

MIRINE PALMER, FEARLESS WOMAN RIDER

Writes That She Will Compete for Prizes Offered by the Stampede

Is One of the Features of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Exhibition

Society women take occasionally to athletics because they want to, and it is good for them. Western girls take to horseback because it is natural. So, in the west, a young woman who can stick on the back of a pitting horse is an exceptional rarity. But it is somewhat of a rarity to see women who can stay with the worst of bad horses, the pawling, snorting, humping, and mad range horses. Many western girls can ride an ordinary horse that bucks a few jumps, some can ride the bad ones, and a few can ride the worst.

Mrs. Arline Palmer, known in the range lands as "The Little Dreadnought," because of her daredevil antics on the backs of bad horses, is one of these wonder girls who can outstride the best cowboy. At the present time she is one of the greatest features of Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, but she has informed the manager of the Stampede that she will be in Calgary during the celebration of September, to compete in the riding contests. Mrs. Palmer is a charming, refined girl who follows the life of broncho busting because she can do it well and because she enjoys it. Besides being at home on a western saddle, she is very skilled in the Cossack style. In fact she is the only woman on the American continent who can ride and compete on an equality with those master riders of the steppes, and use the same riding gear as they do, high saddles and all.

KING GAVE GARDEN PARTY: MANY CANADIANS THERE

London, July 18.—The king and queen, accompanied by several members of the royal family, gave a monster garden party on the east lawn of Windsor Castle this afternoon. Among the ten thousand invited guests were peers, peeresses, members of parliament, churches, army, navy, and learned societies. Canadians were also much in evidence, among those present, in addition to the ministers, being Lord Strathcona, Sir J. Pope, J. J. Garrick, M.P., and Isamar Greenwood, M.P. His Majesty had scarcely taken his seat in the Indian tent, when he was surrounded by Premier Borden, who had not, however, arrived. It transpired the premier's motor trip in company with Hon. Follett and DeChery had been attended by slight delays. On his arrival, he was immediately ushered into his Majesty's presence, accompanied by Colonial Secretary Harcourt, where they spent some time and partook of refreshments. Mrs. Borden is still expected to be present, and it is expected she will be able to attend the last summer at Buckingham Palace. On the return, Premier Borden had a consultation with his colleagues on the naval question. He had a lengthy talk with Sir W. H. Murray, formerly naval constructor for the government, and Lord Brassey.

NORMAN RANKIN IS OFF FOR THE BIG WEST

Norman S. Rankin, chief of the publicity department of the Canadian Pacific, left yesterday for a month's trip through Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia. Mr. Rankin goes in the interest of the Western Canada Irrigation association, of which he is permanent secretary. The Western Canada Irrigation association congress, the most important convention to be held in this section of the country this year. It takes place at Kelowna, B. C., August 13 to 15. Mr. Rankin will confer with some of the prominent speakers selected to address the congress.

CENTENARIAN AT STETTLER

Stettler, July 19.—A unique feature of the Orangemen's big celebration at Stettler today is the presence of Mr. John Wilkinson, who has reached the mature age of 99 years. If he lives until next Christmas Day he will be 100 years old. Mr. Wilkinson lives at Bowden. He enjoys the distinction of being the oldest Orangeman in Canada, having been a member of that order for 75 years. He has marched 18 times on the 18th of July, having missed only one year since he has been a member. Mr. Wilkinson was born in County Cavan, Ireland, and immigrated to Canada in 1836. He has been a member of the Mackenzie Rebellion and was shot in the knee while fighting in defence of the British crown. He is the father of twenty children, fourteen of which are living and reside in Western Canada. There are five sons and nine daughters. He has six grand-children and seven great-grandchildren. Despite of his great age he is hale and hardy and went to Wetaskiwin with the expectation of making a speech, but through an oversight his name was omitted from the program. Last year he spoke at the celebration at Red Deer and his voice was perfectly clear.

A LITTLE MORE ADVANCED

(From The Manchester Guardian) This story comes from Australia, where all conversation turns eventually to matters educational, because every parent is painfully eager that his sons shall pass the standard which will free them from certain years of military service. A visitor was conversing with his host's small son, and opened, as a matter of course, with the words: "Do you go to school now?" "Yes." "And what do you learn? Reading, writing, sums?" "Oh, yes; and I learn religion, too." "Religion?" "Yes; I learn this little religion, which teaches that we all come from Adam. But my elder brother is in a higher class; he learns the big religion and that teaches that we all come from monkeys."

SATURDAY, JULY 20, 1912

ON WHAT MEAT HATH THIS, OUR CAESAR FED THAT HE HATH GROWN SO GREAT?

Paraphrasing the classical quotation, one, upon perusing the publicity bulletin issued by the city commissioners and published in The Alberta yesterday, is moved to wonder: "From what meat was this our Calgary loaf raised that it hath so outstripped all history in its development?"

After digesting the figures presented in the bulletin one cannot but feel that the yeast must have contained some constituent property, titanic in its operations, to have produced a growth so really marvelous and, almost overnight.

And the marvel grows as we reflect that the loaf, from such a raising, is not of the frothy, spongy sort but upon being sliced, is found to be sound throughout and of full weight; the kind we expect when we spend our money with the reliable tradesman.

The occasional pessimist who cavils at what he deems to consider a too rapid growth and exorbitant prices—thank Heaven he is very occasional—may profit by a careful reading of the bulletin. It may save him a groan, always a bad thing for the digestion and perhaps bring him some gain, if undoubtedly it permits it to influence his investments.

But the figures themselves offer the best argument. The building permits issued for the first six months of this year, amount to three-quarters of the total for all of last year. At this rate, the aggregate for 1912 should almost double the total for last year.

Then there are the figures for the monies expended for improvements, public and private, of one kind and another. These figures run to the sum total of FIFTY MILLIONS of dollars. Reflect for a moment on how much money fifty millions of dollars really is; contemplate your own expenditures for a year and see if you can name at any sort of a conception of what it actually means. Perchance your mind does not carry you to an adequate understanding. If not, let us offer you a suggestion which may afford something of a realization of how big a sum of money, fifty millions of dollars really is. Fifty millions of dollars is almost as much money as the federal government expends in all of Canada in a year. And that sum of money will actually be paid into permanent improvements in Calgary during the year 1912, thereby becoming actual, visible assets of the city.

But let us turn to the figures on assessment for perhaps the best illustration of the growth of Calgary. In 1892, twenty years ago, the assessment roll of Calgary amounted to something like $150,000 less than three millions. In 1902, ten years later, the assessment was less than it had been ten years earlier so that the development of Calgary had not yet commenced. But note the increase from that time! The following year it had grown a million, the next, two and so on up by leaps and bounds until last year we reached the immense figure of fifty-two millions, or an increase over the previous year of some twenty millions.

But the figure of last year, large though it was, was diminutive as compared with that for the present year. For 1912 the assessment is ONE HUNDRED and TWELVE and a HALF MILLIONS of dollars, an increase of more than one hundred per cent., ten and a half millions more than double the assessment of last year.

Comparisons may be odious but at the risk, one may be timely. The writer recalls the time when the assessment roll of the city of Butte, Montana, amounted to thirty-six millions. Butte was then a city of seventy thousand inhabitants. It had a pay roll of more than a million dollars a month and the earnings of the mines within a radius of one mile of the city hall, aggregated fifty-two millions for the year in question. That was the hey-day of Butte's career and Butte was then said to be the richest and most prosperous city in the world.

What then of Calgary, with an assessment three times as great as Butte in her palmy day and with a population ten thousand less.

It is doubtful if history records a similar growth anywhere else in the world.

Calgarians have reason indeed to be proud of their city.

ONLY A SPECTATOR

The Mountain Lumber Manufacturers' Association are applying to the Railway Commission to have the freight rates on lumber from British Columbia points to points west of Winnipeg cut down to the level of the rates charged on shipments to Winnipeg. There is not, to the third party in the transaction, any good reason why the rates should not be so reduced. But it does not follow that if the rates are so reduced the third party will get the benefit. More likely the Mountain Lumber Manufacturers' Association will put the difference in their own pockets, and as between the railway companies and the "lumber trust" the consumer has no special reason to prefer being plundered by the trust. In this prospective scrimmage before the commission the consumer seems to be in the position of an interested but helpless onlooker, whose only point of certainty is that whoever wins, he will have to pay.—Edmonton Bulletin.

