GOVERNOR KENNEDY.

Before this reaches the eye of the public Governor Kennedy will have probably arrivd, and will in due course receive an ovation from the inhabitants. If we erect arches, and ike the citizens of Rome at Cæsar's triumph. "put on our best attire, cull out a holiday, and strew flowers in his way," it is not, like the Roman citizens, to pander to the vanity of a conqueror, but to show a marked respect the representative of Her Majesty, and to offer a reception to a gentleman of whom much is expected. We have had our season of grumbling and discontent; but with the dawn of a hopeful future, we have buried the hatchet and accepted the calumet. We have given a farewell demonstration to the retiring governor, and now, in the same spirit of courtesy, we extend a warm and genuine welcome to his uccessor. Governor Kennedy arrives at the most important phase of our existence—the transforming period of youth to manhood. After the boisterous weather of our springe-the gales and showers of a blustering re are gradually gliding to the more

An auspicious period is opening to the coby, and an opportunity is afforded His Exsellency to become one of the most popular vernors. He commences his Vancouver Island career with a tabula rasa—the blank pages of his official book are clear and unsullied-no prejudicial connections encumber his policy, no injurious interests stand between him and the people's welfare. Acquainted with the working of free institutions in the Australian dependencies, he comes to us with a proper conception of what is due, in a political sense, to the enterprising population of a British colony. Had we received a governor from England, destitute of colonial experience, we should, in all probability, have had a man wedded inseparably to forms and customs unsuited to the exigencies of the more progressive communities of younger countries. As it is, however, we have reason to be gratified at obtaining a gentleman who has seen something of the world, and who comes to us free from that obstinacy and selfsufficiency which usually accompany limited

As a people, we are too prone to attach to the Executive some mysterious, undefined power, and expect from it the labors of a Hercules. So soon as Governor Kennedy enters Yates street he is told to "develop our resources," when he might with just as much reason be asked to "build our houses," or "till our soil." The fable of Jupiter and the Waggoner is always in requisition, and we are afraid that unless we have the necessary self-reliance and intelligence to develop our own material resources we shall have but a poor chance of the labor being performed by the representative of Her Majesty. The position of a Governor of a British colony is now well defined. The days of intermeddling Executives have, in nearly all the colonies, happily ceased, and the wise Governor no more than Queen Victoria attempts to interere in the political affairs of the country. To aid and encourage the inhabitants in every laudable enterprise—to endeavor, in colonies where the population is large, to remove by social reunions the ascerbities of political life-to give a tone to that society of which he should be the ornament and the head,—and to look after the constitutionality of the acts of the Legislature, are really the duties pertaining to his office. In our form of government, a little wider latitude is given, of course, to the Governor than in colonies having the full measure of responsibility; but owing to the deficiency of intellect or independence in our Legislature hitherto, the Executive has been allowed, in too many instances, to supersede the functions of the being maintained until a late hour.

It is neither to the advantage ner is it the inclination of a wise Governor, to encroach on the people's preregatives. It may be well said, indeed, that liberty is the highest blessing that a colony as well as a nation can enjoy; that it must be first deserved before it can be enjoyed, and that it is the truest interest of the Executive no less than of the people, to employ all just and honest means that it may be both deserved and enjoyed. Out of the three Governors who ruled successively in the most prosperous of the Australian Colonies, the only one who was at all successful it his administration was the man who kept himself aloof from the intrigues ladder in the yard I get up the ladder. and wranglings of political life. He was muite content with the position analogous to quite content with the position analogous to that which Her Majesty held, and so like her obtained the general esteem of the inhabitants. It is, in fact, due to the monarche of Great Britain that her representative should studiously avoid placing himself in any positions. studiously avoid placing himself in any posi-

Our past Governor had to buy his experience, and oftentimes at the expense of his popularity : Governer Kennedy, if he be a sagacious man, will be able to borrow his from the late administration. He will discover that the blunders of the past were due mainly to the disregard of public opinion on the part of those in power, and that a Governor can be very materially injured by a staff of unscrupulous officials. Happily the cause of the complaint in the latter case has been to a great extent removed; but it will still require the utmost vigilance on the part of His Excellency to prevent his reputation suffering from the acts of his subordinates.

An Inquest was held on Friday on the body of the unfortunate man Frederick Thompson, late a teacher, whose lifeless form was yesterday morning discovered suspended by a leather strap to a sleeping bunk in the deceased's room.

A jury was empanneled with Mr. Preston Bennett as foreman, and having proceeded to view the body the following evidence was taken.

Couldn't HELP IT .- After a marriage ceremony had been performed in one of the churches in Adrian, Michigan, the bride, when receiving the congratulations of be friends, shed tears, according to the established ridiculous custom, at the sight of which the groom followed suit with a copious flow of the briay fluid. After his friends succeeded in calming him, he said he couldn't help it; for he felt as bad about it as she did.

The following is taken from a Cape Town letter of the 20th of November:—
Captain Baldwin, of the Vanderbilt, has saized a British vessel in British waters, and sent it as a prize to New York, and also appropriated British property on British Territory. When the Vanderbilt left Simon's Bay, after being generously supplied with coals and other necessaries, it was believed by many that she must have gone to the far east, for that she must have gone to the far east, for the purpose of protecting American vessels homeward bound with cargoes. It seems, however, that some wag played a hoax on Captain Baldwin, and made him believe that the Georgia had gone to the Mauritius. Off he started, but when he got to the Mauritius no Georgia was there, and no information as to her whereabouts to be obtained. He left Mauritius on the 18th of last month and paid flying visits to Algea Bay and Simon's Bay, on his way down the coast, and then came on to Table Bay, paying us his first visit here on the morning of the 24th of October. The coaling was commenced on the rellowing merning, and two boats had got alongside when Governor Wodehouse sent assurance of his "highest consideration." but said he would much rather that Captain Baldwin should not trouble himself by taking in any black diamonds there. In fact, he strictly prohibited him from doing so; and, if there had been any disobedience on his part, the Valorous was at hand to, pay her respects. The Captain of the Vanderbits remonstrated, and the Federal Consul is said signed by plaintiff, but the plaintiff had interpolated into the receipt, provided that no one received more.

