CHAPTER VIII.
There is a letter with the family crest on the top of the pile; and Captain Glyne opens it first, reads it, changes color, frowns, and re-reads it. "I shall have to go back to England to-night," he says briefly, "and run up to Pentreath. My uncle is very ill and wishes to see me, and the vicar is extra civil, which I don't understand, and urges me to come. What would you wish to do?" he asks carelessly, tearing open his other letters. "Oh here is one for you, Yolande! Stay here, in any case. I shall come back in any case, in a week or ten days, and you will be all right for society, as the Ormonds and Manstays are here. Not that I care much for Lady Jeannie as a companion for you."
"And I do not care at all for Lady Jeannie," Yolande says, in a voice which she vainly tries to steady. "Couldn't I go back to London and stay with Aunt Keren?"
"Certainly, or come with me to Pentreath, if you don't mind the circumstances—rather gloomy and all that," Dallas answers, with affected indifference, but watching her closely. "Read the viscount's letter for yourself—you see, he says Lady Maria—poor soul!—is worse than usual. She has got a new nurse, or attendant, or some one of that kind."
He hands his wife the open letter, and begins reading another eagerly and with deep interest—a most dainty letter with a narrow mourning border—and so does not notice that Yolande, after hastily reading the viscount's short letter, has hurriedly opened and read the letter he handed to her, and then instantly put it into her pocket. The envelope bears the Pentreath postmark as well as Lord Glyne's letter and the dainty letter with the mourning border.
"Well, how you made up your mind, Yolande?" Captain Glyne asks presently.

COULD HARDLY DO ANY WORK
Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound This Woman Feels So Well

Keesville, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for the good it has done me. I was so much troubled with female weakness I could hardly do any work. I saw your advertisement in the paper, and read it to my husband. He said, 'You had better try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I bought six bottles, and by taking it, I am not troubled as I was. I am gaining strength, and getting fleshy. My female troubles have vanished and I have never felt so well. The Liver Pills are the best I ever took. If you think my letter will encourage other sufferers you have my permission to use it as an advertisement.'—Mrs. Sarah Evans, Box 1772, Keesville, N. Y."

Doing the housework for the average American family is some task, and many women lose their health in so doing. If you, as a housewife, are troubled with backache, irregularities, are easily tired out and irritable, or have other disagreeable ailments, remedy them by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. Let it help you.

ently. "You would not care to visit Pentreath just now, I am sure."
"On the contrary," Yolande says in a quiet constrained voice, "I should wish to visit Pentreath just now."
"Oh, very well!" he replied, coldly.

CHAPTER XIV.

"I wonder," Captain Glyne muses, apprehensively, "if there is another scene or unpleasantness of some kind in the air? And yet I hardly think so. Yolande seems to have repented to some purpose of her outbreak on that pleasant wedding day of ours!"
It is a cold, wet spring evening, and he and Yolande have just arrived at Pentreath Place from Paris; and, while he is dressing for dinner, Captain Glyne asks his valet what guests are staying in the house, though he knows quite well already.
Only the Honorable Mrs. Murray and her daughter, the man tells him. They were invited for Easter, but have stayed on since the terrible news of poor Lord Dunavon's death. They will probably stay on now "until the earl is better," the valet says, circumspectly—though every servant in the house knows that the old peer's days are numbered; and, as her lordship, the viscountess, is in such very bad health, Mrs. Murray takes the hostess' place "by her ladyship's desire."
"Ay, and by her own most cherished desire, too," mutters Dallas, with bitter contempt. "A far-sighted schemer that smooth-voiced lady is, as full of guiles as she is full of smiles, as one might say, like Silas Wegg. How could such a mother have a daughter that was not false and treacherous in every fiber of her being?"
He uses his ivory military brushes mercilessly for several moments, and then drops them suddenly, as a suspicion dawns vividly on him for the first time.
"Are they both—mother and daughter—waiting?" he asks himself, slowly. "I know Mrs. Murray was always anxious to hold the reins of government here even as a deputy. But can it be possible that they are waiting now to see Lyulph Glyne an earl and a widower? Is it possible that Joyce would sell herself to a man whom she hates and despises, even to be Countess of Pentreath? No, no; I could never believe it of Joyce, hard and worldly as I know her to be!"
He dresses himself, with his man's assistance, in a dazed and bewildered frame of mind; for the more he thinks of the possibility and probability of his suspicions the stronger they appear, and, when he is ready to go downstairs, he knocks at his wife's dressing-room door, thinking still of Joyce Murray and her fairness and falseness, and of how utterly he will scorn her if she ever wrongs herself so deeply for the sake of wealth and title as to marry Lyulph Glyne, whom he knows she dislikes and despises.
Yolande is waiting for him—she never has to wait for her at any time. She is wearing one of her pretty new dinner dresses—a rich, crimson silk, simply made, perfectly fitting—and her pale face and milk-white throat gleam fair and soft as rose petals from the contrast of rich, deep color.
Glyne's eyes soften and his heart aches with regret as he gazes at her, and he wishes she would smile at him as once she used to do. She is fastening the top button of her long, creamy gloves, and adjusting her gold bangles over them; and she does smile, when she has finished, partly at him, partly at the gloves, because she is pleased with their perfect fit.

"Ready, Yolande?" he asks, gently.
"Quite, thank. We are rather early, I think."
"Yes. But there are probably some guests whom you haven't met," he says, with a slight unsteadiness in his tones, and wincing a little before Yolande's cold, inquiring eyes.
"Yes? Who are they?" with calm indifference.
"Well, you have seen very few of my friends and relatives yet, Yolande," he says, prevaricating.
And she knows he is prevaricating, and her sad heart grows heavier, and the pain of jealous anguish that seldom leaves her makes her feel cold and faint. And then in a moment she grows hot with burning anger against him and his duplicity.
"But that I have been forewarned, I should have met her quite unprepared!" she thinks, trembling, and arming herself with the courage of indignant despair. "But for mademoiselle's spiteful letter, I should not have known whom I was going to meet! Captain Glyne doesn't even like to mention the name of his beloved to a common person like me! She is one of the 'high-bred' gentlewomen' of his acquaintance, and I am only the low-born wife he married for money! My feelings, and the betrayal of them perhaps before every one, do not matter in the least!"
All this passes through her mind while she is picking up her handkerchief and glancing at the "set" of her train in the wardrobe mirror.
"No, that is true," she agrees, deliberately. "Except a very slight acquaintance with your cousin, Viscount Glyne, and your mother, Lady Nora, I know none of your relatives."
And she does not say it as if she were sorry or displeased, or were stating anything but a perfectly unimportant fact. Since her miserable wedding day, it seems as if the very springs of emotion were frozen within her. Before her husband's eyes she compels herself to preserve always the same well-bred, equable-tempered indifference to all things, persons, and places. He would be gratified at this unexpected alteration in the simple-minded, innocent, untrained girl he has married if he were not pained at it. It is like seeing the life crushed out of a glad young being who was happy in her existence before he crossed her path. He guesses dimly at the secret pain she must suffer in this sudden severe training of herself. He never will know in this world what that pain is. His young wife has grown prettier, too, he fancies. The dignities and responsibilities of her new station have had their effect already on mind and body; and, as she has grown stouter, colder, and calmer, so there has come to her the pale, fragile, aesthetic prettiness that is picturesque and fashionable.

PUMPKINVILLE.
Last year I stopped at Pumpkinville, while touring in the west; the people there showed kindly skill in catering for a guest. I found the Husbandmen's Hotel a pleasant place to stay; the room was clean, they fed me well, the bill was quite O. K. The citizens were glad to greet the corner of their town; they hoped its praises he'd repeat, and spread its fair renown. And ever since I've told my friends that it's a decent place; my praise of Pumpkinville ascends, as up the road I race. And people come to me and say, "Your counsel filled the bill; we landed, on a summer day, in good old Pumpkinville. They are a cordial bunch of guys, who do that grad inest; they fed us on the choicest pies, and all things were the best. And now we tell our friends the tale we lately heard from you; they'll seek that village in the vale, and find the story true. Oh, Pumpkinville has many charms that should inspire a poem; she welcomes guests with open arms, and makes them feel at home." Such advertising is the best that any town can gain; to skin the tourist and the guest is neither safe nor sane.

Suzanne Talks by Radio to Tennis Fans Abroad.

LONDON.—Miss Suzanne Lenglen, the famous lawn tennis star, recently entertained hundreds of thousands of "listeners-in" with a piquant talk about herself and her habits. In winning French manner she tripped from one thing to another, and surprised her unsexed audience with her command of English. She told her admirers how she kept her stockings up in play, why she sometimes cried on the court, what it is like to be a champion at Wimbledon, and what a false legend it was which depicted her as a slave of her father, who was really very kind and patient.
"I am so very pleased to have a chance of speaking to you," said Suzanne with a charming French accent. "When I play at Wimbledon, where thousands of people may be looking, I cannot talk with you. Now I understand I am talking to thousands. How nice it is to be in England. I have great love for this country because my great grandmother was English."
"I like to give you to-night some hints about myself, as I understand you all talk about me and are curious about my stockings. How do I keep them up? I role a piece of elastic round twice. I hope the gentlemen will not be shocked."
"Sometimes I feel a little sick. Then you cannot do yourself justice, so I retire from the court. This is allowed, but I am laughed at that I feel faint and I cry. I do not, but I have just dust in my eye. I do not cry because I am behind in the score; they cannot believe I am ever ill, so I cry."

Traffic Problem.

