely inspired books known today as the Old Testament had been completed.

Jesus Christ, the Son of God, who was the object of the whole Old Testament, opened the minds of His apostles that they might understand the Scriptures, thus constituting these apostles and their successors, the bishops of the church, the offi-cial interpreters of Scripture. Moreover, by the inspiration of the Holy Ghost, six of the apostles and two of their disciples wrote the twenty-seven books which, when gathered together, formed the New Testament and completed the canon of Scripture. The apostles, however, did not put all the teaching of Christ to writing and the author-ity they received from Him to preach the gospel orally, was not lessened, but helped by the composi-tion of the New Testament. The Roman Catholic Church, he said, is therefore the organ of the un-written revelation contained in her apostolic traditions and the interapostolic traditions and the inter-preter of the unwritten revela-tion contained in her divinely inspired Scriptures. Since the Scriptures are the Word of God, since they contain no error, their utility for all who read them de-youtly and understand them rightly follows as a matter of course. Grace concluded by encouraging

Bible reading of this nature. REV. DR. J. R. O'GORMAN

The chairman, Mr. W. L. Scott, K. C., President of the Catholic Truth Society of Ottawa, after expressing the indebtedness of the iety to His Grace for the wonderful insight which he had afforded those present into the mysteries of Holy Writ, introduced to the audience the speaker who will have charge of the rest of the Holy Scripture week, Rev. Dr. John R. O'Gorman, parish priest of St. Patrick's Church, Cobalt, Ontario. Dr. O'Gorman stated that the task before him this week, that of discussing the scientific questions relating to the composition, preserva-tion and use of the Bible, was singularly facilitated by the firm foundations laid in the official utterance they had just heard from the lips of the scholarly Archbishop of Ottawa. Any one who desires to study the Bible must first know what distinguishes this Book from all others existing in the world. This characteristic quality of the Bible is its divine inspiration. For the books of Scripture were not produced by the will of man at any time but the holy men of God wrote "inspired by the Holy Ghost" (2 Peter I, 21.) The nature, extent, and proof of inspiration formed therefore the scope of his opening

When we speak of the writer of his mind and moved his will, and as down all that and only that which God wanted. The Book was, therefore, composed by God and man acting together. The human author was a free instrument in the hands of the Holy Ghost. Who ever remains the principal author of all the Bible. In this way an epistle of St. Paul is really the word of God and really the composition of St. Paul. We must not, however, suppose that God dictated the epistle to St. Paul as one dictates a letter to a stenographer. The effect of divine inspiration was no less effectivities in the composition was no less effectively and the composition of th to a stenographer. The effect of divine inspiration was no less effective than dictation but it was far more intimate and psychological, and it in no way dispensed the human author from the labor of composition and deprived him of his liberty. The human author wrote freely in apt words and with infallible truth God's message to man. Inspiration extended to everything in the Bible and its existence was proved by the witness stence was proved by the witness

FOREIGN MISSION NEWS LETTER

FAITH IS SOLID IN PAGAN LANDS

A Chinese girl, a mere mite of ten, implored a Missionary Bishop to confirm her. The Bishop hesi-tated for the child was so young, but she pleaded so ardently for the Sacrament that he comm question her.

"Suppose you are confirmed, and the mandarin throws you into prison and questions you about your Faith, what will you answer?"
"I shall answer that I am a Christian, My Lord."
"But if he orders you to renounce

"But if he orders you to renounce the Gospel what will you do?"
"I shall answer, 'Never!'"
"Then if he calls in executioners and says to you, 'You will renounce or your head will be cut off,' what will you reply?"
"I shall say, 'Cut!'"
The child was confirmed.

The child was confirmed.

ABANDONED CHILDREN IN EGYPT

Abandoned children, sons and daughters of the lonely streets, are now being taken care of by the tender Sister Cecile, of the Daughters of Charity. She bought a strip of ground from the government at Cairo which lies on the fringe of the vast desert, and here she has erected a monument to her zeal, solitary and alone it stands in the was commanded by the Pope to resume his episcopal charge. He sought permission this Bishopric and take up a solitary life but this permission was never granted. The Saint died in 1182, and was canonized two years later.

Thursday, April 2.—St. Francis of Paula, left his home in Calabria to take up the life of a hermit. He established the organization known as the "Minims." so-called to CHOSEN ONES A native of Fort Hall, East Africa, accused the nuns of poisoning those whom they visited during a plague, and he announced in council before the head men of the village that he determined to kill them and thus rid his country of the pest. But God watched, and the nuns warned of his intention departed from the village, taking different routes. Soon after, this black was poisoned himself by the meat he ate. This opened his eyes and, together with the humble administration and remonstrance of one of "those nuns," it brought with having worked hany intractes. He died at the age of ninety-one on Good Friday, 1507.

Friday, April 3.—St. Richard of Chichester, refused wealth and an offer of a brilliant marriage in order to study for the religious life at Oxford. He became Chancellor of the University and also Chancellor of t administration and remonstrance of one of "those nuns," it brought him closer to Christian teaching and when a month later he took ill with pneumonia he called the nun who had ministered to him and begged to be instructed and baptized. His death was happy.

AN AMERICAN SAINT AND MISSIONARY tinent cannot rejoice in the birthplace of St. Peter Claver who in 1896 was styled by the Church "the heavenly patron of all missions to the Negroes," at least the city of Cartagena, South America, can and should claim as its proudest mark of distinction that within its precincts he lived, labored and died.

All that remains of the Saint lies beneath the high altar of his Church in that city of his divine charities, and perhaps, under God, all the magnificient work being who in 1622 signed his name in a perpetual vow as "Peter, forever

the slave of the Negroes."

Through the heat of summer and in the stormy days of spring and The record of his charities and sacrifices surpasses belief. "Forty years of labor among the most despised and wretched of the children of men" would sum it up in a few words, and what sublimities of thought and effort, what transcendent charity and love for humanity what goal for the clark the shores on either side of the lake as he plies his trade of fisherman,—ties of thought and effort, what transcendent charity and love for humanity what goal for the clark. humanity, what zeal for the glory of God are contained in these story so black, as that of the brutalities of the early slave dealers, and in their midst, Father Claver moved as a veritable angel George, Long Lake and Jackhead of mercy. No toil was too severe, no task too loathsome, no burden too great to relieve the ills and are already baptized Catholics and, sufferings of his beloved slaves, with the exception of a few Protes-He baptized more than three hundred thousand negroes. No in the city. Thousands gathered before the college, all business came to a standatill. His inter-little spiritual father is not better ment had to be deferred from day to day until the love and grief of al! were solaced by a last act of Perfection."

Tuesday, March 31.—St. Benjamin, deacon and martyr, was one of those who suffered martyrdom under the Persian King Varanes, grandson of Sapor III. The Saint was imprisoned for a year and then released with the admonition not to speak again of religion. When he ignored this order, he was tortured ignored this order, he was tortured and finally executed.

Your Grace's devoted servant in Christ, J. DE G. and finally executed.

Wednesday, April 1.—St. Hugh, Bishop of Grenoble, was fortunate in receiving from his earliest years the strongest impressions of piety by the example and care of his parents. His father, late in life, became a Carthusian monk after a long and honorable career as an officer in the army. St. Hugh was chosen Bishop of Grenoble but resigned after two years and entered the austere Abbey of Casa-Dei in Auvergne. He lived there for a year until he was commanded by the Pone to resume his enisconed bers observed a Lenten fast perpetually. St. Francis is credited A native of Fort Hall, East With having worked many miracles. He died at the age of ninety-one on 1258 while engaged in preaching a Crusade against the Saracens.

Saturday, April 4.—St. Isidore,
Archbishop, was a member of a
Ducal family of Cartagena in Spain. He succeeded his brother Leander in the archiepiscopal see of Seville American Catholics are wont to believe that in St. Rose of Lima America possesses its solitary boast of heroic sanctity, but if this con-His two brothers and his sister Florentina also are saints.

> THE CATHOLIC CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY OF CANADA

> > INDIAN MISSIONS

Away to the North, on the eastern shore of Lake Winnipeg, about a J. D. M., Nelson... week's journey in summer from the city whose name it bears, dwells a done today for the enlightenment and saving of the black races in Caribbean lands is due to the inspiration of this Jesuit Missionary stored up in a body of such limited dimensions.

through deep snow and over shimmering ice as he comes words!
Cartagena in his day was the chief slave mart of the New World. Human annals contain no something which he cannot give.

Lake, there is an Indian reserva tion. Twenty-five of the Indians tants, the others seem well posed towards our holy religion. The Anglicans have erected a wonder that at his death extra-ordinary demonstrations were made Chapel there and the Catholics are casting station to disseminate edulittle spiritual father is not better in New York that "broadcasting" off. His heart is sad like that of a originated in the parable of the Sower and the Seed. fond parent whose children cry for food which poverty renders him

Sunday, March 29.—Sts. Jonas, Barachisius and their Companions, martyrs, were executed after horrible tortures during the reign of Sapor, King of Persia. They had refused to obey the orders of the King to worship the official Persian gods.