THIRD PARTY IN THE U.S.

The history of the third parties in the United States, called up by Col. Roosevelt's proposed Progressive party, is reviewed by the Hamilton Herald. It is interesting to note that they have all met practically the same fate:

There have been at least ten of them—the Anti-Masonic, the Free Soil, the American or Know-Nothing, the Constitutional-Union, the Liberal-Republican, the Greenback, the Populist, the A. P. A. and the Socialist. All of these except the last were short-lived and faded away without achieving the purposes for which they have been formed. They were almost negative and destructive rather than positive and constructive—organized to oppose some principle, policy or system. The Anti-Masonic party was organized to kill Freemasonry, and grew out of the supposed murder of William Morgan by the Masons in the early 'thirties because he divulged the secrets of the order. The Liberty and Free Soil parties were opposed to slavery: the work which they were organized to do was done later by the Republican party. The Know-Nothing and A. P. A. parties were anti-Catholic. The Constitutional-Union party was organized to prevent the civil war. The Liberal-Republicans were dissatisfied with the "reconstruction" policy in the South, and aimed at conciliating southern sentiment. The Greenback party arose out of the decline in prices after the war. It was hoped that a great issue of "fiat money," by artificially raising prices, would help the farmers. The Populist party was strong in the west; it protested against the "money power" and demanded various radical changes mainly for the benefit of farmers. Several of its ideas have been embraced by the Democratic doctrine. The Socialist party is the only one which has survived down to the present. It shows no signs of decadence; indeed, it is more than probable that the greatest vote ever polled by the Socialists in the States will be given next November to Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist candidate for the presidency.

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN THERE?

Honor, Gray in "Judge" is responsible for this reality, and wonderfully made "Honor." Anyone who has "one" New York during the theatrical season will echo amen to the last three lines:

THE TALE OF A BILL

By jingo! but I'm feeling blue, For I've not had a single sou Since I escorted Dolly Bright Unto the show the other night. I cannot help but get a chill Whenever I think upon the bill 'Now here it is in black and white, something fierce? You have it right!

"Taxi fare and tip to driver. Got away with one whole Ticket, second row (quite nifty). Also opera glass. Hat checks, tips to sundry gents. Cost the whole of .50 And then a feed at Rector's. Shucks! I wish I'd kept those 7.00 When we came out I did contrive To slip the doorman For that only coughed. At last for starting home 'twas time We took the subway train. Then, heavens! I was in a pickle! I had to ask her for .05 To get back home. That night I swore I'd be a "live one" nevermore. Hereafter for no girl alive Will I spend . . . $16.95"

EDITORIAL NOTES

It seems to us that in that story that has been going the rounds about that Moneta man who created a neat riot by trying to "raise" the hymn, "Shall we gather at the River" to the tune of "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly", the press humorists have missed the quite obvious connection. Eh, what?

Woodrow Wilson is a man of many States," remarks The Los Angeles Times. "He was born in Virginia, bred in North Carolina, trained in Georgia, schooled in Maryland and polished in New Jersey. He will probably wind up in November in the State of Despair." Wrong again, brother. Woodrow has had enough of states and his November address will be "District of Columbia," we opine.

"In some quarters he is referred to as Colonel Roosevelt," remarks a paragrapher, but T. R.'s enemies are a bit forward in saying that because a man changes his party, his name goes with it. Teddy's is still "a name to conjure with."

Evidence has been adduced in the Seattle trial of Judge Hanford that he slept in the court room. But, speaking for ourselves, we'll reserve judgment till we learn what windy lawyer was arguing at the time.

A lot of people, ourselves included, have sometimes thought so, but have kept quiet till now. John Grier Hibben, Princeton's new president, says that "75 per cent represents the value of a college graduate's ability immediately after graduation." Yes, yes, the business world is hard on them at the start, but some make good—after they forget about being a "college graduate."

Upon their return to the Atlantic coast, the British manufacturers are quoted as having said that the chief fault they had to find with the west was that the men chewed tobacco. We are indeed sorry that our tobacco left such an unpleasant taste in the mouths of our distinguished visitors. But frankly, wasn't chewing tobacco made to chew?

GEN. ROJAS WOULD DEPOSE OROZCO AND LEAD

Leader of the Mutiny in Early Fighting Now Aspires to Command of Rebels

Mexican Residents Fear Period of Pillage if His Ambition is Realized

General Orozco, July 18.—General Antonio Rojas, the man who figured prominently in the mutiny at the origin of the present revolution here, now wishes to be commander-in-chief of the rebels. He is reported to have sent a messenger to General Pascual Orozco, Jr., demanding that unless the Orozco family give up some of the funds accumulated during the revolution, he and his men will no longer recognize Orozco.

Rojas has nearly 2,000 men at Madera, about 270 miles southwest of here on the Mexican Northwestern railroad. Two days ago General Orozco ordered the railroad torn up north of Madera. General Rojas immediately imprisoned General Campa, who had been detailed to the work by General Orozco.

The rebel chief later rescinded the order for cutting railroad communication, but the quarrel is believed to be brewing further. Just what the alignment of chiefs against Orozco is has not been made clear. General Salazar is in Juarez in command of the army. General Orozco, Jr. All the other chiefs are in the vicinity of Madera with Rojas. Should Rojas become the rebel chief, residents fear a continuous season of looting and pillage. He is accused of robbing Juarez banks when the mutiny occurred and is upon it upon some of the most money-thirsty of all the rebels.

Americans in Danger. More than 500 American citizens, together with their families, in towns along the Mexican northwestern railroad are threatened with isolation from the American border, and recent means of escaping deprivations of Mexican rebels.

Sufficient facts became known today of the real situation along the Mexican Northwestern to warrant the statement that it would cause no surprise if the Americans in all the towns along the line were warned to leave Mexico at once.

Through the destruction of the Northwestern for a hundred miles, in a mountainous region where supplies are difficult to obtain, the road is in constant fear it may be done at any moment.

Railroad Seems Doomed. It is said officials did not wish to ask the British government to make representations for protection, for while the property is British the employees are American. For the Pearson officials, of their employees would mean to leave the property and supplies at the mercy of the rebels, who already have looted the company headquarters at Madera.

That the Mexican Northwestern railway, along which most of the rebel army is stretched, is doomed generally is the opinion of the rebels. They intend to bar the government forces westward from Chihuahua.

Women and children in the American town of Madera and Pearson probably will be moved at once to the United States.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT AS A TOWN PLANNER

Addressed Convention at Winnipeg in Support of Cities Beautiful

Winnipeg, July 18.—The following is a report in full of what the Duke of Connaught said in his address on Housing and Town Planning at the convention here on Tuesday: "I can assure you that it is a genuine pleasure for me to be present at this meeting of the first Housing and Town Planning congress of Winnipeg, which is, I believe, the first such congress to be held in Canada, and I trust that your citizens may be by your influence educated up to the importance of the various items of your programme."

Money and thought expended now while your city is young, and while whole districts are covered with buildings of a temporary character, will repay you a hundredfold in saving the great expense of remodeling the city when its buildings have assumed a more permanent character generally. You already have a splendid city, but every city in the world is capable of improvement. You must remember, however, that town planning is a special branch of art, and that before committing yourselves to any general scheme it is advisable to call in the best expert advice which can be procured; that of a specialist in this branch of art.

Any scheme adopted must be general—such as that which the genius of Baron Haussmann gave to Paris, and which made the French capital into such a beautiful city; a scheme which—long after the death of its author—is still being carried out to its entirety, and owing to which we now see broad boulevards still being driven through the insanitary rookeries of lower Paris.

Dollar Chasing. In these days, when so many people are thinking solely of the amassing of wealth, numbers of them are careless as to where and how they live. We must try and discourage this spirit and make the public insist on the surroundings being as beautiful as conditions will admit.

You must not forget that some of the problems which confront you are not to be permanently solved; the city is ever on the move. Where you have shot prairie-chicken your sons will transact business; where your fathers fought against the Indians we are standing this morning.

Keep Pace With Growth. The garden suburb of today is the manufacturing district of tomorrow; so you must look to it that your improvements keep pace with the growth of the city, and that even show an intelligent anticipation of such growth.