COSTS LONDON MANY MILLIONS.
LONDON.—Twenty million pounds annually is thrown to the winds as the result of traffic delays and congestion on the streets of London, according to experts in the art of statistics. This huge sum, which is said to be a conservative estimate, is sufficient, however, to arouse the indignation of many London newspapers, and to open a campaign against the present plight of the street traffic.
The members for London in the House of Commons have agreed to take the matter up and present a bill designed to regulate all classes of traffic in the city.
The most difficult problem in London is that of the omnibus and other heavy motor lorries. There are about 3,700 passenger buses in operation in the city, and the number is steadily increasing. The congested traffic has caused a considerable loss to the bus owners, as it is impossible for the machines to make any speed through the mass of other vehicles. The situation is becoming worse according to the newspapers, and it now takes a bus three minutes longer to traverse the Strand, about a half mile in length, than it did six months ago.
A report shows that 53,000 vehicles pass Hyde Park corner every twelve hours beginning at eight o'clock in the morning, while Piccadilly Circus accounts for 43,200 and Trafalgar Square for 41,000.
At the present time only in the City of London proper, an area of less than a square mile, is heavy traffic prohibited on some of the main streets any class of vehicle may wan-

A PRETTY HOUSE OR PORCH FROCK.
4270. Checkedingham in brown and white in here illustrated. It is trimmed with white pique. Figured voile or percale will also be good for this model. Taffeta or tub silk would be very pleasing, with stitching or embroidery for trimming.
The Pattern is cut in 6 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 5 1/2 yards of 32 inch material. The width of the skirt at the foot is 2 1/2 yards. To trim as illustrated requires 3/4 yard of 36 inch material.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A CHIC LITTLE DRESS.
4421. Foulard in tan and blue was used for this model. It makes an ideal warm-weather dress, with its simple sleeveless lines. The back over laps the fronts in shoulder extensions. A sash of bon or a stridle of silk will form pretty finish.
The dress is cut in 3 Sizes: 14 and 20 years. A 16 year size requires 4 yards of 32 inch material. The width of the dress at the foot is yards.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A SIMPLE FROCK FOR THE GROOMING GIRL.
4288. Blue wool jersey embroidered in colors, or green taffeta with pings and vest of pongee in a matching shade will be pretty for this model.
The Pattern is cut in 3 Sizes: 14 and 16 years. A 14 year size requires 3 3/4 yards of 36 inch material.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

TWO PRACTICAL KITCHEN ESSENTIALS.
Pattern 3600 supplies these models in One Size: Medium. For the Apron one may use percale, madras, gingham, seersucker, drill or cambric. It will require 1 1/2 yard.
For the Oven Cloth, unbleached muslin, denim or drill would be suitable for the foundation, and cretonne or gingham for pockets and facings. An interlining of asbestos is very desirable. A yard of 36 inch material will be required.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A PRACTICAL MODEL.
2872. Here is a popular shirt style, good for madras, cambric, muslin, silk, flannel or khaki. The fronts are closed in coat style. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length with a cuff, or in elbow length without the cuff.
The Pattern is cut in 11 Sizes: 13 1/2, 14, 14 1/2, 15, 15 1/2, 16, 16 1/2, 17, 17 1/2, 18 and 18 1/2 inches neck measure. A 16 inch size requires 3 3/4 yards of 36 inch material.
4449. This model has the belt slightly raised waistline. It is excellent for a sports or separate and will develop well in all sport materials, and in serge, broad cloth, linen and other wash fabrics.
The Pattern is cut in 6 Sizes: 27, 29, 31, 33, and 35 inches waist measure. A 29 inch size requires 2 1/2 yards of 54 inch material. The width at the foot is 1 1/2 yard.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A NEW "WRAP" SKIRT.
4448. This model has the belt slightly raised waistline. It is excellent for a sports or separate and will develop well in all sport materials, and in serge, broad cloth, linen and other wash fabrics.
The Pattern is cut in 6 Sizes: 27, 29, 31, 33, and 35 inches waist measure. A 29 inch size requires 2 1/2 yards of 54 inch material. The width at the foot is 1 1/2 yard.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

LOBSTER LIFTING.
The biggest catches of lobsters are made along the East Coast. At the Norfolk fishing stations about forty thousand lobsters are landed during the season. As many as five hundred have been sold at Whitty in one day.
The biggest lobster, however, are those taken on the Scottish coast as far north as Lewis and Harris. Here

There have been many attempts by royal commissions and select committees to deal with the problem, but these have been unable to find a solution.

Italy Approves British Proposals on Reparations.

Henry Sullivan Swims the English Channel—Western Farmers form a Wheat Pool.

HENRY SULLIVAN SWIMS ENGLISH CHANNEL.
LONDON, Aug. 6.
Henry Sullivan, of Lowell, Mass., succeeded in swimming the English Channel, according to a Paris dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph, he reached Calais at five after eight to-day, swimming ninety kilometers or nearly sixty miles. The time was twenty-six hours and fifty minutes. Sullivan is the third man to swim the channel. Capt. Webb swam across August 24th, 1875; and T. W. Burgess on September 6th, 1911. Webb subsequently drowned while attempting to swim the rapids at Niagara Falls.

BOMB OUTRAGES IN GERMANY.
DUSSELDORF, Aug. 6.
A bomb attack on French troops

Saturday in which two were injured, is reported, and similar incidents in the Ruhr, and it is believed they indicate a recrudescence against the authorities. A bomb with fuse attached was found in Essen opposite the building occupied by the Coal Syndicate. One German has been arrested in connection with the discovery. A bomb was exploded near the station at Essen, but did little damage.

ITALY'S REPLY TO BRITISH NOTE.
ROME, Aug. 6.

The Italian reply to the recent British note on reparations, as published in Rome, shows that Italy approves of the British proposals. Concerning the question of cessation of passive resistance as well as that of occupation of the Ruhr, the Italian Government continues the note, "adheres to the opinion on this subject which is expressed publicly on many occasions, namely that it is opposed to all ulterior military occupation of the Ruhr and that it favors a gradual reduction of French and Belgian military occupation of the Ruhr when a gradual understanding shall have been reached and guaranteed."

HIGH PORT CHARGES AND CHEAP TRANSPORTATION.
LONDON, Aug. 6.

The Chamber of Shipping of the United Kingdom has issued that statement that while the Dominions want cheaper transportation it will be vain to expect this until they subsequently reduce their port and other terminal charges which at present, according to the Chamber, bar cheap marketing of products.

THINKS THE LEAGUE HAS DONE WONDER.
OTTAWA, Aug. 6.

Enthusiastic support of the League of Nations and high appreciation of the work which it has done thus far, was voiced by Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London, in an interview with newspapermen to-day. The League has done wonders, declared Mr. Larkin. "I think it probably averted two wars in Europe, one in Silesia and one in Albania. The eventual result of the movement will be that the nations will submit all their differences to the League."

WHEAT POOL INCORPORATED.
REGINA, Aug. 6.

The announcement of the incorporation of the United Farmers' Wheat Pool, Ltd., under the Stock Companies' Act, appointed to handle the wheat of the farmers within ten days, was made at the morning session here to-day of the Royal Grain Industry Commission, by John Mahar, President of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association.

TROOPS NO LONGER REQUIRED IN CAPE BRETON.
SYDNEY, Aug. 6.

LEAGUE COUNCIL STRIKES A SNAG.
PARIS, Aug. 7.

How to make guarantee treaties between two or more nations harmonize with proposed general pact for mutual assistance, which will be suggested to members of the League of Nations in an effort to bring about reduction of armaments is giving trouble to the temporary committee of the League of Nations sitting here. Disinclination of smaller states to join in a general pact which might bind them to take part in a blockade is the principal obstacle to it. Larger nations, which are the most exposed to danger from exterior, say they cannot leave themselves in a position where abandonment by them of the small-powers might compromise action aggression. Hence the insistence of France for partial guarantee pacts. Representatives of smaller states have been joined by Italy in their demand that parties to such partial pacts shall take action in case of threatened war, only after council had decided whether there is cause for action. On the other hand France and Great Britain are agreed that parties to regional or partial treaties cannot wait in case of dire menace for the council to act. Discussion is expected to require another day or two at least.

British Empire Service League.

Australia's delegate, Capt. G. J. C. Dyett, describes the recent dinner of the British Empire Service League as "one of the most epoch-making events in the history of the British Empire." It was—and more. As long as the war veterans of the English-speaking races are united, their policy will dominate the world. And their policy is world peace.

The Prince's Speech.

Though confessing he was "rather shy of small gatherings," and betraying this in the way he crossed his collar, the Prince of Wales made the finest speech of his career. It was plain, straightforward, and sincere, but full of the sentiments that count. He said of his "most wonderful experience" in visiting "the most unhealthily places that we used to know," now "forests of crosses."

This made one think, he declared, "what a mighty big thing the war was," and therefore "we must always be ex-Service men—we can't be anything else." Everyone to-day "still owes service to his fellowmen." Marcus Aurelius said nothing better than that.

The American View.

The Duke of Devonshire spoke well, and Lord Haig was applauded for his remarks on the theme that "the strong man armed keeps the peace"; but the surprise of the evening was Colonel O. B. Solbert, Military Attache of the American Embassy.

After a frivolous start, when he declared he felt rather like the Jew who, after borrowing a half-crown piece from a Scotsman, died from lead poisoning, he made a noble plea for the solidarity of the English-speaking war veterans.

But his humour was always making sly thrusts. He would insist on saying "British-American" because "Anglo-American" was unsafe, not merely within a three-mile limit, but within a twelve-mile limit. He also gave the view of an American tourist who, after being floored by European hotels, declared that as far as the rehabilitation of the Continent was concerned, Nature should be allowed "to take its course."

Lord Haig and Other Veterans.

"Looks rather pale, doesn't he!" said my neighbour of Lord Haig when we were the guests of the Great War Veterans of Newfoundland yesterday at the British Empire Club. Perhaps he has lost the bronze of active service, but the pallor arose merely because he was surrounded by fanned stalwarts from overseas. It was not noticeable when he chatted to the American delegates, who, by the way, seem much attracted to him.

Our host, Lt.-Col. T. Nangle, is trying hard to pay us the compliment of pronouncing "Newfoundland" in our manner. But every now and again he speaks the name of his country as if it were still new found land.—Pall Mall Gazette, July 18.

Corn From Cockles.

When fish is too plentiful and prices low tons of herrings or mackerels are dumped on the beach and hauled away by farmers to manure their land.

The odour is dreadful, but the result, so far as crops are concerned, is excellent. Shellfish make the best manure. Of late limpets have been doing much harm to the oyster beds on the East Coast. The Whitstable Oyster Company have been clearing their beds of these pests, and have secured over eight thousand bags weighing some found hundred tons.