W. G. Colley—I worked as foreman of choppers for Mr. Hood last year, and received $100 a-month.

Walter Moberly—I was engineer on Mr. Hood's road. Kerr brought a note up to me from Hood for employment. I set him on to work. He was engaged at first as foreman of cheppers.

Mr. Hood, for the defence, stated that he had made no agreement with Kerr as to the rate of wages.

His Honor said that this was a case in which the agreement had not been very clearly set out at the time the arrangement was made. The words in the receipt clearly showed that the arrangement was closed on the receipt being given. There was proof that another foreman had received $100 a-month. The receipt that the receipt the foreman had received $100 a-month. The receipt that the receipt the receipt the receipt the receipt that another foreman had received $100 a-month. MINING IN VANCOUVER AND

BRITISH COLUMBIA. If any confidence is to be placed in the share market, it would seem that a day of great prosperity is dawning for Vancouver Island. We see shares in the copper and other mines running up to fabuleus prices, and eagerly sought after by those who ought to know the value of shares in this town. There has been for the last six months a steady in- MAXIMILIAN ABOUT TO LEAVE crease in the value of all mining shares within the colony, and it is with great satisfaction that those whose whole interests are bound up in the prosperity of the country must witness such a transition from the too great desire that existed a year ago for everything connected with British Columbia, in preference to Vancouver Islands Doubtless as the mining season of Cariboo approaches, many will be tempted with the prospect of the large wages and big strikes that are expected to be made in the upper country, and will prefer running the chance of large profits there, than of a small certainty here. We Frederick's Fort. would not for one moment discourage the miner from trying his luck in Cariboo again. for we have every reason to suppose that the coming season will be better for all working miners than any of the preceding years have been, there is every prospect of provisions being cheaper than heretofore, and very little prospect of laber being valued at a lower rate; in the first place it is not anticipated that there will be so many miners on gave notice of motion as to the demand for Williams and the adjoining Creeks this year, as there were last; and in the next place, from the gradual introduction of machinery, great as to the claims for damages done by the Al results are looked for, which may in all pro- abama, that the Government considers itself bability, effect a revolution in the present is held out for changing the policy respecting system of mining altogether. The miner who has worked hard during the whole season and comes down to Victoria to spend his winter must be terribly wearied if he be compelled, as many were in the past winter to spend four or five months in enforced idleness. No wages that can be earned will compensate the steady working man for such an anhoyance as no employment and consequently no pay during the winter months. He comes down with a few hundred dollars, the savings of his summer's labor, and by the time the season opens again they are in all probability spent, squandered perhaps through the want of employment, which naturally induces extravagant habits. PUGET SOUND AGRICULTURAL COMPANY. The U. S. Senate has confirmed a treaty by which a final adjustment is to be made of the claim of the Puget Sound Agricultural Co upon the United States. This Company, omposed of members of the Hudson Bay Company, has claimed certain possessory rights upon American soil, and, after the occupation of the soil by settlers, the company se up a claim for damages amounting to about $2,000,000, but which has been reduced now to $500,000. By the treaty just confirmed, but not yet ratified, it is provided that a Commissioner shall be appointed by the United States, who shall appraise the damage done the Puget Sound Company; and if they cannot agree upon an appraisal the whole matter shall be referred to the King of Italy as a final arbitrator.

The Portlanders celebrated the completion of the telegraph line in great style on the 5th inst., sending congratulatory despatches to President Lincoln, the U. S. who left Portland on Friday at 7 o'clock, we learn that the steamer Panama, which reached Portland on the 10th inst., would sail for San Francisco on Saturday the 12th, taking a few passengers and some freight, including about 5,000 boxes apples.

The Panama brought word that the steamers would in future leave San Francisco every Saturday for Portland. They would probaba ly proceed on to Victoria. The Sierra Nevada would leave San Fran-

The miners in Boise expect a poor summer, in consequence of the small quantity of snow which lay on the ground, and the consequent scarcity of water.

The Portland Daily Union thus comments on the late news :-The details of Eastern news brought by he Panama are full of interest, notwithstanding the most important items have been given already to the public in telegraphic despatches. Since the last complete reports, the situa-tion of both federals and rebels has very materially changed. Lee alone, of all the rebel commanders, retains his geographical position, and he does so only because he dares not leave his entreachments either to run or fight. That this is true, is proved by the fact that he suffered Kilpatrick to make a raid in his rear, destroy his railroad communication with his only source of supplies, make an assault npon the rebel capital, and actually peetrate its outer lines of fortification, and then march down the peninsula and effect a junction with Butler, without encountering any resistance worth mentioning. It was object of this raid to compel Lee to abanden his position on Rappahannock, and give our forces battle on helopen field. In this object the expedition failed, and the rebel general admitted by his acts, or rather by his persistent refusal to act. that he felt himself unable to cope with any very formidable force. His command estimated at 55,000 men, and is larger by 20,000 than any other body of soldiers in the rebel service Johnston, with 35,000 men, all that is left of Bragg's celebrated army of Tennessee, is dividing his attention between Gen. Grant at Chattanooga and Sherman's unexpected and damaging invasion of Alabama; while Longstreet, with 20,000 men has beat a hasty retreat from East Tennessee, and is just now engaged in standing guard over the rebel capital, lest it fall into the hands of " Beast Butler," who is hanging around its suburbs in a very sus-

London, as to its efficacy in Cholera. lat Stage of Premonitory—In this stage th remedy acts as a charm, one dose generally sufficient.