Monday, March 30.—St. John Climacus was so noted for his learning that while still very young he was called the "Scholastic." In order to perfect himself in the study of the lives and writings of the services may be held. as Persian gods.

Monday, March 30.—St. John Climacus was so noted for his learning that while still very young he was called the "Scholastic." In order to perfect himself in the study of the lives and writings of the Saints, he retired to Mt. Sinai. At the age of seventy-six he was made Abbot of Mt. Sinai. The is said for the purpose. My heart At the age of seventy-six he was made Abbot of Mt. Sinai. The most noted of his many writings is called the "Climax, or Ladder of Perfection."

The sants, he retired to mt. Sinai. There is no house suitable of large enough for the purpose. My heart the most noted of his many writings is called the "Climax, or Ladder of Perfection."

The sants, he retired to mt. Sinai. Sinai. There is no house suitable of large enough for the purpose. My heart the most noted of raising most noted of the money. I know you have none and my only hope lies in the charity of Church Extension Society.

> Will some good friend send us $500 for this Chapel? The act of charity will bring joy and consolation to the donor, gladden and encourage the hearts of the poor Catholic Indians, be the cause of great rejoicing to the faithful missioner and merit the eternal reward promised by Him in whose name the gift of even a cup of cold water shall receive a fitting recompense. Contributions through this office should be addressed:

EXTENSION, CATHOLIC RECORD OFFICE London, Ont. DONATIONS

Previously acknowledged $10,246 99 J. C. M., Grates Cove..... Friend, Little Current...

Friend, St. John, N. B... Smith's Falls.... Belanger, Port

BURSES

IN THE NAME OF JESUS EVERY

Name, we ask our friends to add a mite to our Burses, especially Holy Name Burse. Such donations will be used expressly for the education of a missionary for China, whither Jesus to multitudes who have never heard it. If you aid him to accomplish this project, you will have a share in this glorious apostolate. Help to carry to a pagan land the Name whereby all men shall be saved. Could there be a higher or a holier way of beginning the New Year, or a surer means of drawing down upon yourselves God's best

QUEEN OF APOSTLES BURSE Previously acknowledged $3,230 88

Previously acknowledged $1,842 95 IMMACULATE CONCEPTION BURSE Previously acknowledged $2,998 48 COMFORTER OF THE AFFLICTED BURSE

Previously acknowledged $490 95 J. C. M., Grates Cove...... 1 00 ST. JOSEPH, PATRON OF CHINA BURSE Previously acknowledged $8,417 88

Wm. Gillis, Old Bridge port ..... 5 00 BLESSED SACRAMENT BURSE Previously acknowledged $560 80 M. G. H., Sherbrooke, Que. 25 00 J. C. M., Grates Cove ......

RT. FRANCIS XAVIER BURSE Previously acknowledged $419 80 HCLY NAME OF JESUS BURSE Previously acknowledged $498 25 HOLV HOULS BURSH

Previously acknowledged $1,971 88 Joseph Benning, Lawn.... 3 00 LITTLE FLOWER BURST Previously acknowledged $1,868 24 St. Peter's Church, Burnley. Charlotte Houghton, Thet-

SACRED HEART LEAGUE BUSSE Previously acknowledged $3,556 20

THE SOWER AND THE SEED

The Rev. John Handly, C. S. P. who has been placed in charge of the Paulist Fathers' project of incation in Catholic doctrine and Cath-olic activities, tells his parishioners when we speak of the writer of the Bible being divinely inspired, we use these words in their literal meaning. God actually enlightened his mind and moved his will, and as a result the inspired writer wrote all were solace by a last act of twenty renders him unable to provide.

His zeal is being rewarded in winning souls, and the necessity of having a chapel he realizes at this time more than ever before. There are many who are doubt-unable to provide.

His zeal is being rewarded in winning souls, and the necessity of having a chapel he realizes at this time more than ever before. There "There are many who are doubt-

We Can Help You

with practical suggestions showing how your Will should be drawn for the future protection of your wife, children or others dependent upon you.

Our Chief Work

is acting as Executor under Wills and as Administrator of Estates, giving an experienced service that costs no more than that of a private individual

We will be glad to confer with you free of charge if you will write us, or call at our office.

Capital Trust Corporation

10 Metcalfe Street

174 Bay Street Toronto, Ontario

Thrifty People Cannot Afford

either to risk their savings in speculative enterprises or to fail to obtain the best rates of interest consistent with safety.

The Ontario Loan & Debenture Co. one of Canada's strongest Mortgage Loaning Corporations Capital $1,750,000. Reserve Fund $2,575,000

> ALLOWS 31/2 % on Deposits

51/4 % on Debentures

paid or compounded half-yearly. Full particulars and folders gladly given on request.

Offices: Dundas St. at Market Lane LONDON, ONTARIO

A. M. SMART, President. T. H. MAIN, Manager.

The Artistic and the Practical

Both are combined in the Sherlock-Manning Piano.

Sound sturdy construction of all parts makes an ideal foundation for the beauty of tone and finish characteristic of this exceptional instrument.

SHERLOCK-MANNING · 20th Century Piano ·

Sherlock-Manning Piano Co.

The Piano worthy of your Home

while to broadcast the Word of God 5 00 in spite of the fact that some of the seed fell by the wayside, and some on a rock, and some was chocked with thorns. He thought it worth while because He hoped some would fall on good ground and bring forth fruit.

PAPAL MEDAL STRUCK IN HONOR OF K. OF C. WORK

(By N. C. W. C. News Service) A Papal Medal has been struck off A Papal Medal has been struck off in commemoration of the founding of St. Peter's Oratory, one of the Knights of Columbus recreational houses in the Eternal City. The institution which has won this signal honor for the Knights was accepted in 1924 by Pope Pius XI.

The medal bears on one side a likeness of the Pontiff and on the reverse a miniature of the facade of the Oratory with the great dome of St. Peter's in the background. A Latin inscription reads:

"To fulfill the wishes of our Holy Father, Pius XI., the Knights of Columbus at their own expense founded this Oratory of St. Peter for the Christian development of Roman youth.'

> PATRIARCH MAY GO TO JERUSALEM

By Dr. Alexander Mombelli (Jerusalem Correspondent, N. C. W. C.)

In the religious and political quarters of the Holy Places the news that the Greek Schismatic Patriarchs, Photius of Alexandria, Damianos of Jerusalem, and Gregorius of Antioch, are considering the state of the second the second that the second the second the second that the second the second that the ing transfer of the See of the supreme authority of Orthodoxy from Constantinople to Jerusalem,

Chief, Constantin, was driven away from his residence in Constanting

As the Orthodox Patriarchate of the Holy City is very needy, the National Bank of Greece is requested to loan to it, at low interest, a sum from 500,000 to 2,000,000 pounds sterling to cover the expense of the transfer.

It is said that Anglicans are cordially supporting the proposed transfer, which is very favorable to their movement towards union between Anglicanism and Orthodoxy. If the plan should be realized, it would have very great religious and political consequences, not only in the Holy Places, but also in relation to all the Christian dissident churches in the East.

Everybody Hopes to be Financially Independent-But Few Ever Attain That Goal

FOURTH SUNDAY IN LENT

THE VIRTUE OF HUMILITY "Josus, therefore, when He knew that they would come to take Him by force and make Him king, fled again into the mountains, Himself alone," (John vi. 15.)

Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ teaches no less by actions than by words. The duty of the Christian is not only to listen to His words of wisdom, but also to view His wise acts; and to learn lessons of vast importance from both. Christ is the model upon which every Christian must build up his spirituality, and according to which he must pass every day of his earthly life. If he puts himself too far off from this great Archetype, or fails to view Him when endeavor-ing to make of himself a true man, he will achieve nothing of lasting worth. United to Christ, the Christian becomes a veritable Christ himself; separated from Christ, he can accomplish nothing praise-worthy before his Heavenly Father. One of the principal lessons Christ inculcated and taught by word and action was that of humility. He was God, and nothing that man could do to Him or for Him would detract one whit from His dignity or essence. Though, if man gave Him the honor due to Him, it would add what generally is called "external glory;" but even this, Christ did not search for. When offered to Him, He accepted it—not so much because of His own sake, but for the sake of the Christian to whom it would become meritorious. But He appeared not as God before the world. He came as man; thereby hiding, to a great extentnay, in a certain sense, totally—His divinity. The reason for all this is evident. He came to save man, and in order to accomplish this work, it was necessary that He should suffer. This suffering was to be voluntary on His own part. He knew it to be the will of His Father, and He freely underwent even torture for the sake of that will, and to conquer accursed sin.

Man is different, though he may profess himself to be a Christian. If God has endowed him with some extraordinary talent, some transcendent quality, some exceptional natural trait, he wishes to shime by these lights before the world. Certainly God gave them to him for a purpose, but evidently He did not intend man to use them for his own interest. It was not the Maker's intention that man should place himself on a plane far above his fellow-men, by means of his gifts; but that he make use of them to serve mankind effectually and God humbly.