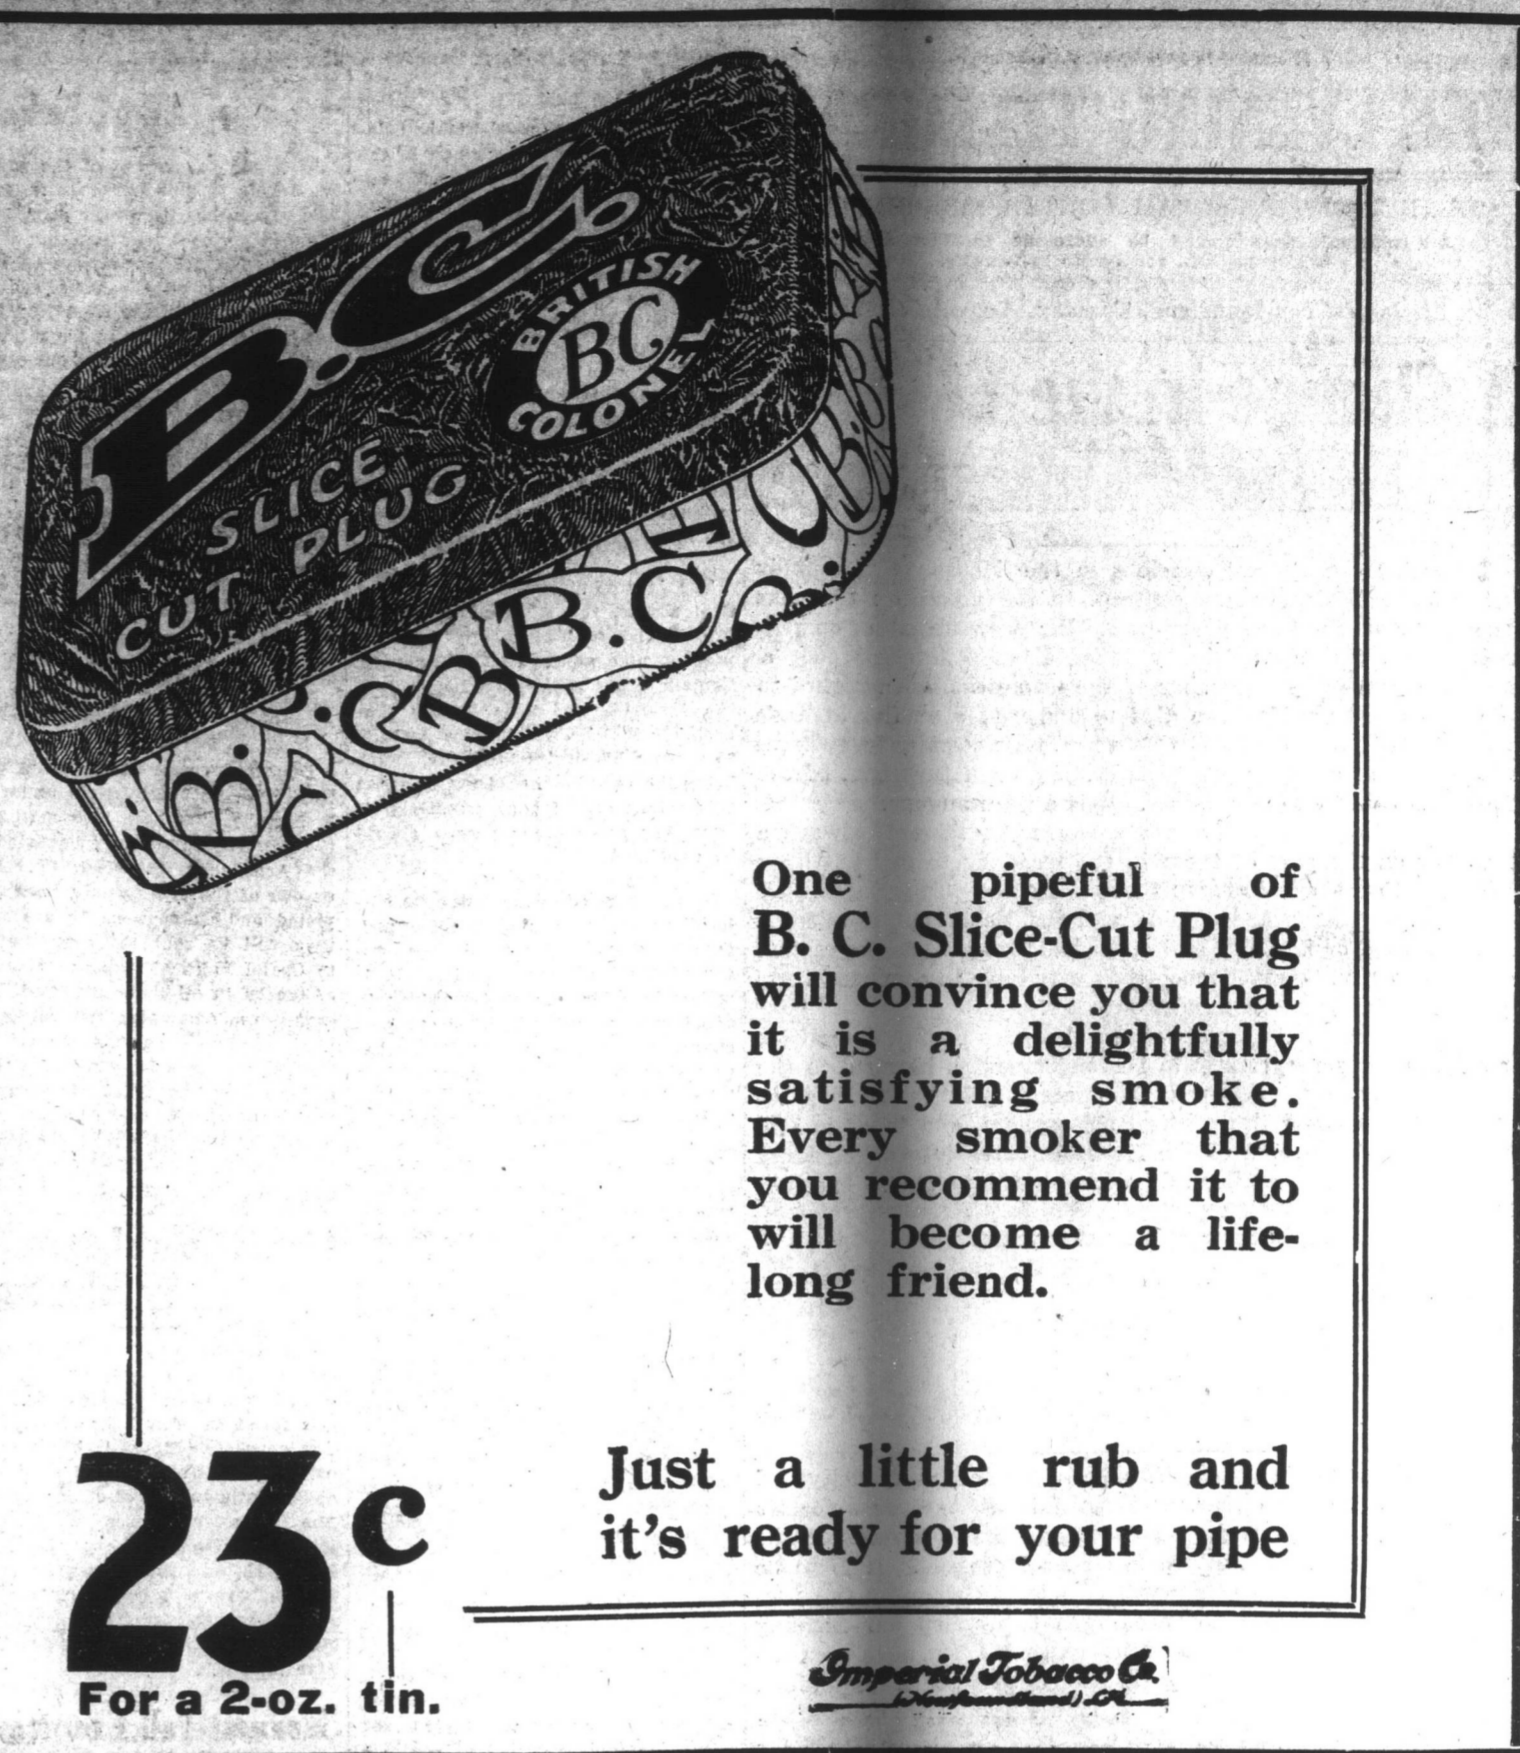

All these have been put on the land, and extraordinary crops of corn and roots have resulted.

Cockles, mussels, or any other shell fish are equally valuable as manure, for the shells are good fertilizer as well as the fish themselves.

In America a species of stickleback is netted out from rivers by the ton and used upon the land.

NEW YORK, August 4.—(Canadian Press)—Chorus girls of "The Passing Show of 1923" are worried because they have no place near the theatre where the revue is being staged to park their private cars while at work, so they are negotiating for a specially constructed arena in the court yard of a building across the street in which they may leave their automobiles without fear of having them stolen.

Up-to-date Punctuation.
The careful woman secretary or typist has her troubles and her pride. Like the rest of us. A correspondent writes:—

"A friend of mine, who is a typist, has been instructed by her employer to replace by a comma the customary full stop after initial letters (such as the addressee's initials on the back of an envelope), this, he affirms, being the more up-to-date practice. "I would be pleased to have your opinion on this matter, and also on the advisability of besting the more important words in business letters with capital letters. This seems quite contrary to rule."

St. John's, Newfoundland, Tuesday, August 7, 1923.

A Change in the Political Atmosphere.

The discussions and decisions in the House of Assembly yesterday were in striking contrast to the procedure that has been in vogue for some years past. We drew attention on Saturday to the approval by the Prime Minister of a suggestion made by a member of the Opposition with regard to Old Age Pensions. We are glad to find that a similar attitude was adopted yesterday, and that the Government gave evidence of a desire to consider proposals coming from the right of the Speaker's Chair on their merits. It is a good augury.

Under the system of Party Government there is always a tendency on the part of those in the majority to pay but little attention to matters brought forward by the other side. To some extent that is unavoidable, and justifiable, but to adopt a rigid attitude of hostility and suspicion towards the suggestion of the minority, however much they may have to commend them is a vicious and narrow minded practice.

In like manner obstruction on the part of the Opposition merely to delay progress is to be condemned as harmful to the best interests of the country. The recent disturbance has to some extent cleared the political atmosphere, and there is still time before the closing of the House to carry into effect many necessary reforms, particularly with regard to public expenditure.

The Model Farm Vote Cancelled.

The Model Farm which has been far more productive of enormous expenditure than of beneficial results ever since its inception has been closed. At the same time the vote for the encouragement of Agriculture has been increased. It is to be hoped that a practical policy will be adopted whereby the people of the country will be encouraged to develop our farming possibilities, and that the amount expended in novel experiments and overhead expenses will be reduced to a minimum. We possess thousands of acres of land suitable for cultivation. The chief difficulty is the expense of clearing it. Further assistance in that direction under proper supervision might be given. Better marketing facilities and lower rates of transportation would enable farmers on the West Coast to extend their operations. Expert advice as to what crops are best suited to our climate, and a real, honest, practical system of improving our live stock would go far towards making the industry an important one. That we can raise as economically as Nova Scotia or Prince Edward Island the hay and oats and root vegetables that we require, provided we have the same facilities, has been fully demonstrated, and it has also been proved by several of our enterprising farmers that by up-to-date methods and a little trouble, many of the finer types of vegetables can also be grown at a profit.

The avenues of employment thus opened, and the amount of money remaining in circulation in the country, would be of far greater importance than the revenue collected on the cattle and crops that we have to import, and would justify the Government in still further increasing the Agricultural Grant.

Norwegian Fish Selling Better Than Ours.