2nd Stage. or that of Vomiting and Purging—In this stage the remedy possesses great power, more than any other we are acquainted with, two or three than any other we are acquainted with, two or three doses being sufficient.

3rd Stage, or Collapse—In all cases restoring the pulse. So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of using it in all cases.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay: "Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery." To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when all other medicines had failed."

OUR RESOURCES IN ENGLAND. In these utilitarian days everything is tried by one standard,-What use? and How soon? Rapidity of motion is essential to the cravings of human nature, and in estimating the qualities of anything which can be reduced to a comparative system, we are more guided by the question of its utility, than by any of its less practical merits. Railway companies, telegraph companies, mining companies, and joint stock companies of every description have, within the last ten years. been built up by the exercise and influence of these two queries alone. Formerly our ancestors were content with less progressive ideas, and the exigencies of the times did not make it necessary to utilise every foot of ground which is in the vicinity of the haunts of men; but now the great aim of every one's life seems to be to do as much as possible. and with that end in view, to do it as quickly as pessible. Since the introduction of steam as a motive power, man's whole nature in respeet of employment is changed; how much more is crowded into the work of a life-time now, than half a century ago, our daily experience witnesses, and probably nowhere is this more apparent than in the colonies. At one time a family emigrating carried with them their Lares and Penates, and never expected to visit home again; now there are not a dozen amongst us but have some hope or idea of returning to the old country. The facilities for travel, if properly taken advantage of must tend to benefit the colonies generally, and none more than our own. The great value of minerals, our forests of splendid timber, and our fisheries, have only to be thoroughly explained at home, and the capital must find its way out to work each and every branch of our resources. How soon can the Island of Vancouver be reached, and what are its means of communication with England, are also matters which require explanation, as de the relative situations of this city and British Columbia, and the distance and means of communication with the mines. At no more critical period for our future welfare could we have despatched a messenger to England who will devote his time to the practical explanation of our wants, our resources and our appliances, than at the present. Despite all that can be said to the contrary, these two colonies are surely and steadily progressing in value and importance, and it only needs that the right sort of men should be induced to come amongst us at the present moment, bringing with them capital, skill, and energy, to place this colony and that of British Columbia high in the list of favored The gold of British Columbia will, for some years to come, attract a particular class of immigrants, and if the real facts connected with our own Island be thoroughly explained to those of the old country who are always in search of such information for practical purposes; if the capitalists who are seeking fresh outlets for their money and the skilled artificers and handicraftsmen who are seeking a new field for employment, are told what can be done in the lumber business between this colony and China, as well as other parts of the world, and what other mineral resources we have besides gold, and what it is possible to make of our fisheries, shall we not soon have men and money at work? There is energy, there is wealth there is muscle and sinew, and last not least there is indomitable pluck still left in Britain. which only wants inducement to come amongst us, and which alone is wanting to secure our prosperity. A lecturer going home this year will tell of better communication with the mines than heretofore, he will be able to enlarge upon the facilities which will be given to trading with the mines when the traction engines are at work : he will show to the commercial man the immense advantages which Victoria will possess as a depot for the whole Pacific Coast when she is connected by telegraphic wires with the United States, and it will be for the lecturer who invites the attention of emigrants and capitalists to this country to show them in how many ways their money and energy may be advantageously employed in this Island, which like the Ghants of the Deccan, although perhaps barren of verdure teems with mineral wealth.

PAPAL APPOINTMENTS.

We read the following in the Freeman's Journal of January 9th :

"The Pope held a secret consistory at the Vatican. After a short allocution His Holiness created the Rev. Charles Morrison Parish Priest of Montreal in Canada, to the Episcopal See of Colon, in partibus infidelium with the title of Coadjutor without succession, of His Lordship Mgr. Demers, Bishop, of Vancouver. The Rev. L. Menday, March 14, at 12 o'clock, His Excellency Sir James Douglas, K.C.B., left this coluny, not to return to it again as Her Majesty's Representative. The spontaneous and enthusiastic ovation accorded to him by the citizens at his departure must have been highly gratifying, and would doubtless tend to dissipate, partially at least, that regret with which he bas been so long and so im-His Excellency, preceded by the Band, playing "For He's a jolly good fellow," and aecompanied by a number of the Government efficials, with a few particular friends, marched down to the wharf, followed by an immense concourse of citizens. On his arrival at the head of the wharf, he was greeted with hearty cheers from the assembled multitude. which he acknowledged with his usual urbanity. At the steamboat landing a dense crowd had collected, and His Excellency was received with enthusiastic cheers, which continued till he stepped on board the steamer. The gallant little craft then moved slowly off, backing out into the stream, amid the most vociferous cheering, the band playing "Auld lang syne," and the battery on the opposite wharf sending forth a thundering salute, answered by another from Dickson Campbell & Co.'s wharf. As the Enterprise gradually swung round and headed out of the harbor, the band struck up "God Save The Queen," to the grand old strains of which, olending with the shouts of the multitude and the roar of the cannon, Governor Sir James Douglas bade a last farewell to the colony of Vancouver Island.