Furthermore it is not sufficient to grow taller and sanitarious buildings. Many thousands of the working classes are far from grateful for being put into them. This phenomenon has repeatedly evinced itself in other great cities. You have not only to provide improved conditions of housing, but you have also to educate the working classes to such an extent that they will insist on living in a decent and sanitary manner.

If you can do this you will reduce the work thrown on the hospitals, and will contribute to the eradication of tuberculosis, which is so terribly prevalent in Canada. The public are notoriously apathetic and are slow to learn that tuberculosis is preventable disease, and that one of the first steps towards stamping it out is the provision of proper domestic conditions, of fresh air and open spaces.

Suggests Organization. Before closing my remarks I should like to make a suggestion for your consideration. It is that a committee be appointed at this congress to consider either permanent organization of a national character, or at least such organization as may facilitate the holding of further congresses at intervals.

These congresses are of the very greatest value, enabling those attend-assisted by a congress such as this before me, is a model of efficiency; it could not be improved. The next step is by constant repetition of that programme to the public, either in its existing form or in analogous terms, so that they may eventually realize and believe in what it sets forth. It will be uphill work, but persistent energy is assured of ultimate success, and for that success my heartfelt sympathy accompanies the labors of this congress and of the Housing and Town Planning Commission of Winnipeg.

CUPID'S KNOTS

DARLING-PALMER.

The nuptials of Mr. William Darling and Miss Isabella Rutherford Palmer were solemnized at the Hillhurst Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. Rev. Peter Walker officiated.

The bride wore a pretty frock of white silk, and carried an exquisite bouquet of white roses and carnations. She was attended by Mr. Charles Palmer and Mrs. Fred Wade.

Mrs. Houlton's Lawn Party.

A very pretty function claimed Mrs. Sidney Houlton as hostess yesterday afternoon when she entertained about thirty friends, which included a number of out-of-town guests at a garden party which was given on the beautiful grounds of her home, in honor of Mrs. James Houlton and Miss Houlton of Enniskill, who are at present visiting Mrs. Houlton.

The hostess wore a becoming frock of white lawn with tulle and embroidered Swiss muslin and girlish of crushed satiny silk, while Mrs. James Houlton was smartly gowned in a green and gold changeable silk with yoke of Brussels lace, and Miss Houlton looked very pretty in a frock of pale blue messaline silk with Paisley silk furnishings.

The guests were received in the drawing room, which was profusely decorated with pink and red roses.

They then assembled on the lawn and engaged in a jolly afternoon tea competition game at which Mrs. Chas. Perkins, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Bridgeland, won the first prize; Mrs. Bridgeland the second, and Mrs. H. J. G. Heator the third.

Little tables with centres of bowls of fruit, were placed on the lawn. When the weather became disagreeable the guests adjourned to the house.

A Porch Party and Musicals.

An unique entertainment, in the form of a porch party and musicals, was given on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. T. D. Lathwell, under the auspices of the Women's alliance of the Unitarian church.

The latter veranda was gaily decorated with Japanese lanterns, while refreshment tables were also placed on it.

Mr. and Mrs. Lathwell assisted by Rev. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pratt, received the guests.

A delightful musical program was rendered some of the numbers being a vocal solo by Professor Horace Reynolds, Miss M. L. Stoff, and instrumental solos by Miss Rosa Stoff and Mr. Lathwell.

Those who assisted in serving the dainty refreshments were: Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Mitten, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Hewson, Mrs. Burdett, and Miss Christie.

"Lady Gay" of Toronto.

Annie Merrill has the following item of interest about "Lady Gay" in the Edmonton Journal:

"I have been a visitor in the city today in Mrs. Dennison of Toronto, better known perhaps to the majority of people as 'Lady Gay' of the Toronto Evening News, who has been west of Winnipeg, and when I asked her this morning (as she lay shrouded in summer quilts in her room at the King Edward) the old witticism, 'Do you like the west?' she laughed and said: 'How can anyone tell, lying through it in this fashion?' which was more frank and sensible than the stereotyped, though ever so glowing, phrases uttered by the usual tourist."

A PRETTY ENGLISH DRESS—This delightful girlish costume was made for a young girl in the drawing room.

The dress is made of a soft fabric, with a high waist line, belted with pink satin ribbon which falls in a soft knot at the side. Other ends under the over-skirt forms a second knot which shows conspicuously below the first hem. The pink is repeated in the came and on the quaint lingerie hat.

HOT FOOD FOR THE PICNIC

Cold, Choky Dishes are Not the Only Ones to Be Had For It

A veal loaf is always appetizing in the woods. An excellent recipe is: Three pounds and a half of finely chopped veal—the leg best—mixed with three well-beaten eggs, into which is stirred a grated nutmeg, a tablespoon each of black pepper, thyme and salt, a teaspoonful of onion juice and a dash of cayenne. Add three tablespoonfuls of cream and three water crackers rolled fine. Mix in a long loaf, dot with butter and bake about an hour in a moderate oven, basting frequently.

Veal loaf may be sliced thin and packed in paraffin paper in a flat box, but dries out less if taken to the picnic whole. Carry a sharp carving knife, as thick slices are unappetizing. Diced eggs are usually more popular than plain hard-boiled ones. Boil the eggs fully half an hour, throw at once into cold water and do not shell until chilled. Cut the eggs in half lengthwise, run the yolks through a sieve and mix to a paste with salt-pon of mustard, cayenne pepper, salt and a tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley. Melt a little butter or melted butter can be used for mixing the paste.

Deviled eggs carry better if both halves are filled with the mixture and each egg wrapped in waxed paper. Or they can be put in a shallow tin box, with waxed paper between the layers. On hot days keep the box packed in ice on reaching the picnic grounds.

If each one brings a certain allotted portion, one could take fresh eggs for scrambling, run the yolks through a sieve, salt and pepper and a skillet or a chafing dish, whichever is more convenient.

Nothing is better than fresh scrambled eggs at a picnic, unless it is fried potatoes. Boil the potatoes at home in their jackets—and take a good supply of butter for frying. A pound can be carried in a tin kettle with ice packed around it. Have sharp knife for slicing and a fork or short cake tinner for stirring.

Cooking at picnics is such fun that more of it should be done. Collapsible skillets and small stoves are easy to carry, and a wood fire is always available.

Left over cold chicken or veal makes an excellent hot dish for a picnic. Cut the meat into small cubes at home and wrap in waxed paper. Make a white sauce from a tablespoonful of butter and one of flour to every pint of milk. This is the allowance for a quart of meat. Season highly with salt, pepper and a little onion juice. After dinner coffee cup of sherry improves the flavor.

Nothing is unusual and appetizing in the woods. For this use a rich American or English cheese. If there is no beer or ale for thinning, the cream for the coffee makes the difference. Put a tablespoonful of butter in the skillet, when melted, add seasoning—salt, cayenne, a teaspoonful of mustard—then add milk or the cream, and the mixture should first be cut fine. When nearly done, the well-beaten yolk of an egg can be added. The "rabbits" must not be started, or nothing else is ready for the picnic feast.

An appetizing sandwich for a picnic is made from slices of brown bread with a filling of sweet peppers, to which is added a can of sweet peppers or pimentos, a little minced parsley, bound together with a highly-seasoned mayonnaise.

Another brown bread sandwich easy to prepare is cut very thin, and each slice spread with cheese and a strip of sweet pepper. This sandwich is liked for a picnic, have two thin slices of white bread buttered; spread one with a little chutney, the other with a highly-seasoned mayonnaise. Place the slices on top of the cheese, and press the other half well over it.

London, July 18.—London women, like those of Paris, largely draw their inspirations for dress from the stage, and two plays new to town—Charles Klein's "The Girl in the Blue" and "Ann"—provided plenty of ideas in this direction. In Klein's play Miss Edith is a very pretty actress, wears some gowns which are already talked about.

An evening dress of yellow brocade is very handsome, and it is also decidedly original in its arrangement. The corsage is embroidered in crystals and pearls and gold, finished with a large diamond brooch. The front, worked in the three materials. One sleeve is of the same embroidery, the other is of blue and pink chiffon, edged with a narrow band of black fox. A scarf of this chiffon and fur, edged with diamond trimming, is carried from the left shoulder across the left knee, where it is finished with a large Louis XV. bow, outlined in the fur.

The skirt is cut up a little in the front, and is edged with the fur, and it is finished with a series of quickly-shaped train, which falls almost in front of the left foot. A handsome cloak of purple charmeuse, lined with ruby-red satin, and trimmed with brads and tassels in the same red, complete the costume.