The truly great man is he who is blind to his own greatness, but openly awake to the good deeds that he realizes it to be his duty to per-form. He may thank God—in the silence and secrecy of his own heart—that he has been blessed by Him in an exceptional manner; but, externally, he must show no sign of it. Nor need he think—if he use his talent well—that it will not, by its own power, illuminate the rest

There are too many who attempt to build structures on other foundations than that of true Christian spirituality. As a consequence, by their very actions, they become repulsive to the true Christian. Their deeds shine not before the rest of the world, as lights to lead; but they cast gloom where light finds it difficult to penetrate. They look for honor; they esteem too highly the wavering love of other fellow beings like, or unlike, themselves: they desire their glory to be manifested here; and think little of whether or not a crown will await them in the world to come. Why is this so? Because they have chosen other models, and, if they have not despised Christ, at least they have neglected Him. Their own pride has been able to sway them, and it has blinded their view of the real lasting things of life and of the eternal glory beyond. They seem to bask in the faint sunshine of the pleasures of this life, content to struggle for a few more earthly things, and willing to die in the clasp of worldliness.

There was never a time more than today—and perhaps never in another country more so than in our own—when humility and its consequent virtues were so vital to the individual. This is an age of efficiency, of education of quick grasping, with means innumerable of working out one's temporal wel-fare. All this—while it serves usefully for the body—is liable to become most detrimental to the soul. He who with eyes open and mind unprejudiced casts his gaze over the multitudes around him will not fail to discern quickly that there is a great rush for the tem-poral and fleeting, and much sloth-fulness with regard to the spiritual and eternal. Perhaps it is for a time lasting; but undoubtedly there will come a day when the Almighty will strike, as with light-

The work of Christ will not be in vain. His heavenly Father will have it so that, if people will not meekly stand at the foot of His cross and, with sympathetic com-passion, kiss the sacred wounds of His feet and feel the influence of the dropping blood, they will experience the sharpness of the sword. For where an example so impelling will not lead, the stinging lash of an angered God must compel.

RESTORES FULL SOLEMNITY TO CUSTOM OF FIFTEEN CENTURIES

When the Pope recently blessed the Agnus Dei in anticipation of the beginning of the Holy Year, he followed a custom which had its origin in the earliest Christian centuries. Moreover, he invested the ceremony with full solemnity, wing the form prescribed for the using the form prescribed for the ceremonial on the occasion of the beginning of a Pontificate, the ushering in of each five-year period and the inauguration of a Holy Year.

During the reigns of the immediate predecessors of Pius XI. the ceremonial was not always marked by the impressiveness of former years. Pius IX. during his long Pontificate blessed the Agnus Dei, only five times and this ceremony always took place in the Basilica of the Holy Cross of Jerusalem, in Rome. The last time was in 1870. From then until 1900 the Agnus Dei were no longer blessed by the Pope, but by the Papal Almeners or Sacristans delegated by His Holiness. Leo XIII. resumed the custom of the solemn blessing in the Holly year 1900 in the Consist the Holy year 1900, in the Consistorial reception on June 7, of that year. In 1903 while preparing for the ceremony he died. At that time the wax images were already prepared for the blessing and his successor Pius X. had them blessed by the Papal Sacristan in the Basilica of the Holy Cross of Jerusalem in Rome. In 1906 Pius X. solemnly blessed the Agnus Dei in the Sistine Chapel. Benedict XV. blessed them twice, both times in the Consistorial Hall, first on July 25, 1905, the Faget of St. Lange 1905, the Feast of St. James after whom he was called, and on August 1, 1920. Pius XI. has already blessed the Agnus Dei once, on December 29, 1922, in the first year of his Pontificate.

PREPARED BY CISTERCIAN MONKS The Agnus Dei, by virtue of an ancient privilege, are prepared by the Cistercian Monks of the Monastery of the Holy Cross of Jerusalem in Rome, with the wax supplied by the Holy Apostolic Palaces. They bear on one side the figure of the mystic Lamb and on the other the image of Jesus, the Blessed Virgin, or of some Saint who has special relation with the events of the Pontificate in which they are blessed. This year 1,000 pounds of wax were used in the sacred images added-because of special occasion-to those already existing which are those of the Madonna del Portico whose centenary was celebrated last year, and of the Holy Door. Amongst the images which have already been used and which this time was also imprinted on the wax is that of Our Lady of Guadalupe in Mexico.

The blessing was both beautiful and symbolic. In the Sala Consistoro a small sltar was erected to the right of the Papal throne. To the left were the large tables on which were placed the wax images ready to be blessed, and in front of the throne a large silver shell full of holy water blessed by the

The Pope after a brief prayer at the altar, ascended the throne and put on the pluvial and the mitre. Then he went to the shell of Holy Water and recited the prayers of the rite after which he poured into the water an ampulla of balm and of every stain." then another of sacred Chrism. Then he mixed the three sacred elements with a large gilded spoon and finally blessed and incensed the wax figures. He then reascended the throne and took off the pluvial and put on a large white surplice and apron. He descended again to the shell and from the Abbot of the Cistercian Monks took the wax images which were presented to him on a large silver vessel, and gradually immersed them in the water. He then extracted them with the large gilded spoon while the monks presented other yessels to receive them, and deposited them on the side-board near the altar.

The Pope fulfilled the rite for considerable number of Agnus Dei; then reascended the throne, while the Almoner and Sacristan Bishops continued to immerse and extract the remainder.

Not all the wax images were immersed the same day because there were too many. After the ceremony the water blessed by the Pope and the large silver shell were transported to the Basilica of the Abbot and the monks during the next few days continued the rite.

grieved at her pa:sing.

Mrs. Kernan died a Catholic, a

FIFTEEN CENTURIES OF HISTORY

fifteen centuries of history. It was begun by the Archdeacon of the Roman Church in the presence of family returned to the Faith of the Pope who personally distributed them on Sunday in albis. On that day during the singing of the Agnus Dei at the Solemn Mass the car-Dei at the Solemn Mass the cardinals, bishops, priests, deacons and people filed before the Pope. The cardinals and bishops knelt and received two blessed wax figures the Pope who deposited them the Pope who deposited them

The distribution was repeated

FIVE MINUTE SERMON POPE BLESSES AGNUS towards the Pope and in a voice louder each time announced;

DEI Domine, Domine, iste sunt ogninovelli alleluia! (Lord, Lord, these then put aside a certain number to send as gifts to sovereigns.

Preparation of the blessed waxes was carried out with great solemnity and regulated with the greatest care. There were attached a subdeacon and 21 acolytes who in the same Apostolic Palace fashioned the wax supplied by the Pope. Their meals were supplied to them from the kitchen of the Pontiff and dinner was always prepared for 25 persons in case anyone else might persons in case anyone else might come in unexpectedly. The Pope every day sent from his own table "meliorem platillum suum plenum cibariis" (the best dish full of food from his table), But the discipline was very severe and during the work of making the Agnus Dei no one could leave.

The Agnus Dei were held in great esteem and when the Pope sent them as presents to princes and sovereigns they were received as a sign of special favor. The Popes themselves to prevent the Agnus Dei from becoming articles of gain or trade, through repeated Bulls forbade the rating and soling of forbade the making and selling of them and even the gilding of them. Leo IV. sent an Agnus Dei in 796

Charlemagne who greatly valued it. Urban V. sent one to the Emperor of Constantinople accompanying it with Latin verses he had compos which described its virtues. Sixt V. more than once during his Pontificate sent them to many Christian princes. St. Louis, King of France, having received an Agnus Dei from the Pope, had a gold medal coined on which was imprinted the same image as was on the blessed wax.

THEIR MYSTICAL SIGNIFICANCE The mystical significance of the Agnus Dei is described in ancient declaration printed on the sheet of paper which accompanied the distribution of the blessed waxes, as follows: "These Agnus Dei are manufactured with pure white virgin wax, indicating the human nature of Christ taken through divine virtue in the very-pure womb of the Virgin Mary without sin. On the Agnus Dei is imprinted the Lamb, the symbol of that immaculate Lamb which on the Altar of the Cross was immolated for the redemption of man. The plessed water used is the element through which in both the old and New Testaments God accomplished sacraments and miracles. The balm is now mixed in it which signifies the good perfume of Christ with which Christians must be perfumed in every act and every word. The sacred Chrism is infused which is used to prepare and con-secrate other things particularly dedicated to divine worship, such as temples, altars, priests, and in which is recognized Charity, the noblest of all virtues.

This document also mentions the spiritual efficacy which the intention of the Church and the blessing of the Supreme Pontiff attribute to these holy wax images. They are blessed "because the faithful seeing and touching the image of the Lamb imprinted on them remember under that symbol the mystery of our redemption, and, feeling it, moved to gratitude, they bless the Divine Goodness, they love and venerate it, and have faith that in its grace they can obtain the for-

Besides the Church in giving the Agnus Dei to the faithful desires and implores that they should be protected by God, in virtue of the sign of the Cross imprinted on them from the wickedness of evil spirits, from frauds, diabolic temptations, dangers of child-birth, from tempests and lightning, pestilence and contagion, from fire and floods and from any calamity, from the snares of men and demons, from sudden death and in a word from every evil and danger through the merits of the holy mysteries of the Life and Passion of Jesus Christ.