Mr. Pemberton remarked that Bond was not so ignorant of law as that, and reminded the accuse that causing one shilling worth of damage to another man's property subjected him to a fine of £5 with imprisonment. The case was allowed to stand over till Monday, to allow time for the reparation of the injury.

THE CHARGE AGAINST FABIAN MITCHELL. -The charge against Fabian Mitchell of being unlawfully possessed of a musical box, the property of an Indian, again came up in the Police Court yesterday. Mr. Bishop, for the defence, stated that through the courtesy of the Clerk of the Court, this matter had been arranged in accordance with the wishes of the Bench. There was a difference of $4 between the musical box and the skins. This had been haived, and his client had agreed to accept $2, and to receive back the box. He therefore would ask His Worship to say that there was no ground for issuing a warrant .-The magistrate said by giving the accused an opportunity of settling the case out of Court, it was to be inferred that he (the magistrate) did not look upon the case as amounting to larceny. It appeared from the evidence, that Mitchell had only himself to blame for having acted, to say the least, with indiscretion. He had no desire to cast any imputation upon the accused but it was Mitchell's own fault that this had been brought upon him, and it therefore only remained for him to dismiss the charge.

GOVERNOR KENNEDY'S ARRIVAL .- The intelligence brought by the Eliza Anderson yesterday, enables us to approximate with greater certainty the probable date of Capt. Kennedy's arrival here. The steamer which of this was to purify the country of all usually leaves San Francisco on the 7th, would not sail before Saturday the 12th, and as she would proceed as usual to Portland, we cannot expect our new Governor before Sunday next. HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

MONDAY, March 14th, 1864.

House met at 3:15, p. m. Members pre-sent—Messrs. Young, DeCosmos, Trimble, Foster, Duncan, Street, Dennes. ADDRESS TO HIS EXCELLENCY.

The Speaker stated that a deputation from the House of Assembly had waited upon His Excellency on Saturday last, to present the address voted by the House, to which His Excellency had made a suitable reply.

WATER COMPANY'S BILL. The Committee on Private Bills reported that the bill of Messrs. Coe & Martin had complied with the Standing Orders of the House: the Committee therefore recommended the House to accept the bill. Mr. Tiedeman was before the committee to object to the passage of the bill, but as his objection was to its merits, the chairman informed him that he must appear on Friday next to object, between the first and second readings: ADJOURNMENT.

Dr. Trimble moved, seconded by Mr. Street, that as a mark of respect to His Excellency Governor Douglas, the House do adjourn till to-morrow. Carried unanimously.

Finding, upon inquiry, that he belonged to the Ninth Illinois, one of the most gallautly behaved and heavy losing regiments at the Fort Donelson battle, and a part of which was aboard, I be gan to interrogate him upon the subject. His philosophy was so much in the Falstaffian style that I will give his views in his own words, as near as my memory serves me :

EMANCIPATION IN THE DUTCH COLONIES -The last news received from the Dutch colony of Surisam reports a most favorable development of the recently inaugurated policy of evancipation. The freed slaves have concluded contracts with the Government and with private planters, and the discontents which arose from the obstinacy of the latter, have been suppressed by the compromise which they made with the Government in regard to the wages for plantation labor. Last week, too, a very important treaty was concluded between the American and Netnerlands Governments, by which i is arranged that the colonial authorities at Surinam shall receive such of the emancipated American slaves as may be willing to work on their plantations. To these the American Government will afford considerable facilities for emigrating to the Dutch West India posessions, where they will be most cordially velcomed, the great difficulty with the planters being the finding of such laborers as are equired for developing the vast resources ef he fertile colony of Surinam. Two thousand plantation laborers had already been induced to leave Demerara in consequence of the higher wages offered in the Dutch settlement, while a decided improvement has taken place in the market value of the sugar plantations. It is inferred that a very large number of the freed slaves of the Southern States of America will avail themselves of the facilities offered them to make engagements with the Dutch planters. Such indeed is the extent of territory in Surinam awaiting cultivation, that were all the slaves in the Southern States able to avail themselves of the facilities now offered them, they would find abundance of remunerative labor in that

The documents cellected on that subject are unanimous in declaring that the crime increases from January to June, and that it diminishes until December, in which month the fewest suicides are committed. Drowning and hanging are the means most frequently employed, the twothirds of the persons who commit suicide have recourse to them; next comes fire-arms, and then suffocation by charcoal. It has been as. certained, moreover, that suicide is least frequent in the centre and south-west, the most exclusively agricultural districts in France. Other statistical returns show that there were 55,693 accidental deaths among men, and only 13,258 among women, in France from

LETTER FROM THE SOUND

New Dungeness, March, 1864. EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST:- Dear Sir, A. note from this city, the county seat of Solan County, possibly would not come amias. The Clallam County Central Committee met here to-day, and took into consideration the actions of C. M. Bradshaw, the late Joint Representative of Clalam and Jefferson Counties in the last Legislature, and after a warmly contested debate upon the subject, and a full examination into his actions in the Legislature, the Committee unanimously adopted the accompanying preamble and re-solutions. Sustaining him in his course.