London, July 18.—London women, like those of Paris, largely draw their inspirations for dress from the stage, and two plays new to town—Charles Klein's "The Girl in the Blue" and "Ann"—provided plenty of ideas in this direction. MIKE GIBBONS EXPECTS TO BE THE MIDDLE WEIGHT CHAMPION OF THE WORLD; HE MAY BE KETCHEL'S SUCCESSOR

Gentleman Jim Corbett Thinks St. Paul Marvel Has Earmarks of Real Champion; Tom O'Rourke Will Not Allow Palzer to Meet Luok McCarthy Yet

(Special to The Morning Albertan)
By James J. Corbett, Former Heavyweight Champion of the World.
New York, July 20.—Mike Gibbons is ambitious to become the middleweight champion of the world, and will put up the steam roller preparatory to inaugurating his campaign this coming fall. He is presently in St. Paul, where he will rest until the day after tomorrow.

Since beating the majority of so-called welterweights who like himself are better known than the welter and middle divisions in matter of pounds, Gibbons finds he is practically in a class of his own. There is no real good drawing card left for Mike to fight, hence the determination to climb up into the higher division and have a chance to get his name on some real money if he can make good.

And why shouldn't Gibbons make good, I ask you, gentlemen? There are no bear cats or bull moose in the middleweight party at this writing, and that one can observe without the aid of a glass, anywhere. Where are the contenders yesterday? The Dempseys, Burns, O'Briens and Ketchels are long out of commission. True, Billy Papke still answers to roll call, but he is a fat pup and minus stamina and the wonderful punch upon which his fame formerly rested. The Papke of today is a clever boxer, but he is not a fighter. He would furnish a set-to that would land the sports many a hearty laugh. Bill might lay a glove on Mike if the latter wasn't looking for a fight.

Wants to Build Up.
At the present time Mike weighs in the neighborhood of 151 pounds at his age. His idea in taking a vacation is not only to obtain a much-needed rest, but also to build himself up until he has acquired sufficient additional avoirdupois to qualify as a legitimate member of the middle division. Gibbons is now a bit too light, according to his own view, to assume the task of subduing the sturdy Klaus and the clever McCarthy, the men he figures he will have to beat to win the proud title of champion.

Although having great confidence in his own powers to carry him through to success in the new field of operation, Mike is a careful and conservative young fellow with no false notions of his prowess. He recognizes that skill alone will not permit of his fighting with men many pounds heavier than himself, and has planned that his system of increasing weight and strength will greatly enhance his punishing powers as well as his endurance.

Poke Him to Succeed Ketchel.
If Gibbons sticks to his plan and announces his candidacy for the title of middleweight champion, I believe we are nearing the solution of the legitimate successor to the lamented "Kid" fight. Personally, I look upon Mike as good enough right now to beat men of the Klaus and Dillon type. His hardest game should turn up in Eddie McSorley, who is no slouch of a fighter himself, but I hardly look for opposition from that quarter. Eddie found difficulty last season in making 135 pounds and I hear that he has about given up the idea of trying. Young Jack O'Brien, brother to the famous Philadelphia Jawn, and a pupil of that former master of the science of boxing, and to whose good work during a short career I have had occasion to refer several times, so endeared himself to Gotham fans upon his recent debut in the metropolis that Billy Gibbons, manager of the Garden Athletic club, immediately secured "big brother's" signature and the youngster will be trotted out again for public view within the very near future.

Recognizing a good thing in the way of a drawing card, Gibbons has arranged for Young Jack to box three star lightweights between now and September. The prospective opponents are Willie Ritchie and Jack Britton, with Paddy McFarland to follow if he makes good with the other pair. This plan may be changed should either Joe Rivers or Ad Wolgast decide to visit this section. In that event overtures will be made for those Fought of July sates and saners to participate in the pastime.

Philadelphia Jack Has Confidence.
Philadelphia Jack O'Brien has a deal of confidence in the kid brother. He thinks little Jack can beat the whole lay out of light-weights, and the takes n Wolgast and McFarland. And the lad is only nineteen years of age at that. He has already had working experience, having recently out-punched champion Wolgast in a six-round bout in the Quaker city, when Ad was trying himself out in preparation for the siege of training to box Rivers. I would make haste slowly, it seems to me in handling this clever boy; but no one could ever accuse Philadelphia Jack of being a sucker at the game of matchmaking. Evidently the brother has shown him his ambitious plans.

Palzer an Independent.
Tom O'Rourke told me the other day that he would not allow Al Palzer to box Luther McCarty, Jack Johnson, or anyone else unless he was sure the Iowa would enter the ring in much better condition than in the Bombardier Wells bout. Of course, Palzer intends going along and making his own matches without regard to O'Rourke's pleasure in the matter, but the latter tells me he will ask for an injunction against both fighter and club owner should an attempt be made to sign without his consent.

O'Rourke while very bitter against Al for what he terms "rank ingratitude" has great admiration for the big fellow as a fighter. "But," says O'Rourke, "Palzer is a stubborn youth who must be bullied or he will shirk the training tasks. As for his boxing Johnson ten rounds, I certainly would not consent to such a thing. I would entertain a proposition to fight the champion to a finish, but would insert that Palzer train or the battle under my supervision, or that of some competent man in whom I had confidence. I intend to protect myself in the future and will seek the aid of the law if necessary to prevent Palzer from making a sucker of himself." JAMES J. CORBETT.

Corp. G. Mortimer, of Quebec, Using a

Ross Rifle and Ross Ammunition

Wins the Hopton Grand Aggregate With Record Score

The Hopton Grand Aggregate is the total of the Bass, the Edge, the Waldegrave, the Wimbledon, the Halford Memorial and the Albert, all long range matches, the distances varying from 900 to 1,100 yards.

Corp. Mortimer's score of 792 out of 825 is seven points better than last year's record, which also was made with a Ross Rifle.

The next five places in this aggregate were also won by marksmen using Ross Rifles and Ross Ammunition.

In the "Bass" the first six shot Ross Rifles and ammunition. In the "Edge" the first four shot Ross Rifles and Ammunition. In the "Wimbledon" the first four shot Ross Rifles and Ammunition.

In the "Halford" the 2nd, 3rd and 4th used Ross Rifles and Ammunition. In the "Waldegrave" the 2nd and 3rd used Ross Rifles and Ammunition.

In 1911 the Hopton Grand Aggregate, as well as 1st place in the Bass, the Edge, the Halford Memorial and the Wimbledon, were also captured with Ross Rifles.

This triumph at Bisley, confirming previous years' results, classes the Ross Match Rifle as the champion of all long-range rifles in the British Empire—and probably, therefore, in the world.

Sportsmen who seek an accurate and high power arm will be glad to know that the Ross 280 High Velocity Rifle has the same barrel and breech as the military match rifle, which only differs from it in the sights and style of stock. Its low trajectory and reliability have made the Ross a favorite in India with big game hunters.

SOMETHING ABOUT GAME OF BASEBALL

A Cricket Player Writes Sequel to Last Saturday's Article on Something About Cricket With This Exposition on the Ball Game

Last Saturday's Albertan contained a gently sarcastic article, "Something about the Game of Cricket," referring to a simple description of the old country game in language which even a baseball fan could understand. Now, not every cricketer and also a great number of non-cricketers whose name is legion, can understand the same of baseball, simple as the latter may be to its enthusiasts; and therefore I am submitting this little exposition as a companion article concerning the national game of the United States, which Canada, despite its opposition to red-procty, has adopted instead of thinking out one for itself, even down to a slavish phraseology which the United States have made current.

A Geometrical Problem
Baseball is played on a green, at a corner of what is called "the diamond," which is really shaped like a boy's hold of the ball and stand on first base with the foot before he reaches it, he is "out." Anyway, whatever happens, a second man comes in, takes up the stick for brings his own if he wants to impress the crowd) and does similarly; when he hits the ball and runs, the first player, if he is still "in," runs on to the next nearest corner of the diamond, and so on until he comes back to where he started from, which counts as a "run," after which he sits down, puts on a sweater and chews gum.