GENTLECONVERTHELD FRIENDS

Washington, Jan. 30. - Mrs. Sophie Kremer Kernan, a gentle, happy little old lady, died here Tuesday in her ninety-first year. Three bishops, of two different faiths, expressed their sorrow at the loss of a personal friend; two universities mourned her almost as they would a beloved member of their own communities and the Holy Cross in Jerusalem where of persons prominent in the Capital convert in her seventy-eighth year after she had reared three of her The blessing of the Agnus Dei has children as Catholics and lent her their fathers. The esteem in which she was held and the unusual circumstances of her conversion won the first women of the South to have pointed out a modern way to organize a war hospital for the attract the man in the street. By that same day at the Pope's Mass in the Lateran Palace. As soon as the Benediction was given, an acolyte presented himself at the door of the hall bearing a vessel full of Agnus Dei and advancing three times of same and a signal at the door of the was later named for her. Salem Female Institute, the daughter that the door of the hall bearing a vessel full of Agnus Dei and advancing three times was married to Dr. Thomas Dickinson Kernan, who was Stonewall Jackson's physician in his last

novelli alleluia! (Lord, Lord, these are the new-born lambs, alleluia!)
Then the Pope took them and distributed them to his entourage and then put aside a certain number to the put aside a certain number to practice their faith. When the family came to Virginia, however, both Dr. Kernan and his father, with Mrs. Kernan's encouragement, resumed the practice of their Catholicity, and three of the children were reared as Catholics. Later, two more of the children were received band's death, herself became a Catholic, at St. Patrick's Church. Her conversion was not a result of a sudden conviction, but of gradual leaning toward the faith of her family. Until her death she retained the close friendship of Bishop Rondthaler, one of the two Moravian prelates in the United States.

Bishop Russell of Charleston and Bishop Turner of Buffalo also had been her warm friends for years. She had a faculty, by her tranquil, yet happy outlook on life and her intense and varied interests, of attaching friends to her. Thus, despite her age, she was known per-sonally by almost the entire faculty of the Catholic University, near her home, and by many at Georgetown University, where a grandson was educated. Students by scores dropped in at her house for a word of bright wisdom from her, and on the occasion of her ninetieth birthday, she received more than a dozen telegrams from students of the two institutions in various parts of

But while she was especially beloved by the university communities, she had many friends in other walks of life. Cardinal Gibbons knew and revered her, and sent her his autographed picture. At her last birthday observance, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of Theodore Roosevelt, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson were among those who sent felicitations. Hundreds of others joined in the Requiem Mass for her Thursday at St. Patrick's Church here.

> MEDIAEVAL CUSTOM RESTORED

By Rev. Dr. Wilhelm Baron von Capitaine Muenster, in Westphalia, has just held a picturesque ceremony in which an ancient official, once essential for his services but now valuable only as a tradition beloved of the people and of strangers, was reinstated in his functions. This functionary was the watchman who, with his predecessors, has for centuries announced the passing of the hours from the tower of the famous old Lambertus Church. When the difficult post-war days came, Muenster found that because of inflation, it had no money with which to pay the watchman, and he was discharged. There was a general feeling of sorrow at the passing of the old custom, which had a certain beauty, and strangers joined in this feeling. Now that stabilization has been attained, it was decided to restore the custom. Civil and ecclesisatical authorities gathered as at some solemn function, when the watchman was offi-cially reinstalled. A band accompanied the man to the old church, and the Lord Mayor and the Catholic pastor of St. Lambertus' spoke. Then the watchman and band mounted to the steeple where the musicians played as the ancient announcing of the hours was resumed. All officials who attended the ceremony were after-ward presented with wine of the

So again the lantern will now be seen traversing the steeple gallery and the old mediaeval intonings will be heard: "Dear people, permit me to tell you that the bell struck 11, 12, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5." As with the curfew in England and the Couvre-Feu in France, the watchman here has also the function of watching for fire, and he intones time-honored admonitions to the people, often in rhyme. "As the night is dark and black, watch the children that they come back," he will sing, and "Darkness lies upon the earth, now take care of all your hearth." These old familiar words and sights now bring again their sense of peace and security to the Muensterites.

GERMAN SOCIETY USES BOSTON PLAN

Boston, Mass.—The Catholic Truth Society here, which conducts a lay apostolate "to the man in the by means of open-air and auto-van meetings, has received a communication from Leutesdorf am Rhein, Germany, saying that the Johannesbund, a German Society, has adopted the methods used by the American society. The letter adds that already the Johannesbund has sent two laymen, four lay-women and a priest to Berlin to conduct such meetings.

Acknowledging the receipt of the Truth Society's book "Campaigning for Christ" and other literature, the German writer says: "You

SAFETY FOR YOUR SAVINGS

WHEN you deposit with us you know that your Savings are secure. The ONTARIO GOVERNMENT guarantees that. You are also assured prompt and courteous service. No notice is required for withdrawals, and checking privileges are allowed.

Convenient Office Hours

THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO SAVINGS OFFICE

TORONTO BRANCHES:
549 Danforth Ave. Cor. University and Dundas Sts. OTHER BRANCHES Aylmer, Brantford, Hamilton, Newmarket, Ottawa, Owen Sound, Pembrok Seaforth, St. Catharines, St. Marys, Walkerton, Woodstock

"Your Own Depository"

For that cold you can't throw off " drink Bouril

EDWARDSBURG

CORN SYRUP

Known throughout Canada for its purity, its digestibility and delightful flavor. Write for the EDWARDSBURG Recipe Book. CBA THE CANADA STARCH CO., LIMITED - MONTREAL

A Friend of the Family

Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for

Neuritis

Neuralgia

Headache Toothache Lumbago

Colds

Accept only "Bayer" which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Mon sylic Acid, "A. S. A."). While it is well to assist the public against imitations, the ith their general trade mark, the "Bayer

BRITISH AMERICA

ASSURANCE COMPANY HEAD OFFICE TORONTO

Incorporated 1833

Fire—Marine—Automobile—Burglary—Guarantee

Security to Policyholders - $1,981,642.19

Finest Importations always in stock at lowest market prices. Samples and quotations sent promptly upon application. Special attention given to requirements of institutions.

Kearney Brothers, Limited TEA - COFFEE. IMPORTERS and SPECIALISTS

33 St. Peter Street

Montreal, Que. Established 1874

A Shoe Boil, Capped Hock or Bursitis ABSORBINE

will reduce them and leave no blemishes.

Stops lameness promptly. Does not blister of remove the hair, and horse can be worked. $2.50 a bottle delivered. 800K 6 R free. ABSORBINE, JR., for mankind, the antiseptic tiniment for Bolls, Bruises, Sores, Swellings, Varicoes Veina, Allays Pain and Inflammation. Price $1.25 a boutle at first plass of delivered. Will tell you more if you write.

W. F. YOUNG, Inc., 190 Lymans Bidg., Montreal, Cam.)
Absorbine and absorbine. Jr., are made in Canada.

Practical Training for Business and Industrial Executives

Business Management -Personnel Organization -Industrial Management -

THE success of the Int rnational Correspondence Schools in Business Training, as well as in technical subjects, has been due not only to the personal, problem solving method of instruction of which they were the originators, but also to the high business and professional character of the men behind the courses. character of the men behind the courses. Among the more than 300 men who have contributed their experience and advise to the preparation of the I. C. S. courses are :

advise to the preparation of the I. C. S. courses are:

J. Lee Nicholson, First President of the National Association of Cost Accountants; Eddar P. Trask, Assistant Naval Architect, The William Cramp & Sos Shipbuilding Co.; Charles I. Nashyth F. A. A., C. P. A.; Dr. Owen L. Shinn, Professor of Chemistry, University of Pemssylvania; Stanley Rhoades, Telephone and Telegraph Engineer. New York Central Rallroad; J. H. King, Research Engineer, Babeock & Wilcox Company, New York; Bradley Stoughton, Mining Engineer and formerly Secretary of the American Institute of Miring Engineers; S. G. Whitheld, Special Traffic Agent of the American Extress Company; A. Hamilton Church, Edward P., Moxey, Jr., A. M., C. P. A., Professor of Accounting at the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Clarence Stratton, Diector of English in the Cleveland Public Schools.

Whatever the course, if it is an I. C. S. course, you can be sure it represents the best thought of men who are leaders in that particular field and is drawn from their practical experience.

in that particular field and is drawn from their practical experience.

Why not at least find out what the I. C. S. can do for you? It takes but a moment to mark the work of your choice, tear out and mail the cou on printed below There's no obligation and not a penny of cost, yet that one single act may be the means of changing your whole life. To day—no "Tomorrow"—is the day to take your first definite step towards Success definite step towards Success ..... TEAR OUT HERE .....

INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS CANADIAN, LIMITED

ion, please send me full insation about the subject below.
ked "X" in the list below.
BUSINESS TRAINING DEPARTMENT

on Cost Acc'ting

ECHNICAL and INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT

lle Work

If name of Course you want is not in the above list.

the famous 21nonthly payments. The lewel Studebaker Watch

Insured For a Lifetime! You may choose from $4 new Art Beauty Cases and 8 handsome dial designs. 8 adjustments—to the second—for heat, cold, isochronism and 5 positions. Sold direct from the maker at lowest

Watch Chain FREE For a limited time, we are offering a beautiful Watch Chain FREE Write now while this offer lasts

WRITE FOR BOOK

STUDEBAKER WATCH CO. of Canada Limited DEPT. J 215 WINDSOR, ONT.