The Committee have appointed the second Monday in May to hold a Union Convention at Few Dungeness, to nominate a full county ticket, to be voted for at the general election to be held in June. A meeting of the County Commissioners was to be held to-day, but a change had been made in the time of their meeting, by an act of last legislature, therefore much valuable gas was given vent to in the shape of indignation against those who advocated the change. The weather is becoming mild and the farmers are commencing to prepare their land for spring crops. More

The following preamble and resolutions were adopted by the Union County Committee of Clalam Co., W. T., at its late meet-

We must not look at the wealth or poverty of the parties, we must look at the facts. Has the plaintiff sustained a loss? And next does the contract in any way furnish ground on which to measure the damages. The Court must look at the contract and see what will be the position of the parties under it. There is a certain rate of tells fixed by this centract, and disposed of by this contract. My friend wishes to throw over the evidence of Mr. Moberly; now he did not object at the time that it would be necessary to produce the toll books of the Douglas-Lilloett route. We cling to our free port as the cerner stone upon which to erect the fabric of our commercial greatness. I presume that all argument must be based upon that fact therefore so long as we retain that system, so long must we raise our revenue by direct taxation. If the affairs of the city were in the hands of the government to-morrow, and iwe desired to have Johnson street (for example) macadamized, why the government would turn round to us and say, " you must find the money." No Governor, no Government, or Commissioners either, can or will macadamize a single street, without first imposing a tax or borrowing money upon our promise to re-imburse to enable them to pay for the necessary labor. The Council has done nothing more. No city has ever been improved without money, and Victoria is not likely to prove an exception, HANGING A GUERRILLA. - About noon, the sun coming out, a halt was ordered. The General and his staff rode forward to a small, unfinished building, designed for a post-office, standing upon a knoll at a cross-roads. Sufficient boards and laths were knocked off to afford an unobstructed view of the proceedings from two sides, when one of the officers, produced a cord, tied a hangman's knot at one end of it, and, standing upon the head of an empty cider-barrel, made the other fast to one of the joists overhead. After considerable experimenting, the barrel was made to serve for both the scaffold and the drop, being in-geniously balanced upon one of the floor timbers, and held in place by a wedge which could be instantly removed. From this to one of the windows a board was laid, and thence another to the ground outside, forming an inclined plane. Meanwhile, most of the officers had ridden forward, and tied their horses to the fence of an adjacent farmhouse, whose inmates had closed all the windowblinds, and a crowd of colored soldiers ens circled the building, watching in silence these ominous proceedings. Lieutenant-Colonel Shartliff, of the 5th United States, was appointed spiritual adviser to the criminal, and went back with a guard to bring him to the place of execution. When informed that he had but a few minutes to live, and was counselled to improve this time in making his peace with God he dropped upon his knees in the road and prayed "O, merciful Father look down upon me! O, merciful Father, look down upon me! These words alone he repeated a hundred times, until the acting chaplain stopped him. He then rose to his feet, walked up the inclined board with a firm step, at the point of the bayonets of the colored guard and advanced quickly to the head of the cider barrel, and stood under the noose. This being placed around his neck, Colonel Shurtliff invoked the Throne of grace in behalf of the guilty wretch. As the word "Amen" dropped from his lips, the General, who had taken charge of the drop, pulled the wedge-the barrel tipped, the guerrilla dropped. He was a man of about thirty, a rough stout fellow, was dressed in butternut homespun, and looked lady was married, and is a widow, but we the very beau ideal of a guerilla. He died of strangulation, his heart not ceasing to beat for twenty minutes. Then a slip of paper was prened to his back, on whick the General had previously written: "This guerrilla hanged Daniel Bright, by Brigadier-General Wild. of Pasquotonk county." The wholesome effect exercised by these admirable Pills over the blood and fluids generally is like a charm in dispelling low spirits, and restoring cheer fulness. Their general aperient qualities well fit them for a domestic madicine, particularly for iemales, of all ages and periods of life. They never betray any disagreeable irritating qualities; they quickly eject all impurities from the system, and regulate every function of the body, giving wonderful tone and energy to weak and debilitated persons, while they brace and strengthen the nervous system in a most extraordinary manner.

o Regain Health, Strength, and Vigor. Whenever persons find themselves in that state termed "a little out of health," and there are so many causes at work to shorten life, it is necessary that Holloway's Pills, the finest purifier of the blood ever known, should be at once taken, as they not only rid both solids and fluids of all morbid matters, but regulate all disordered actions, and strengthen the frame in a most extraordinary manner.

Tuesday, March 22, 1864. HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

FRIDAY, March 18.

House met at 3:15 p.m. Members present, Messrs. Young, DeCosmos, Powell, Franklin, Tolmie, Trimble, Bayley, Dennes. TELEGRAPH REGULATION BULL. This bill came up for a second reading.

Mr. Young, in moving the second reading said as the telegraph bill had been passed, was necessary to provide for the regulation of was necessary to provide for the regulation of messages. The bill provides for the proper sending of messages, the secrecy of their contents, that their meaning may not be altered, nor forged messages sent, that the information may not be appropriated; also provides for arrests being made by telegraph, and other miner matters.

The question; ne believed, however, the the real evil was the great number of houses anyone could get a license and open a house formers, that their meaning may not be appropriated; also provides for arrests being made by telegraph, and other miner matters.

Mr. DeCesmos said this bill was a species of experimental legislation; he was not aware of any similar act in force in any other country; he thought, looking at certain provisions, such as the creation of the new misdemeanor, forgery of messages, that it would be proper to make the law a reciprocal one with neighboring countries passing the same but had been deferred to the general inter-

Mr, Young said that some of the provisions of this bill were doubtless experimental. The clause in regard to forgery of messages how-He approved of close examination of the bill, be accepted by the House, as it was necessary for the safety of the public.

LIGHT-HOUSE EXPENDITURE. Dr. Trimble moved that the House go into committee on the above subject. The expenditure on Light-houses was $3,000 or $10,000 annually, and he wished to see what means could be adopted to speet this amount. He would suggest the levying a certain rate on all tonnage entering the harbor. Suppose a rate of 4 cents per ton on all vessels over 30 tons were charged, a revenue of $8,000 might be raised, calculating the annual tonpage at 200,000 tons.