Messrs. Faria, Pimeritis & Coimbra, Ltd., fish importers, Oporto, in a report to the Board of Trade under date July 15th state that consumption of both English and Norwegian fish has been fair, but the latter is selling better. The market, the report continues, has a large quantity of English fish, soft and of low quality, which will have to be sold at a low price. The sardine catch has been very small as well as the freshwater catch, and this is why consumption keeps up in spite of there being a considerable number of Newfoundland ships in the river to be dispatched. S.S. Sicilian arrived on the 16th inst. with about 3000 qts. Norwegian fish.

Vice-Regal Suite Will Attend Nickel.

His Excellency, Lady Allardice and party have signified their intention to attend to-night's show at the Nickel Theatre to witness the excellent programme of song and pictures. The feature of the bill is the vocal rendition by our gifted Soprano, Miss Eleanor Mews, L.T.C.M., daughter of Mr. A. Mews, C.M.G., Deputy Colonial Secretary. It is not often that we hear such an accomplished artiste as Miss Mews, and doubtless to-night will be a repetition of last night's tremendous success.

The picture programme is Louis Gaspar's masterful production, "Good Women." It is a splendid social drama with an unusually good cast.

1 Mile Walk will be the attraction at the Methodist Guards sports, to-night.

In Passing.

Yesterday's session of the Legislature marked a decided change in the political atmosphere different entirely to that which prevailed during the past three or four years.

Consequently the business of the House was considered and discussed in a business-like manner, which means that the country and people if such is continued will be better served than they have been in the immediate past.

One vote in particular is worth more than passing notice and we hope will not be overlooked, it is that of the Magistrate of the Labrador.

The late administration appointed Capt. Jones, the sitting member for the district of Twillingate to this position at a salary of 750.00 a year. Captain Jones still holds his seat in the Assembly and it is highly improbable that he will be in a position to assume his duties this year. Such being the case he should not be voted this salary and if such an official is necessary some other person should be appointed.

The Advocate is daily using its editorial columns in urging some progressive movement toward the encouragement of our fisheries. It is rather late for our contemporary to adopt such an attitude in view of its apparent disinterestedness during the past six months when matters of less interest received foremost attention in the columns of that newspaper.

Our readers will remember the onslaught made by these wily politicians who worked unceasingly in denigrating the manifesto of the Opposition in the general election because it made provision for a sane policy of encouragement for our sea resources.

The Advocate at this time was upholding the scandalous manipulation of public moneys. The fraudulent statements concerning the administration, railway policy and other scandals which have since been unearthed; giving little if any space to much graver issues which concerned the country and people.

The question of encouragement of our fisheries is one that will remain for many years paramount, despite all that can be said of our other resources.

Not a few people are in favour of better methods of distributing salt along the coast. We have only to review the experience of the fishermen in certain districts some weeks past particularly at the beginning of the seasons operations to learn the seriousness and the loss incurred by the lack of salt and the result of improper distribution of same at this particular period.

But the Advocate and Government appeared to be very little concerned in the matter at the time accordingly we reiterated that the concern of the self-styled fisherman's organ is lost for want of sufficient confidence on the part of its readers who are more or less disgusted with its declarations up to a short while ago.

As exclusively stated in this column the Government proposes to subsidize a project in relation to the operation of two steamers which will engage in the West Indies trade.

The Minister of Fisheries will today in the Assembly introduce a Bill to encourage trade with the West Indies. The real purpose behind the movement is an effort to have Sir W. F. Coaker make good a pledge to the members of the F.P.U. made some time ago when he promised to erect in some Western district (presumably at Port Union) a Sugar Refinery also to have two sealing steamers added to the local fleet that would prosecute the sealing fishery in winter months.

It is hardly believable that Sir William Coaker contemplated at the time of making such extravagant promises to his supporters that he purposed using the funds of the colony in such proposals yet we learn from a very reliable source that such is correct.

Surely the salt, sugar and supply scandals will be sufficient to deter the Government from giving serious thought to this project under the circumstances as outlined and the sad experiences of similar legislation, now past history.

The failure of the Government to secure a commission that will enjoy the confidence of the people to inquire into the alleged public scandal is indeed a serious reflection upon many of our public spirited men. We agree entirely with the views of Premier Warren in saying that no commission is far preferable to one that would be prepared to do a white-washing job as other tribunals such as this one have successfully accomplished.

St. John's Has Short Fishery.

The trap fishery out of the port of St. John's is now practically over. The voyage has been very poor, being about 50 per cent. less than that of last season. The fishing promises operated by Job Bros. on the Southside and Mr. C. Noonan in the East End have not half the quantity under salt they had last year. Many traps out of port did not average more than 6 cwt. a haul; some registered a complete blank. The price paid for green fish is $1.25 per quintal and it is possible that a good many fishermen will engage in hooking during the fall. An approximate guess at the number of quintals of fish caught out of St. John's cannot be made and no statistics whatever are taken.

Setting Up Cars for Humber.

During the past couple of days the Reid Nbd. Co.'s employees under Mr. P. Murphy have been busy setting up the new trucks recently imported for the Armstrong-Whitworth Co. Four or five of the trucks have been completed and as soon as 10 are ready they will be sent out over the line to Grand Lake. There are fifty sets of trucks in all to be mounted. The cars are self dumping and unlike any used previously on this line. The trucks are, however, similar to those under the ordinary flat car excepting that the wheels are smaller. The wheels of the Armstrong trucks are 24 inches in diameter whilst those on our railroad are 30 inches.

Circuit Court Leaves by Sebastopol.

The Supreme Court on Western Circuit will leave in a day or so by S.S. Sebastopol, which arrived in port this forenoon from the Northward. The court, which will be presided over by Mr. Justice Kent, will open at Placentia on arrival of the steamer. The Court comprises W. Carrol, Sheriff; S. Butler, Clerk; J. Cahill, Crier; H. Garland, Stenographer; J. Barron, Crown prosecutor. The Bar will be represented by Messrs. C. E. Hunt, J. Higgins, Jas. Conroy, J. Stan McGrath.

Harvesters' Excursion.

Mr. J. W. N. Johnstone, agent for the Canadian National Steamships, Ltd., has received word that harvesters purposing going to Western Canada can now do so under a reduced fare. Trains will be leaving North Sydney on August 16th, and Halifax on August 17th, while the special train will run from Moncton West. Anyone desirous of receiving information in connection with this harvesters excursion are asked to communicate with Mr. Johnstone, Board of Trade Building.

Fish Plentiful at Lamaline.

According to a report to the Collector of Customs from the sub-collector C. C. Pittman at Lamaline, 20,000 qts. codfish have been landed to date between Point aux Galets and Lof's Cove. In this vicinity there is now good fishing for traps, nets, hooks and jiggers. Outside these points very few traps are fishing, owing to their being wrecked in a recent storm.

Investigation Proceeding

The police are continuing their investigation into the death of the boy Griffiths who was killed by a motor car on the South Side on Tuesday week last. A magisterial enquiry into the affair will take place next week.

No Fish in Market.

There was no fish for sale in the cove to-day as boats were unable to hold the grounds owing to a stiff breeze of wind. During the past week hooks and liners have done fairly well.

Saw Mill Tragedy.

A message to the Minister of Justice from Magistrate Cook, of Forest Hill, whilst working in a saw mill at Horwood was accidentally killed. No other particulars were given.

Good Work With Jiggers.

At Petty Harbour on Friday and Saturday of last week there was exceptionally good fishing both for traps and hooks. Boats operating on Shoal Bay grounds loaded to the gun-walves during the two days. In many instances two men with jiggers took from 20 to 24 qts. whilst the sport was on. Traps averaged from 10 to 20 qts. per haul.

Requiem Mass at Belvidere.

There was a very large attendance at the Requiem High Mass at Belvidere this morning. Amongst the clergy present were Monsignor McDermott, Rev. Dr. Carter and Greene, Fr. Kennedy (2) and Sullivan. During the past week friends and relatives of the departed had been busy putting the plot in order and in addition Sexton O'Toole and his staff had the walks newly gravelled and raked so that the whole presented a neat and clean appearance.

SULLIVAN'S GRIT CARRIED HIM ACROSS CHANNEL.

DOVER, Aug. 7. Dover observers who were in the boat that accompanied Henry Sullivan on the swim across the English Channel say that the American athlete showed marvellous degree of dogged determination in the final stages of the long grind. He had misfortune to meet one strong tide which delayed his time to a great extent. When he touched bottom safely on the French shore he staggered as though intoxicated, but when he was offered help from the boat he declined and staggered ashore. He has been awarded the prize offered of $1000.

DOVER, Aug. 7. Mrs. Clemington Carson, the other swimmer attempting to swim the English Channel yesterday, was forced to give up the attempt when 6 miles off the French coast.

Model Farm Despensed With—Cannot Get the Right Kind of Men to Act as Commissioners in Connection With Alleged Scandals.

Yesterday's session of the Assembly was brimful of surprises, and a large number of visitors were present. The letter as written by the Inspector of Police as an explanation for having received $1,000 for certain expenses which amount was charged to the Pitt Prop Account, was read and passed by Premier Warren. The vote was 10-10. The Commissioners, the vote of the Model Farm, were the subject of a long discussion. The much-mentioned Telegram office at Ferryland will be closed up, and the allowance will be put into the hands of Mr. Peter's River and other much-needed sections of the coast. The vote to purchase liquor for the Controller's department was reduced to $250,000. The Prime Minister promised to investigate the appointment of Hon. Dr. Mosdell, Editor of the Mail, to the position on the Board of Pensions.

The House met at 1:15. Mr. P. J. Cashin—To ask the Hon. Prime Minister to lay the following information on the table of the House: (a) who is Acting General Manager of the railroad at the present time; (b) what salary is being paid him; (c) has the Government contemplated the Acting General Manager to purchase the winter's supply of coal; (d) have tenders been called for the coal; (e) if tenders have not been called for, why not; (f) from whom has the coal been purchased and at what price—per short ton or long ton; (g) if purchased from Sydney what freight is being paid.

ANSWER. Mr. H. J. Russell. $1,000.00 per month; his future salary is not decided on. Railway coal requirements are being met from time to time by management of the railroad—Government will issue any special instructions as required. Tenders for coal have not been called for. It was decided to purchase Sydney coal this season same as has been done in all previous years except last year. All arrangements were made between railway and coal company. There was no need of asking tenders. Coal requirements arranged by the British Empire Steel Corporation—cost six dollars per long ton. F.O.B. Sydney. Cost of freight per long ton from Sydney to St. John's . . . $1.40. Sydney and Lewisporte . . . 1.50. Reply to a question of Mr. Walsh on the construction of one or more bridges to be used in the West End. The Prime Minister stated that the Board of Council had been authorized to authorize this expenditure in any shape or form. The Minister of Marine and Fisheries had given notice of a bill to provide means whereby trade with the West Indies would be encouraged and it will come before the House in the regular way. The House then went into Committee on supply.