STUDEBAKER WATCH CO.
of Canada Limited
Dept. J 215 Windsor, Ontario
Gentlemen: Please send me your Free Book of Advance Watch Styles and particulars of your $1.00

CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN

THE MAN OF THE HOUSE loseph, honoured from sea to sea, This is your name that pleases me:
"Man of the House."

I see you rise at the dawn, and light The fire, and blow till the flame is bright.

I see you take the pitcher and carry The deep well water for Jesus and Mary.

You knead the corn for the bread so Gather the grapes from the hanging

There are little feet, that are soft and slow. Follow you withersoever you go.

There's a little face at your workshop door.
A little one sits down on your floor. Holds His hands for the shavings curled, The soft little hands that have made the world. Mary calls you; the meal is ready; You swing the Child to your shoulder steady. I see your quiet smile as you sit And watch the little Son thrive and

The vine curls by the window space, The wings of angels cover the face. Up in the rafters, polished and olden.

There's a Dove that broods, and his wings are golden.

You who kept them through shine and storm,
A staff, a shelter kindly and warm. Father of Jesus, husband of Mary, Hold us your lilies for sanctuary Joseph, honoured from sea to sea,

Guard me, mine and my own roof-"Man of the House."

-KATHARINE TYNAN ODD MINUTES

Some people have too many odd minutes. Our day should be planned so carefully that we shall not have too much leisure on our through lips hands. The student who has four olic Universe. or five hours a day to fill in as he pleases, or the worker whose evenings are all free, are not likely to make the best use of their time. If we wait for the inspiration of a minute, we are very likely to discover that we do not feel like doing the things best worth while.

You mean to do some improving reading in your odd minutes. But as you sit down in the evening with the newspaper at your elbow and a popular magazine with a resplen-dent cover lying in full view, it is quite easy to decide that you will wait till tomorrow before starting on something heavier. But if you have made an arrangement with a number of friends to meet once a week to do some solid reading, when the appointed evening comes, you keep your engagement and do the reading. You get something accomplished.

We need variety. We need recreation. But by planning for both, we get better results than if it is all hit-or-miss. Most of us have too many odd minutes, too many hours set apart for nothing in particular.—The Pilot.

ETIQUETTE

Etiquette is culture. One who is truly educated does not have to thumb the pages of a manual to be enabled to meet the requirements of the occasion. A refined person is polished by instinct and experience. He has inherited that aptitude for saying and doing things in a courteous manner and he has been favored with that practice necessary for perfection. Rigid attention must be given the employment of words until their use in a polite and correct sense becomes habitual. It may be said that the origin of culture, politeness and correct demeanor is charity—the love of our neighbor; and the greatest obstacle to politeness is selfishness. culture, politeness and The latter vice makes one speak of himself to others, causes him to utter offensive retorts, make a glutton of himself at table, disregard the respect due to ladies and In heaven, O my God! bore everybody to death with his manners. Good-breeding, on the other hand, is reflected by the gen-erous regard shown for the rights of others, prodigal service in their behalf, and complete effacement of one's self. The unselfish person is always refined. He is well mannered, courteous, pleasant in company. He does not need books on etiquette. He knows the theories by heart and can instructively apply em wherever the occasion requires .- Catholic Transcript.

ST. JOSEPH'S MONTH

Never, perhaps, did the world need to learn the lessons of St.
Joseph's life more than at the present time. For this epoch is distinguished by a distaste for the labor of everyday life. Men take the line of least resistance and dodge every hardship. Matters have come to such a pass that all manner of devices have become necessary necessary to discover whether employees have done the honest day's work for which they are eager to draw the largest wages.

St. Joseph, realizing that work was a boon and blessing, as also a penance imposed upon humankind for the fall of our first parents, devoted himself assiduously to his everyday tasks. Never complaining about his hard lot nor shirking its minutest responsibilities, he produced work perfect of its kind. By means of labor "in the sweat of his brow" be was able to sustain Our Blessed Lady and the Infant with never completely isolated. They about his hard lot nor shirking its minutest responsibilities, he produced work perfect of its kind. By means of labor "in the sweat of his brow" be was able to sustain Our Blessed Lady and the Infant with the necessities of life. More glory than this he did not desire.

A distaste for the everyday duties of life proves that we are fast forgetting the truth that work is the medicinal remedy prescribed by the medicinal remedy prescribed by the Heavenly Father for a fallen race. Heavenly Father for a fallen race. To make life a carnival and perpetual vacation is the ambition of fickle minds and empty hearts. Responsibility courageously met and fearlessly attacked develops a fibre of character which can withstand any test. If St. Joseph, during this month of March, teaches us nothing else than a love of work and a conscientiousness in doing it to the best scientiousness in doing it to the best of our ability he shall be deserving of our eternal gratitude. But he teaches other virtues in an eminent way because he learnt them, at first hand, from the God Man Himself. -Rosary Magazine.

OR FOREVER BE SILENT!

It is probable that St. John Chrysostom was the greatest preacher in the long scroll of eminent exhorters. Compare the evidences and data of the twenty greatest preachers, and what is told of Chrysostom, seems to overtop all. His splendid diction and his fertile imagination are spoken of. But Cardinal Newman dwells more on "his noble earnestness;" his heart and his head were "brimful of things to speak about." He had ideas that burned to express themselves.

That is the cue for orators, spellbinders, jury lawyers, salesmen and conversationalists. There are volu-ble talkers, but they are not sincere. We class them therefore as bores. There are people who tell us things they have read out of the books, but have not masticated or digested or assimilated. It is caned wisdom; and they are not convincing.

To be effective one must speak the truth that is in him. If he has no message, let him go to Jericho, and tarry there till his beard is grown; and then hide behind his whiskers until he has a message welling from his heart and bursting through lips for expression.-Cath-

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

WHEN?

Some day in Spring, When earth is fair and glad And sweet birds sing. And fewest hearts are sad-Shall I die then? Ah! me, no matter when ; I know it will be sweet To leave the homes of men And rest beneath the sod. To kneel and kiss Thy feet In Thy home, O my God!

Some Summer morn Of splendors and of songs. When roses hide the thorn And smiles the spirit's wrongs-Shall I die then? Ah! me, no matter when; I know I will rejoice To leave the haunts of men In Thy home, O my God!

Some Autumn eve. When chill clouds drape the sky, When bright things grieve Because all fair things die— Shall I die then? Ah! me, no matter when; I know I shall be glad Away from haunts of men, Adown beneath the sod My heart will not be sad In Thy home, O my God

Some Wintry day, When all skies wear gloom And beauteous May Sleeps in December's tomb. Shall I die then? Ah! me, no matter when : My soul shall throb with joy To leave the ways of men And sleep beneath the sod. There is no alloy In Thy joys, O my God!

Haste, death! Be fleet; -FATHER ABRAM RYAN

THE GIGGLING GIRL

There is a difference between the girl who laughs when things are funny, and the girl who giggles whether things are funny or not says the Pittsburgh Observer. The giggler does not have a strong sense of humor. Very often she does not know enough to know the difference between humor and trag-edy. The girl who giggles when some one slips in the street and falls, or when some one's hat blows away, has no more humor than other people, but only less good sense. There can hardly be too much wholesome laughter in the world, but already there is too much giggling.

CARE FOR OTHERS

There is a volume of meaning in the little word care. It makes to many a one all the difference between a life of gladness that some fellow creature can say: "I care for you." The most forlorn feeling country, and went to England, never completely isolated. They have their fellowships. They are not altogether forsaken. Some not altogether forsaken. Some kindly soul there always is to show, by word or deed a human interest in the moral and social leper. No one is left entirely to himself.—The Pilot.

WHY AREN'T WE KINDER?

Why aren't we kinder? There are few people in the world, not more than one in a hundred thousand, who can give happiness and benefit to a great many people by doing some special kind of work superlatively well writing, singing, organizing, inventing, acting, ruling, healing, and so

But to everyone of these there are, at least 99,999 of us who can give no greater gift to the world than the gift of being kind.

Then why aren't we kinder? There are so many simple ways negative and positive, to be kind.

A ready, happy smile is a kindness. The habit of remembering what people are interested in and giving them a chance to talk about as much about these things!), or how deeply she appreciates the sacrifice he makes in going without a car so that the boy may have his college course. I fancy we should find that the aggregate of such happiness was larger than many millions of money would buy. The habit of repeating to people nice things we hear said about them is a great kindness. The habit of controlling that temptation to be irritable in the bosom of our families which seems to assail almost all human beings when they are tired and nervous is one of the greatest of negative kindnesses. I don't believe there is a vice in the world which causes a greater amount of unhappiness than the daily pinpricks of uncon-trolled irritability.

The habit of trying to criticize helpfully instead of finding fault is a kindress.