Mr. Franklin would say to the hon, mem ber that of the $7,000 which the light-houses cost last year, one-half was paid by British Columbia, which reduced the amount to $3,500, a sum he thought hardly worth levying an increased rate for. Dr. Tolmie thought it unadvisable to throw anything in the way of commerce to this port; by levying this rate we would be giving vessels an inducement to pass by to British Columbia; we must also remember that the property at Port Angeles will soon be passing into private hands, and we may expect that place to be more of a rival than etofore, and we should do everything to encourage out own commerce. Dr. Trimble said it appeared to him that this was simply deferring to British Columbia. If that colony was always to be such a bug-bear, why

Dr. Helmcken said the whole object should be to make the rates on vessels as light as possible, in order to make the price of goods revenue by levying rates on shipping was the most effectual way of ruining this colony [hear, hear]. He would even be in favor of abolishing all charges where we could : he would propose reciprocity in this matter be-tween British Columbia and this colony, so that vessels might go from here to British Columbia, and vice versa, free from all

Mr. Young said he was opposed in toto to any additional rates being levied on our shipping. There were six lights on the opposite side, for which ne dues at all were levied, and he did not see how we could levy for the two lights we possessed. There was a city building up fast opposite us, and we should be very careful how we encouraged shipping to go there in preference to this

ROMANTIC ELOPEMENT OF AN HEIRESS AND AN ARTIST .- Several of the most experienced officers of the Parisian detective olice have arrived in London in pursuit of Mdlle. de Croissac, a young lady of 23, and eloned from her father's house in pursuit of a young English artist, of whom she has become enamored. The young lady, who is ect so much progress might be made in the clad in male attire, has been traced to have passed through Calais, en route to Dover, and from thence she proceeded to the Mino-ries, and hired a four wheel cab, which took her to the Great Western Station; there the clue was lest, and a large reward is offered large sum of money with her, which she carries in a mahogany escriteire, emblazoned with a coronet.

A SUBMARINE VESSEL .- Several of the Continental journals contain the following for Fraser river. paragraph :- "A submarine vessel, of colossal sions, is now being built at Cronstadt, in the construction of which 2,000 tens of iron and steel will be used. She is to be moved by two large engines, worked by com-pressed air, is to be armed with a powerful spur, and will carry every accessory for thing to the hulls of vessels large cylinders of pow-der to be fired by electricity. Large glass covered openings will enable the crew to direct the course of the vessel; they will also be able to regulate the death of which also be able to regulate the depth at which De is to swim, but in general the vessel will be near the surface. The Emperor recently signed a decree appropriating 673,000f. for the construction of the sea monster."

VICTORIA: VANCOUVER ISLAND. TUESDAY, MARCH 22, 1864.

THE NEW GOVERNOR AND HIS PATRONAGE.

With the approaching advent of a New Governor, the inhabitants of Victoria are paturally somewhat on the qui vive of ex pectation as to what will be the line of policy pursued by His Excellency. There are many subjects which will specially invite the attention of a man of experience in colonial affairs. There can be no doubt that the present is a turning point in the history of this colony, and if the government of the country is well and judiciously administered during the next few years our position will be frmly established, while on the other hand. any faftering policy, any mistaken councils it the present moment may check the rise and progress of the colony materially. When a stranger comes into a country to ssume the supreme post in it, very such must naturally depend upon the advice and counsels which he receives on his first anearance on the scene. First impressions are not easily or rapidly eradicated, and if the individual who administers the government surrounds himself with sound dounselfors when he first assumes the reius, the probabilities are in favor of his acting with wisdom, if he be endowed with a fair share common sense himself. We have not the last doubt of Captain Kennedy's ability, if he is only fortunate enough to take hs first impressions from these who are best alle and competent to place him in possesin of the real requirements of Vancouver Idand. It is to be hoped that the desire of paying the attentions due from loyal subjects the representative of Her Majesty will not lead the people of Victoria into any nowise extremes. Any approach to what is volgarly but very expressively styled todyism, is so decidedly foreign to the ature of Englishmen that it not unfreuently happens that the public are led into deposite extreme and are more disposed o abstain from a free expression of their oyalty on such occasions through the dread of being accused of anything approaching ervility. We hope there will be nothing lead to any misenriage in the arrangements for the reception of Capt. Kennedy, but it cannot be disputed that there is feeling amongst many who are markthat they have not been consulted, and consequently they seem to be disinclined to take the places assigned to them. This may probably have the effect of showing His ellency that he is coming to rule over en in whom the spirit of independence is rong and not to be subdued, but we fear he be disposed to attribute the non attend-

of any particular sections of the pro-

on to want of courtesy to himself, or want legally to the Queen, should the fact of eir being absent be made apparent to