The Prime Minister took up the question of the Constabulary and requested that at least sitting these were over pending the payment of the Inspector General of $1,000 which was charged to Pitt Prop Account. The Prime Minister read a letter which had been received from the Inspector General as follows: August 6, 1928. Mr. W. R. Warren, K.C., Premier and Minister of Justice. Sir—In compliance with your request for information as to the services rendered by me for which I have been paid compensation by the Government, I have the honor to advise you that such compensation was requested for extra and special services in investigating, reporting on, and advising in connection with the "The Unemployed" and Labor conditions generally in St. John's, Harbor Grace, St. John's Gut, Clarenville, Badger, Carleton Place, Victoria Village, Bay Roberts, St. John's Bay, Upper Island Cove, St. John's, Avondale, Hawke's Bay, and other places for the years 1921 and 1922, and involved a large amount of work. During these two years I was in consultation with the Minister of Agriculture and Mines, who had charge of that work, practically every day and four times, and frequently with the Prime Minister and other members of the Executive, day and night. My application for compensation was made in the first place to the Prime Minister, who requested me to ask the Minister of Agriculture and Mines to bring the matter before the Government. I was afterwards advised by the latter that he was instructed to pay me. I had no knowledge of, nor was I informed as to, which account my compensation was charged up, I do not consider it was my duty, or that it would have been pertinent for me to have enquired; and I presume the matter was duly considered, authority given, and payment made in due course.

I understand an investigation into these matters by an impartial Tribunal, has been promised by the Government, and I can assure you that I shall be quite prepared to justify my application for the special remuneration that was made for the services indicated. I have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servant, CHAS. H. HUTCHINGS, Inspector General Constab.

This was all he knew about the matter as he had not recommended that any payments be made for extra services. Mr. Higgins disagreed entirely with the principle involved. He said it was a serious position for the head of the police force and the Supt. of Police to find themselves in. All down through the ages the one great pride of the force was that not a man down to the lowest recruit could be bribed. They all regarded what they did as merely part of their duty, and any personal remuneration for any officer could be presented through the Head of the Force. Now we have the spectacle today of the Head of this department, the Minister of Justice, stating in open House that he knew nothing whatever of these payments until he saw them in the paper as being charged to Pitt Prop Account. Surely, sir, this was most improper. Even if there were any foundation for the frightened minds of the ministers of the Government surely the proper channel for payment of special services should be through the Minister of Justice, who was head of the department. Here, continued the leader of the Opposition, we have a man of many capacities who holds a seat in the Upper House, a seat in the Executive Council, Minister of Agriculture and Mines and holds many other lucrative positions in the public service actually running the police force.

The next interesting item for consideration was the Model Farm Vote. Mr. Higgins again laid bare some conclusive evidence showing the undesirability for the vote for the Model Farm, with the result that the Premier said he was convinced that the Model Farm was not a necessity and moved that the vote of $250,000.00 be struck out. He then moved that the vote for the encouragement of Agriculture be raised from $150,000.00 to $200,000.00. This was received with much satisfaction by the members of the Opposition and loudly applauded by the visitors present.

FISHERMEN POSE AS AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS. On the vote for the encouragement of Agriculture Mr. Higgins, Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Walsh raised the question as to the necessity of the Agricultural Commissioners being continued. The Opposition wanted to know who the Commissioners were and were told Messrs. Sanson and R. G. Winsor (the latter a new appointment to take the place of Mr. Downey). Mr. Higgins asked if it was contemplated to appoint a third and it was admitted it was. Mr. Sullivan thought it was an outrage for money to be frittered away in this fashion when so many people were hungry and naked. He could not support it. Mr. Woodford inquired as to reasons for the Commissioners getting salaries of $2,760.00 and the Secretary, who does all the work, only receiving $2,075.00. Mr. Downey attempted to explain the anomaly but it did not satisfy Mr. Woodford who continuing compared Mr. Downey's continued, competent, agriculturist with the new appointee Mr. R. G. Winsor who was a fisherman and knew absolutely nothing about Agriculture. Men of this stamp said Mr. Woodford asks the question. The vote was about to pass when Mr. Hunt also objected. He said the Committee ought to be decent about it and admit that the only work the Commissioners did was draw their salaries. One of the late Commissioners at any rate did not do any work. That was a matter of common notoriety. There was absolutely no return or value for the salaries voted. He asked that the vote stand over for further consideration.

The Prime Minister did not see his way clear to discontinue the vote until he was convinced that it was unnecessary. Mr. Higgins thought the position absurd. The House was asked to vote $20,000.00 for the encouragement of Agriculture of which $2,250.00 would be spent in salaries to three men. He could not be a party to that kind of thing. Mr. Walsh said it had been proven the most of the vote would be eaten up in salaries. The Agricultural policy of the Morris Government has been practically abandoned, the Agricultural Societies in nearly all cases had ceased to exist and he could not see the need of Commissioners. Mr. Sullivan said the vote could not be justified. It was absurd to pay three men $20,000.00. With appalling conditions facing the country it was an outrage to vote this money to be given three able-bodied men. If the new government will persist in this vote then they were only putting a rod in pickle for themselves. Mr. Sullivan made it very clear to the government that another scandal was under consideration with the result the vote was allowed to stand over for the present. Information re the 450,000 spent on relief work will be tabled to-day. The members for Placentia will also meet the Minister of Public Works to-day to consider a better Ferry Service in that district.

THE FERRYLAND TELEGRAPH OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED UP. Messrs. Cashin and Moore succeeded in having the government close up the Telegraph Office placed at Ferryland by the late administration closed up and the saving of $600.00 a year is the result. Hon. Mr. Haves was pleased to accede to their wishes and he authorized the amount voted to be transferred to placing Telephone or Telegraph communication at St. Shotts, Peter's River, and other places where such communication is most needed. LIQUOR CONTROLLER'S VOTE REDUCED. Customs vote to purchase liquor for the Controller's Department was reduced by $225,000.00. Asked how this could be done when a sale valued at $480,000.00 was looked for by the budget the Minister replied that there was an immense stock on hand and new liquor would be purchased from the sales of what was now in stock. Mr. Higgins at this juncture asked the Prime Minister what progress he had made with regard to a Commission of inquiry into recent happenings? The Prime Minister replied he was meeting with great difficulty in getting the right kind of men to act. If within the next few days he could not get the Commissioners other steps would be taken. Mr. Higgins asked if he proposed to start the enquiry before the House closed to which the Prime Minister replied in the affirmative. The Militia estimates were next to be considered when Mr. P. Cashin raised an objection to the continuance of Hon. Dr. Mosdell as a commissioner on the Board of Pensions whilst ex-servicemen of the type of Major March and Capt. G. Byrne and others who hold such splendid records and won fame and glory for themselves and the Colony were being ignored. The Premier said he would investigate. In dealing with the estimates for the Shipping Department to the amount of $50,000 the member for Carbonear, Mr. Moore, asked if such a department still existed. Sir Michael Cashin objected to the vote going through on the grounds that the House had nothing before it in the way of records to show how we stand financially in respect to that department. There is no information in the Auditor General's report that can help in the matter. Sir Michael asked how many boats the Department of Shipping operated. Mr. Cashin told there might be 6 or 7. Sir Michael then told him there were seven and then asked what those were costing. The late Minister did not know. Mr. Walsh spoke of the great injustice being done a large section of his constituency when the whole of St. Mary's Bay and from Trepassay to Placentia was without service of any kind. He asked a few days ago when this would be rectified and was put off with the answer that it would be when traffic warranted. Such a reply might satisfy the man who made it, but it seemed out of place when it is considered that that district was bearing its share of railroad expenses—a railroad it had no direct interest in. He asked that the vote stand over. Mr. Sullivan supported Mr. Walsh and expressed the hope that before the House prorogues some arrangements would be made to have a suitable steamer for that section of the coast as mentioned by his colleague. IRRESPONSIBLE SQUANDERING PUBLIC MONIES. Mr. Higgins called attention to the fact that there are men of non-responsibility running about the country squandering public money while elected representatives of the people are shut off from such privileges. The danger of abuse is great because those handling the money are men who are responsible to no one. He suggested that in future members

LAST NIGHTS GAME.

GUARDS vs. C.E.I. The Guards were the winners in last night's game by a score of 5 to 1. In the first half the Guards scored 4 goals while the C.E.I. could not find the net. In the second half the Guards notched up another tally, while the C.E.I. broke through for their one and only.

TO-MORROW'S FIVES.

The teams to play in the semi-finals at the Guards Sports to-morrow are: Star vs. Guards; Feildians vs. Saints. The winners will play off at 7.15.

ON THE LINKS.

The second round for the championship, which is to be played off before Monday, August 13th, has been drawn as follows: P. C. Mars vs. R. B. Job; B. C. Gardner vs. A. C. N. Gosting; D. M. McLeod vs. A. Williams; H. W. Dickinson vs. L. E. Emerson. The semi-finals will be played by Aug. 16th, but no date has been set for the final.

VILLA GOES OUT OF HIS CLAS.

PHILADELPHIA — Pancho Villa (110), flyweight champion of the world, went out of his class to-night, and in the opinion of newspapermen at the ring-side secured a decisive victory over Kid Williams (118), former bantamweight title-holder.

Villa outpointed the Baltimore fighter in seven of the eight rounds and in the first and fifth gave him a bad landing.

Villa opened the fifth with a left hook to the body and then sent a left right to the chin, which dazed Williams. He followed this blow with a series of rights and lefts to the head and Williams slipped to his knees. The Champion tried hard for a knockout, but the round ended before he could land another telling punch.

PIRPO WANTS POSTPONEMENT.

NEW YORK—Luis Firpo's wish, expressed at Omaha, yesterday, that his fight with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship of the world might be postponed for a year, will not be realized, Tex Rickard, promoter of the match, said last night.

Dempsey and Firpo positively will meet on September 14th at the Polo Grounds as originally announced by me," he said.

"There will be absolutely no postponement."

NEW BANTAM CHAMPIONSHIP.

LONDON, July 31.—"Bugler" Lake, of England, won the bantamweight championship of Europe last night from Charles Dedoux, of France, in a 20-round bout on points.

Lake won the title by a clever and scientific display. He skillfully evaded the Frenchman's wild rushes and hurricane swings, although he was somewhat shaken up in the second round with a terrific right to the jaw.

The Frenchman was twice cautioned for butting. He tried hard to finish Lake off when the Englishman held a lead on points, but Lake dodged and ducked and fought with great generalship and clearly disappointed the Frenchman, who fought with tiger-like ferocity towards the end.

The new champion is a son of Leading Seaman Hill, H.M.S. Constance, recently in Halifax.

SPOTTING THE WINNER.