How to Put Men Out

After he has left the home base and is footing round the other bases (which with admirable simplicity, are numbered consecutively) he can be put out when a fielder has the ball in his hand and touches him with it. It need not be a rough touch—it can be just as soft as a baby's kiss; all the same, he is "out." I have seen runners try to duck under the fielder's legs to avoid being touched, but without success. (There are times when the runner gets "getting out" than just being run or touched, but I cannot understand them, and prefer to trust to the umpire, whose decisions are never accepted by the spectators, thus adding to the chaos in the mind of the uninitiated.

Sometimes a man walks to the first base, and no one makes any effort to stop him except the audience, who greet his progress with jeers. When the umpire states that three men are out, the fielding team come in, and send one of their men to bat with the stick, the rest of them putting on sweaters and chewing gum, while the previously batting team take their places fielding. When both teams have batted nine times each, which you will see makes eighteen times altogether, the game is over, and the bars re-open.

The Umpire Person

The umpire is a very important man, but no one pays any attention to him, and the worst member of the batting team tries to curry favor with the crowd by telling them how much the umpire is paid to come there, and saying in his own mind, "The umpire has power to fine players $5 for breaking certain rules, one which is rubbing the ball so as to make it dirty, but I have never seen this done in Mervia Park, where they have to send the bat around to collect the umpire's fee.

Rule 76 of the official playing Rules used by the National Association of America says that "no manager, captain or player shall address the spectators during a game, except in reply to a request for information about the progress or state of the game or to give the name of a player." This is a rule which is very strictly adhered to, and perfect silence is maintained throughout the game by both players and audience, which former in proper matches down in the States have little shacks erected for them near the diamond. In order that the visiting team and the home team shall not mingle and indulge in free fighting separate shacks have to be provided, although anyone of the meanest intelligence will easily perceive that only one shack is occupied at a time, as the team which is not batting is occupied in throwing the ball about from one to another to keep warm.

Fans Know Everything

The people who go to watch baseball when their day's work is done do it for the love of the game, and are walking encyclopedias of the rules, more so generally, than the umpire. On the other hand, they never play themselves, although some of them have catching gloves hanging on their study wall at home, between the steel engravings of R. L. Borden and Joe Martin. Those who sit in the uncovered stands are known as bleachers, because they are supposed to bleach in the sun, although the natural conclusion is that they would get sunburnt. Every man who follows baseball for the "ball game," as they love to call it, likes to be called a fan, although, unlike a fan, he never shuts up. The teams are called by very weird names—like Bronchos and Eskimos. They wear colored clothes consisting of pants which come half way between the knee and the top of the boot, striped socks, flannel collars turned up in imitation of the late W. E. Gladstone, and caps which are a cross between a jockey's and a cricketer's. Sometimes, in Calgary, a team which is in low finances and cannot afford caps of its own gets a well-known paint firm (see advertising columns) to supply caps gratis with the firm's advertisement on. On one hand they wear a glove, which according to rule 39 must not weigh more than ten ounces. With this they catch the ball, take the sting out of it, and drop it into the other hand. The ball can be caught in either hand, or in both at once, according to choice. The ambition of the good player is to be able to run without swallowing his chewing gum.

Coacher the Funny Man
All good teams have a comic man who makes funny remarks to the crowd and keeps them in good temper. He is also the chief critic of the umpire, whom he regards as his natural enemy, but of whom he is really greatly afraid, like the clown and the ringmaster at a circus. He speaks in a voice based on a vaudeville comedian's, in the key of F sharp. Sometimes players have been known to address the players of the other team, with the laudable idea of encouraging them to greater efforts; such manifestations are, however, sternly repressed by the umpire, who orders the man thus exercising his voice to desist, which is invariably done. If the player thinks the umpire's decision is at fault he never questions it, but sneaks away to his little shack like a whipped dog. I saw one player thus admonished refuse to continue in the game through sheer mortification.

In conclusion, baseball is played with nine men on each side, and to avoid confusion, both teams do not bat at once. You must bear in mind, too, and strongly that it has no connection with the game called "rounders," which in England is left to the street boys to play while the policeman is around another block. It is a very scientific, intellectual and serious game, and the United States prefers it to a presidential election any day, while in Canada people get more excited over baseball than they do over a probe committee. URGES LAW TO PREVENT SHORT WEIGHT

Col. Haskell Claims Greatest Vigilance Necessary to Protect Consumer Against Being Defrauded; Wants National Legislation for Standard Boxes and Barrels

Washington, D.C., July 19.—"Buy by the pound or measure and get what you pay for" is the slogan that is frequently seen in the offices of the superintendent of weights and measures, and one that is being urged by the employees of the department for the guidance of the purchasing public.

For more than fourteen years the District of Columbia has, through the agency of the department of weights and measures, enforced a rigid inspection, and has investigated the sale of all commodities, so that conditions here are greatly improved over those in cities where weights and measures laws have been more recently adopted and enforced. The officials in the district have had, during that time, the cooperation of the dealers and associations interested in having for members only those whose business methods are strictly honest.

Rigid Inspection is Necessary
"Our experience has demonstrated, however," said Col. William C. Haskell, superintendent of weights, measures, and markets, yesterday "that rigid inspections and the greatest vigilance are necessary on the part of the office to keep leaders honest, and that they will always be had, clear of dealers willing to take the chance of defrauding the public for their own gain."

Contagion of Tenement House Evils is Spreading in Canadian Cities
Winnipeg, July 19.—That there are incipient slums in some Canadian cities was brought out in addresses at the housing problem at the first Canadian Housing and Town Planning convention, by Dr. Charles A. Hodgkins, medical adviser to the commission on housing, and by Dr. M. M. Seymour, commissioner of public health for Saskatchewan.

Atrocities Must Cease

Washington July 19.—Correspondence between the state department and the Peruvian government looking to a suppression of the atrocities practiced upon the natives in the employment of the Putumayo Rubber company, indicated that the two countries have been in perfect accord.

Economy
"There's an economical girl for you," "As to how?" "Eats a 5-cent lunch every day." "Yes, she's trying to save 100 to buy a willow plume."

Protect the Working Man.
Some discussion followed the address mainly endorsing the statements of Dr. Hodgkins, and in answer to a question, the latter suggested that the municipality buy land and sell it at a reasonable price within the powers of the working class, so as to do away with the exorbitant fictitious prices that drive the working man out and create slum areas.

The opinion of Dr. Seymour on "The Tenement House Question" dovetailed with that of Dr. Hodgkins, but several new points were raised bearing on the subject. The question of the traffic, townships, it was stated, were bad, and their situation needed for adequate sewerage, water supply, environment and housing have a direct bearing upon the welfare of a people, as it is necessary to interest themselves in this that legislation be forthcoming to limit the number of inhabitants per block. Malnutrition, rickets, tuberculosis, diarrhoea, and other diseases were born in slum conditions. It was pointed out that the children of the tenement have five times the chance of life, the children in the suburbs four times as many. The necessity for air light, direct ventilation were again impressed. Ventilation was pointed as a practical and valuable adjunct.

Dr. Seymour told of an apartment house which had been built in Paris contrary to regulations and himself as

ALLIANCE BETWEEN GERMANY AND SWEDEN ON TAPIS TO CHECK RUSSIAN DESIGNS

(By Carl Waldemar)
Berlin, July 19.—From the beginning in the current number of the Grenzboten, a well-known review of politics, literature and art, edited by Herr George Cladow, to an unsigned article in which an alliance between Germany and Sweden is advocated. The writer refers to the fact that the most assiduous efforts of the Russian emperors have always been directed toward the open sea, and he states that nothing now remains for Russia but an advance towards the northwest, which she is apparently preparing.

Calgary in Brief
Capt. W. C. Dutton of Seattle, Washington, will give his address on the great problem of the public eye to a meeting at the States at the First Baptist church, corner Thirtieth and Avenue A, at 8 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, July 21, at 4 o'clock.

Ethel Mary Creton Simson, the six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Simson, 1114 10th avenue west, Park Hill, died yesterday after a brief illness. Funeral services will be held today from the family residence at 1114 10th avenue west, at 2 o'clock. The remains will be interred in the cemetery.

To ascertain whether or not it will be possible to arrive at some arrangement with the provincial government whereby hobos convicted as vagabonds in the local courts may be put to work on Calgary streets, Acting Mayor James A. Hornby yesterday formulated a letter directed to the attorney general in the matter. The acting mayor points out that the barracks are full of such hobos and the city jail accommodations are taxed to the limit. He writes the evil does not seem to abate.