Small acts of courtesy come under the head of what I mean by Writing that letter to the person who would like so much to hear from us is a great kindness. Why aren't we kinder? It's so simple to be kind and it means so

And of all the regrets that tear at our hearts when we look back at aims of this trip sound like a chapter of our life to which finis mockery. It is our opinion that, in has been written, there is none I think so unbearable as the thought, "If I had only been kinder! I wish I had been kinder."—Selected.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

SPLENDID CONNECTIONS MADE FOR SASKATOON AND EDMONTON BY THE VANCOUVER EXPRESS

nental service is provided by the Canadian Pacific Railway in the Vancouver Express leaving Toronto every night at 9.00 p. m. (effective January 11) for Vancouver.

Direct connections are made at Regina for Saskatoon, and at Calgary for Edmonton.

Leave Toronto 9.00 p. m.;

Winnipeg 10.00 a. m.; Ar. Regina 11.05 p. m.; Ar. Saskatoon 6.05 a. m.; Ar. Calgary 4.30 p. m.; Ar. Edmonton 11.10 p. m.; Ar. Vancouver 7.00 p. m. The equipment of the Vancouver Express is of the highest standard, including dining car, Tourist, Standard and Compartment-Observation Sleepers.

Traveling to the West on this train makes the trip a pleasure. Let your nearest Canadian Pacific agent supply definite infor-mation concerning tickets, reservations, etc., and Victoria, Canada's national winter resort where summer sports may be enjoyed the

PASSES

By Rev. Dr. Wilhelm Baron von Capitain (Cologne Correspondent, N. C. W. C.)

Cologne, Feb. 11.-The last of the Trier martyrs and confessors who were victims of the infamous Kulturkampf has just died and been buried at Rommershein, near Trier. He was the aged dean and pastor Johannes Jung, who was parish priest at Pronsfeld in 1873. When Prussian law forbade the performance of Catholic pastoral duties, he disguised himself as a peasant at a peasant at the service of the se night to say Mass and administer the Sacraments to his flock, and in for you." The most forlorn feeling that a human being can have is that "No one cares for me."

There are many who know what it is to have fellowships broken, to have friends fall away and to lose

At last he was experied from the country, and went to England, where many of the exiled German priests already had found refuge. The German Catholics at Hull gave him a kindly welcome, and he worked among them nine years, orthodox Patriarchs of Jerusalem.

THE ORTHODOX SLAVS AND ANGLICANS

ECUMENICAL COUNCIL TO CONSIDER UNION IN JERUSALEM By Dr. Frederick Funder (Vienna Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service)

Vienna, Jan. 15.—Proposed union with the Anglican Church will be the prime topic for discussion at the Ecumenical Council of the which use the ancient Slavic lan-guage in their rituals. The idea of an Orthodox-Anglican rapproach-ment is one that has been industriously promoted for several years past without, apparently, any tangible results. There is no available evidence for anticipating that there will be any results at the forthcoming Council at Jerusalem but the topic, nevertheless, remains one of interest only qualified representative of the Orthodox Church in Russia, and Possibilities of a union with Anglicanism are decreased by the opposition of the Serbian Pravo-Slav church to the effort which is being made to unite the Anglican Church with the so-called National Church of Czecho-Slovakia.

"Bishop" Gorazd head, of the Czecho-Slovakian National Church has visited Belgrade recently to solicit aid for his project of union with the Anglicans. His visit was the occasion for the following com-ment in the Prague Catholic paper

Lidove Listy.
"Gorazd, who proclaims far and wide that he is going to Serbia in order to unite the Czecho-Slovak National Church with the Anglican Church, would do better to unite first what he has broken to pieces in his own country. Gorazd who welcomes every opportunity to find an excuse for travel-ing about the world, is going to Belgrade mainly for the purpose of seeking financial support for his ever changing plans. In view of the failure he met with in America, his high-sounding words about the mockery. It is our opinion that, in view of his lack of success at home, he will not receive a cent in Belgrade to further his scheme of unification of his church with the Anglicans.

There is a strong antipathy between the Czecho-Slovakian National Church and the Serbian Orthodox body, an antipathy which avowed belief in the declarations of the first seven Ecumenical Councils, which are accepted by the Pravo-Slav Churches generally and adopted as the constitution of the Czecho-Slovak Church, the following rather ambiguous Creed: to fulfill the ethical aspirations of the present day with scientific recognition of the spirit of Christ as conserved in the Scripture and early Christian traditions and conserved in the scripture and early Christian traditions and conserved in the scripture and early Christian traditions and conserved in the scripture and early Christian traditions and conserved in the scripture and early Christian traditions and conserved in the scripture and the scriptur given to the Czecho-Slovak nation by the Hussite movement and the Community of Czech Brethren.'

"NATIONAL" CHURCH DWINDLING

There is little doubt that the National Church in Czecho-Slovakia is doomed to disintegrate into insignificance. Last year, its adherents had dwindled to 525,322 which indicated that its period of growth has ceased. One of the prime causes of its reverses lies in the passionate altercations between its various "Bishops" some of whom desire a union with the Anglicans HERO OF KULTURKAMPF DAYS and some of whom want an alignment with the Orthodox Churches ment with the Orthodox Churches of the Near East. The opposition of the Serbians, taken in conjunc-tion with other factors, makes it certain that if the coming Council at Jerusalem takes any action at all with respect to the Czecho-Slovak National Church it will be a refusal to recognize that body. Born of infidelity and lack of discipline, the National Church which once represented a serious menace to the religious peace of Czecho-Slovakia, seems about to pass out of the picture.

ANGLICANS GIVEN MANY PRIVILEGES By Dr. Alexander Mombelli

(Jerusalem Correspondent, N. C. W. U. New Service) Jerusalem, Jan. 12.-The move-

show acts of courtesy and kindness towards members of the Anglican Church. Perhaps the most deeply appreciated of these freely-given privileges has been the assignment of an altar in the school of the chapel of St. Abraham, immediately above the traditional site of Calvary, where the Orthodox Patri vary, where the Orthodox Patriarch allows the clergymen of Anglican rite to celebrate their services.

This culminated last year in a declaration from the Patriarch that, so far as the involved international arrangement known as the "status quo" permitted, he would afford to quo" permitted, he would afford to Anglican visitors to the Holy Land the full privileges enjoyed by pilgrims of the Orthodox Church. To this must be added the adhesion of the Greek Orthodox Patriarch of Jerusalem to the declaration of the Orthodox Prayo-Slav Churches called to meet in Jerusalem next Whitsuntide. The Prayo - Slav churches are those Orthodox bodies which use the ancient Slavian state of the Roman and other historical churches separated from Orthodox bodies churches separated from Orthodoxy. The declaration of the Patriarch Damianos makes all the greater impression as it is well known that in times past he had serious differences of opinion with Mgr. Miletios Metaxakis, the prime mover in this matter.

In order to become more closely acquainted with the Anglican Church, Mgr. Damianos sent one of his most promising young men, a compatriot from Samos named given when a husband tells his wife how much he enjoyed the specially good dinner she planned for him, or how well she looks in her new gown; or when a wife tells her husband how well he looks in her new suit (oh, yes, men care almost as much about these things!), or how deeply she are almost as much about these things !), or how deeply she are almost as much about these things !), or how deeply she are almost as much about the proposal to hold the meeting in the council convened in the Serbian to work and held held his education at the University of Oxford and the Anglican Seminary at Cuddesden. Pythagoras Thermolis, to complete this education at the University of Oxford and the Anglican Seminary at Cuddesden. Pythagoras Thermolis is at Cudd on which agreement must be reached before union can be attained.

Moreover, the two religious bodies hope shortly to arrange together for a celebration of the Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom by the Orthodox clergy in the English upon Tykon's participation in the language, and conversely Anglicans will celebrate the English Liturgy

ANTI-RELIGIOUS GARB BILL PASSED

Indianapolis, Feb. 20.-A bill to prohibit teachers in the Public schools from wearing distinctive religious garb was passed by the Indiana House of Representatives Tuesday by a roll call vote of 67 to 22. The bill which was introduced by Representative Cooper (Vigo County, Republican) differs only slightly from the Sims bill on which the State Senate several weeks ago voted for indefinite postponement. The difference lies in the fact that the Cooper bill refers to religious garb only, while the Sims bill pro-posed to prohibit the wearing of religious emblems as well. Supporting his bill Representative Cooper declared that there are several counties in the State where Sisters are teaching in the Public schools and wear their distinctive religious habits while so employ named Dearborn, Floyd, Warrick, Franklin, and Dubois counties.

Representative Korff (Vanderberg

County, Republican) attempted to block the Cooper measure by mov-ing for indefinite postponement. His motion was defeated without a found expression at the recent record vote. Representative Brenton A. Devol (Clinton County, tion in Prague. This Congress dis. on the ground that it would, in effect, prescribe a religious test for teachers

"This bill is requiring a religious test for officers and teachers of the Representative Devol said. "If this bill is constitutional we can

MISSIONS IN INDIA

"The small proportion of British Catholic missions in India is discredi-Great Britain," table to table to Great Britain," said Sir Michael O'Dwyer, formerly Lieuten-ant-Governor of the Punjab, at a meeting in support of the Rawal Pindi medical mission. Out of 320,-000,000 people in India, he said, 4,000,000 are Christians, and more than half the Christians are Catho-

The great need in Rawal Pindi district, Sir Michael stated, was medical relief for the women and children. The women were precluded from going to male doctors, and where lady doctors were not available they fell back on unprofessional women whose ministra-tions often led to the death of mother and child

The Perfect Blend

Teas from nearly thirty different gardens are blended to give SALADA its distinctive flavor. It is truly a revelation. Try it.