The Rev. Dr. Horton, speaking at Taunton School Commemoration Prize Day on Saturday, said sport was one of the greatest contributions this country had made to the world. We had brought it to a high level—almost to a moral and Christian level. There were, nevertheless, tendencies which made one regard the future with much anxiety. He continued:—

The fevered interest with which men and women watch the evening papers would make a visitor from another sphere say, "Surely these people take a wonderful interest in public affairs and foreign policy—and in what the world is doing." Yet really their sole interest is to "spot the winner."—Daily Mail.

A FAMOUS RACE.

Editor Sportographs: Dear Sir—In addition to Ron O'Toole's five miles, it would be worthy of note to comment Green's six miles, which he did in 31 minutes and odd. Nineteen competitors took part in this race, six of which reached St. George's Field, the other 13 collapsed with the terrible heat of the day. Green was first, Eric Robinson, second, Jack Kavanagh, third, and Tom King, fourth. Arthur Wheeler and William Weaver came in at the finish, after one of the best races that ever took place in this country. This was in 1911.

Yours, C. C. KENNEDY, 13 Duckworth St., City.

Tea Displacing Beer.

LONDON, (A.P.)—Prohibition is responsible for a considerable increase in the quantity of tea consumed through the world, according to Mincing Lane experts.

Britishers now consume tea at the rate of 3 1/2 lbs. a head, compared with 6 1/2 lbs. a few years ago. Some of this increase is due to the high price of beer, which forces the British workman to "let off steam" on pint of tea instead of beer.

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

THOSE UNINVITED GUESTS.

On my way up from the beach recently, I stopped for a minute at my neighbor's porch. She was sitting in a wicker chair and she looked about done up. "Where's Darlen?" was her surprising query after waving a languid greeting. "I declare I can't think just now, but why do you want to know?" I asked.

"Because I want to go there next year to spend the summer. All I know about it is that Mrs. Darlen is a peppy little thing, that everyone quotes, but it sounds so peaceful and remote and so beautifully inaccessible!"

So then she told me of the events which had brought about her present state of exhaustion and her enthusiasm for Darlen.

"Don't Make Company Of Me."

Second-cousin Mary, with her two boys aged four and six, had "dropped in to surprise her" one day last week and had remained four days. "I didn't want to let you know I was coming," she had blithely explained, "because I was sure you would put yourself out getting ready, and I don't want you to make company of me, my dear. I like to take you just as I find you."

But Cousin Mary didn't leave her just as she found her! The two small boys nearly wrecked the cottage during their surprise visit. They pricked their fingernails in the window shade with a pin, they spilled a bottle of ink on the rug and they smashed the gold fish globe. They had special and diversified tastes in the matter of food and they quarreled and whined and refused to go to bed until they were carried off forcibly.

A Common Experience.

It is because I believe that my neighbor's experience is by no means unique (although of course) most children are not so poorly trimmed as that) that I am constrained to write about this matter of unsolicited summer guests.

It is really amazing how selfish people are about this sort of visiting. I know many families who no longer spend their summers at the seashore because they cannot stand the strain of so much enforced entertaining.

A friend of mine was almost in tears the other day over a letter from her aunt asking permission to come and spend the summer. The aunt is convalescing from a severe illness, her nerves are in bad condition and the doctor says the sea air will be so beneficial. She offers to share the expense of the table, and as she just wants to be quiet and rest, she explains that she will be no trouble at all to her niece.

All Obligation Cancelled.

So many self-invited guests seem to think that by thus offering to pay a part of the expense (although almost never what they would have to pay at a hotel, I notice) they not only justify their self-imposed visit but divert themselves of any feeling of obligation or gratitude to their hosts. In this case it was impossible for my friend to refuse her aunt without giving serious offense, but the restraint imposed by the presence of an invalid in her home will spoil her summer.

Most of us like to be hospitable but our summers are planned for recuperation as well as pleasure and, cordial as we may wish to be, our plans can not include much unpremeditated entertaining without its becoming a burden.

A pretty good rule to remember is that if your friends are really anxious to have you come and can arrange it conveniently they will invite you. And surely you do not want to risk finding yourself unwelcome or in the way of inviting yourself.

Just Folks.

THE SAILOR

"Twere fine to be a sailorman
And ship away to sea;
To know I had in every lad
A friend who'd faithful be;
To come to land and have him stand
On shore to welcome me."

"Twere fine to know so many things
That every boy would know;
So much to teach within my reach,
So very much to show;
To hold a boy with so much joy
Wherever I may go."

A ship is filled with wonderment
To every youthful eye,
With ropes and rings and chains and things
And brilliant flags to fly.

"Twere fine to work while pleasures lurk
And lads are standing by.
A sailor man can hold a boy
When weather and fame would fail."

He'll leave his play to spend the day
To watch him mend a sail,
And sitting still, will drink his fill
Of many a curious tale.

But I must work before a desk
Until the day shall end;
I hold no joy for my boy,
With words my time I spend.
For rich is he who sails the sea,
For every lad's his friend.

A Bird Monument.

In Salt Lake City, Utah, is one of the two monuments in the world—the other is in Italy—erected to the memory of birds. This monument commemorates the fact that about the year 1850 the original settlers in Utah were saved from starvation by sea-gulls.

A year after their arrival the white settlers were alarmed to observe that their crops were being devoured by myriads of crickets and grasshoppers, which overran the country until it was as if it had been scorched by fire. Attempts were made to stop the plague, but without result. At that time the nearest point of civilization was 1,000 miles away, and it seemed as if the people must be starved.

Prayer was resorted to, and one day, as if in answer to their appeals, there appeared a great flock of sea-gulls, which proceeded to devour the pests, and it was not until the "enemy" had been completely annihilated that the gulls took to their wings and disappeared.

The monument commemorating the event was unveiled in 1918.

BILLY'S UNCLE

How to Keep Your Car Young.

SCIENTIFIC CLEANING PRESERVES LUSTRE.

By HAROLD F. BLANCHARD, Noted Automobile Expert.

An automobile is as old as its paint. And it is just as true to say that the paint is as old as the varnish that covers and protects it.

That new car of yours—how it glitters and sparkles out there in the driveway. How long will that lustre and beauty remain to thrill you?

The minute you start the engine for the first spin over the roads you are embarking on an endless warfare with the enemies of car beauty and youth. In the vanguard of these enemies are mud and dust. Following them in quick order come oil, grease, muddy water, road tar, soap, hot water, gasoline, kerosene, and even more kinds of pollishes.

What are you going to do about it? Either you can stand by and watch the new car grow old before its time; or you can roll up your sleeves, turn on the water, and fight the battle in defense of glossy finish that will make your machine an almost endless source of pride.

I have in mind a car that one of my acquaintances recently purchased fresh from the factory. It is just two weeks old. Yet its poor human body, wrinkled and cracked with age, looks as if hob-nailed fanciers had been doing the marathon over its once-polished sides.

Well Groomed After Ten Years.

On the other hand there is another car I have observed on the streets of New York City year after year. It is 10 years old; yet it looks almost as splendid as the day it appeared. Wherever it stands at the curb it attracts a crowd of admirers. The secret

Artistically correct lines to begin with, plus scrupulous care of the finish. That is the secret of car youth. To keep away the toll-take cracks and lines of old age—sure signs of abuse or neglect of the varnished finish—the safest way is to assume that everything is harmful to varnish. As soon as varnish comes in contact with any foreign matter it begins to deteriorate.

Mud draws the varnish—literally eats it. If mud is allowed to stand on the finish for two or three days, it leaves permanent marks. Muddy water and dust do the same kind of damage. In addition, mud and dust have a grinding action that scratches and wears away the polished surface. That's why you should never dust the surface nor wipe off mud.

Oil, grease, road tar, gasoline, kerosene and soap produce a chemical action that gnaws into the finish, while a splash of alcohol from the radiator will dissolve any varnish it touches.

Next to mud, soap probably is the car's worst enemy; yet I believe that not one in a thousand cars is kept free from it. To the average auto owner a bar of laundry soap and a scrub brush would seem the quickest and easiest way to remove mud and grease. They are the quickest—in ruining the finished surface.

There is just one best way of removing mud, dust and grime—that is to rinse it off with a gentle stream of clean, cool water. Yet even clean water may be harmful under certain circumstances. The car never should be washed in bright sunshine. Rapid drying of the water by the sun will cause streaks in the finish. Yet very cold water applied during cold weather also is injurious.

The actual washing of the car should require not more than a few minutes. Before you begin have your equipment ready—rubber boots, two sponges, two pieces of chamols, a pail, a hose already connected, some fine soap already dissolved (for the running gear), a whisk broom, a brush and finally, a barrel of water. One chamol and one sponge are for the body; the others for the running gear. Be sure not to mix them.

First clean the top and interior with the whisk broom. Next, clean all glass windows with a good scouring soap. Now soak off all mud and dirt from the body with a gentle stream of water from the hose (never use a nozzle). When you have done this, dip a pail full of water from the barrel and proceed to sponge the body systematic with water from this pail. Be sure to keep clean water in the pail. Use plenty of water on the sponge and no "elbow grease." Wipe the body of the car dry with chamols. Wet the chamols thoroughly and wring it dry before using it.

Commons and Camping.

Many people consider themselves on sure ground when wandering over a breezy heather-clad common. There are about 1,750,000 acres of such land in England and Wales, and fights to save it from wrongful enclosure are being waged incessantly by the Commons and Footpaths Preservation Society.

There is a general impression that on commons, at all events, holiday-makers may safely pitch their tents or caravans and camp. This is not the case. A common, lawyers tell us, is the private property of the Lord of the Manor or some other owner. It is termed a common because certain persons known as commoners are entitled to exercise rights of common over it.

They may, perhaps, be able to turn animals to graze upon the land, or they may have the right to cut grass or heather, bracken or undergrowth, for fuel or litter.

It is the existence of these rights that makes the land a common. The enclosure of the land, and, so long as they exist, pedestrians who commit no willful or assessable damage are fairly safe. But the camper may be summarily ejected.

The gipsy or vagrant has often brought all campers into ill-repute, and the genuine and harmless pleasure-seeker suffers from the reputation of those who are credited with an uncanny power of discovering the position of unguarded hen-roosts. Accordingly, it is wise before camping on a common to seek permission from the representative of the Lord of the Manor, if he can be found.

That Message.

The Doctor didn't run away. He just went on a holiday, a breathing space; a rest, for his Green's strong, now champions honesty.

Mr. Ernest Hutchings' Experience. The following account of a hall-storm unlike anything that so far has been experienced in this country will be read with particular interest, as the gentleman referred to is the son of the late Mr. G. H. Hutchings and a former prominent figure in our athletics.

HALL-HAMMERED COUPLE ESCAPE.

But Car is Listed as Total Loss in Wheatland Storm.