Leplet, Gordon Milson, the four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Milson, died yesterday after a short illness. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at the family residence, 121 Seventh street, N. E., at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Brutt will officiate. The remains will be interred in Union cemetery.

A social will be given by the Scandinavian Good Templars' Building company, limited, at Nolan's Hall, 127 1/2 10th avenue west, on Saturday, July 20, at 8:20 p.m. A good program has been arranged. Music by T. M. Greig, supported by best local talent. An address will be delivered by O. Larson, of Brandon, college. Refreshments will be served. All Scandinavians cordially invited to attend.

James R. Scott, local sales agent for Toledo Computing scales, and one of the relieved at least, to the east, to go east to attend the convention of the Hundred Point club organized by the company. The club is composed of salaried men, and is held every month during the past twelve months. The twelve salaried men making the highest number of sales become directors of the club, and Mr. Scott has been a director every year since the club was organized. As the club membership is composed of salaried men, more than 1,000 salesmen in Canada and the United States, Mr. Scott's ability as a hustler is evident.

The local chapter of the Loyal Order of the Moose, No. 100, met last evening and enjoyed, in addition to a musical program, three short boxing bouts participated in by local amateurs. W. A. Turner, president, said Boyd, who was to have boxed three rounds with an unknown, was on hand, but the challenger failed to appear. Refreshments were served during the evening.

"The farmers in the west are gradually beginning to realize the necessity of mixed farming and the farms in consequence are becoming more profitable every year. The west should also be a very large fruit growing district. Just imagine these people having to import fruit when they have thousands upon thousands of acres of wild berries, such as raspberries and gooseberries. The quality of these berries cannot be denied and in my estimation, they are ahead of best cultivated berries in England."

The Literary Wage.
A New York magazine editor was talking to the Authors' Club in New York about the poor pay of novelists. "In England," he said, "they pension their novelists. Joseph Conrad now has a pension of ten dollars a week. I understand it rather better about the financial failure of his books. A little girl in Geneva once looked up a magazine and said to Mr. Conrad: 'What is the meaning of penury, sir?'" "Penury, my child," the novelist answered, "means the wages of the pen."

newspaper offices was to try and keep stories out of the paper. "I have always endeavored to answer questions asked me by the public," said Mr. Hornby, "as accurately and fully as I could."

It appears that other persons besides Commissioner Clarke believe that the chairman of the late investigating committee takes the newspapers, and thereby the public, too freely into his confidence. A contractor recently inquired of Mr. Hornby if he did not think he was taking rather ungenerally in the presence of newspaper representatives.

Mr. Marshall of the Crown Paving and Construction company, wishes to be set right in the public eye so far as his regular firm is concerned. "We started repair work on the curbs," said Mr. Marshall last night, "four or five weeks before the probe committee was appointed. In fact, we wrote a letter to the council before the committee was appointed, stating that we knew about the curbs, and had gone bad and stating that we were willing to repair them. We told the council in the letter that we were perfectly willing for an investigation to be made, and would be glad to help the investigators in any way possible."

Mr. Marshall carries evidence, in the shape of the weather report for September and October, 1911, to prove that the curbs in Calgary had undoubtedly been subjected to freezing temperatures. However, he does not attribute all the "distintegration" of the concrete to freezing, and is quite free to say so.

In the case of the curbs and gutters on Seventeenth avenue, on which the "curbs" were laid in Calgary, the "curbs" are not a new thing, but certainly are some other cause, than freezing that caused them to "go to pieces." He says that something was wrong with the mixture of cement, sand, and gravel, but is not prepared to say what it was.

"This is the eighth year that we have been in Calgary," said Mr. Marshall, "and we went to keep right on doing business. We have repaired any of the work which did not stand up, and we can cite miles of fine pavement on other streets of the city we put down in former years to prove that kind of work we are doing for the city."

With reference to the specifications, and the charges that the contractors claimed, the work in many places, Mr. Marshall is not willing to talk for publication, but says he is ready when the proper time comes. He refers questions on this subject to the city engineer, and when that official returns to his duties next week, there will be some interesting facts on this subject discussed. The Albertan.

Leading Scientists to New York.
Three international gatherings of scientists will meet in New York the next few months. Four thousand chemists, among whom will be Sir William Ramsay, will participate in the Fifth International Congress of Applied Chemistry, which is open in Washington on September 13. In August leading geographers will gather here to help the American Geographical Society of New York celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of its founding.

STORIES OF THE STREETS

(By Harry F. Burmester)
They've organized a new club here and believe me, too, it's some regular institution. Not one of those pomme de terre au gratin things where light-headed youths with slicked hair gamble gaily with father's bankroll and get themselves in Dutch at home by their bridge losses but a sane society with a purpose.

It is called the Sappantau club. Its home is an air-castle and its members are dreamers. It is an athletic club in the sense that the imaginations of the members are exercised at each meeting and the truth is occasionally stretched. No one is supposed to take a fellow member seriously on penalty of suspension. It is different from the old time Ananias club in that it is modern and Calgarian. Any regular fellow is eligible to membership. Raconteurs preferred. The boys meet nightly.

The initial meeting last night started in very auspiciously—and ended that way. Walter Albaugh, the automobile man; Dr. Thomas Quirk, Charles Nevin, former mayor of Butte; "Johnny" Wegener, E. P. Howard and a number of other charter member had gathered to elect a standman. A "standman" occupies the same position (figuratively speaking) in the Sappantau club as the chairman does in an ordinary society. Only all "Saps" stand during the club meeting so a chairman would be inappropriate.

Well anyhow, the lads were just getting together and there hadn't been a harsh word spoken when some horned-individual named Hennessy, Texased his way into the sacred circle and announced that he was going to tell a funny story. Now take this one straight from Hennessy. Anytime he has to tell you that it's going to be a funny story you can bet the family plate against a cubic yard of Calgary paving that it will be about as funny as a crutch. A funny story needs no affidavit man. But I'm digressing.

He started in bravely and everyone looked bored. Dr. Quirk, thoughtful soul, slipped away and instructed a page to call the members of the party one by one and inform each one separately that he was wanted at the phone or in the grill. The ruse worked beautifully and the volunteer near-rear-center was left all alone ere he was half way through his tale. Then the boy got together—minus Hennessy—and proceeded with the regular order of business.

Albaugh started with this one: "It's the stinkiest man in the world!" "It's agin—the rules to talk about a fellow member," interrupted Howard. "When did you meet my landlord?" chirped in Wegener. "The man who cheats at solitaire," suggested Quirk. "I said stinkiest, not crookedest," said Albaugh. "I met him yesterday and invited him to have a drink. He accepted and when we had finished waited for me to buy again. But I was tardy and finally out of the generosity of his heart he offered to shake me for the next one."

Charley Nevins, good-natured and deliberate of speech, was apparently engrossed in deep thought. "Divulge boy, divulge," commanded Quirk. "This organization has no secrets," Charles began. "I'm for a censorship of the press. I don't mind an occasional typographical error but these newspapermen are going too strong. Maybe you heard about the man who went home in an inebriated condition, minus his watch and money. He tried to explain and this is the way it read: 'M' dear (hic) I left it in (hoc)'—note the difference. Doubtless his wife would have spent the balance of the night frisking his pockets for the ticket if he had spoken as he was quoted. But that isn't so bad. In an afternoon paper the other day I ran across a classified advertisement that read:

"Furnished room to let suitable for three gentlemen, also piano to share room, with or without board. Address Box 41144. "And I got it from a friend of mine in the business office of the paper that they had 723 answers to that ad the same day. "If I knew what you meant, I'd leave the room," spoke up Wegener. "Sir 'im Prince, he bit your father," chimed in Albaugh. "You may kid McCoy but you can't Guy de Maupassant," added Howard and the session closed.

COMMISSION AGAINST A ROYAL WELCOME FOR APPROPRIATION HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS

Mr. Kidner's address showed careful preparation and a comprehensive knowledge of his subject. He was warmly congratulated by the delegates and the conclusion of his remarks. When the delegates assembled yesterday morning at the arts building in Victoria park, President J. E. Walsh, of Montreal, called the convention to order and made a brief address. The order of selecting committees was then taken up. Delegates Mannell, Mahoney and Priestly were chosen members of the resolutions committee; Delegates Marr, Cameron, Grinyer, Yeomans and Chapman, selection committee; Delegates Gardner, McKnight and Wyse, auditing committee; Delegates Gordon, Watts and McVeigh, press committee.