LADIES, BOYS and GIRLS

SPREAD THE DEVOTION OF BLESSED SISTER THERESE (The Little Flower of Jesus)

We are now introducing for the first time the beautiful picture of Blessed Sister Therese (The Little Flower of Jesus) which is in beautiful natural colors, size 16 x 20 inches and which we are sellir g

At the Low Price of 25c. Each

This beautiful picture is finished in nine colors of oil and portrays Blessed Sr. Therese, with a crucifix in her left arm, surmounted by a cluster of roses.

If you sell 10 of these pictures, we will give you as a premium, one beautiful Gold-Filled Medal of Blessed Sr. Therese, with a portrait of Blessed Sr. Therese on one side and on the other side, the immortal words of this humble Carmelite Nun, "I will spend my Heaven doing good upon earth," This Medal will be a beautiful keepsake for your efforts to spread this devotion, which is gaining many adherents all over the Catholic world. Send in your order as soon as possible, as the demand for these pictures will be very great.

Catholic Supply Company 46 St. Alexander St. Montreal, Canada

Trade Expansion

FOR fifty-three years this Bank has fostered sound enterprise in the development of Canadian commerce.

Business men are invited to consult us with regard to financial assistance, when planning to extend their business.

DOMINION BANK ESTABLISHED 1871

HEAD OFFICE,

WEBER

Pianos Player Pianos

Write for Descriptive Booklet

The Weber Piano Company, Limited KINGSTON, ONT.

ORDER BY MAIL-Our Guarantee "Goods Entirely Satisfactory or Money Refunded," Fully Protects You

Maple Syrup Thermometer $1.95

HYDROMETER $1.15

ORDER AT ONCE. Sent Postpaid Every Syrup Maker needs this equipment.

Bulbs

Shrubs

BEE, DAIRY and POULTRY SUPPLIES Paints, Auto Tires, Etc.

LONDON CANADA

DEPT.

Write fer our General Catalogue - FREE

OBITUARY

SISTER MARY OF ST. FELIX

Sorrow and gloom have cast their shadows over the Convent of The Good Shepherd, Carthage, Ohio, for death has claimed one of the members of its community in the person of Sister Mary of St. Felix.

resignation of the truly Religious in her prolonged illness. Solemn Mass of Requiem was Deceased was born in Tilbury East where he spent many years in the timber business and also dealt extensively in cattle. He took an active interest in public affairs and was for many years a member of the Township and County Councils and was Warden of the county of Kent. He was possessed of a ready wit and pleasing personality and no public gathering was complete with public gathering was complete without his presence, also many charit-

St. Francis Church, Tilbury, and was attended by a great number of old friends. Interment was made in St. Francis Cemetery.

The pallbearers were six nephews, Louis McGregor of Duluth, Jas. E. McGregor of Tilbury; Martin, Alex and Leo McGregor of Chatham and John C. McGregor of Cornwall.

Deceased is survived by his widow (nee Mary Hurley) and one sister, Mother M. Theresa of the Ursuline

HOLLAND INTERESTED

Convent, Chatham. R. I. P.

SUCCESS

in baking

is assured

when you use

MAGIC

It contains no alum and leaves no

bitter taste

of Sister Mary of St. Felix.

Surrounded by the loving care of devoted Sisters and supported by the last rites of the Church of which she was ever an exemplary Religious, her death occurred on February 8th at the Mother House.

Sister Mary of St. Felix, who was formerly Miss Catharine Dewan, was born in Biddulph township, Middlesex county, Ontario. During her life in her home parish she won for herself many friends who will forever cherish lasting memories of kindness and sincerity.

A victim of appendicitis, Sister St. Felix displayed the fortitude and resignation of the truly Religious training has pecial appeals in favor of missions and mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned missioners and inverse of mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned missioners and representatives of mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned missioners and representatives of mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned missioners and representatives of mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various dioceses by returned missi

A Solemn Novena of Prayer commencing March 10, and closing March 19, will be made again this year by the Sisters of St. Joseph, Toronto, in all their convents and institutions throughout Canada in celebrated in the convent chapel, on February 10th for the repose of her institutions throughout Canada, in onor of their glorious Patron, St.

institutions throughout Canada, in honor of their glorious Patron, St. Joseph. Special solemnity will be attached to the making of the Novena at the Motherhouse, St. Alban St., Toronto, where Holy Mass will be offered each morning for the intention of the Novena; Intention of the Intention of the Novena; Intention of the Intention of the Novena; Intention of the Intent out his presence, also many charitable acts were so quietly done that they will not be recorded in this world.

The funeral took place from his late residence 1481 Garland Ave., Detroit, on Tuesday morning, Feb.

The Sisters of St. Joseph, wish also to make thanksgiving to God, who, through the intercession of St. Joseph, has answered the prayers of last year's Novena in such an extraordinary way. They wish to take this opportunity, too, of expressing their gratitude to all.

BENNING.—At Lawn, Nfld., on world.

The funeral took place from his late residence 1481 Garland Ave., Detroit, on Tuesday morning, Feb. 24, via M. C. R. Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Monsignor Parent in St. Francis Church. Tilbury, and

CANADIAN PILGRIMAGE TO ROME

The Reverend E. J. Devine, S. J., Editor of the Canadian Messenger and a well known writer and author of many widely read books on travel and religious subjects, has been selected as the Spiritual Director for the Canadian Pilgrim-age to Rome which will leave Montreal by the White Star-Dominion Line Steamship "Megantic" on May 30th, 1925. The party will be Tilburg. Holland. — Holland is interestedly watching the growth of the mission spirit in the United States. Though a small country Holland itself is very well represented in the mission field, and has experienced the beneficent reaction on Church activities at home, which mission interest is sure to produce. There are today in Holland some 39 mission publications; of these, in Rome for the ceremonies in con-nection with the Beatification of the

UNHAPPY ALBANIA

MOSLEM USURPER JAILS @ PRIESTS AND BURNS

SCHOOL ADBRE

ते नाह By Dr. Frederic Funder (Vienna Correspondent, N. C. W. C.)) New afflictions are being visited upon the Catholics of Albania following the triumph of the Mohammedan usurper Achemed Zogu, who invaded the country and, with the help of Russian mercenary with the manufacture of

with the help of Russian mercenaries, overthrew the government of the Orthodox Bishop Fan Noli.

The Reign of Terror instituted by Achmed—particularly in his treatment of the Franciscans—exceeds in atrocity the persecutions which have hitherto dotted the stormy history of Albania. Day by day fresh victims are taken from the Catholic clergy. The usurper has Catholic clergy. The usurper has gone so far as to threaten personal violence to Archbishop Mjedja of Scutari and has arrested the Archbishop's brother, Father Mjedja, who is seventy years old. The Archbishop's secretary, Father Lazarus Shantoja, and the Francis-can Fathers Benardini, Anthony Harapi and Cyril Zanni, have also been arrested.

been arrested.
However the climax which has stirred the Albania Catholics more profoundly than any other incident profoundly than any other incident in the persecution was Achmed Zogu's order for the arrest and imprisonment of the Very Rev. Paul Doday, Provincial of the Albanian Province of the Franciscans. To grasp the full horror of this outrage a knowledge of Albanian prigns is processory. Father ian prisons is necessary. Father Doday is a man who is highly revered throughout Albania for his great scientific learning as well as for his devotion to the welfare of the Albanian people. the Albanian people.

32—most of which appear monthly —represent various mission societies. Seven other magazines are of a more general character and solicit alms for special missions, or special mission work.

All Dutch Catholics are urged to contribute to the Propagation of the Faith as general aid, and to special appeals in favor of missions and mission training-houses.

The officials of the Propagation of the Faith are helped in various in bringing civilization into this the Faith are helped in various in bringing civilization into this dioceses by returned missioners and semi-barbarous land. Even during semi-barbarous land. Even during the worst disorders in the country's disorderly career the rights and merits of the Franciscans were respected. It remained for the twentieth century with its lofty phrases about the freedom of nations and the end of violence, to allow the perpetration of outrages which would disgrace darkest Africa.

Africa. The Catholic grammar school at Scutari, maintained by the Francis-cans, has been burned by Achmed's mercenaries and the most valuable mercenaries and the most valuable library in Albania was destroyed in this fire. Many Catholic priests have been compelled to seek safety in the mountains. The Catholic paper Ora e Maleve of Scutari, has been suppressed and twenty prominent Catholics of that city have been imprisoned. These and other atrocities are confirmed by reports coming from high ecclesiastical coming from high ecclesiastical authorities whose knowledge of the situation is beyond question. Achmed's persecution is not animated entirely by religious motives. He is also persecuting many of his own co-religionists who opposed his usurpation of power and accused him of acting with Serbian assistance and with the object of ultimately surrendering Albania to Serbia. His hatred of the Catholics is based upon the vigorous opposi-tion which the Catholic mountain tribes interposed to his invasion. They refused to recognize his so-called government and in retalia-tion he has attacked the Catholic clergy, holding them responsible for the attitude of the Catholic tribes.