It is to matters of more importance, howver, than the mere ceremonial of the installaon that we would call attention. The vernor of Vancouver Island will be led upon shortly after taking up his resis amongst us to communicate with the ome Government upon a subject of the ost vital importance to the interests of all 9s, inasmuch as it affects the administraof civil and criminal justice in the my. The public have it before them that likely, ere long, to be a vacancy in ighest post in the Island under the nor. It does not rest with the Governor ippoint the Ohief Instice, but if he takes himself to recommend the Home Governto appoint any gentleman resident in the ly, or what is more if it becomes necessary at he should appoint any Barrister to act orarily during the absence of the ent Chief Justice, unless there is any ong reason arged against the appointment some power which will have weight with ese in whom the appointment rests at me, there can be very little doubt that the recommendation would be listened and the appointment confirmed. Much s been said about the fitness and ability the members of the bar of Vancouver land from time to time, and arguments have en put forward for and against the appoint: int of some one or other from amongst those ntlemen to fill the office of Chief Justice is orged, in all colenies, that if premotion es not follow in the colony there is no proect of getting good men to name there to actice, and on the contrary, it is very forcive been resident for some time is so cond who have been more or less mixed up in advocacy of every cause which has on before the Court, cannot be free from oger of a slight degree of partiality, hich must always be fatal to the proper iministration of justice. Bearing this in ind, and looking at the other circumstances our own paculiar case, we cannot conclive possible that any man of clear judgment and impartial views, could recommend any barrister for the appointment of Chief Justice of this Colony, unless he were thoroughly convinced that he was one who would in spire the respect of the bar and in whom the public would have confidence; not only as a lawyer, but as a man and a gentleman. Bo youd this our Chief Justice must be free from all influences which are so easily contracted by residence in a small coldny like our own, where each inhabitant is more or less known to his neighbor. It will be for Capt. Kennedy well to consider whether, after a short residence amongst us, he will be able, or if able willing, to take the responsibility of selecting from the bar of the colony, one fitted in every way to fill the office, and one whose appointment the profession generally, as well as the public would hail with satisfaction. If he cannot, his duty is plain, and he must join the Legislative Assembly in asking the Home Gov-ernment to send out a Chief Justice from

How can you ask ? says the resident coserved that we have studiously avoided te. look at our streets; look at the buildidge plying to the combined attacks and insippations levelled at us by two envious newspapers. Our position is too firmly established to be affected by such miserable combinations, and we are are willing to let them indulge as much as they please, knowing full well that they only injure themselves by the recoil. The one has sunk too far beneath notice to be acknowledged as a contemporary; the other, though raised by the ability of its present editor to a little higher standard, is still recognized as too sensational, un-scrupulous and time-serving to carry with it scrupulous and time-serving to carry with it either weight or conviction. We do not, therefore, consider it worth while to take notice of the very gentlemanly and refined on dis respecting the Conorist which they have given to the public, but we will simply remark that the "oldest journal in the colony" was never more prosperous or vigorous than at the present mement; its chiefest sorrow rests in a conviction that it may soon have to sound the funeral dirge of one if not both of

In the first place, it must of necessity work a revolution greater unanimity respecting matters affecting this holm, not out.

The public west. In a small community like, the public west. In a small community like, the public west. Wharf street merchants and not one of our ours there ought not to be great divisions Fort street retail storekeepers but will feel the difference which telegraphic communication will make in their business. There are some who still hold to the exploded slow-coach system, and imagine that nothing can be done better because it is done more quickly than of yore, but in a city so dependent upon trade lone as is Victoria, the benefit of having, immediate intelligence of the state of the markets in San Francisco and the Eastern States, and of our merchants being enabled to execute orders promptly from California markets, will rapidly make itselffelt amongst us. To news mongers the assistance of the wire will doubtless be very great, although it will rob our news of that interest which it has on the arrival of the mails by partially anticipating the items; but nevertheless we would fain hope that it will in some measure enliven us and render the contents of the columns of the daily journals more acceptable to our readers than at present. It is probably owing to a dearth of real news that some are occasionally betrayed into the grave error of abusing one another, and running down the prospects of the colony and city, which it is, unquestionably, our great interest to uphold. That any public journalists should deem it their duty to endeavor o make the position of the town, to whose nhabitants they owe their subsistence appear in the eyes of strangers unsatisfactory and declining, when the real facts are the very severse of such an assumption, is beyond the comprehension of ordinary mortals, and that any portion of the press should be found to advocate a theory which would seem to assert such a proposition is to the feelings of the people, to say the least of it, repulsive. The idea that presents itself to common place beings is that one and all of the inhabitants of any colony, silv or place should work together for the well-being of that place; but if we look at home and take impressions from what we see around us we should be inclined to All disputes may, in the first instance, go before the Gold Commissioner, whatever the look at home and take impressions from what amount involved, with a right of appeal to we see around us we should be inclined to bowels. But," says the visitor, " everyone I meet in the streets tells me that times are bad, that the place is dull, that there is not half the business doing that there was this time last year in fact, that the place has caved in. 'Can any thing be so utterly absurd ! That buildings are not being so rapidly rushed up in every direc tion, and that real estate is not so high as it was hat year may be true, but is the prosperity of our city any the less safe and stable for that ? Some there are amongst us who fix their faith upon high prices, and who with the first fall in the value of real estate, are

The Coroner remarked to the jury that it did not appear from the evidence that the girl had been restrained of her liberty and therefore no oriminal charge could lie against any person, it would only remain for the jury to return a verdict in accordance with Dr. Davie's evidence, that the girl died from insufficiency of food.

The jury returned a verdict according however, is a great mistake; there is no disguiding the fact, that real estate has been too high within the city of Victoria, and it has now arrived at a much more rational price. It will, doubtless, fluctuate during the present year, but we cannot anticipate the prices which were the result of the excitement of former years again, nor do we wish to do so for the success of this colony we must have NEW WESTMINSTER ITEMS. The Columimmigrants who can earn their living in the city, and become owners of property without bian gives an account of a large public meeting held on Tuesday last to listen to Mr. paying an exorbitant price for it. If we wish to see trade prosperous, we must be content to see real estate in the market at prices which will enable small householders to get plauded, and at the blose of the meeting a mevertheless due to the committee of armage-ments to say that the three arches are tastefully a living. HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

WEDNESDAY, March 15.
House met at 3:15 p.m. Members present,
Messrs. Young, DeCosmos, Powell, Franklin,
Trimble, Street, Carawell, Bayley, Dennes. BILLS ASSENTED TOJ

The following bills have received the assent of the Governor:—Provisional Act for the Election of Mayor and Councillors; Governor's Indemnity Bill; Chief Justice Pension Bill; Appropriation Bill; Telegraph Bill : Pilot Bill.