Helena, July 22.—(Special)—How Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hutchings, of this city, literally lost their car and were pelted with cone-shaped hailstones the size of golf balls, during a recent severe storm in Wheatland county, is told by Mr. Hutchings, who is special agent of the fire association of Helena, Montana.

When three miles east of Shawmut, Mr. Hutchings found a bridge had been washed out. No danger signs had been posted by the county commissioners, and there were no detour directions. Noticing, however, very faint wheel tracks leading into a draw, he decided to take a chance. His car soon bogged hopelessly down.

Seeking help at a near-by ranch he was told that all the horses had been turned out on the range. Another rancher, however, volunteered to give a tow from his Overland car. The pitch of the embankment and the weight of mud on the Olds wheels were more than the smaller car could overcome.

On the way out, however, the rancher's "bunch" was working so strong that it was unsafe for Mrs. Hutchings to be in the car back to the draw when the storm struck, whereupon they went back for her. After getting a short distance on their second trip, the storm descended with terrifying intensity. Mr. Hutchings, for years an out-of-doors man and acquainted with all moods of weather, says it was the worst experience he had ever known.

Eventually they arrived at shelter. After the storm, it was found that flood water sweeping through the draw had carried the car a considerable distance. It was found lodged against broken bridge timber and buried beneath mud, trees and other storm debris. When wreckers dug it out, there was nothing left to salvage. Mr. Hutchings counts the car a total loss, and has filed claims accordingly with the company issuing a policy on the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchings consider themselves fortunate to have come out of the storm with no loss other than their car, his typewriter, milk cans and office papers he was carrying on the trip. Had she been in the car when the crest of the flood suddenly arrived, carrying the car before it, it is not likely that she could have effected an escape, especially as the car was tightly confined at the time.

Newfoundland Capital Issues.

(Times, July 17.)

The name of Newfoundland will loom large in the new capital market in the course of the next week, for three separate issues of the Colony, amounting in all to nearly £4,500,000, will be floated on the London market. To-day, subscriptions are invited to an issue of £2,000,000 Four-and-a-Half per cent. "A" Mortgage Debenture stock of the Newfoundland Power and Paper Company. This company, originally known as the Newfoundland Products Corporation, owns valuable water limits in the Colony; and Sir W. G. Armstrong, Whitworth & Co. recently entered into a contract for the construction of a complete electric power undertaking and the construction and equipment of pulp and paper mills, with the requisite power, station and installations for operating them, at a cost of £1,755,538 and $6,489,459 (Newfoundland). Principal and interest of the "A" Mortgage Debenture stock now offered are guaranteed by his Majesty's Government under the Trade Facilities Act. The issue price is 98. The first interest payment, being at the rate of £1 15s. per cent., will be made on January 15, and the stock will be repayable under the operation of a sinking fund by purchase or by drawings, so that the whole stock will be redeemed not later than July 15, 1948. Power is reserved to the company to redeem the stock on or after January 15, 1934. The yield in interest will be £4 14s. 6d. per cent., and the total yield, including bonus on redemption in 1948, will be £4 17s. per cent. By virtue of the guarantee, the stock is a trustee investment. The net proceeds of the issue are to be expended primarily in the purchase of plant, machinery, and materials, manufactured in the United Kingdom, and other incidental expenditure and in providing for the payment of interest on stock of this issue for a period of two years.

A Colonial Guarantee. The company has a share capital of $21,000,000, all of which has been issued. Of it $10,000,000 is in Six-and-a-Half per cent. Non-Cumulative Preference shares, $5,000,000 in Ordinary shares, and $6,000,000 in Deferred shares, each of $100. In addition to the £2,000,000 of "A" Debenture stock guaranteed by the Imperial Government, the company also has £2,000,000 of Five-and-a-Half per cent. "B" Mortgage Debenture stock, both interest and principal of which are guaranteed by the Government of Newfoundland. The funds required for the purpose of works to be carried out in Newfoundland will be provided out of the proceeds of this "B" Debenture stock, the issue of which will be made, we understand, in about a week's time.

A Railway Purchase. In addition to the above-mentioned financing of private Newfoundland industry under Governmental guarantees, we understand that arrangements are in hand for the placing of an issue of stock of Government of Newfoundland. The funds required for the purchase of railways, the Newfoundland Government issued to the Reid interests $2,000,000 (equal at current exchange to approximately £423,000) of new Five per cent. Twenty-year securities. This amount has been purchased by Messrs. Higginson & Co., who will shortly issue it to the public in the form of sterling inscribed stock.

Gifted Vocalist Accorded Big Ovation.

MISS ELEANOR MEWS DELIGHTS IMMENSE AUDIENCE.

The huge concourse of people that attended the Nickel Theatre last night were well rewarded by a treat of vocal music that is in a distinct class by itself. An enthusiastic welcome was accorded Miss Eleanor Mews, the city's gifted mezzo-soprano. Miss Mews' voice is a delight to hear, alike for its velvety tone, its purity, its richness, and its remarkable range. Moreover she brings out the expression of her selections with her head as well as with her voice.

"A photodrama of the conventions was nicely well screened." This, to quote critics who have seen it, sums up on "Good Women," the big Robertson-Cole super-special production, which pleased everybody at this theatre yesterday. "Good Women" has everything necessary to the successful production. There is perfection of cast and story. It has the guarantee of perfection on the label which reads "Directed by Gansler." The scenario was written by C. Gardner Sullivan from his own story of the same name.

"Good Women" answers the question with regard to just how far a woman may go in disregarding modern conventions. Just how far she may transgress and then, through mental expansion, be received again within the realm of decency. The picture presents a problem which you have met in everyday life but which you have dismissed without the proper amount of consideration.

Look out for the Independent. July 19th

C. L. B. in Camp.

Yesterday was an ideal day in Camp Sunshine cheering everybody and everything, even the lads blanketed were gaily seen rolling around in the breeze on the benches, enjoying the air and sun. After breakfast the lads had a swim in the sea, whilst others had a good wash in the river—tastes evidently differ! Company and Battalion parades were held during the morning and general leave being given in the afternoon. The Camp Sports Committee held a "solemn convocation," and all arrangements were made for the sports on Wednesday. Everybody is expecting their friends out Wednesday as it is the annual inspection and "high day" for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Percie Johnson paid a visit last evening and very kindly and considerably invited all the lads from Grand Falls to see their guests in St. John's to-day, to be the city—some lads having not had the pleasure before. They left Tonal early to-day in the Bus and are having a royal time, thanks to the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. The Grand Falls lads return to Camp tonight. Camp Commandant Major Tait, M.C., reports all well this morning. Weather is colder than is necessary for comfort, but he thinks that warmer weather is at hand. The officers mess are looking forward to having a visit from the officers of the French warship now in port, to-day, and they with the Consul will be welcome. The Warrant and N.C.O.'s dance, in the S. U. F. Hall last night was crowded with the youth and beauty of the city and country. The affair was a great success. The "Officers Ball" in the Orange Hall takes place on Wednesday night after the sports. The Mess hope to see their friends all present at this social gathering. The new mess that is also used as a recreation and reading room. All ranks eagerly go there to read the Telegram, Daily News and Daily Mail kindly sent in daily as a gift from the Press to keep the Camp in touch with the outside world. The Brigade thanks the Press for their courtesy. The officers acknowledge five dollars each from Mr. Charles H. Hayward of Grand Falls and five dollars from Mr. Claud Noonan, with thanks to the donors. The Brigade go to Bell Island Thursday by steamer at one o'clock, according to present arrangements. Camp will break up at noon Saturday when all will disperse to return to their several duties in life. The officers greatly enjoyed the days of healthy outdoor exercises, rubbing shoulders with their fellows, making new friends, and re-vigorated for the daily task.

There is a Fine Difference.

Some persons imagine that any talcum powder is good enough for a lady's tender skin. This is not so, for it requires nothing but the finest and most pure ingredients to prepare a good talcum. In Three Flowers Talcum you get the most superb odor combined with the most delicate and smooth powder, making this popular tale a rare and delicate treat. Three Flowers Face Powder and Vanishing Cream are of the same high quality and you will certainly be pleased with those toilet necessities which can now be obtained at most drug and department stores.

Annual Outing.

T. A. SOCIETY SPENT ENJOYABLE DAY AT DONOVANS.

The annual outing of the Total Abstinence Society (Juvenile Branch) took place at Donovan's yesterday. Towards of 350 boys of the Branch were conveyed to the grounds by special train, which left the city at 11 o'clock. Following their arrival at Donovan's a light luncheon was served. Later a good afternoon's amusement was spent, indulging in various games. At 4 o'clock the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Society gave the lads an excellent spread of good things. An abundant supply of eatables, nicely prepared for the occasion, was done full justice to by all. Before returning to the city each boy was given a bag of fruit and candy. At night upwards of 150 people, members of the society and their friends, held a most successful dance. The music, which was furnished by Mitchell's Orchestra, added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. Tea was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary at 11 p.m. The invigorating pastime was then continued until 1 o'clock this morning, when return was made to the city by special train. The outing was one of the most successful yet held by that body, and a great deal of praise is due the officers and all concerned for the splendid day's amusement.

Mayflower Club Notes.

About twenty members of the Congregational Mayflower Club are spending a two weeks holiday at Kelligrews, and are having a most enjoyable time. Some of the number are under canvas, the rest are quartered in private houses. Last Wednesday (Regatta Day) was visitor's day, and many friends of the Club came from town to get a taste of camp life, and they, one and all, enjoyed to the utmost their brief stay. Saturday was of with great relief. On Sunday a trip was made to the woods, where "spare ribs," and "green" were boiled in the open, and partaken with great relish. On Sunday morning the regular church parade took place at All Saints Church, Foxtrap. Adjutant B. Langmead in charge, where a very impressive sermon was delivered by Rev. H. Eusey. Regular camp routine is observed daily, the free periods being devoted to various amusements. The next for duty will be Lieut. Carmichael.

Trade Unions Losing Members.

LONDON, (A.P.)—Trade unions in England have lost 315,503 members during the last year. This decrease is said to have resulted from the absorption by the government of some of the functions at one time performed by the unions. The funds of the unions have fallen from £254,295 to £24,836 and the annual revenue from £28,450 to £24,836.

Britain Unites the Empire.

LONDON, Aug 6. (A.P.)—During the war Great Britain seized a German submarine cable running from Emden to the United States, and at the conclusion of hostilities one end of the line was drawn up to England and the other diverted to Halifax.

To-day at Halifax the wire joins the telegraph system which extends from Halifax across Canada to Vancouver and thence under the sea to Fiji, Norfolk Island, Australia and New Zealand.

As a result, messages can now be sent from London to the Antipodes in 30 minutes. Thus are the far-flung parts of the British Empire held together.

Montreal Letter.

WATER AND AUTOMOBILE
KING DEATH.

As the tolls of the ocean, the labor and pain; the car without motion, in the billowy main.