The commissioners also will recommend that $20,000 be provided in the same bylaw for the purchase of land at some point in Crescent Heights or the surrounding district for store yards in which to place such material as water and sewer pipe, etc., which has a frontage on the Bow of 650 feet, and is so situated that it can be served with a spur track, either from the Canadian Pacific line or by the Banquet street railway. Its technical description is lot 1, block 2, of the proposed plan of subdivision of part of the south one-half of section 1, township 24, range 10.

The commissioners also recommended that 2,000 horse-power of the city steam water plant be piped so that natural gas can be used under it. The balance of the plant, the commissioners say, should be fired with coal until the city has a chance to demonstrate the reliability and economic advantages to be obtained by the use of gas.

Co-operation in the Mediterranean.

This visit is regarded as being of especial importance in view of the strategic problems which the British and French naval authorities are at present considering.

Go to Banff Today
Today the delegates journey to Banff as the guests of the local society. A special train leaves here at 8 o'clock this morning, returning before midnight. A program of sports has been arranged for the benefit of the visitors. Below is a list of the officers of the convention: President, J. E. Walsh, Montreal; Vice-president, E. J. ORDERLY CONDITION OF LONDON STREETS EXCITES ADMIRATION OF MANY CITIES

London, July 18.—London destined to take pride of place among the cities of the world for the orderliness of its thoroughfares during the hours devoted to the amusement of its numerous citizens and guests? Without venturing to offer a definite reply to this interesting and provocative question, Mr. William J. Taylor, the veteran secretary of the London Female Penitentiary and Reformatory Institution, testified in a remarkable manner to the great and growing improvement in the general condition of the streets.

Mr. Taylor, surveying the work of the institution over the past sixty years in a special statement which he has prepared for the information of her Royal Highness Princess Alexander of Teck, who has promised to open a new home for girls at New Southgate, recalls the fact that the first home was founded so long ago as 1857, after the mission work in the streets had been carried on for several years with much success.

It is stated that great preparations are being made at Balmoral for the reception of the court in August. The place has been completely refurbished and redecorated, and now presents a very different appearance from what it did a few years ago. It is understood that before the king and queen return south, they will give a dance, and there will be a series of house parties, while their majesties are in the city.

Perhaps the latest use to be made of a taxi-cab was witnessed in Fleet street yesterday. One of these handy vehicles was drawn up close to the curb beneath a red light. An elderly gentleman entered a taxi and began to work with great composure and dexterity on what proved to be a masterly copy of the London directory.

Home at New Southgate. The new and commodious home at New Southgate, which is to be opened by Princess Alexander of Teck, will be set apart for preventive work. Like all the society's other homes, the property is freehold and has been paid for, but about $7,500 is still required to meet the expenses of adapting the house and erecting a workshop and laundry for the industrial training of the inmates.

DENONCES HOME RULE; ORANGE COUNCIL

Says if Ever in Force Orange-men First to be Attacked by Enemies of Protestants

From All Over Empire Resolutions Were Received Condemning the Measure

London, July 19.—A feature of the proceedings of the Grand Orange Council yesterday, was the emphatic denunciation of the Irish home rule, from the colonies.

A letter from Lord Esmé was read in which his lordship declared that if home rule ever came into force the Orange institutions would be the first singled out for attack by the enemies of protestantism. It was of vital importance that they should make known to the world that their body was not confined to the limits of three kingdoms, but was reckoned with wherever the British flag is unfurled.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S MEMOIRS VERY FRANK, TO BE PUBLISHED 10 YEARS AFTER DEATH

In His Writings He Acknowledges That the Easy Achievement of King Edward Displeased Him; Tells of His Rows With Chancellors

Berlin, July 17.—The Kaiser is not to be outdone by his son as an author, and has long been busily engaged writing, or, rather, dictating his memoirs since he succeeded his father in 1888.

The memoirs will only be published, according to the Kaiser's present intentions, ten years after his death, but if the work displeases the next Kaiser they may never be published unless much revised.

From a person who enjoys the Kaiser's absolute confidence and long friendship it is learned that the memoirs are extremely frank. They deal with much sincerity with his ministers, his children and with his fellow European sovereigns.

The Kaiser, it seems, once tried to outdo Edward in the art of dressing. He ordered some sensational hats of many hues, but especially of gray, Edward's favorite color for headgear.

Toward his own family the memoirs are not over tender. His wrath at the crown prince after the latter's in cautious demonstration in the reichstag at the Morocco debate is set down in vivid phrases.

The Kaiser rescues wife. The incident was embarrassing, and in different political conditions might have been considered an affront to the French representative, but the Kaiser, who sees everything, came to his wife's rescue and at once found a fitting reply to the carefully considered words of the Frenchman.

To the Citizens of Calgary:

Since the organization of the monster celebration to be held in your city, September 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th 1912, we have received numerous inquiries from various decorating firms in different parts of the Dominion of Canada and the United States, who realizing the magnitude of this event and knowing that it is always customary for Cities holding celebrations of this kind to have their buildings decked in gala attire with bunting, colored electrical displays, etc., etc., in the evening to welcome their visitors, asking if Calgary was contemplating doing something in this manner.

We wish to say that the management of "The Stampede" are putting on the Greatest Frontier Days' Celebration ever attempted in any man's country, heretofore. One which will be a credit to Calgary and the Dominion of Canada.

We will decorate the grounds where we intend to hold our celebration, and we are erecting a special Grand Stand containing private boxes for the Vice-Regal Party, who have accepted our invitation to witness "The Stampede." Besides bleachers which will encircle the entire race track, and will do everything in our power to promote the interest of this City and Country in the presentation of our big entertainment.

More Facts About McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace

The Understudy of the Sun

There's no dust nuisance about the "Sunshine"—when you rock down the ashes the dust is drawn up dust-free then directly across to smoke-pipe where it belongs. Look at the illustration and remember to open both "Dust" and "Draft" dampers—these simple devices make the "Sunshine" the cleanest furnace for the home.

See the famous "cup joints" here—the frame of the ash pit—the two sections of the fire-pot and the dome all jointed together by our "cup joint."

There's a layer of asbestos cement in each joint—this unites all sections in a permanent way, yet leaves room for the expansion and contraction of the metal.

No wonder that this "Understudy of the Sun" is called the "Sunshine" furnace—Since it diffuses pure warm June air throughout the house.

You don't have to wear overalls when attending to the "Sunshine" furnace—it has a big roomy ash-pan. All the ashes are guided directly into the pan by ash-chutes. A minute or two performs the job. Yes, the "Sunshine" is the clean furnace.

The "Sunshine" Furnace burns either wood or coal. Coke, too, if you prefer it. The "Sunshine" distributes a greater percentage of heat units—the Baffle plates (a new McClary device) decidedly increase the heating efficiency of the furnace.

But—see the McClary agent of your locality. Ask him to show you all the features and exclusive devices which make the "Sunshine" Furnace worthy of the name—The Understudy of the Sun. If you do not know the McClary Agent, write us at our nearest address and we'll forward you a letter of introduction by return.

The office of Inspector W. A. Nutt, acting chief of police, resembled a clothing store on bargain day yesterday, when Constables McDonald and Ritchie had finished carting more than 100 wool working shirts from the Canadian Pacific railway yard to the police station. The shirts had evidently been looted from a freight car in the Canadian Pacific yards, and were strewn along the right of way in East Calgary.

It is evident that the robbery had been committed by the class of hoboes with which Calgary is now cursed. After making their selections, the thieves had thrown the remainder of the shirts on the ground and left them. The garments are of good quality and estimated to be worth from $2 to $3 apiece. The railway officials were notified of the theft and detectives are now endeavoring to secure some trace of the marauders.

Didn't Recognize It

A man entered a restaurant on Houston street last night, sat down at the lunch counter and asked a waiter if he could give him something suitable for a weak stomach. "Sure thing," replied the waiter, "how about a graveyard stew?" The man grinned and said: "All right, I'll try one." The waiter walked to the door of the kitchen and yelled: "One order milk toast!" "What's that, milk toast?" called the man with the weak stomach. "Not on your life. I did not know what a graveyard stew was composed of. Gimme a leg of chicken." —San Antonio Express.