The Sisters of St. Joseph, wish under the Hapsburgs has ceased to Benning.—At Lawn, Nfld., on December 7, 1924, Mrs. Joseph Benning, aged seventy-nine years and five months. May her soul rest in McNab.—At Dundas, Ont., on March 6, 1925, Miss Eliza McNab. Funeral from St. Patrick's Church, on Monday, March 9. Interment in Southampton. May her soul rest in peace.

IN MEMORIAM

LEE.—In sad and loving memory of Edward J. Lee, Moor Lake, who died March 18th, 1923. May his soul rest in peace. Sadly mourned by Wife and

HOUSEKEEPER WANTED HOUSEKEEPER wanted to work on farm Light work. Good wages. No outside work Middle aged woman preferred. Apply Box 491, Catholic Record London, Ont. 2423-1

WANT*D housekeeper for widower with family of four, all grown up. Must be Catholis and capable of taking charge of house. State ref. rences. Address Box 492, CATHOLIS RECORD. London. Ont. 2423-2

ow Coal Co. Wholesale and Retail

BEST QUALITY

Coal, Coke and Wood 601 Adelaide St. Phone 5419

SHIPMENT

Mass Wines

From White Fathers of Algiers, N. Africa. Send for samples and prices. Eucharistic Tabernacle Safe Vestry Cabinet

Knapp Sanctuary Candles

J. J. M. LANDY CATHOLIC CHURCH SUPPLIES 16 Dundas St. W. (Near Yonge)

Shorthand in 10 Weeks

J. E. CASSAN

President of Dominion School of Te'egraphy and Rallroading, Ltd., established 1900—ong recognized by Telegraph and Rallroad Companies as the best place to get training or railroad positions. Mr. Cassan has rained thousands of Canadians for good positions and now offers young men and women this splendld opportunity to become stenographers in 10 weeks at home.

—at home

NOW—by the Candler System of Simplified Shorthand and Touch Typewriting—you can become an expert and thoroughly-trained stenographer at home in your spare time. An hour's study a day ill enable you to qualify for a good position in 10 weeks' time. There is no longer any need to spend long, tedious, expensive months at a business college trying to learn the present antiquated, "difficult" systems.

Candler Shorthand is practical and 100% successful—old and proven in principle—based on the a b c's—simpler, speedier and more reliable than any other system Dictation notes may be taken on the typewriter, at amazing speed and accuracy—and you can a ways read them. You start typewriting with the first lesson.

The Candler Course is sold on a "Money-back Guarantee," if you do not qualify. Positions secured. Mail the coupon today for full information. It is worth your attention. Dominion School Railroading, Ltd., 2 Grenville St., Toronto.

Please send me your free Booklet-"The Road to Freedom."

Fish FOR LENT

When you think of Fish. thoughts naturally turn to London's Oldest established Fish Store. The store that has always rendered you Quality and Service.

A Few Special Prices for the Lenten Season Fresh Mackerel lb. Horring 2 lbs. for 25c Whitefish lb. 18c Fillets of Haddie lb. 20c Onn's Up-to-Date Market 4 Clerks Phones

143 King St. "Service that Counts" POSITIONS WANTED

CATHOLIC music teacher desires position as choir director or church organist in any part of Ontario. For full particulars kindly write Box 448, CATHOLIC RECORD LONDON, Out. 2377tf FARM FOR SALE

200 ACRES in Arthur Tp., Co. Wellington. Good building, etc. Apply to (Miss) M. Purtell, Mt. Forest, Ont.

AGENTS WANTED
AGENTS—Sell Donalda Knitting Yarn suitable for hand or machine knitting. Buy from the largest yarn mail order house in Canada and obtain lowest prices, giving you a profit of from 80 cents to 85 cents per pound. We give knitting instructions and knitting needles Free. Send for particulars and sample card of forty shades. Donalda Mfg. Co., Dept. 182, Toronto, Ont.

OFFICIAL TRAVEL AGENTS' TO THE HOLY SEE

TO ROME

HOLY YEAR-1925

ATTENDING THE CEREMONIES

THE JESUIT MARTYRS.

MAY 30 TH BY THE WHITE

"MEGANTIC" (15.000 tons).

INCLUSIVE FARES $435.00 UP

FOUR OPTIONAL RETURN ROUTES.

UNDER THE SPIRITUAL DIRECTION

THOS. COOK & SON

MONTREAL.

$526 St. CATHERINE St. WEST of THE REV. FATHER E.J. DEVINE . S. J.

FOR THE BEATIFICATION OF

LEAVING MONTREAL SATURDAY.

STAR - DOMINION LINE STEAMSHIP

ANADIAN PILGRIMAGE

Send Your Name and Address to

Radio Headquarters

and Receive FREE Radio Literature We save you money on your Radio shases. All mail orders prepaid.

Canada Radio Stores

2671/2 Princess St. Kingston, Ontario

For Clergy and Students

Remington Portable

CLERGY: The Remington Portable will help you with your Church announcements, your correspond-ence, your Records.

STUDENTS: Your instructors will read with all the more pleasure themes typed on the Remington Portable, which will not only help you now, but will be a life-long

This sturdy, compact little machine which is as easy to operate as to carry, has the regular keyboard a d other features of the Standard Rem-

Pay $5. Down and you can have a Remington Portable in your study immediately. Further payments of $5. per month will complete purchase, HEAD OFFICE 68 King St. West, Toronto or London Branch: 361 Richmond St. Mail This Coupon BEFORE YOU FORGET IT

aington Typewriter Company of Canada Limiter

Toronto, Ont.

Please send me full particulars, with plans of purchase, of the Remington Portable Typewriter.

CATHOLIC RECORD

In St. John, N. B., single copies may be purchased from Mrs. M. A. McGuire, 249 Main St. John J. Dwyer, 171 Union St. and Miss R. G. Gleeson, 10 Frince Edward St. be purchased from J. Miloy, 241 St. Catherine St. West. In Ottawa, Ont., single copies may be purchased from J. W. O'Brien, 141 Nicholas St. In Sydney, N. S., single copies may be purchased at Murphy's Bookstore.

In Glace Bay, N. S., single copies may be purchased at McLedo's bookstore.

The following agents are authorized to receive subscriptions and canvass for the OATHOLIC RECORD:

General Agents—Stephen V. James, George CATHOLIC RECORD

"PERFECT" Bicycles

3 STORES Main 665 Dundas St. Phone 3426W 402 Clarence St. Phone 1899F 454 Hamilton Road. Phone 8767W

FOR YOUR TRIP TO ROME OR ANY PLACE

DOMINION EXPRESS TRAVELLER'S CHEQUES

urnish you with identificat ure you against the loss of your ney. Banks, Tourist Agents and Stores cash them - You can cash them at Piazza S Pietro (St. Peter's YOUR HOTEL WILL CASH THEM

Special arrangements have been made by our correspondents in Rome to take care of the Pilgrims. If you want comfort—and you do—carry Dominion Express Travellers Cheques—they are the best travel funds. Cheques—they travel funds.

THANKSGIVINGS TO

ST. ANTHONY

THE GREAT WONDER-WORKER The grateful clients of St. Anthony have been so successful in appealing to the Miracle Worker for aid in v rious was, that we are

St. Anthony's Graymoor Shrine The Friar's of the Atonement Box 316, PEEKSKILL, N. Y.

TEACHERS WANTED QUALIFIED teacher wanted for S. S. No. 15, Huntingdon. Duties to begin after Easter. Apply stating salary to Thomas O'Reilly, Madoc, Ont. 2423-4

FARM POSITION WANTED MIDDLE aged man would like work on a dairy farm, to do chores and milk. Address Mr. Etherington, Catholic Record Office, London, Ont.

NURSING
MOUNT ST. Mary's Hospital Training School for Nurses, registered and approved by its Regents of All Mary, offers exceptional advantages to year the state of the state of the state Nursing P offession. May chish to enter the Nursing P offession. May chish to enter the Several vacancies are offered at program
applicants having one year High school
Address Sister Superior, Mount St. Mary's
Hospital, Niagara Falls, N. Y. 2423-15

REGISTERED. Non-Sectarian School for Nures conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph. Ccurse 2½ years. One year High school required. For particulars apply to Superin-tendent of Training School, St. John's Long Island City Hospital, Jackson Ave. and 12th Street, Long Island City.

ST. CATHERINE'S HOSPITAL BROOKLYN, N. Y.

ST. Catherine's Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y. Registered, Non-Sectarian School for Nursea Conducted by the Sisters of St. Dominic. Course 2½ years. One year High School required. For particulars apply to Superintendent of Training School.

AGENTS WANTED

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NUMBERS
MERCY Hospital Training School for Nurses offers exceptional educational opportunities for competent and ambitious young women.
Applicants must be eighteen years of age, and have one year of High school or its equivalent.
Putlis may enter at the present time. Appli cations may be sent to the Directress of Nurses, Mercy Hospital, Toledo, Ohio.