THE OTHER INCORPORATION BILL.

Mr. Young said it was very desirable that no time should be lost in passing an incorporation bill (hear; hear.) He and some of his colleagues had attended the House day after day for the purpose of getting through a suitable bill, and the introduction of this new bill would simply be wasting so much time. He thought any desirable provisions in the new bill might be incorporated in the Bill before the House. Mr. DeCosmos said that the mover of this new bill deserved the thanks of the House. The hon gentleman had said he had intro-duced his bill to meet the wishes of the citizens of Victoria, thus assuming that he was better acquainted with the wishes of the inhabitants than the four city members, an assumption certainly very flattering to hon, member in passing his bill through the

Dr. Powell said he was willing to allow the new bill to come before the House, but he would state that he would support the bill now before the House for the reasons urged by the hon. senior member for Victoria, viz., to save the time of the House.

Bill read a first time, and ordered to be APPROPRIATION FOR GOLD STREAM. Mr. Young said he rose by the sanction and request of His Excellency, to lay before the House an addition to the supplemental setimates of $4,000 for the purpose of constructing a food to Gold Stream.

Mr. DeCosmos rose to call the hon, gentleman to order; he was not aware that the hon. gentleman represented the Governor any more than any other member of the House.

SUPPLEMENTAL ESTIMATES. The House went into Committee on the additional amount asked for in the Supplemental Estimates, Mr. Franklin in the chair, be presented to His Excellence Gov. Ken-Sanich Road, $5,000; item Sooke Read, $2,000.

Mr. Carswell had a word to say on this subject. He had understood that $3,000 was to be put down. He would like to know why $2,000 had been put down.
Mr. Young said the Executive had thought the sum sufficient.

should the estimate be passed. The road was now an impassable swamp.

Mr. DeCosmos said this House had a short time ago opposed this same vote, as being expended on a deviation read, and being of no benefit to the general public. He was certainly opposed now as then to public money being spent on any such road. Let the people tax themselves as we do in Vic-

Mr. Young said this road had not pre-viously come up before the House. The road was much required by the settlers in that

Mr. Bayley said he had taken the trouble to ride over that road lately, and he found that some forty-five tax-paying settlers who had no other road to Victoria than this one. He would vote for the amount.

Dr. Helmeken said he would remind hon. members that every one of these settlers had to work their 6 days of statute labor during the year. They were in reality more heavily taxed than the citizens of Vic-toria. Item passed.

EDUCATION $5000. For the construction of a suitable school house on the Reserve; Dr. Powell said it was high time that a proper school should be provided for the city; there were a great many children in the city for whom no provision was made. He would certainly oppose the expenditure of any more money in the district at the expense of the city.

Mr. Young said the Reserve was in such a position as to be convenient to all the children in the oity. The situation was the most delightful in the whole neighberhood.

THE OFFICE INCORPORATION BLL.

Dr. Trimble apologized for not having introduced his bill sooner. He proposed to repeal the present supposed act, and establish a new act on an entirely new principle, viz., that of raising taxes by rating, and to do away with the license system. He also proposed that the mayor and councillers should be elected as in the former, bill. Also that the Colonial auditor should be auditor for the council, to be assisted by two citizens from each ward. These were the principal features of his bill. These lists are expected to be com-pleted in a mouth, when banishments on a sweeping scale will take place. Gen. Berg has also decreed that foreigners implicated in the insurrection are not to be sent out of the country, as hitherto, but treated as Poles, in consequence of which 25 Prassian subjects were banished, and one, Demski, executed, on the 21st ult. On the 16th, an Italian named Becchi, formerly a lieutenant under Garibaldi. was also shot at Woelawek, although the Italian Ambassador, Marquis

Pepoli, had interceded with the Emperor in his favor. He died exclaiming, "God save Poland !"
The battles in various parts of Poland contime to succeed each other at short intervals.
The engagement of Major Rudowski at Kieles, on the 14th ult., was followed by another on the 16th in the 11zy woods, where small body of Polish infantry, under Major Lady, was attacked by 14 companies of Russians, but succeeded in cutting its way through the enemy with the bayonet, after a sangulnary hand-to-hand fight, is which the losses were very severe on both sides. A letter from Gumbinnen (Eastern Prussia) contains the following: "The situation of Lithuania at the end of November may be thus briefly summed up. Several hundred capital executions, accompanied by circumstances of cruelty, had taken place without any regular trial. More than ferty thousand persons, chiefly nobles, ecclesiastics, and landowners, had been carried off into the interior of Bussia. The one knew where, without an of Russia, no one knew where, without at opportunity of proving their innocence, and, opportunity of proving their innocence, and, for the most part, on groundless accusations. The above number certainly does not exceed the truth, as may be seen from the official lists published by the Russian authorities, from which it appears that the numbers transported from Lithuania within the last nine menths are:—15,000 from the government of Wilna, 12,000 from Kowno, 10,000 from Cleades 2,300 from Agentical fragantless. The prisons of Wilna, Dunaburg, Kowno, Gredno, Mohilew, Vitebsk, and Bialystok were crowded with persons awaiting death or transportation to make room for other victims. It is scarcely necessary to mention the butcheries en musse committed on armed bands of insurgents who fell into the power of the Russian troops.