Do You Feel Moody, Irritable, Depressed?

When That Languid, Laggy, Easily-Tired Feeling Comes, Your Liver is Slow. Tells How to Cure Quickly.

"Even when I was young I was not robust and healthy like other girls. I suffered from headaches, and had sort of blue feelings that deprived me of the joyful spirit and pleasures other girls seemed to get. After I married, I found I could not throw worries off like other women, and those full feelings of despondency and weariness made me very unhappy. There was no cause to feel so, and my doctor said my liver was sluggish, and this accounted for my poor color, my tiredness, languor and despair. The pills the doctor gave me were too purgative, made me weaker because they were too active for my constitution. Dozens of my friends recommended Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and they were so mild and helpful. Well, I never used a pill that acted so quietly as Dr. Hamilton's. They were so comfortable to use, I was afraid they might not help. But in a week I knew they had been actively engaged in cleaning up my system. They did the work of a tonic and blood purifier combined. I improved to a marvelous degree with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I now maintain the most perfect kind of health by using them just once or twice a week. It is Mrs. E. V. Erlanger, well known at Gloucester, who relates the above experience. She proved what you and all other men and women can prove—that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are best for restoring health and best for keeping the system in perfect running order. Don't be misled into using anything but Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c a box, five for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid by the Cashier, 100 E. Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

NEWSPAPERS ONCE A YEAR

Two Journals in the North Polar Region Are Published Annually

(From The New York Herald) There exist several journals that make their appearance only once a year. These are published within the confines of the north polar circle. The Eskimo Bulletin, for example, is edited near Cape Prince of Wales on Berling Strait. Here, in a village inhabited by Eskimos, the English missionaries have established a school, and, as only one summer lands at this place, and that only once a year, the news that it brings is considered a sheet of paper printed with the mimograph. Its size is 8x12 inches. The paper is very thick and only one surface is used. The Eskimo Bulletin in a sub-head claims to be the "only yearly paper."

The Eskimo Bulletin is an annual sheet published in God-fish, Greenland, where a small printing office was established in 1882. LABORER KILLS BARTENDER

Murder Committed When Mad With Rage—Subject to Insanity Fits

Montreal, July 19.—John Sheppard, a plasterer of Chicago, in a sudden fit of insane rage this evening, shot and killed Fred McKenna, a bartender at the Turkish Bath hotel, and seriously wounded Dr. R. S. Devin, son of the proprietor. The shooting took place in a small room off the bar-room. Sheppard at the time was accompanied by his wife and three children. After the shooting the man calmed down, and went to the hotel clerk and told him what he had done. He then calmly awaited the arrival of the police, and since his arrest has shown little concern as to his own fate, but repeatedly asks for news from the Victoria hospital, where Dr. Devin lies with a bullet through his right shoulder. Sheppard is a Scotchman by birth, but has passed a number of years in Chicago. Some time ago, according to his wife, he sustained a fall from a scaffold, resulting in concussion of the brain. He received $1,500 damages and decided to return to Scotland. Since his accident, according to his wife, he has been subject to fits of insanity.

EARLY CLOSING BYLAW MAY NOT BE SUBMITTED

Indication Seen in Attitude of Merchants in Withdrawing Names from Petition

Objection is That Stores Can be Open Evenings Only One Week Before Christmas

Indication that the proposed early closing bylaw in its present form may not be put to a vote of the people is seen in the attitude of various merchants who have withdrawn their names from the petition to sign an appeal. It is said that the chief objection of those who have so changed is that the bylaw provides that stores can be kept open evenings for only one week before Christmas. A large number of the merchants feel that two weeks should be allowed at this time of the year.

Originally 271 Signers There were originally 271 signers of the petition for the bylaw. The act under which the proposed bylaw is drawn provides that when two-thirds of the businesses affected by the early closing make such a petition the question of enacting the law shall be submitted to the people. The present petition is accompanied by affidavits stating that to the belief of the signers, two-thirds of the businesses affected, including the bar shops, are represented. Many of those who signed the petition, however, afterwards signed a counter petition. This raises a somewhat knotty point of law. Solicitors for the Business Men's association, who are behind the original petition, and the city solicitor are now struggling with it. It is said that while the city solicitor has not given any opinion, he is reported to be inclined to believe that the withdrawal of a signature from the original petition lessens it just that much. This view may be based on the fact that there is nothing in the law prohibiting the withdrawal of a signature from a petition, or fixing any limit to the time when it can be withdrawn. As the petition asks that the people vote on a new law, it is common sense to assume that a man who withdraws his name from the petition would work and vote against the law.

Police Making Checking List

To get a check on the number of businesses that will actually be affected by the law, Acting Mayor Hornby has instructed the police department to make up a list of all businesses, a constable being assigned to each ward for that purpose. The data will enable the solicitors to make an accurate check on the petitions to determine whether or not the original one bears the signatures of men representing two-thirds of the businesses affected.

MAY STOP ROOSTER CROWING IN DENVER

Constables will be very busy serving injunctions in Denver if a certain ordinance which has been introduced in the common council of that town becomes local law. The man who introduced the ordinance is Supervisor George J. Kindel, and he proposes to make it unlawful in the Colorado metropolis for roosters to crow between the hours of 11 p.m. and 5 p.m. Kindel does not suggest how the proposed law should be enforced, but the best method, undoubtedly would be to serve injunctions upon all the roosters who are now in the habit of crowing before 6 o'clock in the morning.

DR. MARR, RECENTLY ILL, IS RECOVERING

Rev. H. D. Marr, B. A., recently appointed district secretary of the Canadian Bible society, and who is in Calgary in connection with the work of the Alberta Auxiliary Bible society, has recovered from his indisposition caused by the change in altitude. He is now actively engaged in the bible work. "The Bible in the World," a publication of the parent society, British and Foreign Bible society, speaking of Mr. Marr's appointment to Alberta, said: "He is a minister of the Canadian Methodist church, highly spoken of in all places where he has exercised his ministry, and he will have a magnificent field in the rapidly developing western province."

Are You Going to the "Fair?" What Fair? The Fair City Coquitlam

Those who know and understand a City's growth are investing in COQUITLAM by the score, and to the extent of thousands of dollars

YOU can make no mistake if you follow the lead of these men. They did not make their money by waiting until the town had grown into a large city, but once they felt assured of its growth they did not hesitate a second but jumped in and bought.

These men, as usual, showed their good judgement, as values are rising daily. The Canadian Pacific Railway has built many good cities, and COQUITLAM will not be one of the least.

We are not selling you property in a townsite that is "going to be," but already exists.

Here are some of its improvements:

- CEMENT STREETS and SIDEWALKS
- WATER
- SEWERAGE
- ELECTRIC STREET LIGHTING SYSTEM
- HOTELS
- THEATRES
- RESTAURANTS
- WHOLESALE STORES
- RETAIL STORES
- AND COQUITLAM IS ONLY A BABY—6 months old.

DON'T WAIT, for some one else will jump in and make the money. At present the prices and terms are exceptionally easy and the whole townsite will soon be owned by the shrewd men who will ask what they like, and those prices will be many times higher than they are now.

The block will be located on the corner of Broadway and Simpson streets in the first division of the Coquitlam Terminal and Townsite Company's property. Work on this building will be started immediately and rushed to completion. The building will be 117 by 129 feet in size and two stories in height. On the ground floor there will be five store rooms and the second floor will be divided into rooms and offices. Among the stores which will be established there are a pool room and restaurant. The occupants of the new stores will cater to the patronage of the large number of families which will reside in this section of Coquitlam when the numerous houses which are under construction shall have been completed.

HAIL INSURANCE

"To be insured against hail on June 26th, hailed out on June 27th, and to receive check for insurance covering damage on July 8th, was the experience of Rose Bros., north of town, and is an example of quick work on the part of the insurance company, who not only appraised the damage to the crop, but had a report in and a check mailed in 10 days from the time of the storm."

"Rose Bros. took out a policy with the Western Canada Fire Insurance Co. of which George Miller is the agent here, on June 25th. Two days afterwards 45 per cent of their fine wheat crop was damaged by hail which came during the heavy rain storm on June 27th. They reported the damage, an appraiser came down from Calgary, made his report, and on July 8th came the cash for 45 per cent of the amount of the policy"—Tabor Times