The holiday season is very sad and one to hundreds of all over the Dominion. Montreal has the largest in that sad category. The casualties over a week—killed 4 and 34 injured.

Twenty-four others, including children, injured. The accident occurred when an automobile in which they were driving, with another car, went into a ditch. The man who was driving, his neck broken. The boy in the party was a baby of the son of the deceased, while the other was a man of 60 years. The injured people from different parts of the city as well as from the Province. The majority were badly injured, and are being treated at different hospitals.

One was killed by the upturning of his automobile. The foot of a person trying to bathe in the sea at the Island, being good swimmers, added to the long list of accidents in and around the city. A man of 28 years, who was at Back Bay, was holding a boat until he was swept in by the water current. A woman of 50 years, when she was driving an automobile at St. Lawrence, a man had his right arm off at the shoulder when a Canadian National train, at St. Lawrence, a woman of 40 years, and her baby of 10 years, were seriously injured when a car overturned when struck by an automobile from Cohos, N.Y. A boy of 5 years suffered a fracture of the skull and a compound fracture of the leg when he was run over by a car. Another boy of two years, with two broken legs when struck by an automobile at St. Lawrence. Despite all man's efforts, the accident mania is making their toll of human life.

The religious ceremony of the Convention opened at St. Patrick's Church when the delegates marched from Dominion Square to the soul stirring Irish and American music. The procession was headed by the Street Railway Band, then came the uniformed Knights with their pretty helmets of white and green plumage and drawn swords, the American and Canadian Ladies' Auxiliary branches, and last, the delegates and local divisions of Montreal, numbering nearly 2,000. At the entrance to the main door of the Church, the Knights stood on either side with drawn swords, while the whole procession passed through into the Church, the band in the meantime playing "God Save Ireland," and "O Canada." The church was filled to the doors. The main altar was tastefully decorated with large Shamrocks and Harps, lighted by electricity, while flowers and potted plants added to the scene. The procession led by the Chancel Choir entered the Sanctuary from the Sacristy followed by the Sanctuary Boys in red Cascocks, then came the officiating clergyman in vestments of cloth of gold and last of all his Lordship Bishop Gallagher of Montreal, with his attendants. The Chancel Choir marched down the centre aisle of the church singing a hymn set to Irish music and proceeding to the organ gallery where they rendered the soprano parts in De Merle's fine Musical Mass. The beautiful music as rendered by the Mens' and Boys' Chancel Choirs, the exquisite rendition of Irish, American and Canadian airs, as played by P. J. Shea, the organist and choirmaster, the eloquent sermon delivered by the preacher, Rev. Thomas F. Hefferman, the short, but forcible address of Bishop Gallagher, all made a deep impression on the visiting delegates and others, and they'll take back pleasant memories of the Metropolis of Canada, the Irish people, and the magnificent display and ceremonial as carried out in good old St. Patrick's Church, the parent Church of all the Irish ones in Montreal. After the church ceremony, the Convention was opened at the Windsor Hotel, where His Worship Mayor Martin and others made speeches. In the afternoon a visit was paid to St. Joseph's Oratory and Brother Andre, "the Miracle Man" and a short religious service held. At St. Ann's Church a solemn Requiem service was chanted for the deceased members. The choir, under the direction of Prof. John L. McCaffrey, rendered Perreault's "Messe de Requiem." At the offertory, "Domine Jesu Christe" being rendered in excellent style, as well as the "Libera," the whole Mass being sung in four parts by male voices with organ accompaniment. The church was crowded with the delegates, and parishioners from St. Ann's and other parishes. Five days were devoted to the work of the Convention and sight-seeing.

THE HIBERNIAN CONVENTION A GREAT SUCCESS.
"Here meeting to-day, in this far foreign land,
Dear Ireland we know in the clasp of each hand;
The light on each face, and the brogue on each mouth,
Tell East and the West and the North and the South."

The ancient Order of Hibernians is without doubt the oldest and the staunchest of the Irish race in the world. It can trace the origin back into the dim and distant past. The Order has made an enduring name during the past thirty years in alleviating human suffering, promoting human happiness and advancing the interests of the Irish people both in Canada and in the Motherland. Nor have they forgotten Ireland's dead. Besides the 15,000 that are buried on the banks of the St. Lawrence at Grosse Ile and Point St. Charles, many a son and daughter of Erin found a last resting place along the rocky shores of Newfoundland or at the bottom of the Atlantic in the fatal famine years of 1847-1848. A Celtic Cross marks the last resting place of the exiles at Grosse Ile, and at Point St. Charles there also stands a memorial stone.

"Their whitening bones in Atlantic's deep, have formed a living chain, Connecting their beloved land with the land they sought in vain."

THE WORLD LACKING IN CHRISTIANITY.
"O for a closer walk with God,
A calm and heavenly mind;
A light to shine upon the road,
And love and peace for us to find."

What promises to be the largest Convention ever held in this City will be the Knights of Columbus on August 7th. It will eclipse anything of its kind heretofore. It will mark a record that will be hard to surpass. The Knights of Columbus are here from all over Canada, the United States and Newfoundland. The French and English Councils are combined to make the event "the greatest ever." The Montreal Star says: "Mayor Martin, assisted by Alderman A. A. Brodeur, president of the executive committee of Montreal, will officially welcome thirty thousand Knights of Columbus to the City at the annual convention to be held here August 7, 8, and 9. The civic reception will be held at the Mount Royal Hotel on Tuesday morning after the opening church services at Notre Dame Cathedral.

Hon. James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia, who has served as Supreme Knight for the past 14 years, left Montreal last night after a visit of three days, during which time he consulted with the local committee of arrangements as to many of the details of the convention. He reported that prospects were far brighter than he expected and he prophesied that this meeting would attract as many delegates and visitors as any former convention. The original number expected was 15,000 but the present indication is that more than double that number will attend. Six hundred rooms have been reserved in the Mt. Royal Hotel and a registry of homes where rooms may be rented is being compiled."

Just think of 30,000 Knights invading Montreal. The question arises: Can they be accommodated? The city, even with all its large and small hotels, private rooming houses, and friends' homes, will be put to a test, that was only exceeded on one occasion, the time of the Eucharistic Congress, when probably 100,000 had to be accommodated. Since that time the city has considerably increased in population and new buildings and houses, but if anything like the large number of 30,000 show up, why it will be a matter of quadrupling the accommodation in every hotel and private boarding house.

Hasty Conclusion Loses Fat Fee to Paris Doctor.
Paris (AP)—A Paris surgeon is telling a good story against himself. He was called in to operate on American woman for appendicitis, and when the cure was complete the patient, seeking to show her gratitude in some way that was not too common-place, embroidered a cigar case and took it to the surgeon. Unfortunately the surgeon had just had a run of patients who had paid for his services by presents of little intrinsic value, so he could not help saying, "No, really, Madame, take away such rubbish; a thousand franc note would be much more acceptable."

monument marks the firemen's graves. A large pedestal with a large size figure of a fireman dressed in his uniform and ready for action stands on the top. Besides these two plots, several are buried with their relatives in private plots. A few days ago the annual pilgrimage to the Cemetery took place. Over 200 graves were visited and decorated with the Canadian, the tri-color, and Irish flags. At Cote des Neiges Rev. Fr. Roy of Cote des Neiges College officiated, and Rev. H. E. Benoit, a French Anglican clergyman officiated at Mount Royal. The first burial of a fireman took place at Mount Royal Cemetery in 1847, while at Cote des Neiges the first is recorded in 1875. The different officials of the Fire Department, under the direction of the new Chief, Raoul Gauthier, assisted at the ceremony in both cemeteries. This was Chief Gauthier's first official act since his appointment as head of the Fire Department. He succeeded Chief Chevalier who retired on pension.

THE LARGEST CONVENTION EVER HELD IN MONTREAL.
"God bless ye brothers! in the fight ye're waging now, ye cannot fail. For better is your sense of right Than king-craft's triple mail."

The truths ye urge are borne abroad, By every wind and every tide; The voices of Nature and of God, Speak out upon your side.

The weapons which your hands have found, Are those which Heaven itself has wrought, Light, Truth and Love your battle-ground, The free, broad field of Thought."

The Truth About Beaver Board.

Beaver Board may be had in widths of 32 inches or 48 inches, and in lengths of 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12 feet. You can buy one board or several boards, just the right size for your purpose and so avoid all waste.

Beaver Board is sized back and front and is therefore damp proof and rot proof, besides you are spared the expense of having it sized by your painter. The expense thus avoided may amount to more than $5.00 per thousand feet. Remember this when you are computing cost of Beaver Board.

Beaver Board will not crack like plaster, costs less, and looks better. In addition, Beaver Board costs less for repairs or alterations than plaster. Less than $10.00 worth of Beaver Board will ceil any room in your house.

The back of every genuine Beaver Board is branded

LIKE THIS

Look for this brand on the back of the board you buy.

Beaver Board does not show ugly seams like V jointed or pitch pine ceilings, is not wasteful, takes paint better, is more easily cleaned, is much more artistic and is in many other ways superior to V jointed or pitch pine ceiling.

Beaver Board has shown its superiority to inferior wall boards; its merit has been proven. We can show you two panels on the OUTSIDE of our store which have been exposed to the rain, sun and snow, since 1912, and are still in good condition. Beaver Board costs slightly more than inferior wall board but once your house is done with Beaver Board you won't have to replace the boards in 10 or even 20 years time, in fact Beaver Board will last as long as your house and is therefore really cheaper than inferior wall board.

The price of Beaver Board is now 5 1/2 cents per square foot retail.

MARKET REPORTS

indicate that there is no surplus of Anthracite Coal in the U.S. The shortage caused by the strike of Anthracite Miners last year has not been made up, and American hard coal will, in all probability, be hard to get and high priced. Coke is an excellent substitute for hard coal, and we have on hand a stock of same that will soon be disposed of, because a shortage of hard coal invariably creates an increased demand for our product.

We advise our customers to book their requirements as soon as possible.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

POUR ON WATER! POUR ON WATER!
 DON'T DEPEND ON THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.
 Newly-weds: Now is the time to have some Fire Insurance placed on your property of any description. It's too late when the fire bell rings.
 Older-weds: Your House and Furniture was HARD TO GET. Fire will make it EASY TO LOSE. Be prepared for the fire when it comes by having ample Insurance.
 Tell us what you have, and we'll tell you how to keep it.

RESIDENCE BURGLARY.

With so many people in summer cottages or away from home on vacations or visits, housebreaking is on the increase. Almost any one article stolen from your home would cost you more than the COMPLETE PROTECTION POLICY which we issue against burglary, theft and larceny. Our rates are decidedly low in comparison to the risk you assume if you are not insured.

Phone 1154—it's OUR business to protect you.
